Re-examination

Of Drivers

Starts Jan. 1

Nearly 21 per cent of the Highlands County drivers, who face re-examination for their driver's license in 1974, are expected to fail the test.

About three per cent will fail because of poor or faulty eyesight. Some of them will lose their licenses—on the spot.

The re-examination starts Jan. 1. They will be given next year to all licensed drivers born in even numbered years whose last names begin with N through Z. They include tests of eyesight and hearing and a 10-question test of the driver's recognition of road signs.

No road test will be given to most drivers, but a few may have to go back later to show they can drive safely.

If a driver's eyesight is 20-70 or worse, even while wearing his present glasses, his license will be lifted until he gets new glasses or otherwise improves his vision, according to examiner Larry Meleady.

If a driver fails the eye test but his vision is better than 20-70 or worse with best correction, he will be suspended until his vision is corrected. If his vision is 20-40 or better, but less than 20-40, he will be referred to an eye doctor and told to return with the best correction. Drivers will be tested in their birth months.

Totally deaf drivers do not lose their license, but are required to have outside rear view mirrors on their cars.

If the examiner determines that an examinee has obvious physical defects—crippled or missing limbs or extreme feebleness—he requires the driver to return for a road test to show he can handle a car.

The local driver testing station is on Route 1 at the entrance to Sebring Hills. An average of 600 drivers are tested each month in the county and about 125 fail the test.

Farmers To Be

Checked On

Labor Law

Compliance representatives will be in the fields in South and Central Florida during January checking for violations of Florida's Farm Labor Registration Law.

John Wesley White, employment security division director for the Florida Department of Commerce (FDC), said all crew leaders registrations expire Dec. 31. The FDES office nearest to Sebring is at Winter Haven.

Any crew leader who fails to register or renew his registration with the Florida State Employment Service by Jan. 1 will be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Farmers or growers who hire workers through unregistered crew leaders are also in violation of the law. White said registrations can be made at any Florida State Employment Service office.

The FDC administers the Farm Labor Registration Law, which says that any person who hires or recruits at least 10 workers during a year must register annually with the state. Copies of the regulations will be available in employment service offices.

The crew leader registration fee is $25, and a registrant must furnish proof of vehicle insurance.

"It is our intention to carry out our responsibilities to enforce this law fairly and effectively," White said.

"We urge all crew leaders to register immediately at the nearest Florida State Employment Service office. And we urge farmers and growers to ask for proof of registration before they hire a crew leader."

Happy New Year!

County Will Not Allocate Home Heating Fuels Now

County government will not, at this time, attempt to regulate the allocation of home heating fuels the Board of County Commissioners decided at a special meeting Dec. 19.

The commissioners met with six of the county's home heating oil distributors to learn how the appointment of a fuel allocations officer might help distribute existing distillate heating fuels among county residents who use it.

Companies represented at the special meeting were: B. P. Oil Corp., Sebring; Koch Oil Co., Sebring; Citgo Oil Co., Sebring; Adams Oil Co., Avon Park; and Gulf Oil Co., Avon Park.

J. M. Adams, Union 76 distributor in Avon Park, stated that he and the other suppliers of heating oil would cooperate with any official of the commissioners might appoint. He warned that allocating oil supplies would not increase supplies.

Adams expressed his willingness to share with other distributors in the county the burden of furnishing kerosene and burner fuels to non-regular customers—"so long as supplies last."

Commissioner Robert Skipper stated that he was opposed to having county government involve itself in directing customers to particular oil suppliers.

Wayne Taylor, Gulf oil distributor in Avon Park, questioned whether a home heating oil allocation program was needed at this time.

Taylor said he felt that he would have sufficient heating oil for his regular customers and expected no new customers to apply because oil burning heaters are not being installed in homes now under construction.

Adams reminded his fellow distributors that all of them could run out of heating oil if the state allocated supplies in January based on a percentage of heating oils used in January 1973.

"Remember, last January was very warm," Adams said. Taylor told the commissioners that he would resent having to answer to a local government official as well as to the state's allocations officer.

Commissioner Ken Wilkinson stated his conviction that the county's suppliers could and would solve any potential home heating oil distribution problems that

Brownouts May Cause Pump Owners Trouble

Homeowners with water wells may find their pumps in danger in the case of the electrical brownouts now forecast for many parts of the eastern United States this winter.

Many rural homes in Highlands County have wells and pumps. If line voltage drops more than 10 per cent—from standard 230 to 200 volts or less—pump motors without disconnect relay switches can be damaged and, in many cases, the motor will burn out.

The motor should be cut off, automatically or manually. Even if the brownout is less severe—perhaps a voltage drop of five to 8 per cent—the life of a pump motor can be shortened by continued operation.

Replacement might run upwards of $75, depending on the type of pump and the labor involved in replacing it. In any case, the National Water Well Association warns that the motor won't work until it is

Distributors Donate $500 To Ridge Area Association

Once again Tri-County Wholesale Beer Distributors Association has played Santa Claus to the retarded of Highlands, Hardee and Polk counties. Wednesday morning James Smith, supervisor with Lakeland delivered to Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children's president Norris Brooks, checks totaling $500 from wholesalers Apex Distributing Company, James A. Musso, Inc., and Bernie Little Distributors.

Since 1962, the distributors have made contributions in lieu of customer Christmas gifts to the programs for the retarded in the three counties. In Highlands county the funds are directed to the services for young handicapped children through Ridge Area ARC's Developmental Training Program and for adult work activity or work training at the ARC's Work Center. Polk County's Sheltered Workshop and Hardee County's Fred Dennis School have also benefited from the distributors gifts.

Road and Bridge Dept. To Hire Cost Accountant

The Road and Bridge Department will be authorized to hire a cost accountant, the board of county commissioners decided at its Dec. 19 special meeting.

Commissioner Ken Wilkinson, referring to himself as a proponent of efficiency in government, spearheaded the effort to employ the cost accountant.

"We haven't any idea how much it costs us for labor and materials to lay a mile of road in this county," Wilkinson told his fellow board members.

Wilkinson said he wanted reasonably accurate cost figures on which to base his decisions concerning the repair or paving of county roads and for other construction projects done by county crews.

Commissioners Norman Heston and Robert Skipper opposed hiring the cost accountant.

Heston said he would prefer to hire an assistant to County Engineer Gordon Hays, to provide closer supervision over Road and Bridge Department projects.

Skipper said he was willing to be convinced that a cost accountant would help the commissioners make better informed decisions but, thus far, he had no reason to believe it would.

Hays, for whom the accountant will work, said the new man would be expected to design a reporting system to provide cost information across the spectrum of road and bridge department jobs. Such reports, Hays contended, would tell him how much it costs to operate the county's construction equipment, now an unknown, and would provide total costs for each might arise. When they heard that several other counties had already decided not to attempt to allocate fuels at the local level, the commissioners agreed, unanimously, to "table" the matter.

A meeting of fuel suppliers in Highlands County was held at the courthouse Wednesday. The County Commission, acting on a request from the governor, is attempting to establish a program and system whereby emergency and hardship allocations of fuel could be made during the expected months of fuel crisis ahead.

Meanwhile, after a survey, Jim Lawson, civil defense director, reported that of six fuel oil suppliers in the county, only one said he would sell to all corners. The others he said had placed restrictions on sales in order to have oil for their regular customers.

project his department completes.

Commissioner Buddy Wise emphasized the point made by Hays, stating, "The main question is: how much do we really want to know how much our jobs cost?"

Commissioner Kelly Phillips expressed his support for hiring an accountant "if the county engineer feels he needs one."

Jim Pyle, assistant county clerk, reminded the commissioners that accurate cost figures for work already completed became particularly important when a budget for the coming year is prepared.

The scope of the debate over hiring a cost accountant for the Road and Bridge Department widened considerably after Pyle reported that the county's other elected officials—the sheriff, tax collector, assessor, clerk of courts and supervisor of elections—were interested in obtaining the services of an accountant capable of conducting "internal audits."

They might even be willing to share the cost accountant's salary expense in exchange for the services on a part-time basis, Pyle said.

That suggestion precipitated a long, inconclusive discussion over the duties of a cost accountant as differentiated from those of efficiency experts and auditors.

Wise won approval for his suggestion that the cost accountant's job description not be written in final form and that his position not be advertised until the commissioners' discussion with the other elected officials their needs for accountant services.

A meeting to accomplish the purpose suggested by Wise will be scheduled for Jan. 8, 1974, Heston announced.

replaced and that the motor will have to be replaced every time it burns out.

Homeowners with pumps should immediately check their pumping system, or ask a pump dealer to do this for them. If they do not have an automatic disconnect switch—called a low-voltage drop-out relay—this type of switch should be installed.

In cases where the pump circuit is wired through the house circuit breaker or fuse box, for overload protection, an alternative is to disconnect the line when a brownout is indicated. The best signs are a dimming of light or the TV picture. The breaker or fuse must be reconnected once the brownout ends, to re-start the pump.

While most pumps are single-phase, some larger units are three-phase. For those with three-phase equipment, it is equally important to have a phase failure relay to protect against unbalanced voltage during a brownout condition. This voltage may remain high for the low-voltage relay to react, resulting in a temporary increase in amperage which could itself damage the pump motor.

Replacement of a jet water pump motor costs upwards of $75, depending on the size of the pump and the work involved. Replacement of a submersible water pump motor costs upwards of $200, depending on the size of the pump and the depth of the well.

The association urges pump owners to check their system and—to avoid disruption of water supply and costly motor replacements—to install an automatic disconnect switch or provide manual turnoff.

Businesses

Spring Up

In Florida

New businesses were incorporated at a rate of 2,307 a month in Florida for the first eight months of this year, but business failures have been dropping for the third year in a row, the Florida Chamber of Commerce reported this week.

Total business incorporations approved by the Secretary of State's office totaled 18,458 through August of this year—36 per cent of the 12-month total for 1972, 19,327, the state Chamber said in its Weekly Business Review.

"Nationally, new incorporations hit a record 31,010 in March of this year, but failed to maintain that momentum, falling to 27,510 in August," Florida and Texas were the only large states whose August incorporations were above the March level," pointed out Ronald S. Spencer Jr., Executive Vice President of the Florida Chamber of Commerce.

Florida had 2,300 August incorporations, up from 2,289 in March, while Texas had 1,332 August incorporations, up from 1,147.

"Florida ranked behind New York in the number of new corporations in the eight-month period replacing California for second place. Also, Florida ranked tenth behind such large states as Texas, New York, California, Michigan and Illinois in terms of business failures," Spencer added.

The Review said private reporting services show Florida had 148 business failures through August, 16 less than reported for the same period in 1972. These business failures included corporations, proprietorships, partnerships and other types of enterprises.

The Review said that following a declaration of bankruptcy or other legal action.

The Review noted that the businesses which failed through August left liabilities of about $48 million, an increase of $31 million over the liabilities left by bankrupt businesses reported the first eight months of 1972.

...What If I Don't Want To Go?

Questions, Answers

About Social Security

By Charlie H. Welch
Q. I'm 22 and was recently in an accident at work. Do I need as much work coverage under social security as an older worker in order to get monthly disability checks?

A. No. Workers who become severely disabled before 24 may qualify for social security disability payments with just one and one-half years of work. Workers disabled between 24 and 30 need credit for 24 months of work. Workers disabled after age 31 or over need at least five years of work credit under social security to qualify for disability payments. For more information, contact any social security office.

Q. I'm 64 and I'm getting reduced social security payments. I've been told that I'll be enrolled automatically in Medicare when I become 65. What should I do if I don't want medical insurance coverage?

A. Social security will send you information about both hospital and medical insurance a few months before you're 65. You'll also get your Medicare health insurance card. If you decide you don't want medical insurance, just fill out the back of the card, sign it, and return it to social security before the month you're 65.

Q. I'd like to find out if I'm eligible for monthly social security payments. But I have trouble getting around. Can I call my social security office to get some information?

A. Yes. Many social security questions can be handled by telephone. You can call any office. The number is listed in your phone book under Social Security Administration.

Q. Last year my husband and I adopted a five-year-old child through the county adoption agency. She was an orphan and, before we adopted her, she was getting monthly social security checks on her father's work record. I heard that her checks would start again. Is this true?

A. Yes. A child's payments no longer stop because of adoption. A child, like your daughter, whose payments were previously stopped because of adoption, can again receive monthly benefits. Contact any social security office to request for benefits for your adopted daughter. Benefits may be paid back to December, 1972.

Q. A friend told me that my grandson, who lives with me, might be able to get social security payments when I retire this year. If this is true?

A. In certain cases, a grandchild can get payments based on a grandparent's earnings record. The grandchild's parents must be disabled or have died before the grandparent started getting monthly benefits. The grandchild must have been under 18 when he began living with the grandparent. If you want more information, call, write, or visit any social security office. Q. I'm the manager of a unit of low-cost apartment for the elderly. My tenants often come to me with their problems and ask my advice about what they should do or where they can go for help. A friend told me that the local social security office could help me find out about the different organizations that help the elderly. Is this true?

A. Yes. You or your tenants can phone or visit any social security office. Social security offices keep lists of a variety of Government agencies and private organizations that help the elderly. The social security office can advise which agency or organization might help.

Q. I recently surprised my grandson with a savings account for his birthday. When I went to the bank to open the account, the bank clerk said we needed my grandson's social security number for the bank's records. Why was this necessary?

A. The bank reports earned interest over $10 a year to the Internal Revenue Service by the name and social security number of the account holder. If your grandson doesn't have a social security number, ask his parents to contact any social security office for information about applying for one.

Q. I signed up for the doctor's part of Medicare twice and cancelled my coverage both times. Can I re-enroll for a third time?

A. No. If you've cancelled your medical insurance more than once, you may not re-enroll under the present law.

Q. I'll be 72 this year. How much can I earn during 1973 and still get my full monthly social security payments?

A. You can earn as much as $2,100 for the months of 1973 before the month you reach 72. No matter how much you earn in that period, however, you can get your full social security payment for any month you neither earn over $175 nor do substantial work in self-employment. After you're 72, your social security payments will not be affected by your earnings.

'Kindest Phone Call' Project Being Conducted

"Your Kindest Phone Call" is a project now being conducted by the Highlands County unit of the American Cancer Society.

The object of the project is to show how anyone—the general public along with Society volunteers—can be of help and assistance to someone who needs aid and guidance in caring for a cancer patient in the home.

According to Mrs. Jacob F. Wagner, member of the local ACS board of directors, "This special project has been developed to make more people aware of the Society's Patient Service program and how these services can be arranged—through a friend or by a member of the patient's immediate family."

"There are numerous sick-room items available without charge. These include hospital beds, crutches, commodes, wheel chairs, dressings pads and other items which the patient may need."

This direct patient-aid and other rehabilitative services are part of the Society's overall cancer control program of education, research and patient services, made available through local contributions.

The local unit has cared for numerous cancer patients during the past year and with the inauguration of the "Reach to Recovery" program will be in a position to assist and rehabilitate an even greater number of Highlands County residents. The "Reach to Recovery" team visits in-home patients (those who have had a breast surgeally removed) and provides assistance in making the physical, psychological and cosmetic recovery.

Many medically indigent patients are being assisted with transportation expenses to clinics at Lakeland, Gainesville, Orlando and elsewhere. Other indigent patients have been assisted in the payment of their medication bills at local pharmacies.

Know Your Hospital

By John McClellan

The management of our nation's health facilities has an almost impossible task reconciling the expectations of consumers—encouraged by modern medical technology and titlements promised by national policy—on one hand, and the resistance by the government and third party payers to more and quality services—which, if they are to be fulfilled, will require additional taxes or increased premiums—on the other.

Obviously, any move to increase taxes would be ardently unpopular in the political arena, particularly in the light of the current national and international economic situation. Therefore, the first natural step, and one evidenced daily in the varying and often conflicting regulations of the multiple divisions of government (including the Cost of Living Council and its focus on the health field), is drastic cutbacks in—and more stringent controls over—expenditures.

In other words, there is an outright attempt to force a change in the delivery of health services and its costs by financial leverage, while, at the same time, putting the onus of responsibility for fulfilling all the public's needs and expectations on the backs of the providers of services. The prime target now coming into view, regardless of the circumstances, appears to be the management. The battle for fiscal solvency will continue for some time to confront the management of all hospitals, other health institutions and related programs. Although it serves as no solace to management in the health field, it must be recognized and understood that these problems are only part of a much bigger picture, one in which the credibility of the government to manage the nation's economy effectively is being questioned.

However, exposure to the broader view of the national and international financial situation, as expressed by those recognized as authorities in the field of economics, might help in developing some insight into what has been happening and lies ahead. It could serve as a sounder planning of fiscal strategy for the future—either as an independent enterprise or as a collective endeavor by the representative associations entrusted with the negotiations for the health institutions' stake in the fiscal affairs and resources of the nation.

Happy Holidays to everyone and the very best of everything for the New Year from all of us at Southland Court.

The coffee break Tuesday morning was busier than usual. 24 persons attended and after the coffee hour the annual meeting for election of officers for the new year was held. Sylvia Carlson read the nominating committee's report and Caroline Morrison read the Treasurer's report. It was voted that Ann Condit be General Chairman, Hannah Tebo for Co-Chairman, and Caroline Morrison was elected Secretary-Treasurer. It was also decided that a Carol Sing be held on Sunday evening, walking through the park singing to the shut-ins as well as many others followed by refreshments in the Hall.

There were 12 out for sewing Tuesday afternoon all busily working on Christmas ideas and trying to complete them for the big day. In the evening 12 played aggregation. Thursday Doug, Iris, Rachael and Bonny Mitten arrived from Canada. The Mitten and Chapel children look forward to this annual reunion each year. Charles McNulty was admitted to Walker Memorial during Dec. 18 Maurice Brevort with pneumonia. Family members were already on their way to spend Christmas with Chuch and Mary so we all sincerely hope that Chuch will be able to spend Christmas with Chuch year.

Goldia Daun spent a few days in Kissimmee visiting friends, shopping and trying out some of the nice places to eat. Also she is making a trip to Punta Gorda to see some of her friends.

Elwood Stroup has returned home from Ft. Myers where he visited friends. He returned home to avoid the cold snap. There were 34 present at Bingo Friday night. Regular bingo was won by Louise Davidson, Alex Sinclair, Hetta Cook at 25 cents each. The large picture frame was won by Marvin Tebo for 75 cents. Another regular was won by Bonny Mitten, Ann Condit, Martha Ayres and Helen Joseph at 25 cents each. Red Cross was won by Alex Sinclair. Regular again was won by Ann Condit and Loyal Condit for 25 cents each. Nothing like team work! Big T was taken by Rachael Mitten and Raymond Long for 50 cents each. Regular again by Doug Mitten, Gertrude Culver for 25 cents each, and RR Crossing by Loyal Condit for 75 cents. Two more games of Regular were played at 30 cents per game with Mildred Hindsley winning one and Loyal Condit the other. The cover all was won by Harriet Missell for $1.25.

Myrtle Overholt celebrated her 80th birthday Saturday the 22nd. A big happy birthday to you Myrtle from all your friends.

Sunday evening the 23rd, we did go caroling and it was splendid and enjoyed by all who participated. Runar Engard and Bette Chapel helped to start each song and everyone chimed out "Merry Christmas" after each carol. Michael Chapel and Rachael Mitten sang a duet for the Paxtons (Jingle-Bells). The folks returned to the Rec Hall singing Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer where 37 joined together for refreshments. The Hall was beautifully decorated and the refreshments were delicious. Pretty red punch filled the new punch bowl—coffee and all the cookies, party sandwiches and warm friendship anyone could ask for—made a perfect evening. Mrs. Esther Breister played Christmas music on her portable organ to make the evening complete. So—from all of us to all of you—Have A Very Happy Holiday Season!

Brentwood Mobile Home Park News

The Christmas spirit is in the air! The Court is beautiful, as usual at this season, even though few lights are used this year.

The McLains, Walkers, Geisingers, Yallups and Wellings all have arrived from "up North" during the past couple of weeks. We are happy to have these friends back with us again.

Warren and Flora Dayton of Alexander, N.Y., (Buffalo area), arrived last week and moved into their mobile home which they purchased from Vic and Ellen Nyman. Warren is Margaret Van Burkir's brother—and we welcome them to the group.

Most of our residents attended the lovely wedding in Sebring of Lynn Douglas and Gary Bennett on Dec. 15. We wish them all the happiness in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Holaday and Mr. and Mrs. William Good shipped in Lakeland last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. David Good from Toledo, Ohio, were overnight guests of Bill and Marie Good one night last week. David is Bill Good's nephew.

The telephone lines are kept busy these days as we exchange holiday greetings with our loved ones "back home." Louis and Ruth Nickoley are enjoying a visit from their son, Bill, who is home for the holidays. Bill attends the University of Missouri at Rolla.

Our genial landlords, Bill and Sue Bennett, are again hosting the Christmas dinner at our clubhouse. They provide the ham and turkey and those of us who attend the dinner provide the other "goodies." Santa Claus usually puts in an appearance, too.

We are happy that Gene Deubner's stay at the hospital was a short one. So glad to see you back again, Gene.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers are entertaining their son, Don, and his family during the holidays.

The regular "coffee hour" will be held Wednesday morning, Dec. 26, at 9 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Enoch and Mr. and Mrs. Orley True enjoyed the camp-out and Christmas party of their camping club last weekend.

Red Cross Fund Drive

The annual fund drive for the Highlands County Chapter of the American Red Cross has already begun in order to give persons who need a tax deduction to do it on this year's taxes.

James F. McCollum, treasurer of the local chapter, urged that the public mail in contributions in envelopes which are provided in a mailing going out. Declaring it is important to keep the local chapter in existence, McCollum declared.

"Your local chapter has been liaison for military families, assisting in emergency leaves for 47 families and sending 144 wives to servicemen concerned about loved ones at home. We also assisted with 16 compassionate transfers. Volunteer first aid instructors have issued 171 first aid certificates while volunteer swimming instructors issued 222 cards. Home nursing classes were also held. Our disaster chairman had secured and confirmed emergency shelters for Hurricane Gilda long before many of us even knew she was a threat. Of course, they weren't needed this time, but—what if they were needed and there were no Red Cross?"

Economic Slowdown Forecast In Florida By Comptroller

The Avon Park Sun, Avon Park, Fla. Dec. 27, 1973 5A

There will be a "definite economic slowdown" in Florida next year, "but the recession also will result in beneficial side effects for Florida," State Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson predicted today.

In his annual end-of-the-year economic report, Dickinson counted out the possibility of a "downturn" depression, because our economic fiber is of such a strength to withstand an all-out assault which would lead us to the hard times of the early thirties.

The economic sagging is of such a magnitude, however, that Dickinson insisted "state spending must immediately level off. With our economy punctured by elements of the energy crunch, the new state budget must be virtually stripped of planned—and generally needed—new programs. I firmly believe each of us in the executive and legislative branches should see to it that existing programs are shaved or kept at the lowest possible level to maintain efficiency.

"In any cutback operation, though, I would hope that there would be legislative authorized exemptions for vital areas including law enforcement, conservation and health.

"The state certainly can cut back in new construction projects without critical damage. New road construction likewise can be curtailed, especially in view of restricted pleasure driving."

Dickinson, the state's chief fiscal officer, also insisted that Florida government's new operating budget—now in the making for presentation to the Legislature next Spring—"must reflect a change in our earlier thinking regarding additional personnel except in areas deemed to be critical. If there are any state employee pay increases above the merit boosts, they should be confined to employees at the lowest pay levels."

"With a better break for agriculture and citrus products in foreign trading, Florida, as a top agriculture and citrus producer, will have a major contribution in the making of a better balance of trade between the United States and other nations."

This, said Dickinson, will be one of the "plus" factors for Florida from the energy crisis. Another spin-off benefit, continued the Comptroller, is that the energy problems will result in a slowdown in the migration of new residents to the Sunshine State.

"Florida will, of course, continue to grow," Dickinson stated, adding that "we will now probably have growth at a reduced rate from approximately 3,500 persons a week to not more than 2,900 new residents weekly. This definitely is overall a good thing for our state. It will give government additional time to catch up on the needs for orderly growth planning. We will have more time to program our environmental and conservation desires into appropriate balance with the urban and industrial needs of a growing population."

Bonnie Brae

Mobile Estates News

By MARGARET W. YOUNG

Mr. and Mrs. Art Smalley recently joined three other couples who were former Michigan neighbors in Lakeland at the Sizzlin' Steak House for dinner. Later, dessert was served by Mrs. Robert Tolan at their home at Lake Lena in Auburndale.

Bonnie Braes are happy to have the following friends enjoying Florida on "the Strip": Betty Gough and daughter Connie; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirschke; Cecil Penley; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wetmore; Mr. and Mrs. J. Asher and Mr. and Mrs. F. Baugus.

Approximately ninety "Bonnie Braes" enjoyed a sumptuous dinner of turkey, dressing and all the other delicious food which all the good cooks brought in. We all appreciated the turkeys furnished by "The Bohlands" and expressed our thanks for them. After the dinner a "Yankee Swap" of Christmas gifts was enjoyed by all. The bank partially filled with pennies and the pine needle trays changed owners several times. The Bohlands (Dan and Gerie) want to thank everyone in Bonnie Brae for their Christmas Gift and to wish all a very Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year.

Rhode Island has three counties, but no elected officers, and no county taxes. The officers needed are appointed by the governor.

Acolytes Are Installed At Episcopal Church

During services Sunday morning, Dec. 23, at the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, seven boys were formally installed as acolytes or altar boys. The boys are Bill, Keith and Mark Badman, Jody Johnston, Andy and Terry Lanzing, and Rob Ward.

This is the culmination of eight weeks training which these young men have received to prepare them to assist in worship services in the church.

Two of the boys, Andy Lanzing and Jody Johnston, received special instruction which qualifies them to serve at the credence table and ring the Sanctus bell during celebrations of the Holy Eucharist.

The training was conducted by Father Cleveland, the Parish Rector, and Mr. Pep Hutchinson, Director of Acolytes.

Post-Christmas Fest At Lake Byrd Lodge

Lake Byrd Lodge will be the scene of a post-Christmas celebration with young people coming from churches all over the state. The program starts Thursday, Dec. 27 with a "Christmas Transformation" when all the delegates will transform Pickens Hall into a Winter Wonderland. Snowballs and Snowmen in Florida seems difficult to imagine but they tell us Lake Byrd Lodge will have them! The "Drama Dropouts" will present their fabulous production "Twas the Night Before Christmas or Who Let Him In?" and Santa Claus will visit late Thursday night. Joe and Robin Cote of Delray Beach will present "Creative Arts for the Church" and Jerry Schuman of Ft. Lauderdale will lead the group in several simulation games on the Poverty question.

Highlight of the weekend will be an open forum discussion on "Youth Looks at Politics" or "Who Can We Believe These Days?" led by none other than our own Florida State Senator Richard Pettigrew. Watergate, Spiro Agnew, TPT, political contributions, prison, reform, justice credibility, are words highly provocative in our day and the young people will have a chance to see, hear and converse with a man who has some of the answers to these questions. Senator Pettigrew believes in the "American Dream" and sees that dream as possible in our day and age. The senator will be introduced by the Rev. T. Albert Lawrence, Minister for Leadership Development for the United Church of Christ in Florida.

The program will end on Sunday, Dec. 30, with a celebration led by Joanne Hardy of Winter Park. The program is open for senior high young people in the ninth through the twelfth grades.

Earl Mixon Completes Training

Airman Earl L. Mixon, son of Mrs. Juanita W. M. Watson of Ft. 2, Avon Park, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Texas, from the U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained to repair current Air Force jet aircraft, is being assigned to Homestead AFB, for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Airman Mixon is a 1973 graduate of Avon Park High School.

Letta Neighbors Hold Picnic

The Friendly Neighbors of Lake Letta Estates, held their monthly picnic on Wednesday, with 62 attending. After the pot-luck dinner, the group joined in singing Christmas carols. A gift of $37 was given to the Salvation Army.

Red Devil Cagers Drop Two In DeSoto Tourney

The Avon Park Red Devil cagers dropped two games in the DeSoto Basketball Invitational last week to move to a 3-3 record for the pre-holiday season. In the semi-finals last Thursday night the Devils lost to DeSoto High by a score of 72-62 and then on Friday night lost out to Santa Fe of Lakeland in the play-off for third place by a score of 65-60.

The Devils played the Thursday night game against DeSoto High without four starters who were uneligible for discipline reasons. Two boys brought up from the 'B' squad came on in the second half of the game to spark a come-back for Avon Park but it was not enough to take the win.

James Ross and Sam King perked up the sagging Devil squad with King scoring six points and Ross sparking the defense and scoring one point while senior steady forward

Phil Harris took high scoring honors for the Devils with 23 points. Ricky Claitt also turned in a fine performance for Avon Park scoring 19 points before he fouled out early in the second half. Nathaniel Packer pumped in 12 points, and Melvin Collins scored 10, to round out the Avon Park scoring. Marvin Jackson also saw action for the Devils.

DeSoto's Randy Gambrell with 21 points and Ted McKenzie with 20 were the top scorers for Arcadia. The Bulldogs went on to win the tournament with a 65-54 victory over Fort Meade in the finals Friday night.

Avon Park hit only six free shots against Santa Fe while the Crimson Hawks sank 19 points from the foul line to take the 65-49 win and capture third place in the meet. In the first period the Hawks outscored the Devils 16-4 and Avon Park was never able to overcome the 10 point advantage. Big Tom Stanton hit for 21 points for Santa Fe to lead the game scoring.

Named to the all-tournament team were Greg Brinson, Fort Meade; Gary Sapp, Lake Placid; Tom Stanton, Santa Fe; Ted McKenzie and Glenn Morgan, DeSoto.

The Red Devil team will be back in action on Friday night, Jan. 4, when it will host the Sebring Blue Streaks in a Highlands County match-up at the Avon Park High School gym. The "B" game will start at 6:30 and will be followed by the varsity game around 8 p.m.

We wish a "Happy Birthday" to the following people who will be celebrating their birthdays this coming week:

Santa Claus Makes Two Avon Park Trips

Santa Claus, on his second visit to Avon Park this year, arranged through the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, seemed to be having a ball as he sat in front of the silver tree with bright red balls and bows. Santa waved to the grey haired ladies and called "Hello, Girls" as they passed by, and his eyes twinkled merrily as the pretty teen-age girls sat on his knee (it's a good thing Mrs. Claus was not here). He made mental notes as the little ones in wide eyed wonder named everything from a helicopter, not a toy one but a REAL one, to a set of golf clubs. One little girl said she wanted a real live baby, but her mother caught Santa's eye and whispered "Please No". A young lady put in her request for a red convertible and Santa said "The very idea of you asking me to give you that when you haven't even given me a kiss." Yes, it really was a good thing Mrs. Claus was too busy packing all of the toys for Santa's sleigh, and she couldn't come to Avon Park. Santa seems to be getting young ideas when he is "on the loose."

Anyway, the Chamber of Commerce reported that Santa gave away several hundred candy canes to his little and big visitors, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, as he held court in front of the Chamber of Commerce offices. It was really a treat to see Santa in such a merry mood in this troubled world of today. But then, Santa doesn't have to worry about gasoline shortage, as the moon and the stars light his way.

THE AVON PARK CHAMBER OF Commerce was a busy place last Wednesday and Thursday, as children came to talk to Santa and tell him their fondest wishes, as he gave them candy canes. Santa is shown here with some of the children that came by. Photo by Sharpe.

At Highlands Hammock Camping Impact Discussed

At the Dec. 13 meeting of the Environmental Council of Highlands County, Ranger Bill Eaton of Highlands Hammock State Park spoke on the Environmental and Economic Impact of Camping at Highlands Hammock State Park.

Ranger Eaton discussed the history of camping at the Hammock from the post World War Two "pup-tenters" to today's luxury campers. He mentioned the short-term decline in campers due to the loss of the beach at Lake Jackson when Highway 27 was widened. He pointed out that many county residents first came as campers and eventually became permanent residents because of the great natural beauty of the county and the many friendly people they met here. In 1972, Highlands Hammock had 100,000 day visitors and 56,000 campers, and the average camping family spends 15 dollars per day. Ranger Eaton pointed out that the park is constantly faced with the problem of maintaining adequate camping facilities while preserving the natural beauty that attracts the campers.

A business meeting followed the program. President Philip Hopper of Sebring, who attended the Nov. 17 meeting of the Environmental Council of South West Florida in Fort Myers, reported on their environmental inventory project. Marshall Pollard of Lake Placid, represented the council at Pollution Update, an environmental conference held in Tampa on Dec. 24, and reported on the conference. It was attended by over 300 environmentalists from all over Florida, and was sponsored by nine environmental organizations including the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Florida Department of Pollution Control. The various statutes of the Florida Air and Water Pollution Control Act and the Florida Land Use and Sovereign Land Laws were explained by State Attorney General Sherrin and his staff, and Peter Baljet, director, outlined the broad responsibilities of the Department of Pollution Control.

Although these new laws are adequate to protect the environment, the Department of Pollution Control does not have sufficient manpower to adequately enforce these laws and will ask the legislature for a large budget increase for 1974-75 to increase their personnel from 224 in 1973 to 617 in 1974, Pollard reported. In per capita pollution control expenditure, Florida is below the average for the other Southeast States in air programs, and far behind North and South Carolina in water programs. The 1972 Federal Water Pollution Control Act amendment added 112 new statutory responsibilities on the department, for which no manpower has yet been added. Meeting these responsibilities is mandatory according to federal law if Florida is to receive 170 million dollars in grants for sewage treatment plant construction. The council meeting ended with a discussion of the energy crisis and the few conservation measures the county has so far enacted.

DENTAL HYGIENIST Diana Holton—using a large model tooth—shows Rotarians where the dark spots of tooth decay and gum disorders usually begin to form.

Proper Care Of Teeth Necessary; Rotary Told

"Teeth are necessary for health and good looks," stated Diana Holton, Dental Hygienist, as she told the Avon Park Rotarians how to properly care for their teeth. Introduced by Ken Long, Program Chairman, Diana a graduate of Sebring High School and of St. Petersburg Community College, also pointed out that only one person in ten has teeth free of some form of dental disease.

The chief cause of tooth decay and gum disorders is organized colonies of bacteria that grow, thrive and live on food particles lodged on and between the teeth. These bacteria colonies build a protective shield called bacterial plaque over themselves, which is followed by tartar build-up. The bacteria not only live on the sugary foods but any of the carbohydrate foods we eat such as bread, crackers or vegetables. Waste products of the bacteria dissolve the tooth enamel and tooth decay or a diseased condition begins and becomes painful when the decay reaches the tooth nerve. This build-up of plaque eventually may result in bad breath, bleeding gums, cavities, loss of teeth and even the loss of bone structure.

Some of these bacteria can live in pure mouth wash. Brushing alone will not clean them off of teeth, because brushing does not reach the crevices between the teeth where 85 per cent of the tooth decay starts. Dental floss and a dental pick are also effective cleaning aids.

The dental hygienist's task is to teach and stress that the dental patient develop and follow a preventative program of tooth care. Diana used a large model tooth and brush showed the Rotarians how to place a soft tooth brush on the teeth along the gum line. Hard brushes wear away the enamel causing the gum line to recede. The brushing motion is a gentle jiggle into and along the gum line both on the inside and outside of the teeth and on the bite surface.

Inasmuch, as brushing only does about 50 per cent of the cleaning job, Diana demonstrated how to use dental floss to aid in cleaning teeth.

Wrapping the floss around the strong middle finger of each hand, Diana inserted the floss between the teeth and at the gum line pulling it around the tooth while scraping towards the bite surface. This can clean about three quarters of the teeth.

Good cleaning technique required that one spend at least five minutes at one time, on the care of one's teeth. How or does this pay-off to the owner of a mouthful of teeth? As one develops their own preventative control program of teeth care it was emphasized that brushing should be reduced to once a day, preferably at night or bedtime. And, concluded Diana, periodic checkups, visits to the dentist could be stretched from the customary six months to a year or eighteen months.

Several Drivers Pay Fines

Several Sebring and Avon Park drivers paid fines for forfeited bonds on traffic counts at the Dec. 13 session of county court before Judge Mark H. Richardson Jr. They were:

David Wayne Hill, Sebring, careless driving, $53, ordered to defensive driving school.

David Jackson Cullifer, Lorida, ran stop sign, $27, forfeited.

Edward Alan Youngman, Venus, unlawful speed, $27, forfeited.

Stephen Christopher Jacobchik, Sebring, failure to use due care, $37, forfeited.

Winston Mark Smith, Avon Park, unlawful speed, $37, forfeited.

Wayne C. Royce, Avon Park, violation of right-of-way, adjudged guilty and sentence suspended.

Martin G. Chestnutt, Avon Park, careless driving, adjudged guilty, ordered to attend defensive driving school.

Homemakers

Group May

Be Dissolved

The Avon Park Extension Homemakers organization will be dissolved unless new members come forth to join the group, according to Mrs. Mac Cole, a chairman of the county organization.

"If enough women interested in joining the Avon Park Extension Homemakers will contact the County Council President, Mrs. Jackie Jenkins, 465-2684, and express a desire to join the club in tact," Mrs. Cole said.

Home extension programs provide education in a social gathering. Workshops are usually held at each meeting in which the ladies are instructed in various skills.

The program is open to all homemakers regardless of race, color or creed.

BRIAN COLLINS will bring his five piece Nashville Band to the Ridge Restaurant on Monday evening to help area motorists welcome the New Year at the popular Avon Park dining spot.

Highlands

Salon Meets

Highlands Salon 687-840 met at the home of Mrs. Lorean Maston in Sebring for the regular monthly luncheon. A very delicious dinner was served to the partners. Mrs. Maston had her home decorated in Christmas foliage. Mrs. Eileen Barnum, Chapeau, presided over the business meeting.

Each chairman present gave a report. The meeting will not be held in January as this is New Year's Day. The partners exchanged gifts.

Those attending from Avon Park were, Mrs. Margaret Stewart, Mrs. Dorothy Lane, Mrs. Clara Tepper, Mrs. Viola Vorisek, and Miss Verna Heim.
