Demand Halt of Disregard To Law And Order Urges Comptroller

Florida and America, through its concerned citizens and their representatives, must demand an immediate halt to deliberate and provocative disregard for law and order.

Corny and old fashioned as it may seem to some of today's belligerent minorities, the time is at hand for Americans to rise up in angry opposition to the unpatriotic and even revolutionary-minded demonstrators of hate.

It is an appropriate time, as we commemorate the anniversary of the independence of our great nation from the tyranny of unrepresentative rule, that we Americans cry out our love for our country and the freedoms this Democracy guarantees.

And, likewise, it is the time for all of us who want these freedoms to be the inheritance of our children and their children to say "NO" to the small but screamingly loud minorities who want to carve their own version of laws, rights and privileges from an LSD dream world which has no room for those who would disagree.

The commemoration of the Declaration of Independence written in the blood of freedom-loving Americans of 1776 is a proper hour for reflection of the meaning of this independence.

Today's increasing animosity of law and order which we read about so frequently is a revolution of its own. Unlike that battle of our forefathers, this is not a revolution whose purpose is to gain freedoms for all citizens. Quite the opposite, it is a revolt against orderliness where the revolutionaries take the law into their own hands, twist it, turn it and adapt it to their own selfish purposes.

Violence in the streets of Florida and elsewhere in America is a shameful reality.

Regardless of the need for change in our society — and there must always be change to meet the innovations of every tomorrow — it cannot be accomplished with a vigilante approach.

All citizens have a constitutional and moral responsibility to demand that there be obedience to laws and respect for the rights of our fellow citizens when we move through the transitional turmoil of major changes in our pattern of living.

Understanding and respect for divergent views is a basic principle of our democracy with its flowing well of freedoms. Disagreement, similarly, is not only to be tolerated but to be applauded when its purpose is for improvement.

Disagreement which distends itself to defiance of the law is a major problem of our generation and one which will be solved when all of us — private citizen and public servant — accept the challenge which is ours and insist to the lawbreaking revolutionaries that their search for change will no longer be tolerated at the expense of the rights and freedoms of the majority.

Boat Owners Must Register By June 30th

Shuffling

In the tournament on Wednesday evening the winners were Harry Longanecker and Charles Feusterman over Dor McAlexander and Charlie Romilly. Winners in the Consolation were Alta Robinson and Elizabeth Clarke over Grace Warner and Reed Simpson. On Saturday Burdette Howard cleaned the courts, waxed the discs, twenty-four folks lined up, then the rains came down in torrents. Everybody took refuge on the porch. Some played cards in the Club rooms, but pans had to be put around to catch the leaks from the roof.

John Dickson will manage the tournaments for the next few weeks during the absence of Mr. Howard.

Card Games

There were three tables of Pinochle on Monday afternoon. High score went to High Parson with 744, Potter Low came in second with 684.

Dances

Monday evening dances will be discontinued for the balance of the summer. On Friday there were twenty-six dancers. Little Shoemaker is danced as a mixer. And they are also dancing the schottisch.

Suppers

The faithful few are keeping the suppers going on Saturday evening. On the Fourth of July there will be a Pot-Luck supper at six o'clock. All members are invited to come with their covered dishes. Cards or shuffling afterwards.

Via-the-Grapevine

John Dentler, who has been in the hospital for the past ten weeks, is now recuperating at his daughter's home in Warren, Mich. Mr. Dentler and his wife flew there this past Friday. Their son, Jack, came down to drive their car home.

The Charles Brushes had as their house guests their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brush of Columbus, O. They spent the time sight-seeing in Ft. Lauderdale, and Sarasota, and Tampa.

The Bob McBeths of Plymouth, O., visited the Russell Smiths in Tiro, O. one Sunday evening lately.

We heard via-the-grapevine that Blaine and Judy Kerr have sold their home in Youngstown, O., and have arrived in Avon Park, and plan to live here.

Ethel Parker of Chautauqua, N. Y., has been in the hospital after suffering a heart attack. She is home now taking it very easy.

If you wonder how folks spend their time, you should see the tiny magnetic mice, James Chamberlin makes out of shells. Then gives to his friends.

Jennie Baker has been released from the hospital, and is home feeling much better.

The funeral of Robert Wallace was held on June 20th in Fairview, Pa. He is survived by his wife, Grace, one daughter, two grandchildren, one brother and several sisters. He was the brother- in-law of Milton and Clarence Higgs.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace were first time members of the Winter Guest Club last winter and Mrs. Wallace sang on several occasions at the Club.

So far this month there has been about fourteen inches of rain. Of that 14 inches two fell on Saturday evening. During the rain on Saturday evening there were two ladies marooned on a bench half way down the courts. We didn't have a boat to send to them. LaRue Longanecker and Charlotte Dickson said they were quite comfortable.

News from the north of the various activities will be appreciated, so it can be shared with others. P. O. Box 1285.

Residents Creative And Artistic

Mr. Doty, art director, has been pleasantly surprised at how creative and artistic citizens of the Avon Park community really are. The enrollment in the arts and crafts summer program has surpassed any art teacher's dream.

Just what age people are interested in making objects of art? They range from first graders to adults. several are Senior High students and two Junior college students — 83 strong came this last week to enjoy the fine equipment and the experienced direction. The groups meet from 8-10; 10-12; 1-3, five days a week with the first week over, leaving only two weeks more.

There is no enrollment fee but a small charge is made according to the materials one uses but many are paying 20 cents and 30 cents for their materials. Ceramics may run as high as $1.50.

Leather craft, copper tooling and mosaics made from gravel and seeds are popular and of course the development of ceramic objects. The art class is well equipped with kiln, oven, tools and other essentials most people do not have at their disposal. Mr. Doty will welcome a few additional pupils. The number of boys and girls seems to be well divided and all classes have adults and students. Perhaps a real interest in art is growing in Avon Park.

Doyle C. Griffin, an Avon Park high school graduate received his Associate in Science Degree in Electronic Technology, June 16 from Manatee Junior College in Bradenton, Fla. While a student, he served as secretary-treasurer of the Manatee Engineering Technology Society. Doyle and his wife Lynne plan to continue their education at the University of West Florida, in Pensacola.

Miami Youth in Jail Here on Larceny Charge

Four Miami teenagers, who are accused of stealing a spare tire from a station wagon, were held under $1000 bond today charged with petty theft after appearing before Judge Clifton Kelly.

The three boys and one girl were held on $100 bond each. They are Linda Love Berryman, Vaughn Newman and Thomas Shannon, all 18, and a juvenile. They were picked up after it was reported they were driving on the new paving of Route 27 on three tires and a rim and cutting up the paving.

The area around Mt. Desert Island, Maine, has the highest elevation of any spot along the Atlantic coast, north of Rio de Janerio.

Careless Operators Cause Most Pleasure Boat Accidents

Careless operators cause most pleasure boating accidents, Bob Bernhard, Water Safety Chairman of the Highlands County Red Cross Chapter, emphasizes.

Bernhard listed motorboat safety precautions as the long July 4th holiday approaches. The Red Cross is supporting National Boat Safety Week, (July 2-8).

Bernhard pointed out that, contrary to popular belief, the great majority of boating accidents are attributable not to new and inexperienced operators, but to persons with up to 500 hours of experience.

"This is borne out in 1966 surveys by the U. S. Coast Guard, which states that accident reports involving nearly 5,000 boats reveal more than half of the accidents were caused by operators in this experience class."

"The obvious conclusion," Bernhard said, "is that these people have become overconfident or careless, or their boats are not up to safety standards, or they have not become skilled in boat operation."

He listed these rules for safe boating:

1. Don't overpower your boat. Many boats carry the Outboard Boating Club of America plate telling the maximum horsepower the boat's outboard motor should have. If your boat does not have such a plate, consult a reliable marine dealer for the information before buying or renting your outboard motor.

2. Stay ashore in bad, or threatening weather. Learn to recognize signs of storms so that, when out in a boat, you can return in time when bad weather threatens.

3. Don't overload your boat. One adult passenger to a seat is considered a good rule of thumb.

4. Avoid sudden or excessive bursts of speed.

5. When in trouble, think- don't panic.

To save your life if an accident occurs, Bernhard listed the following measures:

1. Know how to swim.

2. Before leaving shore, tell someone where you're going, and then stick to this cruise plan.

3. Provide a life perserver for every passenger. Insist that nonswimmers wear a life perserver when in your boat.

4. Equip your boat also with oars, an anchor and line, a fire extinguisher, a first aid knit, a whistle for signaling and, if you go out at night, flares for signaling, too.

5. Most boats will float when swamped or capsized. Look to your boat as a safety devise, and if it is floating after the accident, STAY WITH IT.

Mr. Bernhard also advised boat operators before undertaking cruises, to test their boats in shallow water and go through some drills. The boat's floatability, with motor attached, can be determined, a safe method for reentering an overturned boat can be practiced, and lifejackets and other floatable objects can be tested.

"Try out your boat in water you can stand up in," Bernhard said. "Swamp it, then hang onto the sides, or overturn it and let two or more members of the family lock arms across the upturned bottom. Have the entire family take part in this little drill.

"You'll discover that, most likely, your boat will float, and you will conclude that usually it will be best for the family to stay with the boat, even though it's capsized, rather than leave it and strike out for shore, if they should become involved in a water accident."

Women Vital In Air Force

The vital role of WAF-Women in the Air Force — in our country's defense is having increased influence in future Defense Department planning, according to Sergeant Paul Smith, Lakeland Air Force recruiter.

In the next fiscal year WAF enlisted ranks will increase by 1,000 which reflects the need for qualified women to serve in the Air Force. Once, WAF served at only a handful of bases. This is no longer true, according to Sgt. Smith. The list of bases to which they may be assigned is greatly increased and is still growing. WAF specialties also offer more variety than ever before.

WAF work in administrative, personnel, medical, dental, supply and communications career fields, to name a few of more than 100 jobs open to women.

The WAF program is open to high school graduates between the ages of 18 and 27. Applicants must qualify on a mental and physical exam before being considered.

Young women interested in serving with the Air Force should contact Sgt. Smith at 134 S. Tennessee Ave., Lakeland or telephone 688-6867.

Pollution of Water Is Big Problem Now

JACKSONVILLE — Ridding Florida of water pollution will cost an estimated $370 million and the job should be completed in three to five years, David B. Lee, director of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering has reported to Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, state health officer.

In all, there are 180 communities with sewerage problems which will cost approximately $380 million to correct.

It will cost the citrus industry an estimated $20 million; paper $24 million; phosphate $10 million; sugar $5 million.

Twenty-six communities are on the top priority list of municipal sewerage needs with an estimated cost of $150 million.

On priority II list are 24 communities which provide only primary sewerage treatment and need upgrading to secondary. Eighteen municipalities provide secondary treatment but need improvements. Forty-three municipalities have no sewerage system or are served by individual septic tanks but have submitted plans to the board for sewerage systems. The cost here is $150 million. The Bureau of Sanitary Engineering processed 218 projects the first quarter of this year for lift stations, collection and treatment.

Dr. Sowder said the board would continue attempts to persuade communities and industry to take immediate action but if necessary, court action would be sought.

Gov. Kirk said the board he was unwilling to let the federal government promulgate minimum standards which might be satisfactory for some states but fail in Florida and "it is imperative that you take the necessary action to insure that Florida will maintain its independent status in handling this very important program."

Do You Like Statistics? Book is Out

A new edition of the Census Bureau's County and City Data Book, a book of statistical information about local areas of the U. S., has just been issued according to the U. S. Department of Commerce.

County and City Data Book, 1967 is the new book's full title, and it contains facts about all of the more than 3,000 U.S. counties, cities of 25,000 population and over, Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, and for the Nation, all 50 states, and regions and geographic divisions of the U. S.

Here are some examples of the range of information made readily accessible by the book:

Maverick County, Texas led all counties between 1960 and 1965 in natural increase of population with 24 percent more births than deaths. Kalawao County, Hawaii had 6 percent more deaths than births during the same period.

In the 1964 Presidential election, Mr. Goldwater received his greatest support in Holmes County, Mississippi with 96.6 percent of the vote cast. The strongest backing for President Johnson came from Duval County, Texas with 92.5 percent of the vote cast.

Los Angeles County, California outranked all other counties in government revenue and expenditure in 1962 with general revenue slightly under 2 billion dollars and general expenditure slightly over the same amount. Its general debt outstanding of $1,700 million also exceeded that of any other county.

Of typical monthly residential electric bills in 1964, the highest was $12.44 in the city of Hilo, Hawaii compared with the lowest, $3.00, in Eugene, Oregon.

Among cities, Rochester, Minnesota experienced the greatest percent increase in employment in manufacturing, trade and services between 1958 and 1963, more than 400 percent. Chula Vista, California suffered the greatest decline, — 34.8 percent.

According to the 1964 Census of Agriculture, Kern County, California with 1.6 million acres of land in farms, led all other counties. The largest farms, however, were in Coconino County, Arizona, averaging 42,000 acres.

The New York metropolitan area was the location in 1963 for more than 1800 large manufacturing establishments (with 100 or more employees) and led all such areas in this respect. Among counties, Cook County, Illinois was first with more than 1400 large establishments.

Among counties in 1964, Fresno, California was first in the number of farms, the value of farm products sold, the number of persons in farm-operator households, and the number of part-time farmers. Its 7,200 farms sold over $350 million worth of farm products. Persons in farm households numbered more than 25,000 and 2,700 farm operators working off their farms 100 days or more.

In 1962, Boise County, Idaho ranked highest in property tax per capita, at $489.

County and City Data Book 1967 may be ordered from the Miami Field Office, Room 821, City National Bank Building, 25 West Flagler Street, Miami.

Highlands County Documentary Stamp Revenue Totaled $6,178

Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr. Comptroller of Florida, today reported that the state's documentary stamp revenue for May totaled $1,909,726, signaling the end of a two month slump.

Dickinson said that last month's collections topped May 1966 collections by $58,501. The Comptroller recalled that collections for March and April of 1967 dipped below revenues for corresponding months of the previous year by $395,000 and $220,000, respectively.

The tax, which is channeled into the General Revenue Fund, is assessed on deeds, stocks and bonds, and written payment obligations. As such, the tax serves as an indicator of purchasing trends in numerous areas, from household goods to real estate.

During the slump, Dickinson attributed the shrinking revenue to the tight money market, which discouraged credit financing. However, he predicted that purchasing and tax revenue would return to normal as the tight money market eased.

Dickinson explained that the May collections, which bore out his prediction, represented a dollar value of $13,561,112 on the $12,710,883 stamps sold. Intangible sales accounted for $1,900,405 of the monthly total and an additional $9,323 was recorded in out-of-state sales. Highlands sales totaled $6,178

Average Joe Really Gets Good Return

Does the average worker get his money's worth for his social security contributions?

The answer is "yes", according to Wm. E. Arnold, social security district manager. Young workers can be sure, too, that the social security benefits payable to them and their dependents in the future will be substantially increased by the time they qualify for payment.

The social security program is financed in such a way that benefits can be more than kept up to date with rising prices — without an increase in contributions rates, Arnold said. Because the social security tax is a percentage of payroll, income to the program rises more than benefits obligations as wage levels go up, he explained.

In an expanding economy, rising wages produce more income for the social security system and make it possible to increase benefits more than enough to offset any increase in prices. It is necessary only to make increases from time-to-time in the ceiling on the amount of earnings that is subject to the tax (and which counts toward the individual's future benefit payments).

But even without considering the likely future improvements in benefit levels, Arnold said, the average young worker will get retirement, survivors and disability insurance protection under social security worth 20 to 25 percent more than he will pay in social security tax contributions over a 40-45 year working lifetime — even if you count accumulated interest on these contributions.

At the upper extreme — the young man who starts work in 1973 or later, when the maximum contribution rate for old-age survivors, and disability insurance goes into effect, and who has earnings at or above the maximum annual amount subject to the social security tax, will no more than just about pay for the value of his protection.

People already at work, Arnold noted, get more protection for their tax contributions than those who will be going to work under social security in the future.

Parcel Post Poundage Increased

Mailers will be able to send 25 pound parcels between first class post offices which are 1500 miles or more apart starting July 1, Postmaster R. D. Young reminded patrons today. The present weight limit is 20 pounds, he said.

This is the first of five increases scheduled to take effect annually until 1971 when a 40 pound, 84 inch maximum size will be authorized between all first class post offices. Size limitations are not 72 inches in combined girth and length.

The next increase, on July 1, 1968, will raise he weight limit to 30 pounds. On July 1, 1969, the weight limit will be increased from 30 to 40 pounds; on July 1, 1970, the size will be increased to 78 inches; and on July 1, 1971, the size is scheduled to be increased to 84 inches.

Postmaster Young also reminded mailers that parcels weighing up to 40 pounds can be mailed between first class post offices less than 150 miles apart. Packages addressed to and from 2nd, 3rd and 4th class post offices, Alaska and Hawaii are not affected by the increase in size and weight provisions of the Public Law 89-573, which became effective January 15, he said.

FIX-IT TIP

- Color, when seen in large areas, reminds the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn. will always seem deeper than it does on a small color chip or sample. So a color that looks just right in the paint store may be completely overpowering in the house, unless you use extra care in selection.
- When painting into corners, don't poke or jab with a large brush. This will cause a puddle of paint to form and you will be sacrificing neat, finished edges. Use of a trimmer, which is designed for the job, is suggested in painting corners.

NOMINATION of Thurgood Marshall as first Negro justice of the Supreme Court brought beams of pride from the Negro population in the United States and approval from civil rights advocates. But the record shows that Marshall's appointment by President Johnson was not merely on racial grounds. The 58-year-old solicitor general brings to his high seat the broadest experience in Supreme Court matters of any justice in history, and an eminent reputation in all his judicial career.

Chamber Still Accepting Applications

Clarification was made by President Louis Hooper of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce on the post of executive secretary of the Chamber.

Mr. Hooper stated to the "Sun" that Mrs. Alma Hooper has been hired as a temporary replacement for Anna Belle Worden, who resigned. Mrs. Hooper will serve until a satisfactory replacement for Mrs. Worden is secured by the Chamber.

Mr. Hooper further stated that applications are still being accepted for the important post and anyone interested may apply at the Chamber office only. This will allow the committee enough time to screen all those interested in the position.

It is expected that an announcement will be made on Mrs. Worden's permanent successor on or about July 20th.

Highlands Receive $942 Lunch Fund

Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., Comptroller of Florida, today announced the distribution of $181,876 in state school lunch supplement funds to Florida's 67 county school boards.

Each county received a share of the total amount, based on its proportionate needs as determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Counties receiving the largest allocations were Dade County, which received $34,884; Hillsborough County, $12,975; and Pinellas County, $12,780. Disbursements to all other counties ranged from $101 for Lafayette to $9,950 for Broward County.

Highlands County received $942.

Civil Defense Will Have Test Trial July 14

July 14 at 2 p.m. there will be a total county trial of civil defense warning signals. This is to aquaint all residents as to the sound of these warnings.

Civil Defense is asking all motorists to stop driving during this time as the lower noise level can help the warning test. The first test will be the attention or alert signal—it means: listen for essential information. Between toe tests there will be one minute of silence, then you will hear the attack warning signal, listen carefully as this signal means; Actual attack against this country has been detected—take protective action immediately.

POSTMASTER Robert D. Young presented 3 Postal Drivers of the Avon Park Post Office Safe Drivers Awards this week. Mr. P. E. Boardman, Rural Carrier, was awarded his 20 year Safe Driver Award Certificate from the National Safety Council. This award is quite an achievement and Mr. Boardman was commended for this outstanding record. Other Safe Driver Certificates were presented to John Barberee, Carrier, 3 year Certificate, and Charles Marshall, Carrier, one year certificate.

Special Session Called on Municipal Course

The Municipally owned golf course moved a step closer to reality with several developments in the last week at two special City Council meetings.

Mrs. Jean Ward coordinator of a petition to force an election on the golf course question, she stated to the council at Wednesday's June 28th special council meeting that since there were only 687 names on the petitions that she was abandoning the petition 850 signatures were needed.

With the June 30 deadline over with for the filing of a petition, President Clarence King called a special meeting on Monday evening to discuss at great lengths the golf course question.

City Attorney Hue Nunnallee told the Council that a lease has been drawn up and has been signed by the Highlands Property, Inc. operators of the Highlands School for Girls, who own the old Pinecrest Hotel property and golf course. The lease is dated for ten years from May 22, 1967. The terms of the lease call for the city to pay Highlands Property, Inc. $200 a month for the first five years and $500 a month the second five years of the contract. A special clause has been inserted in the contract allowing the city to make their first payment on September 1st, 1967. At the end of ten years the lease would be renegotiated between the city and Highlands Properties, Inc.

There are several minor details to be worked out before the city signs the contract. The city through its Attorney Hue Nunnallee requested a subordination agreement between the mortgage holders of the property and the city. They are First National Bank of Sebring, First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Sebring and Savings Loan Association of Clearwater. Mr. Nunnallee stated that the Clearwater firm is reluctant to enter into such an agreement.

The Council on a vote of four to one with Councilman Wayne Albright voting against the motion, authorized City Attorney Hue Nunnallee to sign the lease for the city when the minor problems are ironed out.

In another Four to One vote with Councilman Albright again casting a no vote to the motion, the city entered into an agreement with the Avon Park Golf Association, Inc. who will operate the golf course for the city. This agreement stipulates that a commercial firm be hired for the renovation of the 18 greens.

County Commissioner Cecil Skipper told the council that he has done quite a bit of research on the subject of the renovation of the golf course. He has contacted several commercial firms and told the Council that a firm could get the greens in shape in 7 to 9 working days at a cost of approximately $7000. Mr. Skipper also told the Council that he had discussed with several of the area greenskeepers about how long it would take to get the course in shape to play. His estimate to the council was about 60 to 90 days or longer to get it in playable condition.

The agreement with the Golf Association also sets the annual green fees at $100 per annum with the annual green fee commencing when the course is opened to play. The Association shall retain ten per cent of the price of all greens fee cards.

In the event the Association sells over $2,000 in green fees cards during any annual green fee period, the Association may retain an additional 10% of all green fee monies in excess of $20,000 collected during such period.

As soon as the lease has been signed an agreement will be reached with an Avon Park man to serve as Superintendent of the course. He will be in charge of getting the course in shape for play.

In other business at Wednessday, June 28ths special meeting the Council hired Reny Prevatt to work in the Water Department and also assist in the new sewerage treatment plant. He was hired for six months probationary period at a salary of $225 a month.

The next regularly scheduled semi-monthly council meeting will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the council chamber in City Hall.

Three To Stand Trial Next Week In Shooting of Two AP Policemen

Two men and a woman, charged with assault to commit murder in the February shooting of two Avon Park policemen, will go on trial here next week in circuit court before Judge Clifton M. Kelly.

Kenneth J. Steinhauser, Jr., 22, of St. Louis, Mo., was captured at the scene of the shooting. James Cohen, 20, also of St. Louis, and Jean Verla Frye, 22, San Diego, Calif., were arrested by Los Angeles police in March and returned here in April. All are in Highlands County jail.

Avon Park Policemen Wayne Bass and Earl Gordon said they surprised Steinhauser in the act of breaking into a filling station. As they put him into their police vehicle, shots were fired at them from out of the shadows, wounding both officers.

Also scheduled for this term of court are two Negroes, once sentenced to death in the electric chair at Raiford and Death Row tenants for some time. Both were returned here for re-trial.

They are William Marvet Rollins, convicted in the 1960 murder of an elderly Avon Park service station attendant. His case is called for July 10. Sammie Lee Poole, convicted of the 1955 rape of a Sebring matron, will stand trial July 12. The Avon Park shooting is scheduled for trial July 13.

Later in the court session, Paul Rogers, Armond Lowe and Earline Lowe will be tried on burglary charges. And Carl Stanley Butler, of Sebring, accused of unlawfully possessing and transporting untaxed liquor, will be tried probably on July 14.

Household Goods Tax Is Eliminated

Highlands County taxpayers will get no tax assessment bills on household goods and personal effects this year.

Or any year hereafter

This means furniture, clothing, minks, diamonds

A bill to abolish the state wide tax has cleared the Legislature, and plunged Highlands County Tax Assessor Billy Martin and his staff into a hectic amount of extra work over the holiday in order to have the tax rolls ready for the County Commission next Tuesday.

Martin estimated the tax will lop off $295,000 from the tax rolls and be a loss in tax monies of $83,925 to such beneficiaries as the county commission, schools, hospital and other taxing agencies. It affected 7de returns.

We had the roll completed and all the plates made, said Martin, "and now we have to go back and change it. We had hoped to be able to complete the roll on time, and we will, so this means for us long hours of work we had not anticipated."

Eliminating the tax, whose monies the county needs, probably means the money will have to be raised through the usual source — the real estate tax, Martin said.

Some big counties did not need the personal property tax because they had sufficient valuations without it," Martin explained. "Highlands County enforced the tax because they needed the revenue."

The savings to taxpayers here are substantial, Martin said. Only negligible amounts have been levied in many counties, while others, like Highlands have made full levies. State Comptroller Fred "Bud" Dickinson, has termed the tax "inequitable" because of the difference in the enforcement and levies county by county.

In Highlands County, the assessor has been levying on household furniture, minks, diamonds, silverware, sporting goods and other possessions above the legal exemption of $1,000 wholesale. The tax remains on equipment for grocers, on office furniture, inventory and the like.

Under the new law, persons permanently residing in Florida and having two or three homes, for instance, a Summer cottage at Lake Placid, will benefit. All three homes now will be tax free on furnishings. However, the tax still remains on furniture, etc., in hotels and motels.

And the intangible tax on stocks, interest, etc., is still in force.

Martin will appear before the County Commission Tuesday morning to present the real estate tax roll. And at 1 P.M. the commission will sit as a tax board of equalization. This is for the taxpayers who have been before the assessor with a complaint and still have come to no agreement with the assessor. All complaints first must go to the assessor before 2nd to the board of equalization.

For many years, the board of equalization met and nobody ever appeared before them. Then last year, which was the first year after 100 per cent of valuation, taxpayers for the first time converged on the board of equalization. A group of about 25 appeared.

GROCERIES for her family of seven are piled on the counter between Mabel Brown, Howard Miner, who directs the commodities program in Highlands County. This is the amount of groceries she receives each month courtesy of Uncle Sam.

Many Receive Food Supplements From Uncle Sam In Highlands

Hundreds of low income folks in Highlands County are getting a welcome assist each month from free foodstuffs supplied by Uncle Sam.

Things like beans, cornmeal, flour, lard, meat, dry milk, peanut butter, rice, rolled oats, grits and raisins. All top quality.

This is U. S. Department of Agriculture food aid through its commodity distribution program, which is administered locally by the county commission, Howard Miner is in charge here, and has been since the program was launched a year ago.

"A total of 828 persons received foods from us during June," said Miner, who expects about that many this month. The foods are distributed at the warehouse at 1045 Hawthorne Road the first week of each month. Avon Park recipients come on Monday and Tuesday, the rest of the county Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The foodstuffs, in sturdy tan paper bags, cellophane or in gold-colored cans are distributed by Miner and secretary Mrs. Billy Sebring, working behind a long counter. It's a busy week.

Most of the people who receive the foods, Miner said, are the elderly, living alone. The first month they are on the program, they get all items available: two pounds of beans, which cost the government 27c; five pounds cornmeal, 45c; 10 pounds flour, 63c; three pounds lard, 72c; tinned meat (better than Spam, Miner says), one pound, 14 ounces, 95c; non-fat dry milk, four and one-half pounds, $1.12; two pounds peanut butter, 58c; two pounds rice, 20c; three pounds rolled oats, 44c; one pound raisins, 15c; two pounds grits, 20c. This totals $5.09—all from Uncle Sam.

The second month they get beans, meal, rice, raisins; the third, cornmeal, meal, milk, rice, raisins, grits; the fourth, beans, cornmeal, lard, meat, milk, rice, rolled oats and raisins. Then it starts all over again on the fifth month.

Families of 11 or more—and there are several being helped by the program in Highlands County—get this every month: 24 pounds of beans, 30 pounds of cornmeal, 60 pounds of flour, 12 pounds of lard, 24 pounds of meat, 27 pounds of milk, six pounds of peanut butter; 24 pounds of rice, 12 pounds rolled oats, seven pounds raisins and 12 pounds of grits. All this cost Uncle $20.73. It would cost much more if the family purchased it in a grocery.

In order to qualify for the food grants, a person living alone must have an income not to exceed $105 a month. The maximum a family can earn is $350 a month. Most are public assistance cases. These include welfare, the blind, families with dependent children, old age assistance and the totally disabled.

Miner is continually investigating to keep the status of the persons receiving commodities current. For instance, if a child turns 18, the family is disqualified—becomes a split family, since the child is now an adult. And the family has to be requalified.

If the child who has turned 18 goes to work, rather than to school, for instance, his earnings may well push the family income above the allowed income if he continues to live at home.

The office has passed out over 67 tons of food this past year. In addition to the foodstuffs given out individually, foods also have been given to the Civil Defense center, the Juvenile home and Noah's Ark Day School in Avon Park.

Re-sentencing Of Fulmore Ordered By Appeals Court

George Fulmore, sentenced here to 15 years in prison July 13, 1965, for assault with intent to commit murder, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, and burglary by breaking and entering, will be re-sentenced here July 11. He has been in the state prison at Raiford.

The re-sentencing was ordered by the appeals court after Fulmore contended he was not advised he could have counsel at the time he was sentenced. He had waived counsel when he pleaded guilty to the charges.

Fulmore, a Negro, was sentenced after the hanging of another Negro, George Copeland, May 8, 1965.

Money Wins First Game In Pro League

Word was received in Avon Park from Covington, Va., that Emmitt Money made his first start with the Houston Astros farm team. Money pitched five and two-third innings giving up two runs and scattering six hits. He walked two batters and struck out 3. He was the winning pitcher as his team defeated Marion, Va., a farm team of the New York Mets by a score of 8 to 3. Money also got one hit in two times at bat.

Little League Season Ends; Rotary Wins

At the end of the Avon Park Little League Baseball season two teams were tied for first place. The Avon Citrus Bank and Rotary. In order to break the tie and establish a league winner, they played the deciding game last Thursday night. This was a very tense and hard played game with the final score Rotary 4 and Avon Citrus Bank 3. Following this game the names of the players selected for the tournament team were announced. They are Gary Helms, Ray Dewayne Todd, Steven Hartt, Michael King, Ernest Paddleford, Tim Underwood, John Wright, Billy Zimmerman, David Kelly, Ricky Clark, Gary Adams, Bradford Giddens, and two alternates Del Murphy and Thomas Bean. Wesley Newsom is manager of the tournament team and Tommy Douberly is the coach.

This team will begin practice, July 5th, and will embark upon the tournament trail July 18th. Their first game will be Plant City American, in Lake Wales, Florida. We wish our team the very best and hope they go all the way to the World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

D. R. Hassfurder, president of Avon Park Little League, wishes to thank all the volunteer workers who unselfishly gave so much of their time to make it possible for 75 of our boys age 9-12 years to play the truly great American game baseball.

Final Approval Given Armory Appropriation

The Senate this morning gave final approval for the $90,000.00 Appropriation for a new National Guard Armory in Avon Park. The Appropriation provided for by the bill shall extend beyond this biennium in order to obtain matching federal funds to complete a very fine Guard facility for Highlands County.

Senator Boyd indicated that he was very pleased with the Senate's action and that he was anticipating construction and completion of the new Armory.

Is Bingo Legal?

That comparatively harmless and entertaining pastime called bingo is now legal in the state of Florida . . . or is it?

The 1967 legislature passed, and Gov. Claude Kirk signed, a bill which says it is — with certain restrictions designed to keep the game in the hands of homefolks, with the proceeds going to charitable purposes, and with "jackpots" limited to modest size.

There is one other important proviso. Each municipality must decide whether or not to allow the little gambling game to be played within its limits.

Accordingly, many Florida cities and towns are now considering the advisability of legalizing bingo. Indicators are that most of them, with an eye toward good relations with their senior citizens, will give it the green light. Quickly, for the most part.

Perhaps they are justified in doing so. Certainly bingo, per se, is no more sinful than betting on the dogs, horses or the way the pelota bounces. And their large populations of elderly persons, for the most part, feel they are entitled to enjoy it.

Besides, it is painless way of raising funds for a variety of worthwhile organizations, including churches and fraternal organizations.

But did the legislature exceed its authority in legalizing bingo? And are municipalities wise in hastily opening the gates to widespread play?

Before the new law was passed a few weeks ago, State Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth stated in more than one opinion that bingo is a form of lottery. And lottery is prohibited by the state constitution. If there is anything unequivocal in that outmoded document, is the provision on lottery. Here it is, in full:

"Lotteries are hereby prohibited in this state."

A full page on the subject might logically be expected to include a half-page of loopholes. But not that one simple sentence.

So, if bingo is a lottery, as it was repeatedly held to be before the legislature passed its legalizing bill, bingo is still illegal — and it will be illegal until the state constitution is changed.

It will take some strange judicial gymnastics to alter that fact.

Taxpayers Win Battle

Various and sundry interests will cry "Havoc!" in the wake of Gov. Kirk's latest surgery on state appropriations bills, but we have a feeling that Florida will continue as a going concern during the next biennium.

Nobody, including the governor, is fully satisfied with the end product of all those legislative and executive labors which went into it. Some shortcomings are certain to appear as it is applied to the functions of government.

That is nothing new, nothing to be alarmed about. We do not recall a perfect spending measure in recent history, even when it was accompanied by the customary increase in taxes. The fact that this one, given the Procrustean treatment by Gov. Kirk, is intended to make Florida live within its income does not portend inadequacy.

On the contrary, if the people of Florida are honestly interested in fiscal responsibility in their government, they will welcome this pared-down budget as a long step in the right direction. By their votes in recent elections, citizens of the Sunshine State made it known that constant tax increases will no longer be tolerated. They have won a battle.

They have not won the war, though. Fiscal responsibility at the state level can be nullified by irresponsibility at the local level. And already there are indications that state economics will be used as the springboard for local tax increases.

Significantly, what some sources term "crippling slashes" in the budget are in reality only the differences between what the Democratic majority in the legislature said was needed and what the governor approved. Generally ignored is the fact that the new appropriations measure provides a 29 per cent increase over the current biennium.

Florida is a growing state, with growing counties and growing communities. To the extent that governmental budgets reflect that growth, increases are natural and healthy. When they begin to far outrun such growth it is time to pull up short and take stock. That time has arrived.

Public officials at all levels of government are likely to find that glittering generalities will no longer be accepted as justification for tax increases.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

What Is A Christian?

What is a Christian? Few words are used to mean so many different things.

Some use the name as applying to anyone in this so-called Christian nation who is a Gentile and has not declared himself to be an atheist, an agnostic, or an adherent of some non-Christian religion.

Others use it to designate only those who belong to a certain denomination.

Since 50 A.D.

The name "Christian" has been used for over 19 centuries, since the disciples were first called Christians at Antioch — perhaps about 40 or 50 A.D. Nearly all Christians, in the first decade or so after the death of Christ, were Jews. Later, many Gentiles became followers of Christ.

But waht is a Christian, really?

Whatever we may say now, is it not true that a Christian, in the final analysis, is one whom Christ Himself will acknowledge as one of His own?

Jesus said, "Whosoever shall confess Me before men, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the angels of God."

But He also declared, "Not everyone that saith unto Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter into the kingdom of heaven—but he that doeth the will of My Father which is in heaven."

"I Never Knew You"

"Many will say to Me in that day," He continued, "Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Thy name . . . and in Thy name done many wonderful works?"

"And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you. Depart from Me, ye that work iniquity."

Although those of whom Jesus was speaking, no doubt, called themselves Christians, He stated that He never knew them—or recognized them as His followers.

Is it possible that some of those who today proclaim that they are Christians and are doing God's work are not, in Christ's view, Christians at all?

John Wesley, one of the greatest Christians of all time, wrote that he was not converted—that is, not really a Christian—when he came to this country to preach to the Indians. Wesley, a missionary, did not know Christ as his own personal Savior!

But when he returned to his native England, he went to a meeting at Aldersgate, where he found Christ to be the One Who could forgive his sins and create in him a new heart. From that time on, Wesley was a different man—a power for God.

Child of God

When Martin Luther saw the truth that "the just shall live by faith," he told a friend who had not yet experienced the change that Christ can make in the human heart, "Dear brother, learn Christ and Him crucified . . . Say to Him, 'Thou art my righteousness. I am Thy sin . . . Thou hast taken on Thee what Thou wast not—sin—and hast made me what I was not—a child of God.'"

Have you done this? Are you a Christian?

Tallahassee—You won't know the players when the constitutional revision ball game commences. Sen. Tom Slade, R-Jacksonville, claims.

Slade, Senate Republican whip, said groundwork was laid for a bi-partisan approach to constitutional revision during the weekend meeting with Gov. Claude Kirk on the appropriations bill.

"It was a major breakthrough in understanding," he said.

Listed by Slade, 31-year-old insurance man, were a complete overhaul of the state's tax structure.

"There are gross inadequacies," he said. "We're limited by the constitution and ad valorem tax relief must be taken in a total package."

Secondly, he listed the fact that the constitution is the place to handle tax problems.

Thirdly, he said it was agreed that the state's school system had to be completely overhauled.

Slade, delegation colleague of Sen. Verle Pope, D-St. Augustine, president of the Senate, contends Pope's influence will wane during constitutional revision.

He said many senators privately are sorry Sen. Pope was designated by them to head up this crucial session when for the first time the previously muscle-bound Democrats found their strength dissipated.

"There will be completely new lineups," he said. "You won't even recognize the alignments as compared to the regular session."

Watch for some major shakeups in state government once the extended regular session is over.

Economy in government is not an idle word, when used by Gov. Kirk.

In a recent speech, Gov. Kirk told his audience he didn't favor everything in the version of the constitution presented by the Constitutional Revision Commission (whose meetings he attended religiously before taking office), but he could accept everything in it.

The 1969 legislature, if still Democratically controlled (and there is a lot of evidence to think it won't be), will be North Florida in leadership.

On the other hand, if the Republicans take over, it would give South Florida the first leadership.

The Senate Democrats already have selected Sen. John Mathews, Jacksonville, as president while the house Demos have selected Fred Schultz, Jackson ville, as speaker.

The Senate Demos have selected Reubin Askew, Pensacola, as president pro tem, and the house Demos have selected Phil Ashler, Pensacola, speaker pro tem.

Sort of a "Tale of Two Cities."

On the other hand, the Republicans haven't really gotten down to knocking heads on its leadership because of the need to stay in accord.

However, Don Reed, Boca Raton, is in the saddle for speaker, in the event. He probably has been the most effective member of the House.

Ray Osborne, St. Petersburg, is considered by his colleagues as a bright young man.

In the Senate, a dog fight between Sen. Louis (Skip) Bafalis, North Palm Beach, and C. W. (Bill) Young smolders behind the scenes. When the session is over, a showdown may result.

Slade is in a good position to be president pro tem, or a dark horse to get the top slot. Henry Sayler, St. Petersburg, has been outstanding in handling of appropriations for the Republicans.

Conceivably, the Republican story could be the "Tale of One County"—Palm Beach.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOBE

RAISING CANNON FODDER CLAIMS

Years ago, I ran this rag-time verse in the Lake Wales News, and did I get "burned up" by a lot of people who read and live by Genesis where Adam and Eve were admonished to get busy and get fruitful and plenish the earth. I'm running it again (if the editor's permit) as the world by a large majority now agrees with my thoughts at that time. Lots of time, I'm about two jumps ahead of man kind, but all I get for it is brick-bats and ridicule from some of the churches.

I Think There Oughter Be Some Laws

To hold in check these bumptious birds who seek to rate as super-paws by raising kids in flocks and herds. The Chinks, the Hindus and the Wop and lesser breeds in sundry spots all seem inclined to force the crop where there are now too many tots.

How'er it be, it seems to me that in this good old USA, this well-known home of brave and free, it would be wise to sorter stay the growth upon the family tree. A farmer, wise in modern ways, will thin his corn to proper stand; the fruitman knows that pruning pays, and saws off limbs to beat the band; the stockman plans his fourlegged crop, and plants his grain in wise accord, and has the breeding process stop at limits that he can afford; but when we come to "Nature's King," creation's ruler, lordly man, he climbs into the breeding ring, and without reason, rhyme or plan, regardless of the growing crowd of millions who can scarce exist, acts like all Heaven calls aloud for him to pad the census list!

The preachers like to cite the case of those two parents of us all, who started up this breeding pace, when Old Man Satan caused their fall. But times have changed since Adam's days when there was need of lots of birth, for we are told that these two jays were all the people on this earth. The folks who cause the bulk of grief upon this overcrowded ball should give the stork a long relief, and that I wot, would help us all.

LIFE'S HESPERIDES

My days are in their yellow leaf,
The Autumn season of my year;
The worm, the canker and the grief
For me have failed yet to appear.

For life is love and love is life,
And joys of life will linger on
For him who has a faithful life,
When Summer's leaves are dead and gone.

For honest love will still contrive
It's golden fruits to feed the soul
Whose heart, though old, still keeps alive
Unselfish service as it's goal;
For faith and love are like those trees,
Which in the Grecian lore appear
As growing in Hesperides,
With bloom and fruit throughout the year.

Note—Lord Byron gave me the line: "My days are in their yellow leaf," the rest is my own. He drank himself on wine and everything else; women were "crazy" over him, and he must have sung a lot, for his poems are full of noble thoughts and have superb musical rhythm. He died in Greece fighting for the liberty of that little nation. I wish he were here today to lend the power of his lyre to help little Israel.—O.L.S.

VERY RANDOM THOUGHTS

"A fool there was and he made his prayer
To a bone and a rag and a hank of hair."
But he had more sense, by a mile-long bet
Than the fool who sleeps with a cigarette!

A lovely lady tripped down the street;
She walked on her toes, and not on her feet.
Her "spike-heel" hit a banana peel,
And the ambulance came with a strident squeal.

Sing a song of penitence—
"Driver Fuila gin,"
Happy undertaker
Brings the family in.

Beneath these stones lie Beatnick's bones;
(Tread lightly as you pass!)
He thought his feet was on the brake,
When it was on the gas.

He thought his license gave him right
To drive right down the middle;
And now he's in the Realms of light,
Performing on the fiddle.

I cannot help but crack a smile
At humankind contriving,
With fifty gin-mills to the mile
And laws 'gainst drunken driving.

Izzit smart to spank the silly kid
Who dares cars to run over him?
He's doing what his daddy did
Two dozen years before him!

When we mix booze with gasoline,
Like we do in this nation,
We tend to fade the danger seen
Of over-population.

He thought himself a high-brow sport,
And a prince of royal blood
But before Judge Nelson's court,
He found his name was Mudd.

STOP THIS DAMNABLE MONKEY BUSINESS!

Now, we hear that the stylemakers have issued a ukase to drop the skirts down below the "water-line," about where they are now, to about one fathom above the keel. Some day, people on this ball of mud, inhabited mostly by monkeys gone to seed, will get wise to this racket, which costs humanity billions of uselessly-spent money. This way nothing can be worn but one year—then throw it away—spend another dozen billions to feed a lot of ginks in Paris, New York and other places. Most people on this earth wear their clothes to suit themselves, but, oh, Lord! not us! We have to do as "They wear them now!" Tommy-rot gone to Seed! Sez us!

THE LORD'S PRAYER WAS O. K.

"Mrs. Florence Sunderman presided, and opened the meeting with a poem; then the Lord's Prayer was read and approved."—Huntington, Ind., Herald-Press. This musta pleased the Author of the prayer mightily. Yet, I cannot see why the prayer asked the Lord not to "lead" a chap into "temptation." If I had translated that prayer, I'da said it something like this: "Help us to avoid (or overcome) temptation." I can't see any reason for asking the Heavenly Father not to "lead us into temptation." It may be that I am right smart dumb. The Lord I love never led me into temptation; it was the "Father of Lies" and other evils who did that.

ROGER W. BABSON

Our 1967 Forecast

Babson Park, Mass., July 6 Here in the northeast corner of the U.S., we frequently warn that it is not wise to "review the bad." But then, we know that there is always an "antidote" for every aphorism. So we counter with "Confession is good for the soul." And that is precisely what we plan to do today . . . at the midway mark of 1967. Hence, we turn back to our extensive forecast of things to come in 1967 published here on December 29, 1966. Also, as we go along, we shall adopt a threefold policy aimed at (1) exulting a bit where we were "on the nose," (2) admitting our guilt, and (3) adjusting our course with an eye to the remaining months of the year.

Foreign Developments Steal the Show

As 1966 ended, we warned that "the greatest danger" for the year ahead does not exist on the domestic front." Throughout the first half of 1967 the direst developments surely have been in the military and political areas abroad. As all eyes were firmly fixed on the increasingly bloody conflict in Viet Nam, the Middle East burst into flame. G. A. Nasser of Egypt, egged on by the trouble makers in Moscow and surfeited with Russian armament, screamed for a "holy war" to wipe out Israel. But his zeal soon cooled, as did Goliath's when David moved resolutely forth to meet the danger. As we review the events of recent weeks we recall our December statement: "Heavily armed with Soviet weapons, the Arabs of the Middle East—squared off against Israel—present a grave threat to world peace."

No World War Yet

Despite our forebodings of last year, we then felt that the smoldering fires evident in the Middle East would not erupt into World War III. At the same time we flatly predicted that the issue in Viet Nam would not be resolved in 1967. Today as we weigh more recent developments, we are still convinced that neither Russia nor the U.S. views a head-on collision as inevitable. As a nation we are hopeful that the Soviet will gradually give up their aim of world conquest; while the Politburo is persuaded that Americans are drifting steadily leftward and that we will eventually capitulate to Communism without a nuclear war.

To be sure, the danger is ever present when two strong men armed to the teeth confront each other. Should we overwhelm North Viet Nam, the provocation would be heightened. Had Egypt liquidated Israel, the West would have been pushed toward massive intervention. But apparently our State Department is thinking more of a holding action in South Viet Nam. And Israel's valor saved the U.S. for the time being in the Middle East. Consequently the day of great evil has been put forward . . . hopefully beyond the end of this year.

Turning to Business

There was much more on possible foreign developments in our forecast for 1967. A rereading would be highly exciting in view of unfolding events. But we devoted even more space to domestic and probable happenings in business and finance. We foresaw that military spending would be raised in 1967, softening "the impact of any easing in the private sector of the economy." Flatly we forcast a definite deceleration in business activity. We correctly outlined the threat to profits arising from "unused plant-capacity" and "the inflation in labor and other operating costs." Most important, we predicted "an abrupt switch in 1967 from a problem of inventory accumulation to one of inventory liquidation."

On credit, we expected enough easing to "permit more orderly monetary conditions." On housing we thought it would be "midyear or after before this important part of our economy can contribute much strength to over-all business." We viewed labor as standing "at the cross roads" with "more likelihood in 1967 of restrictive labor legislation than at any time since Taft-Hartley was put on the books." We correctly pegged the sales lag in autos and other durable goods, the hike in living costs, and the "lethargy" in retail trade. But we missed the bad slump in farmers' net income and the difficulties that farm implement manufacturers have been encountering.

Stocks and Politics

At the end of last year we were somewhat more cautious as to the prospects for common stocks than developments since have warranted. However, we were up the right alley in forecasting "the old aristocracy of the blue chips based on past performance" would be "replaced by a new aristocracy of superable management based upon hopes of good future performance." This has been borne out by the way the performance issues have soared while the blue chips wallowed.

It now looks as if we were overoptimistic on the will and capacity of Congress to curb boondoggle spending. We suggested that Congress would become "more critical of the looting going on under cover of the Administration's War on Poverty." However, even with the rising pressures of war and rumors of more war, our legislators have largely followed a program of "pork barrel" as usual. We are still hopeful for an awakening on this score during the remainder of this year.

Looking Hard at the Final Half

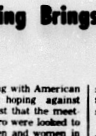
Foremost, we still feel that income taxes will be hiked before autumn is over . . . as a last-ditch stand against rising inflationary pressures. This should make the current historically high yields on tax exempt bonds look more attractive than ever. But it certainly is no "bull argument" in favor of buying common stocks "for income."

The practical certainty of further price advances in most consumer items—red meat particularly—will water down the purchasing power of the many wage increases that will be won in the months ahead. Also the expected acceleration in the Gross National Product will look pretty "thin . . . in terms of constant dollars, ex-inflation.

Finally, we are still looking very hard at possible unfavorable developments in the economic fields abroad. The English pound has been able to give a fairly good account of itself so far this year; but this has not been due to fundamental gains in productivity . . . rather more to financial "window dressing." Higher costs for oil needs, following Middle East disruptions, could once more "upset the applecart." The strain on the pound will again be evident before year's end. And our own dollar may "take some thumps" before the International Monetary Fund's meetings are concluded later in 1967.

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Glassboro Meeting Brings Disillusionment



WASHINGTON, D. C.—The multitudes of Americans who had hoped for constructive results from the Glassboro meetings of President Johnson and Premier Kosygin have been rudely jolted back to earth and now must face the unchanged realities.

The let-down feeling, so prevalent after Kosygin's press conference after his second meeting with the President, was intensified promptly when the Soviet Premier repaid our warm hospitality by taking off from our shores to visit America's most inveterate enemy in this hemisphere, Cuba's Castro.

Going out of his way to honor the Cuban Communist on his departure from the United States paralleled the similar slap Kosygin had directed at this country on his way here when he stopped off in Paris for a hate-America

It is in keeping with American persistence in hoping against hope for the best that the meetings in Glassboro were looked to by so many men and women in this country as a possible firm step toward stable peace and toward the resolution of the critical problems in Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

But the higher the hopes, the greater the disillusionment. Past summits and their aftermaths should have taught us to expect little from this one. The rigidity of the Soviet positions on Viet Nam and on the Israel-Arab conflict should have made us skeptical of overnight policy switches. And the narrowness of authority held by Kosygin, in contrast with the power exercised by his predecessors, should have conveyed the warning that he was here as little more than a messenger boy designated to state Kremlin policies but not to alter them by so much as a single comma.

So the meetings ended with Russia insisting, as it has all along, that the first and essential step for settlement in Viet Nam is United Statts withdrawal and that the first and essential step for settlement in the Middle East is Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab areas.

Kosygin nailed down his preconditions for peace by an exhibition of boorish behavior at the press conference which must have shocked millions of television viewers. Asked if President Johnson might receive in Russia the same warm welcome given Kosygin here, the Premier asserted that United States "aggression" in Viet Nam would have to be ended before welcome could be assured.

But even while the Premier and the President were conferring, the Soviets were busily engaged in rearming the Arabs, and Russian satellite Poland was pledging further supplies of weapons to Hanoi to help fight the American "aggressors."

It quite plainly is time for us in the United States to abandon dreams in favor of facing actualities. It is time for all of us, but particularly the public officials in whom the people have placed their confidence and trust, to recognize our enemies and treat them as enemies instead fo rewarding them with support in the deluded hope that we can buy their friendship.

Now that hopes so brightly fixed on Glassboro have been proven illusory, we in this country should be back to earth: And perhaps that is the best place to be for facing realities.

Animal Kingdom

Bright and alert, this little fellow is only 10 months old and tries awfully hard to please. He has a shiny brown coat and since he couldn't tell us his name, he is simply "Brownie." He is something of a ham, and although he does not have a pedigree, he will make up for it in many other ways. He would make a good companion for young or old and he seems to be saying "Try me."
