Four Persons Hospitalized In Accident

Four persons were hospitalized after a freak double accident Saturday night on Route 90 when an uninsured truck driver, who had been drinking, crossed the center line to collide head-on with a Jeep.

In the Jeep were James Dennis Montedora, 17, driving, and Marilyn Sue Smith, 16, a cheerleader, both from Avon Park. Driving a 1962 Oldsmobile station wagon was Negro truck driver John Lee Higgins, 45, of Bradenton.

The fourth injured was Mrs. Freeman, 71, of Sebring. The accident occurred about 11 P.M. in front of the Pure Oil station at Montedora and Miss Smith were returning home from the Highlands County Cattlemen's dinner and square dance at the Cross ranch.

Trooper John Touchton said Higgins was "not drunk, but drinking." He was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road.

Touchton said the Jeep was going West on 90 about 8 miles from Route 27 when the Higgins car crossed the center line, hitting head-on at a glancing angle. Both cars continued on for a short distance from the site of impact and the Oldsmobile burst into flames. Miss Smith was thrown from the Jeep to the pavement.

A passing motorist pulled the unconscious Higgins from his burning car and another motorist pulled Montedora from the Jeep. He had a broken leg.

Mrs. Freeman rushed out, apparently from her Pure Oil station, to help Miss Smith, who was lying dazed in the road, when a semi-trailer truck pulled up and off the road. The driver went to help get Higgins from his car.

At about this time, some 10 minutes after the accident, Angel Luis Martinez of Ona drove onto the scene, not stopping although the others tried to flag him down. He hit the semi, bounced off it and into Mrs. Freeman as she attempted to jump out of the way. He was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control.

The injured were taken to Highlands General Hospital, and later Miss Smith and Montedora to Walker Memorial Hospital. Miss Smith suffered lacerations and was shaken up. Montedora had a broken leg and lacerations; Higgins chest and head injuries and Mrs. Freeman a broken hip.

The Montedora and Higgins cars were total wrecks. Damage to the Martinez car and the semi were estimated at $200 each.

United Telephone Company Loses Plea To Hike Rates

United Telephone Company of Florida this week lost its plea for a raise in rates which would have cost subscribers annually on an average $62.75.

The Florida Public Service Commission on Friday denied the increase, which would have meant $2,500,000 annually to the company and said no increase will be allowed until the company meets minimum standards of service.

At hearings which started last the last session, which permits service as one of the factors to consider in approving or denying rate raises to utilities.

Not Much to Sell
"A telephone company sells mainly one thing and that is service," the commission said. "This company does not have much to sell."

John Sweet's Trial Postponed Key Witnesses Unable To Testify

The retrial of John J. Sweet, 32, for the first degree murder of his wife, Mary, was postponed Monday morning in the same second floor Bartow courtroom where it was held last fall. There was only a handful of people waiting to hear the proceedings. Only 28 of 115 men and women summoned for jury duty were in the courtroom.

Darty got up to say that Massachusetts officials had informed him late Friday that he had been unable to locate Mrs. Kelly and that a Boston judge had said the Ertter woman need not appear due to her pregnancy. Darty said he did not know her new name. Andrew Van Ertter, linked with Boston's disorganized underworld, was found dead in the trunk of his own automobile in Boston four months after the murder of Mary, October 3, 1965.

Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Ertter testified last November that they had accompanied their husbands to Florida in late September and early October of 1965.

Darty Tried Hard
Darty didn't give up going to retrial easily. He retired to chambers with the judge and James McEwen of Tampa, Walter Manley of Lakeland and Assistant State Attorney Joe Macbeth of Sebring to argue a proposal to use testimony ad deduced from the two missing women in the first trial during the new prosecution.

Returning to the courtroom about 30 minutes later, Love ruled that Florida Law holds such recorded testimony may be used in an instance where a case has been ordered retried after an appeal but not in the instance of a mistrial.

"The defendant is entitled to face the witnesses against him," the judge commented. He added that in the case of a retrial, following a mistrial, all state witnesses must be in attendance.

Darty then asked and got the continuance.

Sweet, natty in a brown suit and alligator shoes, was in the courtroom when the postponement was announced. Mrs. Sweet was not with him. He remains at liberty in $25,000 bond.

Thousand Her and Marvin
Testimony at the first trial by Mrs. Macxy painted Sweet as a plotter who threatened to kill her and her eight-year-old daughter, Marvin, if he did not do as he said.

Sweet spent seven hours testifying. (Continued on Page Two)

Only 2 Muck Fires Burning In County

Florida Forest Service rangers this week were reporting rainfall rather than fires—like 9.4 inches at Highlands Hammock State Park.

"Overall it is looking pretty good," said County Ranger Roy Williams. "Things are greening up real good."

Williams said only two small muck fires now are burning—at Marion Henry Bay and Avon Park Lakes. A small woods fire was reported at the South part of the county this past week—one grass fire on Airport Road, and a car fire—that of the auto accident Saturday on Route 98, the car belonging to John Huggins of Bradenton.

Williams said the rangers' DeSoto City station reported 3.8 inches of rain this past week. Archbold 4.4 and Brighton 1.7. The Coast and Geologic Survey reported lake levels in the county are about normal for this time of year.

Here in Highlands County through tomorrow, conferring on how to prevent a ranger losing his life in a fire, is a group of state investigators, district investigators, representatives from the Tallahassee office of Florida Forest Service, some people from the U. S. Forest Service and others.

Williams said the fire which caused the death of Ranger Cecil Troy still is under investigation and the $1,000 reward for information still stands. In fact, this is the reward for anybody who gives information on leading to arrest and conviction of persons who set fires on other people's property.

Average Family Spends $3,320 Year in County

How much is the average family in Highlands County spending these days for the basic necessities of living—food, clothing and shelter? Approximately $3,320 per year.

How much does it have left, after those outlays and after taxes, for other spending? About $2,000.

These estimates are based upon national surveys by the Labor Department and other agencies to determine what changes, if any, have been taking place in family budgeting.

Although prices have gone up considerably in the local area in recent years, as they have elsewhere, it appears that Highlands County families have more money at their disposal today, after providing for the necessities, than they ever had.

The studies show that even though the budget of the average family is nearly 50 per cent higher than it was in 1969, the economic squeeze is not very different than it was then. The will to spend has risen in tandem with the ability to do so, says the Labor Department.

The latest findings are that the typical non-farm family in the United States devotes 23.2 per cent of its budget to food, 24.1 per cent to housing and 10.6 per cent to clothing.

In Highlands County, this "must" spending amounted to some $3,320 last year, or 57.9 per cent of the $5,320 that the average local family had available after taxes and expenses.

This percentage, which is the national average turns out to be close to what it was in 1969. At that time, 27 per cent went for food, 24 per cent for housing and 11 per cent for clothing, a total of 62 per cent.

The amount of money allocated for the basic necessities and the amount left for other purposes vary with income.

Among families in the local area with $6,000 available after taxes and savings, approximately $3,500 was spent for food, clothing and shelter and $2,500 remained for other outlays.

Those with $10,000 used $5,800 for basics and had $4,200 for discretionary spending.

Whenever you find a feller who thinks he's smarter than his wife, you can be sure of one thing—he has a mighty smart wife.

The Library Corner

Hear My Heart Speak, written by Charlotte Paul, is not one of the more recent books to come to the Avon Park Library, but is one that is widely read as are the other works of Mrs. Paul. It is not an earth-shaking literary novel, it is one that makes the reader feel he is happier for

The story set in the small Wisconsin town called Dyersville is of a young man, Spence Atkins, who in World War I was forced into a life of silence. He lost his voice in his first encounter of heavy bombardment in the front-line trenches. He could not answer the cordial greetings of his friends, no longer add his fine baritone voice to the choir where he had sung since he was a boy, not a whisper of his longing to the girl he ached to hold in his arms, nor call for help when he narrowly missed death as the bull he was leading charged him.

cern. He never lost the hope of regaining his voice which survived the failure of honest doctors, the cheating of quacks. The courage and love of his stubborn mother, the concern of the other people in his hometown who tried to help, and the awakening love of the strange, lovely Phoebe give this novel a warm humor and a wholesome beauty.

Youth Care Home Presented Sewing Machine

Last February Mrs. Elizabeth Todd was a patient at Walker Memorial Hospital, while there she mentioned the need of a sewing machine as she is house mother for Youth Care Home, Highlands County, and needed one to mend children's clothes, which she had been doing by hand.

Last Sunday, her wish was granted as she was presented with a Singer sewing machine by Mrs. Grace Larsen, Mrs. Blanche Ott and Miss "T", from the Walker Memorial Church, as a gift to the home. Quoting Mrs. Todd, "He works in mysterious ways. His wonders to perform."

The new Youth Care home is progressing satisfactorily and construction, Kenneth Grubb, has received a call from builder, Fred Wheeler, who said he and his crew are standing ready to help get the building under roof before the rainy season, if needed.

Made with nothing to say find plenty to see.

TO THE VOTERS OF HIGHLANDS COUNTY:

I, BILL HAYNES, am running for the office of County Commissioner in District No. 5. I sincerely believe that I can give the citizens of Highlands County fair and valuable service as your County Commissioner.

I feel that the campaign has been upright and clean and it is my sincere desire to keep it that way.

However, it is my belief, that many voters are laboring under the misunderstanding that my opponent, ROBERT SKIPPER is the person of the same last name, CECIL SKIPPER, who has been a member of the board for a number of years. Also, he has been mistaken for RAAB SKIPPER, who is in the Citrus and Cattle business and not a Candidate.

I do not feel that I have done anything unethical in calling the attention of the voters to this fact.

Your vote for BILL HAYNES, in the run-off primary on May 28th will be greatly appreciated and your assurance that your County affairs will be in good hands.

Dance Students Will Entertain With Fantasy

On May 25, 48 dance students under the direction of Linda Culbreth will combine their talents to entertain Avon Park with a fantasy for all ages. "Alice In Topsy Turvy Land" will take you and Alice (Dana Hausfunder) on a journey through Topsy Turvy Land which will be the Rabbit (Cathy Turner) who must be really Cinderella's fairy godmother. On the way you will meet such characters as the Hoping Bunnies (Babs Maness and Cindy Gentry), The Absent Minded Man (Steve Kahn, David Todd, Scott Wilkinson, and Wendell Whitehouse), and the pretty butterfly (Polly Bryant). Alice and Ronald invite them all to come along to Topsy Turvy Land and join the fun.

When the friends arrive in Topsy Turvy Land they are met by two mysterious looking twins, Tweedle Dum and Tweedle Dee (Vicky Drot and Patti Peterson) who perform a modern jazz dance. Topsy Turvy Land looks just like a big garden and Alice decides to water the flowers. Ronald stops her just in time to tell her that the Topsy Turvy Flowers (Leah Kahn, Connie Holmes, Susan Hausfunder, Lisa Lewis, Fawn Cribb, Maissie Limcango, Melissa Limcango, Denise Booth and Barbie Miller) don't need any raindrops or sun because they have a secret. Instead of being planted so safely in the ground, they grow with little shoes on so they can dance around.

A lot of laughter is heard and Ronald tells Alice that it must be those silly leprechauns up to no good again. What they are up to is a lot of good aerobics (Delaney Heatherly, Elizabeth King, Mary Ann Handley, Kathy Collinsworth, and Melinda Barben). Next Alice is honored with a visit from some beautiful black cats. The Fancy Felines (Polly Bryant, Melinda Limcango, Arneli Rols, and Margie Limcango and Laurie Rehner).

A clatter of a train is heard and everyone makes way for the Caterpillar Express (Mary Ann Handley, Marian Limcango, Patti Peterson, and Vicky Drot). They don't come alone for sure, they brought some passengers to meet Alice. Two ballerina dolls are first (Laurie Rehner and Karen Reeves). A Real Hula Girl (Vicky Drot) entertains next, and what a surprise for Alice, a Gypsy Dancer (Jane Barben) has come too. The fun isn't over yet for those Charleston Girls (Vicky Drot and Patti Peterson) are back in town.

Another set of twins appear: it's Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy (Mary Ann Handley and Marian Limcango). Alice asks Ronald where the people of Topsy Turvy Land go when they take a vacation and Ronald says into outer space and since it isn't far they can take a trip right now. The Moon (Karen Hill) glitters while the Stars (Dee Dee Jahna, Candis Jahna, Patti Todd, Lynn Smith, Ann McDaniel, Laurie Peterson and Karen Reeves) appear to dance.

Mrs. Curtis English entertained 60 friends at a tea, Friday, May 17, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Maude Lockett who celebrated her 89th birthday. Guests honored Mrs. Lockett with a card shower and gifts.

Mrs. Merle Martin, Mrs. Ruth Cramer and Mrs. Alice Sherman assisted in serving

Commission Draws Criticism From State Civil Defense Head

Pointed criticism from the state's civil defense department failed to push the Highlands County commission to quick action Tuesday. J. E. Buchanan, coordinator for the state CD department, told the county commissioners that while County Civil Defense Director Jim Lawson is "doing an extremely outstanding job," the county has not met requirements of state law.

Most glaring deficiency is lack of a county director of emergency resources management. The Governor has appointed the county school superintendents to head up food rationing and price stabilization, but this work and all other types of rationing would be under the director of emergency resources management.

The unhappy county commissioners balked at hiring another worker, and Buchanan suggested they take 30 to 60 days to find a suitable director. He assured the board some "public-spirited citizens may be found to work on this emergency planning." He said it will take about a year to complete the planning. Buchanan also urged the county commissioners to get busy on an official succession plan. Every county official is to name, in order, three persons to succeed him in event the official is unable to serve in time of a national emergency, such as an enemy attack.

Buchanan also scored the county board for failure to set up an emergency control center. When he suggested that the courthouse basement might be utilized for such a center, the commissioners protested that if an attack has wrecked the courthouse its basement may not be a good place for the center of county government.

The only action the state coordinator obtained from the board Tuesday was a promise to "take the problem under advisement and give it careful attention."

Other Business
In other business at Tuesday's four-hour session, the county commission set 10 A.M. Tuesday, May 21, for the initial meeting of the county agriculture zoning board.

Refused a request that the county furnish county surveying services for a building site purchased by Fairland Day Care Center, Inc., explaining to the day care center board president, Fred Haslinger, that state law prohibits contributions to non-profit organizations.

Rejected all bids on an automobile for the county vehicle inspector director, and voted to re-advertise, being more specific about the possibility of a trade-in of vehicles.

Approved a plat for Grapco's Mobile Home Estates. The lots are less than the county requirement of 75 by 125 but approval was given on assurance from the owner that a sewage disposal system is being installed.

Authorized County Welfare Director Anna Dee Church to collect any money which indigent women may be able to pay toward pre-natal and maternity care costs.

Gave approval to an application for permission to open a cemetery. Bob Sherwood, who presented the application on behalf of Lakeview Memorial Gardens, Inc., said final approval for a cemetery must come from a state agency but that agency requires a statement of approval from a majority of the county commission before processing the application. If approved, the new 1000 plot cemetery would be located between Sebring and Avon Park.

Received permission from the State Road Department for construction of a deceleration lane along Kenilworth Blvd. at the entrance to the motor vehicle inspection station.

Authorized a cost study of widening of road 77A South of the mall in Lake Placid. At present this road is 16 feet wide and many accidents occur there, the Lake Placid City Council reported.

Received a report from the forest ranger that Highlands County has had 61 fires since January 1. In the opening months of 1967 the county had 61 fires.

The mantis is the only insect introduced accidentally into U.S. that has proven to be beneficial to agriculture.

Dr. Larsen introduced Pastor Kerk of the local Adventist Church. Bishop's archdeacon is a hobby of Pastor Kerk and he showed on video of a trip he made to Mt. Sinai.

The trip started in Egypt. The group visited many of the famous attractions of the ancient civilization located along the Nile before departing for the Sinai Peninsula. The trip was some 150 miles across the desert in an old Chevy.

Along the way Pastor Kerk showed many of the historical points of interest along with brief background comments. Members were invited to look at some relics and specimens that Pastor Kerk had brought back. We thank Dr. Larsen for this most interesting program.

The Bible Speaks To You on Radio

Heart transplants are raising many questions about life among thoughtful people. Centuries ago Jesus said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." What does this promise mean today? Listen Sunday, May 26, 9 A.M. WJCM to Part 1 of "Make You a New Heart."

MAY 12 WAS of double importance to Mrs. Katherine Kalberer, the oldest mother, for she also celebrated her birthday on Mother's Day. With her for the occasion were her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Waller of Washington, D.C., and Mrs. E. F. Westfall of Sebring.

DONNA GWENN was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillip Collier of Moor Haven at 9:17 P.M. on May 11, making Mrs. Collier the youngest mother in the hospital for Mother's Day.

We thought about Your Greenery — Your Scenery — Your Neighbors ... Then we thought up the "round one"

Carrier

The round one is what's new in central air conditioning. Makes all the others ... well, kind of square.

The round one tosses heat and sound straight up ... away from shrubs and neighbors. And the round one looks good doing it!

When we designed the round one, we made it quieter, smaller, stronger, simpler and for less money. So a housefull of Carrier Air Conditioned comfort will cost you surprisingly little.

See this latest example of Carrier value: the main reason more people put their confidence in Carrier than in any other make.

Here Comes The Bride

On their wedding day, the bride and groom give to each other a very special gift, a gift that eloquently expresses their mutual love and perfectly commemorates this most important day in their lives.

The bride usually prefers to wear the pearls as a gift from her future husband. A lovely keepsake for her to treasure and wear long after the wedding day would be lustrous cultured pearls, suggests the Jewelry Industry Council. Naturally, the groom will choose his gift of pearls according to his bride's preferences. Depending upon the style of her wedding dress, she may want a single, glowing strand of graduated pearls, a choker of uniform pearls, a lovely pearl cluster pin — all with matching earrings.

A fine watch is the time-honored gift from the bride to her groom. Whether it has a gold mesh, gold links or superb leather band, he is certain to identify a fine watch with the wonders of his wedding day. She can also give him pearl studs and links in keeping with the specialness of the day.

Diamonds, as the symbols of undying and all-enduring love, make ideally suited gifts to be exchanged between bride and groom. Fiery delights that will remind her, always, of the great joy and happiness of her wedding day.

Traditional, too, is the giving of a memento of the happy occasion to the bridal party, which has contributed so much to the splendor of the wedding.

WEDDING MEMENTOS... of jewelry gifts are something special to the Maid of Honor and Bridesmaids, assures bridal consultants. The Bride picks that special gift from a selection of diamond studded earrings, cultured pearl necklace and ring, fashion watch pendant, gold filled bangle bracelets and pin. Courtesy: The Jewelry Industry Council

The choice of these gifts is a matter of special consideration because the bridal couple wish to express exactly their appreciation and happiness to their attendants. That's why jewelry, with its personal and unique flavor, is the favored gift. ●

The Maid of Honor's gift should be very special. The Council suggests gold jewelry set with cultured pearls or semi-precious stones. A cultured pearl necklace or bracelet is a lovely and lasting reminder of the wedding. Important

The groom remembers his Best Man best with a personal gift of jewelry. Handsome gold, silver, stone-set cuff link and tie bar sets, elegant gold or silver pocket lighter and cigarette case monogrammed with his initials and the date of the wedding, a gold or silver money clip or belt buckle are all handsome ways for the groom to say "thank you" to his Best Man. The Ushers will appreciate pen and pencil sets, leather pocket accessories, cuff link and tie bar sets.

"You ask if Lady Byron was ever in love with me? No! I was the fashion when she first came out: I had the character of being a great rake, and was a great dandy — both of which young ladies like. She married me from vanity and the hope of reforming and fixing me."

handy tips for the wedding day

At a wedding, everyone notices hands. Since the wedding guests are gazing at the new ring on the bride's finger, they are also gazing at other pretty hands which are yet to have rings slipped upon them.

For this reason P'acquin hand care experts recommend that Bride and bridesmaids use lots of hand and body lotion to make arms, elbows and necks petal smooth.

all about Flowers Loving Way to Express Your Thanks

After all her fears, she didn't trip on her train. Dad remembered his one line and the groom showed up! The bridal bouquet landed in happy hands and rose petal "confetti" accompanied the new Mr. and Mrs. to their honeymoon car.

The rules of etiquette claim the bride has six months to acknowledge her wedding gifts. The girl with foresight, however, can send special, personalized thank-yous well in advance — without cataloging her presents while sitting on the banks of Niagara Falls.

While the bride-to-be is discussing church and reception arrangements with her Florists' Transworld Delivery design expert, she can also order post-wedding bouquets. The thoughtful gesture is an unusual way to thank friends for throwing showers, buttoning gowns and calming nerves before the ceremony.

Only one girl catches the good-luck flowers tossed at the reception; imagine how thrilled other close friends will be to receive miniature bouquets the next day! Each of the nosegay remembrances carries a special wish for equal happiness.

Parents-in-law will be more impressed than ever with their son's choice if a "thank-you-for-the-help-you've-been" planter or centerpiece arrives before the bride can invite them for their first home cooked meal. Through the FTD inter-city network of florists, the order can easily be filled, whether or not the girl has married the boy next door.

And then to the biggest and best gift of all — a smashing bouquet of her parents' favorite posies for the couple who paid the bills. Of course, the newlyweds pick up the tab for this one! No fair telling the florists to add it to Dad's charge.

They also recommend a liberal application of hand cream for extra-dry skin every night for a week before the wedding — as well as a good application just before the ceremony starts. Smooth hands are not only essential for smooth looks, but there are constant introductions and hand-shaking at a wedding reception.

James W. Jenkins, director of research for P'acquin hand care products, says that women of all ages should use hand creams and lotions to help preserve moisture in their skin. So mothers of the bride (and groom) should also start grooming for the wedding day. All eyes will be on them, too!

"A good husband never publicly reproves his wife. An open reproof puts her to do penance before all that are present; after which, many study rather revenge than reformation."

Remember The Day With Gifts

Days Before Wedding Are Busy Ones

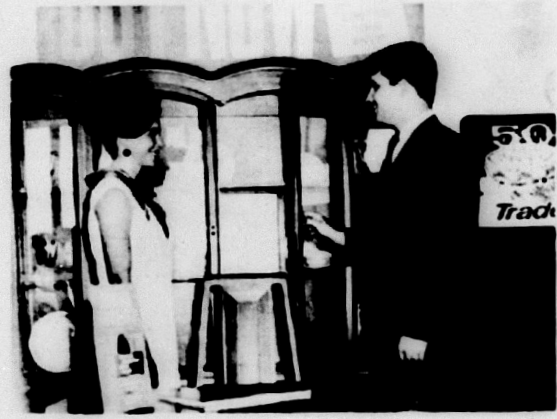

Here Comes The Bride

Your wedding day—a day to remember forever.
And the beautiful, often hectic, days which precede most weddings.
One of the prettier weddings of this Spring season, as the traditional month for brides, June, approaches, was that of Miss Donna Jean Branch to William Graper Kosco.
The handsome couple was joined in marriage Friday night in an elaborate ceremony at Sebring's First Methodist Church. It was truly a Spring wedding, all pink and white.
The impressive ceremony was the climax to a busy time of showers, apartment hunting, luncheons, shopping for outfits and home furnishings.
On this page, we trace part of the pre-ceremony activity for one of our loveliest brides, Miss Branch, now Mrs. Kosco.

A RADIANT BRIDE-TO-BE, Donna Branch, tries on her floor length white satin sheath wedding gown with the Alencon lace accent. Her mother, Mrs. Ruth Branch, adjusts the elbow length veil of silk illusion as they both admire the costume in a mirror. Miss Branch was united in marriage Friday, May 17, to William Graper Kosco at First Methodist Church of Sebring.

A BREAKFRONT to hold some of the many wedding and shower gifts attracts the attention of Donna Branch and William Kosco at a local furniture store. Apartment hunting and furnishing were some of the many activities for this young couple in the final week before their marriage.

A VERY FORTUNATE couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Kosco, seen here before their wedding admiring some of the many wedding and shower gifts which came their way. They are holding the silver coffee service which was the gift of Donna's father, Don Branch. This was one of the bride's favorites.

LUCKY IS THE bride who is gifted with her silver service, Donna Jean Branch and William Kosco examine silverware at a local store. Which silver service to choose is a very important decision, since it should be keyed to the china and crystal patterns. (News Photo)

THE SPRING BRIDE selects a beautifully simple gown of Irish linen. This beautiful simple gown is subtly shaped and distinctively enhanced with floral applique embroidery. The easy A-line style falls gracefully from a high waisted yoke with tiny sleeves. The long, regal train is also strewn with floral applique embroidery on linen and is detachable. The matching headpiece is an oversized bow with a sweep of chapel length silhouette.

For That Bridal Glow Start with Soap, Water

What makes a "radiant" bride? Your rosy glow of happiness and excitement that surrounds the wedding surely contribute, but a vibrant, healthy complexion generates the compliments of wedding guests.

There isn't a girl who has said "I do" who doesn't want to maintain these great good looks. Too often, though, it's only a few weeks before you are sure to be enmeshed in your new routine as wife, homemaker, and perhaps working girl, with little time to give to your personal beauty program. Only the rarest complexion retains its smoothly lovely loveliness attended only by the daily bath-with-face-washing and a little make-up

With so much help at hand today, there is little reason for a dull, coarse, lifeless complexion. This is certainly an area in which it pays to think ahead. While today you can hardly imagine your first wedding anniversary, start now to spare yourself that rueful glance of your tenth, when you may begin to wonder how to salvage your face or your figure.

It is a great temptation to say, "but I'm only 18," or 20, or whatever your present age. Experts answer that with "Now is the time to start your life-long skin care program. And they are unanimous in making cleanliness the first step. Start and end each day with soap, the antibactericidal kind, such as Dial, and water. For the face characterized by enlarged pores, the addition of an astringent may enhance cleansing. Then cream. In the morning, use a moisturizer that comes between you and your make-up, in more ways than one. It goes on before cosmetics and protects the skin from drying effects of some beauty potions. Before bed, another dose of lotion, perhaps a creamier one, is called for.

Neck neglect, a common complexion detractor at almost any age, is easily remedied with twice daily inclusion in Moderate use of cosmetics is not only good fashion, but good complexion care. However, it isn't putting them on, but taking them off that becomes many a pretty face's Waterloo. Every trace of make-up should be gone before your head touches a pillow. In addition to soap and water, use a mascara, eye-liner, and any thing else with water proofing

Problem skin should be presented to a cosmetologist (lay skin specialist) or a dermatologist (medical doctor specializing in skin care). Home treatment should be limited to cleanliness, good nutrition, and adequate rest. Regular use of mild antibacterial soap builds up an invisible film of germs-inhibiting protection—a real help for some skin problems. Sunshine and fresh air are still important for good skin health.

By starting now (even before the wedding), your complexion care routine will be second nature in just a few days and is sure to help you keep that "radiant" bride look for a long time.

GIFT WRAPPING . . .

AND BRIDES
When a gift is something special, the wrapping should be just as special. Choose wrapping materials to fit the occasion and the recipient.

Experiment with materials other than standard gift wrapping paper and ribbon (such as crepe paper, nylon net, copper wire, and large sequins), or give conventional materials a new twist. With little ingenuity, the results can be dramatic and interesting.

Small tuck-in gifts, such as measuring spoons tied with a bow, are fun for showers. One gift becomes two if it's given in a reusable hatbox, covered with fabric or wallpaper. No wrapping necessary — just PLANNING FIRST HOME—Looking for furniture and planning that first home can be fun and is something engaged couples usually do together. A davenport, representing a sizeable investment, requires careful consideration. Diane Landress examines the construction of one at Turner Furniture Store, while her fiancé Wayne Lemler, tests the seating comfort. They will be married August 3, 8 P.M. in the First Baptist Church, Avon Park.

TABLE WILL BE SET—Selecting china, silver and crystal—is something some girls do ahead; others wait until they become engaged. Evelyn Brown selects her crystal pattern from Mrs. Exie Caffee. Evelyn will be married to Charles Metcalfe, Jr., June 29, at the Davidson Presbyterian Church, Davidson, N. C. Evelyn is instructor of music at the Highlands School for Girls and "Chuck" is associated in business with his father.

PLAIN AND FANCY STYLES—Plain or fancy, wedding invitations—as well as napkins and matches for the reception—are available in a wide range of styles. Jim Bob Meddow and his fiancée, Joan Brasher, ponder their selection. They will exchange nuptial vows June 8 in the Episcopal Church in Tampa. Traditionally, both families prepare an invitation list, and the bride and her family handle the addressing and mailing tasks.

FLOWERS ARE IMPORTANT—Whether they be roses, orange blossoms, carnation, stephanotis or other varieties of posies, flowers are an important part of the wedding—both in bouquets and decorations. Mrs. Nell Roberts, Ridge Florists, displays some delicate roses for the inspection of Deborah Ann Reddick and her mother Mrs. D. R. Reddick. The wedding of Deborah and Clifford Roy Valentine is set for July 13 in the First Methodist Church, Avon Park.

GRANTED, IT'S THE SENTIMENT—the thought, the love that comes first. The gift that is really forever, modest or elaborate, it never stops giving love, beauty and pleasure as it is worn. Don't crowd your purse for the rings, tell the salesman the amount you can pay and he will show you an assortment within your price range. Joyce Ann Dailey and Ronnie Wilson look over an assortment of wedding rings at Jordon's jewelers. Their day is set for June 16, 2 P.M. in the form of a home wedding.

Honeymoon? Travel Light And Easy

Whether you are headed for an exotic honeymoon paradise, or for a weekend in a cozy, country cottage, a few packing reminders always come in handy.

Heavier articles such as shoes should be packed against the bottom end of your suitcase so when the porter clunks your bags down hard (and he will!) the heavies won't slide down and crush all in their path.

Since air travel puts every stop brief hours apart, pack your dresses last on top of everything else. The moment you arrive, the dresses come out first to go busily about shedding wrinkles and the rest of the bag need not be unpacked at all. And another quick tip — color coordinate sunglasses to each outfit as you pack, so there is no fumbling about for the right eye excitement when you are ready to go.

The really smart bride knows that a clutch of colorful sunglasses adds weightless chic to a travel trousseau. They also offer the important bonus of rested eyes while soaking up the sun and sights. The first pair to tuck into the light end of your bag could be a Cool-Ray Polaroid "Sunswept." It's dramatic, dashing and affords maximum eye protection in deep wrapped shape and shatter resistant lenses that eliminate reflected glare.

The third last thing a bride needs on her honeymoon is to pack a lot of unnecessary clothing. In Antigua, no formal ball gowns are required for trailing dramatically through the dining room. And hubby doesn't need to pack his soup-and-fish.

Brides take cool cocktail cottons and grooms take summer jacket and tie and cool trousers. Swim suits are the uniform of the day and Bermuda shorts for jaunts around the island. . . .

THAT FIRST MEDICINE CHEST . . . ORGANIZE IT FOR HIM AND HER

Little things mean a lot to the new bride. Besides picking exactly the right color for the living room draperies and choosing the correct place mats to go with her silverware, she should remember to take stock of an important item: the new family medicine cabinet.

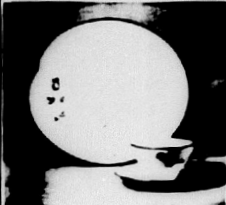

A new bride cannot take all those vitamins, lotions and pills for granted. She has to fill the medicine cabinet in her new home and fill it wisely.

Aspirin tablets, iodine and cold pills are essentials along with a proper supply of bandages, cotton and gauze for use in case of emergency. Since the young lady will most likely be just getting to know her way around the kitchen, an ointment for burns and Vaseline petroleum jelly for chapped hands might be wise additions. And don't forget something for an upset stomach in case dinner doesn't turn out exactly the way Mother used to make!

WEDDING AND FAMILY PHOTOS make ideal wall decor in the bride's first apartment or home. Experts suggest framing them in different style frames, available from department, chain, or variety stores. Start with a small grouping and the family gallery will grow as the family does.

Use Pictures For Best Effects

Whether your first home as a bride is a little apartment, a small house in need of paint, or a dream home, the problems of decorating it move right in with you. The "big" items, such as furniture, frequently present the least difficulty. If new furnishings aren't possible on your newly-married budget, "early attic" or the latest in "rummage sale provincial" can make a charming home with a little paint and imagination.

One quick, easy, and relatively inexpensive decorating trick can be accomplished largely with things you're sure to have on hand. The Picture and Frame Institute suggests using wedding and family photos to decorate a secondary wall — that is, any bedroom, hall, or stairway wall where personal accessories are as appropriate as framed reproductions of paintings. Living and dining area walls should be reserved for more universally enjoyed art and decorating accessories, the Institute points out.

You can begin with one photo of the wedding party or several and add to your family wall as new photos are taken or new family members added. Frame your photos in wood or metal tone frames from any department, chain, or variety store, mixing the frame styles and sizes.

Your photos might be framed individually or as a montage

Arrange your photos with one of the larger ones as the focal point. Center it where you wish the eye to fall first. Careful placement of the surrounding pictures will give a finished look to the arrangement and still leave room for additions.
