Future Looks Brighter For Real Estate

With a seven-year slump behind it, prospects are brightening for the real estate industry in Florida. That's the finding of Florida Trend Magazine, which says in its July issue: "Storm warnings are flying in Tallahassee, in Washington and on Wall Street, but Florida's real estate business is starting to pick up steam again."

The business and financial magazine quotes a "yacht club" type realtor as saying: "We've been in drydock seven years. Now we're seaworthy again. Few 1967 is out Florida's real estate market will be setting records."

In a survey of real estate, banking, construction and mortgage experts throughout the state, Florida Trend found this opinion is not universally held, but it also found a basis for optimism in the intermediate term outlook. Florida already has as much construction volume — $1,222.5 million — as all the rest of the southeastern states combined — $1,203 million. And the figure is rising. Real estate sales are rising ahead of construction.

Summer Fun Camp Benefits Local Children

The Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children is currently sponsoring a day camp and recreation program for retarded children from this area. The camp opened June 15 and will run through August 9th.

The camp activities are varied and are designed to aid the children in four general areas of development. A primary aim is to improve the overall mental health of the campers by reinforcing feelings of security so the children can feel comfortable and accepted. Physical development and degree of compliance in the water are goals of the camp.

The program is designed to aid the social development and adjustment of the children. This includes adjustment to a group and group life. Sharing, taking turns, working and playing together, accepting direction and leadership, as well as the improvement of health habits and personal hygiene are all part of the daily routine.

Another important part of the program is to maintain the school year in speech and classroom skills. Without such opportunities as the school year, these skills are often lost through non-participation in organized activities through the summer months.

Andy Miracle is camp director and waterfront supervisor. Miss Nancy Klueber of Avon Park, Mrs. Sally Putnam of Sebring, and Miss Gail Roberts of Lake Placid are counselors for the camp.

The camp is being held at the Woman's Club on Lake Jackson in Sebring. Transportation is provided from all three cities in Highlands County to the camp.

Location on Lake Jackson provides an excellent opportunity for the camp's water-safety and swimming program. Through a well-supervised program with qualified instructors, these children are being taught to swim and float so that they might look after their own safety.

Weekly enrichment trips are also part of the program. Trips to Placid Tower and the pineapple plantation, and to Highlands Hammock have already been made. And others will include a train ride, Bok Tower, and a visit to a local ranch.

The camp day begins at 8:30 a.m. and continues until 4:00 p.m. If anyone knows of a child that might benefit from this program you may contact Andy Miracle in Avon Park, or the Rev. Tom Jones in Sebring.

TAKE OF BREAK
The Florida Citrus Commission today began distribution of 30,000 "Orange Juice Break Directories," worth more than 1,000,000 glasses of orange juice to visitors to the state. The small booklets, which contain complimentary stamps worth one serving of orange juice each, will be handed to tourists entering the state by airplane or highway, according to Ed Gardner, director of the Commission's Self Florida First Program.

The beginning swimming program is progressing nicely with only three days left in the ten day session. Boys and girls who wish to learn to swim may participate by being at the gym by 10 a.m. each morning in order to ride on the bus to the lake for instruction.

Two of the activities finish up tomorrow—the arts and crafts and track. Mr. Doty and Mr. Sandlin will close out their duties this week to students enrolled in these two activities should plan to finish up projects by tomorrow.

The elementary library continues to be open each week day from 3 to 4 p.m. for youngsters to check out books for summer reading enjoyment. The reading program with four instructors are in underway for elementary and junior and senior high school students who need to catch up on different parts of their reading skills.

Junior high and senior high basketball leagues are in action each Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights at the gym under the direction of Coach Dale Landress and Fred Sandlin. Any boys who wish to take part in this activity should report to the gym.

The rest of the program is continuing as usual with tennis, golf, baseball, and gym activities scheduled each day. Bowling at Grand Prix Lanes is offered each Monday and Wednesday afternoon with the bus leaving from the gym about 1 p.m. with Mr. James Martindale in charge.

Exam Fees Are Tripled - Wow!

Tallahassee - Colonel H. N. Korman, director of the Department of Public Safety, today reminded Floridians that starting Monday, July 3, driver's license examination fees will increase from $1.00 to $3.00 for regular applicants and from $0.50 to $1.50 for applicants whose driving privileges have been suspended or revoked.

These changes have come about due to a report issued by the 97 Legislature, increased all driver license examination fees effective July 1, 1967, said Korman.

How much did Highlands County residents pay, on the average in Federal, state and local taxes in the past year? What did they get back for these payments in the form of roads, schools, protection, health care and other public works and services?

In a relationship between tax burden and benefits, is the subject of a special national study just completed by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that serves as a watchdog on government finances.

The figures show that the taxes paid and the benefits received do not balance each other except for families with net incomes of about $9,000. Below that level, the benefits derived are greater than the costs. Above it, taxes exceed benefits.

Residents of Highlands County, whose incomes averaged $14,000 per capita in the past year, after deduction for personal taxes, had tax bills of approximately $1,700 per family.

In return for this outlay they received benefits estimated at $1,700 per family.

For local families with net incomes of $10,000, taxes amounted to $2,000 in the year and the benefits received came to $2,100.

Those with incomes of $9,000, on the other hand, had taxes of $200 and benefits of approximately $1,100.

In the Tax Foundation study, the benefits are divided into two broad groups — specific and general.

In the specific category are education, highways, public welfare, veteran benefits, labor and manpower, agriculture and social insurance.

The general benefits are the ones that result from government spending for health and sanitation, national defense, commerce and finance, civilian safety, international affairs and general government administration.

For most people in the United States, earning the money to pay their taxes takes the biggest part of their working day. On average, 2 hours and 30 minutes of work daily is needed to meet Federal, state and local taxes.

Clean Clothes Discourages Moth Munching

Unless you want to provide good munching for moths and carpet beetles, be sure your clothes are clean when you pack them away, advised Mrs. Eugene Kutenburgh, County Extension Home Economics Agent.

Moths feed on dirt and food stains whereas they can find them in the cleanest of clothes. Even man-made fibers are good feeding grounds for insect pests when they have stains.

Before you clean the clothes, brush out pockets and trouser cuffs to remove lint and dirt. If you are on buttons and make other minor repairs before putting clothes away, they will be ready to use when you need them in the fall.

Have clothes dry cleaned by a professional or you may use a self-service cleaner. Mrs. Kutenburgh recommends dry cleaning machines if you have a number of small, light-weight garments that need no pre-treating by a professional. If you are using do-it-yourself machines, be sure the garments can be safely dry cleaned. Plastic, simulated or genuine leather, and leather-trimmed clothes may be damaged by dry cleaning fluids. Some dyes can fade into other garments during dry cleaning. Watch for red, bright green and black dyes.

Dry cleaning kills moths and larvae. Clean clothes should be packed immediately after being dry-cleaned. If hung back in the closet, they can get moths in them before they are sealed up.

If you use garment bags for storage, don't use plastic coat hangers or plastic dry cleaner covers on the clothes. The plastic may melt from the heat, especially if clothes are stored in a warm place. Hang clothes loosely on wooden hangers so hanes of moth preventives may get to all parts.

Cedar closets or chests don't provide any protection against moths, cautions Mrs. Elizabeth DeChammon, clothing specialist. Cedar chests and chests do make good storage containers, however, primarily because they are so tightly constructed. But take the same precautions as you would to store clothes anywhere else — have the clothing clean and use a moth preventive.

If you have less, let a furrier store them for you, Mrs. Kutenburgh recommends. Your dry cleaners may also offer summer storage. This may be a good idea for bulky coats and suits.

When auto makers give their cars the names of wild, ferocious animals, do you think they're trying to tell us something?

Cancer Deaths Increasing Among Men

How total cancer deaths among men have been steadily increasing, while among women the death rate has been gradually decreasing is disclosed in the 1967 manual, "Cancer Facts and Figures," published by the American Cancer Society.

Since 1908, the increase among men has been about 35 percent. Among women, the decrease is estimated to be about 13 percent. Studies show that women more willingly accept value of regular health checkups.

The report further discloses that the rise in cancer mortality in men is largely due to rapidly increasing rates of cancer of the lung. Lung cancer, however, can be considered a preventable disease, since it has been established that lung cancer to a great extent is caused by cigarette smoking. Unfortunately, it is difficult to diagnose this type of cancer in time for a cure. As a result, only about five percent of all cases are being saved to day.

In addition to being a cause of lung cancer, the U.S. Surgeon General Luther Terry's 1966 "Smoking and Health" report stated that the mortality ratio of smokers over non smokers is particularly high for a number of other diseases. These include bronchitis, emphysema, cancer of the larynx, oral cancer, cancer of the esophagus and peptic ulcer.

The Avon Park Sun, Avon Park, Fla., July 6, 1967—5 Foreign Duty On Citrus Upheld

Lansdale - The deadly threat of a reduction of duties on foreign citrus and citrus products, which would have brought basic duties to the American citrus industry, has finally been removed, according to Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual.

Rutledge received word from the Office of the Special Representative for Trade Negotiations in Washington this morning that the new rates of duties set in the so-called Kennedy Round of tariff negotiations in Geneva would not alter the present rate schedule for fresh oranges or concentrate. Minor adjustments will be made for fresh grapefruit over a period of four years.

Music Test At Daytona Starts July 9

Only two weeks remain before the Florida Music Festival Institute gets under way in Daytona Beach, according to Dr. Paul Langston, director of the institute and dean of the Stetson University School of Music.

The Institute, which will feature instruction by internationally known artists and composers, will be held in cooperation with the Florida Music Festival featuring the London Symphony Orchestra. Members of the Institute Orchestra will join with members of the London Symphony Orchestra for sessions during the Institute. The Institute opens July 9 and closes August 6.

The Institute is open to serious musicians 15 years old and over, with separate workshops for opera, string winds, and piano. Festival artist-in-residence Vladimir Ashkenazy will conduct a piano seminar in addition to working with the Institute Orchestra.

The Institute provides up to six hours credit from Stetson University toward re-certification for public school music teachers. A limited number of scholarships for teachers are still available as part of a grant made to the Institute and to Stetson from The Rockefeller Foundation. Information on the Institute and the scholarships for teachers is available from Dunn Paul Langston, School of Music, Stetson University, De Land.

Mrs. Eastman Delegate At General Synod

Mr. Donald Eastman of 319 East Main Street, Avon Park is among the 200 delegates to attend the Sixth General Synod of the United Church of Christ this week in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The delegates paid tribute to American servicemen in Vietnam for their "deeds of kindness" toward the civilian population, especially Vietnamese children.

The policy-making body of the two-million-member denomination also called on local churches to provide counseling service to help those eligible for induction into the Armed Forces understand their rights, including the right of conscientious objection, and give them "spiritual support" both before and after entering the service.

This is the first action by a major Protestant denomination to have its churches set up formal machinery to aid all young men subject to the draft. Most already have machinery for counseling conscientious objectors.

The resolution called attention to "impressive evidence of the servicemen's warm friendliness and generousness of their time and money to improve the lot of the civilian population." It called on the denomination Council for Church and Ministry to assist local churches in caring for the welfare of men and women in the Armed Forces.

In other action the 743 voting delegates to the United Church Synod called on all agencies of the denomination for "a determined and vigorous effort" to provide equal employment opportunities for people of all races in the church.

The General Synod also renewed the need for increased cooperation in the next decade with other Protestant denominations, Roman Catholic, Jewish and secular organizations.

The tenth anniversary of the United Church of Christ, a union of Congregational Christian and Evangelical and Reformed Churches was celebrated Sunday evening, June 25. Taking part in the ceremonies was the Rev. Dr. Ferdinand Schlingensiefen, a leader of the Evangelical and Reformed Church of Germany, which is celebrating its 150th anniversary this year.

Veterans Entitled To Re-employment

Atlanta-Vet. an returning to civilian life who have been disabled in military service are entitled to re-employment, according to Harvey D. Driscoll, regional director of the Office of Veterans Reemployment Rights here.

Driscoll said the entitlement is legal as well as patriotic in that the law contains special provisions to allow ex-servicemen with service-related disabilities to return to work with their former employer.

According to Driscoll, if the disabled ex-serviceman is not qualified for his old position, he has a right to some other job that he is qualified to perform. The law further requires that the substitute offer be of the same seniority, status and pay as his former position, or the nearest approximation consistent with the circumstances.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
© BY REV. MICHAEL A. RUDD

It has been said that Charles Dickens, the teller of tales, never left home to spend the night without a compass. He always turned the head of his bed to the north. He felt he slept better in that position. Do you want a cure for sleeplessness? Count sheep? No, commune with the Shepherd. Take a pill? No, try prayer. Listen to a song? Yes, but make it a psalm. Here is a good one: "I will both lay me down in peace and sleep for Thou, Lord, only make me dwell in safety"—Psalm 128. The Lord is stronger than the strongest, wiser than the wisest and better than the best.

Nothing and no one can take Him by surprise or find Him insufficient. Some of my friends were on the Zamzam when it was torqued after spending a night on the floor of the rescue ship, they were asked, "Could you sleep?" "The floor was terribly hard," replied an elderly missionary. "But the Lord reminded me of the word in the 121st Psalm. He that keepseth thee will not slumber." So I said, Lord, there isn't any for both of us to stay awake. Since Thou art going to keep watch, I'll thank Thee for some sleep. And, he said, "I got it."

County Health Department Is Giving The Pill

Birth control pills are being supplied to the medically indigent in Highlands County—but not as a means of cutting down the people crowding the welfare rolls.

They are supplied to the low income people who want to plan their families—and the object is to help them do so—not keep people from having more babies which would become welfare cases, as has been the object in Chicago. Although it might have that effect to a degree.

"We have been supplying the pill for some time now to people who cannot afford it and have been sent to us by a doctor," said Dr. J. D. Workman, head of the Highlands County Health Department.

Even the Seminole Indians on the Brighton and Big Cypress reservations are getting the pill, and have been for about five years. And undoubtedly the paucity of the birth control pill has been affected since they have taken to planning their families.

"I take the pill for a while, then start again," said Workman. "Two Indian girls are clerks in the health department at Brighton and Big Cypress and give planned parenthood lectures to the Miccosukee and Creek languages. They are Judy Bell and Margaret and Mary Frances Johns at Big Cypress."

Actually, many of the indigent are getting an intrauterine device which the department provides since it provides protection in the family. Workman said, many of the women have discovered that they forget to take the pill, and this breaks the cycle and destroys their protection.

The Library Corner

Do you know that the two librarians are waiting to help you find that special book you've been wishing to read? "School's out—and most parents face a double problem. How to keep the children occupied at home, especially during those mid-day hours, to hot for strenuous activity outdoors, and how to keep them busy enroute to and from (and perhaps at destination) the family vacation spot. This is what the Tribune told the Tampa parents. It is equally true for Avon Park parents. They should be pleased to know that someone is waiting to help their children (as well as themselves) to select their reading at the Avon Park city library.

Harry Kemelman's first novel, Friday the Rabbi Slept Late, became something of a publishing phenomenon. It was a choice of a major book club, publication rights were snapped up in half a dozen countries, and it was awarded the coveted Edgar of the mystery writers of America as the best first novel of the year. Saturday the Rabbi Went Hungry, his second novel, is considered better than his best-selling first predecessor.

Several years have passed since the first visit to Barnard's Crossing. Rabbi David Small has become somewhat more settled, although he is easily provoked to anger. On the Eve of Yom Kippur, the last day of the Jewish year, Moses Gorosky, a wealthy aging Orthodox Jew, falls sick and because Yom Kippur is a fast day, he refuses to take his medicine. At the same time across town a man lies slumped in his car; he's drunk; the garage door is closed; and the water has been left running.

Only someone as ingenious as Harry Kemelman could combine two such widely-different events to cause a congregational conflagration. This is a light novel you will thoroughly enjoy.

Hurricane Season In Full Swing

Hurricane season starts in the early summer although August, September and October are the months in which hurricanes are most likely to occur. Last year Hurricane Alma hit Florida in June.

A hurricane is a tropical storm which picks up steam in the Caribbean and sweeps northwest with swirling winds of 75 miles an hour or greater.

In 1961 only one major hurricane reached the continental U.S. That was Hattie, which caused insured fixed property losses of $60 million in Louisiana, Mississippi and Southern Florida. Total insured losses caused by Hurricane Hattie, including automobiles, boats, and marine installations, aggregated $15 million.

In 1964, three hurricanes pounded Florida—Cleo, Dora, and Isabel—resulting in insured fixed property losses in excess of $91 million.

65 Trailers In Highlands Have No Tags

An inspection of trailer parks in Highlands County has shown 65 trailers which have not yet purchased their 1967-68 license tags. But that's good, compared to Polk and Hardee Counties.

Inspectors Thomas Wingo and James McSwain have found nearly 400 trailers with out new tags in the three counties since June 3 and have issued citations telling them the tags are needed.

If the trailer owner does not pay a tax warrant is issued and the trailer will be sold. However, things seldom come to that, said Wingo.

To date we have received $993.42 in taxes in Highlands County and money still is coming in. Last year Highlands County trailer owners were paid up 100 per cent and not one warrant was issued.

Warrants only are issued after a trailer owner has been contacted and given every chance to pay. Wingo said.

As the state proceeds with its changeover to a July 1 date for automobiles and trailer owners to purchase their license tags, trailer owners who depart early to spend their summers in the North and leave their trailers here, are feeling the inconvenience.

This year it was fine if the trailer owner was here until April. He could go to the tag office on April 1 and buy his tag and put it on his trailer. Those who left beforehand had to arrange with friends to get their tags and put them on their trailers, since the tags were not sold until April 1.

Next year the tags will go on sale even later. May 1. In 1969, it will be June 1, and 1970 and thereafter, July 1.

For those who have not noticed, license tags this year are marked 1967-68. From now on all licenses will be marked with two years, since tags are being issued in the middle of the year — and northern gun dummies might not understand a tag marked, say, 1969, which was purchased in 1968, but good for half of 1967.

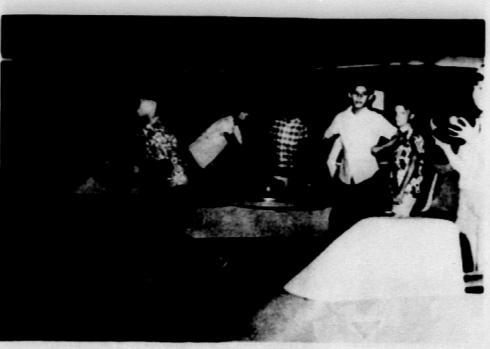

In 1970, the state will have concluded the six-year changeover to have issuance of car licenses set at mid-year. During the six years beginning 1963, vehicle owners' tags are good for 13 months.

Lt. Hood Killed While Serving In Viet Nam

First Lt. Richard E. Hood, Jr., killed in action last week in Viet Nam, was buried Tuesday with military honors in Lake-side Memorial Park in Water Haven. Lt. Hood was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Elmo Hood of Winter Haven. His father, executive assistant to U. S. Representative James A. Haley, was killed while in command of one of the three platoons of A Company, 173rd Airborne Brigade. The company was caught in crossfire near Dak To, which is about 270 miles north of Saigon.

Hospitals Seek Ways to Lessen Medical Costs

ORLANDO — The National Conference on Medical Costs is scheduled to open today (June 28) in Washington, D. C., and participants will discuss how the costs of medical services can be lowered without impairing the quality of health care, according to Jack Monahan, executive director of the Florida Hospital Association.

The HEW report to the President in March, noted that increases in hospital charges could be largely attributed to rising salaries, which account for two-thirds of hospital operating expenses, and to increases in the prices of commodities and equipment hospitals must buy.

The American Hospital Association noted an average annual increase in hospital costs per patient day of 15 percent annually during the past two years.

School Up In Air On Budget

News out of Tallahassee is keeping Highlands County school officials well informed about the money they do not have to operate the public schools in 1967-68.

"We know that to achieve the million raise for teachers' salaries, the Governor had to cut into some of the funds we had been receiving," School Board Chairman Henry Busby said.

The early part of this week was spent in attempts to get from State Department of Education and/or legislators the amounts left in the appropriations bill.

The $14,255 Highlands County is taking in its lunchroom money is equal to what the county had expected to receive over the coming two years, so it appears that the state support for the lunchroom salaries in this county is eliminated.

The textbook cut is $13,800. The 1966-67 appropriation was $27,000 for this county so it appears that could be a serious cut—especially since some of the county's classes have been plagued by textbook shortages for several years.

The biggest puzzle is in the Minimum Foundation appropriation. The Governor's knife sliced $60,940 off Highlands County's share, but what did it leave?

In the 1966-67 year the Highlands County school board had an operating budget of $2,729,750 and of this $1,369,753 came from state sources.

Other state law changes are cutting into school operational funds. The tax assessor fee law, for example, will cost the Highlands County school board about $16,000, Douglas said, and loss of personal property taxes an additional $16,000, he estimated.

Failure of the 1967 Legislature to appropriate money for a retirement fund formula (passed by the 1965 Legislature to become law on July 1, 1967) will pass another $22,200 cost from the state down to local level, the Superintendent said.

A tentative budget was scheduled for announcement on Tuesday, July 11, but that time schedule is now off.

When the announcement is made, Douglas said, it will probably contain alternate proposals—a budget balanced with in present revenues and services reduced or retention of the present level of services and increased county school taxes.

"I am drawing the alternatives and will present them to the school board and public at the public hearing later this Summer," Douglas said.

Sterility May Be Linked To Drugs And Pesticides

GAINESVILLE — Pesticides may have the same effect on animal reproduction as "the pill" has on human fertility, according to a University of Florida scientist.

Dr. George T. Edds, chairman of the University's Veterinary Science Department, said today that too few calves are being born in Florida even though the state's cattle population has improved dramatically in the last twenty years. The lower fertility rate in Florida cattle compared to other parts of the U. S. may be linked to the heavy use of pesticides in the state, he said.

Although pesticides are now an essential part of the state's agriculture, Edds pointed out that conception rates of beef and dairy cattle are at least ten to fifteen percent lower in Florida than in other states. He said this difference in fertility could be blamed on many factors including the effect of drugs and pesticides on animal reproduction.

Dr. Edds said the problem could have serious implications not only for the state's livestock industry, but also for human health. He called for more state support of the University's research program to find out if these chemicals really are serving as "anti-fertility" agents as preliminary research suggests.

Complaints and Facts Explained In A 3-Part Series On Inter-County Telephone Company

United Utilities Inc., earlier this year acquired Inter-County Telephone and Telegraph Co. in a merger plan. This was May 22. And the ink on the agreement was scarcely dry before rumors of a rate increase started flying.

J. N. Johnson, president of Inter-County, has confirmed that the management is considering applying to the Florida Public Service Commission for a rate increase.

An increase in rates may be in order, but so are some other matters. For when United acquired Inter-County, they also acquired some dissatisfied customers.

There are two major causes of complaint from Highlands County telephone users.

1: The service, which many regard as atrocious.

2: Toll calls between Sebring, Lake Placid and Avon Park. Many feel that with the increased number of telephones in the county—more than 13,000—the tolls should be lifted.

In this and succeeding stories, The Sun will attempt to air complaints and facts.

Inter-County Telephone and Telegraph Co. operates in Highlands County through a franchise with the Sebring, Avon Park and Lake Placid area. In Sebring, a 30-year franchise will expire in 1977. Because they have the privilege of serving this area, Inter-County agreed to supply free phones to the city offices. Tolls are extra.

In Lake Placid, a 10-year franchise was renewed just last month for phone service. Under the franchise, Inter-County agreed that one percent of the gross collected for service of $600 annually, whichever is greater, will go to the city.

In Avon Park, a 30-year franchise expires in September, 1969. Avon Park gets nothing from the telephone company — no free phones, no percent of gross monies collected.

At the time of the merger of the telephone company in May, J. N. Johnson, president of Inter-County, who lives in Ft. Myers, said he was "hoping" that toll charges might be a bolted between Sebring, Avon Park and Lake Placid "within the next five years." Five years seems far away.

Highlands County in the past six years has nearly doubled its number of telephones. There now are 13,000 as compared to 8,207 in 1960.

Sebring today has 6,300 telephones as compared to 4,200 in 1960. Lake Placid, 1,800 compared to 971; Avon Park, 4,801 compared to 3,008 in 1960.

It is 10 miles from Sebring north to Avon Park, 16 miles from Sebring south to Lake Placid, 26 miles from Avon Park to Lake Placid.

Under what appears to be an out-they determined it was the Mer-aid Advocate. You really can't expect a Ft. Myers girl to know all the Wauchula answers, can you?

Then there is the little pay phone booth near a general store in Lorida 15 miles to the South of Sebring. If has a number pre-fixed with GL 3—the prefix for Avon Park numbers. If you try to call Moore Haven, 20 miles further south than Lorida, you will be routed through Avon Park 25 miles to the North. Ft. Myers, 100 miles to the West and then back east another 100 plus miles to Lorida, traveling along about 225 miles of telephone lines to make a 30 mile call.

Any long distance calls from anywhere in Highlands County have to go through the Avon Park office, even if they are destined for points to the South.

Why, if such a simple thing as a long distance call to Lake Placid has to go through Avon Park, and a simple call for information travels all the way to Sebring to Ft. Myers, are tolls required between Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid?

Shuffling
Every evening if it doesn't rain, one or more courts are in play. Folk gather casually, find partners, and the game is on.

Every morning, four men, Bill Kimmel, Charles Fenstermaker, Lloyd Young, and James L. Leland, have their game before the sun gets too warm. But on Wednesday afternoon evening every body turns out for the tournament.

On Saturday evening 20 folks played in the tournament, with quite a few spectators. Kate McAlexander and Harry L. Loughan won in the men's event. Charles Romilly and Chris Calley, Jr. were the women winners were Clay Kull and Reed Simpson over Don McAlexander and James Chamberlain.

Card Games
The pinhook games goes on Monday afternoons. Last Monday only ten played. High score of 717 went to Mr. P. Vetter, and low score was won by Sadie Benson.

Dances
The Friday evening dance is holding up very well, only lacking a pattern. The Highlands General Hospital, I appreciate the flowers, cards, letters and prayers.

Durable Press Clothing Saves Time In Homes

If you have discovered the joy of permanent or durable press for items of clothing you can look forward to this same saving of labor in household textiles. Do you wish sheets would tumble fresh and smooth from the dryer? Bedspreads with pleats would stay crisply pleated?

Today you can have all of these and soon there will be even more new ideas in a blend of polyester and linen, reports Inogene D. Rittenburgh, County Extension Home Ec. Agent. Tablecloths with thin fronds are available or soon will be. Sheets will come in pretty colors and sparkling fringes.

At first only white fabrics were used for bedspreads, curtains and towels. The manufacturers did not want problems to arise from the use of colors that were not up to standard. However, problems have been solved and colors in soft tones of pink, red, and light blue are now being used.

Deeper shades and a wider selection of colors are being used. However, problems have been solved and colors in soft tones of pink, red, and light blue are now being used.

Whether you call it permanent press or durable press—it is all the same. Some manufacturers prefer durable press, meaning that nothing in this world is perfect.

Be sure that you buy the best quality goods. Low quality will not give you a maximum performance. Seams and hems may tend to pucker. Look at the tag to see if it indicates that the fabric and product have passed the maximum performance tests.

Don't confuse durable press with "dry-clean only." Durable press fabrics are designed to be washed in an automatic washing machine and tumble dried. When they are hand washed, they will need touch up pressing. Follow carefully the washing instructions found on hangtags.

The bride is employed with the Credit Bureau in Lake Wales. The groom is a draftsman for the Well-Mann Road Co. of Lake Wales.

The Future of Architecture will be reviewed by the Horizon Press when this book was published in 1953. To the vast number of architects and students throughout the world who became acquainted with Frank Lloyd Wright's achievements, this book contains his major statements on architecture during the second quarter of this century.

This volume begins with the long, widely discussed "conversations" in which Mr. Wright, at the height of his career, explains his aims and contributions. It contains The Princeton Lectures on Architecture and London Lectures. The Future of Architecture is illustrated throughout with photographs of Mr. Wright's epoch-making buildings.

Olga Vanna Lloyd Wright produced the later book called "The Future of Architecture." This biography is also illustrated with illustrations. It is written by the one person who knew him intimately and worked by his side for 25 years. This readable book is very interesting as well as instructive.

Only two more weeks remain of the summer enrichment program offered to school age boys and girls of the community.

Spot Road Improvement Underway

The Federal government and Florida are cooperating in a $1.9 million "spot improvement" program aimed at eliminating high accident locations from the state's highway system. The program is expected to accelerate to an 111 million level in the next two years.

Among the projects programmed thus far in Florida is the replacement of a curve on State Route 70 southwest of Brighton at a cost of $30,000.

Federal Highway Administrator Lowell K. Brubaker declared "many of these spot improvements are comparatively small jobs, not involving huge sums of money, but they bring almost immediate results."

The Highlands County project is one of about 15,000 locations nationwide which have been proposed for correction at a total cost of around $1.5 billion.

The largest project programmed for Florida currently is Nassau County on State Route 200 northeast of Callahan where four narrow bridges will be replaced at a cost of $420,000.

Rollins Pleas Guilty; Gets Life Term

William Marret Rollins, 26, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty, while Robert Dasher was the first witness in a murder trial before Circuit Court Judge Clifton M. Kelly on Monday morning at the Highlands County Court House.

Rollins was previously convicted of the murder of Henry P. Townsend in 1961 along with Michael Nelson and Donald Grace Walker. The murder took place at a filling station in Avon Park.

Rollins was convicted and sentenced to die in the electric chair, while Nelson and Walker received life sentences. Several months ago the Florida Supreme Court ordered a complete new trial for Rollins. Judge Kelly sentenced Rollins to life in prison. He was represented by attorney Richard Hyatt of Sebring.

Glen Darty, State Attorney and Joseph O. March, Assistant State Attorney handled the prosecution for the state.
