Break-Ins

According to the investigation by Sgt. Presley Selph, Smith was proceeding south on Hwy. 27 just north of W. Palmetto St. when he lost control of his vehicle and struck a light pole. The force of impact caused the pole to break in two and subsequently the vehicle overturned. Smith's 73 Plymouth was estimated as a total loss, with approximately $300 damage to the light pole. Smith was charged with speed too great for conditions.

If we have any illusions about the price of foodstuffs getting any better, a little happening in this county, perhaps unnoticed by most, is a strong indicator.

The happening was a visit to this cattle-rich county by Texas cattlemen anxious to buy feeder steers. And it reminds us that in many western states, thousands of head of cattle were lost to freezing in the severe winter.

All of which put beef in short supply and will drive up the price.

We are all getting conditioned to rising prices of food - but not liking it any better. Bad weather plus inflation has added to the drain on our pocketbooks. As if we needed either one.

Farmers point out, however, that the price of almost everything the consumer buys has gone up faster than the cost of food. While food costs have increased 47 per cent since 1952, the average worker has enjoyed pay raises of more than 140 per cent. During this same period, the cost of medical care has gone up 123 per cent and housing now costs 64 per cent more.

If food had gone up in price at the same rate as wages in industry, a quart of milk today would cost 55 cents in the store, a dozen eggs would sell for $1.61 and a whole, dressed frying chicken $1.46 a pound.

Prices of foodstuffs in Europe, for instance, keep filtering back from travelers - like $2 for hamburger in Belgium, $14 a pound for beef in Japan. Things like that.

And we saw on TV the other night where some woman was trying to promote a day to buy nothing at all to try to get prices back in line.

It looks like prices are inevitably headed up, up, up - and we've got to find out how to live with them. The answers will not be easy particularly for persons with large families and persons such as our many retired who are on fixed incomes.

Jackson's Team Lead League

Three games were rained out last week in the Avon Park slow-pitch softball league but Jackson's won two more to stay at the top of the standings with a 12-0 record.

Avon Paint and Body Shop took a slim hold on second place without playing a game staying 7-3 while First Baptist dropped to third place with a loss to the Air Force team by a score of 9-3. First Baptist are now 7-4.

The Episcopal "Godfathers" and A.P.C.I. were tied for fourth place after last Monday night's action with 4-6 records each. Coca Cola moved into sixth place with a 5-6 mark and Air Force dropped to seventh place with a 3-7 record.

Blackman Ford and Sears both had 3-7 records before last Tuesday nights games and Jahna remained in last place with an 0-10 mark.

On Tuesday, July 31, Jackson defeated A.P.C.I. 16-6 in the first game at 7 p.m. and the "Godfathers" won over Blackman Ford 18-9 for Blackman's worst defeat of the season.

Thursday, Aug. 2, the "Godfathers" lost to Coca Cola by a score of 6-2 in the early game and Air Force won over First Baptist 9-3 in the second game. The games last Friday night were rained out and were to be replayed last night.

The first game last Monday night, between Coca Cola and First Baptist was rained out but Jackson's handed Air Force a 14-3 defeat in the second game after the field dried off a bit.

Use what you need, save what you can.

That's good air conditioning advice this summer.

It's good for you, for us, and for all the customers we serve.

Because, in addition to saving yourself some money, you'll be helping us all save valuable energy. So here's what you do.

Set your thermostat up.

Set it up to the highest possible temperature comfortable to you.

Fan setting?

Operate for your individual comfort. "Auto" gives better humidity control and economy. "On" provides more uniform air motion, sound level and temperature. Of course, to conserve money and energy, we recommend "Auto."

When you're away.

Set your unit at 5 to 10 degrees above normal setting with fan on "Auto" for mildew protection and quick comfort when you return.

Filters.

Replace frequently. Clogged filters make units work overtime.

Outdoor section.

Keep clear of plants and obstructions. Anything that interferes with air flow increases operating costs.

Air grills.

Don't block air flow with furniture or drapes. Anything that gets in the way of delivery of air return gets in the way of proper cooling.

Windows and doors?

Shut out heat from the sun with drapes or outside shading.

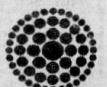

Insulation.

It's amazing how many Florida homes were built without adequate insulation. And insulation is important. It'll give you lower operating costs, so make sure you have it.

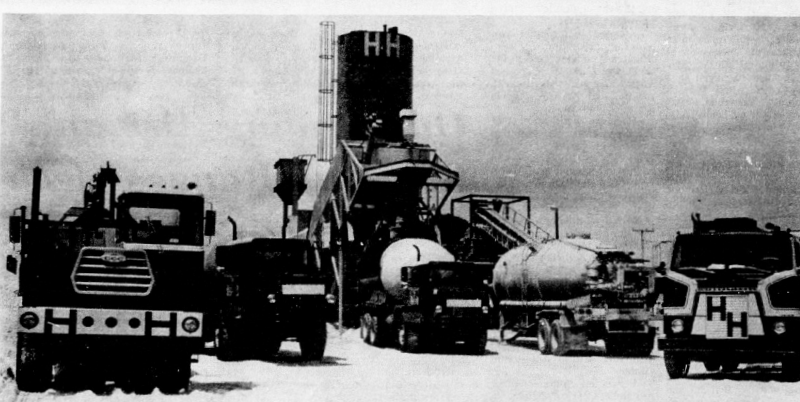

Just follow these 8 simple suggestions and you'll conserve money and energy this summer and still be comfortable.

And if you'd like a whole booklet of ways to get more out of your electricity, for less, stop by any Florida Power office and ask for our "Helpful Hints" pamphlet.

Let's all conserve together this summer.

Program Sponsored For Teens And Adults

A unique program of outreach for teens and young adults has been adopted this summer by a local church group. Favorable response to this effort has resulted in its growth and effectiveness.

Implemented by the Church of the Nazarene, its purpose has been to lead young people to salvation through Christ and to encourage spiritual growth through prayer and discussion with other Christians.

One factor which has led to its effectiveness is the use of different homes as meeting places each week. Various friends and members of the church have opened their homes to the youth, creating a relaxed, informal atmosphere in which to openly discuss and pray.

The "after-glows," as they are referred to at times, have been held each Sunday following the Nazarenes' evening service. Discussions have centered around God's word and various questions relating to the Christian's life. It is hoped that this idea of Christian fellowship can be continued, though perhaps on a different schedule when school begins this fall. It is open to all teens and young adults of the Highlands area.

Brenda Sensenig And Roy Liles Speak Vows In Ceremony At Baptist Church

On Friday, July 20, Miss Brenda Lou Sensenig and Roy (Bubba) Liles were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church, Avon Park. The Rev. Aden D. Childress performed the double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. in the evening.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton A. Sensenig, Avon Park, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brantley Jr., also of Avon Park.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Aden D. Childress at the organ. Selections included the "Theme from Love Story," "The Theme from Romeo and Juliet" and the traditional "Wedding March."

The bridal couple spoke their vows in a candlelight setting of palms and greenery. A large arch candelabra centered the chancel, and was flanked by wicker baskets of white gladioli and pompons accented with yellow ribbon. On either side of the baskets were twin tree candelabras. Exquisite white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal gown of white silk overlaid with white organza.

The gown was designed old-fashioned with empire waistline. Panels of delicate lace covered the bodice and dainty ruffles came over the shoulders. The Mandarin collar was covered with lace, and the long full sleeves ended in a cuff of the same delicate lace. The skirt was embellished with panels of lace and ended in a small ruffle. Her imported fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a lace cap, enhanced with seed pearls. She carried an elegant bouquet of white daisies, white miniature carnations and stephanotis, softened with baby's breath.

Mrs. Linda Elder was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of yellow dotted swiss, identical to the maid of honor. She carried a nosegay that matched the maid of honor's and wore a yellow daisy in her hair.

Flower girl was Stephanie Henly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henly and niece of the bride. She wore a long gown of yellow dotted swiss with short puffed sleeves. The skirt fell straight to the floor from an empire waistline encircled with daisies. She carried a white wicker of white and yellow daisies, softened with baby's breath, and dropped yellow petals in the path of the bride.

Mr. Liles chose for his best man, Bill McKown of Avon Park. Usher-groomsman was Jack Bennett, also of Avon Park.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sensenig wore a pink polyester dress with knife pleats. She carried white accessories and wore a corsage of miniature white carnations, and white baby rosebuds trimmed with pink ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy (Bubba) Liles

Mrs. Brantley chose for her son's wedding, a green formal gown. Her accessories were white and her corsage was made of yellow baby rosebuds, and white carnations accented with yellow ribbons.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony the guests were greeted at a reception held at the Florida Power Lounge. Mrs. Barbara Henly, sister of the bride attended the guest book.

The bride's table was covered with a floor length cloth of white satin. The three-tiered wedding cake centered the table and was accented by twin silver candelabras with burning tapers. A white lattice screen ornamented with greenery, formed a decorous background for the table.

Garlands of yellow and green daisies covered the three-tiered wedding cake, frosted in pale yellow. The shell borders were completed in white, making an appropriate background for the many daisies. The bottom two tiers were separated from the top tier by ten-inch Grecian columns. Between the columns was an urn of daisies accented by two cherubs. The cake was crowned with calling bells, a trio of lacy bells swinging out from a single Grecian column.

The punch table was covered with a white lace cloth. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl and pastel colored mints and assorted nuts were served from crystal bonbon dishes. Arrangements of yellow and white daisies and white carnations accented the table.

Cutting and serving the cake were Miss Laurie Burch and Miss Candie Redick. At the punch service were Miss Nina DuPre and Mrs. Ellen Martin. Melissa Hanly, niece of the bride, passed out rice to the guests to shower on the bridal couple.

Daytona Beach

When the couple left on their honeymoon to Daytona Beach, the bride was wearing an orchid print dress accented with a high white collar and cuffs.

Her corsage was white carnations and stephanotis, softened with baby's breath, lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Tampa, where the bridegroom is stationed at MacDill Air Force Base.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding on July 20, were Captain and Mrs. Edward Sharpe Jr. from Brandon, sister of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Clavel, Wausau, Wis.; and Mrs. Ann Gilsdorf, Clearwater.

Rehearsal dinner
The Sensenig-Liles wedding party was entertained at a before-rehearsal dinner on Thursday evening, July 19, at the Florida Power Lounge. Hosting the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brantley Jr.

A delicious buffet supper was served to the 20 guests, who were seated at tables centered with arrangements of flowers. The bride's colors of yellow and green were used throughout the luncheon in decorations of a bridal motif.

Bubba presented gifts to each of his attendants.

Town Topics

by Eloise Sharpe

Have you ever thought of "How good it is to live in a nice little town such as we live in?" And "How fine it is to know we have an alert police department, with courteous and helpful men—always at our ever beck and call?"

Mrs. C. P. Anderson and Mrs. Harold Worden Sr., returned recently from a ten-day visit to Worden's "Will-o'-the-Wisp" in Franklin, N.C. Other Avon Park families who have spent their vacation at the summer are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Yarborough, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Flowers, Mrs. Larry Hooper and Mrs. Lou Hooper, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Prevatt.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl F. Haddock will leave Friday for Macdon, Ga. to take part in pre-wedding activities and to attend the wedding of their son, Robert Clark Haddock and Annette Harrison, on Sunday, Aug. 12, at the Vineville Baptist Church in Macon.

Mrs. O. G. Knowles returned to her home this week after a visit with her sons, the Rev. Knowles family of Euclid, and the Jack Knowles family of Leesburg.

Claude Tucker and friend, Ouida Messer from Winter Haven, were overnight guests in the home of Claude's sister and family, Mrs. Louise Edmondson last week, while en route to Fort Lauderdale to visit his mother, Mrs. Marie Tucker.

Mrs. Jim (Nita) Ritchie will be leaving this week for Fort Myers where she will make her home, to be near her two sons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ritchie and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ritchie. The Ritchies made many friends while living here and helping people on their tours. Mrs. Ritchie will miss all her friends—and they will miss her—but she plans to return often to Avon Park for visits.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Worden and sons, Hal, Frankie and Gary, and Mrs. H. C. Worden Sr., returned to Avon Park Tuesday after spending several days at New Smyrna Beach.

Houseguests of Gwen and John Hafford, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week, were Dennis Fila and Carol Warner of Palm Beach. Cindy DuBose And Donald Sisemore Wed In Frostproof

On Saturday, July 7, Miss Cindy Lou DuBose and Donald Wayne Sisemore were united in marriage at the Church of Christ in Frostproof. Minister Daniel Barker of Temple Terrace performed the double-ring ceremony at 4 p.m.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. DuBose, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Sisemore, all of Avon Park.

An a cappella chorus presented a program of nuptial music which included the "Wedding March," "Entr'acte Me," "Whither Thou Goest," "I Pledge My Love" and "I Love You Truly."

The bridal couple spoke their vows before a decorous background of palms and white lattice screening festooned with greenery ornamented with clusters of jade foliage featuring two white doves and white satin bows. A large white wicker basket of white glads and daisy pompons centered the chancel and was accented by twin candelabras with burning white tapers on either side. The pews were marked with white daisies clustered in white satin bows.

The Bride
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of bridal satin featuring mandarin neckline with beaded Alencon lace and seeded pearls. Her Victorian sleeves were also of lace. A band of peau de sole circled the waist, from which the bell-shaped skirt, bordered with Alencon lace, fell. Her cathedral length veil and blusher of silk illusion edged a train edged in Alencon lace, which was held in place by a crown of matching lace. She carried a Victorian bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and gladioli, softened with baby's breath. Upon entering the church, the bride gave a white rose from her bouquet to her mother, Mrs. DuBose, and upon leaving, gave a white rose to the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Sisemore.

Matron of honor was Mrs. K. R. Anderson, sister of the bride from Frostproof. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Ledford, Lake Wales; Mrs. Joe Franz, Avon Park; both sisters of the bride; Miss Susan Sisemore, sister of the bridegroom, Avon Park; and Mrs. Glenn Sisemore, Avon Park.

The matron of honor wore a long-sleeved gown of chiffon with blue skirt and white bodice trimmed in blue. She wore a bow with streamers in her hair to match her gown. She carried a nosegay of white daisy pompons, pink and blue miniature carnations and stephanotis softened with baby's breath and satin streamers.

The bridesmaids wore gowns the same style as the matron of honor, except in pink. They wore quail tail hair to match their gowns, and carried nosegays to match the maid of honor's.

Flower girl was Kacie Anderson, niece of the bride from Frostproof. She wore a gown identical to the matron of honor, with ribbon in her hair to match her gown. She carried a white wicker basket of flowers.

Ringbearer was Andy Anderson, nephew of the bride from Frostproof.

Donald chose for his best man his father, James W. Sisemore, Avon Park. Usher-groomsman were Kent Anderson, nephew of the bride from Frostproof; David Sisemore, brother of the bridegroom, Avon Park; Bill Martin, Pompano Beach; Clark Jackson, Avon Park; Lowell DuBose Jr., brother of the bride, Avon Park; and Dale Sisemore, brother of the bridegroom, Avon Park.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. DuBose wore a pink chiffon gown with matching jacket and white accessories. She wore a tailored corsage of white rosebuds and stephanotis trimmed in pink.

Mrs. Sisemore wore for her son's wedding a sleeveless gown of blue knit, accented with white trim on the bodice. She wore white accessories and a tailored corsage of white rosebuds and stephanotis trimmed in blue.

Grandaughters of the bride, Mrs. Lettie Witt of Avon Park, and Mrs. E. W. DuBose of

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wayne Sisemore

Frostproof, each wore corsages of carnations which complimented their ensembles.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. DuBose entertained at a reception held at the Florida Power Hospitality Lounge in Frostproof. Mrs. Jerry Kendrick of Avon Park attended the bride's book at both the wedding and reception.

A hanging basket of pink roses graced the punch bowl of pink fruit punch that centered the round punch table beautifully done in a pink floor-length cloth. Cindy's memory candle was in white, embellished with lily-of-the-valley.

Those pouring punch were Susie Franz, Sarah McClure and Mrs. Roger Gurganus. The bride's table appointed in silver was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by branched candelabras with roses and lily-of-the-valley. The floor-length white organza cloth was pinned at each corner with a nosegay of white roses. Cutting the cake was Cathy DuBose, assisted by Melinda DuBose, both cousins of the bride from Frostproof—and Mrs. C. M. Temple, Lakeland. The cake was circled with garlands of tiny blue and pink wild roses. The three tiers were separated with square filigree columns.

The top separator plate was trimmed with a bouquet of the blue and pink wild roses and adorned with angels playing harps. The cake was crowned with a quail tail hair spray of blossoms and a lacy filigree gazebo over the traditional bridal couple.

Others assisting in hospitalities were Mrs. Ernest Childers, Avon Park; Camille Temple, Lakeland; Pam, Ollie and Vanessa Lanier; Lori Ellis and Mrs. James Phillips, Frostproof.

Honeymoon to Daytona Beach
When the new Mr. and Mrs. Sisemore left on a honeymoon to Daytona Beach, the bride was wearing a rust-colored pants suit with white accessories. After their return they will reside in Orlando, where the bridegroom will attend Florida Technological University.

Rehearsal dinner
The DuBose-Sisemore wedding party was entertained at an after-rehearsal dinner on Friday, July 6, at the Florida Power Lounge in Avon Park. Hosted by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sisemore, the lounge took on a festive mood as the honored couple, wedding party and parents, gathered for the buffet dinner. The lounge was decorated throughout with the bride's chosen colors of pink and blue. Roses were placed on each of the five tables.

Those helping with hospitalities were Mrs. Virgil Martin, Pompano Beach; Mrs. Danny Butler of Fort Meade and Mrs. Norma Jean Hill of Avon Park.

Also present, in honor of Cindy and Donald, were grandparents, Mrs. J. O. Witt, Avon Park; and Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. DuBose of Frostproof.

Wedding Plans Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Welch Fisher of Lotela Avenue announce wedding plans of their daughter, Miss Lani Newton and Jim Wigand.

The marriage will be solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 1, at Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church in Avon Park. Father Antonio Pons will celebrate the Nuptial Mass at 10 a.m.

Randy Chancey Wins Special Award

A special award was presented Monday to Randy Chancey, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chancey of Avon Park. Randy works at Jerry's Fine Service Station in Avon Park. The award, a plaque bearing two rare silver dollars (one Eisenhower dollar and one Liberty bell dollar), two Kennedy half-dollars and a specially minted commemorative coin set in an automotive engine design, was presented for exceptional customer service by a representative of the Gates Rubber Company.

The Denver-based rubber company sponsors this nationwide contest (now in its 11th year) to reward service station personnel who provide exceptional customer service. A fleet of "Gates Mystery Cars" regularly travels across the country stopping at service stations. Each "Mystery Car" has a purposely installed worn fan belt. Award Plaques are presented to station personnel who notice the defective belt and offer to replace it.

Mrs Young Accepts Position

Mrs. Marcelle Post has resigned and temporarily retired from the position of secretary to Circuit Judge Clifford Kelly. She has been succeeded by Mrs. Robert (D. Helen) Young of Avon Park. Mrs. Young is the wife of the Avon Park postmaster.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

You think you have problems . . . EVERYONE HAS PROBLEMS

"Boy, take it from me, leading a dog's life ain't no bowl of cherries. It's always get offa this and that, and boy, what happened to me, when I turned over the lamp!"

Our life may not be a dog's life, but everyone does have problems and always will. God does not promise that even his good and faithful children would be without problems, but He does promise strength to bear our problems. Attend church Sunday, renew and strengthen your life by leaning on the Lord.

Miss Pam Griffin

Pam Griffin Selected For Honor Band

Eight members of the Avon Park High School Band attended the Gatorland Music Clinic at the University of Florida, the week of July 22 through July 28.

Each member of the 450 students attending the clinic were auditioned to determine his playing ability. The players were then seated into two bands, the Orange and the Blue.

All the Avon Park students fared very well in the auditions, but Pam Griffin, a ninth grader, did especially well. Pam, a French horn player, was selected as solo horn player for the Orange Band, and as a member of the highly selective Honor Band. This was indicative of Pam's talent, since most members of the Honor Band and first chair players, are usually older and more experienced players.

Students attending the clinic included Pam Griffin, Kathy Mickunas, Tami Cason, Brenda Cooper, John Mickunas, Mark Smith, David Metheny and Kevin Murphy.

For Children

If your children have run out of entertainment ideas for summer, May I suggest a very special book from the Avon Park Library!

LITTLE PLAYS FOR LITTLE PEOPLE—a volume of 14 short, short plays selected from "Humpty Dumpty's Magazine for Little People" will prove a delight for all involved—the children who speak the lines, invent the costumes, or make the scenery—as well as the audience.

For their own amusement, children like to dramatize, play "dress-up", and invent situations. They love to be in a play, see a play, make up a play, or listen to one being read aloud. Most of the plays in this collection are based on folk tales and fables, and can be used in all of these ways.

The costumes and scenery need not present problems involving either expense or technical ability. They can be created by the child himself—practically every home contains the things he needs. For example, almost any of the animals can be represented by a paper bag large enough to fit over a child's head. The faces may be drawn with crayons or paints. Pencils or straws pushed into the top of the paper bag are ideal horns. Pipe cleaners become tiger's whiskers or a butterfly's antennae. And so it is with the scenery. A laundry basket can be used as a bird's nest!

Ilse-Margret Vogel's illustrations for these plays suggest many other excellent ideas. Imaginative, inexpensive, easy-to-make costumes and scenery not only satisfy the requirements of innumerable situations, but they can provide a feeling of magic and illusion.

A stage is not needed. For children, a cleared space for the action, and a defined place for the audience is all that is necessary. Turning out the lights, improvising a curtain, or even announcing the name of the play are all good ways to intensify a theatrical atmosphere.

his many friends and relatives during his illness. He is recuperating at his home now.

Mrs. Mary Smith writes that she and Russell had visited the Daniel Ritters who are now at Rosewood Manor in Galien, Ohio. They are about as usual. They went to Lakeside hoping to see Avon Park people—they saw Bertha Brush—missed seeing the Wetmores who had been there. They also went to see Ruth Jordan at her daughter's. Ruth and Russell are busy as usual.

Elizabeth Clarke recently had dinner with the Maynard McKinnons. Also present were Alberta Mitchell, Agnes Dentler and her brother from California. Students Attends Camp At Silver Springs

It has been a week of swimming, arts and crafts, athletics, games, nature study and all the other activities that go with a week away at camp. Six mentally handicapped campers from Highlands County have been at the Florida Association for Retarded Children's Residential Camp at Silver Springs Conference grounds near Ocala for a week of camping from July 29 to Aug. 4. The campers were Rosal Ingram and Minnie Sue Reid both of Avon Park and sponsored by the Ridge Area Association; Toby Godfrey and Yolanda Snell also of Avon Park; and Miriam Bell and Bobby Byrd of Lake Placid, sponsored by the RAY-ARC's, the Youth Association for Retarded Children. Several members of the RAY-ARC's served as counselors at the Silver Springs Camp including Gayle Whitehead of Sebring; and Bobbi Newton, Susan James and Bob McSparrin of Avon Park.

Bob McSparrin raised a large percentage of the costs for the campers through donations at the Avon Park Air Base. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Marine drove the campers to and from the camp.

Food for Thought

By Jane Nickerson

How do you best eat a mango? "In the bathtub," a wit replied. And Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, the Florida novelist, wrote that "when I am left to myself, I just shut the kitchen door, peel the mango, cut off inch-thick slices and lean over the sink."

The handsome, juicy, tropical fruit offers the only reason I know for putting finger bowls back on the family dining-table. The orange flesh clings to the long, flat pit; polite ways to eat the pulp near the seed are unknown. You nibble as best you can, mopping the juice from your face as you go.

Mrs. Rawlings thought the taste was "like nightingales singing to the palate." Is there a finer fruit than the apple of the tropics, which, by the way, is far superior nutritionally to apples?

One is not amazed that Akbar ordered 100,000 mango trees to be planted in his district in India four centuries ago. Wouldn't you have done the same had you been rich like that ruler and dwelt in a place so kind to the growth of that fruit?

Floridians do dwell in the only state in this country that produces mangos commercially, in south Dade County, where a harvest of 4 million pounds is now under way. Though no Akbar, Ed F. Mitchell of Cutler has 20,000 trees growing from Kendall to an area west of Homestead. They yield about 60 per cent of the crop, he says.

Most of the round or oval fruits are picked green - "mature green" is the term Mitchell likes - in 12, 16 and 20 ounce sizes. They ripen (soften) at 70 to 85 degrees, and better, Mitchell insists in the shade than in the sun. The exotic fruits are shipped even to Canada.

Mitchell is a fourth-generation mango grower in Dade, with a grandson, the sixth generation, in the business. He recalls his family were among the first to cultivate the fruit.

The very first in Florida was Elbridge Gale, who planted a mango tree of the Mulgoba variety, imported in a tub from India, in Lake Worth and nursed it through the historic freezes of the 1890's. Gale was as colorful as his mangos, a Baptist minister, born in New England, who had gone west to teach horticulture at Kansas State College before retiring here. David Fairchild, the botanist who brought many tropical plants to Florida, was his most famous student.

Hearing of Gale's delectable mangos, a Captain Haden sailed up from Miami (there were no roads then) and returned with a dozen fruits. He planted the seeds on land in Coconut Grove now owned by Hardy Matheson, a Miami attorney. A resulting tree bore a fine new variety of mango.

Not surprisingly it was named Haden. George B. Cullen, a Miami nurseryman, took it from there. He pioneered in propagating Haden trees, commercialized the mango and made horticultural history. Mitchell says other varieties, all belonging to the Indian strain, have since taken over, among them Tommy Atkins, named for the Fort Lauderdale man who bred it. One aim has been to develop mangos resistant to a fungus that causes black spots on the skin.

If Americans didn't eat with their eyes, mango growers might have an easier time, Mitchell admits. For the Philippine type of mango, long and slender rather than round or oval like the East Indian, resists disease better. Not only is it smaller but it yellows when it ripens, never achieving that bluish-over-flesh tone that Mrs. Rawlings compared to a June sunset and that Fairchild said was "so gorgeous it has to be seen to be understood." The Philippine type remains a yard tree in Miami, though popular in Mexico.

A substance, toxic to some, is in the sap and perhaps in the peel; Miami allergists are studying it. Some unfortunates have only to stand under a mango tree to break into a rash. But most can safely and enjoyably savor mango flesh. Probably no one should eat the peel.

Which brings me back to where I started. How do you eat a mango? One gourmet suggested the following:

1. Lay the mango on its flattest surface and cut a thick horizontal slice from the top. Turn the fruit over, repeat. Serve the slices in the peel like an avocado half, to be scooped out with a spoon. Deal with the flesh left on the pit as well as you can.

Mike Aggarwal, a charming East Indian neighbor of mine from the Punjab, where mangos originated more than 3,000 years ago, buys from an Atlanta mail-order house, something called amshoor. It's an imported Indian powder of dried mangos that seasons main dishes. Mike reminds me the fruit is used at any growth stage.

Green mangos are the main ingredient of the classic Indian chutneys (Major Grey's, Col. Skinner's, etc.). Like apples, they may be baked in pies or simmered into a sauce. Ripe one has too many roles to list.

I put the flesh of ripe mangos in the blender and chill the resulting puree as a sauce for ice cream or an ingredient in a milk shake or sherbert. And here's another idea:

ELDRIDGE GALE'S DESSERT

- (Mango Whip)
- 1 medium, ripe mango
- 1 to 2 tablespoons lime juice
- pinch salt
- Superfine sugar to taste
- 1/4 cup
- Pinch cream of tartar
- 1. Peel the mango and puree the flesh in a
