Bring 'em Back Alive

The Florida Conference of AAA Motor Clubs has found that the facts simply don't justify the routine release of frightening highway fatalities predictions for the Fourth of July weekend, which would persuade us to forego one of the traditional benefits of declared days of rest—travel.

In general, four of every five traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the driver's home, at speeds of less than 40 miles an hour. Apparently we are less alert to driving conditions in familiar surroundings than on the unknown road.

Because of course there IS a holiday death count, we feel an enthusiastic campaign to reawaken drivers to good common sense rules of motoring can help them over those first 25 miles and awake through a safe holiday. We want to reassure them that with modern highways it is still possible in Florida to enjoy our free time as we wish, though care is obviously required; says the AAA.

But then, care always is required when you're driving an automobile.

Astrology – How Accurate?

Astrology is always a fascinating subject and aren't we all anxious to see a little into the future? Curiosity, or a desire to avoid making wrong decisions—or a number of other things.

But it's rather shattering to find out a good guess might be almost as accurate.

For instance, the 1968 forecast by Katina Theodossious, touted as 80 to 90 per cent accurate over the year, was rather disappointing. A few good educated guesses would have been almost as right as Katina—possibly even better.

Here's what she forecast for 1968 and judge for yourself:

Death in 1968 will claim DeGaulle, Mao Tse-tung, Ho Chi Minh, Chaing Kai-Shek. President Johnson will be reelected. Mrs. Charles Robb will become a mother. Vietnam War to continue. There will be a breakthrough in search for cancer cure. Romance for Jackie Kennedy but not marriage to Lord Harlech. Conservatives will replace Labor government in Britain. Government of Formosa will collapse after Chiang's death. More frequent race riots in U. S. Red China will be admitted to U. N. Blood baths in Africa.

Some people run their whole lives by astrologer, paying a high price for the privilege. Some of these true believers won't even sign legal papers on certain days. They defer trips if the stars don't appear favorable.

With a batting average like the above—doesn't it seem kind of ridiculous? The men she said would die are all still with us. LBJ wasn't reelected. Where's the cancer cure? Britain's labor government is still in. The government of Formosa hasn't collapsed. Red China wasn't admitted to the U. N.

And this is one of the better astrologers!

Telephones

It's been some time now since the Public Service Commission took under advisement the rate raise requested by United Telephone of Florida and awarded them a temporary raise. We wonder when the final decision will be made.

Apparently we are not alone, however, in the matter of poor telephone service. The Rowan and Martin Laugh In awarded their flying fickle finger of fate trophy Monday night to a telephone company in Southern California which had fired one of its employes for telling some truths about the company's service—although admitting the employe was truthful.

And a week or so ago, the Wall Street Journal reported the problems of a firm in Medina, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland. The firm complained it sometimes took them as long as two days to get a line to Cleveland.

One of the funnier anecdotes of the embattled firm was the executive who was suddenly disconnected from a call and plugged into a conversation between two women. One of them, when she heard his voice, demanded to know "what are you doing in my daughter's room?"

Good question!

Outgrown Our Need of God?

Just seven years from now—in 1976—it will be exactly 200 years since the original Independence Day.

We have come a long way since that time.

Starting then as the smallest and youngest of the nations of the world, we have become the greatest and most powerful.

Our type of government has been copied by many others.

But today we are being attacked, both internally and externally, by those who have sworn to bury us. And the attacks—especially the internal ones—are having too much effect for us to be complacent any longer.

Perhaps it is time that we should remind ourselves that we have a heritage of dependence on God—so well authenticated that it would be impossible to remove this from our history, even if we wanted to do so.

God-Given Right

Our Declaration of Independence states that the right of mankind to enjoy freedom is a gift of God. Here are the words:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Our coins state, "In God We Trust."

Our pledge of allegiance declares that we are "one nation under God."

The president of the United States, when he takes the oath of office, places one hand on a Bible and raises the other toward heaven as he pledges to uphold the constitution.

The Bible says, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

If our nation needed God's help in overcoming its enemies when it was the tiniest infant nation in the world—and its leaders then said that it did—can we afford now to take the attitude that we have outgrown the need of Divine assistance?

When we take this attitude, we are on the road to disaster.

Wouldn't it be far better to acknowledge now that we need the Lord and to ask Him to intervene in our affairs?

Abraham Lincoln said, "I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go."

J. Edgar Hoover has stated, "The force of prayer is greater than any possible combination of man-controlled powers, because prayer is man's greatest means of tapping the infinite resources of God."

Prayer for This Time

One of our favorite patriotic songs, "America," has a stanza which is really a prayer:

"Our fathers' God—to Thee,
Author of liberty — to Thee
we sing.
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light.
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King!"

This Independence Day, let's pause in our celebration long enough to pray this prayer.

ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION FLORIDA FARMER

By PAUL C. FORAKER
Editor, Information Services

Even the Soviet Communists have awakened to the dangers of alcoholism in Russia, and have called for a new fight against the old problem.

Drunkenness is rampant in Russia, much as it is in the United States. Forty percent of divorces in Russia—and the resulting difficulties for children of broken families—can be traced to hard drinking by one partner or the other.

Alcoholism is also the basis for many crimes in the Soviet Union, and 85% of killings in that nation are committed during drunken clashes, according to the Communist Party newspaper, Pravda.

Pravda has called for a new, massive effort to eliminate the problem, demanding a stricter attitude toward drinkers, stricter enforcement of penalties for being drunk at work, and a campaign by radio, television, and movies to fight the problem.

Another Soviet newspaper has complained that a law against selling alcoholic beverages before 10 a.m. was not being properly enforced, as proven by a large number of early-morning drunks seen on city streets.

The newspaper added that alcoholic drinks are too widely available in Russia, and that in restaurants waiters are most attentive to those customers who place big orders for drinks while regarding non-drinkers as "undesirable cranks."

Also brought to light was the fact that in many circles in Russia, a host in a private home in regarded as "stingy" if he serves tea or coffee instead of vodka.

The newspaper stated that "it is high time now to abandon words and start the real fight."

Many people in the United States are convinced that it is time to do something about alcoholism in this country also, with the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's announcement that alcoholism is now our nation's third biggest health problem.

Here in Florida, Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program is using every means at its disposal to get the word across The Sunshine State that not only is alcoholism a menace to our state, but that there's also a bright side—that is, alcoholism is treatable.

One of the most effectual tools used by FARP in this endeavor is the literature available to all who request it. Sixty different pamphlets and brochures are free for the asking, each one dealing with some aspect of alcoholism prevention or treatment.

For a literature list sent to you free of charge, just drop a card to FARP's Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla., 33825.

Rambling Thoughts

SOME MORE LIGHT ON A DARK MATTER

A very well posted gentleman in Valrico, Florida, answers a letter in the Tampa Tribune by Morton Tucker, who said that half a billion dollars for 100 years couldn't make up to the blacks what the whites owe them. I cannot begin to balance the scales on the matter of this question, but Herman Talley, the Valrico gentleman mentioned, has a heavy weight on the side of the whites, it appears to me.

Let's set the record straight and stop this orgy of self-abasement that the liberal, socialist, communist element in this country has caused by its success in having instilled a guilt complex in the white people for allegedly suppressing and depriving the Blacks.

My answer to Mr. Tucker and the black, sick black-mailer James Forman is that the White man owes the Negro nothing. The liberal element stakes its entire political future on pleading the cause in the supposedly oppressed Negro to effect sweeping changes in government, to establish a socialist state and world communism —with itself in power to control the masses.

White people in this country never enslaved the Black man. The Blacks were held as slaves in Africa by their own kind and were sold by different tribal chiefs to the slave traders from England, Holland and Spain.

(Mr. Talley has failed to mention Yankee ship-owners from New England who shipped these human cargo for about 40 or 50 years after England outlawed slavery and sent her navy to chase down slave ships and rescue the poor Negroes and punish the perpetrators of this horror.)

After the Blacks were brought here and sold to Americans, they had enough food, clothes and shelter for the first time in their lives. They were eventually freed, but if they had been held as slaves in their homeland they would have been exterminated, probably later, by the savages there.

Since being freed as slaves the white people in America have spent untold billions on the upkeep of the Blacks. The cost of paying and caring for black illigitimacy and the cost of black crime will bankrupt this country, if continued.

Here is something to think about: "The Blacks were on earth before God created Adam—they did not descend from Adam or one of Noah's sons."

Here ends Mr. Talley. In my humble mind he has several good points, but when he gets to proving things by the Bible, I give him my approval here and there, but not totally; you can prove a lot of things by that collection of ancient literature—even HUMAN SLAVERY! Does not Saint Paul say: "Slaves, obey your masters?"

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

World-Wide Oil

By BABSON'S REPORTS INCORPORATED

Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 5, 1969. There is a growing awareness in the petroleum industry that demand for its products is outpacing the discovery of new oil reserves. Ideally, each year new petroleum finds should exceed consumption, assuring a predictable future supply. This is not the case today.

With thousands of additional cars coming on the road each year and increasing numbers of jumbo jetliners in the air, petroleum products are being gobbled up at a tremendous rate. At the same time, anti-pollution restrictions eliminate certain grades of oil as fuel and foster demand for other grades low in pollutants. Babson's Reports does not by any means fear running out of oil, but substantial new reserves must be constantly searched out to meet the growing needs of the future.

Virtually No Limits

To meet these requirements and maintain an orderly economic distribution pattern, the oil industry now explores in almost every corner of the globe. Only limits restraining the industry are the water depths offshore beyond the continental shelf, and these will doubtless be conquered. With today's advanced seismic techniques, the industry has been able to "map" potential oil-bearing acreage in places never before dreamed of. As such locations come into production, the entire economies of nations are altered.

The wealth of the Arab countries is well known. Libya—in arid North Africa—not only recently became a beneficiary of oil royalties, but is also utilizing a tremendous reservoir of underground water discovered by Occidental Petroleum. Nigeria, in West Africa, is another undeveloped country that could eventually prosper from huge oil production. Australia and New Zealand will become more self-sufficient in petroleum if promising onshore and offshore exploration proves productive. Lastly, there are indications of a sizeable pool of oil beneath the China Sea between Japan and Taiwan. Development here could involve complex international political moves since Communist China could logically be a claimant to this oil.

At home, the Alaskan North Slope has been much in the news with a 5-to-10-billion-barrel pool of oil awaiting production. Even further to the North, the Canadian Artic islands could be even more prolific. The problems of extraction and distribution from these regions will be massive and costly, but eventually this wealth of "black gold" will have a market effect on world petroleum markets.

Political Climates

An important consideration in pursuing continuing world-wide exploration is the degree of economic and political stability a region possesses. This explains the current interest and activity in Indonesia, which—although long a significant oil-producing country—has achieved political stability only in recent years. Prior to that, oil concerns either were not permitted to operate in the area or were reluctant to commit capital because of the unhealthy political climate. The Middle East and South America must also be considered somewhat unstable, with an ever-present risk of exploriation or stringent royalty terms. However, Babson's Reports feel that the abundance of oil reserves in these areas tends to offset such risks.

Recommendations

Most of the major oil companies have diverse world-wide exploration and development programs. Investors looking at these companies should closely examine the potentials and pitfalls of foreign operations, as well as the basics of the firms involved. As in the case of the Alaskan North Slope, many spectacular discoveries will be a long time translating into earnings per share. Among companies the staff of Babson's Reports now favors for purchase are Continental Oil (acreage in Indonesia, Africa, Canada, etc.), Standard Oil of California (Venezuela, Alaska, Canada, Middle East, etc.), and Standard Oil of New Jersey (Canada, Australia, Alaska, Libya, etc.).

Board Looking For Money To Pave Road

An all-out effort is being made by county road department to "scrape up" the money to put a hard surface road around the New Lake Placid Elementary School by September.

At Tuesday's county commission meeting, Commissioner Cecil Skipper asked when work on the road could start and added, "Can't we scrape up the money to sand seal this? You know what it'll be like to have rain on marl and kids tracking into the school."

County Engineer Charles Morgan said he estimates a road 2000 feet long and 60 feet wide can be prepared in late August, "but we won't be able to pave it right away."

The other commissioners joined Skipper in urging Morgan to review the road priority list and budget, making the school needs first.

The board Tuesday authorized the county engineer and County Attorney Hue Nunnallee to investigate the extent of county responsibility for a park dedicated to the public by the developers of Lake Blue Estates.

Boy, How They Multiply!

Crabtree Says He Did Not Break With GOP

Editor

Representative Granville H. Crabtree, Jr., serving the 119th District, consisting of Highlands, DeSoto, Charlotte and Sarasota Counties, furnished statement concerning an article that appeared in the June 12, 1969, edition entitled "Local GOP Breaks Off With Its Legislators." Mr. Crabtree's statement was issued in an effort to clearify his position in regrad to the various items covered in the referred to article.

Crabtree wished that the concerned citizens of Highlands County be informed that there has been no break of relations between him and the Republican Party in Highlands County. "On the contrary," he said, "I have an excellent relationship with the Highlands County Republican Executive Committee, and I have received many complimentary remarks from Colonel W. J. Atkinson, chairman of the committee." He further stated "I hope to continue this mutual exchange of opinions in the interest of promoting what considered legislation for the benefit of all of the citizens of Highlands County."

In discussing the so-called "Sebring Racing and Recreational Facilities District Bill," as proposed by Representatives Tillman and Heath, Crabtree indicated that he violently opposed the introduction of this bill and he further stated that he was the one who informed Colonel Atkinson of the bill's introduction in the Florida House of Representatives by Tillman and Heath.

He stated that he urged Tillman and Heath to accept a referendum provision on the bill, so that the people who would be affected by such a hastily considered bill would at least have the opportunity to vote upon it. Crabtree stated that he was in constant contact with Colonel Atkinson in an effort to defeat this bill, and that he urged Atkinson to make known to the citizens of Highlands County the many ramifications of the proposed legislation. Crabtree further stated that he attended a committee meeting and argued to have the bill "cleaned up," but that he was unsuccessful due to the heavy "lobbying techniques" employed by the Tillman and Heath forces.

Crabtree indicated that he was very concerned that the newspaper article referred to would mislead Republicans and other concerned citizens of Highlands County to believe that he was also repudiated by Colonel Atkinson's letter. In emphasizing this point, he quoted the exact wording used by Colonel Atkinson, which stated as follows:

"In-so-far as highlands County is concerned, several major legislative matters were introduced or supported whole-heartedly by Representatives Tillman and Heath."

Crabtree urged that the public note that he was not included within this indictment of these "poor" pieces of legislation. Further, pointing to the release issued by Colonel Atkinson, Crabtree noted that (pertaining to the legislative salary increase) the Colonel acknowledged that "Representative Crabtree endeavored on several occasions to amend the bill to decrease the salary figure, without success."

The other two items referred to the Racing Bill, which has already been explained as to Crabtree's active opposition, and the question of salary increase for the elected officials of Highlands County. Crabtree indicated pertaining to the salary increases referred to above that he voted against the bill due to the unfair and unjust manner with which it was "rammed" through the legislature.

He urged that any interested citizen can verify that he was in accord with the position of the Highlands County Republican Executive Committee on the three items stated above—the Racing Bill, the legislative salary increase and the salary increase for the elected officials of Highlands County—by merely reading the official House Journal pertaining to these matters.

Crabtree seemed disturbed about an article pretaining to the Race Track Bill, which indicated that Wilbur H. Boyd, the Senator serving Highlands County, was actually the hero in killing the bill. Crabtree stated that on numerous occasions he conferred with Senator Boyd in an effort to secure his assurance that he would not support the Race Track Bill, but that Senator Boyd, up to the very last hour of the legislative session, would never commit himself not to allow this bill to be passed by the Senate.

Crabtree said that he felt it was grossly unfair to the general public to have them believe that Senator Boyd "was holding the dike" when in fact he was being besieged by numerous phone calls, telegrams and letters from the people of Highlands County only because the people of Highlands County had been alerted to this bad legislation due to Colonel Atkinson's activities.

North America's oldest mining venture likely was centered just North of Amarillo, Texas—some 15,000 years ago. Indians or pre-Indians located a huge deposit of flint, and a nearby community seemed to devote much of its time to manufacture of arrowheads, from stacks of scrap. Many arrowheads from this quarry have been located in the Dakotas, Montana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Colorado.

Over Night Trail Ride And Camping To Highlight Recreation Program

bus will return mid-morning on Friday, July 11.

Coach Franza says that all boys and girls who plan to make the trip must contact him or Coach Hill at the gym—call GL 3-3920—as the number going is needed to plan for supper and breakfast. Any adults who would like to make the trip and camp out are invited to go along.

There will be horse back riding for those who wish to ride after the bus arrives for those who do not own a horse. Parents wanting more information may contact Coach Franza. This is expected to be a real fun trip for the boys and girls and the adults who take part.

About 80 youngsters enrolled in the assembly line beginning swimming program last Monday morning at the city beach on Lake Verona with the recreation staff and volunteer Girl Scouts and junior life saver badge holders in charge of teaching the skills.

The beginning swimming instruction will continue Monday after a holiday for the Fourth of July. Instruction will be Monday through Thursday with Friday, July 11, not included because of the overnight camping trip. The first two days of the following week will finish out the beginning swimming if no days are rained out.

Mrs. Collins explained the skills which are being taught in each "station" on the beginning swimming assembly line.

At station I the boys and girls are taught to put their head in water, to bob, and how to breath rhythmically. The test to pass on to station II is to blow bubbles in the water for 10 continuous seconds. At station II the floating position on front (prone glide) is taught and the swimmers must glide 20 feet in this position to pass on.

Station III teaches floating on the back and station IV teaches the flutter kick and a turn from front to back position. Station V teaches the arm stroke on the front and back, station VI teaches swimmers to combine the arms and legs in the crawl stroke, and station VII adds turning around to the combined arm and leg strokes.

Station VIII teaches swimmers to level off from the vertical to the prone position and how to tread water.

Station IX teaches jumping into shallow and deep water and diving head first into deep water and station X is the test to pass beginning swimming. The test as set by the Red Cross requires that: each student is to jump into deep water, level off, and swim 15 yards. Without touching bottom or side of pool, he changes direction and starts swimming back to starting point. Halfway back, he rotates to back position and rests, either motionless or gentle paddling movements for one-half minute. He then rotates to prone position and swims to starting point.

Rescue skills using extensions, ring buoy and floating objects will also be taught as well as mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Mrs. Collins is also teaching intermediate swimming to boys and girls who have passed their beginning swimming. This course started last Monday and will continue four days next week from 2 to 3 P.M. each afternoon through July 19.

Four basic strokes will be taught in this course—the crawl, the elementary back stroke, the side stroke, and the breast stroke. In addition survival floating, treading water, sculling, and diving will be taught. Rescue skills with extensions, ring bouys, and floating objects and wading rescues will be taught as well as mouth to mouth resuscitation. All fifth and sixth grade boys and girls who pass this intermediate swimming course and receive their Red Cross certificate will be eligible to go to the beach with the junior and senior high students on July 18.

Mrs. Collins is a certified Red Cross Water Safety Instructor with the authority to teach in Highlands County.

At Avon Elementary the Summer enrichment program continues to grow as the third week approaches. During film hour at the library each week-day afternoon from 1 to 2 P.M. Mrs. Crews will be showing the following films next week: Shipboard Holiday (Island Cruise), Carribbean Cruise, Holiday in South America, You In Great Britain, Holiday in Europe, Pacific Adventure, Japan, Land of Enchantment, History of America's Cup, Bear and Mouse, and Feux Follets.

The enrollment in the preschool program has increased from 60 to 96 with an average attendance of around 80 boys and girls who will start school next September.

The reading and mathematics instruction continues with good participation with mathematics in the morning and reading in the afternoons.

The recreation activities at Avon Elementary will include archery from 8:30 to 9:45 each morning; swimming from 10 to 11:30 each morning; baton twirling from 9 to 10 and softball for boys from 9 to 10 in the morning. Also in Room No. 9 there are ping pong tables and the trampoline for use by the elementary children. Film hour from 1 to 2 and swimming from 2 to 3 each afternoon.

Boys and girls who would like to camp out with the trail riders next Thursday night, July 10, will be transported to the Hartt Ranch by bus for the overnight adventure. The cost will be $1.25 for supper and breakfast. The bus will leave from the high school gym at 2:30 P.M. June 10 and will return Friday mid-morning. Boys and girls must contact Coach Franza early next week to make reservations for the camping trip.

Sharmon Atkins and Allan Duhm Are Wed In First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church was the setting Friday night of the double ring ceremony of Sharmon Marcia Atkins and Allan Shaffer Duhm.

Rev. Aden D. Childress administered the sacrament of marriage with organist Carol Ann Childress and John Wright, Jr., soloists, with vocal selection, "I Believe," Mrs. Ron Farnell, "O Perfect Love." Virginia Henderson sang "The Lords Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Atkins and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Duhm, of Wheaton, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, Sharmon wore an empire styled gown of white chiffon. The bodice of chantilly lace, adorned with satin applique. The neck line was scalloped, with the sleeves scalloped above the elbow. A small satin bow at the front of the gown, with an A-line skirt glowing into a full cathedral train in the back fastened with 20 tiny buttons with three tiny roses of chantilly lace.

The brides veil of three layers of white illusion silk fell just below her shoulders, fastened to a wreath shaped headpiece tiny artificial orange blossoms, roses and pearls.

She carried a white bible covered in a crescent shaped cascade of white orchids, roses and miniature carnations. As the bride reached the altar she paused and plucked a white rose bud from her bouquet and presented it to her mother, and after the ceremony she paused before exiting down the aisle and plucked a second rose and presented it to her new mother-in-law.

The ceremony was performed in a candlelight service with small pink candles surrounded with fern and pink roses in each window. A three branch candelabra with floor baskets of pink glads and white chrysanthemums in the center with two seven branch candelabras on each side. Baskets of glads and white chrysanthemums banked by palms lined the back of the platform with pink roses and fern entwined in the railing.

Miss Diane Duhm, grooms sister served as maid of honor, wearing a floor length gown of pink lace on taffeta, empire styled with a slightly A-line skirt. Tiny short sleeves with rounded neck line, with a pink satin train that flowed behind the gown and fastened to the gown at the empire waist with a small pink satin bow. Her headpiece, of pink satin, was ring shaped and fastened to her short veil of white net. She carried a pink satin muff adorned with a tiny bouquet of pink miniature carnations and mums with pink satin streamers.

Brides maids, Sue Ayerst, Nancy Mitchell, Sharon Sue Childress, Sharon Snellgrove and Cheri Adams, junior bridesmaid, Becky Duhm, the grooms sister from Wheaton, Ill., wore identical gowns to the maid of honor.

Best man was E. A. Duhm, the grooms father. Ushers Quentin Atkins, brides brother, Bruce Farnell, brides cousin, Gerald Wicker, Stanley Wells, brides cousin, Scott Early, Ronald Darnell, brides cousin, Joe Strickler, Bill Duhm, grooms brother.

Miss Vonda Wells, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing a miniature version of the bridesmaids and maid of honor. Her flower basket was designed to resemble the muffs and she carried a miniature bouquet, dropping pink rose petals.

Ring bearer was Steven Wells, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Harmon Atkins wore for her daughters wedding an aqua colored street-length linen sheath with matching lace over jacket and matching accessories and wore a pink rose corsage.

The groom's mother, Mrs. E. A. Duhm, wore a light grey dress with pink accessories and white rose bud corsage.

For her traveling outfit the bride wore a black and white plaid linen suit, with three quarter length jacket and black vest, with black accessories and wore a white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

After their wedding trip to Sarasota, the couple will be at their new apartment at 605 North Lake Avenue.

Reception

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church social hall.

Decorated with pink roses the two punch tables with round lace cloths accented the four tiered wedding cake. A five branch candlelabra with a linen drawn work cloth covered the round table that held the cake.

Marian Turner presided at the brides book, and Mrs. Ophelia Rihner presented the guests to the receiving line.

Mrs. Jean Wells, cousin of the bride and Mrs. I. M. Farnell, the bride's aunt, served the cake.

Serving punch was Mrs. Kenneth Wells, Mrs. Lawler Wells, Miss Jane Nunnallee and Miss Lark Adams. Helping with refreshments, Mrs. Leman Kelly and Mrs. Tony Mitchell.

Miss Holy Duhm, grooms sister, and Miss Sherri Wells, brides cousin, dressed identically in pink dotted voile and lace handed out tiny bags of pink and white rice adorned with lily of the valley to the reception guests.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to everyone for the many cards, flowers, and other sympathetic deeds received during our recent bereavement. May God bless all of you.

Grange Club Hears Program On Ritualism

Avon Park Grange No. 203 held the final meeting of the season on Tuesday, June 24, with Master Louise Clarke in the chair. The recess will extend through July and August, during which time most of the members will vacation in the North.

The Lecturer prepared a program on ritualism. The Grange ritual is a practical application of the teachings of the Bible in every day living. During its existence of 192 years, the ritual of the Grange has been the effective and constructive tie that has bound together those who recognize the brotherhood of man as the finest expression of the Fatherhood of God.

Another important feature about the value of ritualism in binding members together is the fact that the Grange member in Florida finds the Grange door in Oregon opening as readily to his signal as in his own Grange over 3,000 miles away. Were it not for this universal tie, a national organization might soon deteriorate into state or local groups and its strong cohesive power be broken as indeed happened in approximately 500 other national farm and rural organizations which did not have this fraternal tie.

While the Grange does not live for or by the ritual alone, the ritualistic structure is the lifeblood of the Order. It is the ingredient which brings Grangers together in harmonious relationship to work for the good of all people everywhere.

Father's Day was recognized by a short reading and a child's version of What is a Grandfather? The local number was a report on Avon Park organizations, where they meet and when. Song—Beautiful Grange. Thought for the day—there is an old axiom that before a person would be interested in you, you must be interested in them.

During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. T. R. Lane, and Mrs. W. H. Clarke was wished a happy birthday. The next meeting will be held September 9.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

Last week was an historic day for the Rotary Club of Avon Park. We rounded out a very satisfactory and profitable year under John Knapp's guidance. John started the meeting by passing over his gavel and 1969-70 responsibilities to George Walper, who is Administrator of Walker Memorial Hospital. In return, George handed John, our retiring president, a gift of a Rotary clock as a momento of his services during the year. George then followed with unusual pictures, illustrating his experiences in Hawaii at the International Convention.

The pictures in color were especially descriptive, but with comments occasionally interjected by George Walper, the showing was superb. Beyond word description! Comments following the meeting were to the effect that other members would hesitate making a showing of any of their experiences, for fear they could not measure up to what George presented.

A suggestion has also been made that the pictures were so unusual they should be shown to the Rotary Anns, possibly as a Ladies Night.

Thanks, George, for a superior program. Seems to forecast an outstanding Rotary year.

Children Summer Camp At JC III Ranch

Several Avon Park children are spending their time this Summer at Florida's unique Summer camp for children, JC III Ranch Camp "For the child who loves horses." The camp features riding, English and Western, beginning with instruction and featuring everything from moonlight rides, training colts, barrel racing, and jumping, to fun events in a weekly horse show to which the public is invited on Saturday nights.

Miss De Ocs, Hibiscus Ave., Miss Janis Murphy, 71 E. Wolf St., and Miss Carol Wicker, 301 N. Verona are among the many horse lovers attending JC III Ranch Camp this Summer.

JC III Ranch Camp emphasizes riding but of course there are other things thrown in for good measure. The camp boosts a "big-family" type atmosphere, with individual attention. The activities beside horseback riding include swimming, sports, creative arts ,tennis, riflery, archery, and social events. The camp also has a swimming team and softball team in competition with other camps.

The 400 acre ranch is situated in the rolling hills of Hernando County, and is surrounded by miles of pine forest with lots of fresh (unpolluted) country air. It is adjacent to the Croom Wildlife Preserve, an 80,000 acre preserve maintained by the Florida Forestry Service.

JC III Ranch Camp is owned and operated by John and Carole Porter, former residents of St. Petersburg Beach. Both are former teachers and presently John is director of Guidance for the Hernando County School System.

St. Petersburg—Karol Kelly, Director of the Miss Florida Teen-Ager Pageant, announced that the 1969 state pageant will be held at Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg, Sunday, Aug. 17 and Monday, Aug. 18. The winner of the state contest will represent Florida in the national finals of the Miss American Teen-Ager Pageant at Palisades Amusement Park, Palisade, N. J. in September.

Official entry blanks can be obtained at the Karol Kelly Modeling & Finishing School at Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg or at any McDonald Restaurant in Florida.

Last year's winner. Miss Patti Wendell of Tampa, will crown the new queen on August 18.

Television personality Dick Stratton of Jacksonville will serve as master of ceremonies for the pageant.

Social Security Available For Disability

One of the many benefits available from the social security program is payments to assist the wage-earner whose income is lost due to accident or illness. Today, 67 million workers under age 65, as well as their families, may be certain of monthly cash benefits in the event of severe disability.

Recent changes in the law reduced the social security credits required if a person becomes disabled before age 31.

Social Security officer Jack Carter is at Room 302 in the county courthouse from 9:30 to 11 A.M. Mondays in Sebring; from 9:30 A.M. until noon Wednesdays in the City Hall basement, Avon Park, and in the courthouse annex, Lake Placid from 9:30 to 11 A.M. the second and fourth Thursdays of the month.

If you consider the money being raked in by institutions of higher learning, you can better appreciate references to "the hauls of ivy."

Parcel Post Weight Limit Raised to 40 lbs.

The parcel post weight limit will be raised to 40 pounds for shipments between first-class post offices after July 1, Postmaster Robert Young announced today.

The maximum parcel post weight limit will be increased from 30 pounds on shipments between the larger post offices in the third through 8th parcel post zones. (More than 150 miles.) On packages sent locally and to offices in parcel post zones one and two, the ceiling has been 40 pounds. The maximum size of packages sent between all first-class offices remains 72 inches in combined length and girth.

The size limit on parcels sent to or from smaller offices, rural or star routes, military post offices, and all Alaskan and Hawaiian post offices stays at 70 pounds, with a combined length and girth of 100 inches, Postmaster Young added.

Public Law 89-493, enacted September 20, 1966, authorized the postal service to increase weight and size limits on shipments between larger cities. On July 1 of 1970 and 1971, the length and girth limits are scheduled to rise to 78 and 84 inches, respectively, on shipments between first-class post offices.
