VISTA Participation Studied

The Highlands County Commission took under advisement Tuesday participation in the federal VISTA program designed to distribute surplus commodities to low income families and welfare recipients.

VISTA means "Volunteers In Service To Americans," and is operated by the Peace Corps.

Highlands County Welfare Director Annie Dee Church introduced VISTA officials at Tuesday's commission meeting. VISTA was represented by Lee Hanchey, longtime commissioner of Hardee County, and presently VISTA Program Director there. Accompanying Hanchey was Mr. and Mrs. S. Wiland, of state VISTA headquarters.

Hanchey urged the Highlands Commission to adopt the VISTA program, explaining that surplus foods would be brought into the county, stored and distributed by the county to indigent persons, low income families, and others on county welfare rolls.

Hanchey said Avon Park Mayor E. A. DeLaney had indicated Avon Park would provide a storage sub-station in its city hall for the program, if the county decided to participate. Mayor DeLaney was in the audience, and spoke briefly concerning the program and Avon Park's desire to help.

Wiland said 22 Florida counties were already participating in the VISTA program and more than 80,000 persons were being given added nutritional foods through its processes.

Hanchey explained that the government furnishes the surplus foods, but it is distributed by the county. The foods include: meal, grits, butter, canned meats, peanut butter, flour, dry milk, beans, split peas, and other surplus foods.

Commission Chairman Cecil P. Skipper asked VISTA representatives what it would cost the County to participate and was told that it would require one or two men, plus storage areas in Sebring, Lake Placid and Avon Park suitable for semi-perishable foods.

The County would be aided by VISTA people in the selection of recipients of the program, but would not be bound by their selections. Daily and permanent inventories would be required, Hanchey said.

Surplus food available to any recipient, he said, would amount to approximately $5 a month. He said that many families receiving this help would use the money they would have spent on food for paying bills and other purposes, and thereby help the economy of the county.

Hanchey said Hardee County's participation of the program last year amounted in excess of $50,000. Cost to the county was only in the administration of the program, he added.

Besides administration costs to Highlands County, Wiland said, the only other cost would be to furnish a truck to ship the foods out of Tampa to county warehouses here.

Hanchey said, widows, children and others in indigent circumstances would greatly benefit from the program. Commission Chairman Skipper said the board review the program, and if it accepted participation, it would start immediately. No date was set for a final decision.

Plans are underway, Wiland said for Home Demonstration groups to begin classes for persons under the program to learn how to manage homes better.

Work Together, Rotarians Told To Develop County's Industry

Work together as a county, Rotarians were told at their weekly luncheon Wednesday, Jan. 12, when they asked their luncheon speaker what could be done to promote this area industrially.

Speaking was Norman Pinardi, former director of information at the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center and now associated with the Committee of 100 of Manatee County.

Mr. Pinardi told Rotarians people in Highlands County should determine whether or not industry is wanted in the area, and what industry. Then, he added, concerted effort of all, starting at the county level, should be made to obtain that industry.

Groups should be formed to promote the projects, financial and otherwise, for industrial development, he continued.

Mr. Pinardi remarked that Central Florida has much to offer new industry.

Practically the same thing can be done in Highlands as is being done in Manatee County which is seeking to develop a great port for shipping minerals and other commodities.

Rotary program chairman Harry Hood introduced the guest speaker who is working with Manatee's Committee of 100 which is cooperating with that county's Commission and Chamber of Commerce in the development of Port Manatee.

Establishment of this Port has become a matter of considerable controversey between officials of Manatee County and Hillsborough County as it involves the relocation of phosphate loadings and railway by the SAL and ACL railroads. At the present time ICC hearings are being conducted in regards this question.

Mr. Pinardi indicated that he thought that the rulings of the ICC would favor the establishment of the deep water Port Manatee.

When and if this deep water port is constructed, it may be the largest phosphate port in the world, Mr. Pinardi said, and would be a new facility for handling other cargo as well in competition with other ports in Florida. The real benefit of the port to Manatee County would be the creation of jobs.

Population in Manatee County has increased greatly during the past few years and the creation of new jobs is of utmost concern to the Committee of 100.

The port itself would not have the only impact of the economy of the County but the economy would be enhanced by the location of a new phosphate plant and other industry in Manatee County he added.

Mr. Pinardi told of how the people of Manatee County worked together to secure new industry and improve the economy of the county by taking the inititive in actively seeking new industry and making provisions for it.

Mothers March To Be Held Next Tuesday

Annual Mothers March of Dimes will be held in Highlands County next Tuesday, Jan. 25.

Chairmen for the Avon Park March include Mrs. Nell Roberts, Mrs. Carol Tomlinson and Mrs. Toni Bass.

"Our goal," they stated, "is to call at every home and apartment in the Avon Park area with a message about the March of Dimes fight against birth defects as we ask support in that battle.

"As long as millions of American mothers have to ask the terrible question: 'Why was my baby born defective?' there will be urgent work you can do for the March of Dimes.

"Too many of us, and that includes a surprising number of mothers, do not realize the awful toll taken by birth defects each year in the United States.

"Birth defects are the nation's second greatest destroyer of life," they declared, "if you include prenatal loss."

"The March of Dimes," they say, "is doing something about birth defects—financing more than 30 medical centers where improved methods of care and treatment are being developed and supporting an international scientific research program seeking causes and possible means of prevention.

HOW NOT TO BE FOOLED IN ONE EASY LESSON

You are required to make more decisions today that affect your future than ever before. The world is changing faster than ever, and each of us is caught up in the dynamic circumstances.

Shall we vote for a new school?

What do we do about an improved water supply?

How should I better understand the civil rights issues?

What are my responsibilities and benefits under new laws like medicare?

It is easy to get behind the times. Changes brought about by the rapidly increasing and mobile population force each of us to decide certain questions nearly every day. Decide wisely and we benefit; decide unwisely and we pay either with money, misery or inefficiency.

Helping people to deal with these changes is one of the most important benefits of a community-minded newspaper. Where else can the information basic to a wise decision be found? One could take hours to visit a school to decide whether it is really crowded or not, but the average person is not likely to do so. One could conduct his own original study about water needs or other questions facing the public, but most people are not likely to do that, either.

The newspaper is geared to provide its readers with a running account of circumstances which lead to or involve civic problems.

The newspaper boils down the problem so that readers can get the basic, accurate information they need to vote and act wisely.

More and more of these decisions must be made. The newspaper is more and more valuable in supplying this information.

The newspaper reader is fortunate. He doesn't need to vote on hunch, or according to neighborhood rumors. He doesn't need to spend his time attending numerous meetings and checking public needs. The newspaper does this for him. It helps him to act positively in the voting booth. It keeps him from being easily fooled about public matters.

SAVE IT FOR UNCLE

If you were among the lucky people who took home a Christmas bonus check or some other holiday windfall, you probably know just how you're going to spend it. We don't like to be a killjoy, but we think you should delay your plans and stash it away until April 15. The chances are you're going to need it to settle up with the Internal Revenue Service.

There's general agreement that most people are going to be unpleasantly surprised this year when they figure out that they have to pay Uncle even more than they did last year. The reason is, you now have to pay for such things as higher benefits for the old folks at home, liberally voted by the politicians just before last election. So, lay it aside brother, or arrange to see that friendly man at the personal loan department of your bank.

Of course increases in social security and medicare are only two of the reasons why more and more of your salary is sliced off for federal, state and local taxes. Today, government is our biggest industry, by far, with 12.7 million Americans, one in six, on a government payroll. Obviously they don't work for nothing and in the course of their activities they are spending almost twice the 97.2 billion that was spent by the government a decade ago.

But that's only part of the picture. Once upon a time agriculture, manufacturing, mining and railroading were the important activities in this country. They still are, but now they are being overshadowed by other endeavors: highway construction, education, space projects, public building projects, etc., In all of these mammoth projects, federal, state and local governments are involved, to the tune of billions of dollars.

Some of these are necessary expenditures, of course, but many others are not, or they are so fantastically wasteful of funds as to be idiotic. It's easy to blame the politicians, but much of the fault lies with people who keep demanding things from "the government"— preferably the federal government—with the naive notion that someone else will pay for the extravagant things they want.

This kind of thinking may get a community a high school with a parking lot big enough for a major shopping center, a stadium worthy of a college, and an auditorium that would permit the staging of a Broadway musical. But don't think the guy in Keokuk, or New York City, or Tulsa is paying for it. In the long run, unless you're on relief, you pay for it. Wait until April 15 and see.

SIN FOR SALE

A list of the off-color books being distributed by an outfit in California gives a graphic picture of the kind of thinking that motivates the people who deal in such garbage.

When any publisher gets around to deciding upon a title for a book, he has to describe his merchandise with the utmost brevity, and the title has to do a selling job. So what are the smut peddlers offering? You can get the pitch from the titles and the fact that the most commonly used word was "sin." This came up in such gems as Sin Babes, Sin Makers, Mistress of Sin, Sin Pit, Sin Mates, and so on ad nauseam. Runner-up in that smut sweepstakes was the word "lust," on which the hucksters rang such changes as Lust Girls, Lust Feast, Lust Pigs, and, so help us, Lust Weekend. Common ordinary "love" didn't get much attention. Only one book dealt with the tender passion and even that turned up as Love Addict. Other semantic aids to salesmanship were the words "orgy," "flesh," and "passion." These subjects were treated in depth in many book offerings.

Mature and well-balanced people may laugh at the obvious trashiness of this "literature" and the moronic titles dreamed up by the peddlers. Unfortunately, it is no laughing matter because most of this filth ends up in the hands of teenagers and younger children. In some cases, the smut merchants specialize in selling to kids, an activity almost as reprehensible as pushing heroin and marijuana outside our schools. The Post Office is constantly besieged by indignant parents who find this stuff coming into their homes addressed to small boys and girls.

For this unhealthy situation we can thank certain liberal-minded barristers who believe that the act of setting anything in type makes it sacroanct. This kind of far-out legal thinking reaches right up to the learned Justices of our Supreme Court, which of course should be no cause for surprise.

Many Dropping Cigarette Habit

A gradual but perceptible shift in cigarette smoking habits has been noted over the past five years, despite a rise in total cigarette consumption.

The announcement was made by Charles Kistemmacher, public information director of the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society, Tampa. He said that the information was obtained from the Society's manual, "1966 Cancer Facts and Figures."

The manual disclosed that the U. S. Public Health Service has estimated that there are now about 18 million ex-smokers. A survey shows a drop in the proportion of adult cigarette smokers from 50 percent in 1964. This 7 point cent in 1964. This 7 points decline, added to that shown in earlier studies, indicates that, among men, nearly 1 out of 4 is now an ex-cigarette smoker, according to the U. S. Surgeon General.

Today's Child Larger, Cost More To Raise

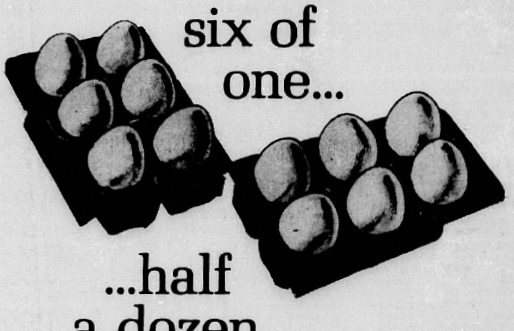
Children of today are growing larger than those of yesterday. And so is the cost of raising them.

Bringing up a child from infancy to 16 years of age costs some 3 times as much for the average family today as it did 20 years ago, according to home economists with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Today's "average" family, with an income of about $6,000, may spend about $24,000 over the 18 year period to raise a child. These figures are based on consumer expenditures reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and apply to a two-child family living in a city or suburb.

Naturally, an individual's family expense for a child from infancy to 18 will vary widely from this estimate, depending on family income, number of children, spending habits, unexpected financial demands, and where the family lives. A family whose income is much lower than average might spend less, and a family with a much higher income, a lot more than this estimate.

These separate items in the $24,000 estimate run like this: food, $6,460; housing, $7,470; clothing, $2,720; transportation, $3,530; medical care, $1,675; personal care, $810; recreation, $935; and education (not college), $235.



Everyone knows this means there's very little choice, if any, between two things. This could be true in many cases but not in financial institutions. When it comes to banking there's all the difference in the world. Don't take our word, just open a checking account at one desk then move to another to finance a refrigerator. It can only be done at a BANK. Yes, checking accounts, savings accounts with guaranteed interest, and all types of loans .... at your BANK. Six of one, half a dozen of another? Not when it comes to banking!

Hibiscus Circle Beautifies Highway Park

Residents of this area, and travelers passing through, will notice a new look at the State Roadside park four miles south on Hwy. 27. This is due to a renewed beautification project of the Hibiscus Garden Circle of Avon Park.

Mrs. Charles Swartz is chairman of the committee with Mrs. Dayton Ormiston co-chairman.

The Hibiscus Circle was instrumental in having the State Road Dept. establish the park in this beautiful spot on the lakefront. City officials also cooperated.

Due to lack of watering facilities and winter freezes the ladies have been handicapped in establishing any but the hardiest of shrubs.

The State Road Dept., is erecting shelters over two of the picnic tables through Mr. Smith, State Road Dept., Bartow Station, who also has promised a pump to replace one which was stolen a few days after the Garden Club installed one.

Through efforts of Mrs. Swartz and Mrs. Ormiston, 12 future shade trees have been planted and more than 75 new ornamentals featuring red hibiscus.

Substantial help has been given by the generosity and cooperation of a local state agency in cleaning up a large corner area and preparing the soil for planting. They also donated and planted three maple trees, one large loquat tree and large clump of bamboo.

Two native oaks were donated and planted by Mr. Lambright, Maintenance Manager of the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center.

Special appreciation is given to the Washington Nursery on Alt. 27, near Lake Letta, for a generous gift of two fine oak trees, three large Star Jasmine and 10 yellow Jasmine, all fine nursery stock in large cans for easy planting.

Other shrubs were donated by Mrs. C. Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Ormiston, Mrs. George Walters, and Mrs. McGibboney.

More than 100 hours of work has been spent up-to-date over a 10 week period in this project with approximately 1,000 gallons of water carried the hard way in cars from homes and lake in buckets.

It will require a lot more faithful care until the new plantings are well established.

Overtime Pro Gridiron Contest Is Recalled By Member of Team

That recent football contest for the championship of the National Football League may have been an overtime sensation to the sports world that cold and snowy Sunday at Greenbay Jan. 3, but it was nothing compared to a semi-pro game back in 1920.

And, at the end, the score, after 15 quarters, remained deadlocked with neither team scoring.

It all occured between the Thanksgiving and Christmas weeks in 1920 when the Brambleton Tigers and the Berkley Braves of the Norfolk (Va.) Football Association battled through the regulation game without scoring. And, at the end of an extra quarter they still were scoreless.

Association officials decried that the two teams were to play again for the Berkley city championship on Christmas morning and played another four scoreless quarters.

Finally, in the 6th period, unruly fans swarmed the playing field and forced the referee to call quits.

When, a couple of days later it was found players on one team were too badly hurt to attempt to play a third game the championship contest was called off and no title was awarded.

Records show that the finale was typical of all games between the teams, the Braves earning 10 first downs and the Tigers, 9, with only three penalties assessed, all offsides.

Henry L. Caffee, prominent Avon Park resident, recalled the 1920 contest recently when going through his clippings he came across a clipping from the Ledger-Dispatch of Norfolk, Va. telling of the 1920 contest.

Caffee, a native of Norfolk, Va., setting for the lengthy grid battle, was a member of the Brambleton A.A. Tigers, playing guard on the football team.

RECORDS FALL

TAMPA, (FNS) Attendance records for Busch Gardens in Tampa were shattered Dec. 27 when 37,321 visitors toured the Anheuser-Busch scenic attraction while an estimated 10,000 to 12,000 would-be visitors had to be turned away.

Several times during the day traffic was stacked up for a distance of five miles.

The hourly attendance record was also broken when 6,619 visitors entered the gates between 2 and 3 p.m.

Thomas J. Pinta, Busch Gardens manager, estimated attendance at the attraction for 1965 will total 2.1 million, another all-time record.

Last Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longanecker had guests from Lawrence, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Glen Simmons who spent the night.

The Ladies Club had 24 members present Friday afternoon for a social hour or two, playing games and working with ceramic tile. Other hobby suggestions are welcome, too, please come and join us, the rest of you dear ladies.

Their was four courts of men playing shuffleboard singles last Friday also.

Saturday evening after our songs, we finished the "Armchair Trip" on the Norwegian freighter "Hoogh Cairn" brought to us via Olive Kerwin. We joined the four passengers for a two week stay at Java and Sumatra. These are two of the 3,000 island of Indonesia. At Djakarta, Java, we rode on a beautiful U.S.A. financed 10 mile highway from the port to the city.

When leaving the port of Palembourg, Sumatra at the mouth of the Musi River, the Hoogh Cairn accidentally, practically cut a coastal freighter the "Canada" in two when it stalled in front of it. There were 124 passengers on it, and fortunately, no one was injured, being about two feet away from the point of impact. The Canada passengers were taken aboard the Hoogh Cairn as guests for 19 hours, after which they were taken ashore. The Norwegian freighter left at 9 a.m. the next day, to continue on it's journey to Singapore, Malaya. Then three days were spent at the famous Raffles Hogel with a visit to picturesque Change Alley. Our next stop was to Port Swiltenham and Kuala Lumpur, the capital of the Federation of Malaysia; and then the Island of Penang, one of the pewter centers of the world. We had a ride on Penang Funicular Railroad for a wonderful view of the island and town. Many of the homes were owned by Chinese and were exceptionally beautiful. An interesting spot we visited was the Snake Temple, where live snakes were fed eggs by the faithful so the snakes would intercede to the guests for them. The snakes were entwined about the carvings.

Tuticorin, India was where the "Cairn" anchored offshore on the next stop, where they loaded from barges at Alleppy many bales of Madras material destined for U.S.A. and Canadian markets. They also loaded into separate holds, spices and teas. We did not go to two more Indonesian ports, due to conditions which exist. The four and a half month trip on the "Hoogh Cairn" ended at Brooklyn, N. Y., a perfect cruise with very little disturbed seas and good companions.

In its order of suspension, the board alleged the developer failed to keep promises to establish an escrow amount for the accumulation of funds from the sale of properties made in areas that had not been approved for sale by the board. The board also said the developer failed to demonstrate that previous escrow provisions would be sufficient to assure purchasers that they would receive promised improvements.

Time To Make Conservation Now Is Here

Farmers who wish to establish soil and water conservation practices on their farms with Agricultural Conservation Program assistance should visit the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county office to discuss their conservation problems and file their requests as soon as possible, Ralph S. Richardson, office manager, announced.

The sign-up period began Jan. 19 and will continue through Feb. 21.

"It's important that farmers file their requests now in order to get the necessary approval and take care of other program details before the time is at hand to actually begin work," the manager emphasized.

Under the 1966 program, cost-share assistance will average about half of the cost of carrying out such conservation practices as establishing and improving vegetative cover, planting trees and improving existing stands of timber, and practices aimed at the conservation and more efficient use of water.

In urging farmers to plan their 1966 conservation programs and to request needed Agricultural Conservation Program help now, Mr. Richardson pointed out that funds are limited for cost-sharing under the program and the county committee can do a more equitable job of approving individual requests if the needs of most of the county's farmers and ranches are known.

He urged all farmers and ranchers who need assistance in carrying out conservation work to contact the county office before closing of the initial sign-up on Feb. 21, 1966.

"Conservation of our soil, water, and woodland resources benefit everyone, even though the majority of practices are carried out on privately owned farmland. This is why the public shares a part of the cost," he said.

Mr. Bouis (Shorty) is an old personal friend of the Davis's, and in the past was also a cattle buyer, having had his own ranch in Dixson, Missouri. Hence at this sale he met many of his old former friends from throughout different parts of the country.

Being Vicky's first experience as such, she was amused at the men's exclamations of "beautiful" in viewing the bulls and heifers. Undoubtedly beautiful in the eyes of the cattlemen, but not to the owner of "Fairyland" whose prime interest are beautiful children and beautiful clothes!

Highlands AARP Group Has Meeting

Highlands County chapter No. 222 of The American Association of Retired Persons met recently at the Sebring Hotel with W. B. Dehn presiding. Rev. Iverson Mishler led in prayer.

E. C. Ludington, chairman of insurance and legislation committee, reported that AARP will have insurance plans co-ordinated to take up where Medicare stops. All policy holders will be notified as soon as plans are completed, probably in early spring.

Ludington also called attention to a bill which has been introduced in Washington by Senator Philip Hart of Michigan, called the "Hart Bill" or "packaging and labeling" bill, to control misleading labeling and packaging information on consumer products. He urged all members to write their legislators to vote for this bill.

Ludington tendered his resignation as vice president of the chapter, saying he does not have the required time to devote to it. The resignation was regretfully accepted.

Loring S. Bean of Roanoke, Va., spoke on activities of the AARP chapter in Roanoke, reciting projects the chapter is engaged in. This chapter has between 600 and 700 members and has been able to get a large number of business people to give discounts on purchases and service to members.

Dehn gave an interesting account of the recent trip which he and Mrs. Dehn made to Texas where they visited her brother whom she had not seen in 47 years.

Location of the February meeting place will be announced.

Marionettes To Dance, Sing Here Jan. 28

Marionettes will talk, dance and sing on the stage of the Avon Park High School Auditorium Jan. 28 in a show starting at 8 p.m.

"Aladdin and His Magic Lamp" will be presented that evening by the Nicolo, formerly Suzari Marionettes, in a benefit program under direction of the Avon Park Band Association.

A marionette show is a chance for all the family to turn back the pages of time and enter the world of make-believe.

And, it will afford you parents an opportunity to answer your child's question "Can Marionettes really talk?"

As the wooden figures execute intricate steps and cavort under expert manipulation of expert handlers, you can turn to your child as the marionette's wooden mouth opens and closes, replying, "Of course they can."

Band Association members, in bringing the marionette company to Avon Park, feel it will offer resident and visitor a fine opportunity to obtain an evening's entertainment, return to the land of make-believe for a few enjoyable moments and—see a bang-up program.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

When you purchase a ticket for the coming dance of the wooden characters you are helping the high school band further its program of developing young musicians in the appreciation of good music.

Mrs. Church Is Winner In Court Suit

Mrs. Anna Dee Church won every point at issue in her case against her brother, Wendell Roberts, as Judge Clifton M. Kelly rendered his decision in the long-draw-out legal controversy on Tuesday.

Testimony in the case had been heard on November 22 and 23 and on December 20. The final decree was signed by the judge on Tuesday morning.

As noted in the judge's decree, Mrs. Anna Dee Church is one of three children of S. E. Roberts and A. Lola Roberts, the other two being Francis E. Roberts, now deceased, and Wendell Roberts.

Mrs. Roberts owned a 12,000-acre ranch in Hardee County, and the cattle on the ranch, in addition to citrus and residential property. A meat market was also included in her property.

Mrs. Church contended that a family agreement was made in 1963 that her brothers, Francis and Wendell, would receive the entire ownership of the Hardee County ranch, cattle, and meat market and that she was to receive the citrus grove and certain residential property in Avon Park.

Agreement Said Violated

Subsequently, Mrs. Roberts, who in 1965 was declared mentally incompetent and is now in a state hospital, conveyed the grove to her son, Wendell, and also deeded one of the houses to him—which Mrs. Church states was done in violation of the family agreement.

In a legal action brought against the estate of Francis E. Roberts in Hardee County some time ago, Wendell Roberts declared under oath that there was such an agreement—according to Judge Kelly's statement.

The court ordered cancelation of the deeds to the citrus grove and the house in Avon Park by which Mrs. Roberts had conveyed these properties to Wendell Roberts.

The court also ordered cancelation of a $100,000 mortgage on the grove, executed by Wendell Roberts in favor of his mother at the time when the grove was conveyed to him by her.

Mrs. Church is declared by the court order to have a vested interest in the grove and the Avon Park house, after the death of her mother.

Accounting Ordered

The court also ordered an accounting from Wendell Roberts of the money received from the property in dispute, and of the proceeds of mortgages against the property.

A lien, to secure the payment of any amounts for which Roberts may be adjudged liable, was established in favor of Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Church against a Wendell Roberts grove in DeSoto County.

The court had previously appointed Doyle E. Carlton to be guardian ad litem of Mrs. Roberts (to represent her in legal matters). This appointment was canceled and Attorney Howard Livingston was appointed her guardian ad litem, replacing Carlton.

Mrs. Church is the guardian of her mother's property, by previous appointment.

The case was tried before Judge Kelly without a jury.

Florida Payrolls Show Increase Over Similar Period In 1964

Florida payrolls, subject to Social Security taxes, amounted to $1,297 million during the first quarter of 1964, 18 percent higher than the first quarter of 1962, according to a report, "County Business Patterns: 1964-Florida", issued recently by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

The report is one in a series of state reports which has been shifted to an annual basis to provide each year an updated county-by-county and State picture of the nation's business structure. The report includes data on employment, taxable payrolls and the number and employment-size of reporting units for each of the hundreds of different industries under which private non-farm firms subject to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act are classified.

All industry divisions except mining showed larger taxable payrolls than in 1962. Manufacturing, which had the largest payroll, increased $49 million (19 percent) over 1962. Among the businesses showing significant gains were services, up $39 million (21 percent), retail trade, up $38 million (19 percent); and contract construction, up $24 million (22 percent).

According to the report, mid-March 1964 employment totaled 1,209,007, an increase of 104,550 (10 percent) over 1962. Retail trade, the largest employer with 297,256 employees, recorded an increase of 29,604 employees. Substantial gains were shown also by services, up 27,813 employees (12 percent); and manufacturing, up 21,717 employees (10 percent).

Dade, the county with the largest employment in the state—303,064 employees—showed an increase of 20,290 employees (7 percent) over 1962. Duval, the second largest county in this respect, with 118,007 employees, registered an increase of 3,146 employees (3 percent).

Among the 113,520 reporting units in Florida, there were 1,495 units with 100 or more employees. This group accounted for 437,320 employees, or 36 percent of the State's total employment.

WHEN A MAN IS LOST

"The Son of man is come to seek and save that which was lost." St. Luke 19:10.

The Parable of the Lost Sheep is a story that could be told about anyone. It tells how a person gets lost, and how he gets found.

The parable is really in two parts: how the sheep got lost and how it was found. Ordinarily a sheep is flock-conscious and follows its' leader. So we may feel that the sheep that got lost found a particularly lush growth of grass and tarried behind and, grazing, wandered away from the flock. Very often an individual loses his way in much the same manner. A man can follow his own ways, his own devices, until he becomes so disassociated from people that they become a throng and not a fellowship. Before he realizes it, he is hopelessly lost. Edwin Markham pointed out the possibility in the following lines:

"Once suddenly I found myself alone
Out in the cold of a great city, filled
With tremblings and the cry of many fears."

This loneliness makes for what Thomas Wolfe called "the huge unhappiness of the average soul." Wolfe, like Markham, felt lonely in the great city where the vast "manswarm passes us on the streets."

"For men are homesick in their homes,
And strangers under the sun;
And they lay their heads in a foreign land
Whenever day is done."

You may be fortunate enough to say that lostness does not describe your condition. Perhaps not. Yet it is well to bear in mind how easy it is to get lost by following selfish inclinations—or—one's own nose—until one is disassociated from the very fellowship which normally means so much. The pursuit of money very often does that. A man gets so absorbed in his profession, business, or whatever he is working at, that he loses the common touch. He sacrifices both the fellowship of his family, his church and his friends. His children grow up with a father in the home who is almost a stranger, he has so little time for them. One day that man awakens to discover that he is not only in spiritual perdition but he has also lost the very thing that is of greatest value in this world.He has taken the wrong road. Robert Frost called attention to the fact that man determines the character of his life by the choice of the road he travels on.

"I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence;
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
Took the one less traveled by,
And that made all the difference.

Jesus very seldom referred to people as sinners; he called them "lost." Some are lost like a sheep, through following "one's own nose." However, there are those who are lost like the prodigal, through calculated self-will. No matter the road that is taken, the end is the same; all such separate themselves from the fold of Christian fellowship. There is hope for any man, however, who realizes that he is "lost."

Jesus in this parable, insists on the fact that the lost sheep is known to the shepherd who sets out to search till he has found. Here is a true portrayal of the infinite love of God who seeks the "lost" because each of His children is precious in His sight. Though the ninety and nine are safe, and that is a high percentage, divine love is not satisfied. How beautiful the picture of God seeking the one lost and bringing that one home with rejoicing. This leads us to say that in Jesus the great love of God draws near.

In 1868 Sir Norman Lockyear, through the use of a spectroscope, discovered a gas on the sun that was different from any gas on the earth. He gave it the name of helium. Later, in 1895, Sir William Ramsey found the same gas in tubes with which he was working in the laboratory. Later on quantities of this gas were found in certain of our Western states. That which was first discovered far away was found near at hand. For ages men had sought the love of God in the far-off heavens. Then that love, suddenly came near in Jesus. Men had dreamed of a love that would "bear all things, believe all things, hope all things, endure all things;" and here it was sitting across the table breaking bread in love and fellowship.

Over the radio network came the desperate words of a young aviator: "I cannot keep her up. I am going down." Immediately, from the same radio circuit, there came another voice and this was the voice of the commander who was flying 2000 feet above his squadron directing the aviators to the target area. This voice spoke with authority and confidence: "Get hold of her lad. Get hold of her." It seemed only a second transpired in the lapse of time, when the young aviator came back and said: "I'm OK - Roger." This young man had momentarily lost control of his thinking, so that he could not read his instrument board and, as a result, he had lost control of his stick. What was it that put him back in control of his plane again? It was the voice of his squadron commander.

Zachaeus was up a tree. He was alone and lost. Then a voice called to him over the noise of the crowd. The voice of Jesus saying: "Zachaeus, make haste, and come down; for today I must abide at thy house." St. Luke 19:5. The lost is found! Joy and happiness take up their residence in his heart again.

Jesus puts into simple words the reason for his coming: "The Son of man is come to seek and save that which was lost." St. Luke 19:10. A wonderful Saviour says to you and me, "Come, let's have fellowship and talk it over." If we pay heed and turn to him, all heaven rejoices that that which was lost is at long last found.

Episcopal Church History In State Told

The study of Florida Churches has been an almost neglected field in Florida history. A Goodly Heritage, recently released by the University of Florida Press, sheds light on the growth and development of the Episcopal Church.

It begins with the coming of the first mission priest to St. Augustine in 1821 and ends with the partition of the Diocese of Florida by the creation of the Missionary Jurisdiction of South Florida in 1892.

The Episcopal Church did not expand rapidly. The shortage of clergy, the scarcity of funds, the hostility of Indians, and the primitive conditions of the frontier all delayed the growth of the Church. But by 1850 the diocese had developed to such an extent that it was ready to elect and support a bishop.

Author, Joseph D. Cushman, a Florida State University history professor, tells how the Church dealt with the moral problems inherent in the institution of Negro slavery and the growth of Southern nationalism. Cushman tells of the catastrophic effects of the Civil War on the diocese and also explains the almost insurmountable problems that appeared during the Reconstruction Era.

The Expansion of the church in the decades of the 1870's and 1880's is dealt with in detail, with particular emphasis upon the parochial school movement, the missionary activities of the diocese in Key West and Cuba, and the effect of the Oxford Movement upon the Church manship of the period.

The book also includes biographical sketches of the church's leading clergy and laity. It points up the interaction of many church leaders in political, social and cultural affairs.

Cushman was born in Titusville and attended the University of the South in Sewanee, where he obtained his B.A. degree in history. He received his M. A. and Ph.D. degrees from Florida State University, where he has been a history professor for the past five years.

Jim Walter

Starting Feb. 1 the Avon Park office of the Jim Walter Corporation will re-open on a 7 day week basis.

The Jim Walter Corporation is the world's largest builder of "on your lot" homes.

The model home will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturdays, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Erline Rhymes of Avon Park is now employed as secretary and Hubert Hendrie will head the office as sales representative.

Money Tops Red Devils In Victory

Avon Park's Red Devil cagers won their third straight game last Saturday night, tripping Auburndale, 63-56. The win set the Devils record at 4-4 for the season, including tourney play.

Coach Bill Sewell's "B" squad dropped a 64-43 decision to a well-coached Auburndale junior varsity team to give the Avon Park jayvees a 3-3 mark. The "Bees" have won over Ft. Meade, Sebring and Arcadia while losing to Haines City, Wauchula, and Auburndale.

John Wright topped the Devil scoring with 14 points against the Bloodhounds last Saturday night.

Lanky Emmitt Money, Devil forward, pumped in 20 points for Avon Park in the varsity tilt against Auburndale to pace the winners. Money hit 7 field goals and 6 free shots.

Carl Holden added 13 points and Bobby Coleman and Ronnie Jackson hit for 10 points each for Avon Park. Ronnie Conrad's 12 points was high for the Bloodhounds.

Avon Park's boys hit 17 of 23 free shots for a 73 percent effort at the foul line. Auburndale sank 16 of 32 free shots hitting 50 percent.

The two Devil teams play in Arcadia Friday night and then will be at home to a strong Frostproof team next Tuesday night.

Origin of "Goodwill" is Explained

The Goodwill Industries program of helping the handicapped to help themselves was named after the Christmas spirit a half-century ago.

Dr. Robert C. Adair, Executive Director of Goodwill Industries Suncoast, today summarized the program's history and explained the origin of the "Goodwill" name.

"In 1915, the superintendent of the House of Goodwill mission in Brooklyn, Reverend Carlton Park, heard about the self-help program founded in Boston by Dr. Edgar J. Helms," Dr. Adair said.

"Reverend Park liked Dr. Helms' idea of training the handicapped to support themselves and promptly incorporated it into his mission, calling the new program, Goodwill Industries. This name combined the name of his mission with that of Dr. Helms' Boston program, Morgan Memorial Cooperative Industries.

"Shortly after the new title was coined, Dr. Helms began traveling across the United States, setting up similar agencies and gave each of the programs the Goodwill Industries name," Dr. Adair explained.

The Helms-founded, Parks-named organization spread rapidly across the country. In the years between 1916 and 1921, fifteen Goodwills were established stretching from the east coast to the west. From that time on, the Goodwill idea has grown, until today it includes 131 national and 21 international programs.

"Our Suncoast Goodwill was begun in 1964," Dr. Adair said. "The first year we had 16 employees. Each year has shown a steady expansion. Today we employ over 450 handicapped people and our system embraces 19 stores.

"All types of services are available to our employees, including evaluation, job training, work, rehabilitation facilities and job placement in outside industries. All of this is accomplished by a program that is 95 per cent self-supporting.

TIPS ON STEAKS

Proten beef is more tender than the same cut in ordinary beef, and cooks in less time. You can broil cuts which in other beef must be moist-cooked. Slash fat at edges to prevent curling.

Steaks one inch thick or less are best pan-broiled in heavy, lightly-greased hot pan.

Steaks more than one inch thick: broil in oven or over charcoal. Oven—place steak on lightly-greased rack two inches from heat source. (Leave electric oven door open.)

Doneness: Check by cutting steak and observing color.

Chuck roasts 2 to 2½ inches thick can be oven-broiled like steak.

STRICTLY FRESH

One man's opinion: Mother-in-laws are like seeds. You don't need them but they come with the tomato.

If you take your time to study all the angles you probably won't end up going around in circles.

Always remember that it takes at least two to make bad company.

About the only thing a woman can't get on time these days is the kids when breakfast is ready.

Personality is what makes it possible for a student to get along well at college in everything but his classes.

The number of children a man has regulates the number of reasons why he can't do office work at home.

Lofty Ambition

The California state prison newspaper recently queried convicts on what they would do when released and it received this reply from one prisoner:

"I'd like to go back to the old way of life. Get healthy and fat, raise a bunch of kids, owe everybody and pay none."

Needs Repair

A Lubbock, Tex., radio sales firm received a transistor radio in the mail. There was a letter enclosed.

"Sir: I stole this radio from your company about 1957 or maybe later," the letter said. "I am truly sorry, so I am returning it and pray for your forgiveness."

Doc Griffith, owner of the store, said he had reservations about the sincerity of the note. The $80 radio was out of order.

Florida produces 84% of the world's grapefruit and 23% of the world's oranges, and packs 95% of the world's orange concentrate and 80% of the world's total processed citrus products.

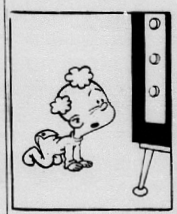
CHARLIE'S OUTBOARD

505 Hwy. 27 N. - Avon Park
GL 3-6060

"I guess maybe they do have too much violence and gunplay on TV. What's the name of this ballet, dear?"



"So far what I see makes a lot of sense to me. And it's very entertaining. Now how do I turn it on?"

"It used to be that TV would keep the kids off the streets—but now I think the heavy traffic does it!"

Return Engagement

A youth about 18 made three trips to the laundry the other night in Fresno, Calif.

The first time he asked the cost of cleaning a sweater. He came back again and left a sweater to be cleaned. On his third visit a few minutes later, he pulled out a pearl-handled pistol and robbed the store of $60.

She Knew

On Nov. 29, a San Francisco woman who died of a heart attack was identified as Alma Jones.

Recently, Alma Jones, 69, turned up. She said she saw newspaper accounts of the death and commented:

"But the stories said that woman carried an umbrella and a purse. I don't carry an umbrella or purse, so I knew it must have been someone else."

IF YOU CAN'T BEAT IT... DON'T KNOCK IT!

CHICKEN BARBARA

4-lb. frying chicken
½ cup flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. black pepper
¼ lb. butter
½ cup red or white wine
2 tbs. raisins
1 cup sour cream

Cut chicken into serving pieces. Put flour, salt and pepper into paper bag; add chicken and shake bag until chicken is well-coated with flour. Saute in butter over very low heat until browned. Transfer chicken and drippings to casserole. Add wine, cover loosely so steam can escape and bake in 225 degree oven, basting frequently, until chicken is tender. Stir in raisins and cream and heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Serves 4.

Stupid Drivers

The New Hampshire Legislature is studying a bill aimed at decreasing the number of high school dropouts by taking away the right to drive from persons under 18 who are not in school. Rep. Richard Riley, D-Hooksett, said he sponsored the bill after a poll of school authorities indicated many dropouts quit school to earn money to keep their cars running.

IMPRESSIVE RECORD

Spice CABINET

Why Don't They . . .

- Package new products in smaller containers? One might be more willing to try them out, for, not only would they cost less, but there wouldn't be as much waste if one disliked the product.
- Sew a label on the inside of all clothing with instructions on it for laundering or cleaning the garment?
- Manufacture an ink pen that will write well on a surface that has been touched by an oily substance (such as the natural oil on hands)?
- Package such foods as catsup and salad dressing in squeezable plastic bottles? It would save food, tablecloths and tempers. The way the bottles are now, it's all or nothing—you either get too much or you don't get any!

Dirty Story

A New Orleans pediatrician said recently that instead of bathing you should "just daub where and when you are dirty.

"Today's strong soaps can remove many of the natural secretions which are beneficial to our skins." He told the Tennessee Pediatric Society in Memphis. "We should be bathed only where we are dirty, and only when needed. Otherwise, our skin should be left alone."

Humor Escapes Him

Reno District Attorney William Raggio noted recently that a record 22 inmates have fled from the Nevada State Prison this year, 18 of whom were recaptured.

He jokingly suggested that signs be placed along roadways near the institution reading: "Drive Carefully, Prisoners Escaping."

Bad News, Birds

Professor Oliver H. Hewitt of Cornell University says birth control is for the birds. And he means it.

Hewitt, a wildlife management specialist at Cornell's State College of Agriculture, said Cornell scientists are experimenting with drugs to control the population of certain types of birds.

Wonderful World of Birds

Pretty Sunken Gardens model Connie Ford of St. Petersburg can tell you with authority that birds are some of the most interesting and beautiful creatures in the world. Connie admits that birds scared her at first, but it's pretty evident from this picture with a colorful macaw that her fears are in the past. The famous Florida Garden has recently completed a huge walk-in Aviary at a cost in excess of $15,000. It features both native and exotic birds from all parts of the world.

Splash Plus Crash

A sudden splash of water on a driver's windshield in San Francisco recently resulted in one of the worst traffic jams in the history of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

Joseph M. Tonking of San Francisco told authorities the gush of water, apparently from an overhead pipe leak, caused him to swerve his car. That touched off a series of collisions, involved 19 trucks and cars, injured three persons and tied up traffic for two hours.

That Deadly Feeling

The Nevada Senate recently defeated a move to fly the state flag at half staff while a special reapportionment session was meeting.

Some senators will lose their jobs under reapportionment. So Sen. James Slattery, who sponsored the resolution, said that senators "are assembled together in attendance at their own funerals."

Moving Story

Apologizing for driving at 80 miles an hour on a city street, 20-year-old Daniel Higte of Port Elizabeth, South Africa, explained in court he had taken a laxative . . . "and I was in a hurry to get home." The unsympathetic magistrate fined him $112 for speeding and another $28 for having a noisy vehicle.

Cheap Drunk

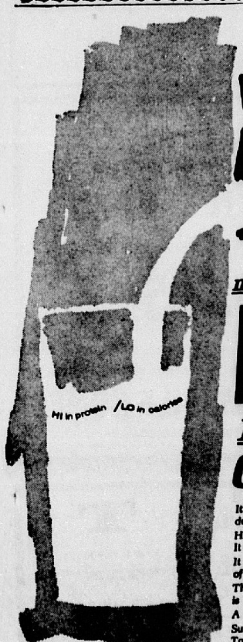
Two men painting a water tank in suburban Stickney, near Chicago, got intoxicated on the job recently. It was a case of too much lacquer—not liquor.

The men were working inside the 200-foot high tower when a co-worker peeked in and found them "acting goofy." Both were taken to a hospital and given oxygen.

"They were quite wild," a hospital spokesman said. "It was intoxication—not alcohol, but from lacquer."

MECHANIZED FARMING

Florida farmers now have more than 5400 million invested in farm machinery, including 74,520 tractors. The total number of farm tractors in the state has increased an average of 8.2 percent each year since 1959 and continued increases seem assured.



more than just a skimmed milk...

HI-LO REALLY TASTES GOOD!

It's Hood's Hi-Lo, a milk developed for weight watchers.
Hi-Lo is Hi in protein, Lo in calories.
It contains approximately 1% butterfat.
It doesn't have the flat, thin taste of ordinary skim milk.
The secret of Hi-Lo's good flavor is that it contains far more milk solids.
A low-fat milk?
Sure, but this one really tastes good!
Taste it.

FIX-IT TIP

Paint stains on unglazed ceramic tile can be removed with paint remover or tile bleach, available at paint and hardware stores. Or place on the stain a thick pad of cotton cloth soaked with hydrogen peroxide and cover with a cloth soaked with ammonia. Repeat if necessary. Another treatment for removing paint and ink stains is to mix 1 part of trisodium phosphate, 1 part of sodium perborate and 3 parts of powdered talc in strong, hot soapsuds to form a paste. Apply paste to stain, let it dry, then brush it off.

VOLUME XLII | NUMBER 14 | AVON PARK, FLORIDA 33825 — THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1966 | GL 3-4351 | GL 3-4355 | 10c PER COPY

IF TENDER CARE will help this eucalyptus sprout will grow into a sturdy tree to help beautify The Mall. Here Mayor E. A. DeLaney watches as this group from the Junior Woman's Club finish planting the tiny fellow they hope will blossom forth in beauty. With the mayor, from the left, Mrs. Kenneth (Miriam) Flippula, Mrs. Jimmy (Ann) Johnson, Mrs. Steve (Nell) Roberts, Mrs. Charles (Margaret) Collins. Kneeling is Miss Betty Creech.—(SUN PHOTO.)

FPC Has Statement On Future In Area

To quell rumors running rampant in Avon Park The Sun contacted Roy V. Kirby, district manager of the Florida Power Corporation, and the corporation's headquarters at St. Petersburg for its future plans in the Avon Park area.

Following is the corporation's position as released through the district manager's office here Wednesday:

With the rapid growth of Florida Power Corporation's system load requirements, and the continuous addition of larger and more efficient new generating units, the Company is now in a "transition" period with respect to the use of its older and less efficient plants.

It is, of course, an obligation on the part of our Company to its customers and stockholders to generate electricity with the most efficient generating equipment available to it, in order to resist the continued pressure of inflation on the price of electricity.

Some of our older plants are, as a result, being worked less and less, and in the next few years will not be required on a regular basis.

To anticipate and plan for this shift-over, the company recently completed an extensive study of the expected future requirements of these older plants, and the effects of this study provided information for the short term personnel requirements such as manning of our new Crystal River Plant, as well as long range information on the effects of the shift-over on our present plants and personnel.

In planning this change of emphasis from older to newer plants the Company has given every possible consideration to the effect on the plant personnel involved so as to minimize adverse changes. Discussions of the plans with the Company's union representatives has been held, and we are in agreement that every effort will be made to permit an orderly change-over.

Our long range study into future needs of our plants pointed out that the present importance of the Avon Park Plant is to furnish area protection in the general Avon Park area.

Today there are several large capacity transmission lines which carry power into this area from other parts of the system. Future plans call for additional transmission lines to provide additional power to the area as the area grows. In this section great new industries and communities are added, the importance of the Avon Park Plant will diminish considerably.

It is expected that from time to time units from the Avon Park Plant will not be required for continuous operating purposes, and will be placed on standby.

The change of status of the Avon Park Plant, including the shift of some employees from this area does not necessarily mean that there will be fewer Florida Power Corporation jobs in the area. As the use of electricity increases and the number of customers increases additional service personnel in Division Operations normally are needed - so while personnel in the Plant may be reduced the total Florida Power Corporation personnel in the area is not necessarily reduced.

The Company manpower and facilities will continue to grow with the area to provide the maximum quality service our customers have come to expect from us.

Fire Prevention Inspection Starts Here First of Month

Starting Feb. 1, Fire Chief Wilbur Giddens will open a fire prevention inspection of all commercial buildings in Avon Park.

Giddens informed the City Council Monday night of his intentions in a time-consuming session during which much was discussed but little accomplished.

Seeking to have spelled out his authority under city ordinances, Giddens wanted to know his powers, especially if he or the Council should appoint a deputy fire inspector.

It was determined Giddens was the citys fire inspector, and he had the power to name his assistant, which he did, appointing Assistant Fire Chief Mack Flowers to aid in the fire prevention inspection program.

Remarking he had found many violations and hazardous conditions existing in the city, Giddens told councilmen he did not have any deaths in Avon Park attributed to fire.

Councilmen approved Giddens proposal and gave Police Chief C. S. Carroll a go ahead for the purchase of a walkie talkie to help his undermanned police force patrol the city.

Carroll said such an instrument will enable patrolmen, especially those at night, do a better job by doing some walking and not having to ride an easily spotted patrol car. The walkie talkie will provide contact with the police station, and also the radio equipped cars if auxiliary policeman should be riding with the patrolman.

The council also passed a resolution as a backup measure of an ordinance passed in December providing for federal money for the preparation of planning documents for the sewer expansion program. The request was made by Dawkins and Grantham Inc. engineers who prepared the plans for possible future use.

In addition, James Martindale served in the Navy four years in World War II.

In the past Mr. Martindale has sponsored the Junior Class or the Senior Class many times. At the present he is sponsor of the 1965-66 Senior Class and is the director of the Senior play.

AP Beauties Gain Finals

Two charming Avon Park misses were finalists in this year's Highlands County Fair beauty contest, barely missing the honor of being Miss Highlands County of 1966.

They bowed to a beautiful, statuesque blonde of 16 summers, Linda Kelly, daughter of Circuit Judge Clifton M. and Mrs. Kelly of Sebring.

Avon Park's Beverly Turner, a graceful blonde, too, was the judges' choice for first runner-up and Ricki Pate, sparkling and vivacious brunette of 17 years, the same age as Miss Turner, was third runner-up.

Second runner-up was Linda Hughes, 16, of Sebring, and, fourth runner-up, also of Sebring, was Cassandra Tomlinson, 17.

Miss Kelly and her court of Highlands County beauties were selected amid a downpour last Friday night at the annual fair at Sebring. Their selection came from 22 contestants beautifully clothed in evening dress who paraded before a jam-packed crowd forced into the educational building because of the inclement weather.

County Commission Chairman Cecil Skipper of Avon Park was master of ceremonies of the contest, sponsored by the Sebring Volunteer Firemen's Association Auxiliary. Mrs. Thomas Logan was in charge of the contest for the auxiliary.

Miss Highlands County of 1966 is a student at Sebring High and is winner of $75 as the county's newest queen.

She is eligible to compete in next month's "Miss Sun and Soil" contest to be held as a part of the State Fair at Tampa.

Entrants in the Highlands contest, other than Miss Turner, who was sponsored by Mercer's Dept. Store; and, Miss Pate, sponsored by Stephanie's Dress Shop, were Betty Hutchinson, Virginia's Beauty Salon; Linda Cravey, Kay Lynn's Beauty Salon; Sue O'Steen, Bennett and Moseley; Karen Pearl, Glenarda Studio; Terry Guyton, Jahna Concrete; and, Audrey Barber, Touchton's Drug Store.

Avon Park Livestock Entries Gain Ribbons And Honors for Future Farmers, 4-H Youths

Avon Park's Future Farmers of America and 4-H members did all right at last week's Highlands County Fair which ended Saturday night at Sebring after a week of rain, mud and cold weather.

Local youths who entered their bulls and steers in the livestock show received cold cash for their efforts at the auction, held Friday afternoon in adverse weather as a spiting rain held the crowd to a minimum. But, the mometary return from their efforts did help warm their hearts and pockets.

Dennis Richards, an FFA member, who had walked off with reserve grand champion honors and a showmanship ribbon with his Angus bull, got 55 cents a pound for his entry. The latter weighed in at 775 pounds. It was purchased by the First National Bank of Sebring.

Ronnie Laye, an FFA member of Avon Park, saw his short horn steer purchased by the Avon Citrus Bank as Hugh Nunnallee, representing the bank, bid 47 cents a pound for the animal which had won a ribbon in Class B competition. It weighed 730 pounds.

Del Murphy, a 4-H club entry of Avon Park, saw his 695-pound entry bring 51 cents, one of the top prices, as the Mid-State Packers of Bartow bid in the steer.

Billy Richards, another FFA entrant from Avon Park, got 41 cents a pound for his 770-pound steer from McIntyre Spreader Service, Sebring. Richards had received a Class B ribbon for the steer in the judging contest.

Top price paid during the bidding for the 16 offered in the rain Friday afternoon outside the animal exhibition building was received by Dennis Coulter. He had entered an Angus bull weighing 1065 pounds which had received grand champion honors from Billy Bass, Glades County county agent.

Wendell Cooper was auctioneer.

Publix Markets paid $1.10 per pound for Coulter's grand champion Black Angus.

The auction was restricted to stock raised by 4-H club members and Future Farmers of America. Coulter is an FFA member from Venus.

Other sales were:

First Bank of Lake Placid paid 41 cents a pound for a 629-pound steer raised by 4-H Club member Wade Driggers of Lake Placid. The bank donated the steer to the juvenile home, PTA, firemen's association and the athletic association, all of Lake Placid.

Free Shots Win Contest

Red Devil center Bobby Coleman's two free shots in the last 30 seconds of the game last Tuesday night gave Avon Park a one point lead over Frostproof, then Jimmy Powell sank two more shots from the free throw line to ice down the win for the Devils, 59-56.

It was a big win for Avon Park over the Bulldogs who have a 10-7 record now while the Devils are 5-6 for the year.

Coleman pumped in 24 points to lead the scoring. Emmitt Money added 10 more for the winners while giving the Devils a big hand under the baskets on rebounds.

Frostproof's big gun, Andy Riley, was held to 17 points by the aggressive Devil defense.

Avon Park sank 13 of 20 free shots for 65 percent and Frostproof dropped in 14 of 24 for 58 percent on their gift shooting.

The Devils play in Auburndale Saturday night and will host Haines City here next Tuesday night.

The Frostproof "B" squad came from behind to take a 50-48 win from Coach Bill Sewell's junior varsity. The loss set the "Bees" record at 4-5.

Postal Service Restored Here

Restoration of six-day a week parcel post service and window service on Saturday, starting will be effective Jan. 26 at the Avon Park Post Office.

This repeal of the service cut made in May, 1964 is one of the steps taken under the administration of Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien to improve postal service.

These services will continue provided Congress provides the necessary funds in the very near future. In the meantime the restoration of this service will be accomplished under the 1965 budget, if possible.

An increase in mail volume of more than 8 percent over the same period in December last year set a new record. Despite the record mail handling work hours for all employees were up only 6.6 percent. The increased productivity is attributed to a variety of factors, among which is the skill and experience of career employees who worked overtime hours instead of increased Christmas assistants, together with the successful function of the new sectional center, the cooperation of those who mailed early and the patron participation in extensive use of the Zip Code.

Doyle Conner Announces For Re-Election

Doyle Conner, who has served Florida as its commissioner of Agriculture for 5 years, has announced his candidacy for re-election to a 4-year term.

Coincidentally, the announcement came on his 57th birthday, Dec 17.

Conner, who was elected initially in 1960 and re-elected without opposition in 1964, is a general farmer from Bradford County who spent 10 years in the Florida House of Representatives prior to 1960.

A complete reorganization of the Florida Department of Agriculture was blueprinted before he became commissioner, but it became one of Conner's major tasks to implement the change-over after he was inaugurated in January, 1961.

Conner is immediate past president of the Southern Association of State Departments of Agriculture and has served on the executive committee of the National Association. He is Florida coordinator for the Food for Peace Program and is active at the national level on a number of other committees concerned with food and fiber production and distribution.

On announcing his candidacy, Conner issued a formal statement which enumerated some of the crises which Florida farmers have overcome, with assistance from his state agency, during the 5 years of his administration. He described some of the pressing, unfinished business yet facing Florida agricultural producers and predicted that if future challenges aren't met effectively, "there will be instability of supply for our consumers."

But he added:

"As unsettling as the future seems, I remain convinced that Florida agriculture can continue to be this state's greatest economic asset and our consumers' most dependable servant."

"Imaginative, even aggressive leadership is required," he said, "to see to the coming challenges," and he offered to rededicate himself to such a role.

Conner and his wife, the former Johnnie (Kitten) Bennett of Marianna, have two sons and a daughter and make their home in Tallahassee at 2902 Woodside Drive.

All dogs and cats four months or older should be inoculated for rabies, he added.

Letter To Editor
Band Association Wants You

Editor:

One of my big city friends likes to look at me with pity in her eyes and ask in her most sympathetic voice, "How do you stand it, you poor dear?" I mean the boredom of nothing to do in a small town?" The last time she asked me this I had already attended a morning coffee for a blushing young bride, made a quick stop to pick up credentials for the Red Cross canvassing, spent the afternoon at a circle meeting at Church and was standing in the midst of unmade beds, dirty clothes and stacked breakfast and lunch dishes, flipping a coin to decide whether to attend a Cub Scout Pack night or a Band Association meeting. So unfortunately my only answer was a sort of wild eyed stare.

But when you stop to think about it we really wouldn't change it now would we? (Well, maybe just enough to have one evening at home a week.) Friday, Jan. 28 at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium the Avon Park High School Band is presenting the Marionette Show "Alladin and His Magic Lamp." A small charge will be made.

There are three good "Alladin and His Magic Lamp." A small charge will be made. There are three good reasons why we think you should work this into your busy calendar. 1. It will be first rate entertainment. 2. It will appeal to all ages, and 3. We need the money. Hope to see you there and remember the last one in has to sit on a broken seat!!

Mrs. Philip F. Weber
Corresponding Sec.
Avon Park Band Assoc.

The new home is planned for a capacity of 32, about double that available in the present Juvenile Home on the Sebring-Sun City Road south of Sebring.

James Alvin Kinard of Polk County had asked damages of $60,000 for injuries his son Michael Wayne allegedly suffered when he came into contact with the fence at the home of Rufus J. and Cora Lee Rhymes, 101 E. Thomas St.

Kinard said his son was visiting relatives next door to the Rhymes home and attempted to get to the pond to see alligators there. He said his son was paralyzed three hours and suffered burns on his hands and arms.

Tri-County Judging Contest Set March 2 at Wauchula For FFA, 4-H

By Sam Polston, WUC

The Soil Conservation Service Engineers last week assisted several cooperators with water control for both crops and pasture. Among them were Robert Hall, Bob Oxer and Andrew Jackson, of Venus; J. M. McJunkin, O. W. Casperson, George Richardson, J. C. Durrance, W. P. Hamilton and Lykes Brothers, all near Lake Placid; Bob Barringer and R. H. Last year winners were a 4-H team coached by assistant County Agent Bill Kozicki and an FFA team coached by Vo-Ag teacher Dean Griffin of Avon Park.

Mr. Barben also announced that there will again this year be a public speaking contest in Highlands County Schools on the subject "Why Soil and Water Conservation Districts Should Help Solve Water Pollution Problems in Florida." The Soil Conservation District is sponsoring this contest.

The contest is open to boys and girls in grades 7-12. The rules, prizes, etc. will be furnished the schools within the next week.

The SCS Engineers assisted Joe Macbeth of Sebring in the design of a permanent overhead irrigation system for a 10-acre citrus grove.

With the blooming season just around the corner, the interest in irrigation is increasing. The experiments have shown that most benefits from irrigation of citrus is January thru June.

A state resident season ticket good for one year is now available at Florida's Cypress Gardens for the price of one admission.

Dickinson Will Enter Protest

State Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson has been notified he will appear before a Congressional committee Feb. 2 to testify against a proposed federal law to regulate state taxes.

Dickinson said he was notified by Congressman Bob Sikes of Crestview that he is scheduled for a morning appearance before a special subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee in Washington. The subcommittee is considering state taxation of interstate commerce.

Under attack by Dickinson and other state officials is HR 11798, a proposal which would give the U. S. Internal Revenue Service what Dickinson has called "cumbersome, inefficient and costly controls over Florida's state sales and use tax system."

Dickinson will voice the unanimous objections of other State Cabinet members and Gov. Haydon Burns.

Dens Of Pack 156 Give Skit

In December the four Dens of Pack 156 suspended their den meetings during the Christmas holidays and each den held their own "Christmas" meetings or parties. Den 1 and 2 held den picnics and Dens 3 and 4 observed the holiday season with Christmas den meetings.

On Dec. 16, the monthly Pack Meeting was held at Fellowship Hall at the Congregational Church. Den 2 was in charge of the opening flag ceremony. Cubs David Hamm, Ricky Spurlock, Tim Dupree, Mike Stround, Frank Farrell, Danny Davis, Garnett Oliver, Nicholas Fells and Jeff Scott took part in this ceremony.

A skit by Den 4 was presented next. This was a Christmas skit and as the curtain parted for scene one, everyone was distressed to see "Santa Claus" on an operating table partly covered by a sheet and surrounded by a number of "surgeons" hard at work performing what appeared to be a most important and delicate operation. Finally, after much cutting and stitching Santa jumped from the table and it is discovered that the operation has been to patch Santa's "pack" for toys! The cubs in this performance were: Greg Owens, Chris Owens, Glenn Stone, Vic McKunas, David Metheney, Jim Turnbull, Dennis Crews, Charles Evans, Jose Torregrossa and Hal Worden.

The ring leader for the meeting was Rev. Albert Lawrence. "Birt" led the group in Christmas songs and carols and told a Christmas story with audience participation. All did not participate but a number of parents and visitors were selected from the audience, come up on the stage and take a part in the story. As "Birt" would tell the story and as he would name a particular thing or character in the story, the participants wouls make some motion or say something designating that particular thing or character. The title of the story was "The House Where Santa Claus Lives." This was one of the highlights of the meeting and was enjoyed by all.

After the story, Norman Cook, Neighborhood Commissioner, presented the new Cub Pack Charter to the Congregational Church. Rev. Herbert D. Graetz accepted the Charter on behalf of the Church, along with Welch Fisher, institutional representative from the Church, the sponsoring organization. Membership cards were presented to Den Mothers, Mrs. Peggy Fells, Mrs. Louise, Mrs. Ami Lawrence, Mrs. Sujette Lanier, Mrs. Margaret Turnbull and Mrs. Mary Metheney. Membership cards were also presented to Cubmaster David Lanier and Pack Committeemen Harold Worden, Malcolm Crews, T. Albert Lawrence and Edward Fells.

Den 1 had displayed their handicraft work for December and Cubs Kenny Collingsworth, David Lindgren, Kyle Hassfurder and David Flowers each told how they made their handicraft exhibits.

Den 3 entertained the audience with a Christmas skit. In the conversation they all agree that they would like to have snow for Christmas. Then they decide to write notes to Santa Claus asking for snow. They put the notes in stockings and hang them up and run off to bed. Scene two is Christmas morning and believe it or not as the curtain opens the cubs find that it is snowing on the stage and the cubs find snowballs in their stockings which they throw to the audience. Cubs of Den 3 in this skit were Steve Childress, Ricky Lanier, Steve Jarvis, Greg Jarvis, Tommy Lawrence, John Wright, Jame Tomlinson, Henry Lanier and Richard Birt.

Achievements and awards presented at this meeting were: Ricky Spurlock and David Metheney - Wolf Badges; Kenny Collingsworth - Bear Badge; Ricky Spurlock, Charles Evans, Steve Childress and Nicholas Fells - Gold Arrows. Charles Evans and Steve Childress - Silver Arrows. One year service pins were presented to Jeff Scott and Tim Dupree. A Denner Badge was presented to Tommy Lawrence in Den 3, and Assistant Denner Badge to Greg Jarvis of Den 3.

In January, the cubs resumed their weekly den meetings. The theme for the month of January is "Transportation" and the next regular Pack meeting is to be held Jan. 27, at Fellowship Hall, Congregational Church, 7:30 p.m.

Rotary 'Taken' To Holy Land

Last week Rev. John Mangrum was the Rotary Club's guest speaker. Rev. Mangrum is a former member of the club who now lives in Tampa.

He and Mrs. Mangrum recently made a trip to England, the Holy Land and other parts of Europe and he told of this trip. In telling of his travels, Father Mangrum in effect took the entire club over this journey, with vivid descriptions of what he saw and his impressions.

He described the visits of himself and Mrs. Mangrum to the cathedrals of England and told of the many things they learned in their travel in the Holy Land.

He interspersed this with many amusing accounts of the frustrations which they ran into while traveling in foreign lands.

Mere words could not describe Father Mangrum's account of their visit to the Holy Land but all who heard him speak felt the impact and the earnestness of his statements that on seeing these places, he knew Jesus had been there.

Guests at the luncheon:

Girl Scouts In Avon Park Seeking Aid

Girl Scouts of Avon Park are in the midst of their annual fund drive to maintain a part of the Heart of Florida Girl Scout Council program. Their goal is $880.

In a letter sent interested folk in the Avon Park area, the Avon Park Neighborhood wrote:

"As a responsible member of our community we know that you realize and appreciate the value of the scouting program in Avon Park. When we speak of scouting, we are speaking about the most precious commodity we have in our community — our young boys and girls who will be our leading citizens of tomorrow.

"The Girl Scout Program for Avon Park provides wholesome training and recreation for approximately 174 girls between the ages of 7 to 17. Of this number approximately 58 are Brownie Scouts, 50 Junior Girl Scouts, 20 Cadettes and 26 adults.

"It is quite understandable that the cost to the individual girls to participate in scouting must be kept at a minimum so that the children of all economic groups may participate in the program. In fact, it is the children of these lower income groups who especially need a program of this type, since their families cannot afford private camps and recreational or vocational programs.

"The total cost to the Avon Park Girl Scout movement for association with the Heart of Florida Girl Scout Council is $880. This amount provides for instructional staff for camping representation on state, national and international level and council services to the local community.

"We need your support. Won't you send your contribution to Avon Park Girl Scouts, in care of Tim Newton, Fund Chairman, 315 S. Lotela Road, Avon Park, Fla., today."

The drive is scheduled locally Feb. 26, according to C. S. Warrington, who is heading the Scouting phase. He said collection bags will be distributed by the young workers that day, and will be collected by them March 6, a week later.

Goodwill Industries program of helping the handicapped to help themselves was named after the Christmas spirit a half-century ago.

Dr. Robert C. Adair, executive director of Goodwill Industries-Suncoast, summarized the program's history and explained the origin of the "Goodwill" name.

"In 1915, the superintendent of the House of Goodwill mission in Brooklyn, Rev. Carlton Park, heard about the self-help program founded in Boston by Dr. Edgar J. Helms," Dr. Adair said.

"Our Suncoast Goodwill was begun in 1954," Dr. Adair said. "The first year we had 16 employees. Each year has shown a steady expansion. Today we employ over 450 handicapped people and our system embraces 19 stores.

"All types of services are available to our employees, including evaluation, job training, work, rehabilitation facilities and job placement in outside industries. All of this is accomplished by a program that is 95 percent self-supporting.

To enable as many as possible to attend the Lakeland Deanery meeting, the ladies of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer will hold their February meeting on the first Wednesday of the month, Feb. 2. It will be held in the parish hall starting at 9:45 a.m., and will be preceded by a Holy Communion and healing service in the Church at 9 a.m.

The program will feature Mike Knapp with slides and a talk on his European trip last summer. This was scheduled for an earlier meeting and was postponed. The disappointment of the ladies (at this postponement) was assuaged by an excellent program presented by Mrs. Knapp.

The Deanery meeting will be held at Haines City on Wednesday, Feb. 9. Mrs. Hise, president, requests that all those planning on attending get their money for reservations to her not later than the Feb. 2 meeting, as she must get it to the hostess group.

On Wednesday, Jan. 12, ladies of the Church met in their parish hall to formulate their plans for coming events and conduct other necessary business.

Three Couples Are Honored On 50th Wedding Anniversaries By Winter Guest Club Members

Under the very able leadership of Paul Swearengen, program chairman, last Thursday evening at the Winter Guest Clubhouse, 225 members and guests gathered together to commemorate an important date in the lives of three couples: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longanecker, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Warner, and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. R. Clarke, on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The oldest married couple present were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Stewart who were given a corsage of yellow mums. They have been married 59 years.

The Hand Bell Choir of the Union Congregational Church, with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zuck conducting, favored us with several selections. The bells sounded so sweetly as the adroit ringers rang them. One never tires of the beautiful sound of these bells.

Mrs. Sam Norris, with her beautiful voice, sang, "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

To say that the audience enjoyed it is an understatement. They loved it.

Of course we had our fun as Bert Lawrence of "Funapoppin" fame and his versatile family had the audience in stitches. His audience participating act proved that some of the members are not so nimble, and his slight of hand is far too quick for their eyes.

The scene then changed as the brides and grooms of 50 years were brought to the stage with a few bars of "Here Comes the Bride."

They were seated in front of a back drop with the message "Fifty Years."

This is your life program, conducted by Mrs. Sylvia La-Follette, proved both informative and amusing.

Rev. Addison Hardee of the First Methodist Church offered a prayer.

More singing by the old, old gang of "Sweet Adeline" fame in their red jackets, straw hats, and carrying canes, with Edna Jackson at the piano. They really did justice to the songs of yesteryears.

Then the curtain was drawn at this point and speculation was rife as to what was taking place, but not for long. When the curtain opened and to the music of "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet" the couples were seated in a facsimile of a surrey, and the "girls" carrying parasols, on their way to Dover.

Parents of APHS Band Members Reminded That Dues Are Now Due

In as much as only half the possible band parents had taken out memberships this year, Mrs. B. D. Brown, chairman of the membership committee decided to send a letter reminding parents of their privilege and obligation.

Dues this year are $1 per parent, and both father and mother are expected to have memberships so $2 is expected. The next meeting of the association, to be held Jan. 31, in the band room is a good chance to take care of this oversight.

A fine letter was composed reminding parents who had not yet taken out memberships but many of the band students, not realizing the seriousness of the situation, neglected to take the letters home.

Dues may be paid at the next meeting, or better yet, mail the check to Mrs. B. D. Brown, APCI Box 1177 P. O. Avon Park.

So many matters are coming up in the next few months requiring serious consideration and only members whose dues are paid may have a voice in these matters.

The auction, an annual event, is to be discussed; several band trips are in the offing.

This is the last reminder on dues, so send Mrs. Brown your $2 check.

Band uniform rental checks of $5 are due as the new semester opened Monday. Send these checks to Vic MicKunas, band director.

Two Convicted, One Freed In Wilkinson Case

Two men indicted for the slaying of James Wilkinson in Sebring last spring were found guilty of second degree murder Monday.

Mrs. Margaret Summerall, who stood trial with the men, was acquitted on a directed verdict of not guilty.

Robert Spires and Gerald Nelson were the second and third persons to be convicted in the Wilkinson case. Mrs. Dora Mae Wilkinson, widow of the slain man, was convicted of first degree murder for the fatal shooting.

She was tried in early December, and she is now serving a life sentence. She was a witness in the trial Monday.

Three of the four accused slayers of Wilkinson went on trial Monday.

Dora Mae Wilkinson, widow of the slain man, was tried in early December and found guilty. A 12-man jury recommended mercy and Mrs. Wilkinson was sentenced to life in prison.

Attorneys, appointed by the court to defend the accused killers, were S. C. Pardee defending Spires; A. B. Jackson representing Nelson; and David Lanier representing Mrs. Summerall.

Prosecution for all the criminal cases scheduled for this week is being directed by State Attorney Glen Darty and Assistant State Attorney J. O. Macbeth.

Members of the Wilkinson jury were Arthur E. McIntyre, Robert Alexander Smith, Emmett V. Lantry, John J. Huber, Delmus Griffis, Harwood Mulford, William H. Sebring, all of Sebring; T. W. Jernigan, Philip Walter O'Bea of Lake Placid; Virgil Mills, John G. Todd, Jimmy R. Mills of Avon Park.

Judge Gunter Stephenson presided.

THE QUALITY OF MERCY

"Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy." St. Matthew 5:7.

The fifth Beatitude is perhaps the most quoted. It certainly receives a spontaneous response from the human heart. The quality of mercy brings us closer to both God and man.

It has been said that mercy begins in compassion and pity. It is more than either, however. We can say that the Good Samaritan pitied the traveler who had been beaten and robbed. No doubt but that the Priest and the Levite also felt sorry for him. Of the three, however, the Good Samaritan is the one we think of as being merciful. So we may say that pity is only a starting point. When we really show mercy we do more than pity, we actually take hold of something for good.

Trevelyn gives the true quality of mercy in the story of Jacob Bright. He found a poor neighbor in trouble on the road. The man's horse had been killed. The neighbors were all expressing their sorrow. To one who kept saying how sorry he was, Jacob Bright said: "I am sorry five pounds (English money). How much are you sorry?" And then he passed a hat to buy the man another horse.

Mercy necessarily includes justice. When a father seeks to correct a child who has done wrong, he must be just, as well as forgiving, or he might hurt the character of that child. In order that justice function properly, however, it must be conceived in a loving heart. Shakespeare says so much in Portia's speech in the Merchant of Venice.

"Consider this,
That, in the course of justice, none of us
Should see salvation: we do pray for mercy;
And that same prayer doth teach us all to render
The deeds of mercy."

It is a known fact that there is a right way and a wrong way of showing mercy. It does little good to show mercy in a grudging manner and with a sour face. St. Paul commends the one who "sheweth mercy with cheerfulness." Romans 12:8. The word so translated is really equivalent to "hilarity." This translation makes the passage read: "he sheweth mercy with hilarity." Such a demonstration of goodwill would surely make the recipient of the kindness feel that he is not only receiving a blessing but that he is conferring one as well.

A deed of mercy done in a grudging spirit is like an unlighted window. But when done with smiles and laughter it is all radiant and beautiful. It has the power to bless and heal the human heart. "The fine thing deserves to be done in a fine manner."

In Moffatt's translation the passage reads: "The sick visitor must be cheerful." We call on our friends, when they are ill. This is an important task for the Christian. In the Parable of the Last Judgment Jesus identifies Himself with the sick. He says: "I was sick and ye visited me." St. Matthew 25:36. When we visit the sick, it would be well to say a prayer and go for Christs' sake. In the Parable Jesus identifies himself with suffering people and says quite plainly that when we minister unto them, we minister unto him. We ought to do it, as Moffatt indicates, with a sunny face.

So many of the good people in our hospitals are suffering from what might be called "sunshine hunger." We once answered a sick call and did what we could to spread a little cheer, to speak a word of courage, and to build up a friends faith in God. As we were about to leave he said: "Tell your congregation that I sent for you and that I am taking your prayer with me to the operating room." Perhaps such calls are the finest things that any of us can do. Wordsworth describes them as:

". . . the best portion of a good man's life:
His little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and love."

The follower of Christ ought to be distinguished by his forgiving heart. The importance of this recognition was pointed out by C. S. Lewis in a talk at Oxford. "I am telling you what Christianity is. I didn't invent it. And there right in the middle of it, I find, 'Forgive us our sins, as we forgive those who sin against us.' There is no slightest suggestion that we are offered forgiveness on any other terms. It is made perfectly clear that if we don't forgive, we shall not be forgiven."

We must forgive as it we enjoyed it. Surely not with our fingers crossed, and not with reservations. We know that God casts our transgressions behind His back and remembers them no more against us. Isaiah 38:17. We, too, are called upon to forgive, forget and restore.

Let us look for just a moment at the Parable of the Prodigal Son. When the prodigal son was in the far country, all he wished was that his father would show a grudging type of forgiveness. He would ask to be made one of his father's hired servants. But when he reaches home, he is met with joy: "Bring forth the best robe and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand and shoes on his feet." St. Luke 15:22. No half-hearted forgiveness will do. One could say quite frankly that God delighted in doing it. Of God it is written: "He retaineth not his anger forever, because he delighteth in mercy." Micah 7:18.

Then let us remember the sick and the needy, let us forgive one another and do the good that we can. And let us do these things not grudgingly or of necessity, but with a glad heart and free. How wonderful it would be, if we always showed the kind of mercy that takes hold of something for good with cheerfulness. "Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy."

Methodists Will Make Special Collections

Florida Methodist churches will take special offerings on successive Sundays, Feb. 6 and 13, it was announced today by Bishop James W. Henley at Lakeland.

A goal of $45,000 has been set for the Feb. 6 offering, earmarked for the church's ministry to Cuban refugees and other Spanish-speaking persons in Florida.

The Feb. 13 "race relations" offering is part of a national effort to raise $1 million for 12 Methodist schools for Negroes, including Bethune-Cookman College of Daytona Beach.

Bishop Henley said a $100,000 budget has been adopted for this year's program for Spanish Floridians—including clothing, day care nurseries and kindergartens for children of working mothers, community centers, salaries for Cuban pastors who are conducting worship services, and college scholarship aid for refugees.

The Methodist ministry to the Spanish is centered in Miami, Key West, West Palm Beach and Tampa, and also includes work among migrants in Hardee County.

Judge Rehrer To Be Speaker At Youth Meet

As a start on a new series of vocational and Christian service programs, the Episcopal Young Churchmen of the Parish of the Church of the Redeemer will welcome Judge Mervin Rehrer, judge of Highlands County Court, as the first guest Sunday, Jan. 30 at the 5:30 p.m. meeting in the Parish House.

He will explain how his work deals with youth and with society, and with Christian aspects of a worker enforcing the law.

As this series of Sunday evening programs continues, it is the plan to have a doctor, lawyer, teacher, and industrialist as guest speakers, explaining their callings.

The youth program is designed to include devotion, prayer, and church service for teenagers.

An enjoyable game evening was held on the Jan. 16 with the young people of St. Agnes, Sebring, as guests.

The First Baptist Church of Avon Park has an interesting history of growth and service in the community. It was organized in 1913 and has grown to a membership of over 1200. The present sanctuary was erected in 1950 and is very attractive and worshipful in appearance; however, due to the growth of the congregation 2 morning services are necessary for about 8 months of the year. Steps are being taken toward the building of a new sanctuary in the future. The church maintains a well organized program of education and Christian training. The music program includes 5 choirs. The present pastor, Aden D. Childress, began his ministry in 1957 and the minister of music and education, Otis C. Strickler, came in 1962.

Bruce Campbell of Lake Placid Tells Lions of African Safari

Bruce Campbell of Lake Placid entertained members of the Avon Park Lions Club at their dinner meeting last week.

Mr. Campbell and his son returned recently from a month safari in Africa.

Slides showed the complete trip, beginning with their departure from Rome, arrival in Nairobi and hunting safari in the Jungle.

Trophies were the main object of the trip, Mr. Campbell said, and he brought back numerous tusks, skins, and heads for mounting.

He spoke interestingly on the customs and living conditions of the African people.

Lions President James Allen presented plans to the club for a 38-foot addition to the clubhouse. Work on the new addition will start immediately. All Lion members were asked assist in the project.

Financial report given by Bill Sachsenmaier showed proceeds from candy sale: $411, sale of Christmas seals, $656; sight project for December, five eye examinations ,70; six pair of glasses $141.

Florida's Cypress Gardens is on Lakes Eloise and Summit, two of 17 in a chain of canal-connected lakes in Polk County.

BRUCE CAMPBELL and Don Rundgren, Campbell's guide, are shown here with a lion they killed while on a safari in Africa.

Our monthly pot luck dinner was a happy break in an otherwise dreary, wet week. We had about 75 people attending, members and guests from Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, Maryland and New York State. A violin and piano duet by Paul Roth and Harold Wolcott was enjoyed by all. Frank Fisher, our able MC kept the entertainment going with selections by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell, Mrs. Burnet, Lawrence Robinson, and a Irish folk-song by Walter Coulson. The food, prepared by excellent cooks, was a delight.

EUCHRE HOST

Euchre host and hostess this week will be Mr. and Mrs. Musser.

Television Cables Bring Variety By Offering Choices

Often, even after a local television station goes into operation, some residents still cannot receive clear pictures.

This is because most community television systems continue to attract new customers.

This is because most community television systems continue to attract new customers.

This is because most community television systems continue to enable them to receive additional stations. Some have as many as nine and even supply background music on an additional channel. Most common are antennas (television CATV) systems provide an improved reception on each channel—no ghosts or snow.

To bring television signals into town and to keep them free of snow, today's community antenna systems use specially designed powerful receiving antennas, one for each channel, aimed precisely at the transmitting station.

When the television signal is fed into the cable for its trip to town, it is "boosted" by an amplifier, and it is reamplified about 5-mile intervals.

The operators of most CATV systems attach their cables to telephone poles (paying a rental to the phone company or local power company for the use of the poles) then branch off into customers' homes and are attached to the subscriber's own television set like any other antenna wire.

While most CATV systems are mountains or tall towers to enable them to receive a television signal, some hills are still too far from the nearest station.

In these cases, the operators of CATV systems often rent long-distance microwave service of the type used to carry network programs from coast to coast—to bring in signals from the nearest stations (which still may be hundreds of miles away).

The average community antenna system has about 1,200 subscribers, although some have more than 12,000 and others less than 100.

Community antenna television service (often abbreviated to CATV) started back in 1949 when the first wave of television fever was sweeping the nation and Milton Berle and Howdy Doody were becoming household names.

Cablevision Means Better Color

A considerable increase in the number of color TV programs and in the number of color viewing hours will be available to the users of cablevision in Avon Park. Both color and black and white programs will be on display Jan. 27 at the Cablevision office, Food Fair Shopping Center.

Jearld Thornton, resident technician of Avon Park, said excellent color reception can be expected from the stations picked up by the community antenna system and that all equipment has been carefully adjusted to assure the proper response for good color video.

"The signal strength required for color television is higher than that needed for black and white reception," he said, "and the signal strength can be regulated by Cablevision when it puts the signal on the cable. As a result, color can be delivered on the cable system more satisfactorily than with ordinary reception picked up using roof-top antenna systems."

Cable TV is not involved in the programs put on by the television stations or networks. In other words, the cable operator's business is providing master antenna receiving service, not a program service.

Nine out of every 10 households in the United States have television sets, and one in every eight families have two or more sets.

Did you know that for less than 2-cents per day per channel, you can enjoy eight channels of high quality television signals and many channels of FM music?

President and General Manager Has Interesting Business Career

Howard Warshaw, president and general manager of the Highlands Cable Television Corporation, has had an interesting career in financing, and especially in the broadcasting field.

His higher education was gained at Brandeis University at Waltham, Mass.

Prior to turning his interests into the broadcasting and television field he was associated with the Investors Funding Corporation of New York.

He was associated with Universal Broadcasting Corporation of Shreveport, La., and Mobile, Ala., before coming to Sebring to establish the Highlands Cable Television Corporation.

Mr. Warshaw, a member of the Elks Lodge and Lions Club, is married and has three children.

Cablevision Subscriber Costs Low

The cost of bringing quality television coverage with nine maximum selections of programming and FM listening enjoyment are low.

Howard Warshaw, general manager of the Highlands Cable Television, stated that the rates for normal subscribers of Cablevision would be as follows:

(1) Normal installations to homes will cost $10.00 for the initial connection and $5.00 for a second set installation. Commercial installations will be estimated by the engineering staff of Cablevision after a request for service has been initiated.

(2) Monthly service for one connection will be $5.00 per month. Second set service charge will be $1.95 per month. Commercial rates are available for multiple connections.

All charges for service are payable in advance from the day after installation at the Cablevision office, Food Fair Shopping Center or at the Avon Citrus Bank. PT books will be furnished all subscribers for use in according of payments.

Please contact the Cablevision office should you have any questions regarding the charges for service.

Predict Huge Jump In Sales Of Color TV

Color set circulation of 26 million by 1970, equal to 44 percent of total homes, is the considered opinion of TV set manufacturers and suppliers according to a survey recently conducted by the weekly television digest and reported in its issue of August 23.

Its third color set survey, projections for sets in use for the 1966-1970 period have increased from three to 10 percent over a similar survey undertaken in March. New network programming plans, lower set prices, new screen sizes, and better-than - anticipated set sales are credited with bringing about the upward revision.

Median projections - based on response from 12 manufacturers - estimated color sets in use will rise from current 3.6 million to 5 million by the year's end, increasing to nearly 8 million in 1966 and doubling to 16 million in the next two years. Color set sales are predicted to reach an annual rate of 5 million in 1968.
