

STRICTLY FRESH

The parson's answer to the atheist is to treat him to a good dinner and then ask him if he believes there is a cook.

"In my business," wrote singer Johnny Tillotson to Yankee pitcher Thad Lillard, "I am looking for hits. In your business you are looking for 90-hits."

A woman lost a $10 bill in a supermarket. There went $5 worth of groceries.

Modern home insurance policies cover about everything except security against neighbors who love to drop in unexpectedly.

The safest way to tell a woman's age is not to.

Self-love never involves a rivalry for that love.

A conservative has been classed as a feller who thinks nothing should be done for the first time.

In the News

THEATERS of Khrushchev's era were noticeably absent when Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin paid a visit to the United States and the United Nations to defend the Arab cause recently. No table-pounding or shoe-thumping for Kosygin, who was cheered by some American crowds when he met with President Johnson for 10 hours of talks.

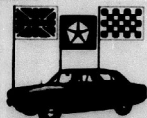

Spice CABINET

- For tasty gravy, brown undissolved dry flour in a cast-iron fry pan in the oven. Add directly to broth and stir until thick.
- To season french fried potatoes, try celery salt.
- To use leftover baked potatoes, dip for a moment into boiling water and then heat in a moderate oven until warmed through.
- When in a hurry to degrease gravy for a beef roast, toss a few ice cubes into the broth before thickening. The fat hardens and is easily removed.

FIX-IT TIP

Here is how to replace a cracked ceramic tile on a bathroom floor or wall: First, using a metal-cutting keyhole saw, cut a groove around the tile to be removed. Then chip away the broken tile with a hammer and chisel, starting from the center of the tile. If the new tile is to be set in adhesive, don't chisel out the old mortar bed, but if it is to be set in a new Portland cement bed the mortar must be removed. When using adhesive, the surface must be dry. For mortar the old cement must be moistened.

Printers Bible
The Printers Bible was an edition issued prior to 1702 in which the word printers was substituted by mistake for the word princes in the 101st verse of the 119th Psalm.

Every litter bit hurts YOU

Trash? Litter? Empties? Don't heave them overboard! Carry a litterbag in your boat. Hold everything for the first trash container on shore or take it home for proper disposal. Remember—our waterways belong to all of us. Litter pollutes the waters... fouls propellers... spoils fishing fun... costs $50 dollars! Every litter bit hurts... YOU. America's beauty is your duty. Please help.

KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL

Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council.

Columbus noticed the migratory land birds on October 7, 1492. Followed their course, and on October 12, landed on a small island which he named San Salvador. Without this change of course, he likely would have hit what is now Florida, where the Indians would have been much more hostile.

Confidence is what we have before we learn better.

The 100-ton reproduction of the Santa Maria, the flagship of Columbus, is the fourth reproduction to be made. It was displayed at the New York World's Fair in 1964 and 1965.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE? You are in the car, approaching the intersection. From the car parked along the right curb there are no other cars on either street and you have the right of way. Should you go ahead and make a right turn?

HERE'S WHAT'S WRONG: Before you start turning, check closely to make sure that car parked along the right curb isn't just a car, but a car with a driver behind the wheel, waiting for an instant of opportunity to make a particularly nasty or even taking on passengers of intersections where you plan to turn right.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

"Everybody in the block has a color TV set except us," my teen-ager complained. After several days, when he'd finally won his battle to keep up with the neighbors, his father admonished, "O.K., boy, shell out! I guess you know that a color TV costs money."

After everybody in the family had "shelled out," I began research on the phrase to learn why we say it. Just about everything has been used for money in one place or another, including cattle and salt. The American Indians used shells.

From sea or fresh-water shells, they carved circular white beads and also some purple and black ones from the portions of the shell having those colors. The dark shells were usually considered more valuable, but a string of white shells one-foot-long was sufficient to buy a horse from most tribes. Strings of shell beads were used for money until the 1700s.

Shells have also been used for money in other places, such as Asia, Polynesia and Australia. Originally, when someone "shelled out," he simply paid in shells for the thing he had purchased.

The meaning has changed little, if any, through the years except for the medium of exchange.

Company Hired To Work On Golf Course

Steps were taken this week to start work on the Municipal Golf Course in Avon Park. At a special meeting in Mayor DeLaaney's office at City Hall an agreement was reached with the Parsley Grass Company of St. Petersburg to start work immediately on the greens.

At a recent city council meeting President Clarence King and Councilmen Martin and Scott reported to the "Sun" that a superintendent of greens had been hired by the City and will start work on Monday, July 24. Jim Sever, a longtime resident of the City to handle the important job of getting the course in shape and once it is in shape maintaining it. Mr. Sever is currently employed at the Zoological Club. He formerly worked on the course and is quite familiar with it.

The Avon Park Golf Association Board of Directors have set a target date for the course to be open for play by October 1. Giving a little over two months of solid work in getting the full 18 holes in play by that time.

The local Golf Association has 100 members currently and are hoping to double that figure by the time the course is ready for play.

Summer Band students with their instructor Mr. V. Mickunas, celebrate the end of their four week course of instruction with a watermelon feast.

Information On State Money To County Holds Up Filing Of Budget

Highlands County Commission-ers lent a sympathetic ear but could offer no help to an aide of the county who appeared at Tuesday's board meeting to inquire.

"Can we throw out this telephone company?"

Alfred Schiani, who lives in Sebring Hills, demanded, "What can the county do about this telephone situation when the county puts in for higher rates?"

The commissioners assured Schiani they are in complete sympathy with his appraisal, "the problem is atrocious," but County Attorney Hue Nussimale said, "This board has absolutely no jurisdiction. There is a state agency which handles regulation of public utilities, and your complaint should be sent to that board."

Schiani asked whether it would be possible to arrange for hearings in this county. Commission Chairman Carl McIntyre said such possibilities are remote.

County Welfare Director Anna Dee Church joined the discussion to report, "I have had so many complaints from doctors and hospitals trying to reach me."

While the commissioners were discussing the "telephone problem" an Inter-County truck arrived with service men to check out the latest complaints about clockwork telephones.

Auditor Advises Board To Pro Rate Funds

Standard bank practice does not often include the bank's turning a depositor to withdraw funds, but Avon Citrus Bank is looking forward to Highlands County school board's withdrawing construction funds now on deposit at the Avon Park Bank.

That deposit—totaling $4 cents—is costing the bank $9.30 per year to maintain. State law prohibits banks from levying service charges against county commission and school board accounts.

The schools have 20 separate accounts which, under a system, adopted in 1963, rotated annually among the four banks of the county. The state auditor has sharply criticized the system and strongly advised the school board to make a pro rata division of funds. The auditor said each of the banks has a permanent depositary for certain accounts.

James M. Moler Will Head Kiwanis Clubs

James M. Moler, Charles Town, West Virginia, school administrator and banker, was elected president of Kiwanis International today at the organization's Fifty-second Annual Convention in Houston, Texas, according to Allen Douglas, president of the Kiwanis Club of Avon Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ward of Avon Park and a member of the Avon Park Kiwanis Club have just returned from Houston where Mr. Ward attended as a representative of the Local club.

Students Must Have Restricted For Driver Ed.

All students presently fourteen years old or who will be fourteen prior to Sept. 1 and have planned to take driver education in 1967-68, must have a restricted operator's license before school starts.

If these students do not receive their license before school starts, they will not be eligible to take Driver Education until they become fifteen years old.

This is the result of a new State law No. 22-06 which prohibits fourteen year olds from receiving restricted licenses.

Summer Band Classes End Friday July 14

The summer band class of four weeks under the direction of Mr. V. Mickunas, Avon Park High School ended July 14. Bands regular band instruction, ensemble and rock and roll were included in the course.

The class met every Thursday night for a full band rehearsal with former adult students participating.

Five of the students studying Theory, composed melodies, harmonizing and transposed their part for their own instrument. On the last day of school, they played their solo for the students. The class included: Jim Williams, Nancy Darnell, Debbie Clark, John Hansen and Mike Brashers.

Family Income In County At $5,717

Highlands County's economy made progress on all fronts during the past year, according to a national business report, released.

The big push behind the advance was from the retail sector who had more than the usual amount of spending money at their disposal.

And spend it they did, across the board, for all kinds of goods and services, buying about 12 per cent more goods than last year.

The facts and figures are documented in a voluminous report entitled "Survey of Buying Power," compiled and copyrighted by Sales Management. It presents data on income and spending for every section of the country.

In Highlands County, it shows, earnings were at a high level during the year. Local residents had a net spendable income, after payment of their personal taxes, of $47,644,000, exceeding the 1965 total of $41,794,000.

How much this amounted to, on a family basis, was found by dividing the income by the number of local households. Per household, it averaged out to $5,717, an increase over the previous year's $5,096.

The gain, 12.2 percent, was more than in the rest of the United States, 6.8 percent. The State of Florida gain was 6.7 percent, on the basis of various indicators to show the relationship between the amount of retail business actually being done and the estimated full capability of the area. It is called the "index of buying power," the index is 6110, indicating that it could produce that percentage of the nation's retail business.

Since it accounted for more than last year, 81.21 percent, it is concluded that quite a bit of the local business comes from non-resident shoppers.

Most communities reported record consumer spending in 1966. The net result was that retail sales, nationally, topped $200 billion for the first time in history.

Captain Olen L. Earnest Awarded Bronze Star In Vietnam July 1

Army Captain Olen L. Earnest, 28 son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Earnest, Avon Park, received the Bronze Star Medal in Vietnam, July 1.

Capt. Earnest earned the award for outstanding meritorious service as an aviator in the 73rd Aviation Company.

He was stationed at Ft. Rucker, Ala., before arriving overseas in July 1966.

Capt. Earnest is a 1966 graduate of Avon Park High School and received his B.S. degree at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., in 1963.

School Budget Tops $3 Million For Fiscal Year

Highlands County school board has given approval to a tentative budget topping $3 million and requiring a half million less, the requested levy totals 6.5 mills.

State and local sources are combined to boost the beginning salary for teachers to $5,000 and give an across the board raise averaged .888 per teacher.

Public hearing on the tentative budget is set for 9:30 A.M. on Monday, July 27, in the county school superintendent's office on the third floor of the Courthouse.

The operation of the county school system cost $2,800,150 in 1966-67, supplied by local, state and federal funds. Some of the state and federal money becomes available later in the year and the local portion of the school budget must be prepared by 1967.

Sheriff Dept. Up Two Percent Over 1966-67

Although Highlands County's Sheriff's Department is reporting an 18.8 percent increase in cost, Sheriff Broward Clark says he is satisfied with a 1967-68 budget reflecting an increase of only 2 percent over 1966-67.

On the basis of the work we are doing I could easily defend a request for a 20 percent increase," the Sheriff said, "but the little counties are in a tough spot. The county commissioners are in a tough spot so we're trying to hold the line."

The $470,215 budget which the county commissioners approved for the Sheriff will appear as a part of the general county budget at a special meeting of the County Board of Directors at Avon Park, Monday, July 17.

The election, which became effective August 1, took place at a special meeting of the County Board of Directors at Avon Park, Monday, July 17.

School Budget

 State could reduce state apportionment by another one per cent.

Largest single item in the school budget is $2.12 million for instruction salaries and supplies. Last year $1.9 million was budgeted for this item.

Highlands County teachers are on a salary index which includes provisions for pay increases as teachers earn advanced degrees, accumulate experience, and a special Highlands County fee.

In 1966-67 when the base salary for beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree was $4,700, the average annual pay for Highlands County's 340 teachers was $6,000.

In 1966-67 there were 30 Florida counties paying a beginning salary of $5,000. Highlands County in recent years has been near the bottom in beginning salaries, but rating in the top 15 counties in the pay for experienced teachers with advanced degrees, Douglas said.

Anticipating the teacher shortage, many Florida counties had approved substantial bonuses for beginning teachers, Douglas reported, some going over the $6,000 mark, he said.

A state law passed in 1963 set 1967 as the date for shifting the burden of retirement fund contributions from state to county level. The 1967 Legislature did provide some state help for the teacher retirement payments, but no help was given for non-instructional staff retirement. This has resulted in the auxiliary charges portion of the operating budget going from $179,000 in the past year to $350,000 in the coming year.

Some Reductions
 Superintendent Douglas pointed out some reductions have been made to hold expenses to a minimum this year. The plant maintenance portion of the budget has been cut from $135,000 to $77,000.

Secular help which has been provided for the guidance counselors in the high schools will be eliminated and school bus service will be "streamlined." "We are going to maintain bus service in areas where children would be forced to walk along main highways, but many of our school buses will be more crowded than ever," the Superintendent said.

In general, we shall try to maintain the level of services and quality of education, but the county is bearing a larger portion of the burden for public education," Douglas summarized.

This budget has two glaring weaknesses, Douglas said in presenting the budget to the school board. One is that the $75,000 reserve for contingencies is less than it should be, and the other is no provision for a cash carry-over.

He also pointed out that he has not recommended sale of race track bonds, but has rather budgeted anticipated race track income into the operating budget.

If we obligate the race track income as a bond issue for building, we should have to increase local millage for operating expenses at least three-quarters of a mill," the Superintendent said.

The proposed 6.5 mill levy is divided 3.3 mills in the general levy and 3.2 mills in the district millage. In the Avon Park area an additional one-tenth mill will be levied to pay the final installment on a school construction bond. The last of these bonds will be retired in the 1967-68 year and will clear all bonded indebtedness of the Highlands County schools.

Building Program
 Douglas pointed out that the capital outlay portion of the upcoming budget does not have enough money to complete the year for the county-wide school building program recommended by the State Department of Education. He suggested some steps which the board might consider for the coming year as first steps in a building program. He pointed out that the funds on hand might be used to buy sites for future buildings. Taxpayers might be asked to approve additional millage earmarked as a "kitty" for buildings.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Should We Make Laws More Lux?

"We are becoming addicted to money, materialism, materialism, materialism," said a high school teacher, speaking at a luncheon.

The lowering of moral standards is now so obvious to all that it is not only preachers who warn of the consequences.

A Hartford, Conn., psychiatrist stated, in speaking at a convocation of medicine and theology, that liberalized disciplinary rules and more lenient attitudes toward sex had imposed stresses on some college students severe enough to cause emotional breakdowns.

Facing Results

While some psychiatrists advocate the discarding of all Bible-based rules for conduct, stating that they are "old-fashioned" and "outdated," others are realistically facing the results of this so-called "new morality."

Minority is the most serious of our shortages today. It is robbing many young people of the only real foundation for a successful life.

One indication of the seriousness of the trend in our nation today is contained in the report of the President's Crime Commission, which investigated conditions in this country with regard to crime.

The Commission recommended that America's changing attitudes toward illicit sex, gambling, drinking, and abortion require legal criminal laws in these areas.

Progress?

It is true that the crime rate can be reduced temporarily by passing laws which would declare that actions which are now criminal are no longer to be against the law.

Is this progress? In what direction?

God's way is not to downgrade the law to match the behavior of the evil and the corrupt.

God's way is to change the individual to make him acceptable in the sight of God, the righteous Judge.

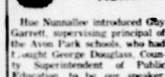

Necessity

That such a change is possible millions can testify. That it is necessary Jesus Himself stated when He said, "Ye must be born again."

The Bible also says, "He that is in Christ is a new creation. Old things are passed away and all things are become new—and all things are of God."

God's standards will not change. Should our laws be revised to suit those who choose to defy these standards? Or would it be better for people to be changed to accord with God's will?

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

His Excellency introduced City Garrett, supervising principal of the Avon Park schools, who had visited George Douglas, County Superintendent of Public Education, to be our speaker.

This topic was most timely in the light of recent happenings in Tallahassee, and the public concern over our schools.

"Sanctions or Frustration?" The latter word described the condition of many a county school board today in Florida.

George defined sanctions as an official protest against conditions affecting our children. He assured us that our schools will open in the Fall, including South Florida Junior College. This year college may be under some curtailment. Our schools may have changes in matters outside of classroom activity, but upon they will. Most of us know some of the struggle in our Tallahassee, trying to upgrade education and keep taxes from rising. Counties have this same problem. Highlands County gets 65% of school income from state and Federal sources; 45% from local taxes; and 5% from racetrack and other sources. As the years have gone by the slice from local taxes has been increased as the state and Federal sources have pulled downward. So, basically, the problem is money.

But finances have a wide application to the many problems teachers face in Florida. The pension (retirement) system is in trouble. Florida has two large buildings are crowded and of time, old 21,000 students in our state are in double sessions. These are some of the matters the NEA is concerned with.

There is a teacher shortage extra time activity is demanded of teachers, all hurt. Public apathy too, allows the situation to drift toward disaster. The American Federation of Teachers is a more aggressive union than the NEA. When it enters a field with union tactics drastic measures are forced. So, the frustration of people in these positions like George Douglas.

This subject was well presented. Solutions will come when our state and local people map a proper budget and come together for this all important public work, the education of our youngsters.

INDIAN NOMENCLATURE IN FLORIDA
 Into Puga Yocco Lake is the one now called Reedy Lake, at Frostproof, in Polk County. Into Puga Lake is one in Highlands County, much larger, and named after a Seminole chief.

The translation will like this: Isle means man, Puga means finished or dead, and Yocco means small. In Totopogus, in Highlands County is a very big lake, while the one at Frostproof is much smaller.

The Constitution, of course, bars any state from depriving any person of life or liberty or property without "due process of law." But it also provides, in Article X, that all powers not specifically delegated to the federal government "shall be reserved to the states, or to the people." Are federal courts about to declare this article unconstitutional?

Using the high court's own, one-vote doctrine as a vehicle, some federal district judges not only have declared the unbalanced apportionment of state legislatures unconstitutional, but have required the states to submit new apportionment plans to them for approval—or, in some cases, have drawn their own apportionment plans.

Just lately in Washington, one federal judge in effect routed the Superintendent of Schools from his job. He said much of the Washington school system was "unconstitutional," by generously laying his judgment on his own opinion on how the school system should be run, including an edict for "busing" of students to achieve racial and economic balance, despite a congressional mandate against "busing."

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Could Supreme Court Declare The Constitution Unconstitutional?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A review of Supreme Court trends in recent years might well lead a thoughtful citizen to wonder if the high court, with a probably renewed liberal majority, might not be on the verge of declaring unconstitutional a portion of the Constitution itself.

Impossible, you think? Well, look at the record of recent years in which the Warren Court has been setting a new pattern of power for the federal judiciary. Reading vague implications into the Constitution, the Supreme Court has reached out to deny to Congress powers long believed to belong to the legislative branch, it has rewritten federal laws as it thought Congress should have written them, and it has upset state constitutions, duly approved recently by the voters.

By split decisions, often by a one-vote margin, the high court has reached out to condemn the juvenile court system across the country on the basis of its own opinion that the system has not "worked." It has reversed the whole traditional best of state criminal law and procedure, while applying to established law a heavy dose of the personal philosophies of the prevailing Justices.

All this has been said often sharply in dissenting opinions of Supreme Court minorities. But the court has continued to stretch its authority, and judges of lower federal courts have added to the length of this stretch.

Using the high court's own, one-vote doctrine as a vehicle, some federal district judges not only have declared the unbalanced apportionment of state legislatures unconstitutional, but have required the states to submit new apportionment plans to them for approval—or, in some cases, have drawn their own apportionment plans.

Using the high court's own, one-vote doctrine as a vehicle, some federal district judges not only have declared the unbalanced apportionment of state legislatures unconstitutional, but have required the states to submit new apportionment plans to them for approval—or, in some cases, have drawn their own apportionment plans.

Just lately in Washington, one federal judge in effect routed the Superintendent of Schools from his job. He said much of the Washington school system was "unconstitutional," by generously laying his judgment on his own opinion on how the school system should be run, including an edict for "busing" of students to achieve racial and economic balance, despite a congressional mandate against "busing."

years to make detailed information about stolen property—excluding auto—stolen suspects and known criminals instantly available from a central computer. Sheriff Coker said the system may begin to function in the 1967-68 year and he plans to participate in it from the beginning.

The largest expense for the department is salaries. The $124,800 level for the current budget is carried over into the new budget, the Sheriff said. "You can easily guess that I do not expect to expand the staff," the Sheriff commented.

As the base load for the department has risen, county income from fines has been climbing. January 1 to June 30, 1966, income was $36,721 and in the same period the income rose to $40,627.

Public hearing on the total county budget, including the Sheriff's appropriations will be held in mid-August, exact date will be announced when the tentative budget is presented to the county commissioners.

There are a lot of good cars you can get for '3400. This is two of them.

If you don't happen to need two cars, there's only one thing that you need less. One car that gets as much as two cars.

Unless you want to pay a lot of money for a lot of horsepower that you'll never use. There's only one state in the country where you can go faster than a Volkswagen—Florida. No speed limit—no way to buy gasoline out there!

The only extra horsepower you really need is for all those power gadgets. Which you need to drive a car that size. Which has to be that size to hold all those horses.

All of which also makes the average car cost almost as much to run as two Volkswagens. Consider a Volkswagen gets about 27 miles to a gallon of gas and about $2,000 a year to a set of tires.

But if you're still not sold on the idea of two bugs for the price of one beast, why not take advantage of this special introductory offer. One Volkswagen for half the price of two.
