City May Hire Full Time Dog Catcher

Avon Park residents had better start taking better care of their pets or they may lose them, at least that is the word from Mayor Marshall Davis. Mayor Davis said Tuesday that he would request the City Council to hire a full time dog catcher for the city. The request is to come at the next regular council meeting on March 28.

Davis indicated that he had received numerous complaints from citizens regarding unleashed dogs and cats overturning garbage, causing property damage and being general public nuisances.

"I am going to ask the council to hire a full time dog catcher, at least until most of the back log is taken care of here," Davis explained.

Presently, there is only one full time dog catcher employed in Highlands County.

The new city position would be funded, according to the Mayor, through the use of Federal Anti-Recession Funds. "We will build a special holding pound for all dogs picked up in Avon Park," he said. The animals will then be taken to the county pound in Sebring.

Davis said that city leash laws require dogs and cats to be fenced or on a leash at all times. "If they run free, we will pick them up," he added.

City ordinances also require all pets to be licensed and to have rabies shots. Davis explained that if stray animals were picked up without tags, then the county would administer the required rabies shots and the pet owners would have to pay for them when the animal is picked up from the county pound. "We won't allow pet owners to pick up their animals in Avon Park," Davis said.

If tagged animals are picked up by the dog catcher, city ordinances require a special tag to be posted at city hall and the police department. "We will have a card listing the owner's name and address, if it is on the animal's tag, posted at both of these locations," Davis continued. "But we won't call individual owners and tell them we are holding their pet."

If stray animals are not claimed from the county pound within 15 days after they are picked up, Davis said that they would be destroyed.

Davis explained that the best insurance against having a pet picked up was to keep the animal penned or on a leash at all times. He added, however, that pet owners should also obtain an identification tag listing their address, name and telephone number. Untagged strays will not be listed on the notification cards at city hall or the police department.

"We are having problems with dogs running on our beaches, getting into garbage and damaging private and public property," the Mayor said. "and we have to do something about that."

Police To Start City Lake Patrol

Avon Park Police Chief Robert Brooks is issuing a warning to all powerboat operators and water skiers to make sure that they observe all city and state boating laws.

Brooks said this week that his department is now in the process of setting up a special Marine Division to patrol local lakes. "We are getting complaints from property owners, swimmers and fishermen about motorboat operators and skiers who are apparently disregarding all safety and speed laws on our local lakes," Brooks said.

A special section in the city's code book deals with safety ordinances on local lakes. Brooks said that those laws were going to be strictly enforced. "We have observed instances when skiers and boaters come within inches of swimmers and anchored craft," Brooks explained. "and this violates all marine laws, both city and state."

City ordinances state that all boats or vessels docked or moored on public waterways in Avon Park shall observe all ordinances of the city relating to health, morals, safety and sanitation. In addition, the city has set speed limits on all lakes. Brooks indicated that the speed laws were different for each boat, as they were set by size and weight, however, no craft shall exceed four miles per hour when approaching or leaving a beach area.

Brooks said that speeders have been operating within feet of beaches and property lines, not only endangering other persons, but also causing problems of shore erosion due to excessive wake. "We are going to start stopping boaters and inspecting their craft for compliance with U.S. Coast Guard and city regulations. This will include proper licenses and registration as well as safety equipment," Brooks explained.

Law enforcement officials will also start issuing tickets to persons who operate their craft within 100 feet of anchored fishermen. "We also are going to start cracking down on water skiers who come within 100 feet of shore and within 100 feet of swimmers," the Chief added.

Brooks said that he would be glad to explain all city rules and regulations to any boat operator. "We don't want to spoil anyone's fun," he said, "but we don't want anyone getting injured through carelessness, either," he concluded.

Health Care Investigated By County

Volunteers and professionals studying methods for providing home health care in Highlands County concluded they are caught between "can not and will not" agencies and, as a result, formed a new group to spearhead funding of home health services here.

The new group, functioning as an action committee under Services Over Sixty (SOS), came into being at the conclusion of a meeting held at Highlands County-Agricultural Center on March 18. The directors of SOS had convened the meeting of the action committee was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, March 23.

At the March 18 meeting major attention focused on the role of the Highlands County Health Department. Dr. Glenn Hough, director, said his department "is definitely interested in home health care but not under the health department."

He cited two reasons for being reluctant to accept new responsibilities: great shortages in time, staff and money which already limit the department's work and, secondly, his feeling that the major work of the department should be in the area of preventive medicine rather than in a treatment service such as home health care.

Dr. Hough's contention that the Child Abuse Is On Upswing

In the past five months Highlands County offices for Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) have handled 214 cases of child abuse.

Not many of these children carry signs of physical abuse but fall into a difficult-to-investigate category "emotional abuse", HRS staff members reported at the March meeting of Highlands County's Interagency Council.

The report was made by Alice Hansen, Bob Hoffman, Georgia Murdock of Children and Youth Services (CYS) section of HRS and Jackie Wallander of Youth Care home.

In its 1970 session the Florida Legislature passed a new law which provides for a toll-free telephone number where cases of child abuse may be anonymously reported. The same law directs that professional persons working with children — doctors, teachers, hospital staff — must report suspected cases of child abuse. The local CYS staff said use of the toll-free number is increasing steadily. All cases which appear to relate to Highlands County are referred to CYS here for investigation.

Some investigations are initiated by reports made directly to CYS without going through the state reporting system. In the past six months CYS has been called into 50 homes where circumstances were "so explosive" that children were removed. In 22 of these cases full-scale juvenile court hearings were held.

Many times older children respond to abuse — physical or emotional — by running away from home. "We've had a rash of runaways this winter," Alice Hansen, CYS in-take officer, said.

Hoffman said the first reaction of parents usually is anger directed largely at "whoever it was who reported this." All the CYS staff said that healing and reuniting the family is a primary goal. To this end counseling is for the whole family.

In approximately 25 per cent of the cases the same family will be involved in later child abuse reports. If the home situation appears to be hopeless the courts may remove the children and legally sever the parents' rights. Attempts are made to find adoptive parents. Up to 3 or 4 years of age the children adjust well in a new home setting, accepting new parents and a new family. All CYS counselors agreed that when the abused children are older "forget it; they are not going to accept new parents. They want to go home. 'I can stay out of her way or I can outrun him' is what the kids will say."

Mrs. Hansen said counseling groups for parents involved in child abuse have proven effective in some areas but are not used here because of the relatively small size of the community. They are helpful in cities where the parents can maintain some degree of anonymity "but you can't be anonymous here," she explained.

Counselor Murdock said, "It is most difficult to teach someone to be a parent," but it is persons who do not know how to be parents who most often wind up involved in child abuse.

Boy Undergoes Surgery To Replace Severed Arm

An anxious community waits, ready to give blood as 12 year old Hunter Kittrell, in intensive care in Jewish Hospital at Louisville, Ky., wait to know if his severed arm will heal and grow back together. Thrown from his father's hunting truck as it rolled over late Tuesday afternoon, March 15, Hunter's arm was semi-severed about an inch above the elbow by a fairly sharp object.

Highlands County Emergency

Medical Technicians reported that Sheriff's Deputy had placed a tourniquet on the almost severed arm to stop the bleeding. Hunter was reported as being conscious but in a state of mild shock. The arm held to the body by a small piece of skin, was wrapped in crevasses by the technicians.

As Hunter was being taken to Walker Memorial Hospital, technicians kept checking vital signs of breathing, blood pressure and pulse.

At the hospital emergency room Hunter was seen by Dr. Hanford Brace who called in Dr. Robert A. Massam (orthopedics). Dr. Massam in his evaluation of the injury thought of cleaning up the limb by complete amputation of the right arm above the elbow as there was no circulation, nothing was working and everything was cut out about an inch above the elbow joint.

In explaining the possibilities to the parents, Donna and Robert Kittrell, they asked Dr. Massam if the arm would heal if rejoined. The possibility was there, as such surgical procedures had already been performed in the United States. The operating team that could do it were at Jewish Hospital at Louisville.

Hospital authorities at Louisville gave Dr. Massam the go-ahead to bring Hunter to their facility. The next step was to call Airvac at Orlando. In approximately 35 minutes the plane touched down at the Avon Park Airport and in four and one half hours Hunter, his mother and Dr. Massam were in Louisville.

At 3 a.m. a ten person team began the hours long operation of reimplanting the forearm and elbow to the upper arm. The bones were fitted together with stainless steel pins. The one major artery at this location and five veins were sewn together and the limb was stabilized or kept from moving with a cast.

Dr. Massam returned to Avon Park that night. Tuesday afternoon, March 22, Dr. Massam, reported that at the present time the limb was still viable or living. Blood circulation was continuing and it appeared that the artery and bone were starting to knit. However, the arm might be said to be in a state of limbo, that is, hanging in a balance between life and death of the tissues. While in intensive care, Hunter is receiving no sedation but is given anti-nausea coverage.

The crucial time for Hunter's arm will be next Tuesday as the doctors will know then if the healing process will continue or if the arm will not mend back together. If the progress is favorable the nerves will be sewed together but it will be six to seven months before their healing will be complete.

With this type arm amputation resulting in a flap position elbow (or straight-arm), Dr. Massam reported that Hunter's right arm would be the assisting arm with the left arm being used the most.

Sebring '77 is now history. To those of you who attended the attraction this year, I say congratulations. It took nerves of steel and the courage of a hero to brave the throng of humanity which packed the race course.

Madmen (and women) careened about the infield area, giving little regard to those on foot or in autos. Collisions were numerous and near disasters were uncountable.

Tired, hot and harassed policemen and security guards tried to keep the bloodshed to a minimum, however, as to their success, it is hard to tell. As one officer put it, "We stay out of the (infield) as much as possible." Can't say as I blame him.

Veterans of previous races confided to me that lots and lots of "Neat" things happen at the race each year. Things like women dashing topless and, in some cases, bottomless, about the area, some even posing for photographs. Law enforcement must have been tougher this year, or there may have been a slightly more inhibited group of ladies present, for this reporter saw only a hint of a bare bottom or bosom. (Damn) However, we did witness some incredible sunbathers, ranging in color from modest pink to boiled lobster red.

Of drinking and such, there was much of that going on and aside from a few reported bouts of fistfights, in some cases, bottomless, about the area, some even posing for photographs. Law enforcement must have been tougher this year, or there may have been a slightly more inhibited group of ladies present, for this reporter saw only a hint of a bare bottom or bosom. (Damn) However, we did witness some incredible sunbathers, ranging in color from modest pink to boiled lobster red.

An interesting aside: I wonder just how many press passes were handed out. At times, the pit area seemed more crowded than the infield.

Some general observations on Sebring '77. Most people were well behaved, despite the heat, long lines and general overcrowding.

Law enforcement personnel were friendly and kept on smiling, even in the face of some incredible insults and situations.

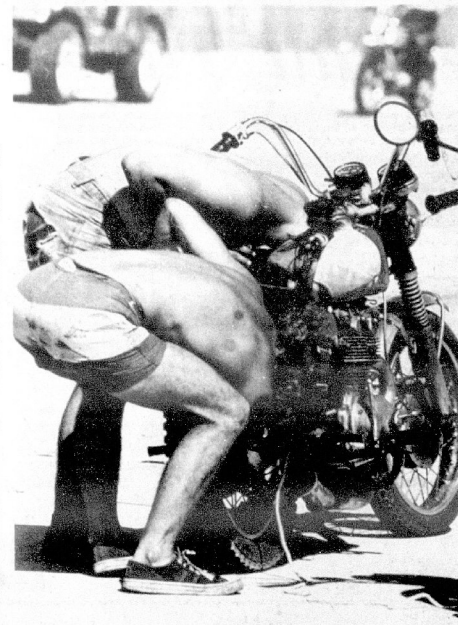

The race itself was exciting, especially for the small fry, however, I can't help but wonder how some parents could let their small children roam freely through the crowds. There was great danger of their being stepped on.

Motorcycles, dune buggies, etc. proved to be an annoyance to many people, especially as the drivers of those vehicles seemed to feel that they could stage a mini-Sebring in the access ways and parking areas. Perhaps stronger restrictions will be placed upon these types of vehicles next year.

Which leads us to the question, asked every year, will there be a 12 Hours of Sebring next year? Answer we hope so. Despite the crowds, noise, heat and dust, there was great excitement. It isn't every day you get to rub elbows with such notables as Paul Newman and Dick Smothers, not to mention the great race car drivers themselves.

In closing, let me say, that attending a Sebring race is an experience. If you don't like rubbing elbows with the guy next door, breathing a mixture of dust, sweat, beer fumes, burning rubber and gasoline, then Sebring isn't for you. If you do like excitement, the thrill of fast cars and scantly clad women, the joy of observing and interacting with people, then hope and pray for another 12 hours next year.

But remember to bring your own beer.

Shifted Facts Harm Us All

Two University of Miami economists have discovered, according to their reports, that millions of Americans become unemployed statistics for the sole reason that they applied for food stamps or other welfare benefits.

We can agree with that statement. It seems that simply qualifying for financial assistance under many government programs requires registration for work. This results in inflated unemployment figures, which in turn leads to more tax money being spent for welfare assistance programs.

The study claims that unemployment figures have been padded over the past several years by about two and one-half percent. Ouch!

The unprecedented unemployment level in this country recently are the result of several factors, including the change in magnitude and duration of payments of unemployment compensation, higher levels of transfer payments for welfare programs and changes in the definition of unemployment persons.

As if to prove a point long believed by many people, the study said, "Although each of these factors contributes to the persisting high levels of measured unemployment, ... the single most important factor is the change in certain welfare eligibility requirements."

The study shows that the food stamp program alone inflated the officially counted number of unemployed by more than a person last year.

Perhaps it is time for the unemployment programs to face this program, which is being fought by many of the fat cats in the federal bureaucracy, each federal agency would be forced to justify its existence every year. If it couldn't justify, then it would be eliminated or reduced in size.

Without trying to seem reactionary, we feel that the various unemployment and welfare programs have been padding the figures for years for the sole reason that in this country, the more statistics compiled, the larger the budget and staff. In our present government, size is power.

Perhaps more importantly, since the unemployment rate is often used as a basis for policy decisions, it is important to distinguish between the effects due to the new institutional requirements and those attributable to the more traditional reasons for identifying individuals as unemployed.

With inflation, property taxes, and the general high cost of living making it almost impossible for many people to even maintain the status quo, let alone increase their standard of living, it seems as if a long and very close look must be directed at our assistance programs.

It is frightening to think that false information is being used as the basis for more and bigger give away programs. Programs that are paid for at the expense of the long suffering taxpayer.

Things My Way

By Alice Smith

The dinner mess served up with my roast lamb turned out to be "Lulu's Back In Town" — and I suddenly remembered that she was, indeed back in town.

Louise Reiser, that is, Mrs. Reiser is a bright and charming lady of ready wit, who is a world traveler. Back in 1971, I wrote a column about her, covering a month she had spent in Alaska, a trans-Canada trip by rail and an up-coming jaunt by air. I remember that she showed me the two and a half yards of pastel plane tickets that would take her from New York eastward around the world.

So I called on her again and she didn't disappoint me.

Two years ago she flew to Lisbon and covered Portugal and Spain in a rented car. She joined a bus tour in Belgium which took her to Russia by way of Holland and Finland. The Russian tour included Moscow and Leningrad where she learned that Russian hotels provide only cold water in June. Who needs hot water in June, anyway?

Seems Mrs. Canfield, age 80, was about to take off for Europe and friends were trying to dissuade her. Said Mrs. Canfield, "I don't want Dorothy calling her sister Ellen and saying 'I've had Mother for 3 months, it's your turn to take her.' I'd much rather Dorothy call Ellen and said 'Where the Hell is Mother?'"

In 1971, Louise gave me permission to mention her age. She had just turned 82. And apropos of that fact, she told me a story about the mother of writer Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

Which is pretty much the way I feel," said Louise.

At 88, the remarkable Mrs. Reiser, having been almost everywhere, is about ready to settle down dividing her time between her apartment in Vermont and Avon Park.

Of course, she is considering meeting a California relative at the half-way mark and spending a little vacation on a Mississippi river boat. This summer or next, depending on reservations.

Interviewpoint

The possibility of an increase in the state sales tax drew a negative response from some Avon Park residents this week. It would appear that the mythical "tax saturation point" has been reached by government.

This week's question: Are you in favor of a one percent increase in the Florida State sales tax from 4 to 5 percent?

Darlene Knight, L.R.L. Ranches. "No, I don't favor a one percent increase in the state sales tax because we are already being taxed to the limit. This kind of thing makes me mad. If the tax money was used properly, they wouldn't need more."

Chuck Watson, 215 E. LaGrande St. "No, I think we are paying enough in the state taxes as it is now. If the present tax monies were used properly, then we wouldn't have any need for additional tax revenues."

Glenn Epstein, 1046 E. Cornell Street. "No, I think the present 4 percent sales tax is enough to take care of everything as it is, but I guess I would favor a one percent increase in sales tax over a mandatory state income tax."

Ruth Cole, 22 S. Prospect. "No, I don't favor the increase and until we are told what they want the money for I'll oppose it. If the state did put an increase, the money would probably be spent for welfare, social services and school, all of which are getting over and above what they need for what they are producing."

Thanks!

Dear Editor:
I would like to take a moment and thank you for your coverage of the Highlands County Fair, its events and activities, in behalf of myself and the Board of Directors of the Highlands County Fair.

The coverage in the Avon Park Sun gave a real air of finesse to the Fair. The news stories, reports and pictures were excellent.

Everyone at the Avon Park Sun was most helpful and cooperative.

I am truly grateful for your help, support and coverage. I hope our good working relationship will continue in the future.

Voter Registration

Dear Editor:
Today is Saint Patrick's day. Have a good day! From the sounds of your Editor's Viewpoint on page two of this week's issue it sounds as if you need some good fortune.

Briefly I would like to comment that I agree with the four persons interviewed on Interviewpoint, same page, about enforcement of the dog leash law. There is the same problem all over the county concerning dogs. Everywhere I go to municipal meetings all cities have the same problem. I just wonder why when the question of the interviews was "Do you think Avon Park should strictly enforce any and all leash laws?" it was not possible to interview residents from within the city limits. 3 out of the 4 interviewed live outside the city where the city has no jurisdiction at all. Mayor Davis's daughter Mrs. Tondoe pointed this fact out. Of course I realize that even those on the fringes are affected by what happens in our city.

I would point out one statement of fact in the article "Election Law A Good One" on same page. The third from the last paragraph contains the statement that presently voters have to travel to Sebring if they want to register. The fact is that we register voters at all times when the County registration books are open. Mr. Whitehouse has been most cooperative in deputizing myself and Mrs. Henderson as deputy clerks so that we have authority to register anyone in Highlands County, living in any precinct. We have our office open 9 hours per day, 5 days per week and anyone may register except for certain periods before election when the books are closed.

We have a lot of information available about location and hours of governmental agencies and their services which we will be happy to pass on to interested citizens if they will call us at 433-2221.

I think the Avon Park Sun has improved a lot under your guidance as Editor and wish you continued success. Anything I can do to help you or to furnish you with information at any time will be done cheerfully and gladly. Just call on me.

Sincerely yours,
Malcolm K. Crews
City Clerk

Business Briefs

Boosted by higher prices for orange juice, Tropicana Products Inc. scored a 35 per cent gain in profits on a 21 per cent increase in sales during the fiscal second quarter, which ended Feb. 28, over the same quarter a year ago.

The Bradenton-based juice processing and marketing company had a profit of $4.7 million or 50 cents a share, the highest for any quarter ever, while sales hit $60.6 million, also a record.

Gulf & Western Industries Inc.'s earnings should be down 10 per cent this year, but have begun to move steadily back from a low point in the second quarter, top officials of the conglomerate said this week.

In the fiscal second quarter ended Jan. 31, Gulf & Western's net earnings dropped to $35.2 million from $45.6 million a year earlier. Per share earnings were down 68 cents from $1.01.

Ford Motor Co., acting under government pressure, said this week it is recalling more than half a million 1968 and 1969 Mustangs and Mercury Cougars.

A Ford spokesman said the recall involves a bracket supporting the right-hand side of the driver's bucket seat back. There have been 790 reports of seat back bracket failure, including 41 instances in which minor injuries were reported.

After tax profits of U.S. corporations rose $1.8 billion in the fourth quarter of 1976 to a total of $86.9 billion, the Commerce Department reported this week. But if said corporate profits from current production, which excludes increases in the value of inventories, declined $3.9 billion.

Troop 156 Donates Time To Projects

Trail Blazing Scout Troop 156 had a weekend of good turns in service and community projects as they collected bags for Goodwill and picked up trash and litter in the Avon Lakes area.

Actually their weekend of projects started a week earlier on Saturday morning, March 12 when they went door to door passing out Goodwill bags.

Last Friday after school the Scouts started their operation SOAR, Save Our American Resources, in which they picked up over two pickup truckloads of trash and litter such as bottles, cans, papers, rags, cardboard and other things that people throw out of their vehicles when driving. The Avon Park Lakes Association furnished garbage bags for the trash and litter picked up by the Scouts. They also supplied the 23 Scouts with cold soft drinks during the trash gathering.

Friday night the Scouts had a campout on the shore of Lake Olivia. Saturday morning, 25 Scouts collected over 250 of the Goodwill bags of clothing, shoes, small appliances and other items. The pickup of materials for Goodwill has been hurt by the numerous garage sales people are having, stated Scoutmaster Larry Hooper.

Saturday afternoon the Scouts were joined by their families for a troop and family picnic, in which they barbecued chicken and each family brought a covered dish. Over 100 Scouts and family members attended. Scoutmaster Larry Hooper was assisted in the weekend projects by Scout Committee members: Gary Bennett, Fred Henly and Ray Elkhill.

Couple United In Candlelight Glow

Amid the glow of soft candlelight and a profusion of floral splendor, Miss Betty Marie Green and Ed McNally were united in marriage on Saturday, March 12, at the Florida Avenue Baptist Church.

Reverend Edward Tharpe performed the impressive double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Green of Avon Park, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James E. McNally of Grand Rapids, Ohio.

Organist Terri Corban presented a program of pre-nuptial music, with Ellen Best, Vocalist.

The Bride
Given in marriage by the Mother and Father, the elegant bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" of the Wedding March by "Lohengrin".

She was radiant in a formal gown of candlelight sheer organza over candlelight Peau de soie featuring a V-neckline and long bouffant sleeves ending in a wide cuff at the wrists fastened with seven satin buttons. Lace trimmed the neckline and scalloped hemline.

Her lace-trimmed chapel length veil and blusher of silk illusion was held in place by a petite form fitting cap. The bride carried a formal nosegay of white rose buds, baby breath, white daisies and miniature carnations with baby blue streamers.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Cindy Downs, who wore a gown of blue crepe embellished with white embroidered flowers on the bodice and topped with a sheer baby blue caplet. She wore a large-brimmed picture hat to match her gown, and carried a nosegay of white and yellow daisies with accents of baby blue baby breath and streamers.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Calvin McNally from Grand Rapids, Ohio. Ushers were Bill Cliff and Jim Pebbles, Airmen from the Avon Park Bomb and Gunner Range.

The bridegroom, father of bride and attendants all wore blue ruffle shirts with their formal attire.

An arch-shaped candleabra with 15 burning candles centered the chancel, with twin baskets of wedding fern and greenery filling the background. Clusters of boxwood and Lily-of-the-Valley adorned the white kneeling bench, and was accentuated on either side by white Grecian columns topped with large mass arrangements of white glads, carnations, daisies, baby breath and yellow pompons. Baby blue satin bows and greenery marked the family pews.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Green wore a pink crepe gown with accented pleated skirt, topped with an overlay lace bodice with long sleeves. She wore a corsage of pink carnations and blue baby breath.

Mrs. McNally wore for her son's wedding, a blue gown with high ruffle stand-up collar and long sleeves ending in a ruffle at the wrists. Her corsage was of white carnations with touches of blue baby breath.

Mrs. Artie Freeman, maternal grandmother of the bride, and also presented the bride a blue lace ensemble with matching jacket. She wore a white carnation corsage with accents of blue baby breath.

Reception
Immediately following the wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Green entertained at the reception held in the church social hall. Mrs. Grace Pickett invited guests to sign the bride's book, kept by Mrs. Bill Green, sister-in-law of the bride, and also presented the guests to the receiving line comprised of the bridal party and families of the bride couple.

The punch and cake tables were overlaid with white lace-trimmed cloths. The bride's and attendant's bouquets adorned the cake table, which was centered with the two-tiered wedding cake frosted in white. The square bottom tier was separated from the heart-shaped top tier by Grecian columns. From underneath the separation, a cascade of blue roses, yellow daisies and pink apple blossoms spilled over the edges of the bottom tier. The top was crowned by a petite ornament; the traditional bride couple standing under a canopy shaped by iridescent Swiss talking.

A pair of three-branched silver candleabras with blue tapers also graced the table. After the bride and bridegroom cut the traditional first piece of the wedding cake, it was distributed to the guests. The bride and bridegroom cut the traditional first piece of the wedding cake, it was

County Investigates Home Health Care

Highlands County Health Department is badly understaffed was supported by Dr. William Hill who remarked "Highlands Health Department has essentially the same size staff it had when I was here 15 years ago."

Hill left Highlands to become director of the Polk County Health Department. In recent months he has added some duties for the public health phase of the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) to his Polk work.

Hill quickly disposed of a suggestion that home health care for Highlands might be provided under a contract with the service already existing under Polk County's Health Department. "Our contract will not permit us to go outside Polk County," Hill reported.

The Polk department's director of nursing, Mary Jane Running, reported that most full service health care programs (providing care for all ages) have fund-raising projects apart from county health funds. The biggest problem, Mrs. Running said, is locating "start-up" money.

Hill pointed out that Rural Health

Initiative Funding may have some grants available for launching home health programs. Osceola County was cited as an example of an area which used state-federal Community Affairs grants to finance home care. One avenue suggested by Hill hit snags almost immediately. Manpower Heartland Consortium staff said it knew of no grants to finance home health care under the new Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) projects.

Shortage of "start-up" money is a big problem for Mr. and Mrs. Keith Miller of Avon Park. They have been trying, since January 1975, to begin a home health care business. Restrictions on founding of private non-profit health agencies have mounted as evidences of fraud among the early agencies have risen. At this time any new business would have to be able to operate for many months without receiving its first reimbursement money from Medicare.

Medicare funds will pay for up to 200 home health care visits per year. Dr. Hough warned, "What has happened in some counties is that private agencies have entered, skimmed off the Medicare payments then left the county with the totally indigent patients." Mrs. Betty Upchurch of Highlands General Hospital social services staff said Congressional investigations have turned up testimony that patients have been swamped with services — nurses, speech therapists, physical therapists, occupational therapists, home health aides — sometimes all on the same day, many not even needed but each counting as one of the 200 visits Medicare would pay for. Such abuses have led to many of the restrictions on new agencies.

At the meeting here Friday some study was given to existing agencies which may wish to expand into Highlands County. The local group said it would prefer a full service program which would provide care for persons not receiving Medicare payments as well as those coming under the federal program.

The Rev. Ben Williamson, president of SOS, said he had petitioned the national office of United Methodist Women for a $15,000 grant to help start a home health care program here. He said his request had been denied but he has asked for a new hearing, contending that such a service is a Christian outreach concern.

Boy Undergoes Surgery To Replace Severed Arm

While at the local hospital Hunter received two units of blood and during the long operation at Jewish Hospital he received another 11 units of blood. When it became known that blood might be needed to replace that, used, 19 teachers and staff at the Avon Park High School volunteered, 18 and four parents volunteered at the Middle School along with others. All they asked was, "Name the time and place." A.P.C.I. Chaplain Wall reported that inmates would also be ready to serve as blood donors, while Buddy McKenzie reported that the Lions Club Blood Bank would also be available. If blood is needed, Jim Calpepper, assistant administrator at Walker Memorial stated their staff would be glad to assist in the collection.

If wishes, hopes and prayers of Avon Park residents are of any help, H. Venter Kitzell will have a right arm even though it may be an inch or two shorter than the left arm.

Police Warn Women

Cons Ripping Off Purses

Avon Park police are warning women shoppers to be on the look out for a pair of con artists who specialize in ripping off unsuspecting shopper's purses.

According to Cpt. Frank Cratty, at least two reports of this type of incident have been made within the last week. Cratty indicated that usually two nicely dressed men will work area supermarkets. "This is their primary target," Cratty explained, "because women have a tendency to leave their purses in their shopping carts or hanging open from their arms."

The con game works in a simple manner, as one of the men will ask the unsuspecting shopper a question and while her attention is elsewhere, his partner will remove her wallet from the purse.

"It is a shame that shoppers aren't even safe in the stores anymore," Cratty said, "but we are advising all women not to leave their purses unattended. In fact, we suggest that they just carry a clutch purse or wallet and keep it with them at all times."

Circuit Court Approves $25,500 More Suit

Circuit court has approved a settlement of $25,500 to the family of a juvenile injured in an accident with a lawnmower. According to the suit, Julian Eugene Moore was injured when the mower blade struck him. The accident occurred Aug. 6, 1976 at Lorinda. Moore had to be admitted to Highlands General Hospital where bills for his treatment totaled $9,600.

Moore, who is now 14, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hugh Moore of Avon Park.

The court approval closed a friendly suit opened by Mr. and Mrs. Moore against the mower's owners, William and Martha Moore and the American Fire and Casualty Co.

Free Garden Seed Available For Aged

One of our greatest and most profitable outdoors, and do it yourself sports, is gardening. To make this sport even better, here's a little present to go along with it. The only qualification is that this sport must be of retirement age.

The Plant Study Dept. of the Men's Garden Club of America, 3560 Merle Hay Road, Des Moines, Iowa, 50323 will give to the "older age" gardeners free seeds for testing in your own garden. At the end of the season, the one getting the seeds must fill out a one page report, on the success of the harvest.

You may obtain a list of the free seeds by writing the above Garden Club, promising you will give the report at harvest time.

AVON PARK CORRECTIONAL Institution employees who participated in

Merritt Jr. and Peter A. Canfield.

Three APCI Employees Attend Correctional Training Institute

The Department of Offender Rehabilitation has announced that Avon Park Correctional Institution employees, Peter A. Canfield, Dallas Merritt Jr., and James T. Taman, recently participated in the Correctional Training Institute at Radford, Florida.

This is the ninth CTI group to enroll in the minimum standards curricula, which is required by law. The Training Institute program is taught in conjunction with Lake City Community College, and the graduates earn nine semester credits for successfully completing the full time, 160 hours course.

The program includes instruction in the Criminal Justice System, Legal Aspects of Corrections, Operational Procedures, Principles of Supervision, Human Relations and Technical Training Skills which include Firearms, First Aid and Fire Fighting Techniques.

The Correctional Training Institute was certified by the Florida Correctional Standards Council (CSC) in May, 1976, as a training center for correctional personnel. The Council was empowered by Legislature in 1974 to establish minimum standards for the certification of correctional officers and training centers. The curriculum of training is designed to intensify the exposure of the officer and then develop him professionally. It is anticipated the training program will help materialize the promise of a modern correctional system.

The participants will continue their training with an additional 160 hours taught by regional instructors, on an in-service basis, at the various correctional facilities located throughout Florida.

Edwards To Seek Degree

After sixteen years in the building business Darvall Edwards of Avon Park, has decided to pursue another occupation, law.

Edwards will attend the University of Missouri in Columbia for three years. Columbia is 25 miles from the capital and this will enable him to attend the proceedings of the Supreme Court.

"When I was young I had an ambition to become a lawyer, but I never pursued it. I got into contracting and studied engineering which I am close to having a degree in," said Edwards.

He continued, "Over the years of doing business, you get involved in court actions. The more I was exposed to the courts and court procedures and searched each case, the more I enjoyed law." He suddenly realized that he had found a new career through a fluke that he enjoyed more than his old ones.

Edwards was born and spent most of his life here. "We will miss the town and the people of Avon Park. They have been so nice to my family," Edwards said. Mrs. Edwards will also continue her education at the University studying Fine Arts.

"I will miss my friends and my school (New Prospect)," said Roy, the Edwards' son. He added, "But I hope to see all my friends again on our return trip to Avon Park."

Local Businessmen, Merchants Attend Clinic On Shoplifting

Avon Park merchants and businessmen through the use of the movie "Stick Fingers" saw how shoplifters go about the business of removing merchandise from the shelves, during a Shoplifting Clinic sponsored by the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce at the County Building last Thursday night.

The techniques used by shoplifters are as varied as the imagination. Who are they? They look like any other customer and the items they take are anything, large or small. And the regular customer pays for the loss, with the pro-shoplifter specializing in certain items. Shoplifters have one trait in common. They are always watching people, their eyes are constantly on the move.

The movie went on — with the first step in dealing with shoplifters is knowing how they steal. The second step is to remove objects, having good sales personnel who are courteous and attentive. Other factors are: displays in patterns, low shelves, mirrors, closed circuit TV, cameras and the use of mirror dot-wafers.

The movie ended with the statement, one out of ten customers is a shoplifter, who will be seeing you. Will you be seeing him?

Chamber member and attorney, Tony Accorsi, who sometimes defends shoplifters, explained to the group, the rights of merchants. Under the old law the merchant could not detain the shoplifter unless he had seen the act of shoplifting.

In 1950 a new trend in the law was set with the passage of statute 901.34 retail theft; for probable cause a merchant with reasonable grounds to think a person was shoplifting could detain him in a reasonable manner and time by a peace officer or employee with a reasonable amount of force.

Accorsi explained that it was a false impression that the shoplifter had to be outside the store before being stopped. The key element in larceny was the specific intent of the crime, such as the unlawful taking, carrying away of merchandise against the consent of the owner.

Petty Larceny, Accorsi said, draws a first time penalty of 60 days in jail and or $500 fine. Grand larceny, third degree, has a five year jail term and or up to $500 fine. The most prevalent shoplifting in the county is juveniles doing petty shoplifting. A condition of their probation may be the payment or restitution of the goods.

Drivers' Licenses Hearing To Be Held Here

Issuing of drivers' licenses, already one of Highlands County's fastest growing businesses, will expand again next month. Beginning Tuesday, April 5, hearings will be conducted in Sebring for drivers seeking to have business purpose licenses issued.

Drivers whose licenses have been suspended or revoked may request an administrative hearing aimed at obtaining the right to drive to conduct business. In the past the closest hearing sites were in Arcadia or Bradenton.

County Judge Mark Richardson Jr., who conducts traffic court for this county, had asked the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles to consider establishing a schedule of hearings in this county.

Last week Major Don Keirn of Bradenton announced that beginning with the first Tuesday of April, and each Tuesday thereafter, an officer will come from Bradenton and conduct hearings at the Highlands drivers' license office on U.S. 27, just north of Sebring. Hearings will commence at 10 a.m. each Tuesday.

Even without these hearings the Highlands drivers' license office is one of the busiest government offices. The local staff estimates a 250 per cent increase in business within the past 12 months.

A year ago about 30 persons a day visited the office. That number is up to 85. In addition, there is a growing number of telephone calls about license requirements, the local staff says.

Not every call results in a license being issued, but along the road to obtaining a license the examiners give road tests — about 10 each day — conduct oral and written tests and administer eye examinations.

In response to please from the Highlands office, a third examiner was appointed here in December and the push is on for further expansion of the staff.

The administrative hearings will increase the traffic through the office, but the local staff says it welcomes the new schedule which provides a hearing officer for weekly visits.

Hearings On Water Permits Scheduled

Although new regulations on water use permits may be two years away from implementation, Southwest Florida Water Management District is proceeding with hearings on these rules. A hearing is scheduled to be held in the district office at Brooksville, beginning at 11 a.m. on April 6.

The cities of Avon Park and Sebring are included in the area which came under Southwest Florida district at the beginning of 1977. Rules for the areas newly added to the Southwest District have not been formally adopted. Testimony from private citizens and interested groups will be taken at the April 6 meeting.

Sebring Utilities Commission has not formally designated a representative to attend the hearing. However, Tom Priest, assistant manager for SUC, is attending a week-long school at the University of Florida which includes a study of water quality standards and information about new state water management regulations. James Phillips, SUC manager said priest may be the SUC representative to district meetings.

QUEEN OF CLUBS
The annual Queen of Clubs Pageant will be held Saturday, April 1 at 8 p.m. in the gym. All clubs are invited to enter a contestant. Any girl in 10-12 grades may be sponsored by a club and a $5 entry fee is required.

Deadline for entry is March 24.

Ski-Mask Gang Leader To Face Trial April 4

Alleged leader of the Ski-Mask gang Daniel M. Thomas already facing 250 years in prison, is scheduled to go on trial April 4 in Bartow.

In this latest trial Thomas will be tried for the ski-mask murder, sexual battery, robbery and burglary.

Defense counsel Dan Brawley, assistant public defender, has been trying to persuade the court to change the trial to a new location. When a motion for change of venue was presented in court in Bartow Monday Judge Edward F. Threadgill Jr. reserved ruling on the motion. He also delayed ruling on a motion which contends that the search warrant used at Thomas' home the day of his arrest (in January 1976) was of "doubtful validity" and items found at the Thomas home should be barred from the trial.

The defense lawyer told the court that very heavy publicity about the activities of a group of terrorists — dubbed the Ski-Mask Gang — will hamper selection of a jury to hear the latest case.

Thomas is accused of having shot to death Charles Anderson of Polk City.

Assistant state attorney Joel Fanning argued against the motion for change of venue, citing Florida Supreme Court and U. S. Supreme Court decisions that jurors' familiarity with some information about a case does not automatically prejudice them. Fanning has taken over prosecution of the ski-mask case, replacing Monte Campbell who had handled the prosecutions since the first arrests were made in January 1976.

Regardless of the outcome of the Polk County trial of Thomas, he has yet another murder trial to undergo, in Volusia County.

Pleads Guilty
An 18-year-old Avon Park resident scheduled to go to trial this week has pleaded guilty to one count each of sexual battery and aggravated assault.

In circuit court March 14 Milton Burton Jones entered his plea, and waived presentence investigation. He was sentenced to six months to 10 years on the sexual battery charge, six months to five years for aggravated assault, the two sentences to run concurrently.

At Tuesday morning's meeting, agricultural extension agent Tim Hurner said that the state is presently accepting applications for the post, with the deadline of March 25.

Hurner said the state will narrow down the field, then submit a list of names to the county.

Hurner suggested that he then interview the remaining candidates and submit their names, in order of his preference, to the board for a final decision.

Ideally, the agent would be at work in late May or early June, according to Hurner. A qualified applicant would receive an annual salary of approximately $10,500.

The official title of the position is "Extension Agent-Livestock," but is more commonly known as assistant county agent.

The board also approved a new salary split for the county's Home Economics Agent, a position currently vacant. Under the new split, the county will pay $5,000 of the salary, with the state making up the $5,750 balance.

While the three positions of county agent, assistant county agent and home economist are budgeted items, the positions have been vacant for the past several months because the jobs cannot be filled until there is a permanent county agent.

Hurner, only recently named to the position, as he had to obtain a master's degree from the University of Florida before the state would allow him to move up from his former post as assistant county agent.

Good Hitting, Strong Pitching

Get Red Devils Two Wins

Good hitting and strong pitching highlighted the Avon Park Red Devil varsity wins over Lake Placid and Sebring last week. The Devil batters slammed out nine hits off two Green Dragon pitchers to take a 13-5 win at Head Field from Lake Placid Tuesday night a week ago and then rapped out eight hits against Sebring last Friday night to post a 6-3 victory at Fireman's Field.

Last Tuesday night the Devil nine was to have played Fort Meade on the Miners home field and last night, Wednesday, they were scheduled to meet the Highlanders in Lake Wales. Tomorrow night the Avon Park team will be back at Head Field to host the Haines City Hornets who are coached this year by former assistant Red Devil coach Eddie Lewis. Next Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. the Red Devils will go to Okeechobee for a return game with the Brahmins.

Avon Park 6 — Sebring 3
Steve Arnold, Avon Park's senior right-hander, kept the Sebring Blue Streak batters under control last Friday night at Fireman's Field while the Red Devils jumped on Streak hurler Robert Freeland for eight hits to rack up a 6-3 win over the Heartland Conference defending champions. Arnold held the Blue Streaks to five scattered singles giving up a run in the third and two in the fifth. The steady right-hander kept the ball low throughout the game and issued only one base on balls to the Streaks. Seven Sebring batters went down via the strike-out route.

Charlie Pough, Mort Jackson and Steve Arnold connected for two hits each. Arnold made one double as did Victor Roberts who sailed a ball to the leftfield fence only to have it bounce back into the field of play. John McKunas also lined out a double his first time at bat. Avon Park turned in a fine defensive performance committing only two errors while the Blue Streaks made four errors during the seven-inning game. Avon Park jumped off to an early lead as they scored three runs in the top of the first inning. Charlie Pough singled, was sacrificed to second on a bunt by Jim Johnson. Mort Jackson was safe on a flier's choice and Steve Arnold drove both runners in with a double. Arnold then scored on McKunas's double.

Avon Park 12 — Lake Placid 5
Mort Jackson, Red Devil senior catcher, rapped out a double and three singles off two Lake Placid pitchers to lead the Avon Park team to a 13-5 victory over the Green Dragons here at Head Field last week. The sharp, 25-year-old speedster went four for five at the plate and scored four of Avon Park's 13 runs.

Also getting to the two Dragon hurlers were Victor Roberts with a triple and a double, Dale Sizemore with a double down the third-base line, and Charlie Pough and Jim Johnson with a single each. Scoring runs for Avon Park were Pough with three, Johnson and Roberts with two each and Buddy Hunter and Larry Jackson with one apiece.

Larry Jackson took credit for the mound win. The lanky right-hander gave up three runs in the first frame on a single and a homerun by Ken McGabe over the rightfield wall before he settled down to shut-out the Dragons the next four innings. Jackson gave up two more scattered singles before he was relieved by Steve Arnold at the start of the sixth inning.

The Dragons connected for two back to back singles and scored two runs off Arnold before he warmed up in the sixth. He allowed one more single in the seventh and struck out five men in the two innings on the mound. The two Lake Placid pitchers combined to give up fourteen walks to the Red Devils.

Dale Sizemore
Dale Sizemore, 5'9", 155 pound senior, is the Avon Park Red Devil premier centerfielder and the only lefthander on the mound staff this year. Playing his second year on the varsity squad, Dale is well known for his ability to cover the centerfield area of the outfield with deadly accuracy on opponent's fly balls. Coach Ronnie Jackson takes him as the best Avon Park centerfielder he has coached.

Last season the all-around athlete, who letters in football, basketball, and baseball, saw some action as a relief pitcher along with his outfield duties. This season he has pitched only in the alumni game due to having reported late from basketball action. As the only lefty on the pitching roster, Dale is expected to give the Red Devils some needed relief hurling as the season progresses and may be called on for starting mound duty.

Smart, intelligent baserunning is another of Dale's baseball assets. Starting the season as a lefthanded batter, Dale ran into some hitting problems and switched back to the right side of the plate after four games. His average has picked up and he is expected to continue to improve at the plate as the Red Devil battle for a top seeding in the Class AA District 13 tourney.

DuBose-Green On Probation

Two Avon Park men arrested on a hunting law violation charge have entered a nolo contendere plea and been placed on probation. Lowell Y. DuBose and Ronnie Green were arrested at the same time game officers charged two Manatee Counties with taking a doe deer at night with a light.

For Floyd Boyette it was a very dear deer. He was ordered to jail for 60 days. In a separate court action his shotgun, flashlight, knife, camper and the truck hauling it were all confiscated by the state.

State law provides that a hunter convicted of certain types of game law violations forfeits to the state any equipment which may have been used in breaking the law.

At 5'5" and weighing only 120 pounds, Jim Johnson is the second baseman on the Red Devil team for the second year. Quiet and reserved off the field, Jim is a muggle with his infield chatter during a game.

The intense, senior letterman gives the Avon Park team a one hundred per cent effort in each game. This season he is battling in the number two spot and is being called on to use the bunt to sacrifice runners around the bases very effectively. After eight games he had a .227 batting average and had scored 10 runs. He had drawn seven walks and is an important player to get on base with his aggressive baserunning.

As the season progresses, Jim is becoming more confident in his fielding. He is teaming with shortstop Charlie Pough to effectively tighten up the middle of the Red Devil defense. This should be Jim Johnson's most productive season on the Avon Park baseball team.

RED DEVIL PITCHER Steve Arnold was also effective at the plate last Friday night at Sebring as he drove in three runs with a double and single with Avon Park winning, 6-3. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

Other winners were Helen Griffith with a 22E in the first flight and Pat Smith with a 34E score in the second flight. A special 54 hole metal play tournament was held for the winter guests and with eight playing, Minium Redshaw from Canada was the winner with rounds of 90, 87 and 93 for a 273 total.

The weekly tournament play for the women's golf association was low gross and low net with the following winners: First flight, Gerrie Clark, gross and Mary J. Touchton, low net; second flight, Avis Sasser, low gross and Betty Marlow, low net; in the third flight Lena Wright, low gross and Pat Smith reported the low net.

Next weeks tournament play on Thursday, March 23 will be a flag event.

TOMMY DAVIS
Tommy Davis, 5'10", 160-lb. freshman from McLean, Va., is the regular centerfielder for the Panthers. Tommy was All-State in high school. He has a strong arm, good speed and swings a good bat. Tommy fractured a knee cap in a conference game with Folk Community College, but should return to the lineup in a couple of weeks.

Junior College Baseball Hitting Is Tops In State

South Florida Junior College swept a doubleheader last Wednesday in Clearwater from St. Petersburg Junior College to up their record to 10-5. John Sedick was the winning pitcher in the first game but needed relief help from Kirk Scherhorn in the fifth inning to preserve the 10-0 victory.

SFJC, ranked No. 1 in the State with a 322 team batting average, continued to swing the heavy bats with 20 runs and 20 hits in the two 7-inning games. Bill McMenamin and Dana Walstad each collected 2 hits in the opener and Randy Schlosser and Walstad drove in 3 runs each. Mike Vermillion and Schlosser had doubles in the alleys in the 2nd inning in which SFJC scored 4 times.

In the second game, Rick Harrison pitched brilliantly in stopping St. Pete on 7 hits and 6 strikeouts. Rick was extremely impressive in notching his 5th victory against only one setback. Coach Hill said, "No question, Rick pitched his best game of the year... he certainly impressed the dozen pro scouts that were on hand."

Mike Vermillion and Blane McDonald delivered the long ball as each powered doubles off the 42' centerfield wall at the Phillies complex. McDonald also picked up 4 RBI's for the second game. Bill McMenamin tipped his average to .355 with two hits as well as 3 RBI's.

SFJC had a 5 to 1 lead going into the top of the 6th then exploded for 5 runs to put the game out of reach. Dana Walstad had his 14 game hitting streak stopped in the second game but still kept his .376 average with a pair of hits in the first game. Charlie Faulconer, Blane McDonald, Larry Glass, and Bill McMenamin are all hitting over .350 through the first 15 games and Randy Schlosser is at .315.

To compliment the potent hitting which has been prevalent all season, SFJC put all phases of the game together. Defensively, offensively, and the important mental aspect of the game all blended as a unit in St. Pete as the hustling Panthers moved into second place in conference play.

Walstad was the leading offensive player as he went two for three at the plate, including a double, scored last Sunday SFJC traveled to Tampa and swept a conference doubleheader with Florida College. The first game saw SFJC clobber Florida College, 20-3, in a shortened six-inning game via the 10 run rule. SFJC scored with ease as they rapped out 17 hits, including five extra base hits.

The second game was also shortened. The five inning with the 10-run rule in effect as SFJC jumped on Florida College pitching again for 10 hits and 11 runs. All of the scoring was in the first and third innings for SFJC. Randy Schlosser walked to open the game and Blane McDonald singled. Charlie Faulconer then rifled his second home run of the day, his third in the last two days, to score Schlosser and McDonald ahead of him. The maroon third inning saw 11 Panthers parade to the plate to bang out six hits and eight runs. Blane McDonald had a double to start the inning and he finished the scoring in the same inning with a two-run homer over left field. McDonald had three hits and three RBI's for the game. Charlie Faulconer collected four more RBI's to run his total to 10 for the afternoon. Randy Schlosser added five strikeouts to run his total to 25 for the year. Sophomore Andy Riley, making his first start of the year, pitched superbly in blanking Florida College on five hits, three strikeouts and two walks.

Panthers Win 11-7 Over Oakland CC

Sunday, the SFJC Panthers defeated Oakland C.C. at SFJC, 11-7. The Panthers again clobbered opposing pitchers, this game for 19 hits. SFJC has now won six straight games and pushed its record to 14 wins against only five losses. All five losses have been by one run.

The last six games SFJC hitters have produced 76 runs and 79 hits and are now batting .336 to ranked No. 1 in the state in batting average. Blane McDonald leads the hitters with a .425 average, followed by Dana Walstad, .386; Larry Glass, .373; Bill McMenamin, .362; Charlie Faulconer and Randy Schlosser, .357. Randy Schlosser also has 27 stolen bases in 38 attempts.

Women's Slimnastics By Rec. Department

There will be a Women's Slimnastics Class offered by the Avon Park Recreation Department for all women in the area, each Monday evening from 8 p.m. starting April 4. The class is designed to instruct women on how to exercise to have a trimmer and healthier body.

Instruct women on how to exercise to have a trimmer and healthier body.

The instructor, Mrs. Donna Guenther, will lead the group in a series of simple exercises that will begin easy and progress to more difficult ones. She will assist each individual in pinpointing her own problem spots and demonstrate the correct exercise to tone-up that part of the body.

The group method, with partners, will be used because it is much easier and more fun to exercise in this manner. The class will only meet at the Center once per week for six weeks, but each individual is expected to take the exercises learned in the weekly meeting and do them at home everyday.

All women 15 years or older that are trying to shape up for the swim suit season, please sign up for this class by calling either 453-5221 or 453-6881 after 3 p.m. The first meeting is very important, so don't miss it. The fee for the entire six weeks is only $10.00 per person.

NEIL POTTER, HOLDING his three year old son, Neil Jr., and Bill Boyer (right) relax after the end of the 12 hours

Problems Plague Potter-Boyer In Sebring Race

"Lack of good top speed adjustment" kept racing drivers Neil Potter, Sebring and Bill Boyer, Avon Park from attaining the 7000 revolutions per minute in fourth gear from the Jeanie and Neil Potter 1970 Ford Mustang "Orange Nip Special," (number 44) during the 12 hours of Sebring race.

With 80 cars entered, Neil and Bill were in 62nd place at the start of the grueling 12 hour long race. With carburetor troubles they lost ground and at one time were back in 65th place. After many pit stops they were able to adjust some of the troubles out of the carburetor system but were still only able to get a little over 4800 RPM's in fourth gear.

By late afternoon they had gained back the place they had lost and in the final four or five hours they moved up to what several state newspapers stated was 32nd or 34th place. However, Bill Boyer said they wouldn't know until sometime this week what their official placing was when they will receive notice from racing headquarters.

A flat tire on the left rear wheel while 7:30 p.m. added to their troubles while Neil was picking up speed on the back straightway in third gear. After the race he said from the noise when it blew he didn't know if it was a tire or the clutch. But he made into the pits on the rim. The pit crew also put another tire on the now questionable left front wheel and they were back in the race.

Another problem that developed in the final hours was a small radiator leak. At each pit stop they would add more coolant and thus managed to keep the Boss 429 engine running cool.

At the 11 p.m. race end they had completed 142 laps travelling about 738 miles with Bill estimating, that with all the time loss in making pit stops, they averaged about 63 to 65 miles per hour and reached speeds of about 160 MPH on the straightway.

In commenting about the race Bill, said they drove in shifts that ranged from one to two and a half hours in length. In using between 200 and 250 gallons of racing fuel they paid $1.25 per gallon which was up 25 cents per gallon over last year's price.

If there had been a suitable place to test the engine and car for a day or two at high speeds Bill felt that they could have worked out the carburetor adjustment problems. As it was they had only a few practice runs before qualifying for the race.

What about next year? Bill said they were planning ahead for Sebring, but at this time they didn't know exactly what changes they would make in the '78 Mustang. And it is possible that Neil Potter, operating a Volkswagen garage and Bill Boyer automotive instructor at South Florida Junior college might enter a race at the Atlanta or Daytona tracks.

The pit crew helping to keep Neil and Bill running were: George White, David Cumming, Bill Agee, Bill White, Dennis Mikell, Larry Jernigan, Jack McLaren and Ricky Boyer.

Jayvees Take Sebring Game

The Avon Park junior varsity baseball team got creamed 12-2 in five innings by the Highlander Jayvees in Lake Wales last week but came back to take a 9-3 win over the Blue Streak "B" squad in Sebring last Thursday afternoon. The Devil "Bees" took a 3-2 record to Wauchula last Tuesday when they were to have played the Harder Jayvees in a return game over there. Avon Park defeated Harder 10-1 in the season opener here at Head Field.

This afternoon, Thursday, March 24, the Devil "B" squad will host the Lake Placid Green Dragons here at Head Field in a 4:30 p.m. game. Next Monday, March 28, the Avon Park Jayvee will play a night game here at Head Field against Sebring starting at 7:30 p.m.

Sebring 5
The Red Devil "Bees" unleashed a nine run attack against the Sebring Jayvees down at Fireman's Field last Thursday afternoon and then held on for a 9-3 victory over the Blue Streak "B" team. David Sisemore and Wayne Lewis teamed up to toss a nine-hitter at the Blue Streak while the Red Devils connected for 5 hits off their Sebring pitcher.

Jeff Williams slammed out a double and a single and Decaris Jones hit two singles to pace the Avon Park attack. Bubba Starling, Jeff Adams and Mark Steady added a single each for three Devils.

Sebring scored three runs in the top of the fourth and added two more in the top of the fifth before the Avon Park team closed off the Blue Streak scoring and took the 9-3 win.

Lake Wales 12
Avon Park 2

Avon Park gave up eight hits and committed six errors to the Lake Wales Highlander "B" team last week and got beaten 12-2 in a five inning game in Lake Wales. The Red Devils managed only two hits off the Lake Wales pitcher, Jeff Adams and Tim Cribb both singled in the top of the first inning when Avon Park scored its only two runs of the game.

Lake Wales scored one run in the first, two in the second, six in the third and three more in the last of the fourth frame to take the abbreviated game. Dennis Tondee and Andy Lanzing both hurled for Avon Park with Tondee taking the mound loss.

Kitrell Not Charged In Accident

In a report filed by Highway Patrol Officer Trooper J. E. Vann, Robert Kitrell, driving a 1961 Chevy pickup vehicle southbound on Arbrooke Road near Horse Hammock, swerved the vehicle to avoid an obstacle or object in the road.

The driver lost control of the vehicle with the truck going off the road. The pickup went through the fence and struck a tree. The truck rolled over two times landing on its wheels facing at a west-bound direction.

The passenger, Hunter Kitrell, was ejected from the vehicle on the first roll, and was struck by the vehicle. The driver stayed with the vehicle. There were no arrests or charges made.

Motor Stolen From Boat

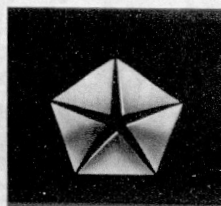

A bit of news passed out, at the Bass Busters meeting that member Carl Niebauer, had his new Johnson 15 horsepower motor stolen out of his boat that he had in front of his home on Jackson Lake, 1102 NW Lakeview Dr.

Should you happen to see a motor of this description, being used by someone whom you might question in your own minds eye, do not get into a conversation with the motor user, but try and find out the license plate number of the user's car. Report that, then to the lawmen of the area.

Fifth place finishes were won by Dorsey in the shot put and Conner in the discus and high jump. Robert Packer in the shot and Horace Moore in the high jump came in for sixth place awards.

"We were most happy with the fine performances turned in by our young men this week," grinned Coach Chet Brojek. "As we do each year, we are looking forward to the Florida Relays in Gainesville."

"Top performers in the Hardee meet last week were Charles Anderson and Alphonso Williams. The top performer in the Bulldog Relays for Avon Park was Reggie Baker."

Racquetball Tourney To Start

There will be a short meeting at the Recreation Center in Avon Park, Tuesday, March 29, at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is two-fold: The recreation Department will be starting a Ladder Tournament for all area Racquetball enthusiasts. Singles and Doubles divisions in both Men and Women categories will be played.

The tournament will be an "ongoing Challenge-type," tournament that will start April 2 and continue until August 1. The teams that have held the first place spots the longest in that period will receive awards. It will be open to all area players but you must be registered by April 18 to be eligible to receive awards. Also, at the meeting, the Department will form a County Racquetball Assoc. and choose officers for the coming year. If there are enough people interested, this association will be organized for the purpose of promoting racquetball in the area, making plans for expansion of facilities, and organizing area tournaments.

ANYONE INTERESTED IN JOINING THE LADDER TOURNAMENT OR THE ASSOCIATION, PLEASE ATTEND THIS MEETING.

MINOR LEAGUE UMPIRE James A. Knight takes time out to show a first time up Minor League player the batter's box during the opening game last Saturday afternoon. "Empty seats in the stands could be filled up with parents and spectators," stated Henry Dennis, League President.

Maps For Federal Flood Insurance Program

Preliminary maps for the federal flood insurance program are not to the county's liking.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Highlands County Commission, county administrative aide Charles Cullens recommended that the maps sent by the Pennsylvania firm doing the study be returned as unsatisfactory.

"Their study is supposed to be based on the 1975 county highway map, the U.S. geodetic study of Highlands County, and the county soil distribution map," said Cullens. "From looking at the maps they sent down, it does not appear as though they used any of that information."

He added, "It seems they were sending down old maps of Highlands County, and asking them to update them. This is what the federal government paid them to do."

Cullens said that the firm, Gannett-

Fleming, volunteered to send a representative down to discuss the matter.

The county agreed, and asked the firm to dispatch a representative.

In other business, the board tabled action on a request from Jim Fourman to supply land for a series of horsehoe courts.

Fourman said there are 40 persons from all over the county who forward information to the Chamber of Commerce indicating they are interested in organized horsehoes.

"We need a sponsor and a place to put the courts," said Fourman. He added that the cost of constructing each court is approximately $50.

Commissioners told Fourman that the only county-owned property with enough parking and access to restrooms would be at the Ag Center.

"I think the county should look around and see if we can find adequate land," said Commissioner Carl Arant Jr. "But I don't think the county should spend so much as a dime on the construction of the courts. It's far too small of an interest group."

Larry Davis, Spring Lake administrative assistant, offered to talk with Fourman, to see if any land might be available.

The county also agreed to study its holdings to see if an adequate area could be found.

In other business, the commission: — Approved a grant of $2500 for the recently-chartered Placid Lakes Fire Department.

— Awarded the exterminating contract for the courthouse to a Lakeland firm for $2399. An additional $220 was approved for an annual termite inspection, and eradication if required.

— At the recommendation of Welfare director Anna Dee Catanzaro, rejected approval of a state Community Food and Nutrition Grant, since it would "Cost more to administer than it would give us," according to Catanzaro.

— Delayed action a week on the granting of "special deputy" bonds until county attorney Robert Dunty could verify the legality of the deputies.

— Approved a $1,000 expenditure for the printing of a brochure designed to lure industry to Highlands County. The state will match the allotment.

— Heard that the Department of Transportation has placed the SR 64 bridge at the top of its priority list, and that DOT will not place a stop light at the Avon Park Square shopping center until "certain internal corrections are made in the lot's traffic flow."

Red Devils Take Frostproof In Tennis

Avon Park's boys tennis team moved to a 6-1 record last week with a tight 4-3 victory over the Frostproof Bulldogs here at the City Courts. Tomorrow the Red Devil netters will be at home again taking on the strong Lake Placid Green Dragon team at the city courts.

Lake Placid is the only team to beat Avon Park this year so far. The meet will be an interesting contest for local fans to view. Matches should start about 3:30 p.m. Next Tuesday afternoon the Red Devil boys will host the Mulberry Panthers.

Frostproof won the number one and number two singles last Thursday as Ken Joyner knocked off Ronnie Brock 5-7, 6-4, 6-3 and Carl Martin defeated Joel Wright 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. Mike Behal, Avon Park's All-Conference number three player, won his match with Jeff Huckabee by a score of 6-3, 6-1.

Eddie Garner, the Red Devil All-Conference number four singles player, lost, a three-setter to Nick Beaver 5-4, 4-6, 4-6. David Epstein won the number five singles match for Avon Park defeating Dennis Grice 6-2, 6-0. Tom Flemming, Avon Park freshman, won an exhibition match by a score of 7-5, 3-6.

Ronnie Brock and Joel Wright teamed up to defeat Joyner and Martin in the number one doubles match by a score of 6-3, 6-0. Behal and Epstein wrapped up the team victory for Avon Park with an 8-5 win over Beaver and Grice in the number two doubles match. Behal and Epstein are the 1977 Heartland Conference All-Conference number two doubles team.

155 Golf Score Not Good Enough To Win-Sandlin

Coach Fred Sandlin's Red Devil golf team lost to Hardee High by one stroke last week on the Wildcat home course at Little Cypress by a score of 154-155. The 155 shot by the Avon Park foursome was good enough to beat Hardee here at the River Greens Course on Monday of last week but the Wildcats trimmed down their team score to take the return match the next afternoon.

"We outshot Hardee by 15 strokes over here," moaned Coach Sandlin. "A year, or so ago a 155 team score would have beaten anyone in the area. Now we are shooting some of our best golf ever and still getting beaten."

John DuPriest came in at the Little Cypress Course with a fine two-under par 34 last week. Pete DuPriest shot an even par 36. Mark Palmer finished with a 41 and Craig Skipper had the fourth best score on the team with a 44 stroke effort. This week the Red Devils had three matches set. Last Tuesday they were to host Coach Guy Garrett's Lake Brantley foursome at River Greens and yesterday, March 23, the Avon Park team was to have played Haines City here at home. Today, Thursday, March 24, the Devil golfers will go to Okeechobee to meet the Brahmins on the Okeechobee Country Club Course. Next Monday, March 28, Avon Park will host Lake Wales at River Greens and next Tuesday they will go to Placid Lakes for a match with the Green Dragons.

Takes Florida Fishing Seriously

Doris Upell, who not too long ago, helped her husband manage a 700 acre Ohio farm, now takes her Florida fishing just as seriously. This bass she is holding weighed a bit over 5 1/2 pounds.

Doris is having it mounted just to show any doubting. Northern relative that she still has the patience and ability to catch big fish. To do a bit more proving she's even going to cut them in on a 'bass banquet' when she gets home in another month or so, for her bass will be frozen, the meat that is, and by carefully insulating it, every ounce of it will get back to her Liberty Center, Ohio, home, in perfect shape—even if there is not a blizzard going on then.

Mrs. Upell has fished pretty well all over Michigan and Ohio. She has come up with nice Northern Pike, bass and other good eating fish, but this is her first fish in the 5 to 6 pound class.

Doris lives here in Avon Park for the 4 winter months at 5 E. Kendall Boulevard. Her fishing companion here is Mrs. Nina Bickle, and the 2 fishergals are at their fishin' business several times a week, with most of their catching being done, right here close to town, in Lotela Lake.

For added proof of her fishing prowess, she'll have this story in The SUN, to frame and hang close to her trophy!

Living In A Small World Of Dolls

photos, text by Barbara Cornell

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip were given to Mrs. Oberst by her daughter as a Christmas gift last year.

There is just one moon and one golden sun and a smile means friendship to everyone. Though the mountains divide and the oceans, are wide. It's a small world after all.

Mrs. Delia P. Oberst's home in Avon Park would be considered by many children and adults as a small world.

She has over 100 dolls and most of them were on display during her open house March 6-13.

Mrs. Oberst has been collecting old and rare dolls for 42 years. Her love and enthusiasm for this hobby started when her mother purchased in 1912, a beaded buckskin Indian doll — cradle which held a white lasque doll.

Dolls, dolls and more dolls is Mrs. Oberst's hobby.

She takes great pleasure in making all of the costumes and often new bodies for her dolls.

One of the most exquisite dolls she rejuvenated is "Lady In Red". It is a black rag doll which did not have hair or clothes when Mrs. Oberst purchased it at a flea market.

Being very creative, Mrs. Oberst found an old powder puff, dyed it black and gave the doll an afro hair-do.

Her sons red silk handkerchief, which he used many years ago in magic acts, made the perfect frock. A small toy banjo from a 5 & 10 cent store added the finishing touch to the doll.

Among Mrs. Oberst's elegant dolls is Queen Esther, made by Mrs. Christine Barry, a doll artist in Sebring.

As a Christmas present last year Mrs. Carmina Missner, Mrs. Oberst's daughter, sent her two dolls Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip. They are reproductions made by Mrs. Marie Bright, well known artist in California. Each doll is valued at about $100.

Within the next couple of months she will begin rejuvenating commercial dolls in her collection, which will become noted women and children of the Bible.

She is very excited about taking these dolls on tours to different schools and churches in the area for children to enjoy.

"Ladies interested in beginning a doll collection, either for fun or as an investment, should visit doll museums. There is a lot you can learn from these about the doll-hobby," Mrs. Oberst said.

Four doll museums in the State of Florida are at Dundee, Winter Haven, St. Petersburg and one near Homosassa Springs. Each of these museums house about 1,000 dolls.

Mrs. Oberst is also a very talented writer. She has articles published in a new magazine, Doll World, which is bi-monthly and printed in Seabrook, N.H.

Queen Ester, one of Mrs. Oberst's elegant dolls, was made for her by a doll artist in Sebring, Mrs. Christine Barry. Mrs. Oberst made Queen Ester's dress from scraps of material collected over the years for the express purpose of making dolls clothing.

Stress Clinic Is Held At Walker Memorial Hospital Starting March 28th - May 2nd

Everyone is under some form of stress every day. We need a certain amount of it to motivate us, but too much stress in too short a time can be harmful.

If we are able to understand and recognize stress we may learn to cope with it. Under certain circumstances, too much stress can build up and it is then that we must be aware of the need for outside help.

You may wonder what stress is. It may be you have four minutes to get to the bus stop, and you can't find your wallet or your electric bill arrived today and was $40 higher than you expected. You had to buy a new starter for your car last week too. This is stress.

Stress can be classified as anything that threatens us, provokes us, scares us, worries us, or thrills us.

We are all under stress every day and a certain amount is good. Without it we would not think, move, get out of bed, or care. We need it, but we do not need an excess of it.

In order to deal with stress, we must understand how it works so we can learn to recognize and cope with it. We must also learn to recognize when too much stress becomes more than you can handle alone. Then, you need help.

Too many or drastic changes often result in harmful tension. For example, personal loss of loved ones or friends. A major illness or accidental injury. Trouble at work, getting fired or taking on a new job.

Budget troubles, large debts or loss of income. Changes at home, caused by pregnancy or family responsibilities. Retirement, enforced leisure and reduced income may combine to cause trouble.

A person can do a lot to keep tensions within reasonable limits by seeing your doctor of a check-up, talk it over with the people involved or a close friend, take a break no matter how short; learn to relax; exercise regularly; plan your work to use time and energy more efficiently.

Walker Memorial Hospital is sponsoring a stress control clinic starting March 28 and will meet each Monday night for six weeks. The meetings will begin at 7 p.m. and will be held at the hospital cafeteria.

There will be films, lectures, group discussions, physical tests and personal check-lists for the clinic. Also three local doctors and several of the hospital technicians will be working with projects.

The program is coordinated by Chaplain H. J. Bennett.

The class will be limited in size so it is suggested that you call early for a reservation, 432-7511, ext. 273 or 274.

These are a few of Mrs. Oberst's dolls in her collection. L-r Can Can dancer from Italy; "Lady In Red"; Clippo the Clown puppet, bought for Mrs. Oberst's son in 1939; Mountain rag doll pair, handmade by a doll artist in North Carolina.

10 Years Ago

After 42 years of service in Highlands County Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home announced it could no longer afford to provide ambulance service for the area.

A Tuberculosis Clinic proved to be very successful in Avon Park. It accommodated a large number of people both in the morning and afternoon. Folk and Highlands County Commissioners met to discuss fixing the bad road between Avon Park and Frostproof. They both agreed to cooperate in every way to get the road in first-class condition.

Charles W. Whitehead Jr., President of Avon Citrus Bank, announced that additional parking and at least three drive-in windows are planned, to better serve their customers.

25 Years Ago

The Senior class play "Night Must Fall" was a big success. The play was coached by Clayton Fields Jr., assisted by Miss Millie Pearson, Senior sponsor. The cast consisted of Jane Sagg, Joyce Murray, Morris Harper, Jeannette Teal, Eloise Harrison, Joyce Hill, Charles Best and Edgar Faber.

The new Public Library opened for inspection and was said to be a pleasant and inviting place. It was also stated as being a civic improvement of great value.

Tips On Buying A Lawn Mower And Cheeses

On The Consumer's Side

Question — My son wants to earn some extra money by mowing lawns this spring and summer. Can you give us information on buying a lawn mower that will be safe and efficient for him to use?

Answer — The U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that more than 50 adults and children are treated each year in hospital emergency rooms for injuries associated with power mowers. So be careful when you buy and use a mower.

Most accidents are associated with the following:

A. Contact with the rotating blade.
B. Propelled objects — wire, rocks, and twigs shot out either through the discharge chute or from under the housing.

C. Overturning — mowers with riding mowers which are used on steep slopes or embankments.

D. Mower running over the victim.
The U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission offers the following suggestions for the purchase, safe use, and maintenance of power mowers:

1. When purchasing mowers be sure it has a rear guard to prevent your hands or feet from coming in contact with the rotating blade.

The discharge opening should be aimed downward.

The handles should have "upstops" which prevent them from rising up when the machine hits an obstacle.

The engine exhaust should not be located on the same side of the machine as the discharge chute. Sparks from a backfiring engine could ignite a grass-catching bag.

Safety instructions should be provided with the mower, and there should be warning labels on the machine itself.

2. For safe use of the machine always rake away wires, cans, rocks and twigs before you start mowing.

Never mow a wet lawn because you could slip and come in contact with the rotating blade. The wet grass could clog the blades and tempt you to try to clear the machine without first turning it off.

Always turn off the mower when you leave it.

Never allow young children to operate power lawn mowers, and keep them away from the area when you are mowing.

Wear sturdy shoes and close-fitting slacks, never operate the mower in bare feet, sandals, or sneakers.

Mow across any slopes when using a hand mower. A riding mower, however, should be driven up and down the slopes for stability.

When using an electric mower, be very careful not to run over the cord or entangle it in the blades.

Wait a moment or two after shutting off the engine to be certain the blades have stopped.

Never refuel a mower while it is running or while the engine is hot.

Never refuel a mower indoors — the unseen vapors may be ignited by spark.

Start the mower outdoors, not in a garage or basement where carbon monoxide fumes can collect.

Do not smoke around the mower because the gasoline fumes can easily ignite.

Keep children away from the machines and the gasoline.

3. In the maintenance of your machine replace all loose or broken parts, especially blades.

Keep gasoline in a well-ventilated area (away from your living quarters) and in tightly capped safety cans.

Question — Can you tell me the difference between cheese and cheese food? I've seen both on the grocer's shelf and wondered if there was a difference.

Answer — The definitions for cheese and cheese food are as follows:

Cheese is made basically by heating pasteurized milk and producing a curd or solid mass. The whey, which is liquid, is then removed and the mixture is seasoned, packed in cloth lined hoops and after several days the cheese is dipped in hot paraffin to prevent drying out, then cured to develop the flavor.

Processed cheese (American, for instance) is made by grinding six parts to one of cured cheddar cheese and green cheese. This is then heated and mixed with water, salt and emulsifiers.

The advantages of processed cheeses are their good blending and slicing characteristics.

Processed cheese foods are prepared when milk or milk powder are added to the processed cheese. The milk is added to create a softer product, develop a milder taste and restore to the cheese some of the nutrients lost in the manufacturing process.

Processed cheese foods, which are generally soft and spread easily, are nutritious in their own rights.

Welcome to Southside Park
Community News. Well, Monday was the first day of spring, so welcome "Sweet Spring." After the longest and coldest winter, I have ever known, I certainly welcome the change from ice and snow (ha!
ha!) to sunshine and flowers.
Beginning next week, in order to add a little variety and spice to this column, I shall present pictures and give special recognition to those in this community, who are making worthy contributions and those who exemplify outstanding traits of character and leadership. Along with a committee of adults and a committee of students I shall give recognition to those who are most courteous, neatest in dress and appearance, and many, other categories at school and before the general public. The intent of this observation is to encourage those who are doing well to keep up the good work and for those who are not doing quite as well to pattern after those who are.

Church News:
The Apostolic Church of Jesus had a week of service
last week beginning March 14-18. The church soul was revived. I think the pastor was very much pleased with the attendance. The Lord blessed our soul. You could feel the presence of the Lord in the Church. Saints didn't want it to end.

Sunday School started at 10:30 Sunday morning. Deacon
A. Williams in charge.

Morning Service 11:30.
Deacon F. Conner presiding over devotion and testimony service. Different saints began to tell how they could feel God stretching out in them.

Sermon brought by Elder
Thomas Brown from Roman 12:1, 2, 16: 17, 18. The sermon was taught with power.

Evening Worship started
6:30 p.m. with Deacon F.
Conner in charge of the service. The Adult Choir Sang in both services. Elder Thomas
Brown preached from Acts 13:
22, 28 verses. These services were enjoyed by all. We had visitors from Detroit and Orlando. We would like to extend a warm hearty welcome to all visitors.

On Saturday, March 26 at 7:30 there will be a song Festival at the Church the public is invited.

On Sunday, March 27 at 3
p.m. there will be a program.
Come and help support this program.

I am sure some were home that evening with sore sides from laughing at the crazy fashions the girls modeled. Golda Dunn then read a beautiful verse pertaining to St. Patty's day. I am sure those who attended did enjoy the party. We ended up with cookies, punch, coffee, tea and more singing.

Riley Phelps ...A Friend Of The Bees

FlyCasting Is Oldest Of The Fishing Arts

Flycasting is the oldest of the fishing arts — with rod and reel. It is supposed to go back to the time when the Romans invaded Great Britain, a couple hundred years after the birth of Christ. The Roman soldiers were shown the sport of fly casting and fly fishing those many years ago.

Shakespeare got around to writing about it — and likewise fishing with flyrod, as diversion during the time he was compiling his plays and verse in England some 5 or 6 hundred years ago.

Game fishing in this country ran a very poor second, to hunting, up until about 1900. Prior to 1900, the flyrod was the gentlemen's fishing tool. Generally it was a finely made rod made by splitting a bamboo shoot into 8 pieces and then gluing them together. This process made the rod light and strong. Rods were made to about 2 or 3 times the height of the fisherman who would use it. At first fly reels were not used. A steel or wooden peg was put thru the rod a few inches from the butt end, from there several guides were wound up to the rod, spaced a foot or 2 apart. A last guide was fastened to the tip of the rod. Lines were usually made — out of linen. Later the last lines were of silk.

Fly reels came into the fishing picture in the early 1800s, and were very much like the single action flyreels as we know them today. Automatic flyreels came on the U.S. market some 50 years ago. The main reason for any reel on a flyrod, is that the reel or peg, acts as a storage receptacle for the line. It is not used for casting out the line. Nor is it used by good fishermen, for cranking in a fish.

The line is heavy and by whipping out the line and releasing line at the same time, when a correct number of feet are being swirled in the air, the heavy line, with the very light leader, on the end, takes the light fly for a ride.

When the line — and lure, are over the target area, the angler, allows the line to settle on the water. A very light test monofilament line is tied to the end of the line and then to the lure. Most lures are extremely light in weight and in color. The line and-or fish is retrieved by taking the line in by loops. Later it is wound onto the reel, to be ready for the next cast.

The fun and skill in fly fishing comes mostly in fishing for smaller fish, particularly trout. Many fishermen do a big job with it in fishing bluegills, shellcrackers and even bass with it. 'Ole Tom' Rabalais, who lives on the other side of Sebring Lake from me, who is quite the fly caster, as well as a radio caster, does right well in most of his bass fishing with a trusty fly rod. On hooking a small bass or even a medium 'speck' on a fly outfit, it makes a fisherman seem that he has a 'whopper' on the end of his line. So often fish will not hit on the conventional plugs or live lures, then a small spinner or popper, fished on the surface, could be an answer to exceptional angling.

Because there are many false casts in finally getting a lure out to the area you want it to be, a fisherman gets more exercise while fly casting.

I'd say there is more science and know how wrapped up in the art of fly fishing than any other type of piscatorial endeavor, then couple it up with the workmanship of making your own poppers, flies and spinners and you're really hooked and happy.

Try it sometime — and you'll see what I mean.

By Harve Kollman

A few weeks ago, we talked about growing worms in the southern part of Highlands County, about recipes made from worms. About the high protein in the menus, and about the cleanliness of the little crawlers, a sort of a choice and chance to learn more about the business thru a lady worm rancher-Dottie O'Dea. Now we'll let you in on another business you may want to consider. As a wife and husband project, and you'll both see that it could be developed into a honey of a business. With all the sweetness at hand, it could be the most perfect family partnership possible, especially if now and then there's a sour and bitter talk in the family. I'm talking about becoming a bee keeper.

Let's get down to business with a trip up to the Honey House on the north extremity of the county, just to the east of Walker Memorial Hospital, 1/4 mile south of Damon Lake on Gastor Road.

Riley Phelps is owner, chief engineer and chairman of the one man board. Riley has Bill Carlton for vice president and general handy man. The two men comprise the total human working force of the Honey House. For the moment we'll postpone mentioning the winged, 4 legged millions of Riley's all important work force, his Hymenopterous Partners!

Riley grew up this honey of a business, in Vermont. His father had been a bee man before him, but never on a scale as Riley works on now.

Remember, in those Northern states, bees gather honey in only 4 or 5 months, of the year, all depending on the length of a frost free season. However, bees are very important in the North country, for without those busy bodies, very little foodstuffs would properly mature. Distributing pollen is just as important to mankind as producing honey.

Other winged beings also distribute pollen, for instance the humming bird. Even the larger birds as the robins and blackbirds get in on the act.

To the average person, this bees and birds story was a time to just joke about. Riley told me that the easiest way to cause a panic in the food industry in this country — world, would be to destroy our bee population. An atom bomb might destroy the world sooner, but with no more effect. It's taken mankind thousands of years to learn some of these all important lessons. Here's hoping we can learn these facts soon, not on just the bee and humming bird, but on the lowly blackbird, the buzzard, and yes, practically all varieties of snakes, etc, etc the world over and under. Do you know that each leave or needle on every bush or tree gives off oxygen to help us breathe?

In getting help from Riley, to help in getting information on his bee business, he visited the auto has office workshop, that takes up the space of a basketball court. I was glad to get the invitation, for as we stood outside and talked, his sweet little pets were becoming a bit familiar, getting close to my ears, my lips and just all over. So inside we went sat down close to his desk, which must have been a signal for his workers to get close to us. I knew enough about not taking passes at them. With the bees close to my nose book, they could even have helped me in pushing my pencil around. Hundreds of the little buzzes must have been having the time of their pollen gathering lives. So far I had not been stung, but I would not bet that soon I would not be. (Be? NO Bees?)

In my Outdoors sports, I have stepped on a small rat, almost stepped on a good sized rattlesnake. While picking berries, I almost grabbed the paw of a black bear who was also picking berries. The same bush, but to be so close to thousands of potential life taking - and giving being with their power to destroy me! was new and news to me. For an hour with Riley I was not stung once and I do know what it is to be (bee) deflated. That happened a few years ago when I sat down on an inground yellow jacket nest.

Except on the hottest days, Riley wears a white, long sleeve jumper suit. Seldom does he use a head net, tho' he often uses a smoke puffer can in close quarters with his charges.

99 per cent or more of the bees are males; when a new queen is being raised, the workers could (both human and insect) become excited, Riley's smoke signals seem to pacify them. No he does not use marijuana, in the can, just some fairly dry punky wood chips — that he keeps plugging out of the spigot can like detergent out of a spray bottle.

While getting a few notes and pictures on Mr. Phelps' techniques, the State Bee Examiner called on the Honey House. Riley's operation - and pastures -

The male bees make a special food for their queen called Royal Honey. It feeds the queen as she lays eggs and later hatches out progeny to the tune of about 150 per honey cone.

All the time the male bees are filling the cone with honey. In Florida, this process goes on almost all year. In the northern states fewer months — all depending on the growing season length.

When the cones are filled, the waxed honey is cut from the cone and put into an extractor, which spins very fast, much like a spin dryer on a wash machine. Later the honey is strained and put into jars or pails and sold.

Most of Riley's honey is sold locally. Some is distributed to restaurants. Much of it is picked up by Highlands customers, other from as far away as Tampa, drive down and take home the Honey filled pails.

As the seasons advance, different varieties of honey are brought in by the buzzards. Citrus honey in Florida is the mainstay, and desired for its sweetness and clarity. The Florida holley tree as well as wild grape vines also are favorites for the bees and later for the human sweet tooth.

As far as I know, the county here, has a plants or establishments that gather and sell honey. Others come into this county and set down their hives for future honey gathering. Riley Phelps, at certain times of the year, trucks honey to other areas in Florida, in order to get for his buyers different varieties of honey.

In the hours I've spent with Riley Phelps and with his confectory friends, I've become more appreciative and concerned with the wonders of nature and God. But great is our dependence on this little creature, and how small is our appreciation, and often great, our ignorance of their labors. With so much levity intended, could it not be rated as a par with our emblem, the eagle?

Retail Fishing Licenses

Persons wishing to obtain a retail fish dealer's license do not have to apply in Tallahassee, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission announced.

Retail fish dealer licenses are available at any of the five regional offices of the Commission located in Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland and West Palm Beach.

The licenses are $5 for residents and $50 for nonresidents and are valid from July 1 until June 30. They are nontransferable and must be in the possession of the person to whom issued.

Wholesale fish dealer's licenses must still be obtained by submitting a written application to the Tallahassee office. These licenses cost $50 for residents.

A retail fish dealer's license is required for any person who is selling fish directly to the consumer or to a licensed wholesale dealer only. They may not buy fish from anyone but a licensed wholesale dealer. A retail license is also required for any person engaging in the retail sale of any bait minnows.

degrees is coming close in most Highlands lakes. The larger deeper lakes tend to warm up slower, while the smaller lakes usually warm up faster — at this time of the year. In the fall of the year it is just the opposite.

Porsches Sweep Top Ten Places At Sebring

By RICK MOYER

A pit crewman's error proved terribly costly to Peter Gregg and Jim Busby, but was all George Dyer and Brad Friselle needed to pilot their Porsche Carrera to victory in the Silver Anniversary running of the Sebring 12-Hour Endurance Race Saturday.

Gregg and Busby, who won the pole position on the grid in their new turbo-charged Porsche 934, took the race lead at about the one-hour mark and held it until 7 p.m., when the car suddenly lost its left front wheel shortly after making a pit stop to change tires. Gregg got the car back into the pits, but it was too costly minutes before the Porsche 934 was able to get back into the race. By that time Dyer, from Woodside, Ca., and Friselle, from El Segundo, Ca., had taken the lead. They never lost it during the final three and one-half hours.

The wheel came off the Gregg-Busby Porsche because, during a routine pit stop for a tire change, a crewman forgot to tighten the nuts on the wheel. The oil cooler and the intercooler to the turbo induction system also sustained damage when the wheel flew off.

"All races are exciting, but you have to put so much more into the preparation of an event like this," Dyer said from victory lane. "I kept looking over to Gregg's pits and I knew they were in trouble. We couldn't run any faster or any slower. Our plan was to run steadily and it worked."

But not everything pleased Dyer about the race.

"We had trouble with the GTU cars moving back and forth in front of us and actually struck the rear of one once. The track was terrible. We hit a lot of debris during the race."

Gregg, from Jacksonville, and Busby, from Laguna Beach, Ca., fought their way back into second after their long pit stop, but dropped to third after another lengthy eight-minute stop late in the race to repair a battered front end and the oil radiator. Third is where they finally wound up.

Second place went to Diego Fabelo, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, and Hiram Cruz, Miami, in a Porsche Carrera, fourth to Gary Belcher, Coconut Grove, and John Gunn, Miami, in a Porsche 934, and fifth to Ted Field, Newport Beach, Ca., Danny Ongais, Newport Beach, Ca., and Hurley Haywood, Jacksonville, in a Porsche 934. The Field-Ongais-Haywood car was the early race leader, but suffered engine problems shortly after noon and gave up the lead. The Porsche also began leaking oil late in the race.

Rounding out the top 10 finishers, which were all Porsches, were: Sixth, Porsche Carrera driven by Klaus Bytze, Weston, Ontario, Canada, and Rudy Bartling, Agincourt, Ontario, Canada; seventh, Porsche Carrera driven by Tom Frank, Anaheim, Ca., and Carl Shaffer, Wyoming, Ill.; eighth, Porsche 911S driven by Fritz Hochreuter, Don Mills, Ontario, Canada; Gerhardt Hirsch, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, and Reiner Brezinka, Toronto, Ontario, Canada; ninth, Porsche 911S driven by Ray Mummery, Coral Gables; Jack Referding, Pompano Beach, and Joe Hamilton, Sarasota, and 10th, Porsche Carrera driven by Charles Mendez, Tampa, and David Cowart, Tampa.

The Porsche 911S co-piloted by Hochreuter-Hirsch-Brezinka was the top GTU finisher in the race.

Dyer and Friselle averaged 101.322 miles per hour during the race, which lasted 12 hours and 33 seconds. The winners did 234 laps and covered 1,216.8 miles. Their margin of victory was five laps plus 39.867 seconds.

Gregg and Busby set a new qualifying record by racing around the 5.2-mile course at 112.994 miles per hour, erasing John Greenwood's mark of 111.470 miles per hour set in 1976 by Greenwood's Corvette. Gregg and Busby also set a new lap record late in the race by pushing their Porsche 934 at a speed of 111.799 miles per hour, breaking the record set by Hans Stuck in a BMW CSL in 1976 of 110.64 miles per hour.

A total of 40,000 spectators viewed the race on a hot Central Florida day. Temperatures near the pits reached 94 degrees, according to one race spokesman.

The race was a safe one, although there were some accidents. A Porsche 911 driven by Sen. David McClain, Tampa, and Dave White, Tampa, was T-boned by a Camaro on the Hairpin Turn. The right side of the Porsche was caved in and the car was retired to the pits. McClain and White had been leading the GTU division by two laps at the time of the accident and had set a new GTU qualifying record of 101.066 miles per hour.

A Porsche 911S driven by Jim Borsos, Long Beach, Ca., and Dennis Aase, Newport Beach, Ca., hit a guardrail during the race and wrecked on the course. Later, a Corvette driven by Javier Garcia, Miami; Jack Baldwin, Atlanta, Ga., and George Garcia, Miami, hit the inside of the pit wall, ruining the racer's suspension.

The most costly accident, however, was that to the Ferrari Daytona owned by Actor Clint Eastwood and co-driven by Jackie Stroh, Bill Bodnar and Milt Minter. The Ferrari had moved up into 10th place when it struck a dog on the track. Bodnar was driving at the time and the car sustained severe front end damage and retired to the pits. The mishap took place in the Esses and the animal was killed upon impact.

"We're very disappointed, but we'd rather lose than hit a dog," Stroh said. "Bob felt very bad about the whole thing. It looked like we'd hit a telephone pole because it was dead center to our car."

Race Promoter John Greenwood finally finished a race, but, ironically, it wasn't in a Corvette he owned. Greenwood and his brother, Burt, co-drove with Rick Mancuso in Mancuso's Corvette. The car got as high as second, but wound up 23rd overall after sustaining serious brake, electrical and radiator problems. But it still finished!

A total of 71 cars began the long event and only 29 were around 12 hours later to get the checkered flag.

Sebring's Nell Potter and Avon Park's Bill Boyer wound up 44th, doing 142 laps. Carburetor problems plagued the Mustangs in the early going.

The Lake Placid entry of a Camaro driven by Paul Bowden, Ken LaGrew and Jimmy Tumbleton wound up 41st, doing 122 laps. The car, however, wasn't running at the end. During the day it had suffered such major problems as replacement of the master brake cylinder, the changing of a gear box and the replacement of the transmission. Late in the race the brakes also failed.

Al Holbert and David Hobbs, who were expected to race here, didn't show up. Holbert's new Monza wasn't ready in time.

Actor Paul Newman did make the scene and co-drove a Porsche 911S into 30th place. Actor David Carradine also appeared at the track to watch his Ferrari Daytona race. The car, driven by Carradine's brother, Bob, and by John Morton, finished a very respectable 17th overall.

The total purse for the race was $35,000 plus contingencies. First place money for Dyer and Friselle totaled $6,400.

Race Notes: John Greenwood's new silver Corvette with automatic transmission was not ready to run by race time so he became a co-driver in the Mancuso Corvette.

Sebring was the first IMSA race for Bobbie Nylander and her husband, Gary, from Portola Valley, Ca., and the couple drove a Porsche 911S to an overall 12th place finish.

The first non-Porsche to finish was a Camaro which took 11th place. It was co-driven by Phil Francis, Clewiston; Eugenio Matienzo, Miami, and Tom Nowling, Clewiston. A Corvette was 12th.

GONE IN 60 seconds! The (an apt title, as the Gregg-Turner Turbo Porsche pulls into the pits for change of tires, gas and a change of drivers. (Sunphotos by Russ Dennis)

THE PIT CREW moves in, each man moving to his assigned position, as they prepare to change two tires, dump in 40 gallons of gas, inspect the suspension, wipe the windshield and change drivers.

WHILE THE PIT chief confers with Peter Gregg, crew members begin the process. The entire pit stop only lasted a fraction over one minute. Tires need checking here.

THE PASSENGER SIDE door opened to allow some of the heat trapped in the driver's compartment to escape.

Temperatures inside the Porsche reached well over 100 degrees.

JIM BUSBY TAKES over the wheel, as Gregg gives some last minute advice on how the car handled during the first laps.

The Porsche led the race throughout most of the race.

A FEW LAST DROPS of gas, and the car is ready to go. All the hard work on the part of both drivers and crew was to no avail, however, as the car threw a tire later in the race.

Rev. Frazier To Be Featured Speaker

The Rev. Wayne Frazier will be the speaker at the Special Sunday Night Lenten Services on March 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Avon Park. Frazier is the pastor of Faith Presbyterian Church at Merritt Island.

The topic of Pastor Frazier's sermon will be, "Worthy is the Lamb." A native of Pittsburgh.

First Aid Stressed By Local Red Cross

"First aid is a major emphasis for the Highlands County Chapter of the American Red Cross," stated Grover Johnson at a recent meeting of the committee working on the annual fund drive. He went on to point out that to help people avoid emergencies—and to develop skills to cope with them when they do occur—Red Cross Safety Programs offer courses on instruction by trained volunteers.

Instructions cover three subject areas: First Aid, Water Safety, and Boating Safety. These courses are progressively designed for students at beginner, intermediate or advanced levels. They provide skills and techniques as well as basic safety awareness and correct response to emergencies.

During the past year Highlands County Chapter of the Red Cross provided two courses for First Aid instructors with 42 persons certified. Many of these instructors have already taught courses. Thirteen Standard First Aid Courses were given and 217 certificates were issued. These courses included those for ambulance, police and firemen, school and college courses and those given for special groups such as mobile home parks.

In addition to these instruction classes, talks were given to a number of school, scout, church and other community groups. Many of these talks included demonstrations of cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Over 2,000 persons were benefited by these presentations.

Last year, Johnson went on to point out, the Red Cross, in cooperation with the American Heart Association and the National Academy of Science-National Research Council, developed a special course in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation for the families of cardiac patients, the general public, police, firemen and other rescue personnel. This training provided the critical skills in saving lives in several instances.

Plans are now being made for a course in standard First Aid and personal safety for members of the Sebring Women's Club. In making the announcement Mrs. Mabeth, club president, said she thought every family should have someone knowledgeable in First Aid.

The local Chapter of the Red Cross is presently conducting its annual Enrollment Drive for funds. The goal is $10,000. Contributions may be sent to the Highlands County Chapter of the American Red Cross, P.O. Box 1236, Sebring. For further information or offers to help call 385-8143.

Pa. Frazier is a graduate of Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., and Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary of Boston, Mass. He is married to the former Miss Jane Parsons of Lake Wales. In August 1975 the Fraziers went to the Faith Presbyterian Church in Merritt Island.

The special Sunday Night Lenten Services will continue through Palm Sunday, on

OUR PRAYERS ARE ALWAYS SUBJECT TO GOD'S WISDOM

Beginning with childhood, most of us have had the disturbing experience of praying for some specific object or occurrence, only to be keenly disappointed when our prayers were not answered. In the course of our lives, the repetition of such incidents can result in a gradual erosion of faith; and yet in each case the fault lies with us, because of our erroneous assumption that we always know what is best for us and therefore that our judgment is superior to that of the Almighty. On the other hand, we should not attempt to inform God of our genuine needs and problems, for He is already aware of them. At the Church of your choice you will learn that the right way to pray is to thank God for your many blessings and affirm your faith in His infinite wisdom.

When praying, don't give God instructions; just report for duty.
