So We Won!

As the Vietnam war drags on and on and on, we cannot help but notice the tendency of reporters to handle the war as a sporting event. Like so many Viet Cong were killed, so many Vietnamese, but only so many Americans were killed. We won this one!

If just one of those Americans were your boy or your father, this would be a terribly important statistic and the victory hollow indeed and nothing sporting about it.

We can't help but think that this kind of reporting sort of mirrors this useless war. It's a box score of a daily event. Like who won and who lost. It has an unreal quality at times—we aren't aware of the blood, and the tragedy, and all the other terrible things of war. It becomes commonplace to read the box scores every day. You become used to it. After awhile you tend to ignore it. Most of the time it shows the Americans losing fewer men than the other two combatants involved. Great. Our team won!

So we won—we had the fewest casualties. But we didn't win anything. We can win a battle and lose a future for our people as this thing drags on. Every day American homes are touched by the tragedy.

And then there is the other fact which we on the home front should not take so lightly. The war is bankrupting this country. And yet we rattle our sabres and growl, and get tough, and act more and more hawkish.

Where is it all ending? Will there be next season's war, and next season's war and next season's war—like the football season and the basketball season and the baseball season?

Although the Vietnam war is so far away, it is a dreadfully personal thing to all of us, whether it touches us with tragedy or hits us in the pocketbook.

We don't condone the student riots, but these are thinking young people who are demonstrating against the war. Some of them may be Communist inspired or inspired by the Students for a Democratic Society, SDS, which Cong. Ed. Gurney says is openly calling for the destruction of our society, preaching its Marxist-Leninist beliefs.

But there are many of them who abhor the Communists, even as you and I, and simply want to live peacefully without going to fight a foreign war which they are convinced accomplishes so little.

On the surface, it appears we are trying to get out of the war. But as we read the fine print—are we really? Are we making enough concessions, are we realistic—or are we simply making political mouthing?

Down here among us hard-working grass roots, we don't know the Vietnam war is in the upper echelons of political life. We sense there are wheels, people pulling this way and that way on the men who make the decisions. The men doing the pulling are activated by many things—business, money, prestige, personal gain in many ways.

Everything is such a mess in this war can anybody know who's where or where he's going or what he's doing or why?

We read that 25,000 troops are being called home, which is admittedly a drop in the bucket. When do we get the bucketful?

Togetherness and Crime

Can "togetherness" be one of the causes of our rising crime rate as people continue to leave the land and crowd into the cities?

Laboratory experiments have shown that the more you crowd rats, the more they flip their lids. Chances are it's not much different with people scientists seem to think.

Eighty per cent of the 200,000,000 people living in this broad land are crowded into two per cent of the available space. Vast areas of our continent are gloriously empty, while the rest of us huddle together like the rats, baring our fangs at the slightest jostle and practicing our aberrant behavior.

And it could get worse.

A Cornell study has it that at least one-fourth of all the people crowded onto Manhattan Island, where there are 75,000 people per square mile, have some kind of emotional illness. And less than one in five is what doctors consider mentally well.

Frightening, isn't it!

Says Ian McHarg, chief of the Department of Landscape Architecture and Regional planning at the University of Pennsylvania:

"We must build whole new cities. We must put them in the empty spaces of our continent carefully located so we do not pollute the air and the waters or disturb the balance of nature."

Maybe we're wasting our time trying to make the cities livable. The rats still snarl at each other if they're crowded and even if the cages are brand new.

How fortunate we are to be living away from the big cities. We wonder how long it will take some of the people who live there to get wise to themselves and move out.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

What Debt Should The Church Pay?

All across the country, people were shocked and angered when James Forman interjected a Sunday morning service at Riverside Church in New York City, to present the terms of the Black Manifesto.

Demanding that the churches of the nation provide a half billion dollars for the program of the National Black Economic Development Conference, Forman threatened—in the words of the Black Manifesto—to "declare war on the white Christian churches and synagogues."

"Total disruption of selected church-sponsored activities operating anywhere in the U.S. and the world" was threatened.

The Second Shock

The people of the nation were shocked again when some church leaders, including the Rev. Dr. Ernest Campbell, minister of Riverside Church, indicated that they would accede to some of the brazen demands. These demands have been described as a "blackmail" thing unless, NREDC calls them "reparations."

Perhaps the most appropriate term is that which was used by news commentator Paul Harvey. He compared Forman's tactics with those of Al Capone, famous Chicago racketeer of a former generation.

Said Harvey, "The protection racket is nothing new to us. We learned from the Chicago racketeer of a former generation."

But the question is: "Does the church owe anything to anybody?"

The Bible says it does.

What The Church Owes Writing to the Roman Christians, the apostle Paul said, "I am a debtor both to the Greeks and to the barbarians—both to the wise and to the foolish."

Which of these categories includes Forman and his crew each person must decide for himself. But what was Paul saying he was obligated to do because of this feeling of indebtedness to both the cultured man and the barbarian?

Here it is, in Paul's own words: "So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel . . . For it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." Yes, the church does owe something to both black and white.

The obligation of the church is to preach the Gospel of salvation through faith in Christ.

If it fails to do this, while doing a thousand other things, the church has failed in its mission to the world.

Even James Forman and his followers should be brought to understand that God is willing to forgive their sins, if each of them will take his place as a follower of the Master.

This is the debt which the church owes to all.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

The Sizzling Seventies

By BABSON'S REPORTS INCORPORATED

Wellesley Hills, Mass., June 19, 1979

During the decade of the seventies we anticipate a growing quasi-peace-time economy with moderate but acceptable inflation. The Nixon Administration is already committed to slowing the inflation even if it requires a "mini" recession. The American public is now demanding peace. The Administration must create at least a quasi-peace, but it is doubtful whether it will be completely out of the Far East even by 1980. With these basic premises, the Babson's Reports research staff envisions a growing economy during the seventies.

Increasing Population and Income

Another population explosion is in store for the coming decade. The World War II baby boom peaked during the 1960's, and these postwar children are beginning to reach the family-forming stage. While better family planning—including various birth control measures—has resulted in a lesser number of children per family, current figures show a turn upward in the average number of offspring. Personal income will continue to rise, but not as fast as it has during the latter part of the sixties. We anticipate that average income will reach $10,000 by 1980. We also foresee a four-day work week and longer vacations.

With the increase in family formation already starting, the building industry will have to keep pace. During the next decade the demand for housing of all types will necessarily result in a building boom. New types of construction (primarily modular) and materials (plastics) will be important growth factors. Home accessories will also share in this building boom.

Younger Influences

Since the average age of our population is getting lower, and youth is becoming a more dominant part of our economy, those industries which serve this segment of our population should do well during the coming decade. Life insurance, apparel, and education are three important groups that serve these under 30 life insurance programs are usually undertaken when a couple assumes the financial responsibilities of family life.

The current young set have become very fashion-conscious and are leaders in setting the trends for the apparel industry. Cosmetics fit the same mold. Another beneficial factor is the expected increase in personal income. As average income rises, a greater percentage is spent on clothing and cosmetics. Leisure-time industries which have been doing well in the latter part of the sixties will continue to thrive into the seventies.

Future Technology

With the great technological advances that have occurred in recent years, some may wonder what is coming for us next. We foresee many new ideas and improvements in the seventies. Synthetic and plastics represent the brightest segment of the chemical field because of their many still untapped uses. Apparel, construction, and containerization among others. Nuclear power, despite present high costs, provides an almost unlimited source of energy for the future. The mini-computer and more advanced peripheral equipment offer the computer industry great potential during the coming decade. Time-sharing has grown tremendously in the past year and will continue to do so as many new applications are devised to help even the smaller businessman in this computer age. Pacemaker reproduction is another part of the office equipment field that appears to have a great future.

The ocean and the sky will receive continually increasing exploration during the seventies. People will visit the moon on a regular basis by 1980, perhaps living there for extended periods, engaging in basic scientific research.

There will be great demand for solutions to air and water pollution problems and for new and better methods of rubbish disposal. Medical science can be expected to abound us with cures for heart disease, cancer, and even the common cold.

He said residents in his subdivision are fearful that having a high school adjoining the area will depreciate property values. Avon Park Board Member G. P. Ward told Young, "There were three sites available in the area where the students are. Owners of two didn't want to sell, and the third is available. I have and I will urge land-escaping to form sound and traffic barriers as the new school is built."

All successful movements from Christianity to the KKK have had descriptive symbols. The average American is away from his job 125 days each year.

ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION

alco-topics

By PAUL C. FORAKER

Editor, Information Services

Former patients at Florida

Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, Avon Park, gathered recently at the Center for the eighth annual patient reunion and open house.

It is a real experience, to sit in a room with a couple hundred rehabilitated alcoholics from all across Florida returning to their "alma mater" to visit with each other and compare "success notes"—success, of course, meaning sobriety.

There were men and women. Some were young and some were not so young. Many appeared prosperous and others looked less than affluent. But they all had one thing in common—they were winning their battles with the bottle.

Battles that continued to pop up from time to time.

Staff members at Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center do not refer to "cured" alcoholics. Rather, the term "rehabilitated" is used, because once an individual is an alcoholic he can never drink again in any amount or in any form—and not expect another full-blown relapse.

The way for a rehabilitated alcoholic to remain rehabilitated is to stay without drinking, happy along with it.

One rehabilitated alcoholic at the reunion told this writer he found a degree of solace and comfort in being back at the Center, and another nearly broke down and wept during the same feeling. There was a feeling of serenity and brotherhood among the crowd at the reunion, and many found new strength in sharing their feelings and frustrations with others who had been Center patients at one time.

There was plenty of coffee, plus entertainment by a local band and gospel singing by the youth choir of an Avon Park church. But most of all, there was a sense of talking to people who were being communicated, and there was satisfaction in the eyes of many who could look back to the turning point in their lives when the road downward became the road upward because they wanted help—and found it at Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center.

Some of the ex-patients attending the reunion had been at the Center for more than one year. One man, who had been at the Center for another "go-round" and often they find the solution to their drinking problem on their second stay at the Center.

One thing for sure: There were no depressed people at the reunion. Long faces were noticeably absent. Happiness—as well as sobriety—was in the air. The day, and the night, and the hard to notice this . . . because everybody was smiling.

And happiness is a rehabilitated alcoholic.

Rambling Thoughts

GIVING THE PASTOR A HINT

Was this a dirty day at the pastor? The Methodist Conference moved the beloved preacher and his lovely family over into Pinellas County. He is sent to a harder job, of course. When a preacher in this church does a good job and has about worked himself into a mere shadow, the big shots who run the religion machine send him to a place where he has to work harder than ever. I have studied this custom over and over and the only logical reason I can see for it is that the Bishop and the Hiring and Firing Board believe the pastor has not truly earned his salary. Eternal Home on High where he can rest at ease for eternity. I may be wrong, but having been a choir director for many years and studied out how Zion does business, that's the only way I can figure it out.

At a mammoth farewell party for the departing pastor, somebody gave him one of these German-made clocks where the pendulum whirled around and the clock will run for half a year without winding. I wonder if some bird in the church gave him this dings as a hint to him to preach so long in Pinellas County as he did in Lake Wales. However, the seats in the church here are bottomed with soft, red cushions. Being post-calvinized, I handed Rev. Joyner a poem that went like this: "O Lord, have a wonderful reverend, but he'll talk 'til one thinks he will never end; but it came to the pass when the folks rose en masse and cushioned the pews for their nephew. Somebody must have given Rev. Joyner a hint as to the membership where he has been sent."

RIP VAN TWINKLE

Perhaps you've heard of Old Tom Tinkle, who used to sleep in the Van Twinkle and slept for 30 years; he woke the other day, and gazing around him on the sights amazing, his soul was filled with fear.

"What was this?" he asked in terror. "What life of which I'm now a share? What job do we infer? Oh, it is Saturn, Mars or Venus? How many planets are between us and good, old Mother Earth? What mighty bird is that soaring—I seem to hear its pinions roaring; it soars along so fast! Old Earth, with all her varied features, had no such big, outlandish creatures around, from first to last!"

"It is an alship, Thomas Tinkle," I answered him. "I told him, just one of many scores which were by

Your Social Security

Question—I was advised to report any event that may affect my Social Security checks. Where should I send such a report?

Answer—Send reports to your local Social Security office. The local office can give prompt service on changes of address, reports of earnings, student's school attendance, and notices about marriage, divorce, and death.

Question—At what age can a widow receive Social Security benefits on her deceased husband's earnings record?

Answer—Full benefits are payable at age 62. Reduced benefits can be paid at age 60. Disabled widows may qualify as early as age 50. A widow of any age can qualify if she is caring for a child who is entitled to benefits.

Question—Is financial need a requirement for Social Security benefits?

Answer—No. Retirement, disability, and survivor benefits are paid on the basis of the worker's earnings. Financial circumstances of the applicant are not considered.

Question—I am 62 and earn $1,000 a year. Am I eligible for any benefits without quitting work?

Answer—Probably yes. You should contact your nearest Social Security office. With a total yearly earnings of $3,000 you may be entitled to at least part of your benefits.

Question—I plan to retire soon and I already have a federal annuity record for proof of age. What else should I bring when I file a claim?

Answer—Please bring your 1968 Form W-2 showing your total wages or a copy of your most recent income tax return.

Question—I work in my husband's grocery store at least 60 hours a week. Can I get Social Security credit for this work?

scientists invented to make the people more contented since you began to move.

I told him of the wireless system and other wonders—he had missed 'em since he was second assistant of submarines which sink and travel severely over the mud and gravel beneath the raging deep.

"You can't convince," said the waker. "That this is earth—we are a faker, and deal in fairy tales; no man can soar away up yonder, like some blatted albatross or condor on metal wings and sails, and as for sending long dispatches from Buffalo down to Natchez, the same not being wired; if it's done here, it's not the plane, where I live when mortals ran it; your stories make me tired. But what are these rip-staring vagons? We must be in the land of the dragons! I never saw the like! So rip-staring are they soaring so wildly are they galloping they fairly burn the pike."

I told him they were merely autos whose drivers live up to their motto that speed laws are in vain; and other miracles of things which should be explained. I told of triumphs most astounding, of things which should be explained. I told of triumphs most astounding, of things which should be explained. I told of triumphs most astounding, of things which should be explained.

TAXES TO BE PAID AT COUNTY SEAT

We are now faced with making tax paying a little bit easier—the city tax must be paid at the county seat and this should make government expense a little bit lighter. One can send his taxes to one place and that will make a change in the help at the City Hall.

When I was city tax assessor, for a time the homestead exemption was handled both at the county and city office, but that was changed and I went to the county seat and went over their books and found out who was and who wasn't entitled to homestead exemption. This got me to worrying about the possibility of all the tax assessing being done at the county seat house, and I facing the matter of going back to running a linotype machine again, lying about the mammoth circulation of the Lake Wales Highlander had and other jobs I was sufficient at. It might cost a bit, but the county assessor could, easily enough, give the City Clerk what he wanted, proper in town was worth for taxation, and let the city assessor find another job.

Answer—No. Wages paid by a man to his wife are not covered by Social Security.

Question—I have just rented a hospital bed and wonder if Medicare will help pay the rental charges. What will they pay if I decided to buy the bed?

Answer—Durable medical equipment prescribed by your doctor can be either rented or purchased. If you decide to buy, payment will be made over a period of time, based on the reasonable rental rate for the equipment. Payments will stop when you no longer need the equipment.

Question—I will be 65 in 1979 and have never worked under social security. Will I be eligible for Medicare?

Answer—Unless you are eligible for a monthly social security check, you will not be eligible for the hospital insurance part of Medicare. You will, however, be able to sign up for the insurance that helps you pay your doctor bills.

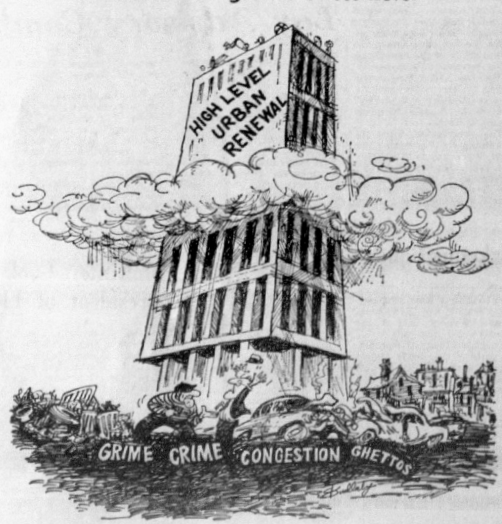

Question—I will be 65 in 1971. My husband will not be 65 until 1972. Will he be able to retire at that time. Will I be entitled to Medicare when I am 67? I have never worked under social security.

Answer—Regardless of when your husband signs up, you are eligible for the medical insurance part of Medicare and should start your claim in one of the three months before you are 65. You will not be eligible for the hospital part until your husband signs up. If he wishes, he can sign up before 65 in order for you to get the hospital insurance. He may be eligible for some extra even though he continues to work.

Question—I have been told that drugs are covered under the Medicare program. Is this true?

Answer—Prescription drugs are not covered. Drugs given you in a participating hospital or nursing home are covered while you are a patient there.

Court Suppresses Evidence In Counterfeiting

The prosecution has lost the first round in its attempt to convict Ennis Walter Blakely in the county's first counterfeiting case.

Judge Clifton M. Kelly granted a defense motion to suppress most of the evidence the state had amassed for the June 5 trial. Defense Counsel Kingswood Spratt, Jr., contended that Highlands County Sheriff's Deputies N. L. Heinemann and J. C. Murdock did not have search warrants and therefore had seized evidence illegally.

Judge Kelly did admit for state's evidence five counterfeit bills Deputy Heinemann said he saw in the Blakely apartment at Lake Placid when he went there to question Blakely about sales of cigarettes at below wholesale prices.

Heinemann testified that he placed Blakely under arrest as a vagrant and notified the Sheriff's office in Sebring. He said he waited at the apartment in Lake Placid until Chief Deputy Murdock arrived.

Murdock testified he did not have a search warrant, but was given permission by the defendant's wife to search the whole apartment. Judge Kelly ruled that under Florida law Mrs. Blakely could not give permission for such a search.

State Attorney Glen Darty said the state will appeal Judge Kelly's ruling.

Blakely, charged with possession of forged notes and possession of instruments for forging notes, is free on $1,000 bond.

May Win Trip To Scotland

Avon Park resident Mrs. Terry Akin may win $1,000 and a trip to Scotland for two as a result of scoring a hole-in-one recently, at the Kenilworth Lodge.

The winner will be announced early next year.

Students On Honor Roll

Ninety-seven Stetson University undergraduates have been named to the Dean's List for the 1968 Spring semester, according to Miss Barbara Rowe, registrar. An additional 373 undergraduates were listed on the Honor Roll.

The dean's list consists of juniors and seniors whose grades average 2.5 or better in 10 scale, with no grades below "B." The honor roll is composed of undergraduates with a 9 average or better with no grades less than "C."

On the dean's list was J. Ross Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Machin of Sebring. On the honor roll was Sharon Childress, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. Childress of Avon Park.

Over 200 Attend Formal Dedication Of Juvenile Home Sunday

More than 200 persons attended the formal dedication of Highlands County's new juvenile home Sunday at services held beneath a large tent erected in front of the home.

Fr. John C. Mangrum of Tampa gave the dedicatory address. Juvenile Judge Mervin Rehner officially cut the ribbon. Judge Rehner, Juvenile Counselor Robert Lindsay and Youth Care, Inc., president Virginia Rehman introduced VIPs.

Among those from out of town attending were Jack Blanton, deputy director institutions, Tallahassee; Judge W. A. Milton, Tallahassee; Judge John A. Miller, juvenile court, Ft. Lauderdale; Frank Zich, superintendent of the Oklawaha School for Boys, and Bob Mainey, juvenile courts in Sarasota.

Trustees of Youth Care, which built the home then turned it over to the county, were given jacket emblems by Mrs. Rehman, embroidered "Youth Care, 1969."

VIPs were treated to pastry and coffee at Howard Johnson's Restaurant after the ceremonies and most of those attending took the tour of the facility which houses dependent, delinquent and underprivileged children.

Disabled Veterans From Three Counties Meet at Lions Club

The newly formed Orange Blossom Chapter No. 95 of the Disabled American Veterans, a disabled veteran's service organization serving the counties of Highlands, Hardee, DeSoto, and South Polk, from Avon Park, recently sponsored a charter dinner at the Lions clubhouse with members of the DAV in attendance from all parts of the state.

On this special occasion, Florida department officials of the DAV along with members, families, and visitors, came to witness the installation of recently elected officers as follows:

Melvin H. Olt, commander; Pastor W. A. Hand of Frostproof, Senior, vice commander; Dolan Hill, Junior, vice commander; Wallace White, adjutant; Ernest Calabretta, treasurer; N. L. O. Keeney of Lake Placid, judge advocate; and Wendell Shesfield of Wauchula, sergeant at arms. Pastor Thomas Holmes is chaplain.

Officiating in the ceremonies were Florida Dept. Commander Edward Ryberg of Homosassa, and PDC Don Roussey, who is presently commander of the Tampa No. 4 Chapter and National Service Officer at Bay Pines VA Hospital.

Commander-elect, Melvin Olt, received on behalf of the Orange Blossom Chapter, an engraved gavel and a charter scroll bearing the names of about 30 charter members from the area. After tribute to three of the new members who have died since April, Arthur Ayres of Avon Park, Robert Newsome of Bowling Green, and Arthur Wilson of Arcadia, an American flag was presented to the Orange Blossom Chapter by Mrs. Mad Padgett of Tampa in memory of her deceased husband.

And since July is "Membership Month" for the DAV, Commander Olt invited all disabled veterans who desire information to call Avon Park GL 3-6552.

First Baptist Remains In First Place As End Grows Near

This week should finish out regular season play in the Avon Park Little League if a tie game and rained out games can be squeezed in some night. After last Monday night's action the First Baptists remained in first place by the skin of their teeth with an 8-5 record. The Avon Citrus Bank nine moved to a record seven wins, five losses, and a tie game with the Lions who have a 6-7-1 mark. The Kiwanis team is also right in the middle of things with a 7-6 record and Bagwell is still in contention with a 6-7 mark. Rotary's team has been winning lately but got off to a slow start and presently has a 5-9 record with only one game left to play.

Last Tuesday night a week ago Rotary beat Bagwell 8-6 in the first game but the second game was rained out after 1 1/2 innings of play between First Baptist and Kiwanis. Rotary scored its first runs on seven hits—a triple and two singles by Lavon Cobb, two singles by M. Cobb, a double by Philip Cloud, and a single by Edward Dorsey. Bagwell scored its six runs on seven hits—a double and two singles by Dale Sisemore, a triple and a single by Buddy Gordon, a double by Jim Doublerly, and a single by Mort Jackson.

Last Thursday night Avon Citrus squeaked by Kiwanis 6-5 with Mike Pool's home-run in the last of the sixth inning assuring the win for Avon Citrus. Others hitting for A. C. B. were John Pipkin with two singles, Dean DuBoise with a double, and Dale DuBoise, and Larry Jackson with single. The Kiwanis batters got four hits off winning pitcher Mike Pool who struck out 11 Kiwanis batters. Jim Lamb and Brad Beumel got two singles each for the Kiwanis team.

In the second game Thursday night the Lions romped in Rotary for a 15-8 win in a four inning game that was called because of the time limit. The Lions got ten hits—Tim Massey and Keith Crews both got a double, Elder got a single, John McKenas and Mike McKenzie both got two singles, and Lamb got a single. For Rotary Lavon Cobb hit a double and a single and Mark Gaines, Darick Dorsey, Timmy Underwood, and M. Cobb all got a single each.

Last Friday night four teams went out to the APCI field and played the two games which had been rained out the previous Monday night. In the first game Bagwell shut out the First Baptist 9-0 as Jim Doublerly hurled a no hitter at the league leaders. Doublerly struck out 10 batters as he posted the mound win for Bagwell. The Bagwell batters got six hits and two doubles—Jimmy Doublerly and Joel Wright hit two singles each and Buddy Gordon and Gerald Barfield both hit a single each.

In the second game at APCI almost everything happened. The game finally was called after seven full innings with the score tied 7-7 and a protest lodged by the Avon Citrus team. It was struck by a pitcher's battle for the first six innings. The Lions Tim Massey held A. C. B. to one hit and one run and struck out 14 batters and Avon Citrus hurler Dale DuBoise gave up only two hits and one run while fanning 15 batters in the first six innings of play. Then because of a little league rule which limits any one pitcher to six innings per game, both teams changed pitchers and both teams scored six runs in the seventh inning during which a total of 15 walks were issued. The tie will be played off this week if weather permits.

Last Monday night the Kiwanis took a 12-4 victory from the Lions and Rotary outscored the First Baptist 2-1.

Christian Science Church Sunday Sermon

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Enveloped by Atmic Forces?" was the subject of last week's Bible Lesson-Sermon which will be heard Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

In the Responsive Reading, taken from Job, one verse asks: "Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?"

A correlative passage in Science and Health with key Scriptures reads: "The universe, like man, is to be interpreted by science from its divine principle. God, and then it can be understood, but when explained on the basis of physical sense, represented as subjects of growth, maturity, and decay, the universe, like man, is and must continue to be an enigma."

Services at Christian Science Churches are open to all.

The new Methodist parsonage family includes his wife, Alice, and their two children, Sharon, who will be in the 11th grade next year, and Darrell, who will be in the 7th grade at Avon Park High School.

The contract also calls for a channel to T off to Lake Charlotte with a water control structure and another to T off to the East to serve property owners near Ty Harris Volkswagen on Highway 27. The project is designed to protect pasture, cropland and the urban development from the frequent flooding which has occurred in the past. The Soil Conservation Service and the property owners are sharing the cost of the $372,000 contract. The Highlands County Board of Commissioners has agreed to operate and maintain the project when completed.

The project began at Josephine Creek bridge on Highway 27 and the first two contracts completed four miles of channel improvement and two structures to regulate Lake Josephine. The final phase of the contract, anticipated to be let next year, would complete the project up to Lake Jackson and install a new structure to regulate the level of that lake with two additional structures between Lake Josephine and Lake Jackson.

This type of watershed project is made possible through the small watershed program, PL-566, administered through the Soil Conservation Service. Josephine-Jackson Creek is the fourth such project in Highlands County under this program.

Through the cooperation of the Highlands County Commissioners, the Highlands Soil Conservation District and the property owners, 150,000 acres of land have been provided with flood prevention and water management under the program at a shared cost of around $2,000,000, 75 per cent federal, 25 per cent local.

Leon Tubbs, of Sebring, is contracting officer for the Highlands District and property owners. George G. Moore is representing the SCS as project engineer.

New Law Adds To Officials' Salaries

New state legislation raises county officials' salaries, but Highlands County fee officers will wind up with less take-home pay. The law, which becomes effective July 1, sets uniform pay scales by population brackets and eliminates old laws which permit officials to pocket certain fees without accounting.

Highlands County officials' salaries, now set at $10,500, will go up to $12,000, but the elimination of the fees will wind up costing the officials. Some of the officials privately admit to salary "supplements" of $1,000 to $1,500 per year, but critics of the fee system set the figures much higher.

Highlands County commissioners—whose salaries are going from $3,600 to $4,320 under the uniform pay law—look another way at the fee officials' badges in a stormy election in Tuesday's county commission meeting.

Discussion grew warm when the board began discussing a long Atlanta General's opinion given in response to questions which had been raised in a letter written by Clerk of the Circuit Court Earl Rich.

The letter, which included a gentle lecture about the necessity of county officials "working together," answered questions by numbers and the commissioners surmised the questions.

Rich said his office was looking for a copy of the letter, but it was not produced during the day-long meeting.

Vacation Bible School Starts Monday at First Baptist Church

Vacation Bible School will be held nightly at Fellowship Baptist Church beginning Monday, June 23, continuing for eight nights. The school will be held Monday through Friday of next week, and Monday through Wednesday of the following week with commencement on the last night of the school, July 2. The school will get underway each night at 6:30 and will end at 9 P.M. with many and varied activities including recreation and refreshments. All young people are invited to attend, from nursery age through 18.

The night-time Vacation Bible School was used last year at Fellowship Church and worked well because it allowed a number of men to be active in the school as teachers and leaders, according to Pastor Harrison Crews.

Principal of the school is Leroy Whidden. The church is located at 1000 Thomas Street, just east of U. S. Highway 27.

Fellowship Church has completed the air conditioning of its main auditorium, and this marks another milestone in the church's progress.

Chairman Jean Whitaker joined in, "I feel every one of us should advertise a budget and hold public hearings just like we do." Turning to Clerk Rich he added, "I know you take home more pay than your salary."

Rich acknowledged that Whitaker's statement is true and admitted that the new uniform salary bill will wind up cutting take-home pay.

At Tuesday's meeting the commissioners received, from County Judge Mervin Rehner, a formal withdrawal of his office for the county judge's office to be placed on a budget system.

In his letter Judge Rehner said, "I still feel each office should pay its own way as it does on the system. It is more economical and efficient."

Sand sometimes gets into the machinery of human relations. But this grinding of the gears is eased by the oil of unselfishness, when love becomes an end in itself and not just a means toward a personal goal, friction fades out.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

By RAY STOKES

Dr. William B. Logan, President of Webber College, Babson Park, addressed the Club, relating the history, purpose and goals of the fine two-year professional college for women.

Helping young women maintain character, health, finance and husbands are some of the many objectives of this SASC affiliated school. Students and alumnae of this SASC affiliated school represent a broad geographic area. Faculty with practical experience is the key to the success of the ever-expanding Webber program.

In conclusion, Dr. Logan compared an egg to a young person; in that both must be handled with care, need direction in movement, require patience and consideration if they are to be molded in desirable ways.

AIR CONDITIONING

See it in action.

Carrier's secret flip-top.

If you want the newest thing in room air conditioners, see the good-looking "Cosmopolitan" by Carrier. And you'd better insist on a demonstration. Otherwise, you might not recognize the "Cosmopolitan" as an air conditioner. At least not until you've seen it flip its lid.

This happens when you open the left hand louver door and press the "cool" button. Carrier's attractive top panel flips open automatically. Cool, clean, dry air flows out the full width of the top opening. Starts cooling you off, quietly, in just 10 seconds.

Air flows reach the farthest corners of the room, or into adjoining rooms, without drafts or hot spots. For just pennies a day, you can beat the summer heat once and for all.

COSMOPOLITAN ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS

Ask Citizens To Aid Florida Probationers

The Florida Probation and Parole Commission has recently embarked on a bold new approach in the treatment of criminal offenders.

The new program to enlist citizens as volunteers to aid Florida's probationers and parolees is meeting with enthusiastic support throughout the state, according to Robert H. Bolcom, regional coordinator for the community services division whose headquarters are in Bartow.

Over 300 citizens have volunteered their efforts to the eight county area Mr. Bolcom covers; and nearly 75 are actively pursuing goals with a selected probationer or parolee. In Sebring, there are 35 approved volunteers, with five actively assigned volunteers now working on supervision aides and more cases to be assigned in the near future. They've been working the past four months.

Although the volunteers have no authority or legal responsibility for the probationers or parolees, they are to make available their knowledge of the community to the probationer so he can profit from its specific needs.

Some examples of the many areas in which volunteers can aid a probationer or parolee are: tutors in basic reading skills; special assistance in locating employment suited to his interest and abilities; development of interest in vocational goals, apprenticeships, technical training, and on-the-job training.

Mr. Bolcom stated he is more enthusiastic than ever about the possibilities of good that can come from this program. He added that Florida is the first of the states to attempt this rehabilitative concept.

Said Bolcom: "The joint effort of professionals, volunteers, and local citizens working in concert, can help raise educational and vocational levels of probationers and parolees, thereby better equipping them to live a productive life. In this way, crime will be reduced and the communities will be better able to live and raise our families."

Anyone who feels they have a special interest in this program or can make a contribution as a supervision aide or specialist is encouraged to contact Mr. Bolcom at P. O. Box 1188, Bartow, or Clifford Ables, supervisor for Florida Probation and Parole Commission, whose office is located in the courthouse in Sebring.

Everybody is... from there, but not... NOW more.

Ornamental Plants Dangerous To Children

Sending small children out to play isn't as bad as tossing them out into a lion's den—but it can be equally as dangerous.

Ornamental plants are the worst offenders.

A light snack of Gloriosa (climbing lily) tubers has caused death in four hours. One tiny rosy pea with its scarlet jacket and jet black tip is a lethal dose. Luckily for children the seed-coat of this crabapple pea is hard to swallow.

But, one seed thoroughly chewed brings sure death.

In recent years, lantana has been blamed for the death of one child, the illness of two others, and skin injury to a fourth.

It has been known for years that lantana can poison cattle. An alkaloid called lantanine is the killer.

Touching crushed lantana leaves is known to cause a skin reaction. One child made a rushed trip to the hospital after playing in a clump of lantana plants. The exposed skin was marked with white spots and red, itchy areas.

Lantana grows throughout the state. In Highlands County, native species bloom and fruit all year.

Lantana is a shrub from three to five feet tall. The flowers are displayed in disk-like clusters on long stalks. Individual flowers are displayed in disk-like clusters on long stalks.

Individual flowers have four lobes and are tubular in the lower part. They may be creamy white, yellow, pink, orange, or scarlet.

The stems are bluntly square, green or brown, and may be armed with weak, sharp spines. Leaves are in pairs or whorls of three.

Lantana berries are green to blue or black, nearly one-fourth inch in diameter, and contain one bony seed.

One leaf of the oleander is reported toxic enough to kill an adult. Children have been made ill by carrying oleander flowers around in their mouths while at play.

Most ornamentals are harmless, but to be safe, enjoy their beauty but not their taste. It's a good idea to teach children to avoid putting anything in their mouths except food.

Louise Edmondson and Jackie Murry purchased the Vogue Beauty Salon from Virginia McKown this week. They are in the process of painting and giving the shop a new face-lifting, where they will offer a complete beauty service for their customers.

A private coloring booth will be installed so "Only

In the near future their plans will be to carry an internationally known cosmetic and a full line in wiglets and falls.

Louise is married to Don Edmondson and have lived at Avon Park Lakes for the past 11 years. They have four sons, and four granddaughters. Louise was a hair stylist in Miami prior to coming to Avon Park.

Coming from Chicago last year, Jackie has two daughters, Joni, an eighth grader and Cindy, a fourth grader at Avon Elementary.

Myrtle Herring, hair dresser for Vogue, is helping Louise and Jackie get established in the shop this week. She will be located at Virginia's Beauty Salon at the Shopping Center, Avon Park.

Legion Wins Over Wauchula, Loses to Sebring

Avon Park's Post 69 American Legion junior baseball team took a 6-3 victory from Wauchula Wednesday, June 11, here at Head Field and then lost to Sebring 5-2 in Sebring last Monday night to set a 2-1 record for the young Summer season.

Last night (Wednesday) the Avon Park team was to host Bradenton here at Head Field and next Monday the Post 69 club will travel to Wauchula for another game with the Post 3 team there. Next Wednesday, June 25, Sebring will be here for the third game of the four game series. A game with Wauchula which had to be rescheduled as soon as possible.

Young Don Sizemore, Avon Park's left handed batter, led the Post 69 boys to the 6-3 victory over Wauchula last week. On the mound he held the Post 3 batters to five hits—single, double, and walked only three in the seven inning affair.

Offensively he rapped out a double and two singles and scored two of the six runs for Avon Park.

Dennis Hart, Avon Park shortstop, pulled the game out of the fire for the local team, however, with a homerun over the leftfield fence in the third to put Avon Park out front 4-3. Other Avon Park batters hitting safely were Steve Hartt and Glenn Sizemore with a single each.

In Sebring last Monday night right-hander Robert Sizemore held the Post 74 team to three singles but the Sebring boys managed to score three runs and hand Avon Park its first defeat of the season.

Avon Park scored its two runs in the top of the first frame on four walks, a passed ball and a wild pitch. Then Sebring pushed one run over in the bottom of the first on three walks and a single. In the bottom of the third Sebring scored another run on a walk and two Avon Park errors to tie up the game 2-2.

In the last of the seventh inning Sebring scored the winning run with G. Maxey opened with a single, moved to second on Carter's single and scored on a throwing error by the Avon Park infield.

Miller finished 14 Avon Park batters and gave up only two singles—Steve Walker and Don Sizemore hit them. Robert Sizemore struck out 18 Sebring batters as he absorbed his first loss.

Martha Wright Receives Art Award

Miss Martha Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas, Pinescent, Avon Park, was the recipient of an award given by the art department as the student showing the most improvement in her art work during the 1968-69 session.

The award was presented at the awards ceremony held on commencement day, June 7, at the Highlands School of Avon Park. Miss Wright is a member of the rising junior class.

At the time, almost every farm of any size had its own distillery, and there were as many as 2,000 in Kentucky alone. In nearby Virginia, one gentleman who had his own bourbon distillery was none other than George Washington, the Father of our country. As the new whiskey gained popularity, it achieved national status, and precise standards for its composition were established.

In any great bourbon, time is the partner. Wild Turkey for example. This 101 proof bourbon is carefully matured for eight years in perfect, new, specially charred barrels made of the finest white oak. The barrels alone cost nearly $30 each and can be used only once.

The history of the wild turkey is so thoroughly American that Benjamin Franklin once urged its adoption as a national symbol. And the story of bourbon is as American as apple pie—or Wild Turkey!

Lanier Appointed New City Judge

One of the last bills passed by the Florida Legislature before adjournment, cleared the way for the appointment of a city judge in Avon Park. At the meeting of the city council on Monday, June 23, attorney David Lanier was unanimously appointed to be the city judge. Prior to this action the post of municipal judge had been one of the duties of our elected mayor.

Among other actions in this session of the council were the following:

The deadline has been given to Shelly Harris to sign the long-pending lease for his rights relating to the municipal airport. July 14, the next scheduled regular session of the city council, has been set as the deadline.

The question again arose as to what, if any action, will be taken toward the closing of "Moms Place" on the grounds of being a public nuisance. A petition signed by 15 nearby residents was presented by Leo Smith and Mr. Cobb. Present operator, Al Rhymes, appeared stating he had received a letter from the city in regard to complaints and in the intervening time he had closed the windows and insulated the place.

He has installed air conditioning and plans to erect a fence around the property. Chief Gordon was brought about complaints and said though he had received several calls, things had quieted down.

Summer Recreation To Feature Trail Ride, Dance at High School

The Avon Elementary Summer enrichment program opened last Monday with a large number of children registering in the different activities offered by the school system.

The library program, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Crews, drew the largest number of boys and girls as 163 different ones took part in some phase of the library activities during the first day. Mrs. Crews said the 162 books were checked out on Monday. Also drawing some 160 children was the travel by film hour during which a movie of Alaska was shown.

The 10 A.M. story hour proved very popular also this week and will continue next week but at a different hour. Due to the swimming program, the story hour will be from 9 to 10 each morning for the next two weeks starting next Monday.

Over 120 boys and girls are enrolled and participating in the arithmetic program each morning, with Mrs. Grisham and Murphy in charge. About the same number of children are also enrolled in the reading program each afternoon and they may still register their children for these programs.

About 45 incoming first graders registered the first day for pre-school activities each morning from 9 to 10 o'clock. More are expected to join the original group during the week and parents are urged to enroll their children in this orientation program for boys and girls who will start school for the first time next year. This program will last for four weeks and will offer activities in art, visual perception, music and rhythm, story time, and film-strings each day.

Recreation activities which will get underway at Avon Elementary starting next Monday will be two weeks of baton twirling instruction under the direction of Gwen Sharpe from 9 to 10 each weekday and then two weeks of cheerleading instruction starting July 15 under the direction of Paul Thurnhill. A softball program for boys will start next Monday from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Swimming will be offered each morning from 10 to 12 with transportation to Lake Verona and back to Avon Elementary. Free swimming in the afternoon will also be offered.

A classroom will be open each day with activities in trampolines, ping pong, etc.

These activities take place in the Hopewell auditorium which is open each week-day from 8 to 10 and in the afternoons starting at 1 P.M.

Trail Ride Friday

Action Postponed on Naming Civil Service Board Until Monday Night

Several items arose at the last meeting of the city council in regard to city employees. In one action the new civil service board was under discussion. Daguer stated that the city employees have elected Mack Flowers, Presley Seip and Bill Revels to represent the city employees on the board. A motion by Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Lane, was made to postpone the naming of the civil service board until the special session of the council on June 30.

The question of seniority in regard to persons re-employed by the city has caused many problems. Mr. Howard moved and Mr. Martin seconded the motion to restore seniority to individuals re-employed by the city. Mr. Howard, Mr. Martin and Mr. Duggan voted yes and Mr. Lane and Mr. Scott voted no.

The question causing the greatest tension and one which will be an important issue in the up-coming elections relates to police and firemen. Although the number of police and firemen has increased under the present council, there has recently opened one vacancy in the police department and one vacancy in the fire department.

Mr. Scott, himself a former policeman, reported on police department activities from October 1, 1968 thru May 31, 1969. He also reported that one fireman had quit and one policeman was quitting this week.

In eight months the police made 566 arrests, investigated 1,375 complaints, had 1,341 services rendered, 128 accidents with 57 persons injured and one killed. A total of 57,433 miles were traveled.

All 12 men on the department completed a 200 hour police school on their own time for a total of 2400 hours.

One police officer was shot at in March and the bullet hit the door just behind the driver.

Police Chief Ed Gordon said the department now patrols the golf course and the airport which takes an officer out of the city for approximately 30 to 45 minutes, two or three times in 10 hours, also Chief Gordon said officers spend time in Soltrine in juvenile court, county court, circuit court and other special duties they have to perform.

The motion was made by Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Lane, that the mayor be authorized to fill these vacancies. In considering the shortage of funds and the greatly increased expenditures for the police and fire departments recently, heated discussion ensued. In final vote, Mr. Scott and Mr. Lane voted yes; Mr. Martin and Mr. Duggan voted no; Mr. Howard abstained, therefore defeating the motion.

City To Award Natural Gas Franchise At Special Meeting

The gas situation in Avon Park remains "explosive" for another week, at least. The struggle between Coker Fuel and Florida Gas as to who gets the Avon Park franchise is scheduled to be settled at a special meeting of the city council to be held Monday evening, June 30. At the regular meeting of the council held June 23, both parties were assembled in battle formation armed with facts and figures. Jerry Melendy of Coker Fuel said his company was working on a presentation which would be ready in two weeks. Mr. Selzer of Florida Gas presented a map of the city outlining the location of its main pipeline and that it seemed to have facts and figures in excellent shape. He requested the reading and recording of three letters in regard to the franchise.

New Sewer System Proposed By Avon Park Councilmen

In 1928 Avon Park had approximately 200 customers served by an acceptable sewerage system. Forty years later, in 1968, the city has almost 450 customers served by an adequate sanitary sewerage system. Here in "booming" Florida, this basic community service—a central sewerage system—added only an average of six connections per year over a 40-year span.

Avon Park presently has a potential of 2100 sewer customers, yet serves only 450. The "pay-as-you-grow" plan of gaining six customers a year will bring sewers to the other 1650 customers, about 5700 persons, by the year 2245. Of course, even modest growth could offset the gains of this "booming" pay-as-you-grow plan.

Perhaps what is needed is a "pay-as-you-grow" plan. Avon Park certainly will not be the same in the year 2245. Can Avon Park remain as a city if it gains only six sewer customers a year, taking 275 years to bring sewerage to its presently developed homes and businesses? With a promise of adequate water and sewerage facilities "some time in the next 200 years" how can the city induce new business and industry to move to Avon Park?

When viewed in this manner the history of the city's central sewerage system sounds rather ridiculous, but the problem exists. Growth is impossible without foresight and planning. A serious consideration of the needs of the people, a city becomes strategic and businesslike.

Morris M. Cohn, Sr. D has stated that:

"The history of urbanization is the true sense of history of sanitation. Upon community cleanliness depends man's ability to live in close contact with his fellow man, without endangering their health, comfort and nicely of living with accumulation of the wastes of his life and living process."

Florida is experiencing "another" growth period. A city which does not compete and prosper in this age of technological advancement. Towns such as Avon Park are planning to keep pace.

The City Council again is considering a city-wide water and sewerage improvements program. Due to escalating construction costs and added scope of proposed work, the program is more expensive than the improvements program defeated in 1965. More extensive in scope than the last program, the expanded sewer system would serve almost 90 per cent of the people living with the city limits.

As in the past, the City Council will be guided by the wishes of Avon Park citizens before reaching a final decision. While the decision is primarily whether to provide an adequate water and sewerage system, the City Council is acutely aware that the future progress of the city is the real issue.

The project cost is estimated at $2,200,000 with Federal aid providing an estimated $700,000. Unless the money market situation continues unabated, the city can provide the necessary $1,500,000 by issuing revenue certificates, including one for net revenue derived from water and sewer service charges and another for consulting engineers believe program is feasible and practical. From a business standpoint, but the program will be undertaken only if the citizens of the community realize the necessity of having such expanded and improved facilities. President Nixon on May 29, 1969 in creating a Cabinet level Environmental Quality Council, stated that:

"The deterioration of the environment is in large measure the result of our inability to keep pace with progress. We have become victims of our own technological genius."

Judge Rehner Rules Settling Maxey Estate Worth $39,752

Extra work to settle the estate of murdered millionaire cattle and circusman, Charles Von Maxey was worth $39,752.

Highlands County Judge Marvin Rehner ruled Tuesday that $22,248 less than Citicorp National Bank of Orlando the executor and his attorneys, Ward, Bradford and Oswald of Orlando, might have expected.

Battle Over Counterfeiting Case Continues

Highlands County's first counterfeiting case has resolved into a battle over a fine legal point—can a wife give police permission to search her husband's home?

The battle awarded the bank $13,820 and the law firm $25,332. Independent surveys had set value of the extra-ordinary services of the bank at $20,000, the attorneys, $42,000.

Sale of four groves, $1,800 and $24; sale of the Hardee ranch, $300 and $1,844; settlement of a law suit filed by Jim Havers, $100 and $1,672; negotiations for the sale of property in British Honduras, $200 and $46; sale of triangle utility, $200 and $46; sale of the estate's interest in three vehicle partnerships that netted the estate in excess of $200,000 over and above the original offer for the interests, $3,000 and $7,248; for a compromise on an Internal Revenue Service audit for the years 1965, 1966 and 1967, $20 and $60; settlement of 150 claims against the estate totaling more than $750,000, $700 and $1,428; sale of a water line to the Sebring Utilities Commission, $100 and $60; terminating a grave maintenance contract, $200 and $46; settlement of a claim against the estate by the widow, Irene H. Maxey, $5,000 and $1,642; discovery of additional assets to the estate, $200 and $46; and for action taken as property in Jacksonville, Fla. and New Jersey, $20 and $212.

School Attorney Files Argument Against Appeal

Highlands County School Board, through its attorney, Frank Bryant, has filed with the federal government, the written arguments against granting of an appeal of a civil rights ruling favoring the school board.

The federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare notified the school board late last week that it requested oral arguments was being denied, and written briefs in the case must be submitted by June 20. Reply briefs were to be submitted by Friday of this week.

In the original hearing, the hearing officer dismissed charges that the Highlands County school board is maintaining a discriminatory policy against Negro children at Hopewell and E. O. Douglas schools. The hearing officer maintained the board had shown no bad faith in attempting to achieve full integration.

It is appealing that decision to dismiss.
