Mayor Proclaims March As Red Cross Month

Mayor E. A. DeLaney today proclaimed March as Red Cross Month and urged all residents of Avon Park to give their support to the Highlands County Chapter's Drive for funds throughout the month.

Mayor DeLaney in issuing the proclamation, declared that the Red Cross in Highlands County is trying to raise $200,000 "to continue its safety, health, and welfare services here and to contribute to the National Red Cross programs — some of which are world-wide."

The text of the proclamation follows, in part:

RED CROSS PROCLAMATION

"WHEREAS, in our community and around the world, the Red Cross symbolizes the readiness of neighbor to help neighbor and others in need, where they are; and

"WHEREAS, the American Red Cross even now is giving round-the-clock service to our sons who are fighting in Vietnam and maintaining U. S. military strength in other far places; and

"WHEREAS, our Red Cross here helps us keep our families safe and healthy through training in first aid, water safety and home nursing; and

"WHEREAS, the American Red Cross provides to hospitals, health agencies and physicians more blood transfusion than any other U. S. organization, thus greatly contributing to the health of the American people; and

"WHEREAS, all of us at all times can help support our Red Cross with our money, and volunteer service;

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, E. A. DeLaney, Mayor of Avon Park, do hereby proclaim the month of March as a RED CROSS MONTH in Avon Park and urge all citizens to join me in support of our Highlands County Red Cross Chapter."

— E. A. DeLaney, Sr.

Highlands 1st G.P. Primary Tuesday

Political blood-letting is no longer an exclusive sport of the Democratic party in Florida.

Next Tuesday, February 28, Republicans are holding their very own, bonafide primary and not all of the republicans are unopposed.

For example, here in the 31st senatorial district, Karl E. Swanson of Avon Park is opposed by Wilbur Boyd, Palm Bay.

In House district 117 (Avon Park), Republican J. K. Tillman is opposed by Republican Lawrence Boesen of Lake Placid.

In District 118, Kent S. McKinley, Sarasota faces William P. Toole, Venice.

In District 119, Granville H. Crabtree, Jr., Sarasota is the only area Republican that does not have Republican opposition.

Statewide, as of last Friday's deadline 500 candidates from both parties had paid their $50 qualifying fees.

Due to the reapportioning — the reshuffling of district 8 many Democrats who in years past would not have faced opposition are going to face opposition this time.

In addition to this Demo inter-party battling they now have the Republicans to face. Only 21 of 110 House Democrats failed to draw Republican opposition. The last time was in 1964, where 7 House Democrats who had no opposition.

Republican Gov. Kirk is not in the campaign actively, but observers feel that a show of further Republican strength could effect the outcome of his coming legislative program.

Another example of the Federal Court ordered reapportioning effects are in neighboring Polk and Sumter Counties.

There veteran and former Speaker of the House E. C. Rowell of Sumter was thrown in with the four seats of Polk County and the formidable Scott Kelley.

Up on the east coast powerful Senator Verle Pope, who usually ran virtually unopposed, was tossed into the Duval County cauldron (205,000 voters) and he has to face four Democrats now, plus the Republican Ralph Elliott.

Commissioners Okay 4-Laning Highway 27

In a new bid to hasten the four-laning of Highway 27, which doubles the area, the Highlands County commissioners are offering to share costs, pledging up to $1.3 million of its share of secondary road taxes to complete four-laning from Avon Park to State Road 29 south of Lake Placid.

The offer, divided into two projects, will be formally presented to the State Road Department at the secondary road hearing in Bartow on March 5.

Highlands County will list as its number one priority on its secondary road program the four-laning of Highway 27 from the intersection with US 98 and State 88, south to Lennon's truck stop at the intersection with State 29, 18 miles north of the Highlands-Glades line.

Some years ago the county had offered $1 million of its share of secondary road taxes to four-lane from Fairmont Drive at Sebring 29. The original agreement was for the entire contract to be let at one time, but later the State Road Department decided the job should be broken into two pieces and the county agreed to designate a half-million for the Fairmont to 88 section now under construction.

The other half-million would apply to the 88 southward half of the job. At their meeting Tuesday the commissioners said costs have risen sharply and the State Road Department is now estimating that the four-laning of the 12.4 miles from 88 to 29 will cost more than $1 million.

This boost in cost prompted the county commission to raise its offer from a half-million to a full million for the southward push.

The number 2 priority on the secondary list will be the four-laning northward from Fairmont to Avon Park. Cost on this four mile section is estimated at $900,000, and the county is offering $300,000 toward this project.

A section of Highway 27 was four-laned from Avon Park northward several years ago. The two projects now being asked would almost complete the four-laning the length of the county.

The county commissioners, in this year's secondary priorities listed only three other projects.

Number three is the construction of four miles of road from Highlands Hammock State 88. Cost is estimated at $250,000.

Commission Chairman Carl McIntyre said the engineering on this road is complete, and an early contract-letting is anticipated.

The number four priority is a bridge across Crab Creek on the Arbutus Creek Road. Cost of this is estimated at $40,000.

Work on the road running West from Arbutus Creek to State 17A is being related to the priority list but the Road Department is being asked to delay work on this project.

At a special commission meeting last week the board approved a state request for release of secondary funds for the resurfacing of 17 A and $10,000 for erection of a blinker light at Stratford Airline Railway crossing on State 17 A north of Sebring. These are part of the secondary road work for the current year.

The priority list to be presented in Bartow on March 5 covers the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The county now has $1,270,000 to its credit in secondary road funds. Additional payments of $600,000 are anticipated by the end of the fiscal year.

Road Questions

A variety of road questions dominated the county commissioners' two-hour session on Tuesday.

On the recommendation of County Attorney Hue Nunnallee, the board adopted a new policy of requiring a title search for lands desired to the county for roads or any other public purpose.

As outlined by Commissioner Jean Whitaker a property owner desiring a new road should present a deed, title search and survey to the county prior to the board's adopting a resolution accepting the deed.

One set of deeds was returned to the owner Tuesday with a letter explaining the new policy. A second set of deeds was returned to the owner with a letter stating that the county would consider accepting a road, built to county specifications, for maintenance but that the county would not build the road, parallel to Highway 27, near Lake Placid.

Commissioner Whitaker was assigned to investigate land being offered to the county on the shores of Lake Titicaca. Land is offered for a public park and a road leading to it.

A series of road materials bids were accepted Tuesday. Central Florida Asphalt & Materials, Inc., of Avon Park won the bids.

won the bids on lime rock — base rock delivered by rail, hot mix and cold mix asphalt and rock, size 1 1/2 through 17, delivered by rail or by truck.

Fuller Industries won the bid for lime rock-base rock delivered by truck.

Pure Oil won the year's bid for oil and diesel fuel. The gasoline bid went to Sinclair.

For a time Tuesday the commissioners debated the relative costs of using high test gasoline. Commissioner Cecil Skipper led those contending that the cent higher price for the high test was more than offset by lower maintenance costs on the county's vehicles.

The county had one bid for a small pit. C. M. Payne offered a little more than 1 acre, south of Sebring, for $600. The bid was accepted.

In other business Tuesday the commissioners instructed Attorney Nunnallee to return a liquor license request to the state beverage commission with the notation that the county has no zoning requirements. The permit is being sought by Frank Brown for a business in the Lacy Hill area of Avon Park.

The commission granted the request of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 4219 of Frostproof, for use of the old Avon Park Lakes building on Highway 27 north of Walker Memorial Hospital. The post has members from Frostproof, Sun Ray, Home Park, Avon Park, and other areas. The post was instructed to draw a lease from the county to use the building for a barbecue club, stipulating rent of $1 per year.

The official audit of the Supervisor of Registration and Motor Vehicle Tax Agent was accepted.

A new desk has been purchased for the County Health Department, and at the meeting last week road materials bids were accepted Tuesday. Central Florida Asphalt & Materials, Inc., of Avon Park won the bids.

The county now has $1,270,000 to its credit in secondary road funds. Additional payments of $600,000 are anticipated by the end of the fiscal year.

Pure Oil won the year's bid for oil and diesel fuel. The gasoline bid went to Sinclair.

For a time Tuesday the commissioners debated the relative costs of using high test gasoline. Commissioner Cecil Skipper led those contending that the cent higher price for the high test was more than offset by lower maintenance costs on the county's vehicles.

The county had one bid for a small pit. C. M. Payne offered a little more than 1 acre, south of Sebring, for $600. The bid was accepted.

In other business Tuesday the commissioners instructed Attorney Nunnallee to return a liquor license request to the state beverage commission with the notation that the county has no zoning requirements. The permit is being sought by Frank Brown for a business in the Lacy Hill area of Avon Park.

The commission granted the request of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 4219 of Frostproof, for use of the old Avon Park Lakes building on Highway 27 north of Walker Memorial Hospital. The post has members from Frostproof, Sun Ray, Home Park, Avon Park, and other areas. The post was instructed to draw a lease from the county to use the building for a barbecue club, stipulating rent of $1 per year.

The official audit of the Supervisor of Registration and Motor Vehicle Tax Agent was accepted.

A new desk has been purchased for the County Health Department, and at the meeting last week road materials bids were accepted Tuesday. Central Florida Asphalt & Materials, Inc., of Avon Park won the bids.

The county now has $1,270,000 to its credit in secondary road funds. Additional payments of $600,000 are anticipated by the end of the fiscal year.

Road Questions

A variety of road questions dominated the county commissioners' two-hour session on Tuesday.

On the recommendation of County Attorney Hue Nunnallee, the board adopted a new policy of requiring a title search for lands desired to the county for roads or any other public purpose.

As outlined by Commissioner Jean Whitaker a property owner desiring a new road should present a deed, title search and survey to the county prior to the board's adopting a resolution accepting the deed.

One set of deeds was returned to the owner Tuesday with a letter explaining the new policy. A second set of deeds was returned to the owner with a letter stating that the county would consider accepting a road, built to county specifications, for maintenance but that the county would not build the road, parallel to Highway 27, near Lake Placid.

Commissioner Whitaker was assigned to investigate land being offered to the county on the shores of Lake Titicaca. Land is offered for a public park and a road leading to it.

A series of road materials bids were accepted Tuesday. Central Florida Asphalt & Materials, Inc., of Avon Park won the bids.

won the bids on lime rock — base rock delivered by rail, hot mix and cold mix asphalt and rock, size 1 1/2 through 17, delivered by rail or by truck.

Fuller Industries won the bid for lime rock-base rock delivered by truck.

Eye Clinic Tests 277 for Glaucoma

277 Persons were tested for Glaucoma and many tumors when the Eye Clinic was held last Thursday under the auspices of the Women's Club and the Lions Club.

The tests were made by Mrs. Helen S. Birch, R. N., of the Polk County Eye Clinic. She was assisted by P. Sinclair, and a committee of Women's Club members. The lobby of the Walker Memorial Hospital was used for the clinic.

Because of the large number of people who were turned away for lack of time, Mrs. Birch offered to come again on March 10 to continue the testing. Announcements will be made later about this date.

Glaucoma is a serious condition of the eye that causes blindness if not detected early and treated. All persons over 40 should have their eyes examined at least every two years. Chronic glaucoma has no early symptoms.

The Eye Clinic is a service to the community offered by the Polk County Eye Clinic and the local health Department, in an effort to give information about the necessity of eye care and the selection of an eye specialist for treatment.

Avon Park Holds Bi-Monthly Drama

There's a good show in town.

It's on twice a month on Monday night at 7:30 p.m.

And it's FREE!!

It's the Monday night meeting of your town Council in Avon Park City Hall.

It is surprising how few people — even people who are conscientiously interested in good government — it is surprising how few of these people have ever been to a Council meeting.

It may be that most folks do not know that these meetings are open forums. But they are. Any person having business — that is of interest to the city in general — may bring this business before the Council for consideration. The meeting is also open to any Avon Park citizen that wants to come just to have a look.

The tradition of American political activity, of course, was the Town meeting. There, everybody got together and talked and shouted about the problems of the day.

Those were the days — the good old days? — when most of the problems of the day were confined and solved at the local level; at these town meetings.

Then as the country grew the number of people increased. With them grew the government — grew until it became the largest — the government or the people.

The result is that about the only way that the average citizen can become personally involved in government today is at these local town meetings.

... Like going to a meeting at City Hall.

You might even get on television. ETV Channel 3 has been covering Council meetings with regularity.

These Councilmen have to face you at the poles each two years and this is a chance for them to face you a couple of times each month. It is a good opportunity to watch them in action. It is a good opportunity for you to see the men that you have put in office to run these affairs of your city.

Now, the only trouble with this bi-monthly show is that it simply runs much too long — unnecessarily long.

Avon Park Council meetings, like most of official meetings held throughout the English speaking world, are conducted by clear-cut rules of parliamentary procedure.

Leadership On Line?

Leadership of Florida's Democratic party is still up for grabs, and Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth seems to be the latest grabber.

He is spearheading an all-out campaign "to elect as many Democrats to the new legislature as we possible can," and has pledged his personal time and services to the effort.

Lending credence to the supposition is the fact that Miami Mayor Robert King High—defeated gubernatorial candidate and pretender to the party leadership throne—lost little time in joining the crusade. High quickly made it known that he would campaign for any Democratic candidate requesting support, and expressed high optimism for success.

"The Democrats are going to prevail in the main," he said. "We'll regain the legislative seats we've lost."

These straws in the wind could indicate nothing more than a rejuvenated all-for-one, one-for-all spirit within a divided party. After all, a strong party is the first requisite if party leadership is to be a prize worth seeking.

But the top man could emerge from the next six weeks' jousting.

Does God Listen to Phony Prayers?

Recently the clergyman who wrote the book of so-called prayers entitled, "You Run With Me, Jesus?" was quoted as saying that he had quit praying several years ago.

He quit praying, he said, "because I couldn't keep on praying in a phony way."

Phony prayers are not only ineffective, they are offensive to the Lord. No doubt, He is glad not to have to listen to any more of them from this particular source.

Jesus told of a phony prayer offered by a Pharisee.

Prayed with Himself
This hypocrite, He said, "prayed thus with himself, God, I thank Thee that I am not as other men are—extortioners, unjust, adulterers... I fast twice in the week. I give tithes..."

house justified, rather than the other."

Tired of Phony Prayers?

For those who are tired of praying phony prayers I have a suggestion. Why not try praying the prayer of the publican—"God, be merciful to me, a sinner?"

The Bible tells us, "He that covereth his sins shall not be justified."

Jesus said that God was not particularly impressed with the Pharisee's virtues—even though the Pharisee, himself, evidently was.

But there was another man praying at the same time—a publican who was ashamed of himself because of his wicked and sinful life. He prayed simply, "God, be merciful to me, a sinner."

The Master said, "I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other."

We're Buying More Homes on Wheels

Avon Park, Mass., Feb. 23.

Exposition displaying the latest mobile homes and recreational vehicles of all types have been popping up all over the country. And never before has the general public showed so much interest in this specialized form of transportation. Well over a million families now depend on such vehicles, sometimes just for week ends, and sometimes for full-time portable homes.

Wander-Bug is Biting Hard

The trend toward more mobility in living has long been on the increase, but in the past few years the epidemic of the wander-bug has been spreading more rapidly. The big switch is in full swing from the simple convenience of auto travel to the more complicated comforts of trailers, tent-camping units, pick-up campers, and mobile homes. So far, trailers are still the most popular, since the auto can be unhitched and used separately. But motorized homes, with the compact conveniences of a small dwelling, are gaining steadily.

Sales of recreational vehicles during 1966 smashed all previous records, moving ahead almost 50,000 over 1965 to reach a grand total of more than 314,500 units. There is every reason to expect continuing advances over the years immediately ahead. Better highways, rising incomes, desire to see new parts of the country, increasing availability of suitable camping facilities, and the economical aspects of such modes of travel—all mean more interest in portable homes.

Countryside Adapting To These Vehicles

The trailer rash brought quick emergence of overnight and longer-term parks and camping sites equipped with water, electricity, and other necessities. Many were privately operated, established to capitalize on the swelling migration of trailers. Recently, arrangements for recreation vehicle sites have been greatly stepped up because of the growing popularity of the new families on the go.

It is estimated that there are currently over 1,400 privately owned parks in the U. S. where recreational vehicles can put up for the night or longer. In the past five years the number of such sites has increased at an average rate of 1,700 a year. This brings to a total of 1,700 the number of such camps run by the government alone. Since vacation-vehicle visits to parks have skyrocketed from 86,000 in 1961 to 137,000 in 1966, it is inevitable that there will be a steady effort to make more camps, or at least to make the existing ones more comfortable. Expo '67, opening at Montreal, Canada, in April, reports 3,000 camp sites already completed in that general vicinity with work in progress or in early prospect on about a thousand more.

More Innovations in Mobile Homes

Both trailers and self-contained motorized homes are now building in a great many features that were once optional—and extra. People want them, and would prefer, generally, to have them already installed when they buy the vehicle instead of having to go through a dithering deal. More firms are including lavatories, pressure pumps, hot water heaters, carpeting, thermostats, complete insulation, and some, even mobile air conditioning.

Prices are not exorbitant, everything considered. Some mobile homes on truck chassis are being offered for as little as $12,000. At present, there is an evolving demand that allows greater freedom of movement, which has always led to more reasonable prices. Even with labor and materials costs at such high levels, the output can be expected to reduce retail prices for mobile homes in the future. This will certainly add to the growing popularity of the "home on wheels."

Luncheon Report

John Uptake, owner of the Alcoma Packing Company of Lake Wales, brought an interesting and timely program at our last week's meeting. When he was introduced by John Giddens, program committee man.

Speaker Uptake expressed optimism for the future of the Florida citrus industry in spite of the present market conditions reflecting the effects of the Federal crop forecast of last October, when a 42 million box increase was predicted for this season's orange crop, an increase of roughly 42 per cent over the previous season.

He said that the real problem is a "People Problem" rather than a problem of supply and demand.

He told about earlier times when the industry had been faced with over supply, and how through improved marketing efforts, new and improved products, increased and improved advertising and merchandising programs, the industry had sold orange crops that had grown from 50 million boxes after World War II, to more than 100 million boxes during the 1965-66 season.

He said the "People Problem" (people within the industry) will be the sole cause when the growers, processors and shippers get down to the serious business of working together, and he said—"that type of cooperative effort will come, it has to."

As proof of his confidence in the future, he said that his company was continuing to plant extensive new groves, and in fact new planting was being put on while he was speaking.

Speaker Uptake presented the following tabulations showing the per box value of oranges on the tree, the number of boxes sold, etc., for the seasons starting with 1960-61.

From this chart, you will note the effects of the severe drought in 1961-62, the decrease in the number of boxes produced during the following season, as well as the increase in the per box for the 1963-64 season.

The Library Corner

One of the friends of the library recently informed me how to build a house for martins (a kind of bird). You know one of our librarians has been taking a lot of information from a book in our own Avon Park City Library.

One of the last novels to come to our files is The Great Adventure written by the well-known, well-loved story teller, Janice Holt Giles. Mrs. Giles has written most of her books in the hills of Kentucky. Now she has moved west. The Great Adventure concerns the brief, vital life of the Rocky Mountain fur trappers. These were tough, rugged, vigorous men who, long before there were recorded maps of this territory, explored and then carried in their minds the maps of the rivers, the mountains, the valleys, and the passes. They pioneered every trail that was later followed by wagon trains, stage lines, railroads.

This adventure starts with a young man named Jimmie Santa Fe and crosses the mountains to Oregon, involving danger and loss and rescue. Most of the characters are fictitious but some are authentic mountain men as are the Scotsman and the U. S. Army Captain. The basis of this novel is historically true. Mrs. Giles is a vivid story teller with ample research material. Her novels are very readable.

Weeki Wachee Mermaids do "Oz" And Russell is Enthralled!

As a youngster, one of the first books I tackled after the reading of "The Wizard of Oz" was "The Emerald City of Oz" by L. Frank Baum. I read them when as an adult, I read them to my children. They are equally enjoyable.

Now I am enjoying the same thrill with my grandchildren and share with them the same old thrill as we watch a television re-run of Baum's story. I never thought I would live to see "The Wizard of Oz" presented underwater but it seems that the mermaids at Weeki Wachee Springs are doing just that.

Imagination enables us to find entertainment anywhere. The fact that children have a knack of finding it wherever they like, even in the depths of the Grand Canyon at Weeki Wachee.

Weeki Wachee mermaids, long, blonde, and elegant, during and unequalled aquatic skills, perform beneath the crystal waters with grace and motion and beauty of form unapproached by anything on the world's conventional stage.

Audiences at 10 feet below the surface and watch the glow through glass windows. The audience watches a solid curtain of shimmering bubbles rise to the surface, and the show begins as Dorothy is caught in a bubbly whirlpool which sweeps her into the water world of the aquatic World of Oz.

All of the famous Oz characters appear: The Munchkins, the Scarecrow, the Tin Man, the Cowardly Lion, the Wicked Witch, and the Mermaids and many others.

The world's first underwater production was held at Weeki Wachee when Warner Brothers presented "The Wizard of Oz" based on L. Frank Baum's The Wonderful Wizard of Oz.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHORE

The noted historian of the Civil War, Bruce Catton, editor of "American Review," said these grand words about the hideous slave trade that, for nearly four centuries dyed the history of the white race in the deepest black ever known, excepting probably the attempt of Hitler's Germany at exterminating a highly cultured civilized white race. Speaking of this horrible page in the history of man, Catton has this to say:

"Except perhaps in the saddest and most experimental in genocide, history can show nothing worse than this. The trade went on for four centuries, mistaking greed with cruelty to create a total of human suffering that is beyond human computation; as a by-product, it created racial memories so deeply stained with fear, suspicion and hatred that today they constitute one of the world's most terrible problems."

Yet many generations of good Christian people accepting the business as a necessary and morally right—a step toward civilization that was easily taken because it meant money in the pocket, but it was a positive good in any case.

The rationalization had several threads, frail as the filaments of a spider's web but eventually held firm. One was the descendants of Ham, one of Noah's sons, and so were under a curse from old. Uprooted and put to work in mines and on plantations, they were brought out of darkness and, often enough, their souls were saved; redeemed them from the object barbarism that was their earthly lot.

The civilized Communists have done and are doing deeds almost as dark and horrible, and they can rationalize their actions to make them seem just as reasonable and the Nazis.

HELPFUL "HEZZY"

A New Hampshire farmer on the road to town, stopped a horse who was driving his wagon the opposite direction.

"Say, Hezekiah, didn't one of your horses have the epizootic a while back?" "Yep, he sure did." "Whatja give him?" "Thank ye, large doses."

Two weeks later, they met again, and No. 1 said, "Didn't you say your gave yer horse turpentine?" "Yep, sure did." "Well, my horse died!" "Mine died, too, Goodbye."

A platonic friendship is the closest the town is suspicious of.

A saleslady was having a hard time to find a hat to suit the old lady. She thought to save time, she snapped out: "You've got a corset and a hat wear drawers, and I want a hat to match them!"

During her regular visit to Sebring during the Winter, a lady asked a friend of a group just passing were local people. The Florida lady eyed them and said, "Two of them are I know, but the others are what I call 'Winter complainants.'"

The curtain comes down on the Waterflood of Oz as Dorothy is whisked away to her home amidst an explosion of shimmering air bubbles and a ballet of the famed Weeki Wachee mermaids.

The underwater production was produced and directed by Miss Gloria Hamilton of New York and the show is presented week days from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. with a special night performance on Saturday evening beneath 50,000 watts of light.

Weeki Wachee has long been one of Florida's outstanding attractions and must be seen by all home folks alike. If you have never visited this famed attraction you will find a variety of attractions in addition to the mermaids and the mermaids and many others.

The world's first underwater production was held at Weeki Wachee when Warner Brothers presented "The Wizard of Oz" based on L. Frank Baum's The Wonderful Wizard of Oz.

The rationalization had several threads, frail as the filaments of a spider's web but eventually held firm. One was the descendants of Ham, one of Noah's sons, and so were under a curse from old. Uprooted and put to work in mines and on plantations, they were brought out of darkness and, often enough, their souls were saved; redeemed them from the object barbarism that was their earthly lot.

Phone Merger Won't Affect Toll Charges

The 5,000 stockholders of Inter-County Telephone and Telegraph Co. will vote on a merger plan with United Utilities, Inc., May 25, which officials claim will better enable them to finance growth.

Notas went out this week from J. N. Johnson of Ft. Myers, president.

Does this growth and improvement in obtaining financing mean that abolishment of the toll charges by the State will be a boon to the Sebring, Avon Park and Lake Placid, is in the offing.

"We are hopeful that this might happen in the next five years," said Mr. Johnson, upon questioning. He added there has been "tremendous growth in the past 15-17 years."

The toll charges have long been a big source of irritation and expense to Highlands County residents who feel their communities are not that far apart.

And what about improving service? Affiliation with United, he said, "will aid us in other areas, for instance, talent and money. And United owns a firm manufacturing telephone equipment."

Under the plan on which the stockholders will vote, Inter-County will become part of the United Telephone System, headquartered in Kansas City. It is the second largest telephone company in the United States, with offices in 22 states, and is listed on the New York stock exchange.

Approximately 1,715,000 shares of common stock of Inter-County are outstanding, and 10,000 shares of Series A stock of common stock of the new United preferred stock will be convertible at the option of the holder after January 1, 1959, into one and one-half shares of United common stock.

The new convertible preferred stock will be callable at the option of United at $42.50 per share, plus a 20% premium. Series B and Series C preferred stock will be redeemed prior to the merger.

Dividends on the new United convertible preferred stock will be cumulative at the annual rate of 60 cents or 2 1/2% per quarter for six quarters after its issuance and at the annual rate of $1.50, thereafter. This contrasts with present common stock dividend of 60 cents per year.

United has agreed to apply for listing of the new convertible preferred stock on the New York Stock Exchange where its common stock is already listed and traded.

With the merger effective, the business and properties of the Company will be transferred to a new corporation to be known as United Telephone Company of Florida which will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of United Utilities, Inc.

Stockholders will be mailed a proxy statement on or about April 15. Material describing the merger proposal in detail, including financial statements of the constituent companies will be mailed out in April to stockholders.

Humane Group Formed Three Years Ago

Just three years ago this month, things started looking up for lost, strayed and abandoned pets in Highlands County.

It was in February of 1964 that the Highlands County Humane Society came into existence.

Today they have a fine new 111,000 building, Pine Haven, 10 acres of ground, a caretaker, and a steady stream of pets.

About 100 cats, dogs and other animals find shelter each month. Those whose owners are located are returned to them. The others are adopted out into new homes.

"We are very happy with the way things have progressed," declared president Roy Alexander, "but we feel the shelter could be used more than it is—both for stray animals and by persons who want to adopt them."

There currently are about 25 dogs ranging from a friendly yellow and white male big dog to a little black fleecy, with a ragged, toothy smile. Most of the inhabitants are female, and they all are up for adoption. And for the family which chooses a handsome female shepherd—there will be a bonus—puppies in a few weeks.

"We make no charge for adoption, except we insist that all animals going out of the shelter have their rabies shot. This only costs $3."

Most people, however, leave an animal in appreciation when they leave or pick up a pet.

At various times, there have been horses, cows, monkeys, even squirrels, quarantined at Pine Haven. It has been a shelter for strays and run animals, because two veterinarians, Dr. Frank Handley and Dr. J. H. Harrison, of Sebring, are called in to care for them. Currently a handsome boxer, apparently hit by a car, is waiting over a crushed paw.

It is seldom an animal put to sleep—and then only when it is too sick or hurt to get well.

Pine Haven, located on the cutoff road between the Air Terminal and Road 98, did not just happen. It took a lot of work. For instance, one of the shelter problems was to get a bulldog through the Legislature on the impounding of stray dogs.

Today there are pounds in Sebring, Avon Park and Lake Placid, and the Pine Haven truck makes regular pickups.

Then there was a matter of money. The Sebring City Council donated the land and Miss Jennie Reninger of Lake Placid started the ball rolling with a $5,000 check and followed it by helping clear the land, personally. Her tractor still is there. There were bake sales, breakfasts, luncheons, and a silent auction held to raise money. The City pledged $2500. Avon Park, $2500 and Lake Placid, $1,000.

A Pet Fair and obedience schools have been held, admission free, as the society attempted to arouse interest in its project.

Money is forever important. Questions and memberships currently are the chief sources of funds, and the county helps, but as more animals are handled, costs go up. This is one of the problems the current board of directors faces in trying to solve. They hope the community will open its heart and pocketbook as the work of the shelter becomes better known.

How did Pine Haven and the Humane Society get started? Apparently several people were looking for a place to build a shelter for lost and strayed animals. Mrs. L. I. Potter of Sebring was one of these, Miss Reminger another.

On Feb. 15, 1964, these two women, the late Martha Lumpkin of Sebring, Mrs. W. Taylor Lee and J. D. Watson of Lake Placid, Sally Giffard and Ruth Bramhall of Sebring, and Mr. Alexander met in the latter's office.

"I was running for Mayor of Sebring," he recalled, "and when you're running you're liable to do anything!"

But he has been forever grateful, as he acquired a deeper and deeper interest in the project and still serves as its president. With him on that first board were Miss Reminger, as vice president, Mrs. Bramhall, secretary, and Mr. Potter, treasurer.

Florida Moving Forward Fastest Of Large States

Florida is still growing at a good pace. The number of households in Florida has increased at the rate of 2.1 per cent per year during the five-year period 1950 through 1956, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported in its Weekly Business Review.

"This annual rate of gain in Florida compares with 1.5 per cent nationally. Further it ranked Florida first among the large states in this respect."

"The number of households in Florida in mid-1956 stood at 1,825,800. Included in this figure were 1,280,000 husband-wife households that is, households in which the head is a married man whose wife lives with him."

"The proportion of these husband-wife households in Florida was 70.9 per cent of the total households. Only six other states have a lower proportion. In the case of Florida, the low figure reflects the large number of single retired persons living in this state."

Vitamin A is essential for growth, vision and healthy skin. One of the best sources of it is a yellow pigment, called carotene, found in carrots and squash. Carolina is found as well in green leafy vegetables where its yellow color is masked by a large concentration of green pigment, chlorophyll. Milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and margarine also contain some vitamin A.

Tomorrow it'll take the kids to the orthodontist.

It's a common-sense fact that a child's teeth should be checked and treated when they first appear. If you wait until the child is older, you may find it more difficult and expensive to correct any malocclusion. The Compomobile has curtains that draw over every window and even wrap around the windshield. But once you break camp, all the homey things inside the Compomobile fold away. So you can use it all the way you'd use a VW Station Wagon. For commuting. Shopping. Taking the kids around. Or taking a pet to the vet. (And like any VW wagon, it holds almost twice as much as ordinary wagons.) Actually, you'll probably wind up using the Compomobile more in the city as a station wagon than you do in the country as a Compomobile. Because it's just as useful in the thick of it as it is in the thick.

Home Economics Class Studies 'Antique' Household Appliances

Home Economics Class Studies 'Antique' Household Appliances

The Home Economics classes in Avon Park High School have a museum piece which is now inspiring them to go further into early Americana.

Pat Selph, Becky Tomack and Sylvia Martin, students at Avon Park High School, are shown here with a washing machine which was used in the early 1900s. The machine is a hand-cranked model, and the students are studying its operation and historical significance.

This had been brought from Illinois many years ago. He just didn't have the right spot for such an object of art, so he moved it to the Home Economics room. Now the students are decorating their room around the theme of early American decor. The hand operated washing machine is probably circa 1900 or thereabouts.

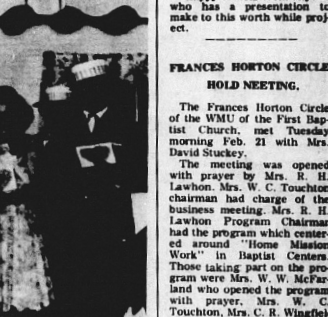

Mr. Pritchett says before the wood was refinished the title "Handy Washer"—Warren, Indiana was printed on the side.

Just for fun, Mrs. Mosley asked her class, coming in upon the pressure for the end of the year, just what they thought it was. The answers were comical—1, sallick, 2, baby cradle, 3, horse trough, 4, for grinding grain and finally one bright student, guessed—washing machine.

All the girls agreed they preferred the newer models but thought it most interesting and have a greater respect for the methods for laundering used by their grandparents. At least they thought it one step better than washing in the river.

Now, if someone in this area could give them a fine old rocker, a wash stand, complete with picher and bowl, they could add to their "museum corner". Mrs. Mosley would be happy to hear from anyone who has a presentation make to this worth while project.

SFJC News

By Judy Wester

The South Florida Panthers ended a successful season last Tuesday night with a win over Edison J.C. After the game a group of SFJC fans gathered at Lewis Restaurant in Lake Placid.

One of the newest pieces of equipment for SFJC is an incubator for the Science Department. The incubator has a capacity of 100 eggs. At present there are about 4 dozen chicken eggs in it. These eggs are being used by Mr. H. Crawford's Zoology class. The class is studying embryology at present. They are examining the different stages in the development of a chicken embryo.

Some of the chicken eggs have hatched into chicks. There were, at one time, some turkey eggs in the incubator. These eggs did not hatch.

Many merchants and businessmen in the area served by SFJC have returned the questionnaire concerning a vocational-technical school to be added to the present school. If any business or industry feels that a vocational-technical school is needed, the questionnaire please send it in.

Newly arrived at the SFJC Bookstore are jackets with the SFJC insignia on it. The jackets are light beige with an orange insignia. An orange stripe runs along the zipper. The jackets only cost $5.75.

The dance that was held Saturday, February 18, was a great success. It was held at the Twin Lakes Country Club. The band, "That's That Sound" from Ocala, played loud and long. As crowd of SFJC students and their dates attended the dance.

A special thanks goes out to all citizens who supported the Panthers during their basketball season. Baseball season begins Monday, March 27, with the Panthers facing Fort Pierce in Fort Pierce.

Highlands Display at State Fair Featured Citrus Canning

Highlands County residents had an opportunity to attend the State Fair and find out how they were represented at the State Fair which drew spectators from all over the world.

A good conversationist paused a bit and asked his visitor, "What makes you so say-for-nothing?" "Well," replied his friend, "I'm a retired center, and my custom was to measure twist and saw wood."

"IN ALL GOOD CONSCIENCE"

"And Paul, earnestly beholding the council said, men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day." Acts 23:1.

St. Paul opened his defense before the council with the words of our text: "Men and brethren," he said, "I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day." These words were too much for the High Priest Ananias, for Paul was being tried as a criminal. Such a statement was considered an insult to the august body of his accusers. And so, the high priest ordered those who stood near the apostle to smite him on the mouth.

We must remember that Paul is here challenging the ruling body of the religion of his fathers. He himself has been a Pharisee of the Pharisees. He made his challenge in the light of his own conscience.

Down the centuries another man was to challenge the council and the traditions of the Church by the light of his conscience, a man who likewise refused to alter what to him was the truth.

In the first instance the Christian church was coming into being; in the second the established Christian church was moving toward a new center through the work of Martin Luther and the great Reformers.

A small boy inadvertently gave us a description of the conscience, when he said to his mother: "I've got something inside me I can't do what I want to with." That is about as good a definition as any.

From this single definition let us turn to what Archbishop Temple had to say about the conscience: "However far our doubts may go, they cannot root up from within us, without our consent (nor, I would add, even with it), the power which claims to guide our lives with supreme authority. They cannot obliterate from within us the sense of right and wrong and of everlasting difference between them. They cannot silence, unless we join in silencing, the voice that bids us believe that, in spite of all that can be said, seen, or felt, the law of right is the eternal foundation on which all things are built."

Conscience does not stand still else it hardens. That was the trouble with the conscience of the high priest. In this connection let's look at Paul's declaration again.

He said: "I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day." Does he include the period, when he was a strict Pharisee, when he punished the Christians, compelling them to blasphemy, and when they were condemned to death, joining his voice against them? Evidently he did, for we read in Acts 26:10 "I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth." The key words in that verse are: "that I ought." The inborn sense of "oughtness" was his conscience, the nature of which had been determined by his moral experience to that time. It is even so with our own conscience, for it has been determined by the forces and factors that have touched and influenced our lives.

Paul's conscience became inadequate, when he met the Lord Jesus Christ on the Damascus Road. He had the inner core of his being touched by a heavenly vision to which he was ever after obedient. His whole being began to gravitate from a new center.

Paul made a great claim: "I have lived in all good conscience." Few of us can say as much. We are apt to be like the negro maid who came to her mistress in great distress of mind, to discuss the question of conscience. When the mistress described the still, small voice which "pumps" to right conduct, the maid replied: "It's 'a 'nuff dat way, Miss Mary. The Lawd, he speaks to me 'bout my goin's on. But sometimes I talks right back to him and 'bout half the time he lets me have my own way." It is possible to argue down the promptings of the conscience. We can be perverse. We can and often do rationalize and become deceitful to ourselves. "I want" takes precedence over "I ought."

No one need to tell us, when we have chosen the wrong rather than the right. We suffer a pang of conscience and, afterward, we experience a sense of guilt. What is to be done?

We can't just say "Let bygones be bygones" because the wrong is in us as mark or stain.

We can't forget it, neither can it be kept a secret forever: "For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known." St. Luke 12:2.

A sense of guilt has been likened to an infected wound. How does the doctor deal with infection? He lances it to allow healing from the bottom. Prayer lances the infection and brings healing.

Dr. Buttrick calls our attention to the fact that in modern psychiatry the patient lays on the mind doctor his burden of sickness. Then he says: "So in prayer we lay on God revealed in Christ the burden of a darkened conscience and God gives back a conscience cleansed of dead works."

When this happens, we grow a new worthiness as Paul did after his divine encounter on the Damascus Road. We get new light and new truth. We come at last where the conscience is more and more the voice of God and we can say with St. Paul: "I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me." Galatians 2:20.

The park picnic last week at Highland Hammock was a grand time of fellowship on a perfect day with 50 people eating on delicious food and playing games later, after which they browsed around until 3:00 P.M., enjoying the scenery and wild life. We'll do this again.

Dr. Harry Longacker entertained us on Saturday evening with his beautiful slides of Colorado and the Smokies of North Carolina. There were close to 60 folks who came to enjoy this time of comradeship. Mildred Long played the piano, while "Ham" Byrer led our hymn singing, both doing an excellent job which is very much appreciated by us all.

We wish our neighbors Ila Douglas, Gordon Stevens, and Ula Miller a speedy recovery from their illness.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Wieman were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loyd of Washington, D.C. who are wintering at Clearwater, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe McDaniel of Bourbon, Ind. wintering at Lake Letta; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nifang and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Raabe who are touring the state of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher were pleasantly surprised by friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Mounts, Mr. and Mrs. Dodd, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lloyd with their granddaughters, Judy, down here from New Carlisle, Indiana who visited with them last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Long of Meriden, Connecticut, spent several days here, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Long, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Friday from Ft. Lauderdale were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burnett last Monday. On Wednesday they will be visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Yates who are fishing with the Bennetts at Lake Letta.

Mr. and Mrs. Granddaddy and Mrs. Everett Gray visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilcott over the weekend.

Mrs. Gray is Mrs. Wollie O'nevy who are at Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roth's home for a friendly "Hello" from Lakeland last Saturday. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Greco could not pass Avon Park without stopping to see all the La Fortina's, they spent a couple of hours at Roth's.

Mr. and Mrs. Marie Singleton of La Porte, Indiana who have been visiting with relatives in Largo, were in Avon Park last Thursday and were able to meet their Indiana friends at their picnic in Highland Hammock.

It has been estimated that in this country the population is increasing at the rate of one every ten and a half seconds. A good idea for every declined country on earth is to have one of these football field clocks that can be shut off now and then to let the players gather their wind.

Holds Concert Tonight

The Highlands Community Concert Association proudly announce the second concert of the season, presenting Mr. Salvatore Accardo.

The concert will be held at the Avon Park High School, Thursday Feb. 23, at 8 P.M.

Mr. Accardo, a young Italian violinist, the first to come to our shores for many years, made his American debut in 1962 and won the reputation that is usually accorded only the elite.

In recital he has been hailed as "a new candidate for a seat among the mighty company of distinguished violin virtuosos."

This young man who has week. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Carl Borg of Roeholm, Wisconsin visited with them. Vernon is busy making many pretty things with the shells he has collected while at the beaches on the west coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pratt of Sebring and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pratt of Hingham, Massachusetts visited with the Chalmers (Thelma and George) on Saturday afternoon.

Report of the recreation building: Work is progressing nicely. The floor has been poured and this week should see the walls going up. We are all anxiously waiting the completion of the building.

made such a spectacular conquest of North America, is already an established favorite in Europe and South America. He has performed in all the major cities of both continents and he has played on radio and television in many cities.

Salvatore Accardo was started early on a musical career by his father whose own ambition to become a violinist in his youth, had been frustrated by the necessity to help support his parents. At great personal sacrifice the elder Accardo started young Salvatore's studies of violin, piano, theory and so forth at the age of six under private instruction.

The young violinist's public debut took place at the age of six when he played at the Conservatory in 1964 and 1966. His professional debut occurred at the age of fifteen and his first fee of 100 lire was proudly handed over to his parents.

He owns two violins: an Italian Guadagnoli, dated 1771 was presented to him by the French Radio and is valued at three million old francs. He also has a 1794 Gagliano.

He speaks Italian, French and Spanish fluently and is working on his English.

He claims never to have suffered from stage fright: possibly this stems from the fact that he has been before the public from an early age. Once he begins to play he "forgets everything but the music."

Any member that cannot attend the concert is again urged to loan their membership card to a friend or leave it at the South Florida Jr. College with Mr. Buford Jasper, President of the Highlands Community Concert Association, in order that the membership chairman can give it to someone who wishes to attend.

Sun Ray News

We are really beginning to feel the effects of spring. Everyone is busy outside these days. Flowers and gardens are really being put in first class shape.

The Earl Amos and the B. H. Rowses spent a day last week in Tampa enjoying the Fair. They report it is really great.

Major Mervil Kaiser and Mrs. Brack Davis of Jacksonville at Ocala for the Claude O. Bices of Princeton Avenue. Major Kaiser's Parents have been spending their vacation with the Bices. Sunday they all met the Bices daughters and families of Jacksonville at Ocala for a picnic. The Kaisers returned to Eglin AFB to spend some time with Major Kaiser.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Rowe and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Amos spent Monday at Cypress Gardens. They viewed the taping of one of the Mike Douglas Shows. They said the show was very good but it was really crowded.

We are really sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Tuggle will be leaving Sun Ray. They have sold their home on Harvard, but have made no immediate plans as to where they will be living.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Triplett, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter and Anna Mae Range spent last Tuesday in Lakeland visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Morris.

I am happy to report Miss Margaret Barr is back in Sun Ray after a long absence. Returning with her is her sister Mrs. William Belford of Sebringville, Ontario, Canada. Miss Barr has really appreciated the kindness of the community and the many prayers.

AVON PARK MOTOR COMPANY
1 E. VERNON AVE. — GL 3-3117 — Avon Park

THE FLORIDA STATE University Men's Glee Club, the Collegians, will present a concert at 8 P. M., February 25 in the Highlands School. They currently are on their annual tour which will take them to Marianna, Avon Park, St. Cloud, Ft. Lauderdale, Miami and North Ft. Myers. The versatility of the group is seen in the numbers to be performed, which range from 16th century masterpieces, through contemporary work and include Negro spirituals and popular ballads. The featured soloist is Virginia Alonso Duncan of Havana, who won first place in the Metropolitan Opera annual auditions for Florida. The public is invited to attend.

Robert Spires Is Arrested and Will Face New Charge

Robert T. Spires of Hillcrest, released here last March on a directed verdict in a murder charge, has been arrested in Stuttgart, Ark.

Sheriff Broward Coker said he will be extradited to Sebring to face charges of accessory after the act of murder.

Spikes and Mrs. Dora Mae Wilkinson had been accused of murdering her husband, James Wilkinson, and she was convicted and sentenced to Florida State penitentiary for life. Spikes had been a boarder in the Wilkinson home.

The murder of Wilkinson occurred April 1, 1960. It was alleged he was shot, and his body transported to Polk county and left there.

A magazine article says the American gray wolf has all but vanished. Obviously the author never attended an office party.

Southland Trailer Court

There were four tables of 300 at the Recreational Hall Monday night. Stewart Ditts was high score.

We are glad to report that Russell Finney is recovering nicely from recent surgery and is at home now.

The usual happy get-together, called "The Coffee Hour" was attended by thirty-seven Tuesday morning.

Many are taking advantage of the nice weather and having social games at the shuffle courts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kline of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio are visiting The Baxters for a few days. Mrs. Kline is Mr. Baxter's daughter.

Charley Henningham of Ontario, Canada has come to spend some time with his brother, Ben. He reports nice weather at his location in Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reardon of Victory N. Y., friends of Harry and Ann Barth, were guests recently. They will be joining the park family in the near future.

Ben Henningham gave thanks for food and friends at the monthly pot luck dinner held at 5 P. M. Wednesday. A capacity crowd enjoyed the excellent meal. It seems wherever people meet they like to eat and talk. A number of guests were introduced, and Mrs. S. A. Shufelt is on the birthday list this week. Bernadine Ames and Edna Senger in charge.

Park members, and the McClarys, extend their sincere sympathy to the family of Walter Meisel who passed away Tuesday morning at Walker Memorial hospital.

Short services were held at Stephenson's Funeral Home Tuesday evening with Rev. A. G. Hardee officiating. Mrs. Meisel accompanied the body by train, and the daughter and son-in-law by plane to their home in N. Y. on Wednesday.

Mrs. Meisel expects to return to Southland in a week or ten days.

Jerry and Glenn Zeisert of Bluefield, Michigan have been visiting her mother, Mary Strickland, for a few days. They did some sight seeing and regretted to leave for the Michigan cold Thursday morning.

Also, have you noticed that Mary's trailer and yard has a lot of spring?

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Hicks from Alma, Michigan stopped for a brief visit with the Walters Monday. Mr. Hicks heads up the Federal road building program in his community and Mrs. Hicks served with Lila in the BPW activities of Alma.

Wanted: More ladies to attend the weekly Thursday afternoon sewing and crafts get-togethers. Also the cancer paid work. These meetings are altered and will be posted on the board. The Recreational Hall is taking on a new look both inside and out and should be very pleasing to the eye.

Marie Stroobant will leave Friday for Orlando to visit friends over the weekend. Saturday afternoon they will see "Hawaii" which is now showing in Orlando.

In respect for Mr. Meisel's passing, the regular Tuesday shuffle matches were held the following day. Only twelve of our park members and guests took part, which is a very small percentage of our membership. Due to conflicting dates of other activities, it was voted to hold the matches on Friday in the future, beginning Friday Feb. 24. The final winners last Wednesday were Guy Detrick and Herman Wurster with a score of 79 against 22 of their opponents.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Young of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, former residents of Southland, called on Emma Gerdes Tuesday.

Mrs. Minty Noonan and son, Billy, of Brookville, Ontario, are here visiting Myrtle Hefernan.

The Waltons and Wertubars were in Lakeland Thursday for shopping, and an excellent dinner at the Sears Town Cafeteria. Also visited Fred and Hattie Hill at Pine Lake Trailer Park, north of Lakeland on Rt. 98. Fred has not been well this winter, the reason for their not visiting at Southland before now.

At the Hall Friday night six tables of cards were played. Lu Detrick and Laura Stamlund were shoppers in Lakeland Thursday.

Nineteen were out Sunday night for the semi-monthly sing at the Hall. This is an enjoyable time for our singers.

Stewart Ditts was a weekend visitor at Gulf Lake Mobile Estates at Bradenton with the Eli Kelleys. Also called on Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howlett at Pick Town Mobile Court and The James Almsteads at Luxor Trailer Court.

More than fifty park members enjoyed one of the most delightful social affairs of the season at the Hall Saturday evening when a surprise 40th wedding anniversary party was had for Ann and Harry Barth. Their daughter wrote to a friend in the park and requested we plan something in their honor, as it was impossible for her to be with them.

State Licensing For Child Care Units Proposed

The 1967 Florida Legislature may be asked to set-up a state agency for the licensing of all facilities caring for children away from home.

At the February meeting of Highlands Association for Children under Six (HACUS), one appointed by the Florida Council of Independent Schools, one from voluntary facilities, two from proprietary facilities, two appointed by the State Health Department or State Public Welfare Department, one from State Department of Education, two named by the licensing agency itself, one from the field of early childhood development, one from field of child growth and development and two citizens at large.

The bill, as now drafted, states as its purpose the promotion of "the total development of children cared for away from their own homes."

It would require licensing for all boarding home, child care center, day nursery, kindergarten, nursery school or family day care units. It states that the licenses "must be a person of good character and qualified to care for children."

Health, education and religious groups have been using passage of licensing legislation. Some counties—which had found children being cared for in sub-standard houses by women too old or girls too young to be responsible for a group of children—have already sought county licensing laws.

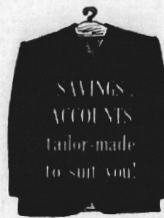

Mrs. Martha Horton, chairman of HACUS, distributed the state proposals in the meeting held at First Christian Church Monday night. Further discussion is scheduled for March 20 when HACUS will meet at First Christian in Sebring.

The present proposals call for fines and or jail terms for violation of licensing law provisions, and the law would provide that licenses cannot be sold or transferred, would be subject to annual renewal.

4-H'ers Attend Fair Saturday

A group of 50 4-H'ers and chaperones attended the Florida State Fair Saturday. Of special interest was the annual 4-H club program held at the grand stand at 10 A. M. More than 50 4-H boys and girls received Florida State Fair award certificates before the fair grandstand. Those receiving certificates from Highlands County were Joe Page, Lake Placid Club and Ann Walker from the Sebring "Greenleaves Club".

Mrs. Imogene D. Risenburgh, County Extension Home Economics Agent and Tim Turner, Jr. Assistant County Agricultural Agent accompanied the group on the trip.

Real French dressing is never pink or creamy. Here are authentic French instructions: two to three parts olive, peanut or vegetable oil, one part wine or herb vinegar, a suspicion of Dijon mustard, freshly ground pepper and salt to taste. That's all there is to authentic French dressing. The French will insist that olive, walnut and peanut oils imported from France are exceptionally fine. French vinegars are made with red, white or rose wines. There is also French tarragon vinegar. In the U.S. as well as in parts of France, freshly squeezed lemon juice is used sometimes instead of vinegar.

YOU
QUO VADIS

Where to go, what to do? I know, why not drop in this evening at one of the local cinemas—both have good shows on.

At the SEVON DRIVE IN THEATRE, we have rough Marlon Brando in "The Appaloosa" with two co-features — triple feature bargain.

At the HILANS THEATRE, we have attractive TV star David Jansen in "The Warning Shot" with Hayley Mills in the co-feature "The Trouble With Angels."

Remember Friday—the opening day for the famous SILVER SPURS RODEO in Kissimmee—lots of parking space for your car and covered seats in case of rain.

Friday, there will be an AUCTION on the Mall in Avon Park—will start at 2 P.M. and continue until 11 P.M.—many interesting items of all kinds.

Coming Thursday, March 2nd at Curtis Hixon
Hall, we have the hilarious HARLEM GLOBE-TROTTERS vs. the New York Nationals—remember one night only, there will also be additional attractions.

This Thursday, tonight, at the Avon Park
Armory, we have some girls on the wrestling card, which makes for more attraction on the canvas.

Coming March 3rd at the Sebring Elk's Club, will be an amazing Hypnotic Show performed by the well-known Dr. Franz Mesmer.

Hungry? Thirsty? Feel like dancing? Why not stop in one of the following for good food, dancing or entertainment.

In Lake Placid, we have the well-known TOWER VIEW RESTAURANT. In Lake Wales, we have the HIGHLANDER RESTAURANT and the COPPERTOP. In Winter Haven, we have Nick
Christy's SUNDOWN RESTAURANT and night spot
Chase Lounge. In Fort Meade, we have Frank Wiesner's EL CID LOUNGE. Another good spot, we recommend STROLLO'S in Lakeland, who has just joined our Place To Go Family inviting you all to visit with them and have fun.

Shelley says stop in at MARRS AIRCRAFT and find out how easy it is to learn how to fly.

BADLY-BEATEN David Jansen receives first aid from attractive Stefanie Powers in the suspense drama, "Warning Shot."

ENJOYING A WALK in a midcity winter wonderland, this young couple strolls through a quiet section in the heart of New York's Central Park after a recent heavy snowfall.

POETRY IN MOTION, the sailing yachts in the annual races in February out of St. Petersburg, Fla., are a colorful sight as they course through Tampa Bay and the Gulf of Mexico. Longest race is the 400-mile haul from St. Petersburg to Port Lauderdale, considered one of the toughest ocean races in the United States.

Minor burns on furniture surfaces can often be hidden by light rubbing with an automobile cleanser, a little silver polish, or some moistened cigar ash. Heavier burns require refinishing.

America is a wonderful country. Where else can you walk out of your mortgaged home, step into a time-payment car, drive down a bonded highway on credit gas to charge something at your favorite store?

SOUVENIR EDITION

March 30, 1967

Work has begun on this year's "12 HOURS OF SEBRING" souvenir edition which will be bigger and better than any edition ever produced in Sebring. Full color will be used for the first time this year. Circulation of the issue will be the highest ever, with the new circulation of the Ft. Pierce and Avon Park newspapers. To help insure the success of the edition, advertising costs have been reduced to help local firms sell the story of Sebring and Highlands County to other parts of the nation. The edition will be printed standard size which will give more room to show in pictures and written words what this area of Florida has to offer. Be sure your copy is ordered. Also send copies to your friends.
