Merchants Gift Check

residents called the sheriff's department to report what they suspected to be a "con game or film scam."

In the process of checking out the complaints, sheriff's investigators did turn up alleged wrongdoing, but in a field far removed from the coupon book operation.

Deputies learned that a federal warrant was outstanding for Sherwood Harold Maluda, a member of the advertising agency staff working on the program here.

The warrant issued in 1968 charges Maluda with deserting the Army. Maluda was arrested here Saturday, Oct. 21 to take his prisoner into custody and transport him to Augusta, Ga.

Sheriff D.L. Raulerson Jr. said his investigators had not been able to uncover any illegal activities in connection with the Merchant Gift Check Program.

He said participating businesses had signed agreements spelling out exactly what each was providing as a part of the program — seen as a type of advertising.

Sebring lawyer James McCullough, who is representing Mutual Advertising in its suit against McCullough, said the suit is seeking to protect the buyers' interests.

He pointed out that no specific amount of money is asked in the suit for damages, but the suit does stress the importance of good faith. A copy of the contract with the merchant is listed as an exhibit.

Spot checks with participants show that in the early stages the greatest amount of activity had arisen in connection with coupons for

"no strings attached" gifts. One merchant said 50 or 60 coupons had been redeemed for the gift he had promised.

"It has brought the traffic in and that is what we had expected," he commented. A business which had contributed a combination of goods and services said 18 or 20 coupons had been redeemed. A businessman who has a $1.00 coupon in the book said, "About a half dozen have come in, mostly for items about 50 cents over the coupon value."

Each of the businessmen interviewed said the agreement he had signed called for redemption of up to 1,500 coupons.

At a Keyette Club meeting Monday night, the club was presented with a check for $286 for the members' services. The girls who had made book deliveries received five cents per mile reimbursement for gasoline.

The high school group completed its services to the program Oct. 17.

To date Cystic Fibrosis has not received any money. Tom Rabalais, Sebring, a radio personality who has been active in promotion of the Merchant Gift Check Program, said the plan calls for the Cystic Fibrosis contribution to be made in one lump sum when the sales are completed.

Rabalais gloomily feels the sales program will now take twice as long and profits earmarked for charities other than Cystic Fibrosis will be cut. The loss may be as much as 60 or 70 percent, he predicted.

Rabalais, who recruited the Keyettes for the project, and Al Stockmeier of radio station

Slate Files Suit For Injuries

In other business of the Avon Park City Council it was reported that injured city employee Jack Slate had retained attorney Jack C. Hurd, Orlando and filed for permanent partial or total disability.

Slate had been treated by Drs. G.P. Carmichael and S.A. King, Avon Park and Dr. Baker in Orlando, all had found nothing wrong. Slate had seen another doctor last week who also did not find any trouble.

City Attorney Jack Hancock commented on the legal aspects of the case.

This is in conformance with the Southern Building Code. Councilman Larry Albrighton is to check on marking studs for connecting sewer lines.

—City police cannot go in hot pursuit of violators going out of county as police chased a speeding driver to Sun Ray and found he had been drinking and refused to take a breathalyzer test.

Rep. Burrall Answers Questions On SolarShield

Each day Fred Burrall, Representative of the 75th District receives inquiries about new or existing laws. He is sharing his research and answers on questions with those who are unable to visit or call his office.

A capital inquiry received by Representative Burrall stated: "I own a six passenger type van and have the windows covered with a solar shield type material that reflects the sun and helps keep out the heat. Recently my neighbor told me this was not allowed."

Burrall's answer was: Chapter 79-249 Laws of Florida, passed during the 1975 session of the Legislature, prohibits the sale or operation of any motor vehicle on which the windshield, side windows or side windows, forward or adjacent — to the operators seat, are composed of, covered by or treated with any material which has the effect of making these windows non-transparent or producing a highly reflective or mirrored appearance having a solar reflectance greater than 35 percent in the visible light range.

These restrictions also apply to the rear windows, except that rear windows may be covered with a non-reflecting material if the vehicle is provided with proper side mirrors.

Manufacturer's tinted windows of motor vehicles and any certificates required by law to be displayed, are exempted.

Edmundson Charged With Failure To Yield

In another Avon Park area accident, a pick-up truck collided with an auto at intersection of Hart Avenue and State Road 64.

The pick-up, hauling a homemade trailer, was being driven south on Hart Avenue by Robert Allen Edmundson of Avon Park.

The auto was headed east on State 64. Damage to the truck was set at $400 and to car, driven by Edward John Fells of Avon Park, at $1,000.

Edmundson suffered minor injuries. FHP Trooper J.C. Sheppard investigated the accident which occurred at 4:15 p.m. on Oct. 16. Edmundson is charged with failure to yield.

Turkey Talk

By NORMA GOBBLE

As the time for the state legislative session draws nearer, we will probably see a renewed effort on the part of the Women's Lib Movement and those they have duped for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

Many people think the Women's Lib Movement is something new but its background can be traced back many years. It has evolved from the long-time Communist propaganda effort to deceive women and use them in helping achieve Communist objectives.

Lenin wrote, year ago, of the Communist "emancipation of women, saying 'Communism is the most favorable social condition of women.'"

"Notwithstanding all the liberating laws that have been passed, woman continues to be a domestic slave, because the petty housework crushes, strangles, stifles and degrades her, chains her to the kitchen and to the nursery and wastes her on labor barbarously unproductive, petty, nerve-racking, stultifying and crushing drudgery. The real emancipation of women, real communism, will begin only when a mass struggle is started against their petty domestic economy or rather when it is transformed on a mass scale into large-scale socialist economy..." (Selected Works, Lenin, pages 440-441).

In 1967, in a book entitled "Workers' Paradise Lost," Eugene Lyons, senior editor of Reader's Digest who spent six years in the U.S.S.R., wrote the Soviet "liberation" of women.

During March, 1970, some female Soviet agents visiting our nation attempted to spread the Soviet viewpoint on women to Americans. An article datelined New York in the Tulsa Daily World, a Political Affairs article, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn told Red conspirators in the United States that communism could hope "the liberation of a new Socialist world for women."

"Four matronly Russians talked female revolution Soviet-style Saturday to a group of American women who hoped to bring some of the radical change in U.S. society," (referring to the American Women's Libbers).

They all commended the so-called liberation.

Fourth Graders Visit Library For Books

Mrs. Lois Smith's fourth grade class visited the Avon Park City Library on Tuesday morning Oct. 14, 1973. They were accompanied on this trip, the first of a series, by Mrs. William A. Tietjen and Mr. Wesley McFarland.

Mrs. Carolyn Moore, librarian, has made arrangements to meet with Mrs. Smith's class and others one-half hour before opening time so the classes can use the library before regular patrons arrive.

The fourth graders were given a tour of the facilities including sections for adult books, newspapers, and magazines. They learned that the library has borrowing privileges from any of the other libraries in Florida. The card catalog was carefully explained.

Prior to the visit the students had completed their applications for library cards and their cards presented to them along with a "Follow the Reader" pin.

The fourth-graders were captivated by Mrs. Moore as she told them the story of "Gunslinger".

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Moore hope these visits to the library will encourage children to use its facilities regularly as they grow and mature. In addition to extending the number of books available to the boys and girls, the trip as a class enables the students to enjoy an off-campus experience together.

They returned to the classroom with the books they had checked out of the library and were eager to get a chance to read them.

The students also learned they could return to the library for more books when they had finished reading the ones they had checked out, as the library is open 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and the new Saturday open hours of 12:00 noon to 4:00 p.m.

Walden Letter Describes '39 Halloween Celebration Winter Guest Club News

THE MESSIAH REHEARSAL is a true community project with a cross section of Highlands County residents encompassing young and old, new singers and experienced ones, ministers and laymen of all faiths.

homemakers and high school students, as well as professional men and women. All are gathered with a common purpose—to present the beautiful Christmas oratorio for the remainder of the county residents to enjoy.

An interesting bit of memorabilia which is timely as the annual Halloween festivities approach in this Bicentennial year which tells of Halloween past in Avon Park.

Members of the Avon Park Women's Club made available a letter from the second Women's Club president, the late Mrs. Mae Walden, written to a member of her family shortly after Halloween in 1939 together with a news clipping we assume is from the Avon Park newspaper.

The letter says: "Saturday evening the town celebrated Halloween in a unique way. Some weeks ago, Mayor Covington conceived the idea of letting the school children celebrate in a constructive fashion."

"He wrote Proctor and Gamble, asking them if they would furnish the soap for a so-called 'witch' contest, the children to draw on the store windows anything they chose and the best drawings to receive three prizes."

"The firm responded handsomely. They stipulated that only Ivory soap be used and that they might have the privilege of using the idea for publicity purposes. They furnished the soap and $25 to be used for prizes."

"The youngsters reacted with a whoop. School was closed at noon on Friday and they had all afternoon in which to decorate, their drawings to be finished at a certain time for judging. Cards in the windows designated the different grades and the names of the artists assigned to the windows."

"Judges were chosen from the Art Club, the Women's Club and I believe, the Chamber of Commerce. The first prize of $5 was won by a girl in the tenth grade. Honorable mention was given besides the prizes."

"These were given out at the bandstand and megaphoned before the parade."

"The Women's Club had a food stand and a candy stand in the mall near the bandstand and sold hot dogs, hamburger sandwiches, doughnuts, pies and cakes and coffee. They did a rushing business."

"The parade started at 7:30 and nearly every child in town was in it. Of all the witches, and pirates, hobgoblins, scare crows, pumpkins rabbits, gypsy girls, ballet dancers and every other conceivable thing you can imagine. Prizes were given for the costumes also. The band in bright red and white uniforms with three girl drum majors headed the parade with the mayor in tails and a top hat heading the band."

"After the prizes were awarded the crowd played bingo until a late hour. There was a glorious moon, it was summer weather, and the background palms, live oaks and colored lights made a beautiful scene. The stores on either side of the mall were busy with Saturday night shoppers, people sitting in their autos or moving up and down the street, shopping, visiting, everybody laughing, making a gay contrast to the pictures we get of the towns in Europe these days."

"Avon Park is surely the place where the good neighbor idea is carried on to perfection."

Anything the newspaper story might add could not add anything to this beautiful account of a special holiday, Halloween, that could make many of us remember Halloween past with a touch of wistful longing.

Society Rehearsing For December Performances

When the Messiah Society gets together on Sunday afternoons to rehearse, it looks like a giant community project committee meeting. In this cross-section of Highlands County residents, there are young and old, new singers and experienced ones, ministers and laymen, of all faiths, homemakers and high school students, and professionals and white and blue collar workers. They all have one thing in common.

Bob de Witt, president of the Society said, "We all enjoy singing, of course, but the reason that the Messiah attracts such a wide variety of people is simple. There's a big challenge in perfecting your own musical skill with this great music, and a particular satisfaction in sharing it with others."

"It's a unique group," said David Rinald, director. "The members may not have known each other before, but after working hard together for two or three months, they become close friends. After it's over they go their own ways only to pick up again the next year with renewed friendships and no loss of the group spirit."

In a recent survey some interesting facts revealed the wide social range and backgrounds from our community citizens who participate each year in the presentation of the "Messiah." Professions include teachers, drug store owner, accountant, service station owner, homemakers, students, bookkeepers, secretaries, beautician, minister, social worker, fund-raiser, professional painter, attorney, professional musicians, radio singer, nurses aid, and trainer of the visually handicapped.

Musicals backgrounds range from new Messiah singers to those that have sung it for 20 years. Included are singers who have sung with church choirs, high school and college choruses, the Choralists from Coatsville, Pa., the Taylor County Chorus, the Madrigal Singers, West Michigan University Choir, University of Tennessee choir, University of Pennsylvania Cantata singers, The PSU Choralists and the University of Pennsylvania Choral. A total of 358 Messiah presentations have been sung by various singers during their careers.

Home states and countries represented are New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Florida, California, South Carolina, England, Ohio, Illinois, Washington, D.C., and Indiana. Most Messiah Society singers are also active in other community organizations. In addition to church membership, there are members of the Pan American Club, Girl Scouts board, Band Boosters, Athletic Association, SOS, Rotary Club, DAR, Garden Club, Women's Club, Eastern Star, Chamber of Commerce, Salvation Army, Extension Homemakers, Jr. Women's Club, Audubon Society, and the Highlands County Environmental Council.

The members of this countywide group are Keat Stayer, David and Llewellyn Rinald, Dee Stidham, Kris Rider, Max and Lyn Dannels, John Gil, Elaine Carden, Kathryn Koerber, Gail Williams, Mrs. Millie Weyrauch, Betty Roswurm, Bob de Witt, Robert Cameron, Suzanne Dalton, Linda Baldwin, Shirley Pryor, Bonnie Knox, Erma-Jean Stelle, Miriam Beck, Linda Downing, Susan Fike, Jeanne Jones, Robin Peavy, Betty Bennett, Judy Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hoffacher, Judy Meskanik, Mark Lewis, Robert Peavy, Craig Sowers, George Bennett, Dan Durrance, Charles Nichols, Charles Reynolds, Betty Thompson, Don Waldron, Buford Jasper, Christine Peavy, Vickie Conle, Teresa Stein, and Trishenia Crisp.

Others may still join. Rehearsals are on Sunday afternoons at 2:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Lake Placid. The performances will be on Dec. 4 in Avon Park, Dec. 5 in Sebring, and Dec. 6 in Lake Placid.

You probably don't have to worry about having sophomorphia. It means fear of learning, and few people who had it would read this to learn the meaning of the word.

Collins Shows Slides Of Montreal Meet

The Avon Park Rotary Club's program last week was an informal slide presentation by Club President Charles Collins, who represented the Avon Park Rotary Club at the International Convention held in Montreal, Canada last June.

The International Convention serves as a medium of exchange for various cultures, religions and backgrounds. The representatives were "native" costumes and Charlie Woman's Club, Audubon Society, and the Highlands County Environmental Council. The slides of Montreal were quite interesting, especially some of the churches. One particular place which the Rotary Club member will soon forget is Royal Square. Thanks to Charlie, every time a room gets darkened, that scene will be etched in our minds.

Patrol Asks Help In Protecting "Spooks"

The Florida Highway Patrol has asked parents and drivers to help protect the "spooks" that will be on the streets Halloween night.

Col. Eldridge Beach, director of the Patrol said, "Added pedestrian traffic on Halloween night, plus an increase in pedestrian deaths, calls for a review of safety rules."

According to Patrol records, there were 2,091 pedestrians killed or injured in 1974. Of those killed, 21 percent were under 15 years of age and of those injured, 38 percent were under 15.

Beach reminded trick-or-treaters that safety always comes first and said their most important tasks would be to walk off of the roadway, facing traffic and to cross streets with caution.

Parents were encouraged to use makeup for children's faces instead of masks because masks might limit vision. Beach also suggested costumes made of light colors, adding to the child's safety by making him easier to see at night.

Beach concluded by urging "drivers to use extra caution on Halloween, because of increased pedestrian traffic, especially in residential areas."

Murphy-Harrison Wed At Congregational Church

Miss Diane Elizabeth Murphy and James Kenneth Harrison were united in holy matrimony in candlelight ceremonies Saturday, Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Congregational Church in Avon Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Carson Murphy of Avon Park and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Harrison of Arcadia.

The Rev. William Ziegenfuss officiated at the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Richard Wedg, pianist, and Mrs. Clayton Rhoades, organist, who played "Trumpet Voluntary in D Major" by Purcell for the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Beverly Mann, soloist, accompanied by Mr. Wedg, sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the bridal bench.

Hurricane candelabra, clustered with roses and greenery, lit the aisle as the bride entered on the arm of her father. Two white wicker baskets of mixed roses, lavender mums, and baby's breath graced the altar, and bouquets of roses adorned the entrance. Twin spiral candelabra and a pair of seven branched candelabra, holding burning white tapers amidst an array of palms and ferns, provided the background as the bride couple pledged their vows.

The bride chose a formal candlelight gown of silk, pease-bloom and imported lace. The lace and pearl blouse was designed with a mandarin neckline. The full bishop sleeves were cuffed and trimmed with lace and pearls. A defined fullness extended from A-line skirt and created a full circular train. The fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a camelot headpiece of lace and pearls.

The bride carried a traditional cascade bouquet of small pink rose buds, purple statice, stephanotis, and baby's breath softened with bennet fern.

Attending the bride as her maid-of-honor was her sister, Miss Janice Lee Murphy of Avon Park, Miss Jane Barben of Lakeland, and Mrs. Reid Benschter of Fairfield were her bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical gowns of floral crepe with a lavender polyester gabardine suit with a matching floral blouse and beige accessories. Her corsage was of small pink rose buds and stephanotis which was lifted from the center of her waist band. All the bridal attendants wore wide brimmed hats of pale lavender featuring clusters of pink roses, baby's breath, and stephanotis with long lavender streamers down the back. Each carried a classic cascade of roses,

Hi friends,
October 34th is United Nations Day. United Nations (U.N.) is an organization of 139 nations that works for world peace and security, and the betterment of mankind.

The United Nations was established on October 24, 1945, shortly after the end of World War II. As the war drew to an end, the nations that opposed Germany, Italy, and Japan decided that such a war must never happen again. Representatives of these nations met in San Francisco in April, 1945, and worked out a plan for an organization to help keep peace in the world. This plan was described in a document called the Charter of the United Nations. In June, 1945, 50 nations signed the UN Charter. They were the first UN members. Since then, more than 80 nations have joined the UN. Many of these countries were still colonies when the UN was founded.

In some ways, the UN resembles the League of Nations, which was organized after World War I. Recent Visitors:

Thought Conditioner for the Week:

Almost alone this passage can revolutionize your life and change defeat into victory.

What does it tell you? That your "mountain," that great rock-like obstruction, that tremendous barrier, can be broken down and ousted from your life. You must not doubt "in your heart." Allow no negative thoughts to exist in your subconscious mind.

Know that your mountain difficulty shall be removed and as you pray believe that it is being done then and now. Don't have the hazy idea that "this mountain" may be removed sometime in the future, but believe that God is removing it for you now.

Whoever shall say unto this mountain, be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.
