Eighty New Students Coming From Range

The recent explosion at the Avon Park Bombing Range is population, not armaments. Because of the sudden upsurge in children, two more school buses and revised routing will be added to this year's transportation schedule. School board members approved the buses Tuesday night, after transportation director George Crist explained the problem. He said that whereas last year one bus handled 12 outside-the-gate students and those in the bombing range, there are now 126 students to be collected, an increase of 80.

Superintendent George Douglas sighed. "The Polk County problem won't go away. The board is going to have to consider this very seriously in the future."

Crist said there is a fair chance that federal Impact Funds may be awarded the school district to help combat the dilemma. He said Aubrey Morris has been talking to federal agencies, but so far no word has been received.

Board members each took a turn at possible solutions. To a suggestion that many students might drive their own cars, Crist said he had discussed that with the range commander and the answer was "very few."

Steve Roberts asked if a bus could make a double run and Crist replied that the 22-mile round trip would have to be started early, depositing some students at the schools 40 minutes before classes started, or others about 45 minutes late to class.

Roberts thought the Air Force group could be waiting at the gate, to be "picked up in one way," instead of at seven stops throughout the range.

Crist's eyes rolled. Both by words and manner he indicated strongly that it is impossible to keep so great a number of children under control for loading, and that it would probably take a platoon of Air Force guards to keep the situation at the gate from being a complete snafu.

Bill Gene Smith asked if the Air Force has a bus, and was told there is one, but it is small.

While the board was thinking up some new ideas, Crist mentioned casually that the buses he was requesting would not be new ones. "We already have some sub-buses we can use."

Suddenly the question took on a whole new light for board members. With hardly any hesitation they approved using two sub-buses for the bombing range run, while they hope for federal assistance from Impact Funds.

Crist said the Sebring and Lake Placid schedules will remain much the same as last school year, although there have been some "shuffling about."

He noted that there are 18 new students in Spring Lake, "but we can live with that."

He said although there have been increases in both Avon Lakes and Avon Park Lakes, the main jump is in the range, where 50 new housing units have been built for instructors and personnel. Three Sebring and 13 Avon Park families have moved to the range, further swelling the ranks.

No Maximum Security

By NORMA GOBBLE
Runners that a maximum security prison facility is going to be built on state property adjacent to the Avon Park Correctional Institution are completely unfounded, M.K. Sawyer, assistant superintendent of APCI, said Friday.

A multiphase construction project is about to be started but there are no plans to locate any proved dangerous convicts in the local area, Sawyer said.

The first phase of the construction, a kitchen and dining room facility is expected to begin before the end of this month and is slated for completion in March, 1976.

The completely air conditioned complex will cost $506,900 with the construction contract going to charter Builders of Orlando subject to final approval in Tallahassee. Approval is expected shortly.

Also on tap for construction this year are three inmate dormitories which will house in excess of 400 men and a central control building. Bids will be let some time in October with construction expected to begin in December. A multi-trust complex with medical, dental, social and psychological facilities and an educational building for vocational training of inmates are also in the completed plans stage.

Architect on the buildings is Masiello and Associates of West Palm Beach.

Most of the new buildings will be built immediately west of the compound proper with some of the present buildings in the compound being moved to make room for some of the new buildings.

The entire project will be built at a cost of slightly more than $3.2 million. The building has been under consideration for some four or five years and in active planning for about two years.

Grossly overcrowded conditions in the state's penal institutions resulting in a federal court order to correctional officials to remedy the situation probably served to speed up implementing plans for the construction, Sawyer said. "But, the project had already been planned," he added.

There is plenty of room to expand the local prison facilities with a total of some 500 acres owned by the state at APCI. The compound proper encompasses 29.4 acres.

APCI will remain essentially the same type facility but with expanded accommodations. There could possibly be some medium security inmates housed at the local prison, Sawyer said.

Medium security denotes those who must be under surveillance constantly while outside the fence. With minimum security, such as APCI, inmates must be checked every four hours while outside the fence but are not kept under surveillance.

Close security indicates those who must be under armed guard when outside the fence and maximum security are kept in cells or behind bars.

The expanded facilities at APCI and the resultant addition of inmates will probably necessitate additional staff, Sawyer said. The entire project is slated for completion by November, 1976 according to plans.

Stand Question Unsolved

"We're going to make every effort and if you'll do the same, I believe we can come up with a solution," Council President Wendell W. "Winkie" Williams told Howard Davis in ending discussion on the non-conforming fruit stand on West Main St. during Monday night's Avon Park City Council meeting.

"We, as a council, are not trying to put you out of business," Williams concluded.

The question of the fruit stand which is in violation of city zoning ordinances came before the council at the July 28 meeting and the council referred it to the zoning board of adjustment.

The zoning board referred the matter back to the council for a decision but the matter remains unresolved.

Building official C. W. Ellerbee told the city council he didn't see how "we (the Zoning Board) could do anything but what the council directs us to do."

Councilman Ed Touchton said he didn't think the council should be in a position of forcing someone out of business. "However, I do feel that it should be conforming," he said.

Councilman Robert Britt said he had gotten a number of phone calls, all of them wanting the fruit stand to remain. "I know the stand is an asset to the community," he said.

Britt asked Ellerbee if he had told Davis what he should do to comply with the zoning code. Ellerbee replied that he had and said there were three points. "Mainly, a building valued at $5,000, offstreet parking and rest rooms," he said.

"In other words, the impossible," interjected Davis who does not own the property where the fruit stand is located. He has a month to month lease and the owner will not put up a building or otherwise "get involved," Davis said.

It has been pointed out a number of times that businesses on both sides have given permission for the Davis or their customers to use their rest rooms. (Please turn to page 2)

School Board

Hears Two $$ Estimates

The state's, or the county's estimate of school revenue? Which will it be?

Tuesday night Superintendent George Douglas submitted to the school board a tentative accounting of anticipated revenue that turned out to be a "two-partner" one side based on the state's figures and the other on the findings of county Property Appraiser Billy Martin.

There is a disparity in balance of $2,345 between the two. Douglas said the school board may fare better under the state's findings than those of the county.

A balance of $18,601 has been carried over into the new fiscal year. According to the state, there will be FEPP allocations of $4,054,933.

According to Martin, the allocation will be $4,137,316. Revenues will generate $3,206,799 in mills; according to Martin the same millage will generate $3,432,071.

Douglas' two-sided record showed that after anticipated expenditures of $7,382,899, the new balance under the state's figures would be $107,732. With Martin's figures it would be $85,387.

Douglas said that after cutting every department in the school system, including salary increases (but with regular increments), the school district's millage will probably be 8 mills, including debt service. He said that $340,000 has been trimmed from the budget.

The biggest expenses this year are in utilities, from $26,788 to $29,570; matching retirement and social security outlays, from $667,400 to $700,562; Blue Cross - Blue Shield payments, from $80,641 to $115,000; and the transportation budget, from $77,866 to $118,820.

Although administrative salaries are up from $408,136 to $455,842, it was explained that the school board is carrying the salary of Carl Harner, assistant principal at Sebring

School, who was recently appointed to a national educational position for a year's term. The school board will be reimbursed later.

Other budgets are down: maintenance, local teacher and clerical aide salaries, school budgets, and instructional salaries due to dropping 20 teacher positions.

Up from $906,560 to $967,880 are non-instructional salaries and from $71,427 to $72,000 the salaries of substitutes.

Under the $25,672 listed as miscellaneous administration expenses it was explained that funds for textbooks, $90,000 in insurance; and a $1,000 payment to the Okeechobee school district are extracted.

Douglas announced that two special meetings have been scheduled. One, next Tuesday at 1 p.m. is called to sign a contract for construction of the new Lake Placid High School and will be followed by an executive session to discuss collective bargaining with teachers.

The other, Wednesday at 3 p.m., will be to review the budget.

Sewer Contracts Signed-To FHA

"Final testing of the city's new well will take place tomorrow afternoon," Tom Kelly of Dawkins and Associates told the Avon Park City Council at their regular Monday night meeting with the new well being placed on line within two weeks.

In the matter of the sewer improvement projects Kelly told the council that the contract documents had been executed with the contractors for projects I, II and III, they had been signed by Mayor Marshall Davis and forwarded to the Farmers Home Administration in Gainesville.

There are several easements for rights-of-way that have not been resolved but they hope that by late next week they will be able to proceed to work notices to the contractors. Kelly expected to have a pre-construction conference with the contractors for implementation of the contracts. No problems were anticipated.

In a discussion about documenting the condition of the sewer line rights-of-way, Tom Kelly told the council of the feasibility and need. The principle methods of doing this are the use of still photography, motion pictures and video taping. As a matter of routine it was brought out that if the matter of damages caused to crop some, would have to be available to verify that the pictures were taken at that particular location.

Kelly requested that Dawkins and Associates be authorized to act as agents for the city in this documenting of rights-of-way and that the cost be kept at a minimum, not to exceed $20,000. The scope of the work be cut down particularly where only one side of a street was involved. It was moved to authorize Dawkins and Associates to act as agent for the city in documenting rights-of-way on the sewer project.

A discussion was held on the employment of inspectors for the sewer project. Three have applied from this area with Kelly reporting one area been interviewed.

Requests Referendum On Transfer Of City Court

In appearing before the Avon Park City Council at their regular Monday night meeting George Haynie requested that a referendum be placed on the ballot by which voters could let their representatives know how they felt about moving the city court functions to the county courts in Sebring.

Haynie reported the matter had been in committee in this year's legislature but had been killed in committee by legislators from the big city areas.

Another suggestion made by George Haynie was that a $300 cap be placed on what a man can spend in election campaigns for any office he is seeking in the city. As Haynie put it "Give the people a break, don't let a man buy the election. After it happens it is too late." He also felt that by adding the referendum a few more people might vote.

The matter was put aside for further study.

Warns Of Longer Lines For Tag Stickers

With only five more shopping days left in which to get their automobile tag stickers by the deadline Aug. 20, Jimmy Whitehouse of the Highlands County Tag Agency expressed the fear that there would be many more people standing in longer lines waiting to get their tag stickers this year than last.

The new requirement that the tag owner list the date of birth has been a holdup in procuring tag stickers, especially when tag stickers are being purchased for neighbors or friends who have not given their birthday dates to the purchaser.

Whitehouse stated there would not be an extension of the tag deadline and that cars traveling on the highway Aug. 21 or after without the tag sticker would have the driver subject to arrest and a fine. Therefore he recommended that car owners make every effort to secure their tag stickers early as possible.

Fruit Stand

"I think you'll find several businesses up and down the Mall who don't have off street parking," Councilman Larry Albritton said. "They park right there on the street."

Williams said if Davis could comply with the state regulations as far as health is concerned "and satisfy these people, I feel like the Council could take the viewpoint that we always have and go along with a business that's been established."

The rest rooms are not mentioned in the city ordinance but is a requirement of the State Health Department. Davis said the health department regularly inspects the fruit stand and has had no complaint.

Davis said he would get portable toilets, if necessary. Davis said he couldn't see, after six years, why the furor was being made now. He has asked several times who made the complaints but has never received an answer.

"I could see it if I was just opening a business," he said.

The fruit stand has been in that location for 18 years and Davis has had it the past six years. "I need 47 months," Davis said. In alling health, he will be eligible for retirement then.

Davis added that he won't sell the business because the owner, a Mr. Coker in Wauchula has said there will be nothing else there when he leaves.

Davis has over 900

signatures of customers who want him to stay in business there.

Albritton noted some flyers Davis has passed out and said, "Correct the statement that the city is trying to close you up." He continued "We're not trying to close you up. We're just trying to make you comply with the law. We're trying to help."

City Attorney Jack Hancock suggested the city explore specifically zoned areas in the city written into the zoning code. He pointed out that the council could rezone property without the owner's request but would have to notify the owner. "I do not anticipate you being closed up by this council," Williams said. "We'll try to work with you."

Five Arrested Here For 'Pot' Possession

Four adults and one juvenile were arrested by Avon Park Police Saturday night on charges of possession of marijuana after they had been observed by officers in a vehicle parked in the parking lot at Jiffy Food Store on S. Highlands smoking and passing the cigarette from one to another.

When the 1971 Chevrolet van left the parking lot Patrolmen Frank Weems and Donald Singletary followed it north on South Highlands and stopped it just past the traffic light at the intersection with SR 64.

Officers saw two suspected marijuana cigarettes, partly smoked, in the ash tray. They obtained permission from the driver to search the vehicle and found one plastic bag of marijuana, one plastic bag containing suspected marijuana seeds, 12 suspected roaches, partly smoked, rolling papers and an alligator clip.

The five persons were advised of their rights and taken into custody.

Booked on marijuana possession charges were Roy L. Riggs, 22, of Frostproof; Brenda Jane Landon, 21, Winter Haven; David Paul Weaver, 21, of Auburndale; and Patricia Outlaw, 18, of Winter Haven. They are free on bond and slated for an Aug. 28 hearing in municipal court on the charges.

The minor, a 17-year-old youth, was released to the custody of his parents on advice of Highlands County juvenile authorities in Sebring.

Weems said officers are going to talk to the states' attorney's office to see if the youth can be certified as an adult since he will be 18 next month. Also after discussing the case with the states' attorney, misdemeanor charges of marijuana may be changed to felony charges.

Under five grams is a misdemeanor and anything over five grams is a felony.

Bicentennial Committee Appreciates Those That Helped

Dear Mr. Carter:

As Chairman of the Avon Park Bicentennial Committee I wish to thank you and Lew Miller and The Sun for the excellent job you did in publicizing the State's American Bicentennial Exhibit which was in Avon Park last week. Your generous coverage of our plans helped to make the tremendous success of this project. We consider this a great public service.

We are proud to report that two thousand, one hundred and eighty-three people viewed the exhibit. They came from all over Highlands County, and some came from Polk and Glades Counties.

We also wish to thank the Sebring Radio Stations WJCM and WSEB-WSPK for their public service ads for this patriotic venture. The Lake Placid Journal and The Sebring News and most of the churches in the county reported that the exhibit was to be in Avon Park. We really appreciated the ten young people who painted the Fire Hydrants in patriotic colors, and for all who contributed in making this event a memorable one for our city.

We especially want to thank Mayor Marshall Davis. Without his help we could never have succeeded in this undertaking. A thanks to Mr. Herbert Kelly and the men from APCL who helped to set up the vans and the city crew who helped take them down Saturday evening.

It is impossible to name everyone, but to Dick Hamm who was in charge of the advertising; Elizabeth Kempton who secured 36 hostesses for duty at all times coverage of our plans helped to make the tremendous success of this project. We consider this a great public service.

Cemetery Untidy

Dear Editor,

After reading the article headed "Crematorium Found in Bougainville Cemetery in the Aug. 7 issue of The Avon Park Sun, I wasn't surprised that Rev. Herbert Graetz, president of the Historical Society, and Leona Maxwell, were "flabbergasted" to say the least, to find the grave site of the founder of Avon Park grown up with dried grasses and hidden by bushes and weeds.

I drove through Bougainville Cemetery about one week before the article appeared and the appearance of the cemetery from east to west was disgraceful. Tall grass uncut, and indicating a general uncared-for and neglected appearance.

Those in control or management of the cemetery have a responsibility to keep the cemetery in a decent cared-for appearance. I hope this letter will give someone to get busy and clean the cemetery of weeds and brush and iron the grass.

Take Steps For Charles S. Swan Memorial Toastmaster Group

The first steps toward official formation of the Charles S. Swan Memorial Toastmasters were taken in a dinner meeting of the group at the Steak Out Restaurant in Avon Park Thursday night.

There will be another meeting of the group at the Steak Out today (Thursday) starting promptly at 7 p.m. All individuals, men or women, interested in the Toastmasters program are urged to attend.

Robert Panzarella, chairman of the steering committee, said.

Thursday night's meeting was opened by Norma Gobble, secretary-treasurer of the steering committee, who introduced the chairman and Toastmaster of the evening, Dr. Mohamed Ismail of the Imperial Polk Toastmasters in Winter Haven. The Imperial Polk Toastmasters are sponsoring the new chapter for Highlands County.

Frank Roegner, president of Imperial Polk Toastmasters, gave the invocation and led the Pledge of Allegiance and Richard Schnur, of State Farm Toastmasters in Winter Haven, served as Table Topics Master.

Master Evaluator and grammarian was Dr. William Grierson of Imperial Polk. Mike Burns, educational vice president of Gavel Club 16 at Avon Park Correctional Institution, was named best speaker in competition with Area Governor Lou Funk of State Farm Toastmasters by vote of those present. Fred Putney of Imperial Polk was named best evaluator. George Knickerbocker, president of Gavel Club 16 at APCI, and Lynn Ingraham, secretary of Gavel Club 16, tied for best Table Topic.

The meeting ended with ten confirmed members of the new club which gave promoters of the local organization an optimistic outlook obtaining the required 20 members to charter the new chapter at the end of September.

Meetings will be held each Thursday night through August and then drop to the second and fourth Thursday of each month. Permanent officers will be elected at the Aug. 21 meeting, which will begin at 6:30 instead of the present 7 p.m.

The three member steering

Ward And Williams

Florida Citrus Nurseryman's Association, president, Wendell "Winkie" Williams and the association secretary Franklyn Ward will take part in the public hearing on the importation into Florida of illegal Star Ruby grapefruit budwood. Thursday and Friday, Aug. 14-15 at the Citrus Commission building, Lakeland.

To Take Part In Grapefruit Hearing

The State Plant Act of 1915 established the State Plant Board now the Division of Plant Industry which has the sole responsibility for preventing the importation into Florida, of materials that would create a hazard to the citrus industry of the State of Florida. These rules and regulations have been tested and found to be workable and of a sound biological concept. The deep red Star Ruby grapefruit originated in Texas and legal budwood was brought to Florida under strict quarantine by the Division of Plant Industry and was to be released to nurseries and growers on April 15, 1975.

The release was postponed indefinitely as a result of the discovery of illegal material in the state with the Division of Plant Industry plant specialists having identified approximately 50,000 citrus trees budded with budwood of Star Ruby grapefruit which was illegally brought into the State of Florida. Some lines of the Star Ruby grapefruit in Texas, the possible source of the illegal budwood, have been known to exhibit necrotic ringspot virus. Although the Star

Ruby budwood introduced legally into Florida has been indexed and found free of the ringspot virus, illegally imported budwood may still harbor this disease.

The question now before the citrus industry and the Division of Plant Industry, Florida Department of Agriculture & Consumer Services, is whether one individual or group of individuals has the right to circumvent the law and take it upon himself to import citrus budwood or any parts thereof for his own profit or enjoyment, with utter disregard to the possible importation of dangerous plant pests.

The Florida Citrus Nurserymen's Association in a resolution requested that the Division of Plant Industry carry out the rules and regulations of the State Plant Act to prevent the distribution of illegal budwood and clarify that no one individual has the right to circumvent the law.

Florida Citrus Mutual, The Florida Citrus Commission and Waverly Growers Co-operative added their own endorsements and resolutions. They also

Rotarians See Timely Film On Hurricanes

Rotary program chairman Chuck Watson showed a timely film on hurricanes and precautions to be taken in the event of a hurricane across central Florida.

The weather Bureau is responsible for issuing warnings of hurricanes which approach the U.S. Mainland, with forecasting offices at San Juan, Miami, New Orleans, Washington and Boston maintaining a careful watch for the development of tropical storms and hurricanes.

As soon as there are definite indications that a hurricane is forming, even though it is a thousand miles or more from the mainland, the storm is given a name and the weather bureau begins issuing "advisories," telling where the storm is, how intense it is and its speed and direction of movement.

If the hurricane moves toward the mainland, hurricane "watch" notices are included in the advisories and pale and hurricane warnings are issued. By using the weather bureau advisories and bulletins as disseminated by press, radio and television the location and movement of the hurricane can be followed by charting.

SAFETY MEASURES
— Listen to radio and TV bulletins.
— Pay no attention to rumors.
— Board up windows or put storm shutters.
— Get extra food which can be eaten without cooking.
— Put aside extra drinking water.
— Have emergency lights in working condition and handy.
— Secure everything outside the house that can be torn loose.

— BE CALM!
— Stay away from low-lying beaches or locations which may be swept by high tide or storm waves. Leave these areas early.

— Boats should be hauled out of the water or strongly moored. Avoid trying to secure boats after waters become dangerously rough.

— Make certain your automobile is on high ground, away from trees, preferably in a garage or other shelter.
— If the eye or center of the hurricane passes over your area, skies may clear and there may be a lull in the wind lasting for a half hour or longer. Remain in a safe place or if necessary make emergency repairs. However the wind may return from the opposite direction suddenly and possibly with greater violence.

— Stay away from broken or low hanging power lines and metal objects which may be in contact with damaged power lines. Notify police or utility companies of broken wires.

— Do not drive unless absolutely necessary. If you must drive, watch for debris, fallen wires, wash-outs and swollen streams.

— Watch for rising water in streams even after the heaviest rain has ended.
— Don't hinder first-aid and rescue work. Stay away from disaster areas.

— Listen to your radio for instructions about sterilizing drinking water.
— If power has failed, don't open freezer chests unless necessary until power is restored or you can obtain dry ice.

Florida's population in 1974: 8,235,000
Florida's predicted population for the year 2000: 14,558,000 for the year 2020: 19,142,900

By 2020 Florida's population will have more than doubled!

Where will these people live? In Florida's undeveloped areas? No, people settle in areas where they can find work. This means that our towns and cities will have to expand greatly to meet the demands of much larger populations. Is your community planning for expansion?

How much growth will your community support? Who is going to pay for new schools, additional sewer lines, new highways, water, sewage and water treatment? Will existing public facilities be able to handle the growth? Should your community change its name to reflect the future? Should you protect the quality of the water resources? How can you protect the quality of the water resources?

Damages From Contractor

United Telephone Co. has joined the list of businesses seeking to recover damages from Allen of Florida. In a suit filed in circuit court, UTC alleges that its property was damaged by Allen's when Sebring city sewers were being installed.

Pennsylvania National Mutual Casualty Insurance company is named co-defendant in the suit. The telephone company did not spell out the amount of damages being sought, asserting only they are excess of $2,000.

THE BIBLE QUESTION BOX

For Bible Answer To Bible Questions Write To Pastor A. W. Ortnier
Rt. 2 Box X405
Avon Park, Florida 33825

Question: Does Christ possess creative power?
Answer: The scriptures make it clear that Christ did have creative power. It took creative power for him to heal the sick and raise the dead. At the marriage feast of Cana he demonstrated such power by creating wine out of water. When he fed the 5,000 people, he again manifested creative power.

The scriptures teach that prior to His coming to this earth to assure man's salvation, He was the creator of the universe. In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made; John 1:1-3.

The apostle Paul verifies the same truth. For by Him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones or dominions or principalities, or powers: All things were created by Him and for Him, and He is before all things, by whom He also made the worlds; Hebrew 1:2.

Thus it was Christ the creator who became flesh and dwelt among us. He became the Son of man in order that He might reveal the Father to the world. It is necessary for Him to come down to the human level so that He could communicate with the lost race. He left the glory of His high position in heaven, to live and die for a doomed world.

His creative power is also demonstrated in His plan of salvation. Miraculous power is essential for a person to be born again. Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things have passed away; behold all things are become new; 2 Corinthians 5:17.

The creative power of Christ is demonstrated in all of these various ways. Before He ascended, Jesus declared, "All power is given unto me in heaven and on earth. He makes this power available to all who put their trust in Him. But ye shall receive power, after the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth; Acts 1:8. Paul affirms that the gospel contains creative power. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth; to the Jew first, and also the Greeks; Romans 1:16.

Jahna Breaks Losing String With 15-8 Win

Jahna Concrete won its first game of the year last week in Avon Park Men's Slow-Pitch Softball when the team took a 15-8 victory from Avon Paint and Body. The win broke a winless record of several years standing for Jahna's and perhaps marks a change in the luck of the annual last-place finishers. The win gave Jahna's a final record of 1-13 for the 1975 season.

In other action in the league last week Jackson's Masonry won three more games to remain undefeated with a 12-0 record with make-up games still to be played against Air Force and Avon Paint and Body. Air Force was 9-2 at the end of last week with games to be played against Jackson's, Avon Citrus Bank and A.P.C.I. Coca Cola finished last week with a 9-4 record and will play Crews Equipment last Tuesday night in the final night of regular season play.

Crews Equipment was 8-5 going into the Coca Cola game and could have tied things up with a win last Tuesday night. A.P.C.I. had a 4-2 record with games still to be played against A.P. and B. and Air Force. Avon Paint and Body was 3-4 after last Friday's play and Jahna's finished with the 1-13 mark.

On Tuesday, August 5, Jackson's won over Crew's 19-5 and Coca Cola defeated Avon Citrus Bank 8-4. Then on Wednesday night Jahna upset Avon Paint and Body 15-8 and Air Force shot down Coca Cola 14-2.

Practice for the 1975 Red Devil varsity cross-country team will begin tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 15 at the Avon Park High School gym at 6:30 p.m. according to Coach Chet Brojek. Anyone interested in going out for the team should report to the gym at 6:30 to begin work for the season opener in Sebring on Sept. 16.

"I would especially encourage any incoming ninth grader who is interested in track to report tomorrow," said Brojek, "otherwise they end up two weeks behind, if they wait for school to start." The 1975 squad will be led by returning lettermen and co-captains, senior Frank Anderson and junior Jack Collins. Other returning lettermen and newcomers will compose a squad of 18-24 runners for this year's Red Devil cross country team. The fall cross-country season ends in November.

Man Has Family History Of Civil War

By NORMA GOBBLE

During this Bicentennial Year with its emphasis on American heritage and history, it is especially interesting and thrilling to possess memorabilia of our Nation's rich history.

Avon Park resident, Maj. Eugene A. Flint, USAF, Ret., has some priceless letters that tell interesting incidents of the Civil War as seen first hand by his grandfather, the late Ansil Flint.

The letters were written to Flint's grandmother in 1864 and 1865 from various places throughout the Southland during the height of the war that threatened to destroy the Nation but from which emerged the strong and freedom loving country we have been in years since.

Through the letters runs a theme of a man who left his family to fight for a cause he thought was right but tried to help his wife, waiting and working at home, raising the family alone, with advice. His concern for both family and the war was clearly evident.

Ansil Flint was a member of the Wisconsin Regiment and his family home was New Juneville, Wisc.

One letter, dated June 12, 1864, tells of an execution of three men from the New Jersey Cavalry for the crime of rape. They were marched to the execution site carrying their own coffin. When the guns of the firing squad found their mark, the executed men fell on the coffin.

"If rapists were treated like that today, there wouldn't be any more of it," Gene Flint commented.

In a letter dated July 25, 1864, Flint told his wife of a battle near Tupelo, Miss., in which his unit drove Confederates back after charged several times. The Wisconsin soldiers lost 300 but no mention was made of Confederate losses.

"Old General Smith completely out generated old Forrest and tore up the Mobile and Ohio Railroad," read one passage in an account of an attack on a major South supply line.

I gathered from the tone of one letter that the wife was due $5 a month from the state of Wisconsin while he was serving in the Army. He asked if she was receiving the $5 per month from the state.

Flint said they had a "hard time" at Mobile but did not elaborate in a letter from New Orleans on April 6, 1865.

Flint also has a unique snuff box carried through the Civil War by his grandfather. His father, the youngest in a family of six girls and three boys, was born following his grandfather's return home from war.

Following the war, the family migrated to South Dakota traveling by ox team in the 1880s.

Gene Flint, too has done his part to mold the American heritage. He was a prisoner of war in Europe for 18 months during World War II.

Flint also has an evidently very old handwritten copy of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address but doesn't know who wrote it.

"YOU TOOK MY PICTURE... AND I WASN'T READY!"

How concerned we are with the image we present to others! And it is right that we should be. How mightily we influence others. It is so important that the self we present is one that will influence others for good.

With guidance from God we will be ready to present ourselves to the world in such a manner as to sway others toward God and all that is worthwhile and good.

"That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God," come to His Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
