(Reprinted from The Rock County Star-Herald)

I am a "tired American".

I'm tired of being called the "Ugly American".

I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a "tired American" — weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a "tired American" — weary of being lectured by General DeGaulle who never won a battle, who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a "tired American" — weary of Nasser and all the other blood sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and who kick him on the shins and yank his beard if the cash flow falters.

I am a "tired American" — choked up to here on this business of trying to intimidate our government by placard, picket line and sit in by the hordes of the dirty unwashed who rush to man the barricades against the forces of law, order and decency.

I am a "tired American" — weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a "tired American" — fed up with mobs of stabby faced, long haired youths and short haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a "tired American" — weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a "tired American" — nauseated by the lazy do nothings who wouldn't take a job if you drove them to and from work in a Rolls Royce.

I am a "tired American" who is tired of supporting families who haven't known any other source of income other than government relief checks for three generations.

I am a "tired American" who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched America in an obscenity race . . . who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture . . . in the arts, the movies, "literature," the stage and the mobs who see Lenny Bruce as "brightly amusing" and Norman Mailer as "compelling".

I'm tired of these "artists" who scavenge in the cess pools for inspiration and who refuse to look up at the stars.

I am a "tired American" — weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines . . . and the sit ins . . . who prefer Chinese communism to capitalism . . . who see no evil in Castro but sneer at President Johnson as a "threat to peace".

I am a "tired American" who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast. Movies denouncing the United States. Movies made in Communist China.

I am a "tired American" who is angered by the self righteous "breast beater" critics of America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States but never apply the same standards to the French, the British, the Russians, the Chinese.

I am a "tired American" who resents the pimply faced beatniks who try to represent Americans as the "bad guys" on the black horses.

I am a "tired American" who is weary of some Negro leaders who, for shock purposes, scream four letter words in church meetings.

I am a "tired American" — sickened by the slack jawed bigots who wrap themselves in bedsheets in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

I am a "tired American" who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes yet send their own children to private schools.

I am a "tired American" who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed.

They say they hate capitalism but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a "tired American" who gets more than a little bit weary of the clique in our State Department who choose to regard a policy of timidity as prudent . . . the same group who subscribe to a "no win" policy in Viet Nam.

I am a "tired American" — real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world . . . a generous hearted nation . . . a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the "Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back the tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brassy trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flag pole.

I am a "tired American" — who wants to start snapping at those phoney "high priests" who want us to bow down and worship their false idols and who seek to destroy the belief that America is the land of the free and the home of the brave.

I am a "tired American" who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to be born an American citizen . . . a nation . . . under God . . . with truly mercy and justice . . . for all.

BREMEN PRESERVES GLORIES OF THE PAST

The past still lives in Bremen. Another favorite camera subject is the 550-year-old statue of stalwart Knight Roland standing outside the Town Hall.

Bremerhaven, Bremen's nearby port, handles much of Germany's most precious specialized cargo—including passengers arriving on the S.S. United States. Bremen, Europa, Berlin.

In the News

Arthur J. Goldberg, our top man at the United Nations, was in the news again when he said that the United States shared with Canada the view that China should be "brought into the mainstream" of world peace efforts. Mr. Goldberg, who made the statement in Ottawa, said he plans to visit a number of foreign capitals to discuss "common United Nations problems" between sessions of the General Assembly.

The Things We Say

By Ruby Shannon

Cliches are so popular in the Midwest that composers of country music write songs about them. Buck Owens has a lively little number on one of his albums entitled, "Split the Blanket."

On twin beds, a split blanket might find some use, but at the time the phrase was coined twin beds were not used.

Midwesterners split other things besides blankets such as a bottle of wine or soda, or they split their ticket, which means they divided their voting ballot between two opposing parties. Oklahomans elected their first Republican governor, Henry Bellmon, in 1962, but they chose a Democrat, Leo Winters, for Lieutenant Governor.

When friends quarrel, they are said to "split up," and when traders have a hard time agreeing on a price they sometimes "split the difference" by dividing equally the amount in dispute.

Doubtless, "split the blanket" originated when some angry wife took out her scissors and did just that, sending her tormentor-husband to the couch or out of the house with his half of the cover.

Today, most people use electric blankets. The web of wires in such blankets cannot be split successfully, so the literal meaning of the phrase may soon be forgotten. In the Ozarks, some people still say, "split the quilt."

Florida cattlemen annually spend $38 million for cattle and calves, $7 million for feed, $5 million for fertilizer, $3 million for horses, and $1 million for saddles.

Bobby Coleman Outstanding Athlete 1965-66

Over 50 Red Devil athletes and cheerleaders were honored at the annual Avon Park Athletic Association Spring Sports Banquet last Friday night at the Avon Elementary Cafetorium by a large group of friends and parents.

Athletes and sports enthusiasts were entertained and inspired by guest speaker Red Markham, well known after dinner speaker and ex-Florida Gator football player. Markham, who was introduced by former Red Devil and also ex-Gator football player Fred Montedonico, told the young athletes that it takes a "special kind of courage" to participate in each sport and also to live a worthwhile life. He urged athletes to always be ready for the opportunity to perform at ones best and to train for trials of life each day.

Senior Bobby Coleman won the coveted Outstanding Senior Athlete Award presented annually to the boy who exhibits the most athletic ability, loyalty, sportsmanship, and training during his Red Devil career. Returning supervising principal A. B. Wilhite made the presentation to Coleman who had earned three football letters and four letters in both basketball and baseball.

Wilhite told the group that Coleman had quarterbacked this year's football team to a regional championship, played center on the 1966 Class B District 14 championship Devil squad, and had played short stop on two state championship baseball teams.

Other winners of the award since it was initiated in 1954-55 are: Jack Wingard, Shirlon McCoy, Jim Prevatt, Dale Landress, Bill Rouse, Bryan Kempton, Leroy Starling, Joe Milton, DeWayne Lemler, Leonard Sullivan, and Wolfgang Halbig.

Bobby Coleman also was presented the trophy representing the Most Outstanding Basketball player award for 1965-66 by head basketball coach Lee Maness. Maness introduced the group of 10 varsity lettermen representing that

Martin Explains Tax Assessment Program

Printers now have in hand an order for the forms which will bring the owners of Highlands County property the news anticipated with mixtures of fear and curiosity—what will be the new tax assessments?

Highlands County Tax Assessor J. W. "Billy" Martin, in a press conference this week, outlined progress in the first complete tax reassessment program the county has had for many years. He said forms for informing each property owner of the outcome of the reassessment have been ordered, but Martin said, he could not name a date for mailing.

He said the forms will remind the owners that the translation of assessments into tax bills is finally the work of the board of county commissioners and school board as they set millages. State law requires some reduction in millage, and the Highlands County school board has adopted a resolution pledging a cut from the present 20-mill level.

After the State Comptroller ordered all tax assessments to be set at "100 percent of market value," the Highlands County commissioners contracted with Howze and Associates to revamp the county's assessment system. The contract, signed on September 15, gave the Tampa firm 365 calendar days to complete the job.

Buildings Underestimated

One of the principal features of the tax reassessment is the measuring of all buildings and improvements on Highland County property, and this part of the program is running behind schedule because there are more buildings in the county than anticipated.

In mapping a work schedule it had been estimated that about 9,000 buildings would be studied. The assessors have measured more than 11,000 to date and "are still going."

All field work, of which the building study is the major part unfinished, is to be completed by the end of June, Lucas said.

Each building is being measured, he said, and construction cost determined by a formula which takes into account cost of materials and labor. In working out the formula, Lucas said, the Howze firm used a house containing 1,000 square feet and one bath as its "base house." In checking with suppliers and sub-contractors it has been determined that materials costs in Highlands County are higher than in the Tampa area, but labor costs are lower.

Lucas pointed out that the construction cost figures are at today's relatively high rates, but the assessor takes into account the building's age and has a set depreciation formula for same.

To arrive at a market value the assessors checked sales which have taken place in the last year. The sales have ranged from property which sold for as little as $3,000 and as much as $45,000.

It is a part of the assessor's job to arrive at a ratio between a building's cost and probably current selling price.

The assessor must also take into account the value of the land on which the building is

Citrus Property Values

Factors affecting the value of citrus and residential property were discussed at a meeting of the Highlands County Tax Assessor's office with a group of citrus growers. Present were Bob Barber, president, Ridge area growers and Art Kaar, the Indian River, growers in working out the Land Value Assessment.

Martin pointed out that the state requirements has been met, the comptroller has been

Mrs. Dorothy Barefield has been chosen as "Operator of the Month" from the nearly 100 Long Distance Operators serving this area by the Inter-County Telephone System. This recognition is awarded monthly to the telephone operator who is chosen to be the most outstanding based on a very rigid scale of standards.

Pvt. Hensley Graduates From Recruit Training

(FHTNC) May 12—Marine Private James F. Hensley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Hensley of 410 E. Cardinal Avon Park, Fla., was graduated from Marine recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

During his eight weeks of intensified recruit training under veteran noncommissioned officer Drill Instructors, he learned small arms marksmanship, bayonet fighting, and methods of self-protection. He also received instruction in military drill, history and traditions of the Marine Corps, and other academic subjects.

He will undergo four weeks of individual combat training and four weeks of basic specialist training in his military occupational field before being assigned to a permanent unit.

Cattle Lands

In determining a formula for assessing cattle lands the comptroller's office sought the assistance of the Florida Cattlemen's Association, but as yet, the cattlemen and government officials have not been able to agree on a formula.

In the current tax program in Highlands County assessors have used sales and production figures for a five year period, from 1959 through 1964.

Seven classifications of pasture are being used. Pasture with water control (wells, ditches, etc.) is one class, and improved pasture with planting such as clover is a second. Partly improved pasture includes lands with such grasses as bahia. Where no planting has been done the land is called native pasture and is a separate classification from land "in native state" which is covered with scrub oak, pine and palmetto.

There are two classes for low lands—slough and forest marsh lands which is for land nearly level, lower than surrounding flatlands and frequently floods. Swamp and waste is a classification for land which cannot be used in its present state.

Agricultural lands, either citrus or ranch, includes some waste areas which we shall be assessing at about $5 per acre," Martin said.

Mapping Completed

Property Manager Lucas pointed out that Highlands is a large county, not all of it easily reached. To determine land usage extensive use has been made of helicopters.

Aerial maps of the entire county have been made and are being used extensively in the tax assessment program. "A good map is an assessor's best tool," Martin commented.

The new maps show individual ownerships, major streets, roads, lakes. A total of 26 maps have been made of the more highly developed parts of the county. These are on a one inch to each 200 feet scale. For the rural areas 262 maps have been developed on a one inch to each 400 feet scale.

Martin and Lucas explained that after all the many factors of land use, market values, costs have been weighed the assessor finally must consider the need to keep the various segments of the tax roll coordinated so that some balance is achieved.

"We certainly do not wish to wind up with one group of land owners suing the Tax Assessor because of alleged discrimination in favor of another group," Martin commented.

"When we do mail the cards which contain the new assessment figure we shall call attention to the fact that this office is ready to answer questions. In fact, there is a place which invites questions within 15 days," Martin said.

He concluded by pointing out that taxpayers always have the right to appeal an assessment by appearing before the board of equalization.

Walker Memorial Hospital Meet Medicare Qualifications

Walker Memorial Hospital received word this past week of meeting the basic standards necessary for accepting patients under the medicare program pending Title VI inspection. The passage of the medicare act has brought about a new era in the hospital field creating great expectation in the minds of millions of our senior citizens.

In order for the hospital today to completely serve its community it is necessary for it to be qualified under the medicare program. This is especially true in this area where such a great portion of our population are eligible for participation under medicare.

To meet the standards for medicare a hospital must fulfill several requirements. First of all, and of greatest importance, is the fact that your hospital must meet the high standards of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. This Walker Memorial Hospital did in achieving its three-year accreditation with the joint commission, and it is proof of the high quality of medical care available through Walker Memorial Hospital facilities.

A second requirement for eligibility to participate in the medicare program is having an acceptable functioning utilization committee. The purpose of this committee is to guarantee proper utilization of hospital facilities as well as to conserve the time of their use, therefore shortening the length of hospital stay for the patient to the greatest amount possible. The use of the utilization committee has become a preferred practice and is now one of the requirements of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Hospitals are by their nature devoted to the care of patients of all ages regardless of race, religion, color or creed. Therefore, in order to receive funds for medicare, it is necessary for a hospital to sign a statement verifying that it will be in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

To be in compliance with Title VI requires that the hospital show no discrimination as to race, religion, color or creed toward any group. This has reference to qualified physicians who may wish to join the medical staff, individuals who meet the necessary requirement for employment, as well as patients who are admitted for care. With regard to patients being admitted to the hospital, Title VI requires that patients of all races be given the same courtesies, have access to all facilities, and be admitted to rooms according to medical need on an equal basis. Patients must be assigned to private rooms, semi-private rooms and ward facilities regardless of race or color.

In making their decision as to meeting the compliance of Title VI, members of the board of directors, the advisory board, medical staff and the administration of Walker Memorial Hospital have moved forward not necessarily because of personal choice but because they have desired to meet the medical needs of this community as well as to provide medical care for those under the medicare program. The medicare program is but one portion of medical assistance which is requiring compliance to Title VI. Throughout the coming months additional programs will be initiated which will also require the same compliance.

Public Hunting Permit Replaced By Management Area Stamp

Florida hunters will find something new when they purchase their wildlife management area permits this year. The familiar public hunting permit is being replaced by a new wildlife management area stamp. The new stamp which is similar to the duck stamp must be attached to the license and the hunter required to sign his name across the face of the stamp.

W.B. Copeland, chairman of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission said, "The Commission feels that the new licenses will go on sale June 15.

A wildlife management area stamp, in addition to regular license requirements is necessary for any person except residents over 65 years of age to hunt on a wildlife management area. As was the case with the old permit the new stamp will cost $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 15 years of age.

PILLS PROVE PROBLEM

The campus drug craze, a beatnik fad just a few years ago, has become a major problem at colleges and high schools across the nation. A serious increase in the use of hallucinogenic and stimulant drugs during the past year is reported by Dr. James L. Goddard, federal drug administration commissioner.

Among the drugs being used by increasing numbers of students at both universities and high schools are:

—Amphetamines, the so-called pep pills, stimulate the nervous system, give a false feeling of extra strength and alertness, followed by severe let down. These pills can damage the central nervous system, distort judgment and cause erratic behavior.

—Barbiturates, known as goof balls, depress the nervous system, make the user relaxed and unworried. The user becomes dependent on them and has withdrawal symptoms when they are not available. They distort judgment and heavy users cannot recall how many they have taken, which may lead to fatal overdosage.

—Hallucinogenics, psilocybin, mescaline, called "acid" or LSD, which distorts judgment, causes hallucinations and has unpredictable effects on many users. These drugs drive a person permanently insane and often result in suicide.

—Marijuana, a narcotic called "pot" which is usually inhaled as smoke from special cigarettes. Besides its own effects this drug often leads to use of heroin, cocaine or morphine and full-time drug addiction.

According to Dr. Goddard, both faculty members and students at schools throughout the nation are being approached by pushers who urge them to "experience" the "exotic" effects of these drugs. Cases have even been found where faculty members encouraged the "experiment." This is ample proof of the distortion of judgment resulting from their use.

The FDA and a newly formed federal agency, the Bureau of Drug Abuse Control, have opened a drive against these destroyers of human minds; but this is not enough. A fully aroused public is the greatest weapon. Conversely, the most effective aid the pusher can have is the apathetic parent who sends his son or daughter to a high school or university and blithely assumes he has discharged his responsibility when he pays the bills.

School authorities, at every level, do all they can; but they cannot prevent campus use of drugs without help from parents and the public.

Every decent American has a stake in the fight against drug pushers. He who thinks he is not concerned because he has no children in school should remember that he can be killed by a drug-deadened driver or murdered by an addict seeking $5 to buy more.

Letting others worry about the drug problem could be an excellent way of committing suicide.

National Debt Expected To Reach $330 Billion

BY REP. JAMES A. HALEY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The annual ritual of elevating the national debt ceiling is under way on Capitol Hill, in response to an Administration request which comes to The Congress with almost clock-like regularity. I thus feel impelled to make my annual plea that we in The Congress get around to doing something about reducing the national debt.

I should say, at the outset, that I find it at least somewhat encouraging that, as I write, the House Ways and Means Committee has cut in half the Administration's request for a $4 billion increase in the present "temporary" ceiling. It has agreed to lift the roof over the debt to "only" $330 billion, rather than the $332 billion requested.

But this still is an increase over the existing "temporary" ceiling of $328 billion, and what we need is action to at least hold the line and preferably to start moving back toward the so-called permanent ceiling of $285 billion, which has remained static since 1960.

This "permanent" ceiling would automatically go back into effect on June 30 if The Congress did not extend the "temporary" borrowing authority of the government at some higher level. I am, of course, aware that the government having committed itself to borrowing which now totals $318.5 billion, The Congress cannot, as a practical matter, allow this to happen.

But I cannot see why it now is necessary to move the ceiling up to even $330 billion, much less the $332 billion the Administration wants and undoubtedly will continue to fight for when this proposal gets to the Senate. The Administration says it needs "operating room" to handle the debt (the accumulated burden of years of deficit financing). But the simple extension of the existing ceiling would give it $9.5 billion in operating leeway, and even conceding that this will narrow with the taxpaying period slackening off, it seems to me that in the light of the present fiscal picture, that ought to be enough room.

It certainly would be enough room if The Congress and the Administration would face up to the obvious necessity of cutting back sharply some non-essential (no matter how idealistically desirable) domestic programs in a time when billions of dollars are needed to finance a war. But even without such a demonstration of fiscal wisdom, the Administration's own figures show that it expects to keep the debt within the existing ceiling through June 30, 1967.

In asking for elevation of the $328 billion limit, the Administration forecast a deficit for this fiscal year of $3.9 billion and a $1.8 billion deficit for the next fiscal year—a total of $5.7 billion, which would move the present debt only up to $324.2 billion. This would leave the Treasury with operating room of $3.8 billion. This is narrow, but certainly it should be enough, as much of the current-year estimated deficit already is reflected in the present debt total. Moreover, Senate-House professional experts on internal revenue see only a $2.5 billion deficit for the current year, a possible surplus for next year.

I think it would have an enormously beneficial psychological effect on the free-spenders in government if The Congress at this time refused to move the $328 billion ceiling upward. And of course I still would like to see Congress adopt my proposal for a mandatory repayment annually or at least a small portion of the national debt.

Highlands County School Desegregation Plan Spelled Out In Advertising and Letters

Further implementation of the Highlands County Schools Desegregation Plan is spelled out in advertising and letters being released by county school officials.

The Highland County Plan, in brief, combines both racial geographic attendance zones and freedom of choice areas, as applicable in the 1966-67 year for grades 1 through 12 in Sebring, grades 1 through 10 in Lake Placid and grades 1 through 11 in Avon Park.

School Superintendent George F. Douglass has announced that first steps toward desegregation of school faculties will also be made in the 1966-67 year.

The professional teaching organizations of the county have operated on an integrated basis throughout the current year, and countywide faculty meetings have been desegregated this year, Douglass said.

Some integration of faculties began in mid-year with assignment of a white teacher to work with a Negro faculty as a demonstration teacher for a program of in-service training.

April had been designated as enrollment month for students of Highlands County. The vast majority of Highlands County students live in a geographic area where they are assigned to a school with the appropriate grade level. A letter designating the student's assignment for the 1966-67 year was mailed in April.

The letter, mailed to the parent or adult acting as parent, gave information on any school bus service to be provided for the student's neighborhood. Forms to be filled out by students wishing to ask for transfer, an outline of the school desegregation plan and letter of instruction.

The letters to these students provide deadline dates for enrolling for the coming year indicating which school in the county the student may be allowed.

Douglass stressed that unless a student lives inside a geographic area, he must file a school choice form for the coming year. He will not be automatically re-assigned to the school he attended in the current year.

Maps showing school attendance zones and the freedom of choice areas are available in each of the 12 schools and at the county school office in the courthouse. No changes have been made from the maps as drawn in the Summer of 1965.

A student who will be new to the Highlands County schools in the fall or a student entering first grade will be assigned to the school in his zone, or if he lives in the freedom of choice area, his parents must choose the school his child is to attend.

Douglass said students assigned to a school in the geographic area where he lives may apply for transfer to another school, but transfers will be granted only to permit a student to take a course of study not available in the school in his residence zone, to attend school with another member of his family or because of special needs such as a physical or other handicap described to the school officials by parents or physician.

If a student living in a freedom of choice area requests enrollment in a school which is overcrowded the school administrators are to notify parents promptly and allow the student and his parents to make a second choice from among the schools where space is available.

All the school-connected services, facilities, athletics and other activities are to be open to all students on a desegregated basis. Students who are changing schools under the desegregation plan are not to be subject to waiting periods for participation in school activities. The advertised plan of Highlands schools specifically mentions athletics where transfer students have usually been subject to a waiting period to participate.

The first federal guidelines for compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act were issued in April, 1965. In issuing new guidelines last month U. S. Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II, said, "Members of the staff who framed the original guidelines knew they were plowing new ground. No one had ever before tried desegregation on a massive basis through administrative procedure. The Office of Education was aware that after a semester of experience substantial alterations or revisions would doubtless be called for."

Howe said the new guidelines differ from the old in four main areas. The new guidelines, he said, spell out in much greater detail the requirements for faculty and staff desegregation.

"Race, color or national origin may not be a factor in hiring, assigning, promoting or firing teachers and other professional staff. Staff desegregation for the 1966-67 school year must include progress in the desegregation of the regular teaching staff beyond what was accomplished in the 1965-66 year . . . ," the guidelines state.

The second area of difference involves the freedom of choice plan (which is used to a limited extent in Highlands County). Under the new guidelines the school system is charged with responsibility for ensuring that it is truly a freedom of choice. The parent or child is not to assume the full burden for ending discrimination.

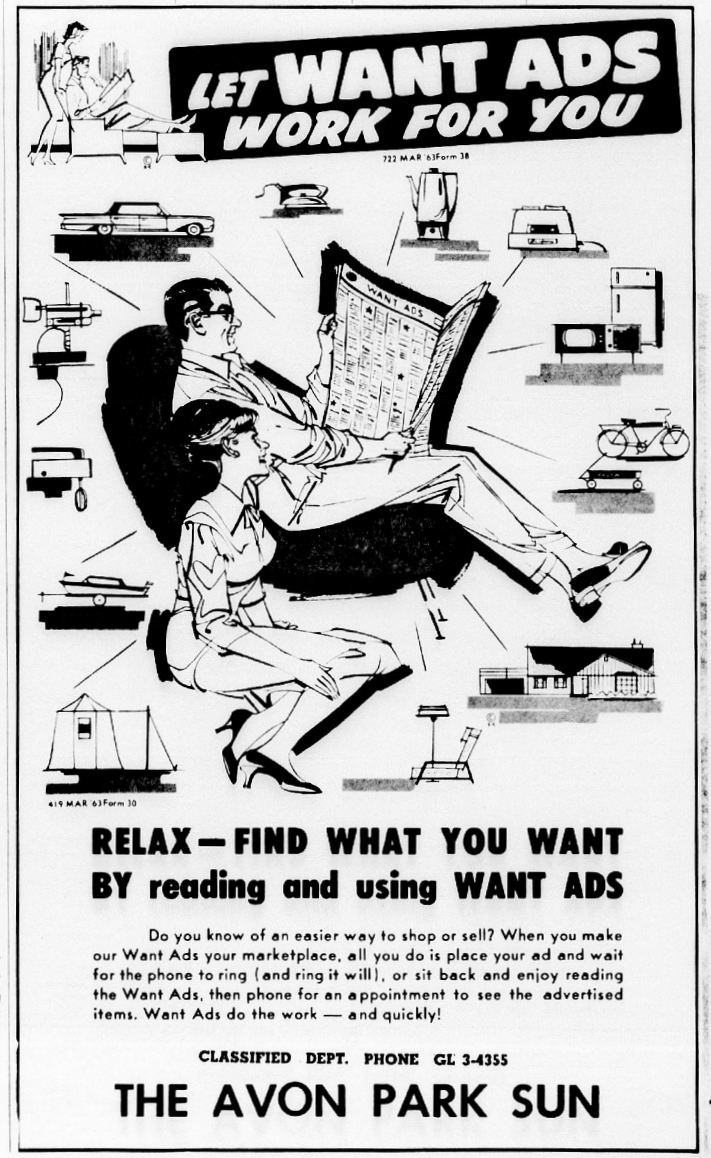

The guidelines—both old and new—have repeatedly emphasized that the school system and not the state or federal government or the students are responsible for setting up and making work a plan for a single system of public schools open to public without regard for race.

"Some school systems still maintain small, inadequate schools for Negroes or other minority group students," the new guidelines state and a third area under the new requirements is that the "school authorities will be required to close these schools and assign the students to other schools."

The new guidelines note that last year much effort was spent by federal officials working on plans for local school districts. The federal government was being asked, the guidelines state, "to prescribe the minimum plan that would be acceptable. This year the emphasis will be shifted from negotiation to performance."

As a part of this requirement the federal Office of Education is requiring a statement of assurance that the new guidelines will be followed. The Highlands school board voted to sign such an assurance at its March meeting.

The Commissioner of Education concluded his remarks on the new guidelines by stating, "... we are not concluding what some have called the 'paper compliance' phase. We can look forward to more emphasis on compliance . . . in making equality of educational opportunity available to all members of our society."

New Procedures Instituted For Persons Entering Guilty Pleas

To forestall possible appeals based on alleged violation of defendants rights, Circuit Judge Clifton M. Kelly instituted new procedures.

He told court officers that in the future all persons entering guilty pleas will be questioned extensively about possible pressures exerted on the defendant. The series of questions, include queries such as,

Were you promised any consideration for pleading guilty?"

"Were you mistreated or threatened in any way? Are you of your own free will entering this plea?"

The court clerk was instructed to include the full series of questions in the minutes of the court session.

Four of the defendants in court last week entered guilty pleas, and each was questioned, and all said their pleas were not result of any pressure.

Peter M. Jacobs, 20, of Hollywood, waived appointment of counsel and entered a plea of guilty to a forgery charge. Judge Kelly noting that Jacobs had previously been in trouble in Wisconsin, sentenced Jacobs to six month to two years in prison.

Cecil Duane Kirkland, who had been probation, lost his probation and sentenced to six months to five years in prison.

Joe Washington, previously charged with aggravated assault, entered a guilty plea to the lesser charge of assault and battery and was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail.

Jerome Henderson, charged with armed robbery and breaking and entering, pleaded guilty on both counts. Judge Kelly ordered a presentence investigation on the 24 year old Avon Park resident.

Willie King, who in 1962 was sentenced to six months to 10 years on two breaking and entering charges, was granted a motion to have these sentences vacated, and the public defender was appointed to defend him on the two cases which grew out of Avon Park breaking and enterings almost four years ago. Joe Suggs entered a not guilty plea on an arson charge.

Law Suit Dismissed

Related civil suits which together had asked damages of more than $500,000 have been settled out of court, Attorneys representing Mrs. Helen Hunt Rinald and Richard Archbold in a joint petition to Circuit Court said the suits had been amicably settled and asked that the cases be dismissed with prejudice, each party to bear its own costs.

Mrs. Rinald, widow of Frank A. Rinaldi of Lake Placid, had sued Archbold, charging him with negligent conduct as driver of a car in which Rinaldi lost his life.

The Archbold car was involved in the fatal accident on September 3, 1964, on state road 45 just south of Floral City.

In the suits filed in July, 1964, Mrs. Rinaldi has asked a judgment of $247,003.40 for the loss of her husband and diminution of his estate. In a separate suit as executrix of Rinaldi's estate, the widow asked $11,119.45 damages and for funeral and medical expenses.

Hayward Davis represented Mrs. Rinaldi, and the defendant was represented by the Miami law firm of Walton, Lantaff, Schroeder, Atkins, Carson, and Wahl. Circuit Judge Clifton M. Kelly signed the order of dismissal on May 24.

The bonds are to be dated April 1, 1966. There will be a junior lien on such water revenues as are involved in the water revenue bonds dated May 1, 1946 and water revenue bonds dated November 1, 1950, the suit states.

LIFE TESTS OUR HIGH RESOLVES

"Remember now thy ... lator in the days of thy youth, while the evil d... come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them." Ecclesiastes 12:1.

At this time of the year, when our young people are graduating from high schools, colleges and universities, it is a good thing for us to remind them of the importance of the worship of God and the acceptance of the moral requirements of their religion as set forth in the teachings of Jesus. Thus they will prepare themselves for the day described in Ecclesiastes as a time of failing physical powers, the time of old age.

Have you ever noticed aged people? Life's story is written in their faces. The light has gone out of some of their faces, for life has been emptied of meaning. In other faces the light is radiant for as the years have gone by, life has taken on greater and greater significance. In either case, the aged are always interesting, if we have time for them, if we have the patience to sit and listen.

Our advice to the young person is that he get acquainted with aged people, for some day the youth of today will have to live with, and care for, an old man or woman. He will have to take off his coat and put it on an old man or woman.

When you say this to a young person, he begins to wonder what sort of an aged person he will have to live with. We answer him by saying, "that depends upon how you are living today, for the aged person of whom we speak is you yourself, on some tomorrow." The number of years that separate today from tomorrow are not important but how we live through them is!

"Remember NOW thy Creator." Keeping God in mind helps us to reap a golden destiny. For we reap what we sow. "Sow a thought, reap an act, sow an act, reap a habit, sow a habit, reap a character, sow a character, reap a destiny." That is the way life develops. It is important that we keep God and the things of his Kingdom in remembrance. The thoughts by which our acts, habits and character are determined are important.

The value of right thinking is illustrated in Hawthorne's story of "The Great Stone Face." It develops the legend that some day, in the vicinity of the Old Man of the Mountains, a person would be born who would become the noblest personage of the time, and whose countenance in manhood would resemble that of the Great Stone Face. Ernest, the central character, grows up, his mind nurtured on that ideal. He grows old. He speaks to the people.

"His words had power, because they accorded with his thoughts, and his thoughts had reality and depth because they harmonized with the life he had lived."

The poet listened to Ernest. As he looked upon his thoughtful countenance, glorified by the soft white hair diffused about it, he saw a grandeur like that of the Great Stone Face.

"Behold! Behold!" the poet cried. "Ernest is himself the likeness of the Great Stone Face."

Great, good thoughts impress themselves on character. When we live in company with that which is fine, we become like it. Jesus phrased it like this: "A good man, out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good." St. Matthew 6:45.

In our challenge to youth we paraphrase Joshua's command: "Choose you this day WHAT you will serve." As you do, you will choose, in no small measure, the kind of person you will live with, when you are old.

The man who wishes to be a good craftsman goes to an expert to learn his trade. He serves an apprenticeship. If he is sincere and works with intelligence, he may outdo his teacher in the ... of his art. If he is to succeed, however, he must say: "This one thing I do!" Then he must give himself wholeheartedly to its realization.

When Elisha was called to be an apprentice to Elijah in the mastery of the things of God, he slopped his oxen, slew them, built a fire out of his plow, cooked his oxen and made a feast for his friends and neighbors. This is a parable that instructs one how to begin a great undertaking. He must burn the bridges behind him, turn his back on much of his old manner of living. He must accept the promise of his dream and set out to realize it.

Life tests our high resolves. In II Kings 2:2 Elijah says to Elisha: "Tarry here, I pray thee; for the Lord hath sent me to Bethel." It was a hard mission. Elisha replied: "As the Lord liveth, and my soul liveth I will not leave thee." Then is added these significant words: "So they went down to Bethel." Finally, we read that Elisha asked Elijah for a double portion of his spirit. With me, Elijah says, and it shall be so unto thee." So it was that Elijah's mantle fell at Elisha's feet. Elisha rent his own clothes and took up the mantle. He smote the waters with it and they were divided in twain.

A beautiful and convincing record of a life hitched to something mightier and greater than itself. That life took on the greatness and the power of that which it served. At long last, the work that the master did, the apprentice did also.

In the New Testament we have an excellent example of the power of the divine presence and thought in the anointing of life. "Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled. What was the secret of the power of these hard-fisted fishermen with radiant countenance? The remainder of the verse gives the answer: "and they took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." Acts 4:13.

Young friend, what sort of an elderly person will you have to live with? The answer to that question depends upon the kind of thoughts that guide your action, to whom you are apprenticed and why. And, finally, whether or not you have the stuff to carry through.

Nazarene Ministers Wives Have Supper

Nazarene preachers' wives met Monday, May 23 at the Polly Davis Cafeteria in Miami for their annual dinner. Mrs. Jan Wright of Tampa presided over the occasion.

The district superintendent's wife, Mrs. John L. Knight, was presented with a corsage of orchids for her faithful service in working among the wives.

Secret pals were revealed and new ones drawn for the coming year.

The honored guest was Mrs. Thelma Say, wife of missionary to Argentina, who is home for one year on furlough.

The First Baptist Church of Avon Park has an interesting history of growth and service in the community. It was organized in 1913 and has grown to a membership of over 1200. The present sanctuary was erected in 1950 and is very attractive and worshipful in appearance; however, due to the growth of the congregation 2 morning services are necessary for about 8 months of the year.

Steps are being taken toward the building of a new sanctuary in the future. The church maintains a well organized program of education and Christian training. The music program includes 5 choirs. The present pastor, Aden D. Childress, began his ministry in 1957 and the minister of music and education, Otis C. Strickler, came in 1962.

Kiwanis International took another step in its program of international extension, that of organizing new clubs, when representatives from the 24 Kiwanis clubs in Western Europe met in Vienna, Austria, May 21-22, to plan and discuss the eventual organization of the Continent.

The two-day session, held at the Vienna Intercontinental Hotel, was under the direction of Dr. Werner Hartsch-Rechsteiner, Basel, Switzerland, president of the European Commission of Kiwanis Clubs.

The president of Kiwanis International, Edward C. Keefe, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, presided over the conference. He was joined by two Kiwanis International trustees, Harold M. Hornbaugh, Los Angeles, Calif., and Jack Willis, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Kiwanis clubs sending representatives to Vienna included: Salzburg and Wien, Austria; Brussels, Bruxelles-Forest (II), Charleroi-Ellipse, and Liege, Belgium; Metz and Paris, France; Frankfurt/Main and Bonn, Germany; Amsterdam, Holland; Reykjavik-Karia, and Reykjavik-Hekla, Iceland; Drammen, Kolbotn, and Oslo, Norway; and Basel, Bern, Geneva, Lugano, Lausen, Neuchatel, St. Gallen, Thun, and Zurich, Switzerland.

Twelve of these 24 European clubs were chartered by President Keefe and Trustees Heinbaugh and Willis prior to or following the conference.

Kiwanis is now established in eight Western European countries. The first club was chartered in Vienna in May of 1965.

Kiwanis International is relatively new outside the United States and Canada. Delegates to the organization's 46th annual convention in 1961 adopted a resolution favoring expansion into other countries. This policy was implemented in 1962 with the establishment of the Kiwanis Club of Tijuana, Baja California, Mexico.

Kiwanis today, one year after the celebration of its golden anniversary, has a membership of some 275,000 men in 7,400 clubs in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Western Europe, the Caribbean, and the Far East.

FATHER'S DAY

Father's Day, originated by Mrs. John Dodd in Spokane in 1910, is a uniquely American institution, and so are many Father's Day gifts. A box of cigars, chosen with care, is sure to be appreciated by most any American Dad.

Avon Park High School News

Class History Of 1966

Our first day of school started in September of 1962. We lagged along at our mother's heels, scared that the world change her mind and take us home with her instead of enrolling us in school. When asked our names by Mrs. Dale, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Chisholm, Miss Terrell, and Miss Mascaro, we were all speechless.

We were divided into three groups and shuffled to our classrooms, where we spent the remainder of the year learning to work and play together. As the year came to an end, we looked forward with anticipation to the next year in the second grade. Gee! How grownup we thought we were! We had completed one whole year, leaving only 11 more to go.

In the second grade we knew quite a bit, so we thought. When we were moved to a new school Mrs. Outlaw, Mrs. Mrs. Cowe, Mrs. Findley, and Mrs. Everett helped us learn more. Our second year in school came to an end. We jumped with glee when we received our report cards, and learned we would be great big third graders when we returned to school in September.

Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Shepherd, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Dilwadi, and Mrs. Murphy greeted us with friendly smiles, and new experiences. Homework and Cursive Writing—in the third grade. We worked harder that year, and before we knew it that year was over, too!

The summer following our third year in school also passed by quickly, and the clanging of the "big" bell told us that it was time to begin another year in another building, in the fourth grade. The teachers were to be Mrs. Best, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Lanier, and Mrs. Albritton.

The fifth grade meant that we were too big to take naps on our pallets. We had milk and cookie breaks. That was when we all thought we were a little bit bigger than anyone else because we were the highest in school. The teachers were Mrs. Sellars, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Fields, and Mrs. Edge.

In the sixth grade, the big "bell" rang out, "come to school, come to school, and we all loosed forward to a new building and new teachers. We learned that there were other countries besides our dear old America. The teachers were Mrs. Allan, Miss Wynn, Mrs. Everett, Mr. Wellman, Mr. McDaniel.

At last we finally made it to Junior High School. Oh! how big we thought we were. This was the year that we had a new experience — changing classes. We were met by the smiling faces of our homeroom teachers, Mr. Hill, Mr. Knight, Mr. Doty, and Mrs. Reddick.

In the eighth grade we were so big! Besides that, we knew so much. By that time we were well acquainted with the changing of classes (ration of coins). The homeroom teachers were Mr. Watts, Mr. Loveless, Mr. Hemphill, and Mrs. Davis.

My, gosh! ninth grade and the beginning of high school. This year we had Freshman Orientation instead of "Rat Day." This was the year we started gaining credits toward graduation. Homeroom teachers were Mrs. Maness, Mrs. Reddick, Mrs. Crittenden, and Mr. Watts.

In the 10th grade the subjects started getting a little bit harder. We had a new experience of biology, dissecting frogs and gorging while we did it. That year the year Mr. Crittenden left, and Mr. Garrett stopped being our biology teacher and baseball coach.

This year we had a new assistant principal, Mr. Garrett. Everyone missed Mr. Crittenden, but Mr. Garrett filled the position beautifully. Our first Junior-Senior Prom was held Saturday, April 30, 1966. The theme was Blue Hawaii and the band was "The Outsiders." We also got our class rings that year. Then all of a sudden, the year was over and we were Seniors!

On August 30, our Senior year began. Football season started the year off with a bang. The first game was held on September 17, with Lake Wales. We had an 8-2 record. Next, our School pictures were taken. After long, anticipated months, we finally received them. The biggest football game came after pictures were taken. We beat Clewiston in our Homecoming Game. Miss Sally Beth King was crowned Homecoming Queen. Also we beat Sebring and went on to be first runner-up in the Class B Tournament. The Sugarbowls provided entertainment at the Homecoming dance.

Basketball season began, our first game against Haines City. We were first runner-up in the Class B Tournament for basketball, too!

Semester exams followed the Christmas holidays. Everyone was so relieved when they were over. Then term papers were due for some of the Seniors.

Spring sports started with track and then baseball. We won State Class B Champion ship in baseball. We also went on to state with our track team.

The Junior-Senior Prom was held on May 14, with the Night Crawlers providing entertainment. The theme was Sayonara.

Now the long awaited time was here. Graduation invitations were handed out and then mailed. On May 27, we got our caps and gowns. Semester exams started Tuesday morning and ended Thursday. That's for the Seniors!

The Senior luncheon is to be held June 3 at Griffins Restaurant. The Senior Gift to the School is to be a secret and unveiled later.

Baccalaureate will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday evening, June 5, in the High School Auditorium. Graduation exercises will be held on June 6, at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

These Seniors started school in Avon Park and have attended every year in Avon Park schools. They are as follows:

Mrs. A. B. Wilhite Pledges Support To Red Devils After Retirement

We had the privilege of interviewing Mrs. Ann Wilhite, retiring secretary of Avon Park High School.

Mrs. Wilhite was born in Griffin, Georgia, and graduated from high school in Moultrie, Georgia. She moved to Sebring in 1925. While working there in a department store, she met Mr. Wilhite, who was teaching at that time. They were married in 1933. In 1936, Jim, their son, was born. Ten days later they moved to Lake Placid.

In August of 1942, Mrs. Wilhite came to Avon Park to become the secretary of Avon Park High School.

Mrs. Wilhite tells us that her favorite meal is T-bone steak, baked potato, tossed salad, and German chocolate cake.

Her favorite color is blue. Her favorite pastimes are ramping, collecting weird things, and Hummels. She says that her pet peave is students who are too sleepy to speak when they are spoken to.

We asked Mrs. Wilhite what she might like to do if money were no object. She replied, "Go back to Europe and travel."

Upon asking Mrs. Wilhite what she plans to do after retirement, she said that they will continue living in Avon Park and participating in school activities. We will spend the rest of our years cheering the "Red Devils" on to victory.

At the conclusion of our interview with Mrs. Wilhite, Mrs. Pickett, assistant secretary, stated that she couldn't have made it without Mrs. Wilhite this year. She has been such a great person to work with and such a help to me in learning about this office.

In closing, we, the students of Avon Park High School, would like to express our sincere appreciation for the work Mrs. Wilhite has done, for her understanding, and guidance. We will really miss the Wilhites, but we know they will always be available when they are needed here. Thank you both.

Class Of 66' Farewell Speech

Today we are gathered here to pay our deepest appreciation to a man who has done more for education in this area than any other man.

After 40 years as a teacher, coach, assistant principal and many other positions, Mr. A. B. Wilhite has decided to bring his long and very distinguished career, as an educator in Highlands County and the State of Florida, to a close.

In his years as an educator in the state, he will have shaken the hands of 4,229 seniors, while they received their diplomas. Since we are the last graduating class he will attend as a principal, we would not be prouder. Because on that night of June 9, 1966, one of the finest and longest traditions of our school A.P.H.S., will come to a final end. Yes, we the 1966 graduating class are very gratified that this man chose us as his last and final graduation exercise.

In his long years as a teacher, he has seen his students go to war twice, and has known the personal loss of our country's young men, who by some quirk of fate were chosen to die, while others were left to live lives of their own. Even now as Mr. Wilhite prepares to retire, we are at war again, even though it is not called one.

In the past three years he has seen several young men from our town go to a place called Viet Nam. Yes, these young men could have been the same ones he saw go to war 25 years earlier, the only difference was that they were going to Germany, Iwo Jima, and other places.

Although we will truly miss him in 5 years to come, we are very happy to see him attain this very well earned rest. Over these 40 odd years one could see that this great man has had some truly fascinating experiences, undoubtly many of the occasions were happy or humorous, as well as those which might have been sad or unpleasant.

So, we say to you, Mr. A. B. Wilhite, we the 1966 graduating class of Avon Park High School hope that whatever you decide to do from now on is what you truly want to do and what you will enjoy. We hope the next 40 years that you spend in your retirement will have been as memorable to you, as the past 40 years as an educator has been to us.

Now we say to you and your wife, Mrs. Wilhite, farewell and good hunting for the next 40 years.

—JIM RENFRO

A classified advertisement in St. Louis recently offered the following description of a large estate for sale: Fifty acres, 10 bedrooms, five baths, servant quarters, 2 kitchens, large parking facilities, large indoor recreational area with indoor heated swimming pool, lighted tennis courts and a baseball diamond.

The ad told interested buyers to telephone Leroy Amen. Mr. Amen is principal of Lauderbergh High School, which fits in most particulars the large estate offered for sale. Amen said he had no plans to sell the high school and blamed a prankster for the ad.

Playwright Bemoans the Lack Of Tetevision Anthologies

David Davidson, the playwright and novelist, was chosen by ABC and Yale to conduct a graduate course at the university in television drama.

Commenting in TV Guide about the Golden Age of television, Davidson said: "I hate to moan about the old days of television, it won't do any good. But once there were 14 anthology shows a week originating in New York alone. Now there are none. Even then there were pressures on drama — not so aggravated as they are today — but there were there.

"So there's nothing new about that. What is new is a total lack of outlets for writers' originality, and the total imposition of the formula show — a formula as ritualized as kabuki drama."

LET'S GO TO THE RACES! Dogs are racing at the SARASOTA KENNEL CLUB nightly except on Sundays. If you won't make the evening races, stop by for their matinees on Monday, Wednesday or Saturday at 2 p.m. Don't forget Ladies are admitted free on Thursdays.

Want to relax for a weekend—week or a month? Try the CRYSTAL SANDS MOTEL in Vero Beach — Incidentally, they have special rates until June 12th — Why not try it this weekend!

Don't forget the SEVON DRIVE IN on Alternate 27 for a night of enjoyment—movies showing tonight thru Saturday "Promise Her Anything" and first area showing "Minnesota Clay" with Cameron Mitchell — Only $1.00 per carload these nights—what a bargain, no baby sitter needed! HILANS THEATRE in Avon Park has a killer diller starting on Sunday "Queen of Blood" with Basil Rathbone and "Blood Bath" with William Campbell.

Take a jaunt down to Lake Placid and visit with the Whitakers at their Tower of Peace, it has everything—unique gifts—delicious fruit—casual sports attire—carpet golf and of course last but not least—the tastiest subs you've ever had—"from the top of the Tower—must see to believe" Next door to them is that well-known TOWER VIEW RESTAURANT—stop in and give your family a treat—many appetizing items on the menu to please the most difficult.

For an evening of dancing and dining in pleasurable surroundings, stop at GEORGES COPPERTOP on U. S. 27 just north of Lake Wales. Enjoy their delicious cool frosted martini before dinner and dance to the lilting music supplied by Johnny Kragon. A short distance from there on U.S. 27, just north of Ft. Meade, Frank Wesser offers for your entertainment—the GO GO Girls at the El Cid Lounge.

The summer Festival of Fun is starting this week at RIDGE LANES on U.S. 27—midway between Avon Park and Sebring. Bowling is such fun in air conditioned comfort and you can also win prizes while enjoying yourself. You can bowl in the daytime from Monday thru Saturday in the Lucky TV bowling games — already a 1,000 TV stamp winner. Friday nights is also TV stamp night.

Still looking for a Summer Camp to send your children to? Why not try CAMP SPARTA in Sebring—they have all the sports enjoyed by youngsters from 6 to 16, they even have a girls' Charm Class.

"I'd be embarrassed to tell you how old our TV is, but I'll give you a hint—it has a stucco cabinet!"

FIX-IT TIP

Test washable wallpaper first to be sure that it won't blur or wrinkle.

Use clear warm water for delicate papers and add mild soap flakes or mild detergents for heavy ones. Work from the bottom up so that when the water dribbles down a difficult-to-remove streak won't appear on soiled paper. Use light strokes and overlap each cleaned area. Pat dry as you proceed.

Lacquered papers can be washed with warm suds and those coated with wax can be wiped with a damp cloth.

GREAT INNOVATION!

describes CABLE TV here, according to GRAY HAMMON, owner - operator of RIDGE LANES on U. S. 27.

"Operating a bowling alley takes many hours daily, so my time is limited for viewing television. Prior to the CABLE, good reception was not always possible during these hours, so I think CABLE TV is the GREATEST THING THAT HAS HIT THIS AREA."

FIX-IT TIP

In refinishing painted wood furniture, be sure to countersink nails that have worked outward, fill nail holes with plastic wood and sand out rough spots and areas where the grain has swollen from dampness.

Clean the piece thoroughly with a strong washing solution. After it's dry, dust and paint it. Use a hard gloss enamel, never an exterior house paint.

The painted surface of your metal furniture may be scratched and chipped. Take off all the paint. Use a paint solvent and scraping tool to bare the metal, then follow it up with steel wool to remove all rust. Next put on a metal undercoat and gloss enamel.

Two men were standing on a street corner arguing. Finally, one man shouted at the other, "My psychiatrist can beat your psychiatrist." "Oh yeah," yelled the other chap, "my pschiatrist can cure your psychiatrist."

New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was in the news recently when he said he would withdraw his name from national honors "forever" if President Eisenhower, who had been mentioned as a possible candidate on the Republican ticket, would withdraw. He said he favored a ticket composed of Sen. Jacob Javits and Gov. George Romney. Speaking of his name being mentioned, he noted, "I speak as one who has taken himself out of national contention completely and forever, without reservation."

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

The 6th grade school which my nephew attended in Las Vegas, Nev., has carpeted floors. Ohio State University has found through research that carpeting improves class room learning. Many schools these days reference to be said "called on the carpet" will no doubt lose its figurative meaning. The first people, however, carpeted floors are still a luxury.

The office of Sequoyah Carpet Mills, Anadarko, Okla., is so plush that even the walls are carpeted. Jay Gould and other railroad magnates were making their fortunes, carpeting was so expensive that only the very rich could afford a carpeted office.

Railroad executives were known to call in a lesser employee, and when he was sure to get a reprimand for disobeyed an order he ing from the man in the ex coworkers were equally pathetic, and to boost his sprits they would chide him about being called on the carpet. Of course, the coworkers were not eager to walk on that soft carpet themselves.

Spice Cabinet

SCALLOPED POTATOES
3 medium-sized potatoes, sliced
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 cup hot milk
1 tablespoon margarine
Dash of onion salt

Grease a baking dish and sprinkle with some of the flour, salt, and pepper. Repeat until all the potatoes are used. Pour milk over potatoes and bake at 325 degrees (slow oven) for 30 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking until potatoes are tender—about 30 minutes. If potatoes are not brown enough on top, place the uncovered dish under the broiler for 3 to 5 minutes.

Staggering Results

After the Thermonite Engineering Company lost its first match, a local pub owner made a promise. "I'll give each one of you a pint every time you win." Soon, the pub owner had played twice, and collected 22 pints. "I have never seen such a transformation come over a team," one player said.

Extra Days Granted For Tax Evaluation

Highlands County's first top-to-bottom tax reassessment is nearing completion, but the end is beyond the usual time limits for tax roll presentation, board of equalization and budget-making Tuesday morning the county commissioners granted Tax Assessor J. W. "Billy" Martin and extra 60 days to complete the 1966 tax roll.

Board of equalization, usually held in July, will be held this year at 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 20. Tax Assessor Martin told the commissioners he hopes to mail notices to property owners announcing new assessments on or about Sept. 6. If able to adhere to the tentative schedule discussed Tuesday the Tax Assessor said tax bills may be ready for mailing in time for payment to begin in November as usual.

The commissioners in mid-September, 1965, signed a contract with Howze and Associates for a complete revamping of the county's assessment system. The Tampa firm was given 365 calendar days to complete the project.

Martin and Bob Lucas, project director for Howze, told the commissioners Tuesday that the work will be finished within the contract time, "but that is late for us," Martin said.

Two reasons have been given for the tax roll delay: the number of buildings in the county to be measured and charted; was underestimated and the computer is failing behind on its share of the work. Data gathered by the project workers are fed into a computer for correlation. In recent weeks electronic brain, for several projects, has been working 24 hours a day but still failing behind.

Valuation cards on 12,000 parcels are due back from the computer in Tampa now, Martin said. Another 12,000 cards have been promised in July and the rest of the cards for the county's approximately 48,000 parcels are to come in August.

Budget-making Schedule

The commissioners are gathering material about budget needs, but at Tuesday's meeting they gave no indication how they would proceed with budget-making when the values of a mill is unknown.

State law requires that when reassessment programs result in higher values, millage is rolled back in proportion to the increase in valuation.

Chairman Superintendent George Douglass said he hopes to work well with the procedures in making the school budget for the coming year, but he expects to have a hearing before the budget is finalized to see if the State Department of Education Adjusted Compensation Program will be applied.

"In the past we've took the decrease from the 20 mills

Summer Program To Receive Federal Aid

Highlands County officials are rushing to complete plans for opening three Head Start centers on June 20. Threatened cut-backs in federal programs had left the fate of the Highlands project in doubt for several weeks, but this week the go-ahead was given for a $82,552 Summer program.

James Ferrel Smith, curriculum coordinator for Highlands County schools and author of Head Start plans for this county, said a federal grant of $25,854 has been promised, and the county schools will supply services and facilities equal to a grant of $6,698.

Head Start is a part of the federal "war on poverty" program. Children from families with an annual income of $3,000 or less per year are given an opportunity to attend a kindergarten-type program just prior to entering first grade.

Experienced teachers work with children and parents to prepare for the opening of school. Complete physical and dental examinations are given to each child to spot defects which might hamper his school work.

To participate in the program this Summer a child must be eligible to enter first grade for the 1966-67 school year, having reached his sixth birthday on or before January 1, 1967).

Registration is now under way for the program, and Smith said early registration is important since students will be accepted on a "first come, first serve" basis. Samuel Nixon, Jr., is in charge of registration in Sebring, E. E. Sims in Avon Park and Homer Williams in Lake Placid.

It is expected that enrollment for each of the three centers will be "about equal" with a county total of 360, Smith said. Sessions will be held 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday for an eight weeks period. Lunch at each of the centers will be a part of the program.

Prior to the June 20 opening the staff will be given special training, Smith said. While each center's work is headed by experienced teachers a group of aides and volunteers will be recruited to assist these teachers.

Social service assistants will be employed to visit in the children's homes and work with the parents. A total of 25 staff members are to be hired. Most of the paid workers are being recruited from low income families, Smith said.

"The additional income will be helpful for the families," he said, "and it will give us a core of workers who are already acquainted with the backgrounds of the students.

"In addition to these paid workers, however, we shall need a large number of volunteers, and we hope that people who like to work with kindergarten-age children will contact us. We can also make good use of donated equipment. We shall need building blocks, storybooks suitable for young children especially picture books, phonograph records for children—almost any toy for this age group will be welcome.

School administrators are now busy organizing the Highlands County Head Start Committee. It will include parents of the enrolled students, professional persons who might serve as consultants in the program and interested citizens, Smith said.

Mothers March For College Exceeds Goal

Eighty-six mothers conducted a march for South Florida Junior College funds which ended last Saturday. Results of the march were very gratifying.

Mrs. Nell Roberts, chairman of the drive, reports that response has been good and their goal has been exceeded, but there are 16 more areas that haven't yet had the privilege of giving. These areas to be covered this weekend, even though the official drive is over.

A donation of $100 was made to the drive by the Junior Woman's Club of Avon Park.

Mrs. Sims, wife of Hopewell's principal, consented to conduct the drive in her area and along with 23 co-workers she raised a total of $465 which ties greatly toward this worthy cause.

Mrs. Roberts, assisted by Margaret Collins and Carolyn Tomlinson, supervised 39 mothers in raising a total to date of $535.00

The money is being raised to help obtain equipment and fixtures that can be utilized later in the permanent buildings.

Avon Citrus Bank also has been receiving checks for the drive and reports about $200 received to date making a grand total of approximately $1300.

All volunteers are asked to turn in their kits soon as possible in order to report final results of the march.

Suit Settled

An Avon Park driver's suit against a Sebring area service station has been settled out of court and dismissed.

Sue Draughon had asked $125.85 for damages to her car which, she alleged, occurred when the hood of the car flew up and struck the windshield.

In the suit she charged that an attendant at Billups Eastern Petroleum Company Inc. service station on Highway 27 South had not latched the hood of the auto properly.

The order of dismissal was signed by Judge A. H. Lane.

Avon Citrus Bankers Take Lead In Little League Baseball

The Avon Citrus Bankers forged ahead to take the lead in the Avon Park Little League last week with a 6-1 record. Bagwell Lumber is in second place with a 4-2 record, Rotary is in third place with 3 wins and 2 losses, and the Lions and Florida Avenue Baptists are tied for fourth place with 2-4 records. First Baptists are in the cellar still with an upset win over Bagwell and 5 losses.

The Bankers won their last four games defeating First Baptist 12-2, Rotary 14-3, FAB 16-3, and Lions 6-5 in games in the past two weeks. Bagwell's nine won over the Lions 4-3 and FAB 9-1, but lost to First Baptist 5-3. Rotary won over First Baptist 13-1 and lost to ACB 14-5. FAB beat the Lions 5-4 for their only win in the past two weeks.

Last Monday night's games were rained out and have been re-scheduled for tomorrow night, Friday, June 10, at 6 and 8 p.m.

Saturday, June 18, a morning and afternoon game are set to be played at APCI to entertain the inmates who have generously helped to maintain the Little League field by furnishing man power to prepare the grounds, paint buildings, and set up the bleachers. APCI personnel and inmates have been most helpful to the entire program. It is the hope of the Little League that a double header can be played annually at APCI.

Baseball fans are invited to attend the Little League games each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights at the field at the corner of Anoka and LaGrande.

Wilhite Awarded Bronze Replica

A bronze replica of an Avon Park High School diploma was awarded to A. B. Wilhite at the conclusion of commencement exercises Monday night. It was another in a series of tributes paid to the veteran educator which retires this month as supervising principal of the Avon Park area schools.

On Saturday night the Avon Park faculties paid tribute to Principal Wilhite at a faculty dinner at Griffin's restaurant.

As a part of that program, a resolution "commemorating 34 years of service to the public schools of Highlands County," was read. The Highlands County school board had instructed Superintendent Geo. E. Douglass to prepare the resolution which will appear in the school board minutes as a permanent honor.

The resolution is as follows:

"WHEREAS, A. B. Wilhite, having served the youth of Highlands County in various teacher and administrative roles; and

CASTRO UP TO OLD TRICKS

BY REP. JAMES A. HALEY

One might well wonder what our neighbor, Fidel Castro, is up to lately.

Perhaps, as some so-called experts suggest, Castro is just trying to build up the apparent threat of an American invasion just to delude the Cuban people into thinking of something other than the economic mess he has bestowed on them.

But it well may be that Castro's new sputterings are more sinister than this theory would suggest.

As you all know, Castro recently ordered his military forces and "all Cuban people" on an armed alert against his feigned threat of a United States invasion of his principality. In so doing, he took advantage of the opportunity offered by a sharp United States note alleging "two recent incursions" by armed and uniformed Cubans inside our naval base at Guantanamo.

This was preceded by an earlier harangue by Fidel's younger brother and armed forces minister, Raul, who said that if the United States did not get out of Guantanamo, the Castro regime would "redouble" its mischief-making, not only in Latin America, but in Africa and Asia.

The State Department says there have been 11 incidents (three involving gunfire) around the Guantanamo naval base since March. Castro says there have been 93, but it is perhaps significant that in all his windy speeches, he never until now found reason to mention them.

On top of the ranting of the Castro brothers, the propagandists in Communist Russia, and particularly Tass, the official Soviet News Agency, have been broadcasting pledges of Russian support for what they describe as "heroic Cuba" while accusing the United States of being Cuba's oppressive villain.

Meanwhile, Communist terrorists in Latin American countries have added to the noise by promising Castro "volunteers" to help Cuba stave off the forthcoming "invasion" by the United States.

With all of this going on, at a time when the United States is preoccupied with the war in Viet Nam and at a time when the jittery Dominican Republic was preparing for an election, it would come as no surprise to me if it turns out that the communists have found it timely to foment a new crisis in our backyard.

This could be an overly pessimistic view, and I would hope that it is. The "experts" may be, for once, right in their estimate of what Castro is up to—I hope they are. But I am afraid that in the case of Castro, and in the case of communist tactics in general, past experience would indicate that the more pessimistic the view, the closer it is to the truth.

In any event, it is plain to me that Castro and his buddies (or masters) in the world of communism are the same as ever—and that if we ignore this fact and lower our guard or turn our back to it, we will be doing so only at high risk. I can only hope that our State Department "experts" are at long last realizing this in the case of Castro's Cuba, and will act accordingly.

IN MEMORIAM

It is fitting that we, the living, should set aside a day each year to honor the heroic dead of past wars fought to preserve our freedom.

It is barbaric that, in addition to the patriotic and religious ceremonies of May 30, we observe the day with a mass human sacrifice on the nation's highways.

On the Memorial Day weekend of 1966 a record-breaking toll of 519 lives was taken in traffic accidents—a tragedy which was little noted by any save the news media and the National Safety Council, and which will not be long remembered by the driving public.

Strange, isn't it?

The tragic headlines which announce the loss of American lives in Viet Nam make us constantly aware of the senselessness of war. The only consolation—if there is any consolation—is that this fight in a steaming far-away land is being waged in the name of freedom and decency.

But we turn away from other tragic headlines—the accounts of slaughter on the highways—without compassion.

In Viet Nam the losses are suffered in the name of a worthy cause. On our highways, the dead are piled high for the worst possible causes—such causes as "get there-before-the-other-guy" . . . "hurry-up-and-wait" . . . "I'll-take-my-share-of-the-road-anyway."

INDEPENDENCE DAY 1966

The Fourth of July falls on Monday this year. That means another long weekend of fun and recreation. But this year to a greater degree than in many years, we should pause to reflect on the true meaning of the Fourth of July. There are thousands of families across the land who face a sober Fourth. Their sons and husbands are in Viet Nam because as a nation, we are dedicated to the document which the Fourth of July commemorates.

That document is our Declaration of Independence from Great Britain, adopted by the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776. It signifies the birth of a nation and a degree of individual freedom that exists nowhere else on earth. So long as the Declaration of Independence endures in the minds and hearts of American citizens, freedom will endure. So, with due humility and reverence, enjoy yourself on this Fourth of July, in the year 1966.

History Repeats Itself

It is ever in our minds, the probability, that we have in our young people the nucleus, for higher learning and observation, by the below named facts submitted by some High School Patriots. These facts reach backward 100 years, but they are established facts. For instance note the following:

ABRAHAM LINCOLN	JOHN F. KENNEDY
1. Civil Rights Advocate	1. Civil Rights Advocate
2. Elected in 1860	2. Elected in 1960
3. Assassinated on a Friday in presence of his wife	3. The same
4. Succeeded by Vice Pres. Andrew Johnson	4. Succeeded by Vice Pres. L. B. Johnson
5. Andrew Johnson was a Southerner	5. Lyndon B. Johnson is a Southerner
6. Andrew Johnson was born in 1908	6. Lyndon B. Johnson was born in 1908
7. John Wilkes Booth who assassinated Lincoln was a Southerner	7. Lee Harvey Oswald who assassinated Kennedy was a Southerner
8. Booth was born in 1839	8. Oswald was born in 1939
9. Booth was slain before his trial	9. Oswald was slain before his trial
10. Lincoln had a child to die while he was Pres.	10. Kennedy had a child to die also
11. Lincoln's secretary named Kennedy, also advised him NOT TO GO to Ford's Theatre where he was murdered.	11. Kennedy's secretary named Lincoln, also asked Kennedy not to visit Dallas. He was assassinated there.

It is hoped that the above facts will aid quite a number of Students in their Historical searchings.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I feel that everyone in Avon Park should know the progress of V.I.S.T.A. (Volunteers in Service to America) workers in our community. A personal visit was made to obtain and view the results of their work.

Their main project, along with others, is the Noahs' Ark Day School, located in the annex of Mt. Olive Church on Delaney Ave., which was loaned by the church for the school.

The annex has been completely renovated, inside and out and presents a picture of cleanliness. A fenced in play area with play ground facilities is provided for children's activities. This is in supervision of volunteers, both colored and white, who work together to make this the success it has proved to be.

The school is multi-based and is available to all races and creeds. There are 19 children enrolled with space for 25. Fifty cents per day is charged for each child. More children would attend if money was available to pay the charge.

Each child must have a physical examination before acceptance which is given to them, free. All supervisors and teachers must have a health card.

Each child has their own personal accessories for cleanliness and present themselves freshly washed before lunch is served. They are taught table manners and courtesy. After lunch, cots are placed in the room for a nap essential to children. Each have their own cot.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wiland often work 14 to 17 hours per day. They have also established a sewing class, meeting once a week in the Hopewell School, to encourage low income families to make their own clothes. A carpenter shop has also been started and men are taught to make furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiland hope that another place will be made available to them for an additional day school. They were assigned Avon Park and have been here since November. It is remarkable what has been accomplished in this short period.

They need children's books, yard goods, carpenter tools and money for their program.

Several of Avon Park teachers devote their time along with housewives to help teach these children.

V.I.S.T.A. is a program of its own. It is not connected with the Peace Corp. They are both supported by the U. S. Government but are individual units.

The pay is low. The V.I.S.T.A. worker receives $600 per year each or $50 for each month of service, paid at the end of service. Two and one half dollars per day or approximately $75 per month, for personal expenses. The government pay their rent and they are covered by medical benifits while in service. V.I.S.T.A. workers are assigned to help the poor and low income families.

President Johnson, in greeting the first V.I.S.T.A. Volunteers at the White House, December 12, 1964, said "your pay will be low; the conditions of your labor will often be difficult. But you will have the satisfaction of leading a great national effort and you will have the ultimate reward which comes to those who serve their fellow man."

I sincerely hope that many citizens, ministers and city officials will visit the day school, without malice, and view the work of these dedicated workers. Some one may have a building where another day school could be started.

Forest Fires Double Over Last Year

According to County Ranger, Roy Williams, there have been 37 forest fires in Highlands County through June 1, 1966, compared to 16 for the same period last year. This year's fires are averaging about seven acres in size.

More than 3,300 wild fires occurred on Florida's 18.7 million acres of protected forest land during the first four months of 1966, burning 50,000 acres.

This was an 8.5 percent increase and a 21 percent decrease in acreage burned over the same period last year.

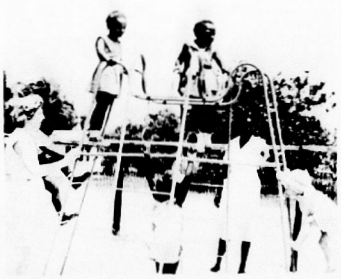

Through April 30, 1966, some 3,401 forest fires were recorded by the Florida Forest Service throughout the state. The average fire burned 15.1 acres. During the same period last year, there were 3,048 fires with the average size being 29.7 acres.

The largest blaze so far this year was a 2,460-acre incendiary fire in Santa Rosa County on April 8. Units of the Florida Forest Service brought it under control the same day. The arsonists are still at large.

The big fire helped make the dry month of April the most destructive month of the year. More than 18,000 acres burned.

Williams advises that more than 90 percent of this county's forest fires are man caused by carelessness and intentional woods burning.

Junior College Project Course In Agriculture

South Florida Junior College proposes a course in agriculture. The technical program was developed with the assistance of an advisory committee chosen from representative business and professional men in the various areas of agriculture business in Highlands and Hardee counties.

The projected program will be evaluated by this committee and will be altered from time to time to meet the changing needs of the students and the demands of the various agriculture enterprises.

The college, in cooperation with several Central Florida business organizations, will endeavor to develop a cooperative program whereby the student will attend college for one year, then alternately work and attend college on an every other bi-monster basis until he completes his two year program.

This will permit the student to gain invaluable training in his chosen field and will, no doubt, lead to permanent employment for a number of individuals.

It will also serve as a means to aid the student financially during his stay at the college.

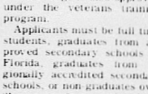

The college maintains a loan fund from which students may borrow with repayment at low interest rates following the satisfactory completion of his projected course.

Scholarships are also available through the college and through a number of organizations and individuals in both Hardee and Highlands counties.

The college is also approved under the veterans training program.

Applicants must be full time students, graduates from approved secondary schools in Florida, graduates from regionally accredited secondary schools, or non graduates over 21 years of age who have satisfactorily completed high school equivalency tests (G.E.D.) and possess an equivalency diploma.

Transfer students will be admitted if they are currently eligible to return to the last previous college attended.

the school board could levy (the maximum the law allowed) and allocated it to the greatest needs. This year we are starting with the needs. Of course we have to relate the needs to what we may reasonably estimate would be our income under the millage rollback," Douglass said.

Race Track Fund

The commissioners did move Tuesday to commence more of the projects budgeted under the $1 million race track tax fund. Avon Park Architect James Heim was employed to prepare plans for the county sub-office building in Lake Placid.

The commissioners have expressed hope that this office building will in part be shared by the Supervisor of Registration and Motor Vehicle Tag Agent and the Health Department—could be started in the Fall.

Tuesday the commissioners authorized the clerk and chairman to negotiate the purchase of the building site. The Episcopal diocese in south Florida has agreed to sell the commission four lots adjacent to the Lake Placid city park for $10,000. This would give the county a 121.7 by 105 feet building site, and the commission agreed Tuesday to ask the city of Lake Placid to close alleyways on the East and South of this site which would enlarge the area which could be used, Commissioner James Creel said.

Sheriff Broward Coker asked for and obtained authorization Tuesday to contact an architect for a preliminary cost estimate for adding a third floor to the county jail building. The Sheriff suggested contacting J. Gamble Rogers, architect who designed the present jail building and "who has built more jails than any other architect I know of," Coker said.

First project to be financed out of the race track money was a sidewalk on Lakeview Drive from the shopping center to Kenilworth Blvd. Another project, the widening of South Commerce from the Circle to Kenilworth Blvd., is due to get underway on Monday.

Most of the work will be done by county road crews, but installation of curbs will be contracted, and at Tuesday's meeting the commissioners voted to advertise immediately for bids to be opened on July 1.

Tuesday the board voted to advertise for bids on construction of two new bridges to be financed by the race track money. One bridge is to be on Schlosher Creek and one on Catfish Creek. The Presbyterian Conference Center Road, which is to be re-surfaced from the center to State Road 70, was added to the race track fund projects also.

Ambulance Payment Prohibited

Jack Stephenson funeral director who last month asked the board to underwrite some of the cost of ambulance service to accident scenes, was present this week to continue the discussion with the commissioners.

County attorney Hue Nunnallee said he had studied the question carefully and the county cannot make payments of the type requested. Stephenson had suggested that the county pay $20 for the calls when no injured persons are moved by ambulance (the "dry runs").

"I don't see how we can stay in business if we're not given some help," Stephenson told the commissioners, and he cited a number of counties now in an "ambulance crisis." He asked the commissioners to "draft a bill now" for introduction at the 1967 session of the Florida Legislature which would permit payment by counties for ambulance service.

Commissioner Carl McIntyre replied, "I don't see how the little bit of money involved here could make a real difference to you. It seems to me you're talking about a franchise—at least that is the real problem in some of the neighboring communities."

Stephenson agreed that franchise would be one way to meet the ambulance problem. Commissioner Ben McGee pointed out that the state association of county commissioners are making a study on the ambulance situation and may push for new legislation on payments.

The old question of whether this county should participate in a joint state-county hospital and to the indigents was back up for consideration Tuesday. The county at this time is not participating in the state-county program.

If ever an Avon Park wedding could be planned to become the perfect marriage—it was the impressive wedding which united in holy matrimony, the beautiful Frances Ann Hartwell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald C. Hartwell, to Linwood Alan Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Robertson, Tacoma, Maryland, Thursday, June 2.

Altar decorations were large twin baskets of white gladiolus, daisies and tiger mums and three large fern balls on standards. Twin candelabra in the background and one large white candle on a standard entwined with ivy and used in the ceremony, completed the altar.

The pews for relatives were marked with white bows and wedding bells. White bows marked the pews for friends. The prayer bench was covered with shirred white satin and lace.

The brides original gown was designed and made by the bride. It was fashioned from alabaster satin with a sabrina neckline, long pointed sleeves, princess waist extending down to a panel edged on both sides with alencon lace which extended around the bottom of the chapel length train. The color was no white.

She wore a waist length mandarin veil fashioned from a velvet crown, with wide lace encircling the complete veil. The back of the dress was fashioned with unpressed pleats in a Moyenage style.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Christine Bartham, wore a knee length gown, princess waist and full skirt made from mimico pink organza over taffeta. Her head dress was a velvet brim and ruffled organza to match her gown. She wore white lace gloves and carried a double ball of topiery white mums as her bouquet.

The bride was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father. She was met at the altar by the groom who took her hand and sang, "God Gave Me You."

Elder Johnston read the ceremony in the presents of approximately 250 guests. He then gave the bride and groom each a long tapered lighted candle and they lit the large altar candle together, a symbol of sealing their troth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kirstein then sang the wedding prayer.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the Florida Power Lounge. It was decorated with potted palms and two large baskets of flowers.

The refreshment table was spread with a white satin cloth with a yellow net overlay and green candles in crystal holders.

Highlands Citrus Growers Can Protect Investment

Citrus growers throughout Florida are again afforded the protection of their investments with Federal Crop Insurance, it was announced by Doc S. Department of Agriculture.

Citrus insurance, first offered in 1961, protects the growers investment cash against losses from hurricane, freeze, tornado, and hail.

Highlands County is listed among the 15 in the state who qualify to receive benefits from this type of protection.

Federal Crop Insurance on Citrus in 1965 protected 1,200 groves involving over 45,000 acres with a liability of $12 million. Since 1961, when the program was first offered in Florida, nearly $10 million has been paid to policyholders with $6.2 million in indemnities paid in 1962 following a disastrous freeze.

The citrus insurance program has been revised this year, now offering growers investment protection of up to $.50 per box of citrus. Citrus protection includes early and mid season oranges, late orange, grapefruit, temples, tangelos, tangerines, navels, and mid-or mid honey oranges.

Specially trained facilmen are taking applications from growers who were not previously covered.

Any grower who desires additional information on Federal Crop Insurance protection may obtain it from the FCIC office in the Florida Citrus Mutual building in Lakeland.

Social Security Questions & Answers

Question—I received a lump-sum death payment when my husband died. I didn't get any monthly checks because we had no children. I am 63 years old but have never applied because I didn't want my payments reduced. How does the new law affect me?

Answer—You should apply for benefits immediately. Even under the old law, you could get widow's benefits at 62 in the full amount.

Question—I am a widow who has never worked under social security. I am only 58 but I am unable to work. Can I get benefits under this new law?

Answer—No, you must be at least 60 to get widow's benefits. Payments cannot be made to you because you are unable to work or because you have worked under social security.

Question—I was denied a disability because my condition was expected to improve. I asked for a review but haven't heard. Should I make a new application since the law has changed?

Answer—You will not need to make a new application. When your case comes up for review, the new law will be applied to the facts in your case. Both the new and old requirements will be considered.

Troop 157 Adopts Conservation Project

Five advanced rank Boy Scouts of Troop 157, sponsored by the Avon Park Rotary Club, adopted as a community service project the clean-up of the Heart's Desire conservation area.

Life Scout Bill Knapp, who goes before an Eagle Board of Review this week, laid plans for the project. Participating scouts were Ed Rick, Jeff Pohle, Doug Ayerst and Ricky Rich.

Heart's Desire, long a favored camping spot for scouts over the past 40 years, lies between Lake Lotta and Little Bonnett Lake and is traversed by a flowing stream. Giant moss-draped oaks provide shade and shelter for abundant wildlife.

Unfortunately many of the sportsmen using the area have been careless and have left hundreds of beer cans, broken bottles, and paper plates scattered over the area.

In their clean-up the scouts hauled away two truck loads of trash and more is yet to be picked up. Last year a woods fire damaged about half of the area but natural regrowth has been established.

The scouts of Troop 157 are seeking permission from the owner of the area to declare the area a wildlife refuge. The troop will place trash barrels in the area and urge sportsmen to deposit their litter in the barrels.

The area is the last densely wooded area close to town and it is the hope of the troop that it may be maintained as a wildlife conservation area and primitive camping spot.

THE SECRET OF GREAT LIVING

"I am among you as one who serves." St. Luke 22:27.

Two "old grads" were visiting their Alma Mater and were talking about one of their former teachers. One asked the question: "What did you learn from him?" He received the reply: "I learned to be a man and I shall be grateful to him as long as I live."

"I learned to be a man." In the Book of Ezekial 22:30 we learn how rare it is for one to learn to be a real man. In that verse Jehovah says: "I sought for a man but found none." What is God's way of determining when a man IS A MAN?

These are days that try men's souls but they offer men the challenge to great living. We remember that in the early days of the Christian church those faithful to Christ were literally thrown to the lions and tested by fire which leads us to observe: "The Gospel didn't get up out of a leatherbed to warm its way sleepily through the earth; it got down off crosses, came stalking up out of fire, with the smell of flames on it."

In the midst of mortal danger, the First Epistle of Peter urged men to be strong, to go about their business as those who loved and served. They were admonished: "As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same." I Peter 1:10. That's the secret of great living.

What are you living for? Jesus had a livelihood. He was a carpenter by trade, but that was not what he was living for. Andrew, Peter, James and John had livelihoods. They were fishermen but that was not what they were living for. Paul was a tentmaker, but that was not what he was living for.

One's business, profession or trade furnishes the wherewithal to care for his physical needs, something else is needed. One needs also a guiding or governing pattern for living that will determine the manner in which he approaches his work and the way he will do it.

In facing up to the life of the world and our part in it, the question should not be: "What do I want?" but rather: "What is wanted of me?" Florence Nightingale lived in a home where she had everything that she wanted. But it was only after she had looked out on the desperate state of the nursing profession and asked the question: "What is wanted of me?" that she discovered the open road to great living.

Jesus brought the world this new emphasis for living. In the Parable of the Rich Fool, the man who had gathered for himself much of this world's goods said to his soul: "Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry." But God said: "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee." St. Luke 12: 19-20.

What did the rich man discover? He discovered that there is a Will that must be taken into account. That somewhere man must write God into the pattern of his living.

Turning from this parable let us look at the lesson taught by the way in which Jesus dealt with the Rich Young Ruler. Jesus loved him and sought to gain him for a disciple. But first he must pass the test. So, Jesus said to him: "Go, and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me." St. Matthew 19:2. The significant lesson that is brought out here is: "Life is worth what we have to share."

Einstein once put it in these words: "Cooperate with other people to help something better to become real." And he added that if it were not for the joy of cooperating with kindred minds, life would be empty. To "what end" Jesus answered that question in the Lord's Prayer: "Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven."

Alice Freeman Palmer, formerly president of Wellesley College, prayed the following prayer for her students: "God help me to give what he gave—myself—and make that self worth something to somebody, teach me to love all as he loved, for the sake of the infinite possibilities locked up in every human need."

It was the deep sense of sharing we find expressed in that prayer that determined the decision of Dr. Albert Schweitzer to turn his back on a career of teaching and music—he was then renowned as a New Testament scholar and was the world's leading exponent of Bach on the organ—to go back to school and study medicine in order that he might become a doctor in equatorial Africa. What he accomplished in the field of medicine is known the world over and men will be telling the story of this man, who won the Nobel Peace Award in 1952, as long as men cherish deeds of heroism. How do you explain him? We have a clew to that explanation in his own words: "The operation is over, and I am sitting in the dormitory watching the patient, waiting for him to awake. By and by his eyes open, and he ejaculates, 'I feel no pain, I have no pain.' Then his hand feels for mine and finds it, and he begins to ask questions. And I tell him and others present that it is the Lord Jesus that told me and my wife to come out to Africa, where there is so much suffering."

Great lives have a way of reaching out and touching other lives for good. So it occured in the life of the scion of one of America's richest families. William L. Mellon had retired at the age of 37 to an Arizona ranch. His retirement came to a sudden conclusion when he happened to read an article on Dr. Schweitzer. For the first time he began to understand what life is about. His response was immediate. He went back to school. Seven years later he received an M.D. Degree from Tulane University. The man in the smoking jacket had become the man in the white coat. Seeking a place to use his newly acquired knowledge and skill in medicine, he chose the most thickly populated and the poorest area of Haiti. There he built a $2,000,000.00 hospital and staffed it with the most competent doctors and nurses he could find. Interestingly enough he placed on the grounds of that hospital a statue of Albert Schweitzer who said: "It was the Lord Jesus who told me . . ."

There are men in all walks of life who have thus found a great way of living through Christ. If you should ask one of them: "Sir, what is your vocation?" He would have something to say about service, about living for goodness, fairness, honesty, justice and love. Was it not Jesus, the greatest of all, who said: "I am among you as one who serves." St. Luke 22:27.

Former Resident Dies Suddenly In Arcadia

Former Avon Park resident, Thomas P. Weekley, 49, died suddenly of a coronary occlusion May 31, in Arcadia. He is the son of Mrs. T. M. Weekley and brother of Mrs. A. S. Turner of Avon Park.

Mr. Weekley lived in Avon Park in 1952 and 53.

He was owner and operator of Weekley's Home Furnishings in Arcadia.

Mr. Weekley was born in Lenox, Ga., and moved to Florida at an early age. He volunteered for military service before the outbreak of World War II. He served with the 36th Infantry Division which was called the "Hard Luck Division" because it never had an easy assignment. The casualty list of this division was the third highest of any American division in history.

He went into action at Casablanca and fought through Italy, France, Germany and Austria. It was in Austria that the American Red Cross made it possible for Tommy to search several prison camps for his brother, Lt. Pharis Weekley, who at that time was reported missing in action, but later reported killed.

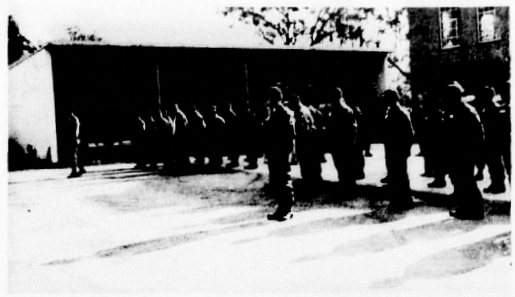

The day the war ended he was shot by a German officer while capturing a group of prisoners. Eight months later, he returned home and was discharged with honors.

He is survived by his wife, Hortense, and two daughters, Patsy and Candy of Arcadia.

Funeral services were held Friday, June 3 at 2 p.m. from the First Baptist Church of Arcadia, with Rev. Fred Williams officiating.

Interment in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

Yatt Petten Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Two Suits Filed In Court

Two suits filed in Circuit Court last week seek damages for property loss and injuries allegedly suffered in two auto accidents.

M. D. Prescott charges that Sherry Ellen Herrin was responsible for an accident on state road 29 involving a Prescott-owned car, driven by Charles L. Gunter, and a car owned by Emily Herrin and driven by Sherry Herrin. Both cars were headed north and were near Sunnyland in Collier County at the time of mishap on March 6, 1966, the suit states.

Prescott is asking a judgment of $1,000 from each of the Herrins. The plaintiff is represented by Hayward Davis of Lake Placid, and the case has been assigned to Judge Clifton M. Kelly.

W. F. Murphy and Clara Murphy are asking $500 damages on each of two counts against James Robert Williams of Lake Placid. The plaintiffs, residents of Dade County, charge that Williams was responsible for an accident on June 27, 1964, on Highway 27.

The case states that Mrs. Murphy was a passenger in a car owned by W. F. Murphy and driven by Barry Daniel Murphy.

James P. Hahn of Lakeland is attorney for the plaintiff.

Local Guard Unit To Spend Two Weeks At Summer Camp

The local unit is made up of 78 enlisted men and four officers. Six of the men will not go through Summer camp but will remain in O.C.S. school.

Commanding Officer, Captain Curt McKenzie, said they would travel to Green Cove Springs, just south of Jacksonville, where they would spend the night before continuing on to Ft. Stewart Sunday.

The Avon Park cook unit to provide meals for units from Arcadia, Lake Wales, Fort Meyers, and Sarasota which consist of approximately 400 men Saturday night and Sunday morning.

There were 14 vehicles in the convoy from Avon Park. All men were issued "C" rations for the day before leaving. In instructing the men concerning the noon meal, Capt. McKenzie said, "You men can eat your noon meal any time you like or you can wait and eat with me, but that's it, no seconds."

The unit will be participating in tactical exercises just like any regular army training unit. They will, he said, put into practice what they have been taught in class rooms.

The local officers of the local unit are Capt. McKenzie, 2nd Lt. Carroll Lloyd, 2nd Lt. Ernest (Buck) Gibson, and 2nd Lt. Donald Webb.

Bus Drivers Attend School

Five Avon Park School bus drivers attended one week of schooling on driver safety, May 16 through June 3, Mr. Vance Murdock of the Department of Education of the State of Florida was instructor for the occasion.

The school was held for the purpose of instructing and informing drivers of the rules and regulations of driver safety as well as protection of the students and the drivers. The state laws were explained affecting public passenger transportation such as use of signal lights, when and where to stop, school zones, driver responsibility, and many other valuable instructions.

On Wednesday, the drivers were each given the opportunity to perform behind the wheel of a bus in order to be evaluated on their operation of the vehicle. Murdock complimented the county drivers, generally, on their performance and said that the team is far above the average bus crossed. He stated, "You made the least mistakes of any group of drivers I know."

Several films were shown as aids to show the precautionary measures one must take in order to avoid accidents. One film was titled "Anatomy of an Accident" showing the self confidence of a careful driver and the type of accident that can happen when one gets neglectful of good motoring habits.

Another film was a protrayal of "How Others See Us" with respect to our driving habits. The question in this film was "What is your attitude?" Attitudes affect our actions as we drive. Records show that only one percent of the drivers are habitually bad drivers. Those who purposefully "hog the road" or intentionally break the law creates most highway hazzards.

The three "C's" of driving would be, according to these films, Control, Courtesy, and Concentration.

A dinner was served Friday at noon as a climax to the week of schooling. Meal was served at the maintenance shop in Sebring.

Murdock was presented with a certificate of appreciation signed by all the bus drivers in the county for his coming to Highlands County to conduct the school on safety.

Each driver was given a certificate for completion of stated hours, by the Department of Education Driver Training Program.

Summer Program Counseling Set

Under the sponsorship of the NDEA Program, Mrs. Patti Hill, guidance counselor at Avon Park High School, will give assistance in determining whether a student should enroll in Summer courses.

Those students who have made failing grades in any academic subjects should make a special effort, along with their parents, to see Mrs. Hill during the week of June 13-17, to decide the need of Summer courses beginning June 20.

The counselor, assisted by the assistant principal and the school psychologist, will plan staff conferences for individual students when advisable.

Classes will be held in Sebring High School.

The guidance office may be reached by calling GL 34755.

Scholarship Loans Available To College Banking Students

The Florida Bankers Educational Foundation (FBEF) offers interest-free loans to Florida resident students interested in a banking career. The foundation is financed by contributions from full-service banks in the state. The purpose of the loan fund is to assist Florida students entering their junior year in a Florida University, who plan to major in finance and who need financial aid.

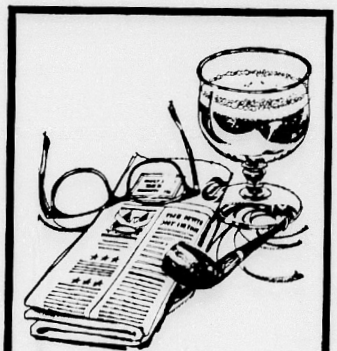

Upon the recommendation of the Dean at his university, a student may apply for a Scholarship/loan for his last two years of college. Amounts granted range from $250 per semester or trimester up to a maximum of $1,000. If a student enters banking in Florida, the total amount of the Scholarship/loan is forgiven after one year of service in Florida banking. Should the graduate choose another career his loan become repayable six months after graduation at $25 per month; however, the loan accrues no interest. A student who enters graduate school or the enlisted ranks of the Armed Forces is exempt from the repayment terms of his loan until he finishes his schooling or serves his military obligation.

Since the Foundation's beginning in 1964, more than 200 Florida students have used its funds to help finance their education. Many of these students are now employed by the banking industry in the state.

Students using FBEF funds can also obtain help in getting placed in a Florida bank. The Florida Bankers Association, located in Orlando, works with University placement officers in getting Scholarship/loan recipients established with a bank in the state after graduation.

College juniors who plan to major in finance and need financial aid can get full details on the Florida Bankers Educational Foundation from their local banker.

Bob Hope displays the first Gold Medal ever awarded by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences which he received for "unique and distinguished service to the industry." Actor Jack Lemmon looks on.

NAUTICAL — Cotton denim with a new "old" look is sportswear's newest fabric craze. Here in Cone Mills' version of scrubbed denim, it's styled into a top-stitched pea jacket and man-tailored trousers. Outfit by Valor.

ACTION-STYLED — Instead of croquet, the modern dad is more apt to spend his leisure hours scuba-diving or boating. Typical of this year's Father's Day gifts: an action-styled jacket of cotton madras with zip-in hood.

Fair Warning

A shrewd landowner near Romsey, England has a sign warning trespassers: "Keep out—area infested with rubus fruticosus." What it means is the area is full of blackberry bushes.

NOTICES

NOTICE

Stewart's Auction House is Closed for the Summer and we are going to miss you, all our many friends and customers. We will be back in the Fall Buying, Selling, Trading and of course our big Auction every Saturday night.

Sincerely
Ben T. Stewart

P.S. I want to invite and even urge you to the ESTATE AUCTION that I am conducting Friday, June 10, at 201 Oak Ave., in Sebring. Starting promptly at 2:00 P.M. If you are interested in some real fine Antiques and modern Furniture don't miss this Auction, Friday, June 10, in Sebring. Hope to see you there.

B.T.S.

Short Season

Deer hunter B. H. Givins, 72, of Forest Glen, Calif., lined up his rifle for the first shot of the two-buck limit season recently.

When he fired, his 1965 hunting was over.

Givins' shot went through the head of one buck and then killed another standing next to it.

HIP HIPSTER—Foulard printed separates add up to the total summer look. The pants are on the hip and belted while the shirt features a rounded collar. Colors are tomato, green pepper, lavender blue and navy.

THE HEAD MAN—When it comes to carrying baskets this Cairo merchant has a good head for business. He has to turn the volume up all the way in order to hear his transistor radio.

City Council Suggests Utility Tax To Offset Annual Deficit Of Sanitation Department

City Council members were given a breakdown of operating costs of the Sanitation Department, last Monday, showing that the department operates in the red each year.

Approximately $15,000 per year has to be absorbed from other sources to pay the expenses. The city has a monthly charge of $1.25 which is about 60 cents short of breaking even.

The council agreed that something should be done to curb the deficit, but action was delayed for the present. Suggestion was made that a utility tax be applied which might be the solution to the problem.

In other discussions, Councilman Clarence King suggests a charter change to enable the city to sell tax certificates each year for delinquent taxes like the county does. He points out that many people could pay their taxes if they would, and this would be one way to insure the city of all their tax receipts.

"Legislative action would be needed to get the charter change next year but a referendum should be issued now to get things rolling," he said.

He also recommended that a city judge and jury be placed on the referendum for consideration at election time.

King also proposes a ceiling of $50,000 be placed on all of the city's indebtedness in the future. A referendum would have to be made in order to change this ceiling.

Councilman Jack Duggan made a suggestion that the city raise the salary of the street department foreman up to the level of other department heads. The new budget comes up for discussion in July, he points out, and suggests the council take action at that time on this increase.

Fire Chief Wilbur Giddens appeared before the council asking for some form of relief in his department in answering out-of-town fire calls.

Each time his department is called outside of the city limits on a fire, they are left short of men and equipment to fulfill their obligations within the city.

He pointed out that about 25 percent of the calls they receive are out of the city limits. The chief agreed that people living out of the city needed protection and suggested that the council agree to Mayor E. A. DeLaey opening preliminary negotiations with the county in hopes of finding a workable solution to the problem.

Walter Morris Gay Memorial Award Presented at Berea College

On May 12, 1966, the 110th anniversary of Berea College, Berea, Ky., the Walter Morris Gay Memorial Award was presented to Grover Dee Adkins, a senior from Lousia, Ky.

This award is given to a senior Pre-Law student chosen on the basis of high academic achievement and excellance of character.

The endowment which sustains this award has been donated, in memory of Walter Morris Gay (class of 1961 of Avon Park), by his parents, friends in Avon Park, students and faculty of Berea College and by interested citizens of Berea and McKee, Ky.

Gay was killed while riding on a fire engine to McKee, when the truck went out of control and overturned. The accident occured April 23, 1965.

Gay, a dean's list student, who was active in campus government, was a member of the Top Twelve of the Men's Association. He had been accepted at Law School at Stetson University in DeLand.

While in school at Berea, Gay was president of the Young Republican's Club, associate editor of The Pinnacle, a delegate for two years to the Little United Nations Assembly at Indiana University, and Student Association representative from Dana 11. He was a member of the History and Political Science Club.

School Board Approves Programs To Update Educational Methods

Highlands County Board of Public Instruction Tuesday approved two programs to update educational methods in the county schools.

The board voted to participate in the WEDU television program and approved a National Science Foundation Institute for teachers in grades 1, 2, 3.

Total cost of the two programs exceeds $20,000.

Board members, who had the educational project under consideration for a month, were unanimous in their enthusiasm. "We can utilize our best teachers to teach in the classes which are receiving some television instruction," Chairman Henry Bailey observed.

"This is the coming thing, let's get started on it and be in on the ground floor," R. L. Padgett said, and other members echoed this opinion.

Television is popular with board for another reason—utilization of space which is at a premium in all the county schools.

In a brief explanation to the board George Douglass explained that by installing several television receivers in a large room (eight in SHS auditorium for example) a large number of students may be given instruction via television.

Such sessions would not be held daily, he said. The large television class in history might meet in the auditorium twice a week. On another two

Man Injured When Struck By A Truck

A Wauchula man was seriously injured Monday when struck by a pick-up truck a mile and a half west of Avon Park on the Wauchula road (route 64).

Isaac Clinton Link was taken to Walker Memorial Hospital suffering from injuries to his right leg, right eye and right hand.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Hopson who investigated the mishap said Link was walking west on the road. The truck was driven by William Jerry Carter, 17, of Sebring. Jerry Marcus Davis, 17, of Sebring was a passenger in the truck which was headed east.

Sheriff's deputies reported that when interviewed at the hospital Link said he believes that the truck driver did not see him. The accident was reported at 12:30 a.m. Monday. No charges have been filed against Carter.

Link, who is employed by Ben Hill Griffin, has been moved to the Veterans Administration at Bay Pines for further treatment.

Three Added To SFJC Faculty This Week

The initial faculty for South Florida Junior College is nearing completion with the appointment of four new faculty members by the Highlands County Board of Public Instruction.

Dr. William Stallard, president and School Superintendent George Douglass recommended the appointment of Kai Cheong Yong as instructor in history, geography and sociology; Charles Cooper Craft as guidance counselor and Maurice Edward Hartman to teach biological science.

Yong is a native of Ipoh, Malaysia, and he attended high school in his native country. He came to the United States in 1952 to attend Asbury College in Kentucky. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in social studies at Asbury in 1956.

His Master's degree in geography and sociology was earned at George Peabody College in 1963, and he is presently a doctoral student at Peabody. He is now an American citizen.

Yong has taught in a Methodist mission school in Malaysia and public schools in Georgia and Sarasota in this state. He has just returned from a trip around the world. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa and the Educational Leadership Club. He is married and has one daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Yong are members of the Baptist Church.

Guidance Counselor Craft is a native of Mississippi and attended high school in Vicksburg. All of his higher education has been in Mississippi—at Hinds Junior College, Delta State College, Millsaps College and Mississippi State University. His Bachelor's and Master's degrees are both from MSU. He has taught in the public schools in Mississippi and Bolivia and presently is foreign Student advisor for Mississippi State.

He is married and has one child. He is a member of Phi Beta Sigma fraternity and the Episcopal Church.

Biological Science Instructor Hartman comes to Highlands County from St. Lucie County school system. He attended high school in Pittsburgh, Pa., and was graduated from Westminister College in New Wilmington, Pa. His Master's degree is from Indiana University.

He is married and has two sons and a daughter. He and his wife are active in the work of First Presbyterian Church and church school in Ft. Pierce.

Dr. Stallard told the school board Tuesday that four more instructors are to be hired before South Florida Junior College opens its doors in August. Appointments Tuesday brought the faculty hired to an even dozen.

He also reported that building renovation is now 80 percent complete. This must be financed by voluntary contributions. The junior college administration has spent $38,811 for capital equipment including classroom furniture and scientific apparatus, but, the school will close out its fiscal year with a balance in its state grant for capital outlay, Dr. Stallard said.

Mrs. Kathleen Dowvie Appointed County Federal Project Director

Highlands County school board at its Tuesday night meeting approved the appointment of Mrs. Kathleen Downie as federal projects director for the county schools.

Superintendent George F. Douglass had reported to the board some months ago that the administration of many county school systems now includes a federal projects director position. Under several acts, and the Elementary and Secondary Act in particular, funds have been made available but preparation of detailed descriptions of the local plans is time-consuming.

In the current school year county curriculum coordinator James Ferrel Smith has been in charge of writing these descriptions and has estimated that he has spent a major portion of his working hours on this work in the 1966-67 school year.

Mrs. Downie will begin work here immediately. She is currently attending a summer institute at University of Florida, Gainesville. The institute on data processing, research and statistics is geared to federal project preparation.

Mrs. Downie is coming to Highlands County from Pittsburgh, Pa. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree, with majors in English and French, from Geneva College in Pennsylvania. She earned her Bachelor of Laws degree from University of Pittsburgh School of Law where she ranked ninth in her graduating class. She also has taken graduate work in speech pathology and audiology in University of Pittsburgh's Graduate School of the Humanities.

Mrs. Downie is a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, and she has been active in volunteer work with retarded children. Her late husband was a lawyer and they practiced together. Mrs. Downie is mother of a 23-year-old son.

She first came to Highlands County to visit a sister, Mrs. Ned Brown who resides in Sebring.

Two Local Doctors Attend Orlando Meet

Drs. Donald Hartwell and B. C. Ostling of Avon Park are attending the 17th Annual Scientific Assembly of the Florida Academy of General Practice being held in Orlando.

The faculty of this year's assembly included 11 internationally known and respected authorities on wide ranging subjects from Stroke Rehabilitation to Cancer to Medicare.

Legion Junior Baseball Team Drops Opener To Bradenton

Avon Park's Post 69 American Legion junior baseball team lost its opening game to Bradenton's Post 24 here at Head Field last Monday night by a score of 9-2 in a six inning affair that was shortened when the lights were put partially out of action.

The young Avon Park team jumped off to a one run lead in the bottom of the first inning when Ronnie Jackson led off with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Johnny Elder, and came home when Emmitt Money's high fly to short left fell in for a single.

Bradenton scored two runs to take the lead in the second on a walk, a fielder's choice, and a series of passed balls. The Post 24 team also added four runs in the top of the third on two singles and a homerun over the left field fence by the catcher.

Avon Park's other run came in the bottom of the third. Money, the losing hurler, walked, moved on to third when a Bradenton infielder erroed on Joe Strickler's grounder, and stole home when Strickler drew fire on an attempted steal to second.

The scoring was finished out in the top of the fourth. Bradenton pushed over three more runs taking advantage of one single, two errors, and a walk.

Money pitched four innings for Avon Park before being relieved by Hoppy Rewis. Money allowed five hits, walked five batters, and fanned seven. Rewis held the opponents hitless and scoreless in the last two innings and walked only two.

Richard Gulash was the winning pitcher fanning eight Avon Park batters, walking six, and giving up five hits to the losers.

Glue Sniffing Reported In Avon Park

The staggering effects of intoxicants found in "airplane type" glue, as well as other strong glues that can be bought in any drug or department stores and in many grocery stores, is fast becoming a problem that parents need to become aware of.

Last Saturday a 10 year old child, found under the spell of a dose of glue fumes, had to be taken into custody by authorities while publicly molesting an adult in a local business establishment.

Children who are left to roam the streets unattended can find lots of things to get into, bringing disgrace to themselves and their parents. Parents should know what children are doing and where they are at all times.

Some "bright" child thought up the idea of squeezing the glue into a bag and then holding it over the nostrils until they would stagger from the fumes. This fad has become popular in Avon Park among younger children. This is dangerous as enough intoxicants from the glue can even be fatal to humans.

Parents are urged to be alert to the possibility of their children falling into the temptation of this fad.

DILEMMA UNDER MEDICARE A CLASSIC CASE

Parker K. Hughes, M.D., president of the Polk County, Iowa, Medical Society, recently contributed a thoughtful piece to his county's dilemma under medicare.

One problem, he pointed out, is that most apparently feel that once they reach 65, medicare will take care of all their medical needs. For a great many, the costs of care will exceed the sums provided. It will be easy, though totally unjustified, to blame the doctors for this.

Another critical problem detailed by Dr. Hughes, "... is that it is now, we are told, up to the doctors to police the utilization of the program. Even though the great majority of doctors were opposed to the law, because of the belief it would inevitably result in a lowering of standards, they are now being called upon to prevent abuses. They, and those in related medical care fields, will certainly do the best they can. In D r. Hughes, words, "It will be a very difficult strain on patient-doctor relationships to walk in and tell your patient that although they may feel they need further hospitalization, the medicare law and the local committee have said they must go home.

The American Medical Association is working with the government authorities in an effort to make the law perform as well as possible. But the medical fraternity didn't create the difficulties, and it has only very limited power to reduce their impact. To quote Dr. Hughes once more, "I think it is of utmost importance that we make every effort to inform the public of these problems. Hopefully then, when the chaos which will inevitably develop occurs, the entire responsibility for the dilemma will not be thrown in the doctor's lap. . . ."

School Board Approved A Staff Of 24 For Head Start Program

A staff of 24 has been approved for the Head Start program in Highlands County this Summer. The staff appointments were approved by the Highlands County Board of Public Instruction at its June meeting on Tuesday night.

Donald Theilke was named as director for the county-wide program which includes centers at Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid.

Verdele Medlin is head teacher for Lake Placid; Betty Phillips is head teacher for Sebring, and Wanda Wilson is head teacher for Avon Park.

The staff appointments include eight teachers, eight teacher aides, three lunchroom managers, a bus driver, two social service assistants and a secretary-bookkeeper.

Enrollment for Head Start is to be held Monday at Hopewell School in Avon Park, E. O. Douglas in Sebring and Carver School in Lake Placid.

The first day's session will be 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will include lunch. In the afternoon a county-wide meeting of Head Start staff members will be held at the E. O. Douglas home economics classroom.

Beginning on Wednesday, June 21, the Head Start sessions will be held Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the program will include both breakfast and lunch.

Children from families with incomes of less than $3,000 per year and who will enter first grade in the 1966-67 school year are eligible to participate in the kindergarten type program which is in preparation for first grade.

"Our funds are not so large as we had hoped, and we have had to reduce the Head Start program according to funds," Ferrel Smith, curriculum coordinator, said. "Under the circumstances we cannot stress too strongly the importance of early registration. We shall have to go on a first-come, first-serve basis," Smith said.

In making recommendations for staff appointments Smith said he had considered importance of hiring persons who will be available for help in the community on a year-round basis and where ever possible priority was given to applications from low income families.

A special 40-hour training course is being held at University of Florida, Gainesville, for persons who are to work in the Head Start program this Summer. Those attending from Highlands County include Mrs. Hosea Williams, Mary Jean Stephens, Mae Brewton, Barbara Heilig, teachers; Elinore Bedelston, Gracie Sanders Hill, Daisy Speakman, Katy Givens, teacher aides; Theilke, and the three head teachers.

Other staff appointments are Mae Ruth Hall Murphy, teacher; Jacqueline Jerido, Ruth Archer Brown, Esline Hester, Bonnie Oberle, teacher aides; Ida Lee Shaw-Oxidine, Lula White, Massaline Johnson, lunchroom managers; W. W. Wells and Alfrea Davis, social service assistants; Peggy Payne, secretary-bookkeeper; Elijah Murphy, bus driver.

Theilke, who is to be the program administrator, has completed four years as a member of Sebring High School faculty. In the 1966-67 year he will serve on both the SHS and E. O. Douglas High faculties. He earned his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from University of Alabama.

School Board

days science lectures would be held there.

On other days the classroom teachers would meet with smaller groups to carry on instruction adopted to the more individualized situation. Superintendent Douglass emphasized that televised instruction is an "enrichment" for the present program and does not replace the small classroom instruction and personal contact between teacher and student.

In Sebring Don Theilke will be coordinator for the American history classes at Sebring High School and E. O. Douglas participating in the television project. Other faculty assignments in this field were not announced Tuesday.

Avon Park High School teachers have expressed a desire to participate in American history and earth science television programs. Lake Placid High School will have American history programs.

All schools have expressed an interest in participation, the Superintendent reported, but he did not outline specific plans.

To participate the county school board will pay station WEDU in Tampa, a fee based on average daily attendance in school. The fee is $1.25 per child per year. The station teachers supply local instructions copies of supplementary material, lesson plans and make trips to this county for personal conferences with teachers.

The Superintendent estimated that a total of 50 television sets would be needed for the schools at a cost of approximately $129 each. Cost of the television instruction for the 1966-67 year is estimated at $15,250.

Science Institute

The board approved sponsoring a National Science Foundation Institute for Public Teachers. Cost to the county schools will be approximately $5,400.

The class, which will offer in-service training in new materials and methods for teachers of science in grades 1, 2 and 3, will be limited to 30 teachers. A weekly instruction period for teachers will be held for 30 weeks, three hours per session.

In the current year county science coordinator Floyd Clark and Mary Roberts, teacher in Lake Placid Elementary, have participated in an institute at Punta Gorda, and Mrs. Roberts has used the new approach in her classroom work, the first such class in the county.

Some teachers from each of the county's elementary schools will be participating in the institute next Fall, and the enrollment is to be divided among instructors from each of the three primary grades, Douglass said.

Both the science institute and television participation may be able to receive some federal financial aid.

Budget Hearing Set

Douglass reported to the board that the county tax roll will be delayed this year, but he has been advised by the state Department of Education to proceed with making a budget based on "realistic estimates of needs."

His suggested time table was approved by the board Tuesday. It calls for presentation of the 1966-67 budget to the board on July 12, and advertising it on July 14 and 21. Public hearing will be set for July 22.

Personnel Changes

The board approved appointment of 21 teachers for the 1966-67 year: Keith Lathrop, Linda Ann Blythe, Wanda Mayo, Sebring High School; Linda Craft, Edward Culbertson, Walter Gant, Delores Duke, Avon Park High School; Gail Lathrop and Paul David Bergers, DeSoto City. Fred Wild; Barbara Shoaltz, Ella Frances Sawyer, Eileen and Sara Leslie Harrison, Bradley, Margarett Thomas, Hopewell; Wanda Finch, Avon Elementary; Patricia Brashley, E. O. Douglas; Leona Simmons, Lake Placid Elementary; Erma Shelton, Woodlawn Elementary; Olene D. Gillenwater, Emerson Gillenwater, Sam Ardessa Green, Lake Placid High.

Darlene E. Lynch was approved as secretary for Lake Placid High.

Two new teachers, approved at the May meeting, have changed their minds, Douglass reported and have resigned. Other resignations approved Tuesday were Inez Rodgers and Barbara Jones, E. O. Douglas; Willie Davis and Betty Smith, Hopewell; Gertrude Barker, Avon Elementary, and Dorothy Corfield, Lake Placid High secretary.

Dr. Robert T. Rengarts was named as an alternate doctor to examine school bus drivers.

The American Legion request for school bus to transport delegates from several countries to Boys' State was approved.

D. D. Cunningham was named to audit school internal accounts and lunchroom funds for a fee of $500.

Jim Blackman Ford Co. bid of $2,700 for three school buses was accepted. Douglass reported that the buses have more than 200,000 miles on each.

Other bids accepted were from DeLaney Hardware of Avon Park for paint, and from Atlantic Chemicals of Orlando and Paramount Chemical Co. of Winter Haven for floor finish products.

ORIGIN OF "DOG DAYS"

The "dog days" of ancient Greece and Rome affect people today much as they did 3,000 years ago.

Early astronomers noticed that Sirius, the most radiant star in the sky, rose with the Sun in midsummer, they believed its heat intensified that of the Sun. Since Sirius is in the constellation of Canis Major, or "Larger Dog," ancients called the hottest period "dog days."

Fishing Licenses On Sale

Florida fishing licenses for 1966-67 went on sale Wednesday. The licenses are issued through the county judge's office, but may be purchased from a number of sub-agents located throughout the county.

County Judge Mervin Rehrer reminded fishermen today that all Florida fishermen, except residents 65 years of age and over and children under 15, must posses a valid fishing license when using a rod and reel, trotlines, or an artificial lure in fresh waters, or for taking non-game fish by use of spears, gigs, or bow and arrow.

The annual fishing license for residents costs $3 or if purchased as a joint fishing and hunting combination costs $10.50. The licenses are good throughout the state. The fee for non-residents is $8 for an annual fishing license.

Residents do not need to have a license to fish noncommercially with not more than three cane poles in the county of their legal residence. Residents must have a license to use a cane pole outside their home county.

Packages To Military Personnel Limited As To Size and Weight

The discriminatory effects of present parcel post laws affecting military personnel, were pointed out today by Postmaster Bob Young on behalf of the National Association of Postmasters.

"Parents in Avon Park cannot mail larger or bulkier parcels to sons and daughters at hundreds of military installations served by first class post offices in the United States," Young declared.

Young said this was pointed out in an analysis of present corrective legislation before Congress by President James O'Toole of the National Association of Postmasters in Washington, D. C.

In speaking as a representative of the association, Young listed some typical, discriminatory situations in which the restrictive parcel limitations can apply for mail going to or from military personnel at many points.

1. A civic group collects gifts for the local people in military service—such as seconds, canned food specialties, some types of clothing for civilian wear, etc., but cannot send it as a single parcel because it weighs more than 20 pounds. If sent, it must be broken up into two or more parcels at greater cost and resulting inconvenience.

2. A group of local men away in military service ask to be sent records, a record player, and similar items for their camp club—but it cannot be sent by parcel post.

3. Parents want to send some new luggage for a son to use on furlough, putting some books and personal effects in it. It cannot go by parcel post because it is too heavy or too bulky.

4. A local women's group wants to send Christmas candy, cakes and gifts for a dozen local boys away at a military installation. It is likely to be too big a package to go by parcel post.

"At the same time, at any nearby (smaller) second, third or fourth class post offices the same parcels can be sent because these post offices have a 70 pounds, 100 inch limitation. Mailers on rural routes out of first class post offices also have this right."

"As a result of legislation effective in 1952, enacted to favor Railway Express Agency, parcels going between first class post offices (those in large cities) 150 miles or more apart are restricted to 20 pounds and 72 inch dimensions," the National Association's representative said.

If the first class post offices are less than 150 miles apart, the limitations are 40 pounds and 72 inches, he noted.

Hundreds of such first class offices serving Army posts, camps and stations and Air Force bases, fields and installations are listed in the Directory of Post Offices.

Corrective legislation passed the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, with the number H.R. 14901. A 17 to 3 vote for the bill indicates an excellent chance of passage in Congress, Young said.

He said reports disseminated by the express agency that the legislation would deprive REA employees of jobs were not correct.

President O'Toole of the National Association has advised Sec. Young said, that the Department has expressed complete willingness to rehire any REA employees who might lose their jobs under this legislation—although the Association emphasized there is no basis in the first place for any such fears of job losses as a result of this bill."

In addition to ending discriminatory provisions against mailings between first class post offices—applying to regular military personnel in this country and to mailings of civilians — the bill provides about $107 million in additional revenue through moderate rate increases to prevent a parcel post deficit.

Elvis Presley is "Frankie's" "Johnny" of Edward Small's Technicolor production "Frankie and Johnny" based on the famous folk ballad which opens Thursday at the Hilans Theatre. The United Artists release contains eleven new Presley hit tunes.

Famed Tale of 'Frankie, Johnny' Becomes Movie for First Time

Oddly enough for America's best-known and most beloved folk song it has thus far never been made into a motion picture, a state of affairs remedied at long last by Hollywood producer Edward Small with his musical presentation of "Frankie and Johnny," the United Artists release in Technicolor opening Thursday at the Hilans Theatre.

It stars Elvis Presley as "Johnny" and co-stars Donna Douglas as "Frankie!" And with Harry Morgan, Sue Ane Langdon, Nancy Kovack (as "Nellie Bly") Audrey Christie, Robert Strauss, Anthony Eisley and the proverbial others, others, others in abundant supply, Elvis sings eleven brand new tunes in the film.

But, in most cases, what seems to be a major problem can be solved with a minor adjustment. Or, genuine VW parts at VW prices.

HAIL THE BEAUTIFUL BRIDE

All Hail To The Bride

Yes, the bells will soon be ringing for these gals and their guys.

Shown in various stages of planning their weddings are three local girls. All plan to be married this summer. The bridal pictures were taken June 2.

Though June is the traditional month for brides, other months - particularly August - have been rivaling it in recent years.

by Happy Strom

CRYSTAL . . . SILVER . . . CHINA—all lasting, as a marriage should be. Carefully selected with care not a passing whim, but to their permanent appeal. Here Mrs. Silas Patrick helps her daughter Sheila select a silver pattern. Sheila will be married July 1 to David Baucom in the Church of God. Rev. Jerry Howell will officiate. (Sun Photo)

". . . . LET'S SEE . . . . We just must invite Aunt Alda. Maybe we can take some one off your list to make room . . . . But then we can't forget your Aunt Tressie . . . ." So it goes, give and take and get those memories in action—when a young couple starts making out the guest list, and writing the invitations. It's a lot of work, but not so bad when it's shared. Charlene Burrescia and Robert Lansing Padgett II hard at work addressing envelopes. The couple is to be married August 20 at the First Baptist Church. (Sun Photo)

Wedding Invitations

Tradition keynotes the wedding invitations.

The bride may choose a lettering she prefers, the engraving or printing. But when it comes to the invitation itself, she does not deviate from custom. Invitations are ordered about three months before the wedding day and may be sent out three weeks to one month before the wedding. For a simple ceremony with no invitations, a notice printed in the local paper inviting relatives and friends is sufficient.

Florist Will Help

A good florist will view bridal bouquets with an artistic eye when they plan a wedding.

They will go to the trouble of getting a swatch of material of the bridal gown and the bridesmaids' dresses and design bouquets accordingly. They will also bear in mind the season of the year as well as the formality of the wedding itself.

—OH, DAD—Poor Dad! Dad has two importan roles in most weddings—especially escorting daught ter down the aisle and paying the bills. Dr. Donald C. Hartwell and daughter Frances Ann pause at the head of the aisle before their slow walk to the altar. Frances was married to Linwood Alan Robertson June 2 at the Adventist church.—(Sun Photo)

The Reception

If a bride-to-be feels she could be efficient in the little things, the wedding would go off smoothly.

But as it turns out the large things are the ones that occupy their minds weeks before the wedding.

So, at the reception, if something seems amiss or suddenly occurs to them that they have not planned a receiving line.

At the traditional reception the bride's mother heads the receiving line, with her husband and father. The groom's father may prefer to circulate among the guests with the father of the bride.

Farther along will be the receiving line—bride, groom and attendants. The maid of honor will stand to the bride's right, along with half the number of bridesmaids. The other bridesmaids will stand to the groom's left, and the ushers, of course, will be to the right of the groom. There may be departures from this traditional receiving line according to religious customs.

Dad Pays

It's Dad who pays the bills. Though he must pay for the wedding, it is one of the biggest events of his life, no matter how many daughters he has.

His expenses include wedding invitations, flowers for the church, fees for singer and organist at the church, bridesmaids' bouquets, the bride's dress, clothes and veil. He must pay for all food, flowers, music for the reception. But consoling note —when the bride walks out of the reception with the groom, dad's all through paying the bills.

Groom Pays

The groom pays too. He pays for the bride's bouquet and corsages for the two Mothers, the usher's boutonnieres. He foots the bills for the wedding ring, marriage license and contribution to the clergyman and the honeymoon trip.

The Honeymoon

The honeymoon can be as elaborate and glamorous as you can afford. A cruise, a trip to the beach or a delayed trip to suit your convenience.

Thank-You Notes

The one detail of the wedding is the bride's thank-you-notes. Everything else will go off in apple pie order, no doubt, if she is the average bride.

But thank-you-notes often are postponed and postponed until the delay is noted by those who gave the couple presents. A well organized card file or book should be used to list each present as it arrives. The date of the arrival, the present, the sender, the sender's address, where the present was bought, in case of duplicate gifts that will be exchanged. If for some reason the bride cannot respond promptly, a card should be sent noting that the gift has been received. The bride must then write a thank-you-note at the earliest moment.

The note of thanks should not sound like one you rattle off. It is inexcusable to write "thank you very much for the gift" or even "thank you for the linen." Some appropriate comment should be made, and a warm implication left that you really mean it.

Report Wedding To Newspaper

A newspaper report of your wedding is as much a part of the happy occasion as the rice and old shoes. But the success of a report depends to a great extent on the cooperation of the bride.

Here are a few tips for the brides-to-be planning to report their weddings this bridal season or, for that matter at any time of the year.

Register the date with The Avon Park Sun society reporter in advance. Turn in the details of the wedding BEFORE the ceremony. Be sure to leave your telephone number with her if any questions need to be answered.

Arrange with the reporter to have your pictures taken or to attend your wedding. The best kind of picture to submit is a black and white glossy print, colored or tinted pictures cannot be used because of technical reasons, neither can snapshots unless they are of superior quality - and few are. Arrange with your reporter to take the necessary picture, for the paper. Arrange with your photographer for colored pictures of the happy occasion. And please, bride-to-be, this is your day. So may we have a picture, please. Much of the fun of a wedding is looking back on it, and having pictures to show your children, grandchildren and friends.

Clever Bride Woos Mom In Law

A clever bride will do well by making a friend of her mother-in-law. She can start out by interviewing her on her favorite subject: her son.

Here are a few questions to put to a mother-in-law: How does he like his coffee, if he drinks coffee? Does he like his shirt collars starched semi-starched or soft? Has mother been doing his shirts or send them to the laundry? What are his favorite foods? Will mother give you her recipes or should you take your chances? Is he a meat, vegetable or potato man, does he like desserts? If mother is suspicious of daughter-in-law it is no doubt because she thinks no one can keep her son happy and comfortable as he has been at home. Once she is impressed that you are willing to take care of her son's needs, she'll be ecstatic.

Wedding Ring

The wedding ring—the circle is supposed to signify love without end. The custom of wearing the ring on the third finger, left hand, is supposed to originate with the Romans who believe the left hand indicated subjection, and that a vein or nerve connected that finger with the heart.

Wedding Party

The wedding party should include at least one usher for every 50 invited guests and at least as many ushers are there are bridesmaids.

Bride Don't Panic At Sight of Stove

So, you just got back from your honeymoon . . . and now you are faced with the kitchen stove. Don't panic.

Just because there are only two of you to cook for, don't think you are to be a round of dull meals of pie, hot dog or hamburger variety. Cooking for two can be exciting. Remember the cookbook can be your best ally. It not only tells you how to cook things but how to select the best cuts of meats and many a cookbook will provide you with wifely menus.

And, for heaven's sake, don't be afraid to ask your mother-in-law what her son's favorite foods are. No one knows better than she, his likes and dislikes. His mother will be delighted to think that you asked for help and advice.

Home

Much can be said about the home. The furnishings, a place for everything, and everything in its place. But remember brides, I quote from Edgar A. Guest. "It takes a heap o' livin' to make a house a home."

THE BRIDE—"Mother do I look all right? Just wish I was not so nervous." Mrs. Donald Hartwell assisting her daughter Frances in the final touches for her wedding. Now she is ready—listening to the Nuptial music—then to the wedding march—slowly, slowly to the altar where she will meet the groom, the man of her choice—"till death do us part."—(Sun Photo)

Language Arts Course To Be Taught Here

Seventh and eighth grade students enrolled for junior high language arts course in the school's summer academic program will be able to attend classes at Avon Park High School.

Billy Cason, who is charge of the academic program, said enrollment for this course has been great enough that classes can be held at Lake Placid and Avon Park as well as at Sebring High School.

Other academic courses which will be offered at Sebring only are algebra I and American history. Courses in pre-biological science and high school English will probably be cancelled because of low registration, Cason said.

The junior high language arts students should contact Avon Park High School to learn when and where to meet next week, Cason said. All other academic enrollees are to gather in Sebring High auditorium at 8:30 Monday morning.

At that time a definite decision will be made about the pre-biology course and high school English instruction.

Sermonette

BY REV HERBERT D. GRAETZ
Union Congregational Church

THE SECRET OF GREAT LIVING

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Phillipians 4:13.

Last week we closed our sermonette on the saying of Jesus: "I am among you as one who serves." If you had asked him about the secret of great living, he would have had something to say about goodness, fairness, justice and love for God and man. There are men in all walks of life who have found through Him the secret of great living.

General Omar Bradley gave us something to think about when he said: "We have many men of science and too few men of God. We are a nation of nuclear giants and spiritual infants. We taught our young men more about how to kill than what they are living for."

What are you living for? Have you written God into your pattern of living?

In the old days a young English doctor was working in a plague ridden section of China. He himself came down with the sickness. As he lay dying a Roman Catholic priest tried to comfort him. The young doctor objected and said: "I don't believe in God." Whereupon the priest replied: "But God believes in you."

Long ago St. Augustine said so much when he opined that God made man for himself. This he had learned both from divine revelation and the presence of God in his own life. The reason for Christ's coming was that man might be reconciled to God that he might be at home with God in this world. Christ is God's answer to the need of our lives and the need of the world.

Some years ago I had the great privilege of visiting the old Spanish Mission of Capistrano. As one studies it he cannot help but be amazed at the miracle it represents. In his two volume history of the American Southwest, Paul Horgan tells how the first Churches were built more than three hundred years ago.

With no other power but that of his own example and patience, the solitary Franciscan priest led his Indian parishioners in the building of a Church. He was all things: architect, engineer, carpenter, mason and foreman. He had with him the following tools and materials: ten axes, three adzes, three spades, ten hoes, one medium-sized saw, one chisel, two augers, one plane, six thousand nails of various sizes, a dozen metal hinges, two small locks, several latches, one large latch for the main front door. Thus equipped it was his duty to build a mission. And he did! Patiently he worked with the Indians. Gradually, fashioned out of the dust of the earth and loving toil, the mission rose stark and splendid against the desert sky.

The Franciscan priest and his helper raised the walls of the mission because they, like Nehemiah, and the people of Jerusalem, had a mind to work. They felt that what they were doing was of importance to man and God! You remember that in the case of Nehemiah, when his enemies sought to entice him from the walls he was erecting about Jerusalem, he replied: "I am doing a great work and I cannot come down."

Perserverance is one of the keys to success. We might well pray the prayers of Sir Francis Drake: "Lord God, when thou givest to thy servants to endeavor any great matter, grant us also to know that it is not the beginning but the continuing of the same until it be finished, which yieldeth the true glory." We must not only give our time but our attention to what we are doing and see it through. Jesus as much as says the same thing: "No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." St. Luke 9:62.

If there is a gnawing in your heart to make something more of your life, to do something that really matters, remember you can if you will. There is the case of Madame Curie. After almost 500 successful experiments in search for radium, her husband, Pierre Curie cried out in despair: "It can't be done! It can't be done! Maybe in a hundred years it can be done, but never in our lifetime!" Madame Curie said quite simply: "If it takes a hundred years it will be a pity, but I dare not do less than work for it as long as I live!" In that glorious spirit the research was carried on until the epoch making discovery was made.

Do you want to live vitally, too? Give God a chance. Write him in your pattern of living. A friend said to Tennyson: "My dearest hope is to leave the world better than I found it." A good resolution but shallow. It is no wonder that Tennyson replied: "Mine is to have a clearer vision of God." Man sets his course according to his vision of God just as a mariner sets his by the North Star. Remember Dr. Albert Schweitzer holding the hand of a man he had operated on and saying to him: "It is the Lord Jesus that told me and my wife to come out to Africa, where there is so much suffering."

Charles Kingsley, the author of "Westward Ho!", came home after he had gone for a walk by the seaside and wrote in his diary: "Before the sleeping earth and the sleepless sea and the stars I have devoted myself to God, a vow, never, if he gives me the faith I pray for, to be recalled."

"Some men live near to God, as my right arm
Is near to me, and thus they walk about
charm
That mocks at fear and bars the door
on doubt
And dares the impossible."

St. Paul' faith was so complete that he likened himself to a branded slave. His determination was in Christ. He puts it in unforgettable words: "I can do all things through Christ which strengthened me." Phillipians 4:13.

Think of the Franciscan priest setting out with so little and under the providence of God doing so much with it. So may you take what materials are at hand and contrive with your mental, physical and spiritual powers to help something better to become real.

A Gift For Father

June 19? Need some gift suggestions for Father's Day? How about a necktie, Bermuda shorts, sport shirt, attache case, golf clubs? Or, maybe it should be a gift of those wonderful things that cost no money at all: A Sunday afternoon nap without interruption, a balanced checkbook at the end of the month, a few more thousand miles on the old car, a simple kiss of gratitude from each member of the family.

But remember, whatever it is you give him—can Father afford it?

Give Father A Hand

To Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington, is due the credit for having started a serious national movement to recognize and establish "Father's Day."

It was in 1910 that she drew up a petition addressed to the ministers of Spokane urging such constructive teaching in the pulpit as would point out: The Father's place in the home; the training of children; the safeguarding of the marriage tie; the protection of womanhood and childhood.

Newspapers helped to launch the plan.

Gradually, after there had been a great misunderstanding about the date, the third Sunday in June was accepted and is now generally know as "Father's Day."

For those who desire to show honor to their father, a red or white rose is suggested for the occasion.

Father

Used to wonder just why father
Never had much time for play.
Used to wonder why he'd rather
Work each minute of the day.
Used to wonder why he never
Loafed along the road an' shirked;
Can't recall a time wherever
Father played while others worked.

Father didn't dress in fashion,
Sort of hated clothing now;
Style with him was not a passion;
He had other things in view.
Boys are blind to much that's going
On about them day by day,
And I had no way of knowing
What became of father's pay.

All I knew was when I needed
Shoes I got them on the spot;
Everything for which I pleaded,
Somehow, father always got.
Wondered, season after season,
Why he never took a rest,
And that I might be the reason
Then I never even guessed.

Father set a stoc on knowledge;
If he'd lived to have his way,
He'd have sent me off to college
And the bills been glad to pay.
That, I know, was his ambition;
Now and then he used to say
He'd have done his earthly mission
On my graduation day.

Saw his cheeks were getting paler,
Didn't undeistand just why;
Saw his body growing frailer,
Then at last I saw him die.
Rest had come! His tasks were ended,
Calm was written on his brow;
Father's life was big and splendid,

Sermonette

BY REV. HERBERT D. GRAETZ
Union Congregational Church

THE SECRET OF GREAT LIVING

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Philippians 4:13.

Last week we closed our sermonette on the saying of Jesus: "I am among you as one who serves." If you had asked him about the secret of great living, he would have had something to say about goodness, fairness, justice and love for God and man. There are men in all walks of life who have found through Him the secret of great living.

General Omar Bradley gave us something to think about when he said: "We have many men of science and too few men of God. We are a nation of nuclear giants and spiritual infants. We taught our young men more about how to kill than what they are living for."

What are you living for? Have you written God into your pattern of living?

In the old days a young English doctor was working in a plague ridden section of China. He himself came down with the sickness. As he lay dying a Roman Catholic priest tried to comfort him. The young doctor objected and said: "I don't believe in God." Whereupon the priest replied: "But God believes in you."

Long ago St. Augustine said so much when he opined that God made man for himself. This he had learned both from divine revelation and the presence of God in his own life. The reason for Christ's coming was that man might be reconciled to God that he might be at home with God in this world. Christ is God's answer to the need of our lives and the need of the world.

Some years ago I had the great privilege of visiting the old Spanish Mission of Capistrano. As one studies it he cannot help but be amazed at the miracle it represents. In his two volume history of the American Southwest, Paul Horgan tells how the first Churches were built more than three hundred years ago.

With no other power but that of his own example and patience, the solitary Franciscan priest led his Indian parishoners in the building of a Church. He was all things: architect, engineer, carpenter, mason and foreman. He had with him the following tools and materials: ten axes, three adzes, three spades, ten hoes, one medium-sized saw, one chisel, two augers, one plane, six thousand nails of various sizes, a dozen metal hinges two small locks, several latches, one large latch for the main front door. Thus equipped it was his duty to build a mission. And he did! Patiently he worked with the Indians. Gradually, fashioned out of the dust of the earth and loving toil, the mission rose stark and splendid against the desert sky.

The Franciscan priest and his helper raised the walls of the mission because they, like Nehemiah, and the people of Jerusalem, had a mind to work. They felt that what they were doing was of importance to man and God! You remember that in the case of Nehemiah, when his enemies sought to entice him from the walls he was erecting about Jerusalem, he replied: "I am doing a great work and I cannot come down."

Perserverance is one of the keys to success. We might well pray the prayers of Sir Francis Drake: "Lord God, when thou givest to thy servants to endeavor any great matter, grant us also to know that it is not the beginning but the continuing of the same until it be finished which yieldeth the true glory." We must not only give our time but our attention to what we are doing and see it through. Jesus as much as says the same thing: "No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." St. Luke 9:62.

If there is a gnawing in your heart to make something more of your life, to do something that really matters, remember you can if you will. There is the case of Madame Curie. After almost 500 successful experiments in search for radium, her husband, Pierre Curie cried out in despair: "It can't be done! It can't be done! Maybe in a hundred years it can be done, but never in our lifetime!" Madame Curie said quite simply: "If it takes a hundred years it will be a pity, but I dare not do less than work for it as long as I live!" In that glorious spirit the research was carried on until the epoch making discovery was made.

Do you want to live vitally, too? Give God a chance. Write him in your pattern of living. A friend said to Tennyson: "My dearest hope is to leave the world better than I found it." A good resolution but shallow. It is no wonder that Tennyson replied: "Mine is to have a clearer vision of God." Man sets his course according to his vision of God just as a mariner sets his by the North Star. Remember Dr. Albert Schweitzer holding the hand of a man he had operated on and saying to him: "It is the Lord Jesus that told me and my wife to come out to Africa, where there is so much suffering."

Charles Kingsley, the author of "Westward Ho!", came home after he had gone for a walk by the seaside and wrote in his diary: "Before the sleeping earth and the sleepless sea and the stars I have devoted myself to God, a vow, never, if he gives me the faith I pray for, to be recalled."

Is near to me, and thus they walk about
charm
That mocks at fear and bars the door

St. Paul' faith was so complete that he likened himself to a branded slave. His determination was in Christ. He puts it in unforgettable words: "I can do all things through Christ which strengthened me." Phillipians 4:13.

Think of the Franciscan priest setting out with so little and under the providence of God doing so much with it. So may you take what materials are at hand and contrive with your mental, physical and spiritual powers to help something better to become real.

FIGHT RUST

Each year, corrosion destruction in the U.S. costs $8 billion—about $50 for every person. To fight the rust and corrosion villains, many homeowners coat all the metal around their houses with a good rust inhibitor like Derusto.

Monthly Feature

BOWLING IS SUCH FUN! More and more family groups are bowling together for fun, which is also bringing them closer together.

Highlands County can boast of their modern up to date air-conditioned bowling center "RIDGE LANES," located on U.S. 27 - halfway between Avon Park and Sebring.

Gray Hammond took over the operation of Ridge Lanes in November of 1965 and is making great strides to prove that bowling is a good clean sport and can be fun for anyone - ladies - females - Youngsters - teenagers - senior members - groups - clubs or individuals.

The Hammond family comprising of Gray, his wife, Claire and their cute little daughter Karen came to Highlands County from Atlanta, Ga. "Gray" was formerly a salesman for AMF, is a pro bowler and bowled in 26 tournaments in the national circuits for two years. He was the first member on the advisory staff located south of the Mason-Dixon Line and east of the Mississippi. He has done clinic instruction work since 1960 in Bermuda, Cuba, Puerto Rico and from coast to coast.

As Gray Hammond says "Bowling is for Everyone—young and old alike." If you have reached an impasse in your bowling why not check with the instructors (two on duty all the time), they will be able to help you improve your game, so you can get back in the competition.

This year, the summer school recreational program has scheduled 2 sessions daily — Monday thru Friday. Instructors will assist these groups.

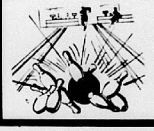

The Hammonds have scheduled many interesting sessions, not only will you be bowling and enjoying it but you may also win a trip to Nassau or valuable gift prizes while doing it. Don't miss out, not too late yet to join the Summer Festival of Fun at Ridge Lanes. Pick up your passport now and find out how you may become a winner.

Katherine Waggaman of Lorida is the latest 1,000 TV Stamp winner. Bill White of Avon Park is the second player to make a 300 game at Ridge Lanes.

Come Join the happy crowd at Ridge Lanes, whether you have never bowled, are a beginner, want to improve your game or are tops in bowling. It's great fun at Ridge Lanes.

Moving Story

Joseph Mourai, of London, England, became riled at the sight of an abandoned car left undisturbed outside of his house for six months. He retaliated, towing the vehicle to the steps of the office of Transport Minister Mrs. Barbara Castle. He painted a message on the vehicle "Dear Mrs. Castle, this wreck has been outside my house. Now you have it outside yours. Compliments from Joseph Mourai."

1 No. 303 can tomatoes

NO DEFENSE—Carrying a small white flag, a Buddhist monk walks in front of South Vietnamese troops in Saigon. The troops used tear gas to break up a stone-throwing mob that had been shouting antigovernment slogans.

CHICAGO SLEEP-IN—It looks as if an eviction notice has been served at a rooming house, but it's really a corridor in the administration building of the University of Chicago. Students took their places to protest the university's policy of furnishing class rankings to help determine draft deferments.

Commission To Aid City In Boat Ramp

Highlands County commissioners voted Tuesday to give $5,000 aid to the city of Avon Park in the construction of a swimming beach and boat ramp along Lake Verona.

The commission's parks and recreation budget for the year is exhausted, but the board decided to take money from the fund set up by the sale of the race track certificates of indebtedness. A part of that fund had been earmarked for parks and recreation.

After years of wondering the Highlands commissioners has decided to learn firsthand what would happen if it refused to pass a resolution requested by the State Road Department. Two such resolutions were presented at Tuesday's board meeting in connection with secondary road improvements to State Road 70.

After approving the first of the state-prepared resolutions, the board balked at the second and even rescinded its approval of the first resolution.

Commissioner J. A. Butler stated the rebellion when he queried, "What would happen if we refused to approve these resolutions?" County Attorney Hoe Nunnallee offered, "It would be an interesting experiment."

Clerk Earl Rich pointed out that the resolutions deal with expenditures from the county's share of monthly contributions of the State Road Department "decided to keep the money it probably can't."

The commissioners have been trying to obtain a state-maintained road from the department, but so far the efforts have been in vain.

The resolution which spawned the controversy was authorization for the State Road Department to use $12,370 of the Highlands County share of secondary road money to move utilities along the road.

The Route 70 project includes a four-laning, widening the road to eliminate a narrow bridge near Brighton and a new bridge.

The resolution which was approved at first then the action rescinded authorizing the improvements.

It is stated that the plans for 70 are good. But we have been reading that Highlands Hammock Road for a long time. We noted that's some time ago the county commissioners request that the state fix the Hammock road from the Highlands Hammock Road to State 66 first.

The commissioners passed another resolution to the State Road Department Tuesday when they authorized the County Attorney to ask for a ruling on fences inside the Ashcroft Grove area. Commissioners Ben McGee and Butler said they have received many telephone calls from people who protest that the fences are on state right-of-way and the fences must go.

Property owners have contended the fences (which run parallel to the creek on either side) are needed to keep cattle fenced in while fish-men have wanted the fences removed to allow free access over state right-of-way to the creek.

"I've heard about this until I'm tired of it," Butler protested. "It is state right-of-way and the state will have to decide what to do. It is a State Road Department responsibility."

Attorney Nunnallee agreed that a state ruling is necessary. "The rights of different parties are in conflict here, and it is not an easy question. He and Sheriff Broward Coker noted that sportsmen have, at times, been destructive, causing loss for the property owners.

Robert Butler has given land to the Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission for a park, fishing area and boat ramp on Kissimmee River. The recreation area can be constructed with state funds, but some fill and bulldozer work has been requested from the county. A resolution accepting responsibility for maintaining access was approved subject to the County Attorney checking the legal descriptions.

Commissioner Carl McIntyre asked the commission to halt purchases of asphalt temporarily until investigation can be made into the possibility that the county may be able to obtain hot mix and have it installed at a cost not to exceed $8.50 per ton.

He said the Mac Asphalt Co. of Lakeland plans to install a plant in the county in October (a temporary installation while Highway 27 is under construction). After the installation time the $8.50 price would be available, McIntyre said, and he claimed this would be four or five dollars less per ton than the county is now paying to buy the asphalt and use its own equipment and men for the installation.

Commissioner Butler, assured that the move to halt county asphalt purchases would not put a halt the street patching work within the city of Sebring, backed McIntyre. The city of Sebring is to buy the asphalt and the county will assist with men and equipment in the project. Commissioner McGee opposed the move and refused to second Butler's motion forcing McIntyre, who was presiding over a three-man meeting Tuesday, to second the motion to keep it alive.

Commissioners Cecil Skipper and James Creel were absent Tuesday. Among the visitors at Tuesday's meeting was Earl Crutchfield, commissioner-elect from district 2.

With the end of the fiscal year approaching, the commissioners are receiving requests for budget adjustments.

Tuesday the County Welfare Director Anna Dee Church was given permission to transfer $3,000 from the direct welfare fund to hospitalization. She said the State Welfare Department's 12-day

Local National Guard Unit Receives Eisenhower Trophy

The National Guard unit from this area has earned two trophies for outstanding performance. Battery C, Third Howitzer Battalion, 116th Artillery, received the coveted Eisenhower Trophy while in Summer camp at Ft. Stewart, Ga.

On Friday, June 24, the unit will receive its second award, the VFW trophy as the Florida National Guard's most outstanding unit. Presentation will be at the Guard headquarters in St. Augustine.

"It is very unusual for a unit as large as a Battery to receive the Eisenhower Trophy," Lt. Carroll Lloyd, information officer for the Battery said. "It has most often been presented to a small unit such as a band."

The Trophy is presented annually to the Florida National Guard unit which has achieved the "highest degree of proficiency in all fields of training." The rating is based on performance throughout the calendar year—in Battery C's case the year 1965.

The trophy remains in the winning unit's possession for a year; no unit has ever won it twice. When it does move on a replica remains as a permanent part of the unit's trophy display in the Avon Park Armory.

Formal presentation of the Eisenhower Trophy was made by Major General Henry W. McMillan, adjutant general Florida National Guard, to Capt. Ira C. McKenzie, battery commander. The ceremony, before 8,000 men, was part of the June 11 parade at Ft. Stewart, Ga.

Battery C which includes men from Sebring, Avon Park, Lake Placid, Wauchula and Frostproof returned from Summer camp on June 19.

County Jail Gets Face Lifted

EISENHOWER TROPHY—the local guard unit Btry C, 3rd Bn, 116th Arty was awarded the "Eisenhower Trophy" for being the most outstanding company size unit in the Florida National Guard during the Calendar Year 1965. Award will be held in their possession until recalled by the State Adjutant General.

MINCEMEAT DOLLARS

Much like children, seeking to avoid unpleasant sights, many government officials have been turning their backs on the signs of inflation that have appeared in recent months. We have been told there is no real danger. Everything is under control and these are just temporary dislocations. Or, it is pointed out, wage increases have generally exceeded price increases. But, this disregards the predicament of those who can't increase their incomes—old people on pensions and welfare, the unemployable, those with little training, etc. Or we hear perhaps that the picture will be brighter next month or the month after.

Well, these avoidances and desperate hopes have lost their value if they ever had any. Last February's price jump was the steepest for the month in 15 years—and the sharp rise continues. No one any longer denies that the forces behind inflation grow stronger by day. Labor's demands seem to have almost no ceiling, and the government's 3.2 per cent "noninflationary" guideline for wage increases has become a joke.

The possibility that we will soon have tax increases is fast becoming a probability. As much as $5 billion may thus be taken out of circulation in an attempt to stem the tide. But there has been a curious reluctance on the part of those in power to cut back, in even moderate degree, the enormous and unprecedented welfare programs that could run the budget deficits to undreamed-of levels and make mincemeat of the dollar's remaining worth.

More and more voices are stating that cutbacks of this nature should precede tax increases or at least accompany them. They are right.

BIG BUSINESS

In the current era, people have been educated to the idea that someone owes them damages every time they stub their toe, and the liability for simply living is becoming so great that the average person can hardly afford to pay for adequate insurance. If you give your neighbor a lift to work in your car and have an accident, he can sue you and collect exorbitant amounts. If a friend walks across your property and injures himself, he can sue you and collect. You constantly read of judgments of $10,000, $50,000, $100,000 and up.

Expecting the other fellow to pay for all the risks of life has become big business. It is promoted by some of the sharpest mercenary minds who make a profession of litigating damage suits. It's time we all realize that although insurance companies may write the checks to settle outlandish damage suits, we pay the bill in ever-rising costs of essential insurance coverage.

A GOOD SYSTEM

Writing in "The Generosity of Americans," author Arnaud C. Marts states that: ". . . private citizens in this country give $11 billion a year in private generosity for the public good." One prominent businessman explains such generosity as essential to the preservation of the personality of the giver and to the saving of our society and the world. Aside from individual generosity, it should not be forgotten that under capitalism the profit system, by its very nature, does contribute to the public good. The profit motive stimulates investments that provide employment and build stable communities.

We have reason to be proud of capitalism. It is a good system.

REPORT OF JAMES A. HALEY

While I certainly believe, along with all good Americans, that the rights of the individual to fair treatment in criminal investigations must be protected, I also believe that society—the citizenry as a whole—has some rights also.

In this context, I cannot see the past week's Supreme Court decision, further restricting the police in pursuit of crime, as other than a blow at every law-abiding citizen.

At a time when respect for law and order seems to be approaching a new low point for our country, when streets of United States cities, including those of our own National Capital, are unsafe, and when a man's home no longer is his castle of refuge, it hardly seems right that hoodlums should be the chief concern of courts and government.

Nevertheless, the Supreme Court's new blueprint for the protection of suspects under police questioning is but one of a string of court orders giving advantage to demonstrators, communists, and common criminals, although the new order does go far beyond any of the others.

Like many another American, I am wondering when it will be the turn of loyal, law-abiding citizens to find sympathy in the halls of government, and particularly in the appellate courts.

Law enforcement officials have responded with anguish to the high court's latest stumbling block. The Associated Press reported, in the wake of the decision, widespread criticism from police stations and sheriff's offices all over the country.

The new ruling split the court 5-4 over the rights of a suspect being examined by police. Speaking in indignant dissent from the majority, led by Chief Justice Warren, Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan called the decision "a hazardous experiment at a time when the crime rate in this country is a problem of growing concern. The court is taking a real risk with society's welfare in imposing its new regime on the country."

Though the Chief Justice wrote in the majority opinion that "we do not purport to find all confessions inadmissible," the decision appears to make it virtually impossible, as a practical matter, for police interrogators to obtain confessions, or even information, from any suspect who has sense enough to keep his mouth shut. As one highly competent commentator said, "it may be that we will never see another conviction in an unwitnessed crime."

It is true that the American Civil Liberties Union praised the decision, disagreeing with it only on the grounds that it did not go far enough, although it is difficult to perceive how much further the court could have gone beyond barring arrests altogether.

The court, it must be said, is doing an excellent job in taking care of the civil liberties of criminals and of those who would destroy our society in the name of civil protest. For myself, I am more concerned with the protection of the civil liberties of the vast majority of our citizens, peace-loving and law abiding, even to the extent of enduring oppressions of self-seeking gangs of evil men.

American Legion Junior Baseball Team Take Three Straight Wins

After dropping the season opener to Bradenton 9-2, the young Avon Park Post 69 American legion junior baseball team has bounced back to take three straight wins, including an impressive 3-1 victory over Ft. Myers here at Head Field last Monday night.

Last Wednesday, June 15, the Post 69 team, which has four incoming sophomores on its roster, downed the Post 135 team from Naples 6-1 here at Head Field behind the two hit pitching of Hoppy Rewis. Then last Friday night the local nine traveled to Punta Gorda and defeated the Charlotte County Legion team 5-1 with Ronnie Jackson on the mound.

Against Naples the Post 69 boys collected nine hits off three pitchers, including doubles by Ronnie Jackson, John Elder, and catcher Dan Gibson. Hoppy Rewis rapped out two singles. Elder had a single to go with his double, and Money, Bill Jackson, and Mike Vandebilt all singled.

Avon Park scored two runs in the first inning and added four in the second frame for the six, and Naples pushed over its lone run in the top of the third. The remainder of the game was a defensive duel with neither team able to score.

Ron Jackson, who will play baseball on a scholarship for South Florida Junior College here next season, struck out 15 Charlotte County batters and allowed only three singles in posting his first Legion win this summer.

Ronnie's brother, Bill Jackson led the Avon Park boys at bat slamming out a double and a single to drive in two runs and score one himself. Bill plays thirdbase. Joe Stricklet and Hoppy Rewis got Avon Park's other two singles.

Avon Park scored two runs in the fourth inning and three more in the sixth before Charlotte County managed to score one in the last of the seventh.

Monday nights game against Ft. Myers was deadlocked until the top of the fifth when the Post 28 lead-off batter drew a walk, moved to second on the Ft. Myers team's only hit of the game, took third on a sacrifice bunt, and scored on a passed ball.

In the bottom of the fifth Avon Park scored three runs to take the lead and eventually the win. Steve Walker, rightfielder, was hit by a pitched ball as he led off for Avon Park. Then Larry LaFlam, secondbaseman, singled after Walker had advanced to second on a passed ball, moving Walker to third. Ronnie Jackson hunted toward the firsthaseman and Walker beat the throw home to tie up the game. Jackson moved on to second and LaFlam led off third so the pitcher threw to third attempting to pick-off LaFlam. The throw was wild and LaFlam and Jackson scored on the error.

Avon Park got four hits and made no errors in the game with LaFlam connecting for two singles and John Elder and Mike Vandebilt each singling once.

Money was tough on the mound as he struck out 13 Ft. Myers batters and held them to the one single in the fifth frame. Ft. Myers made two errors.

Tomorrow night (Friday) Avon Park plays Sarasota at 7:30 and will play in Ft. Myers next Wednesday, June 29. On July 1 they will be at Bradenton and will return home for a game with Punta Gorda (Charlotte County) on July 4.

"Too Late To Classify"

By Russell Kay

Considering the crazy weather patterns that have afflicted the country in the past year or so one might assume that Mother Nature has gone stark staring nuts and ought to be placed in a mental institution.

Hurricanes, ice, snow, tornadoes and excessive heat occuring at the wrong place at the wrong time from coast to coast and border to border have the old weather apple cart not only upset but turned topsy-turvy.

To the layman it doesn't make a lot of sense. We are inclined to blame it on everything from the atomic bomb to the war in Viet Nam. But scientists try to comfort us with answers that this is all normal and natural and controlled by the cycles.

They tell us that the jet stream, that powerful upper current has changed its location. It marks the southern boundary of the polar air mass which expands when it is cool and contracts when it is warm.

The change of the jet stream they say is causing us to experience cooler summers and colder winters. It seems we are reaching the end of a warm cycle and can look forward to more severe winters and cooler summers for some time. The world is getting colder and wetter.

WAVP Resumes Broadcasting Under New Management This Week

Two experienced broadcasters have opened the Avon Park radio station, WAVP. Nick Evers, who has 24 years in broadcast management, and Robert L. Benwitt, with 10 years experience, have undertaken the operations of the Highlands County station and promised to make WAVP The finest in South Central Florida.

"We have a concept of community service as the first duty of the broadcaster," said Evers, who will be responsible for the programming and sales for the station. "We will have the Associated Press wire service for national and international news with at least 12 broadcasts a day. We plan another 12 broadcasts per day with local news and community affairs notices in the area ranging from Lake Placid to Lake Wales, from Wauchula to the East Coast. It this sounds ambitious, it is, but given time, we'll do it."

The two partners plan a music format which they call "Country politan." They have developed a music format which mixed four categories of entertainment broadcasting and which will contain contemporary, easy listening, country western and comedy novelty recordings and tapes.

"Our early mornings will have a complete farm information show," said Benwitt. "The principal source of income in the three counties which we will service is agricultural. We plan to develope our programming to be of real value to the grove owner, rancher and truck farmer."

Evers background in Florida began over 20 years ago as manager of radio station WINZ in Miami, and more recently he operated WBAR in nearby Bartow. In between, he has operated several stations in various parts of the country, been creative director in several large and medium sized advertising agencies, been publisher of national trade newspapers and owned and operated weekly newspapers.

As a paid hobby of intense interest, he has been campaign manager of political campaigns from congressman through governor and in presidential campaigns.

Benwitt was most recently with the National Association of Broadcaster in Washington, D. C. as administrator of the Radio Code of Ethics before this he was with Metromedia, a large chain of television and radio stations, in fiscal management. Capital cities Broadcasting Corporation as assistant treasurer, with CBS network in New York, and Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne Advertising Agency also in New York.

The two partners have found a house at Lake Lillian. Neither presently have wives, although Evers has three teenagers and has according to him, "vague marriage plans, maybe sometime this year."

WAVP 1490 on your dial, will operate from sunrise to sunset in accordance with Federal Broadcasting Regulations.

Boards To Agree On College Site

A joint meeting of Highlands and Hardee counties school boards may be called soon to consider selection of the permanent site for South Florida Junior College.

The Board of Commissioners of State Institutions cleared the way for the Highway-27 site by approving a request for release of 62 acres from land presently held by Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

A site survey committee from the State Department of Education had informed Highlands School Superintendent George Douglass that the FARC site is "by far the most desirable" of the sites it had inspected in two trips to the county.

Land adjoining the FARC property offered for the new junior college could bring the permanent campus to 82 acres, Douglass said.

In early conversations about a site the Hardee County school board has expressed a preference for some location west of Highway 27, but throughout negotiations this Winter, members of the South Florida Junior College Advisory Board—which includes members from both sponsoring counties—have assured the Highlands school board that the FARC site would be acceptable to Hardee countians. Douglass said a joint meeting of the school boards will be held before final selections.

As soon as a permanent site is named and final approval given to the selection from the State Department of Education, school officials may move to employ an architect and serious building plans begun.

School officials estimate that Autumn, 1968, would be the earliest a new campus could be ready for use.

'Old Grandaddy' Bass Only Myth

Facts about legendary fish tales are being brought to light through research in the Schlitz Fishing Derby.

The State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has been able to explode the myth of the huge old grandaddy lunker bass through several biological surveys based on Derby evidence. No bass lives that long. Besides, many bass are shortening their brief life span by overeating.

Of 2,537 large mouth tagged bass examined, the biologists found none that had lived longer than 40 months after their release, and few were caught after one year.

Since the annual Derby began in 1961, financed by the Joe Schlitz Brewing Company, 20,000 fresh and salt water fish have been tagged and released. Of these, nearly 8,000 have been caught and returned for more than $300,000 in cash awards paid to their captors.

Central Florida is noted for its 10 to 15 pound bass, but rarely grow to 30 pounds in South Florida. This may be due to the fact that food is more plentiful in South Florida and feeding seasons are longer. The smaller South Florida bass literally eat themselves to death before attaining a larger size. They die of old age without living very long," the report reveals.

The 1966 Schlitz Derby is being conducted all this year throughout Florida with records of $25 to $300 being offered for return of Schlitz fish with tags intact to the nearest Schlitz wholesaler for delivery to the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Home Management Now More Important Says Specialist

Managing time, energy and money in most homemakers sounds like trying to be two places at once, or trying to be as efficient as a machine. But the traits of the skilled homemaker have many things in common with those of the skilled management person, says Mrs. Mary Lou Carter, Home Management Specialist.

Management can be learned, but like going on a diet, it does no good to talk about it, something about it. This is why homemakers need training about the management process and have been trying it.

In order to bring County Extension Home Economics Agents up to date, Miss Vivian Mitchell, Extension Home Management Specialist at the Florida A&M University Extension Service has held a training meeting in the latest concepts of management.

Attending the meeting in Sarasota were Mrs. Georgia Ritenbergh, Highlands County; Mrs. Catherine Lowe, Sarasota County; Mrs. Dorothy Classon, Lee County; Mrs. Florida Lawson, Hillsborough County; Mrs. Ethel Hansen and Mrs. Patricia McCord, Manatee County, and Miss Nancy Whigham, Hardee County.

These agents will be taking their boys and girls to meetings in their counties. They will be encouraged to teach homemakers better ways of doing things that interested them and they will be encouraged to teach teens how to manage.

According to Miss Mitchell, better management in the home by homemakers can "use to gain what they want. Managers of a job. It is a mental process that can help any homemaker to use all her available resources to gain a more satisfying quality of everyday living."

Sermonette

BY REV. HERBERT D. GRAETZ

TO ALL FATHERS

"A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children." Proverbs 13:22.

Some years ago I stood in front of a house built in 1787 for a Congregational Minister in the old New England seaport town of Bristol, Rhode Island. The owner and occupant said to me: "It's still a substantial structure." And it was. He then waved his hand toward the locust trees on the east line of the property. "My father planted those trees," he said, and I shall protect them as long as I live."

Rough hewn the rails you split my dear,
For the fence that divided the clearing,
In the years ago we settled here
With sheep that needed shearing
The sheep have gone and the roses grow
Over the edge of the rails you laid,
Nature conspires with me to show
Its' love for the world you made.

They live again in their children. We resemble our forebearers. So often one finds in a son his fathers' look out of the eyes, a like mouth, nose or forehead. The yesterdays seem to come alive again. A good father leaves his son something else besides mere physical characteristics, however.

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick pays the following tribute to his father. "My father was more than a father, he was a companion and chum . . . We read books and played games together. I recall especially euchre, checkers, cribbage. Father enjoyed the swimming hole as much as we did, and at last the great day came when he took me fishing with him in a rowboat on the Niagara River, where under the spell of comradeship in sport he got over to me more good sense than I would have taken in by way of command." What a tribute!

In the past century, a boy of the tender age of 8 years worked in a factory in Birmingham, England. When he grew to young manhood, he became a member of a gang of "toughs." One Sunday evening this gang went into Wesley Chapel to disturb the service of worship. They themselves were disturbed and our young man was converted. He found that night the faith that was to guide his life for 70 years. This young man became Norman Goodall's father. Goodall tells the story of his father in his book "One Man's Testimony."

The father became a small shopkeeper. Everything he did, he did as in God's presence. Whether making a garden or dressing the shop window he would say: "Establish Thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish Thou it." He was motivated with innate honesty before God and man. He felt that he was primarily responsible to God. This faith he was able to see realized in his sons' life. That son later wrote: "Without any humbug in the matter, I can claim that this has fortified me and given me 'true joy in life' at very humdrum and otherwise tiresome levels of service."

Rabendronath Tagore, famous poet and known the world over as the prophet of free India told of how his father taught him the nature of God. He said: "When I was a small boy, my father took me into the darkness of the jungle, just before the dawn was about to break, and he said to me, 'My son, the sweet smell of the earth is God. He is of it and in it and it is his'."

"Then the first light of the dawn struck through the darkness of the jungle and my father said to me: 'My son, God is the light of our lives and the light of the world'."

"The birds started their singing and my father said to me: 'My son, God is music, the music of pure souls. May you so live that you strike no note of discord in the harmony and beauty that is God'."

How we live is terribly important because what we think and do will effect anothers' life. The man who thinks this is not so may be likened to the "character" who cut a hole in the bottom of a ship. When asked why he dared to do it and thus endanger the lives of all aboard he answered: "What does it matter to you? The hole I made is under my berth."

A father was concerned about his sons' education. He took his son to enroll at his Alma Mater. He told the dean about his hopes for his boy: "I want him to get exactly what I got when I was here." The dean thought for a moment and then commented: "You mean you want him to follow in your footsteps." The father agreed. The dean said: "Look, now! You're a great guy and we're proud of you, but don't you think one of you is enough?"

It is a true saying, however, that a son follows in his father's footsteps. No better example of this fact can be found than in the case of Dr. William W. Mayo and his two sons Will and Charles. From the time they were 12 years of age the boys were the constant companion and assistant to their father. The father, together with his sons founded the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. The sons went on to become the most famous surgeons in America.

"A giant pine, magnificant and tall,
Stood staunch against the sky and all around
Sheds beauty, grace and power. Within its fold
Birds safely reared their young. The velvet ground
Beneath was gentle, and the cooling shade
Gave cheer to passers-by. Its towering arms
A landmark stood, erect and unafraid,
As if to say, 'Fear naught from lifes' alarms'.
It fell one day. Where it had dauntless stood
Was loneliness and void. But men who passed
Paid tribute - said, 'To know this life was good.
It left its mark on me. Its work stands fast.'
And so it lives. Such life no bonds can hold

County Receives School Lunch Salary Funds

State Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson Jr. released on June 21, a total of $122,988 in special school lunch salary supplemental funds to Florida's 67 county board of Public Instruction.

Dickinson reported that the current allocation boosted the total expenditure for school lunch salary supplements to $1,074,761.12 since its initiation in November.

Payment of the money was authorized by the 1965 Legislative and was financed with a $1.3 million general revenue allocation. Dickinson said a balance of $225,278.48 is available for distribution next month of the supplemental amounts earned by the school systems during May.

Highlands County Board of Public Instruction received the sum of $6742.21 of the additional funds released.

Avon Park Residents In Denver For Rotary Convention

The Avon Park Rotary Club was represented at the convention of Rotary International which was held in Denver, Colorado, June 12-16. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hendricks were delegates to the convention.

The Rotary convention opened June 12 and ended June 16 in which 15 thousand Rotarians and their families from all over the world attended. During the featured speaker program were U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Lord Bradford, Ambassador to the United Nations from the United Kingdom, and L. Gordon Cooper, an astronaut who made a 22-orbit mission in May 1963.

A highlight of the convention entertainment was a musical presented Saturday evening, June 11, at Denver's world famous Red Rocks Theatre, an outdoor amphitheatre located in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains.

The program featured Metropolitan opera singers and the Colorado City Opera Company in Gilbert & Sullivan's operetta, "Trial by Jury." Rotarians and their guests saw a western show at the Denver Coliseum that started some of the best riders in America.

During the Fellowship Breakfast, a traditional feature of Rotary conventions, the Hendricks related with thousands of other Rotary families from various countries.

Rotary in Avon Park is linked with 32,400 Rotary clubs with 900,000 members in 135 countries on six continents.

Walker Memorial Hospital Meets All Requirements For Medicare

Nearly 40 percent of the hospitals in the six southern states of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare Region No. 4 are now eligible under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to participate in medicare.

Of these six states, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Tennessee, Florida rates second highest in percentage of hospitals eligible for services with 58.7 percent approved hospitals.

Avon Park's Walker Memorial Hospital, being accredited by the "Joint Commission on Accreditation," did not have to be examined by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and therefore had no problem to qualify for Medicare Services.

The percentage of hospitals eligible to participate in medicare is increasing daily as they meet the requirements of the Department.

Medicare gets underway July 1 at which time millions of American senior citizens will have access to medical care previously not within their means to have.

C of C Wants Closer Cooperation Between Communities

One of the most important problems facing the logical location because of its very name. Under certain conditions, yet to be developed, Lake Placid may be forced to annex some outside areas in order to provide adequate water and sewage facilities. Whether or not this proves to be proper or wise, is another matter. Those are the things, among others, that close cooperation and sound thought and planning can solve.

At the moment we should all be cooperating on the matter of completing the four miles of U. S. Highway 27 between Fairmount Drive in Sebring and the Mall in Avon Park.

It just doesn't make sense that there be only about six or seven mile stretch such as this in such an important part of the highway system. It doesn't seem logical that we should not have an organized effort has or is being made to insist on the elimination of such a hazardous bottle neck.

Considering the accomplishment of correcting such a condition, we should jointly receive our efforts to get U. S. Highway 27 four laned from Orlando to Miami. Unless we do bring this about we can continue to lose more and more of the tourist business that we all want and need.

What is good for one is good for all of Highlands Counties communities. Regardless of where employees or citizens live they spend their money some place in Highlands County. They use our schools, hospital facilities, medical services, stores, filling stations, bring in relatives and spend their money and they pay our taxes. They also vote to keep the county officials in office which county officials being responsible for the welfare of the entire County.

Sebring is the individual responsible for growing their selves by electing their own officials.

Lake Placid Banker Found Dead Sunday

Highlands County Sheriff's Department is continuing its investigation into the death of Lake Placid bank president Thomas E. Wallace.

The banker, who would have celebrated his 64th birthday on Tuesday, was found dead at his home about 6:30 Sunday morning.

Sheriff Broward Coker said Wallace was lying face down in shallow water at the edge of Little Lake Blue which is adjacent to the Wallace home. The body was not far from the Wallaces' dock.

Friends reported they had last seen Mr. and Mrs. Wallace about 8 p.m. Saturday. Sheriff Coker said an autopsy had been ordered to determine cause of death, and that report is not expected for several days.

Filling Stations Serve As State Tax Collectors

Service stations are the marketing backbone of the petroleum industry and the major collecting source of state and federal tax funds.

Florida has an estimated 7,782 service stations, and the average station adds about $75,000 yearly in wages and another $20,000 in locally purchased materials and services to the economy of the area where it operates, according to T. H. McMillan, Chairman of the Florida Petroleum Council.

"In addition," McMillan pointed out, "the taxes on the motor fuel sold at these stations provide both the state and federal governments with a prolific source of revenue. The total collected through these combined motor fuel levies amounted to an estimated $240,259,000 in Florida during 1965 alone.

The petroleum industry is the second highest source of tax revenue in Florida, outranked only by the sales tax. Eleven cents of the selling price of a gallon of gasoline is 4 cents per gallon and Florida gets 7 cents.

Carter Creek Watershed Project Ok'd

The state Soil Conservation Board has given its approval to the application for the Carter Creek Watershed Project. The application for the project now is in Washington where it will be considered by the administrator of the Soil Conservation Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

If the project is approved by the administrator, it must await assignment of a priority. Sam Polston, work unit conservationist with the Highlands Soil Conservation office, said the Carter Creek Project is about two years away from a contract stage.

The project, sponsored jointly by the Highlands Soil Conservation District and the board of county commissioners, is to include 12 lakes in the Avon Park and northern Sebring area.

Advertising for bids on the county's fourth watershed project, the Istokpoga Marsh Watershed, is set for late June. The Carter Creek of Lakes, the county's first watershed project, was the first such project in the nation and Highlands County has been recognized as a leader in this field.

Picture shows the building improvement program now in progress at the 43-year-old Tropical Bank and Trust Company on South Ridgewood Dr. in Sebring. The $170,000 expansion program will almost double the present floor space and reflects the growth of the bank since the construction of the present building which opened July '61. During this period loans increased from $2,232,090 to $8,655,580. Total assets grew from $12,346,525 to $20,026,420. For the first time a bank's assets in our county crossed the $20 million mark.

James E. Webb, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, was in the news recently when he said that the nation is facing a crisis in space planning. The question is what to do with the vast, $20-billion Apollo project after men have landed on the moon. Mr. Webb said Apollo is a high-risking program with no reserves for failure. He also noted that neither Congress nor the public has given enough thought to the problems of the Apollo project or to what we will do after landing a man on the moon.

RODEO TIME IS HERE! There will be two exciting rodeos for you to enjoy during the long Fourth of July weekend—you can make them both on different days if you wish—the first one is the WORLD FAMOUS RCA SILVER SPURS, which will be held in Kissimmee July 2nd thru the 4th. A parade is scheduled for Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. Cloud and 2:30 p.m. in Kissimmee. Sheriff's Mounted Posses and Pararescue riding clubs will participate. Write for your ticket now, so you won't miss out!

CIRCLE T will have its 20th institutional Rodeo during the weekend of the 4th of July in Indiantown. This will be the first rodeo of several this summer. Competition will be among the nation's top rodeo stars and will feature many of the contestants in the last rodeo in February, which attracted 15,000 spectators. Additional attractions will be a Bar-B-Que dinner and a Seminole Indian Display and hunt rides on the St. Lucie Canal. Don't delay, get your tickets now!

Other attractions for visitors and natives alike are the Dog Races at SARASOTA KENNEL CLUB—Don't forget Thursday, is Ladies Day and they are admitted free.

Congratulations to Radio WAVP in Avon Park, which started broadcasting this week from the tower and will go to 1390 on your dial for the latest Associated Press News, your favorite music, community events, farm news, sports, etc.

Readers, want to relax and dine out tonight? Why not try the COPPERTOP on U.S. 27 in Lake Wales—Mr. George serves the most scrumptious steaks with all the trimmings. TOWER VIEW RESTAURANT in Lake Placid offers you and your family a variety of delicious food, Choice Man Size T-Bone Steaks, Southern Fried Chicken or their extra special for a hot day "Pappy's" Salad Bowl. Try it once and you will come back again and again.

Looking for some dancing and entertainment—you can get your favorite drink at El Cid's Lounge on U.S. 17 North in Ft. Meade—on the entertainment program, the Go Go Girls are featured. The COPPERTOP offers you the best in cocktails by Don the bartender with lilting dance music supplied by Johnny Kruger.

On the local screen—SEVON DRIVE IN will be showing in color THE GHOST IN THE INVISIBLE BIKINI tonight thru Saturday. Don't forget these nights are only $1.00 per carload. Don't miss this comedy.

HILANS THEATRE in Avon Park is showing tonight thru Saturday "The Rare Breed" with James Stewart and Maureen O'Hara in Technicolor Panavision. Starting on Sunday, is the great adventure undersea "Around the World Under the Sea" with Lloyd Bridges, Brian Kelly, Shirley Eaton, Marshall Thompson, David McCallum, Kenman Wynn and Marshall Thompson. Seeing all these stars in one film is worth the trip to see the show.

FAMILY FUN can be had at RIDGE LANES on US 27 between Sebring and Avon Park. The family that plays together—stays together. Look in the paper for the story of the man and woman bowler of the Year in Highlands County.

Time again to stop by PLACID TOWER and register for the weekly free fruit drawing—while there why not pick up some of their delicious fruit—these in the gift shop for that hard to find gift—pick up a sunny casual sports outfit and above all don't forget to go up to the top of the Tower and see the most beautiful panoramic view of Florida's natural beauty. Free orange juice.

MARR'S AIRCRAFT has a special on flying lessons—girls, don't be afraid to fly, start flying now to fly today. Feel the thrill to have a plane under your own control.

Have you checked into a really different summer school for your children? Check with the Deerfield Marine School in Miami, your children can have an exciting vacation and still learn by taking a two week course in Bimini in marine biology. They will learn and enjoy themselves at the same time. Check now for the next session starting. Students from 13 thru 17 for boys and girls.

Don't forget golf at the Par 3 Golf Course at Sebring Shores—Winner of the Father's Day Tournament was Walter Mills. Jack Quillen has just received his plaque for his two holes in one played on the course last year.

'Beat' Fashions Are Making News Through Rome

ROME (UPI) — "Beat" clothes have finally found the road to Rome and young and not-so-young Romans are going wild about them.

The beat kick hit the Eternal City some time ago but most of its followers had to rely on their own ingenuity or traveling friends for the appropriate costumes.

Now the problem has been solved with the opening of the "Piper Market" that has mini-skirts and "ye-ye" styles from all over the world.

The market has beat music and matching decor but is only big enough to handle about 50 customers at a time without a riot.

Florida's Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg has thieves in its new walk-through aviary. They are Magpie Blue Jays from South America who are probably the most curious birds man has ever known.

The city of Naples, Florida, was once isolated by water and it was not until after World War II that the area started the rapid development that continues today.

NO FUR—This model appears to be wrapped up in fur, but she isn't. It's really something called "hair-piece fabric" which can easily be washed and set like real hair.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

Not too long ago much was made of Lyndon B. Johnson's pulling the ears of his beagles, Him and Her. Cartoonists drew caricatures of the President, who seemed to be heavily endowed with ears himself.

The human ear is used idiomatically in many well-known phrases. When a person is angered or exasperated, he is said to be "on his ear." When a man has more work than he can do in a given time, his coworkers are apt to say he is "up to his ears" in unfinished business.

To be "within earshot" means you can barely hear something and "to play it by ear" means that you do things at random.

Adults talk before children and then warn each other "Little pitchers have big ears," which means the children may quote them. A loquacious lady is often described as "talking your ears off."

When an audience is "all ears," they are attentive. If, however, one has to rap to get their attention, he is likely to do so by quoting Shakespeare "Friends, Romans, countrymen. Lend me your ears!"

The Hole Story

For the first time in 26 years of golfing, Mrs. Thomas J. Soisson, of Colorado Springs, shot a hole-in-one. She was proud, but only somewhat so since she used 108 strokes on the other 17 holes.

"I think we just went over the international date line! All of a sudden here are yesterday's programs again!"

COMEDY CORNER

"I finally fixed it so Junior won't play loud enough to annoy the neighbors!"

SMALL BUSINESSMEN met at Florida Power Lounge Tuesday. Plans were laid to increase membership. A committee on membership and a committee on promotion was appointed to bring recommendations to next meeting to be held Tuesday, July 5 at 7:30 p.m. The Tues. meeting will be held at the Florida Power Lounge. —(Sun Photo)

Small Business Association On The Move

The Small Business Association met Tuesday at the Florida Power Lounge to lay plans for increasing business in Avon Park. A membership drive is under way to get all businessmen to cooperate with the association. All business establishments will be contacted before the Tuesday meeting urging attendance at this time to initiate some activities.

A committee on promotions was appointed, consisting of Lanes, TV, WAVP Radio, and McCrakin Printing Co., to bring recommendations to the meeting Tuesday for projects to be started by the association.

A committee on membership was appointed to present plans for consideration toward getting all business people to join and cooperate for economic progress in our fair community. Tyson Mobile Homes, Chucks Car Mart, and Chick-N-Treat were named for this committee.

A Mall committee was named to bring in figures and recommendations for the improvement and beautification of our mile long attraction. Listed for this committee are Ridge Florist, George Haynie Insurance and Cole's Ornamental Gardens.

The association would like to see all the trash, garbage, litter, etc. (including beer cans) placed where they belong, not strewn all along our beautiful Mall.

Comments on improvements included: need for golf course, garment factory, sewer system, train, unskilled labor, council of 100, up-date the city charter, city manager government and co-operation between city businessmen.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Florida Power Lounge Tuesday, July 5, at 7:30 p.m. ALL businessmen are urged to attend.

All future meetings will be held on the first Monday of each month beginning in August.

FARC Site Picked For SFJC Location

The search is underway for the architect who is to design the campus and permanent buildings for South Florida Junior College. Initial plans are due for presentation to the state Department of Education by January, 1967.

Swift launching of a building program became possible this week with the designation of a permanent site on land adjacent to the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, between Sebring and Avon Park.

School boards of the two sponsoring counties, Highlands and Hardee, met Monday night with representatives of the bi-county Junior College Advisory Board and discussed sites. Highlands Superintendent George Douglass read a letter from Dr. Lee G. Henderson of the state Department of Education's division of junior colleges stating that the land near the Rehabilitation Center is "by far the most desirable site yet offered" for South Florida Junior College.

Dr. Ben Fillastre, who had had talked on Monday afternoon with Bill Sachsenmaier, who assured him that he will contribute a 10:1 acre tract to the northwest of the state-owned property and the city of Avon Park has promised a four acre tract to the south.

He said that Mayor E. A. DeLaney had promised that it would be possible for the junior college to tap into the city sewer system. Dr. Stallard said Mayor DeLaney had pointed out, "The lines to the new sewage treatment plant will be running right under the college property."

City water will be available, branching from the six-inch water main laid from Avon Park to the ARC, Douglass said.

Chairman J. A. Albritton of Hardee County school board, noted that some people in Hardee County had expressed an interest in locating a junior college near ARC as much as five years ago and he suggested that a motion be adopted "which would follow the state's recommendation and designate the state-owned land as permanent site of South Florida Junior College."

Ted Cason of the Highlands County board made that motion which was seconded by R. L. Padgett and it passed unanimously.

Federal Help Possible

Dr. Stallard explained Monday that substantial federal financial aid is available, but prompt action will be needed.

After the site choice has been made it must be referred to the state Department of Education for final approval (in this case presumably forthcoming since the selection follows a state recommendation). Then an architect may be hired and work begun in planning the campus and buildings.

To be eligible for a federal grant equal to 40 percent of the capital outlay budget plans must be submitted before the end of January.

The state legislation which established a junior college for Highlands and Hardee counties provided a capital outlay budget of $250,000 if funds are available," Douglass said this week that the state funds are not so high as had been anticipated. The capital outlay grant from the state is likely to be about $225,000 and the federal grant could boost this by $90,000.

New institutions are the top priority in federal aid for higher education now, Dr. Stallard said Monday. In addition to the capital outlay grant South Florida Junior College may be able to receive federal funds necessary for establishing its vocational training programs, Douglass said.

Rex Bond, chairman of the Junior College Advisory Board, told the two school boards Monday, "We think we have a fine site and we are eager to get on with the job of setting up a good school for the students."

The Advisory Board Chairman added he expects to be able to report references to the "desirable site" and begin now to call the first bi-county college session.

Highlands school board chairman Henry Bailey said Monday that the Advisory Board, junior college administration and with assistance of the school board will be beginning next week to seek out an architect.

The school officials have indicated they plan to visit other junior colleges and confer with "persons who are engaged in the making and making their architect selection."

Hardee School Superintendent Bartley Sapp accompanied the Hardee school board members to the meeting Monday night at the Highlands courthouse annex.

At the conclusion of the meeting the two boards joined in asking the Highlands Superintendent to send a letter of warm thanks to all those people who offered land for the junior college."

Voters To Decide On City Charter Change

The main item of business for the city council Monday was discussion of the Charter change to limit the indebtedness of all future city obligations to a maximum of $100,000. The present charter does not hinder the council from borrowing money, in any amount, without a vote of the city residents.

The issue at hand goes back to the approval by city council to borrow $775,000 in revenue certificates to improve the present disposal and sewer systems in accordance with the ruling of Highlands County Health Department and the State Board of Health.

The law provides that a city operating department such as water and sewer, shall have the power to improve such system, even though revenue bonds, without a city wide vote or charter change.

Councilman Clarence King, main opposition to the $775,000 revenue certificates issue, brought up the question two weeks ago in the meeting and last Monday was successful in bringing it to a vote. The motion carried and will place on the ballot in September the question of whether or not a charter change should be made to limit the future indebtedness of city obligations to $100,000 without additional referendums.

If this receives a favorable vote, legislative action could be requested to have the charter changed without having to wait an additional year for the next election or having a special election to determine the desires of the people. The council voted four to one in favor of placing the referendum on the ballot in September.

In other business the council reviewed a request from a group of city residents to do something about unpleasant conditions created by the operation of an asphalt plant near a housing area. City attorney, Hue Nunnaller, enlightened the council that such matters are not the duty or responsibility of the council and that no legal action could be taken through such channels. The council, however, expressed their intention to discuss the matter with persons involved in hopes of arriving at a workable solution for all.

Discussed the suggestion of chief of police to make "no left turn" a traffic regulation at the downtown traffic lights in order to eliminate the congestion near the bank on Friday evening, as well as other rush hours. After different opinions were expressed, the council turned the problem over to the police department to find a solution.

King brought up the question of tax certificates for delinquent taxes again for consideration. No action at this time was taken to put in motion legislative action for this revision.

Council President Jimmie Doerr appointed a committee to present, at it's next meeting, a plan for fixed vacation times for all employees of the water and maintainence departments. The present plan of vacations of personnel create problems during the summer, when most want their vacation, in getting the work done due to key employees being gone so many different periods.

Council voted to repair the kitchen ceiling in the tourist club house, a repork badly needed for quite some time.

They also approved paving an area 21 feet wide and 351 feet long in Golden Age Villas. The area is right-of-way between sidewalk and street.

With respect to Friday evening "bank rush," it is suggested that a number of citizens request to the bank president the opening of the bank on Saturday mornings for business for the convenience of customers.

The council announces the meeting of the board of equalization to be held Thursday, July 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Swimming Instructions Being Held At Fred Jahna Beach

Over 110 boys and girls started receiving beginning swimming instruction last Monday morning under the direction of the staff of the summer recreation program of the Avon Park public schools.

The concentrated course will continue tomorrow (Friday) and Tuesday at the Fred Jahna beach on Lake Isis with two sessions both days. For the morning session the children should be at the gym by 9:45 if going on the bus and in the afternoon the bus leaves at 1:45.

The sessions run from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and 2 to 3:30 p.m. Students may still enroll in the program for the last two days but another five days of instruction will be offered in late July.

Bowling has been changed from Thursday afternoons to Friday because of the beach trips scheduled on Thursdays, so bowling will be offered at Ridge Lanes each Tuesday and Friday afternoon starting at 1 p.m.

Skating at the rink in Sebring is each Wednesday with the bus leaving the gym at 1 p.m.

Over 70 young people participated in both the bowling and the skating programs last week.

Morning and afternoon swimming had from 20 to 30 participants during the first week.

Eighteen tennis enthusiasts are participating in a ladder tennis tournament which started this week.

The music program had 249 students enrolled during the first week and 167 boys and girls are studying reading and modern math in the academic phase of the program.

Program director Joe Franza reminds all young people that Monday, July 4, will be a holiday. Franza also urged all boys and girls who have a horse or might be able to get one to sign up for a trail ride one day in the near future.

Boys and girls vacationing in Avon Park or new comers to the community are invited to take part in any phase of the program offered in the individual's age group.

Approximately 500 Attend Hall Of Fame

Highlands Hammock was the scene of the Automobile Hall of Fame Rally Tuesday.

The Automobile Hall of Fame, the only one in the world, will be appropriately located in Sebring, which has become famous because of the international race.

Judges for the contest, Barbara Clack - water ski champion from Cypress Gardens, Avon Park Mayor E. A. DeLaney, Lake Placid Mayor Alfred Moretz and George Williamson of Lake Wales, chose the pretty Linda Kelly of Sebring to be the new Hall of Fame Queen. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Kelly of Sebring.

Runner-up to Miss Kelly was Vivian Sharpe, chosen Miss Highlands County at the county fair last winter and went to the Florida State Fair to become queen Miss Congeniality. Second runner-up chosen was Linda Hughes who was sponsored by the Elks.

Automobiles shown at the Rally were; a 1906 one (1) cylinder Cadallic by Scott G. Smith, a 1908 four (4) cylinder Cadallic also by Smith, a 1926 Overland Touring Car by Ken Grubb, a 1931 LaSalle by Sebring Air Conditioning and a 1916 Ford Touring Car by Bill Schlosser. A 1966 Cadallic was shown by George Williamson of Lake Wales indicating the progress of 50 years of Cadallic engineering.

The directors of the Automobile Hall of Fame have asked the city of Sebring to make available two city lots for the future home of the non profit Hall of Fame corporation.

Declaration of Independence

The Fourth of July is universally celebrated as a holiday in the United States, to commemorate the greatest event in the history of the nation.

On that day, in 1776 the Continental Congress adopted and proclaimed to the world the Declaration of Independence.

This famous historic document set forth the fundamental principles of all good government and declared the independence of the thirteen colonies of Great Britain in America.

The day of its adoption was the birthday of a new nation.

CONVENTIONS BETTER

National political conventions, as long noted by statesmen and since the advent of television by the general public, are not the best possible showcases of American democracy.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a recent magazine article, says they resemble a "rioting mob of juvenile delinquents . . . A thoroughly disgraceful spectacle which can scarcely fail to appall our own voters and create a shockingly bad image abroad."

He doesn't, however, recommend discontinuance of the quadrennial political circuses. Instead he offers several suggestions for making the conventions, at which the major political parties select their presidential nominees, more businesslike and more palatable to the voters.

Among other things, he would give the convention chairman power to evict disorderly people, permit only delegates on the floor, ban noise-making devices, limit demonstrations to 10 minutes and participation to delegates, and require decorum from the galleries.

Eisenhower says that national primaries, which have sometimes been suggested as an alternative, have impractical aspects and would mean that "only wealthy men could normally run for the presidency" because of the expense.

To this he might have added that primaries also can have their disgraceful aspects. For an example he would need to look no further than the 1966 governorship primaries in Florida.

Florida, in its turn, might profitably look toward the convention system for making its gubernatorial nominations.

REPORT OF JAMES A. HALEY

I believe that The Congress has exercised great wisdom and has performed a real public service in passing, and sending to the White House for the President's signature, what is known as the "Freedom of Information" bill.

The bill, which the House passed a few days ago in the same form in which the Senate approved it last year, represents a struggle lasting for more than a decade to provide better access to public records and to make available to the general public more information about the public business.

After the President has signed the bill into law (and I have no reason to suppose he will fail to do so, although the Departments did not support it and many departmental officials fought it), it should quickly bring to an end an era in which bureaucrats have sought, with increasing frequency, and increasing success, to deny the public the right to know about its own business, its own government.

Two decades ago, The Congress sought to do something about this matter of suppression of information by passing the Administrative Procedures Act of 1946. But that act, unfortunately, was loosely and vaguely drawn. And over the years, the bureaucrats who run the government mechanism had found more and more ways, by interpretation to suit themselves, to use Section 3 of the 1946 act as a license to suppress legitimate news and information about their operations. Inevitably, Section 3 interpretations became devices to hide the blunders, the goofs, the stupidities of government officials and their underlings.

Freewheeling interpretation by bureaucrats of Section 3 produced some remarkable — some almost unbelievable — rulings restricting the right of the public to know about the operations of its own government.

For instance, in 1961 the Secretary of Navy ruled that his departmental telephone directories could be withheld from the press on grounds that they related to "internal management," not public business. The Bureau of Public Roads had ruled two years earlier that the records of its expenditures of billions of dollars of public funds could not be seen because "we do not deal with the general public." About the same time, the Post Office Department ruled that names and salaries of postal employees were none of the public's business. In 1962, the National Science Foundation refused to disclose bids and evaluations of bids on a costly deep-sea study, although the low bidder did not get the contract. "Not your business," the Foundation, in effect, told the people whose tax dollars were being used to finance the high-cost project.

The new bill will go a long way toward correcting that kind of situation. Certainly it does not permit disclosure of national security matters, or of confidential reports containing business and financial secrets. But exemptions from the bill's scope are sharply limited.

Moreover, the bill not only clarifies the picture of what is public information, but spells out how a citizen can go into federal court to pry information loose from stubborn bureaucrats, or send them to jail. In sum, the measure defines what the public has a right to know. And as Uncle Sam's role gets bigger in our lives, the need to know has never been greater than now.

Senators OK Strict Auto Requirements

After less than a day of debate, the senate gave approval to safety bills to direct Secretary of Commerce to set new car safety requirements by January of 1968 and permanent standards of tire performance and identification of high-rate tires.

It also gave no opposition by voice vote, to a measure that would authorize over three years $463-million program to help states and cities carry out measures to reduce highway hazards and improve driving competence.

The safety plans would include approval to be given to driver education programs, improvements in auto inspection systems, highway design and traffic control, prevention and identification of high-rate accident sites.

The measure also includes language calling for setting up a clearinghouse of state inspection of used cars and directing the secretary of commerce to report to congress on the adequacy of state vehicle inspection. Less than half of the states now have such inspection programs.

In taxing the interim standards by January 31 next year, the secretary is expected to use 26 items, most of which the government is about to require on 1967 models it will buy this year.

The list of items includes collapsible steering columns, dual brakes, more seat-belt anchorages, extensive interior padding, recessed controls, knobs and safety catches on doors and windows.

Other provisions of the bill: Require the secretary to consult with state officials and the auto industry before establishing standards. Require auto manufacturers to notify the first purchaser of a car by registered mail of any safety related defect along with a statement of the necessary repair measures. Require the auto firms to repurchase from dealers all cars found to violate the federal safety standards. Provide for fines of up to $1,000,000 for related series of violations of the act by manufacturers, at the rate of $1000 for each violation.

Barber Boys In Auto Accident

Earl Barber, son of Whitey Barber of Avon Park, and a cousin, Billy Barber, were seriously injured Tuesday night about 8 o'clock when the car in which they were riding overturned into a deep ditch in Avon Park Lakes.

Florida 1967 Legislature To Undergo Change

The legislature will be sharply different from the past in its composition. Many new names will dot the electronic vote board in the House of Representatives hall. And, there will be some new faces in the chamber of the Senate. Yet, the fact that there will be a record breaking number of freshmen legislators is not the most significant factor of this massive change. That lies in the drastic transformation in geographical representation which will be mirrored in this reapportioned body.

Florida's big cities will be calling the tune of legislative decisions.

There will be considerable experience returning to both the House and the Senate, and their experience, wisdom and abilities will be natural rallying points for the energetic and ambitious newcomers to both houses.

The daily journal is likely to be sagging with the weight of bills on taxation and other revenue which will represent the ideas and ideals, the dreams and the campaign promises of the urban oriented legislature.

A number of these proposals certainly will prove themselves to be impractical, unnecessary, undesirable, or unconstitutional. Many of these ideas will represent a bright new look, a different slant on tax revenue thought, and will emerge as acceptable and laudable changes in taxation philosophy.

Along with the ideas of many faces in the legislature, will come the need for additional taxes. One of the sources of revenue will come from the reassessment of property on the 100 percent valuation level. The net result can be seen rockeling ad valorem taxes in numerous counties. Along with this method of taxation, Florida has many others which will no doubt be adjusted to meet the need along with perhaps some new ones.

Florida, however, can attain the goal of providing for the wants in the fields of education, welfare, health and similarly necessary governmental services. It can be accomplished with equity in taxation, conservatism in spending philosophy and efficiency in all facets of governmental operation.

Florida's present system of tax and finance, with the legislature appropriating and the cabinet board of directors authorized to supervise actual expenditures when needed, offers the taxpayer a unique system of fiscal protection. It is one more guide toward the continuation of our strong cabinet system of government.

To ignore the fact that the problem drinker is a sick person requiring help, is to ignore the fact that he costs his employer about $800 per year in terms of increases in absenteeism, accident potential, scrap rate, grievance time and insurance costs as well as decreases in efficiency, productivity and morale.

Recent studies have shown that only three percent of America's alcoholic population are properly classified as Skid Row alcoholics. Conversely, this research confirms that most alcoholics are intelligent, responsible, gainfully employed persons, according to Florida's State program on alcoholism.

Florida Flags In Demand By Our Troops In Vietnam

The reason State flags are so highly valued by our GI's overseas is that military regulations have limited the flying of the Stars and Stripes in Vietnam.

Letters like the one by Cpt. R. A. Kerr, USMC, during the recent weeks have been arriving in increasing numbers in the office of Secretary of State. This letter reads: "It is felt that the prominent display of State flags will be a tremendous morale asset for American's fighting men that by regulations are prohibited from display of the national ensign while on duty in the Republic of Vietnam."

Naturally, many young Floridians in the combat zone want, at the very least, to have the banner of their home State flying over their tents, for display in wardrooms of naval ships, or even to carry proudly on the antennae of their tanks.

By constitutional mandate, the Secretary of State is the official custodian of the Florida State flag. Each year we receive many requests for complimentary flags from worthy groups such as Boy Scout troops and American Legion posts. And, except in unusual circumstances, we regretfully turn down such requests for free flags because our office simply does not have the funds to buy them.

However, we in the office of Secretary of State feel very strongly that our GI's in Vietnam are an exception to this policy. And so I have directed, said Tom Adams, that as long as we have them in stock, State flags will be sent free to Florida servicemen in Vietnam requesting them.

To insure that no GI will be turned down on a flag request, members of my staff and I have started a small fund from donations within the office to buy additional flags for Vietnam. The standard 3x5 cotton flags cost $6.50 each.

It has occured to me, he said, that there might be many others enjoying the comforts and safety of Florida, who felt as we did, that providing flags for our boys in Vietnam is the very least we could do to express our deep gratitude to these brave men.

If anyone or any organization desires to help in this effort, the office would be happy to arrange all details of shipping the flags overseas and to specify the name and address of the flag donor.

Checks should be made payable to Flags for Vietnam Fund, in care Tom Adams, Secretary of State, The Capitol, Tallahassee, Fla. 32304.

Life Jackets A Must For Boat Lovers

When the "Owl" and the "Pussycat" went to sea they probably did not have life jackets in their craft, or fishing licenses in their tackle box.

But, it is a different story in Florida. Every boat operated in Florida waters must have at least one life saving device for each person on board. A fishing license is required to take fresh water fish if the fisherman is between the ages of 15 and 65, except when fishing in the county of their residency with cane poles.

The statewide report of arrest for May, 1966, issued by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission indicates that 202 fishermen did not purchase their fishing licenses and 46 boaters did not have the required safety equipment on their boats.

The Commission also revealed that there were 117 arrests made for hunting violations during the same period.

First Week Of Head Start Successful

After one week of operation, Highlands County Head Start program has experienced success and acceptance. The local program is a part of the "total war on poverty" that is being waged in the entire nation.

The primary objective of the program is to provide rich learning experience, including physical examinations for those children in our county who fall below the poverty level.

Children enrolled in Head Start must qualify in two areas, they must be a on 6 years old and starting school this September, and must meet economic qualifications.

There are three "centers" located in Highlands County. In Avon Park it is the Hopewell Elementary School in Lake Placid, the Carver Elementary School, and in Sebring, E. O. Douglas.

This program is open to all children, regardless of race, color, or creed. The "centers" are located to serve the largest number of children who could walk or be taken to the center without transportation being provided by the project. There is no bus service provided for in these funds.

Each center is open to the community, during the hours of 8 to 4 p.m., and the community is invited to visit at any time. During the period of 8:30 to 9, and 11:30 to 12:30 the children are eating breakfast and lunch. However, if this is the only time you can visit, you are welcome.

One of the basic concepts of this program is to "involve" the community. With this in mind the "centers" would welcome volunteers to get into the program. Such things as reading to the children, playing games and singing.

There is also a need for volunteers to help the center teacher in gathering medical data, family background, and related information.

There is also a definite need for toys, games, and clothing suitable for 5 and 6 year old children.

The "pick up" location for toys, games and clothing in Avon Park is DeLaney Hard Ware.

Those desiring to give their time should contact Director Joe Fredricks at the court house in Sebring (EV 5-05-44).

The program has enrolled 138 persons in the county. Avon Park has 61 enrolled at the Hopewell School, as of Monday, with a quota of 60.

A vital part of the program are the field trips taken each week. Avon Park Bus Tanks set aside for these educational trips. This week, the students visited the Post Office, Citrus Bank, Fire Station and Shopping Center. Each week a different theme will be pursued such as recreation areas, industry (Home Juice, Coco Cola, etc.) Expenditures for these activities will be done locally whenever economically feasible.

One set of goals in the Head Start program is to involve parents in the program's activities and to strengthen family ties by "Increasing the child's ability to get along with others in his family, while helping the family to understand him and his problems."

Mr. Theilse urges all parents and interested persons to cooperate to the fullest extent to make this program a big success in Highlands County since this is a "one time only" project and all future programs similar to this one will depend largely on the success of "Head Start."

The current program started June 20 and ends August 12.

Deadline July 1 To Buy Fishing Licenses

Florida wildlife officers will begin a strict check for fishing licenses on July 1, and if you plan to go fishing on or after this date, be sure to have the new 1966-67 license, otherwise you may be subject to arrest for fishing without a license.

According to O. E. Frye, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, the new licenses have been on sale since June 15, and are being honored by wildlife officers throughout the state. The new license is valid until June 30, and available at the office of all County Judges or their license agents.

Frye said, "Buying a fishing license is not so much a matter of obeying a state law as it is helping raise money to provide better fishing. All funds received from the sale of licenses is used by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to improve hunting and fishing conditions.

A resident fishing license cost $3.00, or a sportsman may purchase a combination hunting and fishing license for $10.50.

Veterans Use Local Hospitals In Emergency

M. T. Dixon, of the Florida Department of Veterans Affairs, stated today that any veteran, in an emergency, may be granted hospitalization, but before going to a VA hospital, the veteran or someone acting for him, preferably the doctor, should communicate with the nearest VA hospital by telephone or telegraph, requesting authority for admission and for transportation if necessary.

In the case of service connected veterans needing hospital care for the service connected disability where delay would be hazardous to life, or where transportation at a distance is inadvisable for medical reasons by reason of the veteran's condition, hospitalization may be obtained in a private hospital. However, in this case, also prior authorization by the VA is necessary before reimbursement for such expenses can be granted.

Dixon said present VA procedures covering such service connected emergencies provide that if the VA is informed within 72 hours of such hospitalization, that prior authority can be granted.

Dixon further said it is essential strictly to observe the obtaining of authorization within 72 hours of hospitalization in order to obtain reimbursement of expenses.

It was further stated that non service connected cases could not be hospitalized in a private hospital and expect the VA to pay the bill. For further information on this, veterans should see their local Veteran County Service Officer.

Citrus Mutual Elect Officers

The Board of Directors of Florida Citrus Mutual for the 1966-67 season has elected officers for the big grower organization to serve until next June.

W. Albert Carlton of Wauchula, was re-elected president, vice presidents are Fred H. Adkinson of Minneola, J. J. Parrish Jr., of Titusville, Chester J. Karst of Orlando, and Joe W. Michael of Wabasso.

Local Firemen Aid Train Fire

The Avon Park fire department was called to junction U. S. 98 railroad crossing west of Frostproof last Saturday, June 18, to extinguish an electrical fire in the pullman car of the Miami bound Illinois Central train.

The fire, caused by a short in the electrical wiring of the car, was fought by fireman Mack Flowers, Joe Kensey Jr., and two volunteers for about one and one half hours before being brought under control.

About 15 minutes after the firemen returned to Avon Park, they were summoned to the scene again to put out a blaze which broke out in one of the beds in the pullman car.

Excess heat in the metal of the car caused the second combustion which required the firemen to be out of Avon Park for another two hours.

Fifteen persons were in the car when fire occured. All were removed to other sections of the train without injury.

Conductor, William Schuman Jr., was overcome with smoke and fumes as he led the last passenger to safety and was taken to the hospital where he was reported all right.

Handwriting Quality Is At All Time Low

According to Frances L. Ilg, M.D. and Louise Bates Ames, Ph.D., handwriting in many parts of this country has hit an all time low, as is revealed by Dr. E. A. Enstrom, writing in the October issue of The Elementary School Journal. Many parents and many teachers and, most of all, many employers would certainly agree with this statement.

How did this come about? Dr. Enstrom gives the following reasons:

First of all, in the 20s and 30s some educators rebelled against any arbitrary methods and which were not supported by published research. This in spite of the fact that classroom practices, which evolved from years of successful teaching experience, was sound enough so that children did learn to write, rapidly and well.

There was a general feeling against drill. Drill was involved in teaching handwriting. So, out it went.

After the depression of 1929 there was a general elimination of what some people called "fads and frills." Unfortunately, many considered the teaching of legible handwriting a fad and/or a frill. This was a temporary economy move, but, by the time the need for rigid economy was over, suddenly there seemed to be nobody available who had the training to be a handwriting teacher or specialist.

The permissiveness which pervaded our schools for a time threw most strict discipline, including the effort to acquire a legible and disciplined handwriting, out the window. As Enstrom points out, the consequences of permissive education, so far as handwriting instruction was concerned, amounted to little short of criminal neglect.

If handwriting is to be taught effectively, it must be presented independent of other learnings, sequentially, and with many thoughtful repetitions.

However, even with good teaching, many children, especially boys, will have trouble in learning to write. These very children who are poor at writing may be very good at talking. This is why they sometimes like to dictate what they wish to say, and, when older, may like to type it out. Also, we prefer to delay the teaching of handwriting until there is some possibility of success. Very young, very immature children should not be struggling with handwriting.

Write a Slogan, Win a Big Trip

The University of Florida's sixth annual contest to select a slogan for the Homecoming weekend celebration opened Friday and will continue through July 17.

Slogans should have a general Homecoming theme and should be of contemporary significance. The first place slogan in 1965 was "Gators Cheer Florida's 100th Year." There are no restrictions on eligibility or the number of entries an individual can submit. More than 1,000 entries were received a year ago.

First prize this year will be a five day Jamaican Trip for two via British West Indies Airways from Miami. Several other attractive prizes are planned for top finishers in the slogan competition.

Homecoming is scheduled October 28, 29 when the Florida Gators host the Auburn Wareagles in the football climax to a festive program that includes reunion gatherings, a pre-game barbecue, parade and Gator Growl—the largest student produced talent show in the country.

Slogan chairman Anthony Capitano of Tampa, said entries must be limited to seven words. Originality and clarity are necessary. In case of ties, the entry with the earliest postmark will be awarded a prize.

Entries should be mailed or delivered to: Homecoming Slogan Contest, Florida Blue Key Offices, Florida Union, University of Florida, Gainesville, to arrive by midnight on July 17, 1966.

Winning titles in the contest the past few years were "Gators Appear in the Sea From tiers," "Gators Pace the Race in Space," "Future Meets Past in Gators' Big Blast," and "Gators Prepare a Collegiate World's Fair."

DO IT WITH STONE

Interior decorators have long known that painting the walls of a large room in "warm colors" can make the room seem smaller, and that "cool colors" tend to make the walls recede. The same effect can be achieved with building stone, which is available in a myriad of natural colors and hundreds of different shadings.

Women IN THE KNOW

Wedding Gifts

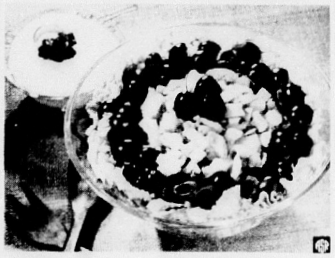

The giving of wedding gifts is an ancient custom, said to antedate marriage itself; only the nature of the gifts has changed. The yoke of oxen, the bag of wheat, the length of hand-woven cloth have given way to the electric coffeemaker and the teak salad bowl!

Women in the know with brides-to-be in the family realize that receiving and acknowledging all those gifts is one of the bride's most important responsibilities, and one of the most joyous, if they help her to do it well.

A good system is to record all gifts as they arrive—in a notebook, the lines of which are numbered. (Such books, designed for just this purpose, are sold at most stationery stores, together with a box of small gummed numbers.) As each gift arrives, the bride notes the name and address of the donor and writes a little description of the gift. She then inconspicuously affixes a gummed number corresponding to the number in the book to the gift.

It's a good idea to write a certain number of "thank-you's" each day (preferably first thing in the morning), and it helps to write the notes in the room where the gifts are arranged. The bride surrounded by all this heartwarming and beautiful proof of her friends' affection finds her thank you's come from the heart!

Sarasota's Post 20 American Legion junior baseball team handed Avon Park's Post 69 team its second loss of the season last Friday night in Sarasota winning 6-3.

Avon Park jumped off to a three run lead in the top of the first inning. Starting pitcher Hoppy Rewis was safe at first on a throwing error by the Sarasota shortstop after Ronnie Jackson and John Elder struck out. Then Emmett Money drew a walk and Joe Strickler was safe on another error. Rewis scored on an error by the catcher, Money came in on another error, and young Larry LaFlam singled in Strickler.

Sarasota pushed over a run in the bottom of the first and added four more in the last of the second taking advantage of walks, passed balls and wild pitches. Money came on to relieve Rewis in the second with no outs and the bases loaded.

Post 20 scored its sixth run in the bottom of the fourth on a single, a walk, and a throwing error by an Avon Park infielder.

Rewis walked four batters and gave up one hit during his inning on the mound, and Money allowed two more singles and also walked four as he finished out the game.

LaFlam got two singles for Avon Park, and Joe Strickler and Money both singled for Post 69's four hits.

The loss gave Avon Park a record of three wins and two losses. Last night the local team was scheduled to play in Ft. Myers and tomorrow night (Friday) they will play Bradenton in Bradenton. Next Monday night they return home to host Punta Gorda at 8 o'clock at Head Field.

Bridal Consultant:

A bride's gown may be traditionally white, but it's difficult to predict the colors she will have in her new home.

She can find color in almost any home furnishing. Even dinnerware is changing from white to vibrant blues, greens and yellows.

A basic recommendation is to choose dinnerware to fit your own needs and tastes. Use colors that identify personality, don't let yourself be influenced by what your friends have in their homes.

Dinnerware is used every day. Look for the color and pattern that doubles for informal and formal service.

Preceding the ceremony, the organist Mrs. J. H. McCranie played a prelude of nuptial music. She accompanied the soloist, W. D. Boehmer, who sang "Because" and during the service "The Wedding Prayer."

Twin candelabra formed the background for the service with two sets of candelabra on each side. These were banked with palms and three large baskets of white gladiolas and white pompons with satin ribbons respecting the altar arrangements.

The relative pews were marked with clusters of large white mums and white satin ribbon bows. A large arrangement of white glads and mums were centered on a table in the church narthex.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a floor length alabaster silk linen gown, empire style, split skirt and long butt on back. The short sleeves and wide bands of lace encircling the bottom of the skirt were fashioned of point de Venise lace.

Motifs of the same lace were appliqued on the front of the dress and on her 21 paneled cathedral length train, which was attached to the waist line. On the scooped neckline, she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and phalaenopsis orchids, and ivy.

A petal plateau, pearls dotting each petal, was set in a lace crown, edged with seed pearls, which held her waist length veil.

The bride's attendants were in maize silk linen floor length empire sheaths, scoop neck lines, bow in front and split skirt in back. Their miniature veils were attached to a crown and high bow, the same material as the dress. They carried cresent shaped cascades of daisies and ivy.

The matron of honor was Jane Hunt, cousin of the bride.

The ushers were Ed Touchton, Avon Park, Pete Raulerson, cousin from Okeechobee, Chuck McKaffe, Avon Park, Harold Smith, Savannah, Ga., Gene Tomlinson, Lorida, Ron nie Hunt and Roscoe Bass Jr., brother of the bridegroom. All men were attired in formal evening wear with white boutonnieres.

Mrs. Hunt, mother of the bride, wore a two piece beige lace ensemble. Her corsage was phalaenopsis orchids.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the large foyer of the Sun Land Hotel.

Jean Williams presided over the brides book at the reception. A large arrangement of white stocks and mums, minia ture brides and grooms and one large candle decorated this table.

The cake table was covered with a hand embroidered white linen table cloth. The large three tier cake was decorated in white and yellow, topped with a miniature bride and groom. On each side of the cake were tall, three arm silver candelabra. Nuts and mints were served from this table.

The cake was cut and served by Mary Faith Davis and Peggy Pearce.

The punch table was covered with white linen on which rested the huge silver punch bowl. On either side were nine arm taper holders, arranged with white carnations, white pompons, yellow roses, babies breath and tulle. Various arrangements of single large mums were resting beneath five branch candelabra.

The mantel was decorated with real magnolia leaves. One outstanding decoration and conversation piece was the bridal wreath of magnolia tree. Made from real magnolia branches and blossoms from the tree with ornamental white doves perched through out.

Leta Shann served the punch.

The bride chose a beige and lace sleeveless dress and jacket with pink accessories for her traveling outfit. Her corsage was an orchid from her bouquet.

They are spending their honeymoon in North Carolina and will return to Okeechobee to make their home.

Sermonette

Union Congregational Church

THE FRUITFUL LIFE

"I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing." St. John 15:5.

How do branches bear? The answer to the question is simple: they bear by simply clinging to the vine. The implication of Jesus teaching is that if one becomes his follower, and gives him a chance, that he will do the rest. We see the result in St. Paul's life. Before his conversion it was Paul's will, afterward it was Christ's will. And that made a tremendous difference.

When one can live a committed life, he does not have to worry what someone else will think or say. He can exclaim with Paul: "Who are thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God hath received him." Romans 14:4.

If we wished to give this process of God's working through human life a name, we could call it instrumentation. We become instruments in the hands of God; through us he works his will on earth. This fact illuminates the saying: "I would be to God what a man's hand is to a man." Thus it is that God reaches other lives through us.

A surgeon stood on a railroad embankment after a train wreck. He was wringing his hands in anguish as he watched the engineer die from a serious injury. Somebody recognized the doctor and asked him if anything could be done. "Of course," he replied, "if I only had my instruments."

Instruments in the hands of God to help heal aching wounds in the hearts of men. Is that asking too much? Jesus made this possibility very real for you and me when he said: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father." John 14:12.

Thus is opened the possibility of a wonderful way of living. A missionary was telling the story of Christ in old China. After he had finished his hearers said: "We know him." Whereupon the missionary explained that Jesus lived some 19 centuries ago. "Oh, no," the natives replied: "He lived here. We knew him quite well. His grave is in our cemetery." Then they took the missionary to see the grave and he discovered the answer to what seemed to be a mystery. An English doctor had lived there. He had served and healed them. When they heard of Jesus, they identified Him with the good doctor who had lived in their midst.

What a great day it will be when others are able to see Christ in us! When they can say: "We know Him. He lives on our street."

Some years ago astronomers noticed that the planet Uranus was deviating somewhat from its orbit. They searched for the reason. Finally they discovered that the perturbation was caused by the pull of the planet Nepture which until that time had not been discovered. The pull of an unseen, dynamic force is noticed in the movement of history. This is especially true in the history of the Hebrews. There is the dramatic case of Moses. He is caused to pause in the midst of a routine shepherd's life. He turns from it and becomes the one who champions the cause of an oppressed people, becoming not only their liberator but also their law-giver as well.

God said to Moses: "I will send you to Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt." Exodus 3:10. When Moses pled his inability, God replied: "Go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say." Exodus 4:12.

Thus it is that when the story of the liberation of the Hebrew people is written, credit must be given to God and Moses. "God is equal to his own purposes and he knows how to make his creatures serve his ends." Throughout the Old Testament there is to be found the ever-recurring feeling of being sent by God and being implemented by His Spirit. It is the sword of the Lord and Gideon that wins the day.

This great idea of divine commission and involvement is to be found in the saying of Jesus: "The Father that dwelleth in me, He doeth the works." St. John 14:10. We do well to remember that Jesus constantly insisted that both what he said and did came from the Father. Both his words and deeds were the Father's will and power coming through him to men. What does this all mean to you and me?

Confucius said that would-be disciples should have some common sense and spiritual sensitivity. In the case of Jesus how different. To him any one would do. That, of course, includes you and me. Dr. Gossip framed it in these words: "Look!" says Christ. "You see that poor stick lying in the dust, and shrivelling in the hot sun; and then that vine, with branches loaded down with heavy clusters. That is the difference that I can make in you; and I will do it if you give me any chance at all." Christ does not just save us from something; he saves us to something, a more useful life, a life filled with meaning and power.

Dr. Seabury, a modern psychologist, comments on what happened, and can happen, when men accept and cling to Christ. "We know how Jesus chose hundreds of his followers from the simplest and most unlettered people who up to the time of meeting him and receiving his help had no position and little confidence in themselves. We know that after the transformation he wrought in their lives they went out, able not only to perform miracles but gifted with powers of speech and capable of imparting instruction."

If you are all dissatisfied with life, try the way of commitment. The promise is: "He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit." This is everlastingly so! says St. Paul,—I know for "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." Philippians 4:13.

Mrs. F. L. Peach To Attend Training School

Mrs. Florence L. Peach of Lake Lelia Road, Avon Park, the executive secretary of the Highlands County chapter of the American National Red Cross, will attend a service to military families training institute which is to be held in Orlando on Thursday, June 30, at the Central Florida Chapter House from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Its purpose is to assist workers in developing and increasing skills in helping people with problems and to increase quality and quantity in services. It will be an opportunity to consider basic principles involved in giving services with emphasis on the needs of applicants and workers.

This is especially timely as problems resulting from separation, stresses and crises experienced by servicemen and their dependents have been intensified by the Vietnam situation.

Miss Hazel M. Young, case supervisor, family consultation service of Jacksonville, will be the leader of the institute.

The chapter office will be open on that day from 1 to 4:30 p.m. only with a volunteer, Mrs. Linda Simmons in charge.

Three Teams Bid For First Place In Little League Schedule

With only six games left to be played of the 1966 Avon Park Little League schedule, three teams still have a chance at the first place slot. Avon Citrus Bank, with a 11-3 record, holds down the top spot after last Tuesday night's games by virtue of having played more games than Bagwell Lumber who is 10-3 and Rotary who has an 8-3 record.

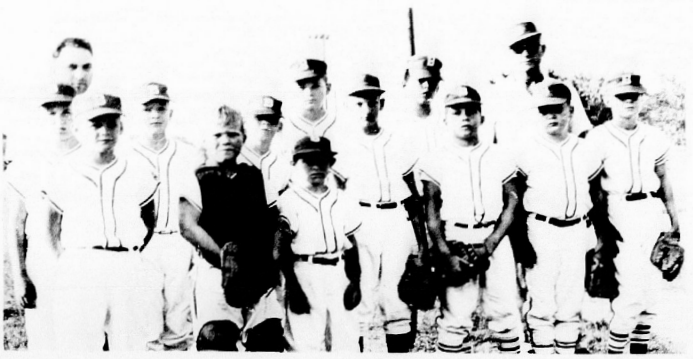

Avon Citrus Bank had the title virtually sewed up until last Monday night when the First Baptists, who are tied with Florida Avenue Baptists with a 3-11 mark in the cellar, upset the leaders by taking an 8-7 win. The Bankers had defeated Bagwell 8-7 last Thursday night.

Tonight (Thursday) Rotary will play Florida Avenue Baptists and A C B will tangle with the Lions. Tomorrow night (Friday) make-up games between First Baptist and Florida Avenue Baptists and Rotary and Lions will be played at the usual time. Then next week Rotary and Bagwell will have two make-up games against each other. Rotary won a protest this week in a ruling by the team managers to reset a game previously won by Bagwell.

In other action last week the Lions won 5-0 over First Baptists on Thursday night after the A C B win over Bagwell. Last Friday Rotary won 9-0 over Florida Avenue Baptists in a make-up game. Last Monday Bagwell trounced the Lions 11-0 after the First Baptist had upset A C B. Three homeruns were hit during the F B vs A C B game—one a grand slam, by a Baptist batter. Last Tuesday night Rotary took an 11-1 win from First Baptist and Bagwell shut-out Florida Avenue Baptists 5-0.

So the Rotary nine with four games left to play challenges Avon Citrus and Bagwell for the championship. The Bankers play only the Lions while Bagwell faces Rotary twice.

"Drunkard" and "hush" are meaningless words, merely used to describe excessive drinking. They have no medical or psychological meaning; they do not explain why certain persons drink excessively and others do not. The word "alcoholic" on the other hand, was coined by a Swedish scientist, Magnus Hussa, in 1848, and has a definite meaning to doctors, psychologists and other scientists.

Fourteen players and two alternates were chosen this week to represent Avon Park in the Area II District 4 Little League baseball tournament to be held here starting July 20.

Greg Albritton, Mike Bagwell, and Tommy Veasey were picked from the Bagwell team; Billy Zimmerman, Dale Childress, Ray Revels, and Steve Hancock from Avon Citrus Bank; Rod Wester, Randy Ward, and Howard Simmons from Rotary; Eddie Ezell and Roy Lyles from First Baptist; and Artie Bass and Terry West from the Lions. Serving as alternates will be Lukey Townsend of Rotary and Wayne Kelly of Avon Citrus Bank.

Wesley Newsome and George Heatherly will serve as manager and coach of the tourney team.

Tournament director will be Wayne K. Hickey, the District 4 administrator and John L. Townsend will serve as the assistant director in charge of the Avon Park five team tourney.

Games will be played July 20, 21, and 22 with the playoff finals between the two areas to be played July 23 in Ambassador.

Drinking is a social custom. Drunkenness is a temporary state. An alcoholic has a continuing physiological and psychological condition, which exists within him, whether he is drinking or not, says Florida's State program on alcoholism.

Mrs. Barnett Wins Folgers Ribbon Contest

Mrs. C. R. Barnett of Avon Park was announced last week as the winner of the Folgers Ribbon Guessing Contest at Food Fair, according to Frank Caggiano, manager of the local store.

Contestants were ask to guess the length of ribbon displayed in inches.

The winning guess made by Mrs. Barnett was 300 inches, being the closest to the exact number of inches contained in the ribbon.

Take the family out for the day this weekend and enjoy yourselves by taking a trip to the top of PLACID TOWER on U.S. 27 in Lake Placid and see 27 beautiful lakes amid the other splendors of Florida's Central beauty - best view in the state. While there play some carpet golf and take advantage of a free orange juice break. Adjoining the Placid Tower is the TOWER Restaurant - a wonderful place to finish off the day with dinner. Try some of these luscious dishes-Alaskan King Crab a La Newburg en casserole or baked roast turnip beef with the trimmings. A large variety of other tasty dishes to select from to tantalize your palate.

Smokey Says:

THIS MEANS YOU!

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

Whenever I teach the poem, "Snow-Bound" by John Greenleaf Whittier, I find it necessary to stop about every other line and explain to my class how people lived over a hundred years ago.

My students seldom know, for instance, what is meant by an ox bow or a well curb, and they never, never know about a back stick.

Before matches were a common household item, fire had to be guarded and left burning from day to day. Neighbors who came to borrow a coal of fire didn't visit long.

Cooking was done on an open fireplace, and a large green log or "back stick" was always used behind the other wood that burned in the fireplace. Dry wood shavings were used to build a fire in front of the back stick until this green log finally caught fire. At night it was covered or "banked" with ashes and a good backlog would last for three or four days. In the morning it was stirred with a poker to kindle a new fire.

Today, when an editor refuses a manuscript, it is often due to the fact that he "has a backlog of similar material." The expression "backlog of material" refers to the old back stick used by our forefathers to make a long-lasting fire.

Every litter bit hurts YOU

Trash? Litter? Empties? Don't discard them as you drive! Carry a litterbag in your car. Hold everything for the first roadside basket or take it home for proper disposal. Remember— our roads and highways belong to all of us. Litter spoils your view... menaces highway safety... costs tax dollars! Every litter bit hurts... YOU. America's beauty is your duty. Please help.

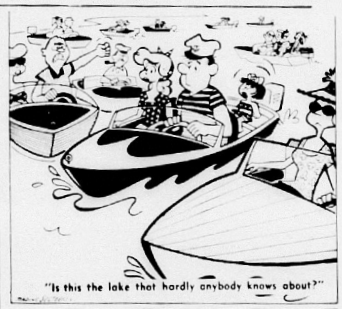

KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL

VOLUME XLII NUMBER 37 AVON PARK, FLORIDA 33825 — THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1966 GL 3-4351 GL 3-4355 10c PER COPY

CAPTAIN McKENZIE receives citation from the Hon. Samuel Friedenreich, Commander of the Department of Florida Veterans of Foreign Wars, for the local guard unit being selected as an outstanding unit of the Florida National Guard, on recommendation of Major General Henry McMillan, the Adjutant General. Award was given at the annual Department Convention of the VFW at the Daytona Plaza Hotel, Daytona Beach, Friday, June 24.

Inter-Conuty Readies Long Distance Center

Preparations for the activation of the new Avon Park Long Distance Operations Center have entered the final phase according to a statement issued today by M. J. N. Johnson, president of the Inter-County Telephone System.

The new $100,000 telecommunications complex was started in February of 1965, when ceremonies were held on the property site formerly owned by Ray Wells of Avon Park. At that time, company officials joined with local dignitaries in the ground breaking ceremony. Actual constiuction of the attractive new two-story building was begun in the summer of 1965, with completion of the building occurring in the early part of this year.

At the time of the ground breaking for the Long Distance Operations Center, Johnson noted that the continual increase in long distance traffic for this area "is indicative that the past and present economic growth of this area of Florida should continue to prosper favorably in the years to come." In line with that pattern, Inter-County has been busily preparing the new addition to Avon Park's skyline for its scheduled activation date of September 17, 1966.

J. E. Wilburn, Northern District Traffic Supervisor, noted that Inter-County is spending some $132,000 over and above the building cost, in order to install 10 new operator positions in addition to the transferring of the present 32 positions to the new building. "This is quite an extensive operation in itself," Wilburn said, "at the relocating of highly sensitive electronic equipment like this must be done with complete care."

In order to facilitate this move to the new quarters, Wilburn pointed out that adjustments have to be made as work progresses. As Wilburn was talking, workmen from the Automatic Electric Company of Northlake, Illinois, who are the equipment contractors handling the installations and moves, were removing four positions for transfer to the new quarters. "There's a good example of an adjustment we have to make," Wilburn said, pointing to the work going on. "While those positions are out of service, it means that our staff will be doubling their efforts to handle the regular volume of calls."

Wilburn called attention to the fact that until the move is completed, and the new operations center is activated on September 17, customers may experience some delay in getting an operator to handle their calls. "We hope that everyone will bear with us during this transition period," he said. "Once the move has been completed, and the 20 positions have been placed into operation by September 17, the service quality will be improved immeasurably."

Lee A. Corbin, Jr.—Peoples Loan Co. of Avon Park has a new manager effective June 28. Corbin comes from Fort Meade, where he has been manager of Peoples Loan. He has been with the firm for two and one-half years. Mr. Corbin will move to Avon Park with his wife, Patricia Anne and two girls, Sherrye age 7 and Terri age 3, in about two weeks.

Inter-County's new addition has been an attractive supplement to the Avon Park scene. The exterior of the building was designed in keeping with the company's present offices on Lake Avenue. Its over-all design is high-lighted through the use of brick veneer with colored translucent panels on the two-level front. The appointments to the interior of the building feature darkly paneled walls for the office areas with a striking mural treatment for the walls of the Long Distance Operations room. Rounding out the well planned facility are locker rooms, lounges, and an attractive, fully equipped kitchen and snack bar area for the off-duty convenience of the operators and staff.

Avon Park is the Long Distance Operations Center for Avon Park, Arcadia, Bowling Green, Fort Meade, Lake Placid, Okeechobee, Sebring, Wauchula, and Zolfo Springs. From the Avon Park location, long distance connections are established throughout Florida and to points all over the world. The Inter-County Telephone System maintains one other Long Distance Operations Center located in Fort Myers, which serves the southwestern section of the state.

The Inter-County Telephone System, with headquarters in Fort Myers, is among the leaders in the Independent Telephone Industry in the nation. The company ranks 12th in size among independents in the United States in terms of telephones served. It further ranks first in Florida in terms of the number of telephones served, when the Bell and General Telephone Systems are excluded. It is currently providing service to over 105,000 telephones and providing employment for over 1,000 people. The company also maintains over 77,000 miles of long distance channels. In the company's 13-county south-central and southwest Florida service area, there are 31 exchanges serving over 234 communities. Inter-County is publicly owned by about 5,000 stockholders residing in virtually every state of the Union and several foreign countries. Its plant investment is now 56 million.

Avon Park Hit Heavy By Thieves

Local authorities reveal five breaking and entering violations over the long holiday week-end.

Friday night, thieves entered Lane's TV taking a record player, one radio and about $60 in cash.

The Smith home on North Glenwood was broken into also on Friday night with no reported damage done.

Also on Friday night Stone's TV shop was entered with thieves taking two radios and about $24 cash.

On July 5, Leons Sporting Goods was broken into with thieves taking guns, shells and several small items.

Also on the 5th, Meyers Shoe Shop was entered but thieves did not make out so well as only $3 was found missing.

Swimming Promotions Announced

The first session of the summer program's beginning swimming instruction finished up yesterday with over 60 youngsters passing into the intermediate classification according to director Joe Franza.

The intensified program of swimming instruction will be offered again for a five day twice-a-day period starting July 18, and boys and girls who didn't complete the course or any who weren't able to attend the first session may enroll again.

Last Thursday's trip to Vero Beach was rained out and the high school students will make the trip today weather permitting.

Last Tuesday night's dance at the Jacaranda Hotel featured a live band and was well attended by the Avon Park youth. Franza emphasized that the 25 cents admission fee was to pay for the band. Dances will be held each Tuesday night from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Participation in the recreation phase of the program was high last week with approximately 100 taking part in the two swimming sessions each day, an average of 80 bowling on Tuesdays and Fridays and some 75 boys and girls going skating on Wednesday afternoon.

A table tennis tournament started this week at the gym. Next Thursday the high school youth will take a trip to Busch Gardens.

Medicare Will Aid Highlands Welfare

The already strained Highlands County welfare budget may be subjected to still more stress. Highlands County Medical Association, in a letter read at the Highlands County commission meeting Tuesday, announced its decision to follow a policy of charging governmental agencies "usual and customary fees."

County Welfare Director Anna Dee Church said the doctors of Highlands County have, for many years, charged the county half fees for treatment to welfare patients. But even with the 50 percent policy medical expenses are up sharply this year.

In the 1964-65 fiscal year fees for doctors, paid from county welfare funds, came to $2,228.03. In the first six months of the current year the fees have come to $3,004.

Mrs. Church said the doctors "have been most considerate and in many cases have given services without any charge at all."

A policy of charging all governmental agencies full fees has been announced in resolutions adopted in the most conventions of Florida Medical Association and American Medical Association. Mrs. Church said such a policy could conceivably double present medical welfare expenses.

"Medicare will help greatly so it is a little hard to tell how the new policy will effect us. We must keep our welfare budget in line," the welfare director said.

Road Projects

Most of the time at Tuesday's county commission meeting was spent in a study of bids on three road projects. A bid of $8,500 for curb and gutters on South Commerce (from the Circle to the ACL railroad crossing at Highlands Ave. in Sebring) was received from W. G. Young. This lone bid was higher than the commissioners had anticipated and the board finally laid the bid aside for further study.

Chairman Cecil Skipper complained that both the specifications and the bid are too vaguly worded.

Bids for two bridges were received and the contract was awarded to F and M Concrete bowling on Tuesdays and Fridays and some 75 boys and girls going skating on Wednesday afternoon.

Legion Team Journey To Naples Friday, Play Here July 13

The Avon Park Post 69 American Legion junior baseball team won a 5-3 victory over Charlotte County here at Head Field last Monday night, lost 3-0 to Post 24 in Bradenton last Friday night, and had a game scheduled in Ft. Myers rained out Wednesday, June 29, to bring their record to 4-3 with just three games left to play.

Wauchula has dropped out of league play, so both games scheduled with that team are cancelled. Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the Avon Park nine will play in Naples and will be at home for the final home game next Wednesday, July 13, with Sarasota as the opponent. The Bradenton game will be re-scheduled.

In Bradenton last Friday night the Post 69 boys held the league leaders scoreless until the last of the sixth inning when three runs were scored on five singles. Avon Park threatened only once when Mike Vanderbilt walked and moved on to third on another walk and a single by Larry LaFlam. But the Post 69 batters were unable to bring him home.

Ronnie Jackson took the loss for Avon Park giving up seven hits, allowing no walks and fanning five. Richard Gulash was the winning hurler. He limited Avon Park to two singles—LaFlam's in the sixth and Danny Odom's in the fifth. Gulash struck out 13 Avon Park batters.

Last Monday night Emmitt Money went the distance for Avon Park on the mound striking out 13 but also walking 13 as the Post 69 boys took a 5-3 win from Punta Gorda's Charlotte County team. Money gave up four scattered singles during his seven innings on the mound.

Larry LaFlam, Avon Park second sacker, led Avon Park at the plate with three singles in four at bat. Money drove in a run in the third with a double to the left-center field fence, and Ronnie Jackson lined a single by the shortstop in the third frame.

Recreation Committee

Replies have now been received from all three of the county's Chamber of Commerce units suggesting possible members for a committee to improve the county's recreational facilities. Avon Park's list was submitted two weeks ago.

Tuesday the Sebring C of C submitted the names of Mrs. Stanley Davis, Allen Altvater, Marvin Kahn, Arthur Gore, C. B. Jones, Jim Tommy Campbell and Jack Mashburn. The Lake Placid unit's nominated L. C. Reeves, B. L. Bevis, Eugene Polk, D. D. Cunningham, J. D. Watson and Rusty Rogers.

All the locations are to be sent to Mrs. Davis who is to head the committee for the county.

Other Business

In other business Tuesday the commission received bids for a time deposit of $50,000 for 60 days and First Bank of Lake Placid was high with a bid of 4.61 percent.

The maintenance report for East Chain of Lakes was approved.

Approved the Tax Collector's errors and insolvencies report. W. H. Prescott told the commissioners that the "e and i" totals for the year amount to less than late additions to the tax roll. The errors and insolvencies for the year come to $3,000.40 while additions to the roll come to $3,600.80.

Clark Taylor appeared at the board meeting to make an appeal for revamping drainage along Spring Garden Road in Sebring Shores.

Cost of moving utilities along Highlands Avenue (approximately $400) was approved.

An application for a package and consumption on the premises liquor license for The Palms, in DeSoto City, was approved as not in conflict with existing zoning in the area.

Avon Park To Participate In Head Start

It was announced this week that the Head Start "Center" in Avon Park has been selected by the Federal Office of Economic of Opportunity to participate in the national evaluation of the nation-wide Head Start program.

The number of "Centers" actually evaluated by the Office of Economic Opportunity is equal to one percent (1%) of the total number of "Centers" in the United States. This evaluation covers the child, the staff, and the family. This evaluation must be completed by Dec. 31, 1966.

The important events of last weeks' program were the "community" field trips, the dental examinations of all the children, and the first five (5) physical examinations. The physical examinations were done by Dr. Ost of Avon Park as a "pilot" program to determine the most efficient and rapid method of completing the 160 examinations. All doctors in Highlands County are being asked to cooperate in this project as it is necessary to complete these examinations before school starts in the fall. The Office of Economic Opportunity is paying for both the medical examinations and the laboratory procedures.

People are still needed to help in gathering information and all interested parties should call Don Thielke EV 3-0844.

JAMES A. HALEY REPORTS

A long-recognized and supposedly impregnable fundamental right—that of any individual to sell or rent his own private property to anybody he sees fit—would be abolished under Title IV of the pending civil rights bill.

It is true that before reporting this bill to the floor, the House Judiciary Committee amended the title in such fashion as to exempt from its workings some private property — principally owner-occupied housing.

But this move, born of political necessity in no way alters the fact that the housing title of the current civil rights bill does violence to the fundamental right of the private property owner to dispose of his own property in accord with his own ideas.

Heretofore, civil rights bills have been mainly concerned with protection of the rights of individuals or minority groups against discrimination, or supposed discrimination, at the hands of local and state governments, or persons or institutions professing to be offering public services.

But this proposed housing provision would enter an entirely new field. Instead of protecting persons or groups against injustice, this far-reaching and unprecedented proposal would TAKE AWAY a basic right from every owner of private property in the United States.

Fortunately, there is vast uneasiness, not only in The Congress but among citizens throughout the North and West, for fear that this legislative monstrosity will somehow be rammed through the House and Senate and become law.

This public uneasiness has been reflected in the "softening" amendment adopted by the House Judiciary Committee at the insistence of some Northern liberal members who hitherto have gone all out for civil rights legislation—all of which, of course, has been aimed straight at us "bigoted" southerners.

The sudden change of heart on the part of these Northern liberals is easy to explain. They have been bucking against this proposition because their constituents, the people in their own districts, are aroused to great anxiety, and are saying so in literally tons of mail, over the thought that federal civil rights legislation which at last AFFECTS them might be enacted.

I am also concerned about other sections of the bill, those dealing with selection of juries in both federal and state courts and with integration of public schools. These are extensions of authority already asserted by the Federal government over the people of the United States.

The greatest danger in the bill lies in the housing section, not because it would achieve further racial integration, but because it strips the individual of a basic right.

Fortunately, because this bill affects the whole country, it probably will not pass. The committee-modified form may get through the House by a bare margin, but even that is not now certain. On the other hand, there is virtually no chance that this dangerous and pernicious piece of legislation can make it through the Senate this year.

DR. HUMPHREY'S PRESCRIPTION

Years ago a politician made history with the opinion that what this country needed was a good five-cent cigar.

Nowadays our politicians are obsessed with the notion that what the country needs is more taxes, and their attitude may be judged from some recent remarks of Hubert H. Humphrey. According to a Washington news story, our Vice President in addressing a body of state legislative leaders "quoted figures showing about a third of the states have no income tax, another third have an anemic tax' and the remainder 'make reasonably effective use of it.'" Further on his remarks he told the lawmakers: "I would suggest that you might take another look at the income tax. . . . ."

In plain English that means: "You boys ought to get with it. There are plenty of golden eggs in those taxpaying geese."

Time was when this sort of jabberwocky would have ended a man's political career. That was when politicians advocated less government meddling and called for less taxation and more economy. Indeed, only three decades ago there were screams of outrage when Harry Hopkins, the social worker who became aide to President Roosevelt, expressed the political philosophy: "Tax and tax, spend and depend, elect and elect." He had to back water on that, quick.

Today things are different. Taxes are huckstered by our politicos as though they were highly beneficial. They imply that the more taxes we pay the better off we are. More taxes, we're told, mean you get more things, absolutely free, from Washington and your State Capitol. The more money you pay in taxes the more nice people can be hired to keep a close look on your affairs, especially your tax-paying habits. And more tax money means there will be less money "wasted" on "the private sector of the economy," which means the things you need for yourself.

Such money, diverted to government use, means that people who presume to be smarter than you and I are enabled to buy all sorts of expensive trinkets to use, waste or give away, and this in turn creates business booms. And if the boom gets out of hand and money starts getting worthless, more taxes are just the thing to bring it under control.

With so many Americans falling for this malarkey they can blame only themselves when Dr. Humphrey's fiscal prrescription is filled by the several states.

HIGHER EDUCATION

The space age emphasis on higher education has not found Florida asleep at the switch. In 1965, more than half the graduates in the state's high schools entered college.

Major share of the credit for this gain goes of course, to the growing junior college system. Already there are 20 such institutions in operation with five more in the planning stage.

This comparatively new concept in public schools has won wide acceptance for two obvious reasons. The junior colleges are located where the students are, and the low cost to parents has brought education beyond the high school within reach of many more people.

Soon, 85 percent of the Florida population will be within commuting distance of junior college campuses.

While making two years of college available to so many youngsters, the system at the same time has taken some strain off the state's universities. Existing institutions at the higher level could not possibly have met the demand had it not been for the junior colleges.

The battle is not yet won. The university system still is being expanded, and the demand still is increasing, partly because of the state's rapid population growth, and partly because of the virtual necessity for a college education in today's technological world.

One future development may be elimination of freshman andd sophomore classes in the universities, along with a continued increase in the number of junior colleges. This was suggested recently by Dean Roger H. Miller of Florida Atlantic University.

A certain future development is on increase in public expenditures for education. But along with this increase we may expect to see Florida climb even higher in ranking among the states.

SHADOW BEFORE

Florida's reapportioned legislature is making its influence felt even before it comes into existence.

One of the last gasps of the old Pork Chop regime before the courts forced redistribution of legislative seats on a population basis, was to designate Hernando County as the site of a new mental hospital.

This action was taken in spite of expert testimony and recommendations that the hospital be located in an urban area—simply because Senate President James E. (Nick) Conner coveted it for his home town. As head Pork Chopper in a malapportioned legislature, he controlled the votes that put it tthere.

But as a Democratic Senate-House caucus in St. Augustine yesterday, a majority of senators present signed a petition aimed at halting construction on the hospital until the legislature meets next April.

While such a petition will not have the force of law, it could and should be a strong hint to the state cabinet that the 1967 legislature will not look favorably on wasting money on the "Hernando hideaway," when it is so badly needed for mental facilities elsewehere.

Questions and Answers About Low-Rent Public Housing

Q. What does low-cent public housing cost in local taxes?

A. Nothing. No tax levy is needed; no upping of taxes is needed. The Federal government, through loans or guarantees of loans, makes possible the financing of housing, and makes an annual contribution to enable rents to be set within reach of low income families. Ten percent of the shelter rent is paid in lieu of taxes by Local Housing Authorities to help provide schools and other local betterment services.

Q. Is this type of housing "free"?

A. No. Tenants must pay their rents, just as Mr. Average Citizen anywhere else. Rents are, by law, lower than those charged on the private market, permitting low-income families to acquire descent housing within their means.

Q. Is low-rent housing something new and untested?

A. By no means. The low-rent public housing program was created by Congress in the Housing Act of 1937 and has been reaffirmed in subsequent Housing Acts as a local Federal aid to communities through which they may provide decent, safe, and sanitary housing to shelter low-income families unable to afford standard housing.

Q. Who decides how many units will be built?

A. This is determined by the Avon Park Housing Authority based on the need and demand for such housing in this area.

Q. Is the Local Housing Authority appointed by Washington, D. C.?

A. Emphatically no! The Local Housing Authority of Avon Park is a product of this community. It is headed by five local citizens who serve as Commissioners and are appointed by the local mayor. Policies and operations of the Authority are determined here.

Q. What is meant by "elderly housing"—old houses?

A. No. "Elderly housing" is local housing especially constructed to meet the living requirements of senior citizens in this community. Such important features are included as non-skid floors; electrical outlets at no stoop, no squat levels; ramps instead of stairs; grab bars around tubs and showers; storage and shelves within easy reach, and other helpful features to make life more pleasant for the elderly.

Q. Who is eligible to live in low-rent housing?

A. To be eligible, an applicant or applicant group must be a family, that is, two or more members, a single person age 62, or the remaining member of a tenant family. Single persons who are under a disability as defined in the Social Security Act are also considered to be a family. Likewise, individual low-income persons displaced by governmental action are eligible for admission regardless of age or disability status. The family's net income must not exceed the admission income limits established by the Local Housing Authority and approved by the Public Housing Administration.

Q. What is the Federal government's role in low-rent public housing?

A. The Federal government guarantees payment of the mortgage on the property. If the Local Authority's income is not sufficient to cover all operations and meet annual mortgage payments, then Uncle Sam makes up the difference. This is the so-called "subsidy" that worries some people.

Q. Does low-rent public housing compete with standard local rentals?

A. No. Low-income families cannot afford high rents on modest incomes. As a result, they must resort to slum and substandard housing.

Q. Who owns low-rent housing units?

A. The Avon Park Housing Authority, an arm of the City of Avon Park, has title to the projects. The Local Housing Authority develops, builds, and manages these dwellings.

Q. How much rent is charged?

A. This depends entirely on the family income. Rents are based NOT on the size of the apartment, but rather on a percentage of earnings, usually approximately 20 to 30 percent.

Q. Is not public housing wasteful? Cannot privately financed home builders do the job at half the cost?

A. These charges are false since public housing is built by private local contractors through competitive bidding. Most of these contractors also build privately financed local housing. When true cost comparisons are made based on size of the dwelling units, the price of land and quality of construction, development costs of low-rent public housing compare favorable with privately constructed housing.

Q. What does Organized Labor think of low-rent housing?

A. Organized Labor has supported the low-rent program since its birth in 1937, not only because Labor realizes that construction of low-rent housing in an area means more and better jobs, but because Labor believes in the principle that every family is entitled to a decent place to live in a respectable neighborhood.

Q. Where can I learn more about public housing in Avon Park?

A. Contact the Housing Authority of Avon Park at 207 W. Main St., or by telephoning GL 3-4258.

NOW HEAR THIS

According to the Hearing Aid Industry Conference most hearing loss is result from one of four principal causes. They are: infection, otosclerosis (bone disorder), noise and age. Six million Americans who are suffering from hearing losses of varying degrees could be helped through medicine, surgery or the use of a hearing aid. However, they do not know they can be helped because they will not admit to or recognize their loss and seek the available help. Why not invest a little of your time one of these long Summer days and get your hearing tested? Be sure you are not one of the six million missing out on the wonderful world of sound.

Even the 3 to 5 year old likes to be sociable, likes friends around him, likes parties, and wants to join in family recreation.

But usually at this age a number of group activities are beyond him.

An ideal answer is the board game designed just for pre-schoolers, requiring no reading. Games of this type can be played by two, four, or often more children. A simple rule or two can be explained, and then the young players start with confidence.

Perfect for a party is a simple object bingo game, available at variety stores. The gamebox has special cards on which bright colors and simple pictures replace letters and numbers. A leader calls out "house on green" or "kitten on yellow," and if the child's card has the right square he covers it with a marker. As in the grownup game, five squares in a row call for a triumphant yell of "Bingo!"

Diamond Pin Club is in the plans. The Womens Council and the F.A.R. Executive Offices Council will also meet at the summer gathering.

"All Realtors and Associates are cordially invited to the July Quarterly Meeting," President Decker said.

Veterans May Get Flight Training

Donald L. Reynolds, president of the county's largest civilian flight school, has assumed an active role in the campaign to get flight training for veterans through the G.I. Bill.

"Passage of the amendment, Sen. Harris said, would afford thousands of our veterans the opening door to profitable careers in America's fastest growing industry."

Interested groups should look at him immediately, Avon Park has no flight training school and would be affected by the Bill.

Also, not desperate to pilots. Corporations are begging for pilots. Even flight schools are feeling the shortage of instructors as their training procedure expands to accommodate the study aids and other innovations. Veterans could be given the opportunity to train on the ground level.

Senators R. W. Yarborough, Gaylord Nelson and E. M. Kennedy have introduced an amendment to the G.I. Bill which should provide for the inclusion of flight training. It is suggested that additional changes suggest this Bill be geared in touch with the ever ongoing passage of this amendment.

The Last Laugh

One of the television industry's best-guarded secrets is the "Laff Box," the machine which dubs electronic laughter into the sound tracks of comedy shows.

TV Guide describes the contraption at length, and notes that there is a "titter key" and a similar "chuckles reel" that's a favorite with some producers who use it almost exclusively.

There is an "anticipation reel," where everybody in the audience says "oh, oh."

There is a "breathy" intake reel for a "gasp, gee-whiz" look with everybody gasping.

There are separate keys for cheering, applause, men laughing only, and women laughing only. One key activates "sharpies"—those snorts one often hears prior to the main audience roar.

There is a "funny laugh" key for a single obnoxious knock laugh—an indication that even raucous individualism can be catered.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ward Attend Kiwanis Convention In Orgeon

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ward representing the Kiwanis Club of Avon Park, attended the 51st annual convention of Kiwanis International in Portland, Oregon, July 3-6.

The convention, first to be held in the Oregon metropolis since 1920, was built around Kiwanis' entry into its second half century of community service, and the rapid spread of the organization into other lands.

Fifteen to 16 thousand people, Kiwanians and their families, attended. They represented more than 275,000 Kiwanians in 5,400 clubs in the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, West-ern Europe and the Far East. Convention sessions were held in Portland's new Memorial Coliseum.

Work accomplished at the convention includes the election of officers for 1966-67 . . . a president, president-elect, two vice presidents, a treasurer, and six trustees; recognition of the clubs and districts throughout the organization adjudged tops in community service work and overall excellence; and the adoption of resolutions upon which the organization's 1966-67 community service program were based.

Speakers, in addition to Keefe, were: The Honorable Eugene J. McCarthy, United States Senator from Minnesota; The Honorable Mark O. Hatfield, Governor of Oregon; John Fisher, Commissioner of the Canadian Centennial Commission; Miss Nila Magnoff, lecturer and former professor of Russian at the University of Louisville, Kentucky; the leaders of Kiwanis' two youth groups, John D. Eadington, London, Ontario, president of Circle K International, and Daniel W. Richey, Ferriday, Louisiana, president of Key Club International; and a farewell address by O. E. "Pete" Peterson, long-time secretary of Kiwanis International, who will retire in October of this year following 50 years as a member of the Kiwanis Staff.

Much of the convention business was conducted during six general convention sessions in Portland's Memorial Coliseum. Afternoon round table conferences and panel discussions were held in various hotels throughout Portland.

The convention featured a dramatic opening in pageant form; a colorful "Presentation of the Flags of Kiwanis Nations;" a two-hour professional show starring Marguerite Piazza, prima diva of the operatic concert, night club and TV stage, the comedy team of Rowan and Martin, and other personalities; a special program for the ladies; a program for the youngsters present; and a score of district banquets held throughout the Portland area.

Music and color provided by many Kiwanis-sponsored musical groups, calling professional singers, instrumentalists, and performers.

The 51st annual convention of Kiwanis International is the second such gathering to be held in Portland. The first time Kiwanis met in the Rose City in 1920 its delegates adopted the famous Kiwanis motto, "We Build."

MR. AND MRS. DAVID BAUCOM

Sheila Patrick Became Bride Of David Baucom Last Friday

Nuptial vows were exchanged Friday evening, July 1, in the Church of God uniting in marriage Sheila Patrick and David Baucom of Avon Park.

The couple will live in Sebring following a wedding trip to the west coast.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Silas Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baucom of Avon Park.

Rev. Jerry Howell, minister of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony, in the presence of approximately 100 invited relatives and friends. She was given in marriage by her father.

The altar was arranged with palms, two sets of candelabra and two permanent standards of flowers. Bows marked the relative pews. The kneeling bench was covered with satin and bows with a lace flounce encircling the bench.

The bride was beautiful in her chantilly lace gown over taffeta. Sequins sparkled on the gown from its square neckline to the hemline. Fashioned with a pointed empire bodice, long pointed sleeves, bouffant skirt over which was fashioned a three quarter peplum edged with matching lace. Her waist length veil was held in place by a crown of pearl flowers and seed pearls.

Serving as matron of honor was Janet Blackman of Tampa. Wanda and Sherry Patrick, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Completing the wedding party were Joe Baucom, brother of the groom from Kissimmee, serving as best man, with Waylon Mitchell and James Baucom, brother of the groom, as ushers. They were attired in formal evening wear, with white carnation boutonnieres. The ushers acted as the candle lighters.

Little Cindy Howell served as flower girl, scattering red rose petals in the brides path from a white basket.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids were gowned identical in street length, petal pink, chiffon over satin. Fashioned with fitted bodice, scoped neckline and full skirts, with a single rhinestone chip at the shoulder. The back was draped with self material, falling below the waistline. They carried large white mums and satin arranged for their wrists.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Lillian Johnson, and soloist Brenda Brown sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "I Love You Truly."

Mother of the bride chose a sheath style azure blue dress of Lanc', white accessories and plateau petal hat and dotted veil. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a two piece dress of floral blue jersey and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The church annex was the site of the reception. The color scheme of pink and green was carried out on the refreshment table, from which cake, nuts, mints and punch were served.

The table was covered with a white lace cloth on which two punch bowls rested, decorated with fern. The three tiered cake, topped with a bride and groom, was decorated in pink and green. Two crystal candelabra with white tapers completed the table.

The annex was decorated with white wedding bells and occasional bouquets and ferns, throughout.

Serving the refreshments were Charlane Cloud, Rhonda Sims, Sarah Whitehurst and Sandra Brown, all from Sebring.

Terry Tops For Beach

From big girl cutouts to little girl coverups, terry is this season's headliner as a bathing suit topper. It's absorbent, cuddly warm after a cool swim, and now comes in a full range of colors and prints.

To keep terry toppers in top condition, the makers of Nu-Soft fabric softener make these suggestions. Launder them often to avoid ground-in dirt that requires harsh scrubbing. Machine wash; light colors with light, dark with dark. To the final, clear rinse add a capful of aqua blue fabric softener to add softness, brighten colors. Then line or tumble dry, but do not iron . . . it won't be necessary.

By Mary Whitman

"Everyone is born with a bird in his heart."

That was a favorite quote of a famed ornithologist. Many would agree. Boy and man have dreamed of being birds. Early man drew bright bird pictures on cave walls. Biblical references to birds abound. Religions and arts have woven the bird motif into myths and tapestries.

So we learn from a book called Birds Everywhere, part of the World Library series of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin.

The big bird book is designed for children, but will charm those over 21 as well.

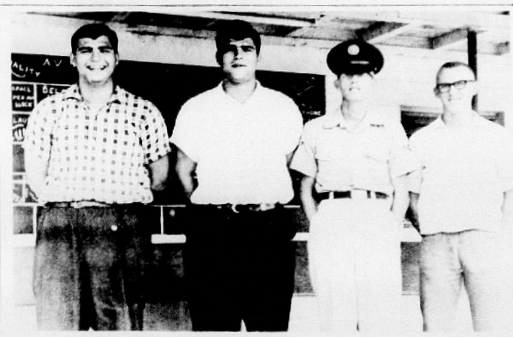

Bird watching is a world-wide hobby. Rich or poor, jet or jalopy set can enjoy it. Anybody with a camera, binoculars or an appreciative eye can take up the sport of studying our winged population. There are over 8,000 species of birds in the world. Over 600 kinds can be seen in North America.

Birds outdo bird-watchers in many ways. The bald eagle, our national symbol, can see a hundred times better than man. Baby penguins go to communal nursery schools. Geese can fly at 27,000 feet and spend winters in India by crossing the Himalayas. A male ostrich is brave, and can also run fifty miles an hour — not a bad combination. The plover goes nonstop 2400 miles. Swallows never get lost.

These and other little-known facts fill the book, which can be enjoyed by the whole family. Included in it are migration maps, tips on bird care, background on how birds are banded, and brilliant pictures of birds of many nations.

Any month is good to begin bird watching. In April, many birds return. May and June are birdsong months, and a tape recorder can catch priceless melodies. In July, young have hatched. In August and September outward flights begin, peaking in October. In November and December, stay at home birds gather at feeders and around picture windows for a winter carnival.

Want a hobby? This is a good book to give as a gift, and then borrow.

Collier Given Week For Legal Conference

In Circuit Court Tuesday John Doyle Conley, convicted of murder in the first degree for the slaying of Mrs. Mary Frances Hall, was given one week for preparation of his defense. Circuit Judge Ben Willis Hill appointed George Alexander Collier to represent Conley.

Conley, who was convicted by a jury in Circuit Court here on June 17, was sentenced to death in the electric chair. Conley and the victim's husband, Jack Hall, have been represented by the Lake Alfred law firm of Edmund, Perkins, Rockland and Edmund. Perkins Rockland died Tuesday. He was younger Collier said he does not have any law partners at present, but is given full authority as an attorney. His request was granted.

A hearing for the younger Collier is set for 9 a.m. on July 12. Bond was set at $5,000.

One of the trials set for July 11 was cancelled when the defendant, Johnnie Lee Henry, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of issuing worthless checks and he was sentenced to serve five years on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

Two men were sentenced to prison for breaking and entering in Avon Park. Johnnie Henderson, who had previously pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and armed robbery was sentenced to 20 years in prison for the robbery and 5 years for the breaking and entering, the two sentences to run concurrently.

Willie King pleaded guilty to two breaking and entering charges. He had been sentenced to six months to 10 years when brought into court on these charges the first time. Later the sentence was modified and King returned here for new trial. He said Tuesday he had served three and a half years of the original sentence and wished to enter a guilty plea. A presentence investigation was ordered.

Odell Elam, pleaded guilty to carrying a gun into the county jail. He was placed on probation and Judge Kelly said arrangements had been completed for the probation to be supervised in Missouri.

George Collier Loses Another Battle To Escape Prison Sentence

George Collier has lost another round in his almost three year old battle to escape a three-year prison sentence.

Collier and his son, John Lester Collier, were found guilty of larceny of cattle in a jury trial in November, 1963, and the older Collier was sentenced to three years at hard labor in the state prison. Neither of the Colliers has served any jail time on the larceny of cattle conviction.

A motion filed in Circuit Court on June 23 asked that George Collier's sentence be reduced and the sentence be changed to the county jail.

Defense counsel—the Lake Alfred law firm of Edmund, Peckus, Kirkland, and McDaniel—in last week's motion claimed that the three-year sentence was excessive, that the defendant is not physically able to withstand the rigors of imprisonment at Raiford.

The motion also stated that the defense plans to appeal to the Federal District Court for relief and the defense intends to apply to the Governor and both of these appeals may be prepared more easily if the defendant is incarcerated in the county jail in Sebring rather than in the prison at Raiford.

The motion did not state on what grounds the defense is seeking to have the case reviewed by federal courts.

Circuit Judge Clifton Kelly, who presided over the Collier trial in 1963, denied the defense motion for reduction of sentence and chastised the presiding assistant. He declared that was done June 24.

Since his conviction Collier has been involved in a series of defense maneuvers, and in June, 1965, Judge Kelly denied further extension of time for preparing an appeal. In February, 1966, the District Court of Appeal upheld the finding and outcome of the Circuit Court trial.

Although formal papers have not been received by the court here, the defense motion of last week indicates, State Attorney Gren Darty said, that the Florida Supreme Court has refused to review the Collier case.

It is expected that orders for Collier's arrest and arrest to prison will be issued after the appeal denial papers arrive from the higher court, Darty said.

Sentencing of the younger Collier was deferred after the trial but orders for his arrest were filed in August, 1963. Court files do not show if defendant is incarcerated in the county jail in Sebring rather than in the prison at Raiford.

The father and son were accused of having stolen five cows from Dresser Brothers Dairy on September 4, 1962.

Wesley Lyons To Serve 10 Years

Wesley Lyons, who had pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of James Fuller Lyons, has been sentenced to 10 years in prison.

The sentence was pronounced in Circuit Court last Tuesday by Judge Clifton Kelly.

Judge Bryant Substitute For Judge Rehrer

Okeechobee County Judge G. E. Bryant substituted for vacationing Highlands Judge Mervin Rehrer last week and meted out some heavy sentences.

Wesley Pless, 39-year-old La Belle driver who had previously pleaded guilty, drew the strongest sentences. He was fined $500 or six months in jail for driving while intoxicated.

An earlier charge of driving without a license was changed to driving while license suspended and for that he was fined $500 or six months in jail. The two sentences are to be served consecutively.

Frank Packard Coleman, 60 of Tampa, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and was fined $100 or 30 days in jail.

Winifred Pickett, 24, of Avon park, pleaded guilty to three traffic charges. For leaving the scene of an accident he was fined $100 or 30 days in jail; for improper change of lane he was fined $25 or five days in jail, and for not having a motor vehicle tag he was fined $25 or five days in jail—the jail sentences to be served consecutively.

Registered Nurses Needed In Air Force

Local Air Force Recruiter, sergeant Paul Smith, reports that there is a great demand for nurses in the Air Force.

Sergeant Smith stated that too many qualified nurses are not aware of the opportunities now existing for members of the USAF Nurse Corps. Besides their pay as commissioned officers, they also receive all the prestige and benefits due any Air Force Officer—such as allowances for food and housing, 30 day annual paid vacation, plus free medical and dental care.

For registered nurses, there is no Air Force entrance examination. The sergeant stated that his office will assist in the preparation of all necessary documents needed for a commission application, relieving the applicant of any cumbersome "red tape."

Registered nurses between the ages of 20 and 34 inclusive, who are un-married, without dependents, and interested in obtaining information about the Air Force can contact Sergeant Smith at the Air Force Recruiting Office, 124 S. Tennessee Ave. in Lakeland, or by phoning 682-8807.

American Red Cross Supports National Safe Boating Week

President Lyndon Johnson, in a proclamation, has urged every American who uses our waterways to re-examine his boating habits during the week of National Safe Boating July 3 - 9) and decide what he can do, individually and together with his countrymen, to reduce accidents and prevent the needless waste of lives on the water.

The President also observed: "The family boating trip has now become almost as common in American life as the family picnic. It is a profound testimony to the strength of our American system and the scope of our prosperity that the recreation of boating, once the pastime of a privileged few, is now enjoyed by millions of families from all walks of life.

"With the steadily increasing traffic on our waterways, however, it is vital that no efforts be spared to keep boating safe as well as stimulating. The knowledge and practice of safe boating principles can make hours spent upon the water pleasurably safer and more pleasurable.

Your Highlands County Chapter of the American Red Cross supports the President's safety plea for boat owners and operators and lists some rules of the road and common sense safety precautions for small boat users.

"Waterways, like highways, states George Crist, Safety Services Chairman, "have rules of the road which every boat operator should follow."

He emphasized these four primary rules:

1-When two boats approach each other at an angle, the boat on the right has the right-of-way.

3—Sailboats have the right of way over power boats.

4—Boats being overtaken have the right of way.

Highways and waterways may both have traffic rules, but boat operators should remember that water doesn't stay put the way a road does, Crist added. "Boat owners should know how to handle their craft to constantly changing conditions of winds, tides and currents," he said.

Crist gave the following safety precautions:

Don't overcrowd, don't overpower your boat.

Don't smoke while refueling.

Equip your boat with safety items, including an anchor, oars, boat hook, extra line, fire extinguisher, tool kit, and a first aid kit.

Running lights are a must for night-time operation.

Small boats usually float even though filled with water, so stay with your boat if it capsizes.

Poison From The Barbecue

When it began to rain one evening recently during a backyard barbecue, the hostess made an innocent but dangerous error when she moved the barbecue into the garage.

Not a single one of the guests suspected that they could be victims of an odorless, colorless and tasteless gas that can overcome a person without a whiff of warning—carbon monoxide poisoning.

Highlands County Extension Home Economics Agent, Imogene D. Rittenburgh, points out that an alarming number of persons are using grills in enclosed areas such as garages, porches, patios, cabins, tents, and even automobiles.

Many persons regard charcoal briquets as perfectly harmless to use indoors, never dreaming that large quantities of carbon monoxide can accumulate. Of course, homeowners who have a specially built indoor barbecue pit with a vent to carry away fumes are not in danger.

What makes carbon monoxide poisoning especially treacherous is that its presence cannot be detected by the senses. In effect, it causes the body tissues to suffer oxygen starvation. Symptoms may be a tightening across the forehead and a throbbing headache. Later a person may become drowsy, nauseated, and unconscious. Death may result if exposure is prolonged and the concentration of carbon monoxide is high.

No one knows how many persons have been overcome by using charcoal burning grills in tightly closed areas. Statistics are impossible to gather since many cases go unreported. For your own protection, do not cook in an unventilated area with even a few charcoal briquets.

20 Moonshine Stills Seized And Destroyed

During the month of May, 20 moonshine stills, 9,560 gallons of fermenting mash, and 373 gallons of non-tax paid (moonshine) whiskey was seized and destroyed by agents of the department.

A total of eight vehicles were seized, and 116 criminal cases were made during the month. Of the 108 tried in court, 81 resulted in convictions, or a 75.9 percentage rate.

During May, 155 applications for Alcoholic Beverage Licenses were processed.

Accounting for the $19,866,426.80 in Revenue collections, cigarette taxes amounted to $4,837,881.82; sparkling beverages, $2,980,462.79; beer $2,606,306.72; and wine, $206,877.91. Miscellaneous collections accounted for the balance. The Revenue collections amounted to a 9.98 percent increase for May 1966 over May 1965.

This enforcement work was accomplished with the cooperation and assistance of County, State, and Federal law enforcement agencies.

Your Parcel Post Needs Zip Code Too

The U. S. Postal Department wishes to advise the public of the importance of using Zip Code for your parcel post mailings. In reaching many destinations it is necessary to handle the mail several times.

An example of this is the case where one mails a parcel post in Atlanta to be sent to a small community in Missouri. To expedite delivery, would require handling of a package eleven (11) times without the use of Zip Code. By using the code the sender can save up to 48 hours in delivery time with less damage and fewer handlings.

Know the Zip Code and use the Zip Code is the advise of the Postal Department.

Supper

On Saturday night the regular pot-luck was attended by 12 this week. Mr. Howard Kellogg returned thanks for all the good food. And all 12 enjoyed themselves. Ann Janke was the hostess.

Chit! Chat

The painting seems to be about completed and how nice the club house looks. We are very proud of it, and when the draperies and new slip covers etc. are completed it will indeed be a pleasure to look at it. It is all green and white inside and out, which is a good neutral color.

Funds For War On Poverty Requested

A revised application for "war on poverty" funds was approved at a Ridge Alliance for Progress meeting last Tuesday.

James Ferrel Smith, president of RAP, presided over the meeting attended by representatives from Hardee, Highlands, Glades, Okeechobee and Charlotte counties which make up the RAP area.

The original application for funds was rejected by the federal authorities, but two weeks ago two staff members from the regional office in Atlanta visited in Highlands County and conferred with Smith about changes in the application.

At last week's meeting, at Howard Johnson's restaurant, Smith submitted the new application. It has been sent to the Atlanta for review by the Office of Economic Opportunity, and Smith said he is hopeful that a decision on the development grant will be forthcoming within three weeks.

Avon Park's Episcopal Church of the Redeemer is a landmark in the city, one of the city's oldest houses of worship, standing as it was built by members of the Anglican faith some years before the turn of the century. It has served many during its years as a mission then in recent years as a parish. Consecrated about 1898, the land and church originally was under the Diocese of Florida, later becoming a part of the Diocese of South Florida when the latter was created. A number of prominent men have served The Redeemer as priests of the Episcopal faith. Among them are Rev. Peter Watterson and Rev. John Mangrum, and now Rev. John L. Knapp. Until The Redeemer became a parish it had several vicars who are now rectors in other parishes.

As millions of Americans prepare for their annual summer vacations, the American Red Cross has issued suggestions for making possible safe, carefree, accident free, exciting and relaxing vacations.

These suggestions are based on precautionary experiences that can accumulate, positive, through the years, Dr. Frederick J. Murphy, national director of Red Cross Safety Services. He recommended that each of our readers, and members of their families take the Red Cross safety slogan, "Accidents don't happen, they are caused," and add to it the words, "and they are preventable."

Start from the start by making sure your car's brakes, signaling devices, windscreens, and exhaust system are in good working order, and the tires, including the spare, are in safe condition so that you have no imperfect visibility because of faulty windshield wipers. Don't forget to make allowances for driving at night when you have less careful drivers to contend with.

Be sure that you are familiar with such hazards as cliffs and banks. If you have small children, in your car, be wary of deep holes and ditches.

Make sure that the drinking water supply is good. In state and national parks, the tap water is sure to be. But many lakes and streams are polluted.

Wear clothing appropriate to the environment, including proper shoes or boots and trousers in brush areas.

Avoid overexposure to the sun.

Take along a good repellant to combat insects.

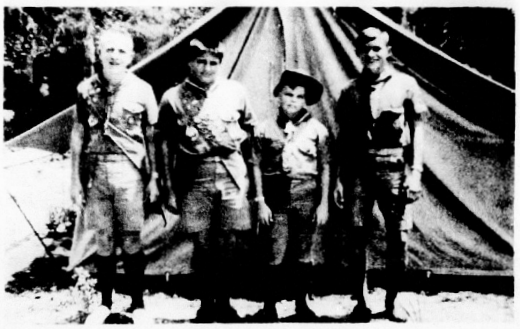

Identify—and keep children away from—poisonous plants in the area. Have dangerous animals, such as poisonous and snakes, and those like wild berries and toadstools that look edible but are poisonous.

Learn about the wildlife in the area—large animals that are dangerous, and venomous snakes.

Be sure that any campfire you build is in a completely cleared area and when you have finished with the fire extinguish it with water, then shovel earth on top of it.

Make sure knife blades are sharp. When using, cut away from you. Keep knives in sheaths or stored in separate compartments from other utensils when not in use.

If you use a charcoal grill for cooking, never use it in an enclosed patio, tent or cave, or inside a building, because of the danger of asphyxiation by carbon monoxide.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 156— Scouts Jim Warrington, Mike Bradberry, Doug Selver, and Mike Slear are attending the Flaming Arrow Boy Scout Camp at Lake Wales. Camp started last Saturday and runs through Sunday, July 9. The boys were joined by their Scoutmaster, Larry Bond, Tuesday. Family night was observed on Wednesday evening with parents and friends attending around the campfire program. The boys are striving to receive merit badges in sailing and rowing. Three of the boys are working to receive special recognition as Scout Life Guards.—

Highlands County Red Cross Secretary Urge Veterans To Take Advantage Of Benefits

Post-Korean war veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces were urged today by Mrs. Florence Peach, Executive Secretary of the Highlands Chapter of the American Red Cross, to take advantage of benefits now available to them under a law signed by President Johnson last March 3.

Mrs. Peach said, "The Highlands County Red Cross is eager to help all veterans apply for these benefits and invites them to make an appointment to visit chapter headquarters at 17 North Commerce, Sebring."

The new law, the Veterans' Readjustment Act of 1966 (PL 89-358), would enable veterans with at least three years of service after January 31, 1955, to attend college for four scholastic years—36 months—full time. Single veterans will get a $100 a month allowance from the government; veterans with dependents, allotment somewhat larger.

Veterans with less than three years of military service may receive allowances for as many months of education as the time they served.

Courses may be taken at approved colleges and universities, high school, and correspondence schools.

Other benefits under Public Law 89-358, which becomes effective June 1, 1966, are these:

Guaranty of loans for homes for ex servicemen. It is anticipated that 66,000 such loans will be guaranteed in the first year and 500,000 in the first five years. Maximum loan possible will be $17,500.

Hospitalization is now available for peace-time veterans. Four thousand nursing home beds have been authorized in addition to the 125,000 hospital beds in VA hospitals.

Veterans preference for federal employment.

Job counseling and employment placement.

Service connection for certain chronic diseases on a presumptive basis. This type of service connection was previously granted only to wartime veterans.

Entitlement to a burial flag.

Extension of the Soldiers Aid Relief Act to cover "Cold War" veterans.

Mrs. Peach said that an estimated 1,500 veterans in Highlands County are eligible for benefits under the provisions of the new law.

Florida Education Association And State Teachers Association Unite

The Florida Education Association and the Florida State Teachers Association united on July 1 into one profession-al teachers organizatin, with a combined membership of nearly 70,000.

Florida became the first state in the South to unite its white and Negro techers under one professional association. Under the arrangement, all elected officers and board members of both associations will serve out their elected terms in the new organization.

George Dabbs of Altamonte Springs, becomes president of the association, succeeding Robert Jones of Silver Springs.

Miss Louise Alford of St. Petersburg, assumes the presidency of the Jage Classroom Teachers Department of the FEA, and Dexter Hagman of Pompano Beach, bcomes president-elect of the FEA. All will serve a one-year term.

A new staff member is Dr. Phil Constans Jr., who leaves Cocoa Beach High School as a principal to become the association's first associate executive secretary.

He will work closely with FEA Executive Secretary Ed Henderson, who plans to retire in August 1967.

Household Pests Take No Summer Vacation

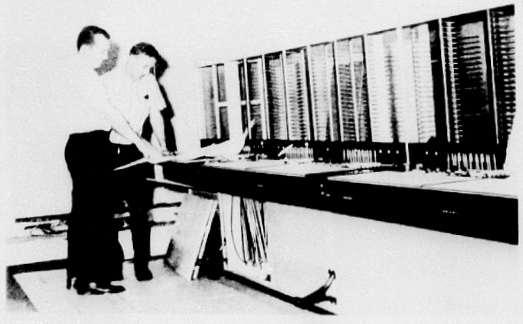

Any housewife can tell you: even in Summer there's no vacation from housecleaning. While hubby's off fishing and junior's playing baseball, she's engaged in a never ending war against household enemies, such as cold, mildew, fungus, insects and bacteria. In fact, far from calling an armistice, these fiends are often more active in warm weather, they love!

To help the housemaster engaged in this dirty war, here are a few tips on constant check ups on trouble spots. Dark, damp places like under and around bathroom fixtures are favorite spots for mold and mildew. Keep them dry with a good deterrent and keep them as dry as possible. Insects love to invite mildew as a frequent guest, and roaches and bugs are often the unwilling hosts. Air closets often mingling with an effective Pine Sol. Refrigerators need constant cleaning at this time of year, don't you mold the upper hand by letting food last long. Insects too seem to take over in summer. Before they get out of control arm yourself against them with insecticides. Spray around plumbing fixtures, under appliances, around the kitchen garbage container, and in storage closets.

And finally, if she's to win the war against those common household pests, Mr. Housemaster should have in his arsenal most invisible the 4 D's of effective weaponry: Detergent Disinfectant, Deodorant, and plenty of "we-have-not-yet-be-gun-to-fight-Determination"!

VACATION TIP

Whether this year's vacation takes you to new parts of the world or familiar ground, the infection and food-poisoning bacteria that grow on skin will be there too. To protect your family, take along several bars of an anti-bacterial soap such as Dial which contains hexachlorophene. For camping trips, wash cloths and towels for each family member are also essential.

FIX-IT TIP

If you intend to build anything with bricks, concrete blocks or rocks, here is the general procedure to follow.

All of these materials are cemented together with mortar made by mixing one part cement to three parts clean sand and adding water to make a workable plastic.

If you add 10 per cent lime to this mixture you'll get a mortar that is a little easier to work with and almost as strong as one without lime.

Bricks and blocks should be laid up on either a concrete footing or slab. This base should be four inches or more thick and should be poured over six inches or so of gravel.

If you use rocks, set the first course below the frost line. Rocks should be free of dirt before any mortar is spread on. Be sure each joint is packed with enough mortar to fill any depressions in the rocks.

HEAD IN THE CLOUDS—T. Sgt. Ezekiel Villa, of the Chicago Air Force Recruiting Detachment, presents a flight helmet to Marco Lopez, 8. Marco, who suffers from a severe respiratory ailment, has resisted taking oxygen four times a day. Doctors learned the boy is an airplane enthusiast and figured the flight helmet, which comes complete with an oxygen mask, might help change the boy's mind.

In the News

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was back in the news recently when he said he saw no prospect of an early peace in Viet Nam. Mr. Rusk said that North Viet Nam "is not going to be permitted" to seize South Viet Nam and that the North Vietnamese must give up their intention to do so. He added, "I see no prospect of peace at the present moment."

says W. Robert Lindsay, Highlands County Juvenile Counselor of CABLE T.V.

We were one of the first families to take advantage of the HIGHLANDS CABLE T.V. service, and at that time it was rather an unknown quality since they were just starting out; but I had seen some pictures of a neighbor or two and I was real happy. So we subscribed to this service, and we have never been so HAPPY with our TV reception, not because of the reception itself but because of the variety of programs and stations that are available to us. And then the crowning ACHIEVEMENT was the addition, FREE OF CHARGE, by the CABLE SERVICE to us with reference to FM service; since we have FM in our unit, we now find there are 15 or 18 stations that are available to us for listening and has a FANTASTIC SOUND.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

Modern transportation and communication have brought sharpies to the country as well as to urban areas so that today "city slicker" is seldom used to describe a metropolitan crook. The expression, "don't take any wooden nickels," is still around, however.

Chase National Bank in New York City owns over 1,000 wooden nickels in a money collection totaling 75,000 pieces. Among them is the original wooden nickel of the 1933 bank holiday.

Wood is often used for all sorts of imitations. The Boston Transcript in 1832 warned: "We recently read of wooden hams in some parts of the west neatly sewed up in canvas, said to have their origin with the same ingenious people who invented wooden nutmegs."

"Don't take any wooden nickels," is spoken facetiously to anyone going away from home for the first time. It means "watch out for city slickers." This is a senseless admonition, for a wooden nickel would be so obvious that only the most ignorant person could be deceived by it. Furthermore, what can you buy with a nickel made from any kind of material these days?

Salesman: "Are you sure your boss isn't in his office?"

FIX-IT TIP

To remove blisters from veneers, split the blister lengthwise with a razor blade and insert liquid glue under the raised portion, using a stick or small brush.

Cover the break with several layers of newspapers and place a weight on it. When glue has set remove paper by soaking it with olive oil and scraping lightly with a razor blade. Then sand the area carefully, starting at the center and working toward the edges. If patched surface is discolored touch up with varnish or shellac.

June is the month that the "Sunshine State of . . .

Florida SALUTES ITS ATTRACTIONS

June is Florida Attractions Month and the Sunshine State beckons visitors to enjoy the best and most varied entertainment in the nation.

Florida's attractions are so varied they include everything in the entertainment dictionary, from aquatariums to zoos.

Some attractions are purely for fun and are designed only to give those who visit them pleasurable, memorable experiences. Others, including a number of outstanding museums, emphasize education. And a great many, probably a majority, combine educational benefits with entertainment.

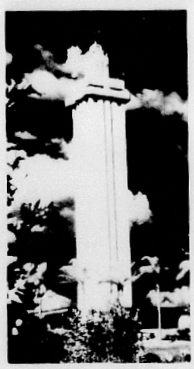

Some attractions can only be described as spectacular. One in central Florida, for instance, offers some of the most exciting water ski shows to be found anywhere. At another, gorgeous mermaids perform ballet and offer other entertainment in a dramatic underwater show.

Exotic gardens are scattered throughout the state, especially in the Central and Southern regions. For instance, one of these on the lower West Coast has hundreds of wild birds and more than 1,000 varieties of flowering shrubs, tropical plants and unusual trees. Another offers more than 2,000 wildlife specimens, including Everglades panthers, alligators, and American crocodiles. And still another has a trained duck vaudeville act.

The leap of the porpoise — the silent beauty of gardens in full bloom — the graceful flow of crystal clear springs — the cooing and cawing and whistling of exotic birds — the grunt of the alligator — the roar of an engine and the slap-slap-swish of water skis — these are the sights and sounds of Florida attractions.

Florida's numerous attractions are another reason Governor Haydon Burns and the Florida Development Commission are urging Sunshine State residents to See Florida This Summer.

Wells Motor Co. Receives 25 Year Plaque

Mr. G. M. Smith, Jacksonville Regional Manager for Dodge, presented a beautiful 25 year plaque to E. Ray Wells, president of Wells Motor Co. Tuesday.

Mr. Wells operates the Dodge, Chrysler dealership in Avon Park with the help of his two sons and a number of long term employees.

Wells enjoys reminiscing over many wonderful experiences with thousands of customers during the last 36 years at the same location, (25 of which he has been the Dodge dealer for Highlands County).

Car sales have increased from TWO cars in 1931 to 160 new units sold in 1965. In the last 25 years, Wells Motor Co. has grown from 7 employees to 20 and a sales increase from $134,480 to $959,884.

E. Ray Wells came to Avon Park, June 1, 1930 and worked a year as a Service Station operator at West End of the Mall. Wells Motor Co. was established in 1931 with J. Lawler Wells, brother of E. Ray Wells, as the dealer and Ray as parts man, bookkeeper and assistant manager.

J. Lawler Wells was accidently killed in the development of a ranch east of Avon Park when a tractor turned over on him. E. Ray Wells then purchased the Wells Motor Co. from the estate and has had ownership of it since.

Budget For Schools Is Near $3 Million

Using some "conservative guesses" as to future county taxes the Highlands County schools administration has projected a budget barely short of $3 million.

The budget given tentative approval by the Highlands County Board of Public Instruction Tuesday night projects income and expenditures of $2,985,864 for the 1-12 program and in a separate budget South Florida Junior College expenditures of $320,000 were given tentative approval.

The budgets can be given final local approval only after a public hearing. The hearing for the 1966 budgets is set for 9:30 a.m. Friday, July 22, in the School Superintendent's office in the courthouse.

The county tax reassessment program is running behind schedule and the 1966 tax roll will not be available until September. The State Department of Education, which has the final say on the school budget, directed the local school board to proceed with a budget based on "needs and estimated income from the county."

Superintendent George F. Douglass told the board Tuesday that studies show that the Highlands tax roll over a five year period has shown an increase averaging more than 7 percent per year.

Using this and some "conservative guessing," the income from local sources was set at $1,140,497—pushing this figure over the $1 million mark for the first time. This income takes into account the millage rollback required under the tax reassessment program, Douglass said.

This section of the operational budget rose from $1,778,423 in 1965-66 to a projected $1,957,000 in 1966-67.

County-wide administration was cut by approximately $1,500 to $58,550.

The total operating budget is up from $2,405,000 to $2,729,750.

Other parts of the budget include $9,480 in the debt service fund; $217,500 in capital improvement fund (both down from last year) and $25,854 in contracted programs (and (a slight increase).

In separate actions Tuesday night the school board approved a pay raise for school bus drivers, which ups the cost in that area by $1,500 per year; a new salary schedule for custodians with pay increases based by rating of work and length of service, which will cost an additional $4,260, and a new schedule for cafeteria workers which will boost cost in that area $1,460.

All these increases are included in the new budget, Douglass said.

State Income Rises

The anticipated increase shows that the state will contribute $1,209,508 toward local school operation in the 1-12 program in the coming year for current operations.

The state will contribute in other parts of the budget.

Douglass said that in anticipation of the sale of certificates of indebtedness pledging state track tax income that portion of state support for the current budget was reduced this years budget.

Douglass explained that anticipated that the board would need to pledge $85,000 per year for service of the certificates of indebtedness, so in making up the budget $85,000 of income was deducted and placed in the current reserves.

Junior College Budget

The short budget for South Florida Junior College has two parts—$277,000 for current operations and $43,229 for capital improvements. The latter budget does not include permanent site development items at this time. New equipment expenditures are set at $15,792 and $14,500 for new books for the library.

Administration costs are set at $44,285, and instructional salaries and supplies are budgeted for $147,500.

Dr. William Stallard proudly told the board that a cash reserve of $40,872 is being carried over from initial state appropriations. The state grant for the coming year is $188,268.

Highlands County's contribution is for $82,040 (which includes the $50,000 promised by the county commission) and $15,000 from Hardee County.

The school board has called a special meeting for 9 a.m. on July 22, and the public hearing on both the junior college and the general school budget will begin 20 minutes later.

Citizens Appear Before Council To Request City Get Fair Share Of County Bond Issue

Twenty-four citizens appeared before the city council Monday night represented by George Haynie, former council president, to request a fair share of the county's bond issue money to be used for improvements in Avon Park.

Haynie pointed out that Lake Placid is receiving money for a new public building, Sebring is getting money for streets and roads and possibly for a $50,000 beach area and Avon Park should, through city council request, get funds for worthwhile projects here.

He suggested a $35,000 mall improvement and beautification project which would include an underground irrigation system. Also suggested by Haynie was an extended beach improvement project for additional area in which to swim, fish, boat, picnic, etc.

The public was informed by Hue Nunnaller, city attorney, and clarified by Cecil Skipper, county commissioner, that money available through these funds are to be used for projects such as public buildings, recreational facilities, roads, right-of-ways, improvement and maintenance of roads, bridges, etc., but not for beautification ideas.

In discussing the rework of the beach, Mayor E. A. DeLaney revealed that $3,000 has already been obtained from these funds for pumping and cleaning work already being performed. Rework include a fenced-in area for smaller swimmers ranging from one inch to four feet deep, a diving platform into deeper water for more mature swimmers and a concrete ramp for docking boats.

Haynie has appeared before the city council, chamber of commerce, small businessmen association and the county commissioners urging them to use their influence to obtain Avon Park's "fair share" of the funds available.

Mayor DeLaney pointed out the many projects in which the county had generously offered aid and did assist the city with and expressed his appreciation for such cooperation, in the presence of one of the county commissioners. He added, "in the many years I have been on the city council and as mayor, I have never gone before the county commission and come away empty-handed."

Another request before the council to utilize some grassed areas of the mall (not to disturb shrubs or flowers) for parking areas in the downtown area, was rejected without hesitation giving excuse that the city had no control over such rework. It was pointed out that the State Road Department had the say so over any structural change of the mall.

Another request brought before the city council came from the Avon Park Ministerial Association, represented by Rev. Lighty, desiring to see what could be done about the "Hot Rod, beer can throwing, littering, etc." episodes that occur along our beautiful mall nearly every night. Mayor DeLaney said that they would cooperate in any way they could to alleviate the situation and that action was already being taking by the local police department to correct some of these violations.

Rev. Lighty, speaking for the Ministerial Association, expressed it's appreciation for the cooperation of all the city officials toward the churches in Avon Park.

In other action by the council, a motion to introduce Ordinance No. 461, declared to be an emergency measure, to make the deadline for qualifying for any city official 31 days prior to election. Motion was adopted and passed by the council.

The Mayor also told the council of the visit from Mr. R. W. Peach of the Federal Aviation Agency, concerning the request for aid from the Federal Aid Airport Program. It was suggested that only the northeast, southwest, 4,000 ft. runway be resurfaced, lighted and signs placed, presently at an estimated overall cost of $50,000. The city to share half the cost with matching funds from the Federal Government. The auxiliary runway could be sodded and used, with a taxi strip being repaired.

Motion was made and carried that the Mayor be authorized to secure the services of an engineer to start preliminary investigations and get underway with the project, and write a letter of intent to the Authority before the July 15 deadline.

Telegram From Washington Confirms Funds For Housing

Don Correll, Executive Director HUD, received a telegram from Spessard L. Holland, George Smathers, and James A. Haley to confirm that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved the loan for Avon Park's low rent housing project.

The money will be used to construct 130 low rent units, 50 of which will be for the elderly who have limited income.

Of the balance, there will be a few four and five bedroom homes, but most will be duplex and some tri-plex units.

Included in the family units will be a small playground for children.

The program is now in it's schematic design stage.

Correll is the executive director of the Avon Park Housing Authority as well as executive secretary to the board and is the only full-time, salaried member of the authority.

Other members of the board are: J. T. Landress, a county tax collectors employee; James Turnbull, citrus grower; Harold C. Worden Jr., of Wells Motor Co.; Robert E. Lee, department store manager, and Leamon Kelly, of Florida Power Corporation.

Executive Director Correll is a retired Air Force master sergeant, and resident of Avon Park for the past 20 years.

Season Tickets Can Be Renewed

Bob Barben, president of the Avon Park Athletic Association, has released the following information concerning reserved seat tickets for the 1966 Red Devil football season.

Beginning July 18 and continuing through August 12 last season ticket holders may renew reserved seats at $3 each. From August 15 through September 2 those who held tickets last year but wish to change location this season may do so. Then from September 2 through september 14 the remaining tickets will be available to the public on a first-come-first-served basis. These reserved seat tickets must be purchased at the high school office during week-day office hours.

Barben said the Red Devils will play five opponents at home this season: Mulberry, Mt. Dora, Okeechobee, Napies, and Sebring. He added that the four away games will be against Lake Wales, Haines City, Wauchula, and Hollywood's Chaminade.

Season tickets priced at $6.50 for the five home games will also go on sale next week. They may be purchased also at the high school office or at Leon's Sporting Goods, Albritton's Barber Shop, or from members of the association.

Youths Held On Break-In Charges

Two Avon Park youths are being held for investigation in connection with a series of break-ins in the Avon Park area. In County Judge's Court this week Early Bird Smith, Jr., 21, and Ivory Robinson, 19, waived preliminary hearing.

Judge Mervin Rehrer turned the cases over to the State Attorney's office for investigation and set bond at $1,000 on each charge against each youth.

The charges involve breaking and entering at Leon's Sporting Goods, Pollards' Grocery, Lane's Television, Stone's Television and a shoe shop.

In County Judge's Court Robert Earl Wingard entered a plea of not guilty to a driving while intoxicated charge and his bond was set at $250. He is to be tried in September term of court.

City To Receive Cigarette Tax

Ren Morris, director of the State Beverage Department, reports that net cigarette tax collections for the month of May, 1966 amounted to $4,842,351.51. Of this amount $1,999,344.08 will go to the State general revenue fund and the remaining will be distributed to qualified municipalities.

Avon Park will receive a total of $5,767.58 of these tax collections.

Ralph Hill To Receive Coach Of The Year Award August 5

Ralph Hill, Avon Park High School baseball coach, was singled out for state recognition by the Florida Athletic Coaches Association this week and will receive a 1966 Coach of the Year Award at the annual awards banquet to be held in Gainesville August 5.

A letter from the awards committee informed Coach Hill that "in recognition of your fine contribution of service and performance to the high school athletic program and to the coaching profession, the FACA has designated you as a 1966 recipient of the coach of the year award."

Hill, an Avon Park High School alumnus, coached the Red Devils to a state Class B championship last season in his second year as head coach.

For the past nine years Coach Hill has been a member of the faculty of Avon Park High School teaching mathematics and physical education as well as coaching "B" squads in football, basketball and baseball.

"Thank goodness we started when we did and we are almost finished," is the way Tax Assessor J. W. Billy Martin summarized his feelings about the September 15 deadline for county tax reassessment completion.

The deadline was announced by Florida Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson at a meeting of all Florida's county tax assessors in Tallahassee last week.

Although the Highlands County tax roll renovation is behind its original schedule, Martin is confident that this county's tax roll will be in Tallahassee by the deadline.

He has promised the roll to the Highlands County commissioners in time for a board of equalization meeting on September 20.

As a result of a series of Florida Supreme Court decisions the Florida Comptroller, then Ray Green, in mid-August, 1965, issued a directive to all county tax assessors, "I urge you to inaugurate a reassessment program."

He added that his office would "expect full compliance on the 1966 tax roll." A similar communication was sent to the county commissioners. On Martin's recommendation the county commissioners did enter into a full reassessment program complete with a whole new system for arriving at values and keeping files up-to-date. Howze and Associates, a professional tax consultant firm, was hired at a cost of $179,300.

A group of taxpayers filed a suit, in Leon Circuit Court, asking that the court enter a decree that any tax assessment set at "other than 100 percent of fair market value is illegal and improper and results in discrimination."

The suit also asked that the court "restrain the State Comptroller from approving any tax roll that does not comply with the Constitutional requirement for full valuation.

Martin explained that the suit was aimed at settling "once and for all whose responsibility it is to enforce the laws about tax assessments."

The Circuit Court ruled in favor of the taxpayers, and the Governor, on behalf of the State, appealed the case. On June 8 Florida Supreme Court upheld the Leon Circuit ruling. That ruling had the effect of implementing the earlier rulings about 100 percent of fair market value being the standard for setting property assessments, and it made clear that the earlier directives from the Comptroller are law.

Last week the present Comptroller, Fred O. Dickinson, Jr., called all the assessors together and said, "We are gathered . . . to do a job that has been the law of Florida for nearly 100 years."

He said the June 8 decision from the Supreme Court "stopped away any doubt or uncertainty as to the statewide approach to property valuation. It takes from us any discretion for delay."

Dickinson outlined for the assessors a number of alternatives now open to his office—ranging from individual suits in each county to asking the Governor to suspend tax assessors in counties which have not made reassessments.

He announced the road to be taken will be forcing compliance in 1966. "Studies show that approximately half of the counties are either at 100 percent or with professional appraisers working on reassessments," the Comptroller said.

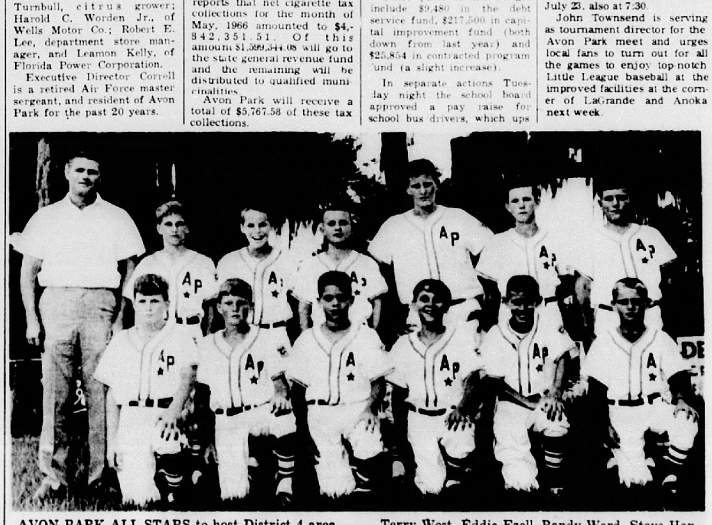

The six counties now at 100 percent of valuation need take no new or further action, Dickinson said. Those counties where professional appraisers are at work an extension, up to November 1, may be granted.

All other counties will work with a special team from the State to set the values. In counties where professional appraisers are at work the State team will work with the county staff and the appraisers.

In approximately half of the counties no professional program has been started, and in these cases the "tax assessor will be required to immediately make general overall adjustments to the level of assessment to bring that level to 100 percent."

At the Tallahassee meeting Dickinson announced the ratios which will be used to make the "general overall adjustments." Martin said he

Highlands School Board Take Steps To Sell $1 Million In Certificates To Finance Construction Program

Highlands County Board of Public Instruction took initial steps Tuesday to sell $1 million in certificates of indebtedness to finance a school construction program.

The certificates will be repaid out of the school board's share of income from the state race track tax. Legislation providing for such a certificate sale was approved in the regular session of the Florida Legislature last year, but the school board had repeatedly said it would not initiate the sale until the results of the 1965 school building survey were known.

At the Tuesday night session of the school board the survey results were officially "received," but the contents of the survey, made by the State Department of Education, were not revealed.

In general terms the board members referred to construction needs and costs, then voted unanimously to employ Wainwright and Ramsey as the board's financial advisor for sale of the race track bonds.

Wainwright and Ramsey, a national firm with offices in Miami and New York, had set a fee of $4.50 per thousand on its services. In addition to this cost the board will have to pay a bond attorney, printing and advertising costs. The Wainwright and Ramsey representative present at Tuesday's meeting said the bond attorney fee would not be less than a dollar per thousand and could run as high as $2 per thousand.

Printing costs were estimated at $1,000 for the issue. Superintendent George Douglass told the board he had received a proposal from Goodbody, to serve as the schools' fiscal agent for an all inclusive fee of $12,000. Another firm had submitted a bid of $7,000. Goodbody served as the county commission fiscal agent at a fee of $15,000 to market a $1 million issue.

Douglass read to the board a report from the State Department of Education showing costs other Florida counties have been paying to market bond issues.

After considerable discussion about possible costs the board voted to employ Wainwright and Ramsey.

Survey Results

Without revealing the building survey recommendations in detail, the board did indicate that it is expecting an extensive construction program.

Board Chairman Henry Bailey said, "We're going to have to walk away from some facilities at our present buildings, but I feel confident we're going to walk into something which will upgrade our whole educational system."

Board Member E. Ray Wells observed, "I think we need to get settled into our tax reassessment and get used to it before we think of a bond issue beyond this $1 million."

Details on the state report are to be explained at a special school board meeting "later." Douglass said Tuesday he would like to get our 1966-67 budget out of the way before we get down to work on this survey."

Public hearing on the schools' budget is set for July 22 and the Superintendent indicated that at that time an announcement may be made as to when the survey discussion will be scheduled.

The Highlands County school board requested a resurvey after the regularly scheduled survey came up with a recommendation for a single county high school. The Highlands board rejected that recommendation, but the State Department of Education has not permitted expenditure of any state funds on the present high school buildings since then.

The building survey included a part on school transportation. Garland Boggus, school transportation officer, told the board that the bus routes planned for 1966-67 do not coincide with proposals made by the survey, but he said he checked the reports and his plans with state officials and had received approval for the plan he presented to the board this week.

The state committee's recommendations can be implemented more fully in the 1967-68 year, Boggus said.

The transportation report included an observation that many counties are paying less than Highlands for its bus insurance, and the report recommended that the board give consideration to placing its insurance by bid.

The Highlands schools insurance representative Ford Heacock attended Tuesday night's meeting. He had presented to the board an analysis of this county's insurance coverage in which he said the $2,411 cost to Highlands County, cited in the survey report, is an inclusive fee for liability, medical fee, theft.

The $988 fee cited as the fee another county pays for 20 school buses may be liability alone. The liability charges in this county, he said, were $860 last year.

The board did vote at Tuesday's meeting to accept Heacock's recommendation that the student accident insurance for the next year be placed with American National at a cost of $2.50 per child. This is 25 cents higher than parents paid in the past year, but the coverage is more inclusive and administration of the policy promises to be easier, Heacock said.

Teacher Shortage Serious

The Superintendent said Tuesday night that he is experiencing "considerable difficulty" in completing faculties for the coming school year. "We have approximately 15 vacancies, and the situation is becoming serious."

He said preliminary reports from the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare indicate that the Highlands County schools are not in compliance with the federal civil rights law because of apparant failure of the board to implement faculty and staff integration.

Douglass told the board Tuesday that shortages of qualified teachers in some fields is making it difficult for him to fill some positions "with teachers of any color."

Five resignations — four from teachers moving out of the state—were accepted this week.

The resignations were from Billy Sewell and Kathy Sewell, Avon Park High School; Marjorine Brown, DeSoto City; Fred Wild, Bidford Jasper, Sebring High School, and Ethel Walker, Woodlawn.

The transfer of Martha Belcher Barnato from Woodlawn to Sebring High was approved, and 15 new teachers were appointed: Tip Gamble, Robert Rankin, Fred Sandlin, Bertha Townsend, Gladys Chapman, all for Avon Park High; Gayle Beck for Woodlawn; Phyllis Johnson for Lake Placid Elementary; Cleveland E. Henry, Jr., Lizzie Walton, Lorraine Howard for Hopewell; Connie Rankin, Judy Close, Richard Payne, Sebring High; Elinor Beadleston, Carver, and Kathleen Friend, Lake Placid High.

Bids Received

Milk bids were received from three companies, but two of the bids came in late all bids were rejected and are to be resubmitted for consideration by the board at a special meeting on July 22.

Board Chairman Bailey said he was not willing for the milk contract to be awarded on the basis of a single bid. Board members Jack Wirick and Ted Cason objected to consideration of late bids so Wirick moved that all bids be rejected.

The bid for science equipment for South Florida Junior College went to E. H. Sargent Co. of Birmingham, Ala., on a bid of $2,002.24.

Junior College Open House

Junior College President Dr. William Stallard said the Advisory Board is recommending the open house for the new school be set for Sunday, Aug. 21. The hours of the open house have been set for 2 to 6 p.m. "but we plan to stay there as long as people will come to see us," Dr. Stallard said.

Public Disgrace

Avon Park Sun

Probably numerous citizens in our community have taken the time or given thought to the number of various misconstructions, that are alive and are practiced by many of our younger people, which are very degrading to them now and will be more remorseful in later years. Some of the practices now, such as an unsightly array of "beer cans" on the highways and particularly in secluded spots where they are prone to assemble for these orgies. Many citizens think that these places should be visited by our law enforcement officers, and these activities be curtailed by proper surveillance.

Along with this disgrace, and deplorable conditions that are bound to result from these orgies, are a number of the younger set of girls that are members of what is now known as the "NYC". To spell this out means that there is in existence here and in other localities, a "Non Virtue Club". This is ridiculous in itself to have such an organization, or club, as they are known. The fault in a situation of this kind, lies probably in neglected home control. It would be a wonderful move for parents to go about this matter in a direct manner, at home, with the proper instructions and control by the parents. Many of these happenings would not occur with the proper home control and instructions by parents, pointing out these dangers to their daughters, and sons.

This does not mean that all young folks are following this pattern. Many young folks are 100 percent young citizens, and are respected as such, but, there are a number that fit the category of not being respectable.

Considering the drift of the times, and the many ways of defection from the ways they have been trained at home, it is high time that parents should "take stock" again, and reinforce their home control rights.

Camp McQuarrie Institute To Be Held Aug. 8-12

The 33rd Annual Camp McQuarrie Citrus Institute will be held Aug. 8 to 12, at Camp McQuarrie in the Ocala National Forest.

The program will feature various, "Problems of the Grower," including tariffs, synthetics etc along with production problems. The overall program is packed with information that the grower needs.

For additional information and camp reservations contact the County's Agent's Office, P. O. Box 209, Sebring, Fla. 33870.

The deadline for entry of a steer in the Highlands County Fair Livestock Show is July 15. Any boy or girl in the county who raises a steer according to the Livestock Show Rules and Regulations can enter the steer in the show.

Ribbons and prize money are awarded to each junior exhibitor for placing in his class, and each winner of the class can compete for grand champion. Also ribbons are presented for showmanship.

Each steer entered in the livestock show can be sold in the livestock sale where local people and businesses bid for the championship beef.

Several outstanding cattle men in the county give their time to teach boys and girls how to raise and show champion steers. The local banks also provide loans for young men and women to purchase a steer, feed and supplies. The loan is then paid back from the money received from the sale of the steer.

One rule of the livestock show is that the steer be in the hands of the exhibitor and on feed at least 180 days prior to the show. This is why entries must be mailed to B. J. Harris, Jr., Box 209, Sebring, Fla. 33870 on or before July 15. Entry blanks and a set of rules and regulations for the show and sale may be obtained from the County Agent's Office.

It appears that this years fair is going to be the best yet, why don't you be a part of it?

Some species of squid develop sufficient speed to burst out of the water and "glide" for about 25 feet, says the Miami Seaquarium's Capt. Bill Gray.

Veterans Have Social Security Wage Credits

M. J. Dixon of the Florida Dept. of Veterans Affairs, called to the attention of all veterans today a little known benefit to which they may be entitled at the time they are eligible for their social security.

In general, veterans with 90 days of active service between Sept. 16, 1940 and Dec. 31, 1956 and whose discharge was other than dishonorable may receive gratuitous social security wage credits of $160 for each month of this duty. Veterans with less than 90 days of service may receive credits, if they were discharged because of disabilities or injuries incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty.

These credits are not actually listed on the social security earning record until the veteran applies for benefits. At that time, proof of the veteran's military service will be required.

For further information on this or any of your other veterans affairs contact your local Veterans County Service Officer.

Freedom Of Information Bill Passes

The House this month passed the Freedom of Information Bill which requires that every executive agency make public its operations, procedures, rules, policies and precedents. Refusal to do so would lead to judicial review, the first time this procedure has been available to the American public.

The bill grew out of the growing concern of the American people and the Congress over the distorted and often times false information put out by the executive agencies of the Government. For example, it wasn't until last April 26th that the Department of Defense admitted it had been doctoring the statistics it made public on the extent of Free World shipping to the North Vietnamese, thus helping the enemy with which the U.S. is engaged in deadly combat. The Pentagon had been keeping two sets of books—one for public consumption and one "classified" containing the real figures.

Although the President has been opposing this bill, Cramer expressed hope he will sign it into law. "I believe it will go a long way toward re-establishing truth in government," Cramer said.

My Life With Inga and Linda

By Happy Strom

Who are Inga and Linda? My two miniature black poodles who guard me with their lives.

They seem to have a sixth sense unknown to humans. Always on guard, day and night. A welcoming committee of two when I return home. Courteous to my friends and doubtful of strangers until they feel they are above suspicion.

Returning home from church last Sunday, I received my usual greeting and opened the door and let them out doors for a run. I casually walked over to my neighbor's to see the new orchid bursting into bloom, the dogs with me. Suddenly Linda stopped at a bush, barked, sniffed and upon investigating she had found what proved to be a 42" rat snake coiled under the bush. I had just passed. I have a horror of snakes, even tiny ones. My good neighbor accommodated me and killed this enemy of mine.

My dogs always onguard, then seemed to notice something unusual in the weeds along the beach. We live on Lake Angelo. Ever alert, trying to tell me something was diffent in the lake. Upon investigating their actions, I found my Muskovi duck had just hatched out 14 little ducklings.

This was something new for me to see. Always on the lookout for something abnormal. Mother duck put a dirt barrier along the edge of the lake and we just watched. When I say "stay" to the poodles, they stay in the resting position until I am called, and I didn't want to frighten the mother and her brood. So we watched. Father duck didn't seem to like the idea of the responsibility and started to swim backward away from the brood, only to be followed by one of the ducklings. Did you ever see a duck swim backward? He did and went some distance before he decided to swim his followers. Poor baby, it was all alone and bewildered, father had deserted it. Under my careful guidance it came to shore and finally reunited it's mother.

Where is the father duck? I guess the responsibility was too great and so far he is on vacation someplace.

This new addition to our family has been gracefully accepted by the poodles and they will be their protectors against stray dogs along the beach.

NOTE: Father duck (the Drake) has returned and is now helping to care for the family.

County Firm Test Product

Robert E. Gravelle, president of Highlands County's newest recreational vehicle manufacturing industry, Alcan American Inc., announced today that the company's new 18½ foot travel trailer has successfully completed exacting operational and livability field tests in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado.

"Though the Coloradians are seasoned travel trailer travelers, they were amazed at the trailer's performance under severe testing conditions. During the testing we received many offers to buy the prototype at a price in excess of our planned retail price," he said.

Gravelle announced that the prototype is enroute to Sebring and will be available for inspection by the public before August 1.

Avon Park's Episcopal Church of the Redeemer is a landmark in the city, one of the city's oldest houses of worship, standing as it was built by members of the Anglican faith some years before the turn of the century. It has served many during its years as a mission then in recent years as a parish. Consecrated about 1898, the land and church originally was under the Diocese of Florida, later becoming a part of the Diocese of South Florida when the latter was created. A number of prominent men have served The Redeemer as priests of the Episcopal faith. Among them are Rev. Peter Watterson and Rev. John Mangrum, and now Rev. John L. Knapp. Until The Redeemer became a parish it had several vicars who are now rectors in other parishes.

F.O.M. Members Share Profits

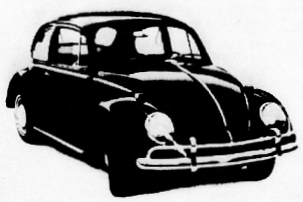

Members of Florida Orange Marketers, Inc., will share $6.5 million dollars being paid July 1, by Minute Maid Company. This represents the first partial payment for early and mid season fruit in the 1965-66 pool.

According to F.O.M. General Manager E. H. Squire, members will receive a rate of 28 cents on 23.5 million pounds of solids. Over 4.2 million boxes of fruit were harvested from 428 F.O.M. groves.

Total payment made by Minute Maid Company to F.O.M. members for the early mid season and Valencia pool in the 1964-65 season amounted to over $26.3 million dollars.

Do you earn too much to afford one?

For many people the Volkswagen would be an ideal car. Except for one thing.

It doesn't cost enough.

They're afraid nobody will realize they have any money, if it doesn't show in their car. In other words, they buy their car for other people. Not themselves.

Then there are those who earn enough to buy a much better car than the VW. But they don't. Because they can't find one.

For them the best car is one that's simply comfortable and economical. One they don't have to worry about. That doesn't make many stops for gas. And rarely needs repairs.

A car where the rare repairs don't cost a lot. A car where the car doesn't cost a lot.

They feel they can afford to save money with a Volkswagen.

Now next time you see somebody driving a VW don't feel sorry for him.

Who knows? Someday the bank might use his money to give you a new car loan.

CLUB HOUSE

The painting of the club house, cue house, rest rooms and shed has all been completed and really looks very nice. The folks from the North will be well pleased with its looks. The floor needs to be sanded yet, also new lights to be installed. And new kitchen ceiling will be completed before too long.

CHIT-CHAT

Mrs. Zeola Prace is visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Willet Hickham at Elizabeth, Ind.

Mrs. Ota Gibson came through fine from her operation at Winter Haven hospital last Thursday. She will be back playing shuffleboard before we know it, we are sure.

The Lewis Booths have returned to their home here after visiting their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Fulwider, in Columbus, Ohio. The Fulwiders have a brand new baby daughter named Beth Marie, a new sister for her brother Bobby, three. The Booths also visited sisters in Toledo, Ohio and Detroit, Mich. They were gone about three weeks.

The Charles Brushes also report good fishing at Lakeside, Ohio. They are also enjoying the shuffling there.

Due to the faithful watering by Toney Kerr the grass at the club is green. Doc McAlexander helped the grass along by doing considerable sprigging down on his hands and knees.

July and August Asolo Theater Festival Time

A resolution signed by the State Cabinet has proclaimed the months of July and August as Asolo Theater Festival months in the Sunshine State. The Festival was designated the official state theater of Florida during the 1966 legislative session.

The first performance of the 1966 season will be Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" on July 7 in the Ringling Museum's 18th century Asolo Theater in Sarasota.

Gov. and Mrs. Burns and members of the cabinet and their wives have been invited to attend the opening night performance and a reception afterwards on the terrace of the John Ringling residence. The resolution will be read to the audience in the theater prior to the first night curtain.

The festival will present 72 performances during the months of July and August of five plays in rotation: "Much Ado About Nothing," "The Miser," "A Man For All Seasons" and the twin bill of "Oedipus The King" and "The Bald Soprano."

Citrus Fruit Thefts Lower Says Mutual

Citrus fruit thefts have been slashed drastically for the third straight year according to an end of the season report issued by the fruit protection division of Florida Citrus Mutual.

In an accompanying statement, Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president of Mutual said, "The cooperation of the Sheriff's Departments among themselves and with our fruit protection division has paid off again in important ways in gaining more growers and in a general increase in respect for the law."

The value of stolen fruit in the 1965-66 season was reported as $22,800 compared with the figures $35,000 and $75,500 for the two previous seasons. Prior to then, and before the fruit protection division was operative, losses had ranged higher than one million dollars per season.

Complaints in the season just ended amounted to 90 compared with previous season figures of 114 and 217.

Crimes of fraud, vandalism, and stolen trees and equipment showed similar drops over the three year period.

F. Leslie Bessenger, who heads Mutual's fruit protection operation, said, "We not only have achieved fine cooperation from the sheriffs in the citrus producing counties, we also have developed some highly skilled personnel among the deputies who have been specializing in citrus crimes. All of us owe a debt to their efforts to protect our $2 billion industry, especially when we consider that they are doing this extra job at no extra cost to the taxpayers."

Most automobile trips are relatively short, says John G. Lacock, president of Quality Courts Motels. Almost half of the family trips and 66 percent of all business trips are less than 200 miles round trip.

Lack of Funds To Prevent Legion Team Entering Tournament

The Avon Park Post 69 Legion baseball team dropped a 6-4 game to Naples last Friday afternoon to even out its record at 4-4 with only two games left to be played before tournament play starts next week.

The Avon Park club was scheduled to meet Sarasota here at Head Field last night (Wednesday) and will make up a rained out game with Ft. Myers there tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Manager Grover Bates announced this week that the Post 69 team would not be able to participate in the tournament this year due to lack of funds. He said the tourney would probably be played in Bradenton or Sarasota and the cost of traveling to either site would be more than available funds would allow.

Playing without starters Emmitt Money, Ronnie Jackson, and Bill Jackson, Avon Park lost 6-4 to Naples whom they had previously beaten 6-1. The local boys jumped off to a three-run lead in the top of the first inning when with two men down, Larry LaFlam, Hoppy Rewis, and Danny Odom were walked in order and Joe Strickler was safe on a throwing error by the Naples thirdbaseman. Steve Walker followed with a single to help bring in the three runs.

But Naples pushed over a run in the bottom of the second on two walks and a single and then added four more runs in the third on a double and two singles. In the bottom of the fourth Naples got the sixth and final run on a walk, a stolen base and an error on the Avon Park catcher.

Avon Park scored its fourth run in the top of the third as once again three men in a row were issued walks and Walker followed with his second single of the game.

Hoppy Rewis went the distance for Avon Park taking the mound loss giving up five hits and seven walks.

saw some ratios which will require county assessors to multiply each item's valuation by two or two and a half.

"This is just a top-to-bottom multiplying and leaves no room for correcting inequities which may have accumulated," Martin said.

This "crash" reassessment will be applied in all counties which have—or now are in—tax reassessment programs which were carried on within the county office by a local staff.

Railroad Assessments

Besides heaving a sigh of relief that the Highlands professionally done reassessment is almost over, Martin is currently treasuring promise that this county will receive full valuation on railroad properties.

The State Railroad Assessment board in 1965 awarded this county 35.2 percent of the assessed value. The state board set the total valuation of railroad properties within this county in 1965 as $4,311,052, and then reported for county assessment 35.2 percent of that total or $1,529,990.

In recent years the income from railroad properties had been falling, but with the reassessment the State Railroad Assessment Board has promised him that the county will receive 100 percent valuation on these properties.

Even if the railroad properties did not gain any in value in 1966 the full valuation would add $2,781,954 to the Highlands roll this year Martin reported.

While in Tallahassee for the tax assessors' meeting Martin renewed contact with the Railroad Assessment officials and received new assurances that each county where the tax roll is certified as being at 100 percent valuation will receive full valuation on railroads.

Sneezing June Now Singing

June Clark of Miami, the girl who attracted world-wide attention when she couldn't stop sneezing, is going to become a recording artist and the subject of a book, her father said.

"We're need the money, explained James Clark, a bus driver who writes songs on the side. We are still $9,000 in debt.

Clark said he has written a song for June entitled, "I Can't Stop Sneezing," which she will record this month. June's singing will be accompanied by her own sneezes which her father taped recorded during her six-month affliction.

The Clarks have also agreed to let an Arizona newspaper man write a book about June. It will include the thousands of remedies sent to her from all over the world.

THE RARE BREED" (T.F.)

SADDLE TRAMP—Jimmy Stewart portrays a cowhand who undertakes to deliver an imported-from-England whiteface Hereford bull to Dodge City in Universal's stirring western drama, "The Rare Breed," in Technicolor and Panavision, starring Stewart, Maureen O'Hara and Brian Keith.

Coming to the Seven Drive-In July 17-20.

Taxes paid by Floridians were 8 percent more last year than in 1964, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported in its Weekly Business Review released recently.

"This gain covers the grand total of all taxes paid by Floridians to governments at all levels, including so-called hidden taxes in the costs of goods purchased in Florida but made outside the state," the State Chamber said.

"This total tax bill came to $4,205,432,000 last year. It was made up of $1,875,434,000 in taxes collected by the federal government, and $493 million in hidden federal taxes. The total of these was up 4 percent last year over 1964.

"State taxes amounted to $3-50,395,000, up 7 percent. County taxes came to $498,603,000, a gain of 20 percent. Municipal taxes, plus district collections, together came to $488 million, likewise up 20 percent.

"Total personal income of Floridians rose at the same rate as the tax gain but total income is not a realistic measure because part of its gain results from population growth. Per capita income, a truer gauge of the state's economy, stepped up 5 percent, a good gain in itself but below the 8 percent increase in taxes."

Bagwell, Rotary Tied For First

The regular Avon Park Little League season ended with Bagwell Lumber and Rotary tied for first place with 10-3-1 records and a the game and a protest game between the two teams still to be played. Officials said the two games will be played after the tournament to decide the 1966 champion.

In third place is Avon Citrus Bank with a final 11-4 mark and Lions are in fourth place with a record of 5 wins and 10 losses. First Baptist finished in fifth place with a 4-11 record and Florida Avenue Baptists were last with 3 wins and 12 losses.

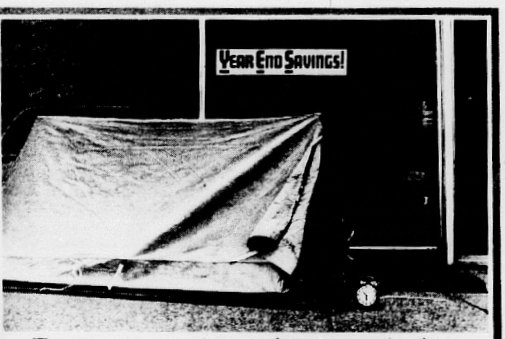

With two games still to be decided between Bagwell and Rotary either team could wind up champion or a three-way tie could develop. The tie game will start at the beginning of the eighth inning with visiting team Rotary coming to bat. The protest game will be a complete game.

'Russians Are Coming' To Hilans Theatre

Russians Are Coming" to the Hilans on July 14-16, thru United Artists. In color by De Luxe and Panavision, the comedy stars Carl Reiner, Eva Marie Saint, Alan Arkin, Brian Keith, Jonathan Winters, Theodore Bikel and Paul Ford. Co-starring are Jessie O'Shea, Ben Blue, John Phillip Law and Andrea Dromm. William Rose wrote the screenplay based on Nathaniel Benchley's novel about a Russian submarine that comes too close to America for a curious look and gets stuck on a sandbar 400 feet offshore.

Norman Jewison produced and directed the zany comedy, in which residents of an island off the shore of New England sprout and proceed to defend their land against a landing party of Russians, who are only looking for a way to get back to sea before they start World War III.

Judge Rehrer President Elect For Fla. Juvenile Court Judges

Last week at the joint convention of the Florida County Judge's Association and the Florida Council of Juvenile Court Judges as Pensacola, Judge Melvin Rehrer was unanimously selected as the president-elect for the Florida Council of Juvenile Court Judges. He will assume the presidency in July 1967, and preside over that council for the succeeding year.

The Highlands County Juvenile Court program is recognized as one of the better programs in the state of Florida. When Judge Rehrer assumed the judgeship for Highlands County in 1957, all juvenile offenders were confined in the county jail pending hearing of the case and awaiting ultimate disposition. This practice is contrary to the law and to the entire principle underlying the juvenile court philosophy which is rehabilitation.

Through the persistent efforts of the Judge and his staff, children were gradually removed from the jail setting into appropriate private homes and subsequently the present Juvenile Court Home which was so graciously provided by Mrs. Sadie Kahn of Sebring. Highlands County was one of the first counties under 100,000 population to have a separate Juvenile Court Home to house both delinquent and dependent children.

Admittedly, the present facilities are inadequate, but through the efforts of Judge Rehrer, his staff and interested citizens of Highlands County, a non-profit corporation known as "Youth Care, Inc." was organized and this association is in process of planning and making possible a facility which will adequately provide for the needs of our less fortunate dependent and the delinquent children, where the court will render an invaluable service to both the children and the community.

Youths Charged With Breaking And Entering

Two Avon Park youths who appeared in court last week on five breaking and entering charges were back in County Judge's Court this week on a sixth breaking and entering charge.

As with the earlier charges Early Bird Smith, Jr., 20, and Ivory Robinson, 18, waived preliminary hearing on the charge that they had broken into Susie Sandwich Shop in Avon Park.

The other five charges involve Avon Park businesses. Bond is set at $1,000 on each charge. The State's Attorney is investigating.

In County Judge's Court Walter Grantham, 63, of Frostproof, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and was fined $200 or 90 days in jail, and his driver's license revoked for three months.

C Of C To Hold Meeting Today

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Chamber Building for their regular business session.

All board members are urged to attend.

Legion Team Finished Third In District

Avon Park's Post 69 American Legion baseball team closed out its 1966 season last week with a 6-0 loss to Sarasota here at Head Field on Wednesday and a 3-2 win over Ft. Myers last Friday afternoon to finish with a 5-5 record for the summer.

The Post 69 team finished in third place in district standings and was scheduled to play in the tournament this week, but due to lack of funds and the fact that several of the team members worked during the day it was decided to not participate in the play-off meet.

Sarasota pitcher Mike McDuffie hurled a no-hitter at the Avon Park boys as the league leaders took the 6-0 win here last week. Only three Post 69 batters reached first base as the tough nighthawks issued two walks and the Sarasota shortstop erroied on an infield grounder.

Hoppy Rewis was the winning pitcher in the Ft. Myers game as the local nine bunted their way to a 3-2 final win.

Venire Of 60 Drawn To Hear Civil Suits

A venire of 60 has been drawn for the juries to hear civil suits in Circuit Court the week of August 8. Four suits are scheduled, all to be tried before Judge Clifton M. Kelly.

A road right-of-way suit, the first to go to trial in several years, is scheduled for August 11 and 12. It involves right-of-way and easements for the four-laning of Highway 27.

This suit requires a 12-man jury. Other suits scheduled for the week, before six-man juries, are Jay D. Martsolf Jr., versus Mary E. Baker, on August 8; Davco Electronics Corp. versus Highlands Cable Television Corp., on August 9, and Mary Sumner versus James H. Riner, August 10.

Two Million Glasses Of 'OJ' Sold Last Year

More than 2,000,000 glasses of Florida orange juice were dispensed last year in restaurants of a national drug store chain, according to Francis J. Mulkeen, director of institutional marketing for the Florida Citrus Commission.

"This is the greatest quantity of Florida orange juice ever sold by this coast-to-coast chain and is indicative of the result that can be obtained from a continuing promotional effort," Mulkeen said. He pointed out that sales of Florida orange juice the past year totalled 135,000 gallons, about the juice production of a 90-acre grove.

County Board Sets Tentative Budget

Slashes in road and bridge expenditures have enabled the Highlands County board of commissioners to come up with a tentative budget approximately $12.5 thousand under the current budget.

At its Tuesday morning meeting the commissioners approved for advertising a budget for $1,360,208. The commissioners said this budget covers the county's needs for the coming year, and they are not anticipating major changes.

Also approved was the $433,175 new track bond issue budget for a total of $1,799,443.

What may change is the millage. Anticipating that the reassessment program will appreciably raise the tax roll, bringing it to $100,000,000 — the commissioners cut millage to approximately a third of the current level, from 12.85 mills to 4.3 mills.

This millage on a tax roll of $100 million would produce just over four thousand. Sales of licenses, various fees and state sources will produce the rest of the money needed for the year.

Public hearing on the county's 1966-67 budget is set for 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 2.

General Expenses Climb

Although the overall budget is down, the county's general fund is budgeted for a sizeable jump, going from $444,000 to $626,391. Fine and forfeiture fund is budgeted for a smaller increase—from $260,050 to $295,710.

Road and bridge fund is taking a cut of more than 50 percent, dropping from $520,000 to $270,000. Only $70,000 of the budget is to come from county sources via a 0.53 mill levy. Last year 6 mills were allotted to road and bridge fund. Gas and fuel taxes will supply most of the budget for the road fund for the year.

Largest increase in the budget comes in paying for the tax reassessment program. The proposed budget has $60,000 earmarked to repay the loan the county had to take out to meet costs of the program. (The contract with Howze and Associates is for $179,500).

Administrative salaries are budgeted to rise from $14,000 to $25,000. The commissioners' supplies and insurance will rise from $16,150 to $25,500 and administrative expense from $16,500 to $25,000.

Major item of increase in the fine and forfeiture fund is in the salaries account. Sheriff's and deputy's salaries will go up $20,000 to $237,425.

Payment on the principal of the courthouse interest and sinking fund will rise from $80,000 to $150,000 and push the budget for that fund from the current level of $105,000 to $172,667 in the coming year.

Race Track Money

Income from the state race track tax, which formerly had been spread through several of the county funds, now is bound to two accounts.

The commissioners contribute $5,000 per year to the South Florida Junior College operating budget, and the remainder of the money is pledged to repayment of $1 million bond issue.

About $1 million is currently accounted for in the budget's capital outlay, for new construction and the payment of the principal and interest on bonded issues.

A total of $226,540 is appropriated from the capital outlay fund for the coming year. $120,000 for label costs and $90,000 for land and bridge materials are included in this figure.

County Commissioners Rebel Against State Road Project

Highlands County commissioners' rebellion against the State Road Department's arbitrary choice of secondary road projects has come to nought.

The three commissioners present for Tuesday's commission meeting said they felt the county had no choice but to approve two resolutions which provide for use of this county's secondary funds in connection with improvements to State Road 70.

The resolutions were first presented to the board at its June 21 meeting. Commissioner J. A. Butler launched the rebellion with the question, "What happens if we don't approve these resolutions?"

The board voted to return the resolutions to the State Road Department requested that the funds be used, instead, on improvements for the road leading from State Road 66 to Highlands Hammock, the project which is number two on the county's secondary priority list.

This request was returned with a sharp letter read to the commissioners this week by Clerk Earl Rich. The letter pointed out that the State Road 70 project is a "special safety project" and as a primary road project is not subject to any county's planning.

One resolution okayed this week releases $1,505 of this county's secondary road funds for right-of-way needed for eliminating a curve at the bridge at Brighton on Route 70, and a second resolution releases $12,387 to move utilities.

Whitaker Brothers has the contract for the Route 70 project which totals over $100,000.

County Surveyor Roger Miller presented plans for the sidewalks and curbing along South Commerce between the Circle and the railroad in Sebring. Two weeks ago the commissioners tabled the one bid which had been submitted on this project.

Tuesday the commissioners voted to reject that bid, and readvertise using specifications Miller has prepared.

The board also voted to advertise for a small plot.

The board received a letter from Sebring City Clerk Jack Stroup commending the county commissioners and county tax assessor for prompt action in a complete reassessment program.

He said if the county had not "acted promptly it would now be faced with a revaluation which would "multiply inequities."

The commissioners also received a letter of thanks from Ann Walker who attended the 4-H Congress.

Two beer license applications for Rawlerson's Grocery and James J. McElroy's "Mickey's Place," both south of Sebring—were approved as not in conflict with zoning regulations.

Commission Vice Chairman Carl McIntyre presided at Tuesday's meeting in the absence of Chairman Cecil Skipper. Other commissioners present were Ben McGee and James Creel.

Some Small Car Owners May Receive Refunds

"Tag money is sent to Tallahassee and if refunds are to be made they will have to come from Tallahassee," Tag Agent Roland X. Droit commented when asked about the possibility that refunds may be made to some compact car owners.

A recent court decision has opened the possibility that owners of autos weighing less than 2,000 pounds were overcharged on their vehicle tags.

Droit said most Volkswagens fall into this category and some other cars which do are some models of Morris Minor, Opal, English Ford, Hillman, Fiat, Citroen, Austin-Healy.

In Highlands County a total of 1,180 of the 2 series tags have been sold for 1966. The D series is for the smallest cars, but includes vehicles weighing more than 2,000 pounds so not all of 1,180 would be eligible for refund, if refunds are granted.

"This office has received no official communication on tag prices for the under 2,000 pound cars, but I do not see how a county office could be involved in refunds when the tag money all goes to Tallahassee with the exception of a 50 cent fee kept at the county level for office expenses," Droit said.

Highlands County Farmers and Ranchers to Get Conservation Cost-Share Payments

Highlands County farmers and ranchers who have reported completion of approved conservation practices under the 1966 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) will soon be receiving their cost-share payments, according to Ralph S. Richardson, ASCS county office manager. The ASC County Committee has received authority to begin making the payments earned to date.

The payments, which represent the Federal Government's share of the cost of carrying out approved conservation measures, represent less than one-half the total cost, usually well in excess of 50 percent.

GIRL SCOUT DAY CAMP

There will be a girl scout day camp for all ages of girls at Highlands Hammock, starting July 21 through the 29. The hours are from 9:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M.

The fee is $5.00. There will be trained counselors.

ACP cost-shares earned by farmers and ranchers in the county through June 30 amounted to approximately $17,958.00. Some 227 farmers and ranchers are participating in this year's program with 64 of them having reported completion of at least one approved practice by June 30.

Richardson stated that the payments would be issued by the county office in the form of Commodity Credit Corporation sight drafts and would be mailed to farmers and ranchers due a payment.

He also urged those who have completed approved practices but who have not reported completion to the ASCS county office to do so.

ASC Committee Nominations Invited

A call for the best men available to serve on the ASC County Committee has been issued by Ralph S. Richardson, County Office Manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. A slate of nominees for membership on the committee will soon be established at the ASCS county office.

"The committee system is the backbone of farm programs," Richardson declared. "Its responsibilities include the conservation of natural resources, the stabilization of agricultural commodities, and price-support activities which protect and improve farm incomes. We need the best possible cross-section of farmers to insure effective administration of the various measures.

In Highlands County, Mr. Richardson explained, 226 farmers took part last year in one or more programs administered by the ASC committee. These programs deal generally in the field of price-support, production adjustment and conservation assistance.

Any local resident who is eligible to take part in the ASCS farm program may vote, and he may hold office as a committeeman regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin. Further information regarding qualifications of committeemen is available at the ASCS county office.

Farmers who are eligible to vote in the elections also have the right to nominate as a candidate for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve. Such petitions, each one nominating one farmer and signed by six or more eligible voters, may be filed at the county office any time before August 1. Eligible voters may sign as many petitions as they wish. Additional nominations may be made by the incumbent ASC County Committee. The committee, in their selection of nominees, will make every effort to see to it that their list of candidates represents the various types of farming and the racial composition of farmers of the county.

The election of ASC committeemen in Highlands County will be held by mail balloting August 16-26.

Under a change in ASC election procedures made in 1965, one county committee member was elected for a one-year term, one member for a two-year term, and the third member for a three-year term. Therefore, in 1966 and succeeding years, only one regular member will be elected annually for a term of three years. Each year, however, first and second alternate committeemen will be elected for a one-year term.

Congressman James A. Haley Reports from Washington

Whether or not the unconscionable strike of the Machinists' union against five of the nation's major airlines has been settled by the time this letter gets to you, the circumstances under which it has occurred and the manner in which it was prolonged points this crying need:

The Congress—and, I would hope, with the support of The President—must, in the public interest, take a long, hard look at legislation which would impose effective curbs on strikes in the transportation industry and in other vital public service establishments.

This is true because strikes against airlines, railroads, truck lines, electric companies and the like also are strikes against the public even more than against the public service concerns.

The strike of the Machinists' union against the airlines has been a particularly dramatic manifestation of an increasing "public-be-damned" attitude on the part of unions representing public service establishments, but it has by no means been the only example which we have seen recently—there was, for instance, the New York transit strike just a few months ago.

But the airlines strike has had a far more widespread impact—it has reached into all corners of the nation, disrupting travel plans of perhaps 150,000 persons daily, blocking vital commercial and business cargoes, and in general creating tremendous public inconvenience and no little grief.

Precisely this burden on the public has been, of course, the Machinists' immediate objective. The Machinists have not been blind to the fact that creating a public crisis has been immensely profitable to other unions in the past—there was a time when every emergency brought government pressure on the companies to give in to the unions. The result has been a string of union victories at public expense.

But there comes a time when union demands and union tactics are more than the people, or their government, can stomach, and it seems to me that this time has come with the airlines strike.

I certainly believe that collective bargaining between management and labor is the desirable way to get at difference between them. And of course, I believe that when collective bargaining breaks down, government-provided conciliation and medication services are a further desirable step. But when both fail to achieve results—as in this case—what next?

It seems to me that what must be next—as undesirable as it may seem in theory—is compulsory arbitration under law in those public service industries where work stoppages, for whatever reason, have a violent impact on the public and on the nation's welfare, its economy and its safety. Many dislike the thought of compulsory arbitration—but I would remind those who do that these public service industries are franchised, licensed, or otherwise authorized by the government to serve the public. And if, because of irresponsible behavior of powerful labor groups (or, for that matter, management), the public is denied the service to which it is entitled, it becomes the responsibility of the people's government to see to it that the service is provided.

The Grand Hoax

Inflation is a phenomena that most people have lived with a good share of their lives, and yet, few know what causes it or have been interested in learning. It has undermined every dollar of savings in the country and is responsible for the vicious contest between wages and the cost of living.

An Arizona Farm Bureau Federation news release has something to say about inflation and farmers that should be of interest to anyone who has a dollar in his pocket: "Inflation can be generated only by government. Business firms, labor unions, or consumers with excessive market power can do many objectionable things that are contrary to the public interest. But, they cannot cause inflation. Only government—with its power to tax and to mint and print money, with its dominant position as a consumer of goods and services in both domestic and foreign markets can do that."

Government attempts to control inflation by setting up "guidelines", and imposing controls on the free market are a grand hoax that if attempted by private citizens would mean jail.

Medical Volunteers For Viet Nam

One of the great tragedies of Viet Nam is the lack of qualified physicians to care for the civilian population. Of approximately 1,000 doctors in the entire country of South Viet Nam, about 700 are in military service, leaving only some 300 to care for 16 million civilians, which means about one doctor per 50,000 people. Contrast this to the United States, where there is one qualified physician for approximately every 700 people.

A goal of our government has been to strengthen the civilian economy of South Viet Nam. Improving the medical care situation is of first importance. Therefore, American doctors are being called on for help. The American Medical Association, under a contract with the State Department's Agency for International Development, has assumed complete responsibility for what will be known as AMA Volunteers for Viet Nam. Under the program, U.S. physicians volunteer to work in South Vietnamese civilian hospitals on a short-term basis, usually 60 days. The physician recruitment program was created in a response to a request from the South Vietnamese government to the U.S. government for help in bringing American physicians to South Viet Nam. Up to 32 physicians are needed every 60 days to fulfill the need. Especially needed are orthopedic and plastic surgeons, radiologists, and chest physicians, in addition to a continuing need for internists and general practitioners. The responsibility which the American Medical Association has assumed in the program is another reminder of the broad activities of the AMA in furthering the cause of the healing arts and the bringing of their benefits to the maximum number of human beings. Physicians interested in the program may write to AMA Volunteers for Viet Nam, American Medical Association, 535 North Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois, 60610.

A New Concept of Government

Proposals now before Congress would "introduce a new concept of government in business," declares J. E. Corette, president of the Montana Power Company. He was referring to legislation to create a federal electric bank for REA borrowers—a bank that would make available some $10 billion for the expansion of rural electric cooperatives.

Such expansion of public power is entirely unjustified, because rural electrification has been largely completed. Government subsidized REA systems would enormously step-up competition with investor-owned utilities with serious loss in tax revenues. Cooperatives pay annual taxes of only six-tenths of one percent of the cost of their property, while the taxes of private utilities represent about 5 percent of their property cost. Under the proposed plan for a federal electric bank, the annual tax loss could be $440 million.

The idea of all-out government competition with private business, plus the huge tax losses that would result, have created strong opposition to the electric bank idea. A former chairman of the Federal Power Commission, Nelson Lee Smith, in summarizing his reasons for opposing pending bills in Congress for the electric bank, states that: "(1) They are not needed . . . (2) They would encourage wasteful duplication of facilities . . . (3) Such uneconomic duplication and competition would be subsidized at great cost to the taxpayer . . . (4) This subsidy program would lack both definite termination provisions, and, once established, any opportunity for . . . continuing surveillance by the Congress."

The electric bank is more than a new concept of government in business—it is a new concept of government along totalitarian lines.

National Farm Safety Week

National Farm Safety Week cosponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture will be observed July 24-30 this year, by Presidential proclamation. "Safety is Victory Over Accidents" will be the theme of the Week, and its purpose will be to put a new awareness of safety procedures in the minds of the millions of people on American farms. Accidents kill more than 8,000 farm residents each year and injure an additional 700,000.

This year, emphasis will be on tractor safety and promotion of the SMV emblem - Slow-Moving Vehicle. It is a triangular emblem, highly visable within 500 feet, day or night, and is intended to be used on equipment traveling 25 miles per hour or less. Every operator of farm equipment should contact his county agent, or the Farm Department of the National Safety Council, 425 North Michigan Ave., Chicago, Illinois, 60611, to secure information on where to buy his SMV emblem. Practicing safety during National Farm Safety Week can create lifesaving habits throughout the

Claude Kirk's Life Is Success Story

By JACK LEDDEN

Who is Claude Kirk?

Sure, he's the Republican candidate for governor of Florida.

"Yes, I know he's from Jacksonville and recently moved to Palm Beach," says Mr. Average Citizen.

"But what I want to know is where he came from, how he happens to be running for governor and what is his background?"

Good questions all. It followed that the best place to get the answers is from Claude Kirk.

Possessor of a winning smile, an excellent voice and a sense of humor, Kirk is easy to interview. His articulate answers do not come from notes. He owns a good memory and delivers all of his speeches "off the top of his head."

Claude Kirk was born in San Bernadino, Calif. Jan. 7, 1926. When he was about two years old his parents moved to River Forest, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. It was here he attended grammar school.

The elder Kirk was a manufacturer of house trailers and mobile homes, and he found the market in Montgomery, Ala., as good he moved his family to the southern capital.

Son Claude went through high school in Montgomery and graduated at age 17, when he enlisted in the U.S. Marines. This was 1943 when World War II was in full swing. Assigned to Officers' Training School in Emory University, Atlanta, the young Marine later was sent to Duke and finally to Quantico, Va. He was honorably discharged from the Marine Corps at age 19.

Entering the University of Alabama as an undergraduate, Kirk continued into law school. He met and married Sarah Stokes in 1947. While in law school he sold insurance and worked part time for the Alabama Highway Patrol before graduating with a LL.B. degree in 1949.

Mrs. Kirk is the daughter of J. Close Stokes of Panama City, now manager of the Bay County Airport there. He retired as an automobile dealer in Montgomery before moving to Panama City.

Because he liked the insurance business Claude joined a small company and within two years increased its business with installation of life insurance machines in southern airports. Kirk was named assistant to the firm's president in 1950 but his career was interrupted when he was recalled to active service in the Korean War. He served two years with the Marines in Korea and was awarded a medal for his activities as a spotter of North Korean machinegun nests.

When I was discharged from the Marines in 1952 I had $108 in the bank, no job, no house, no car and no business," Kirk recalled.

Taking a sales job with a Montgomery construction material firm, Kirk regained his economic balance. The construction firm's president was a stockholder in a small life insurance firm which was not doing too well.

Recognizing Kirk's ability, he arranged to have the young lawyer put in charge of sales, and within a short time the firm was showing a profit. This won Kirk a general manager's job. He merged the firm with another small insurance company and soon had the new group in the black.

Obtaining financial backing, Kirk started out on his own in 1956 when he organized the American Heritage Life Insurance Co. with offices in Jacksonville, Fla. He wrote his first policy for American Heritage in January, 1957.

The original group invested one half million dollars in the Florida corporation and achieved a capital surplus of $2½ million dollars within a very few years.

Kirk used the firm to underwrite several projects and by January of 1966 American Heritage showed $32 million dollars in assets with over $100 million dollars worth of insurance in force.

In proceeding to this position Kirk recommended and was supported by directors in floating a public stock issue. Today American Heritage has 30,000 stockholders. Much of the firm's business is in group insurance.

Kirk was president of American Heritage for five years and later vice chairman of the board. He purchased a partnership in Hayden, Stone & Co., a New York brokerage firm, and became director of the firm's executive committee. The firm rates number four in the U.S. in volume sales of stocks and bonds.

Selling his American Heritage stock as well as his interest in Hayden Stone, Kirk entered politics on a full scale in 1966.

In 1960, as a registered Democrat Kirk headed the Democrats for Nixon campaign in Florida. He toured the state, made many speeches and numerous contacts. After the general election he re-registered as a Republican.

Asked why he changed, Kirk replied he could not go along with the political philosophy of the late President John F. Kennedy or Lyndon Johnson.

Kirk's race against veteran incumbent Sen. Spessard Holland was conducted with modest financial funds and he polled 372,000 votes while losing. This was encouraging to a man who never before made a statewide political race wearing the banner of a minority party.

Meanwhile, he started the Kirk Investment Co. in Jacksonville. It handles office space and has been expanded to Florida, Jackson, Miami. He also maintains offices in New York City. This is mainly a merchant banking activity and Kirk believes he has a very capable organization put together.

Kirk's shift into politics caused a family rift. Eventually his wife filed a suit for divorce and received a decree last March. Kirk says it was a friendly arrangement, uncontested with a property settlement.

Last Friday Kirk wed Sandie his former wife, as their oldest daughter, Sarah, 17, graduated from high school in Jacksonville. They have three other children, a daughter Katherine, 16, and two sons, Frank and Will Earl, 11. Mrs. Kirk and the children continue to reside in Jacksonville. The candidate leased a home and is living in Palm Beach.

"I leased a large home because the children will be spending part of their summer vacation with me and I want them to have a place to entertain their friends," he explained when asked why he rented a large home on N

Collier In Penitentary At Raiford

His son, John Lester Collier, who last week was sentenced to two years in prison, has filed notice of appeal and currently is free on $2,000 bond.

The father and son were found guilty of larceny of five cows from Dressel Brothers Dairy. The trial was in November, 1963.

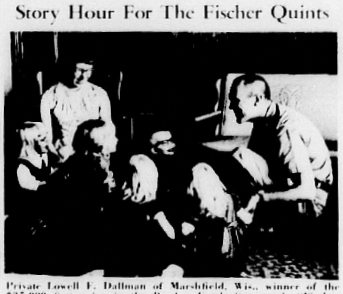

The father's case has been through a series of appeals and this summer Florida Supreme Court refused to review it. Sheriff B. Coker reported this week Collier is at Raiford.

His attorneys have said they are seeking to have the case reviewed in federal courts.

The son had not been formally sentenced until last week. Two weeks ago he requested time to obtain legal counsel, and he appeared in court last week with Hayward Davis as his defense counsel.

On July 13 Davis filed notice of appeal and bond for the younger Collier was set.

Story Hour For The Fischer Quints

Private Lowell F. Dallman of Marshfield, Wis., winner of the $35,000 first prize in the Borden Foods Company's "Fischer Quints Sweepstakes," delights the famous quints with nursery rhymes. He visited with the Andrew J. Fischer family in Aberdeen, S. D., received his prize and then reported for advanced training at the U. S. Army's field artillery school at Ft. Hood, Texas. Sharing in the enjoyment of his story are, clockwise, Mr. Fischer, Jimmy, Mary Ann, Cathy, Maggie and Margie.

Private Lowell F. Dallman, a trainee at the U.S. Army's field artillery school at Fort Hood, Texas, is $35,000 richer today. The 21-year-old from Marshfield, Wis., has won first prize in the Borden Foods Company's national "Fischer Quintuplets Sweepstakes."

Private Dallman won $25,000 as first prize in the contest simply by sending his name and address to the company, along with labels or facsimiles from several of its products. He won a $10,000 bonus by including with his entry a label from Borden's Onion Crescent Rolls. The contest drew nearly a half million entries.

A check for the total $35,000 was presented to Private Dallman at the Andrew Fischer home in Aberdeen, S.D. when, while on a two-week leave, the contest's first prize winner was invited there to meet the famous Fischer quintuplets.

When advised of his winning the contest, Private Dallman said that he hopes to complete his college education and thought that the prize would enable him to realize this dream.

Criminal Trials Concluded In Circuit Court

A series of criminal trials concluded in Circuit Court July 18 with a jury finding Willie Odell Gilbert not guilty on an aggravated assault charge.

Ellis Marlow Haskew, who had previously pleaded guilty on an escape charge, has been sentenced to 10 years probation following the expiration of the prison sentence he now is serving.

In November, 1965, he was sentenced from Brevard County to serve three years in prison. He escaped from Avon Park Correctional Institution and was arrested in Jacksonville.

In Circuit Court here in mid-March he waived preliminary hearing and a presentence investigation was ordered.

Recreation Activities Close July 29

The summer recreation program will close out all activities after next week according to director Joe Franza. July 29 will be the final day of the program which has included all types of activities for the youth of Avon Park.

This week the second session of Beginning Swimming instruction has been underway with youngsters participating in an assembly line type of instruction.

Tennis and badminton tournaments will finish up next week and a final dance will be held at the Jacaranda Hotel next Tuesday night for teenagers.

The last two Fridays a group of young horseback riders have enjoyed trail rides as part of the program. Last Friday some 15 youngsters rode out to the old Rex Beach Farms for a picnic and swim with head foreman Joe Franza in charge of the ride. The trail rides have been a new addition to the program this summer.

Better Barbecues

Outdoors or indoors, nothing beats the flavor of old fashioned barbecue sauce. This one can be used for basting, or as a hot sauce for sandwiches.

SOUTHERN BARBECUE SAUCE

½ cup butter
2 tbsp. chopped onion
2 tbsp. Lea & Perrins Worcestershire
2 tbsp. chili sauce
4 slices lemon
1 tsp. brown sugar
1 green pepper, chopped fine
1 cup vinegar

Combine all ingredients, mix thoroughly. Place in a saucepan and simmer until butter melts, stirring constantly. Keep warm in double boiler until ready to use for barbecuing meats, or as a sauce for barbecued sandwiches. (Makes 1¾ cups)

Nazarene Church To Hold Annual Campmeeting

The Florida district Church of the Nazarene will hold its annual campmeeting at Camp Swannee campgrounds located just south of White Springs, Fla., on U.S. 41, starting July 25 and continuing through July 31.

This is a family camp for all ages to attend. There will be an abundance of rooms, cottages, and trailer parking spaces available for all desiring to attend.

Dr. John L. Knight, District Superintendent of the Florida district Church of the Nazarene, invites the public regardless of church affiliation, to attend this camp.

Rev. Fred Thomas and Rev. James Crabtree, both well known Evangelists, will be the main speakers and Professor Mack Rauch, famous song singers and musicians, will conduct the musical part of the camp.

4-H Club Youth Attend Camps

More than 5000 4-H Club boys and girls will spend a week at Florida's five 4-H camps this summer.

One of the main objectives of 4-H camps is fun says Gordon White, assistant state 4-H Club agent and camp coordinator, Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

"Everything we do at camp is in a recreational spirit," White says. "Classes are minimal. Cook-outs are the at camp. Complete programs include pageants, group games, sing and play games—all these are popular," White continues.

Camping, White believes, teaches young people to assume responsibility. About one-half of the campers are away from home for the first time.

"These young people are responsible for themselves, their own conduct and appearance, camp quarters and camp grounds. Really, they are breaking apron strings," White points out.

Older junior 4-H leaders help plan and carry out camp. These junior leaders teach young and older youngsters responsibility.

What does camp do for the 4-H members?

"It teaches them to get along with people. To give and take. It's fellowship, and at the same time it's teaching. Camp teaches them respect for property and to show courtesy for themselves. It teaches them discipline. It teaches young people how to enjoy themselves. They learn what to do with their leisure time that will be to their advantage," White says.

The most popular activity at camp is swimming. One third of the young folks who go to camp are non-swimmers, but they learn to swim while they are there.

"When planning camp programs, policy governs the maximum use of the camp site. This concentrate on doing things that can only be done at camp. For example, nature study and forest fire watching, following nature trails to study native plants, animals and wildlife."

After flag-rising everybody gets a good breakfast. Cabins and camp are cleaned. Morning classes offer three different topics each day. Swimming is always one of the three.

Lunch is followed by recreation and free time for outdoor sports or relaxing. Often there are tours to forests, state parks, and nearby attractions.

After supper, the evening programs are primarily recreational, with square dancing, group singing and skits.

Campfire singing or campfire programs wind up the day.

The Florida 4-H camping program goes back more than 30 years. Many camp buildings are provided by civic clubs, church groups, and interested individuals. Most campers pay their own way. For a week's camp, the cost is $15.

Do the youngsters enjoy camp? You betcha, they do.

Ray Stokes Spoke To Rotary Wednesday

Charlie Collins introduced the guest speaker, Ray Stokes, the executive Vice President of the new Highlands School for girls about to open in the former Pinecrest property south of Avon Park on Lake Lotela. An enthusiastic young man with quite a bit of educational career behind him. His job last week was to explain a bit more about the new school and its meaning for our local area. Ray is a native of Charleston, S.C., a career educator, Methodist, and water skiing.

Highlands School for Girls is the third venture for Col. L.C. Blankinship the head of the group that is to control the institution. Two other private schools in North Carolina are now flourishing after he took over the buildings of moperative colleges, a boys' school at Maxton, N.C. and a girls' school at Red Springs, N.C. called Cordell Vandell Hall. Col. Blankinship and his associates know their way around in conducting such education al ventures, for one, because of his own thorough educational background, he is listed in "Who's Who in Education", plus his ability to gather superb youth leaders around him, like Ray Stokes.

The philosophy at Highlands is to go slowly and steadily as enrollment, to limit the age of student body for small classes and individual attention. The aim is to develop the whole person, adding to solid basic subjects, music and arts, and to build moral character and spiritual depth. The young lady the school seeks to help produce will not only be educated academically, but possess charm and attractiveness of the highest type.

Many of the extra features of music and art will be open to the public and with other advantages to our area make for a richer and finer community.

BRIGHT IDEAS

Doctors Refuse Federal Checks

An example of what some doctors are doing with respect to Federal payment of Medicare bills was disclosed by Dr. J. C. Kenaston Jr., of Brevard County, last Saturday.

Once the doctors are paid, they will give patients the receipts and let them collect from Uncle Sam.

Kenaston said the feelings of other doctors in the county are similar to the ideas expressed in a letter recently sent out by the Kenaston Clinic of Cocoa to their patients.

Parts of the letter said:

"We do not intend to let a third party . . . a government political appointee or agency, come between us and our patients.

"While we have strongly opposed the passage of this socialistic legislation and feel that it is bad legislation, we expect to do everything possible to make it work.

"We shall expect the patient to continue to pay us and they make their collection from the Social Security agency."

For persons on a fixed, limited income who could have their entire months' check wiped out with a large bill, the doctors have devised a plan. Sign a promissory note with the doctor.

The patient sends the government a bill.

Bob Race, a representative of the Social Security Administration, says the doctors are presenting themselves with "lots of paper work and problems" by not billing the government direct. He also argues that doctors have been doing this sort of billing for years on other insurance plans and he does not see why it should take a doctor any longer to receive payment from Medicare than any other insurance contract.

"It appears the handwriting is on the wall," he said. "Doctors are causing themselves two major problems—an excess in paper work and the winter visitor along with everyone else who decides to leave town. And there's the doctor left holding the bag."

John Q. Taxpayer Is Not Forced To Enjoy Government Spending

Most Americans conscientiously and willingly pay their federal taxes, albeit with some grumbling, realizing that the operations of the Federal Government must be financed.

But there is nothing on the tax books that says John Q. Taxpayer has to enjoy having his hard-earned dollars frittered away on what some of it has turned them over to Uncle Sam.

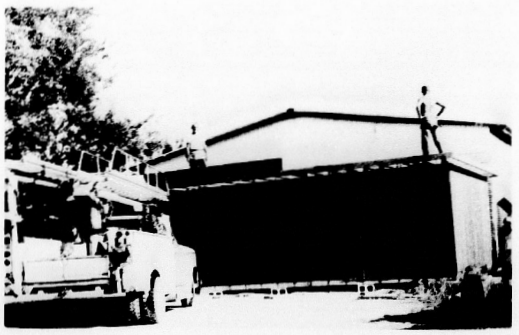

Leaving aside such massive waste of taxpayers dollars as the foreign aid program and, as is becoming increasingly evident, the badly disorganized war against poverty, let us look at these three examples of outrageous waste lately reported by the press:

Item One—The Appalachian Regional Commission, designed to alleviate poverty in a wicked-out southeastern belt, awarded a $246,672 grant for a branch library in Pittsburgh, which also will get another $200,000 federal grant, from the Federal Library Services Construction act. Geographically, Pittsburgh does indeed lie within the Appalachian region and under the law is entitled to apply for such grants. But why Federal money, routed as aid to underdeveloped economy of developed areas, should be channelled into a branch library in one of the nation's most prosperous industrial cities defies logic. The Commission also awarded a grant last year to the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, and there may be many more of equal lack of logic in the works.

Item Two—A Senate Government Operations subcommittee is investigating what amounts to the give-away of a practically new boron fuel plant near Muskogee, Oklahoma. The boron plant, having been declared surplus to the needs of the government, was "sold" by the General Services Administration—at a legs of "only" $22 million—to the taxpayers—but a private outfit which had no plans to operate it as a revenue-producing (and therefore tax-producing) enterprise, but instead resold it piecemeal and at a handsome profit to itself. Meanwhile, Federal, State and local government agencies, which might have used some of the plant's equipment, and which supposedly had priority in claiming it, never even got a chance to bid on the valuable salvage.

Item Three—Peacenik Professor William Davidon still qualifies for his federally-funded $8,000 Fulbright fellowship to permit him to study in Denmark, despite his public declaration that he will not pay his federal income taxes because he disapproves of United States participation in war in Viet Nam. Professor Davidon, however, is willing to use for his own purposes money paid to the government by other citizens who continue to pay their taxes even though in some cases they also may not approve of this country's Vietnamese involvement. The best the Board of Foreign Scholarships, which is in charge of such awards as that held by Professor Davidon, has been able to do to protect the taxpayers has been to issue a warning that the professor must not use the funds to "lobby" against this country.

Neither the nation nor its taxing system will fall under the weight of these examples of cavalier disregard for sound use of the tax dollar. But such abuses certainly do erode taxpayer confidence and over the long haul can jeopardize the heart of the tax system—the citizen's willingness to be taxed. — (By Congressman James A. Haley.)

Occupational Licenses To Be Reviewed

Suggestions for the modernization of Florida's occupational license law were drawn last week by a committee of the Florida Tax Collectors organization, W. H. Prescott, Highlands County tax collector, is a member of this committee and attended its two-day session at Winter Park.

The occupational license law has not been revised since 1941 and through the years the "multitude of attorney general opinions and state comptroller directives have built up a law costly to enforce and difficult to interpret," Committee Chairman Hudson Strain of Polk County said.

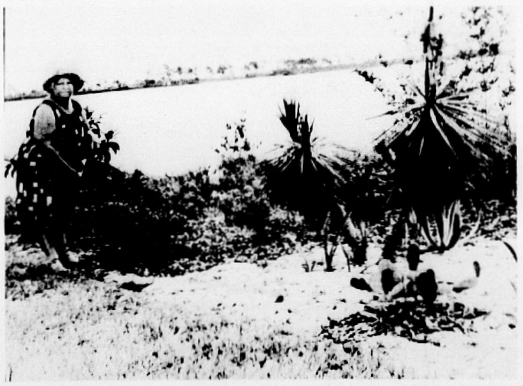

The present statute covers all forms of occupational licenses except store licenses. The committee is "looking at the possibility of combining store licenses with the other occupational licenses and making their policing a county function," Prescott said.

Another committee suggestion is the elimination of traveling show permits issued by the Florida Revenue Commission and increasing the occupational licenses for these shows by $50 so there would be no loss of revenue.

"This change would mean that traveling show managers would only have to go to a tax collector's office in each county instead of going to both a state office and a collector's office," Prescott explained.

Fees for occuptional licenses are not within the scope of the committee's studies at this time, the Highlands County collector said.

A dozen of Florida's tax collectors are members of the revision committee and working with them are several members of the state comptroller's staff. The committee will send its work, when completed, to a state Tax Revision Commission headed by Senator B. C. Pearce.

Mrs. Charles Swartz Beautifies Roadside Park Here After Months of Long Hard Work

A tract of land given by the City of Avon Park, 10 years ago, for a road side park has been gradually beautified into its purpose. Located two miles south of Avon Park on Highway 27.

Travelers stopping there remark it is the prettiest park they have come on anywhere.

This is due to the Beautification Project of the Hibiscus Garden Circle. Mrs. Charles Swartz is chairman of this committee. Through her tireless, constant and consistent efforts, hard work and determination, that made this possible.

Through the long dry winter months and dry spring she has carried water in buckets from the lake, approximately 3500 gallons to keep the newly planted 125 shrubs and trees alive and growing. She also carried bags, boxes and baskets of oak leaves for mulch and loads of moss during the freeze.

There was no total loss during the freeze, but it was discouraging to have things set back and grow again from the ground.

Almost single handed she would be at the park at 6 a.m. digging, planting, fertilizing, trimming and weeding. The results are now evident in the large circular bed of red hibiscus in the center, emblematic of the Hibiscus Circle.

Mrs. Swartz was determined to have shade trees, which are essential to any park and succeeded in establishing a dozen oaks, laples, and sweet gum trees, planted informally to make a natural looking future grove. Two large palms were planted at the front corners and a row of spreading palms and powder puff line the front of the park.

A large corner of the lake front which was a tangled mess of rough lake grass, was cleaned up and planted in a variety of blooming shrubs and flowering trees. This required extra drudgery as the tough grass kept persisting and had to be constantly dug out as it appeared.

Mrs. Swartz has spent approximately 175 hours hard labor and a lot of wear on her station wagon, lugging water, fertilizer, leaves, shrubs, etc.

She acknowledges with thanks, donations of shrubs and trees from local nurseries and some individuals and supplied the rest from her own funds. There was no cost to the garden treasury.

The state road department has been most cooperative in giving the go-ahead and approval of this work and have constructed shelters and picnic tables, painted them and have done a magnificent job of maintenance, always mowed and edged beautifully.

Mr. Nugent, district supervisor of this area with headquarters in Sebring, and his crew are responsible for the maintenance.

This beautiful park located on the lake front has put a good image on Avon Park and they can well be proud of this project. Which is hoped will grow and improve in beauty.

It will require a lot of effort until things are well established and go it alone without constant care, as has been necessary the past eight months, since Mrs. Swartz started the new landscaping.

This is an asset to the new college which will be located near by and the city should be proud that this project is a jump ahead.

A water system and toilet facilities is sorely needed, said Mrs. Swartz, and I hope that the city and state road department will do something about this. The black mosquitos swarm around the shelters and discourage some tourists from stopping.

The boat ramp used by fisherman to load and unload their boats, should be used with care and not destroy the shrubs planted close by.

Mrs. Swartz has been a resident of Avon Park for 21 years, coming here from Harrisburg, Pa. She is a member of the Harrisburg Chapter of American Guild of Organists and the Patriots Chapter D.A.R. She is also a decendant of "Johnnie Appleseed" who made history by planting apple seeds where ever he went.

She has landscaped and beautified 10 different homes and recreational areas. Planted a seven acre tract in seedling pine, which is now a forest, with deer finding refuge from her efforts.

She is now retired and lives in her home on Lake Verona where she maintains a large beautiful yard.

She hopes to live to see the day when all of Lake Verona is clean and free from weeds and grass.

Incidentally, Mrs. Swartz celebrated her 77th birthday July 17.

Mrs. Swartz said, "the biggest reward that could be given for her untiring efforts, would be for the city to install city water in the park, spraying for mosquitos and toilet facilities."

New Ideas Included At Legion Meeting

A state-wide meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary officials, which was held in Winter Haven last weekead, included many new ideas to meet the challenges of today's changing world, according to Mrs. John P. Arnold, Sebring, who is a member of the Highlands Unit No. 69.

Mrs. Arnold, was one of the three past Department Presidents of Florida who directed the symposium on Saturday, which consisted of 18 women who head the various Auxiliary programs in the state.

The purpose of the symposium, was to determine specific objectives for the many programs that the Auxiliary carry forth. They coordinate them into greater participation for all members of the organization.

The Sunday planning session was devoted to meetings within the district and areas. The ones that will be of interest to the local Post Unit includes Eighth District Picnic to be held September 11 at Arcadia. The Central Area Membership Roundup to be held in Winter Haven, October 11.

Meeting the challenge of change, the department president, Mrs. John H. Lowlar, Fort Lauderdale, and members of the official staff will hold a work shop in each of the four areas. The one in the central area will be held the week of November 7-11, according to Mrs. Arnold.

Plans were formulated for the promotion of Florida's candidate, Mrs. A. J. Ryan, Sr., Dania, as National President during the National Convention to be held in Washington, D. C., August 26, through September 1.

U Of F Alumni Plan Trip

The Highlands County, University of Florida Alumni Association is planning its annual member football trip. This year the trip will be Saturday, September 24, to see the Florida Gators vs. Mississippi State football game.

Transportation will be on two Greyhound buses fully equipped, including rest rooms and air conditioning. The buses will leave Saturday around 8:00 A.M. from Griffins Restaurant in Avon Park. The return trip will be made following the game.

The cost will be $32 per couple for bus fare, lunch, set ups, and game tickets. (Only $20 if you already have season tickets.)

EDWARD JACKSON of Avon Park, caught this 20 pound cat fish July 19, in Arbuckle Creek. He reports he had set a 100 pound test trout line baited with liver. On checking his line, he found a skeleton of a cat fish, head still intack, devoured by the big fish, catching the 20 pound cat fish with the bait in the skeleton fish. On July 12 he caught a ten and three-quarter pound cat fish in the same creek.

THE SAFETY SENTRY

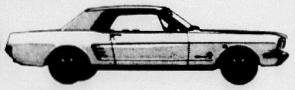

BY JANE DAVIS

Summer Auto Safety

The "good old summertime" presents delightful opportunities for freedom and play to children; but to drivers summer means added hazards. For safer summer driving, Sentry Insurance makes these recommendations:

- Watch out for children playing on drives and in streets. Last year more than 300 children were struck and killed in their own driveways. In a split second a child running after a ball may become a fatality statistic.
- Drive slow in areas where children are at play. They're concentrating on games, not street traffic.
- Don't let children play in the car. Lock doors, if necessary. When the car is parked, set hand brakes and put the gear in "park" (or reverse, if your car has a standard shift). Never leave keys in the ignition when the car is not in use.
- Before getting into the car, check in front and back to see that the path is clear of children and toys.
- Wear sunglasses while driving during the day, but never after sundown.
- Don't be misled into thinking slick roads are only a winter problem. Oily streets, during and after a rain, can be very slippery.
- Drive defensively. During the summer there are more cars and many more pedestrians on the streets than any other season. Your being in the right won't keep you from having an accident. Expect the worst of other motorists . . . anticipate trouble . . . and you'll prevent it.

Don't follow the leader.

New State Park Planned On Lake Okeechobee

Final planning of a new state park on Lake Okeechobee at Pahokee will begin immediately under a $122,710 State Cabinet allotment this week.

This is the third new state park approved by the Cabinet since March. The others are Cape Florida on Key Biscayne in Dade County and Ochlockonee River State Park in Wakulla County.

State Parks Director Bill Miller said the new Pahokee State Park, which tops the Hoover Dike in an unusual recreational location, is expected to be completed by late spring.

Initial development will include a 36-site camping area with two camper convenience buildings containing rest rooms, hot and cold showers and laundry facilities. Electrical outlets will be available at a number of the camp sites.

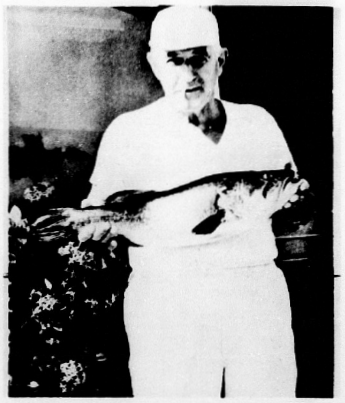

The swimming area will be complete with a combination bathhouse and restroom building. The spacious picnic grounds will provide tables and grills for 30 families, all overlooking the lake, as well as a restroom building.

The funds committed this week will be added to $2,500 previously released in planning funds, giving the project a working budget of $125,210. The city of Pahokee has agreed to bear the estimated $31,900 cost of sewer and water lines.

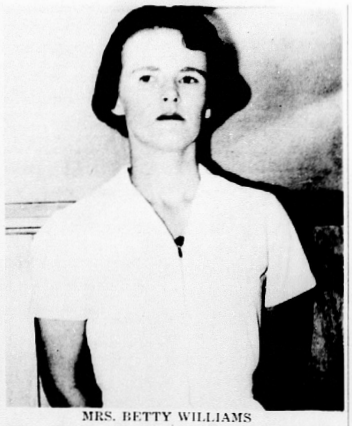

Pahokee will continue to maintain the already-existing marina in the center of the new park site. The Park Board expects to secure a use permit for the surrounding property, which is owned by the state but is under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

The park covers a land area one mile long and approximately 250 feet wide. Because of its unique location on the water, the buildings will be constructed on pilings nine-and-one half feet above the high water mark of the lake.

Miller said the new park site was brought to the attention of the Park Board by Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson, a native of West Palm Beach.

Claude Kirk's Life Story of Success

Lake Trail, facing on the Intracoastal Waterway.

Kirk also feels a Palm Beach residence is geographically well located as a site from which to campaign. State Republican headquarters are located in Fort Lauderdale and he will commute by auto as the campaign develops.

He also points out Palm Beach International Airport gives him access to all areas of the state via airplane.

Often portrayed as a self-made millionaire, Kirk denies this allegation. He says he is a man of moderate means and indicates much of his earlier earnings are now tied up in trust funds for his children.

Asked about financing a full campaign against a Democratic Party candidate who now is in a position to attract money from many sources, Kirk replied:

"I estimate a sum of $500,000 will be necessary for an effective campaign. We welcome contributions from $1 up from anyone who wishes to support our philosophy."

Then, as an added comment, Kirk added, "I do not have support of United Auto Workers and other out-of-state groups who seem to be affiliated with Mayor High."

In reply to an inquiry as to why he decided to seek the governor's chair as a Republican, Kirk said, "I evaluated candidates in the Republican Party and also my race against Sen. Holland. No other candidate who made a statewide race before came back the second time and I believe this was a mistake.

"I've been in the business of building teams since I entered business. I've got a team with which to make a state race. I further feel it is time for businessmen to become involved in government, which is the biggest business in the world.

"The government under Democrats is unbusiness-like in its conduct. Their principle is to tax and spend, and it will continue in Florida, as well as nationally, if a change is not made. This is a citizens' government which has been turned over to politicians.

"My concept of government as a laywer and business man is not the concept of the Democratic administration. I have proven the free enterprise system works and if business principles are applied to operations at Tallahassee, government can become the servant of the people rather than the people being servants of the government.

"In Florida we now have full Democratic influence. I'm for a government for the good of all and not for special interests.

"The tone of an administration should be set by the governor. I don't believe a Democrat-dominated Legislature will be hostile to good business principles. Neither do I expect Cabinet officials to opppose sound proposals if they understand there are no special political overtones to requests for cooperation."

Asked what he will do if he fails to defeat Mayor High in November, Kirk looked up, cleared his throat and replied, "I'm going to continue efforts to unify the Republican Party in Florida. We shall seek bright and capable candidates for all offices and establish better communications with the people to create an enthusiasm to win."

When Kirk left the Democratic Party he felt its leadership deserted a middle-of-the-road position in favor of a liberal orientated centralized government. Voices of conservative senators like Spessard Holland, Richard Byrd and Richard Russell became more distant in Washington. The Great Society took over and Kirk objects strenuously to what he terms "government by special interests."

On the subject of debating issues with Mayor High, Kirk said he approved because he felt voters should hear both sides and also the political philosophies of each candidate.

"However, I will insist Mayor High speak without notes. If he can't debate with knowledge of his own the program would accomplish little."

Kirk feels people in Florida are becoming conscious of the lack of real leadership and a weakening of states' rights. He plans to present a sound business platform for operation of the state government, which he calls a $2 billion dollar corporation.

As to attracting support of Democrats who backed Gov. Burns and Scott Kelly, Kirk presented a new angle.

"I don't care who backed Mayor High or any other candidates. I intend to let people know that I stand for and offer a creative philosophy based upon business principles. I'm not interested in the Johnson-Kennedy squabble in Washington. I want to be a voice for Florida which can be heard in national circles rather than a member of any clique or political club."

Florida was built by people who lived the American dream of working hard in their earning days so they could retire in the twilight of life and live on their earnings, according to Kirk.

"The new look in the Democratic Party is not to provide for your future but let the government worry about taking care of you. This takes away your private ability to dream and build your future.

"With the poverty programs in existence today I could not practice independence if I continued to be a member of the Great Society."

As for the tempo of his campaign, Kirk says he will examine and ask for audits of the physical assets of all divisions of state government. He intends to confer with department heads in Tallahassee and request an inventory of their divisions.

"I'll be happy to confer with these men, who are Democrats, in order to get their concepts and ideas of operation. I'm looking at this election like a man taking over a business — I want to know the assets, I already understand the liabilities."

This type of approach has never before been offered in Florida. Kirk says he sees no reason why Cabinet officers would not be interested in a sound business approach to government.

As part of his platform Kirk insists the state live within its means, hold the line on taxes, work to become No. 1 in education and measuring all department activities on the basis of need.

"I'll provide the ground rules for my program and ask the people to measure them against the present, and past Democrat administrations.

Kirk is a member of the Episcopal Church and was active in raising funds to construct All-Saints Church in Jacksonville. He is a member of several service and social organizations.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION ABC

One in a series of messages to advertisers

How to measure a newspaper ad

Assume, for a moment, that it were possible to clip this display message from each copy of this newspaper printed for today's issue, and that these clippings were neatly stacked before you.

First, remove all clippings which appeared in copies spoiled in distribution, or which were otherwise, undelivered, left over, returned, or used in our office for file or checking copies. Since no one read these, they can go into the wastepaper.

Second, remove those messages which appeared in copies delivered to subscribers behind in their payments, service copies to advertisers and agencies, employes, any complimentary or promotion lists, and all others which do not qualify as paid circulation. Just for the record, you might want to count the number of these, but then they go into the wastepaper, too.

Now our stack is down to only the paying customers. Count the number of clippings in the stack. When that's done (and the exact figure recorded), separate the clippings into three separate stacks – one for those distributed to readers in your central market; one for those distributed to readers living outside this market, but who shop here regularly; and one for those copies delivered to readers living elsewhere. Count each stack and, when you have these figures accurately recorded, divide the clippings in separate stacks by method of delivery (carriers, dealers, vendors, mail, and so forth), and count each stack.

You look a little tired at this point – we'll help by counting the number of clippings appearing in copies sold with premiums, in combination with other publications, and at special rates. We'll also count the number sold in clubbing offers or as a result of a contest or with an insurance offer.

Rested now? Give us a hand and we will sort out the clippings in separate stacks for each city and town in which copies were distributed (just exactly where every copy of this message went – to the paying customers only). Then we count each stack for the record.

Now, while you relax and finish reading this message after counting and measuring our circulation in so many different ways, perhaps you would like to see what it costs each of the paying customers to buy a copy of this newspaper?

Then again, if all this talking about some of the ways the Audit Bureau of Circulations regularly counts and measures our circulation has you tired out, just ask to see a copy of our latest ABC Report.

ABC's stacks of figures aren't nearly as tiring and tell you a great deal more about the distribution of your advertising messages in this newspaper.

SHUFFLING

The courts are busy places on tournament nights with extra players, and those who just watch and others are playing cards. There were six courts in play on Wednesday evening. In the main event the winners were Charles Fensterman and Jennie Baker against John Eklund and Jan Brown. Consolation winners were Tom Clarke and Alta Robinson, with Harold Sims and William Benson the runners-up.

On Saturday night with 6½ courts in play the winners were Charles Fensterman and Jan Brown against Lora Pickell and John Eklund. Gertrude Fensterman and Clay Kull won in consolation with Reed Simpson and William Benson the runners-up.

In a non-tournament game, Saturday evening, the shot of the year was made by Illeon Kull, with her side trailing by one point with two of her discs in the kitchen and she had the last shot. She put her opponents to point disc in the kitchen smacking her two kitchen discs out, leaving her disc on the board for ten points. With one shot she made forty points, and the game for her side. Her opponents were Mayme and Elzo Cormie and her partner was Elizabeth Clarke.

CARD GAMES

With four tables in play on Monday, Reed Simpson won in Pinochle with 670 points. Loretta Simpson came in second with 662 points.

DANCES

At the dance on Monday evening Cliff Seifert taught us a couple of new squares. There being only one square it was a good time for learning.

SATURDAY NIGHT SUPPER

There were eleven at the supper on Saturday evening. Ann Janke was the hostess and Howard Kellogg returned thanks.

CHIT-CHAT

The James Chamberlains are back in Avon Park after selling their home in Schenectady, New York.

This week Olive Kervin and Bea Tingler are leaving Detroit, Mich. for a trip to California to visit friends and relatives there. Mae Girten writes from Hendersonville, N.C. they have had many Avon Park folks call on them in the trailer park that Mr. Girten is managing for the summer. Mrs. Girten has been chauffeuring a blind lady who works for the State Welfare. They travel over five counties. Very interesting, she says. Mrs. Girten said she can hardly wait to get the Avon Park Sun to see what is going on in Avon Park.

Tourist Say Highlands Co. Citizens Honest

Mr. and Mrs. Stotten of Pennsylvania, while touring through Florida, stopped at a telephone pay booth in the Shopping Center, south of Sebring.

Mrs. Stotten having completed her call to her daughter in Thomasville, N. C., unthinkingly left her purse inside the phone booth, containing their traveling money and important papers. Shortly afterward they discovered their loss. They returned to the booth and there was the purse, unmolested and everything intact, for which they were thankful.

Two weeks are, on their return trip they again stopped at the same phone booth, where she again phoned her daughter in North Carolina. Again, she left her purse in the booth, not discovering the loss until they had traveled some distance. They returned and found that it was gone. Really gone.

Since they were close to the G. W. Grant store in the Shopping Center, they inquired in the store, if anyone had found a purse. Yes, some honest person had found and turned it over to the office in the store. Once more they had their valuables.

This same couple, stopping at a roadside park on their tour, found a purse containing several thousands of dollars and valuable papers. Someone had left it on a picnic table. Traveling is very difficult without money or credit cards. So, Mr. and Mrs. Stotten knew the owner would return. They patiently waited. The owners did return, identified the purse and received it from another honest couple.

As crooked as the world seems to be, it is good to find honest people.

Social Security Questions & Answers

BY ED PERKOWSKI
Social Security Representative

Question—I will be 65 in October, but I feel fine and intend to work indefinitely. If I file for medicare, do I have to quit to get its benefits?

Answer—No, but you must file your application. You should do this sometime between now and October. By filing before October 1, you will have protection beginning as early as possible. In the meantime, keep up your payments on any other health insurance you may now have.

Question—I'll be 65 in January 1967. When should I file for medicare?

Answer—You should file your claim sometime in October, November, or December 1966. By doing this you will be sure to have protection against doctors' and surgeons' bills beginning with January 1967. You can, of course, enroll as late as April, but this will mean you won't have the protection of the medical insurance plan until later.

Question—I understand that to be eligible for medicare I must file my application for monthly benefits. Does this mean my monthly payments will be based only on my earnings up to $6? If so, this would hurt me as my earnings will be a lot higher in the future.

Answer—Each year your record will be re-examined and if your earnings are higher, your payments will be refigured. But very simply you just can't lose by filing at 65.

Please mail your questions on social security to the Social Security Administration, P. O. Drawer E, Lakeland, Florida 33802.

MARR'S AIRCRAFT - located at the Municipal Airport in Avon Park, is just a hop and a skip from the Mall and U.S. 27. SHELLEY MARRS, the operator, came to Avon Park in 1960 from Miami. After graduating from high school, he worked at learning the mechanics about a plane and also to fly. He came here with his brother, Frank, who opened a maintenance shop for planes. Later Frank left to fly for one of the major airplanes.

In July of 1965, Shelley opened his flying school with BILLY ELLIS as his instructor. Billy also is a Miamian and received his training there. If you are interested in flying, as who isn't these days, why not contact the boys and get started. ONLY $139 FOR THE GUARANTEED TO SOLO COURSE.

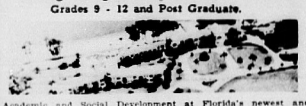

If you own a plane, stop by and see Shelley for keeping your plane in tip top condition. He's tops in this field.

MARR'S AIRCRAFT also sells used and new planes. Did you know that you can buy a used plane for as low as $1,000 and a new one for $4,900? In the last five months, they have sold 10 planes of which two are based in Highlands County.

Keep up with the progress now going on in Highlands County and join the leaders. Now is the time to learn to fly if you haven't started. Check with Shelley or Billy for your flying needs, be it a plane, instructions or real good service for your plane.

In the News

President Johnson dominated the news recently when he said that United States air strikes on military targets in North Viet Nam, "will continue to impose a growing burden and a high price on those who wage war on the freedom of others." Mr. Johnson has made it clear that he is unswayed by criticism of the raids on Hanoi and Haiphong in Congress and abroad and that there is no wavering in his decision to step up the tempo of the war to convince the enemy that they cannot win and should seek to negotiate a settlement.
