Large Group Protest Action By Council

One of the largest crowds to attend a council meeting showed up Monday night at the regular meeting of the Avon Park City Council to protest the action taken against one of Avon Park's leading businessmen, Fred Johnson.

In a special meeting held Wednesday, Sept. 4, the council voted to terminate the lease of 1.1 acres of land leased to John Concrete, and to renegotiate a new lease with many who attended the meeting believe it was done only for political gain and they voiced their opinion.

Jahna said that in 1950 the city of Avon Park contacted him on putting his plant in the city and was willing to lease it to him for $1 a year, but he suggested the fee be paid as much as $100 a year. He said he was willing to pay the extra $100 was added to the $250 he was already paying per year. Also Jahna said he contacted the city first and requested the city send him a bill on the past year and one in the future.

The bill is to be paid the first of August of each year for the following year. Bill Reck, president of the Chamber of Commerce told the council that people don't always remember their bills especially long term ones. When bills and agreements are handled in a businesslike manner the people are notified weeks in advance and in the first place for instance the bank would not wait a year before notifying someone of a delinquent bill or note.

Ed Touchton, Jr. appearing in behalf of Jahna said they pay as much taxes as anyone in Avon Park and cancelling Jahna's lease was not handled properly and at least the taxpayers and voters of our city who elect the councilman should have some say on what is best for the city.

After many character references from Mayor Jimmy Doerr, Murray Wilson, Jack DeLaney and others, Bob Barben and Roy Seims said Fred Jahna gave more than anyone else to the city of Avon Park and to the schools, especially the football stadium.

A motion was made by Councilman Howard to accept back the lease payment from Jahna and reinstate the lease. The motion failed to pass when Albright abstained and Lane and Scott voted against it.

County School Delegation Going To Washington To Negotiate The Desegregation Dispute

A five-man delegation from Highlands County schools will go to Washington tomorrow (Friday) to negotiate with Health, Education and Welfare representatives toward a settlement in a school desegregation dispute.

The civil rights division of HEW has begun proceedings to cut off federal funds for Highlands County's kindergarten through 12th grade programs. The meeting, set for 2 P.M. Friday in Washington, had been requested by the Highlands County school board prior to filing of charges against the board, therefore, it does not count as the formal hearing which is a part of the administrative proceedings to end federal aid.

The local delegation will carry to Washington answers it has framed to allegations that the local school board has violated the Civil Rights Act of 1964. School Attorney Francis Bryant said he expects to file the answers after the meeting tomorrow.

The principal thing the local representatives hope to achieve Friday is a precise statement of "where and how" the board is in violation of federal law. Members of the Highlands County delegation will be Superintendent George F. Douglas, Board Chairman Henry Bailey, Members John Wirck and R. L. Padgett. They will be accompanied by Attorney Bryant.

Most of Tuesday night's three-hour school board meeting was devoted to a review of statements from HEW and the Highlands County responses. Two themes ran through the answers: the school board has done all it can to desegregate and provide a single, uniform school system within the buildings available; and the county needs clear, written descriptions of alleged violations of the federal desegregation law.

In preparing the responses Bryant leaned heavily on "progress toward desegregation," citing as a major statistic that while prior to 1965 no Negro children attended white schools, 41 per cent of all Negro students are now enrolled in formerly all-white schools. Board members indicated they will continue to resist federal suggestions that the board relieve the classroom shortage by transferring white students into the less crowded Negro schools. Highlands is one of eight Florida counties now on notice from HEW that their desegregation plans are not working. The others are Citrus, Gadsden, Jackson, Madison, Okaloosa, Palm Beach and Bradford. Palm Beach County school board has entered a suit in federal court seeking a court order to enjoin HEW from ending federal aid to that county's schools.

Bryant said Tuesday night he would not advise the Highlands County school board to go into court now. He pointed out that the board still does not know the exact nature of the charges against it or what the federal office will list as requirements to bring this county's schools into compliance with the Civil Rights Act.

Since then the new middle school concept has developed rapidly in other states and this year the Florida educators have given permission for some pilot programs in middle school organization.

The superintendent also contends that the tendency for junior high schools to develop into "little high schools" is undesirable. The middle school—with classes and extra-curricular activities geared to grades five through eight—is better suited to the needs of girls and boys too old for elementary school and too young for high school.

The communications from the state Department of Education do not specifically mention middle school, but the state officials have said they will need to prepare maps showing where student lives and attends school.

Population studies, lists of present facilities, up-to-date floor plans and pupil projections showing plans for classroom use in 1970-71 will be needed for the survey team study, the state staff said.

On the questions, question number 669 voted for was 313 against; number two 584 for and 340 against; number three 528 for and 347 against; question number four 508 for and 421 against; question number five 543 for and 364 against.

J. B. Sparks, former councilman received 591. Eddie Johnson, a newcomer to politics got 575 and Lester Brown also a newcomer received 53.

Many believe the airport should be put in the hands of an airport authority and out of the hands of politics. Other acquisitions made against the council were that they squandered away the tax payers money and now the city is in a mess of trash and garbage rates to acquire money needed to operate on.

Registration Books Here September 20

Registration books will be closed Saturday, Oct. 5, and the office in the Court House Annex will be open until that final day. The books will be at Avon Park City Hall from 3 to 9 P.M. September 30 and at the Credit Building, Lake Placid, September 27 from 3 to 9 P.M.

Avon Park voters elected one new councilman and returned two present councilmen, in the city election Tuesday in which seven candidates were vying for the three seats. Durrah Martin and Russell Scott present councilmen were reelected along with Jack Duggan, former councilman who lost by only one vote in the 1967 election.

Out of the 3200 voters, 1511 took time to go to the polls in one of the most heated elections held in Avon Park. All five amendments passed.

Martin was high man with 815 votes, Jack Duggan was second with 756 and Scott polled 670.

Clarence King, former councilman of nine years, was defeated by a small margin of only 35 votes between his 635 and Scott's 670 before the 41 absentee ballots were counted. Roland Drott, supervisor of elections said he did not think the absentee vote would change the election in any way.

J. B. Sparks, former councilman received 591. Eddie Johnson, a newcomer to politics got 575 and Lester Brown also a newcomer received 53.

On the questions, question number 669 voted for was 313 against; number two 584 for and 340 against; number three 528 for and 347 against; question number four 508 for and 421 against; question number five 543 for and 364 against.

Mosquito Program Cancelled

The nationwide program to stamp out the Aedes Aegypti mosquito which carried yellow fever has been cancelled, effective here September 30.

In Highlands County, a force of 30 men, including Eugene Raybuck, area supervisor, and Tommy Williams, assistant area supervisor, will lose their jobs and the county will suffer the loss of a $10,000 a month payroll. Mosquito hunters have found no eggs of the Aedes Aegypti in this county in the past several years. They had planned to continue the program for two more years, however.

The program is among victims of a $8-million rail-bank in federal spending that was tied to a 10 per cent income tax surtax by Congress.

AVON PARK CLEANUP campaign

got into full swing this week as city crews begin to move junked cars. September has been designated as clean-up month and clubs are urging residents to clean-up, paint-up, spruce-up their property. Many people have already cleaned up lots, cut hedges, trees and are removing their garbage cans from the side of the roads out of their neighbor's sight.

The team will be to the field at 7:30 P.M. and start scrimmage action at 8 P.M. Admission will be one bar of soap per person.

The Avon Park High School Boosters Association will sponsor a fish fry this Friday at the football field.

The menu is as follows: mullet, slaw, baked beans, hush puppies and beverage. Tickets for the fish fry can be purchased at Albritton's Barber Shop, members of the Athletic Association will be at the football field. Adults $1 and students 75 cents.

Serving will start at 6 P.M. until 8:30 P.M.

Membership tickets to the Athletic Association will be at the game. All members who have not purchased their card are urged to do so.

proved to be a huge success with fans from Arcadia, Wauchula, Sebring and Avon Park jamming the stadium to capacity to watch the four teams play two quarters each against two different opponents.

Arcadia shut out Hardee High of Wauchula 12-0, the first period by a score of 12-0, with both of Arcadia's touchdowns coming on pass plays. Arcadia quarterback Rex Smith tossed a pass to Randy Washington for a 37-yard TD and then hit end Randy Beasley on a 28-yard play for the second score. Both kicks for the extra point were no good.

In the second quarter, the Avon Park Red Devils drove for an early touchdown against Sebring with right halfback Roy Clait skirting right end for a nine yard dash into the end zone. The extra point was kicked by freshman Don Sismore to give Avon Park the 7-0 win.

Wauchula held Avon Park scoreless in the third quarter while driving for two touchdowns largely on the running of halfback Tom Newsome. Newsome scored the first TD for the Hardee Wildcats with a one yard plunge through the middle of the line and halfback Ronnie Moye ran 9 yards around right end for the second score. Both extra point attempts were no good.

In the final period Sebring came back to hold DeFotis High of Arcadia to a scoreless tie although Arcadia moved to Sebring's 7 yard line at one point in the quarter.

Red Devil fans get the message that Coach Joe Franza has been giving this season—that the squad is lacking depth. Seventeen of last year's squad are missing from this season's team due to graduation, injury or just not returning to the team. About 15 boys will bear the brunt of the action this season as the early practice game is any indication of things to be.

Offensively last Saturday night the Red Devils had Curtis Hulien at left end and Tim Braswell at right end. Orlando Libron at left tackle and Ed Reck at right tackle. Horace Watson at left guard and Jim Nunnallee at right guard and Tom Townsend at the center slot. Gene Landress did most of the quarterbacking, and Willie Joe Seigler ran from the left halfback position. Billy Richards moved into the fullback slot and Roy Clait and Neil Caswell alternated in the right halfback position. John Hamilton and Joe Hardy saw some offensive action at end also.

On defense Randy Ward replaced Jim Nunnallee on the line to work with Hulien, Reck, Libron and Braswell and Seigler. Townsend, Watson, and Clait played linebackers. Richards and Landress handled the halfback positions on defense. Neal Caswell and Don Sismore will also be used in the defensive backfield.

Horace Watson did the kicking off for Avon Park and Gene Landress did the punting with Sismore using the soccer style place kick for the extra point.

SFJC Seeks More Funds For Construction

South Florida Junior College trustees and administrators today described their pursuit of construction funds as "frantic" and "hopeful."

September 20 is the deadline for the Highlands County school board to accept or reject one of the three construction bids submitted on August 22. With nine alternatives out of the contract the low bid would be $11.5 million for the first phase of construction on the permanent campus between Sebring and Avon Park.

Rex Bond, chairman of the county college board of trustees, pointed out that the bids are 18 per cent above the estimated cost on which the state and federal construction grants were made.

The cost estimates were submitted to governmental agencies almost a year ago. Since they were submitted building costs have skyrocketed 18 to 20 per cent, Bond said.

"We have good bids, and if we can't raise about $200,000 we'll have to let these bids drop, and face a long delay with costs soaring while we wait. But we are hopeful the money can be found," Dr. Stallard certainly is leaving no stone unturned to find help. Bond commented after the SFJC September trustees meeting.

The SFJC president, Dr. William A. Stallard, said state and federal officials have vetoed the suggestion that one of the proposed buildings be eliminated. He explained that one site and proposed building plans are approved no major change can be made.

Dr. Stallard reported the federal representatives had said when major changes are made "you have a whole new ball game."

Two Men Escape Injury In US 27 Accident

Two Jacksonville men were injured Sunday two miles South of Avon Park on Hwy. 27 when their car struck a puddle, driver Allen Richard lost control, the car spun around, hit a guard rail and landed in a nearby lake. Damage to the 1966 Ford was estimated at $1,000 by Florida Highway Patrolmen J. E. Vann and Wilbur Woods. John Doerr accompanied Richard and the accident occurred at 8:30 P.M.

When two tires of his 1967 Buick blew out, Donald Pike of Avon Park lost control of his car on Route 27 Sunday, landed in a ditch and then hit a sign. Patrolman Vann estimated damage to his car at $300. The accident occurred at 8:55 P.M. North of Avon Park.

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco- topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

Many people outside the ranks of America's 40-million alcoholics have the mistaken idea that most alcoholics are "dope fiends" and vice versa.

Actually, judging from the experience of Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program, there are relatively few alcoholics who use major narcotics such as morphine, heroin, and other opiates.

"We get very few of these at FARP," says Dr. Helen Williams, medical director for the Program. "And out of the small number who have come, even fewer have stayed for the full cycle of treatment. Thus, we haven't really had enough alcoholics who use the major narcotics to make an accurate statement."

This is not to say there isn't a lot of misuse of drugs by alcoholics. But when it comes to the major narcotics which the public usually associates with dope addiction, FARP staffers have seen very little use of these by its patients.

One common problem shared by both alcoholics and narcotics addicts is withdrawal. Most alcoholics undergo various symptoms during the time the blood alcohol level falls below the level to which they have become habituated.

According to Dr. Williams, differentiating between the patient who will just have a hangover in the morning and the one who will be critically ill remains difficult.

Nevertheless, there are a few clues which may at least alert the physician to the likelihood of a difficult withdrawal period.

1. The first is size. Many types of serious withdrawal appear to become considerably more frequent after age 35. Thereafter the complications appear rather rapidly within the next few years.

2. The second is the drinking pattern. The person who drinks every day and particularly the one who sips around the clock is decidedly more likely to have physical disturbances when alcohol is discontinued than the patient who drinks periodically.

3. Of course, the longer the drinking bout and the larger the quantity consumed, the greater the difficulty experienced in drying out.

4. Other physical illnesses, particularly cardiovascular, respiratory, renal, hepatic, or pancreatic disease, present serious problems when they complicate alcohol withdrawal.

5. The accompanying long-term use of a sedative or anesthetic drugs with alcohol also makes detoxification difficult.

Additional information on alcoholism is always available to you upon request. FARP has a brand-new literature list which is up-to-date and names every pamphlet available for distribution. Just send your request for the literature list or any pamphlet to FARP's Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla., 33825.

Ten Students from Avon Park High School Visit Asolo Theatre

Ten students from Avon Park High School and Vickie Wiltzie, a guest from the Highlands School for Girls, were accompanied by Miss Jeanne Price, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Brojek, and John Howard on a trip to the Asolo Theatre in Sarasota on Saturday, Sept. 7.

The students enjoyed a shopping spree before an excellent performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The play, one of Shakespeare's best comedies, drew thunderous applause from the theatre goers. The Asolo players drew praise from the visiting Avon Park students and chaperones.

The play deals with the trials and tribulations of young love—with its usual embarrassing moments. Donald Hoepner as Nick Bottom gave an outstanding performance. C. David Colson was excellent in his role of Puck, or Robin Goodfellow. Many riotous scenes provided the viewer with a bird's-eye view of the Shakespearean period.

After the play, the jubilant group met at the "Kissing Cousins" for dinner and added entertainment on an old-fashioned player piano. Our young theatre viewers returned at 7 P.M. to Avon Park.

It is hoped that these students will form the nucleus of the future APHS Drama Club.

Wolfgang Halbig Setting Sports Records at Dyess AFB Texas

Wolfgang Halbig, son of Mrs. Gertrude Halbig of Avon Park, has been setting quite a record for himself in sports activities at Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene, Tex. The former Avon Park High School athlete most recently was chosen as a member of the SAC All-Star softball team to compete against other command champions in the Air Force softball championship at England AFB, La.

In the Dyess Peacemaker Halbig's Dyess softball coach Bob Dunnington commented on his being picked for the all-star team—"Coach Tedford from Offutt was looking for a player who would support his teammates both on and off the field, and Halbig is that kind of player. After all, spirit and the desire to win are what really makes a championship team. Besides his spirit, Halbig is also a real good ball player. In the Area 3 and SAC competition he hit .500 and had two home runs and 11 runs batted in. He played left field and was errorless during the two tournaments."

Halbig is assigned to the 96th Comm Support Group Headquarters Squadron. He is in charge of the three base

Fly Your Flag September 17

Phil Briggs, commander of Post 69 of the American Legion, urges the business men and citizens of Avon Park to fly their flags on Constitution and Citizenship Day, September 17.

"These are the most critical days in the history of this nation," says Commander Briggs, "and every person should know what privileges are provided for them in the Constitution of these United States."

For the convenience of the citizens of this community, Post 69 has placed the booklet "Know Your America" in the public library. "This booklet," said Commander Briggs, "will answer the question as to when the Constitution was signed."

Every person in this nation should read "The Declaration of Independence" and the "Constitution of the United States of America." If you do not have a copy and would like to read it Commander Briggs invites you to stop at the Post Home on West Bell Street any Thursday night to pick up a copy.

"This is our regular evening for bingo and there will be a legionnaire there who will be happy to give you one of these pamphlets," concluded Commander Briggs.

Bingo is held at the Legion Home every Thursday night at 7:30 and anyone may attend.

During his off-duty he teaches children the mechanics of tennis, another sport he excels in. Last year Halbig and Mike Rooker won their first five matches in the SAC tennis tournament at Vandenberg AFB, Calif. They lost the sixth match and were named SAC runners-up in the Men's Open Doubles division.

This year Halbig won the sportsmanship award in the second annual Grand Prairie Invitational Softball Class while playing shortstop for the Dyess Air Force Base team which captured third in the tourney.

The popular Halbig, a native of Germany who has just recently acquired his citizenship in this country, hoped to represent Dyess again this year in the SAC Tennis Championship Tourney.

Janet James Tells of Trip To Caribbean

By JANET JAMES

The official name for my project was the Caribbean Children's Service Project. There were 18 girls from central and southern Florida with five adult leaders. Four Islands participated in the project, St. Kitts, Nevis, Antigua, and Dominica. There were five girls on St. Kitts, four on Nevis, five on Antigua and four on Dominica. Each Island with one adult and then one lady, Mrs. George Costello, who was the coordinator of the project flew between all the islands making sure things went smoothly.

I was on Nevis. It is 36 square miles rising up in the middle to a mountain, Nevis Peak. It is famous for its beautiful white and dark sand beaches. The island has a population of 1,400 people. My plane trips to the islands in many different types of planes from a jet to a 17 water prop, my five hour shopping spree in Charlotte, Amalie, St. Thomas (one of the Virgin Islands) is not to be forgotten.

I remember well seeing all the beautiful scenery from ruined sugar mills to a beautiful mountain surrounded by beaches, also holding our service project, a day camp in which we taught children games and crafts. We taught over 120 children in a three day period with many of them returning each day.

DALE LaFLAM is shown holding a 1½ ft. rattlesnake that was killed on the LaFlam place on River Ridge Ranches. It had seven rattles and a button, Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis LaFlam.

I enjoyed swimming in the beautiful beaches of Nevis and climbing Nevis Peak which is an extinct volcano surrounded by a rain forest. It is about 3,500 feet high. This was a trip I've much enjoyed.

ALARMING BUT TRUE!!

One of every three cars checked in a periodic safety inspection on the Pennsylvania Turnpike recently revealed a high enough percentage of carbon monoxide and other deadly gases within the car's interior to impair the driver's efficiency! As exhaust specialists, we obviously benefit from this replacement work but, beyond that, in the interest of public safety and protection to our customers and their families, we encourage and appeal to you to take advantage of our FREE MUFFLER AND EXHAUST SYSTEM CHECK-UP!! It takes just a few minutes and you'll drive away knowing that your family is SAFE!

Father Lawrence Cunningham officiated at the double-ring ceremony with nuptial music presented by Mrs. Behrens. Coral carnations and mums entwined with ivy decorated the sanctuary. The bride escorted to the altar by her father wore a floor-length princess style dress of candelight silk over satin, with imported lace around high neck and bodice, long sleeves cuffed with lace. Her floor-length veil was attached to a pill box hat of pale yellow roses and carnations laced with ivy and yellow satin streamers.

Guests Blith attended as maid of honor and Celia Albritton, sister of the bride, groomed as bridesmaid. Both were attired in floor-length apricot crepe princess style dresses with satin hats. They carried old fashioned nosegays with assorted flowers of carnations, daisies, roses, ivy with apricot streamers.

Tommy Jones Jr. wearing white short pants suit with knee socks, served as ring bearer.

Chuck Eason served as best man and Raymond P. Salis, brother of the bride and Russell Eason served as the ushers.

Grange 203 To Hold Meet

Avon Park Grange No. 203 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fullmer on Thursday evening, Sept. 5, with Master, Elmer Fullmer in the chair.

The master read a letter from the Virginia State Grange Home Economics Committee concerning a sample meat cook book which was sent to him. It contains 2,000 meat recipes from Grange members all over the United States. It has not only recipes for beef, veal, pork, poultry, seafood, wild game and casseroles, but also tells how to buy meat and all methods of cooking it both indoors and out. It was brought out that this would make an ideal wedding gift with no chance of duplication.

The program was presented by the Lecturer, Mrs. E. H. Fullmer. Flag number, song America; This Is My Life by Mrs. Zeno Warner. Grange sponsors Cooperatives, explained by the Lecturer, Grange Insurance by Barney Reas of Wauchula, the insurance representative for this section of the state. He explained why Grange members can secure better coverage for less. Thought for the day—it would be a better world if men showed as much patience all the time as they do when waiting for fish to bite.

Ernest Nickerson of Wauchula announced the next program of Hardee Grange on September 17 to be a safety program, and the following meeting on October 1 to be an open meeting with the public invited for the annual Booster Night program.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. No one has located a suitable hall for Grange meetings. Therefore, the next meeting of Avon Park Grange will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fullmer, 404 Oak St. at 8 P.M. September 18. The program at that time will be on Florida.

Recommendations: 1. Grade upon the basis of what is taught in class. 2. Inform the students concerning the method of grading. 3. Mental, social and physical aspects of education should be considered. 4. If possible, measure objectively. 5. The grading system in physical education should be consistent with other subjects in school. 6. An "educated person is a well rounded person and should develop some proficiency in physical education. 7. Use a grading system that parents can understand. 8. Other methods such as written reports, should be used in conjunction with the single marking system. 9. Skills test, written test, and fitness tests should play an important part in your grade system. 10. Students should not be surprised by their final physical education grade but should have some idea of their progress and help arrive at their grades. 11. Students are lost when they are graded strictly on attendance, effort, participation, behavior, showering, and dressing out. The factors become their objectives. Are they? Should they be? The writer thinks not.

Politicians On Piecework

Russ says it's too bad we pay politicians a monthly salary instead of one based on production. Then Representative Crabtree might not have missed 91% of the votes in the Constitutional Session. Russ had a better than 50% Present & Voting Record, 42-54 sessions. Representative Crabtree, why did you run away from the vote on prohibition of discrimination?

The police went to the scene of an accident where the man had run off the road and turned over. They asked him if he had been drinking. He replied, "Do you think I'm stupid enough to drive this way if I were sober?"

Litters Are Inexcusable

Across the country, business and individual concerns of every size and kind are participating in the litter prevention movement. Anti-litter activities are being incorporated into employee, customer and community relations programs; the anti litter theme is repeated in advertising and sales promotion campaigns. You are being informed now in many ways of the ugliness of litter and ignorance has become inexcusable.

The Library Corner

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church of Avon Park as the result of a study on Japan, presents to our library two books for the enjoyment and information of our readers.

The first book contains the story of a marriage that started the country of Japan. Grace M. Fletcher in her book, "The Bridge of Love," writes of the marriage of Merrill Vories, a young American architect, and Maki Hiyotsumi, the daughter of a Japanese nobleman. The Christian living of these two, one who renounced her noble birth, the other who took his wife's name when he became a Japanese citizen, showed their love and concern for the people of their country.

Maki started a mission for the villagers and a kindergarten for children who had run away in the streets. Merrill created the Oni Brotherhood and supported it by using his talents as an architect to earn the money.

It is an inspiring story which came to its fullest accomplishment following the test of their courage and ideals during World War II.

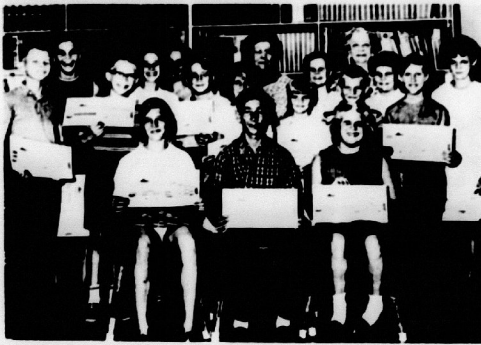

The second book, "Japan—Crossroads of East and West," is written by Ruth Kirk, who wishes to introduce to the young adults of the United States the Japanese traditions and their contemporary problems through an American's eye. At present the relationship between Japan and the United States is close; friendships are growing. It is very important that the people of both countries grow to understand each other.

Clara Curlee Dies

Clara M. Curlee died September 1 after a short illness in Walker Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Curlee, age 79, had lived in Avon Park for the past six years, coming here from Jacksonville. She was a registered nurse and employed at Walker Memorial Hospital.

Survivors include her husband, Paul Curlee, five children, Paula, Deborah, Philip, Garry and Allan. Her mother, Mrs. Daisy Clark Kent, Birmingham, and two brothers, D. J. Phillips, Houston, Tex.; Frank Phillips, Jacksonville; two sisters, Mrs. Bernice Chenevix of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Grace Dean of Panama City.

Services were held Friday Sept. 6 from the First Baptist Church with Rev. Aden Childress officiating. Burial was in Chatsworth cemetery, Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Scott Stephenson-Smith is in charge of local arrangements.

Award Party Given For Children In Library Summer Program

Children participating in the library Summer program were given an award party at the Avon Park Library on Saturday afternoon. At the close of school in the Spring each child interested was given a large card on which was a picture of a library. For each book read during the Summer each child was given a brick to surface and beautify his picture. The program was called, Build Your Own Library.

Mary Elaine Wright, first award winner with 56 books or bricks to her credit, told the story of Bucky Moran's Secret written by Margaret Leighton. Suzanne Sizemore, second award winner with 46 bricks, reviewed Sierra Gold Mystery by Carolyn Keene. Sherry Corbin was the third award winner with 36 bricks and Brian Greene received the fourth award with 52 bricks. Each award winner will receive a gift book.

Mrs. John Knapp gave some of the life of Hans Christian Andersen telling, as an example of one of his best-known, the story of The Little Mermaid.

Mrs. Louis Reiser, president of the library board, and Mrs. A. S. Paine served refreshments. Some of the patrons of this library were present.

RECOMMENDATION
The leaders of Florida's largest farm organization have voted to "strongly endorse and recommend passage" of the proposed new state Constitution, it was announced recently in Gainesville. A committee report stated that, in some ways, the new Constitution treated agriculture more fairly than the present document and that while the proposal was "far from perfect" it was an improvement over the Constitution of 1958.

Horse sense is what keeps a horse from the race track till he has to be there.

Rotary Report

By DAVID LARENCE

Last week Dick Hamm, personnel director at the Avon Park Correctional Institute, spoke to the club about the community work program which is being developed at the institution.

Mr. Hamm said that the basic objective of penal institutions is the protection of society from persons convicted of crimes. This protection terminates when the inmate is returned to society as at the expiration of the sentence and the institution has no further control or supervision of the former inmate. Also at the time the inmate is returned to free society the inmate faces a very difficult time in the transformation from prison to free society, particularly in the first few months after his release with no job or means of support. The former inmate in many cases find himself in trouble with the law again.

In recent years the penal institutions have recognized this problem and have assisted the former inmates in many ways in their return to society by vocational projects and job placements.

The community work program is another step to assist the inmate in his transformation from prison to free society. This program was authorized by the 1967 Florida Legislature and is a program in which a select number of inmates from various institutions are placed in jobs in the community prior to their release from the institution.

The number selected for this program is limited to two percent of the inmate population and only during the last six months of their prison sentence. These inmates are carefully screened and then placed in jobs for which they are best suited in various communities and, if possible, in or near the communities in which they plan to reside when they are released.

The institute provides transportation to and from the job and the inmate remains in the institute overnight. On the job the inmate is paid wages comparable with other employees. These wages are deposited to his account at the institute and turned over to him when he is released.

During the time he is employed, the employed inmate pays the state for room and board and in some cases is required to use his earnings for family support. The employer is under no special obligation or has no special responsibility for the employed inmate. The employer is not a custodian for the inmate and if the work is not satisfactory the employment may be terminated at any other employee.

Not only does this program assist the inmate in finding suitable employment but allows the institute to supervise the inmate during the time he is employed outside the institute.

It is believed that this program will be a great benefit in helping to bridge the gap between prison and free society.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

By Lucile McPherson

Mrs. Chas. Brush entertained Wednesday afternoon for the pleasure of her aunt, Mrs. Harry Longnecker. Two tables of bridge was in play. Mrs. Longnecker just recently returned home after a 10 week visit in Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

We are pleased to learn that Mildred Long has recovered from a bout with the shingles. They recently visited the Harry Browns and Earl Baxters in their respective home towns.

Mrs. Olive Kerwin attended the funeral services of her brother-in-law in St. Petersburg Friday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Harry Longnecker who had a pleasant visit with Mrs. Ralph Pinkerton who recently moved from Miami to St. Petersburg. In the afternoon Mrs. Kerwin and Mrs. Longnecker called on Mrs. Earl Amick in Dandelin. Mrs. Amick was a resident of our park.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doady had as their guests, Mrs. Coats brothers and sister-in-law, Gailbert Loxez, Lake Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Ami B. Loxez, Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blesser, Lawrence, Mich., and Avon Park, attended a World War One reunion at Mt. Henry, Ill. While there they stopped at Hill Crest, Ill., to call on Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglas. Mr. Douglas was in the hospital for observation. Mrs. Douglas said they expected to be in Avon Park the first part of October.

Reports from northern Wisconsin and Michigan are that there is every indication of an early Fall, which means the snow birds will soon be coming South.

Friends of Mrs. Cora Titus, a former resident of the park, learned of her auto accident last month near Ft. Wayne, Ind. She and the occupants of the car suffered neck whip lashes and were taken to the St. Joseph Hospital in Ft. Wayne for X-rays. The car was a total loss.
