MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

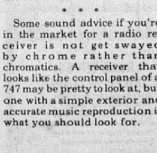

Your Vacation Home
You're finally getting serious about building a vacation home—that special hideaway out beyond the noise and cares. But it is also beyond water mains? No need to worry. You don't really need community-supplied water, and you won't have to pay for it. You can get all the good fresh water you need right at the site you've selected. It's underground—water-cool, clean and good to the taste.

It's available right beneath your property. All you need is your own individual well and automatic, electric water system to bring the water directly to your faucet. With your own well and water system, you'll have a number of advantages over your city cousins. Best of all, your costs will be low. A recent study shows that the total cost of a private well and water system, including equipment, installation, operation, and maintenance, averages less than half the cost per gallon of "city water." And there will be no unannounced increases in your monthly water bills. You'll have your choice of sites for your vacation home, too, because underground water is found just about everywhere. There's plenty of it. Over 97 percent of our country's fresh water is underground; only 3 percent is surface water in lakes, rivers and streams. You can use as much water as you want, since there are no restrictions on usage for private water systems. When you want to take a bath or wash your car, you can. For a booklet called, "Free Water: A Guide to Private Wells and Water Systems," send 25 cents to the Booklet Distribution Room, Ground Water Council, 221 N. LaSalle Street, Chicago, Ill. 60601.

TUNING TOPICS

There's an accessory to your receiver that's rapidly becoming a necessity. If you don't want to impose your listening taste on others. With a head-phone you can preserve privacy and not intrude on anyone else's. Your FM tuner or receiver, like your television, is a line of sight medium. Therefore, the right antenna, properly oriented, will make a tremendous difference in the quality of your reception. Experts at the Electronic Industries Association say the antenna can be as important as the tuner itself. Some sound advice if you're in the market for a radio receiver is not get gaudy by chrome rather than chromaticity. A receiver that looks like the control panel of a 747 may be pretty to look at, but one with simple exterior and accurate music reproduction is what you should look for.

Two Cases On Docket In Juvenile Court

Only two cases were on the docket for Highlands County juvenile court when it held its July 15 session. In the one delinquency hearing a youth pleaded guilty to grand larceny. Judge Clifton M. Kelly adjourned the youth delinquent. The case was transferred to Palm Beach County for disposition. In a dependency hearing the child was declared dependent and custody given to Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

Mrs. Erie Townsel (left) of Joe's Music Shop, 101 W. Main Street, is standing with Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Snyder of Avon Park. The Snyders are holding Barbara Shreiland's newest album "Superman" (released about 3 weeks ago), in which their son, Richy, wrote the music and lyrics to the album's title song. Plans are now being made for "Superman" to be released in August on a single and Richy will be recording his own album in the near future. So, now you know the reason these parents are smiling so big.

McKowan Elected Chairman Of Board

At the June 21 meeting of the Florida State Board of Cosmetology the membership elected Virginia M. McKown of Avon Park as the new Chairman of the Board. Mrs. McKown assumed the responsibilities as chairman of the 5 member board on July 1 and will serve in the position through June 30, 1978.

Fiscal year 1977-78 is considered to be the most critical year of the board's existence, since the agency will be required to submit justification to the legislature for its continuance. Mrs. McKown will be the first chairman in the board's 42 years of existence to meet a justification challenge. Mrs. McKown was appointed to the Board of Cosmetology by Governor Reubin Askew in November 1975 and served as Vice-Chairman of the Board from July 1976 to June 1977, when she was unanimously elected as Chairman for fiscal year 1977-78.

Mrs. McKown lives in Avon Park with her husband John and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Grimsley of Wauchula.

Diploma Equivalency

Tests Set For Aug. 2-4

Gene Statler, Director of Vocational & Adult Guidance at South Florida Junior College, has announced that the next series of tests for qualified adults to obtain a high school equivalency (G. E. D.) diploma is slated to be given August 2-4 at 8:30 p.m. at the college.

The diploma constitutes the legal equivalent of a high school diploma and can be accepted by employers and training agencies.

The examination consists of five separate comprehensive tests covering the fields of English expression, natural science, general mathematics, social studies, and literature. Each test takes approximately two hours and it usually requires three evenings to complete the five tests.

The application forms must be completed and submitted to Mr. Statler before Friday, July 19. The $10 testing fee is payable on the first night of testing.

Anyone desiring further information should see Mr. Statler at South Florida Junior College or call 483-6661, extension 119, in Avon Park.

Pre-Advisement Of Student August 1-17

Full semester pre-advisement of students begins at South Florida Junior College on August 1 and will continue through August 17.

All full-time returning students and entering freshmen are urged to make their pre-advisement appointments as soon as possible.

Appointments may be made at the College or by calling 483-6661, extension 131, in Avon Park.

Arson Is Probed As Fire Cause

Fire of unexplained origin completely destroyed an unoccupied house on Lotela Drive, just outside of the city limits, last Friday night.

The house owned by Les Tonkel of Naples has been vacant for about three weeks, with the electric power turned off. Tonkel's parents live nearby on Pleasant Street.

A neighbor, Steve Maxwell reported having called the Forestry Service at approximately 9 p.m. but they had already received the report, at the DeSoto City station.

According to Maxwell the fire appeared to have started on the north side of the house as sparks and hot embers from the burning floor were dropping on the ground and flames were breaking through the roof above the same area.

By the time the Forestry Service tank truck, with 280 gallons of water, arrived the house was fully involved in flames. Since the burning house was beyond salvaging at this time the Avon Park Fire Department was not called under the reciprocal help agreement between the two government bodies.

A Forestry Service spokesman stated that under state law they are not allowed to call for assistance from other governmental units until they are on the scene at a fire. As a consequence the house was totally destroyed by the fire.

In commenting about the lack of fire protection so close to the City limits, Steve Maxwell stated that he would like to see a volunteer type arrangement where the individual living on the city limits could obtain city fire protection for a fee.

Beer Can Robbery Is Solved

An intoxicated Texas drifter, armed with a beer can, pulled off the first bank robbery in Avon Park's history last Friday afternoon and was captured a few moments later by quick acting police. At 2:25 p.m., Friday, a Levi-clad man entered the offices of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Highlands County, 1089 West Main Street.

Pausing long enough to scribble a hold up note on a piece of bank paper, the suspect, later identified by police as Michael Franklin Langdon, 23, of Schertz, Texas, draped a denim jacket over his arm and approached bank teller Ann Jackson, 31 of 807 East State Street.

According to police reports, Langdon shoved the note through the teller's window. According to Lt. Donnie Singletary of the Avon Park police department, the note said, "Please, all cash. Put money in bag!"

Mrs. Jackson complied with the request and at the same time triggered the silent bank alarm, which summoned police.

Mrs. Jackson reportedly filled a green bank bag with approximately $3,700 in bills and change and gave it to the hold up man.

Singletary explained that Langdon was not armed, however, he had flashed the shiny portion of an empty beer can at Mrs. Jackson and then dropped his arm to his side. "I think she (Mrs. Jackson) had good reason to believe the suspect was armed," Singletary reported.

As soon as the police department heard the silent alarm, Dispatcher Mrs. Payne Skelton summoned a patrol car and directed Patrolman Joe Williamson and Patrolman Leo Bronsing to the bank. According to Singletary, this standard operating procedure when they receive a bank alarm.

At the same time, Mrs. Skelton called the bank to make sure that there was a robbery and not an alarm malfunction. Reportedly, bank manager Mrs. Ann Hunter answered the telephone call and assured Mrs. Skelton that everything was fine. "At that point," Singletary explained, "we don't think Mrs. Hunter was even aware that anything was wrong. The hold up man was still in the bank."

Moments later, however, when the Please see page eight

Public Hearing Will Be Held

Utility Rates Scheduled For Hike

A public hearing will be held within four weeks on a proposed city ordinance that will jump garbage, water and sewage rates in some cases by as much as 50 per cent.

Meeting in regular session Monday evening, the Avon Park City Council instructed City Attorney Jack Hancock to draw up the necessary ordinance that will allow the rate hikes.

If passed into law, these increases would become effective on October 1.

A break down of the ordinance shows that sewer tap fees will remain at $100 per connection and jump to $150 per connection where street patching is required.

Water rates will hurt large volume users the most, as the proposed ordinance calls for discounts to large quantity users be discontinued. If approved, all customers would be charged a minimum rate and a flat rate per thousand gallons for anything over the minimum.

Under the proposed ordinance, commercial water rates for customers outside the city limits will be $5.30 minimum for the first 5,000 gallons, then 65 cents per thousand gallons for the next 5,000 units. Any amount over 10,000 gallons will be charged at 50 cents per thousand.

Sewer rates will increase for multi family (4 units or more) dwellings, including hotels and trailer parks, by at least 25 per cent. Presently, the city bills each customer 75 per cent of their monthly water bill for the use of the sewers. That rate will be increased to 100 per cent of the water bill if the new ordinance is approved. For example, if

Low Income Housing Okay Asked

It was a classic example of federal red tape and confusion Monday night, as the Avon Park City Council tried to sort out the developers who are striving to win a federal Housing and Urban Development section 8 housing grant for this area.

The section 8 category is for low income families and reportedly the federal government has said that Avon Park can use some new single and multiple family apartments.

What the government failed to tell the city was that at least two and possibly three firms were bidding for the grant money.

In addition to section 8, there was a representative from a construction firm that was trying to win HUD funds for an elderly assistance housing project here.

Barry Wagner, representing Prime Builders Southeast, a Columbus, Ohio based firm, had more luck than other contractors, as he has already won approval of the city's planning and zoning board for a 26 unit complex to be located on the city's southwest side.

City Clerk Malcolm Crews explained that this project was not connected in any way with the section 8 proposals.

The $500,000 project, if finally approved, will be located on five acres of land bordered on the west by Florida Avenue, the east by Walden Street, the north by Hall Street and on the south by Cornell Street.

Wagner explained that each apartment would be one bedroom, however, tenants had to be 62 years or older to rent.

The rents themselves, according to Wagner, would range from a low of $50 per month to a maximum of $92 per Cleveland Wheeler And Son Darren.

Avon Park is far removed from the refined atmosphere of Churchill Downs and the Kentucky Derby, however, that does not mean that the world of horse racing is far away.

Although you may not see herds of thoroughbred horses grazing on blue grass in Central Florida, with a little effort, you can discover another aspect of horse racing—quarter horses.

Cleveland Wheeler, who at the tender age of 31, is already making a name for himself among those who know and appreciate good quarter horses.

Wheeler, a native of Avon Park, is a horse trainer. And, believe it or not, quarter horses make pretty good racers. In fact, a Wheeler trained horse just danced away with a $70,000 championship race at the Pompano race track. Not bad, you say, for an evening's work.

If it were that easy! Wheeler, who has been riding and training horses since his childhood, spends months—sometimes years, training and refining a good quarter horse for the quarter mile race circuit.

Using the old Murphy Ranch on the Bombing Range Road, Wheeler has trained racing quarter horses for people from all over the country. "I guess you couldn't call me a cowboy," Wheeler said with a grin, but he did admit, gazing at his polished boots, that he had been thrown more than a "few times."

When just a lad of 13, Wheeler rode in his first race. Although the prizes weren't big, Wheeler was enough to be hooked on the idea of training and racing quarter horses for life.

"A quarter horse," Wheeler explained, "can outrun a thoroughbred for a quarter of a mile. These horses are bred for strength and quickness. It's only in the long race that the thoroughbreds can pull away."

Is there much money in racing a quarter horse, an animal usually associated with cattle drives, range work or pleasure riding? "Well, not too much in Florida," Wheeler admitted, "because we just don't have the necessary race tracks, but in other areas that's not the case."

As could be expected, quarter horse racing is big in the far Mid West and in California. In fact, there is a triple crown in quarter horse racing that compares with the purses offered in thoroughbred racing.

In fact, the first track that a Wheeler trained horse ever ran on was in Ruidoso, New Mexico, the home of the quarter horse triple crown.

"The first leg of the crown is the Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity," Wheeler explained, with the second leg being the Rainbow Futurity."

The real social event of the year among quarter horse owners and trainers, however, is the All American, an annual event that packs in the crowds and offers a purse of over $1 million, far larger than any offered at a thoroughbred contest.

"People who own and race quarter horses have to have money," Wheeler conceded as a typical yearly training health and feed bill for a promising quarter horse will run into the thousands of dollars. "There are larger purses offered in quarter horse racing," Wheeler said, "but there probably is more money to be won in thoroughbred racing because of the number of thoroughbred tracks around."

Still, everything considered, a first place cash prize of $70,000 is nothing to sneer at.

So how do you train a quarter horse? "With patience," Wheeler replied.

"I guess I picked up what ability I have for training horses naturally," Wheeler said, "and I watched other trainers when I was young."

Wheeler trained a total of 14 horses during the winter months, starting in some cases, with unbroken and unriden animals.

"We start to train the quarter horses when they are about 18 to 20 months old," he explained. "And the first step is

The professional journalist's trade, aside from what you may have been led to believe, is sometimes a smoke filled world of bad news, corruption and other sordid deeds that occur around us with frightening regularity.

This business has no middle ground, you either love it or hate it, so when a fresh breeze wafts through it, you usually take notice.

Such a fresh breeze is a young intern who is now working with the Sun.

Mark Albright, an Avon Park native, is spending most of the summer with us, in an attempt to glean experience from the daily operations of this newspaper.

Mark doesn't get paid much, however, his eagerness, his smile and his willingness to tackle any story, no matter how small, is refreshing, to say the least. Editorials seldom appear about Sun employees, but in this case, Mark's employment and the strides he is making towards transforming himself from a big boy into a journalist are heartening.

Unfortunately for this profession, many, if not all, college journalism majors usually have to be retrained before they can fit into a working newspaper atmosphere. It is usually a case of ivory tower isolation on the part of college professors that results in journalists who are not aware of the complex interaction between all departments of a newspaper.

Although Mark Albright is just 19 years old, he displays a willingness to work, learn and laugh, qualities that will stand him in good stead throughout the rest of his journalistic life. It should be mentioned, if only briefly, that Mark, despite his tender years, has suffered personal tragedy that would have left lesser people existing in a world of gloom and self pity.

The very fact that he is confident about his future, able to laugh and joke and willing to perform the necessary labor to achieve his goals is proof enough that here is a young man who will succeed in life.

Mark has far to travel on the road towards becoming a professional, seasoned journalist, however, that road will be greatly smoothed by his attitude.

If a burning desire to master a complex profession could be translated into grades or other so called aspects of "success", Mark would be a straight A student. It isn't coming easily for Mark, but it will come and with it the world will inherit a journalist with a sense of humor and compassion.

It has been an enjoyable experience teaching Mark the various aspects of his chosen profession. He will meet many more teachers during his climb. We hope that all of them realize Mark's ultimate potential and speed him on his way towards success.

Letters To The Editor

What's Happening?

What is happening within the wall of our country in these days? What is this foolishness and madness in thinking, preaching, teaching, writing, suggesting and advocating the ridiculous idea of the unionizing of our Armed Forces, which is causing pain and indignation in the hearts of genuine patriotic citizens.

What is an Armed Force? It is the backbone of the nation. To unionize the Armed Forces is to break the backbone of the Nation's existence.

The American Armed Forces are the best-fed, best-clad and best taken-care of and best treated in the whole world.

The American Armed Forces are the best stabilized, the greatest unselfish and heroic organization. They are bound together in one solid and unshakable organization. To introduce another organization will weaken that solidarity and oneness and will cause fatal consequences.

The American Armed Forces are united for only one purpose and only one — to defend the nation and the country under all circumstances; to defend our Matchless Freedoms. They have only one commander-in-chief, in the person of the President of the United States of America. They have only one law, one order, one voice to hear and obey. They have only one master to serve, they cannot serve two masters.

Other commander-in-chiefs, other laws, orders and voices and other masters will bring confusion, military and national destruction and defeat.

Our leaders, the Congress, the Senate and the President should completely and forever give up this most unpatriotic idea of unionizing the Armed Forces. Wisdom demands it.

I wish that we did not have the need of Armed Forces and the world would have rest in peace. But it is not so, there is no peace. There has never been peace since the ancient times. The evil forces, satanic devices, human pride, selfishness, hatred, animosity, jealousy and greediness for power and crime are marching on and they are marching on increasingly.

According to the Holy Writ, according to the ancient and modern prophets and seers and even according to the Christian Scientist, there is no peace, there is no Millennium until the Second Coming of Christ. His coming is imminent. Believers pray for it day and night. When Jesus comes again all Armed Forces will be abolished. He will Establish the Kingdom of God and the Millennium will be on the march. Let us live Godly lives.

Spouses Would Benefit

WASHINGTON — They had been married 35 years. And when the couple divorced four years ago their assets of $15,000 were divided equally.

The husband was ordered to pay alimony, but now is more than $4,000 behind.

He was a federal employee and the benefits the woman received as his spouse terminated quickly.

"I have no claim on any retirement, have no survivor benefits, am not eligible for any medical program," the woman wrote to Rep. Pat Schroeder, D-Colo.

"The final decrees of divorce," she wrote, "includes no compensation for the loss of these benefits."

Schroeder is trying to change that. If a bill she has introduced passes Congress, persons married to at least 20 years would be entitled to a portion — up to 50 per cent — of the pension and survivor benefits of a federal employee.

If the employee chose a lump sum instead of an annuity, the former spouse would be entitled to a portion of the cash payment. A former spouse who remarried before the age of 60 would lose the annuity rights.

The portion of the retirement pay to which the former spouse would be entitled would be based on the number of years of marriage over the number of years of federal employment, with a maximum entitlement of 50 per cent.

At the death of the federal employee, the annuity of the current widow or widower would be reduced by the amount payable to the former spouse.

The bill would apply to both male and female employees.

More than three million civil servants are covered by the federal retirement system.

Low-level Civil Service employees, most of whom are women, are against it, said McCluskey, because they feel their retirement benefits should not go to a former husband, who earned more money than they did.

Rate Hike Is Unavoidable

Before the populace begins a roar of rage over proposed rate hikes in city utility services, we would like to point out that they are necessary.

The proposed rate hikes (see page 1) are a reflection in the never ending inflation rate in this country.

Perhaps one of the hardest jobs for a grass roots politician to do is slap unpopular rate increases on city services. But, as Mayor Marshall Davis pointed out, it has been years since such a sweeping increase took place here.

It is sad and the increases will undoubtedly place a financial burden on some people, however, the city of Avon

Park is at the mercy of the federal government when it comes to disposing of waste and treating water. The standards mandated have made it almost impossible to continue doing business in the same old way. Landfills are being phased out, water quality standards are hundreds of times stricter and costs have risen. In the end, as always, it is the consumer who foots the final bill.

While the Avon Park Sun deplores the conditions which have led to utility rate increase proposals, we have to side with the city council. There just isn't no such thing as a free lunch... anywhere.

Health Care

Home health care in Highlands County will become a reality next year, at least until $75,000 runs out.

At a budget session Tuesday afternoon, the Highlands County Commissioners approved a request for $75,000 of the county's tax dollars to be used for a home health care service.

The program has been placed under the direct supervision of the county's Health Department, but will be governed by the county commissioners.

At next Tuesday's board meeting, a five-member advisory board will be set up by commissioners to outline preliminary guidelines for the program and make recommendations to the commissioners as to the program's management.

Dr. Glenn Hough, director of the health department, cautioned commissioners that the initial cost of establishing such a service could be very dear.

"You've got to lay in medical supplies, hire personnel, and all sorts of related expenses. On the whole, these types of programs have not proven to be treacherous financially, but setting one up and getting it going can be precarious."

From previous information commissioners received on the subject, they expect to recoup a large percentage of their expenses through federal programs such as Medicare and Medicaid, which will completely reimburse the county for expenses incurred on patients who qualify for the federal programs.

While the county may eventually end up receiving as much as 70 percent of its costs, this year the commissioners only allotted $30,000 as expected as revenues.

Anna Dee Catanzaro, county Welfare director, assured the board that home health care would reduce the county's indigent hospital bill, since the patients can be moved from hospitals to their homes earlier than has been feasible without home care.

The board cautioned that when the allocated $75,000 runs out, the program will terminate, at least until the next budget year.

Dr. Hough agreed with the cut-off, saying, "Everybody realizes you have got to draw the line somewhere."

Dr. Hough said that preparations to initiate home health care will begin immediately although the program may not actually get started until several months after the Oct. 1 beginning of the fiscal year.

In other budget matters, the board examined Agricultural Extension Director Tim Hurner's budget, finally allowing him to keep an electric pencil sharpener he had included under new equipment.

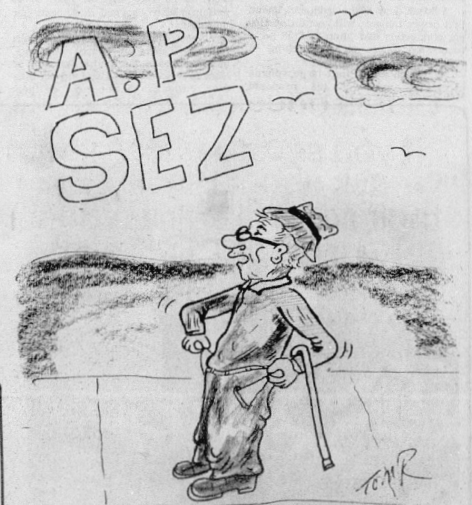

Commissioner Carl Arant Jr., asked if the office "couldn't use a $7.95 hand sharpener, rather than a $30 electric sharpener?" and Hurner agreed to drop the request.

However, after it was pointed out that the sharpener was often used to put a point on up to 40 pencils for a meeting, the board told the agent he could keep the electric machine. "Besides," said one commissioner, "it would cost us more than $25 just to have the budget re-typed without the sharpener."

The board completed several budget requests, which were discussed at other budget sessions.

Receiving approval were budgets from animal control; the county attorney; the circuit judge; courthouse maintenance; the county engineer's office and the Project Hope budget.

Interviewpoint

The subject of federal subsidized housing occupied much of our city commission's time this week. The sticky question of where and when such housing is needed may not be answered immediately.

This week's question: Are you in favor of allowing more low income or federal subsidized housing to be located in the city?

Mrs. Janice Grady, mother, Lofela Park Apartments. "I believe that the federal subsidized or low cost housing should be in the city because it would more convenient for shopping, etc."

John Seftles, retired. Moving to 233 Campher Street. "I wouldn't mind seeing low cost housing in the city, providing the people would take care of the property and not allow it to become trashy."

Arnold Wilson, high school student and stockman, 1409 Carolina Ave. "I think that if the low cost housing project is a city project, it should be located inside of the city."

Opal Avery, cashier, Thriftway Store, Avon Park. "I see a real need for more housing, but I would rather the low income housing be located outside of the city because of the congestion."

Sheriff's $1,160,000 Not Enough

The Avon Park Sun, July 28, 1977 3A

The Highlands County Commission and Sheriff Joe Sheppard have a $274,000 difference of opinion.

At a special budget session Tuesday afternoon, the board voted unanimously to approve a working budget for the sheriff's department of some $1,160,000, approximately $274,000 under what the sheriff had requested.

The vote followed a meeting with the sheriff last Wednesday at a budget session, and discussion among commissioners Tuesday morning as to how much the county should allocate for the sheriff's department.

The commissioners outlined their own budget guidelines for the department, reducing the sheriff's request of 14 new employees to three, and knocking off several items of requested equipment, including three cars, a moving radar gun, a canine, 17 gas masks and 17 riot helmets.

As broken down into categories, the commissioners' proposed sheriff's department budget sets $22,400 for the sheriff's salary (set by the state); $603,941 for employee salaries; $132,307 for employee benefits; $315,294 for expenses other than salaries; $55,404 for equipment; $600 for investigations and $20,000 for contingencies.

The budget also holds a $30,000 item for Sebring Race protection, providing there is a race. The money will be paid back to the county by the race promoter, so the $30,000 will not be an expense to taxpayers.

The board also reduced the department's proposed across-the-board raises of $10 a month per employee to $3 a month per employee.

Present at Tuesday's afternoon "finalization," Capt. Richard McLeod, representing the sheriff, said he had no comment "at this time."

If the sheriff decides that the department cannot work with the funds allotted by the board, he may appeal the decision to the state Department of Revenue.

A hearing would be held, with the sheriff and the county presenting their viewpoints, and the state would make the final determination.

Wednesday evening the board gave Sheppard some hint of the pending decision, with the commissioners each listing their own ideas as to what the department should be given. The highest figure tendered by board members at that point was Norman "Jug" Heston's approximate $1,250,000, while the lowest was Robert Skipper's rough $1,135,000.

Several weeks ago, Sheppard presented his initial budget request, which totaled approximately $1,450,000, up 38 percent over the present fiscal year's budget. He later submitted a revised budget to the board of $1,434,000.

Throughout their discussions, the commissioners repeatedly emphasized that they could not tell the sheriff where to reduce his budget, as they can with the departments under their direct supervision.

The commission can only analyze the budget, determine how much they feel could be trimmed, and present the sheriff with the final decision. It is up to the sheriff how the funds given to him are spent.

Wednesday evening the commissioners stressed to Sheppard that county's budget is going to be up so much this year that "we're already cutting every nickel we can find," Sheppard replied, "I can't see cutting more than about $100,000 out of the budget."

Commissioner Cecil Skipper presented an item-by-item revision of the proposed budget, concluding, "If we would have to raise the taxes by half a mill just to cover your budget."

Carl Arant Jr. added, "We have got to be fair to the taxpayers of this county." Capt. McLeod replied that the department has numerous areas "which have needed upgrading for a long, long time. You are talking about a $250,000 cut."

Commissioner Robert Skipper presented state figures indicating that rural crime in Highlands County dropped 16.4 per cent in 1976, concluding "I don't see where you need 14 new people when crime is supposed to be going down."

Tuesday morning, the board agreed among itself to allow three employees.

The only point of disagreement between board members Tuesday was the amount of funds to be left in the investigations category.

Sheppard had requested $12,000, but Cecil Skipper said he favored leaving the amount at $6,000, the same as the present budget.

Commissioners "Buddy" Wise and Carl Arant favored giving the sheriff the $12,000 "to give him a little more leeway to do what he wants with what he's got."

The matter was put to a vote and commissioners "Jug" Heston, Robert Skipper and Cecil Skipper all voted to leave it at $6,000.

However, the board later upped the sheriff's contingency fund to $20,000 when they learned the present contingency fund is set at $18,000.

AVON PARK POLICEMAN Leroy Prevatt inspects the damage done to a 1972 V.W. Microbus, after the vehicle struck a pick up truck on West Main Street early Tuesday morning. Although the accident is still under investigation, Prevatt indicated the bus was driven by Robert Gay, 41, of 305 West Bell Street, Skinner, 37, of Avon Park. According to reports, the Gay vehicle pulled off of Forrest Avenue and struck the rear of the pick up truck. Gay was admitted to Walker Memorial Hospital for treatment of rib injuries. Sunphoto by Russ Dennis.

Rider New Head Of County Bar

The Highlands County Bar Association has elected new officers for 1977-78. Taking over as President of the prestigious organization is Mike Rider, a Lake Placid based attorney.

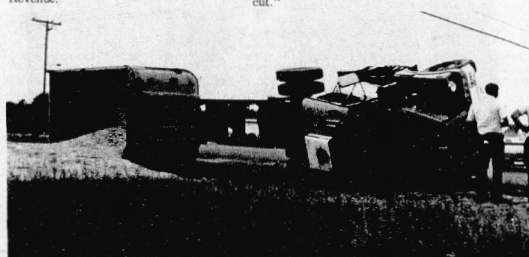

Serving the organization as Vice President is Sebring attorney Cliff Ables. Tony Accorsi, well known Avon Park attorney, was elected to serve as Secretary-Treasurer of the association.

"We will dedicate ourselves to carrying on the fine tradition established by prior administrations," said new President Rider.

The newly elected officers will serve one year terms. "We will endeavor to provide the citizens of Highlands with the finest legal representation possible," said Accorsi, "and the public should feel free to contact any of the newly elected officers if they have any questions or complaints to make about our profession."

JOHN T. SMITH, 31, of Lake Wales, suffered critical injuries last Thursday, when his semi overturned at the intersection of U.S. 27 and SR 17-A. The trucker was taken to Walker Memorial Hospital, then transferred to Winter Haven General Hospital, where he is in an intensive care unit. Police are still uncertain as to what caused the accident, as Smith has been unable to talk with investigators. Damages to the truck, owned by Dewey McKinney of Lake Wales, was set at $9,000. Sunphoto by Russ Dennis.

Rice-Lanier Rehearsal Dinner

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Lanier on Lake Lotela was the scene of a delightful rehearsal dinner on Friday, July 8th. The dinner was given following the wedding rehearsal for Georgiann and Rick Lanier who were married at the home of the bride's parents on July 9th.

Mrs. Hue Nunnallee and Mrs. Robert Barben were hostesses. Preceding the dinner Mrs. Nunnallee and Mrs. Barben served the guests a fruit punch which provided the occasion for David Lanier to propose a toast honoring the bride, welcoming her to the “Lanier” family and wishing the bride and groom many years of happiness in their married life.

After the hostesses had served the dinner, Mrs. Nunnallee presented Rick with the “groom's cake”, a chocolate layer cake topped with a burning light bulb representing his employment with the Florida Power Company. The groom cut the cake which was enjoyed by the guests along with sherbert parfaits.

Those attending to honor the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. David Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Rice, Jim Lanier, Jean Carver, John Rice, Leah Katin, Mrs. W. D. Dorniney,

Rotarians Hear Of Battle Of Highlands

By EARL JACKSON
Avon Park Rotary Club program chairman John Morris introduced Jeff Lis as the club's guest speaker last week.

Lis, who is also a Rotarian in the Lake Placid club, spoke to members about an upcoming event called the Battle of the Highlands.

Lis explained that the event would take place on August 6 at 10 a.m. at the Placid Lakes Inn and Country Club in Lake Placid.

The event is being held to raise funds for muscular dystrophy and is sanctioned by the Muscular Dystrophy Association. County wide organizers for the event are Keith Corporation Realtors of Lake Placid and the John Morris Real Estate Agency of Avon Park.

Lis said that the "battle" would consist of five events, with seven persons on each team. The events will be similar to the ABC-TV program called "Almost Anything Goes."

The average age of each team member will be 36 and each team will include three women and four men.

The national budget set by the Muscular Dystrophy Association for the coming year will be $42,000,000, most of which will be raised through contributions. The association spent $22,700,000 on operating and research last year. Lis explained that anyone who wanted to make a donation to the association could do so by mailing to P. O. Box 824, Lake Placid, Attention Jeff Lis.

Rotarian Bill Warner and Dick Peavy will be members on the Avon Park team.

Local Rotary Vice President Phillip Weber was in charge last week and wondered how he did with an early adjournment. This brought a round of applause. Weber reported that club attendance was good in June and Avon Park was tenth in attendance among 50 clubs in Rotary District 696. "That's good," he said, "but we can do better."

Rotarians are reportedly looking forward to their July 27 meeting when the District Governor will make his annual visit.

The Avon Park Rotary Club meets each Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. in the Ranch Buffet on U.S. 27.

CETA - There's More To It Than You May Think

By MARK ALBRIGHT
CETA is the abbreviation for Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. It is a federal job program that began four years ago with the intention of helping local governmental agencies hire the manpower they need without expanding their budgets.

The City of Avon Park has three policemen and one fireman presently working under the CETA program.

The extent of the program's services depend on the county's population. Highlands County is second only to Polk County in a five-county consortium under CETA.

CETA is designed for public service employment only. The jobs under the program must be public service jobs with governmental agencies or non-profit organizations.

The Sheriff's department, the road service, and the forestry service all have employees which are included in Highlands County's 33 continuing CETA positions.

Mrs. O'Connell of the State Employment Office, said, "Avon Park Chief Bob Brooks was once on CETA as a patrolman and now he is the chief."

Mrs. O'Connell also said, "CETA is a very beneficial program and it helps the public immensely."

To be eligible to fill a position funded under CETA's Title VI you must be unemployed or out of school for at least 15 weeks.

To fill a position funded under CETA's Title II the applicant must be unemployed for at least 30 days and have a social security card. He also must have applied at the unemployment office and be qualified to fill the position.

Smitha Moore is in charge of CETA's Title I program. Moore said that Title I includes such programs as SPEDY (Summer Program for Economically Deprived Youth), STEP (Summer Training Employment Program), SCIP (Summer College Internship Program), and SAW (Seniors At Work).

Carr Arrested For Theft

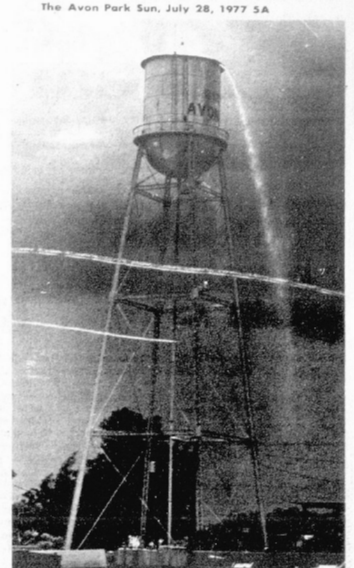

With the arrest of an Avon Park resident, sheriff's deputies feel they have gone a long way towards solving the recent theft of a Hercules statue.

Last Friday afternoon Fred David Carr, 19, was arrested by deputies and booked into Highlands County Jail, charged with grand larceny in connection with the case.

Mrs. Zelma Church, owner of French's Antiques, reported to sheriff's deputies last month that a six-foot, 1200-pound statue of Hercules was missing from her front yard. Deputies believe Carr to be the culprit.

Portions of the statue were recovered Sunday when a fisherman angling in Hidden Lake called the sheriff's department to report what appeared to be a body in the lake.

Investigations revealed the "body" to be that of the statue. It was noted that the $450 statue had suffered damage in the course of the theft.

Four Injured In $10,000 Motor Home Accident

Four persons were injured in an Avon Park accident Thursday that caused over $10,000 in damages to the two vehicles involved.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, Helen Thomas Oliver of Avon Park was northbound from the West End Grocery parking lot, attempting to cross SR 64 when she pulled into the path of a motorhome driven by Marvin Smith of Zolfo Springs. The force of the resulting collision sent the Smith motorhome over 120 feet before it overturned on its left side.

Trooper Roy Walker charged Oliver with violation of right of way.

Heat Can Hurt Your Pet

Florida sunshine — that tourist delight — is often lethal to dogs, even in small doses, warns the Florida Veterinary Medical Association (FVMA). The subtropical's torrid summer sun can kill pets in a matter of minutes.

Hypothermia, or heat stroke, occurs when your pet retains too much heat in his body, explained FVMA president Dr. Dietrich Beusse Jr.

"Cats are just as susceptible to heat stroke as dogs," Dr. Beusse said, "but most cases occur in dogs who are left in parked cars for as little as 10 minutes."

What many people don't realize, especially visitors from the north is how fast the temperature rises in a parked car. The internal temperature of a car parked in the shade is about 95 degrees, but if it's in the sun, the surface temperature quickly reaches 150 degrees. If the windows are closed and there's no circulation of air, it gets worse, faster.

A dog's normal temperature is about 100 to 101 degrees. If his temperature rises to 106 or 107 degrees, he's in grave trouble. Brain damage and death occur quickly when the dog's temperature reaches 108 degrees.

Here are tips for caring for your pet:

Never leave an animal in a parked car.
Provide lots of drinking water.

If your pet stays outside be sure there's plenty of shade available in the area where he's confined.

Give your long-haired dog a shorter, cooler summer haircut.

If the dog is getting lots of physical activity (e.g., a hunting dog), douse his body with running water or find a stream where he can cool off.

Symptoms of heat stroke are rapid panting; mouth held open and mucous membranes a red to purplish color; loss of mental acuteness; trembling; convulsions and finally death.

Immediate first aid for an animal suffering from heat stroke is crucial. Lower the temperature by dousing the animal in water, packing him in ice, running water through the side of his mouth (not down his throat), or directing the air conditioning ducts (in the car) at his head.

Then, seek your veterinarian's help at once. The rapid respiration of an animal suffering from heat stroke causes a disruption of the acid-base balance in the blood. It is necessary for the veterinarian to treat and monitor the animal after his body temperature has returned to normal.

"No Burglars Allowed"

"No burglars allowed," state Patrolman James Crabtree of the Avon Park Police Department as he announced the presentation of a series of programs on residential security, the first to be held at the Florida Power Lounge at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 2.

"Burglars are opportunists, looking for easy access," Patrolman Crabtree continued, "and 90 percent of the burglars gain entrance to homes through doors and windows." A good percentage of the homes in Avon Park were built in the "honest era" when there was not the need for securely locked homes.

This first program on home security will include the film, "Can't Judge a Crook by his Cover" and was produced by the "Florida State Help Stop Crime Program" and points out ways and means of making the home more secure. The film stresses one of the best devices is having a concerned neighbor, who is observant and reports suspicious or casual persons in the area to the Police Department for investigation.

Other programs to be announced will include Tony Accorsi on "Burglary and the Law," so the home owners can be protected; and Keith Sanders explaining the use and types of locks for doors and windows to make the home more secure.

These programs are open to all residents of the area, who are urged to attend and to learn how to make their home more secure. Refreshments will be served.

Weight Room Is Under Construction For Public

BY MARK ALBRIGHT
The Avon Park Recreation Department is in the process of constructing a weight room at the recreation center.

Dennis Guenther, director of the center, said he expects completion by the middle of August. He added that delivery of the doors for the room are the only thing holding up construction.

Total cost of constructing the room is set at $1,200. Billy Jackson of Avon Park is doing the blockwork.

Guenther said the center is receiving $5,000 in federal revenue sharing funds to pay for the room and $1,800 worth of weight equipment. The equipment will include a six-station universal weight machine, designed to tone the whole body, and several machines to help women with their slimness exercises.

The remainder of the funds will be used to finish the racketball courts and install a new floor on the upstairs basketball court.

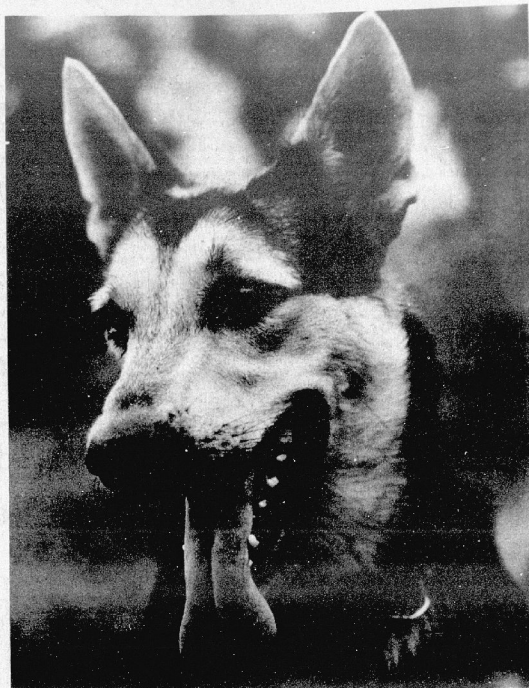

Guenther said the center will also be using the $7,000 that it received from the Avon Park Youth Association when it went defunct in 1973. The oak basketball court will be installed with help from A.P.C.I. inmates.

The weight room will be located in the shed behind the recreation center. According to Guenther, several individuals said they would donate barbell-type weight sets to the center for use in the room.

With completion of the room, the center will begin conducting a supervised weight training class. Paul Wilson will be in charge of school age children. Teenagers in grades nine, through twelve may participate. Bill Love, from the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center will teach the adults.

Once a person completes the training course, he may join the Weight Club. The club is designed to let a person continue using the room on his own time. Members pick up a key when they enter the center and are free to use the room on their own.

Horse Wins For Local Trainer

getting the used to working in a "round pen".

This is nothing more than a circular area marked off with a fence or wire. The untrained horse is kept for several days in this enclosure, learning to obey commands. After the rudiments, such as stop and go, have been mastered, it's off to a race track for the fledgling race horse.

"We train the horses on the track to get them used to the surroundings," Wheeler said. "We also give them a thorough medical examination, including X-rays of their knees."

For those of you who aren't aware of it, the knee of a horse is a delicate thing. Many a promising career has been ended because of knee complications.

"We check the X-rays to make sure that the colt's knees are not open," Wheeler added. If the horse's knee is "open", or lacking the necessary cartilage to sustain the animal while running, the horse is not put through all of the paces. "Usually, a horse's knee will close up and become stronger as they get older. If a horse has an undeveloped knee, we wait for a time and try again."

After countless times around the track, usually in the company of older and wiser horses, the colt is trained to accept the indignity of being led into the starting gate. "After a horse has gotten used to starting from a gate," Wheeler explained, "we will run him in schooling races, usually with match horses that are older."

It is during these schooling races that the new quarter horse is "breezed" for the first time. "When we let a horse run full out, we call it breezing," Wheeler explained, and it's only done after the horse has been examined, trained and made familiar with its surroundings.

After the "match race" training, the quarter horse is taken on the bush circuit, taking part in small purse races across the state and country. All this has taken about 90 days. If the colt doesn't show any promise within that time," Wheeler said, "we usually remove him from training and start over again." When asked if that happens often, Wheeler said, "Not really."

What happens to the quarter horses that do well on the bush circuit? They get nominated for futurity races — and a chance to win their owners and trainers a lot of money.

per day fee," Wheeler said, "but he also usually gets 10 per cent of his horses' track winnings, too."

Although a horse owner has already shelled out thousands of the "big time" costs money. "For most futurities," Wheeler said, "the horse owners usually have to pay a nomination fee of around $500. The race track then offers a purse of between $2,500 and $10,000, which is added to the nomination fees and the 10 fastest horses get to run for the money. This could prove expensive if you paid nomination fees for a horse that didn't make the 10 fastest cut."

Quarter horses, like their thoroughbred counterparts, are raced in age groups. "They start off as 2 year olds," Wheeler explained, "then run in different classes as 3 year olds." The final division is 3 years olds and up.

"I guess I will stay with the horses until I retire," Wheeler smiled. "It's something I love."

Wheeler is presently in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he has taken over the chore of training 6 new horses. In the meantime, he will be running one of his horses in a $60,000 futurity at River Downs in Ohio, as well as a smaller, $8,000 purse race. "I think we will have a good chance of placing or winning in the big race," Wheeler said, "but I haven't seen the horse that will run the smaller one yet."

From Ohio, Wheeler will travel to Detroit, Michigan, where he will enter different animals in a $70,000 futurity there.

Wheeler is married to the former Brenda Johns. They have three children, Darren, 7; Jennifer Nichols, 3 and Sean, 1.

"I guess the urge to train and ride horses is strongest in my daughter Jennifer," Wheeler chuckled. "She likes to watch and ride." Wheeler added that although his son accompanied him frequently, "He's more interested in fishing than anything else."

"It's been a rewarding life," Wheeler concluded, "one that I'm pleased with."

While the citizens may never hear the familiar "post" call, announcing the start of a horse race, one of her citizens will undoubtedly leave his mark on the world of quarter horse racing.

Low Income

Housing Sought

month per apartment, depending on the income of the renter. The federal government would subsidize the remaining portions of the rent.

Councilman David McCreedy said he thought the rents were too high for this area, as they would really average over $200 per month if unsubsidized. Councilman Larry Albritton expressed the feeling of the rest of the council, when he said, "We need to get the feelings of the surrounding property owners and we need more information for ourselves before we can approve this plan."

Representatives from the firm will reportedly meet with city officials and representatives of the Avon Park Housing Authority later this week to explain the entire project.

The second firm in attendance at Monday night's meeting did not fare as well as Prime Builders, however, as they met a stone wall of resistance from the council on their proposed low income section 8 housing plan.

Richard Float, President of Bradley Construction Company, also a Columbus, Ohio based firm, gained some satisfaction, however, when he talked the council into allowing his company to meet at a later date with city officials for an in depth explanation of his proposed project.

The council, acting on recommendations from the planning and zoning board and the Avon Park Housing Authority, two weeks ago turned down Bradley Construction Company's request for preliminary approval of a 49 unit complex on Edgewood Street.

The 10 acre project would consist of one, two, three and four bedroom homes. Rents for each unit would depend on the income and number of family members in each family, however, the exact rental rates were not available.

Float met stiff opposition from the council, as they pointed out that the project had already been rejected by the planning and zoning board. "I won't approve a thing until it has cleared the planning and zoning board," said Councilman Kelley Phillips.

Most certainly, the confusion and lack of information about the project two weeks ago was accidental. "We simply answered a federal notification of funds available (NOFA) for a project in this area. We didn't realize that all this information was required for just preliminary approval."

The council, however, indicated that the federal notification sent to them demanded either approval or denial of the plan.

Accident Case Settled

An out-of-court settlement has been reached in a civil damage suit filed in a motorcycle-auto accident at Avon Park. The suit was brought by James W. Cobb Sr. and Diana E. Cobb. He was operating the 'cycle which was involved in a collision with a vehicle driven by Vincent Halford Potts. Mrs. Cobb was a passenger on the motorcycle.

The accident occurred at the intersection of E. Main St. and N. Lake Ave., in Avon Park, Dec. 7, 1974. Judge Tim Strickland signed the order of dismissal on July 19.

employee expenses, as well as landfill fees have increased. "We haven't had an increase in years in our garbage rates," said Mayor Marshall Davis, "and even with the new rates, we are still cheaper than many cities in this area."

The garbage rate hikes alone will garner the city coffers an additional $40,000 per year, however, Crews indicated that he hadn't figured out how much additional revenues will be generated by utility hikes in other areas.

The public hearing on the proposed ordinance will be held on August 22

Juveniles Arrested

Avon Park Police have reported the arrest of three juveniles in connection with a rash of breaking and enterings which have occurred here during the last few weeks.

According to Lt. Donnie Singletary, the juveniles, ranging in age from 16 to 17, were taken into custody recently.

All three have been charged with burglary and grand larceny, both felonies. They have been turned over to the juvenile authorities, pending court disposition of their cases.

Singletary reported that this was the third felony arrest for one of the youths.

Police have been investigating approximately 20 burglaries which have occurred here this summer. "While we don't think the three we have arrested are responsible for all of the break ins," Singletary said, "we do feel they are responsible for several of them."

To halt the burglaries, most of which occur during the night hours, police have instigated a special community watch program.

Kitchen Injured With Mower

An afternoon of lawn mowing almost cost a well-known South Florida Junior College instructor his life last week.

Emmons "Butch" Kitchen, 68, of 2012 South Calhoun Street, suffered serious injuries last Wednesday when his legs were mangled by an out of control self-propelled lawn mower.

According to Mrs. Esther Kitchen, 78, the couple had just traveled to their Lakota Camp near Lake Placid, when the mishap occurred.

Police Officer

Presents Lions

Program

The Tuesday evening show on the All-Star baseball game had very little effect on the attendance at the Avon Park Lions Meeting last Tuesday evening. About 30 members and 4 guests were present.

The program for the evening was presented by James Crabtree, Community Service Officer of our local Avon Park Police Department. The name of the film presentation was "You can't Judge a Crook By His Cover", which showed how people with ulterior motives would go about a neighborhood to check the activities of the residents and which homes could be easily burglarized.

After the film, Officer Crabtree gave a talk on Residential Security. He explained how doors and windows could be fixed to make them more secure so entry into the home would be much more difficult. He also recommended that an inspection of homes by a Security Officer could be beneficial to all home owners. It was a very interesting and enlightening talk and demonstration.

Plan to attend our next meeting on August 2nd. Lions, bring your guests.

Notice

NOTICE TO DEMOLISH CONDEMNED BUILDING
The Avon Park City Council has condemned the building known as the Coca Cola Plant building located in Tulane Circle legally described as:

That part of Lots 12 thru 14, inclusive, West of the railroad less the R.R. R.W. and less a tract 40 feet wide to SAL R.R. Block 36, Section 22, Twp 33 S, R 3 E Robert D. Young, owner. Notice is hereby given that on August 8th, 1977 the City will receive bids for the demolition of this building and the clearing of debris from the site.

Bids will be received until 7:30 P.M. August 8th at the City Hall, office of the City Clerk, 202-2137, A.P. 453-4770. If you plan to come, call stating how many will be with you.

City Clerk

July 28, 1977

According to Singletary, a police officer on foot and a plain clothes officer on a bicycle, have been patrolling areas of the city after dark. In addition, patrol cars are making frequent checks of all businesses and homes that are unattended. Under the community watch program, Singletary explained, police will check each home or business daily if the owner is going to be on vacation or out of town.

Patrolman James Crabtree, who acts as the department's public information officer, is offering various security programs for private citizens and groups. In addition, police would like to start a neighborhood watch program, where neighbors keep an eye on each other's property.

"We seem to get a rash of burglaries each year," Singletary explained, "and they usually start when school is out and continue through the summer."

Singletary indicated that police feel that the majority of the break ins are done by school age youngsters.

Kitchen reportedly was attempting to mow an obstacle from the path of his mower when the mishap occurred. "He put the mower in neutral," said Mrs. Kitchen, "and had his back to the machine when it moved ahead and caught his legs."

Mrs. Kitchen, herself a heart patient, attempted to find help for her badly bleeding husband, but could not find anyone around. "I finally found a neighbor, John Moore, who went to a nearby store and called an ambulance," said Mrs. Kitchen.

The injured man reportedly received massive blood transfusions at Highlands General Hospital in Sebring, which saved his life. "He was released from the hospital Monday," Mrs. Kitchen said, "but he will have to undergo skin graft operations on his legs."

Hospital spokesmen said that Kitchen's legs were almost severed by the whirling blades of his lawn mower.

Arson Studied In Fire

"If city units had been able to respond to a Forestry Service call at the time they (Forestry Service) were called the fire could have been put out at a nominal cost," continued Maxwell, "That's the 'grabber' that grabs me."

According to Tonkel's parents the house was covered by insurance, but they didn't know whether it would cover the cost of rebuilding. They reported that the house had been up for sale.

Neighbors in the area said that children had reported seeing a blue car pull away from the house earlier in the evening. That statement, plus the fact that the electricity had been cut-off for three weeks prompted Deputy Sheriff Bruce Bennett to ask the Forestry Service to make an investigation on the cause of the fire.

Len Askeland, investigator with the Highlands County Sheriff's Department, stated that because of the above circumstances the cause of the fire is under investigation.

Beer Can Robbery

turned fled, a second silent alarm was robbed in and the bank called to report a robbery.

Officers Willingham and Bronsing had already arrived at the scene by this time and were told by an employee of Florida Power Corporation that the suspect had just fled on foot between two houses. A few moments later, police cornered Langdon and ordered him to freeze. Officer Willingham, with service revolver drawn, had to repeat that command several times, as Langdon reportedly kept asking Willingham to "kill me, pig."

An unidentified witness to the arrest reportedly told Langdon that he better give up because "that officer has a loaded gun."

Langdon then gave himself up and was ordered to lay face down on the ground, where he was handcuffed.

Investigators said that Langdon has confessed to the bank robbery and even the confession is an interesting story.

According to reports, Langdon told police that he was picked up while hitchhiking and during the ensuing car ride, the unidentified driver started talking about how easy it would be to rob a bank. Langdon claimed that the tall unidentified driver was supposed to wait in front of the bank for him to rob it. Police said they give little credence to Langdon's story, however.

Langdon is currently lodged in the Highlands County Jail, in lieu of a $10,000 bond.

Avon FBI investigator, Keith Underwood, was called in and offered advisory assistance after the robbery was reported.

Police said that Langdon was arrested in the yard of 22 South Summit Street, just a few feet from the bank itself. The money bag, containing all the missing cash, was recovered by police a few hours after the robbery. "I Langdon threw the bag away when he ran out of the bank," Singletary said, "and saw police. We were not certain exactly where he threw it, so we had to hunt."

Utility Rate Hike Scheduled

and your present water bill is now $7 per month, your sewer rate would also be $7.

The council approved a moratorium on allowing residents who are outside of the city limits to tap into the sewer system. Although the city's new $3.5 million sewer project is now almost finished, unexpected growth is already pushing the sewage treatment plant to near capacity. "We can't allow any more customers from outside the city limits until we can determine just what our treatment capabilities are," said City Clerk Malcolm Crews. A study of the maximum number of sewer connections that the new plant can treat is now being undertaken.

Utilities rates will take an across the board jump of 50 per cent in all categories.

Under the proposed ordinance, the new rates would be: Single family dwelling, from $2 per month to $3. A two-family dwelling, each unit would pay $3 instead of $2 per month for garbage collection, as would residents of apartments.

Hotels where guests have no cooking privileges would be jumped from $2.50 per month to $4. Rates for commercial place ups, three per week, would be increased from $5 to $8 per month. Garage and service stations will pay $4 instead of $3 per month and the fee for removing junk tires will be increased from $3 to $6.

Office buildings will be charged $3 per month, up $1 from their present rate. Regular hotels, drug stores, etc. will jump from $8 per month to $16.

Trailer parks will be billed monthly on 75 per cent of their available spaces.

The city council explained the rate increases by saying wear and tear on garbage vehicles, gas and oil and

Senior All-Stars Lose To Dover 1-0

The Avon Park Senior League All-Stars lost out to Dover by a score of 1-0 in the finals of the District 4 Senior Little League baseball tournament held in Plant City last week. The fourteen player squad, picked from the four Avon Park Senior League teams and coached by David Johnson and Dennis Hart, won four games and lost two in the double elimination event.

First baseman Gerald Jones batted at a .500 clip during the six games of the tournament getting 9 hits for 18 at bats. Second baseman Ricky Johnson went 3 for 4 and drew 7 walks in the four games he saw action. Dennis Barefield hit two triples in the tournament and went 5 for 18 at the plate for a .278 average.

David Sisemore was the winning pitcher in two of the games and Wayne Lewis and Tim Cribb chalked up a victory each on the mound for Avon Park. Lewis was the losing hurler in both of the losses by the local All-Stars.

Plant City 4 Avon Park 4
In a rain-shortened six inning game played on Tuesday, July 19, Plant City defeated Avon Park's All-Stars 6-4 to drop Avon Park into the loser's bracket. Plant City took advantage of 7 basehits and 4 costly Avon Park errors to take the victory.

The local All-Stars connected for 3 hits off winning pitcher Jacks Hooker. Gerald Jones, Ricky Johnson and Tim Minard all singled for the losing Avon Park nine.

Avon Park 4 Hardee-1
On Wednesday night of last week, the Avon Park All-Stars jumped on Hardee's starting pitcher in the second inning to score four big runs on singles by Tim Minard and Jeff Adams and a double by Dennis Tondoe.

Avon Park added another run in the fifth when Dennis Barefield and Ricky Johnson both singled and then connected with a run in the sixth when Jeff Adams walked and was driven in with a single by Gerald Jones.

Hardee scored its lone run in the top of the second inning when the Hardee batters got to Avon Park hurler Tim Cribb for three singles. Cribb allowed only four hits in the seven inning game.

In addition to Dennis Tondoe's double, Avon Park had a single by Jeff Adams and the singles by Jones, Barefield, Johnson and Minard.

Avon Park 4 Auburndale-3
Last Thursday night Avon Park's Senior League All-Stars came from behind to take a 4-3 win from the Auburndale team. Auburndale had jumped off to the lead by scoring a run in the bottom of the first and two more in the fourth. But Avon Park also scored one in the first. Jeff Adams singled and later scored on a balk by the Auburndale pitcher.

In the sixth frame, David Sisemore walked, Tim Cribb singled, and Dennis Barefield lined out a triple to send Sisemore and Cribb home. Barefield then scored on a single by Gerald Jones to put Avon Park out front 4-3.

David Sisemore was the winning hurler giving up only two hits to the Auburndale batters. Avon Park rapped out six hits off Steve Dickerman who posted the loss on the mound. Dennis Barefield had a single along with his triple and Gerald Jones had two singles. Jeff Adams and Tim Cribb both singled in the seven inning affair.

Dover-1 Avon Park-0
In the finals of the loser's bracket, Avon Park lost a 1-0 game to Dover last Friday night in Plant City. Avon Park's Wayne Lewis gave up only two singles, both to Dover's Dave Henderson, in the seven inning heart-breaker.

Henderson led off the bottom of the first inning with a single. He moved to second when another batter drew a walk and advanced to third on a throwing error by an Avon Park infielder. The lone run of the game scored on a passed ball.

Avon Park left ten men stranded on base during the seven inning game. Gerald Jones with two singles got the only hits off winning hurler, London

Halstead. The Dover righthander struck out 9 Avon Park batters.

Members of the fourteen-player Avon Park All-Star team all saw action in at least one of the six games played in the tournament. The Avon Park All-Stars were: Jeff Adams, David Sisemore, Bubba Starling, Wayne Lewis, Dennis Tondoe, Tim Minard, Steve Thompson, Ricky Johnson, Tim Cribb, Dennis Barefield, Ricky Derkman, Gerald Jones, David Hardy, and Gary Farless.

Zodiacs And Foxy Ladies Tied At 4-0

After four weeks of play in the Avon Park Women's Slowpitch Softball League, the Zodiacs and the Foxy Ladies are all tied up for the lead with 4-0 records each. Janna Concrete is in third place with a 3-1 record and W. R. Grace and Cox Plumbing are tied for fourth place with 2-2 marks. Texgas has a 1-3 record and Scotty's and Super Blacks are 0-4 with over half of the season gone.

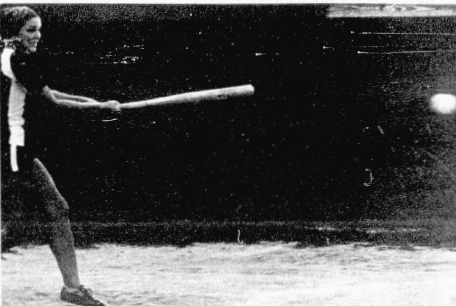

Last week's Tuesday night's games were rained out and were played last Monday night. W. R. Grace defeated Texgas 16-3 in the early game and Janna Concrete defeated the Super Blacks by a score of 20-1 in a four inning game.

Last Thursday night the Lady Foxes outscored Scotty's 22-4 in the early game at 7 p.m. and then the Zodiacs beat Cox Plumbing by a score of 16-0 in the nightcap.

Last Tuesday night Texgas was scheduled to take on Cox Plumbing at 7 p.m. and Zodiac was to play Scotty's at 8:30 p.m. Tonight (Thursday) it will be Janna against the Lady Foxes at 7 p.m. and the Super Blacks against W. R. Grace at 8:30 p.m.

Next Tuesday, August 2, the early game will pit W. R. Grace against Janna Concrete and the second game will be between the Lady Foxes and the Zodiac's in a possible showdown for first place.

Little Leaguers Lose Out

Avon Park's Little League All-Stars lost out in the first round of the District 4 baseball tournament held at Frostproof this week. The Avon Park All-Stars were defeated by Zephyrhills last Saturday after noon in the single elimination tournament.

Members of the local All-Stars, coached by Don Cooper and Gordon Marshall, were Mike Rowe, Richard Macklin, Steve Baker, Mike Bent, Desmond Albritton, Jeff Davis, Redford Pressley, and Kenneth Houpe. Also Johnny Roberts, David Hodge, Jon Marcum, Fredrick Lewis, Greg Jackson, and Duane Young.

Basic Conditioning Classes To Be Offered

Two basic conditioning classes will be offered by South Florida Junior College Monday nights during the fall semester. The objectives of this general interest physical education course are the attainment of a high degree of physical fitness and the improvement of the cardio-vascular and respiratory systems.

Persons completing the course will not only feel better physically but will look better as well. The class may be taken for one hour of college credit or for audit. One basic conditioning class will meet 6-7:30 p.m. and the other from 8-9:30 p.m. beginning Aug. 22 and ending Dec. 12. Classes are co-educational. Fall term registration is Aug. 18-25.

Further information may be obtained from the admissions office or by calling 453-6661, extension 135, in Avon Park.

Boys Get To Finals

The Highlands County Bank Big Boy's baseball team went all the way to the finals of the District 4 tournament undefeated but lost a double-header to Dade City last Saturday to fall to the Pasco County team. Dade City will advance to the Regional tourney being held in St. Petersburg this week.

Wins over Plant City, Pinecrest, Dover, and Dade City had put Avon Park's H.C.B. team in the finals undefeated. However, Dade City came out of the loser's bracket with a win over Kathleen and handed Avon Park an 8-4 defeat in the first game played last Saturday afternoon. In the second game of the double-header, Dade City won over the Highlands County Bank team by a score of 2-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Doug DeWitt.

Avon Park H.C.B. 7 Dover 4
Buddy Hunter, Dale Sisemore, and Charlie Pough teamed up to pitch the Highlands County Bank Avon Park Big Boys baseball team to a 7-4 victory over Dover on Tuesday night of last week in a District 4 tournament game played in Lake Wales. The game was first called because of rain but later re-set for the same evening and several Avon Park players had already returned home. The team finally regrouped and went on to win the game.

Hunter started on the mound for Avon Park. He gave up the 4 runs on five hits before Dale Sisemore came on in relief in the fourth inning. Sisemore gave up one hit and walked a batter. Then Charlie Pough came on to finish the inning and the game. Pough held the Dover team hitless and scoreless in his three and a third innings of pitching.

The H.C.B. batters got seven hits off the Dover pitcher. Dale Sisemore went three for four with three singles. Mort Jackson hit two singles. Edward Irving had a double and Victor Roberts added a single for the winners.

Avon Park H.C.B. 4 Dade City 2
In the finals of the winner's bracket, Avon Park defeated Dade City by a score of 4-2 in an 11 inning game played in Lakeland on Wednesday night of last week. Dale Sisemore of Avon Park and Geno Nelson of Dade City pitched the entire game for the two Big Boy's teams. Sisemore, the winning pitcher, gave up six singles and a double to the Dade City batters, and Avon Park pounded out 9 hits off Nelson.

Dade City scored its two runs in the bottom of the fourth inning on four singles and a walk. Avon Park came back in the top of the fifth to tie the game up on runs by Mort Jackson and Victor Roberts. The game then became a pitcher's duel with Sisemore and Nelson holding out until the top of the eleventh inning when Avon Park scored two more runs.

With two batters down on strike-outs, Freddie Moore came to bat for H.C.B. in the top of the eleventh and singled. Then Mort Jackson boomed a triple into right center field to score Moore with the winning run and scored himself on an overthrow error on Dade City.

Dade City 4 H.C.B. 4
Last Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. the Highlands County Bank team took on Dade City again after the Pasco County team had emerged from the loser's bracket. This time the Dade City batters jumped on H.C.B. pitcher Don Wildish for a total of 10 hits to take an 8-4 victory and earn another shot at the district championship.

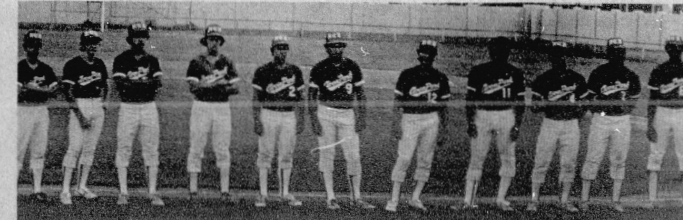

Dade City scored one run in the top of the first inning and added six more in the second frame. In the third inning an eighth run was scored to give Dade City an 8-0 lead.

Avon Park finally rallied in the last of the seventh to score four runs on singles by Dale Sisemore and John Mickunas but it was too little, too late. Those two singles were all Avon Park got off Geno Nelson in the seventh inning game. Wildish went the distance on the mound for Avon Park holding Dade City scoreless the last four innings.

Dade City 2 Avon Park H.C.B. 0
In the final game of the District 4 Big Boys Little League tournament played in Lakeland at Henley Field last Saturday afternoon, the Dade City All-Stars took a 2-0 victory from Avon Park to advance to the regional meet.

The Dade City team scored its two runs in the bottom of the first inning on singles by Sumner and Adams and then held on to take the 3-0 shut-out.

Dale Sisemore held the winners to three singles but lost the mound battle with Dade City's Doug DeWitt. DeWitt limited Avon Park's hitters to a lone single by Sisemore in the fourth frame. He fanned 12 Avon Park batters in the seven inning affair as he pitched the Dade City team into the regionals.

Griffin Team Wins Tourney At Complex

The first men's slow-pitch softball tournament to be held at the new Avon Park Volunteer Ball Complex was a booming success last week-end. The Avon Citrus Bank Invitational Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament, directed by Ronnie Jackson to benefit the Avon Park Senior Little League program, was won by the Ben Hill Griffin Polk County All-Stars in the ninth game of the weekend.

The Ben Hill Griffin team emerged the winner of the twenty-team event by defeating Smith Masonry, Lakeport, Bimbo's Bombers, Lowe's, and Turkey Creek two out of three times. The Turkey Creek team took runner-up honors with wins over Okalanta, Maryland Fried Chicken, Coca Cola, Lamar's, and Swede's before losing to Ben Hill in the finals, after defeating the champions once after emerging from the loser's bracket.

Jackson Masonry and Coca Cola, two of the local teams to enter the twenty team tourney, both won two games before being eliminated. Avon Park's Air Force team also entered the tourney.

Swede's of Haines City came in third in the meet and Lakeport took home the fourth place trophy. Avon Citrus Bank donated the trophies for the first four finishers and a trophy for the most home runs hit. Ben Hill Griffin's pitcher, captured the most home runs trophy with a total of seven.

In spite of the fact that the complex is not yet finished, the visiting teams were very impressed with the fields and the general layout of the ball complex.

Lights were connected just last week for the two men's softball fields. The concession stand, restrooms, and prebox facilities are still unfinished. Portable restrooms had to be brought in for the weekend and makeshift concession stand was used to accommodate the large crowd of players and fans who attended the 39 games which started on Friday night and finished up late Sunday evening.

Tampa Man May Push Sebring Endurance Race

With Charles Mendez and the Sebring Air Authority getting closer to an agreement on the race track lease, the Tampa businessman told authority members Thursday that he has ideas in promotion that will make the Race "a brand new ball game."

If an agreement is reached by the Sept. 1 date that is a prerequisite of the lease, Mendez will have ample time to promote Sebring's main attraction as it should be publicized, he said. Although he wasn't prepared to outline his plans, he mentioned T-shirts and souvenirs. Should he receive international sanction, the promotion will have an even wider scope.

Mendez has gone along with the authority's request for a flat $17,000 rental on the track, plus 5 percent of the net profits directly pertaining to the Race. He will think about an authority proviso that after five years there will be a 6 percent per year added to the base rate, to cover cost of living increases.

The authority agreed to his request that instead of showing his net profits through a certified audit, it would be via his IRS tax returns. They mutually agreed on $6,000 for cleanup expenses to be paid by Mendez, however if he can do the cleanup for less, he will be credited with that amount.

Of importance to the authority is a provision that it be recompensed for its capital expenditures in improving the track, should the promoter cancel the lease. It was agreed that three years of the lease would cover the estimated $50,000 in capital outlay, and if Mendez sublet the track it would free him from the obligation.

In like manner, if the authority cancelled the lease after Sept. 1 deadline mutually accepted, then Mendez' damages, the monies he spent in promotion to that point, would be covered by the authority.

It will be specified that Mendez will run one race a year.

It will be arranged that when Mendez is not actually in possession of the track, the authority's insurance will take over coverage.

Although Mendez will provide all police and fire security for the entire period of the race, he cautioned that his fire protection is only for drivers, and the airport firefighters must be responsible for the buildings of the industrial park.

A small discussion arose over maintenance of the existing fences, which have been the responsibility of promoters following each race, but was not tended to this year. Mendez said that while he would be happy to take care of them in the future, he felt the authority should turn them over to a new lessee in good shape. The authority acquiesced.

The potential promoter grinned when he saw the clause calling for him to provide the paint for exterior maintenance, reminding them that it was John Bishop, not he, who said the Camel Cup people would be glad to provide paint in return for advertising their name. However, he good-naturedly agreed to assist in contacting the Camel group for paint.

Another discussion focussed on the fly-in race viewers who refuse to pay, line the edge of a non-spectator area, and in general are most uncooperative. Mendez refused to accept the responsibility, since the fly-ins are on airport land not covered by the track lease. He promised to ask the sheriff's assistance in keeping that part of the runway clear of spectators.

The Tampa also expressed interest in having more portions of airport property opened for spectators and campers, a proposal that the officials are now investigating.

Mendez expressed great enthusiasm for the future of the Race. He assured the authority that "if this gets really big, you will have to think about putting in new pits, and other new things, resurfacing the track. I will be willing to pay more, because I realize you will have to amortize your expenses."

Physicals For Football Players

All Avon Park High School boys interested in playing varsity football this year are expected to report to Dr. Donald Jones at his office for a physical check-up at 3 p.m., either Thursday, August 4, or Friday, August 5.

Coach John Hunter and Assistant Coach Ronnie Jackson have made arrangements for the Red Devil varsity prospects to receive their physicals on one of those two days and would appreciate boys passing the word along to other prospects this week.

Football practice will start for all varsity candidates on August 15 according to Coach John Hunter. The Red Devils will be opening the 1977 season here at Memorial Field against Lake Wales on September 9. The Avon Park team may also take part in a fall football jamboree to be held in Wauchula on August 27.

Cows Find Grass Greener At Course

The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence, and several cows decided that the grass on the River Greens Golf Course, in Avon Park, suited them just fine Friday. Course officials reported to sheriff's deputies that the greens on holes 15 and 16 suffered approximately $150 in damages when several cows walked across them, leaving a series of "divots."

It was also noted that at least one of the bovines stopped to "fertilize" a spot on one of the greens, about 10 feet from the hole flag.

The course officials told deputies that similar incidents have occurred in the past, and that legal action may be forthcoming against the cows' owners.

APCI Moves To 6-1 Record In League

APCI won two games in Avon Park Commercial League Slow-Pitch Softball play last week to move to a 6-1 record behind first place Jackson Masonry who have a 7-0 mark. The APCI team defeated Air Force 15-13 on Monday of last week and then knocked off Agra Chem 14-3 on Wednesday of last week.

In other action last week in the Commercial League, Jackson's Masonry clobbered the Avon Park Eagles 20-1 last Thursday night. A game between Coca Cola and Avon Paint and Body was postponed by mutual consent and last Friday night's game scheduled between Air Force and Agra Chem was also postponed due to the Avon Citrus Bank Invitational Slow-Pitch Softball tournament held at the City Ball Complex.

Standings in the league after last week's play: Jackson's 7-0, APCI 6-1, Air Force 3-2, A.P. & B 2-3, Coca Cola 2-4, Agra Chem 2-4, and Eagles 0-7.

Last Monday night, July 25, Jackson's Masonry was to play Air Force at 6:30 p.m., followed by a make-up game between Air Force and Agra Chem. Last Tuesday night A.P. & B was to play the Eagles. Last Wednesday night it was Coca Cola vs Air Force and tonight (Thursday) Jackson's will take on Agra Chem. Tomorrow night (Friday) A.P. & B. will tangle with APCI.

Next week double headers should start in the Commercial League since the lights are now hooked up at the complex.

Reserve Seat Football Ticket Sale To Start

Avon Park High School Athletic Director Joe Franza has announced that reserved seat tickets for the 1977 Red Devil football season will go on sale at the high school office starting August 1 through August 19 for those who already hold reserved seats.

Price for the reserved seat ticket will remain $3 in addition to having to purchase an adult or student season ticket for each reserved seat ticket. Adult season tickets for the five home football games will sell for $5 and student season tickets will be $4 per ticket.

This football season the Avon Park band will be moved to another seating section at Memorial Field and additional reserved seats will be marked off in the section west of the present reserved seat area. Fans wishing to purchase new tickets in the reserved seat section may contact Peggy Sienore or Joe Franza after August 8. Names will be placed on a waiting list for available seats.

Starting August 22 through August 26, reserved seat ticket owners may exchange seats for available seats in order to get all tickets in the same area. On August 29 any available tickets will go on sale to the public with those on the waiting list to be considered first.

12 Arrests Made By Deputies

A total of 12 arrests were made by county sheriff's deputies from July 15-21, among them persons suspected of motor vehicle theft, aggravated assault, larceny, and possession of stolen property.

Other charges filed included one for unaggravated assault, one for passing worthless checks, and one for possession of marijuana.

The average age of the defendants worked out to 32 years, with the eldest being 53, the youngest, 19.

Two of the 12 suspects were female. Five were black, seven were white.

Nine of the suspects are Highlands County residents, two are from other Florida counties, and one is not a resident of the state.

Emergency Runs

It was a fairly light week for the Highlands County Emergency Medical Service, with 19 emergency calls being reported.

The three ambulances based in Sebring accounted for 10 emergency runs, the Avon Park ambulance made five emergency trips, and the Lake Placid ambulance ran four emergencies.

In addition, the Sebring units made two in-county and four out-of-county transfers, and the Avon Park ambulance made one in-county transfer.

Battle Of Highlands Team Ready For Aug. 6 Event

The Avon Park Prime, local representatives to the "Battle of the Highlands", are ready to raid the Placid Lakes Country Club, and win first place in all the crazy events scheduled. They will be competing in 5 team events against Sebring and Lake Placid that will test the teams coordination, quickness and agility.

The Avon Park Prime are well equipped to win all the events that day. The team members are: Joe Baker, Judy Lewis, Dick Peavy, Donna Guenther, Bill Warner, Janice Turnbull and Paul Wilson.

The day-long event is scheduled for August 6 at the Placid Lakes Country Club. Instead of it being a completely spectator type occasion, there will be lots of carnival type booths set up for the spectators to participate and see how well they can fare in many of the crazy events.

There will be lots of games for the whole family to enjoy, so everyone should mark this date on their calendars and plan to support the Avon Park team and have a great time too! Hopefully, this event will become an annual one, but it needs lots of public support for it to do so. These crazy stunts (similar to the ABC's Almost anything goes) will be performed by the three teams, using the swimming pool, tennis courts, golf course and surrounding areas.

Pete DuPriest

Wins Two Trophies

Pete DuPriest picked up two more trophies on the golf course recently when he won the Palma Sola Junior Invitational 15-16 year old age division in Sarasota on July 18 with a 71 score and then finished first in his age division in the Sarasota Rolling Greens Junior Invitational last Monday with a 69.

Pete, who is a member of the Avon Park High School golf team, has been improving each week as he participates in tournaments around the state this summer. Next Tuesday, August 2, Pete will compete in a tournament at the Sarasota Country Club and August 10 and 11 he is invited to take part in the Howey-in-the-Hills State Invitational for Juniors.

Pete has averaged a 71.8 in the last 17 competitive rounds this summer. He won the Bagwell Invitation here at River Greens earlier this summer and finished second in the state junior in a play-off for the championship.

Fast Pitch Softball Tourney For Complex

An eight-team fast pitch softball tournament will be held at the Avon Park Volunteer Ball Complex next week-end starting August 5 at 7:30 p.m. according to promoter Ken Tate. The tourney will benefit the Avon Park Senior League baseball program.

The Hudson Brothers, defending champions from Sarasota, will head up the eight team entries in the fastpitch meet. Also competing will be the Kissimmee Comets, the High Springs Plumbing and Heating team, the 78'ers from St. Cloud, and the All Pro Sports from Satellite Beach. The St. Cloud Merchants, the Bartow Fabrication team, and the Tyndall Air Force Base team from Panama City will finish out the eight team bracket.

There will be no admission charge for attendance at the games and local fans

Kids Dog Show

Jenny Wins Best Of Show

The third annual Kid's Dog Show, put on by the Avon Park Recreation department, took place this past Saturday. The overall honors went to "Jenny", a Shetland Sheepdog, shown by Keith and Tesha Goodson. They received a Best of Show trophy for their dog.

There were 29 kids that ranged in age from 4-14, that brought their dogs to be judged in the seven categories. The event was a fun contest with fun events, such as the funniest and best costumed dogs. The show was co-sponsored by the National Recreation and Parks

Association and the Ken-L Ration Company.

It was held in Donaldson Park and started about 9 a.m. It only took about 1 1/2 hours to run through the seven events. The judges for the show were: Mayor Marshall Davis, Councilman Kelley Phillips and Recreation committee member Paul Smith. The officials that helped run the event were: Donna Guenther, Christi Cicereilli and Paul Wilson (Center Supervisor). The Director for the Show was Dennis Guenther.

The winners for the seven categories were:

Best Behaved — 1st, Keith Goodson — "Jenny", 2nd, Melanie Jones — "Missi", 3rd, June O'Quinn — "Tricky."

Funniest: 1st, Brian Kopp — "Kee-Ko", 2nd, Susan O'Neal — "Minor", 3rd, Sunday Allen — "Candy".

Best Costumed: 1st, James Warner — "Foni", 2nd, Amy Brewett — "Scotty", 3rd, Lisa Dixon — "Sambo Dean".

Best Trick: 1st, Susan O'Neal — "Major", 2nd, Melanie Jones — "Missi", 3rd, Teresa Henry — "Snoopy".

Smallest: 1st, Brian Kopp — "Kee-

Ko" (overall length + height - 15"), 2nd, Joe Willis — "Freckles", 3rd, Belinda O'Neal — "T.J."

Largest: 1st, Andy Henry — "Sheba" (St. Bernard), 2nd, Scott Dressel — "Cinnamon" (Rhodesian Ridgeback).

Best Looking: 1st, Tesha Goodson — "Jenny", 2nd, Melanie Jones — "Major", 3rd, Dreama Lee Cook — "Bugger".

As always, everyone, dogs, kids and especially the spectators had a great time watching this fun event. Thanks should be extended to the judges, officials and to the entrants for a fine show.

Tennis Classes Scheduled At SFJC

Two night tennis classes are scheduled to be taught at South Florida Junior College during the fall semester. The tennis class (PEL 1341L) will meet on Thursday evenings from 6 to 7:50. This class is for the novice and those who want to improve their game. The basic fundamentals, rules, strategy, and etiquette of the game will be taught.

Advanced tennis (PEL 2343L) will meet on Thursday evenings from 8 to 9:30. This class is designed to improve the students' game by developing the offensive and defensive techniques of the game and refining their skills. A person must have successfully completed the tennis class in order to enroll in the advanced tennis class. The first class meets on Aug. 25.

Both tennis classes are co-educational and may be taken for one hour of college credit or for audit. Anyone planning to enroll must register at the college during the fall registration period Aug. 18-26.

Further information may be obtained from the Admissions Office at South Florida Junior College or by calling 485-6661, extension 136, in Avon Park.

SIX MEMBERS of the Junior Communicant's Class who were received as communing members of the First Presbyterian Church on July 10 were presented Good News Bibles at morning worship service on July 24. The presentation was made by Paul

E. Bennett, the clerk of the Session. Those who received Bibles were: from the left, Richard Shephard, Steve Conklin, Eric Canright, Richard Conklin, Jill Collington, Edmund Swearingen, and Paul Bennett.

The Good News Bibles are a memorial gift in memory of the late Robert M. Gibb, a member of the First Presbyterian Church. These memorial Bibles are given by Dr. and Mrs. Milton J. Bell of Verona, New Jersey. Mr. Gibb is the father of Mrs. Bell.

Harris Named Principal To Lake Wales Christian School

David L. Harris, who for the past four and a half years has served as youth and music director of Shady Grove

Baptist Church, Bossier City, La., has been named principal of Lake Wales Christian School, according to the Rev.

B. F. Schell, president of the school.

He succeeds the Rev. David Callaghan, principal for the past two years who has returned to Michigan to serve as church pastor.

Harris, 29, was a member of the LWCS staff previously, having taught there during the 1970-72 school years. His wife, Lynda Jean, also is a former teacher at the school, having taught first grade for the same two years, one prior to and one following their marriage.

A native of Crossett, Ark., he was graduated from high school there in 1966. He attended the University of Arkansas at Monticello and Arkansas Technical University at Russellville, before receiving his degree in education from Baptist Christian College, majoring in social studies and music.

He received teacher certification from the State of Louisiana and has seven years' experience in the field of education, including three as principal. In addition to his teaching in Lake Wales, he taught at Bossier Academy, Shady Grove Baptist Academy and Baptist Christian College.

While at the Shady Grove church, he also served as director of Shady Grove Baptist Boys Home.

The Harrises are parents of three children, including one foster child — David Jr., 3½; Christy, 1, and Mike, 1½. They are expected to arrive in Lake Wales Friday and will make their home in the house adjacent to the school. He will begin his new duties Aug. 1.

Lake Wales Christian School is located on SR 60 about a mile east of the city limits. The school offers a complete educational program for youngsters in kindergarten through 12th grade, including a full athletic program for both boys and girls. Bus transportation also is available.

DON'T JUST LEARN FAITH; LIVE BY IT!

When Sunday morning rolls around,
A lot of folks you know
Will find themselves religion-bound,
And off to Church they go.
They rue the error of their ways,
And pray that all might hear;
And when it comes to hymns of praise,
They sing them loud and clear.
But when the services are done,
The lessons they ignore,
Till next the Sabbath has begun,
They leave them at the door.
The only way you'll ever earn
The happiness you seek
Is living by the faith you learn,
All seven days a week!

"Now the just shall live by faith."
—Hebrews 10:38

Example is more forcible than precept. People watch me six days a week to see what I mean on the seventh!

—Rev. Richard Cecil

Food For Thought

POTS DE CREME AU CHOCOLAT

A rich uncooked chocolate pudding, made in a flash, to be served in small amounts at a summer dinner party. To gild the lily, garnish with whipped cream.

- 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
 - 1 cup (8-ounce package) semi-sweet chocolate chips
 - 2 egg yolks
 - 1-3 cup sugar
 - 1 package (8-ounce) cream cheese, cubed
1. Pour one-half cup of the milk into an ice-cube tray. Place in freezer until ice crystals form around the edges.
 2. Heat remaining milk. Combine hot milk and chocolate; blend until smooth.
 3. Remove feeder cap; add egg yolks, one at a time, blending after each addition. Add sugar; blend until well combined.
 4. Add cheese, a cube at each addition, blending well after each addition.
 5. Pour in the chilled milk; blend until smooth and creamy. Refrigerate until thoroughly cold. Serve in small dessert dishes with whipped cream.

Yield: 6-8 servings.

MOLDED COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD
A tiny accompaniment to cold chicken or ham or, with lettuce and tomatoes, a cool main dish for lunch or supper.

- 4 radishes, halved
- 2 spring onions, cut up
- 1/2 green pepper, cut in fourths
- 1 medium cucumber, peeled and cut in eighths
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 2 cups cottage cheese
- 1 tablespoon horseradish
- 1/2 cup cream or milk

1. Put radishes, onions, green pepper and cucumber (in that order) in the blender container. Cover with ice water. Blender-chop, off and on, until vegetables are coarsely chopped. Drain.
2. Combine gelatin, salt and boiling water; blend at high speed for 40 seconds.
3. Add cheese and horseradish. Cover and adjust speed at high. Remove feeder cap and slowly add cream.
4. Combine cheese mixture with chopped vegetables. Turn into a mold of 4 to 5 cups in capacity and chill until firm. Unmold; garnish with parsley or water cress.

Carrot Souffle

For the vegetable buffs, this is a main lunch or supper dish that delightfully and nutritiously combines vegetable and animal proteins (egg whites). Those on low-cholesterol diets should also be interested in this dish because, unlike conventional souffles, it contains no egg yolks.

- 1/2 pound carrots (about 2 cups when shredded), see note
- 1 cup hot milk
- 1/4 to 1/2 cup (1 to 2 ounces) shredded, sharp cheddar cheese

2. Cut-up spring onions, most of the green portion removed
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon crumbled dried marjoram
- 3 egg whites
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

1. Scraps carrots; slice thin. Put in Pender container; cover with water. Blender-grind, off and on, until finely shredded. Drain. Add to a small amount of boiling water; boil 5 minutes; drain.
2. Combine in blender container the milk, cheese, onions, butter, flour, salt, mustard and pepper. Blend until cheese has melted and mixture is smooth. Combine with carrots. Add marjoram.
3. Beat (but not in blender) the egg whites and cream of tartar just until egg whites no longer slip when bowl is tilted. Stir a couple of spoonful into the carrot mixture.

4. Spoon the carrot mixture on the egg whites; fold it in gently.
5. Pour into a greased 1-quart souffle dish. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven 25 minutes. Serve as soon as possible.

Yield: four servings.
Note: Zucchini may be substituted for carrots; boil 3 minutes only.

PROTECTING YOUR HEART

A Guide to Sensible Eating

Sensible eating begins with breakfast. The morning meal should provide one-third to one-fourth of the day's nutritional requirements while limiting foods high in cholesterol and saturated fats. Planning sensible breakfast menus that restrict cholesterol intake raises many questions. I usually start the day with a hearty bacon and egg breakfast. How can I get the energy and nutrition I need and still avoid saturated fats and cholesterol? Many people today have reduced caloric requirements because of sedentary jobs which use up less energy. So, a nutritious light breakfast is in order. Many doctors recommend limiting your daily intake of cholesterol to 300 mg. This can pose a problem since the average egg contains 240 mg. of cholesterol. Choose Egg Beaters Cholesterol Free Egg Substitute for your daily diet. For the fluffiest scrambled "eggs," use Egg Beaters Egg Substitute instead of a real skillet where margarine is bubbling. Allow the egg substitute to cook, then stir lightly. For variety add chives, oregano, perilla, or vegetable protein bits for the bacon flavor you desire. French toast can be a low cholesterol breakfast entree when made with Egg Beaters Egg Substitute. Simply dip day-old bread in a mixture of cholesterol-free egg substitute and a dash of salt. Fry in corn oil margarine.

Buttered toast and coffee is my usual breakfast, but I understand that butter is high in saturated fats and cholesterol. What table spread should I use? Butter is made from milk (animal) fat and is high in cholesterol and saturated fats. Select margarines made from vegetable oils only. The label is the key. The ingredient listed first is the major ingredient. A margarine that lists liquid vegetable oil as the first ingredient is low in saturated fat, high in polyunsaturates. While most vegetable oils are beneficial in a low saturated fat/low cholesterol diet, scientific studies over a ten-year period show that none is more effective than liquid corn oil in lowering blood cholesterol. Fleischmann's Margarine, made with 100% corn oil, is thus ideal for cholesterol-lowering diets.

My children are very active and need extra energy. None has a weight problem. I'd like to serve them some nutritious, baking goods they want. Yet, I'm concerned about the saturated fats and cholesterol. What can I do? Avoid most commercial baked products. However, many of your favorite breakfast recipes can be adapted to this diet by substituting corn oil margarine for the fat, skim milk for the whole milk, and cholesterol-free egg substitute for the shell eggs. Serve your baked goods with a glass of skim milk.

What are some other quick breakfast possibilities? Break tradition. Make a skim milk cottage cheese sundae. Top cottage cheese with honey and sprinkle with raisins and nuts. How about an applewhirl? To make, simply sandwich one tablespoon of peanut butter between two apple slices. Try layering yogurt and fresh fruit for a tasty parfait.

The harvest they reaped this year was rather grim. Poverty and hunger and ignorance seem to be their major commodity.

There must be something we can do to correct this balance of payment. And there is something. Something called the Peace Corps. I'll never save the world. That's an illusion better left at home. But a small piece, that's a tiny piece, that's been done before. 2,000 wells in the drought stricken Sahel. Grain losses cut from 33% to 3%. Those are no miracles, but it's progress.

Peace Corps volunteers are people who won't allow the world to go gently into that dark night. No, they'd rather rage toward the light. But what can they possibly get from that? The rewards, they're just too many to count. A language, a cultural exchange, a mutual giving of knowledge. Of course there's all those and more. But how what's satisfaction bringing on the open market? And happiness, that ought to be worth something.

Ask any Peace Corps worker who they did the most favors for. The answers seem to come back pretty much the same all the time. Himself. Herself. They got back much more than they gave.

The Peace Corps is alive and well. Call toll free: 800-424-8580. Or write the Peace Corps, Box A, Washington, D.C. 20525.

Peace Corps

Hush little baby don't you cry. If someone doesn't do something, you'll just die.

Murphy Is Professional Equestrian

photos and text by Barbara Cornell

Miss Murphy getting Monque Monsieur in shape for the Sixth World Championship Show and Convention of the AQHA to be held Aug. 1-6, in Tulsa, Okla.

Miss Murphy and Monque Monsieur practice jumping a small hurdle. They were practicing for the Sixth World Championship Show and Convention of the AQHA.

Most girls of her age would be thinking of boys, marriage and children, but at the present horses are her life.

"...I practically grew up on a horse," stated Janice Murphy, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Murphy, River Ridge, Avon Park.

Miss Murphy has been riding a horse since she was 3 years old and she has always attended Quarter Horse shows with her parents and older brother Del. At the age of 10 she entered her first Quarter Horse show and won her first trophy and ribbon at the age of 11 in a 4-H Club horse show.

Since that time she has acquired about 150 trophies and plaques.

"The most exciting moment for me was when I won All Around Youth of the Show, in 1970. This is awarded to the youth that has the most points and has placed most consistently during the show," stated Miss Murphy. "You have to show on a one horse, one rider basis. That's why it takes a good horse to win in about 10-15 events."

Miss Murphy has entered steers at the Highlands County Fair in Sebring and won in 1972, reserve champion. She has also won ribbons in showmanship and a first in her weight class.

Miss Murphy breaks her own horses and trains them for the shows.

"...It takes a lot of time and many hours of riding to get a horse ready to show. Monque Monsieur (her registered American Quarter Horse) was an exceptional horse. She was ready in 5 months for her first show in which I won All Around Youth Award. It usually takes one year before a horse is seasoned and ready for the shows," she explained.

Besides riding horses Miss Murphy enjoys sewing and makes all her clothes for the horse shows. She is a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and plays the piano for their primary group.

She attended Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, in the fall of 1976, but quit because this was her last year she could be in youth activities in the American Junior Quarter Horse Association (AQHA), of which she has been a member for 7 years.

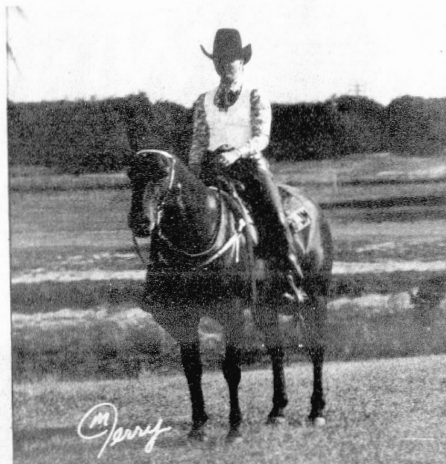

Miss Murphy left last Tuesday to participate in the Sixth World Championship Show and Convention of the AQHA in Tulsa, Oklahoma, which is being held August 1-6. She will be competing on Monque Monsieur in mares showmanship, horsemanship, trial, and possibly pleasure.

This years show will be tough competition for her. There is more than 1100 entries that will be competing for more than $30,000 in prizes.

There are 27 events which youths can enter in over 2,000 approved shows throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico, to attain their standings, so they may be eligible for the World Championship Show. Currently over 5000 young people are members of the AQHA.

Miss Murphy has promised to let us know how she placed when she returns.

As for her future plans, "I would like to become an instructor for youth who plan to enter Quarter Horse Shows. Help them get prepared for the events and take them to the different shows," stated Miss Murphy.

On The Consumer's Side

Question: What are my rights concerning return of products sold door-to-door?

Answer: Home improvements, magazines, children's photographs, encyclopedias, cosmetics—these and many more products and services are sold door-to-door.

Unfortunately, many of those who sell door-to-door thrive by taking advantage of consumers, and complaints against unscrupulous door-to-door sellers are numerous.

However, protection for the consumer does exist. A federal and state regulations governing contracts for over $25 signed in your home imposes these requirements on the seller:

It requires the seller to give you a copy of the receipt or contract containing the date of the sale, his name and address, and close to where you sign, a statement informing you of your right to cancel without penalty within 3 business days.

It requires the seller to give you a separate form headed "Notice of Cancellation" which shall contain, along with the date the sale is completed and his name and address, a full explanation of your right to cancel without penalty, the procedure you should follow, and the date by which you can cancel.

It requires the seller to inform you orally of your right to cancel. If you wish to cancel, all you then have to do is to sign, date and return this "Notice of Cancellation" form to the seller within three business days.

The Bureau recommends that you send the letter by certified mail so that you will have a receipt to prove that you did send the cancellation notice on time.

Question: What is the status of the band on Tris? Is it or is it not to be prohibited by law?

Answer: According to the office of Consumer Affairs, Dept. of Health Education and Welfare, on June 23, a Federal judge said Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) had acted illegally when it imposed its April 8 ban on the use of the flame-retardant Tris in children's sleepwear. (National Cancer Institute study showed that Tris causes cancer in test animals.)

The ruling is the result of a lawsuit brought by Springs Mills, a manufacturer of children's clothing.

The company maintained that CPSC did not hold requested public hearings on the matter, and the judge said such hearings were required by law.

The judge's decision means that Tris is no longer banned, and stores do not have to refund to consumers the purchase price of unwashed Tris-treated garments.

The CPSC was expected to appeal the ruling, because it said its action in banning the chemical was legal.

Cooking Corner

Mrs. Dunne (Wanda) Kepta has lived all her life in Highlands County. She has three sons, is the bookkeeper for her husband's business and also is very active in church activities.

Her hobbies are sewing and collecting different types of ferns.

She is sharing one of her favorite recipes with us this week for a Hamburger Skillet Dish.

Hamburger Skillet Dish

- 1 lb. hamburger
- 1/2 cup uncooked rice
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 2 tbs. shorting
- 2 (16 oz.) cans of tomatoes
- 2 tsp. salt (or to taste)
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 can of onion soup
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Brown rice slowly in hot oil in a heavy skillet, stirring frequently. Add celery and hamburger, brown well, then add tomatoes, onion soup and other ingredients. Cover and simmer until rice is tender. About 45 minutes. Makes 4-6 servings.

Bonnie Brae Park News

By Margie Wells
Lorraine Robertson has returned home after a six weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jeanne Dorval, in Roanoke, Virginia. Lorraine and Jeanne made a "sentimental journey" during this time and revisited family spots in West Virginia and Kentucky. They visited Lorraine's old home in Huntington, West Virginia, and also former homes in Morehead, Kentucky, and Mount Sterling, Kentucky, where Lorraine graduated from high school. They also visited with a niece in Lexington, Kentucky. Lorraine said it was a wonderful trip. Incidentally, she said the weather was much better in Virginia than it is here in Avon Park.

The "Bonnie Brae Mermaids" enjoyed tea and "with-its," at Ellen Hunt's home on Tuesday afternoon. Those enjoying the occasion were Anne Lockwood, Marie Lazotte, Emily Webster, Verda Miller and Verda's cousin,

Norma Gerbig. They wish to send a message to Teima Miller to tell her to go ahead and eat all that good food she is getting. They seem to think it might make her float better! Daisy and Mark Brown were in Brooksville last Wednesday visiting with their daughter and her family. They certainly are proud of those grandchildren.

Anne Lockwood and the Lazottes were in Winter Haven on Tuesday shopping and had dinner at Morrison's Cafeteria. Ellen Hunt, Verda Miller and her cousin Norma Gerbig, drove to Zolfo Springs and Bowling Green on Sunday afternoon. They also had a lot of fun visiting a flea market.

Margie Wells spent Friday afternoon in Winter Haven visiting with her mother and father, Rev. and Mrs. C. Dennis Harsh.

Bonnie Brae residents had a lot of entertainment last week-end listening to the sound of the tournament at the ball field. Everyone could tell when a score had been made or when an out had made. We really appreciate the lights from the ball field as it makes our park very bright, in fact almost like daylight.

Keep smiling and have a good week.

Solar Water Heater Can Be Built For $300

If you can't afford the high initial cost of adding a solar water heating system to your home, consider building your own.

Commercially-built solar water heating systems may cost as much as $1500, but a University of Florida (UF) agricultural engineer says the average "handyman" can build and install one for $300 or less.

In Florida, water heating is the largest single energy consumer in the home, accounting for about 30 percent of residential energy use. A typical family of four pays about $240 annually to heat water. A properly designed solar unit with a backup heat source could save up to 80 percent of this annual heating cost, more than paying for itself in just a few years, explains Dr. C. Dorella Baird, associate professor with the UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS).

Baird, who has designed many solar energy heating units for greenhouses and other farm structures, points out that the success of a solar water heating system in energy conservation and hot water delivery depends largely on usage patterns.

"This is particularly important for solar systems equipped with backup electric booster elements. When large quantities of hot water are used during the evening hours, the electric booster will automatically come into operation, reducing energy savings. A manual electric booster, which can be turned on only when needed, is more efficient than an automatic booster," he says.

"Of course, the greatest energy savings can be achieved by using a solar water heating system without any type of backup heat source. This type of system will save 100 percent on water heating costs, but you must be willing to use warm or cool water on overcast days," Baird says.

A solar water heating system has three basic components: the solar heat collector, the hot water storage tank, and the circulation system. Flat plate collectors, which act as the heating element, are the most practical for home use. They include: metal tubing connected to a metal sheet, both painted black to absorb heat; an insulated, weather-resistant box to retain heat and a transparent cover of glass or plastic.

"Except for possible breakage, glass is preferred over plastic because glass permits the sun's radiant energy to enter the collector, but does not directly transmit heat coming off the absorber plate. Plastic, on the other hand, transmits both incoming and outgoing energy, letting more collected heat escape," Baird says.

One three-by-eight foot solar collector will heat approximately 40 gallons of water daily, which should be sufficient for two persons. Two of these 24-square foot collectors will provide enough hot water for a family of four.

Baird says the solar collector must be mounted in a sunny location, preferably facing south. To make the best use of the sun's rays, mount the collector at an angle for the horizontal distance to the latitude at your particular location, plus 10 degrees.

"For example, in northern Florida, where the latitude is approximately 30 degrees, a tilt of 40 degrees will provide the best year-round performance. Deviating from prescribed angles will reduce efficiency only slightly. Reducing an angle from 40 degrees to 25 degrees to correspond with the roof pitch reduces collector efficiency by about 10 percent," Baird states.

He recommends using a hot water storage tank that is large enough to store the amount of hot water required during a typical 24-hour period. The average family of four requires a storage tank with at least 80 gallons. A larger storage tank — 100 to 120 gallons — does not cost much more and will store extra hot water for use when demand is unusually high or the sky is overcast.

"Because of rust and other residues, use only a glass-lined tank. Some solar storage tanks will already be insulated. If your tank is not well insulated, you should insulate it with at least four inches of foil-backed fiberglass wool. If the tank is exposed to the weather, it must be protected with a waterproof structure," the IFAS engineer states.

Heated water can be circulated through tubing from the collector to the storage tank by thermosyphonic (natural) circulation or by using a pump. Baird says a pump adds flexibility to a solar water heating system while using an insignificant amount of energy. Whatever circulation system is chosen, it is necessary to consider some form of freeze protection, even in Florida.

Robbie Ward son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ward, Avon Park, has participated in all Bike-Mikes for the Ridge Area Association For Retarded Citizens each year. Last year he collected the second highest amount of pledges and won a bike. This year he did the same yet again, but won another bike. But, since he already had one, he declined so the next highest person with pledges could win it. The Association awarded Robbie this plaque last Wednesday at the Work Center in Sebring. It reads: Rob Ward in recognition of your fine efforts in the 1977 Bike Hike. Sunphoto by Barbara Cornell.

Mechanical Harvesting Tax Set By Citrus Commission

An excise tax of seven-tenths of a cent has been placed on Florida Citrus fruit for the 1977-78 season by the Florida Citrus Commission in support of the mechanical harvesting research and development program.

Collection of the tax, which will become effective September 1, will provide the funds necessary for continuing Florida Department of Citrus research into the development of acceptable systems for mechanically harvesting fruit.

The special research program began in 1973 and will continue through the 1978-79 season. Under the legislation covering collection of the tax, the Commission is authorized to collect no more than three cents in excise tax during the six-year program.

Food For Thought

The kitchen takes over when the swimming pool palls, a source of activity and enjoyment for vacationers from school. By August the family has returned from its trip. The hot days of a Florida summer stretch out. "Nothing to do" is a complaint. So a supervisory adult suggests, "Let's cook."

No second invitation was needed, it was my experience in the years I was tending out to three boys and a girl, now fled the nest. I touched bases again with the young set in the kitchen when I recently asked Dawne and Dionne Roesser of Lakeland, 10 and 8 years old, to mix spice-cocky dough, then roll, cut, bake and decorate it. Dawne said she had helped her mother prepare macaroni and cheese and chocolate cake. Dionne told me her role had been limited to licking the beaters. Both took to cookie-making as a puppy to an old tennis ball. We parted after agreeing to meet in the fall for another session, with different dough and different cutters.

Did I say dough? That's a beguiling substance for the very young who may not even have entered nursery school. Granted a hot stove and sharp knives are hazardous and off-limits, flour and liquid, with yeast or baking powder added, are entirely safe and prove fascinating. The supervisory adult is, tactfully, not too supervisory but rather retreats and lets the kitchen novice take over and do his/her thing.

Drop (rather than rolled) cookie batter takes well to shaping in all sorts of forms. (And does it matter if along the way flour is spilled on the floor?) A hunk of yeast dough can even be toted out to the sizzling concrete walk outside the house, where it bakes into a hard substance that, though inedible, provides an off-beat sculpture.

Nancy Harden, of Lakeland, held four how-to-cook sessions earlier this summer at her husband's fine kitchenware shop, Kettles, for children 8 to 12. Among the most advanced pupils was a boy whom Nancy accepted even though, at 13, he exceeded the age limit.

Do boys cook? Who dares ask such an old-fashioned question in a day when we are vigorously "de-sexing" occupations that the culture used to be exclusively his or hers. Ken Venturi, the golf professional, recently moved from Palm Springs, Calif., to Marco Island, Fla., has an 18-year old son who, after a summer in a restaurant kitchen in Maine, will next fall enter the Culinary Arts Institute in Hyde Park, N. Y. Of him, his mother, Becca Venturi, comments, "He cooks very well indeed."

Back to Nancy who told me the 15 youngsters with whom she cooked were unfailing in interest and attention. A pizza they did in class with English muffins was served so often in homes for a while following the instruction that, parents told Nancy, they were beginning to wonder if they would ever of their own volition munch muffins again.

Nancy's experience suggests an enterprising parent might do the same thing in his/her own kitchen. Stick to one age group, keep it small, ask everyone to bring a measuring cup and spoon, and a rubber spatula. Let everyone participate as much as possible in, say, the preparation of a simple meal. Part of the fun is consuming it afterwards, of course.

I used to guide Girl Scouts through their cooking badge, taking four or five 11-year olds at a time. Attention never flagged, questions were frequent and everyone wanted to try everything, including and most of all, French omelets, the kind that you turn out in less than a minute.

The cooking that is a one-time casual interval in a family kitchen on a summer day that is otherwise devoid of interest can turn into a rewarding hobby. In such an event, cookbooks may help. About 90 titles are listed under "Cookery-Juvenile Literature" in the 1976 "Books in Print" (R. P. Bowker). They range from "Kindergarten Chef" (Dodd) to Charlotte Adams' "Teen-ager's Menu Cookbook" (Dodd). Mrs. Adams is a distinguished author of adult cookbooks and a former associated Press food editor.

"More than one way to skin a cat" was the homely adage that came to mind when I scanned those titles. Those few youngsters who might be apathetic about cooking could be attracted through another interest.

"Learning Science Through Cooking" (Sterling) is the pitch Barbara Davis makes to those who, she says, are future researchers, in grades 5 through 9. "The Beany Malone Cookbook" (Crowell) is for those who have followed Beany's adventures in Lenora Mattingly Weber's several novels about that lively girl. "Wide World Cookbook For Girls and Boys" (Little, Brown) is for the A-s-social-studies students. Rebecca Shapiro, its author, has simplified recipes from more than half a hundred countries.

For just about every personality, there are, to name only a few, "The Munchy, Crunchy, Healthy Kid's Snack Book" by Roz Altsch and Boche Kaplan (Walker); "Pooh Cook Book," by Virginia H. Ellison (Dutton); "The Natural Cook's First Book," by Carol Getzoff (Dodd); "Cool Cooking: 16 Recipes Without A Stove," by Esther Hutzig (Lothrop); "The All Outdoors Cookbook," by Bill and Jo Morris (McKay); "How To Make Elephant Bread," by Kathy Mandry (Pantheon) and "I Love Popcorn," by Carolyn V. Hall and the Farm Journal Food Editors (Doubleday).

Back now to those spice cookies the Roessers prepared in my kitchen. A well floured pastry cloth and stockinet were for the rolling pin, facilitated the rolling of the molasses-flavored dough, keeping it from sticking. It helped, too, to keep it well chilled. The dough may be refrigerated up to a week, to be baked at will.

Its spices may be varied; very young children have taste buds in their cheeks that they lose in adulthood and that make them more sensitive to flavor. A can of white frosting,

OJCanadian Advertising Set

After reviewing figures that indicated that sales of Florida Citrus products in Canada had reached an all time high last year, the Florida Citrus Commission approved a $950 thousand Canadian advertising budget for 1977-78.

Orange juice shipments from Florida to Canada have increased nearly 300 percent since 1969 when the Citrus Commission launched a long-range advertising and promotional program to develop the Canadian market.

Television, radio and king-sized posters in 204 major shopping malls will be utilized in the 77-78 campaign. Four new television commercials were approved. Two of the commercials will feature Catherine McKinnon, well-known Canadian singer and entertainer, and two of the commercials will be produced in French starring Marie Jose Longchamps, popular chanteuse and comedienne.

with an inexpensive aluminum decorating set, is useful in dressing up the cookies after they have been baked.

Molasses Spice Cookies
2-3 cup shortening
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
2 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup molasses
3 cups flour, stir with a fork to aerate before measuring

1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup molasses
thoroughly the shortening, sugar, spices and salt. Beat in the egg and molasses.
2. Stir together the flour, soda and baking powder.

3. Stir dry ingredients into the molasses mixture. Chill thoroughly.

4. Let dough preheat to 375 degrees.

5. Roll out dough to one-eighth inch in thickness, or a bit thicker, using a floured pastry cloth and rolling pin covered with stockinet. Cut out with any shape cutters desired.

6. Bake on greased cookie sheet for 8 minutes. Cool cookies on a rack. Decorate with confectioner's sugar icing or canned white frosting.

Yield: Five dozen small cookies.

Note: If cookies lose crispness, set them for a couple of minutes in a 300-degree oven.

Hearing Set July 30 On Agriculture Census

Central Florida farmers, citrusmen, and other agricultural interests will have an opportunity to help shape the 1978 Census of Agriculture at a hearing here Saturday, July 30th, starting at 9 a.m.

The hearing, which is being held at the request of Eighth District Congressman Andy Ireland, Winter Haven, will be held at the Florida Department of Citrus Building, located at 1115 East Memorial Boulevard (U. S. Highway 98 and 92).

The hearing will be opened with comments from Congressman Ireland, Orvin L. Wilhite, chief of the Agriculture Division of the Bureau of the Census, will also address the meeting, announcing preliminary plans for the 1978 Census.

"I requested the Bureau of the census to hold this meeting so that agricultural interests in this area could provide input on the 1978 Census, explain any particular problems they have had in the past, and hopefully make constructive criticism and offer helpful suggestions on ways to improve the forthcoming census of agriculture," Ireland stated.

Ireland said the topic of the hearing will be "What can we do to improve the 1978 Census of Agriculture?"

Wilhite will discuss past problems with the census of agriculture, propose ideas for the 1978 Census, answer questions and listen to suggestions. He has been with Bureau of the Census since 1939, and was named chief of the agriculture division in 1976.

All farmers, cattlemen, citrusmen, and other growers of agricultural products are invited to attend the hearing, Ireland said.

SCUBA Divers

To Attend

College

Certified SCUBA divers from throughout Florida will be able to attend two instructor courses at the University of South Florida and receive up to two hours of college credit at the same time.

The USF-YMCA SCUBA Instructor's Institute in conjunction with the USF Physics Dept. will offer separate courses leading to both assistant instructor and instructor ratings. However, individuals must either have helped teach a nationally certified course or pass the assistant instructor course before they can qualify for the higher rating.

The assistant instructor course will be given over one weekend only beginning July 22, 7-11 p.m. The rest of the schedule is: July 23, 8 a.m.-11 p.m. and July 24, 8 a.m.-6 p.m.

The instructor course will encompass three weekends. Students must attend all sessions and make an open water dive with the group to pass. The sessions will be Aug. 5-7, 12-14 and 19-21. The class hours are the same as for the assistant instructor course.

Fees are $50 for the assistant level and $125 for the instructor level. These include YMCA charges and USF tuition for one hour credit in "Hyperbaric Physics" (PHY 483). The cost of the instructors' open-water dive will be extra. Enrollment in these courses is unlimited.

Optional on-campus housing and food service are available, but are not included in the course fees.

All interested persons should contact the course coordinator, Dr. Robert Flynn, USF associate professor of physics, for enrollment information at (813) 974-2789 or the USF Physics Dept., Tampa, 33620.

Newton Is FSU Graduate

John Newton, 313 South Lake Lotela Ave. and Nancy Sprolovitz of 2456 South Lake Letta Drive, have both graduated from Florida State University.

Newton, who earned a law degree and Sprolovitz, who was awarded a BS degree in government, were among 2,372 students who received degrees from the college in June.

Say it with Style

Your telephone can say as much about you as any other fine accessory in your home. That's why United Telephone offers decorator phones in a variety of styles and colors.

Do you belong to the "nostalgia" set?

You may want to select one of the popular "Candlestick" instruments that evokes poignant memories of the carefree twenties.

Or, if furnishings with the European touch are your thing, you'll certainly want to consider the exciting

Mediterranean or antique white Cradlephones. Their tasteful combination of fine wood with a rich touch of gold will say a lot about you to your friends.

Taste in decorating more conventional? The Chest-phone may be the perfect accent for you. In either carved walnut or masculine black leather, the Chest-phone offers you an elegant new way to express the real you.

Because your telephone speaks for you, be sure it says nice things. Call your United Telephone Business Office for more information on decorator phones today—or see these distinctive instruments on display at your phone company.
