FOOTBALL JAMBOREE

The Avon Park Red Devils played Sebring and Arcadia to scoreless ties in the four-team jamboree held in Sebring last Saturday night and gave Avon Park fans some hope for an interesting season as the young, inexperienced boys showed promise of being an aggressive, hard hitting team this year.

In the opening quarter of the jamboree, Arcadia and Wauchula played to a scoreless tie and Avon Park and Sebring also failed to score in the second period. Then the Red Devils and Arcadia battled to a scoreless tie in the third quarter, but Sebring managed to get on the scoreboard in the final quarter to defeat Wauchula 6-0.

The Red Devils controlled the ball the majority of the time in both quarters, but penalties from mistakes kept the Avon Park offense in trouble most of the evening. Coach Joe Franza got most of the boys on his squad into the action during the two quarters to see how each player reacted under fire and seemed pleased with the results.

The Devil starting offensive backfield had Don Sisemore at quarterback, Roy Claitt and Willie Joe Seigler at halfbacks, and Steve Hartt at fullback. All three backs ran the ball well, but Sisemore had trouble finding a receiver as he was rushed hard on several occasions. The sophomore quarterback did hit end Clark Jackson for one gainer late in the second quarter.

Ricky Dick handled the center chores and Danny Albritton and Randy Ward looked in fine form at the tackle slots. The coaches tried several boys at guard—Gregg Albritton, Jarvis Hartt, Don DeLaney, Mike Archer and Larry Tolbert. Four boys also alternated at ends with Joe Franza and Clark Jackson starting and Frank Davis and Howie Godwin seeing plenty of action. End Mike Smith was not dressed out due to an injured hand. Also sidelined with foot trouble was Winston Smith.

Other backs who saw action during the two quarters of play were quarterback Winkie Hall who also played defensive halfback, Walter Nunnallee, Jim Magenheimer, Dennis Hart and Lorenzo Nelson. David Barnes got into the game of the kick-off team.

Tomorrow night (Friday) the Red Devils will hold their annual Soap Scrimmage at Memorial Field. The team will play at least one half of an inter-squad game under the lights. Admission price for the game will be one bar of soap for each fan.

DAVID BRINKERHOFF and John Stannage are looking over the plans for Revells Crate Co.'s new $30,000 dry-kiln and warehouse to be constructed near their crate plant.

Revell's Crate Company Building $30,000 Dry Kiln Plant Here

As some of the original settlers of Avon Park may call it, "The Old Crate Mill" is beginning to take on a new look.

R. D. Revells, owner of the crate mill, purchased a $30,000 building permit on August 28 to begin construction of 9,600 sq. ft. of new building to be used as a dry kiln and warehouse.

Revells has been purchasing the dry material from another area and shipping it to the Avon Park plant to make his products. It is expected that the new operation will help to cut costs. He will buy green lumber from the saw mill and dry it at his plant here.

The crate mill has been in Avon Park as far back as some can remember. In the early 1920's there were two mills that later merged into one operation that made only standard fruit boxes to be used in the harvesting of fruit. In the mid-50's, wire-bound machinery was installed to make the wire-bound produce crates and shrimp boxes along with the fruit box.

Edward Jackson, supervisor of the plant states that during the peak of the season the mill employes more than 90 employees, on two eight hour shifts. It is expected that the new plant will require 24 new employees.

The present facility is only the beginning of an expansion program. Revells is hopeful to triple the present building in the near future.

Building Permits Total $704,367 For Year

For the current fiscal year the city has issued 136 building permits with a construction value of $704,367.

During the month of August there were 13 permits, with value of $74,030.

The monthly report of the building inspector states that for the year thus far the city has received $3,198 in fees. Building fees brought in $2,027, plumbing fees, $1,133, and gas fees, $33. The gas installation inspection ordinance has been in effect for only three months.

Some of the larger permits were issued to Floyd Enterprises, for installation of 30 ton central air-conditioning and general remodeling of the Hilans Theatre, $30,000; Avon Investment Co., four units of apartments at W. Pleasant and Circle Streets, $80,000; K. D. Revells, warehouse and dry kiln, $30,000; Verona Villa apartments on N. Verona at Pleasant, $20,000; McGrath Construction for the new post office on South Verona Street, $115,000.

High School Sites To Be Reviewed

Acquisition of sites for the county's new high schools is scheduled for study by the Highlands County School Board tonight. The board will hold its September meeting at 7:30 P.M. (Thursday) in Superintendent George F. Douglass' office at the court house.

The school officials have been negotiating for several months for purchase of a 40-acre site at the South side of Sebring, but have not been able to work out a satisfactory price, Superintendent Douglass had reported.

Sales from several owners have been completed to bring the new Avon Park high school site almost to the 40-acre size requested by the State Department of Education.

The school board meeting agenda also includes progress report on completion of the first phase of the construction at the new Lake Placid Elementary School.

Federal Fund Cut Will Effect Projects In Highlands County

Federal employees in this area do not know yet how the forthcoming monetary "freeze" will effect Highlands County, but the Presidential announcement sent some shivers through some offices here.

President Richard Nixon ordered a 75 per cent reduction in new construction financed by federal funds and asked the states to consider cuts in capital programs as a way of coping with the nation's inflation problems.

1,530 ARE AIDED

The Division of Family Services provided financial assistance and services to 284,879 aged, blind, disabled persons and to dependent children in August. In Highlands County, 1,530 persons received $49,350 during August.

Watershed Slow-up

How long the federal fund freeze lasts will determine the extent it will effect the county's watershed projects. Sam Polston, soil conservationist, said he is "pretty certain" some of the Highlands County projects will be frozen, and he mentioned the Istokpoga Marsh Project as a likely candidate for the freeze.

The Istokpoga project is almost ready for bidding, Polston had hoped to take bids in October. If deep cuts are made in soil conservation programs even the older plans for the third phase of Josephine-Jackson project may be delayed.

Junior College

Only a very long, very hard freeze would hit South Florida Junior College, President W. A. Stallard said the federal money for the first phase of campus construction is "all committed and mostly spent."

He said the junior college administration had looked forward to settling into the new campus before starting any more new buildings. There are two more phases to the junior college's long range building program, and these cannot be started without federal funds, Dr. Stallard said.

Road Future Uncertain

County Engineer Charles Morgan said he has no idea what the federal freeze may do to the current county-state-federal project in the four-laning of US 27.

Road department officials at district level were not available for comment on possible cuts into the Florida road-building programs.

130 Entries Received For Home Juice Golf Meet; Deadline Sept. 22

With still almost two weeks to go before the Sept 22 deadline for entering, 130 entries have been received. Entries are in from 20 different localities throughout the state. Avon Park heads list with 45 entries. The Championship flight shapes up as a real battle for the crown held by Al Sanders, last year's champion. As it looks now it will take a handicap of 4 or better to make championship flight. Some of the notables entered . . . Ben Hogan Perry winner of USS at Bartow over Labor Day weekend, Jerry Tarnow of Tampa, Ted Huff, Lakeland, Lou Allemann, Avon Park, Randy Fields, Lakeland, Wayne Knowles, Sebring, Mike McDermott, Ormond Beach, Bill Perry, Jr. Winter Haven and of course Champion Al Sanders.

These are just a few that will make up the championship flight.

Pro Am last week was won by Alex Ogilvie, Jim Johnson, Harry Hood and John Gray with plus 4 points. Harry Hood's first eagle fired on No. 14 was the big effort in his team's victory. Chuck Smith had his all time low on the front nine a fine 36.

This week's pro am will be played a Wauchula's Little Cypress with a big turnout expected on Wed., Sept. 10.

Saturday's tourney, nine selected holes one half handicap was won by Jim Martindale with 24, second place Guy Garrett with 25 and tied for third Aaron Cravens and Ed Burnett with 26. The teachers seem to know how.

Local Teachers Have Better Book Selection

Highlands County teachers have a fat new book this year which introduces, for the first time, "consistency" and "continuity" to the language arts curriculum within the county.

Thomas R. Johnson, Jr., coordinator of language arts for Highlands County schools and chairman of the group producing the curriculum guide, modestly says, "The good, mature, experienced teacher was doing this anyway, but the inexperienced, less well prepared teacher now has more concrete suggestions for each age level."

He expects this year will bring in new ideas from the teachers about the language arts curriculum, revisions and modifications which could be placed in a "finished guide" next year.

The present one took a year and a little over $6,000 to produce. The money was provided by a special federal grant.

Superintendent George F. Douglass started the ball rolling early in the 1968-69 school year when he "strongly suggested" that Johnson "would like to coordinate a new curriculum guide for language arts for grades 1 through 12."

Johnson found a federal grant to hire some help, and during this past Summer Mrs. Marion McAdams, Mrs. Cozetta Rittenhouse, Mrs. Mildred C. Brand, William L. Knecht and Mrs. Charlotte Smith worked full-time for a month and Mrs. Mary Weaver, Larry Isbell and Mrs. Marian Covell, part-time.

Their work included "reading, digesting, modifying" curriculum guides from other areas, particularly from the southeastern region and an elaborate one done by the state department of education in Nebraska.

As well as putting down specifically what each grade is supposed to achieve in language teaching, the new Highlands County guide makes available to all the teachers the vast new vocabulary "transformational grammar" is introducing to the schools.

Johnson explains that in grammar and spelling, as well as science and math, the emphasis now is on the student's understanding "why". Teachers have always found this very difficult because the English language is full of inconsistencies.

"Too often the rules of grammar boiled down to the teacher's saying, 'do it this way because I say so,' because that was all the teacher knew.

"An important part of the curriculum guide we have here is a history of the English language. The way some words came into the language help us to understand the rules about their use," Johnson explains.

He said no special parent education meeting about the language arts curriculum have been scheduled, but he is hopeful that some may be booked during the year.

Mental Health

An organization to improve the mental health of this community is swinging into action and has just now acquired adequate quarters from which to operate.

Members have been busy cleaning and painting and gathering together furnishings. And they're now open for business.

There will be professional counseling available.

Mental health counseling is not just for those with a severe problem needing possible commitment. But it is for people with emotional problems they can't solve themselves. Does the lady next door scream at her kids too much? She might need a little counseling. Is somebody of your acquaintance constantly in hot water with everybody about something or other? He or she may need counseling.

In seeking workers and funds to operate, the society points out where else can someone on the ragged edge of emotional collapse find proper help but from a group such as this? Who will really hear a mental patient's story of mistreatment or the lack of treatment? Who will accept the returning patient, give him a chance to work, help him to reclaim his place in society?

We have long needed a good mental health organization here and we know they will do much good if the word only gets around that they're ready to lend a hand.

Liquor Sale To Minors Is Serious Offense

When five youths appeared before Judge Mervin Rehrer in County Court Monday afternoon, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors by allowing them to drink alcoholic beverages, he warned them:

If they continued with their pleas of "not guilty" and the county court jury found them guilty, he would not be lenient with them.

The jury found them guilty. And the judge was as good as his word.

Sentenced were: James Allen Boyd, Lemon Grove, three months in jail with credit for time served in jail and $100 fine or one month more.

Purvis Thomas, Avon Park, one year in jail, six months of this suspended and credits for time in jail; probation under supervision for two years.

Earl Barber, Avon Park, three months in jail, $100 fine or one month more.

Allen Reilly, Sebring, three months in jail, $100 fine or one month more.

Don Arthur Gorman, Avon Park, three months in jail, $100 fine or one month more.

The five were arrested after noisy parties in a trailer and complaints by neighbors of Mrs. Doris Heusel at Dinner Lake. Mrs. Heusel also was arrested and pleaded not guilty. She has not yet come to trial.

The Mid-State Association directs the Christmas Seal drive in Polk, Highlands, Hardee and DeSoto Counties.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Transplants May Create Problems

When Dr. Philip Blaiberg died recently in Cape Town, S. Africa, after living for 594 days with another man's heart, it was explained that his death was caused by the fact that his body finally rejected the alien organ.

This caused some discouragement on the part of many doctors who had been experimenting with the transplanting of parts of the human body from one person to another.

However, there will apparently be no stopping of this activity, as surgeons continue to transplant livers, kidneys, and other organs.

There is even — fantastic as it may seem — discussion as to whether it may, some day, be possible to transplant brains from one person to another.

"A Different Person"

This has caused Dr. Joshua Lederberg, of Stanford University, to ask, "What is the moral, legal, or psychiatric identity of an artificial chimera?" (Chimera is the term used for a living body which has one or more parts taken from another body.)

Dr. Francis D. Moore, of Harvard, a pioneer in human transplants, considers the transplanting of human brains highly improbable. However, he says that, "if it were accomplished, the recipient would be a different person."

Most of us would agree with this. Even if it were possible, would you want the brain of another to be transplanted into your body?

Perhaps somebody would, especially if his own brain were diseased or injured to the extent that death was imminent.

But there would undoubtedly be a complete change in the personality of a man with a brain which had belonged to somebody else — with different heredity, different education, and different experiences.

Startling changes in personality, however, have come about in some instances — without any external physical change whatever.

The Great Physician Who walked with men on this earth many years ago performed radical surgery on the personalities of many who submitted themselves to Him.

Supernatural Change

The spiritual surgery was so effective that the foul-mouthed lustful fisherman Simon became the Apostle Peter.

Saul of Tarsus, who himself said that he was "exceedingly mad" against the Christians and "persecuted them even unto strange cities," was transformed by the Master Surgeon into Paul the Apostle.

How odd it is that we can all believe the miracles of science but many of us do not believe the miracles worked by the God Who created the worlds and established the laws of science!

Have you tested the truth of the Scripture: "If any man be in Christ he is a new creation. Old things are passed away — behold, all things are become new, and all things are of God"?

This is a "heart transplant" operation which really gives the recipient a new start in life.

Sale of $1 Million In Bonds To Be Used For Capital Improvement

Local sale of $1 million racing tax bond issue loomed today as a possible route to insuring funds for capital improvements in the county.

At a meeting sponsored by the Capital Improvement Advisory group Monday night, Ken Grady, president of Tropical Bank and Trust Co., suggested that the issue could be sold within Highlands County—$10,000 to each of 100 investors.

The state Legislature has approved the Highlands County commissioners selling up $1.5 million in race track tax-backed bonds at interest not to exceed 7 per cent. The commissioners' fiscal advisors said last week the bond market is so uncertain at present that they doubt that the issue could be sold at 7 per cent.

Grady pointed out that Highlands County financial institutions are holding over $35 million in time deposits drawing 4 to 5 per cent interest "and the depositor pays taxes on that; this would bring an investor 7 per cent and tax free," the banker pointed out.

Commissioner Cecil P. Skipper, who chaired the Advisory group meeting Monday night, asked Grady to investigate possibilities of proceeding with a local sale as soon as bond validation can be completed in Circuit Court.

Approximately two dozen civic organizations responded to the invitation to send representatives to the Monday night meeting to discuss the advisability of using the bond sale proceeds to build a civic center to include some type of convention facilities.

County Commissioners Skipper and H. Earl Crutchfield told the civic organization representatives that the commission is committed to building an agriculture complex and that some money must be allocated to providing more office space for elected county officials.

Civic representatives present Monday seemed unanimous in approving construction of some type civic center, and most of the discussion centered around the best size and exactly what kind of facilities are needed.

Mrs. William Guenther, president of Sebring Woman's Club, said "Many organizations are having a hard time finding some place to go. The Woman's Club is so convinced of the need for a large auditorium that we'd start building one tomorrow, if we had the money."

The Sebring Junior Woman's Club representative, Mrs. Rickey Jones, pointed out that since the name Sebring is already so well known, selling the town as a convention site should be easy.

Commissioners Crutchfield and Skipper said civic organizations will now be asked to supply the county commission with written reports on the need for a civic center and suggestions for what to include. Churches will be added to the list of county groups being asked whether convention facilities are needed here.

Skipper said the reports should reach the county commission office in the court house by the end of October.

"The county commission is open for suggestions; just tell us what your organization thinks the county really needs," Crutchfield said several times during the Monday night session.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW — Aluminum Prospects Still Bright

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 11, 1969. A decade and a half ago, aluminum was riding the the crest of an unprecedented upsurge in demand. Its light weight, malleability, and effectiveness as a conductor of electricity won for it wide acceptance as a substitute for other materials; but in those days it was a specialty metal. Today — thanks to well-sustained and well-directed research, as well as market development — aluminum has truly become a base metal with an excellent potential for unlimited solid growth.

Status of Supply

Last year, the United States — world's top aluminum producer — had output estimated at 3,250,000 tons. This was nearly 40 per cent of the world total, Communist nations included. The U.S. and Canada together accounted for nearly 50 per cent of world production. Output of the Communist nations was a shade under 2,000,000 tons.

As a result of management's closer attention to research and development and to cost control, the overcapacity problem which had been recurring during the past several years has been resolved. Currently, output — though still expanding — is being held in fairly close balance with demand; But U.S. and Canadian companies are actively increasing and developing their bauxite reserves in various parts of the world.

Expanding Usage

While aluminum has had to share the lucrative aircraft market with metals which afford better resistance to heat, producers have been quick to capitalize their advantages in other areas to attain the volume they need for optimum future use of their vast, and still rising productive capacity. During the past five years, perhaps the greatest strides in expanding usage have been in containers, packaging, and building materials.

In 1967 — latest year for which full figures are available — the leading aluminum-consuming industries were: building and transportation, each 21 per cent; electrical, 14 per cent; and consumer durables, 9 per cent. We fully expect that the amount of this metal going into construction of the average new home will be boosted significantly — perhaps as much as ten-fold — in the next decade.

Prices and Supports

Meanwhile, aluminum shows increasing signs of "coming of age". The growing pains are not yet over, but they have subsided and will cause less trouble as the industry settles down to a less dramatic but more solid period of growth. Prices are stable now; but if near-term changes were to occur they would favor the upside. Like many another industry, aluminum is feeling the pressure of high and rising costs. However, its modern plant and equipment and its well-honed research and development programs are factors on the plus side.

Supply, demand, price fluctuations promise to be moderate in the months immediately ahead. Hence profitability should be relatively good over the near to medium term. While there is some possibility that the industry will move in to a period of oversupply, the balance of factors suggests that this will not occur in 1969 and possibly not even in 1970.

What to Buy

The research staff of Babson's Reports is currently recommending purchase of the common stock of Reynolds Metals Company. Reynolds is the second-largest U.S. aluminum concern. Its longer-term growth prospects continue to be excellent. Fully integrated, it manufactures and markets a wide variety of building products in addition to its output of aluminum ingots, semi-finished and finished items. Management's confidence in the future of the industry and in its own future is amply reflected in its systematic improvement and expansion program designed to broaden the earnings base and control unit production costs.

Ridge Trio Will Sing Saturday

The sounds of Country Western, Blue Grass and Gospel music continue to pour out as the Saturday night Jamboree continues its entertaining performances.

Entertainers performed last Saturday night to one of the "best" audiences that had attended since its beginning last June. Talented artists are continuing to come out of hiding to appear on the Jamboree.

For many it has been an outlet for them to do "things we've wanted to do for a long time." For others, a place they could take their family for good clean entertainment.

Among those appearing this Saturday night will be the Ridge Trio. The trio is made up of Paul Day, Alexis Day, Louise Lee and accompanied by Paul Foraker, pianist.

This promises to be a very entertaining act and fulfills a a request of many patrons of the Jamboree to have more Gospel music. The Ridge Trio is well known in Highlands and neighboring counties for it's uplifting gospel tunes.

Y'all come.

Red Devils "B" Squad Will Play First Home Game September 25

The Avon Park High School "B" squad will swing into its eight game schedule on Thursday, Sept. 25, here at Memorial Field against the Fort Meade jayvee team with the opening kick-off set for 7:30 P.M.

The 24 boys have been working out under head coach Dewayne Lemler and line coach Ed Culbertson for the past few weeks trying to get ready for the September 25 opening date. Coach Lemler says he will have to rely mainly on eighth and ninth graders because many of the sophomores and juniors out for football are on the varsity squad this year. In fact Lemler says as of right now there is a good possibility of having four eighth graders in the starting line-up for the first game.

Coach Culbertson is returning to football coaching after several years layoff and is optimistic about the Red Devil jayvee team this season. He says the boys are eager and are working hard. The two coaches feel that the team can have a very exciting season if the boys continue to work hard and if the student body and local fans get behind the squad with some real backing and encouragement.

Freshman Leon McRae and eighth grader Gregg Hartt will handle the quarterback chores for the Devil "Bees". Working out at halfback slots are eighth graders Danny Lewis and Artie Bass; freshman Bill Phillips and sophomore Bruce Peterson are battling with each other for the starting job.

On the line all the boys are freshmen except ends Nathaniel Packer, an eighth grader, and Ray Culpepper, a sophomore. Other ends are Eugene Flowers and Bud Wester. Tackles are Charles Johns and James Walker; guards are Del Murphy, Jimmy Hopson, David Mosser, Earl Strong, and Ray Revels, and centers are David Meeks and Fred Ferguson.

Red Devil fans are urged to come out and support the future varsity each Thursday night of the home games and also for the out-of-town games.

The schedule for the "B" squad season: Sept. 25, Fort Meade, home; Oct. 2, Arcadia, home; Oct. 9, Sebring, away; Oct. 16, Lake Placid; Oct. 23, Fort Meade, away; Oct. 30, Arcadia, away; Nov. 6, Sebring, home; Nov. 13, Lake Placid.

1970 Chrysler Has A Quieter Ride

QUIETER CHRYSLER — Engineering improvements in the 1970 Chrysler line significantly reduce transmission to the body of road noise and vibration through the use of rubber insulators. Main styling changes center on front and rear and body side ornamentation. All interiors are upgraded in the 1970 Chrysler line, which includes five series: Newport, Newport Custom, 300, New Yorker, and Town & Country station wagons. Rear track has been widened for better stability and appearance. Pictured is the Newport Custom.

The new 1970 Chrysler will go on display at Wells Motor Co., September 23.

SP/4 JAMES L. MILLER

Returns From Tour in Vietnam

Sp./4 James L. Miller has returned from an eleven month tour of duty in Vietnam for a 30 day leave.

Miller is the son of Mrs. Dorothy A. Long. His wife, Fay, son Sammy and daughter Lisa resided in Avon Park during his tour overseas.

Being twice wounded Miller received the purple heart. He was awarded the bronze star for the capture of seven prisoners on Jan. 1, 1969, two air medals for flying of helicopters into enemy territory, and army commendation medals for pulling wounded soldiers into bunkers under mortar ifre.

He and his family will be stationed in Colorado until his final discharge.

New Chrysler Line For 1970

The 1970 line of Chrysler cars feature major improvements to the suspension system which significantly reduce road noise and vibration. The 15-model line goes on sale September 23 at Wells Motor Co.

The completely new styling which appeared on the 1969 Chryslers has been refined with changes centering mainly on the front and rear of the cars and new body-side ornamentation which is distinctive for each of the five series: Newport, Newport Custom, 300, New Yorker, and Town & Country wagons.

"We have accentuated the basic good looks of Chrysler through styling refinements and have further developed mehanical aspects which make the car quieter and more luxurious," Glenn E. White, Chrysler-Plymouth Division General Manager, said.

The reduction in road noise and vibration has been accomplished through the installation of rubber insulators in the suspension system to eliminate continuous metallic paths for the transmission of noise and vibration to the body. The insulators separate the front frame structure from the passenger compartment and mount the rear axle and spring in a rubber "sandwich."

Working in conjunction with these changes are forward body reinforcements to insure a shake-free feel, a rubber coupling added to the steering column to prevent transmission of vibration to the steering wheel, and additional sound insulation to the rear seat and shelf panel area to further reduce noise in the passenger compartment.

Appeal Says Settlement Fee Too High

Fees for extra work to settle the estate of murdered millionaire cattle and citrusman Charles Von Maxcy totaling $59,742 were excessive it is claimed in an appeal filed in county court.

Appealing from the decision of County Judge Mervin Rehrer, who awarded the fees, is Elizabeth Maxcy, acting for her niece Marivon, daughter of the slain man. Miss Maxcy was appointed guardian for her niece in legal and fiscal matters.

The appeal was filed by the firm of Carlton, Fields, Ward, Emanuel, Smith and Cutler. It asks that the decision to award the fees be set aside.

The judge awarded Citizens National Bank of Orlando $13,829 and its attorneys, Ward, Bradford and Oswald of Orlando $25,932 and Attorney H. James Brett $20,000.

In making the awards to the bank and their attorneys, the judge gave them $22,248 less than they might have expected. Independent surveys had set the value of the extra-ordinary services of the bank at $20,000, of the attorneys, $42,000.

In awarding Brett $20,000 (he represented Irene Maxcy Wells, widow of Von Maxcy) the judge noted that about three-fourths of Attorney Brett's efforts were "as ordinary services and one-fourth as extraordinary services."

Attorney Brett was one of three attorneys hired by Mrs. Maxcy at various times in the case. Others were Harry Lee of Sebring, and Fred Saussy of Tampa. The latter still represents her.

GREAT GRANDPA

You were a man of good judgment stern, serious, wise
Meting out justice in a twinkling of an eye
Laughing and joking with children and guest
But to Grandma your great love expressed
A heart that would always be true
Wisdom in the love you both knew
"To love one another," you often told
Your words seem to have the echo of a prophet of old.

Goodby Grandpa

Dr. Jazab Family Attends Bahai School

Dr. and Mrs. Amin Jazab and two daughters, attended Baha'i Summer School in Black Mountain, N. C. There were over 300 Baha'i adults, youth and children from different states, Nationalities and color. Their gatherings was characterizing the song, "Flowers of the Garden."

Linda Marschall, a TV star was one of the youths, attending the school. Mr. A. Furutan, a native from Iran was one of the speakers. He has served his fellow countrymen for 25 years, by writing books, giving speeches, on Iran National radio. He resides in the Holy land (Israel).

He gave authentic explanations about the beautiful Shrine of Bab on Mount Carmel, Haifa, Israel, the significances of its structure, it's sign and symbols and their meaning according to the Holy Scriptures of Chritianity and Islam.

His final speach was on, "In this New Cycle, education and training are recorded in the Book of God as obligatory and not Voluntary." That is, it is enjoined upon the father and mother, as a duty, to strive with all effort to train the daughter and son, to nurse them from the breast of knowledge and rear them in the bosom of sciences and arts. Should they neglect this matter, they should be held responsibe, and this is a sin unpardonable, for they have made that poor babe a wanderer in the Sahara of ignorance, unfortunate and tormented, to remain during a lifetime of captive of ignorance and pride, negligent and discernment.

Therefore, the beloved of God and the maidservant of the merciful must train their children virtue and perfection. If it be considered through the eye of reality, the training and culture of daughters is more necessary than that of sons, for these girls will come to the station of motherhood and will mold the lives of the children. The first trainer of the child is the mother, and will grow according to the way it is trained.

The Jazabs will be very happy to share more about the wonderful thoughts and ideas they gained from the South East Baha'i Summer School, with their friends in Avon Park and APCI who could visit them in their humble home at APCI.

The newest Oldsmobile is the elegant 1970 Cutlass Supreme Holiday Coupe, a distinctive car designed to answer growing customer demand for sporty luxury in a personalized kind of automobile. It is identified by its own notchback roof line, its own body shape, its own external ornamentation, and its own ultra-luxurious interior.

New 1970 Oldsmobiles Will Go On Display At I. H. Ford Motor Company September 18th

A new and luxurious personalized car heads Oldsmobile's line of impressively-styled 1970 models, all of which feature history-making engineering advancements aimed at added durability and a further reduction in the need for service.

The 1970 Oldsmobiles will be on display at I. H. Ford Motor Co. Thursday, Sept. 18, it was announced today by I. H. Ford, owner.

"The newest Oldsmobile is the elegant Cutless Supreme Hardtop Coupe," he reported. "It is a distinctive car designed to answer growing customer demand for sporty luxury in a personalized kind of automobile. It is identified by its own roof line, its own body shape, its own external ornamentation, and its own ultra-luxurious interior."

The new coupe and a companion convertible represent an important added element in Oldsmobile's 1970 intermediate model lineup, complementing the 4-4-2 and Cutlass 'S' series whose fastback coupes have been Oldsmobile's most popular. These cars have been restyled to emphasize their youthful image to an even higher degree.

The successful look of elegance in the 88's and 98's has been further enhanced in 1970 to make them even more appealing. The Toronado has undergone the most extensive change in appearance since its introduction in 1965.

It is a sleeker looking automobile, with a distinctive new shape to the wheel openings, a new front end, including a new grille and exposed headlamps, and an interior to match the more elegant concept of decor which is added in 1970 to the Toronado's many other front drive virtues.

In addition to the division's restyling program for the new model year, Oldsmobile's long-held reputation for engineering leadership will be re-emphasized with the introduction of several major and far-reaching engine advancements designed to curtail the need for service.

Exclusive to Oldsmobile in 1970 is a positive valve rotating system on all Oldsmobile V-8 engines, which extends valve life beyond anything available on today's passenger car engines.

In a major revision of engine availabilities for 1970, Oldsmobile has introduced the 455-cu.-in. V-8 as the 4-4-2's standard power plant. It replaces the 400-cu.-in. engine which is no longer required. The 455 will also be used as part of the performance option for the new Cutless Supreme coupe and convertible. With the engine, the Cutless SX package will include a 2.56 axle, wide-rim wheels, and dual exhausts.

The Cutlass SX is only one of several options developed by Oldsmobile engineers for the buyer who wants the ultimate in performance. These options include Oldsmobile's new famous 'W' machines, headed by the all-new W-30, 455 cubic inch force-air package, optional on the 4-4-2 coupes. Available again on the Cutlass 'S' and F-85 coupes will be the highly successfully W-31 option with the 350 cubic inch force-air engine.

The automatic transmissions available on 1970 Oldsmobiles are 3-speed. The Turbo Hydra-Matic 350 replaces the 2-speed Jetaway as the automatic transmission option on F-85 models equipped with the 350 cubic inch V-8 engine.

The Turbo Hydra-Matic 400 continues for use with Oldsmobile's 455 cubic inch engine.

As a further theft deterrent, Oldsmobile has developed a hood catch lock that prevents opening of the hood except through the use of an "inside-the-car" release control.

The electric rear window defogger, introduced recently on the Toronado, becomes a new option on the 1970 88's and 98's.

Fiberglas-belted tires, for improved traction, reduced tire wear, better handling characteristics and greater resistance to road hazards, are standard on all cars.

Oldsmobile's variable ratio power steering is now available in 1970 across-the-line, including all F-85's.

The division's 1970 product lineup consists of 10 series and 29 models.

Local Real Estate Man Retires

Ted J. Ward recently closed his Real Estate office at 30 E. Main St. and rented the location to Dr. Stephen Phillips, Optometrist. Mrs. Hazel Wilson has accepted a position at the Hillcrest Nursing Home.

Mr. Ward has just concluded thirty-three years in Avon Park business. He entered the Real Estate business with the late R. E. Harris in 1953, following his sale of Ward's 5-10 & 25c Stores which he started in 1936. Then in 1957 he sold Ward's Department Store, which he had started in 1948, and devoted full time to the real estate business.

In 1960 Ward was designated Realtor of the Year by the Avon Park Board of Realtors. In 1963, he was elected Vice President of the Florida Association of Realtors, and travelled to many cities to address real estate clinics, conferences and state conventions on a variety of subjects.

In January, he will resume teaching with a new educational course to be required of all wishing to take the examination for Real Estate Salesman, as well as teaching the former, as needed.

Besides a light teaching schedule, Mr. Ward expects to do some work as a business consultant and in estate planning. By experience and extensive study, he has a vast knowledge that already has proved helpful and profitable to several people. Always extremely active in civic activities, he will continue with quite a varied group of organizations.

Episcopal Church Fall Schedule

Sunday services at the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Avon Park, will resume on full schedule for the Fall, Winter, and Spring, as follows: 7:30 A.M., Eucharist; 9:30 A.M., Family Eucharist and Church School; 11 A.M., Morning Prayer and Sermon. Eucharist, with special healing prayers with the Laying on of Hands, Wednesdays at 9 A.M.

On September 10 the Episcopal Churchwomen will make a corporate Communion followed by the monthly meeting with discussion program.

The Wardens and Vestry will meet this Wednesday in the Church office at 8 P.M. News from the Episcopal General Convention at South Bend, Ind., tells us that approval has been granted for the Diocese of South Florida to divide into three Dioceses. Therefore, plans will now go forward with the lower East coast area meeting in constitutional convention next month to establish that Diocese and elect a Bishop. A week later, the West coast area will do the same.

In December, the central area including Highlands County and the area North, will meet in convention to make plans and elect a Bishop to succeed the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit who will retire next year. Also, next year, the Parish of the Redeemer in Avon Park will celebrate its 75th anniversary of founding. Bishop Louttit will visit us for the festivities in April.

Who Can Use God's Power?

By DAVE LLEWELLYN

True faith in God has always been menaced by a very human impulse to control God's power rather than to yield to it and allow God to control us.

When a man realizes he is helpless and calls on the God of power to rescue him, he almost invariably is awed by the magnificence of the power that comes to his aid.

Unless he is unusual, he will soon want to use this power for his own ends. He will likely (though perhaps unconsciously) seek to know God as many people seek to meet politicians — to acquire control of a source of power.

But do not be misled. God intends for believers to be powerful. God even intends believers to control His power! As Jesus said, "If two of you shall agree on earth about any request you have to make, the request will be granted by My heavenly Father."

Our desire for God's power, however, must be perfected.

Obedience Required

We have to overcome a willful human tendency to call upon God and demand His response without ourselves listening to God and obeying His commands. As theologian Martin Buber states it, we wish "to demand without having to hearken."

In the realm of the spirit, disobedience is weakness, for faithlessness undermines God's power in a man. King Saul ended his life in personal defeat because he used the position of power God had given him for his own ends.

To replace Saul, Jehovah looked for a special man, "a man after His own heart," and He found one in David. Jehovah gave to David the spirit and the power that Saul forfeited and instructed him, "Thou shalt be shepherd of my people Israel, and thou shalt be prince over Israel." (II Samuel 5:2)

As shepherd of Israel, David had to get to know the people personally and win their allegiance, just as a shepherd must be familiar to his sheep before they will follow his voice. As prince, David had the right of his position to command the people with life-and-death authority.

As leader of God's people, David held both of these roles because God Himself operates in both of these roles in our lives. Are you aware of the important practical meanings to you of the two roles of Jesus as loving shepherd and powerful prince?

David was able to succeed where Saul had failed in reigning over Israel — because he knew the two qualifications for living in God's power.

Within God's Plan

He knew first that God's power can operate only within God's will and plan. David was king, but Israel was still God's nation, not his, just as our lives are God's and not ours or the world's.

Secondly, David had learned through observing Saul and his own failures that God's power cannot be appropriated by a disobedient believer. This is so not primarily for punishment but because a disobedient believer is separated from God and therefore cannot be in the will of God, and all power used outside of God's will produces evil.

God empowers every believer who releases himself into the personal care of the Lord.

Are you willing? If not, your life will be worthless.

It's like choosing between gold and rubbish. Do you prefer to keep your rubbish?

We didn't make it any easier to look at. Just easier to drive.

You'd never know it to look at it, but that's a Volkswagen without a clutch pedal.

What it does have is something called an automatic stick shift. "Automatic" because you can drive it up to 55 mph without shifting at all. "Stick shift" because you shift it when you go over 55. Once.

And that's just to help you save gas. (In keeping with a grand old Volkswagen tradition.)

As a matter of fact, this Volkswagen still gives you 25 miles to the gallon. It still takes only an occasional can of oil. And it still won't go near water or antifreeze.

If it were anything but a Volkswagen, you'd probably pay dearly for all this luxury.

Instead, a Volkswagen with an automatic stick shift costs a mere $2,019

All of which reinforces what we've been saying for 20 years.

Looks aren't everything.

Five Youths Killed In Auto Accident Last Sunday, Sept. 8

Tragedy struck seven Sebring families early Sunday when five young men were killed and two others injured in a violent two-car crash near Highlands General Hospital.

Dead were Alton Minshew, 17, 512 Lemon Street, driver of the death car, a 1959 Studebaker; James Murdock, 16, of 11 Ferndale Street, Sebring, son of J. C. Murdock, chief investigator for the Highlands County sheriff's office and Mrs. Murdock; Patrick Fowler, 15, of 111 Magnolia Street, Sebring; Calvin Robinson, 19, of Route 2, DeSoto City, all students at Sebring High School, and Roy Kenneth Taylor, 24, of North Lakeview Drive, Sebring.

Injured were Jimmie Dumont, driving a 1968 Pontiac owned by his father, George Dumont, and Lenny Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. "Gus" Smith of 999 N. Lakeview Dr.

It was double tragedy for the Fowler family. Fowler and Taylor were brothers-in-law.

Both Dumont and Smith are members of the Sebring High School football team, varsity squad, and played in the preview game at Firemen's Field earlier in the evening. Dumont is president of the SHS Student Council. The five boys in the death car had attended the football game. Smith and Dumont had gone on to the dance at Teen Town and were returning to Sebring to pick up Smith's car at the pier after taking their dates home to Lake Placid.;

All the dead youths were in the Minshew car. Dead on arrival at Highlands General Hospital were Fowler, Taylor and Robinson. It was thought signs of life were present in young Murdock, but a check failed to disclose a heart beat. Young Minshew was examined and placed back in the ambulance to be taken to a hospital in Orlando, but he died enroute at Lake Wales.

James Dumont was semi-conscious upon arrival, but had regained full consciousness by Monday. Both he and Lenny Smith, the only one to walk away from the crash, were hospitalized at Highlands General with severe lacerations. Smith was released to go home Monday, although forced to remain in bed.

Florida Highway Patrol troopers Wilbur Woods, and Ralph Hough who investigated the accident, said the Minshew car was headed East on Jonesville Road, just South of the Fred Wild Elementary School on Highlands Avenue about 1:30 A.M. Sunday, and entered Highlands Avenue without stopping for the stop sign there.

Their car was struck broadside on the right side by the Dumont car, headed north on Highlands Avenue. The crash threw both cars off the roadway, tossing both Dumont and Smith out of their car and Minshew out of his. The death car landed on its top, but the other car, about 15 feet away, was upright.

The accident happened about 200 feet from the home of R. S. Hartless at a point below where Highlands crests a small hill. The Minshew car was demolished and the Pontiac sustained about $2,000 damage to the front end. Trooper Woods estimated.

Indications at the scene, Trooper Hough said, indicated that the death car was traveling about 25-30 miles an hour, the other car 45-50 miles per hour.

There also were indications at the scene, the troopers said, that the Studebaker was pushed about 100 feet north of the impact point by the force of the collision.

COLLEGE OPPORTUNITY

The test date for the 24th annual national competitive NROTC examinations has been set as Dec. 13, 1969. PRUNE NOW

GAINESVILLE—So you want a lot of bright red poinsettias blooming at Christmas time? Better get busy right away and make a final tip-pruning on them no later than September. Pruning after September 10 can interfere with flowering, according to horticulturist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service. Do not remove more than six leaves back from the end of the branch.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

Our speaker did not show up last Wednesday and our Bill Stallard filled in so well that some members exclaimed they were glad the planned speaker did not appear. Bill is always an interesting, magnetic speaker, but he is at his best when talking about his South Florida Junior College. We are proud of that college too, and pleased to hear about its progress. Bill apologized for being unprepared and asked that we go along with his speaking off-the-cuff.

He first stated that the South Florida Junior College enrollment has increased this term to 700 from last session 635. 40 to 50 per cent are graduates of high school. Avon Park, Sebring, and Lake Placid have gained in their applications, whereas Hardee County has fallen off slightly.;

Bill Stallard is looking forward to moving into his new buildings which are 85 per cent complete, and promised for Nov. 15th by the contractor. He is hoping to dedicate December 1st and to have Open House then. Those in charge are planning a new chemistry laboratory, to add Spanish language teaching and have added new teachers. He is proud to of his graduates' record scholastically. So far there have been no drop-outs among those attending the college. An agricultural department is planned also.

Bill's financial help from the state is based on enrollment. This is a partial handicap because of limited numbers of potential students. And some equipment cannot be used economically to its full advantage. However, the financial outlook is not gloomy. By careful management Bill hopes to be out of debt by January 1st. He looks forward to annual improvements in property and equipment.

To our way of thinking, we are extremely fortunate in having Bill Stallard to head up our college. His talk to us on short notice gave us supreme confidence in his ability to give us a college which we will always be proud of.

Walker Memorial Seventh-day Adventist Church gave over $300 cash to help the victims of Hurricane Camille. They also prepared clothing, canned food and bedding bundles according to the Red Cross standards — two pillows and two pillowcases. These were shipped to the regional warehouse in Orlando.

From the Orlando warehouse, vans are loaded and sent to disaster areas as requests come from SAWS (Seventh-day Adventist Welfare Services) headquarters in Washington, D.C. This work is partially financed by the annual Ingathering campaign.

A SAWS van brought the first help to survivors of hard-hit Bay St. Louis. In one day the crews, with helpers, served emergency meals to 4,000 persons there. Within three days after Camille, SAWS had 12 vans in the area serving the victims.

SAWS warehouses emergency supplies in state headquarters ready for immediate shipment when a disaster strikes. Already all churches are gathering and preparing supplies and sending to state warehouses to refill supplies depleted by Camille.

Cabinet Moves To Solve APCI Water Pollution

The Florida cabinet moved Tuesday to solve the water pollution of Arbuckle Creek at the Avon Park Correctional Institution by approving a request to the federal government for 143 acres adjacent to the prison.

This will save up to $120,000 which had been budgeted for the land. The conveyance of the land should be accomplished in about two months.

Sheriff Keene In Satisfactory Condition

Medical personnel report "satisfactory progress" in the condition of Sheriff Joe Keene, hospitalized September 5 after suffering a mild heart attack.

Sheriff Keene has been removed from the intensive care unit but will remain in Highlands General Hospital for an indefinite time. He is not permitted to see visitors, but now that he is out of inensive care he may have flowers and cards, hospital officials said.

Sheriff Keene was en route to Tampa when he became ill last Friday. He returned to Sebring to consult his physician and mid-Friday morning was admitted to the hospital.

Lions Hold First Advisory Meeting

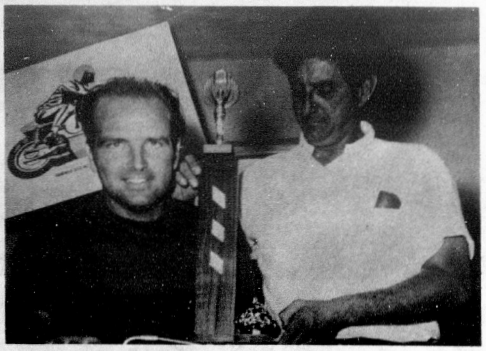
The Lions Club held their first Advisory Committee meeting of the year Tuesday night at Griffins Restaurant.

Larry Albritton, zone 2 chairman of Avon Park representing the Lions Club of Avon Park, hosted neighboring Lions members from Arcadia, Sebring, Lake Placid and Wauchula.

The purpose of the meeting was to aid the leaders of each Club to exchange ideas on club administration and discuss problems that had been experienced in each club from time to time.

Discussions on the subject — Duties of Club Presidents and Secretaries, Objectives and setting of goals were voiced.

Deputy District Governor, Frank E. White, from Bartow attended.



A WINNER of the Tomoka Enduro race held September 7 at Daytona on a 50-mile course consisting of hills and treacherous terrain was Shelley Marrs of Avon Park on his 175 CC Yamaha single Enduro. He captured second place in his class and second place overall from a field of 250 entries. Ned Halvorsen tied for third overall on his Yamaha 250 Enduro and trailing seconds later were Bob Emerson and Jackie Turner on their Yamaha 250 Enduros. Six Injured In Accident

Six people were injured, three of them requiring hospitalization, in an accident on Route 98 just West of Lorida at 1:45 P.M. Sunday. William A. Cook, of Avon Park, who lost control of his car on the wet pavement, was charged with failure to use due care.

According to Florida Highway Patrolman Ralph Hough, the Cook car struck one driven by Mrs. John Cope, of Lakeland, which was approaching from the opposite direction.

Mr. and Mrs. Cope suffered contusions and were admitted to Highlands General Hospital for observation. Injured in the Cook car were Wendy Holmberg, of Avon Park, with possible neck injuries who was hospitalized at Highlands General; Julia Jordan, 18, Joan Holmberg, 51, and Linda Holmberg, 20, Avon Park, all treated and released.

Damage to the Cook car was estimated at $800; to the Cope car, $300.

Fans Urged To To Buy Season Tickets Now

Red Devil football fans are urged to get their season tickets for the five varsity home games before the opening game here at Memorial Field against Lake Wales, September 19.

The Avon Park schedule listed in the Tampa Tribune football issue that Avon Park plays in Lake Wales on September 19, but that was an error. The Red Devils open at home against the Highlanders of Lake Wales.

Season tickets are on sale for $6.50 for the five home games. Regular admission to each game will be $1.50 so a fan can save the price of a game by purchasing a season ticket.

These tickets may be bought at Leon's Sporting Goods, Albritton's Barber Shop, Stimson's Texaco Station, high school office, high school gym, and individual members of the Athletic Association also have them for sale.

Hospital Board Acts To Resolve Differences

An attempt to "resolve differences quietly" has brought Highlands General Hospital staff virtually to full strength and landed the hospital board in hot water.

Culminating a series of informal conferences, Dr. Robert T. Rengarts has been reinstated to the hospital's courtesy staff and Dr. V. G. Watters and Dr. Julio Sanguily, Jr., have returned to active staff.

Such a settlement had been sought for many weeks, but the board is now beseiged by questions on the method of settlement—the use of informal conferences rather than formal board meetings.

Differences between the hospital medical staff and the board came to a head in late June when the board withdrew Dr. Rengarts' staff privileges. In protest to this action, Doctors Watters and Sanguily requested courtesy staff status. This relieved them of emergency room duty and limited their use of the hospital to 24 patients per year.

In a letter dated September 11, T. S. Yeager, hospital administrator, wrote to Dr. Rengarts:" After conferring with the Board of Commissioners of Highlands General Hospital, I have been advised to notify you that you have been reinstated to the courtesy staff, effective this date.

"Should you desire to return to the active staff, you must comply with existing by-laws of the medical staff and rules and regulations of Highlands General Hospital."

The newly appointed commissioner from district 5, Van D. Howell, did not participate in the conference of September 11, and in a statement to the press said, "I want to make sure my silence at this time does not imply an endorsement of the action taken by the board as stated in Mr. Yeager's letter to Dr. Rengarts, nor as a determination of the legality or illegality of that action."

Board members Miss Gertrude Bates and Marshall S. P. Pollard, after stating there had been no meeting of the board refused to make further comment. Mrs. Edna Pearce Lockett, commissioner from district 3, is in Europe at this time, and Chairman Frederic W. Jahna said he has "no comment at this time."

Dr. Rengarts has been unavailable, but Doctors Watters and Sanguily told the News, "The problem has been resolved to mutual satisfaction and we are back on the staff as of Monday, Sept. 15."

On July 30, Chairman Jahna wrote to Doctors Watters and Sanguily, "We, the Board of Hospital Commissioners and Administrator, continue to seek solutions to existing problems which prevent you from returning to the active staff and practicing in Highlands General Hospital . . . we ask you to please list the solutions . . ." which would enable them to return.

"The reinstatement of R. T. Rengarts as a member of the medical staff," was the number one item in a four-page letter from the two doctors presented to the hospital board at a formal meeting on August 28.

Miss Bates and Pollard had sought to comply with this request but bowed to Howell's wish to have more time to study the matter. The board did approve a motion "that if the Board can comfortably do so . . . have a special meeting within two weeks to decide the matter."

At an August 30 meeting Howell again requested more time for study and the board voted to revoke its motion to decide on the issues in the Watters-Sanguily letter within two weeks and "plan to take this up at the next regular meeting of the board."

The minutes of that meeting note, "Because of committments of the board, the regular meeting for September was moved to the fourth Thursday, Sept. 25, 7:30 P.M. In line with established policy, a memo to this effect will be sent to the medical staff."

The Watters-Sanguily letter raised several issues of hospital policy, in addition to the request for reinstatement of Dr. Rengarts, but Tuesday the authors said the letter now has been withdrawn.

One hospital board member who refused to be quoted by name observed, "The community wants the hospital back in full operation and that is just what we are trying to achieve as quietly as possible."

Red Devils Will Face Lake Wales Here Friday Night

The Avon Park Red Devils will be decked out in bright gold helmets, red jerseys and gold pants tomorrow night (Friday) when they open the 1969 football season here at Memorial Field against the Lake Wales Highlanders at 8 o'clock. The new look, according to Coach Joe Franza, was adopted to give the team a fresh, different appearance and the bright helmets will undoubtedly be easy to spot for passes and for fans enjoyment of the game.

Pre-season scouting reports on the Highlanders indicate that the Polk County boys are big and have plenty of experience. There are 11 returning lettermen including 230 pound Bert Jones and 220 pound Richard Byrd, both junior tackles. Lake Wales coach Mike Pope will also count on the running of senior back Richard Ramsey and Darrel Washington, a 6-1, 185-pound senior. The Highlanders will probably also go with a sophomore quarterback, 140-pound Bruce Floyd. Lake Wales finished last season with a record of four wins, five losses and one tie. They defeated Avon Park 25-13 on a rain-soaked field last season.

The Red Devils are small and inexperienced this year. Only five returning players lettered on last year's squad which set a 3-7 record. But the young Devils seem to have the spark and desire that could turn the team into a real tough squad with a little seasoning. The Devil offense will have to overcome a case of "fumblitis" before it can move the ball effectively against the type of competition the Devils will meet this season.

The Red Devil line has only junior center Ricky Dick and sophomore tackle Randy Ward as returning lettermen but Danny Albritton at tackle and Greg Albritton at guard have shown they have the ability to strengthen the line this year. Battling for the other guard position are Mike Archer and Jarvis Hartt, both just freshmen.

Both end positions are up for grabs this year and at left offensive end Clark Jackson and Frank Davis are trying to get the job while at right offensive end juniors Mike Smith and Joe Franza are battling it out for the starting nod Friday night.

In the offensive backfield sophomore letterman Don Sisemore will be in charge from the quarterback slot. The 140-pound lefty got in some valuable playing time last season and should be able to move the team with the aid of senior halfbacks Willie Joe Seigler and Roy Claitt, and junior fullback Steve Hartt.

Seigler, who impressed Avon Park fans late in his sophomore season, was hampered all last season with a bad knee but seems at full strength this year and has been running the ball well. He weighs in at 166 pounds. Claitt, at 145 pounds, is also running well in pre-season scrimmages. He played in only three games for the Devils last year but seems ready to go this year.

Steve Hartt also missed last season's experience due to an injury which kept him out of OFFICERS OF The Vo-Tech Ag Club of South Florida Junior College pause to start planning their year's program in the college library. Seated left to right are Ray Hull, LaBelle, secretary-treasurer and Robert Burnett, Wauchula, president. Standing is Lawrence (Larry) Davis also from Wauchula. All three young men were active FFA members in high school and plan to enter some phase of livestock work upon completion of their Junior college curriculum.

Entry List Closes With 160 Registered In Golf Tourney

With the deadline still almost a week away entries for the Home Juice Invitational have been closed at 160 golfers. The magic number was reached Sept. 11. Fifteen players are on the standby list over and above the first 160 players.

Last week's Pro Am held at Little Cypress Golf Club in Wauchula had eleven teams competing. First place was won by the team headed by host professional Francis Shuster with plus 6 points. Second place won by Alex Ogilvie's team with plus 4 points.

Saturday's blind partners split into two divisions. First division winners were Wayne Knowles and Julian Milton with a net best ball of 62. Second division won by Al Yarbrough and Gus Sullivan with a best ball of 63.

Don't forget the Pro Am and Smoker scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 24 with Jim Johnson, Guy Garrett, Ab Webster and Bill Reck in charge of festivities.

The Ladies Golf Association held their semi-annual meeting at the club house Thursday A.M. Sept. 11. Coffee and refreshments were served.

Plans were completed for the season's future activities. Included in these plans was the beginning of card playing at the clubhouse Thursdays at 1 P.M. Any woman member, golfer or not is invited to come play bridge, pinochle or just visit with the girls. All are welcome, Claire Irwin is chairman and any interested parties may call her for further information.

There will be weekly golf tournaments scheduled and Terry Akin, President, urges all members to come out and participate.

Last Week To Purchase Season Tickets

This week will be the last for Red Devil football fans to purchase season tickets for the 1969 home games. The tickets for the five home games may be bought at the high school office, the high school gym, Leon's Sporting Goods, Albritton's Barber Shop, and Stimson's Texaco Station.

The tickets are sold for $6.50 for the five games at a savings of the price of one game—$1.50.

Avon Park athletic director Joe Franza also announced that the season tickets will be on sale at the gates for the first game.

All reserved seat tickets are sold and fans will not be admitted to the reserved seat section without presentation of a ticket.

New Owners Take Over Avon Park Flying Service This Week

Mike Hines, owner of the Avon Park Flying Service, Inc announced this week that Don Gossick will now be president and general manager of the company.

Gossick, who has 18 years flying experience came to Avon Park from Peoria, Ill, where he was chief pilot for the last five years for Byerly Aviation. Before entering the flying field Gossick was in the retail business.

He has a commercial pilot's license and has an instrument rating in single and multi-engine aircraft. Gossick is also a certified flight instructor.

Gossick who is living on Lake Lotela says his living in Avon Park will greatly improve the service for Avon Park. The company will offer flight instructions, aircraft rental, minor maintenance and fuel storage.

Mike Hines from Lakeland will give Gossick full support with any bigger plans if needed and any additional personnel.

Avon Park Flying Service will be the local dealer for Cessna Aircraft.

Gossick and wife Shirley have three children; Mark is attending Mark Persons College in Fairfield, Iowa; Laura attending Polk Junior College and Charles is in Junior high school in Avon Park.

New Course Junior College

A new course in Nurse's Aide training is being started by South Florida Junior College. Anyone interested in taking this course should be at South Florida Junior College at 7 P.M., on Thursday, Sept. 18, at which time preliminary steps will be taken for enrollment.

THIS IS THE political graveyard where politicians are laid to rest until next year's election.

No Boot Hill Just A Political Graveyard Which Appears Each Year After Avon Park Elections

No, this is not "Boot Hill". It is those who fell by the wayside in a desperate effort to pursue political life.

Early Wednesday morning, while the dew was on the graves, mourners marched by to pay their respect (read the epitaph) of some old warriors of City Hall and some that failed to pass the final examination.

Viewing the graves we find first a Charlie Howze, a man who was going to listen to both sides of the issue, but got wound up like tissue.

Next there is a Jay Wise, who can go back to his plumbing and visiting the people and next year his votes will be well earned.

An unknown bettor, Jesse Bryant, could find no gettor.

Local Sale Of Bond Issue Heard Tuesday

A suggestion that bond issues backed by race track taxes might be marketed locally has met with a great response, Highlands County commissioners heard Tuesday.

At their regular meeting Tuesday morning, the commissioners heard Chairman Jean Whitaker report that Ken Grady, president of Tropical Bank & Trust Company, had received inquiries about the possible local sale and requests to buy more than $80,000 of the bonds.

The county commissioners have, by special legislation, permission to sell up to $1.5 million of bonds at not more than seven percent interest. The board's fiscal agent had advised the board to delay sale because the bond market is currently demanding higher interest rates and the issue probably could not be sold.

Grady, who attended a planning session called by the commissioners last week, suggested that small investors probably would buy the issue.

The commissioners are seeking suggestions from citizens about the best use of the funds which could be obtained from the race track bond sale. The board has announced that it considers expansion of county office space a must. The board also is committed to construction of some type agriculture center.

At the meeting last week civic leaders and service club officers were invited to air views on proposals to build a civic center.

Grady said the seven percent yield on the race track bonds would be attractive to the small investor who would enjoy a federal tax break at the same time have a sense of participating in civic improvement.

Commissioner Cecil P. Skipper, chaired the planned session last week, said civic groups are being asked to report proposals on a civic center-auditorium, these proposals to be turned in by October 30.

Skipper's report to the county commission on Tuesday elicited further interest in the bond sale, with some members of the audience asking to be listed among the prospective customers.
