764,307 Hunting and Fishing Licenses Sold In '66 Season

Florida played host to a total of 555,170 licensed fishermen and 209,137 licensed hunters during the 1965-66 season according to analysis of hunting and fishing license sales just released by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Commission Chairman W. B. Copeland said that the analysis covered the period beginning July 1, 1965, and ending both resident and non-resident hunting and fishing license sales. The report indicated an increase of 16,938 fishermen and 2,261 hunters over the past year.

Polk County again lead the state in the sale of resident fishing licenses with 31,473 licensed resident fishermen. Leading in the sale of non-resident fishing licenses is Putnam County with 10,440 non-resident fishermen who obtained the five day license.

In hunting license sales Duval County accounted for 12,863 resident statewide licenses, Escambia County sold 4,589 resident county licenses and Levy County sold 137 other than home county licenses. Palm Beach led in the sale of shooting preserve hunting licenses with 105 of the special preserve licenses. Of the non-resident hunters Leon County accounted for the sale of 328 non-resident ten day licenses and 143 annual non-resident hunting license sales.

Copeland said, "There can be no question that hunting and fishing is big business when considering that the sale of licenses amounted to $2,641,017.00. The license, however, is only part of the financial picture as not all fishermen and hunters are licensed and based on a nationwide survey the average fisherman spends approximately $103.19 a year for his fishing and the average hunter spends $82.54 to pursue his pleasures during the hunting season. As a conservative estimate this would amount to more than a $75,000,000 addition to Florida's economy."

Sermonette

REV. HERBERT D. GRAETZ
Union Congregational Church

THE PRODIGAL SONS

"If a man say, I love God and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, cannot love God whom he hath not seen." I John-4:20.

"They began to be merry" would have been a happy ending for the Parable of the Prodigal Son. The joyful reunion of the father and the wayward boy. However, the elder brother rings down the curtain on the bounce of joy; his coming into the picture is like a smear of paint on a masterpiece.

In this parable the imperfection of the elder brother perfects the picture. life is not all symmetrical in its outlines, nor beautiful in its proportions; life is at times a very ugly thing.

The elder brother comes from the field where he has been at work. He is surprised to hear the sound of music and laughter coming from the house. The unusualness of such gaiety impresses him. He calls a servant and inquires the meaning of the festivity. The servant says: "Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound."

The elder brother, in a fit of rage, refuses to enter the house. The entreaty of his father is in vain. He speaks to his father in a peevish manner: "Lo these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment; and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends; but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf." To this his good father replied: "Son — My boy! — thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine. It was meet that we should make merry and be glad; for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; was lost, and is found." St. Luke 15: 31-32.

The elder son, no doubt, has his good points. He must have been industrious and dependable; the kind of man who does his work well. He was the type of individual who is largely responsible for what little stability we have in society. To the average thinker he would be considered a good son and a fine citizen. He probably was a leader in the synagogue. After we have said all of this, we must add that he also had some questionable traits of character.

He was easily angered. Anger beclouds reason and obscures virtue. In this case it led the elder brother to speak to his father in a most uncommendable manner. Each word grew more bitter. His anger proved to be a window through which Jesus looked upon his heart. What did he find?

He found self-righteousness; in the 31 words of the elder brothers' scathing rebuke, he refers to himself 5 times. "I" and "my" compose one sixth of his vocabulary. His speech betrays him. "Lo, these many years do I serve thee." There is no heart in that; a sort of loveless service that looks in the end to profit. Convinced of his own merit, he says; "Neither trangressed I at any time thy commandment." An arrogant claim! What a pity, when a man deludes himself through a false sense of his own importance. Paul's words should cause one to exercise caution: "Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after." Phil. 3:12.

Again, the Master detected ungratefulness. There was a whine in his rebuke: "Thou never gavest me a kid." He has completely forgotten that all the pleasures and comforts of home had been his. Gone is the realization that he had been saved from the utter destitution of his younger brother. Rightly does his father remind him: "My son thou art ever with me and all that I have is thine." When a man is ungrateful, he takes even material gifts for granted. In his eagerness to possess material things from his father, he had overlooked the importance of possessing the love of his father who has made all things possible for him.

Finally, Jesus saw uncharitableness. The elder brother had been at home yet not at home. Obviously he had not been affected an any way by his father's heartache because of the moral failure of his younger son. One would have naturally have expected him to rejoice that the wanderer had returned, that his father's tears had been stopped, and that the season of heartache and grief had passed. To the contrary he refers to his own brother as "thy son." Better never have been born than to have grown into such a loveless wretch.

The parable might very well be renamed and called the Parable of the Prodigal Sons. Which of the two prodigals do you consider the worst? Jesus was tender and loving to the first, who represents those who commit sins of passion. He was scathing in his denunciation of the second. He realized that the Temple in Jerusalem was full of the second type. They went up to the sanctuary daily and thanked God that they were not like other men. Yet, they were quick to anger, void of mercy and bitter of speech. They failed to possess the spirit of brotherly love and forgiveness in their hearts. Hard, cold, self-righteous and uncharitable, they went about their errands, thinking thereby to serve God.

We would like for you to think what would have happened, if the first prodigal had met the second prodigal (the elder brother) on the steps of their fathers' home. You can almost image what would have ensued. In all likelihood the elder son would have driven his repentant brother back into the far country.

Surely there should be a glad welcome awaiting in God's House for any repentant son who would return home. The divine welcome would be a resounding "make merry and be glad, for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found."

Methodist Meet Sunday, Jan. 22

"Are we Keepers of the Poor?" is the theme for the January 22 meeting at the First Methodist Church in Avon Park.

In Palm Beach a woman gold-plated the hinges of the rest-room doors of a new yacht club for the young and "potentially rich." The club was for the young while they are "making it."

At the same time New York police used force to keep two fathers from throwing their young daughters from the roof of tenements. "What does she got to live for up here in Harlem?" one of the fathers asked.

Are we keepers of the potentially rich? Are "We Keepers of the Poor?" is the question Aaron Cravens will discuss at the third session of the church-wide mission study class, "Affluence and Poverty: Dilemma for Christians," this coming Sunday night, Jan. 22 at 6:30 at the First Methodist Church. You are invited to attend this discussion.

FIX-IT TIP

- If while painting your bathroom, paint spills on the tiled wall do not use paint remover as it will dull the surface of the tile and do not scrape it as it might scratch its surface. Instead apply ammonia or alcohol with an artist's brush or with a small piece of cotton to soften the paint. If used with care a safety razor blade fitted in a holder can remove paint.
- Wax metal curtain rods to permit curtains or draperies to slide easier and to minimize the chance of stains caused by rust forming on metal of the rods.

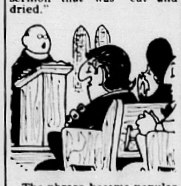
The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

I went into the supermarket for some pickling spices and came out with a cart full of condiments. I found everything on the spice rack from tasty sweet peppers to dried mint leaves. Just about everything had been "cut and dried."

During the sixteenth century, there was a tremendous interest in herbs as medicine. Camomile and senna were particularly popular, and the physicians, in prescribing these medicines, preferred that the herbs be cut and dried rather than have them fresh picked.

Jonathan Swift, in the early eighteenth century, accused a certain preacher of giving a sermon that was "cut and dried."



The phrase became popular to refer to any situation in the community wherein the procedures or plans lacked freshness.

Today, when the powers that be turn a deaf ear to someone's suggestions, or when a clique runs a local government without concern for outside opinions, their critics are apt to say of the proceedings: "The usual happened. Everything was cut and dried before we got there."

Bananas, each carefully wrapped in tinfoil, were sold for a dime each, at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition of 1876, as a tropical curiosity.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS' worth of good luck is represented by the antique bottle pictured above. The Society for the Preservation of the Crow is conducting a nationwide search for 100 authentic originals of this century-old glass container, complete with label. The conservation group values the label as living proof of its official slogan, "Two Crows You See, Good Luck to Thee!"—a sentiment which Leda Feldman of the Society's staff joins with two mascots to dramatize here. For details, see the accompanying story.

WHERE YOU GOIN'?

QUO VADIS

Feeling let down? Don't let the blues get you down—put on your best bib and tucker and step out and enjoy yourself — lots of fun around to raise your spirits.

Sporting Fans—real live action at the Wrestling Matches at the ARMORY in Avon Park tonight as the Latins clash with the Japs. Alex Medina and Don Serrano of Puerto Rico (outstanding Latin Tag Team) go against the rugged Japanese team of Duke Keomuka and Taki Yamaguchi. They are out for revenge this week for roughing Lothario last week. Firey tempered red head Sherri Lee of Tennessee goes against Bonnie Watson of West Virginia for a thrilling match.

For your dining pleasure, why not try these renowned restaurants just a short distance from here?

THE COPPERTOP in Lake Wales offers delicious Rib Eye Char-broiled steaks - for the seafood lover, that famous Pompano Poinciana with rich cream sauce with chopped shrimp and mushrooms.

At the HIGHLANDER RESTAURANT on Alt. 27 in Lake Wales, Mr. Hunt offers many tempting dishes on his menu and invites you to enjoy your favorite beverage at their Horseshoe Bar before dinner or lunch.

In Lake Placid, Chef Carl is continuing his Lobster Special at the TOWER VIEW RESTAURANT. One of my favorites here, is the baked Virginia ham in scrumptious pineapple sauce. Makes my mouth drool when I think of it.

In Winter Haven Nick Christy's famous SUNDOWN RESTAURANT offers real tasty dishes. Try the Small Petite Beef Tenderloin with yummy mushroom sauce or the tender and succulent broiled petite Danish Lobster Tails, real delicacies.

On the local cinema, we have a triple feature starting tonight at the SEVON DRIVE-IN THEATRE. A thrilling James Bond film "Thunderball" starts on Sunday and will play thru Wednesday.

In Avon Park at the HILANS THEATRE, we have a double feature of Dracula and the Zombies for those who love the gruesome. Ever popular Peter Seller will start his run in "After The Fox" on Sunday and will play through Tuesday.

For some dancing, music, entertainment and your favorite drink, stop by and see Frank Wiesser at the EL CID LOUNGE in Ft. Meade or try the Chase Lounge at Nick Christy's SUNDOWN RESTAURANT or Mr. George's COPPERTOP — all offer a very delightful evening of gayety and fun.

Shelley Marrs says don't forget, if you have just received your pilot's license and still don't have a plane of your own, call him — he will rent a plane very reasonably, won't you Shelley?

Which ever place you go to tonight, tomorrow or the other tomorrows, I'm sure you will find the above places very much to your liking — so enjoy yourself and get out of those blues.

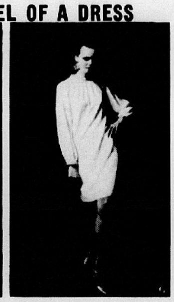
MAKE A JEWEL OF A DRESS



Dresses that glitter and gleam, shimmer and shine: that's what some of the brightest gals in town—any town—will be wearing on Saturday nights.

A shining example is the floaty chiffon cage overdress designed by McCall's, available in Pattern #8497. On the dance floor, it swings—from a ring collar crusted with brilliants, sequins or seed pearls. Underneath is a matching crepe slip dress that can be worn by itself to dazzle the crowd.

The softness of crepe, sparked by the glitter of jeweled neckline and cuffs, marks another McCall's fashion: a long-sleeved shift in Pattern #8499.

And a real gem of a dress, the classic A-line with long, set-in sleeves, glows in silk or satin trimmed with beaded braid. The braid forms a standaway collar and marches down the front of the dress for an exotic Mandarin effect; Jeweled cuffs in the same braid complete the Oriental princess look. Yet the dress, McCall's Pattern #8509, is a "Quickie" that doesn't demand a wealth of time or money to make.

If you prefer, you can omit the beading and substitute satin bands at neckline, sleeves and hem. Or, make a perfectly simple round-necked dress in a perfectly fabulous brocade.

These are just a few of the looks lighting up the current night scene. When the evening's getting a glow on, many girls will appear in jewel-belted overblouse dresses . . . shirtwaist shifts ablaze with brilliant prints . . . or tent dresses swinging out to a giant circle of satin at the hem.

Add luster to all these fashions with the right accessories: big bold earrings halfway to the shoulder, T-strapped dancing slippers in shimmery silver and gold, or in pastels to match your dress.

Then there's only one bit of glitter left to add: the gleam in your escort's eye!

Experience is a hard teacher. She gives the test first and the lesson afterwards.

FRENCH FORECAST SUPERSONIC STYLE

A new wave of air travel is hailed by this Dior model wearing a one-piece jump suit created for the supersonic hostess of 20 years from now.

The hooded silhouette-shaped costume of navy blue stretch fabric is trimmed with light blue metallic-finish leather. It was designed by Dior in honor of Air France's 20th anniversary of transatlantic service.

Sleek simplicity marks both the slash pocket lines and the fitted helmet hood with its light blue visor. Friction snap closings accent the circular collar and conforming cuffs.

Dior's mannequin is set against the background of the 1,450-m.p.h. Concorde jetliner, which will set the pace for Air France's fleet in 1971. Flying at nearly twice the speed of sound, the aircraft will deliver passengers from New York to Paris in 3 hours.

"Everybody's pulling for you, boss. Turns out you're the only one who can sign the payroll checks."

Politicians admit that the two-party system consists of the appointed and the disappointed.

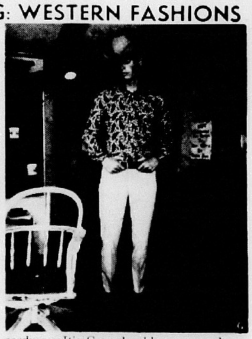
FOR CAREFREE LIVING: WESTERN FASHIONS



Arizona, with its magnificent ranges and deserts, incredible sunsets and unusual vegetation, is fast becoming an "in" vacation spot. Among the landmarks in the area are old stagecoach trails, restored ghost towns, Indian reservations and rugged terrain. If it's your first trip to Arizona, you'll probably want centrally located headquarters such as the Carefree Inn at Carefree, Arizona, with mountains, desert and historic sites easily accessible.

For hitting Western trails, what could be more suitable than Western-style attire? In keeping with the trend to Western and "mod" styles — both popular for college or vacation — a new "Carefree Collection" comes in a fabric that is big this fall, corduroy. It's a durable press fabric of Eastman Kodel polyester and cotton that doesn't require ironing.

New interpretations for on-campus wear of Western shirt-and-jeans attire include a shirt by Elder (upper right) combined with Anvil slacks in Cone durable press corduroy of Kodel and cotton. Practical Pondersosa shirt and slack jeans (upper left) by Mr. Wrangler are for riding the range or going to college. Made of Eastman Kodel polyester and cotton, they are machine washable and dryable and bypass the iron for carefree living.

In the ladies' division, we find a Western style mini skirt in durable press corduroy of Kodel and cotton, worn with a cowboy hat and bandanna print cotton shirt.

If you get used to easy-care "Carefree" fashions, it may be difficult to go back to old style fabrics—as surely as the Arizona desert captures visitors with its hypnotic spell.

Following are suggestions from home economists in the United States Department of Agriculture on the selection and preparation of pork. The meat of high-quality pork should have firm, fine-textured lean, grayish-pink in color, with firm white fat on the outside of the cut. Some fat should be well-distributed through the lean. Be sure your fresh pork is thoroughly cooked. A meat thermometer is helpful in providing a reliable method of testing thoroughness of cooking pork roasts. When done, a fresh pork roast should have an internal temperature of 185 degrees, while a cured ham—whole or half—should reach 160 degrees. For a cured picnic shoulder, 170 degrees is desirable.

Minesweeping

Although United States minesweepers cleared the seas of about 10,000 mines during World War II, it is estimated that after the war, the Pacific Ocean alone still contained about 100,000 mines which had to be swept before safe navigation could be resumed.

LESS THAN 100 YEARS AGO: The first zoo in U.S. was founded in Philadelphia in 1874. Montezuma, however, had extensive zoos at his palace in Mexico City, long before Cortez came along in 1519.

About 25 million tons of fish are taken from the seas of the world each year, for human consumption. Yet over half of the world's population never seem to get enough to eat.

Well, I guess things are okay the way they are.

If you feel this way, chances are you don't read the daily newspaper. Because the newspaper means change. New ideas. Better ways of doing things. Better ways of living.

95 million adults depend on the newspaper every day. People pay good money for their paper — and then invest better than half an hour reading it. Because people know that the newspaper contains things that can change their lives.

If there's something new or exciting about what you're selling, advertise in the newspaper. Newspaper readers have their eye on the future.

WE'VE PROVED IT AGAIN! . . . WHY PAY MORE?

Our comparison shopper made another complete shopping test in the four other leading food chains of this area on December 31, 1966. The prices of 51 different meat, produce and grocery items were compared on same brands and quality.
In the few instances where some stores did not carry the same brand on an item, a brand of comparable quality was used for an accurate comparison.
Each of the 51 different items used were carefully selected to make up a typical weekend food order. They included many items that would appear on your own shopping list each week.
Read the results given; if you did not shop in one of our stores that week, you may have paid as much as $4.11 more for a $30.17 order.

The cost of this typical food order, ranged from a low of $30.17 to a high of $34.28. Winn-Dixie and Kwik Chek's low price of $30.17 offered a big savings of $4.11 !

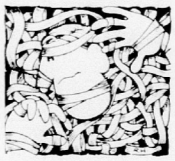
The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

One hot day in August I went with my family on a guided tour of Hoover Dam. For a moment we stood over the largest water pipe in the world and listened to the guide explain how the dam had been built.

We were more than 500 feet underground and the natural breeze that came off the water was especially cool and soothing. When we walked up about 64 steps, however, the temperature began to change and there was grumbling about the crowded condition and the elevator which could not hold everyone to make just one trip back up to cooler temperatures.

"You'll just have to be patient," the guide explained. "This elevator doesn't operate on a cable; it runs on government red tape."



The expression "red tape" originated years ago before the days of filing cabinets. In those days, valuable papers were put in bundles and tied with red string or tape so they could be easily identified. Even so it took a great deal of searching to find specific governmental documents.

Today, when routines are so involved that it takes a complicated procedure to change them, the process is called "going through red tape."

At least 20 percent of the population of any nation could be classed as having fear, ignorance, and, or hatred as their dominant emotion. They have no money or influence, and won't think, because it is work. They dislike those who do think, because they are unfamiliar with the process; they will blindly follow any leader who does not expect them to think, but will promise them bigger and better things.

In the News

A familiar face and name in the news is General William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in the South Vietnam conflict. Under his command now are 370,000 U.S. servicemen, a larger commitment of manpower than this country had in Korea. Westmoreland, 52, assumed command in Vietnam in August of 1964.

FIX-IT TIP

• When soap or detergent and water spill and dry on a wood floor, alkaline reaction sometimes occurs. This causes dark spots. To remove discoloration, take off wax with naphtha. Then wash area with vinegar, keeping it on spots three or four minutes. Wipe dry with clean cloth. Repeat if necessary. Rinse with clear water and rewax.

• Shellac applied to bare clean wood can prevent wax from absorbing into the wood and will help the wood retain its natural color longer.

• White powdery discoloration that sometimes appears on brick walls is called efflorescence. Efflorescence frequently can be removed by water applied with a stiff scrub brush. If this doesn't work, scrub surface with a solution of muriatic acid (one part commercial-strength acid to nine parts water). Be sure to rinse wall with water before and after using acid. It may be desirable to give the wall a final washing with water containing five per cent household ammonia.

• Cement work for a back yard barbecue should cure for about 10 days to two weeks before putting it to use. Sprinkle installation daily during that time.

Spice CABINET

Green olives, whether unstuffed or stuffed with pimento, anchovies, etc., are packed in a brine solution containing lactic acid as preservatives, so an opened jar of green olives presents no great storage problems. Occasionally, however, after prolonged storage even under refrigeration, a thin film of mold may form on the top of a jar of olives. This does not indicate the olives have turned bad. Transferring the olives and brine to a smaller jar, thus reducing the air space between the olives and jar top, will inhibit the formation of this film.

Registration and Petition to Continue —

School Bond Issue Moved To April 25

In an emergency move Tuesday night the Highlands County School Board unanimously voted to move the pending school bond election up sixty days to April 21.

This is necessary, according to registrar Roland Droit, because it would be impossible to get the names on the petition — that is now being circulated — verified by the Friday deadline.

The change in election date was recommended by county superintendent George Douglass.

Douglass urged citizens to continue to sign the petition and urged freeholders to continue to register. So far, about 2800 people have signed the petition and 4000 are needed.

Registrar Droit says that many husbands are signing for their wives—and vice versa. These signatures can not be certified because they must be exactly as they appear on the registration records in the court house.

A crash program is underway to obtain 25 percent of the registered voters names on a petition to enable the county to go ahead and hold the school bond election.

Signing the petition does not mean that a person either approves or disapproves the final bond issue. Signing the petition means only that the bond issue will be brought to a final vote April 25. You need only be a registered voter to sign the petition—you do not have to be a freeholder.

This is a technicality in the state law that slipped up on the school board. The oversight was pointed out by bond attorney Frank Watson who is handling the issue.

The technicality is this: An old state law says that if a county has less than 25,000 population, then 25 percent of the voters in that county must petition the school board to call an election. Although Highlands County now has more than 25,000 citizens, in the official 1960 census there were only 21,358 citizens. Thus the need for a voter petition before the school bond election can become valid.

Ray Wells, Avon Park, who is vice-chairman and a 20-year member of the County School Board, says that it is going to be a difficult job to get the necessary names on the petitions.

Then, if this first hurdle is cleared, the county voters will decide on April 25 whether or not they wish to approve the $3.15 million bond issue. This money would be used for construction of new facilities.

Wells points out that present facilities include 32 temporary and 20 portable classrooms. If the bond issue fails, he says, additional temporary facilities will have to be found and this will only add to the construction problem for the future.

The new schools would cost Highlands County citizens $1.22 per thousand of non-exempt assessment. The school board reminds property owners that this tax is on the amount over and above the homestead exemption. That is, a home assessed at $10,000 would be taxed only on $5,000 —or a total cost of $6.10 per year.

In a show of unanimity the entire board voiced their unqualified support of passage of the bond issue.

Chairman Bailey said, "Nobody wants to raise their taxes. But we members of the Board feel that it is our responsibility to recommend to the voters the only possible solution to our present construction problems. Bond issues are the only source of revenue open to the counties."

City Council Undecided On Future Of Historic Bandstand

Has the Bandstand in the Mall got to go? . . . or has it got to be fixed up?

Where can the city of Avon Park find some more money for the Police Department? And, can a salaried dog catcher solve the stray dog problem?

These and other questions were on the agenda for Monday night's Avon Park City Council meeting at City Hall.

Councilman Scott opened the meeting with the opinion that the police department salaries should be brought in line with other departments. This was prompted, in part, from the fact that Council had recently moved to allow firemen time off for six days of vacation time.

The police had not been getting these day off. Scott was of the opinion that if the policemen had to work these days then they should be paid time-and-half or double time. Council President King wanted to know where the money was coming from. Patrolmen presently earn $81.43 for a 40 hour week. The motion was tabled until next meeting.

Councilman Martin reported on the work progress at the ball park. A sprinkling system is being installed there and the new ditch-digger machine is working well and saving a lot of time and labor. Repairs are also being made to the field house. Martin also reported that lights on Hwy. 27 would probably be completed next week.

Councilman Duggan pointed out the possible need for some additional storm drains at a cost of approximately $1200. This was tabled.

Duggan also pointed out that many persons are still getting city water through their neighbor's meters. This results in a loss of revenue. King agreed and added that he and the Mayor would soon be able to get this matter cleared up.

Councilman Albright told the members that he knew a man who wanted the job as city dog catcher. This met immediate and enthusiastic support. The young man has had experience working with veterinary and he will start on a trial basis at $30.00 per week. The city will supply a truck and necessary equipment.

In other action:

—Durrah Martin was confirmed to the Civil Service Board.

—It was agreed to have the flag pole at City Hall and the pole in the Mall painted and new ropes installed.

—President King read a memorandum from the County Medical Society offering certain recommendations to improve the safety of motorcycle riding. This will be considered at the next meeting.

—Permission was granted to the Lions Club to hold their circus provided proof of liability insurance is given City Attorney Hue Nunnallee.

Then the Bandstand in the Mall was brought up for discussion.

Councilman King said he thought the Bandstand was the worst eye sore in Avon Park. He believes it should either be fixed up or torn down. Councilman Scott says that when there is a crowd that there is something of a traffic hazard.

City Council is open to the wishes of the citizenry regarding the Bandstand. Anyone wishing to express an opinion may write the SUN, Box 1117.

HIGHLANDS CABLE TELEVISION Corp. has announced it will contribute $10 to the March of Dimes for each subscription order through the Mothers' March Monday night, Jan. 31. Shown are Clark Swanson, owner of Highlands Cable TV and March of Dimes Chairman Van Howell.

Mothers To March Tuesday Night For Dimes Fund

A few years ago marching mothers were a symbol of the nation's will to conquer polio, now these volunteers devote unpurchasable hours to the struggle against an even greater killer and crippler of little children—birth defects.

The three Junior Woman's Clubs in Highlands County are organizing the marchers in each of our communities under the direction of Van Howell of Sebring, the county campaign chairman, and Mrs. Nell Roberts of Avon Park, the county co-ordinator.

The clubs are organizing the Mothers March with all their club members being assigned a large area to work. Each club member will ask two or three people that live in their area to work. If you are called on to help, remember, all you need to do is spare an hour to save a child. An hour or less is all the time most volunteers will need to call on their neighbors seeking support for the March of Dimes.

The County March has been set for January 31, the same date as the National March. Please leave your porch light on for the worker when they come to your home, their job will be a little bit easier.

If you would like to help with your City's March, the community chairmen for Avon Park are Mrs. Donald Hassfurder and Mrs. Carolyn Tomlinson.

Friday, Jan. 27, at 6 p.m. the Highlands Cable TV Channel 4 will show a movie "This Land is Your Land" and also interview Mrs. Nell Roberts and Van Howell, who will explain fully the importance of the Mothers March for the March of Dimes to fight birth defects.

W. Clarke Swanson Jr., president of Highlands Cable TV will give $10 to the March of Dimes for every new subscriber to the cable that is sold by the mothers during the hours of the march, 6 to 9 p.m.

Athletic Association Annual Football Banquet This Friday

University of Florida coach Jack Thompson will be the guest speaker tomorrow night at the annual Avon Park Athletic Association Red Devil football banquet to be held at the Avon Elementary Cafetorium at 7:30.

Coach Thompson has recently been promoted to the varsity coaching staff after serving on the freshman staff last season. Next season he will be in charge of defensive guards and tackles and Gator Head Coach Ray Graves recently said if Thompson didn't slow down in promotions he'd soon have his job.

Thompson is expected to bring a member of the Orange Bowl Champion Gator squad along with him for the banquet honoring the Red Devils who were Class B state runners-up this year.

Rev. Otis Strickler is slated to serve as master-of-ceremonies for the event according to A.P.A.A. president, Bob Barber.

Red Devil athletes who participate in the varsity and "B" squad football program this year will be honored along with the Avon Park coaching staff and the cheerleaders. Special awards will be made to outstanding members of the team.

Tickets to the banquet may be purchased from members of the team or the coaches or at Leon's Sporting Goods and Albritton's Barber Shop. The price is $2.25 per ticket for the turkey dinner which will be catered by Griffin's.

John Crittenden, formerly of Avon Park High School, has been named Associate Director of the Miami Component of the Southeastern Education Laboratory. The Southeastern Education Laboratory was founded in June, 1966 to provide regional leadership for Florida, Alabama and Georgia. The Miami Component, while participating in regional developments, will work primarily with 13 South Florida Counties, including Highalnds.

C of C Hold Breakfast Meet

Griffin's Restaurant was the headquarters for a breakfast meeting of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, at which Lou C. Hooper presided for the first time since his recent election of officers.

Hooper presented plans for an active year for chamber members. He stressed the need for cooperation of all citizens interested in the promotion of our city.

The following committee chairmen were appointed at the breakfast meeting. Program of Work — Roy Seims; Institutions - Donald Hassfurder; Beautification - Steve Roberts; Publicity and Ads - Ed Carter; Governmental Affairs - R. J. Barben; and Annual Banquet - R. J. Barben.

The forthcoming bond issue will be discussed by George Douglass, County School Superintendent, at the Chamber meeting February 2 at 8 p.m. at the chamber office.

Gas War Rages In Avon Park

Some major oil companies and most all independent oil companies reduced their gasoline prices 3 cents per gallon Monday, 24. One independent station reduced their price 5 cents per gallon. Prices now range from 31 cents to 28.9 cents for high test, and 27 cents to 26.9 cents for regular gas.

Venire Drawn For Fall Term

The venire for Fall term of grand jury has been drawn, and the prospective jurors called to report on Monday, Feb. 6.

State Attorney Glen Darty said complications in scheduling had delayed meeting of a grand jury in this county.

Those called for jury duty from Avon Park are:

Edgar W. Johnson, D. M. Eames, Chester R. Durden, M. J. Smith, Archie W. Smith, George L. White, Kenneth R. Wells, Joseph C. Copeland, J. T. W. Higginbotham, Billie Lee, Lawler M. Wells, Charles R. Smith, Roy M. Lemler, Melvin L. Prevatt, Harden Kelly, Ike Eldridge, and Lee Arnold Smith.

Circuit Court Hears Five Criminal Cases

Sam Smith, who had been charged with the murder of his half-sister, has been sentenced to prison for a term of six months to five years.

Smith in Monday's session, (Jan. 16) of Circuit Court withdrew a plea of not guilty to murder in the second degree and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of manslaughter.

Smith had been arrested the last week of August, shortly after his half-sister, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bedsole, died at her home in Lorida.

Leon Walker, who had been charged with manslaughter in connection with a traffic death on Kenilworth Blvd., pleaded guilty and a presentence investigation was ordered.

Lorenza Rogers, who had been charged with assault with intent to kill, withdrew a not guilty plea and pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of aggravated assault.

In jury trials Monday, Jan. 16, Hobert Stepp, 21, of Lakeland, and Terry Lane Harris, 21, of Avon Park, were found guilty of breaking and entering at Sebring High School last fall.

Early Bird Smith Jr., who is facing a long list of burglary by breaking and entering charges, was tried on one count Monday and was freed by a directed verdict because of an error in the information.

County Gains $11,000 In Fees

Highlands County returned to the county treasurer a little more than $11,000, their 1966 report show.

The reports were formally adopted by the Highlands County board of commissioners last week. The sheriff's office operates on a budget rather than a fee system, and his report — showing excess fess of about $10,000 — was submitted to the board in mid-Autumn.

The formal reports last week were from the tax assessor, tax collector, county judge, circuit court clerk and the supervisor of elections and tag agent.

More than half the excess fees returned from these offices can be accounted for by the tax collector's office. Collector W. H. Prescott returned

Juvenile Home Design Selected

Youth Care, Inc., named trustees and selected a tentative design for the new Highlands County Juvenile Home in a meeting Monday night.

County bulldozers went to work this week scraping fill from the sides of the county-owned plot at Lakemont between Sebring and Avon Park. Builder George Dundas had recommended a two-foot fill for the house-site which will be about 150 feet off Alternate 27.

At the meeting Monday Youth Care members studied three different types of design and selected a one-story plan with two wings. The home is to be a structure of approximately 5,000 square feet.

Panthers Play Nationally Ranked Brevard At Avon Park Friday

Friday night at the Avon Park High School Gym, South Florida Junior College Panthers will be shooting for the upset of the year when they tangle with 12th ranked Brevard of Cocoa. Brevard is ranked number 12th in the nation, have a 15-0 record and are the number one ranked team in the nation on defense.

The "Tall Titians" as they are refered to this year are big and strong. The Titians are strong at each position with very capable reserves.

The two teams met in the finals of the Brevard Christmas Tournament and Brevard won by a 111-77 score. In that game the Panthers were in foul trouble with two starters sitting on the bench with only five minutes of playing time elapsed.

Since the Christmas tournaments, the Panthers have won seven of nine game, including an 87 to 78 win over Manatee, previous 98 to 72 victors over the Panthers.

Coach Terrell says, "No one gives us much chance to win Friday night, but we will still stick to our motto. We are looking forward to this game with a lot of enthusiasm. We haven't backed down from any one. However, we know we will have to be at our top best to make a good game of it."

Saturday night Hardee and Highlands County TV viewers will get a chance to watch the Panthers play St. Petersburg Junior College live on Channel 3. This is the national channel and is as strong as Channel 13 or 8.

St. Petersburg is coming strong the second semester, having added two boys that were ineligible the first semester. It will be the first meeting of these two teams.

Both Brevard and St. Pete will be conference games. At present the Hardee-Highlands supported Panthers are 3-3 in the conference, good enough for third place. The Panthers have four conference games left and must win three of these to have a chance for the state playoff in Panama City in February.

TALLAHASSEE (AFN) — Former Gov. Haydon Burns is trying to keep his influence alive by pushing a former aide for the soon to be vacated post of executive director of the Democratic Party.

Burns, now in the private business consultant ticket, has let it be known he would like for Lloyd Taylor to step into the post now held by Elmer Rounds, a Scott Kelly backer who switched to Miami Mayor Robert King High when Kelly lost in the first primary.

Taylor handled special projects for Burns and was on his office staff.

Rounds has been given the word that he is out as executive director.

Party Chairman Pat Thomas, hand picked by Kelly for the party leadership prior to the first primaries last year, will be allowed to stay on.

State Beverage Director Don Meiklejohn found it necessary during the first two weeks of the Gov. Claude Kirk administration to undo a policy change made by his predecessor Ren Morris.

Morris, a liquor dealer himself before his appointment by Gov. Burns to head up the State Beverage Department, quietly discontinued the practice of listing liquor case numbers on purchase vouchers.

The purchase of this practice is to keep track of liquor sales by case lot, particularly in dry counties.

Meiklejohn advertised reinstatement of the case lot number listing this past weekend and said it would take two more weeks before the old practice would be re-instituted.

Frank Stockton, former Gov. Burns political patronage chieftan, now has gone into the liquor lobbying business.

Stockton affiliated with the Jacksonville legal firm of Greene, Greene and Kennelly after his boss went out of office.

The Florida Wholesale Liquor Association has retained Stockton as its lobbiest at a retainer of $600 a month and $200 a month in expense.

Stockton is a personal friend of Ren Morris, Burns beverage department chief and formerly in the wholesale liquor business.

Luncheon Report

On January 19, Lt. Commander Phil Richardson addressed our club giving us the details in one days life of a carrier - based Navy pilot, flying in Vietnam - Lt. Richardson graduated from the Merchant Marine Academy in 1958 and has presently completed 112 missions from the flight deck of the U.S.S. Independence.

Presently assigned as a flight instructor at the Navy flight school in Jacksonville, Lt. Richardson brought us first hand information on Navy air strikes in both North and South Vietnam. Bombing in South Vietnam is done by request of South Vietenemese officials; bombing in North Vietnam is done by lists of targets having military significance or in returning ground fire.

Primarily our carriers patrol the Lompkin Gulf and missions are stated by early morning briefings—strikes continue in many cases until after dark—under the guidance of flares.

The topography of Vietnam, except for the north western area resembles southern Florida, being primarily delta country and dense jungle.

The U.S.S. Independence carries 85-90 aircrafts and a complement of approximately 3500 men. Life on a carrier is hectic as ammunition is brought through the mess hall during the arming of the aircraft. It is possible to launch 20-25 aircrafts in a five minute period.

The carrier crew and the pilots operate for a 30 day period without relief then have two weeks shore leave. The aircraft are F-4's which fly at two and one-half times the speed of sound, RA5 c's which are reconnisance aircraft and a A6's, some carrying as much as 14 tons of bombs. The E-1-A's carry a crew of eight and act as command stations. The aircrafts are armed during briefing which usually take about one and one-half hours. During the briefing, code words for the day are released and the pilots man the ships wearing flight suits and carrying additional equipment such as G-suits, parachuts, knives, snake bite kits, survival kits etc., all of which must eject with the pilot.

As Phil said "flying a jet is simple, you go from a standing start to 140 miles per hour on the catapult. The catapult is steam operated and launches the aircraft for a mission in about five minutes —all aircraft rendevous at the tanker where they take on fuel at the rate of 600 gallons in about one minute and 10 seconds."

While Phil tries to make this operation sound simple, we feel its about as simple as driving a golf ball into a bushel basket a quarter mile from the tee.

Phil commented on news releases concerning the bombing of civilian targets such as villages; areal photos than that the petrolem installations have native shacks built immediately adjacent to the storage tanks. Where the tanks are bombed it follows that some natives are killed or injured because of the very proximity of their living facilities.

We should all be thankful for the abilities and skills of these pilots who are conducting this very peculiar type of warfare for us on the other side of the world.

Letter to Editor:

School Board Vice-Chairman Looks At The School Bond Program

1 DON'T WANT TO PAY MORE TAXES. But I WILL vote for School Bonds. WHY?

1. There is no other way we can meet our present needs.

2. All of us attended schools built with bond money and now it is our time to pay a little.

3. Effective education is vital in our time.

4. To neglect our youth, who will build or destroy our world of tomorrow, is to commit economic, political, moral and social suicide.

5. Our schools have gotten by for the last 20 years without asking for a bond issue. Now we can not operate our schools with any degree of efficiency any longer without some additional financial help. School Boards are prohibited by law from taxing you for local support except by bonds, with your approval and, or by ad valorem property tax which is also limited by law under the new assessment program.

6. Federal law requiring desegregation has created a problem of a wider range of learning abilities in the same classes and teacher loads must be reduced to prevent a loss of learning by all students.

7. We do not know how to put a lot more students in the same number class rooms and reduce the teacher load at the same time necessary because of 6 above).

8. We have some buildings over 50 years old. We have over 30 classes meeting in old abandoned army barracks class rooms that were intended to be abandoned 20 years ago.

9. In the 20 years I have been a school official we have not replaced more than 10 class rooms but have built what we could with current tax money and converted old auditoriums, basements, and storage rooms into class rooms because we could not get money enough to build proper class rooms to meet the growing need.

10. We have been trying to get by on what tax money we get and have built over 20 wood frame temporary class rooms in recent years. These are O.K. TEMPORARILY but they are not fire-proof, have no central heating system, no rest rooms therefore the extra students housed in them overtax our present rest room facilities. No state money can be spent on temporary rooms.

11. School Bonds bear tax exempt interest and appeal to big tax payers who are in the high tax brackets. (Income tax bracket). Therefore most purchasers of the bonds, if they sell at 4½% will get the equivalent of 9% interest on their investment on our bonds. This should assure us of a very low interest rate on our bonds.

12. The School Board receives a great majority of the money we spend on schools from the state of Florida. These bonds are for needs that we can not get from state funds. All the money we get from our state is received subject to our meeting certain minimum standards and requirements that assure all concerned that our students have a reasonable opportunity to get a quality education. These buildings that are to be built with this bond money is a minimum recommendation for buildings and sites that was made by a state survey team sent here by our state board of education. Their recommendations were studied carefully by our local board and other school personnel and approved as our best course of action. Also the bond issue is their recommendation as to the only way to finance the program. We can not operate a near proper school program without the expansion provided for in this bond issue.

13. Our architect says our buildings are tools to work with. Good tools get good results.

14. Our schools have 2000 more students today than we had 10 years ago. All indications are that our county will grow faster rather than slower in the future.

15. Our teachers render a service to our county that is too valuable to estimate in dollars. They need this building program very badly.

16. The cost to average home owner (12,000.00 forrec) will be only 71c per month, or 2 1/3c per day. My personal tax increase will be $303.00 per year because I am keeping up payments on quite a bit of property.

17. My 20 years as a school official convinces my that our local board never wastes tax payers money and our board will get the biggest dollar's worth possible for each of the bond dollars too.

18. Your $5,000.00 Homestead exemption will not be taxed.

19. After catching up on buildings again with this bond issue we do not foresee the need for another bond issue before this one is paid out. Our last bond issue pays out this year. It will take all the revenue we will be receiving from local and state taxes just to keep up with normal growth and maintenance.

20. Every community in the county needs help and will receive help from this bond issue. This at no great burden to our tax payers.

21. None of the money received from these bonds can be spent for anything other than the buildings and sites as previously approved and advertised. County wide needs and county wide program of bringing schools up to our needs by the time the buildings will be built.

22. Our county is getting a Junior College that will be built 100% with State money and will eventually cost approximately $5,000,000.00

Surely we can help carry our part of public schools below college level.

23. If bond issue fails we are not prepared to meet any one community's needs because the approved priority recomemndations (which we studied and approved) were set up on the assumption that we would have the bond money. If we do not get it our schools will be in a horrible, inadequate practically impossible condition before any solution could be worked out and that future solution would still be to come back to YOU again for a similar bond issue and by that time costs and problems will have greatly increased.

24. 71c a month additional taxes for a $12,000.00 home is mighty little for the good it will accomplish. Our children and their future is of utmost importance.

LET'S VOTE FOR REASONABLE BONDS. I WILL I HOPE YOU DO TOO.

E. E. Ray Wells
School Board member

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

While seeking signatures for the School Bond Election petition, it was my privilege to meet someone I shall never forget.

As I entered her home, my request for interest in the school bond issue was greeted with a bubbling, friendly laugh.

"Of course, I'll sign your petition. And I'm going to vote for your bond issue, too. What if it does raise my taxes? People in Florida don't know what really paying taxes is like. I still own a small piece of property up North. The school tax alone is nearly $300 and I have never had children in school. But good schools are important, it takes money to run them and I want to help."

This statement was made by a lady lying helpless in bed, victim of one of the dread diseases which makes waste of a human body. Helpless? Physically, yes; but certainly not mentally nor spiritually. Here is one who certainly cares unselfishly about our children.

I pass on this experience hoping it will open the minds of some of the healthy, wealthy taxpayers who do have children in our schools but are inclined to think that "patch up and make do" is good enough. It is not good enough.

Quality fruit is not found in run down groves; quality cattle require improved pasture. Why is it so hard to understand that our children's needs cost money also?

This prayer voices my plea: "May He who has chosen to limit some of His children, be merciful enough to guide the hands and minds of those entrusted with their care."

A fellow taxpayer

Twenty players took part in the shuffle match Tuesday afternoon. Semi-final team winners were Art Baldwin and Evelyn Fritz; Ernie Thomas and Winnie Lumpkin; Stewart Dilts and Twylla Wurster. In the finals Stewart Dilts and Twylla Wurster won over Ernie Thomas and Winnie Lumpkin. Our new players this season are Harry and Ann Bastha, Mary Hadley, Betty Peterson, The McClarys, W. S. About 50 gathered at the hall Wednesday noon for the monthly pot luck dinner. Bernadine Ames and Edna Senger were in charge. There was an abundance of food and the usual chat. But that's to be expected.

Walter and Harriett Meissel were among the six couples at the Winter Guest Club Thursday night to be honored on their 50 years of married life. The Meissels were married 50 years ago March 1, 1916, and celebrated their anniversary in their home state. We extend our best wishes and wish them many more years together. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Clore of New York, are here for a few days visiting the Meissels and attended the anniversary party at the club. Mrs. Clore is a sister of Walter. They are wintering at Zypherhills.

Everett and Bess Paxton visited friends in Fort Meade and Bartow Thursday.

Harriett Meissel, Rev. Hutchens and Harvey McClary celebrated their birthdays this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Burnett of Bay Shore, Mich., old friends of the Wertzbars, were visitors on Thursday.

Rose Walton, Winnie Lumpkin, Mary and William Hadley and Ben Henningham attended the monthly meeting of the Eastern Star, Monday night. Quite a number from the north were present and they were recognized, at a group, and each given a glass of guava jam.

Beginning this year of activity our group family decided it would be a nice gesture to acknowledge birthdays of the different members. At the "coffee hour" on Tuesday morning, birthdays for that week are to be announced and Happy Birthday sung to those present having birthdays that week. A few errors have been made, but we hope to have a correct list—so send along your birthday date to Winnie Lumpkin, who has charge. No questions asked about how many have passed.

Five tables of cards were played at the hall Friday night.

Richard Arms of Coconut Grove visited his father, Harold, for several days this past week. He is a retired Lieutenant Commander from the Navy.

Harriett and Walter Meissel spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolcott of Lake Wales.

Maynard and Suly of Sunny Field were overnight guests of The Comforts.

Thirty-four were present for the "coffee hour" Tuesday morning. Rose Walton, Golda Daun and Ed Comfort are celebrating their birthdays this week.

It is interesting to know of the hobbies of J. Blair Ernest, known as 'Bill,' who lives across from the hall in Southland. While he has many hobbies, perhaps the one he enjoys most is collecting arrow heads. He has been collecting them for over 60 years and has approximately ten thousand. He started his collection at an early age from the island between Mifflin and Mifflintown, Pa., and since then has found them in Tennesee, Alabama, North Carolina and Georgia. Bill was born on a farm back of Mifflin and moved to Mifflintown when four years of age. He has many arrow heads yet unmounted, and we are hoping he will enter an exhibit at our hobby show which is to be in the spring. He spends his summers with his sister, Mrs. Mary Hack, who lives in Mexico, Pa.

Library Corner

By LOIS HISE

Do you know that the Avon Park City Library added 305 new books in 1966 through purchases, Adult and Junior Guild selections, memorials, and gifts?

Much has been published about the life, experiences, politics, and death of President Kennedy. The Literary Guild presents its January 1967 book in the form of a novel, The Man Who Knew Kennedy, written by Vance Bourjaily.

The novel concerns two young, moderately wealthy (but the wealth is worked for) couples who live in Connecticut. Their sense of values has been molded by the Depression, World War II, and the assassination of the President.

This last awesome event—the death of John Kennedy, initiates the action of this novel which creates the crises in the lives of Barney and Helen James and their good friends Dave and Connie Dorcemus. The novel culminates in the brilliant climax six months later.

The Man Who Knew Kennedy is one of the latest books added to our library. By paying a dollar a year in dues you may become a reading member of the Avon Park City Library.
