County Commissioners

Cut Budget $750,000

County commissioners began wielding their pencils in earnest Tuesday at a special budget session, and by evening had cut what appeared to be $750,000 from proposed expenditures which would have totaled $18.8 million more than expected revenues during the next fiscal year.

Unless more is slashed, however, it would still leave county taxpayers with an estimated ad valorem tax levy 2.3 mills higher than the present levy of 4.752 mills to fund county government operations next year—an increase of nearly 50 per cent.

At day's end Tuesday commissioners expressed dissatisfaction that they had not been able to trim more, and set another work session Thursday night.

The board voted 3-2 to cut $50,000 from the sheriff's $996,316 budget, with Commissioners Norman "Jug" Heston and Ken Wilkinson favoring a lesser amount—around $40,000.

Commissioner Kelly Phillips pushed for a $60,000 reduction, but failed to get support for a cut quite that deep.

Sheriff O. L. Raulerson pointed out that while the activities of other county departments had been slowed by the economic recession, lawlessness in the county is increasing—already up 38 per cent over last year.

Commissioners' chief concern was Raulerson's plan to hire additional employees during the coming year.

One radio dispatcher, two jailers, three civil deputies and a matron must be hired, the sheriff said.

County administrator Charles Cullens suggested using federally-funded employees, hired under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), to fill the new positions.

Raulerson said he was amenable to Cullens' proposal if employees having proper qualifications could be found and if such use under CETA guidelines were possible. Since money to pay CETA employees might not be continued by the federal government beyond June 30, 1975, Raulerson asked for assurances that he could return to commissioners for additional funds if necessary.

Deputy clerk James Pyle reminded commissioners that they are obligated to notify the sheriff of their budget cut in writing. The sheriff can appeal to Tallahassee if he feels he cannot provide adequate service with the $46,316 that remains after the ordered reduction.

After the meeting, Raulerson was critical of the way in which commissioners had dealt with his budget.

"I can understand them needing to reduce my budget by $50,000 under the circumstances, but I feel they exceeded their responsibility and authority by telling me I must cut the $50,000 out of salaries.

"When they do this they are telling me how to run the department—which is not their job—instead they should have told me how much to cut, and let me figure out where the cuts can best be made."

Raulerson said he feels commissioners should examine carefully each department budget, then tell each department head he must cut a certain percentage (not necessarily the same).

The board was able to lop off another $50,000 as a result of a voluntary reduction suggested by Clerk of Courts Earl Rich for his department.

Rich's request of $100,000 is down $31,071 from the present year, and was greeted by welcome smiles from commissioners, who gave it tentative approval.

Turning to the county engineer's budget, commissioners removed $100,000 which they had earlier in the year asked be earmarked for purchase of a county clay pit.

They pared the landfill budget from $277,000 to $103,000 by eliminating the purchase of a bulldozer, a scraper, two equipment operators and a scale.

Commissioner Heston's suggestion that all commissioners cut their own project salary increases and pay travel expenses out of their own pockets fell on deaf ears.

Rich eased the impact of Heston's suggestion by stating that Florida law makes no provision for commissioners refusing to accept their pay raises.

At Cullens' suggestion, the budget figure for renovation of the courthouse third floor was reduced from $140,000 to $110,000.

Other reductions commissioners have tentatively made include: $17,000 from the building department, $2,000 from Circuit Judge, $7,000 from Motor Vehicle Inspection and $1,500 in contributions ($500 each) to the three community chambers of commerce.

OPEN AIR MARKETS are popular with homemakers looking for good quality fresh vegetables at the lowest possible prices and this one located on West Main Street in Avon Park is popular with people in a huge area surrounding Avon Park. But unless the City of Avon Park will grant a variance on the city zoning code which says this is a nonconforming business Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis, holding notebooks with over 700 signatures of customers wanting them to continue the business, will be forced out of business. Joe Sandlin, in the background, their only employee, would then lose his job. Photo—Gobbie.

Man And Wife May Be Forced Out Of Business

By NORMA GOBBIE

Zoning laws and regulations are designed to protect the health and welfare of citizens and to put land to its best use. We believe in that. But, if those laws force the closing of a business which is not a health hazard, is not a threat to anyone's welfare and is the means of livelihood for three people when the location might otherwise stay vacant is that wise use of land?

The question is up to the Avon Park Zoning Board of Adjustment Tuesday at 5 p.m. whether Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis can continue operating their fruit and vegetable stand on West Main Street.

The matter has been before the City Council previously and Monday night, although all council members appeared in sympathy with the Davis' plight, they referred the problem to the Zoning Board and Building Department to find a solution, at the suggestion of Mayor Marshall Davis.

"Put Yourself In Our Shoes" was the title of a presentation I saw recently put on by United Telephone in support for their request for a raise in rates. When you do put yourself in someone else's shoes, it can change your outlook a great deal.

Put yourself in Mr. and Mrs. Davis' shoes. You are making a living, a difficult task in these days of unemployment and slumping economy, at the only work you've done for 30 years. You are 58 years old and so is your wife. You received a back injury during World War II and have had several operations. You draw disability on that but not enough to live on. In addition you have high blood pressure, sugar diabetes and heart trouble, for which you carry heart pills with you all the time. You are quite a bit overweight, a visible sign of your failing health. You have other signs of diabetes on your legs, which you can't stand on long periods.

Your wife has never done any other work but help you in the fruit and vegetable business. You have a small savings but it wouldn't last long if you had to live on it. You've been in business at the same location for five or six years purchasing the stock and supplies from a man who had operated the business there for some 12 years.

A zoning ordinance which has been in effect for 27 years lately becomes an issue. You appear before the City Council in November and December of 1973 and the council voted to waive the rules and allow you to operate as you were.

That Council was made up of Clarence E. King, president, Durrah Martin, vice-president, Milton C. Howard, Herman Sizemore and Robert A. Woodruff with Robert J. Barnum serving as mayor.

Now city hall is getting complaints again. You know some of the complaints are from your competition. Two neighboring businesses allow your customers to use the rest room facilities on either side of

Board With Money Crisis Ponder Salaries

What started as a simple motion by a Highlands School Board member rapidly became complicated, as amendments were made, omissions tacked on, and rephrasing required.

Bill Gene Smith was the victim and/or perpetrator. Superintendent George Douglass had recommended that in the absence of a vote and a budget, the board stick to the same salary schedule as the school year ending in June. He suggested that same schedule continue until the tax roll is produced.

During the discussion that followed, Ferrell Smith pointed out that when they do tackle their salary question, they must bow to the new wage and hour law which requires a minimum of $2 an hour, to be raised to $2.20 an hour in January.

More discussion ensued and Bill Gene Smith innocently moved that the salaries be frozen at their June level for a month.

"Until the Aug. 12 meeting.

Maybe the tax roll will be in by then," suggested Douglass. Smith amended his motion.

He was reminded that those salaries should include a raise for all not making the $2 an hour minimum. He amended again and rephrased the motion.

There were a few other suggestions and by the time a vote was taken Smith said hesitantly, "I THINK I'm going to vote for it." He did.

Later, on the agenda, there appeared Item 8—Set minimum wage ($2 an hour) for students. "Oh, we already passed that," said someone, and the rest agreed.

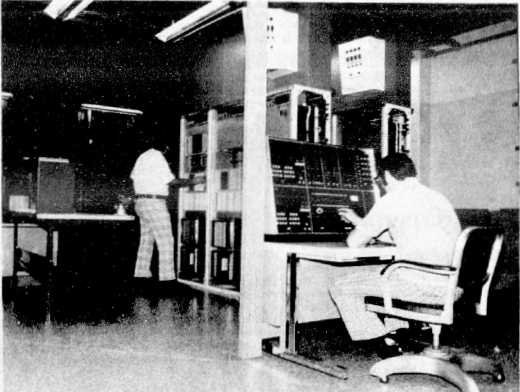

"Oh no you didn't," corrected Atty. James McCullum. "You didn't get it in the motion."

Ferrell Smith explained that the students are SETA youngsters, presently working for $1.75 an hour.

So Bill Gene Smith was off and running as he again revised his motion.

Having done his job, he was

Sewer Project On Track

"The only item remaining to complete the Avon Park water system improvements" Tom Kelly of Dakins and Associates told the city council at their regular Monday night meeting, "was to put the new well on line."

The hold-up has been the delivery of the pump motor which was originally scheduled for April but rescheduled. Thus LaGrow Irrigation Systems Inc. expects to have the electrical wiring completed and the motor installed by August 15.

In speaking of the progress on the sewer project Kelly told the Council that the sewer contracts have been sent to Johnson Engineering and Gator Utilities for signing and he will have conferences with both contractors this week.

In a meeting with Farmers Home Administration (FHA) officials in Gainesville last Friday everything was reported as "being on track." FHA also approved of going ahead with the contract work and holding the Lake Isia area work in abeyance. All of the easements required for that sewer line right of way have not been signed. Final cost figures for changes in that area will be completed by the end of the week.

The council moved to authorize Dakins to complete work on the required surveys, staking out proposed easements and maps and obtain signatures for the sewer lines.

In a discussion of video taping or documenting the condition of the sewer line right of way, Tom Kelly told the council the purpose was to stay out of court. It assured the residents of having their property restored and it would protect the city from undue claims.

Cost of the documentation service as given by one firm was approximately $23,000, Kelly requested authorization for Dakins and Associates to investigate and make recommendations on the feasibility of different systems for recording the condition of rights of way prior to construction and to report back to the council. Authorization was given by unanimous consent of the council.

In connection with the sewer project, residents of Kendall Blvd. petitioned to be included on the sewer lines. Five houses are not on any sewer lines at present and two are on a line connecting with the Verona

Ave. sewer line, but there is almost continuous trouble with this line. This matter is to be taken into consideration by the engineers.

Other old business taken up by the council was placing Ordinance No. 368 (granting a five year franchise to the United Telephone Co.) on second reading. When Council President Wendell Williams called for discussion of the proposed franchise there was no response. The ordinance was placed on third reading in full and adopted and was referred to the major for approval.

Station Robbed

For the second time in slightly more than a month, Avon Texaco, U. S. Highway 27 South, suffered a large loss to burglars, according to reports at the Avon Park Police Department.

THE SECOND BUSINESS to open at the Avon Square Shopping Center will be the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Hardee County (besides Eagle Family Store). Work will start soon on furnishing Eckerd Drugs, Winn Dixie Food Store and W. T. Grant stores. Photo—Miller.

Watson To Guide High School

The new principal at Avon Park High School said he has enjoyed his association with the Highlands County educational system and that it "stands head and shoulders above other places."

Lester F. Watson also said he is looking forward to the coming year and working with many faculty members he was associated with in the old Avon Park High School.

Watson was assistant principal at Avon Park Middle School last year and was curriculum assistant at that school for two years before becoming assistant principal.

He taught school one year at Wauchula before taking a teaching position in Avon Park teaching social studies. Before moving to Middle School, he taught two years at the old high school.

Watson, whose father was in the U. S. Air Force for a number of years, doesn't really claim a hometown. "Both my wife's and my families originate at Paducah, Ky.," he said.

He earned his associate of arts degree at Paducah Junior College and in 1967 received his BS from Middle Tennessee State University at Murfreesboro, Tenn. He earned his Masters in history at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, in 1969, and has done graduate work at the University of South Florida, Tampa, and Middle Tennessee

State University. Watson's wife, Gayle, is a reading teacher at Middle School. They have two sons, Drew, 5, who will attend kindergarten this fall on the Hopewell campus, and Marshall, age 2½.

As Watson takes over the helm of the high school he said he intends to continue to recognize the individuality and humanity of each student. He sees an "absolute necessity to teach students that there is an acceptable standard of behavior." "All their actions, good or bad, have consequences to follow," he said, pointing out that if their behavior is wrong they must suffer the consequences but that they can start anew. He doesn't believe in holding mistakes against an individual.

Watson plans to put more emphasis on reading and hopes to institute a new remedial program with remedial reading available for those not performing up to par.

your business. You dust the area around the fruit stands with a product recommended by the State Health Department, which checks your business regularly for flies. You never leave garbage on the site overnight. A man who feeds edible garbage to his hogs picks up all your trash nightly. You don't live in Avon Park but you spend money in the city. You have customers from area towns such as Lake Wales, Frostproof, Wauchula and Sebring and they spend money in Avon Park, too.

You accept food stamps which no other fruit stand in the city does, a convenience and savings to those who draw food stamps. You were issued a building permit to put up the shed at the back of the fruit stand with the applicable zoning ordinance in effect. You have a valid occupational license good until Sept. 30.

You have over 700 signatures of customers who want you in business because they like to shop for fresh vegetables and fruit there.

Now that you have put yourself in Davis' shoes, do you think he should be allowed to stay in business?

"It would be a crying shame if he's forced out," Mrs. Minnie Arnold, Route 1, Frostproof, said Tuesday about noon as she loaded up on fine firm ripe tomatoes, Cantaloupes and a few other items. "They have a good variety and good fruit and vegetables," she said. Mrs. Arnold said she stops in the fruit market several times a month on her shopping trips to Avon Park.

The fruit stand is in C-1 zoning. The requirements are that a building valued at $5,000 and offstreet parking is essential.

But a variance or exception can be granted on each and every zoning in some cases.

The proposed new zoning ordinance, now under review by the Zoning Board, states under the duties and powers of the Zoning Board that the board is "To authorize, in specific cases, such a variance from the terms of this chapter as will not be contrary to the public interest where, owing to special conditions, a literal (sticking to the letter of) enforcement of the provisions of this chapter would result in unnecessary hardship, and so that the spirit of this chapter shall be observed, and substantial justice done."

APPEARING BEFORE THE Avon Park City Council Eric Annett (right) requested city support when he may appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. to show that there is a need

Man Request Approval Of Charter Bus Service

Requesting support and approval for a charter bus service he hopes to establish Eric Annett of Sebring appeared before the Avon Park City Council during their regular Monday night meeting.

Annett of 1821 Grove Ave. Sebring hopes to establish a charter bus service beginning and ending at points in Highlands, Polk, Hardee, DeSoto and Okeechobee Counties and Tampa International Airport with service extending to Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and New York.

It was stressed by Annett that this charter bus service would not be a scheduled regular run or route but would follow non-scheduled routes. Before coming to the area he had been in the same type business with his father in Delaware and that this was a business that should pay for itself.

In asking for support Annett stated that if his application for the charter bus service should come before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D.C. in a public hearing it would be helpful if someone would appear in his behalf. He has received the backing of many governmental bodies, civic clubs and some travel agencies.

A motion was made and passed unanimously to support the application for charter bus service of Eric Annett.

Second Business Opens In Shopping Center

With the Eagle Family Store open at the Avon Square Shopping Center additional stores are making preparations for their openings in the new future according to L. V. Scott, project manager.

The first of the additional new businesses to open their facilities in the shopping center is The First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Hardee County, they plan to open their doors for business Monday, Aug. 4, according to Malcolm Crews a member of the board of directors. They are located beside the Eagle Family Store on the south end of the shopping plaza.

Eckers Drugs is expected to start furnishing their store space on Monday, Aug. 4, stated

Scott, while the largest store unit in the structure housing Grant City is expected to be turned over to W. T. Grant store officials on Friday, Aug. 1. This is to be followed in the near future by placing fixtures in the store area for merchandise.

The placing of fixtures in the Winn Dixie Food Store space is expected to start about the middle of August. A newcomer to this area, Fabric King, is not expected to start placing their store fixtures in place until sometime in September.

According to Scott there are several locations where small or satellite stores or businesses can obtain merchandising space at the Avon Shopping Square Shopping Center.

Letter To The Editor Schools Should Hold Line On Spending

Dear Editor:

It looks like some good things are coming from our recession. The state has made a few cuts in the budget and some counties have also reduced expenses. Unfortunately, Highlands County was not so blessed. Two-thirds of our tax money goes to the Education Department. When the budget got out of balance by $70, rather than reduce the budget it was decided to borrow the money so as to continue business as usual.

The important question is, are the taxpayers getting their money's worth? A few years ago the basic studies were reading, writing and arithmetic. The student was also taught to have respect for the teachers, also our laws and for our country, including the Star Spangled Banner. They learned to salute the flag and not to talk and roam around when our National Anthem was being played. Just fine.

It is said that our youth are too sophisticated for this sort of thing now. Some students, thank goodness, still adhere to the time-proven method of getting a good basic education, respect for their teachers and they try to be good American citizens. My remarks are not for them. What are the other portion of students learning? Some who drive cars to school with a cost of approximately $1,000 annually, apply for and receive, free or reduced price for their lunch. They seem to have adequate money for soft drinks, candy and cigarettes. To get free lunches they are not entitled to is good training for later. Of course, the taxpayer has to pick up the tab. As for respect for teachers, they are not only on a first name basis with them but have been known to call teachers additional names in their face that have an absolute no-no. How do they get along with other students? Just fine. The other student doesn't mind having his head stuck in a toilet bowl. As for our laws, recently some of our more sophisticated youngsters did $500 damage to one of our schools for the not sophisticated taxpayers to pay for repairs.

It seems there is always a shortage of space so recently the School Board set aside one of these valuable rooms as a smoking room for the students. Someone said it is against the law for anyone to sell cigarettes to a youth under 18 years old. Doesn't it seem strange the School Board would approve something the law frowns on? Now the Board is in the process of making available $20,000 to Sebring to help pay for a pool. Lake Placid and Avon Park are to get $20,000 each to do as they see fit. When you $20 in the red, doesn't it seem strange that the Board members would see fit to allocate money in this manner?

Now how do we believe some of the problems should be solved? First only the real under-privileged children should receive free or reduced price lunches. This only encourages these youngsters to be free loaders. Second, they should be taught respect for teachers, laws of the land, and for our country. Those who don't care to go along with this program should be segregated to a class by themselves. They should not be allowed to create problems that will interfere with those that wish to learn. The good will not influence the bad, but rather the opposite is the case, especially with the borderline student. Third, out the frills such as smoking rooms, pools, and rooms set aside for students to nap in. Go down to basic education, the things that help youngsters prepare for the future.

Cost of education has gone up many times in the last 10 years. Maybe what this country needs is another miracle.

slent for the rest of the evening.

In another sparkling performance, finance officer Robert Stowell presented a three-minute explanation of why an additional job description should be added with no change in personnel.

It involved a "finance clerk and machine operator" who was something else the first year and bore another title or titles the second year, and so forth. The board kept nodding and eventually approved the addition, although the audience had the impression that only Stowell understood the new directive.

In other business, the board voted to continue last year's practice of having state money due the county wired directly from the state treasurer's office to a central bank here.

Approved payment of $21,666 to the Okeechobee School Board to cover Highlands students who attended Okeechobee schools last year. The neighboring county, which recently lost both its superintendent and his assistant, has hired another superintendent. New negotiations will be set up between the school boards of both counties.

Bicentennial Exhibition To Open In Avon Park

When the American Bicentennial Florida Exhibition is in Avon Park on Thursday through Sunday, Aug. 7 to 10 there will be nightly musical entertainment by The Young Highlanders, Don Smith and The Sun Countrymen of The Sun Country Jamboree along with Phil Eddings and The Flaming Stars.

The exhibit will officially open at 10:00 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 7 at which time Dr. William Stallard, President of South Florida Junior College, will welcome all Highlands County residents to see Florida-Past, Present and Future in the three semi-trailer Bicentennial exhibits.

Invited to be guests of honor at the opening ceremonies are mayors and councilmen of Avon Park, Frostproof, Lake Placid and Sebring with Miss Taylor of Sebring being a special guest at the ceremonies.

Space will be available around the trailers for exhibits by local organizations. Patriotic music will be played at the opening ceremonies by an ensemble of The Avon Park High School Grenadier Marching Band. It takes approximately 20 to 30 minutes to see the exhibit of Florida's history and future.

Local organizations will have booths where food, drinks, home made ice cream and Bicentennial items may be purchased.

Musical entertainment will start each night at 7:00 p.m. except Saturday night at 6:00 p.m. and continue for an hour.

Board Separates Sign, Zoning Law

In a study session to review the proposed new city zoning ordinance Tuesday afternoon, the Avon Park Zoning Board of Adjustment unanimously agreed to make the sign ordinance an entirely different ordinance and deal with signs only as necessary in the zoning regulations.

Chairman Jim Heim said the sign ordinance, which the board's action separated from zoning was "practically verbatim to the old ordinance and looks like all that's needed is to amend the old ordinance."

The board agreed they may have to come back to the sign ordinance but decided to forge ahead on zoning itself.

The sign ordinance is enforced by the mayor rather than the building official.

The board went on to limit signs to B-1, B-2 and I-1 zones and prohibit them in R-1, R-2 and R-3 zones, subject to the approval of the City Council.

In the rule the board will recommend for approval, the height of a sign in these zones would be 40 feet maximum with any additional height only with a special exception.

Under their recommendation, where canopies, awnings or overhangs extend over rights-of-way, a sign must be hung to provide a minimum clearance of not less than eight feet.

Turkey Talk

By NORMA GOBBLE

Sometimes it seems to me that I learn things the hard way and one thing I've learned the hard way is not everyone stands behind their word. I should know by now you can trust everyone to keep their word and last week I learned the lesson anew when I had to get my car repaired.

Since I live on the west side at South Hart and West Canfield, I took it to an independent general repair garage closest to my house thinking it would be more convenient since I could walk home and walk back to pick it up.

But because the man didn't keep his word to me I found myself walking four days instead of the one day.

The man told me he couldn't give me an exact estimate because he wasn't sure how much he would have to do. The problem was the transmission and alternator. But he said he should think it was a serious problem. I asked if he could give me an idea of the worst. He said, "At the worst, it won't be over $200." I asked him if I could pay $100 at the time and rest Aug. 1 and he agreed.

When he was through with it, the bill was $291 and he said I would have to at least pay the parts portion which he said was $238!

Of course I wasn't so dumb but what I knew he didn't have near that much in the parts but he had me over a barrel and I had to borrow money to pay it. But that man will never get any more business out of me and I'll tell everyone possible that he can't be trusted. In fact, after it was too late to help me, he had many people around here tell me of bad experiences they have had with him on car repair.

A few weeks ago I published an editorial on "Federal Rethole" about some of the useless things taxpayers money is spent on.

Well, I got a load of this one. The other day Paul Harvey reported that the federal government was spending $51,000 on a study of the effect of smoking marijuana on sex life!

How hum. Yawn. A dull subject. But, a couple of people told me the SUN was the only newspaper in the local radio station last week. I caught one such broadcast.

But, if Charles Esposito, alias Chuck Shane, has to respond to picking apart news articles in the SUN to fill up a short 10-minute newscast it merely proves SUN reporters are better at news gathering than he is.

I listened to the local station a couple days when I first came to work here and heard nothing of value so I went back to listening to WSUN. Nough said.

Even the local police have gotten complaints of him taking things from cars he was supposed to be working on. And an advertising bill he owes the SUN has been charged to bad debts.

Time will tell whether he did a good or lousy job on my car but I wouldn't even test how good he stands behind his work which I doubt him doing. He'll never get his hands on my car again. I'm sure there are good, honest mechanics here and next time I need car repair, I'll know who I'm doing business with.

Which brings me to a bit of advice. Always get a written estimate on repairs and get any agreements in writing.

Hospital Operations Proceed During Electric Failure

A two hour power failure over most of Avon Park Sunday before last brought up an interesting thought about the local hospital. I suppose most modern hospitals have some provision for auxiliary power during an electrical power failure. Walker Memorial Hospital has auxiliary power which allows essential hospital services and patient care to go on uninterrupted during electrical power failures.

In fact, when the electricity went off about 6 p.m. on Sunday an emergency-type surgery was about to begin and doctors proceeded with only minor inconveniences, according to hospital administrator John McClellan.

The standby electrical energy is powered by a six-cylinder diesel engine with four 200-amp batteries which are kept charged at all times, explained Peter Prado, mechanical electrical engineer for the hospital.

The engine is kept heated by a Circo electrical heater with a thermostat so the engine will start immediately. The engine automatically starts within eight seconds following electric failure.

It is a comforting fact to know that this power is standing ready and could prevent disastrous possibilities for patients if the standby power was not available.

The generator is checked every week and put through a running cycle to insure its continuous readiness for operation. At times when lights "blink" there is a two-second delay before the generator kicks on but at any time is never more than eight seconds without power.

A chart on operation and servicing the generator is carefully kept, Prado said, in order to maintain a high performance of service.

The generator does not operate the air conditioning, so this is an inconvenience when regular power fails. It does run necessary electrical equipment in the operating rooms and the emergency room, the elevators, the obstetrics, x-ray machine and the telephone system and about one-third of the lights. The generator runs a full five minutes after regular power has been restored then automatically shuts itself off. McClellan said the generator could operate necessary services indefinitely in the event of a prolonged power outage but in that event only emergency surgery would be performed.

LIFE AND DEATH could hinge on summer storms and power failures except for this monstrous looking machine tucked in a far corner of Walker Memorial Hospital. The machine, a diesel engine powered generator, kicks on automatically within eight seconds following a power failure providing enough energy to run the operating and emergency rooms, elevators, obstetrics, one x-ray machine, the telephone system and about one-third of the lights. Pete Prado, left, mechanical electrical engineer, and John McClellan, hospital administrator, explain the operation for the SUN photographer. Photo—Gobbie.

SFJC Offers

Tennis And Advanced Tennis

South Florida Junior College offered tennis at night for the first time during the spring semester. Because the course was so popular, tennis classes have been scheduled during the fall semester.

Classes in tennis will be taught Wednesday nights 9-9:50 and on Thursday nights 5-7:50. Advanced tennis classes will be offered Wednesdays from 6 to 7:50 and Thursdays from 8 to 9:50.

Tennis is for the novice and those who want to improve their game. Along with the basic fundamentals, the rules, strategy and etiquette of the game will be taught.

Advanced classes are designed to meet the needs of those students who wish to continue to improve their game and develop a greater degree of physical fitness. Some of the objectives are offensive and defensive techniques, refinement of skills, development of emotional control and development of a keen competitive spirit. A person must have successfully completed the tennis class in order to enroll in advanced tennis.

Classes will be co-educational and may be taken for one hour of college credit or for audit. Persons planning to enroll in one of the tennis classes must register at the college from Aug. 19-28.

Further information may be obtained from the AFJC admissions office or by calling 453-6661 in Avon Park.

Couple Wed In Church Ceremonies

Rebecca Lynn Bass, of Avon Park, became the bride of Steve McKinley Michael of Florence, Alabama, on Friday, July 18 at 8 p.m. in First Baptist Church with the Rev. Aden D. Childress officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton R. Bass of Avon Park. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Michael of Florence, Alabama.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown made especially for her by her aunt, Mrs. Hollan B. Sauls of Port Orange, Florida. The gown featured a satin empire waist with a high Victorian lace collar with lace appliques on the bodice. The neckline was adorned with daisies and feathers. She wore a floor length veil of silk tulle with lace edging attached to the crown of her headpiece adorned with daisies and feather appliques dotted with seed pearls and emeralds with the word "Love".

The bride carried out the traditional "Something old, Something new, Something borrowed, Something blue," by wearing her grandmother's wedding band, her gown, the new. She borrowed her mother's prayer book carried at her own wedding some 20 years before and her garter was blue. She wore a penny in her shoe for good luck.

Nelda Strenth of Avon Park, was the bride's maid of honor. Carol Butts, formerly of Avon Park who now resides in Temple Terrace, Florida, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cindy and Tammy Bass, sisters of the bride, of Avon Park, and Brenda Michael, sister of the groom, of Florence, Alabama.

The bride's attendants wore matching gowns of spring green with lace overlay, long sleeves and scooped necklines. The bridesmaids' gowns were made by a close friend of the family, Mrs. Forrest Johnson of Avon Park, with the exception of Miss Michael's who made her own. The attendants' carried identical bouquets of pale green miniature carnations, daisies, stephanotis and baby's breath with overlays of material from the attendants' gown worked into the arrangements.

The flower girl, Little Miss Heather Hall of Avon Park, wore a dress matching that of the other bridesmaids made by her mother, Mrs. Raymond Hall. She carried a white basket trimmed with small green ribbons and roses.

David Glover, of Lexington, Alabama, was his cousin's best man. Groomsmen were Donald Butts, Temple Terrace, Florida, and David Flowers, James Craney and Charles Metcalfe, Jr., all of Avon Park. The mother of the bride wore a sleeveless floor length gown of polyester print with a coat of pink chiffon styled with long sleeves. Her corsage was pink and red carnations. The groom's mother wore an aqua dress styled with long sleeves and a corsage of white carnations. The bride's father wore a dark green polyester suit with light green edging on the pockets and collar, a pale green shirt and a dark green tie.

The groom's attendants were attired in mint green suits and the groom wore a white tuxedo. Music was provided by Jerrold K. Perkins at the organ with vocal selections by Mrs. Jinice Cienney, both of Avon Park.

A reception followed immediately in the church social hall. Beverly Wicker was in charge of the guest book. Janice Murphy and Lynn Camp served the punch while Darlene Bennett cut the wedding cake assisted by Pam Rhymes. Evelyn Metcalfe provided music on the piano during the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Avon Park High School and South Florida Junior College. The groom graduated from Brooks High School, Florence, Ala., where he was a member of Beta Club. He is presently a sergeant in the U. S. Air Force stationed at Avon Park Bombing Range.

For their honeymoon, the couple took a week-long cruise to Nassau and Freeport in the Bahamas. They will make their home in Avon Park.

Honored With Jamboree

Nelda Strenth and David Flowers who will be married in August were honored with a Country Jamboree recently at the home of Jane Wells, Highlands Lakes.

The party was held on the patio of the Wells' home which was turned into a typical country scene with haystacks, lanterns, wagon wheels and scarecrows. Small tables covered with red bandana tablecloths added color.

During the evening group singing was led by Cheryl Dunning and Sybil Watson with David accompanying them on the guitar. A country skit by Jerry Wicker and Allan Duhan was greatly enjoyed, as was a pantomime by Diane Lemler and Cheryl Dunning.

Highlight of the party was when a wheelbarrow filled with brown paper bags was wheeled before Nelda and David, and

David was given a surprise underwear shower. The hostesses also presented Nelda and David with matching applied T-shirts. Refreshment time was enjoyed as all the fifty-five quests made up their own banana splits from a variety of ice creams and toppings. Assisting hostesses were Ophelia Rhimer, Betty Creech, Ann Childers, Betty Lou Wells and Peggy Weiss.

If you're looking for some new ideas to put variety in your meals and still hold the line on spending for food check the chicken salad or sandwiches ads in this issue and perhaps try these recipes.

Tuna Surprise
Croquettes
2 cups cooked, cold rice
1 can tuna, flaked
2 tsp. minced parsley
1 tsp. soy sauce
1 egg, separated
6 stuffed olives
2 T. water
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
oil for deep frying
Combine rice, tuna, parsley, soy sauce and egg yolk. Shape into 6 fish shaped croquettes using a stuffed olive inside each. Add water to egg white; beat slightly. Dip croquettes in this mixture; drain and coat with breadcrumbs. Let coating dry a few minutes. Fry in deep fat heated to 375 degrees for two and a half to three minutes, until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Arrange on hot platter and garnish with a slice of stuffed olive for the eye and a sprig of parsley for the tail.

Stewing chicken is a relative bargain these days when you consider the per pound price. One good idea is cook a whole one and save some for chicken salad or sandwiches and try this delicious old with a new twist.

Chicken and Dumplings
1 1/2 lb. chicken, cut up
6 celery branches with their leaves, coarsely sliced
1 onion, quartered
Concentrated chicken bouillon (sometimes called instant bouillon)
Salt, pepper
2 cups biscuit mix.
Cover chicken with water. Add vegetables, cover, bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer till barely tender, about 30 minutes. Remove the vegetables with a slotted spoon and discard. Add the concentrated bouillon, about a teaspoon for each cup of liquid in the pot. Add salt and pepper to taste. Combine the biscuit mix with just enough water to make a soft dough (see package directions). Stir just enough to moisten. Bring broth to rolling boil. Drop dumplings by spoonfuls into broth. Cover tightly, reduced heat and steam 20 to 30 minutes.

The School Song

Dear Ole Hopewell

How we love you

We will fight for you

While our loyal hearts are yearning

We'll be ever true,

Hopewell, Hopewell

Bless her name

Blue and white we'll proudly wave

We will honor and protect you

Sons and daughters, brave.

The first basketball team to become a member of the Florida Inter-scholastic Athletic Association and played in its tournament was done at this time.

The curriculum was enlarged to meet the needs of more of its pupils. A comprehensive unit in Speech and Slow Learning was added.

The first centralized library was organized with a full time librarian, Mrs. Helen L. Britt.

The first Roll-a-lab was purchased in 1961 and is being utilized to bring scientific facts to all students in grades one through nine. At least a thousand ($1000) dollars worth of Audio-visual equipment was purchased.

Esther Coward, Secretary-Bookkeeper, Mr. Edward Meyers, Custodian; Mrs. Katie M. Meyers, Maid and Mrs. Mary L. Lawson, Lunchroom Worker. Through the years other Custodial and Lunch personnel were: Mr. Gus Jones, the Rev. Tommy L. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Salter, Mr. William Dickey, Mr. Tommy Hall, Mr. Earl Hill, Mrs. Lucille Foy, Mr. Herbert Boone, and Mrs. Coleman.

The latest additions to the physical plant was the acquisition of approximately ten more acres of land which border Fourth Street and the construction of the first permanent building six classrooms, a boiler room and custodian storage in 1959. The Library and an Administrative suite were constructed in 1963; three classrooms were added to the Library wing in 1964. Three primary classrooms with baths were constructed in 1965. In 1968 the air conditioned cafeteria was constructed and equipped at an approximate cost of $100,000.

Then in July 1970, all temporary buildings were being removed from the campus.

Kindergarten was begun at Hopewell during the 1968-1969 term. The decade of the 1960's brought partial integration of students and faculty. In 1963 the four Levitzke children were the first white children to enroll at Hopewell. Mrs. Rex Furr and Mrs. J.C. Farrell were the first white teachers to become members of our faculty. This was the fall of 1966.

More than a thousand ($1000) dollars worth of outdoor equipment had been obtained. A softball-baseball field with sideline fences and backstop have been made.

Miss Mildred Manning organized and started the first student council moving in the right direction. Under her guidance the student council published Hopewell's first school paper named "The Hopewell Round-Up."

RING STOLEN

A diamond ring valued at $450 was taken from her bedroom at 3417 Healy Street, Sebring, sometime between July 19 and Saturday, when Mrs. Helen Rohms reported the loss to the Highland's County sheriff's department.

The dinner given by the Little League volunteer managers, coaches, umpires, scorekeepers and concession stand workers came as a complete surprise to both Frances and Henry.

Acting as master of ceremonies, head umpire James Turnbull thanked all of the volunteer baseball workers for the many hours of unselfish service they gave in working with all of the Little League players.

In appreciation for their work the group gave Frances a pink lingerie set and Henry a white tee-shirt with Little League President embroidered on it.

Thanks

VOLUNTEER WORKERS of the Little League Baseball group with this expression of gratitude left Henry Dennis momentarily speechless and though Frances knew about the dinner it brought a bit of moisture to the corners of her eyes. Photo—Johnson.

City Council

Exchanges Police Karate Lessons For Rec Center Use

The Avon Park City Council Monday night gave the nod to karate master Jack Johns to teach karate two nights a week for two hours each night in the City Recreation Center.

Johns has been holding karate classes for four and a half months in the VFW Building and has 25 in the class at the present time. He feels more local residents will take advantage of the karate lessons in improved facilities, according to his request to the council.

In an exchange type agreement, the Council okayed Johns using the Recreation Center as long as Avon Park policemen are in the classes without charging Johns a fee. He also said he would teach truly needy interested youngsters free.

Johns owns a karate school in Atlanta, Ga. and has taught for more than 17 years. He said there are only five people in the United States who have been teaching karate, a basically Oriental art, that long.

Johns said he has taught over 15,000 people the art. He said no one has ever been seriously injured in his classes.

Johns noted that many people do not understand karate. He said the principle and philosophy of the art is

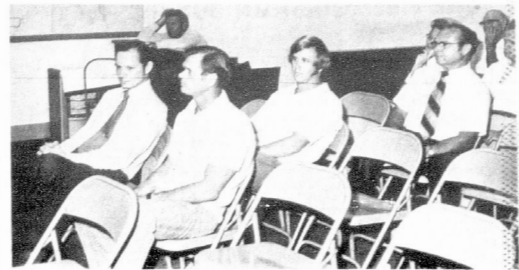

"honor and respect," and learning how to defend ones self.

Johns said his karate students are taught to work for a pure heart. "Use the mind and the body will follow," he said.

Johns said the karate classes are not a money-making proposition. He said his father passed away and his mother has cancer and he has property here so he must stay in this area. "If I wanted to make money at it, I'd go back to Atlanta," he said.

The council nixed use of the Middle School gym, a suggestion made by recreation director Dennis Gunther. Gunther feels the two nights a week will interfere with other activities, he said.

The council tentatively set Tuesday and Thursday nights from 8 to 10 for the karate class to have the facilities subject to change if the need arises. A review of the program will be held by the council in 90 days. Johns had been paying $25 per month for use of the VFW facilities. The charge for karate instructions is $12.50 per month.

Johns said it takes about three months to reach the first level of belt and about five years to achieve Black Belt. Johns also said policemen from neighboring towns would be taught free of charge.

Fish Delivery By Soil Conservation Service Killed

A long-standing program which enabled Highlands County to stock its ponds with free fish has been curtailed. Its future is uncertain.

The first news of the "fish kill," as it were, came last week when a resident applied to the Soil Conservation Service here to put in his bid for fish. He was told that the service had been discontinued and was referred to the Fish and Game Commission in Lakeland.

Actually, the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) has nothing to do with the project except in the capacity of agent, or contact point. The program is under the helm of the Fish and Wildlife division of the U. S. Department of Interior.

According to Claude Howerton of the Highlands SCS, Fish and Wildlife operates a hatchery at Welaka that may be phased out, depending upon debates now going on in Congress. It could be turned into a laboratory or research center, or continue to dish out the fish.

But until its status is decided, the division cut off fish dispensing as of June 30. "That is our sole source of supply," Howerton told The Sun. "It is not our department and there is nothing we can do about it, regretfully. However, there is a chance that if it folds, the state may take up where they left off."

Howerton said that in working with Fish and Wildlife, Highlands County pools and streams have been kept supplied with fish, on order, for 15-20 years.

Few people took advantage of the service earlier, but with county growth came landowners buying five or ten-acre tracts and putting in ponds to dress up their places. "There has been quite a change in the past four or five years. Suddenly a great number of residents have been ordering fish... channel catfish, bluegills, largemouth bass, bream."

Howerton explained that SCS's part of the venture was to take orders from Highlanders, see that fish were delivered to a central point, and that those concerned were alerted to have a truck at that point, ready to pick up their stock.

"We did it as a courtesy," he added that in view of the growing interest in fish stocking, he will keep the public informed about the program, no matter how it turns out.

Smith Charged With Careless Driving

A three-car, chain-reaction accident Thursday at 11:57 p.m. resulted in charges of careless driving against Daniel Ray Smith of Avon Park, whose car struck two others parked at the SR 17-SE Lakeview Drive intersection. Parked were Victorio Anier, Sebring, whose car sustained $200 in damages when struck by a truck parked behind him, and driven by James Doolin, Sebring. Anier was signaling for a left turn into the intersection, Patrolman Leonard Williams reported.

The Doolin car sustained $300 damages and Smith's car, $400, Sebring police said.

Farm To Market Produce Planned

A fresh produce market in Sebring, goods straight from the farm or grower? Yes, beginning in the fall.

Bill Young, president of the Sebring Lions Club, announced that his club is planning to incorporate a fresh produce market with the Lions' flea market on Fairmont Drive. He said the vegetable market will begin operation in early November with 10 stalls available to local growers.

The vegetable market is a joint effort of the Lions and the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services. Commissioner Doyle Conner launched the Community Curb Market about two years ago for the benefit of those on fixed incomes, and to provide a market for the small farmers' produce.

Robert Maxwell, marketing specialist from Conner's office, and liaison with the curb market program, said four things are needed to establish a market - organization, facility, location and growers. He said the Lions' flea market easily affords the first three requirements in a 100 by 50-foot building.

Growers wishing to rent a stall at nominal cost are asked to contact Owen Young.

Further, vegetables are usually fresh-picked on sale days.

The Community Curb

Market Program has been received enthusiastically since its inception. Many are already in operation and city and county fathers of many other towns are considering such markets for their communities.

BAKER'S FLEA MARKET at 104 U.S. Highway 27 South, Avon Park, is the only business of its kind in Avon Park. Baker's will rent tables for $1 per day for those wanting to sell merchandise or will take articles on consignment. They also feature the service of sharpening knives and scissors. The Bakers, Newt, Estelle and Juanita were busy pricing merchandise and getting it on display late last week. Photo-Gobbie.

Market Is Avon's Newest Business

Flea markets, garage and yard sales have become an American pastime but are often limited to weekends when many folks would rather be with their families on activities the entire family enjoys.

Now with a proposed new zoning ordinance under consideration by the City of Avon Park which will severely restrict garage and yard sales, some newcomers to Avon Park have just the ticket for all the avid bargain and junkie hunters.

Not only does Baker's Flea Market have numerous and some unusual items, being a flea market allows people who have many items accumulated a place to turn unused articles into cash.

Baker's Flea Market is located at 104 U.S. Highway 27 South next to what was the Highlands Fish and Meat. It will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday and closed on Sunday.

Table space for people wanting to sell their own articles is $1 per day. The enclosed flea market has the added advantage of leaving your merchandise overnight with safety if you plan to use the facilities for more than one day.

The Bakers' will accept items on consignment if you have one or two or a few articles you wish to sell but don't want to spend the time necessary at the flea market.

Newt Baker is a native of Michigan and his wife, Estelle, was raised in Winter Haven where their daughter, Juanita, was born. They moved to Wyandotte, Mo., a suburb of Grand Rapids where they operated a flea market.

The Bakers live in an apartment above the store. They already have in stock a large selection of used merchandise some of it quite unusual and possibly antiques. Included in present stock are dishes, brick knobs, clothing, records, pictures and some sports equipment as well as furniture and appliances.

Another handy service the Bakers will provide is knife and scissors sharpening.

In West Africa it's believed that thunder causes lizard eggs to hatch.

Beane's Sports Center, 19 S. Lake in Avon Park, will hold a three-day Grand Opening Thursday (today), Friday and Saturday with gifts, bargains, door prizes and free coffee, owner Melvin Beane has announced.

Beane's Sports Center,

formerly Johnson's Sports Center, was purchased by Beane in June and his son, Torony, helps him operate the business. Beane said business has been good and expressed his appreciation to all his customers.

He invited everyone to stop by during the three-day grand opening celebration to look, visit and get acquainted. Of course most Avon Park residents already know the Beanes. A 28-year resident of Avon Park, Beane managed Phillips Corner and Bill's Corner for 15 years.

There will be a free gift with each purchase during the three days and door prizes will be awarded by drawing. There will be lots of free coffee which Beane plans to make a permanent service for customers.

Among some of the greater savings featured during the grand opening are Zebco reels. The No. 202 is only $2.99, the No. 404 is $4.25 and the No. 33 is going for $9.95, four cents below cost. Another real bargain is the combination of a No. 33 reel with rod which regularly sells for $23.95 for only $15.95. The Igloo ice chest which regularly sells for $69.95 is on sale during this savings spree for only $48.95.

A very special buy is golf sets, right or left handed, for only $29.95. Beane's have the Bicentennial hats, jerseys and other Bicentennial merchandise with more stock coming every day.

Beane's feature a complete line of sporting goods such as fishing tackle, skis and ski BEANE'S SPORTS CENTER, marking its Grand Opening with a big three-day celebration through Saturday, has anything in the fishing tackle line that a good fisherman could ask for at well as a complete line of sports equipment. Here owner Melvin Beane shows us some of the best rods there are. Photo-Gobbie.

parts, tennis equipment, Little League equipment, weight lifting equipment, guns and ammunition, coolers, camping supplies, bows and arrows and golfing equipment, and electric motors. Beane's carries Converse tennis and sports shoes and does lettering for uniforms and caps. Beane's sponsors a girl's softball team which plays on Tuesday and Thursday and will sponsor a Little League baseball team next season.

Roller Coaster Spirit

There are days when we feel on top of the world. Everybody loves us and shows it. Nice things are done for us. Sunshine and happiness drenches everything. And then there are other days — when we're blue; people are busy. We're alone. We're afraid. It might as well be raining. Nobody knows the trouble we're in. Needed is a little self-discipline, not a lot of self-pity. We must learn to face the fact that life is not always a flowery bed of ease, and pleasure. Children dodge hard places, responsibility, and painful experiences. A mature person stands on his own two feet under God. Time, insight, and the grace of God can remove mountains — and take away that roller coaster spirit. Begin the road to spiritual maturity by attending church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

All County Residents Invited To Visit

Florida Bicentennial Exhibit

The American Bicentennial Florida Exhibition which will be on the Pantry Pride Parking Lot today (Thursday) through Saturday displays many historical documents and pronouncements from the colorful past beginning from that Easter Sunday, 1513 when Juan Ponce de Leon landed on some beach, probably between present-day St. Augustine and the mouth of the St. Johns River, raised a cross, planted the Spanish flag and took possession of Pascua Florida for the Spanish Crown to the present and covers Florida's problems of the future and what communities are doing to solve them.

The three-theme exhibition covers "Heritage '76," the past, "Festival USA," the present, and "Horizons '76," the future.

The latest in display technology tells the story of a rich and colorful historical heritage of a colorful land full of beauty as it progressed through the years under five national flags.

The exhibition uses an animated "talking" mannequin portraying Governor Grant, the British governor of the East Coast, movie film, transparencies and infra-red photography to tell the story of Florida. Three connected vans are used to house the exhibition.

The Florida Exhibition in

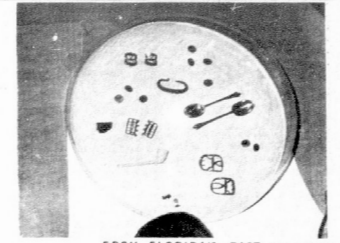

Avon Park will begin today (Thursday) at 9 a.m. with a Bicycle Parade from the bandstand on the Mall to the Pantry Pride Parking Lot.

Mrs. Leoma Maxwell, chairman of the Bicentennial committee, will be mistress of ceremonies and will introduce the speaker, Dr. William Stalwart, president of South Florida Junior College. The invocation will be by the Rev. H. D. Graetz, pastor of the Congregational Church and entertainment will be by Don Smith and the Sun Countrymen. Saturday night's entertainment will be by Phil Edgings and the Flaming Stars.

There will be several local exhibits. Homemade ice cream will be available from the Avon Park High School Band; homemade cake, sandwiches and lemonade from the Hibiscus Circle; and Bicentennial hats from the Young Highlanders.

Entertainment from 7 to 8 p.m. will be by the Young Highlanders and the David Flower Group. On Friday night from 7 to 8 p.m.,

The Past

FROM FLORIDA'S PAST are many interesting and unusual artifacts which are very interesting in the American Bicentennial Florida Exhibition opening here today (Thursday) at 10 p.m. Here is a display of Spanish and British artifacts recovered in around St. Augustine in the early 1700s.

Fruit Stand Problem Referred Back To Council By Zoning Board

The Avon Park Zoning Board of Adjustment dumped the problem of the nonconforming fruit stand back into the lap of the city council where the board said the question should have been resolved at their meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Howard Davis appeared before the zoning board after the city council passed a motion during their July 28 meeting to refer the matter to the zoning board and building official to find a solution.

At the zoning board meeting Tuesday as well as the city council meeting the previous week, Davis' question of who had made the complaints against the fruit stand were never answered.

Non-conformance of the fruit stand is determined by a city zoning ordinance which states that in C-1 zoning a retail business is not in a building valued at $5,000 and provide offstreet parking for so many cars based on the square footage of that building.

However, the business has been in that location for 18 years in violation of that ordinance which has been in effect for some 28 years. Davis has operated the business for six years.

It was pointed out that several businesses in town violate that ordinance.

The board can deal only with the landowner on a variance, according to Board Chairman Jim Heim, who said, "A variance goes with the land."

Heim continued, "A variance can go on an abstract and go right along with the history of the land."

Davis leases the land. He said he didn't need a variance, he needed to stay in business.

"If I stand to lose this business, I stand to lose my living," he said. "For that's my whole living."

"It's my only means of support and it looks like someone wants to deprive me of it," Davis said.

Davis pointed out that he was a millwright before he went into the service in 1941 and was since injured. In failing health now, he asked, "Where am I going to get a job?"

During the July 28 council meeting, councilmen appeared sympathetic to Davis' plight. It was the third time Davis had been called before the city council.

In November, 1973, and again in December of that year, Davis appeared before the council.

Only one of those councilmen, vice president Milton C. Howard, is still on the council. Two of the 1973 councilmen, Clarence King and Robert Woodruff, are now on the Zoning Board.

The 1973 council tabled the matter indefinitely following a suggestion by King that the fruit stand be allowed to continue operating.

With the matter back to the city council Monday, perhaps the matter can be resolved.

Roger B. Taylor Named President Of Local Bank

Roger B. Taylor has been appointed president of the Highlands County Bank of Avon Park, according to an announcement this week by Ben Hill Griffin Jr., chairman of the board of directors.

In his announcement, Griffin said the board was pleased to have Taylor as a member of the bank's management team.

Taylor was president and chief executive officer of the National Bank of Cape Coral in Cape Coral, Fla. before his move to Avon Park.

He started his banking career in 1959 after graduation from the University of Florida with a degree in advertising and public relations. He is also a graduate of the School of Banking of the South at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La.

Taylor's personal interests include hunting, fishing, golf and tennis. He also holds a current private pilot's certificate.

He is married to the former Carole Ann Mullen of Miami Shores, Fla. They have two children, Leslie, 13, and Brent, 11.

Commenting on his appointment, Taylor said he was very much impressed with the progress the bank has a prime mover in encouraging and supporting growth, as well as an important influence, when joined with others, in preserving the essential character of the community and county," Taylor said.

"I am looking forward to being involved, both as a banker and as a private citizen," he concluded.

Roger B. Taylor

made since opening and that each of the directors, officers and staff are to be commended for their fine efforts.

He is very optimistic about the continued growth of Avon Park and the Highlands County Bank. "A bank like ours can be

County Commissioners

Cut $500,000 From Budget

County commissioners chopped almost half a million dollars from next year's proposed budget, during a special meeting Tuesday.

The amount axed represents about one mill of the 3.35 mill reduction commissioners were aiming at.

Except for a possible $50,000 reduction in funds now allocated for renovating the third floor of the courthouse, few items remain in the budget that could, if cut, reduce significantly the anticipated 2 mill ($1 million) shortfall.

Deputy Clerk James Pyle informed commissioners that a major portion of the imbalance in the 1975-1976 budget was caused by less than expected revenues collected during fiscal year 1974-1975.

Last year, Pyle said, commissioners were able to start operations with almost $1 million carried forward from the previous year.

Not so this year, Pyle stated. The economic downturn during 1974 caused the state to return less money to the county than predicted. To make matters worse, county offices produced less income from service fees and other sources than anticipated.

The net result: the amount of money to be brought forward to start the coming fiscal year is about $1.5 million ($984,000) less than commissioners had a right to expect.

According to Pyle, this 1.5 million shortage is a major contributor to the 3.35 mill disparity that exists in the latest budget between anticipated income and expenditures.

It is a "bare bones" budget that remains after two months of whittling by commissioners. They show little evidence of a willingness to reduce much further the services Highlands County now provides for its citizens.

Commissioners recognized that by cutting the Road and

Class In Business Communications Set At SFJC

A general interest course in Business Communications will be offered at South Florida Junior College on Monday nights during the fall semester. Emphasis will be placed on the writing of business letters; letters of adjustment, application, collection and sales are included in the curriculum. Students will also learn the various styles and proper punctuation of business letters.

Business Communications may be taken for three hours of college credit or it may be audited. Persons planning to enroll must register at the College during the period August 19 through August 28. The first class meets on August 29.

Further information may be obtained from the Admissions Office at South Florida Junior College or by calling 455-6861 in Avon Park.

Entertainment Set For Exhibit

The musical entertainment on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings during the American Bicentennial Florida Exhibition at the Pantry Pride-Neisner Parking lot will be provided by The Young Highlanders and The David Flowers Instrumental Group.

The Young Highlanders were born of a dream with Evelyn Jones assembling a county-wide group of high school teenagers who love and wanted to sing and were willing to practice long hours to meet Director Jones' standards and ideals. As a result they have sang and captivated not only local but state and out-of-state audiences with their singing and repertoire.

The Young Highlanders will have the musical entertainment at the Bicentennial Exhibit from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m., Thursday night. Their program will feature folk songs, patriotic songs along with their regular music. They will be accompanied by the David Flowers Instrumental Group, who are also members of The Young Highlanders.

The Sun Countrymen will be presented by Don Smith and the Sun Countrymen of The Sun Country Jamboree from Frostproof.

Don was born in Samson, Ala. and came to Avon Park in 1953 where he attended the Avon Park Schools. He has played and sang over radio stations in Nashville and TV channels 9 and 35 in Orlando and 13 in Tampa. He cut his first records in 1973 under the Jack of Diamonds label.

The Sun Country Jamboree was opened eleven months ago at the Ramon Theatre in Frostproof by Don Smith with his own stage band The Sun Countrymen. As Don said it was opened as a show of his own with a desire to play and sing for family entertainment.

A popular feature of his show is the involvement of listeners and watchers in the show by singing or playing with the band.

For their part of the Bicentennial musical program at the exhibit Don, who is the lead singer with a rhythm guitar, said they would have special numbers of historical interest along with their regular varied programs numbers.

Members of The Sun Countrymen stage band are: David Smith, Auburndale, lead guitar; Judy Mauldin, Frostproof, steel guitar; Randolph "Doc" Rewis, Avon Park, country fiddle; Dan Smith, Avon Park, bass and drums; Jerry Smith, Auburndale, singer and rhythm guitar; Jim Manning, Frostproof, piano player with Rocky Hatfield and Edgar Futch as stage managers, scheduling, etc. Guest singers for the show are Marilyn Futch, and Carmin LaRae, Avon Park, and Thelma Hatfield, Frostproof.

The Flaming Stars will feature Phil Eddings and the Flaming Stars from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m.

Phil was born in Jacksonville, Fla. and has performed on many radio stations and has been guest star at TV stations and was a regular on The Town and Country TV network show.

He cut his first record in 1968 or 69 with Country Artist Records and later cut other records with Jim Reeves Enterprises and ABE Records. Of his 18 records, one was number 17 in the top 20 on national charts. "Okeechobee Slump" was his biggest local record.

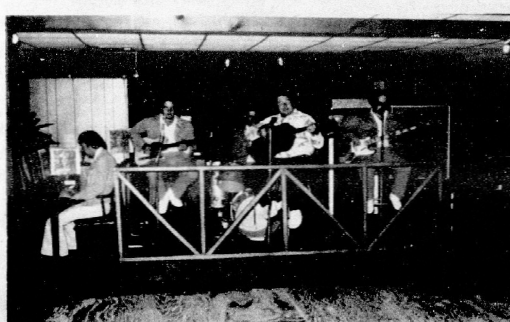

For 15 years Phil has had his own band. The first band was "The Casuals," followed by "The Southern Gentlemen." Phil entertained for seven years at the Old West Saloon at the River Ranch Resort with his band "The River Ranch Band." In going to the Ridge Lounge last October Phil selected a new name calling his band "The Flaming Stars."

Their Saturday night Bicentennial program will include patriotic and their usual country music for the enjoyment of exhibit goers.

Members of the band change frequently and present band members and their instruments are: Ben Caudill, piano, Nashville, Tenn.; Dale Chancy, m. lead guitar, Ft. Green; Monroe Johnson, drums, Bartow; and Don Brooks, bass, Frostproof, while Phil does the vocal and plays the rhythm guitar.

THE SINGING OF "The Young Highlanders" will be a highlight of the American Bicentennial Florida Exhibit at the Neisner-Pantry Pride parking lot from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. Thursday night. Their program will include folk songs, patriotic songs and others appropriate for the occasion. Photo—Miller.

Practicing

ON SATURDAY NIGHT — from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. — Phil Eddings and the Flaming Stars from the Ridge Lounge will play during the American Bicentennial Florida Exhibit at the Pantry Pride-Neisner parking lot. County Commissioners Bridge Department's new equipment budget 98 per cent, they had removed considerable funds along with any fat that might have been there.

The $203,000 equipment reduction eliminated the purchase of a dragline, eight new dump trucks, a pickup truck, three mowers, a radio tower and other hardware items.

Commissioners reached agreement with Sheriff O. L. Raulerson that he would cut $80,000 from his proposed budget. The sheriff is to designate the specific accounts from which his total reduction is to be taken.

Property Appraiser, J. W. "Billy" Martin provided a welcome $50,000, announcing that he would return that amount to commissioners in September, the end of the current fiscal year.

Martin had previously announced that he would return an additional unspecified $50,000 from his 1974-1975 budget.

County Administrator Charles Cullens reported that he had been able to readjust the Emergency Medical Services salaries account to shave $30,000.

The Road and Bridge Department's budget yielded another $18,000 when commissioners eliminated funds for contract hauling services.

Even as they concentrated their attention on cuts, commissioners added here and there to the budget.

Raises of varying amounts were earmarked for 12 county department heads adding an as yet, undetermined sum to the budget total.

Also added was $19,000 for the purchase of a used tractor and trailer that will haul shell for county roadbed construction. Provision for the purchase of shell material costing $10,000 was made too.

Commissioners have scheduled another budget workshop for Thursday, 7:30 p.m., during which they intend to discuss new fee schedules for services (ambulance, dog tags etc.) provided by the county.

At present, it appears certain that ad valorem taxes for county residents will go up. There appears to be no reasonable way to prevent it. The only question for commissioners to decide now, before they put the budget to bed, is how much the increase will be — in the range of 1.5 to 2.5 mills.

Water Weevil Chewing Water Hyacinth

A little black bug from South America is making the life of a water hyacinth tougher. The rustled water hyacinth weevil is busy chewing away at the noxious weed in several parts of the state and the tiny polka-dotted pattern it's eating on the leaves is letting the plant wide open for disease. And disease among water hyacinths could mean less of the weeds choking the waterways.

Botanists for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission are engaged in research on the weevil, imported to the United States after years of research on it in Argentina. So far, 76 releases of the weevil have been made in Florida, the latest in the Dead Lakes area of northwestern Florida.

William Maier, one of the botanists working on the weevil, said the insect is no panacea, "but it can work in areas where chemical spraying of the hyacinths is not possible."

Maier said the insect is not known to complete its life cycle on any host other than the hyacinth. Eggs are laid in the tissues of the leaf and hatch in about 10 days. The larva eats its way up along the plant stem and wanders around the plant, feeding for 60 days before going into the water where it forms its cocoon among the root hairs.

Two weeks later, the adult is born, which feeds nocturnally on the hyacinth, leaving the light brown polka-dotted pattern. It's this feeding, Maier said, that opens the plant up to natural diseases and fungus already present, causing secondary damage to the plant.

"Just like you cut back your lawn, the weevil cuts back the hyacinth to the stage where it is a plant, rather than a weed," he added.

Maier, who is coordinating the research program, emphasized the weevil should not be considered a cure-all. Water hyacinths will continue to exist, but the weevil might be able to help bring it under control.

Avon Park, to me, is a wonderful place to live. I am so glad that I came here. I feel it is the place I want to stay for the rest of my life. I believe it to be a good place to raise my children.

Any town can be improved and Avon Park is no exception because the perfect place does not exist on this earth. I hope through my work with the SUN and other activities that I can contribute to the improvement of the town.

Sometimes back, Mrs. George W. Sheldou gave me a poem written by her husband. It expresses my sentiments about Avon Park and I feel with the Bicentennial celebration in full swing that this is the perfect time to use it.

AVON PARK
Yes, Avon Park is a nice place to live

It's a city that has a lot to give

There is a nice college, the best of schools

When it comes to learning, they have the tools

To educate your daughter or son

And all kinds of sports to enjoy their fun

There are lakes around if you like to fish

And good golf courses if that is your wish

There's a shuffleboard court

down on Main Street
Where friends from the north in the winter meet

There are all kinds of churches to attend

Religion for youth they all recommend

And a nice hospital where sick folks go

The doctors and nurses are the best you know

In Avon Park are nice friendly banks

Tell organizations - We give thanks

There are all kinds of stores to do buying

And an airport to learn about flying

There's a bus depot where the Greyhound stops

In all the restaurants the food is tops

There are motels and hotels for a stay

Whether for a month or just a day

If you like entertainment or a show

There are places in town where you can go

Where all city services give you their best

With good officials that will top the rest

Yes, Avon Park has a lot of giving

Where friendly people enjoy good living

Toastmasters' First Meeting Set Tonight

All individuals interested in the Toastmasters International are reminded of the meeting today (Thursday) at 7 p.m. at the Steakout Restaurant in Avon Park, the first step toward formation of a Toastmasters chapter in Highlands County.

A team of Toastmasters from the Polk Imperial Toastmasters in Winter Haven led by Dr. Mohamed Iannelli and members of the Avon Park Correctional Institution's Gavel Club will be on hand to give a presentation and answer any questions for prospective members.

The meeting will be a Dutch treat dinner meeting served cafeteria style so those attending ca: order as they choose. There is no obligation to join the organization. Those attending who do indicate that they desire membership will decide on a permanent meeting time and place.

An organizational meeting for the local chapter which will be named the Charles S. Swan Memorial Toastmasters Club will follow at a later date to be decided at tonight's meeting.

There must be 20 members in order to receive a charter from the international organization. It is hoped this number can be reached immediately in order that the charter may be obtained in September.
