TOWN OF AVON PARK

You'll Need $36 Per Day For Travel

Vacation costs for Highlands County residents who will be taking automobile trips this summer, will be higher than before.

According to the American Automobile Association, which has just completed a survey of such costs, they will have to pay more for food, lodging, gas and most other items than they did in other years.

All in all, its figures show, a Highlands County couple will need $36 a day to travel comfortably, or about $5 more than was required two years ago, when the AAA made a similar survey. This amount will take care of the necessities but not the frills.

Thus, a two week trip will cost a minimum of $504 for two people. It is exclusive of any outlays they may want to make for amusements, souvenirs and admission to places of interest.

The cost is figured on the basis of their traveling 300 miles a day and getting 15 miles to the gallon of gas.

Provided for, under the $36-a-day budget, is $13 for food, as compared with $10.50 two years ago; $12 for sleeping accommodations, $1 more than before, $6 for gas and oil per 100 miles, also $1 higher, and tips and incidentals, $3, up 50 cents.

The AAA also provides an answer for the Highlands County car owner to the all-important question of how much it costs him to own and operate his car.

Next to feeding, housing and clothing his family, it states, the car is probably the most expensive item in his annual budget.

The study shows that it comes to $1,282 a year, or 13.6 cents a mile on average, for the owner of a car in the moderate-price range, driven 10,000 miles a year.

This takes into account his fixed costs, for depreciation, insurance and the like, which amount to $662, and his variable costs, which include gas, oil and repairs, $200.

In Highlands County, under these average conditions and on the basis of the 12,300 passenger cars now in use, local residents are spending an estimated $16,821,000 a year in this direction.

The growing number of cars has been a boon to local gas stations. Their receipts in 1966 reached $2,740,000.

REOP Chooses New Officers; Seeks Funds

Ridge Economic Opportunity Program, Inc., elected half a dozen new directors and named new officers at a membership meeting held at Highlands County courthouse annex Monday.

First action of the new officers was to complete and formally file an application for federal funding for a year-round Head Start program.

Layers of bones in caves in the Appalachian Mountains tell an interesting climate story. The bottom layers consist of bones of cold weather animals—grizzly bears, wolves, musk and mastodon. The next layer contains bones of normal temperate zone animals—like skunk, squirrel, beaver and deer. The next layer, largely tropical beasts, like tiger, reptiles and snakes are in evidence. Still higher layers bring forest animals—coyotes, rabbits, tigers and antelope. All these in one cave make an interesting study in climate and temperature changes, through the centuries.

Antarctica is as large as Europe and North America, combined, and at one time enjoyed lush tropical climate and vegetation.

was constructed this week across the street from the gym and students are now participating on the 72 par course with hocky sticks and soft balls. The new activity was very popular with the youngsters and the staff was also very enthusiastic — especially Coach Franz. Coach Franz commented that the afternoon free swimming would necessarily depend on the weather with rain cancelling out that activity some afternoons. Franz also noted that plans are now completed for a junior and senior life saving course to be taught in the afternoons from 2 - 4 under the direction of Miss Ann Barben.

The junior life saving course will be open to boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16 in the seventh through the tenth grades who have basic swimming skills. In order to take the senior life saving course a student must be sixteen or older in the eleventh or twelfth grades and have good swimming skills. The course requires 12 hours of instruction and 2 hours of examination. All boys and girls interested in earning the life saving badges should register at the gym as soon as possible so the courses may get under way.

Our man with the Armed Forces

Because beer is such a favorite with service men, we brewers like to do all we can to keep its surroundings right. So USBA representatives serve as advisor members of the Armed Forces Disciplinary Control Boards throughout the country.

These men from the USBA operate hand in hand with service and civilian police, with multi beverage licenses, public boards and committees: military, civil, professional. Object: to protect those who are underage, and to insure strict observance of the law.

We're proud of the work they do.

Summer Band Program Underway

The "Summer Band Program" started this week with a record attendance. The program offers everything from Junior Band rehearsals, high school ensemble groups, stage band music, music theory class to Rock and Roll drumming. The band program only lasts four weeks, so Mr. Mickunas urges all band students to register immediately.

Since so many senior band students work in the day time, a senior band practice will be scheduled Thursday night at 7:30 P.M. in the high school band room. New Music will be sight reading and some pop tunes will be practiced for football season.

Mr. Mickunas states that many alumni of the band have asked to form a band — this would be a good time to see how many are interested. So anyone who plays an instrument is invited to practice — student or adult.

Gene Forman, former band director of the APHS Band, will be guest conductor. Horses on bleak North Atlantic islands are trained to eat fish heads, when supply of feed runs short. Pioneer mothers seldom got tummy on stem of corn cob pipes were told.

Beat the heat with flameless cooling and enjoy winter in Florida this summer!

Thinking cool helps, but being cool is better for your heart, efficiency, appearance, and disposition. But don't rush off—you'd have to go a long way (to the Southern Hemisphere where it's now winter) to match the cool comfort of your own home with central electric air conditioning. With a flameless heat pump, you dial your own climate year-round. It updates your home, too—electric cooling and heating is the trend everywhere.

Our Equal Payment Plan makes climate-control easy to budget—it levels the seasonal peaks of electric bills. Ask your contractor or dealer about the economies of a flameless heat pump, about insulating your home (saves on both cooling and heating), about financing, and how to save $50 and get a nice gift from us by going cool now!

Medical ID --- Card Or Wristband Can Help Save Your Life

All over the world a simple six sided figure has become the symbol of identification of personal medical problems.

The symbol was adopted by the American Medical Association some four years ago and three years ago was adopted by the World Medical Association as the universal indication that the individual displaying the sign has personal health problems that might require emergency attention.

Who should carry identification? Everyone says the AMA. A card, such as the AMA emergency medical identification card, is useful to identify an ill or injured person, to help locate family, friends and personal physician, and to give information that will improve emergency care. People with special health problems should also wear a durable metal or plastic alerting signal device on their wrist, ankle or neck, indicating their need for special medical care.

The emergency medical identification card should note special problems that need immediate attention in an emergency or that could cause an emergency. For example, diabetes must be identified so that a person in diabetic coma will get proper treatment promptly and needed doses of insulin will not be overlooked during treatment for injury. The need for certain medicines must be known. Heart patients taking drugs to prevent blood clots may bleed profusely if injured unless they receive special care. Other people are sensitive to certain drugs and must never take them.

Epileptics could be saved much trouble and unnecessary hospitalization if they carried a card indicating that they may have seizures. Neck leashes (those who breathe through a tube surgically inserted below their Adam's apple) must be recognizable to prevent them from smothering.

An emergency medical identification kit may be obtained by addressing: Mrs. E. J. Emergency Medical Identification, American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610. Single kits are free on request. The kit contains two identification cards, a pamphlet describing the universal symbol, and a list of manufacturers of signal devices bearing this symbol.

Nothing in this world is impossible, except your neighbor's kids.

Fools rush in where careful drivers obey the stop sign.

Big Appetite

The common streak, contrary to popular belief, is not blind though its small eyes are almost concealed by fur. It must feed almost constantly because of its rapid metabolic rate, and is said to consume its own weight of food every three hours.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

Thousands of times a day in thousands of places over these United States, there is sure to be a meeting of some sort going on, and wherever there is a meeting, someone is likely taking or reading the "minutes."

Just what do we mean by the "minutes"? It surely does not apply to clocks or to time. In order to understand how this expression came about, we must look at the other pronunciation of "minute," which means very small or little.

When a secretary takes notes at a meeting, she must do it by writing in shorthand or by abbreviating words with little or very small writing.

This minute writing that is transcribed and read at the next meeting is the "minutes."

Lawrence of New Mexico
In 1856, 60 camels were brought to the southwestern United States and found to be very well adapted to life there. When the Civil War began, the government gave up the camel project.

Names Restricted

The Jockey Club places two important restrictions on the naming of race horses. The owner must not come up with a name previously given to a horse in the last 15 years and he must forego names of "classic" race horses.

Nothing to worry about? Try this: What's coming after automation?

A doctor says that two or three ounces of alcohol at bedtime can bring relief to insomniacs. At least they'll go to sleep in good spirits.

Young children differ from adults in that the kids' instinct is to give honest answers to questions.

If you think the clinging vine type of gal has disappeared, you just haven't noticed the motorcycles roaring around town.

Walker Memorial Accredited By American Blood Banks

Accreditation of the Walker Memorial Hospital Blood Bank by the American Association of Blood Banks was announced this week by the Association and the Blood Bank's medical director, Dr. Heinrich Schanz.

"You are hereby recognized as maintaining or exceeding the standards of blood bank performance as established by the American Association of Blood Banks," stated Dr. George J. Hummer, president of the blood banks association.

Congratulating the hospital's governing board and staff, Dr. Hummer pointed out that "this recognition by the American Association of Blood Banks is assurance of your continued interest in maintaining the highest quality medical care to the patients you serve."

Accreditation was preceded by a comprehensive questionnaire and physical inspection of the blood bank by one of the Association's specialists. The purpose of the voluntary inspection and accreditation program, sponsored by the American Association of Blood Banks, is to elevate the standards of practice within the transfusion service; to assist the hospitals in the selection of the highest quality blood bank; and to provide consultation service, thus assuring patients of the safety of human blood transfusions.

The Walker Memorial Hospital Blood Bank is one of the more than 800 blood banks which have been certified through this program. Dr. Hummer emphasized that the patient who receives a transfusion of blood provided by a blood bank accredited by the American Association of Blood Banks can have full confidence that the bank has voluntarily met high standards and is continuously striving to offer the best service possible.

City To Combine Sewer, Water Dept.

On a motion by Councilman A. R. Scott and seconded by Councilman Durrah Martin, the City Council voted unanimously to combine the water and sewer departments at the Monday night's regular semi-monthly meeting. This was brought about so that personnel from both departments could be interchanged as additional manpower would not be needed to be hired by the city fathers. A special meeting was held last night by the council to set up the necessary changes in the new department.

Councilman Wayne W. Albright once again brought up the possibility of the city fathers looking into the city manager type of government. Mr. Albright suggested that a referendum be held on the matter.

Council President Clarence King stated that he has investigated the subject to a great extent and found there is a shortage of qualified men available to cities the size of Avon Park. King further stated that if we could get a good man and one who would stay, I feel a referendum would be a good idea, but let us dig deeper into the city fathers before we ask the people whether they want a change in government.

The four other members of the council including Albright concurred with the council president. King said he wanted it known that he was not against the proposition.

In a motion adopted by the board on the recommendation of Council Vice President Jack Duggan, voted to give employees July 3rd and 4th off. Garbage and parks trucks will be on duty Monday, July 3.

The council voted to take down the no left turn signs at the intersection of Lake and Main. Since their erection several months ago they have been practically destroyed by traffic. In its place as soon as they are obtained new signs will be placed on the traffic lights above the street.

Councilman Duggan was asked to contact the County Commissioners to see if the county would help with the paving of Orange Street off Lake Avenue. Estimated cost of the project would be $2500.

The city fathers agreed that it is not the responsibility of the city's garbage trucks to pick up garbage after stray dogs kick over the garbage cans.

The city will advertise for bids for a new billing machine for the city hall.

The next regularly scheduled semi-monthly meeting will be held Monday evening, July 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the council chamber at city hall.

Whether Highlands County taxpayers get a bigger school bill next year depends on a vote in Tallahassee. School Superintendent George F. Douglas said the Highlands County school board "can not possibly balance its budget" for 1967-68 on its current six-mill tax rate and the state funds provided in the general appropriation bill — the $1.275 billion bill passed by the Legislature last week.

Under the terms of the rollback in taxes which accompanied the tax revaluation program last year, the Highlands County school board cut its county-wide levy to the legal minimum of 3 mills and voluntarily reduced the district millage to 3 mills.

The law would permit the school board to boost the county-wide levy to 3.45 mills for the coming year. The district millage limit is 10 mills.

Douglas refused to announce what kind of boost he will ask if the present bill does go on the books.

He held out hope for a tax reduction if the general appropriations bill is accompanied by the $1.747 million supplementary appropriation bill before Governor Claude Kirk last Monday.

When the Governor vetoed the Legislature's first appropriations bill — a $1.586 billion package — the Legislature came up with the $1.747 billion bill but put the education reductions into a separate, supplementary bill.

Educational leaders say they have been promised the vote to override a veto if it comes — on the supplementary bill.

Florida College Money

Last week the Legislature failed in a bid to override the veto on appropriations for capital outlay in the state's junior colleges and universities.

Florida College Money

For development of the permanent buildings and site of South Florida Junior College in confusion. President William Stallard spent the first part of his vacation in Tallahassee trying to "nail down" money to finance initial building at the site between Spring and Avon Park.

South Florida has approximately $300,000 on hand from the initial capital outlay funds granted by the state. "But this really is not enough to begin planning anything," Rex Boud, president of the junior college's advisory committee commented.

Costs of building that had been designated as phase one of the SFJC permanent site development had been estimated at approximately $1 million. Preliminary planning had been started by architects Perkins and Will, but a "go slow" signal has been given.

General Appropriations

The general appropriations bill now before the Governor provides for salary boosts for the teachers of the state equivalent to $5 million.

"This raise would be achieved at the expense of other parts of the public school program, and teachers do not want this," commented Jack Inglis, president of Highlands County Education Association.

The reductions proposed are $6 million in the textbook program, $3 million in the school lunch supplement, $7 million in kindergarten aid; $1.2 million for exceptional child units; $6.6 million for library funds; $3.5 for first grades, and cuts for junior colleges set at $21.5 million by some and $25.4 million in other reports.

Dr. Stallard had said the cut for South Florida Junior College would be about 20 percent of the school's income.

Since Highlands County does not have public kindergarten, this phase of the budget cut does not touch this county. Superintendent Douglas said the school lunch program "is in the black" and he does not anticipate recommending an increase in price to the students at this time. Highlands County school lunches were boosted from 25

Man Charged With Arson In Connection With House Fire

Last Friday, June 23 seemed like another routine dawn. But at daybreak residents of the Lake Byrd section just outside the city limits of Avon Park were awakened at 6:10 a.m. when the city fire department was summoned to try to save a home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zuck.

Mr. and Mrs. Zuck were in Baltimore on a vacation trip so that no one was in the home. Firemen were only able to save the garage behind the house and the home burned to the frame.

Highlands County Deputy Sheriff Harold Hobson, who was called to investigate the fire along with city fire department under the direction of Chief Wilber Giddens.

Deputy Hobson formally charged a Lakeland youth, 21 year old Ray Brennenman, with arson in connection with the fire.

Brennenman was arraigned on the charge in County Court on Monday morning before Circuit Court Judge Clifford M. Kelly, who was conducting the court for County Judge Marvin Beyer, who was out of town this week. Judge Kelly ordered a preliminary hearing and recommended that a public defender be appointed to represent Brennenman as he did not have the funds to hire a lawyer. The hearing will be set for next week.

Brennenman several times came to the "Sun" office on West Main Street and the final time appeared shortly before.
