Public Library To Be Decided By Voters

The Avon Park City Council voted unanimously at their regular meeting last Monday night, to place the question of a public library operated by the city on September 12th primary election ballot.

The issue arose two weeks ago as the Womens Club decided to turn full control of the library to the city. Due to state regulations pertaining to public libraries, the city must bring the issue before the people for a referendum vote before it can take any action.

"Whenever the city shall deem it advisable to establish and maintain a public library and reading room free for the use of the inhabitants of such city they shall call an election to decide whether such public library and reading room shall be established. If a majority of the registered voters of such city shall vote in favor of establishing and maintaining such public library, the city council of such city shall establish the same, and may levy a tax of not more than two mills on the dollar annually to be levied and collected in like manner as any other taxes of said city and to be known as the 'library fund'."

This quotation comes from Florida Statutes, and the city is held to them. The question of financing is the problem for the city fathers.

"It's very imperative we let the people know how much it will cost," stated councilman Clarence King.

It has been mentioned at the special meeting the city council held with representatives of the Avon Park Women's Club, to raise the utility tax by five percent. The state has just taken its four percent sales tax off of utilities, so an increase would only be one per cent.

Councilman King objected to a five per cent increase because, "I don't think we should ask for more than we need."

"I'm like you," stated councilman Durrah Martin. "I'll go over better with just asking for what I'd be," continued councilman Milton Howard.

"We can work the details out," later Hermon Sizemore stated. The council voted to place the question of the library on the ballot in September but stated the cost of maintaining and supporting it would definitely be known by the voters.

King asked that it go on record that he is against any ad valorem tax, and is in favor of some other tax source for financing the library.

In other actions taken by the city council, it was voted unanimously to raise the firemen's pay to comply with the state minimum standards of $6,000 per year.

Fire Chief Mack Flowers also appeared before the council and requested a new fire alerting system be put into operation at a cost of $28.55 per month. This new system would enable the fire department to place up to fourteen men on one telephone line. The station could pick up its receiver and the telephones would automatically ring in the firemen's homes, and continue until answered. This would enable the department to call only the needed amount of men to a fire instead of blowing the siren and many more men than needed showing up. It was stated the system could be put in operation in approximately three months. The request was passed unanimously by the city council.

Mr. Charles Hoke, representing the Air Committee appeared before the council and requested that rules and regulations governing the airport traffic be adopted. He told of a near accident recently when another aircraft flew directly in front of his plane as he was approaching the East-West runway for landing. He also cited an incident when an unidentified woman pilot took off from the airport lopsided, turned around and landed on the same runway without radiating for landing instructions. The councilist that it was an emergency situation, unanimously adopted the traffic rules and regulations, and decided to have them as well as previous regulations incorporated into a city ordinance by the City Attorney, John Hancock.

The council also decided to give the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children $560 for their Summer Day Camp program, and $600 for the Chamber of Commerce was budgeted.

It was brought before the council's attention also that the city beach is unsafe for swimming. Councilman Martin stated that just a few feet off shore, the water level drops suddenly to about six or seven feet. A young child could easily fall into this portion of the lake and drown before anyone would notice. The council decided to close the beach on Lake Verona "due to hazardous conditions" until the water level is raised. The city will construct a sign stating so and informing the public that if they swim, it is at their own risk.

Commissioners To Participate In Civil Defense Exercise June 14

The Board of County Commissioners decided Tuesday to participate in a civil defense exercise and to set 6 a.m. June 14, 1972, as the time for the simulation to begin.

Rick Kasten from the University of Florida appeared before the Commissioners May 23 to propose that all Commissioners and county department heads participate in a natural disaster exercise that would make use of the civil defense computer in Miami to provide conditions that would be simulated as realistically as possible.

Kasten informed the Commissioners that national civil defense emphasis has shifted from preparation for a nuclear holocaust to readiness to meet natural disasters. The emergency to which Highlands County will most likely be subject is a hurricane. Therefore, he proposed that the June 14 exercise be geared to simulate the effects of such a storm on the county.

Evacuation Center Kasten said that Highlands County is the center for evacuation of residents on both east and west coasts of Florida who are fleeing from hurricanes headed their way. This could cause the county to be overcome with problems of feeding and housing such refugees unless the county is through some form of computer simulation, to recognize the multiplicity of problems it will be asked to solve and become prepared to deal with the emergency conditions it will face when a natural disaster strikes.

Jim Lawson, county civil defense director, will work out detailed plans for the exercise in coordination with Kasten. As presently planned, the portion of the simulation in which the Commissioners would participate would require about two and a half hours of their time.

The Commissioners will consider at their next meeting passing a resolution to be submitted by Kasten that would declare the week of June 13 as Civil Defense Week in Highlands County.

Other Business In other business conducted at their May 23 meeting, the Commissioners:

— Informed Del Preston Jones that they had not yet held a committee meeting to discuss the regulation of private utility companies.

— Agreed to waive ambulance service fees, under billing numbers 113 and 116, for transporting inmates to the county jail to the hospital.

— Reaffirmed their policy of considering requests for opening streets on an individual basis only.

— Agreed to authorize the county engineer to trade a used dump truck body for a used fertilizer spreader (to be used to spread sand), subject to review of the legality of the transaction by the county attorney.

— Authorized Gordon Hays to draft for their approval a set of policy guidelines for county employees covering such topics as: fees they receive for jury duty, witness fees, annual leave, sick leave, etc.

— Authorized the county clerk to obtain a title search of the old Parker Island road to determine which sections of the road have reverted to their original owners and which portions are still eligible for county road maintenance service.

— Instructed Engineer Hays to proceed with his efforts to obtain rights of way needed to maintain a portion of Do-EE road west of Sparta road. Permission was also granted to Hays to offer to change the name of Do-EE Road to Bassage road in exchange for rights of way granted by the A. C. Bassage Estate.

— Heard Hays report that the committee on subdivisions had completed its assigned study and would distribute its report as soon as it is duplicated.

— Instructed the sheriff to discuss his needs for storage space with the county engineer to see whether existing buildings might accommodate their requirements.

— Received from the county attorney for signature a resolution accepting the deed to the Cliff Thomas rd.

Levies Tax On Occupational Licenses

By unanimous vote, accepted Ordinance No. 7 which levied an occupational license tax on Highlands County businesses without complying with the usual requirement for two weeks notice by newspaper advertising. This special action was taken under an emergency measure permitted by state law in that the ordinance had to be enacted prior to June 1, 1972. The passage of the ordinance does not preclude the Commissioners from deciding not to enforce its provisions if they should so decide.

— Heard Administrative Assistant Charles Cullen report that architect Jim Heim will make his acceptance inspection of the Venus building at the end of this week or at the beginning of next week.

— Authorized election supervisor Jimmy Whitehouse to continue the employment of Mrs. Garrett until July 1 or until Steve Maxwell returns from the hospital, whichever occurs first.

— Authorized Administrative Assistant Cullen to notify interested citizens of Venus that they can take applicants for the position of custodian of the Venus Building and to inform them that the custodian would be employed by the county and would work under the direction of the county.

Know Your Hospital

by John McCrellan
Administrator
Walker Memorial Hospital

The coordination of individual efforts in a hospital is much like that in a TV studio. Everyone must time his efforts and produce on schedule to assure effective production. The hospital's crew in backstage departments must function efficiently and on schedule, like the crew that surrounds the stage in a TV studio, so that the administration will go on in patient areas.

The big difference is that in a hospital a real life drama is underway. If everything fails in a TV studio and the picture does not appear on ten million screens no one suffers. In a hospital, if even one person fails a life can be lost, or many patients may suffer.

It takes a coordinated, cooperative effort around the clock day and night to run a hospital. Even a minor break down in one department, which can spring from lack of interdepartmental cooperation, may start a chain reaction all along the way that can suddenly cause a black out in the patient areas. Remember the duties of each worker extends far beyond that of his own department, even under pressure each of us must cooperate with every other worker in the goal of better patient care.

MicKunas's Honored By Band

A group of band parents held a surprise reception Sunday afternoon for Vic and Anne McKunas to show their appreciation for all the fine work these two dedicated people have done for our band. They have given many extra hours for our band students and sacrificed many of their weekends to participate in various activities with the band.

Parents and students of the Junior and Senior bands and special guests called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Martin on Lake Lelia to show their appreciation. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. McKunas, and the Senior Mr. and Mrs. McKunas (Vic's parents from St. Petersburg).

The serving table in the spacious living room was lovely with white lace tablecloth and a very eye-catching centerpiece of red roses and white chrysanthemums featuring the grenadier bush (hat) and a miniature grenadier doll.

Punch was served from a beautiful silver punch bowl by band members Candy Reddick and Toni Canon. Silver trays, laden with delicious sandwiches and homemade cookies, were enjoyed by the guests. Mrs.

Frank Camp was in charge of the refreshments. Margaret Jane Turnbull and Tami Canon presided at the guest book, as the guests arrived.

The various arrangements of red roses were at focal points throughout the rooms. These lovely roses were provided by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murphy and arranged for the occasion by Mrs. Steve Roberts. A beautiful rose corsage was presented to Mrs. McKunas and a white carnation boutonniere was presented to Mr. McKunas.

The highlight of the afternoon was a surprise of monetary gifts presented to Mr. McKunas in a grenadier bush; again, to express in a small way the appreciation of all band members' parents.

organization and she worked tirelessly toward development of the Lodge. During the forty eight years of membership she held every office in the Lodge and was deputy president over the Lodges in Avon Park, Sebring and Arc.

She left no stone unturned in the performance of those duties. Many people have come into my life of seventy five years, trusting along the highways of joys and sorrows, happiness and disappointments but no one ever influenced my life as much as she. I find myself even now trying to emulate some of the traits of her character. Tonight we are dedicating to this Lodge a beautiful Bible in her honor and I think that no greater honor can be bestowed upon an individual than this, for it is in the great book which teaches the principles of our motto, Friendship, Love & Truth. To end and for this purpose we make this dedication.

Delicious refreshments of blueberry pie, cakes, sandwiches and punch were served by Virginia Carnegie, Rubie Rucker and Pearl Spink.

Our next meeting will be on June 5, at which time we will honor our new District Deputy President, Sister Eva Alice Lamb from Arcadia Lodge No. 67.

Dr. William S. Hughlett, whose American home is in Cocoa, Fla. returned to the United States with Mrs. Hughlett in 1969.

In 1929 he gave up an established medical practice in Cocoa and went to the, then Belgian Congo, (after 11 years of independence, renamed Zaire). He has worked at Wembo Nyama, Tunda and Tshikaji, but he gave most of his service at the Minga hospital. Dr. Hughlett has been engaged in general medicine, surgery, public health, training medical workers, lay evangelism, general mission work and some translation.

APCI Nursery

"How We Grow Them"

By Jim Kiser, inmate

One of our most urgent needs was fulfilled this past week. We watched as a very capable construction crew put fiberglass on our new greenhouse. The old structure had suffered much storm damage this past year and the plants were exposed to the elements of the changeable climate.

We have moved the plants into their new home, yet that is only a part of the work entailed. As in any room, there are many climates within a greenhouse and the best location for each species must be found. With the extremes of changing climate now in our control, we will soon have some "happy-plants."

The next big step will be to have our Orchid House recovered with the same material, and we have been told that it can be expected in the next thirty days. You can expect to find us all standing a little taller with pride when you next visit the Nursery.

NORFOLK ISLAND PINE: An aquatic exclamation, one of the most popular and durable house plants to be found. Of all the many varieties of foliage plants we have in our greenhouse, visiting women always comment, "I want one of those pines." They are not restricted to use as a house plant in our area; and they make beautiful landscape specimens.

If you purchase one of these beauties, enjoy it as a house plant for a few years and then let it become an important feature in your landscape. You can keep it inside until it becomes too large, but if you do not over-fertilize or over-pot (too large a pot) it will remain a usable size for indoors for a few years. When planting outside be sure that it is given a highly organic soil. It will do in shade or sun and likes a moist condition.

CROSSANDRA: C. in-fundibuliformis is a beautiful evergreen flowering plant that is grown for pot culture. They are best started fresh each year from seeds or cuttings, but they can be grown for several years to form a large specimen. They bear large spikes or orange.

The Salute to the Flag was given, after which all joined hands and repeated the Club Prayer. Mrs. Wetmore played old time records during the meal. These included records by "Uncle Josh" and Evan Williams and Henry Burr. All enjoyed hearing these old records they had heard so often in the long ago.

WIDE BEACHES behind the home of Dr. and Mrs. Brian T. Jordan on the south side of Lake Lotela, with docks high and dry, show the effects of lack of rainfall, evaporation and pumping from the lake. A Lake Committee has been formed by residents to try to help in this critical situation. Photo by Sharpe

THIS VIEW behind the Florida Power Clubhouse shows how the water has receded. The old water line is near the pine trees. The long dock is completely dry, and posts with safety wire, which is normally over children's heads, are also dry. The boat ramps around the lakes are all a long distance from the water. Old timers who have lived here for many years, say the lakes are the lowest they have ever seen them. Photo by Sharpe

Lake Lotela At Lowest

A record low water level which continues to drop on Lake Lotela, has been a growing concern to property owners in that area. Official records show the yearly normal level to be close to 106 ft. above sea level, but during the past two years, it has fallen to 101 ft. above sea level. Due to this critical situation, a Lake Committee has been formed by Dr. and Mrs. Brian T. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Nellis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Post and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lanier. The goal of the group has been to seek cooperation of all lake residents in limiting pumping from the lake while it is in its present condition. To accomplish this, a petition has been drawn up and circulated to residents of the lake, with the intention of voluntarily confining pumping to small HP motors and three inch suction pipes. Secondly all land irrigated should front on the lake. To date 45 residents have backed the petition, which represents a sizable group.

Controversial Topic
The pumping of water from county lakes has been the subject of heated debate. On one hand, some grove owners claim that large scale pumping does not effect lake levels at all, while other persons blame lowered lake levels entirely on commercial pumping. It is the expressed view of the petition that lack of rainfall and evaporation have been major causes for the current lake problem. However it is felt that continued pumping from a lake that is not being recharged, does add to lowering the level. And even among grove owners themselves, some feel that deep wells are a more satisfactory solution than direct pumping from lakes. It has been reported that heavy pumping from Lake Byrd ended several years ago with a much improved level.

On Lake Lotela, not all persons agree with the petition and some have charged that the signers are trying to ruin the economy of the area. This is not the intention of the petition group, but as property owners they feel they should have a right to jointly determine use of lake water, such as encouraging commercial pumpers to drill deep wells.

Results of the Petition
While it is too early to determine the full effect on the petition, the Lake Committee feels some beneficial changes have occurred. During the past Winter one large irrigation pump was voluntarily taken off the lake and recently an illegal dredge operation was halted, due to the group's action. In addition it has been reported that another large grove operation on the lake is in the process of drilling a deep well. While several large commercial pumps remain in operation, backers of the petition are hoping for reasonable agreement on the lake's serious condition.

The Camp theme, "the Good Old Days" was highlighted with old fashioned apple peeling contests, ancient crafts of macramé and quilting, with the dining room arrangements featuring authentic antiques.

The highlight of the camping session was a costume fashion show on Wednesday evening, featuring costumes dating from the 1780's to 1925. These costumes are from a private collection of Mrs. Herbert B. Post, of St. Petersburg. Also shown were many accessories, hoop skirts, bustles, corset covers and old fashioned split drawers.

Some of the outfits were all hand made, in the 1780 and 1800's long before the sewing machine appeared.

One especially eye catching ensemble was one made and worn to a special West Point occasion back in 1903. Made of black silk with frills and sequins, it was worn with a "Merry Widow" hat with ostrich feathers. Other accessories with this special ensemble were an elegant cape, lined with lamb skin, also a fancy purse and parasol of the early period.

Swimming, cooking, ball throwing and hiking were some of their activities.

Triple Link Meets Monday

Triple Link was held at the home of Mrs. Ethel Harrison on Monday evening, May 22. The meeting was called to order by the President, Bessie Jewel Howard. Three visitors were welcomed.

A very enjoyable time was had, with all taking part in a general gab-feast of old times and the recent Rebekah Assembly.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and punch were served by the hostess, assisted by her husband.

The next meeting on June 26, will be held at the home of Louise Clarke. It will be a covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. All bring a covered dish, desert and coffee will be served by the hostess.

In 1891, our government bought and sent to Alaska from Siberia a herd of about 1,000 reindeer. They now number about 300,000, and provide the mainstay of the Eskimo's diet.

Scouts Hold Annual Pinewood Derby May 19

The Cub Scouts of Pack 156 held a Pinewood Derby on May 19, in the Social Hall of Congregational Church. This is a father-son project, that is an annual event for the Cub Scouts.

The program was opened with the playing on bugles, of "To The Colors," by Dennis Hansford and Eddie Williams. These two boys are boy scouts of Troop 156 and are being instructed on the bugle, by Cubmaster, Joe Johnston. The flag ceremony was performed by Den 5.

Part of being a Cub Scout, is the earning of badges and many awards were presented for the earning of Wolf and Bear Badges, gold and silver arrow points, Bobcat pins, and Webelos achievements. Thirty-five cubs received a beautiful SOAR (Save Our American Resources) Patch for participating in the clean-up in Avon Park.

The winners for the evening for the Derby were: First place, design, James Goza, Den 1; First place, racing, Todd Bennett, Den 3; 2nd. design, Steve Traverse; 2nd. racing, Donald Howze; 3rd. design, Vaden Nealy; and 3rd. racing, James Goza.

A big thank-you goes to Mr. Harold Guerdin for setting up the track and acting, as a judge and starter. Also to Dave Brown of Troop 813 for judging and assisting, and to Reverend Charles Lawton and Mr. Gene Stalter.

So much work and time went into the designing and preparing of the cars, and the leaders of the scouts wish to thank the parents for their help and participation and look forward to a good summer and the start of another year of Cub Scouts.

Special thanks go to Cubmaster Joe Johnston and Assistant Cubmaster, Harry Fish and all the Den Mothers and the Scouting Committee, who all contributed to a very successful year.

The Pack Flag was awarded to Den 2, for the highest percentage of parent attendance. The program was closed with a prayer by Reverend Lawton.

The winners for the evening for the Derby were: First place, design, James Goza, Den 1; First place, racing, Todd Bennett, Den 3; 2nd. design, Steve Traverse; 2nd. racing, Donald Howze; 3rd. design, Vaden Nealy; and 3rd. racing, James Goza.

Crusade Against Drugs - One In A Series

Cold turkey isn't something you eat.

Professional Model

You choke. You gag. You vomit. Cold turkey lasts three, four, or maybe five days.

But that's never going to happen to you. Right? You aren't on this drug.

But what about your son? Or your daughter?

How do you keep it from happening to them?

You start by being the kind of parent you should be. Get to know your children. Do things with them. Talk to them.

But before you start talking about drugs, make sure you know what you're talking about.

Cold turkey is the withdrawal you go through when you can't get the heroin you're hooked on.

It's hell.

Your head explodes. Your muscles cramp.

Suddenly you're freezing (like you're naked in a blizzard). And you're burning up with fever at the same time. It's like coming down with double-pneumonia.

Council Votes To Extend Sewer Lines Along Lake

After three long months of discussion the Avon Park City Council decided unanimously Tuesday night, at a special meeting, to extend sewer lines along North Lake Ave. The Council awarded the construction job to Lagrow Irrigation Incorporated, pending the approval of the project by the state departments.

"Anytime we can add something that will benefit the city in the future, I can't see how we can go wrong," stated Council President J. R. Duggan as the voting progressed.

The sewer line will go north on Lake Avenue and be able to service Morning Side Manor sub-division along with the surrounding areas.

Especially interested in the voting was Bob Herman, who plans to construct 100 apartments in that area within the next two years. Each apartment will utilize the lines, with the city receiving the revenue. Herman will pay $10,000 on the construction costs.

The council decided to use an alternate to cast iron pipes, replacing them with PVC pipes, which are very thick and sturdy plastic pipes.

The total construction cost, including engineering fees, amounts to $17,700.40 with the city of Avon Park obligated to only $7,700.40.

Beginning construction will be held up for approximately 90 days, pending approval of the project from the State Board of Health, and the Department of Pollution Control.

The participating ministers will be: Elder Thomas J. Borwn, Apostolic Church of Jesus, who will give the invocation; Reverend Duane R. Zoller, First United Methodist Church, the scripture; Reverend Aden D. Childress, First Baptist Church, will give the sermon; and benediction by Father Frank C. Cleveland, the Episcopal Church of The Redeemer.

Special music, "Suite Miniature," by Ralph Dale Miller, will be rendered by a brass sextet, comprised by Vic McKunas, David Flowers, Debbie Clark, Thomas Lawrence, Charles Snellgrove and Eddie Culbertson. The Avon Park High School Girls Ensemble will give a rendition of "Let There Be Peace On Earth," by Sy Miller and Jill Jackson, with Miss Kay Green at the piano. The recessional will be "Military March," by Elgar, with Miss Kay Green at the piano.

MARSHALS AND USHERS Marshals from the junior graduation are: LuAnne Johnston and Sara Nunnallee. Ushers at both services will be: Jan Goodwin, Lynn Camp, Beth Ferguson, Susan James, Mary Springer, Jane Braswell, Jane Barber, Thomas Lawrence, Eddie Simon, Bonnie Sphaler, Carol Wicker, Neida Strength, Bruce Trecoff, Eddie Culbertson, Susan Kerrick, Jill

For Free Men Only

As the nation prepares to observe Freedom of the Press Day on June 7, it is fitting to consider what freedom of the press means to U.S. citizens in the crucible of the nuclear age. Freedom of the press allows an honest evaluation of the President's efforts to achieve peace and a "working arrangement" with former communist enemies. Although sometimes harsh in its approach, the free press permits every citizen to make an unvarnished assessment of political candidates. It probes the motives and principles of public figures who enjoy positions of leadership. The free press is the only genuine disciplinary force that can be exerted against government. It is the articulate focal point of public opinion.

A free press is literally the watchdog of a free people. At times wrong conclusions are drawn from what the press reveals, but over the long pull, its batting average is good. If every nation enjoyed the vision that is given by a free press to the people of the U.S., the cause of world peace would be immeasurably brighter. The purpose of Freedom of the Press Day is "To celebrate and promote press freedom in the Americas." In observing the Day, we should remember that it is an occasion for free men only.

Lowell DuBose Report

In a report two weeks ago, Lowell DuBose Jr., had returned to a Minnesota Hospital for tests and reevaluation. He hasn't been doing too well, after undergoing spinal surgery. He had signs of paralysis in his legs.

Test show now, that there is a blockage in the spinal column, due to bone compression in the area of Lowell's spinal curve. Surgery is scheduled for the 16 of June, to perform a "decompression" operation. Hopefully this will relieve the pressure on the spinal cord and provide room for proper function of the cord.

This surgery is very technical and dangerous, as the procedure is to go through the chest to the front side of the chest. From this point, bone will be chipped out from the inside of the vertebrae to provide more room for the spinal column.

Lowell is in fairly good spirits and wants to "get on with it" so he can come home soon. He is in a different hospital than before. For those who wish to send a card or write, his address is: Lowell DuBose, Jr. 8 Fairview Hospital, Room 275-2312 South Sixth St.—Minneapolis, Minn.

Know Your Hospital

By John McClellan
Administrator
Walker Memorial Hospital

All of us who work in hospitals have been rightly angered by the barrage of criticisms hurled at hospitals by newspapers and magazines, which rely upon sensationalism for circulation. William J. Reinhardt, Knox County, General Hospital, Rockland, Maine, recently turned the guns on the magazines.

"I am tired of reading sensational magazine stories with headlines screaming, 'our nations hospitals are killing us.' I am tired of hearing the self acclaimed expert sitting in their ivory towers saying, 'only two or three per cent of our hospitals provide the kind of care we would want for ourselves and our families.' I am tired of having the bad magnified and the good overlooked."

These writers and experts ignore the fact that working in these institutions are dedicated men and women, who daily are performing miracles and healing. They ignore the fact that because of this team work

Susan Gore-Roger Gurganus Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gore of Camphor Street and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee G. Gurganus of Lake Isis Drive.

Everett N. Bean officiated at the double-ring ceremony, with prayer by Reverend Aden D. Childress.

The bridal couple stood before an archway draped with greenery, palms, and spiral candelabras, with tall baskets of white gladioli and blue mums accenting the white kneeling bench, where they knelt. The family pews were marked with boxwood greenery, lily of the valley and white satin roses.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by a Cappella Chorus, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Faneuf; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Welch; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Welch; Miss Mae Welch; Mrs. Dorothy Childers; Mr. David Brooker and Mr. Marcus Piety, who sang traditional wedding songs including "Enter Me Not to Leave Thee," "One Hand One Heart," "I Pledge My Love," a solo by Glenn Welch; "Sweetest Story Ever Told;" and "Each For The Other," duets by Mrs. Glenn Welch and David Brooker.

BRIDE WEARS

ORGANZA AND LACE

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a chapel length gown of rayon organza, appliqued with chantilly lace, beaded with pearls and sequins. The butterfly tulle formed a train in back. Her Mantilla veil of bridal illusion, edged in chantilly lace, fell from a face forming cap of daisies and orange blossoms. She carried a cascading colonial bouquet with white snowdrift pompons, white carnations and orange blossoms, accented with blue miniature carnations, picking up the bride's color.

The maid of honor was Miss Sue Ferguson, who was gowned in blue brocade, with empire styling and sheer sleeves. She carried a colonial style bouquet with white pompons and miniature carnations accented with blue carnations and blue streamers. She wore a styled headpiece of babies breath and miniature carnations.

Bridesmaids were, Mary Douglas of Sebring; Sarah McClure and Lee Sizemore of Avon Park. They wore empire style gowns of blue brocade, same as the maid of honor, with matching headpieces and bouquets.

Little Cheryl Brooker of Sebring was flower girl. She was gowned in blue brocade, similar to honor attendants, and carried a white basket with blue petals.

Ringbearer was Kevin Wayne Gore, nephew of the bride, from Farragut, Iowa.

Mr. Gurganus chose for his best man, Wesley Turner of Avon Park. Ushers were, Howie Godwin, Freddie Jahna and Mike Rihner all of Avon Park.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gore wore a pink yokester crepe dress with lace yoke and sleeves. Her accessories were white and she wore a yellow cymbidium orchid.

RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gore entertained at a reception, immediately following in the First Baptist Church Social Hall.

Miss Cindy DuBoise was in charge of the guest book at the church and the social hall, where she passed out wedding scrolls.

Palms and bouquets of yellow daisies and blue carnations were at focal points in the hall. Lace cloths covered the serving tables, from which a tasty punch was served from crystal bowls. Compton held nuts and mints, and dainty napkins were inscribed with "Susan and Roger" and their wedding date. Candelabras and the attendant's bouquets completed the table decorations.

The bride's table was centered with the four tired wedding cake, accented with blue sweetpeas and white roses, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom beneath an archway.

Cutting and serving the cake were: Mrs. Gayle Gore, sister-in-law of the bride, from Farragut, Iowa; Mrs. Glenda Howard of Lakeland; and Mrs. Julie Selph of Avon Park.
