Your Horoscope Guide

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 — Also Aries Ascendant) — You could fall for pie in the sky schemes now, so be especially practical to guard against loss. Stay with the tried and true. Curb impulse to kick over the traces, and don't be extravagant with your money.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 — Also Taurus Ascendant) — Many demands will be made on your time and you must increase your efficiency and speed with each project to get them all done. Be the mediator at work. A new, more outgoing mood takes you in a new direction.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21 — Also Gemini Ascendant) — Resist compulsion to gamble or take chances — your feeling of being lucky is deceptive and you could lose your shirt. Get proof of anything you contemplate getting involved with. Be cautious and very prudent.

CANCER: (June 22 to July 21 — Also Cancer Ascendant) — Take time out to be alone and contemplate. Listen to you intuition. Career goes well if you don't neglect routine duties and details. Involvement with organizations, other cultures and long-distance matters is favored.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21 — Also Leo Ascendant) — Finish up the work on projects already in progress, attend to routine affairs and don't be slipshod at work. Don't start anything new just now. Keep a cool head in tense or stressful situations — curb emotional displays.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22 — Also Virgo Ascendant) — Tensions ease and you can relax more. Stick with old successful patterns and routines in career. Give enough time and attention to employes or service people so they don't foul up a job or work they are doing for you.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 — Also Libra Ascendant) — You could feel the need of a vacation and not be able to get away. A long-standing relationship could end now, and you may feel somewhat frustrated about your ambitions. Keep your own counsel and resist making rash decision.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 — Also Scorpio Ascendant) — A joyous, jubilant time when your love life and career life are especially fulfilling. Your charm attracts others and you find you're riding high on the crest of popularity. Maintain optimism in making decisions.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 — Also Sagittarius Ascendant) — Discipline yourself to stay with it and start writing that story you have in your head. You can get lots of cooperation regarding any literary pursuit. Romance could bloom for the single. Buy a gift for your loved one.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 — Also Capricorn Ascendant) — Get out and about socially and kick up your heels. Work goes well and you could be enjoying it very much too. Travel is not especially favored now. Curb excessively self-centered attitudes.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 — Also Aquarius Ascendant) — You are riding the crest of the wave and this could be one of the most fulfilling times of your life. Some may be getting married, others assume leadership of a large group, or get a raise in salary.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 — Also Pisces Ascendant) — You see the light at the end of the tunnel and realize your hardships are almost over. If planning a marriage, don't antagonize those who don't approve. You could acquire things you've always wanted now.

Highlands Teachers Asking For Pay Hike Next Year

Bargaining representatives for the Highlands County School Board and the Highlands County Education Association will hold a contract negotiating session Wednesday evening.

Teachers are currently seeking a new one-year contract that includes a pay-hike at all teaching levels.

According to Farrel Smith, Highlands County Assistant Superintendent of Schools, the real money issues will not be seriously attacked this week. "We won't really be able to get at any of the money items until after the (Florida State) Legislature has approved the 1977-78 school appropriations bill," Smith explained.

Chet Brojek, Avon Park high school teacher and head of the Highlands County Education Association (HCEA), agreed with Smith, saying, "I think the board is being honest with us about this. I don't think they will know how much money they will have until after the appropriations bill is passed."

Brojek indicated that any raise in teacher's salaries would hinge on the passage of the one-cent increase on the state's sales tax. "There just won't be enough money to meet our requests unless that state does this," he said. "We don't want to bankrupt the taxpayers or anything like that, we just want a legitimate salary adjustment. We are making requests, not demands."

The school board last week made their first contract offer to the teachers. That offer called for teacher's salaries to remain at the same levels as in 1976-77.

"I think the school board made the only proposal they could at that time," Brojek said, "because they just don't know how much money they are going to be getting from the state."

Citing figures from neighboring Polk County, Brojek claimed that the HCEA was asking for an increase that was still below the national average and even lower than Polk County requests. Starting teachers in the Highlands County school system receive $8,400 now. Under the proposed contract, they would receive a $1,200 increase to $9,600. Similar increases would be given at the various longevitiy and experience levels with the maximam salary for a teacher with the proper college degrees and a minimum of twelve years experience set at $15,600. The present top teacher salary is $12,700 per year.

"We have used an inflation index to compare the proposed salaries with the earning power of salaries in 1967," Brojek explained, "and even the proposed increases do not equal the buying power a teacher had then."

"We know that some of our professional teachers are making below the national average," Smith said, "and part of the reason for this is that education is so large."

Smith added that there were teacher's in the Highlands County system that qualified for the federal free lunch program.

The crux of the matter, as stated by

Seniors Graduated

With Avon Park High School having one of it's largest graduating classes, record numbers of parents, relatives and friends, from many states gathered Sunday and Monday nights to congratulate and wish the graduates well, as they took another step into the adult world of today.

Sunday evening's Baccalaureate Services were held in the spacious First Baptist Church, where ushers brought extra chairs, but a few people still remained standing. Escorted by Marshalls Charles Oliver and Barbara "Babs" Maness, the graduating seniors entered the hall to Elgar's processional "Pomp and Circumstance" played by pianist, Lisa Johnson.

The spiritual part of the program was handled by the Rev. William J. Ziegenfus, invocation; Elder Thomas J. Brown, scripture reading; the Rev. Byron Schortinghouse, sermon and Elder C. M. Fogle, the benediction.

Music by the Avon Park High School Girls Chorus included "A Better World" and "I'll Always Remember" with the graduating chorus members taking their place in the chorus.

In his sermon, the Rev. Schortinghouse spoke of the spectaculars of God's word, the truth, faithfulness, likeness and kindness of the mind and heart, as he urged the graduating class seniors to be bold enough to make their own place in the world.

The times of Moses were compared to those of today by the Rev. Schortinghouse, as some of our laws are based on the words that Moses received on the mountain. In his final admonition to the seniors he told them, "Let your life be motivated by God," as he left with them the challenge to 'taste of the things of God'.

The Monday night Graduation Ceremonies were moved to Head Field, because of the rejuvenation of the football field at Memorial Stadium.

As in past years the Avon Park High School Grenadier Band played Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" as the graduating seniors entered the area and took their places of honor, before the baseball grandstand. In a senior oriented program, senior Charles Edward Anderson gave the invocation.

Minimum Standards Are Drafted For Airport FBO

Jimmy Renfro's long fight to become a fixed base operator (FBO) at the Avon Park airport appears to be coming to an end.

Monday evening, the city council appointed airport committee approved a list of minimum standards for FBO operation at the facility. The standards will be passed on to the city council, with a recommendation from the committee that they be accepted.

After months of fighting, Renfro's case drew the attention of the Federal Aviation Agency. The FAA, at the last city council meeting, instructed the city that they could not keep Renfro from applying for a FBO license, providing that he met city approved minimum standards. The FAA ordered the city to comply with this ruling within 30-days, showing that Renfro's firm, Highlands Aviation Inc., had been allowed a chance to meet those standards.

Up until that time, the airport had not set such standards, however, using a suggested FAA standards list, the committee Monday finished the task in a 3 hour meeting.

The only question left unanswered by the standards is the amount and type of insurance that an FBO will have to carry. Councilmembers felt that the suggested amount was too much.

Airport Committee member Charles Hoke informed all present for the meeting that the committee was going to set minimum standards that would benefit the public. "We are not going to tailor these (stands) to favor anyone," he explained.

Renfro has indicated that of the 7 catagories of allowable FBO certification, only the sale of fuel interested him at this time. "In the future, I may branch out to flight instruction and air taxi service," he said, "but right now, I am going to comply with the fuel sale standards."

Renfro is now waiting for council approval of a rezoning request which will place his business property in the C-1 or light commercial zone. The re-zoning is a formality, as Renfro's property was zoned C-1 when it was outside of the city limits. That land was annexed to Avon Park this spring and a city rulings mandates that all property annexed into the city will automatically be zoned R-1, or single family residential. The re-zoning is expected to be completed at the next city council meeting.

"The day after the property is re-zoned," Renfro said, "I will start pouring concrete to install my fuel tank, pumps

City Is Assured Of Bill Payment

Although some local merchants and businesses may be afraid that long overdue bills run up by McCollum Construction Company during the city's sewer project construction may never be paid, the city council last week was informed that such was not the case.

Meeting in special session late last week, the council voted to pay Gator Utilities, Inc. of Fort Myers $82,650 in held back payments.

The money was held by the city in case the work performed was not satisfactory and to cover unpaid bills incurred by the various construction firms working on the sewer project.

Gator Utilities was hired as the prime contractor for the $3.5 million job. That firm, in turn, then hired other construction companies to assist them in the work. Generally, construction materials and supplies were purchased locally and the bills paid when federal loan money was made available. At this point, the only reported outstanding local bills are those left by McCollum. City Clerk Malcom Crews stated that he estimated the bills to total approximately

Benefit For Kittrell Set For June 18

Approximately 30 people of a community concerned about saving the shortened swollen right arm of 13-year-old Hunter Kittrell, met at Horse Hammock last Thursday evening to make final plans for the biggest benefit barbecue on Saturday June 18, that Avon Park or Highlands County has ever seen. Mayor Marshall Davis, proclaimed Saturday, June 18 as Hunter Kittrell day.

The group quickly appointed Bob Leaphart as chairman of the diversified group of concerned people. Alice Johnston was selected to be the secretary. The finances for the benefit are to be handled by Bob Leaphart, Clarice Ford and Bob Daubach, with two signatures required for the signing of checks for expenses.

Acting as a unified group, they quickly assigned and filled the various responsibilities. Mack Flowers was appointed chairman of the committee to secure food and supplies. Jim Casey, took the responsibility of having the 5000 barbecue tickets printed.

Publication Is Halted

Last Friday, June 3, marked the final publication of the Avon Park Sun's second edition for the summer months.

According to Edward Carter, Sun Publisher, the second edition is being temporarily stopped as summer vacations and Northbound winter guests rob the city of many second edition readers. "We will resume publication of the second edition in September," Carter explained, "when local residents are back from vacation and out winter guests return to warmer climes."

In addition to vacations and absent winter residents, Carter cited summer vacations among Sun news personnel as another factor behind the temporary publication halt.

The second edition, which first hit the streets on April 27 as an experiment, met enthusiastic reader response, in fact, all available copies were sold. Subsequent editions were even more popular. The decline in winter population, coupled with summer vacations, moved Carter to consider the temporary halt until this Fall.

Editor's Viewpoint

By Russ Dennis

Buried deep inside an area daily newspaper the other day, I came across a headlines saying, "Halderman, Mitchell Go To Prison June 22".

That pronouncement came almost five years to the day of the Watergate burglary, an act that shook the very foundations of our country's legislative and judicial branches.

Throughout the entire investigation, hearings, court trials and eventual sentencings, those accused of being involved in the break in at Democratic National Headquarters in 1972 have used the very system they tried (successfully) to abuse to protect them. One by one, they have each been fined or sentenced to short periods in prison.

John Mitchell, former attorney general and H.R. Haldeman, former Nixon chief of staff were sentenced to prison for 30 months to eight years by Judge John Sirica.

Sirica told the press that to him, the sentencings would be handled "like any other criminal case." I am afraid, however, that is not the case.

Aside from the fact that the two men have been free for five years, the prison term was set back to allow Haldeman to attend his daughter's graduation from law school. "It will also give Haldeman and Mitchell time to put their personal affairs in order," the judge explained. What rot! Although these men were involved in a conspiricy the likes of which this country had never seen or imagine possible, yet they are treated like honored quests, or, at the worst, like good fellows who made just a small mistake. Nothing serious.

They smugly accept their "prison" sentence, knowing full well that they will never serve the full time ordered. Their prison will be a walled country club, complete with color television, a golf course, unlimited visiting privileges for family and many other little "extras" that are reserved for this country's white collar crooks who have the misfortune of getting their fingers caught in the cookie jar.

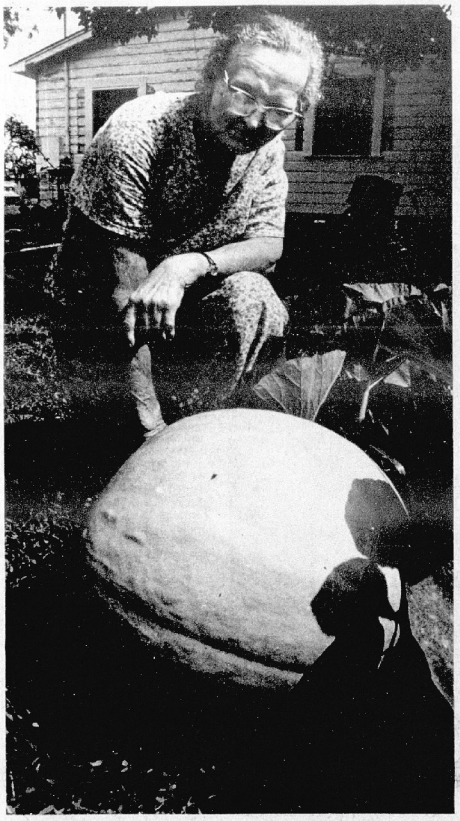
To those of you who whine, "I'm tired of hearing about Watergate. They didn't do anything other politicans haven't done," I can only cringe.

It was this very attitude...this almost god-like awe that the common man holds for those who claw their way up the political ladder, that nutured the evil seed of governmental betrayal. Those elected to serve us now feel they are better than the people who gave them their jobs. I, like countless other decent Americans, feel nothing but loathing for a mentality that could stoop so low as to defile the public's trust, this country's honor and the very principals upon this nation was founded.

I hope we never forget Watergate and its implications. For, if we do, the next time it may be an entire country, not just a political party, that is betrayed.

Poor, picked on Richard Nixon now sits in his taxpayer paid for mansion and turns a cold face from his minions. Even the basest criminal has some feelings for his fellow crooks.

So, Judge Sirica, you feel this has been handled like any other criminal case? Then I guess I missed the funeral... the funeral for dead justice.



MRS. LILIE MAE MOTT of 107 Central Ave., inspects a mammoth pumpkin in her small garden plot. Mrs. Mott planted pumpkins this year for the first time. The 35 pound pumpkin is still growing and according to Mrs. Mott, "If I had known these things were going to get this big, I wouldn't have planted them." Cheer up Mrs. Mott, the fine print on the seed package says the pumpkins can grown up to 100 pounds. (Sunphoto by Russ Dennis)

Control Is The Problem

The recent discussion of trailer parks and the need for a new, more comprehensive city ordinance to deal with them has prompted some misunderstandings.

Councilman David Barefield, most vocal in his call for tighter restrictions on trailer parks, has stated that as things are now, trailer parks are really not desirable inside the city limits. We agree. But to assume that this means Barefield is against trailer and camper parks and the people who use them is a mistake.

Barefield has pointed out many time that he is not against trailer parks, he just wants the city to enforce what ordinances they have now concerning these facilities.

Barefield has discussed the matter with the Sun and has indicated that he feels people who own recreation vehicles and use camper parks and those people who choose to reside in mobile homes definitely do good for the town. He has stressed that he is not against such things. Barefield points out, however, (and rightly) that the city's current policy towards park owners and the regulation of their operations is sketchy at the least. The very fact that one man can get a special council variance for expansion while another man can't is proof. As City Attorney Jack Hancock put it at a recent council meeting, "You can't selectively enforce the ordinance. You can't require provisions from one person that you don't require from all."

The city of Avon Park should welcome with open arms a reputable, well-run trailer camper park. The good such a facility can do for the city is almost untold. On the other hand, the council needs to draw up an ordiance that deals effectively with trailer camper and mobile home parks. To call a trailer park a "camper park" and then allow vehicles to remain their the year around is folly. Certain minimums, including sewer and water fees, as well as camping time, should be considered in the new ordinance.

To accuse Barefield of being "anti-trailer park" is unfair. We don't always agree with the city council on every issue, however, we have discovered that they generally keep an open mind on most issues. This is such a case.

The Sun feels that the Avon Park City Council should, at their next meeting, approve an ordinance or resolution which will impose a trailer moritorium in this town until a new ordinance is drafted into law. By doing this, the council will avoid further accusations of favoritism, while at the same time assuring themselves and our citizens that all improvements, expansions and other trailer park activity is dealt with on an equal basis.

When the new ordinance is finalized, then the moritorium can be lifted. Those park owners who wish to see their parks conform with all city codes and ordinances may do so. Those who don't will remain in the non-conforming use catagory (as are all city parks but one) until they are either sold or improvements and additions are requested. When this is done, the new ordinance should mandate that each park will then be brought up to city standards. Only in this way can the city avoid using the term "undesireable" in connection with trailer parks.

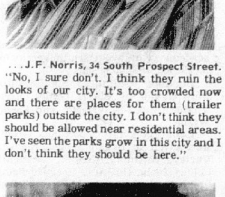
Interviewpoint

The majority of the people interviewed by the Sun this week had strong feelings about trailer and camper parks inside the city limits.

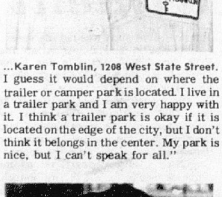
....This weeks' question: Do you think mobile home and camper parks are desirable inside the city limits?

...J.F. Norris, 34 South Prospect Street. "No, I sure don't. I think they ruin the looks of our city. It's too crowded now and there are places for them (trailer parks) outside the city. I don't think they should be allowed near residential areas. I've seen the parks grow in this city and I don't think they should be here."

...Karen Tomblin, 1208 West State Street. I guess it would depend on where the trailer or camper park is located. I live in a trailer park and I am very happy with it. I think a trailer park is okay if it is located on the edge of the city, but I don't think it belongs in the center. My park is nice, but I can't speak for all."



...Phyllis Scott, Shop 16 Road. "No, I don't think trailer parks should be located inside the city limits. I know that if I owned one, I wouldn't want to live inside the city. There is more freedom outside the city limits and it is less crowded. I think trailer parks may lower the value of the surrounding property."



...A.M. McKinney, 1118 West Prairie Street. "No, I don't think we should allow trailer parks inside the city limits, it just doesn't seem to be the place for them. I feel they bring down property values and there is a lot of traffic congestion and noise. There are also too many transients and problems to allow it."

Let's All Think Safety

Firemen, police, insurance adjusters and even newsmen have all, at one time or another, noticed a strange phenomenon...the strange fact that major crime, accidents and fires seem to run in streaks.

Seldom does a fire department have a single, isolated house fire, they seem to come in threes and fours. The same with crime.

No one has ever been able to figure out why this happens, it just does.

The point of this is to bring to the public's attention that they can do something to aid our emergency and law enforcement officers. In every factory and shop across the country there are signs saying, "Think Safety". If people would remember that little slogan and apply it to their everyday life, our fire and policemen would find their jobs greatly eased.

From the rash of fires we have been having lately in Avon Park, it would appear as if we are not remembering to "think safety".

Ben Franklin once said, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." In the case of fires and accidents that saying rings true. Remember...it's your property and the lives of you and your loved ones that are on the line.

Things My Way

By Alice Smith

It was a most unusual day.

As a rule, Sunday is a quiet island in a sea of newspapers, bounded by church on the south and a no-cooking rule on the north, but this one was different.

At the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, a coffee hour following the mid-morning service is an institution of long standing. It became a very special occasion on this first Sunday of June.

Call it a reception, a party, or whatever, the guests of honor were Linda Klein and Pam Griffin, valedictorian and salutatorian respectively, of the 1977 graduating lcass of Avon Park High School. Both girls are willow-slim, charming and gay; nice packaging for good brains and strong motivation. Linda's chosen field is accounting, Pam will major in chemistry. Neither field is exactly ho-hum, middle-of-the-road stuff for pretty girl graduates.

We shook their hands, wished them well; thought how marvelous to be tackling life with all signs favorable and doors opening wider every day for the female of the species.

At six o'clock, I attended a memorial prayer service for a dear lady and friend, Mabel Paine, who died last week at the age of 82.

Mrs. Paine had a unique career which began during World War I. She was a nurse in the United States Army, with the rank of Lieutenant. A biref war time marriage ended with the death of her husband. She became a teacher, married Mr. Paine and was widowed again.

Twenty years ago, Mabel Paine arrived in Avon Park, a widow with no children, no close relatives.

She built a house and a good life here. I knew of the importance of her church in that life, of her interest and involvement in the library, the Woman's Club and the American Legion Auxiliary. I learned only today of the hundreds of hours she devoted to transcribing printed text into Braille.

Mabel was woman of decided opinions., who could express them clearly and concisely when the need arose. She must, indeed, have been a sturdy character to walk so far alone.

Thinking about my day, in which I celebrated a beginning and marked a closing, I see nothing incongruous about these two events.

Mrs. Paine would have said, "Bravo girls, you two carry on now." The Lord probably has many things for her to do.

Hutchins Press

Thirty years ago Robert Maynard Hutchins, who died May 15 in Santa Barbara, Calif., was chairman of the Commission on Freedom of the Press.

Its report, "A Free and Responsible Press," remains as one of the man's monuments.

Hutchins was brilliant, controversial, provocative and combative. He was also profoundly earnest in his belief in self-improvement and in the idea of social progress.

The commission's report defended press freedom but it called for greater press responsibility.

"The press must be accountable to society for meeting the public need and for maintaining the rights of citizens and the almost forgotten rights of speakers who have no press," the report said. "It must know that its faults and errors have ceased to be the private vagaries and have become public dangers."

That sober warning must still be heeded.

Business Briefs

Promotion Announced

Frances J. Dennis of Sebring has been named Assistant Vice President and manager of the bank's Visa Department. Ms. Dennis recently attended a special conference for the National Association of Bank Women, Inc in Nashville, Tenn. She is an officer with that organization.

Stocks Down

The stock market erased some of last week's gains Monday in a retreat led by blue-chip issues.

Analysts said the market was weighed down by second thoughts among investors about the favorable inflation and interest rate news that sparked a rally in the market last Friday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 blue-chip industrials fell 9.16 to 903.07.

Car Prices Soar

The American consumer paid an average $5,450 for a new car last year and that's $700 more than in 1975. It was the largest relative increase from one year to the next in almost 10-years. Car prices will average over $6,000 by the end of 1977.

Credit Expanding

Consumer credit, an indicator of public confidence in the economy, expanded by $2.66 billion in April, the second largest increase in history, according to the Federal Reserve Board.

The gain was $60 million less than the record $2.72 billion increase in March.

It was glitter and lights for 55 students of Studio 1 Dance Art, last Saturday evening, June 4, as they presented "Dancing Around The World."

The recital was held at Avon Park High School Auditorium.

The dancers first took you on a visit to the United Kingdom, featuring, All Aboard, Kapering Keystones, London Bridge, Royal Guardsmen, Bit of Blarney, and Scotch Lassies.

Then on to Europe for Octoberfest, Dutch Treat, Spanish Fiesta, Nadia's Theme, Harem Dancers, and Gay Paree.

Next a stop in the orient and a trip through the jungles with China Dolls, Japanese Jewels, African Safari and Born Free.

Those presented awards during the evening were Adrey Farthing, tap award; Penny Lagston, acrobatic award, Windy Booth, best all around and Felita Council, Cel Ballet award.

One of the four year olds was over heard telling her mother, "just think, this was my first time on stage and I loved it."

Margie Hodge-Daniel Bass United In Garden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Bass

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mac Durrance, 698 N. Lake Ave., Avon Park, was the setting for the garden wedding of Margie Agnes Hodge and Daniel Joseph Bass, Saturday, May 28, at 8 p.m.

Miss Hodge is the daughter of Mrs. Eva Johns, Avon Park, and the late Marvin Hodge. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Joyce Bass of Palatka and Joseph Bass of Ocala.

Rev. Aden D. Childress officiated the double ring ceremony before a group of relatives and friends.

The couple exchanged vows before a garden setting of greenery, flanked on either side by tall white candelabrums holding fourteen tall pink lighted tapers, tall wicker baskets with large arrangements of pink spring flowers placed on each side. The center baskets filled with white daisies were elevated forming a picturesque altar effect, completing the lovely garden scene.

Janice Porter, pianist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Phylis Johnson, solist.

Bride

The petite bride was radiant as she approached the altar wearing a formal gown of Candlelight Ivory fashioned of imported voile over bridal taffeta, designed by the groom's great aunt, Mrs. Frank Young Jr. of Bartow. The beautiful gown was styled with old fashion lines, the bodice with a scoop lace bib was enhanced with wide bands of venetian lace from shoulders complimenting the lace waistline. The full bishop sleeves had lace cuffs and a deep gathered flounce ruffle finished the full flowing skirt.

Her bouffant veil of silk French illusion fell from a Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried an old fashion circular bouquet of butterfly roses, lilies of the vally and sephanotis with cascade streamers and lovers knots.

The bride carreid out the traditional theme of something old, her dress was new, veil borrowed, she wore a blue garter and a penny in her shoe. She also wore tiny pearl ear rings, a gift from the groom.

Terri Thompson of Avon Park was matron of honor and Mrs. Jim Martin of Lakeland was brides matron. They wore identical gowns of apple blossom pink. The bodice was styled with a middriff waistline accented in back with a bow sash, v-neckline, butterfly sleeves and A-line skirt.

Faye Hodge and Eva Johns, sister of the bride, were brides maids. They wore formal gowns of American beauty. All attendants wore nosetip matching veils and carred a cascade bouquet of pink roses with streamers against a green background.

Little Miss Nicki Jackson, flower girl was beautiful in a formal gown of blue. She wore a matching head piece adorned in tiny blue flowers and babies breath. She carried a matching basket filled with rose petals, which she dropped in the pathway of the bride.

Master Jason Dobbs, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer and carried the rings on a satin and lace pillow.

Little Rhonda Johns, sister of the bride and Master Mark Bass, brother of the groom handed out rice bags.

Ronald O. Kelley of Wauchula served his brother as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Scotty Thompson, Duke Durrance and Jay Durrance of Avon Park.

Mrs. Bass, mother of the groom, chose for her son's wedding a formal gown of Aqua knit, matching venise lace accented the empire waistline and the cuffs of the chiffon sleeves.

Mrs. Eugene Durrance, grandmother of the groom, wore a rose pink dress with tallored lines.

Mrs. Oliver (Fannie) Durrance, great grandmother of the groom, Bowling Green, wore a lovely apricot print with matching jacket.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held beneath the carport which was decorated with greenery, decorated blocks and hanging backets of fern were placed at vantage points.

A lovely bouquet of pink carnations highlighted the piano.

Mrs. Ronald O. Kelley kept the brides book on a table the brides book on a table covered with an ecru linen cloth.

The brides table covered in a floor length pink cloth, on one end held the beautiful three tiered wedding cake seperated by greacian columns, decorated with white doves and roses, highlighted between layers with pink roses. The brides bouquet was placed in front of the cake.

On the other end of the table was the lovely cut glass punch bowl holding pink punch. A three branch silver candelabrum holding tall pink tapers graced the center of the table.

The bride and groom cut the first slice of cake and then it was cut and served by Mrs. Albert Hawkins and Mrs. Verna T. Whitfield, great aunt of the groom.

The bride and groom moved to the punch bowl where they made their toast to each other, after which the grooms great aunt Mrs. Hugh Cloud of Lake Sebring poured punch.

Assisting futhur with hospitalities were Mrs. Billy Durrance, Mrs. Joe Jackson, Mrs. Jerry Dobbs and Mrs. M. L. Thompson.

The new Mrs. Bass chose for her wedding trip to Daytona Beach an apricot color dress with midruff waistline, butterfly sleeves and white accessories.

The bride is continuing her education at Avon Park High School.

The groom is a graduate of Avon Park High School and is employed with Avon Tire Company.

The couple will make their home in Avon Park, where construction is being completed on their home.

Among out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Jim Martin, Lakeland; Mrs. Frank Young, Bartow; Mrs. Venon Whitfield, Bowling Green; Mrs. Fanny Durrance, Bowling Green; Joel Bass, Plataka; and Mrs. Margret Smith, Frostproof.

J.C. Penney Employees

Switch On Bargain Day

It will be a madhouse of bargains and hijinks this Friday, when the JC Penney store in Avon Park " goes crazy." The occasion is Associates Day, when management and employes switch places and anything can happen. It probably will.

For instance Earl Jackson, manager of the store, will be supervising in the restaurant while Pat Beckman is running the store in Jackson's stead.

Jean Stites will be assistant manager, Sherrie Bennett and George DeSalvo management trainees. Having their day in the sun as merchandising managers will be Mildred Ferguson, Dee Dee Bennett, Jane Tharpe and Daisy Morgret.

And those erstwhile pillars of management? Well, in addition to Jackson's foray into the food department, Brian Hulbert will be selling cosmetics and intimate apparel. This job could either be considered the "plum" or the "panic", depending on his experience and suavity.

Michael Elston can be found selling fabrics and "our Mr. Johnson" (John) in draperies. While John Mixon is pouring his sole into selling shoes, Paul McCormick will try his green thumb in the plant department and William "Mac" Bryan will be living the life of a stockroom assistant.

The one female management entry is Carol Corriere, who will be in the sporting goods division serving as saleslady, like a good sport.

The positions for managerial jobs were picked via nominations and a free election, the displaced management staff taking over the jobs of the people who replaced them.

But the "mis-management" isn't necessarily Associates Day's main drawing card. The associates have also been able to acquire super special bargains in every department. In fact New York buyers have competed to see which can produce the best bargain and the winner will be rewarded with a plaque.

Residents of Highlands County are invited to set their eyes on "A" Day and enjoy the specials and fun. Catch them during regular store hours, as there is no telling what can happen when anything goes.

Couple Exchanges Vows At Highlands Hammock

Miss Pamela Debbie Mae Skitka of Wauchula and Charles R. Goodwin of Avon Park were married Saturday afternoon at the Highlands Hammock Amphitheatre in Sebring.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skitka of Wauchula. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Goodwin of Avon Park.

Reverend Archie Smith performed the double ring ceremony at four p.m. in a natural verdant atmosphere.

The poem "To Love" was read by the Reverend Smith which was selected by the bride.

As the bride entered she presented her mother with a rose. Upon leaving she presented her new mother-in-law with a rose.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a satin crepe gown overlaid with chiffon, featuring a v-neck and empire waistline, with a capelet collar. Accenting the waistline was a sash of sky blue chiffon. She wore a veil of illusion topped with a chiffon bow edged with lace.

The bride's flowers were a cascade of carnations, daisies, and baby's breath.

Debi Smith was maid of honor. She wore a blue dotted swiss empire gown accented at the waist with a white chiffon sash.

Bridesmaids were Cindy Stephens and Barbara Spurlock. They were dressed like the maid of honor except they wore yellow and green gowns.

Little Miss Sonya Goodwin, neice of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a long pink dress with lace trim. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Ringbearer was Jerry Stokes, cousin of the bride. Dale DuBoice served as best man. Groomsmen were Jobie Skitka, brother of the bride and Rodney Goodwin, brother of the groom.

The bridegroom wore a grey tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt trimmed in grey and a boutonniere of a white carnation.

The groomsmen all wore matching grey tuxedoes with ruffled shirts trimmed in the color of the maid of honor and bridesmaids gowns and boutonnieres of white carnations tipped in the color of their shirts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodwin

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Skitka chose an aqua floor length double knit gown with long sheer sleeves. She wore a corsage of white and blue carnations.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a long, pink knit gown with a matching pink chiffon cape. She wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Reception

Immediatley following the wedding a reception was held in the recreation hall.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace table cloth centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with blue satin bells.

Served with the cake was nuts, mints and punch. The table was adorned with the bride's bouquet of flowers.

The bride's cake was cut by Vera King. Mary Jo Adams and Mary Oliveri served the punch. Sherry and Dodie Stikes, cousins of the bride, were rice girls. Cecilia Batts presided over the guest book.

For traveling on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Goodwin chose a red check sun dress. Parn wore a corsage of daisies, carnations, and baby's breath.

The groom wore a burgundy colored leisure suit.

The newlyweds will reside in Avon Park.

Out of town guests were Miss Levina, Tina and Bernie Smith of Cairo, Georgia; Mr. and Mrs. John Stokes and Sherry of South Daytona; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Goodwin and Sonya of Largo; Sharon Forston of St. Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. John Woods of Tampa; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Massey, Raymond and James of Fort Pierce; Mr. and Mrs. William Gress and Family of Lakeland.

Church Of God Honors Grads With Dinner Program

Church Of God graduates were honored Friday night at 105 North Florida Avenue Fellowship Hall with a buffet dinner.

Betty Cobb read a poem, "Admonition to Youth," Bud Howard prayed an opening prayer.

David Barefield, who serves the Church on the Church and Pastor's council, Chairman of usher committee and is a member of the City Council, was guest speaker. His theme was, "How Christ Counts Success!"

Pastor and Mrs. Paul Searcy were requested to sing, "Now I Have Everything," accompanied by Lillian Johnson at the piano.

Lillian Johnson served as mistress of ceremonies, and directed the program. . . she's an accomplished pianist and teacher.

Debbie Woodard, Chairperson of Food committee, and Joni Barefield headed the decorations committee ably.

Graduates present were: Gerald Barefield, James Bell, Mike Cobb, Dot Howard, Debbie Miller, Cindy Woodard.

Not present was Jerry Edmundson, who receives his diploma from our local college.

Debbie Woodard, F. T. H. (Family Training Hour President, Wednesday nights at 7:30 p.m.) presented them with autograph Books and a Bible from the Church.

The pastor's wife, Dotty Searcy, gave them cards, hankies and an invitation to the College Career Class which she teaches.

Lisa Johnson and Debbie Watford put on a puppet show depicting some of the funny antics of the graduates in their younger years. Greg Cilliard controlled the P. A. system.

The mothers surprised the graduates by displaying a photo poster salute to each one of them present.

Pastor Searcy prayed for each of the graduates and pronounced the benediction.

On June 5, Sunday morning in the worship service, Pastor Searcy spoke briefly to the graduates and had Gina Johnson and Brenda Fletcher hold up a scroll-like poster which the pastor's wife made with a special message to the graduates:

G-oing forward
R-eady to
A-ccept God's will
D-etermined to
U-nderstand his word
A-lert to
T-emptations
I-nterested in
O-thers
N-ever forgetting that Christ is my helper!

Bible School To Show "18 : No Time To Waste"

EIGHTEEN, a new dramatic film, will be shown at the First Baptist Church on at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, June 15.

Eighteen is a story adapted for film, from the best seller "18: No Time to Waste." It is the story of Connie Callaway, a lovely, lively, California teen-ager who brought fun, some heart-break, lots of noise and finally joy and pride to her bereaved family.

The triumph of Connie Callaway's life, even through brief, stands as a monument to young people who find real answers to life's great questions. It is also a beacon to parents who are troubled by the lives of children whom they do not understand.

Eighteen is a timely film coming at a moment when its unique message will make its greatest impact on the lives of all who see it. It is a classic from Gospel Films, Inc. of Muskegon, Mich., producers of numerous award-winning films.

The film will be shown in connection with the First Baptist Vacation Bible School program and is open to all young people.

SUMMER BRINGS US CLOSER TO GOD'S CREATION

The sun has reached the zenith in the sky,
And casts no noonday shadow from up high;
But warms with gentle breezes through the air
A world of life that's teeming everywhere.
The grass and trees attain their deepest green,
While lazy streams reflect the summer scene:
A season meant for living out of doors;
And time to take a holiday from chores,
But never from your faith; for on vacation,
You'll learn first hand the beauty of Creation.
So, in the Church to which your faith has bound you,
Give thanks to God, who made this world around you.
—Gloria Nowak

"Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near."
—Mark 13:28

A happy soul, that all the way
To heaven hath a summer's day.
—Richard Crashaw

IN THIS HAWAIIAN Hula dance the position of the hands refers to land, as Carol Klink of Davao City, Mindanao, performed at the annual spring party of the Sweet Adelines. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Adelines Learn The Hands Tell The Story

If you find a little brown girl in a little grass skirt wandering around Avon Park, just keep your eyes on her hands-they'll tell you this story.

Heart of Highlands chapter of Sweet Adelines held their annual spring party in honor of the new members last Thursday evening, June 2, at the home of the Chuck Sutherlands.

To the accompaniment of Hawiian guitars around a pool with floating flowers and candles, after a beautiful buffet meal of Hawaiian foods, the Sweet Adelines and their guests were entertained by a program of authentic hula dancing presented by Carol Klink who is visiting in Avon Park from the Philippine Islands. Mrs. Klink is the daughter of the Chet Wollangks of Avon Park.

After presenting several dances, Carol explained the basic hula motions and taught a group of neophyte hula girls a lovely and intriguing version of the familiar song "To You Sweetheart, Alpha."

Sweet Adelines welcome all interested women to the regular 7:30 Thursday meetings held at the Avon Park Methodist Church. Come sing with us!

THE HANDS TELL the story with the wrist bending, Carol Klink, of Davao City, Phillipines, explained to a group of Sweet Adelines, who were practicing during the brief lesson after the Hawaiian laua at the Chuck Sutherland home last Thursday night. Wells Surprised With 40th Anniversary Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Decker of River Ridge, gave John and Flo Wells of 3010 Woodruff Heights, a surprise 40th wedding anniversary dinner last Sunday, June 5.

A delicious buffet dinner was served to 29 of the Wells' friends.

The couple cut a beautiful two tier wedding cake, that was white trimmed with red flowers and topped with the number 40.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells received many lovely gifts during the evening.

They were married at Romney, Va., June 5, 1937.

They have three children, Ted Wells, Howard Smith and Margie Schezzini and two grandsons.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wells were surprised last Sunday, June 5, with a 40th wedding anniversary buffet dinner, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Decker. Pictured above is Mr. and Mrs. Wells and their son Ted.

Chamber Conducting Survey

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce is conducting a survey of local merchants and business firms regarding closing days on established National Holidays.

Each merchant is being contacted and asked to fill out the survey sheet indicating the holidays observed as well as closing on Wednesday afternoons.

This is being done by the local chamber with the hopes of creating more uniform observance of recognized holidays.

Dog Bite Case In Avon Brings Protest To Board

Following a recent dog bite case in Avon Park, a county resident appeared before the Highlands County Commission Tuesday to protest the large number of dogs allowed to run free.

Cleo O'Berry expressed his opinions to the board at length, saying that all dogs should be required to have a current rabies vaccination.

"There's dogs all over my neighborhood," said O'Berry. "It's high time that if a man has a dog, he should take care of it. You folks on the commission should make it compulsory for a man to vaccinate his dog before he lets it run all over the place."

Commissioner Robert Skipper explained that the county already has such an ordinance. "Under the law, if a dog does not have a valid vaccination tag, it can be picked up as a stray and taken to the county pound, until it's owner comes to claim it."

The commissioners told O'Berry to call Animal Control Officer Hollis Richards about the animals running through his neighborhood, and to call the city police if Richards can not be reached.

In other business, the board agreed to see what can be done to prevent the dumping of trash and combustible materials in an old clay pit which the county has designated as a dumping site for building materials.

Several weeks ago the board agreed that the old pit, in the Avon Park area, could be used for the dumping of non-burnable building materials after many area contractors complained that dumping fees at the county landfills were driving the cost of construction skyward.

The county allowed the contractors to dump at the old pit, but was hoping that regular trash would not find its way there, as household garbage must be covered at the end of each day, according to state law.

Tuesday the board learned that trash was appearing amongst the construction dumpings, and decided to consider posting a guard at the site.

County Engineer Gordon Hays Jr. told the board he has recently posted "No Trash Dumping" signs at the clay pit, and the county agreed to wait and see if the signs have any effect.

The commissioners also:

— Agreed to look over the proposed draft of the zoning ordinance revisions as prepared by the special committee which has been working on them for nearly two years.

— Instructed the Road and Bridge Department to stripe Sparta Road as soon as possible.

— Gave the developers of Lake Huntley Cove a 90-day extension on the approval of their water system.

— Granted a variance of subdivision regulations to Donald Truax and to Patricia Randolph.

—Agreed to consider the mowing of Rutlege Ave. in Highlands Park Estates at the request of resident Paul Herig, who complained that vandals were using the tall weeds to hide in.

SFJC To Offer Swiming Classes

This summer, during the South Florida Junior College summer "B" term, Swimming will be offered. Coach Dunning Terrell will instruct this class which may be taken for one hour of college credit or for audit.

This course which consists of (1) learning or reviewing the basic swimming strokes, (2) methods of assistance to swimmers in trouble, and (3) distance swimming for physical fitness. Many students who have taken this course could not swim 10 yards at the beginning of classes, but could swim a mile or more at the completion. It is a great course for physical fitness, fun, and for acquiring a skill that nould save a life.

The class will be taught at Lake Denton from 1 to 2:10 p.m., Monday through Friday, during the "B" term which begins June 16 and ends July 28.

Bank Announce Winners Of Anniversary Drawing

Ben Hill Griffin, Jr., President of the Highlands County Bank of Avon Park, today announced the winners of the bank's third anniversary celebration drawings. The third anniversary celebration was held May 23 through June 3, with $33.00 savings accounts being won by: Dan R. Smith, Helen A. Bennett, Marguerite H. Nelson, Nita Ball, John Morgret, Fred Henly, Andrew Leach, Sr., Dorothy Barefield, Gerald Barefield all of Avon Park and Thomas Fisher of Sebring.

The $103.00 savings accounts were won by: Billy Rogers, Leo H. Christenson and Linda Henderson all of Avon Park. Also as a highlight of the celebrations, $33.00 savings accounts were awarded to all new babies born at Walker Memorial Hospital between May 23 and June 3.

Griffin pointed out that the third anniversary celebration was a huge success and he wished to thank everyone for their participation. Griffin noted that in just three years the Highlands County Bank had grown from $198,000 at close of business on opening day in 1974 to over $10,000,000 in total deposits today. Officers of the Highlands County Bank of Avon Park are Griffin, Bob Daubach, Executive Vice-president; and John S. Teal, Vice-president and Cashier.

Area Directories Available

Available for use at the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce office are area city directories including Arcadia, Bartow, Belle Glade, Cape Coral, Fort Meade, Frostproof, Fort Myers, Haines City, Lake Wales, Lakeland, Lehigh Acres, Leesburg, Naples, Orlando, Pahokee, Sarasota and Wauchula.

In past years the Avon Park City Directory has been used many times daily for information. These additional directories have also beern helpful in supplying information for the publication.

Basic Life Support Classes Set For SFJC

South Florida Junior College will again offer in Highlands County basic life support classes in cardio pulmonary resuscitation and the Heimlich Manuever. The Heimlich Manuever is the latest method for assisting persons who are choking.

Classes will be held in Sebring and in Avon Park. Persons interested in pre-registering should call the Emergency Medical Service office in Sebring at 385-3484 or the Community Instructional Service office at SFJC, 453-6661, extension 115.

Dates for the two Sebring classes arte June 13, 20 and 27. The morning class will begin at 9 and the evening class at 7. Classes will be held at the Agri-Civic Center.

The Avon Park dates are June 14, 21 and 28. Classes will meet in the nursing lab at SFJC at 7 p.m.

American Heart Association personnel and Emergency Medical Technicians will teach the basic life support classes, the texts provided free by the American Heart Association. Since class enrollment is limited, anyone interested in enrolling should contact the E.M.S. office in Sebring or the C.I.S. office at the college immediately.

Cooper's Financial Woes Escalate

The financial woes of former sheriff candidate Richard Cooper escalated again, with a filing of federal tax lien. According to papers recorded here, Cooper and his wife Jerry owe personal income taxes of $4,858 for the year 1974. At that time Cooper was employed by the Highlands County Sheriff's Department, a position he left in late 1975 to prepare for what later proved to be an aborted race for sheriff.

He dropped out of the race after a month of campaigning. Simultaneous with the collapse of his political fortunes, his financial difficulties came to light. The check for his qualifying fee was returned, several foreclosure suits were filed.

The most extensive of these actions was brought by First Bank of Lake Placid. About the same time the federal government was recording its tax lien here, the Lake Placid bank was recording a certificate of title in its foreclosure proceedings on the Coopers' business, R & J Marine.

State attorneys in both the 9th and 10th judicial circuits admit they have criminal charges , involving Coopers' financial dealings, under investigation, but they decline to comment on whether formal charges will be filed.

According to rumor, the Coopers are living in Nevada.

Summer Vocational Classes To Start

Summer Vocational, Technical and Adult Education (VTAE) Division classes begin at South Florida Junior College on June 14 and end on July 28. All classes meet on campus.

Occupational courses being offered during the summer term are Air Conditioning and Refrigeration, Auto Body Repairs, Automotive Mechanics, Tractor & Diesel Mechanics, and Carpentry. Classes meet six hours a day, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m., to 12 noon and 1 to 3 p.m. Registration fee is $10.00 for each course.

There are two business classes scheduled for the summer, Typing I & II and General Office Clerk will meet from 12 noon to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Registration fee is $10.00.

Two G.E.D. preparation classes will be offered for persons who wish to take the General Educational Development test for a high school equivalency diploma. One class will meet from 8 a.m., to 12 noon and 1 to 3 p.m., daily. Registration fee is $10.00. The other class will meet from 7 to 10 p.m., on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. Registration is $9.00. The G. E. D. test will be given at the conclusion of the term.

Registration for VTAE Division summer classes will be June 10 and 13 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Further information may be obtained from the college or by calling 453-6661, extension 123, in Avon Park.

CB STOLEN

Charles Lee Green, of Avon Park, told sheriff's deputies that a $160 CB radio was stolen from his car Sunday night while it was parked at the Beachfront Bar.

Food For Thought

"Ogden Nash once wrote, "Everybody has the right to think whose food is the most gorgeous, and I nominate Georgia's."

A generous helping of that oldtimey Georgian cruisine is included in "Miss Lillian and Friends," the 254-page book that A. & W publishers issued a couple of weeks ago, written in parts, it may seem, as if by press agents.

Included are sketches of President Carter's mother, the energetic Miss Lillian, an introduction to the Southern vernacular and definitions of its terms, and an attempt at explaining "the Plains way of life." Robert Penn Warren, the Southern critic and man of letters, might find that explanation more facile than profound.

But the recipes, occupying almost 100 pages, are another thing, well done and a fascinating reflection of Southern home cooking, blending flavors of the past with, occasionally, the products (canned soups, packaged stuffings) of the present. Their editor, Elizabeth Hedgcock Sparks, was chosen with inspiration, because she has been a food professional investigating Southern cooking especially, for more than 30 years.

As Beth Tartan she has written on cuisine regularly for the Winston-Salem (N. C.) Journal and Sentinel. And she has done a couple of books on the dishes of her home state, entering the kitchens of elderly, traditional cooks and making notes as they proceeded. Often they prepared products that are disappearing under the advance of the package mix, frozen dinners and other adjuncts to uniformity on 20th century dining-tables.

The recipes in "Miss Lillian and Friends" reflect "Georgia-cracker cookery," it is explained, and further it is said that "cracker,' has nothing to do with 'the crisp edible wafers served with soup and cheese" Cracker is traceable to the Scotch word, cracke, meaning boast, we read.

Scotch-Irish pioneers from North Carolina and Tennessee mountains settled much of Georgia, working hard against the prejudice of the gentry who had arrived earlier. As survivors against odds, those frontiersmen used to boast-i.e., crack-of the struggle they had won. Was the term transferred, incidentally, to Florida where we, too, have "crackers?"

Naturally, the cookery of such an industrious, practical people to which our President's ancestors belonged, we are told, was not elaborate. As Mrs. Sparks shows in recipes she collected from leading practitioners of the kitchen art in Plains, seasonings over the years have been simple, consisting of salt, black pepper, hot peppers, onion, lemon and tomatoes.

Traditionally, ingredients have been those that were at hand — catfish, bream, turnip and other greens, long thin hams from razorback pigs, peaches, sweet potatoes, venison, rabbits, chicken and of course, the peanuts that made the President rich. Fine beef does not show up in the recipes Mrs. Sparks edited nor is there a single mention of lamb.

Here are a few of the interesting facts on Southern cooking that the eidtor brought to light:

+Small white specks on cooked country ham indicate age and are a sign the meat has been saved for a special occasion; the longer it is held the drier it becomes and the intenser the flavor.

+Raw sweet potatoes, pared and sliced thin, may be an ingredient for an old-fashioned twocrust pie (the usual sweet potato pie is done with the mashed, cooked vegetable).

+Banana pudding is a favorite Plains dessert, customarily assembled with packaged vanilla wafers and soft custard in addition to the fruit. The wafers, replacing lady fingers formerly used, date from the Depression, when an amount suitable for a family dinner cost only 5 cents.

+Upside-down pies, with a filling of apples or peaches, are baked with a layer of nuts and butter and sugar underlining the bottom crust. They are turned out to display a nut-studded surface.

Mrs. Sparks does not assign Miss Lillian as a source to any of the recipes. She offers one from Rosalynn Carter, for a cheese ring that is served as an appetizer. Alton Carter, the President's uncle, tells how to prepare wines from not only grapes but also from apples, pears, peaches and tomatoes. And there's the recipe for a cocktail originated in honor of the President by a Wisconsin bartender. For it, you combine an ounce each of white cream de cocoa and whiskey or brandy, a teaspoon of creamy peanut butter and a small scoop of crushed ice. Shake-and slip at your own risk.

Some of the recipes I found especially interesting follow.

ROSALYNN CARTER'S CHEESE RING

1 pound grated cheese
1 cup finely chopped nuts
1 cup mayonnaise
1 small onion, grated
Freshly ground black pepper to taste
Cayenne pepper to taste

Combine ingredients. Mold with the hands into a ring. Chill.

Note: Mrs. Carter suggests filling the center with strawberry preserves which might better be replaced, if the ring is to be offered as an appetizer, with toast rounds.

REFRIGERATOR COLE SLAW

1½ pounds cabbage, shredded (discard hard white core)
1 medium onion, finely chopped
½ green pepper, finely chopped
¼ cup plus one tablespoon sugar
½ cup oil
½ cup vinegar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon celery seed

Combine cabbage, onion, green pepper and ¼ cup sugar. Toss lightly.

Combine remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil. Pour over shredded cabbage mixture. Toss lightly. Cover. Chill at least 4 hours. Salad keeps several days under refrigeration.

Taste Tempting Scalloped Broccoli

Mrs. Mildred Logan, 214 Tulane Circle, has a great recipe for Scalloped Broccoli Casserole that she is going to share with us this week.

Mrs. Logan has been a resident of Avon Park for 31 years, coming here from Owenton, Kentucky. Her hobbies are flowers, cooking and Christmas crafts.

She also works two different jobs and recieved her real estate license three years ago.

Scalloped Broccoli Casserole

2 packages frozen Broccoli, cooked as directed
Mix the following:
1 cup sharp cheddar cheese
2 eggs well beaten
½ cup mayonaise
1 can cream chicken or mushroom soup
2 tbsp. instant onion
Pinch of oregano and parsley

Mix all together and put in large cassorole dish (9x13). - Put seasoned croutons over top, that have been sauteed in butter, bread crumbs or patato chips. Bake 350 degrees for 30 minutes or 325 degrees for 45 minutes.

Mrs. Mildred Logan's recipe for broccoli makes a common food delicious

Hillcrest To Hold Open House Sunday

The residents, administrator and staff at Hillcrest Nursing Home of Avon Park, are hosting an open house this Sunday, June 12, from 2:30-4:30 p.m.

Since March 1976, the institution has been under the direction of Care Management and Investment Co., and represented in Florida by Leon Marlier, Administrator.

Its staff is devoted to the constant ameilioration and care of their 90 elderly residents. Hillcrest expresses its recognizance for the kind relations existing with the communities of central Florida and hopes to see each one of you Sunday, June 12th.

The opening number for Studio 1 Dance Art recital, given last Saturday, June 4, at 8 p.m. in Avon Park High School Auditorium was All Aboard. Dancers are from the left: Lori Valentik, Kim Nelson, Marie Bozeman, Michelle Brooks, Valerie Reeves, Missy Ramer and Tamy Lawson. (Sunphoto by Barbara Cornell).

Rice Honored At Shower

The Southside Baptist Church Social Hall was the scene of a miscellaneous shower for Georgiann Rice, bride-elect of Rick Lanier of Avon Park.

Janet Frakes and Cheryl Hawkey assisted Miss Rice with the opening of gifts.

The bride's colors of green and white were used throughout the hall.

Assorted cakes and cookies were served to approximately 50 guests.

Hostesses for the evening were the Ladies of the Willing Workers Sunday School class. Complete wedding arrangements will be announced at a later date.

Connie Crews (right) and Margo Maxwell (middle), the Nursery and Kindergarten teachers for the First Presbyterian Church's Vacation Bible School, being held June 13-17 from 9:30-11:30 a.m., check over their plans with Kathy Warner (left), Superintendent of the school. Little David and Kim Crews look at the materials being used in Kim's class. Boys and girls included in the School are ages three years through the sixth grade. Friends of the church are invited as well as the boys and girls of the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church. (Sunphoto by Barbara Cornell)

Spencer Named Scientist President

James Spencer of Birmingham, Michigan, has been named President of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The annual appointment honors Christian Scientists who have given extraordinary church service. It was announced here yesterday during the 82nd annual meeting of church members.

A native of New York City who grew up in Miami and studied at both the University of Pennsylvania and at The Principia College, Elsah, Illinois, Spencer is a lifelong Christian Scientist.

He has been active in the healing ministry of the Church of Christ, Scientist, since 1954.

On active duty with the U. S. Marine Corps during the Korean War, he served as a Christian Science representative in the Armed Services.

He later served as chaplain in the United States Army and as a civilian Christian Science Minister for the Armed Services in Miami and Key West, Florida.

Spencer has served in a variety of church posts. In 1967 he became a Christian Science lecturer and in 1970, a teacher of Christian Science.

He has lectured throughout the United States, in South America, England, and Europe.

Snider-Hood To Wed Saturday

The wedding of Rebbecca Ruth Snider and Charles Douglas Hood will take place Saturday, June 11, at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Avon Park.

The reception will follow at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Snider, 101 East Palmetto, Avon Park.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Conference Held At Sebring

An all-day conference on Crime Prevention was held recently at City Hall in Sebring.

Representatives of organizations in five counties attended — Hardee, Polk, DeSoto, Okeechobee and Highlands.

Mrs. George Couch and Mrs. Maurice Bush, president and vice-president of the Avon Park Woman's Club were among the large gathering. They report fine speakers and solid, down-to-earth suggestions in the field of crime prevention.

Last week, Mrs. Couch spoke at the luncheon meeting of the Avon Park Lakes Association, bringing to the group the information acquired at the Sebring conference, practical steps which the private citizen can use in protecting his home and personal property.

State Firemen Hold Annual Workshop Session

Approximately 60 firemen and their wives, representing 10 out of 12 Florida fire fighting districts, turned out Saturday for the Florida State Firemen's Association annual workshop and barbeque.

The event was held at the state headquarters, located in Avon Park.

According to Avon Park Fire Chief Mac Flowers, who is the Secretary-Treasurer of the state organization, the event was broken down into a morning board meeting and an afternoon workshop and cook-out.

Topics covered at the morning session included discussion on the recently held State Firemen's Convention and the setting of a date to hold the convention next year. Robert Bullard of Loangboat Key, state president, also made committee appointments for 1977-78.

The afternoon workshop meeting was used to outline new procedures to be used by firemen during the coming year, including an introduction to new, state mandated, report forms.

The event, held each year in Avon Park, lasted until about 9 p.m. Saturday. Some city officials, including the Mayor and city councilmen, were also present.

Summer Vocational, Technical and Adult Education (VTAE) Division classes begin at South Florida Junior College June 14 and end July 28. All classes meet on campus.

Occupational courses being offered during the summer term are air conditioning and Refrigeration, auto body repairs, automotive mechanics, tractor and diesel mechanics, and carpentry. Classes meet six hours a day, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Registration fee is $10 .

There are two business education classes scheduled for the summer. Typing I and II and general office clerk will meet from noon to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Registration fee is $10.

Two G.E.D. preparation classes will be offered for persons who wish to take the General Educational Development test for a high school equivalency diploma. One class will meet 8-noon and 1-3 daily. Registration fee is $10. The other class will meet from 7-1 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. Registration is $9. The G.E.D. test will be given at the conclusion of the term.

For persons with less than an eighth grade education, two adult basic education classes will be offered. The day class will meet 8-noon and 1-3 p.m. The other class will meet from 7-10 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays. There is no charge for the adult basic education classes.

Registration for VTAE Division summer classes will be June 10 and 13 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Further information may be obtained from the college or by calling 453-6661, extension 123, in Avon Park.

Graduation Proves Costly

It was a costly commencement for Avon Park High School Principal Les Watson.

graduation ceremony Monday night, Watson called sheriff's deputies to notify them that his stereo system had been stolen from his Shockley Road home.

The $450 worth of stereo equipment was the only item reported missing, although several other areas of the living room had been searched. Investigations are continuing.

Local Guard Is Honored

The National Guard from Highlands County came home from its summer encampment with many honors, including three Best Unit Awards.

The 1977 encampment included a number of "firsts" for Battery B, 116th Field Artillery, Second Battalion (which is the unit for Highlands and Hardee counties).

This was the first time the unit trained at Fort Pickett, Va., and the first time the Guardsmen were airlifted to summer camp. Units from Miami, Sarasota and Lakeland joined with Battery B for the airlift by chartered commercial aircraft.

Although most of the Florida Guardsmen had little experience in working hilly country, over hard ground, they earned praise for quick mastery of new techniques.

The Highlands-Hardee unit won special commendation for showing "the greatest improvement of all units in the battalion." Battery B earned the Best Unit Award for the battalion, the best Mess Award and the top honors for outstanding maintenanne of its base camp area.

All reviewing officers commended Battery B for outstanding esprit-de-corps.

Commander of the local unit, Capt. Carroll Lloyd of Sebring, said Florida Guard units generally earned high marks at the training camp. Florida now ranks second in the nation in overall strength of its National Guard. Capt. Lloyd said many states are operating with Guard units only half filled. In contrast, the Highlands-Hardee unit, with 90 slots, is carrying a roster of 108. Battery B took 90 men to camp.

Capt. Lloyd said the local Guard unit has an unusually high level of skill and ability for so large a group. All its officers have attended college, five of them hold degrees and a number of the enlisted men hold degrees. The commander was especially warm in his praise for two sergeants — First Sgt. Jerry B. Childress, in charge of enlisted men, and Sgt. First Class Bill Thompson, mess sergeant.

Capt. Lloyd pointed out that Sgt. Thompson's home had burned down the day before the Guardsmen left for training camp. "He could have been excused from going," Lloyd said, "but he went and did an outstanding job."

County Commission Ok's Speed Change

Eleven speed limit change requests were approved by the Highlands County commission Tuesday morning following the recommendation of County Engineer Gordon Hays Jr.

After approval by the county board, the change requests will be forwarded to the state Department of Transportation for final action.

On Hammock Road, from Lakewood Road to the Highlands Hammock State Park, speeds will be set at 45 m.p.h., as will Lake Francis Road from U.S. 27 to Hillside Drive.

A number of roadways will be set at 35 m.p.h., including Avon Pines Road near Marion Road; Palmetto Drive, Holly Trail, and River Drive in Hillside Lake Estates; and Valerie Blvd. from U.S. 27 to S17A.

Being reduced to 25 m.p.h. will be Leisure Lane, in Holiday Acres, from U.S. 27 to Recreation Drive; Tidewater Drive in Citrus Lake Colony; Lake June Road, off Main St. in Lake Placid; and Lake Drive Blvd., from Medina Way to Golfview Drive.

Schlosser Road will receive two limit changes, to 35 m.p.h. from Sparta Road to Erin Drive, and to 25 m.p.h. from Erin Drive to Medina Way.

Likewise, Lakewood Road, in Orange Blossom Estates will receive a pair of speed limit changes, to 45 m.p.h. from 5th Ave. to Lakewood Ave., and to 25 m. p.h. from Hammock Road to 5th Ave.

Summer B Registration

Registration for the 1977 summer "B" Term will begin at South Florida Junior College Wednesday, June 15. Hours for registration are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Persons may also register during regular office hours on June 16, 17, 20 and 21, and from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, June 16, and Monday, June 20. APHS Graduation

County School Board introduced Pamela Griffin, Salutatorian and presented her with the salutatorian trophy.

In her address, Pam expressed her thanks to parents, teachers and other honored guests for the help and guidance to enable them, the seniors, to reach graduation. She also gave special thanks to classmates who shared the joys and hardships of maturing.

To Pam one of life's objectives, was the having of goals, because of the need to be satisfied with one's self. And the faults that people find with job, family, country and home may be that these people are dissatisfied with themselves. Goals also keep people steered in the right direction and Pam cited the example of Judas Iscariot, who forgot his goal and betrayed Christ for money, then went and hanged himself.

Education provides the supportative background for one to set attainable goals within one's lifetime. Pam told the audience that goals should satisfy the requirements of all human beings, such as: Love, happiness, a sense of belonging, along with any personal materialistic goals. But she cautioned, the two worst things that can happen are that one never gets what one wants or one gets to their goal too soon.

Ambition is also important as it starts one on the way to achieving these goals and Pam asked, "What would Jimmie Carter be if he had not decided to enter politics?" Perseverance is the next step in reaching goals and Pam quoted the prayer,

"May God grant me that I might have
The perseverance to change what I can,
The courage to accept what I cannot,
And the wisdom that I might know the difference."

Pam included the audience of adults who may have missed their goals with, "Better late than never" and urged them to try again to find their goals.

Special music by the band with the senior band members taking part was "Climb Every Mountain."

The class history was given by Michael Ryan, tracing the events that led to their up's and down's with emphasis on their accomplishments. This was followed by School Board Member, Margaret L. Turnbull presenting special awards.

Linda Marguerite Klein, with the highest grade in the county, received the valedictorian trophy from assistant principal James O. Robertson. In her address, Linda told the gathering of working 12 years just for tonight, and though saddened at leaving school they were anxiously looking forward to their new beginnings.

To Linda, learning is a constant process, whether it be in a formal classroom, on the job training or from experience. The day that passes in which we do not learn something new or have some new experience is a day wasted.

High school for her was compared to the tip of the iceberg of knowledge, waiting for eager young students at institutions of higher throughout the country.

Learning to do something you enjoy while you are doing it is one of the greatest pleasures in the world, Linda told the audience. There is nothing more rewarding than a job well done and liking what you are doing, doubles that satisfaction.

From the greatest teacher of all — experience, Linda quoted her mother, "I make a lot of mistakes, but I very seldom make the same one twice." No matter when, where or how we learn, we will always grow and benefit from learning. We strengthen our character, morals and our beliefs.

Linda predicted that we (the senior class members) will become tomorrow's congressmen and excutives, scientists and doctors, parents and priests. These are the people who shape the world and soon we will be those people. By some they are considered successful, but success is relative and she gave H. G. Wells determination if a person really succeeded in life, "Wealth, notoriety, place and power are no measure of success, whatever. The only true measure of success is the ratio between what we might have done and we might have been on one hand and the thing we have made and the thing we have made of ourselves on the other."

"The class of 1977 has the distinct honor and responsibility of being the first graduation class in third century America. Let us join hands and hearts and minds to accept this challenge and make this a better world for posterity," concluded Linda.

As the program continued, the Class of 1977 was recognized by James Robertson, assistant principal and in the absence of Dr. Dan Davis, Highlands County Superintendent of Schools, was presented to Lester F. Watson, principal, by Edward F. Culbertson, senior class advisor, for the presentation of diplomas.

Senior class member Armenia Ruth Collins gave the benediction with band captain Brian Freeman Murphy leading the Class of '77 Alma Mater. As the band played Ployhar's "Fanfare and Recessional" the graduated Class of '77 filed off the field, to be greeted and congratulated by family, relatives and friends.

Minimum Standards Set

and required ramp."

Renfro indicated that he was pleased with the standards set forth by the airport commission, saying, "I don't think I will have any trouble meeting those standards and I think the airport committee did a good job of determining just what is needed to assure the flying public that service at the Avon Park airport is as good as it can be."

Highlands Aviation's attorney, Anthony Accorsi, voiced his approval of the minimum standards. "I felt that this would be the eventual outcome of the dispute. I am glad that Mr. Renfro is getting a chance to become the second FBO at the airport."

Teachers Seek Pay Hike

both Brojek and Smith is the real amount of money the state will return to the county for next year. "Until we know that," Smith said, "we really won't be able to talk money."

Smith added that when management bargains with a union, the management usually looses. "Even the legislature doesn't under stand this," Smith said, "let alone the public."

"The school board has a past policy of being honest and above board with us (teachers)" Brojek said, "and I don't forsee any major obsticles in the rapid agreement on a new contract." The new pact, which will cover roughly 440 persons, is expected to be approved by mid-July at the latest."

Construction Bills

$45,000, with the single largest chit coming from MacAsphalt. That bill, Crews said, totals $38,500.

Brent Donaldson, President of Gator Utilities was present at the meeting and he estimated that McCollum owed about $60,000 to various suppliers and merchants, some of which are not located in Avon Park.

The council decided to make the prime contractor, Gator Utilities, the paying agent for McCollum, since Gator had lived up to all obligations and had paid its bills. Donaldson assured the city that the hold-back money released to the firm, would be used to pay McCollum's local bills. Any remaining would be paid to the contractor.

Since McCollum has defaulted on its' city contract, Donaldson indicated that Gator has filed a suit against the construction company in Lee County Circuit Court. He added that McCollum had not filed bankruptcy.

All bill payments will be made as soon as the bonding company for the sewer project is notified.

In other action, the council moved to purchase a $20,880 mini-pumper for the fire department from Emergency One. Although this was not the lowest bid, Fire Chief Mac Flowers recommended the more expensive machine because it met required standards. The truck will be purchased with federal revenue sharing funds. Delivery is expected in about 60 days.

Drug Seizure Made

While on an early morning patrol, Avon Park Police Officer Leo Bronsing observed a vehicle travelling north on U. S. 27 at an excessive rate of speed.

Pulling the vehicle to the side of the highway in the vicinity of Kingdow Way for a check of the driver's license, Officer Bronsing assisted by back-up officers, Patrolman Paul Harrison and Deputy Sheriff Howie Godwin observed a plastic baggie of marijuana fall to the ground when one of the car's occupants opened a vehicle door.

Upon further investigation the officers found other plastic baggies of marijuana along with ouver drugs (pills) which were later identified as "qualudes" or depressants. The occupants of the vehicle, one 18 year old adult and four jueveniles, two males and two females, were reported as being high on some type of drug.

The five, from the Miami area, were on their way to an outdoor festival in Lakeland. They were taken to the Avon Park City Jail and transferred to the Highlands County Jail at Sebring.

The adult, John William "Daddy" Malaney of 6446 SW 29th Street, Coral Gables, Police Chief Bob Brooks said was charged with possession of over 5 grams of marijuana and narcotic equipment. His bonds was set at $5012. Three of the juveniles were charged with the possession of marijuana, with a bond of $5012 set for each.

One girl, in addition to the marijuana charge, was also charged with possession of a controlled substances ("upper") her bond was set at $6524. The four juveniles were turned over to juveniles authorities.

In reporting the case, Police Chief Bob Brooks of the Avon Park Police Department, stated the marijuana was of poor quality, containing many seeds and stems and possibly some "loco weed." And he warned possible marijuana users that this type of poor quality pot could be dangerous.

Woman Injured In Fight

An Avon Park woman was taken to Walker Memorial Hospital early Saturday morning after receiving several cuts in a street fracas.

Iretha Bailey told investigating sheriff's deputies that she and a friend were walking down a street when they stopped and sat on the hood of an auto.

A woman unknown to the pair came up to them and told them to get off the car. When they did, the woman allegedly began pushing Bailey.

A fight ensued, and when Bailey reportedly started to win, another woman joined the fracas, and held Bailey while the first woman cut her on the legs, chest and back with either a knife or a razor.

It required 17 stitches to close the victim's wounds. A search for the alleged assailant is continuing.

DESPITE A RECENT eye operation, Mayor Marshall Davis, wholeheartedly endorsed the community effort for a Hunter Kittrell barbecue benefit at Horse Hammock, by signing a proclamation declaring Saturday, June 18, as Hunter Kittrell Day, with two of Hunter's young neighbors watching. Kittrell Benefit June 18

The Lions Club took over the cooking of any foods that needed this preparation, with Lew Mundt, Ron Sachsenmaier, Bob Pearl, Buddy McKenzie and Chuck Smith volunteering their facilities and skills.

Ed Culbertson, president and Papa Bear of the Rinky Dinks CB Club stated the CB'ers would take the responsibility of home delivery of barbecue dinners to sick, shut-ins or those who had no transportation to come to Horse Hammock. Bagwell Lumber representatives immediately ordered 100 barbecue dinners for their Bagwell Lumber Youth Golf Tournament at River Greens Golf Course on the same Saturday.

The problem of parking literally hundreds of cars expected at the hammock would be tackled by Larry Hooper and the Scouts of Trail Blazing Troop 156. They would be assisted by the Highlands County Sheriff's Department.

Sanitation for the mammoth barbecue, was promised by John Ziegler, who would bring off duty city employes to help with this necessity.

Entertainment continuously throughout the day would be handled by Coach Joe Franza of the Avon Park High School Athletic department, with Eugene Flint of Horse Hammock, promising to have two lowboys on hand for the use of musical groups or combos.

Radio publicity was promised by Chuck Shane, who would make tapes for the use of all radio stations in the area, while Lew Miller was to contact the newspapers serving the area.

The Junior Woman's Club with Judy Mundt as chairman would keep the Coke wagon going to satisfy the thirst of the barbecue patrons. "Kids play" that was the specialty reserved for Dennis Guenther of the Avon Park Recreation Department, who would be assisted by Dr. Dan Davis, Superintendent of schools.

The job of cleaning up after this huge benefit barbecue was taken by the Florida National Guard and the Air Corps from the Avon Park Bombing and Gunnery Range.

Some facts given at the meeting were that Clark Hodge and R. A. "Bullet" Burnham of Lakeland would bring about 1000 pounds of barbecued pork and 50 gallons of baked beans for the barbecue which is expected to attract upwards of 4000 people, who are concerned about the welfare of Hunter's arm. Chickens will be barbecued by the Lions Club for those who prefer this type meat.

Bob Leaphart reported that the Kiwanis Club had contributed $250 to the Hunter Kittrell Fund and the club would possibly sponsor other fund raising projects after the benefit barbecue. Gene Flint reported receiving two five dollar bills for the fund from people who had read the previous week's paper about Hunter.

During the day there will be a fishing tournament on Lake Arbuckle for the benefit of the fund. Homemade pies and cakes promised by local ladies will be offered for sale, along with items that have been donated. Many other activities are planned with the idea of raising funds.

Dr. Robert Massam, who was the first to see Hunter Kittrell at Walker Memorial Hospital, following the hunting truck accident, gave a report on the condition of Hunter's arm. Except for a small shred of skin, the arm was completely severed above the elbow by the accident. Hunter's arm was packed in ice for the airplane trip to Jewish Hospital at Louisville, Ky.

Normally it is only a matter of two or three months for the bone and flesh to knit and grow together, but the nature of the amputation and the length of time before operating procedures could take place plus an infection several weeks after the limb had been rejoined, has delayed the healing of the bone tissue with Hunter being in and out of the operating room many times.

Hunter has been discharged from the hospital and is staying with his mother's parents at Wartrace, Tenn. Due to the swollen condition of the arm, probably caused by poor venous circulation, said Dr. Massam, the planned nerve operations had to be delayed.

Following the joining of the nerves above the elbow, it will take about 8 to 12 months for the nerves to regrow in the nerve sheaths and that long for Hunter before he has the sensation of feeling in his hand fingers. It may take two to three years to know the full extent of the recovery of the damaged nerves.

In the meantime Hunter Kittrell is worried about his elbow, whether he will be able to use his casting rods with his right hand. Because the bone has not healed, he still wears a cast, with a window in it, to keep his arm immobile.

Hosts for the last Thursday evening meeting at Horse Hammock were: Major and Mrs. Eugene Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Arlin King, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Johnston, and Mack Flowers.

The next meeting of the group is set for 3 p.m. Sunday, June 12 at the Florida State Firemen's Building on U.S. 27 south.

It was announced that tickets for the Hunter Kittrell benefit barbecue are available at $2.50 for adults and at $1.25 for children. These tickets can be secured at I. H. Ford and both banks, some Lions and Kiwanis Club members and most of Highlands County School teachers.

If tickets cannot be secured the committee urges you to call, for any number of tickets, the following: Clarice Ford, 453-3259; Bob Leaphart, 453-3111 or Bob Daubach at 453-7591 and any number of tickets may be secured.

Hanger Rent Is Discussed

Aircraft owners who presently rent space in the city's existing T-hanger may get an unexpected break-no increase in monthly rental fees.

The Avon Park airport committee met Monday and approved a resolution, which will now go to the city council for consideration, that asks the city to allow those aircraft owners who are presently renting hanger space for $40 and $50 per month, to continue to pay that amount. Any rate hike would come when a space becomes available and a new renter takes over.

Rent hikes are being considered by the city council to help pay for a proposed new 10-space T-hanger, which the city wants to build. Bids for the building, plus a bid from Highlands County Bank for interest rates on the required $66,215 in loan money, have already been opened by the council. Final approval of the bids hinges on the number of aircraft owners who want to rent hanger space. The council was informed there were at least 11 people on a hanger waiting list, however, they decided to make sure that all spaces could be rented before going ahead with the project. Don Gossick, owner of Avon Flying Service, informed committee members that only one or two people on the list had indicated that they might not take hanger space if it became available.

The cause for council concern centers over the real possibility of a rent hike for hanger space. In the new hanger, space may rent for as much as $50 and $60 per month. "That is still below what other airports are getting for hanger rent," said Don Serdynski, airport committee chairman.

Gossick convinced committee members that it would not be fair to jump the rent on people already using the existing hanger. The city council had considered rent hikes for both hangers, since the existing facility was built 5 years ago and there had not been any rent increases.

The city council is expected to act on the airport recommendation at the next regular meeting.

Outstanding Students

Honored At Program

Brian Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murphy Jr., was the recipient of the Avon Park High School Senior Honor Student award for 1977 at the annual junior-senior awards program held on Friday, May 27, at the high school auditorium. Brian's name will be engraved on the gold band that encircles a globe along with names of other past winners of the high school's most honored award for seniors. The recipient of this award is chosen by the high school faculty for his dependability, scholarship, leadership, loyalty, and sportsmanship during his high school career.

Sue Nunnallee and John DuPriest were presented the American Legion Awards by principal Les Watson. These awards to the senior girl and boy who best exhibit courage, leadership, scholarship, service, character, honor, and patriotism, are given annually by the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Sue Nunnallee also won the DAR award which was presented by Mrs. DeRheta Lanier for the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Assistant principal James Robertson made the presentation of the Bailey Awards which annually go to the most courteous girl and boy in the senior class. This year Armenia Collins and Mike Ballentine were the recipients.

Mathematics awards were given in several different areas. Mike Ballentine and Charles Oliver received the Advanced Math medals for top grade averages with straight A's. Babs Maness and Peter Hansson won the medals for top Algebra II honors. Cindy Evers and Paul Ballentine were the two top geometry students this year. All of these winners had straight A's as did other mathematics students who received plaques for their outstanding scholastic efforts in this field.

John DuPriest was chosen for the Bausch and Lomb Science Award which is given each year to the outstanding science student for his high school work in that field. John also was the recipient of the Social Studies honor award.

The Florida Chamber of Commerce STAR (Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition) Student award was won by junior Edward Irwin. This award is for scholarship, leadership, and experience in the work world and appreciation of the free enterprise system.

The Danforth Foundation "I Dare You" awards went to Jack Collins and Linda Klein this year.

The Avon Park Yearbook awards were presented to Co-Editors Tami Cason and Brenda Cooper, Lay-Out Editors Pam Griffen and Tina Johnson, Artist Andrea Petrovich, Photography Editor Louis Lee, Subscription Manager Debra Wiggins, and Advertising Manager Terri Thompson.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes sportsmanship awards went to David Jahna in football, Dale Siemore in basketball, Alan Portis in Cross Country, Debra Cox in girls basketball, Delories Cox in tennis, Mike Ryan in track, Jim Johnson in baseball, John DuPriest in golf, and Eddie Garner in tennis.

English awards were presented to two students who had completed six years of English — Susan Dillow and Joe Gallimore and to eight students who had finished five years of English — Dale Sisemore, Peter Hansson, Johnny Mae McRae, Mary Adams, Mark Gaines, Tad Perry, David Wilbert, and Cathy McCook.

Mrs. Jean Lund was honored by the Key Club as the outstanding teacher of the year at Avon Park High School. Mrs. Lund is a social studies instructor and also sponsored the two cheerleader squads this year.

Latin awards for excellent achievement went to Babs Maness and Jim Casey and were presented by Mrs. Pat Lee.

Joe Franza presented perfect attendance certificates to the following seniors Reggie Baker, Kenneth Caldwell, James Hamilton, Sammy Loyd, Freddie Moore, Dale Sisemore, Robert Packer, Armenia Collins, Diane Edwards, Misty Hooper, Margaret Turnbull, and Tim Kornegay.

Juniors with perfect attendance: Amy Bargar, Ronnie Brock, Debra Cox, Claude Dennis, Ruth Hentnik, and George Loyd.

Mathematics awards for sophomores and freshmen were announced last week. Top students in Algebra I were sophomore Cathy Barberee and freshmen Cindy DeWitt, David Sisemore, Debbie Heiring, and Ruth Velezquez.

Highlands County Bank-9
Wales Cooling & Heating3

Avon Park's Highlands County Bank Big League team slammed out 14 hits last Wednesday night a week ago to hand Wales Cooling & Heating a 9-3 defeat at Head Field for the second win of the season for the sixteen through eighteen year old players.

Pitcher-shortstop Robert Freeland rapped out three singles and secondbaseman - pitcher Don Wildish connected for two doubles. John MicKunas, Mort Jackson, and Dale Sisemore all hit two singles each. Victory Roberts boomed out a triple and Edward Irwin had a double off two different Wales pitchers.

Freeland started on the mound for Avon Park and went four innings giving up three runs and four hits. Don Wildish came on to start the fifth inning and finished up allowing no runs and two hits.

Kathleen Royals 3
Highlands County Bank0

Kathleen pitcher Clem Freeman struck out fourteen H. C. B. batters and held the Avon Park team to just 4 hits as his team posted a 3-0 win last Sunday afternoon here at Head Field.

Singles by Mort Jackson, Robert Freeland, Don Wildish, and Carl High were all Highlands County Bank could manage during the seven inning game. The Royals rapped out four hits off Wildish and Freeland. Freeman, the pitcher, had a triple along with three timely singles by the other Kathleen batters.

Bagwell Lumber Retains League Lead With 9-1

Bagwell Lumber lost its first game of the Avon Park Little League season last Thursday night, bowing to Avon Tire 4-2, but remained in the league lead with a 9-1 record by overpowering Kiwanis 14-2 earlier in the week. Avon Tire now has two games to make up but is 6-2 in the standings to keep a slight hold on second plane.

Rotary won two games last week to move to a 7-3 mark and hold on to third place. First Baptist continued its winning streak by beating Ford and Kiwanis to even out at 5-5. The Lions moved up to fifth place with a 4-5 record, Kiwanis dropped to sixth with a 3-6 mark, I. H. Ford Motor won a game to post a 2-8 record and Avon Citrus Bank remained in the cellar with a 1-7 record in spite of some very close scores.

There were no games scheduled for last Monday night. Tonight, Thursday, June 9, the Lions and Kiwanis meet at 6 p.m. and First Baptist and Avon Tire play the second game. Tomorrow night, Friday, it will be Rotary and Avon Tire early and Ford and Kiwanis in the second game.

Next Monday night the Lions and Bank play first and Bagwell and Baptist battle in the second game. Next Tuesday night, June 14, it will be Kiwanis against Rotary and Avon Tire against I. H. Ford Motor. The two games that were rained out on Friday, May 27, have been rescheduled for Tuesday, June 21, at the end of the season. The Bank vs. Avon Tire rained out game has not yet been re-scheduled.

Rotary 13 Lions 8

Rotary pitcher Larry King tossed a three-hitter at the Lions and rapped out three singles singles to lead his team to a 13-8 win last week. Bobby Barnes with a double and a single and Juan Sanchez with a single got the Lions only hits of the game.

Rotary batters jumped on David Hodge and Lawrence Spry for seven hits. Along with King's three singles, Odie Knight had a double and a single, Cecil Perry hit a double and Blair Brooker added a single for Rotary.

First Baptist 10
I. H. Ford Motor 9

The First Baptist scored five runs in the last inning against I. H. Ford Motor last week to take a 10-9 victory. Chester Daniels was the winning pitcher giving up six hits to the Ford batters.

David Bennett went the distance for the losers on the mound allowing seven hits to the Baptist batters. Fred Manning, Baptist thirdsacker, hit a triple and Redman Pressley slammed out a double to finish the scoring in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Kenny Houpe hit two singles, Ken Barefield had a double and Jo Marcum and Andy Heard both singled for the winners. David Bennett with a double and a single, Clay Hipps with two singles and Desmond Albritton and Mark Elkhill with a single each contributed all of Ford's hits.

Bagwell Lumber 14 Kiwanis 2

Bagwell batters connected for fifteen hits as Fred Lewis pitched a two-hitter at Kiwanis last Wednesday night a week ago to give the Bagwell team a 14-2 victory. Kiwanis batters Mike Bent and Geno Taylor had one single each in the four inning game.

Bagwell was led at the plate by Michael Erving with a double and two singles and Jeff Davis with three singles. Dale Ransom had a double and a single, Thomas Gordon and Mike Baldwin hit two singles each and James Beck, Greg Jackson and Johnny Rewis added a single each for the winning Bagwell team.

Avon Tire 4 - Bagwell Lumber 2

The top two Avon Park Little League teams tangled last Thursday night with Avon Tire coming out on top 4-2 over Bagwell Lumber. The Avon Tire team scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth to go ahead and then held on through the top of the sixth to take the win.

Duane Young was the winning pitcher giving up seven hits to Bagwell batters. Jeff Davis scored both Bagwell runs as he powered a home run over the centerfield fence, doubled and singled in three trips to the plate.

Greg Jackson hit two singles and Michael Erving had a single in the losing effort. The Avon Tire batters rapped out eight hits off losing pitcher Greg Jackson.

Steve Baker hit three singles, Doug Douglas had a double, and Tony Germani, Duane Young, Bryan Arnold, and Curtis Taylor all hit one singl each. Good defensive play by Avon Tire helped win the game.

I. H. Ford Motor 14
Lions 4

Desmond Albritton limited the Lions to a lone single by Glenn Caldwell and his I. H. Ford Motor team rapped out 8 hits to take a 14-4 win from the Lions last Thursday night.

It was only the second win for the Ford team but they showed power at the plate as Clay Hipps had a double and two singles, Mark Elkhill hit two singles, and Ken Warner, Bobby Hipps, and Desmond Albritton connected for a single each off two Lion pitchers.

First Baptist 5
Kiwanis 3

First Baptist broke a 3-3 tie by scoring two runs in the top of the seventh inning and went on to take the 5-3 victory over Kiwanis last Friday night. A walk by Steve Burby and singles by Redman Pressley and Jon Marcum accounted for the winning runs.

Marcum held the Kiwanis batters to three hits with Quinton Williams getting two singles and Geno Taylor connecting for one single for Kiwanis. Baptist batters got five hits off two Kiwanis pitchers.

Marcum had a triple and a double, Kenny Houpe had a double and Pressley and Kenny Barefield had the other two singles.

Rotary 8
Avon Citrus Bank 6

Avon Citrus Bank outhit Rotary 8-6 last Friday night but lost the game 8-6. Michael Rowe was the winning pitcher giving up the eight hits.

Richard Macklin had a double and a single, Randy Wright and Johnny Roberts had two singles each, and Ronnie Higgenbotham and John Tolar had a single apiece for the losing Bank nine.

Rotary won with 6 hits off two Bank hurlers. Larry King had a triple and two singles, Blair Brooker hit two singles, and Odie Knight rapped out a double in the winning effort.

Squadron Takes Honors In Drill

The Blue Max Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol of Highlands County drill team took first place honors at the Florida Drill competition in Leesburg during the weekend of May 27-29.

The nine member drill team, competing in the 13 to 17 year old age group, did a variety of close order and extended drills under the direction of Drill Commander Sgt. Tammy Doane. Members of the team included: Allan Hawkins, Harry Maness, and Brice Anderson of Avon Park and David Ainis, Tim Young, Joy Carroll, Brigitt Ragland, Keith Krekel and John Short from Sebring.

Accompaning the Drill team were members of the senior Air Civil Air Patrol; Deputy Commander of Cadets, Rose Doane and Deputy Commander, Ron Leip. Alternate members of the drill team were: James Lineburger, Sherri Nee and Barry Segal all of Sebring.

The Avon Park Air Force Bombing and Gunnery Range furnished bus transportation for the drill team to the Leesburg drill matches.

The Civil Air Patrol meets regularly every Wednesday night at 7 p.m. at the Sebring Airport and welcomes inquiries from anyone interested in working with the Highlands County Squadron.

Kopta And Bennett Come From Behind To Remain Unbeaten

Rain washed out one night of play in the Avon Park Senior League baseball program last week but the Kopta and Bennett team remained unbeaten with a come-from-behind win over McCann & Son Ford Last Thursday night. Avon Paint and Body moved to a 2-1 record with a 10-5 win over Avon Citrus Bank in the only other game played.

Last Tuesday night, June 7, Coach Clark Jackson's Avon Citrus Bank squad was to play the league-leading Kopta & Bennett team which is coached by Johnny Barnes in the early game starting at 6 p.m. Avon Paint & body was to have met McCann & Son Ford in the 8:15 p.m. game.

Tonight, Thursday, June 9, A. P. & B. will take on Kopta & Bennett at 6 p.m. and McCann & Son Ford will go against Avon Citrus Bank in the nightcap. Next Tuesday night it will be A. P. &B. playing A. C. B. in the early game and Kopta & Bennett meeting McCann & Son Ford in the second game.

Kopta & Bennett-8 McCann & Son Ford-6

Scoring three runs in the top of the seventh inning, Kopta & Bennett came from behind to take an 8-6 victory from the McCann & Son Ford Senior League baseball team last Thursday night ast Head Field. The game had see-sawed back and forth until the fifth inning when the McCann team took a 6-5 lead.

The sixth inning was scoreless and the seventh inning got underway just under the gun as time was running out. Each game has a one hour and forty-five minute limit. No inning may start after that amount of time but an inning may be finished.

The first Kopta & Bennett batter popped up to the shortstop in the top of the seventh. Then Johnny Barnes was safe on a fielding error. Dennis Barefield followed with a single. Dennis Tondee boomed out a double and later scored behind Barnes and Barefield to give the Kopta team a two run lead.

McCann batters were retired with strike-outs after men reached second and third threatening to tie up the game. Dennis Barefield started on the mound for Kopta and was relieved by Dennis Tondee in the third frame. Tondee was given credit for the mound win.

Jimmy Brown and David Sisemore both hurled for McCann. Kopta got six hits. Jeff Adams had two singles, Tondee had the double, and Barnes, Barefield, and Ricky Oates had a single each for the winners.

McCann got just four hits off the two Kopta pitchers. David Hardy rapped out two singles, Ricky Johnson hit a double and Gary Roberts singled.

Avon Paint and Body 10 Avon Citrus Bank 5

Wayne Lewis racked up his second mound win of the young Senior League baseball season last Thursday night as the A. P. &B. team knocked off Avon Citrus Bank 10-5 in a five inning game.

Lewis struck out 11 batters and gave up 4 scattered singles to the Bank team. Gerald Jones, Bubba Starling, Dwayne Council and Jeff Caldwell each got a lone single off Lewis.

Paint & Body also got 4 hits with secondbaseman Ricky Derkman singling twice and Jim Marcum and Sam Barnes adding a single each. Gerald Jones and Bubba Starling shared mound duties for the losers.

IN A RECENT Senior League baseball game at Head Field, Jim Brown (left) thirdbaseman of McCann & Sons took the throw from the catcher to make the tag on Ronald Tomblin as he came sliding in towards the bag. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

Sportmen Can Obtain Quota Permits From County

Sportsmen can now obtain their quota permit applications at tax collectors' offices throughout the state and get a good chance at being in their favorite hunting spot on opening day.

The permits are issued without charge and applications can be picked up when sportsmen purchase their wildlife management area stamps, which went on sale June 1.

The quota permit program, now in its third year, follows basically the same procedure as last year, said Fred Stanberry, chief of wildlife management for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

"We do advise sportsmen to get these applications in as early as possible to avoid the inevitable last minute rush," Stanberry said.

Applications will be accepted by mail only and postmarked on or after June 1 and through September 23 on a first-come, first-serve basis. Stanberry said the division hopes to process one or two additional printouts of the permits to speed up the return time to sportsmen.

He also reminded hunters to read and follow all directions carefully. "The tab from a management stamp or an underage stamp must be glued to the application for it to be accepted," he said. Senior citizens are required to write in the number from their free senior citizen's certificate for their application to be processed.

The wildlife division chief also reminded sportsmen to be certain the correct code numbers are used to indicate the hunter's choice of management areas.

Applications for special quota hunts on Guana River, Joe Buddy, Bull Creek, Citrus, and Camp Blanding wildlife management area will not be available until July 11 from the regional and Tallahassee offices of the Commission.

"CHANGE UP"

The only hard-fast rule I can think of concerning Bass fishing is that nothing will always be the same or work the same. This is why you should strive to be proficient in many different lures. Don't get trapped into being strictly a wormer, surface plugger, etc. Every person will naturally be able to work some sort of bait better than others. It's the "others" that need the work.

Your particular bait may very well be the most productive you could use at certain times, but it won't be reliable all the time. When something quits, and it will, you need to be able to go to something else.

Colors are another changing thing. For instance, dark in dark and light in light may not always be the rule to follow. A friend has been using black worms with white markings very effectively in clear water. Likewise, another has had great success casting clear ice blue worms in very dark murky water. Worms that change color with the water's contitions have become one of the hottest baits on the market.

Likewise chartreuse, which you would consider to be a light, bright color, has been found to be very good in dark water. Bright reds are also making a strong debut.

Another strange phenomenon that has been getting more attention lately is the working of certain lures in different ways and places than they were designed for.

People have been catching Bass in 60 plus feet of water on surface plugs. Don't think that this will work any time you try it, but keep in mind that it has worked.

When things get slow try something different. Cast a deep diver up shallow and twitch it back out. In some cases the Bass want an erratic slow-moving plug. A deep diver that floats, cranked slowly, will fill the bill.

Another neat trick is to use a floating deep diver that goes down to say 15 feet cast right up to the shoreline. Because of the lures' makeup, the forward lip will bump the bottom, signaling you to slow your retrieve. Of course this works best on clean-bottomed lakes, but enables the plug to run just off the bottom. You can work the contours in and out of trenches and things. It's a very alluring bait.

Jig spinner baits vertically in deep water. It can work well at times. Likewise, I've seen split shot applied on the line ahead of a surface bait. This makes it run deeper and the bait's action is often changed only slightly.

Take your bottom bumping worm rig and buzz it across the surface. This works especially well during the winter months and early or late in the day when Bass are near the top. They will nail it on a dead run, creating super action.

Never be afraid to throw something in areas where it really isn't intended for. You never know, it may just be the key. At the very least it's got to be something they haven't seen there before.

BASS ARE BEAUTIFUL, DON'T KILL YOUR CATCH!!!

Pvt. Hartt Completes Parachute Training

Private William G. Hartt, whose wife, Rhonda, lives in Avon Park, Fla., recently received a Parachutist Badge upon completion of the three-week airborne course at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the first week of training, students undergo a rigorous physical training program and receive instruction in the theory of parachuting.

The second week they receive practical training by jumping from 34-foot and 250-foot towers.

The final week includes five static-line parachute jumps.

Pvt. Hartt entered the Army in August 1976.

He attended South Florida Junior College, Avon Park.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford P. Hartt, also live in Avon Park.

Camps Open This Summer

Learning will be fun this summer for the hundreds of youngsters who take advantage of the Youth Conservation Camps operated by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Campers will not only learn about nature and wildlife but will enjoy the fun and fellowship of swimming, canoeing, fishing and hiking.

The two camps are located in the Ocala National Forest and the Hungryland. Slough near West Palm Beach. Because of the location, each camp offers a unique look at the environment around.

The Everglades Camp, for example, takes the youngsters through the marshes and hammocks which make up the vast, unparalleled beauty of the Everglades.

The Ocala Camp, located near Lake Eaton in the Ocala National Forest, provides an opportunity to explore the forest, trees and lakes.

Sessions continue through August 13. The camps are open to boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 14 with reservations available on a first-come, first-served basis.

The camping fee is $60 per week, with opportunities available for campers staying longer to take part in advanced exploration. Two-week explorations cost $120 (no tax applicable).

For more information and camp registration, contact any office of the Commission or write directly to Everglades Youth Camp, 551 N. Military Trail, West Palm Beach 33406, or Ocala Youth Camp, 1239 S. W. 10th Street, Ocala 32670.

Grange Project Supplies Paper For Ridge Area

Old newspapers: The Ridge Area Association for Retarded Citizens has never had a good commercial outlet for used paper, such as newspapers of other paper products.

The lack of a suitable local outlet plus and transportation difficulties in the past has indicated to the Ridge Area Association officers that it is not economically wise for them to even attempt to collect old paper or newspapers.

However, the need for clean, folded, packaged and storable papers to be used at the Ridge Area Day School, Workshop and the Resale Shop has been faithfully met by the Avon Park Pomona Grange for the past seven years, as one of their numerous community action projects.

However, anymore newspapers would be in excess of what the Ridge Area Association could use at their facilities, or dispose of locally. The Ridge Area Association wishes to take this opportunity to thank all of the people who in the past have volunteered to supply papers, which couldn't under the circumstances, be used.

Range Will Be Closed Saturday, Open Sunday

Due to late flying activities on Friday, June 10, the Avon Park Air Force Recreational Area will not open to the public until 6 a.m., on Saturday.

It will close at 8 p.m., Sunday, June 12.

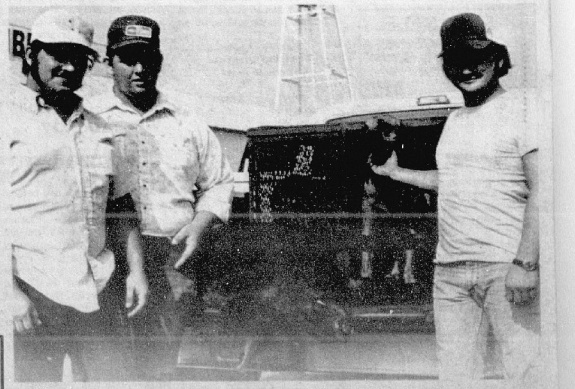
Please remember to check in and out with the Air Force Security Police located in Building 425 approximately ½ mile past the main entrance of the Range on State Road 64.

Trio Bags 275 Pound Wild Hog On Hunting Trip

As they said they would, Perry Prescott, Bill Murphy, Keith Richards and Timmy Massey went hunting again on Memorial Day in the late afternoon, but with only four dogs this time.

They went back to the same area in south Highlands County, where they had bagged a 275 pound wild porker and a couple of small ones. This time their dogs cornered a 264 pound wild tusker, about 8:30 in the evening.

As for the dogs, three of the four sustained cuts.



HOG HUNTERS, Perry Prescott, Bill Murphy and Keith Richards went hunting twice on Decoration Day, bringing in a fair size hog each time. This one weighed 264 pounds. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

Scientist Summoned To Unite In Strong Prayer

Christian Scientists from around the world have been summoned to "unite in good, strong prayer" and to do a better job of "responding to mankind's needs."

David E. Sleeper, the new chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, told church members yesterday that it was time "to discard every thought that would turn us away from our conviction that God is as supreme on earth as He is in Heaven."

A Texan, who has been a member of the denomination's governing body since 1969, Sleeper said the example of Jesus is as relevant today as it was centuries ago.

He said the key to that example was a willingness "to read the signs of the times spiritually — according to divine guidance."

Several thousand members, representing Christian Science congregations in the United States, Canada, and overseas, attended the 82nd annual meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, here June 6.

Church officers reported on the denomination's healing ministry, its reading room and publishing activites, and the work of its branch congregations.

Boston is the home of the denomination's international headquarters. The Church was founded here in 1879 by American religious leader, Mary Baker Eddy.

David E. Sleeper

Sleeper and others who spoke acknowledged a continuing need for steadier church attendance by those of all ages. But, as with primitive Christianity, said Sleeper, mere surface conditions do not discourage "committed followers of the Master."

Said the chairman: "Jesus wasn't one to ignore appearances, whether they were good or bad. Whatever effects he saw on the surface he never let the appearance mislead him. In fact he strongly rebuked those who did limit their conclusion about cause and effect to what they could observe humanly.

"If Jesus hadn't been able to read the signs of the times spiritually," Sleeper declared, "he might have been terribly discouraged. We too must read the signs of the times correctly and act from the standpoint of spiritual vision."

Named to the annual presidency of the church was James Spencer of Birmigham, Michigan, a Christian Science lecturer.

Correction In Candied Apple Recipe Offered

We hope no one has tried the recipe for Candied Apples yet. There was a mistake in the amount of sugar and water to use in it.

Candied Apples
From the Kitchen of Katie Rehrer

2 tbs. light Karo Syrup
½ cup water
2½ cups sugar
pinch of cream of tartar
food coloring

Tips: Use clean utensils, make sure apples are room temperature, if you wash the apples make sure you do it the day before (so they are not wet), grease the tray where you will sit apples. If it is a rainy day do not make them (the candy does not stick.)

Put sticks in apples before you start the candy. Put water and coloring, stir and bring to a boil. Do not stir after it comes to a boil. Put in candy thermometer and cook on medium high heat until 300 degrees and remove from heat.

While cooking brush around the side of pot with a wet brush.

Dip apples and put on tray, let sit until cool, make sure sides of the apples do not touch. Then wrap in plastic wrap (this comes off easy). This recipe will make 8-10 apples, depending on their size.

Tyson Car Wrecked By Unknown Driver

Although it happened before, it is still one for the record books in that the Florida Highway Patrol can't find out who wrecked the car owned by Amie L. Tyson of Avon Park.

FHP said an unknown driver was westbound in the Tyson vehicle on Garrett Road when he or she ran off the roadway, struck an orange tree, and then plowed into another orange tree before stopping, and leaving the scene.

The accident was reported to FPH at 9:10 a.m. May 28.

Trooper Roy Walker, who estimated damage at $800, is still investigating the incident.

England To Canada

Traveled Over 3,000 Miles To Marry

Mrs. Grace Romilly is very active in the Episcopal Church and Winter Guest Club here in Avon Park.

This article is a little different from the ones we have printed previously. It is a true love story about Grace Mannen and Charles Llewellwn Romilly. Mr. Romilly is now deceased, but one day when Mrs. Romilly brought in a news article to the Sun, we started to chat, during which she told me about how she met her husband and the problems they had before they could marry.

Here is their story, told to me by Mrs. Romilly. Mrs. Grace Mammen Romilly was born in London, England and at the age of 14 was forced to quit school, because of her mothers death, so she could take care of her father.

She met her husband in 1913 (she was 19 at the time) at a dance.

Mr. Romilly joined the English Army (Contemptibles) during World War II. He was wounded in action in Belgium and sent back to England where they discharged him, as long as he did not ask for a pention.

"...He asked me to go with him as his wife..."

Shortly after this he decided to travel to Canada to make his living.

"He asked me to go with him as his wife, but I told him no, I was obligated to care for my father. Six months after - Charles left, my father remarried," said Mrs. Romilly.

By then the war ended and there was no way she could get a passage over to Canada or the United States.

Mrs. Romilly decided the best thing to do since she could not get to Canada and her father had married, was to find a job, which she did as a fur machinist for a department store.

Finally, after a long wait, Mrs. Romilly found herself on a cabin class cruiser (which originally had been built - to use as a freighter).

"It was sort of a rough voyage, because they had to fill the hold of the boat with water, the ship could not get any cargo, " reminisced Mrs. Romilly.

She started laughing as she continued, "I remember us having to go six or eight miles out of our way, because of the ice fields. When everyone saw them, we automatically thought of the Titanic."

During the voyage Mrs. Romilly made friends with one of the women on board, who like herself, was going to Canada to be married.

The woman had not seen the man she was to marry in six years. He had been married to her best friend. When her friend died, she continued to correspond with the man and he asked her to marry him.

"...I ran off the boat and fell into his arms, then I knew everything would be fine."

She told Mrs. Romilly she was not sure if she wanted to marry the man now or not, since she had not seen him in so long.

"This started me to thinking. It had been five years since I had seen my husband-to-be, and I was wondering if he had changed," Mrs. Romilly said.

All she knew was he had a job as a printers pressman.

"When I arrived in Montreal, I ran off the boat and fell into his arms. Then I knew everything would be fine." she said.

The Romillys lived in Canada 30 years before they moved to Florida. Their one son, Fredrick John, lives in Warren, Mich., with his wife and three children.

The Romillys were married 54 years before he passed away in September of 1975.

Mrs. Romilly is very active in the Episcopal Church and the Winter Guest Club.

Think of waiting and not seeing the person you are to marry for five years. Then traveling alone to a strange country, where you only know one person. It makes one wonder, how many people would do this today.

Mrs. Grace Romilly had this picture made in 1922 and sent it to her husband-to-be, Charles Romilly, before she made the trip to Canada. She wanted to make sure (after she found out how many brides there were going to be on the ship) he found the right girl.

This picture was taken of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Romilly in 1923, after their marriage in Canada.

Thirty-two bass in one afternoon — three of them on one cast — is the record of a party headed by L. D. Roberts, Avon Park clothing man, who with M. A. Wilson, J. M. Mattox and Dr. M. L. Crum all of Fort Meade, spent one afternoon on Lake Arbuckle. The average weight of the beauties was about two pounds, several being five-pounders.

Quick Recipes For Entertaining

Baked Banana Dessert

4 firm bananas
1 cup crushed corn flakes or other similar prepared cereal
1 tablespoon frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed
1 tablespoon butter
4 teaspoons orange liqueur (like Cointreau, Grand Marnier, Triple Sec)

1. Peel bananas; roll in the cereal till surfaces are covered and arrange in a shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with the thawed concentrate and dot with butter.

2. Bake 10 minutes at 350 degrees, basting with pan juices once or twice.

3. Transfer to broiler and boil briefly, close to heat source, till tops are golden brown. Arrange on individual plates, add a teaspoon of the liqueur to each banana and serve immediately.

Yield: 4 servings.

Smoked Mullet Spread

Remove bones and skin from smoked mullet and shred with a fork. Moisten with plain unflavored yogurt, about two tablespoons to one-half of a medium specimen. Season with a tablespoon of lemon juice, a dash of hot-pepper sauce and a teaspoon (or more to taste) of freeze-dried chives.

Finally, stir in a teaspoon of capers, which have been pressed dry of the brine in which they are packed.

Serve, garnished with paprika, as a spread (not dip) on Swedish rye crackers. Refrigerate in a jar or crock, well covered. Feiss warns this mixture will darken silver, so use stainless steel implements in preparing and serving.

On The Consumer's Side

If you as a consumer have been misled, deceived, or have questions you need clarified, call the toll free telephone number of the Florida Department of Agriculture, Consumer Services, Tallahassee: 1-800-242-2176.

Question: There is a new company in our area that is selling beef by the "quarter" and by the "side". They also cut and wrap the meat for freezing. How can I be sure that I am getting a good buy on the meat they are selling?

Answer: Rising food prices - particularly rising meat costs - have caused consumers to seek out the least expensive outlets for food. This quest for savings often leads consumers to bulk meat sellers where by buying meat in large quantities they sometimes can save money.

However, not all bulk meat sellers offer a saving; very often if consumers are not cautious they can find themselves victimized by deceptive advertising and fraudulent sales practices. Here are some of the practices to beware of:

Don't be caught in a "Bait and Switch" - some bulk meat dealers lure consumers to their stores by advertising meat at what seems to be outrageously low prices.

When, however, the consumer asks for the advertised meat, the salesman tries to discourage its purchase by refusing to sell it or by pointing out its poor quality. Sometimes consumers are even shown meat that is of very poor quality, The object is, of course, to switch consumers to more expensive meats.

Don't be misled by the price of meat sold by hanging weight — that is, untrimmed and uncut. Find out what the cost-per-pound. could turn out to be higher than the ordinary retail price.

Edible meat might in some cases amount to only half the hanging weight, doubling the actual price per pound the consumer pays for what he eats.

"Don't take home a "pig in a poke". Watch carefully when meat is trimmed, cut, and packaged to make sure what you bought is what you take home. Some disreputable dealers wwitch orders on customers.

In addition you should know sometimething about meat labeling before you make a bulk meat purchase.

Look for the USDA (United States Department of Agriculture) grade stamped on the beef.

The top three grades--and those most often sold at retail--are Prime, Choice, and Good.

The other five are Standard, Commercial, Utility, Cutter, and Canner.

The grades are a guide to how tender, juicy, and flavorful the the meat will be. The lowest grade sold as fresh beef, USDA Commercial, is often used as "bait" beef with which to "switch" consumers to higher priced beef.

Be wary of meat advertised as "Heavy Western Beef," "U.S. Fancy Beef," "U.S. Grade A Beef," or similar phrases.

These labels are fictitious and have no relationship to quality, flavor, or tenderness.

Check the USDA yield mark for an indication of the quantity of lean cuts one will get from a side of beef.

The higher the yield number, the more fat will be in the meat.

The yield numbers range from one to five, with two and three the most common sold. Yields two and three average 25 percent loss after trimming while yields four and five can average 40 percent trim loss.

The Division of Consumer Services has received complaints recently concerning unscrupulous bulk meat businesses. If you have some concerns about the company with which you are dealing, contact your local consumer agency, Chamber of Commerce or the Division of Consumer Services.

County Schools To Offer VISTA Program

A new Federal program will soon go into partnership with Highlands County Schools. The program is called "VISTA" (Volunteers in Service to America). VISTA is part of ACTION, the Federal agency that also sponsors other programs such as the Peace Corps.

Within Highlands County Schools, the program will provide Federal funds for volunteer activities in various school programs. While not intended to substitute for a salary, funds are intended to cover living expenses for the volunteer with an amount in the neighborhood of $4,800 per year.

VISTA volunteers will receive a complete training program in Orlando or Atlanta before assuming their duties locally. Continued inservice training will be provided throughout the year the volunteer is in service.

Recruitment of volunteers is now underway by Highlands County Schools through the office of Aubrey Morris, Supervisor of Federal Programs for the district. Conditions of employment of the volunteer will follow Federal guidelines set down by the Federal agency. Since the program is part of the Government's anti-poverty program, the volunteer cannot be otherwise employed. To best serve the school system as well as utilize the training investment in the volunteer, a commitment of one year's service is required of the volunteer, Federal guidelines permit renewal of the employment annually.

Applications and complete information regarding VISTA positions may be obtained by contacting Aubrey Morris, Highlands County School Board, 426 School Street, Sebring, Florida telephone number 382-1121.

Bonnie Brae Park News

By Margie Wells

Tom and Evelyn Chockley are celebrating their fifieth wedding anniversary this week. Congratulations to a nice couple and we hope they will have many more happy years as they work on that second fifty!

We are sorry to report that our neighbor, Lester Parkhurst, had to enter the hospital on Sunday. We hope all of the tests will be O. K. and that he will be home again soon.

Maude and Al Wilson have returned home after a visit with friends and relatives in Canada. Also, Helen Dyce returned home this week after visiting with her daughter in Tennessee. It's nice to have some of our residents returning home again with so many leaving on vacation.

Thelma Miller spent the week-end in Seminole, Florida, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whelpley.

Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Margie and P. S. Wells were Margie's brother and his son, Leonard and Richard Harsh, of Fort Myers, Florida.

This reporter hopes there will be more news in the news box this week. Let's try to have a news column all summer.

Girl Scouts Have Dinner

Monday, May. 30th., members of Girl Scout Troop 249 met to have dinner together at Howard Johnson's in Sebring. This was the last opportunity for all of these members to meet together as six of them flew up to Cadette level.

Girls present were Stephany Ashe, Yolanda Ashe, Tisa Carper, Carol Chaney, Darla Edwards, Vivian Fish, Althea Howard, Kathleen Lanzing, Jessica Lewis, Teresa Quinn, Tracy Swanton, and Alicia Thomas.

Kim Tietjen, of troop 49, was also present as a guest.

Adults accompanying them were Mrs. Willard Tietjen, Mrs. Ellis Chaney, Mrs. Harry Fish, Jr., and Mrs. Edward Hall.

Everyone seemed to be having a good time and the fact that dinner took two hours seemed to prove it. Most of these girls have re-registered for scouting next fall and winter.
