Bonnie Brae Park News

By MARGIE WELLS

Ellen Hunt returned on Tuesday from a visit with her son and family in Trujillo Alto, Puerto Rico, and tells that she had a very good time. She said the weather was much like here in Florida and the flowers were gorgeous. This is a volcanic island and the soil is richer than here so the shrubs and flowers familiar to Floridians abound but are much more lush. The famous Pabla Castele Festival which is held each year, usually in May, was in June this year so she enjoyed one concert "live" plus several more which were broadcast on TV. Also she attended church one Sunday at the Union Church of San Juan and heard music played on a very large Allen digital-computer organ which she said was a real thrill.

In a letter from Olive Bechtle she says that she has had a busy summer "but not much to show for it." She reports that the Kinneys recently sat the McFredericks and that Lee is doing fine and feeling better than he has for a long time. Alice and Howard Mailing report that when they return in October, they will be permanent residents. That's the kind of news we like to hear!

Fred Geiger who has been in the hospital is feeling very good and is home again. Also, La Detrick is home again after being a hospital patient and is feeling much better. However, Mrs. Pauline Pelkey was taken by ambulance to Walker Memorial Hospital on Sunday, where she will have surgery on Wednesday morning. We all wish her a speedy recovery and hope she will be home again soon.

On Sunday, Ann Lockwood had as her guests Wesley's cousin and his wife, Jane and Bill Liddy from Elmira, New York. Ann cooked barbeque chicken with all the trimmings (minus the calories, she said), which they all enjoyed. Then they spent a couple of hours reliving the old good times!

We would like to extend our sympathy to Guy Detrick in the loss of his sister, Mrs. Charles Melvin, who died this week in Detroit, Michigan. She had visited here and had many friends in Bonnie Brae.

Betty and Lou Vedder report that they are very busy running the golf course in Traverse City, Michigan, and are looking forward to returning in the fall.

Thelma Miller spent last week-end in Sarasota visiting with Mrs. Harry Gregory, and also did some shopping.

We urge everyone who is driving over the Fourth of July weekend to drive carefully and have a happy and safe holiday!

Dennis Shea Named Florida Gas Controller

Dennis S. Shea has been elected Controller of Florida Gas Company, effective July 1, 1977.

Shea, a certified public accountant, was former Audit Manager for the Orlando, Florida office of Arthur Andersen & Co. He replaces Robert L. Cramer, who resigned to pursue personal business interests.

A native of Lake Placid, New York, Shea grew up in St. Petersburg and received a B.S. degree in Accounting from the University of Florida in 1970. He joined the Commercial Audit Division of Arthur Andersen's Atlanta office in 1970 and was transferred to Orlando in 1973. In 1975, he was promoted to Commercial Audit Manager.

Florida Power Price Rise Is Lowest

In its 1976 annual report, issued this week, the Florida Public Service Commission (PSC) said that, excluding the cost of fuel, the basic cost of electricity has risen less for customers of Florida Power Corporation than for those of the three other major electric utilities in the state for the five year period between 1971-76.

Citing 1000 kilowatt hours costs, the PSC statistics showed that power prices in Miami had gone up by 30.4 per cent; in Pensacola by 39.3 per cent; in Tampa by 48.3 per cent; and in St. Petersburg by 24.5 per cent.

Contrasting this with other consumer price rises during the same period, the PSC annual report pointed to increases of generally greater amounts for other goods and services. For instance, a gallon of milk, said the report, has gone up by 55 per cent; a semi-private hospital room by 74 per cent; a tourist class ticket between Tallahassee and Miami by 49 per cent; the cost of 300 level courses at Florida State University by 60 per cent; and the price of a piece of 1/2" x 1/2" AC plywood by 84 per cent.

Energy Tips Save Money

You can waste a lot of energy and money by careless use of hot water in your home.

When you replace your gas hot water heater or appliances using hot water, be sure to investigate energy savings features which manufacturers are including in new products.

But using your appliances and hot water wisely can also save.

- 1) Reset the thermostat on your hot water heater to the warm setting, or about 120 degrees.
- 2) Install a special insulation jacket around the outside of your water heater (kits are available at many stores).
- 3) Repair dripping water faucets (hot and cold).
- 4) Wash full loads of clothes and dishes.
- 5) Use less water when bathing.

Do It Yourself Fireplaces Provide Back Up Heat Source

Because of fuel shortages and increasing costs of home heating fuels many homeowners today are installing the Heetilator heat-circulating fireplace as an auxiliary or back up heat source. The installation can be completed by the family handy man as a weekend project.

Fuel shortages and rising pricing of home heating fuels have rekindled an interest in the ever-popular fireplace as an auxiliary or back up "heat source". The controlled heat-circulating fireplace shown being installed as a typically easy do-it-yourself project, heats and recirculates air through ducts back out into the same or adjoining rooms. And, the heat can be regulated—a control feature unique with the Heetilator Fireplace design.

The original version used with masonry construction has been on the market more than forty years. The modern zero-clearance heat circulator offers many advantages. These include the elimination of costly footings as well as the time, inconvenience and expense involved in masonry work.

The special zero-clearance design of insulation and air cooling also allows this fireplace to be placed directly on wood floors or against walls in virtually any room. This allows the owner to enjoy traditional fireplace living almost anywhere in their home.

The Sky's The Limit On Making Ceilings Livelier

Ceilings once took a back seat in homes. They were drab. When you built or redecorated your home you were a lot more interested in wall coverings and carpeting—mainly because you had a choice of colors, patterns and textures.

Now, the sky's the limit. Now you can choose a ceiling that lends new beauty to your home, complements your decorating ideas and decor.

Gold Bond ceilings come in 16 different and highly styled, unique designs that cap-off whatever decorative idea you have, whatever your furnishings—from traditional to modern. And most Gold Bond ceilings are washable.

One is Lava, an all white embossed design—classic in its simplicity. Another is Roma, an embossed ceiling combining white over a soft beige finish. Another design is Atlantis, a three dimensional pattern that lends life to a room with its sculptured surface. silentex—the ceiling that absorbs noise—gives your home a warm, relaxed atmosphere. And our newest—Lexington—has an embossed pattern that adds a tasteful geometric design to ceilings.

And there are 12 more Gold Bond ceilings, each unique in pattern and texture, all designed to give you the ceiling you want in your home.

Gold Bond ceiling tiles are 12" x 12"; drop-in panels come in 2' x 4' size. All are easy and economical to install.

See them at your local Gold Bond dealer. Or, write for literature: The Sky's the Limit, Gold Bond Building Products, Division of National Gypsum Company, 325 Delaware Avenue, Buffalo, New York 14202.

Follow AHLI's Floor Plan To Good Home Lighting For Every Purpose

"Light has the property of being extremely dynamic. In other words, change the lighting and change the world around you."

Thus, Sociologist Alexander Kira of Cornell University, in these words, stresses the impact of lighting in our worlds, our homes.

Yet, lighting is one of the least understood elements in interior design, and few utilize its potentials for beauty, ambience and function within the home.

The American Home Lighting Institute (AHLI) recommends that a floor plan of the room be sketched, and the following questions answered, to properly light a room:

1. What is the function of the room?

2. What is the overall decorative motif of the room—Colonial, Contemporary, French Provincial, Eclectic? Your selection of fixture styles should be influenced by this.

3. What the the color scheme? Pale walls such as white and beige can reflect light up 95%, and deep colors such as dark brown and black, only 5%. This influences the amount of light required.

4. How is the room furnished?

5. How much natural light is available? Do you need to provide lighting for daytime use as well as for evening?

6. What ambience is preferred throughout the day—brighter work lighting, dimly relaxing, or a convivial setting that invites entertaining and good conversation?

7. How many electric outlets are available? Are they properly placed for changing lighting needs?

After these answers have been determined, plan your lighting scheme accordingly.

Knowing the kind of living to be expected within the room determines the kinds of light forms to be used. The choice of fixtures depends on the kind of lighting required.

For bright general lighting, the lighting specialists at the AHLI Light for Living Centers recommend a ceiling-mounted fixture or a chandelier, minimum 17 inches across, using no less than 200 watts of incandescent lighting, plus fluorescent lights or downlights along one wall for balance, to properly light a 225 square foot room.

This expands the room visually and provides a basic brightness.

These fixtures, or at least the central fixture, should be dimmer-controlled for energy saving.

Specialized "task" lighting not only focuses on task work but lights a specific decorative area such as a fireplace setting or a wall of paintings.

Track lighting, in which several fixtures are mounted in a single-wall—or ceiling-mounted track, and focused wherever preferred, is one of the most effective solutions.

And "wall-washing," effected with a row of surface-mounted or recessed spots, will dramatize a rugged stone library wall, or a gracious curtained bay window.

As you develop your individualized floor plan, select the fixtures which have the properties you require, to create a balance of lighting throughout the room.

No room should have the same level of lighting throughout. The eye and the spirit need variety in decor. Your lighting palette should include general lighting, accent light, pools and splinters of light for visual intrigue.

To create this variety, select from the brilliant designs and sizes now available; for every possible kind of decor. Heighten an Americana living room with a pioneer-inspired hanging oil lamp, a bisque or crystal chandelier that is reminiscent of a New Orleans Great House, or a ship's lantern, crafted in copper or rotisserie options, you can perform every cooking function except baking.

Each two-element cooktop module plugs into a pre-wired stainless steel chassis. They are available with either Smoothline glass tops or Econo-Coil energy-saving elements. In seconds, by simply replacing a cooktop module with the barbecue unit you are all set for a cook-out in your own kitchen.

The Dacor is available in 2-element, 4-element and 6-element models to fit any kitchen plan or cooking requirements. The chassis is only 4" deep resulting in no loss of base cabinet space. It is designed for use with conventional overhead ventilation which makes it an ideal replacement for an older cooktop as no extensive cabinet changes are required. All modules and accessory items are interchangeable on all models.

Dramatize a contemporary dining room with a gleaming chrome fixture, as much hanging sculpture as light source.

Romanticize a Spanish Colonial or Mediterranean bed room with a carved wood fixture, tipped with amber hurricane lamps.

Highlight a welcoming fireplace setting or a wall of paintings with the visual theatrics of track lighting, focusing light anywhere in the room for maximum impact.

Family Room Has Something For Everyone

A family room should be just what it says it is—a room for every member of the family, no matter what the interests or inclinations.

Because of its size, a basement can provide the ideal location for such an area.

An attractive, comfortable and functional room that fulfills a variety of family needs and requirements was fashioned from a 22' x 31' basement area.

Do-it-yourself materials were used in transforming the basement into well-defined smaller areas for specialized activities.

When the project began, typical concrete floors, cement block walls, steel posts, exposed pipe, electric lines and ducts were very much in evidence. What finally emerged, as seen in the accompanying photos, was a home within a home—a large multi-purpose room that radiates warmth and charm.

Each area was planned for privacy. The television viewing area, for example, is separated from the table tennis area. Entertainment, hobby and study areas are delineated. Plenty of storage is provided.

Walls throughout the family room were covered with Masonite brand Driftwood paneling, a light colored panel with dark, deep dimensional graining. The durable prefinished hardboard paneling is easy to install and cleans easily with just a damp cloth.

The paneling was applied to furring strips with adhesive. Nailing also can be used. The furring strips were applied to the concrete block walls with concrete nails.

The Masonite paneling was used effectively to box in one steel post and to build a closet and storage unit around another. Matching moldings were used to provide the finishing touch.

The suspended ceiling hides duct work, plumbing and electrical wiring. By installing Chandelier ceiling tile with Armstrong's Integrid system, it was possible to incorporate recessed fluorescent lighting. Available in 1' x 4' and 2' x 4' sizes, lighting panels can be used to define specific areas and provide an architectural element to the overall room design.

The Tredway vinyl flooring by Armstrong needs only to be glued along the edges for a professionally installed look. It features hundreds of innerfoam cushions which makes it ideal for installation over a concrete floor.

Every good family room has to have a "refreshment center" and this basement is no exception. A compact little gally, equipped for maximum entertaining efficiency, holds everything but a full-size range. The bar, which is fitted with a Formica plastic laminate surface, is ideal for serving a buffet.

For other forms of entertainment, an open area at one end of the basement accommodates a standard-sized fold-up table tennis table that can also double as a playing surface for other games. Near it is a storage wall lined with Peg-Board brand paneling to hold all kinds of sports and games equipment.

A study in texture is this office-study area of the basement family room. Woodgraining predominates in the natural-toned monochromatic color scheme with blue accents. Most notable is the subtle coloration and deep detailing of the hardboard paneling that sets off the study area. The Driftwood pattern from Masonite Corporation features a beach sand coloring with deeply recessed brown graining that duplicates the look of weathered and aged wood. A deeper pecan finish of the desk, chair, picture frame and clock are shown to great advantage against the softly colored panels.

Visitors entering multi-purpose basement family room are greeted by this fully-equipped "refreshment center." Combination bar and galley includes a sink, small refrigerator, and butcher block top. L-shaped bar, complete with bar rail, seats five. Attractive glass rack was built from 1x4 lumber. Note how decorative Masonite brand Driftwood paneling was extended into the staircase leading to the kitchen.

Here's a view of the galley and the back side of the bar. Refrigerator is located under butcher block work top. Peg-Board paneling along back wall accommodates small shelf and variety of other kitchen-type items.

Decorating Tips

- To add dimension to a small room, use the same color tone for floor covering, ceiling and large furniture pieces. To relieve monotony, use a bright accent color or vivid print, check or plaid, for accessories.
- For a coordinated look, try covering window shades with fabric to match curtains and/or slip covers.
- Add Old World elegance to picture arrangements by replacing simple wood frames with ornate gilt ones and the use of velvet overlays.
- For the custom look, try covering wooden window valances with wallpaper to match the walls or fabric to match curtains or upholstery.
- Dress up simple bed and mattress combination with a "custom" headboard made from wallpaper panels or strips of fabric and glued to wall.

Black glass is the class of current kitchen fashion. A new line of single and double ovens from Hotpoint can handsomely accent almost any decorating or color theme. At the same time, you'll get the convenience of the many innovations in recent years to help make meal preparation easier. Hotpoint Model RK777GT shown offers the Self-

Complete Line Of All Home Improvement Needs

PAINT -- HARDWARE -- PLUMBING

Home Improvement Is Family Affair

While some rugged handymen prefer to work alone, many do-it-yourselfers find assistance from husband-helpers. They provide extra hands when constructing a non-bearing partition by holding 2x4-inch framing studs in place.

Statistics from the U.S. Census indicate that one out of every three homes will be fixed up, built on, replaced or remodeled within this year or next.

And, while some homeowners will be seeking out the services of trade professionals, others will be doing portions of the work and sometimes even complete home improvement projects themselves.

Called "do-it-yourselfers," this latter group includes men, women and children. They, and millions like them, represent a swelling legion who spend billions each year on decorative wallcoverings and other structural building materials, according to experts at Georgia-Pacific Corp., a manufacturer and distributor of wood and gypsum building products for the home.

Primary cause for this family involvement in home improvement and repair is economic.

In one way, this do-it-yourself group is like the Archie Bunker Show on national television—they work together to keep labor costs "All in the Family."

The family affair usually starts when the wife is the first to notice that a home improvement project needs to be done. The husband and wife then confer and agree on the interior wallcovering choice; and, if the choice is a decorative prefinished wall paneling, they both are usually instrumental in its final selection and purchase.

The children, in most cases, may become involved by being present at the local retail building supplies outlet when the purchase is made, and helping dad carry out the materials.

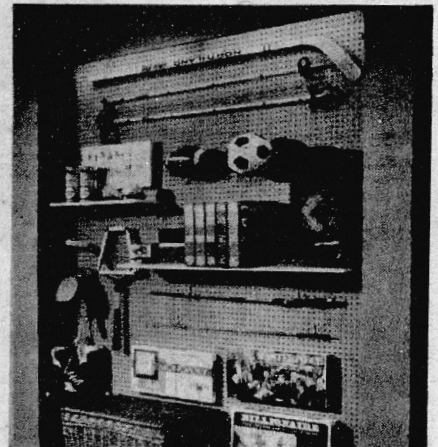

They may also help with portions of the installation during later stages of the project.

To assist the potential do-it-yourself family group in its quest for building materials selection, retail building material dealers supplied by G-P nationwide offer a complete package of products to complete any home improvement project. There are prefinished natural wood and vinyl-surfaced wood interior wall panelings and moldings, gypsum wallboard, plywood and lumber sidings for interior or exterior use, and even colored nails and adhesives for paneling application.

Helpful "how-to" installation instructions and decorating ideas are also available from the wood and gypsum products manufacturer and the dealers it serves.

They clue amateur family members with tips to complete a home improvement project with professional-looking results.

The clutter of accumulated family games and play equipment is organized into an attractive storage wall with overhead fluorescent lighting in converted basement. The conveniently installed and adaptable Peg-Board brand paneling by Masonite Corporation accommodates objects of varying sizes, shapes and purposes. The Peg-Board brand paneling is framed with 1x6 lumber, set out 6 inches from the wall. The entire unit is painted orange to complement the blue tones of the vinyl floor covering by Armstrong and the Driftwood hardboard wall paneling by Masonite.

Tips For Tightening Your Home

One of the biggest and most costly wastes of energy in the home is the unnecessary loss of heat in the winter and increase of heat in the summer through walls, ceilings, floors, doors and windows.

Insulating your home properly is one of the key ways to stop it from being an energy-waster. In addition, these other tips, from the Edison Electric Institute, will help you conserve energy:

1. Weatherstrip and caulk around all windows and doors. If they are leaking air, you may be increasing your heating bills by 15 to 30 percent.

2. Install storm windows or insulating glass. This will cut in half the amount of heat lost through the windows of your home.

3. By drawing shades or draperies on cold days when the sun isn't shining, you can also cut heat lost through windows.

4. Close the damper in your fireplace tightly when you're not using it.

5. And close the doors to the attic, basement, garage, or other unheated parts of your home so you won't spend money heating or cooling spaces when they're not being used.

Bonus Areas

More than just a car shelter, a carport should be designed also to provide storage and activity areas and enhance the looks of the house and yard.

The structure should relate to the house in style and color, although the materials may differ. For instance, a well-planned carport of western wood will compliment a brick house.

Many house plans call for the carport to be placed directly in front of the house, but in this case careful styling, landscaping and construction are vital to overall appearance.

Do It Yourself

Problem Drawers Can Be Fixed . . . By You!

YOUR PROBLEM

- Drawers stick.
- Drawers come apart.
- Handles or knobs are loose or broken.

WHAT YOU NEED

- Screwdriver
- Sandpaper
- Candle wax or paraffin

HOW-TO

For Handles and Knobs:
1. Tighten handles or knobs with screwdriver from the inside of the drawer. (Fig. 1)

2. You can buy knobs, or use small spools to replace lost knobs.

For Sticking Drawers:

1. Remove the drawer. Look for shiny places on top or bottom edges or on the sides. (Fig. 2)

2. Sand down these shiny areas. Try drawer to see if it moves more easily. Repeat sanding if it still sticks. (Fig. 3)

3. Rub the drawer and the frame, where they touch, with candle wax, paraffin, or soap. This makes drawer glide easier. This is important if drawers are usually filled with heavy items. (Fig. 4)

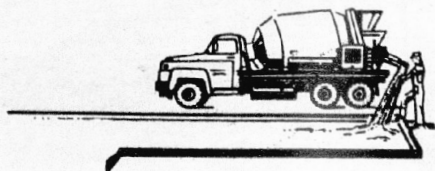

4. If glides are badly worn, the drawer may not close all the way. The drawer front strikes the frame. The drawer needs to be lifted. Remove it and insert two or three large smooth-headed thumbtacks along the front of each glide. (Fig. 5)

5. Do drawers stick only in damp weather? When weather is dry, the drawers are not sticking, coat the unfinished wood with a penetrating sealer or with wax. (Fig. 6)

No Job Too Big Or Too Small

★ Service ★ Quality ★ Integrity For Over 20 Years

It's A Major Home Improvement

Landscaping Adds Much To Your Home, Property

Major home improvement projects are on the increase. Today we will focus on one of the most popular improvement forms — new custom-planned and planted landscaping.

There are probably two basic reasons for the current trend of home owners to install or improve landscaping embellishments.

First, there is something downright therapeutic about coming home to a scene of natural beauty. The aesthetic touch of appropriate plantings lends a note of peace and security to a habitation, while adding an important element of color and zest to a household.

Second, the establishment of well-planned landscaping is one of the most value-increasing improvements a home owner can launch. More and more buyers in today's market are listing atriiums and landscaping high on "must have" lists for their new homes.

Perhaps we should add another key motivation for the resurgence of landscaping in and around American homes. Home owners, particularly the woman of the house, are rediscovering the pleasure and other benefits in caring for their home's landscaping.

"Once considered a menial task, chore-like by nature, gardening and caring for a home's landscaping has taken on the aura of snob appeal with enviable results," said Joseph P. Sullivan, president of Estech, Inc., Chicago.

"No beautiful home is complete in its owner's eyes unless the lawns and gardens are perfectly manicured," it was noted by Sullivan, whose firm is the chemicals subholding company of Esmark, Inc.

Maintaining those landscape plantings can be relaxing and pleasurable. And it can provide a natural and effective form of exercise.

Landscaping is coming of age inside the home, as well as outside. Greenery and floral displays are becoming very much a part of the architecture of today's luxury homes.

Ivy often starts inside the home, continuing into the outside landscaping. Plant stands are multileveled, creating a spacious and airy effect.

Greenhouses, attached to the main house, are also becoming more popular. They are often viewed from inner rooms through floor-to-ceiling glass.

Save Needed Space With This Kitchen

Concentrated space is the key to making every inch of this kitchen function logically and efficiently. Its 11-by-15 foot area is divided by a central work peninsula. Formica-covered for easy care. A dining area on one side has a mirrored wall, streamlined appliances on the other side team up with cabinets by St. Charles, a greenhouse and laundry. The walls, painted House & Garden Creamy Apricot with Sienna trim, complement lemon and orange colored cabinets. The kitchen also boasts adjustable lighting and 123 cubic feet of storage space.
