The Library Corner

In the story, "In God We Trust—All Others Pay Cash," Jean Shepherd writes of Ralph, 8 or 10 years old. The narration does not have much plot, but give us hilarious glimpses of a "kids' life" — a male child — especially in the dirty thirties, the depression years. Do some of you remember? This story might be of most any child in most any time of history. But we have a feeling it is autobiographical. Although the author, Jean Shepherd, make a point of saying "The characters, places, and events — are entirely fictitious, and any resemblance — etc., etc." However Mr. Shepherd does dedicate the book "to my mother, my kid brother, and the rest of the bunch."

"The philosophy of the life of a Male Kid is what grown-ups are doing. The adult world seems to be some kind of secret society that has its own handclaps, passwords, and countermeasures. The thing is to get in."

Ralph lives in Hohman, Ind., a steel mill town. He has to do with teachers who expect you to read the book you read on — with candy store owners who make you take the slower selling candies — with 18 million mosquitoes on a midnight fishing trip — against dedicated bullies and against any and every symbol of authority.

There is a lively involvement in Ralph's bitter-sweet, died-up memories of things as they really were that will strike a remnant chord in each of us who has passed through the period of growing up.

Florida Power Increases Service

Florida Power Corporation announces to the public that in keeping with their Company policy of providing the most reliable, economical electric service to their customers, they have finished plans to purchase five turbo-set-powered generating units for periods of peak demand at strategic locations in their 32 county system, announced by A. F. Perez, president of Florida Power Corporation.

Perez said, "The five peak units will be designed, constructed and installed by the Turbine Division of Worthington Corporation, Wellesville, N. Y., and about the end of 1953 will make available more than 165,000 kilowatts of base load power for our system." The primary purpose of a peaking unit is to provide an immediate source of reserve power to meet customer requirements during periods of high electricity demand. Florida Power's eight major steam electric plants now generate approximately 1,500,000 kilowatts of power.

Perez reported that the first peaking unit is scheduled for operation in Sept. 1953 and will be located at the site of the company's Bayboro plant in St. Petersburg. Two additional units will be in service by October 1953, at the Avon Park site in Avon Park, and the remaining two units in order will be in operation during December, 1953, at the Higgins plant in Oldsmar.

Florida Power's five peaking units will feature ease of operation and instant availability. Perez said the units will be capable of being controlled from the Company's system load dispatching center in St. Petersburg and will be able to start, synchronize, and reach full power in less than four minutes. The units can operate on natural gas, jet aircraft fuel, or oil.

Perez said, "Our peaking units will be vital during peak demands for power, and will also serve as independent, emergency power sources so that customers will have ready availability of electricity under critical circumstances."

City Council Approves One Hour Parking In Downtown Area

A group of local merchants, that are located on the block on Main Street where South Florida Junior College currently holds their classes, requested that the Council enact two hour parking and return to one hour parking in the downtown business area. The Council voted unanimously to adopt the group's wishes. They pointed out through their spokesman, Malcolm Tatum, that he had no quarrel with the College's value both from a business standpoint and what it means to the entire area. But the merchants felt that something had to be done to help alleviate the parking situation in the area.

The city is now back in the dog business as they hired, A. P. Cooper, a 21-year resident of Avon Park, to be dog catcher. Councilmen voted to pay him a dollar a dog, and 25¢ for feeding the animal. This is the third dog catcher to be hired by the city since the first of the year. Cooper will work with the police department on the project. He started work on Tuesday morning.

Councilmen approved the re-

Decision On Local Stop By End of Month

Commissioner Ed Mason of the Public Service Commission told the "Sun" that he is expecting that the commission will rule by the end of the month on whether to accept or reject the City of Avon Park's project of stoppage of Train Service of the Silver Meteor and Silver Star in both directions.

Last June 2, Mr. Mason conducted an eight-hour hearing where the formal protest was filed. Mr. Mason promised the "Sun" as soon as a decision was reached, he would notify the paper. He said that the Commission were awaiting a report from the legal department of the commission and that the report was expected shortly.

Commissioner Mason was in Highlands County conducting a telephone company hearing at the Highlands County Court House in Sebring.

A commission voted previously in August that they were denying a motion filed by S. C. Pacific Attorney for the City and Chamber of Commerce, granting a stop pending final outcome of the case. This has created some misunderstanding among many that the final decision had been granted.

Master Plan For Junior College Approved

School representatives of Highlands and Hardee Counties have approved the master plan and the first phase of construction for the new South Florida Junior College.

The master plan calls for a campus for 1,500 students on an acre site just south of Avon Park and adjoining Route 27.

The two-year college will be one of the first in the state to offer both liberal arts and vocational-technical programs of the same campus. One of the advantages of such a plan is the cost savings that will result from sharing administrative, library and student center buildings and staff.

Construction for phase one of the program is scheduled to start during the first half of 1968. This phase will provide facilities for 300 students. The first eight buildings will include a lecture center, library resource center, science and art units, administration and general classrooms and initial vocational-technical facilities. Estimated cost for phase one construction including land in equipment and site development is $1,250,000.

The buildings will be of pre-cast concrete and will be connected by covered walkways. The campus is planned so that the buildings overlook Lake Glenda. Dr. William A. Stollard, president of the college, has stressed flexibility as he and his associates have worked with architects during the past several months. The site planning is intended to blend the buildings and campus space with the shoreline of the lake.

Architects at Tuesday's meetings were William A. Stollard, partner in The Perkins & Will Partnership, Chicago architect and partner, and William R. Frazzelli of Fort Myers.

The two firms also collaborated on the award-winning Edison Junior College near Fort Myers. Perkins & Will has been responsible for the master planning and design of more than 20 junior colleges throughout the nation.

Approved $70,000 for a new siren for one of the Police cars and approved purchase of a spotlight for each police car.

A CO2 bottle to be put in the trunk of the cars for an emergency and flares to be put in the cars.

Approved $120 a month for the award-winning Edison Junior College near Fort Myers.

Perkins & Will has been responsible for the master planning and design of more than 20 junior colleges throughout the nation.

Sweet Trial Moves To Bartow Monday

Circuit Court Judge William K. Love of Lakeland, the presiding judge in the Maxcy murder case, granted the defense motion of change of venue to Polk County in Bartow on Monday morning, October 23 at 9 a.m.

After two and a fraction days of attempting to get jurors for the case only ten men and one woman had been tentatively picked for further consideration as jurors. The judge stated that it was apparent a 12 man jury could not be selected in Highlands and hence he was granting the motion.

The case is being moved to an area in which the Maxcy family has extensive holdings.

The murder trial of John J. Sweet was growing slowly here today as opposing attorneys gave dramatic glimpses of what is to come as they struggled to pick a jury.

And it still was undecided if Sweet, 31, the bulky palldor who helped carry the murdered Charles Von Maxcy to his grave a year ago, will testify in his own defense.

Questioning of jurors, in a courtroom opened to the press and public when proceedings began, brought out some sensational statements.

Irene Maxcy's widow, "con-spired to get her husband killed to profit from his estate. Testimony will be brought out that she asked and abetted in his killing—that she plotted by the estate—that he was planning to change his will," said defense Attorney Walter Manley.

The widow "is going to have to admit that this was her idea or that she was involved in it," Defense Counsel James McEwen.

If Irene Maxcy admitted she had sexual relations with another person, her husband, to Von Maxcy, would that keep you from believing her testimony?" State's Attorney George Darty.

It is evidence shows that Sweet was not present when the killing took place, would this influence your decision?" Darty.

Mrs. Maxcy has been given immunity from prosecution for her testimony before the grand jury Sweet is at liberty on $25,000 bond.

They'll Lock Up Jury
Section of a jury went slowly as it became apparent the state will seek the death penalty, Florida's electric chair. Once selected they will be locked up.

Many of the prospective jurors flatly stated they are opposed to capital punishment. Judge William K. Love dismissed them "for cause."

At the rate selection of the jury is going, it could be next week, informed sources said, before witnesses are called to testify. In the first two hours of questioning six were disqualified and only one, Ed Carter, manager of the Avon Park Sun was tentatively accepted.

Defense Attorney McEwen and they expect to go through the entire venire—50 were drawn—before finally accepting any of them. Those tentatively accepted for duty will be subjected to preliminary challenges. Both prosecution and defense have 10 challenges each, which means they can say they will not accept a juror giving no reason.

Will Sweet take the witness stand? Deceased Maxcy's Attempted second four Highlands County mortuary. The room, which holds 120, was partially filled with 50 prospective jurors, newspaper reporters, Mrs. Sweet, pretty, sweet-faced, the defendant, their family was Robert, 21, and one spectator—Tampa attorney, Tom Hachon representing the Gagnard Maxcy, member of the slain and Maxcy businessman.

The tall, handsome Maxcy was found shot and stabbed October 3, 1966, on the velvet parlor rug of the master bedroom in his rambling ranch home just west of Sebring.

It was a warm October day outside, but the courtroom was very cold, its blinds drawn and its lights on as black-robed Circuit Court Judge William K. Love took the bench.

He promptly denied all pending motions. The matter of moving the trial to Polk County if a jury cannot be obtained can be brought up again.

Judge Love, in denying motions, overrode defense objections to press attendance at the trial, and the trial is open to both press and public.

The details about the door to defense attorneys' possible pretrial questioning of Irene Maxcy, the state's star witness and one-time caddy worker.

Proceedings had been under way less than an hour when McEwen pointed out that under a law which went into effect September 1, all prospective jurors must fill out a rather lengthy questionnaire about their consciences. This had not been done, so Judge Love sent the jurors to the county commission room at the end of the hall to fill out the questionnaires which Circuit Court Clerk Earl Rhee had ready.

"Mr. Rich is very alert, very," declared McEwen, adding the clerk had prepared question-

Red Devils Win Over Marauders 64-7 Before Homecoming Crowd

The Red Devils put on an unbelievable offensive show last Friday night to put the finishing touch to the impressive season by routing the Marauders 64-7 before a homecoming crowd. The Devils scored ten touchdowns against the Clearwater Catholic Marauders 64-7 before a large partisan crowd. A pass from quarterback Steve Taylor to tackle Larry Hopkins on a "tackle eligible" play was good for eleven yards and the TD after Taylor ran over the point after to save the Marauders from suffering a shut-out.

Devil halfback Lucius Taylor scored first for Avon Park, skirting left end from six yards out to culminate a 49-yard drive on the ground with the aid of 20 yards of penalties against the Central Catholic defense. Dean Lemley tried a run through the middle for the PAT but it was stopped short.

After an exchange of punts, Billy Richards intercepted a Marauder pass on the Clearwater 49-yard line and dashed 16 yards to the 27 yard line. The Devils ground out the yardage in short gains and finally Lemley went over, though the middle for the second touchdown from one yard out and Taylor added the point after skirting left end again. The Devils led 13-0 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second period Avon Park scored 26 points with halfback Billy Richards contributing 18 points, halfback Dean Lemley scored first from seven yards out taking a lateral from Monteleone on a quarterback play. Monteleone pitched back with perfect timing when he was hit and Richards picked the ball out of the air and dashed in for the score. The Devils were 34-0.

Seminole Pay Tribute to Late John Caffee

Henry Caffee mourns the loss of the last of his three brothers, who have all passed away within the past few months. Robert S. Caffee passed away Sept. 2, followed by George E. Jr., seven days later. The last of the Caffee family, John Caffee, died of a heart attack Wednesday Oct. 18 in Tallahassee as he was preparing to go to VPI where he was to be Grand Marshall for the FSU homecoming parade. Death came instead. He was a former classmate of Ed Webb Touchette, Sr.

Old orange jersey No. 13 draped across the Florida State dressing room blackboard Saturday, mourning the passing of John Caffee, helped the Seminoles beat Texas Tech 28-12.

The jersey was not a coaches' gimmick. The players put it there. It belonged to 74-year-old John Caffee, an admirer of the Seminoles, a companion, a teammate.

The Seminoles dedicated Saturday's Homecoming Game to his memory and presented the game trophy to his family.

Caffee, a tackle and captain of the Virginia Tech Gobblers at the turn of the century, missed only two Florida State practices for eight years.

Each Bill Peterson made an exception and let him in to closed practices, but said he had to dress out. He wore the orange jersey No. 13. "I think he remembered every play, every block he made when he played. It was his life. The guy was fantastic."

The Seminoles wore black armbands on their arms in tribute to Caffee in mourning Saturday, to their beloved John Caffee.

DAYLIGHT TIME ENDS

Wanted: Strong Men!

By W. F. Luscomb

Last week an assortment of about 50,000 confused citizens, communists, peacebills and unwashed hippies defied the dictates of good taste, good manners and respect for the dignity of high office and marched on the Pentagon in Washington with a great deal of fanfare, hot air and threats against Secretary of Defense McNamara. About half a dozen managed to circumvent the lines of remarkably controlled troops and actually got inside the building. They were promptly and firmly tossed out on their proverbial ears. And that's the way it should be. The time for vacillation and appeasement is gone. Firm action by men of strong character is the answer to this whole mess.

Thousands of troops had been shipped into Washington at great expense to the taxpayers. (You and I, and thousands of words had been printed making dire predictions of the terrible things which might happen, but didn't.) The peacebills made their noise, and with the exception of tons of trash scattered across the beautiful grounds of our Capitol, nothing was accomplished and nothing occurred but a lot of noise. Just a handful of radicals or communists leading a multitude of confused people.

This was only one of the many flare-ups which occurred throughout the world last week. I checked each one as I found it and a definite pattern started to emerge. In Sweden, Socialist Premier Tage Erlander, demanded that the United States unconditionally and immediately halt all bombing in North Viet Nam. Note the word "Socialist." In Russia, a communist group called "Representatives of the Moscow Public" gave U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson a petition condemning American action in Viet Nam. In Japan, a communist group called "Japanese Peace for Viet Nam Committee" mustered a crowd of 2000 leftist youths, pacifists and educators to march in violent protest to the war in Viet Nam. In Paris, 30,000 marched in a communist-led demonstration against the U. S. Thirty placard waving Israeli communists staged a protest against the U. S. Embassy in Tel Aviv. There were more demonstrations, but the pattern becomes clear. All were led by communists, or were communist inspired. And to top it off, an Associated Press dispatch from Tokyo in quoting a Hanoi broadcast stated that Hanoi was "pleased and encouraged by the Pentagon demonstration" and wished the demonstrators "splendid success with their mounting movement."

This from the leaders in North Vietnam with whom, declared or not, we are at war? They are complimenting and encouraging civil disobedience in our country. And what is harder to understand, thousands of our citizens, intelligently or stupidly, are helping them.

There is need of a strong police, put into action by strong men who will battle this growing cancer of lawlessness which is pervading our nation. And the measures must be strong, and the men must put country before all else, that takes a type of man which is hard to find and getting scarcer as the years roll on. We had them in the days of Valley Forge. That type of man pushed the railroads across the plains, and I believe we still have them. I hope we find them in time.

In the next when any person or group performed acts which gave aid and comfort to the enemy it was called treason, and those people were arrested and punished. And it must be done now. We cannot take the attitude that if we are quiet and acquiescent, it will go away. That is appeasement, and it won't work. This is the most serious domestic problem of the century. Civil disobedience must be stopped and lawlessness must be punished. Strong men and strong measures are needed, and the time is now.

Sweet Trial

First Time in State
This is probably the first time in the state that the question names have been used, informed sources said. They are made available when compiled to both prosecution and defense and out save time in questioning.

The Monday morning session dragged into the afternoon and was dismissed for lunch about 1:45 P.M. Only six possible jurors at the city golf course. Then came Pete Danford, a ranch foreman of Lake Placid, questioned by the state.

The first man called for questioning was Roland Gill, 240 West Drive, Sebring, an employee at the city golf course. Then came Pete Danford, a ranch foreman of Lake Placid, questioned by the state.

He had marked on his questionnaire that he had a fourth grade education, but could not read or write.

"How did you fill out your questionnaire?" asked McEwen. "I guess it's a cliff," laughed Danford.

Gill, Danford and Tillman Ammons of Avon Park, called, were excused. Ammons had said he would disregard testimony any witness involved in the crime who had immunity.

Danford, because he would be unable to read documents to be presented, and Gill, because he appeared to be confused over the legal terms being used.

Mrs. Mary MacLellan, a bank teller from Lake Placid, and Arnold Belcher, a Department of Agriculture employee in Sebring, were excused by the judge when they declared themselves opposed to capital punishment.

Prosecutor Glen Darty, in questioning jurors, asked if they would be prejudiced by a witness who was divorced or an unfaithful husband, if they had ever served in the military, if they were acquainted with any of the attorneys.

Jury Decides To Continue
He pointed out the jury will decide two questions — first, whether the defendant is guilty, and secondly whether to recommend mercy.

About 21 prospective jurors were called, but only 13 were served. 13 excused from service. This left a total of 41 available for questioning and possible jury service.

Those excused were Hayward Dancy, a county practitioner, Kola Anderson, Marie Anderson, Lawrence Bayles, Bill and Paul, and a 13-year-old boy, J. Bond, Jr., son of Lake Placid.

City Clerk Jack Sprague, Ralph Sprague, William Bryan, Lillian Boyd, and Mrs. M. McAllen, all from Lake Placid, were called.

Tentatively accepted during the afternoon were Allen Cook, a beautician of Avon Park, Ray Bennett, a land clearer, of Avon Park, Willie Rhea, a gardener and maintenance man, 20 Grand Ave., Sebring, and James A. Crawford, an accountant and retired Air Force sergeant, of Avon Park.

Dismissed after questioning were Margaret Armour of San Jose, Lake Estates, Lake Placid, Milton Gason, 128 Lemon Ave., Sebring, Grace Aiken, Lake Placid, and William McAllen, 20 Grand Ave., Sebring, and Terri Akin of Avon Park.

Tuesday
The second day's group of jurors—75 had been called—appeared and were in the courtroom only to be dismissed and told to return Wednesday.

They were admonished by the judge as he had administered Monday's group of jurors to read newspaper accounts of the trial and to listen to radio and TV broadcasts concerning it.

As Tuesday's session began, many were about in spectators. Among them were Mrs. Love in a pretty green and white knit, and James Brett, Orlando attorney, wearing a dark suit. Maxey personally and also for her work as co-executor in the estate of her husband, Mr. Sweet, wife of the defendant, said, once, braced for the courtroom clash in a smart gray suit, dress.

18 Out of 29 Stop Smoking Habit Here

Of the 29 persons who started the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking one week ago last Sunday evening, 18 have stuck to their guns and are no longer smoking.

Chaplain Danforth of the Five-Day Plan, who reports the outcome of the program, says that he believes these 18 are well over the hump. He warned, however, that they are not necessarily free of the tobacco habit, even though they had not smoked for several days.

The habit pattern is still there. But those folks have proved that they can get rid of it, and it will be much easier for them to manage their problems.

The minister-physician team tried harder to continue to reach each other even though the formal course was completed. "The next two months," he stated, "are critical, for there is a tendency to relax the vigil against those patterns of living which related to the smoking habit, and almost without thinking, a one-time smoker can fall into the habit again."

For those who feared they would gain weight, the minister-physician prescribed a hearty breakfast, a balanced lunch and a light meal at night.

Participants signed decision cards, indicating they chose not to smoke. They will carry these with them as a reminder.

Chaplain Danforth said that the open discussion period, during which participants related their experiences with the "battle" indicated a real spirit of enthusiasm in marked contrast to similar periods at the first of the week.

The group voted unanimously to have what they called an "all-day" meeting, November 16. The group plans to meet frequently to compare notes.

Requests have been received for a repeat of the course, and plans are now under way to have another session the last week in January, 1968.

Citrus Men Have Tour And Luncheon

A citrus herbicide tour was held last week in Highlands County, and featuring a luncheon and talk at Griffin's Restaurant by Bill Kirk, a representative of the E. I. DuPont Co., who showed slides devoted to methods of application, and machines used in applying a new weed killer called "Sinhar". Kirk also expanded the ten principles of weed control in citrus groves.

Thirty-five citrus men representing Hardee, Highlands and DeSoto Counties made the tour, according to the grower manager, Charlie Williams.

Charlie says that the new herbicide is very effective, and he is well satisfied with the results obtained. "We hope to see many more men on the weed control tour this year," Charlie added, "and since this is our 'adjustment' year, we will be holding a heavy breakfast, a balanced lunch and a light meal at night."

Participants signed decision cards, indicating they chose not to smoke. They will carry these with them as a reminder.

Nassau Trip For Girls School

A group of 22 girls left last Thursday for a long weekend in Nassau, the second trip made by the girls.

They left at noon on the Miami Bahama Air Lines arriving at 6 p.m.

They report excellent accommodations at the Butch Colonial Hotel where they stayed.

They visited all places of interest, Fort Charlotte, Dunbar's as in olden days, historic Fort Montague, Queens Staircase, old churches and many other places of interest including a tour of the city. They noted the well kept highways by the city. They took a three hour cruise on "Tropic Bird" and anchored for a swim and lunch. Liquid sunshine presented itself each day until their return trip.

Departing on Sunday they arrived back to the school a happy but tired group.

NETWORK REPS IN AVON PARK

Two representatives of National Broadcasting Company in New York visited Avon Park recently to look over facilities at Florida's Alcohol Rehabilitation Center. Purpose of the visit was to determine whether the FARC would be included in a forthcoming TV documentary on alcoholism. The two New Yorkers have decided to include the installation in the documentary to be telecast nationwide. Shown here discussing the situation are left to right: Rafael Abramowitz of NBC, FARC Clinical Psychologist Mel Thomas, Len Giovanni of NBC, and Director of Information Services Don Thorne.

Freeholders Vote On School Tax Tuesday

Highlands County freeholders go to the polls Tuesday to vote on the district school millage. And they will be deciding when they do so, whether they are going to trust the state or the county for school financing.

Roland X. Drent, elections supervisor, is not expecting a good turnout. Polls as usual will be open from 7 A.M. to 7 P.M. The county has more than 12,000 registered voters and all those who pay taxes, real or personal, are eligible to cast a ballot.

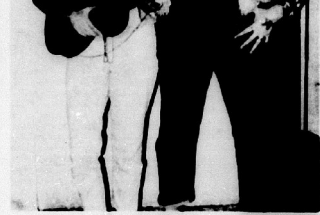

The Highlands County Board of Public Instruction is asking for authority to levy up to six mills in school district taxes for the 1967-78 term. The full levy would, on the present tax roll, produce an income of $122,330 per year, or Supervisor George F. Douglass said, enough money for "flexibility in planning." It is a bonus when the level of state support is very uncertain.

The additional 2.8 mills asked now would give us about a half million dollars, above what we now have," Douglass said.

Before the tax reassessment program the 10 mill levy district levy is 2.2 mills.

brought in, for the 1965 year $507,094. The 32 levy now in operation is yielding $602,442 for the current school year.

County Tax Assessor Billy Martin said he cannot foresee any dramatic changes in the tax roll over the next biennium. "As

THIRTY DAYS NEXT CASE! Good thing that Halloween comes but once a year for these two Hippies, Highlands County State Trooper Frank Williams and wife Janie on route to a Church Halloween party. (Sun photo)

"We hope," Douglass said, "the voters will recognize that the school board could not recommend something not realistic. If the public wonders what safeguard it has that the board would not recklessly spend money, not just because it has the power to levy taxes to support the spending, but the point of it that the public is always invited to attend public hearings on the annual budget. Notices of these hearings are published well in advance, and citizens can and should attend to discuss the expenses of our schools."

"We have been and are faced with reduction in state aid. This year we have reduced our maintenance budget, transportation and school construction. We cannot go on year after year with these portions of the budget at the level they are this year. If state help does not come, we must turn to local sources."

The six mill levy the board is recommending will give the board some elbow room. We could budget a cash carryover, provide funds for current expenses not being paid by race track taxes and this would free the race track money for construction.

"Of course we hope the state will accept a greater share of responsibility for the operation of the schools, and the school board has pledged it will levy only that portion of six mills really essential to operation of an adequate school system," Douglass said.

10 Mills Authorized
The Superintendent pointed out that two years ago the county taxpayers authorized a 10 mill levy. The school board pledged it would roll back the district levy when the tax reassessment program had been completed, and the board did. No law required a roll back on the district levy voted by the taxpayers, but the Highlands board kept faith with the voters and last year set the district levy at 3 mills. This year the

Red Devils Travel To Naples Friday

The 16-Soto High Building defense proved too strong for the Avon Park Red Devils last Friday night in Arcadia and the Bulldogs took a 1-0 win from the Devils to set Avon Park's record at 2-3-1.

This week the Red Devils travel all the way to Naples to take on the Eagles who have won four games, last two and lost one this season. The Eagles' two losses were to Arcadia 2-1 and Sebring 3-2, the tie was a 2-2 tie against Venice, and the wins were North Fort Myers 2-0, Clewiston 2-0, Punta Gorda 2-0, and Cypress Lake 2-0. Last year Avon Park defeated Naples 2-0 here at Memorial Stadium.

The Red Devils played on Tuesday night and the Bulldogs played for almost two quarters last week but the big Bulldogs put together a 75-yard scoring drive in the final minutes of the first half to take a 6-0 lead at halftime.

Not the team could get out of its own territory in the first period. Devil Jim Williams came up with a big pass interception late in the first period to stop one Bulldog drive.

On the Bulldog scoring drive, the Devils had them stopped deep in their own territory but an offside penalty against Avon Park nullified the Arcadia punt and gave the Bulldogs a first down to keep the drive alive. A couple of pass completions were good for over 25 yards and Robert Bryant ate up the yardage carry after carry. He was held back by the Bulldogs' defense but Charles Washington's second kick for the extra point was short after a five yard penalty set the Bulldogs back to the seven and the Arcadia boys had a slim 6-0 lead at the halftime whistle.

The third period was also a defensive battle with the Devils unable to move into Bulldog territory. Arcadia threatened seriously late in the third quarter when Dorsey Scroggins intercepted an Avon Park pass on the Devil 37-yard line. The Bulldogs moved quickly to the Devil 18-yard line but two incomplete passes and a one yard running gain stopped the drive and Washington attempted a field goal from the eighteen which was just inches long of the crossbar and no good.

Midway in the last period, after both teams had been unable to move the ball successfully, Arcadia recovered a fumble on the Devil 20-yard line. It took the Bulldogs just three running plays to score with Roger Bryant eating up most of the yardage and going in for the TD from five yards out. Again Washington's kick was no good on the point after attempt but the 12-0 lead forced the Devils to gamble as the time slipped away.

Both teams had two more offensive tries to move the ball but the two defensive teams held tight and forced punts on both occasions. Arcadia's 40-yard punt put Avon Park back on its own 34-yard line and two plays later Bryant intercepted a Devil pass at the Avon Park 11-yard marker. A pass from Bulldog quarterback Rex Smith to big end Charles Washington was good for the whole eleven yards and the touchdown and Washington's kick was good for the PAT to set the score 18-0 with only seconds left in the game.

Avon Park's defense did an outstanding job against the Bulldogs. The last drive by the Devil unit held the Bulldogs to 69 yards of passing and gave up 125 yards on the ground. Devil punter Dean Lemler booted the ball six times for a 36-yard average.

The Avon Park offense simply couldn't move against the Bulldogs. The small Devil backs were cut down before they could break into the open and three of the six passes thrown by Avon Park were intercepted by the tall Arcadia secondary. Willie Joe Seigler was the Devil's leading ground gainer with 20 yards and an end around play beyond 8 yds. with Lector McNeil carrying for the Devils.

Sweet Trial Expected To Cost Highlands County Taxpayers $15,000; Testimony Starts Today

The trial of John J. Sweet for the murder of Charles Von Mawry is expected to cost Highlands County more than $15,000, with most of it in witness fees and mileage.

And the 16-day trial, which witnesses get $15 for each day they are required to remain here, will cost taxpayers more than $15,000.

With more than 90 witnesses called to the stand, the trial is expected to last at least five or six weeks.

The $15,000 figure is based on fees and mileage being paid to witnesses. The county shoulders the witness expense along with any charge needed for extra help needed by the office of the circuit court clerk in Bartow or Sebring.

Although the trial has moved to Bartow, Highlands County still bears the expense of witnesses and extra clerical help. James get $15 a day and six cents a mile and the state picks up their tab.

The 20 out-of-state witnesses get $15 per day and 10 cents a mile.

Records in the offices of County Commission Clerk Jim Pyle and Criminal Court Clerk Vera Rowers confirmed that 19 witnesses in California already have received $600 expenses of 10 cents a mile both ways and $5 per day for six days attendance at the trial. About 15 persons from Massachusetts have received $150 each in Atlanta received $150 each.

Puck County, according to Assistant State Attorney Joseph H. Smith, will have to pay bail for six and others from the sheriff's office. But county officials are on duty for the trial which should be Sheriff Broward's last day of duty. The trial will be spending for bailiffs, etc.

He explained that having the press inside the railing has been criticized by the U. S. Supreme Court because the press has been known to get out of hand. So far, the press corps at this trial apparently has been well behaved. They will be permitted to remain in the railing "unless something occurs," the judge explained. Del Neely was selected as a spokesman for the group in case there are problems to communicate.

As in Sebring, there will be 15 minute recesses at 10:30 A.M. and 2:30 P.M. plus five minutes every hour. Because the court reporter, Rose Sclafani, finger rests get too sore. The finger rests permit the reporters to phone in their stories.

Judge Questions Jurors
The judge announced he would continue to do some of the interrogation of the prospective jurors as he did in Sebring.

"How far do you intend to go?" demanded Defense Counsel James M. O'Shea of Tampa jumping to his feet. The judge assured him not far, just enough to save some time. Also in the interest of saving time, three jurors will be called at a time and all will hear general questions, rather than having all questions repeated for each.

Questions include whether the jury is 21, whether he or she has been convicted of a felony and if so, have the civil rights been restored.

Jurors who wanted to be excused for one reason or another took up the most of the morning, but by 11:15 there had been disposed of. The remaining 42 were sent down to Courtroom B and a 15 minute recess called.

The first three jurors were called in for questioning at 11:30 A.M. First was a Lake Hamilton mechanic, Charles C. O'Shea. He was questioned by Buford D. Thornton of Auburndale, a telegrapher with the Sebring-Clearing Railroad. Mrs. Marguerite J. Lake, a Lake Hamilton housewife, was excused after stating she did not believe in the death penalty.

Local Bill Will Provide Licenses

Faced with an insufficient number of available licenses for private clubs in Highlands County, the Legal Control Committee, which backed the sale of liquor by the drink in the recent successful election, plans to remedy the situation.

As soon as the Legislature is convened we plan to have Sen. Wilbur Boyd put through a local bill which should have no trouble passing, declared George E. Sebring, III, chairman of the committee. "This will give us additional licenses which will take care of private, fraternal clubs which were up to now not taken care of because of the quota."

Under Florida law, all counties with less than 900,000 population are permitted only five private club licenses.

In a special meeting Tuesday the Highlands County commissioners agreed to return to the public a beverage control board a questionnaire about whether a liquor sales outlet at Leisure Lakes would violate local zoning law.
