Documentary Being Filmed On Alcoholism

WFLA-TV cameras swung into action recently at Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, Avon Park, as Tampa's Channel 8 prepared a 30-minute documentary on alcoholism in Florida. The telecast, tentatively titled "Profile of an Alcoholic," is scheduled to be aired at 8:30 P.M. Sunday, June 2.

A portion of the documentary was also filmed at alcoholism installations in one or two other cities in the Channel 8 viewing area.

Organizations in other areas of Florida may borrow a film presentation of the documentary from Channel 8 after it is telecast June 2.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday night a letter from Dawkins & Associates requesting a letter be filed with the Florida State Board of Health requesting application be kept current for sewer funds was read, motion by Mr. Albright, seconded by Mr. Lane to authorize the Mayor to file such a letter. Motion carried unanimously.

Herb Willis and Gill Surrett of F.A.A. appeared in regards to runway improvements at the airport. They stated the program might be endangered by a change in runways. The City Attorney was instructed to proceed to acquire property at airport necessary for runway improvement.

Agreed to accept the low bid of Superior Paving, Inc. of $25,835.80 on schedule one and Springle-Quimby Electric of $15,587.80 on schedule two on airport runway improvements, upon recommendation of consulting engineers Birstol & Associates, and subject to F.A.A. approval.

A discussion was held of leaks at airport hangar. Crichfield Marine has begun moving in equipment for beginning operation. Pearl remodeling is stripping the joints over the north lean-to to stop leaks and stated same treatment is needed on north side of main hangar. Motion was made to strip seams on north one-half of hangar roof, city to buy materials and Pearl Remodeling to do labor at no charge.

Dr. William Stallard appeared before the Council in regards to possibility of City payment for installation of water and sewer utilities at new Junior College site with college to amortize cost over a period of several years. He quoted figures for estimated costs of construction. He also gave estimates of growth in enrollment and payroll for the college in future years. Copies of the architect's plans for utilities were presented to the Council. Dave Tower of Dawkins and Associates stated they objected to main lines running under the buildings. A lengthy discussion was held. A future meeting of the college representatives, the architect, the city engineer and city officials is to be held.

Mayor Doerr discussed the Bi-Racial Committee. He stated he was having trouble securing men who were willing to fill the vacancies. He asked the council for their recommendations. After discussion the matter was tabled until the next meeting.

Stanley Zalezki appeared and inquired as to use of city vehicle by the city clerk. Mr. Scott explained that the city clerk used this car for many city purposes and that it was also used by the police department at night and on weekends and in case one of the other police cars was in the shop.

The city clerk reported 13 water meters installed in March, 8 installed in April and 40 thus far in May.

The proposed schedule for city election was given by the city clerk. Qualifying for city election will open June 12, 1968, close at 5 P.M. Saturday, August 10, 1968 and city election be held Tuesday, Sept. 10, 1968. Registration will be held at the city hall during the period qualifying is open.

Earnest Lofton made a request for a taxi license. He was requested to get the Railroad Commission permit and state and county licenses before city license was issued. The city attorney suggested a provisional city license be issued contingent upon the other licenses being granted. A hearing was set for June 10 with other taxi operators to be present.

It was reported Tony Phillips had quit as police dispatcher. Prevatt was transferred to police dispatcher at $70 per week.

The city attorney was requested to prepare the forms of warrant for collection of delinquent personal property taxes.

Agreed to cancel $2.50 personal property tax for 1967 on Charles Metcalfe apartments as he did not have any personal property in the apartments.

Employed Calvin Carter and Keith Albritton as lifeguards and Harold Callaway as relief lifeguard.

It was reported that two sessions of school for city mechanics on setting up the vehicle inspection station had been held in Avon Park and final school was held Monday in Arcadia by the Highway Patrol.

A letter from the Municipal Code Corporation regarding new city ordinance on hours of sale of alcoholic beverages was referred to the city attorney for investigation and reply.

It was decided that water samples would be taken monthly by the County Health Department.

A report of the Golf Association for month of April was given. Memberships $360, greens fees $591.30, total check to the city in amount of $951.30.

A request of the Chamber of Commerce for copies of minutes of city council meetings was approved.

Furniture at Youth Center building was discussed. The Park Committee was authorized to dispose of same.

Audit reports for the general fund and for water and sewer funds were presented. These audits were for six months period from October, 1967 through March 31, 1968.

Motion by Mr. Martin, seconded by Mr. Howard to install two street lights on North DeSoto Ave., two on No. Summit Ave., one on West Church Street, and one at West Canfield and South Forest Ave. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Mr. Martin, seconded by Mr. Howard to pay H. M. Flowers $300 for overtime work as electrician and other duties. Mr. Albright, Mr. Howard, Mr. Martin and Mr. Scott voted Aye. Mr. Lane abstained.

Agreed to buy materials for two bleachers at the softball field.

The city clerk was requested to check condition of doors at city barn and have repaired if feasible.

Mr. Lane requested that area on South Anoka between West Main Street and West Pine Street be cleared and planted with grass.

Mr. Albright requested painting of rusty spots on metal at city sewer disposal plant. A special paint is to be ordered.

Motion by Mr. Albright, seconded by Mr. Martin to borrow $30,000 from the water system to pay for the new airport hangar and related improvements and to authorize the city clerk to transfer funds as required weekly from the water department to the general fund not to exceed a total of $20,000. Motion carried unanimously.

THE AVON PARK Kiwanis Club is looking for ten more businesses to purchase litter cans to be placed on Main Street. The Avon Park slogan is "ever clean, ever green," and the Kiwanis solicits the cooperation of all citizens to help make this possible. Interested persons may call Tom Clark GL 3-6733, Bill Owens GL 3-3117 or George Haynie who is shown in picture at GL 3-3750.

A first in the history of Avon Park High School will occur on June 5, at 8 P.M. when the 1968 graduating class will hold graduation exercises at Memorial Field.

Here to fore, all commencement programs have been held at the high school auditorium, but this year, the baccalaureate service only will take place in the auditorium on June 2, at 8 P.M. In case of rain, the graduation exercises will be moved back to the auditorium.

Charles Danforth, chaplin of Walker Memorial Hospital, will deliver the baccalaureate message to the 1968 senior class. All churches have been invited to join in this community service.

Grand marshalls for the occasions will be Patricia Miller and Marcia McDugald. These places of honor are recognition of the highest scholastic average through their junior year of school.

LEST WE FORGET MEMORIAL DAY

On Memorial Day and every day let us remember those who gave their lives in war that we might have peace. Let us honor them in loving memory. Let us newly devote ourselves to preserving the peace they longed for, and the generation they died to save. For human life is too precious a coin for futile spending, and the price of war was never more costly than in this age.

CITY HALL CLOSED

Thursday, May 30, Memorial Day, a legal holiday, will be observed by city employees. The City Hall will not be open. Garbage pickups will be made as usual.

There is a price tag—a big one—on the funds that Highlands County has been receiving from Washington in the form of grants-in-aid.

A study shows that local residents, through their taxes, have been paying approximately $1.11 for every $1 that has been coming back for public housing, welfare, roads, hospitals, urban renewal, education and other civic improvements.

That is the rate at which they have been contributing to the various aid programs via direct and indirect taxes that are allocated for such purposes.

And this is exclusive of what the community has had to put up in the way of matching funds for local projects.

The current study, which covers the past fiscal year, was conducted on a state-by-state basis by the Tax Foundation, a private, non-profit organization that keeps tabs on public taxation and spending.

It shows that in over one-third of the states, including Florida, more was paid in Federal taxes for grants than was received in aid. One state, Missouri, broke even. In 31 states, on the other hand, more came back than was put it.

The figures for the State of Florida as a whole show that some $412,000,000 of the Federal taxes collected locally went into the air programs and that $370,000,000 was received in grants.

As to Highlands County, a breakdown of these totals indicates that contributions amounted to approximately $1,443,000 and benefits to about $1,295,000.

It is explained that no attempt is made in distributing the grants-in-aid to allot them dollar for dollar. The awards are related to need and desirability from an overall standpoint. As a result, the needier communities generally end up on the plus side.

The Tax Foundation finds that grants-in-aid to state and local governments have more than tripled in the last 10 years. Nearly half of it is now going for health, labor and welfare purposes, the fastest-rising outlay being for the war on poverty.

National spending for grants during the next fiscal year will be close to $20 billion, according to the budget.

Inspection Stations To Open Monday

"If everything goes all right," the county's two new car inspection stations will be open for business Monday, June 3, John Gercken, director of motor vehicle inspection, says.

The Avon Park station on the bypass truck route will definitely be in operation, but paving might slightly delay the opening of the station on Kenilworth Boulevard in Sebring, Gercken said.

Hours are Monday through Friday, 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. and Saturday 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. It is cash only, no checks accepted, and the price is $1.75 every six months.

If the last number of your 1968-69 tag is 4 or 5, June is your inspection month; 6 or 7, July; 8 or 9, August; 0 or 1, September, and 2 or 3, October.

$9.5 Million Paid Florida Residents

Florida residents received benefit payments of over $9.5 million from The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company during 1967, according to Bud Worden, South Central Florida agent for the company. Almost 70 per cent of the amount paid into the state was received by living policyholders as benefits from their own policies. The remainder was paid as death claims.

In addition, Worden noted that Mutual Benefit had nearly $117 million invested in Florida businesses, homes and farms at year-end.

GolfTrophies To Be Presented Saturday

Sunday, May 26, Wayne Knowles defeated Pete Peterson one up in 36 holes to become Avon Park Golf Course 1968 champion. Wayne and Pete both sot 75's in Saturday's round to finish all even.

On Sunday, Pete went two up at the end of seven holes then proceded to lose the next three holes to go three down. Wayne lost two holes of his advantage and came to the 36th hole only one up. The last hole was halved making Wayne the champion. Knowles shot 75 to Petersons 78 on Sunday.

First flight champion, Lawrence Ford won two and one over Les Burch. First flight consolation Jack Duggan defeated Smokey Padgett five and four.

Second flight champion Lee Maness won five and three over Jim Martindale. Second flight consolation Bill Reck defeated Frank Shannon six and five.

Third flight champion Don Serdynski won over Talmage Sparks six and five. Third flight consolation Al Poole defeated Leamon Kelly three and two.

All the members are invited to be present June 1 at the club house for the presentation of trophies to the champions, the runners-ups and the consolation winners beginning at 5 P.M.

BARRINGER RETURNS

Bob Barringer, of Avon Park, defeated candidate for sheriff, and for many years chief deputy sheriff in Highlands county before he resigned to make the race, is back in the sheriff's office at his old job. He resumed duties as chief deputy, which were handled by J. C. Murdock in his absence.

First Degree Murder Trial Of Sweet Scheduled for October 28

John J. Sweet will be re-tried for the murder of millionaire Charles Von Maxcy beginning October 28, almost a year to the day his trial in Bartow began a year ago and ended in a hung jury.

The new trial date of October 28 was set Friday at a conference in Circuit Court Judge William K. Love's Lakeland chambers. Present were State Attorney Glen Darty, and defense attorneys James McEwen of Tampa and Walter Manley of Lakeland.

A venire of some 175 persons had been summoned and Love had begun his examination of an initial group of 28 men and women for jury duty in Bartow last Monday when Darty asked for a continuance.

Two Massachusetts women, slated to testify in the case, were unavailable. The women were Mrs. Jeanne Kelly, who could not be found and Mrs. Annette Etter, who is pregnant.

Darty said Friday another witness also is said to be pregnant. She is Mrs. Ernest Higgins, daughter of the murdered man's widow, Irene, by a previous marriage. The daughter was in the hospital the night of the killing.

BARBEN RENAMED

Robert Barben of Avon Park was re-elected a director of Florida Citrus Mutual, District 6, at a recent meeting of the Mutual in Lakeland. They will be installed at Mutual's 20th annual meeting in Winter Haven June 18. Membership in the Mutual has reached a new high of 14,752 grower-member contracts.

BUSINESS WAS UP

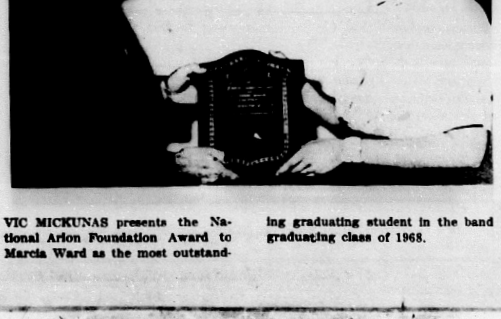

Sales tax collections in Highlands County for April of 1968 totaled $104,010.82, up 19.16 per cent and indicating a business boost of at least that per cent. Collections in April of 1967 were $87,281.76 and in March of 1968, $86,445.77.

Report Cards Ready June 12

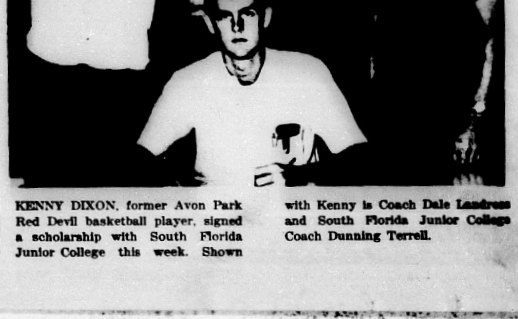

Students may pick up their report cards from their individual teachers at Avon Park High School on June 12 from 8:30 to 11:30 P.M.

Any students not able to come on that day to pick up their report cards can leave a self-addressed stamped envelope at the school office for their cards to be mailed to them.

The school office will be open to give out any report cards not mailed or called for on June 12 and June 17.

Sgt. S. R. Myers Receives Metal

Army Sergeant Simmie R. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling T. Myers, who live in Avon Park, received the Good Conduct Medal May 10 while assigned to the 10th Artillery in Germany.

Sgt. Myers received the award for exemplary conduct, efficiency and fidelity in active military service.

Assigned as a gunner in Battery A of the artillery's 6th Battalion, the sergeant entered the Army in June 1965, completed basic training at Ft. Gordon, Ga., and was stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla., before arriving overseas in November 1963.

His wife, Renate, lives in Avon Park.

Residents Smoking Less

Apparently the higher price of cigarets didn't affect the habits of Highlands County smokers to any great degree. In fact, they were smoking more in Sebring and Lake Placid.

Cigaret tax collections for May in Sebring were $9,700.75, Lake Placid, $2,228.34 and Avon Park $6,689.88. This compares to tax collections for May of 1967 from Sebring of $8,842.66, Lake Placid, $2,202.12 and Avon Park, $7,349.40.

NOTICE

Rotary Report

By WEYMAN CARVER

Art Wilhite introduced two outstanding Avon Park High School students, Patricia Miller, a Junior, and Marcia Ward, a Senior, who entertained the club with talks and demonstrations on radioactivity.

Both girls are members of the National Honor Society. Marcia has a 3.97 out of a possible 4 for her four years of high school and Patricia has a 3.87 average for her three years of high school.

Their program consisted of talks on radioactivity, explaining in detail the Alpha, Beta, and Gamma Rays. They explained how the carbon fourteen dating process works. Every animal consumes carbon fourteen in its food. Scientists have determined the rate of emission of radioactivity for carbon fourteen. When the human or animal dies, the carbon fourteen which is in the bones, is not resupplied. Thus, its radioactivity becomes increasingly less each year. By measuring the amount of radioactivity in the bone, and having established what it was when it began to diminish due to the fact that it was not resupplied, and knowing the rate that it decreased, it is possible to determine when the diminishing began, and thus the time elapsed since the human or animal died.

This same method using other types of radioactive residue, is used in dating rocks or other materials.

The girls demonstrated the use of the "Radiological Survey Unit," better known as the Geiger Counter. They also showed the "Docimeter," a small instrument about the size of a fountain pen, used by personnel working in areas where radioactive material is used. The docimeter is set on zero at the beginning of each working day. Each time the worker is exposed to radiation, the docimeter records the amount, thus furnishing a total at the end of the day.

Due to damage which radiation can cause, a person is allowed only so much per day and if he receives the maximum permissable, he is transferred to a work area in which radioactive material is not used.

Before the days of street lights, one householder in each seven hung a lantern out along the street in front of his house, each night, with the six neighbors providing the fuel.

DEAN GRIFFIN, director vocational, technical and continuing education at the South Florida Junior College, was the featured speaker for the DCT banquet held Tuesday, May 21 at Griffin's Restaurant, when employees honored their employers.

DCT Club APHS Host Employers With Banquet

The DCT Club (Diversified Cooperative Training) of Avon Park High School and their instructor Lee Burch entertained their employers at the school annual banquet Tuesday, May 21 at Griffin's Restaurant.

Little "Miss DCT" Trina Jill Avery, announced the program with changes of placards as the program progressed. Starting with "welcome" the club president James Chestnutt welcomed the guests and school officials, followed by the flag salute and invocation by Rev. R. Marshall Wilson.

Next change announced "dinner" after which Mike Bedgood introduced the guests. Ferditha McRae and Nathaniel Crumody favored the group with two vocal numbers and Nathaniel sang a solo.

Next placard read, "speaker" H. Dean Griffin, director vocational, technical and continuing education at South Florida Junior College. He was introduced by Dennis Raczkowski, vice president of the club. Griffin discussed the training at SFJC and told of the short courses available to the adult, stating there is a program for all. Using as his topic, "Human Relations and the World of Work." He spoke of the employers need and the employees capability to work with others.

He admonished the students to cultivate people, as good human relations opens the door for the student as they enter the world of work.

Guy Garrett, supervising principal of Avon Park High School, presented the awards to the employers and thanked them for their cooperation.

The Library Corner

Do you know that about three weeks ago a young service man from the Bombing Range was waiting at the door for the librarian to come to open the library. He had been transfered and was ready to move. He had married a Japanese girl who spoke English well but could not read it.

She had contacted the library where she was given good advise and fine consideration. She was started with the simpliest book and was advancing into the children't library, each time taking out a little harder book, thus, she was teaching herself to read.

The young husband expressed his appreciation for the kindness and help given to his wife by the librarians.

One of the recent gifts to the Avon Park library is an "artcraft" edition of The Essays or Counsels, Civil and Moral, of Francis Ld. Verulam or The Essays of Francis Bacon. This is a new edition of the Peter Pauper Press reprinted from the DeLuxe Artists' Edition.

Those who have esteemed these essays in the past will be interested in this presentation. Of Love, Of Truth, Of Death, Of Travel, Of Friendship, Of Riches, are a few of the over 50 essays included.

HOW TO GET OUR NEW LOWER PRICES FOR ELECTRIC WATER HEATING

We're pleased to announce, along with our new lower rates for electric service, even lower prices for our residential customers who use only electricity to heat their household water supply.

We've mailed notices inviting such customers to take advantage of this rate reduction by letting us know that their household hot water supply is heated electrically.

Hope you've mailed to us the stub that qualifies you for this water heating discount. If not, please do so now. If you've misplaced the notice and stub, just get in touch with our nearest office.

As you'll see in the box below, the more electricity you use, the greater the saving—because the low rate of 1¼ cents per kilowatt-hour applies to one-quarter of all electricity used in excess of 180 kwh per month, not just to electricity used for water heating.

100	$ 5.24	$ 5.22	$ 5.22
250	9.18	8.88	8.78
500	13.74	13.38	12.96
584	15.28	14.89	14.34
750	18.31	17.88	17.10
1000	22.87	22.38	21.25
1500	31.49	30.63	29.00

About 70% of our residential customers now enjoy the many advantages of clean, flameless, electric water heating. If you don't, now is the time to switch. A modern, quick-recovery electric water heater in the 40-gallon size provides the average household with an abundant hot water supply. And the purchase price is less than for flame-type water heaters.

Check it out with your contractor or appliance dealer. Then as soon as your space-saving, safe, electric water heater is installed, let us know so that you, too, can get our special discount.

At left is Paul W. Czamanske Jr., Jacksonville district sales manager. Mr. Lanier was one of 13 dealers in the Jacksonville district to receive the award. The district includes all of Florida and southern Georgia. In presenting the award to Mr. Lanier at a recognition luncheon, Mr. King explained that the awards are presented to a select group of dealers for progressive management, modern sales and service facilities, sound merchandising practices, and a continuing interest in rendering superior service to Ford owners. Sales leadership in both cars and trucks in the dealer's trade area also is a requirement for the award.

Frances Blood Succumbs May 24

Mrs. William Frances Blood, 78, died in Walker Memorial Hospital, Friday, May 24.

She was born in Illinois and made her home in Yankeetown 14 years, coming to Avon Park four years ago.

Her husband preceded her in death May 9, 1968.

She was a member of Eastern Star of Erie, Ill., also a member of the Parson's Community Church, Yankeetown, Fla.

By: Happy Strom

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swearingen, Winter visitors in Avon Park, will celebrate their 50th anniversary June 2. Friends may send cards to 803 Gardenia, Royal Oak, Mich. 48067

Mrs. E. H. Reisner drove to Tampa Airport Saturday where she met her daughter, Mrs. William Harkins from Boston. They will drive to Hagerstown, Md., and Morristown, N. J., where they will visit friends and relatives for the next three months.

Mrs. Harold Strom drove to Fort Lauderdale Friday where she spent the weekend with four of her friends from Indiana, who were vacationing there.

Junior Woman Host New Members

The Junior Woman's Club held their last meeting of the year in the form of a coke party at the home of Carol Owens, Lotela Terrace. Ten new members were received into the club and honored at the coke party.

No meetings will be held through the Summer, but a rummage sale is planned for August. Members may take all their articles to the Ridge Florist for the sale.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Carol Owens and co-hosts, Carolyn Tomlinson, Dianne Landress and Cheryl Guerndt.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Swearingen spent the weekend in Miami visiting friends.

Mrs. Thelma Merrill and Mrs. David Roche have returned from a 3500 mile sightseeing trip. They traveled through 12 states and enjoyed the beauty of each state. While in Pennsylvania they visited Mrs. Merrill's relatives and friends in Bethlehem, Allentown and Zieglerville. Returning through Illinois they encountered stormy weather and the ladies decided to return home earlier than anticipated and they report they are very happy to be home.

Mr. and Mrs. Slater Yocum have returned to their home in Avon Park after a month in Pine Grove and Philadelphia, Pa., where they visited relatives and friends.

Judge Mervin Rehrer and Mrs. Rehrer attended the Florida Bar Convention and the meeting on Florida Probate Practice including Guardianship and Testamentary Trusts held Wednesday through Friday at the Americana in Miami. The convention followed the meeting.

Gladys Rutledge is leaving this weekend for Jamestown, N. Y. to visit her granddaughter "Kakie" Peterson who is expecting the birth of her first child. She will visit friends in Boston and Massachusetts and will return in August.

Choir To Give Concert at First Baptist Church

The Concord Choir of the First Baptist Church of Orlando will give a sacred music concert on Thursday, June 6, 1968 at 7:30 P.M. in the First Baptist Church of Avon Park. The tour choir has a membership of 55 high school young people.

The choir will present a service of sacred music which will inspire and lift hearts in praise to God for a wonderful Saviour who can lead young people to follow Him in dedication of life.

One of the features of the service will be a pantomine of the Geoffrey O'Hara number "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." The pantomine group consists of seven girls of the choir portraying in movement the meaning of the words of the song. The pantomine group has been featured at the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlantic City, N. J. and at the Florida Baptist Convention meeting. The program will also include music by brass and woodwind ensemble and a violin solo.

The choir was featured on the program of the Baptist World Alliance in Miami and also during music week at Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly, Ridgecrest, N. C.

The program will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Irey, ministers of music at the First Baptist Church in Orlando.

Clinton Collins Celebrates First Birthday

His mother, Mrs. Charles Collins invited five guests for the party. The birthday cake was in the form of a sailboat in red, white and blue, which was served with ice cream. Favors of boats were given to the guests.

Prizes will be awarded at the end of the season to those reading the most books.

all about Flowers

"KEEP AWAY EVIL SPIRITS"

The Arabs of many centuries ago carried talismans. It was simply a magical figure cut in metal or stone. Its purpose—to drive away evil spirits.

There was one tribe of Arabs who changed that superstition. They used a certain little blossom from a desert flower. "It is so lovely," they said, "that as long as you carry one of the blossoms, nothing evil could come near you."

Well, we don't know about that but we are convinced that the most lovely—most appreciated—gift, is a floral gift. Send flowers to someone who is sick or shut in; it will warm their hearts.

Two return-card bottles were dropped overboard in mid-South Atlantic, recently. One was found on the West coast of Africa, and the other on the East coast of South America, on about the same day.

In the final selection of a used car you may want to utilize this buying tip. Take the car to a dependable service center and for about $12.00 he'll perform the following:
Remove the spark plugs and check the compression. Remove the wheels and check the brakes and lining. Check the exhaust assembly — Muffler and tail pipes! — Finally drive the car in an attempt to detect any transmission faults. This will help eliminate or at least minimize any large expenditures you could have in repairs.

Sunday Service June 2, Christian Science Church

"They that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought. For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee."

These verses from Isaiah are the golden text of the lesson-sermon to be read in all Christian Science Churches this Sunday. "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the title of the lesson. The service is open to the public.

Passages from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include these lines, "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

Schedule At Redeemer Until Sept.

Sunday, June 2, is Pentecost, commonly known as Whitsunday. The Episcopal Church of the Redeemer goes on a Summer schedule of services this Sunday, omitting the 11 A.M. service and the Wednesday services.

The 7:30 A.M. service will be taken by the Rev. Dr. Joseph Bernardin, of St. Francis' Lake Placid. The 9:30 A.M. service will be taken by some of our Lay Readers: Milton Bishop, Paul Calvert and George Cone. It will be morning prayer and sermon from the prayer book. Dr. Bernardin will celebrate at 7:30 using the rite of the book of common prayer.

The Rector will return to Avon Park about June 5 or 6. This Summer schedule will continue until mid-September. Children are expected to attend services with their parents during the Summer while classes are in recess.

The annual parish picnic will be at Camp Wingmann on the afternoon of Sunday, June 9. Those wishing to swim or water ski can go out earlier and the covered dish supper will be at 6 in the mass hall.

Transportation can be arranged at the coffee hour after the 9:30 A.M. services June 2 or 9. Everyone please come and bring friends or guests. Cold drinks will be served with the supper. Everyone must bring his own table service and a passing dish.

Student Summer Reading Program

If Janie and Johnnie are not reading at their grade level and are going into grades 7-10, they may be interested in the Summer reading program to be held daily in the Avon Park High School air conditioned library. Classes will run from 8-10, or 10-12, or 1-3 to accommodate the interests and recreational schedules of the students.

Excellent materials are available and a wide variety of interests will be served. Developmental reading is fun and profitable as the children who took reading last Summer will attest.

For further information one may call the Avon Park High School office or Mrs. John L. Knapp, Summer program reading teacher.

The program will run from June 25 through August 2 with emphasis on vocabulary development as well as reading for pleasure and advancement.

Marcia Ward Receives Arion Award

Special awards were given to the Avon Park High School Band members and graduating members Thursday evening, May 23 at Camp Wingman, where the annual band banquet was held.

The dining hall was gaily decorated with Maypoles throughout and carried out in miniature on the tables and favors. Florida greenery and gardenias lined each table with a large arrangement of peace and pink roses on the speakers's table. Hanging baskets of flowers were seen overhead.

Jerry Wicker, captain of the band, acting emcee, introduced Billy Martin, band president and wife, Vic Mickunas, band director and wife and Guy Garrett, supervising principal of the high school and wife. All band officers were recognized and band parents who assisted the Band Association.

Vic Mickunas, commented favorably on the band and recognized the Majorettes on Majorette Day.

Students receiving band letters for two years with the band were: Susie Biggs, head majorette; Fran Thompson, co-captain; Sarah Turnbull, Bill McDaniels, Marcia Rhodes, Barbara Boney, Bryan Weber, Bill Nickoley, Sandy Lucas, Tommy Capell, Diane Murphy, Louise Bennett, Sylvia Martin, Paula Curlee, Betty Padelford, Gwen Sharp and Tim Williams. Vic spoke of humorous incidents as each letter was presented.

Awards were given to soloists, John Hasson and Mike Bradberry, who made Superior in the contests. The drum quartet, Don Strenth, Milton Howard, Tom Capell and Bruce Peterson, also made Superior and received awards.

The coveted, National Arion Foundation Awards issued to the most outstanding band member in all fields, was presented to Marcia Ward.

In token of appreciation, the graduating band members presented Vic Mickunas with a gift and each girl member gave him a kiss and a handshake from the boys, much to everyones delight.

Following the banquet, a dance was held in the recreation hall of Camp Wingman with dancing to the "Cellar Doors" of Winter Haven. The decorations carried out the Maypole theme. Punch, nuts and mints were served.

Change In Schedule At First Methodist

Listed on the church page of this issue you will find a new schedule for services at the First Methodist Church.

No evening services of worship for the months of June, July and August. MYF at 5:45. Both morning worship services remain unchanged.

About one-fourth of the 639 muscles of the human body are in the neck and face.

Robert Watson Organ Recital May 31

Robert Watson will present an organ recital May 31, 8 P.M. at the First Methodist Church in Sebring.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Watson, former residents of Avon Park while Robert attended school here.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Albert Schatt wishes to thank all neighbors and friends for the cards and visits to him in the hospital and for their kind wishes for a speedy recovery.

FRANK JUNN, 314 E. Pine St., proudly displays a 5 lb. cauliflower and a 2½ lb. tomato he raised in his garden. The tomato a solid, firm one, is of unknown variety. He planted the seed from a 14 foot vine of tomatoes he grew in Pennsylvania. He has hopes that this vine may exceed the 14 foot one and produce more tomatos, growing in Florida.

Winter Guest Club News

Elizabeth Clarke — GL 3-6733

Shuffling

Wednesday evening there were five and one-half courts in play in the evening tournament. Grace Warner and Kate McAlexander won in the main event. Francis McRae and Reed Simpson were the runners-up. Consolation winners were Elizabeth Clarke and Herb Shaupet over Lois Johnson and Eva Chamberlain.

Just as the Saturday evening group met to play the rain started. The way to beat the rain is to play in the morning as do fair men, every morning. Bill Kenna, Charles Fenstermaker, James Yanielli and Ralph Lambert play three games.

Card Games

Monday afternoon John Nuber came in first with 850 score in pinochle. C. A. Lawrence came in second with 836.

Dance

One square on Monday and two squares on Friday evenings had their fun in square dancing, pattern dancing and round dancing.

Supper

On Saturday evening the regular pot-luck supper was held with Arlene Lane as the hostess. On Memorial Day at 6 P.M. there will be a special pot-luck dinner for everybody. You all come. This will be Thursday, May 30.

News Exchange

Floyd Riborsky is in La Porte General Hospital in La Porte, Ind., for surgery.

The Floyd Stevens will spend this coming weekend with the Ira Shaders in Royal Oak, Mich. The Robert McBeths will also be visiting the Mason Hounds in Milford, Mich. All four couples will attend the open house given for Paul and Ethel Swearingen on their 50th wedding anniversary at their son's home in Grosse Pointe Park on June 2. Their address is 1135 Bedford, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich.

We regret to report that Frank Fisher passed away Sunday evening. Burial in New Carlisle, Ind. Mr. Fisher was a long time member of the club and will be missed by his many friends.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Frank Fisher in her bereavement due to her beloved husband's death on Sunday evening at Walker Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Frank Fisher left for home on Friday morning with her brother, Lee Wilhelm and wife, Elnora, arriving safely in New Carlisle on Saturday evening. The interment will be in Patton Cemetery, LaPorte, Ind. from the Amen Funeral Home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bland Neuskirk received word from La Porte, Ind., that Pearl McIntyre had been in an auto accident in Joplin, Mo., and was in the hospital. She will be flown by airplane to LaPorte Hospital, in Indiana, as soon as she can be moved. Mr. and Mrs. L. McIntyre were members of the Avon Guest Club. Her friends here all send wishes for her improved health and a complete recovery.

Mrs. Harry Longanecker was pleased to have her son, Don and wife, Martha visit with her this weekend, and attend church on Sunday, followed by dinner at the Sebring Circle Cafeteria.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nickels just returned from a trip in their camper. We are glad to have them back.

FIX-IT TIP

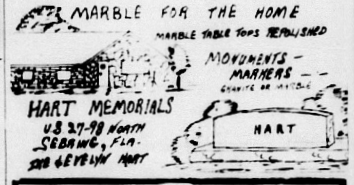

Keep your wooden boat in ship shape by treating the areas near the shear clamp and the bilge with a high quality wood preservative before applying a marine coating. These areas are very susceptible to rot. Note: Wood preservatives contain volatile solvents and should be allowed time to dry thoroughly before painting over them.

Dr. Stallard Speaks To Foundation

"The community college movement represents the educational salvation of the youth and many of the adults of our nation," the president of South Florida Junior College told delegates to a National Science Foundation convention in Chicago.

In an address before the 4,000-delegate convention Dr. William A. Stallard described the junior college as "truly representative of all segments of society as any institution extant."

He deplored red tape and multitude of curricula and faculty requirements which hamper the rapidly expanding junior colleges which each succeeding year receive a larger percentage of the nation's high school graduates.

To meet the educational needs of the nation, Dr. Stallard advocates more community col-

Avon Summer Recreation Will Get Underway June 24

The recreation portion of the Highlands County School Summer enrichment program will get underway in Avon Park, June 24 at three different centers with Joe Franza acting as director of the entire program.

This summer all elementary boys and girls from grades one through six will use the Avon Elementary playground as headquarters with Andrew Miracle in charge of activities.

Hopewell Elementary and Junior High School will offer recreational activities under the direction of Mrs. Lorraine Howard each weekday morning.

The Avon Park High School gym and facilities at Memorial Field will be open to junior and senior high students only this Summer with scheduled activities set mainly for afternoon and evening hours.

Band Director Vic Mickunas will instruct the first three weeks of the program offering all types of groupings and individual study in the band room of the Avon Park High School. Interested students should contact Mr. Mickunas for further information.

The recreation staff will include Ralph Hill, Larry Pickett, Margaret Collins, Joy Criner, Fred Sandlin, DeWayne Lemler and Norris Brooks along with Franza, Miracle, Mickunas and Mrs. Howard.

The elementary playground will be supervised each morning from 9:30 to noon and then the elementary students will meet there to board the bus for swimming instructions which will be given from 2 to 4 each afternoon this Summer. Mr. Miracle has also planned special trips within the county each Friday afternoon for the youngsters.

All swimming instruction will be in the afternoons from 2 to 4 with the annual 10 days of assembly line beginning swimming instruction which will be given from 2 to 4 each afternoon this Summer. Mr. Miracle has also planned special trips within the county each Friday afternoon for the youngsters.

All swimming instruction will be in the afternoons from 2 to 4 with the annual 10 days of assembly line beginning swimming instruction which will be given the second week of the program—July 1—under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Collins. Boys and girls who need to learn to swim should plan to enroll in this concentrated instructional program. Any parents who wish to help in the program should contact Mrs. Collins. Anyone under school age who want to learn to swim will have to be accompanied each session by a parent.

The beginning swimming lessons will run 10 days.

The program for students in grades seven through 12 will include activities such as golf, twilight baseball, weight-lifting, track activities, basketball, informal table tennis and badminton games, tennis and a weekly dance at the Avon Elementary Cafetorium on Tuesdays with a band.

Two daytime trailrides and one overnight camping trailride for boys and girls with horses have been planned and the possibility of some riding instruction and horse care lessons is being considered.

Three field trips are tentatively planned for junior and senior high students. The Arcadia rodeo, a trip to Vero Beach, and one to Busch Gardens are in the plans.

An increased emphasis on activities for girls is planned this Summer and if enough interest is shown a "powder puff" football game may take place one night during the Summer with the girls getting an opportunity to play some football for the fans.

Avon Park parents should note that the recreation phase of the Summer enrichment program is just one of the many activities offered students during the Summer. Also available will be reading improvement classes at both junior high schools, a four-week pre-school training program for boys and girls who will enter the first grade next Fall, and an academic program for high school students with courses in typing, American History, World History, and possibly other subjects being offered.

Highlands County will also sponsor its own "Head Start" program this Summer.

Hurricane Abby Passes Over Avon Park

Hurricane Abby on Tuesday passed over Avon Park but it was such a baby hurricane by that time—a tropical storm—that all it left was a good, soaking rain.

The eye of the storm was apparent in Sebring at 12:30 P.M., lasting until about 3:30 P.M. The rain stopped, the air was still and the sun started to peek through. About 4 o'clock the rain started again, although it seemed diminished from the morning.

The drenching rain which accompanied this first hurricane of the season got a hearty welcome from practically everybody, citrus interests in particular.

It was the kind of hurricane that even the most skittish of tourists could enjoy without unnecessary worry. The winds blew, the trees swayed, the rains came, the eye arrived on schedule, and the rains started again as the cane moved toward the East coast. But all very mildly.

Abby entered the state at Punta Gorda from the Gulf of Mexico about 9 A.M. Tuesday morning with heavy rains and about a 70 mile an hour winds which promptly diminished over land. At one time, during the morning, the radio was reporting that the howler had broken up into squalls.

County Ranger Roy Williams of the Florida Forest Service reported that from 8 A.M. Monday until 8 A.M. Tuesday the DeSoto City station reported 5.3 inches of rain, Highlands Hammock 6.5 inches, Brighton 5 inches and Archbold 4.2 inches.

Ranger Williams reported the rainiest month in years with the DeSoto City station reporting 8.7 inches for the month, Highlands Hammock a whopping 13.10, Brighton 4.6 and Archbold 7.9.

Assistant County Agent Tim Harmer reported the cane rained out their citrus institute. About 125-200 people were there Monday at Camp Cloverleaf, but 7 inches of rain discouraged them and only a dozen showed up Tuesday. They'll be able to get the same information in August at Camp McQuarrie in the Ocala National Forest, he said.

He said the slow, steady rain was "terrific" for farming and citrus interests, and it will bring the water table up to "where it should be." The table has been lowered by two years of severe Spring droughts.

Although Abby was not touted as much of a hurricane, it never

Commission Seeks to Reveal Finances Of County Offices

A move to subject the finances of county offices — including salaries paid — to greater public scrutiny has been launched by the Highlands County commission.

Commissioner H. Earl Crutchfield introduced the successful motion to request each elected county official to submit to the commissioners a complete financial report which includes all expenditures, item by item and name by name.

Crutchfield explained, "The county commission derives a lot of its revenue from excess fees collected in county offices. We should have complete reports from these offices so we can estimate costs and know what we can expect."

County Attorney Hue Nunnallee cautioned the board that its control over county offices is extremely limited. "The actual budget of these offices is passed on by the State Comptroller. The duty of this board is to ascertain whether an office is being properly operated under the law and if it is not fulfilling its legal responsibilites, to report to the Governor."

"The Attorney General says it is difficult but necessary to distinguish between legal requirements and budget," Nunnallee explained.

Commissioner Jean Whitaker, who gave enthusiastic support to Crutchfield's motion, exclaimed, "You mean we have no right to see what is being paid in each county office? How can we tell whether the county is paying too much or too little for salaries?"

Crutchfield contended, "It is all the taxpayers' money, and if the county commissioners have no control over it I want that clearly understood by the public."

Commissioners Cecil Skipper and Carl McIntyre supported the motion, but cautioned the other commissioners that the letter to other county officials should be phrased as a request.

McIntyre pointed out that the Tax Collector and Tax Assessor are not required to report their

United Telephone Company Files At Petition for Reconsideration

United Telephone Co. of Florida, denied a raise in rates by the Florida Public Service Commission, has filed a petition for reconsideration, claiming their low rate of return is "less than just and reasonable and is confiscatory."

The company's return for the test year, which ended June 30, 1967, was only 4.57%, according to the petition, whereas the FPSC had agreed that 7.18% was a reasonable return on the investment.

In denying the raise, the commission relied on a new segment of the law which permits decisions to be based on the quality of service the utility provides. In denying the raise, the FPSC gave poor service as the reason for the denial declaring "a telephone company sells mainly service and this company does not have much to sell."

A technical point has been raised by United, however, which they hope will win their point. The new act became a law without the governor's approval, and was not filed until July 7, 1967, nearly a week after the July 1 date when it was to have taken effect. The utility claims that a statute cannot be retroactive. The legislature adjourned July 14 and the Florida Constitution provides "no law shall take effect until 60 days from the final adjournment."

United has proposed a rate raise which would up the average bill by $42.73 per year, and claims they cannot make the needed improvements until they get more money.

In petitioning for reconsideration, the company pointed out in

McGee Elected: Skipper to Face Herbert Harmon

County Commission Chairman Ben H. McGee won his bid for re-election over Woodrow Waldron in the second primary election last week and Robert Skipper coasted easily into the Democratic nomination for the District 5 seat.

Skipper will face Herbert Harmon, Avon Park Republican, in the November election for the seat of retiring commissioner Carl McIntyre.

McGee defeated Woodrow Waldron, a political newcomer, 2,385 to 1,099 and Skipper defeated Bill Haynes 2,507-1,467. Waldron carried precincts 9, 11, 12, 13 and 14, which were Sebring USO and DeSoto City, Lorida, Venus and Lake Placid. Haynes carried only the Sebring USO precinct, 80-37.

The race between former Governor LeRoy Collins and Attorney General Earl Faircloth for the seat of retiring Senator George Smathers followed the first primary, locally, Faircloth again winning, this time by 2,369-2,148, although Collins won the squeaker state-wide.

Highlands County voted with the rest of the state to nominate Joe Boyd, of Hialeah, 1,988 to 1,372 for Sam Cooper for the State Supreme Court nomination. He will face C. Richard Leavengood of St. Petersburgh in November.

Highlands County also voted with the rest of the state to give the Smathers slate of delegates to the national Democratic convention the nod. The slate got 1,657, Sen. Eugene McCarty, 640 and the Scott Kelly slate 537.

In the Collins-Faircloth race, Collins carried precincts 2, 6, 8, 9 and the absentees. These precincts were Voting Building, Avon Park, Triangle, Tourist Club and USO, Sebring. Collins will face conservative Republican Ed Gurney of Orlando in the November election.

Palmist Seeks License In County

Highlands County commissioners have received their first application for a license to practice palmistry. Mrs. Virginia Johnson, attractive Avon Park resident, appeared at the commission meeting Tuesday to learn how she can obtain a license in this county.

County Attorney Hue Nunnallee opened the interview candidly. "It is no secret that the Legislature tried to legislate you out-of-business." He went on to explain provisions of a little known law which provides that anyone who wishes to practice fortune-telling under any of a dozen titles must file a written application and picture with the clerk of the circuit court.

The clerk then must make a detailed investigation of the applicant and make a recommendation to the board of county commissioners which has the final decision on whether a license is to be granted.

Mrs. Johnson asked the board to consider the license application at its June 18 meeting and brought a fat folder of references for Clerk Earl Rich to use in his investigation.

One Half Of Tax Certificates Unsold

The annual sale of delinquent tax certificates drew its smallest crowd in years last week—and for the first time in 10 years, there was more than one parcel turned back unsold.

In fact an unbelievable "at least half" of the 431 parcels were unsold. Several regular buyers failed to appear.

Tax Collector W. H. Prescott was busy Friday afternoon and the first of the week contacting persons he thought might be interested in purchasing certificates. There were quite a few parcels in Avon Park Lakes and Orange Blossom Estates which had no takers.

As of Tuesday, Prescott had 145 items unsold totaling $1,599.50 and he planned to turn all still left back to the county commission before today.

When the certificates went on the block Friday on the court house steps, Prescott had 431 parcels owing a total of $15,633.08 in delinquent taxes.

One of the regulars who did not appear said Prescott was a representative of a firm which buys certificates as a business but had already purchased its limit.

Food Fair Cuts Prices On 8000 Items

Jerome Antley, manager of Food Fair, has announced a cut in prices on over 8,000 items in the store. Discount prices will be put on items comparable to "Pantry Pride Stores" plus the issue of trading stamps.

All shelves have been cleared, items newly marked, including meat, dairy, produce and groceries.

Thursday, June 6, today will be the grand opening, with free coffee demonstration and doughnuts served throughout the day.

Free merchandise will be given with the purchase of one of a number of items throughout the store.

Hearing June 20 On Brucellosis

A hearing will be held at 1 P.M. June 20 before Judge J. H. Willson on whether a permanent injunction should be granted to halt brucellosis testing in Highlands County.

Circuit Court Judge Clifton Kelly already has denied a temporary injunction. Some farmers in the area hae requested the program, while others, represented by Ray Raulerson of Okeechobee, claim they do not want the program.

County Inspects 106 Cars First Day; Rain Slows Operation

Rain and lack of paved driveways slowed operations in the otherwise smooth launching of Highlands County's two motor vehicle inspections stations this week.

The stations—at the county barn in Avon Park and off Kenilworth Blvd. in Sebring—began operation on schedule at 9 A.M. Monday. The first day 106 cars were inspected, and according to John Gercken, vehicle inspection director, about 70 per cent of all vehicles failed their initial inspection.

In a report to the Highlands County commission, Gercken on Tuesday said about 20 per cent of the cars which failed their first test returned later on Monday and passed the second inspection.

Light alignment was easily the biggest cause of failure Gercken said of about 70 per cent of the vehicles which did not pass Monday were rejected because of lights. Brakes were the second largest cause of rejection.

At the Avon Park station "a couple of cars were rejected because of front ends," Gercken noted, "but practically all the rest of failures were lights or brakes."

Gercken said he had visited privately owned garages and service stations which have inspection equipment where motorists can have vehicles checked and/or repaired to pass inspection at the county stations.

Gercken told the commissioners, "Most have adequate equipment, but many times the people working there are not using the equipment properly and in a few cases the garage floor is not level—and that throws the equipment readings off."

Gercken said the first day operation was "slow because we are all so new at it." He said each inspection required about 10 minutes. There were lines "most of the time on Monday but the rain on Tuesday cut down on that some."

But the rain didn't ease work any. The unpaved driveways were messy and inspectors kept cleaning up to keep the station floors from becoming slick.

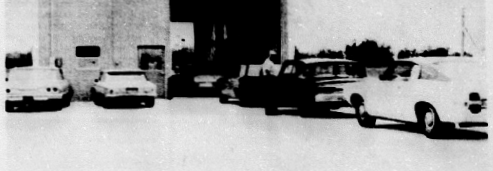

The commissioners noted Tuesday that paving at the stations would be done as soon as possible. "We can't start until after the stations close at 4 P.M. on Saturday afternoon, then work as hard as we can that day and Sunday it's the only time we have," Commissioner Cecil Skipper said.

One thing that is not causing a problem in the early days of inspection is the inspection fee. Gercken said each motorist has had the $1.75 cash in hand.

A few vehicles are coming in early, Gercken noted, "but that's no problem, as we gain experience we'll be able to work faster and that will help reduce the lines." He said the work load is evenly divided between the two stations. Avon Park has handled a few Polk County vehicles.

CARS LINED UP MONDAY to get checked at the Highlands County's Avon Park inspection station located at the county barn on the truck route. Inspection fee is $1.75 and each automobile has to be checked twice a year.

Senator Kennedy

The shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy points up the increasing lawlessness rampant in this country. No matter what your politics, you must deplore such actions.

The lunatic fringe in this country seems to be coming more and more to the fore with public figures as a target, recalling the assinations of the senator's brother, President John F. Kennedy, and Rev. Martin Luther King.

That something should be done to more effectively curb lawlessness goes without question. Whether it be tougher laws, more power for police, new and very restrictive gun laws, we do not know. But action is needed. What is happening to our country?

a 19-page brief that they already have taken considerable steps to improve service.

A list of the improvements shows considerable work in the Fort Myers-Naples-Cape Coral area. From Oct. 1, 1967, to March 31, 1968, United of Florida expended for gross additions to its plant and facilities the sum of $7,206,188.

Ten additional toll ticketers, the brief says, are now being installed at the Avon Park Toll Center and scheduled to be placed in service June 24.

The total number then in service will be sufficient to render adequate service at Avon Park Toll Center," says the brief. "An additional 20 ticketers are scheduled to be placed in service in December, 1968, to meet expected growth requirements."

Since Oct. 1, says United, they have reduced held orders for primary service to 16.9 per cent and for regrades, to 54.1% toward the goal of rendering service upon demand.

"This performance record emphasizes the sincerity of its (the Company's) intentions and fulfillment of promises expressed by the Company's witnesses at the hearings."

There has been substantial improvement in operator answering time they point out.

The per cent of calls, requiring more than 10 seconds to answer, in the last month, April 1968, was 14.3% for Fort Myers and 11.6% for Avon Park.

United has demonstrated good faith in its promises to improve things, says president L. E. Travis, by bringing in new and highly experienced leadership — a new vice president-operations, chief engineer, personnel director, comptroller, 14 new engineers.

Reasonable wage increases in expectation of the rate case were given to employes in line with similar labor contract negotiations elsewhere in the system, and "emphasizes the need for immediate additional gross revenues."

budgets to the county commission at all but may submit budgets directly to the State Comptroller for approval.

Whitaker freely admitted that his interest in the complete budget reports stems from embarrassment he suffered when Col. W. J. Atkinson came to the 1967-68 budget hearing with a demand for a report on salaries paid in the Sheriff's Department. "And we didn't have an answer," Whitaker said.

Crutchfield said while salaries is a primary interest in the budget reports, he believes other expenses should be given in detail — and often is be noted.

Col. Atkinson, who is chairman of the county's Republican executive committee, was not present for the Tuesday commission meeting. He had reported that he encountered "some stalling" when he asked in the Sheriff's Department for salary reports, but "when I cited the law on public records, the payroll was furnished," he has said.

Judge Asks Raise

The commissioners received a request for a salary boost Tuesday. Juvenile Court Judge Mervin Rehrer said that because of population increase his salary should be advanced from its present $2520 to $3000. The commissioners filed the request without comment.

Other Business

In the absence of Commission Chairman Ben McGee, Vice Chairman Whitaker presided for the meeting Tuesday. Other business included conditional approval of a grant of $3000 to Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children to operate a summer program for the county's school age retardees.

Approved July 2 for public hearing on a rate change for Ridge Disposal Service the garbage service for the northern part of the county.

Many Thanks . .

To you, the voters in Highlands County, for supporting me for County Commissioner, District 3.

Should We Guarantee Annual Income to Idle?

Since the National Council of Churches has gone on record as favoring the Guaranteed Annual Income proposal, there may be some who think that the proposal must have some support in the Scriptures.

However, it is an error to conclude that endorsement by the National Council itself means that there is Biblical sanction for the scheme.

In fact, the teachings of the Bible are on the other side.

"Poor Always with Us"

There is no question but that, as Jesus said, there will always be poor people — people who need and must have the help of others who do not want anyone to suffer because of unfortunate circumstances.

It is a basic Christian teaching that we have an obligation to care for the sick, the fatherless children, and others who are unable to provide for themselves.

But, when it is proposed that the federal government undertake an obligation to provide a guaranteed annual income to all — including the able-bodied but shiftless—there is no Biblical sanction for this.

The teaching of Scripture is quite clear on this point.

Commanded to Work

"Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise" is a familiar Old Testament admonition to those who are able to work but would prefer not to.

Even more specific is a New Testament statement on the same subject. The Apostle Paul, writing to the Christians at Thessalonica, said, "We hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all . . . Now, them that are such we command . . . that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread."

Lest there be any misunderstanding of the meaning of this, or the action to be taken if the commandment is disregarded, the apostle also said, "When we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat."

This, of course, is not intended to apply to those who are too old or too young or too sick to work — but it certainly does apply to those who could work but would rather have others work and support them in idleness.

Road to Destruction

The Guaranteed Annual Income is a sure road to Guaranteed Eventual Destruction of the people who learn to live at the expense of others.

There are some who believe that it would also be a step toward the eventual destruction of our nation, already suffering from other unsound financial policies and practices.

Wouldn't it be better to adopt the Biblical program and see how it would work?

School Board Approves Lay Nominations

Highlands County school board has approved 98 nominations for the schools' Lay Advisory Committee. At the June 11 meeting the board is to make appointment to the committee from these nominations.

School Superintendent George P. Douglass, who had recommended formation of the Lay Advisory Committee to serve as a quasi-official link between the public and the schools, said to be a workable group there "probably should be 12 to 15 appointments from each of the three areas of the county."

As outlined by Douglass most of the work would be by areas with the Supervising Principals carrying recommendations to the school board. Each of the area committee would be encouraged to bring in other citizens for "tasks forces" assigned to particular problems.

R. L. "Smokey" Padgett, Avon Park board member who will retire at the close of December, has been nominated for a place on the Advisory Committee.

The nomination list include many persons who were active in community action meetings during the February teacher walkout, and some are veteran Parent Teacher Association participants.

Retired Persons' Spring Picnic

The final spring event of the American Association of Retired Persons is a June picnic. On Thursday, June 13 at 12:30 P.M. the members of the A.A.R.P. will hold a picnic at Highlands Hammock State Park. They will meet in the picnic area and each will take his own lunch.

If you have games that you think the group would enjoy, please bring them, said R. Wesley Smith, president, today. "Please wear your name tags so that we may become better acquainted. Come at 12:30 and stay as long as you can."

us a people! The manage, of the very nice motel greeted us heartily, and the waitresses served us with curtesy and politeness.

It was a wonderful feeling to be accepted for our character and not labeled by our color. Wherever we went no one acted as if a wild beast had just escaped from the jungle. They didn't turn up their noses. They really accepted us.

The treatment we received makes me think that the person who told me to look for those things, must have talked when he should have been listening.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOBE

SOLLY, THE K. O. KID
By O. L. SHOBE

One thing tickles me about the little nation of Israel, and that is the hefty, knock 'em in the jaw," method of handling their numerous enemies who object to them taking their ancient country back, after roaming around all over the civilized (?) world and parts of New York City and other heathen places. I get a big kick out of them. While the U. N. is getting its valise packed up to go and arrange peace along the Jordan, the peace has already been arranged, with the Arabs and their Soviet advisers in full flight, and all the expensive war material from Moscow in the hands of the Jewish army and headed for the "barn." That is not the way Uncle Sam fights these days, as you notice John son is not a true Southerner. I think, at least he is not the fighter that Grant and Sherman tangled with in the 1860's Never! As a bright little kid of un certain age, I liked to sit around and listen to the members of the G. A. R tell how the Johnnies fought at Shiloh, Vicksburg, Atlanta and Pea Ridge, and they praised the Reb for valor, decency and other virutes common to American soldiers, North and South.

PROTESTING BETTER THAN WORKING

Ray Robinson, a Chicago walking delegate of the Chicago branch of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in the "poor peoples siege of our national government, told the Senate sub-committee on manpower, employment and poverty: "You guys are not going to solve this problem. You are the problem. I am the problem. So, I'm telling you, and you, and you, pointing them out let's bring some joy. I am sick of pain. I'm non-violent until you put your hand on me and then I'm sending you to the cemetery."

The "Rev." (Lordy how many "Revs" are there down South) Ralph Abernathy, new leader of the S. C. L. C. and leader of the "Poor Peoples' March," speaking before the same subcommittee above: "America's poor will wait no longer for a better life, decent jobs, a chance to hold up our heads . . . We need immediate income maintenance program."

The Rev. (another one), a director of the Ford Fellowship program, put in his nickel's worth like this: "We must have a guaranteed annual income." This "Rev." never read that line in Holy Writ that said "man would eat bread in the sweat of his brow," I reckon. Who is going to provide said "guaranteed annual income," the White Man? HE does not in the penitentiary, the assylum have any such, excepting those and poor houses, and even in such places, if they can work at all, they must do something to help the tax payers. This "Reverend is pretty short on common sense.

A co-ed at Columbia University, told a boy friend, "I came here for an education!" Boy friend replied, "SO did I, but I didn't come here on dad's hard-earned money to get it screaming around on the campus with a lot of wide-mouthed lunatics, who are wrecking the chances for others. Go inside and get to studying."

AMERICA IS GOING TO THE DOGS??

"To hear some people talk you would think that everything about this country is bad. Altogether too much of it is — and yet —

America now employs 74,500,000 people. American wages are by far the highest in the world. School and college enrollments are setting records. Our saving banks are bulging. We buy and read more millions of better books than any other country. Almost every day our newspapers print letters from service men in Viet Nam which makes you proud to belong to the same nation.

"Sure, we've got a long way to go, to become the nation we can and should be, but if we all be just a little more willing to WORK for everything we get, if we will discipline ourselves first and then our children and politicians, if we will accept, as we should and must, the responsibility due for our own security and future — then this great country of ours for once and forever will have nothing to fear" — Warner & Swazy, Cleveland, Ohio, makers of Precision Machinery since 1880

THE "FLOOD" STORY IS NO MYTH

There is a man by the name of Immanuel Velokovki, a Polish Jew, who spent more than ten years, traipsing around all over the world hunting up nations and tribes to find out how much they knew, or had heard of, a universal flood that swept over the world in the distant past. Most of the information he secured had some thing to do with a giant comet that came through the air and that the earth stopped rotating at the same time. Some of the Inca and Maya stories, added for hours, some saying that the sun went "backward" for several hours and that the ocean swept over lands to such an extent that some of the mountains were under water for a time. All of them had a prototype of Noah and an ark of some kind. The Cherokees and Choctaws, among whom I lived for a few years, had this story, pretty close to the account in Genesis. This is one story in the Bible that the skeptics cannot laugh off.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

What Killed Cheap Money? The War? Inflation?

Babson Park, Mass., June 6. Interest rates are very high. If Congress fails to pass a tax boost, probability is that rates will again be raised. Will today's high mortgage costs cripple the real estate business and dry up demand for new houses?

Pressure On Interest Rates

Not only are interest rates high, but some key rates are at top levels since 100 years ago, when the nation was reeling under the impact of crises deriving from the Civil War. Indeed, many rates are actually higher than during the credit crunch of the third and fourth quarters of 1966.

What killed cheap money? The usual answer to that question is "inflation," but there are quite a number of people who point to the Vietnam war as the chief culprit. The pressures of our deep involvement there are, of course, a factor, of course, but by no means an overriding one.

Steady Buildup of Inflationary Forces

Most of us think of inflation as being a broad rise in the prices of goods and services. Until the strong price advances which began in 1965, we weren't overly concerned about inflation. We simply failed to realize that not only did inflation exist, but also it was expanding at a steady clip. Recently, our tax policy in refusing to absorb enough of the inflationary flood has increased the pressure.

The growth of the economy during the past seven years, together with the war, hastened the progress of this inflation from the speed of a snail to that of a rocket. This vast expansion in Private National Product multiplied the need for money and capital funds, but the straw that broke the camel's back was the sharp rise in the general price level. A second factor, scarcely less important, has been our worsening imbalance of international payments, which has forced the Federal Reserve to restrict the availability of funds and to make them more costly by upping interest rates.

Impact On Real Estate Generally

How much further interest rates will rise depends on what steps the Administration and Congress take to cool the fires of inflation. Our guess is that the ceiling on interest rates has not yet been seen. Later on, if we have a tax boost (and if some of the nation's other problems become a bit less onerous, we would expect interest rates to ease off. Even so, money will not again be cheap for a long time to come.

High mortgage rates and scarcity of mortgage money in selected areas have already hurt the real estate business. Reports from around the nation indicate that property is being moved less readily. In areas where demand itself has been holding up, transactions are delayed and sometimes fall through as prospective buyers fail to obtain mortgages either because lenders are now screening more carefully or because the would-be borrowers cannot pay the sharply upped rates.

What About New Houses?

Potential demand for new homes is large and broadly based. Quite apart from the challenges posed by poor housing in city ghettos and rural slums, population increase and continued good economic activity are continually expanding the market.

Yet, high building costs and high mortgage rates are curbing spending for new homes this year. Many people, especially young people, find that right now they simply cannot afford large down payments and heavy carrying charges. As a result, we look for some slide-off in housing starts over the next several months, during which time the recent emphasis on apartments and multi-family houses will persist. If you need a new home, don't wait indefinitely, hoping for a big drop in either the price of the house or the cost of the mortgage. That type of break just isn't in the cards. But don't rush in to buy either. Shop carefully for both the house and the money to pay for it. Remember it will take you a long time to pay for both.

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Mysterious World Unrest Causing Crackup Among Nations

WASHINGTON, D. C. —Something seems to be afoot in the world that is cracking nations apart. Not a setting previously peaceful people at one another's throats, that is spreading a general disruptive havoc among us.

I do not claim to know exactly what it is that is causing this simultaneous eruption of unrest around the world, but I do think it is high time that someone in the family of responsible nations discover and expose this enemy of civilization.

A part of the disruption may be traced to Moscow. More certainly, Peking has had a hand in the trouble. But using Moscow's pattern of subversion to explain the recent absurd face of Czechoslovakian affairs yields no answer. There is more to whatever or whoever is stirring up this unrest than something "written on the wind," as the folk agitators tell us.

We have seen President De Gaulle deepen the rift between Quebec's French Canadians and the Dominion's English-speaking majority. Language differences are being exploited in Begium where French-speaking Walloons and the Flemish stand on opposite sides of political crisis. In recent weeks there has been a marked revival of activity on the part of the Scottish National Party in British politics. It has won an impressive number of victories over the Labor Party and the question immediately asked is whether this is as much a swing toward conservatism as it is a renewal of the Nationalist effort to take Scotland out of the United Kingdom.

But in any case it is clearly another incident in the long procession of ethnic and social schisms this mysterious spoiler is abetting across the world.

Here in our own country, we can see this disruptive force at work — at work in both its Moscow and Peking aspects. Domestic unrest, a justifiable complaint against human misery, is being blown out of all proportion by organized agitation — agitation which has set region against region, race against race, ethnic group against ethnic group, to such extent that the whole nation and all its people are restless and suffering.

But it is the unhappy fact that the very real sufferers from poverty and from discrimination in any form, the very people whose complaints deserve to be heard and responded to, are being abused by their political manipulators as ever they may have been by the callousness of the established order on which they heap the blame at the dictation of their manipulators.

I would repeat that I do not know, because individual members of the Congress do not have the resources, the access to "inside" and "secret" information needed to provide insight, what forces are involved in this disruption of the world as we have known it.

Nevertheless, there are inklings from time to time that the United States Government, in its executive branch and through its intelligence agencies, does have knowledge of the sources of these troubles that are racking us from the campuses to the ghettoes.

If these indications do indeed point to the truth that there is in our government knowledge of these sources of trouble, I must confess that I am baffled by the fact that they have not been challenged directly by the pointed and accusing finger of any outraged government.

In my opinion, this is no time to test the effectiveness of patient forbearance as a defense against so insidious an enemy. Good men and good nations are being divided and set against one another. Conceivably they could soon be conquered unless there is a will to fight back vigorously and soon.

Letter To The Editor

With your permission I would like to share with you and your public a very heart-warming experience.

I teach junior high school English at Hopewell, here in Avon Park. I am also white. Color is relevant in my story because, during this year, I have confronted my students not only with problems of grammar and composition, but also with the daily problems which illustrate the necessity of establishing honest communication between us about previously unmentioned Negro-white issues. On Monday I received the first written proof that both problems are being met and overcome.

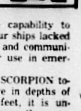

Last weekend the members of the ninth grade class took an overnight trip to St. Augustine. On Monday morning, because they were so obviously filled with the things they had seen and done on the trip, I decided to use it as the basis for a composition. This was the assignment:

Write a brief composition about the one thing that most deeply impressed you during your visit to St. Augustine. With the exception of a few minor grammatical changes, here is a copy of a paper I received at the end of the class period.

The People of St. Augustine

I was deeply impressed by the people of St. Augustine. Before our trip I had heard rumors about the white people there, the way they feel about Negros, the reasons they dislike us, such things as that I was really pleasantly surprised at their behavior. They actually accepted

CONGRESSMAN PAUL ROGERS
FLORIDA
U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D.C.

MR. SPEAKER, Once again and apparent tragedy has focused national attention on the vast education devices for use in emergencies.

I speak, of course, of the missing submarine SCORPION, just as we spoke of the THRESHER five years ago today.

When the THRESHER went down, the nation and the Congress were grieved and concerned. After an investigation, the Congress was appalled at the lack of knowledge and the capability of our Navy for preventing another THRESHER. All of a sudden we were aware that our submarines were operating with emergency devices intended to help locate distressed ships, but that these devices were developed and used as far back as World War I.

I think we were all appalled at the idea that even if we were successful in locating the THRESHER immediately, the rescue of the crew depended on the depth of the water where the sub was located. For our rescue capabilities were all but useless past the 1,000 foot mark and that figure is an optomistic one.

We did not find the THRESHER in time.

Now we are searching for another American submarine, one with 99 men aboard. This time we do not even have the advantage of supporting evidence, as the SCORPION'S position is unknown because she was not maneuvering with other ships at the time of her distress.

I think it is unbelievable that the present situation has arisen in light of the THRESHER and what we learned in that case. Investigation pointed out that the nation was lacking proper vehicles with the capability to rescue men and our ships lacked advanced homing and communication devices for use in emergencies.

If we found the SCORPION today, and she were in depths of more than 1,000 feet, it is unlikely we could save the men. We do not have the vehicle with even this capability.

The hull for such a vehicle—the deep submergence rescue vehicle which can operate to a depth of about 3,500 feet—is presently being laid. But this is of little solace to us today.

But let me go back to the original problem—the problem of locating the SCORPION. Here again we see in retrospect that recommendations for added safety devices were made in 1964, but apparently were not implemented.

In a report issued after the THRESHER disaster which claimed 129 men, the Deep Submergence System Review Group found a need to "improve alerting, marking, homing and location by installing sonde buoys and acoustic beacons on submarines."

As far as I know, the SCORPION was not equipped with such an automatic homing device. Instead, she had a manual release buoy system which apparently was not released or has fallen prey to the elements. Since the intent of these recommendations had as their sole purpose the safety and protection of the crew of ships of the United States Navy, I cannot reason why they have not been implemented.

I do, however, certainly intend to look into the matter and the apparent neglect in this regard, if the facts are as I now understand them.

The Library Corner

The autobiography of Edward Rickenbacker is entitled just Rickenbacker. Perhaps there has been no greater hero in American history than this man. Beginning with memories of his boyhood in Columbus, Ohio, he continues with the fantastic events and adventures up to the present time.

A legend in the racing field, Rickenbacker was one of the earliest racing car drivers on the national circuit, eventually owning and operating the Indianapolis Speedway for 20 years.

A legend, also, in the field of aviation, he early joined up and was sent to France during World War I with General Pershing's American Expeditionary Forces. From there he worked his way into the air service to become America's ace of aces.

Captain Eddie as he was called after this time came to be a legend in the automobile and the airline business. After he built his own car company, he finally joined General Motors. He won the right to buy Eastern Airlines from General Motors.

From the time he was a small boy he cheated death—almost an infinitesimal number of times. He was awarded 15 Doctorate degrees and the American Education Award. He won 37 American awards and citations, nine major French medals and citations, and dozens of less important awards.

The book has especialy large print and many, many illustrations.

J.O.Y. Class

The J.O.Y. Class of First Methodist Church honored Miss Mildred Henderson, bride-elect of Harry Bernklau, with a miscellaneous bridal shower in Wesley Hall, Monday evening.

Mrs. George Kelsey provided music for the occasion after which the bride-elect was directed to clever clues placed around the hall, which led to the hostess gift. A contest, forming of words from honeymoon was won by Mrs. Sylvia La Follette, who presented her prize to the bride-elect with a timely poem.

After the opening of the gifts, punch and cookies was served by the hostess class.

Lutherans Get New Pastor

Resurrection Lutheran Church of Avon Park and her sister church, Atonement in Sebring are pleased to receive Rev. Elmer J. Gregg of Franklin, Ohio as their full time pastor who with his wife will reside at the church parsonage, 508 E. Canfield St., Avon Park.

Rev. Gregg will deliver his first sermon June 9 at 9 A.M. in the Resurrection Church, and 11 A.M. in the Atonement Church of Sebring. Plans are underway for welcoming receptions by both churches, which will be announced later.

Born April 11, 1909 in Newark, Ohio he received his AB degree in 1930 from Wittenberg College and graduated from Hamma School of Theology with a BD degree, May, 1934. He was ordained in the Bethany Lutheran Church, Cleveland, Ohio, in 1935.

Rev. Gregg comes to Florida from the St. Paul Lutheran Church, Franklin, Ohio, which he has served since 1947.

Married to the former Louise L. Lind, they are the parents of two daughters, Rachel Ellen Stolarick, 32 and Allegra Ann Cadaoas, 25.

Resurrection Lutheran Church is a friendly church and extend their welcome to all who would like to worship with them and their new pastor.

Junior Woman Award Scholarship

Margaret Collins head of the educational committee of the Junior Woman's Club awarded the club's scholarship to Robert Walton, the most outstanding player on the track, for which he received a track award.

Scholarship funds are accrued through the year by the club, from rummage sales, the carnival and various other projects and presented at the close of the school year to a worthy senior who applies and qualifies.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Lee Walton. His mother is employed at the Hopewell School and his father works for Jahna Concrete Co. He is a Baptist and a member of the Devil's Club and ranks 17th in his class.

REVIVAL

The Apostolic Church of Jesus will hold a revival beginning Friday, June 17. Evangelist G. M. Mosley will be in charge of the services which will begin nightly at 8 P.M.

Public is invited to attend all services.

Some 85 million text books are printed yearly in U. S.—plus 35 million more fiction, 32 million juvenile, 22 million religious, and some 25 million more on philosophy, poetry, drama, biography, etc.

Concert Feature Pantomine Choir

The Concord Choir of the First Baptist Church of Orlando will give a sacred music concert on Thursday, June 6, at 7:30 P.M. in the First Baptist Church of Avon Park. The tour choir has a membership of 55 high school young people.

Special features of the service will be a pantomime of the Geoffrey O'Hara number "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." The pantomime group consists of seven girls of the choir portraying in movement the meaning of the words of the song. The pantomime group has been featured at the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlantic City, N. J. and at the Florida Baptist Convention meeting. The program will also include music by brass and woodwind ensemble and a violin solo.

The choir was featured on the program of the Baptist World Alliance in Miami and also during music week at Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly, Ridgecrest, N. C.

The program will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Irey, Ministers of Music at the First Baptist Church in Orlando. Mr. and Mrs. Irey have been with this church for the past 11 years. During this time a multiple choir program of eight choirs has been developed numbering 450 persons. Mr. and Mrs. Irey hold Master of Music degrees from Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and Northwestern University.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program. A fellowship period will be enjoyed by all in the church social hall following the service. Rev. Aden D. Childress is pastor of the host church.

Methodists Hold Covered Dish Supper

The choir of First Methodist Church closed their season with a covered dish supper in Wesley Hall, Thursday, May 30. They presented their choir director Paul Gentry with a gift of appreciation.

In token of the many years of faithful service in the choir, Miss Mildred Henderson, bride-elect of Harry Bernklau, was presented a personal gift. In return, Miss Henderson presented her attendants in the wedding Mrs. A. G. Hardee and Mrs. Hubert Bussard with a strand of pearls.

Pink sweetheart roses and rain lilies were used as decorations.

BETTER DEAL

TALLAHASSEE — State Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams announced recently that Nationwide Insurance Co. had joined the ranks of automobile liability insurance companies offering five-year noncancellable policies with renewal guaranteed. In addition, he said, Nationwide had attached the guaranteed renewal provision to its homeowner's insurance.

Rev. D. Mimbs Received DD May 31

Rev. Donald Mimbs received his Masters of Divinity Degree from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, N. C. on May 31.

He is the son of Mrs. P. T. Carlisle, 204 S. DeSoto Ave., Avon Park and is married to the former Arzetta Stevens of Lake Wales and has two children, Keith and Lynn.

Mr. Mimbs received his B.A. degree in 1965 from Florida Southern College, Lakeland, and his certificate of Clinical Pastoral counseling from the Bowman Gray school of medicine in Winston Salem, S. C. He was formerly pastor of East Side Mission of Lake Wales, Southside Mission, Mulberry and Associate Pastor of First Baptist Church, Lenior, N. C.

He is presently pastor of the First Baptist Church, Liberty, N. C.

ACCIDENTS

Remember how you learned to drive? It appears that people who went to driving schools and women taught by their husbands are involved in fewer accidents. This is one of the major findings of a survey of several hundred older Florida automobile drivers, 65-90, who have been behind the wheel for an average of 42 years.

Hippies hate us...

Hippies make a beeline for some Florida beaches during the summer. But they don't come here. They hate us.

It's true we have miles of snow white beaches on Anna Maria Island and Longboat Key. Fishing is absolutely tremendous. There are hundreds of spots for water sports. And we have 150 miles of beautiful waterfront.

But frankly, we're not where the action is. We're a family vacation area. People come here to have a busy, comfortable, interesting and relaxed vacation. We guarantee fun. But no protest marches.

If you're our kind of people, write for free brochures. Or drop by the Chamber of Commerce, 222 10th Street West, Bradenton, for all the details.

Two Bride-elects Feted With Party

Two summer brides-to-be, Miss Devorah Reddick and Miss Diane Landress, were honored recently with a brunch given by Mrs. Aden D. Childress and her daughter Carol Ann, at the Childress home on East Walnut Street.

Miss Reddick will be married to Clifford Valentine of Titusville in July and Miss Landress and DeWayne Lemler will marry in August.

Table decorations featured small individual bouquets of mixed flowers at each place setting marked with multi-colored place cards. A large crystal bowl of fresh fruit was served with the two-course brunch.

The hostesses presented the honoree's with gifts of china in their chosen pattern.

Guests were Mrs. Devon Reddick, Mrs. J. T. Landress, Mrs. Lucille Lemler, Mrs. Minnie Martin, Mrs. David Barefield, Miss Cheryl Guerndt and Mrs. Allen Kendall all of Avon Park, and Mrs. Nel Henderson of Wauchula and Mrs. John Hopkins of Lakeland.

Miss Kluberg Tells Wedding Plans

The wedding of Miss Nancy Kluberg and Richard D. Dobler, will take place on Wednesday, June 12 at 4:30 P.M. at the Church of the Redeemer in Avon Park. The Rev. John L. Knapp will officiate.

Miss Kluberg's attendants will be her sister, Mrs. Wright Willingham of Gainsville, Ga., her cousin, Miss Jane Nunnallee and Mrs. Powell Waite.

Mr. Dobler has chosen Powell Waite as his best man. Ushers will be John Kluberg of Clinton and William Wynn of Winter Haven.

Friends and relatives of the family are welcome to attend the ceremony and reception.

CARD OF THANKS

The Earnest Johns' family wishes to thank their many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy expressed at the passing of their loved one. They wish also to thank Dr. Ostling and the employees of Walker Memorial Hospital for the care shown him during his illness.

Wife and Children

Ann Young James Shepherd Will Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Furr and family, Mrs. Charlotte Smith and family, and Mrs. Charles Shepherd will spend the weekend in Orlando visiting other members of the family and attending the wedding and reception of James Shepherd and Ann Young.

James and Ann will be married in the Evangelican Covenant Church of Orlando, where they have both attended since childhood and where both families have been active over the years.

No invitations have been sent, but all friends may attend.

James is the son of Charles Shepherd, deceased, and Ann's father is Superintendent of McCoy Air Base in Orlando.

Stephen Smith will be the organist and John and Bill Shepherd will be attendants in the ceremony.

James will be a senior at the University of South Florida next Fall and will return to Tampa at that time.

CORRECTION

The Mitchell-Perry wedding is scheduled for June 8 instead of June 9 as erroneously stated in last week's issue.

Home Ec. Class Puts Learning Into Action

The girls of the Avon Park High School home economics class shared their learning in a meaningful way last Friday. Using their knowledge gained from their unit on child growth and development, they planned the lunch for the five year olds from Noah's Ark Child Development Center.

The children had a field trip planned to Highlands Hammock and needed some planning for the picnic lunch. One of the board members had volunteered to finance the meal, if someone would prepare it. Here is where the girls, under the able guidance of Mrs. Violet Moseley, came into the picture.

Evidently, the individual "sack" lunches were a great success, as the teachers report that everything was eaten except one sandwich. This provided an extra thrill, when it was used to coax an alligator out from under a culvert. The teachers and helpers were pleased with the well planned lunch and felt the girls did a fine job.

Misc. Shower For Bride-Elect Anne Graham

Miss Anne Graham, bride-elect of Paul Whidden whose marriage will take place July 12 in First Baptist Church was honored with a miscellaneous shower given by Debbi Buchanan and Barbara Wood at the Florida Power Lounge Friday evening, May 31.

A clever arrangement, depicting a shower with an umbrella over the center piece of garden flowers, from which ice cubes in blue and green were fastened and drops watering the flowers, were centered on the white linen covered table. The bride-elect received many lovely and useful gifts from her many friends.

A bridal cake was served with punch, nuts and mints.

Assisting with serving were: Kaye Ganey, Terry Guyton and Sharon Childress.

Garden Club Mystery Unsolved

Mrs. Guy Decker, president of the Federation of Garden Clubs, was surprised and much disturbed when she checked the supply room belonging to the Garden Club at the Youth Center Building and found the lock forced and over $400 worth of their supplies missing. Mrs. Decker had the key to the room but found the clasp of the lock torn off the building, and the screws loosely inserted.

This was the property of the Garden Club which was used in their annual flower shows and included 90 niches, five pedestals, hand painted plywood, two boxes of painted cans for cut flowers and many more articles. All that remains are the shadow boxes.

Anyone having information leading to the loss of this equipment, please phone Mrs. Decker, GL 3-4487.

Card of Thanks

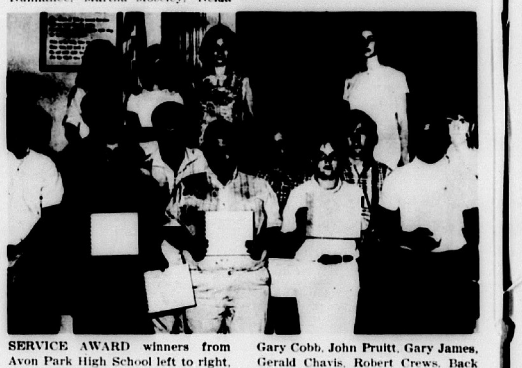

The family of James M. Joines wish to express their thanks and appreciation to their many friends and neighbors for the flowers, cards, words of sympathy, visits and food they received during their bereavement. A special thanks to Rev. Aden Childress and Rev. Otis Strickler for their comforting words.

My Thanks To All

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the people of Highlands County for your generous support in both primaries, which resulted in my nomination for County Commissioner for District Five, on the Democratic ticket.

I will appreciate your continued support in the General Election in November.

Again, many thanks.

Keep Cool while the Heat's On...

with flameless air conditioning!

You can stand off a whole summer of heat and humidity when your hideaway is cooled the flameless way. Less strain on your heart, too.

So, make your move. Have a straight-from-the-shoulder talk with your electric appliance dealer or air conditioning contractor. He'll treat you square.

With flameless air conditioning, you'll feel fresh all day. And with our Equal Payment Plan, which levels out your electric bills, you'll stay cool all through the summer.

$50 REWARD

TO STAMP OUT SUMMER HEAT we'll give an installation allowance of $50 to any of our residential customers who removes — between April 1 and June 30 — flame-type heating and replaces it with whole-house electric cooling and heating. Ask your dealer or contractor for the details.

leges "in the smaller urban communities and the more sparsely populated areas of our nation.

"There is no doubt ... the community college serves an educational function that no other institution is capable of serving and on the whole represents a tremendous educational bargain for both the student and taxpayer," Dr. Stallard said.

Much of the Stallard address was devoted to the junior college faculty. Dr. Stallard pointed out that the average instructor in junior college today came to that post after several years as a teacher—some at college and some at high school level.

He observed, "A good high school teacher with satisfactory depth in his subject matter field does a better over-all job on the average than the instructor who comes with only college experience ... the high school teacher will have more patience and understanding with and for the student of average ability ... more readily adaptable to innovation in order to elicit comprehension.

He advocated establishment of university programs to train junior college instructors but noted, "The primary interest of the universities seems to lie in developing administrative personnel ...

"Another problem is the almost universal desire to turn every course offered at graduate level into a research project ... I support research to the limit—but not in junior college. The junior college is a place for teaching and for learning fundamentals ...

"The young person who begins to study with the goal of teaching in a community college often faces not a dilemma, but to coin a word, he faces a trilemma or worse ...

"He must meet the requirements of the institution in which he is enrolled ... This is not always a very realistic and rewarding experience, since again the universities want to train every chemist to be either a research giant or an engineer—sometimes both!

"They do not seem to realize that a teacher might be in need of some good curriculum that is a little more varied and with perhaps some practical experience involved ...

"The next hurdle is often even worse because now we must obtain a certificate to teach ... The next hurdle is the accrediting association or the professional accrediting group, of which there are many ...

"I question the need for detailed surveillance of two-year junior college programs which normally function under the guidance of qualified advisory groups from the various professions or trades which they serve."

"Despite all these road blocks it is my opinion that a remarkably good job of instruction is being done ... let us not lose sight of the fact that the devices utilized by most universities in selecting their students are far from infallible. Capability—as we measure it—and performance are very often two entirely different things, and the salvage value of the junior college instructor is of inestimable value.

"It would be a tremendous advance if our young instructors could all be given some training in guidance, which I believe is one of the weakest points in our future educational system. Many a student will discuss his aspirations, his fears, his disillusionment with an instructor whom he considers to be his friend, when he will not go to an impersonal guidance department for advice.

"It would be great value if in our science programs our instructional staff could get away from the narrow discipline pattern.

"The community college needs teachers with a sound but reasonably broad perspective, not experts who have researched some specific narrow phase of knowledge to the N-th degree," Dr. Stallard said.

At the present time Dr. Stallard is the sole representative of the junior colleges of the country serving on the advisory commission for the National Science Foundation.

William Carter Dies Sunday

He was a native of Newport, Ark. and came to Avon Park from Indianapolis, Ind. in 1946. He was a member of the Church of Christ and a veteran of World War I, a member of the Church of Christ and the American Legion.

Survivors include a son, Donald A. Carter, Norwalk, Calif.; four sisters and three brothers.

Funeral services were held at the Mizelle Funeral Home Wednesday, June 5, at 10 A.M. with David Hadwin, minister officiating. Interment in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Full military honors were given at the grave side by the firing squad of Highlands County Post 74. Serving Taps was sounded by John Rogers. Mizelle Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

pays to be unprepared and Civil Defense Director Jim Lawson and Mrs. Florence Peach, executive secretary of the Highlands Red Cross chapter, who has had a veteran of World War I, a member of the Church of Christ and the American Legion, were working at top speed getting shelters lined up, seeing that emergency generators worked and that a radio network was ready.

Mid-Monday, Lawson was notified that this county had been placed on "situation emergency." He met with Mrs. Peach and rushed to completion natural disaster plans. By Monday night, 19 shelters were ready to open, each equipped with a two-way radio and a volunteer "ham" operator to run it.

People with advanced first aid training were among those placed on call for the duration of the emergency.

Highlands County schools were open as usual.

Local Boy Accepted At University

Paul Richardson, a student at Southern Missionary College, Chattanooga, Tenn., and the son of Paul F. Richardson of Rte. 2, Box X-46, Avon Park, has received a letter of acceptance to the Loma Linda University School of Dentistry, according Walter B. Clark, dean of admissions.

He will enter the professional school in September as a freshman and is expected to receive his Doctor of Dental Surgery (D.D.S.) degree in June 1972.

APHS Graduate Makes Million On Radio Station

Young Ted Niarhos, 29, Avon Park High School graduate of 1957, an enterprising young broadcaster who will soon celebrate his first year as progressive and operator of Coral Gables' WVCG-AM and WYOR-FM has proved himself most successful in his chosen field.

Coming from Medina, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland, where he had scored a remarkable feat in founding an FM radio station into a front-runner in that market and sold it for one million dollars, FM stations are not normally that successful.

He paid almost a million to George Thorpe for the Coral Gables station and it would appear from the readings he's getting in periodic rating surveys that he's going places.

"It hasn't been easy," said Niarhos, "it took me six months to assemble the staff I wanted. My goal was to create a quality station—quality in listenable music and with it quality in news coverage. We think we're achieving that quality but we're never going to stop working on it.

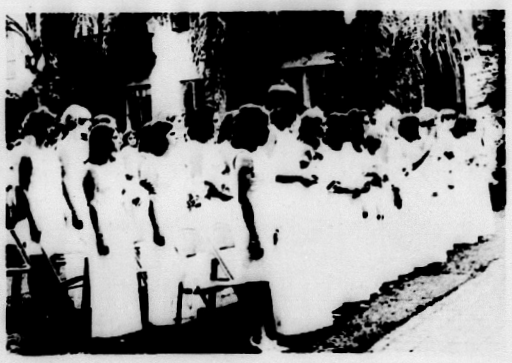

Niarhos has been in radio since he was 13. He got his first job as a janitor in a station in Sebring where his family had moved from Pennsylvania. The station later made him one of its announcers. Having served his apprenticeship there, he went to work on stations in Cleveland and Youngstown, Ohio.

By the time he was 26 he had organized his present corporation, "Independent Music Broadcasters" and applied for and put on the air Medina FM station, WDEN.

Diatoms, a microscopic sea organism, may multiply 10,000 times overnight, or 100 million times in 30 days. They're the basic food for most sea creatures, and are so tiny that 50 million can be contained in a one-inch cube.

IMPRESSIVE ROSE TAPPING ceremony held following graduation at the Highlands School for Girls where the graduated senior presents a single rose to a rising senior.

THIRTY-SEVEN LOVELY young ladies are presented to the faculty of The Highlands School for Girls as the second graduating class of the school receive their diplomas. They were escorted by two marshals.

Girls School Graduates 38 Saturday, June 1

The Highlands School for Girls held their second Commencement Sunday, June 1, when 37 lovely young girls marched single file to the west wing patio of the school to the processional, Pomp and Circumstance.

Gowned identical in long white formals, each carrying an arm bouquet of yellow roses from which a single rose was given to a rising senior during the rose tapping ceremony, which followed the graduation.

Invocation and Lord's prayer was given by Raymond Stokes, vice president of the school. After a hymn, the scripture was read by Rev. Paul Gentry, chaplain of the school. Jesse Mercer, headmaster, introduced the speaker Dr. Anna Scott Hoye, professor of physiology, Mary Washington College in Fredricsburg. She commented on the school's beautiful campus compared to other schools, of the dynamic changes in the world, her prediction of the space program. She said "survival depends on self knowledge" and "respect and have faith in yourself."

Rev. Marshall Wilson offered the prayer, after which the Highlands Chorus sang two numbers.

Colonel L. C. Blankinship, president of the school welcomed the seniors and presented them with their diplomas, after which the impressive rose tapping ceremony took place in the circle in front of the school. Many tears were shed as the graduates departed to their wide spread homes throughout the world, wondering if they would ever meet again.

Future Farmers Hold Annual Banquet

The seventh annual father-son banquet of the Avon Park chapter of Future Farmers of America was held May 20. The banquet was planned for showing appreciation for the cooperation and aid which parents and leaders of the community have given to the FFA and its various programs of work and projects.

The officers of the local chapter took part in the opening and closing ceremonies. President, Stanley Spurlock. Vice President, David Woodard. Secretary, Denny Montsdeoca. Treasurer, Jerry Kendrich. Reporter, Billy Richards. Sentinal, Gary Griffin. Chaplain, Quillian Green. Advisor, William H. Powers.

The main speaker was David Woodard, who has represented his chapter in the district public speaking contest. He spoke on Agriculture of the Future.

The 125 members and guests present were entertained by a few musical selections by Billy Richards on the harmonica, also by an instrumental group composed of Joe Franza, P. O. Goff, Delmus Newsome and Van Hetsentral.

Recognition for outstanding achievement was given to several students who received the following awards.

David Woodard—Public speaking award and scholarship award.

Denny Montsdeoca—Livestock showmanship and leadership award.

Quillian Green — Ornamental horticulture.

James Spires — Agriculture mechanics.

Stanley Spurlock — Livestock farming.

Gene Landress — Chapter farmer.

Freddie Jahna, Jr. — Greenhand award.

Receiving honorary farmer degree were Vern Griffin, James Wise, Walter Sherertz, Jr., James H. Spires, T. E. Spurlock and Ben F. Deering.

James M. Joines, 74, died Saturday, June 1, in Walker Memorial Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Joines came to Avon Park about three years ago from Lake Wales, where he had lived for the last 13 years. He was a retired barber, a member of the First Baptist Church of Avon Park, a member of BPOE and Lions Club of Lake Wales and a member of the American Legion.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Flora Joines of Avon Park, one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Flood of Fort Pierce; one sister, Mrs. Eudora Joines Hancock of Doe Run, Ga.; also three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday morning, 10 A.M., June 3 at the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home with Rev. Aden Childress officiating. He was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetery. Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Dager left for their home in Ohio. Mrs. Rosa Bennington also left last week to visit in Indiana. This week Mr. and Mrs. Herman Young left for Paw Paw, Mich. This is Mrs. Young's first visit there as they are some of our newly weds.

Mrs. Olive Kerwin and Mrs. La Rue Longanecker spent last Friday in St. Petersburg visiting friends. Mrs. Rozell Pinkerton, who recently moved there from Miami and Richard and Marian Healy, who are former residents of our Park, Marian is recovering nicely from a very serious operation.

News reaches us Mrs. Bess Raas is improving but slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rinehart of Ottawa, Canada were guests of Mrs. Lucile McPherson on Tuesday. The Rineharts' former home was Goshen, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Bland Niewpirk are leaving this week to spend a few months in the Carolina mountains.

Rotary Report

Reported by Dr. W. A. Stallard

Art Wilhite introduced Harold K. Parson, a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who made a very interesting talk concerning Americanism.

Mr. Parson pointed out that he was one of 6,000 F B I agents in the United States and one of the four assigned to the Fort Pierce area which includes Highlands County. He gave some rather startling statistics relating to crime in this country, such as the fact that there is one murder every hour, one forcible rape every 21 minutes, one robbery every four minutes and a burglary every 25 seconds.

It was brought out that these happenings bring untold misery to those who are directly involved, and Parson said that he thought one of the problems was the lack of judicial severity in meting out punishment to the offenders.

He also deplored the fact that law enforcement in many cases is under fire at even the local level and that many groups deliberately seek involvement with law officers to gain publicity or sympathy. The doctrine of dissent has become a doctrine of overthrow of all existing institutions. The cause for most of the present problems is basically the wave of civil disobedience which has gone unpunished.

Parson said Law Day (May 1) was a time for rededication to the principles which made this country great. Freedom is something man must make for himself under the law. This fact was illustrated for all to see when Moses brought down the Ten Commandments.

Americans must return to a feeling of patriotism and support for the nation: there must be a moral rebirth. Otherwise, this country will be plundered from within by the "punks", communists and fellow travelers, who have contributed nothing to making America great.

Holyrood Commandery No. 27, held their monthly conclave at 8 P.M. May 27 at the Masonic Temple with a good attendance. The Sir Knights assisted Em. Commander Benj. Henningham in conferring the Red Cross and Malta Degree's which has not been conferred here in about 20 years.

Sir Knight Howard C. Maddox one of the senior Sir Knights was present as he attended the last exemplifying of these degrees. The work was conferred on one candidate.

Three candidates will receive the Temple Degree at the next conclave meeting, June 24. All Sir Knights please wear full uniforms at this meeting. This will be the last meeting of the season.

Refreshments were served after the conclave.

all about Flowers

THE PLANT THAT IS ALIVE!

Have you ever seen the sensitive plant? It is a small shrub that comes from South America. The plant is called "sensitive" because when the small leaflets are touched they fold over each other. At the same time the leaf stalks bend toward the main stem as if they were shrinking away.

To see a sensitive plant for the first time, a person gets the feeling that it is actually a living person.

You know there is a certain something about a floral gift that words cannot express. The feelings that are conveyed through flowers are beyond the explanation of words. Send flowers . . . and send ours. The next time, call us.

Elizabeth Clarke — GL 3-6733

Shuffling

On both Wednesday and Saturday evenings there were six courts in play. Winners on Wednesday were Kate McAlexander and Chris Cabezas over Reed Simpson. Ruth Robinson and Elizabeth Clarke won in consolation over Eva Chamberlain and Allene Howard.

Lois Johnson and Lawrence Robinson won in the main event on Saturday. Ruth Jordan and Herb Shaupler were the runners-up. Ray Johnson and Doc McAlexander won in consolation with Gertrude Fensterman and Tom Clarke the runners-up.

Cards

With three tables in play on Monday in pinochle high score went to Bill Johnson with 722. John Nuber came in second with 666.

Dances

Both dances were well attended and everybody had fun, even though it was a little warm. Goodbys are still being said to those who leave for the Summer.

Suppers

Twenty-nine turned out for the Memorial Day supper. Guests were old time members, Eleanor Lehman, Clara Truex, Helen Baker, Thos. Thompson and the Bill Reitzmans. Dick Dickinson returned thanks for the good food. After the fellowship of eating, folks either played cards or shuffled.

There will be no more Saturday evening suppers until further notice. There will be a Fourth of July supper at six.

News Exchange

New members this week were Albert and Mrs. Dunstan from Miami.

Louise M. Farthing of Buffalo, N. Y., left Thursday via plane after a six week visit with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Fensterman.

Mrs. James Brown is doing just fine after her operation this week for a cataract. She was in the Lakeland Hospital.

Jack Floyd is now home from the hospital and improving some every day.

How about some news from you folks in the North?

This past week Sam Walton went to the Gainesville Clinical Research Center at the University of Florida for an eye transplant. He is doing fine, his wife reports.

Mrs. E. Johnston Died in Arcadia

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, 82, widow of Donald Ira Johnson, died Monday, May 27 in an Arcadia hospital. She was born in Long Valley, N. J., and had lived in Sebring since 1947 and came to Avon Park a few years ago.

She was a member of First Presbyterian Church of Sebring.

Funeral services were held from the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home, Wednesday, May 29, 3 P.M. with Rev. Stulting officiating. She was laid to rest in Pinecrest Cemetery in Sebring.

Capt. C. S. Miller Awarded Bronze Star

Captain Charles S. Miller, son of Mrs. Dorothy Long, Arcadia, and Ivan Long, Avon Park, was recently awarded the Bronze Star with the first Oak Leaf Cluster and the "V" Device for Heroism in Viet Nam.

Capt. Miller is a graduate of Avon Park High School, 1957, and presently attending the Infantry Officers Advanced Course at Fort Benning, Ga. After the completion of this nine month course, he will be assigned to the 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N. C.

Capt. Miller received the award for heroism in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Viet Nam. He distinguished himself by valerous actions while serving as Special Force Advisor to a joint Vietnamese task force on an area assessment mission in the Di Linh-Bao Loc area of the central highlands.

After setting up a defensive perimeter on high ground, his unit was attacked by a Viet Cong battalion firing mortars and machine guns. The insurgents followed with a savage ground attack, but Capt. Miller remained in the open to radio for air strikes and gunships despite the bullets striking all around him.

When the helicopters arrived, he used tracer fire from his rifle to direct their assaults on the Viet Cong positions. He braved withering fire to move the wounded to a landing zone. He was seriously wounded while moving among his men directing their fire.

His courageous leadership contributed greatly to the defense of his position and the defeat of the enemy.

Capt. Miller's personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

John N. Prevatt Passed Away May 28

John N. Prevatt, 90, of 604 N. Verona Ave., died Tuesday, May 28, at Walker Memorial Hospital.

He was born in Thomas County, Va., and came to Avon Park 28 years ago and was a member of the Florida Avenue Baptist Church.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. J. G. Harrell, Mrs. J. W. Simpson and Mrs. Jesse Lewis all of Avon Park; three sons, G. W. Prevatt, Tampa, J. C. and J. D. Prevatt of Avon Park; a sister, Mrs. Mamie Howell, Pelham, Ga.

Funeral services were held from the Florida Avenue Baptist Church, Thursday, May 30 at 3 P.M. with Rev. Lester Miller, Rev. J. M. Gilbreth and Rev. R. L. Polk officiating. Interment in Bougainvillea Cemetery. Grandsons served as pallbearers.

Mizelle Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

NOTICE UNDER FICTITIOUS NAME LAW

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, pursuant to the Fictitious Name Statute, under Section 865.09 of the Florida Statutes as amended, will register with the Clerk of Circuit Court, in and for Highlands County, Florida, upon receipt of proof of the publication of this notice, the fictitious name to-wit: Avon Automotive Paint Supply under which name I am engaged in business at 1102 W. Hall St. in Avon Park, Florida and that the owner of said business is: David B. Johnson.

Dated at Avon Park, Highlands County, Florida, this 14 day of May, A.D. 1968.

May 16, 23, 30, June 6, 1968

Envelopes did not come into common use until about 1840. Before then, the chief of writing paper was folded four ways, sealed with wax, and addressed on the back side.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Housing Authority of Avon Park, Avon Park, Florida will receive bids for the furnishing of all materials, labor, equipment and appurtenances for the construction of the following project, Project FLA 121, Avon Park, Florida, consisting of one hundred and thirty (130) dwelling units and Community, Administration and Maintenance Buildings, including site improvements and underground work, until 2:00 P.M., E.D.S.T., on at the City Hall, Avon Park, Florida, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposal forms of the Contract Documents, including plans and specifications, may be obtained at the office of the Housing Authority of Avon Park, 207 W. Main St., Avon Park, Florida, and at the offices of the Architect-Engineer, Associated Architects, 224 West Main St., Avon Park, Florida.

Copies of the documents may be obtained upon depositing Thirty Dollars, ($30.00), with the Housing Authority of Avon Park for each set of documents so obtained. Such deposit will be refunded to each bidder who returns the plans and specifications in good condition within 10 days after bid opening.

A certified check or bank draft payable to the Housing Authority of Avon Park, U. S. Government bonds or satisfactory surety bond executed by the bidder and acceptable sureties in an amount equal to five percent (5%) of bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the Specifications must be paid on this project.

The Housing Authority of Avon Park reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive any informalities in the bidding.

No bid may be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Housing Authority of Avon Park.

Bill Reck Promoted While Attending School

William R. Reck recently elected executive vice president, of Avon Citrus Bank, is among 281 bankers receiving certificates at graduation ceremonies Friday, June 7, ending the 19th annual session of the School of Banking of the South. The school meets for two weeks each summer at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, under sponsorship of 14 Southern state bankers' associations.

Reck served as vice president and was elected executive vice president by the board of directors while he was attending the banking school.

Charles W. Whitehead, Jr. president of Avon Citrus Bank, notified the president of LSU and Reck was told of the promotion as he came across the stage to receive his certificate.

Orrin H. Swayze, director of the School since it began in 1950, presided at the graduation exercises. During its existence, the School has now awarded certificates to 2,166 bank officers and others in the financial world. "Our objectives are simply to improve the quality of banking by helping to make better bankers," Mr. Swayze said. He is the retired executive vice-president of First National Bank, Jackson, Miss.

The course requires attendance at LSU summer sessions for three years, during which student bankers receive 180 hours of classroom instruction, 30 hours of review, organized evening study and written final examinations. Additionally, home study problems must be completed between sessions.

Organized to provide advanced study in all phases of banking and economics, the School gathers together a faculty of 100 top banking leaders, businessmen, economists, and educators. Bankers accepted for the course must meet strict requirements on their previous education, experience and present responsibilities.

S. Fla. Jr. College Begins Summer Session

High school graduates wishing to get a head start on their college studies are expected to make up the bulk of the student body for the second session of South Florida Junior College's Summer school.

Registration will be held Friday for the six weeks session. Classes will be held June 17 through July 26 at the SFJC temporary campus in Avon Park.

Dean Wilford J. Beumel said registration Friday will be in the library 8:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. and 6:30 to 8:30 P.M. A penalty of $5 is charged for late registration on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Beumel said 25 classes have been planned and these will include basic courses in speech, science, English. Last term a few inquiries were made about a speed reading course, too few to offer a class, and so far this term no inquiries have been received so this class is not, at present, slated for the second term.

"We found last Summer that many students planning to enter South Florida Junior College and many other schools, decided to use six weeks of the Summer for one or two classes. This enables the student to carry a lighter load at the beginning of college study.

"We have experienced no difficulty in transferring credits to other schools, but for the student's protection we recommend that any one who will wish to transfer credit to another school obtain written permission from the dean of the school where the credit is to be sent later," Dean Beumel explained.

For the first session of SFJC Summer school a record 82 students enrolled, and at least that many students are expected for the second session, Beumel said.

Phone Company Settles Suit Without Trial

After spending virtually half a day in selection of a jury, attorneys for Connie W. Purvis and United Telephone Company (formerly Inter County Telephone and Telegraph) agreed to a settlement without a trial.

The trial, which would have been the second in this case, was set for Monday. In the first trial Purvis had been awarded damages of $130,000 for injuries allegedly suffered when the truck in which he was riding was involved in an accident with a telephone company truck.

On appeal the District Court of Appeal ordered a new trial. The telephone company was represented Monday by C. C. Howell, Jr., and the plaintiff's lawyers were Al J. Cone and Frank J. McKeown.

Those selected for jury duty were: Gertrude Johnson and Walter Bierce of Sebring, Tommy Eugene Hendrix of Lake Placid, H. D. Cadow, Orelen H. Corbian and Leamon Kelly of Avon Park, Mozelle D. Arnold of Avon Park was seated as alternate.

90 Graduate at Avon Park High School's 50th Commencement

In 1918 Avon Park High School held their first graduation exercises. This year, out of 140 students who registered, 90 graduated. Exercises were held in the auditorium on Wednesday, June 5, at 8 P.M.

The 90 graduates, boys robed in red, girls in white, marched majestically to "Pomp and Circumstance," played by the high school band, directed by Vic Mickunas, to the school stage where the school officials were present.

Invocation was given by Susan Parke Ayerst.

John Hasson, soloist sang "Impossible Dream" accompanied by the band.

Salutatory address was given by William Linwood Knapp, who gave a resume of the four years in high school. Student Council President Kenneth Gravitt Dixon gave a more personal address, reflecting on his four years. Pamela Gaye Maness, class president and Dean Edward Lemler, vice president both gave addresses. Marcia Leigh Ward gave the Valedictory address after which R. Guy Garrett, presented awards.

The Wilhite award for the most outstanding student was awarded to William Knapp and Marcia Ward. The Senior Honor award, which is the highest senior award, chosen by the faculty based on dependability, scholarship, leadership, loyalty and sportsmanship, was awarded to William Knapp who also received the Navy award.

Henry G. Bailey, gave the Bailey award to Reggie Weber and Kenneth Gainous for the most thoughtful boy and girl. The American Legion award was presented by Aaron W. Cravens to Mary Arlin King and the Legion Auxiliary award to Linda Gail Stevens. Homer Bible, general supervisor of instructional service, presented the First Federal Scholarship award to William Knapp.

Superintendent of Schools, George F. Douglas presented the class with their diplomas.

The recessional "ceremony," the class led by their marshals, Patricia Miller and Marcia McDougald, escorted the seniors from the school to the Avon Elementary cafetorium where a reception was held in their honor, given by the junior class.

The future will hold marriage for some, college, selective service in the armed forces or employment for others. Theirs is the decision.

John C. Knapp Graduates From Naval Academy

He has been commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Navy and will be assigned to the Naval Academy as an instructor for the Summer.

While at the Academy, Midshipman Knapp was a member of the plebe soccer team, squash team, and tennis team, and a member of the Scuba Club.

He entered the Naval Academy on June 30, 1964, after graduating from Pasco High School in Dade City.

Tag Deadline

Automobile license tags must be on by next Thursday, June 20, and Roland X. Droit, head of Highlands County's tag agency warned there was no extension last year and "I do not think they will extend it this year either."

The sale of tags this year he said is going "slowly." Fees this year are $14.09 for Class D; $22.22 for plain; $30.34 for W and $38.47 for WW licenses.

Summer Rec Registration In June 24

Summer recreation director for Avon Park, Joe Franza, reminds parents and students that Monday, June 24, will be registration day for all recreation activities at the three centers here in Avon Park.

Elementary students will register either at Hopewell or Avon Elementary and junior and senior high will register either at Hopewell or Avon Park High.

The swimming instruction on all levels, including the assembly line beginning swimming program, will start the second week of the program on July 1.

Voters Will Decide On City Adopting County Tax Roll

At the regular meeting of the Avon Park city council Monday night a request of Earnest Lofton for a taxi license was turned down. The action came after a hearing was held on the request of Lofton.

Other taxi operators were at the meeting and spoke against another taxi operating in the city. Attending were L. R. Waters, H. W. Harden and Billy Warren. Warren said he was against granting a taxi license because there was not enough business to justify it. He said many people were operating cars and charging fares who did not have licenses and this practice should be stopped.

Mr. Harden said taxi operator Slover Coward did not have proper license also that there was no need for another taxi but anyone operating should meet all requirements.

A motion was made by Councilman Albright to require Coward and all taxi operators in the city to comply with all the requirements of the Railroad Commission to keep his taxi license and that no additional permits be issued unless the council votes approval.

The council appointed two new members to the bi-racial committee. Herman Sizemore and Rev. I. W. Stripling and reappointed five other members. They are James Heim, Rev. H. D. Graetz, Rev. Aden D. Chil dress, Edward Hicks and Rev. Collis Poole. Sizemore and Stripling will each serve a three year term.

The council also discussed the possibility of the city adopting the county tax assessment roll. It was pointed out that a general reappraisal was due every ten years and 1969 is the year for Avon Park. By adopting the county tax roll the city would save the expense of reavaluation.

In the next election the people will have a chance to vote wheather they want the city to adopt the county tax roll in 1969 and future years.

In other business the city attorney reported he had written Mr. Estol, owner of two lots adjacent to the airport runway but had no reply. City Clerk Malcolm Crews reported on a visit to the office of K. J. Ryan, president of Community Life Insurance Company in Orlando asking about the city obtaining the title to land needed at the airport. The city was promised an answer in about ten days.

Keith Albritton and Calvin Carter started to work Monday as lifeguards at $1.50 per hour voted by the council.

Mr. Scott discussed the need for a zoning change on the property at East Main Street and South Highlands Avenue, south-east corner. Mayor Doerr said the Zoning Board had already recommended a change to R-1 classification for this area but he personally was against it because it would reduce the commercial area.

A financial statement for May was presented and discussed by the city clerk.

Council voted to purchase a mower for the sewer plant at a cost not to exceed $1,000.

It was reported that as of June 9, 1968 minimum standards have been set by the State of Florida for law enforcement personnel which require 200 hours of training prior to employment.

Motion by Mr. Albright, seconded by Mr. Lane to pass resolution requesting more time for submitting tax values to the State Comptrollers Office. Motion carried unanimously.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, As of this 10th day of June, 1968 the City Tax Assessor has not completed the tax roll, and it is apparent that several additional weeks will be required to complete same, and

WHEREAS, the Homestead Exemption List for the City tax roll has not yet been received and it is anticipated that it will not be received until approximately July 1, 1968, and

WHEREAS, it appears it will be impossible to complete the city tax in time to comply with the requirement that totals thereof be furnished the State Comptroller's Office by July 1, 1968.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of the City of Avon Park, Florida that an extension of time to September 15, 1968 be requested for filing of the required information with the office of the State Comptroller.

Instructed the City Clerk to work out a schedule with Department Superintendents for work during bad weather.

Voted to allow employees up to 2 days time off for local funerals of members of immediate family, and up to 3 days for out-of-state funerals, time off not to count against sick leave or vacation.

To employ Johnnie McRae on the Street Department at a salary of $70 per week for first 30 days increasing to $75 per week then if satisfactory.

Mr. Albright reported that Paul Runner was going to pave the driveway at Dr. Baughan's office and would install new sidewalk there if the city would pay for the materials. This was approved.

Mr. Albright discussed possible adoption of new sewer rate ordinance. A discussion of city finances and revenues was held.

City Attorney Hancock reported a conversation with Ralph Marsciano, attorney for the Florida League of Municipalities and for the City of Tampa. In Mr. Marsciano's opinion the city has a legal right to extend sewer lines beyond the city limits.

Two Arrested In Breaking And Entering Cases

Highlands and Polk officers are hopeful that arrests of a man and woman at Avon Park are the first breaks in solving a long string of breaking and entering cases.

Deputy Sheriff J. C. Murdock, Jr. is heading the investigation in Highlands County, said both Highlands and Polk have been plagued by a series of break-ins. Following "a lot of little leads" Highlands County officers moved in June 5 to arrest Nathaniel Arnold and June 6 to arrest a woman using the name Ocie Lee Arnold. She also uses the name Ossie Lee Tarver, and among the other names used by the man is the name John Chapman.

In County Judge's Court on Tuesday the man was bound over to Circuit Court on four counts of breaking and entering, and the woman was bound over on two counts.

Both are charged with breaking into Triangle Drive-in, where more than $50 was taken from a cigaret machine. Both are charged with the April 20 break in at the Venus Post Office. Murdock said a safe was destroyed and a large sum of cash, money orders and checks taken.

Arnold (or Chapman) is also charged with a break-in at Maudines a Sebring beer joint where about $100 was taken, and with an entry at Shamrock service station, north of Avon Park. Motor oil and some pennies were taken at the service station, Murdock reported.

Investigation in these and other break-ins is continuing, Murdock said.

WALLACE TO SPEAK

George Wallace of Alabama, will speak on ABC Sunday, June 16 at 1:30 P.M. He will appear on the Questions and Answers program.

Bank Opens Four New Windows For Banking

The Avon Citrus Bank will open three new Drive-In windows and one walk up window Thursday, June 13 on the west side of the bank.

The windows will be open from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. and the walk up window from 1 - 4 P.M. Monday through Friday.

On Saturdays windows will be open 9 A.M. to 12 noon. All other banking hours will remain the same as previous.

Mickunas And Ford Receive Legion Award

George Kelsey, principal of Avon Elementary School presented Victor Herbert Mickunas and Conna Marie Ford with their American Legion Awards Certificates which they received as outstanding students of the Elementary School.

The awards read: This certificate of distinguished achievement is awarded to Conna Marie Ford and one to Victor Herbert Mickunas, of Avon Elementary School in recognition of attainment acquired as winner of the American Legion School Award.

In further recognition of the possession of those high qualities of courage, honor, leadership, patriotism, scholarship and service which are necessary to the preservation and protection of the fundamental outlet of our government and the advancement of society.

The award is made by the American Legion Auxiliary Dept. of Florida Highlands County Unit No. 69. Rena Smith, president; Ruby Heim, secretary.

Red Devils To Host Football Jamboree

Avon Park has been chosen as a host team for one of the new "football jamborees" which will open the 1968 football season in the state of Florida. The jamborees are sponsored by the Florida High School Activities Association.

Here at Memorial Field on September 7, Arcadia, Avon Park, Sebring and Wauchula will participate in one complete football game with registered officials in charge. Each team will play two 12 minute quarters with opponents different in each quarter.

Wauchula will meet Arcadia in the first quarter, Sebring will play Avon Park in the second period, Wauchula and Avon Park will tangle in the third quarter, and Arcadia and Sebring will finish out the game in the fourth quarter.

The purpose of the jamborees is to give the teams a practice game before the season starts and to give fans a chance to look at the area teams in action.

Plans are set to hold the 1969 jamboree in Arcadia, the 1970 one in Sebring and the one in 1971 in Wauchula.

Advanced ticket sales will have adult tickets available for $1.00 and student tickets at 75 cents—gate sales will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Father's Day

It's Father's Day next Sunday, June 16, and you don't wear flowers like you do for Mother's Day, but there is increasing emphasis on remembering him with something. Like ties, sox, a pipe.

After all, he's a mighty important part of the family scene—as most any family without a dad will tell you.

The least you can do is wish him a happy Father's Day—and many more of them!

Flag Day

The events of the past year have certainly been a sad commentary on life in these United States. We read of over-emphasis on student rights and unrest on the campus of universities all over the country. We read how the "new left" has invaded our student organizations. Daily, we read of student riots and takeover of administration buildings.

For all of the above we have rationalized and made allowances until we read of the burning of our Flag as part of their demonstrations and then our blood started to boil.

We should by now have learned how the Communist Party is playing a key role in spurring campus revolts. We now should be well aware that their ideologies are in conflict with ours and then seek to tear down and destroy the spirit that has made our country great. They are doing this by attacking through our "Achilles' Heel"—our young unorganized minds. By distortion and deceptive tactics they have been able to confuse our young as to what is meant by the "freedoms" allowed by our Constitution in this truly democratic world in which we live.

We are now awakened to the fact that many of the things we have felt could never happen here in our Country, can happen, and so we try to reason and wonder how the world's most powerful nation can be so divided and torn apart through dissension.

Maybe we can blame our Supreme Court for some of our ills but we should also blame the apathy of the majority of this generation for the "way out" liberal attitude they have entertained in the name of Modernism.

A recent reprint by courtesy of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce can serve as a real challenge to the youth of today and it is cited as food for thought.

From Bondage to Spiritual Faith.
From Spiritual Faith to Great Courage.
From Courage to Liberty.
From Liberty to Abundance.
From Abundance to Selfishness.
From Selfishness to Complacency.
From Complacency to Apathy.
From Apathy to Dependency.
From Dependency back again to Bondage.

In Eight years, our United States will be 200 years old. This cycle is not inevitable. It depends upon you.

The time has come then for thinking Americans to accept this challenge and start doing something about it. We should take a page from our "Commie" friends and start with our boys and girls in high school while they are still under the parental roof. By God's will we have a great Country. Its Flag has spurred the imagination of youth in the past. So let's start with Flag Day to make sure that this day in our national calendar does not go unemphasized because if we as the present leaders of this society show apathy in our regard for our Flag what can we hope for from our leaders of Tomorrow?

We presently have many holidays and with some of them, our young couldn't care less. Let's go about making Flag Day a day of national observance, not just as a day off from school or work, but a day of great national pride. The high schools should be running contests encouraged by our Service Clubs for prize essays on "What the Flag means to me." Pictures speak louder than words and pageantry like pictures do more to stir up the spirit than mere words. Let's all start planning for Flag Day as a real day of observance in a way that it will always make it a day to remember.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Perilous Times are Predicted; Could It Mean Our Times?

The killing of Sen. Robert Kennedy has focused the attention of the world on the intolerable increase in crime in the United States.

We pray for the American people that they may come to their senses, was part of a prayer read on British Broadcasting Corp. radio, shortly after the shooting.

People in many nations, according to New York Times correspondents, expressed fears of "violence" or "madness" of "anarchy" in this country.

Of course, the shot that killed the senator was fired by only one man — and he was not an American citizen. It is unfair to indict the entire nation for the deed of one man.

But the nation has to accept responsibility for the soaring crime rate — and the general acceptance of violence as a part of everyday American life may have been a background factor in the killing.

Pass Another Law?

What is the answer? What should be done to prevent a repetition of this ugly act?

Some are saying that the solution is to pass another law. But J. Edgar Hoover points out that the remedy is to enforce the laws that we already have, instead of letting criminals go free, unpunished, to commit still more murders, robberies, and other violent deeds.

Can passing another law deter murderers, when the Supreme Court has, in case after case, made conviction of confessed killers more difficult — in some cases, impossible?

Pointing to the constantly increasing crime rate in the United States, Hoover said, in a statement released only a few days before Sen. Kennedy's death. "The answer to our nation's crime problem will be found in direct, positive action.

A good beginning would be to let the guilty criminal know that when he is arrested, he will be promptly prosecuted and substantially punished for his misdeeds. A good time to begin would be NOW."

The Last Days?

In these dangerous days, when respect for the law is at a low ebb and violence is increasingly common, many thinking people who believe that the Bible is the true Word of God are examining with great interest the Scriptural prophecy that "in the last days, perilous times shall come." Does this refer to our times?

Banks To Loan County Schools Half-A-Million

Highlands County banks may hail the county schools out of a construction fund crisis with loans of more than half a million dollars at 4.5 per cent interest.

School Superintendent George F. Douglass told the county school board Tuesday night that the county's bankers had, in preliminary negotiations, indicated a "willingness to work out something." Late in May a multi-million dollar bond issue from the State Department of Education went begging. State legislators and education officials are working on plans to raise or remove the present constitutional limit of 4.5 per cent interest on such bonds.

The local bankers agree with their counterparts across the state that "something has to be done about those interest limits," but they are willing to act now rather than delay the construction planned within this county.

The projected loan would be for $571,000. This would include bonds — $285,000 for construction of the new elementary school in Lake Placid, $90,000 for South Florida Junior College building — and a $196,000 loan for SFJC's share of matching funds to obtain federal construction money. All these loans would be repaid from state — not county — taxes.

In Sebring Rex Bond president of First National Bank, said, "First National Bank is willing to cooperate on a loan on some reasonable basis. This is not at all beyond the scope of the banks of this county."

He acknowledged that the banks would be making a financial sacrifice since this type of tax-free loan is now bringing 5 to 5.25 per cent interest. "We are talking about a half-per cent interest on more than half-a million dollars for at least 21 years — a pretty good piece of change," Bond said.

"We are certain that the citizens of the county support this kind of movement," Bond commented.

Ken Grady, president of Tropical Bank & Trust Co., emphasized the community support idea when he said the directors of Tropical Bank & Trust are "enthusiastic about this. We believe this is the way this should be done — a community taking care of its own problems."

Charles Whitehead, president of Avon Citrus Bank, who arrived back in town Wednesday after several days absence said he is not acquainted with the plans, but he pointed out, Avon Citrus had, more than two weeks ago, agreed to participation in the $196,000 loan for SFJC matching funds.

Eugene Griffin, chairman of the executive committee for First Bank of Lake Placid, commented, "Anything to help Highlands County we are all for it."

A county-wide meeting of bankers is set for today to work details.

Sanctions Lifted

Sanctions imposed by Florida Education Association and National Education Association have been lifted from Highlands County professional groups consider it unethical for teachers to accept employment in a county under sanctions.

Douglass told the school board Tuesday that an investigating team from FEA and NEA visited here and had told him, "This is the first county where administrators and teachers tell the same story." Joe Ward, former Avon Park High School teacher, the only Highlands teacher not re-employed after the teacher walk-out in February, made a speech at the FEA convention praising the investigating report and recommending the lifting of sanctions.

Other Business

In other business Tuesday night the school board formally began procedure for returning to cumbered Head Start funds left from the 1967 Head Start program. The Office of Economic Opportunity has formally notified the school board that its grant request for 1968 has been denied.

The 1968-69 paint bid was awarded to Senkarik Glass and Paint Co. and Hathaway Building Supply was awarded the bid for materials for two portable classrooms for $4799.99. School maintenance crews put up the buildings.

Hollberg and Wolfe bought two used trucks on a bid of $450 and other equipment for which no bids were submitted were declared surplus and the Superintendent authorized to junk three items.

A demonstration of new language teaching equipment is scheduled for the July meeting of the board. The tentative budget for 1968-69 will be announced.

Before nail making machines were invented in 1796, all were hand-made by blacksmiths, and thus, quite expensive. Ten penny nails were priced at 10 cents per dozen, three penny nails at three cents per dozen, etc. Thus the term 'penny' is still used to designate size.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOBE

THE BEGINNING OF THE END?

The people who came to this country from the Old World, most of them from Great Britain, were met with a country where life demanded almost constant vigil for the maintenance of life. The land was populated by people who lived in the Stone Age and who had to live by Stone Age customs, if they lived very long. Savages and wild animals met them at every turn, and the possession of guns was a prime necessity. This vital requirement followed them from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and people thought nothing of going armed, or, at least, very much so. One is shocked to the core to read about how our reveered national founders sent word to enemies, real or imagined, to meet them on the "field of honor." This ridiculous custom was not observed so rigorously in the North as in the South, but "gun-toting" has been far more prevalent in this country than in Europe.

Just take the time and see how many Presidents have been murdered, wounded and shot at, by people who thought they had a just cause for putting some high officials out of existence. During the campaign of Nixon and J. F. Kennedy, Nixon's political enemies tried to wreck Nixon's train; his opponent, John F. Kennedy, was murdered. Martin Luther King, the leader of the colored people, was murdered; now Robert Kennedy has been the target of an assassin!

One reason for the haste among our people in drawing the gun is the "law's delay in applying punishment to the users of firearms on people against whom they have a real or imagined grudge. Law and courts are getting slower and easier on the criminal classes; it is so much worse than in the past, that policemen are giving up their occupation and trying something different. Many a murderer has died of old age while the courts fiddeled around year after year, until natural death beat the hangman to it.

DEPARTED GLORIES OF KANSAS

It is not well known that O. A. Price, of Lake Wales News, and I were born on the same day in the same state, and that state is Kansas. Kansas has other things to give it fame: the Civil War began there; Eisenhower lived there many years and, Oh yes! I remember a verse of an old frontier song about Kansas:

IN KANSAS

They grow potatoes small in Kansas,
They grow potatoes small in Kansas,
They grow potatoes small,
And eat 'em tops and all
They dig 'em in the Fall
In Kansas!

As the writer approaches the close of his earthly day, he looks back over the long path leading into the twilight of past years, and thinks of the time when the person who locked his house door at night was looked upon with slight amusement. He wondered how a person could imagine anyone breaking into another's home; it simply wasn't done, or if it was, it was a matter of astonishment and horror.

I remember when, once in a while, some depraved person would sneak around at night for a chance to peep through the window, hoping he could see some woman undressing for going to bed. Such a person was called a "Peeping Tom," a person famous in English history, and, when such a person was reported around, extra police were hurriedly hired to catch him and bring him to court and punishment suitable as by ordinance "made and provided."

"Peeping Tom" is now a thing of the dim and distant past; he can sit on the bench in front of the village drug emporium and get an eyeful every day of the week, without losing any sleep or getting arrested and fined.

Then, there was the famous "leg show" that appeared in county fairs in communities of loose morals; it has gone into the limbo whatever that is! of the past, and for practically the same reason (a good reason "Peeping Tom" lost the reason for being such a person. They went out of business because of too much competition on the streets.

Then I can remember when one of my kinfolk "parted" from his or her mate! The whole tribe was shocked out of all countenance.

In those far-away days in Kansas a man who "drank" was looked down on as a praire dog is regarded. Prohibition of the sale of liquor was in the state constitution; even the sale of that other damnation of humanity, the cigarette, was against the law!

The state of Kansas sold books on physiology for schools that told the young all about the horrors and destructive effect the "Demon Rum" and Lady Nicotine" had on the human machine, and we kids associated both with Satan and all his works.

A woman smoking a cigarette, was the "cynocure of all eyes" a "woman of the streets, plying her vocation," as Gen. Ben Butler said in Congress. Years during the Civil War.

Now and then, and oftener than that, some wretch would sell booze, after arranging it with the sheriff or city marshal, like mayors do occasionally in Florida with bolita joints. "Joints" were what they were called in Kansas.

Along about the turn of the century, Carrie Nation, whose husband frequented "joints" too frequently, put on her bonnet and started smashing "joints" right and left. Hundreds of other ladies bought hatchets and "joints" soon went down under the feminine tidal wave like Pharoah's Army at the north end of the Red Sea on one famous occasion.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Helping Returning Servicemen

Babson Park, Mass., June 13. The end of the Vietnam war is not yet in sight. But even now, thousands of servicemen (and women) are returning to civilian life each month. If you have relatives or friends due to be discharged, or if you are an employer, you should know what Uncle Sam is doing to help these veterans.

Old Job or New

All vets who were employed before entering service have 90 days after discharge to apply for restoration to their old jobs. If you know any returning serviceman who is having trouble getting his old job back — and this is not uncommon, especially in small companies whose owners or managers just don't understand what the law requires of them — tell the vet to contact the nearest Veterans Re-employment Rights Office of the U. S. Department of Labor for assistance.

Vets who worked for Uncle Sam before going into service, or who would like to work for him now, should contact their local U. S. Civil Service Commission Office. Note that the Federal Veterans Preference Act accords former servicemen priority on government jobs for which they qualify. Many states give a similar break to vets qualifying for state civil service jobs. In addition, President Johnson has empowered federal agencies to hire vets for some government jobs without requiring competitive examinations.

Educational Benefits

All veterans who have had more than 180 days of active service, or who have been discharged for service-connected disabilities, are entitled to one month's schooling for each month of active-duty service, for a total of no more than 36 months' schooling. Such instruction may be taken at any public or private secondary school; vocational, correspondence or business school; junior college, normal school, or teacher's college; college or university; professional, scientific, or technical institution.

The Veterans Administration administers this program. Government help amounts to $130 per month for a single vet in a full-time educational pursuit. With one dependent, the total rises to $155, with two to $175. Assistance for each dependent after the first two is $10 monthly. Not widely known is the fact that veterans may receive a monthly allowance if they take part in a co-operative training comprising institutional agricultural courses plus related work on the farm. For a single vet, the allowance is $105 per month; $145 for a vet with two dependents, $7 for each additional dependent.

Life Insurance and Home Loan Guarantees

All discharged military personnel possess a most important asset in their Servicemen's Group Life Insurance policy. This protection is continued for 120 days after they leave the service. Request conversion to a commercial-type policy within that period it lapses. So, if you have a query about GI insurance, don't guess, or be content with partial answers. Get in touch directly with the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington St., Newark N. J.

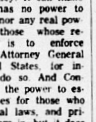

Most of us are aware that vets have 10 years from discharge date to get a VA-guaranteed home or farm loan. But many do not realize that, to this 10 years, an extra year is added for each three months of active duty. Loans are made by private lenders with VA guarantees. For homes, the guarantee ceiling is now $7,500, or 60% of the loan (whichever is less); for farm real estate other than acquiring a home, the top is $4,000, 50% of the loan. Legislation is now pending in Congress to raise these guarantee ceilings.

Disability Compensation and Hospital Care

VA disburses disability compensation on a monthly basis to vets who have incurred wounds in line of duty or who have suffered injuries or contracted diseases while in service. Such payments range from $21 to $850 per month. All through life, veterans are also entitled to full care in VA hospitals at no cost for service-connected disabilities; and for treatment of non-service-connected illnesses when beds are available and they can certify they are unable to pay for hospital care elsewhere. For complete, up-to-date information on total possible benefits, contact your local VA office.

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Crime Control Bill Would Restore Some Police Powers

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The House of Representatives has cleared for action by President Johnson what is called a "tough" crime control bill in an effort to provide our law enforcement officers some of the tools and powers they need if the massive crime wave sweeping our country is to be brought under control.

The bill — which one must hope President Johnson will sign despite his objections to some of its provisions — also attempts to nullify some recent decisions of the Supreme Court which, in the opinion of a majority of Americans, have severely weakened the rights of society for protection against criminals.

This bill, as all of you undoubtedly know, was passed in the wake of the tragic assassination of Senator Robert Kennedy — and it was tragic, although no more so than the wanton and senseless murder of any other citizen, any other husband and father, any other son, any other working man, any other person, man or woman, white or colored, who is slain while peaceably going about his business.

Senator Kennedy's business happened to be politics and his prominence as a public official and a presidential candidate did indeed cause shock throughout the Nation and the world—and it did indeed also jolt the officialdom of the United States out of a seeming complacence about the steady increase in crime which has harassed our country, our citizens, for years. I may say this complacency has been in striking contrast to the attitude of the citizenry itself. Some of us who owe our offices in government to the people, and who remember their responsibilities are to the people, long have been aware of the greatly disturbed mood of the people who regard crime, not Viet Nam, as this country's major problem.

There does seem to be a notion, however, that when something like this happens, the thing for a President to do is to appoint another commission and for a Congress to do is pass another law. This, however, is not enough. A law, no matter how perfectly designed to accomplish its goals, is of no use unless it is enforced every day, all day, and with equal application, by the police and by the courts, to all who violate it.

And a commission, no matter how deeply, how intelligently and how effectively it probes a situation, not even if it comes up with meaningful and correct conclusions and makes effective recommendations, is of no value, either, unless its findings are heeded, its recommendations implemented.

My point is this: The United States, the 50 states of the Union and their multiple political subdivisions already have on the books an abundance of law which, in my opinion, covers every conceivable type of crime and provides, through penalties for violations, the machinery for control of crime. And we also have commission reports — that of the Kerner commission on riots and racial unrest in the cities, for example — whose recommendations are gathering dust in an executive branch which has not bothered to implement them or even to ask Congress for help in doing so.

There is some misconception among the general public about the role of Congress in this situation. I think it should be remembered that Congress is a legislative body, not a law enforcement agency. It can make laws, but it has no power to enforce them, nor any real power to compel those whose responsibility it is to enforce them — the Attorney General of the United States, for instance — to do so. And Congress also has the power to establish penalties for those who violate criminal laws, and prisons to put them in, but it does not try criminal cases, nor can it compel the courts to try them and to assess the penalties of law against those convicted.

But there is still another matter to be considered. There are, in fact, actually very few federal crimes. Most criminal law belongs to the states and to their subdivisions, and it is there where effective law enforcement must begin, both by the police and in the courts.

I think the newly passed law, if the President signs it, will be of some help in this sector—if for no other reason that it proposes to take off the backs of both the police and the courts some of the hamstringing burdens imposed upon them by a United States Supreme Court too long concerned with denial of the rights of all the people while creating new protections for the rights of individuals, regardless of their obvious guilt, by distortion of the Constitution.

CONGRESSMAN PAUL ROGERS
FLORIDA
U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D.C.

Washington, D. C. — June 6 —The House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee Thursday favorably reported out for action by the House of Representatives the LSD legislation sponsored by Congressman Paul Rogers.

The proposed law, which for the first time establishes criminal penalties for possession of LSD and other similar dangerous drugs, had previously been approved by the Public Health Subcommittee, of which Congressman Rogers is a ranking member.

"The action by the Commerce Committee today in approving this legislation will enable us to bring the bill before the full House before the end of the Congressional session this year," Congressman Rogers said. "The bill is an important part of the anti-crime package pending in the Congress. It will enable law enforcement officers to make arrests for possession where they had been previously limited to making arrests only for the sale of LSD. That proved to be a difficult task, particularly in light of recent Supreme Court decisions. This new legislation will permit arresting officers to move against anyone having this dangerous drug in their possession, whether or not the officers see a sale or transfer take place."

Noting that LSD has become a serious problem on many college campuses and elsewhere, Congressman Paul Rogers spearheaded national efforts for its control. In Congressional Hearings over which he presided, it was disclosed that there is no approved medical use for LSD. Witness after witness disclosed the harmful effects on users of LSD, including serious damage to the hereditary processes which could affect future generations.

"There have been laws against other dangerous drugs but because of its relative newness and the recent spread of usage, LSD was not covered," Congressman Rogers said. "Marijuana, for instance, has been covered for many years, although enforcement has been a problem in recent years. Both of these drugs are a profitable part of the illegal drug traffic. Earlier this year the Congress approved a reorganization plan placing enforcement of these laws in a new agency of drug enforcement in the Department of Justice, for the first time bringing together Federal enforcement officers from the Treasury, Justice and Health agencies. This unification will allow more efficient use of manpower, better coordination, and interagency cooperation to enforce all the dangerous drug laws.

"Drugs are an important part of the Nation's crime problem. They provide billions of dollars of money for the racket. They also serve as a motive for many careers in crime which have their roots in the need for money to pay for drugs. It is important that the various parts of the anti-crime package pending in Congress be enacted before the end of this session, and I am most pleased that the LSD bill has now been approved by the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee," Rogers said.

Mary Wicks Dies In Arcadia

Mrs. Mary Helen Wicks, 39, passed away June 3 in an Arcadia Hospital. She was born in Tennessee and came to Avon Park from Tampa seven years ago.

She was a member of the Baptist Church in Tennessee.

Survivors include her husband, James Wicks of Avon Park; one son, Spec. 4 Larry F. Wicks, South Viet Nam. Three brothers, James O. Taylor and Bobby Gene Taylor of Bowling Green, Ky., and Joe D. Taylor of Cocoa Beach.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, June 5, 9:30 A.M. from the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home with Rev. Earl E. Denny officiating. She was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Lillian Johnson Annual Piano Recital

The parents of Lillian Johnson piano students in Avon Park, sponsored the annual piano recital, held Saturday, June 8 in the Church of God.

Students from Lakeland, Zolfo Springs, Wauchula and Lake Wales also participated. Students numbering 22 from surrounding cities did not participate.

Following the benediction by Rev. R. C. Horton, pastor Lakeland Church of God, the parents entertained with a reception in the church annex which was decorated with rose buds and palms.

all about Flowers

MINTS ARE LOVELY FLOWERS

The famous mint plants that are so common in the United States, are most all lovely flowers. A commonly known mint is the spearmint. Its name is derived from the shape of its flowers — a tiny spear-shaped cluster of blossoms. The lovely plant grows erect, one or two feet high, and is topped with lovely spikes of lavender or white flowers.

Most of the spearmint in the United States is grown in Indiana, Michigan and Washington states. The oil from this lovely flower is used in making perfume, medicine, chewing gum, candies and jellies.

We deal in flowers for beauty only. Our flowers are designed to look at, and enjoy. The next time you need flowers, calls us.

Rotary Club Hears How Motor Vehicle Inspection System Works

Reported by Bob Gay

Program Chairman Hub Biggs introduced Joe Varnadore, Cpl. J. K. Wade and John Gercken of the motor vehicle inspection section, responsible for Highlands County as well as eight other counties.

The 80th Congress in 1966 passed a highway safety bill as well as created a transportation department. One development of highway safety is a vehicle check and Cpl. Wade talked to us on that facet of the safety program.

There are three items involved in highway safety, driver, road and vehicle.

The present program is aimed at corrections of possible vehicle defects. To many persons, this inspection will represent an intrusion, however. Federal appropriations for highway construction are contingent upon the vehicle inspection program in addition to other requirements.

Presently 40 of the 50 states have a vehicle inspection program and the remainder will have such programs by 1969, or be penalized on Federal highway fund appropriations.

Of the $1.75 fee collected 25 cents goes to the State for program operation expenses, the remaining $1.50 stays in the county to liquidate local expenses connected with the program.

Inspection Schedule

The deadline for the first inspection for all vehicles will be determined by the last number of the 1968-69 Florida license tag.

If the last number of your license is 4 or 5, June; 6 or 7, July; 8 or 9, August; 0 or 1, September; 2 or 3, October. After the initial inspection, all vehicles must be reinspected every six months.

Things you can do to prepare your vehicle for inspection is: Check all lights to insure they are burning, and if properly aimed. Check tires for proper inflation, cuts and exposed cord. Check for defects or do not stop your vehicle, adjustment should be made before inspection. Check directional signals, front and rear. Check steering for excessive play or difficulty in turning. Check windshield wipers for proper operation and be sure horn works.

Dial A Number For Message On Smoking

Beginning today, June 13, smokers can dial GL 3-4695 and listen to a 90 second informative recording designed to help the smoker establish a decision to stop smoking and also aims him how to break the habit.

Smokers may dial anytime day or night for this recorded help. Messages to be changed every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings.

Smokers Dial is an extension of the internationally recognized Five Day Plan to stop smoking which has already been successfully conducted in major cities across the nation, two having been conducted at Walker Memorial Hospital with the third Five Day Plan scheduled for the coming September.

Smokers Dial is also designed for people who have already quit smoking but need something to help maintain their decision.

This community service is sponsored by the local Action Unit for Better Living of Walker Memorial Hospital.

Cadette Scouts Summer Program

Eleven girls are registered for the aquatic program being offered Cadette Girl Scouts by the Jacaranda Girl Scout Neighborhood. At the conclusion of the program those qualifying will receive the swimmers badge and small crafts badge.

A number of these girls recently completed the American Red Cross junior life saving course and they will complete the life saver badge also.

Concluding the two week's course, a one day canoe trip down a portion of Peace River is planned. The six canoes being used are property of the Heart of Florida Girl Scout Council and are available to all Girl Scout Troops belonging to the council.

Canoeing is being taught by Mrs. Charles Collins, small crafts instructor, who has taught at Girl Scout camps in Arkansas.

The swimming instructor is Miss Anne Barben, American Red Cross water safety instructor. She has taught classes in life saving and swimming both here and at a private Summer camp in North Carolina.

CORRECTION

Through error Rev. Donald Mimbs was listed as receiving his DD degree on May 31. He received his Master of Divinity instead of his DD degree.

SHOCK ABSORBERS as the name suggests, minimizes or reduces the impact from hard bumps. They are designed and positioned on your car to relieve the spring of the full impact — They have a life expectancy of approximately 40,000 miles, and can be replaced for about $10.00. There's no real comfort in "bad shocks" — There's a possibility of excessive tire wear because of the "bounce" your car develops with only the spring to absorb. Driving at extreme speeds — 80 or 90 M.P.H., could result in loss of control if a bad bump were encountered — Best to have worn shocks replaced, however, you'll enjoy a smoother ride with improved "cornering."

WOMEN'S SECTION

Mary Ann Adams and Capt. Olen Earnest Exchange Vows

The First Baptist Church of Dothan, Ala. was the scene of the wedding of Mary Ann Adams, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Adams and Capt. Olen Lee Earnest, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Earnest of Avon Park, June 8, 1968.

Yellow tapers lit by Joe Hayes and David Johnson were burning in tree candelabra set in an arch amid a garden setting of jade palm and ferns. Imitation white doves were placed in a garlanded arch over a large yellow basket of yellow gladioli and white fuigi mums. The altar railing was entwined with fern forming the setting for the ceremony.

Rev. I. Cole Skelton, Abbeville, Ala., officiated at the double ring ceremony. The organist David Anderson accompanied the soloist Tommy Harper, who sang "Somewhere," "Whither Thou Goest" and "One Hand, One Heart."

The bride given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. R. M. Adams was gowned in candlelight delustered satin, trimmed with motifs of Alencon lace and seed pearls. The sculptured bodice was designed with a decollete neckline and shirred elbow length sleeves. A satin cumberbund encircled the waist and ended in the back with an obi bow centered with a satin rose. A tiara of pearls held the veil of candlelight illusion. The bride carried a cascade of orange blossoms, stephanotis, valley lillies centered with a white orchid placed upon an open Bible.

Mrs. H. L. Carmichael III, of Dothan, served the bride as matron of honor. Brides maids were Mrs. Ben Earnest, Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Raymond Jackson, Huntsville, Ala., Mrs. Russell Holman, Headland, Ala., Mrs. James Joyce, Daleville, Ala., and Miss Lenora McNeal of Dothan. Junior bridesmaids were, Miss Lexa Dowling and Miss Laura Kallay of Dothan, Ala.

The matron of honor wore a gown of yellow organza over peau de soie, bell sleeves, empire waist and decollete neckline. The bridesmaids wore full length dresses of maize silk organza, featuring empire waistline, V neck, ruffled portrait collar, a line skirt with full flowing panel in back. They each carried a willow basket of long stemmed daisies and were yellow head hemmed straw hats with ribbon streamers of daisies. The junior bridesmaids wore identical dresses.

Ben Earnest of Dallas, Tex. served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were, Capt. Richard Webb, Capt. Edward R. Bryan III of Ft. Rucker, Capt. Frank Griswold, Daleville, Ala., Capt. John Weaver, Capt. Larry Brewer and Maj. Max A. Davidson of Fort Rucker, Ala.

Upon their return the bride will teach at Enterprise High School next year, where they will make their home. The groom will continue as flight instructor in the fixed wing department at Fort Rucker.

Reception

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Tommy Harper provided vocal selections accompanied by David Johnston on the guitar and David Anderson at the piano.

Mrs. James Aldridge presided at the bride's book. Miss Carol Jones presented the guests to the receiving line.

Peggy Reynolds - Robert Brooks Married in High Springs

Peggy Ann Reynolds, Gainsville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Reynolds and Robert Norris Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris T. Brooks, Avon Park, were married may 25, in the Kennedy Chapel, High Springs.

Rev. Clifford Dance, pastor of The First Christian Church, Avon Park, performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of yellow and white glads, mums and yellow lilies.

She was attended by Miss Pauline Smith as maid of honor. Her mini-skirt dress was made of yellow organza and she carried yellow roses and carnations.

For their wedding trip to Salt Springs, the bride wore a beige sleeveless costume dress with matching coat and accessories. Upon their return they will reside at the Prairie View Apartments, Gainsville.

The bride attended the Gainsville High School and Santa Fe Junior College, Gainesville, and is presently employed as a receiving clerk at Sears. Mr. Brooks is a pharmacy student at the University of Florida, and a member of Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. His father is assistant principal of Avon Elementary School in Avon Park where his mother is employed as a teacher.

Members are urged to attend.

Couple United In Double Ring Ceremony at Baptist Church

Rev. Joe Clements officiated at the double-ring ceremony, which united in marriage Miss Brenda Ann Stansberry of Avon Park, and Richard Eugene Crosson of Sebring. The vows were spoken at 7 o'clock Friday night at First Baptist Church of Sebring.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford M. Stansberry of Avon Park, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie L. Crosson of 21 South Pine Street, Sebring.

Arrangements of white mums, against a background of palms, decorated the church. Teddy Clements, organist, and Miss Joy Pearce, soloist, presented a program of wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown designed of Chantilly lace over white satin fashioned with a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Miss Carolyn Crosson, sister of the bridegroom, attended as maid of honor. She wore a pink bonded lace gown, empire style and floor length. Her flowers were a nosegay of white carnations.

Del DeLaney of Avon Park, served as best man. Ushers were "Buddy" Stansberry, brother of the bride, and Steve Whitehurst of Sebring.

A wedding reception in Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony. The bride's table, overlaid with a white lace cloth, held the decorated wedding cake encircled by greenery and hibiscus in bright hues. The tiered decorated cake was flanked by silver candelabra, in which tall white tapers burned. The table on which the crystal punch bowl was placed, was covered with an embroidered linen cloth.

Miss Emily Emmett, cousin of the bridegroom, was at the guest book throughout the reception. Mrs. Robert Haygood, sister of the bridegroom, served the wedding cake, and Miss Annette Stafford [illegible] the punch bowl. Mrs. George Whitehurst was in charge of arrangements for the reception.

A graduate of Avon Park High School, Class of 1968, the bride is presently employed by United Telephone Co.

The club is most grateful to the sheriff and police department for their cooperation in locating the missing articles.

Methodists Visit APCI

A group of 41 persons from the First United Methodist Church of Avon Park was taken on a tour of the Correctional Institution on the morning of May 29.

C. R. Hamm, personnel manager of the APCI acted as a guide of the group. They were shown through several of the buildings, including the barracks, library, green house, orchid house and "All Souls Chapel," where services for all denominations are conducted at various times. At the close of the tour, the group enjoyed dinner in one of the dining rooms.

Mr. Hamm explained that only prisoners who are now minimum security risks are confined to the institution, no matter what their crime may have been. At present there are 568 prisoners. There are 11 staff positions which include guards, custodians and department heads. The responsibility of this staff is not only the custody of the prisoners but also to try and rehabilitate them and change their attitude toward society.

A progress report is made on each prisoner every six months.

They are taught trades, such as automotive engineering, carpentry, plumbing, agriculture and many lines of work which will fit them for earning a living when they return to society. There is a job replacement officer who contacts employers who are willing to hire these men when they are released. Some of these men were used to work on the remodeling of the buildings for South Florida Junior College.

On May 27, Rev. A. G. Hardee counseled with a group of 15 inmates who are soon to be released. Refreshments were served to them in Wesley Hall.

The group tour was sponsored by the Commission on Christian Social Concerns.

CARD OF THANKS

James Wicks wishes to thank the many relatives, neighbors and friends for their many kindnesses he received during his recent bereavement at the death of his wife Mary.

School Will Resume September 3

Students enjoying Summer vacation which began on June 7 may not wish to know this, but classes will resume on Tuesday, Sept. 3.

According to the 1968-69 calendar adopted by the Highlands County school board, teacher orientation will begin on August 29. Students will resume work the day after Labor Day, and classes will end on June 6.

The Thanksgiving holiday will be November 28 and 29, and the Christmas holidays will be December 20 to January 5. The traditional day off for the Sebring auto races will be March 21.

Easter vacation has been reduced by one day, and this coming year will be April 4-7. All county high schools will have commencement on June 9, and teachers will complete a 196-day year on June 12, 1969.

The calendar, in accordance with Florida law, provides for 186 teaching days. Spotted throughout the year are conference days for teacher-parents meetings, and some special professional improvement days when classes will be held for the teachers.

This is a new feature of the Florida educational system, a provision of the education package provided in the last session of the Legislature. Superintendent George Douglass said that plans for the educational improvement projects in this county will be presented to the school board soon.

Mildred Henderson, H. Bernklau Wed in Private Ceremony

Miss Mildred Henderson, daughter of Mrs. John Henderson and the late John Henderson became the bride of Harry Bernklau in a double ring private service performed Friday evening, June 7 at 8 o'clock by Rev. A. G. Hardee in the First United Methodist Church of Avon Park.

The bride chose a two piece light blue street length dress and white accessories for her wedding. She wore a matching crown and tiny veil and a corsage of pink carnations.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Hubert Bussard and Mrs. Addison G. Hardee.

The bridegroom is a retired superintendent of construction and they will reside in the Pardee Subdivision after a wedding trip to Chicago.

Emma Barnhart Celebrates 100th Birthday

June 6 marked the 100th birthday for Mrs. Emma Barnhart, a resident at Walker Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Barnhart was born in New Milford, Conn., June 6, 1868 and was reared in the New England states.

Through her years Mrs. Barnhart has traveled quite extensively in both the United States and abroad. She states that in America there is an abundance of beauty with which each of us should become acquainted. Much of this to her is superior to that of the old world.

When asked the reason for her longevity, she answered. "It must be due to a happy outlook on life." Today Mrs. Barnhart still maintains this happy outlook on life and looks forward to each day with the joys that it brings.

Bring dish to pass. All members and friends are urged to attend and extend greetings to the new pastor and wife.

Board Appoints Advisory Group

First members for the Lay Advisory Committee of Highlands County schools were appointed by the county school board at its June meeting. From 98 nominations 42 members were chosen — 15 each from Sebring and Avon Park and 12 from Lake Placid.

The supervising principal in each of these areas is to serve as convener for the section of the committee in his own area. Organization of each of these sections and a plan of work is to be presented to the school board by its September meeting.

Appointments are for a single school year.

The supervising principals — Billy Cason in Sebring, Guy Garrett in Avon Park and Aubrey Morris in Lake Placid — are to select teachers to work with the committee.

In announcing the appointments George F. Douglass, county superintendent, said, "Each section of the Lay Advisory Committee is free to appoint additional members, name sub-committees to carry specific work. Beginning with the much longer list of nominees able people can be found who should work with the Lay Advisory Committee. One of the immediate tasks will be a survey of school needs and facilities in each community."

Two applications for membership were received and an investigating committee appointed.

It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Chester Seeger have sold their farm in New York State and returned to Avon Park and bought a home here. All of Avon Park Grange members own property here except one associate member who is now in Massachusetts.

Plans were made to remove all Grange property from the hall by June 7. The Youth Center has been a pleasant meeting place for the Grange and we regret having to give it up.

An impressive memorial service was presented by the Chaplain Master, Lady Assistant Steward, Lecturer, Pomona, Ceres, Flora and the Pianist. Flowers were placed on the altar at the foot of the cross in loving memory of service men and women who have paid the supreme sacrifice, all of the patrons and husbandry who have died since last Memorial Day and Toni Eckhil, our Lecturer, who was called to the Great Grange above on January 1. Flag number—The Stars. Thought for the day—Death is no more than a turning of us over from time to eternity.

The next meeting will be June 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zemi Warner, 417 East Main St.

BILL WEAVER, presents check to Joe Franza, athletic director of Avon Park High School. He and his wife Dot, owners of Villa Laundromat, contribute the check to the Athletic Association to be used toward the new lighting system at the field.

Clyde E. Myers

Clyde E. Myers, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ludt, 1005 W. La Grande, enlisted in the Army May 24.

He left Avon Park May 30 for Fort Jackson, S. C. where he will receive nine weeks of basic training.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU ON RADIO

We all need encouragement and appreciation. Often, though, these seem most lacking when they're most needed. Where can we find strength for times like these? The Bible teems with helpful ideas on the subject. Listen Sunday, June 16, 9 A.M., WJCM, to "Do You Feel Appreciated."

Joe Motorist Pays For U. S. Highways

Highlands County's car owners are discovering that Uncle Sam's glamorous 41,000-mile highway system, now under construction, is a more costly undertaking than they expected.

They know, because they are paying for it along with the rest of the motoring public through their purchases of gasoline, tires and other items.

During the past year their contribution came to approximately $371,000, calculated on the basis of figures from the Bureau of Public Roads. The bulk of it was from the four cents that the government received on every gallon of gas.

Not included in the total were the auto-use taxes collected by the state.

The revenue was deposited in the Highway Trust Fund, which pays 90 per cent of the cost of construction. The states foot the bill for the other 10 per cent.

The annual cost for the typical Highlands County driver, who covers 10,000 miles a year and gets 14 miles to the gallon, is about $30, according to the government findings. For those who travel more or less than this average, the contributions are proportionately larger or smaller.

Transportation Secretary Alan Boyd reports that the cost of the interstate highway system has climbed nearly 26 per cent, or about $9 billion, above the 1963 estimate. It is $15.5 billion greater than the 1961 figure.

In part, the soaring costs are attributed to improved safety features that are being incorporated in the construction.

Back in 1956, when the project was started, it was believed that the work could be done for $27,000 per mile. Today, the cost is nearly double that amount.

As a result, points out Lowell K. Bridwell, Federal Highway Administrator, the trust fund, which is on a pay-as-you-go basis, is not receiving enough revenue to maintain its schedule.

Consequently, it now appears that completion cannot be before 1975, instead of 1972.

With seven more years to go, Highlands County car owners can expect to pay at least $2,394,000 more into the fund, based upon the number of cars now in operation locally.

Outstanding Award Received By Skipper's Unit

Lieutenant Colonel Francis H. Skipper of Avon Park, is a member of a unit that has earned the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Colonel Skipper, deputy commander for fighter operations in the 21st Composite Wing at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

His unit was cited for compiling outstanding records in both combat readiness and training in severe weather to meet the urgent requirements for direct support of the Southeast Asian effort. The 21st was also cited for its participation in insuring the defense of Alaska and the North American continent.

The colonel, who was commissioned in 1943 through the aviation cadet program, served in the China-Burma-India Theater of Operations during World War II.

A graduate of Avon Park High School, he received B.S.A. and M.S.A. degrees from the University of Florida at Gainesville.

Colonel Skipper's wife, Ida, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Williams of 2135 N.W. Ninth Ave., Gainesville.

Testimony of Two Men, the May 1968 novel of Taylor Caldwell, takes it's name from the Bible in the Gospel of Saint John, the eighth chapter, 17th verse. It is also written in your law that the testimony of two men is true."

Testimony of Two Men tells the story of Jonathon Ferrier, a brilliant, dedicated, and persecuted young physician at the turn of the 20th century. It was a time which could have been counted the transition from the 19th century ignorance to the rise of modern medicine.

The very nature of Dr. Ferrier has been one of a turbulent inner drive, with an early acceptance of the weakness of mankind and man. This, along with a passion for truth often spoken in caustic lashes, and culminating in the grizzly and well-publicized death of his young "near legendary" beautiful wife and unborn child form the basis of the threatened future of the doctor.

State Realtors President To Visit Area

DAVID NUSSBAUM, SR.

President David Nussbaum, Sr., of the Florida Association of Realtors, will address the Avon Park and Sebring Boards of Realtors, Tuesday, June 18 at 7 P.M. in the Elks Club at Sebring, according to Ted J. Ward, president of the Avon Park Board.

"President Nussbaum will bring local realtors of the combined boards current activities of the state association which now is climbing toward the 12,000 mark in membership," Mr. Ward said.

Other realtor officials slated to attend the banquet meeting will be F.A.R. District 10 vice president, Lewie Smith, Jr., of Lakeland, and F.A.R. executive vice president of Orlando. Past vice presidents of District 10 include Roy Alexander of Sebring and Mr. Ward of Avon Park.

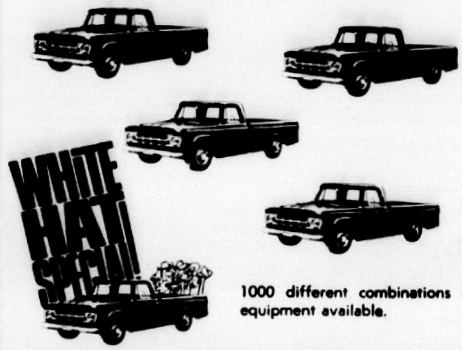

Nussbaum, a Jacksonville realtor, has been active in state, national, and local affairs of real estate since he began his career in 1934. He is a former district vice president of the state association and a former president of the Jacksonville Board of Realtors.

Nussbaum has been especially active in the field of property management and has served as president of the North Florida Chapter of the Institute of Real Estate Management and former president of the Property Managers Association of Jacksonville. He has served on the resolutions committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

A native of Brunswick, Ga., Nussbaum attended Florida schools. He is a member of Jacksonville's Downtown Council and the city's Exchange Club.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

By Ruth F. Robinson

We were sorry to hear of the accident with a truck that Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Draper had in Cambridge, Ohio. They escaped with bruises and minor injuries for which they are thankful, but their car was demolished. We do hope the rest of the Summer will find them recuperated and their troubles resolved satisfactorily.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Coy and Mr. and Mrs. Gieb stopped in for a visit on Monday afternoon. They were Mr. and Mrs. Art Faber (Norma) from Canton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Bland Newkirk arrived safely in Hendersonville, N. C. the day after they left here, then promptly ventured on a trip to Asheville, N. C. with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gerten. The Roy Gertens stated that business has been slow but are expecting arrivals in their trailer park soon, and they are fine.

Mrs. Frank Fisher wishes to thank all her friends and Frank's friends for the flowers from the park and the sympathy and consideration shown her during the recent illness of Frank, and her bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilhelm also expressed their appreciation of all kindnesses. The Masonic rites were put on for Frank on Wednesday evening, and the Eastern Star rites were at graveside. Ivy is doing well and staying in her home at the present time. The flowers sent to the park were large, blue tinted mums, very beautiful.

We were pleased to hear from Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott, who arranged for the flowers to be sent to the Ames Funeral Home, for Frank, as per request of Mrs. Olive Kerwin, and we appreciate their choice.

Mrs. Rosa Bennington sends her best to everyone left in the park, as well as her friends in the North. She expects to return at the end of the month, and is looking forward to it.

It seems that everyone, or almost everyone, is back they were back here as it is so cold and rainy where they are. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fries can't get anything done the Dwight Sherman's don't like the rain. Mr. and Mrs. Baker are looking forward to seeing us sometime this Summer for a short time.

Our sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Haffacer in the death of his sister, Mrs. Helen Hayes of Morganfield, Ky. They attended the funeral last week and visited with other relatives for a short time before returning home.

Hurricane Abby gave all of us a bit of concern, last week, but as it was, we escaped any damage, although Walter Coady and Bobby kept alert and busy clearing yards and tieing down awnings. Just in Case.

After 46 continuous years in the retail business (with exception of 4 years of army service during World War II), I have decided to curtail my business activities. Therefore, I am disposing of all wearing apparel while maintaining my interest in the shoe store. After the sale, I will open, in the present clothing department, one of the finest family shoe stores in the state.

Avon Park Lakes News

Cynthia T. Calvert — GL 3-6532

Vincent Bleeker from West Moreland, N. H. was the overnight guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Guenzel last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd returned home Monday from a four week trip visiting their son, family and friends at Decatur, Champagaign Urbana, Springfield and La Place, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burlingame were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spencer last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Folsinski from Clawson, Mich., arrived last Monday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hurst for three weeks. Mrs. Folsinski and Mrs. Hurst are sisters.

The salad bar luncheon was well attended last Thursday with 20 ladies present. Mrs. Maurice Bush, a new resident at the Lakes and her little granddaughter, Kathy Lynn Bush from Hialeah were present Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. William Robbins, Mrs. Francis Peffer and Mrs. Leonard H. Porter.

A special Independence Day pot luck dinner will be held at the club house on Thursday, July 4 at 6 P.M. The regular monthly salad bar luncheon will not be held that day. The regular monthly pot luck dinner will be held at the club house on Thursday, June 20 at 6 P.M.

Mrs. Elmer Hurst entered Walker Memorial Hospital last Thursday for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer returned to the Lakes last Wednesday from a four week trip, visiting their son and family at Bloomington, Ill. and seeing their new granddaughter. At Rock Island, Ill. they visited friends and her brother and family. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lowe. Mr. Meyer attended a retirement dinner with some of his former co-workers there. They spent Memorial Day in Nokomis, Ill., with the sisters of Mr. Meyer. Before returning they stopped at Florence, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rogers gave a farewell dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spencer this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hurst, her mother Mrs. Margarite Hartretha, and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Folsinski visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Below in Tampa last Friday, then drove to Clearwater to fish from the Clearwater Pier. On Monday they visited Cypress Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hatton from Lancaster, Pa., arrived last Friday to visit his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Hatton on Lake Olivia.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arace from Miami were visitors at the home of Mrs. Albert Richie last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hardy from Cleveland, Ohio, arrived last Saturday from their former home. Mr. Hardy recently retired from the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation after 41 years service. After leaving Cleveland they spent a week visiting the mother of Mr. Hardy and other relatives at Lawrenceburg, Tenn. They are temporarily residing at the Robert Bennett residence, on Dryden Road. We extend a hardy welcome to them in our community, as they expect to become permanent residents at the Lakes.

Avon Park Man Fined $35 in County Court

John Edward Mason of Avon Park was fined $35 for failure to use due care and another $35 for failure to leave information as required after striking an unattended vehicle when he appeared before Judge Mervin Rehrer in county court last week.

Carl Marvin Wilburn of Sebring was fined $25 for unlawful speed, Pother Mishoe, Jr., of Lake Placid $35 for disobeying a stop sign.

Winter Guest Club News

Elizabeth Clarke — GL 3-6733

Shuffling

If Burdette Howard hadn't called all the shufflers to a special tournament on Thursday evening, there would not have been any tournament this past week. For on Wednesday Abby still gave us rain, and on Saturday we had another down-pour. Eleven inches for the week.

Twenty shufflers turned out on Thursday evening. Winners were Ruth Jordan and Chris Caterzas over Mayme Cormie and Kate McAlexander. Reed Simpson and Elzo Cormie won in consolation over Elizabeth Clarke and Art Jordan.

Card Games

The Monday afternoon pinochle games continue. High score was won by Henry Reddick with 649, and James Yannielli came in second with 564.

Dances

The Summer dances are well attended. Eighteen on Monday evening and 35 on Friday evening. Two new members were accepted this week, Arthur and Ruth Cox from Sebring.

News Exchange

President Harry Gibson is in the hospital at Winter Haven for surgery. It is reported that he is doing very well.

Burdette and Alene Howard spent the weekend with their son and family in Cocoa. The occasion was the son, Wayne's birthday.

The Harold Wolcotts write from Rolling Prairie, Ind., that they look forward to the reading of the "Sun" each week.

Judy and Blaine Kerr have returned to their home in Avon Park, after briefly visiting their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Nolder in Youngstown, Ohio. There was a family get-together to say good-bye to son-in-law, James Wallace, who will be leaving soon for a year in Antarctica. He is a U.T.C. in the Navy. Also there was their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr.

The Glenn Longs entertained their family with a buffet supper on Memorial Day. This included two daughters, one son and their families.

The Torrey Kerrs have sold their home in Carsonville, Mich., and are living in an apartment on the lake.

Ray and Lois Johnson are visiting in the home of their son, Don, while Don and his wife are touring in Europe. They are caring for the five grandchildren in Rochester, Mich. They are also visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilcox in Utica, Mich. The Wilcoxes have a new son.

Silk and tea could be produced in our southern states, but labor is too high.

Beware of the sharp pencil.

It can stick you. But good. For lowest bid is not always your best buy.

Particularly in air conditioning where equipment becomes an integral part of your building. Real economy comes from extra years of service. And from savings in operation and maintenance. These can more than make up for possible differences in initial cost.

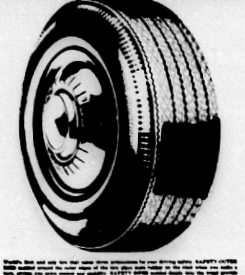

Carrier starts with the sharpest pencil of all. Value. It's why n...e people put their confidence in Carrier than in any other make.

Entertainer Entertained

Americans love Maurice Chevalier as much as Europeans do and even our birds, like this long billed toucan from Florida's Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg, seem to sing his praises. The 80-year-old entertainer admits his age with a smile. He says he is retiring but he plans to keep his foot in the stage door.

WHO SAYS Great Danes can't do police work? Anyone want to argue with Khan, who proved to British cops he qualifies, while remaining gentle with kids.

Today, we seldom see folk dancing unless it is at a folk festival. Other forms of group recreation have taken its place.

Sometimes this "recreation" gets a bit rough and law enforcement officers may be be called in to break it up. The officers do so by hauling in the "ringleader."

Times haven't changed much. People have just shifted gears.

VOLUME XLIV | NUMBER 34 | AVON PARK, FLORIDA 33825 — THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1968 | GL 3-4351 | GL 3-4355 | 10c PER COPY

City Sues 49 Property Owners Delinquent Taxes

City of Avon Park has instituted foreclosure proceedings against 49 property owners who owe the city taxes. The suit filed in Circuit Court last week lists some accounts dating back as far as 1962. Amounts due vary greatly—from a high of $412 for a single year to a low of 53 cents for some years.

Defendants in the suit filed by Jack Hancock, city attorney for Avon Park, are given until August 5 to file a reply.

Bid Opening Date Changed On Housing Project

The Housing Authority of Avon Park has again extended its construction bid opening date to July 16, 1968 to allow unsuccessful bidders of major projects throughout the state whose bidding dates fall in the last week of June to have sufficient time to submit a bid on this project.

At the present time there is a total of eight construction companies who have checked out plans and are studying them. Only a few have indicated they would not be able to bid.

Solfball League Will Kick Off Season Monday

The slowpitch softball league will kick-off its season Monday night, June 24. The league is comprised of six teams with a schedule of 15 games each.

Opening night ceremonies will include the presentation of a trophy to APCI, last year's champions, who had a won, lost record of 13-2. There will be two games each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with the first game beginning at 7 P.M. and the second game at 8:30 P.M.

The city of Avon Park has purchased material and APCI has furnished the labor to build permanent bleachers at the slowpitch field. Highlands Coca Cola Co. has agreed to supply a concession stand.

At a meeting of the slowpitch league held Tuesday at the fire department, last year's officers were re-elected, they are: Feiland Cribb, president; Mac Flowers, vice president; Sgt. Brocker, secretary and Jack Duggan, treasurer.

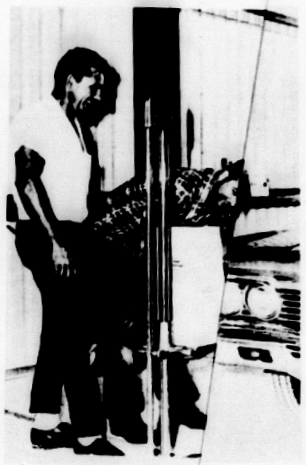

Anyone wishing to play should contact the following managers: Gene Shawver, APCI; Sgt. Brocker, Air Force; Lollar Wells, First Baptist Church; Jack Duggan, Methodist Church; Mac Flowers, Baptist and Feiland Cribb, Highlands Ranch and Grove.

C of C Directors To Meet

The Board of Directors of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular meeting Thursday, June 20 at 8 P.M. in the chamber office. All directors are urged to attend. W. H. "Bill" Reck has encouraged all chamber members to attend these meetings.

During the month of May, 31 letters of inquiry were answered by the chamber's secretary. These inquiries were about housing for permanent residents, vacation cottages, schools, property for sale, golf courses, and general information on our city. During the first two weeks in June, 22 letters have been received and answered.

The chamber still has a supply of Avon Park license plates for automobiles, available at $1.00. Also on hand are a few copies of the History of Avon Park, also priced at $1.00.

TESTING LIGHTS at the Avon Park inspection center is Emmanuel Steward as Heston Watford. Lights have given car owners the most trouble at the test centers. A ve is being made to get the law on lights rela a little.

Highlands County Ato Inspection Station To Open 7 A.M.

Highlands County motorists are early risers—so John Gercken, motor vehicle inspection director has found. On Gercken's recommendation the county commissioners have revised the inspection station operating hours to provide more time in the morning and less at night.

Beginning Monday, June 24, the inspection station at Avon Park and the one at Sebring will open at 7 A.M. Monday through Saturday. Monday through Friday the stations will close at 6 P.M. and closing time on Saturday will be 1 P.M.

Gercken said lines of motorists have been forming long before the 9 A.M. opening time. Commissioner Carl McIntyre reported that he had gone early and found that a h motorists were ahead of and before 9 a considerline had formed. He used waiting time to interview motorists and found that ny people thought the staus should open at 8 A.M. and strongly favored early open-

Gercken said his crews have been rushed early in the day and between 6 and 8 P.M. "just stand around."

Over Half Pass

Gercken reported that the rejection rate in this county is now running under 50 per cent, and some days last week less than 20 per cent of the vehicles failed to pass on initial inspection.

In the first two weeks of operation the Highlands County inspection stations gave official approval to 1,000 vehicles.

At the meeting Tuesday the county commissioners considered ways of handling inspections for truck fleets, and for the time being Gercken will contact owners of large fleets of vehicles and try to work out a mutually convenient time.

J. F. Medaugh Installed New Treasurer

Jerry F. Medarth, assistant administrator at Walker Memorial Hospital was recently installed s treasurer of the state chpter of the Hospital Financil Management Association.Installation occured at the anual meeting of the Association in Miami Beach on May 31, 1968.

The organization has recently had a change of name from the American Association of Hospital accountants to the present Hospital Financial Management Association. The name change was brought about due to the wider range of membership and the broader scope of activities now covered by the organization.

The Florida Chapter presently has a membership of 337. Included in this are Hospital Administrators, Assistant Administrators, Controllers, Accountants and Patients' Business Managers. Members of Auditing Firms and Health Insurance Programs, such as Blue Cross - Blue Shield are also among this group. The Association was organized in 1946 by William G. Man Found Dead In Burning Trailer

Investigation is underway into the death of Robert McGee, 63 year-old migrant worker found dead in a burning house trailer in the Lacey Hill section of Avon Park Tuesday.

Avon Park city firemen who responded to the call at 8:17 P.M. said McGee was dead when removed from the North end of the aluminum trailer. Coroner Mervin Rehrer requested an autopsy.

Avon Park city police and sheriff's deputies who investigated said McGee had come to Florida from New York state about five months ago. They said he appeared to be alone in the trailer Tuesday night.

William Hunt, 24, had been shot to death at the McGee trailer on May 25. Cecil Mayjor, also of Avon Park, is being held in he county jail, charged with Hunt's murder. Investigators said today they have not been able to establish any relationship between the deaths of Hunt and McGee.

The trailer where McGee had lived was owned by Arnold Goburne. Damage from Tuesday's fire is estimated at $3,000.

DRIVER JAILED

An Avon Park man drew a 60-day sentence and $100 fine for driving while his license was revoked. In County Judge's Court Tuesday, Judge Mervin Rehrer sentenced Seaburn Blackburn of 403 South Tellico, to jail and if he does not pay a $100 fine he is to spend 30 days more in jail.

Bids To Be Posted On New Post Office

Congressman James A. Haley and Congressman Paul S. Rogers advised Postmaster Robert D. Young this week that the Post Office Department will post advertisements on June 24, 1968 soliciting bids for the construction of the new Avon Park Post Office to be located on the Southwest corner of Pine and Verona.

Postmaster Young said the interior will consist of 9,418 square feet platform 507 and the parking and maneuvering area 24,684 square feet.

There will be a ten-year lease with four five-year options on the building. Bids to be opened July 24, 1 P.M. in the office of real estate officer, Edward Leven, Biscayne Ave., Miami.

Plans For 4-Laning 27 Looks Brighter

There is going to be lots of road work on US 27 in the next year, according to a report made to Highlands County commissioners by Louis B. "Skid" Magid, an official of the Orange Blossom Trail Association.

The association includes public and private businesses which promote tourism on Route 441 and 27, "the Orange Blossom Trail."

Magid, who presented a plaque to the commissioners Tuesday for the role they have played in obtaining of four-laning of parts of 27, said a contract for the four-laning of 27 in Lake County will be let this month.

Work from Clermont to the Polk County line is set for 1969. Two sections in Polk County—from Interstate 4 to Haines City and from Lake Wales to the Passion Play turn-off—are scheduled for 1968-69 budget year.

Commissioner Jean Whitaker said Glades County's commissioners have promised to begin negotiations immediately with the State Road Department for pledging of secondary funds to assist with four-laning costs in that county.

Magid and the Highlands County commissioners joined in mourning the lack of plans for four-laning of 27 from the Polk County line to Interstate 4.

Board Hearing Set for July 2

Highlands County commissioners have set Tuesday, July 2, for the annual board of equalization hearing. At 11 A.M. July 2 all property owners who feel that their property has not been assessed on the same basis as other property of similar type may present their complaints to the commissioners.

The board of equalization does not set the assessment, it only determines whether all property in each classification has been assessed by the same yardstick.

County Supplemental Budget Set By Board At $639,000

Highlands County commissioners have given tentative approval to a supplemental budget which ups county expenditures in its general fund by $50,000 for the year which ends Sept. 30.

At Tuesday's meeting the board approved for advertising a budget which totals $639,000. The board has set 9 A.M. on Tuesday, July 9, for final action on this supplemental budget.

Expenses connected with institution of the motor vehicle inspection program account for over half of the budget increase. First payments on buildings, equipment, office supplies, and staff salaries are budgeted at $25,000. During the same period the commissioners hope to collect $20,300.

Second largest new item is the cost of the county's new zoning department. Salary for the director, travel and initial supplies are budgeted at $10,985.

Cost of organizing the new system of sending questionnaires to all prospective jurors has pushed the jury commission's expenses from the anticipated $300 to $1,664.

The state-ordered tax reassessment program caught the county tax assessor in a financial bind last year but the Legislature has adjusted the fees for that office — and upped the fees in this county by an anticipated $17,500. The interest on the loan the commissioners obtained to pay for the re-assessment will be $4,781, rather than $2,390 originally budgeted.

Here and there throughout the budget smaller changes have been made. Clerk Earl Rich pointed out that based on expenditures in 1966-67, the commissioners had budgeted $1,000 for incompetency hearings in 1967-68 — and to date $3,500 has been spent.

To meet the higher costs, the commissioners will depend on the auto inspection fees and a dip into anticipated carry-over.

The original budget had carried a reserve for contingencies item of $31,185, while the supplemental budget has only $9,419 in that account.

Budgeted excess fees from some county officials has been boosted: the tax collector from $7,000 to $11,710; clerk of the Circuit Court from $1,500 to $3,800; the county judge from $4,000 to $4,300.

Health Department receipts, once set at $8,500 may bring in as much as $7,000, according to the supplemental budget.

At the same time Tuesday, the commissioners gave tentative approval to a corrected budget for the capital outlay reserve for the construction trust fund (set up from the sale of the race track bonds). Clerk Earl Rich explained a mistake had been made in the manner of recording time deposits from the construction trust funds.

Other Business

In other business Tuesday the commissioners authorized preparation of letters to the legislators from this district urging the inclusion of Highlands County in the Everglades Fire Control district. A representative from the district explained that this agency specializes in prevention and control of muck and underground fires.

Promised to inspect the main roads in Orange Blossom Estates which Commissioner Carl McIntyre had recommended accepting for county maintenance.

Promised to carry out "soon as possible" some hyacinth removal work at the upper end of Jackson Creek and in the canals of the Istokpoga Marsh Watershed.

Voted to buy, for $228.80, from South Florida Motor Co. spray equipment to use in hyacinth spraying. Authorized purchase of a boat and motor to use with this spraying equipment.

Awarded to Bill Haynes the contract for construction of an office for the motor vehicle inspecting director at a cost of $575.

Authorized placement of ads for county engineer applications in three publications, and set aside a part of the July 2 meeting to confer with an engineer about job description for an engineer.

Authorized purchase of a second-hand washing machine for the juvenile home at a cost of $80.

HIGHLANDS COUNTY Commissioners received a large wooden plaque from the Orange Blossom Trail Association in appreciation for the role the commissioners have played in furthering the four-laning of Highway 27. The presentation was made, on behalf of this highway association, by Louis B. "Skid" Magid of Winter Park (extreme right) to (left to right) Commissioners Earl Crutchfield, Cecil Skipper, Chairman Ben McGee, Jean Whitaker and Carl McIntyre. Magid told the board his association is delighted with plans for the completion of the four-laning of 27 throughout the county by 1972, and plans are underway for adding other four-lane sections to 27 this year. The commissioners had the appreciation plaque hung in their meeting room as soon as the presentation ceremonies were completed Tuesday.

City Council Holds Special Meeting On Airport Hangar

At a special meeting on the airport Friday night the Avon Park City Council over the objection of Councilman Durrah Martin, instructed City Attorney Jack Hancock to prepare a lease with Shelley Marrs subject F.A.A. conditions.

Under the contract Marrs will pay the city $50 per month on the new hangar and construct a $10,000 leanto with rest rooms and pilot's lounge. The leanto will revert back to the city in 20 years. In addition he offered to pay three cents per gallon of 80 octane gas purchased, two cents per gallon of 100 octane and one cent on jet fuel. Also the city would get 25 per cent of gross income from rentals, leases and tie downs.

In the contract Marrs will have a 20 year lease with two five year options to renew the lease.

In discussing the lease Martin said he objected to the lease because the city would have only a guarantee of $50 per month on a $50,000 investment.

Councilman Albright voted for the lease but said he would like the recommendations of the aviation board. Lane said as the airport grows in which it will, the city will have the potential of making $400 to $800 a month.

The new airport hangar is alread under construction.

County Banks Band Together To Buy School Construction Bonds

Highlands is one of the seven Florida counties which will benefit from a $4.6 million dollar sale of state school bonds Tuesday.

The four banks of Highlands County banded together to submit to the State Board of Education a single bid for $375,000 in long-term bonds which will finance new construction in this county.

The banks also are cooperating on a short-term $196,000 loan to South Florida Junior College to match federal construction funds for the SFJC permanent campus.

Details of the loans were worked out in a joint meeting of county banks' officials last week, and Kenneth Grady, president of Tropical Bank & Trust Co., submitted the bid to Tallahassee.

Only other counties able to muster bank support for the low interest bonds were Bay, Duval, Hernando, Hillsborough, Manatee and Pinellas. No bids were received

School Bus Drivers Receive Certificates

Seven Highlands County school bus drivers have received certificates from the State Department of Education for completing 100 hours of school bus driver training.

A week of special training for the drivers is arranged each year, and in addition each regular and substitute must complete a standard first aid course.

Garland Boggus, transportation officer for Highlands County schools, explained that while drivers are not required to take the week of special training, virtually all the drivers do attend the classes which include 16 hours of instruction annually.

City Sues 49 Property Owners Delinquent Taxes

City of Avon Park has instituted foreclosure proceedings against 49 property owners who owe the city taxes. The suit filed in Circuit Court last week lists some accounts dating back as far as 1932. Amounts due vary greatly—from a high of $412 for a single year to a low of 53 cents for some years.

Defendants in the suit filed by Jack Hancock, city attorney for Avon Park, are given until August 5 to file a reply.

Bid Opening Date Changed On Housing Project

The Housing Authority of Avon Park has again extended its construction bid opening date to July 16, 1968 to allow unsuccessful bidders of major projects throughout the state whose bidding dates are in the last week of June to have sufficient time to submit a bid on this project.

At the present time there is a total of eight construction companies who have checked out plans and are studying them. Only a few have indicated they would not be able to bid.

Solfball League Will Kick Off Season Monday

The slowpitch softball league will kick-off its season Monday night, June 24. The league is comprised of six teams with a schedule of 15 games each.

Opening night ceremonies will include the presentation of a trophy to APCI, last year's champions, who had a won, lost record of 13-2. There will be two games each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday with the first game beginning at 7 P.M. and the second game at 8:30 P.M.

The city of Avon Park has purchased material and APCI has furnished the labor to build permanent bleachers at the slowpitch field. Highlands Coca Cola Co. has agreed to supply a concession stand.

At a meeting of the slowpitch league held Tuesday at the fire department, last year's officers were re-elected, they are: Ferland Cribb, president; Mac Flowers, vice president; Sgt. Brocker, secretary and Jack Duggan, treasurer.

Anyone wishing to play should contact the following managers: Gene Shawver, APCI; Sgt. Brocker, Air Force; Lollar Wells, First Baptist Church; Jack Duggan, Methodist Church; Mac Flowers, Bagwell and Ferland Cribb, Highlands Ranch and Grove.

C of C Directors To Meet

The Board of Directors of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular meeting Thursday, June 20 at 8 P.M. in the chamber office. All directors are urged to attend. W. R. "Bill" Reck has encouraged all chamber members to attend these meetings.

During the month of May, 31 letters of inquiry were answered by the chamber's secretary. These inquiries were about housing for permanent residents, vacation cottages, schools, property for sale, golf courses, and general information on our city. During the first two weeks in June, 22 letters have been received and answered.

The chamber still has a supply of Avon Park license plates for automobiles available at $1.00. Also on hand are a few copies of the History of Avon Park, also priced at $1.00.

TESTING LIGHTS at the Avon Park Inspection center lis Emmanuel Stewart and Heston Watford. Lights have given car owners the most trouble at the test centers. A move is being made to get the law on lights relaxed a little.

Highlands County Auto Inspection Station To Open at 7 A.M.

Highlands County motorists are early risers—so John Gercken, motor vehicle inspection director has found. On Gercken's recommendation the county commissioners have revised the inspection station operating hours to provide more time in the morning and less at night.

Beginning Monday, June 24, the inspection station at Avon Park and the one at Sebring will open at 7 A.M. Monday through Saturday. Monday through Friday the stations will close at 6 P.M. and closing time on Saturday will be 1 P.M.

Gercken said lines of motorists have been forming long before the 9 A.M. opening time. Commissioner Carl McIntyre reported that he had gone out early and found that a half dozen motorists were ahead of him and before 9 a considerable line had formed. He used the waiting time to interview other motorists and found that many people thought the stations should open at 8 A.M. and all strongly favored early opening.

Gercken said his crews have been rushed early in the day and between 6 and 8 P.M. "just stand around."

Over Half Pass

Gercken reported that the rejection rate in this county is now running under 50 per cent, and some days last week less than 20 per cent of the vehicles failed to pass on initial inspection.

In the first two weeks of operation the Highlands County inspection stations gave official approval to 1,000 vehicles.

At the meeting Tuesday the county commissioners considered ways of handling inspections for truck fleets, and for the time being Gercken will contact owners of large fleets of vehicles and try to work out a mutually convenient time.

J. F. Medanich Installed New Treasurer

Jerry F. Medanich, assistant administrator at Walker Memorial Hospital, was recently installed as treasurer of the state chapter of the Hospital Financial Management Association. Installation occured at the annual meeting of the Association in Miami Beach on May 31, 1968.

The organization has recently had a change of name from the American Association of Hospital Accountants to the present Hospital Financial Management Association. The name change was brought about due to the wider range of membership and the broader scope of activities now covered by the organization.

The Florida Chapter presently has a membership of 337. Included in this are Hospital Administrators, Assistant Administrators, Controllers, Accountants and Patients' Business Managers. Members of Auditing Firms and Health Insurance Programs, such as Blue Cross-Blue Shield are also among this group. The Association was organized in 1946 by William G. Follmer and from a small beginning has grown to become a national organization with over 70 chapters.

The Ten Commandments

Professional truck drivers throughout the country follow these "ten commandments" of the road and they're good for all of us:

— Check brakes, lights and other equipment before starting out, and periodically during each trip.

— Park all personal problems at the curb when starting to drive.

— When on the road, observe all state laws and respect the laws of nature governing momentum, deceleration, centrifugal force and gravity.

— Watch out for children and pedestrians.

— Don't tailgate. Keep enough distance between your vehicle and the one ahead to allow faster vehicles to pass. Make every proper effort to permit following traffic to pass on long grades and permit delayed traffic to pass at the top of a long grade.

— Never debate the right-of-way — give it!

— Don't fight sleep. If drowzy, get off the road and take a short rest.

— Don't hesitate to slack and be ready to stop the instant potential danger appears. Drive so that your vehicle is under control at all times.

— Give other motorists the breaks that you wish they'd give you.

Let's Count Blessings

We in Highlands County can count our blessings in many ways. If you searched a little behind the figures issued by the Florida Department of Public Welfare this week, there was comfort to be drawn.

It showed that 736 persons in Highlands County received commodity foods worth $2,744.67 in May.

Gadsden County, in the tobacco and farming country of the panhandle, only slightly bigger in population than Highlands, received $42,917.32 for 8,854 persons.

Aren't we glad that we don't have that many needy folks in this county! We wish things were better for the poor of Gadsden County.

It doubtless irks some of us that so many people should be on the food dole—it costs each of us money since the federal government pays for this—but money or no money, how many of us would want to see somebody in this great country of ours go hungry?

The food program for our poor is one of the programs in which we can see we're getting something for our money. Just think how many poor could eat from the money spent in one lost F111 plane in Viet Nam.

Are You Fit?

Vice President Humphrey recently cited facts and figures which should send every American running to the nearest sports club or YMCA, or at least jolt him out of the easy chair in front of his television set.

Speaking to the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, of which he is chairman, Mr. Humphrey reported that:

—One of every two American adults is overweight, according to estimates by the American Medical Association;

—Fifty per cent of America's college students —young men and women in their late teens or early twenties—fail to meet accepted physical fitness standards; and —The average American youngster spends 10 hours watching TV for every hour he spends in supervised sports or physical activity.

As a way of getting Americans of all ages to be more active and fit, the vice president has suggested that we convert our schools into neighborhood recreation centers. Specifically, he is asking all communities to keep open their school sports facilities—the gymnasiums, swimming pools, tennis courts, tracks, and playing fields—this Summer.

Mr. Humphrey's request makes excellent sense. America has nearly $100 billion invested in its schools, yet most communities operate them at capacity only eight hours a day, 180 days a year. The city of Sebring, we're happy to report, has planned an extension Summer recreation program for high school students.

What Does The Bible Say About War?

There are those who oppose our involvement in the war in Viet Nam on the basis of the Biblical commandment, "Thou shalt not kill."

There may be valid arguments against our having undertaken military action in that area—but this is not one of them.

The commandment forbids murder. It has nothing whatever to do with war. There seems to be no doubt that the people to whom the commandment was given understood clearly what was meant and knew that the death penalty was decreed for those who were guilty of murder.

That the Lord has taken an active part in warfare, on some occasions, is indicated by this incident in which David and Goliath figured:

What Does Record Show?

According to the Scriptural record, David said to the Philistine giant, "I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel. This day will the Lord deliver thee into my hand and I will smite thee and take thine head from thee."

And he did.

Some time later, David received the report that Philistines were fighting against the city of Keilah.

"Therefore," the Bible tells us, "David inquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go and smite these Philistines? And the Lord said unto David, 'Go and smite the Philistines and save Keilah.'"

Again with the blessing and help of the Lord, David was victorious.

Certainly, God is a God of peace, and war is contrary to His desire. But to permit an ungodly enemy to take over a people who desire only to be free and to mind their own business peaceably is evidently even more repugnant to Him than is armed conflict.

Who Will Bear Blame?

Who will bear the blame for the death of the thousands of innocent men, women, and children who will be butchered by the Viet Cong if we desert South Viet Nam now?

The leaders of this nation who have condemned our young men to die in a war which they are not permitted to win will have to answer for this to the God of justice.

Let us not bring upon ourselves responsibility for the slaughter of the innocents which would certainly follow on our giving up the field to the enemy.

Millard Newman, Tampa cigar manufacturer, will lead a parade of 61 cars built in 1914 or before in a coast to coast run ending in San Francisco, commencing the 60th anniversary of the 1908 New York to Paris automobile race, longest ever staged.

The event presents years of planning by Florida old car enthusiasts. At the time it was planned to qually cover the complete 169-run which was won by Gene Schuster in a Buffalo-made Thomas Flyer, via Japan and Siberia to Europe but permission from the Soviet Union did not be obtained so it was decided to cover only the U. S. part of the route.

The event is scheduled to start the morning of June 15 from New York here George Schuster will be on hand to start the contestants off and wish them the best of luck.

Each of the ancient car drivers entered in the ent will be presented with a cer of a new edition of "The Lgest Auto Race" written by Orge Schuster with the help Tom Mahoney as an expanon of the Reader's Digest first erson article, "Around the orld. Almost in 169 Days."

Another Floridian cered in the event is Morris P. rost of Avon Park who will drive a 1910 White Steamer, ; others will be gasoline power. Newman will drive his Thomas Flyer.

Winners will be decid on a point system involvg reliability and age of the ca They will receive prizes, in ding one from the New York Times in 1908 at a San Fracisco Hilton dinner concluding ti run on July 13.

Stops over night or longe will be made at Albany Jun 18, Syracuse June 17, Buffalo me 18, Cleveland June 19, Chago June 22, Des Moines June 24, Omaha June 25, Hastings, Nebr. June 26, Denver June 29, It Lake City July 4 and Reno July 6. All contestants will be members of the Veterans Motor Car Club, the Antique Auto Club the Horseless Carriage Club America.

While super highways an throughways of high speed traffic will be avoided the route will follow as closely as possible the original route of the 1908 race, so vividly described in the Schuster's book, "The Longest Auto Race."

Other Floridians who may enter the event include G. P. (Dick) Hovey, Dunedin in a 1914 Fiat; Sidney Strong, Silver Springs, in a 1914 Pierce-Arrow and James P. Thomas, Miami, in a 1911 White.

Other makes of ancient cars expected to participate are a 1909 Simplex, 1911 Chalmers, 1911 Marmon, 1912 Packard, 1912 Buick, 1908 Mercedes, 1911 Ford, 1913 Overland, 1914 American La France Roadster, 1911 Rolls Royce, 1912 Humpmobile, 1913 Hudson and 1912 Isotta Fraschini.

The American Automobile Association will provide tow service and Gulf Oil Corporation is furnishing gas and oil. It ought to be a thrilling event.

Palmist Refused License In County

A palmist who had proposed to open a fortune-telling business near Avon Park will not commence her Highlands County career in the immediate future. At their meeting Tuesday the Highlands County commissioners voted unanimously to deny Mrs. Virginia Johnson's request for a license to practice palmistry.

In accordance with state law Mrs. Johnson had filed a written application for a license, and Circuit Court Clerk Earl Rich had conducted an investigation.

Rich presented his report to the board Tuesday. The board first voted to table the whole matter until Mrs. Johnson's credit reports were available (they had been requested by Rich but no responses had been received, he explained.

Later Tuesday morning Commissioner Cecil Skipper said a closer study of the investigator's reports "raises serious questions about whether Mrs. Johnson is a bona fide resident of Highlands County as required by this license law."

Mrs. Johnson told the board she had made arrangements to establish her palm-reading business in a building outside of Avon Park on US 27, and her husband, a free lance auto salesman hoped to go into business in this county.

In Colonial days, there were three requirements for voting: 1) belong to church, 2) be a hard worker, and 3) own $1500 worth of property or cash.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOBE

BILLIONS FOR THE ENEMY

"Efforts to stop foreign aid to the COMMUNISTS and their allies have been regularly defeated in Congress. On November 8, 1967, Congressman H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) tried to amend the foreign aid bill to prohibit foreign aid grants to nations which trade with North Viet Nam. Congress defeated the amendment by a vote of 200 to 196. The time has come when it is time for America to ask, "Which side are we on in this Viet Nam war, anyhow?"

MONEY WASTED BY BILLIONS

Washington follows the same pattern of "fight them with one hand and aid them with the other," in dealing with the agitators who are fomenting Moscow's war in American streets. Billions of dollars have been appropriated by Congress to finance a "war on poverty." Such spending is supposed to eliminate the slum conditions which agitators exploit to start destructive riots.

"Any merit such an approach might have had was cancelled out when the Communists and other agitators were hired to administer the "War on Poverty." Dozens of agitators, paid with Federal funds, were directly involved in provoking the disastrous wave of riots which spread across America in the summer of 1967. Washington, though warned in advance of the activities of the agitators, refused to take any action." — from "Death of A Nation."

HOW NOT TO FIGHT A WAR

In July, 1965, President Johnson told a TV audience that we were making a great build-up of military power to deal the Communists a death blow in Viet Nam, if it took that to bring about a just peace. Inside 30 months 150,000 young Americans were killed in this effort. He praised the Communists were the public enemy, but, regardless of all this, he made agreements to sell or GIVE the Soviet Union and her satellites hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of food, electronic computers, chemical plants, oil refinery equipment, airborne radar apparatus, jet air-craft engines, machine tools for an 800,000,000 auto assembly plant, not military rifles! As young men died, bled and died in Viet Nam, the Supreme Court of the United States "gave Communists the right to teach in American public schools by declaring a New York State law against Communist teachers UNCONSTITUTIONAL! JOBS IN DEFENSE PLANTS were also opened to Communists ACTION groups by the decision of the same mule-headed Supreme Court.

Is any wonder that the United States, the strongest military and economic nation in the world, cannot win a war against a backward, ignorant people living in a country the size of the State of Missouri?

When I consider these horrifying, jackass-headed actions, I can understand why many intelligent college students do not feel like going to war, when they are told which side of the war he are on.

IS GOD DEAD OR HIS WORSHIP?

America is paying lip service to God. Our money says "In God We Trust," but the Supreme Court has banned prayer and Bible reading in the schools. A great victory for the gangsters in the Kremlin.) In the pledge of allegiance to the Flag, we still say we are "One Nation under God." Rising crime, increasing thousands of divorce, drug addiction, births to unmarried teenagers, etc., make the words a pitiful slogan of sarcasm and lip service. King Claudius, Himlet's stepfather, said, "My words fly up, my thoughts remain below; words without thoughts can ne'er to Heaven go."

No man has a chance these days trying to hide behind his wife's petticoat. In the first place, there's no petticoat, and her skirt is too small for the woman to hide behind; so he is out of luck on that score.

WIFE'S COOKING BEATS 'EM ALL!

My wife's ancestors, I am proud to say, were rank — not objectionally rank, but, I mean, dyed-in-the-wool — Rebels — and learned all about the Southern brand of eatables. Then, we lived for a few years with my widowed mother, who was a Yankee bred Northerner, who knew all about the style of cooking north of the Mason-Dixon line. Consequently, I can eat just about anything that is put on the table.

THE DARKIES HAVE A RIGHT TO MARCH

When we read about the U. S. Government giving away and loaning the sum of $222,500,000,000 to foreign countries, including Russia, many of her subject nations, and others who are knifing us in the back by trading war goods to our enemies, we feel quite different about the Darkies for asking for a little sum of five or six billion to help them along. I have a deep feeling for the Colored folks. For two or three hundred years they worked in heavy harness building up this country, and all they received for it was a shack in which to live, poor food, no educational facilities, in fact, living just one notch above the mule they worked with. After all this slavery, they see us giving our deadly enemies billions of dollars in the vain, silly attempt to buy their friendship!

"THE DEATH OF A NATION"

A man named Dixon, a Georgian, I remember, wrote a book years ago which he called the "Birth of A Nation." It was about the Reconstruction" days, the Klan and the pangs the South went through after its mad attempt to finish a new nation from the territory over which we all are proud, but about which some folks are getting pretty afraid are beginning to worry about its tenure of life, its morals, its financial health, its economical stability and a lot of other things. The gent, John A. Stormer, who wrote a book he called "None Dare Call It Treason," and it has had the largest sale of any paper back book on politics in history. Stormer lives in a little burg named Florissant, in Missouri, and the idea of any Missourian doing something like that astonished me no end. I was born and reared in one of the border counties of Kansas and, though the Civil War was over and gone years on end, they didn't think much of Missouri people and they handed it right back with interest, compounded.

Well, this Stormer gent now has a book he calls "The Death of A Nation," and, if he tells the truth all the way through in this nation, while not dead, is mighty sick and should be hunting up a doctor who cures or attends nations. Get this Stormer book and you will get a shock that will last you over the weekend. In his foreword he quotes part of a speech by Daniel Webster in Concord, Mass., July 4, 1800:

"When we speak of preserving the Constitution, we mean not the paper on which it is written, but the spirit which dwells in it. Government may lose all of its real character, its genius, its temper without losing its appearance.

Republicanism, unless you guard it, will creep out of its case of parchment, like a snake out of its skin. You may have despotism under the name of a Republic.

"You may look upon a government, and see that it possesses all the external modes of freedom, and yet finding nothing of its essence, the vidality, of freedom in it, just as you may contemplate an embalmed body, where art has preserved proportion and form, amid nerves without action, and veins void of blood."

THE CAT CAME BACK

"Farewell!" I said to the friend I loved, and my eyes were filled with tears; "I know you will come to my heart again in a few, brief hurried years."

Ah, many have come un the garden path, and knocked at my cottage door, but the friend whom I loved when my heart was young, comes back to my heart no more!

"Farewell!" I cried to the gentle bird, whose music had filled my days with joy; "You fly away! but, you'll sing again, when the winter's snows are gone." Ah, the sweet birds sway on the orange boughs, and sing as they sang before; but the bird I loved with the golden voice, shall sing to me by heaven!

"Farewell!" I said to the Thomas cat, as I threw him in the "crick," all weighted down with some railroad iron and a hundredweight of brick. "You'll not come back, you yowling pest, from that dark Plutonian shore!" Then I hurried home, and that dad-blamed cat was there at my kitchen door!

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

New Law Requires Detailed Information

Babson Park, Mass., June 20 — President Johnson has signed the Consumer Credit Protection Act, a measure designed — among other things — to give buyers detailed information on the finance charges they pay for loans and credit purchases.

Full Disclosure Required

Except in the case of installment purchases costing $25 or less (or $25 to $75 if finance charges are below $5, or more than $75 if such charges are not above $7.50), the law requires finance companies, banks, other lenders, and retailers to make full disclosure of credit charges in writing. Beginning July 1, 1969, credit customers and borrowers must be informed of these charges in terms of annual percentage rates on the declining balance of their obligations ... and of the dollars-and-cents cost of financing loans and purchases.

The housewife who buys at a department store on her revolving charge account must be told in writing how much she will pay in interest and carrying charges over the course of a year, above and beyond the purchase price of what she buys. No longer will it be lawful for a finance company or auto dealer to advertise simply that you can buy Item X for, say, $10 down and $30 a month. Dollar payment totals and full annual charges must be spelled out.

Garnishment of Wages

Commencing July 1, 1970 — a year after the truth-in-lending provisions take effect — consumers who borrow will be afforded additional protection. When unable to make scheduled payments, they will not be punished by unreasonable garnishment of salary. The law exempts 75% of the borrower's pay from garnishment and forbids his employer to dismiss him the first time his salary is garnished.

Of course, the intent is to curb shyster lenders who overextend credit and then promptly seek their pound of flesh via the garnishment route, thus miring delinquent borrowers in financial quicksand. But this section could boomerang by deterring low-income wage earners from buying much of anything on credit, thereby hurting legitimate and reputable retailers dependent on this business.

Probable Impact on Lenders

Most lenders will find compliance with the truth-in-lending provisions annoying and time-consuming. But the new rules are sensible in the main, and retailers who extend credit, as well as other lenders, should not find it too hard to live with them and still prosper. It is only the shoddy operators who have reason to fear. Lenders will be screening credit applications more closely; and after midyear 1970, some may find it necessary to refuse credit to very-low-income applicants because of the garnishment provisions.

Retailing and money lending are highly competitive fields. Both make extensive use of advertising in seeking customers. The new law requires that such advertising be much more explicit as to interest and other charges than is now the case. Gimmicks will be out and, with money costs likely to continue high well into the future, it will be interesting to see what advertising pitches will be used once the law goes into effect.

Will Consumers Borrow Less?

Opposition to this law stemmed largely from concern that full disclosure of charges for credit and loans would cripple credit sales, upon which so many businesses heavily depend. It was feared that once consumers became aware of the true total cost of borrowing they would have second thoughts. But no such cutback occurred in Massachusetts — first state to pass a truth-in-lending law.

We see no reason to believe that the national experience will be much different from that observed in the Bay State. Ours is now a decidedly credit-oriented society. Consumers are well trained in the art of "borrowing from tomorrow." Each year more and more Americans are attaining security of income; and this security promises to encourage a still broader use of credit as buying decisions become more widely determined by expectations of future income than by limitations of current income.

Gun Control Needed, But Restraint To Violence Also Essential

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It is within the range of probability, although by no means a certainty, that The Congress is going to pass some version of the strict gun control bill sought by the President.

Enactment of this bill may, somehow, do something to help control the shocking wave of violence which has engulfed our country and, to the extent that it can accomplish this, it will of course be worthwhile.

But I think it should be pointed out that there already are on the books some federal law which provides full authority for the executive branch of the government to take effective action to impose controls on the purchase and possession of guns. What is needed is the enforcement of these laws and the use of this authority.

An example of this type of action is the highly commendable step just taken by Postmaster General Marvin Watson to require that all mail shipments of guns be labelled "firearms" and to require that local postmasters notify local law enforcement officers, prior to delivery, of the name and address of each recipient of a package so labelled.

But I think it also must be pointed out that if the people of this Nation are going to be able to put down the steadily mounting wave of terror and violence which has become the country's most serious problem more than gun control — much more — is necessary.

If there were no guns at all, no one would be shot to death. But guns not only are not the sole weapon of violence, they are not even its principal weapon, as a study in neighboring Baltimore of all homicides over a five-year period shows graphically.

There were 626 homicides in that city in the five years. More than half were committed with knives, icepicks, blunt instruments, and hands and feet. Handguns, the principal target of gun control legislation, accounted for less than one-third the total. Long guns and poison were responsible for the remainder.

The stark truth is that the firearms issue serves to divert attention from the real sources of the anarchistic terror which has beset us. Those sources are (1) man's innate impulse to violence, which has existed as long as the human race, and (2) the relaxation all over the country of the systematic restraints on that impulse which our society has imposed, with great success in the past, as essential to the maintenance of good order and decency.

That the impulse to violence is more deadly than the weapon used and that the maintenance of restraints against that impulse are more important than gun controls alone is borne out, I think, by the Baltimore survey. If the impulse exists unrestrained, a weapon to carry it out is simple to find, regardless of how tightly guns may be controlled.

The big problem in this country does not derive from the fact that restraints do not exist — they have existed for years. The big problem stems from the fact that these restraints now are being widely unexercised, if not plain ignored. The major restraint, of course, is the habitual, ingrained respect of the people for the elementary rules of living together. Most people still respect our laws and habitually obey them. But many of our values now are being challenged, in many cases by so-called moral leaders who chant, "if you don't like a law, break it." But if one law can be broken safely, why not all laws?

The second restraint is police power for forcible restraint. But today's policemen are hampered by this regulation and that decree and this admonition to restrain themselves, not the criminal. They are expected to enforce the law, but when they do, hackles rise and "brutality" is charged.

The third restraint is swift and certain justice. But the emphasis in criminal courts today is on hair-splitting protection of rights of the accused, no matter how obvious or extreme his guilt, and not the rights of society itself. Thirty-six hours before Robert Kennedy's assassination, the Supreme Court knocked down, on a technicality, the death sentence of a confessed murderer of a policeman.

Stricter gun controls may help our situation. But the illness which has struck us will not be cured until we return to the old-fashioned methods of restraining the human impulse to violence.

Piety Case Transferred To Circuit Court

Juvenile Judge Mervin Rehrer has announced he is transferring Circuit Court jurisdiction in a burglary case involving a 16-year-old boy.

Judge Rehrer said the boy pleaded guilty to accompanying Circuit Judge Clifton Kelly to the home of Marcus Kevin Piety who Tuesday pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary by breaking and entering. The 17-year-old Piety entered his plea in Circuit Court and Judge Clifton Kelly ordered a presentence investigation.

"The boys are friends and I think one court can do a better job by handling the case as a single unit," Judge Rehrer said.

Judge Kelly Tuesday handed out stiff penalties for failure to provide support for minor children. J. C. Jackson of Avon Park, had previously been placed on probation on a support charge. Tuesday he was declared to be in violation of probation and he was sentenced to a year in the state penitentiary.

County Budget Information Not For Publication

How public are public officials' records? County Attorney Hue Nunnallee warily waded into uncharted waters Tuesday and advised Highlands County commissioners that budget information presented to the boards—including detailed salary reports—is not a public record which the board should release for publication.

Nunnallee ruled there is a fine, but real, line of distinction between the individual citizen's right to know and the commissioners' right to release information to the press. Two weeks ago the commissioners had filed with each elected county official a formal request that each official submit a detailed budget listing proposed expenditures for individual salaries and equipment in 1968-69.

These reports were in the commission office by Tuesday meeting time, filed with the budget study materials the commissioners will work with in a special work session on Monday night.

Nunnallee said a search of Florida law revealed that the nature of the officials' report is not covered in state law. There have been no court cases or Attorney General's opinions on this, but after telephone conferences with the Attorney General's office, he would have to conclude there is a distinction in public records.

"How public is the nature of an individual's salary? If a citizen walks in and asks, the official would have to tell him," the County Attorney said.

In more than an hour of heated debate Tuesday, Col. W. J. Atkinson, chairman of the county's Republican executive committee, repeatedly contended that the county commissioners should be "watchdog" of all county funds and take the lead in establishing a uniform salary schedule for all county offices.

Nunnallee replied, "We are not talking about what would be a good law, or a better way of doing things. We have to work within the framework of what the law is.

Col. Atkinson concluded the debate with a promise, "If you fellows can find some way of bringing more efficient management into county government, I'll work for a raise in pay for you."

Rotary Report

By Powell "PD" Dean Waite

"The Thin Blue Line" was the program topic at last week's Rotary meeting. This topic was presented in a film shown by Ray Wells. The Thin Blue Line characterizes police and law enforcement officers all over our nation. Police should not consider themselves as being black or white, but blue.

This film was presented in an effort to give credit to our law enforcement officers for the great contribution they make to our society. In a society which cannot exist without adequate police protection there is a feeling of public apathy and irresponsibility toward the work done by our policemen. Many of our citizens take the police for granted and then try to blame them when something goes wrong.

The annual cost of crime in the country is approximately $24 billion and is increasing each year. The main reasons for the increase are the number of additional policemen needed to combat the increasing crime rate, an increased amount of training in riot control and other areas, and more training for regular duties.

Law enforcement is being pushed to the limit trying to keep up with the rate of crime. In order to keep up many new innovations have been developed to aid the police. In some areas helicopters have replaced the squad car, new weapons are being used for riot control, and electronic equipment is used in record keeping and tracing criminals.

One astonishing and sad fact pointed out in the film is that one out of every four persons arrested is under 18 years of age. There is a trend of teen age rebellion against the police yet the policemen tries to be a friend to the teen ager.

The film showed some of the rough and precise training which policemen must go through in order to be able to perform their job. They receive instruction in hand-to-hand combat, weapon firing, the proper method of arrest and search, and many other areas. Not all of the policeman's training is physical, however. He is instructed in sociology and human relations. Knowing what to say and how to act during an arrest is just as important as the arrest itself.

The life of a policeman, or any law enforcement officer, is not an easy one for himself or his family. Each year there are several hundred policemen killed in the line of duty, protecting the citizens of this country. As American citizens it is our duty, protecting the citizens of this country. As American citizens it is our duty to show more respect and gratitude for our police force for a job well done.

BANKS SHOW GROWTH

TALLAHASSEE — Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., today said that total assets of Florida banks climbed to $3.8 billion during the Spring, 1968 quarter. Dickinson, who is State Commissioner of Banking, said this amount surpassed assets reported last May by more than one-half billion dollars.

Income Up In County Last Year

NEW YORK, June 15 — Incomes were up in Highlands County in the past year and the improvement was reflected in the volume of retail business that was done.

Sales of food, wearing apparel, furniture, household appliances and other items were at a record level.

As a result, according to the final tabulations, most retail stores had a big notch year.

Just how well they made out is detailed in a new report on consumer buying, released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It shows how people in the local area and in other parts of the country spent their money during the year.

In Highlands County a large portion of it went for food. Approximately 24 cents out of every dollar spent in local retail stores was for such purchases.

Elsewhere in the United States, 23 cents went for food and in the South Atlantic States, 22 cents.

As a consequence bakeries, butcher shops, grocery stores, supermarkets and other food outlets in the area had a sales volume of $8,539,000.

This was solely for take-home food. Expenditures in restaurants and in other eating and drinking places are excluded.

If the amount that was expended in food stores were to be divided uniformly among the local population, it would be equivalent to $1,073 per household.

This was more than was spent in that direction in most other parts of the United States.

Other retail stores in the local area also profited from the big consumer spending.

Those selling cars, motorcycles, boats and other automotive equipment and supplies had receipts totaling $9,347,000. Department stores and variety stores carrying general merchandise had a sales volume of $1,806,000.

Specialty and apparel shops, including those selling hats, shoes dresses and other articles of clothing, ended the year with $1,043,000.

Furniture and home furnishings stores accounted for $1,006,000.

If you're stalled on the road and need a push for starting, here are a couple of tips that may help you.

First, never pull an automatic transmission—push it for safety's sake. You push in "N" or neutral to about 30 M.P.H., turn on key and drop into "L" or low. If you're forced to push your car a great distance—over 20 M.P.H., by all means disconnect the 4 or 5 bolts and drop the drive shaft! You can easily burn out the transmission if you don't! That's why a tow truck raises the rear of a distressed car and tows it backward.

Nancy Kluberg-Richard D. Dobler Exchange Vows June 12

Nancy Kluberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Kluberg, Clinton, Ky., and Richard David Dobler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. Dobler of Peru, Ind., were united in marriage Wednesday, June 12, 4:30 P.M., in the Church of the Redeemer of Avon Park.

The impressive doublering ceremony was read by Father John L. Knapp before the altar arranged with bouquets of white mums, seven branch candelabra on either side and palms in the chancel.

Mrs. Jerome Schiltz served as organist with appropriate nuptial music.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie, simple lines, imported lace on the bodice, cape sleeves and chapel train. Her mantilla veil of Brussels lace was purchased in Belgium by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Walter Betts expressly for her granddaughter's wedding and was recently worn by her sister Kathy at her wedding. She carried a cascade of white carnations.

Mrs. Wright Willingham, Gainsville, Ga., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Powell Waite and Jane Nunnallee of Avon Park. They were gowned identical in floor length floral print under green organza, high rise waist lines defined by green velvet cord. Their green silk illusion veils were held in place with bows. They carried bouquets of white shasta daisies.

Mother of the bridegroom was dressed similar in a darker pink dress and wore a white orchid.

Powell Waite served the groom as best man. Ushers were John Kluberg, bride's brother and William B. Wynn of Winter Haven.

For their wedding trip to the west Florida beaches, the bride wore a navy blue and bone print linen dress, navy blue coat, bone accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Upon their return, the couple will reside in Avon Park for three weeks after which the bridegroom will report for basic training in the Marine Corps at Paris Island, S. C. The bride will remain in Avon Park where she will be director of the summer day camp for retarded children.

Reception

The reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Touchton, Lake Lotela. Arrangements of magnolias were used throughout the living area of the home. White shasta daisies and roses were used in abundance in the dining room and on the bride's table which held the three-tiered cake, punch, nuts and mints.

Misses Sara and Sue Nunnallee presided at the bride's book.

Mrs. Roscoe Bass, Mrs. David Lanier and Mrs. Burton Ostling presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. E. W. Hartt and Mrs. R. J. Barben served the cake.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Reeves of Wauchula, Mrs. Stuart Thayer of Orlando, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dobler of Peru, Ind., Miss Rena Delgado of Winter Haven.

Diane Landress Bride-elect Feted Saturday

Diane Landress bride-elect of DeWayne Lember whose marriage will take place August 3 in the First Baptist Church was honored with a dinner party and lingerie shower held in the Florida Power Lounge Saturday evening, June 15.

A garden theme was used for the setting of the party, with ornamental tables, chairs and settee in white, placed among potted trees and palms. Green and yellow predominated the tables arranged with yellow tapers, and miniature bridesmaids.

Miss Sherry Rigdon assisted with the gifts.

Winn-Dixie Has Sales Increase

They totaled $86,105,089 against $75,571,143 at the company's 747 stores, an increase of $9,533,945.

A volume rise also was recorded for the 48 weeks ended June 1, amounting to $985,047,592 compared with $923,151,749, a gain of $71,895,843 or 7.79 per cent.

A Story Book Romance Unites Mrs. Mabel Hill Stump and P. Hill

Once upon a time, in the mountain empire of South west Virginia, there lived a pretty brown-eyed princess and a handsome brown-eyed prince. A long time ago (50 years to be exact) this princess visited in the court of the prince and he fell madly in love with her. Although she liked the prince a lot, she was in love with a warrior and when she went back to her home, she married this brave warrior. When the prince heard about her marriage, he left his court and went out in the world to slay the fierce dragon (World War I) and came back quite a hero.

Eventually, this prince met another princess that he fell in love with and finally married her. To them, a fine son was born. The mountain princess also had a son and they visited back and forth. Years passed and these baby sons grew into fine men. Bad luck overtook the mountain prince for the princess he had been married to for 34 years passed away—bad luck also overtook the mountain princess for the warrior she was married to for 44 years also passed away.

Not long ago, the mountain prince started on a long trip to the North country and his route took him through the mountain empire. He looked up the mountain princess and when she saw him and when he saw her, the dormant embers of love that had been burning in their hearts for these 50 years started to glow, and in a short time, was fanned into a full-blown flame.

Both the prince and the princess were very lonely and their love overcame everything and they were married in her own church. Then they continued the trip to the North country and spent the summer in Gaspe, Quebec. This story-book romance happened to some one well known here in Avon Park, none other than J. Paxton Hill. The mountain princess was Mabel Hill Stump, well known Bristol, Va.-Tenn. matron.

They were married on Wednesday morning, May 15, 1968 in the Calvary Baptist Church in Bristol, Tenn.

Rev. Dewey Kerr officiated. Members of Mrs. Hill's family who attended were her grandson, Gregory Brubaker, her sister, Mrs. Alberta Smalling and her daughter, Mrs. Joan Brubaker.

The couple will return to their home in Avon Park sometime this Fall after a Summer of fishing for Atlantic salmon along the Gaspe Peninsula in Quebec.

Rash of Traffic Accidents Plague County; Wet Pavement Is Cause

A rash of traffic accidents—related in part to wet pavements—hit Highlands County in the past week. Three of the eight mishaps investigated by the Florida Highway Patrol involved injuries serious enough to hospitalize persons.

Gaston Robert Johnson, 25, of Avon Park was taken to Walker Memorial Hospital after the car he was driving left Alternate 27 1.3 miles South of Avon Park and rolled over two and a half times.

Florida Highway Patrolmen investigated the accident at 12:15 A.M. on June 12, and their report listed probable speed of the Johnson car at 75 miles per hour. Johnson is charged with willful and wanton reckless driving. Damage to his car was estimated at $150.

Sergio Aparico, 14, of Hialeah was taken to Highlands General Hospital after the car in which he was riding overturned on the East shoulder of US 27, 10.7 miles South of Lake Placid at 2 P.M. Sunday.

Trooper G. L. Raulerson reported that the car, driven by James Gordon Creel, Jr., 17, of Lake Placid, sustained $1,500 damages. The right rear tire started to go flat, causing the car to skid on the wet pavement and turn over, the FHP report states.

Creel was not injured, but his passengers — Harry Helseth, 16, of Lake Placid, Rt. 1; Josa M. Combaro, 21, of Hialeah; Charles Marples, 21, of Jellico, Tenn., all received bruises, and Aparico was taken to the hospital. He has been released. No charges were filed in this accident.

Skidding on wet pavement figured in a two-car crash on State Road 66 at 4:30 P.M. on June 13. Trooper W. M. Woods reported that Mrs. Iris L. Young, 35, was driving West on 66 and failed to notice a car driven by Henry Crawford Long, 64, of Haines City. Mrs. Young started to make a left turn as Long pulled out to pass.

Mrs. Young was accompanied by two children — 9-year-old Dusty Young and 12-year-old Nancy Young. No one was injured in the accident, but the Long car sustained $1,000 damages, and the Young auto, $150 damages. No charges were filed.

Three Accidents

Three accidents were reported in mid-Saturday afternoon in widely separated parts of the county.

At 3:50 P.M. a car driven by Rick Alan Newman, 18, of 118 Hitakee, and an auto driven by Rufus Ray Buckwalter, 50, of Tampa, were involved in a collision on US 27, 2 miles South of Sebring.

Trooper O. L. Raulerson said Newman failed to see the Buckwalter car approaching as he started to change lanes. No one was injured in the accident, but damage to the Newman car was set at $225 and to the Buckwalter vehicle at $675. Newman was charged with improper change of lanes.

Twenty minutes later vehicles driven by Edna Stringer May, 53, of Lake Placid, Rt. 1, and Jose DeJeus Fernandez, 35, of Wildwood, were involved in a crash on US 27, 3.5 miles North of Lake Placid.

Trooper F. D. Williams said Mrs. May had started a left turn into a county road when the May and Fernandez cars collided. Two teenage passengers in the Fernandez car were not injured, but passing motorists took Mrs. May to Highlands General Hospital. No charges were filed.

At 4:45 P.M. Saturday three members of the Willie Rogers Bell family were involved in a single vehicle accident on State 70, 14.7 miles South of Lake Placid.

Patrolman J. E. Vann reported that a car driven by Bell, 31-year-old resident of Lake Placid Rt. 2, ran off the pavement, rolled over one and half times, coming to rest in a ditch on the North side of the road.

Jesse Mae Bell, 29, and Myra Bell, 6, were passengers in the car. No one was injured. Vann estimated Bell's speed at 70 miles per hour and charged the driver with willful and wanton reckless driving.

No Injuries

No injuries were reported in either of Monday's accidents. At 12:10 A.M. George Martin Parnell, Jr., 24, of Sebring, Rt. 1, backed from a parking place and had started to move west on US 98 24 miles South of Sebring, when his car was involved in a crash with a car driven by Dollie Roberts Wilson, 60, of Sebring, Rt. 1.

Damage was set at $200 to the Parnell car and $75 to Wilson's. Trooper Williams who investigated filed charges of improper backing and leaving the scene of an accident against Mrs. Wilson.

A Somerset, Pa., resident was charged with improper change of lanes in an accident on Alternate 27, 3.1 miles North of Sebring.

Trooper Woods said Stahl's car was involved in an accident with one driven by Mrs. Lassie Mae Longstreet of Avon Park. Damages to the Stahl car were set at $75 and none to the Longstreet car.

Teachers Attend Workshop

A group of Highlands County teachers have attended sessions of the Summer Workshop in Reading sponsored by the Indian River Regional Educational Developmental Council at Ft. Pierce.

Others attending for a shorter time are Miss Lillian Depp, county schools psychologist; Mrs. Maryanne Reddick, Mrs. Charlotte Smith and Mrs. Esther Johnson, all of Avon Elementary; Mrs. Shirley Furr of Hopewell, and Jack Baker of Lake Placid Elementary.

John Spagnoli, coordinator of reading services in Palm Beach County schools, has been a principal leader of the workshop. A similar workshop, stressing the relationship of perception and reading skills, will be presented in Highlands County during the 1968-69 year.

Commissioners Say No Liquor After Midnight

Highlands County commissioners Tuesday reaffirmed their decision to let the general state law on hours for sale of liquor stand throughout the county.

At Tuesday's meeting a representative of the Avon Park Elks Club, which had sought an extension of hours, appeared before the board to renew the request which had been denied two weeks ago.

Bars within Avon Park city limits, a very short distance from the Elks Club, have longer serving hours.

County Attorney Hue Nunnallee had explained to the commissioners that if the county grants a variance with state law, the county assumes full responsibility for enforcement of the hours it sets. So long as general state law is followed, the burden of hour enforcement is on state liquor agents.

"We cannot make changes one at a time," Commissioner Carl McIntyre said. "Bars in the Sebring area have been denied extra serving time during Race Week."

McIntyre's position was supported by all the other board members—and Sheriff Howard Coker, who retires at the end of December, added that the hopes that consideration of a county-wide change will be delayed until next year.

Joan Aline McLaughlin And John Thompson Married in Rockledge

M. John Thompson of Tampa and Miss Joan Aline McLaughlin of Rockledge were married June 1 at St. Mary's Catholic Church of Rockledge.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. McLaughlin of Rockledge.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. John Thompson of Avon Park.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows, a formal cage gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta with Chantilly lace trim. The bodice featured a bateau neckline encrested with crystal beads and long tapered lace sleeves. The gown front was accented with medallions of matching lace. The sweeping chapel length train fell from the shoulders and was highlighted by a deep V of lace and a similar border of lace at the train's edge. Her imported illusion veil fell from a forward headpiece of clustered organza roses and lace petals to an elbow length. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Miss Laura Anne McLaughlin, sister of the bride, of Rockledge, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of yellow chiffon and lace and carried a long stemmed yellow rose.

Attendants were Miss Sybil Anderson, niece of the bridegroom and Mrs. Kenneth Howland both of Tampa, and Mrs. David Swan of Gainesville. They were also dressed in yellow chiffon and lace.

Serving as best man was James M. Anderson of Tampa. Ushers were Morris Adams and Michael DeLaney of Avon Park; Richard McKenzie and Stephen Anderson of Tampa; and Richard McLaughlin, Jr. of Rockledge.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Cocoa-Rockledge Country Club.

The couple will be at home in Tampa while the bridegroom is completing his senior year at the University of Tampa.

H. W. Reddick Celebrates Dual Occasions

H. W. Reddick was honored Sunday with a dual celebration, Father's Day and his 85th birthday with a buffet dinner at the Jacaranda Hotel, given by his family and relatives.

Attending were: Mrs. Mary Bell and Mrs. Virginia Simeneta, Winter Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Touard, Bradenton; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Weir, Coral Gables; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tillis and Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jones, and Jo Ell of St. Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Michael, Chip and Mark, Pinellas Park; Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Reddick, Susan, Jim and Steve, Lake Wales; Mrs. Doris Hiller, Sharlee and friend, Jim Spitler, Worthington, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reddick, Holly and Candy, Mr. and Mrs. Devon Reddick and Devorah from Avon Park.

Suit Against Boy Scouts Of America

The plantiff states that in February, 1953, he purchased a half interest in property owned by H. A. and Dorothy Pfaff. He claims he has not received his share of rentals from this land.

The suit further states that in 1956 the Pfaffs deeded a portion of the land to Boy Scouts of America, and the Scouts have not paid him the rentals he believes owed to him.

Ridge Area Day School To Sponsor Six Weeks of Camping

Six weeks of day camping for children of limited ability opens Monday under the sponsorship of the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children.

The Summer Fun Camp will be held Monday through Friday at the St. Agnes Parish Hall and the Veterans' Beach in Sebring. It will continue through August 2.

Director of the camp is Mrs. Richard Dobler, who was on the staff as a counselor last year. Additional counselors are Billy Miracle, Alfredo Cooper and Gail Roberts.

Teen-agers are welcome to assist with the swimming program of the camp. Last year a number of Sebring young people volunteered their services. This is especially helpful since it is important for there to be several swimmers in the water with the campers. Teenagers desiring to volunteer may do so by contacting the director or the camping chairman, the Rev. Tom W. Jones.

The camp is sponsored under contract arrangement with the Highlands County Board of Commissioners. There are no registration fees for campers attending, and transportation is provided from Avon Park and Lake Placid.

Eligible to attend are students now enrolled in Ridge Area Day School and other children of limited ability who would profit by the experience. Application blanks for the several vacancies in the camp are available from the director.

Activities will include games, swimming lessons, hikes, handicrafts, Indian lore, enrichment opportunities, weekly field trips and supervised play.

Steve Roberts, president of RAARC, announced the Summer Fun Camp. He said, "Last year's experience with this camp showed the decided value to the student in having this enrichment opportunity through the Summer. The Day School students were better prepared to continue their class work last Fall after going to Summer Fun Camp through the Summer. And besides this benefit, the children have lots of fun, too."

Class For Pre-School Children Starts Monday

Pre-school age children entering first grade this fall (who will be six years of age on or before January 1, 1969) will report to the school cafeteria at 9 A.M. June 24. Each child is asked to bring 10c each day to pay for refreshments. Classes in art, music, story telling and visual perception will be conducted each day from 9 to 12.

Reading classes for grades 1-6 will be conducted each afternoon from 1 to 4 P.M. Children who have registered will receive a letter telling them what hour to report.

The school library will be open on Friday afternoons from 1 to 4 P.M. for all elementary school children.

All summer recreational activities for elementary students will be held at the Avon Elementary School. Registration for these activities will be held at the school on Monday, June 24 starting at 9 A.M. Softball, volleyball, basketball and other directed activities will be offered each morning and swimming will be offered each afternoon. Field trips to places of interest are being planned for Friday of some weeks.

Criminal And Traffic Cases Down in County

The number of traffic and criminal cases in county court is down by 400 cases as of May 1st, compared to a year ago.

"We considered 1967 a normal year, and if it continues at this rate, it will be 1,200 cases less than it was for the year 1967 when we had 2,943 cases filed," said County Judge Mervin Rehrer.

Declared Rehrer: "We hope that this is an indication that the people of Highlands county and those going through are better citizens and more cautious drivers."

The judge, who operates on a fee basis, added that "due to this sharp decrease it has been necessary for me to discharge one of my clerks."

Norma Wiggins, who has been in the office for seven years, was terminated this past week and Mrs. Rehrer was helping out in the office.

The judge will go on vacation June 19 through July 3 and a substitute judge will fill in on June 25 for the appearance court. There will be no court scheduled for Tuesday, July 2.

The July term for jury trials, Rehrer announced will be: pre-trial arraignment at 9 A.M. July 10.

Jury trials will begin at 9 A.M. July 17 and continue until all cases on the docket are tried.

Said Rehrer: "We want the slate clean so that we can start right in with trying cases when we convene and not waste a lot of the jurors' time."

Officers who believe defendants have bad driving records have been requested to check with the Clerk of Court to see that the records are available for all defendants and this will assist the court in making a proper disposition of each case."

Lutheran Church Hosts New Minister

Rev. Elmer Gregg and his wife were formerly welcomed and received by the congregation of th Resurrection Church at noon Sunday, June 16, with a dinner and get-together held at the church.

He will serve both the Resurrection Church of Avon Park and Atonement Church of Sebring as full time pastor. Rev. Gregg and his wife come to Avon Park from Franklin, Ohio and will reside in the parsonage at 508 Canfield St., Avon Park.

God the Preserver of Man.

"The Lord is my rock, and my fortress and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation and my high tower."

This verse from Psalms is part of the responsive reading in this week's lesson-sermon to be read in all Christian Science Churches this Sunday. Subject of the lesson is "God the Preserver of Man."

Selections from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "If we are I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation and my high tower."

This verse from Psalms is part of the responsive reading in this week's lesson-sermon to be read in all Christian Science Churches this Sunday. Subject of the lesson is "God the Preserver of Man."

Selections from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "If we are Christians all moral questions, but are in darkness as to the physical exemption which christianity includes, then we must have more faith in God on this subject and be more alive to His promises." The public is invited to attend the services.

Lutheran Church Convention June 19-27

Six pastors and six laymen will be among the 700 delegates attending the fourth biennial convention of the Lutheran Church in America in Atlanta, Ga., June 19-27. Due to the death of President Franklin Clark Fry on June 7, the first business of the convention will be to elect a president. A secretary will be elected also due to the retirement of Dr. Malvin H. Lundeen.

The convention will review two years of operation by the 3,288,000 member church and its 6,224 congregations. Three position statements are scheduled for consideration. One will deal with Selective Conscientious Objection. The two others concern Religious Liberty and The Church and Social Welfare. The Board of Social Ministry will ask for recognition of "Justice and Social Change—the Urban Crisis" as the most urgent question facing the church today. Residents of the 33 constituent synods will be asked to set up Task Forces to deal with social problems in their own areas.

Pointers For Recalled Vets On GI Loans

St. Petersburg, Fla. — M. T. Dixon, of the Fla. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, said the VA does everything possible to help those veterans who have been recalled to military service and are in trouble with their GI loans as a result. Here are some good pointers and some sound advice as to what a veteran should do.

When a veteran receives notice to report for military service he should go at once to the place where he makes his mortgage payments and tell them about it. The holder of the mortgage may not be the one who originally made the loan, because the mortgage may have been bought by another bank, savings and loan association, building and loan association, insurance company, or other institution, and they may have an agent to whom the payments are made.

The holder of the mortgage—or their agent, as the case may be—should be informed of the recall to military service and the effect, if any, on ability to continue the payments required by the mortgage contract. The veteran should discuss the entire situation in detail, and if the total family income from service pay, allotments, and other sources will be insufficient to keep the payments up, he should make an arrangement to pay as much as possible. Failure to do this will cause the loan to be in default. The loan will not be in default if paid according to such an arrangement while in military service. The part of the regular payment which the veteran is unable to make will be postponed until after discharge from service, and at that time the veteran should again see the holder or the agent and make arrangements for a repayment schedule.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act makes it possible for the courts to prent foreclosure of the veteran's loan while he is in service and for three months after discharge, provided his income is so reduced that he cannot make the required payment. It does not operate to forgive the payments, and any part thereof which is postponed must be made up after discharge. Therefore, it is wise to pay as much as possible, and put off as little as possible so that it will not be too much of a hardship to make up the amount deferred when the time comes.

If such veterans is already in military service and the loan is in default because he has not made payments or for any other reason, his wife or some other member of the family should go to the mortgage holder (or agent) to explain the circumstances and make the arrangements for him.

Finally, remember these points Dixon said:

1. If the veteran can keep up the required payments on his loan but fails to do so, he will be in default and the loan may be foreclosed.

2. If he cannot keep up the required payments on his loan, he should make definite arrangements with the holder of his mortgage to pay less than the required amount during his period of military service.

3. He should pay as much as possible while in service, so that he will have less to make up after discharge.

4. He should keep the holder of the mortgage (or agent) informed of his status as it affects his ability to pay, and see him soon after discharge.

5. If he has agreed to pay a certain amount, he should be sure to make that payment regularly, and then he need not worry about the loss of his property while away in the service of his country.

Library Summer Reading Program

There was a time long ago when children were idle and bored for three months each summer. Not so in Avon Park. A student going into the 7th grade or any grade above that may enroll Monday, June 24, in the pleasant air conditioned library for a meaningful and enjoyable 6 weeks of pleasure with books.

Mrs. John Knapp will hold three classes per day, 6 through 10, 10 through 12 and 1 through 3. There will be no tests and no grades.

These students will be much more ready for school in the fall and will put in a profitable and enjoyable time in comfortable surroundings. Not more than 30 pupils per day can be handled by one teacher in this type of program so every effort should be made to register on the opening day. There is no cost and no equipment necessary and a day off now and then for outside fun or a week off with the family will not erase the value of this program.

Last year proved to the educators of Avon Park High School the great value of this quiet time when students may seek out their own type of reading, take part in reading scripts, read poetry and plays and do some writing. This community is fortunate in having this type of summer program for 6 weeks and it is hoped boys and girls will be encouraged by their parents to take advantage of the opportunity at whatever hour best suits them. It is hoped a field trip or two may be arranged.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Wilson Coy extends their sincere thanks and appreciation to their neighbors and friends for the flowers, food and kindnesses received during their bereavement.

Bible School Opened Monday For Adventists

The 1968 Vacation Bible School opened at 6:30 P.M. Monday evening, June 17 and will run for two weeks, at the Walker Memorial Seventh-day Adventist Church. Under the direction of Mrs. Linda Ledbetter, second-generation missionary from Burma, the children, ages 5 through 12, will thrill to the stories that are told.

In the Bible School, an attempt is made to bring the children to love the Bible stories, and also teach them interesting crafts which will help them to use their hands. This year the crafts are directed by Mrs. Irva Baessler, veteran school teacher, and by Mrs. Lois Hesterman, formerly of Phoenix, Ariz.

All children in this age group are invited to attend the Vacation Bible School where they will learn a bit more about patriotism and love for our country as well as a new appreciation of the Holy Scriptures. The graduation program will be held on Friday evening, June 28, at 7:30 P.M.

Congregational Bible School Classes Friday

This years very successful vacation Bible School at the Union Congregational Church will be brought to a close with a program on Friday evening, this week, at 7:30 P.M. in Fellowship Hall. The work of the children will be on display in the classrooms. Parents and friends of the children are urged to attend the closing exercises.

Mrs. Maurice Albritton headed the school. Mrs. Clayton Rhoades acted as pianist. Mrs. Hue Nunnelee was song leader and Mrs. David Lanier had charge of the refreshments. Among the teachers and other workers were: nursery, Mrs. Robert J. Barben, Misses Jane and Sarah Nunnallee; teachers and helpers in the classes, Mrs. Harry Hood, Mrs. J. C. Harden, Mrs. Talbott Starr, Mrs. Gary Hasson, Mrs. Philip Weber, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Cecil Skipper, Mrs. Walter Beach, Mrs. James Stevens, James Williams and Warren Hasson.

Court Postpones Maxcy Estate Hearing

Hearing on a suit to name a receiver for the estate of the late Charles Von Maxcy will be held on August 28. The initial Circuit Court hearing on the petition filed on behalf of Maxcy's son and daughter had been scheduled for June 14, but Judge J. H. Willson granted a change in date because of the death of Mrs. Guy Maxcy, mother of Von Maxcy and Miss Elizabeth Maxcy, one of the plaintiffs.

Miss Maxcy is petitioning on behalf of her niece, Marivon Mrs. Peggy Maxcy is petitioning on behalf of Charles Maxcy. The petitioners are asking that Mrs. Irene Maxcy, widow of the slain Von, be barred from participation in the estate because she aided, abetted, counseled, hired or otherwise procured his (her husband's) murder to be committed."

In the big circus fire of July 6, 1944, a six-year old girl was killed, and, although every effort was made by newspapers and radio, her name and parents were never located.

Dean Lemler Will Attend Wofford College

Dean Edward Lemler, son of Mrs. Lucille E. Lemler, Rt. 2, Avon Park, has been accepted into the freshman class at Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C. He will enter Wofford September 1 to begin orientation with 240 other freshmen.

Wofford College is a liberal arts men's school founded in 1854. The College is related to the Methodist Church and grants the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science.

Enrollment is limited to 1,000 students who, in 1967, represented 27 states and four foreign countries. Wofford is one of only two colleges in South Carolina having a Phi Beta Kappa Chapter.

Wofford is the only college in South Carolina, and one of 20 in the nation, to have a 4-1-4 program. The program consists of an academic year having two four-month terms, in the fall and spring, and a one month "Interim" in January.

During the Interim, students have the opportunity to pursue one approved project or course of study. Students may work independently or may work in small organized groups on activities especially designed for the Interim.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts.

Zoning Board To Classify Districts June 25

Highlands County Zoning Board will begin preliminary drafting of district classification restrictions at its June 25 meeting. The board will meet at 7:30 P.M. in the county commission meeting room at the courthouse.

At a meeting last week Zoning Director Jack Short explained the classification survey he is presently making in the county, and the board discussed the feasibility of using agricultural zoning applications for card references.

Short brought to the county board the new information on urban planning and redevelopment announced at the recent Governor's Conference on planning.

H. L. Basemore Died In Winter Haven

Born in Cook County, Ga., he had been a resident of Winter Haven for many years, after coming from Avon Park.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Grady Wilson of Frostproof, Mrs. Marie Studstill of Starke, Mrs. Lovee Clark of Marietta, Ga., and Mrs. Patricia Backus of Minot, N. D. and a brother and two sisters.

Funeral services were held 2 P.M. Thursday, June 13 at the Scott-Stephenson Funeral Home with Rev. A. G. Hardee officiating. He was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetary.

AP Homemakers Meet June 12

The Avon Park Extension Homemakers Club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, June 12 at the home of Mrs. Violet Davis with five members and Mrs. Imogene Ritenburgh, county agent, present.

Mrs. Olga Bridges, president opened the meeting. Mrs. Josie Heritage was in charge of devotions, which was in honor of Flag Day.

Mrs. Ritenburgh in charge of the monthly lesson "Safety In The Home," showed dishes to demonstrate its importance.

There will be no meeting in July and August. The next meeting will be held September 17 at the home of Mrs. Heritage.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Avon Park Lakes News

Cynthia T. Calvert — GL 34532

Mr. and Mrs. James Alderman from Sebring and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cottrell spent Saturday and Sunday at Sebastion Inlet on Indian River fishing.

Miss Pearl Reinheimer form East St. Louis, Mo. arrived last Friday to visit her sister, Mrs. Elmer Hurst, who is in Walker Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Constantine and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Slocum spent the weekend visiting in Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Wells from Des Plaines, Ill. were at the Lakes last Tuesday looking over their property.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Schuttenever and three sons, Jimmy, Tom and Paul from Erlanger, Ky., were the over night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Weintraut last Wednesday. On Thursday they visited Bok Tower and Spook Hill in Lake Wales, and have enjoyed swimming at the Lakes. Mrs. Schuttenever is the niece of Mrs. Weintraut.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hurst, Mr. and Mrs. John Folsinski and Mrs. Margarite Harrietha visited Busch Gardens last Friday, and last Wednesday drove to Sarasota to visit Floridaland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tryon returned home last Tuesday from a three week trip, stopping in Baton Rouge, La., to visit Mrs. Ella Mae Dautreau for several days. Driving on to San Antonio, Tex., they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kinsley for a week, where they attended the Hemisfair. Enroute home they stopped in Houston, Tex. to attend two ball games in the Astrodome, also went sight seeing in Mobile, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keys were visitors in Lakeland last Tuesday.

The regular monthly pot luck dinner will be held at the club house on Thursday, June 20 at 6 P.M.

A special Independence Day pot luck dinner will be held at the club house on Thursday, July 4th at 6 P.M. Plan to come. The regular monthly salad bar luncheon will not be held that day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Folsinki left Tuesday for their home in Clawson, Mich., after visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles E. Hurst and Mr. Hurst for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Constantine, Mrs. Harold Anderson and Mrs. Julia Daly visited Miss Mildred Constantine and Mrs. Harold Constantine in Zephyrhills last Thursday.

Mrs. Paul J. Calvert returned home Friday from a three day visit with her sister, Mrs. Michael Callas in St. Petersburg, also visited her brothers and families there.

Mrs. William Robbins, Mrs. Orville Castine, Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. Gerard Liggiero were visitors in Bartow last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alley returned home last Friday from their trip north, where Mrs. Alley had spent two months visiting friends and relatives in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and New York. Mr. Alley drove up for a two week visit before they returned home.

Walter Beach has been in Clenton, Mich., for several days as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Paul Burkhardt. On the 15th he attended an afternoon class reunion and evening alumni banquet which honored his class of 1918. Since he was in Germany at the time of graduation and received his diploma in 1919, we hope we can get there again next year and celebrate his 50th all over again.

Mrs. Jack M. Calvert and two children, Kevin and Kathy from Oviedo, arrived at the Lakes Saturday evening to be the guests of her in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Calvert for several days.

Mrs. Walter Beach was hostess for three tables of "afternoon bridge for the girls" on Saturday, June 15.

PROGRESS REPORT
Avon Park's SERVICE PROGRAM

Harold Deck, a Switchman at Avon Park, is checking the wiring on ten new DD ticketers; four of them are pictured at the left. Harold is performing an important job in assuring the successful operation of this automatic equipment that speeds your direct-dialed long distance calls on their way across the nation. These new Ticketers mean more expanded DDD services for you in Avon Park.

Harold is one of the United's dedicated employees now engaged in a continuing program within the Avon Park exchange to provide the kind of service for which the UNITED SYSTEM is noted.

RUTH E. ROBINSON

Last week, La Rue Longacrecker went to Bartow with her son Donald and his wife, Martha for dinner together before she left for La Porte, Ind. Her friends, Helen Baker, Bertha Brush, and Olive Kerwin had a farewell breakfast at her home on Thursday, the day she left for Orlando, and Don's home for a stay until Saturday, when she flew home to Indiana. We miss her already.

There were 16 of our park members at the pot luck dinner on Wednesday, June 12, with a delicious selection of salads and fried chicken, followed by dessert of pie, cake and jello. It was so enjoyable, that we are planning to have another one in July. By that time Rosa Bennington should have returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Heffner express their sincere thanks to all those who sent Harman cards and letters while he was in the hospital. He spent two weeks in the hospital, but now is doing fine, although he isn't allowed to work or drive a car until July. We were glad to hear of his recovery.

Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Earl Amick dropped in for a short visit with Lawrence and Ruth Robinson, having spent the day seeing friends in Avon Park. She is teaching ladies to swim, who live in the same trailer park that she is in and keeping occupied. She was very thankful for the many kind thoughts of all her friends, in her recent bereavement. Her address is: Lake Highlander Mobile Home Pk., 1500 County Rd. No. 1, Lot 3, Dunedin, Florida 33528. She would like to hear from her friends.

Franklin Halfacer announced that Florida Power will be putting in individual service in the near future, for the convenience of each trailerite, at our pot luck dinner.

Five Girl Scouts Leave For Special Encampment

Scouts making the trip are Mrs. C. J. Foster, leader of Cadette Troop 81 of Sebring, Joan Foster, Troop 81, Sebring; Valerie Miller, Troop 123, Sebring; Marian Limcangco, Lani Newton and Cathy James, Troop 117, Avon Park.

Five councils will participate in the encampment. All eighth and ninth grade cadettes could tryout from which 24 girls were selected from each council. Selectees were determined by the girls knowledge of outdoor lore and camping skills.

Standing Indian is a completely undeveloped mountain area, given to the Girl Scouts for primitive camping and conservation exclusively. The 1600 acres include only one structure, a storage building.

The girls will not camp in a permanent site, but several days in different sites, back-packing and canoeing from one site to the next.

Emma Jean Gardner, of Frostproof on a plea of no defense, was found guilty of aggravated assault and fined $1,000.

Girl Stater Writes From Tallahassee

Mrs. Grace Boney, Chairman American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 69 in charge of Girl Staters received a most rewarding letter from Girl Stater Marcia McDugald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McDugald, who is now attending Girls State. She writes:

My Dear Auxiliary Mother Mrs. P. C. Boney:

Girl State means so much to me and it has given me such a rewarding experience that I just can't seem to find words to express my appreciation to the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 69.

Girls State has given me something that I might have gone through life without. I am speaking of courage. Courage to stand strongly for what you believe. Courage to be willing to run and campaign for an office. Courage to accept defeat and victory.

The experience that I have gained here gives me self-confidence. I feel that I can get up in front of any group and give a speech without any notice at all.

I was elected city commissioner and county attorney. Tomorrow I will run for supreme court justice. There are so many wonderful girls running—I probably will not win, but here at Girls State—it is not as important to win as it is to run. A very good friend of mine is running for governor. I know that she would make an excellent leader. So most of my time has been spent campaigning for her.

Girls State spirit is unbelievable! I am sure that this spirit is so great because we have such a spirited organization backing us.

I love everyone of you for giving me such a wonderful opportunity to learn government and most of all make friends.

Sincerely yours,
Marcia McDugald

Correction

In the "Sun" edition of June 13, there appeared an article about Avon Park Correctional Institution.

It was stated erroneously there are 11 staff positions at the institution, which include guards, custodial officers and department heads. The article should have read (111) one hundred and eleven such positions.

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

Introductions are usually a bit uncomfortable, because it is human nature to shy away from that with which we are unfamiliar.

And yet, it is extremely important that Floridians become acquainted with the subject of alcoholism, because an enemy cannot be fought and conquered until it is first recognized.

Thus, we at Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program launch this new weekly column today as an additional effort to spread the word that alcoholism is treatable . . . and that rehabilitation of many has been accomplished through FARP and other similar programs throughout Florida.

In the weeks and months to come, we hope to bring actual case histories—minus names, of course—of Floridians who are today living happy, productive lives but who were once seemingly hopeless alcoholics.

We shall also try to explain the work of the Program as we go along, including the function of the in-patient treatment center at Avon Park and the five out-patient clinics located at Miami, Tampa, Orlando, Jacksonville, and Pensacola, as well.

Main reason that Floridians need to become acquainted with alcoholism—including its prevention and treatment—is because one out of every 15 Florida residents who drink will become an alcoholic. This is not pleasant to contemplate, but like it or not, it's a fact.

Many misconceptions exist regarding the illness of alcoholism. Among these is the idea that the average alcoholic is a skid-row bum, another is the notion that there are few women who are problem drinkers.

Both statements are false. Experts in the field of alcoholism now say that something like five percent of all alcoholics are of the skid-row variety, the remaining 95 percent are what might be generally termed "everyday folks." And, statistics now indicate that for every three male alcoholics, there is one female in this category.

Florida today has 180,000 of its six million residents who are alcoholics. This is enough people to populate a city the size of St. Petersburg, and it is a sufficient number to sound an alarm across the state from Pensacola to Key West.

Although there is much to be done in the field of alcoholic rehabilitation here in our Sunshine State, we at the FARP feel we have already made progress in the field, and today Florida ranks among the top contenders among states which have rehabilitation programs for problem drinkers.

While the state Program is generally regarded as Florida's trailblazer in the field of treatment, there are increasingly more programs of rehabilitation sponsored by private individuals as well as religious and charitable institutions and groups.

The columns to follow in the weeks ahead will have accomplished their purpose if they challenge your thinking, shake any biases you may have regarding alcoholism, and if they clear up misconceptions on the subject. Surprises await many readers.

Information on the subject of alcoholism may be had by writing FARP Information Services, P. O. Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla. 33825.

Keep Cool while the Heat's On...

with flameless air conditioning!

You can stand off a whole summer of heat and humidity when your hideaway is cooled the flameless way. Less strain on your heart, too.

So, make your move. Have a straight-from-the-shoulder talk with your electric appliance dealer or air conditioning contractor. He'll treat you square.

With flameless air conditioning, you'll feel fresh all day. And with our Equal Payment Plan, which levels out your electric bills, you'll stay cool all through the summer.

$50 REWARD

TO STAMP OUT SUMMER HEAT we'll give an installation allowance of $50 to any of our residential customers who removes — between April 1 and June 30 — flame-type heating and replaces it with whole-house electric cooling and heating. Ask your dealer or contractor for the details.

The Library Corner

Those of you who are fans of Thyra Ferre Bjorn who has also written Papa's Wife, Mama's Way, Once Upon a Christmas Time, among others, will be glad to read This Is My Life which is her delightfully warm autobiography. However this does not duplicate the material in her earlier stories since it deals only with the time from the acceptance of her first book for publication.

With this dream realized on Christmas Eve in 1954, she is no longer content to remain only a homemaker, which, however, always remained her most important career. She did add a second career. In addition to being the author of written stories she became known as "the popular Swedish raconteur" in the lecture circuit.

Concerning these 12 years she writes of great happiness and great sorrow with "charm, dignity, and warm philosophy."

Her publishers, Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., tell us that Thyra Ferre Bjorn was one of eight children born to a clergyman in Swedish Lapland. In 1924 her father received a call to a Swedish church in Springfield, Mass., and the family came to America. Mrs. Bjorn has two daughters, and with her husband, Robert J. Bjorn, makes her home in Long meadow, Mass.

all about Flowers

FLOWERS USED FOR FOOD!

Spices are a part of every good cook's recipe. They are actually adding plants or flowers to whatever they cook.

Spices are actually taken from different parts of the various plants. For example, cloves come from the bud, cinnamon from the bark, pepper and nutmeg from the fruit. Ginger is taken from the root, and mustard is from the seed.

You will still see spices grown by many individuals in their own gardens throughout our country.

We choose only the loveliest and most colorful flowers for our customers. Every floral arrangement we prepare has our special attention. Call us when you need flowers.

FIX-IT TIP

Brass and copper screens don't rust—but they do oxidize and discolor. Aluminum screening often becomes coated with white oxide deposits. To protect your screens, they should be painted with a pigmented screen enamel or a suitable clear coating. A brush or spray can be used to paint screens—or you can make a handy applicator by tacking a piece of carpet to a wooden block. Since different types of metal require different types of paint, ask your paint dealer to recommend the proper coating.

The Weather Bureau chides those who look askance at forecasts, with the information that forecasting errors have diminished to about 5.5 per cent. But why always in our area, please?

LAW OFFICERS in Highlands County went back to "school" these past two weeks, with FBI agents instructing. One of those attending was county's newly elected sheriff Joe D. Keene, Going back to school were members of Sebring, Avon Park and Lake Placid police departments and auxiliaries, sheriff's deputies, officers from Avon Park Correctional Institution, and fish and game commission men. The school lasted 40 hours and a total of eight FBI men instructed.

Hassle Over Airport Hangar Lease Continues, Special Meeting Tonight

Several members of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce showed up at the city council meeting Monday to protest the lease being drawn up on the new airport hangar. The feeling was the airport was being leased for too long a period and too small a guaranteed payment.

Roy Seims, speaking for the aviation committee of the chamber said the lease failed to provide that it must be operated for airport purposes only. He also inquired about the possibility of the city building the lean-to and collect more on the monthly rent.

Under Marrs' lease he would pay $50 per month plus build a $10,000 lean-to 20 feet by 80 feet with half of it a workshop and the remainder divided into a pilot's lounge, office and restrooms, which would revert back to the city at the end of his lease. He would also pay three cents per gallon on all 80 octane gas sold, two cents on 100 octane, one cent on jet fuel and 25 per cent of gross income from rentals and tie-downs.

In a heated argument with Marrs, Mayor Jimmie Doerr said $50 a month rental with a one percent increase per year for living cost was ridiculous and an injustice to the citizens of the community. The lease should be renegotiated every five years.

Mayor Doerr suggested that the airport committee meet with city attorney and work out exactly what the city needs in an airport operation and then advertise for an operator in the Florida League of Municipalities magazine and others. He went on to say that Marrs stayed behind on his rent and he did not consider him a fit operator for the airport.

Councilman Rodney Lane said the F.A.A. approved the boat factory lease with provisions that the city continue to furnish airport facilities and this was the reasons for building the new hangar. Rent from the boat factory is $250 per month.

Andrew Scott, president of the council called a special meeting for Thursday, 7 P.M. and asked that the lease be rewritten in time for the meeting. The airport committee was given ten days to work on specifications for airport operations to be added to lease.

The council agreed to offer

the Community National Insurance Company $300 per acre for seven acres of land needed at the airport and to trade two lots to Mrs. Katherine Bell for two lots adjacent to the runway with city furnishing survey and deed.

In other business

Dick Starr, regional engineer for the State Board of Health informed the council state requirements on city water systems and asked for plans on water line extentions where inspections can be made during construction.

Starr also told the council, when asked about privies within city limits that sanitation problems such as this was primarily the responsibility of the County Health Department.

George Haynie and Tom Clarke representing the Kiwanis Club presented a model ordinance for control of junk automobiles. They emphasized that around junk yards are natural breeding places for mosquitoes and rats.

City Clerk Malcolm Crews was instructed to write junk yard operators that the law requires them to have their yards enclosed.

Bob Barben, chairman of the zoning board said that they were concerned about trailers in the city being parked in residential areas. Also persons should not be permitted to buy a trailer park license to park one or two trailers, persons should not be permitted to park empty trailers in their yards.

Council agreed to place $2,200 in the new budget for resurfacing six shuffleboard courts. The tourist club will pay an additional $400 on the work.

Authorized the City Electrical Inspector to write Florida Power condemning wiring in the old Pew Ranch building on South Verona owned by Murrell Prescott. The action came after a letter from city building inspector, E. L. Adams was read regarding the condition of Ben Stewart's building on South Verona.

Adams recommended that the city prohibit use and occupancy of this building.

The council agreed to prohibit the use and occupancy of rooms behind E & J Grocery owned by Stewart as living quarters until brought up to all building and zoning requirements.

Granted the Boating Association permission to hold a regional championship race here in October. The race will be held on Lake Tulane.

A baton twirling class will begin Monday, July 1 at the Avon Elementary School. Those interested are invited to attend. Gwen Sharpe will be the instructor.

The first big trip of the summer program is planned for July 4 when elementary and high school boys and girls may go to the Arcadia

William Hunt Charged With Murdering Avon Park Resident

State Attorney Glen Darty, fresh home from a tour of duty with the Army at Ft. Bragg, N. C., has not decided how and when the prosecution will proceed with the county's newest murder case—Any action may be delayed a long time.

On May 25 Cecil Maylor was killed in the Lacey Hill section of Avon Park and a short time later William Hunt, 57-year-old resident of Avon Park Route 1, was arrested and charged with Maylor's murder.

On May 27 Hunt waived preliminary in County Judge's Court and was ordered held without bond for action by Circuit Court.

Assistant State Attorney J. O. Macbeth said an information could be filed by the State Attorney "but if it's going to be a first degree murder case we must have a grand jury."

Darty said he could not possibly schedule a grand jury in Highlands County soon. He said he has four murder trials scheduled in Polk County and this heavy docket will delay work in Highlands. Hunt is held without bond in Highlands County jail.

Larry Albritton Installed Lion President

Ladies night, installation of officers and the annual banquet was held at the Lion's Club Tuesday, June 18 at 7 P.M.

Devotions were given by George Kelsey preceding the banquet. Group singing was led by Billy Martin.

Desegregation Plan Failed Requirements

Highlands County school board has received formal notice that its desegregation plans do not meet federal requirements, but loss of federal funds in the coming school year is unlikely.

At a special board meeting Superintendent G. F. Douglass said the regional director of Health, Education and Welfare, had assured him that informal agreements worked out by a HEW team and local school officials will stand for the coming year.

The federal department had put local boards on notice that desegregation plans must provide for elimination of any dual school systems by September, 1969. Any plan which does not indicate an end to a Negro system by a specific date is not automatically in non-compliance.

The HEW team which visited in Highlands County in May had agreed to recommend approval of an interim plan for this county. The interim plan provides for moving junior high school classes from Carver School to Lake Placid High this September and moving the junior high classes from Hopewell and E. O. Douglas when new high school buildings are completed in Avon Park and Sebring.

If the Washington office of HEW does not accept the regional office recommendation on the current Highlands desegregation plan the next move would be scheduling of a hearing in Washington.

C of C Appeals For Student Rooms

The Chamber of Commerce is once again appealing to the people of Avon Park to assist in the housing of students at South Florida Junior College.

A number of out of town students are arriving to find suitable accommodations for the fall term. Anyone having rooms or apartments which would be available to these students is urged to call Mrs. Alma Hooper, Executive Secretary of the Chamber at GL 3-3350. Mrs. Hooper reminds the townspeople that this is a service, provided free of charge, by the Chamber.

Softball Season Gets Underway Monday

The Avon Park Slowpitch Softball season got underway Monday night, with opening game ceremonies conducted by City Councilman, Durrah Martin. Herbert Graetz opened with a prayer and Councilman Martin then thanked all concerned for their efforts in promoting the league and for their work on the softball field.

A trophy was then presented to the Avon Park Correctional Institution, last year's champions.

The first game was APCI pitted against Highlands Ranch and Grove. In a well played game, Highlands Ranch and Grove defeated APCI 7 to 3. In the nightcap, the Methodist, a new entry in the league, proved to have too much offense for the Air Force as the Methodist downed the AF 11 to 6.

A good crowd was on hand and some good softball was displayed. The concession stand was in full swing, ably handled by Mrs. Carol Cribb. Ball games will be played each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, and the public is invited to see what promises to be some exciting softball.

Brucellosis Found In Two Groups of Cattle

More than 20 herds of beef cattle in Highlands County, most of them in the area northwest of Avon Park, have been tested for brucellosis and seven reactors were found in two of them.

Cy Nicholson, animologist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said most of the testing was done by USDA's Wayne Shelton and is continuing.

Cattle from herds or areas which have not been tested and found clean will not be permitted to travel inter-state effective January 1, under a regulation by the Department of Agriculture. Nicholson pointed out the regulation was requested by the National Cattlemen's Association.

A hearing scheduled last week before Judge J. H. Will son on whether a permanent injunction should be granted to halt brucellosis testing in Highlands County was canceled last week at the request of Doyle Conner, State Commissioner of Agriculture.

About 75 per cent of the cattlemen in this area have requested the program, while others represented by Ray Rauleerson of Okeechobee filed suit for an injunction to stop the testing.

Brucellosis makes cows steril and abort. Once a cow is found positive, it is branded and separated from the herd. The owner has 15 days to get the animal to slaughter and receive his indemnity. The cattle are appraised and the USDA makes up the difference between the slaughter and appraisal price up to $37.50 per animal.

Meeting For Volunteer Instructors Scheduled Friday at High School

Avon Park's summer recreation program sponsored by the Highlands County public schools got underway last Monday with boys and girls registering at three different centers for a variety of activities.

Highlighting next week's activities will be the start of the 10 days of assembly line beginning swimming instruction from 2 until 4 P.M. each afternoon at Lake Verona City Beach under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Collins. Busses will leave from the field house at Memorial Field and the Avon Elementary playground at 1:45 P.M. starting next Monday and children may report to either center for transportation to swimming or may meet at the city beach.

Mrs. Collins will hold a meeting for volunteer instructors for the assembly line beginning swimming program tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 2 P.M. at the high school auditorium. All parents who will be free to assist in the instruction should attend the meeting for materials and tips for one of the ten stations the children must pass. No teaching ability is necessary to help with the program as only one phase of the swimming technique is taught at each station and any parent can easily learn the skills needed to teach the beginners some phase of the program. The program has proved very effective in the past but volunteers are needed to make this years instruction successful. Children below school age must be accompanied each day by a parent.

Otheer activities for elementary age children are scheduled each week-day from 9:30 A.M. to 3 P.M. at the Avon Elementary playground and Hopewell School. At Avon Elementary, Mr. Miracle is in charge of the program which offers trampoline, badminton, softball, shuffleboard, tumbling, basketball, and activities on the playground equipment. Also a day at Highlands Hammock has been planned for elementary children on four Fridays — June 28, July 12, July 19, and July 26. The boys and girls will leave by bus from Avon Elementary at 9:30 A.M. and return at 2:45 P.M. Each child will need to carry a lunch.

One day each week, Mr. Miracle hopes to set a morning of skating in Sebring. Plans will be announced later on this.

90 Students Register For Summer Classes

South Florida Junior College set another new enrollment record with 90 students registered for the second session of Summer school. Nine day and one night class began last week and will continue through July 26.

Dean Wilford J. Beumel said it appears that enrollment will take a jump in the Fall. "Applications are now running about 20 per cent ahead of this time a year ago, but we still have plenty of room for students. We can take many new students for next year," Dean Beumel said.

He said the faculty for next year is almost complete, but interviews are still being conducted for a physical education instructor and a business education teacher.

A special federal grant of $5,000 for purchase of library books was received by SFJC on June 21. These funds may be used for either reference or general circulation books, Dean Beumel said.

Local National Guard Unit Wins Superior Rating at Camp

Battery B, Second Battalion, 108-T, 116 Artillery — made up of men from Sebring, Avon Park, Frostproof, Lake Placid, Wauchula — spent a week at Camp Blanding, Fla., and a week at Ft. Stewart, Ga.

The training was divided between time in the field practicing as a Howitzer unit and time studying methods of dealing with civil disorder.

In a surprise practical exercise the whole Guard unit packed all its gear, including personal things, and was ready to move out for riot duty within an hour. Battery B was the first one to report, all ready to roll.

These officers said the training this Summer "reflects the two-fold purpose of the National Guard — to protect the country from external enemies and to protect the life and well-being of citizens threatened in internal strife." The officers observed that the 1968 Summer encampment was "an exceptionally good one because everyone really worked."

Recreation Commission Requests Funds

The Recreation Commission requested $1,045.80 from the Avon Park Golf Association for the month of May. $415.80 for green fees and $630 for memberships.

Council voted to purchase used 26" greens mower from Trimmel Trowell for $100.

Mr. Lane said that on May 13 the City Council gave Charles Metcalfe 90 days to comply with the law on water meters and inside toilets. To date he had not started work and a search of city records showed that the last permit issued to Metcalfe was in March 1967 for a septic tank and four fixtures for a small store building. The Mayor was requested to start proceedings necessary to enforce the city codes.

Drunk Driving Law Will Be Tested On 4th

July Fourth will be the first holiday weekend for testing whether Florida's new "implied consent" law will keep drunk drivers off the highways.

The statewide "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" campaign will publicize the new law widely in an effort to persuade motorists not to drive if they are drinking heavily.

The American Automobile Association, conducting "Bring 'Em Back Alive" with the Florida Association of Broadcasters, believes that about half of all fatal holiday accidents involve drinking drivers.

Florida authorities hope this figure will be cut by the "implied consent" law, which makes any person driving in Florida subject to a chemical test for sobriety, or suspension of his driver's license for six months if he refuses.

The new law, effective July 1, also sets precise standards for determining when "a person is under the influence of alcoholic beverages to the extent that his normal faculties are impaired."

If a chemical test shows that a person's blood is 0.1 per cent (or one-thousandth) alcohol by weight, he is presumed guilty.

If the reading is more than 0.05 per cent but less than 0.1 per cent, the person is not presumed guilty, but he can be convicted if other evidence shows his faculties were impaired.

The motorist will be presumed innocent if the reading is 0.05 per cent or less.

How much a person can drink without impairing his normal faculties depends on the individual. The National Highway Safety Bureau estimates that a 200-pound man who started drinking shortly after a meal would have to drink 10 ounces of 80-proof liquor to lift his blood alcohol content over 0.1 per cent.

People who weigh less, or drink on an empty stomach, would fail the test after fewer drinks.

Experts agree that a couple of beers, or drinks, would result in a reading well below 0.05 per cent in most cases.

The AAA points out that any person who declines to take the test upon the request of a peace officer will have his driver's license suspended for six months, whether or not he is subsequently convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol, unless he requests a hearing and the court decides otherwise.

The chemical tests will be conducted on the motorist's breath, saliva or urine. Blood tests can also be used in cases where the person is unconscious from an accident and hospitalized.

Florida's new law exactly reflects the Highway Safety Program Standard for "Alcohol in Relation to Highway Safety," established by the U. S. Department of Transportation. Every state must be implementing an approved safety program by December 31 or face the loss of federal safety and highway funds.

Rotary Report

A report on the recent International Convention of Rotary was given by John Knapp. A few slides showed views of Mexico City and the huge Convention hall. An effort was made to bring the atmosphere of friendship and exchange between the 12,000 delegates and their 6,000 visitors from 5,000 clubs of over a 100 different lands. Our speaker was impressed by the music, cordial welcome, and gracious spirit of the Mexican hosts, official and otherwise.

The outgoing international president, Luther Hodges proved to be an able and pleasant president officer. The speakers and their words will be featured in the new issue of Rotarian Magazine, out this week. The legislation revolved around elections, and defeat of efforts to change the basis of classification system of membership. A slight change was voted to allow membership to be based on location of business, or of the person's residence.

Many side trips and tours were offered at the Convention. A large number of young people were present with their parents.

Highlands Got Over $1 Million From Racing

Florida counties reaped slightly over a million dollars from racing tax revenue released this month, Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., reported recently.

The amount, which is divided equally among the 67 counties, provided $469,000 more than the racing intake of June, 1967.

Each county's portion amounted to $17,000, bringing its total share to $307,000 this racing season, Dickinson said.

"There will be one more distribution as of June 30, when the racing season closes officially until November. We have already exceeded the total percounty distribution of $295,000 made last year," Dickinson added.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Is Gun-Control the Answer?

The well-meaning attempts to curb killing through gun-control legislation fail to get to the heart of the problem.

Guns which are held by men with no murderous intent are not a threat to anyone. People with murder in their hearts will kill with without guns. History proves this.

Have those who advocate gun-control laws pondered the fact that we have had guns ever since this nation was established — almost 200 years ago—but the problem of murder did not reach the present critical stage till recently?

What Has Changed?

What has changed, to make the present situation more serious?

The change has not been primarily in the guns, but in the administration of justice and in the area of law-enforcement.

The trouble is at the highest level in our government.

We have a Supreme Court which has ruled that it is unlawful for a child to pray voluntarily, thanking the Lord for his food, when he is about to eat lunch in a public school.

The same court has ruled that it is unconstitutional to have a teacher read a portion of the Bible each day in the classroom.

The same court has ruled that a murderer may not be convicted on the basis of his own confession, unless he had the benefit of legal advice before the confession was given.

Killer Set Free

This ruling has resulted in the freeing of confessed murderers. In one case, a woman who had killed a boy was set free by the judge because there were no living witnesses and the only evidence against her was her own confession that she had killed the child.

When she thanked the judge, she retorted: "Don't thank me. Thank the Supreme Court." He reminded her that she was guilty and should be convicted, but he had to set her free because of the Court's ruling.

Thou hatest instruction, and castest My words behind thee," said the Lord to a certain group of men.

Could these words be used to describe the majority of the nine men who have determined the way in which justice will be administered in this nation—for us today at a time when crime has been increasing nine times as fast as the population?

Try This"

Another word from the psalm in which the quoted words appear may be a good suggestion for us today. Here it is: "Call upon Me in the day of trouble. I will deliver thee."

Would this be a good thing to try—when all else has failed?

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

We Have Gun Control Now But It's Not Enforced

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The tragedy of the effort of the Administration, the liberal press, and numerous leftist lawmakers and organizations to whip up a national hysteria for gun control legislation is that it totally ignores the existence of a federal law which imposes controls far more stringent than those proposed by the President.

It is true that this stringent law (Public Law 474 of the 73rd Congress, passed in 1934) is not enforced, but it nonetheless exists unrepealed, and it could be enforced beginning immediately if the Administration and other proponents of a new gun control law demanded its enforcement.

The salient features of this gun control law are these:

(1) It requires that every importer, manufacturer, and dealer in firearms register with the Secretary of internal revenue in every district in which gun business is to be carried on, and pay a special tax ranging from $300 to $500.

(2) It requires that "there shall be levied, collected and paid upon firearms transferred in the continental United States a tax at the rate of $200 for each firearm."

(3) It prohibits the transfer of a firearm by any person except on written order "from ... person seeking to obtain such article, on an application form issued in blank in duplicate" by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(4) It requires that if the applicant for a firearm is an individual, identifying information required to be furnished on the application "shall include fingerprints and a photograph" of a person.

(5) It requires that every person possessing a firearm "shall register, with the collector of internal revenue of the district in which he resides the number or other mark identifying such firearm, together with his name, address, place where such firearm is usually kept, and place of business or employment."

It contains many other restrictions and controls, but these I have listed are sufficient to show the toughness and the scope of this 34-year-old law—and this is underlined by the penalties it imposes.

"Any person," reads Section 14 of the law, "who violates or fails to comply with any of the requirements of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $2,000 or be imprisoned for not more than five years, or both."

As I say, this is an exceptionally restrictive law which would provide all the gun control we could ever need, except for the fact that it just is not enforced. A law is of little use unless enforced. But, conversely, it is of little use to pass a new law when an even more stringent law already is on the books, awaiting enforcement.

I may add that after several days of study of the gun control question, I have discovered that since 1929, The Congress has passed and Presidents have signed into law a total of 16 gun control bills. I cannot, personally, see that passage of a 17th such law would accomplish anything, particularly in the light of the 1934 act which I have just discussed.

A great many of my constituents have been writing me on this subject, but the hysteria which has been whipped up in some parts of the country by the demagogic and frequently unwarranted tactics of proponents of a new gun bill does not seem to exist in the Seventh Congressional District. A check of my mail for a single day, for instance, shows 136 letters opposing a new law, only 16 supporting it.

I may say that it is incredible to me that the Administration sponsors of another gun control bill are unaware of the existence of the even-tougher law the Administration does not bother to enforce. This leads me to question the sincerity of their desire for a new law—and beyond that to question their motives in sponsoring one. Could it just be that the Administration has been whipping up this public frenzy in an effort to take the spotlight off some unpleasant problems in which it is entangled and which have been stripping from it the confidence of the public? I think it could be.

Rodeo. The busses will leave from the Memorial Field field house at 5 P.M. on the fourth and return after the finish of the rodeo. Admission price for Avon Park children under 12 years of age will be $1 and over 12 $2. Those who wish to attend the rodeo are asked to sign up for the trip in advance so the number of busses needed may be planned. Money for supper or a lunch should be taken.

Last Tuesday night the first of the weekly dances for teenagers was held at the Avon Elementary Cafetorium with Hershel Massey's band furnishing the music. The dances are open to Avon Park students and their personal guests and an admission price of 25 cents is charged to pay for the live band each week. The dances start at 7:30 P.M. and ends at 11 P.M.

Other activities at the Memorial Field field house (changed from the Avon Park high school gym due to the refinishing of the gym floor) will include tennis each morning, except Mondays from 9 to 10:30 A.M. and golf each morning from 9 to 12 A.M. with matches played each Friday.

Each Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 P.M. there will be horseback riding and instruction at the Roping Arena on the Wauchula Road and on Monday, Thursday 5:30 to 8 P.M. a program of weight lifting will be held at Memorial Field. On Monday and Friday evenings a baseball program for boys from 12 years old on up will be held from 5:30 P.M. to 7 P.M. Those boys interested in basketball should contact Mr. Sandlin as plans will need to be changed due to the unavailability of the high school gym.

Director Joe Franza has announced that Friday, July 5, will be a holiday and no activities will take place on this day.

A Florida automobile dealer once advertised his cars as selling for the same price as pork, about a $1.00 a pound! Humorous but true! We accepted long ago the automobile and all its engineering achievements as a necessity in our lives. We pretty much take it for granted that we can buy gas—check the oil and tires, and depend upon 1,000 or more miles of trouble free driving!

The automobile industry is quite significant in our economy considering that one of five of our work force is directly or indirectly dependent upon it for their livlihood! $1.00 a pound, h-m-m? Well worth the money, I'd say!

The Library Corner

One of the new 1968 mysteries is Charlotte Armstrong's The Balloon Man. Her previous novel A Lesson in the Basket, was singled out as "one of the year's (1967) outstanding thrillers" by the New York Times. Now with this harrowing story of an innocent young woman who falls victim to the savage consequences of her husband's "Bad Trip" on LSD she reveals herself directly in touch with the dark forces that so deeply disturb contemporary society.

Ward Bennett, a young would-be writer and unsympathetic with the status quo of his world and his overprotective parents turns himself in with LSD, leaves home, and goes to New York City to find himself in his writing. There he finds love and marries a girl whom his parents feel is not his equal, but who proves to be more than that. They return to his home in Los Angeles after the birth of their son. With the increasing number of trips he turns to violence which results in hospitalizing his three-year old son. Sherry his badly shaken wife takes a room in a cheap boardinghouse in order to be near her son.

The dingy atmosphere of Mrs. Peabody's "seedy" roominghouse seems no different from others around it. It is to be torn down in a few months in order to enlarge the hospital facilities. When the whole tone of the place begins to perceptably cool towards her, Sherry is forced to face the facts and her fellow boarders. The suspense is held to the end.

So the funny little price sticker in the window. It says Simca is priced from $1095.00. Hooray!

Even the friendly gas station man is cheering. Simca owners can get up to 35 miles on one gallon of gas. Poor gas station man.

The garage man is not cheering either. Simca is engineered and backed by Chrysler. So Simca owners rarely have big service bills. No wonder the garage man is not cheerful.

And the good old insurance man is not cheering. He can't make much money on Simca's low rates. That is very sad.

But the bank teller is cheering. He is glad because Simca owners come often to his window to save their extra money.

Hooray, hooray for the funny little car!

Torista Gaster and E. L. Howard Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gaster of Avon Park announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Torista, of Atlanta, Ga., to SP/5 Edwin L. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Howard of Avon Park.

The wedding will take place July 5 at 7 P.M. in the First Baptist Church, Avon Park.

A reception will follow in the Florida Power Lounge.

No formal invitations will be sent but all friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Miss Gaster is presently employed with Colonial Mobil Homes in Atlanta and will continue working with the same company in Columbus, Ga., after the wedding.

Mr. Howard is stationed with United States Army at Fort Benning, Ga., where the couple will reside.

Diane Landress Complimented With Shower

The Social Hall of the First Baptist Church was the scene for the miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Diane Landress, Saturday, June 22. Miss Landress and DeWayne Lemler will exchange wedding vows August 3, in the First Baptist Church.

A color scheme of yellow and green was carried out with arrangements of yellow and white shasta daisies. One end of the refreshment table from which punch, cookies and party sandwiches were served, was arranged with limes and lime leaves with the white daisies. The table was covered with a green organdy lace edged spread.

Mrs. Lawler Wells presided over the bride's book.

Mrs. Larry Pickett and Mrs. Kenneth Wells poured. Miss Cheryl Guerndt helped the bride-elect open her many beautiful gifts.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Adams, Mrs. Don Antley, Mrs. Elton Crews, Mrs. I. T. Mitchell, Mrs. Lawler Wells, Mrs. Preston Hopson, Mrs. Larry Pickett, Mrs. Kenneth Wells, Mrs. Malcolm Crews, Mrs. Ray Wells and Mrs. Ophelia Bibner.

Shower Fetes Bride-elect Kathy Smith

Miss Kathy Smith, bride-elect of Tom Sharpe, whose wedding will take place Friday, June 28, 8 P.M. in the Church of God, was the recipient of a miscellaneous shower, held in the Florida Power Lounge, Thursday evening, June 20.

A color scheme of yellow and green was carried throughout in the decorations of permanent yellow water lilies on green pads.

Miss Smith opened her many gifts under an arch, entwined with white net, tiny white roses and Florida greenery. Her chair covered with white was placed under the arch from which two white wedding bells were suspended.

The serving table for punch, cake, nuts and candy was covered with white and arranged with a miniature bride in white and her brides-maids in yellow, representing the bridal party. The bride-elect carried out the color scheme in her dress of yellow and green trim. An appointment of yellow tapers were used at either end of the table. The punch bowl was surrounded with fern and tiny yellow umbrellas.

The wedding of Kathy Smith and Tom Sharpe will take place in the Church of God at 6 P.M. instead of 8 P.M. as originally announced, Friday, June 28.

Reception at Florida Power Lounge.

Mrs. G. Harrison Visits Daughter In San Juan

Mrs. G. L. Harrison has returned from a two week visit to her daughter, Salie, in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Her sister, Mrs. George Jordan from Ocala accompanied her on the trip.

While in San Juan, they attended the Casals Music Festival, held each year in San Juan. Pablo Casals, who is 91 years of age, directed the last number of the June 12 performance, which they attended at the University of Puerto Rico.

In trips "out on the island," a local phrase, meaning anywhere, beyond metropolitan San Juan, visits were made to one of the most beautiful beaches in the world, Luquillo Beach, Atlantic Ocean, 30 miles east of San Juan, and to El Yunque, the only tropical National Forest among the 155 National Forests, under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Forest Service. In the forest there is an observation tower that provides magnificent views. On a clear day, one can see St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. The highest peak in the forest is 3,532 feet.

On a trip to Charlotte Amalie, St. Thomas, besides the pleasure of seeing all the beautiful linens, china, jewelry, etc. offered for sale, there is also a tour of the island in which one is carried to the highest peak. "George Washington" drove the taxi carrying the Harrison's and Mrs. Jordan. All the beauty of the island was gone over and a visit to Bluebeard's castle was included. After returning to San Juan, and waiting to be checked by customs, there were about 15 people standing around waiting for the merchandise, which had been sent as baggage on the plane. The baggage proved to be nothing but liquor and cigarettes. Everyone burst out laughing.

In the "San Juan Star" of June 19, News of the Community, there is a picture of Jan Bitting with the following: "Jan Bitting, of Santurce, has graduated from the Highlands School in Avon Park, Florida." The Condado section of Santurce is where Salie Harrison lives.

Several visits were made to old San Juan to shop, mostly window shopping, and La Fortaleza (The Governor's), which is the oldest executive mansion in the hemisphere still used as such. In 1640 governors of Puerto Rico were using this as their residence.

The City of San Juan has very narrow streets, but in almost any direction one looks, there are flowers, shrubs or flowering trees to be seen. While hunting the Chamber of Commerce in old San Juan, we came upon a beautiful building. Although there were no signs advertising the Chamber of Commerce, we approached it, and found a "Welcome" mat at the door. Further investigation proved it to be La Princesa Jail. We moved on to the next street and found the Charbe of Commerce.

On our first day in old San Juan we visited the San Juan Cathedral, some of which was built in 1540. It is very beautiful. In 1908 the remains of Ponce De Leon, first governor were moved there. In our instructions given us by Salie, who could not accompany us, we were given the name of a good place to eat, where menus were printed in both English and Spanish. About noon we found the place, and in checking, found the menus were in Spanish only. Some of them the waitress could tell us about, others she didn't know the English word for the Spanish listed. We decided on one which we knew included a salad. We wanted to try Spanish cooking. With the salad we were given French bread. About the time we finished the salad, the other dishes arrived. French Fries and Chicken broiled in butter — two good old Spanish dishes. They were good tho.

Mrs. Harrison and her sister, Mrs. Jordan returned from their delightful trip Saturday, June 22.

Mary Murray - Dennis Raczkowski Have Home Wedding

Miss Mary Murray, daughter of T/Sgt. and Mrs. Alvin Murray and Dennis Raczkowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Raczkowski, all from Avon Park were united in holy wedlock, in the presence of relatives at the bridegroom's home Saturday, June 22, 1968.

The single ring ceremony was read by Brother Harrison Crews. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Linda Lucas served the bride as matron of honor.

Joseph Dressel of Avon Park was best man.

Evelyn Brown Reveals Wedding Plans

The wedding of Evelyn Brown to Charles Grover Metcalfe, Jr., will take place Saturday, June 29, in Davidson, N. C.

Davidson College Presbyterian Church will be the scene for the wedding with Will Terry and William R. Smith, III, officiating.

The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Henry Hill Brown. Miss Ann Grovenstein from The Highlands School for Girls will serve as maid of honor.

Charles Grover Metcalfe will serve his son as best man.

Ushers will be Cecil Kenneth Brown, Jr. and David Shelton Brown, brothers of the bride from Raleigh, N. C. Charles Alexander Brown III, cousin of the bride, Mooresville, N. C., Paul C. Gentry and Carson Douglas Culbreth, from Highlands School for Girls, Avon Park, and Gary Sullivan, Cherryville, N. C.

The reception will be held at the home of the bride 783 Concord Rd., Davidson, N. C.

Wedding Plans Changed For Upright-Price

Wedding plans have been changed for the Gail Upright, Buddy Price wedding. The wedding will take place in the First Baptist Church of Avon Park instead of the Wauchula Hills Baptist Church as originally planned.

The wedding is scheduled for June 29, at 7 P.M.

All friends and relatives are cordially invited.

Adventists Sunday Offering For Benefit

The 180 bed Sydney Sanitarium and Hospital in Australia will benefit this Saturday from an offering to be taken by Avon Park Seventh-day Adventists.

Pastor Robert H. Kerr said the local offerings will help replace the frame portion of the hospital originally built in 1895. In addition, the special fund being received in all Seventh-day Adventist churches throughout North America on June 29 will enlarge patient capacity to 300, in order to improve the hospital's nurses' training program.

Pastor Kerr said through the years the hospital has graduated 900 nurses, and that at last count nearly 100 were serving on the staffs of medical institutions outside Australia, primarily on the islands of the Pacific.

The Sydney hospital is one of two 125 sanitarium and hospitals and 170 dispensaries and clinics operated by the Adventist Church in its world-wide humanitarian ministry.

Grange 203 Disbands Until Sept. 5

Avon Park Grange No. 203 met Thursday, June 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Warner, 417 East Main St., with Master, Elmer Fullmer presiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sapienza of Rt. 1, Avon Park, were reinstated and welcomed into the Grange.

Most of the members will be out of town during the summer months, so it was voted to recess until September.

A letter was received from Mrs. J. A. Blomquist, who is in Jamestown, N. Y., thanking the Grange for a get-well card sent to her during a recent stay in the hospital. She is up and around now.

The Lecturer, Mrs. E. H. Fullmer, presented a program on ritualism with the assistance of Alfred Haviland, Burdette Howard, Mrs. Zeno Warner, Mrs. D. J. Roche, Mrs. W. H. Clarke and Elmer Fullmer. The program for July was also given. This was on the history of the graces, and put on by Ceres, Pomona and Flora. Song — Bringing in the Sheaves. Flag number. Thought for the day — God is not looking for people with ability as much as those with availability.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fullmer, 404 Oak St., on Thursday, Sept. 5 at 8 P.M.

Miss McDugald Wins Honor

Marcia McDugald Girl Stater, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and now attending in Tallahassee, writes to Mrs. Pete Boney, chairman of Girl Staters, of her recent honor.

Dear Mrs. Boney:

I just can't tell you how excited I am about Girl's State now! Mrs. Boney, I've been elected Supreme Court Justice. We just received the results of this election and so I ran over here to write to you. I'm so excited I can hardly write. This position is in the top 14 positions at Girls State, so I feel so honored to be elected a Justice! The girls on here are so-so-so wonderful! I can't write more as there is millions of girls pouring into my room to congratulate me and I can say no more than how happy I am and thank you and your Auxiliary for sending me here.

With love,
Marcia

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

Larry W., aged 30, was a recent patient at Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, Avon Park.

"I started drinking with a gang of boys when I was 17," Larry told us. "But there wasn't any particular sensation at that time." He now is divorced and has lost his family and business.

By the time Larry was 21 he was in the habit of drinking each weekend, but not necessarily getting drunk each time. He says his drinking became a problem, however, when his weekend drinking pattern became a daily thing. Soon he was needing drinks every day not only before and after work, but on the job as well.

At this time Larry owned his own business and was one of the most successful photographers in the city in which he had his establishment. He was 27 years old.

A cycle began at this point. Larry began to realize his drinking on the job was hurting his business, so he quit the bottle for several months. Immediately his business was on the rebound. This called for a "celebration," Larry figured, and the "celebration" quickly degenerated into another drinking bout. Another "dry" period followed, with its accompanying improvement in business, and then more booze.

Each time the cycle was repeated, however, the drinking became heavier and the bouts longer. Finally, says Larry, booze "took over" his life. The bottom dropped out, he lost his business, and Larry says he hasn't been able to hold a job since.

Several hospitalizations and many jail sentences later, Larry's wife divorced him, and at the age of 32, Larry found himself without the wife and two daughters who had managed to help keep at least a part of his life tied together.

He began drifting around the country at this point, staying "dry" long enough to hold one job after another. During this period Larry spent eight weeks at a rehabilitation clinic, but he emerged from it ready to pick up his old drinking habits.

"I only went to the clinic because my brother wanted me to," says Larry. "I really wasn't motivated myself. I wouldn't accept the fact that it was me who was all screwed up — not the world."

Larry finally wound up in Orlando — everything lost, and subsisting on anything alcoholic he could find, including canned heat.

An Orlando psychiatrist recommended Larry to the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center.

Before he left the Center after 28 days of treatment, Larry told ALCO-TOPICS, "I realize now that alcohol is a mental problem to me. It is an escape. I'm trying hard to find out what problem it is that I'm running from—what problem it is that makes me drink. I don't drink for pleasure — just oblivion. If I can find myself everything else will fall into place."

Will Larry find himself? Only time will tell. But Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program hopes he has at least been turned in the right direction.

More information on FARP, including free literature, will be sent on request. Just address FARP's Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla., 33825.

Flowers

RELIGION AND FLOWER NAMES

It is sometimes remarkable how we associate flowers with religion. This is only natural, because the two go together. Both are beautiful part of our lives.

The Star-of-Bethlehem is a delicate white flower. Yes, it has six points, just like a star. The petals of the blossom are white, but have green stripes on the outside. First grown in Italy, it has become a favorite throughout the world. The blossoms close before nightfall, and it is sometimes called "Sleepy Dick." Being from the lily family, it grows from a bulb.

Whenever you have some thing important to say—say it with flowers. Their language is more beautiful than words. Call us.

Local Teacher Attending College

Miss Ann L. Grovenstein of Avon Park, is among 35 secondary school teachers attending a summer institute for Asian studies being held through July 19 at Meredith College.

Miss Grovenstein, who teaches at The Highlands school in Avon Park, was selected from some 200 applicants for the NDEA institute which is financed through a $46,000 contract between Meredith and the U. S. Office of Education.

The institute will provide all participants an opportunity to hear experts in their field discuss Chinese and Indian politics, society, art, religion, and education. The primary aim is to broaden the participants' understanding of both traditional cultures and the contemporary scene.

Michael Mercer Completes Basic Training

Marine Private Michael S. Mercer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mercer of Route 1, Avon Park, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Former Resident Died June 21 In Tampa

William Frank Deas, 53, died at his home in Tampa, Friday, June 21. He was a former resident of Avon Park.

He is survived by one daughter, Miss Carolyn D. Deas of Detroit, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. Maybell Warren of Coleman, Fla., and Mrs. Mary Brady, Swainsboro, Ga.

Funeral services were held at the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home, Monday, June 24, 4:30 P.M. with Rev. Aden Childress officiating.

He was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Joe McCullough Assigned To Korea

SP/4 Joseph H. McCullough, son of Mrs. Mary A. Planeta of Avon Park, has been transferred from Fort Benning, Ga., where he has been stationed for the past year, to Waezan, Korea. He left Tampa by plane for Fort Lewis, Wash., May 24, where he received his assignment to Korea. His address is SP/4 Joseph H. McCullough RA 14952937 Co A, U. S. A. CCD Box 12 APO, San Francisco, Calif. 96460. He would appreciate hearing from his friends.

The Bible Speaks To You on Radio

There is a prayerful way out of physical weakness. Biblical ideas about God's supremacy are practical today. Listen Sunday, June 30, 9 A.M. to WJCM to Freedom from Physical Limitation.

DCT Program A.P. High School Plan for 1968-69

Students enrolled in the diversified cooperative training program at Avon Park High School earned a total of $29,489 during the 1967-68 school year, according to year-end reports compiled by Leslie Burch, local DCT coordinator. All told, the students worked a total of 24,186 hours, earning an average wage of $1.22 per hour.

Twenty-six students completed the course given during the year, with 18 area firms and public organizations cooperating with the school by supplying the "on-the-job" training positions for these high school boys and girls.

Those firms included: Food Fair, Inc., Big T, Texaco Co., Kwik-Chek, United Telephone Co., One Hour Cleaners, Wells Motor Co., Highlands Hammock State Park, Grand Prix Lanes, and Avon Garden Florists.

Other job training stations were: Walker Memorial Hospital, Highlands Girls School, Chestnut's Carage, Marr's Aircraft, Central Florida Asphalt Co., Weldco Co., Ridge Area School, Avon Park Motors, and the Jacaranda Hotel.

Under the DCT program, set up by the local high school and the State Division of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education, students attend classes in the morning and work in the afternoon learning various occupations through actual experience. Class work includes study relating to the work students are doing.

Plans for the 1968-69 school year are now being made, and Mr. Burch reports that 24 students are currently enrolled, with many of them already employed by area firms during the summer months. Local employers interested in participating in the DCT program can contact Mr. Burch at the Avon Park High School.

Class of 1963 Hold 15 Year Reunion

The graduating class of 1953, Avon Park High School, held their 15 year reunion Saturday, June 22, at the Florida Power Clubhouse. Activities began at 1 P.M., with a barbecue chicken dinner served at 6 P.M.

Special guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wilhite, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Watson.

Class president Rev. Robert Cook of Tampa served as master of ceremonies, with each member of the class giving a short run-down on his family and activities during the last five years.

Those attending were Jerry Childs of West Columbia, S. C., who was met at McCoy Airport in Orlando on Saturday morning; Mrs. Barbara Moseley Nash of Marietta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elwell of Ft. Lauderdale; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ragsdale and daughter, Melinda, of W. Palm Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Varnes of Hobe Sound; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Butler of Lakeland.

Also Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Beckard, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hooper, Roger Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Harvey of Lake Placid; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Kopta and children, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spurlock, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hulon, Mr. and Mrs. Tap Collier, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Cook of Tampa; Louis Lagoni and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pate.

Plans were discussed for the 20 year reunion of the class which will be held in June, 1973.

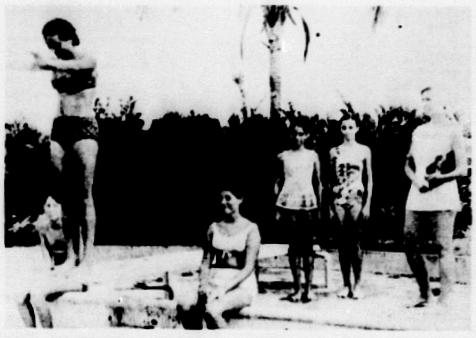

'An interoffice memo marked "confidential" is one containing information you heard at lunch yesterday.

Tippidy Canoe On Peace River By Girl Scouts

Twelve Girl Scouts took their first real canoe trip Friday down Peace River with chaperones, Mrs. Charles Collins, Mrs. Donovan Halvorsen, and Miss Anne Barben. This was the final requirement needed to complete their small crafts badge.

With their gear tied to the thwarts, they launched their six canoes from a boat landing near Wauchula. Peace River is near flood stage due to the recent rains, and the resulting current was a surprise to the girls who have been practicing in the lakes.

There was only one accident along the way. The canoe paddled by Barbara Glowers and Sue Ferguson with Mrs. Collins riding passenger tipped over. There were as many versions of what happened as there were girls to tell it. Those who saw the three riding down the river on the overturned canoe won't forget the sight soon. The most harm done was clothes that were lost to the bottom of the river and a wet first aid kit.

The trip ended at Pioneer Park, Zolfo Springs. After the six canoes were loaded on the trailer and tied down, 12 hot, tired Girl Scouts and their three chaperones went for a swim in the pool at the park.

As they started for home, the girls voted their first real canoe trip a perfect one except for the upset canoe. Many girls said, "When can we go again?"; some said, "Let's go tomorrow"; a few simply groaned with exhaustion.

Red Cross First Aid Course For Girl Scouts

An American Red Cross first aid course is being offered to Girl Scouts this summer. The class had its first session at the Episcopal Parish House on Tuesday from 9 - 11 A.M.

At the conclusion of the ten hour course, those qualifying will be given a first aid certificate. This course while training girls to render first aid, will also fill many of the requirements needed on related badges. For the Cadettes, it will complete a number of the preparations required prior to attempting the emergency preparedness challenge.

The island of Cyprus has been ruled by the Egyptians, the Assyrians, the Persians, the Greeks, the Romans, the Byzantines, the Crusaders, the City of Venice, and the British, since 1800 B.C.

Scout Cadettes Learn Water Safety

The 12 Girl Scouts registered in the 2 week aquatic program for cadettes are working hard to earn their small craft badge and swimmer badge. The purpose of the small craft badge is to handle one type of small craft well enough to take a one day trip, while the purpose of the swimmer badge is to learn the basic swimming skills and to qualify for waterfront activities.

Mrs. Charles Collins, small craft instructor, has been teaching the girls the fundamentals of canoeing. They have learned to handle their craft with enough skill to maneuver an obstacle course. As part of their training, they have taken part in a deliberate upset and were able to right their canoe and propel it to shore. One day, Bill Knapp, explorer scout, demonstrated knots they should know.

Miss Anne Barben, swimming instructor, has been helping the girls perfect their strokes. To increase their endurance, each day they swim laps. One of the requirements for this badge is to be able to swim 100 yards at one time using each the elementary back stroke, breast stroke, side stroke and crawl. The principles of water safety are being stressed.

On Friday the girls will realize their goal. They will put their canoes in the Peace River at Wauchula and will canoe to Pioneer Park at Zolfo Springs. A picnic along the way is planned and a swim at the park will complete the trip.

The cadettes registered for this course are Darlene Vlets, Dee Dee Jahna, Melinda Barben, Debbie Flowers, Lori Behal, Bobbie Newton, Thea Tomlinson, Linda Andrews, Debbie Scott, Sue Ferguson, and Barbara Flowers.

Holiday Magazine Names 124 Best Restaurants!

THEY ALL COOK WITH GAS!

These restaurants are in many different places, from New York to Hawaii and specialize in many different dishes, from sirloin to sauerbraten. But all 124 have one very important thing in common. They use Gas cooking equipment.

Why do most professional chefs prefer to cook with Gas? Because Gas heat can be most easily regulated to meet any recipe demand. It simmers and sautes and fries to perfection. And Gas responds instantly. Even under the heaviest cooking load. So more food can be prepared in less time.

Gas equipment is also the first choice of restaurant owners and operators. It's so economical that when you compare it with electrical equipment, there's no comparison. Monthly bills are frequently 50% lower. And Gas equipment lasts longer.

Pictorial INTELLIGRAM

How are you on recent events? Complete the following six statements, checking your answers with those below to find out.

1—Sen. (Eugene McCarthy) (Edward Kennedy) has been suggested as a possible running mate if Vice President Humphrey becomes the Democratic presidential nominee.

2—The accused assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy came to this country from (Israel) (Jordan).

3—Sirhan Sirhan has asked the (American Bar Assn.) (American Civil Liberties Union) to find him a lawyer.

4—Civil rights leader (Bayard Rustin) (Rev. Ralph Abernathy) has resigned as leader of the Poor People's Campaign.

5—He is succeeded by (Floyd McKissick) (Sterling Tucker).

Count 10 for each correct choice. A score of 60 is excellent; 50, good; 40, fair; less than 40, poor.

COMEDY CORNER

"The laundry made a mistake—they returned sheets instead of shirts!"

NEXT SILVER SPURS RODEO JULY 4-7—Here Cowboy Champion Barney Faircloth makes a perfect catch of his steer at last year's rodeo. The 12,000 seat rodeo stadium is used also for high school football.

FRAMED by surrounding landscape, the Conservatory Garden in New York's Central Park becomes the setting for an outdoor art show. Two different concepts were featured—brightly painted fiberglass figures and black moving machines.

In the News

DR. MILTON Eisenhower, president emeritus of Johns Hopkins University and brother of the former president, heads the 10-member President's commission on violence, formed following the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to delve into the causes of violence in American society. The commission has been ordered to make its report by the end of the year.

Military Salute

Origin of the military salute is obscure but it may have been traced back to the Crusades when it was accepted as a substitute for raising the hat or helmet visor.

The only thing more unnerving than the roar of a jetliner overhead would be if it should STOP roaring.

Liquor Store Robbed Of $96 Wednesday

Prescott's Liquor Store was held up Wednesday, June 26 by two Negro men who got away with $96.

The package store is located on Highway 27 South of Avon Park at the city limits.

According to Ray Dean, who was attending the package store, two Negro men came into the store at approximately 11:05 P.M. and asked him for the money, in the meantime a white man came in unaware of what was going on. When the two men started out, one of them shot a hole in the floor. Both Dean and the unidentified man fell on the floor until the two Negroes drove away.

The white man left and today the police were still in hopes of locating him to get additional information on the two robbers.

Dove Field Will Be Available At Bombing Range

This season's dove hunters will have the opportunity to hunt dove on eight public dove fields in the South Florida Region according to Wildlife Biologist Frank Winston, Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

There will be two fields on the Cecil Webb Wildlife Management Area, Charlotte County and one field on the Avon Park Wildlife Management Area, Highlands County. There will also be a field on the Croom Wildlife Management Area, Sumter County and each of these fields will consist of 100 acres in size.

Pinellas and Hillsborough Counties will each have a public dove field this season. The field in Pinellas County will be 100 acres in size and located approximately 10 miles East of Tarpon Springs. The field in Hillsborough County will be 300 acres in size and located at Plant City. Sarasota County will also have a field which will be 100 acres in size and located at Sarasota.

"Each of these public dove fields will be planted with 'brown-top millet' between July 1 and July 15," said Winston, "and this will give ample time for the millet crop to be ready for this year's dove season."

The dates for this year's dove season have not been set.

17 Teaching Appointments Approved

The search for hard-to-find specialists continues but on the whole the Highlands County schools teaching staff for 1968-69 is "shaping up very well."

In its June meetings the school board approved 17 teaching appointments. Some are for new, inexperienced teachers, but some are to teachers with experience and advanced degrees.

The appointments are as follows: Fred W. Jones, Mrs. Nona Allen, Jon Foy for Sebring High School; S. Thomas Lund, Louise Gregg, Dora Shank, for Avon Elementary; Betty Cook, Roger Alan Sanderson for Avon Park High. Eliza Noble for Lake Placid Elementary; James Noble, James Walker, Jack Halabrin, Lake Placid High School. Kenneth Schael and Douglas Mitchell, Hopewell.

Joel Evers, formerly of the Hardee County school staff, has been appointed to the county supervisory staff. He is to serve as curriculum coordinator in the 1968-69 year while J. F. Smith is on leave.

A. W. Fulton, who has been on leave, has been appointed to the Sebring area instrumental music staff. Colleen Denton Chamblin is to be speech therapist in the Sebring area.

The one position that seems to be most difficult is reading specialist. Under special state and federal grants the Highlands County schools are planning an all-out assault on reading problems. But location of reading specialists is a major problem. At present the school board is planning to set up an in-service training program to help teachers with reading.

County Tax Roll Increases $5.5 Million In One Year

Highlands county commissioners have the biggest tax roll in history on which to levy this year, although tax bills will be lower for persons having livestock, grove and ranch equipment and other such intangibles.

The roll was presented Tuesday to the commissioners by tax Assessor Billy Martin, with the commission sitting as a board of equalization. Of the roll, $208,990,225 is taxable as compared to $203,888,348 last year. If the same millage of 11.65 applies, this should give the commission $2,431,365 with which to run the county the coming year, about $56,000 more than last year.

Martin pointed out that the tax roll has steadily increased each year, due to the steady and substantial growth throughout the county.

"Our relatively new and expanding dairying industry also adds its share of values to the county tax roll," he said.

Because the Legislature reduced values on wholesale and retail inventories and livestock and items such as equipment in stores, etc. from 100 per cent to fifty per cent of just valuation, the county lost almost $2,000,000 for this type of property, or about $23,000 in revenue, $24,700 in 1967 millage.

On the bright side, however, is the steady growth in real estate values. Martin pointed out. Non-exempt real property values showed a substantial gain of nearly $7,000,000.

The increases in real estate values are due primarily to new home construction he said. There is a new multi-story condominium apartment building, there are several new commercial buildings, new mobile home parks and continued subdivision developments. This resulted in an over all gain in taxable property of over $6,800,000.

The $208,990,225 figure is non-exempt real estate. There is a total of $25,295,940 in homestead exempt property.

Of the 1968 levy, $183,000,949 is for non-exempt real estate $21,337,900 for personal property and $4,351,376 for railroad and

Second Lease For Airport Fails To Meet Local Approval

"I am not interested in this lease or any other lease that will tie up the Avon Park Municipal Airport for a period of more than five years and the city loose control of it," these were the words of Mayor Jimmy Doerr, at a special meeting called Thursday night on leasing the airport to Shelly Marrs. This was the second lease that has been drawn up and both have come under fire from the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce and other residents of the community.

Biggest objection was the length which would be 20 years with two five year options. The Chamber of Commerce recommended the lease be on a year-to-year basis.

Councilman Rodney Lane said he took exception to the one year proposal because any businessman would be foolish from a business standpoint to take the hangar and try to build up his business by putting a lot of money into something like this and in one year someone else come along and take it away.

Mayor Doerr said he had been ignored on preparation of the new lease and he was not going to sign it. He also stated that he had checked with lawyers and there was no way that he could be made to sign the lease, but he was willing to sit down with council and the airport committee and work out a good lease that would be beneficial to the city of Avon Park and its residents.

The Chamber of Commerce met in a special session Thursday and adopted a resolution which W. R. Reck, president asked to be read at the council meeting.

The resolution passed was that any lease negotiated by the officials of the city of Avon Park with any leasee be done in a careful and business like manner and for the city to get a 10 percent return on their investment in the property to be leased, and the lease to be on a one year basis, the leasee be prohibited from assigning any portion of the lease and he (leasee) would be required to provide the services in lease or the lease would automatically terminate.

Mayor Doerr advised the council that Marrs was two months delinquent on his present leasee payments, and requested the council have the city clerk give him notice to vacate the airport.

Bob Barber attending the meeting with a group from the Chamber gave some figures obtained from the Sebring Airport. The Sebring Airport charges two cents per square foot on old buildings and three cents on new constructions.

At three cents per square foot on this new hangar the rent would be $240. Marrs said he could not pay that because Sebring was offering a finished building, with services of an airport manager, fire department and did not have to provide any services to the public. The Avon Park hangar would be bare with no wiring or plumbing.

Jack DeLaney suggested to the council, the mayor and the airport committee convene and work out the technicalities of a lease.

The airport committee is now gathering information from other airport operations and when completed will notify the council in order to draw up another lease.

Meanwhile Marrs and the new boat factory is using the old hangar.

A special meeting was called by members of the City Council last Tuesday, June 25th at 1 P.M., so that the city could be given some kind of guarantee on the new hangar at the airport since it was not being built according to specifications.

Scott explained that according to the request of the council, architect James Heim had inspected the hangar and made certain recommendations.

Lee Graves, president of Graves Construction of Kissimmee told the council that he had found himself in a place where he was having to apologize for errors made by American Steel and further explained why it had become necessary to make certain changes in the construction of the hangar since engineers at American Steel had made some errors in shipments and plans.

Graves presented letters, plans etc. as to the changes and reports from the engineers on these changes and a copy of his order to American Steel. He explained in detail what was being done to overcome these mistakes.

Scott said the council was responsible to the public for construction of the hangar and the city should be given a guarantee by American Steel to cover these changes.

Graves assured council members the city would have a guarantee from American Steel by Monday and that they would be responsible for changes made in construction and this change would not effect the building in any way.

Graves was given permission by the council to proceed in construction of the hangar providing the city received a guarantee from American Steel accepting responsibility of changes made in construction.

Lightning Strikes Hillcrest Nursing Home

Twenty-six patients are being cared for on the second floor of Walker Memorial Hospital, where they were removed by firemen, policemen, neighbors and friends in the community when their Hillcrest Nursing Home was struck by lightning Tuesday, June 25. Repairs are nearly complete and Mrs. Hopp states they will have them all back in the home in the next two or three days.

The hospital has had an unusual high census of patients but has been able to care for the Hillcrest patients in a very efficient manner. There were no injuries during the transporting of patients and every one is doing well.

Barringers New Owners Of Griffins

Chief Deputy Sheriff Bob Barringer and wife, Melba have purchased Griffin's Restaurant from Mr. and Mrs. Vern Griffin as of July 1. They will devote their full time to the management of the restaurant after his term as deputy sheriff has expired.

There is no change in the personel and the Barringers are looking forward to their friends and local residents patronizing them along with the tourists.

Another Census Survey in July

A sample of families and households in this area will be included during July in a nationwide survey of home repairs and buying plans, according to Thomas W. McWhirter, Director of the Census Bureau's regional office in Atlanta.

Census Bureau representatives will visit each home chosen for the Quarterly Household Survey.

REHRER APPOINTED

County Judge Mervin Rehrer president of the state organization of juvenile judges, has been appointed a member of the Florida bar's delinquency and crime prevention committee for the ensuing year.

Barbara Heilig Attends Study Institute at UF

The Speech Pathologist for the Highlands County Schools, Mrs. Barbara Heilig, participated at a Special Study Institute at the University of Florida in Gainesville and presented a paper on the role of the public schools in the Speech and Language Development of the Negro Child.

Mrs. Heilig recently completed a pilot study on Negro dialect and developed a test to measure the degree of dialect in school-age children. Her findings were the basis for a speech Mrs. Heilig gave at the annual convention of the Florida Speech and Hearing Association last month and this study resulted in the invitation to speak at the special study institute in Gainesville, where Mrs. Heilig was the only speaker from any Public School System. The rest were experts that teach at the University level.

Mrs. Heilig came to Highlands County as a speech clinician in 1960 from the Child Guidance Clinic in Jacksonville. She has worked in most of the county's schools and developed the speech and hearing correctional program in Highlands County. She also has been a teacher in the first Headstart program in Avon Park. Her participation in these recent professional meetings is a direct study of the policy of the Highlands County Public Schools and their Exceptional Child Program, who allow the teachers to broaden their scope by participating in seminars and workshops and to do research in their field.

Two Men Shot In Separate Incidents

Two Negro men, shot in unrelated instances over the weekend, were reported in satisfactory condition today at Highlands General Hospital.

Willie Smith, shot in the chest Saturday night by Betty Fulmore of Lake Placid with a 22-calibre pistol, was reported improving. The Fulmore woman was held in Highlands County jail on $1,000 bond, after arrest by Deputy Sheriff Charles Rucker. The shooting occurred at the McGahee apartments.

Donald Cherry, of Lacey Hill, Avon Park, was arrested Sunday by Deputy Charles Snelgrove at Avon Park accused of possession of a weapon by a convicted felon. He is held on $1,000 bail.

Nellie Moore of Verona Ave., Avon Park, is held on $1,000 bond charged with shooting Gilbert Moore Saturday night with a 22-calibre pistol. She was arrested by Avon Park policemen L. C. Conner and R. Britt. Moore was treated at Walker Memorial Hospital and released.

Woodrow and Mattie Mae Butler of Alpine were arrested Saturday on a warrant charging them with grand larceny of an automobile from Willie Cook. Bonds of $1,000 were set on both the Butlers

County School Board Approves Higher Salary Schedule For Non-Instructional Personnel

Highlands County school board has approved a new and slightly higher salary schedule for non-instructional personnel. The new schedule will be for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

The schedule for most positions includes annual pay raises for up to 15 years of experience. South Florida Junior College's non-instructional salary schedule includes pay raises for up to five years.

Highest paid of the non-instructional staff is the county school finance officer which ranges from a low of $8000 for a beginner to $10,550 for 15 years experience.

The purchasing agent, who is also transportation officer, has a starting salary of $6500 and a high of $8000. The assistant transportation supervisor has a range from $5000 to $6500. The building maintenance supervisor starts at $5000 and may work up to $6500 the assistant begins at $3900 and runs up to $4950.

An electrician - refrigeration specialist begins at $5320 and earns up to $6200, a level attainable in nine years.

The only other jobs with a ceiling reaching $6000 are assistant in finance which begins at $4700 and peaks at $6050, and chief bus mechanic with a range from $5200 to $600 after eight years.

In the $5000 and over bracket are bookkeeper-clerk which starts at $4200 and runs to $5550; secretary to the superintendent, $4200 to $5350.

A machine operator beginning at $3700 may earn up to $4900. An assistant chief bus mechanic has a scale from $3900 to $4850. Mechanic helper ranges from $3000 to $4050.

Maintenance, in class I, has a range from $3800 to $4890, and class II, range is from $3000 to $4050.

Payroll clerk salary begins at $3500 and ranges up to $4550, and a secretary-clerk scale is the same. The secretary range is $3400 to 4450. Property clerk range is $3000 to 4050.

Individual Schools

The schedules are for the county office personnel. in the individual schools secretaries may work 10½, 11 or 12 months. The range for the 10½ months employees is $2400 to $3150, for 11 months $2800 to $3700, and for the full 12 months, $3400 to $4550.

The janitor salary schedule ranges from $3300 to $4350. Bus drivers have a base pay of $1550 and may earn up to $2150.

Hourly pay rates are for carpenters, $2.50 to $3.05 (after 10 years); for laborers, $1.30 to $1.60 (after five years); for janitors, $1.40 to $1.80 (after 11 years).

The school board has set a special rate of $1.15 per hour for students who are hired for Summer work.

The scale for South Florida Junior College, covering a five-year span, is $5300 to $4020 for general clerical and library assistants; $3800 to $4350 for general maintenance; $3600 to $4320 for machine operator.

The stenographer salary schedule is from $3600 to $4000 with stipulation that a stenographer must be able to type 60 words per minute and take dictation at the rate of 80 words per minute.

MONEY FOR SFJC

Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., today announced the release of $3,313,295 to Florida's 28 counties with junior college programs for use during June. South Florida Junior College received $1,894.

County Commissioners Oppose Change in Automobile Inspections

Highlands County commissioners, already more than $80,000 in debt for motor vehicle inspection stations, are "opposed to any change in the number of inspections per year."

Telegrams were sent to Representatives James Tillman, Kent McKinley, Granville Crabtree, Senator Wilbur Boyd, and late last week Vehicle Inspection Director John Gerchen and Commission Chairman Ben McGee went to Tallahassee to work against proposed limitations in the inspection program.

Several changes have been placed before the Legislature. The one which has Highlands County commissioners most worried is the proposal to reduce inspections from two to one per year.

McGee said the county owes $81,767 on buildings and equipment and had obligated the county to pay this debt over the next four years. The county had budgeted $60,000 to pay the inspection staff in 1968-69.

To meet the equipment and staff expenses the commissioners had to borrow $20,000.

Even with two inspections, at $1.75 per vehicle, the county will have to use money from the general fund (largely ad valorem taxes) to make up the difference for the next few years.

And that isn't the end of the commission's troubles. The Legislature limits the county commission to a 10 per cent increase in ad valorem taxes in a single year — or in this county .65 mill next year. With a public hearing the commission could go up to a maximum of .67 mill increase.

To date the Legislature has not indicated whether the state might provide some financial relief of the counties in debt for inspection equipment.

Auto Insurance

Automobile insurance, which hits many of us, is up for scrutiny on several fronts.

On the bad news side: State Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams says that continued increases in traffic accidents, coupled with rising costs of medical care and automobile repair, will force automobile insurance rates upward about 10 per cent this year.

On the good side: President Johnson signed the bill setting up $2 million for study of insurance to find why: premiums have climbed 44 per cent in 10 years; thousands of policyholders have been left unprotected as 80 firms failed in seven years; some citizens cannot get insurance.

Florida has a very enlightened approach to insurance firms—we make it attractive for them to locate here. But we wish that Florida would take a good look at another law which permits a driver one accident before he has to purchase insurance.

We think every vehicle in Florida and every driver should have complete insurance coverage. That when he goes down to buy his driver's license and his automobile license, that should be presented before he can obtain either one.

Only last week, a driver caused an accident in which four people were injured on Route 98. The driver causing the wreck had no insurance.

There are so many things wrong with the insurance setup it is hard to know where to start to repair things. It's nice to have the companies make a profit, but when they add $19 a year to the cost of your policy for a moving violation which happened three years ago—and which didn't cost them a thing (we cite this as an actual experience) there is something wrong somewhere.

There is something wrong with the Florida setup when the people injured in the accident on 98 can not seek recourse from the negligent driver, an uninsured laborer. True, he is supposed to buy insurance now before he drives any car he owns again. But who is to police this?

Auto insurance is such a vital and necessary thing these days and for some the price is made so prohibitive, yet they have to have it. Like the younger driver, the older driver. If everybody in Florida were forced to have it maybe things could be regulated much more closely and to the benefit of everybody.

CONGRESSMAN PAUL ROGERS

FLORIDA

U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Congressman Paul G. Rogers said today he intends to start this nation's re-evaluation of its foreign policy by massing support to eliminate for one year the proposed foreign aid appropriations.

"The turn of events over the past few years has proven that we need to completely re-evaluate our position abroad," Rogers said. I think the best time to start is right now and the best place to start is with the foreign aid bill.

"During the coming fiscal year, money that has been stashed away in the so-called 'pipeline' can be used. The State Department has managed to pile up $4.5 billion in the pipeline and asked for an additional $82.9 billion for this fiscal year.

"I have voted for a $6 billion cut in the budget and eliminating the requests for the foreign aid would go a long way in helping us to make this cut in federal spending," Rogers said.

"I was pleased to see the committee cut $600 million from the $2.9 billion request," Rogers said of action taken earlier this month. "But we can do more.

"We pride ourselves on our business sense," Rogers said. "And we would not thing of spending millions and not gaining anything from this investment," Rogers said. "But we hae been doing that with our foreign aid money.

"We have spent nearly $115 billion in foreign aid over the past 20 years. The cost of the interest on what we have borrowed to give away between 1946 and 1967 is $37.8 billion," Rogers said. "And the total cost of foreign assistance exclusive of the Defense Department, is $152.5 billion.

"We have many good examples of how this money has gained us nothing but contempt," Rogers said. "We gave aid to countries who deal with the communists and indeed embrace the communist philosophy.

"It is time to stand back for a year at least, and check what our foreign aid is doing and what we are getting in return," Rogers said. "Then, after evaluating our position among the nations of the world, if it appears it would be wise to again extend aid, we can do so on a sound, rational basis. I know that there are many nations in South America where our foreign aid might help underdeveloped nations and in turn help strengthen the Western Hemisphere against communism.

"But right now I plan to try and gain support among my colleagues to halt for one year the proposed foreign aid appropriations," Rogers said. "We are the wealthiest nation in the world. But we did not get there by throwing money away. You cannot buy friends or respect. And at this point in time, I think a one-year halt in foreign aid spending would go a long way in helping the budgetary problems which we now face," Rogers said.

Garbage Men Ask For Rate Increase

Highlands County Commissioners were up to their necks in garbage Tuesday — problems, that is.

Customers from the Lake Placid area came to complain about service, and residents of Sebring area protested loudly a bid for increased rates in the Avon Park area.

The rate battle raged for more than an hour with Wendell Roberts, who operates Ridge Disposal Service in the northern part of the county, maintaining he must have a general 25 per cent increase to meet rising costs.

No one from Avon Park appeared to protest the rate change but headed by Col. W. J. Atkinson and Robert Fisk of Sebring Hills, the opposition centered on fears that an increase in one area would lead to a county-wide rate hike.

The rates are not uniform now, but Col. Atkinson argued that they should be. Through a spokesman Jess Robbins, who operates Reliable Sanitation serving Sebring area, sent the commission a promise that he will not ask for a rate increase.

The commissioners finally compromised with Roberts and granted him increases which averaged about half of his original request. The new price range is from $2.25 per month for weekly pick-up at the curb to a high of $4.50 for twice a week pick-up behind the customer's house.

Leonard Burke complained that Bair's Den (South of Lake Placid) has not had garbage collections for the past four months. He said Melvin Nicholas, who has the garbage franchise for the southern part of the county, had argued with him about rates.

Nicholas was notified to appear at the July 16 commission meeting to answer complaints about the garbage service his company offers.

Other Business

Other business to come before the county commission in a long session Tuesday included receiving a written report on work needed on canals in the Istokpoga and Upper Josephine-Jackson watershed.

Approved a plat for a section of Sebring Country Estates located West of Sebring Hills. Caribbean Land Sales Board of Puerto Rico owns the sub-division.

Received a copy of a petition Lake Francis residents sent to the US Army Corps of Engineers about the water controversy between Lake Francis and Lake property owners.

Received a copy of a letter sent to the county coroner that in the future autopsies requested by the coroner will be performed only on written order of the state attorney's office. Florida coroners do not have power to order an autopsy.

Received a complaint from the city of Lake Placid about county use of the city dump. Commissioner Jean Whitaker said old cars moved from Highway Park to the dump are being removed by a Tampa junk dealer and should be gone soon.

Conferred with Lake County Engineer Gordon Hayes, Jr., about job description for a county engineer. Hayes, who is past president of the state's engineer organization suggested that a salary of $10,000 to $12,000 be offered and the commissioners endeavor to find an engineer with at least 10 years experience. He also recommended investigation of the possibility of using jail inmates for road labor.

Bad Checks and Traffic Cases In County Court

Willie Jenkins of Sebring, facing a worthless check charge in county court, estreated a $50 cash bond last Tuesday.

Mary Agnes Kelley of Lake Placid was given a suspended $25 fine by County Judge Mervin Rehrer for allowing an unauthorized minor to drive a car on her promise she will not let the child drive again.

Mary Carter Page of Avon Park was fined $20 for unlawful speed.

Is Sex Education Desirable?

Sex education is being widely hailed as an answer to the alarming increase in sex-related problems among our young people.

The problems are real and so well known that it is not necessary to detail them here.

It is a sad fact that hardly anybody was shocked when one county in a southern state reported recently that 20 per cent of the births there during the past year were illegitimate.

But is sex education the way to solve the problem?

Will the morals of young people improve because they understand more about the physical aspects of human reproduction?

Morals Left Out

One of the principles of sex education programs is, as stated by those who conduct them, "We don't try to impose moral standards."

But the question it — aren't moral standards what we really need?

Is it enough to discuss the anatomical and physiological, and leave out the moral?

In one highly regarded program, in California, a motion picture is shown to ninth grade students — boys and girls separately — telling in graphic detail how a senior boy seduces a girl classmate who was a virgin before the incident occurred.

Giving all involved in the educational program credit for the highest motives, one may ask, "Do available facts indicate that high school boys need to be shown how to seduce their girl classmates?"

"A Long Way"

In an editorial on the subject recently, the Saturday Evening Post stated, "We have all come a long way since those quaint days when legs were called limbs. We have come a long way even from those quaint days when an obscene book or movie was banned as obscene.

Yes, we have come a long way — and some of us are wondering how much farther we must go along this road.

We don't want to return to prudery, but must we continue to travel the downward way which leads to ruin?

There was a Teacher, some years ago, who declared, "Wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat. Narrow is the way which leadeth unto life and few there be that find it."

Is This Best?

All of us, of course, want the best for our children.

But is it best to give them information about human reproduction and withhold from them the moral aspects of this subject?

Sex education may be needed. But sexual conduct cannot be separated from moral standards.

Haven't we gone far enough down the road to Sodom? Why hasten our pace in this direction?

Sex education programs which fail to emphasize morality should be summarily rejected.

The Library Corner

Those who experienced The Shoes of the Fisherman and The Ambassador will eagerly read Morris West's latest work, The Tower of Babel. The dramatic setting for this brilliant novel is the Middle East, the time, the brink of the Six-Day War. There are five principal characters—Adom Ronen, an Israeli spy in Damascus; Saffeddin, the Director of Security for Syria; Jarrah, a terrorist of the Palestine Liberation Organization; Chakry, an international banker in Beirut; and Barzly, the Director of Military Intelligence for Israel.

Although the characters are purely fictional, they are the kind that might really exist in the Middle East today. Their very lives, their women, and colleges interweave so that you think you are reading modern events. They shed a brilliant illumination on the human situations that have made a modern Babel of t Holy Land and the Fert Crescent. This is a psaudly moving drama.

DABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Brilliant Future For Mobile Homes

Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 4— Mobile homes have reached an impressive position in the nation's economy during recent years. And there is every reason to expect great new gains ahead. Almost every possible combination of factors will serve to make mobile homes, of all types, more popular than ever in the immediate as well as the longer-term future.

Low-Income Housing The Key

Housing costs all up and down the scale have been skyrocketing, so that renting, building, or buying a home is more expensive than ever. Mortgage rates—while they have had their transitional ups and downs—have long been on the rise, and no early reversal of this tendency is in sight. Prices of materials and labor have leveled construction outlays to all-time heights. So, many families—especially the young just starting out—are reluctant to strap themselves with a long-term mortgage at these greatly inflated levels.

In short, there are growing (and rapidly) numbers of people who are loath to pour their money down the drain by either renting an adequate apartment at an exaggerated cost or tying themselves down with a mortgage for 20, 25, or even 30 years. It is this set of circumstances that has helped to boom the market for mobile homes, as well as for parks where such residences may be hitched up for whatever length of time business change or personal whim may dictate.

Mobile-Unit Output Capping Predictions

In recent months, production of mobile homes has been surpassing earlier predictions made by insiders in the field—and by rather surprising margin. In fact, for the first four 1968 months 90,940 mobile homes were shipped out by manufacturers, compared with only 64,420 for the same span in 1967. This was an advance of 41%, whereas the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association had been expecting what they considered an optimistic increase of 20% for the year.

The fact that some half of the mobile home sales go to the younger generation is a reflection of the flexibility and general mobility of today's youth. Great numbers of young couples are inclined to attach themselves socially and culturally to one home spot, as did so many of their parents. Now is a time of industrial expansion into outlying areas, into new parts of the country, and the young workers —and even many of those within the middle-age brackets—are often willing and eager to let their ambitions lead them into fresh localities. Then, too, the immense upswing in totals of retirees means still another addition to those interested in the freedom of motion so prevalent today.

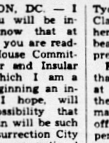

Mobile-Home Parks Spreading Fast

Recent surveys show that the number of parks for mobile homes is rising rapidly. It is interesting to note, too, that in general they are becoming steadily larger and more luxurious. Even so, a house on wheels still offers one of the most dependable forms of low-cost living now available, and more and more people are becoming aware of this. At present, the median cost of rental for a mobile home-site appears to range between $30 and $40 monthly. In many instances this includes electricity, water, and other essential sanitary facilities.

There are steadily more sites ranging above the $60-a-month mark, and a number (mostly in California) are charging upwards of $100. Park owners setting up new locations are averaging 77 sites, indicating a continuing growth in the size of such establishments. Many of the prime locations again mostly in California, but with quickening expansion in Florida too) are meeting the competition in the upper-brackets field by providing more sumptuous facilities such as swimming pools, club houses, restaurants, sports areas, and health spas. Vacancies are, on the whole, relatively sparse, and the following states, in the order named, are the most rapid current builders of new mobile home areas to meet rising demand: California, Florida, Texas, Michigan, Arizona, Indiana, New York, Ohio and Oregon.

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

There Will Never Be Another Resurrection City – Amen!

WASHINGTON, DC. — I think that you will be interested to know that at about the time you are reading this, the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, of which I am a member, is beginning an inquiry which, I hope, will avert the possibility that there ever again will be such a thing as Resurrection City established in our national capital.

Resurrection City should never have been allowed to come into being on public parkland and the Administration, having made the original mistake of permitting it to be established, should have had the decency and the courage and the awareness of its nature to refuse the permit extension granted for it.

I cannot describe for you adequately the loathsome conditions which existed in this so-called "symbol" of the "dream" of the late Martin Luther King. But I believe in sincerity that Dr. King himself would have been repelled at what the symbol became, no matter what may have been its original motivation. The manner in which the "city" of plywood and plastic shanties was operated was, in my mind, an insult to the memory of the man.

This is borne out, I think, by the fact that even the Liberal Washington Post, which never before has seen fit to criticize leaders of the Negro rights movement for any of their action, was demanding that Resurrection City be folded up and put away—and so did such liberal senators as Maryland's Tydings and Pennsylvania's Clark, who earlier had heralded it as a great and beautiful device for expression of public opinion.

For myself, I will say only that conditions were so bad at the site that even after the "city" had been dismantled by law enforcement officials when its extended permit finally expired, the nauseous stence of it still hung in the air.

The purpose of the inquiry that will be conducted by the Interior Committee, which has jurisdiction over national parklands, will be to determine (1) who was responsible in the first place for the decision, (2) who was responsible for extending it after the mistake had become obvious to almost everyone, (3) why the required rehabilitation bond was set at a ridiculously low figure, and (4) to determine, if possible, what can be done to prevent issuance of such permits in the future by another arbitrary and high-handed public official.

We do not know yet who was actually responsible for the issuance of the permit and the setting of the $5,000 bond to cover what may be a quarter-million-dollar rehabilitation job—the action was taken in the name of Interior Secretary Udall, but the buck is being passed on the matter so rapidly that at this point no member of our committee could say with certainty who made the controlling decisions.

But even without knowing who was the responsible official, I think I am being accurate in labelling him "arbitrary and high-handed." for he could not have failed to know that the action was taken in the face of the known fact that the Interior Committee, which has jurisdiction over the parklands used, was strongly opposed to it—that the House Public Works Committee, which has jurisdiction over the public lands, actually had approved a bill to bar issuance of a permit, and that sentiment in The Congress as a whole was strongly against use of public facilities for the establishment of the "tent city" in Washington.

As I have pointed out before, I agree that every citizen has the right—both constitutional and moral—to petition his Congress and his government for redress of grievances. I agree that the poor have grievances. But the establishment of Resurrection City made a mockery of the right to petition—and nothing like it should ever be allowed to happen again.

FEWER POOR

The number of families living in poverty in the United States dropped from 8.3 million to 6.1 million for a 26.5 per cent decrease between 1959 and 1966 according to a report issued today by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce. In 1959 over 18 per cent of all the Nation's families were poor as compared with slightly over 12 per cent of the families in 1966.

Your home air conditioner takes a beating even when it's not cooling.

If it's not being frozen, it's being drenched. Or blasted by sand. Or scorched by the sun.

That's why we developed Weather Armor to protect the entire casing and critical parts of our air conditioners.

This all-weather metal even fights scratches and dents without breaking out in rust spots.

And we pay attention to little things. Such as using stainless steel screws and nylon nuts to make our new round condensing unit that much better. To make it last that much longer.

These are specific examples of Carrier value. The reason more people put their confidence in Carrier than in any other make.

Vacation Bible School Adventists

Graduation exercises for the more than 50 children attending the Vacation Bible School at Walker Memorial Seventh-day Adventist Church was held Friday evening, June 28, at 7:30 P.M. Mrs. A. H. Foster presided over the program as parents, children, and friends gathered to witness the culmination of the two-week classes. The theme of the school, "Heroes of the Bible," was presented in Bible stories told by Scott Miller, Alice Jackson, and Barbara Miller.

Chaplain C. J. Danforth illustrated the importance of obedience to parents and to God with an exciting personal experience which he had while serving in the U. S. Army in New Guinea.

All who attended the program had opportunity to see the crafts which had been arranged in an attractive display. These classes were taught by Mrs. Irva Baessler and Mrs. Lois Hesterman.

Mrs. Daniel Ledbetter, formerly of Burma, was director of the Bible School. She was assisted by Mrs. C. J. Larsen in the kindergarten division, Mrs. J. W. Osborne, Mrs. D. C. Hartwell, and Mrs. Robert H. Kerr in the primary divisions.

Brown - Metcalfe Married In Double-Ring Ceremony June 29

Miss Margaret Evelyn Brown, daughter of Mrs. Cecil Kenneth Brown of Davidson, N. C. and Charles Grover Metcalfe, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grover Metcalfe, Avon Park were united in holy wedlock Saturday, June 29, in the Davidson College Presbyterian Church in Davidson, N. C. The double ring service was performed by Will Terry and William R. Smith III. Stephen Schaeffer served as organist.

White tapers and two white floral arrangements were used for altar placements for the ceremony. The bride given in marriage by her brother, Henry Hill Brown, chose a gown of white organza over taffeta with appliqued lace with matching organza and appliqued train for her wedding. She wore a Mantilla veil of Brussels Rosepoint lace and carried a mother-of-pearl testament, which came from the Holy Land, decorated with gardenias.

Miss Ann Grovenstein, a teacher from the Highlands School for Girls, where the bride was a teacher of music, served as maid of honor. Her gown was of pale yellow organza trimmed with embroidered daisies and yellow satin.

Charles Grover Metcalfe, Sr., served his son as best man. Ushers were, Cecil Kenneth, Jr., and David Shelton Brown, both brothers of the bride. Charles Alexander Brown III, Mooresville, N. C., cousin of the bride, Carson Douglas Culbreth, Fayetteville, N. C. and Paul C. Gentry, Maxton, N. C., both co-teachers at the Highlands School and Gary Sullivan, Cherryville, N. C.

The bride's mother wore an aqua silk street length dress, and orchid corsage for the wedding. The bridegroom's mother, chose pale yellow silk organza and Peau de soie accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

For traveling the bride wore a white linen knit dress with navy and white striped linen knit jacket and navy accessories. Upon their return from their wedding trip, they will be home at 200 Charles St., Avon Park.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride, 783 Concord Rd., Davidson, N. C.

The bride's table was covered with white organdy over pale yellow. An arrangement of mixed white flowers with touches of yellow centered the table with silver candelabra holding tapers on either side.

Mrs. A. V. Goldiere and Miss Carrie Brittain presided at the bride's book.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Lore and Mr. and Mrs. A. Heath Whittle presented the guests to the receiving line.

Mrs. Tom Logan, Mrs. James Purcell, Mrs. Lawrence Kimbrough and Mrs. C. E. Ratliff assisted in serving.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Shull, Jr. Fort Lauderdale; Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Wilson, Ocala, (aunt and uncle of the bride); Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. Davis, Knoxville, Tenn., (aunt and uncle of the bride); Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hill and family, Tallahassee, (aunt and uncle of the bride); and Mrs. H. Louis Hill, Tallahassee, (aunt and uncle of the bride).

Yesteryear Couple Feted On 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glaser, S. Highlands Ave., was honored by the members of Resurrection Lutheran Church with a reception Sunday, June 30, in the Narthex of the church following the morning service, in honor of their 60th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Glaser was presenteed with a corsage. Punch, cookies, nuts and mints were served.

The couple was married in the bride's home June 30, 1908 at 7 P.M. by the Rev. Phillip Martin. They were attended by Mrs. Glaser's brother, Werner Loerke and Mr. Glaser's sister, Miss Martha Glaser, in Stanton, Neb. They were the parents of one son, who passed away during his 17th year. They lived a number of years in Stanton, where Mr. Glaser was the towns only plumber. They have resided in Avon Park for a number of years.

Officials Seek Way County Can Benefit

Highlands County Commissioners and Youth Care, Inc., officials have tossed to County Attorney Hue E. Nunnallee the tricky problem of finding a way the county can benefit from Youth Care Home now under construction.

The non-profit Youth Care organization has obtained land from the City of Sebring and begun building a home for the care of children who are wards of Highlands County Juvenile Court. The hitch is, Florida law may prevent the county's assuming any financial responsibility for operation of such a home.

County Attorney Nunnallee read to the county commissioners, at their Tuesday meeting, a letter from Attorney General Earl Faircloth stating that "governmental powers cannot be delegated." Faircloth interpreted the proposed contract between the commissioners and Youth Care as a delegation of the commissioners' legal responsibility to provide facilities for the care of the Juvenile Court's wards.

State law gives the commissioners a choice in the care of delinquents: a completely separate juvenile section may be set aside in the county jail, or a juvenile home may be provided.

For the past six years the county commissioners have operated a juvenile home located on property leased from Mrs. Michael Kahn. The Juvenile Judge is given great leeway in placement of children, but the commissioners are restricted in how they pay for care.

Mrs. Virginia Rehman, a member of the Youth Care board, appeared at Tuesday's meeting and told the commissioners that Youth Care has raised $30,000 for construction of Youth Care Home and has a mortgage for $30,000. Target date for turning the building over to the county is Thanksgiving, Mrs. Rehman said.

Nunnallee had suggested that legal difficulties could be cleared away if the county owned the building—but the mortgage presents some special problems in that area.

Mrs. Rehman refused to be concerned, she told the commissioners, "because I know Mr. Nunnallee will get this all worked out, he can figure something out."

The commissioners are not so light hearted, but they too turned to the attorney, asking him to "continue to search for some way we can work with Youth Care."

SFJC Gets Final Green Light Toward Building

It appeared likely today that South Florida Junior College will be able to advertise for bids next week on its proposed construction of nine buildings for the campus eight miles North of Sebring.

The project is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $1,500,000 and is located on Lake Glenada.

Dr. William Stallard, president of the college, said a telegram Tuesday from Cong. Paul Rogers had notified him that the office of Health, Education and Welfare had released the funds with permission to advertise for bids.

That looks like the final green light," a happy Dr. Stallard declared. "We hope to advertise for bids by the 9th or 10th of July."

Congressman Rogers has worked diligently on the bill, Stallard said, and Senator Spessard Holland's office also "has been instrumental in bringing about release of these funds and obtaining permission to advertise for bids."

Regional AAU Junior Trackmen Compete July 6

William T. O'Brien, Jr. Region III Junior Olympic Track and Field Chairman, has announced that the Region III Meet will be held at the Manatee Junior College Track in Bradenton on Saturday beginning at 9 A.M. The first four in each event will qualify for the District Meet in Clearwater on July 13th.

Region III consists of Highlands, Citrus, Sumter, Hernando, Pasco, Pinellas, Hillsborough, Polk, Manatee, Hardee, Okeechobee, St. Lucie, Sarasota, DeSoto, Charlotte, Glades, Martin, Lee, Hendry, and Collier counties.

Mr. and Mrs. James Elder and family from Orlando, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Gladys Young.

Now Is The Time To Paint Your House

Houses are like most ladies—they look better with a beauty treatment.

If you can't afford to paint the house as often as females paint their lips, do the next best thing—wash the house to make the old paint look brighter.

A sparkling white house makes the lawn and the shrubbery look greener.

Some folks may have deliberately allowed their homes to take on a run-down look in hopes of duping the tax assessor into a low 100 per cent valuation.

On North Florida owner admits that he speckled his house with lampblack and added two rotting eave-boards to give his mortgage an older look. He wasted his time because the appraiser knew about the saying: Beauty is only skin (paint) deep.

Regardless of your excuse for dingy paint, now is the time to spruce up the house since you, too, have probably lost your battle with the tax appraiser.

Even without help, the best of the house paints tend to accumulate smutty fungus and grime of the neighborhood.

Washing is not a substitute for paint, but if the paint is still in good condition, it is cheaper and easier to wash than to paint.

If you have no imagination on a cleaning compound, call a commercial firm.

Anna Dee Church Joe Catanzaro Married June 24

Mrs. Anna Dee Church and Joseph Catanzaro were united in marriage June 24 in Bradenton with Judge Rob C. Rickey, officiating. The couple went on a wedding trip to Atlanta, Ga., where they were guests of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peteet.

Upon their return to Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. Catanzaro are making their home at 169 South Lakeview Drive.

Mrs. Catanzaro is Highlands County welfare director, and Mr. Catanzaro has the Florida franchise for Jyromatic Safety Control Co.

Patty Locke Top Scholar Homestead JHS

Ninth grader Patty Locke, daughter of a former resident, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Locke and granddaughter of Mrs. Zelma Wells was the recipient of the highest award in the Homestead Junior High School. She won the first Principals Award for Scholarship and her name will be the first name listed on a large plaque to be displayed prominently in the new school auditorium. The award, established this year will be awarded annually to the student who has held the highest scholastic average for the three-year junior high period.

Patty was born in Avon Park when her parents were residents here.

FORECLOSURE

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of St. Petersburg has filed foreclosure suit in Circuit Court against Highlands Development Corp., L. N. Weisner, president. The association placed a mortgage on a home on Golf View Road November 22, 1963, in the amount of $16,000. A total of $13,452.26 remains unpaid, it is claimed, and no payment has been made since March 1.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Reynolds Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Reynolds hosted their parents with a reception, Sunday, June 30, 2 till 5 P.M. at the Florida Power Lounge, in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The couple were married in Noma, Fla., June 30, 1918 and resided in Umitella until they moved to Avon Park 47 years ago. He worked for Minute Maid until his retirement. Mrs. Reynolds was presented an orchid corsage.

The guest book was attended by Miss Charlene Ladwig. The couple received many beautiful and useful gifts.

The refreshments tables were covered with yellow net over yellow spreads, edges festooned with permanent yellow roses. Crystal candelabra and tapers decorated the table ends, which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with 50 candles and decorated in yellow roses. Punch, nuts and mints were served with the cake. The grandchildren of the couple served the refreshments.

They are the parents of five children, Mrs. Lucile Bates, Mrs. Ann Clark and Tom Reynolds of Avon Park; Mrs. Irene Parker, Fort Myers, and Richard "Alley" Reynolds of Lincoln, Neb. Twenty-three grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Law Can Make You Take Test

TALLAHASSEE — Florida law enforcement officials had a new and powerful weapon designed to keep drunken drivers off Florida's streets and highways when the Implied Consent Law went into effect July 1.

The Implied Consent Law states that by accepting the privilege of driving in Florida, every driver, resident and tourist, has given his implied consent to submit to a chemical test for intoxication.

The chemical test is required when a law enforcement officer has reasonable cause to believe the driver was under the influence of alcohol and places him under lawful arrest.

The test may be made of the driver's breath, urine or saliva. Results indicating more than 0.10 per cent by weight of alcohol in the blood will be considered proof that the person's normal faculities were impaired by alcohol.

Science Church Sunday Service

"For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

This verse from Habakkuk is part of the lesson-sermon entitled "God" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. Everyone is welcome.

The reading will include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done."

Spiders vary in length from 1/25 of an inch, to over three inches.

Communion At Congregational

Mid-year Holy Communion service will be held in the Union Congregational Church on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Followers of the Lord Jesus Christ are invited to attend and participate.

State Parks Popular During Holidays

Everybody in Florida will be close to one of the state's 10 most popular state parks during the Fourth of July weekend.

Figures released by the American Automobile Association's Holiday News Service show that four of the 10 most popular parks are in South Florida, three in Northeast Florida, two in Northwest Florida and one in Central Florida.

These parks attracted almost 675,000 visitors last July, with a large percentage of the visits occurring on the holiday weekend.

For Floridians who want to avoid crowds, the State Board of Parks recommends five lightly traveled parks that offer many of the same attractions as the top 10.

Highlands Hammock State Park near Sebring is considered one of the most beautiful state parks in America, and at 3,900 acres, it is one of the largest in Florida.

A cypress swamp constitutes part of the park and visitors can walk over the swamp on catwalks and camp in beautiful campsites. Many deer and other animals inhabit the park and they can be easily observed by visitors.

Other parks that are likely to be less crowded on the holiday weekend are Collier-Seminole near Naples, Pahokee on Lake Okeechobee, Torreya near Bristol in the Panhandle and Falling Waters near Chapley in the Panhandle.

Lions Team Honors Coaches

The Lions Little League team honored its coaches, J. T. and Merle Landress at the Lions Den on West Bell St., Wednesday.

A gift of appreciation was given to each coach. Hamburgers with all the trimmings were served to the coaches, team members and their families.

The Lions team ended a successful season finishing third in the league. Gene Albritton, pitcher, was selected for the All-Star team.

Rotary Report

Bill Stallard discussed the importance of South Florida Junior College to the community and the steady increase in both student body and faculty expected over the next several years. He pointed out that in a span of less than three years the junior college payroll had grown from practically nothing to over $300,000 and was expected to reach the million dollar mark by 1972. The vocational-technical facility will begin operation in temporary buildings in August with programs in electronics and air conditioning. Renovation of the existing building on the college site is in full swing, and facilities are expected to be completed in time for fall classes.

Bill also mentioned some of the considerations which the community should be aware of as a part of the environment in which these young people are trained. He mentioned the change in attitude which has occurred in all communities in the past several years, and particularly the change which has occurred since Victorian morals held sway over most of the English-speaking world. It is the responsibility of each individual to help in maintaining this proper environment for all of our youth, since the attitude of the community is nothing more than the sum of the attitudes of the individuals of which it is composed. He closed with a quotation from Kipling's immortal "Recessional".

"God of our fathers, known of old,
Lord of our far-flung battle-line,
Beneath whose awful Hand we hold
Dominion over palm and pine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!"

KT Meets in Avon Park

Hollyrood Commandery 27 Knights Templar held their June meeting on Monday 24 at the Masonic Temple in Avon Park.

The Order of the Temple was conferred on one candidate. Ten Sir Knight's from Winter Haven and the "Em. Grand Captain K.T. General" of Florida attended the meeting.

Next meeting will be held on Monday, Sept. 23. All sojourning Knights Templar are welcome to attend.

Avon Park Lakes News

Cynthia T. Calvert — GL 34888

William Neffgen and daughter, Lynn from Newton, N. J. arrived by plane in Orlando last Friday to spend a week at the Lakes as the guests of his mother, Mrs. Edwin Guenzel and Mr. Guenzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer enjoyed sightseeing last Wednesday in Tampa, Clearwater and Tarpon Springs.

Miss Gertrude Denautels returned home last week from her stay in Lakeland General Hospital and is getting along fine.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Runnion from Charleston, W. Va., were the luncheon guests and day visitors last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bush on Lake Adelaide.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Walters and Mr. and Mrs. John Hibbard from Miami were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Lynch last Thursday and Friday. The ladies are the sisters of Mr. Lynch.

Mr. and Mrs. James McFayden from Clearwater were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steinmetz last Wednesday.

Robert Champion is in Walker Memorial Hospital for several days for treatment.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnes spent the past weekend in Bradenton visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Walker.

John Johnson entered Walker Memorial Hospital last Sunday for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stotts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keys and Mrs. Fannie Reinke were visitors in Lakeland last Friday and enjoyed dinner at the Red Lobster Restaurant before returning home.

The special pot luck dinner will be held at the club house on Thursday July 4th at 6 P.M. The regular salad bar luncheon will not be held that day.

Miss Pricilla Bell arrived last Wednesday by plane to be the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bengel, and to join her mother, Mrs. Thomas Bell, who has been their guest. She is attending Boston University for her Masters degree in sociology. Mrs. Bell and Miss Bell will return to Paris, France after their visit here.

Mrs. Michael Callas from St. Petersburg arrived last Thursday to be the guest of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Calvert, for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Ligiero returned home last Friday from a three day visit with Dr. and Mrs. Sam Bostic in Ocala, and to see Don Bostic, who is home on leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer were visitors in Winter Haven last Friday.

Mrs. David Waldron entered Walker Memorial Hospital last Friday for observation and treatment.

Mrs. George Burroughs and Mrs. Jean Bailey attended a workshop given by the David Laird Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers Friday at the Robert Meyer Motel in Orlando. Mrs. John Schoen accompanied the ladies to Orlando.

Mrs. Francis Peffer took a group of her neighbors to the Chalet Suzanne for lunch last week.

Mrs. Jack M. Calvert and children Kevin and Kathy from Oviedo were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Calvert.

Francis Peffer attended the Citrus Agriculture Extension Service meeting at Lake Placid recently. On June 20th he attended the Florida Citrus Mutual annual luncheon meeting at Winter Haven, and this past Wednesday attended the Citrus Production managers meeting at the St. Lucie's Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chaney from Mario Heights, Md., were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peffer at the Red Lobster Restaurant in Lakeland this past week. They are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Peffer on Avon Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bue received word last Friday of the death of Mrs. Clayton Lumberg of Titusville, Pa., they had wintered in West Palm Beach for several years. She was the cousin of Mr. Bue and had visited them at the Lakes several times. Burial was in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Fred F. McCarl left recently for her home in Grove City, Pa., after a two month visit with Mrs. Laura Hanford.

W. R. Reck, Jr. Promoted In Vietnam

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Reck, Route 1, Avon Park, was promoted to Army Specialist Four, June 11 while assigned to the 4th Infantry Division in Vietnam.

Specialist Reck is a courier in the Division's 4th Administration Company. He entered the Army in April 1967, completed basic training at Ft. Benning, Ga., and was last stationed at Ft. Polk, La., before arriving overseas in September 1967.

The 20-year-old soldier graduated in 1965 from Avon Park High School. He also attended South Florida Junior College in Avon Park.

SUIT FILED

The Tampa Tribune Co. has filed suit to collect advertising bill of $2,099.25 from Frank Souder Enterprises, Inc. in Circuit Court.

Hunting Gators Can Cost You

The alligator is fully protected by law in the state of Florida but from Jan. 1, 1962 through Feb. 29, 1968 Wildlife Officers made 597 arrests for violations of laws in regards to alligators according to records of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The 597 arrests resulted in 331 convictions, 91 acquittals and 175 cases still pending at this time. The 331 convictions resulted in a total of $26,125.26 paid to the Fine and Forfeiture Fund of the counties in which the arrests were made. In addition, a total of three years 1 month and 12 days time was served in jail and a total of 27 years probation was imposed by the courts. The highest fine paid by an individual was $750.00 and the longest individual jail sentence was six months.

4-H Horse Club Will Meet July 11

Avon Park 4-H Horse Club will hold its second meeting Thursday, July 11, at the Florida Power Lounge at 7:30 P.M. Since Hurricane Abby hampered the last meeting with her bad weather, anyone else interested in horses is invited to come and join at this meeting.

Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 19 and who is interested in horses is invited to join the horse club.

The meeting will consist of a time for enrolling new members, election of officers, and a short business meeting and a program on safety precautions for horse events.

The club will provide an opportunity for boys and girls to learn to show, ride, and raise horses and participate in horse shows, trail rides, rodeos, etc.

Parents are invited also to attend if they wish to do so.

Shuffling

As usual it rained on Wednesday evening, so the tournament was held on Thursday. Winners in the main event were Blanche Kerr and Ruth Jordan over George Ormiston and Charles Fensterman. Chris Cabezas and Gertrude Fensterman won in consolation with Jennie Baker and Grace Romilly the runners-up. There were just four courts in play, and John Dickson and Art Jordan were the referees.

Now that the Howards have gone north for awhile, John Dickson has taken charge of the tournaments for the summer. On Saturday evening there were five and a half courts. Main event winners were Grace Lawrence and Lawrence Robinson over Kate McAlexander and Charles Romilly. Gertrude Fensterman and George Ormiston in consolation, with Tom Clarke and Art Jordan the runners-up.

Card Games

John Nuber won in pinochle on Monday afternoon with a score of 703. C. A. Lawrence came in second with 691. There were three tables of players.

Dancers

No dance on Monday evening in respect of one of their members, Frank Thierolf. He will be very much missed.

There were several guests and spectators at the dance on Friday evening, with about 35 in attndance. Two guests not quite enough for three. Refreshments were served by Olive Kerwin, which was much appreciated on a hot night.

Women Exchange

Don't forget the pot luck supper on Thursday evening, the Fourth of July at 6 P.M.

Mrs. L. B. McIntyre of Rolling Prairie, Ind., was in a car accident some days ago, in which she suffered a broken leg. The accident was in Joplin, Mo. She is now in the hospital at LaPorte, Ind. John Huber is in Walker Memorial Hospital.

Moody Beck is in the hospital in Hilliard, Ohio for surgery.

It has been reported that Mrs. Martin Lindborg passed away this past Thursday. She had been in the hospital with a heart attack since she left Avon Park this time for her home in Union Mills, Ind. Mr. Lindborg was a one time member of the Club board.

Mr. McAlexanders have returned from a two week stay in Baltimore, Md. Mr. McAlexander went for treatments at the John Hopkins Hospital. He is much improved.

To those of you in the North who have lawns in Avon Park, please don't worry about them drying up this summer. We have had plenty of rain, our figure reads 17¼ inches for the month of June. Cutting grass is the problem.

So many folks in Avon Park knew Jim and Ruby Redmond, they belonged to the Winter Guest Club for several winters. They were in Fort Myers visiting their daughter and we had dinner with them and an evening of visiting, so writes Paul Swearingen. He said they both feel fine and are anxious to return to Avon Park for another winter. They want to be remembered to all their friends in Avon Park.

They left the next day by plane for home and then they would be delighted to hear from any of their friends. Their address is Mr. and Mrs. James E. Redmond, Apt. No. 704 N. 20th St., Omaha, Neb. 68102.

A card received from the Lindts who are in Anchorage, Alaska, states they found the Alaskan Highway much better than they anticipated. This surely is a big, wide, beautiful country. We have just started to see things. They were in Dawson City, Yukon and went to the Grand Palace Theatre and saw the Can-Can Follies, a good show. Fairbanks will be the last place they will visit before returning home.

'3' Disney Attractions At the Southgate Today

A WHEELBARROW RIDE is the payoff in a political bet which Walter Brennan loses to John Davidson. Lesley Ann Warren rides in his lap and (left to right) Heidi Rook, Buddy Ebsen, Debbie Smith and Kurt Russell watch in this scene from Walt Disney's "The One and Only, Genuine, Original Family Band." In color by Technicolor, the musical comedy stars Walter Brennan, Ebsen, Miss Warren, Davidson and Janet Blair with songs by Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman of "Mary Poppins" fame.

"FAMILY BAND" Now showing at Sebring's Rocking Chair Theatre at Southgate, also on the same Walt Disney program will be "Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs" plus "The Three Pigs." All three attraction this week. Wednesday also 4th of July and Friday and Saturday.

Pictorial INTELLIGRAM

How are you on recent events? Complete the following six statements, checking your answers with those below to find out.

1—Sen. (Eugene McCarthy) (Edward Kennedy) has been suggested as a possible running mate if Vice President Humphrey becomes the Democratic presidential nominee.

2—The accused assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy came to this country from (Israel) (Jordan).

3—Sirhan Sirhan has asked the (American Bar Assn.) (American Civil Liberties Union) to find him a lawyer.

5—He is succeeded by (Floyd McKissick) (Sterling Tucker).

Count 10 for each correct choice. A score of 60 is excellent; 50, good; 40, fair; less than 40, poor.

CAPS AND PINS for 100 hours of service was awarded to Jane Barben, Diane Murphy and Bonnie Rowland during the meeting of the Candy Stripers. The Candy Stripers serve as volunteers at Walker Memorial Hospital.

Candy Striper Receive Caps; Elect Officers

The Candy-Stripers held their meeting June 27, at 4 P.M. to elect officers for the new year, which are as follows: Bonnie Rowland, president; Julie Kangater, president elect; Gwen Sharpe, vice president; Jane Barben, secretary; Cheryl Fout, treasurer; Diane Murphy, entertainment chairman; Jeannie Dubose, scrapbook; Becky Tomek, publicity.

The three girls that received their caps and 100 hr pins were, Jane Barben, Diane Murphy, and Bonnie Rowland.

The Candy-Stripers had discussed the idea of receiving pins for 200 hrs. work Mr. Walper decreided that this would be done in the future.

Mrs. Sally Colip is the new chairman and Mrs. McDaniels is the vice chairman for the Candy-Stripers.

School Building Program Calls For Additional Taxes

School officials have unveiled a proposal for a school construction program on a pay-as-you-go plan to be financed by a special 2-mill tax levy.

The levy, if adopted, would be in addition to the 6.5 mills needed to furnish the county's share of $4 million plus current operational budget for the 1968-69 school year.

It would be the first major millage boost Highlands County taxpayers have received since the Highlands General Hospital tax district was set-up almost a decade ago.

Highlands County school board received a tentative annual budget at its meeting on Tuesday night, but delayed any vote until a special meeting at 7:30 P.M., Monday.

Superintendent George F. Douglass presented budget proposals in two parts. The current operations budget—including pay raises for teachers, non-instructional personnel and the Superintendent—will be 25 percent higher than the 1967-68 budget but can be balanced within the 6.5 mill levy used for the past year.

Fulfilling a promise made to the Highlands County commissioners, the school authorities propose to consolidate the division of the school taxes into a general—3.3 mills—and a district—3.2 mills—levy.

Income from federal sources may decrease slightly in the coming year, but state support will be up sharply. Over $200,000 formerly borne at the county level has been shifted to state support, Douglass said.

Race Track Money

County taxes would pay the current bills which have been met by race track taxes, freeing the county to sell up to $1 million in certificates of indebtedness to be repaid from the race track income.

This $1 million, plus state construction money, and the income from a 2-mill levy could give the county a $1.8 million "kitty" to start a long-range building program which eventually will include two new high schools, two new elementary schools and some additions to existing buildings.

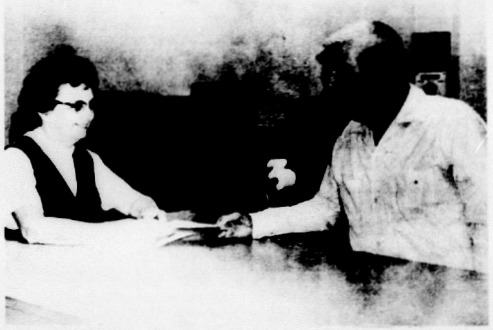

When a $3.25 million bond issue to finance this program was defeated in the Spring of 1967, some taxpayers' groups asked the board to consider a pay-as-you-go program.

Tuesday night School Board Chairman Henry Bailey said, "In the absence of the bond issue we must begin to develop something to meet our building needs."

He did not rule out the possibility the board might seek a bond issue, and board members R. L. Padgett and E. Ray Wells said they would favor the bond approach to construction financing.

Wells pointed out that while a bond issue costs interest the pay-as-you-go takes more time and "building costs are rising so fast I suspect

ERIE LEWIS accepts Durrah Martins qualifications for his third term as City Councilman. Two other council posts expire this year. They are currently held by Wayne Albright and Andrew R. Scott is presently president of the council. Deadline for qualifying is August 9, with the election scheduled for September 10.

New College Board Will Hold Meetings In Avon Park

Control of virtually all phases of South Florida Junior College operations has passed to a district board of trustees, formerly the junior college's advisory committee.

Rex Bond, who had been serving as chairman of the advisory committee, was chosen at the trustees' organizational meeting to serve as the first chairman of the board of trustees. Vaughn Driggers of Wauchula was named vice chairman.

Bond, who is president of First National Bank in Sebring, was named to the advisory committee when the junior college was being founded. He was recently elected by the State Board of Education for a new three-year term.

Bond said the board did not designate a length of term for officers but he "assumes this will be an annual thing." He said the trustees will be operating on a fiscal year, July 1-June 30. The county school boards conduct financial affairs on a fiscal year but choose officers on a calendar year.

Unlike the school board members, trustees are not paid, but they may be reimbursed for travel expense when travelling on junior college business.

Trustees who, along with Bond, are serving new three-year terms are Dr. Stanley N. Reeves of Hardee County and Charles Whitehead of Avon Park. Whitehead replaced G. Franklyn Ward, recently nominated for a four-year term on the county school board.

Other members of the trustees are Norman Heston of Sebring, C. L. Reynolds of Lake Placid, Hue E. Nunnaliee of Avon Park, E. M. Hodges, W. L. Howard of Hardee County.

Bond said the trustees have cosen the second Monday of each month as regular meeting time. The meetings are to begin at 7:30 P.M. and for the time being the board room of Avon Citrus Bank in Avon Park will be the place. Trustee meetings are open to the public.

On Monday, July 15, the trustees are to adopt the South Florida Junior College proposed budget for 1968-69. A budget review board named from the school boards of Highlands and Hardee counties must give its okay to budget proposals, and the completed budget goes to the State Department of Education in Tallahassee by August 1.

Since very little county money goes into SFJC operations, no public hearing on the budget as such is scheduled. The county commission and county school board budgets do contain appropriations to SFJC and are subject to local review at public hearings at the court house.

Lions To Host District Installation

Lions of District 351, will install the newly elected Deputy District Governors and Zone Chairman, Tuesday, July 16. A 7 P.M. dinner at Griffin's Restaurant will precede the installation.

This is something new in Lions Club work for this district, it has never been held before. District Governor Bob Hogan will preside over the installation of the 20 men to be installed. Larry Albritton is president of the local club.

The club feels honored to be the host for this special occasion.

Summer Recreation Students Leave Today For Outing On Beach

Two big special events are scheduled this week ... the county school sponsored summer recreation program here in Avon Park for junior and senior high students and an overnight camping-trail ride for all horseback riders is set up for the following Thursday and Friday, July 18 and 19.

Today (Thursday) the boys and girls will bus to Vero Beach for a day of fun and sun on the beach. The bus will leave the Memorial Field fieldhouse at 8 A.M. and return around 4 P.M. The boys and girls are expected to either take a lunch or money to buy food for the noon meal. This trip is for students in grades 7-12.

Tomorrow (Friday) the first trail ride of the summer is set with all riders to meet at the clay pit on the truck route at 9 A.M. The riders must bring lunch and perhaps a raincoat or poncho in case of rain. This ride will be a short one in the direction of the bombing range and the riders will be back around 4 P.M.

The overnight trail ride set for the following Thursday and Friday will also set out from the clay pit on the truck route on Thursday morning, July 18, and after a campout that night will return Friday afternoon. The riders will need to bring a sleeping bag, horse feed, and other equipment necessary for the camping. Those interested in this camping trip should check with Mr. Franza before planning to go in order to know all the details. An evening of entertainment is planned for the campers.

Other activities continuing in the recreation program are the beginning swimming instruction from 2-4 P.M. each afternoon this week except today (Thursday) due to the Vero Beach excursion. The swimming instruction will continue until 10 days of lessons have been completed. Because of the rain, some postponement has already been necessary and may be in the future but 10 full days of teaching will be completed. The swimming for beginners is taught at Lake Verona under the direction of Mrs. Charles Collins.

The Tuesday night dances for teenagers at the Avon Elementary Cafetorium will continue beginning at 7:30 and closing at 10:30 P.M. Live bands are scheduled for these dances.

On Monday and Wednesday mornings elementary and high school students may go skating in Sebring for the price of 45c from 8:30 until 11:30. Busses leave from the Avon Elementary playground and the football fieldhouse.

Baton twirling instruction for girls has been added to the program at the elementary playground site from 10 until 11 A.M. each week day.

All Avon Park students and visitors in Avon Park are invited to join in the fun and activities at the three sites of the recreation program. High school students may check at the field house at Memorial Field for a schedule of activities and elementary students may attend the activities at Hopewell or Avon Elementary.

SFJC Bids Open

South Florida Junior College finally got the green light to advertise for bids for buildings. At its July meeting Highlands County school board authorized the placement of bid ads beginning July 18.

Bids will be opened in the county superintendent's office at 2 P.M. on August 8. The contract for the junior college's first permanent buildings will be in the neighborhood of $1.5 million.

Cancer Crusade Reaches $1000

With the end of the 1968 Cancer Crusade in sight, A. B. Wilhite, Avon Park Crusade Chairman, reported that the Crusade total to date had reached $1,000. "This is only $300 short of the goal," said Mr. Wilhite.

Mr. Wilhite urged volunteers to redouble their efforts during the final weeks of the Crusade to be sure that every home in Avon Park had a copy of the "Seven Warning Signals of Cancer." This is not the time to relax, coast, and consider the job done," he said, this is the way we can help save lives from cancer now—and save them where people live and work."

"If you have been missed by a Cancer Crusade Volunteer and would like to make a contribution," said the Chairman, "mail your check to the American Cancer Society, Highlands County Unit, P. O. Box 117, Avon Park, Florida, 33825."

Douglass And Sheriff Get Pay Increase

A pay increase for the county school superintendent is good news for the Highlands County sheriff as well.

The 1968-69 budget proposals now before the school board include a $2612 pay boost for Superintendent George F. Douglass—up to $16,362. The raise would be effective July 1, the opening of the schools' fiscal year.

By special legislation the Highlands County's sheriff's salary is to be equal to that of the highest paid elected county official.

Accredition rules specify that the superintendent receive at least 10 per cent more than the highest paid teacher.

In this county a special law requires this.

The more distant future is not so bright for either the Highlands superintendent or sheriff. The 1967 Legislature adopted a law wiping out all special salary legislation and providing that all elected officials within a county are to be paid the same salary—in this county, $10,500.

Douglass, who could make more than that as a teacher, has said he won't "put up with the superintendent's headaches for less money than teachers make."

Coker, who retires in December, will miss the pay cut, July 1, 1969.

Committee Meets To Draw New Lease On Airport Hangar

The Avon Park City Council at its regular meeting Monday night agreed to give Shelley Marrs 30 days cancellation notice on the present airport hangar lease. The action came after Councilman Rodney Lane reported that Critchfield Marines, Inc., a boat building firm from Orlando, which the council agreed to lease the old hangar. Already part of the hangar, said they wanted full use by the first of August.

Lane said the boat company plans to build larger than they first anticipated and would need to have a 50 year lease in order to borrow money from a First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Their plans are to build another large building south of the one that is already in progress which will be 120 feet by 480 feet. The building will be in the glide path of the East-West runway. It will be necessary to abandon part of the runway.

A committee meeting was held Wednesday to draw up another lease on the new hangar now under construction by The Graves Co. of Kissimmee. The Council noted that it was not being constructed according to specifications.

City Clerk, Malcolm Crews said that Ben Hill Griffin, Inc., had contacted him and is interested in operating the airport. Marrs will have the first option to lease the new hangar.

In other action the council agreed to purchase seven acres of land at the airport from Community National Life Insurance Company for $500 an acre.

Hired Willie McRae as temporary mechanic at $70 per week.

Accepted bids from Certain-Teed Products Corp. on 3,500 feet of transite pipe at $1.13 per foot.

Voted to charge garbage and sewer fees on all houses and apartments where water meter is not turned off whether rented or empty, effective date is July 31.

Agreed to have police cars waxed and polished by Harold Wittman at a cost of $4.95 each.

Councilman Albright reported that J. F. Weaver would like to have Central Avenue from West Bell Street to West Pleasant Street zoned as a commercial district. Weaver was referred to the zoning board.

Councilman Howard requested that Kingdom Way be put on the list for surfacing. Street lights were approved for South DeLaney Ave. and East Bell and East Charles and North DeLaney Ave.

The city clerk read a letter from Charles G. Metcalfe, president of Southside Park Co., Inc., stating they would agree to install indoor toilets and water meters on four houses per year.

Mayor Jimmy Doerr said that approximately 130 substandard rental dwellings would have to be condemned when the City Housing developments are completed. Lane stated his concern was with a possible epidemic started by unsanitary toilets and this condition has been uncorrected for many years.

Officers of the Southside Park Co. will be invited to attend the next regular meeting to see if something can be worked out to correct the conditions.

Upon the request of Wilbur Giddens, fire chief, the city will purchase an oxygen inhaler for emergency calls. It was noted that the unit would not be used on private calls but only in emergency situations.

IN SARASOTA

County Judge Mervin Rehrer will fill in Thursday and Friday in Sarasota for County Judge Douglas Whitney.

AVON PARK TOURNAMENT team, "All Stars" Little Leaguers, who will play in the first day of the Tournament July 15 in Dade City. Manager Leroy Starling on left, with Coach Marvin Willis on right.

All Stars Play In Tourney July 15

The "All Stars" tournament team, picked from the various Little League teams of Avon Park, will compete in the tournament to be held in Dade City, July 15 at 8 P.M. at the Little League Field. Under their manager, Leroy Starling and Coach Marvin Willis, they will compete against Zephyrhills for the first game.

If they are the winners Monday night they will play their second game against Sebring on Tuesday, July 16 on the same field. Two more wins will make them district champions and they will move on to the next level of the tournament.

Practice started July 1, under Coach Willis who states he has the winning team. They are well balanced, have strong pitching, power hitting and speed, and he expects them to go all way.

He asks the support of Avon Park to attend these games.

John Hardee Promoted To 1st Lieutenant

John T. Hardee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison G. Hardee, Avon Park, was promoted June 14 to Army first lieutenant in Germany.

During the same ceremony, he assumed command of Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion of the 3rd Infantry Division's 15th Infantry near Wildflecken.

The 24-year-old lieutenant received his commission through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at Florida Southern College, where he received his A.B. degree in 1967. He graduated from Santa Fe High School in 1962 and is a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

His wife, Margaret, is with him in Germany.

GEORGE B. GRIBBLE

Avon Park Man Receives Promotion

George B. Gribble has been named assistant manager of the Angelina Plywood plant in Lufkin. He formerly served as industrial relations director of the Owens-Illinois Forest Products Division's Orange, Tex. containerboard mill.

A native of Avon Park, Mr. Gribble joined the former National Container Corporation in 1953 and served in numerous personnel capacities at containerboard mills in Jacksonville, and Big Island, Va. before moving to the Owens-Illinois Forest Products Division's Toledo, Ohio headquarters in 1963 as personnel coordinator. He was named industrial relations director of the Orange mill in 1966.

Gribble is a graduate of the University of Florida, is an Air Force veteran, is married and has two children.

Trees

Trees have long been enjoyed by mankind for their beauty and towering majesty. Scientists know that trees also benefit mankind in their 24 hour per day "job" of returning oxygen to the atmosphere after "breathing" in man's discharge of carbon dioxide—some even propose now that all highways be lined with trees to combat automobile exhaust.

As for the artistic inspiration of trees, Joyce Kilmer wrote the beautiful poem, "Trees," which extols the graceful appeal they bring to our eye, and Respighi's masterful orchestration in "The Pines of Rome," describes to the ear how magnificant are Italy's pine forests. To few of us does it seem illogical to wax poetic about trees, and no more illogical is it to view the forests about us as benefit to mankind practically, as well. Indeed, the practicality of our forests serves to reinforce our admiration of trees, and this certainly holds true in Florida.

This state's forest products industry ranks second only to tourism in annual value. Commercial use of Florida's woodlands has a value of 1.2 billion dollars, and from our forests come in excess of 5,000 products. It's easy to understand with these figures and from a ride in the country that almost 60 per cent of all of this state's land volume is planted in commercial forest, and this forest is better than three quarters pine trees. Perhaps a musician may someday compose a piece of music titled "The Pines of Florida"; if he did, it may have an industrial sound in the background, because these powerful woodlands generate better than 100,000 jobs in this state.

The power of Florida's forests, which are almost three-quarters pine, lies not only in their beauty and in their age old oxygen production, but also in other secrets nature has had locked behind the bark for all these centuries. Chemists are rapidly learning these secrets—and none too soon; it is estimated that in numerous forms, each citizen of the United States annually consumes 500 pounds of wood. By 1970, this will rise to 700 pounds per person per year. Much of this will come from the pines of Florida, which even now yield more than 3,000,000 tons of graft paper annually,—and a base for ice cream,—and aromatic oils for perfumes and shaving lotions,—and lumber for furniture,—and household disinfectant cleaners, and thousands of other items.

The Water Crisis

Florida's developing water crisis of which most of us are unaware, has inspired the formation of a new state-wide non-profit organization whose goals are to improve water conservation and management, with equitable sharing of the available supply by all users under the laws of the state.

Riley S. Miles of Kissimmee, executive director of the Water Users Association of Florida, Inc., says the non-profit corporation's growing membership now represents nearly 300,000 people, comprising concerned individuals and groups involved in conservation, government, water and drainage districts, professions, business agriculture, civic associations and others. Sebring's F. Elgin Bayless is a vice president.

The association, which maintains headquarters in West Palm Beach, "believes the public interest will be best served when Florida's fresh water supply is shared equitably or human consumption, agricultural needs and industrial use as well as fish and wildlife, in accordance with Florida law," Miles says.

"This order of priorities in use of water is standard throughout the United States on both state and federal projects, and it would seem to make complete sense for the people of Florida," he says. Two years of severe drought brought home the problem in the state. The association's board of directors has recommended:

That it be expressly stated that the authority to manage and allocate stored water in the project be vested in the state of Florida under state law;

That the project provide for the preservation of adequate water supplies for human consumption, agricultural needs, industrial use and fish and wildlife, in that order;

That no construction funds be spent on the plan to raise Lake Okeechobee to a 19.5 to 21.5 foot level until the presently authorized level of 15.5 to 17.5 feet has been implemented and the results fully analyzed. Also, that before funds are committed to the increased lake stages additional studies be made.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Church Must Lift, Not Sink

Spending $927,000 on youth gangs in Chicago—the money going to gang members, their leaders, and some people who worked with them, in a vain attempt to turn them from unlawful to lawful activities—was a sad mistake.

However it may have been an honest mistake. Those who prepared the plan and those who approved the expenditure may have believed that the program would be effective.

But what can be said for the actions of the minister who allowed gang members to use his church as a hiding place for weapons and a place to hold marijuana-smoking sessions?

Gang members and others have testified that he knew what was going on and co-operated. He denies some of the allegations.

Bar in Church

Across the Atlantic—in England—a church has had a chamber under the ground floor of the church building converted into a discotheque with a bar where alcoholic drinks are served.

Are these attempts to bring the church down to the level of the world what Jesus had in mind when He came to the world to preach, teach, and die for fallen men?

"Friend of Sinners"

Jesus was known as a "friend of sinners." He did not hesitate to associate with prostitutes, extortioners, and other evil characters.

But what happened to these people when they came into contact with the Master?

Did they continue in their wicked ways, with Jesus approvingly walking beside them?

No, what happened is that sinners became saints when they walked with the Lord.

The Apostle Peter tells of the "time past of his life" when he and others "walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, and abominable idolatries."

Life Transformed

But Peter was changed by the Lord into a different kind of person. His life was revolutionized.

Mary Magdalene was transformed from a woman of ill repute, out of whom Jesus cast seven demons, into a woman of saintly character.

The message of the Gospel is that "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." The church must proclaim to the world the Gospel truth that men can still be converted into new persons through faith in Christ.

The work of the church today is not to sink down to the level of the world, but to lift men to the higher level of life in Christ.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

UN Costs Us But It's Worth It

Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 11. Since its founding nearly 23 years ago, the United Nations has been a controversial topic in our country. Its promoters bombard us with propaganda stressing its achievements and avoiding mention of its shortcomings. Its foes are equally articulate and insistent in branding it ineffectual.

Limiting Nuclear Weapons

We don't know for sure whether the UN has prevented World War II; we only know that so far we have been spared such a holocaust. We do know, however, that the UN is making its impact on relations between governments. The discussions in the General Assembly and in the Security Council of the UN are open for all the world to hear, as is the debate in our own Congress. And in the course of these discussions, governments still sadly estranged from one another do communicate via their representatives.

As a result of this dialog, last month the United Nations General Assembly adopted the U.S.-Soviet draft treaty for the non-proliferation of nuclear weapons. By a 95-to-4 vote (21 abstentions), the nations agreed to prohibit nuclear powers from distributing nuclear weapons, or knowledge, to others. They also agreed to bar nonnuclear powers from building atomic weapons. In addition, the treaty provided for a full exchange of information looking toward wider utilization of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes.

Obstacles to Peace

Of course, the nuclear treaty is not yet operative. It must still be signed and ratified by the U.S., Britain, and the Soviet Union, as well as by some two score nonnuclear countries. But it represents a step toward peace and good will which probably could not have been taken if there had been no UN to sponsor and encourage the necessary dialog.

There are many obstacles to peace. The conflicting aspirations of more than a hundred nations; the ancient rivalries between countries within a given region; the differing approaches of the haves and the have-nots to the agricultural, economic, and social problems that confront them; and, finally, the deep cleavages stemming from racial, cultural, and language disparity.

Many Plus Factors

But there are plus factors too, not the least of which is the universal yearning for peace. The UN has not found the key to peace in the Middle East. Indeed it cannot fully enforce the cease-fire it ordered. It has not resolved the Korean impasse. Nor have the parties to the Vietnam conflict permitted it to come to grips with the situation there.

However, the UN is still a force for peace and progress in today's world. So long as there is a General Assembly and a Security Council there is reason for optimism. Also there are many good things which the UN is doing upon which practically all nations are in basic agreement. These include the championship of human rights; the conquest of disease; the exchange of information on food and agriculture; the promotion of educational, scientific, and cultural goals; the fostering of tariff and trade agreements; the encouragement of monetary stability; and closer international co-operation in the fields of aviation, postal, and telecommunication services.

Is It Worth The Cost?

Many critics of the UN complain that it costs too much and isn't worth it. They say, too, that the UN provides—at our expense—a place where conspiracy, petty intrigue, and propaganda flourish. The truth is that the basic UN budget is less than $150 million a year—actually a trifling sum when compared with the U.S. outgo for Vietnam alone. Of course, we also spend several million dollars in contributions to UN-related agencies, such as UNESCO, UNICEF, GATT, the World Bank, and the International Monetary Fund.

By and large, it is a sound investment in the future of the world and in our own future, paying rich returns in dollars and otherwise. Peace still eludes us, but we cannot afford to abandon our search for it.

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Lame Duck Tactics Used In Appointing Justices

WASHINGTON, D.C.—It seems to me that the Chief Executive and the Chief Justice of the United States have openly flouted studied opinion and have used something resembling "lame duck" tactics in an effort to assure perpetuation of the "Warren Court" philosophy.

There is no question that any President's right to make appointments to high office continues to the moment his term expires, nor can the right of the Chief Justice to retire be questioned. But circumstances in this case go beyond the simple and proper exercise of these rights.

The fact is that the Chief Justice has not actually resigned, nor has he set a certain date to do so. He has said merely that he plans to do so "at the pleasure" of the President. The additional fact is that Mr. Johnson has not accepted the resignation of the Chief Justice, but has said he will do so only when Mr. Warren's successor has been qualified—confirmed by the Senate.

Against this background, the President has named Associate Justice Abe Fortas, his close personal friend and intimate adviser, as his choice to succeed Mr. Warren. Mr. Fortas shares most, if not all, of the views expounded by Mr. Warren.

From this set of circumstances, I cannot escape the opinion that the designation of Justice Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Warren and of Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry, a Texas protege, to replace Mr. Fortas constitutes an open-faced move to assure continuation of the ultra-liberal thinking which has dominated the Supreme Court in the 15 Warren years.

In other words, it seems to me that raw politics has been involved in this resignation, which was not a resignation, and in these appointments of personal friends to fill non-existent vacancies.

With regard to the existence of vacancies, it should be pointed out that, under the terms of the Warren letter of resignation and Mr. Johnson's reply to it, Mr. Warren could remain on the court for the rest of his life should the Senate refuse to confirm Mr. Fortas. In that event, the President would only need to reject the resignation he has not yet accepted, or Mr. Warren on his own initiative could withdraw it.

Members of the House have, as you know, nothing at all to do with the confirmation of the Chief Justice, other members of the Supreme Court, or other presidential appointees of any kind. I therefore can say only that if I were a member of the Senate—which does have constitutional responsibility for confirmation of presidential nominations—I would vote to reject these two nominations.

But I suspect both will be confirmed in the long run. It is a rarity for the Senate to reject any presidential nomination. No nominee for Chief Justice has ever been rejected (although two were withdrawn in the face of public outrage) and only one nominee for associate justice was ever rejected by the Senate. So, I think that we will continue to have a Supreme Court dominated for years by Earl Warren, although he will be gone.

Warren's decision to quit the court, I may say, is in my opinion, the very best decision he has handed down in his nearly 15 years on the high court. Under him, the Court tended to interpret the Constitution loosely and frequently on sociological grounds rather than by strict and literal reading of the words of the Founding Fathers and of subsequent amendments.

The result is that the Court has taken on the air of a legislative body and also has taken on all the earmarks of a tribunal which was soft on communism and on criminals, and anti-religious as well.

But if the nation is not going to be any better off under the revised Court, I suppose we can take some solace in the thought that it cannot be much worse off.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to commend you for your fine coverage of the City Council meeting about the Airport. It seems that it had been a lot of "hush hush" about the airport lease as Mayor Doerr knew nothing about it for several days after it was prepared. Seems as the shoeshine block was that someone along the line forgot the mayor would have to sign.

I am very thankful we have Mayor Doerr and Councilman Martin after the courageous fight they put up to save the airport. Also to be commended is the Chamber of Commerce and other interested tax payers that filled the council chambers in protest of a considered bad lease on the nearly built hangar that was not budgeted for. (There could be a conflict of interest). Figure it out.

I see a probable great future for a good airport and facilities in Avon Park if administered by business methods and not politics.

I have never thought the present operator is the answer and I think the proposed 20 year lease at $50 per month for a new $20,000 building is . . . Well, it stinks. There was, and I suppose they are still interested a well established firm, properly financed, interested in the airport. They are interested in a place for their own fleet of planes and to operate the airport as it should be. They will also pay a reasonable rent and pay when due. Their interest requires a finished runway, lighted.

Last year, while I was president of our city council, E. A. DeLaney, Sr. (then mayor), some council members, and myself made arrangements with the CAA for matching funds to repair one runway and properly light it for night flying. The project was to cost $50,000. The CAA pidgeonholed their $25,000 and we budgeted the city's $25,000 for the 1967-1968 fiscal year. The project would have cost the city very little money as we planned to use public equipment and regular employees. For this service we would receive full credit on the city's part of the contract. For some reason the present council did not go through with the project. Again . . . Why?

I am indeed proud the manufacturers have finally decided to locate in Avon Park. Wayman Carver and Charles Whitehead should be commended for their untiring efforts during the last two years in bringing this worthwhile industry to Avon Park.

Help Wanted ad in the Ardmore, Pa., Times: "Wanted—Gentleman to escort Mrs. T. R. Roberts to the Wayne PTA dance Saturday night. Preferably Mr. Roberts."

Also thanks to the Council for making arrangements for a suitable location.

My next letter to you could be about "A city without money," if things continue.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOBE

WORK IS NO CURSE: IT'S A BLESSING

I used to think naught could be worse than what old Father Adam got when Heaven put on him the curse of work and kicked him off the lot. It used to grieve my tender heart when I was nothing but a kid and scalding tears would often start when I would read how Adam slid and tail-spinned to that worst of falls and came to earth a wicked slob, condemned to don his overalls and hustle out to hunt a job.

I used to envy Adam some, who listened neath the scented trees to birdland song and insect hum, while every prospect strove to please, or softly plunked his light guitar beneath the tabooed Knowledge Tree and warbled to the Evening Star: "There's One Girl in This World for Me," and then the order, "Get to Work!" descended like a thunderbolt upon Creation's foremost shirk—it must have been an awful jolt!

In summing up this Apple Case, the testimony made me feel, the super-daddy of our race had sorta got a dirty deal, but then I did not understand and some, I fear, don't grasp it yet, that Heaven placed in Adams' hand the greatest blessin he could get; for who would lead a slothful life through ages of Edenic bliss? Far better healthful, active strife than rotting in a place like this.

He never planned a marble dome to crown some marble temple high; he never worked for wife-blessed home where lovely children laugh and cry; he never dreamed a mighty span to leap in grace from bank to bank; he never had a crop to plan; no jobs to do, no kids to spank; he didn't even have to think, before his much-lamented fall—he reigned a brainless, thoughtless Gink—at loafing he was Lord of all!

I hold the thing that's most inclined to start one on the hoegow track is having nothing on the mind, the hands, the stomach and the back, and that Old Grandpa went nakew is not a cause for great surprise; a man should have some chores to do; even though he lives in Paradise! May all the Powers up above look down in pity on the plight of all that countless host who rove the earth without a job in sight!

I'd rather toil my honest rounds and stand my back at dodging sin than have old Adam's loafing grounds with Eve and fig leaves all throw in!

A NIXON CONTRIBUTOR

From now on this writer is going to contribute ten bucks per month for Nixon but the next President doesn't know it and will not be helped a whole lot by it. One of the papers I write for got mad because I said a kind word for Nixon over the phone and ordered me to nix kumerouse any more. I said something sarcastic about Bobby Kennedy and two days later he got shot. I had nothing to do with that, though. The fact is, I'm prejudiced a mite against shooting Democrats. I jump from one party to another, depending on which is best for my native land, and I may be a rambunctious Democrat the next election; it depending on the G.O.P. and George Wallace, et cetera. I admire voters, but hate shooters.

One of the small "do it yourself" repairs you can make in an emergency out on the road is replacing a fan belt. An adjustable wrench, your tire iron and a spare belt is all that you need. Loosen the bolt connecting the generator to its bracket—move the generator enough to slip on a new belt (the old one will have to come off)! Use your tire iron to apply leverage enough to reposition the generator and the tension on the new belt—tighten the bolt and you're off. A 5 minute job—stop in and we'll supply you with the necessary spare belt and show you how to detect and make this simple replacement.

South Florida Junior College Will Offer Vocational Courses This Fall

Following months of preparation and planning, South Florida Junior College will open some of the full time vocational courses for student enrollment this fall. The building is being prepared, equipment ordered and instructors hired to engage in a new type of program which will train people for full time employment.

To open this fall are courses in air-conditioning—refrigeration and also radio-television electronics. A person taking either one of these courses will attend South Florida Junior College all day, five days a week for the school year. He will be a full time student studying a technical subject to prepare for a job upon graduation.

The air-conditioning—refrigeration program will cover the theory operation, servicing and repair of refrigeration equipment both commercial and domestic. When a student successfully completes this program he will be qualified to hold a job in any business or field where a technical knowledge of air-conditioning is needed.

Television electronics taught by South Florida Junior College will cover all the basic electricity and electronics necessary for the technician today. The use of actual equipment in the laboratory will prepare each student to perform a technical job in repair, servicing or analyzing circuits in television and other electronic equipment.

In recent months advisory committees have been established for each of these programs to help guide the planning and make sure the student learns what is needed on the job. Kenneth Long, Chairman of the Air-Conditioning Committee and Bill Thompson, Chairman of the Radio-Television Committee have both stated that there is a need for many more trained technicians in the central Florida area.

Classes in both air-conditioning and radio-television will begin August 21. Anyone who wants to enroll should apply at the Registrar's Office, South Florida Junior College, Avon Park. Applications will be accepted throughout the summer. If further information is needed please contact the college.

School Building

higher costs would be more than interest rates; we have had a 10 to 15 percent increase in building prices in the past year."

Douglass said, "There is nothing magic about 2 mills. We could make it more or less, but 2 mills would give us enough for meaningful start. What is even most important now is a sense of motion. We have no choice about whether we build; the choice is how we finance it."

Salaries Up

The Legislature has provided substantially higher support for teachers salaries and the teacher pay boost paved the way for an increase in the Superintendent's pay. According to the rules of the regional accrediting agency, the Superintendent's salary should be 10 percent above that of the highest paid teacher in the 1-12 program.

Highlands County has a special law requiring such a differential.

Tuesday night the school board approved such an adjustment for Douglass, putting his pay for the coming year at $16,362. (Next year a new state law will set salaries for all elected officials including school superintendents).

The total teacher salary bill for Highlands County next year will top $2 million.

The school board got a surprise when it opened milk bids for the 1968-69 school year. Only two bids were submitted and the winning—7.286 cent per half-pint—from Borden's is a tiny bit lower than the 1967-68 price (7.29 cents).

GROVES PURCHASED

James Groves, Inc., have purchased two groves owned by Kirby W. Hope, South of the Bair's Den and West of US 27 for $150,000.

One grove totals 52.88 acres, the other 76.43 for a total of 129.29 acres, indicating the price paid of slightly in excess of $1160 per acre.

Ranchers And Others Soon to Get ACP Money

Highlands County farmers and ranchers who have reported completion of approved conservation practices under the 1968 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) will soon be receiving their cost-share payments, according to Ralph S. Richardson, ASCS County Office Manager. The ASC County Committee has received authority to begin making the payments earned to date.

The payments, which are the Federal Government's share of the cost of carrying out approved conservation measures represent less than one-half the total cost. The farmers and ranchers participating in the ACP bear the remainder of the cost, usually well in excess of 50 per cent.

ACP cost-shares earned by farmers and ranchers in the County through June 30 amounted to approximately $16,000. Some 200 farmers and ranchers are participating in this year's program with 90 of them having reported completion of at least one approved practice by June 30.

Richardson stated that his office will issue and mail sight drafts to farmers and ranchers who are due a payment. He also urged those who have completed approved practices but have not reported completion to the ASCS County Office to do so soon.

Local Man Opens Sebring Store

Claude Cole of Avon Park, formerly of Lorida, who operates Cole's Nursery in Avon Park, on Monday will open a new business in the former Sebring Bakery, located at Main St. and Central Ave. The cars were moved to traffic could get by. The city police then refused to issue an accident report.

Friday afternoon there was a big sign put up at Main St. and Central Ave. The cars were moved so traffic could get by. The city police then refused to issue an accident report.

The store will handle nuts, bolts, screws, pipe fittings, kitchen utensils, garden supplies such as sprays, small tools and irrigation materials.

To acquaint area residents with their line of merchandise, Cole will have a special sale on July 18, 19 and 20.

Cole will continue to operate the nursery business in Avon Park. He has a wife Ruth and their son Jimmy is a senior in Avon Park High School.

Enrollment High In Summer Rec.

Highlands County schools expanded Summer program has drawn a vastly large enrollment, according to reports released today by Don Hansen, county coordinator for the Summer program.

Reddick, Valentine Wedding July 13

The wedding of Devorah Reddick and Cliff Valentine will take place Saturday, July 13, 7:30 P.M. at the First United Methodist Church in Avon Park with Rev. Addison G. Hardee officiating.

Mrs. Edna Jackson, organist will accompany soloist Richard D. Reddick.

Best man, Roy Valentine, father of the bridegroom.

Ushers: Scott Harris, John Hopkins, Ray Kingsbury, Charles Orth and Dale Hunsucker.

Ringbearer, Randy Reddick.

The wedding reception will be held immediately after the ceremony in Wesley Hall of the church.

All friends and relatives are welcome to attend the wedding and reception.

Pre-nuptial events preceding the marriage on Saturday, July 13 of Devorah Ann Reddick and Cliff Valentine will end Friday evening with a rehearsal dinner given by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Valentine, Titusville, at Griffin's Restaurant after the church rehearsal.

Mrs. Charles Ginn of E. Camphor St., honored the bride elect on June 25, with a kitchen shower, when she invited 20 guests to her home for punch, assorted cakes, mints and sandwiches. Garden flowers were used throughout the house as decorations.

She presented the guest of honor with a hostess gift.

—o—

Mrs. Jack DeLaney feted the bride elect with a 12 o'clock luncheon at Griffin's July 5, when she entertained 14 guests. She presented the guest of honor with a silver hostess gift.

Guests were: the honoree, Mrs. Jack DeLaney, Mrs. Willard Griffin, Mrs. Leamon Kelly, Mrs. Larry Strickler, Mrs. Aden Childress, Mrs. Charles Moseley, Mrs. Andy Miracle, Mrs. Allen Kindel, Mrs. Charles Ginn, Mrs. Ben Reese, Miss Tina Sanders of Savannah, Ga., and Mrs. Devon Reddick.

Yellow daisies were used for the centerpiece, with lovebird placecards.

—o—

The bridesmaids' luncheon will be given by Mrs. Allen Kindel at 12 o'clock July 13, at her home 299 N. Lake Ave.

Guests will be the bridal party at which time the bride-elect will present gifts to her attendants.

MORE MARRIAGES

More couples said "I do" in the State of Florida in 1967 than any other year in history, totaling a record-breaking 56,458 marriages performed. The number exceeded by 2546 marriages the previous record high of 53,912 which occurred in 1943 and continued a rising trend that has been in effect since 1952.

Acadia National Park, Maine, and Olympic National Park, Washington, are two of the world's very few parks where mountains and sea meet.

Kathy Smith and Tom Sharpe Exchange Wedding Vows Friday

The Church of God was the scene of the impressive, double-ring service uniting Miss Kathy Smith, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Smith and Tom Sharpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Sharpe in holy wedlock, Friday, June 28, 1968 at 6 P.M.

An archway of greenery entwined with babys' breath, flanked on either side with two baskets of white mums, with a touch of yellow, and potted palms, formed the altar arrangement for the ceremony, performed by Rev. Thomas B. Sleepe.

Mrs. Edna Jackson served as organist. Soloist Mrs. Victor Mickunas sang "I Love You Truly" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald E. Smith, the bride chose a floor length gown of Peau de soie satin for her wedding. Fashioned princess style, high cumberbund effect, round neckline and long lace sleeves. Her shoulder length illusion veil was held in place with a tiny satin crown covered with seed pearls. She carried an arrangement of yellow roses in the form of a cross, centered with one golden rose which was lifted for her travel corsage.

Miss Sylvia Martin of Avon Park, served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless floor length gown of yellow Peau de soie with a short veil held by a tiny satin crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white shasta daisies designed with satin streamers. Bridesmaids were, Nikki Hancock and Gwen Sharpe, sister of the groom, who were gowned identical to the maid of honor, in aqua green and carried matching bouquets of shasta daisies. Little Bonnie Roland, niece of the bride was the flower girl. She wore a long yellow satin gown trimmed with white lace and carried a basket of rose petals, which she carefully placed in the path of the bride.

Roncoe Bass served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Gary Parrish, Wayne Douberly and Jeffery Stokey all from Avon Park.

The bridal pair are on a wedding trip to Englewood. Upon their return they will make their residence at 105 E. Camphor St. For traveling the bride wore a yellow dress with green trim and the rose corsage from her bouquet.

Reception

A wedding reception was held in the Florida Power Lounge immediately following the ceremony.

The three-tiered wedding cake was placed on a table covered with white and decorated with white daisies. Punch, nuts and candy were served with the cake.

Rice bags of yellow and green were passed to the guests by Miss Stacey Sharpe, sister of the bridegroom.

Sally Lambright, tresided at the bride's book arranged on a table holding a fountain of water, and Mrs. Millie Hancock presented the guests to the receiving line. Mrs. Lois Fout, Mrs. Betty Crews and Miss Cheryl Fout assisted with serving.

Gifts of note received by the bridal couple were two goblets, sent to them from the bridegroom's brother, Eddie Sharpe who is in Vietnam, which was etched with their names. Kathy and Tom and used for drinking the wedding toast.

Out of town guests: Sally Lambright, Lakeland, Sharon Gant, Melbourne and Dennis Tuney, Wisconsin.

The rehearsal supper given by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Sharpe was held Thursday evening, June 28 at the Florida Power Clubhouse. Lake Lotela in the form of a buffet. A mock wedding cake was made of potato salad, centered with a bride and bridegroom, and served with the supper. Besides the wedding party and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mickunas, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas L. Speepe and Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Hill attended.

The First Baptist Church of Avon Park was the scene of the wedding of Torista Gaster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gaster, Avon Park and Edwin Howard, Columbus, Ga., son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Howard, Avon Park. The double-ring ceremony took place, Friday, July 5, in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Aden Childress officiating.

The setting for the ceremony was prepared with the white satin prayer bench, flanked on each side with two baskets of bridal flowers, potted palms and seven branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Organist, Joyce Antley accompanied the soloist Otis Strickler.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of silk organza, featuring a scalloped Sabrina neckline. The yoke and long pointed sleeves were of Chantilly lace. Her Chantilly lace train was attached to the shoulders. Her bouffant French silk illusion veil was held by a crown cap of lace blossoms. She carried a spray of Stephenotis centered with an orchid arranged on a white Bible, a gift from her mother.

Mrs. Guelda Glaston, sister of the bride, from Covington, Ga., served as matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of Venitian Rose crepe. Oval neckline with elbow length sleeves. Matching Venice lace trimmed the empire waistlin and formed a flat bow that fell from the back neckline to the floor. Her headpiece was of matching flowers and she carried pink and white mums with long streamers.

Judy Erwin of Avon Park was the bridesmaid and wore an identical dress as the matrons and carried pink and white mums with long streamers.

Mother of the bride chose a turquoise dress with appliqued flowers down the side, beige accessories, for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was white and turquoise mums.

The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress with matching tinted mums for her corsage.

The bridegroom's brother, Robert Howard of Cocoa Beach served as best man. Ushers were, Milton Howard, Jr., brother of the bridegroom and Jackie Turner.

For a wedding trip to Cocoa Beach, the bride wore a multi-stripe knit dress with full length matching coat, beige and tan accessories and wore the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home in Columbus, Ga., where the bridegroom is Spec. 5 in the armed services.

Reception

The reception was held at the Florida Power Lounge. Miss Gail Weaver presided at the bride's book and Mrs. J. T. Gibbs presented the guests to the receiving line.

The three-tiered wedding cake was centered on a table decorated with the attendants flowers. Punch, nuts, mints were served with the cake. Baskets of flowers and palms decorated the lounge.

Those serving were Mrs. Ike Simmons, Mrs. J. T. Gibbs, Mrs. Lucy Allen, Mrs. Shellie Mars, Mrs. Earnest Gore, Mrs. Devon Gaster and Mrs. Jackie Turner. The bridal couple drank their toast from crystal glasses which were etched with their names, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sharpe.

Brucellosis Needs Control, Not Eradication

Although 75 per cent of the cattlemen in Highlands County owning more than 51 per cent of the cattle have given the state a green light on the brucellosis testing, there are some aspects of the program which the state cattlemen's association is questioning.

Ray Rauierson, who owns cattle in Highlands and Okeechobee counties, and has sought an injunction to stop the program in Highlands, points out the state association has passed two resolutions. One states: Be it resolved that the Florida Cattlemen's Association be recorded as strongly objecting to the amendments of the proposed changes in the government regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture pertaining to the interstate movement of cattle, believing them to be a detriment to the cattle industry. And;

Resolved we recommend and urge that the Florida Department of Agriculture and the Commissioner of Agriculture of Florida conduct a complete re-evaluation of the present bovine brucellosis program of test and slaughtetr for eradication of brucellosis in Florida and that the Department of Agriculture and the Commissioner of Agriculture in Florida investigate procedures and initiate a program of brucellosis control rather than the present program of eradication.

Andrew Jackson, Jr., president of the Highlands County Cattlemen's Association, said the program has not been presented to the local association, but that the association took the responsibility for circulating petitions to cattlemen in the county where they could express their opinions on the program.

These petitions, with a majority favoring the program, were sent to the Florida Department of Agriculture in January and the county was put under quarantine May 1. Unless a herd has been tested and approved, animals cannot be moved inter-state.

"This is a program where there is no middle ground," said Jackson. "A cattleman either feels very strongly for or very strongly against it."

Rauierson, in a statement handed to The Sebring News, said:

"I would like to let the people of Highlands County and the State of Florida know that I am not opposed to the brucellosis eradication. I think it is time the cattle people turned their thoughts to a control program instead of an eradication program that has no ending.

"Thoughts should be turned to research for a vaccination to control brucellosis. I have no confidence in the program that is now being used. The cost to the cowman of having to test and retest, besides having to dispose of many valuable animals, is completely unjustified. I am opposed to the program now being administered."

More than 20 herds of beef cattle in Highlands County have been tested for brucellosis and seven reactors were found in two of them. It was pointed out that meat from brucellosis infected cattle is not harmful to humans, although raw milk from an infected cow might infect a human with undulant fever. However, Rauierson pointed out, pasteurization destroys the brucellosis organism—and pasteurization now is a requirement for selling milk. Brucellosis makes cows sterile and abort.

Rauierson's petition for injunction will be heard at 1 P.M. August 15, before Circuit Court Judge J. H. Willson.

In a report received by cattlemen it points out that: "It seems that Congress should ask for a complete re-evaluation of a program that has not been successful in any way in the eradication of brucellosis."

CURB MEXICAN CITRUS?

The executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual today urged favorable consideration of proposed legislation which would curb the possibility of Mexican citrus flooding the U. S. market.

In testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee, Robert W. Rutledge urged favorable consideration of the Fresh Fruit and Vegetables Market Sharing Act of 1968 "primarily because of the rapidly increasing production of Mexican citrus and its potential threat to the economy of the Florida citrus industry."

One Owner Appears At Board Meeting

One property owner appeared for the annual session of the board of equalization last week, but three other owners came to lodge protests with the county agriculture zoning board.

The county commission serves as the board of equalization and the agriculture zoning board.

Mrs. Pearl Slink was advised that the two lots she owns in the Sunset Heights section of Avon Park had been assessed on the same basis as other lots in the area and the tax assessor's valuation will stand for this year.

The protests to the agriculture zoning board fared better. Mr. and Mrs. Don Cole were granted the agriculture classification which had been denied earlier this Summer. The commissioners said there had been some misunderstanding in the Cole's application. Joseph Kojis, originally refused a farm classification, convinced the board he does use 18.5 acres for agriculture purposes and was granted the farm zoning.

GI Loans Made Easier For Widows

St. Petersburg, Fla.—M. T. Dixon, Director of the Fla. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, said today that recent changes in the GI Home Loan Program should make it easier for thousands of unremarried widows to get GI home loans. Basic eligibility requirements are that the widow's husband either die on active duty or from a service connected disability, and the veteran's service was during World War II, Korean Conflict or the Vietnam era.

A new law permits the VA to guarantee home loans up to $12,500 of the loan amount, but not more than 60 per cent of the loan. The higher ceiling on GI loan interest rates which went into effect recently, should help these widows get a GI loan from a commercial lending institution.

Many eligible widows had served in World War II, and under current legislation they still have more than two years to obtain a GI loan—until July 25, 1970. Entitlement for qualified widows of men who served in the Korean Conflict is not scheduled to expire until January 1975.

Widows whose spouses served during the Vietnam era—or any time after January 31, 1955, will have their eligibility expire (a) 20 years from the date of the veteran's death in service, (b) 20 years from the date of the veteran's discharge, or (c) March 3, 1976, whichever is later.

Widows who think they might qualify for GI loans should obtain further information from the Veterans Administration or from their local Veteran County Service Officer.

Veterans Will Prepare For Civilian Life

St. Petersburg, Fla. — M. T. Dixon, of the Fla. Dept. of Veterans Affairs, announced today that military installations are initiating a program designed to prepare the sericeman for his transition to a civilian life in a less frustrating manner than has been experienced by many in the past.

Individuals who are one to six months from their discharge are being offered an opportunity to participate in the program. They may be released for a specified number of hours during a normal duty day to undertake training. Training may be in civilian-type jobs in the military, such as auto and airplane mechanics, man-power development training courses are operated by the Department of Labor or on-the-job orientation and training in cooperating local industry and commerce.

How do you measure value?

Trite as it may sound, most of the really valuable things in life cost very little. And electricity is one of those things.

It can keep you cool in the summer. Warm in the winter. In fact it works for you around the clock and around the calendar—making your todays easier and your tomorrows better.

And the people at your investor-owned electric light and power company are working day and night to keep it that way. They're making sure your electric service is always plentiful, dependable and low in price.

Dr. Ted W. Ward Will Preach At Presbyterian

Dr. Ted W. Ward and family have been visiting his parents, Mr and Mrs. Ted J. Ward, for the past three weeks. They plan to go back to Michigan next week, where they have lived for 12 years. Dr. Ward is a Professor at Michigan State University.

His major responsibility is that of a behavioral science research administrator in the College of Education and the College of Social Science. He directs the Learning Systems Institute and the Human Learning Research Institute, with a combined staff of 45 people.

Dr. Ward has also continued his musical career, begun in Avon Park through piano study with Mrs. Elsie Coen, APHS band student conductor under Director Gene Gorman, and Youth Choir Director at the First Baptist Church. At present he is the Minister of Music at the South Baptist Church of Lansing, one of the largest evangelical churches in Michigan.

Last Sunday morning Dr. Ward preached at the First Presbyterian Church in Avon Park and is scheduled to preach again next Sunday at their 11 o'clock service.

During the visit, the Ward grandchildren have spent most of their time in beautiful Lake Verona enjoying the water and the white sand beach at the Ward's. David, Daniel and Timothy have become quite steady on water skis. Sarah and Stephen much prefer their sailboat with its red and white sails, but all five thoroughly relish just plain swimming and water games.

Needless to say the grandparents are not looking forward to their departure next Monday with any degree of happiness and it has been great fun to have them.

THE ABOVE pictured blind youth are having the time of their lives at Camp Kulaqua, which ordinarily accommodates sighted campers only. This exciting camping experience has been made possible by the Avon Park Seventh-day Adventist Church. The club sponsored two children to camp.

Seventh-day Adventist Sponsor Youth at Camp

A peacock shrills and a rooster crows, as the loud-speaker cherrily announces "Good Morning Campers." Instantly voices mingle with reveille as over 90 bustling campers scurry to ready themselves for another adventuresome day at Camp Kulaqua.

The boys and girls from ages nine through 14 and five Southern states gather around in a circle for a flag ceremony just as in any other camp in America, the only difference being, these children can't see the stars and stripes they salute.

What is camp like for a blind child? It's the thrill of bouncing down a forrested trail on the back of a horse, the chilling excitement of plunging off the diving board into the air soon to be met by the cool spring water, the resounding thud as an arrow strikes it's target, and the crackling fire and warm friendship each night at campfire time. It's canoeing delicious food, nature study, and even water skiing for the most adventurous.

Camp Kulaqua is located near High Springs, 22 cabins are scattered among the moss-ladened cypress and oak trees. Grassy slopes enhance the beauty of the clear spring water. Some added points of interest are the stables, a nature center with all types of animals, old-fashioned covered wagons, and a large secluded tree house down the canoe trail.

Is Camp Kulaqua a success? Ask any little blind camper and your heart will melt with his enthusiastic reply. Ask any donor, sponsor, or counselor. All agree that their part in making Camp Kulaqua available for blind youth has well been repaid them by the thankful hearts and smiling faces of all the campers.

Camp Kulaqua during the week of June 16th was a co-operative project of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventist and the Christian Record Braille Foundation. The Florida Conference made available the camp facilities, their entire teaching staff and camp counselors to the Braille Foundation, and then undersigned one half of all expenses for each camper. The other half of the children's expenses was supplied by the Avon Park Seventh-day Adventist Church. For this very important week the non sectarian camp was under the direction of the Christian Record Braille Foundation.

Baptist WMS Hears Mrs. Clark Missionary

Rev. and Mrs. Gene Clark, Southern Baptist missionaries to Japan, will speak at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening, July 14 at 7:45 P.M.

Rev. and Mrs. Clark arrived in Avon Park recently after completing their second five-year term as missionaries to the Japanese. Recently they have been stationed in Tokyo engaged in educational and evangelistical work.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Clark are former residents of Avon Park. Rev. Clark is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Austin R. Clark and Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rawleigh H. Lawhon. They and the children, David, Miriam, Barbara and Mary Margaret will spend some time here before school opens in the fall.

The pastor, Rev. Aden D. Childress cordially invites everyone interested to come Sunday evening to hear these two missionaries tell of their work in Japan.

The Bible Speaks To You on Radio

Sick people often need assurance that life is worth living. Hope often sits in the doorway of thought that turns toward God. Listen Sunday, July 14, 9 A.M. WJCM to "Choose Life!"

Science Church Sunday Service

A communion service will be held this Sunday in Christian Science Churches throughout the world. It is open to the community.

The Lesson-Sermon is titled "Sacrament" and includes these well known passages from Matthew: "Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and break it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it."

Related passages from the Christian Science textbook include this statement: "It is possible, — yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman, — to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Following the Lesson-Sermon, the congregation will be invited to kneel in silent communion with God. This will be followed by the repetition of the Lord's Prayer, after which the congregation will sing the Doxology.

"So what is new and fresh and funny and sometimes serious" Herbert Tarr's new novel, "Reverse[d]y?" — Virginia Kirkus Herbert Tarr's new novel, Heaven Help Us, is the story of a young rabbi an his "warmly comic adventures" of his first pulpit. Rabbi Gideon Abel comes to his new congregation full of ideals and social consciousness to find they are more interested in ways to raise money—fashion shows (My Fair Sadie) in order to have a brand-new kitchen.

Among the congregants is the temple president who believes a congregation should be run like a business; the trustee whose "social action" is the twist; the women who don't trust a boy, a bachelor, that is; the bas mitzvah boy who stuttered. The person who proved to be his friend was the Reverend Vernon Whitford, an Episcopal Rector.

Heaven Help Us is wildly funny and deeply serious. While mirrily revealing what goes on inside churches and synagogues in the name of God, Herbert Tarr implies what religion can be when peoples unite to help Heaven."

Redeemer Vestry Meets Sunday, July 14

July 14, will mark the date for the monthly meeting of the vestry of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer. The place will be the Parish office, and the time, after the 9:30 A.M. service of the Holy Eucharist. Important reports and agenda will round out the meeting.

The Alhambra, one of Spain's showplaces, was built by the Moors (Arabs) during the 13th century.

Gene Clarks To Speak At First Baptist

Mrs. Gene Clark, missionary to Japan, was the featured speaker at the July meeting of the Day Woman's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church held Tuesday at the church.

Mrs. Clark, the former Dorothy Lawhon, grew up in Avon Park and graduated from Avon Park High School before continuing her studies at Mars Hill, N. C. and Baylor University in Texas. She and her husband have served as missionaries in Japan for the past 11 years and are now on their second furlough.

"In Japan the future of our work," she says, "is as bright as the promises of God. As we look at things that have taken place there, we find many modern-day miracles. God's Spirit simply works through us." She shared many experiences and told of consecrated individuals with whom she is associated. In conclusion she said, "God wants us to do big things, not only in Asia, but in all the world. Since the Billy Graham Crusade in Japan, our people think big. There are many voices clamoring to be heard in the world today. Christians must not keep silent. Talk about God to people. Talk about people to God."

Mrs. Harold Guerndt also gave some highlights and facts on the topic "Christian Education for Service." This concerns the Southern Baptist cooperative work with the National Baptists, a Negro convention.

Mrs. W. W. McFarland presided during the business session. Announcement of the Prayer Retreat to be held on August 13 was made by Mrs. W. B. Johnson. Immediately following the monthly meeting a covered dish luncheon will be served and the prayer retreat will follow, closing at 2 P.M. Mrs. Mark Smith reported that over 2000 coupons had been sent to the Children's Home.

Mrs. Harold Guerndt reported on the Special Projects and read a letter from Miss Valda Long. Sixteen drums of bandages have been sent from the Orange Blossom Association of Baptists to assist her in her medical work in Tanzania.

A newly organized prayer group will meet at the church on Tuesday, July 16, at 9:30 A.M. at which any member can attend. Please bring a list of the prayer requests.

An enlistment tea for prospective members will be held at the social hall of the church on Thursday, July 25 from 2-4 P.M. under the direction of Mrs. Edith Wever, soical chairman and Mrs. T. M. Weekly, enlistment chairman.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Mrs. Olive Kerwin on Friday of last week, drove her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kull to Orlando to meet their airplane for New York. They left on Friday evening for the first leg of a European tour on Pan American Airlines. In New York they joined the Ohio Wesleyan Alumni 21-day tour which includes England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France. We all know Illian and Clay, and wish them a safe, pleasant journey.

Mrs. Walter Coady will now be seen getting her exercise on a bycicle, which is a recent purchase. Good luck, Flo!

Our "new" club house is new because of the beautiful clean paint, surrounding flowers, crushed rock near the shuffleboard courts, soft new green sod around the courts, and generally, spic and span. Other improvements will be completed this summer, hopefully.

The Lawrence Robinsons had a pleasant trip and visit with friends, Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Yates with their family in West Palm Beach on Sunday after attending church service at Rev. Yate's church, the First United Methodist church of West Palm Beach.

Welcome back to Rosa Bennington who was very happy to return here.

Remember our pot luck in the recreation hall on July 11 at 12:30. Bring a dish, service and beverage.

Rotary Report

Last week, at the first meeting of the new 1968-69 year, our new officers and directors were installed. Rev. John Knapp was installed as president by Don Hassfurder along with the other officers, Bill Young, secretary; John Townsend, sgt. at arms; and directors, Don Hassfurder, John Knapp, John Townsend, Lew Miller, Charles Whitehead, Norman Todd, Bill Stallard, Bill Young, George Walper and Jim Helm. Don now becomes vice president for the club.

In recognition for a job well done as president for the 1967-68 year, Don was presented a past president's pin and a gift from the club.

After the installation, President John spoke to the club about ways and means for the membership to participate in Rotary during the coming year. In connection with this he asked for comments and suggestions from the members as to ideas for our club to promote more participation in Rotary. A number of different ideas were mentioned and discussed and it did appear that the members were interested in our club taking a more active part in the four avenues of service of Rotary within the club and community.

Marcia Ward Bonnie Fisher In Usk, Wales

Word was received by their parents this week that Marcia Ward and Bonnie Fisher, recent graduates from Avon Park High School, are currently in Switzerland. The girls traveled to England by student ship from New York and visited in London for four days before taking the boat-train to the Netherlands. Their train routing included stops in Heidelberg, Germany; Bern, Switzerland; Innsbruck, Austria; Vienna, Austria; Venice and Milan, Italy; and Basel, Switzerland.

While in Vienna the girls attended a training session of the world famous white Lippenzaner stallions of the Vienna Opera House. They spent one night at a chalet at the base of the Matterhorn. The girls are staying at hostels recommended by the National Youth Hostel Association.

They will return to London July 3 and report for work at an excavation of Roman ruins near Usk, Wales, on July 4. From there after 10 days they are scheduled to dig at another archaelogical excavation in Lugershall, Wiltshire, in northern England before returning home in August.

Travis Hill Celebrates 7th Birthday

Travis Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Hill celebrated his seventh birthday with a family birthday party and a few guests, on Saturday, July 6th, at his home.

The traditional birthday cake was served with ice cream along with hamburgers and the trimmings. For entertainment the party all attended the movie in Sebring.

The guests besides members of the family were, Robyn Heckard, Stacy Sharpe and Cindy Taylor.

John M. Herring Passed Away Suddenly

John McAllister Herring, a resident of Avon Park, passed away suddenly as a result of a heart attack. His death occurred in West Palm Beach while establishing a private school.

Mr. Herring, 44 years old, was born in Albany, Ga. He attended Tifton High School, North Georgia College, the University of Minnesota, and as a member of Alpha Tau Omega, he graduated from Mercer University with a Bachelor of Arts. In his later life he became an ordained Baptist Minister. Mr. Herring, became a devoted educator and counsellor primarily in the military field.

For three years John Herring served in the United States Air Force in Japan and Korea during the Korean conflict. After his return to the United States, he joined the American Red Cross and served four years in foreign lands.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Myrtle Herring; his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Danny K. Timlake; his grand daughter, Kay Lynn Timlake; his mother, Mrs. Hans Brue of Davenport, and two aunts from Tifton, Ga.

A private burial service took place in Tifton, Ga., June 29, at 11 A.M. The service was presided over by the Reverend Gilbert Ramsey of Tifton, Ga.

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

The road to alcoholism often has its beginning in the living rooms or "dens" of American homes where teen-agers watch high-pressure TV advertising and read colorful magazine ads, both of which seek to make young people feel they can't appear suave and sophisticated unless they swill down liquor and beer.

Fact of the matter is, however, well-adjusted teenagers — and their adult counterparts as well — usually do not need alcohol in any form in order to get what they are looking for out of life.

Psychiatrists regard alcoholism as a "fire escape" to permit people temporarily to flee from burning inner desires.

Thus, an awkward high schooler's inability to carry on comfortably at a party — or another timid teen-ager's failure to win friends — makes him feel conspicuous or ashamed. This may cause him to turn to beer or liquor so he can fit in with the herd and boldly "act like a man." Actually, of course, this young-ster is merely acting the part of the sheep.

Humiliation, shame, and inner fears often goad the young person into taking a cowardly road of flight instead of bravely facing up to whatever problem besets him.

Lack of social or athletic skills or dread of being drafted into the Army may coerce the timid teen-ager into vainly trying to get courage out of a bottle or beer can.

Older married men may try to hide from their terror of impotence by cuddling their stein of beer instead of their wives.

To effect a permanent "cure" for alcoholism, it is necessary to put out that burning inner terror or shame. For once the fire is quenched, the victim doesn't need any more "fire escape!"

In other words, the basic cause of the alcoholism must be found before the victim can be rehabilitated. Actually, there is no "cure" as such. Once an individual is an alcoholic, he can never drink again if he is to maintain sobriety. Thus the word "rehabilitated" is more fitting to describe the alcoholic who has returned to sobriety.

This is the job of Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program with its 56-bed in-patient hospital at Avon Park plus five out-patient clinics located at Miami, Tampa, Orlando, Jacksonville and Pensacola.

Trained psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, counselors, and chaplains seek to uncover what is "bugging" each patient. When this is brought out into the open, rehabilitation and a return to a normal life of sobriety is often just around the corner.

FARP's job is not only to treat alcoholics, but also to do all it can to prevent alcoholism through its far reaching educational program.

Winter Guest Club News

Shuffling

Every evening that it does not rain several courts are full of players, improving their game. Mostly on the first four courts.

Wednesday evening was tournament and 16 players turned up to play. Kate McAlexander and Jennie Baker won in the main event over Ruth Jordan and Jim Brown. Consolation winners were Chris Cabezas and Gertrude Fensterman with Ruth Robinson and George Ormiston the runners-up.

Card Games

With three tables in play on Monday in pinochle high scores went to James Yandell with 790 and A. McAlexander with 750.

Pot Luck

It was like old settlers week at the Club House on Thursday evening the Fourth of July, when 53 folks gathered together for a pot luck supper. It seems many had not seen each other for some time.

Tom Clarke returned thanks for the bountiful supper and for the companionship of friends.

Martha Richmond was there, an old time member, who now lives at Plymouth Harbor in Sarasota. She was here visiting Grace Krenerick for several days.

There were several guests who plan on joining the Club next year.

We wished the Clay Kulls a happy vacation on their three-week trip to Europe. And also to Vonna Beall, who plans a 15-day trip to Hawaii.

Mabel Cabezas was celebrating her birthday, and she brought a delicious cake decorated with tiny flags.

As it rained outside, the folks inside played cards after the long tables had been cleared away.

The Blaine Kerrs and the Tom Clarkes were in charge of arrangements.

Dances

The sound of music wafts out onto the courts every Monday and Friday evenings when the dancers are enjoying the dancing.

News Exchange

Judy and Blaine Kerr celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary Saturday the 6th. This was announced on the radio along with several others. In the drawing, much to their surprise and pleasure, they won the flower arrangement of pink carnations and glads.

The Club extends its sympathy to Charles Fenstermaker in the loss of his wife, Nettie, this past week.

Grace and Zeno Warner are now located in the same trailer court in Clyde, Ohio as they were in last year. They have visited the Keith Debos of that city and found them very busy with their gardening.

Ray and Lois Johnson are now in their cottage on Georgian Bay in Canada. They have as their guests their son, Don and family, who are building a cottage nearby.

Paul Swearingen writes from Royal Oak, Mich., that Mrs. Dorris Bolton, a winter visitor in Avon Park, passed away June 26 at Northfield, Mass. from cancer. He states she was complaining of a pain in her shoulder when she left Avon Park but thought very little about it. She was ill eight weeks. Her many friends will be saddened by this news. Paul also reports that it is cool in the North and plenty of rain, very poor boating weather.

Avon Park Man Receives Promotion

Sgt. Roy A. Kirby, U. S. Air Force was promoted to Staff Sgt. June 1. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Kirby, Lake Wales, former residents of Avon Park.

Sgt. Kirby has been in the Air Force 3½ years and for the past 14 months has been serving overseas at Taiwan, Republic of China. He is attached to the 2165 3rd Det. Comm. Sq.

Kirby has received orders to return to the States in September and will receive his discharge from McChord AFB, Seattle, Wash.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Word has been received from our friends in the North. Bess Raas is much better and is enjoying her new Chevrolet Impala, at Shell Lake, Wis. The Floyd Stevens are very busy and well. Edith is canning the goodies that Floyd is harvesting, and just finished planting what will be a colorful flower garden. Paul Roth is feeling better, but has decided to have his operation as soon as the doctor sets the date, rather than wait a few years.

Mrs. LaRue Longanecker is having active fun helping care for a total of 7 children during her days visiting in Brighton, Mich., with granddaughter, Carolyn. She will be leaving for Maryland with her daughter, Delores, soon. Don Longanecker and Martha spent the weekend working in his mother's yard, and in a few weeks, they will join La Rue in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Valentine are leaving for a vacation this weekend.

We now officially wish Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hulse good luck in their new home, and will be going north soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Krontz are now spending some time in their small trailer at Craig Lake, north of Coldwater, Mich., where they are having rain and cold weather. It was great to hear from them and the good news that they were able to sell one of their homes after much work, painting, etc. They are anticipating their return to Florida this Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coady visited with Flo's brother, Gilbert Lacroix at Lake Worth on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Surprise visitors at the Lawrence Robinson's home on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Marino, of Highwood, Ill. They are spending their vacation on Treasure Island.

Please remember Mrs. Robert Gibb in your prayers, and cards would be a bit of cheer to her. She thinks of all her neighbors and friends in the park, looking to the days when they return.

A "New Look" is very apparent around our shuffleboard courts, with new sod grass, and white stone along one side, while our new benches rest on the green grass. The flowers are beautiful at this time of the year, as are many of the trees. The Robinsons are getting a little more sunshine now, since the "old pine tree" was cut down, but there will be less cleaning next spring of pine needles. Now to fill in that empty space with something.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keys, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stotts, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peffer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Riha, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hardy and Mrs. Fannie Reinke.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Calvert were in Lake Placid last Sunday morning where Mr. Calvert conducted the services at St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal Church in the absence of Dr. J. B. Bernardin who is on vacation during July.

Antleys Attend School Reunion In Dothan, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Antley and daughter, Joyce have returned from a two week vacation that began in Dothan, Ala., June 8, when they attended the 30 year class reunion of Mrs. Antley's graduating class. While in Dothan, they visited Mrs. Antley's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler.

The reunion attended by 18 of the original seniors and their spouses touring their old Alma Mater, Cottonwood High School, Cottonwood, Ala.

A banquet was held followed by a delightful program. After much reminiscing and fellowship, each member was presented a class book with highlights of each ones life, their home address, and pictures.

The next reunion is planned for 1970.

The Antley's motored on to Atlanta, Ga., where they camped at Stone Mountain, before driving through the Smoky Mountains. The highlights of their mountain trip was a guided tour through the Tuckaleechee Caverns.

Business meeting at 7:30 P.M. The public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Lindsay.

STATE BUYS BILLS

Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., today announced that Florida has spent $26.9 million on U. S. Treasury bills which will earn more than half a million dollars when they mature later this year.

CANAL WORK MOVING

More than 62 per cent of the entire span of the 185-mile-long Cross Florida Barge Canal between Jacksonville and Yankeetown has been completed, with work now in progress along a 16-mile stretch in the Oklawaha River from South Palatka to the Eureka area.

ANOTHER SURVEY

Information about employment will be obtained in a survey of households here the week of July 15, Director Thomas W. McWhirter of the Census Bureau's regional office in Atlanta announced. Mrs. Christine Oates is the interviewer.

VOLUME XLIV NUMBER 38 AVON PARK, FLORIDA 33825 — THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1968 GL 3-4351 GL 3-4355 10c PER COPY

DR. HELEN WILLIAMS, Medical Director, FARP, (center) answers the questions raised by Representatives Richard Bird and Maxine Baker after the legislators toured the treatment center for alcoholics in Avon Park this week. Dr. Williams handled all queries pertaining to the medical complications in treating alcoholics.

Georgia Firm Low Bidder On Housing Project

Bids on the new housing project were taken at City Hall yesterday and received by James Heim, architect, Avon Park and Roland Sellew, associate architect from Sarasota.

Lowest bidder was the Piedmont Construction Co. of Vidalia, Ga. of $1,719,583.00. The highest bid received from Hutter & Dethrimk, Rockledge, Fla., $1,961,281.00.

The Housing Authority committee will meet with the mayor and the architects at Griffin's Restaurant July 23 at 7 P.M. to go over the bids

Nurserymen Meet In Avon Park

Members of the Florida Citrus Nurserymen's Association met at the Jacaranda Hotel Thursday, July 11. Representatives from nine of the largest citrus nurseries in the state heard talks by research workers of the Citrus Experiment Station, Ft. Pierce Station.

Dr. Mort Cohen spoke on the topic "Performance of Trees with Exocortis in a Rootstock Trial." He was followed by Dr. David Calvert speaking on "A New Look at Murcott Decline." Dr. Robert C. Bullock told the group that his experiments to find a successful systemic insecticide for aphid control had produced 2 promising materials but the cost was prohibitive.

Dr. Calvert wound up the program with a detailed description of Project SWAP, a cooperative project between the Citrus Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Following the program the group of 23 had luncheon at the hotel.

Member nurseries represented at the meeting were: Ward's Nursery, Avon Park; Lake Garfield Nurseries, Bartow; Thompson Nursery, Winter Haven; Adams Nursery, Haines City; Florida Ponkan Corporation and Dunn Citrus Nursery, Apopka; McMullen Nursery, Tampa; Hart Nursery, Groveland and Hilltop Nursery, Tavares.

Also attending were assistant county agents Tom Oswalt, Hillsboro, and Artis Carmichael, Polk, and Polk County Agent Jackson Haddox; Agricultural Extension Citriculturist Fred Lawrence; and Florida Field Report publisher William Deltenbeck. The Florida Division of Plant Industry was represented by Paul Frierson, Jesse Denmark, Don Bridges and Charles Youtsey.

NEARLY 4 MILLION SALES

Sales of merchandise in Highlands County during May totaled $3,702,286.70, with $2,180,553.96 subject to the four per cent sales tax. A total of $85,156.33 in tax was paid to the Florida Revenue Commission for the month from Highlands County, according to J. Ed Straughn, director.

Board Ups Taxes 1.5 Mills; Budget Set At $4.3 Million

Highlands County school board has raised school taxes from 6.5 to 8 mills for the coming year—a boost of 1.5 mills, which is earmarked for school construction.

Total budget for the 1968-69 school year will be $4,330,654 or approximately 25 per cent higher than the 1967-68 year just concluded. State funds to this county are up almost 200 per cent for 1968 and account for most of the increase in the budget.

Public hearing and final approval of the budget is set for 9:30 A.M. on Monday, July 29.

The 1.5 mill increase is expected to net the county school board over $300,000 in the coming year. Increased state aid will enable the county to remove race track tax income from the current budget and sell the $1 million in bonds for school construction.

This bond money, plus the new county taxes and accumulated state construction funds will give the county about $1.8 million to start a pay-as-you-go construction program. Just over $400,000 of this will be needed for the first phase of the Lake Placid Elementary School slated for construction this Fall. About $150,000 will be needed for the last payment on the Hopewell Cafetorium.

Superintendent George F. Douglass believes that purchase of sites for new high schools in Avon Park and Sebring will be top new projects for the year.

Final touches were put on the budget and the tax levy set at a special session of the school board Monday night. For more than two hours the board debated the best method for financing school construction.

Wanted Bond Issue

R. L. Padgett of Avon Park fought all the way for a bond issue and in the end voted against the 1.5 mill hike in district millage. On a roll call vote he stood alone with John Wirick, Ted Cason, E. Ray Wells and Chairman Henry Bailey recorded voting for the new levy.

Padgett argued, "This board is sick of the poor buildings situation, but I am not sure the county as a whole is fed up enough to accept an increase in millage. I think a bond issue to spread the cost over the next 20 years and the people who will be using the buildings is the answer."

G. Franklyn Ward, who has been nominated to the seat Padgett leaves in December, joined Board Members Wirick and Wells in cautious support of the new levy. They reasoned that the new levy would enable the board to make an immediate "start or meeting our greatest need."

In the meantime a new referendum on a bond issue could be promoted. If the people understand that the 1.5 levy could be shifted to service the bonds, I think the public will approve the bond issue and the faster, more economical construction of schools," Ward said.

Half in jest Wells suggested that the construction levy should be 2 mills "so we can cut taxes when we sell the bond issue."

To keep a pledge made to the county commissioners, the board set the county-wide current levy (on which the commissioners pay the assessment) and collection fees at 3.3 mills. The new levy was added to the district millage to bring it to 4.7. The school board pays all costs of levying and collecting the district millage.

In Avon Park the board must again levy a .0125 tax to pay for an old construction bond issue. This levy pre-dates homestead exemption and results in several tax bills less than $1.

County Support Up

County taxes will support $1,586,000 of the 1968-69 budget. Virtually all the increase over the 1967-68 support goes into the building fund.

The $2,165,297 from the state includes a $261,000 increase for classroom teachers and sends the teacher salary budget to $2,083,380.

Special legislation and accreditation requirements direct that the Superintendent's salary must be at least 10 per cent above the wages of the highest paid teacher. The exact 10 per cent would boost Douglass' pay to $16,362, but the school board voted Monday to round off the Superintendent's pay at $16,500.

Douglass, who said he had been going in the hole on a $75 per month county travel budget, will also get an increase in this allowance.

Commissioners Reject Request For Money To Build Monument

Tax contribution to a civic project was back on the Highlands County commission agenda this week—and getting the same negative answer.

This time the Allied Veterans Council of Highlands County was denied financial aid in erecting a monument to honor Americans killed in defense of the nation.

The council, which represents all veterans organizations in the county, had sent a letter to the county commission asking for aid and suggesting the courthouse lawn as a suitable site for a monument.

County Attorney Hue E. Nunnallee unhappily advised the commissioners, "It is embarrassing for this board to be on record as refusing to give money for a monument honoring men and women who have died for their country. But state law plainly forbids giving tax money to civic and private organizations for even the best of purposes."

The commissioners voted to send the veterans council a letter endorsing plans for a monument and offering to confer about a site on courthouse grounds.

Hospital Criticized

Clerk Earl Rich read to the board a letter he had sent to Highlands General Hospital in which he took sharp issue with the county's being billed for 20 days of hospitalization for a woman later committed to a mental hospital.

In the letter Rich stated that the patient's husband, who signed the request for an incompetency hearing, is employed with wages of $600 per month, the woman is not a legal resident of Highlands County, and he strongly objected to alteration of the hospital's records to indicate that bills would be paid by the commissioners. He exhibited a copy of the billing from the hospital which showed changes which Rich said appeared "to be an after-thought." The board endorsed the clerk's action in returning the bill unpaid.

The board acknowledged receipt of a telegram from an Avon Park mobile home owner protesting any increase in garbage rates for that region.

The commissioners noted the telegram had been sent and received after the hour advertised for the public hearing on the rate increase (which was granted), and ordered a copy of the complaint sent to the franchise holder, Wendell Roberts.

The commission authorized the clerk to advertise a tentative county budget next week and set August 1 for public hearing on the budget. Figures for some funds have not been completed, Chairman Ben McGee said, and the board refused to make the budget public piecemeal.

"We'll advertise the budget on July 25, and the public will have a week for study before the hearing on August 1," the Chairman said.

Bank Rejoices Over 94c Being Removed

Cheers may sound at Avon Citrus Bank when the new Highlands County school budget goes into operation—and wipes out a 94 cent account long a nuisance to the Avon Park bank.

The 94 cent balance was all that was left in a special construction fund. By law banks cannot charge government agencies service fees, so the cost of maintaining the account was falling on Avon Citrus Bank, more than $1 per year, bank officials said.

Public school bookkeeping is not simple, funds are not moved from one account to another easily. But when the 1968-69 budget was presented the school board, Finance Officer Robert H. Stowell proudly announced that he had found a way to move the 94 cents into the general fund.

At its July meeting the school board approved placement of time deposits with Highlands County banks. The four banks in the county had shared in a loan of a little more than half-million dollars for school construction.

The banks bought state school bonds at 4.5 percent interest after large banking concerns had scorned the low interest bond issue. The Highlands school board has received proceed from the bond sales, but will not need the money immediately for construction. The money is on deposit with Highlands banks—at 4.5 percent interest.

Clifton Crews, Jr. Receives Army Commission

Clifton E. Crews, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Crews of Avon Park was commissioned as a 2nd Lt. in the U. S. Army on June 8, at the University of Georgia. Lt. Crews is married to the former Dottie Kay Eubanks of Tifton, Ga.

Lt. Crews graduated from APHS in 1962. In June of 1964 he received an associate of Science degree from Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College, Tifton, Ga. In June of 1966 and 1968 he was graduated from the University of Georgia with a Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degree respectively.

At present he is pursuing a Doctorate degree in Soil Chemistry at the University of Georgia and expects to finish in June 1969.

Lt. Crews' record while a cadet at the University of Georgia was one of credit to himself, his family and to his university. While attending ROTC basic camp at Fort Knox, Ky. during summer of 1966 he was ranked as the second most outstanding cadet for the entire camp of 3600. In Spring of 1967, he was selected to the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, an honorary organization for outstanding cadets throughout the United States.

During the summer of 1967 he attended the advanced ROTC summer camp at Ft. Bragg, N. C. and again was selected as second most outstanding cadet for the entire summer camp and was awarded the association of the U. S. Army ROTC medal.

He was the first cadet of the nations oldest state chartered universities ever to be selected as one of the top five at either of the summer camps.

During the fall of 1967 he was awarded the title of Distinguished Military student at the annual military awards day. He was also awarded the Counter-Guerrilla Commanders trophy for his outstanding contribution in Counter-Guerrilla Warfare.

At the commissioning exercises June 8, 1968 he was awarded the title of Distinguished Military Graduate.

Year Closes With $53,233

The 1967-68 school year had many problems, but financially it was a success. The county schools entered the 1968-69 fiscal year with a cash balance of $53,233.

This is $53,233 more than the cash balance on hand when the 1967-68 year began. About half of this year's larger balance can be traced to expenditures not made during the hectic days of February when many of the county's highest paid teachers walked away from their jobs and paychecks.

Jr. College Bid Opening Date Changed

At the request of the campus architect, bid opening for phase one of South Florida Junior College construction had been changed from August 8 to August 22. Invitations to bid went out this week.

William Frizzell, Fort Myers architect who is supervising construction, said contractors had asked for additional time to prepare figures.

The Highlands County school board voted this week to extend the time for bidding. Board Member John Wirick, who is a builder, observed, "A month isn't enough time to get together a bid that is going to run over a million dollars."

Bids will be opened at the courthouse in School Superintendent G. F. Douglass' office. The time has been set for 2:30 P.M.

Legislative Sub-Committees Study FARC Enlargement

Two legislative sub-committees met at the headquarters of the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program (Monday, July 15) to receive a briefing on the current activities and future goals of the state agency.

The Sub-Committees on State Instiutions and Mental Health, chaired by Representatives Leon McDonald and Maxine Baker, respectively, met with FARP Administrator Joseph C. Ziesenheim and other agency personnel.

The legislators heard a report from S. George Clarke, FARP Director of Community Services, emphasizing community responsibility in coping with alcoholism. Clarke said, "With an estimated 180,000 alcoholics in the state, the local community has to become involved. FARP was designed to give treatment to a small segment of the alcoholic population and give guidance to municipalities in developing their own treatment programs." Clarke went on to say, "Many alcoholics can not leave their jobs or families to come to Avon Park, but could participate in local therapy programs."

Representative McDonald praised the meeting and said the sub-committee's final recommendation would be made around the first of the year.

McDonald added, "This agency is one of the greatest in the state and I think it is wonderful that they are able to put capable men back on the payroll."

Other legislators in attendance were Representatives Jim Tillman, Richard Bird, Ralph Tyre, Ken Myers, and L. S. Campbell, and Senator Wiz Barrow.

Highlands County Judge Mervin Rehrer met with the sub-committees to discuss the involuntary commitment of alcoholics.

The two legislative sub-committees are part of the Legislative Council's Interim Committee on Mental Health and Retardation, and Welfare and State Institutions.

Selling Security Rough Job Says Civil Defense Director

"Selling security is rough, mostly because the people in this country have never known anything but security," Rick Kasten said Tuesday in an emergency preparedness institute designed to sell Highlands County's public officials on civil defense.

Approximately two dozen officials and community leaders attended the three-hour institute held at the courthouse annex assembly room. James Lawson, Highlands County civil defense director, was in charge of local arrangements.

Guest leaders included Robert Kohler, director of the civil defense extension department of Florida State University; L. Richard (Rick) Kasten, coordinator for the FSU civil defense department. Leland Peyton, community shelter planning officer for Florida civil defense agency, and J. E. Buchanan, area director for Florida civil defense agency.

Capt. Michael Waters gave the invocation. Representatives of Red Cross, Salvation Army, the county sheriff's department, city police, county commissioners were represented in the session Tuesday.

Buchanan pointed out that state law requires the county commission to appoint a civil defense director, establish and maintain a civil defense and emergency resources planning program "to serve in time of disaster from natural and accidental causes as well as enemy action."

In times of natural disaster responsibility for providing food and clothing for people in community shelters falls first to the Red Cross, Buchanan explained.

In case of an air raid, state and county welfare agencies will have primary responsibility for providing food and clothings for those persons living in shelters.

All the speakers emphasized that their most difficult job is convincing people that civil defense is possible and desirable.

County Sales Tax Reach $104,043.93 In June

Sales tax collections in Highlands County during June of 1968 totaled a record $104,043.93, a 59.75 per cent change from June 1967 collections of $65,125.89.

It was pointed out that the additional penny on the sales tax this year helped materially in raising collections, but that there still was considerable increase in taxes collected, representing increased business in the area.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

It would appear that our civic minded spirited citizen, Mr. Clarence King, is once again passing out his usual half-truths and insinuations. Perhaps, it is because he did not take the time to read the proposed lease which covered only the airport hangar and not the whole airport as he insinuated.

The question arises as to where Mr. King got his information as to what the lease contained, for he certainly did not attend any of the public meetings which were held concerning the lease.

Is it possible he took only newspaper reports of what Mayor James Doerr said was in the lease? If he accepted these reports for it he was somewhat misinformed for Mayor Doerr stated publicly at an open meeting that the lease was in the city hall eight days before he knew it existed. Had Mr. King attended the special meeting on June 14, 1968, which was open to the public, or read the minutes which were available the next day, he would have known what was reportedly kept secret, mainly the terms of the proposed lease.

Shelley Marrs, incidentally, made known his offer to three councilmen on June 12, 1968 immediately following the civil defense meeting at the Florida Power Lounge. It was suggested that Mr. Marrs have a lease prepared so that it could be considered by the council.

It seems as if Mr. King read, or was either informed, only as far as the second half of the first sentence of the minutes of the special meeting, or the last half of the fourth paragraph of the lease, for thus far it did indeed state rental fee of $50 per month. Had he read a small portion more he would have discovered to his astonishment that it also mentioned that Mr. Marrs was to build a $10,000 Dixie Steel leanto onto the hangar, which would immediately become city property. The leanto was to contain two restrooms and a 10 x 18 foot pilot lounge (the original understanding with the council was the leanto was to be insulated, air conditioned, equipped with public phone for local calls, and was to be maintained in a sanitary condition, all at the expense of Mr. Marrs).

In addition to these requirements, Mr. Marrs also agreed to pay the city three cents per gallon for all 80-87 octane gasoline sold, two cents a gallon for each gallon of 100-130 octane and one cent per gallon for jet fuel. The city was also to receive 25 per cent of all rental and tie down fees collected.

It is realized, that at present the income from gasoline sales would not be an outstanding amount, but it was hoped that in the near future the income from fuel sales could exceed what the city got in other renumerations.

Reports reveal that Kissimmee sells 4,000 gallons a month which would, assuming it was all high test gas, produce a revenue of $80 a month. Sebring reportedly sells 5,000 gallons a month on the average. It has been stated and presumbly truthfully that low test gas is sold mostly at the airport at present.

If the city were to borrow $10,000 to build the leanto at 6 per cent interest and amortize it over 20 years, it would cost $71.65 per month, plus an additional cost to air condition the pilot lounge, build restrooms, and clean and maintain the complete operation.

I, also see great possibility for our airport, with Disneyland locating about 80 miles to the north, especially if the city adheres to the federal regulations concerning the airport which Mr. King should be aware of. FAA requires that "all moneys received from the airport as revenue must be put back into the airport." Now, since the present council took over in October, an airport account has been established showing revenue collected, and if spent how it was spent. This account, like all other records at the city hall, are open for public inspection by the citizens of Avon Park.

Of all people, Mr. King, should know that the work at the airport could not be done until federal funds were actually released by the government. The city was ready to take bids in February, but the FAA advised the city, that funds would not be released until after July 1, 1968. Only this week FAA called and said the fund grant letter would be issued to the city within the next week, and when issued the city must still go through the red-tape of making application for this money. Application for the grant, not the actual money, is all that has been filed by any council to date.

The city iis also faced with a problem created by a previous council which sold part of the airport property, namely at the end of the runway which Mr. King would have improved, but which the city no longer owns. The present council is now negotiating to purchase this desperately needed property back at many times what it was sold for by a previous council.

It is possible that Mr. King does not recall that the previous council of which he was president, unanimously approved and had drawn the present lease on the airport with Mr. Marrs, for Mr. King states, "I have never thought the present operator is the answer."

The question now arises, since Mr. King himself has admitted that another firm was interested in the airport, why then was this lease signed with Mr. Marrs on Sept. 28, 1967, just four days prior to the end of Mr. King's term.

Perhaps, again Mr. King has forgotten that the boat company he was in on the negotiations with was the Aluminum Division of the Orlando Clipper Company and not the Critchfield Boat Works which is presently locating at our airport.

Incidently, I was in the City Clerk's office the Wednesday afternoon when Mr. Crews, our City Clerk, called Avon Citrus Bank and made arrangements for an appointment late that P.M. for Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Reck to meet with Mr. Burnett and Mr. Critchfield of the Critchfield Boat Works.

Mr. King has made a point of the airport hangar not being budgeted, in case he has forgotten the golf course was not budgeted either for the 1966-67 year, and yet while he was president of the council it cost the city $23,131.60 in capitol investment up to October 1, 1967, and $31,620.28 to November 4, 1967. This does not include expenses for operation which have occured since November 4, 1967.

Couple Exchange Wedding Vows In Methodist Church Saturday

Miss Devorah Ann Reddick and Clifford Roy Valentine exchanged nuptial vows Saturday night, 7:30 o'clock in First Methodist Church, Rev. Addison G. Hardee read the double-ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Devon Reddick, Avon Park and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Valentine of Titusville.

Soloist Richard D. Reddick, Jr., accompanied by the organist, Edna Jackson, sang, "More". The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden'," "Be My Love," and "O Perfect Love."

The altar was arranged cathedral style, with 15 branched candelabra, white tapers in the choir loft. Two large fern balls and two tall baskets of white gladis with yellow and white shasta daisies were placed in front of a background of greenery. A focal point of the setting was the gold cross placed in front of the white satin prayer bench. Relatives pews were marked with white satin and tulle bows.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown made of silk organza and trimmed with reembroidered Chantilly lace and seed pearls. A-line style, long sleeves with insets of the lace, ending in a point over the hand. Her detachable of Watteau train was held at the shoulders by a bow, lace insertions matching the gown extended down the sides and across the end of the train, which was lined with net. Her bouffant elbow length silk illusion veil was held by a crown of seed pearls, centered with wedding bells and topped with a flower of seed pearls. One tiny tear drop fell on her forehead. She carried a cascade fashioned with white miniature carnations leather fern, white streamers.

Mrs. Richard D. Reddick, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride from Tampa, served as matron of honor. She wore a floor length aqua dress of silk linen, A-line style, square neck, low back, banded with wide Venetian lace around the bottom. For her headpiece she wore a matching bow set with flowers and white accessories. She carried a nose gay of white shasta daisies.

Miss Carol Ann Childress was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were, Mrs. John Hopkins, Lakeland, Miss Jennifer Thompson, Suitland, Md., Miss Dory and Cindy Valentine, sisters of the bridegroom, of Titusville. They were gowned identical to the matron of honor. Their headpieces were matching bows without flowers. They all carried nosegays of yellow shasta daisies.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece pink lace dress, over taffeta, sheath style, matching coat and pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of pink rose buds.

Mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of yellow lace, white accessories and a corsage of yellow rose buds.

Roy Valentine served his son as best man. Ushers were Scott Harris, John Hopkins, Ray Kingsbury, Charles Orth all from Lakeland and Dale Hunsucker from Raleigh, N. C. Randy Reddick, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

For their wedding trip to the Bahamas the bride wore a two-piece white linen butcher boy collared sheath with brown coat and white accessories.

The bridegroom graduated in May from Florida Southern College, Lakeland and will report to Newport, R. I. for Naval Officers candidate school. After three years he will receive a commission in the Navy. The bride expects to join him in the near future.

Reception Follows

The reception was held in Wesley Hall of the church. Mrs. W. A. Kindel and Mrs. T. Hayes Maxwell served as greeters for the guests in the absence of a receiving line.

Miss Holly Reddick attended the bride's book, which was placed on a table covered with a floor length lace trimmed cloth. Miss Candy Reddick passed out the rice bags.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered on a long table covered with a lace bordered, full pleated floor length cloth. The cake was topped with a miniature bridel couple in a circle of white flowers and bells. Three-branched crystal taper holders flanked either side of the cake. The punch bowl on an alternate table was surrounded with yellow and white daisies and greenery. Nuts and mints were served with the punch and cake.

Mrs. Hubbard Biggs and Mrs. Earl Rich served the punch, and Mrs. Willard Griffin and Mrs. Cecil Ferguson, the cake. Assisting were, Mrs. George Kelsey, Mrs. Fred Reddick, Mrs. Virgil Still.

Highlands Home Economics Agent Resigns

Highlands County commissioners have accepted the resignation of Mrs. Imogene D. Ritenburgh as county extension home economics agent for Highlands County.

On August 1, Mrs. Ritenburgh will take up new duties as the home economics agent in Clay County. Her office will be in Green Cove Springs.

In a letter to the commissioners Mrs. Ritenburgh said the Clay County post pays a much larger salary and has a lighter work load; she will have a full time assistant agent there who will carry much of the responsibility for work with 4-H Clubs. Mrs. Ritenburgh's duties will include work with eight Homemakers Clubs and two special interest groups.

Mrs. Ritenburgh come to the Highlands County agriculture extension office in May, 1964. Since then the 4-H Club program has been strengthened and a 4-H Council for both boys and girls organized. The Extension Homemakers Council and the County Extension Home Economics Advisory Committee have been active for three years.

In January, 1966, Mrs. Ritenburgh helped to organize the County Nutrition Committee.

Dona Sue Pounds and John Murray Announce Engagement

Barbara Gregory -Wendell Smith Exchange Wedding Vows July 4

The wedding ceremony of Barbara Ann Gregory and Wendell Leroy Smith was performed by the Rev. Thomas B. Sleepe on July 4, 6 P.M at the Church of God.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregory, Sr., of Avon Park, formerly from Katonah, N. Y. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. D. Smith of Avon Park, who is now stationed at the United States Army Base at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white lace street length dress. Her waist length veil of illusion was fashioned with a crown of white roses. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with lily of the valley.

Organist was Mrs. Miller of Avon Park.

Reception

The wedding reception was held in the social hall of the church.

The three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom was centered on a table covered with white. Punch was served with the cake. The social hall was decorated with wedding bells and crepe paper.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Stella Adams and daughter Janet, and grandmother and aunt of the bride from Katonah, N. Y.

Large Crowd Expected To Attend Fish Fry

Between 700 and 800 persons are expected to attend a fish fry and safety demonstration August 16 at Sebring Air Terminal.

The safety demonstration is on the use of the Auto Stabilizer, and the gathering is co-sponsored by Highlands County Farm Bureau and the Highlands County Sheriff's Rescue Unit.

"This stabilizer is attachable to any auto," said Norman Todd, president of Highlands County Farm Bureau, "and it greatly reduces the hazard of skidding or spinning out. You have to see this device in use to be able to believe what it will do to prevent losing control of a motor vehicle."

Tickets are on sale for the fish fry to the general public at below the cost of the meal. The fish will be prepared by Milton Parnell and the sheriff's unit and will be served between 5 and 7 P.M.

Leon Tolar of the Farm Bureau and Al Roepstorff of the Sheriff's rescue unit are in charge of sales. Tickets are available also from Farm Bureau directors.

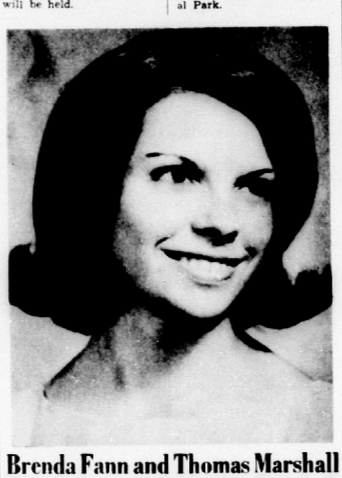

Carl McIntyre, general chairman of the event, stressed the importance of safe driving and the desire to both organizations to promote the use of the stabilizers in vehicles as a public service.

"With this in mind," he said, "the meal is priced below cost so that a large crowd will attend the demonstration and hence become aware of the safety feature.

George Cappe, safety director of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation, will demonstrate the hazards of driving on a slick surface at the Air Terminal using a car without the stabilizer and then using a car equipped with the Brown Auto Stabilizer, which is available at cost thru the Highlands County Farm Bureau.

These vehicles will be run thru a series of tests that will make you nervous even in the grandstand," declared McIntyre.

"Both the Farm Bureau and the Sheriff's Rescue Unit are eager to have the general public join in the food and fellowship and observe the Safe Driving Demonstration. Bring the family out for a feed that will cost less than can be prepared at home and for a hair raising dispiay of auto safety tests."

Brenda Fann and Thomas Marshall To Exchange Wedding Vows

Brenda Sue Fann daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fann, Frostproof and Sgt. Thomas H. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Marshall of Avon Park will exchange wedding vows Sept. 7 in the First Baptist Church of Frostproof. The bride elect is the niece of Mrs. Ray Cook and Joe Fann of Avon Park.

Brenda Sue graduated from Frostproof High School June 1968 and is employed in the Wilson Insurance Agency in Frostproof. The bridegroom-elect graduated in the 1965 class from Avon Park High School and is now serving with the United States Marine Corp., stationed in Jacksonville.

The couple plan to make their home in Jacksonville.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Welcome to newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Biggers from Detroit, Mich. They are planning on spending the winter with us and are anticipating a happy new life, close to their long-time friends, Lucille and Franklin Halfacer.

Word has been received that the Winklers have arrived safely in North Carolina and are enjoying living at the Rose Cottage, only 2 blocks south of the Roy Girtens and Blaine Nieukirks, who are fine.

Our sympathy is with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBeth in the recent loss of Robert's sister and her husband, who passed away only three weeks apart. Martha's mother is recuperating from a fractured pelvis and is now using a walker. We do wish her strength and better health.

The McBeth's have been putting some mileage on their new LeSabre Buick, visiting with the Charles Brushes, Harmon Heffners and the Faulkners. All are fine except Gladys Heffner who is nursing a broken toe. Hope that isn't too painful.

It is always good to hear from our friends, the Warren Byrers, who tell us about harvesting the wheat, in between showers of rain, as well as other crops that are usually grown by farmers, on the side. Like sweet corn, that the raccoons like!

I hear that there was a carry-in dinner at Lake Wawassee to visit with the Orval Marshalls. Participating in this festive occasion was Mr. and Mrs. Welcome Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Weidmans, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wolcott, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roth, La Rue Longanecker, and Byrers were invited too, but the work called too strongly.

Remember to attend the Avon Park Summer Picnic which will be held August 14th at the Alva Thompson Farm. Directions are to go to Argus, Ind., get Road 10 in town, turn west on 10 to Maple Road, turn south. Take the first lane next to the church, that is where the Thompsons live. The church is on their land. Bring your table service and a well filled basket, for dinner at 12:30. Sorry, the Lawrence Robinsons won't be there, but we wish everyone of you a good time.

Kathleen Kinyon - Robert Keifling Announce Their Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic G. Kinyon announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Ann to Robert E. Keifling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert E. Keifling, Ashland, Ohio. The wedding ceremony was solemnized in Christ Episcopal Church, Westerly, R. I. on May 25.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law Ralph O. Pickering and Mrs. Ralph C. Pickering, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor.

Mrs. Keifling is a graduate of Avon Park High School and Shapero School of Nursing, Detroit, Mich. She is a licensed Practical Nurse at Lawrence & Memorial Hospital in New London, Conn.

Mr. Keifling is a graduate of Ashland High School, Ashland, Ohio and 1st Class Machinest Mate aboard the nuclear submarine USS Dace.

The reception was held in the parish house following the ceremony. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rupert E. Keifling and David, parents and brother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Frederic Kinyon, mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant and family, Lansing, Mich., sister and brother- in-law of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Pickering and family, Bridgeport, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren Alwood, Groton, Conn., formerly of Avon Park.

The newlyweds temporary residence will be in New London, Conn.

Flaming Arrow Council Honors Two Scouts

At a vesper service on July 9th, at the Flaming Arrow Scout Reservation, east of Lake Wales, memorial recognition was given to Maurice Page, former Scout Executive for this area and to Howard D. Todd, former Scout Master at Lake Wales, now deceased.

A flag pole, at the headquarters, was dedicated to the memory of Maurice Page, with a flag raising ceremony, an appropriate bronze plaque and remarks by several of his former associates.

A room in the Jenkins Lodge was furnished for small group meetings and dedicated to the memory of Howard D. Todd. Bob Kilburn, Director of Research for Florida Citrus Canners Cooperative reviewed his association in scouting with Howard Todd.

Both dedications were made possible by memorial donations to the Flaming Arrow Council by friends of the deceased honorees, following their death. Members of the families and friends of both families attended the ceremony. Howard D. Todd was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Todd of Avon Park.

Dedication ceremonies were held by the flagpole next to the camp headquarters. Floyd Bowen, council president presided.

Flag raising by Scout Campers and Vickie Johnson, (Mrs. Paige's granddaughter); Prayer by camp chaplain, John E. Denmark; Maurice Paige Memorial dedication by Norton Agey; Howard Todd Memorial by Robert Kilburn; Visit Todd Memorial Room and Jenkins Lodge; Tour of new campsites and Region VI, B.S.A. Woodbadge.

Ninty per cent of the people of Copenhagen, Denmark, live in apartment houses.

The coldest temperature ever recorded in Rome was 16 degrees. Des Moines, Iowa, on the same latitude, has a record of minus 27 degrees. Reason?? Des Moines isn't surrounded by water on three sides.

Sara Jane Crews and Eugene Paul Schmidt Reveal Wedding Plans

Take A Closer Look...

There's Life In Our Financial Statement!

It takes a close look, but if you imagine for a minute the many dramas of life behind each dollar on deposit or every dollar we have on loan to many, many Highlands County people, you begin to see what excitement there is to our business. Look at our statement with these thoughts in mind, and our figures take on a new meaning.

In our statement we see happy families who, with the help of a loan from First Federal, were able to buy their first home; young boys and girls proud of the growing balances in their own savings accounts; a businessman moving ahead because we helped him.

We could give names to the dollars that are shown here. We make it a point to keep that close to our customers.

You're a very important person when you save with First Federal. Serving you is our business.

Highlands Soil Conservation News

In the Highlands Soil and Water Conservation District the emphasis in the last month has changed from irrigation to drainage. For the first time in several years the flatlands are getting wet and the lakes are being refilled. Most of the lakes in the district with any sizable area of surface run-off into them are back to or above normal. Other lakes, surrounded by deep sands are slowly on the rise, but will continue for a long time.

This week the District is assisting several ranchers with water control. Among them are Dan Childs, Bobby Guthrie, Gerald Darrah, and J. M. McJunkin, all of Lake Placid. Also C. E. Crews of Avon Park, with tile drainage on citrus.

The rainfall pattern since the first of May is considerably above normal and with a continued normal rainfall for the balance of the year is expected to create considerable water management problems throughout the district.

Unfortunately it is hard to establish any control measures until the water level is down. The time to install drainage systems is in dry weather and to install irrigation is in wet weather. This is the reverse of the inclination but has proven to be very worthwhile for those who develop their long-range soil and water conservation plans. Many are still making plans for irrigation this Summer.

Among those assisted by the District this week were Ben Hill Griffin, Withers & Harshman, and Bob Wolfe.

Christian Church Women Council Hold Meeting

The Women's Council of the First Christian Church met at the parsonage Wednesday, July 10, for their regular meeting.

Circuit Court News

An Avon Park couple, implicated in burglaries ranging from Venus to Avon Park, will go on trial August 20 before Judge Clifton Kelly in Circuit Court.

The case against Nathaniel and Ocie Lee Tarver Arnold was one of several set down Monday for trial the week beginning August 19. Nathaniel is accused in breakins at the Shamrock Service Station and Maudine's Juke, Avon Park, Triangle Drivein, Sebring, and the Venus Postoffice, while his wife is accused in only the latter two.

Arrest of the pair a few weeks ago was said by the sheriff's office to have solved a rash of breakins in the area. Both are in county jail, held on $1,000 bonds each.

Judge Kelly deferred a definite date for trial of narcotics charges against John H. Major and Gertrude Henry. Major also is charged with possession of gambling equipment.

Cases set down for trial August 19 were:

Roberto Franco Dominicci, of Avon Park, accused of assault to murder Willie English who was shot in the stomach.

Walter Brown, accused of robbing Paul Bolerjack of $415. Bond was set at $10,000.

Cases set down for trial August 20 were:

Albert Jenkins, Avon Park, accused of aggravated assault by knifing Chester Thompson.

Kenneth Griffin, Avon Park, accused of murder in the second degree, using a pistol, on Robert Morgan.

Cases to be tried August 21 are:

Guillerma Rivers, assault to murder, on Willie English, at Avon Park.

J. C. Robinson, of Avon Park, robbery of $415 from Paul Bolerjack.

Guilty pleas were received from Robert James Burnett, who pleaded guilty to assault and battery and James Garner to aggravated assault. Pre-sentence investigations were ordered on both.

Richard Lathman of Wooster, Mass., pleaded guilty to unauthorized use of an automobile and was sentenced to six months in jail. He had been charged with larceny of an automobile, but pleaded guilty to the lesser charge.

Winter Guest Club News

Elizabeth Clarke — GL 3-8733

Shuffling

Naturally it rained both Wednesday and Saturday evenings, but we did have a tournament on Thursday evening under John Dickson's direction.

Winners in the main were Doc and Kate McAlexander over Tom Clarke and Ruth Robinson. Mayme Cornue and Elizabeth Clarke won in consolation with Grace Romilly and Reed Simpson the runners-up. Eighteen players on the courts.

Card Games

On Monday afternoon James Yarnieli had high score of 763 in pinochle. Sadie Benson came in second with 678. There were three tables of players.

Dances

Guests at the Jacaranda like to come and watch the folks dance. Friday evening there were 12 of them. Four were newcomrs from Miami, William Schonberg, Emma Crosby and Joseph and Hazel Kissinger.

News Exchange

The Toney Kerrs from Michigan say they had a letter from Alice Clarke from Nestor Falls, Ontario. She said Andy is feeling very good since his last surgery. Also their fishing lodge has been well filled over since the middle of May. Toney and Sarah Kerr celebrated their 51st anniversary with a family dinner.

On a card from London, England, Illeon and Clay Kull say they enjoyed the night flight to London, saw many famous buildings, toured many pubs traveling with such a nice group, so will enjoy their vacation. And from Germany they send greetings to all members.

James and Eva Chamberlain are visiting friends in Plymouth, Ind. They met the Alva Thompsons on the street. The Thompsons live about five files from Plymouth. The Chamberlains called on the Welcome Millers, who have two shuffle courts, so, of course they played a game or two. They expect to call on the Swansons in La-Porte, Ind. Then on their way home to Avon Park, they will stop to see Mom, mouth Cave and Rock City.

The Reed Simpsons entertained his daughter and husband the Rev G. L. Patten from Danville, Ill., where Rev. Patten is the Baptist minister. With them was Sandra Reck, nine, Reed's great granddaughter.

The Library Corner

"From Highlands County Women's Republican Club—in honor of Mamie D. Eisenhauer—This Book is presented to Avon Park Library—June 1968." This is on the plaque in the back of two books—both primarily for young adults.

The first one, They Signed For Us, written by Merle Sinclair and Annabel Douglas McArthur should be read by every "red-blooded" American, both youth and adult. It is a small, compact book published in 1957 giving a thumb-nail skerch of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence. Few of us could name more than two, or the personal conditions that formed the decisions to sign this greatest statement of democratic rights and principles in history.

The second gift book, The Winter at Valley Forge, is written by F. Van Wyck Mason for young adult reading. It has been illustrated by Harper Johnson for added interest and clarity. The story of the dreadful cold, the hardships, disease, and the starvation of the Continental Army; the jealousies, ambitions, lack of cooperation of the officers are well-known. We cannot, however, fail to be reinspired. Four of the characters are fictional; the incidents, places, and the rest of the characters are historical.

The Yellow River of China (alone) carries some 3000 million tons of silt into the ocean, each year.

Extended Care Facility Terminated

The Walker Memorial Hospital distinct part Extended Care Facility will terminate participation in Health Insurance for the Aged program (Title XVIII of the Social Security Act) effective August 1, 1968. Payments will not be made by the Medicare program for covered Extended Care services furnished to patients who are admitted on or after August 1, 1968.

The above action has no relationship to regular hospital patients. Walker Memorial Hospital will continue to admit hospital patients as previously. The Medicare program will continue to provide payment for eligible hospital patients covered under the Medicare program.

The hospital will continue to give the same efficient, courteous service which it has been known in this community for more than 20 years. The staff appreciates the opportunity of serving those in the community and feels that the above action will assist in furnishing even better care to those needing acute hospital care.

Rotary Report

Reported by
RAYMOND H. STOKES

Ray Wells, Program Chairman, introduced Guy Garrett, Principal of Avon Park High School. Garrett related to the club information on the various programs currently in progress in the school system and also spoke about the '68-'69 school year plans.

The summer recreational program has progressed considerably because the needs and interest of those participating are more sophisticated. The program now includes field sports, golf, swimming, archery, teen dances, horseback riding, and trips. Seven hundred and fifty students have taken advantage of these activities.

To meet the growing academic needs of the community, remedial and accelerated programs are made available for the first time. Remedial History and English courses are being offered at Sebring High School. Thirty students are bussed daily to Sebring. A remedial and accelerated reading program is being offered at Avon Park High School daily. Supplementing this, the high school library facilities are remaining open during the summer. Five hundred seventy individuals have used the library facilities to date. Tutorial science and math programs are being offered with small group instruction to six or eight students. World History is being made available to accelerated students. A three week music program is being directed by Mickunas. Basically, this same program is being offered at the Hopewell School, including a pre-school program—not Head Start—but the school board's substitute. One hundred forty of the 180 first graders for the coming year are participating in the pre-school session. Garrett appeared to be quite pleased with the student interest and encouraged parents to have their children take advantage of the extensive recreational and academic offerings.

Garrett indicated that an effort is being made to go to a 7 period school day so that every Science course would include a lab period. He feels this is essential for 7th, 8th and 9th graders before they reach the BSCS and Chem study programs. A 7 period day would allow practically every student a study hall in which a course on "How to Study" is to be taught. A two hour Language Arts period has been proposed for the junior high grades incorporating one hour of traditional English and one hour of specialized reading designed to meet the needs of slow and accelerated students. Large group instruction resulting from a space problem was discussed. Garrett revealed that after studying test results of students who participated in large group social studies instruction, it was found that the average 8th grader progressed as much under large group as he did under medium group instruction. He also indicated that he is not advocating large group instruction per se, but feels it can be useful if improved.

A brief description of the lay committee on "How to Improve Education in Avon Park" was given. It was noted that this committee is to serve as a "melting pot" for the discussion of school problems. Membership currently numbers 15 and may be enlarged as the need arises. This committee is to serve as liaison for parents and teachers. The initial meeting is to be held in August to make a skeleton outline for the 1968-69 school year. Garrett believes this committee is necessary to establish and maintain good rapport between the people of the community and the school.

John Bovill Winter Guest Died in Mich.

Word has been received of the sudden death of John Bovill, resident of Onaway, Mich., who has spent the last two winters in Avon Park. Mr. Bovill gave much of his time to students in the high school and others interested in portrait painting. He was a mathematics teacher and a lawyer who before retirement lived in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Bovill was active in the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer. He is survived by his wife and son and daughter who reside in Saginaw, Mich.

"Salt Shaker" Position
At medieval English banquets, being seated at a certain spot above or below the ornate salt shaker placed in the middle of the dining table denoted the diner's position.

Smokey Says:

Pictorial INTELLIGRAM

How are you on recent events? Complete the following six statements, checking your answers with those below to find out.

1—All-American (Gary Beban) (John Unitas) has signed a long-term, $250,000 contract with the Washington Redskins pro football team.
2—Supreme Court Chief Justice (Abe Fortas) (Earl Warren) has resigned.
3—Seventy fans were trampled to death during a stampede at a soccer match in (Buenos Aires) (Rome).
4—A strike by 1,300 workers shut down the (Panama Canal) (St. Lawrence Seaway).
5—Hugo Vihlen is back home after completing an 88-day, 4,150-mile voyage from (North Africa) (England) to the United States in a six-foot boat.

Count 10 for each correct choice. A score of 60 is excellent; 50, good; 40, fair; less than 40, poor.

HANDS OFF policy is indicated by "Princess," a lioness at the Washington, D.C., zoo. Sleeping cub is her 25th offspring.

RAM RIDE is enjoyed by Denise Bridges, 4, visiting her grandfather's farm in England. Three-year-old Jennifer Blackbrow is obviously envious of her friend's position atop the woolly mount.

HOGLUND'S HAPPENINGS

JULY 18, 64 A.D.—Nero fiddles as Rome burns. The emperor stepped up his persecution of the Christians by blaming the fire on them.

FLORIDA HEALTH AGENCY OFFERS
—— For People of All Ages ——
$100.00 A Week Extra Cash Income When You Go To The Hospital!

AT LAST, HERE IS A PLAN THAT ACTUALLY PAYS YOU: ■ extra cash up to $10,000 ■ extra cash from your first day in hospital ■ extra cash direct to you ■ extra cash to use any way you want to ■ extra cash in addition to Medicare or any other insurance!

Act Now—GET FIRST MONTH'S PROTECTION FOR ONLY $1

Money back in full if not 100% satisfied. No age limit. Join NOW—This Introductory Offer lasts only 7 more days.

NOW . . . you and your family can join this Extra Cash Income Plan with no red tape, no questions to answer, no medical examination, no age limit, without having to see a salesman and without any qualifications whatsoever. But you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, Date

Why You Need This EXTRA CASH Plan In Addition To Ordinary Hospitalization And Medicare

You know, of course, that the tremendous jump in hospital costs has forced millions who already have hospitalization to dig into savings or go into debt. Even with Medicare, they risk using up their savings or, worse yet, turning to family and friends for help. In fact, very few people have enough savings, hospitalization or income to cover the TOTAL cost of being sick or injured.

How long could you stay in the hospital without worrying about the pile-up of daily expenses? Who will pay for the expenses of costly X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? And how about the expenses at home—rent, food, telephone and others that just go on and on? With expenses like these, could you avoid having your savings wiped out and your family life upset?

Better Safe Than Sorry

Wouldn't it be comforting to know these problems could be solved by your Extra Cash Income Plan—the plan that gives you $100.00 a week—IN CASH—tax-free—from the very first day you're in the hospital for up to 100 full weeks.

PAYS YOU CASH . . . $100.00 a week tax-free cash from first day in hospital

PAYS YOU CASH . . . to a maximum of $10,000.00 for any hospital stay lasting 100 weeks!

PAYS YOU CASH . . . Money mailed direct to you—not to the doctor or hospital!

PAYS YOU CASH . . . in addition to hospitalization, Medicare and Workmen's Compensation!

Even If You Are Over 65
This Extra Income Plan Pays You Cash in Addition to Medicare and Other Insurance!

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses, it just can't cover everything. Your Extra Income Plan helps solve this problem by paying $100.00 a week in cash, direct to you, for as long as 100 weeks . . . and gives you the privilege of spending this money any way you want to. With your total benefit amounting to $10,000.00 you'll never have to turn to your children or charity. You'll keep your financial independence and enjoy the peace of mind that this Plan's EXTRA CASH will give you.

Absolutely NO LIMIT On Age

This Plan welcomes you no matter what your age is —and without any qualifications whatsoever! Even if you're over 75 you're still eligible . . . provided, of course, that you fill in and mail the Enrollment Form with just ONE DOLLAR during this limited enrollment period.

EXTRA CASH Gives Peace Of Mind and Security, Helps Replace Lost Income

Everything costs more these days. (Who knows better than you?) Hospital costs alone have TRIPLED in just a few short years . . . and they're expected to DOUBLE soon. While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most find that benefits simply don't cover ALL the bills that mount up when sickness or accident strikes.

Union Fidelity created this low-cost Hospital Income Plan to help cover your UNCOVERED expenses while hospitalized . . . to put EXTRA CASH in your hand for bills from the doctor, the surgeon, the nurse, the druggist or anyone else who provides service and treatment you need and want. You may even have enough left over to help REPLACE any income you lose because of your confinement.

And remember: Your EXTRA CASH is paid direct to you . . . and you use it any way you want to.

These Are The Only Exclusions!

The new Union Fidelity "Extra Income Hospital Plan" has NO WAITING PERIODS. It covers you immediately for every possible kind of sickness and accident except, of course, hospitalization caused by mental disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; or care provided in a government hospital. It even covers you for any chronic ailment or pre-existing condition after your policy has been in force for only two years. EVERYTHING ELSE IS COVERED!

Special $1.00 Offer Expires Midnight of Date Shown On Coupon Below!

To introduce you to this remarkable new Plan we are making this unusual offer with a Money-Back Guarantee. We will provide you with this tax-free "Extra Income Hospital Plan"—Form 478—for one full month for only ONE DOLLAR. To take advantage of this offer, fill in the Enrollment Form on this page and mail it with just $1.00 before Midnight of the expiration date shown. A full month's protection will go into effect on the very day we accept your Enrollment Form.

When you receive your policy, examine it in the privacy of your home. Show it to your lawyer, your doctor, your clergyman or any trusted advisor. Then decide for yourself . . . and while you're making up your mind, you'll be protected by this wonderful Plan. If the Extra Cash Income Plan isn't everything we say it is, return the policy within 30 days and your money will be cheerfully refunded with no questions asked. However, if you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at these low rates:

Union Fidelity Monthly Renewal Rates

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
0-39	only $3.80
40-54	only $4.80
55-64	only $5.80
65-74	only $6.80
75 and over	only $9.10

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the exact amount you will continue to pay for the life of your policy. It will never increase because you pass from one age bracket to the next. It won't even change because of frequent claims or the amount of money you collect. It can change only if there is a general rate adjustment affecting all policies of this type in your state.

How Can We Offer All This Protection for So Little?

If you're lucky, you can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay regular rates. But NOW—with just a stroke of your pen—you can get Union Fidelity's $100.00 a week ($14.28 per day) Extra Cash Income Plan for the special low cost of only $1.00 for the first month. And how is this possible? BECAUSE UNION FIDELITY ENROLLS A LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT ONE TIME . . . direct by mail. This highly efficient "mass enrollment" cuts our costs to the bone. We are able to issue thousands of policies in a few short days. By this method our overhead expenses are reduced drastically. And the savings are passed on to you!

After the first month you continue your protection at Union Fidelity's low monthly rates. And bear this in mind: the rate you pay now will never be increased because of changes in your health or age—nor will your benefits ever be reduced!

A Nationally Respected Company

As important as the cash income itself, the low cost and ease of enrollment, is this one vital fact: Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and national reputation of Union Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, an old line legal reserve company licensed in 49 states and Washington, D.C.

Easy To Join—No Red Tape—No Salesman Will Call

18 Important Questions Answered

That tell you how Union Fidelity's $100.00-A-Week Extra Cash Income Plan gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
   You will receive $100.00 per week.
2. When will my hospitalization benefits start?
   The day you enter the hospital.
3. Will I be paid if I am in the hospital for less than a full week?
   Yes. This new Plan pays if you are in the hospital for only a day, or a week, a month, a year.
4. Does this policy have any "waiting periods" before I can use it?
   No. It will go into force on the same day we accept your completed Enrollment Form and $1.00 premium for the first month's coverage.
5. How long will I continue to receive my Extra Cash?
   For every day you are hospitalized for as long as 100 weeks for every covered accident or sickness.
6. Is there any red tape to join?
   No. We only ask you to complete and mail your Enrollment Form before the deadline date shown. No questions to answer. No salesman will call.
7. Suppose I collect benefits for a certain sickness or accident. What happens if I am hospitalized again for the same condition?
   You go back to collecting your $100.00 a week until you've been hospitalized for a total of 100 weeks and have collected $10,000.00. Then, if the same condition puts you back in the hospital after you've resumed your normal activities for six months, you become eligible to receive $100.00 a week again, for up to 100 additional weeks. Any new condition will be covered immediately, of course.
8. How may I use these benefit payments?
   You may use them any way you wish—for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses or anything else. You alone decide how to use the money.
9. Why do I need your Extra Cash Plan in addition to my other insurance?
   Chances are your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital and medical expenses. Even if it did, you will still need extra cash to cover all your household expenses.
10. May I join if I am over 65?
    Yes. You are welcome to join no matter what your age is. This Plan has no age limit.
11. Can you drop me? Can you raise my rates?
    No. We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons so long as you make your premium payments on time. Also, we guarantee that we will never cancel your protection or adjust your rate unless we take the same action with regard to all policies of this type in your state. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.
12. What is not covered by this policy?
    The only conditions not covered are hospitalization caused by mental disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; or care provided in a government hospital. You are even covered for any chronic ailment or pre-existing condition after your policy has been in force for only two years. Everything else is covered.
13. Can other members of my family take advantage of this special offer?
    Yes. Just add their names to the Enrollment Form when you fill it in.
14. Why is this offer good for a limited time only?
    Because by enrolling a large number of people at the same time our underwriting, processing and policy issue costs can be kept at a minimum. These savings, of course, are passed on to you.
15. Do I need a medical examination or a statement from my doctor?
    Definitely not. Just fill in the Enrollment Form and send it off today with $1.00.
16. What other advantages are there of joining this Plan now?
    By joining now you do not need to complete a regular application—just the brief form in the lower right-hand corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period, there are no other qualifications—no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy.
17. How does the Money-Back Guarantee work?
    Examine your policy carefully in the privacy of your home. If for any reason you are not completely satisfied, return it within 30 days and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile, you will be protected while making your decision.
18. How do I join?
    Fill in the brief Enrollment Form (be sure to sign your name) and mail it with just $1.00 for the first month's protection to: UNION FIDELITY Life Insurance Co., 302 So. Jupiter Ave., Clearwater, Fla. 33515.

Post Office Window Will Close Saturdays

Effective Saturday, July 27, 1968, the Saturday morning window service for the Avon Park Post Office will be discontinued, except for the following:

The General Delivery or Call Window will be opened from 8:30 A.M. - 10:30 A.M. to hand out mail to General Delivery Patrons and Business Firms whose mail is regularly handled under call service."

This action is being taken on instructions from the Postmaster General and as a result of the limitations imposed on the Post Office Department by Congress.

Second Sweet Trial Expected To Cost $12,000

Highlands County officials are estimating that the second trial of John J. Sweet will cost approximately $12,000.

Sweet, charged with first degree murder in the death of C. Von Maxey, is slated for a Fall trial, probably in Bartow. The first trial ended with a hung jury.

The tentative county budget made public this week includes $12,000 for witness and jury fees, and county officials acknowledge they expect the Sweet trial to eat up most if not all of that sum.

Earl Rich, clerk of the circuit court, observes, "If we should happen to have another big trial with many witnesses, the county would have to dip into reserve for contingencies."

There is $10,000 in the county's reserve in the fine and forfeiture portion of the budget.

Two Firms Express Interest In Leasing Airport Hangar

Representatives of two firms expressed their interest in leasing the Avon Park Municipal Airport hangar, Monday night at the regular meeting of the city council.

James E. Redd, executive vice president of Ben Hill Griffin, Inc. and Al Mimbs, president of International Aircraft Corporation, Sebring, each but the city did not have them to sell and now the city is asking him to do more than he can afford at one time.

Redd said Ben Hill Griffin was interested in the operation of the airport but Mr. Griffin would be out of the state until Wednesday and requested any action on the airport lease be postponed until later in the week.

Mimbs stated he was prepared to sign a lease as written at $300 per month. He said if he leased the Airport he would provide an Avis Car Rental service, flight school and air service.

Shelly Marrs, who is leasing the old hangar has been given 60 days to vacate it in order to give Critchfield Marines full use of the facilities.

Bill Critchfield said they had terminated their lease in Orlando and must move by August 15. He requested action be postponed on leasing the new hangar for 90 days and they would pay the rent for Marrs to use during the period while his new building was being erected.

In a special meeting Friday night Marrs turned down the present lease and asked the council to grant him easement to the runways from his property at the end of the East-West runway.

Andrew Scott asked Wayman Carver, chairman of the airport committee, what was his opinion on the easement. Carver stated he had not had an opportunity to study it.

A motion was made over the objections of Mayor Doerr and Councilman Durrah Martin to grant the easement subject to FAA approval. When the FAA was contacted they said the city should get some revenue from such an agreement. This was agreeable with Marrs but he said he needed something in writing to insure his being able to use these facilities in the future.

Mayor Doerr said the proposed lease included a strip of land between Marrs' property and the runway and almost all of the East-West runway itself.

Roy Seims, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, has attended almost every meeting dealing with the airport, told the council that such an agreement should be looked into very carefully because once under lease to someone it would be hard for the city to make alterations in the future.

The city officials and the airport have agreed to meet and work out details for an agreement for Marrs to use the runways while operating off his own land.

No Action Taken On Attempt To Rid City of Outdoor Privies

Before a capacity crowd at the Avon Park City Council meeting Monday night a motion by Councilman Rodney Lane to require Southside Park Co. to install two indoor toilets per month in occupied houses until all are completed died for the lack of a second.

Charles Metcalfe, head of the company, appeared before the council and renewed his offer to install four toilets per year until all houses were completed. He said that when he built those houses some 20 years ago he was doing the city a favor by providing housing for those people and at that time he could have bought the meters for $8

Lane said there are 92 houses with privies and Metcalfe owned about 43. Four owners has made arrangements to install water meters and indoor toilets.

Metcalfe has approximately 70 houses he plans to improve and he said, if the council will just give him time all will be equipped with indoor toilets.

Bob Hanford read a statement about existence of privies in the neighborhood of Hopewell School in houses owned by Metcalfe. He said two former Vista workers had recommended the city condemn the privies.

In other action the council amended the lease with Critchfield Marine, Inc. to extend a total of 50 years where the company could get federal financing to build facilities needed for their operation.

Agreed to let the residents of Avon Park vote on whether or not to change from Mayor's Court to having a city judge.

Councilman Scott explained that holding a Mayor's Court puts a strain on the mayor and other cities in our area have already changed.

Mayor Doerr said he is in favor of this and that he has studied Mayor's Courts for years and how to conduct it but he was aware that the next mayor might not be trained to hold court, but an attorney would be trained for this work.

Council was informed by Chief Earl Gordon that Wayne Bass and Tom Mitchell had resigned from the force.

Bids were accepted from Avon Wholesale Electric for $848.48 for material to wire and light the new airport hangar.

Requested City Clerk Malcolm Crews to write Seaboard Coastline Railroad on city speed limits for trains in the city.

Paid the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce its $1,000 that was in the budget.

A request by some city employees to change color of their uniform shirts was referred to the city clerk to investigate the cost of a change.

Passed ordinance No. 488 prohibiting the abandonment of certain vehicles and restricting the disposition or keeping of wrecked or non-operating vehicles on public streets or private property within the city.

APCI Welcomes New Assistant Superintendent

J. B. Godwin started to work in the Florida Prison System, November 1949, at Belle Glade and was transferred to Florida State Prison, at Raiford, as Cattle Supervisor in September 1951.

Eight years later in 1959, he was promoted to Chief Correctional Officer (FSP). Seven years passed before his next promotion to Assistant Superintendent of the same institution, in July 1966. Godwin is a welcome addition to the staff of APCI.

Youth Care Will Lease Building To County

Youth Care, Inc., will lease its new building to the county for occupancy and operation of the home upon its completion.

Arrangements for the lease over were worked out at a meeting of the board of trustees and county officials last Thursday.

County Attorney Hue Nunnallee, County Commission Chairman Ben McGee and Commissioners Earl Crutchfield and Jean Whitaker, Circuit Court Clerk Earl Rich and Clerk Jim Pyle met with Youth Care board and worked out details.

Nunnallee told the board the lease could be worked out with no problems, as Youth Care, Inc., is merely the landlord providing housing for the children's home which will be operated by the board of visitors appointed by County Judge Mervin Rehrer. Rev. Tom Jones is chairman.

Kenneth Grubb was appointed to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of H. T. Harrell, who resigned due to illness. Al Clayton was moved up to vice president and chairman of the finance committee. Mr. Grubb has volunteered his time and effort to head up and expedite the early completion of the building.

Suspect Nabbed On Breaking And Entering

A pawned camera led the Highlands County sheriff's office to a suspect in the burgling of two Avon Park homes. Jimmie Leverson, 22, of Avon Park, was arrested Monday and charged with two counts of breaking and entering.

He is charged with breaking into the home of Thelma Smith July 10 and obtaining a pistol and $10. On July 11, he is charged with breaking into the home of Lossie Mae Longstreet and obtaining 22 Kennedy half dollars, a camera and radio.

SCHOOL BUDGET HEARING

Public hearing on Highlands County's $4 million plus school budget will be held Monday, 9:30 A.M., in the school superintendent's office at the courthouse. The budget which calls for an 8-mill county tax levy sets up a special 1.25 mill levy to be used for school construction.

Public Hearing On Budget Set For Thursday, August 1

Highlands County commissioners propose to push taxes up just over a quarter of a mill "to provide for new services and cover new costs imposed by the state."

The boost of 0.285 mills would put the commissioners' levy at 4.785 mills to furnish the county's share of a $2,213,616 budget for 1968-69. This would be the first increase set by the county commission since the new county jail was built in 1956.

Two other taxing bodies have yet to report and the total county millage will not be known for some weeks yet.

Public hearing for the budget is set for 9 A.M. on Thursday, Aug. 1, in the commission meeting room on the second floor of the courthouse.

The tentative budget includes a possible three to four per cent pay raise for some employees hired by the commissioners. Increased prices for supplies and service contracts are reflected in many parts of the budget.

Clerk Earl Rich, who is charged with the responsibility for putting the tentative budget in form, noted that the value of a mill has increased $4,000 this year and "this increase would have provided money for the routine changes in the commission budget. It is the new services that force the millage up," Rich said.

The two largest items are expenses for motor vehicle inspection—an anticipated income of $50,000 is about $28,672 short of budgeted expenses — and a county zoning department which will cost $15,160.

Under a new state law the tax assessor's commission will rise from $35,000 to $52,500. The state law establishing the jury questionnaire system will boost the jury commission budget from $300 to $1,884.

To continue the county contract with the humane society will cost $2,500, and $4,580 is budgeted for the impounding officer.

Civil defense expenditures will increase from $3,109 to $14,627. A federal appropriation of $8,468 will help meet these increased costs.

Anticipated Income

In addition to the federal civil defense funds, the county will receive some other out-of-county help. The new state cigarette tax is expected to net the county $33,000 in the coming year.

Health Department receipts budgeted at $3,500 in the current year are estimated at $10,000 for 1968-69. Beverage licenses income is expected to rise from $3,000 to $4,000. Excess fee estimates for the coming year are based on actual income in the current year and remain about the same with the exception of the tax collector estimate which is up $4,500 to $11,300.

General Fund

By far the largest share of the county budget is accounted for in the $772,000 general fund. This fund was $589,000 in the 1967-68 budget, but the county commission had to run a supplemental budget to care for late additions such as the vehicle inspection program. Millage to support the general fund in the coming year will be 2.30.

Communications Commission Freezes New Radio Applications

Word was received last Thursday from Washington, D.C., that the Federal Communications Commission had announced an indefinite "freeze" on new applications for AM radio stations. The Commission cited a need to evaluate future policy regarding the assignment of AM licenses and the ultimate use of available air space.

Although a definite ruling has not as yet been made, Avon Park's proposed new radio station could possibly become ensnarled in the "freeze."

John K. Morrison, president of Morrison Broadcast Enterprises, has been in Avon Park this week. He is continuing his market study, preparatory to filing an application with the Commission. Another firm, Avon Electronic Services, Inc., already has an application before the Commission. Avon Electronic represents ownership by Mrs. Peggy Cook, former owner of a Haines City station, and by Charles Esposito. Mr. Esposito was, at one time, associated with the now-silent WAVP, Avon Park.

Commenting on the procedural announcement from the F.C.C., Morrison said that, at first, he had feared that it would halt his application effort. "However," he said, "I have checked with my consulting engineer, A. W. Kramer. He, in turn, requested an opinion from his Washington attorney. The reply received was that the Avon Park situation would probably rate an exception to the ruling, since the Commission would wish to hear any applicants competing with Avon Electronics. Since one application is already on file, the Commission will undoubtedly consider accepting the application of Morrison Broadcast Enterprises. In the past, the Commission has shown an intense interest in insuring assignment of licenses to the most qualified applicants. It is our understanding that this will be no exception. We are, therefore, proceeding with our market study and application procedure."

Morrison observed that, according to a letter he had received from Martin I. Levy, Chief of the F.C.C. Broadcast Facilities Division, the Commission does not anticipate accelerating the Avon Electronics application. Rather than panic and file his papers immediately, Morrison has chosen to continue what he called his "systematic" study of the Avon Park market. He said that this is the type information the Commission will wish to see before granting any license. Morrison has been active in the community for several months. His mail questionaire reached many homes, and he has been in contact with civic, social, business, and religious leaders.

Most recently, Morrison, himself a member of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, appeared at a Chamber board meeting. He and the board members reportedly discussed the various aspects of his proposed service.

Carl F. Holden Promoted To Cadet Staff Sgt.

Carl F. Holden, III, who will be a junior at Norwich University, Northfield, Vt., next fall, has been promoted to the rank of Cadet Staff Sergeant, and named assistant platoon sergeant of E Company. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Coleman.

Cadets are chosen for military rank in the corps of cadets on the basis of their academic and military performance and their qualities of leadership. Rank is assigned for one academic year at a time.

Recreational Swim Program Ends Today

Margaret Collins, recreational swim instructor qualified in Red Cross and Water Safety Course instruction, ends her classes of ten assembly line swim program today. The program started July 1, due to rain, the three week program was delayed a few days.

The Red Cross beginners test swim required a front dive into deep water, a 30 foot swim turning on back, floating 15 seconds and return swim to the starting point.

Those passing the test are: Donna Clark, Linda Klein, Ray Davis, Tom Myers, Jack Flowers, Matt Kronic, Mike Mozingo, James Stevens, Melvon Pritt, Randy Walker, Scotty Thomson, Alfreid Wilson, Larry Bennett, Billy King, Kathy Sparkman, Laura Celedlier, James Hith.

Last Thursday night the recreational group went on an overnight trail ride, 28 horses took them to the Sanford Hartt ranch where a chicken Bar-B-Que was waiting for them, along with 20 greeters. They camped out had breakfast and rode back. Another trip is being planned for the high school students next week.

All Stars Little League Players Lose

Little League All Star team committed few errors during the District series of games which started last Tuesday evening in Dade City, which was a credit to the fielding ability of the entire team.

Under their manager Leroy Starling and coach Marvin Willis, they won their first game against Zephyrhills, played in Dade City, with a score of 3-0. Their second game played against Sebring in Avon Park, was won with a score of 5-2 which they played on Thursday night. Plant City proved their nemesis in the third game of the series, which they lost with a score of 8 to 1. The finals were played between Plant City - American and Auburndale. Plant City being the victor with a score of 6 to 3.

Outstanding plays were made by Timmy Underwood who struck out 12 batters in the Zephyrhills game, allowed only two hits and shut Zephyrhills out scoreless. Mighty fine pitching.

Gary Helms pitched against Sebring and struck out three batters, pitching creditable for his team.

John Wright was a big help in all games as a good batter.

Rain hampered three of the games which was well attended by Avon Park fans, who were proud of their team.

Judge M. Rehrer At Governors Conference

Highlands County Judge Mervin Rehrer, president of the Florida Council of Juvenile Court Judges, attended the Governors Conference last Thursday and Friday, held at the Sheraton Four Ambassador Hotel in Miami.

Governor Kirk spoke at the banquet on Friday night. Judge Rehrer participated in the group discussion.

Insurance Rate

Soon we'll all be high risk drivers, says Jack Kofoed, writing in The Miami Herald, and to that we can only say "it's possible." Wrote Jack:

I smell a campaign in the air to make everybody in America appear to be such a lousy driver that automobile insurance companies can claim justification for sky-rocketing their premiums. The latest "disclosure" is that poor credit risks are death behind the wheel.

Well, let me tell the researchers that two guys who seldom paid their bills and once conned me out of a considerable hunk of money were almost good enough drivers to have qualified at Indianapolis.

Insurance people also list divorced women and bartenders as bad risks. Plenty of divorcees are excellent car jockies. Bartenders seldom drink and the very nature of their business demands an unemotional and diplomatic approach to life, which makes for good chauffeuring.

So, every time I read of an added category demanding higher rates, I become more convinced that it's just another step toward giving everybody a "high-risk" rating.

Our Sloppy Joes

Parents perturbed by their teenage sons' indifference to physical fitness and neatness can take heart — help is on the way.

A swinging "shape-up" booklet is available for boys who are in that "I don't care how I look" stage of jellyfish slouching and sheep-dog hairiness.

More than a million of the booklets are slated for national distribution to high school students following a successful pilot program launched with the assistance of the U.S. Marine Corps in the New York metropoliten area.

Titled "How to Get in Shape — and Stay There," the booklet produced by the Florida Citrus Commission features the famous Marine Corps recruiting exercises which form the basis of the annual national Marine-sponsored physical fitness championships for youths in Washington, D.C. each June.

But the literature covers a spectrum broader than muscle-building. It includes humorous tips on teenage grooming and nutrition, providing each youth reader wth an opportunity to score himself on how he shapes up as a social lion as well as a Tarzan type.

In the section on Marine exercises which include instructions on performing push-ups, sit-ups, squat-thrusts, pull-ups and a 300-yard shuttle run, a youth can privately test his abilities against the Marine physical fitness experts.

Now if we can just get the fellows to read the pamphlet.

eted at $18,600 in the current year will drop to $18,450. A new state law will knock out a $50 per month bonus for the county commission salary. That cut will come next July at the same time the sheriff's pay is cut from $16,800 to the $10,500 paid other county officials.

Fine and Forfeiture

The adjustment in the sheriff's salary will bring the figure for the 1968-69 year to $15,700. Other salaries in the sheriff's department will fall from $125,405 in the present year to $120,000. Total appropriations for fine and forefiture are down from $280,015 to $275,200.

The total budget includes $16,000 in contingencies funds and a $5,000 reserve cash balance for a total budget of $296,200. Millage to support the fund remains at 0.90 mills, but income expected from fine and forefitures is down $35,000 to $95,000.

Road and Bridge

Millage for the road and bridge fund will remain at 1.29 mills, but the budget will jump rom $410,000 to $605,465. Increases in the state gasoline and motor fuel taxes will account for most of the increase.

Under a new budgeting procedure the road and bridge directly reflects contributions from the construction trust fund set up from the race track bond sale. The 1968-69 budget shows an income of $30,000 from that fund.

The road and bridge budget carries $15,000 for the engineering department which the commission hopes to establish. After an engineer has been on the job for a year, the State Road Department will reimburse the county for up to $10,000 of the engineer's salary.

Other Funds

Principal place the county is cutting millage within the budget is the courthouse interest and sinking fund. A 0.30 mill levy was set to pay for construction of the courthouse annex and courthouse renovation. That levy has brought in more money than is needed, and this type of certificate of indebtedness cannot be paid off early.

A little over 0.1 mill will yield enough to meet payments.

The Avon Park Lakes and De. Soto City road budgets are "in and out accounts" handled by the county commission but not involved in figuring the county-wide taxes.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

What Would the Master Say?

British Beatie John Lennon has written a leaflet about which he says: "Jesus would have loved our piece for what it is."

However, authorities at Coventry Cathedral in London have refused to allow the leaflet to be sold in connection with a sculpture exhibition in the cathedral's garden.

The leaflet invited purchasers to sit on a garden seat, look at two plastic pots in which acorns had been planted, and ponder the stirrings of life as the acorns developed into oaks.

Church authorities declined to allow the leaflets to be sold, because they believed the readers would be thinking less about the acorns than about Lennon and his Japanese paramour, Yoko Ono.

Both Lennon and Miss Ono are married—but not to each other.

Maybe Jesus would have admired the eloquent prose of the leaflet, but He would have denounced adultery in no uncertain terms.

Sign of the Times

One of the most disquieting signs of the times in which we live is that morality has sunk to such a low level that men and women no longer think it necessary even to conceal their violations of the laws of God and of the state.

As to Lennon's previous statement that the singing group was more popular than Jesus, there are several comments that might be made.

One question which might be, asked is, "How popular do you believe the Beatles' records will be 1900 years after the death of the singers?"

Popular Way Unsafe

Another point to mention would be that Jesus never claimed that His way would be the popular way. Quite the contrary, in fact.

He said, "Wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

As a matter of actual truth, John Lennon should know that, according to Jesus' words, the popular way is the wrong way.

If you are on the popular way, you should heed the words of the Master and turn from the broad way that leads to destruction.

Right Way Not Crowded

The narrow way that leads to life is not so crowded, but it is the right way—and it is the way of happiness.

One of the paradoxes of life is that those who tread the narrow way with the Master are happy, while those who stream along the broad, popular way—frenziedly seeking fun—do not find happiness, because it is not there.

Which road are you on?

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

"Tuesday-Thursday" Club Not to Our Best Interests

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It occurs to me that the best thing members of the House and Senate could do for their country would be not only to recognize that a Congressman's job is a full-time calling—but also to act like it.

This is not exactly a new conclusion on my part, but it is an opinion which has been greatly reinforced by circumstances this year and particularly in this month when the Nation has witnessed Congress making a belated and frantic drive toward adjournment before the political conventions—a drive which now has failed, making it necessary for your lawmakers to return here in September.

There are several things about this situation which are worth pointing out. In the first place, the kind of legislation which is enacted—or perhaps rejected—in a frenzied drive is, of necessity, based on snap judgments, emotional or instinctive decisions. This type of dealing with legislation frustates the very purpose of our form of deliberative lawmaking because it means that members frequently have no opportunity to know precisely what is in bills on which they are voting, no clear understanding of what they are doing, and no opportunity to make so much as a punctuation change in a bill as it came from committee.

Last Monday was a case in point. The House leadership, in its wild quest to clear the decks for adjournment, scheduled 30 bills for action in a single day, 5 on a unanimous consent calendar, on which there was no debate at all and no amendments, and 25 on the rules suspension calendar, which allowed only 40 minutes of debate per bill and also barred amendments. It was a take-it-or-leave-it proceeding—and it just plain should not have happened in a body which supposedly deals wisely, on an informed basis, with the business of the public.

In the second place, the necessity which now had developed for an extension of the congressional session beyond the political conventions should not have been allowed to develop. Anyone who has read his legislative history knows that congressional sessions in the midst of a Presidential campaign are frustrating things—with little of value accomplished and with political considerations, not statesmanship or even legislative sanity, dominating that little which is done.

But the worst part of all this is that it need not have happened this year, nor in most years in the past, nor need it occur again, except in time of great emergency. It could have been avoided in the past, and can be in the future, by determination of Members to attend to the people's business, to their duties as the board of directors of the largest business in the world—the United States government — with full-time diligence.

The Congress of the United States, from the moment it convenes annually and receives the President's State of the Union and Budget messages, should go on at least a five-day week and preferably a six-day week. It should quit the business of transacting business only on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, then spending long weekends away from Washington. Time was when the so-called "Tuesday-Thursday Club" of members who came in on Tuesday mornings and went out on Thursday nights was confined to members from the large eastern states who could get home easily by train or automobile. But with the rise of speedy air transportation, membership in the Tuesday-Thursday Club is available to all members and — unfortunately — most members join it.

That means inevitably that every year we are faced with the sort of situation we are embroiled in this year. This means bad legislation enacted in haste. It means the public's business is not being attended to properly. And it means that Congress sits in Washington interminably which is not healthy, because there should be a period between sessions when every member could regain close contact with his constituents in order that he may know what they want and try to get it done for them at the next session.

We should plan and labor so that the seeds of our generation will be the blossoms and fruit of the next generation.

Americans Growing More Disturbed About Pueblo

Americans are growing more and more concerned about the fate of the USS PUEBLO and her crew. As I have indicated on pervious occasions, our citizens view the seizure of an American Naval vessel on the high seas as an act of war. Not in 100 years has our flag been forcibly lowered on a U. S. Navy ship.

The wave of public indignation is growing, and hopefully this will impress on the President the necessity of taking strong action. Our people have listened for six long years to the arguments for defending South Viet Nam, and before that South Korea, and before that Berlin. They are now tired of waiting for a cry to defend our own men in our own ship.

It is time to stand up for America! The President should direct the Secretary of State to demand the immediate release of our ship and men, and alert the Secretary of Defense to back up that demand. The United States stands guard around the world protecting other nations and other peoples. It is time we take care of our own interests and our own citizens.

A cartoon making the rounds says, "Remember the Alamo! Remember the Main! Remember Pearl Harbor! Forget the Pueblo?" Well, the American people will not forget the Pueblo. They demand action and act we must. Those who would do less shame their American heritage.

Letter To The Editor

It appears to me the Council spokesman did a good job of evading some of the questions brought up and only gave a half answer to the ones attempted.

Mr. Lane asked me some questions and here they are with answers:

1. Where did Mr. King get his information about the lease?

Answer: I got some of the information from the news mediums and most of it from the lease itself. In case he was too busy spending the taxpayers money on other city deals to read and study the lease, I have a copy on my desk, I will let him read it. I did not make a complaint about the lease or the new $25,000 (more or less) hangar at the airport until I made a thorough study. I still say "it stinks."

Having had the experience of collecting rent for the old hangar, I consider the additional considerations to the $50 per month rental insignificant.

2. Mr. Lane asks why the Council signed a lease with Mr. Marrs four days before the end of my term.

Answer: I suggested the Council give Mr. Marrs a lease at $100 per month for the old hangar. This they did. It appeared obvious to me that the incoming Councilman plus some carry-over, could make a political rather than a business lease. I also thought when the one year lease was up, the majority of the Council would be settled down to operating the city on business methods and would write a new lease that the city could live with, as well as the lessee.

I also calculated that when the time for a new lease arrived, the taxpayers would "rise up" if anything happens, as just did. They did rise up, and loud, along with Mayor Doerr and Councilman Martin.

I understand the first lease at $50 per month on the new building has now been discarded. Maybe the Council will get down to better business methods. Wonder where the money to pay for the new building is coming from? Water Department funds could be getting very low by now.

I hear there has been talking about new taxes, among them a utility tax, as of October 1, 1967. Avon Park's financial condition was the best ever, there should never be any need for new taxes. Income from the present millage will retire all General Obligation Bonds of the city in about 15 years (don't remember exact date).

Income from the Water Department and other city services will retire all outstanding bonds on Water Department and new Disposal plant plus some funds from the Water Department for General City Obligations.

Mr. Editor: I stand ready at all times to protest any new taxes or tax increases on the taxpayers of Avon Park. They are not needed. The way the Council can avoid new taxes is to live within the city's means, as families have to do. There has been a lot accomplished in Avon Park by the above method in the last ten years.

Respectfully,
Clarence King

ATTENTION

All citizens of Highlands County and everyone within the range of the coverage of this newspaper, are cordially invited to witness a demonstration in different automobiles equipped with the only Gyro-matic safety control unit, patented and being manufactured in America and parts of Europe today.

The unit will do everything the manufacturers claim it will do. That is, prevent sliding, fishtailing and rolling over from blowouts, wet pavement, snow, ice and bad pavement. It has a stabilizing effect on rough roads, will cause to panic stops as much as 63 feet faster than comparable cars without the Safety Control unit, and has other features too numerous to mention.

It is the only device being manufactured that has, withstood, unrefutable laboratory tests made of their unit, which holds up all and even more than the claims made up the manufacturers.

The manufacturers have testimonials from the enforcement by state drivers and numerous law enforcement departments throughout the country, to back up their product.

Tests are being sponsored by Big Daddy's Safety Control, your Florida distributor, who chose to make your county, their headquarters.

For information in the purchase or sale of the unit call EV 5-5020 or write to Box No. 608, Sebring, Fla.

Demonstrations and tests will be held at Sebring Air Terminal, Saturday, July 27th, starting at 11:00 a.m.

HAROLD McRAE, Highlands County's major league baseball player seen in action, is playing with the Cincinnati Reds.

Local Boy Playing With Cincinnati Reds

Harold McRae, first Highlands County resident to reach the major leagues, was called up last week to play second base for the Cincinnati Reds.

McRae is filling in for Tommy Helms, who was attending two weeks summer camp with the Marine Corps Reserves.

McRae is the son of Willie James McRae of Avon Park. He graduated from E. O. Douglas High School in Sebring and attended Florida A & M.

The 22 year-old rookie making his debut in the majors, banged out two hits for the Reds against the San Francisco Giants, with Gaylord Perry pitching.

Besides making the two hits, McRae performed flawlessly in the field on a night when the Reds committed four errors.

In the eighth inning of the game McRae took a hard hit from Jay Alou on a short hop and turned it into a double play.

Coach Bristol said that he would probably play McRae in the outfield when Helms returns.

JUST JOTTING DOWN A FEW THINGS

Asking his father why shotgun weddings seemed to be going out of style, the youth learned that the manufacturers of shot guns simply could not keep up with the demand any more; it wasn't because this kind of wedding was not popular any longer.

One of my friends told me that he was glad he had a sitting-down job. "That's where I shine," he said.

"Are you going to take a vacation and rest up this Summer," Dad was asked. "Heck, no!" the haggard man replied, "the wife and kids insisted on going along this time."

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

Fifteen hundred alcoholics at a New York medical center are soon to be the subject of a study to find out if heavy drinking causes cancer of the mouth and vocal cords.

Dr. James R. Kimmey Jr. of U. S. Public Health Service which is sponsoring the study says, "We have a lot of clinical impressions and some other reports that lead to the strong suspicion that heavy drinking contributes to oral cancer."

However, although alcoholics are known to have an abnormally high rate of oral cancer, it may not be the alcohol alone that is the cause. Alcoholics are notoriously heavy smokers and have poor nutrition. The object of the study will be to determine to what extent these various factors stimulate the development of cancer and pre-cancerous sores of the mouth and voice box.

Another U. S. Public Health Service officer, Dr. Richard Hayes, says the researchers also will be trying to find out what kind of alcoholic beverages may contribute to cancer. He says there's no information as yet as to the possible effects of social drinking on cancer.

However, information gathered so far indicates that anyone drinking more than 5½ ounces per day of alcohol is increasing the risk of getting oral cancer.

About 15,000 persons in the United States will contract cancer of the mouth this year, plus about 6,000 new cases of cancer of the vocal cords.

It was stressed that the subjects of the study on the possible relationship of alcohol and oral cancer will not be just "down-and-out winos off skid row," but rather a broad representation including successful professional people.

This is an extreme necessity in any study involving alcoholics, for the simple reason that only a minute segment of problem drinkers are of the skid row variety. In fact, Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program says that, contrary to popular opinion, skid row types account for only five to ten per cent of the alcoholics in Florida.

Alcoholism is noted as being the fourth greatest health problem in the United States, and statistics say it is well on its way to becoming third in importance. Here in Florida the situation is the same.

One of the first lines of defense against alcoholism is a well-informed public. Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program has considerable literature on all aspects of alcoholism which is free to anyone asking for it.

If you have a drinking problem or you know of someone who does, write today to FARP's Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla., 33825.

There are 180,000 alcoholics in Florida. The message of the hour is, "Alcoholism Is Treatable." You can help spread the word by writing for a free front license plate which will tell Floridians everywhere you go that there's help for the problem drinker.

County Sets Up Budget For Hyacinth Control

Those beautiful pests, water hyacinths, are pushing county expenses up by approximately $8,000 next year.

For the first time the Highlands County commissioners have written hyacinth control into the budget—$5,500 for salaries and $2,500 for supplies.

The US Corps of Engineers had given emergency help in spraying hyacinths, but this year the job was too big for three reasons: bountiful rain has pushed the growth rate of all plants, Highlands County has many more miles of waterways since the development of watershed projects began and, not least, many more homes paying premium tax rates are facing waterways.

One county official quipped, "People don't pay top taxes for a house on a hyacinth front."

The landowners who voluntarily tax themselves for installation of watershed projects—and invariably raises land values and taxes on the land—are not slow to let the county commissioners know when floating islands of hyacinths threaten to close canals and to destroy parts of the water control structures.

In the current year the commissioners have purchased a spray rig and are shopping for a sturdy boat and motor to take the county's hyacinth control crew around the county's waterways.

Isn't it funny! Americans storming the Pentagon trying to keep our armed forces from destroying our enemies! Of course, Moscow, Peking, Hanoi had nothing to do with it. Surely not!

If the "population explosion" made as big a boom as the other kind there would be a dad-blamed lot of insomia in this world.

Education is something you get when you go to college. Education is what Dad gets when YOU go there, Tom-spur!

August 15 Deadline For Crop Insurance

About half of Highlands County's citrus growers still do not have crop insurance and the deadline for insuring crops is August 15, Quentin M. Lisker, representing the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. said today.

The insurance policy covers freeze, hail, hurricane and fire damage. Lisker said coverage from $150 to $350 per acre. At least one Highlands County grower who bought it has collected more than his premium, Lisker said.

The last time growers collected on their insurance was at record time March 23 from freeze damage, Lisker said. Quite a few collected during the 1962-63 freeze.

"A lot of growers do not know about this insurance," said Lisker. "It is a non-profit corporation, a sort of mutual, underwritten by the government."

The crop insurance program was initiated in 1951. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that this year's participation nationally in the insurance plan will anticipate $20,000,000 in protection for crops—a $5,000 increase over 1967.

Lisker can be reached in Sebring at EV 5-6756. The program has been endorsed by the Florida Agriculture Extension Service and premiums are tax deductible.

33 AREAS

Florida hunters will be able to hunt on 33 wildlife management areas during the 1968-69 hunting season. In addition, there will be a series of managed bear hunts in the Apalachicola and Osceola National Forests and in the Tomoka Wildlife Management Area. A managed wild hog hunt is scheduled for the Fisheating Creek Area and archery hunts on nine of the areas.

Youth Guidance, Inc. Send 13 To Summer Camp at Lake Byrd

Thirteen deserving young people of Avon Park attended camps on scholarships at Lake Byrd Lodge this summer. Rev. Herbert D. Graetz, chairman of Youth Guidance, Inc., which has been responsible for these young people going to camp, says that the organization deserves the commendation and active support of all citizens. It owes its existence to the Avon Park Ministerial Association which it represents in much of its work with youth.

Rev. Graetz, on behalf of Youth Guidance, Inc., extends appreciation to Guy Garrett, George Kelsey, Mrs. Ethel Williamson and Mrs. Rex Furr for help given in selecting young people to go to camp. The Avon Park Ministerial Association, the Episcopal Church Women of the Church of the Redeemer and the Florida Conference of the United Church of Christ provided scholarships.

A great deal of credit must be given to Rev. T. Albert Lawrence and the staff of the summer camps at Lake Byrd Lodge for the way in which the young people were received and the programs they were privileged to share and enjoy.

The main purpose is to challenge the young person to "do that which he feels he would like to do but had never quite dared to try." The schedule includes classes in painting, drawing, sketching and sculpturing. There are group sessions in interpretive dancing, play reading and music appreciation. Individual creative sessions include script writing, Bible paraphrasing and poetry.

Fellowship hours include water carnival time, folk dancing, and three plays were presented including "Christian on Trial" and "Autobiography of a Church Pew."

Vesper and worship hours were all produced and conducted by the campers. Bible theme for the week was "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." Philippians 4:13

Science Church Sunday Sermon July 28

"Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." These words of Jesus as recorded in the Gospel of John, are part of the Lesson-Sermon titled "Truth" to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Among related passages to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is this: "we classify disease as error, which nothing but Truth or Mind can heal, and this Mind must be divine, not human." All are welcome.

Elder Caris Lauda Will Speak At Walker Memorial Church

Elder Caris Lauda, of Washington D. C. will be the guest minister this Saturday at 11 A.M. at the Walker Memorial Church.

Mr. Lauda, who has been a prominent youth leader for the Adventist, will keynote the "Voice of Youth" revival series scheduled for July 28 through August 3.

Verne Kemerer, senior college major in chemistry, will speak on "God's Power in Creation." There will be interviews, Bible quizzes, and a wide variety of music presented by the youth of the church, beginning at 7:30 P.M.

"Harry Orchard, the Dynamite Killer" will be the topic for Monday, 7:30 P.M. by youthful pastor Bob DuBose, formerly of Frostproof.

Bill Collier, a hospital lab worker, will present, "Why Did Jesus Die?" David Osborne, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Osborne, will speak Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 7:30 P.M. on the following topics: "This is the End," "The Greatest Day in History" and "When Life's Day is Done." The "Voice of Youth" series will conclude Saturday, Aug. 3 with the pastor, Robert H. Kerr speaking on "By Faith . . . "

Mrs. Juvernia Oft, youth director of the church will be coordinator of the series.

New Residents Can Vote For President

Attention, newcomers to Florida!

Even if you haven't lived in Florida long enough to register as a regular voter here, you may still be able to vote for President and Vice President in the November 5 election.

That's the word from Secretary of State Tom Adams, Florida's chief election officer.

Adams called attention to a new constitutional amendment which allows newcomers from other states to vote in Florida for President and Vice President even though they don't meet the one-year residency requirement to register as a voter in this State. To qualify, such persons must still be registered voters in the states from which they moved.

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere thanks and appreciation to my friends and neighbors for the lovely flowers, cards, prayers and visits I received while confined to the hospital.

Post Office Cuts Will Not Effect Security Checks

WASHINGTON—Congressman Claude Pepper (D Fla.) said today he has been assured by the Social Security Administration that any curtailment of Saturday mail deliveries will not be allowed to delay the checks of Social Security recipients.

"If they cut out Saturday home deliveries—Which I very much hope the Post Office Department will not do—the Social Security checks will be delivered on Friday, rather than Monday, when the third of the month falls on a weekend," Pepper said.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

What Would the Master Say?

British Beatle John Lennon has written a leaflet about which he says, "Jesus would have loved our piece for what it is."

However, authorities at Coventry Cathedral in London have refused to allow the leaflet to be sold in connection with a sculpture exhibition in the cathedral's garden.

The leaflet invited purchasers to sit on a garden seat, look at two plastic pots in which acorns had been planted and ponder the stirrings of life as the acorns developed into oaks.

Church authorities declined to allow the leaflets to be sold, because they believed the readers would be thinking less about the acorns than about Lennon and his Japanese paramour, Yoko Ono.

Both Lennon and Miss Ono are married—but not to each other.

Maybe Jesus would have admired the eloquent prose of the leaflet, but He would have denounced adultery in no uncertain terms.

Sign of the Times

One of the most disquieting signs of the times in which we live is that morality has sunk to such a low level that men and women no longer think it necessary even to conceal their violations of the laws of God and of the state.

As to Lennon's previous statement that the singing group was more popular than Jesus, there are several comments that might be made.

One question which might be asked is, "How popular do you believe the Beatles' records will be, 1900 years after the death of the singers?"

Popular Way Unsafe

Another point to mention would be that Jesus never claimed that His way would be the popular way. Quite the contrary, in fact.

He said, "Wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

As a matter of actual truth, John Lennon should know that, according to Jesus' words, the popular way is the wrong way.

If you are on the popular way, you should heed the words of the Master and turn from the broad way that leads to destruction.

Right Way Not Crowded

The narrow way that leads to life is not so crowded, but it is the right way—and it is the way of happiness.

One of the paradoxes of life is that those who tread the narrow way with the Master are happy, while those who stream along the broad, popular way—frenziedly seeking fun—do not find happiness, because it is not there.

Which road are you on?

200 Attend Family Reunion

Approximately 200 relatives attended the Lightsey-Bennett second annual reunion last Sunday, which was held at Highlands Hammock State Park in the Recreation Hall.

Those attending were descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Lightsey. Mrs. Lightsey was the daughter of A. H. S. Bennett, all deceased.

This annual reunion is held on the third Sunday in July in the form of a carry in dinner. Relatives from all parts of Florida and one from South Carolina attended.

Winn-Dixie Buys More Florida Vegetables

Marking a sizable increase over last year, $14,062,031 was paid to Florida growers and processors of fresh fruits and vegetables at three field buying offices by Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., during the recent growing season.

The three buying offices are located in Pahokee, Plant City and Pompano, where the increase over last year's purchases amounted to $2,706,569.

This Florida-grown produce found its way into shopping carts in many of Winn-Dixie's 746 supermarkets in the local area and throughout the Southeast.

"These purchases, which are increasing every year, illustrate our long-standing policy of doing business direct with growers and processors in our own operating areas wherever possible," said Executive Vice President Joe A. Adams.

MRS. JOHN PAUL WHIDDEN

Couple United In Double-Ring Ceremonies In Baptist Church

Miss Mary Anne Graham became the bride of John Paul Whidden, 256 Hubbard St., Ft. Myers, in a double-ring ceremony at seven o'clock Friday night, July 12 at First Baptist Church in Avon Park. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Graham of 229 South Forest Ave., Avon Park, and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Whidden, 256 Hubbard St., Ft. Myers.

Rev. Aden D. Childress officiated at the service, following a program of nuptial music, presented by Mrs. Aden Childress, organist, and Mrs. Sam Elder, soloist. Mrs. Dolan Hill was accompanist for Mrs. Elder, when she sang "Walk Hand in Hand", and "Whither Thou Goest."

A green foliage background of jade fern balls provided a setting for two brass standard bouquets of white gladioli and shasta daisies, with matching center arrangements. Tiered brass candelabra held burning white tapers, and a lace-covered kneeling bench completed the church decorations. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Bride Wears Organza

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of pure silk organza. A scoop scalloped neckline and short sleeves highlighted the cape effect, and appliques of imported Chantilly lace accented the bodice. An A-line skirt completed the picture. Silk illusion banded with imported Chantilly lace accentuated the mantilla flowing from a crown beaded with seed pearls. She carried a traditional cascade bouquet of a white orchid, carnations, stephanotis and English ivy.

Mrs. Pete Peterson, attended her sister as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Buchanan of St. Petersburg, and Mrs. Roland Droit, Jr., the bride's sister.

The attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of lime crepe and aqua chiffon. A stand-up collar accented the fitted yoke, and the flowing cape highlighted the two shades of self-covered buttons down the back yoke.

Their headpieces were looped petals and a pouf of illusion at the crown. They carried formal cascade bouquets of feathered mums and trailing English ivy complemented each bouquet.

Lisa Droit, niece of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing an aqua organza floor length. She carried a white basket of yellow feathered mums and rose petals, with an aqua bow and streamers to match her dress. Greg Whidden was ringbearer.

The bride's mother chose a street-length aqua and lace crepe sheath dress, with lace coat and matching accessories. Her flowers were a tailored corsage of aqua carnations featuring white starburst chrysanthemums.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a two-piece beige knit suit, with self-covered buttons down the front, and white accessories. She wore a corsage of champagne carnations combined with bronze daisy chrysanthemums.

Andy Cucchiaro of Sebring attended as best man, and usher-groomsmen were Eddie Tomek and Gordon Eisenman.

Wedding Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Graham entertained at a reception in the social hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth, with white taffeta skirt, tied at each end with nosegays of white roses and stephanotis.

The table held a traditional three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Silver candelabra holding burning white tapers were on either side of the cake, and silver compotes on the table held nuts and decorated mints. The bride's bouquet was on the table, which was banked with palms and baskets of white gladioli and shasta daisies.

The punch tables were overlaid with white cloths trimmed with lace, and held silver bowls, candelabra, and compotes of nuts and mints. The punch bowls were decorated with greenery and white roses. The bridesmaids bouquets adorned the tables.

The bride's book table was covered with matching cloth, and held an arrangement of white roses and wedding bells. Palms were at vantage points throughout the reception room.

Mrs. W. C. Touchton presented the guests to the receiving line. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Cleo Hall of Mulberry, cousin of the bride and Mrs. C. L. Hall of Sebring. Mrs. Fred Garrett, aunt of the bride, and Miss Sharon Sue Childress were at the punch bowls. Miss Patti Peterson and Miss Vicky Droit, both nieces of the bride, were in charge of the bride's book.

Aqua net bags tied with white satin ribbons, and filled with tinted rice were passed out by Bruce Hall of Mulberry, cousin of the bride, and Laurie Peterson, the bride's niece.

For a wedding trip to Nassau, the bride changed to a turquoise silk shantung sheath dress, with three-quarter length matching coat, and white accessories. She wore the orchid corsage lifted from her wedding bouquet. Miss Sharon Stroud of Atlanta, Ga., caught the wedding bouquet.

Upon their return, the couple will reside at the Cin Da Ru Apartments.

The bride is a graduate of Avon Park High School, and was formerly secretary to the area equipment manager of United Telephone Company.

The bridegroom was graduated from Ft. Myers High School, and Brenton Parker Junior College. He is presently area traffic manager for United Telephone Co., in Avon Park.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Billy A. Deason of Macon, Ga., Mrs. Janice McIntosh, daughter, Judy and son, Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Whidden of Ft. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Hall and sons, Bruce and Todd, and Mrs. Tom Farmer, of Mulberry, Mrs. Buford Ross of Winter Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buchanan of St. Petersburg, Mrs. Jim Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hammon, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hall of Sebring.

Dodson-Nute Rehearsal Dinner

Following the wedding rehearsal of Bobbie Dodson and Dale Nute, the bridegroom's parents entertained at "The Restaurant" just across the Georgia State Line north of Chattahoochee. Arrangements of yellow iris accented the table spread with refreshments for members of the wedding party and guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sapienza Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sapienza former residents of Henrietta Township, will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary on July 25 (today). No family celebration will be possible as all the children but one, who is in Vietnam, live in Lorain County, Ohio.

The children would like for their parents to be remembered with cards from their old friends.

Thomas Sapienza and Lillian Teaman were married at the bride's home on Lexington Ave. in Lorain on July 25, 1918, by the minister of the Broadway Baptist Chapel. Their attendants were Alice (King) Byers and Edwards McAndrews.

They lived in Braddock, Pa., where Mr. Sapienza was employed by U. S. Steel. He was transferred to the Lorain works and they spent many years in Lorain County, moving to Baumhart Road in Henrietta Township in 1941.

In 1954 they moved to Hialeah, where Mr. Sapienza was employed by Acme Aircraft for six years. Since his retirement, he has managed the Sand Beach Development in Avon Park.

Their children are Jean (Mrs. Edward Alton) of Avon; Charles Sapienga of Amherst; Leonard Sapienga of Henrietta; Dolores (Mrs. Allen Kendeigh) of Henrietta; and SP. 4 Danny Sapienza, who is serving with the army in Vietnam. The couple has 13 grandchildren.

Bobbie Dodson - Harold Nute Speak Vows In Baptist Church

Miss Bobbie Dodson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Dodson of Sneads exchanged wedding vows with Harold Dale Nute on June 15 at 7:30 P.M. at the Sneads First Baptist Church. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nute of Avon Park. The impressive double-ring candlelight service was performed by the Rev. Charles Cannon, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Miss Susan Van Meerbake of Orlando was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were, Misses Gail Sweat of Miami, Joyce Hinson and Phillis Dennis of Sneads. Sheila Williams, cousin of the bride from Charlotte, N. C. was flower girl.

Ronald Wilkins of Orlando was best man. Ushers were Randy Dexter of Tallahassee and Charles and Johnny Dodson, brothers of the bride.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

After a wedding trip to Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, the couple will be at home at 205 South Broward St. Apartment 3, Tallahassee.

Keep Your City Clean

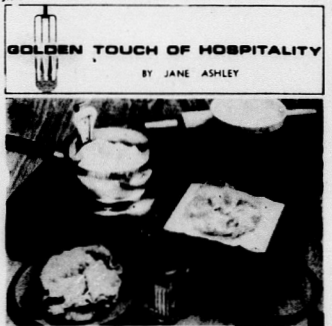

The old saying "As sure as death and taxes" might be updated to read "As sure as dirt and taxes."

Litter clean up costs United States taxpayers an estimated $500 million annually. The more we carelessly litter our city streets, countryside and waterways—the more it costs in tax dollars to clean up unnecessary messiness.

Thousands of groups throughout our nation are working together in the "Keep America Beautiful" movement. Will you help by minding your outdoor manners?

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY

BY JANE ASHLEY

Carnival Cakes Have Swiss Origin

Native to Switzerland is the carnival cake, sometimes called scrambled pancakes. They get the name wrinkled or scrambled from the way they look due to the way they are fried. The cakes are very thin rounds of dough which are fried in deep fat in a pan that is too small for the cakes. As it is fried, the edges of the cakes curl up and give the attractive curled appearance.

SWISS CARNIVAL CAKES

2 cups sifted flour
½ cup corn starch
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons light cream
1 tablespoon margarine, melted
1 teaspoon kirsch (optional)
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 quart corn oil, for frying
Confectioners sugar

Sift flour and corn starch together. Combine milk, cream, margarine, kirsch, salt and eggs, beat well with rotary beater. Stir in flour mixture, mixing until dough forms. Knead on floured board or cloth until dough is smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Cover; let rest in warm place 30 minutes.

Divide into 16 equal parts. Roll out two parts to 3-inch circles on floured board, keeping other portions of dough covered. Sprinkle one circle generously with flour; place second circle on top. Roll out to thin circle, then carefully separate two pieces, over back of hand if necessary. Stretch, if needed, to form 7-inch circles. Dust off excess flour and turn over two layers of clean cloth. Continue rolling until all 16 pieces of dough are thin, 7-inch circles; keep covered.

Then heat corn oil in deep skillet or large heavy saucepan to 375° F. (Oil must be at least 1 inch deep, but should not fill utensil more than ½ full). Drop two dough circles into hot oil, one at a time, and fry turning once, until light brown on both sides (about 2 minutes). Remove both cakes together; do not separate. Place in low temperature oven to keep warm, if desired. Continue frying until all cakes have been cooked. Dust with confectioners sugar before serving. Makes 8 cakes.

Final Payment To Be Made For Re-Evaluation

One more payment and Highlands County will have finished paying for the special expenses incurred in the property re-evaluation program.

The tentative county budget includes $62,157.34 for the last payment on the loan at Avon Citrus Bank. When the state ordered county assessments at 100 percent of value, most counties went into a professionally conducted tax revision program.

Special state legislation enabled counties to borrow money to finance such projects. Highlands County has made two payments on its loan, and the 1968-69 payment will be the last.

Payments are just beginning on two parts of the motor vehicle set-up. The two buildings, financed through the re-purchase arrangements, will cost $15,822 in the coming year, and the special inspection equipment will cost $1,000.

If you are driving a 1963 model car or newer, normal maintenance should include checking of your P.C.V. (postive crankcase ventilation) valve. It is an integral part in your smog control device and if faulty, will create a back pressure in your crankcase causing an overflow of oil out of your dipstick or oil fill cap. A rough engine idle could also be an indication. Best to check this little fellow about every 10,000 miles. Stop in, it takes a very few minutes to inspect. County Court Caseload Was Higher in 1967

Highlands county court, Judge Mervin Rehrer presiding, disposed of a total of 3,145 cases in 1967, 31 more than in 1966.

There were more cases brought in 1967—3,354 as compared to 3,336 in 1966. Of the 1967 cases, 1,409 were criminal, 1,539 traffic, 132 estates and guardianships, and 274 juvenile. Rehrer also is juvenile court judge.

Traffic cases showed a decided drop in 1967 from 1966, going from 1,822 in 1966 to 1,539 last year.

There were 110 non-jury trials and three jury trials of criminal cases and a total of 617 guilty pleas were entered. There was a total of 506 bond estreatures in 1967 as compared to 388 in 1966. And 631 cases were tried by the judge without a jury.

Of the traffic cases, 506 estreated their bonds while eight asked for jury trials and 1,068 went before the judge without a jury.

Civil Defense Funds Increased 300 Percent

Under "strong prodding" from state government, Highlands County commissioners propose to up the civil defense budget more than 300 per cent to provide a full-time staff.

In the tentative budget $14,427 is earmarked for civil defense with $10,352 designated for salary for a full-time director and a secretary. If this budget becomes final the present part-time director James Lawson will assume full-time duties on October 1.

State law directs that each county commission is to establish a civil defense department. Col. Hiram W. Tarkington, director of the Florida Department of Civil Defense, has contended that Highlands County's part-time department fails to meet the law's requirements.

Part of the whoping jump in the county's civil defense budget will be offset by a federal contribution of $6,468 for the department. As a part-time department the county had not qualified for federal funds in other years.

Taking into account the federal appropriation, the county's expenditure on civil defense will rise just over 100 per cent—from $3,169 to $7,000.

Shuffling

At the mid-week tournament there were just four courts in play, while on Saturday evening there were five courts.

Judy and Blaine Kerr won in the main event on Wednesday evening. Lura Pickell and Kate McAlexander were the runners-up. Reed Simpson and James Brown won in consolation, over Charles Romilly and Herb Shauger.

On Saturday evening the winners were Kate McAlexander and Chris Cabezas. Runners-up were Ruth and Art Jordan. Consolation winners were Judy Kerr and Reed Simpson over Elizabeth Clarke and Charles Romilly.

Card Games

Bill Johnson had a score of 590 and Sadie Benson 585 at the pinochle games on Monday afternoon. Three tables in play.

Dances

Almost three squares turned up to dance on Friday evening. Also many who liked to round dance and the spectators.

News Exchange

The Hoppes are now eating right fresh out of the garden, rhubarb, asparagus, lettuce, onions, strawberries, red and black raspberries, cherries, beets, currants and peas. Now doesn't that make your mouths water?

At Dewittville, N. Y. on August 7 at noon there will be an Avon Park picnic at the Dewittville Fire Hall. All you folks around there better plan on going. There were 42 last year. If you go, bring your own table service, drink and dish to pass. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Loomis and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Higgs.

Hazel Higgs writes they have five cows this year and it sure keeps her busy making butter, besides all the other garden work. The Burdette Howards called on them, giving them all the Avon Park news.

Vonna Beall and Margaret Browning are on a tour to Hawaii. Vonna writes on a card from there, it is so beautiful, she just could not describe it.

The Charles Brushes spent a month in Terre Haute, Ohio, having a wonderful time visiting with their family and friends. They saw the Harmon Haffners, the Harold Faulkners, the Sylven Bakers, Hubert Smiths and the Ray Dean Conrads. The Robert McBeths came over to visit them one day.

Third Son

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carter proudly announce the arrival of a son, Walter DeWitt Carter, weight nine pounds, four ounces, born Saturday, July 20. With their sons Chip and Travis, young Walter makes a trio of sons for the Carter family.

JANET JAMES is busy making final plans for her trip to Puerto Rico and various Islands where she will be one of five girls from the Heart of Florida Girl Scouts who will teach Girl Scout crafts to children on various islands in the Caribbean. The girls will leave Thursday, by plane from Miami.

Senior Scout Janet James To Teach Crafts

Janet James, one of five girls from Heart of Florida Girl Scout Council, selected to work with the Caribbean Children's Service Project, will leave Thursday for Puerto Rico along with four other girls and a counselor. Joining Janet will be Susan Corse, Jacksonville, Jo Ann Killinger, St. Petersburg, Carolyn Chitty, Jacksonville and counselor Rochelle Marriman from Winter Haven.

Thirty-two Senior Scouts and four adults from five participating councils in Florida, will conduct day camps for 10 days on Islands of Antigua, Dominica, Nevis and St. Kitts. They will be working with Girl Guides. In Puerto Rico they will separate into teams and will proceed to their designated Island, where the day camps will be established.

Janet has had a lot of scouting experience which will help her well in her work with the Caribbean children in these camps.

A JOHN PERRY NEWSPAPER

Avon Park, Fla., July 25, 1968—1B

The Library Corner

Man On A Spaceship is a small book of only 69 pages, telling the meaning of the Twentieth Century Revolution and the status of man in the Twenty First Century and after. William G. Pollard, the author, is one of the world's leading nuclear physicists and, at present, is in charge of the atomic facility at Oak Ridge, Tenn. At the same time he has been an active priest in the Protestant Episcopal Church, holding degrees in Theology from Hobart and Grinnel Colleges.

This book is the last in a series beginning in 1946 with America and Russia in the World Community by Harold Fisher, and Atomic Power and Moral Faith by T. T. Smith. In 1960 Dean Rusk presented The Role of the Foundation in American Life; in 1961 Charles Malik wrote Man in the Struggle for Peace.

The III-IV-V Chapters: The Creation of Man, The Image of God, The Future of Man suggest answers to the old questions of Evolution and God. This is definitely geared to the person who has a flexible mind which is really seeking to find real answers.

Rotary Report

By GEORGE WALPER

Dr. Coleman, Program Chairman for the day, introduced Dr. George Butz, Jr., Radiologist. Dr. Butz is affiliated with Burns & Associates Radiology group in Winter Haven. This Radiology group serves our own Walker Memorial Hospital as well as hospitals in Sebring, Lake Wales, Bartow, Haines City, and Winter Haven.

The field of Radiology is composed of 3 parts, namely, Diagnosis, Therapy, and Nuclear Medicine. 70% of the Radiologists work is composed of diagnostic procedures such as, reading and interpreting X-rays and performing fluoroscopic examinations. The treatment of diseases such as cancer would be listed under the heading of therapy. Such therapy utilizes either cobalt, deep X-ray, or radium. Recent trends in medicine have also shown great advantage through the nuclear phase of radiology. Here isotopes have been most prominent.

In years past many developed a fear of over radiation. Dr. Butz stated that in hospitals today, however, that this is watched very closely and that over exposure is minimal when proper precautions are followed.

Dr. Butz showed pictures of equipment which is assisting much today in the field of radiology. Some of the equipment shown is found today only at Oak Ridge where considerable work is being done on Isotope radiation. Other modern equipmen. of which pictures were shown is found in the radiology departments of our local hospitals. Also shown were examples of normal and malfunctioning organs of the body as depicted through scanning methods of radiology.

To equip rooms adequate to care for modern radiology such as is available in our hospital involves considerable investments. When one realizes the benefits derived from and the great amount of expenditure invested in the modern hospital and its equipment, it can truly be said that money paid for modern medical care is a bargain in health preservation.

Avon Park Lakes News

Cynthia T. Calvert — GL 34688

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denlinger, son Dennis and little cousin Cynthia returned from Miami Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huntington for several days. On Friday they visited Busch Gardens in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stotts and Mrs. Fannie Reinke visited friends in Haines City and Winter Haven last Wednesday.

Robert Bedard left by plane from Tampa last Friday after visiting with his grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Maude Bedard and Miss Gertrude Desautels for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walker returned from a six weeks trip to their former home of Louisville, Ky. last Monday. Returning to the Lakes with them were their granddaughters, Miss Carol and Judy Roller, also little Miss Sharon Sammons from Lagrange, Ill., who will be visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Bennett, for several weeks.

Mrs. George Burroughs entertained last Wednesday at a dessert canasta party for two tables of guests. Mrs. Gerard Liggiero won first prize and Mrs. W. T. Haines won second prize.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ackerson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patten for a trip to Orlando and a dinner in honor of Mrs. Ackerson, on Wednesday, July 16, celebrating her birthday.

Charles Balding visited his father in Kissimmee last Saturday and helped to take him home from the hospital.

Thirty-six members and guests attended the pot luck dinner at the club house last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dotson, who are new residents at the Lakes were welcomed. Hostesses for the dinner were, Mrs. W. T. Haines, Mrs. Maurice Bush and Mrs. T. W. Hardy.

Mrs. Robert Champion reentered Walker Memorial Hospital last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stotts entertained at a dinner last Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keys.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Homburg from Largo were visitors last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Bennett.

Victor Garay entered Walker Memorial Hospital last Friday for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mayfield from Shawnee, Okla. left Saturday after spending three days at the Lakes as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bue. They visited Cypress Gardens on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mathenon from Satellite Beach left Monday after spending the weekend with her mother and aunt, Mrs. Ann Carmichael and Mrs. Osia Sellers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehead from St. Cloud were visitors last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Lynch.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Mrs. Paul Roth tells us of a group of Avon Mobile Park residents who were at an outing at Mr. and Mrs. Orville Marshalls, who live in Syracuse, Ind. on the beautiful big Wawasee Lake. It was a most wonderful day with a temperature of 80 degrees. After a delicious fried chicken dinner, everyone enjoyed the beautiful lawn shaded by big maple trees.

The lake was calm and boats were out on the lake. The skipper, Mr. Marshall, who owns a pontoon boat, took all of his guests on a pontoon boat tour of the lake. The afternoon was spent taking pictures and making plans for the Avon Mobile Home Park Picnic which will be August 14 at the Alva Thompson Farm in Argus, Ind. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wolcott, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Wiedman, Mr. and Mrs. Welcome Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Thompson and Mrs. George DePoy, Mrs. Harry Longenecker and Mrs. Frank Fisher. It was enjoyed by all in good fellowship.

The Welcome Millers enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chamberlain from Avon Park. They played a game of shuffle together, and a snack after the game.

The Nieukirks, Girtens, and Winklers had a beautiful trip to the restaurant on Mount Pisgah and enjoyed a delicious meal there.

Mrs. Olive Kerwin drove the grandson of Maude Bedard of Avon Lakes to the Tampa airport on Friday. Robert Bedard, only 14 years old visited with his grandmother for a month. This Friday, Olive will drive to the McCoy Airport to pick up Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kull (Illion), who are returning from their three week tour of Europe.

Mrs. Bea Tingler writes from Upper Peninsula, Mich. that the weather had turned from rain and cold to hot, also the Basil Krontzes are back in Butler, Ind., after a miserable camping trip. They are all anxious for their return to good old Avon Mobile Home Park and Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Peurh have now moved into their remodeled Mobile Home, which is beautifully cozy and comfortable. May their hearts be warmed by the fellowship found in their new surroundings, and we wish them much happiness.

Mrs. Mildred Shearer is now on a ten day tour of Texas with a group from Ohio.

The Boyd Dagers are well and busy on their farm, and the Coys are fine.

We were glad to hear that the Milton Valentines have arrived home safely and are happily visiting all the children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Jesse Yates has had a cataract operation on her eye, and we all wish her a speedy, complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglas are planning on returning to Florida this winter.

John P. Kluckey Succumbs In Hospital

John P. Kluckey, 70, died July 18 in Walker Memorial Hospital.

He was a retired tool and die maker and had lived in Avon Park seven years, coming from Dundee, Mich.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lila Kluckey; a son, John R. Kluckey; two daughters, Mrs. Eleanor DeSmith and Mrs. Lilamae Levicki, all of Dundee.

Funeral services were held Friday at 4 P.M. at the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home with Rev. A. G. Hardee officiating.

He was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

ORDINANCE NO. 668

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF AVON PARK, FLORIDA ADOPTING PROVISIONS PROHIBITING THE ABANDONMENT OF CERTAIN VEHICLES; RESTRICTING THE DISPOSITION OR KEEPING OF WRECKED, NON-OPERATING OR DISCARDED VEHICLES ON STREETS OR PRIVATE PROPERTY WITHIN THE CITY; PROVIDING FOR DISPOSITION OF SUCH VEHICLES; PROVIDING A PENALTY CLAUSE; AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

WHEREAS, in the City of Avon Park, Florida, vehicles are, or may in the future be abandoned on the streets or private property within the City; and

WHEREAS, there are, or may in the future, be abandoned or partially dismantled, wrecked, non-operating or discarded vehicles left about the City other than in junk yards or other appropriate places; and

WHEREAS, such conditions tend to impede traffic in the streets, interfere with the enjoyment of and reduce the value of private property, invite vandalism, create fire hazards, constitute attractive nuisances to children as well as adults, interfere with the comfort, health and well being of the public and create eyesore and aggravate urban blight; and

WHEREAS, adequate protection of the public health, safety and welfare requires that such conditions be regulated, abated and prohibited; NOW,

THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF AVON PARK, FLORIDA:

Section 1. Abandoned, wrecked or junked vehicles unlawful to leave on public streets or private property.

(a) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply in the interpretation and enforcement of this ordinance:

(1) Person shall mean any person, firm or partnership, association, corporation, company, or organization of any kind.

(2) Vehicle shall mean a machine propelled or drawn by other than human power, designed to travel along the ground by wheels, wings, runners, or sides, and transport persons or property or pull machinery and shall include, without limitation, automobile, truck, trailer, motorcycle, tractor, buggy and wagon, and airplane.

(3) Motor vehicle shall mean the entire width between the boundary lines of every publicly dedicated right-of-way within the municipal limits of the City of Avon Park, Florida.

(4) Property shall mean all real property within the City which is not a street or highway.

(b) Abandonment of Vehicles. No person shall abandon any vehicle within the City and no person shall leave any vehicle at any place within the City for such time and under such circumstances as to cause such vehicle reasonably to appear to have been abandoned.

(c) Leaving of wrecked, non-operating vehicle on street. No person shall leave any partially dismantled, non-operating, wrecked, junked or discarded vehicle on any street or highway within the City.

(d) Disposition of Wrecked or Discarded Vehicles. Any person in charge or control of any property within the City, whether as owner, tenant, occupant, lessee, or otherwise, shall not allow any partially dismantled, non-operating, wrecked, junked or discarded vehicle to remain on such property longer than 72 hours, and no person shall leave any such vehicle on any property within the City longer than such period of time, except that this ordinance shall not apply with respect to a vehicle in an enclosed building, a vehicle on the premises of a business enterprise operated in a lawful place and manner, when necessary to the operation of such business enterprise, a vehicle in an appropriate storage place or depository maintained in a lawful place and manner by the City.

Section 2. The accumulation and storage of one or more such vehicles on private property, or on public or private property, shall constitute a nuisance detrimental to the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants of the City and shall be the duty of the owner of such vehicle and it shall also be the duty of any private property owner, lessee or other person in control of such private property upon which such vehicle is located to remove same from the street or to have the same stored in an enclosed building where it will not be visible from the street.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the City Clerk or his designee to give written notice to the last registered owner of any vehicle which is in violation of this ordinance as above described, or to the vehicle owner's lessee or person in possession, or the private land whereon said vehicle is situated, if the identity of the registered owner is not readily ascertainable, by violating such person or persons that said vehicle is in violation of this ordinance and demanding that said vehicle be removed from the City within 72 hours or that it within 72 hours same be housed in an enclosed building where it will not be visible from the street. Such notice may be given by personal service or by registered mail.

Section 4. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100.00 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding 60 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each day such violation is continued or permitted to continue shall constitute a separate offense and shall be punishable hereunder as such. Provided however, if the person, firm or corporation receiving the notice provided for in Section 3 of the notice, written agreement in a form satisfactory to the City Attorney providing for removal of such vehicle within a reasonable time, and such person, firm or corporation does remove or cause to be removed the vehicle within the time so agreed to, the person receiving said notice and agreement for arrest shall be issued.

AGREEMENT

KNOW ALL MEN by these presents, that in consideration of an offer to the City of Avon Park, Florida, or its agent, or contractor, _____ whose address is _____ to remove at either no cost to the undersigned or for the sum of _____ dollars, to the undersigned the hereinafter described discarded, wrecked or junked vehicle or part (s) thereof from certain premises owned by the undersigned, the undersigned warrants that he is the owner of said vehicle or part (s) or the owner or occupant of the property where said vehicle is located), and hereby grants, bargains, sells, transfers and delivers unto the City of Avon Park, Florida, or its agent (s) the following described wrecked or junked vehicle or part (s) thereof and releases the City of Avon Park and or its agent (s) forever, from liability for the removal of said vehicle.

Section 5. Separability. Each of the provisions of this ordinance is severable, including each word, clause, phrase or sentence and if any portion hereof shall be declared invalid, the remaining portions shall not be affected but shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 6. Repealing Provisions. All ordinances or parts thereof in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 7. Codification. This ordinance may be codified and incorporated into the City's code.

Section 8. This Ordinance is an emergency measure and it is hereby found and determined that the welfare of said City of a part thereof requires its immediate passage, and this Ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Mayor and upon its being published one time in a newspaper published in said City.

Mrs. L. A. Renfro Honor Agent Receives Award

The National Life Underwriters Association, presented the National Sales and Achievement Award to Mrs. L. A. Renfro at a luncheon held in Lake Wales, July 18.

Mrs. Renfro is employed by the Liberty National Life Insurance Co., and was honor agent for the company in 1967 and '68 and district leader in 1967.

The District covers Highlands, Hardee and Polk Counties.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my many friends and neighbors who visited me, sent flowers and cards during my confinement in the hospital.

Mrs. Lucille Phillips

Mother Of Albert Hines Died Sunday

Mrs. Margaret J. Hines, 80, died Sunday, July 21 in Walker Memorial Hospital. She had lived in Avon Park one month, coming from Plymouth, Mich.

She was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Survivors include two sons, Albert Hines of Avon Park and Arthur Hines, Westland, Mich.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, July 23, 3 P.M. at the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home with Father John Knapp officiating. She was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Scott-Stephenson Smith Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Rebekah Lodge End Meetings

The last meeting of the Eleanor Seaverns Rebekah Lodge No. 65, was held June 17, at 8 P.M. at the Youth Center. There were 15 members and two visitors present.

Since the boat factory has taken over the building, we had to vote on moving, and it was finally decided that we would take the offer of the Lion's Club, and so plans were made to move our equipment there.

At the close of the meeting, Sister Virginia Carneglia motored the group down to a restaurant for refreshments. The table was covered with a beautiful wine cloth. We had cake, coffee and tea, and then ice cold watermelon.

Our next meeting will be held the third Monday in September.

Sunshine Pound Cake

Brighten Summer Days With Light-As-A-Feather Cake And Colorful Fruit

Southern cooks take pride in the heirloom pound cake recipes which have been passed down from generation to generation — ever since the first English colonists settled in Virginia. Today's version of the classic, Sunshine Pound Cake, is so delicate and flavorful that it may well become a treasured recipe in your family.

Fine texture, golden color and fresh lemon flavor distinguish this quick to prepare cake. The electric mixer takes the effort out of beating. Self-rising flour, with leavening and salt measured and pre-blended, saves measuring, sifting and mixing steps.

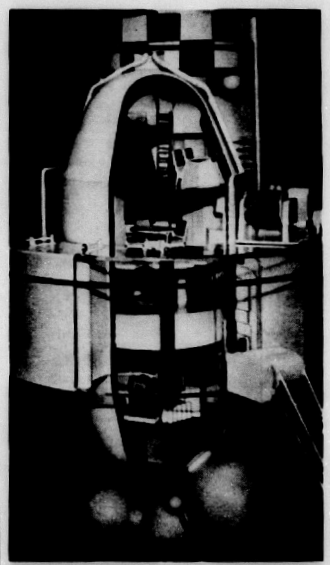

Lightly dusted with confectioners sugar, Sunshine Pound Cake takes on a regal appearance. If there's a birthday in the family, celebrate the occasion with the tender cake gayly decorated with candles. Other times, top cake slices with ice cream, custard sauce or fruit.

Cakes, cookies and other desserts prepared with enriched self-rising flour help maintain daily good health for you and your family. Enriched self-rising flour and corn meal contain three essential B-vitamins, niacin, thiamine and riboflavin, plus the minerals iron and calcium.

SUNSHINE POUND CAKE
1 cake

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
6 eggs
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2½ cups enriched self rising flour
Confectioners sugar

Cream together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add lemon juice and lemon rind. Blend flour gradually into creamed mixture. Pour into well-greased 3 quart crown mold or 9-inch tube pan. Run knife gently through batter to eliminate air bubbles. Bake in preheated 325° oven 1 hour or until done. Cool in pan 10 minutes before removing. Cool completely on wire rack; sprinkle with confectioners sugar.

Only 1 Resident Shows Up To Protest Taxes

Only one person showed up at the Avon Park City Council Board of Equalization meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Wilimina Wynant stated that her house was 17 years old and no depreciation had ever been allowed. After property was inspected, council removed the depreciated value on the property.

A letter from Carol Belin and another from Mrs. Charlotte Westrick was read and after inspecting the properties the council reduced the assessment on Carol Belin's property to allow for a building that had been removed. Westrick's property will stay the same.

Council voted to restore the property of Rev. Billie Holstein to the tax roll.

88 Warrents Issued On Violators Of City Outdoor Toilet Ordinance

Eighty-eight warrants were issued this week to property owners in Avon Park for violating a city ordinance forbidding outdoor privies in the city limits. Sixty-one are on rental property owners and 27 individuals. The company with the most is Southside Park Co., Inc with 49.

Council president, Andrew Scott and Councilman Rodney Lane signed the affidavits to enforce the city ordinance last Thursday. Trial is set for October 29, 1968, 8 P.M.

The ordinance which forbids outdoor toilets in the city was passed March 24, 1952, but has never been enforced up to now. A letter from the bi-racial committee in 1965 with Rev. Aden Childress, secretary and Jim Heim, chairman was submitted to the council requesting the mayor and council start working on eliminating the outdoor privies in the city. At that time Dan Bennett made the motion which was unanimously carried.

10 Teachers Needed In School System

With the opening of classes a month away the Highlands County school officials are still seeking 10 teachers, mostly specialists provided for in the new education improvement program.

Superintendent George F. Douglass said teacher applications are coming in "at the rate of four or five a day." He told the school board this week that the action of National Education Association and Florida Education Association in removing Highlands County from the sanctions list has aided this county in teacher recruitment.

"Our salary schedule is very competitive now, and with the removal of sanctions we are getting applications from the kind of teachers we want in Highlands County," Douglass told the board.

Some of the applicants are from out-of-state and some are from Florida counties, particularly the counties still under sanctions.

Reading specialists are the greatest need, the superintendent said, and a language arts supervisor position is still open with "no one in sight for this spot."

Mrs. Bernice Henderson, who had been critically injured in an auto accident, may not be able to begin school in September, Douglass said, and he is looking for a qualified substitute to start the school year.

Teacher appointments approved at the board meeting this week are Miss Shirley Hardee, Avon Elementary; Mrs. Mary Barrow Weaver, Sebring High; Mrs. Delis Clark Rivero, Lake Placid area; Mrs. Sara Ellen Douce, Robert Lee Douce and Conrad Edward Walser, all for Lake Placid High.

Earl T. Hill was named custodian for Hopewell.

Seniors Should Plan Now To Enter ROTC In College

The United States Navy recruiting office, located in the Federal Building in Lakeland, calls attention to all high school seniors to plan ahead now!

Although it is presently only mid-Summer, for many students their senior year of high school is fast approaching. College plans have already been established by some of these students, but many others remain undecided about their pursuits upon graduation. College plans should begin early, and no male high school senior should overlook consideration of one of the Navy's finest college training officer candidate programs — the regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) — in deciding upon his college plans.

The regular NROTC is a program designed to train career officers for the Navy and Marine Corps. The program includes payment by the Navy of tuition, educational fees, textbooks, uniforms, and provides a $50 monthly subsistence allowance to its members for four years. Selected candidates are enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve and are appointed midshipman upon enrollment in college.

The college majors which a candidate may undertake are many, and only a few nontechnical professional majors are prohibited. During the Summers between college years, midshipmen participate in at-sea training periods which provide practical experience in Naval operations and from which they receive many varied and rewarding experiences. Upon graduation, midshipmen may be commissioned as ensigns in the U.S. Navy, or as second lieutenants in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Investigate this program now by requesting a 1969 NROTC bulletin from your Navy recruiters, Chief's Frank Bodin or Lou Lou Sardo, at their office in the Lakeland Federal Building. Now!

Football Tickets On Sale Today

Season and reserved seat tickets for the 1968 Red Devil football season at Memorial Field will go on sale August 1 at the high school office between the hours of 8 A.M. to 4 P.M.

Red Devil fans who held reserved seat tickets last season may purchase the same seat between August 1 and August 15. Between August 16 and August 31 holders of reserved seats last year may exchange them for a different location if any are available. Then on September 1 all tickets not purchased will go on sale to the general public.

The price remains $3 per ticket for each of the reserved seats.

Season tickets for admission to the five scheduled home games will also go on sale this week. Regular admission price to each home game will be $1.50 but a season ticket may be purchased for $6.

Col. R. R. Temple Serving In Vietnam

Lieutenant Colonel Richard R. Temple, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Temple of Rt. 1, Avon Park, is on duty at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam.

Colonel Temple, an air operations officer, is a member of the Pacific Air Forces.

Before his arrival in Vietnam, he was assigned to Offutt AFB, Neb.

The colonel, a 1940 graduate of Peoria (Ill.) Central High School, earned his BBA degree from the University of Mississippi. He received his commission in 1943 through the aviation cadet program and served in the China-Burma-India Theater of Operation during World War II.

Forward Florida In This Week's Sun

With this week's Avon Park Sun is a special magazine, in addition to All Florida, which is brought to you through the Florida Press Association.

The magazine this week is being distributed throughout the state through daily and weekly newspapers.

The title of the publication is Forward Florida and the contents have been prepared by the staff of the Press Association office in Gainesville.

The purpose of this magazine is to present a picture of this state's tourism and industry.

Reprints will be given to tourists this coming season through Welcome Stations and other media.

Deadline For Qualifying August 9

Deadline for qualifying as well as registering for the forth-coming city election September 10 will be 5 P.M. Friday, Aug. 9, at the City Hall.

Three councilmen will be elected this year for two year terms and the ballot will consist of several referendums on which the voters will be asked to make their decision.

Terms expire this year for Council President Andrew Russell Scott, and Councilmen Wayne Albright and Durrah Martin.

To date Martin is the only encumbent which has qualified, the other candidates which have thrown their hats into the political ring are J. B. Sparks, a former councilman, and Lester Brown.

TALLAHASSEE—Thousands of state employes will receive pay raises next month through the efforts of Broward Williams, boosting their annual salaries above the federally designated poverty level of $3,000.

School Board Passes Record $4 Million Budget Tuesday

Highlands County school board formally adopted a record $4 million plus budget with virtually no comment from the public—a lack which drew sharp words on public apathy from board member-elect G. Franklyn Ward.

Ward doesn't take office until January, but he has faithfully attended meetings since his unopposed nomination for the seat now held by R. L. Padgett. At the public hearing Monday for the annual school budget Ward asked Superintendent George F. Douglass what reaction he had heard, particularly from the property owners' organization, about the budget and the tax hike it carries.

The county school tax will climb from 6.5 mills to 8 mills with the 1.5 mill increase earmarked for a pay-as-you-go construction program. Douglass said he had received no communications—either calls or letters—about the budget.

Only persons present for the budget hearing, apart from the school officials, were Mr. and Mrs. Ward and a reporter.

"I am deeply disappointed that we have had no response at either this hearing or the preliminary meeting when the board made decisions about the budget which was advertised. I thought people were interested in the schools, in helping us improve them," Ward commented.

He joined board Chairman Henry Bailey in urging immediate activation of the new Lay Advisory Committee. Douglass said the area supervising principals—Aubrey Morris, Billy Cason and Guy Garrett—had been notified about the committee appointments and asked them to hold meetings in their respective areas before school opens the first week in September.

"We need to solicit the help and advice of these committee members. We'll miss the boat if the committees are not activated soon," Bailey said.

Bailey indicated one problem he would like for the Lay Advisers to tackle is the proposed building program.

Mrs. Ward raised with the board and Superintendent the feasibility of using new construction to house students in middle grades and retaining the high schools at their present sites.

Superintendent Douglass said he had raised the same question with State Department of Education survey team members three years ago and had been told the present high schools sites are too small and acquisition of in-the-middle-of-town property to enlarge the campuses in Sebring and Avon Park would be prohibitive.

E. Ray Wells resurrected the old question about feasibility of a consolidated county high school—or at least an Avon Park-Sebring High. Douglass opposes this as "impractical in an area of rapid population growth."

But whatever schools are built, Chairman Henry Bailey believes a bond issue the better way of financing, and he is pressing to get new cost estimates from the State Department of Education.

The board Monday again cracked up the machinery for bringing to sale $1 million in bonds backed by the county school board share of race track taxes. Minimum time needed to prepare for a sale will be 85 days, Douglass reported.

This money is earmarked for construction.

No Evidence of Aedes Aegypti Mosquito In Past Month

Mosquito hunters have found no eggs of the Aedes Aegypti mosquito in Highlands County during the past month and only a skeleton crew now is operating in the area.

But it will be two years before checking of the little black jars (ovite traps) ends.

"The powers in Atlanta will have to determine how long we will have to remain," said Eugene C. Rayburk, supervisor. The fight is being waged by a Florida State Health Department force of 70 men and 29 spraying trucks in Highlands, DeSoto and Hardee counties and has been going on about 11 months.

An inspection of the urban areas of the three counties at the start of the campaign turned up around 2,000 premises with evidence of the mosquito, 700 of them in this county. The mosquito carries dengue fever as well as yellow fever.

An evaluation team of about 10 men from the State Board of Health in Jacksonville worked the three counties in recent days and found no places with the mosquito, Rayburk said.

A total of 1,742 little black jars have been placed in the counties with each one not less than 300 feet apart.

Although yellow fever has not been found in this country in 63 years, there is always the danger that the virus can be brought from infested areas such as parts of South America by mosquitoes hitchhiking on airplanes. Rayburk described the program as preventive.

Rayburk's men have been carrying on spraying in areas where infestation was found.

So in addition to the long range program, whose aim is to rid Florida of the dangerous fever carrying mosquito, the program may benefit Floridians generally, who may get a few bites less this Summer than they would have ordinarily.

Kenneth Griffin Pleads Guilty To Manslaughter

Kenneth Griffin, 29, of Avon Park, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the shooting of Robert Morgan after they argued over a shirt, was sentenced to 20 years in prison last week by Circuit Court Judge Clifton Kelly.

Griffin originally was charged with second degree murder but was allowed to plead to the lesser charge.

Lester Larkin Jones, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the home of James Elder at Avon Park, was sentenced to two years in jail.

Albert Jenkins, Avon Park, pleaded guilty to assault and battery in the knifing of Chester Thompson April 6, was sentenced to six months in jail.

Nathaniel and Ocie Lee Turner of Avon Park, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Venus Post Office, and will be sentenced after a pre-sentence investigation. Charges that they broke into the Shamrock service station, Triangle drive-in and Maddox's were nolle prossed.

Donald Cherry of Lacey Hill, Avon Park, pleaded guilty to possession of a weapon by a convicted felon. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Juvenile Court Judges Meet In Cocoa Beach

Highlands County Judge Mervin Rehrer, wife and daughter Laurie drove to Cocoa Beach last Tuesday evening where the judge attended the Florida Council of Juvenile Court Judges, held at the Ramada Inn, Wednesday thru Friday.

As president of the group, Judge Rehrer presided at the opening of the meeting.

Some subjects discussed was a report by O. J. Keller, director of Youth Services for the State of Florida, on the "Drug Abuse Problem," the "Battered Child Syndrome" and the present "Trends in Delinquency Control" and the conduct of Juvenile Court procedures. There were speakers on each issue.

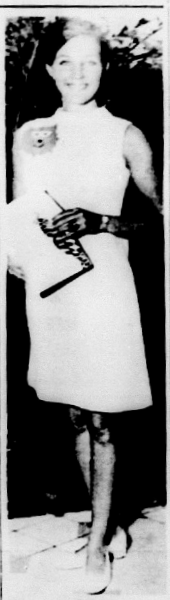

Marshall Criser, president of the Florida Bar Association addressed the joint group on Thursday. The judges and their wives were taken on a kings tour of the Cape on Thursday afternoon.

The joint group was entertained at a banquet on Friday evening at which time Senator Elmer Friday was guest speaker.

Other state officials to speak before the group were Justice McCain, Fourth District Court of Appeals, Bud Dickinson, State Comptroller, and Doyle Conner, Commissioner of Agriculture.

The newly elected county court officers were installed on Friday evening by Senator Friday. Juvenile court officers of which Judge Rehrer is president will continue in office until February, 1969.

Judge Rehrer was also elected vice president of the County Judges Association.

Susan Biggs At All Star Marching Clinic

Susan Biggs, head majorette for Avon Park High School Band left Tuesday morning for Gainesville, University of Florida to attend the All Star Marching clinic which is composed of selected majorettes from over the state.

Miss Nancy Wolfson a Gatorette from Lake Wales, in the university band, will be the teacher. Nancy will also teach the Avon Park majorettes new routines for the fall season.

The All Star Band will put on a pre-game and half-time show for the North-South High School All Star football game to be held Saturday, Aug. 3 at Florida Field, Gainesville.

Twenty majorettes from the state have been selected for the band.

Shooting Deer Draws Stiff Fine For Man

Killing a white tail buck deer out of season cost Kenneth Lee Smith, 30, of Avon Park, $250 in fines and 30 days in jail.

Smith, a grove worker, was arrested July 17 at 9:30 A.M. by wildlife officer Eddie Wheeler of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission on the Spring Valley road bounding Hammock park on the East. He was sentenced by County Judge Mervin Rehrer last week.

The hunter, had a gun and a light when apprehended and a short distance away was the freshly killed young deer, whose horns were only two inches long. Wheeler was on a routine patrol.

Smith pleaded guilty to possession of a fresh killed deer and of gun and light. His gun and 1951 Pontiac were impounded. He currently is serving his jail sentence.

Fall Program At SFJC Begins Aug. 16

The Fall program at South Florida Junior College, Avon Park, gets underway with an orientation program designed for all entering students at 10 A.M., August 16, in the Holmes Theatre.

The college will offer new programs in vocational technical Education this Fall, with full time offerings in air-conditioning and radio-TV electronics.

In addition, associate in science programs will be available in animal science, citrus technology, and agricultural machinery, as well as programs in general business and secretarial science.

The college parallel division will offer an expanded complement of courses leading to the associate in arts degree. These programs are transferable to universities throughout the state and nation. Applications are being accepted in all programs as long as space remains available.

For additional information, persons interested can consult the advertisement appearing in this edition of the paper or contact the Office of the Director of Admissions, P. O. Box 668, Avon Park.

J. B. Sparks, former councilman and retired businessman, qualified Friday before Mrs. Virginia Henderson as a candidate for one of the three council seats in the forthcoming city election September 10. Sparks, a resident of the city for the past 20 years, received 691 votes in his race for mayor last year.

Home, Mother, Apple Pie?

When one of the state Civil Defense officials paid a visit here a week or so ago, he asked if anybody had any nasty questions and facetiously cautioned "remember that you're speaking against home, mother and apple pie."

Well, here we go. And we don't feel we're against home, mother and apple pie. We're against spending taxpayers money needlessly.

We have been aware that the county spent $3,000 last year on the Civil Defense program in the county and we were told that the state director was a pretty tough cookie and they didn't have much choice.

Then we learned that $14,437 will be spent on the program this coming year in this county. And all we can conclude is that if you don't nip programs like this in the bud, their energetic directors will just ride rough shod over your bankroll and set themselves up a great big organization. And then try to cut 'em down! Just try!

Civil Defense is a great idea, but for this kind of money? We think somebody should put the brakes on before they make any further inroads on our tax dollar.

We can see spending money in the heavily populated areas where enemy planes might strike —areas where there are defense plants, military installations. But Highlands County? Hardly. During the last hurricane, Red Cross handled the shelters and it cost nothing.

If somebody is going to spend $14,437 in Highlands County how much better would this money be spent on something like our new Youth Care Home, where we can see what it is doing for the citizenry.

Youth Care is still in need of funds—and here we go tossing away $14,437 of your money and mine on Civil Defense. Isn't it sort of like keeping a nice fresh bandage on your finger all the time just in case you cut the finger some time?

State law now directs that each county commission is to establish a civil defense department. Col. Hirman W. Tarkington, director of the Florida Department of Civil Defense, has contended that Highlands County's part time department fails to meet the law's requirements.

We think a long look is needed at this state's Civil Defense program. We think people should speak up before this thing gets more out of hand than it already is.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Councilman Answers Letter

After thoroughly studying my previous letter and Mr. King's previous letter I can only suggest if Mr. King does not comprehend my answer that he should take it to some one and have it interpreted for him.

If Mr. King had had a pencil and paper with him the night the previous council, of which he was president, approved the budget or understood the figures in it, even he would have realized that the $7,700 budgeted for the year 1967-68 for salaries in the water and sewer departments could not possibly have covered the three men's salaries which were employed at that time. Two men were employed in the sewer department, one at $3,680 per year the other at $3,360 and one man in the water department at $5,200 a year. For your information, Mr. King, this totals $12,240 for a net shortage of $4,540 with nothing allowed for overtime, which is bound to be required as water mains do break occasionally.

Yes, Mr. King, is right for once, we are getting low on water department funds. We replaced 1600 feet of 4 inch line on Lake Ave. with an 8 inch line to get adequate water to Kern Furniture Factory. We are also installing 3300 feet of 6 inch water lines to serve citizens of our city who have for many years had inadequate water and no fire protection as the whole section north of Norton Drive and Lake Isis from Central Avenue west to Palm Drive was fed by only a 2 inch line which was entirely inadequate even for household uses.

Incidentally, we are installing fire hydrants so as to comply with the State Fire Marshalls recommendation of October 2, 1962, to enable all citizens of our city to get lower fire insurance premiums.

We have also bought pipe and are working on a program to get fire protection and adequate water to the people on Lotela Road at Bombing Range Road, which includes all homes within 1,000 feet of the intersection and another program at Pleasant and Woodlawn which will cover the new subdivision in that area. For the present this leaves only one area that we know of to date that needs larger water lines in order to get a lower fire rate for all the city and that is the homes on the west side of Lake Isis. This line is being included in our budget for the year 1968-69 along with street identification signs and much needed sidewalks.

Mr. King stated in his letter last week and I quote: "I stand ready at all times to protest any new taxes or tax increases on the taxpayers of Avon Park. They are not needed. The way the council can avoid new taxes is to live within the city's means as families have to do."

Mr. King also stated publically on the band stand at the political rally last year that there was a large surplus of money left in the city accounts in fact approximately 20 to 30 thousand dollars, but the certified public accountant, hired by the council of which Mr. King was president, didn't think so, as he signed the audit, which is on file at the City Hall and open to public inspection for any taxpayer to examine if he so desires.

The audit, prepared by Robert Kennedy, C.P.A., shows that at the close of business September 30, 1967:

General Fund	$ 5,282.81
Payroll Account	2,543.52
Cigarette Tax Fund	3,464.50
Cash on hand	200.00
Total	$11,490.83
Accounts Payable Trade Accounts	$ 8,750.13
Social Security Payable	2,047.58
Withholding Tax Payable	2,806.44
Total	$13,604.15

showing the finances short $2,113.32 the day the present council was sworn into office, immediately after midnight on September 30, 1967.

Mr. Editor unless Mr. King can come up with the truth for a change, I request that this means of getting free publicity be eliminated and that he be man enough to pay for his apparent publicity campaign out of his own pocket. This is the same kind of campaign he used when he ran three years ago.

Resident Urges Equal Representation

Dear Editor,

At last weeks session of the Avon Park City Council I read a statement not as a candidate for some office but as a concerned citizen. In view of later action by some members of our city council toward equalizing law enforcement, I feel the following excerpt might be enlightening to the public.

To Quote: "Some three years ago there came to this community thru the Vista program one of the most dedicated couples I have ever met. They sought to serve and had only good will in their hearts for every person in town. But soon this happened:

It is my understanding that one night this couple showed the city council some pictures of the outhouses adjoining our Hopewell School grounds. The next week they were out. Quietly without a word of criticism or complaint they just left town. I still do not know what happened—but the outhouses are still there contaminating the public school grounds, while their owners continue to reap comfortable incomes from the rents.

These rents, I understand, have frequently been collected by individuals attached to the city police department and the county sheriff's department. If this is not intimidation, it certainly is not creating good will toward our law enforcement agencies.

When organizations or individuals own some 40 of these houses needing repair, it would seem to me they might sell one or two of these without great hardship in order to meet the requirements of the law in equipping the rest with water meters and flush toilets.

Why is there such general disrespect for law and order in the world today. Is it not partly that there are just too many people at the top of totem poles who do not carry the weight of their own public obligations. If anyone is to be given a break should it not be those who are struggling to be self-supporting rather than those who already have it made?" (end quote)

If we are to progress as a community we need a vitally concerned council composed of individuals who have the courage of conviction and if need be, will dare to stand alone for those convictions. We need to learn from each other and the greater our differences aired openly and in mutual faith, the greater our capacity for improvement and growth.

Several people have asked me about running for city council. You don't need my voice as much as you need the voice of some respected negro of their own choosing, so the whole truth abc our community can be h wn. The truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth will literally set us all free—free from the shackles of the past.

People Should Exercise Their Voting Privilege

Dear Editor:

Voting is a great privilege, which only civilized countries created for the benefit of all citizens, not just the privileged class. Voting gives us a chance to select the person with whom we can trust our destiny, our privileges, etc.

That is the reason we have to study the record of the character of the person we have in mind to trust our valuable vote. Sometimes because of one vote, we lose this important privilege.

Our vote shall be given to the person who is able to protect us, to develop our city in ever way; to the person who is able to develop our city and county to such an extent that there shall be enough business for every storekeeper, manufacturer, builder.

Work will be for every worker. They shouldn't have to go to another city or state and look for work. Wherever they find work, there they spend their money and there they pay the taxes. This is why our City is always short in its treasury, and is forced to tax the settlers of our city and county.

In order to develop our city to such an extent, we have to increase our tourism. In Florida, a city without tourism is a dead city. Only a small percent is doing well, the balance are struggling. The tourist that comes to us to play shuffleboard is not sufficient.

It helps a few business concerns, but not enough to create work and sufficient business. What we need is the tourist who comes here to buy or build a home and intends to stay here permanently.

When they buy a home they need everything a home needs, including the hospital, doctors, dentist, oculist. This is the type of tourist we need.

Susan Biggs FHA Delegate At Miami Beach

Miss Susan Biggs was the Future Homemakers of America delegate to their convention July 7 thru the 12th, held at the Americana Hotel, in Miami Beach.

Over 1200 girls through out the United States attended, 25 of which were from Florida including state officers.

The theme of the meeting was "Citizenship FHA Challenge to Cherish." Dr. Bennetta B. Washington, wife of the mayor of Washington, D. C. and director of Women's Centers of the Job Corps spoke on "Youth Challenge to be Good Citizens."

The delegates divided into small groups held youth forums and discussed the problems of the world and work shops were held.

Susan was on the hostess board for Florida who hosted the entire convention. The guests were toured around to the meetings and directed to places of interest. Susan feels she has gained knowledge of value that will help the local chapter, who sponsored her. She has received plans for programs, relaxers for meetings and mental material.

The delegates were entertained with an aqua show and pool side dinner.

Climaxing the meeting was the installation of national officers held Thursday, July 11, in the evening by candle light.

Lunch Workers Begin Courses At SFJC

Lunch room workers from DeSoto, Hardee and Highlands Counties schools will start a series of concentrated courses Monday at South Florida Junior College.

The Course, taught by Mrs. Myra Miller and developed under supervision of the State Department of Education, will emphasize adequate diet control for school lunches.

According to H. D. Griffin, director of vocation and adult programs for the college, this offering is another step toward making South Florida Junior College a community service college. Any program of an educational nature, that will benefit the community will be undertaken, Griffin said.

Any lunch room worker, in the schools of DeSoto, Hardee or Highlands Counties, who wishes to take this course may register Monday at the first class meeting.

Howard - Lawhon, Jr. Exchange Wedding Vows in Dade City July 12

After a wedding trip to Miami Beach, newly weds Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Lawhon, Jr., will be at home at Cypress Gardens Mobile Park, Winter Haven.

Miss Nancy Fay Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Howard of Dade City and Charles Henry Lawhon Jr., of Lakeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lawhon of Avon Park, were united in holy wedlock July 12, in the Calvary Assembly of God Church, Dade City. Rev. Dillard J. Burrell performed the double ring ceremony.

Organist Mrs. Ray Matthews accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Lill Anderson, who sang, "More" and "The Lord's Prayer" and Lucky Dixon who sang "Love is a Many Splendored Thing."

The church altar was resplendent in a mass arrangement of glads, shasta daisies and large China mums centered the church loft where the vows were spoken. Cathedral candelabra and potted palms were placed at advantage points. The relative pews were marked with single pew candle lamps, holding white candles, entwinded with ivy and white satin bows.

The bride given in marriage by her father chose an Alfred Angelo Original formal length gown of imported clipped Chantilly lace, A-line style with a fitted bodice, highlighted by a scalloped sabrina neckline, which was delicately decorated with tiny irridescent sequins and seed pearls. Long fitted sleeves ended in a point over the wrists. The chapel length train fell from the empress waistline. Her petaled headpiece of Chantilly lace and seedpearls held the multi-tiered veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of American beauty roses centered with snowdrift white roses.

Lola Ann Howard, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and wore a floor length gown of turquoise imported French finane, styled A-line fashion. She carried a nosegay of American beauty roses with white satin streamers.

Bridesmaids, Dale Johnson of Dade City and Charlene Lawhon, sister of the groom, Lakeland, were dressed identically as the honor attendant.

Miss Karen Register, cousin of the bride from Lakeland was the flower girl and carried white rose petals for the brides' pathway. Timmy Lawhon, brother of the groom, was ring bearer.

Rainey Prevatt from Avon Park served the groom as best man. Ushers were Tom La Flam from Avon Park and Joe Rogers from Lakeland.

The bride's mother chose an ensemble of beige lace, dress and matching coat for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was made of rosebuds.

Mother of the groom wore a green lace dress and matching coat and a white carnation corsage.

For traveling the bride wore a blue and white checked suit.

Reception

Reception was held in the Calvary Assembly of God Church social hall.

Karen Howard, cousin of the bride, presided over the guest book.

The cake table held crystal candelabras, white tapers, with white satin bows on each corner, covered with a white lace cover. The wedding cake decorated with wedding bells and a heart was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The wedding party was arranged on the second layer separated by cake divioers.

Friends of the bride assisted in serving.

Clarence King Is New Grandfather

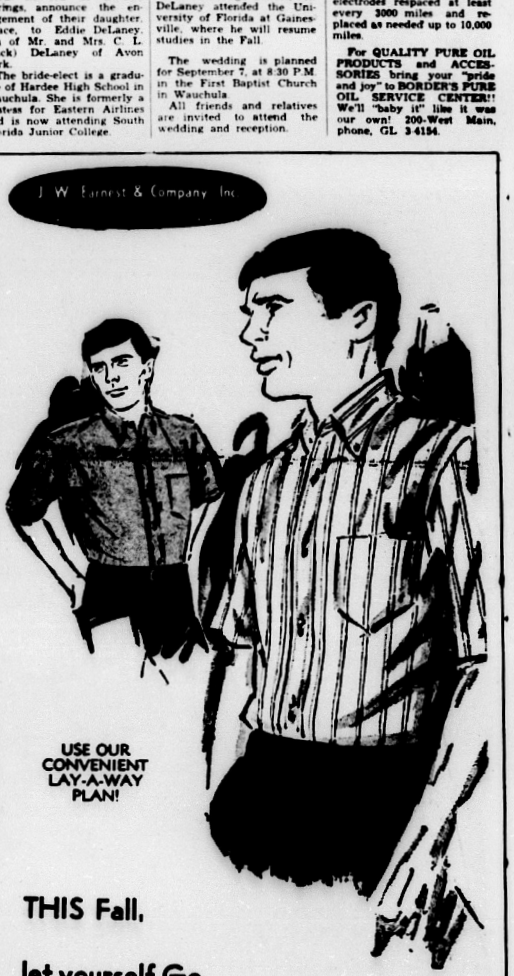

Alex King is the name of the 7½ lb. baby boy, born Friday, July 26, to Mr. and Mrs. George Marketos in Oakland, N. J. Mrs. Marketos is the former Judy King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence King.

By and large the spark plugs we select for your car depends upon the type driving you do. It might be said that we select plugs for the driver rather than the car! Touching on the technical, the center electrode or core is longer, causing the heat to travel farther, in a "hot plug" designed for hard driving. The electrode is shorter in a "cool plug" designed for short trip and city driving. Plugs should be removed, cleaned and the electrodes respaced at least every 3000 miles and replaced as needed up to 10,000 miles.

A woman reported her car missing but said that she hoped it wouldn't be found. She explained it had no gas, no battery, no brake and a broken gear.

Speaking of cars, you would be surprised how we like to write auto insurance and what good companies and rates we have.

F. U. Methodist Vacation Church School

The First United Methodist Church of Avon Park will have a Vacation Church School for 10 days, beginning August 5 through August 16. The starting time will be 8:30 A.M. thru 11:30 A.M. Students and teachers will enter the church sanctuary at 8:25 A.M. Parents are invited to attend the first and last day. The last day (or evening program) will be a display of the children's work and activities.

Lawrence Robinson is chairman of the Vacation Church School.

Ruth Magenheimer, publicity chairman. Lucy Derkman, chairman of the training program; Holly Reddick, pianist; Alma Smoot, song leader; Belle Martin, chairman of refreshments; Mrs. Stanley Prescott, librarian; Emma Bussard, visual education chairman; Solveig Gerrard, nursery leader.

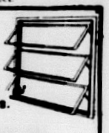

Kindergarden leader, Sybil Laye, assistant, Lucy Derkman —theme "God's Plan for Families."

Elementary grades one and two leader, Kathy Griffin, assistant, Vivian Rich — theme "The World of Differences."

Elementary grades three and four leader, Ruth Robinson, assistant, Susie Biggs — theme "God's World-wide Family."

Elementary grades five and six leader, Leona Maxwell—theme "Living as a Christian in a World of Conflict."

Many children in this community are unrelated to our christian community in which they live. It is up to us to see that these children are invited to attend this school. The children of other churches in the community are also cordially invited to attend this school period, as well as those who do not have this opportunity.

Postmaster Young Explains Postal Cuts By Congress

Because of the Congressional mandate to cut back Federal employment to the June 30, 1966 level—including 63,238 for the postal service nationally and many in this area—mail service limitations will start locally July 27, Postmaster Bob Young said today.

The local postal head has been advised by Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson to comply with the cutback required by Congress under the recently-enacted tax bill (Public Law 90-364) by reducing some postal services and curtailing new hiring.

Curtailments as follows will take effect locally:

Effective July 27, all regular Saturday and Sunday window service will be discontinued.

Effective July 27, Saturday collection of mail from street deposit boxes will be adjusted to conform to the generally less-frequent Sunday collection schedules.

Postmaster Young also noted that beginning July 1 all planned extensions of city and rural delivery were curtailed. At this time there are no plans to provide mail delivery service to new housing subdivisions and apartment projects.

General delivery windows will be open for two hours on Saturdays from 8:30 to 10:30 deliver mail to general delivery patrons and to firms that normally call for their mail at the post office. Residential customers who have received a notice that parcels are being held for them at the post office also may call for them at that time.

"This is not a matter of dollars but of people," Postmaster General Watson explained. "Under the manpower restrictions imposed by the tax bill, we simply will not have enough people to continue all postal services at their present level."

"Hopefully," Mr. Watson added, "Congress will correct this situation."

Postmaster Young emphasized that the Post Office Department agreed to the reduction in funds for the 1968 fiscal year that began July 1, and is not asking for a restoration of any money cut from its budget.

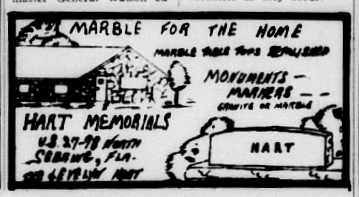

"The Postmaster General," Mr. Young explained "told us we could operate within our budget and maintain postal services at or near their present level if we did not have to reduce employment to the June 1966 level."

Mr. Young noted also that he has been directed to submit his plans by September 1 regarding his proposals on how and when Saturday delivery on city residential routes should be handled locally.

An effective date for the elimination of Saturday residential delivery here and nationally is then expected to be established by the Department, the postmaster explained.

The exact total out of the overall employment cut that will apply locally is not yet known, and it will be affected to some extent by the rapidity of the job turnover in the local staff in the months immediately ahead. However, the postmaster said he expects the cut to be serious.

To make the overall cutback to the 1966 level, post offices have been ordered to fill only three out of four vacancies as they occur.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Baker (Catherine) have returned here for a two week vacation; just to test our summers and are having a wonderful time enjoying the sun and swimming every day. It is good to have them here, even for a little while.

Word was received that Doris Johnston had been in the hospital, due to a back injury. We wish her a speedy and quick, complete recovery.

Robert Gibb is in Walker Memorial Hospital with a virus. His temperature is down but the doctors are giving him tests. We hope his stay is a short one and he soon feels fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Myers have been very busy all summer, and now are looking forward to their son, Charles', wedding in August.

Avon Park Lakes News

Cynthia T. Calvert — GL 3-6532

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Liggiero were business visitors in Lakeland last Wednesday.

Mrs. Michael Callas of Greensboro, Ky., and St. Petersburg was the guest of her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Paul Calvert last week. Mrs. Calvert returned with her to St. Petersburg on Friday for the week end.

We are glad to report that Victor Garary who has been confined to Walker Memorial Hospital for the past ten days is showing improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hardy were pleasantly surprised on Wednesday morning to receive as visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dawson, who are now residents of Pompano Beach. The couples were old friends in their former home city of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. O'Neel are proud great-grandparents this week. Their first great-grandchild, little Miss Annette Marie Staley, arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Staley in Avon Park on July 25.

Mrs. Adam Mosher who is associated with Webster Junior College in Washington, D. C., was the house guest of her old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bue last week. They were all originally residents of Titusville, Pa. Mrs. Mosher left on Monday morning for Tampa to visit with friends before her return to the nations capitol.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ray of Miami accompanied by Mrs. Ray's sister were Friday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Liggiero.

Paul Calvert and grandson, Kevin, from Oviedo were at Lake Placid Sunday, where Paul conducted the morning service at St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal Church.

Construction on another new home at the Lakes was started last week. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hardy are building on their lots located on the corner of Lake Chilton Drive and Cochrane Road.

'Ditty Bags' Praised By Servicemen

Last year Mrs. Jack Duggan of Avon Park received a letter of appreciation from Staff Sgt. Jerry A. Green, a platoon sergeant who served in Vietnam. He stated in his letter to Mrs. Duggan that the men were joyful in knowing that they had not been forgotten by the people back home, where most of them hear only of the protests and civil disturbances. He stated further that "ditty bags" were great moral boosters, when the boys were so far from their families and loved ones. "But the communists must be stopped somewhere and along with wars, goes misery," the sergeant said.

Our thanks go out to the sergeant—wherever he is—and many others like him, both near and far away, who served our United States so faithfully. These "ditty bags" are only a very small token of our appreciation to you all.

Any interested individual or civic group who would like to be a part of this effort should contact Mrs. Florence Peach at the Red Cross office. First, the bags must be sewn. The filled "ditty bags" are filled with items such as, a ballpoint pen, pen-sized flashlight with batteries, plastic soap case, small package of writing paper with envelopes, plastic toothbrush holder, washcloth, comb, pocket games, etc.

The Library Corner

Margaret Kennedy's novel, "A Night in Cold Harbor" is a recent gift to this library. Although it was published in 1960, it is really timeless.

"A Night in Cold Harbor" is a fascinating historical story, strongly plotted and peopled with characters who would be superbly romantic if they were not so realistic and believable. Set in early nineteenth century England, it is the story of a young aristocrat — Before his maturity he had devastated more than one life including that of his illegitimate son, Romilly Brandon's belated search for this boy provides the framework for this tale.

A central thread is the black issue of child labor which, together with other contemporary evils suffered by the working class, resulted in rebellious nomadic hordes of "Walking People," rugged, gypsy-like outcasts with a highly developed spy system and a rigid social code of their own. To young Dickie Cottar, who has taken to the roads and the rough fellowship of the "Walking People," his natural father is a natural enemy. The bridging of this chasm between father and son is the heart of the story — The Macmillan Company

Clay Kulls Return From Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kull have returned from a trip to Europe. The trip was sponsored by the alumni of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio. Eighteen persons made up the party. They assembled at New York and flew to London. There they witnessed the Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace, a special ceremony including a detachment of the Air Force in honor of their 50th anniversary. Among the Pubs visited one evening was the Sherlock Holmes, which he frequented.

Their guide for the whole trip was a young English graduate of Oxford, who spoke the language of all the countries visited and who was well versed in their history, ancient and modern.

From London they flew to Amsterdam to the modern Schipol airport, 13 feet below sea level, built on the site of a naval battle between Holland and Spain. In Holland they visited a diamond-cutting shop. As a main drawbridge over the river lifted, a man on top attached a wooden shoe to a line on a fish pole and lowered it to the passing boat for the fare.

From Amsterdam into West Germany they rode the Rhine-gold Express, a TEE train, to Koblenz. Boarding a steamer on the Rhine river, a very busy waterway, past the old castles and vineyards on the hillsides, they debarked at St. Goarshausen to motorcoach for Heidelberg. The next morning their tour included the university, one of the oldest in Europe.

At the Swiss border, near Shaffhausen, after viewing the mighty Rhine Falls, they continued their travels to Lucerne for the next stay. For scenery and thrills this was the high light of the trip. One day via cable car, two lifts, to the top of Mt. Pilatus, and later down the other side via rack and cog railway car, the steepest in the world, taking 40 minutes to descend to Lake Lucerne, they returned by steamer to the hotel.

Another was the all day trip to the Rhone Glacier. The higher snow had started to melt making numerous streams down the mountain sides, also waterfalls. An ice grotto had been cut into the side of the glacier for several hundred feet where they entered and took photos. The twisting highway had reached an elevation of 8000 feet, thence the descent, finally along Lake Luceme, the source of the Rhine river.

From Lucerne by train thru the Italian lake district they came to Venice. In Venice they traversed the Grand Canal to their hotel. A museum of antique glass was visited.

From Venice, via the Autostrada, to Florence, where they visited a leather factory as well as the Pitti Palace. The damage by the flood in 1966 has mostly been repaired, but the water mark as high as 21 feet could be seen on some of the buildings.

By motorcoach to Rome they found the streets lined with oleander trees in all colors. The opera "Aida" was witnessed in the open air theatre on the site of the former baths of Caracalla, one huge wall of which was still standing.

The trip from Rome to Cannes, on the French Riviera, was made by train to Genoa, thru many tunnels, thence by motorcoach. Cannes was a day of relaxing mostly on the brilliant beach in wonderful weather.

Cannes to Paris was made in the famous Blue train overnight. Three and one half days were spent in Paris. Tours included the Louvre and Versailles, where they were conducted by a wonderful, elderly woman guide of 25 years experience, who a few days before had been on American television.

Of course they went up and dined in the Eiffel Tower and took in the Folies Bergere. The group enjoyed a farewell dinner in a Russian restaurant and returned to New York by plane.

They found crowds of tourists everywhere on this trip.

Landress - Lemler Pre- Nuptial Parties End with Rehearsal Dinner

Climaxing the social events for Miss Diane Landress and DeWayne Lemler, who will exchange wedding vows August 3, in the First Baptist Church, a Hawaiian Luau was given in their honor July 20, at the Guernsey home on Lake Lillian.

The first part of the Luau was held under the swaying palms at the Guernsey home. Six lighted bamboo torches lined the back setting of palm trees. The honored couple sat in a hammock to open their surprise gifts of canned goods. After the gifts were opened, everyone retired to the Florida Power Lounge. The 65 guests dressed in gay Hawaiian attire, lined the walk and threw flower petals on the couple as they passed by. The Lounge took on the atmosphere of a Hawaiian Island with music, palms, greenery, flowers and colored lights. Diane and DeWayne were each garland with a lai of fresh flowers and then escorted to their table of honor.

The table was covered with a flowered table cloth. The centerpiece was composed of assorted fruits, roses, orchids and fern. To capture the true Hawaiian spirit, the guests were seated on cushions around the low tables which were decorated with bananna leaves, roses and hibiscus.

Refreshments were, party sandwiches, meat chunks in sauce, watermelon and cantalope balls in cantalope halves, pineapple and bananna chunks, cheese stuffed prunes, date nut cookies, bananna cake, coconut cake, and punch.

For entertainment, all the men tried the "Hula". Gene Landress won the prize for the best Hula dancer.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Cheryl Guerndt, Janice Barefield, Betty Creech, Mrs. Harold Guerndt, and Mrs. Virgil Mills.

The bridal luncheon for the Landress-Lemler wedding party was held Saturday noon at the James Turnbull home on Lake Lotela.

The luncheon table was covered with white linen and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white Shasta daisies, the flower theme of the wedding. Yellow streamers lead from the centerpiece to the serving plates, ending with a daisy, and the bride's gifts to her attendants.

Included in the luncheon were the bridal couples parents and invited relatives.

Mrs. Turnbull the hostess, presented Diane with a hostess gift of china in her chosen pattern.

—o—

The White Bible Service was held at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening by the Young Women's Auxiliary, who presented Diane with the white Bible to be used in the wedding ceremony. Marked pews were reserved for the bridal couple and relatives. Miss Cheryl Guerndt presented the Bible in a candlelight service.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lemler parents of the bridegroom, hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening, Aug. 2, at 6:30 P.M. held at the Florida Power Lounge. Attending besides the bridal party were the parents of the couple, Rev. and Mrs. Aden Childress and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Godwin.

Red Cross Students Receive Certificates

The following students were presented with their pins and certificates by the executive secretary, Mrs. Florence L. Peach: Lissie Spiries, Velma Anderson, Idella McKenzie, Mery Frances Stevens, all of Sebring and Lani Newton and Mrs. Welch Fisher of Avon Park.

These students are taking further training under Mrs. Patricia P. Duffy with a Mother's Aide Course. Mrs. Peach explained to the group that the American Red Cross has been chartered by the U. S. Congress to carry out two duties: service to military and their families, and disaster. Other service programs are elective by the chapter to meet the needs of the community.

She impressed upon them that every person who is involved with Red Cross, either as an instructor, board member or volunteer in other services are all volunteers and that Mrs. Peach, the executive secretary is the only paid person in Highlands County chapter of the Red Cross. She stated further "That without these dedicated volunteers, your Red Cross chapter would not be able to function."

Rotary Report

Last week Norman Todd, Program Chairman, introduced Sam Polston our guest speaker. Mr. Polston is the Agent for the Highlands Soil Conservation District. He spoke to the club about water management or water control. He told about the need for water control in the state and how Highlands County has recognized this need by establishing the watershed program in the county. He said they were concerned with two types of water control, the surface or shallow ground water and the deep ground water about 400 feet below the surface.

These two areas are separated and have different pressures and water tables. There has been little control or management of the deep ground water so far and the principal concern is with the shallow water or surface water control for flood control and conservation. The Central and Southern Flood Control District was established for controlling flood conditions, he said, but now have recognized the need for water conservation projects.

An interesting fact pointed out by Mr. Polston was in regard to sinkholes in Highlands County. He said that although it was generally thought that there were no sinkholes in Highlands County, he knew of 73. These 73 are the lakes in Highlands County which he said were all formed by layers of sand settling in limerock far below the surface. This difference in this and the sinkholes we have heard of in areas such as in Polk County is the fact that the limerock layer is much closer to the surface in those areas than it is in Highlands County. Therefore the settlement of the sand layer is quick and in a small area as compared to the great length of time in which the lakes here were formed. He also mentioned that the lakes in this county were fed by water seepage through the ground and would rise or fall with the surface water table.

CARD OF THANKS

The wife and family of the late John P. Kluchey wish to acknowledge with deep appreciation and sincere thanks to the Walker Memorial Hospital staff, who were so kind and helpful.

A special thanks to Dr. Larson and George Walper for their understanding care.

Sincere thanks to the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home who were so helpful during the recent loss of our loved one.

Special thanks to Rev. Father Armand Gregorie for his prayers and kindness.

Winter Guest Club News

Elizabeth Clarke — GL 5-0720

Shuffling

For a change there was no rain this past week, so every evening the courts were busy with folks enjoying the game of shuffleboard.

On Wednesday evening 30 shufflers entered into the tournament. Ota Gibson and George Ormiston won in the main with Art Jordan and Jennie Baker the runners-up. Consolation winners were Kate McAlexander, Lawrence Robinson over Charles Romilly and Alta Robinson.

Main winners on Saturday evening were Kate McAlexander and Charles Fenstermaan over Ruth Jordan and Doc McAlexander. Ota Gibson and Chris Cabezas won in consolation over Tom Clarke and Charles Brush. There were 22 players.

Card Games

In pinochle on Monday afternoon the two high score winners were C. Lawrence with 826 and John Nuber with 775. There were three tables in play.

Dances

Evidently it was too warm to dance, as there was only one square on both Monday and Friday evenings.

News Exchange

The Russell Smiths write that they enjoyed a few days visit of their son from West Virginia. They also say they do enjoy reading the "Sun." The Smith live in Tiro, Ohio.

It is good to see Sylven and Catherine Baker from Urbana, Ohio, here for a short vacation to see what its like in Florida in the summer.

Beth Reed and Loretta Simpson are in Walker Memorial Hospital with lacerations and bruises from a car accident on 27 near the hospital. Mrs. Simpson also suffered broken ribs and other injuries. Both are improving slowly.

Due to the postal strike in Canada the only way Ray and Lois Johnson of Rt. 1, Nobel, Ont. Canada, can get mail into the states, is for someone to cross the border. Incoming mail is just the reverse, someone has to bring it to them. In their last letter mailed from New York they say they are having a wonderful summer, picking blueberries for blueberry pie, fishing, swimming and skiing. You should taste Lois' blueberry pie. Its good.

Dallas Weekley Doctorate Of Music

Dallas Weekley formerly of Avon Park, has recently completed his Doctorate at Indiana University School of Music.

Dr. Weekley is an associate professor of music at Wisconsin State University at La Crosse, Wisc. and concertizes with his wife as Weekley and Argabright piano duetists.

The Weekley's and son, Lance, are currently touring Mexico.

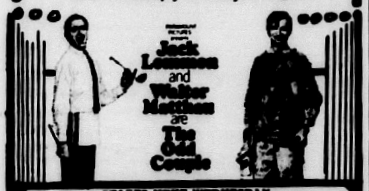

Dr. Weekley is the son of Mrs. T. M. Weekley and brother of Mrs. Art Turner.

Contract Signed for Housing Project; Budget $2.1 Million

The Avon Park Housing Authority signed the contract with Piedmont Construction Co., Vidalia, Ga., this week for the sum of $1,674,627. The contract calls for 130 units with construction to begin no later than August 19 and completion within 420 days.

The total budget for the project has been increased to over $2,100,000.

The project will occupy two sites, one South of the Avon Elementary School and the other South of Lake Tulane, and will provide sewers, gaslines, curbing, gutters and sidewalks.

Instigated by former mayor, E. A. DeLaney, Sr., several years ago and pushed by previous council members, the project will have four apartments per building with efficiency and one-bedroom units in the downtown site and the units on Lake Tulane will be separated into individual houses and duplexes with one to five bedrooms.

James A. Heim is architect for the project.

Deadline For Qualifying August 9

Deadline for qualifying as well as registering for the forth-coming city election September 10 will be 5 P.M. Friday, Aug. 9, at the City Hall.

Three councilmen will be elected this year for two year terms and the ballot will consist of several referendums on which the voters will be asked to make their decision.

Terms expire this year for Council President Andrew Russell Scott, and Councilmen Wayne Albright and Darrah Martin.

To date Martin is the only encumbent which has qualified, the other candidates which have thrown their hats into the political ring are J. B. Sparks, a former councilman, and Lester Brown.

Telephone Official Attend University

E. E. McMillin, is among the 50 telephone company executives of independent telephone companies participating in a management development program sponsored by the U. S. Independent Telephone Association. The four-week course is being conducted at the University of Kansas Business School at Lawrence, Kansas.

McMillin is area manager for the United Telephone Company's Northern Area operations. His office is in Avon Park.

The goal of the intensive four-week program is to help the executives prepare themselves for effective management leadership and broaden their horizons with respect to the current and future positions of their companies.

Transportation For Sick Persons In Highlands County Hard to Get

Highlands County averages more than one motor vehicle per family, and virtually all adults hold driver licenses, yet, transportation problems are a major threat to the effectiveness of welfare and social service work in the county.

Take last week—it wasn't just the weather that had social workers "blowing their cool." It took the combined efforts of a state welfare caseworker, Public Health nurse, volunteer help and a Red Cross executive to arrange for one child to get an eye examination.

A crippled boy in Avon Park is still waiting for a ride to Lakeland for examination by a specialist there.

"Sick children often need special medical diagnosis and treatment and are often referred to specialists or clinics in Lakeland, "said Mrs. Nancy Walters, Public Health nurse on the Highlands County Health Department staff.

"The children we see are often from low income homes where there is no car, one too battered to make a trip outside the county, or where the family wage-earner cannot afford to lose a day's work, or even a few hours, to make a trip.

"Getting money for treatments often is far less of a problem than getting the patient to a doctor. Just getting from home into a doctor's office in Sebring, Lake Placid or Avon Park ranges from difficult or impossible for a family to arrange," Mrs. Walters said.

The Health Department staff may not furnish transportation themselves, but they can and do try to help make necessary arrangements.

Many times a call for help goes to Mrs. Florence Peach, Red Cross executive. "We have exactly three approved Red Cross drivers and I am one of them. Whatever records we may have had of other volunteer drivers willing to use their own cars are not available to me now.

"Transportation is one of our most trying problems, and I suspect will be solved once citizens realize the dimension of the dilemna," the Red Cross executive said.

"We do have a Red Cross station wagon, but policy is that it can be driven only by drivers between the ages of 21 and 65 who have completed a defensive driving course and a standard first aid course.

"These courses need not have been taken in Highlands County. Certificates from other communities, even other states are acceptable. We make these requirements because of our insurance, but of course a volunteer who is driving his own car does not have this problem. Any standard auto insurance policy covers passengers being carried without charge," Mrs. Peach pointed out.

Passengers Insured

Henry Bailey who heads an insurance agency in this county has assured drivers that so long as they use their own vehicles and receive no pay for transportation, standard insurance policies cover the passengers.

"I have heard recently that people have volunteered to serve as drivers and have not been called. The only way I can account for this is the absence of an up-to-date file in the Red Cross office," Mrs. Peach said.

"I do hope that all possible volunteers will send me a card with name, address and telephone number—even if they have volunteered before. By Fall we shall have a new series of first aid classes and and a defensive driving course is being planned so more drivers can be certified to use the Red Cross station wagon.

"In the meantime, we are so desperately in need of help to get children to doctors, particularly in these last few weeks before the opening of school," Mrs. Peach said.

Mrs. Walters in the Health Department linked her plea to the importance of prompt medical attention for school children.

"Many people in this county have a genuine interest in being of help to children. Certainly getting sick children to doctors for treatment is one way to help them," Mrs. Walters said.

Reserved Seat Tickets Go On Sale

Red Devil football fans are reminded that reserved seat tickets must be purchased before August 15 if the same seat is desired in the reserved seat section by those who held tickets last season.

Tickets not bought before this date will be sold to those who have picked up their tickets but wish to move to a new section this year starting August 16 through August 30.

Then the following week all tickets still not bought by previous holders will go on sale to the general public on a first-come-first-served basis.

These tickets may be bought at the high school office for $5 per ticket between the hours of 8 A.M. and 4 P.M. Season tickets for admission to the five scheduled home games are also on sale for $6.50 for the season. Fans are urged to pick up these tickets soon.

The price of $6 for a season ticket was a mistake in last week's Sun—the five home games for adults will cost $6.50 if a season ticket is bought before the first home game.

Nan Pruitt Passenger In Train Wreck

Mrs. Charlie (Nan) Pruitt was one of the passengers on the North bound Seaboard Coast Line Silver Meteor luxury passenger train that collided near Winter Haven, Monday.

She was taken to the Lake Wales Hospital where she received treatment for sprained muscles in her back, a bruised knee and jaw. In the impact she was thrown to the floor, and bruised.

She was released from the hospital and boarded another train and continued her trip to Washington D. C., where she will visit her brother, John Money. She was advised to check her condition with a doctor upon her arrival in Washington.

Group Select September For City-wide Clean-up Campaign

A small group of civic minded residents of Avon Park gathered at the City Hall Friday night to make plans for a city-wide clean-up campaign to start Sept. 1.

The two most important things that need to be done first, the group agreed, was for the city to remove all junk automobiles, and for residents to place their garbage cans out of sight of their neighbors and by people driving the streets.

The city has an ordinance which prohibits junked cars being in yards or on city property in the city limits. Councilmen have stated that the city will move any cars without charge to the owners.

The complaint about the garbage cans was when residents set their cans out to be picked up by the city truck they let them set out for several days before removing them.

When the cleanup campaign gets underway someone will be designated to remind people about their trash cans.

Vacant lots in the city not being mowed was another big complaint. Councilman Milton Howard said the city could not mow on private property. Mrs. Murray Wilson stated that maybe the city should mow the property and bill the owners. This is being done in other cities.

Mrs. Decker emphasized the need to pave the road just East of I. H. Ford Motor Co., because of dirt that cars and trucks bring on Main Street. The road belongs to the railroad but Councilman Howard said he would contact proper authorities to see if the city could pave about 30 feet to prevent dirt from piling up on the street.

Before the meeting adjourned a committee was named to meet before council Monday night and brief them on things that needed to be done during this campaign.

Another meeting is scheduled for September 19 at 7 P.M. in city hall.

A SMALL GROUP of Avon Park residents met at the city hall Friday night to make plans to beautify our city.

Republicans Protest Salaries Expense Accounts at Meet

Protests over proposed salary hikes and cuts dominated the hour and a half public hearing on the county commission budget for 1968-69.

And two elected officials in the county came in for sharp criticism over the money they spend for travel.

The commissioners made only two non-salary adjustments of $1,000 each, both in the Health Department appropriations, before giving the $2,213,616 budget unanimous approval.

Col. W. J. Atkinson, chairman of the Highlands County Republican executive committee, opened discussion at the Thursday budget hearing by renewing his plea for the commissioners to demand tighter control of fee officers' expenditures, especially for salaries.

For the first time the Republican leader was asked to identify by name and office the elected officials he wishes to criticize. At the urging of Commissioner Jean Whitaker, Col. Atkinson identified County Judge Mervin Rehrer and Tax Collector W. H. Prescott as officials he believes run their respective offices "in flagrant violation of economical operation."

"Just because the law provides that elected officials can spend without restriction does not relieve the commissioners of the responsibility they have for efficient operation of county offices," Atkinson said.

He charged that some officials "pay full-time salaries for part-time work." An official he identified as "not the sheriff" received $3,000 for travel expenses in a year. "That is a lot of money and a lot of traveling in a county this size," Atkinson complained.

His hottest criticism was reserved for an official who made an official trip which lasted "most of three weeks." He took his wife, (Mrs. Prescott) who is a member of his office staff, and they collected an expense allowance of $35 per day for each of them plus 10 cents per mile travel allowance. (The trip was to California).

Whitaker interrupted the criticisms to demand, "You should tell who these officials are you are criticizing. This board knows, but the general public thinks the commissioners have done the things you are complaining about. If you are going to make these critical remarks you owe it to the public and the board to specify to whom you are referring."

After the Republican leader had identified the targets of his barbs as Rehrer and Prescott, Commissioner Cecil Skipper said, "You gave a good speech, Colonel, but you didn't tell us anything we did not know. We may not like it, but the elected officials are within the law and there is nothing we can do."

Health Director Cut

Most of the time at the hearing was spent on the county health department finances. Department Director, Dr. J. D. Workman, emerged on the short end of the debate, with $1,000 less salary than he had been granted by the State Personnel Board.

The commissioners took the position that the state board had raised the director's pay in January, 1968 without prior approval from the county as provided in state law.

Commissioner H. Earl Crutchfield was supported in his motion that the state board which granted the raise "can dig up the money if Dr. Workman's salary is to continue at the old level." The director, according to the approved county budget, will receive $10,950 out of $61,080 health department salary budget.

A. B. Dehn came up with the last popular money-saving idea of the day when he suggested the county could save the appropriation for a county engineer ($15,000) by commissioners personally working on the roads.

Sheriff Cut

Sheriff Broward Coker did not appear in person but sent a letter requesting restoration of $29,000 he said was cut from the fine and forfeiture budget. The fine and forfeiture budget was not changed at the hearing, and Sheriff-elect Joe Keene declined comment beyond "I'll just have to live with whatever is available after I take office."

Welfare Director Ann Dee Chafin called attention to expenditure of $11,542 for physicians' fees in the past nine months, and asked the commissioners to review studies of the possibility of employing a county doctor.

MR. J. F. MEDANICH, assistant administrator at Walker Memorial Hospital, presents Mrs. Margaret Slocum with a white orchid and a service pin for 3,000 hours of volunteer service at the hospital as a pink lady.

Full Time Vocational Course Will Be Offered at SFJC This Fall

Following months of preparation and planning, South Florida Junior College will open some of the full time vocational courses for student enrollment this Fall. The building is being prepared, equipment ordered and instructors hired to engage in a new type of program which will train people for full time employment.

To open this Fall are courses in air-conditioning—refrigeration and also radio-television electronics. A person taking either one of these courses will attend South Florida Junior College all day, five days a week for the school year. He will be a full time student studying a technical subject to prepare for a job upon graduation.

The air-conditioning—refrigeration program will cover the theory, operation, servicing and repair of reirigeration equipment both commercial and domestic. When a student successfully completes this program he will be qualified to hold a job in any business or field where a technical knowledge of air-conditioning is needed.

Television electronics taught by South Florida Junior College will cover all the basic electricity and electronics necessary for the technician today. The use of actual equipment in the laboratory will prepare each student to perform a technical job in repair, servicing or analyzing circuits in television and other electronic equipment.

In recent months advisory committees have been established for each of these programs to help guide the planning and make sure the student learns what is needed on the job. Kenneth Long, chairman of the air-conditioning committee, and Bill Thompson, chairman of the radio-television committee have both stated that there is a need for many more trained technicians in the central Florida area.

Classes in both air-conditioning and radio-television will begin August 21. Anyone who wants to enroll should apply at the Registrars' Office, South Florida Junior College, Avon Park. Applications will be accepted throughout the Summer. If further information is needed please contact the college.

Kenneth Sasser Goes On Spending Spree

Kenneth Sasser, 21, of Avon Park, seemed to be spending more money than usual, people noticed, and this led to his arrest and confession to auto theft and breakins, Chief Deputy Sheriff J. C. Murdock said.

Sasser was arrested Friday by Murdock and Deputy Gerald King. Murdock said the suspect confessed to theft of $100 from Griffis Auto Parts, Ridgewood Drive, Sebring, July 13; skates from the skating rink, July 30; stereo tapes from Blackman Ford, June 16; and a 1965 Ford Monday of last week from Avon Park Ford which was driven into the woods and stripped.

County Judge Mervin Rehrer bound him over Monday to Circuit Court on $5,500 bonds and he currently is being held in jail.

Documentary Stamps Down In County

TALLAHASSEE—Sales of documentary stamps rose to $36.5 million during the 1967-68 fiscal year, topping the previous year's collections by more than 20.6 per cent, Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., reported today, reflecting increased real estate sales.

In Highlands County stamp sales for June of 1968 totaled $1,353.75 as compared to $6,474.65 in June of 1967. Bar tax receipts here for June were $1,230.

Four Teams Will Meet For Jamboree

The first area football jamboree will be held in Avon Park, September 7, starting at 8 o'clock. The jamboree is composed of four teams—Arcadia, Avon Park, Sebring, and Wauchula—and each team will participate in two 12-minute quarters playing against a different opponent each quarter. Fans will be able to witness one full game of regulation football and also see the prospects of each of the four teams.

This year's schedule has Arcadia playing Wauchula in the first quarter, Sebring meeting Avon Park in the second quarter, Wauchula and Avon Park playing the third quarter and Sebring pitted against Wauchula in the final quarter.

The jamboree is set up with the consent of the Florida High School Activities Association and will rotate to a different site each year. This area jamboree is scheduled to be played in Arcadia in 1968, Sebring in 1970, and Wauchula in 1971.

Advanced tickets will go on sale this week at Albritton's Barber Shop, Leon's Sporting Goods, and at the high school office at a price of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Regular admission at the gate the night of the jamboree will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Avon Park's head football coach, Joe Franza, said early this week that the Red Devils will start practice next week with all candidates for the varsity squad due to report to the office of Dr. H. W. Coleman for physical examinations on Wednesday, Aug. 14, at 2 P.M.

Conditioning drills and exercises will start next Thursday in preparation for the jamboree on September 7 and the Red Devil's schedule for 1968.

Hospital No Longer Offers Extended Care

George Walper, administrator of Walker Memorial Hospital in Avon Park has confirmed that the hospital no longer offers the extended care (nursing home program) under Medicare.

"The hospital, even in this off Summer season, is full of hospital patients," he said and added that "actually we have had no extended care cases since last April. This simply means that we no longer are taking patients who require nursing home care."

Vive La Diference

It's pretty hard these days to distinguish between Republicans and Democrats. Have you tried lately?

With a big national convention coming to our state this week, we offer, with tongue in cheek, a few easy rules to help identify Republicans. The rules were prepared, in fun, by E. V. W. Jones, former Miami chief of Associated Press, former aide to Sen. George Smathers, former aide to ex-Governor Farris Bryant when Bryant was director of the President's Office of Emergency Planning. If you gather that Eddie Jones is a Democrat, you're right on target.

Republicans study the financial pages of newspapers. Democrats wrap fish in theirs.

Republicans smoke cigars on weekdays.

Anyone on the street after 5 P.M. probably is a Democrat. Republicans have headed for the suburbs or supper clubs.

Republicans call for exterminators, while Democrats step on bugs.

Democrats eat the fish they catch. Republicans hang theirs on the wall.

Anyone reading a risque book is a Democrat. Republicans read them only at meetings of the censorship committee.

Republicans employ governesses for their children. Democrats leave theirs with grandmother.

Republicans carefully draw their window shades. Democrats ought to, but don't.

Republicans charter boats and go where the fish are. Democrats sit on the pier and let the fish come to them.

Litterbugs are usually Democrats. Republicans hate to throw anything away.

Democrats grow angry over crime and violence. Republicans feel the same way about Presidential news conferences.

Republicans put up "no trespassing" signs. Democrats use them to cook hot dogs and toast marshmallows.

Republicans raise flowers and thoroughbred horses. Democrats raise kids and taxes.

Republicans sleep on twin beds, sometimes in separate rooms. That's why there are so many more Democrats.

Somewhat Financially

In the wake of the visit of George Wallace to Florida, his publicity office in Montgomery, Ala., sent a press release relating his press coverage, size of crowds, and other facts pertinent to the visit.

They mentioned that two men, co-chairmen of the special contributions committee, "did a great job in handling the fund raising events in Florida. Because of them, the Wallace campaign has benefitted somewhat financially."

This last sentence, one might say, could be a masterpiece of understatement. Consider the Lakeland barbecue alone, at $10 a head 10,000 people—that ain't hay—that's the green stuff.

SOMEWHAT financially?

Perry's Plan Is Backed

Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., has called for a space age solution to problems of big government and the poor through a unique plan to distribute corporate taxes to everyone.

In a House speech, Michel said a space-age —or "total system" approach is needed to solve the problems of the poor and "monstrous federal bureaucracy."

"Our principal goal must be the creation of an economy primed with the surpluses of our earnings rather than one artificially primed with tax-financed, bureaucrat-administered make work projects, welfare doles and other demagogic programs," Michael said.

He called for creation of a "national dividend plan" for solving general welfare problems. He said this approach—first advised by West Palm Beach, Fla., publisher John Perry, Jr.—is more practical than other suggestions, such as a guaranteed minimum income or negative income tax.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Who Has a Right To Lie?

"The government has the right to lie," declares Arthur Sylvester, justifying his decision to release an untruthful report to the American people at the time of the Cuban missile crisis.

The former Assistant Secretary of Defense states that the people have a right to be told the truth, as a general rule, but that the government should not hesitate to tell a lie when the nation's security is threatened.

Many newsmen and others have never forgotten or forgiven the outright falsehood of the statement which Sylvester released—as he later explained—to confuse our enemies.

But the "right to lie" has apparently been employed, if not so eloquently defended, by a number of others in recent days.

Remember?

Who is there who does not remember when Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was vigorously stating that he had no interest in the presidency, even going so far as to sign the affidavit required in Oregon so that his name would not be on the primary ballot? That affidavit said "I am not and will not be a candidate for the president."

How can you square that with his frantic campaign now to get the nomination?

The untrustworthiness of the statements of political leaders is emphasized by a report that many top men in other governments believe that Lyndon Johnson will be the nominee of his party—that he never intended to take his name out of the race permanently.

Believe It—Or Not?

And how about the statement made recently by Attorney General Ramsey Clark to the effect that there was no evidence of conspiracy in the rioting in our major cities—coupled with a report from usually reliable sources that the FBI has just such evidence, but that it is being suppressed?

What does the Bible say about the matter of truthfulness?

The commandment, "Thou shalt not bear false witness," seems to be pretty clear.

Jesus was even more explicit when He declared, "The devil is a liar and the father of it."

Twisting the Truth

What will be the fate of those who twist the truth to suit their purposes?

The Bible is clear about that, too.

Liars are classed with some other unsavory characters in the list of those who are destined for the lake of fire. "The fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers . . . and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone."

It is exceedingly risky business to trifle with the truth.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I would like to clearify a statement which appeared in Mr. Robert Hanford's letter in last week's issue of the Avon Park Sun.

He stated in his letter "These rents, I understand have frequently been collected by individuals attached to the City Police Department and the County Sheriff's Department."

I cannot sneak for the Sheriff's Department, but I would like to assure the citizens of Avon Park that no member of the Police Department has ever collected rents for anyone since I became Chief, October 1, 1967.

It is true that in the past a member of the Police Department did collect these rents, but that person is no longer associated with the department or the city.

I and every member of the Police Department have tried to serve the citizens of Avon Park to the best of our ability, and we will continue to do so in the future.

We realize that at times the public cannot understand why the police cannot do certain things when asked, but we, like all law enforcement officers are subject to laws that plainly state what we can and cannot do.

In closing I would like to say that I believe each member of this department has done everything within their power to see that each and every citizen of Avon Park has been treated equally, and I can assure you that this is the policy which will be followed in the future.

This is your Police Department, and we the members of the force, would like all the citizens to be proud of us, and we shall continue to serve each and every one of you to the best of our ability.

Rambling Thoughts

SEBRING NEWS GETS AROUND; OTHER THOUGHTS

I find evidence now and then that The Sebring News really gets around. I get a news bulletin from a Congressman or two, without my writing to them for the favor. I find that this comes from the fact that this is caused by these lawmakers contributing brain mileage to the fine paper who allows a poor, degenerated former newspaper man to send in his ravings and actually pays him for it. That is a "columnist," gets PAID for it, is an indication that The Sebring News is either belonging to the "Good Will" fraternity, or that it would give me a job on the staff were it not for the fact that it has better staffs to lean on, or is overloaded "or sumpthin."

One thing about The Sebring News is to be noted; the editor runs my stuff whether it agrees with his political ideas or not. This is a rare bird that allows a strange bird to occupy a place in its own political nest.

The editorials in the News are evidence of a brain that has reached a high place on the literary totem pole and Sister Scribbles in what we boys in the Indian territory used to call a "whiz cat." This meant something far above the usual.

Now and then, she mentions a lady by the name of Mitchell. I knew her when we both interested Aviation, and her present writer was a reporter for the defunct "Arcadia Enterprise," owned by my brother-in-law, Andrew Carter, and I ran the linotype, job press, edited the paper when Carter was putting fires out in the muck lands for the State of Florida, when old Sidney Catts was Governor.

Ah! Them wuz the days! Viva, The Sebring News and the crew and passengers!

Old timers well remember the terrific fight over "County Division." I am sure Arcadia had been a little tough on the outlying parts of the big county, the old cattlemen cut fences in places, and progress was thought hampered by the back wardness of Arcadia. Hence, an organization was formed by people of Wauchula, Avon Park, Sebring, Moore Haven, Punta Gorda and folks who wanted home rule. Even Andrew Carter, owning a paper in Arcadia, joined them—and paid bitterly for it, too. He had the Moore Haven Times, which he had bought, burned to the ground, then when he went back to Arcadia and took over the "Enterprise" again, an attempt was plastered up to burn him out again, by some hot heads, who had not forgotten what they resented as disloyalty.

Time and good roads have proved that five counties are too many, and that two would be plenty, but all four counties had to have a county or Arcadia would have won the fight.

The Sebring News is one of the meritorious results of this county division battle. "Them were the dase!"

"DEMOCRACY'S FINEST HOUR"

During the last World War (so-called) the heroic British Air Force, outnumbered terrifically by Hermann Goering's flocks of planes, fought them off, day in and night in, and saved England from an invasion. Hitler dropped his watermelon and lost his world conquest plans and his worthless life, all on account of this brilliant fight by the Royal Air Force Churchill, later referred in a speech about them that this victory in the air was "their finest hour," meaning both the air force and England herself.

One day, in this terrible time the British lost many more planes than Germany did, but they bravely lied about it.

Of all the lies in history, I think this one paid off more profitable than any lie I ever told or ever heard of. Hitler didn't know it was a lie, and from that day on, the Luftwaffe's battle petered out.

David Brinkley, in reporting how many soldiers, Marines, policeman, guns, cannons, bombs, mean pooches, there were at Miami to protect a group of scared Americans, who had gathered to pick out a candidate for President, smiled his lovable smile and uttered a statement that should live forever in the story of popular government, wherever it is tried. "This," said little, smiling Dave, "was democracy's finest hour." As a piece of bitter sarcasm, and biting wit, I know of nothing to equal that!

Lincoln's finest inauguration was guarded by the Army, under Winfield Scott, who told his troops, if any "damned scoundrel started anything to blow hell out of them." We have not made much progress in self factured in Chicago, 100 years, have we? We need a few Winfield Scotts in 1968, which, in spite of David Brinkley's sarcastic crack, is not in her "finest hour," and her present condition is due to Communistic plotting and ignorant citizenship, too many men imbued with political ambition, and the ambition of one family, two of whose fine sons have been brutally murdered by fiends. Every attempt at popular government in history has perished because of plain ignorance on the part of those who have been given the job of ruling themselves.

IMMORTALITY

Plato, the Roman General of the Republicans, was cooped up in Utica, Africa, and Julius Caesar was on the outside, fixing to mop up the place with him. He sat in his tent, his sword lying on the table, prepatory to sticking it into his living apartments, beside a copy of Plato's argument for Immortality. He is said to have thought this:

It must be so! Plato, thou reasoneth well!
Else whence this pleasing hope, this fond desire,
This longing after immortality?
Or whence this secred dread, and inward horror
Of falling into naught? Why shrinks the soul
Back on herself and startles at destruction?
'Tis the divinity that stirs within us,
'Tis heaven itself that intimated eternity to man.
Picks up his sword)
Thus I am doubly armed; this in a moment
Brings me to an end, and this informs me
I shall never die; my life, my death,
My bane, my antidote are thus before me.
The soul, safe in her existence,
Smiles at the drawn dagger and defies its point.
I am weary of conjectures, this must end them.
The stars may fade, the sun itself grow dim with age and nature sink in years, but the soul shall flourish in immortal youth, unhurt amidst The wrecks of matter and the crush of worlds.
—Joseph Addison, English poet.

This is written from memory and is not complete, but to my mind, there is nothing more beautiful in our language. — O. L. S.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW — New Currents in Employment

Wellesley Hills, Mass., Aug. 8. While basic employment remains strong and continues its long-term upward trend, there are some developments emerging that will bring problems to management over the months ahead. These have nothing to do with the temporary eddies caused by such seasonal factors as Summer with its vacation jobs for teenagers that are not always easy to fill. Rather, they stem from fundamental economic trends likely to affect the longer-term job situation.

Skilled Workers Will Continue Scarce

First off, it should be noted that the call for most types of skilled employees will still be strong. There will be an especially heavy need for trained men and women for the more demanding top-echelon factory positions, plus white-collar roles in most fields. It will not only be difficult to latch onto such job prospects, but it will cost more to lure them to new placements. Wages and salaries all along the line are climbing steadily, and most pressure on the upside occurs, of course, where needs for workers are greatest.

While there is currently some nervousness about unemployment prospects for defense and aerospace industries, no great changes are likely during the immediate future. Chances of early cutbacks in defense employment are just about nil, despite the fact that some observers think such a move will result if the Paris talks lead toward a truce in Vietnam. The international situation is, at best, scarcely conducive to paring defense material and services in the foreseeable future. As for aerospace, the setup there will bear watching. But any government cuts will at least be highly selective.

Cutting Labor Expenditures

The steady rise in labor costs is having some effect on employment, but so far it has meant not hiring people rather than letting established personnel go. The surtax has already increased the desire on the part of management to reduce labor costs wherever possible. There is a mounting tendency to fill in with present workers rather than to hire new help when employees resign, retire, or die. Then, too, automation and other methods of upping efficiency are getting top attention, and will get even more.

Reluctance to upgrade permanent working staffs has led to an enormous reliance on companies that provide part-time manpower. So many plants have high-load periods or even unexpected times of high-production demand that the manpower agencies have become an increasingly significant part of the regular employment set-up. An added incentive to use this temporary help lies in the fact that the agencies, for the most part, take over the responsibility for bonding, record-keeping, insurance, etc. Then, too, a firm may take on such a worker for an indefinite term, letting him go any time.

Executives Somewhat Easier To Find

The extraordinary scarcity of men adaptable to top-executive or middle-executive positions that prevailed in the past years has eased a trifle in some areas and a few important fields. With the rate of growth in defense and aerospace slowing down from the giddy pace of past years, the demand for executives has become less heavy. Again, it is not so much a question of firing officials as it is of using caution in hiring new men for upper-echelon positions.

The reservoir is still especially low for executive material schooled and with good experience in promotion, general management, selling, and marketing procedures. Some concerns short of satisfactory executives are already on the watch for likely prospects now working in companies with at least temporarily uncertain prospects for the future. It is nothing new for one corporation, regardless of size, to attempt to lure experienced officials away from a rival firm. This process will be more common during the years immediately ahead, especially in companies racking up greater production totals and enjoying well-sustained profit margins. Their less triumphant competitors must expect such piratings—and not only at the executive level.

Medicare—What Is It?

Since its inception, the terminology "Medicare" has meant many things to different individuals. Due to this, confusion in the minds of the public has resulted in the various aspects on coverages of the program.

Basically the Medicare program consists of Part A which applies to in-patient care. This may be obtained in a hospital for acute care, or in an extended care facility for rehabilitative care.

Part B Medicare, pays for outpatient care at a hospital or services of the physician, emergency treatment, or various types of rehabilitative care such as physical therapy. Also included in Part B is the home visitation program through the health department.

Some misunderstanding has been brought about by a recent article concerning the discontinuing of the Extended Care Facility at Walker Memorial Hospital effective August 1. A notice that appeared in the paper concerning this was a legal notice required by the Health, Education and Welfare Department of the United States Government.

This was no indication of a change in the services currently being provided by Walker Memorial Hospital since the administration of Walker Memorial Hospital had previously discontinued the Extended Care or "Nursing Home" facility at the hospital, March 1, of 1968. Closing the nursing home section of Walker Memorial Hospital has brought about improved services and better utilization of the hospital facilities.

Walker Memorial Hospital has served this community for more than 20 years, providing efficient and professional medical care. It is of interest to note that in this day of medicare utilization that approximately 65% of patient days at the hospital are medicare admissions.

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Cut in Foreign Aid Healthy For Nation's Economy

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Congress has just given final approval, as it packed its bags to quit Washington for the political conventions, to a foreign aid authorization bill of $1.968 billion. This means that for the first time, foreign aid appropriations must be held below the $2 billion level for the current fiscal year. The final foreign aid authorization is almost $1 billion less than the President requested.

This is a most healthy thing for the nation and its economy. The time is long overdue for the United States to take stock of what foreign aid programs are doing to America on the home front, and this low level of appropriations provides opportunity for that.

At a cost of billions and billions of dollars, this country has doled out foreign aid to more than 100 other countries. This demonstration of American generosity and genius to produce has undoubtedly had some positive benefits abroad. But they have been benefits to the recipient nations rather than to ourselves. We have seen other nations become fat and prosperous on our dollars while we have bled ourselves to the point of bankruptcy to provide those dollars.

We have amassed a public debt that may never be paid—a debt on which the interest payments alone run close to $15 billion a year, nearly a tenth of the federal budget, and we are continuing to spend at an astronomical rate, necessitating further increase in that debt and in those interest payments.

The significant fact about the size of the public debt is that the increase in it since World War II amounts almost exactly to the billions we have poured into foreign aid since the program was launched in the wake of World War II.

This fact underlines the adverse impact that foreign aid has had on the economy of the United States and on its taxpayers.

When World War II ended in 1945, there was no question that the United States was the strongest and richest power on earth, despite the terrible drains of that war. Today, it may be open to question whether we actually are the strongest power we have been confirmed by a costly war in Vietnam of manpower and equipment and money, and placing perhaps too much reliance in sophisticated rocketry and nuclear weapons, we have permitted a calculated decline in first-strike weapons such as intercontinental bombers.

We also may still be the world's richest nation, but it is certain that we are not its most prosperous on a proportionate basis, and it is questionable how much longer we can be regarded as the richest. Our dollar is under constant threat in the world's financial markets, we are suffering from a gold drain and from an adverse balance of payments, and we face the grave menace of widening inflation at home.

Meanwhile, our domestic scene had become splotched by unbusiness, by crime, lawlessness, corruption, mob violence and strife. We are told (as we always are) that the answer to all these problems is money and that everything will be put back on the right track if we will just spend more billions of dollars—billions we do not have and whould have to borrow.

I cannot say that foreign aid is directly responsible for the fact that our severe domestic problems have arisen. But I can and do say this:

If, as in the bureaucratic line in Washington, these problems would never have arisen, had we spent billions of dollars to eradicate what appears to be the causes of them, then they would not exist had we spent an improvement of our own nation the billions we did spend for the benefit of foreign nations.

And if it is true, as is the bureaucratic line, that the problems with which we have been at home will all go away if we spend billions of dollars to that end, then we can find the source of those needed billions by simply diverting them from foreign aid.

This is why I say that there needs to be a broad-scale, deeply penetrating reassessment of the foreign aid program—from the standpoint of what it is doing to the United States, not what it is doing for other nations. It is axiomatic that "charity should begin at home."

MONEY ELECTS
By O. L. SHOBE

By the time this issue of the News is printed, we may know who will be the Republican candidate for President. I predict it will be Richard Nixon, IF his main opponent does not buy enough Governors, Senators, magazines, newspapers, etc., to get enough delegates. Already the paper headlines saying that is the most costly Presidential election in history. Even at that, it is probably cheap if Bobby Kennedy had lived to spend his mama's money. Many a Governor, (not to mention one we suspicion,) could have won a lifetime of soft living and freedom from hard work and worry, I honestly believe, if one lunatic had not been present in Los Angeles on one certain occasion. I doubt not that, if Rocky and Bobby had been in the race, the money would have been flying around like one of these confetti showers. New York City puts on when the U.S. Army comes home from a victorious foreign war. I may be wrong, but I think I "ain't."

CONGRESSMAN PAUL ROGERS
FLORIDA
U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Paul Rogers said the Endangered Species Bill, which passed the House, will do more to protect the Florida alligator than any other legislation on the books.

"We have, in the past, been handicapped to move against poachers," Rogers said in praising the bill which came out of the subcommittee on fisheries and wildlife, of which he is a member. "The only way law enforcement agents could apprehend a poacher under present law was to catch him in the act.

"Now we can take action against the dealers who have been creating the illegal black market in alligator skins," Rogers said. "The law will enable us to take action against those who transport the skins and those who buy them knowing they have been taken illegally."

Rogers said that Miami has been a base for the illegal trade in alligator skins.

"Testimony before the committee revealed that the total annual illegal market of skins in Miami alone is in excess of $1 million," Rogers said. "Prime alligator hides bring up to $5 a linear foot from dealers who do not question their origin.

"A finished alligator suitcase will sell for as high as $1,000 and men's alligator shoes retail at $70 and up," Rogers said. "Poachers have killed the alligator population to the point of extinction in their greed."

Rogers said that sufficient funds are not available to properly patrol the vast wilderness areas in Florida, including the Everglades National Park. But, he added, the legislation should go a long way in giving state and federal agents the much needed muscle to get after the poachers and their markets.

New Product "Effective" On Nematode

Highlands County citrusmen who have been pushing and treating their groves to rid them of the burrowing nematode, were told here Thursday of a product which has had success in controlling the citrus nematode without destroying the grove.

About 70 persons attended a seminar held at the Sebring Elks Club by Shell Chemical Co. The product, they were told, is Nemagon and it has been tried since 1965 on the citrus nematode, which although it blights trees, is not as devastating as the burrowing nematode. Nematodes infest some 3,000 acres in Highlands County.

Showing slides to illustrate his talk Dr A. C. Tarjan, nematologist with the Citrus Experiment Station, Lake Alfred, said that in an experiment on 16 groves, production increased an average 16 per cent where Nemagon was used. In one instance, on a pineapple orange grove with sour orange stock, a 44 per cent increase was noted.

Tarjan, one of several speakers, said that on an acre of citrus with, say, 72 trees, the three year treatment costs about 24 cents per tree per year.

"I feel the treatment is effective," he declared. "Dr O'Bannon does too."

Dr John H O'Bannon, nematologist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Orlando, Dr Vernon White, nematologist with Shell, New York and Dr John R. King, technical director of W R Grace Co., Ft. Pierce, completed the speakers' list for the day-long seminar. Dr White related facts about the citrus nematode and the methods by which this grove damaging pest can be controlled.

Dr King spoke on "Soil Insects Affecting Citrus."

The seminar concluded with a panel discussion moderated by Gus Kirchoof of Shell. Panel members were D F Scales, representing Race and Race, Winter Haven, and George Black, W R Ames Co., Tampa.

Florida's Miss OJ Break was on hand in gold minidress to greet those attending and award door prizes.

Preceding seminars were held at Orlando, Ft. Pierce and Lakeland, the latter drawing an attendance of 200.

A LATERAL LINE of water pipe, from the new four inch main on West LaGrande Street, has just been laid in Bougainvillea Cemetery. The line will help to raise the water pressure in that section of the cemetery which is West of Hart Avenue. Rev. Herbert D. Graetz wishes to thank, on behalf of the Avon Park Cemetery Association, the members of the City Council for making this project possible, and Willie Willis for supervising the work. Rev. Graetz says that the association will have another lateral line laid, if and when needed. Shown is Morris Willis digging a hole to connect water line. Willie Willis and Rev. Graetz.

Recently, a camera was suspended 11,256 feet deep into the Atlantic, with powerful searchlights providing illumination. The amazing results were that there was an abundance of fish all the way down—and back, with many varieties totally unknown to man.

A word today about air-conditioning. Improper cooling is generally the first indication of refridgerant or Freon loss. Leakage, according to the manufactured unit, will usually result from a defective "suction throttling valve" in some makes or, the "seal in the compressor" in other makes. (Compressor oil level should be checked at least every 1½ to 2 years!) Visual inspection through the "sight glass" will show a cloudy or bubbly appearance with Refridgerant loss. The "evaporator" which causes the drip on your garage floor may clog and result in offensive odors and/or leakage into your car's interior. Mike Bradberry returned home Sunday after spending two weeks at the University of Florida. He and John Hasson went to Gainesville, July 21, to attend the ninth Gatorland Band Clinic.

Mike was first chair in the tuba section, a member of Honor Band, and played string base in the stage band. He received a scholarship to return to the clinic next year.

John was first chair in the french horn section and a member of Honor Band also.

Mike stayed for the second week to attend the Florida Bandmasters Association All Star Marching Band Clinic. He was first chair and squad leader of the tuba section.

Social Security Offers More Than Retirement Aid

Today's young workers can look forward to getting social security retirement benefits worth considerable more than the total they will pay into social security toward that retirement protection, W. E. Arnold, Lakeland, social security district manager, said today.

In addition, they have survivors and disability insurance under social security that may mean as much as $75,000 to $100,000 in payments to an individual family, should the worker die or become disabled for work before retirement.

Even the group of young workers who will be paying into social security for an entire working lifetime, under the schedule of contributions now in the law, will get social security retirement benefits worth at least 15 to 20 per cent more than their own contributions toward those benefits, and that includes an allowance for the interest the contributions might have earned.

This is true not just of his prospective retirement benefit, Arnold said, but also of his survivors and disability protection. Specifically, the family of a young man who dies or becomes disabled will get benefits worth more times the value of his social security contributions.

Couple Weds in Double Ring Rites Saturday In Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Avon Park was the scene of the impressive wedding uniting Miss Marilyn Diane Landress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Landress, and Roy DeWayne Lemler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Lemler, in holy wedlock, Saturday, Aug. 3, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Aden D. Childress performed the double-ring ceremony.

The focal point of the altar arrangements was a fan trellis, with Florida greenery and daisies woven through it, centering the altar with the background banked with fern balls, potted palms, two nine branched candelabra holding white tapers and two large standards of white glads and Shasta daisies. The altar rail was entwined with fern.

The twin kneeling bench was used for the wedding prayer. White lighted tapers in each window completed the lighting for the service. Relative's pews were marked with miniature daisies in green and yellow tulle and long matching streamers.

Rev. Arnold Godwin, soloist from Orlando, accompanied by his wife, as organist, sang, "Because," "Whether Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of silk organza over taffeta, made A-line, princess style with yoke and bell sleeves of Venetian lace, high neckline of daisies, dotted with pearls and iridescent sequins. Daisies was carried in a panel down the front and extended around the edge of the built-in chapel train, which fell from the shoulders.

Her shoulder length bouffant veil of illusion was fashioned with daisies held in place by poufs of illusion. She carried a cascade of white shasta daisies and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid and satin streamers.

Mrs. David Barefield of Avon Park, served as matron of honor and wore a gown of bonded crepe, in sun gold yellow, princess style, empire waistline edged with white daisies, square neck, ending in a bow in back adorned with single daisies. She wore a matching headpiece of tulle, held with daisies and poufs of tulle.

She carried an original designed fan outlined in yellow satin ribbon and accented with yellow poufs and satin streamers. White daisies with yellow centers, centered the fan and complemented the bride's chosen theme of daisies.

Miss Cheryl Guerndt was maid of honor and wore a gown identical to the matron's with matching headpiece and bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lynn Henderson of Wauchula, cousin of the bride, Miss Pat Landress of Columbus, Ga., cousin of the bride, Miss Betty Creech, Mrs. Dianne Pollard, of Avon Park and Mrs. Norman McRae, Jr., of Jacksonville.

Their gowns were made identical to the honor attendants in eskero green with matching headpieces of tulle and daisies.

Miss Sharyn Henderson of Wauchula, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl and wore a floor length gown of bonded crepe in white, made similar to the attendants.

Tommy Turnbull of Avon Park was the ring bearer.

Dean Lemler served his brother as best man. Ushers were Gene Landress, brother of the bride, David Barefield, Stanley Wells, Lawler Wells, Paul Foracker all of Avon Park and Phillip Eckstadt of Sebring. Young Craig Landress, brother of the bride seated his mother and grandmother.

The bride's mother chose a street-length dress of turquoise Chantilly lace over taffeta, long sleeves, ruffled cuff, escalloped edging, made A-line, for her daughter's wedding and wore a white orchid corsage, and matching accessories.

Mother of the bridegroom wore a street length dress of pink crepe and matching jacket with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Uel Henderson, grandmother of the bride, wore a bonded crepe dress in light green with lace trimmed collar and cuffs, accessories in beige and a white daisy corsage.

For their wedding trip to the mountains of South Carolina, the bride wore a three-piece suit of bonded linen in turquoise and beige accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Reception

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Donald Ford, mistress of ceremonies for the wedding, presented the guests to the receiving line. Mrs. Larry Strickler attended the bride's book which was placed on a round table covered with net festooned over white, holding a silver three branched candelabra and tapers.

The beautiful three tiered wedding cake, with the bottom layer shaped four-leaf clover design, decorated with an array of daisies, rosettes and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom in front of a flowered trellis, was centered on a round table covered with white net festooned with nosegays of daisies, over a white cloth.

Two matching tables on each side, held the attendants bouquets and three branched silver candelabra holding white tapers from which punch, nuts and mints were served. Arrangements of roses were placed at vantage points throughout the hall. The tables were covered with Italian cut-work linen cloths.

Mrs. Harold Guerndt, Miss Joyce Antley, Miss Hazel Brown, Mrs. Larry Pickett, Miss Pat Furr, Miss Trudie Mitchell, Miss Barbara Simmons, Mrs. Dan Antley, Mrs. Virgil Mills assisted in serving. Miss Becky Henderson and Miss Giniabeth Henderson, cousins of the bride, passed out rice bags.

Mrs. Ray Wells and Mrs. Ophelia Rihner had charge of the reception and decorating the hall.

Upon their return from their wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 411 North Lake Avenue.

Out-of-town guests attended from Boca Raton, Walkington, Ind., Wauchula, Lake Placid, Sebring, Moore Haven, Lake Wales, Columbus, Ga., Albany, Ga., Panama City, Crystal River, Jacksonville, LeHigh Acres and Orlando.

The rehearsal dinner will be given by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Adams, Friday night, Aug. 9 at the Sheraton Hotel, Fort Lauderdale, for the bridal party and relatives. Silver candelabra, pink roses and babybreath will be used for table decorations.

The redbud tree, in the Old World, is called the "Judas Tree," as Judas hanged himself from one.

Pre-nuptial Parties Are Held For Bride-elect Trudy Mitchell

A series of parties and showers have been held for Miss Trudy Mitchell, bride-elect of Michael Ryals from Crescent City, who will exchange wedding vows August 17, 8 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church.

One of the parties was a linen shower honoring Judy given in the Florida Power Lounge.

Hostesses were Mrs. C. T. Ferguson, Mrs. O. F. Laye, Mrs. Earl Rich, and Mrs. W. P. O'Steen. They presented the bride-elect with a bed spread.

Refreshments were served.

—o—

Mrs. S. Y. Mosley, Jr., and Mrs. Danny Butler hosted Judy with a lingerie shower at the Moseley home, recently. They presented her with a lingerie tote bag.

Cake, nuts and mints were served.

—o—

Mrs. Ethel Williamson honored Trudy, her mother, Mrs. Lee T. Mitchell and her sister, Nancy with a luncheon at Chalet Suzanne.

—o—

A miscellaneous shower was held for Judy in the Florida Power Lounge, Tuesday night, July 30, with 80 friends attending.

The refreshment table was covered with a white cut-work cloth over pink satin. Crystal was featured in the punch bowl and candelabra which held pink tapers. Each arrangement was encircled with green ivy.

The gift table was covered with white and held a lacy umbrella at one end arranged with white garden flowers and bouquets of pink roses adorned the opposite end.

Dainty sandwiches, punch, cookies and nuts were served.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jane Wells, Mrs. Ophelia Rihner, Mrs. Dorothy Martin, Mrs. Willie Copeland, Mrs. Jane Nelson, Mrs. Clarice DeLaney, Mrs. Marilyn Eisenman, Mrs. Garland Kelly, Mrs. Jo Ann Strickler, Mrs. Betty Lou Wells, Mrs. Janice Barefield and Miss Cheryl Guerndt.

They presented the bride with a piece of china from her chosen pattern.

Out-of-town guests were mother of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. William Ryals, Mrs. John McCloud, aunt of the bride-elect and her great-aunt, Mrs. W. F. Wise from Frostproof. Mrs. Ryals also attended the linen shower.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherman are spending a three week vacation in Pennsylvania and Michigan, visiting relatives.

—o—

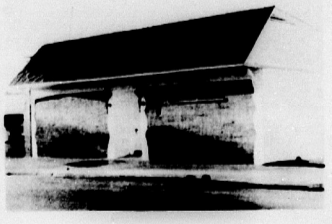

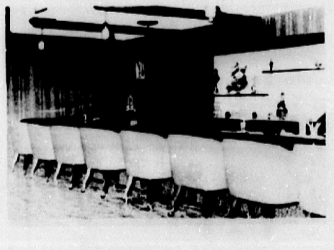

Mr. and Mrs. George Walper and family are vacationing for the month of August in California. They will spend part of their vacation with Mrs. Walper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Almskog.

President Garfield was our last President to be born in a log cabin.

THE SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOL which opened August 5 at the First United Methodist Church has been well attended with approximately 75 registered the first day. The school will continue through August 16. Mrs. Edgar Smoot, song leader, is shown directing the group in religious songs before they retire to their class rooms for bible instruction.

Voluntary Prog. For Alcoholics In Frostproof

Rev. Mickey Evans, founder and director of Dunklin Memorial Camp, a spiritual rehabilitation center for alcoholics in Okeechobee, will be the guest speaker at the First Baptist Church in Frostproof, Sunday at the 11 A.M. and 7:30 P.M. services. The public is invited.

This is a voluntary program for men who earnestly desire help with their problems and will extend over a period of eight weeks.

Over 600 men have been through this program in a little over four years. The program is strictly for the spiritual need of those addicted to alcohol, to help them come to an understanding of Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

Interested persons please write P. O. Box 1287, Okeechobee, Fla.

T-Sgt. Harrell's Unit Wins Award

Technical Sergeant James G. Harrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Harrell of Rt. 1, Avon Park, has been recognized for helping his unit earn the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Sgt. Harrell, a procurement supervisor in the 5010th Combat Support Group at Eielson AFB, Alaska, will wear the distinctive service ribbon as a permanent decoration.

His unit was cited for highly significant contributions to the effectiveness and accomplishment of the Alaskan Air Command operational mission.

This is the second time in the past 18 months that the unit has been so honored.

The sergeant is a graduate of Rose Hill (Ga.) High School.

His wife, Dorothy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Williams of Rt. 1, Webster, Fla.

CARD OF THANKS

We are most grateful and extend our thanks and appreciation to the Business Women's Club for the shower of gifts received and to our friends and neighbors who sent congratulations and best wishes after the birth of our son, Walter DeWitt Carter, in the form of candy, flowers, cards, visits and gifts.

There was only one way we could improve on Q-R flameless water heating. (Reduce the rate.)

So we did it!

In fact, homes with electric water heaters get the new low rate of 1¼ cents per kilowatt-hour on one-quarter of all electricity used in excess of 180 kwh per month — not just on electricity used for water heating.

More than 70% of our household customers now enjoy this new low rate. If you don't, shouldn't you switch to clean and flameless water heating?

And to help you make the switch, we're giving an installation allowance of $25 to residential customers who replace flame-type with electric water heaters between now and September 30th.

Your plumbing contractor or appliance dealer will arrange with us for you to get this allowance. Then as soon as your flameless water heater is installed, let us know and you'll be billed at the new low rate and save every month!*

Why Q-R? It stands for "quick recovery" — means that the hot water you use is speedily replaced. With a Q-R flameless water heater, you're always in hot water up to your neck!

*If you heat water electrically and have not applied for the water heater discount, please notify our nearest office. If you have applied, "WH-DC" on your bill means you're now getting the water heater discount.

Graduate to Q-R flameless electric water heating NOW and SAVE!

Bradenton—Southwest Florida Production Credit Association of Bradenton, in competition with 458 other PCAs in the nation, ranked fourth, fifth and 14th in three separate categories, according to Herbert E. Cook, general manager.

Mr. Cook, citing figures furnished by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, said that as of December 31, 1967 the association ranked fourth nationally in capital stock owned by members at $2,599,600, fifth in the nation in total net worth owned by farmers at $3,926,917, and 14th in members' loans outstanding at $20,157,000.

The association serves farmers with operating and capital investment credit on an intermediate-term basis in the counties of Charlotte, DeSoto, Glades, Hardee, Hendry, Highlands, Lee, Manatee and Sarasota. Full-time branch offices are maintained at Arcadia, Clewiston, Sebring, Wauchula and Bradenton.

J. Wesley Davis of Sebring is a member of the board of directors.

Harold Peeples Opens Used Car Lot

Harold Peeples of Avon Park has just opened a new car lot on US Highway 27 South of Avon Park.

Peeples sold cars in Fort Meade for over 14 years before coming to Avon Park where he was with I. H. Ford Motor Company for seven months before starting Harold Peeples Motors, Inc.

Most of the cars on Peeples' lot is bought from new car dealers, and is the only dealer in Highlands County that sells labor busses.

Peeples handles mostly late model one owner cars, has bank rate financing with insurance bought from local insurance men. He will trade for anything of value.

Harold, his wife, Mary and son, Steve, four, reside at 1035 West Cornell and attend the First Methodist Church in Avon Park.

Florida Fourth State With Air Condition Homes

More than half of all homes in Florida now have some type of air conditioning to rank the state fourth nationally in per cent and fifth in number of homes with cooling, according to Morris Adams, president of Ridge Air Conditioning.

Mr. Adams said that about 1,065,000 families in the state, or 54.3 per cent, live in houses or apartments equipped with central cooling systems or room air conditioners, based on the latest Carrier market reports. Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, in that order, rank above Florida in percentage of homes air conditioned.

The number of Florida homes with air conditioning has almost doubled in the last five years, Mr. Adams noted.

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

Alcoholism is a disease.

This fact is now recognized by nearly every top medical expert in the field of alcoholism, plus such respected organizations as the American Medical Association.

Thus, it would seem only fitting that general hospitals would accept patients whose illness is alcoholism. Yet, there are numerous institutions of this type which refuse to admit persons with this diagnosis.

Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program feels that hospitals must recognize the alcoholic as a sick person who needs proper medical attention in the very best possible environment—that is, the general hospital.

Marvin A. Block, M.D., who is chairman of New York Medical Society's Committee on Alcohol and Drug Dependence and a member of the AMA's committee of the same name, says: "Admission diagnoses should be honest and frank and without prejudice or subterfuge. Should such diagnoses be used on a broad scale, alcoholism will be accepted as a serious medical problem without stigma."

Acute alcohol intoxication, according to Block, is often a medical emergency. Despite this fact, many hospitals refuse admission to alcoholics although the same hospitals would not think of refusing a patient suffering severe intoxication from other agents.

"Modern man lives in a drug culture, to be sure," says Block. "Of all the drugs, however, alcohol is the most universally used. Because of excessive drinking by non-alcoholics, it is popularly assumed that everyone who drinks to excess can stop at will.

"Not to do so is looked upon as willful drunkenness, and the resulting illness is therefore regarded as a self-induced condition for which the drinker deserves to suffer so that he will learn not to repeat the procedure.

"For the social drinker who drinks excessively this may be true. For the alcoholic, however, it doesn't apply, because his drinking is compulsive, beyond his control. This is why it is necessary that the alcoholic be admitted to a hospital even though he may not be in a state of acute intoxication.

"Admission may be necessary for him to break his drinking pattern before he reaches the stage of intense inebriation. He may have had but one or two drinks, but because he will continue to drink compulsively and against his own judgment, the drinking pattern itself must be broken."

FARP agrees with Block's comments, and believes it is high time medical schools and hospitals are made aware that the tremendous number of sick persons suffering from alcoholism cannot be ignored and that their treatment in a general hospital is not only justified but necessary as well.

If you have any comments on this subject, FARP would like to hear from you. Literature and information regarding FARP is always free for the asking. Just write FARP's Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla., 33825.

Judge Rehrer Elected to Assn.

County Judge Mervin Rehrer has been elected vice president of the County Judges Association. He currently is president of the Florida Council of Juvenile Court Judges, serving until next February.

Judge and Mrs. Rehrer and daughter Laurie were in Cocoa to attend a convention of the juvenile courtjudges held at Ramada Inn. Among the speakers were Marshall Crise, president of the Florida Bar Association; Doyle Conner, commissioner of Agriculture and Fred Dickinson, state comptroller.

Judge Rehrer was in Miami recently attending the Governor's Conference on Crime. He is a member of the state committee on crime. The meeting was held at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel.

Among speakers were William Reed, director of the Bureau of Law Enforcement, Tallahassee, and Ralph Renick, crusading news director of television station WTVJ.

Rotary Report

Last Wednesday was a big day for Rotarian Don Hassfurder, who coached our Rotary Little League baseball team, this season. Don brought in the team as guests of the club.

They completed their local season with 12 wins and no losses and were only stopped from going higher by Plant City, made up of approximately six losers.

Bob Baxter added to the enjoyment with a film entitled "Baseball's Incredible Year." The film has been assembled to illustrate the many interesting plays in baseball during the year.

It held the attention of the team and most of the Rotary members as evidenced by their staying on to the end of the film.

We feel Don and his staff have done an outstanding and commendable job.

Archery Season Opens Sept. 14

TALLAHASSEE — Florida's archery hunting season will open one-half hour before sunrise on September 14 and continue with daily hunting through September 29.

In addition to the statewide archery season, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will conduct a series of nine managed archery hunts on wildlife management areas. The managed archery hunts will include Fisheating Creek area, Mizell Island portion only, Glades County September 14 through September 29.

Archery permits cost $5 and will be available at the office of all county judges. No archery permit or hunting license will be required for children under 15 years of age or Florida residents 65 and over.

Winter Guest Club News

Elizabeth Clarke — GL 3-8733

Shuffling

Wednesday's Tournament winners were Catherine Baker and Chris Cabezas over Blaine Kerr and Ruth Jordan. Consolation winners were Elizabeth Clarke and Harry Gibson over Grace Romilly and Tom Clarke. Twenty-four players entered into the game.

Saturday evening there was no tournament because it rained, and we needed the rain.

Card Games

Monday afternoon with three tables of pinochle players, high scores went to Ann Clarke with 718 and to Jesse Parsons with 689.

Dances

In spite of the heat the one and two squares of dancers have a good time on Monday and Friday evenings.

News Exchange

The Ralph Lamberts are back in their home on North Prospect Street after a two months vacation in Ohio. They visited their families in Akron and New London. They spent four weeks in Lakeside, where they heard many prominent speakers and musical programs. They heard E. Stanley Jones, an outstanding Methodist missionary to India.

Mrs. Lambert's son, Joseph Hurley and his wife drove them home and spent several days with them. Mr. Hurley is superintendent of schools in New London.

We are glad to see the Kulls at the club again after their trip to Europe.

The James Chamberlains are home on Prairie Street after their visit with their friends, the Verner Boahrigs, in Plymouth, Ind. While there they had the fun of picking blueberries.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cornue and daughters, Linda and Lori, of Chicago, Ill., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzo Cornue. They plan on being here a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Shader and Mr. and Mrs. Mayon Hoard, of Royal Oak, Mich., had the pleasure of a trip around Lake Superior, traveling on the new Canadian highway.

Blaine and Judy Kerr are managing the Villas Launderamat this past week while the owners are on vacation.

The Bible Speaks To You On Radio

We all need self-respect. And no one needs it more than underprivileged children. An understanding of God brings such respect. How can children be helped to achieve this understanding? Listen Sunday, Aug. 11, 9 A.M. to WJCM to the concluding half of "Giving Children a Basis for Self-respect."

Avon Mobile Home Park News

A beautiful change has come over our park with a new look—brand new black topped roads, all completely done, making for a nice smooth ride, also. Florida Power has finished installing all the individual service in the park, for those who have paid.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Nellie Larrew has been ill, but glad to hear that he is getting his strength back. They are planning to return here in October after an operation.

Mr. Robert Gibb was home from the hospital for a while, but returned to Walker Memorial on Sunday with a fever, again. We do hope he recuperates rapidly and stays well this time.

The Stevens, Diggers and Coys are fine and looking forward to returning to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Muckley from Crystal Beach, Fla., Ohio neighbors of the Lucius Geibs were visiting them Tuesday, and Mr. and Mrs. William Garver with son, David and daughter, Katie stopped to visit Lucius and Gladys on Thursday. They were on their way to Albuquerque, N. M. It was a pleasant surprise to the Geibs.

Those of us enjoying swimming this Summer are Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan (Catherine) Baker, Ruth Robinson, and Olive Kerwin. It is very relaxing and the water is refreshing. The Charles Brushes have been most kind in allowing us to use their beach. Our next venture will be in Lake Viola.

Whales have been known to dive to a denth of 4,000 feet, for lunch.

Avon Park Lakes News

Cynthia T. Calvert — GL 34532

Mr. and Mrs. George Haughee returned last week from several days visit with their daughter and family in Miami, where their daughter had to undergo surgery while they were there.

Mrs. Harold Constantine and Miss Mildred Constantine from Zephryhills were the overnight guests of Mrs. H. L. Anderson last Tuesday. They are her aunts.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bush and children, Kathy and Louis from Hialeah were the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bush this past weekend. Mr. and Mrs. James Combs from Hollywood arrived on Sunday to join them.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. David Waldron passed away at Walker Memorial Hospital last Wednesday morning, July 31. Mrs. Waldron is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Frame, and two sons, Kenneth of Rockaway, N. J., and H. D. from Morristown, N. J. Mrs. Frame is spending a short time at the Lakes with her father. Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. Waldron and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Haines from Ft. Wayne, Ind., and son, Russell from Tallahassee were visitors last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haines.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stotts and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keys enjoyed dinner at the Elks Club last Sunday evening.

The regular monthly salad bar luncheon was held at the club house last Thursday with several members attending. Mrs. George Burroughs and Mrs. Paul J. Calvert were hostesses for the luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belles from Tampa were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hurst last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hill, Jr. and children Kenneth and April from Rock Hill, S. C., left last Tuesday after spending several days at the Lakes as the guests of Mrs. Maude Bedard and Miss Gertrude Desautels. Mrs. Hill is their niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tryon celebrated their 27th wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nierstheimer celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary with dinner at the Elks Club last Tuesday.

The regular monthly pot luck dinner will be held at the club house on Thursday, Aug. 15 at 6 P.M.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bragg and son, William from Ansted, W. Va., arrived last Wednesday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bush. Mr. Bragg is a cousin of Mr. Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perpall from Key West left Saturday after spending four days at the Lakes with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Haughee. They all visited Busch Gardens in Tampa and spent the night in St. Petersburg before they left.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell McCormick and three sons from Champayne, Ill., were visitors last Tuesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. W. T. Haines and Mr. Haines. They were enroute to Boca Raton to visit his brother and family, then will return to the Lakes for a longer visit.

Word has been received that Mrs. John Bengel lost her mother last week and was buried in Guttenberg, N. J., last Saturday. Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Bengel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haughee celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary last Saturday, July 27. Our congratulation to a very nice couple.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Roller and oldest daughter, Susan arrived last Sunday from Louisville, Ky., to pick up their two younger daughters, Judy and Carol to take them back home. The two girls had been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walker for two weeks. During their stay in Florida they visited many places of interest especially enjoyed the Busch Gardens in Tampa and the Kapok Tree Inn.

Mrs. Jack M. Calvert and daughter, Kathy arrived last Saturday from Oviedo and spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Calvert. Kevin Calvert returned home with his mother after spending several weeks with his grandparents and Kathy will remain for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kreml returned last Wednesday from a three months trip to Mokena, Ill., visiting their son and family, and other relatives.

Mrs. Robert Champion entered Walker Memorial Hospital last Friday for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Swanson returned to the Lakes last Wednesday from a six weeks trip to Moline, Ill., where they visited their daughter and family. En-route home they stopped in Destin to visit their son and family for several days, bringing their two grandchildren, Tina and Tommie home with them. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swanson arrived on Tuesday and spent three days with his parents then took the children home with them.

The Atacama Desert of Chile lies adjacent to the Pacific, but gets no moisture from it. The sea here is fed by frigid Antarctic current, which cools the air above it, which causes warm air to flow out from the land.

Mary Hayworth Passed Away Saturday, Aug. 3

Mrs. Mary Hamlin Hayworth, 74, died Saturday, Aug. 3, in Walker Memorial Hospital.

She came to Avon Park in 1947 from Washington, D. C. She was a Methodist.

Survivors include her husband, Walter Hugh Hayworth of Avon Park; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Hawes of Alexandria, Va.; two sisters, Miss Frances Hamlin and Mrs. G. A. Reaves, both of Columbia, S. C.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning, Aug. 6, at the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home with Rev. A. G. Hardee officiating. She was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

You're liable to miss quite a bit if you don't read your Sebring News.

HOGLUND'S HAPPENINGS

August 15, 1769—Napoleon Bonaparte, French dictator and military genius, is born.

Buy Bonds where you work. They do.

They work for freedom. And more than seven out of ten of them are supporting freedom with their dollars, too—through investment in U.S. Savings Bonds. When you buy Bonds, you can save up for a rainy day, a home, a free and comfortable future—and at the same time show these brave men you're on their side. Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or buy Bonds where you bank. You'll walk a bit taller.

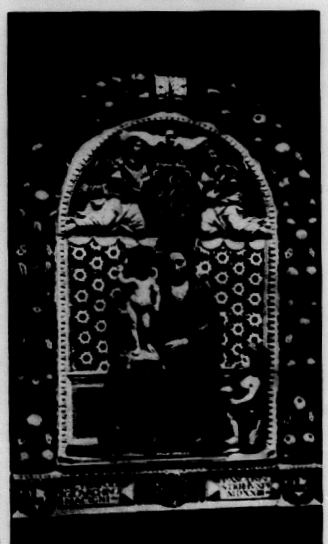

New Freedom Shares
Now, when you join the Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-a-Month Plan, you are eligible to purchase Freedom Shares. They pay 4.74% when held to maturity of just four-and-a-half years (redeemable after one year), and are available on a one-for-one basis with Savings Bonds. Get the facts where you work or bank. Join up. America needs your help.

About a ton of ore must be processed, in an average gold mine, to obtain enough gold for an average wedding ring.

About $45 million was spent in restoring pioneer Williamsburg, Va., to its American Revolution days condition.

MEXICO'S ENTRANTS in upcoming Olympics in that country will wear these official uniforms, which have been approved by the National Committee.

MEDIEVAL ART brought a high price at a recent London auction. This enameled terra-cotta relief of the Virgin and Child is by Giovanni Della Robbia. It was sold for about $57,000 to an unnamed buyer.

Average Family In County Makes 6,600

Business activity in Highlands County was in relatively high gear during the past year, according to a national economic report. Just released, with family earnings averaging over $6,000 annually.

It shows that it was due chiefly to heavy spending on the part of local consumers, who had more money at their command than in other years.

The extent of this spending and its effect on retail business in the area are revealed in the report, called the "Survey of Buying Power," which was compiled and copyrighted by Sales Management. It presents data on income and speaking for communities throughout the country.

Net earnings in Highlands County were high during the year, it shows. After allowances for personal taxes, local residents had a net spendable income of $50,617,000, compared with their 1966 total of $47,454,000.

Just how much this amounted to, in terms of the individual family, was determined by dividing the overall income by the number of local households. The average was $6,026, a gain over the prior year's $5,717 per household.

How did local residents use their bigger incomes? They spent more for clothing, food and other soft goods. They were more liberal, also, in their expenditures for personal care, services and entertainment. There was more restraint, on the other hand, with respect to purchases of hard goods.

However, retail merchants as a whole ended the year on a high note. They chalked up a sales volume of more than $38,801,000, topping the previous year's $36,489,000.

The survey gives each community a performance rating based upon the amount of retail business done in its area as compared with its estimated full capacity.

This is done through a "buying power index," a weighted figure involving income, population and sales.

Highlands County's index rating is 0188, which means that it is believed capable of producing that percentage of the nation's retail business.

Since more than that was accounted for last year, .0118 per cent, it is concluded that a sizeable amount of the local spending is due to shopping by non-residents.

Seven Candidates Seek 3 City Council Seats Sept. 10

The Avon Park City Council race gained momentum Friday when four men qualified before registration closed. This brings the total to seven candidates now seeking the three council seats up for election September 10.

Council President Russell Scott qualified five minutes before the books closed. Others qualifying Friday were Eddie Johnson, Clarence King and Jack Duggan.

Three more council hopefuls to qualify earlier were incumbent Durrah Martin, who was the first to qualify, J. B. Sparks and Lester Brown qualified later.

Scott, seeking his second term, has been a resident of Avon Park for more than 33 years. He is an insurance salesman, has served on the Avon Park police force seven years. He is married and has three children.

Scott said he is interested in local municipal government and industrial development of Avon Park.

Eddie Johnson, a newcomer to politics, is a successful and progressive businessman interested in the future of Avon Park.

Owner of Sunny Ridge Industries and Trailer Park, he has been a resident more than ten years. A member of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary International, Avon Park Golf Association. He is on the Boy Scout committee, married 35 years to wife Lurlie and has two girls Peggy and Jeanine.

Clarence King, businessman in Avon Park since 1945, has served four terms on the council and was elected president of the council for three terms.

King said, "my philosophy is to operate the city as economically as I have during the terms that I have served and if elected I will use generally accepted good business practice as in the past."

Jack Duggan, an insurance salesman with Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has been a resident of Avon Park for many years and a former councilman is seeking his second term.

Duggan was vice president of the council the two years he served and was only defeated by one vote in the council race in 1967.

Lester N. Brown, owner of the House of Better Nutrition and a newcomer to politics is seeking a seat on the council.

Brown organized the American Association of Retired Persons Chapter 222 and was recently awarded a certificate of merit for his distinguished service to industry and commerce by the Dictionary of International Biography.

6,100 Students Expected To Enroll In County Schools

School bells will ring out in Highlands County Tuesday, Sept. 3 for an expected enrollment of more than 6,100 students, a 5-7 per cent increase over last year.

And with school only more than two weeks off, most of the teaching positions in the county have been filled. In Sebring, a second librarian is needed at the high school in Lake Placid, one or two teachers were needed at Cairver Elementary.

County School Superintendent George Douglass said the schools are expanding programs in reading, music and arts and are strengthening instructional personnel in those fields by bringing in teachers to aid teachers in more modern advanced procedures.

The planned improvement program was made available by new allocations by the Legislature and these have been specifically designed for their purposes.

Douglas outlined several:

(1) Science—Highlands County was one of the pilot school programs in developing and testing elementary science programs. The new programs will be in full effect in 1968-69.

A new elementary science approach will be in effect in the junior high program. Junior high laboratories have been renovated and laboratory specialists will be on duty to implement the new laboratory-centered science program. An in-service staff will also be available with new materials and new teaching techniques to further the course.

(2) Mathematics—Elementary school teachers will receive in-service staff development techniques for a program utilizing ETV, consultants, and local instructors.

(3) Reading—A slight shortage of teachers in this area may be experienced, but Douglass said that the situation was not critical. The entire reading program will be strengthened through use of reading resource teachers in elementary schools and through expanded development reading programs in junior high schools. Outside reading consultants will be a central reading focus point in in-service development training for all teachers in the field of reading.

(4) Music and Arts—This program will also utilize resource teachers who will work with teachers and students in developing planned programs in classes one through 12.

(5) Guidance—Additional personnel will be used to bring about a more acceptable ratio of students to counselors in senior and junior high schools.

(6) Language Arts—All teachers will be involved in a series of modern transformational grammar courses through the University of Florida.

(7) Teacher Recruitment — Supt. Douglass said efforts have provided Highlands County with most positions filled, a concentrated effort has been and will continue to be made to update the quality of the instructional forces, plans are now being formulated to update next season's recruitment program.

(8) Facilities—This is still a critical problem in Highlands County. A new cafeteria has been built at Hopewell School in Avon Park and repairs and renovations at several other schools in the county.

Avon Park Schools Will Have 32 New Teachers Opening Day

Thirty-two new teachers will be on duty when Avon Park schools open for the 1968-69 year September 3, some of them coming from as far away as the Midwest and Pennsylvania.

R. Guy Garrett, supervising principal, listed 14 new teachers for Avon Park High School, six for Hopewell and 12 for Avon Elementary. The new teachers, their subjects, and where they come from are:

Avon Park High

Mrs. Helen Britt, librarian, junior high, Avon Park; Chester Brojek, English, high school, Meadville, Pa.; Mrs. Betty Cook, social work, St. Augustine; Edward K. Kemp, Jr., social standards, junior high, Tallahassee; William L. Knecht, English, high school, Macclenny; Paul Roberts, social standards, junior high, Shelby, N. C.; Robert A. Sanderson, science, high school, Winter Haven.

Mrs. Lillie Sandlin, special education, junior high, Scottsburg, Ind.; John D. Howard, English, high school, Ocala; William Kittrell, science, junior high, Bradenton; Howard W. McGlennon, social standards, junior high, LaGrange, Ind.; Eugene Brenner, art, high school, Miami Beach; William N. Talbot, mathematics, junior high, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Dorothy N. Nash, reading, high school, Orlando.

Hopewell

Mrs. Ella C. Richo, fourth grade, Yulee; Mrs. Donna Kittrell, fifth, Bradenton; Joseph Dickinson, sixth, Franklin, Tenn.; Mrs. Carol Smith, social studies, Sarasota; Mrs. Sarah Williams, librarian, Avon Park; Kenneth C. Schubell, guidance, Lake Wales.

Avon Elementary

Mrs. Eleanor Brojek, will teach a section of the first grade, a first year teacher, graduate of Edenboro State College, Edenboro, Pa.

Mrs. Lena Suggs, will teach a section of the second grade, transferred from Avon Park High School to Avon Elementary School.

Mrs. Peggy B. Meux, will teach a section of the fourth grade, now making her home in Sebring, first year teaching but has done some substitute work.

Mrs. Susan Prescott Willis, will teach a section of the fourth grade, taught two years in Tampa, graduate of University of South Florida.

Mrs. Louise L. Gregg, will teach a section of the fifth grade, has had 13 years teaching experience in Springboro, Ohio.

Elridge O. Holman, will teach a section of the fifth grade, first year teacher, graduate of S.E.B. College, Lakeland.

S. Thomas Lund, will teach a section of the sixth grade, first year teacher, graduate of S.E.B. College, Lakeland.

Miss Shirley Hardee, will teach art, first year teacher, graduate of Florida Southern College.

Mrs. Margaret Collins, will work in the physical education department, Mrs. Collins has been on a year's leave of absence from Avon Park High School.

Elmo Roberts, will work in the physical education department, he came from Hardee county with 18 years experience in physical education, coaching, and as a principal.

Mrs. Dove L. Shanks, will be resource and reading teacher, she comes from the Tennessee school system.

Mrs. Alice F. Deane, will serve as teacher aide, has done some substitute teacher work.

Registration Will Start Monday

Registration for classes in all programs offered by South Florida Junior College will take place in the College Library, E. Main St., Avon Park begining at 8 A.M. Monday, August 19. The registration period will extend through August 20, with classes beginning on Wednesday, August 21. Applications will continue to be accepted by the Director of Admissions through registration.

The largest enrollment in the history of the college is expected this Fall. Projections indicate a student enrollment in excess of 500.

Six new faculty members have been added to the staff: Lewis Miller, Agriculture, James McNabb, Air-Conditioning Refrigeration, Dan Walsh, Guidance and Psychology, Robert Fitzgerald, History. Miss Ila Kay Guraedy, Physical Education, and Larry Hooper, Radio-Television Electronics to meet the needs of the growing institution.

One of the most exciting aspects of the year will be the construction of the first phase of the permanent buildings on the Lake Glenada Campus. The seven-building complex hopefully will be occupied in the Fall of 1969 and will provide the college with badly needed space for present classes and room for considerable expansion.

SURVEY SMOKING HABITS

Census Bureau interviews Mrs. Christine Oates, will conduct a survey here concerning the smoking habits of the population during the week of August 19. Interviews conducted locally are part of the third annual survey of smoking habits taken among a representative sample of the nation's population to provide statistical data for the U. S. Public Health Service.

Two Teams Tied in Tourney

Two teams tied with a best ball of 59, R. Dressel, G. Garrett, A. Cravens, F. Shannon; J. Johnson, D. Martin, B. Reck, J. Martindale.

Point Tourney, Saturday, Aug. 10, winner Guy Garrett, plus 13; second, Pete Peterson, plus 9.

Walter Brown Draws Five Year Sentence

Walter Brown, of Avon Park, who pleaded guilty to the robbery of $415 from Paul Bolerjack, was sentenced to five years in prison Thursday by Circuit Judge J. H. Willson.

The case of another defendant, J. C. Robinson, was nolle prossed.

Noberto Franco Dominieci, 24, of Avon Park, who originally was charged with assault to murder by shooting Willie English in the stomach, pleaded to assault and battery and was sentenced to four and one-half months in jail. He was given credit for time served, which was four and one-half months. The case of Guillerma Rivera of Avon Park, also accused in the English shooting, was nolle prossed.

EMBARGO LIFTED

The Canadian postal strike has ended, and the embargo has been lifted on acceptance of mail to Canada.

Four Team Football Jamboree To Be Held In Avon Park Sept. 7

Avon Park Red Devil football fans are reminded that a pre-season football jamboree will be played here at Memorial Field on September 7 with the varsity teams from Wauchula, Sebring, and Avon Park playing two full quarters each in a regulation game situation.

The jamborees are a new innovation allowed by the Florida High School Activities Association this year. Each participating team will play in two 12 minute quarters and opponents will be different in each quarter. This year's schedule has Wauchula meeting Arcadia in the first quarter, Sebring and Avon Park playing the second quarter, Wauchula taking on Avon Park in the third quarter, and Arcadia and Sebring finishing out the final quarter.

The jamboree promises to give the four schools a real game-type practice and fans from the area will be able to size up the abilities of the four teams.

The Red Devils spent yesterday afternoon (Wednesday) getting their physical examinations and will start this afternoon with conditioning drills preparing for the 1968 schedule. Coaching the Red Devils this season will be head coach, Joe Franza and assistant coaches Ralph Hill and Larry Pickett. Also on the Devil coaching staff will be DeWayne Lemler and new to the staff this season will be Paul Roberts.

Atheletic Assn. To Meet Monday Night

The Avon Park High School Athletic Association will hold its first meeting of the new school year Monday, Aug. 19 at 8 P.M. The meeting will be at the Florida Power Lounge on West Main Street.

Important plans for the coming year will be finalized, and all members are urged to attend. A special invitation is extended to anyone who would like to become a member of the Association to attend this meeting.

Membership cards will be sold at the meeting. Price of membership is $2, which entitles the member to a reserved parking space at home football games and a Red Devil booster decal to put on their car for identification purposes.

This year football begins early in Avon Park. On Saturday, Sept. 7 at 8 P.M., there will be a football jamboree. The participating teams will be Avon Park, Arcadia, Sebring and Wauchula. Each team will play two 12 minute quarters. The teams will play as follows: first quarter—Wauchula vs. Arcadia, second quarter—Avon Park vs. Sebring, third quarter—Avon Park vs. Wauchula, and fourth quarter—Arcadia vs. Sebring.

Remember, this is an important meeting. Please attend and show our young athletes that we support them 100 per cent, and that we will do our best to make this the best sports year in the history of Avon Park High School.

CHAMBER TO MEET

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce Directors will meet Thursday, Aug. 15 at 8 P.M. in the Chamber office.

Forrest Lloyd of Sebring will be guest at the meeting. All directors are urged to attend.

4-Laning 27 To Begin September 15

Dave Tower appeared before the regular meeting of the Avon Park City Council Monday night and told the council he had attended a pre-construction conference of the State Road Department in Wauchula and work on four-laning US Highway 27 south of the city limits is to be started September 15. All utility work near the road is to be done before October 15.

The city is planning to install the main utilities at the site of South Florida Junior College to connect with city lines.

The council requested Tower to get quotations of cost of the road contractor to lay lines across the road.

The City Clerk reported that Critchfield Marine had not yet signed the new lease for the 50 year term.

Mr. Scott reported that he, Mr. Albright and City Clerk Crews had inspected the new hangar with a representative of the Graves Co. today and the hangar should be completed this week. The Graves Company had agreed to make corrections needed on the west wall. Mr. Albright stated he had never been happy with the building.

Mr. Hancock said when the hangar is tendered by the builder he would recommend that a qualified engineer inspect the building and see if any material changes from the plans and specifications had been made and if so the variance in value of the building as completed. Also, he recommended that the City secure a resolution from the Graves Company that leasing the building to Critchfield Marine did not constitute an acceptance of the building.

Approved lease for 90 days on the new hangar with Critchfield Marine.

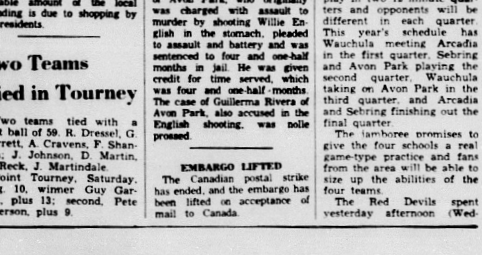

A discussion was held on the purchase of land by airport runway but action was deferred.

Agreed to proceed with the contracts on airport improvements.

A letter from the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad was read which promised to have trains observe the 30 miles per hour speed limit while going through Avon Park.

George Haynie appeared before the council representing a cleanup committee. He requested a committee be appointed to aid the council in singling out sub-standard buildings which should be improved or demolished. He Insurance — Ugh!

We read where auto insurance companies selling to Florida drivers have been picking up profits running as high as 24.6 per cent of their investment.

And small wonder, when you keep hearing from people that the minute they have an accident, the rate goes up—or they are dropped. What a great way to do business—for the insurance companies. Practically fool proof. Wouldn't we all like to have it that good!

An investigation by a Senate subcommittee has shown that not only are these companies earning profits higher than 80 per cent of U. S. industry but are soaking senior citizens, of which we have many in Highlands County, and minority groups in the process.

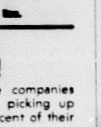

According to one study, the five biggest selling auto insurance companies in Florida have had average annual profits on investment over the past 15 years ranging from 24.6 per cent down to 10.4 per cent profit over the same period.

The committee listed the big five: State Farm Mutual, average annual profits running at 14.6 per cent; Allstate, with average annual profit of 24.6 per cent; Travelers Indemnity with average annual profits equaling 14.5 per cent on investment; U. S. Fidelity and Guarantee of Baltimore, average annual profits of 11.2 per cent; Hartford Accident and Indemnity, with average annual profits of about 10.4 per cent.

What has our state insurance commissioner done for us lately?

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

What happens to a person when he gets drunk can well be illustrated by the man who goes up too high in an airplane without the benefit of extra oxygen.

First, his judgment becomes impaired. Judgment — knowing when and why and how to do one thing rather than another in different conditions — depends on the highest brain center. This center, the most highly developed part of the human brain, is the most sensitive to lack of oxygen.

Next, the man becomes unable to govern movement of the muscles in a cooperative way. He may sway or wobble if he tries to walk. His hands may move awkwardly, and not work together as a team. His tongue and lips will stumble as he tries to talk, especially if he tries to say words he does not commonly use.

This failure of teamwork by the muscles grows more and more severe as the plane rises where there is less and less oxygen. The failure is not due to the shortage of oxygen supplied to the muscle cells. For them, there is still enough. But the brain, which directs the organized systematic actions of the muscles, is not getting enough. The brain becomes a poorer and poorer director as it gets less and less oxygen. Its efficiency is cut down.

If the plane keeps on rising, the man will finally black out — that is, he becomes unconscious. Then the most highly developed part of the brain— the part which does the directing — stops working.

Of course, if the plane continued upward, even the brain center which controls breathing quits. Then the chest muscles no longer receive the nerve signal which keeps them moving. The man stops breathing and after a few minutes of this the cells of the heart fail —and the man is dead.

This picture of what happens to a man cut off from a normal supply of oxygen exactly parallels the symptoms when a person drinks more alcohol than his body can take care of at one time.

Alcohol acts directly on the brain to disturb its ability to work. But when alcohol reaches the brain tissue, the result is similar to what happens when that tissue is deprived of oxygen.

After a certain amount of alcohol reaches the brain, the person's judgment becomes impaired. As more alcohol gets there, he becomes unable to organize the movements of different muscles in teamwork. This muscle disharmony becomes greater as additional alcohol reaches the brain. Finally, with still more alcohol, the man loses consciousness, and, if under certain conditions enough added alcohol should reach his brain after he is unconscious, he may die.

Alcoholism afflicts 180,000 Floridians. If you are one of these, or if you know someone who is, you are invited to write today for free information and literature on Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

Just mail your request to FARP's Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla., 33825.

Lunchroom Workers Offered Refresher Course

Mrs. Jean Corwin of Punta Gorda will conduct a short two-week refresher course for lunch-room workers in Hardee, Highlands, and DeSoto Counties. The class will be held at Wauchula Elementary School starting at 8:30 A.M., Monday, Aug. 19.

Those lunch-room workers in the three county area who are interested in taking this refresher course, may register at the first class meeting. For further information, feel free to contact H. Dean Griffin, Director Vocational-Technical Education at South Florida Junior College.

American Dream Or Nightmare?

Is the "American dream" about to turn into a nightmare?

When the United States constitution was adopted, the purpose of the creation of the federal government was specified in these words: "in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility . . ."

But how much domestic tranquility do we have now?

Many are afraid to walk on the streets of our cities at night.

Crime breaks out, first in one place, then in another, as if someone behind the scenes were probing for the weak spots in our internal defenses against criminals, arsonists, and killers.

Common people and political leaders alike are alarmed at the trends in our national life.

"Into a Pit"

Congressman John B. Anderson, R., Ill., has expressed genuine concern that what we are seeing is a complete rending apart of the fabric of our society—that we are descending into a pit of lawlessness and disorder.

"We have reached the point," he said, "where men are beginning to ask, 'Where will it all end?'

"It is the moral breakdown in this country that disturbs me more than anything else," the congressman continued.

In our materialistic society, it seems that not many are willing to recognize that moral and spiritual values must underlie any lasting material progress.

Spiritual Revolution

But Congressman Anderson said, "America desperately needs a spiritual revolution.

A spiritual revolution would present us with a whole new scale of values. Instead of the present permissiveness which permeates our society, we would recognize the sovereignty of God over our lives."

If this sounds strange coming from the lips of a congressman, let us remember that, in the early days of our nation, it was not uncommon for national leaders to acknowledge the sovereignty of God.

Could it be true that our trouble today is basically that, having relegated God to an inferior position, men are making decisions on a basis which essentially leaves Him out?

Could it be that decisions made on the basis of political expediency rather than on the basis of right and sound principle are at the heart of some of our most pressing problems?

Is it too late to change the course of our country?

Or will we heed the word of the Lord? "Call upon Me in the day of trouble." He invites. "I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify Me."

Will you join in prayer for our nation in this crucial time?

Letter To The Editor Commends Police

Dear Editor,

My thanks to Police Chief Gordon for his letter clarifying a statement of mine. I personally believe the department under him has been more efficient, more just and more constructive than at any other time in my 15 years of residence.

While on the subject of police however, there are some comments I'd like to make in the interest of justice and fair play. A weakness of police departments in general and condoned by the public, is the tendency to judge efficiency and grant promotions on the amount of arrests and convictions.

Fines collected combined with the draft of victims having a police record when a community needs free work done has resulted in the feeling of hopelessness on the part of many second rate citizens who might be restored to good citizenship. The draft had decreased the collection of fines is still lauded.

I would like to see a police department dedicated to the idea of crime prevention. As in military build ups, often the more a police department becomes a police "force" the more it tends to become an end in itself instead of a means to an end.

Many police activities result in an increase of crime and violence, and a desire to "get back at" the law. A recent cartoon I saw shows two new recruits in hell with the devil hovering over them while one says to the other: "To think of the sins I might have committed" (with no greater punishment). How many thousands have turned to greater crimes as a result of an unjust arrest or of getting the start of a "police record," for some minor infringment of the law, especially when many more respectable" members of the community" get away with it."

"Easy money" arrests are often made while greater crimes are passed over. Arrest of "drunks" have long been an easy money source relatively free of public criticism. For example, how often are pedestrian drinkers "picked up" and repeatedly picked up between a bar and their homes, tho they are endangering no lives but their own.

There are plenty of arrests needed for such things as "drunken driving" where the danger to others is great. However, in these cases our police need to gather more solid evidence, evidence which will stand up under the questioning of a capable defense lawyer.

The proposal to hire a lawyer to serve as city judge has merit. Under paternalistic, "papa knows best" city government a mayor can be "all things to all men." Avon Park is fortunate in having had an able dedicated "papa" thru many lean years, but a "grown up" government needs a spread of responsibility.

Of course all government can be destroyed if every "specialist" is out to see "how much he can get for how little." Yet I believe there are still individuals who seek "the good of the whole," above personal "get ahead" interests. We believe and trust we have such a person in our new city attorney. However any change positively needs to be based on a fixed salary rather than on profits from a fee system.

Avon Park city government and administration is making progress as concerned citizens let us give them our support by constructive interest and suggestions toward continued improvement.

ON CITRUS COMMITTEE

Appointment of members and alternates to serve on the Growers Administrative Committee of the Florida citrus marketing agreement and order was announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Also named were eight members and their alternates to the Shippers Advisory Committee. From Highlands County are Cole Dunlap, Jr., of Lake Placid and Charles Metcalfe of Avon Park. They will serve through July 31, 1969.

How much is a coin worth? The ones that are scarce, or different, seem to command higher prices. The same with people??

The world has some 4 billion acres of land area—good, terrible, and otherwise, or about one acre for each person.

New Zealand has a more varied scenery, than any other country of similar size, it is said.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOBE

TWO MONTHS NAMED FOR ROMANS

July was named for Julius Caesar, the man who has told millions of high school students that "Gaul, as a whole is divided in three parts, etc." When he got through with it, it was all in one piece and Rome had it. The Gauls put up a hard fight, but against Julius and his rough-neck army, they didn't have much luck. The Gauls, however, got to liking Roman rule and culture and became a firm adherent to the Empire. Their language is a bout half Latin, or so much so, that a person who knows Latin can make out much of French.

August was named for his nephew named Gauis Octavius, who, after a long war with Marcus Antonius, one of Julius Caesar's famous generals, became the first Emperor of the Roman Empire. He changed his name to Gaius Julius Caesar Octavianus. The Senate bestowed on him the title "Augustus." By naming these two months after these men, September, the ninth month became two months out of place. "Septem" means seven, but the month is really the ninth, making the year which ends with the 12th month, be called December, although "decem" means ten in Latin.

However we get along with it just the same.

Talk about being old enough to vote! On a quiz program one day last week a man who must have been at least 85 was asked "What was Reagan's occupation before he took up a political life?" He scratched his head and gave it up!

WHO HAS A RIGHT TO LIE?

Lewis Llewellyn, evidently some kind of a Welshman, wrote an article in this fine paper in the issue of August 8. He goes on and shows us that such men as Nelson Rockefeller, not only lied, but signed an affidavit that said: "I am not and will not be a candidate for the President." Attorney General, who will be fired the minute Nixon places his neatly pressed pants in Johnson's chair, according to a hot blast in Dirksen's acceptance speech, told the people that there was no evidence of conspiracy in the rioting in our major cities.

The Bible, whose reliability many still believe, said: "The Devil is a liar and the father of it." If he hadn't been an expert in that line, he would never got the job he now holds; Saint Peter swore he had no knowledge of Jesus, and, if we believe many of our Christians, is the gate-keeper of Heaven. Llewellyn closes his fine article with these words: "Liars are classed with some other unsavory characters in the list of those who are destined for the lake of fire: the fearful and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers . . . and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone."

It is exceedingly risky business to trifle with the truth. It is a risky business to trifle with the truth when your wife is cross-examining you, but when one has been married as long as I have, one learns to get by with it pretty well. One of the poets truly said: "The truth itself is not believed from one who has often deceived." That is a fact now and then, but I, being a poet myself in the real ranks, have added this: "But when experience you get, now and then you win, you bet!"

WIVES DRAW GOOD PAY SOMETIMES

Rose Mallory Rice isn't that a pretty name?! said lately in her column named "Scribbles," that there are several wives working for their husbands at the courthouse. Now and then they draw good pay, too. One of these "courthouse" wives at Bartow, in Polk County, is said to have a job with her husband that paid something around $600 per month! Living in a country where there is only one political party makes it mighty hard on the taxpayers, and I, for one, found this out in the state of Kansas, where only Republicans could get an office. Lately, the voters discovered they were asses for having only one party, and voted in a pure, simon-pure Democrat. One partyism does not pay; not by a long sea mile!

At the end of a program in the Famous Romance series, the Wedding March throbbed and faded, and MC Jimmy Wallington spoke through happy tears: "So ends another virgin."
—Saturday Evening Post.

A contestant on a quiz show in St Paul mentioned that the population of her home town remained the same for a number of years. "Every time a baby is born, someone leaves town," she explained.

A certain party remarked to his friend, "I have just finished an article in the Readers' Digest on cigarette smoking, and I have decided to give up reading the Digest.

WHEN OUR LORD WROTE IN THE DUST

We have saved the soul of the man who killed, we have turned to shrive the thief, we restored the pride of the man who lied, and we gave him our belief, but for her who fell we have fashioned hell with a faith all stern and just—it was so of old; and no man hath told what our Lord wrote in the dust.

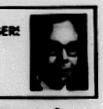

We have sighed betimes for our brothers' errors, and have bade them be of good cheer, for the flesh is weak, and the soul grown meek may yet read his title clear, but we drew away from the one astray like to the truly righteous must; she is cursed indeed—and we did not read what our Lord wrote in the dust.

For the man who thieved and who killed and lied—we have slain the woman's soul—we have worked and prayed, and have seen them made all clean and pure and whole, but we drive her out with a righteous hate at our Pharisaic trust, so the Man goes free—but we do not see what our Lord wrote in the dust.

LIVE THE DIFFERENCE!

One of the finest things I ever saw in print is in the same issue of The Saturday News. Under the heading "VIVE LA DIFFERENCE," the News printed 14 ways in which Republicans differed from Democrats. Some of them I had already noticed, but others were facts I had never discovered or heard about. The heading on the article reminds me of a story told about a party who listened to some French, who yelled right out during the sermon in church. The pastor was on the story of the creation. Among other things he mentioned that man and woman were created fairly close to the same pattern, but with a slight difference. At this point the Frenchy whooped "Viva La Difference!"

CONGRESSMAN PAUL ROGERS
FLORIDA
U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Rogers Sees Eye Bill Passed By Congress

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Paul Rogers' battle to intensify the nation's effort in the field of eye disease was culminated in the House today as the House voted to establish a National Eye Institute.

Rogers introduced a bill calling for a National Eye Institute in October of 1967 and hearings which followed pointed out that more than 90 million Americans require correction or treatment of some eye difficulty. Of these, 4.5 million have permanent uncorrectable eye defects.

"In Florida, we are lacking in statistics on the blind and partially blind. But we do know that there are 16,320 who are considered legally blind and I am sure that there are thousands more," Rogers said.

"Eye disease is a national problem, one which strikes the rich and the poor," Rogers said. "About 80 per cent of all blindness in the nation is estimated to be the result of disease whose cause or basic mechanism of action is not adequately understood.

"That means that 80 per cent of the blindness in the nation today is in an area where there is a complete lack of adequate knowledge and so no remedy," Rogers said. "And we do not catch all the cases where we do have remedies.

"A million persons are said to have undiagnosed glaucoma, one of our leading causes of blindness," Rogers said. "We must have a program that will both find these treatable cases and a plan that will establish a program of research to fight these diseases for which there is no cure now. The National Eye Institute will serve this purpose."

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW — Let's Take Time Out to Safeguard Our Assets

Wellesley Hills, Mass., August 15. With living costs at record levels and headed higher, it of us should take time out to determine where we stand and how we can best safeguard our assets.

How Much Are You Worth?

If you haven't made a recent check on the total dollar value of your personal assets, you'll probably be surprised how much they've appreciated. Even if you're in modest circumstances in our affluent society, you'll discover, in most cases, that your home is worth more than when you bought it—perhaps a good deal more. Also, that high interest and dividend payments have increased the total dollar amount of your savings and investments. And, if you own land, you'll likely find it too has gained in value.

A great many heads of families, whose salaries are in the low middle bracket — which ranges from $8,000 to $10,000— find they actually have total assets of $50,000 or more. These may include their homes, cars, savings, investments, and their equity in life insurance policies and private pension funds.

Maintenance and Protection Costs

But there is another side of the coin. Our assets are indeed worth more, but a large and growing share of the gain must be earmarked for maintenance and protection costs that will preserve the value of the real property we own. The house you bought for well under $15,000 some years ago may now have a resale value of $25,000, but it is also costing you a good deal more to maintain it and to protect your investment. Perhaps, when you bought the house, you could have had it painted at a cost of $600-$700. Today the same job might easily run to $1,100 or even $1,300.

As for fire insurance: Are you covered for full value or merely for some sum which barely protects the bank's lien in the property? In this era of rapidly rising costs, your house and furnishings should be insured for full value. And your coverage should be reviewed by you at least every three years and upgraded when necessary to keep you abreast of expanding replacement costs.

Strong Box or Safe-Deposit Box

Indeed, all your insurance— life, health, accident, auto liability, theft, fire—should be reviewed at least every three years . . . oftener if changing personal and family situations indicate new approaches. If you have children still to be educated, you may well be underinsured. If your children have left home and are on their own, could be you're overinsured.

Where should you keep your insurance papers, securities, the deed to your home, jewelry, or other items? Is a strong box at home preferable to a safe-deposit box in a bank, or vice versa? Fact is, for maximum safety and convenience, you need both. All your insurance papers, your bankbooks, and bank statements should be close at hand. So too should be your will, or a copy of it. Keep all these in a fireproof strong box at home or in your office safe. Your securities, property deeds, contracts, savings bonds, jewelry, and other valuables which could easily be converted into cash if stolen should be held in a safe-deposit box at your bank.

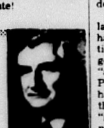

Draw Your Will—Keep It Up To Date

You'd be surprised at the number of people—many quite well-to-do—who die without having made a will. Most just never got around to it, but a good many decided not to bother because their personal and real property was held jointly with a wife or other relative or friend. They assumed that the surviving joint owner would automatically inherit, but this is contrary to law in some jurisdictions.

The smart thing is to draw your will . . . NOW . . . if you have not already done so. But first consult your banker, your investment adviser and, perhaps, a tax consultant. When you know what you have and what your death taxes are likely to be, see your lawyer. And once you've drawn the will, keep it up to date!

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Does Our President Have Too Much Power?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—At issue in the approaching presidential election campaign is a question which is sensed rather than plainly seen, and that is whether the office of the President has not accumulated an excess of power beyond anything foreseen by the original shapers of our structure of national government.

The original concept of an even distribution of power among three branches of the federal government (and for that matter, the state governments) —the executive, the legislative and the judicial—has been seriously warped in the federal sector, at least, by ambitious overstepping of jurisdictional lines.

The Congress, frankly, has been the biggest loser in this power shift, with both the Presidency and the Supreme Court intruding on the legislative branch, with what I regard as unwarranted pre-emptions of its authority.

Most obvious and most familiar to the public have been the encroachments of the Supreme Court, because it has been under the heaviest attack for its presumption of law-shaping rather than carrying out its primary concern for low interpretation. And certainly there has been substantial reason for alarm over some of the Supreme Court's manifest preemptions of legislative power for the judicial branch.

But more subtle and further reaching, if less recognized in the public mind, has been the aggrandizement of presidential, or executive, power at the expense of the legislative branch. Quite contrary to the sentimental idea that presidents are answerable to the people, the men we send to the White House enjoy a freedom from restraints on their responsibilities that is rare in the democratic world where the parliamentary system is in wider application than our republican system. There are, by the way, some sound arguments to support the superiority of the parliamentary system.

In practice, a president of the United States must answer to the people for his performance only once, after four years in office, at which time the people can throw him out if he has made a shambles of public affairs at home and abroad.

In the parliamentary system, a party is voted into power by the people and the party picks a prime minister who becomes the executive head of the government. There is none of the democratic pretense with which we put up in this country by surrendering the nominations of candidates to professionals at party conventions and the election of presidents to a mechanism as detached as the electoral college.

I am not, of course, recommending, or even suggesting, that the United States abandon its traditional tripartite government in favor of a parliamentary procedure—far from it. But I do suggest the possibility that The Congress, which is much closer to the people and hence more responsible and responsive to public sentiment, might begin in the immediate future to try to reclaim some of all the those powers it has permitted to slip away and wind up in the hands of the judicial and executive branches, where under the Constitution they do not belong.

Some observers foresee serious fragmentation of the presidential vote this year with the next president being elected by the House of Representatives from among the three candidates who won the greatest number of electoral votes.

If I sense the mood of the people of the nation, and for that matter the mood of many of my colleagues—and if I sense that mood correctly, I am of the opinion that development of such an eventuality would hasten the time when we as a people might get around to a revision of the manner in which we nominate presidents and in which we elect them.

Any change in these systems almost inevitably would give the people a greater voice in selecting the candidates for the Presidency and also in choosing between them—and I believe that it is in this direction that the nation must turn if the equal balance of power between three autonomous branches of the government is to be restored.

Joseph Morris Adams III and Bride Are Honeymooning in Bahamas

The Hollywood Methodist Chapel, in Hollywood, was the scene of the impressive wedding ceremony of Miss Joyce Anne Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Armstrong, Hollywood and Joseph Morris Adams, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Adams, Jr., of Avon Park.

The double ring service was performed at the candle lit altar decorated with pink and white flowers and Florida greenery, by Rev. Dix Askleson.

Soloist Miss Alicia Theo, sorority sister of the bride from Coral Gables, sang the "Song of Ruth" and "Oh Perfect Love." Organist was Mr. Denver Cain.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of silk organza and chantilly lace, fashioned empire style with a chantilly lace bodice, sobrina neckline and short lace sleeves. Tiny seed pearls adorned the appliques of lace on the bodice. The skirt was bordered with matching scalloped lace on the hem line. Her chapel train attached at the shoulders, was trimmed with matching appliqued lace. Her bouffant multi-tiered veil of silk illusion, was held in place by a lace and pearl petal headpiece. She carried a cascade of white carnations and ivy, centered with a white orchid and white streamers.

Miss Judy Mae Armstrong, sister of the bride from Hollywood, was maid of honor and wore a formal gown of karate, fashioned in the empire style, A-line skirt and matching train held at the shoulders with a dior bow, in candy pink. She wore a matching bouffant veil headpiece held by a dior bow. The attendants all carried colonial style nosegays of pink carnations, pink daisies and pink streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Ann Perkinson, cousin of the bride from High Point, N. C., Miss Lark Emerson Adams, sister of the groom, Avon Park, Miss Peggy Hodson, Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Geraldine Barbara Kline, Hollywood.

The all wore identical formal gowns of karate, fashioned empire style, A-line skirt, matching train of karate in two-tone candy and pink. They all wore bouffant veil headpieces held in place with a dior bow.

Junior bridesmaid, Miss Jo Ann Armstrong, sister of the bride was dressed like the bridesmaids.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue knit ensemble, re-embroidered in silver and a lavender orchid corsage for her daughters wedding.

Mrs. Morris, mother of the groom wore a street length pink silk dress and a lavender orchid corsage.

J. Morris Adams, Jr., served his son as best man.

Ushers were Robert E. Giles, Jr., Lafayette, Ga., Marian N. Jones, Ascoola, Ark., Charles S. Pitcher, Baton Rouge, La., and M. John Thompson of Tampa.

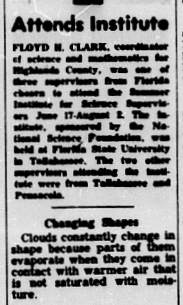

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Freeport, Bahamas, the couple will be at home at the McCallie School, Missionary Ridge, Chattanooga, Tenn. The bride is a graduate of South Broward High School in Hollywood, Stetson University, DeLand with a B.A. in English, a member of Alpha Chi Omega social sorority and will teach in the Hamilton County school system, Chattanooga, Tenn. The groom is a graduate of the McCallie School, Chattanooga, Stetson University, DeLand, has a B.S. degree in biology, a member of tri Beta, national biology honorary and will teach in the McCallie school this fall.

Reception

The reception was held at Tropical Acres, Fort Lauderdale, which was decorated in pink and white, the color scheme of the wedding. Miss Joann Plumer, Atlanta, Ga., presided at the brides' book.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Esther Scheffer, grandmother of the bride, Lancaster, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Z. Perkinson, High Point, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams, Clearwater; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Eaddy, Lake City, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher B. Emerson, Houston, Texas, and Miss Virginia H. Emerson, Houston, Texas.

Also Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Rehm, Palas Verdes Estates, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitehead, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Padgett, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carver, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. King, Mrs. Roscoe Bass, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Metcalfe and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ward, all from Avon Park.

Postmaster Young Attends Seminar

More than 250 Florida postmasters met August 12-13 for a two-day discussion of improved mail service.

Occasion was the fourth annual Postmasters Training Seminar scheduled at the University of South Florida.

The seminar was held at the specific request of postmasters, who attended on a voluntary basis at their own expense.

Among those attending was Postmaster Robert D. Young.

Seminars have already been held in North Carolina and Georgia and the last seminar is scheduled for South Carolina August 19-20. These states and Florida comprise the Atlanta Postal Region.

More than 1,500 postmasters in the four states are expected to attend the seminars, an increase of some 250 from last year. This is more than half the approximately 2,350 postmasters in the four-state region.

Regional Director Banks Gladden was the keynote speaker at the opening session.

Postmasters spent the remaining two days attending classes on a variety of subjects dealing with postal problems.

The two general topics will get major emphasis in this year's seminars—the handling of second and third class mail, and more effective training of postal clerks and supervisors.

Mr. Gladden pointed out mail volume this year is expected to reach an all time high of 84 billion pieces in the fiscal year just getting underway — an amount almost equal to the rest of the world's mail combined.

"This is a staggering amount of mail to be handled," Mr. Gladden said. "We feel these training seminars give postmasters a chance to meet together and mutually find solutions to many of their problems caused by this high mail volume. In this way, we will improve overall mail service."

C. Warrington Named To Dean's List

Chuck Warrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warrington, Sr., of 711 Park Avenue, Avon Park, was among the 799 undergraduate students out of the 1968 Spring quarter enrollment of 5,673 at the Georgia Institute of Technology to be honored for high scholastic achievement by being named to the Dean's List.

Chuck has an overall average of 3.6 out of 4.0.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee and family wish to thank all their friends and neighbors for their kind words of sympathy, cards and flowers they received at the death of Mrs. Lee's mother.

Woman's Club To Open Season With Salad Bar

Mrs. Mervin Rehrer has been busy meeting with heads of the Woman's Club, compiling the yearly program book and membership register.

The Club will open its Fall season with a salad bar, October 4 at the club house, with Mrs. J. F. Wagner head of the Home Department in charge. The club expects to have a new air conditioner in operation before the opening meetings of the clubs who use the club house for their meetings.

Dues are now payable and may be sent to Mrs. Talmage Sparks, P. O. Box 932. Mail your dues now and avoid confusion before the opening meeting.

Earl Allison In Blantyre Malawi

In a recent letter from Earl Allison, 1961 graduate of Avon Park, Mrs. G. L. Harrison learned that he has moved to the commercial capital of Blantyre, Malawi and in about three weeks will begin a complete tour/road show of the country. He will be 'selling' good health practices, singing, lecturing and singing at every government health facility and every major village of Malawi. To date Earl has written words and music of 16 songs, since being in Central Africa. Tape recordings of nine of the songs will be used on the tour, backed up with flyers and posters. He writes he is really excited about the prospects of reaching so many people.

In another part of the letter Earl wrote, "Blessed are the peacemakers; not the peace-talkers, or the peace-lovers, or peace-dreamers, but the peace-makers."

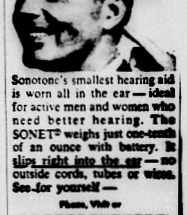

Earl's address is P. O. Box 700, Blantyre, Malawi, Central Africa.

Michael Allison, Earl's brother is a Warrant Officer in the Army. He is a helicopter pilot stationed 22 miles out of Saigon. His wife, of almost a year, is living in Ft. Myers with his parents, while she is taking courses at Edison Junior College.

Larry Allison, another brother, is in boot camp at Fort Bragg, N. C. Mike and Larry both attended school in Avon Park.

Beekeepers Meet In Lake Placid

The 12th Annual Florida Beekeepers Institute August 15, 16, and 17, will have two emphases —"Honey Products Create a Market" and "Improved Equipment Saves Time in Honey Production."

More than 200 beekeepers and industry leaders are expected for the three-day program at 4-H Camp Cloverleaf, Lake Placid, according to John D. Haynie, apiculturist, Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

The Institute opens Thursday afternoon, Aug. 15, with beekeeper's registration and judging of honey products. Miss Faye Gordon, of Avon Park, Mrs. Myra Miller of Sebring and Mrs. Betty True of Lake Placid will judge honey baked goods, honey and fruit, honey, new honey products, and beeswax candles. A gold trophy will be presented for the best honey in the show.

Bob Turner, sales manager, Lake Wales Citrus Cooperative Cannery, Lake Wales, will be the guest speaker at the Thursday night meeting. Dr. W. G. Eden, chairman of the department of entomology and nematology, University of Florida, will preside.

Phil Packard, chief apiary inspector, Florida State Department of Agriculture, will discuss field identification of bees at the Friday morning session. Dr. J. L. Nation, biological sciences professor, University of Florida, and F. A. Robinson, apiculturist, Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, will present the whys and hows of feeding bees a pollen supplement.

Apiculturist Dr. William Roberts, Louisiana State University will give information on judging and raising the queen bee.

Dr. E. W. Cake, economist, farm management, Florida Agricultural Extension Service, will discuss bee business analysis. Beekeepers will give pointers on beekeeping in North, central, and South Florida.

Beekeeping firms, exhibits, and equipment will be shown in the afternoon. A square dance, called by Ray Bailey of Tavares, will round out Friday's program.

Saturday morning J. B. Smith, Camp Cloverleaf caretaker will speak on the topic, "Beekeeping—A New Challenge." Tom Greenawalt 4-H agent, will discuss 4-H Club apiary projects.

Lester Moon, jeweler and beekeeper, of Tallahassee, will tell how bees aid the businessman. Young beekeepers will have an opportunity to compete in a hive nailing contest before the institute closes Saturday noon.

The Florida State Beekeepers Association will hold a business meeting at the institute. Ross Haynes, Dunedin, is president of the association.

The Beekeepers Institute is open to the public, and all interested beekeepers and hobbyists are welcome to attend, Haynes said.

Arson Proven in Nearly Half of Suspected Fires

TALLAHASSEE—State Treasurer-State Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams wears a third official "hat"—that of State Fire Marshal.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, the Fire Marshal's office closed a total of 814 investigations of suspicious fires at the request of local fire departments. Of this 814, 340 were proved to be arson, 74 were suspected to be arson, 163 were declared accidental, and 229 were undetermined.

These fires resulted in 36 injuries and 106 deaths, including the 36 inmates killed in the fire set by prisoners at the Jay road prison camp in July, 1967.

"Good News for Modern Man" is Best-Seller

Total Scripture distribution by the American Bible Society at the year's halfway mark topped 25 million copies, an increase of more than seven million over the same period for 1967, Edmund F. Wagner, ABS president, announced today.

Wagner also said that distribution of "Good News for Modern Man," the New Testament in Today's English Version, published less than two years ago by the ABS, has passed the 11¼ million mark.

This includes sales in the United States and overseas, in all formats, both paperback and vinyl bindings. Wagner predicted that sales of the paperback edition alone would reach the 11 million mark before mid-August.

Since publication of the TEV as the translation in everyday English is commonly called, was first announced by a simple news release in September 1966, ABS officials have been impressed by the unprecedented demand for the 35-cent paperback New Testament by people from all walks of life.

The TEV has proved popular with teachers, seminary students, ministers, chaplains, servicemen and women, businessmen and women, housewives, teen-age high school and college students, and others.

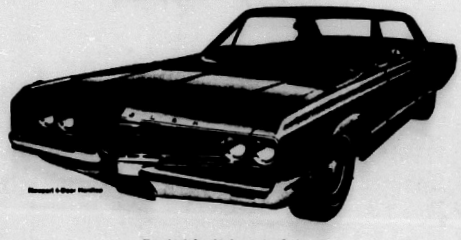

The ABS is the largest of 35 nonprofit Bible Societies devoted to translating, publishing, and distributing the Scriptures. Last year the United Bible Societies circulated over 100 million Scriptures, or enough to supply every 33rd person in the world with one copy.

Rev. Allan Stuart Speaks At Youth Activities

The Methodist young people will sponsor another annual Youth Activities Week starting this Sunday night, Aug. 18, and continuing through Friday night, Aug. 23.

All teenagers in Avon Park and surrounding areas are invited to join the Methodist youth in the week of evening activities and worship. Each evening's program will start with supper at 6:30, offer a study course at 7:15, offer a study course at 8, and close with a worship service from 8:45 until 9:30.

The inspirational speaker for the week will be Reverend Allan Stuart of Stuart. Rev. Stuart is a former pastor of Avon Park's First United Methodist Church and will not only bring the message each evening but will also lead the recreation and teach the senior high study course.

Rev. John Pickens will be the study course leader for the junior high group each evening. Both junior and senior high groups will use David H. Talley's book Honest Questions About God as a textbook for the study course.

The youth have chosen as their theme for the week—His Cause—My Purpose.

There will be a registration fee of $1.50 for the activities week to help defray the cost of the meals or 35 cents each evening.

All interested youth are invited to be at Wesley Hall of the First United Methodist Church Sunday evening at 6:30 for supper and the other activities.

REV. ALLAN STUART

Gulf-Atlantic Tops Most Other PCA's in Nation

Gulf Atlantic Production Credit Association, in competition with 458 other PCAs in the nation, ranked number one in three categories and number eight in another, according to Russell D. Willis, general manager. Robert Council of Ruskin is president.

Mr. Willis, citing figures furnished by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, said that as of December 31, 1967, the association ranked first in the following categories: members loans outstanding at $33,428,000; capital stock owned by farmers at $3,962,566; and total net worth owned by farmers at $5,549,097.

According to Mr. Willis, the association was eighth in the nation in net worth reserves at $1,586,502. A full time branch office is maintained in Sebring.

The association serves the entire Florida Citrus Belt with operating and capital investment credit on an intermediate term basis.

Summer At Camp Wingman

This week closes the series of Summer youth sessions at the Episcopal Camp just North of Avon Park, named for two former Bishops, Camp Wingmann. Attendance was 10 per cent larger this Summer and the spirit continued high throughout. The church services, studies, crafts, sports and all lake activities were deeply enjoyed by all. Meals were relished and evening programs had originality and flavor. Our Summer staff represented the best schools of Florida and beyond. Mr. Edward Johnson rounded out his second year as Summer camp director. The Rev. John L. Knapp continues as year round rector of the camp.

There is almost no letup in the schedule, as Suntand Training Center of Fort Myers comes into camp for three weeks, followed by various parish and diocesan groups, including the annual clergy conference in October. The headliner at this year's clergy conference will be the Rt. Rev. Stephen Bayne, president of the national church's executive council and general chairman of the Episcopal overseas department. He was formerly executive assistant to the Arch Bishop of Canterbury, and before that Bishop of Olympia, Washington, and before that, Episcopal Chaplain at Columbia University, N. Y.

Any person who trims himself to suit everybody will soon whittle himself down to nothing.

Money has never yet created a good artist, nurse, teacher or soldier—it is necessary, but the desire must come first.

Six Agencies Administer County

NEW YORK—How many governmental bodies are in operation in Highlands County to administer the affairs of the local population? How many by way of comparison, have other communities across the country set up for that purpose?

According to a special survey conducted by the Census Bureau, the business of government is being carried on locally with fewer agencies than in the case elsewhere—six to be exact.

The facts and figures are brought out in a 400-page report released by the Department of Commerce under the title "1967 Census of Governments." It is the first such study since 1962.

They are conducted every five years to determine what is taken in, spent and making of governmental units, to provide residents of each area with school services, water supply, police and fire protection, sanitation, health and welfare needs and the various other required services.

In Highlands County, it is shown, these functions are carried on through six governmental bodies, five of which have property-taxing power. In 1962 the number was seven.

A breakdown of the total reveals that there are three municipal governments in the county, no township governments, one independent school district, the county government and one special district.

In terms of population the number of these public agencies is below that found in most localities, the survey shows. Locally, there is one such agency for every 4,100 residents.

This compares with one for every 2,430 in other parts of the United States.

Nationally, there were 81,253 local governments in the United States at the beginning of last year, a decrease of almost 10,000 since 1962.

The change came principally in the number of school districts, which dropped from 34,678 in 1962 to 21,782 in 1967. It came chiefly from wide-spread school reorganizations and consolidations.

On the other hand, the number of special districts—those concerned with public housing, flood control, soil conservation, bridges, toll roads and the like, increased by nearly 3,000 in the five year period.

FLOOD INSURANCE

State Treasurer-Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams hailed today President Lyndon Johnson's action in signing into law the long-awaited proposal to provide flood insurance for private dwellings at a price homeowners can afford. Flood insurance was included in an omnibus bill that called for riot insurance, home ownership subsidies, and low-rent apartments.

suggested Rev. Collis Fogle, Charles Jackson and Hazel Wilson.

Council President Scott said some work on this had already been done. One hundred thirty buildings will have to be brought up to standards within the next five years as part of the agreement to build the 130 units of the Avon Park Housing Project. Mayor Doerr said pictures should be taken before and after to show the difference in the houses.

City Attorney Jack Hancock told the council the lots that Shelley Marrs intended to use had been the subject of a city condemnation suit in 1941. However records of title was never shown on the County tax rolls.

Marrs has since acquired a title and was now requesting a quit claim deed from the city. A lengthy discussion ensued but no action was taken pending further investigation.

A budget meeting will be held Thursday, 7:30 P.M.

Sales Tax Take In County Shows Boom in Economy

Florida's healthy and booming economy sent the state's sales and use tax collections near the $445 million mark last month, Comptroller Fred Dickinson Jr. announced. This was a 7.4 per cent increase over collections during the same month a year ago.

Collections in Highlands County for July of 1968 were $106,217.03 as compared to $61,760.53, in July of 1967, reflecting a considerable increase—71.98 per cent. Only part of this could be credited to the increased extra penny of tax this year. Collections in the county for June of this year were $104,043.93.

Gasoline tax collections in the state for July, 1968, totaled $14,890,830.33 as compared to $14,354,730.03 a year ago, an increase of 3.66 per cent.

Heart of Florida Scout Council In New Region

Girl Scouts of the USA has begun an unprecedented reorganization in administrative structure to serve the contemporary needs of its nearly four million girls and adults.

As a result, the Heart of Florida Girl Scout Council along with 55 other councils in the area has become part of a brand new region, whose offices officially opened at 24 Executive Park West, N.E., Atlanta, Ga., July 22.

The decision by Girl Scouts to merge and re-form its original 12 into six new regions was based on recommendations made by a top management consulting firm after an intensive, two-year study.

With establishment of six new national branch offices, Girl Scout councils throughout the country will receive a more comprehensive range of general and specialized services from experts working directly out of larger and better equipped offices in the regions.

Region III, the latest of the new national branch offices to open, is an amalgamation of former Regions V and VI. The seven thousand members in the Heart of Florida Girl Scout Council have until now been a part of former Region VI.

Reserved Seat Tickets Can Be Changed

Avon Park Red Devil football fans who now hold reserved seat tickets may exchange them for another location in the reserved seat section, starting tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 16, at the high school office. This exchange period will continue until September 1 when all remaining unclaimed reserved seat tickets will go on sale to the general public on a first-come-first-served basis.

The price of the reserved seat ticket is $3 and permits the holder to occupy a seat somewhere between the 40 yard lines on the south side of Memorial Stadium. All fans who wish to renew their tickets must do so before September 1.

Season admission tickets are also on sale now at a price of $6.50 for the five home games. This price does not include the pre-season football jamboree which will take place here September 7 with teams from Sebring, Arcadia, Wauchula and Avon Park competing two quarters each under regulation game rules.

200 Attend Rally For George Wallace

About 200 persons attended a Thursday night rally at municipal pier for presidential candidate George Wallace.

John McElhannon and Steve Kackley explained that this was an organizational meeting and announced plans for promoting the campaign in this county.

About 50 persons volunteered to serve on committees and $120 was obtained in a collection. Pledges for additional money also were obtained.

The crowd was told that out of town speakers for rallies will be contacted, persons connected with the national campaign. McElhannon left shortly after the meeting for Alabama to talk with potential rally speakers from that state.

On the steering committee in Highlands County with McElhannon and Kackley are former Sheriff E. G. "Shorty" Long, George Walker of Lake Josephine and K. E. Phillips of Avon Park.

Kackley said the group plans to open campaign headquarters in about a week on Center Street opposite First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Cool It Meals

Summer is absolute heaven for the homemaker because it's the time she can get by without cooking too often. Everyone likes cool-it-meals, and it's perfectly acceptable to have easy - does - it buffets or barbecues during warm weather.

Cold soups are marvelous and there are many delicious canned or frozen varieties that you can serve up with a minimum of fuss. I love jellied consomme and vichyssoise which I serve with little corn chips. A lot of women prepare cottage-cheese and fruit-salad dinners, but I'm of the opinion that men don't think too much of this kind of a meal after a sweltering day at the office, and I do agree with them. I need meat and fish even in the summer and I frequently prepare cold chicken, cold salmon, trout in gelee or buy sliced sturgeon or smoked salmon.

If summer is considered the light meal season, it's also the heavy thirst time. Soft drinks, punches, refreshing juices and coolers, iced tea and coffee—all make their welcome appearance.

Refreshing beverages are the warm weather way of life. Teens at home are inveterate ice-box raiders for bottles or cans of Pepsi-Cola; little fry love it and it is like a special "treat" when mother allows a soft drink instead of routine milk. Probably the first thing the tired businessman does when he gets home is run to the refrigerator for a refreshing pick-me-up. With all this ice-box activity, it's essential you have enough Pepsi-Cola iced and ready to quench the almost unquenchable thirst.

By planning quick meals, instant desserts (ice cream is the all-time favorite) and stocking a good supply of soft drinks this summertime the living can be easy—for you!

Chemical tests for intoxication were first used in the United States about 40 years ago, according to Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

FIX-IT TIP

Summer is good time to check your furnace. Clean soot from all pipes and the chimney, if possible. Check your furnace, inside and out, for rust. A hint: Leaving the pilot light on during the summer months keeps the inside of the furnace moisture-free. Check the motor, belt and pulley on forced air systems. Install clean filters. An hour's work and your furnace will be ready for another winter of service.

Alcoholism knows no geographical boundaries, any more than it is a respecter of race, wealth, age, or background, says Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

Unlike most foods, alcohol does not have to be digested before the body can use it. It is absorbed in its original form, says Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

Rotary Report

Reported by BOB GAY

"EGG ON FACE"

Ernest Kohler (himself a good egg) introduced to our club (not a group of egg-heads), another good egg in the person of John Cripe of the Florida Egg Commission; (not feeding at the public trough) which is financed by a two cent levy on each case of eggs produced. John, originally a Hoosier, takes his vacation in Hawaii "to mow lawns-grass skirts that is," and talked to our group on "What the Poultry industry means to Florida." At present there are 13 million busy little hens laying eggs for our breakfasts. Two eggs provide 3.82 grains of protein, much higher than any grain cereal or pancake breakfast and lower in calories than many.

In Florida agriculture business, Citrus rates first in dollar volume, Poultry second and eggs were cheaper last week than at any period in the last 30 years. Poultry farmers try to avoid highways in order to reduce noise and thus hold production as high as possible. Laying hens produce for approximately 13 months then are sold to slaughter houses.

Last year Florida Poultry producers were part of a 350 million dollar business raising 12 million hatching eggs for export to Spain and South America and 10 million replacement hens.

The eggs are gathered on electric carts and placed in cooling rooms, kept at 55-60 degrees to remove body heat.

A large producer in Hillsboro County starts 90,000 baby chicks every 10 days. Florida ranks 12th in poultry production and second in eggs produced per hen.

Bakeries and restaurants consumed 15 million pounds of frozen eggs, produced in Florida last year, and as John pointed out "Cold storage eggs are a thing of the past."

John showed slides illustrating the harvesting of the crop, through the processing plants to the final frozen product. These slides impressed all viewers with the extreme sanitary conditions maintained during processing. Usually the housewife who opens the egg carton has the first human contact with the egg since leaving the hen-all gathering, washing, sorting and packing having been done by machine.

About the only question left unanswered is "Which came first the chicken or the egg"

The first vessel known to have been built in North America was the Virginia, built on the Kennebec River, Maine, in 1607, or 13 years before the Pilgrims came across.

New Board Members Presented At Quarterly Meeting of Red Cross

The first quarterly meeting of the executive board of the Highlands County Chapter of the American Red Cross was held at First Bank of Lake Placid Monday night. Dr. J. Dillard Workman, chapter chairman, presented the new board members to the group.

They are Mr. W. Clarke Swanson, Jim Robinson, Mark Richardson, and Miss Gertrude Bates of Sebring, and Mrs. John Davis of Lake Placid.

Jim Hudgins, field representative, praised Mrs. Florence Peach, executive secretary for her excellent, dedicated work in Red Cross work. He reminded the chapter that 3500 chapters across the nation had come to the aid of the Highlands Chapter last year, when the chapter was almost forced to close their doors for services, because of financial difficulties.

He stated there were two and one-half million volunteers in Red Cross work and only 15,000 paid workers in the entire world. He urged the board members to accept their responsibilities, and to work as a body in unity. The national Red Cross takes care of the servicemen and women, and the local chapter takes care of their families here at home.

When Hurricane Donna ripped through the state of Florida several years ago, $19,000 was spent by National Red Cross for damages. Over 17 million dollars was spent in New Orleans as the result of a hurricane.

Highlands County is still short over $2,000 for this year's quota. If you have not had an opportunity to contribute, send your contribution to Mrs. Florence Peach, at the Red Cross office in Sebring.

TREVADORES QUARTET from Trevecca Nazarene College will perform in sacred concert at Nazarene Church, Avon Park, August 19 at 7:30 P.M. Their repertoire includes religious classics, hymns, gospel songs and spirituals. The public is welcome to help fill the church and enjoy an evening of good music.

Quartet To Sing August 19 At Nazarene Church

The Trevadores Quartet, from Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville, Tenn., will perform in sacred concert at Church of the Nazarene, Avon Park on August 19 at 7:30 P.M.

The Trevadores is a scholarship quartet which travels thousands of miles annually representing Trevecca College at youth camps, assemblies, conventions, high schools, and local churches.

The members of the scholarship quartet for 1967-68 are as follows: Mike Cowart, junior from Augusta, Ga., first tenor; Ted Hill, junior from East Liverpool, Ohio, second tenor; Richard Bowden, junior from Jacksonville, baritone; Herb McMillan, junior from Louisville, Ky., bass; and Bill Wells, senior from Gainsville, accompanist.

These singing students have a varied repertoire including religious classics, hymns, gospel songs, and spirituals. The group's appeal to young people, and those who are "young at heart," is enhanced by the 'new folk' sound which is apparent in several of their numbers. Two of these collegians are preparing for careers in Christian service. Three are musicians as well as vocalists.

Trevecca College is a four-year, liberal arts, co-educational institution and serves as the official Nazarene college for the southeastern United States.

The public is welcome to attend this service and enjoy the evening of music.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Velma) Lee of Avon Park, Mrs. Bertie Mae Eichelberger, Lakeland; two sons, Leon and Harry Sternmeyer, Jr., of Sanford and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Aug. 12 at 2 P.M. at the Gromkow Funeral Home in Sanford.

It seems that most medical reports suggest that Tobacco Road leads to a dead end.

Avon Park Lakes News

Cynthia T. Calvert — GL 34832

Mrs. B. L. Douglas and two sons, Jim and John from Ft. Worth, Texas, arrived last Monday to be the guests of her mother, Mrs. Mildred Armour for 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stotts and Mrs. Fannie Rentzke returned Thursday from a three-day trip to Miami, Ft. Lauderdale and Key West.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell McCormick and three sons were visitors last Tuesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. W. T. Haines and Mr. Haines. They were enroute to their home in Champayne, Ill., after a visit to the East coast.

We are happy to report that Victor Garay is home now recuperating after his stay in Walker Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Albert Richie returned home last Wednesday after a three-week visit in Orlando with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark.

The regular monthly pot luck dinner will be held at the club house on Thursday, Aug. 15 at 6 P.M.

Paul J. Calvert was in Sebring the past two Sundays conducting the morning services at the St. Agnes Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Winkler entertained at her home last Friday, Aug. 9 at a birthday dinner for Albert Downing, who had reached his 85th birthday. Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Joshph J. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. John Riley, Mrs. James Anderson, George Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Corwin returned last Wednesday from a two-month trip to Joliet, Wheaton, Peoria and Stewart, Ill. Their daughter from Gresham, Ore., joined them at Joliet for a visit together. Enroute home they stopped at Warsaw, Ind., and enjoyed lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Adam Weintraut.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haskins from Cape Coral were visitors last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stotts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bengel returned home last Wednesday from a two-week trip to New Jersey, where they had gone to attend the funeral of Mrs. Bengel's mother. Enroute home they visited their daughter and family in Oak Ridge, N. J., for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bue were visitors in Lake Wales last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Moore returned to the Lakes from North Carolina last Tuesday accompanied by Miss Mary Hester Lewis of Tarboro, N. C. Miss Lewis is the cousin of Mrs. Moore and will be their guest for several days. She will spend three days at Daytona Beach with Mrs. Moore before leaving for her home.

Mrs. Jack M. Calvert and son Kevin from Oviedo were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Calvert last Sunday. Little Kathy Calvert returned home with her mother after spending a week at the Lakes with her grandparents.

Victor Garay wishes to thank everyone for all the kindnesses shown him, also for all the visits made and cards sent him while he was in the hospital.

Rev. Carroll Cash and family from Tampa visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Bennett last week.

Chas. Grobelny Succumbed August 12

Charles F. Grobelny, 74, died Monday in Walker Memorial Hospital. He moved to Avon Park four years ago from Cleveland, Ohio.

He was retired from the building business and was a Catholic.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Mary Grobelny; one daughter, Mrs. Wayne Scripione, Van Nuys, Calif.; two sons, Edward and Stanley Grobelny, both Cleveland, Ohio; one brother, Ignatz Grobelny, Germany; one sister, Mrs. Agnes Ceglarz, Germany.

Funeral Mass was held Wednesday morning 8 o'clock at Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church with Father Armand Gregoire officiating. He was laid to rest in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home in charge of local arrangements.

Maude Beldham Resident Died August 6

Alice Maude Beldham, 86, died in Walker Memorial Hospital August 6. She was born in London, England and came here one year ago from Miami Beach.

She was an Episcopalian.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. D. H. Shoup of Pittsburgh, Pa., and one son, Dr. Victor E. Beldham of New Carstan, Pa.

Funeral services were held at the Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Chapel, Thursday, Aug. 8 at 10:30 A.M. with Father John Knapp officiating.

Cremation followed.

Winter Guest Club News

Elisabeth Clarke — GL. 3-8733

Shuffling

The winners in Wednesday's tournament were Chris Cabezas and Herb Shauger, with Ruth Robinson and George Ormiston the runners-up. Charles Brush and Lawrence Robinson won in consolation over Ota Gibson and Art Jordan. Twenty folks played.

On Saturday there were 24 players. Charles Feasterman and Judy Kerr won in the main event with Catherine and Sylven Baker the runners-up. Consolation winners were Tom Clarke and Chris Cabezas over Bertha Brush and Doc McAlexander.

The evenings are just perfect to play shuffleboard with mostly just a slight breeze.

Card Games

Ann Janke came in first in pinochle on Monday afternoon with a score of 714. John Nuber was second with 688.

Dances

One square of dancers were on the floor on both Monday and Friday evenings. Ruth Henry and Florence served punch and cookies, which was so refreshing to the dancers.

News Exchange

Mrs. Howard Kellogg had unexpected guests this past week. Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Noe of Cambridge, Ohio, who are long time friends of Mrs. Kelloggs, and she hadn't seen them for 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Passage are visiting the George Ormistons this past week. Mrs. Passage is their daughter. They are on their way to New York from Costa Mesa, Calif. They said the trip so far has been just beautiful all the way.

The Ralph Crockers of Conneaut, Ohio, have been visiting several horse shows lately. Their granddaughter, of whom they are very proud, has won several prizes with her horse.

Grace and Zeno Warner are returning to Avon Park sooner than they planned. They report its been too hot in Clyde, Ohio, so they are coming to Florida to cool off.

Chester and Lillian Seeger have just moved into their newly purchased home on Pine and Lake Verona Blvd. They sold their home in Hilton, N. Y., and now will reside permanently in Avon Park.

This reporter received letters from the Floyd Stevens of Allegan Michigan and from the Harold Wolcotts of Rolling Prairie, Ind., this past week. We had wished to share contents with our readers, but the letters have been misplaced. Is my face red!

The Moody Becks have sold their home in Hilliard, Ohio, and have moved to West Jefferson, Ohio.

Hood's Names Three To Board Of Directors

Hood Industries, Inc., St. Petersburg, has appointed a new director of sales and elected three new members to its board of directors, Paul M. Hood, chairman, announced.

P. Robert Hood was appointed to the new post of director of sales for Hood Industries. He had been wholesale sales manager for the company. In his new post he will be responsible for retail and wholesale and cultured products sales for Hood's.

Hood was also elected to the board of directors along with J. Robin Hood, manager of Hood's Farm, Inc. and Emmett M. Hood, III, superintendent of Hood's plant operations.

Each of the new directors has worked his way through every department in the company beginning, when they were youths, in the dairy barn and progressing through sales, plant and office work, the chairman noted. P. Robert Hood and Emmett M. Hood, III, reside in St. Petersburg, while J. Robin Hood lives in Bradenton.

Hood Industries operates two dairy products producing companies serving West Central Florida from plants in St. Petersburg and Bradenton and branch offices in Tampa, Clearwater, Auburndale, Avon Park and Venice and a dairy farm in Manatee County.

Mrs. Scruggs To Head APO Wives, Mothers

The APO Wives and Mothers club agreed to make 100 ditty bags for wounded personnel in hospitals overseas and elected new officers at a meeting held last Tuesday in First National Bank.

Mrs. Rosemary Scruggs of Avon Park was named chairman, Mrs. Barbara Wood of Sebring, secretary and Mrs. Peggy Kindrick of Avon Park treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Ruth Long, Sebring, publicity; Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, Sebring, membership and friendship; Mrs. Flo Emerson, Lake Placid, historian.

Meetings will be held once a month from now on and the next meeting will be at 7:30 P.M. September 3 in the First Federal lounge in Sebring.

Arson Proven In 348 Cases

TALLAHASSEE—State Treasurer-State Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams wears a third official "hat"—that of State Fire Marshal.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, the Fire Marshal's office closed a total of 814 investigations of suspicious fires at the request of local fire departments. Of this 814, 348 were proved to be arson, 74 were suspected to be arson, 163 were declared accidental, and 229 were undetermined.

These fires resulted in 35 injuries and 108 deaths, including the 38 inmates killed in the fire set by prisoners at the Jay road prison camp in July, 1967.

Navy Sets Date For Examinations

The Lakeland Navy Recruiting Office informs us that Vice Admiral Charles K. Duncan, Chief of Naval Personnel, has announced that the 23rd Annual National Competitive Examination for the regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) will be given on December 14, 1968.

The regular NROTC program prepares a young man for a Navy or Marine Corps Commission while he is studying at one of 53 civilian colleges. All tuition fees, uniforms, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives $50 per month subsistence allowance for not more than four years.

During the Summers between academic years, the student participates in interesting at-sea training periods as a midshipman. After successfully completing a baccalaureate level college course and all military requirements, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps.

Eligible high school seniors and graduates should submit their applications before November 15, 1968. Application forms are available from high school counselors and Navy Recruiting Stations. So see your guidance counselor or better yet, drop in at the Navy Recruiting Office located in the Federal Building in downtown Lakeland, and see your Navy Recruiting Chiefs Frank Bodin or Lou Sardo; they have all the information awaiting you on this grand opportunity.

ON CITRUS COMMITTEE

Appointment of members and alternates to serve on the Growers Administrative Committee of the Florida citrus marketing agreement and order was announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Also named were eight members and their alternates to the Shippers Advisory Committee. From Highlands County are Cole Danley, Jr., of Lake Placid and Charles Metcalfe of Avon Park. They will serve through July 31, 1969.

The Library Corner

In "Goat Song" Frank Yerby writes of ancient Greece. In 1967 Mr. Yerby published his first book, "The Foxes of Harrow." After 18 more best-selling novels, many of which have been made into movies, "Goat Song" his 20th book appears as the result of intense dedicated research in Greek history and literature.

The young hero, Aristaan is cursed and blessed by the astounding beauty which was the Hellenic ideal. Mr. Yerby writes of the splendor of ancient Greece, it's Peloponesian War, it's dynamic engery, of blossoming culture and festering decadence, of excess of cruelty and sexuality.

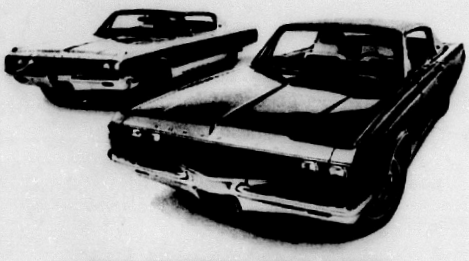

In this novel one finds the battlefield, the slave market, the tongue and the brother, the discourses of Sokrates, the brutalizing code of Sparta, and the scintillating sophistication of Athens.

Aristaan, a Spartan and partly because of it's brutal discipline, was destined to live a long and very eventful life in spite of two suicide attempts, a battle in which he would not surrender, slavery in which he was forced to become a prostitute.

Although he never became an Athenian citizen he did become powerful, a friend of Sokrates and Euripides, and the embodiment of all that was finest in the Athenian Spirit.

SUPERPLUG

Every hour, every day, every week of the year your electric service is on the job, ready to do what you want it to.

It's the energy of progress—the strong, silent stuff that makes light of any work.

Behind it are your friends and neighbors, the people of your investor-owned electric light and power company.

They aren't supermen. But they have kept electricity plentiful, dependable, low in price. Now every plug is a "superplug."

CAT WALK in Vladivostok, U.S.S.R., gets a wide berth from pedestrians who stare in disbelief as Maritsa and Walter Zapashy stroll with the family pet, a sociable tiger named "Typhoon."

MORMON MISSIONARIES stand on Hill Cumorah near Palmyra, N.Y., scene of the annual religious pageant in which they portray soldiers in General Moroni's army. The spectacle depicts the rise and fall of a pre-Christian civilization in America.

VOLUME XLIV NUMBER 43 — AVON PARK, FLORIDA 33825 — THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1968 — GL 3-4351 — GL 3-4355 — 10c PER COPY

School of Alcohol Studies Set Sept. 15-18

Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program's annual School of Alcohol Studies will hold its Central Florida session September 15-18 at Lake Byrd Lodge just north of Avon Park, it has been announced by S. George Clarke, FARP Community Services director.

Enrollment is open to both professionals and laymen in the field of alcoholism. In fact, anyone interested in the field of alcoholism treatment and prevention is welcome to attend, Clarke said.

Applications for enrollment in the Central Florida School must be received by FARP's Community Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla. 33825, no later than August 30.

As in previous years the 1968 session will consist of limited lectures, general group discussions, and six workshops which will constitute the major thrust of the School's educational program. Workshops will be held in the areas of law enforcement, employment, treatment, education, religion, and community action.

Counties involved in the Central Florida School are Brevard, DeSoto, Glades, Hardee, Highlands, Indian River, Lake, Pinellas, Sarasota, Marion, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Polk, Seminole, Sumter, Charlotte, Citrus, Collier, Hillsborough, Hernando, Lee, Levy, Manatee, and Pasco.

Two other Schools were also scheduled for 1968. The South Florida School was held at Boca Raton August 4-7, and the North Florida School is scheduled for Camp Weed near St. Teresa Beach October, 6-9.

Clarke says he anticipates enrollment at the two remaining Schools to total between 60 and 72 participants from all major areas of concern with the problems of alcoholism.

Highlands County Tax Levy Increased To 13.445 Mills

The 1968 county-wide tax levy in Highlands County will be 13.445 mills which is 1.795 mills higher than the 1967 levy.

The levy became official this week when Highlands County commissioners certified to the tax collector the millages from four taxing agencies—the county commissioners, school board, hospital district and Central and Southern Florida Flood Control.

Of the four, only the hospital district was able to hold the line on 1968 taxes. The district, which provides funds for Highlands General Hospital, received a 15 per cent millage boost last year, but this year the board has requested continuation of the .65 mill levy of 1967.

Largest jump is recorded by the Highlands County school board which is going from 6.5 mills to 8 mills to provide a pay-as-you-go school construction fund.

The county commissioners went up .295 mills to 4.795, with the increase concentrated in the general fund to provide new services set up by state law including motor vehicle and civil defense.

Central and Southern Florida Flood Control district does not include the whole county. Virtually all the southern part of the county is in the district, much of the Sebring area and a part of Avon Park. For those areas included in the flood control district millage is up from .33 to .41 mills for 1968.

For those areas in flood control the 1968 tax bill will be based on a 13.855 levy.

An old school construction bond, instituted before homestead exemption, is in its final year in Avon Park. This levy of 15 against all property puts the Avon Park levy at 14.095, the highest in Highlands County. Since this levy is charged without regard for homestead exemption, many tax bills are very small, under a dollar.

The county's taxing agencies prepare budgets and establish tax levies independently, but all must be submitted to the state comptroller's office for review and approval.

Clerk Earl Rich announced at Tuesday's county commission meeting that the comptroller had given approval to the Highlands County agencies' budgets and levies. The commissioners then must certify millages to the tax collector and that the collector's office goes to work to get the tax bills mailed.

The county collector's office begins receiving payment of 1968 taxes on November 1.

In addition to the millages certified by the county commissioners some property owners band together and voluntarily form a tax district and request collection—by the county—of assessments they work out to provide specific services for that given area.

This is the method used to raise funds for watershed projects within the county. The Avon Park Lakes subdivision, which had collected a road building fund in this way, has now disbanded as a tax district and this year property owners in that subdivision will receive smaller tax bills.

New School For Avon Park If Certificates Are Validated

Construction can start on the first phases of the new high schools for Sebring and Avon Park if $1,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness are validated and confirmed here September 13.

The Board of Public Instruction, on July 29, approved a resolution pledging racetrack monies they expect to get from state horse race and jai alai funds.

Authority to use these funds was given in a 1965 referendum by people of Highlands County.

This past week, the school board filed suit in circuit court leading to validation. Named as defendants are the State of Florida, taxpayers and property owners and citizens in Highlands County.

The suit will be heard at 10 A.M. September 12, before Judge J. H. Willson.

Superintendent of Schools George Douglass said money for sites for the two schools already is available and if the certificates of indebtedness are approved, it will provide money for the first phases of construction of the badly needed new schools.

He emphasized that the $1,000,000 will not cover all the new building needed at the schools. But it "will be a start in the direction to answer the shortage in facilities."

It also was emphasized that neither the board nor county will be required to levy taxes on any real property to pay principal or interest and that the certificates will not constitute a lien against any real property in the county.

The certificates are set up to pay interest not exceeding six per cent annually and will mature in 20 years. $25,000 will be due the first year, $30,000 for the next three years, $35,000 the next two, $40,000 the next, $45,000 the next, and on up to $80,000 the last two years.

TWO GET SCHOLARSHIPS to South Florida Junior College. Wil Beumel, president of the Avon Park Kiwanis Club and member of the SFJC staff presents Pam Maness and Stanley Spurlock each with a scholarship. Looking on is Gordon Eisenman. Giving scholarships is an annual project of the Kiwanis Club.

A Million Spent For Cigarettes In County

The campaign against cigaret smoking, which has taken on a new intensity in recent weeks, brings up the question of cigaret consumption in Highlands County, which averages between four and five packs a week for adult smokers here.

How much are local residents smoking these days compared with people in other communities? What effect have previous health warnings had on their smoking habits?

Judging from the latest figures on cigaret sales in the area, there has been no apparent cutback. The average user is smoking just about as much as he did in previous years.

He has paid little or no heed to the warning issued by the U. S. Surgeon General in 1964 linking cigaret smoking with lung cancer and other ailments.

Nor has the caution "cigaret smoking may be hazardous to your health," which is printed on each pack of cigarets, made any noticeable difference.

The net result is that Highlands County residents smoked some 2,293,000 packs of cigarets in the past year, according to breakdown of regional statistics, released by the tobacco industry.

This was equivalent to 212 packs a year for every local resident over the age of 18.

It was greater than in some portions of the country and less than in others. The average for this age group, nationally, was 215 packs. In the South Atlantic States it was 220 packs.

Now the Public Health Service has come out with a new warning. For the first time it has stated that there is a cause-and-effect connection between cigaret smoking and heart disease.

Specifically, it declares that the average young smoker in the 25 to 35 age bracket faces a shortening of his life by about eight years if he smokes more than two packs a day. Even the light smoker can expect a reduction of his life expectancy, it finds.

Smoking is becoming a more costly habit in another way, too. Because of tax boosts in many parts of the country, the price of a pack of cigarets has been mounting.

In Highlands County, last year, an estimated $1,054,800 was spent by local residents for cigarets. It was at the rate of $88 per smoker.

Two New Firms Become Chamber Members

Announcement was made this week that two new firms have joined the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce. Challiers Standard Service Station, 401 W. Main St. and Critchfield Marine, Inc., located at the Avon Park Airport have become the latest to join the efforts of the Chamber in making Avon Park a better community for business and families.

Every citizen and visitor is invited into the Chamber of Commerce office to make use of the many and varied services of the Chamber. There are approximately 125 brochures available for distribution.

Booklets covering Florida Fresh Water Fishing and Hunting Regulations, Florida Events for each month, Florida State Parks, and many others are available in addition to brochures on attractions and cities throughout the state.

On sale at the Chamber office are Avon Park Auto Booster Tags, Avon Park stickers, The History of Avon Park, and Chamber Membership.

Gary Roberts Promoted To 2nd Lieutenant

Major General Henry W. McMillan, the Adjutant General of Florida, announced today the appointment of Gary Roland Roberts as a 2nd Lieutenant in Btry B 2d Bn 116th Arty following graduation from the Florida National Guard Officers Candidate School at Camp Blanding on August 18, 1968.

Fifty-three candidates were commissioned following commencement exercise at Camp Blanding this year. The graduation exercise drew a large attendance, among them were national, state, county, local officials, and senior officers of the Florida National Guard and members of the Adjutant General's staff, along with the families and wives of the candidates. Also on hand was the COMFAIR Band from Jacksonville Naval Air Station, playing selected numbers for the occasion.

Major General Henry W. McMillan, the Adjutant General of Florida, delivered the commencement address.

Lt. Roberts was formerly with the Avon Park Correctional Institute as a correctional officer. He is married to the former Carol Ann Thomas of Wauchula, who now resides in Avon Park.

SALES TAX

Total retail sales in Highlands County for July were $3,746,861.44 with $2,172,075.53 taxable and a total of $3,449.08 paid.

Are You Still Registered To Vote, Check

Are you sure you are still registered to vote?

If you don't vote regularly or if you have moved within the county during the past year, your name may have been removed from the voter registration books without your being aware of it.

Supervisor of Elections R. X. Droit estimates that there "may be more than 1,000 people in Highlands County who think they are registered but are not."

The reason, explains Droit, is that all county supervisors of elections purge their registration rolls every two years to get rid of the "deadwood."

The supervisors conduct their purge either by mailing cards to voters who have not voted in the last two years or by mailing cards to everyone on their books.

So if you didn't return such a purge card when they were mailed last October your name automatically was stricken from the rolls.

"I urge all voters who aren't sure of their registration status to check with our office right away to make sure they are still on the books," said Droit, "especially if you haven't voted in the past two years or recently moved to a new address in the county.

"Otherwise, you may be in for a rude surprise when you go to the polls on November 5 to vote for President. The books close October 5."

Renew August Driver License By August 31

All driver's license due in August, must be renewed by August 31, to avoid penalty.

Since August 31 is a non-working day and the court house will be closed, renewals may be made at the Ted Ward Real Estate Office, which will remain open for the day.

Due to a change in the series of licenses, time will not be extended into September, because of the non-working day August 31 falling on Saturday.

Bear Captured by Game Officers After Destroying Beehives

Robert Davis Tuesday was busy salvaging the wreckage of his beehives on Carter Creek Road and the 180-pound black bear that did the damage was sleeping it off somewhere in a game protected area.

David Austin, wildlife biologist in this area, said the honey-loving bear was captured without any problems Tuesday after it ate honey and honeycomb treated with alpha chloralose, which put him promptly to sleep.

But before getting the treated honey, the bear had whetted a bear-sized sweet tooth, knocking hives and bees every which way. This brought the wildlife men to the rescue—and they made it easy by laying out a big spread of honey — treated honey.

Wildlife officer Eddie Wheeler found the bear about 200 yards from the hives in the swamp on the cool banks of Carter Creek shortly after dawn Tuesday, sound asleep. Still asleep, it was loaded into a truck and taken far away from the honey.

Working with Austin and Wheeler on the bear project were Richard McClellan, game manager, and Herschel Haywood.

Red Devils Preparing For Opening Game with Lake Wales

The Red Devil football team is hard at practice under head coach Joe Franza and his staff at Memorial Field twice each day preparing for the opening game against Lake Wales on September 20 in Lake Wales.

Last week and this week all candidates for varsity and junior varsity squads have practiced together with around 45 boys out taking part in the basic conditioning drills. Next week the two squads will be divided and the varsity will continue working with Franza, back coach Ralph Hill and line coach Larry Pickett. The jayvee squad will be under the direction of new head coach Paul Roberts assisted by DeWayne Lemler. The junior high football boys will have a new coach also when they start practice. Howard McGlennon will take over the youngest Red Devil team and will also coach the "B" squad basketball team this winter.

The first test for the Red Devil varsity will come early this season when they participate in the newly organized "jamboree" on September 7 here at Memorial Stadium along with Sebring, Arcadia, and Wauchula. Each team will play two 12 minute quarters with a different opponent each quarter. Tickets are now on sale for the four-team practice game and advance tickets are cheaper than tickets will be at the gate. Advance ticket price is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students while gate prices will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

The remainder of the Red Devil's schedule this season: Sept. 27, Mulberry, home; Oct. 4, Ft. Meade, away; Oct. 11, Haines City, away; Oct. 18, Wauchula, away; Oct. 25, Clearwater Central Catholic, away; Nov. 1, Arcadia, home; Nov. 8, open; Nov. 15, Okeechobee, home; Nov. 22, Lake Placid, home and Nov. 27, Sebring, home.

Pre-Sentence Investigation Ordered

A pre-sentence investigation has been ordered on William Hunt, 57-year-old Avon Park, route 1, man who has pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree murder.

Hunt was arrested May 25 following the death of Cecil Maylor at a trailer in the Lacey Hill section of Avon Park. He waived preliminary hearing and was ordered held without bond pending action in Circuit Court.

On July 27 the State Attorney's office filed an information charging Hunt with second degree murder.

Jack Rancock is defense counsel for Hunt.

STATE FUNDS

TALLAHASSEE — Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., today announced the release of $6,543,872 in state funds to Florida's 27 District Board of Trustees of Junior Colleges. Highlands County received $17,200 as compared to $10,093 last year.

Reserved Seat Tickets On Sale

Reserved seat and season tickets for the five home Avon Park football games against Mulberry, Arcadia, Okeechobee, Lake Placid, and Sebring are still on sale at the high school office.

Until September 1, only fans who held reserved seat tickets may exchange them for another location but after the first, the remainder of the tickets go on sale at $3 per ticket to the general public.

Season tickets are available at the high school office and places of business in town at the price of $6.50 per ticket. This admits the holder to all regular scheduled home games and gives the athletic department some advanced funds to operate with until the season gets underway.

Fans are urged to go ahead and get season tickets for what looks like a promising season for the Red Devils.

FLORIDA BLACK BEAR caught by the game commission Tuesday at Carter Creek. Beekeepers had been complaining for several months about bears destroying their beehives and attempts to trap the bear had failed until Tuesday when Game Biologist, Dave Austin with the help of Game Supervisor Richard McClelland and Hershell Haywood baited some honey with drugs and this 170 pound bear got his share. The bear will be released in another area where there are no beehives. Shown here, (l. to r.) Major Tom Weeks, commander of the Avon Park Bombing Range, McClelland and Haywood.

The Shocking Voting Record

Highlands County does a little bit better than the rest of Florida in trotting to the polls on election days, but still many of us do not exercise this wonderful privilege of the franchise.

Secretary of State Tom Adams, decrying this voter apathy, has issued a challenge to the state's civic and fraternal organizations to join with him in a statewide campaign to remedy things. He is heading up an intensive six-week voter registration drive beginning August 26. He'll call the campaign V. O. T. E. and it will be coordinated with the Southern Political Education Action Committee—a non-profit, non-partisan tax-exempt foundation whose purpose is to encourage voter education and voter participation. The letters of VOTE stand for Voter Orientation Training and Education.

The drive was prompted, he said, by the fact that the voter turnout in the May primary elections was the lowest in history. Only 44 per cent of registered Democrats and 41 per cent of registered Republicans went to the polls.

In Highlands County about 60 per cent of the registered voters cast votes in the primary, 65 per cent in the runoff. "A shame," said Supervisor of Elections Roland X. Droit. Downright, disgraceful, we think, even though we're above average.

Adams pointed out that as a result of the sad voter turnout, the Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate was chosen by only 12 per cent of the eligible voters and the Republican nominee by only six per cent.

"This display of voter apathy is shocking," said Adams. "And it is ironic, especially in these days when it seems to be so fashionable to express political conviction with a bullet instead of a ballot."

Many people, Adams pointed out, who complain the loudest about assaults on law and order are the very ones who fail to support the lawful way of bringing about changes—by voting in a free election. Adams estimated that 750,000 citizens in Florida are eligible to vote but have not bothered to register. "Our goal is to register at least 200,000 of these people as new voters," he said.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Forbid Voluntary Prayer in Schools

In a column published six or eight weeks ago, I said:

"We have a Supreme Court which has ruled that it is unlawful for a child to pray voluntarily, thanking the Lord for his food, when he is about to eat lunch in a public school."

A North Carolina reader objected to this statement, saying, "The U. S. Supreme Court has never made any such ruling."

I do not blame the gentleman for considering it incredible that the Supreme Court would forbid children to pray voluntarily before eating in school.

The Constitution provides, in the First Amendment, that "congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Congress has made no such law. But there are many who believe that the Supreme Court has, by some of its decisions, prohibited the free exercise of religion.

Has Prescribed Prayer

In 1962, the high court ruled that prayers prescribed by state authorities to be used in public schools were unconstitutional. Nothing was said at that time about voluntary prayers.

However, in 1965 the issue of voluntary prayer was decided—and again those who believe in the free exercise of religion, as practised in this country for over a century and a half, lost in the courts.

Here are the facts in the case:

A group of parents of school children in Queens, N. Y., asked local school authorities to permit their children voluntarily to say a prayer before eating, when they were served milk and crackers or cookies during classroom periods.

The school officials would not permit the voluntary prayers, so the parents—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, and Armenian Apostolic faiths being represented—took the case to a Federal District Court. The court decided in favor of the parents.

The school authorities appealed the case to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Ban Voluntary Prayer

The appeals court decision declared that the school authorities had "acted well within their powers in concluding that (these parents) must content themselves with having their children say these prayers before nave or after three"—that is, not during school hours.

When the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, the court refused to hear it, thus in effect ruling that the appeals court decision must stand and the children must be denied their right to pray voluntarily in school.

Two familiar prayers were proposed by the parents of the children involved in this case.

One prayer says, "God is great, God is good, and we thank Him for our food. Amen."

The other is in the form of a brief verse:

"Thank You for the world so sweet,
Thank You for the food we eat,
Thank You for the birds that sing,
Thank You, God, for everything."

What do you think about this?

DABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Inflation Cost Us Each About $1,000

Big Government Is Expensive

Wellesley Hills, Mass., August 22. More than $100 billion has been added to the cost of living in the U.S. since 1961 as a result of inflation. Other tens of billions of dollars have gone down the drain as the buying power of the money we have invested in savings, life insurance reserves, pension funds, and securities has shrunk. Actually, during the past seven years, inflation has cost each of us almost $1,000.

Uncle Sam: Spendthrift

To be sure, wages and prices have upspiraled with alarming speed as management and labor have placed a dizzying game of "got you last," as each has made vain efforts to gain in a race that everyone is losing. But the real culprit is Uncle Sam himself, whose liberal and indiscriminate spending has been the greatest single factor in the decline of the purchasing power of our dollar.

Not only has Uncle Sam been spending our money with great abandon; he has also been spending far in excess of tax returns, thus plating a heavy burden of debt on our children and grandchildren. Since 1960, the national debt has ballooned from $290 billion to $350 billion . . . a boost of more than 20%, and the interest has jumped from $9.2 billion a year to $14.4 billion . . . a boost of 56%!

One-Man Fact Finder

Truth is, the federal government has so many spending programs in operation that no one knows their exact number. Nor do officials in Washington know precisely which agencies are spending how much at any given time. Rep. William V. Roth of Delaware was unable to get definite answers about government spending during an eight-month statistical study of such programs.

For example, his queries to the Office of Education drew a reply that that agency was operating 53 spending programs. But the Office of Economic Opportunity told him there were 52 such federal education programs. Then he discovered an Office of Education pamphlet listing 111 programs. His study disclosed a total of 120! Concerned by the tremendous probability of overlap and irked because Congress is not keeping pace with government spending as is required by law, the Congressman has introduced legislation calling for annual listing of all federal spending programs and monthly updating of pertinent figures respecting them.

Government Competing With Business

If Rep. Roth's bill becomes law, Congress will be better able to judge the need for new programs and in better position to rout out duplication of services. But there is another aspect of the government spending picture also urgently in need of investigation. That is the extent to which government agencies are competing with private enterprise. Presently, Uncle Sam operates commissaries, post exchanges, book stores, barber shops, and even gas stations. Being tax-free, these compete unfairly with regular business operations of similar nature in their respective localities.

Back in 1955, the Hoover Commission on Government Operations pointed to 985 business areas where the federal government provided goods or services readily available from private enterprise. The late President, who headed the commission, was widely applauded when its report was made. Its findings were welcomed by business and taxpayers, but in the main Congress neglected to follow through.

Action Depends On You

Size and prestige too often beget carelessness. Without doubt Uncle Sam is wasting our money on overlapping or unnecessary projects and is providing goods and services which could be furnished more cheaply by private enterprise. Probability is that the ensuing annual cost to taxpayers reaches into hundreds of millions of dollars in money spent and tax revenues lost.

Mental Health Sessions Set For August 27

ORLANDO — The Florida Bankers Educational Foundation (FBEF) offers scholarship-loans to Florida resident students interested in a banking career. The Foundation is financed by contributions from commercial banks in the state. The purpose of the loan fund is to assist Florida students entering their junior year who plan to major in finance and who need financial aid.

Upon the recommendation of the Dean at his university, a student may apply for a scholarship loan for his last two years of college. Amounts granted range from $200 per school term to a maximum of $1,200. If a student enters banking in Florida, the total amount of the scholarship loan is forgiven after one year of service in Florida banking.

Should the graduate choose another career his loan becomes repayable six months after graduation at $25 per month; however, the loan accrues no interest until six months after graduation.

A student who enters graduate school or the enlisted ranks of the Armed Forces is exempt from the repayment terms of his loan until he finishes his schooling or serves his military obligation.

REP. JAMES A. HALEY

Without Committees the Congress Would Bog Down

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A few weeks ago, in one of these reports to you, I discussed the importance to The Congress of the committee process of dealing with legislation, pointing out that without the use of these specialized groups, the national legislature would be confronted with a mountain of details with which it could not possibly cope.

In that report, I used the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, of which I am a member and subcommittee chairman, as an example of the broad scope of duties falling to the lot of just one committee.

I mentioned then that I am one of the Members of the House on whom has been conferred the responsibilities of membership on two committees, and it occurs to me that I should tell you something about the work of my other assignment—Veterans' Affairs. On this committee, incidentally, I am the second ranking member behind the chairman, and chairman of its important Subcommittee on Hospitals.

The jurisdiction of the Veterans' Affairs Committee is rather simply stated—it handles all legislation relating to matters concerning veterans of military service, whether in wartime or peacetime, whether those matters concern compensation or pension, education and training, including rehabilitation, housing matters, the vast insurance program, and, recently added, the national cemeteries formerly under the jurisdiction of the House Interior Committee.

But while this statement of functions is relatively simple, it covers a vast field of operations. This is evidenced by the fact that there are today some 25.8 million living veterans, that family members of living veterans total some 63.2 million, and that there are 3.3 million survivors of deceased veterans. Thus 92.3 million, or 47 per cent of the total national population, are potential recipients of veterans' benefits and services provided under legislation falling within the jurisdiction of the Veterans' Affairs Committee.

I might add as one further note that the budget of the Veterans' Administration runs to about $7 billion annually. Appropriation of these funds is handled by the congressional appropriations committees, but before appropriations committees can act, the Veterans' Affairs Committee must first consider and authorize the purposes for which the funds are to be made available.

These figures speak for themselves about the scope of the committee. But I would like to mention that the Hospitals Subcommittee, which I head, is responsible for replacement, relocation and modernization of our medical and related facilities—a program which has been funded, with this year's appropriation, to a total of $632 million, with another six years to go on a vast 15-year program.

Incidentally to this, I might mention that when I first came to the Congress and was assigned to the Veterans' Affairs Committee, there were only 1,353 veterans hospital beds and three VA hospitals in Florida. There are now authorized 3,501 beds and five hospitals and a nursing care facility, all of which are in operation (at Gainesville, Bay Pines, Lake City, Miami and Miami-Coral Gables) except a 720-bed new hospital at Tampa, for which ground will be broken this month. I do not cite this as a personal accomplishment, but I do believe that the cause of the veterans in Florida has been helped by my seniority on this committee and the chairmanship of the Hospitals Subcommittee.

I may add to this that it is rare indeed that a Congressional season goes by without some legislation being enacted to improve the lot of the veterans and their dependents and survivors. The session which is now in recess has been no exception.

As one example, just before the Congress recessed for a month to make way for the national political conventions, the Congress cleared an important bill providing for compensation increases for service-connected disabled veterans.

Under the bill an eight per cent increase in compensation to service-connected disabled veterans is provided, except for those who are 100 per cent disabled. These will receive a flat increase of $100 per month. The bill, which is effective January 1, will affect 1,951,000 veterans immediately, with the number increasing slightly in each succeeding year.

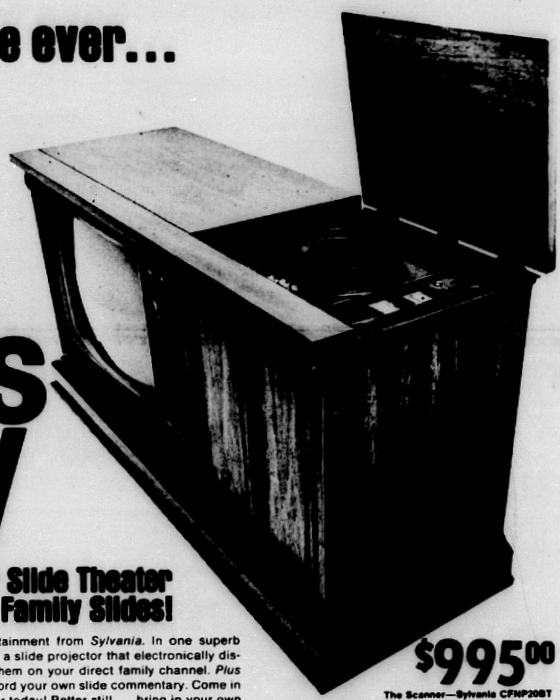

The bill also authorizes the Veterans Administration to furnish invalid lifts, or any type of therapeutic or rehabilitation device, as well as other medical equipment and supplies to veterans receiving compensation payments as a result of certain anatomical losses specified by law but not covered by standard disability compensation schedules.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I am glad to have the opportunity to comment on two of the proposed city charter changes, namely an elected city judge and prosecutor.

I don't wish to influence you one way or the other, only to bring out some of the problems involved.

I understand the above proposals came from some mayor's court decisions. I do not attempt to evaluate the decisions. I do know however that most court decisions are critized by some one all the way to the supreme court of the United States.

I suspect there will always be criticism. Many people do not agree with each other. It could be they don't see alike or it could be their personal interest.

There are many problems coming before a mayor's court. One of the problems that stands out is that most of the cases are drunks, fighting and etc. Most of these are poor family people that do not have money for fines after getting drunk.

If they are sent to jail they have to be fed and clothed and in most cases their family must be taken care of by some form of charity.

I believe you should consider who would be best to make decisions, the elected judge or the mayor.

Another thought—do we have enough lawyers in Avon Park that would be interested in either as a city judge or prosecutor?

I believe we have three lawyers in Avon Park. It would require from $5,000 expenses to pay salaries to man the offices. Would you be willing to be taxed for this?

The mayor can send to county court any case he does not feel he is qualified to try.

I will consider thoroughly before voting on the above two amendments, won't you?

— Clarence King

Tag Will Tell When Car Must Be Inspected

TALLAHASSEE — A system of "license tag roulette" will determine when a car is to be inspected under the new statewide motor vehicle inspection program which begins in June the Florida Highway Patrol said today.

"The month in which your car will be due for inspection depends upon the last digit of your new 1969-69 license tag, except in Dade County where present inspection schedules will be followed," said Colonel H. N. Kirkman, Director of the Department of Public Safety.

Vehicles bearing license plates which end with the number 4 or 5 must be inspected during the month of June.

Paul Church Badly Hurt In Auto Crash

Paul Church, 17, son of County Welfare Director Anna Dee Church Catanzaro, remained in critical condition in Lakeland General Hospital today following an automobile accident early Friday on the old Dehoty City Road.

Florida Highway Patrolman F. D. Williams said the 1967 Opel, driven by Ronald Noble, 21, at 12:20 A.M. Friday failed to make a curve at high speed 4.3 miles South of Sebring. The car ran onto the right shoulder for 117 feet, slid sideways, struck a telephone pole, ran 45 more feet and came to rest on its top off the road.

Rev. Charles Noble, father of Ronald, said his son was driving the car with permission and was testing a new auto stabilizing device and was to have demonstrated it at the Farm Bureau safety meeting and fish fry Friday at the Airpark.

The Church boy, riding in the front seat with Noble, was knocked unconscious and has only partially regained consciousness. He was taken to Lakeland Saturday. He underwent surgery Monday and is still in the intensive care unit there.

Noble received face and neck lacerations. Thomas Noble, 16, riding in the back seat, was uninjured. The Nobles were treated at Highlands General Hospital and released. Ronald Noble was charged with failure to use due care. Damage to the car was estimted at $1,200.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Catanzaro have been in Lakeland since Paul was taken there and his brother, M/Sgt. John Church, was flown here from Germany.

Crater Lake, Oregon, is classed as the deepest small lake in North America—average, 2,000 feet, and often 1,200 feet deep only 200 feet from shore.

Lena Suggs Tours Finland And Poland

Mrs. Lena Suggs has returned to Avon Park after a rewarding study tour of Finland, Union of Socialist Republic and Poland. In addition she did sightseeing in Stockholm, Sweden; Vienna, Austria; Munich, Germany; and Bratislava, Czechoslovakia.

Mrs. Suggs states that European travel was much hampered by a very rainy summer; however, the 50 adventurous Americans who made this trip, let nothing interfere with daily excursions to places of interest that would extend their knowledge of culture of mankind, in the Baltic countries. Sometimes they would stand in the rain, for explanations and descriptions of some outdoor work of art. So great the interest that time for eating (very good food) was often begrudged.

Contacts with the people (particularly students and teachers) were made possible by visits with them at Pioneer Camps, Sport Camps, Komsomol groups and with Youth groups, which came to the hotels at night for get-togethers. The Soviet people seemed to like the American people and extended, as they do to all visitors, a warm and friendly reception to the group. They didn't even mind 50 people crowding into their already comfortably-filled city buses or trams to push and pack them also. Invariably, some one would insist on women being seated.

Despite the rains and some noticeable gaps in her picture story, Mrs. Suggs was able to get some interesting slides of the trip. She will be glad to share these with any group as well as her impressions and knowledge gained. She will be happy to answer questions by any interested persons.

Perhaps the most unusual aspect of her trip, was the loss of her travel wallet (later recovered and returned by the Soviet officials) containing all her important papers, money, etc. Avon Citrus Bank came speedily to her rescue by replacing her traveler's checks. The group, particularly Dr. Phillips A.T.A. director and Michael the Chief Soviet guide, never let her worry about the loss. All official papers had been replaced before the wallet was found.

Never, at any time did Mrs. Suggs encounter difficulty in freedom of movement by Soviet Officials.

She is to write an article on "What it is Like to Travel through the Soviet Union without a Passport, Visa and Money."

—o—

Mrs. Suggs' article in English Journal, March 1961, used in a text book.

She conducted an experiment in the field of English in the Avon Park High School in 1960. She was quite gratified that the usefulness of the work is still recognized as stated in a letter she received June 17, 1968, where in she received a stated sum of money from Allyn and Bacon Company, as her share of a permission fee for the use of her article "Structural Grammar versus Traditional Grammar," which appeared in the March 1961 issue of the English Journal. The article was used in Professor Walter T. Petty's text book Issues and Problems in the Elementary Language Arts: A Book of Readings.

Gayle Reade - Randolph Earnest Speak Wedding Vows Saturday

Miss Gayle Gibson Reade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gibson Reade of Sun Ray Addition became the bride of Randolph Cress Earnest, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gifford Earnest, Jr., Alexandria, Va., in a wedding ceremony performed Saturday, Aug. 17, in the Holy Trinity Chapel in Pensacola, at 4:30 P.M. The single ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain Johnson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of peau de soie and lace, long pointed sleeves, chapel train attached to the shoulders and lace mantilla. She carried a cascade of stephanotis, centered with a white orchid which she wore on her wedding trip.

The altar of the church was decorated with floral arrangements and Florida greenery.

Miss Susan Fischer of Norfolk, Va., attended the bride as maid of honor and wore a floor length gown of pink satin and chiffon, fashioned with a short train. She wore a headpiece of flowers and carried a colonial bouquet of deep pink carnations. Miss Elizabeth Terrel Earnest, sister of the bridegroom from Alexandria, Va., was the bridesmaid. Her gown matched the maid of honor and she carried a colonial bouquet of light pink carnations.

Mother of the bride chose a street length dress of mint green silk with matching jacket for her daughter's wedding and wore a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother wore a street length pale blue silk coat dress and a corsage of cymidium orchids.

For traveling the bride wore a brown suit with white trim and brown accessories.

Richard Dyas of Alexandria, Va., served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were: David Brown of Alexandria and Ensign Dennis Gronin of Pensacola.

The bridal couple will reside in Pensacola, where the bridegroom is stationed as an Ensign in the U.S. Navy.

The bridegroom attended Virginia Military Institute and is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and a member of Sigma Omega Tau fraternity. The bride graduated from Radford College, Va., and is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. She taught last year in Fairfax County Public Schools, Va.

Reception

The reception was held in the Mustin Beach Officer's Club which was decorated with floral arrangements.

Out of town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kreutzer, David Brown and Richard Dyas from Alexandria, Va.; Ensign Robert Ficke, Ensign Mick Hall, Ensign Edward Ehrlick, Meridian, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haines, Frostproof, Ensign William Butler, Corpus Cristi, Tex., Lt. Victor Woerhide, Valdosta, Ga., and Mrs. James G. Earnest, Jr., and Terry Earnest from Alexandria, Va.

Frank Cook Has Fifth Birthday Party

Rotary Report

By POWELL WAITE

Ernest Kohler, program chairman for August, introduced Jim Robinson of Airway Broadcasting Company, better known as radio station WSEB and WANZ FM.

Robinson made an interesting talk on several aspects of radio broadcasting. In the area of radio listening he stated that "Radio is not dead as many people are led to believe. There are three operating radios for every man, woman and child in the United States, while there is only one TV set for every three people.

Radio listening increased from four hours per day per person to six hours per day, while TV viewing had a slight decrease. One of the big reasons for the increase in radio listening in the last few years is the car radio. Very few automobiles are sold today without a radio."

Robinson made a comparison of advertising on radio and television. It was his opinion that radio offers the businessman a more effective means of advertising than TV. One reason for this opinion was that more commercials can be run in a day with radio than TV. The radio advertisement is not nearly as expensive and it reaches more people. He stated that people tend to listen to advisements better when there are no pictures to be viewed at the same time. For this reason radio advertising is more effective.

Robinson stressed the fact that his company operates as a public service and will always cooperate with any worthwhile organization to promote its activities.

WSEB and WANZ have several extra features to help the local radio listener become better informed. Vidio tape mobile units, emergency broadcast facilities, package tape programs, special car and station wagon with broadcast facilities and many others.

Airway Broadcasting Co. is planning a Grand Opening in October and would like to invite everyone to attend.

Commissioners In Row Over Road Material Being Used

The vacation-riddled county commission was late getting a quorum together this week, but once underway the meeting was lively with Commissioners Ben McGee, Earl Crutchfield and Jean Whitaker tackling problems in the road, health, surplus commodities and civil defense departments.

At the request of the commissioners Surplus Commodities Director Howard Miner appeared before the board and applied for a month's leave of absence. Miner had accumulated 12 days of sick leave and vacation time, but the rest of the month's leave will be without pay, the board said.

Whitaker said board members have received many complaints that Miner "is not on the job a third of the time." The $5,200-a year job includes responsibility for investigating applications for surplus commodities and supervision of distribution throughout the county.

The commissioners move to quell a dispute within the health department by sending a formal notice to Health Director Dr. J. D. Workman that all travel expenses are to be paid "in accordance with state law."

Whitaker said state law provides for travel expenses to be paid on the basis of reports submitted "by the 24th of each month and there is no reference to an 8:30 deadline."

Health Department staff said Dr. Workman had adopted a local rule that the seven staff members who travel on health work should submit daily reports not later than 9 A.M. of the day following the traveling. Late reports, unless approved by the division supervisor, are automatically discarded.

Whitaker complained that "an arbitrary local rule" has no support in state law.

Emotions ran highest during an investigation of road materials use. When it appeared that pipe ordered for one job had been re-assigned to another road without knowledge of the road superintendent, Commissioner Crutchfield exploded. "We are going to get this department straightened out or I'll tear up that playhouse. I have been trying to get this straight for over a year."

During a flurry of "pipe hunting", the commissioners agreed to a special work session next week to review the more than 20 applications now on file for the new county engineer post. The board has budgeted $15,000 for the 1968-69 year to employ an engineer who will have supervision of the road and bridge department.

The road department is having other problems — the new hyacinth control rig can operate only on the watershed projects canals for which the county has direct responsibility. The county cannot operate in lakes without special approval from the Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission, but property owners around the lakes are seeking the help from the county's new spraying equipment.

Civil Defense Director Jim Lawson had a simple problem, which was handled quickly. He said he'd like to begin work early on getting the county civil defense office ready for full-time operation on October 1. The board named Barbara Gail Watson of Sebring as secretary for the civil defense office.

The board had to postpone until County Attorney Hue Hunnallee return a request from the Orange Blossom Association of the Florida Baptist Convention for permission to use county-owned land in DeSoto for construction of a new mission church.

Commissioner Whitaker explained that the county could not give land in a park or other public recreation area. He told Ivey Waldron, who represented the Southern Baptist association, that it might be possible for the county to give or sell other land to the church.

The commissioners set September 3 for a meeting with the Lake Placid City Council to work out a written agreement about maintenance of a public dump at Lake Placid.

The commissioners also agreed to an "on the ground" meeting with land owners who wish to extend the old Everett Boney road near Lorida.

ATTEND MEETING

Jimmy Whitehouse, deputy supervisor of elections, has returned from Jacksonville where he attended the 23rd annual convention of supervisors of elections August 14-17. Mrs. Whitehouse accompanied him. Former Governor Haydon Burns was among the speakers, making his first public address since he left the governor's office.

Water Users Join in Fight Over Wildlife

WEST PALM BEACH — The Water Users Association of Florida, Inc., today joined conservation leaders, fish and wildlife management experts and other interested groups and individuals in a battle to stop an attempt by representatives of the Department of Interior to scuttle proposed legislation which would affirm the rights of the states to manage and regulate fish and resident wildlife on federal lands.

Legislation which would end the continuing federal-state dispute over ownership of fish and wildlife on federal lands by legally establishing the authority of the states' control over them within their territorial boundaries has been introduced by Sen. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter.

But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts.

This is our land. Let's treat it right.

LUXURY-PLUS but with a price range that is medium-minus. The 1969 Dodge Polara 500 two-door hardtop goes on display at dealerships in September. New exteriors, high-styled interiors, which accent driver and passenger comfort, distinguished the Polara/Monaco models.

First Peek at 1969 Dodge Polara Seen

DETROIT—"The most improved contenders in the traditional standard and medium priced segments of the automobile market receive brand new starts in 1969," E. Ray Wells, of Wells Motor Co. said today.

"The Dodge Polara and Monaco get everything changed but the wheelbase for the coming year," Wells said, "including the cargo distance between the wheel housings on automatic models."

There is "integrated total form," "moulded air spoilers," a "tuck under" sill, hidden windshield wipers, "ventless windows," and "Super-Lite" to package Dodge's new concept in medium priced luxury.

"The Dodge Monaco has been making steady progress in the medium priced market and the Polara in the standard priced segment," said Wells. "They were on the plus side of the sales chart in a declining auto sales market during 1967 and they continued their momentum through the 1968 model to show the greatest improvement of any car in their field.

"For the 1969 model year the Dodge Polara and Monaco have been redone completely. New exteriors, high styled interiors and new options enhance and improve the position these two cars have carved out for themselves in this highly competitive segment of the automobile marketplace."

New Styling

The new Dodge Polara and Monaco feature aerodynamic styling themes accentuating the exterior form and driver oriented cockpit interior treatment.

The dash on both the Polara and Monaco is completely driver oriented with all controls mounted on a panel directly in front of the driver and protected from impact by extended dash padding. The ignition key has been moved to the lower left of the dash to remove it from the area of impact for an unrestrained center front seat passenger.

The exterior styling concept of the basic car is completely aerodynamic with a family hint of the highly successful Dodge Charger.

The aerodynamic theme of the Polara and Monaco, according to Dodge stylists, is carried out through a "moulded, integrated form" giving a rounded fuselage effect to the overall appearance of the car.

The construction is emphasized by the extreme 43-inch radius curvature of the side glass with rapid sill tuck-under so that the overall height of the car is reduced in appearance and the rounded, tight skinned fuselage effect is created.

Although both cars have the same basic body design, the styling of the grille, rear end and exterior bright work as well as interior appointments exhibit the distinct difference between the two.

The Polara will be available in six models for 1969. The Polara 500 is two. The Monaco will be available in five models with special Monaco Brougham and Monaco 500 packages offered for the new model year.

Both model lineups will feature a two-door hardtop, four-door sedans, four-door hardtops, and two and three seat station wagons. The Polara and Polara 500 include convertibles, and Monaco, the new high luxury Brougham.

Interior appointment levels on Monaco have moved into the high fashion, high luxury category with definite accent on driver and passenger comfort.

New Monaco Brougham

The Brougham package has a "split bench" front seat with fold-down armrests built into individually adjustable seats for driver and passenger and a recliner on the passenger seat. A vinyl roof and exterior "Brougham" nameplate are also a part of this package.

In the Monaco two-door hardtop version the customer has an option of taking the standard bench seat with fold-down armrest or the "500" package which features individually adjustable bucket seats and either console or a fixed center seat with pull down armrest.

Super-Lite

Functional in design has been added to the exterior of Polara and Monaco cars with the addition of a grille mounted driving lamp called "Super-Lite."

An exclusive optional item on Dodge Polara and Monaco models for 1969, Super-Lite is a new high-powered 40,000 candlepower light developed in conjunction with Sylvania Lighting Products.

It is an auxiliary light designed to bridge the gap between conventional high-and low-beam lights used on all standard American cars.

Super-Lite provides an intense beam of rigidly controlled light which will improve visibility on the road at night for today's higher expressway speeds. Its night driving vision improvement properties do not cause excessive glare to oncoming drivers.

Ventless Windows

Ventless windows were added to air-conditioned two-door hardtops for aesthetics and to improve visibility through the elimination of the wing vent window.

Baptist Chapter Will Wash Cars Saturday

Pioneer Royal Ambassador chapter of Fellowship Baptist Church will hold a car wash Saturday, Aug. 24, on Main Street in downtown Avon Park between the two railroad stations.

The RA boys will be washing cars from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M., and local people are invited to bring their car by. Price will be $1.50 per car.

All proceeds from the car wash will go to the Lottie Moon foreign missions Christmas offering to be taken by Fellowship Baptist Church in December.

Purpose of the car wash is to give the RA boys first-hand experience in learning to give of themselves so that the cause of missions around the world can be financially aided, according to RA Leader Paul C. Foraker.

The chapter has a membership of ten boys, each of whom are active in the chapter. President is David Meeks; vice president is Danny Sims; secretary-treasurer is Ray Culpepper; sergeant-at-arms is Richard Crews; recreation chairman is David Jordan; initiation chairman is John Pruitt.

SNAKE BITE LECTURE

The public is invited to a lecture at 7:30 P.M. Thursday at Highlands General Hospital by Dr. Sam King of Avon Park on the subject of snake bite. Among those expected to attend are hospital people from both Walker Memorial and Highlands General and park rangers. The meeting will be in the cafeteria.

Bridal Shower Honors Miss Terry Guyton, Given by Y.W.S. Class

Miss Terry Guyton, bride-elect of Rainford (Randy) Rewis, Jr., was the recipient of a surprise bridal shower in her honor Thursday, Aug. 15 by the Y.W.A. class of the First Baptist Church, given at the home of Mrs. Jane Wells, director of the group.

—o—

On Monday, Aug. 19, the First Baptist Church Social Hall was the scene of a bridal shower for Miss Guyton.

Hostesses for the occasion were, Mrs. Becky Townsend, Mrs. Anne Whidden, Mrs. Joann Evans, Mrs. Linda Singletary, Mrs. Lois Ann Miller, Mrs. Debbie Buchanan, Miss Beverly Turner and Miss Alice Kuntz.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth and held arrangements of green fern and pink flowers. Punch, nuts, mints and cookies were served.

Many friends attended to present their gifts and best wishes to the bride-to-be.

The wedding is to take place Thursday, Aug. 22, at 8 P.M. in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Aden D. Childress.

The Bible Speaks To You on Radio

Hostility and fear seem to be in the air these days. That is why it is important that we guard our mental environment. The Bible tells us how. Listen Sunday, Aug. 25, 9 A.M. to WJCM to "Overcoming a Hostile Environment."

Vacation Bible Church Bible Ended Friday

Lawrence Robinson, director of the vacation church Bible school held at the First United Methodist Church, August 5 through the 16th, gives a good report on the Bible school. An average of 60 children for all denominations attended daily.

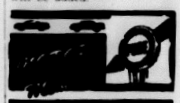

Friday morning the closing program, which was attended by the parents who visited the classrooms and then returned to Wesley Hall for refreshments, included presentations of certificates and attendance banners.

Twenty-four teachers and helpers assisted with the success of the school.

Kindness seems to be the only investment that never fails.

SERVICE SUNDAY

For the Sunday of Aug. 25 only, the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer in Avon Park, will have a 9:30 A.M. Service only, and no 7:30 A.M. service. On September 1 the Summer schedule will resume with services at 7:30 and 9:30 A.M. On September 8 the 11 A.M. Service will be added.

Family vacation time is approaching and an often neglected item is your automobile emergency medical kit, thermometer, hot water bottle. In addition to the accepted standards such as Aspirin, antihistamine, antiseptics, scissors, bandage, other protective coverings and tourniquets, consult your pharmacist for tongue depressors, hypo-allergenic skin preparations, sun protective ointment and salves. He may even suggest preparations such as diaherretic medication depending upon the water conditions in the locale of your travels. And talking about emergency preparations, how 'bout your car? Our complete "bumper to bumper" inspection and service will assure you and your's of happy and trouble free travel!

For QUALITY PURE OIL PRODUCTS and ACCESSORIES bring your "pride and joy" to BORDEN'S PURE OIL SERVICE CENTER!! We'll "baby it" like it was our own! 200-West Main, phone, GL 3-4154.

Bring 'Em Back Alive Continues Thru Labor Day

There's no excuse for Floridians to be restless during their Labor Day Weekend travels.

The American Automobile Association's Holiday News Service reports that Florida has more rest areas along its highways than any other state, except Tennessee and Texas.

A total of 280 rest areas with parking facilities for three or more vehicles are available to motorists along Florida's federal-aid highways. The AAA will be encouraging Florida motorists to make use of their rest areas this Labor Day Weekend in the Holiday News Service radio broadcasts. Most of the state's radio stations will carry the hourly bulletins which provide motorists with timely information on road conditions and other information that will help them "Bring 'Em Back Alive!"

Safety experts say one of the greatest dangers of freeway driving is "highway hypnosis," a loss of alertness caused by prolonged driving at constant speed without distractions. To avoid highway hypnosis, the AAA recommends that drivers stop and relax every two hours or 100 miles during a long trip.

VOTE SEPTEMBER 10
Clarence King
For Councilman

I will be very happy to help get Avon Park's business operating again as it should. I will use the same good accepted business practices as I have in the past.

I have always been against new taxes and shall continue to be. It may take a while to catch up after the spending spree of the present Administration, however. I will cut corners until the deficit is in line with income.

Key Club Sponsor Clean-up Campus Project

Teachers and students in the Avon Park high and junior high have long been annoyed and embarrassed at the ugly litter surrounding and covering the grounds of their schools.

The Key Club members under the able direction of Mr. Sechrist have worked hard to eliminate this situation for several years but in vain. Last Spring David Woodard used this subject as one of his aims should he be elected Student Council president.

On returning from Boys State this Summer, David found himself determined to materially do something about this ugliness. Guy Garrett, supervising principal, wisely going on the premise that if students are self-motivated they achieve their goals better than as if they are faculty-pressured, agreed with David and promised his support.

The town seemed vastly improved by the placing of the attractive litter cans sponsored by the Kiwanis and the merchants so David followed this lead. He and the members of the student council are using bright red paint to renew the old cans and are adding some 30 oil drums in scarlet coats to encourage students to use the refuse cans rather than the grass for their bottles and cups. The time is right for the opening day of school. David will announce an all-out - beautifying - clean-campus project.

Not only will students be encouraged to be good citizens but methods to compel them to suffer the consequences of disobeying the keep-clean rules will be announced. Rather drastic measures such as being kept after school, student council monitoring systems and a student-faculty committee are all part of this plan. David and all members of the student council and Key Club will have the bright clean campus ready before the students return September 3. This time the plan is so coordinated, so intensified, it just has to work and Avon Park residents will be proud to take their visitors and guests on the streets surrounding the school so they may say with pride, "This is our high school, this is our junior high."

Lee Maness is the faculty sponsor of the Student Council.

AVON PARK MAJORETTES have been working hard perfecting new routines under the supervision of Nancy Wolfson, Gatorette from the University of Florida and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wolfson of Lake Wales. Nancy instructed the majorettes every morning and afternoon last week at the Hubbard Biggs home and is now teaching four groups of majorettes in a band camp in Pennsylvania. Shown standing is Susan Biggs, head majorette; Nancy Pearl, Gwen Sharpe, Louise Bennett and Ann Mandis. Seated, Patty Hallan, Sylvia Martin, Marcia McDugald, Carol Retherford, Glenda Childers and instructor Nancy Wolfson, standing. Missing from the picture is assistant head majorette, Fran Thompson. The majorettes learned new baton and flag routines and a dance twirling baton routine, and are ready for the football season.

Bonnie Fisher, Marcia Ward Return Home

Misses Bonnie Fisher and Marcia L. Ward returned home Monday after a 10 weeks' working tour of England and the Continent.

While in England they worked as amateur archaeologists with the University of Cardiff at an excavation in Usk, Wales of a Roman fortress dating back to 70 A.D. and with the University of Leeds at an excavation of a third century castle at Lodge-hall, Wiltshire.

Between "digs" the two toured the countries of the Netherlands, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and France by Eurail pass and also spent 4 days in Scotland as guests of another amateur archaeologist. They returned from Southhampton, England to New York by student ship M/S Aurelia and flew to Florida from Kennedy Airport.

Miss Fisher will enter South Florida Junior College this week as freshman and Miss Ward will enter Swarthmore College in mid-September.

A DAILY FIRST NEWSPAPER

Avon Park, Fla., Aug. 22, 1968—1B

The Library Corner

The Walls Came Tumbling Down—Babs H. Deal: One of our Sarasota authors, Babs H. Deal, brings us a new type of light novel. Her previous novel, Fancy's Knell, was nominated an outstanding suspense story of 1966 by the Mystery Writers of America. Her husband, Border Deal, is also a novelist.

The plot for The Walls Came Tumbling Down is laid in a small university town, Druit City, in the south. It involves seven women—all good friends—all former sorority sisters who spent the hot summer, 24 years ago, during summer school in the Delta House which was undergoing extensive renovation. Because there is to be a new Delta House in keeping with the new building program of the University, the old House is being torn down. "As the walls of their old sorority house came tumbling down, a frightful secret was exposed. There, among the rubble, lay the skeleton of a baby. And there too, among a different kind of rubble, the lives of these seven threatened to come tumbling down."

In addition to the suspense, the reader will find many memories, sometimes humorous, sometimes agonizing on American morals, marriage, family life, love—widely different as this drama brings back the long forgotten summer.

News Exchange

Reed Simpson is home from the hospital, and Loretta, his wife is able now to walk around some. They are progressing quite well, from their recent car accident.

Bill Near is in the hospital in Sherman, N. Y., but he expects to be back in Avon Park this Fall.

Alton Wetmore has had his eye operation, and is now home from the hospital and doing just fine. They have their grandson with them to run the errands, and take Grandpa for walks several times a day. The Wetmores live in Kent, Ohio.

Mary Smith in Tiro, Ohio, entertained for an old friend of hers. They started teaching together 47 years ago. Pupils and old friends were invited.

Burdette and Allene Howard took an eight-day guided bus tour of the New England States. They visited Providence, R. I., Martha's Vineyard, Portland, Maine, with a boat cruise of Casco Bay. They stayed a few days at Crawford House, a beautiful old hotel in the White Mountains miles from any town. There they had all kinds of entertainment, including shuffleboard, inside and out, and tours to many nearby places.

Other places on the tour were several places in Vermont, visiting a maple grove candy factory, Rock of Ages Granite Quarry. They ferried across Lake Champlain, and through Ausable Chasm, taking a boat ride through the rapids. A wonderful trip, they said.

The Howards will attend a reunion of Burdett's high school class of 50 years ago, before returning home to Avon Park.

Mr. and Mrs. George Loomis and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Higgs of Dewitteville, N. Y., were hosts to the second annual Avon Park picnic, on Wednesday, Aug. 7, at the Dewitteville Fire Hall. Fifty-six friends came with well filled baskets of food for a delicious pot luck dinner at noon.

They came from as far away as Avon Park, Elmira, Castile, Alden and Eden, N. Y., Erie, Corry and Fairview, Pa., and other nearby towns of Jamestown, Fredonia, Dunkirk, Sinclairville, Cassadaga, Sherman, Mayville, Chautauqua and Dewitteville.

After a short humorous program, the afternoon was spent visiting and talking over the happenings of the past months since they left Avon Park. Everyone was happy to see each other and it was a perfect day for a picnic.

A get-well card was signed for Alton Wetmore in Kent, Ohio.

When farewells were said they all hoped to meet again in Avon Park this Fall.

The Glenn Longs of Plantsville, Conn., spent a few days visiting with friends in Pratsville, N. Y., and Sloansville. Also Sheffield, Mass. And a two-day vacation in Catskill Mts.

Robert and Martha Mcbeth celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary on August 11, by having dinner out.

Now that the Canadian postal strike is over, Ray and Lois Johnson can receive mail, and they will be happy to hear from their friends. They are enjoying life on Parry Sound, what with boat rides, fishing and swimming. Their address is Rt. 1, Nobel Ont. Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cornue and son, David from Arlington, Va., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzo Cornue for 10 days.

The Richard Rickinsons are visiting their son in Belchertown, Mass. They expect to be home in Avon Park, Sept. 1.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Mr and Mrs. Forrest Wiedman are proud grandparents of a new baby girl, Julie Jane, born last week. Her brother, David Jay and sister Aimee are happy for a new sister, too.

The weather was ideal in Argus, Ind. for the picnic of Avon Mobile Home Park friends. It was held at the Alva Thompson farm, complete with cool breezes blowing over the spacious, tree-shaded lawn and shuffleboard court, and proved to be a most enjoyable day for all those attending. There was a bountiful carry-in dinner which was spread outside on tables under the trees. Coming from the greatest distance was Dr. and Mrs. George White from Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell came from Cincinnati, Ohio, the next greatest distance. Warren Byrer was elected president, Basil Krontz, vice president, Mrs. Forrest Wiedeman, secretary and Mrs. Ula Miller, assistant.

Next year the picnic will be held at the Bourbon Community Park. Those attending this year, totaling 40 persons were: Mrs. LaRue Longstrecker, Myrtis DePoy, Jesse and Cora Yates, Lonie and Lucille Shoemaker, Alva and Hazel Thompson, Ham and Nita Byrer, Forrest and Gladie Wiedman, Esther Bristow, Orval and Omah Marshall, Harold and Ruth Wolcott, Ora and Ruby Myers, Linville and Treadie Myers.

Also Floyd and Edith Stevens, Everett and Bessie Paxton, Welcome and Ula Miller, George and Esther White, Charles and Hazel Belden, Basil and Rosa Krontz, Iva Fisher, Jesse and Mayme Cain, Howard and Louise Bell, and Chester and Clara Thayer. Assisting in the kitchen were Hazel and Alva's grandchildren, and also their daughters.

Everyone was sorry to hear of the accident which happened to Mrs. Cora Titus and family, who were taking her to the picnic, about 11 o'clock. It happened in Fort Wayne, Ind., and they were in the emergency room at the hospital but not seriously injured, although Mrs. Titus's car was a total loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roth were unable to attend the picnic as Paul has had his leg operation and was still in the hospital, but expected to be released shortly.

Nita Byrer acted as secretary at the picnic due to Ginnie not being present.

The Robinsons have completed two weeks of rewarding work at the Vacation Church School of the First United Methodist Church and now are anticipating their vacation in Ohio, leaving on Tuesday or Wednesday—See you all in the Fall.

Robert Gibb is now home from the hospital, but we are sorry to learn that Mrs. Gibb (Lillian) is back in Walker Memorial Hospital since Sunday. We do hope that she will soon be better.

Rumor has it that Mr. and Mrs. Herman Young and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fouty will be returning soon to Avon Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Baker left on Monday morning for their home in Terre Haute, Ohio, to welcome back their granddaughter, Rhonda Dibert, from an International Cultural exchange student tour of Rome, Italy, Germany, France and England by jet plane from New York, which took four weeks. The Bakers have enjoyed their stay immensely during the summer months, as they have been able to swim every day since being back.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Gieb returned this week from a trip to Akien, S. C., with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Norris of Avon Park. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harold at that city. The trip was very nice, although the temperature was 108 degrees when they arrived, but their home was air conditioned. The visit was four days long after which they came back here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Roncerburg of Canton, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Norris were guests of the Lucius Geibs on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Iles of Sarasota, who recently returned from a three year tour of duty in Saigon, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Peugh.

Four Persons Injured In Accident Saturday Morning

Four people were injured, Ray Beasley, 30, of Sebring, seriously, in an accident which happened, bystanders said, when a car chasing another car ran a stop sign and hit the Beasley car.

The accident occurred at 1:20 A.M. Saturday on Route 27 at Castle Street, Avon Park. A car driven by David Lamar Barwick, 21, of Lake Placid, accompanied by Okey Starcher, 17, of Lake Placid, and Willie James Jackson, 23, of Avon Park, came through the stop sign, the Florida Highway Patrol said, and struck the Beasley car on the left front, crashing both cars 42 feet off the roadway. Passersby pulled the occupants from the cars.

Janis Burgess, Carol Raiford and Bill Sanders, of Sebring, Miss Raiford driving, had stopped for the stop sign at Route 27 and saw the crash. They told bystanders the car driven by Barwick had been chasing them, but when they stopped for the sign, it did not, and went around them, hitting Beasley.

The car Barwick was driving, a 1963 Ford sedan, belongs to Robert D. Nealy of Lake Placid. Damage was estimated at $500.

Occupants of both cars were taken to Walker Memorial Hospital where Beasley, of Grand Prix Drive, is in serious condition and not allowed visitors. He was driving a 1967 Rambler station wagon. Damage to the car was estimated at $2,000.

Starcher and Jackson were still in the hospital today but reported fair and improving. Barwick was released Tuesday from the hospital and promptly arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles Rucker for unauthorized use of an automobile. He posted $500 bond and was released. He also faces charges of failure to use due care lodged by the Florida Highway Patrol, which will be heard September 3.

If you want one good reason for switching to electric water heating, here it is:
You get a lower electric rate.

Homes with electric water heaters get the new low rate of 1¼ cents per kilowatt-hour on one-quarter of all electricity used in excess of 180 kwh per month — not just on electricity for water heating.

They're always in hot water. You will be, too, if you put in a Q-R electric water heater. (Q-R stands for "quick recovery" — means the hot water you use is speedily replaced.) Another reason is it's flameless — so clean and safe.

And if you want one good reason for switching NOW, here it is:

We'll give an installation allowance of $25 to residential customers who replace flame-type with electric water heaters between now and September 30th.

Your plumbing contractor or appliance dealer will arrange with us to give you this allowance. Then you'll be billed at the new low rate and save on electric bills every month.

There seems to be more than one good reason why now is the time to . . .

Graduate to Q-R flameless electric water heating!

*If you're one of these and have not applied for our water heater discount, please notify our nearest office. If you have applied, WHOOPEE! on your bill means you're now getting the water heater discount.
