AVON PAINT & BODY is the Avon Park Senior League 1977 champions. The number one team wound up their season

Avon Paint & Body Are League Champs

In Avon Park Senior League action last week, the Avon Paint & Body team wrapped up the 1977 championship with wins over Avon Citrus Bank and McCann & Son Ford to set an 8-2 record with just two games left on the schedule. The champions were scheduled to play Kopta & Bennett last Tuesday night.

Kopta & Bennett had a slim hold on second place at the end of play last week with a 5-6 record followed by McCann & Son Ford with a 4-6 mark. Avon Citrus Bank closed out the week with a 3-7 record. Last Tuesday night McCann & Son Ford were to have met Avon Citrus Bank in the 8:15 p.m. game at Head Field. Tonight's games between A. P. & B. and A. C. B. and K. & B. and McCann have been cancelled by Ronnie Jackson, Senior League president.

The Senior League district tournament is set to start July 16 in Plant City. An All-Star team of 14 players and two alternates was to have been picked by the coaches last Tuesday night to represent Avon Park in the tourney. The Avon Park team will meet Zephyr Hills in the first round of the double elimination tournament. The date has not yet been set.

Jones had a double each and Ricky Johnson and Troy Brown contributed a single each in the winning effort by McCann. K. & B. batters rapped out six hits off Sisemore. Dennis Barefield, the league's leading hitter, connected for two singles as did Ronnie Barnes. Jeff Adams hit a double and Dennis Tonde came up with a single in the sixth inning for Kopta & Bennett.

Avon Paint & Body
Avon Citrus Bank 5
Wayne Lewis held the A. C. B. batters to two singles as his A. P. & B. team took advantage of thirteen free trips to first base given up by three Bank pitchers to score a 13-5 victory last Tuesday night a week ago in Senior League baseball action. Gary Farless and Jeff Caldwell got a single each off Lewis who is undefeated on the mound this season. Avon Paint & Body managed only three hits off Gerald Jones, Bubba Starling and Dwayne Council during the five inning game. Ricky Derkman, Jim Marcum and Wayne Lewis all singled for the win.

Avon Paint & Body
McCann & Son Ford 2
Last Thursday night the A. P. & B. team clinched the Senior League championship with a 4-2 win over McCann & Son Ford. Jim Marcum, a thirteen year old pitcher, went the full seven innings for Avon Paint & Body to post the mound win as he held McCann batters to three hits.

David Sisemore, with a double to the left field wall, and Warren Moreland and Alvin Hardy with a single each in the seventh inning got the only hits off the young right-hander. The Avon Paint & Body batters jumped on David Hardy for seven hits during their six innings at the plate. Tim Cribb ripped out two singles, Mark Myers hit a double, and Ricky Derkman, Jim Marcum, Wayne Lewis, and Joy May all contributed a single to the winning effort.

Kopta & Bennett 6
Kopta & Bennett came from behind to score two runs in the top of the fifth inning to take a 5-3 win over A. C. B. last Thursday night. Thirteen year old Alvin Conner, with an injury most of the season, pitched a two-hitter for Kopta & Bennett. Steve Thompson and David Jackson managed a single each off the young pitcher. Dwayne Council, also a thirteen year old, went the distance for A. C. B. giving up seven hits to the winners. Sam Barnes had a triple and a single. Jeff Adams, Johnny Barnes, Dennis Barefield, Tim Minard, and Ronnie Barnes all added a single for Kopta & Bennett to assist in the 6-5 victory.

DuPriest Captures Foxfire

Avon Park's Pete DuPriest, 16, of 407 Lake Lotella Drive, is continuing his winning ways on the amateur golf circuit by posting an 18-hole score of 69 at the Foxfire Junior Invitational Tournament in Sarasota.

The tourney, which attracted 100 entrants from all over Florida, was held Tuesday.

DuPriest's score won him the overall tournament award, even though he was competing in the 15-16 year old flight.

Although he was seeded third overall in the tourney, DuPriest blazed his way to a two stroke victory over favored Rick Pierson, who turned in a score of 71 to tie down second place. Pierson, a high school junior, has already qualified for the U. S. Open Tournament.

DuPriest told the Sun after his latest victory that he was considering a career as a professional golfer when he completes high school in 1979.

Harrison To Troy State

South Florida Junior College Pitcher Rick Harrison has recently signed a grant-in-aid baseball scholarship with Troy State University, Troy, Ala. Harrison, 6'0", 170-lbs., has been the Panthers top pitcher for the past two seasons. He was selected All-Division as a freshman on the basis of his 9-5 win-loss record. He was the starting and winning pitcher in the State All-Star Game as a freshman, pitching the first three innings of perfect baseball. As a sophomore, Harrison posted a 8-4 win-loss record and again pitched two hitless and scoreless innings in the State All-Star Game.

Harrison figures to be one of the top pitchers for Coach Joe Hollis of Troy State. Last season, Troy State received an invitation to the Southern Regional Division II post season tournament.

Highlands County Bank 3
Dover 1

Mort Jackson shined a double to the left field wall to drive in two runs in the first inning, added a single in the second frame, and scored a run in the sixth to lead Highlands County Bank to a 3-1 victory over Dover last Saturday night here at Head Field. Dale Sisemore pitched the seven inning game for Avon Park giving up a double and three singles to the Dover batters. The lone Dover run came in the seventh inning on a walk, a single and a passed ball. In addition to Jackson's double and single, Victor Roberts and Dale Sisemore had a single off losing pitcher Chip Martin. Sisemore fanned 14 Dover batters in the seven inning game.

Four teams emerged victorious in the first week of play in the Avon Park Women's Slowpitch Softball League. The Foxy Lady's Cox Plumbing, the Zodiac's and Jahna all took opening season wins on Tuesday and Thursday night of last week.

The Foxy Lady's Swamped the Tegas team 21-0 in four innings in the first game on Tuesday of last week. The Cox Plumbing came from three runs down in the last inning to slip by W. H. Grace 13-12 in a seven inning affair. Last Thursday night the Zodiac's outscored the Super Blacks 15-4 in the first game and Jahna Concrete clubbed the Scotty's 20-4 in a six inning game in the nightcap.

Last Tuesday night Jahna was to play the Zodiac's at 7 p.m. and Grace was scheduled to host Scotty's at 8:30 p.m. Tonight it will be Super Blacks vs Tegas early and Cox Plumbing against the Foxy Lady's at 8:30 p.m. Next Tuesday night in the first game, Scotty's will go against Cox, and Foxy Lady's will take on the Super Blacks in the second game.

Walstad Signs Pact With U Of F

South Florida Junior College baseball team captain Dana Walstad, signed a baseball grant-in-aid scholarship with the University of Florida.

Walstad, 6'0", 170-lbs., has been the starting shortstop for the Panthers for the past two years. Last season, he hit .326 with 24 RBI's. He was selected to play in the State All-Star Game last May. Florida Baseball Coach, Jay Bergman, told SFJC Coach, Tim Hill, last week that he expects Dana to step right into the shortstop position recently vacated when Shortstop, Roger Holt, who still had eligibility at Florida, signed a pro contract with the New York Yankees. Coach Hill added, "It is really a pleasure to see student-athletes like Dana mature into the quality players the nationally ranked colleges are looking for. This is a great opportunity for Dana and I am sure that he will take advantage of it. He is an outstanding competitor on the diamond and in the classroom."

Salaries Eat Up Budget

One of the items in Sheriff Joe Sheppard's proposed $1.45 million budget for 1977-78 is the salary bracket, which takes up approximately $796,000 of the budget request.

For the 54 employees of the Sheriff's Department, the budget seeks a $95,000 salary boost, granting each person, with the exception of the sheriff himself, a $100 per month across-the-board raise, along with the county's seven percent cost of living increase.

As a result, each employee would get a raise in pay of between $1262 and $2311.

The various salary levels for the department personnel are listed below:

Sheriff J. Sheppard, $23,965.00 to $24,403.00; Chief Dep. C. Speilgrove, $15,870.00 to $16,187.00; Chief Dep. R. McLeod, $16,128.00 to $16,437.00; Chief Inv. G. Welch, $7,224.00 to $7,524.00; Desk Clerk N. Wiggins, $8,648.00 to $8,948.00; Cook W. North, $7,882.00 to $8,182.00.

In addition, the sheriff wishes to add a total of 14 new departmental positions, which, benefits included, would cost the county an extra $147,195. Overall, the proposed budget is approximately 38 percent higher than the department budget for the present fiscal year.

The Highlands County Commissioners will review the sheriff's budget request, and ask that he reduce it by whatever amount they decide. The board cannot tell Sheppard what items to delete from the budget.

If Sheppard disagrees with the commission's request, he has the right to appeal the decision to the state, which will make the final decision.

Racquetball

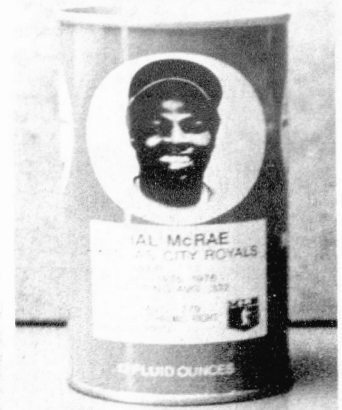

Racquetball lessons for beginners will be offered, starting July 11 at the four wall courts directly behind the Recreation Center. The classes will be divided into two separate sessions, one for the adults and one for the kids (16-12).

The adult classes will be held each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 5:30-6:30 p.m. The classes for the younger group will be held on the same days, but from 3:30-4:30 p.m.

All the classes will be for three weeks. The fee is only $3.50 per student. The class will be limited to twelve per session, so sign up early.

Learn this fantastic sport. It will provide fun and exercise for many, years to come.

The instructor, Paul Wilson, asked that everyone try to provide a racquet, but several are available for use during the lessons if you are unable to provide one. The balls will be furnished by the Recreation Department.

McDonald Lands Long, Thin One

It was an excited Chris McDonald as he pulled in one of the biggest fish he had ever caught, last Tuesday, while fishing from the shore of Lake Verona.

Using an eight inch purple worm with a red tip and 15 pound test line, Chris had been fishing alone for about an hour when the big one hit, at about 12:30 p.m. Approximately 25 inches long, the large-mouthed bass was quite thin and tipped the scales at 6½ pounds. It was the only fish that Chris caught on this fishing trip.

SFJC Signs Players

Jensen, 5'11", 180 lbs., was regarded by the majority of the college and pro scouts as one of the top catching prospects in the State of Florida. He teamed with Sebring's Robert Freeland on the Florida All-Star Team which toured Australia. Coach Hill relates, "Al was recruited heavily by the junior colleges and we are very fortunate that Al will be attending SFJC."

Parker, 5'11", 165-lbs., pitched the St. Cloud High School Team to the State Class 2-A Championships. Avon Park Fans should remember both Parker and Jensen as they were the battery that defeated the Red Devils, 5-0, at Head Field to eliminate Avon Park from the state tournament. SFJC Coach Hill stated, "Gary has extremely good control for a high school pitcher, has good location with his pitches and is a very aggressive player."

Recreation Area Will Be Closed

The Avon Park Recreation Area will be closed the weekend of July 9 and 10 due to scheduled military activities. The 2nd Battalion, 116th Field Artillery, Florida National Guard will be conducting artillery firing on the range that weekend. At the present time no military activities are scheduled for the weekend of July 16 and 17, 1977.

Tricky Baffling Batty Is Great Crowd Pleaser

The Avon Park City Library was bustling the last day of June. A magic show by The Baffling Batty (Greg Batty) was enjoyed by 132 children followed by a picnic in the Donaldson Park.

The magic show drew young people of all ages to the library and Mrs. Moore, City Librarian, reported that for weeks before the show all the magic books were checked out and being read in great anticipation of the show.

The Baffling Batty arrived early for his show and entertained children as they arrived with feats of magic such as rope tricks and card tricks on an individual basis — undoubtedly future Houdinis were formed right then and there.

Baffling Batty had a huge suitcase full of tricks with which he entertained the children for 30 minutes. The library is already receiving calls about when is the next show!

Following the magic show the children played in the park until a picnic lunch was served. Plates were filled with sandwiches, chips, chocolate cake and ice cold cherry punch was provided.

Special activities such as this magic show and picnic are sponsored by the FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY and they provide all the necessary funds.

The FRIENDS also fund the free movies for children and adults, the puppet shows, pre-school story hours, and are looking forward to the new programs planned for the Dawson Room.

The Library staff feels that these extra activities get children accustomed to coming to the library, learn that it is a fun place and just might get them interested in reading.

Projects Scrubbed

A pair of proposed recreation-oriented projects got a black eye from the Highlands County Commission Tuesday morning, although two more recreation projects are still being considered.

The commission voted unanimously to scrub the planned boat canal underneath U.S. 27 to connect Lake Jackson and Little Lake Jackson, after learning of some "strings" attached to the project's approval.

Administrative Assistant Charles Culens told the board that the canal had received a favorable nod as a CETA Title Six project. However, the county would be forced to pay the Department of Natural Resources a specified amount for each cubic yard of dirt removed during construction, and would have to donate the dirt to the state Department of Transportation.

Culens told the commission that he had no idea how much the county would be assessed for the total project. Commissioner "Buddy" Wise then moved to scrap the proposed canal, saying, "I don't see where the expense would be for the good of the county. There just aren't that many citizens who would benefit from this."

The other commissioners agreed. They did not pursue the matter of finding out how much it would cost.

The suggested purchase of the popular outing area Horse Hammock near Avon Park, was shelved when the board learned that the property may cost the county $50,000.

Several months ago, the board initiated action to procure funds from the state to turn the 30-acre tract into a county park.

Tuesday, Culens informed the board that the state had named the purchase, as eligible for partial state funding.

"Under this land purchase grant, it would give us 100 per cent of the first $50,000 and 50 per cent of the next $50,000," said Culens. "what you are looking at is paying $50,000 of the $150,000 purchase price."

Commissioner Wise moved to make the application for the state funds, but Robert Skipper said he could not see paying that amount "for an area that people could only use for half the year. There are a lot of times when the only way you can get up that creek is with an airboat."

"With all the other expenses involved in a county park, I just don't think it's worth it."

After a period of silence, Chairman Norman "Jug" Heston declared that Wise's motion had died for lack of a second and moved on to the next agenda item.

Later in the meeting, the board tabled action on a request the county to enlarge and improve Veteran's Beach on Lake Jackson.

Sebring Chamber of Commerce director Betty Neale explained that a state inspector had come to the county to examine a site for a possible mini-park, but had eventually concluded that any additional recreation areas on the lake should be built near Veterans' Park. "He said the area near Veteran's Park had already been disturbed, and he would not object to its expansion," said Culens.

As the county was being asked to bear the cost of the expansion, the board postponed a decision until assistant County Engineer Carl Cool could submit an estimated project cost.

The board also voted $6000 toward refurbishing a playground near the Carver School in Lake Placid's Highway Park area.

The property is presently owned by the county school board, which is attempting to sell the land, now a popular recreation spot for area residents.

If the school board will contribute the land near the school for use as a park, the board agreed to supply the $6000 needed to refurbish a basketball court and softball diamond on the site. The county would also pay for construction of a parking area.

The commissioners noted that they had no use for the buildings on the property, only the nearby land. The county will make its presentation to the school board at the school board's meeting Tuesday night.

Smith Subscribed To Paper Since 1877

Miss Daisy Smith who has been in Avon Park since coming to live with Uncle Irving Smith in 1933 came into the Sun office and reported that her family has been subscribing to the Green Bay Press-Gazette paper since it was first published 100 years ago.

Her father, Henry Smith started taking the daily paper when it was first published in 1877 and some member of her family has been receiving the daily and Sunday editions all through the intervening years. But living in Avon Park they have also been reading the Avon Park Sun since 1933.

Known as the Daily State Gazette, 100 years ago, it carried some of the following items. A new thing in the line of suspenders is just out. They will straighten you up and there is no strain on the buttons. The commencement exercises of the graduating class of the Green Bay high school drew an appreciative audience who showered beautiful bouquets on the class members.

Expensive Accident

A car-serm accident caused over $5500 in damage to the vehicles involved June 26, through both drivers escaped injury.

The Florida Highway Patrol said Mark W. Albright of Avon Park was slowing to make a turn on SR 64 when a semi driven by Michael C. Wolter of Venice struck his vehicle in the rear.

Trooper Jim Benton charged Wolter with careless driving.

She Paints Without Formal Lessons

photos and text by Barbara Cornell

Mrs. Margaret Bush moved to Avon Park with her husband from Virginia in 1968.

This mother of two and grandmother of five, picked up a paint brush for the first time in 1953. Without any formal training she painted for about two years and stopped, because of family reasons.

After moving to Florida she found she had more time and decided to start painting again in 1971.

Mrs. Bush did take an art course at South Florida Junior College for nine weeks, under the direction of Carol Thiene.

"The reason I took the course was to learn more about what I needed to improve on. I was a little upset because the teacher never criticized my paintings or told me I was doing anything wrong. She just kept saying she wished she could paint so well," stated Mrs. Bush.

She paints animals, still life, portraits and landscape with water colors, pastels, acrylics, oils and art tissue paper.

One of Mrs. Bush's sons studied art in high school and she would watch him. She had always wanted to paint but did not think she could.

She was a member of a Homemakers Club where she learned all types of handy crafts. They were to have a meeting and Mrs. Bush went, except it was the wrong day. Instead of a meeting, they were having a painting class, so she stayed and watched.

That is when she decided she would start painting.

Now this grandmother has won many awards and ribbons for her paints. Last year when she entered her paintings at the Highlands County Fair, they placed here in the professional division.

On May 28 of this year she went to Tampa and entered a couple of her paintings in the Ybor City Arts Festival and came home with an Award of Merit and $20.

"The judge looked me up during the show, which is unusual, and told me my work was beautiful and that I would have won Best of Show if I had framed the painting with non-glare glass," Mrs. Bush said.

She has also exhibited her paintings in the Avon Park City Library twice and the library purchased her painting of a clown.

Last year Mrs. Bush decided it was time she learned to drive, so she took the car on the back roads in Avon Park

Lakes and taught herself.

When Mrs. Bush is not painting she is sewing (making her own cloths, sock monkeys, and dolls), macraming, and involved in many other crafts.

"... I think God for talent. I think he knew that one day I would need something to keep my busy and this is what he gave me. The gift to paint," stated Mrs. Bush.

Mrs. Margaret Bush enjoys sewing and makes all her clothes. She also makes frogs, sock monkeys, and many other types of stuffed dolls and toys.

When Mrs. Margaret Bush is not painting or sewing she like to macrame. She has made many plant hangers for herself and friends.

Mrs. Margaret Bush first picked up a paint brush in 1953, but she quit painting after two years and did not start again until 1971.

On The Consumer's Side

If you as a consumer have been misled, deceived, or have questions you need clarified, call the toll free telephone number of the Florida Department of Agriculture, Consumer Services, Tallahassee: 1-800-342-2178 or write, Mrs. Lee P. Rumbley, Consumer Services Coordinator, The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, The Division of Consumer Services, Mayo Building, Tallahassee, Florida 32304.

Question: Our family has been saving for a long time to buy a swimming pool. This summer we decided to go ahead, and contacted a contractor whose ad we had seen in the paper.

When we talked to the salesman about the pool we had seen, he kept trying to tell us about a more expensive pool, and all but refused to talk about the pool we wanted. We were most disgusted and would like to know if a company can legally advertise a product and then refuse to sell it?

Answer: No, they can't. You were pressured by a bait and switch game. The bait: a pool at a very low price, which convinces you to contact the firm.

Then, once you contact them, you are pressured to buy a much higher priced pool: the switch.

As a result, many people spend much more than they want or can afford. This is not the only game, however, that is used by unscrupulous businesses. Here are two more that are quite common.

Demonstrator: Some salesmen will tell you that you are getting a special price on a pool because it will be used for display purposes to show potential customers. In most instances, the pool is never shown to anyone, and, in fact, the special "demonstrator price" is the price regularly charged all purchasers.

Referral Selling: The salesman will offer you an opportunity to get refunds on the price you pay for the pool for the names of others who also buy a pool. In almost every instance, if you do receive a refund — very often, you won't receive any — it is insignificant.

If any of these examples are used to sell you a pool, file a complaint with the Division of Consumer Services immediately.

In the meantime, aside from not doing business with any salesperson or company which uses these tactics:

Compare prices of pools by getting estimates for at least three different contractors. Only by comparison shopping can you determine whether the price you are given by any salesman or company is a fair one.

Check the reliability of the contractors by asking others who have had pools built by them.

Consider what you are going to have to spend for upkeep and maintenance.

Contact local building and health departments to find out about building regulations, fencing laws, and health standards for pools.

Never commit yourself to buying a pool after being given a sales pitch. Give yourself at least 24 hours to consider the purchase in the quiet of your home.

Get a contract that fully sets forth the work to be done and the materials to be used along with a starting and competing date and the total price. And make sure you get a copy of the contract for your own keeping.

Question: What would be the cheapest way to finance a new bedroom suite of furniture?

Answer: The alert consumer knows that comparison shopping for goods or services.

Consequently, he checks the finance charge and interest rate at each of several possible loan sources. A partial list of such sources might include:

(a) The retail outlet where the purchase is made

(b) Commercial bank

(c) Finance Company

(d) Bank credit card

(e) Credit union.

The difference in finance charge and annual interest rate make clear the necessity of shopping around. The difference between the cheapest and the most expensive can be considerable.

Points to consider: Don't borrow unless you really must. Paying cash—even if this cash has to come out of a savings account — is cheaper than borrowing from any commercial lending source.

When you do borrow, arrange to pay off the debt in as few installments as you can afford. The longer your loan runs, the more expensive it is.

Beware of statements like "Easy Credit," "No Money Down," "Low Monthly Payments." Such statements often bear little relationship to the actual availability or cost of the loan.

The most important figure — and a figure that you must be given according to Federal law in any contract, for an installment loan — is the "Annual percentage rate."

Subscribed To
Paper Since 1877

Miss Daisy Smith who has been in Avon Park since coming to live with Uncle Irving Smith in 1933 came into the Sun office and reported that her family has been subscribing to the Green Bay Press-Gazette paper since it was first published 100 years ago.

Her father, Henry Smith started taking the daily paper when it was first published in 1877 and some member of her family has been receiving the daily and Sunday editions all through the intervening years.

But living in Avon Park, he has also been reading the Avon Park Sun since 1933. Known as the Daily State Gazette, 100 years ago, it carried some of the following items: A new thing in the line of suspenders is just out. They will straighten you up and there is no strain on the buttocks. The commencement exercises of the graduating class of the Green Bay high school drew an appreciative audience who showered beautiful bouquets on the class members.

Expensive Accident

A car-semi accident caused over $5000 in damage to the vehicles involved June 26, although both drivers escaped injury.

The Florida Highway Patrol said Mark W. Albright of Avon Park was slowing to make a turn on SR 44 when a semi driven by Michael C. Wolfer of Venice struck his vehicle in the rear.

Trooper Jim Benton charged Wolfer with careless driving.

photos and text by Barbara Cornell

Mrs. Margaret Bush moved to Avon Park with her husband from Virginia in 1968.

This mother of two and grandmother of five, picked up a paint brush for the first time in 1953. Without any formal training she painted for about two years and stopped, because of family reasons.

After moving to Florida she found she had more time and decided to start painting again in 1971.

Mrs. Bush did take an art course at South Florida Junior College for nine weeks, under the direction of Carol Thiene.

"The reason I took the course was to learn more about what I needed to improve on. I was a little upset because the teacher never criticized my paintings or told me I was doing anything wrong. She just kept saying she wished she could paint so well," stated Mrs. Bush.

She paints animals, still life, portraits and landscapes with water colors, pastels, acrylics, oils and art tissue paper.

One of Mrs. Bush's sons studied art in high school and she would watch him. She had always wanted to paint but did not think she could.

She was a member of a Homemakers Club where she learned all types of handy crafts. They were to have a meeting and Mrs. Bush went, except it was the wrong day. Instead of a meeting, they were having a painting class, so she stayed and watched.

That is when she decided she would start painting.

Now this grandmother has won many awards and ribbons for her paintings. Last year when she entered her paintings at the Highlands County Fair, they placed here in the professional division.

On May 26 of this year she went to Tampa and entered a couple of her paintings in the Ybor City Arts Festival and came home with an Award of Merit and $20.

"The judge looked me up during the show, which is unusual, and told me my work was beautiful and that I would have won Best Of Show if I had framed the painting with non-glare glass," Mrs. Bush said.

She has also exhibited her paintings in the Avon Park City Library twice and the library purchased her painting of a clown.

Last year Mrs. Bush decided it was time she learned to drive, so she took the car on the back roads in Avon Park

Lakes and taught herself.

When Mrs. Bush is not painting she is sewing (making her own cloths, sock monkeys, and dolls), macramé, and involved in many other crafts.

"... I think God for talent. I think he knew that one day I would need something to keep my busy and this is what he gave me. The gift to paint," stated Mrs. Bush.

Mrs. Margaret Bush enjoys sewing and makes all her clothes. She also makes frogs, sock monkeys, and many other types of stuffed dolls and toys.

Mrs. Margaret Bush first picked up a paint brush in 1953, but she quit painting after two years and did not start again until 1971.

On The Consumer's Side

If you as a consumer have been misled, deceived, or have questions you need clarified, call the toll free telephone number of the Florida Department of Agriculture, Consumer Services, Tallahassee: 1-800-342-2176 or write, Mrs. Lee P. Rumbley, Consumer Services Coordinator, The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, The Division of Consumer Services, Mayo Building, Tallahassee, Florida 32304.

Question: Our family has been saving for a long time to buy a swimming pool. This summer we decided to go ahead, and contacted a contractor whose ad we had seen in the paper.

When we talked to the salesman about the pool we had seen, he kept trying to tell us about a more expensive pool, and all but refused to talk about the pool we wanted. We were most disgusted and would like to know if a company can legally advertise a product and then refuse to sell it?

Answer: No, they can't. You were pressured by a bait and switch game. The bait: a pool at a very low price, which convinces you to contact the firm.

Then, once you contact them, you are pressured to buy a much higher priced pool: the switch.

As a result, many people spend much more than they want or can afford. This is not the only game, however, that is used by unscrupulous businesses. Here are two more that are quite common.

Demonstrator: Some salesmen will tell you that you are getting a special price on a pool because it will be used for display purposes to show potential customers. In most instances, the pool is never shown to anyone, and, in fact, the special "demonstrator price" is the price regularly charged all purchasers.

Referral Selling: The salesman will offer you an opportunity to get refunds on the price you pay for the pool for the names of others who also buy a pool. In almost every instance, if you do receive a refund — very often, you won't receive any — it is insignificant.

If any of these examples are used to sell you a pool, file a complaint with the Division of Consumer Services immediately.

In the meantime, aside from not doing business with any salesperson or company which uses these tactics:

Compare prices of pools by getting estimates for at least three different contractors. Only by comparison shopping can you determine whether the price you are given by any salesman or company is a fair one.

Check the reliability of the contractors by asking others who have had pools built by them.

Consider what you are going to have to spend for upkeep and maintenance.

Contact local building and health departments to find out about building regulations, fencing laws, and health standards for pools.

Never commit yourself to buying a pool after being given a sales pitch. Give yourself at least 24 hours to consider the purchase in the quiet of your home.

Get a contract that fully sets forth the work to be done and the materials to be used along with a starting and competing date and the total price. And make sure you get a copy of the contract for your own keeping.

Question: What would be the cheapest way to finance a new bedroom suite of furniture?

Answer: The alert consumer knows that comparison shopping for goods or services.

Consequently, he checks the finance charge and interest rate at each of several possible loan sources. A partial list of such sources might include:

(a) The retail outlet where the purchase is made.

(b) Commercial bank

(c) Finance Company

(d) Bank credit card

(e) Credit union.

The difference in finance charge and annual interest rate make clear the necessity of shopping around. The difference between the cheapest and the most expensive can be considerable.

Points to consider: Don't borrow unless you really must. Paying cash—even if this cash has to come out of a savings account — is cheaper than borrowing from any commercial lending source.

When you do borrow, arrange to pay off the debt in as few installments as you can afford. The longer your loan runs, the more expensive it is.

Beware of statements like "Easy Credit," "No Money Down," "Low Monthly Payments." Such statements often bear little relationship to the actual availability or cost of the loan.

The most important figure — and a figure that you must be given according to Federal law in any contract for an installment loan — is the "Annual percentage rate."

Cooking Corner

Mrs. Robert (Frances) Leaphart has lived in this area for 10 years, coming here when her husband retired from the Air Force.

She is the co-owner of Cottage Craftings, L.P.N. and full time employee of a group of doctors in Sebring. The Leapharts have four children and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Leaphart is going to share her recipe for a Coconut Pound Cake. She claims this is a foolproof recipe and anyone can make it without it being a flop.

Coconut Pound Cake
2 sticks butter
3 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon lemon flavor

3 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup Crisco oil
4 teaspoons coconut flavor
1 cup milk

Cream butter, oil and sugar — until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flavoring — mix well. Add flour and milk, alternate, beating well after each addition. Stir in coconut. Bake in a well greased 10 inch tube pan at 350 degrees for 1 hour and 20 minutes.

When Mrs. Margaret Bush is not painting or sewing she like to macramé. She has made many plant hangers for herself and friends.

Additions And Remodeling Theme Of Meet

Additional and remodeling of homes are the main theme of requests to be considered by the Highlands County Board of Adjustment, when it meets July 26.

Joseph R. Greco, represented by Carl Edgemon, seeks a variance in order to add an 8x10 addition to an existing porch on a non-conforming house. The house is located in the Smoak Brothers Addition, zoned single family residential.

A non-conforming detached garage on non-conforming property is the goal of Leslie J. Priest. The land involved is on Red Lake, on an unrecorded plat of a subdivision in Avon Park.

Thelma and Emmett Jones Jr. want to add a carport, and living room with a front entrance onto their non-conforming house, in Twin Lakes Estates, Lake Placid. The additions would be conforming.

"Nelson's Place" in Avon Park is located on Hwy. 64, and Jesse and Margaret Nelson would like a variance to permit adding a storage area onto their non-conforming layers.

A parcel of Taubert's unrecorded plat, near Highlands General Hospital, is concerned in a request by William and Sarah Slater, who need a 6-foot variance on the front setback and a 5-foot variance on the rear setback enabling them to replace an existing mobile home with a new one. They will also ask a 6-foot variance on the front in order to add a carport and porch.

Jane Gottschalk wants to build a new home in Cindy's Groves Subdivision, zoned agricultural. A variance is needed to repair an existing non-conforming brick building that is six feet short of the front setback requirements. The future home would also need a variance to be constructed on non-conforming property.

Represented by Charles Swank, Edward Thelen will ask a variance of feet on the front setback for construction of a carport roof on a non-conforming mobile home in Grayce's Proposed No. 4 subdivision.

Class Ring Controversy Amazes Officials

Highlands County school administrators are expressing amazement and even bewilderment over stories of ethical shenanigans between schoolmen and the companies which sell such scholastic items as class rings, commencement invitations, caps and gowns.

Across the country schoolmen are being criticized for entering contracts which appear to be linked to fringe benefits for the school and-administrators. One charge being leveled in several states is that some companies "buy" exclusive contracts, with payments to school funds. In some Florida communities news stories have reported administrators receiving personal gifts — presents at Christmas, tickets to sporting events, even free class rings for their children.

Dr. Billy Cason, principal of Sebring High School and Malcolm Ross, Lake Placid

High principal, vigorously deny that such conditions exist at Sebring and Lake Placid. Les Watson, principal of Avon Park High, was on vacation at the time The Sun was making its inquiries and was not available for comment.

It is known that all three of the county's high schools concentrate contracts with the widely-known scholastic jeweler, Balfour Co.

Balfour and subsidiary companies supply class rings, commencement invitations, cap and gown rentals at SHS and LPHS. Ross and Cason reported. Both principals stress that the only items which involve any degree of compulsion is the commencement attire.

They explain that a student who has met graduation requirements does not have to attend commencement exercises in order to receive a diploma. Students who elect to participate in the formal ceremonies are required to wear the approved regalia selected by school authorities. In recent years this has meant caps and gowns rented from Bentley and Simon, a Balfour subsidiary.

Ross said, "We'll find the money for any student who cannot afford to rent a cap and gown." Cason said the question of rentals posed a financial hardship had never come up. He said that while students are not required to attend the formal graduation ceremonies he strongly encourages it. "It means a lot to the families, particularly the parents."

When it comes to class rings and a commencement invitation students may, and the principals say often do, buy from sources other than the Balfour sales crew which comes to the schools.

The Balfour salesmen show students The Sebring School designs or The Lake Placid High ring.

Cason is not sure when the custom began, but Sebring High has had few changes in class ring design. Cason says his own SHS ring, bought from Herff-Jones Company, came from a design that remained unchanged for many years. "Back sometime when George Douglass was principal the oval-shaped rings came in and at that time a new ring was designed for Sebring High," Cason recalls.

The Balfour design was chosen and since that time the basic ring has been the same with only the graduation year changing. Students are shown some optional features, which may be incorporated at additional cost. Cason said many students chose to have a special Bicentennial panel added in 1976.

Ross said a student committee worked with him and a Balfour designer to work out the basic design for Lake Placid High. That choice was made a few years ago.

Cason says he believes Lake Placid and Avon Park may have been influenced by the good relations SHS has had with Balfour. The Sebring principal said services are good and the guarantee "exceptional."

Sebring High has had a standard commencement situation since moving to its present campus and Lake Placid anticipates establishment of a standard invitation. The principals say these standard designs help to hold down costs, but not every student will like these and each person is free to make individual choices elsewhere.

Ross said he would not permit unlimited presentations at school. "Fifteen or 20 times a year we'd have salesmen presenting a 'spiel' and over 100 students trying to make choices."

Highlands schools do give the Balfour representatives space for taking orders, collecting fees and making deliveries. The school administrators say they "will not fool with collections or doing the ring company's business."

Contracts for printing yearbooks and contracts for school pictures involve students more than the class rings and caps and gowns contracts. Student editors, faculty advisers work with the principals on selections. The SHS procedures appear to involve the students more than Lake Placid's, however both schools sign these contracts annually and place heavy emphasis on evaluating quality of service and product from the previous year.

Dr. Dan Davis, superintendent of Highlands County Schools, said the county schools have no formal policy on contracts for class rings, yearbooks and other scholastic sidelines. When the schools handle any money it must be accounted for in strictly defined ways, but in those instances where the school neither realizes income or makes expenditures, the county office leaves the procedures up to the supervising principal.

Dr. Davis was reluctant to outline what he would consider ideal procedure for selecting suppliers.

Brooksville Woman Dies In Bloody Traffic Wreck

A 61-year-old Brooksville woman was killed and two other persons injured at 11:50 a.m. Monday when the car in which they were riding was struck from behind by a large transfer truck on U.S. 27, just outside the Avon Park city limits.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, Mrs. French was dead on arrival at Walker Memorial Hospital in Avon Park.

Mrs. French was a passenger in a car driven by Paul E. Fuhrman, 67, also of Brooksville. Troopers said Fuhrman was not injured, but his wife, Ursula, 62, was transferred to a Tampa hospital with facial and head injuries. Mrs. French's husband, Jack, was taken to a Brooksville hospital complaining of back injuries.

Avon Park police were first on the scene to investigate the mishap and found Mrs. French pinned in the demolished auto. According to Chief of Police Robert Brooks, local officers and members of the Highlands County Ambulance Service spent almost 40 minutes freeing the woman from the wreckage. Cpl. E. R. Woody and Homicide Investigator J. M. Rhodes policed the mishap for the Highway Patrol.

According to the patrol, the accident is still being investigated.

The truck was driven by Willie Coburn of Tulsa, Okla. He has reportedly been charged with careless driving.

...Rescuers worked for 40 minutes in a vain effort to save trapped woman.

FBO War Continues

Highlands Aviation Inc. owner Jimmy Renfro may have won a battle when he gained grading city approval to apply for fixed base operator status (FBO) at the Avon Park Airport, however, the war is still in doubt.

At Monday night's city council meeting, the long argued subject once again reared its head, as council members indicated that they were still opposed to granting Renfro FBO status. The council normally approved a $50 per year occupational license fee for airport FBO's and approved a rezoning request, placing airport property in the light commercial zone from the single family residential category. The rezoning was a formality, however, as the property had been zoned commercial by the Highlands County Commission prior to its annexation by the city earlier this year. City ordinances mandate that all property annexed into the city will automatically come in as single family. The council was also informed of a letter from the Federal Aviation Administration which indicated that the FAA would take no further action in the matter unless someone was denied their rights to apply for FBO status.

Major Lakefront Park Is Planned By Council

The Avon Park City Council Monday evening turned thumbs down on a proposed low income housing project. According to City Clerk Malcolm Crews, the city had received a notice from the federal Housing and Urban Development Department that a St. Petersburg developer has proposed two Section 8 (low income) housing projects inside of Avon Park.

In objecting to the projects, the city council agreed with the local planning and zoning board that the developers had not answered any questions pertaining to the types of houses, how they would be maintained and who would be eligible to rent the units.

The HUD paperwork was also referred to Richard T. Peavy, Executive Director of the Avon Park Housing Authority, who also rejected the plan.

According to Peavy, the federal Housing Assistance Plan, which governs the construction of low income housing, does not include Section 8 as the answer to housing deficiencies in Avon Park. He added that one of the two projects was nowhere near Avon Park's concentration of lower income and minority families.

The two projects would have been located at Palmetto and Central Avenues and on Edgewood Street. According to Crews, the Palmetto and Central complex called for 47 units to be developed on 10 acres of land. This would be broken down into 31 two bedroom homes, 10 three bedroom homes and 6 four bedroom units.

The second project on Edgewood Street would consist of 49 units, including 12 one bedroom homes, 20 two bedroom units, 11 three bedroom homes and 6 four bedroom units. The Edgewood project

The council was made aware of federal rulings that would have allowed the city to govern the airport in any way it saw fit. Those rules provide guidelines for the city to assume operation of the airport, placing the current FBO on the city payroll. In this way, the city would in also called for all of the housing to be constructed on 10 acres of land.

When the United States Postal Service decided recently to reveal the salaries of postal employees, a spokesman for the National Association of Postmasters charged that the move was designed to build resentment against rural postmasters to help the postal service eliminate their jobs.

Postmasters Among Best Paid In County

by Russ Dennis

The United States Postal Service has been the recipient of much public criticism during the past few years. Some of that criticism may have been justified, however, there is one thing for certain; U.S. Postal employees, especially postmasters, can be ranked among the best paid in the country. That statement holds true for Highlands County as well.

If the salaries of other civil service employees are as high as those of the Postal Service, it's no wonder that the federal government is the single largest employer in the United States.

Employees at the Avon Park Sun were flabbergasted when they compared their pay checks with those of Postal Service workers and, while no one said so out loud, some may now be considering a change in jobs.

Postmasters salaries in Highlands County are, as follows: Avon Park, Robert D. Young; $21,550; Lake Placid, R.G. Bond; $17,700; Lorida, A.M. Clark; $15,067; Sebring, M.E. Scott; $22,127; Venus, M.C. Pearce; $14,935.

When the United States Postal Service decided recently to reveal the salaries of postal employees, a spokesman for the National Association of Postmasters charged that the move was designed to build resentment against rural postmasters to help the postal service eliminate their jobs.

"If a postmaster's salary is published, people in the town who make less money are bound to be resentful," a spokesman for the postmasters said.

The postal service counts that by saying the salaries are being released

Low Income Housing Is Rejected By Council

The city of Avon Park is presently in the process of acquiring a major new park for public use.

Plans for the purchase of about 12 acres of property owned by Mrs. Roscoe Bass on the north side of Lake Lotela were discussed by the city council Monday evening.

According to Malcolm Crews, City Clerk, the desired land could cost the city as much as $75,000. The Florida State Department of Parks and Recreation, however, has indicated that Avon Park is high on the state's priority list for park purchase funds.

"The state will give up to $50,000 as an outright grant," Crews said, "and will match the city dollar for dollar for any amount over that, up to $100,000."

Crews explained that the park was needed, as the city's only other major park, Donaldson, was only about 4 acres in size. Although Donaldson Park is located on Lake Verona, Crews explained that it was not satisfactory due to recent drops in the lake level that makes it hazardous for young children to swim there.

The proposed park itself will include a rough triangle of property bordered by Green Street on the north, Palmer Street on the west, Seminole Avenue on the east and Lake Lotela on the south. Crews stated that the city had the authority to close certain property and would probably close a portion of Cherokee Street, from Green Street south to Lake View Drive, which would be used as a park entrance, along with Seminole Avenue.

State funds will become available on September first of this year for the park purchase. In 1978, the state will make available an identical grant which the city could use to develop the park.

"We have been assured by the state that any grant request made by Avon Park would be placed high on the priority list," Crews said, indicating that he was fairly confident that the money would be forthcoming.

Wife Charged In Murder

An Avon Park woman, Mrs. Evelyn Gene Graham, 26, of 407 South Hart Avenue, has been charged with first degree murder in connection with the shooting death of her husband, Bobby Graham, 29.

Graham's body was discovered by Patrolman Leo Bronsing early last Thursday morning in the couple's mobile home.

Reports indicate that Graham died from a single .22 caliber gunshot wound to the head. He was found on his living room couch.

Investigators indicated that police had been called to the Graham residence in reference to a family disturbance. When no one answered the door, Patrolman Bronsing observed smoke coming from an exhaust vent. When he opened the trailer's door, he reportedly observed Graham on the couch.

Mrs. Graham was taken into custody at her mother's home on Prairie Street and allegedly admitted shooting at her husband earlier.

Powder burns on the victim's forehead have led police to believe that Graham was asleep when he was shot at pointblank range.

Although a grand jury was convened last Friday, that body had not returned a formal first degree murder indictment against Mrs. Graham by press time. Mrs. Graham is currently being held in the Highlands County Jail without bond.

TV Beating Injures Man

An Avon Park man was treated at Walker Memorial Hospital Monday, after he was reportedly attacked with a number of television sets.

Benny Carpenter, who runs an Avon Park television repair service, told sheriff's deputies that three male suspects came to his shop and asked if he had a television for sale.

When Carpenter brought a set into the room and plugged it in, one of the customers hit him on the side of the head, while another struck his wife Linda in the face.

The trio of assailants then reportedly began throwing television sets at Carpenter, who suffered bruises and lacerations about his head and arms.

The suspects then fled the scene, taking nothing with them.

Five television sets were reported destroyed in the attack.

Both Carpenters denied having seen any of the alleged attackers before the Monday incident. The suspects were described as being white males, in their early twenties.

Carpenter and his wife were treated and released from the hospital Monday night.

AVON PARK BOY Scouts will soon have a freshly painted meeting place, as members of the Avon Park Correctional Institution Jaycees Chapter have volunteered to paint the structure. The house, located on Butler Street, is just one of several community service projects that the prison Jaycees have asked to work on. Pictured (l to r) Corrections Officer J.H. Huddleston, R. Gaddis, G.M. McCarthy, Jaycee President M. Mackey and A. Editor's Viewpoint

by Russ Dennis

Occasionally there comes an event, a work of art or an experience that is worth enjoying more than once. Although rare, such an example is a newly released motion picture titled "Star Wars".

While this column could, under the broadest definition, be considered a movie review, I will not attempt to cite names, production companies, etc. What will be described is a wonderfully good time for all people, young and old.

To start with, "Star Wars" is not a science fiction movie. It is science fantasy. There is no real moral lessons to be learned from the film, other than the standard goodness over evil bit. However, the motion picture does provide one very important service. It will entertain just about anyone or any age for slightly under two hours. That is a rarity.

The opening dialogue starts out, "Long ago, in a galaxy far, far away..." The tale that then unfolds will offer beauty, pathos, humor, breath-taking special effects and fast breaking action.

The time honored plot of a beautiful girl in distress is given a new twist, robots, outspace adventurers and a convincing young hero are combined with the mature wisdom of an aging knight to form a most improbable army. This tiny but brave group takes on the combined might of an evil empire, replete with masked villains, dastardly deeds and enough menace to make even the most blasé moviegoer hiss between his teeth.

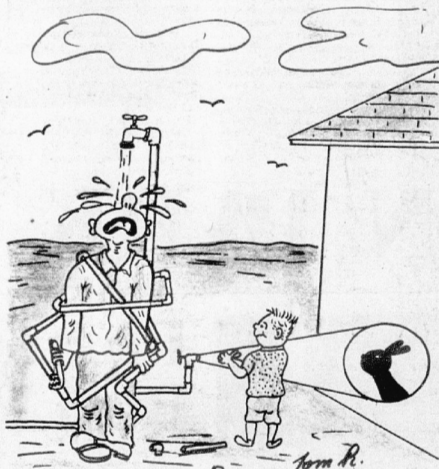

If you imagine a glorified Star Trek or any other recent film dealing with space, other civilizations and a technology far beyond our own, you will be in for a shock. "Star Wars" is as far beyond any of these creations as is a kite from a jet airplane.

So why should you spend your hard earned money on a film like "Star Wars"? Why not some other flick? Simple. Because "Star Wars" is fun! How long has it been since you could take the kids to a movie and leave feeling that everyone, including yourself, had a wonderful time?

Not to say that the film doesn't have a few weak points. Although I personally didn't feel there was an excessive use of violence, there are several scenes depicting warfare between the forces of good and evil. To some, this may be unsuitable to very young children. On the other hand, my 7-year old son remembered the stunning special effects and the beautiful princess with all of her alien friends, not the minor episodes of mayhem.

Both "Time" and "Newsweek" have given the film superior ratings for people of all ages. These two respected publications agreed in calling "Star Wars" the possible best picture of the year in recent reviews. I can't help but agree. There is no sex, very little violence and no attempt made to force the viewer to ponder the where and why of human existence. In an age of violence, graphic sexuality and a motion picture industry seemingly devoted to portraying these aspects of our society in living color and "sense-around", "Star Wars" is a refreshing oasis in a desert that is almost devoid of "family" entertainment.

Get the building inspector, I think I made a mistake someplace!!

Letters To The Editor

American Sanity

Dear Editor:

Areas of the American public, unbelievably, are exploring the total transfer of the public school systems to private union organizations! Can you grasp that our school boards are in the process of being superseded by union-dominated teacher licensing boards?

In Michigan, site of the world's most modern fortress — Renaissance Center — legislators are contemplating HB-4242, the Teacher Licensing Act. Upon completing four years of college, then interning, you finally stand before a 5-member board (three must be union) to determine if you merit a license to teach!

The militant, Left-wing NEA boasts it will control who teaches and thus WHAT is taught by 1980. One Michigan school district has already dropped English Lit. Physics as curriculum "fringes" in order to meet teacher salary demands. Thousands of fine teachers oppose union control, but in states dominated by Big Labor money, their pleas fall on deaf ears.

People ask, "What ever happened to the little red schoolhouse?" Should teacher licensing laws be even seriously considered, we might ask ourselves, "What happened to sanity in America?"

Sincerely yours,
John Waldman, Jr.

Parking Problems

Dear Editor:

As I walk down the streets of our business section in downtown Avon Park (Main Street, Lake Ave., etc.) I am amazed at seeing the same cars parked daily along these streets. Most of the cars must belong to merchants or their employees.

There is ample parking space in our city, on side streets and in city parking lots. Granted, it would mean perhaps a three or four minute walk for the car owner. However, a shopper would have a convenient place to park and this could be more of an inducement to stop and shop or browse. It could mean the cash register would be opened more often. It could mean more trips to the bank. It could mean that an employee would be insured of a job. It could mean the city would continue to grow and prosper. It could mean the travelers would be tempted to stop and look around our lovely Avon Park. It could mean we should make a greater effort to make shopping in Avon Park more pleasant and more convenient.

A Concerned Citizen

Experience Is Best Teacher

When rehabilitation work on Avon Park's old sewage treatment plant is finished sometime this fall, work on the $3.5 million dollar sewage system should be completed.

Although the rehab work is just about all that remains on the list, contractors will be doing clean up work here for many months.

Perhaps a reflective view is called for, as an attempt to prevent some of the problems that cropped up during the height of the project from happening again.

The city council has already discovered that unexpected growth in the Avon Park area has already pushed the new sewage treatment facilities to almost maximum. This, with many more residents to house, has prompted our city fathers to consider an expansion to the system within the next few years.

During the final phases of the project, residents discovered that some homes could not be connected to the sewer without extensive modifications. Although this has proved bothersome, at best, it should be pointed out that a project of this size always comes complete with a big price tag and lots of difficulties. Engineers will be the first to admit that many times design errors simply cannot be eliminated until the project is well on its way to completion.

The city council has proved that they do not want to charge people who cannot use the sewer. Although bills reflecting increased rates have sometimes gone out to residents who, through design errors or deliberately, cannot use the system, the council has generally agreed to remove all penalties until the problem can be worked out. This is commendable.

It should be pointed out, however, that a closer look at all proposed plans for any sewer expansion in the future is a must. Some of the errors committed during the recent project could have been eliminated with a careful study.

Similar projects in other cities in Florida have revealed about the same thing. Avon Park, generally speaking, undertook a huge project and completed it with fewer difficulties than most. The remaining complaints appear to be about restoration work and that is an area that close attention must be paid to.

It is most disagreeable to a homeowner to discover that design modifications must be made to connect his residence to the sewer and then have to wait for months for roads, sidewalks and grass to be replaced as they were before the project. Unfortunately, in some cases, complete restoration is impossible.

Any future expansion of the sewer system should be coupled with an intensive investigation into just how much damage will be done and how fast it can be restored. In this way, the city may avoid incurring the ill will of some of its residents.

Experience is the best teacher and the Avon Park City Council has undoubtedly learned a great deal about the attitudes of our citizens when it comes to this type of project. Let's hope that experience won't be forgotten.

Things My Way

By ALICE SMITH

That long arm of coincidence we keep hearing about is still around.

This week, my thinking got nudged in the same direction twice in one day — and from wildly divergent sources, too.

The mail brought a bank statement which included a printed slip of warning to bank customers. Listed were descriptions of five or six "con" games designed to extract money from unwary and innocent victims.

Most of them have been around for years. So long, in fact, that I thought, "Come now, certainly no one today, if they're sophisticated enough to have dealings with a bank, would fall into any of these traps."

Later, I came across a column by Sydney Harris which revised my thinking a bit. Seems the Wall Street Journal reported recently that some 1200 pilots for United Air Lines may have lost upward of $40 million of savings in a "high-yielding investment program."

Said Harris, "W. C. Fields famous apothem 'You can't cheat an honest man' has a corollary that is less widely known — that you can't mule a man who isn't greedy."

Which reminded me of a nice couple I once knew. They were very conservative people, quiet lift style, he a civil servant, she a teacher; undoubtedly their savings amounted to a tidy sum. Our town was shocked to learn that they had lost thousands of dollars through the machinations of an old and trusted friend.

The friend, residing in California, across the continent, confided that she had become engaged to a multimillionaire who had promised to bequeath his entire estate to her. Unfortunately the gentleman passed away before the union could be accomplished and the matter of her inheritance was involved in litigation.

If, said the lady to her friends, they would assist her with funds for the expensive lawyers needed, she would split all that lovely money with them, fifty-fifty, when she got it.

Several years and quite a few thousand dollars later, investigation revealed that, not only was there no deceased millionaire or litigation, but the lady in question had been living very well indeed on the west coast on the funds provided by her friends.

If Sydney Harris is correct, most con artists would be out of business if human nature weren't equipped with a little touch of greed.

Interviewpoint

With the price of a first class postage stamp scheduled to jump to 16 cents soon, the Sun asked people what they thought of the increase.

This weeks' question: Do you approve of the proposed increase in first class postage stamp prices?

Hershel Stone Jr., Wauchula. "No, I don't think they should charge more for stamps. I think things are getting out of hand. I understand about inflation, but I don't think the people can afford this. There should be no increase in rates allowed. They can become more efficient."

Josephine Trammell, Rolling Hills Road. "No, I don't think first class postage should go up. The public continues to pay and pay and we don't ever get a break. The post office makes too much on stamps anyway. I'm not satisfied with the service they give."

Lee Ann Bush, Avon Park Rehab Center. "No, I don't approve of an increase in first class postage. Everything is so expensive now already that we can't afford to send mail anymore. I don't think the post office is very efficient. They charge too much to mail a letter already."

Michael McMillan, Letels Park Apts. "I guess we really don't have that much choice. If the government approves it, United Parcel Service delivers mail quicker and in better shape than the post office. I'm not satisfied with the service the post office gives. They are too slow and I don't think it's right."

The Laziest Dog

The Avon Park Sun takes pride in offering this literary tribute to Dudley, the laziest dog in Highlands County.

Dudley, a basset hound, is owned by Warren Cornell and his wife Barbara, and according to her, Dudley is just "about the laziest dog there could be."

So what makes Dudley more lazy than say Fido or Champ?

Well, how about his normal 18 hours per day of sleep?

Perhaps the laziest dog title has been won because Dudley has to take a nap to store up enough energy to bark... once. Barbara even claims that Dudley is so lazy that he lays down to eat his supper. Now that's lazy.

Dudley does serve some useful purpose, however, as the Cornell occasionally use him for a door stop when he falls asleep on his way outside.

Dudley may be lazy, but he's no dummy. Finding the job of routine for fleas to tire him, he has come another dog to scratch for him. Barbara still hasn't figured out how Dudley points out the itchy places, as he usually remains asleep during the entire ordeal.

Dudley has, despite his reputation for slothfulness, mastered a few tricks, mostly dealing with "lay down", "play dead" and "sit". It has been rumored that Dudley has agreed with President Carter's energy conservation ideas and his laziness is just his way of helping to save energy.

We would have included a photo of Dudley with this article, however, Dudley was taking his usual 8 to 9 nap and didn't want to be disturbed.

After meeting the lethargic hound, we couldn't help but wonder if there was a dog someplace in Highlands County that was lazier. If so, please let us know. We believe in giving credit to any who qualify as the County's Laziest Dog.

Suit By Local Couple Referred To Tallahassee

A suit filed by a Highlands County couple against the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) has been transferred to the circuit court at Tallahassee.

According to court records King S. and Lillie M. Eaddy had no objection to the suit's being moved from Sebring to the state capital.

On July 5 Judge Joel Evers signed a court order granting the request for change of venue.

Barefield - White Weds At Church Of God

Joni Lynn Barefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barefield of Avon Park, and Jerry Dan White of Plant City, son of Mrs. Annie Hathcock of Sydney, Fla., were united in marriage, June 17 at 7:30 p.m., in the Avon Park Church of God, with the Rev. Paul J. Seary performing the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with a large bouquet of melon colored mums, white gladiolus and babies breath, which was centered between twin spiral candelabras and two giant fern balls.

Directly in front of the bouquet stood a small table bearing the unity candle, which the couple lit during the ceremony. A kneeling bench, palms and other foliage completed the decor.

Cindy Woodard provided the nuptial music.

Her long Venice Lace sleeves ended with satin cuffs trimmed in lace. The fitted Princess bodice had an overlay of satin ribbon covering the front, with satin covered buttons.

Her fingertip length veil of illusion, edged in Venice Lace trim was held in place by an ivory Venice Lace Bandeau trimmed in tiny seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet featuring miniature Sonia Roses, daisies, and babies breath shot a white Bible, a gift from the groom.

The cake table featured two matching floral candelabras, which stood on each side of the three tiered wedding cake. On the top tier was a gold cross with wedding bands, the Christian marriage symbol. A miniature of the bride's bouquet, which she later tossed, rested at the base of the cross.

The punch table featured a chrysanthemum bowl, with matching candelabra and other appointments for nuts and mints.

Thriftway Wants To Please You

"We want to do whatever it takes to make our customers happy," says Rodney Shelton, manager of Avon Park's Thriftway Supermarket.

The store is now busy celebrating its first anniversary, complete with special sales and savings.

Perhaps the fact that Thriftway is an independent grocery store, owned by James Konder of Winter Haven, is the reason for the "we want to please you" attitude. Whatever the reason, Shelton has a variety of events planned that should make just about everyone pleased to visit the store.

"We are going to have several promotions, similar to the recent arts and crafts and boat shows that were held in our parking lot," Shelton said. "We will have a 4-wheel drive show, another arts and craft show and other programs in the near future."

Shelton has also hired a new employee, who will lend his expertise towards making the store one of the best.

"We have added Henry Dennis to our staff as grocery manager," Shelton revealed, "and we think he will definitely be a valuable addition to our staff."

Speaking of experience, Thriftway's key employees can boast over 100 combined years in the retail grocery business. Besides Shelton and Dennis, Robery Chaney, Opal Avery, Billy Stanford and Tom Banta each bring with them years of experience in their field. "We have put together a first class team," Shelton said, "and we think we are the best around when it comes to serving the public."

Kopp Transferred To Colorado

Airman Richmond A. Kopp, son of retired Air Force Senior Master Sergeant and Mrs. Calvin L. Kopp of Avon Park, Fla., has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., after completing Air Force Basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland AFB, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Completion of this training earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Kopp will now receive specialized training in the munitions and weapons maintenance field.

The airman is a 1976 graduate of Robinson High School, Tampa.

CB STOLEN

JIMMY RENFRO STANDS owner of Highlands Aviation operator at the Avon Park week. (Sunphoto by Russ Dennis)

FBO War Continues

effect because the airport operator and as such, could allow a monopoly at the facility.

Although the council did not indicate that they would adopt this course of action, council members appeared to feel that they did not want Renfro as a second FBO.

At this point, Renfro must apply for FBO status, proving to the city that he can meet all of the airport's recently adopted minimum standards for fixed base operation.

Last week, Highlands Aviation installed a 10,000 gallon underground fuel tank on property the firm leases from the city. While this is not a violation of any rulings, Renfro still cannot sell any gasoline under the letter of the law until he wins FBO status. He may, however, use the fuel for his own business.

"I heard that Jimmy Renfro said he was going to sell gas at the airport no matter what the council says," said Councilman Larry Albritton. Robert Britt, Council President, indicated that the city should keep a close eye on Renfro to make sure that such a breach of regulations does not take place. Jack Hancock, City Attorney, indicated that the property was now inside the city limits and that "we have a police department that can enforce all rules and regulations."

Building Inspector C.W. Ellerbe revealed that Renfro had obtained the necessary inspection permits to install the fuel tank, however, final inspection had not been made.

"I don't intend to sell gas to anyone yet," Renfro told the Sun. "I plan to purchase my occupational license immediately," he added.

As far as applying for FBO status, using the application form approved by the city council, Renfro said he would rather not comment. He added, however, that "it will comply with all rules and regulations pertaining to the use of aviation fuel as a fixed base operator."

The city council has indicated that a re-writing of Highlands Aviation Inc.'s current 15 year lease to include a higher

Lakefront Park Planned By City

The city council Monday evening voted to hire a professional appraiser to appraise the Bass property. The appraisal will then be turned over to the state.

Crews explained that a representative from the Florida Board of Parks and Recreation had visited Avon Park recently and approved the property in question as being desirable for a city park.

Low Income Housing Rejected

Councilman David Barefield indicated that while no one was against low income housing, he didn't feel the city council could approve the request until the developer provided the city with more information. "They have left too many unanswered questions," Barefield said, "and we have no choice but to deny monthly rent for the property the firm leases from the city would be one requirement that must be met before an FBO license would be granted. Renfro maintains that he holds a valid lease with the city and he does not feel that it has to be re-drawn.

Development plans, if the deal goes through, call for the construction of a public boat ramp, play and picnic areas, along with the development of a swimming beach.

"Donaldson Park is only 4 acres," Crews said, "and that's just not big enough for a town of our size." He added that the park plan had been in the works for about 2 years.

it (the housing proposal)."

According to Crews, HUD will honor the city council's decision on the matter and it would appear, at least from initial action, that the projects will be denied unless the developer appears before the council, housing authority and planning and zoning board to clarify all questions.

Alcoholic Center Hit By Burglar

A burglar made his way into the Avon Park Alcoholism Rehabilitation Center early last week but apparently left the premises without taking anything.

Benjamin Brooks, an employee of the center located near South Florida Junior College, told sheriff's deputies that one morning they discovered that the center's lobby had been entered during the night.

While inside, the burglar attempted to break into a filing cabinet beneath the receptionist's desk, but could not force the lock. However, he did manage to break the cabinet's latch.

He then apparently left the center, taking nothing with him. Investigations are continuing.

Postmasters Among The Best Paid In County

it is "a labor-intensive industry." That means payroll expenses account for about 85 per cent make up the largest share of its costs.

With a national budget of nearly $15 billion a year, personnel costs account for about 85 per cent or roughly $12.75 billion annually.

Postmasters are not the only postal employees that are well paid.

As examples of wages and salaries, Martin Cain, news information officer of the postal service in Washington, D.C. gave the Sun this list of wages and salaries for other positions within the service.

Supervisor-$21,250.
Clerk-$17,456
Letter Carrier-$12,180
Mail handler-$16,535.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar, who runs the postal service, is paid $66,000 a year, the same as a U.S. cabinet officer. Pay for all workers increases as the cost of living rises and all salaries already listed include 12 per cent for fringe benefits.

You might wonder how a postmaster's salary is set.

According to Cain, the chief factors are the size of the work force, the office's annual revenue and the number of daily deliveries.

There's more to it than that, Cain says, but those three factors are the most important.

The postal service invokes a complicated formula that involves "revenue units," multiplication by 1,000 and lots of other terminology to determine how much its postmasters are paid.

Venus (pop. 520) is the smallest town in Highlands County. The post office is located in a dry goods store and serves 80 box customers and about 120 rural route customers. Although Postmaster M.C. Pearce is paid $14,935 per year, postal service records in Washington show that Venus in fiscal year 1976 had revenue of $4,801. That's roughly 36 per cent of Pearce's annual salary.

In other Highlands County towns and cities, the post offices generate considerably more revenue, according to Washington.

In Avon Park (pop. 7,242) the post office generated a total of $294,572. The Avon Park post office has a total of 1,479 box holders and serves 1,210 persons on rural routes.

In Sebring (pop. 8,010) $590,180 in revenues were generated from 1,210 box holders and 2,464 rural route customers.

Patrons of the Lake Placid post office turned over $197,703 in revenues last year, even though the town's population is listed as just 714 persons. The post office has 840 box customers and about 2,500 persons on rural routes.

Lorida (pop. 1,550) generated $16,949 in revenues (compared to Postmaster Clark's salary of $15,067) from 307 box holders and 190 rural route customers. How do you compare these salaries with income from other workers in this area?

Undoubtedly, there are citrus growers, contractors, lawyers, etc. who make as much or more per year as postal employees, however, the highest paid city employee in Avon Park is City Clerk Malcolm Crews, who draws a base pay of $14,620 per year. Mayor Marshall Davis is paid $60 per month and city councilmen earn $15 per meeting.

How does a person become a postmaster?

Not too many years ago, before the movement of the mails was taken over by the United States Postal Service from the old Post Office Department, the appointment of postmasters was part of the political patronage process.

Politicians took care of those who took care of the politicians.

Many Florida postmasters are serving yet under those appointments.

Since 1970, Cain said, selection of postmasters in Florida and throughout the nation has been made "strictly on the basis of merit."

For all but the smallest offices, Cain explained, a management selection board assesses the qualifications of the applicants and makes its recommendation to the postmaster general, who then makes the appointment.

For the smallest offices, Cain said, the regional postmaster general will assess candidates from "among employees or from public applications" and recommends a candidate to the postmaster general.

Under these procedures, Cain said, 14,000 postmasters, including 6,500 women, have been appointed in the U.S. between 1970 and 1975, the last year for which figures have been calculated.

Besides paying postal service employees' salaries, the U.S. taxpayer can look forward to an increase in the cost of a first class postage stamp, from 13 cents to 16. Perhaps that will help the postal service erase its deficit budget for the fiscal year just ended—$50 million in the red. What other way could they do it?

Larry and Dottie Freeman have been breeding and showing purebred Doberman Pinschers since 1952, first in Louisville, Kentucky until 1960, then Tampa until 1973 and here in Avon Park since then, when Dr. Freeman came to A.P.C.I. as one of the physicians on the medical staff.

The latest in a long line of show champions finished at the Tampa AKC Show on July 10, defeating the other forty-nine female entries present to win the major 4-point show.

Child Support Committee Formed

A newly formed child support committee is coordinating Highlands County's efforts to induce parents to provide financial support for their offspring.

Robert Germaine, deputy clerk of the circuit court who works in the family court section of the clerk's office, said the committee members have as a long range goal obtaining some support from all parents. At this time 1,400 children in Highlands County are receiving aid from public funds.

At the July meeting Circuit Judge Clifton M. Kelly reported that 6,000 child support cases are under investigation in the 10th circuit (Highlands, Polk and Hardee counties) at this time. The new committee brings together staff from the courts, welfare (county and state), law enforcement.

Bureau Of Census To Hold Meeting In Sebring

At the request of Eighth District Congressman Andy Ireland, Winter Haven, the Bureau of Census will hold a hearing here later this month on the 1978 Census of Agriculture.

The hearing will be held Saturday, July 30, starting at 9 a.m. at the Florida Department of Citrus building, located here at 1115 East Memorial Blvd. (U.S. 90 and 92) in Lakeland.

Ireland said he requested the hearing in this area "to permit Central Florida farmers, citrus growers, and other diverse agricultural interests the opportunity to tell the Census people what should or should not be included in the 1978 Census of Agriculture."

Ireland noted that the Lakeland hearing will be the only one in the nation this year where citrus growers will have an opportunity to discuss with the Bureau of Census the particular problems and concerns of the citrus industry. Hearings in California and Texas were held outside the citrus belts in those states.

Ireland said he invites all farmers and growers of agricultural products to attend the hearing and provide input on the 1978 census, including citrus producers, vegetable and truck farmers, strawberry farmers, cattlemen, dairymen and poultrymen.

City Summer Basketball Leagues To Play At Avon Park Miniparks

The Avon Park Recreation Department has formed two Summer Basketball Leagues for participants at the two Miniparks-Lakeside Park and Castle St. Park.

The boys 8-12 years old will play their games, starting this week, on Tuesdays and Wednesdays morning at 10 a.m. All games will be played at either the basketball court at Castle St. Park or the basketball court at The Lakeside Park.

The boys 13-15 will also play on the same two courts, but their games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5 p.m.

Big Boy Team Is Set To Open District Tourney In Lakeland

Coach Ronnie Jackson's Highlands County Bank of Avon Park Big Boy League baseball team will open the 1977 district tournament in Lakeland at Henley Field tomorrow, Friday, July 15, at 7:30 p.m., against the Plant City All-Star team. If the Avon Park wins, it will play again on Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

The H. C. B. team had to forfeit to Lake Wales Cooling and Heating Wednesday night a week ago because not enough players showed up to field a team. However, the Avon Park squad played the Lake Wales C. & H. team with just eight players and defeated them 10-2 in a practice game. The ninth Avon Park player arrived about the fourth inning but the game went as a forfeit to Lake Wales.

The game scheduled with Pinecrest for last Saturday night here at Head Field was rained out and will not be rescheduled according to Coach Jackson. Since the tournament starts tomorrow, there were no available dates to reschedule the game.

Last Monday night, July 11, the Highlands County Bank team was to have played Frostproof here and last night, Wednesday, July 13, the local squad was to have played Lake Wales All-Star team here at Head Field in the final game of the season. The Highlands County Bank team had a 9-4 record before the Frostproof and Lake Wales All-Star games this week.

Members of the sixteen through eighteen year old H. C. B. team are: Mort Jackson, Robert Freeland, Dale Slemore, John McKunas, Freddie Moore, Victor Roberts, Charlie Pough, Buddy Hunter, Charles Oliver, Edward Irwin, Andy Lanzing, Jeff Williams, Carl High, J. D. Taylor, Don Wildfish, and Joel Hart.

Last night, Wednesday, July 13, the Avon Park team for sixteen through eighteen year old boys was to have closed out the season with a game here at Head Field against the Lake Wales All-Star team.

Tomorrow, Friday, July 15, the Highlands County Bank of Avon Park team will take on Plant City at Henley Field in Lakeland in the first round of the district tournament starting at 7:30 p.m. Should the local team win tomorrow night, Avon Park will play again on Saturday at 5:30 p.m. It is a double elimination tourney.

Election Budget

Will Take Big Jump

With so many departmental budgets to consider, Highlands County Commissioners turned Tuesday's regular meeting into a budget session. Prime among those discussed were those of Jimmy Whitehouse, who wears two hats . . . that of Tag Agent and of Supervisor of Elections.

Whitehouse presented his two department budgets, one of which called for a 68 percent increase. Whitehouse told commissioners that the election budget will go from this year's $34,564 to $61,781. The price is necessary, Whitehouse said, because the coming year will hold two primaries and a general election, meaning a part-time payroll of 150 pollworkers. He also claimed that a new 300-page election code is going to cost the department, since it puts increased responsibilities on the department, and renders most existing registration forms obsolete. He also included the purchase of five voting machines at a cost of $10,000. "Overall, I think this is a very realistic budget," said the supervisor. "It costs a lot of money to hold an election properly, but I guarantee that if you should ever have an election thrown out, it would cost you a lot more to hold another."

The commissioners also reviewed the Tag Agency budget, which would jump to $105,350 for this coming year. Whitehouse said that his business has gone up 13 percent in the last year, and that new state regulations require more time spent with each person wishing to purchase a tag.

"We have to get proof of personal insurance, and we have to put down the owner's driver's license number on the registration. If it's jointly owned, we have to include both numbers. That's a total of 26 numbers right there we have to type on each form."

Whitehouse was seeking to add one employee, and raise the wages of some department employees since, "This last year, we lost three good people because of poor pay and long hours. We can't stand to lose trained people like that." Commissioners also reviewed budgets of the Civil Defense Director, $57,563 up 19.5 percent; the Purchasing Department, $30,967, up 23 percent; Motor Vehicle Inspection, $127,441, up 39 percent; and the Veterans' Service Office, up 40.1 percent to $29,979. The Commissioners did not give final approval to any of the budgets, and will review them all again later.

Juveniles Charged With Alcohol Possession

Two juveniles charged with possession of alcoholic beverage by a minor entered guilty pleas in the July 5 session of Highlands County Juvenile Court. One of the juveniles also pleaded guilty to violation of probation. Judge Clifford M.

Kelly deferred disposition for 60 days and imposed a number of special conditions.

In a third case involving juvenile disposition was deferred for 60 days. The charge in this case is trespassing.

Tire Thieves Sentenced

Two Immokalee men charged with theft of truck tires in Highlands County, have been sentenced in circuit court here. Samuel Miller and Jesse L. Hicks were each adjudged guilty of grand larceny, placed on probation for two years and fined.

Each of the two defendants is to pay $500 to the fine and forfeiture fund.

Special Hunts Planned For Sportsmen

Sportsmen who would like to take advantage of the special hunts planned for the Guana River, Joe Budd, B. Creek, Citrus and Camp Blanding wildlife management areas can get applications now.

Fred Skanberry, chief of wildlife management for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said applications for these special hunts are available at any of the regional offices or the Tallahassee office of the Commission.

He did interject a word of warning to sportsmen, to be sure and hold on to the applications until July 11.

"Although we are allowing hunters to obtain the applications early, none will be accepted if mailed prior to July 11," he said. Any received at the Tallahassee office postmarked prior to that date will be returned to the applicant.

Anyone wishing to apply for the special hunts can either pick up the application forms in person or call or write the nearest office of the Commission.

Skanberry also urged all applicants to read and follow the direction on the application carefully.

"A little time spent reading the directions can save the sportsman the possibility of having to resubmit an application," he said.

Included in the special hunts are a muzzleloading hunt on Bull Creek, two archery and two muzzleloading hunts on Camp Blanding, one muzzleloader and two modern gun hunts on Citrus, two muzzleloader and two modern gun hunts on Guana River, and four archery and eight primitive weapons hunts on Joe Budd.

Applicants will be given only one hunt, but may indicate ten choices.

Police Investigating Rash Of Burglaries This Week

Avon Park police are investigating another rash of burglaries which occurred last week and over the weekend.

Within the last two weeks, more than 15 breaking and enterings and attempted burglaries have been reported to local investigators.

In the latest series, police report that thieves entered the Clyde Stirling residence, 197 North Anoka Avenue while the Stirling family was on vacation.

Entrance to the home was gained by forcing open a rear window. Police reports indicate that a small amount of change and a box containing personal papers were taken. The papers were later recovered behind the Stirling residence.

Intruders entered the Leona Smith home, 125 East Canfield last week, when they broke off a padlock on the back door.

Although the residence was ransacked, police have not determined if anything is missing, as Ms. Smith is on vacation.

The St. Mark's Baptist Church parsonage at 252 East Green Street was broken into last week, when thieves entered through a rear window. Although nothing was reported missing, the home had been ransacked. A transistor radio and several other small items were reported missing.

The J.C. Davis residence, 415 North Byrd Avenue, was entered sometime last week, while the owner was on vacation. Entrance was gained by forcing open a rear door. Reports indicated that the home had been ransacked. A transistor radio and several other small items were reported missing.

Carolyn McLemore, 703 Palmato Avenue reported an attempted breaking and entering to police over the weekend.

According to police, the woman's small dog started barking when intruders attempted to pry open a window, scaring the would-be thieves away. Ms. McLemore was asleep at the time.

Sara Harrison, 22 East Walnut Street, reported an attempted burglary to police last week, when she discovered the door of her home standing open. Investigators could discover nothing missing.

Michael Ganey, 900 North Lake Avenue reported the theft of a C.B. radio, am-fm radio, speaker and Hi-jak to police over the weekend. The missing items were valued at $550. According to police, the goods were taken from Ganey's vehicle while it was parked in his garage.

Police have asked that all Avon Park residents make sure their homes are secure before they leave them unattended. In addition, police will make vacation checks on all homes if the owners will contact police and inform them when they will be out of town.

Fair Month For City's Building Department

BY MARK ALBRIGHT

C. W. Ellerbe, Avon Park's Building Inspector said that it was a fair month for the city's building and zoning department.

A total of 31 building permits were issued during the month of June. New dwellings held the highest value last month.

James Jordan's residence at 600 N. Lake Verona held the highest value for the month at $52,751.00.

Second in line was a residence constructed by Duane Kopta. The 1113 N. Florida Ave. home is valued at $24,140.00.

Twenty-nine permits for construction were issued during the month of June. Six were for one-family dwellings, one was for a commercial building, and 22 were for additions and alterations.

The constructions hold a total value of $214,629.

June ends the first semi-annual period for 1977.

A total of 207 building permits were issued during the period extending from January 1, 1977 to June 30, 1977.

A total of 199 permits for construction were issued during the six month period for a total value of $1,859,478.03.

Aviation Agency To Hold Hearings Here

The Federal Aviation Agency has notified the city of Avon Park that the first of a series of public hearings on proposed changes in military and civilian air routes in this area will be held in the Avon Park city hall on July 20 at 7 p.m.

According to City Clerk Malcolm Crews, the FAA has not revealed just what it has in mind, however, it could mean some further restrictions on civilian aviators and the flight paths they will be allowed to fly.

Don Gossick, owner of Avon Flying Service, indicated that he was not overly concerned with the proposed changes, saying "There was more flying around here during World War II than there is now and more restrictions."

Additional public hearings will be held elsewhere in Highlands County at a later date.

Only Two More Summer Program Activities Planned

By MARK ALBRIGHT

With summer quickly drawing to a close the Avon Park Library's summer program for children is also coming to an end.

Carolyn Moore, Librarian said, "August is our worst month because so many people are on vacation."

There are only two more activities planned for this summer.

The last of eight free movies is scheduled for the first Wednesday in August.

The movies that are presented for school-age children are award-winning Disney features, Dr. Seuss pictures and National Geographic wildlife films.

The films are rented from the University of South Florida.

Rental is paid for by the Friends of the Library.

Showtime for the last film will be 1 p.m.

The summer reading club will continue to be every Wednesday morning from 9:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. until the end of August.

The reading club is designed to help children become interested in reading.

Each youngster is given their own library card so that they may check out books.

Once the child reads the book and returns it, he discusses what he read with the librarian and others.

Also included in the program are puzzles and games designed to strengthen the child's ability and interest in reading.

Each child receives a certificate from the State of Florida acknowledging that he participated in the program.

On the last day of June, a program including a magic show and a picnic was presented by the library.

One hundred and thirty-two children turned out to watch Baffling Batty perform his feats of magic and get a free meal paid for by the Friends of the Library.

The librarian said that a puppet show is usually presented during the summer, but the Friends of the Library have run out of funds for this year.

Moore also said, "Now that we have more room, we can do a lot of new things."

Normally, a story-hour for pre-school and school-age children is presented, but it has not been included this year.

Moore said that some parents bring their children to the library at 9:30 a.m. and pick them up at 5 p.m.

If the children get tired of reading, there are games such as chess, backgammon and checkers for them to play.

Trailer Moratorium Approved By City

The Avon Park City Council, confronted by the thorny issue of drafting and approving a new, tougher trailer park ordinance, voted Monday night to impose a moratorium on the establishment of any new trailer parks, trailer zoning requests and any requests for rezoning from persons who own existing trailer parks.

The moratorium, which is effective immediately, was suggested by Councilman David Barefield, who added that the moratorium will last for 60 days or until the city finalizes and adopts a new trailer park ordinance.

The council was presented with a rough draft of the proposed ordinance, drawn up by the city's zoning board of adjustment.

While that rough draft did not meet with the full council's approval, it was deemed a mighty effort by the planning and zoning board. Council members questioned a clause included in the proposed ordinance which would have prevented any trailer park owner whose property was classified as non-conforming, from selling that property as a trailer park. Under the proposed ordinance, any non-conforming property would automatically revert to the zoning of surrounding property when it was sold. City Attorney Jack Hancock explained that it would not fair for the city to do this, as it would prevent owners of non-conformingly zoned property from selling their land. The ordinance will be studied and drawn and then resubmitted for final approval.

District Wins Control

The Sun 'n Lake Estates of Sebring Improvement District may be assuming control of the subdivision's golf course, if a number of proposed amendments pass at a public meeting of the Highlands County Commissioners next week.

Tuesday, Sun 'n Lake developer Jack Weisser appeared before the commissioners to present amendments to the ordinance creating the improvement district.

Company vice-president Ron Weisser had submitted the amendments several weeks ago, and was instructed to make several revisions before the county would put them up for a public hearing.

Jack Weisser told the commissioners this week that several of the challenged proposals have been dropped from consideration, such as the requests for their own ambulance service and eminent domain rights.

However, he asked commissioners to allow the district to levy a tax for fire protection, should they ever see fit to do so, and allow the district to assume control of the development's 18-hole golf course.

The board had previously exhibited some doubts about letting the developers turn the course operation over to the district, since it would put the burden of the course operating costs on the subdivision's landowners.

Several commissioners stated that since the course is an excellent "selling point" for the subdivision, the developer should not turn the financial responsibilities of the course over to people who have already purchased land in the district.

Weisser explained that at present, he still owns approximately 15,000 of the 20,000 homesites in the subdivision.

As a result, the developer has control of the improvement district's action, but noted that any per lot tax levied by the district would come mostly from his own pocket.

"As it stands now, it's written into the purchase contract that the buyers will be assessed $50 annually or possibly more, in the future, for maintenance operations. If we institute a per lot assessment as we plan to do this year, that $50 will be eliminated."

"Each owner will probably wind up paying about $15 to $20 instead. And as principal landowner, I will still be paying the vast majority of the upkeep. It would be ridiculous for us to levy any outrageous tax, since the only one I would be hurting would be myself."

He noted that as more lots are sold, his share of the costs will go down, but so will his control over the improvement district.

"A primary reason we wish to develop the course over to the district is that as the law now stands, the owner can do anything with the land he wishes. He could carve the golf course up into more lots, or build condominiums on it."

"A recent court case over this type of development has recently been settled in Hollywood, and it concluded that the owner could pretty much do what he pleases."

He concluded, "I have no intention of taking this type of action, but then I'm not going to be around forever. I can't guarantee what would happen 20 years from now."

While Weisser said he was planning on donating the 260 acres of golf course to the improvement district, it was pointed out that the district would be paying the county taxes on the property.

Rex Bond, a member of the Improvement district board, told commissioners that it would be in the best interests of subdivision residents to have the course turned over to the district. "The owners would not be paying anything they are not already paying through the contract agreement. But all that money goes to the developers, and we have no say over how it is used."

"The improvement district's books would be open for a county audit, and there would be no doubt of where the money would be spent."

Commissioner C. J. "Buddy" Wise said he felt the amendments would represent "a vast improvement over the present ordinance."

County Attorney Robert Duntz agreed, saying, "We have met with these people on several occasions since the amendments were first presented, and they haven't backed at anything we asked."

"These amendments certainly don't give them anything that they don't already have."

The board agreed to set next Tuesday as the hearing for the amendments.

BOTTLES STOLEN
The theft of five cases of empty soda pop bottles was reported to sheriff's deputies last Wednesday.

At Mayes, of the Mayes Gulf Station on U.S. 27, near Sebring, told investigators that the cartons had been placed in front of the station. Loss was set at $12.50.

DOG SHOT
Flora Taylor, of Sebring, reported to sheriff's deputies last Wednesday that her Dalmatian dog returned home with an apparent gunshot wound.

The animal was treated at a local veterinarian's, who confirmed that the wound was probably made by a bullet. Investigations are continuing.

Mole Cricket Control

Homeowners may find that mole crickets are cutting off the grass from the bottom, and cattlemen are worried about shortages of forage for their cattle. In both cases mole crickets are the culprits, seriously damaging acres of pastureland in Florida last year, said Tim Turner, County Extension director.

Large numbers of adult mole crickets were spotted in March and April of this year. At night the crickets often congregated on street corners, buzzing around street lights. Their large numbers cause varying amounts of damage to pastures and lawngresses.

Earlier this spring considerable confusion and controversy on mole cricket control developed. Dealers, pest control operators and people whose land has a history of mole cricket damage wanted immediate controls.

Controls can be applied in March and April, but mole crickets are especially hard to manage at this time in the adult stage. Since the mole cricket goes through only one generation each year, preventive controls of nymphs can be made before pasture or crop damage occurs.

"If you had trouble with mole crickets last year, now is the time to apply bait controls", said Turner.

Eggs laid in May or June take only about 20 days to hatch. As soon as they hatch, young nymphs begin actively searching for food. During the summer nymphs tunnel through the upper soil, feeding on plant roots and organic matter.

Surface feeding is most common when the soil is moist and the weather is warm. Most mole cricket feeding occurs at night after it rains or after a recent irrigation.

"Correct timing of the bait application is essential for effective control," said Turner. "You can get excellent control by applying the bait right after a rain in July."

Women Play Softball For Enjoyment

text by Barbara Cornell

You're Out! Annie Perry, Super Black third basenperson, tags Zodiac runner, Sharon McRae, as she comes into third. Sunphoto by Russ Dennis.

If you're bored with your lifestyle of sitting at home night after night, pack up the kids and join the fun and excitement at the Women's Slow Pitch Softball games each Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Where? At the Little League Field on the corner of N. Anoka and LaGrande Streets.

Women's softball is in its fourth season here in Avon Park. It's a popular sport here and has grown from five teams in the beginning to eight this season.

It attracts all types of women and girls from petite 50 pound housewives to hefty athletic types.

Why do women play softball? I decided to interview a few players and find out. Here are their stories:

Laurie Welch

Laurie Welch, 14 years of age, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Welch, plays for Texas. She first started playing ball in minor league baseball.

"I started getting interested in softball when my sister played last year, but I have been playing ball most of my life," stated Miss Welch.

"I lose my temper once in a while, like when I miss a ball. But then I try to think harder, so I won't make the same mistake again," Miss Welch said.

She also feels it is very important for all players to have good sportsmanship.

Betty McEntyre

Mrs. Betty McEntyre is a house wife and the mother of three children. She is married to S-Sgt. David McEntyre who is stationed at Avon Park Bombing Range Air Force Base.

This is Mrs. McEntyre's first year playing softball since she was in high school, about 20 years ago.

She is a player for Scotty's Women's Softball team.

"I have been wanting to play softball for years, but I could never find a ladies team I could join until this year. Actually I became interested going to watch my husband playmen's softball," admitted Mrs. McEntyre.

What she enjoys about playing is the fun, exercise, being with other ladies and just getting out of the house.

She likes the games more so than practice, because it is a challenge.

"The first time I pitched, my knees shook so bad I wasn't sure I could do it, and that first practice game we played was really exciting," Mrs. McEntyre said.

Her husband is enthusiastic about her playing and helps her practice at home.

She stated, "I get upset at myself once in a while, when I make a mistake, but not often. After all, I have just started playing and I figure I will get better. I have never been involved with sports before and I am really having the best time. I like to win, but mainly I like to have fun."

Maxine Tate

Maxine Tate, a 17 year old Avon Park High School student, plays center field for Lady Fox's sponsored by Bob Oliver.

She started playing in physical education and found she enjoyed it more than the rest of the sports. In the eighth grade she tried out for a team, made it, and has been playing since.

"I like to play and it's better than doing nothing. I love the competition and I love to win. Practice to me is as much fun as the games. Infact, last Tuesdays game was sort of like practice to me," Miss Tate said.

She admitted her sportsmanship has improved quit a bit and she tries not to get upset now when things go wrong on the field.

"The most exciting moments for me was when we came in second place in a tournament and I threw the ball from center field to home plate," stated Miss Tate.

Pat Landress

Mrs. Pat Landress has played ball since she was nine years old. This year she is playing for W.L. Grace in left field. She started playing with her brothers in the back yard and anything they wanted to do, so did she.

"I guess I have always been a tomboy. I play softball for the enjoyment, physical activity, competitiveness and for the fact that I love it," stated Mrs. Landress.

She played Ponytail League up north when she was 10 years old and always used her brother's left handed glove, although she is right handed.

"I would have to catch the ball with my right hand, take the glove off and throw the ball. Infact, I was in my teens before I learned to catch the ball with my left hand," she said. "I don't know why my parents never bought me a glove. I know it was not the money involved, maybe they did not think I took it seriously or I never mentioned wanting a glove of my own."

The first game of the season was the most exciting for her. Their team she plays on is new and they almost beat a well established team.

Her husband, Gene, likes for her to play softball and bought her a new glove for a birthday present. She also added, "He lets me run off my mouth about how everyone did in the game or practice. He is really great."

She says she only loses her temper at herself and she never lets it effect her playing.

She was a little upset about the new ball complex. In the original plans it did not have a field designated for the women. The field the women now have was designed for the Little League, but the little league decided they wanted to continue playing on their old field and not be split up.

"A lot of men snicker at women playing softball, but we have never been given the opportunity to develop our talents," stated Mrs. Landress.

Summary

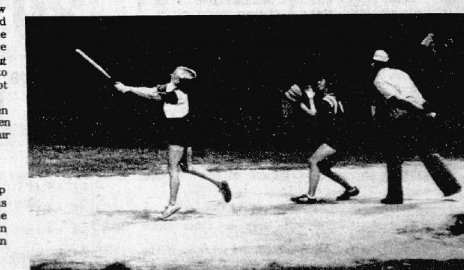

Mrs. Lucy Derkman summed up women's softball games as, "Nowhere is the evidence of the thrill of victory or the agony of defeat more vividly seen than on the faces of girls and women in an amateur softball games."

On The Consumer's Side

If you as a consumer have been misled, deceived, or have questions you need clarified, call the toll free telephone number of the Florida Department of Agriculture, Consumer Services, Tallahassee: 1-800-382-2176.

Or, write: Mrs. Lee F. Rumbley, Consumer Services Coordinator, The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, The Division of Consumer Services, Mayo Building, Tallahassee, Fla. 32304.

Question: My family will be moving from Florida to the midwest this summer. Can you give me any tips about moving? We are leary of damages anyway, and would like to take all possible precautions.

Answer: One out of every five people changes residence each year. Over 20 percent of the people who move file damage or loss claims.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, which regulates interstate movers, receives 4,000 complaints a year about the way movers handle claims. It therefore, is extremely important that consumers know how to move and how to deal with moving companies.

1. Plan your move in advance. Try to choose a moving company a month or two before your desired moving date, especially during the busy summer months.

2. In choosing a moving company, follow the general rules of shopping: ask friends who have recently moved whom they would recommend; discuss your move with at least three reputable movers; get clear in your mind all the charges and expenses that are going to be involved.

3. Get estimates from the three movers. Have them come to your house and look over what is to be moved; don't accept over-the-phone estimates. These estimates will give you an idea of what the moving costs are going to be and will give you a feeling for the reliability of the moving companies. Don't though, overrate the value of estimates.

Because of federal and state regulations regardless of estimates - and they may well vary widely-final charges no matter which company you choose will be approximately the same.

Also, beware of "lowballers", those who give you deceptively low estimates in order to get the job.

4. During the actual loading, the movers will number your goods and indicate their condition (this is part of their procedure). As they do this, you should make certain that they are not overlooking anything and that you agree with their appraisal of each item's condition. If you don't agree tell them.

5. As the moving men bring your articles into the new house, you should check, as well as you can, to see that everything is being delivered and that all the pieces are undamaged.

6. If you discover things are missing or are damaged, note these in writing on the sheets the driver asks you to sign; noting these will make it much easier for you to collect from the mover.

24,000 Acres Added To Endangered List

Recent revisions in the final acquisition proposals of the state's Environmentally Endangered Lands Program (EEL) were approved recently by the Governor and cabinet.

Three new projects, totaling more than 24,000 acres, were added to EEL's group of Priority One projects, a list of lands the state would like to purchase with the $49.3 million remaining in the EEL account. Bobby Joe White, EEL projects coordinator, said the three tracts are Cedar Key Scrub in Levy County, Perdido Key in Escambia County, and the Upper St. John River Marsh in Brevard County.

Dropped from consideration was the 456-acre Loxahatchee River Corridor in Palm Beach and Martin counties. "The majority of the land owners were simply not interested in selling their land," White said. The changes bring the number of projects on the EEL agenda to nine, he added. Negotiations for buying six priority projects are underway following the recommendation of the Interagency Advisory Committee on EEL which met June 22. On this list are Garofolo Beach in Collier County; Big Tabor Island in Duval County; Rock Creek Ravine in Liberty County; Rookery Bay in Collier County; and Withlacoochee in Citrus and Sumter Counties.

The EEL program was authorized by a $200 million bond issue passed by Florida voters in a 1972 referendum. Since then, the state has bought or has been authorized to buy about 330,000 acres for $150.5 million, according to White. Efforts to replenish EEL acquisition monies were unsuccessful during the 1977 Legislative Session, he said.

Elaine Chase is in Walker Memorial Hospital. He is doing nicely.

The mornings were spent shopping and the afternoons were enjoyed at the pool and walking on the beach. They have been going to the Gulf for years and they were astounded at the people who were vacationing at this time of year. They said they thought it looked like Coney Island!

Gert and Dan Bohland, their daughter, Judy Anglim, and grandchildren, Danielle and Bobby, visited Silver Springs last week where they took a ride on the glass bottom boats and the jungle cruise. On the 4th, they attended the rodeo in Arcadia and this week they visited the Masterpiece Gardens in Lake Wales. On Sunday, "Grandpa Bohland" took Bobby fishing and Bobby caught a nice fish. Also, Bobby and Danielle have been having a big time helping "Grandpa" around the park and have been having a big time riding on the machines.

Week-end guests of Margie and P. D. Wells were their son and his wife, Bob and Carol Wells, of Pompano Beach. Also, Margie's brother, Leonard Marsh, of Fort Myers was a visitor on Saturday and Sunday.

If you haven't been looking at our beautiful sunsets recently, you have really been missing something! The other evening at the very same time there was blue sky with white clouds in the north, a beautiful sunset in the west, an electrical storm in the south and a vivid rainbow in the east. Why don't you take a few minutes every evening to see what the "Master Painter" puts on His canvas for us?

Church's Summer Junior Communicant's Class Ends

The Summer Junior Communicant's Class of the First Presbyterian Church ended on Wednesday, July 6. The class started on May 25. Six members of the class and their parents met with the Session of the church on Thursday night, July 7, for examination and profession of faith. The six were recognized as communing members of the church at Morning Worship on last Sunday.

As a result of the Communicant's Class, the parents of the boys and girls will lead a 7 weeks follow-up home study. The study will be concerned with what happens after a person makes a profession of faith in Christ. The seven weeks study will center around "Growing as a Christian". A resource guide book was given to the parents at the Thursday night Session meeting to give suggestions on leading the study on Christian growth. Topics that will be considered are: "In Training", "Our Father's Word", "Our Father's Will", "Our Father's Work", "Our Father's Worship", "Our Father's Friendship", and "Our Father's Kingdom". The Communicant's classes held at the church for the boys and girls considered the following topics: "Followers of Christ", "The Creed", "Baptism", "The Lord's Supper", and "Decision". In addition the ten commandments were studied, the Catechism, Bible Verses, and the spelling of the books of the Old Testament.

THE SPACE AGE REVEALS THE GLORY OF CREATION

Man's conquest of space is just beginning; although it has already achieved many astounding feats of technology that hardly anyone believed possible even a few years ago. And yet, the farther we progress through the intricacies of modern science, the more we are compelled to marvel at the magnitude of God's Creation, that reaches out into an infinity we cannot comprehend; and also, at our God-given ability to engineer and perform these feats. However, you need not go to the moon, but only as far as the Church of your choice; to thank God for this vast universe and for the intelligence granted to man to explore it, and thereby enrich all our lives on earth.

And while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.
— John Gillespie Magee, Jr.

"For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible."

Correction Institution Employees Complete Course

The Department of Offender Rehabilitation has announced that Avon Park Correctional Institution employees Jimmy A. Glibreath, George E. Kondas, Michael G. Wauhup, and Kim M. Hulbert recently participated in the Correctional Training Institute at Raiford.

This is the fourteenth CTI group to enroll in the minimum standards curriculum, which is required by law. The Training Institute program is taught in conjunction with Lake City Community College, and the graduates earn nine semester credits for successfully completing the full time, 160 hour course.

The program includes instruction in the Criminal Justice System, Legal Aspects of Corrections, Operational Procedures, Principles of Supervision, Human Relations and Technical Training Skills which include Firearms, First Aid and Fire Fighting Techniques.

The Correctional Training Institute was certified by the Florida Correctional Standards Council (CSC) in May, 1976, as a training center for correctional personnel. The Council was empowered by the Legislature in 1974 to establish minimum standards for the certification of correctional officers and training centers. The curriculum of training is designed to intensify the exposure of the officer and to develop him professionally. It is anticipated that the training program will help materialize the promise of a modern correctional system.

The participants will continue their training with an additional 160 hours taught by regional instructors, on an in-service basis, at the various correctional facilities located throughout Florida.

State Receives $298,929 For Peace River Spill

The State of Florida received over a quarter million dollars in damages resulting from a phosphate waste spill into the Peace River in 1971. At the time, an estimated two billion gallons of the clay and lime from phosphate processing barge plant poured into Whidden Creek and the Peace River, destroying a substantial number of fish and other aquatic life. Since then, three state agencies and the Governor's Office have been in and out of court seeking damages from Cities Service Company, owner of the sludge pond and processing plant at the time of the break. This week, the company settled the claim out of court and paid $298,929, of which $200,000 will go to the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission for the cost of stocking the river and creek. The remainder will be placed in the Department of Environmental Regulation's Pollution Recovery Trust Fund for use in restoring polluted bodies of water. The dam containing the liquid waste in a pond near

Whidden Creek broke on Dec. 3, 1971. According to state investigators, "The force of the lime flowing through the (creek) area was sufficient to bend over small trees at the base. All remaining vegetation in the floodplain is completely covered with the lime residue," they concluded. Attorneys from the Department of Environmental Regulation and the Attorney General's Office were involved in the suit which was voluntarily dismissed after agreement was reached on the settlement. While the settlement was lower than the damages originally alleged, DER Assistant General Counsel Al Clark pointed out that "Overall, the settlement award was considered to be adequate since the state has been reimbursed for its cost in partially restocking the river. More importantly, the case brought attention to the problem. Now we have stricter standards and permitting procedures which go a long way toward preventing another catastrophe such as this."
