75 Percent Of County Cattle Has Been Tested

About 75 per cent of the cattle in Highlands County have been tested for brucellosis, as testing was stepped up after strict controls jolted those who had not tested.

County Agent Bert Harris, Jr., "doesn't doubt" but what some cattlemen who took their cattle to market in the expectation of selling them as stocker calves had to sell them for slaughter instead and take a financial loss.

"This has increased the interest in testing," Harris remarked.

Harris warned that cattlemen who have not tested in their area will find their cattle going to market under certain restrictions which are "to slaughter or quarantine feed lots."

People who have tested in this area and have "come clean" can get a certificate from the office of Dr. J. B. Healy.

"This will permit them to market their cattle without these restrictions," he said.

A majority of the counties in Florida have completed testing but "we were just a little slow," Harris said.

Hardee County is just starting to test. DeSoto County has "one or two herds" yet to test, testing officials said here, and Polk County is "well underway" in testing.

One of the questions which has come up is the status of cattle tested over a year ago. Have they lost their certification and fallen into an unknown status and if so what does the owner need to do.

Harris said: "I do not know of any that have lost their status on account of this. To hold your status your cattle going to slaughter are being blood tested at the slaughter plants and this gives you a percentage of your herd. As long as these tests are clean this keeps your certificate valid."

County agents and markets can give cattlemen the text of the regulations on testing which were issued.

Southland Trailer Court News

By Beal Paxton

The Avon Park Thanksgiving is a national holiday which originated in New England. After the first harvest of the New England colonists in 1621 Governor Bradford provided for a day of thanksgiving and prayer. Gradually the custom prevailed of appointing Thanksgiving annually after the harvest during the Revolution a day of national Thanksgiving was annually designated the last Thursday in November.

Today at Southland members of the park, friends and guests celebrated this Thanksgiving Day. Fifty-one people gathered at the Hall to partake of the bounteous dinner served at noon. We joined Rev. Hutchens as he gave thanks for a land of plenty and the many blessings that are ours as American people, not forgetting the sacrifices and hardships of our forefathers. May each one of us feel an obligation that young people of this century not forget these hardships and stand ready to keep America a nation our forefathers meant it to be. May we offer encouragement and not criticism in their efforts to create a better world everywhere.

Following the dinner Rev. Hutchens gave us the history of Southland since they came 16 years ago. He recalled the many changes that have been made—all lots provided only for eight foot trailers, the recreational hall, laundry, and office have been added, together with paved and lighted streets, landscaping and the coveted "Four Star" rating. When they returned to Southland last October a Church had been added. This last statement had reference to our new members, whose names are Toby and Betty Chapel, and son, Michael. Several harvest decorations were brought by members and cards were received from former members. The turkeys were furnished by the management and prepared by Harriet Meisel and Betty Chapel. Henry Hansen did a good job carving the turkeys. We would not forget Stewart Dills as he made ready the hall with broom and mop. We thank Winnie Lumpkin, Golda Daum and Betty Peterson who were in charge of the serving.

We were invited to again come to the Hall for an evening meal, with 40 attending. Blanche Kircocfe gave thanks for protection through the day and for all good things we have. Dewey and Alice Marsten of near Gary, Ind., who joined the park quite recently were introduced as new members. They are located in the trailer immediately south of the office apartment.

On Thanksgiving Day with their son at Ft. Myers.

Neville Clark, Everett and Margaret Keister attended the American Legion dinner with entertainment and bingo following on Thursday evening.

The most recent of Southland members who have joined the Winter Guest Club are John and Martha Mitchell of Rockford, Ill. Friday afternoon shuffle tournament was cancelled on account of rain.

Thirty-two people came to the Hall for coffee and rolls Tuesday morning. How interesting people are. Is it coffee and rolls they like or the fellowship together? To all newcomers, join us on Tuesday morning at nine.

We are saddened by the sudden death of Mrs. Elsie (Lucy). She passed away in the early hours of Saturday morning. Accompanied by Mr. Elsie's son and daughter, they returned by plane Sunday to their home in Hammond, N. Y. where services will be held at 3 P.M. Tuesday. We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. Elsie's family. He hopes to return to Southland after a short time in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrell are entertaining their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Cusack of Miami Springs, over the holidays. Mrs. Amelia Keegan of Castile, Ohio spent the day Sunday with her aunt, Alta Robinson. Mrs. Keegan is a daughter of Grace Warner Attention ladies! Mr. Johnson at Sunny Ridge Court has posted another "fish market" for December 13 on Saturday. We hope the day will be a more comfortable one for this auction. Mr. Johnson will be glad to tell anyone interested by calling at his place. Your reporter will be glad to contact someone interested in entering items.

Neville Clark, with friends from Sebring, spent a pleasant Thursday shopping in Tampa.

Several were out for Craft Tuesday. The Donald Duck, Peter Rabbit project is still in progress. Several other interesting projects were shown.

We are happy to note one of Mr. Overholt's compositions was played by the organist at the morning worship of the Congregational Church Sunday. We appreciate Mr. Overholt's ability to compose and know it is a great joy to him.

Sunday School Lesson

Prophecies Must Be Fulfilled

By DAVE LLEWELLYN

Did Jesus believe in prophecy?

At the opening of His public ministry, Jesus stood up in the synagogue at Nazareth and read Isaiah's prophecy:

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, Because He hath anointed Me to preach good tidings to the poor; He hath sent Me to proclaim liberty to the captives, And recovering of sight to the blind, To send liberty them that are bruised, To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and that a day of vengeance is proclaimed in the year of the Lord's favor." (Luke 4:18-19, 21)

Rejected

The listeners were stunned by Jesus' words and quickly raised an objection: "Is not this Joseph's son?" They knew that the Messiah must be a direct heir of King David, and they were apparently unaware of Jesus' lineage. That Jesus was indeed in the line of David, whether traced through Mary or through Joseph, is demonstrated by the genealogies in Matthew 1 and Luke 3.

But his hometown friends were skeptical. They refused to believe Him and accept Him as the Messiah. Ironically, their rejection was a sign of the very confirmation they had requested.

Had they closely read the Messianic prophecies of Isaiah, they would have recognized a double line of prediction. For example, a passage that begins "Behold, My servant shall deal wisely. He shall be exalted and lifted up, and shall be very high" changes to "He hath no form nor comeliness; and when we see Him, there is no beauty that we should desire Him. He was despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief; and as one from whom men hide their face he was despised; and we esteemed Him not." (Isaiah 52:13, 53:2-3)

Choosing to heed only the prophecies heralding the Messiah as king, Jesus' contemporaries fulfilled those depicting Him as an outcast.

Yet Messiah-King was what Jesus really was. Jehovah promised David that a descendant of his would be on the throne of Israel forever, and Jesus was the culmination of that promise.

Soon To Return

Soon Jesus will return and fulfill the royal half of the Messianic predictions. When He does, if He were to return to the synagogue at Nazareth and read again from the prophecy of Isaiah, He would not stop at the same place. Jesus would read beyond the proclamation of "the acceptable year of the Lord" or "the year of Jehovah's favor," and add to it "the day of vengeance of our God." (Isaiah 61:1-2)

Jesus the Messiah is coming a second time in judgment and vengeance on all those who have rejected the Messiah as He first appeared. Only before He returns are you free to decide how to respond to His life.

What if Christ's second coming were to occur this Christmas?

Red Devils Open Basketball Season With Bulldogs Friday

The Red Devil basketball teams will open the 1969-70 season here at the high school gym tomorrow night (Friday) against the Frostproof Bulldogs. The Devils are late getting into action this season due to the extended football play of the Avon Park varsity. The games previously scheduled with Okechobee and Arcadia have been rescheduled with the Devils hosting Arcadia here Saturday night, Jan. 17, and Okechobee down there on Saturday night, Feb. 7.

Coach Fred Sandlin's varsity will be playing with very little practice and with a very small reserve list. The ankle injury of letterman Willie Joe Seigler during the Sebring football game has postponed his basketball season.

Probably starters against Frostproof tomorrow night will be guards Don Sizemore and Thad Tate, both sophomores; forwards Roy Claitt, Joe Hardy, both seniors; and center senior Herbert Stokes.

On the bench Coach Sandlin will have juniors Clayton McNeil, Joe Franz, Wally Pierce and Jim Magenheimer, and sophomores Roy Claitt, Joe Hardy, both seniors; and center senior Herbert Stokes.

The junior varsity is coached this season by Buddy Marshall. He will have four juniors—Ernest Cooper, Frank Davis, James Pierce and Gene Prevatt, Ricky Helms and James Purdie are two sophomores on the squad and the rest will be freshmen Ed Culbertson, Leon McRae, Moses Moore, Bud Wester and Anthony Williams.

Coach Marshall, who hopes to improve on last season's record of eight wins and 13 losses, will probably start the following boys against the Frostproof "B" squad tomorrow night: Ernest Cooper (5'7"), Frank Davis (6'1"), James Pierce (6'1"), James Purdie (5'8") and Leon McRae (5'8"). Also expected to see some action in the opening game are Gene Prevatt (5'11") and Ricky Helms (5'8").

Mr. Hoke was born in York, Pa. and moved to Florida at a young age. He graduated from Trinity Lutheran High School, Fort Lauderdale, and obtained a BS degree from Florida State University. He also served four years in the United States Air Force.

Jetport Gets Boost From Secretary Hickel

Highlands County Jetport Authority is moving quickly to capitalize on a boost provided by Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel.

Informed by Hickel's statement that the federal government will not allow a jetport to be built in the Everglades, the Airport Authority is rushing distribution of a brochure promoting Highlands County as the ideal site.

The Jetport Authority, in a special meeting at 4 P.M. today (Thursday), will preview the brochure authorized in a called meeting on Monday.

The committee, chaired by Pat Cooper, said the main aim of the brochure will be to obtain support from Florida business and governmental agencies, particularly in the central and northern portions of the state.

Ted Green, formerly the industrial representative of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting Monday and was authorized to draft the brochure. He pointed out the Avon Park Bombing Range site has one great advantage over many other proposed locations for the giant jet facility—sufficient land for the project is all under one ownership, and the fact that the owner is the federal government may be helpful.

Richard H. Judy, deputy director of the Dade Port Authority, 'developer of the controversial Everglades Jetport', wrote to the Highlands County Jetport Authority on behalf of Dade County Mayor Chuck Hall.

In a letter addressed to Cooper, Judy said: "Mayor Chuck Hall has asked me to respond to your letter of November 14, 1969, and to advise you that when and if other sites are considered for the location of our proposed supplemental airport to the present Miami International Airport, any area that your committee might suggest would be considered by the site selection team."

Attending the special jetport authority meeting Monday were Forrest Lloyd of the Sebring Chamber of Commerce, Chuck Watson, representing the Avon Park C of C, Harry Seiber of the Lake Placid C of C, Earl Crandfield, Breed, Cooper and Green.

A BRIGHT sunny day enhanced dedication ceremonies Thursday for the new campus of South Florida Junior College. This is the open air auditorium around which the buildings in this first phase of construction of the new campus are clustered. Note governor and other officials at far right.

Governor Kirk Dedicates Junior College

A predominantly youthful audience packed the sun-drenched amphitheatre of South Florida Junior College to overflowing for formal dedication of the college campus, West of US 27 between Sebring and Avon Park. Elementary school students lined the second floor porch of the Learning Center while on the ground level seniors from the area high schools mingled with present SPJC students and the older Hardie and Highlands County residents who gathered for the December 4 ceremonies.

In the principal address, Governor Claude R. Kirk, Jr., emphasized one of his favorite themes, the need for vocational education.

The Governor advocated "mandatory vocational education experiences for students kindergarten through junior college."

He commended Pensacola Junior College for cooperating in the county's first mandatory vocational education for all public school students.

He said to SPJC audience, "You can be a major influence in the rate of dropouts. Fewer young people will be leaving schools without a skill. There can be a decline in snobbery about what constitutes a good life."

Using the 1969 Highlands and Hardee counties high schools' records the Governor pointed out that about two out of every 10 students who began school in these counties dropped out before graduation.

Counseling Inadequate

The Governor charged that vocational counseling in high schools is "completely inadequate."

He suggested that college-bound and vocational curricula should be more flexible to allow students to move from one to the other more freely. He called the "old earn or learn" approach to high school education "an alibi" to skilled workmen so badly needed in modern nations.

He challenged the junior colleges to "accept the role of pathfinder" in vocational education. "Don't wait for someone else to show the way."

"Any place which calls itself a center of learning must be involved with the community and its needs. A policy of aloofness has made people angry and undermined confidence in the ability of education to bring about our heart's desire," the Governor said.

The youthful audience interrupted President William Stallard's remarks when he called the SPJC student body as "the finest in the nation."

Other participants in the dedication were Rex E. Bond, chairman of the board of trustees; Wilmont Vickery and William R. Fitzsim, architects; Dr. Lew G. Henderson and Warren Harrell of the State Department of Education; John E. Bartscher, president of the SPJC Student Government Association; the SPJC Chorus, directed by Buford G. Jasper; Rev. Adam D. Childress and Father Antonio Pons.

Florida Power Corporation, for the third time in 11 months, has reduced its rates. The latest reduction will total $2.3-million annually. This marks the fifth reduction for the State's second largest power company since January, 1968.

Let's Get the Jetport

With the flat rejection by Interior Secretary Walter Hickel of any site in the Everglades for the new jetport, things began looking up in a big way toward locating it in Highlands County.

The Avon Park bombing range still looms as the most popular of the various sites in the county which have been mentioned.

We have weighed the pros and cons of locating the jetport in this area, and the pros far outweigh the cons. We should get a lot of help from Orange and Polk counties who would like to see it at the bombing range.

What we are saying is that we feel that a super jetport for Highlands County is out of the dreaming and wishful thinking stages. And let's get together and try to get it located here.

Oil and Our Senators

The maneuvering in Congress over the oil depletion allowance makes us feel just a little ill at the way things are going. The oil interests, great contributors to Congressional campaigns, probably are pretty well assured that they are not going to get hurt very much. But, perhaps foolishly, little people always have hopes that they will be made to pay their fair share of taxes.

The way things are going it looks like they will continue to get a beautiful free ride. Maybe not as big a one, but still very great.

We noted that Senators Spross and Holland and Ed Gurney of Florida voted against retaining the allowance at the 27.5 level, but they also refused to go along with the tax reformers and cut it down to 20 per cent the level approved by the House of Representatives last Summer. Both our men, the "voices of the people," settled for the 23 per cent level. Their voice in this instance was not ours.

We hope the people in general take note of votes such as these. We can't help but feel our Representatives are more in touch with the people than our Senators at this point.

We are told that there are other factors—getting the oil gillionaires to pay their fair share of taxes should be accomplished in other ways.

But from where we sit, it may take years for the other wheels to get under way and this vote is being taken now. Our experience with government is to take what relief you can get when you can get it.

It's too late to do much about Senator Holland in this matter. He's leaving the job. But we hope Senator Gurney sees this editorial.

Old Timer

Ah, the Christmas trees of long ago, Trimmed with cranberry and popcorn strands, Paper chains fashioned by children's hands, Real candles casting their flickering glow, Dabs of cotton to look like snow. A crepe paper angel topped it all, But sudden drafts, sending candle flames higher, Brought the threat of a Christmas tree fire, One such threat, I well recall, Was hastily smothered with grandma's shawl. Oldsters may think nostalgically Of Christmas trees in days gone by, But now, with food prices astronomically high, How could anyone today, honestly, Put all that food on a Christmas tree.

Accident Reported This Week

Most serious accident of the week was that involving an Avon Park family at 4 P.M. Sunday on Route 27, A car driven by Dennis Dentley, of Lakeland, headed south on Route 27, struck a car driven by Emily Dorsey, 44, of Avon Park. Mrs. Dorsey was charged by Florida Highway Patrol Trooper W. B. Hough with failure to yield turning left.

Mr. and Mrs. Dentley and their son, Joel 3, are still in Walker Memorial Hospital, reported in fair condition. With Mrs. Dorsey were David Dorsey, 18, Edward, 18, Randy, 7, all injured but not hospitalized.

Girl Scouts Will Sing After Parade

The Jacaranda Neighborhood of Girl Scouts and Brownies sang this year on Monday, Dec. 15. Over 100 girls in uniform will gather at the post office at 8:30 P.M. and march in the Christmas Parade. The parade is scheduled to break up at City Hall, and at this time the girls will mount the steps of the City Hall and begin with their singing.

Miss Holly Reddick will accompany them and Miss Debby Fowler will be the soloist. These girls are hoping for a large crowd to join them and sing-a-long.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Ban on Christmas Is Rescinded

Christmas will come to Marblehead this year, after all—even to the schools. Marblehead, you know, is the Massachusetts town where the School Committee had ruled that there was to be no mention of Christmas in the classrooms.

But there was such a vigorous protest by students and parents that the members of the School Committee reconsidered and decided that this holiday was low the holiday to be mentioned.

A sign carried by one of the students who protested the committee's earlier decision asked the question, "Christmas Dirty Word?"

Ridiculous

When—in this country—we refuse to recognize in our schools that there is such a holiday as Christmas and that it is a time for the celebration of the birth of a little redneck!

Was it ever intended by our founding fathers, who established the principle of separation of church and state, that the Bible, God, and Christ should be left out of the classroom?

This present-day theory is a total perversion of the true intent of the framers of the constitutional provision which guarantees that the Congress will not make any law respecting an establishment of religion. Every student of the early history of our country knows that the Bible was a honored place of prominence in the schools of that time.

What, then, did the framers of the Bill of Rights mean when they wrote, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof?"

The people who founded our nation had come from England, where the Church of England was the state religion. They did not want this to be done here.

In other countries, Lutheranism or Roman Catholicism was the state religion. They did not want that to happen in this country.

There was not the remotest intention that there should be any separation of the nation from God or that there should be any hindrance about recognizing an establishment of religion and the Bible in the schools. They would have considered that unthinkable.

How can anyone who understands our early history contend seriously that the First Amendment could be interpreted to require elimination of references to God and Christ in our schools?

Coincidence or Consequence?
"Them that honor Me I will honor," God says, "and they that despise Me shall be lightly esteemed."

Is it merely a coincidence that during the time when the leaders of this nation openly and publicly declared their loyalty to God the nation was victorious in its undertakings and became prosperous and respected?

In the relatively recent past there has been a drawing back from this original commitment—and the nation has become bogged down in a war that we do not win, a crime wave that is not stopped, and a rebellious spirit among some of the youth of the land.

Is this merely a coincidence—or is there a causative connection?

As the Christmas season approaches, maybe we should all renew our commitment to Christ and determine to do our part to restore Him to the place that He should have in this nation.

BABSON'S

POINT OF VIEW

Trucking-Near-Term Troubles

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass. December 11, 1969. Excellent long-term growth has been enjoyed by the motor carrier industry. Meeting the demand from shippers for speed, convenience, and flexibility, motor carriers have achieved one of the best earnings records in the entire transportation field.

While long-range prospects are bright, the near-term outlook is cloudy. In 1970 the trucking industry will be facing a host of difficult problems involving the possibility of an economic slowdown, sharply higher wage levels, and repeal of the investment tax credit.

Small shipments known as LTL (less-than-truckload) provide between 65 percent and 75 percent of revenues for most truckers, and this type of service brings freight rates in the top category. We expect that LTL shipments will continue their long-term expansion, meaning extensive future benefits for the trucking industry.

The interstate highway system has also contributed to this growth. Overnight deliveries and frequency of service are trucking's prime advantages for its customers, and the burgeoning highway system has greatly extended the geographical boundaries. Greater uniformity and liberalization of size and weight laws in the individual states have been beneficial. These revisions have permitted the motor carriers to achieve earnings gains through the use of more efficient equipment and cheaper operating procedures.

Economic Mergers
In recent years there has been a sharpening trend toward mergers. Trucking is a highly fractionalized industry involving more than 15,000 carriers, with only 50 publicly held. As more truckers follow the mergers or acquisition route, they will be in a better position to achieve important economies. For example, Consolidated Freightways during the six-year period has acquired a total of 52 acquisitions to become a nationwide carrier from coast to coast and border to border.

CF is primarily a holding company with subsidiary carriers engaged in various forms of trucking (two-thirds of revenues) and manufacturing (one-third of revenues). Its operations include not only motor transportation services but also manufacturing of trucks, parts, and allied transportation equipment. The carrier division is the largest domestic trucking company in terms of both route miles and revenues.

Last year, Consolidated's sales rose 24 percent, net income 25 percent, the most successful year in the firm's history. We look for a continuation of CF's above-industry growth rate, with good results from air freight forwarding and 51 percent ownership of Pacific Far East Line.

Christmas

Drama at First Baptist Sunday

A Christmas drama, "The Blue Overall Angels," will be presented at First Baptist Church on Sunday night, Dec. 14, 7:45 P.M. The drama has as its setting a church prepared for the rehearsal of a Christmas pageant, supposed to take place on a hillside near Bethlehem. The true spirit of Christmas is shown through the faith and love of a lonely child and a kindly church janitor.

Included among the cast are Vesta Lee Hall, who portrays the lonely child who wanders into the church on Christmas Eve looking for a Christmas angel. Taking the part of the middle-aged church janitor will be Velora Johnson. Bud Riggs plays the impatient church organist, and Charlotte McDaniel a famous singer who returns to the little church on Christmas Eve.

The chorus of angels are Janice Harbold, Betty Sue Albright, Betty Lou Wells, Jo Ann Strickler, Darlene Bennett, Jane Nelson, Sharon Duhm, and Sharon Wicker.

Two shepherds and a shepherd lad will be Curtis Nelson, Allan Duhm and Mark Smith, and the three wise men are Gerald Wicker, Jack Collins and Raymond Batts. Gerald Perkins, William McDaniel and the women's chorus of the church choir all assisted in preparing the tape recording of music.

The Bethlehem hillside scenery will be arranged by Ophelia Rihner, Bob Henderson and Cheryl Guernit. Dramatic lighting effects have been planned under the direction of Carl McWilliams and Milton Bass.

In charge of the costumes and make-up are Mary Bass, Janice Clemon, Barbara Williams and Edna Atkins. Betty Lawson and Elina Collins. "Church drama," says Mrs. Albright, "is a very effective means of communicating the Christmas message. The desire of the many persons who have worked to make this production is that it will brighten your Christmas season and magnify the true spirit of Christmas."

Bureau of Alcoholic Rehabilitation

alco-topics

By John A. Williams

Editor, Information Services

When a newspaper column changes hands, as witnessed on a national scale by the recent death of Drew PEARCE, it leaves an unexpected void for the daily reader.

Inevitably, the feeling and drive of a columnist is expressed in the copy he writes. This is as it should be. With this printing of Alco-topics, there is a different personality behind the typewriter. But the column's goal of informing and educating the public about the serious problem of alcoholism and what is being done to combat it remains the same.

My predecessor, Paul Foraker, would probably be the first to point this out. Foraker's pen, active for years on these pages, has been laid aside so that he might pursue a career as a journalist instructor in the Florida school system.

Before beginning this column, I must briefly say that I look forward to carrying on in the best tradition where it has found acceptance in many newspapers throughout the Sunshine State.

And, I must admit, it is somewhat of a twist when a writer is hired and then put through four weeks of group therapy before being allowed to pound out his first piece. But it is necessary to know your source material thoroughly before trying to speak with any authority on any subject, including alcoholism. Knowing the alcoholic as a human being is essential to this task.

As Prof. William E. Barr at the School of Social Work at Barry College in Miami Shores, Fla., says: "Group methods of treatment of the alcoholic are 'absolutely essential to any modern treatment program.'"

Literature, brochures and a news columns are all valuable aids to education, but severely handicapped by the lack of a treatment program. The Center in Avon Park is a sure thing in the understanding of the alcoholic.

There are 180,000 human beings in Florida that have been "detached by the bottle." In the meantime, family, friends and business associates suffer. And the alcoholic, as much as the cancer victim, suffers most.

To be effective as a communicator to the public, we must continue to draw on years of experience from the Center's researchers, psychologists, social workers and medical personnel to bring the message home.

Never forget, you could be an alcoholic! Without public concern you could be lost. These are the hard facts. The alcoholic must be given help. We must learn to respect himself again.

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOE

THANKSGIVING REMORSE
I want no more Thanksgiving feasts, or more gastronomic ruck; I suffer my hide with birds and beasts to love. I feel like Noah's Ark; I ate three plates of kippered ham and two of pork and one of beans, one-half the back-end of a ram and seven kinds of sorted greens; the oysters that I put away would make the stoutest hog turn pale, and roasted duck I hate to say for fear someone would doubt this tale.

I grabbed at all that passed me by, not caring what the stuff was named, enough to make a Cyclops guy go hide his face and feet ashamed. I thought my stomach was as gay as when I was a lad of ten, but when I came to "fill the hay," I found out what a fool I'd been, for virtuous sleep, with coy disdain, refused to share my humble cot, while my whole lay-out raked with pain, one minute cold, the next one hot.

I couldn't get a bit of rest, no matter how I'd kick and turn, while coiled knotted me gallyweird and shook my foot being allowed to pound out at last, I dozed to sleep, if one could really call it sleep, when demons from the nether deep harassed my soul to beat the Dutch. The ghosts of turkey, duck, hog, marmoset, maver hill and plain, until Plutonian mental fog would lift and I would wake again.

And once I dreamed that I was tied upon a lonely oak rock, while a big geyser at my side would give my paunch an awful scald, and once a great big pump-kin pie came rolling over my anguished bed and looked me squarely in the eye, and went "kir-squash" right on my head.

The Dante came and took my hand and led me through the Realm of Shade, where crooks and thugs from every land were put through a pail of every grade. All through those haunts of pain, so black and grim, I stumbled till the night was through, and then I said: "Just take me back; I haven't seen a pain that new. Oh, fellow countrymen, I pray you'll never be in such a plight, but while it 'was Thanksgiving Day, I'll swear 'twas no Thanksgiving night!"

STRAWBERRIES AND LIKES THEM
You remember the radical, haranguing a tattered audience: "Comes the revolution, we'll all eat strawberries and cream." "But," said a mild-mannered little fellow in the front row, "I don't like strawberries."

"Comes the revolution," thundered the radical, shaking his fist: "You'll eat strawberries and you'll like them!" As the fellow says government's so-called "benefits" are quickly followed by government dictation, some areas are not distressed, but bureaucrats say they are, so they are given the "benefits" of medicine, and some people, happy with their lot, are "up-lifted" in spite of themselves, some people may not need Federal aid, but they get it with Federal dictates to follow.

LET THE CHURCH GO TO HECK!
I've spent the past five days in bed with ice-packs on my aching head; my ancient joints are full of aches and every tendon jars and shakes; the skin is off one-half my face and seven glands are out of place; my lumbar region's black and blue and shy a vertebra or so; Beneath my Savonarba and I can trace this bitter fall to playing "short" in diamond ball.

The good old pastor of our church came to the printing shop where I work and said: "Our funds are getting low; the mission jack is awful slow, and what will move your heart to tears, my salary is in the arrears. Now, I've a plan which will give you five or six jack-pots quite a rise, and, if you please to be so good to join up with our brotherhood, join them in a little game, I'd be most grateful for the same."

Aha! I heard this solemn call and signed up for a solemn ball of wretched Gospel sharp as a needle, and baited with the K of Psi! In sliding into second base, a husky brute stepped back, and once a grounder, swift and hot, caromed off my dome of thought, and running hard to catch a fly, I slipped and caught it—in my eye, and when I staggered up, the pitcher broke, a valued asset. Before the daff-gunned game was over, they took me home, and banded these childish sports, arrayed in sweater, cap and shorts. No more, the hummer fly, before the pitcher's admiring eye; no more I'll risk my blessed neck, if all the churches go to "heck."

Linda Hughes Is Honored With Kitchen Shower Saturday, Dec. 6

Miss Linda Hughes was honored by a kitchen shower at the Florida Power Lounge on Saturday, Dec. 6.

The hostesses, Mrs. Angie Miller and Miss Barbara Miller greeted the guests at the door and pinned a corsage of net and decorative clothes-pin on each guest. Linda was presented with a dainty pink carnation corsage with tiny rolling pins peeking from among the flowers.

A shimmering silver Christmas tree, decorated completely in hand-made pink ornaments was spotlighted and around this guests placed their gifts. A second smaller silver tree sat upon a table which was covered with a pink linen cloth. This tree was decorated with colorful spatulas, spoons, scrubbers and kitchen tools and topped by a star made from a picture of Linda's fiancé, Steve Weber.

Clever games were enjoyed by the guests with Janice Hughes, Mrs. Philip L. Weber, and Mrs. Jack Hughes all winning prizes.

After Linda opened her many lovely gifts, the guests gathered at the refreshment table which was covered with a hand-embroidered table cloth and centered with a large crystal punch bowl. Chilling the pink punch was an ice ring upon which floated a tiny bride surrounded by her equally tiny bridesmaids. On either end of the table were giant pink candles on raised candle holders surrounded by dainty pink flowers. The bite size sandwiches, pin-wheel appetizers and miniature cupcakes were as attractive to the eye as they were delicious to the palate.

Each guest took home a tiny star upon which perched a smiling little bride. It was a lovely evening for Linda and one which she will not soon forget.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

By Weyman Carver
Frank Burns, Avon Park High School science teacher gave an excellent talk to the Rotary Club Wednesday about the science program of APHS.

Avon Park High School, according to a recent survey conducted by Floyd Clark, county science supervisor, has 140 students, (460) percentage-wise, taking science courses than any other high school in the state.

Each student is required to take two years of science, beginning in the 9th grade with physical science. The course includes some chemistry, physics, oceanography, space science and astronomy.

In the 10th grade, an excellent course in biology is offered. The students have a choice in the 11th and 12th grades of several intensive as well as extensive courses in chemistry, physics, earth science, and an engineering concept curriculum, a course which teaches students to think.

Mr. Burns discussed the need for scientists in our world of tomorrow, pointing out that the world's sociological problems can be solved through the applications of scientific knowledge.

He noted that it took several thousand years to reach the population of the world to reach one billion, only another 100 years to reach two billion, a short 30 years more to reach three billion and only three and a half billion.

These people must be clothed, fed and housed, and Mr. Burns said these problems can be resolved through the application of scientific knowledge which is, for the most part, presently available.

Mr. Burns said that over 50% of the funds being spent for nuclear power by the U. S. is being spent for peaceful purposes. He stated that the "Breeder Reactor"

"Roll, Jordan, Roll" was the first Negro spiritual to appear in sheet music form, back in 1862.

Farmers Can File Now For Conservation

Farmers who wish to establish soil and water conservation practices on their farms with Agricultural Conservation Program assistance should visit their ASCS County Office to discuss their conservation problems. Requests can be filed beginning December 15. R. B. Ozer, chairman of the ACP Committee, said today. "It's important that farmers file their requests during the initial sign-up period in order to get the necessary approval and take care of other program details before the time is at hand to actually begin work," the chairman emphasized. The sign-up period will end January 15. The local ASCS Office will be closed December 25 and 26 for the Christmas holidays.

Southland Trailer Court News

By Bessie Paxton
Mr. and Mrs. Willis Eichen, of Lancaster, Pa., were callers on Rebecca and Lem Hostetter Monday.

Nine ladies went out for craft Tuesday afternoon. The Christmas spirit is gaining momentum as many have ideas for window decorations and gay attractive Christmas pieces.

Coffee break had a fine attendance Tuesday morning. Cards, which everyone signed, were sent to Mr. Eichen and the Snyder's.

A letter from Mr. Snyder says they will not be able to return to Southland this Winter. Edith is not so well and the long trip is very tiresome for her. We miss these good people and know they will appreciate learning from anyone who writes their children and grandchildren with them for Thanksgiving.

Mr. Elthorpe, together with his son and daughter, returned to Florida on Friday after Mrs. Elthorpe's funeral on Tuesday. He reports cold weather in New York and felt it best for him to return immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Comfort of Bonnie Brae Court had a pleasant day with his sister, Evelyn Fritz on Friday, to celebrate Mrs. Comfort's birthday.

At shuffle Friday afternoon eight members came to enjoy the game. The weather was ideal for shuffling and everyone had high hopes of winning. In the final count, Stewart Dils and Betty Peterson, with a score of 79 over Elmer Kirafove and Harriett Meissel with 37.

Elwood Stroup of Xenia, Ohio arrived with his travel trailer in Avon Park last Wednesday. He and Mrs. Stroup, who passed away last Summer formerly lived in Southland, but as there were no vacancies he had to locate elsewhere. His son-in-law, Alton Lumpkin, drove him down and they visited with Winnie and Russell Lumpkin. Friday evening the Lumpkins had them as dinner guests.

Stewart Dils, whose birthday was Sunday, also was a guest. Alton Lumpkin, who is a nephew of Russell, returned by plane to his home in Ohio, Monday.

Mrs. Leila Gangwer was entertained Sunday for her birthday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gangwer of Lake Wales.

Mrs. Bertha McCauley of Moran, Miss. returned to Southland for the Winter. Sunday. Her grandson drove her down and returned by plane Monday to his home in Grand Rapids.

George Monks attended a Past Masters' meeting at Masonic Temple Monday night. A nice dinner was served by the Eastern Star, meeting and election of officers followed. Several out-of-town brother Masons were there.

Mrs. E. E. Jones and family of Battle Creek, Mich., called and talked to her father, Stewart Dils on his birthday.

Bessie and Byron Jeremy were proud grandparents when their daughter, Mrs. James Essex of Elyria, Ohio, gave birth to a boy last Tuesday, Dec. 3. This young man weighed seven pounds and 12 ounces and is named Bradley James. Congratulations to the Jeremys.

Evangeline Gleason, Roset, La. Hill, Evelyn Fritz and Winnie Lumpkin motored to Zephyrhills Monday to call on Yangie's friends from the Junior College. The nesses shown them at this time of their sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Comfort of Bonnie Brae Court had a pleasant day with his sister, Evelyn Fritz on Friday, to celebrate Mrs. Comfort's birthday.

County Welfare Director Called To Tallahassee

Highlands County Welfare Director Anna Dee Cazanar was one of the Florida county welfare staffers called to Tallahassee for a conference on proposed legislation.

Senator Louis de la Parte, author of some new welfare bills filed for consideration next Spring, conferred with representatives of state and county agencies and Emmett Roberts, director of family services for the state of Florida.

Prophecies of Two Great Events

By DAVE LLEWELLYN
When warnings are followed by long fulfillment, who any longer needs the warnings? Any excitement—dread or ecstasy—wanes with waiting. And so the determinative events in our history have often transpired almost unnoticed.

God has taken into account our tendency to misjudge the significance of events. He has provided a system of duplicate warnings for the two occurrences in history He has deemed most significant, the advent and return of Jesus Christ.

The coming of Jesus was first announced vaguely over 4,000 years before the incident when God determined in Eden, "I (God) will put enmity between the seed and the serpent, I (Satan) and the woman, and between the seed and his seed; he shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel." (Genesis 3:15)

Christ's Coming Foretold
Progressively more explicit pronouncements were made for example, concerning Jesus' birthplace (Micah 5:2). His being taken to Egypt to avoid Herod's slaughter of the innocents (Hosea 11:1), and details of His death (Psalm 22:16-18).

Finally, the last two verses in the Old Testament give announcement of further warning: "Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of Jehovah come. And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers: lest I come and smite the earth with a curse." (Malachi 4:5-6)

Then, 400 years of silence. When God resumes speaking, however, in what is now called the New Testament, He proceeds with perfect continuity. A priest named Zacharias receives word that he will father a child who will be the clear fulfillment of the last promise made to Malachi: "The angel said to Him, Fear not, Zacharias: because thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John." (Luke 1:13-17)

This John the Baptist was the man who first publicly identified Jesus of Nazareth as the Messiah.

"God has come to earth to transform mankind," the whole Bible boldly announces and emphasizes by multiplied warnings.

Coming Again
God's coming is not complete, however. Christ will come once more, in power, and they will witness it precede Him. Jesus explains in Revelation: "I will grant authority to My two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth." . . . These have the power to shut up the sky, in order that rain may not fall during the days of their prophesying; and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they desire." (Revelation 11:3-6)

The advance signs are already past. Even some of the final signs—such as the retaking of Jerusalem by Israel—are past. The last living testimony will be two men clearly demonstrating the spirit and power of Elijah and Moses. After them is the end.

If you have ignored the prophetic history of the Old Testament, the proclamation of John the Baptist and the life of Christ, the fore-promised resurgence of the nation of Israel, and the recapturing of Jerusalem; if you are alive when the last two witnesses appear, remember these warnings—and remember. Copyright Dave Llewellyn 1969.

Episcopal Women Will Meet Tuesday

The next meeting of the Episcopal Church Women will meet for their regular monthly meeting in the Parish house of the Church of the Redeemer on Tuesday, Dec. 16 after the 10 A.M. Communion.

The service will be held at 10 A.M. instead of 9 A.M. for this week only. Business meeting at 11 A.M. followed by a covered dish luncheon at noon. Members are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. Beverage and dessert will be provided.

Mrs. Sherman Francisco, Mrs. Paul Calver and Mrs. George Love are attending the E.C.W. special Diocesan Meeting being held at All Saints, Winter Park, on Wednesday, Dec. 10. They will report on the business transacted and changes made by the division of the Diocese.

This is the last meeting in 1969 and it is hoped a large number of members will be present. Mrs. Ed Hall, Mrs. George Buck are hostesses and are planning a Christmas decor.

Red Devils Lose To Carver In Football Play-Off Friday Night

The Avon Park Red Devil football team lost out to the Delray Beach Carver Eagles by a score of 30-14 in the first round of the Class B state football play-offs last Friday night at Seacrest High School's football field in Delray Beach. The Devils were unable to move well against the strong, mobile Eagle defense and couldn't stop the devastating passing attack of the Carver offense, but put up a good fight before losing in the fourth quarter as the Class B defending champions put 20 points on the board.

Avon Park lost the services of its leading scorer and ground gainer, Willie Joe Seiger, in the second quarter due to an ankle re-injury. However, fullback Steve Hartt came through strong with Willie out and gained 64 yards in nine carries and set up the Devil's first touchdown with a 23-yard burst in the three as the first quarter ended.

The Devils lost the toss of the coin at the beginning of the game and kicked-off to the big Eagle eleven. With the aid of two penalties against Carver, the Devils held on the first offensive series and took possession at the Eagle 44-yard line after a short punt. Four running plays left Avon Park just short of a first down so Carver took over on its own 35-yard line.

The remainder of the first quarter was a defensive battle aided by penalties until late in the period Carver intercepted an Avon Park pass to stop a Devil drive. On the following play, however, Clark Jackson intercepted a Carver pass for Avon Park and the Devils started a touchdown drive to take a 7-0 lead. The Devils moved to the Eagle 40 and then a pass interference call moved the ball to the 44-yard line. Steve Hartt burst through and almost scored before he was pulled down at the Eagle three yard line.

The quarter ended there and the ball moved to the other end of the field before Roy Claitt scored by sliding off three or four inches into the end zone from three yards out to put Avon Park ahead. Then Don Sizemore hit Joe Franz with a pass for the two points and after a five yard mark-off Don Sizemore kicked the point to go ahead 7-0. Avon Park kicked off with an onside kick and Roy Claitt recovered for the Devils at the Eagle 36.

The excellent field position was of no avail, however, as three running plays netted only a three yard reverse. Neither team could move the ball for several exchanges until Carver again intercepted a pass at its own 40. Eagle quarterback Anthony Penn dropped back on the next play and hit his back Leslie Flowers behind the Devil defense and the speedy back raced the 60 yards for Carver's first TD. The run for the two point conversion was no good.

Carver scored again to take the lead before the half ended. The Devils were backed up to their own 10 yard line when an Eagle picked off the third pass of the first half to give Carver a golden opportunity on the Avon Park 18. Even then it took the Eagles seven plays to score with the TD coming on a six yard pass from Penn to end Harry Hill who took it in the end zone for the go-ahead TD. A pass attempt for the two point conversion was no good but Carver led 12-7 as the half ended.

The third quarter was another defensive battle with each team punting three times. The Devils couldn't get into Carver territory and the Eagles crossed the 50 into Devil territory only once in the third period moving only to the Devil 45.

The fourth quarter brought on the fireworks. Carver took an Avon Park punt and from Avon Park's 45-yard line they moved in just five plays to score. Two pass gains of 26 yards each moved the ball to the Devil five and then Leslie Flowers drove for four yards and then went in from the one yard line for the score. Clarence Robinson kicked the point after to give Carver a 19-7 lead.

On the following kick-off the Eagles recovered a Devil fumble at the Avon Park 29-yard line and quickly drove to the Devil 10. The Red Devil defense held for four downs within the 10 on three running plays and a pass attempt and took over on the four yard line.

Avon Park's most spectacular play came from that point as Don Sizemore dropped back and fired long to Roy Claitt who had gotten behind the Carver defense. Claitt took the ball in on the 30 and outran the Eagles for 46 yards TD and closed the scoring gap to 19-13. Sizemore kicked the point to put Avon Park back in the ball game just five points behind—19-14.

An onside kick by the Devils failed to give Avon Park the ball again to go in for its fourth TD in five plays. The TD came on a 20 yard pass from Penn to Barry Hill but the run

Progress Report On Schools Tonight

A progress report on the county's school construction program will be presented at the December school board tonight (Thursday).

In response to directives given at a special meeting two weeks ago, Wayne D. Heasley, architect for the new high schools, has consolidated building and regrouped them.

To cut costs, Heasley scaled the new schools down from more than 113,000 square feet each to 84,110 square feet in the recommended first phase of building with an additional 25,220 square feet in alternates which may be included if the bids are favorable.

School board members said they were pleased with both the appearance and cost estimates in the new schematics. Cost estimates now stand at $1,968,120 per high school.

The board approved the schematics last week, and authorized the architect to proceed with detail designs.

Heasley said pulling the buildings together had resulted in "less square feet but more storage area" for the new high schools.

for the points after was short setting the score at 25-14.

The Devils struggled in vain to score again and two lost fumbles and a pass interception kept Avon Park's offense bottled up the rest of the game. One fumble (or at least ruled a fumble by the official) led to Carver's last score. Sizemore was scrambling at his own 25-yard line and was hit as he attempted to pass. The official did not call an incomplete forward pass as it appeared to fans and Eagle Clarence Robinson picked it up and ran it in for the icing on Carver's cake. Robinson also kicked the extra point to give Carver the 25-14 win and a chance to face Daytona Beach Father Lopez in the semi-finals of the Class B state play-offs.

The loss left Avon Park with an 8-3-1 season and Red Devil fans felt the team had more than proved that they were real champions this year.

Annual Song Flute and Jr. Band Concert Thursday In Auditorium

The annual Song Flute Concert and Junior Band Concert will be presented this Thursday night at 7:30 in the Avon Park High School Auditorium. Admission is free.

The entire 8th grade has been playing the song flute, a pre-band instrument, for the last month and a half. The song flute gives the students a chance to play in a band and to see if he or she really wants to play a real band instrument.

Seventy students have signed up for band and Mr. McKunas is at the present time testing these students for band instruments. Instruments may be rented for a trial period to see if the student is really interested in band. Parents of sixth grade students should give thought to this important phase of their students' education.

All parents of the song flute and junior band as well as the public is invited to attend the concert.

This Saturday from 9 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. the Junior Band will sell Band doughnuts at various spots in town. Fresh doughnuts will sell for 65 cents per dozen.

The band association is also trying to put the finishing touches to the Winter Concert Programs. All merchants are asked to turn in their ads by December 12. Anyone having any items for the band auction may call Mr. McKunas and some one will pick them up.

Devils Win Over Moore Haven Friday

Coch Fred Sandlin's Red Devils basketball team won a close one from the Moore Haven Terriers last Friday night on the Terriers home court by a score of 69-66 to set a 1-1 record for the pre-Christmas season. The "B" team also won 24-18 for its second win.

Arrangements have been made for a large refrigerator for the Ridge Area Day School. Approximately $1,000 in gifts and other donations have been contributed in the name of the beer industry of Polk, Highlands, and Hardee Counties since they started the program in 1961.

The State Beverage Department regulations prohibit the beer industry giving anything of value to retail vendors.

The four companies that are members of the Tri-County Beer Wholesalers Association are Fogassie Distributing Co., James J. Musso & Co., Apex Distributing Co., and Quality Distributing Co.

In Moore Haven last Friday night Willie Joe Seiger came off the bench for the first time this season to sink a field goal and then two free shots to put the Devils ahead in the last minute of the game and then Herbert Stukes sank a field goal to ice the game away.

Devil guard Don Sizemore, playing an outstanding game, led the Avon Park scoring with 29 points and also pulled in nine rebounds off the boards. Herb Stukes got 13 rebounds and Joe Hardy had 10 rebounds for Avon Park to lead the defensive action.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

The Wing is the air arm of the Third Marine Amphibious Force in the I Corps Tactical Zone of Vietnam. It operates several hundred aircraft including fighter, attack, reconnaissance, helicopter and transport aircraft.

In addition to providing aviation support for the First and Third Marine Divisions, the First Marine Aircraft Wing supports other American and free world forces in the five northern provinces of South Vietnam.

Former Highlands County Deputy Sheriff Leonard Baggett has been charged with pocketing bond money posted by persons he arrested. Criminal information filed by State Attorney Glen Darty, cite 13 cases between the dates of Aug. 5 and Oct. 6.

The 47-year-old Baggett, once a member of the Sebring City police force, joined the sheriff's department early in 1969. He was fired by Sheriff Joe D. Keene on Oct. 31. Since his dismissal he has left the county. His last Sebring address was on Florida Ave.

According to sheriff's Chief Investigator J. C. Murdock, an investigation of Baggett was begun when a man inquired at sheriff's office when his case would be heard in court.

A check of the files revealed no charges pending against the man who said he had been stepped by Deputy Baggett on a traffic charge. He said he posted a cash bond with the deputy.

Murdock said the investigation brought to light other defendants who said they had posted bond after an arrest by Baggett. "A majority of the cases were from Lake Placid, some were from Sebring," Murdock said.

The charges had included drunk, gambling, as well as traffic violations. Murdock said that while the persons who supplied information against Baggett had no guarantee against arrest "it's not hard to get people to talk when they feel a police officer is doing wrong."

He added, "I have been in the sheriff's department for 20 years and we've never had a charge like this against an officer, and I can't recall even hearing of a case against a deputy in this county."

The charges against Baggett, unauthorized compensation, fail within the state law on bribery. Murdock said the persons accusing Baggett they had intended to "get out of anything."

The exact amount of money involved has not been determined, Murdock said.

City Hall will close two days for Christmas. City employees will observe Christmas Eve December 24th and Christmas Day as holidays. Garbage trucks will make full run Wednesday morning and all cars should be put on street for pickup early that day. All trucks will operate Friday and pickups of Thursday route will be made Friday also. City Hall will be open Friday.

Collins Hits Telephone Pole
Jerry Collins driving a dump truck owned by Whitaker Brothers of Sebring clipped a telephone pole last Saturday afternoon on A1E 27.

Eight tons of lime rock with a roller was being towed by Collins at the time he lost control of the truck. Approximately $100 damage to the truck and $850 to the United Telephone Co. equipment.

Highlands County Motor Vehicle Inspection stations reported an income of $1,790 for the month of November. In reports approved by the county commission last week, MVI reported 1,272 vehicles inspected, 275 rejected and 166 delinquents.

NORRIS BROOKS, representing the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children is shown accepting a check for $500 from members of Tri-County Beer Wholesalers Association, Lou Fogassie and Jack West representing Fogassie Distributing Co., and Lionel Lindsey from Apex Distributing Co. and James Musso, Jr., representing Quality Distributing Co.

Doctors To Staff Emergency Room Of County Hospital

The medical staff of Highlands General Hospital has agreed to staff the emergency room from the hospital through March 31 for a fee of $15,000 for six months.

Official status for emergency room service was reached when the hospital board and the medical staff entered into a formal agreement.

The board approved and signed the agreement at a regular monthly meeting Thursday and the medical staff signed the following day.

Paying the way for the signing of the agreement between the board and the medical staff was the adoption earlier in the meeting of a change in the board's by-laws.

The agreement, retroactive to October 1, is for six months and continues through next March 31 and calls for payment to the medical staff of $15,000, with $5,000 to be paid within 10 days after the mutual signing of the pact and the balance in four equal monthly payments.

Pending the drafting and the signing of the agreement the medical staff had organized into an ER doctors team which has been functioning since October 1.

Following the board's approval of the agreement, Chief of Staff Lee Burley, M.D., reported that an Indiana doctor was planning to move to Sebring as a general practitioner and that he would be available as an anesthetist.

Board members took a jolt in stride when they approved a $750 bill for legal services presented by Attorney Michael Cates.

The bill submitted by Cates last month totaled $750 including a $50 monthly retainer. It was returned at that time with the request that the hourly service at $25 per hour be itemized. On reassessment, Cates ascertained that he had rendered only 20 hours of time. The resubmitted invoice also included the $50 retainer.

Following a report by Treasurer Van Howell who represented the commissioners at preliminary meetings of the newly organized Florida Hospital Commissioners and Trustees Association at Ft. Lauderdale and Tampa, the board voted to participate in its purpose by voting a voluntary assessment of two dollars per bed as its share in preliminary expenses.

The prime purpose of the new state-wide organization of tax supported hospitals was to find ways and means to cut costs for the individual patient, Howell explained.

He said that this could be achieved primarily by the establishment of area poly-medical centers with outpatient departments, thus the deficit for patient loads at general hospitals.

a surplus of $10,374.

The Board turned down a request from former office manager, Mark Richardson, for payment of 34 days of accumulated sick pay on the grounds it would violate hospital policy adopted in 1966.

Jeff C. Crew, Jr., a former veteran board member received a check for $120 to cover expenses of the past 12 months.

Another Parole Officer Assigned To County

To meet the demands of rapidly climbing work load, a second supervisor has been assigned to the Highlands County office of Florida Probation and Parole Commission.

Jeff C. Crew, Jr., transferred here from the Perry office of the commission, began work here on Monday. He will temporarily be working out of an office in the Sheriff's Department.

This is the first time the Highlands County office has had two supervisors. District Supervisor Clifford M. Able, III, said the office is currently carrying 84 probation and parole cases.

In the 1968-69 fiscal year Able had 111 investigations. Between July 1 and November 30 there were 46 investigations made. These include pre-sentence investigations for both circuit and county judge's court, and investigations requested by the Probation and Parole Commission and the Division of Corrections.

Crew will work on both investigations and probation and parole supervision.

At Syracuse he became a member of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity and at FSU he was the undergraduate founder of a new chapter of that fraternity. He was also active in the University Union Program Council. Crew is residing in Sebring.

The Greatest Day

In all the flurry of presents, parties, general wassail and good will, most of us are inclined to forget what December 25th really means.

For on this day we celebrate the birth of the ONE who changed the course of the world. His life and His beliefs epitomize man's concern for man, man's hope that his life may count for others. Here the creed of love was born.

As Theodore A. Gill wrote in "Christmas in Particular":

Christ is not just one of the charming elements of Christmas. He is Christmas. Because the little child was born, we and the world celebrate a day glorifying Him. Not goodness in general, but the goodness of God. Not love in general, but the amazing love of God. Not peace in general, but the Peace of God.

These we honor, not in the abstract, but in the particular, because we have seen them, and know them, in the birth of Jesus Christ.

Bank Credit Cards

The acceptance of bank credit cards by the public and independent retailers in the South Atlantic states has dramatically zoomed upward. And the cards are being widely used in this area.

Many people maintain charge accounts in the larger department stores simply as a convenience, paying their bills monthly. The bank credit cards are seen as a particular boon to smaller stores where many shoppers don't bother to go to the trouble to establish credit. Carrying around a couple dozen credit cards for a few dozen smaller stores could be a somewhat bulky affair, too.

Nationally, 33 per cent of independent retailers now are honoring bank credit cards, with 18 per cent of the total sales volume of these retailers transacted on the cards.

alco- topics

By JOHN A. WILLIAMS

Editor, Information Services

We here at the Bureau of Alcoholic Rehabilitation in Avon Park, Fla. know this man and know him well.

The psychologists, social workers and vocational rehabilitation people know if the alcoholic is not helped now that each jail sentence is simply another step closer to the grave.

But we also know that the modern judge and his court is in a position to help the confirmed drinker out of his revolving door pattern through the bars, courts and jails.

There are more and more agencies listed under the encompassing title of mental health and related agencies that care about the alcoholic.

There is help to help. They can help.

The 20th century judge needs no longer give up on a human life with a 30 day jail sentence. Here in Florida he has a number of options.

There are clinics in major cities, halfway houses, religious and other concerned social organizations that are aware of the alcoholic and his problem.

And, the old fashioned town drunk is beginning to fade in the distance. We realize that there are 18,000 "average" alcoholics in the state of Florida alone that are alcoholics.

If you have an alcohol problem, why not write for information to the Bureau of Alcoholic Rehabilitation, Information Services Office, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla.

Just turning through some Florida newspapers the other day for the best of it. Suddenly, a headline in one caught my eye. It read: "Drink-Crazed Flee Judge; Few Really Sober, All Ill."

The article that followed was intended to make the sober, experienced social worker a bit depressed. It went something like this: "They came to the courtroom, the drink-crazed of the city, and they sit and stare, their minds mostly on the judge."

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Will We Have Peace on Earth?

"Peace on earth" the angels sang over 19 centuries ago, as they welcomed to earth the newborn Prince of Peace.

Yet, today, peace on earth seems farther away from being a present reality.

Not only in Viet Nam, but in the Mid-East, in Nigeria, and in other parts of this weary world, bloody warfare is going on and men are being killed by other men.

Peace seems far away.

God's plans must not be working out, some say, or there surely would not be so much bloodshed.

The Bible tells us that God has a plan for the present and the future of this world and that He will inevitably triumph. Some day, there will be world-wide peace.

But how can it be that God, having sent His Son to the world to produce peace, will allow so much evil and so much blood and bloodshed?

Each Chooses His Own Way

The answer is that He has given to every one of us the right to choose whether we will follow His plan for us or walk in some other way.

POINT OF VIEW

BABSON'S

Aerospace, Defense Stock in Transition

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass.

In the third quarter of 1969, the total of the stock market's decline, military-oriented companies (both prime and sub-contractors) are faced with a further transitional period to work out their problems. For the first time in many years a paucity of military, space, and commercial products (aside from the new "F-4" commercial jet) is in evidence. However, we believe that the outlook for new-generation equipment will brighten in late 1970 when two additional commercial jets—the DC-10 and L-1011—will be entering fleet service, plus a pickup for military programs which will materialize with deployment of the Safeguard program followed by sizable orders for the Poseidon missile. Nevertheless, investors should pay heed to further political, military, and budgetary announcements in governing their near-term investing decisions in this industry.

Industry's Current Situation
The industry has always served as the ace in the hole for the heavily concentrated air frame contractors. The industry envisioned some slowdown in the space sector, but was suddenly squeezed on all three fronts—defending space, and commercial. A combination of tight money, declining airline earnings, and a decision to wipe out the industry's once-dependable commercial business edge.

Aerospace programs were prepared for cutbacks in military and space funding but had not envisioned that major programs would be canceled in their entirety. Both going programs and those about to be initiated felt the axe. Finally, inflation and an unrelenting procurement system finished off any hope the industry had to ride out the storm.

Long-term contracts made at bid prices two or three years back proved to be unrealistic, and the incentive and penalty plans incorporated in former Secretary of Defense McNamara's total weapons package worked against the contractors in spite of their efficiency.

Need For Diversification
While there are several major programs now in the research phase such as the AMBA (advanced manned strategic aircraft), the F-15, the V-22 (tilt-rotor aircraft), and the AX (close support, attack aircraft), budget priorities could defer research and affect programs at the development stage. For instance, the F-14A supersonic fighter awarded to Grumman Corp.) may not reach volume production until 1972 or 1973. But increased funds for the Minuteman and SRAM missile may again receive full funding if the Vietnam conflagration eases.

Moreover, a new bomber could receive priority, along with the prime airborne warning and command system (AWACS).

Additionally, space stations, manned vehicles for prolonged space visits, the Apollo Applications Program, and a large ship-building program would, most likely, all be retained. However, there is a real need to smooth out the sharp cyclical swings caused by the disjointed nature of the military contracting business. The industry must, in Babson's opinion, shape a new modus operandi for itself in hatching new technologies in wider sectors. These could encompass more tangible work in systems management. More meaningful participation in environmental problems such as noise, pollution, and congestion should generate a new image for the industry. Aerospace companies already possess unusual expertise in materials, in new propulsion systems and avionics.

The tragedy is that so many have rejected His plan for their lives and have caused so much misery, both for others and for themselves.

One of the seemingly paradoxical statements made by the Man of Galilee was, "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth; I came not to send peace, but a sword."

How can this be?

In this case, He was talking about the conflict which occurs within a family or a group of friends when one accepts the way of Christ, while others continue to reject it.

Immediately, there is tension and conflict in the group which had been similar goals and similar interests.

So there is conflict where harmony used to be.

But this Master does give peace—even in the midst of conflict. This is a peace of mind which only those who follow His plan can ever know.

Peace for One—Now

The peace which the Son of God came to bring to men is a peace between nations may be far off.

Internationally, we may not have peace, but internally we can.

This is the peace of which Jesus spoke when He told His friends, shortly before He was betrayed and crucified, "Peace I leave with you. My peace I give unto you."

A little later, He said, "These things have I spoken unto you that ye may not be troubled. In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer. I have overcome the world."

Do you have peace—a real peace within you—the peace that He came to bring?

Have you ever thought of this? If you don't have this peace—then, so far as you are concerned, the Son of God might just as well not have come to earth at that long-ago day. He might just as well not have lived a perfect life and died an agonizing death—the Gull-axe One dying in the place of love.

His purpose in all of this was to bring you peace.

Why don't you ask the Son of God now to give you the gift that He has for you—the gift of peace?

Rambling Thoughts

By O. L. SHOBE

EDGAR GUEST

I think Guest has the proper idea at swing the poetic ball; his words are of such simple scope you never wonder "where he's at." His diction is nice; his rhythm moves so soft and free; he never makes a sacrifice of sense to make a score on melody. No grandstand player is this bard who swings out for a flashy "home;" he raps the ball just minding hard, but always makes a base-hit "home." I've wrangled stuff from many a great whose books adorn the high-brow shelves, but never found out what they meant and doubt the poets knew themselves, but Edgar moves his pen along with common sense philosophy adorned with wit and sweetened with a touch of minstrelsy. He isn't much for vulgar show and seems to think it is a crime to beat the ball to make it go and makes a "home" every time. Some poets write to leave a name engraved on fame's immortal scroll, but Edgar plays a one-base game and keeps the humble, simple seal. To deck some platitudes no mystic mazes from his pen; his metered message is for the common, ordinary men. Old son, when on the rippling rhymes roll "round, I seem to hear the angels sing a soft "amen" to every sound.—Shobe

THOUGHTS FROM FOUR SOLDIERS IN THE WAR THAT WAS TO END WARS

It was the first World War "broke out," the airplane was just getting where it was considered safe to machine that could be used for warfare. The United States had few planes, but they belonged to what was called the "Signal Corps." Arcadia went to work and secured the location of two flying fields, through the efforts of Congressman Drane and other influential people. Two flying fields were located on the Big Prairie east of Arcadia and that little city enjoyed a boom in its early days.

One of the first things I worked in the newspaper owned by Andrew Carter, my brother-in-law, was to train the young flyers. They were generally well educated and some of them started a newspaper for the two camps. Carter's paper, the "Enterprise," got the nice plum of printing it. Four highly educated men were in to train a book for them. They called it "Our Beloved Selfies," and I let the type for it on the Mergenthaler.

The war ended before the soldiers at Arcadia had much chance to get into it, and the camps got to a book about the two camps and the life they had in the camps. Several famous flyers were trained there and won fame in brave and noble deeds. Four sergeants had to print a book for themselves and named it "Our Beloved Selfies." I found a copy in burning around and take the liberty to run some of the wise cracks in it.

"We're here for a monic and a tooth and the beautiful." "Man is only of timorous woman, either married or unmarried."

"Schoolboys are as the olives on the banquet table of life: none like them seriously."

"One swallow does not make a summer, but it is often the birds that go to Europe and look after a business matter for him. I will be gone several months and will pay me a social security check that month. The social security office will send me the other provision of the law which affect payment to persons outside the U.S. See them before you go."

Coleman Is Gator End

Ray Graves and the University of Florida football coaching staff are notorious, if that is the word, for making college defensive backs out of high school quarterbacks.

Avon Park's Bob Coleman is a variation on that theme, and quite a variation at that.

Coleman was the starting quarterback for the Avon Park High School Red Devils his junior and senior years, and now the 6-2, 220 pound senior has earned two letters at Florida as a defensive end.

Coleman was actually better prepared for his defensive assignment than a swift accounting would indicate. As a gangly prepster, Coleman saw double duty as high school, playing the defensive end post when the Devils didn't have the ball.

As a high school freshman and sophomore, he even got a shot at tight end, but in his own words, he is "no blaze of speed." But his arm was strong enough to warrant the signal-calling job.

"I came up here thinking strictly about defensive end," Coleman said from his Von Hall room. "As a sophomore, they had me there and at third string tight end. But I wasn't strong enough or a good enough blocker or fast enough." He only weighed 165 then.

But it was this experiment at tight end that cost Coleman a year of eligibility.

"We were beating Mississippi State pretty bad," Coleman explained. "So they sent me in for awhile and I caught a pass. Probably nobody would have noticed I played if I hadn't caught that pass, because it went into the record books."

He spent the sophomore season in obscurity and his junior year was beginning to look like a no-so-instant replay. That is, until the Florida State game when David Cheevers was injured and the bench-warming Coleman came in to make a couple of fine defensive efforts throwing FSU quarterback Gary Pajic for some sizable losses.

He saw considerable action thereafter in the '68 season and when August rolled around this year, the exile-benched No. 85 had a starting position won.

Coleman had an early sign as to what to expect from the 1969 season.

"The trainer has a truck all painted up," Coleman offered, "you know, orange and blue. One day, a practice I happened to notice the numbers on the front of the truck, identification or something. They were 811."

"I got to thinking it would really be something if we had a RECORD like that."

"Then we won those games and I got to thinking that to be 8-11 we would have to lose to Auburn and tie Georgia."

As a senior, Coleman is one of the few veterans on the sophomore-dominated Gator squad. The Gator elders take their orders from Messrs. John Reeves, the passing whiz who had directed Florida to its surprising, to some, record.

There is none of the animosity toward the young Reeves that might be expected when soph directs senior.

"John has the confidence it takes to do the job," Coleman explained. "There were kind of mixed opinions among the seniors about who would be the starting quarterback. I figured Jackie (Eckhardt) would start the first couple of games and then John would step in. I was a little surprised when he was No. 1 when we came back in the fall."

Next year, when Coleman will be a football alum but still working toward his degree in pharmacy, he thinks the Gators big problem will be depth, the fears that injuries could run what might be a great year.

"They (the coaches) won't have any trouble putting a good first team out there," Coleman predicts. "But they'll have to be awfully lucky and avoid injuries."

"Coach Graves has helped out a lot this year," Coleman interjected. "He is seldom in his tower (the one pictured so frequently). He comes down and walks around talking to players. It's not so much the coaching he does, either. When the other coaches are down on us about something, he'll compliment a player or play and it helps. It's done a lot of good."

The Gators chances for the Impossible Dream perfect season were rudely removed by Auburn, then a bad center snap brought about the 13-13 tie with Georgia on national television.

It's hard to say which hurt more, the loss or tie," Coleman mused. "I guess it would be the tie, though."

"After the Georgia game the dressing room was like a morgue. After Auburn we knew they just beat us, but we felt like we should have beat Georgia."

Florida fans who watched the Bulldog-Gator fray on the tube saw No. 85 quite prostrated late in the game.

Followers of Coleman's career probably figured it was a recurrence of injuries that have plagued his long legs. Not this time.

FLORIDA END BOBBY COLEMAN

"I was knocked out," Coleman explained. "I don't really remember that series of plays. The first thing I remember is getting to the sidelines and finding two guys holding me up."

Coleman's father, Hubert, is an Avon Park general practitioner who closes his office on Saturdays, at least for one more week. He was in the stands behind the Florida bench in the Gator Bowl.

"After I came to pretty well, I was sitting on the bench trying to watch the game. But there were some players in front of me and the action was on the other end of the field so I was watching the clock to follow the plays. The clock was at the opposite end of the field from the action. My dad came running down end of the stands to see if I was all right. He thought I was really out of it."

Medicare Payments Are Time Limited

There are some Medicare beneficiaries in Polk, Hardee and Highlands counties who will lose money if they don't file a claim before the beginning of the new year. "We hope these will file their claims before January 1, 1970," said W. E. Arnold, District Manager of the Lakeland, Florida Social Security Office.

There are time limits for the payment of Medical insurance claims (Part B of Medicare) under the Social Security Act. The time limit for payment of medical services received between October 1, 1967 and September 30, 1968 is December 31, 1969.

Some people in the three county area haven't filed for these payments because they think the bills for medical services must be paid before they can receive any payments from their Medicare insurance. "This is not true," Arnold said. "A claim should be filed right away to avoid any loss of money."

For more information or help in completing a claim visit or call the Social Security Office at 300 S. Florida Ave., Lakeland.

Farmers Need Conservation Should File Now

A farmer's first move in doing conservation work under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) should be to file a request. After the request is filed, then he may begin the work if he wishes to. However, a farmer can be assured of cost-sharing only after approval of the request by the ASC County Committee.

R. B. Orr, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, advised farmers that the ASC County Committee cannot approve regular ACP cost-sharing for a practice completed before the request is filed.

Requests for approval of a conservation practice under the regular ACP must be made before the ASC County Committee, so that the County ASC Committee can budget the limited funds available and plan the conservation program for the year to best serve the interests of farmers and the public.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO EVERYONE

The Avon Park Lakes Square Dancers held their Christmas party on Friday evening, Dec. 19. This year we were very happy to have a Live Caller in the person of Gordon Male of Timberlane. As guests there were three couples from the Timberlane group, two couples from Bartow, and six couples from Avon Park. Sebring and Lake Placid.

It has been customary to "trade" invitations with these groups for parties. We were also delighted to have several of our own members who don't dance but came to watch the fun. There were five squares on the floor for the simpler dances and three squares for the more complicated dances. Everyone remarked how much more fun to dance to a live caller than to records. Many thanks to Gordon and his lovely wife, Mary, for such an enjoyable evening.

Christmas With Oral Roberts a nationally televised special should be a family affair with guest star Anita Bryant, husband manager Bob Green and two of her four children, Gloria and Bobby. Also appearing on the show scheduled for release during the third week in December is Oregon's Senator Mark Hatfield.

Evangelist Oral Roberts has cut "across" comedian Bob Hope in a recent exchange of "plugs". Hope captured the interest of score-keeping columnists on his recent NBC special making two references to the world famous evangelist. Reverend Roberts managed only one passing reference to the globe trotting comedian in his soon to be released Christmas special.

Appearing on the "Christmas With Oral Roberts" show will be Anita Bryant, headliner with Hope's annual Christmas extravaganza for several years and Oregon Senator Mark Hatfield.

The nationally known guests have completed taping of "Contact", the fourth Oral Roberts prime time special. The Christmas Special is scheduled to be aired nationally over 160 stations in the United States, Canada and England.

The show should have special family interest as Anita makes an appearance with two of her four children and her husband, Bob Green. Senator Hatfield adds to the Christmas scene as he delivers from his recent recording, a reading of "The Incomparable Christ."

Both Anita and Reverend Roberts are from Tulsa, Ok.

Edwin Barker Dies Tuesday In Kissimmee

Edwin Carty Barker, 55, of 1507 North Thacker Ave., Kissimmee, died Tuesday, a native of Wahiawa, S. C. He moved from Avon Park to Kissimmee in 1966. He was a service station operator. He was a member of the Concord Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge, both Westminister, S. C. Survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Luak Barker, Kissimmee; mother, Mrs. Nellie Dubose Barker, Westminister; son, Donald Edwin Barker, Avon Park; daughter, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Eastley, S. C.; brother, Lawrence Barker, Westminister. Four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Concord Baptist Church, Westminister, Friday, with interment to follow in the church cemetery. Grissom Funeral Home, Kissimmee, was in charge locally.

THE CHORUS of the fifth grade directed by Mrs. Ann Mickunas last Thursday at the Christmas program for Avon Elementary are shown here.

Over 80 million tourists are expected to visit Walt Disney World during the first 10 years of this new Florida attraction's existence.

Florida Power Employees Entertain

Employees of Florida Power Corp. entertained their children with a Christmas party Friday night at 7 P.M. at the Club House on Lake Lela.

Lucy Derman in charge of the refreshments for the evening, with her helpers had the true Christmas spirit with their decorations, of a Christmas tree, hanging bells, caroling and a real Santa Claus arriving with gifts for each of the children.

Chocolate milk with assorted cookies were served to the guests.

Carolyn Woodard Creates Yule Scene at Home

One of Avon Park's outstanding Christmas exhibits is the manner scene at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Singletary on North Anoka Ave.

Carolyn Woodard, working in the afternoons, created her manger scene in about a week and a half. The figures were first drawn in plywood, then cut out, and finally painted with an oil base paint.

Another of Carolyn's recent art highlights is her painting of the Crucifixion of Christ, a life size creation which she drew and painted in two weeks.

A representative of Famous Artist School in Westport, Conn. visited Carolyn December 20 to speak with her about her talent. She will be taking their college correspondence course for the next three years.

The representative remarked that talent like hers is hard to find and she is more than qualified to take these art courses from their school.

County Fair Days Set For January 20-21

January 20 and 21 have been designated Highlands County Fair Days by the county school board. At its December meeting the school board approved a request that January 20 be fair day for Avon Park and Lake Placid schools, and January 21 be the day for Sebring schools.

On fair day school is dismissed at 2 P.M. and school children are admitted to the fairsgrounds free of charge. Teachers are not admitted free unless they are supervising an exhibit at the fair, the fair association officials said.

Trailer Burns Tuesday

Early Tuesday morning Avon Park Fire Department was called to the house trailer of Corbin Carol on W. Hill.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Mac Flowers the trailer was completely demolished.

Entertainment

About 175 club members gathered at the clubhouse Thursday evening for the annual Christmas party. With large red bows and wreaths and the warm glow of many low light of large red candles, the Shuffleboard, under the direction of Lloyd Wyant, sang the Christmas carols.

A solo, "Silent Night" by Harry Brown with backing by the Shuffleboard was very good. The master of ceremonies thanked the audience to turn the clock back about 50 years until they could hear the patter of little feet, trying to get a sneak view of Santa Claus. While they were in this reverie, Keith Debo recited the old Christmas classic, "Twas the Night Before Christmas." In came Santa, in the person of Paul Hoppe, with his sleigh and reindeer and his pack of gifts. With a mighty Ho! Ho! Ho! he proved beyond any doubt that there is a Santa. Gifts were distributed amid the smiles and good wishes that always prevail in gift giving.

Supper

Eighty-nine people were greeted at the club Saturday night with gay Christmas colors here and there as they came to the supper. An added attraction were the newly dressed dolls the ladies have finished to be distributed by the Lions Club at Christmas time.

Again New York led with 37, followed by Ohio with 12. Blanche Kircacoe returned thanks after a bountiful dinner was enjoyed. Linda Pratt of New York was a guest. Mr. and Mrs. E. Eason and Mr. and Mrs. McWhitney were with us for the first time this year.

Happy birthday was sung to Floyd Ribordy. It was announced that Mr. Armstrong is in Walker Memorial and Lewis Spring is in intensive care at Lakeland Hospital.

Eula Gunning played several Christmas numbers. Miriam Debo gave two readings, Belle McDaniel gave a reading. These were all very nice and we enjoy what other people can do to entertain.

Lloyd Wyant led the group to sing several Christmas songs, accompanied by Eula Gunning.

The Christmas dinner is scheduled for 12:30 P.M. at the club. The regular Saturday night supper will not be held, but the Wetmorens, son, who with his wife is visiting their parents, will show pictures of their trip to Alaska.

We were dismissed by singing "Merry Christmas" to the tune of "Happy Birthday."

The Elmer Kircacoe and the Kenneth Barrs were in charge.

Cards
Six tables enjoyed the pinocle on Monday afternoon. High score of 783 was held by Loretta Simpson. Connie Kaboe had score of 681.

Tuesday there were six tables for bridge game. Violet Lexa was high with score

Young Highlands Republicans Meet and Elect Officers

At a pre-organizational meeting of Young Republicans, held at the Circle Cafeteria, November 24, which about 20 interested persons attended, a slate of officers for the newly-formed club was named. They were: Herb Harman, president; Gordon Eismann, first vice president; Ernie Norris, second vice president; and Michael H. Cates, secretary-treasurer.

A second meeting was held on December 15, to complete the board of directors. At this meeting, the following were elected to board of directors: Bill Masseyman, J. O. Ramsey, Dan Evers, Dr. Gene Owens, Andrew Jackson, and Clarence Polston. The aims of the club, which are described as both political and social in nature, and to aid in the continuing growth of the two-party system in the state, offer a means of teaching the young people to become involved in local affairs and have an organization to assist candidates seeking political office.

The membership rolls are open to both men and women and meetings will include social functions. The general public is invited to attend all meetings and express their views.

The founders of the club have the advice and assistance of the Highlands County Republican

Bobbie Newton To Attend Scout Council

Miss Bobbie Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fisher has been selected by the heart of the Florida Girl Scout Council to attend the Florida Cooperative Girl Scout Council Opportunity called the Audubon Adventure, December 29 thru January 1, 1970.

They will be camping in the Southwest Florida Everglades area to see and learn about our natural resources. Highlights for adventure will be, bird walks, visit to Corkscrew Swamp, trip to the mangrove swamps, and a boat trip to Ten Thousand Islands area.

Bobbie is one of many who competed for this opportunity. Her camping skill and knowledge of the patrol system helped her to be selected for this opportunity.

We remember the call 'come quickly, Santa came' by our parents. We see the home made sled with hickory runners our father made and managed to keep him up till Christmas; the gallon crock of candy which had been hid on the top shelf of the bed clothes closet. We knew it was there but dare not touch. Oranges so rare placed in our stockings with candy, the doll and storybook.

We remember the bobbed bedded with straw pulled by the two boys over new fallen snow and sleigh bells loud peel in the cold air that Christmas morning as we glided along to grandfather's house, two miles up the road for Christmas. We recall the familiar greeting of Christmas gift; the long table spread with homespun cloth, napkins and Sunday dishes. As grandfather at the head of the table gave thanks for family and plenty, asking protection for the year away in Spanish-American war, we recall the sad look on grandmother's face as she said, 'I dried a few ears of ham meat that had been smoked with hickory bark for weeks in early fall; choice beef preserved by covering with lard in two-gallon crocks; fruit cake and mince pies baked and placed on parlor chairs; pumpkin pies served with maple syrup made in early Spring at the sugar house just over the hill.

We recall the parlor, the parlor stove burning cedar wood, more of a museum now, but where marriage vows were repeated long ago, and today Aunt Ellen played the organ as we sang church songs. There were wooden buckets filled with apples brought from the orchard by grandfather, who had a knack for raising fruit. As we sat before the fireplace in the sitting room, Grandmother distributed red wool mittens and wool stockings she knitted for all her grandchildren. Southland Trailer Court News

By Bessie Paxton

It is a real delight to walk through the park in the evening and see the decorations. Many of these have been made by ladies who seem to know just how to do it; bright lights on trees here and there blinking to remind us Christmas is here; lamp posts wrapped in gay red and white paper, carolers calling from door to door to bring cheer and good will.

Rudolph's big brother is here again. How his coat shined in the spotlight. He gave his red necktie to light the lamp post this year. There are other attractions. We saw a little boy's rope swing on a tree near by and a fawn resting in the shade. A perfect setting for a little boy as he wonders about Christmas.

Turn time back for most of us 50 or 60 years and we can capture Christmas as it was then. As night settled over the earth on Christmas Eve, our children tucked in bed, gifts wrapped, all preparation made for the dinner to-morrow and the playing of Santa Claus, hoping John will like the new bicycle and Mary the new doll, we turn time back again and recall our own childhood Christmas.

We remember the call 'come quickly, Santa came' by our parents. Avon Mobile Home Park News

By Ella Roenneburg

Please accept my apologies for there being no Park news in the last weeks issue of Avon Park Sun. News has to be type-written and delivered on time; circumstances beyond my control materialized.

Our Park has been very busy in preparation for the Christmas party and other Park activities almost too numerous to mention. With the help and cooperation of each one our Christmas party was a huge success, and program presented to a full house. Our program included a scripture reading in modern tongue by Ennette Wright, a lovely vocal solo "Star of the East," Mildred Long.

The men's chorus favored us with two Christmas selections. Bertha Wagner read a Christmas poem "Take Me Home for Christmas." Han and Nita Byers gave us a beautiful duet "White Christmas."

The women's glee club of many voices sang two numbers.

There were also vocal solos by the men's chorus, and a vocal solo by the women's glee club.

The Overholts have received word from Siemen Kolk. He is in a different home at this time and she is in a hospital again, was with her daughter for some time, his letter was very cheerful and would like to hear from the friends here. His address is: Siemen Kolk, c/o John Home, M. R. 16, Melbourne, Rd., Newburgh, N. Y. 12550.

Marie Stroobant is spending the holidays at Leisure Acres. Five ladies interested in completing their articles by the Christmas time to the hall Tuesday afternoon. One could see clothes brushes, hair hats, donald ducks and Christmas wreaths.

Ten members of the park came to the shuffle on Tuesday afternoon. Elmer Kiracofe and Myrtle Heffernan won over Dorcas Young and Jerry Jeremy. Score was 43 to minus 15.

The Chapels are leaving Wednesday afternoon to turn their families for Christmas. Betty's folks live at Orlando and Toby's are at Apopka.

Their brothers and sisters also are close. They are looking for a shuffle on Tuesday afternoon. Elmer Kiracofe and Myrtle Heffernan won over Dorcas Young and Jerry Jeremy. Score was 43 to minus 15.

Mr. Snyder, his son and wife came to Southland a few days ago. Mr. Snyder is real well and will remain in Florida for awhile. He is with his son. His daughter-in-law will return home by plane, and, and 4.

Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Kiracofe of Huntington, Pa., Winifred Seiberg, were callers on the Elmer Kiracofes Friday.

We are glad to see Russell Lumpkin out and around the park. We hope nice weather will be an attraction for him to find these nice white seats and there visit with his friends.

The Ritchies will spend Christmas in Ft. Myers with their two sons and families. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ritchie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fairis of Muskegon, Mich., with their family will be guests of the Kenneth Barry over the holidays. Mr. Fairis is their daughter.

The Chapels want to thank members of the park for their gift to them at Christmas time.

A goodly number came to play bingo Friday night, with Robert Moynihan and Stewart Dilts in charge. Everett Paxton won the grand prize. Your reporter did not attend the bingo and Everett thinks this mascot stuff is all bologna.

Twenty-seven were at coffee break Thursday morning. Some business matters were brought before the group. John and Martha Mitchell, Marie and George Mott were in Lakeland a few days ago to see about George's new hearing aid. We are pleased to report he is getting along fine wearing it.

Please note the billiard table placed in the hall by the Chapels. Anyone interested in playing billiards is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Zimmerman and Jerry of Arlington, Ill. called on Emma Gerdes Friday enroute to Homestead to spend Christmas with her sister.

Evelyn Frits left Monday to spend Christmas with her daughter and family at Merrit Island.

Mary Strickland was pleasantly surprised Friday when friends from Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. John Osenko and daughter, Glenda, called. They have a new travel trailer and were enroute to Miami.

Merry Christmas Everyone! Merry Christmas!

Church Women Meet

The Episcopal Church Women, met Tuesday, Dec. 16 in the Parish House of the Church of the Redeemer. This was the last meeting of 1969 and carried the Christmas theme in decorations.

Mrs. Audrey Puffer led the devotion with prayer and Bible reading.

Mrs. Sherman Francisco opened the business meeting reports were read and discussed. She also gave a very interesting talk on recent E.C.W. covered dish luncheon at the new Episcopal Church in Park which she had attended with Mrs. Pearl Swanson and George Cross. She told of changes which she made because of the division of the diocese. They reported on the new diocese and the new Bishop Fellwell.

Mrs. Ed Hall introduced the speaker, Miss Ann Karick, president of the Association of Retarded and Miss Becky Tomek. Miss Tomek spoke of the work she and many other teenagers are doing with retarded children. Miss Karick showed slides taken at the many activities these children share and of plans they have for winning these activities and carrying their help to the other children. They have opened a Thrift Shop on S. Verona, where they teach to teach those capable to repair articles brought to the shop.

A covered dish luncheon followed. Mrs. Ed Hall, Mrs. Edith Young and Mrs. Rena

Smith were hostesses. The tables were decorated with Christmas colors.

Mrs. Sherman Francisco thanked their members for their cooperation and help during her years of office and introduced Mrs. James Johnson the incoming president.

Mrs. Johnson outlined some of her plans for the coming year and asked members to work with her in promoting the new projects.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Jan. 14 after mid-week Communion.

Something Really New

By DAVE LLEWELLYN

"There's nothing new under the sun," said Solomon — and he was right.

Advertisers would have us rather think there's nothing old "new," "Improved," "Revolutionary," "Scientific Breakthrough," or "Modern Miracle," they blantly declare about everything under the sun. But we know better. Sometimes we let them fool us, but we know we're being fooled. There's nothing new.

Nevertheless, we do like to feel ourselves about it all occasionally. Especially at New Year's. When we see the world about to switch onto Cycle 1970, the Same Old Sequence, we somehow rebel. Then we realize, though all the world's repetition, we will be new people!

Full Resolution

So we say, "Yes, foolishly — we've made the same old resolution the same old way. When the weekend rolls around again, we'll see that brand-new January 1 was just the day after last Wednesday.

Our sight of sameness seems to have been well understood by the apostle Peter who predicted that in the last days men would be saying: "Since the fathers fell asleep, all continues just as it was from the beginning of creation."

Just a moment, though. The "n" who will be saying this are "mockers" who "will come with their mocking." Peter says this static concept of life is wrong!

Are our fatalistic generalizations then false? Is there really something new? The "new" New Testament says "Yes!"

That we can be changed, and the world with us, is a central announcement of the Scriptures.

And making a resolution you know you can't keep is how it begins.

John the Baptist encouraged people to make such resolutions, and multitudes of Israelites did. They confessed their sin and resolved to forsake them.

Resolutions alone are futile, but John did not leave them alone. Once the people had the resolve to change, John pointed out a new source of power that could help them to transform. John said, "Behold the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world," and he introduced Jesus Christ.

But not to everyone was Christ introduced. Because there is an infinite difference between a New Year's resolution you just can't and one made for showing with no intention toward lasting change.

Being Born Again

The self-sufficient snobs who show up everywhere to impress people with their righteousness received short sentence from John: "You brood of vipers, who want you to flee from the wrath to come? Therefore bring forth fruit in keeping with your repentance."

A New Year's resolution on paper alone is no more new than the next page of the calendar. But a resolution written on your heart and supported by the power of Jesus Christ within you — this turns today into eternity.

It's like being born all over again.

Therefore, if any man is in Christ, he is a new creature, the old things passed away; behold, new things have come.

Another challenge or a new life.
