AVON PARK FIRE Chief Mack Flowers has a new addition to his department, a special quick response mini pumper. The

Public Hearing Scheduled

Commission Considers Tax Millage Hike

It appears that county taxpayers are in for a half-mill tax increase, following action at Tuesday's Highlands County Commission meeting.

The board has set Aug. 29 as the date for a public hearing to consider raising the county's share of taxes from 5.3816 mills to an estimated 5.8816 mills, and will hold another hearing Sept. 6 to officially adopt the final budget for fiscal year 1977-78.

Tuesday, Deputy Clerk and Finance Officer James Pyle reported that with all departmental budgets submitted, reviewed and tentatively accepted, the county will require a half-mill increase.

He said that he still has not arrived at a total budget figure, but can estimate that the increase needed to fund the county departments will be almost exactly a half-mill.

The board will have to advertise the intended increase, but the advertised figure will be lower than the half-mill because Tax Assessor J. W. "Bilby" Martin has certified that the county will have to raise taxes slightly to collect the same dollar amount as was needed last year.

With the review of the health department's proposed $258,325 budget, of which the county will fund $107,723, board Chairman Norman "Jag" Heston said the commission was finished reviewing departmental budgets.

At a budget session last Wednesday, commissioners reluctantly agreed to allow Sheriff Joe Sheppard an additional $33,000, so that Sheppard could add two deputies to the department.

Heston said that Sheppard had met with the commissioners individually after the board agreed to cut the sheriff's budget request by $274,000.

"Instead of the three jail employees we had allowed him, he said he would rather have two more deputies, with all the trimmings," said Heston. "If we give him the money for the deputies, he said he would not protest the budget in Tallahassee."

Under the law, if a county sheriff disagrees with the commission's decision on his budget, he may appeal the decision to the state Department of Revenue, which would make a final determination after a hearing with Sheppard and the commissioners.

Cecil Skipper pointed out that the county had made an error in computing the sheriff's budget earlier, and that with the error, "We're talking about giving him an extra $32,095."

Sheppard had originally submitted budget requests of $1,450,000 later reduced to $1,430,000. The commissioners agreed to give the sheriff $1,359,000 as an operating budget.

Heston said, "I'm just as willing as anybody to go to Tallahassee and fight for our budget, but going up there is going to cost him money and cost us money. Either way, the taxpayer is left holding the bag."

Robert Skipper said he saw "no reason at all to give the sheriff this extra money. I'm ready to go to Tallahassee and if he gets the money from them, it won't be on our conscience."

The remainder of the board agreed with Heston and voted 4-1 to allow Sheppard the funds to hire the deputies. The increase was required since the deputies require a car, uniform and other accessories.

Since the $33,000 was awarded, Sheppard has indicated that he will not protest the new operating budget, which is still approximately $240,000 under his budget request.

The board approved the creation of a $12,000-a-year personnel position to be responsible for the county's 330 employees.

Administrative Assistant Charles Cullen, whose office currently handles the personnel duties, explained that he no longer has the time to handle the job, in addition to his numerous other duties.

The commissioners were also told that the county does not presently have an "Affirmative Action" plan for the hiring of minorities, and that one will be required of them very shortly.

The new employee will be responsible for handling applications for county positions. As one county official told commissioners Wednesday, "As the system is set up now, it is a complete mess."

While reviewing the health department Tuesday, the board agreed to the hiring of an additional nurse, since department Director Dr. Glenn Hough pointed out that the size of their nursing staff has not been increased since 1966, when the county's population was approximately one-half of the current figure.

The hearing to raise the millage is set for 7:30 p.m., Aug. 29, while the hearing for adoption of the budget will be held in the course of the commissioners first regular meeting in September.

County Judge Nixes Traffic Fines

Highlands County Judge Mark H. Richardson Jr., suspended implementation of the controversial traffic fine surcharges late Monday afternoon, joining a host of judges in other counties who have taken similar action.

What it means to motorists is that, effective immediately, the fine for moving violations in Highlands County is rolled back to $25. This represents a substantial drop from the $57.75 fine implemented by the Florida Legislature on June 1. The $200 surcharge for alcohol-related offenses was suspended as well.

The chief judge of the Tenth Judicial Circuit had earlier ordered a like suspension in Polk County, and Judge Richardson cited the need for uniformity of laws within the Tenth Circuit, of which Highlands is a part.

Copies of Richardson's order have been sent to all law enforcement offices in the county. According to the order, law officers "shall not orally, nor in writing, require or provide for payment of the surcharges as assessments . . . in Highlands County."

All surcharges previously collected by the Clerk of the Court will be retained until a further order of the court directs disposition of the funds.

Should anyone send in $57.75 to pay a fine in the meantime, they will either receive a refund of the surcharge or the entire payment will be returned for resubmission of the correct amount.

In suspending the surcharges, Richardson joins a statewide backlash against the Florida Insurance and Tort Reform Act. Under the act, traffic fines for moving violations — that is violations that take place while the vehicle is in motion like speeding, and failure to yield right of way — took a $52.75 jump.

The increased revenue would have then been used for rebates to insured Florida motorists. However, many have contended the concept is unconstitutional. In fact, Judge Richardson pointed out that the constitutionality of the surcharges is pending before the Florida Supreme Court.

Injured Youngsters On Way To Recovery

By MARK ALBRIGHT

Two Avon Park youngsters were injured in two days during the month of May. The Sun has had previous stories on Kathleen Ellen Paugh and Hailing Goff, but what has happened to them since last report?

Kathleen was critically injured when she was struck by a pick-up truck on May 22. She was taken to Winter Haven Hospital, and at last report was listed in "guarded and critical" condition.

Since that last report, Kathleen has been taken to Florida Hospital in Orlando and she has come out of her seven-week long coma. Kathleen's sister said that she was doing well and is steadily improving from the skull fracture and concussion she received in the accident.

Bank Robbery In Progress

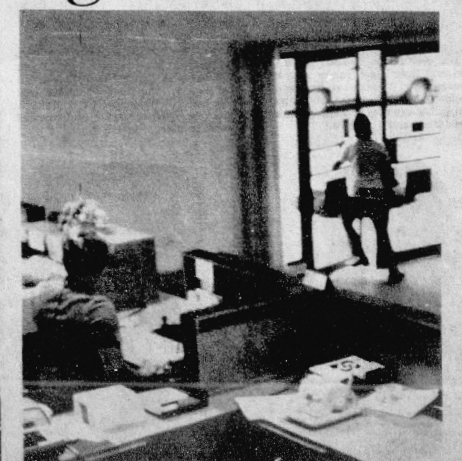

ON JULY 22, a lone hold-up man pulled off Avon Park's first bank robbery, when he took $3,700 from the offices of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association. These photographs, taken by an automatic bank camera, show the entire event as it transpired. In this picture, a man identified as Michael Langdon, 23, holds a beer can covered by a jacket. Bank teller Mrs. Ann Jackson, 31, thinking the man armed, begins to count out money. Other bank employees (far left) are not aware that a robbery is going on.

IN THIS PHOTO, Mrs. Jackson starts to stuff bank bag with money, while suspect waits. While filling the bag with money, Mrs. Jackson also set off a silent alarm to notify police. Fellow bank employees are now starting to realize that something out of the ordinary is taking place.

Langdon (at counter) told police that he dreamed up the robbery while accepting a free ride with an unidentified motorist. He is charged with the robbery and has reportedly confessed to investigators. The entire hold-up was captured on film by bank cameras.

HAVING SCOOPED UP the money, the suspect raced from the bank while Mrs. Jackson watches. Langdon told police that the unidentified motorist was supposed to wait for him outside of the bank, when he emerged, the man was not there. Police said they "discounted" the man's story, but added that he was intoxicated at the time of his arrest. Langdon was captured by police within moments of leaving the bank, due mainly to an alert police dispatcher, Mrs. Faye Skelton.

2A The Avon Park Sun, Aug. 4, 1977

Editor's Viewpoint

by Russ Dennis

Like a book, each person's life has a beginning, middle chapters and an ending. With some regret, the Dennis family would like to take this opportunity to bid farewell to the citizens of Avon Park.

Although our stay here has been brief, we have met some truly wonderful people and have had some wonderful times.

Next week, a new chapter on our lives will open, this time in Marco Island, where I will assume the duties of editor for the Marco Island Eagle, a New York Times owned weekly.

Although six months doesn't seem like a long time, a moments reflection brings to mind many people, places and events that occupied our time. To all of those people who extended a welcoming hand, we express our thanks.

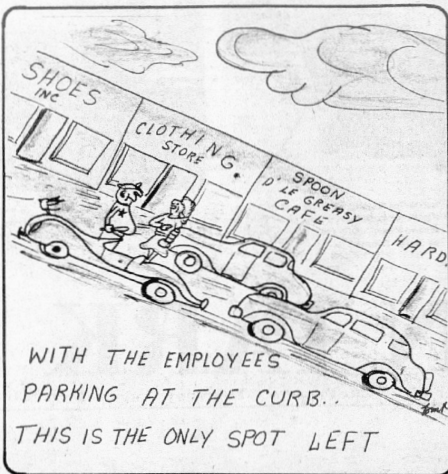

The Avon Park Sun has been good to me. Publisher Ed Carter has proven to be one of the finest persons I have ever had the pleasure of working for. New things are in store for the Sun, things that will make this newspaper one of the finest in the state.

It has always been our feeling that a strong, hard nosed local newspaper is an asset to any community. Without it, there is no one to keep an eye on government, new ideas, etc. However, a newspaper is only as good as the community which supports it. The Avon Park Sun, in my opinion, is one of the best. Not necessarily because I am the editor, but because it reflects the people who make up the community. To put it in plainer words, the people of this town can consider themselves among the best there are. The town may be small, but her citizens, or at least the ones we have come into contact with, have big hearts.

Now, on to other matters. A new editor, as of press time, hasn't been named. When the position is filled, I can only hope that he receives the same treatment and cooperation that I did. An old philosopher once said, "My son, life is much like a rocking chair." When asked why, he replied, "Because, for some, it means constant motion, religiously applied, that usually leads nowhere." In this case, it's time we left the rocking chair and made use of the energy.

If you're ever in the neighborhood, stop in and say "hey."

Little Things Can Help Us

Ask a merchant what it takes to be successful and most of the time he will tell you it's a combination of a lot of "little" things.

The appearance of his shop, what he is selling or offering, are his sales personnel polite and helpful, etc.

However, there may be one "little" thing some local merchants are overlooking.

At a recent city council meeting, the subject of city parking lots came up.

Although it would seem logical that people employed at our downtown stores would park in municipal lots or at least away from the front of their store. Such may not be the case.

Several local residents have complained about the lack of parking in downtown Avon Park. To clarify, it should be pointed out that there are municipal lots that are never full, however, most of these are located off Main Street. Henceforth, some store employees appear to be using those spaces provided on Main Street. The result is an unusual game of round the block which usually results in frayed nerves for a prospective customer and the rapid decision that what he or she wanted to buy really wasn't that necessary.

Not all people expect to find a parking spot immediately in front of the shop they want to do business with. To be fair, we must all agree that such a vacant spot is attractive to all of us. So who wants to wait three blocks?

We are sure that the same feeling holds true of store employees. In this case, however, the merchant is the one who will suffer.

In most cities, merchants instruct all of their employees to park in city lots or away from the main business street. This opens up a wealth of parking places that had heretofore been occupied every day by clerks, etc. Not only is this going on in Avon Park, but judging from some of the comments directed towards the newspaper from various people, it seems to be a regular occurrence.

Since commerce, the exchange of money for goods and services, is the lifeblood of Avon Park, as it is any place else, it would seem like a wise move to advise all downtown employees to make use of municipal parking lots as often as possible, leaving the on street spaces open for prospective customers. It may well be that what municipal parking there is in Avon Park will prove inadequate to meet such a sudden and large demand.

Whatever is decided, it would be well to remember that the more obstacles we place in the path of a shopper, the faster that shopper will decide that his time would be better spent looking elsewhere, someplace that has all of the parking necessary.

Our Readers Write

Letters To The Editor

Editor's note: The following is a letter received from the mother of Hunter Kittrell of Avon Park. Hunter, you will remember, lost his right arm in an accident several months ago. Since that time, the plucky 13-year old has made considerable progress on his road to recovery. Surgery to restore the severed limb appears to have been, so far, a success.

Dear Editor,
So many people have written to me of their concern for Hunter's future, that I will do my best to keep all informed of his total progress.

I promise to keep the people of Avon Park informed of (his) progress throughout this (present) and future hospital visits.

(Many people are concerned about Hunter) but he is as active as can be. He has learned to do so many things using his left hand. He can tie his own shoes, feed himself, use a hammer, ride a lawn mower, but he hasn't mastered writing as yet.

His determination to try anything has never ceased to amaze his parents and grandparents. He is determined to use his right arm.

Hunter's arm is set at a 90 degree angle at the elbow, kept in place by a brace made just for Hunter by a brace specialist in Louisville, Ky. He takes it out of the brace three times daily to use (a special training device) which helps to keep down the swelling caused by lymph fluid not circulating properly through his arm.

By sheer determination, Hunter can move the lower arm up 15 degrees toward the shoulder. (This is more than the doctors had any ideas he could do without further muscle transplants.) There is still no feeling below the elbow, no nerves, muscles or tendons have been reconnected. Hunter has good blood circulation throughout the hand and arm. He has full radius movement of the right shoulder and has some feeling in the area from the elbow to shoulder.

As the days slip by, he is becoming very apprehensive about his next hospital visit. He enters Jewish Hospital in Louisville on August 4, with surgery scheduled for August 5. This surgery will be very painful and will of necessity put a complete restraint on Hunter's activities. The doctors will form a flap of all the layers of skin tissue, muscle tissue and fatty tissues on either his abdominal area or right thigh. The inner portion of his right elbow will be sewn to this area. He will be in this position three to four weeks for the flap of skin to graft itself to his elbow.

Hunter will then be out loose and further skin grafts will be done to cover the donor area and smooth out the elbow graft. A period of about six weeks is the expected length of stay for this surgery and recovery.

Hunter will be in surgery many times during the next two to three years, but considering the total life span of a 13 year old, two to three years is a very short period of time. The important factors in Hunter's favor are his youth and the advances in medical technology. Hunter said when he saw some of the pictures from Hunter Kittrell Day, "I'll be ready to catch that greased pig when the doctors finish with me."

With Sincere Thanks, Mrs. Donna Kittrell.

Low Income Housing Should Be Welcomed

The Avon Park City Council made a wise move last week, when they agreed to talk further with developers who are seeking to win a Housing and Urban Development low income housing grant. The developers wish to construct a 49 unit family type low income housing complex here.

Although the council was justified in turning down the developer's permission to build, due to a lack of information, they agreed to reopen talks in the near future.

The city of Avon Park does need a housing alternative for low income families who do not wish to apply to the Avon Park Housing Authority for a place to live.

However, the developers would be well advised to listen carefully to what the council and the city's planning and zoning board have to say about where any such project should be located.

In a special report to the city, the local housing authority has cast a gloomy eye on the proposed development, especially as to its proposed location.

We must side with the council when they point out that city planners have divided the city into sections, with an eye towards keeping each area intact.

The very idea, though, that low income housing immediately leads to problems of congestion, order and threats to domestic tranquility are false.

The city should remember that this particular type of project will afford people and families from all walks of life a chance to live in pleasant surroundings for a modest fee.

If the government of Avon Park would demonstrate that it is keeping an eye on our future needs by providing for our housing, we are sure that other development and investment concerns will become interested in this area.

Avon Park is growing. There is no way this simple fact can be hidden. Government programs, building and the associated problems that go with such development are facts of life. We can't hide from them. By showing an open mind about the proposed low income housing project, the city council will be doing themselves and our citizens a great favor. If the proposed location for the development is wrong, as it well may be, then the council should break its collective back to find an alternate site. There is nothing wrong with enjoying the best of two worlds. A well run, secure city, complete with the services, housing and facilities that will make Avon Park an even more wonderful place to live.

Interviewpoint

With many motorists up in arms over recent hikes in Florida traffic fines, the Sun learned that not all citizens were against the increases.

This week's question: Have the recent increases in Florida traffic fines made you a safer driver?

Elena Dees, 904 West Prairie Street. "Yes, the fines have made me a safer driver. They have made me more cautious and I watch out for the other fellow and try to get out of his way. I think the increases in traffic fines are a good thing and I approve."

Paul Smith, 1112 West Prairie Street. "Yes, the increased fines have slowed me down, but I think they are a hardship on some people. I think it will take better defensive driving to make it safer for everyone. That and respect would be more effective to me."

Elmer Aikelsen, 905 West Pleasant Street. "I always have been a slow driver, but I think we should double the present fines again, even though I doubt if it would make it safer to drive. People need to start valuing life, then it will be safer to drive our highways."

George Shreckengost, 2500 Lake Damon Road. "I always try to drive safely. I think that slow driving is safer driving. The 55 mile per hour law was passed and it's a good law if we would all just live up to it there wouldn't be half as many wrecks as there are now."

Nutrition Data Use

You asked for it; you pay for it. But do you use it?

The food industry began including nutritional information on packages and containers in response to consumer demands.

The cost of compiling and printing the detailed data is passed on to the consumer.

But, according to a Purdue University psychology professor, the average consumer neither uses nor understands nutritional labeling.

Prof. Jacob Jacoby says the American consumer is apparently not equipped with the educational background necessary to interpret the information — most don't even understand the difference between proteins, fats and carbohydrates and therefore don't know how to apply nutritional information to their daily diets.

For instance, although 90 per cent of the respondents in two studies maintained that the label was "perfectly clear" in its presentation of nutritional information, only half those people could correctly use portions of the information.

Brand name and price, studies indicate, are the two most often retained pieces of information, and are probably the factors exerting the greatest influence over buyer choice.

What is needed, Jacoby concluded after a review of six separate studies, is simplification.

"In its present form," he says, "nutrition labeling is probably hurting the consumer more than helping — by increasing costs without providing value."

"The government is well-intentioned, but the information is at too high a level — the consumer can be overloaded with nutrition information."

It may be another case of too much of a good thing — nutritionists at the University of California at Berkeley say too much fiber in the diet may result in loss of vitamin B12 and lead to pernicious anemia.

Although the importance of fiber in the diet is getting a lot of attention from scientists and advertisers these days, researchers Robert W. Cullen and Susan M. Oace recently reported that too much pectin, a dietary fiber found in fruits and vegetables, may result in depletion of vitamin B12 in the body.

People who eat a diet that includes plenty of animal products should not have to worry about severe vitamin B12 loss, the researchers said, but vegetarians who consume no dairy products or eggs should be cautious about fiber.

Smoke detectors may not only save your life, but also your money.

Many insurance companies are now giving discounts to home owners' policies when smoke detectors are installed in homes, according to information compiled in a booklet being issued by the National Bureau of Standards.

Canny consumers can save on their shopping dollars by comparison shopping and pre-purchase analysis, but it took a recent Chase Manhattan Bank study to remind shoppers of that fine old tradition — the sale.

George Johnson

Few Want His Job

Not many people are interested in taking George Johnson's job even though it pays in the neighborhood of $600 or more per hour.

George, a painting contractor from Ocean City, N. J., refers to himself as a "Self-employed Painter of the U.S.A.", as his specialty, painting flagpoles takes him all over the United States.

Born in Atlantic City, N. J., he started painting with his father when he was eight years old and now has 35 years experience to his credit, flagpole painting included.

George stated he received $125 for 15 to 20 minutes work painting the flagpole on the Mall and included spraying the eagle. This is the second time he has painted the Avon Park flagpole.

Travelling with his wife Naomi, in a home-made self-contained camper built on a 1968 Hearst Cadillac chassis, George has crossed the United States about 30 times. Whenever he sees a rusty flagpole, he stops and usually receives up to $300 for the 10 to 20 minutes it takes to paint the flagpole. Most of the rusty flagpoles are found in the coastal areas along the eastern and western seaboard, with its heavy concentration of salt in the air.

Altogether George estimates he has painted around 500 flagpoles, many of them several times. The tallest one he has painted (200 feet high) was at the Recreation Park in Panama City, Fla. One of his busiest days was at Camden, N. J., when he painted 22 flagpoles.

For his work, George uses new rope, as a half hitch broke in Colorado when he was 100 feet up on a flagpole. Fortunately a second hitch held. As for insurance on the job, George says it is too expensive since he is in so many different towns and states. He says his prayers and claims that "Christ is his insurance" when he is up painting a pole.

Growing up in the time span when many were trying to establish flagpole sitting records, George said, "For $1000, he would set on top of a flagpole for seven days." His wife Naomi would help him by pulling food up to him on a rope.

Where will George go from Avon Park? Back to Atlantic City, N. J.

"Back Rub"

Listed As Unbillable Expense

Although the Highlands General Hospital Board will take its first dip into the new budget at a special workshop today, Wednesday, a quick perusal last Thursday produced negative comments on two items: travel expenses and "unbillable supplies."

Audrey Vickers pointed to an increase in expenses for one staff member from $20 last year to $350 as projected in the budget, and Frank Walker found another that rose from $120 to $600.

"I can't concur with such excessive increases," said Walker. "Last year everybody didn't go to a seminar or meeting, now everyone wants to go."

Mrs. Vickers suggested that staff members submit a list of their prospective meetings now, and if something came up that was not budgeted, they would not be permitted to attend. Administrator Vernon Bielefeld said he already had a list of the planned meetings and would make copies for the board.

He told members that the staff had held down on trips last year, so the increases didn't present a true picture, and reminded them that all such travels are subject to his approval. The board votes on the administrator's own seminar trips.

Hazel Scarborough suggested that where there is a convention which covers a variety of medical subjects, the staff might pool a car and go together to cut down expenses.

Walker said he was not in favor of such pronounced increases and felt that, department by department, each bid for a trip must be taken individually. Mrs. Scarborough concurred.

Walker switched to another facet of the budget that was bothering him and asked for an explanation of "unbillable supplies."

Bielefeld explained that those are such items as back rub, included with patients' room rates. Walker remarked, "That's a whole lot of back rub."

Bielefeld went on to mention pitchers and a kit that contains soap, etc. Asked about the "comfort kit" which Highlands General once presented to patients, Bielefeld said the comfort kit had not been billed since 1973.

In another switch of subject Mrs. Vickers noted Bielefeld's report that RNs and medical technologists are in short supply in the area (a technologist was hired last Monday, bringing the total to two). She asked what happens if a medical technologist is ill and a doctor is unavailable. Law sets forth that medical technicians can not perform delicate lab work without a doctor or technologist in attendance. She asked if the laboratory shuts down in that case.

The administrator said the hospital is covered in such a contingency and that technologists are always on call. Asked by Mrs. Vickers if there could be an occasion when no one was available and a technician would be doing the work unsupervised, he said it could happen, but he didn't think the possibility very likely.

Back to the budget, Walker asked that the figures on this year's actual expenses be shown, along with the budgeted figures. "We've got what was projected as our expenses for 1976-77, but not what we're actually doing," Bielefeld said he would have them inserted in the budget in time for today's session.

In other business, at Mrs. Vickers' suggestion, the board endorsed a project that will provide a community information session one morning a week, in which the administrator will meet with community leaders, explain the hospital operation and answer questions.

"In other words, a public relations project?" asked Chairman Joe Skiles. Walker said he felt the project was much needed and it was approved unanimously.

Bielefeld announced that Highlands General has received a $2,000 open bequest from the estate of the late Alexander Blair, of Lake Placid. The money will be placed in a special fund along with another bequest last year from Mrs. Neil Howell.

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Blair will be inscribed on the Tree of Life in the HGH lobby. Funds will be used to purchase special equipment not covered in the budget.

The board voted to support

33 Booked

Into Jail

Last Week

Sheriff's deputies did their best to see that the jail was full this past week, as a total of 33 persons were arrested.

Seven of the suspects were booked on larceny charges, six were arrested on marijuana charges, and three were arrested for breaking and entering.

In addition, there were four driving while intoxicated arrests and three disorderly intoxication arrests. There was one person arrested for the sale and manufacture of cocaine and one for motor vehicle theft.

The average age of the defendants worked out to a young 20 years, with the eldest being 44, while four 15-year-olds had the dubious distinction of being the youngest persons arrested.

Three of the suspects were black, while 30 were white. Four of those arrested were female.

Seven of the defendants were not residents of Highlands County, while the remainder were local citizens.

Any time of year is a hot time to enjoy the thrill of chili. With this recipe, you do little more than chuck the ground meat and other ingredients into a skillet and you can get a dish that tastes like it was turned out by the most skillful cook in Mexico.

LILL'S CHILI
2 pounds ground chuck
2 large onions, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 clove garlic, chopped
1 tomato
2 tablespoons chili powder
1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) tomatoes
1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
1 can (4 oz.) red chili peppers
2 cans (1 lb. each) red kidney beans
1/4 cup gin

Cook meat in a large skillet, stirring continuously with a fork, until it loses its fat. Drain off excess fat. Add onions, pepper, garlic and spices; cook, stirring occasionally until the vegetables are lightly browned. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, and chili peppers; bring the mixture to the simmering point and simmer, covered, about 1 hour to develop the flavors and thicken the sauce. Add the beans, heat. Add gin. Serve as a hearty dip, with large corn chips, or with tortillas crisped in hot oil or on a greased skillet. Makes about 1 1/2 quarts, enough for 8 or more hearty eaters.

PEANUT PIE
3 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
Pinch salt
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons peanut butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup roasted peanuts, chopped
1 9-inch unbaked pie shell

Beat together thoroughly the eggs, sugar, syrup, salt, butter, peanut butter and vanilla. Spoon into pie shell. Sprinkle with the peanuts. Bake at 400 degrees until pastry starts to brown, about 8 minutes. Reduce heat to 300 degrees and continue baking until the center is almost firm, about 30 minutes. Cool.

Yield: Six to eight servings.

Milt Adler

Why does a nationally known and famous organist go into the solar energy field? In 1924, at 13 years of age, Milt Adler, was a piano playing contest as a child prodigy. The prize, a job at Radio Station KSD, a National Broadcasting Company outlet in St. Louis, Mo.

The KSD playing engagement led to other weekend jobs. One Monday morning after a long working week, Adler was quite sleepy when the high school principal approached him about the relative value of jobs, such as that of a high school principal and of a music man.

With his weekend pay being twice that of the principal, Adler walked out of the school. But Milt's father, a clothing manufacturer, didn't want Milt to be a musical derelict by the time he was 30 and insisted that Milt learn a trade. So Milt learned how to lay out patterns, cut cloth and sew. In the meantime he started to play at the St. Louis Country Clubs and during the social season. From then on the roster of playing engagements continued to expand as he played at well-known clubs, hotels and radio stations throughout the country.

In 1943, Milt entered the United States Navy and was assigned as organist at Camp Farragut, Cour 'D Lene, Idaho; then to Washington, D. C. and finally assigned to the Aircraft Carrier Kormet for Pacific Duty.

Following his discharge from the Navy in 1945, Milt joined with Jerry Shelton, accordionist and Andy Nelson, guitarist to form the Jerry Shelton Trio. In '48 he joined the incomparable Hillside as her accompanist.

Later as a soloist he travelled to all parts of the country. He probably will never forget the many calls he had for "St. Louis City Sue" when playing in Sioux City Iowa, or playing for an old friend, Harry Truman at the White House.

There were 12 years of engagements and returns to the Miami and Miami Beach night spots, followed from 1963 to '75 at the Galt Ocean Mile Hotel at Fort Lauderdale. The Sun 'n Lakes Country Club, South, Sebring was the next stop, then Sun 'n Lakes Country Club, North and six weeks ago to the Sebring Elks Club.

But the ivory of the keyboard is a long way from the black of a solar energy system after 53 years in music. In high school Milt enjoyed such studies as engineering drawing, drafting and shopwork. He first became acquainted with solar heating when visiting Coral Gables in 1931. This interest was fanned by articles in magazines, papers and talking with people who had solar energy units.

In 1962 Milt installed solar heating systems in swimming pools in North Miami Beach, but electricity was so cheap in Florida that it didn't pay to put in a solar system, so he turned to real estate.

After getting caught on the high and rising electric bills, Milt decided that the time was right to put his knowledge and energy to work in the solar energy field. He now represents Aquasolar Swimming Pool Systems and holds a four county franchise for Solar Installation Flat Plate Collectors, used for heating and air conditioning installations.

Milt said, "A solar heating unit can save two persons about $15 a month in hot water costs, while heating and air conditioning savings depend on the number of British Thermal Units (BTU) needed for the size of the house."

"Savings with a pool are predictable," continued Milt. "A pool heated by burning oil fuel, uses about two gallons an hour and costs about $240 per month. The original cost of installing a solar heating system is about $1400 and it never costs a penny after that."

His associate Ron Yachabach, Lakeland, is the inventor and manufacturer of "Solar Innovations", and is one of the eight men on President Carter's Solar Energy Committee. Through his efforts in keeping up with the solar energy information, Milt has been elected treasurer of the Florida Solar Industry Association. Married with four boys and two girls, Milt lives both in Sebring and Lakeland, where his youngest son, 13 years old Peter, is a tennis journey player and his wife Betty is on the Ranking Committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Archer's Announce Wedding Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Archer wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Paula Jean McCall to Charles Ray Ragsdale on July 29, 1977, at the Old Union Congregational Church.

The Rev. John Pickens performed the marriage ceremony. Jimmie Earline Carter was the bride's matron of honor and Joe Willingham was the groom's best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. A reception was held at the Florida Power Club House after which the newlyweds left for their honeymoon to the State of Alabama.

They will be making the home in Avon Park, where Ragsdale is a member of the Avon Park Police Department. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ragsdale of Albertville, Alabama are the parents of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tubbs will be honored Sunday, Aug. 7, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, at their home on Little Lake Jackson.

The couple was married Aug. 8, 1952 in Avon Park, by pastor Robert T. Limer. They have made their home in Sebring, where Leon Tubbs is engaged in growing Fancy Leaf Caladium bulbs. The couple has three children, Mike, Linda and Randy, all of Sebring.

AVON PARK ROTARY Club Governor, C. Barth Engert, Governor for visiting the President Art Turner (left) presented the Rotary Club Banner to Rotary District 695 Winter Park, as he thanked the Rotary Club.

District Governor Speaks

Rotary District Governor, C. Barth Engert, Winter Park, governor of Rotary District 695, was the honored speaker at last Wednesday's Rotary meeting. Governor Engert's district includes 14 counties and 56 Rotary clubs throughout the Central Florida area.

Governor Engert re-emphasized the International theme of Rotary, this year that is "Serve to Unite Mankind."

George Hensley, Sebring, was a guest of the Rotary Club and introduced the governor. Hensley is Governor Engert's area representative and headed up the successful District Rotary Conference held at Sebring this year.

Governor Engert centered his talk around the many challenges, to the entire club, to be active this coming year and serve the community well.

After many challenges, Governor

Engert passed around a card to each Rotarian with the card reading as follows: Why am I here today? Any day? Haven't I some place else to be? What is this club doing that I particularly like — in the community; within the club; in service to the youth; internationally in vocational service and what opportunities still exist?

For visitors only, Governor Engert had these questions — if a regular visitor, what do you particularly enjoy here? If a first timer or newcomer, what is your initial impression.

After the card was passed out the Governor gave each table a point on the card with two minutes for discussion. A spokesman for each group gave comments. It was most interesting to hear that the Rotary Club has been very active and plans many projects for the coming year to serve our community.

Each Rotarian was challenged by Governor Engert to be active. He complimented club president Art Turner for having already passed out all committee assignments with a job designated for each Rotary member.

The governor stressed his point for each member to be active, by saying, "Your sheriff Joe Sheppard is present, if he arrested you today, would he have enough evidence to convict you for being a Rotarian?"

For the month of August, Don Farrens will be program chairman and will bring to the club Dr. Bernard Lester of the Florida Citrus Commissions. This Wednesday Dr. Lester will speak on the functions and activities of the Florida Citrus Commission.

Alcoholism Chief To Visit ARC

On his first visit to Florida since his appointment as Director of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, in February, 1976, Dr. Ernest P. Noble, will stop at the Avon Park Florida Alcoholism Treatment Center (ARC) on W. College Dr. for the purpose of orientation of facilities that provide alcoholism services as the disposition of Federal monies is co-ordinated through his office.

Avon Park Has Highest Crime Rate In County

By MARK ALBRIGHT
When one of the Sun's reporters read that the July 22 robbery of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Highlands County was the first bank robbery in Avon Park's history, he began wondering how the Avon Park crime rate stood in relation to the rest of the county.

Avon Park Police Chief, Bob Brooks said Avon Park with 43 percent, has the highest crime rate in Highlands County.

When asked what caused the rate to be so high, Chief Brooks stated that unemployment is the major contributing factor. He added that the large numbers of migrant workers who pass through this area seasonally, also help raise the percentage.

Chief Brooks said the recreation center is a great help in keeping the juvenile crime rate down in Avon Park. "I am behind the recreation center 100 percent," said Brooks.

As Chief Brooks said, Avon Park's crime rate is high, but that fact is slightly relieved by another fact that Chief Brooks stated — 100 percent of the violent crimes committed in Avon Park were solved.

During his visit Wednesday morning (Aug. 3), Dr. Noble will meet with ARC Administrator Ben Brooks and other staff members to determine what facilities and services are available locally and also advise what services are available through the Federal government.

Dr. Noble, whose father was a physician, was born in Baghdad, Iraq, April 2, 1929, however he is a U.S. citizen having spent the most of his adult life in the United States. He attended Rutgers University and received his Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of California.

Oregon State University awarded him a Doctor of Philosophy degree. He continued his postdoctoral studies at the Sorbonne in Paris, France and received his Doctor of Medicine Degree from Western Reserve University. He was a Fulbright Scholar and a Guggenheim Fellow.

As a faculty member he has taught and conducted research in the fields of alcoholism, psychiatry and neurochemistry while on the staff of several universities and has published over 100 research papers.

Dr. Ernest Noble

The recipient of many awards and a member of scientific and medical societies, Dr. Noble is one of the world's foremost authorities in alcoholism research and has been invited to present papers at international meetings on alcoholism and related subjects.

Dr. Noble and his Swedish wife have three children, two daughters and a son.

USING WATER FROM his tank truck, John Leadingham of the Florida Forestry Service completed putting out a fire that destroyed a 1966 Chevrolet Impala driven by Robert Johnson of Sebring last Wednesday on U.S. 27 South. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Auto Guttled By Fire

BY MARK ALBRIGHT
Fire gutted the automobile driven by Robert Johnson of Sebring, last Wednesday as it was idling in the cross-over, directly across from Ronnie Sachsenmaier's grove care building, on Highway 27, just over 300 yards south of the Avon Park City Limits.

The 1966 Chevrolet Impala Super Sport is owned by Eldridge's Floor Covering, also of Sebring. Johnson said he was waiting to cross the southbound lane at approximately 3:20 p.m., to get to a house where he was going to sell carpet. "The car was idling and it backfired. Smoke poured out from under the car and it caught fire," Johnson said.

When Richard Ward saw that the car was on fire, he grabbed a fire extinguisher from the grove care building and attempted to put the fire out. "The fire extinguisher wouldn't do any good and some men nearby told me not to put any water on it," Ward said. Johnson said they kept trying to put the fire out with the fire extinguisher until they heard a loud pop come from under the car. "Then we just got away and let the car burn."

A United Telephone employee stopped and called the police department on the line to report the fire. The police department transferred the report to the Avon Park Fire Department.

Since the fire was beyond the city limits, the fire department could not respond to the call, so they called Forestry Service at Highlands Hammock State Park in Sebring. J. Leadingham, of the Forestry Service, responded to the call. Avon Park Police Captain Frank Cratty and G. R. Bass, of the Sheriff's Department, also responded to the call.

Kahn Tires Stolen

Two wide tires were reported stolen from a truck belonging to Kahn Grove Service last Wednesday. The thieves apparently entered the grove barn where the vehicle was parked, and jacked the truck up to steal the tires.

Two smaller tires were reported stolen from nearby cars. Loss was set at $180.

CHECKING INTO HEADQUARTERS of the Ninth National Scout Jamboree at Moraine State Park near Butler, Pa. last Wednesday, Marc Hooper, Avon Park, is a member of the Environmental.

Marc Hooper Attends National Scout Jamboree

More than 31,000 Scouts and 8,000 leaders will be on hand for the opening Arena Show on August 3 at the Ninth National Scout Jamboree at Moraine State Park near Butler, Pa. These Scouts and leaders have come from all 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and 22 foreign countries.

The August 3-9 jamboree not only provides a show case of scouting today for both participants and visitors, but stresses the opportunity for boys to learn leadership and program ideas they can take home with them.

Jamboree program features are planned on both a regional and campwide level to reflect scouting skills, national heritage and the spirit of brotherhood. Name a scout skill and the Jamboree will have it: camping of course and pioneering, firebuilding, first aid, conservation skills, marksmanship, archery, obstacle courses and cooking without utensils.

There will be swimming from six beaches, with row boats, canoes and sailboats available. Fishermen can go after bass and blue gill after instruction in fly-tying and casting.

An Arts and Science Fair will give scouts an opportunity to exhibit and demonstrate their skills in photography, painting and drawing, sculpture, music, literature, crafts and science.

The tent city of almost 40,000 will spring up virtually overnight and will have its own 100 bed hospital, daily newspaper, bank, telephone exchange, security police and fire stations.

To feed the scouts, jamboree planners have ordered 9.45 metric tons of hamburger, 247,000 liters of milk, 200,000 eggs, 51,000 chicken halves, 250,000 packages of breakfast cereal, 25,000 steaks, 31,000 ham patties, 16,000 kilograms of luncheon meats and 46,000 oranges. After 11 p.m. supply trucks take over the single loop road through the five mile long camp to bring these needed supplies to the distribution centers.

Battle Of Highlands

To Benefit Muscular Dystrophy

The Battle of the Highlands is finally here! The Avon Park team will be heading down to the Placid Lakes Country Club to participate in all those crazy games and hopefully bring back the first place plaque. They will be competing against fine teams from Lake Placid and Sebring in an all day, fun-filled event. The whole thing is to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy foundation, but it will be free to the public.

The events start at 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 4. The Avon Park team wants and needs lots of public support to cheer them on to victory. So, if you have no plans for this Saturday, head down to Placid Lakes Country Club and join in the fun. There will be lots of carnival type booths set up for the whole family to enjoy.

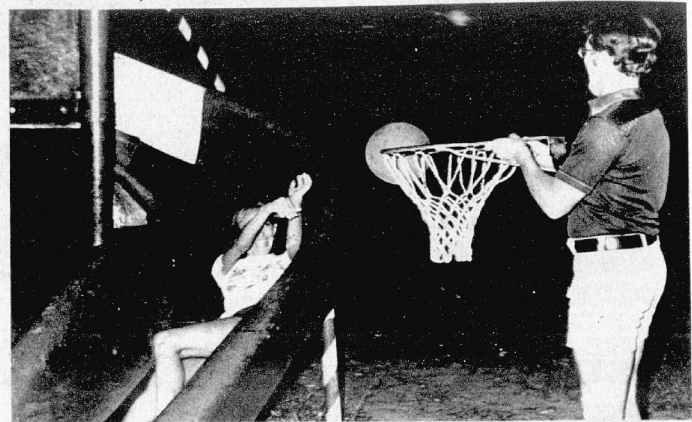

If you have watched the popular ABC series "Almost Anything Goes", you know how much excitement and fun there is in store for the Avon Park Team and spectators.

The main competition of the stunts will be made up of five events which all three seven-member teams will be expected to participate. Points will be awarded for first, second and third place finishers, with the team with most total points being declared the days winners. In between the events, there will be time for the spectators to take part in their own crazy stunts, in the way of carnival booths.

It should be great entertainment for everybody so pack up and come to watch this crazy competition, just for the fun of it!

OOPS! IT MISSED! The Battle of the Highlands at Lake Placid may have some zany contests like this to watch. If you think it's easy, try shooting from a fast wet slide as team member Donna Guenther tried, with Bill Warner holding the hoop. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Commissioners

Get Hung Up On Barbed Wire

The Highlands County Commissioners got hung up on barbed wire again Tuesday.

The board had scheduled a public hearing to consider the adoption of an ordinance that would prohibit the erection of a barbed wire fence in purely residential areas. Under the proposed amendment to the zoning code, only those residential areas bordering agricultural lands would be allowed to use the wire. Last year, commissioners ordered the ordinance drawn up after DeSoto City residents complained of a neighbor's use of the wire in an area populated with children. However, when the ordinance came to a vote, it was defeated by the commission.

The ordinance was removed from the scrap heap several weeks ago, when a delegation of Sebring area residents objected to a Recreation Drive resident erecting a barbed wire fence. The commissioners ordered another public hearing on the amendment, which was discussed Tuesday.

The board members again declined to adopt the ordinance as prepared, but acted to consider an ordinance similar to the one in effect in Sebring, banning any barbed wire below six feet.

Robert Skipper claimed that "no one was interested," in the ordinance banning all barbed wire in residential areas, and said the commission "would only be taking away more of the landowner's rights."

He then made a motion to reject the ordinance, and was seconded by Cecil Skipper.

Chairman Norman "Jug" Heston maintained that "Every time neighbors have a dispute, we can't adopt an ordinance," but he did suggest going to the six-foot minimum height law, with a two-foot setback required.

"That way, the only people getting hurt by it will be the ones trying to climb over the fence, and I don't see why in the world a kid would be trying to climb over a six-foot fence. He's got to be up to no good."

He added that a son of his had recently had an unfortunate encounter with the barbed wire on top of a tall chain-link fence, and concluded, "I wasn't mad at the guy who put up the fence, I was mad at my son because he was some place that he knew he wasn't supposed to be."

Building official Hank Eves said that the city had eliminated its problems with barbed wire by going to the six-foot minimum adding "I don't think we should ban the wire from residential areas, but it should be controlled."

Robert Skipper said that "This is only the second complaint we have had of this nature, and I believe that if it were that serious of a problem, we would have heard a lot more about it by now."

C. J. "Buddy" Wise said he could "appreciate the feeling of the residents," but said that "to eliminate all possible danger to kids, we'd have to outlaw lawnmowers, cars and everything else." Carl Arant Jr., the board's leading opponent to barbed wire, said "I still do not see the reason for barbed wire in residential areas, and we have to look out for some kids who have not even reached the age of accountability."

The motion to reject the proposed ordinance passed unanimously, and the board then voted, 4-1, to have a six-foot minimum height ordinance for barbed wire drawn up. Robert Skipper cast the dissenting ballot.

Zoning Director Bill Stephenson explained that if the new proposal were adopted, barbed wire would not be allowed in front of a house, or 25 feet down each side, as the county has a four-foot height limitation on fences in those areas.

In other public hearings Tuesday morning, the board updated portions of the Highlands County Building Code, granted a franchise to the Cox Cablevision Corp. and officially established the county law library.

"Good Driver"

Program Under Fire

One portion of the new automobile insurance reform law is currently "catching the devil," and deservedly so. The so-called "good driver" incentive program is now under fire not only from motorists but also from law enforcement, judges and local county officials. Personally, I have asked for a special session of the Legislature to repeal the fund.

I've maintained from the start that this program was an abomination. It's fine in principle — rewarding good drivers — but the plan as passed by the Legislature is virtually unworkable.

To qualify for a rebate under the program, you have to be free of any traffic violations over the previous years and also have to carry full liability insurance protection, even though it is not mandated by the law.

At present, however, the state has no record of who has liability insurance and who doesn't.

To make the incentive program work, the state would have to establish a whole new record-keeping system. This and other expenses associated with the program would consume, according to our best estimate, up to two-thirds of all money collected, leaving very little to be divided among those drivers who do qualify for the incentive awards.

The incentive program's provision which increases moving traffic violation fines from $25 to $57.75 to provide refund money for "good drivers" has also come under fire from law enforcement officials in recent weeks as being unfair and excessive.

The number of traffic citations issued has dropped — up to 50 percent in some areas — apparently due to officers' reluctance to issue such stiff penalties for minor traffic violations.

This sharp drop has county administrators upset because traffic fines contribute significantly to the operating expenses of county government, especially the court system. The program is certain to end up in the state Supreme Court where it will, I believe, be finally declared unconstitutional.

The goal of the incentive program — rewarding good drivers — is commendable, but the way that it is attempted is grossly unfair and unworkable.

It fully deserves the "devil" it's catching.

Youngsters

Are On

Recovery Road

Goff was bitten by a white dog with brown spots, on May 23. Although police searched for the dog, they were unsuccessful in locating him.

This presented the boy's father, Clem Goff with a dilemma: should he put Huling through the pain of the 14 injection treatment for rabies, or should he just wait and hope that the dog did not have rabies?

The deadline for giving the shots has long since passed and Mrs. Goff said because of her daughter's painful experience with the shots and their doctor's advice, they decided not to put Huling through the ordeal.

The patient is given one shot a day for almost two weeks and they must be injected into the stomach which is very painful. You almost have to knock the child out," said Mrs. Goff.

Mrs. Goff said the place where the dog bit Huling has healed up nicely and so far he has not had any after-effects. But, Mrs. Goff also said that since the dog was never found, it will be six months to a year before they can be sure that Huling does not have rabies. "We just have to wait and hope," Mrs. Goff said.

Sebring Man Arrested On Disorderly Charges

A Sebring man was arrested on a trio of charges last Wednesday after allegedly striking a sheriff's deputy.

Peter Marshall Rutherford, 20, was booked into Highlands County Jail on charges of disorderly intoxication, battery, and resisting arrest with violence.

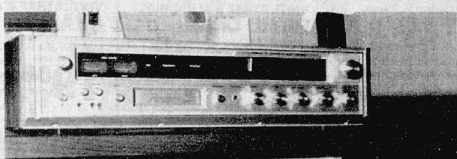

According to a report filed by two sheriff's deputies, they were parked near the intersection of SR 64 and U. S. 27 in Avon Park, when a car carrying Rutherford drove by them. Rutherford allegedly leaned out of a car window and shouted a stream of obscenities at the officers.

The car was pulled over, but when the deputies attempted to question the suspect, he allegedly continued directing profanities in the direction of the deputies.

Rutherford was then placed under arrest for disorderly intoxication, but when a deputy attempted to place him in a patrol car, he reportedly struck the officer twice, and refused to enter the vehicle.

The suspect was eventually placed in the patrol car, arrested on the battery and resisting charge, and carried back to the jail.

Divers Recover Stolen Stereo

Although it may not be covered under the manufacturers' warranty, a stereo recovered by the sheriff's department may have survived the ultimate in "Torture Tests."

With the aid of scuba divers "Butch" Snelgrove and Chris Butler, deputies successfully retrieved a stolen AM-FM stereo receiver from the bottom of a small lake in the Avon Park Lakes area Sunday.

The unit was reported stolen from the home of Avon Park High School Principal Les Watson in May, and had been missing until deputies received information as to the stereo's whereabouts.

According to sheriff's department spokesmen, the stereo has been dried out and is currently working "as good as new."

Investigators estimate that the unit was submerged in the lake for approximately one week.

County Dump Rated

Highlands County apparently has the best dump around, as the DeSoto City City landfill has been officially lauded by a Department of Environmental Regulations inspector.

Fred Bartleson, an environmental specialist for the state DER, addressed a letter to the Board of Commissioners saying that after a recent inspection trip to the DeSoto City and Avon Park landfills, he found "everything to be outstanding."

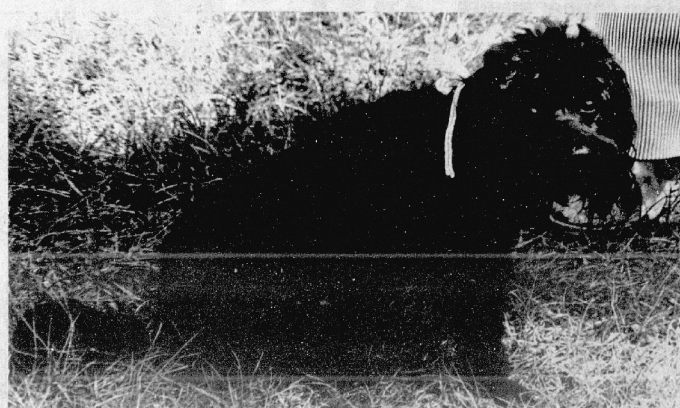

He added that "Highlands County has done an exceptional job in providing for solid waste disposal in an environmentally sound method."

Bartleson told the commissioners that he was attempting to institute a program with the goal of recognizing the efforts of counties which have established an efficient method of waste disposal.

According to the inspector, the first two dumps to be honored would be the Naples landfill in Collier County, and the DeSoto City landfill.

Traffic Court News

The following cases involving accidents have been disposed of in county traffic court as listed: Donna Lee Woods, driving while intoxicated, fined $485; unlicensed $12 court costs, one month suspended license, 10 days in county jail; without and without reckless driving, 10 days in county jail, sentences to run concurrently. Joni Varnes Farmer, violation of the right of way, fined $31.30, assessed $12 court costs, attend defensive driving school.

Volunteers Working To Complete Ball Complex

By MARK ALBRIGHT

In the beginning, the City of Avon Park had the County Engineer draw up plans for a baseball complex, to be located west of U.S. 27, on State St. That beginning was three years ago and now the complex has been under construction since a year ago last spring.

The complex is being constructed on 10-acres of land owned by the city. Most of the construction costs are being paid for with a $50,000 grant which the city received from the county for recreational use.

John Zeigler, superintendent of public works, said that most of the work is being done by volunteers during their free time. This explains why it is taking so long to complete the complex, but it was necessary to keep the construction costs down.

The complex will be made up of four diamonds. Two of these will be for softball, one will be a Little League field and one larger field will be for Senior League Baseball. Each field will have two dugouts and each dugout will have its own phone so the teams can keep in touch with the press box.

In addition, the complex will include a refreshment stand, restrooms, and seating for 400 to 500 people.

Many local businessmen donated their services to aid in completing the complex. Mack Flowers, along with John Bridges, Melvin Kangerter, Harry Chadwick, Milton Bass, Arthur Williams, and Ralph Callahan from the Florida Power Company, installed the electrical system. The City of Avon Park seeded the ballfields with the aid of Pinecrest Country Club. Cox Plumbing installed the pipework and Mort Jackson did the masonry work. The lights for two of the ballfields have been installed recently, but completion date for the complex has not yet been set.

Zeigler said that the local schools, with the exception of the Avon Park High School baseball team may use the complex. The reason for this is that the fields will not be large enough for them to use. The public is also free to use the ballfields.

The three local leagues will use the complex for their competition. The Church League, Commercial League, and the Women's Slow-Pitch Softball League will make use of the ballfields. The fields are already in use for the Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament which was held on the 15-17 of July, and the Fast-Pitch Tournament to be held this weekend.

Lucy Derkman said of the baseball complex, "I am really proud of our city for its recreational facilities."

Jackson's Tighten Hold On First Place Lead

This week and next week will finish out the first session of the Avon Park Men's Commercial Slowpitch schedule with action switching to two games each Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights at the Avon Park Volunteer Ball Complex at 7 and 8:30 p.m. Whether a second half schedule will be set up will be decided at a meeting this week.

Jackson Masonry remained undefeated and in first place in league standings after last week's play with a 9-0 record. The Jackson team defeated Air Force 14-8 and Agra Chem 17-7 last week to stay at the top with just three more games to play.

APCI held on to second place with a 7-1 record but were to take on the tough Jackson team last Tuesday night at 7 p.m. APCI defeated Avon Paint & Body 16-12 last Friday night in its only game of the week.

Air Force was in third place with a 4-4 mark at the end of play last week. The 14-8 loss to Jackson's and a 10-9 loss to Agra Chem on Monday of last week dropped Air Force to the 4-4 record.

Avon Paint & Body with two games to make up, finished out the week with a 3-4 record and Agra Chem with the win over Air Force and the loss to Jackson's moved to a 3-6 record. Coca Cola, with a make-up game due with A.P. & B., was 2-5 at the end of last week.

The only witness team was the Avon Park Eagle squad which had lost 8 straight games, and has 4 more on the schedule. The Eagles lost a 15-12 game to Avon Paint & Body last Tuesday a week ago. Wednesday a week ago Air Force trounced Coca Cola 11-2.

Games scheduled for last Tuesday night were between APCI and Jackson's at 7 p.m. and Air Force and A.P. & B. at 8:30 p.m. Last Wednesday night, August 3, the Eagles were to play Coca Cola in the early game and A.P. & B. was to play Jackson's at 8:30 p.m. Tonight (Thursday) it will be Coca Cola vs. Agra Chem at 7 p.m. and the Eagles vs. APCI at 8:30 p.m.

Next Tuesday, August 9, Jackson's will play Coca Cola at 7 p.m. and Air Force will take on the Eagles at 8:30 p.m. Next Wednesday, Aug. 10, APCI will go against Coca Cola early and Agra Chem will play Avon Paint & Body in the late game.

Next Thursday, Aug. 11, the session will end with Agra Chem playing the Eagles at 7 p.m. and APCI meeting Air Force at 8:30 p.m.

Renewal of reserved seat tickets may be taken care of this week and through Aug. 15 by paying $3 per reserved seat ticket plus purchasing a season ticket for each reserved seat ticket. Season tickets will sell for $8 for adults and $4 for students.

Only persons already holding reserved seat tickets may purchase the same seats through Aug. 19. Then from Aug. 22 through Aug. 26, tickets may be exchanged for any available seats in the

Leaders Lose Game Each But Retain Lead

A battle between the two undefeated teams in the Avon Park Church Slowpitch Softball League last Monday night resulted in a loss for both First Baptist No. 1 and the Nazarenes. The Nazarenes won an unfinished game by the score of 10-6 but the First Baptist No. 1 team won the regular game to post a 9-1 record with just two games left on the schedule. The Nazarenes are presently 8-1 with a rained out game with the Seventh Day Adventists to be made up yet.

This is the last week of play in the Church League. The Episcopalians had a 6-4 record after play — ended last week. The Seventh Day Adventists were 5-2 before last Monday night's game with 2 rained outs to be made up. First Baptist No. 2 went into last Monday night's game with a 3-5 record and had a rained out game to make up.

Florida Avenue Baptist was 1-8 at the end of last week with one game to be made up and Fellowship Baptist had an 8-1 record with just a game against Florida Avenue left on the twelve game schedule. That game is scheduled for next Monday night along with a game between First Baptist No. 1 and the Seventh Day Adventists.

Last Tuesday night, August 2, First Baptist No. 2 was to play First Baptist No. 1 early and the Seventh Day Adventists were to take on the Nazarene team in the 8:30 p.m. game. Tonight, Thursday, August 4, it will be the Episcopalians against Florida Avenue at 7 p.m. and the Nazarenes playing First Baptist No. 2 at 8:30 p.m.

In action last week the Seventh Day Adventists defeated Florida Avenue Baptist 11-1 and First Baptist No. 1 beat Fellowship Baptist 10-1 on Monday. First Baptist No. 2 defeated Fellowship 9-5 in the early game on Tuesday night but the second game between the Episcopalians and the Seventh Day Adventists was rained out.

Pressure Injuries Are Serious

Serious injuries requiring extensive surgery and sometimes resulting in the loss of a finger or hand can be caused by high pressure "guns" spraying grease or paint through a nozzle.

The Florida Medical Association warns that such injuries are usually not considered serious enough by the victim to warrant medical attention until it is too late.

Nozzles of paint and grease guns emit a fine jet stream from 600 to 7,000 pounds per square inch—the muzzle velocity of a rifle. Paint or grease fired at these velocities is driven through the skin and spreads along the affected limb, and after having entered through the finger, may be found in the hand, forearm or elbow.

The substance must be surgically removed as soon as possible, but neglect of such an injury can necessitate amputation.

YOU NEVER GRADUATE FROM THE SCHOOL OF FAITH

The completion of your education, whether high school or college, brings you literally to the threshold of life. You have now been given all the skills you will need to go out into the "real" world and face whatever problems and challenges will be thrown in your way. In the same manner, your religious education will prepare you to come to grips with life; only there is no "graduation" from this school. Faith must be continually studied, renewed and practiced, and your education never stops, but the rewards are the confidence and peace of mind which enable you to face any situation that may arise. This knowledge is available to you at the Church of your choice every Sunday.

Knowledge is proud that he has learned so much. Wisdom is humble that he knows no more.
—William Cowper

"A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels."
—Proverbs 1:5

LP Gas Company Is A Family Affair

The Ridge Fuel warehouse located on the North side of town. Ridge Fuel was the first LP gas company in Avon Park.

He was born in the panhandle of Texas, near Amarilla, in 1896, but his family moved to a farm in Gadsden, Tenn., when he was six weeks old.

Franklin Welch Sr., 81, moved to Avon Park, December 5, 1918 and married Rosa Thaxton of Kentucky, May 6, 1923.

"It was sort of funny where we met. It was in a strawberry patch in Tennessee," Welch said with a little chuckle.

They have 6 children, 8 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild.

In 1935, Welch, his brother Ed, and Harry Price decided to go into the LP (liquefied petroleum) Gas business and open the first gas company in Avon Park.

Welch bought out his brother and Prices interest in 1957, and since then it has been a family affair.

After Welch retired in 1974, when he became totally blind, he turned the company over to his children.

His two sons, Franklin Jr. and Glenn now operate the business along with two of the daughters, Mrs. Dot Childers and May Welch.

"The main problem we had when we first opened, was people were afraid of gas. So, we decided to call the business Ridge Fuel Company, but we sold Green's Fuel, which could be confusing," explained Welch, "Really we learned as we went. I was the service man and attended a gas refrigerator school in Evansville, Ind. Later I went back and attended their gas air conditioner school."

"At this time they did not make stoves for LP gas and Welch had to convert or rebuild natural gas stoves, so they would burn properly when using LP gas.

Welch reminisced about Avon Park. "It has really grown since I came here. I can remember when there was only one street going through the middle of town and a hotel and hardware store sat where the bandstand is now."

In its 42 years of existence, Ridge Fuel Company has grown, under the guidance of Welch, from a one truck and two hired employee operation, to four tank trucks, three service trucks and nine employees.

Frank Welch Sr., 81, helped establish the first LP gas company here in Avon Park, along with his brother Ed and Harry Price, 42 years ago.

On The Consumer's Side

by Mrs. Lee F. Rumbley

If you as a consumer have been misled, deceived, or have questions you need clarified, call the toll free telephone number of the Florida Department of Agriculture, Consumer Services, Tallahassee: 1-800-342-2178.

Or write: Mrs. Lee F. Rumbley, Consumer Services Coordinator, The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, The Division of Consumer Services, Mayo Building, Tallahassee, Fla. 32304.

Question: I need to buy a car that will be used to drive to and from school. I have already found a used model with low mileage that would be fairly economical on gas. I now have to find a place that will finance it. Would I be better off to finance it through the dealer or a bank?

Answer: Many consumers at one time or another find that they do not have immediately available the money they need to make a purchase. In such a situation, an installment loan provides a possible source of funds.

But taking out an installment loan should involve certain considerations on the part of the consumer.

One major consideration should be: Where can the money be borrowed at the cheapest price?

A wise consumer knows that comparison shopping for money is as important as comparison shopping for goods or services. Consequently, one should check the finance charge and interest rate at each of several include:

- (a) The retail outlet where the purchase is made.
- (b) Commercial bank
- (c) Finance company
- (d) Bank credit card
- (e) Credit union

The difference in finance charge and annual interest rate make clear the necessity of shopping around. The difference between the cheapest and the most expensive can be considerable.

Points To Consider:

Don't borrow unless you really must. Paying cash - even if this cash has to come out of a savings account - is cheaper than borrowing from any commercial lending source.

When you do borrow, arrange to pay off the debt in as few installments as you can afford. The longer your loan runs, the more expensive it is.

Beware of statements like "Easy Credit," "No Money Down," "Low Monthly Payments." Such statements often bear little relationship to the actual availability or cost of the loan.

The most important figure - and a figure that you must be given according to Federal law in any contract for an installment loan - is the "Annual percentage rate." The cheaper the "Annual percentage rate" the cheaper the loan.

Even though you expect to finance your purchase don't forget to shop around for the best price for the purchase. Comparison shopping for a loan follows comparison shopping for the product.

Question: I want to give a friend some small appliance (blender, can opener or toaster) as a wedding gift. What points should I consider when buying?

Answer:

- 1) Consider and decide in advance what small appliance you want to buy.
- 2) Know what the appliance does and is capable of doing.
- 3) Does the electric can opener also sharpen knives and crush ice?
- 4) Find out where you can find the largest selection of brands and models of the particular appliance and - most importantly - where you can get the best price without sacrificing quality.
- 5) Inquire about the bad points as well as the good points of the particular make and model you are buying. This information can be obtained from consumer guides, from in-store demonstrations, from friends who already own a similar appliance.
- 6) Know if the store where you purchase the appliance offers reliable and economical repair service.

Gardening Is Fun For Everyone

One doesn't have to own a large home on an acre lot to enjoy gardening. A balcony or patio of a condominium or small areas around a trailer offer plenty of room for "container gardening".

The popularity of raising plants in containers has increased tremendously in recent years. Container gardening is adaptable and versatile. Particularly all plants can be grown in a pot, box, can or jar-at least temporarily.

Plants in containers can be moved indoors during cold spells or simply for use as an interior decoration. Pot gardening makes it possible to have plants you couldn't otherwise grow outdoors for an indefinite period.

A container plant is much more dramatic than the same plant when massed with other plants. A container creates a special setting for a plant and thus accentuates its qualities.

It is almost impossible for container gardening to be boring. Plants can be rotated to create all types of effect. Seasonal flowering plants can be brought on-stage when they are at their maximum beauty and then removed to be replaced with another plant.

For example, imagine how lovely your patio could be with spring bulbs and azaleas followed by summer annuals like marigolds and salvia, then fall flowering mums and finally Christmas poinsettias. This is what can be done with container gardening.

Here is a checklist of basic points to be considered in container gardening.

Select a container of the right size and shape for the growth characteristics and appearance of your plant. The container is half the picture. A handsome plant deserves a handsome planter and vice versa.

The container can be practically anything-from a tea kettle or antique urn to a terra cotta pot, clay pot, wooden box, clay flue tile or even a crevice in a rock or an old log. Fine ceramic and redwood containers can be purchased but handmade containers are always the best since they represent your own talent.

Even an old mailbox with cascading petunias draping down from the opening is a most suitable container. Let your imagination be your guide.

Use a porous, fast-draining soil mix such as half peat and half coarse sand. Plants need good drainage for growth so use a porous mix and not a clay mix. Also for drainage, make sure the containers have holes in the bottoms. If holes are not present and can't be bored in the container, be very careful with watering. Too much water is almost always worse than too little water.

Plants grown in pots or boxes need to be fertilized regularly during the growing season. Watering can readily leach nutrients from containers so fertilize often.

Most plants need repotting in fresh soil mix when their roots fill the container. This "root bound" condition requires repotting or root pruning.

Most container plants can be brought indoors for varying periods of time and should be rotated to increase their usefulness.

Suitable plants are practically unlimited. Foliage plants such as palms, bamboo and philodendron, etc. make excellent container plants but don't omit flowering plants like annuals, perennials and bulbs.

Herbs, hanging basket plants, ferns and fruit trees are other choices. Also try flowering shrubs and trees like azaleas, bougainvillea, crape myrtle, gardenias, roses and others.

Sen. Richard Stone is supporting efforts in Congress to abolish forced retirement at age 65 for federal and private employees.
Stone said he would endorse legislation to amend provisions dealing with mandatory retirement in the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA) of 1967.
Hearings were conducted, July 26 and 27, in the Senate Human Resources Subcommittee on Labor on five Senate bills which seek to alter present mandatory retirement laws.

A similar measure pending in the House has just been reported out of the Education and Labor Committee and will be considered on the floor before the end of this year's session.
"It would be better for older people, for the country and for businesses to allow experienced, competent individuals to continue working if they wish," he said.
"Retirement should not be based on an arbitrary factor like age."
Stone added, "A basic problem we have in the United States is our obsession with youth. We're a very youth-oriented society and often thoughtlessly push aside our older citizens when they are still able and productive. This is a needless waste of the talent and skills possessed by older workers."

His bill, S. 78, would raise from $3,000 to $7,800 a year the amount a Social Security recipient could earn before benefits are reduced.
The bill also would raise to $13,000 a year the amount that could be earned before benefits are cut off completely.

Club News

This week Ernest and Mary Thomas returned after spending two months in Michigan. The first part of their trip was a real treat with the furnace in use. But the last month they say it was REAL HOT.
Monday morning we were happily surprised with a short visit with Rev. Lee Roy and Elizabeth Hanks. They had been on a trip and just stopped at the club on their way through Avon Park.

This week the Chester Seegers have moved into a new home. Best wishes for much happiness in your new home.
Several members have asked for Merrill Wilnot's address. I am happy to forward it to you. It is c-o Helen Clark, 5580 Wentworth Drive, Riverside, Calif. 92506.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Finnemore are visiting Allene Howard. Mrs. Finnemore (Marlynn) is Allene's daughter and the mother of Debbie and Diane who have been here sometime. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Howard of Cocoa, Fla. met the family last Sunday for dinner in Winter

Haven. They all enjoyed a day at Disney World especially the Parade and Fireworks. Debbie who has been here for a year will return home with her parents. We will all miss you

Debbie Herrman Young, a former club member and the brother of Lloyd Young, passed away last week.
