Chamber, Council Act To Locate Academy Here

To Meet With Representatives In Sebring Today

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce and members of the Avon Park City Council will meet today (Thursday) with State Representatives James Tillman, Donald Heath, and Granville Crabtree in an effort to encourage location of the Florida State Police Academy in the area. The meeting will be held at the Holiday Motel on US 27 in Sebring at 10:30 a.m. and will include a "Dutch treat" dinner.

The decision for the location will be determined Tuesday, August 4, by the state cabinet. The State Law Enforcement Council favors a Tallahassee site.

The purpose of the meeting is to give new police recruits a 10-week course in law enforcement, enabling the men to return to their local forces better equipped to fight crime. The recruits must be paid their regular salaries by the police forces they represent while they are taking the course, and the men must agree to serve in law enforcement for five years in return for the training.

THIS LOCATION is being presented to the three state representatives for this area as a proposed site for the new Florida State Police Academy. The site is located between Avon Park and Sebring south of South Florida Junior College. Avon Park and Sebring Chambers of Commerce and officials from both cities are cooperating to get the academy here.

City's Tax Income Will Arrive Later This Year

The City of Avon Park will not receive its usual income from real estate and personal property tax until approximately November 15 of this year. The city's 1970-71 fiscal year will begin October 1.

Beginning this year, the operation of assessing and collecting city taxes will be executed by Highlands County officials. A fee for collecting the taxes has not yet been established between Avon Park city officials and the county tax officials. This county takeover will cause the city to receive its money later than usual, however.

The new system of collecting taxes was passed in the 1969 session of the state legislature. The state required the county to begin collecting taxes for the cities. Since Avon Park's fiscal year is on the same schedule as the county's, Highlands County will begin assessing and collecting the city's taxes this year. The City of Sebring, however, operates on a different fiscal year than the county's, so the county will not begin assessing and collecting Sebring's taxes until next year.

The city's equalization board, which hears complaints on the assessment of the property, will no longer be the city council. Now the county and the city will have the same equalization board, composed of three county commissioners, and two school board members. The men from the commission who will serve on the equalization board include Cecil Skipper of Avon Park, Ben McGee of Sebring, and Jean Whitaker of Lake Placid. The two school board members will serve include Franklin Ward of Avon Park and Jack Wirtick of Lake Placid.

City Taxes

Avon Park's city tax revenue comes from a tax on real estate and personal property. The city is divided into two territories, A and B. Territory A is the area which comprises the old city limits of Avon Park. This area runs to Winthrop Street on the north, US 27 on the west, Castle Street on the south, and Lotela Avenue on the east. This area is charged the mill more per year than the territory because it has received more capital improve-

Mother Bound Over For Circuit Court

Mrs. Odessa Lou Dyer is now in Highlands County Jail, brought here from Polk County last week to face charges of malicious child abuse in connection with a severe beating given her daughter Beverly, 5, in Avon Park, February 7.

Beverly and her brother Harold, 13, are at the Highlands County Youth Care Inc. home.

Mrs. Dyer's boyfriend, George Clemens, sentenced to spend 20 years in prison for killing a third child, two-year-old Sharon Dyer, has been sent to the state prison at Raiford. He will be returned here later to face the child abuse charges.

Mrs. Dyer was brought here by Deputy Sheriff Richard Cooper and Mrs. Norma Wiggins.

Football Fans Encouraged To Reserve Seats

August 14 is the deadline for Red Devil football fans to renew their reserved seats for the coming home football games according to Avon Park High School athletic director, Joe Franz.

Holders of reserved seat tickets for last season may renew the same seat tickets for the price of $3 from now until August 14 at the high school office on weekdays between the hours of 8:30 A.M. and 12 noon and 1 P.M. and 4 P.M.

After starting August 17 and going through September 4, a reserved seat ticket holder may exchange his ticket for another spot in the reserved seat section if there are any available seats.

On September 8 through September 18 the remainder of the reserved seat tickets will go on sale on a first come first served basis.

Some tickets are also on sale for the five home games. The Red Devils will host Mulberry, Arcadia, Lake Placid, Okeechobee and Sebring this fall and will play the following teams out of town: Father Lopez of Daytona Beach, Fort Meade, Waucho, Charlotte High of Punta Gorda, and Frostproof.

The season tickets will sell for $8 this year due to the rise in admission price to $2 for game for adults and $1 for students. Coach Franz explained that rising costs of insurance, equipment, and transportation forced the advance in the admission price. The season tickets will also admit the holder to all home "B" squad and junior varsity games.

Elementary students will again be able to purchase advanced tickets to the home varsity games at a price of 50c each week before the game.

Mayor Moves To Postpone Action On Low-Rent Housing

Mayor Robert Barben led the city council in a move to reverse its July 13 vote of approval of a cooperation agreement between the City of Avon Park and the Housing Authority. The decision made by the council at their regular meeting Monday night was reached after considerable discussion of the present 130 units of public housing already existing in the city.

Barben stated that we had talked with several citizens who were not in favor of the construction of the additional units. Citing the fact that the 130 units are less than a year old, Barben said the city's action to sign a cooperation agreement for 150 more units may be a little premature.

According to Cecil Skipper, head of the Housing Authority, the cooperation agreement is required to acquire Housing and Urban Development funds. De Lancy Heights near the elementary school is one of the federal housing complexes and contains 150 units for elderly people. Lakeview Park, South of Lake Tulane, is the other, and includes 100 regular low rent units.

2ND LT. COPELAND, personnel officer for the Tampa area Green Beret unit, and Sgt. Marlyn Spivey, commander of the enlisted men for the unit, look at the manning board which shows the location of all of their personnel involved in the operation at the bombing range.

Army Green Beret Units Train At Bombing Range

Green Beret units of the Florida and Mississippi National Guards will complete their two weeks of summer training at the Avon Park Bombing Range this week-end. The special forces of the U. S. Army Reserve invaded the Avon Park Air Force Base July 17 and 18.

Florida's unit of the National Guard, which is presently at the bombing range is conducting tests to determine the operational readiness of the Mississippi units. In addition to those who have been occupying the air base site, other units of Mississippi guardsmen are being tested at Withlacoochee State Park and at Chassahowitzka, two areas on the Gulf of Mexico near Crystal River.

Col. Bishop was also present at the bombing range. Bishop said that 750 men are involved in the operations at Avon Park and Camp Blanding in Starke. Bishop is commander of the special forces activity at those two areas.

The high caliber Green Beret units are divided into three teams. The headquarters team is identified as the "C" team. Florida's headquarters is located at Camp Blanding in Starke, Fla. Three "B" teams are responsible to each "C" team. And four "A" teams are responsible to each "B" team.

The teams are conducting field maneuvers just as they would in actual field operations. However, rather than actually having real enemies, the enemies are hypothetical, and the information regarding their positioning is made up.

The intermediary "B" team act as a supply unit. It is the function of the field team to check out the information which its own supply unit "B" team supplies about reported enemy activity in the area where the combat is located. After this information is verified or denied, the field team reports to the supply unit. The supply unit relays the information to its headquarters. Since the headquarters receives data from other supply units, it can send back more information about enemy activity and can advise the "B" team of the possible enemy action in the light of the information. The headquarters has about how the enemy has conducted itself in past encounters.

The Tampa area Green Beret's "B" team, headed by Major Jay Woodhouse, is conducting the operational readiness tests to the Mississippi teams.

Instruction Salaries One Third Of School Board's Budget

Highlands County school board on Thursday adopted a record budget of $9,886,333.17.

And although the millage for operation was increased to 8.2, the taxpayer is expected to feel little or no effect.

A millage of 1.36 was set up for debt service last year, but this will not be necessary this year. So although the millage for operations last year was 6.84 and is 8.2 this year, the increased tax roll in the county, plus no millage for debt service, will even things out for the payers.

George Douglas, superintendent of schools, pointed out that the cost of building the new high schools in Sebring and Avon is included in the budget. Contracts were signed with H. J. Construction Co. of Orlando for $3,971,900 earlier this year and are being financed through the ad valorem bond issues. Also included is completion of the Lake Placid Elementary School by Monty Conco of Lakeland.

According to the budget, the operating fund anticipates receipt of funds totaling $2,431,000 from state sources, $3,986,178 from local sources, $39,900 from federal sources.

The big operating expenditure is for instruction salaries and supplies—$3,272,750.

On the debt service fund, $345,219 is expected from state sources, $167,899 from local sources and $33,401 from incoming transfers. Investments and cash on hand total $349,336.

Avon Park Gets $8,487.70

More money is going up in Smoke throughout Highlands County than a year ago, cigarette tax collections reveal. Collections in Sebring for July totaled $9,750.46 compared to a year ago: in Avon Park, $8,487.70 compared to $8,201.56; in Lake Placid, $3,230.83, compared to $2,723.66; and in the county area, $1,888.29, compared to $1,714.78.

Firm To Print Book To Promote Highlands

Highlands County will have a book designed to attract visitors and new residents. The Sunshine Press, of Venice, is now in the process of assembling material and selling advertising to produce a book that may help in the promotion of the county.

Twenty thousand copies of the book, to be titled the "Highlands County Guide," will be printed and turned over to the Chambers of Commerce in Avon Park, Lake Placid and Sebring. The 3 1/2 x 8 1/2 inch book will feature a full color cover and will contain a complete story of the three cities inside the county and all the attractions that make living in Highlands County so desirable.

The Sunshine Press has published similar books for Sarasota, Venice and Englewood Cliffs and has put out a quarterly review of South Sarasota County.

BUREAU OF ALCOHOLIC REHABILITATION

alco- topics

By JOHN A. WILLIAMS
Editor, Information Services

Who's in charge? You or alcohol? That's the question many psychiatrists, doctors, social workers and nurses need to know when it comes to dealing with the illness of alcoholism.

It's also a question every drinker should ask of himself if he or she finds themselves drinking more than friends and companions at a party, in a bar or in the home.

Is alcohol beginning to run you or are you running alcohol? If alcohol is running you, getting you into trouble it's time to do some soul searching and honestly ask yourself if your drinking pattern is getting out of hand. And, if so, what is responsible.

I was reading through some educational literature the other day and came across a quote by Winston Churchill that was read by his wife on the occasion of his acceptance speech for the Nobel Prize for literature.

"The power of man," he said, "has grown in every sphere except over himself. Never in the field of action have events seemed so harshly to impart personalities . . . rarely in history have brutal facts so dominated thought or has widespread, individual virtue found so dim a collective focus."

"The fearful question confronts us: Have our problems got beyond our control? Undoubtedly we are passing through a phase where this may be so. We may humiliate ourselves and seek guidance and money."

An analogy with the alcoholic in today's modern, uptight sobriety of alcoholism.

Millions have experienced the pleasure of taking a drink to ease daily pressures. The trouble is there are 180,000 alcoholics in the state of Florida who are not receiving pleasure from alcohol but a good deal of distress, not only to themselves, but to their families and friends.

When we turn into the fast moving traffic lane of alcohol, the drug may start to control us and we can no longer enjoy it socially.

The problem drinker moves with alcohol instead of letting alcohol move with him. In this sense the alcoholic becomes both "driven and driving."

The problem drinker has come to the point where he is desperately trying to row upstream in a current of booze that is constantly pushing him back downstream until he founders.

Once beached by the drug he or she is at the mercy of alcohol. However, there are several personal options always open to the alcoholic: education, treatment and through these, information that can bring him back to the best road of all — recovery.

For more information on the nation's number one drug problem, alcohol, write to the Bureau of Alcoholic Rehabilitation, Information Services, Box 1147, Avon Park, Fla. 32825.

We don't have all the answers, but we can give you a pretty good idea about which road you're on.

DOLLARS and GOOD SENSE

By WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avo Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. Box 408, Los Angeles, Cal. 90004. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

In a recent column, I discussed the truth-in-lending law on the occasion of its first anniversary. I also mentioned that effective July 1, 1970, a new provision was added to this law concerning wage garnishments. Many readers have requested more information on the new law, and I'll be happy to provide it today.

The new provision is officially known as Title III of the Consumer Credit Protection Act of 1968, and it imposes major federal restrictions on wage garnishments. In some cases, an employee's wages will be totally immune from credit garnishment.

Just for the record, a garnishment is defined as any court order requiring an employer to withhold an employee's wages for payment to a creditor. Under this law, wages are an individual's disposable earnings, that portion of earnings that remain after all deductions required to be withheld by law.

The restrictions on wage garnishments are tied to Federal minimum wage standards. Based on current standards, here's what the new law means to you.

If you're paid weekly and your disposable earnings are between $44 and $64, only the amount over $44 is subject to garnishment ($40 or less is not garnishable). For earnings of more than $64, a maximum of 25 percent may be garnished.

If you're paid twice a month, earnings under $104 are free from garnishment. Earnings above $104 are subject to 25 percent garnishment.

There are some exceptions to the above limitations, however. They will not apply to any court order for the support of another person, to any court order of bankruptcy under Chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Act, or for any debt owed for state and Federal taxes.

The section regarding discharge of employees for garnishment states that an employee may not be discharged because his earnings have been subject to garnishment for one indebtedness. Still penalties are provided for violations.

The new law is not intended to replace any state law where the limits on garnishment are greater however. This is a brief review of the new law, and I hope it answers the questions of those who are interested.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Nudity All Right In Its Place

Maybe the time has come for me to declare forthrightly that I am in favor of nudity.

It's true I sincerely believe that in our present-day society there is a definite place for complete nudity.

And, while we are on the subject, I want to say, also, that there is a great deal of misunderstanding about sex.

Many people have the mistaken notion that sex is sinful. They think that the Bible says so. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

On the other hand, some are possessed with the false notion that the cure for sexual problems in our society is in education about the physical aspects of sex. This is a grave mistake.

Others have the impression that a good way to make themselves wealthy and famous is to cheapen and degrade sex—to discard all previously accepted moral standards.

There is a place for nudity—in the shower or the bedroom. There is a place for full sexual expression—in private with one's marriage partner.

Is It Too Late?

But when people insist on showing themselves naked on the stage, in front of an audience—or in a motion picture—they are saying something about themselves.

And when men and women behave like beasts—before an audience or a motion picture camera—they have only themselves to blame if some of us conclude that they have resigned from the ranks of civilized people.

Pornography in print has become so common that many are beginning to believe that it is too late to hold back the tide of filth and indecency.

New Annual Permits Available For National Forest Campers

A new type annual permit allows individuals or families to use designated facilities in national forest and grassland recreation areas being sold by the local ASCS county office, says R. B. Ozer, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

The permit is also valid on designated areas of the National Park Service, sports fisheries and wildlife refuges, and Bureau of Land Management Lands.

The new permit is good for an entire family or carload of people and partially replaces the Golden Eagle Passport of prior years which will not be issued again until 1971.

Revenues from sales go into the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

The new National Forest Recreation Permit will admit purchasers to the use of recreational areas and services of the four Federal agencies, except for special day-use services and facilities and a few areas operated by concessionaires.

Typical forest services facilities and services that the permit covers are camp and picnic facilities, bathhouse and locker use, and boat launching facilities.

For areas administered by the National Park Service, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, and the Bureau of Land Management, the Forest Service Recreation Permit will entitle purchasers to the same services and facilities offered to buyers of the permits issued by these agencies. National forests will honor interior agencies permits.

"In no case, does the possession of a permit constitute

State Sales Tax Collection Increase

State sales and use tax collections for the fiscal year 1969-70 increased $84,428,353 over the previous year, bringing the total for this year to $658,367,560, Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson Jr. reports.

"This increase indicates the continued stability and growth of Florida's economy," Dickinson commented.

Revenues from the sales and use tax in June $58,511,414, an increase of $8,094,144 over June of last year.

Highlands County revenues from these sources in June amounted to $137,539, and increase of 14.33 per cent.

County Farmers To Elect Men For Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Posts

Highlands County farmers now have the opportunity to nominate by petition candidates for the County Committee posts.

The nomination period will begin July 28, and closes August 17. "This year we hope farmers in the County will nominate by petition a full slate of candidates. A full slate means a minimum of six candidates to choose from, electing one member for a three year term and two alternates for a one-year term."

R. B. Ozer, Chairman of the Highlands County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said.

Mr. Ozer explained that the county ASC committee administers agricultural programs such as marketing quotas and acreage allotments, price-support loan purchases, conservation cost-sharing, and other farm action programs at the county level, dealing directly with producers.

"There's no red tape tied up in nominating by petition. All that's really needed is a sheet of paper naming a candidate—and signed by six or more eligible voters. Petitions are limited to one nominee each, but voters may sign as many petitions as they want. A farmer who is an owner, tenant or share-cropper is an eligible voter in the county where his farming interest is," he said.

The chairman said that if at least six eligible candidates are nominated by petitions submitted by farmers in the county, no other nominations will be made. However, if less than six are nominated by petition, the incumbent county committee will complete the slate, selecting candidates actively engaged in farming or ranching.

Miss June Giddens-John Faircloth Speak Vows at Church of God

In a double-ring, candlelight ceremony, Miss June Giddens and Arman John Faircloth were united in marriage Saturday night, July 25. The Rev. Thomas B. Siepe performed the ceremony which was held in the Avon Park Church of God. Organist Miss Alexis Day accompanied Mrs. Pat Johns, sister of the bride, who sang "True Love," "Little Things Mean A Lot," and "The Wedding Song."

Palms and two standing baskets of daisies with Florida greenery and spiral candleabra holding white tapers graced the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace with a full, floor length skirt and long sleeves. Her veil of bridal illusion was held in place with dainty lace flowers enhanced with bridal pearls. A cascade of daisies composed her bouquet.

Miss Ann Giddens, cousin of the bride from Lakeland was maid of honor. Mrs. Debbie Vanderbilt, Avon Park, and Miss Moena Johns, LaBelle, were bridesmaids. Miss Jeanie Coleman, niece of the bride, Jacksonville, was a junior bridesmaid.

The bride's attendants wore floor length, short sleeved gowns of light pink with empire waists. Six pink ribbons pinned encircled the waistlines. Their bouquets were composed of pink carnations.

Nieces of the bride, Pam Langford and Cindy Coleman, both from Jacksonville, were flower girls. They were dressed in a manner similar to the bridesmaids.

Wayne Gilliard, Avon Park, was best man. Brian Johns, nephew of the bride, of LaBelle, served as ring bearer. Paul Day, Mike Vanderbilt, and Randy Johnson, all of Avon Park, were ushers.

Miss Giddens, in carrying out her daughter's chosen color of pink, wore a street length, A-line dress with a white carnation corsage.

For her wedding trip to Ft. Myers Beach the bride wore a patriotic dress of red, white, and blue stripes with red accessories.

FOR THE HOSTESS

Fond Fondue

The gourmet revolution has finally come about after years of agitating by food editors, professional chefs, and a front rank of soldiers like James Beard, Michael Field and Julia Child. American food has suddenly discovered what Europeans have been telling us for years—Continental cuisine is tasty, superb and succulent.

As a result of this new interest both Europeans and little sections of supermarkets now feature foods with a foreign flavor. Department stores are doing land-office business in fondue pots and dishes; and daytime TV culinary demonstrations are winning women away from All-American Steak and Mom's Apple Pie.

I have always been especially fond of fondue. This Swiss thing is usually a heady mixture of cheese, wines and spices heated to the melting point over a special low flame. Guests then take cubes of French bread on special little skewers and dip them in. Actually, fondue can be more than a snack or appetizer. I've served a meat fondue as a complete meal. The basic trick is to get good quality, defatted beef or pork (let your butcher cube it for you!) and allow about 8 ounces per person. Put in the fondue dish about a pint of vegetable oil and heat. Then let each person skewer a cube and cook it to his liking. A nice touch is to add bowls of sauces to the table and let guests just dip in; I've had delicious luck with mixtures like sour-cream-and-chives, curry-and-cream, and dill-and-sour-cream. (If you can just set out some chili, ketchup or English mustard. Top off the fondue entree with a good salad, a huge pitcher of refreshing iced apple juice, or a full bodied Burgundy for wine fanciers—and you've got a meal that anyone would be fond of. Nobody minds getting "skewered" this way!

"AMBITION" — In ancient Rome, a mass meeting called "ambition" (from the Latin, ambire) the city soliciting the votes of the citizens. This practice was called "ambition" and indicated the candidate's desire for public office. In the modern sense, the meaning was extended to include all desire for personal advancement or achievement.

PUTTING ON THE DOG

Guest in the Brenda Marshall home this week is a friend of the family, Mary Lou Smith, of Arcadia.

Susan Reddick of Lake Wales is visiting with her cousins for a few days this week. Holly and Candi Reddick.

This is the time of year when the host becomes an open-air chef and his guests become inclined to undercooked hot dogs and overcooked hamburgers. In the spirit of the season mermaid Gene Young and Marianne Hope demonstrate how they'd handle the situation at Florida's Weeki Wachee should etiquette call for a cookout under water.

KIM FRAZEE holds trophies she has won. She will now compete in the "Little Miss World Pageant."

Kim Frazee To Compete In Dallas Pageant

Kim Frazee, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Frazee, of Fayetteville, N. C. and granddaughter of Bob Tuberville, 509 South Highlands, Avon Park, is making quite a name for herself in the dancing and entertainment field.

She will compete in the "Little Miss World Pageant" to be held August 15 through August 19 in Dallas, Tex. which will be televised nationally in color on August 18.

This past July, Kim received second runner-up in the "Our Little Miss Pageant" in Goldsboro, N. C. when each girl modeled a party dress, sports outfit, and demonstrated her talent. Kim chose a bright red sequin costume and danced to "When the Red Red Robin Goes Bob Bob Bob along."

She spent the past summer at Port Bragg Playhouse rehearsing for her part in the "Shakespearean play" "Mid-Summer Night Dream." She played the part of a fairy maid, which she loved and hated to see the final night come.

The mother, a dancing instructor, started teaching her at the early age of three, and within a short time Kim gave her first performance. She appeared on television at the age of six.

The young dancer attended Avon Park Elementary School in the first grade with Mrs. Robert Watts as her teacher. Her brothers and sister include Bryon, 9, John, 7, David, 3, and one sister, Lisa, 2 years old. Like Kim, Lisa also likes to dance and has already learned several tap steps.

Flood Control District To Levy Tax at Same Rate

A tax levy of 59/100 of a mill was approved Friday for the 18 counties of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District of which Highlands County is one.

This is the same millage as last year, which cost Highlands $54,891.77. Tax Assessor Billy Martin expressed surprise that the millage was the same for the county. "With valuations going up I thought it would be cut," he said. Martin estimated that the increased valuations in the county will up last year's cost about 10 per cent—or $5,469.

The flood control board which approved the millage, also approved plans for development of an 80-acre public recreation area on Hs Island at the North end of Lake Okkechoke.

A water sewer system, costing slightly more than $100,000, is nearly completed. A boat ramp, marina and rest room, which will be constructed by the FCD, and a caretaker or concessionaire will be hired. The site will be ready for campers and fishermen in time for the opening of the big "speck" fishing season in December.

Powell Waite Resigns Post At SFJC; To Join Broward

Dr. William A. Stallard, president of South Florida Junior College, announced that Powell Waite, business manager and instructor, has resigned, effective as of August 1, to accept the position of director of financial aid program at the Broward Junior College, Ft. Lauderdale.

Dr. Stallard stated that South Florida Junior College regrets the fact that we shall lose Mr. and Mrs. Waite from this community. Mr. Waite has been an effective and efficient director of service and contributed substantially to the growth and development of the Junior College. We were particularly fortunate in having him during the difficult period of planning and building of the new college. However, we realize that when the opportunity for advancement arises we can do no more than wish Mr. and Mrs. Waite well in their new endeavor.

Mr. Waite, as director of the financial aid program at the 6,000 student Broward Junior College, will be working under the Dean of Student Affairs. Part of his work includes overseeing a budget of approximately $250,000 and the distribution of scholarships, loans, and grants to students, E.O.G. or economic opportunity grants, college work study, both off and on campus, and law enforcement loans and grants.

Stan Tait, Secretary of State Candidate, Favors Reforms

In a year when conservation of natural resources is a big issue for politicians, Stan Tait is probably the only candidate with a "save our history" plank in his platform.

Tait, candidate for Democratic nomination for secretary of state, spent a day campaigning in Highlands County and repeatedly returned to his favorite theme—election reform and preservation of historical sites and documents.

Tait, an honor graduate of University of Miami, went to Tallahassee as a newsman. For five years he was staff correspondent for United Press International.

In 1961 he joined the Florida Secretary of State staff as administrative assistant, a post he resigned in March to begin his campaign for secretary of state. He thinks the new law requiring elected officials to resign when they decide to run for another office is "an excellent law." As Tait sees it a "full-time candidate" is a "part-time officeholder."

While working in the state office which supervises elections Tait authored a 26-point election reform program, and he is quick to point out some of his reforms have been adopted.

He is proud of the new law limiting campaign spending. He says he watched "from the inside" while "big campaign contributors had a chance to buy a piece of state government. Candidates sell their souls for contributions."

Save History But the unlikely subject of Florida's past brings a special light to Tait's eyes. "We've got to build archives and a state library. The present situation is disgraceful."

"Florida with the longest and perhaps most colorful history of any state keeps its priceless documents in pasteboard boxes in the abandoned Leon County

Mrs. Dickerson has been charged with aggravated assault, according to the sheriff's department, and has been released on $1,000 bond. The charge is a felony City Police Sgt. Presley Selph and Deputy Charles Sewell investigated the stabbing.

Florida Ranks Number One In Family Planning, HEW Reports

Florida ranked first among the 50 states in the number of women receiving family planning services according to a statistical summary of maternal and child health programs released by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Sunshine State made a good showing in the report for the fiscal year 1969, according to Dr. William T. Souder, director of the Division of Health, which is responsible for carrying out through the county health departments a major portion of the maternal and child health programs.

The summary listed statistics from the 50 states, plus Puerto Rico, Guam, District of Columbia and the Virgin Islands. The statistics were from monthly reports gathered by the health departments of the states and territories and forwarded to the Maternal and Child Health Services of HEW. Florida had 62,100 women receiving family planning services through county health department clinics but Dr. Souder said this number did not include these women who receive family planning services under other projects or agencies.

The Sunshine State also ranked second to Puerto Rico in the number of women provided maternity medical clinic services. Of the 42,000 women receiving these services, 19,700 were from metropolitan areas and 22,300 from non-metropolitan areas.

Florida ranked third, behind Puerto Rico and South Carolina, in the number of children under the age of 17 who were given nursing care; and fifth, behind Puerto Rico, California, New York and South Carolina, in the number of mothers provided with maternity nursing care.

Florida also ranked third, behind Puerto Rico and Missouri, in the number of children provided pediatric clinic services; fifth behind New York, Pennsylvania, Washington and Massachusetts, in the number of children provided school health examinations and screenings by physicians; and seventh in the providing of well-child conferences.

The number of children provided with immunizations, including boosters and re-vaccinations, Florida ranked among the top 10 states. The Sunshine State ranked second in measles immunizations, fifth in smallpox, eighth in polio, pertussis (whooping cough), and diphtheria and ninth in tetanus.

Florida also was one of 10 states listed with over 100 midwives. However, all of Florida's 120 midwives in 1969 were closely supervised and enrolled in classes or institutes. Dr. A. F. Caraway, chief of the Division of Health's Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, said that the old granny midwives are being phased out in Florida and hopefully replaced with highly-trained nurse-midwives.

Dr. Caraway said that the county health departments are doing a good job and their work is boosted by five federal subsidized Maternal and Infant Care Projects. These are located in Dade, Broward, Palm Beach and Orange Counties, and the 15-county area surrounding the University of Florida.

Program To Train Technicians For Retarded Begins

A two-year degree program to train technicians in the field of mental retardation has been inaugurated at St. Petersburg Junior College.

A program of scholarship funds to assist students who wish to enter this type work has been announced by the Florida Division of Mental Retardation.

Mrs. Virginia J. Hubbell, division representative in this area, said state and federal funds are being made available for the scholarships and hopefully will make possible awarding stipends of $1,000 for each of the two years the student would need to be at the junior college.

The St. Petersburg program, one of the first in the nation, is aimed at helping Florida meet the need for growing numbers of trained workers in Sunland facilities and community-based programs for the mentally retarded.

Students have opportunity for field experience in community programs as they study. Mrs. Hubbell pointed out applications for the scholarships are open to persons of any age who hold a high school diploma or its equivalent.

"ASSASSIN" — Back in the 11th century, a secret Muslim society gained power by terrorizing others through ritual murders. To gain the nerve for their horrible deeds, they used the drug hashish, a stronger cousin of marijuana. Arabs called the murderous group "hashashin" which in English became "assassin."

Getting Away With Murder

By DAVE LLEWELLYN

The Boston Strangler, Loeb and Leopold, Richard Speck— you remember these men, don't you? They were all murderers and they all became famous.

Perhaps you can still remember some details about their lives or their cases. Can you remember the names of any of their victims?

Probably not. It's peculiar, isn't it, that we are more able to recall the names of criminals than those of the virtuous people they wantonly killed?

I will leave you to think about this may illustrate concerning human nature. Because I want to tell your memory about the significance of a specific murder case.

What is the first incident that comes to your mind when you recall the murder of Abel by Cain?

Perhaps it is, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

"Don't Get Involved" Cain was the first advocate of non-involvement—though he espoused this philosophy only to hide his lack of concern for, indeed his hatred toward, indeed his murder of his brother.

Perhaps thinking of the Cain-Abel case causes you to ponder what a short step it is from anger to assault.

Nobody, thinking reasonably, judges it proper to attack another person unless responding to his attack. Yet, when anger "gets hold" of you, irresponsible actions follow.

Cain chose to be driven by this anger-inflamed evil, rather than to be controlled by God. Cain became "a fugitive and a wanderer," but he lived a long life and founded the first civilization.

It is interesting that God taught Israel that a murderer United First Methodist Church must be killed by his crime—yet, when God dealt with this murderer directly, He showed mercy and did not execute him. Also, it is interesting to see that Cain was, in some sense, "rehabilitated" and lived a productive and successful life.

More interesting still might be the fact that "Cain went out from the presence of Jehovah" and, as far as we know, never came back.

One rash action, done in anger, he allowed to separate him from God for the rest of his life.

If Cain's parents told him their story, he must have known that God was forgiving—that he could have come back to Him. But he was getting along all right on his own and apparently decided to leave well enough alone.

He Still Speaks Still, it is bad business to follow any course of action without ever personally investigating the alternatives.

The most interesting and the most significant aspect of this murder, however, we have not yet mentioned. Like our news media today, we have spent all our interest on the criminal and have space left for only a word or two on the significance of the victim.

Indeed, even in the Biblical account, only two verses describe Abel, while over 18 discuss Cain.

Yet the second person born was the more important. He was murdered because he knew God, and because he knew God, he was not afraid of death.

Thus the Epistle to the Hebrews says, not of Cain but of Abel, "He being dead, still speaks."

Barben Ties For First Twice At Golf Course

In weekly tournament action at the Avon Park Golf Course, two of the scheduled tournaments were rained out. The Ladies' Low Net game on Saturday was won by Neil Redd with a score of 75. Terry Akin placed second with a net 78.

In the Blind Partners play Saturday, Bob Barben managed to play on both of the teams which tied for first. Partners are drawn by chance, and since there was an odd number of players one name was drawn twice. The team of Bob Barben and Gus Sullivan tied with the team of Bob Barben and J. O. Allen with a score of net 62. Larry Pickett and Fred Sandlin placed second with a net 64.

Social Security Questions And Answers

Question — My father opened a bank account for our week-old son. The bank has asked for his social security number. I thought you had to work to get a number. Are they wrong, or am I?

Answer — Sorry, but you are wrong this time. The bank needs a social security number to report interest credited to his account to the Internal Revenue Service. You get an application blank from your social security office and complete it so that your son will have a number of his own.

Question — Someone told me my mother could receive a widow's pension although she is only 53 years old. Is this true?

Answer — Disabled widow's benefits are paid to women who (1) are widowed (2) are at least age 50 (3) and became unable to do any work within 7 years from the date her husband died or within 7 years after the time she drew benefits as a mother. Your mother should contact a Social Security Office for more detailed information.

Question — My sister says "yes" but my pharmacist says "no." Will Medicare pay for prescription drugs?

Answer — No. Prescription drugs are not covered by Medicare.

Question — I will be 65 years old in two months. I am working and not eligible for social security benefits. I've heard I should apply for Medicare anyway. Is this true? Can I be covered by Medicare?

You can enroll in the Medicare Program and have full coverage starting with the month you are 65 if you apply now. Your working does not affect your eligibility for Medicare in any way.

Isaac Hughes Receives Wound In Gun Mishap

Isaac Hughes, 74, of 905 Avenue A, Avon Park, was allegedly shot in the arm by Miss Jessie Walker, 45, Monday. Miss Walker, according to Police Chief Earl Gordon, was shooting at a tree and missed.

Bond on Miss Walker has been set at $2000 and she has been taken to Highlands County jail. The offense is considered a felony. She has been charged by Chief Gordon with carrying a concealed firearm, reckless display of a firearm, and aggravated assault. The city will charge her with discharging firearms in the city limits.

"CURFEW" — We hear this word a lot today, though it still has an old-fashioned flavor about it. It started in the Middle Ages, when peasants were required to cover their fires before nightfall. The signal for this was the ringing of the "curfew" bell. French for this is "couvreux." The 11th Century Normans took the word to England as "curfew" — the bell warning citizens it was time to be safely home.

Lions Club News

The Roaring Lions of Avon Park were pleased to have as their guest speakers on Tuesday evening, July 21, Sheriff Joe Keene and Chief Deputy Sheriff O. L. Raulerson.

After opening comments by Lion President Jack Acri, Lion Milton Giddens read an article on "How To Be A Good Lion." President Jack Acri reported that he and Lion Dick Enoch, along with their wives, attended the National Lions Convention in Atlantic City, N. J. on July 3-5.

Sheriff Joe Keene introduced his chief deputy, O. L. Raulerson, who spoke on drug abuse. Deputy Raulerson reported that at the close of 1967 some 62,045 active narcotic addicts were recorded in the U. S. and perhaps that many more were not recorded. Nearly 46 percent of these addicts are between ages 21 and 30.

An addict that has a $15 per day habit, some addicts require $100 per day, needs $3,475 per year to satisfy his habit. Most of these addicts cannot hold a job so they turn to crime in order to raise money.
It takes about $3.55 in stolen goods to get $1 cash. So, to support a $15 a day habit, the addict has to steal $50 worth of property a day or $18,250 a year. Assuming all addicts in the country use this method, and they don't, others rely on prostitution, shoplifting, burglary, forgery, theft of legitimate drugs or illegal production of drugs. More than $1,132,321,250 worth of merchandise must be stolen to provide narcotics for this country's addict population each year.

The taxpayer also pays the bill to rehabilitate the addict. A research psychiatrist for one treatment program indicates it costs his state approximately $1,300 a year to rehabilitate just one addict. Doctors in another program estimate six weeks of inpatient treatment followed by aftercare total $3,000. Just assuming these treatment programs were available to all addicts in the country, society would pick up a tab ranging from $62,300,000 to $186,000,000.

Deputy Raulerson reported that marijuana is present in Highlands County and that other hard drugs, such as heroin will be present in the near future unless the citizens of Highlands County cooperate to control drug abuse.

Anyone having knowledge of persons misusing drugs should call the Highlands County Sheriff's Department. All such information is kept strictly confidential.

CARD OF THANKS
I sincerely thank my many friends for their cards and prayers during my recent stay in the hospital. These kindnesses will always be remembered.

Citrus Growers To Vote On Orange Marketing Agreement

The proposed federal marketing agreement and order for oranges grown in the Interior District in Florida, which includes Highlands County, soon will be submitted to the growers for their approval.

Announcement was made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Consumer and Marketing Service, County Agent Bert Harris, Jr. said the marketing order has been in effect for several years. Ballots are expected shortly. Officials of the USDA agency said the provisions of the program are based on evidence received at a public hearing at Lakeland, June 24-27, 1969.

The new marketing agreement and order would authorize regulations limiting the weekly volume of shipments of fresh interior oranges for a maximum of 12 weeks in each season.

The weekly volume would be allocated among orange handlers, based on previous orange shipments. Whenever regulations are in effect, each handler's shipments would be limited to his allotment—except for under-shipment, over-shipment, loan and transfer privileges authorized in the program.

CAMS officials explained that shipments of all Florida oranges are regulated as to grade and size under provisions of a federal marketing order. Similar programs are in effect for Florida grapefruit. The program would be administered by a committee of growers and handlers. To become effective, the order must be favored by two-thirds of the producers, by number or volume of production voted in the referendum.

Ballots and voting instructions will be mailed to all known orange growers in the Interior District. Any grower who fails to receive a ballot may obtain one from his County Agricultural Agent or from M. P. Miller, Fruit and Vegetable Field Representative, Consumer and Marketing Service, USDA, Florida Citrus Mutual Building, P. O. Box 9, Lakeland, 33802.
