Central Florida Withdraws From Gas Intervention

City Council President Jack Duggan was scheduled to fly to Washington, D.C. Tuesday, to testify before the Federal Power Commission in connection with the city's application for a natural gas allocation to serve the city. Hearings began on Wednesday, June 24, and decision should be announced in about two weeks, according to city clerk Malcolm Crews.

Avon Park and Frostproof chose to apply to buy natural gas from the Florida Gas Company of Winter Park, Central Florida Gas Company of Winter Haven, however, had planned to contest the application because they wanted the right to sell the natural gas to Avon Park customers themselves. Since Central Florida Gas Company withdrew from contesting the application, Duggan's testimony was not necessary.

Sun Oil Company of Texas is continuing to contest Florida Gas's application for the natural gas rights for Avon Park and Frostproof, but neither Sun Oil nor the officials of the Federal Power Commission had any questions to ask the Avon Park city officials.

Thieves Take Loot Valued At $7,000 Over Weekend

Morris Adams' Union 76 Plans and Ridge Air Conditioning warehouses on Feagin Ave. were robbed of approximately $6,000 worth of merchandise between Friday evening and Saturday morning. The robbery was discovered by J. C. Gillard, truck driver and mechanic at Morris' plant. The case was investigated at about 6:30 A.M. by Police Chief Gordon, and the two patrolmen who were on duty during the night shift, Leroy Prevatt and Paul Ward. Officers Grady Campbell and Presley Selph patrolled the shift before Prevatt and Ward. Two other policemen, L. C. Conner and Robert Britt were also on duty until 2 A.M. on Saturday morning.

According to Morris Adams, 14 Carrier air conditioning units and 13 truck tires were stolen from his warehouse. Entrance was gained by cutting holes through aluminum sliding doors. The thieves stole a large quantity of battery acid, two calculators and an adding machine.

Adams, who is the former owner of the Texaco Bulk plant, stated that he was robbed three times while associated with Texaco from 1946 to 1966. He also said that the former owner of Ridge Air Conditioning, which Adams now owns, was also robbed of air conditioning.

Clyde Stirling's Market was also entered Friday night by cutting the lock on the back door, but nothing was taken. Sgt. Selph and Chief Gordon investigated that crime.

Lillard Wells' Texaco Bulk plant was entered sometime during the weekend, and the money was taken out of the file cabinet safe. Chief Gordon said that he did not know how entrance was gained. The shop is operated by James Sample and Mrs. Frank Ferrell, Gordon stated.

Earnest Sims, principal of Hopewell School, said that the school was robbed two times this week. Chief Gordon said that a green 20 inch fan was stolen but the robbery was not reported when it was missed Monday.

Everett, on Tuesday the principal contacted the police department that a Royal adding machine was stolen between Monday and Tuesday. A window was broken in order to gain entrance for the first robbery.

While working in Highlands County, Ann has been a member of the National and Florida Education Associations along with the Highlands County Education Association, which she has served as both president and vice president. She has been president for two years of the Highlands County Physical Education Association and served on state committees of the Florida Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and maintained membership in the parent organization, the

The city has applied for a $200,000 grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development and another $200,000 grant from the Department of the Interior. The remaining $2,150,000 would be financed through the sale of bonds and these bonds would be supported entirely through sewer and water revenue.

The basic provisions of the proposed plan include ground storage, aeration, clarification, high-speed pumping station and connection of "dead-end" lines to form loops. The purpose of these proposals is to bolster the transmission capacity of the system, alleviate pressure fluctuations, maintain adequate flow, protect against contamination which might enter the system, and meet necessary fire requirements.

The basic provisions of the sewer system provide for 200,000 feet of gravity sewer pipes, which, when added to the present facilities, would provide for the needs of the city's population, and six sewage collection subsystems to work in conjunction with the sewage treatment plant already existing at Lake Glenada.

Tuesday's Twilight Mixed Tournament was rained out but 32 golfers remained for the covered dish supper. The course's sprinkler system has been completed.

Avon Citrus League Champions

The Avon Citrus Bank Little League baseball team wrapped up its second straight season championship last week with a 12-2 record. The First Baptist team came in second with a 9-3 record. The season and the Rotary finished up 104 for third place this year.

The Lions finished fourth with a 8-3 mark and a new entry, Leo's, came in fifth with a 6-8 mark. Barking dogs, Cable TV, and lake front rights were among complaints presented the City Council Monday night.

At every session of the city council there are of course a variety of "grapes" to be acted upon. One of the complaints this week was the dog nuisance maintained at the residence of Julian Mery. Neighbors reported that the dogs remained tied in all kinds of weather and their chief source of self entertainment seemed to be all night barking. Complaints have been received from the Health Department. The council advised neighbors to swear out a

City Eliminated From License Exam Point

In the rush for consolidation, Avon Park has been eliminated as a point where State Drivers License Exams are given. In a letter from the Department of Public Safety, received by the city clerk, Avon Park was informed that after this Friday, June 26, people in Avon Park wishing to take the exams will have to go to Sebring or Lake Wales in Highlands County, or to Lake Wales to the north in Polk County. People wishing the number of applicants here every Friday were astonished that Avon Park was eliminated.

More than once the examining officer has been swamped with the number of applications for a single Friday's tests. Not only are there great numbers of local residents but often inmates being restored to full citizenship here every Friday were astonished that Avon Park was eliminated.

After some discussion of the problem by councilmen, a resolution was agreed upon requesting the Department of Public Safety to continue weekly examinations here.

Avon Park felt the squeeze this week also, from a Federal Agency. The city recently applied for a grant for sewer and waterworks improvement. A letter from H.U.D. was read before the city council inquiring as to the state of our long range planning for city improvements.

It is beginning to be felt by some that the applications for Federal grants are requiring so much advance study and analysis costs that there is little to be gained by a grant. A balance of over three thousand dollars for the past services by Dawkins and Associates remains to be paid. In this connection the city council approved the payment of $500.00 on the account.

Miss Ann Karrik Takes Position With School In Kentucky

Mt. Sterling, Ky., a medium sized community near Lexington, with a full scale high school physical education program for girls, will be the site for Miss Ann Karrik's work in the next school year. Avon Park has enjoyed Miss Karrik's services in both elementary and high school programs for the past eight years. New opportunities in home territory have won her a decision to move back to Kentucky in 1970.

Mothers of Avon Elementary students will recall their first meeting with Miss Karrik. It was a matter of discussion when parents found their first graders were going through a junior obstacle course on playground equipment. Some parents thought their children were too small for the walking ladder, but Miss Karrik insisted they walk through, fall from and learn to use each piece of playground equipment.

land in Tampa is in the planning stages for next Tuesday, June 30. If the plans firm up all elementary children including the preschoolers will be eligible to go and the trip will probably cost at least $1 per child. All elementary personnel would go to chaperone the children. Interested children should check next Monday to see if the trip will be possible.

Other activities at the Avon Elementary School will be reading and math instruction. Mrs. Metheny will teach first and second graders. Mrs. Murphy will teach third and fourth graders, and Miss Jackson will teach the fifth graders. Students are assigned reading or math classes when they register.

Mrs. Ellis will be happy to accept any recreation games local citizens may have in their homes that they would like to donate to the summer program. Look through the children's toys and clean out things while donating to a good cause!

Elementary Swimming Program

Avon Elementary School's swimming program will begin July 6 and continue through July 17 under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Collins. Classes will start at 9 A.M. each weekday and each class will last for approximately one hour. The classes will be in beginning swimming, advanced beginning swimming, and intermediate swimming. Each class will be limited to 10 students and it will be necessary for each student interested to register before classes start so they may be assigned to a particular class. All classes will be held at Lake Verona and students will be responsible for their own transportation. Mrs. Collins holds a Water Safety Instructor's certificate and Red Cross cards and buttons will be awarded to all students who pass the swimming tests. Students wishing to participate in this program should register at the Avon Elementary School with the recreation director.

Driver's Education Instructor Fred Sandlin will teach 29 students correct driving techniques during the summer program. To fulfill state requirements, the students must spend 30 hours in classroom instruction and six hours in practice driving. Wells Motor Company is supplying the class with a new car.

Difficulties have arisen in the driver's education program because of the state legislature's ruling concerning licensing young people. According to the new law, which becomes effective July 1, restricted licenses will be granted to those who are 15 years of age, and operator's licenses will be given to 16-year olds who have taken for pleasure and information. Reading periods are scheduled in one and two hour blocks of time, and the program will continue from 8 o'clock until noon and from 1 P.M. until 4 P.M. each afternoon. The library is air conditioned.

Large Crowd Gathers At Fire On Cornell Street

About 9:30 on Monday evening the fire alarm sounded and a large crowd gathered at the corner of Lotela Avenue and Cornell Street, (formerly better known as "the Sebring Road.") The lead-in wire of the house occupied by the William Pugh family shorted on a metal roof and created some brilliant fire sparks before the Power Co. workers to disconnect the line.

The speed of the fire department in arriving on the scene was a credit to the city but a long period of suspense draw a real crowd before the Power Co. reached the scene. Damage to the house was slight though precautions were taken by the firemen to prevent spread of the fire inside the walls. The house is in poor repair as the absentee owner, is planning to eventually rebuild on the site. Pugh evacuated his family quickly when the fire started although on a recent had left one of the seven children asleep in an upstairs room after he thought he had gotten them all out. The family will be without electric power temporarily, the house was re-occupied immediately after the fire.

Can Pain Death Ever Be Good?

By DAVE LLEWELLYN

The world's vast problems and our everyday ones are all reducible to two—just two problems—to which very few people are giving their direct attention. Politicians struggle for peace. Businessmen for prosperity. Psychologists and doctors for health and stability. All of us for security. Yet all are assaulting just the same two problems.

Pain. Death. Without pain and death there could be no oppression. No pain and no death would mean no war and no poverty, no sickness, and no punishment. And no fear.

There would be no alternative to life and happiness. If there were no pain, no death. If.

A Perfect World?

The world would be perfect if there were no pain or death, wouldn't it? No, it would not.

Without pain there would be no warning of sickness or injury. Accidents and colds would become chronic disabilities. No matter how careful we were, slowly we would become disabled, and eventually helpless.

Without death our world would be over-populated. No one would ever grow old. No one would move either. Though we carefully guarded against reproduction, there would be enough mistakes eventually to crowd us out of civilized life.

POWELL WAITE

Waite Reports To Rotary On Atlanta Convention

Powell Waite gave a most interesting report on the Rotary International Convention held May 31 to June 4 in Atlanta.

He had hoped to present two tapes he ordered, one with Rotary President James Conway's speech and also one by Police Chief of Detective, Ralph Salerno of New York, speaking on crime.

Powell was impressed with the international feeling prevailing and the friendly attitude expressed in the convention as well as in and about Atlanta.

He mentioned how proud he was of the badge he wore to identify himself to others as being part of the convention. He commented on the advantage it gave him traveling free on buses provided to connect hotels with the convention activities.

Among the extra convention activities offered was a tour of "Six Flags Over Georgia," a popular one on the first Saturday afternoon. Sunday afternoon at the formal opening ceremonies, flags of all Rotary affiliated nations were brought in by Boy Scouts and displayed in front of meeting.

He noted there were representatives from foreign nations present and ear phones provided so they could get translation from English.

Throughout the convention various artists entertained. One group especially noted was the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Robert Shaw.

Lester Maddox, Governor of Georgia, invited him to visit the Governor's Mansion, which he proclaimed to be the most expensive in the United States. He offered them a chance to see the two million dollar part, but regretted the other part under construction, costing another million, hasn't been finished as yet.

President Conway's opening address was accented on "Youth." This actually set the pace for the entire convention. Each morning the entire convention assembled in the large exhibition hall for general assembly.

In the afternoon they were separated into smaller groups meeting in several spots downtown. Powell mentioned William E. Walk, Jr. of Ontario, Calif. is the incoming Rotary International President.

Powell finished his talk by promoting questions and answers on various Rotary problems brought out at the convention, such as attendance, fellowship, projects in which to participate and ways to attract new members.

Also Fred Hughes to Family Night; Harold Guerdit to Barbecue; Dick Enock to Special Programs; J. T. Landress to Boys and Girls; C. H. Smith to Public Relations; Merrill Landress to Toys; Milton Giddens to Candy Sales; and George Kelley to House and Rules.

News

Friends of Albert and Art Reinhardt are sorry to hear of Al's death on Tuesday, June 16 in the Bucyrus Community Hospital, Ohio. He was a retired photographer and world traveler and had been generous in sharing his pictures at the club. He had visited Thailand, Japan, Panama Canal, China, India, several countries in Africa and many in Europe. He had also written articles and given lectures about his many trips. He and his brother won many trophies in the shuffleboard tournaments.

Word from the Russell Smiths says they are having wonderful weather in Tiro, Ohio, where they live and they particularly enjoy their garden. They have been to see the Keiters who live only 14 miles from them. The Keiters are well and happy. The Smiths will celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary on June 25.

Burnett Resumes Control Of Local Boat Company

J. Albert Burnett, former principal stockholder of Critchfield Marine, bought the company from Quadren, Inc., of New York City, on Tuesday, June 18. Burnett and William Critchfield sold the large fiberglass boat production plant on Wausatcha Road 10 months ago to Quadren, Inc., but Quadren lost $600,000 in the interim period and went bankrupt.

Last Friday, June 26, Burnett filled temporary reorganization plans in the Federal Court in Miami, which were approved by the court. He is presently filing permanent reorganization plans with the Federal Court.

In a special meeting on Monday evening, the city council voted to reduce the rental on Critchfield Marine to $50 per month to help the company regain its financial footing. It was also reported at that time that Critchfield's 15 largest creditors favored the reorganization plans of the company. The company plans to pay 20 cents for each dollar of credit owed to the creditors. The City of Miami also made a generous effort by erasing a $75,000 debt which Critchfield Marine was to pay the bank.

Burnett's plan for reorganization contains two provisions which make it attractive. The first is that Burnett has agreed to work for three years without receiving any salary, benefits from profit-sharing, or other income from the business. The second is that he has promised to invest $75,000 of his own money in the company once the reorganization plans have been accepted.

Burnett said that the plant began producing two to three boats per day as of Monday, June 29. He plans to be producing nine to 12 boats daily by January or February of next year.

Began in 1951, Critchfield, of Orlando, began his boat business in 1951 by building wooden boats in his carpenter's shop. In 1956-57, he began making fiberglass boats by hand. Critchfield incorporated his business in 1963, and Burnett bought 51 percent of the stock in January of 1968. In addition to the plant here in Avon Park, Critchfield owned a smaller operation in Orlando named Seacraft, and Burnett bought 40 percent of this smaller company as well. These men sold all of their stock to Quadren, Inc. in September and October of 1969, and Critchfield remained associated with the two boat businesses during the 10-month period, but Burnett left the business.

According to Burnett, Quadren, Inc. was composed of five principal men, one investor and four businessmen, in addition to several other members of the corporation. This group owned other boat companies and intended to sell stock publicly, but was not able to make the stock public because of stock market problems. As a result, their potential source of income was dried up, and the business went bankrupt.

When Burnett and Critchfield bought their stock from Quadren, Critchfield bought Burnett's 40 percent of Seacraft, and Burnett bought Critchfield's 49 percent of Critchfield Marine, and Burnett became sole owner of Critchfield Marine.

Burnett plans to live in Avon Park for at least the next three years. His home since 1965 has been in Winter Park, a city bordering Orlando.

He lived on Lake Lotela for about a year and a half during his previous association with Critchfield Marine. Now he plans to live in Avon Park five days a week and go to Winter Park on the weekends.

He started, some years ago, a drive-in restaurant franchise business which included 243 restaurants operating under his franchise when he sold the business in 1962. He also has dealt with over-the-counter stock investments and real estate. He presently owns the Mercedes-Benz, Porsche-Audi, Renault, Peugeot, and NSU (a new import) dealerships in Orlando.

Sizemore Gets Scholarship To FSC in Lakeland

Robert Sizemore signed a two-year baseball scholarship with Florida Southern College of Lakeland Thursday, June 25. Sizemore, who played for South Florida Junior College for his first two years, will receive $2100 per year toward his expenses at Florida Southern.

The ace pitcher and outfielder pitched for South Florida and Avon Park High School. In 1968, while a senior at the high school, Robert received the Ed Gough Memorial trophy for being the school's most valuable baseball player that year.

Robert was a member of SPJC's Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic fraternity. His grade point average was 3.3 and he was on the dean's list for his final semester at the school. He is a math major and plans to teach after completing his college work, and may eventually enter the computer field.

Robert was signed up by Florida Southern College's Charles Anderson, formerly of Avon Park. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sizemore.

Griffin Won't Run In Race For Governor's Seat

Former Florida State Senator Ben Hill Griffin has announced that he will not seek the governor's seat in coming elections. Griffin said, "After much serious thought and careful consideration I have decided not to seek the office of governor."

"I appreciate all of the people who urged me to run and who have pledged their support," he continued. "Their enthusiasm made a tough decision even more difficult."

Griffin concluded by saying, "I enjoyed my 12 1/2 years of public service as a member of the legislature and will continue to have a keen interest in our government but I will not be a candidate in the September primaries."

Highlands Desegregation Plans Meet With Federal Approval

Highlands County schools' amended desegregation plan has been formally approved—barely ahead of the notice placing all non-complying school districts in federal court.

County School Superintendent George F. Douglas received formal notice in a letter from U.S. Senator F. Claiborne Felton, director of the Office for Civil Rights, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He wrote, "We find the plan adequate to accomplish the purpose of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, provided it is implemented fully by the opening of the 1970-71 school year."

The letter reviews the major points of the revised plan which provides for assigning all Sebring sixth graders to E. O. Douglas High, all Avon Park fifth graders to Hopewell, the closing of Carver School at Lake Placid, racial balance in the teaching staff and "operation of the school system . . . on a racially nondiscriminatory, non-segregated basis."

At as soon as the local high schools have filed a confirmation that this is the Highlands County plan, Felton's office will "quickly notify the State Education Agency that the deferral of application for Federal assistance for new activities can be lifted" and "your district will be eligible to receive all classes of Federal financial assistance."

Suits to Be Filed

Supt. Douglas told the Highlands board at a special meeting Tuesday that all non-complying districts whose desegregation plans have not been approved by Monday will automatically become defendants in suits instituted by the Department of Justice.

Private School To Open In Avon Park This Fall

Plans were revealed this week for launching of a private elementary school in Avon Park. The new school, to be known as Park Academy Private School Inc., will be located on Jackson St. just off North Lake Ave. The school, for fifth grade only, will begin in early September and will be in the 1970-71 school year, about virtually the same campus as Highlands County's public schools. The school has been established by a new corporation headed by Sanford Hart, Highlands County agricultural leader who is serving as the corporation president.

Bill Thompson is vice president, and Mrs. Albert Cain is secretary-treasurer. Steve Edwards is chairman of the board for the corporation. Albert Cain, vice chairman. Members of the board of directors are Mrs. B. C. Osting, William Mongro, Mrs. Della Williams, Can, Roberts, Thompson and Hart.

Mrs. Louise Gregg, for the past two years a teacher in teaching in elementary school, has accepted the position of teacher for the new academy.

The directors said today that the kindergarten school will have a maximum enrollment of 22. We have a few places available and applications are being accepted from students who have completed fourth grade level work. Hart said.

Newspaper adds this week announced application procedures of the academy.

Vandals Destroy Signs and Other Property Sunday

Vandals destroyed between 25 and 30 signs and other pieces of government property between 3 A.M. and 4 A.M. Sunday morning according to Police Chief Earl Gordon. The chief estimated the cost of replacing the signs to be between $500 and $600.

A U. S. Post Office collection box on a concrete stand was overturned and a private mailbox was knocked down, which are federal offenses. Several state and city signs were ruined. Chief Gordon says that the signs were probably pushed down and run over by someone driving a car.

Gordon announced that a new ruling took effect July 1 concerning violations of the state's muffler law. He said that first-time offenders will be fined $17 and $27 for the second violation. The city previously gave warnings before actually fining, and the offenders were required to have their mufflers inspected. Now the violators will pay fines as well as have their cars inspected.

The law prohibits cars from making excessive, unusual noise, or annoying smoke. It also states that "no person shall use a muffler, cut-out, by-pass, or other device which causes a public highway."

Paul Curlee was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after knocking down a power pole some time after the pole when he was driving south on US 27 across from the Hess service station and drove his car to Prairie Street before parking it. Chief Gordon estimated damage to the power pole at $159 and to Curlee's car at $100.
