THE BUREAU of Alcoholic Rehabilitation (BAR). Avon Park, has been named the southeast regional winner for in-plant printing in 3M Company's nationwide 1971 Printing Job of the Year contest. Last Friday, Jan. 7, Harold Walker (right), graduate of Avon Park High School, received plaque for Public Education section from Jim Adair, sales representative for 3M Co. in the BAR pressroom. The winning entry, a booklet titled "The Exquisite Pain—Married to an Alcoholic," was one of 13 regional winners of 2,400 entries. Eight thousand copies of the award winning booklet are now available without cost to the husbands and wives of problem-drinking spouses.

Chamber Plans More Work On Projects Already In City

Charles R. Watson, president of Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, told the Avon Park City Councilmen the City of Avon Park had one of the most successful years ever, in 1971.

Watson, representing the chamber of commerce at the regular city council meeting Monday night, said "from right to left people come in the chamber office every day inquiring about homes in Avon Park."

Watson went on to say, "instead of trying to bring new industry to Avon Park in 1972, the chamber is planning to work on all worthwhile projects already in the city."

Watson reported Alma Hooper, executive secretary of the chamber of commerce had resigned and former secretary Anna Belle Worden has returned as new executive manager of the chamber.

Watson commented on the fine job Mrs. Hooper had done, and added "we were fortunate in getting Mrs. Worden back."

Watson also mentioned the fine work the police and fire departments did in handling the traffic for the big Christmas parade. He said the parade was a huge success with over 60 floats participating.

Councilman Jack Dugan was recommended by Watson to be appointed to the chamber of commerce board of directors.

John Lowe of Dawkins & Associates, Inc., (consulting engineers) and Bob Herman, representing Avon Investment Co., appeared before the council to discuss sewer service for development on North Lake Ave.

Herman, a builder, said he plans to build approximately 100 apartments in that area if he could get city sewer hook-up. He said he would pay $10,000 if the city would pay the balance.

The council authorized Dawkins and Associates to prepare necessary plans for state approval and for taking of construction bids to extend sewers to property of Avon Investment Co. on North Lake Ave., at a maximum engineering fee of $3,100.

Fire Chief Mack Flowers requested permission from the council to send a volunteer fireman to a training school at Ocala for two weeks. The council approved sending volunteer fireman Lathan Smith, to the school, the cost not to exceed $100.

Flowers also requested the assistant fire chief position not to be filled, and for two captain positions be created, one for each shift. The council agreed with Flowers that it was best to have a man in charge on each shift.

Council President Dugan asked Flowers about the ambulance making a run outside the city limits. Flowers said this was done in error and that he had informed his men on the limits the ambulance should go. The city ambulance is operated by the police and fire departments.

Dugan also requested information on the city police working on an accident at Avon Park Lakes, this accident being the one on December 23 when an Avon Park boy lost his life.

Police Chief Ferland Cribb said one car was dispatched with the ambulance and that highway patrol had called in and requested city police to help them because their nearest patrol car was in the south end of the county.

Chief Cribb said "a call came in informing them a boy was pinned beneath his car, and with no other help around, he automatically went to his aid."

The council agreed that Chief Cribb did the right thing, but cautioned on going outside the city limits without a good cause.

A group of agriculturally oriented central Florida counties want a legislative district of their own.

And Highlands County has taken the lead in the move to link Highlands, Glades, Hendry, Okeechobee, DeSoto and Hardee Counties into a new legislative district.

Preliminary plans for such a district were informally presented to Sen. Wilbur Boyd prior to the state-wide re-apportionment hearing in Tallahassee Tuesday afternoon.

Delegations of elected officials from each of the counties in the proposed district are expected to attend the legislative hearing at the Highlands County courthouse next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Boyd, who represents Highlands County in the Florida Senate, is expected to chair the legislative hearing here. He is serving as chairman of the committee working on re-drawing the lines for the state's legislative districts. He has told Highlands officials he and the other members of the county's legislative delegation—Representatives Granville Crabtree, Jim Tillman and Bob Johnson will discuss the plan with the officials and the general public present for the hearing.

Dunty Plan R. P. Dunty, Jr., attorney for Highlands County commission, unveiled the central Florida plan at a special meeting of the county commission on Monday.

Over the weekend he had enlisted the aid of Circuit Court Clerk Earl Rich and Administrative Assistant Charles Cullen in contacting officials in the counties in the proposed new district. They reported good reception in all counties.

At present Highlands is linked with DeSoto, Charlotte and Sarasota Counties for its House district, with Hardee and Manatee Counties for its Senate district.

The districts for both House and Senate in general follow an east-west alignment with the agriculturally oriented central Florida counties each linked with a large, urban coastal county.

Public officials in these interior counties complain constantly of being the "step-children of the salt water counties."

Resolution Authorized At its meeting Monday the Highlands commission authorized Dunty to prepare a formal resolution which it will seek to have approved by the commissions in Glades, Hendry, Okeechobee, DeSoto and Hardee Counties.

The resolution states that these counties "prefer to be grouped with counties with common interests."

Dunty also noted that linking of several smaller counties more nearly approaches equal representation, with residents of one county having equal chance for election in a district-wide election.

These smaller counties now complain that the new county in their respective districts always elects its candidates for the Legislature. Highlands now is represented by three Sarasota Representatives and a Manatee County Senator.

According to the 1970 United States Census, Highlands has a population of nearly 30,000; Glades, 4,000; Hendry, 12,000; Okeechobee, 12,000; DeSoto, 13,000; Hardee 15,000. The combined population is over 85,000, or well above the minimum 65,000 population base used in the last re-apportionment of legislative districts.

At the meeting Monday plans were laid for Dunty, Commissioners Cecil Skipper, Ben McGee and Sheriff O. L. Raulerson, Jr. to go to Tallahassee Tuesday to attend the re-apportionment

Commissioner McGee said after telephone conversations with Sen. Boyd Monday night the Highlands County commission canceled their trip in favor of a more detailed hearing here on Jan. 18.

The Highlands county Democratic Executive committee has been actively pushing for an alignment of central Florida counties with citrus and cattle interests.

They will discuss this at their meeting tonight (Thursday) in Highlands county courthouse, chairman Edna Pearce Luckett announced.

The advent of home rule has drastically reduced the agenda for the annual public hearing of the Highlands County legislative delegation, but a sizeable delegation is expected for the hearing at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the county commission meeting room at the courthouse.

In recent years the hearing has attracted growing numbers of citizens who come to express their ideas on pending state-wide legislation.

Number one item on the agenda is legislative re-districting with Highlands County commissioners leading a fight for establishment of a central Florida district.

Highlands County commissioners are also expected to go on record opposing a pre-billed law to remove the counties' immunity from certain kinds of damage suits.

At its meeting tonight (Thursday) the county school board will consider legislative requests it may wish to present.

Robinson, Hicks and Sumners managed nine points each and Harris hit for six while Williams scored five before he left the game. The

Friends of The Library

The Avon Park Library is one of the oldest continuing facilities in our City. It has grown over the years from the small book exchange which was begun by the Sebring families who settled here into the present library facilities now located on East Main Street.

What gives a community its character, or whatever a visitor sees that makes him say, "This is a good town?" Attractive homes, tree-lined streets, modern store fronts, churches, convenient parking; all these and much more.

A modern library with books and materials tailored to the interests and needs of the community; with a lounge where friends can meet to read; a circulating phonograph record collection that may be played at the library; space to display arts; rooms for children's story telling hours and reading programs; all these and many other features if our library can expand with the growing needs of our City.

Everyone is invited to join the Friends of the Library and participate in furthering the growth of the Avon Park Library.

Friday morning, Jan. 14, at 9:30 at the Chamber of Commerce conference room, you are invited to meet with the persons who are interested in forming a Friends of the Library in Avon Park.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

My "shock treatment" certainly received attention. We can only hope it has some good results.

Unfortunately I am not clairvoyant so could not know that there were unfortunate circumstances in this instance which explained this neglect of duty, and Mr. Hooper's letter said nothing to justify it but merely lashed out at me and my generation.

On the fortunate side, a Girl Scout leader called me, and, without malice, explained the circumstances. So I apologize to Mr. Hooper, his sons, and to their parents, for having used them to emphasize a continuing neglect.

Also because Mr. Hooper thinks I should, and because I now know about it, I thank the Girl Scouts who made the Christmas season brighter for those at Rest Haven. (I do this even though I have no connection with Rest Haven).

In learning of this I also learned something more important—that these girls visit Rest Haven once a month. They are to be commended for this. Too often groups make a big display of attention during the Christmas season and then put the old folks "on the shelf" until next Christmas.

I do think there are some things in Mr. Hooper's letter that need clarifying. He and too many of his generation think that my generation was born into a perfect world. I'm sorry that Mr. Hooper was not a good history student. Had he been he would know that there have been problems and troubles since the beginning of time.

Yes, my generation made mistakes, just as generations before us did, and just as Mr. Hooper's generation is now doing.

On the other side, the youth of today have many advantages, some of which can be credited to my generation.

However, we did have one advantage the youth of today do not have. We were taught that we were responsible for our own behavior, and that by it we could make the world a little better or a little worse. We were not encouraged to blame the problems of our time on our grandparents or great-grandparents, nor would these helping to mold our character have made such a statement.

By answering the following questions each scout leader can decide whether they think my statements were justified.

1. Do you insist that members of your troop refrain from defacing furniture or otherwise destroying property at the places loaned to them for meetings and do you insist that each member do his or her share to put the place in order before leaving? And do you take appropriate action when this order is ignored?

2. Have you ever at the end of the year suggested to your troop that they write a note of thanks for the free use of their meeting place? Or have they ever done so on their own?

Yes, I am a generation or so off, as Mr. Hooper put it. Which means I have had a generation or so longer to observe and to learn.

Elsie B. Hall

Dear Mr. Carter:

You have always been generous in your paper with good coverage space for the activities of various clubs, etc. in our City, and I for one, wish to thank you for this service.

Being among those who are actively engaged in church and club work, I could say with the other busy people that Avon Park does not need another organization.

However, I am planning to give some of my time to help with organizing a Friends of the Library here because I am convinced that it can become a valuable asset to our local Library. Many of my friends who are familiar with the library needs agree and therefore we are inviting others to join us in this effort.

We have set a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office for next Friday morning, Jan. 14, at 9:30 at which time we shall discuss some of these needs and appoint temporary officers for a Friends of the Library organization. We urge others to meet with us at that time.

We shall appreciate your assistance in this effort.

Sincerely, Leoma Maxwell

Flimflam Men

Avon Park Building Inspector S.L. Parkinson warned local citizens to be on the lookout for flimflam men that are now in this area of the state. Parkinson said these men prey on the building trade, promising to do roof repairs, septic tank, plumbing repairs, house painting, etc. Parkinson said if any of these men approach you and if you have any doubt to contact him at the city hall.

—To advertise for bids for cleaning, painting, and repair of the 50,000 gallon and the 150,000 gallon elevated water storage tanks.

—To pay fee of 1/2 per cent each to county tax collector and county tax assessor as negotiated.

—It was announced that a legislative hearing would be held at the courthouse in Sebring on January 18 at 10 a.m. Councilman Sizemore discussed needed clarification of the City Civil Service law. City Attorney Jack Hancock will represent the city at this meeting.

—Councilman Sizemore also asked about city control of horseback riding in the Mall and across private property. City Clerk Malcolm Crews said if any member of the city council see anyone riding a horse in the Mall or on private property to call the police station. The police have been instructed to stop this practice.

Police Report
According to Police Chief Ferland Cribb, there were 71 arrests made during the month of December in Avon Park. There were 8,347 miles patrolled cars, 25 accidents, 139 services rendered, 264 complaints and investigations, 403 meals served at city jail, and the prisoners worked 816 hours.

Fire Department Report
The Avon Park fire department answered 37 alarms during the month of December. There were 10 fires, 10 false alarms, one grass or weeds, three construction fires, one total fire loss for month, none; total fire loss to date, $1,250. The fire department held one drill practice with 14 men present.

When an emergency transfer is made from either of the hospitals in county to an out-of-county hospital, the pickup fee is cut to $20 but the out-of-county rate remains $1 per mile.

The commissioners, who had repeatedly said they do not wish to be in competition to private business, said the rates have been patterned after those used by the private ambulance services in the county.

The commission policy provides that services to indigent persons may be free when emergency medical attention is necessary.

Those attending were: Mrs. Roberta Flowers, president, Avon Park; Mrs. Nell Bellamy, first vice president, Palmetto; Mrs. Myrtle Wright, second vice president, Boynton Beach; Mrs. Letha Fowler, secretary, Fort Pierce; Mrs. Claire Sachse, treasurer, Orlando; Mrs. Glenna Webb, chaplain, Delray Beach; Mrs. Barbara Blankenbiller, parliamentarian, Orlando; and Mrs. Augusta Cote, DBF secretary-treasurer, Jacksonville.

Bill Bellamy, Gene Wright, Bill Fowler, Don Webb and Conrad Cote accompanied their wives to this meeting and made a tour of the Firemen's Association Building on U. S. Hwy. 27.

Gr. High "Five" Host Sebring Jr. Team Tonight
Coach Ken Shackelford's 8th and 9th grade basketball team will play its first home game tonight (Thursday) at the new high school gymnasium.

Emergency Ambulance Service Will Charge $25 For County Pick-Up

Highlands County commission has rounded out arrangements for its emergency ambulance service by establishing who collects and how much.

The Sheriff's Department began operation of a county-wide emergency ambulance service on Jan. 1, but financial arrangements were not nailed down until a special county commission meeting Monday.

The commission set a basic fee of $25 for a pick-up anywhere in the county. When the patient must be taken to an out-of-county hospital an additional fee of $1 per mile will be charged from the Highlands County line to destination.

When an emergency transfer is made from either of the hospitals in county to an out-of-county hospital, the pickup fee is cut to $20 but the out-of-county rate remains $1 per mile.

The commissioners, who had repeatedly said they do not wish to be in competition to private business, said the rates have been patterned after those used by the private ambulance services in the county.

The commission policy provides that services to indigent persons may be free when emergency medical attention is necessary.

Those attending were: Mrs. Roberta Flowers, president, Avon Park; Mrs. Nell Bellamy, first vice president, Palmetto; Mrs. Myrtle Wright, second vice president, Boynton Beach; Mrs. Letha Fowler, secretary, Fort Pierce; Mrs. Claire Sachse, treasurer, Orlando; Mrs. Glenna Webb, chaplain, Delray Beach; Mrs. Barbara Blankenbiller, parliamentarian, Orlando; and Mrs. Augusta Cote, DBF secretary-treasurer, Jacksonville.

Bill Bellamy, Gene Wright, Bill Fowler, Don Webb and Conrad Cote accompanied their wives to this meeting and made a tour of the Firemen's Association Building on U. S. Hwy. 27.

Know Your Hospital

by John McCellan
Administrator
Walker Memorial Hospital

One of the most misunderstood departments of a hospital is the emergency department. Perhaps one of the reasons for this misunderstanding is that everyone has a different definition for an emergency. How would you define an emergency? It's easy enough to say that an emergency department's purpose is to take care of emergencies.

I made a study of a recent month in which 229 individuals presented themselves to the emergency department. Of these, 76 cases could be classified as emergencies, while 153 individuals showed up at the emergency department under non-emergency situations. From the 76 emergencies, 50 were actually admitted to the hospital. Ideally speaking, the emergency department should be staffed with a physician around the clock, however, with 76 cases being presented to the emergency department in the period of a month, it would be tremendously inefficient to have the emergency department staffed with doctors who have no other duties. Therefore, members of the medical staff take turns being on call for the emergency department, while caring for their regular practice. They do this without remuneration from the hospital.

To many people who have watched television shows about hospitals, emergency room brings to mind visions of interns and residents who are largely responsible for the care of emergency patients. However, hospitals in small communities can rarely obtain the service of this type of doctor. Neither of the hospitals in Highlands County are staffed in this manner.

Doctors don't really mind being called out for real emergencies. However, after working hard all day in the office and seeing several patients in the hospital, being called at 3:00 o'clock in the morning for a sore throat seems a little ridiculous, especially when the patient could have gone to the doctor's office during the day.

Individuals show up at the emergency department sometimes demanding to see a doctor for a condition which has been in existence for days, weeks or even months, and then fail to understand why the hospital and the doctor request the patient to go to the doctor's office the next day rather than be seen in the middle of the night.

If an emergency arises, we advise you to call your own doctor. If he is unable to take care of the problem without either of you going to the emergency department, it will mean a considerable financial saving to you.

BY FAYE GORDON

Three little words are used to tell you how your light bulbs will perform and what you're getting for your money in the way of light. Though ratings of bulbs is not new, ratings now are required to appear on the jackets in which your bulbs are packaged or on the bulbs themselves.

The labeling applies to the regular screw-in bulbs you normally buy for home use, from 15 to 150 watts. Labels should include these three ratings: Watts-Wattage measures only the amount of electricity going into a bulb, not the amount of light you get out of it. Light bulbs using the same wattage do not necessarily produce the same amount of light.

Lumens—The actual light output or brightness produced by the bulb is measured in lumens. The brightness of your bulbs will be noted in terms of "average initial lumens," which means the amount of real light output the bulb is designed to give you, on the average, when you begin using it.

Bulb life—The "life" tells you how long the bulb is expected to last. This will be expressed as "average laboratory life," and means the number of hours of use you may expect to get from the bulb, on the average, before it burns out.

The purpose of printing the three ratings on the bulb jackets is to give you more of the information you'll need to buy the right bulb for the right job.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY PARTY
The club house was filled to capacity Sunday afternoon to pay honor to those seven couples who have been married 50 years in 1971: Earl and Dorothy Baxter, George and Dorothy Hanners, Robert and Martha McBeth, Welcome and Ula Miller, Linville and Treadie Myers, Clyde and Alda Peter and Olin and Sadie Slingluff.

The stage was set up as a boat and the honored couples were escorted on board to the strains of "Here Comes The Bride". No one got sea sick. The couples introduced as they came up the gang plank to the deck.

There were group pictures taken on shipboard, and a short cruise to Hawaii, where they were greeted by the hospital Hawaiians with leis.

The musical party of the program was especially good. A violin solo "The Hawaiian Wedding Song" by Albert Scherist played a beautiful selection on the cello, his prize possession of over 50 years. Gerrold Perkins at the piano, accompanied both Mr. Cushing and Mr. Scherist.

The Serenaders, a quartet, composed of Evelyn Jones, Shirley Gassler, Alexis Day and Evelyn Metcalf. They were wonderful, it was singing at its best. They were accompanied by Don Meiser.

All in all it was a wonderful party that will long be remembered.

Chairman of The Board of Trustees Of Highlands School Died Jan. 9

Dr. J. Paul Lindsay, chairman of the Board of Trustees of The Highlands School, died in his sleep during the night of Sunday, January 9, at his home in Decatur, Georgia.

His death, at age 56, came as a shock and a stunning sense of bereavement to his many friends and associates in this area. Since his appointment as chairman of the board, unanimously approved by the Nominating Committee of the Board more than a year ago, Dr. Lindsay had devoted all his available time to furthering the interests of The Highlands School, and had planned to make his home here in the near future.

Dr. Lindsay was engaged in private practice in Atlanta, Ga., since 1967 and acted as Director of Emergency Services at Georgia Baptist Hospital in that city. Since 1968 he had been consultant to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on medical affairs.

He was associate director and Professor in the Department of Preventive Medicine at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Institute Hospital in New York from 1961 to 1963 and later became a member of the American Medical Association Committee on Continuing Education.

Dr. Lindsay received his M.D. from Vanderbilt University after obtaining a B.S. from the University of Tennessee and a Master's degree from George Peabody College. During World War Two he served in both the European and Pacific theatres of war, receiving the Purple Heart and a Presidential Citation.

DR. J. PAUL LINDSAY

Dr. Lindsay was survived by his wife, Virginia; sons, John and Mark; and daughter, Becky. Funeral services were held in Decatur, Georgia, on Wednesday, with burial Thursday, Jan. 13, (today) in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Weather Sub-Station Helpful

The Avon Park Sub station, one of 12,000 volunteer cooperative weather observers together with 300 other regular weather stations, form the base for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

The Avon Park Station, located almost exactly halfway between the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean, is at an altitude of 133 feet above sea level and has standard sub-station equipment.

The station also has a test well in which the water stands at 109.7 feet above sea level as of January 1, 1972, a decrease of 1.7 feet since December 1, 1971. Avon Park received only 4 1/2 inches of rain in 1971.

The Avon Park station transmits weather data to the regional headquarters at Fort Worth, Texas, to the climatography section at Asheville, N.C., to the National Weather Service for the State of Florida in Lakeland, and local news media in cooperating with the severe weather office in Jacksonville during the hurricane season.

These weather records determine what clothing, fuel, types of food supplies furnished to army posts throughout the United States. In peace time they are used over and over to solve problems of agriculture, business, industry and commerce, and assisting in preparedness for future national emergencies.

Don Sisemore and Ted Long On All-State Second Team

Red Devils Don Sisemore and Ted Long were honored again recently as they were picked for the Class AA All-State second team in football as quarterback and center. Named to this team was Red Devil Randy Ward at tackle.

Sisemore quarterbacked for the Avon Park eleven for four straight years breaking in as a freshman seeing plenty of action that last season was over. The senior all-around athlete stands 5'8" tall and weighs in at 146 pounds. He also played defensive back for the Avon Park team, kicked off, punted, and kicked field goals and extra points during his four years with the Devils.

Long, a 6'11", 215 pounder, handled the centering chores for the Devils this season very capably. Ted has played in the Avon Park football program all through his junior and senior high school and helped the Devils to the fine 7-3 record this year.

Ward was handicapped this year when he was injured and sidelined half of the season. The 22-pound, 6'3" tackle had impressed opposing coaches and players for two years and was named to this team but still played such outstanding ball as to make the Class AA all-state third team. Randy was a four year starter for Avon Park and was named to the squad and the fine coaching staff at Avon Park High School.

Avon Park fans congratulate these three Red Devil football players along with the other members of the squad and the fine coaching staff at Avon Park High School.

Healing often occurs psychologically before it happens physically. The "will to live" and the confidence that renewed health is possible, doctors say, sometimes determine the outcome of critical cases more than medicine.

Jesus healed the bodies of so many people that the accounts seem fantastic, incredible. One or two miraculous cures might be rationally acceptable, but not hundreds. Objections to the number of Jesus' miracles have several possible causes.

First, the fewer supernatural claims, the easier it is to explain them by natural causes. The impossibility of explaining away so many improbabilities forces any thoughtful person to accept the claims at face value and to decide who Jesus really was — a charlatan or God.

Second, the American love of statistics and high numbers has made many people distrustful of Jesus' healing power. They want to establish proof of His divinity, one indisputable miracle would have been enough.

People were not healed by Jesus for their testimonial value. However, over and over again He enjoined people to "tell no one what has happened to you." Further, the New Testament does appeal to a single indisputable miracle to verify Jesus' divinity — the resurrection: Jesus was "declared in an act of power to be the Son of God by His resurrection from the dead" (Romans 1:4), and Paul admitted further "if Christ has not been raised, your faith is worthless." (1 Corinthians 15:17)

Third, if Jesus healed so many people why didn't He heal everybody? Six times, in Luke's account, Jesus healed groups of people, the smallest being 10 lepers and the others large masses. Why not just everybody?

In a sense, Jesus did heal everybody. No one who ever came to Him for healing was refused, but apparently Jesus never healed anyone against his will.

Jesus converted, to Luke's account, with 17 individuals as He healed them, and often He praised and encouraged their faith. For example, to a woman He cured of a 12-year hemorrhage Jesus said, "Daughter, your faith has rescued you." (Luke 8:48)

Her confidence in Jesus, of course, had not healed her body, or else she would not have needed to come to Him. Jesus' power healed her physically, while her faith had kept her healthy mentally, emotionally, and spiritually. Had she lost faith because of the failure of all her doctors, she would have died miserably, simply because she would never have bothered to reach out to Jesus.

People today, as then, don't want Jesus to heal them, because He recreates the whole man and, in some aspects, they prefer to remain sick.

Healing often occurs psychologically before it happens physically. The "will to live" and the confidence that renewed health is possible, doctors say, sometimes determine the outcome of critical cases more than medicine.

Jesus healed the bodies of so many people that the accounts seem fantastic, incredible. One or two miraculous cures might be rationally acceptable, but not hundreds. Objections to the number of Jesus' miracles have several possible causes.

First, the fewer supernatural claims, the easier it is to explain them by natural causes. The impossibility of explaining away so many improbabilities forces any thoughtful person to accept the claims at face value and to decide who Jesus really was — a charlatan or God.

Second, the American love of statistics and high numbers has made many people distrustful of Jesus' healing power. They want to establish proof of His divinity, one indisputable miracle would have been enough.

People were not healed by Jesus for their testimonial value. However, over and over again He enjoined people to "tell no one what has happened to you." Further, the New Testament does appeal to a single indisputable miracle to verify Jesus' divinity — the resurrection: Jesus was "declared in an act of power to be the Son of God by His resurrection from the dead" (Romans 1:4), and Paul admitted further "if Christ has not been raised, your faith is worthless." (1 Corinthians 15:17)

Third, if Jesus healed so many people why didn't He heal everybody? Six times, in Luke's account, Jesus healed groups of people, the smallest being 10 lepers and the others large masses. Why not just everybody?

In a sense, Jesus did heal everybody. No one who ever came to Him for healing was refused, but apparently Jesus never healed anyone against his will.

Jesus converted, to Luke's account, with 17 individuals as He healed them, and often He praised and encouraged their faith. For example, to a woman He cured of a 12-year hemorrhage Jesus said, "Daughter, your faith has rescued you." (Luke 8:48)

Her confidence in Jesus, of course, had not healed her body, or else she would not have needed to come to Him. Jesus' power healed her physically, while her faith had kept her healthy mentally, emotionally, and spiritually. Had she lost faith because of the failure of all her doctors, she would have died miserably, simply because she would never have bothered to reach out to Jesus.

People today, as then, don't want Jesus to heal them, because He recreates the whole man and, in some aspects, they prefer to remain sick.

RED DEVIL center Nathaniel Packer is waiting for the rebound in the big ball game played in Avon Park last Friday night against Sebring. The big center scored 20 points against the Blue Streaks. Devil Don Sisemore, No. 20 in background, scored 19 points in this game. Miller photo closing the gap. The score at the end of the first period was 22-16 in favor of Sebring, but by halftime Avon Park had moved out to a 40-34 lead and never fell behind again although Sebring came within five points once during the second half.

The Devils hit for 17 points in the third period and halting Sebring to 11 for a 57-45 score and although the Streaks outscored the Devils in the final period by two points, the game finished up with the Avon Park team winning by 10 points—78-68.

Nathaniel Packer was the big gun for Avon Park as he hit five straight field goals in the first period to fire up the Devils. The big center was high scorer for Avon Park with 20 points but fouled out before the game was over. Harry Smith came on for Packer and played an impressive game to aid the Devil cause.

Don Sisemore seemed to overcome some of his ineffective shooting on the new home court as he sank six floor shots and seven free shots for 19 points. Leroy Hicks turned in a good performance scoring 18 points on nine floor shots and Felipe Harris, recently moved up from the "B" squad, played the team defensively on the press and also scored 10 points. Robert Lanzing, suffering from an injured finger, scored seven points although he was used sparingly and Smith hit two field goals at crucial points to add four points to the total.

Sebring's Bob Dutton controlled the boards for a time during the game and pumped in 24 points for the Streaks. Oscar Williams managed 20 points for the scrappy Sebring team which has surprised the area fans with its improvement so far this season.

The Red Devils are really playing exciting ball and Avon Park is beginning to realize that basketball is growing here in this part of the state and the Devils are helping to lead the way. Last week's crowds at the new, comfortable high school gym were probably the highest ever at Avon Park regular season games but there is still plenty of room for more so come on out and enjoy the action. The next home game will be on Friday, Jan. 28, against the Frostproof Bulldogs and that should be quite a game. So plan now to catch the two Avon Park Basketball teams a week from tomorrow night out at the new gym. Or if you just can't wait to see these two winners, drive down to Okeechobee tomorrow night.

Devil "B" Squad Basketball Team Defeats Sebring

Avon Park's Red Devil "B" squad basketball team moved to a 4-1 record last Friday night with a 52-43 victory over arch-rival Sebring here at the new high school gym. The Devil "B" squad opened the season with an 89-24 win over Alva before Christmas and then went on to defeat Arcadia 55-44 and Wauchula 53-28 before the holidays.

Thesday night a week ago the Lake Placid junior varsity handed the junior Devils their first loss by a score of 68-54 after Felipe Harris was moved up to the varsity during the holidays. But the team bounced back with the Sebring win and then traveled to Frostproof last Tuesday night for its sixth game of the season.

William Ayers is leading the Devil "B" team in points scored and rebounds with a total of 46 points for the five games and 89 rebounds. Mickey Claitt has scored 47 points and Leon McRae is third high with 46 points for the first five games. McRae is second in rebounds with 34 followed by Ricky Claitt with 21.

Other top scorers on the 13-man squad are Josh King with 26, Jim Caldwell with 22, Danny Lewis with 19 and Ricky Claitt with 11 points. All 13 boys have seen some action in the five games—Curtis Foster, Albert Mullinger, Randy Perry, D. Perry, James Walker and Bud Wester who has pulled down 18 rebounds.

In the Lake Placid game, the only "B" squad loss, the Green Dragons jumped off to an 11-5 first quarter lead but Avon Park had taken over at halftime 27-24. But a bad third and fourth quarter after McRae and Ricky Claitt fouled out gave Lake Placid the 68-54 victory.

Jim Caldwell led the Devil "B" scoring with 17 points followed by Mickey Claitt's 15 and William Ayers eight points. But T. Simmons of Lake Placid was top game scorer with 20 points.

Against Sebring it was a different story for the Avon Park jayvees. The junior Devils started slow as Sebring led 12-8 at the end of the first period and had a 24-17 advantage at halftime. But the Devils came back hot and pumped in 30 points in the third period while holding Sebring to only five points and then swished through 15 counters in the final period while Sebring rallied but could manage only 14 points to give the exciting Avon Park team the 54-43 victory.

Tomorrow night (Friday) Coach Tom Lund's boys will travel to Okeechobee for a conference "B" game with the Brahmman jayvee team and next Tuesday night the Red Devil teams will be idle. Every week the Avon Park teams will travel to Clewiston for another Lake-Ridge Conference affair.

Local Cattlemen May Be Facing Quarantine

Highlands County cattlemen may be on the verge of a new quarantine embargo and cattle testing program that could cost millions of dollars.

Failure of a single cattleman to comply with regulations for testing of his cattle has placed the county's brucellosis certification in jeopardy. United States Department of Agriculture has set a deadline of Feb. 1.

Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services has asked circuit court to issue a mandatory injunction requiring Charles W. Daniel to comply with regulations on retesting.

According to the suit, filed by counsel for the state's agriculture department, loss of certification would result in "dire hardship" including quarantine embargo and retesting expenses to acquire new certification.

According to the suit a brucellosis test was run on a Daniel-owned herd on Aug. 12, 1970. The herd—186 cows—was located just north of the Kykes ranch, north of State Road 70 and west of Nine Mile Grade.

According to the state department of agriculture, 49 cows had positive reactions to the brucellosis tests. But Daniel refused to tag and brand said cattle which had reacted until in January, 1971, eight of the 49 could not be identified.

The suit lists attempts to obtain Daniel's cooperation in presenting the cattle for retesting. Daniel lives in Okeechobee and has business interests on the west coast of Florida as well as his cattle in Highlands County.

Ironically, the embargo threat is looming over what had promised to be one of the brighter seasons for Highlands County cattlemen.

SFJC Panthers Host Lake Sumter Tonight In Middle School Gym

Thursday night at 7:30 an intense rivalry will be resumed when South Florida Junior College Panthers will tangle with Lake Sumter of Leesburg at the Middle School in Avon Park. Game time will be 7:30.

Last year these two teams split with Lake Sumter finishing first in Division 5 while the Panthers finished second. In recent action the Panthers beat Polk 60 to 59 in an overtime game. The Panthers led all the way only to have the Vikings tie the game at 55 all on a last second steal by Polk. Polk missed on a one and one free throw with three seconds to go and Kim Malcolm made the rebound to preserve the one point margin.

Malcolm also was high point man with 19 while Robert Forte, Mike Herbert had 10 points each and Joe Battles and George Heine had eight each. Mitchell was Polk's high man with 22 points.

Saturday the Panthers met Daytona Beach in Sebring, and for a brief lapse in the first half, let Daytona gain a 14 point advantage. At halftime, it was a good game. The Panthers narrowed the score 89 to 61 but foul shots eased the Scotts back to a 14 point lead.

George Heine with 16 points, Kim Malcolm 14, Robert Forte 11, Mike Herbert 9, Mike Maddox 8, John Stephenson 7, and Joe Battles 5 did the Panther scoring.

Monday night at Bradenton, the Panthers played Manatee and came off the short end of 98-76 score with Forte making 27, Malcolm 13, Battles 12, Heine

County Receives $561.60 From Rep. Johnson

State Representative Bob Johnson, Republican, District 118, which includes Highlands, Sarasota, Charlotte and DeSoto counties, is fulfilling his pledge to return to the people he represents $300 a month from his legislative salary. The funds have been maintained from month to month in a special account by the Representative. After considering numerous methods of distribution of the funds, including school board, cities or private organizations, Representative Johnson decided the only fair and equitable method of distribution would be to distribute the money to the four counties he represents on a per capita basis, using the 1970 census as a guide.

Based upon this formula the Board of County Commissioners of Highlands County will receive $561.60, with Sarasota County receiving $2,368, Charlotte County $518.40 and DeSoto County, $522.

While Representative Johnson did not campaign basically on the pay raise issue he did make the pledge to return $300 per month to the people he represents. It is believed that the dozen or so members of the Legislature who ran solely on the pay raise issue are all accepting and keeping the full legislative salary.

In a poll taken by the Associated Press during the last regular session it was determined that Representative Johnson was the only legislator withholding a portion of his salary for return to his constituents.

Even though he sums of money involved in each case are relatively small, Representative Johnson has expressed his hope that in some way each county can use the funds in a manner which will directly benefit all of its citizens.

Legionnaires Collected 398.48

Avon Park Legionnaires under Commander Rodney T. Lane, Jr., collected $398.48 for the benefit of the retarded of Highlands county.

Past Commanders J. A. Wise and H. T. Sasser with Michael Janek and Al Hadd, manned their posts at the intersections of Main and Lake all day Saturday, Jan. 8th, to solicit from passing motorists.

Proceeds of the road blocks will be used to provide training for the handicapped children at the Development Training Program and for handicapped adults at the Work Center in addition to the recreation and camping services available.
