Congressman James A. Haley Reports from Washington

Washington, D.C.—Some shallow thinkers, many of them unfortunately concentrated in Washington, are not digging deep enough to find the underlying causes of the Nation's monetary problems.

It is easy enough to make a superficial appraisal of the situation and come to a hasty conclusion that rising interest rates increase the cost of borrowing and therefore are a prime cause of inflation and high prices.

But this shoot-from-the-hip style of economic analysis clarifies nothing. It merely takes point-blank aim at the most visible target and fires away.

The first essential in trying to arrive at a rational understanding of the present inflationary trend is, it seems to me, to separate the results from the causes. The rise in interest rates is a result of inflation, not a cause of it. The dollar is declining in purchasing power. The demand for more and more dollars—to finance home mortgages, industrial expansion, and consumer buying — exceeds the supply of dollars available to meet the demand. Thus, higher and higher interest rates are required to attract sufficient capital from savers and investors.

This in turn means higher interest charges when money is loaned to borrowers for whatever purpose.

Now — why does the demand for capital exceed supply? That is the root question.

The answer entails many factors of enormous complexity, and it certainly is not my intention to try to oversimplify a matter that is so far from being simple. Nevertheless, it needs to be emphasized that the primary factor in the short supply of money for home buyers and builders, for businessmen and consumers, is the avalanche of spending and borrowing by the Federal government.

Federal departments and agencies are in the money market week in and week out—siphoning capital by the billions of dollars to finance myriads of Government programs and projects. Whatever capital is left after the Government takes the share it needs under present policies and programs is the total amount which is available for private borrowers to scramble over.

This is an unpleasant, but at this particular moment, unavoidable fact of fiscal life which economists in Washington—especially those who adhere to the spend-spend-spend philosophy—are trying to ignore. But it seems to me it cannot be ignored safely much longer.

Here is an example of what is going on in our government. The August 10 "Daily Statement of the United States Treasury" showed that in the first 10 days of this month, the Government spent $7.84 billion. In the corresponding period last year, it spent only $5.94 billion. For the first 41 days of the new fiscal year spending totalled $20.39 billion compared with $15.38 billion last year. Expenditures in that period exceeded revenues by $6.15 billion (despite $4 billion in additional collections), whereas they exceeded deposits by only $4.82 billion in the same period last year.

If this does not provide a message for the economists, it should.

Season Prospects Good Says Florida Citrus Mutual

Florida Citrus Mutual, the big 14,400 member grower organization, foresees another profitable season ahead for everyone in the citrus industry.

Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president, admits there is a big selling job ahead, but he says in spite of the pessimism which is being peddled again, the facts show that if we apply enough energy and face the season with the right attitude it should be a profitable one.

Among the plus factors for 1966-67, Rutledge noted an advertising program of 88.3 million dollars or about three times last season's budget; a vastly improved frozen concentrated orange juice product which will be in general distribution this September; an increase in easy open containers; manageable inventories of processed products; a good sales potential; diminishing inroads from synthetic products; and increased interest in the 8-ounce container.

"The criers of doom are aways in full force at this time of the year," Rutledge said, "and the facts indicate the will be wrong again.

Motor Survives Hurricane

Dave Giger of Dave's Sports Car Repair and Outboard Shop on Route 17 just three miles south of Winter Haven, relates to us this experience a Mr. George O. Roach of Camco Inc. had during Hurricane Betsy, in Louisiana.

August is the hurricane season and you may be on the point of purchasing a new boat and motor, this is product assurance to you.

Camco Inc., owned a 17 foot runabout with a Chrysler West Bend motor. The boat was badly mauled on the Louisiana coastline as 80 mph winds whipped about.

After being submerged under the tossing tidal waves for four whole days the boat was hauled from the water. No one expected the pleasant surprise, when after 20 minutes of going over the motor, (which consisted mainly of flushing out), the engine not only started but did not need a major over haul.

This is the stuff Chrysler outboard motors are made of says Dave's Outboard Shop.

Self-Determination In Guam

There is a determined independence movement in the U. S. Territory of Guam in the mid-Pacific—independence not from the United States but from the domination of ambitious labor union bosses.

Last year the Guam Legislature which is elected like our own, passed a law banning compulsory unionism throughout the Territory. It was vetoed by their Presidentially-appointed governor. The process was repeated again this year, but it didn't stop there. The principle of self-determination for the working man, in the matter of labor union membership, was upheld by a more than 3/4 vote of the elected legislators to override the appointed governor's veto.

Still, the Guamanian workingman's battle for independence from union boss domination is not over. Because Guam is a Territory, and not a state President Johnson has the authority either to approve or disapprove legislation which has been passed by the legislature over the Territorial governor's veto.

It's going to be interesting to see how Mr. Johnson handles this one. He can't use the pocket veto, and if he does not act within 90 days of the Guam Legislature's vote overriding the governor's veto, the law is automatically in effect. And that 90-day period will expire shortly before our own congressional elections this fall.

This unusual development in Guam demonstrates both the importance and effectiveness of concerted action by everyday citizens against the pressure politics of union bosses. The determined efforts of citizens throughout this country, including some who are themselves presently under compulsory unionism, in support of a stalwart group of U. S. Senators, saved Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act from extinction. The right-to-work law passed by the Guam Legislature is based on that very provision. By their determined efforts to preserve their own freedom from compulsory unionism, the people and legislators of Guam have—to put it bluntly—put President Johnson and some of his political followers on the spot.

Luncheon Report

Our last week's program (August 17) was the annual Governor's visit and his address.

John B. Neuner, Governor of District 696, lives in the city of his birth, Plant City, Fla.

He attended the University of Florida, North Carolina, Washington and Lee.

After spending some years in citrus he became interested in banking and is now vice president of First National of Plant City.

His District 696 is the third largest in the nation in number of clubs, and the fourth largest in number of Rotarians.

His title for our address was "Rotary in Our Changing World."

It is the role of a District Governor to bring fresh inspiration and drive directly from the national and international levels as begun at the annual Governors' conference at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Thus much of Rotary International's president, Richard L. Evans' thinking and observations were incorporated in John's words.

Rotary International (RI) has grown and blossomed since the days of Paul Harris in Chicago where RI was born near the turn of our century.

Now 58 percent of RI membership lives outside the U.S. in 132 countries.

The cultural problems reflecting our fast changing world give Rotarians a busy and challenging role to play.

The basic principals, however, stand fast: membership classification, four way test, attendance rules, and "Service above Self" never change.

Rotary's first project in the early days of the Chicago Club no. 1 was to buy a horse for a doctor who couldn't afford to replace one that died . . . today projects range from exchange students around the world to interest in space shots and new clubs in the Jet age centers.

Gov. John brought us 10 points to concentrate on as suggested by the RI President for all members for this year.

1. Every Rotarian should constantly seek out material for new membership - share Rotary with others.

2. Work to add new clubs where opportunity beckons.

3. Enjoy Rotary fellowship, get to know your neighbors and many fine guests as time goes on.

4. Serve the needs of your community. Service clubs can do things no other agency can do. Look around.

5. Make your own business career or profession, better. Improve yourself into a better man.

6. Serve youth - in many ways: Scouts, students, and support Interact in your high school.

7. Let the public know what RI is and what it does. Circulate the Rotarian magazine, and other publications.

8. Emphasize the internationality of RI. Feature youth, and student, exchange. Have nearby people from foreign lands as speakers.

9. Engage in the world community. RI has a system of "Matching Districts," linking up two distant areas for mutual enrichment and info.

10. Rotary Foundation; as all clubs support it, does great work in helping students with their education . . . the citizen of tomorrow.

Our matching club is in Gavle Sodra, Sweaden.

Farm Workers Covered By Wage Bill

Nearly half million farm workers, mostly those who work on farms that employ seven or more persons, will be covered by the minimum wage law proposed by the Senate Labor Committee. There would be about six million employees of large service and retail establishments covered that do not at this time come under the wage and hour laws.

The newly covered farm workers would be guaranteed $1.00 per hour on February 1, 1967 with 15 cents per hour increase in 1968 and another 15 cents increase per hour in 1969.

For other workers, the present $1.25 cent an hour minimum wage would be increased to $1.40 on February 1, 1967 and raised to $1.60 one year later. It would also include some 665,000 federal custodial and maintenance employees not now covered.

This new law would extend coverage to about 7.2 million new workers.

State Insurance Commissioner Approves Insurance Rate Changes

State Treasurer-Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams approved three requests for insurance rate changes this month, two for homeowners and one for non-drinking drivers.

The three filings were made by the Multi-Line Insurance Rating Bureau, Nationwide Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and Preferred Risk Mutual Insurance Co.

Multi-Line received an overall increase of 6 percent and a mandatory deductible of $50 on all claims under $500. Commissioner Williams said the deductible would eliminate many nuisance and maintenance claims if the homeowners had to pay the first $50.

Above $500 in claims, he said, the company would pay the full amount.

Without the deductible, Commissioner Williams said, Multi-Line would have sought a 28 percent increase overall.

Under the approved change, 67 percent of the policyholders would receive no change in rate, 3 percent would receive reductions, and 30 percent would receive increases of up to 22 percent.

Nationwide Mutual received approval of its plan to set up differentials on homeowner policies, authorizing some increases and some decreases in rates. Nevertheless, the company's net income under the change would remain the same.

Under the plan, policies on homes valued at under $10,000 and over $30,000 would receive 10 percent increases; and policies on homes valued between $10,000 and $30,000 would receive 5 percent decreases.

Preferred Risk received approval of a 15 percent increase in collision, a 15 percent increase in liability, a $1 increase in comprehensive, and a 50 cent increase in uninsured motorist coverage.

Because Preferred Risk insures only non-drinkers, few people qualify. The company writes only $250,000 worth of business in Florida.

Approval of the increase left Preferred Risk coverage still approximately 15 percent below the standard rate level. The total increase was estimated at $26,000.

Applications For G.I. Home Loans Increase

M. T. Dixon, of the Fla. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, announced today that nearly 42,000 applications for home loans under the new GI Bill Program have been received, as reported by the Veterans Administration today. A VA study to determine what impact the Veterans Readjustment Act of 1966 (New GI Bill) has had on the nation's economy also showed 135,000 veterans had applied for Certificates of Eligibility nationwide.

The number of applications for GI home loans is considered important because the lender usually makes the application, indicating the loan has gone through the initial or interviewing stage.

Nearly 15,000 of the new GI Bill loan applications were made last month. The applications by the peacetime and Vietnam veterans were about 60 percent of the total received for the month.

Local Officials Join AAA In Annual Campaign On 'School's Open' Safety

"A safe journey to and from school the first weeks of the school year can set a pattern of safe walking and safe driving which will help keep our school children free of traffic accident involvement throughout the year," according to A. Ridgely Jones, general manager of the Peninsula Motor Club (AAA).

The motor club is cooperating with local police and school officials in launching its annual "School's Open" campaign. New, Colorful "School's Open Drive Carefully" posters and bumper strips are being distributed to draw attention to the campaign.

Pushing the campaign locally are Sheriff Broward Coker of Highlands County and Police Chief Claude Carroll of Avon Park.

Motorists are asked to be especially alert in school areas, since for many children, this is the first time they've been completely on their own in a traffic environment.

"Many youngsters," said Mr. Jones, "have received no traffic safety education. Thus, they are unaware of the potential hazards inherent in the motor vehicle-pedestrian relationship and tend to be overconfident in their actions. In addition, some of these children, particularly in suburban and rural areas, have not been exposed to safe walking aids, such as signs, signals, traffic police, sidewalks, pedestrian crosswalks and School Safety Patrols.

AAA also asked parents to make sure their children are prepared to accept this new responsibility of being a safe pedestrian. It recommended that parents review safe walking rules with their children, and help them select the safest route to school.

Hurricane Tips That May Save Your Life

A tropical storm becomes a full-fledged hurricane when its winds reach sustained speeds of 75 mph or higher. These storms are not to be taken lightly.

Once a "hurricane warning" has been announced, there is time to prepare but no time to waste.

If you live in a reasonably safe area and your home is well constructed, stay home and make emergency preparations.

Check everything outside your home that might be blown away or blown against the house. Garbage cans, gardening tools, toys, lawn furniture, awnings and other loose objects can become destructive weapons in hurricane-force winds.

Keep your car from under trees, fill the tank with gas (in case evacuation is necessary) and make sure the windshield wipers are in working order.

Any loose limbs or palm fronds should be cut down, and TV antennas removed from the roof and stored.

Boats should not be overlooked, since they can be sunk or damaged quite easily. Most smaller boats should be taken out of the water and stored in a safe place.

When the wind starts blowing, open a window in the side of the house away from the wind to equalize inside and outside pressure.

A hurricane may cause prolonged power or water failure. It is recommended that all families have an adequate stock of flashlights, candles, a gasoline camp stove or canned heat, a battery powered radio, and batteries. Buy food that requires no refrigeration and little preparation. Make sure you have plenty of water for drinking and bathing.

Frozen food in a home freezer can remain safe for about 36 hours, provided it is kept closed. Freezer should be set at its lowest setting to insure against power failure.

If you must drive immediately after the storm, watch for debris, fallen wires, and washouts. Stay away from disaster areas unless you are qualified to give emergency assistance.

By using common sense or recommended safety practices, you should be able to escape injury and excessive damage.

Appreciation Night At Kennel Club

Tuesday, August 30, will be Appreciation Night at the Sarasota Kennel Club as Jack and Jerry Collins open the doors to the local greyhound track in appreciation of the fine season, which concludes Wednesday, August 31.

Fans will be afforded five performances that week, doubleheaders slated for Monday and Wednesday.

Traffic accidents will not subside until motorists learn to make driving decisions correctly, quickly and regularly. The Allstate Motor Club points out that the average city driver must make as many as 2,000 decisions a day behind the wheel, proof enough of the need for constant driver attention and a willingness to adjust to conditions.

Man Made Fiber

The use of textile fibers is older than recorded history. Through the centuries the methods of making these fibers into fabrics have been improved and refined. Spinning and weaving have evolved from fireside crafts into the great textile industry of our time. Until the past half-century only the natural fibers were available — cotton, linen and jute torn from plant growths, wool and mohair from fleeces of sheep and goats, and silk unwound from the cocoon of the silkworm.

During the past fifty years, man has reached beyond those fibers which occur in nature, first by creating fibers from certain fiber-forming substances found in cotton and wood pulp and, later, by discovering how to make new fiber-forming chemicals from a wide variety of abundantly available raw materials. From simple elements found in coal, air, petroleum, salt and water, man can now produce fibers with almost any desired combination of properties — for versatility in a wide range of applications.

Each fiber has its special combination of properties — its personality — and individual characteristics may be emphasized or minimized according to the way the fiber is employed in the fabric, the nature of the finish applied, or the design of the article in which the fabric is put to use. There are now many types of man-made fibers, each of which contributes its special characteristics in a wide range of modern textiles.

The demand for man-made fibers has grown until, in 1961, nearly two billion pounds were produced in the United States alone. Rayon and acetate the first of the man-made fibers to be offered, account for almost one half of this production and the demand for the newer types is growing rapidly.

Man-made fibers have contributed more than mere volume to textile production. They have made possible entirely new concepts in textiles. They have enabled the mills to provide fabrics to give lightweight strength, increased durability, new textures, the retention of shape, dimensions and appearance through long service, and to reduce the drudgery of textile care. Science and ingenuity combine to create textiles of ever increasing usefulness and convenience.

Closet Touch-Up

Any closet shelf would be happy to display smart looking hat or shoe boxes. This decorator's touch is easy to come by when you cover the box with attractive, firm, gift paper, using glue. Then add a trimming accent coordinated in color. Rick Rack, woven tape in floral designs, eyelet banding or ruffled pleating, may also be applied with glue.

Snow-Peaked Chocolate Souffle

Light as a summer breeze yet satisfyingly rich, snow-peaked Chocolate Souffle — topped with swirls of Lucky Whip Dessert Topping — makes an elegant dessert for company dining.

Time was when the novice — or even a pretty good cook — was intimidated by souffles because the bake r result was so unpredictable. Today, however, it is easy to make a perfect souffle every time — with no baking at all!

Snow-Peaked Chocolate Souffle
(Makes 10 to 12 servings)

1 envelope gelatin	4 tablespoons hot water
1/4 cup cold water	4 eggs
2 ounces dark sweet chocolate, melted	3 egg yolks
3 ounces unsweetened chocolate, melted	1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon instant coffee powder	1 (2 ounce) envelope Lucky Whip Topping Mix, prepared according to package directions

Sprinkle gelatin into cold water in saucepan; dissolve softened gelatin over heat; cool. Combine chocolate, instant coffee and water; cool. Combine eggs, egg yolks and sugar in large mixing bowl; beat until thick. Slowly beat in gelatin mixture and then chocolate mixture. Fold in whipped Lucky Whip. Oil a 6-inch band of waxed paper or foil and tie it around the outside of a 2½ cup souffle dish or deep straight-sided bowl to form a standing collar. Pour mixture into dish (mixture will extend 1 inch above rim of dish). Chill until firm, about 2 hours. Carefully remove paper collar. Garnish, if desired.

In the feudal days, the landlords used to protect their castles by means of a moat. Sometimes they would go forth and wage battle, then retreat to their castles and pull up the drawbridges.

Since it is said that a man's home is his castle, why not carry out the same idea when we enter our homes after the flight of each day is over. Just pull up the drawbridges and thus separate ourselves from the problems, perplexities, confusion and difficulties of our daily tasks.

Approximately 1,800 new motels containing an estimated 150,000 rooms are being built each year in the U. S., according to John G. Lacock, president of Quality Courts Motels, Inc.

The largest bank loan ever closed in Georgia was announced when Delta Air Lines completed plans for the financing of a quarter of a billion dollar jet equipment expansion program.

Water Heaters Prescribed For Sea Cows

What will they think of next? Dr. Peter B. Sguros, associate professor of Microbiology at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, is developing an under-water heater to keep manatees - sea cows - from catching pneumonia.

Engineers of various Florida Power & Light Co. power plants in the South Florida area had noted that the sea cows clustered around the warm water outlets canals of the plants for protection on cold days.

Dr. Sguros, who has been conducting research on manatees for the Central and South Florida Flood Control Dist., said when the temperature drops below 60 the sea cows sometimes catch pneumonia and die.

Sguros advocates that a herd of sea cows and a water heater be placed in South Florida canals to help eliminate the water hyacinth problem.

According to statistics, there are approximately 1,800 new motels containing an estimated 150,000 rooms are being built each year in the U. S.

Travel Far And Wide With Food

Most Americans have become so cosmopolitan in their cooking they think little of blending the best of several nations in one dish. In this recipe the Borden Kitchen took a favorite of the Italians, zucchini, nestled it in a bed of Spanish rice, then topped them both with very-sharp American cheese slices. Result: an entreé to add zest to any meal, zeal to any appetite.

Cheese, Rice and Zucchini
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

3 small zucchini squashes	8 slices (one 6-oz. package) Borden's Vera-Sharp brand pasteurized process American cheese
2 (15-oz.) cans Spanish Rice Dinner

Cook zucchini in boiling water 10 minutes, then remove from water and drain. Cut up 4 cheese slices and combine with Spanish rice. Place zucchini in buttered 11-3/4 x 7-3/4 x 1-3/4-inch baking dish. Spoon Spanish rice mixture around zucchini. Bake in a hot (400° F.) oven 20 minutes. Remove from oven. Overlap cheese slices on top of zucchini. Return to oven. Bake about 15 minutes longer, or until cheese melts and zucchini is tender.

Wilhites Express Appreciation

As another important school term is about to begin we would like to take this opportunity to wish all the administrators and their Staffs throughout Highlands County a successful school year.

As co-workers with many of you over the years we have seen many improvements and developments that have and will continue to enrich the lives of our boys and girls.

It is a source of great pleasure to us to see the South Florida Junior College (for which we also labored), now in operation and serving so many of the youth of this and the surrounding area.

Along with these, the founding of the Highlands School for girls at Pinecrest makes the area truly a cultural center and area. To this institution we also extend greetings and best wishes for a highly successful year.

Recently we have been presented with a list of names of the many, many friends who so kindly and generously contributed to the "Gift Fund" at the time of our retirement. We again wish to thank you publicly for the great honor and joy you bestowed upon us. You can never realize the extent to which we are pleased nor the great surprise.

Along with this we wish to tell you how we used the "fruit" from the "Money Tree" planted and cultivated for us and presented to us at the "Bon Voyage" party prior to taking off for Europe in 1964.

We purchased a camera, film and slide projector, took many pictures and now enjoy viewing them and reminiscing our overseas experiences and trip. These will live along with us.

Then, this year we received the 1966 mark IV "Red Devil Jeep" fully equipped with radio, heater, lighter, emergency flasher, compass, seatbelts, white sidewall tires with a case of shotgun shells to fit a Browning automatic shotgun in our possession.

We are now angling for big mouth bass and soon will be taking to the woods to enjoy a lot of quail hunting, our favorite sport.

Furthermore, we were presented with many gifts, awards, certificates and plaques which we treasure very much and all will remain dear to our hearts. We were also presented a check for the remainder of the money from the contributions to be used as we saw fit. So - - we are now able to withstand the summer heat, with the help of the air conditioner we purchased for our living room.

We too, believe that "Better Schools make Better Communities." So lets all support our institutions and their related activities to bring this about.

Highlands Hammock Has Many Visitors

Florida's state parks took a step toward another record tourist year as 996,610 persons visited the parks during July.

State Parks Director Bill Miller pointed out that with a record smashing tourist year just completed, the first month in the 1966-67 fiscal year showed an eight percent increase over July of 1965.

The overall attendance for the month of July for Highlands Hammock totaled 13,839 persons.

The State Cabinet has authorized the Florida Park Board to apply for a federal grant to continue participation in the Neighborhood Youth Corps program at a cost of $57,828 for the coming year.

Housewives buy convenience foods because of the premium put on leisure, and because they can afford it. Consumers no longer associate food with its origin. Frankly, the consumer can only associate food with a part of the retail grocery store.

Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church, atop E. Main Street just to the east of Highlands Avenue, was constructed in 1957 following establishment of a parish in Avon Park. It became a mission in 1916, and was served by a priest from the Sebring parish until the Diocese of St. Augustine established the parish and sent Rev. Heiring here to open Our Lady of Grace Church. The present priest, Rev. Armand Gregoire, came here in October, 1962. A native of Montreal, Canada, Fr. Gregoire spent 15 years as a missionary in Africa at what is now Zambia, one of the new nations of the world. He spent 2 years as an assistant priest in Coral Gables (Fla.) prior to being sent to Avon Park to administer to the local parish. Fr. Gregoire entered the priesthood in 1939.

University of South Florida Expects 50 Highlands Students

When the University of South Florida swings open the doors for its seventh year of classes in September, 50 students from Highlands County are expected to be among the record 9,000 enrollment.

The expected enrollment will represent approximately a 15 percent increase over the 7,795 on-campus students at USF a year ago.

In addition, another 1,500 are expected to enroll in off-campus classes which will be conducted by the University throughout central and southwest Florida.

A major increase is expected in the enrollment of graduate students at USF, as well as freshmen.

Graduate programs in six different fields will be offered on the Tampa Campus for the first time in September, bringing to 24 the total number of master's degree majors available at USF.

The new graduate degree programs are a Master of Business Administration, Master of Fine Arts in Visual Arts, Master of Arts in Psychology and in English, and Master of Engineering in Electrical Engineering and in Engineering Administration.

Approximately 100 new faculty members will join the University in September, bringing the total USF teaching and research staff to 425. They will come to the University from institutions in some 30 states to teach in the USF Colleges of Engineering, Education, Business Administration, Liberal Arts, and Basic Studies.

Among the major "events" scheduled at the University during the coming year is the opening of WUSF-TV. The new educational television station will begin broadcasting on channel 16 in early September.

Another new project will be the opening of a USF "Learning Center" in downtown Tampa in mid-September to aid high school graduates who lack skills needed for employment. The counseling and training center will be operated with support from the U. S. Department of Labor.

Another event of major interest to students this year will be the affiliation of local fraternities and sororities with national groups. Negotiations have been underway this summer between the campus clubs and such Greek letter societies as Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Delta Delta. All 14 USF fraternities and sororities expect to complete affiliation with national organizations during the coming year.

Housewives Alerted To Purse Lifting

Several housewives have had their purses stolen while shopping in local chain stores recently, it is reported.

Shoppers using carts in the stores are advised to keep their purses within sight at all times. Reports that have come in, reveal that while the housewives backs are turned to get an item from the shelf, their purses have misteriously disappeared.

VietNam Veterans Under New G.I. Bill

M. T. Dixon, Director of the Fla. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, set the stage today for veterans of Vietnam with the new GI Bill. He stated it is a program designed to educate, house and hospitalize these veterans the same as their brother veterans of World War I, World War II, and Korea.

Dixon said his staff, along with the local County Veteran Service Offices throughout Florida, are now ready to render full service to these young American fighting men now returning.

For those planning on some schooling, starting in September, they should get their applications in now and not wait until the last minute, as it takes the VA considerable processing time.

County service officers have the applications on hand for education, home loans, and hospital benefits, and they are at your service for any information you need.

Dixon further suggested that all veterans stop by their local county courthouse and have their honorable discharge recorded so there will always be a permanent record available in the future.

For information on veterans', widows' and childrens' VA benefits, see your local county service officer, or write Dixon at P. O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg, Fla., as this is a free service furnished by your local county and state government.

Attractive Pay For AF Nurses

More than $5,000 annually is at stake for registered nurses who qualify for the Air Force Nurse Corps, according to Sergeant Paul Smith, local Air Force recruiter.

Aside from steady advancement Air Force Aerospace Team nurses receive additional advanced training and draw full pay and allowances while attending school. Thirty days paid vacation each year plus abundant travel opportunities are other benefits.

Young women between the ages of 20 and 35, graduates of an approved three year nursing school and currently registered are eligible to apply.

For all the facts contact Sergeant Smith at the Lakeland Air Force Recruiting Office or dial 682-8857.

FIX-IT TIP

When painting a wall which has a screw that you may want to remove later, back the screw off a few turns. Paint the screw and let it dry. Then retighten. This way paint won't seal the screwhead in tight, or be marred if you decide to take the screw out later.
