Pets PEENES!
Good common sense dogs holds that treating home-laws can cause real trouble for dogs and cats. Weed killers and lawn insecticides can be swallowed by pets who have walked over a treated area. They pick it up by licking grass, or cleaning their paws. Killers such as Chloroform, can be just that for your pets. So it is best to keep Rover from roving about the treated area for at least three days, or until a good rain. Also, be sure not to leave the chemicals in a bucket—they could be a "drink in disguise."
Warm weather brings the "dog days" for a pup, because as the temperature goes up, so does his discomfort. Veterinarians say that a wet Spring and hot, and humid weather is generally irritating to the skin of most dogs.
But if your dog has been itching a great deal—and you haven't been able to scratch the surface in determining the cause, consider the probability of allergies.
Dogs just like humans—suffer from allergies (hypersensitivity) from agents like weed, grass and tree pollen and insects, and most commonly these affect a pet in the warm weather.
If you're itching to help your pet, here's a product guaranteed to bring relief or money back! It's called Enditch and is available at pet shops and pet departments. It contains the miracle-drug Prednisolone which relieves inflammation and quickly reduces redness and swelling. Enditch offers additional ingredients to fight allergies and provide your dog with healing nutrients to soothe his itchy skin.
Veterinarians warn against treating your pet with a stronger dose of medicine than necessary, but there is no need to worry with Enditch. It has the exact amount required in the edible tablets (which may be fed from your hand) or liquid which you can simply mix in the dog's food.
So make sure this warm season, allergies don't "hound" your pet. Keep this allergy antidote on hand and your pet's itch.

4 Episcopal Seminarians Working At Alcoholic Rehabilitation Clinic

There are four Episcopal Seminarians from various schools at work this summer at the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Clinic here. One of them is Willie Martin from the Missionary District of Nicaragua. He and his family have been welcomed to several services at the local Church of the Redeemer, and he will speak this Sunday, July 6, at the 9:30 A.M. service, telling something of his native land, and the work the church is doing there. Everyone is invited to hear him, and to meet him and his family at the coffee hour, after service.

The other seminarians mentioned are Martin Rini of Notre Dame, Roy Allen of Virginia Seminary, and Dennis Kazar of Seawee. Later in the summer we plan to hear from these men too. These latter three men are making their summer home at the Conference Center at Camp Waumgan, an outpost of the Diocese of South Florida.

Time now to remind parents and youngsters of the joint daily Vacation Bible School to be held August 4 to 15 in the First United Methodist Church; jointly sponsored by the United Methodist Church, the First Presbyterian Church, and the United Congregational Church, and the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer. Applications are available at the above churches. All children of the community are welcome!

Removing a damaged section of wooden siding is easier if you first pry up the board before cutting it. Drive wedges underneath to lift it, then cut through the board with a handsaw. A saw below right under the saw will prevent damage to the good wood.

D. R. CASTONIA

New Pastor At Seventh-day Adventist

Pastor D. R. Castonia of the Walker Memorial Seventh-Day Adventist Church comes from the Bradenton Church where he has been for the past four years.

Graduated from Union College, Nebraska, with a BA Degree in religion in 1953. Since graduation he has held positions in Colorado and Nebraska before coming to Florida.

His wife's name is Mary A., and they were married August 4, 1948, and have two children, Rachel Lynn age 15 and Paul Scott age 13. The Castonias have purchased a home on Wolf Street in Avon Park and will be making their home here.

Saturday evening, June 28, a pantry shower and reception was held in the auditorium of the Highlands Junior Academy for the new pastor and family of the Walker Memorial Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

After refreshments were served, George Walper, manager of the Walker Memorial Hospital, gave a very interesting program showing color pictures of their recent trip to Hawaii.

Friday evening, June 27, parents and friends gathered in the Walker Memorial Seventh-Day Adventist Church for a graduation service for nearly seventy children who had attended a two week Vacation Bible School. The children demonstrated in song and verse what they had learned and proudly displayed the crafts which they had completed and were taking home.

JOHANN FRANZ TOMSCHE (left) of Avon Park, was the tour leader of the Maupin Festival Tour to the Orient which departed from San Francisco International Airport recently on a Japan Air Lines Jet Courier. The trip will take four members to Japan for the colorful, yearly Hollyhock Festival as well as visits to the most picturesque Japanese villages, temples and shrines. Also on the group's itinerary are Taipei, Manila, Bangkok, Hong Kong and Honolulu. Tomsche is shown with Maupinfour Associates' Regional Manager, Stephen Elliott, as they collected the group's passports before boarding.

Youth Choir Attends Baptist Assembly

Ten young people of the youth choir of the First Baptist Church spent June 11 through June 19 at Redgeport, N. C., attending the Baptist Assembly.

Attending with the group were Mrs. Jane Wells, Cheryl Guerdin and Stanley Wells.

Those attending from Avon Park were Donald Batts, Bill Wall, Tommy Reynolds, Merce Henry, Marshall Wilson, Neida Watson, Beverly Wicker, Carol Wicker, Debbie Phelps, and Neida Strength.

They enjoyed mountain climbing and many exciting experiences, on their return trip stopped at Six Flags Over Georgia.

All successful movements from Christianity the BKS have had descriptive symbols.

Equalization Board Recessed Until July 15

Nary a soul turned up Tuesday when the county commissioners opened their annual session as the board of equalization. A number of taxpayers had registered complaints about assessments, but most had worked out difficulties with Tax Assessor J. W. "Billy" Martin prior to Tuesday's equalization hearing.

At the suggestion of Board Attorney Blue Numaltee the commissioners recessed the equalization meeting until July 15. He explained that only the board adjourns, it cannot hold a new session this year.

The board of equalization is given authority to order that all like kinds of property be as-essed alike; it does not set values on property.

Fossils of redwood trees, bananas, magnolias, grapes, persimmons and figs have all been found in Yellowstone Park—and none are native there now.

Reindeer are usually classed as being the oldest domesticated animal in the world.

33 Golfers Play Over Weekend

A safe and sane Fourth of July weekend was spent at home on the golf course. The 33 golfers participating to see who could go the farthest, found five players who had not used up all their strokes after 18 holes. Gusie Sullivan, shooting his best round here at Avon Park Golf Course, planted his flag just off the green on No. 2. Second place went to Terry Akin, in the cup on No. 1. Third place winner Al Fastrough, planted his flag on the first green. Fourth place won by Jack Dugan, just nosed out Al Sanders by a few feet on No. 1 fairway.

Last Wednesday's Pro Am was washed out and 16 players received a good soaking. Saturdays Blind Partners was won by Bill Beck, Jr. and Jim Turnbull with a best ball of 60.

With all the rain we have had, it is hard to keep up with cutting the fairways and roughs. The golf course is in the best shape it has ever been, come out and see for yourself.

Saturday Night Jamboree Draws Record Crowd with Local Talent

Helping are regulars such as Chet Gook, master of ceremonies; Patti Goff, who plays a "mean" piano; Billie Goff and Carolyn Goodson, vocalists.

Each Saturday night performance promises to be packed full of local guests as well. Past features have in-

Alcoholic Center Receives Grant From Library & Historical Group

The patient library at the Florida Alcoholism Treatment and Research Center, Avon Park, will be more adequate for the state's alcoholics due to a 1960 grant from the State Library and Historical Society, Tallahassee.

James B. Whitaker, clinical social worker, PATRC, says the grant monies have purchased three tape recorders, tapes, encyclopedias, 50 long playing albums, 150 new books, FM radio and typewriter.

Miss Laura Snyder, state institutional librarian, also made arrangements for the Center to receive record players for use with the talking-book series.

"None of this has ever been available to our patients in the Center's 13 year history," says Whitaker. This will help their

Mrs. Alyce Fisher, coordinator, for patient activities, says "This will allow the patients to reorganize their thinking. Some have lost years; this will bring them up-to-date."

The grant was made possible under the Federal Library Services and Construction Act, Title 4-A.

Tax Assessment On Pasture Land Will Double This Year

Tax assessments on all pasture lands in Highlands County will be just about doubled when the tax bills go out next October, unless a recent court ruling is overturned.

And there are only faint hopes that it will be.

It afflicts about 2,000 pieces of property in the county. Tax Assessor Billy Martin told the County Commission at a budget hearing Tuesday. He prefaced his announcement with "a bombshell has fallen on the 17 counties in the Central and South Florida Flood Control District."

Martin could not immediately tell how many acres are involved or their present valuation. He said he plans to start "pulling the cards" immediately for reassessment purposes.

He estimated later, however, that the reassessment will affect 75 per cent of Highlands County's 10,944 square miles. He said he could not tell the effect of the reassessment on the millage rate at this time. It obviously will be a big increase, informed sources agreed, to taxpayers who do not own pasture land.

The 17 counties in the flood control district are: Alachua, Citrus, Duval, Escambia, Franklin, Gadsden, Hamilton, Hardee, Hendry, Hernando, Hillsdale, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, Leon and Levy.

since that time had been in touch with other tax assessors as to what to do. There will be a meeting of assessors Friday in Tampa, he said, when more should be known about the ruling, handed down by Judge Taylor.

Martin, upon questioning, said he does not know how the base values were arrived at by the office of State Revenue Director.

Ed Straughn, which is implementing the ruling, but he said men from that office had been in his office and had examined a cross section of about 30 acres on a pasture land compared to assessed value.

Martin said "Good court people have nothing to do with the case — individuals brought the case."

Martin said he and his staff cannot go out and inspect the various parcels — "some you can't get to" — even Hovine, which handled the county's reassessment program in 1966 had to use a helicopter.

Martin said the "only logical thing is for the assessors to get together. We know our pastures can not compare with Hendry or Palm Beach County. They have much land and can graze twice as many cows per acre."

He said his office has several kinds of pasture—like semi-improved, improved, sand scrub, and marshland.

Martin must reassess all native pasture, semi-improved pasture and improved pasture. At present time the assessment rate is: native pasture, $40 per acre; semi-improved pasture, $50 to $60 per acre; improved pasture, $100 to $150 per acre.

Under the table determined by Straughn, rate ranges will become: native pasture, $30 to $50 per acre; semi-improved pasture, $100 to $150 per acre; improved pasture, $200 to $400 per acre. As outlined by Straughn, Martin said, the assessment can deviate from this to a limit of 33 1/3 per cent above, or 33 1/3 per cent below, the criteria of conditions outlined by Straughn.

Martin estimated that with the new rates, the county is losing, and though they "stick to the lower limits, it will be necessary to double our values."

Inflation's Pinch

If your budget doesn't stretch these days—although it was adequate a year ago—you're feeling the pinch of inflation.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics noted that the biggest villain in food—which reaches all of us. The rise in the past year has been 17.4 pennies per each dollar. And every dollar is a take-home dollar—the dollar you spend after your taxes on your income have been paid.

And 17.4 pennies is almost a quarter out of every dollar and this is a serious thing. The next biggest villain, not affecting so many of us, luckily, is mortgage interest, up 13.9 pennies per dollar. That's a hefty item on a 15 year loan.

The third biggest villain is clothes and clothes care—11.8 pennies per dollar rise in the last year. Other increases in the past year, on the pennies per dollar scale were: medical care, 8.2c; furnishings and appliances, 6.1c; home maintenance and repair, 5.0c; reading and recreation, 3.9c; property taxes, home insurance, 3.4c; auto repairs, other service, 3.2c; auto purchase, new and used, 2.4c; public transportation, 1.8c.

The little guy, who pays the bulk of this country's taxes, is heading for real trouble unless this galloping—not creeping—inflation is stopped. You just can't stretch dollars that far. Pennies don't mean much any more, nickels haven't for some time, dimes shortly will follow and then the quarter won't mean a heck of a lot. A spool of thread, for instance, costs 20c these days.

This is real tragedy for persons on fixed incomes, particularly older persons, who can't get out and supplement their meager incomes. The useless war in Vietnam is the real culprit in the inflationary upward spiral, and until we stop spending money there and get things like the unfair oil depletion allowance and tax dodges straightened out, we average Joe's are going to hurt.

Not So Fabulous Fable

They are telling a story around Washington that bears repeating. It is attributed to Ohio Senator Stephen M. Young, who sometimes gets just a bit impatient with those citizens who cuss at government assistance as an unjustified system of handouts to unworthy persons.

According to Sen. Young's amusing tale, there once was a young man who lived with his parents in a low cost public housing development. He attended public school, supported by tax dollars, rode the free school bus and was nourished in part by the free lunch program.

Following graduation from public high school he entered the Army and after discharge, kept his National Service Life Insurance. He then enrolled in a tax supported state university, receiving regularly his GI check. Upon graduation he married a public health nurse and bought a farm with an FHA loan.

He prospered enough to go into the feed and hardware business on the side and obtained help from the Small Business Administration. His son and daughter were born in the county hospital which had been built in part with Hill-Burton federal funds.

Then he put part of his land under the soil bank program and used the income for not growing crops to help pay his debts. His elderly parents lived comfortably in the smaller of his two farm houses, using their Social Security and old age assistance checks with Medicare covering most of their doctor and hospital bills.

His electricity came from the Rural Electrification Administration facility and a loan from the Farmers Home Administration had helped clear the land. That agency suggested that he build a pond which was stocked with fish from a government source. As noted, he became moderately prosperous and banked his money where it was covered by $15,000 government insurance.

Eventually his children went through the same public schooling he had enjoyed and went on to college, receiving financial assistance from the National Defense Student Loan Program and the Nurse Training Act. Both lived in dormitories and studied in classrooms paid for with federal funds.

By this time our farmer had become a leading figure in his community, and it was rumored that he had joined a cell of the Liberty Lobby, a rightwing group which opposed all forms of federal aid.

He wrote his Senators and Congressmen, saying, "I believe in rugged individualism. People should stand on their own two feet and not expect government aid. I oppose big government, the United Nations and excessive government spending."

He enclosed John Birch propaganda pamphlets and concluded, "I oppose all these socialistic trends you have been voting for and demand return to the free enterprise system of our forefathers!"

Well, that's the story. The character is fictitious, but his real life counterparts exist. We think we know some of them hereabouts.

Man Discovers God's Secrets

When man sets foot on the surface of the moon, he will be attempting to discover the answers to some of the questions that have remained unanswered ever since there was a man to ask them.

Which of God's secrets will be revealed to man's inquiring mind?

Men have no secrets from God, but He has many secrets from us.

Some of His secrets are so deeply hidden that man, in his present state of scientific knowledge, cannot discover them.

Some, on the other hand, can be known by those who will patiently and intelligently search for the answers.

Secrets Revealed
The great Negro scientist, George Washington Carver, used to tell the story of his achievements in this way:

"I asked the Lord to reveal to me the secrets of the universe," he said, "but the Lord said, 'That's a little too big for you.'"

So I asked Him to reveal to me the secrets of the peanut.

Some time ago, he said, "I am confident that we will one day land on the moon and travel throughout our solar system—and perhaps even beyond. After all, we are merely visiting what God has created."

"God knew that man would visit space—that's why it is so beautiful out there. He knew, too, that if we look, the next thing is to go."

By BABSON'S REPORTS INCORPORATED
Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 10, 1969. Prices for farm land rose six per cent last year, on average, reaching another new all-time peak. Sharpest gains were concentrated in the southern states, Georgia leading the list with a spectacular advance of 14 per cent. Question now is: Will the value of farm land keep going up? If so, at what pace? And for how long?

As of now, the staff of Babson's Reports looks for further gains in the value of farm land, at least for the years immediately ahead. The price climb will be less drastic over the next year or so than during the course of 1968, but it will still be noteworthy. Strong demand for such property is assured as long as there is a steadily expanding need for food both here and abroad and a continuing powerful trend toward ever larger, highly mechanized farms.

As far as return on investment in agricultural property is concerned, prices in some sections for the nation have risen above the point of economic justification.

Basically, the value of farm land should be determined by the possible profitability of the acreage. But some land will continue to rise in price in the years just ahead simply because there are people who have a lot more confidence in physical assets than they have in the dollar.

Where Costs Are Highest
Farm real estate prices now average some 175 per cent higher than they did in 1950, representing an average annual compound rate of 5.4 per cent. This compares with a rate of only 2.2 per cent in the level of general prices.

Hence, it may be seen how great has been the reliance on the future of farm land over recent years. The average dollar value per acre is highest in the dollar.

There are, however, some possibilities that are not all ray. If inflationary forces are definitely cooled, farm land value will probably give ground to some degree. Then, rising taxes and other operational

When He said, "Well, now, that's more your size." So God did reveal to him the secrets of the peanut—secrets that had been hidden from all men before.

Carver achieved fame and could have had a fortune, but he preferred to continue to work in his laboratory in Tuskegee, Alabama, discovering more of the secrets that God had hidden in the peanut.

Another outstanding Christian, Walter F. Burke, has turned his talents, however, to discovering the secrets of the universe.

Burke, as president of McDonnell Astronautics Company, has had a very prominent part in space exploration.

Some time ago, he said, "I am confident that we will one day land on the moon and travel throughout our solar system—and perhaps even beyond. After all, we are merely visiting what God has created."

"God knew that man would visit space—that's why it is so beautiful out there. He knew, too, that if we look, the next thing is to go."

Effects of Population Growth
The climb in population totals has a tremendous impact on farm land requirements. The decline seen in the national birth rate during recent years appears to be reversing itself, and more young people are reaching the age of consent.

Even the earlier move toward planned parenthood and a consequent tendency toward smaller families may also be gradually turning around. All of which will, of course, mean more mouths to feed.

Keep in mind, too, that there is only so much land available to farming needs. Over the past 20 years, people have flocked from cities to the outer suburbs, and beyond. Manufacturing and service establishments have also migrated similarly into localities once chiefly occupied with farming.

This away-from-the-city surge will continue to absorb still more agricultural acreage. The encroachment of highways will only become more widespread as the population and its use of autos and trucks grows. So, as farm property is further compressed, there is no place for farm prices to go but up.

Some Salt Spots

impossible for anyone but God to know how far He will permit us to venture.

Eternal Question
But Burke added this thought, "There is one thing that no interplanetary exploration will ever answer for me, and that is, why does God love me? Why did He send His Son to die for us in order to provide us with eternal life in fellowship with Him?"

Why God loves us and wants us to love Him may never be revealed to us by scientific exploration, but the Bible gives us the answer. It is God's nature to love—because "God is love."

The secret method by which God changes men into His likeness is one which can be discovered by human minds, but it can be experienced. The Bible says, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creation. Old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new and all things are of God."

If you have had this happen to you, you have experienced the year of our life or the greatest of God's secrets.

Pasture Land—

Highlands County pasture owners, who was assessed on the basis of $2,300.00 in pasture land last year, will have an assessment this year of $7,900.00. The owners, he said, looked into it, and found the change "could not help but mean a big boost in the valuation."

Col. Guy "Lucky" Campbell, secretary of the Highlands County Property Owners Association, said his group has appealed to the state comptroller's office to the decision in the case on the grounds the ruling is discriminatory against pastures. Similar appeals are being outlined elsewhere, he said.

But Burke added this thought, "There is one thing that no interplanetary exploration will ever answer for me, and that is, why does God love me? Why did He send His Son to die for us in order to provide us with eternal life in fellowship with Him?"

Rambling Thoughts

GENERAL PATTON ORDERS CHAPLAIN TO GET THE RAIN STOPPED

Along toward the beginning of the World War II, General George Patton succeeded in getting some of his forward elements on the opposite side of the River Blies and parts of the German border. Right at this fortunate juncture the rain started to come down in a Noah-like deluge that stopped the advance, making Patton describe the weather as his PRIME enemy.

With his strong faith in his super powers, he would not go along with people who would always condemn bad weather and never do anything about it. He summoned his Chaplain for a conference in which would be discussed military science with the rains.

"Chaplain," Patton said to the man of God, "I want you to pray for dry weather. I am sick and tired of my boys having to fight mud and floods as well as the damned Germans. See if you can't persuade God to work more on our side."

"Sir," replied the Chaplain, "It is going to take a pretty thick rug for that kind of praying."

"Oh, don't care if it takes a whole damn flying carpet," Patton said. "I want you to get up a good prayer for good weather."

"Yes, sir," said the Chaplain, "But permit me to say, General, that it isn't the customary thing among men of my profession to have a curfew hour for bad weather like that fellow man."

"Chaplain," Patton roared, "Are you teaching me theology or are you the Chaplain of the Army? I want a prayer for those who want them. It utilizes 65 tunnels and 67 bridges in 120 miles of three-mile altitude track."

Greeks used sponges to pad the inside of their armored suits.

Spec. 4 Kerklin received the award for heroism in action while engaged in ground operations against a hostile force in Vietnam.

A truck driver in Company C, 5th Battalion of the 9th Infantry Division's 4th Infantry, Spec. 4 Kerklin entered the Army in February 1969, completed basic training at Ft. The plastic bags which many dry cleaners use to protect suits and dresses are better than tissue paper for use in the folds of clothes going into suitcases. The plastic lasts longer, doesn't wrinkle easily, and forms natural air pockets that help keep wrinkles out of clothes.

Charles Romilly and Chris Cabezas won. In the main event, Tom Clarke and Ruth Jordan came in second. In consolation the winners were Gertrude Fensterman and Helen Floyd over Ethel Kime and George Ormiston.

Card Games
Pinchle played every Monday afternoon, and this week the high scores went to William Trapp and Henry Reddick with 1028 and 931.

Dances
The few square dancers enjoyed the dancing every Monday and Friday evenings. Mabel Cabezas celebrated her Fourth of July birthday and all sang happy birthday to her.

Supper

The supper group celebrated the Fourth of July with a supper that evening with 36 present. Illean Kull was the hostess and George Armstrong asked the blessing.

Guests at the supper were Rev. and Mrs. Clay Jennings of Anne Janke, William Dickinson of his parents, Dick and Helen Dickinson and Mrs. Jess Bennington was the guest of Bea Tingle.

A patriotic program was carried out with readings from our flag by Helen Dickinson, Yvonne Beall, Clara Truex, Ina Selfert and Helen Baker. Mary Corne read "The Tribute To The Flag" and "The Origin of the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" was read by Illean Kull.

The Pledge of Allegiance was given by all. And the program was concluded by all singing "America" and "America The Beautiful" accompanied by Agnes Dentler.

The group was saddened by the announcements of the deaths of Scott DeGolyer, Orren Mast and the daughter of Mrs. Clarence Higgs.

The group dispersed to play cards, shuffle, and later the dancing.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

By POWELL WAITE

Wilford J. Beumel, Dean of Instruction at South Florida Junior College presented an "eye opening" program last Wednesday. For his talk Mr. Beumel chose the topic "Peak at the Past and Present plus a Preview of the Projected Places, People and Problems."

With this for a beginning he presented some historical background on a few of the so called "impossible" innovations of past years, such as the steam engine, the cotton gin, the electric light and other discoveries which astonished people of that time.

He then brought us up to date with some interesting facts and figures about our present living and economic conditions. We were able to accept these and think that we may have had a small part in the success of these times. After talking about the present he really "cocked it to us" with some fantastic projections for the not too distant future.

According to the projections taken from several leading magazines there are a few of the things we can expect by the year 2000:

A population of 318 million. A gross national product of three trillion dollars. An average work week of 28 hours; Paid vacations 13 weeks a year.

Very little check writing. Purchases will be paid for by on the spot computer connected with your bank; Minimum guaranteed income for all people. Parents can choose sex of their children. Interplanetary travel. Basic food supply coming from the ocean.

By the time Mr. Beumel finished his talk we were all shaking our heads in disbelief that our country will change so much. We should be thankful that man has the ability to bring about such changes.

For the members who didn't like or understand his original topic Mr. Beumel offered this alternate topic which fit the same speech, "A Fleet Footed Fearless Forecast of the Future Fleeting from the Flux of Financial Fact and Folklore."

Kenneth E. Gainous, SA, U.S.N., 20, a graduate of Avon Park High School is spending two weeks with his sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lunsford of Avon Park, after completing his recruit training period at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, where he learned the many aspects of his new navy life.

Ken tells his local recruit-ers in Lakeland that he did enjoy his training and he must have, for he was selected as the outstanding recruit out of 80 men in his company plus helping them to win the flag award for the best company in drills.

Enlisting in the Navy's delay program in February of this year, he went to active duty in April under the high school graduate training program which enabled him to be selected for the Navy's submarine training school at New London, Conn.

This again is another feat as the standards are very high for men selected to this group.

Yes, it's the U. S. Navy's slogan of, "If you're going to be something, why not be something special." Proof that our young men are well taken care of and their merits rewarded.

RUTH E. ROBINSON

This week brought a few more departures from our Park, to whom we wish a pleasant vacation. Rosa Bennington left from Sebring by train on Sunday around noon for a visit to her sister in Louisville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Baker chose Wednesday to return home in Urbana, Ohio, probably take more trips to the East, Pennsylvania and other spots to be decided later. We are glad to report that Catherine is feeling much better.

Bea Tingle will be leaving on Friday by train for a visit to Meramar, where she will spend a week or two with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loehen.

LaRue Longenecker arrived safely in the North spending some days in northern Michigan and then traveling south to her daughter's home in LaPorte, Ind. We do expect her back in Avon Park, however, before the end of July.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Basil Krontz have moved into their new mobile home near Butler, enjoying it very much. Good news about Olen Krontz, also is much improved and is now at home with his family. His son, Olen, 4 months old keeps them all happy, especially grandma and grandpa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibb will be going to Miami for a consultation with a new doctor for possible surgery for Lillian. She needs our prayers for her comfort and healing.

Gilbert Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Reynolds stopping by for a look-see at his parents' mobile home, ventured to say that he wouldn't be surprised if they were to return here in a couple of weeks! The cold weather up North this year is hard to take for those who are used to the "sunny" South.

We are all praying for those friends in Ohio, who might have had damage from the severe storms of the July 4th holiday, hoping they all escaped safely.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schindler (Mel and Gerry) of Freeport, Ill., spent a few days of their vacation here with Gerry's mother, Mrs. Ella Roenneberg. They enjoyed a trip to the Keys, then stopped back to bid Ella "Au Revoir" until next year. On the way home to Freeport, they will interrupt their journey long enough to see St. Petersburg, Tampa and Tallahassee. Ella's other

Next Tuesday Is Deadline For Entering Steers in Livestock Show

The deadline for entering fat steers and purebred animals in the 1970 Highlands County Junior Livestock Show is July 15—next Tuesday. Steers and purebred animals are to be owned and on feed before entry can be made, according to Tim Harner, Jr., assistant county agricultural agent. To be eligible to enter a steer or purebred cattle in the Junior Livestock Show at the 1970 Highlands County Fair you must (1) be a 4-H or FFA member in Highlands County, (2) own a steer or purebred animal that fits the qualifications outlined in the show rules and regulations.

Entry blanks and copies of the show rules and regulations can be obtained from Mr. Harner, Sebring, and from the VFA teachers or FFA advisors in Avon Park, Sebring, and Lake Placid. Winners of last year's fat steer show were Roni Benshoer, Sebring, grand champion, and Del Murphy, Avon Park, reserve grand champion. The purebred beef cattle show was reactivated this year after being inactive for several years.

Legion Closes Season With Win Over Wauchula

The Avon Park legion baseball team finished out its abbreviated season with a five inning 1-1 victory over Wauchula last Monday to set a record of six wins and two losses. The Post 50 team defeated Wauchula all four times and split with Sebring two and two. Last Monday night Wauchula scored one run in the top of the first inning as the lead-off batter drew a walk and then scored when the Avon Park infield committed four errors before retiring the side. Young left-hander Don Sizemore hurled a no-hitter at the Wauchula club and walked only one other batter in the five-inning affair. Avon Park made a total of six errors in the game.

Centerfielder Steve Walker, who is slated to play for the South Florida Junior College Panthers next season, paced Avon Park at the plate slugging out a triple and a double and scoring three runs. Clark Jackie closed the game with a single and Dennis Hart and Robert Sizemore both had two singles each. Glen Sizemore finished out the hitting for Avon Park with a single for a total of nine hits off losing pitcher Larry Thornton. Avon Park scored one run in the first inning to tie the game up and then broke loose in the second frame to push eight runs over on four hits and one error. In the third Avon Park scored two more runs and then held on to take the game in five innings with the 10-run lead run.

Communion Service Sunday

A communion service will be held this Sunday in all Christian Science churches. All are welcome. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Sacrament" and includes Jesus' words, "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word." Related passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Eddy include the following: "That he might liberally pour his dear-bought treasures into empty or stilled human storehouses, was the inspiration of Jesus' intense human sacrifice—the purpose of his great life-work extends through time and includes universal humanity."

Former Resident To Be Ordained Episcopal Priest

A former resident of Avon Park and member of the Parish of the Redeemer, John E. Bodie, will be ordained Priest in the Episcopal Church of All Saints, Lakeland, next Saturday, July 19, at 10:30 A.M. The Bodie family were well known here during the years they were associated with the service at Pinecrest before the advent of the Highlands School for Girls. Bodie was ordained deacon almost a year ago, after serving several years as a lay reader and studying under the direction of the diocesan examining chaplain. He is a retired colonel in the U. S. Air Force and has a teacher's certificate in history with an MA degree. His career began in the church's service as a lay reader in the Redeemer, Avon Park. The public is invited to the service Saturday and many will enjoy driving to Lakeland to the service. Others are asked to have him in their prayers. The July meeting of the vestry of the Church of the Redeemer, Avon Park, will be next Sunday, July 13, during the coffee hour.

Chambers Of Commerce To Get 2,350

The three Chambers of Commerce in Highlands County were told at a budget meeting of the County Commission Tuesday that each of them will be allowed $2,350 county funds as compared to $2,000 last year. However, it was pointed out that the county will do none of the promotional advertising they did last year and that it will be up to each Chamber to do its own. The tentative county budget will be advertised July 17 and 24 and a public hearing will be held August 5 before the budget is adopted.

Bob Youngs Attend High School Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Young and family, Del Rio, Tex. and Bob, Jr., have returned home after attending the Anniston, Ala., High School 26th reunion July 4 and 5, at Downtowner Motel Inn.

Old times were reminiscenced by the 160 people who attended the gala festivities. Many remembered that in its own way their mothers were just as outrageous as any today. They jitterbugged to "Shoo-Fly Pie" and "Cement Mixer Putty Putty."

They recalled that at times the heat of a fast jitterbug would begin to melt the starch in the voluminous petticoats the girls wore under their hooped formal and it would begin to drip to the floor.

It seems that dating was just as popular then as it is now only then it was double or as many as you could get on a panel truck or squeeze into a small sedan.

Fads were in style too. One group of boys referred to themselves as the SCABs, bought clothes from the Army surplus store and wore them to school on certain days. It was finally revealed that SCAB stood for "supplies, clothes and boys."

The happy group entertained themselves with an ice breaker party, a banquet, with Bob Young as the master of ceremonies, and a family pool party.

The class of 1943 and 1949 were invited to attend, and members came from as far as Ohio, New Jersey and Oklahoma. Bob Young was chairman of the event, with Mrs. Nan Triplett Christian, Mrs. Jane Edwards Wheeler, Bill Snyder, all of Anniston making up the committee.

It was noted that 30 of the 139 who graduated with the class of 1949 are still in the Anniston area. Three out of the class are married, this within itself made the event more sentimental.

Burial and ceremonial mounds are located closely.

Chamber Asks For Christmas Light Money

Our City Council was reminded that time is fleeting and Christmas is coming when a letter was read from the Chamber of Commerce requesting $3000 for Christmas lights and decorations.

Action on the request was postponed until the council meets to prepare the budget for the coming fiscal year beginning October 1.

The Council did however vote to let the Chamber $500 of the amount budgeted for them in the present year.

The general trend of the last City Council meeting was to postpone all non-essential expenses until the opening of the new fiscal year.

Miscellaneous actions of council were as follows:

New hours for users of the city dump were approved after Brock Johnson presented his problems as gatekeeper.

The new hours will be 8 A.M. until noon and 1 P.M. to 2 P.M.

Mr. Selzer and Mr. Mize of Florida Gas Company, owners of the new natural gas franchise for Avon Park, were present and reported progress in their federal application.

Shelly Marrs has finally signed a lease with the city after months of contention over airport rights. A motion was made by Lane and seconded by Howard that the city should carry the cost of the lease.

Several violations of building codes were reported. Under loosely drawn definitions what has been commonly known as the "back porch" is now a separate building.

In the act of mercy a motion made by Lane and seconded by Scott and unanimously carried, it was agreed to build sidewalks around some private porches extending into the light of way.

On some property nearer the center of Avon Park city requests to clean up have been ignored. A motion was made by Lane and seconded by Howard that the city clean up one such piece of property and send the owner a bill.

Including a provision for building and electrical inspection was passed unanimously.

A motion was unanimously passed also, to give our city building inspectors a two-week vacation and to give George Farmer of the police department one week pay in lieu of a vacation.

Temporary employees were approved as follows: Walter Gates, Street Department; Bobby Light, Police Department; Moselle Johnson, Water Department; and Steve Walker, golf course. Scott voted against the action.

A new industry has requested that the city consider construction of a building costing some $50,000 at the airport for its use.

The council naturally expressed some interest but at such figures are not at present available, it considered an increase in the rate for the company to build on.

In a closing act the council voted to place on the city election ballot September 9 one of George Hayne's recent suggestions, namely, that voters be given a chance to express themselves for or against prayer and Bible reading in public school.

Outcome will have no legal significance but will doubtless increase the number of voters going to the polls.

Another suggestion of Hayne's was considered namely the two-year elections be restored instead of the present annual elections, thus saving the city considerable money. No action was taken on this suggestion at the July 14th meeting, however.

Council Instructs Attorney To Prepare Tax Ordinance

Avon Park residents are to be taxed for all utilities, water, electricity, gas, fuel, and telephone. A 10 per cent tax on all utility bills, up to a maximum of $1 per utility, was unanimously agreed upon by the city council. The city attorney has been instructed to prepare an ordinance to have it ready for reading at the next meeting.

The councilmen in taking this action were fully aware that it would raise a howl of protest and might even result in more people filing suits in the city court.

However, a unanimous vote on such an issue just prior to an election revealed two things, namely: the urgent need for additional city income and the courage of the councilmen in facing an issue head on.

City Offers Site To Construct Fire Building

Mack Flowers, who recently returned from a gathering of the State Firemen's Association, informed the city council that the association is considering construction of a $20,000 to $25,000 building in central Florida for its state headquarters.

In consulting with other members of the association, he felt that Avon Park had a good opportunity to furnish the site and that eventually there might also be constructed a museum in connection with the office building.

A motion made by Martin and seconded by Howard was passed unanimously. The motion offers a site up to five acres on Highway 27 on conditions that proposed office building be constructed within one year from the date of the deed.

Flowers also informed the council that the new civil service board met last Wednesday and was in the process of making rules and regulations for the hiring of city employees.

By straw vote Susanne drove a three year term, Sedyk a two year term and Kelly a one year term. This one member of the board hereafter will be elected each year.

Considerable discussion was held concerning the hours on duty of the present firemen. Some councilmen felt that firemen hours on duty should be reduced to more nearly the same hours as other city employees though they may not have a half dozen calls in the course of a month.

Objections were raised by the audience to the city hire more firemen to take the place of specialists capable of doing only one thing. The suggestion was made that the city hire more firemen to take the place of specialists capable of doing only one thing.

The suggestion was made that the city hire more firemen to take the place of specialists capable of doing only one thing. The suggestion was made that the city hire more firemen to take the place of specialists capable of doing only one thing.

One applicant for position as fireman appeared before the council. However, due to money shortage the council decided to postpone all such hiring until the new budget is approved for the coming year.

Robert J. Barben Qualifies For Mayor; Election September 9

Robert J. Barben, former councilman, tossed his hat in the ring for mayor Monday making the second to qualify for the seat. Robert Hanford qualified last week. Mayor Jimmy Doer has not stated officially if he intends to seek another term or not.

With two city council seats and the mayor office up for grabs only the two incumbents, Milton Howard and Rodney Lane have qualified for council. The deadline for qualifying is August 8.

Barben served on the council two terms from 1963 to 1967. He has a bachelor of science degree from Jacksonville College in Jacksonville, Fla., and a law degree from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.

For the past 20 years Barben has been a resident of Avon Park. He is married to the former Jane Hart and they are the parents of seven children.

The former councilman is vice president and production manager of Citrus Church, a Sunday School teacher and served five years as club master. He is also a member of the Rotary Club.

City election will be held Tuesday, Sept. 9.

Armed Bandits Rob Bill's Corner Saturday

Four armed bandits held up Bill's Corner last Saturday night and got off with over $1,100 in cash.

Two employees of the store were on duty. Gilbert Beane was out side of the building putting up a case of empty bottles when he was ordered to lay down at gun point, while three other men held Estelle Porter at gun point making off with the cash, his pack of beer and the personal belongings of Mrs. Porter.

Approximately $38 was lifted from Beane's pockets outside. Police were called at 9:30 P.M. and arrived within two minutes, and another patrol car within three minutes of the call.

The Avon Park police department under the supervision of Chief Earl Gordon assisted by the sheriff's department, is investigating the hold up. No arrests have been made as yet.

School Board's Budget Is Biggest In County's History

The Highlands County school board's budget for the coming year, tentatively approved by the board Thursday night, is the highest in history at $4,538,000.

But this is only $60,000 above last year's budget despite the fact that the board had to include nearly $200,000 additional in the budget over last year because of laws passed by the Legislature. It took considerable shifting around and some cutting.

The tentative millage will be approximately $20 this year as compared to $18.50 last year. Of this $20 is for operating, 1.30 for debt service.

Superintendent of Schools George Douglas declared: "We feel the millage of $20 can be reduced significantly when the increased valuations on pasture lands are added to the tax rolls."

"We will adopt the budget but we can not certify the millage until the tax roll is complete," Tax Assessor Billy Martin and his staff are busy revaluing pasture lands as the result of a court ruling which is expected to double their valuation in Highlands County.

The tentative budget will be advertised July 17 and there will be a public hearing July 24 at 9:30 A.M., after which the budget, or a revised version, will be approved.

The three items contributing to the additional money the board had to budget for were a shifting of $130,000 in the minimum foundation program from the state to the county level; the fact that the county rather than the state must match employee's contributions to the retirement fund amounting to $26,575 here; and a cost of $44,791 increase to the county for the Junior College program.

Douglas said an increase in property values this past year, plus a half mill levy, has offset the loss of state monies.

Douglas commended Robert Stowell, finance officer, who spent "many hours working on this budget, shifting wherever possible to take advantage of state support programs."

"We have tried to maintain the type of program people want while recognizing the right of the taxpayer," Douglas said.

One of the actions taken at Thursday night's meeting was tentative approval to the Education Improvement Expense plan which gives the way for the county to receive state monies totaling $502,000 this year as compared to $478,000 last year and at no expense to the county.

Several local programs were shown to them so they could obtain state monies. Douglas said, among these were 9 resources teachers such as reading teachers, librarians, individual music teachers.

The board also approved an additional state supported exceptional child unit, bringing the county total to 23 next year. Highlands has more exceptional child units per student population than any other county in the state, with approximately 80 children in each unit.

In other actions, the board: Awarded the milk contract

THE NEW South Florida Junior College buildings, scheduled for completion October 19, are fairly well on schedule, college officials said, adding "we'll move in when they're ready—in the middle of a semester,

Proposed $281,271,970 Will Up Taxes From 4.795 Mills to 5.274

The County Commissioners came a step closer to the approval of a $281,271,970 budget that will increase taxes from 4.795 to 5.274 mills when they voted without discussion to begin advertising this week.

Following two public advertisements of the proposed budget, a hearing will be held on August 5 in the board room of the commissioners at the courthouse at 10:00 A.M. before the tax rolls.

Cost of living increases in salary for county employees and increased operating expenses account for most of the remaining increase.

In the departments directly under the county commission, employees will get a five per cent cost of living pay increase—and for the first time in the county's history, a job classification.

At the request of the commissioners, County Administrator Charles Morgan began a study after his arrival last Fall of job classifications, relating Highlands County to pay brackets set up by the state personnel board and Hillsborough County's civil service board.

In making his preliminary budget request, Morgan classified jobs, showed top and bottom salaries within each bracket, and suggested a rating for the employee presently holding each job.

The commissioners said other county office holders will be invited to join a complete job classification and salary system for the county.

Clerk of the Circuit Court Earl Rich and Sheriff Joe Keene, the only two county office holders to comply with the commissioners' request for full salary disclosure, indicated they would join in the proposed classification study.

Rich, who had not recommended any salary increases for the deputy clerks, was chided for his failure to request "at least a cost of living increase" for deputies Jim Pyle and Mrs. Betty Wild who work in the commission office. At the request of the board, Rich revised his budget to include pay increases for these two.

Service Officer Harvey Roberts asked the county to provide a full-time assistant for his office. This request was denied.

Although fearful of the increase in wage costs because of abolition of residence requirements, the welfare department left its budget on virtually the same level as last year.

Mrs. J. C. Murdoch, for many years.

Kaelin Speaks To Ridge Area Assn.

Members of the board of directors of Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children welcomed Harold Kaelin of Fort Myers, Southwest Regional Vice President of the Florida Association for Retarded Children.

Kaelin is active in his local unit and is serving his first term with the state organization. He reported to the Ridge Area ARC on the new programs which can be developed at community level to assist adult retardates to live and work in the community.

Kaelin indicated that many retarded persons are being trained to earn a living but still need the security of an established home. Foster homes, boarding homes or residential facilities on a home scale can make the difference between success and failure for a trained retarded person.

Under new community programs sponsored by the State Division of Mental Retardation, such facilities can be secured for the trained retardate who may be released from a Sunland Training Center or may be released from the community from a sheltered workshop.

In other business the members of the board reaffirmed their recommendation that Eugene Meyer attend a workshop in Atlanta for executives serving the retarded. The weekend seminar in late September, is under the direction of the National Association for Retarded Children and is scheduled for persons in the southeastern United States.

Mrs. Rosemary Clark, director of the Developmental Training Program for young retarded children, submitted a list of important equipment needed by the handicapped children in training. These included a tricycle; walking bars, kidney-shaped table or round table that would seat six to eight children; age three to eight; peg boards with golf tees or similar gadget for developing eye-hand coordination; sturdy toy ironing board and toy iron; rest pads or mats. Any of the above items, new or used, in working order would be most welcome.

It was reported that Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Judy Barben, classroom aid at the Ridge Area Day School, Avon Park, are planning to attend the clinic for the development of speech with young retarded children. Two to four parents and their retarded children have been attending the clinic at Rehabilitation Ranch, Lakeland.

This seminar was sponsored by Miss Jeannette Smith, secretary of South Florida with the Pinellas Association for Retarded Children, the Florida Association for Retarded Children, the Florida Division of Mental Retardation and the Florida Department of Public Welfare as sponsoring agencies.

Ann Karkick, Standing, Pat Lagoni, Harold Kaelin, southwest regional vice president of the Florida Association of Retarded Children, and Mrs. Belle Martin.

The Hayes Maxwells are entertaining their five little granddaughters this week. They drove to Birmingham last weekend to pick up Bonnie Day. She was visiting her other grandparents there. Bonnie's parents returned to their home in Menlo Park, Calif. and when Bonnie is ready to go home, Mr. Maxwell will fly out to California and take her home.

Enroute from Birmingham, the Maxwells and Bonnie visited with relatives in north Georgia. On Sunday, Mrs. Maxwell and Bonnie were accompanied by Shellie and Susie Maxwell and their other grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Rigby, to Miami to pick up

Beth and Kim Maxwell, who have recently moved back to Miami from Chicago. Their parents, Tom and Betty Maxwell, will come this weekend to take Beth and Kim home. Steve and Margo Maxwell will help to entertain the girls with swimming and horseback riding, and a fun party for one afternoon.

Scuba Diving The Going Thing

Looking for excitement? Two of our local girls decided scuba diving would be the answer. About a month ago Lark Adams and Marcia Ward heard about a course in the science, safety and skills of scuba (self-contained underwater breathing apparatus) sponsored by the YMCA of Lakeland. Under Paul F. White, a YMCA certified scuba instructor, the young ladies and their fathers (who later decided to try it themselves) are receiving experience through lectures, pool sessions and open-water dives.

The lectures vary from first aid to diving physics but pool sessions involve more time and energy. It is required that the students acquire proficient skill in donning and donning their equipment, buddy breathing, maneuvering underwater and facing underwater hazards. "We are expected to maintain our composure if our face masks are accidentally kicked off or our air supply is suddenly cut off," Marcia commented, and then added casually, "These dangers which we will meet in actual diving were duplicated in the pool and Mr. White was all too happy to be the hazard."

White, a biology professor at Polk Junior College in Winter Haven spends much of his time teaching scuba. When the members of his course show that they are ready for the wonders of the deep he takes them to Crystal River near Homosassa Springs for a day of diving. These trips are an essential part of the course for a diver to receive his certificate.

He must snorkel one-half mile, free dive to 15 feet, buddy-breathe to the surface from a depth of 25 feet and successfully make a 50 foot descent. After completing their tests the students are allowed to explore the surrounding area.

"Mr. White never stuck me as the chivalrous type. Throughout the course he has made us 'Marcia and I are the only girls in the group' handle 35 pounds of equipment by ourselves. However," Lark smiled, "when I was 65 feet below in a dark cave, I was really thankful to have him at my side!"

The girls and their fathers feel that the course is well worth taking. Scuba diving, a dangerous sport when approached untrained can be an exciting and rewarding experience through adequate training.

Bridal Shower Honors Kay Hartwell

Kay Hartwell, bride of Lee Hooker, was guest of honor at a bridal shower Thursday evening, July 10, at the Florida Power lounge.

Kay and her mother, Mrs. Donald Hartwell were seated on wrought iron furniture in garden setting of palms, podocarpus and coleus. On one side of the garden was a wishing well in which the guests put their written wishes for Kay and her future husband. The well was decorated with ivy and flowers.

More than 50 friends were present for the program of games and poems, following which Kay opened her gifts. Prior to the program, Kay was presented with a corsage made of kitchen gadgets.

Refreshments of nuts, punch and ice cream were served. The slices of ice cream had centers of contrasting ice cream hearts. The refreshments table was covered with a pink linen and lace cloth with a bride doll in the center of the table. The punch bowl was surrounded with flowers.

Hostesses were Miss Kathy Akelsen and Mesdames Beulah Christensen, Gladys Elliott, Grace Larsen, Blaine Ost, Carol Palsgrove and Grace Sanborn.

Joint Bible School

All children, ages three through 12, of the above mentioned churches are expected to attend. Children of all churches are invited to attend and children with no church affiliation are urged to attend.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

By CHARLIE SARGEANT

LAST WEEK! Rotarians and their guests were told that Avon Park and Highlands County has the promise of an "extremely bright future," when Rex E. Bond, Chairman of the Board of the recently acquired Avon Citrus Bank and also the First National Bank of Sebring, addressed the club last Wednesday.

Speaker Bond in reviewing the current economic trend, reminded that, "We are living in one of the most expensive periods of history and those working for salaries and those on fixed income after retirement, find that the dollar just isn't buying what it used to buy three to five years ago."

However, he expressed the belief that, "A retiree in our community is better off than in any other place in Florida," saying that "our taxes are favorable, compared to other similar communities."

In reference to the overall picture, he said "In our county and throughout the nation, people are spending more than they have ever spent and this is in the face of the inflation problem. The mood is stubborn at this time. The President knows he must curb inflation, but this is easier said than done. The situation has reached great magnitude and a terrific shifting in Federal and consumer spending would have to take place before we see a turn down in prices."

"If the war in Vietnam could be ended and the 10% surtax dropped," he said, "then he believed prices could be reduced within 12 to 18 months. This is not a rosy picture," said speaker Bond, "but it is not one that cannot be coped with by the American people."

"The Federal government cannot be allowed to dominate the national economy," said Bond, "it is up to you and I as citizens of this great country to speak out and be heard. We waste billions of dollars trying to buy friendship amongst the Communistic nations of the world. For instance Yugoslavia has received more than 2 1/2 billions of our foreign aid yet just a short while ago President Tito announced that he and the Soviet leaders were in total agreement on major international issues."

He urged his listeners to, "Let your Congressmen and Senators know your feelings on matters of great concern to this country."

With reference to the purchase of Avon Citrus Bank by the speaker's group, he said, "The confidence that we have in the future is best demonstrated by our willingness to come into the town of Avon Park and participate in its activities."

He said their confidence was reinforced by an economic survey sponsored by their First National Bank of Sebring, back in April, which showed, "A population increase for the county of 56.6 per cent between 1950 and 1960, a growth from 13,626 to 21,338, and the research estimate that by the first quarter of 1969, the county had increased to 27,000, a gain of 26.5 per cent from 1960 to 1969."

"The population in the Avon Park area grew 42.1 per cent between 1950 and 1960. Since that time the growth in the Avon Park and Sebring areas have been comparable, as substantiated by the utility statistics in both communities."

"A traffic count by the State Road Department in 1967 at a point on Main Street, Avon Park showed 8,000 at the daily average."

Mrs. Margorie Craig left last Friday by plane from Tampa after spending two weeks at the Lakes as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank

This figure increased in 1968 to 10,060 vehicles, a good increase," he said.

Bond said, "The financial institutions in Highlands County have had a tremendous growth during the past seven years. This is a wealthy county with banks and savings and loan deposits totalling approximately $60,000,000." He continued, "I would say we are one of the most wealthy counties in the state of Florida."

Referring again to the survey, he said, "In 1960 5.3 per cent of the families in Avon Park had incomes of $10,000 or more, the median family income was $3,700. We have in Avon Park at least ten firms that employ 25 or more persons, these ten had a total of 867 employees in 1965 and now employ 1,037. Their annual payroll total is estimated at $4,253,000. I might add these figures do not include the Telephone Company or Critchfield Marine."

Referring to his banking group, Mr. Bond closed by saying, "A community can only grow as fast as its financial institutions will permit. It is our ambition and desire to see Avon Park continue to grow and become a leader in the overall growth of our county. What is good for Avon Park, certainly should be good for the rest of Highlands County. With your help, understanding and confidence, Avon Park and the surrounding community will have an extremely prosperous future."

Speaker Bond was introduced by Hue Runnalle, program coordinator.

Judge Lanier introduced visitors and guests and welcomed them to the meeting.

C. S. De Golyer Dies June 25 In New York

C. Scott DeGolyer, 82, of Castle, N. Y., and a winter resident of Avon Park died Wednesday, June 25, in the Wyoming County Community hospital, Castle, N. Y., after a short illness.

DeGolyer was a retired dairy farmer, and civic leader and was born in Gloversville, N. Y. He served as supervisor of the town of Castle for 28 years and was chairman of the county board of supervisors for many years. He was active in the Republican party and has served as a committeeman.

He was a member of the United Church of Christ, Castle Grange 1017, Wyoming County Extension Service, the Community Club, the Historical Society and Oakland Lodge 279.

Survivors include two sons, Avery and Calvin S., Jr., both of Castle, a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Niederhauser of Tarrytown, N. Y.; two sisters, Mrs. Selma Bernard of Henick, N. Y., and Mrs. Ralph DePier, of Gloversville, 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services were held June 27 at Castle's United Church of Christ with the Rev. Clyde Ebling officiating. Burial was in Grace Cemetery, Castle.

Mrs. Harrison Has Exciting Vacation

Mrs. G. L. Harrison has returned from a visit to her son, Michael and family, in St. Louis, Mo. Her daughter, Sallie, of San Juan, Puerto Rico was also visiting them at that time.

While there they visited the 630 ft. stainless steel Gateway Arch, near the Mississippi river, which was in flood stage. Ramps to the river boats were partly submerged and the boats could not make their usual trips, as the water was so high they could not go under the bridges.

Most of the day was spent at the zoo, which is one of the outstanding zoos of the United States. More than one day would be needed to see everything there. It is located in beautiful Forest Park in downtown St. Louis. The park is reputed to be second largest municipal park in the United States. Other attractions in the park, include an art museum.

Another day was spent in Springfield, Ill. visiting Lincoln's Tomb, the only house he ever owned, and the Ninian Edwards home where Lincoln courted and married Mary Todd, Mrs. Edwards' sister. In this house Lincoln's life is portrayed by a complete series of colorful three dimensional dioramas which are well worth seeing.

One afternoon was spent at Grant's Farm, several miles out of St. Louis. In a beautiful wooded setting there are animals (elephant, camel, llama, bear, deer, sheep and goats, and tropical colorful birds. The sheep and goats eagerly await visitors, as they wander around the grounds, or in case of the ones enclosed, crowd the fences trying to be first to get to a baby bottle of milk offered by the visitors. In the animal nursery, where the very young goats, sheep and deer are kept, one can purchase a bottle of milk for 10c. There were dozens of bottles already prepared on the afternoon we were there.

After visiting the animals, we returned to an open air cafe, which was paved with wooden blocks. Then a visit to the carriage museum which contains carriages, sleighs and even a couple of "horseless carriages" of ancient vintage. After the carriages we visited the horses, which looked so sleek, as if they had just been polished. There were a dozen or so stalls of them. On some of the stalls there were signs. "This horse bites!" Apparently the other horses were enjoying the caresses bestowed on them by an adoring public.

On the way back to Grant Station, where we had boarded a small "train" to carry us to the Farm, we saw the Bush home in the distance, and nearer by a cabin built and occupied by U. S. Grant, where he farmed, before becoming a soldier, and later president of our country.

REV. WALL, minister at Avon Park Correctional Institution and a member of the Highlands County Mental Health Association is shown here with a box that was placed in the Ridge Bakery for residents of Avon Park to donate articles for patients at Arcadia to use.

Boxes Placed In Stores For Donations To Mental Health

There are many of the patients at the G. Pearce Wood Memorial Hospital, Arcadia, who are being deprived of the opportunity to participate in the recreation program because there is not sufficient equipment to permit them to do so.

Two days each week patients are taken on a fishing trip but the number that can go is limited as there are not sufficient books and lines. All types of fishing equipment is needed.

Performing arts are part of the program and there are many patients that could play the piano if only they had sheet music.

The large air conditioned gym is an excellent place for exercise if only the patients had hoola hoops. This would be a good place for a game of cards or checkers if the playing cards and checkers were available.

Patients unable to leave the grounds do enjoy the old bicycles that are available but there is an urgent need for additional bicycles.

Many bed-ridden patients would enjoy competitive yo yo games if only we could furnish yo yos in sufficient numbers for each patient to own one.

The Highlands County Mental Health Association has assumed the responsibility of correcting these inadequate conditions by giving the citizens of Highlands County an opportunity to share with these patients many of whom are from our county.

For the convenience of the citizens wishing to donate articles a cardboard box has been placed in the bakery and coffee shop. The box decorated in Christmas paper has a sign "Gifts for the Hospital Arcadia." These boxes will remain in the store through July 21 and gift will be delivered to a hospital representative at the dinner meeting of the HCMH Association to be held at the City Pier, Tuesday, July 22 at 6:30 P.M.

RUTH E. ROBINSON

We welcomed back Mr. and Mrs. Louis Biggers from their vacation to Michigan on Sunday afternoon. They are happy to be where the weather is more pleasant, most of the time.

LaRue Longenecker is still with her daughter, Mrs. Newman in La Porte, Ind., but is expecting to be at home with us about July 25. Her family and old friends are making her vacation very busy and happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Blande Neukirke left on Wednesday for points North, including Indiana, Michigan and Canada. We wish them a pleasant and safe trip as well as visits with their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Robinson visited with their friends at Pedenham on Wednesday to watch the "moon shot," arriving at breakfast time and staying for swimming, and visiting the rest of the day. The Converses are now permanent residents of Florida, having sold their home in Ohio.

The Wrights are gradually getting settled in their home and office, which has a brand new "look." Emmett has been working very hard to remove the bumps in our roads and is making good progress. Mrs. Miller can now rest comfortably in her air conditioned, newly remodeled room, while she enjoys watching TV and an occasional visitor. Sally and Emmett finished working on it last week.

We are expecting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fouty back from Ohio by August 1, and were really glad to hear that they escaped injury and damage during the bad storms of July 4th.

King Remodels Store; Floor Space Double

Clarence King has just finished remodeling his department store, which almost doubled the original floor space and added a wider variety of wares to choose from.

King came to Avon Park 24 years ago and started a grocery store and five years ago sold the grocery business to Clyde Starling. King then started the Clarence King's Discount House specializing in popular priced shoes, with Starlings City Market in one end of the building and the Discount House in the other part.

Now both businesses have outgrown their floor space and Starling remodeled the Garrett Garage into a fine grocery store and King has completely remodeled the building and installed air conditioning and heating.

The new store has a complete children's department, ladies' ready to wear department with emphasis on ladies' dresses. A large selection of work clothes for men and women and over 5,000 pairs of shoes for the whole family.

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter. But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts. This is our land. Let's treat it right.

Football

Reserved Seat
Tickets On Sale

Avon Park High School football fans are reminded that reserved seat tickets for those who held them last season are now on sale at the high school office.

Until August 15, fans who held reserved seats last year for the home football games, may renew the same tickets for $3 each. From August 18 through September 5 those who have repurchased their tickets may exchange them for any available seats left in the reserved seat section. Then on September 8 the remaining unpurchased tickets will go on sale to the general public on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Red Devils will be playing the following games at home this coming season: September 19, Lake Wales; October 3, Fort Meade; October 10, Haines City; October 17, Wauchula; and October 24, Frostproof.

Census Bureau Will Conduct Survey This Week

A sample of residents in this area will be included in a nationwide survey of employment and unemployment to be conducted during this week by the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census. The Bureau interviewer who will visit households in this area is Mrs. Christine Oates, 1194 Pasadena Ave.

Driver Escapes Injury In Accident on I7A

Helen Olmstead, of Sebring, escaped injury although her 1968 car was a total loss as the result of an accident last Wednesday on Route 517A one mile East of Avon Park. Mrs. Olmstead was attempting to pass a car driven by Paul D. Allen, Jr., of Lake Wales, at 2:40 P.M., when Allen started to make a left turn. He was charged with improper change of lane by Florida Highway Trooper J. E. Vana. Damage to the Allen truck was estimated at $10 and Allen received facial injuries. Avon Park Police Chief Earl Gordon assisted.

Academic Portion of Summer Rec Program Will Close This Week

The academic portion of the school Summer enrichment program will close out this week at Avon Elementary with the pre-school program finishing up Friday at noon and the reading and arithmetic programs finishing Thursday afternoon.

The elementary children are invited to take a recreation trip to Highlands Hammock on Friday. The bus will leave Avon Elementary at 9 A.M. and return at 3 P.M. Boys and girls will need to bring their lunch and money for something to drink. A permission slip will be necessary and may be obtained from Mr. Miracle.

The Avon Elementary library will be open on Friday, July 18, for returning library books only. The reading and arithmetic classes will not meet at all on Friday in order for the instructors to finish out reports and have an evaluation session. Mrs. Crews asks that all children check in all library books.

The junior high and senior high students will have another chance next Thursday for a day at Vero Beach. The group was scheduled to go over to Vero today (Thursday) and will go again next Thursday, July 24. Those going to the beach will need to either bring their own lunch or money to buy it at the beach. Those making the trip must be able to swim.

Cocher Fred Sandlin invites any interested boys to attend the basketball sessions each evening at 6:30 o'clock. A good group are turning out each evening and play under the direction of the head high school coach.

Statistics on the elementary scholastic enrichment program at Avon Elementary show that 102 boys and girls enrolled in the pre-school program during the four week period, 197 children registered and participated in the reading instruction, and almost 200 students took part in the arithmetic program.

The beginning and intermediate swimming instruction finished out this week under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Collins and the recreation staff. The following boys and girls had passed the beginning swimming course early last week with some others still to take the final test: Tommy Turnbull, Dee Dee Willis, Debbie Williams, Donny Sanders, Eugene Sanders, Sabrina Sanders, Sabrina Blake, Debra Weeks, Scott Morgan, Raymond Davis, Margaret Turnbull, Danny Choate, Lisa Carnes, Julia Davis, Tammy Walker, Horace Moore, Diane King, Judy Kinsey, Kathy Williams, Beth Ormond, Paula Sheffield, Patricia Cravey, Ann McDaniel, Melissa Paxmas, Raleigh Turnbull, Kelly Hightower, and Carole Knapp.

Ten girls are completing the intermediate swimming course this week and will be tested to see if they pass the course. These are: Patricia Cravey, Sherry Collier, Carmen Cochran, Mary Linda Derkman, Holly and Cindy Green, Susan Howard, Cindy Taylor, Margaret Lynn Miracle, and Laura Welber.

Reserved Seat Tickets Now On Sale

Reserved seat tickets for all home Red Devil football games will be available for purchase by those who held tickets last season until August 15 at the high school office for $5.

After August 15, ticket holders who have purchased 1969 tickets, may exchange spots in the reserved seat section if there are any available openings at that time. Then after September 5 the remaining tickets will go on sale to anyone who wishes to buy them.

These tickets must be picked up in person at the high school office. Season tickets for the five home games, priced at $6.50 each, are also on sale and may also be picked up at the high school office during week-day hours.

Red Devil fans are reminded to pick up their reserved seat tickets if they wish to retain their reserved seat this season before the above dead-line.

Large Land Sales Continue At Steady Pace In County

Sales of land in Highlands County appear to be continuing at a steady rate, with several sales ranging from $50,000 to $2,140,000 made in the past 20 months.

A recap of the activity during this period indicates there has been a lot of outside money coming into the county, some of it being additional investment of previous big investors such as the Graham company for their dairy operation.

Biggest of the sales was the one in April of 1968 when the B. and H. Holding Co., Inc., Dan Childs, president, of Colorado, bought the 9,800 acre Durvance Bros. ranch 17 miles south of Lake Placid for $2,140,000. Sellers were Jesse and Harriet Durvance, Daniel and Catherine Durvance, Walter and Margaret Durvance, W. Ralph Durvance, Jr., and Correll Durvance, Stephanie J. Durvance, William and Allene Durvance, Sue and Richard Ross, all buildings and cattle went with the sale.

Second largest sale took place in May of this year when the Fernandez family sold the 4,200 acre Santa Fe ranch plus all buildings and cattle to a Quincy, Ill., group headed by Harvey Carnes for $1,856,025.00.

Third largest sale took place in November, 1967, when Mr. and Mrs. Carey Carlton (Carlton-Carlle Co.) sold the 6,400 acre Carlton family ranch for $900,200 to David Wolf of New York. The ranch is located on Route 70.

Another huge sale was that of Corporation Imballaria Reims, SA in January of 1969. A total of 2,285 unimproved acres on the Arbutus Creek road were sold to Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson of Coral Gables for $412,000.

The 3,300 acre Doyle Schumacher ranch sold in August of 1968 for $200,000 to Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Goudley of Ft. Lauderdale. They also purchased 500 head of cattle, paying additional money, and have established part of their dairy holdings there.

Minor George, an Ohio man, in January of 1969 bought 705 acres from Morton and Doris Rosenberg and announced intentions to mine phosphate. He paid $300,750.

The largest sale of groves was that of Charles Seiberg who sold 200 acres for $300,000 in January of 1968 to Wilbers and Harbman. He sold groves south of Deloto City (Eberly's), Chocolate Hill southwest of Sebring. Ingle's on Dunbar Lake and Cooper.

Highlands County Land and Title Co. (Leisure Lakes) in April of this year purchased 2,880 acres of land adjoining their development for $360,000 from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Durvance.

The Graham Company of Miami in October, 1968, bought 640 acres in Venus from Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Pearce for $107,500. In April, they added 520 acres to the 7,000 they already own in the county, purchasing chasing adjoining property from Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Osthoff for $107,500. Then in May they bought 210 more acres west of Venus for $37,500 from Mr. and Mrs. Elliott H. Lott of Oklawaha.

More transactions on page 3B under Highlands County Real Estate Transfers.

With three weeks (August 8) left to qualify for the office of mayor and two city council seats, Harold C. "Bud" Worden threw his hat in the ring Wednesday morning.

Worden, a 30 year resident of Avon Park became the third person to seek the mayors seat in the upcoming election on September 9.

Others to qualify for the office are Robert Hanford and Robert J. Barben. Mayor Jimmy Doerr has not stated officially if he intends to seek another term or not.

The two incumbents for council, Milton Howard and Rodney Lane, are the only ones that have qualified for the council seats.

Worden is married to the former Mary Lucille Morgan and they have three sons. Worden graduated from Avon Park High School and attended University of Florida, served two years in the U.S. Army.

He sold new and used cars for 13 years and is now a representative of The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

Worden is serving on the board of directors of Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children, served on the board of directors and past president of the Avon Park Housing Authority, served on the Highlands Area School advisory committee.

A variety of general bills was passed by the 1969 Legislature which make considerable changes throughout the state. One which may be greeted with relief by those who are on the big national sucker lists is the one which releases recipients of unsolicited goods from obligation to return or pay.

Recreation Students Travel To Vero

The summer recreation program, sponsored by the county school system, goes into its last week Monday with another trip to Vero Beach on tap this Thursday (today) for the older youth of the community.

Last week two buses were needed to take the group to the beach where all enjoyed a few hours of sun and fun in the Atlantic.

At the three recreation centers, the high school gym, Hope, will Elementary, and Avon Elementary, activities will continue during the hours of 8 to 4 on the same schedule as they have operated all summer.

Over 100 boys and girls made the trip to Highlands Hammock last Friday with the Avon Elementary group.

Mrs. Virginia Crews, Avon Elementary librarian, urges boys and girls who did not check in books before the academic portion of the enrichment program closed last Friday to take them to Avon Elementary and turn them in to Mr. Miracle or some member of the recreation staff there.

The swimming instruction portion of the program is over but free, supervised swimming will continue at Lake Verona as long as enough are interested. Other activities are still in operation at all three centers and boys and girls may continue to participate until August 1.

Richard Eatman Will Attend Banking School

The laws, filed in Brevard County, in which Circuit Court Judge Hugh Taylor, Leon County, questioned tax rates in several counties, are being appealed by Comptroller Fred Dickman and the cabinet.

The cabinet ordered any revision in the base for valuing the lands be held up until a final court decision. The order of Judge Taylor would have doubled taxes on pasture lands in Highlands County. Judge Taylor, in his order, had said, he found "reasonably consistent assessments in 12 of the counties, including Highlands."

Before a "hold" order issued by Revenue Director Ed Straught, tax assessor in all counties, had been instructed to use a base rate of from $75 to $100 an acre, compared to a present range in most counties of $5 to $100 an acre.

A total of 1,188,828 gallons of gasoline were sold in Highlands County during May, the office of State Comptroller Fred Dickman reported, totaling $23,277.46 in taxes collected.

This compares to $22,410.30 collected for May of 1968. Collections for April of 1969 were $27,676.

On May 1, $54,856.73 was returned to the county, $4,280.11 to the county road board, $18,000 to the state road department.

Bring 'em Back Alive

Facts and figures are in on the Bring 'em Back Alive campaign over the July 4 holiday.

And again this year, four of eight accidents were alcohol involved, which continues the pattern established in the 1968 fatal accident study, according to W. B. Wellons, Jr., director of traffic and Safety, East Florida division, American Automobile Association.

A total of 15 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the 78-hour holiday period.

You can't bring 'em all back alive, but you sure can try, can't you?

It would be interesting to see just how many people cheated death by remaining off the highways during the holiday. Many people traveling on this last holiday and the Memorial Day weekend holiday, reported traffic was actually less than on a usual busy day.

Men on the Moon

We finally did it—landed men on the moon. And it cost a lot of money. It will be a long time before we will be able to assess all the benefits. A by-product of our wars has been in the field of medicine—great advances on many fronts. By-products of the space program, we have read, have been in the field of medicine and in communications. And there may be much more, now that our probe of space has landed us on the moon.

One of the most remarkable things we noted in the telecasts of the moon landing was the clearness of the conversation to and from this planet.

"You could hear better than you could between Sebring and Avon Park," commented one man.

Maybe our telephone company should get some pointers on how they did it.

FLORIDA ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION PROGRAM

alco- topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

New evidence indicates there may be a link between alcoholism, smoking, and lung disease.

A study team at Melbourne University and Melbourne's St. Vincent Hospital in Australia has found that chronic obstructive lung disease is a characteristic of the alcoholic, particularly of those who smoke.

This report, published in the Medical Journal of Australia, also found that alcoholics were twice as likely to be smokers as were non-alcoholics.

"The results have shown that chronic obstructive lung disease is the characteristic pulmonary illness of the alcoholic," the report stated. "The higher frequency of chronic bronchitis in alcoholics than in non-alcoholics can be explained by alcoholics being twice as likely to be smokers as the non-alcoholics. Unfortunately, despite their high risk of chronic bronchitis, alcoholics appear less likely than non-alcoholics to stop smoking."

For this reason, the report said, there seemed little chance of reducing disease among these people.

On another front, a top U. S. government health officer said recently that tobacco and alcohol can trigger a virulent form of mouth cancer that can cause death within 18 months if not treated.

Maj. Gen. Robert Shira, assistant surgeon general and chief of the Army Dental Corps, made the statement at a local meeting of oral surgeons.

He said nicotine and alcohol were "triggering mechanisms" that could activate an "X-factor" carried in the mouths of many persons which would in turn cause appearance of the mouth cancer.

He added that poor nutrition, frequently characteristic of the alcoholic, weakens cells lining the mouth. Smoking constricts the capillaries, leaving cells without sufficient blood supply and making them susceptible to the same malignant growth.

And so it appears that psychological problems are not the only ones faced by alcoholics. There are clearly physical physical troubles too, and they're not limited to the usual alcoholic bugaboo—liver cirrhosis.

One of the jobs of Florida's Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program is to create an awareness among Florida residents of the problem of alcoholism here in the Sunshine State. Only when people are cognizant of such a problem will they act to do something about it.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Don't Be Fooled By Tricky Slogan

The U. S. News and World Report recently published a letter written by a young man from Great Neck, N. Y., in which he set forth briefly the main points of his belief as to what is wrong with the world as it should be done about it.

For example, he complains that "we are forced to live in a society which places property rights above personal rights and freedoms."

He declares our society must be changed and that "human rights must be placed above both property and majority rights."

If he were alone in advocating these "reforms," we might ignore him. But he is not alone. Many young people have embraced the same general philosophy.

Tricky Slogan

There are multitudes who parrot the slogan, "Human rights must be placed above property rights." Many of them don't really understand the meaning of the words.

Certainly, human rights must take precedence over everything else in the world—excepting only the rights of the God Who made the world and gave it to us for our use.

But what are "property rights?"

If by "property" we mean lands, buildings, factories, machines, etc.—which is the usual meaning of the term in such cases—then should be stated clearly and positively that such property has no rights.

But one of the most basic of human rights is the right to own property. This right must not be denied.

The Bible confirms this human right in the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal." This means, of course, "You shall not take from another person the property which belongs to him."

The Marxist slogan attempts to belud this issue—to make it appear that, under some circumstances, it is proper for one man or one group of men to take from somebody else what belongs to him.

Reassessment Needed

There is a need for a reassessment of some of the values on which our society is based—but let's not be misled by people who are clever with words but short on integrity.

There was a Teacher, long ago, whose teachings contained the essence of sound policy in our personal and social relationships.

His philosophy was—briefly put—"Love God with your whole heart . . . and love your neighbor as yourself."

If our society could be revised to incorporate this principle, there would be few other changes needed.

But His words were intended to be accepted—or rejected—by individuals, not nations, or even large groups of people.

Have you accepted His individual invitation to try? Have you become genuinely His disciple?

This is the way in which you can really do your part to change the world . . . because it is changed people who will produce a changed world.

Law and Order Will Cost More

Law and order will cost more in Highlands County in the coming year, but the taxes to support it will continue at the same level.

The $238,522 fine and forfeiture budget approved for the 1969-70 year is $12,822 higher than the current one with 36 per cent of the increase due to a new law requiring the county to match social security and retirement contributions. The tax levy will continue at 9 mills.

Sheriff Joe Keene said he had followed the budget approved a year ago in estimating expenses, and until he has had at least a year in office he cannot be sure how well he is budgeting.

He told the commissioners that he has upped the department personnel from 10 to 12 deputies. The number of office employees has been reduced, he said, and more deputies are on the road.

At present Sheriff Keene is attempting to keep three deputies on active duty in the Lake Placid area, four in Avon Park and five in Sebring.

In an appearance before the county budget work session, Keene gave a person-by-person report on salaries, indicating which employees had been granted pay raises and why.

He told the commissioners he would welcome an opportunity to join in a county-wide job classification program and urged the board to adopt uniform evaluation systems for employees.

Your Social Security

Question—1 have been receiving retirement checks from social security since I was age 62. Now that I shall be age 69 shortly, do I have to sign up again in order to have the Medicare benefits?

Answer—No. However, you will receive a card in the mail about two months before your birthday. You'll be asked whether you want the medical insurance part of Medicare. The card should be checked yes or no, signed, and returned.

Question—Do students benefit from social security and with the month the student reaches age 22 or will they continue until the end of the school semester?

Answer—Actually, the benefits are only payable through the month before the month the student reaches age 22. Or, saying it another way, the last check received will be on the third of the month in which the student has his 22nd birthday.

The checks stop then, no matter which month in the school semester the student has his birthday.

Question—I receive a small social security check. Will getting this check keep me from receiving an old-age assistance grant from the local welfare office?

Answer—Not necessarily. Get in touch with your local welfare office. They will determine whether you can get a payment.

Question—Ten years ago when my oldest sister applied for social security, all she needed to prove her age was our old family Bible. Is this all I will need to prove my age?

Answer—It may be all that you will need to prove your age. When you apply for benefits, bring the Bible along. If anything further is needed, your local social security representative will explain what is needed, and why.

Legislature Abolishing City Tax Assessor and Tax Collector

On January 1, 1971, the jobs of city tax assessor and city tax collector will be abolished here, if the Legislature passes a bill passed by the last Legislature.

From that date on, the county tax assessor and collector will do the jobs, according to a bill passed by the last Legislature.

This is just one of many bills passed by the Legislature which has not had widespread publicity, according to State Rep. Grayson, who introduced the bill.

Rep. Crabbtree was here Tuesday to chat with Highlands County Commissioners about the county charter bill, which would permit a county to go to a charter form of government.

For instance, Tallahassee is operated as the County of Leon; Jacksonville as the County of Duval.

There are numerous benefits and economies to be derived from a county charter government, Crabbtree pointed out.

For instance, a cigarette tax returned to the county now nets the cities from 25 to 30 cents per pack.

Under the charter, it would be a straight 11c per pack. This would mean several thousand dollars extra a month income for the county. The last report by the county commission, the county would have received over $50,000 more than this.

Services would be consolidated. For instance, there would be no duplication of building or zoning departments, there would be no duplication of police or fire departments—all such changes aimed at hauling down costs and increasing efficiency.

"There also are other tax benefits if a county operates as a charter government," he noted.

Crabbtree stressed he is not urging the change. "I have a strong belief you should not tell a group what to do, but tell them what is available and let them make the decision."

There are two ways in which a charter can be adopted.

Alvin New and Rhoda New to Michael W. Perrine and Frances R. Perrine, Lot 1 and Lot 2 of the Country Club Lake Estates, $4,500.

RUTH E. ROBINSON

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Peugh arrived at the Miami International Airport on Friday night after a spectacular flight over storm clouds. They were met by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Robinson, the next morning at Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge where they discussed the Peugh's vacation in Panama and the Canal Zone, continuing this interesting topic all the way back home to Avon Mobile Home Park and their own "Home Sweet Home," very happy to be here.

Mrs. Mildred Shearer surprised all of us by returning for a two-week vacation with her daughter, husband and family. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Heavlow (Donna) and John, Linda and Nancy Mildred will remain in Ohio, returning with her family, until after December.

The Sylvan Bakers have arrived safely back in Ohio and are now planning a camping trip. They tell us the Corads

Take A Closer Look...

There's Life In Our Financial Statement!

It takes a close look, but if you imagine for a minute the many dramas of life behind each dollar on deposit or every dollar we have on loan to many, many people, you begin to see what excitement there is to our business. Look at our statement with these thoughts in mind, and our figures take on a new meaning.

In our statement we see happy families who, with the help of a loan from First Federal, were able to buy their first home; young boys and girls proud of the growing balances in their own savings accounts; a business man moving ahead because we helped him.

We could give names to the dollars that are shown here. We make it a point to keep that close to our customers.

You're a very important person when you save with First Federal. Serving you is our business.

Bank Files Suit To Recover Forged Note

First National Bank has filed suit in Circuit Court against Aetna Casualty & Surety Co. of Connecticut asked $10,000 plus attorneys fees and court costs.

According to the suit, Aetna had insured First National against loss but when they attempted to collect on a forged promissory note given them, the firm declined. The forged note was given First National by Walter Dunn of Avon Park.

It is sometimes necessary, when replacing or fitting window glass, to tap the pane to loosen it or push it into place. A rubber crutch tip slipped over the handle of your putty knife will enable you to do this without the danger of breaking the glass.

Defense Units Get 40 Per Cent Budget Slash

Although the Highlands County Civil Defense unit got a 40 per cent slash in its travel and equipment budget at the hands of the county commissioners, there was still a plus sign on the unit's relations with the commission since defense personnel got salary increases and the commission finally acted to designate alternate court house facilities in case of nuclear attack.

The $14,100 civil defense budget approved provides a pay increase for Director Jim Lawson to $7,644 and for Mrs. Pay Haynes, department secretary, to $3,600.

County Administrator Charles Morgan said the salaries are in line with similar jobs classified by the state personnel board.

Sebring High School was selected as first alternate and Woodlawn Elementary School as second alternate for conducting county business in case of nuclear attack. Under provisions of the County Emergency Resource Management Plan, the commissioners are responsible for finding other facilities, the chairman of the commission being empowered to rent other buildings for up to two years.

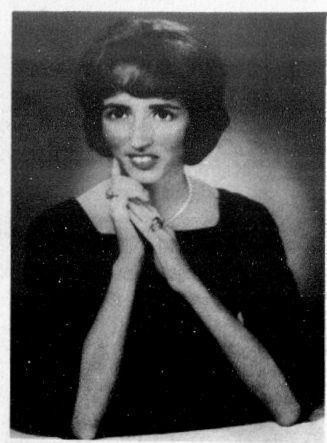

There is a stipulation that court cannot be held outside of Sebring, which automatically restricts the commissioners in their choice of emergency site to this town.

A proclamation freezing rents, prices, foods, fuels, salaries, leases, real estate sales, etc., can be issued by the commission chairman after such an order has come from Washington activating the federal general freeze order. Action given the commission chairman this power in emergency was taken by the commissioners in their meeting Tuesday.

Auntie Hasecock, director of resource management and also commodities manager, asked commission help in filling 11 vacancies on his committee. The commissioners took no action but to remind Hasecock that the people who fill these positions must be approved by the commissioners.

Tallahassee — Funds released to Florida's 27 junior colleges totaled $1.1 million during July, Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., reported today. South Florida Junior College received $23,354 as compared to $17,300 last year.

Hickey-Reck Announce Engagement; To Wed Nov. 15

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hickey of Jacksonville announce the engagement and forth coming marriage of their daughter, Donna Ann to William R. Reck, Jr., son of Major and Mrs. William R. Reck (retired) of Avon Park.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Bishop Kernen High School and Massey Business College, Jacksonville. She was a member of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of Avon Park High School, attended Polk Junior College and South Florida Junior College. He presently is serving with the United States Army, stationed at the Jacksonville Naval Academy.

Oil or paint-covered rags can be fire hazards. They should be washed after use and stored in closed metal containers or burned. Another fire hazard is gasoline used in power mowers. It should be stored only in closed metal containers, preferably safety cans, outside of the house in the garage or storage shed. No more than one gallon at a time should be kept on hand.

Insurance Companies Raise Rates While Surplus Money Increases

Two years ago, Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams begged the Florida Legislature to do away with regulation over how much could be charged for auto insurance. Mr. Williams said the so-called California Plan was absolutely needed to keep the insurance companies from pulling out of the state and leaving Florida motorists unprotected. He based this on a claim of terrible losses on insurance underwriting in the state.

The Legislature, dominated by insurance men and lawyers who work for insurance companies, was only too glad to accept Commissioner Williams' recommendation.

The people of Florida were promised that the free-wheeling California Plan would stimulate some real competition among the insurance companies. Careless drivers would be judged with higher rates and careful drivers would be rewarded. Everybody now knows what really happened, because everybody's rates have been going up.

What Broward Williams and the insurance industry have done successfully is create a Florida guilt complex. The suggestion is that Florida's accident record is something special, so bad that higher rates are really a punishment.

But when you look around the country, you discover that the same story is being told to Illinois drivers, to Texas drivers and California drivers. So this must mean that the insurance companies are really taking a financial bath. For as a spokesman for State Mutual said this week in Tallahassee. There are the national figures on State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company.

Under the percentage tables of loss and expense incurred to premiums earned, it reveals that State Farm paid out 96.43 cents in all expenses on each dollar of $1,072 billion.

More important, Line 433 shows that in that year, State Farm's cash surplus increased from $383 million to $422 million.

You should recall that Allstate also raised its auto rates in Florida two weeks ago and Commissioner Williams says he is checking the validity of the company's claim of financial distress. We suggest Line 11 of the same Insurance Department report. It shows Allstate paid out 95.03 cents, total, on each dollar of $963 million in earned premium. It shows the company's surplus increased during the year from $385 million to $595 million.

The Insurance Information Institute says, "In Florida, the state law which established competition as the natural regulator of prices, requires that all investment income be taken into consideration in determining proper rate levels."

So how can a company increase its surplus by millions of dollars and the same time claim it is using investment income to make up for underwriting losses?—The Miami Herald

New 9-Hole Golf Course Will Open Here Late This Fall

If everything goes well by late this Fall Avon Park will have another beautiful golf course. The course will have nine holes and approximately 2800 yards long.

Five men, Rodney Davis, Ross Hindrick, John Davis and George Davis all from West Lafayette, Ohio, and Ervin McAllister, who is president of the old Twin Lakes Golf Course just north of Avon Park that went delinquent several years ago and are completely reworking the greens and fairways.

George Davis is president of River Green Golf Course the Davis' own in West Lafayette. With the previous experience in golf courses George Davis said they expect to make this one of the outstanding nine hole golf courses in Florida.

A complete water system is being installed along the fairways and on the greens, also all greens will be larger. The hole numbers will be in the same order as the old golf course.

The canal that connects Lake Damon and Trout Lake is being cleaned out where boats can travel from lake to lake. A bridge is being built across the canal with a cement piling on the floor of the canal where boats can pass underneath.

The golf course will have golf carts and golf sheds for rent and in the clubhouse there will be a complete line of golfers' supplies and a snack bar.

The name of the golf course is not completely decided on yet but speculation around the men leaned toward River Green South.

2,168 Shares of Stock Will Be Sold at Courthouse August 18

A total of 2,168 shares of stock in I. T. & T. and Westinghouse will be sold by the sheriff between 11 A.M. and 2 P.M. at the courthouse August 18 to satisfy a judgment of about $16,000.

The shares are subject to a lien held by Tropical Bank and Trust Co. The judgment was obtained some time ago by James Buchanan of Dade County.

Record Budget Increases Millage Slightly

A record budget of $4,366,916 was approved Thursday by the Highlands County school board and it will mean only a 2 mill rise above the eight mills levied for operating last year.

Principal budget expenses include operating expense, $4,233,738, which includes $2,795,941 for instructional salaries; debt service, $18,483; capital improvement, $780,618.62, and contracted program fund, $106,227.01.

The board also narrowed the choice of architects for the school construction and additions approved with the passage of the $4.5 million bond issue June 10, from the nine interested during the past three weeks to four possible choices.

The four firms still under consideration are Watson and Company of Tampa, Leslie G. Pickett of Bartow, Starratt and Aske of Fort Pierce and William R. Fritzel partnership of Fort Myers.

The board began inspection of the architect's work Friday by visiting the Lyman High School at Longwood near Orlando. Making the trip were Superintendent of Schools George Douglass, Board Chairman Henry Bailey, Board Members G. Franklin Ward and John Wierick and Billy Cason, supervising principal of Sebring High School.

On Tuesday they went to Ft. Pierce to see a building designed by another of the architects. They will see two more before selecting their architect. Watson & Co. designed the one at Longwood. The local men were flown there at the company's expense.

One of the actions after the budget vote Thursday was board acceptance of a bid of $8,429 from Broadhead-Garrett Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, for industrial art equipment at Lake Placid High School.

GRANT IN AID

Checks totaling nearly $1,000,000 are being distributed to 36 non-profit agencies serving approximately 2,900 mentally retarded children and adults in 19 of Florida's 67 counties. Ridge Area Day School received $7,271.

Crime was on the increase in Highlands County this past year "but rehabilitation efforts also were on the increase," reported Clifford M. Ables, III, district supervisor, Florida Probation and Parole Commission, as he released his yearly report.

Ables, who handles the local courts with the help of a secretary, Mrs. Bettie Cooper, completed 62 pre-sentence investigations for Highlands County's criminal courts for the fiscal year ended June 30. This compares to 41 for the previous year. Another supervisor will be added to the office as soon as a qualified man can be found.

For the fiscal year just ended, there were 43 investigations for Circuit Court, 15 for County Judge's Court. There also were five post-sentence investigations and 12 pre-parole investigations.

There was one investigation for the parole board and another state and 20 investigations for the division of corrections.

A total of 94 probationers were supervised during the fiscal year, earning $12,670, most of which was spent locally for living expenses. With these earnings they paid $2,471 to support their dependents and made restitution to victims in the amount of $1,501.

The 43 parolees supervised earned $79,132. Again most of this was spent locally for living expenses. They, too, supported dependents in the amount of $1,954.

"Supervision is a most important aspect of the work conducted by our office," Ables pointed out. "It actually costs approximately $6 per day to confine an inmate in our state prison system, while the cost of probation and parole supervision is only 63 cents per day. This amounts to a yearly savings of $1,971 per person under supervision."

Although Florida's crime rate is increasing, the Probation and Parole Commission, Ables pointed out, "has been able to continually show a savings by rehabilitation of the

Two Questions On Sale of Alcohol Will Be On Ballot

In a relatively quiet session on July 28 seemed more economy conscious perhaps more voter conscious than in many sessions held during the past year.

In one action Lt. Carroll Lloyd, commander of the Avon Park National Guard unit, requested the city give them some financial support. The County Commissioners of Hardee County and of Highlands County and the city of Sebring are already assisting in the upkeep of the Avon Park Army. Avon Park has been supporting efforts to obtain a new armory but has been more delinquent in financial support of the present armory. Councilman Durrah Martin suggested and moved that the city assume the armory electric bill as the city receives a better rate than does the armory.

Another economy act was to inquire into group insurance coverage for city employees. It was felt that by such action employees would receive greater benefit and more take-home pay than by giving employees a raise. A motion instructing the city clerk to secure more information carried unanimously.

A motion was unanimously carried to borrow $15,000 from the Avon Citrus Bank, for operating expenses until the close of the fiscal year.

Other actions of the council were the emotion-packed question regarding the sale of alcoholic beverages arose.

Dr. Jane M. Day Will Conduct Mathematical Research for NASA

Dr. Jane M. Day, chairman of the mathematics department at the College of Notre Dame, Bonmont, will conduct a research in the field of mathematics with special emphasis on the NASA space program.

Notre Dame has received a grant of $10,000 from the National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C. and Dr. Day will conduct the research under the title, "Actions of Topological Semigroups." Such basic research in the field is valuable in that it leads to the discovery of unifying concepts.

Dr. Day, who joined the college faculty as a visiting scholar three years ago is a graduate of Avon Park High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Maxwell. She received her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Florida in Gainesville. She also studied at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J. under an AAUW Fellowship.

Warning Cards Being Issued To Motorists

Forty-eight hour warning cards are now being issued to motorists who do not have the new green and white car license tags. Sheriff Joe D. Keene said today.

Keene said the motorists who receive the card must show that he or she has obtained the new tag in 48 hours, or they will be cited to court.

The sheriff's office will start giving out tickets when the Florida Highway Patrol announces from Tallahassee that they will begin doing so. Time is expected to run out for tardy purchasers about tomorrow (Friday), which is August 1.

In the discussion that followed suggestions were made that such a volunteer association be recruited from citizens in various occupations and activities so that people in all walks of life might become more conscious of their part in law enforcement and in the reduction of crime and violence.

According to the city attorney many problems could be overcome by a volunteer association when the association rather than individuals receive compensation for services rendered. In a generation of "every man for himself" such an association also could create greater goodwill and a sense of oneness.

Dates Set For Home Juice Golf Tournament

The dates have been set for the second Annual Home Juice Invitational Golf Tournament to be held at Avon Park Golf Course. It will be Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and 28, 36 holes medal play in Fights. Al Sanders winner of the first invitational will be back to defend his crown.

Entries will close with the first 160 entries. This year with the course in tip top shape should be a bigger and better tournament. Invitations will go to the mail some time next month.

Last Wednesday W. A. Madrox was the point tournament with plus two Runner-up with plus one. Saturday's blind partners tournament was won by Guy Garrett and Al Warburg with a low net ball of 61.

ALLIGATOR LAW PASSED

WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. Rep. Paul G. Rogers said today that the endangered species legislation which was passed by the House of Representatives by a voice vote on Monday, July 28, is a major step toward greater protection for Florida's diminishing alligators.

The measure was cosponsored by the bill that passed the House.

Crime in the City

With crime on the increase, particularly in the cities, we can't help but wonder if areas such as our won't benefit to a degree.

A Miami couple dropped by last week to look over our area and although they've been Coral Gables residents for the last 30 years or more, it's getting to be too much. And they are in one of the best residential sections of the megaplopolis that is Greater Miami.

Only last week, the wife confided, a woman was killed in her own home just a block away. Police have no idea who killed her. The motive was robbery. The wife also confided she is "afraid to even go to the garbage cans" any more. And that if she goes next door to chat with a neighbor, she always locks her doors.

Greater Miami is becoming, for many, too much of a city, even though they might be one of the lucky ones who live in the beautiful specious areas such as Coral Gables. Crime is everywhere, and the beautiful, large homes probably containing more valuables are prime targets.

The younger people perhaps don't mind the constant danger of burglary and similar crimes as much as the older people. Perhaps they feel they can cope with it to a better degree, whereas older people long nostalgically for the good old days when their cities were smaller and life was a much simpler thing.

Perhaps they hope they can find it in areas such as ours. It's something more than a few may be thinking about.

For Fairer Income Tax

A fairer income tax is the goal of a new organization whose chairman is Paul H. Douglas, the former senator from Illinois.

Calling themselves the National Committee on Tax Justice, the group numbers on its roster such folks as Betty Furness, former head of LBJ's consumer affairs department, Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, Adlai Stevenson, treasurer of the state of Illinois, Mrs. John Lee, past president of the League of Women Voters.

They want Congress to: Eliminate preferential treatment of all capital gains.

Eliminate special deductions for depletion of oil and other minerals beyond the cost of the mineral property and for the expensing of exploration and development costs.

Provide federal assistance to state and local bond issues instead of allowing a tax exemption on their interest.

Withhold taxes on interest and dividends at the source.

Provide tax relief for low and middle income families by providing a minimum standard deduction of $1,100 for all families.

Appropriation of this last item—the committee wants to extend the proposed $1,100 minimum standard deduction of the Nixon crowd to provide income tax relief for an estimated 25 million middle-income taxpayers.

These are the people with incomes up to $11,000.

Mr. Douglas' committee proposes to make up a lot of the tax difference by getting the oil men on the tax roll.

The depletion allowance, they said in citing an example, consistently allowed multi-millionaires to enjoy total tax immunity. One such oil magnate paid no tax over a 12-year period during which he sold more than $50 million worth of oil.

We hope Mr. Douglas and his crowd get somewhere with their reforms—but he'll be quite a guy if he pulls it off.

Highlands County Granted Greater Measure of Local Health Control

A greater measure of local control in public health administration has been granted Highlands County by the State Board of Health. The state board has premised the Highlands and County Commissioners that the county health department employees will not be reclassified without prior knowledge of the commission.

In recent years reclassification of employees into higher salary brackets had irritated the county board and kept finances confused.

At a special budget conference in Jacksonville, County Commission Chairman James Whitaker and County Administrator Charles Morgan were advised that the county may adopt a resolution formally requesting the board of health for the right to review employee classification.

Some employees who had been jumped into high brackets during the late- and stormy-administration of County Health Director Dr. J. D. Workman, have been reclassified with the opening of the new health fiscal year on July 1.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Trip to the Moon Raises Questions

"Mankind is going to establish places of abode outside of his home planet, the earth," said Dr. Thomas O. Paine, NASA administrator, shortly after Astronauts Armstrong and Aldrin had landed on the moon.

If man does, indeed, journey to other planets and even set up colonies there, will this create a conflict between our deeds and our beliefs?

When God said to Adam, "Be fruitful, and multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it," did he intend to limit us to this planet?

Or is it true, as a famous biologist said, some time ago, that "in the evolutionary pattern of thought there is no longer either need or room for supernatural beings capable of affecting the course of evolution?"

"The earth was not created. It evolved," he said. "So did all the animals and plants that inhabit it, including our human selves, mind and soul, as well as brain and body."

Is Science Against God? Have the achievements of the modern science really outmoded faith in God as the supreme Creator? Some, who believe that science and God cannot peacefully coexist in the same universe, declare science has now displaced God.

When the Russians succeeded in photographing the dark side of the moon from an unmanned satellite, some years ago, the Russian newspaper, "Izvestia" reported that a Russian Orthodox priest had been converted to atheism.

The priest announced to his congregation in the village of Soderkov, near Moscow, "I have become an atheist. . . . People have learned to dominate nature. . . . photograph the moon's hidden side, and put rockets into space. Not God, but science helped them. I am convinced there is no God."

On the other hand, Dr. Werner von Braun, director of the NASA Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., declared recently, in a "Christian Life" interview, "We must learn to consider God as Creator of the universe and Master of everything."

Von Braun says that he considers it as difficult "to understand as a scientist who does not acknowledge the presence of a superior rationality behind the existence of the universe as it is to comprehend a theologian who would deny the advances of science."

"The Heavens Declare" Mrs. Madelyn Murray O'Hair, who apparently considers God her personal enemy, may not like this, but it is definitely true that a number of those who are planning and carrying out this nation's space program are sincere Christians who have no hesitation about telling the world that they believe in the God who made the universe that they are learning about.

The Bible says, "The heavens declare the glory of God. . . . There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard."

POINT OF VIEW

The Paint Industry

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 31, 1969. Paint sales are generally broken down into two categories—trade and industrial. Trade sales consist of paint sold to consumers, contractors, and professional painters for new construction and for repainting, refinishing, and maintenance. Industrial sales consist of paint sold to manufacturers for application during the manufacturing stage of a product. Until recently, trade sales had been more important in the paint industry's growth. However, future sales of industrial coatings should surpass sales of consumer paints by a considerable degree.

The superior growth projected for industrial coatings is based on (1) the overall growth of U. S. industry and (2) the technology of coatings which is moving ahead so rapidly that new paints are being used on surfaces unheard of a few years ago, such as the superalloy finishes on space vehicles. Although the automotive, appliance, and furniture industries consume the greatest volume of industrial paints each year, uses range from coating the inside of food and beverage cans to the thin film of varnish on motor assemblies.

Rebounding from 1967, growth in the paint industry in recent years has been steady and reliable, though the rate has been unspectacular. Despite being an integral segment of the building industry, the paint field tends to resist downturn phases in new construction because a large part of spending on paint is for maintenance and renovation.

Weather conditions, however, can adversely affect paint consumption in a given year. Thus, in 1967 when poor weather conditions combined with a relatively unenthusiastic automobile year, paint sales rose but a sub-par 3%, well below the usual 4%-5% year-to-year increase.

With costs up sharply, earnings for many paint manufacturers declined. On the whole, 1968 was a much better year for the paint industry, although substantial spending on expansion and new building, along with the surtax, depressed earnings for some of the industry leaders.

The Outlook—Color It Rose. Indications are that 1969 will be a good year for the paint market. The Babson's Reports are estimating that trade sales will rise from $1 billion in 1968 to $1.1 billion this year, with water-based paints increasing their share of the market from 60% to 65-70%. New products, such as fire retardant finishes and coatings for factory-finishing of modular-house units, should also contribute to improved results. Looking further ahead, expected growth of the economy, increased consumer spending, and prospects of a building boom in the 1970s indicate that good gains are likely for the paint industry.

For representation in the paint industry over the next few years, the Babson's Reports staff feels the following companies have interesting possibilities: SHERWIN-WILLIAMS is the nation's largest producer of paints and varnishes. Recent results have been adversely affected by start-up costs and higher interest costs. Fiscal 1969 year-end August 31 earnings are not expected to show significant improvement over the $2.36 year-end August 31 and beyond is promising.

Forming the well-known line of "Dutch Boy" paints and pigments, is the country's largest manufacturer of products in which lead is a basic material; it is also prominent in non-ferrous die castings. Absence of last year's strike, better margins on titanium dioxide operations, and a leveling off of startup costs at new plants should result in improved 1969 profits.

COOK PAINT & VARNISH makes paints, varnishes, enamels, lacquers, synthetic resins, and waxes as well as prefabricated plywood and wallboard and printed hardboard. Poor weather and rising costs are hurting this year's sales and earnings, but good long-range prospects make the stock worth watching as a sound candidate.

THE LADY WRITES:

"YOU SOUTHERNER, YOU"

JOHN J. SYNON

The lady writes to ask why I "have to be so Southern, all the time."

Always Chasing Rainbows

Lady, I see the other side, all right, and that is the short answer to your question. I am what you call Southern (and I call myself) because the point of political view I express is right—according to my logic. Consequently, since that other side would change me and my people from what we are and want to be, into something entirely different, I oppose it all the time—and nobody goes to turn me round, Lady.

Make no mistake about it, that is what is being attempted. The power structure of this nation, today, as for the past 35 years, is seeking to whelm all Southern people—people generally—until their noses and their nostrils and their palms point as one to Washington. They would abolish regionalism, and thus make us all alike.

That I am a Southern person who objects to this gives my objections, I confess, a Southern flavor. True enough, but in my opinion, can Midwesterners who object to the very same thing be classified as Southern? I doubt it. So, it isn't my "Southernness" you despise, Lady. It is my dogged determination to maintain Constitutional government—and you call it "Southern" because you and your kind have made that noble word into a smear.

Historically, we have had regions with their distinct beliefs and customs. We have been a diversified nation and in this diversity, freedom has lain our strength, each area contributing to the whole its cultural and economic bits and pieces. And, in the name of "harmony," Lady, you would destroy that diversity.

ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER

Editor, Information Services

What is alcoholism?

Anyone who is an alcoholic or who is closely associated with an alcoholic in any way will have no trouble answering this one. But how about the millions of Floridians who have five million to be exact—who have had no first-hand experience with alcoholism in any way?

To them we can say that alcoholism is a disease that occurs as the end result of a series of failures in the solution of the problems of life, in orientation to the provocations of life, and in adjusting to situations involving frustration and anxiety.

Alcoholism is described by some as a substitute for suicide, not seen by its victim as being equivalent in ultimate result, but chosen for the same reason—an escape from reality.

Alcoholism is the victim clings to the disease even though he is conscious of the help in blotting out the problems of his belief that the situations or problems which are largely serving him to drink are essentially insolvable.

One of the ingredients of alcoholism is the belief that you do not have it.

The victim of alcoholism views alcohol as the only relief he can find to the very painful emotional wounds from which he suffers.

Alcoholism is embraced by the victim as a refuge from the pain of facing the failures that have occurred, and as a means of delaying or avoiding the seemingly impossible and painfully unpleasant task of rectifying wrongs that have occurred or solving the problems that still are plaguing the victim.

In some instances the victim of alcoholism is using the disease not only for personal relief in blotting out the problems and avoiding them, but as a means of effective retaliation against persons who are assumed to be responsible for creation of problems which he has not been able to solve.

In order to release a victim of alcoholism from his disease it is first necessary to show that his problem is not insolvable, that the pain of facing failures is more than the pain involved in solving the problems, and that he cannot afford to pay the price of not solving his problems.

In order to assist the alcoholic in retaining his sobriety indefinitely, it is necessary to teach him spiritual principles that will enable him to face, among other things, the problems of life, and effectively solve them.

Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program has excellent literature for those who need more information on any phase of alcoholism, and it's free. Just ask. Just write FARP's Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla., 33828.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. HOBBS

"PEACE IN OUR TIME"

AT MUNICH

Old-timers, like the mental wreck who is hammering this thought on paper, will remember German Neville Chamberlain, the head-man of England who went to Munich, Austria, to settle European affairs with a lunatic named Adolph Schickelgruber, called by himself "Hitler." The "peace" was made by giving the nut a long slice of an innocent, helpless country to add to his empire. The "peace" lasted for a few weeks after Chamberlain reached home and joyfully announced to the English and the world that he had fixed things so that there "now would be peace in our time." The "peace" came around five long bloody years later, after almost the entire world was soaked in human gore, and wars, smaller and larger wars have been merrily going on here and there ever since.

This writer was co-editor of the Lake Wales Highlander for several years before the "peace" in our corner took place, and having seen World War No. 1 get off the ways, he took an editorial stand that shocked the thirds of the readers of the paper, so short is human memory, and so scant is human intelligence about matters more pertinent to world welfare than "sex, booze and having a general 'good old time'."

I begin to see early signs of the same mental situation today as existed before the two other world wars. We call "throwing in the sponge" today "negotiation." They are doing what the French did in Vietnam when Communism won one of its finest victories. I know of no better way to phrase the war situation today than to copy several sentences from my favorite and most intelligent present-day writer, David Lawrence: Listen, you old-timers! This may not sound like another and greater "Munich peace in OUR TIME!"

"As small contingents of American troops begin to arrive from Vietnam, there is naturally rejecting. It would be a mistake to interpret the 'withdrawal' as a sign that peace is really coming, and that America's involvement in Southeast Asia is about to end. The sad truth is that the United States in its desire to make an impression upon the world by being the first to withdraw, has accepted a lot of advice and, in effect, has lost the war."

Another space taken by Lawrence, evidence given before the Senate Armed Services Committee April 16, it is shown that during the time since Johnson stopped bombing October 31, 1968, North Viet has reduced its military force by one-third by years of coming the expenditure of billions of dollars and oceans of rich, American blood.

Since Johnson's desire to show the world how strong is our love of peace, the Mediterranean Sea has filled up with Communist Russian warships, warships from the same source are now filling the Caribbean Sea and straits South of Florida, and the stock markets over the nation suffered their greatest slump of years. Israeli will be over-run with hostile armies, the Suez Canal closed to everyone but Communists—God knows what next.

Answer—The decision is yours. However, you would be ahead by receiving benefits during the Summer months for the next three years unless you expect to live until late 70's. Check with your local social security office for an exact explanation of this as it applies in your case.

Question—I have been advised by my doctor to file a claim for social security disability checks as I suffered a stroke several months ago and asked him for a statement about my condition, but he said this was not necessary. I have just been informed there is no birth certificate on file for me. What should I do?

Answer—It might be a good idea to check now with your nearest social security office. They'll help you complete a census card. A 1919 or 1920 census card of your age made that an excellent proof.

Question—I am a school teacher and will be age 63 this Summer. Should I file to receive social security checks during the Summer when I will not be teaching, or should I wait until I reach age 65 and get full benefits?

Answer—If and when the social security folks want a report from your present doctor, they will ask you to take the request to him for completion. Question—Social security has been paying me student's benefits for the past two years. I plan to get married during the Summer vacation, but will continue to live until late 70's. Will my checks continue?

Answer—Social security ends with the check received on the third of the month in which you get married. You should notify your nearest social security office just as soon as you get married.

ELIZABETH CLARKE

P. O. Box 1265

Shuffling
Unfortunately, on Wednesday evening not enough folks came to have a tournament, but lacked two. We do need 16.

On Saturday evening, just 16 played. We would not have played, but Art Jordan went down early and dried the courts from the afternoon shower. Chris Cabera and George Ormiston won first place, with Charles Romilly and Elizabeth Clarke coming in second. In consolation Gertrude Fensterman and Ruth Jordan came in first and Herb Shauger and Henry Redlich came in second. It was the warmest night on the courts this Summer.

Card Games
Monday afternoon the group played their usual games of pinocle. J. J. Parsons came in first with 678.

while Helen Good came in second with 610.

Dances
At the dance on Friday evening, a few spectators enjoyed watching the six couples busy with the square dancing. One, "Around The World In 80 Days," seemed to have quite an intricate pattern, and when they came to the call "Spin The Top," some were not too sure what to do, but after a bit they did it.

Supper
Ann Janke was the hostess to the nine folks who came to the supper on Saturday, and even though there were only nine the food was good and a well-balanced meal. Vonna Beall asked the blessing. There was no formal program, so all played cards afterwards.

Chili-Chai
Charles and Bertha Brush have returned to their home on Lake Byrd from their visit to Urbana, Ohio, visiting friends and relatives. The Avon Park group who live in Urbana, entertained the Brushes with a picnic at Lakewood Beach. The five couples entertaining were: the Hobert Smiths, the Harmon Faulkners, the Sylvan Bakers, the Harmon Heffners and the Conrads. All enjoyed reminiscing about their winters in Avon Park. Jennie Baker was taken to Walker Memorial Hospital last Thursday for tests. Lloyd Young is now home from the Winter Haven Hospital, and is doing just fine. Their daughter, Mrs. Melvin McClear, and two children, from Owensboro, Ky., are visiting them for a few days.

Mrs. Carl Mathie and daughter, LaRue, of Mt. Vernon, Ind., are visiting Mrs. Mathie's mother, Mrs. Reed Simpson.

Ellen and Mort Combs writes that their son graduates this week with a masters degree in music from Vandercook College in Chicago. His wife was joining him from Portland, Me. for the ceremonies.

Leslie and Grace Hildreth of Fairfield, Me. visited the Combs over the week-end. Also visiting the Combs was their granddaughter, who is a student at the University of Maine, taking a Summer course for high school juniors. Grace Romilly is now home from the hospital and recuperating very nicely.

2275 INFECTED

Veterinarians tested 260,193 Florida cattle for brucellosis and found 1.27 per cent of them infected during the past year, Commissioner of Agriculture and Consumer Services Doyle Cramer said this week.

GEORGE DOUGLAS, Highlands County Superintendent of Schools, will assume the presidency of the Florida Association of County School Superintendents August 1. Douglas scheduled as president-elect for 1969-70 will succeed J. A. Thompson, Indian River County Superintendent who will retire August 1. Douglas is in his second term as the elected head of Highlands County Schools and has served the Superintendent's Association as a member of the board of directors and in the offices of secretary and treasurer.

Cancer Crusade Passes $6,300 Goal

Casino Martinetto, Highlands County Chairman for the American Cancer Society's 1969 Crusade, reported today to V. Gregg Waters, M.D., president of the Highlands County unit, that the unit was well over its goal of $6,300.

Mr. Martinetto said, "Due to the support of all the citizens in the county and to the faithful dedication of all the volunteers who worked so hard to make it successful, we have met our goal for the first time in five years. Working on the drive were: Mrs. John E. Carson and Mrs. Russ Albright, Sebring Crusade co-chairmen; Mrs. Marvin Kahn, member of the Crusade Advisory committee; Mrs. Bill Owens, Avon Park Residential chairman; Mrs. Andrew Jackson, Lake Placid Crusade chairman; Fred Johns, Avon Park Special Gifts chairman; George Haynie, Avon Park Business chairman; Mrs. Jack Hancock, Sebring Special Gifts chairman; James Ridley, Sebring Business chairman; and Andrew Jackson, Lake Placid Special Gifts chairman.

New Program Of Supervision Is Aimed At Hard Core Criminals

Florida has started a new parole supervision program in an attempt to "break the criminal cycle" of hard core offenders.

MADE BY EXCELLENCE

The first man to be released under this program from Avon Park Correctional Institution will be going home there August 1 to his home in Ft. Lauderdale, according to Clifford Ables, III, district supervisor, Florida Probation and Parole Commission.

The Legislature two years ago passed the new program which requires parole supervision for all convicts, hard core or otherwise, released before the end of their sentence because of "gain time" earned in prison.

Gain time is extra credit for those who work at productive jobs and do not have to be disciplined. Under the gain time provisions a man sentenced to five years can earn enough extra credit to qualify for release in about half that time.

Even hostile prisoners with no thought of abandoning a life of crime have been able through cold calculation to behave as model prisoners and get out in a relatively short time, said Ables.

In the past, the choice for a prisoner was to try to get a job lined up and to meet the other conditions for parole or to wait a few more months and walk out the gates a "free man."

Many of the so-called professional criminals turned down parole because of the seemingly strict rules. Under the new program, whether the prisoner is released on parole or by building up 180 days or more of gain time, he will work with parole supervisors until the end of his sentence.

The program now permits supervising of ex-convicts who ordinarily would be released with no strings attached—and the supervision will be a new force in crime prevention.

Figures show that eight out of 10 ex-convicts released under parole supervision have become productive members of society. Over 70 per cent of those released without supervision were back in prison within five years for committing another crime.

$200 Fine Handed Out For Driving While Drunk

Trials were held Thursday in County Court before Judge Mervin Rehner.

John Barefoot was fined $200 or 30 days for driving while intoxicated, $150 or 15 days (with credit for time served) for attempting to elude a police officer, and $30 or 15 days for having no valid driver's license.

Lorenzo Poole, Avon Park, charged with sale of liquor on a beer license, was fined $50 or 30 days.

Lela Williams, of Avon Park, charged with unlawful sale of alcoholic beverages and sale of alcoholic beverage with an improper license, was fined $50 or 30 days on each of the two charges.

Clara Bostright of Avon Park, accused of selling whiskey without a license, had the case nolle prossed, the judge ruling this was a case of mistaken identity. The case against Stanford Stansberry, Avon Park, accused of discharging firearms in a residential area, also was nolle prossed.

John James Stephenson, of Avon Park, charged with assault and battery, entered a plea of guilty, was given 30 days and credited with three months' time served.

Clifton Bailey of Avon Park, charged with driving while intoxicated, had his sentence reduced to reckless driving and will be sentenced later.

Cases continued were those of Mary Brown of Avon Park, sale of beverages not permitted by license; Russell Hartfield, Lake Placid, contributing to the delinquency of a minor (alcoholic beverages); Bill Spencer Sanders, Sebring, assault; Al Yarbrough, Avon Park, contributing to the delinquency of a minor (alcoholic beverages).

NEW HUNT AREA

Florida hunters will have a new public hunting area during the 1969-70 season. The Jane Green area in Osceola County was established as a wildlife management area at a meeting of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission in Ft. Lauderdale on July 17. The new area, owned by the South and Central Florida Flood Control District, will be opened as a controlled hunting area. Due to the area size, 17,000 acres, hunting will be limited to a specified number of hunters per day.

Whistler's Painting

The correct title for James Whistler's famous portrait of his mother, commonly known as "Whistler's Mother," is "Arrangement in Grey and Black."

A camel can lose 10 per cent of its weight, and live; most other animals will die if they lose 10 to 12 per cent of their normal weight, due to exercise, famine, or heat.

Letter To The Editor Election Draws Near

Editor Sun:
Time is drawing near for another city election to elect two councilmen and a mayor. What makes it so noticeable is the "no truths," "half truths," and "all truths," phrases flying around. May I say this year due to the awful financial condition of Avon Park and possibly the future since the 30's, the all truths are the most correct.

Probably I should make my position clear. I am not a candidate, nor am I a potential candidate for any office. I speak only as a taxpayer interested in Avon Park.

It really makes me wonder about some of our politicians way of handling city business and finances. Up until two years ago Avon Park finances have never been a big problem for the last 15 years. There was always money for all operations and a reserve for most any emergencies. It was never necessary to borrow money to meet payrolls or any other operations. I see where the council has a resolution to borrow up to $50,000 from the local bank. They have already borrowed $15,000 at 4 1/2 per cent interest to meet the payroll and there is a great possibility they will be receiving more soon.

I would like to ask one specific question. What happened to all the money for delinquent taxes, water bill, etc., some members of the council have been raving about collecting?

I would like to offer some suggestions as to where some of many savings could be had. Why all the firemen, especially when there are more than has been budgeted for? Is it necessary to have all the police when the crime rate is as great and possibly more than when Avon Park had a much more limited force? How about city hall, Mr. Howard and Mr. Lane, didn't you promise to cut lots of expenses there? Is it not more now than when you took office?

About the only major project I have seen the council do is make arrangements for Critchfield Marine to locate at the Airport, however, this is with a loan of $224,000 guaranteed by the city to either pay off or loose the land if there should be a failure.

I am very proud to have Critchfield Marine in Avon Park and consider them a great help to our economy. I am only mentioning the above for the public's information.

Now comes what I have predicted, lots of new taxes. One increased tax you have probably not thought or heard about is brought on by the city accepting the county assessment roll. (This was voted for by the voters last year), which is about 10 per cent more than our present city assessment. Can you stand a tax increase on your home and other properties along with the utility tax and others?

When so many of us worked hard for Martin and Duggan to be elected last year there was one thought in mind—they would be against continuing the way the city is being run and be against all those unnecessary new taxes. It now seems they have joined the "Taxum Gang."

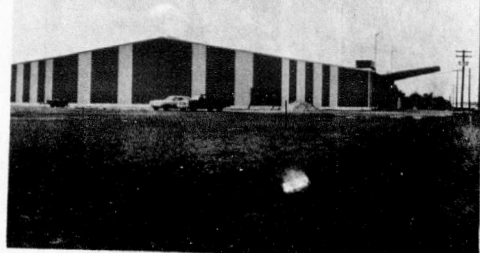

Maybe we will have two qualified proven business men or women qualify for a council post. If they promise and we can believe them to run the city on a business basis and eliminate those extreme taxes just voted in by the present council—let's elect them.

P.S. This is the first time Avon Park has had to borrow money for the payroll since the early 1940's and this was only for a very limited time.

Political Parties
Five different political parties have been represented in the presidency of the United States: Federalist, Democrat-Republican, Democrat, Whig and Republican.

We discovered—we thought—a new use for three-day-old pizza, but our guess is that the tire companies beat us to it by a few decades.

THE NEW BOWLING alley to replace the burned-down Grand Prix lanes south of Avon Park is nearly completed. It is hoped it will be finished in September. This is a side view. The front of the building is at right with a tiled porte-cochere.

CATFISH ARE GLUTTONS

Channel catfish are probably the hungriest fresh water fish in the United States. They'll eat almost anything, and stay up all night to do so.

Studies show the kinds of food eaten by catfish number into the thousands and include mammals, birds, amphibians, insects, reptiles, fruit, seeds, leaves and oddities too numerous to mention.

Yes, with such a versatile appetite, catfish are selective about what they'll eat — and when they'll feed. Successful catfish anglers, say the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards, are just as selective in their choice of catfish baits.

"Stink" baits are the most common catfish lure. They're particularly effective in spring and fall. Cheese is usually the base ingredient. Additives such as flour or corn meal provide substance, and such things as oil of anise, kumquat, or anise-feta join the mess to provide the correct odor. Stink bait is generally fished on the bottom.

Chicken skin is probably the best catfish bait of all. The main problem is to keep it on the hook. Blood bait is made by letting fresh blood coagulate under refrigeration, and cutting coagulum into strips. To fish blood bait, anchor your boat, place the bait in the water as easy as possible and don't move it after it has reached bottom.

Live baits — minnows, crabs, frogs — are also effective catfish getters. They can be floated or still fished — although floating will usually produce the most catches. The secret, say the Mercury experts, is to have a lively bait. Whatever the choice of bait, you're in for some gourmet dining when you've caught a mess of catfish. Cut into one-inch thick steaks, dipped in milk and rolled in corn meal, then deep-fried... there's nothing on the table that can beat them for eating.

Let's Go Fishin'

The safest and most convenient way to paint a house is from a scaffold. This enables you to paint across the entire side of your home as you work downward. Try to finish your day's work at a corner or window so that laps and streaks will not occur, even if weather forces you to stop for several days.

Financed on conviction of malicious trespassing were Levi Dewberry, Melvin Martin Olds, Fred Mastaline, Charles Smith, Ernest Whigham and Andy Wilson, all of Sebring. Fines were handed out by County Judge Mervin Rehner on Tuesday.

Other sentences and bond structures involving Highlands County persons were: Phil Dunn, Sebring, charged with public drunkenness, estraited a $50 bond.

Jeffrey Foye, Grissette, Avon Park, public drunk, estraited $25 bond.

David Bullard, Jr., Lake Placid, no drivers license, estraited $25 bond.

Eugene Jones, Lake Placid, two charges of assault and battery on his sister and her husband, $35 or 15 days on each charge.

Harold Rufus Kruzan, Sebring, driving on wrong side of road, estraited $25 bond.

Henry Turner, Roland, Avon Park, expired inspection sticker, $20 or 10 days.

Ella Mae Jones, Avon Park, simple assault, estraited $35 bond.

William David Baker, Sebring, public drunk, estraited $25 bond.

County Taxes Up One Mill During 1969

Highlands County taxpayers will pay almost one mill more taxes for 1969.

Combined increases of the various taxing agencies comes to 559 mills or in simple terms, about nine cents more per $1,000 of non-exempt tax valuation.

Last of the taxing agencies to set its millage, Central and Southern Florida Flood Control, announced this week a 18 mill increase to bring the 1969 levy to 39 mills. Much, but not all of Highlands County, is included in the flood control district, and for those parts included in the district county taxes for 1969 will be 14.74 mills.

This includes 82 mills for schools, 5.74 mills for the county commission budget, and 460 for Highlands General Hospital district. The hospital, which is the only county taxing unit to hold the line this year.

At its meeting on Tuesday morning the county commission formally approved the 1969-70 budget which calls for no operation on October 1. The record budget of $2,351,963 was adopted with one minor change.

A transfer of funds within the Interest and Sinking Fund was okayed by the commission; it did not change the budget total. County Agriculture Agent Bert Harris asked the board to clarify the commission's position on contributions. The commissioners explained that contributions to both county and state have been eliminated in the new budget.

Road Funds
County Engineer Charles Morgan told the county commissioners Tuesday that the State Department officials have requested a meeting to review the county's secondary road funds. The latest contract for four-laning of US 27 is nine per cent above estimates, Morgan said, and the board will cut into secondary funds.

In response to questions from the audience Tuesday, Commission Chairman Jean Whitaker said work on the four-laning of US 27 is in progress for more than a year and it would appear that the State Road Department has granted the contractor an extension on the contract originally calling for a one year completion.

Morgan said the State Road officials have scheduled a meeting with the state's trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund on establishing a bulkhead line for the work at Lake McCoy. The Internal Improvement Fund trustees are the legal custodians of the state-owned lands, and since the current four-laning of US 27 involves changes in Lake McCoy the trustees must give their approval.

The commissioners signed Tuesday an agreement to retain a fishing blinker at the intersection of US 27 and State 621 at Lake Park.

The board accepted Tuesday drainage easements along a county road at Lake Angelo near Avon Park.

County Tax Assessor J. W. Billy Martin notified the board that the State Comptroller had approved the Highlands County tax roll for the year without changes in the past six years.

Friday Is Last Day To Renew Seat Tickets
Next Friday, Aug. 15, is the last day to renew reserved seat tickets for the home Red Devil football games for the 1969 season. All fans who held reserved seat tickets last season are eligible to purchase the same seats this year for the price of $3.

Then starting August 18 anyone who has purchased reserved seat tickets for exchange for another seat in the section if there are any available spaces left.

On September 8 any tickets which have not been purchased will go on sale to the general public on a first-come, first-served basis.

These tickets must be purchased at the high school office on week days and must be picked up in person. The first home game will be against Lake Wales on Friday, Sept. 19, here at Memorial Stadium.

Two Avon Park Men Bound Over For Circuit Court

Two Avon Park men have been bound over to circuit court on counts of breaking and entering, Pool's Beer Garden and Restaurant, Avon Park. They waived preliminary hearing when they appeared before County Judge Marvin Rehner.

They are Samuel Ashe, 24, and Walter Ivory Earl Roberts, 20. Ashe, who is serving a 30 day jail term for vagrancy, also is charged with the burglary of Lakeview Inn at Lacey Hill, Avon Park. Roberts is held on $1,000 bond.

Pool's was entered July 23 and $18 taken from the cash register and an undetermined amount from the cigar machine. Lakeview was entered July 22 and an undetermined amount of money taken from the juke box and cigar machine.

Working to solve the burglaries were Deputy Sheriff J. C. Murdock, Avon Park Police Chief Earl Conner, and Police-Lt. L. C. Conner. The investigators noted that the two men were "always together" and that Ashe seemed always to have plenty of money but no employment.

TOMMY BAGWELL stands by a 298 pound Jawfish caught while fishing Monday near Fort Myers. John Phillips caught the fish using a two pound mullet for bait. Others along on the fishing trip were Gary and Keith Bagwell, Bill Phillips and Mike Wahup.

Candidates Will Be Allowed Space To Express Views on City Problems

For the next four issues prior to the city elections, September 9, the Avon Park Sun will provide a "Candidates Corner." Each candidate for office will be encouraged to make clear his stand on current city issues and to offer new approaches to city problems.

To insure equality of opportunity a maximum space of 30 words will be allotted each candidate each week prior to the election.

The space allotted will not be cumulative—in other words, if it is not used in any one issue it may not be added to space allotted in editions nearer to election time.

It is hoped this effort on the part of the Sun will more fully inform the voters, reduce contradictory promises by candidates, and encourage a larger turnout on election day.

Writers must be in by Monday morning of each week. No candidates may, as usual, express opinion through "Letters to the Editor" within the limitations of available space.

Mike Bradberry Attends Miami Band Clinic
Mike Bradberry returned Sunday from the 12th Annual Florida All Star High School Marching Band at the University of Florida, after several weeks of study.

Mike, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bradberry of Avon Park, spent several weeks at the University of Miami Band Clinic, where he played a member of the Gold Band and received a certificate for superior achievement in music theory. He then attended, the American Legion sponsored by Boys State in Tallahassee representing Avon Park in company with Colvin Stone, where law and government were stressed and a 4 year award, Atty Boys State of Florida, was awarded.

From Boys State went to the University of Florida to attend the Tallahassee Gatorland Music Clinic. This was his fourth year at the band clinic where he played first chair tuba of the Honor Band. Mike was one of six students nominated for the Gayback Award.

This award is given for musical leadership and scholarship. At the concert, which always climaxes the band clinic, Mike was awarded a 4 year music scholarship. Mike declined an invitation of Tom Stidham to attend the music clinic at Georgia Southern College. He remained at the University for the week of the marching clinic. Mike was first chair tuba and square leader. He was named "Mr. All Star."

The marching clinic was terminated with a half-time show of the North-South football game during which Mike won applause for a tuba solo during one of the intricate marching routines.

Mike credits his award to the efforts and patience of Mike Mickunas, director of the high school band, and to hard work.

State Cabinet Authorizes $158,000 For Sewage System at Institution
The state cabinet in Tallahassee has authorized spending $158,000 for a sewage system to alleviate water pollution at the Florida Correctional Institution for Women.

Last week, Secretary of Health and Rehabilitative Services, James Bax, had told state health and pollution officials to take an immediate look at the dumping of raw sewage into Atchafalaya Creek by the Avon Park Correctional Institution.

Bax said he had toured the institution and viewed the 12 inch pipe that dumps the raw sewage first into a canal, from which it runs into Atchafalaya Creek, which in turn runs into Lake Istokopos.

Bax noted he had found "good fishing" several years ago in both Atchafalaya Creek and Lake Istokopos, and did not want to see it ruined.

The dumping of raw sewage has been going on for several years, Bax noted.

The division of corrections moved onto the U. S. Air Force property at Avon Park in 1967. At that time there was a temporary sewage system in operation but it has not worked for several years.

The state has some 600 inmates and some 100 employees at Avon Park and Air Force has about 40 personnel whose sewage runs into the same 12 inch pipe the prison uses.

1200 Taxpayers Get Land Classified For Agriculture

It looked like a great deal—and was—to some 1,200 Highlands County taxpayers who own acreage and were using it 100 per cent for agricultural purposes.

Their taxes were reduced to a third of what they'd been after they signed the affidavit putting their property in the agricultural land category and were approved.

And then there were those eight taxpayers who had acreage, signed the affidavit they were using the land 100 per cent for agricultural purposes, but they weren't.

Tax Assessor Martin said that he'd uncovered the facts that he was out the standard form asking the owners of agricultural land to list their livestock and equipment. And yes, to pay taxes on personal property on same.

And that's where the eight got caught short. WHAT livestock and equipment? He said a man has no livestock or equipment on his acreage, he isn't using it for agricultural purposes, Martin pointed out. And that's where the eight got caught short. WHAT livestock and equipment? He said a man has no livestock or equipment on his acreage, he isn't using it for agricultural purposes, Martin pointed out.

So instead of helping one son—the father had helped catch the other.

The ending to this story—the father who claimed agricultural zoning now is leasing to a cattleman and claiming agricultural. The other brother still is paying on raw acreage.

Tax Assessor Martin says "We are always on the lookout for people who are trying to get by without paying their proper taxes," and he points out that what "they" (the eight) were doing was agricultural, he must assess.

County Mayor Mayberry, William Goethert, Tom Clark and Larry Buescher.

Strained Relations
Strained relations between some of the doctors and the hospital board came to a head in late June when Dr. Robert Bengarts' staff privileges were revoked, preventing him from practicing in the hospital.

Two other doctors, V. Gregg Waters and J. S. Sausgally, promptly requested they go on courtesy staff, relieving them of any emergency room duty and permitting them to enter only 24 patients a year. All three are on the staff at Walker Memorial Hospital in Avon Park.

Asked by the property owners Monday night how things are going at Highlands General Hospital, Administrator Yeager said their average patient stay is about 22 days. He said the number was of last year at this time.

A check of the hospital's annual audit filed with the Highlands County Commissioners for 1967-68 showed that the 1967-68 year the 41-bed hospital averaged 403 patients per day or for the whole year was 146,991. The Winters here are very much busier.

In a report of the meeting between the property owners and Yeager, the executive director of the property group, Col. G. W. "Camper" Campbell said the association has intensified its interest in the operation and maintenance of the hospital to the problems resulting from the district's new doctors.

Highlands General consumes more than $100,000 from county tax monies each year and property owners Campbell said, "are always interested in seeing that the dollars are efficient."

He identified his present position as hospital administrator as a "great personal challenge."

Andrew Jackson, president of the property owners, invited the administrator to call upon the association at any time when it may be felt that assistance is needed for improving the effectiveness and efficiency of the hospital.

The Underpaid Astronauts

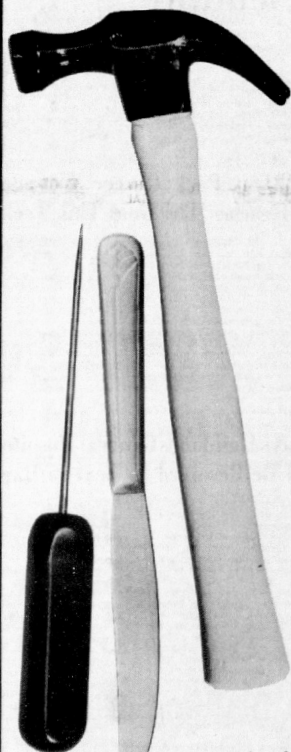

A look behind the scenes at some of the dollars and cents facts about our moon men bring out some startling facts.

One of these is that the technicians, members of a militant AFL-CIO local, who maintain the filtration, air conditioning, monitoring and vacuum equipment inside the lunar laboratory, get paid $550 a week and a total of $949.50 per week if their sleep is interrupted. Neil Armstrong, who is with US Civil Service, rates about $600 a week or $30,054 a year. No overtime, no flight time, no hazard time. Col. Buzz Aldrin gets $20,607 a year and Lt. Col. Mike Collins $20,083 annually.

Then take a look at some of the new commercial aviation contracts. At Pan American World Airways, the captain of a Boeing 727 gets $40,860 annually; the commander of a 707 $45,564 a year; and when the new 496 passenger 747 takes off in mid-December, the captain will be making $59,136 annually.

Looks like our Astronauts are working cut rate, doesn't it?

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Greatest Week In History

"This is the greatest week in the history of the world since the Creation." President Nixon told Astronauts Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins, as he greeted them back to earth after their epic round-trip voyage to the moon.

Certainly the feat of the three intrepid adventurers, backed by the technological resources of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, dwarfed the achievements of many previous expeditions.

For the first time in history, man had planted his feet on the surface of an extraterrestrial body.

Thus the way has been opened for future exploration of other planets. Perhaps Mars will be first, then Venus, then... who knows where this may lead us?

Some Disagree

But there are some who would not agree with the president's designation of "the greatest week."

One who would certainly disagree that the week of the moon trip was "the greatest" would be Sen. Edward Kennedy —for that was the week in which Mary Jo Kopechne died of drowning in the senator's car, overturned in Poucha Pond on Chappaquiddick Island.

Also—Evangelist Billy Graham has expressed disagreement with the president, saying that several other weeks would have to be given consideration as contenders for the title of "greatest week."

Without detracting in any way from the significance of the moon-landing, which even Cairo Radio—not usually given to praising Americans—bathed as "the greatest human achievement ever," one would have to agree that sober second thought might cause one to consider some other weeks as being even more important to the welfare of mankind.

Other Great Weeks

Consider, for instance, the week in which Christ was born.

That was an occasion when One Whose home was in the heavens came to this earth. It was the time when God showed us that His love for us was such that He wanted to express it in the only way in which we could understand it—by sending His Son to become a man, like us, so that He could tell us of God's love.

Then, think of the week of the crucifixion and the resurrection of the Lord. Certainly, no week can compare with that in its importance for the ultimate destiny of those who put their faith and trust in the Savior.

Some of us might also want to nominate other times for the title of "the greatest"—especially if we were thinking in terms of personal experience, rather than world-wide significance.

Sir James Young Simpson, the Edinburgh physician who discovered that chloroform could be used as an anesthetic, was once asked, "Which of all your discoveries do you consider the most valuable?"

"To me," he replied, "the most valuable discovery I have ever made was when I discovered myself a sinner, and that Jesus Christ was my Savior."

Railroad Prospects

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., August 7, 1969. Creation of a Department of Transportation at the Cabinet level... Federal Government is symbolic of the growing awareness of the need for a unified transportation industry to meet the requirements of an internationally oriented industrial nation.

The important role that American railroads see themselves playing in this new concept of a total transportation facility is indicated by the high priority that railroad management has given during the past 20 years to incorporating advances in mechanical and electronic technology to their operations; integrating as much as possible with the trucking air freight, and ocean-going cargo industries for their mutual benefit, and at the same time, satisfying the increasingly complex demands of shippers.

Help From Electronics
Maintaining a current location status report of its rolling stock has always presented problems to rail carriers. At one time, it frequently took a matter of days and even weeks to locate a misdirected shipment. Furthermore, one railroad may have had a freight yard of uncommitted tank cars, for example, while another carrier a few hundred miles away was in dire need of such equipment.

These problems are being solved today by the development of Automatic Car Identification (ACI) and Tele-Rail Automated Information Network (TRAIN). The electronic computer is the basic component of both of these systems. ACI will provide instant information as to location and destination of every car in its system, together with pertinent data concerning its cargo. This information is available not only to the railroad concerned, but, through TRAIN—basically a central electronic storage bank—to all Class

I railroads which carry 98% of the rail freight and passenger traffic. An earlier innovation was the "piggy back" flat car to enable trans-shipment, primarily of automobiles in the early stages, between motor freight terminals. This played a great part in the development of containerization techniques involving trans-shipment of cargoes using all modes of transportation from point of origin to destination. Among other things, the "piggy back" has led to the vital link that the railroads are just beginning to establish in the Europe-Orient "land bridge." This is the revolutionary concept that embodies using rail container flat cars traveling across the U.S. to carry cargo moving between Europe and the Far East.

As shippers in the European and Far Eastern markets see the savings to them in the use of this route, vital new revenues should accumulate to the railroads. The potential market seems important enough to justify intensive development of this concept.

Merger Benefits
A major factor in the realization of this "land bridge" has been the many mergers of American rail companies. These have been commensal only after months and even years of waiting for ICC approval and, in many cases, approval by the Supreme Court. Perhaps the next step will be a relaxation of Federal regulations governing the extent to which the various increments of the transportation industry can participate in joint ventures. If this happens, it would represent a revolution in the overall transportation industry.

Hold The Leaders
Because of the improving status of the railroads and the much brighter long-range outlook, we are maintaining "hold-positions on the securities of the leading railroads. Babson's recommends buying Norfolk & Western common for income and growth potential. Penn Central common is also recommended for longer-term appreciation. Although most of the issues have not fared well in this year's downtrending market, the industry does have a brighter base. Patient holders could be well rewarded as the railroads begin to reap worthwhile benefits from the many forward steps they have taken in late years.

HIGH INTEREST
First Bank of Lake Placid earned a $211,500 time deposit of county funds by submitting a high bid of 6.60 per cent interest. The other banks of the county had each bid 5.75 per cent for the deposit.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I feel that there have been quite a few improvements in the city in the past two years. I feel we can be proud of our remodeling of the tax, water, and bookkeeping department, in the city hall although the building is old, the office lends itself to efficiency and friendly cheerfulness. The rest of the main floor has been painted and cleaned up and although it has not been remodeled it is kept cleaner. I have tried to reduce expenses in the city hall, but lacked necessary support.

There have been other things done which have improved the general appearance of the city, we have had a number of our vehicles painted out at the city barn and we have put decals on most vehicles, indicating they belong to the city, instead of the employees.

We have made large improvements in our water distribution system. We have laid a lot of six inch pipe, added five hydrants where indicated that they were needed. If the people living within 1,000 feet of these hydrants were properly rated by their insurance man, I am told all they have to do is apply for a reduction in insurance rates to their agents.

We replaced the leaky rotted, termite infested, tin covered shanty which housed our water pump and which wind and rain blew through at the Florida Power Corp. property on Highlands Ave. This not only makes Florida Power's property look better, but also makes a strong tight building to keep the pump motor and controls dry. This pump is within several hundred feet of Florida Power building and would most likely be the easiest to get into operation in the event of a disaster.

I apologize for the city being short on funds and having to borrow money. Of course a certain amount of this is due to inflation, the city's expenses have risen along with everything else. Then of course as Mr. King has stated (the Golf Course is one of the greatest things Avon Park), it has been expensive though, if we had now what has been put into the Golf Course it would not be necessary to borrow any money to meet operating expenses, in fact there would be money left over.

Question—As a young worker under 31 years old, how much social security work do I need to get disability benefits?

Louis Sumbry Named Plant Supervisor

Louis C. Sumbry, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sumbry of Avon Park, has been named shift supervisor in the production group at the Volunteer Army Ammunition Plant, Tyner, Tenn.

The appointment was announced by Atlas Chemical Industries, Inc., operating contractor of the plant which manufactures TNT under contract with the U. S. Army. The huge military manufacturing complex is located on some 7300 acres of former Tennessee farmland and manufactures a major portion of the TNT used by United States and allied fighting forces in Vietnam. Originally built in 1942, the plant has been reactivated for the Korean conflict and again for the present war in Southeast Asia.

He is married to the former Ernestine Coleman, also of Avon Park. Mrs. Sumbry will join her husband in Chattanooga in the near future.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

By WEYMAN CARVER
Herb Ingley, certified public accountant of Lake Wales was the guest speaker at Rotary last week.

He spoke on Estate Planning, emphasizing the point that such planning should begin when an individual first holds to accumulate property. No one likes to discuss the possibility of his death, however, a little time spent on deciding how he or she desires their estate to be distributed at the time of their death results in not only the distribution of their assets as they wish it to be done, but also usually saves the family money on estate taxes.

Anyone's estate, which amounts in value to $60,000 or more, is subject to state and federal taxes. Mr. Ingley noted that the value of property is figured at today's market value and not at the original cost. For example, an orange grove purchased 15 years ago when the trees were young would today be worth many times the purchase price.

For tax purposes, all of the individual's property is valued. This includes not only business property but household furniture, cars, savings accounts, etc. In order to assure the desired distribution of a person's property and to save the maximum legal amount on taxes, each individual should take the following steps:

1. list all the property that he owns by himself, or jointly, or has any control over.

2. determine the present market value of the property.

3. Take the information to his attorney for assistance in planning the disposition of his estate.

There are numerous legal techniques involved and the services of an attorney are a necessity.

Estate taxes may be reduced in several ways but plans must be carefully made in order to do so.

She carried a double nosegay of white carnations and mums, backed with bridal lace and white ribbon streamers.

Miss Betty Ann Padelford served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a formal A-line gown of white with red dotted organza over taffeta with grosgrain red ribbon laced through the empire bodice. She carried two long-stemmed red carnations with red and white satin bows.

Little Miss Penny Padelford served her sister as flower girl, wearing a silk A-line dress with white dotted swiss over taffeta gown made identical to the other attendants. She carried a basket of miniature red and white carnations.

To Preach Sunday

Rev. Robbins Ralph, D.D., will preach at 10 o'clock this Sunday morning at the United Congregational Church at the worship service at 10:30 o'clock this Sunday morning. Dr. Ralph is the superintendent of the Florida Conference of the United Church of Christ.

ATTENTION VOTERS

Voter: Who is Mr. Brown, shall I trust him with my valuable vote? What may we expect of him that will improve our condition.

Candidate: I am glad you asked this question. I understand that you wish to know my record. Mr. Brown has been a property owner and a businessman for 55 years in New York and in Avon Park, serving about 25 cities. Mr. Lester N. Brown was selected by the Community Leaders of America as your community leader. Mr. Brown is founder of the Chapter 222 of the American Association of Retired Persons. He received a certificate from one of the oldest and largest business institutions for his contribution to business and industry.

A member of the National Federation of Business and is listed in Who's Who in the South.

The purpose of Mr. Brown's desire to have a seat on the Council are as follows:

To use all sources of income for the city and I know many to avoid the taxing of the residents specially those on limited incomes and they are the majority.

To create work and business for every line of business and industry including the doctors, dentists and optometrist.

To increase the tourism which is the foundation of the Florida cities. When a tourist settles and builds a home that means work and business for everybody. The tourist that comes temporarily helps to a certain extent, but this is not sufficient to create work and business.

The success of the cities of property was the tourism. The council, mayor and Chamber of Commerce of these cities understood that this is the solution of prosperity.

Suit Settled For $125,000 Tuesday

One of the largest damage settlements in recent years was arrived at mid-way in the Frisch accident suit Tuesday.

Trial in the suit began Monday but before noon Tuesday attorneys agreed to a settlement of $125,000.

Mrs. Mary O. Frisch, widow of Henry O. Frisch, executor of the Frisch estate, had asked damages for the death of 78-year-old Henry Frisch.

Defendants in the suit were Minute Maid Company and a Minute Maid truck driver, Neil A. Kinlaw.

According to Florida Highway Patrol reports an auto driven by Frisch and a truck driven by Kinlaw collided head-on on US 27 south of Sebring on April 11, 1967.

Frisch, who suffered fractured ribs in the accident, died in Highlands General Hospital a short time later. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Frisch resided at Lake Placid.

FREE ON BOND

Avon Mobile Home Park News

LUCILE DUTHIE

Our Northern residents are starting to make plans for their return to our Park. The Welcome Millers of Bourbon, Ind. plan to come back around November 1. We are sorry to hear that Welcome has two sisters who have broken their hips and a niece who is critically ill. We wish them all a speedy recovery.

The Louis Shoemaker have been keeping busy these days. Lucile writes they are busy refinishing some chairs for their fireplace. These chairs range from age 125 to 150 years. When this work is completed it will be quite an accomplishment. She also says Louis has been fishing and having good luck catching blue gills. The Shoemakers are from LaPorte, Ind.

We hear the residents of the Park living in various communities in and near Indiana are planning their annual picnic August 13. This is always a big affair, rain or shine.

It seems that the Glenn Longs of Plantville, Conn. have been having bad weather too. Mildred writes the weather "is cloudy, rainy, humid and just plain nasty," making it impossible to do outside work. She also writes they are enjoying a good supply of fresh garden vegetables.

Norman Miller and wife, Barbara and son of Huntington, W. Va., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Wright and Mrs. Nina Miller last week. While here they visited Bob Tower.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Easley,

Rodney Walker, a lifelong resident of Sebring, has recently joined the staff of the bank in the installment loan department.

Some of his college activities were: Blue Key Alumnae speaker-representative to Highlands County; Agricultural Economics Club president; historian for Phi Delta Theta social fraternity; American Agricultural Economics Association delegate to Maryland and Canada. He was a member of the University of Florida football team, Alpha Kappa Psi business fraternity, Florida Leadership Convention, Agricultural Council, and the All-Campus athletic team.

200 Sports Cars Expected To Race In Highlands County October 11-12

About 200 sports cars are expected to race October 11-12 in a regional-national non-spectator automobile race to be known as Central Florida Sebring '69.

About 30 events, with five or six categories of cars, including the Formula V's which raced here two years ago will be run, with several classes in each.

About 1,000 to 1,200 persons are expected here who either are racing or connected with the cars.

Regional Smith, secretary of the Automobile Racing Club of Florida, said the ARCF is not involved in the race—it is a private club race, such as has been held at Ocoola and Daytona tracks. He pointed out that it should be quite a lift to the economy of the community in this between-seasons time.

Members of the Ridge Runners, Sebring auto racing group, are expected to compete. There will be a series of short races and half hour practice sessions for the competing cars. The races usually last about 45 minutes.

There is no promotion for attendance and spectators are not wanted, since this is a private club affair. There will be no concession stands for any spectators, nor seats, nor rest rooms at the track those days except for pit crews.

Persons who come to watch will not be prevented from doing so, however, but they will not be allowed in normal areas of the track because of the danger involved.

The Federal Aviation Administration is working with Airport Director John Barton and his staff. It is expected that many of those taking part will arrive by private plane.

The office of Sheriff Joe D. Keene is making arrangements to handle the traffic.

WORK IS UNDERWAY on the new $188,000 educational-treatment building at the Florida Alcoholism Treatment and Research Center in Avon Park. Structure was designed by James A. Heim.

Construction Begins on New FARC Educational Building

Work on a spacious, new $188,000 educational-treatment building at the Florida Alcoholism Treatment and Research Center in Avon Park is under way.

The structure, designed by architect James A. Heim, will provide an additional 6,000 square feet to the existing building. It will be the first major addition to the modern research-treatment center since 1961.

The completed one-story unit will seat 100 persons. The area within the auditorium contains a movable stage and portable seats that can be shifted out to accommodate a variety of activities for either small or large groups.

"It greatly enhances our opportunity to better train additional professionals in the treatment of the alcoholic and will enable us to put more people to work in the field around the state," according to Joseph C. Ziesenheim, Bureau of Alcoholism Rehabilitation chief.

Four individual group therapy rooms will be housed under the same roof next to the auditorium as will additional space for counselor's offices.

Ziesenheim, whose office is located at the center, said the new unit will emphasize the educational element by increasing AARC's training capability 50 per cent.

The building will be equipped to accommodate audio and visual equipment along with observation rooms for professional training.

One of the center's goals is to stimulate "delivery of service where the patient is," Ziesenheim added. He also noted that the center's 58-bed facility is the only state-supported institution where alcoholics undergoing treatment can be observed and studied.

Up to this time, he added, patients, staff and personnel undergoing training have worked under cramped conditions. The new building alleviates this problem and "contributes to our capability in treatment, training and research," he said.

The staff at the Avon Park facility is composed of physicians, psychologists, social workers, chaplains, nurses, occupational therapists and vocational rehabilitation counselors.

J. A. Wise Last To Qualify For City Council Election Sept. 9

A well known plumber was the last to qualify in Avon Park's upcoming elections September 9. J. A. Wise qualified just before the books closed Friday to bring the total to six seeking the two city council seats.

Three are seeking the mayor's office.

Mayor James M. Dorr did not run for re-election because of health reasons. He served one term.

Those for council are Lester N. Brown, Milton Howard, Charles Howe, Rodney Lane, Don Serdyinski and Wise. For mayor, Robert J. Barten, Robert Harford and Bud Worden.

Wise, the last to qualify came to Avon Park in 1958 with his wife, Audrey Lee. They have two daughters. He served 3½ years in the service during World War II.

In 1968, Wise went into business for himself. He is past Commander of Post #6 of the American Legion and for several years has headed the road block for the Ridge Area Day School. Wise said he has donated 93 days of work to the school.

Wise said he is going to be the people's candidate, if elected he will be willing to discuss the problems of the city with any reasonable person or group.

Reserved Seat Exchange Period Starts Monday

Next Monday will start the reserved seat exchange period for holders of Avon Park Red Devil football reserved seats for the coming 1969 season which opens here September 19 against Lake Wales.

Until September 5 any holder of a ticket for a change it for another seat in the reserved seat section if there are some available.

On September 8 the tickets which have not been bought by previous holders will go on sale to the general public.

These reserved seat tickets and season tickets for the five home Red Devil games may be purchased at the high school office any weekday. Reserved seat tickets are $3 each and season tickets are $6.

Junior College Classes Will Start August 21

South Florida Junior College is eagerly anticipating the 1969-70 school year with classes scheduled to begin Thursday, Aug. 21. The year, to be highlighted by moving to the permanent building on Lake Glenda, promises to be an exciting one for faculty and students alike, according to Dr. William Stallard, president.

The college is offering a full complement of college transfer courses for students planning to transfer to four-year institutions as well as a number of programs designed for the student seeking a two-year degree.

The largest enrollment in the history of the college is expected this Fall. Projections indicate a student enrollment in excess of 600 students. To meet the needs of the growing student body, four new faculty members have been added to the staff: Rebecca DeBass, biology; Scott Gibson, mathematics; Mrs. Ann Scott, English and Dean Tallent, art.

Students are presently being advised for the Fall term by members of the guidance staff.

Orientation for new students is scheduled for next Monday. Registration for classes will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 19, 20. Students interested in attending South Florida Junior College should contact the Director of Admissions and Student Personnel Office for further information.

Garner Named New Assistant Principal

The new assistant principal at Avon Park High School is Leon Garner, whose wife, Jimmie Carroll will teach first grade in Avon Elementary.

Mr. Garner has been busy working in the high school with the Summer program and coaching basketball and football.

Before entering the field of school administration, Mr. Garner spent several years coaching football and basketball in Mississippi and was a professional basketball player for the Boy Scouts of America.

He received his B.S. degree in education from the University of Mississippi.

Robert W. Harford, Candidate for Mayor

Objectives

Bridge the gap of understanding each other's problems, between the governing and the governed.

"Publicity for criticism of city officials and policies to prevent subtle control by 'whispering saints' and dealers in half-truths."

No special favors to friends who consider themselves economically or socially superior to their elected government.

More coordination of city employees to get the greatest value for tax dollars paid by those who profess to be "public servants."

Encourage individuals and groups interested in keeping down taxes by volunteer service for city betterment.

Restrict "fringe benefits" paid by city taxes for residents outside city limits.

Avon Park Candidates For City Council And Mayor Express Views On Upcoming Election

I am seeking a seat on the Avon Park City Council to have a chance to find different incomes for the city in order to avoid taxing property owners any more than at the present.

To balance the city budget which is about 78 years old. Other cities younger than Avon Park are in a better position and more prosperous than we are.

I have the connections in the Northern States because I have represented manufacturers for over 30 years.

I will work to make our city a more pleasant place to live. To encourage people to settle here, to build and buy homes.

Lester N. Brown

During my term of office as councilman I feel that I have been quite successful in fulfilling my campaign platform.

We have been successful in getting unsanitary conditions cleaned up, obtaining ordinances requiring many citizens to support their fair share of city government, installed some much needed sidewalk, expanded our water department, made improvements in nearly all departments.

If re-elected I will continue to do all that I can to improve our city and promote employment through education at facilities or industry.

I will appreciate your support.

Rodney Lane, Councilman

In the past two years I have tried to follow the wishes of the majority of the people and worked for the good of Avon Park. I am against any property tax increase for our schools and over 100 per cent.

I want to get a civic center in Park and will continue to do so.

I want good fire and police protection and welcome new and old business to Avon Park.

City Council Votes to Extend Trailer Parking Ordinance

By a rather hasty vote, a lot of what some consider "unsightly dirt" was swept under the rug by city ordinance when the council met on Monday. The council again voted to keep down its trailer population and stick by its earlier ruling. At a meeting some months ago the council had unanimously voted to require the same strict regulations for individual trailer parking in the city as the state requires for trailer parks.

Mr. Sprulock, our new building inspector, who has been doing a thorough and conscientious job, presented the council with the problem he faces in trying to enforce the trailer ordinance. He noted that in some areas trailers appeared to be a considerable improvement over surrounding real estate. In other areas he noted the resentment expressed by well-known residents over dictatorial powers in the use of supplemental trailers.

The fear of the councilmen seemed to be that Avon Park would face the problem faced by Elkhart, Ind. when a trailer manufacturer opened up a vast tract of land to put into use an excess production of trailers. The belief was expressed that if the bars were let down here and Avon

Park became known as lenient on trailers an estimated 500 trailers would immediately overrun the city.

One building inspector had made the suggestion that recognizing the conditions in the surrounding area, the council should allow trailers at the south end of the city, an area set aside and designated as a trailer area.

A member of the audience pointed out that decent looking trailers with required septic tanks and other required health standards would be a definite improvement over 75 percent of the present buildings in the "Quarters." This is especially true because when some landlords here still rent places with only outhouses.

The question was raised concerning the degradation of property values if trailers were permitted in other parts of the city. Yet, one asks, could not the zoning power of the city prevent the degradation of the city by construction whether it were a trailer or any other type of construction? In fact with half-house trailers now uniting on the grounds for double width the distinction between prefabricated houses and trailers is fading. Our building inspectors may soon be confronted with the question: "When is a trailer not a trailer?" However, the council decreed and time will tell its own story. The problem has not been solved.

ROBERT THOMPSON, president of Noah's Ark Child Development Center is shown at the new building that will be open in September. The building is part of the Federal Housing project being built on the south side of Lake Tulane.

New Child Care Building To Open Here In September

An expansion of child care and development services of Avon Park is expected in September, it has been announced by Robert C. Thompson, President of the Noah's Ark Child Development Center. Thompson, a Main Street merchant, explained to the Avon Park Sun that a large and attractive room in the new facilities of the Housing Authority of Avon Park is being set aside for the program.

Cecil Skipper, County Commissioner and Executive Director of the Housing Authority, requested Noah's Ark to carry its program into the Housing project.

Dean Griffin of the South Florida Junior College staff has expressed the hope that the College may be able to offer a vocational course for Day Care Workers.

Regular teachers and assistants are paid for their 23 hours per week, but many volunteers are needed next week in a survey to get the expanded program set up.

The public is invited to an open meeting Monday evening, Aug. 18, at 8 o'clock in the St. Mark Annex on Pine-lands Street. The simple but essential work of the volunteer surveyors will be explained, and any questions from the teenagers on up who can spare a few hours next week are urged to attend Monday's meeting. The survey of families in the area will determine the number of workers to be employed to augment the present staff of seven. Mrs. Lewis Lee and Mrs. Henry Adams are supervising teachers. If the survey reveals sufficient need, a special program for babies of six to 18 months may be developed.

At Monday's meeting, persons interested in employment as child care workers or as cooks will also be interviewed. A noon-time meal program is planned.

A Community Project Noah's Ark is to have a baby sitting service, President Thompson explained, but a child development program with guided learning experience for the pre-school children of working mothers.

The concerned citizens of Avon Park have responded before, Thompson said, and some 40 of them belong to our Back-of-the-Month-Club. They send in a dollar or more every month to Treasurer Donald Eastman, and receive their regular reminder from Claude R. Chamberlain, one of the Project's enthusiastic backers. Because of this and other gifts of money and time, we have rendered this service without burdening the tax-payer.

One of the $7,400 budget is provided by the appeal was made for change in the utility tax at the meeting of the city council held Monday. Mr. Welch of Ridge Fuel and Leo Garganus of Coker Fuel spoke for the bottled gas interests stated some of the problems with which they are confronted in the application of the tax and appealed for its alteration to remove injustices. Welch stressed the problem of competition. He showed where users of both gas and electricity would be taxed double the amount users of electricity alone would have to pay.

This same problem could theoretically arise in the competition between use of both telegraph and telephone though relatively few people would be affected. Garganus discussed the problem of collecting the tax and wanted assurance the city could be called on when patrons balked at paying the tax.

Sympathy was expressed in the problem of double taxation for users of competitive utilities. Councilman Lane then proposed an investigation of the use of a straight one percent city sales tax as applied in Panama City, to substitute for the utility tax. Some doubt was expressed by Attorney Han-wage-earning parents of the youngsters. Gifts of our many friends make up the rest. We depend on the continued good will and generosity of the community as we expand our work in the fine new facility."

Two churches have provided space for the centers in the past, and will continue to do so. Their pastors join in the invitation to the next meeting. They are the Rev. J. W. Daugherty, St. Mark Baptist Church, and Elder Thomas Brown, Apostolic Church.

Two Utility Companies Appeal To Council to Change Tax Ordinance

thus depriving local merchants of some trade.

Another question arose as to whether such an overall tax would be as effective and just in reaching the transient and part-time resident renters, who escaped more of the city taxes than the majority. Action was tabled until after the special council meeting to discuss the budget for the coming year, when it would be better known as to what the city would require in the way of taxes.

Other Actions

The idea of a volunteer or auxiliary police organization is still in the minds of the councilmen. Attorney Hancock reported back on the various problems involved. Matters of how much training would be required, what insurance could be had and the degree of participation in apprehension and arrest were discussed. It is hoped an organization can be established which will help bridge the gap, creating more good will and cooperation between the police and the average citizen.

By unanimous agreement the council proceeded in gathering the necessary information required to get an organization started.

The council voted to pay the small registration fee necessary for our city firemen to participate in a short training course offered by

Cramer Backs Efforts To Rid Creek of Pollution

As all-out effort to rid Ar-buckle Creek of pollution by the Avon Park Air Force Range and the Avon Park Correctional Institution and at the same time advance the cause of education and rehabilitation in Florida has been undertaken by U. S. Rep. Cramer.

In a letter to Air Force Secretary Robert C. Seamans, Jr., Cramer, the ranking Republican on the House Public Works Committee, which has jurisdiction over the nation's water pollution control programs, demanded a halt to the discharge of raw sewage into Ar-buckle Creek from the Avon Park Air Force Range.

In a separate letter to HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch, Cramer pressed for immediate transfer of the neighboring Avon Park Correctional Institution to the State of Florida. This property has been declared surplus from the Federal Government by the State of Florida.

In his letter to Seamans, Cramer said that the discharge of raw sewage into Ar-buckle Creek "is a violation of the 1960 Executive Order, the purpose of which is to terminate any such pollution on the part of any federal facility." He also pointed out that it is "in violation of the Florida water pollution control standards."

Cramer told Finch that the State of Florida has sufficient funds to construct sewage treatment facilities and eliminate the pollution problem caused by the correctional institution "but cannot do so due to the impending expiration of the lease of the building and the intention of the transfer of the surplus property to the state."

In support of transferring the property to Florida, Cramer pointed out that the institution is "engaged in a landmark program revolving education and rehabilitation of inmates in an effort to make useful citizens out of those sentenced to the correctional institution and in many cases, a substantially qualified as an educational program for surplus property transfer."

"Such a transfer is also with-keeping," Cramer said. "Nixon's announced objectives as stated in our leadership meeting of making use of surplus federal property to accomplish needed national goals and this certainly falls within the scope of that policy."

"Not only can education and rehabilitation be furthered but a considerable improvement of sewage treatment and river cleanup as well."

Over 300 Teachers Report To Work In County Next Week; 6300 Students Start 12 Days Later

The lazy days of Summer are coming to an end for Highlands County school people. More than 300 teachers report for work next week, and approximately 6,300 students are to follow a dozen days later.

Two special instructional programs are under way already. At Woodlawn Elementary Library the first formal training for teacher aides and para-professionals is nearing its half-way mark. South Florida Junior College is presenting this class. At Hopewell School Dr. Joe Bondi of the University of South Florida is preparing teachers for the county's first middle schools. The State Department of Education made a special grant to Highlands County, providing funds for training 42 teachers in the new middle school approach. When classes open September 2 (the Tuesday after Labor Day) pilot programs in middle school will begin at Hopewell and E. O. Douglas Schools.

Joe Evers, curriculum coordinator for Highlands County Schools, is enthusiastic about middle schools. He explains that at Hopewell and Douglas, in the 1969-70 school year, there is to be a "child-centered curriculum" which "takes each individual student where he is and encourages him to go as far as he can as fast as he can in a single year."

Evers believes this approach is particularly well suited to Hopewell and Douglas which each year have many students from migrant families. They arrive late in the Fall and leave before the end of the school year in the Spring.

With the ungraded approach to classes, each child can be placed according to his needs. "He may be reading at sixth grade level and doing math at fourth grade level. This new way of organizing classes will let him be assigned to a group reading at sixth grade level. For much he will be with other students doing fourth grade level work. When he comes back the following year, he can pick up where he left off, not have to repeat a whole grade because he was not here at final exam time."

The state has made some special construction money available for small scale renovations at Douglas and Hopewell to prepare for the new middle school programs. To date most of the work has not been done, Evers said, because of shortage of skilled building labor. "We have dreams of getting it done before school opens."

Building Dreams

Much of the coming school year will be needed for the official "dreaming" about the forthcoming $5 million plus school construction program. Although the Highlands County School Board has not adopted an official timetable for the construction, schoolmen generally count about a year for getting educational needs translated into architect's plans, setting bonds, letting bids.

The date most often mentioned informally is the 1970-71 school year for new high schools in Sebring and Avon Park to be placed in use. The overall plan includes some construction at the new Lake Placid Elementary, Fred Will and Woodlawn in Sebring and Avon Elementary in Avon Park.

The first units of the elementary school in Lake Placid are scheduled for use this year, with some portables being utilized until the final phase of construction can be completed. On his "blue" day Evers worries: "The carpenters strike has put us behind schedule, and if anything else happens we might not get ready by September 2. It would be great if we could get some and in while it is raining so well; it would surely cut down on sand being tracked into that new building."

Emphasizes Why and How

One of the things that makes the Curriculum Coordinator brighter up is description of curriculum innovations. In general, he explains, the kindergarten through 12 grades are moving away from emphasis on learning isolated facts and concentrating on "learning how to learn" and how things happen. Facts are multiplying so fast, and with computers, a lot of the old memory work isn't necessary.

"At Avon Park High we have the new senior high science—the engineering concept curriculum project—which places its emphasis on how things work. Scientific theory is, for most part, continued into the older courses needed only by the college-bound students."

Summer Fun Camp Ends For RAARC

The Summer Fun Camp sponsored by the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children finished last week, after seven weeks of recreation, arts and crafts, and trips.

During the past five weeks trips included: a day fishing at Horse Manatee, a lecture and slides presentation of nature and wildlife, by Ranger Bill Hill at Highlands Hammock State Park, a detailed tour of the Florida Cane Plant in Avon Park, a visit to the county jail and fire department, a lecture, a reading and looking session at the public library in Sebring, a tour of the power plant in Avon Park, a very interesting tour of the telephone company in Avon Park.

In visiting these places the children learned a great deal about the facilities in the community, how they help us and make our lives easier and also how they are to be coordinated. The children also learned to respect the property of others and were always well behaved.

County Commissioners Tightening Restrictions On Developers

Highlands County Commissioners are tightening restrictions on development of subdivisions, were urged here Tuesday by the director of the Florida Land Sales Board to meet state requirements.

The director, L. W. Steve, and C. R. Lynch, supervisor of registration for that agency, came here to meet with the commissioners and advise them on the best course to take.

Commissioners have become unhappy recently because they have been harangued by property owners in subdivisions whose developers failed to live up to contracts. Some subdivisions have no streets whatsoever.

The commissioners were told by Steve that the time to make specifications is before the subdivisions are planned and recorded.

Chuck Morgan, County Engineer and administrative officer, was told that the Land Sales Board would put into hand their formulas for collecting "reasonable assurances" that needed improvements will be made as lots are sold.

The Florida agency, as well as the Federal Land Sales Board, is concerned only when lots in the subdivision number 50 or more. But Steve suggested that "everyone be treated alike, whether he's selling 40 lots or 51," thereby encouraging the county to meet state requirements.

John Whitaker, chairman of the county commissioners, stated that "We've just strengthened our requirements," and one purpose of the meeting, he said, was to keep from stifling the investor by requiring impossible conditions, and Steve agreed.

But other commissioners pointed out that they were interested in upgrading subdivisions, and Morgan stated that "We've accepted a lot of liability but very few assets," referring to the fact that the developer sometimes pulls out without building sufficient roads, which the county then is expected to supply.

Steve explained the policy of the Florida board, which makes monthly inspections of programming to be sure it's on schedule. If not, the board can stop sale of property. The developer must put up "performance security," sometimes by putting a certain per cent of sales in escrow which can be drawn on only when one-half of the improvements have been made, sometimes in other ways.

Steve said the Land Sales Board will make every effort from now on to keep Morgan informed of all transactions and have their field examiner check with him periodically. An agreement can be made, he said, between the Board of County Commissioners and the state board to accept land for planning provided it meets state sales requirements, copies of which will be made by the county.

The state board can give contingent approval when the developer specifies this is needed before the county will accept it for planning. He also said that a trust agreement could be entered into whereby the county could use funds for road improvements when the developer failed to fill his contract.

The issue was brought up because residents of Highlands Park have complained the commissioners to build roads in their subdivision because the developer went into bankruptcy before fulfilling his contract. According to Whitaker, about $14,000 is in escrow for roads and the county will not release the money. Steve said that the amount is insufficient to build roads for the entire subdivision, and that the money must therefore remain in litigation until the suit is settled.

24th Annual Examinations For NROTC Will Be December 13

The 24th annual national competitive examination for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) will be given on December 13.

The regular NROTC program prepares a young man for a Navy or Marine Corps commission while he is studying at one of the many civilian colleges and universities where NROTC Units are established.

All tuition, fees, uniforms, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives $50 per month subsistence allowance for not more than four years. During the Summers between academic years, the student participates in at-sea training periods as a midshipman. After successfully completing a baccalaureate level college course and all military requirements, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps.

Eligible high school seniors and graduates should submit their applications before November 14. Application forms are available from high school counselors or the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.

most all cases are very serious business, the judge occasionally encounters a different type, like one he tried recently.

A man was charged with drunkenness. He readily admitted that he was very drunk, and further more he felt he should be locked up. The judge obliged with a 30 day sentence.

Problem is that this individual enjoys being in jail and considers it a good place to live. The judge is still wondering what to do with him the next time he decides to be a guest of the city.
