

FLORIDA WILDLIFE

COMMENTS ON THE OUTDOORS

by Dr. O.E. Frye, Jr.
Director
GAME AND FRESH WATER FISH COMMISSION

Florida's fresh water fishermen should take note that the new fishing licenses for the 1971-72 season will go on sale at the office of all County Judges and their authorized subagents on June 15, and will be honored by Florida wildlife officers starting on this date. The current 1970-71 fishing license will expire at midnight on June 30, and new licenses will be required on July 1. The new 1971-72 license will be valid through June 30, 1972.

Some fishermen have apparently developed a habit of waiting until the last possible moment to obtain their licenses, and this type of procrastination can be costly. Fishing without a license does not make sense and might cost far more than the price of a license purchase. A resident freshwater fishing license costs only $3.00 and allows a fisherman to wet a line anywhere in the State. On the other hand, if the fisherman is caught without a license it will not only interrupt a fishing trip, but could result in a visit with the Judge.

Records of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission indicate a decline in the number of fishermen who fish without licenses since passage of the cane pole fishing license provision in 1970. However, some fishermen still try to get by without a license, and an average of three or four fishermen are arrested each day for fishing without a license.

Buying a fishing license is not so much a matter of obeying a State law, as it is helping raise money to provide better fishing. All funds received from the sale of licenses are used by the Commission to improve hunting and fishing conditions for Florida sportsmen. One dollar from the sale of each resident fishing license is set aside in a fishing improvement fund and can be used only to improve Florida's fresh water fishing.

The best buy for Florida sportsmen is the Series A-K combination hunting and fishing license. The combination license allows a resident sportsman to hunt and fish throughout the State and costs no more than the separate hunting and fishing licenses.

A fishing license is required of all fresh water fishermen except children under the age of 15, resident 65 years of age and over, and residents who possess documentation of eligibility for receiving federal, state or county public welfare program assistance. Persons who are exempt due to welfare status are limited to fishing in the county of their residence with no more than three cane poles or lines for non-commercial purposes.

Non-residents may obtain an annual fishing license for $8.00 or a five-day license for as little as $2.25. A non-resident license is also available for 14 days of fresh water fishing for $3.25.

When a sportsman obtains his hunting or fishing license he should also pick up a current copy of the hunting and fishing rules and regulations for the 1971-72 season. This summary of rules will provide basic information on seasons, dates, bag limits, legal hunting and fishing methods and a summary of regulations for wildlife and fish management areas.

The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will do everything possible to help sportsmen understand the regulations governing hunting and fishing, however, the sportsman can also help himself by obtaining a copy of the rules, and spending a few minutes to become acquainted with their provisions.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

By JONATHAN WRIGHT

These have been pretty quiet days here in the mobile home park lately. The "dead of Summer" has really arrived, and a quick walk down one of our Avenues easily proves it. As of the present, we have only about 35 residents here, which are scattered out fairly evenly about the park. The hot Summer sun really warms things up every day, but from what we hear from some of the Winter residents in the North, Florida isn't the only place that gets hot. Frank and Eleanor Castorosa of Bowie, Md., report that the temperature at 10 P.M. a few evenings ago in Baltimore (20 miles from Bowie) was 86 degrees.

Basil and Rosa Krentz of Butler, Ind., are experiencing some "beasty hot days." As they put it, and tell us that the temperature rose to 96 degrees several days there.

Sybil M. and Mary Mabe of Belleville, Ohio, write that the mercury hit 97 degrees at their place recently, and that it is much too hot to suit them.

Vera and Boyd Dager returned home May 12 and really seem to be enjoying it. Boyd received his 50-year pin at Grange, in some way, he is one of the five charter members.

Mildred and Glenn Long of Plainville, Conn., report that they take a 2 1/2 mile walk nearly every morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foxy were recently visited by Granville Logan, LaRue Longenecker, and also Mrs. Bernice Alderson and daughter Sandy from Frostproof. The Foyes have received word that the Harold Faulkners have sold their farm in St. Paul, Ohio, and have bought a brick house in Urbana, Ohio. They will be back down early this Fall.

Earl and Doris Johnston are leaving today (Thursday) to go to Michigan, where they plan to visit Earl's son and family in Grayling, the Shoemakers in LaPorte, Ind., and take care of business there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brush went to Venice, Fla., for the Fourth and visited Mrs. Gould Peters and son.

Harold and Mary Patten plan to leave tomorrow (Friday) for Cleveland, Ohio, where they will visit their daughter, and then on to Toledo to attend a golden wedding anniversary.

Walter and Ida Douglas of Hazelcrest, Ill., are looking forward to seeing the new mobile home on Court No. 9, next door to them. They plan to start heading back for Avon Park around the first part of September.

Sylvan and Catherine Baker of Urbana, Ohio, enjoyed a two-week camping trip in Pennsylvania and New York in June. Roy and Margaret St. Louis of Grandview, Wis., recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Harry and Kathryn Jordan tell us that the rain at their place keeps things pretty cool both day and night.

They also plan to visit Harold's sister and brother.

John and Edna Wolf recently had visitors from Sebring who were sporting a new Cadillac.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally from Sebring have spent last Saturday evening with Dr. Fields and his family.

The Emmette Wright family had as their guests this week Bob and Jean Wright and Mrs. Vera Gates from Huntington, W. Va. Bob is Emmette's brother.

John and Thelma Skues spent the day Friday in Winter Haven shopping with Charles Buckley and Mrs. Duques, new residents of our park.

Larry and Ruth Robinson left last week to spend a few weeks in Michigan. While Ruth is gone, of Jonathan Wright (yours truly) is gonna do his best to keep the news going, and I hope to get Mother ("Sally" to you readers) to help me next week. So grin and bear it for the next few weeks.

John and Thelma Skues spent the day Friday in Winter Haven shopping with Charles Buckley and Mrs. Duques, new residents of our park.

Larry and Ruth Robinson left last week to spend a few weeks in Michigan. While Ruth is gone, of Jonathan Wright (yours truly) is gonna do his best to keep the news going, and I hope to get Mother ("Sally" to you readers) to help me next week. So grin and bear it for the next few weeks.

SEEN HERE are the Andrews University (Berrien Springs, Mich.) Gymnastics. From these performers a picked group became a part of the Gymnastics for Christ who will tour the United States and Canada this Summer giving more than 50 performances and witnessing to other young people both personally and on stage. Gymnasts have multiple talents. Besides being acrobats, they also are talented musically and are able to speak in public as well as experience good rapport individually with other young people. Objective: To witness to the beauty of life in Christ, and its all-round perfection of the individual.

Mobile Home Developments Approved by Zoning Board

Four potential mobile home developments, in process before the county moratorium was declared, were approved by the Highlands County Commission last week. Zoning Director Jack Short said two more applications for zoning change to mobile home subdivisions are being processed now but these will be the last until Oct. 15.

The county commission, at the request of the county Planning and Zoning Commission, had imposed the moratorium on mobile home developments to give the zoning officials time to catch up on inspections and assess the long-range effects of large scale movement toward mobile homes.

The changes to mobile home subdivision zoning approved at the county commission meeting last week were for land owned by D. P. and Avera Sherley, from single family residential; Webb Realty Associates, Inc., from agricultural; T. E. and G. M. Glarner from agricultural; Edna Pearce Lockett from agricultural to mobile home subdivision and mobile home park.

The Planning and Zoning Commission initiated a request for Lincoln Heights area to be brought to be charged from single family residential to mobile home and residential subdivision.

The Planning and Zoning Commission also initiated the request for a change from general use and business to public buildings for the area where the county agriculture and civic center is to be located. Lake Placid Holding Co. received permission to change a portion of Placid Lakes from one and two family residential to multiple family residential classification (the classification needed for apartment houses).

Edward and Josephine Maher received approval for a change from single family residential to one and two family residential.

Hollenberg and Wolfe, Inc., received approval for a single family residential change to industrial use. Merita Fordham, from multiple family to business.

One application for a mobile home subdivision and mobile home park was withdrawn after it failed to gain approval of the zoning commission.

Bloodiest Battle
The Battle of Antietam, Sept. 17, 1862, is often referred to as the bloodiest single day battle in American history. Losses have been estimated at 12,000 Union and 9,000 Confederate troops.

With more than $6 airport improvement projects underway in 1971, the Florida Department of Transportation has granted $2 million in state assisted funds.

Gymnasts Will Perform at Adventist Gym

Gymnasts for Christ, a team of 30 young men and women from Seventh-day Adventist campuses across the U. S. and Canada, will perform here at the Seventh-day Adventist school gymnasium today (Thursday) July 15 from 7:30 P.M. Called a symphony in sound, motion, and color, the team will give a combined performance. In one performance they will demonstrate gymnastic feats using the parallel bars, trampoline, springboard, and a set of equipment as well as presenting balancing acts some of which will involve the entire team.

New Parole Officer Assigned To County

Most citizens would not choose to come into contact with convicted criminals, but J. Edward LaVoie moved to Highlands so he could see more of them. LaVoie, new district supervisor for the Florida Parole and Probation Commission, "eagerly sought" and received transfer to Highlands County where he was an assistant district supervisor with parole and probation officers under his supervision.

LaVoie and Bill Fine are the only officers for the Commission in Highlands County and while LaVoie will have some responsibility for supervising Fine's work, most of his supervision will be directly with parolees or probationers—and that is exactly what LaVoie wants.

He is looking forward to getting away from his desk in the courthouse annex and seeing his clients in their homes and in "where it is easier to see the whole man" as he really is. "When LaVoie graduated from college at University of Virginia he received a commission in the army and went to work as an officer in military police. He found that while he likes law enforcement very much he didn't like leaving a case hanging. As a professional policeman I had to stop working on a case, but a probation officer is in a better position to help a person."

After four and a half years in the army LaVoie went into investigation work—first with a credit bureau and then with an insurance company but finally back to law enforcement but this time with probation and parole "where you don't always see the bad part of people."

Rapid Improvement
LaVoie believes that Florida Parole and Probation Commission is undergoing rapid internal changes, "progressing at a faster rate now than when I came to the Commission three years ago. We are trying our best to keep up with the times."

He cites the work release program as a big step in the direction of improving work with adult offenders.

LaVoie is a native of Philadelphia but he regards Virginia as home. He is married and his wife's hometown is Virginia, Ill. She is currently visiting there with the LaVoies' four children—daughters, Laurie, 7, and Dede, 5; twin sons, John and Earl, 3.

Forest Service Asking To Be Notified Before Burning

A spiraling black cloud of smoke pierced the early morning sky just north of Avon Park Tuesday morning while a bright morning sun seemed to pitch on top of the smoke.

Caused by a concentrated burning of old truck tires the smoke could be seen as far south as Sebring.

The blaze was set in a controlled condition at the Ben Hill Griffin Maintenance Shop just north of Avon Park off Hwy. 27.

The Forest Service in Highlands County said they had not been notified of the early morning burn and since there is no law in the county to prevent such burning all was "perfectly legal."

However, State Forester Gary Graves said it would be of much help to the Forest Service if individuals or businesses would notify them before they plan to burn. He said it could save the taxpayers "many dollars, because firefighting equipment is often dispatched to the scene of any suspected fire."

Service personnel at the shop were reluctant to talk much about the burn except for the fact that "it is a shame they have to dispose of used tires and other equipment in such a manner."

Other counties in the state do have a no open burn ban without the use of a permit as do many cities, authorities said.

Most of the towering smoke had dispersed by 9:30 A.M. The city fire department commented that it had no jurisdiction over fire if it was outside the city limits.

The Forestry Service said they would like to know of any proposed burns and if necessary could send some of their personnel out to supervise burning.

Would you give up your automatic washer to install a needed traffic light?

We hate to give up our automatic washers, but most of us would because we realize how important traffic lights are. At present you don't have to make a choice. But that's why Florida Power must keep building to provide all the power you need for the essentials as well as the conveniences of life.

Today and tomorrow.

This construction program costs money. Ten million dollars a month, in fact. And it can't be postponed. Regardless of rising costs and inflation, we must build today if we are to meet tomorrow's electric needs. It's part of our responsibility to provide dependable power and to do it in such a way that we safeguard our environment.

Police Cars Need Air-Conditioners

We hear so much about governmental bodies and the mistakes they make these days so it's nice once in a while to print a nice comment which will help all the citizens. In this case we're talking about the cooperation that brought about the purchase of the city's new garbage truck.

It is a fine machine and should be a great boost to the morale of the sanitation department.

But the refusal to spend under $1,000 for the purchase of three air-conditioning units for the city's police cars is somewhat disconcerting. The city policemen are respected members of the community and we think the citizens want to look their best at all times.

But driving in a 95 to 100 degree automobile takes the best of starch out of the fine uniforms the men are required to wear.

We don't know all the reasons behind the turn-down—but it's food for thought. The pay for these patrolmen who put their life on the line for the city is not the best and it seems it would certainly be a good morale boost to at least be cool, comfortable and be able to look sharp.

Slow-Pitch Softball League

Action continued in the Avon Park slow-pitch softball league last week and after last Thursday's games (July 15), Marlowe and Jackson were still in first place with a 3-0 record. The first Baptist team upset APCI on Tuesday night, July 13, by a score of 13-2 to drop APCI to a second place tie with the Air Force team—both teams were 4-1 at the end of last week.

The Air Force defeated the Church of God team 14-3 in the late game on July 13 and then on Thursday, July 15, the first Baptist team again over the Seventh-day Adventists by a score of 10-6. First Methodists took Pantry Pride with a 3-0 mark. Pantry Pride 11-10 in the second game last Thursday night.

First Baptists are in fourth place with a record of 4-2; Methodists are in fifth with a 3-3 mark; Pantry Pride was 2-4; Church of God was 0-3; and Seventh-day Adventists were 0-6.

SEJC Panthers Moved To Division 3

NEW WALKER MEMORIAL Hospital administrator John Frank McCellan has settled in to his new post at the hospital north of Avon Park on Hwy. 27. He officially assumed the post July 1.—Sun Photo

Ground-Breaking Ceremonies Set at Walker Memorial

John Frank McCellan, 49, was officially welcomed at a luncheon in his honor at Walker Memorial Hospital last Thursday.

McCellan has actually held the post since July 1. He replaces former administrator George W. Walker who resigned to take a new job as assistant administrator of the Madison Hospital, Madison, Tenn.

McCellan is the father of two boys and two girls. He and his family including his wife Carol, have moved into the old administrator's home near the hospital.

Before coming to Avon Park, McCellan held jobs as a chief accountant at a 250 bed hospital, also in Madison, Tenn.

He subsequently moved up to the job of assistant administrator at Takoma Hospital in Greenville, Tenn.

McCellan is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators and the Hospital Financial Association.

The new administrator was introduced at the luncheon to leading members of the community and also met and talked with Highlands County General Hospital administrator, T. S. Yeager.

McCellan also told the Sun this week that the public is cordially invited to attend ground breaking ceremonies for the construction of the new hospital building which will replace the original main building at Walker Memorial.

"The ceremony," McCellan said, "will be held at the site of construction behind the old building, Wednesday, July 28 at 11 a.m."

The contract has been awarded to Peacock Construction Co. low bidder for the project. Completion date was set for January, 1973.

The administrator said the completion of the new structure will be a "long looked for step forward" in providing health services for the community.

When the new building is completed, at a cost of some $2,000,000, the old structure will be torn down, he said.

Walsh Resigns SEJC Position

Daniel C. Walsh, director of student personnel at South Florida Junior College has resigned his position at the college effective July 30, in order to pursue his doctoral degree at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

Mr. Walsh has been with the junior college since the Fall of 1968 as guidance counselor, instructor of Psychology and sociology, and director of student personnel services.

The Baha'i faith advocates peace for the whole world, universal brotherhood of man, compulsory education, harmony of science and religion and the unity of all religions.

W.J. Loadholtes To Direct Grower Relations

Citrus grower William J. Loadholtes will direct grower relations activities for Ben Hill Griffin, Inc. of Frostproof.

Appointment of the Fort Meade grower to the position was announced by Ben Hill Griffin, III, company president. "He is a man of wide-ranging experience in the industry, one who understands grower problems and how to deal with them," said Griffin.

Loadholtes will operate out of the company's field division, Division Manager John Giddens said. "Joe will maintain liaison with our growers and be available to act on their needs and requirements."

Loadholtes is active in Fort Meade city government, where he now serves as mayor.

The Fort Meade native has been a citrus grower and marketer since 1945. He is well known throughout the Florida citrus industry.

Cobb's Home Ransacked By Vandals

The home of William Cobb, next to CAM Roofing Co. at 1327 S. Highlands Ave., Avon Park, was ransacked by vandals Monday night, according to city police department.

The home apparently was entered from the rear. Both bedrooms were turned inside out, according to officers who investigated the scene early Tuesday morning.

All the rooms sustained a thorough going through by the vandals and it was reported that most of the food in the freezer had been taken.

Other items were apparently tossed about and out of various drawers.

The owners were out of town at the time of the incident. Three police cars responded to a call from the home early Tuesday morning and the investigation is continuing, authorities said.

Biggs Office Broken Into Monday

Avon Park city police department reported today that Biggs Insurance Agency north of Avon Park on US 27 was vandalized in a break-in Monday night.

The thieves, according to city police chief Ferland Cribbs, made off with a portable stereo-type radio.

They broke into the building by breaking the lock on the rear door.

Nothing else was reported missing and the office was left intact, authorities said.

In other action the police are investigating the theft of a 1964 Ford automobile from Wells Motor Co.

The auto was apparently taken sometime late Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

City police are investigating both of the incidents.

Notes On Helping The Handicapped

Moving days were Friday and Saturday, July 16 and 17 for the offices of Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children and its Work Center for Adults.

Program coordinator Charles Kempton with the aid of his son Walter, Bruce and Lee Hubbell of Sebring, and LeRoy Blake of Avon Park, loaded pickup trucks and Ward's Nursery van trailers to move the services from Hopewell School and the Ridge Area Day School annex, Avon Park, to E. O. Douglas School, Sebring. It was a hot job with no air conditioning at either end of the line.

However, more space at E. O. Douglas for a larger and better program for young adults was made available by the Highlands County School Board. The Work Center will be adding new adult clients to the original five who worked last year at the pilot project at Hopewell.

Products of the Work Center are sold from the Reale Store in the Jacaranda Building along with contributed merchandise and industry, one who understands grower problems and how to deal with them," said Griffin.

Loadholtes will operate out of the company's field division, Division Manager John Giddens said. "Joe will maintain liaison with our growers and be available to act on their needs and requirements."

Loadholtes is active in Fort Meade city government, where he now serves as mayor.

The Fort Meade native has been a citrus grower and marketer since 1945. He is well known throughout the Florida citrus industry.

Summer Day Camp had an unexpected treat as Miss Ann Karkiss, former president of RAY-ARC and a visitor in Avon Park from Salt Lake, Ky., spent Wednesday morning with the campers. Plans were being made for a field trip to The Great Masterpiece at Lake Wales followed by a picnic lunch at the city park.

Bobbi Newton, president RAY-ARC, is again on the volunteer schedule at Day Camp having returned recently from a special Girl Scout experience in North Carolina and Atlanta, Ga.

The Board of Directors of The Clothes Line, a Sebring facility which assists the needs of Highlands County, met for a Dutch Treat luncheon at the Circle Cafeteria in Sebring on Thursday, the 19th of July.

Their special guest was Mary Elizabeth Kempton, director of the Adult Work Center for the Handicapped. The purpose of the luncheon meeting was to acquaint board members with the aims and plans of the Adult Work Center and to seek mutual cooperation between the two facilities. Mrs. L. D. Duke, general chairman of The Clothes Line, guided the conversation in a mutual give and take of facts and ideas. Keen interest was expressed by the nine board members present and definite assistance was promised to the Adult Work Center.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

By JONATHAN WRIGHT

Things here in the park are about the same as we left them last week. The sun is HOT, the mosquitoes are biting, we're all perspiring, and the air conditioners and fans are going full blast. Our number of residents has dwindled still further as several have left for vacations in the north, and we who are left have learned to really appreciate the company of our few neighbors.

David Wright is in the process of painting the recreation hall, and it is beginning to look very nice. He and Emmette are also building storage shelves for the new garage behind C. in which will do much to relieve the congestion in the present tool room and workshop.

Mrs. LaRue Longenecker has been visited this week by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Longenecker from Ocoee, her granddaughter, Janet Longenecker from Brighton, Mich., and her great-granddaughter, Anita Hamney, also from Brighton. She was also visited by Mrs. Melvin Neuman, her daughter from La Porte, Ind., LaRue and her daughter enjoyed dinner at the home of Bertha and Charles Brush this past Monday.

John and Thelma Skace, Charles Buckley, and Mae Dupuis to see relatives.

Mae and Roy Gitten of Cincinnati, have recently been visited by the Jordans, the Patells of Chicago, and Dr. and Mrs. Hulse of Avon Park. They tell us they enjoy reading the park news in the Sun each week.

Ham and Nita Byer of Bourbon, Ind., have been kept quite busy with their farming, and their crops are looking very good and healthy. They enjoy visiting with their grandchildren, who are really growing like weeds. The Byers are looking forward to the annual Florida picnic in Buxton, and wish that the summer residents could come up there around that time.

Maud Neukirk is enjoying herself in the north, but is looking forward to returning to Avon Park sometime in August.

Margaret Fries of Pattersonville, N. Y., is a little on the sick side, we hear. She and Raymond are getting anxious to return to our park.

Ginny Roth of La Porte, Ind., is home now from the hospital in Chicago.

James and Florence Stark are presently staying in their cottage in Fenelon Falls, Ontario, and enjoying visits from their children.

Harry and Kathryn Jordan report that the weather up their way is rainy and warm. They expect to return around September 15.

Hazel Clemens of Kalamazoo, Mich., plans to have surgery on her arm August 10.

Rosa Kretz of Butler, Ind., tells us that she is already settling in for a busy winter of stuffing and bicycle riding.

David Wright is finishing up his summer term of college this week out at South Florida Junior College, and is doing quite well, grade-wise.

Well, that's about it for the news. If any of you folks up north have any good news, send it down to us and we'll put it in. And how about coming down a little early this fall? We sure miss you all up there.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Laugh at Puritans?

It is fashionable, in these days, to sneer at the "Puritan ethic," to make fun of those hardy souls who established a demanding set of rules for life — rules which required honesty, truthfulness, morality, hard work, devotion to duty, and devotion to God. They were called Puritans because they believed in purity of character and insisted on purity of conduct, in accordance with their understanding.

Maybe they were a little too strict. But maybe we are a lot too permissive.

Maybe our nation would be in better shape now if we had a little more Puritan influence and a little less permissiveness — a little more sternness and a little less softness. Maybe the pendulum has swung too far.

Their Methods Worked
Could you imagine a continuing crime wave, such as we have experienced for many years, under the rule of the Puritans? Of course not. Our crime wave was stimulated, in its early stages, by a permissive attitude on the part of the public and by too great leniency in the courts. Under the Puritan rule, criminals were quickly caught and sternly punished.

Could you imagine a welfare burden that threatens to bankrupt our large cities — the kind of intolerable situation which we now have — occurring under the Puritans? Of course not. Everybody who could work was expected to work, and there was no provision for the lazy and indolent to enjoy the fruits of the labors of the industrious.

Could you imagine, under Puritan rule, the current trend toward abandonment of moral standards, which has caused the incidence of venereal disease to skyrocket and which is ruining hundreds of thousands of young lives every year?

Could you imagine that the drug abuse problem would ever have existed if present proportions under Puritan rule? I couldn't, either.

Nobody is suggesting that we should adopt the Puritans' methods of punishment. Burning at the stake was really out of a Puritan invention, anyhow, but a method of execution which was in use at that time, which the Puritans simply carried over from their former life in England.

Putting people in the stocks, making them objects of ridicule to those who passed by, may not suit our present concept of proper punishment, but it apparently had a salutary effect — and may have served as a deterrent to future misdeeds more effectively than many of our present methods.

Time to Quit Laughing

Yes, maybe the Puritans were too strict, and maybe we wouldn't want to copy their methods exactly, but wouldn't you like to live in a country with no serious crime problem, no staggering welfare problem, no drug problem, and no venereal disease problem?

No, I'm not really advocating that we all become Puritans. But I do believe that, until we bring under control some of the problems that wouldn't have existed if our standards had been stricter, we had better quit laughing at the "Puritan ethic." Perhaps, if the Puritans are able to observe us from their places in heaven, they are laughing at us.

Or maybe they're weeping. Maybe it's time for us to pick up again the Book that was so popular in the early days of our country—the Book that says, "Happy is the nation whose God is the Lord."

STRICTLY FRESH

Settling down is easier than settling up after a buying spree.

Men who are good at guessing a girl's age are usually perceptive enough to keep knowledge of that talent to themselves.

We've noticed that most of the passengers on the first bus bound for town get up early in the morning.

The only prudent time to tell the boss where to get off is when he falls asleep on the bus.

Keeping a person in hot water is no way to make him tender.

Daily digs have lost many friends, and made none.

A true leader takes more than his share of blame, and less than his share of credit.

Jesse Parsons Dies In Hospital

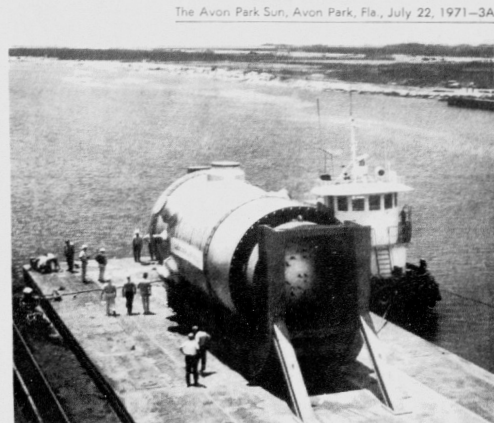

Jesse J. Parsons, age 82, of 331 Tulane Drive, passed away July 19 at Walker Memorial Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Parsons was a native of Proctor, W. Va., and came to Avon Park from Akron, Ohio, in 1897. He was a retired bookkeeper, a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Avon Park and a member of the F.O.E. of Akron.

DWARFING THE tug that recently pushed it from New Orleans to Crystal River, is Florida Power Corporation's reactor vessel for the company's first nuclear generating unit, now under construction at that location. When vertically in place in the reactor building, and when fully loaded with uranium fuel, control rods, internal piping and cooling water, the vessel and head assembly will weigh approximately 860 tons. The reactor will produce heat for steam to spin turbine-generators for the 825,000 kilowatt nuclear unit. Florida Power Corporation's nuclear generating facility will be the first nuclear generating source on Florida's west coast, providing needed power for company customers.

Police Report Break-In At Hilltop Sales

The Avon Park city police department reported today they are investigating a break-in at the Hilltop Sales & Service at 400 E. Main.

The vandals apparently broke in through a back window taking two chain saws and one portable television set with an estimated loss of some $300.

The theft occurred Friday night and the owners reported Monday that they had missed only the two chain saws at first.

But they noticed early Monday morning that the portable TV was also gone.

Pre-School Classes Close Friday

Tuesday, June 15, marked the beginning of four exciting weeks for the pre-schoolers of Avon Park. The 75 children enrolled for class met each day from 9-11:30. The children met in the auditorium for an opening program and flag salute each morning before going to their first class. The program consisted of four classes, each 20 minutes long and a break for refreshments. After completing all four classes, the pre-schoolers met back at the auditorium where their parents picked them up.

Would you give up your automatic washer to install a needed traffic light?

We'd hate to give up our automatic washers, but most of us would because we realize how important traffic lights are. At present you don't have to make a choice. But that's why Florida Power must keep building to provide all the power you need for the essentials as well as the conveniences in life. Today and tomorrow. This construction program costs money. Ten million dollars a month, in fact. And it can't be postponed. Regardless of rising costs and inflation, we must build today if we are to meet tomorrow's electric needs. It's part of our responsibility to provide dependable power and to do it in such a way that we safeguard our environment.

PICTURED ABOVE are the pre-schoolers enjoying a party on the last day of the summer program at the Avon Elementary School. They enjoyed ice cream, cookies, candy, balloons, party hats, favors, and had a gift they had made to take home to their mothers. In background are Edna Jackson, Diane Murphy, Gail Metheny and Janice Murphy.

Bridging the Mother-Daughter Gap

"You're too young!" "Wait a couple of years." "I'll tell you about that later."

For years these were the traditional answers parents gave to the searching questions asked by their offspring who were entering puberty.

Many of today's parents, while more modern in many ways, still give these same non-answers to the questions adolescents bring home. It isn't easy to answer some of these questions...

However, according to Mary Louise Lennon, Director of the Kimberly-Clark Life Cycle Center, a mother's responsibility is to be honest and straightforward. "You should hear your child out, and not ignore questions which at that moment are vitally important to your child or you will shut the door to future questions."

The Life Cycle Center, an educational service for women provided by the Kimberly-Clark Corporation, has recognized that parents and children do need help in finding the answers to questions. "Even if your daughter hasn't asked any questions, you should initiate conversation about some of the basic principles of being a young lady," says Miss Lennon.

In order to help you explain feminine cycles, from a physiological and emotional viewpoint, the Life Cycle Center provides six booklets. Parents and children can read them together, or they can be given to your daughter to read by herself.

Each booklet has been developed for a specific age range. The first, entitled "The Miracle of You," is for the young girl just reaching puberty. It explains the physical and emotional changes that occur during this time. "Your Years of Self-Discovery" is designed for the young teen girl, and related development during the mid-teens.

For teachers and mothers, the booklet "You and Your Daughter" gives meaningful answers young women frequently asked about their own sexuality. "The Years of Independence" offers valuable guidance for the young woman venturing out on her own for the first time...

If you would like to receive one of these booklets, or all of them, simply write to the Life Cycle Center, Kimberly-Clark Corporation, Box 551-EC, Neenah, Wisconsin 54956, and enclose ten cents for each booklet, or fifty cents for all six.

Be prepared for the day your daughter shyly asks a question which you will need to answer without hesitation. Bridge the mother-daughter gap by answering her with knowledge and honesty.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

By BILL WARNER

Last week, David Lanier introduced Police Chief Ferland Cribb of the Avon Park Police Department. Chief Cribb, who has been with the force since April 12, presented us with a report on our police department and his hopes for its future.

Chief Cribb hopes to improve the morale, education and equipment of his department. Toward this end, he has asked for air-conditioned cars to improve the appearance as well as morale of his officers. He also stated that the Avon Park Police Department is the lowest paid law enforcement agency in the state. This would certainly tend to lead to some study. The chief has also started a teenage police cadet program and has had a T.D.S. computer installed in one of the cars to more effectively deal with speeders.

It would appear that his early performance that Chief Cribb is out to realize his goals. We should all encourage him in every way possible to help him improve our police protection.

PHIL WOOTEN, president of Branch 4000, NALC, is shown presenting a gold lifetime membership card to Paul E. Larson, 308 East Canfield St., signifying 50 years membership by Mr. Larson in Branch 126 NALC, Clinton, Iowa. Mr. Larson also received a letter of commendation from James Rademacher, national president, Letter Carriers Association.

Hoopers Have Visitor From England

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hooper had as their weekend guest, Anthony Smith of Wolverhampton, England. "Tony" is a member of the Boy Scouts International Camp Staff at Camp Fleming, Arrow in Lake Wales. He is 24, an accountant in England, and a scout leader in Wolverhampton.

During the weekend, the Hoopers gave "Tony" his first view of an Indian Reservation at Brighton, the site of the Sebring Grand Prix and Highlands Hammock State Park.

Wolverhampton is only 50 miles from Stratford-on-Avon, the town after which Avon Park was named. The Hoopers are looking forward to some pictures and brochures of that famous place which Tony has promised to send upon his return to England.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beane wished to thank all the merchants who donated for their new TV.

Hospital Breaks Ground For $2 Million Addition

THERE HAVE BEEN some minor changes in this first architectural rendering of the new Walker Memorial Hospital to be built within the next two years but basically this is what the new plant will look like.

Once the new building is up the old 1920 structure will be demolished.—Photo courtesy Walker Memorial Hospital.

One of Highlands county's traditional landmarks just north of Avon Park on Highway 27, now known as Walker Memorial Hospital, will be leveled to the ground in the next two years.

Peacock Construction Co. of Ft. Myers is the general contractor for the new structure which will cost $1,666,688. Architectural fees will run $110,000, according to administrator John McClelland.

Ground-breaking ceremonies took place yesterday (Wednesday) morning at 11 a. m. on a site directly behind the old building.

Construction is due to commence immediately. The new hospital will be located right on Lake Lillian. Once it is up, the old building will be torn down to make way for parking space and landscaping.

except transplant operations." There will be plenty of room for administrative, personnel, new offices, a new kitchen and cafeteria, medical records and of course, physical medicine.

There will also be a new operation and recovery room, an intensive and coronary care section, central supply and pharmacy spaces plus 42 new beds. The new building will have a top capacity of 67 beds.

McClelland said the new hospital "should be a boon to Avon Park, bringing to the city the latest in modern health care."

The hospital is being built with a $1,666,688 bond issue plus $800,000 in Federal aid.

McClelland paused for a moment during a news interview to comment that "this is the first time in my hospital career that I'll have an office on a lake. And believe me, the swimmers and water skiers can make use pretty easily in the middle of a hard working day," he laughed.

Tickets Go On Sale August 9

Reserved seat tickets for the 1971 home football games of the Avon Park Red Devils will not go on sale until August 9, this year due to the moving to the new high school. The fans who hold reserved seat tickets from last season may renew those tickets at the new high school office starting Monday, Aug. 9, for the price of $1 per ticket.

Fans are urged to renew these tickets as soon as possible. They must be picked up in person. Season tickets for the five home games will also be on sale at this time. This year Avon Park will play the following teams at Memorial Field: Father Lopez of Daytona Beach, Sept. 17; Fort Meade, Oct. 1; Wauchula, Oct. 8; Punta Gorda, Oct. 15 and Clewiston, Oct. 22.

Out of town games will be: Mulberry, Sept. 24; Arcadia, Oct. 29; Lake Placid, Nov. 5; Gresham, Nov. 12; an open date on Nov. 19; and Sebring, Nov. 24.

Avon Park Fire Chief Plans To Retire In September

Long-time Avon Park Fire Chief William W. Giddens has submitted his resignation and will retire from the Fire Department following some 32 years of service.

Giddens plans to remain in Avon Park but will do "a little traveling around the state and some longed for fishing" starting in the fall.

The well-known city employee first came to Avon Park March 8, 1924. He was born into a large family in Adel, Ga. May 23, 1909. His retirement becomes effective October 1, this year.

He has been a "homebody" telling the Sun that he has never traveled more than 771 miles from Avon Park. That was on a trip some years ago to the Carolinas. He started working with the city in the Sanitary Department before he became a fireman in 1940. In 1941 he was appointed Assistant Fire Chief becoming Fire Chief in 1943.

Giddens remembers when help was scarce during WWII. He filled in as police dispatcher and served two years as Avon Park Director of Public Works.

When he first started, Giddens recalls, there were only three firemen for the entire city. He and his wife Nora have raised six children, three boys and three girls.

There are seven permanent firemen under his direction now and 17 volunteers. One of the worst fires he can remember in the city took place during WWII on the site where the Chamber of Commerce is now located. In the 1940s it was headquarters for the food rationing stamp board. Giddens recalls.

Giddens has two brothers living in Lakeland and one in Avon Park.

He was praised at this week's city council for "an outstanding job of loyal service to the city of Avon Park."

The new fire chief position has not yet been announced.

FIRE CHIEF WILBUR GIDDENS

South Florida Junior College Draws Criticism From Auditor

The financial operations of South Florida Junior College have been sharply criticized in the first audit made of the college. President William A. Stallard filed with the audit a three page explanation of the circumstances surrounding the actions indicated in the audit.

Many of the criticisms in the audit made by Carroll Lloyd for the State of Florida's office of the auditor general, are related to the building of the SFJC campus.

Dr. Stallard wrote, "South Florida Junior College is the smallest public junior college in the state. Under the formula for the generation of capital and construction funds at the state level it has proved to be an excessively difficult task to raise a sufficient amount of money to provide the basic services and facilities required of any institution of higher education."

"It has not always been possible with a limited budget to obtain personnel which were well qualified, particularly possible to provide sufficient personnel to expeditiously do the job. We now have an accountant heading our business office and we hope that many of the problems which we have had will not occur again."

The audit charged that the SFJC board "has not authorized" to obligate the college to pay the city of Avon Park $45,000 for construction of a sewage and water system for the campus. Dr. Stallard explains that when state funds were not adequate to pay for these utilities, the city of Avon Park borrowed the money to build the lines on the promise that the college would repay as it could, probably $10,000 a year.

The city of Avon Park has retained title to lines and the auditor says the board may not spend state funds for property to which the state does not obtain title.

At another point the audit claims expenditure of $15,337 for a sprinkler system was improper. Dr. Stallard says such a system was necessary to prevent erosion along the lakefront where the campus is built.

An overpayment of $9,000 to the general contractor has been recovered.

Student Activities

The auditor criticized failure to adhere to the budget for student activities as approved by the president. He recommended more controls on the expenditure of student activities fees.

He charged that scholarship files were in a "disorganized condition."

Athletic supplies and equipment were purchased without proper bidding for purchases exceeding $1,000. The auditor noted that budgets and budget amendments were handled correctly, but he scored the board for failure to maintain all the minute book records as

Councilmen Discuss 18-Year-Old Vote

The 18-year-old vote was on the agenda at the city council meeting this week and a small case of the jitters set in.

One of the councilmen, citing the case out in Berkeley, Calif., where the young people banded together and took over city hall, seemed a bit uneasy at the prospects of an 18 to 21 year-old mayor or councilman sitting in the Avon Park Council.

The Sun checked with the registrar's office in Sebring to learn that only about 23 young people in that age category have signed up thus far to vote in city elections scheduled early in December. The question was raised about the possibility of South Florida Junior College students who might sign up en masse, claiming Avon Park as the home of legal residence.

Time Will Tell

If that were done, although there might be some questions on the "home rule" status of such voters, some 600 students, if they could vote, might possibly shake-up the council members by getting themselves elected.

One of the members expressed horror at the idea of young longhairs running the city, or young shortairs, for that matter.

Generation Gap?

So, once again, the generation gap seems to put fear between the young and old of bridging a gap mutual trust. But the 18-year-old vote is now the law of the land.

Who knows, a stable young man or woman, with some political interest and savvy might be a refreshing sight on any government body, city, county or state.

But for the time being the young people don't seem to be flocking to register to vote and so won't make much of a dent in city politics.

But it's 1971 and who can foresee what will happen during the decade of the Seventies.

Certainly, time will tell all citizens know.

required by law.

The audit includes recommendations for tighter internal controls. In the long opinion section of the audit Lloyd listed some funds where, he said, records were so incomplete and he could not render an official opinion on the financial statements of these funds.

Dr. Stallard, in his letter, stated "I do not question the validity of the audit. . . I merely wish to point out that occasions arise in which action must be taken. . . it is sometimes impractical if not impossible to proceed in complete compliance with regulations which are mandated from some distance away."

Council Calls Special Meet On Proposed City Budget

City Clerk Malcolm Crews said the formal city budget session tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at city hall.

The city clerk announced that its new garbage truck is having some difficulties in that it is too high and running into low branches of trees while making routine runs to pick up garbage.

So, it was decided temporarily to purchase for $159.95 a new gas powered chain saw from Hilltop Sales so the sanitation department can properly trim the lower branches from curbside trees.

Councilmen also decided on a $2 monthly garbage for individual trailers in all Avon Park trailer parks. This, it was reasoned, would bring them in line with the price now being charged to individual apartments throughout the city.

It was also announced that the painting of the Avon Park baseball clubhouse by boys working in the Neighborhood Youth Corps would begin shortly.

Councilmen expressed concern over the heavy proliferation of mosquitoes in the city. But they abandoned the idea of spraying from city equipment as ineffective.

They urged that every home dweller purchase equipment to spray around their own property as the best way of control.

A federally financed program some three years old seemed to solve the problem but the city has been notified that no funds are available for spraying this year.

Too Many Animals In City Limits-Spurlock

The towel was thrown in by Avon Park city building inspector as he told the city council meeting Tuesday night that the town was literally "going to the dogs."

Earl Spurlock told the councilmen that there is absolutely "no way" he can keep up with the problem of enforcing the rapid spread of dogs, cats, horses, cows and other animals throughout the city.

He went on to record telling the councilmen that he knew the subject of animals is a "touchy" matter but that too many animals are on small lots which in turn brings on a health problem for proper disposal of animal waste.

There apparently is an ordinance on the books pertaining to animals but it doesn't have enough "teeth" in it to ensure proper enforcement of what is considered to be a health hazard because of flies and the stench of animal waste created by too many animals in too small a space.

Spurlock also said he had contacted the Chief of Police Ferland Cribbs and he also indicated he was powerless to do anything about the problem under control.

"Neighbors are reluctant to call and register a complaint," Spurlock said, "because of a possible row in the scene of a blaze or accident."

In other action the council discussed the possible use of propane gas in city vehicles. Some difficulties were reported from several sources that have experimented with propane.

No action was taken. City attorney Jack Hancock reported some progress on the EDCU suit. Their attorney was in touch with the city and said they were now willing to settle according to city terms if the city will give them a good title.

This involves advertising for bids on the property with EDCU equity computed at $40,000. The settlement will not involve Avon Investment, Inc. A motion was made and seconded to accept the settlement offer of EDCU provided a five foot right-of-way is decided back to the city and a 25 foot strip of land needed back to Avon Investment, Inc. The motion carried unanimously.

The council also voted unanimously to cancel the 1969 and 1970 taxes on Hardie McClelland on a 15 foot strip of land in a closed street and accept payment of 1969 taxes without penalty due to an assessment error.

A motion to purchase a new greensward on the city golf course was tabled until the mower now in use can be looked at for possible repairs.

City Clerk Crews was instructed to notify an owner of an old vegetable stand located on East Pine Street to be torn down and removed.

Registration For Junior Golf Tournament

Junior members of the Avon Park Golf Association are reminded to register by August 5 for the club's junior championship tournament. All entrants for the tournament to be held August 19 to 24 should report at the pro shop by 9:30 of August 5 to go over the rules of play.

Seventeen teams entered the combined Sebring and Avon Park pro-am held at the Sebring Country Club last Wednesday. Two teams, the first manned by Ed Touchton, Sr., Malcolm Watkins, J. O. Allan and Harry Beeman, and the second by George Henderson, Gus Sullivan, M. DeLaet and Lon Hirsch shared first place.

The team of Wally Cox, J. C. Walker, Bill Brewer and M. Gribble, last second. Prizes were also awarded to the third, fourth and fifth place teams.

Temperature Reaches 100 Tuesday

If you think it was hot in Avon Park Tuesday afternoon, you were right.

The official weather bureau reported that the thermometer reached 100 degrees, in the shade mind you, for the first time this year. It all happened at 4:30 p.m. at the weather bureau station at Walnut and DeLaney.

That was the official temperature but the thermometer in front of the Avon Park Sun was standing at 112 degrees at exactly the same time. It was remarked that an Alaskan travel agent might have jumped up some business had he been walking the mall trying to sell a cruise ticket to the Arctic Circle.

Army Getting More Volunteers

An interesting note from the wire services this week noted that because of the economic slowdown in the country the Army is suddenly getting more volunteers.

The reason might be the new media advertising campaign pronouncing that "the Army Wants to Join YOU!" But the overwhelming facts seem to be that today's young adults are having one heck of a time finding employment and are turning to the Army as their employer.

Now, there's nothing wrong with that if they do the Army justice and turn out to be good army men or when released become better citizens.

But, we think it is a sad comment on government or private employers when they cannot provide other avenues for jobs if the job seeker doesn't really care for Army service and only turns to it to "make a living."

There are many good young men who really want to join the services and will make fine career soldiers. But those who turn to military service in desperation probably won't do the Army or themselves much justice.

We don't owe our young people a "free ride" but we do owe them a chance to make their way in the world in whatever career they are most happy and productive in.

There's no group among us—young or old—that isn't immune to pitfalls and they should be helped and hired in the career of their choosing—one that they are content with.

No matter what happens we think young men and women who need employment and get it are really "right on."

Avon Park has a small police force which is only natural for a small city. But the force has more than its share of problems that keep it as busy as any metropolitan force.

This past week has seen a rash of vandalism and thefts throughout the city.

But the small force is on the job and doing more than its share of work in answering calls and coming to the aid of those in distress.

These days there are a lot of people in national, state and city locations who are afraid to walk the streets at night.

Avon Park is no exception. We've heard that fear expressed from many of our Avon Park residents. It's a shame, but seems to be a sign of the times.

So, the Sun would like to register one big pat on the back to our law enforcement officers who work long hours with low pay, and all at the risk of their lives.

It is mighty reassuring to see a police cruiser on the job, especially after darkness falls.

They should have more money, better equipment, perhaps some other fringe benefits—but for now a sincere "thanks" is all we have in our power to offer.

Perhaps the city council and all of the citizens in the city would let the policemen know how much they are appreciated. We know this is only a token, but it can help build and sustain morale.

A simple letter to the police force or the Avon Park Sun will not go unnoticed. We would hate to think of what might happen without any law enforcement.

Think about it.

Republicans Hold Rally

Saturday

The Young Republicans Club of Highlands County hosted a "get ready for '72" rally at Highlands Hammock State Park Saturday. This is the first in a series of rallies Florida GOP is holding this summer to begin preparations for the campaigns of 1972. For the rally here Representative Bob Johnson was principal speaker. Herb Harmon was master of ceremonies. Other speakers included County Commissioner Andy Jackson and Bill Davis of Tallahassee, executive assistant for the Republican party in Florida.

The rally ended with a steak dinner attended by more than 250 people. The Republican Women's Club members decorated the park's recreation hall. Jim DuBoise is president of the host Young Republicans Club.

Summer Program Ends Friday

The summer enrichment program sponsored by the county school system will come to a close tomorrow (Friday) after six weeks of recreation, academic instruction, and swimming classes.

Over one hundred boys and girls have been involved in some phase of swimming instruction here in Avon Park according to Leon Garner who has headed up the swimming program. Thirty youngsters are expected to pass the Red Cross Beginners Swimming Course after three weeks of concentrated instruction. Forty boys and girls will receive Advanced Beginner Cards and quite a few are making progress on their Intermediate Summer program.

Twelve youngsters will receive Junior Life Saving badge for the work they have done in that class under Mr. Garner's instruction. Others have spent some time in the program but will not complete any of the courses this year. The afternoon (Thursday) but the morning classes will finish up tomorrow. Activities at both the Avon Elementary Center and the Avon Park High School Center have been most successful and the boys and girls of Avon Park have enjoyed the many different phases of the program. With school set to open on Monday, Aug. 30, the youth of Avon Park will have just five weeks left to enjoy their summer vacation.

Miami Investors Interested In Building Track

A group of Miami investors is interested in building a new racetrack in Highlands county as the new home of the famed Grand Prix of Endurance.

"We have some negotiations going on at the moment," Mary Ullmann, treasurer of the Automobile Racing Club of Florida, said in New York Tuesday.

"If these are successful, they might result in a track being built in Highlands county."

If the negotiations are successful, the ARCF would probably want to use the old Sebring track just one more year, she said.

"We know it would cost a lot of money to put the old track in shape," she said, but added they would hope to come to some compromise with FIA International racing authorities on what is needed to put the track in acceptable raceable condition.

Mrs. Ullmann said they spent "between $15,000 to $20,000 to make it raceable this past March." She said she does not know how much it would cost to make it raceable next March.

One of the items the FIA has specified is a "chain link fence completely across the airport, which is impossible."

She said they "know the things FIA wanted—and we would have to arrive at a compromise."

Mrs. Ullmann said the old track "has been offered to us by the Firemen. And the Airport Authority confirmed it would be available."

She pointed out that the Firemen only a week ago got a lease price from the Sebring Airport Authority for another year—$12,078.53.

Mrs. Ullmann said the Miami group of investors is not the only one they have been talking with. But apparently they offer the best chance of continuing the race in Highlands county.

Three sites are under consideration "which are available and large enough and could be used."

Would the acreage the Ullmanns bought from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stiles west of Sebring a couple of years ago be available?

Perhaps. "We have two persons interested in buying this property," she said, "and I cannot say whether it will be available when needed."

Mrs. Ullmann said she realized that "something cannot be worked out" with Sebring Airport Authority for the 500 acres in the airport which have been the subject of dickering for months.

She said she realizes the Authority has a responsibility to the taxpayers. But also, she pointed out, "if we invested in the Airport, we would have nothing. We would be building on another person's property. We had to look for an alternative."

Lions Club News

The second monthly meeting for July started off with a roaring singfest. Led by songbird Lion Billy Martin, the entire group seemed to be in unusually good voice. Someone remarked that Mitch Miller had better watch his laurels.

Lion Dan Sanderford read a brief on the place of the annual International Lions convention in the Lions organization and its goals. He stressed the number of years needed to plan for one annual session. For instance, planning for the recent convention held in Las Vegas, Nev. began more than three years prior to the meeting. The Lions annual International meeting is unique in that it is attended primarily by Lions and their families. The logistics of such a meeting require providing adequate housing and all related facilities for more than 40,000 persons. It is truly a task for a full time group of professionals.

The first District Cabinet Meeting under Ridge area leadership, Lion Governor Howard Towns of Lake Wales, will be held in that city on August 22.

Highlands county dairies on the honor roll were Drees's Dairy and Tropical Dairy Farm, Avon Park, and Larson No. 2, Cornwell.

The dairies most consistently produce milk with bacteria counts below 10,000 per milliliter to earn a place on the honor roll, Dodd said. This requires that they follow good sanitation practices in handling the milk, and helps assure Florida consumers a quality product, he said.

As lonely as it may seem here in the park this summer, shuffling has certainly not left the scene. Local Dairies List On State Honor Roll Eighty Florida dairy farms and eight in South Alabama earned recognition on the state's Dairy Honor roll in the first six months of this year, according to Jack Dodd, director of the Dairy Division, Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

The dairies most consistently produce milk with bacteria counts below 10,000 per milliliter to earn a place on the honor roll, Dodd said. This requires that they follow good sanitation practices in handling the milk, and helps assure Florida consumers a quality product, he said.

Highlands county dairies on the honor roll were Drees's Dairy and Tropical Dairy Farm, Avon Park, and Larson No. 2, Cornwell.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

The skies were clear and the weather was perfect for the launching of Apollo 13 last Monday morning and several of us summer residents enjoyed seeing the small, distant orange light slowly ascend into the sky to the northeast of us. There was really not too much to see, but just knowing that it was a rocket headed for the moon gave us a sense of excitement.

As lonely as it may seem here in the park this summer, shuffling has certainly not left the scene. Nearly every evening finds a game going full steam, but it somehow seems to lack something without Ham Byer's "You're in the kitchen." As more of our friends return this fall, however, we expect the shuffleboard courts to become increasingly busier.

Rosa Bennington has been enjoying a very busy summer with her family and friends. After a visit at her sister's home in Louisville, she traveled to Sandusky, Ohio, where she enjoyed a three-day reunion with brothers and sisters from New Mexico, Montana, the Dakotas, Kentucky, Virginia and Ohio. Rosa is now in Roanoke, Va., visiting with other friends and relatives. She expects to return to Avon Park around the first of September, and sends her greetings to all.

Bess Raas is spending the summer at her cottage at Shell Lake, Wis., and has been alone most of the time, since her son-in-law, Norman Dahl, has been in the hospital the past six weeks after a heart attack.

Dean and Abbie Conrad of Shell Lake, Wis., report that they are enjoying their stay up North, and are tending to their flowers which have been blooming—lilies, snowballs, forgethys, and hydrangeas. They are presently being visited by their daughter from California.

Cool weather is being enjoyed by Maurice and Carl Hallene, who are staying in their cottage, which is near Lake Wales. Their future even comes on sometimes at night. Among their activities are fishing.

Sandra Lightsey-Billy Jackson Repeat Wedding Vows July 18

On Sunday, July 18, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Sandra Kay Lightsey and Billy Jackson were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Jackson, brother of the bridegroom, in Avon Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lightsey of Bereah and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Jackson of Avon Park.

Rev. R. L. Polk, brother-in-law of the bride from South Bay, performed the double-ring ceremony before a candlelight setting of tall, multi-branched candelabras, each with seven white candles, and formal arrangements of greenery. A large bouquet of pink carnations, pink gladioli and white daisies in an urn accented the background.

Mrs. Michael Farn, organist presented a program of pre-nuptial music, including the wedding march.

Bride Wears Organdy and Lace

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal length gown of white organdy and tulle. The fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves were of lace which was repeated on the chapel train. Her veil of organdy was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink carnations, white gladioli and white daisies.

Her only attendant, Sue Ann Godwin wore a summer pink flared-length gown with a scoop neck and empire waistline. It featured full sleeves and was trimmed at the waist with a pink sash. She carried a bouquet of varied shades of pink carnations.

Clark Jackson attended his brother as best man. Mrs. Lightsey chose for her daughter's wedding a blue knit sheath with beaded trim of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Jackson, brother of the bridegroom, in Avon Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lightsey of Bereah and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Jackson of Avon Park.

At the reception which followed, the bride's table was overlaid with lace and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Pink satin roses and fern adorned the cloth. A tiered epergne holding clusters of pink glads, carnations and white daisies, accented with lighted candles completed the table arrangements.

Mrs. R. L. Polk, sister of the bride from South Bay, cut and served the cake. At the punch service was Mrs. Billy Barnes, sister of the bride from Pahokee.

The guests and members of the immediate families enjoyed a punch, wedding cake, mints and nuts.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their home in Avon Park.

Local Couple Wed In Candlelight Ceremonies at Church of Nazarene

In an impressive candlelight ceremony Saturday, July 24, Miss Linda Jane Bateson and Edwin David Bates were united in marriage at the Church of the Nazarene in Avon Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conner Bateson of Avon Park, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Bates, also of Avon Park.

Rev. Paul J. Trissel performed the double-ring ceremony before a setting of palms and brass arch candelabra with white candles. White gladioli and chrysanthemums accented either side of the white satin kneeling bench.

The family pews were marked with permanent flower clusters and white satin bows.

A program of pre-nuptial music was rendered by organist Mrs. Sally Wright.

Bride Chooses Traditional Gown

For her vows the bride chose a traditionally styled gown of Alencon lace and organdy. The empire waistline was accented with a white satin band. The mandarin lace neckline accented the bouffant sleeves of organdy with lace inserts from shoulder to the wide fitted cuff. Her gently flared A-line skirt was highlighted with a narrow Avon lace panel down the center of the gown. The chapel length train was bordered with a wide band of lace and accented with satin ribbon. Her cathedral veil of illusion was held in place by a cap of lace trimmed with satin ribbon and accented with a satin bow.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and leather leaf fern with white streamers.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Donna Whitaker of Lake Placid. She wore a gown of deep lavender polyester crepe which lined the pale lavender lace overlays. The empire waistline fell into an A-line skirt and the gown was accented with long lace bouffant sleeves with ruffles at the cuffs. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and lavender daisies.

Serving as maid of honor was Marcia Meadows, cousin of the bride, from Avon Park. She was gowned identically to the matron of honor, and also carried a colonial bouquet of daisies.

Serving as bridesmaid were Mrs. Linda Spurlock and Mrs. Mary Watson, sister of the bridegroom, of Avon Park. Miss Diane Ludington of Tampa also served as a bridesmaid. Their empire-styled gowns were of white lace bonded to pale yellow organdy which featured the sheer lace sleeves accented with white lace. A deep purple ribbon encircled the empire waistline and formed a bow, which was accented with streamers. They also carried colonial bouquets of daisies.

Misses Shawn and Erin Dunaway, sisters of the bride from Winter Park served as flower girls. Both were dressed in white lace bonded to pale yellow organdy which featured the sheer lace sleeves accented with white lace. A deep purple ribbon encircled the empire waistline and formed a bow, which was accented with streamers. They also carried colonial bouquets of daisies.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth of satin and lace accented with satin rosebuds at the corners. The table was decorated with the white thray wedding cake with clusters of pink and yellow sweetpeas and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and was flanked on either side by white tapered in teardrop prism candlesticks. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table. The bride wore a white gown with a lace yoke and a white skirt. The groom wore a white shirt and a white tie.

The punch table was covered with a white cloth of satin and lace accented with satin rosebuds at the corners. At either end of the table were teardrop prism candlesticks. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table. The bride wore a white gown with a lace yoke and a white skirt. The groom wore a white shirt and a white tie.

Mrs. C. H. Fenstermaker returned home after accompanying her mother, Mrs. Louise M. Farthing to her home in Buffalo, N. Y., spending a week there. Afterward she flew to Columbus, Miss., to visit her nephew and family at Columbus Air Force Base for a few days.

Mrs. W. R. Carter of Decatur, Ga., was a weekend guest of Mrs. Florence C. Stebbins. Mrs. Carter is well known in this community. She is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. I. W. Kynock. Dr. Chandler served his patients faithfully and was considered one of the outstanding physicians in the state.

Mrs. Betty Workman and son Scotty of San Diego, Cal., who have been visiting relatives in Wauchula, dropped in for a visit with Solveig Gerrard recently. Mrs. Workman is the former Betty Kay Kynock, who many will remember. Also accompanying them to Avon Park was Mrs. Workman's sister, Mrs. Mary Ruth Hollins of Wauchula. Mrs. Workman's brother, Rex Wyckoff and wife of Wauchula have just announced the arrival of their first child, a son.

Randy Jordan and Jimmy Coe have returned from a few days spent at Fort Myers Beach.

The wedding will take place at the Church of the Nazarene in Avon Park on September 11 at 8 P.M. Rev. Paul J. Trissel will be the officiating minister. All friends and relatives are invited to both the wedding and reception.

Mrs. Mervin Rehner was surprised at her birthday recently with a celebration of her 40th birthday. On Friday night she was surprised with a birthday cake and all the trimmings. On Saturday guests dropped in and the weekend was completed with a family dinner on Sunday.

Helping her to celebrate were: son, Jim Rehner and wife Arlin and little daughter April of Hollywood; daughter, Marcia Davis and husband Rene and sons, Doug and Jeff of Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dietz of New Jersey and Avon Park; Hilda and Slater Yocum, Happy and Loyd Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Davis, all of Avon Park.

FLORIDA WILDLIFE

COMMENTS ON THE OUTDOORS

by Dr. O.E. Frye, Jr.
Director
GAME AND FRESH WATER FISH COMMISSION

In 1971 the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission entered its 30th year of placing hunting lands under a program of scientific management designed to bring about a good game supply on readily available public hunting grounds. It happily acknowledges its anniversary, with a promise to do its utmost to merit continuing public interest and support.

Records show that the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission now has 40 wildlife areas under management, totaling over four million acres, and that 38 of these areas will be open to hunting during the 1971-72 season. Findings also show that approximately 25 percent of the hunting license buyers in Florida hunt on these areas, and that they harvest annually more than 5,000 deer, 1,000 turkey, 21,000 quail and 41,000 squirrel.

Only on some of these areas (and in but five additional specified locations and counties) are hogs declared to be wild and can be legally taken as game animals. Except for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's program, hunters generally would not have any considerable hog hunting opportunities. As a benefit of the management program in excess of 2,200 wild hogs are harvested on the 18 areas where hogs are legal game.

Collectively, these management areas are a readily accessible vast public hunting territory, free from today's increasing harassment of posted and no hunting signs. Moreover a season's ticket, good on most of these areas, is available for a modest fee of only $5.00. Except for the regular valid hunting license, hunters incur no other regulatory costs to use these prime hunting lands.

Although operated essentially as public hunting grounds, most of these areas also are open throughout the year for fishing, camping, boating, and other recreational uses. Of course, no guns or dogs are allowed except during the hunting season only. On some areas, camping is either restricted to confined areas or prohibited altogether for various, sound reasons. General rules and regulations for the various areas are included in the 1971-72 Fishing and Hunting Regulations booklet now available at offices of County Judges and the Commission at Panama City, Ocala, Lakeland, West Palm Beach and Tallahassee.

Many of the wildlife management areas are located on public lands, including State and National Forests, military reservations and other government lands. The others are areas managed by the Commission through written agreements with the individuals with the lands in reality the backbone of the Commission's far-reaching program to provide game supply for the future.

It has now long been a habit with Florida sportsmen to use public hunting areas. Over the last 30 years, many have been "brought up" hunting only on these management areas, and today when they plan a hunting outing they usually select a management area for their trip. This couldn't happen if these public areas did not have appeal and offer success to hunters. The truth is, they do. And the result is continuing support and interest for Florida's wildlife management program, shown by the stable acreage maintained and the steady growth of the program.

The appeal to sportsmen, moreover, is that these management areas afford quality outdoor doors that people have time to reach. What they really mean is that the Commission is providing good outdoor recreation where it is needed most—and actually buying time for the sportsman, time in the form of

Marlowe and Jackson Remain In First Place with 7-0 Record

The Marlowe and Jackson slow-pitch softball team remained in first place after last Monday night's action with a perfect 7-0 record. The top team knocked off APCI last Thursday night by a score of 11-3, and Monday night a week ago the M&J team squashed the Air Force team by a score of 21-3. The Air Force boys took over second place in spite of the loss to M&J by winning over APCI 10-0. Air Force is now 5-2 after last Monday night's games. First Baptist took a win from the First Methodist last Tuesday night a week ago by a score of 11-7 to move into third place with a 5-2 record. APCI won over the Church of God team 18-1 but lost to M&J and Air Force so dropped to fourth place with a 3-3 record. First Methodist remained in fifth place with a 4-4 mark after losing to the Baptist team and winning over Seventh-day Adventist 15-1. Baptist Pride stayed in sixth place with a 2-3 record after losing to Air Force 6-2 last Thursday night.

The Seventh-day Adventist team won its first game of the season 15-11 over Church of God last Tuesday night a week ago and thus moved up from the cellar with a 1-7 record. The Church of God team took over the last place spot with an 0-7 record losing to APCI and the Seventh-day Adventist team.

Last Tuesday night the First Baptists were to play Pantry Pride in the first game and M&J was set to take on the Church of God team in the second game. Tonight (Thursday) First Methodist play APCI at 7 o'clock and Air Force boys challenge the Seventh-day Adventist in the second game.

Next Monday, Aug. 2, First Baptist take on M&J team early and Pantry Pride plays Church of God in the second game.

Bridal Shower Held At Tampa Church

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given for Mrs. Joyce Strickland at Riverside Baptist Church in Tampa, Saturday, July 24. The showers were decorated throughout in a bridal theme of pink and white with beautiful potted greenery. A box of pink roses topped by a white wedding bell formed the background for the bride to open her many beautiful gifts.

Misses Rachel Taylor and Janet Eckard, both of Tampa, assisted Joyce in the recording of her gifts.

The bride was lovely in a blue knit dress trimmed with daisies and a pink corsage presented by the hostesses. The bride's mother, Mrs. Ota C. Strickland, wore a double-knit dress in two shades of pink.

The tables for the gifts and bride's book, which was kept by Becky Timmon of Tampa, were covered with white cutwork linens. The refreshment table was beautifully decorated with a spring bouquet and ruffled white lace cloth, from which were served assorted dainty sandwiches, cookies and punch.

Hostesses for the party for Joyce were Mrs. Roy Detuk, Mrs. Ben Miller, Mrs. James Jordan, Mrs. Miss Frances Farmer, Mrs. W. M. Kirkconnell, Mrs. A. A. Adams, Mrs. M. M. Funderburk and Mrs. H. D. Whitehurst. Their gift to her was an electric can opener.

How to Raise Your Kids

Here are three simple rules on how to raise your children successfully.

Suspicious? You ought to be. No "simple" way to raise kids exists, and you know it! Nevertheless, something worthwhile may still be learned from it. It won't work any better just because it's complicated. Take these three rules, for example. Simple they are, but also family-tested and practical.

You have, no doubt, heard the first before, and maybe the second. If you don't think the first one will work, remember it. This Biblical advice of the third, though, so don't skip it. Now, here we go —

Obey Your Parents

1. "Children, obey your parents." If they only would, that would solve everything! But they don't, so what good is that advice? How are you going to tell a five-year-old mini-terror he ought to study the sixth chapter of Ephesians in the Bible and live by it? Of course, that isn't possible, but all this discussion misses the point anyway. Just do what it says—obey your parents.

Get it? The command is not aimed only at your pre-schoolers—or even your teenagers. You are to obey your parents' that's right—obey your kids!—grandparents. Why? To give them proper honor. The point is this: Your kids will honor and obey you about like you honored and obeyed your parents. Even a toddler can understand that sort of an example.

Now, if you're a grandparent, you especially need to read this second advice.

Do Not Provoke

2. "Fathers, do not provoke your children to wrath." That is, parents, don't irritate your

News of the Week
Guests of Loretta Simpson this past week were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mathie and daughter, La-Rue from Mt. Vernon, Ill.

In a letter from George Combs we learn that their family had a family reunion of 34 folks at their daughter, Harriet's at Worthy Pond in East Peru, Maine. Also the Combs attended the graduations of their grandson from college and their granddaughter from high school. They are enjoying the summer flowers of iris, roses and lemon lilies.

Gertrude Fensterman is home from a trip north. She accompanied her mother, Mrs. Louise Farthing to her home in Buffalo, N. Y. She also visited a nephew in Columbus, Miss. at the Air Force Base there.

Ola Gibson returned to the hospital after a brief stay at home. She is much improved and will probably be home this week.

The Ray Johnsons have as their guest at their cottage in Nobel, Ontario, their grandson, Jim Johnson of Detroit. The Johnsons found the door of their cottage had been broken, but evidently the intruders had been scared off before they gained entrance.

The Robert Macbeths will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on August 15 with an open house at the Trinity United Church of Christ in Upper Sandusky.

The Macbeths are spending the summer at their home at 372 W. Wyandot Ave., Upper Sandusky, Ohio, 43351, if you care to send them a card. They are having a nice summer but already are looking forward to their trip back to Avon Park.

Mrs. Anna Rumpas has returned to her home in Avon Park after a six-week vacation in Chicago with her four sisters.

Rotary District Governor Speaks At Avon Park Club Wednesday

By JOHN KNAPP
Our guest was the District Governor, Robert G. Neel, properly introduced by our President, Corky Pardee. This was a "first" for those of us who had not met our new D. G., and we found him a most impressive person of charm, wit, and fire for Rotary! He seemed favorably impressed with the Avon Park club at our meeting as well as in the club assembly the evening before. He was gracious in his compliments, but far reaching in his challenge to improve in the young Rotary year 1971-72. Bob is an excellent salesman, mentioning that everything in life is a "sales job".

To bring us the message of Lake Placid, N. Y. training sessions for Rotary leaders, we listened to a tape recording of the new RI president, addressed especially to all Rotarians gathered in their meetings, a word from Ernst G. Breitholz of Sweden. A most moving personal word from a warm and dedicated world leader, he spoke of his theme for the year, "Goodwill Begins With You."

Goodwill flows out from an individual into all the world through contact and effort, as A. Adair once observed, "A true way to be happy is to do good to others all the day long." Bob Neel had a word of his own on this and made us all stand and repeat it for emphasis, "Today is the greatest day of my life."

Bowling Green Inn Will Meet Needs of Alcoholics, Addicts

The needs of problem drinkers and drug addicts in Florida will come closer to being met next Monday when the Bowling Green Inn, Inc., The Institute For Better Living, opens its doors in Bowling Green.

"Many applications have already been processed for our 34-bed facility," says James H. Strack, of Sebring director, Dr. E. J. Eisenbarth, of Lake Placid, is medical director.

"We bought the Bowling Green Inn, which was first a hotel and more recently a nursing home because it had an ideal setting to treat these addiction problems."

The first floor of the adobe structure will house the alcoholism residential section along with administrative and group therapy rooms while the drug abuse wing will take up the entire second floor.

Bowling Green Inn, which is located on Highway 17 in west-central Florida six miles north of Wauchula will have seven full-time and five part-time professionals.

"The need is evident," says Strack. "We've already had calls from as far as Maine."

chusets. Not only is there a panic across the state for this type of residential treatment, but also, we feel our quality program is made more attractive by our reasonable fees."

Bowling Green Inn is a private institution owned by a corporation, headed by Strack. Other incorporators are Mrs. Strack, Mrs. Evelyn Hayes of Sebring, Dr. Eisenbarth, of Lake Placid, and Miss Lois Dutton, R.N., of Winter Haven.

Strack was with the Bureau of Alcoholism Rehabilitation at Avon Park for five years as a counselor. He started the courts program for alcoholics in Orlando and other cities throughout the state.

Dr. Eisenbarth is chief of staff at Highlands General Hospital in Sebring.

Mrs. Hayes is joining the treatment staff as senior counselor. Mrs. Hayes has been employed by Volusia county as a therapist in a similar program for the past six months.

She received her training in Baltimore's Johns Hopkins Hospital under an NIMH grant.

Would you give up your automatic washer to install a needed traffic light?

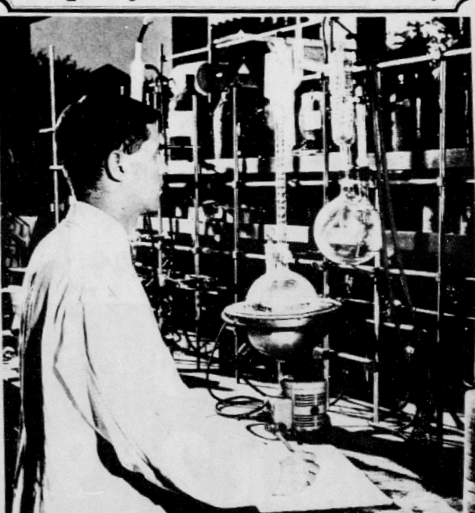

We'd hate to give up our automatic washers, but most of us would because we realize how important traffic lights are. At present you don't have to make a choice. But that's why Florida Power must keep building to provide all the power you need for the essentials as well as the conveniences in life. Today and tomorrow.

This construction program costs money. Ten million dollars a month, in fact. And it can't be postponed. Regardless of rising costs and inflation, we must build today if we are to meet tomorrow's electric needs. It's part of our responsibility to provide dependable power and to do it in such a way that we safeguard our environment.

FREE LISTENING DEVICE

WILL HELP YOU ENJOY YOUR FAVORITE RADIO-TV PROGRAMS

A new, easy to wear, hearing device is now being offered free of cost to you people with fading hearing by Professional Hearing Aid Service, distributors of Miracle Ear® Hearing Aids. It will help greatly to reduce the strain of listening to your radio and TV programs. This marvelous little electronic device, while not a hearing aid, has proven to be a great blessing to those with impaired hearing, and helpful to all those around them.

Hardly a day goes by that we are not thanked for this tiny device. Do you have trouble hearing in church or when two or more people are present? Do you hear the sound but fail to understand the words? Are you bothered by so-called numblers?

Just pick up the phone and dial 877-5891, giving your name and address. Or write Professional Hearing Aid Service, 4812 Gray St., Tampa, Fla. 33609.

It will cost you nothing to have this new electronic device sent to you without obligation. It may help you as it has helped so many others.

Please, for people with a hearing problem only—one to a person.

Dear Chuck:

By unanimous vote the City Council has voted to commend you for your leadership in arranging the Independence Day celebration in Avon Park.

On behalf of all citizens I wish to express our appreciation for the entertainment provided Saturday, July 3rd during our old fashioned All American celebration.

We know that you spent many hours contacting the participating civic clubs and making other arrangements. All of this paid off with a day of entertainment for thousands of area residents.

We do appreciate your spirit of community service and wish to express our sincere thanks by means of this letter.

With all best wishes, I remain

Cordially yours,
