Deer Released At Range

FREE AT LAST — John Barlow of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and helpers released two buck Florida white tailed deer on the Bombing Range last Thursday — The first a little slow getting out. (Photo by Lew Miller.)

The type of deer hunting that John Barlow does calls for quick action or a deer could die of shock in a few moments.

John was telling about the trapping of surplus deer at the Kennedy Space Center on Cape Canaveral, where no one is allowed to hunt. The wildlife center at the cape (Merritt Island) is well stocked to the point where the deer are considered a nusiance as they get on the launching pads and about 100 were road-killed last year.

The Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission according to John, would like to see a controlled bow and arrow hunt at the cape but the security at the cape is tight.

John and several more game commission men expected to start trapping deer about sundown when the deer come out to feed, however, a rocket shot was scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 16 and it was delayed by poor weather conditions until late in the day. This in turn delayed the start of trapping.

Eight foot nets were placed on poles must like a fish seine with the front open. When a number of deer move into the area, the game men turn on the lights of their vehicles, scaring the deer into the nets where they become entangled.

It is at this time in fighting to free themselves that a deer may die of shock. The game men quickly give the struggling deer a two cubic centimeter dose of a mild sedative that aids in calming them down for easier handling and placing in boxes for transporting. Last year only two out of 100 trapped deer died before they were sedated.

The deer at the cape are the same as at the Bombing Range, the Florida white tailed deer, weighing about 265-2u5 pounds when full grown. The two that John brought to the Bombing Range weighed between 225 and 250 pounds. They were not fat but were in good shape because of the plentiful acorn crop at the cape and because of the rye and grass plots that are planted at the cape.

Deer are normally trapped at the cape two or three times a year, depending on how many deer are requested, how many much money is budgeted for trapping and many other conditions. Two deer were requested for the Bombing Range because of relatively stable conditions on the range in regard to deer population and to available feed supplies.

These two deer were regarded as penalty deer because local game law violators were told by the judge to pay the state $175 for trapping and transporting each deer to the Range. But John Barlow felt they were getting off cheap as he believed it cost more than the penalty to trap and transport a deer to the Bombing Range.

Since the rutting season is over, the two buck deer brought to Avon Park, had already shed their horns and were healed over.

Trapping deer at the cape is done for other reasons also, such as taking of blood samples for comparison with other areas, parasite counts.

When released on the Bombing Range in the vicinity of the Morgan Holes, the two buck deer lost no time in putting distance between themselves and the human beings who freed them.

THE SECOND buck also lying down in the deer box was faster on the take-off with its powerful hind legs driving it away from its prison. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller.)

Fishermen's Trial

Trial of two "fishermen" for possession of marijuana moved into its third day Wednesday. Half of Monday was needed to select the six-person jury which is hearing the case against Blair F. Boyd, 24, and John B. Elmore, 23, of Miami. The state had presented most of its witnesses by the time court recessed Tuesday afternoon.

Boyd and Elmore were taken into custody July 10 at Placid Lakes airfield. Lawmen who spotted a plane being unloaded asked the men at the plane about their activities and when they allegedly told the officers they were handling a shipment of lobster they were placed under arrest for possession of salt water crawfish out of season.

Investigation of the "fishy" cargo turned up a substance believed to be marijuana and the possession of an illegal substance was added to the fishing charge.

A third man taken into custody at the same time, James D. Gurley, has entered a guilty plea to the charges.

Boyd and Elmore are being defended by William Moran and Roy Black, criminal lawyers from Miami. Tenth Circuit State Attorney Quillian Yancey was in Sebring for the opening of the trial but the state's case is being presented by Bill Fletcher, assistant state attorney for Highlands County. Judge Clifton Kelly is presiding.

Fireplace Back In Style

Before I even bot a home here, several years ago, I ordered a Franklin fireplace . . . and I was especially glad for the past week or so, that I did.

Anyone who has a source of firewood, can get a lot of pleasure, relaxation and cash saving in using an auxiliary wood burner. Either the conical or box stove type are good looking both as a piece of furniture or in the heating use of them.

Along with a small wood source, of course, a guy has to be handy in the use of a splitting ax and in the handling of a manual or chain saw. If one does not cut up his own firewood, then of course it has to be bought. Firewood like everything else, has gone up — but it is still cheaper that gas or oil.

Either type of fireplace may be bot in most large hardware stores or in department stores. Many of the local stores will install them, too.

If a home owner is a bit handy, with a few tools and safety in mind, he can do the job himself.

In my Northwoods camp I have 2 such fireplaces, that I constantly use, especially in the fall and winter, jut to take off the morning or evening chill, when I don't want to start up the gas furnace. The Franklin type, I believe is a bit more efficient, and safe too. However my conical type, which I use in a small room does a good job and with a screen in front of it I do not worry about sparks being thrown off and starting a fire. The Franklin type — of course it is the one that Ben invented — is as safe as a regular home furnace, for the iron doors on the front of it can be closed to tone down the heat, or closed at nite to make it 1000 per cent safe. I like both of them for the cheeriness of the open fire, and I don't believe there is any, household decoration or utility that can enhance a home any more than a fireplace.

Put in a regular brick or stone fireplace and the cost of it could run into thousands of dollars. One of these ready made contrivances, could cost less than $500 — all depending on the size of it, how fancy you want it to be, and wether you can install it yourself.

As I said before, it was extra handy this past week.

Harve's Hours For Best Fishing, Birdwatching

Water tempertures inched up about ⅛ of an inch on my fishing thermometer, which amounts to about 3 degrees Farenheit-and ought to amount to a few fish more, on most fishermen's stringers.

The temperature must be to the liking of our local bream (bluegills). About 58 degree for several of us got in on some good big 'gills'. Some of the best I've seen in years. Small worms, fished in water of about 3 feet deep, up fairly close to shore, added up to the good catchs.

Most fishermen give these large bluegills the 'nod' when it comes to comparring their taste, to any fresh water species, even our local big mouth bass.

In keeping these panfish alive-and in better eating shape, do not string them on the old rope stringer. As these fish are strung thru the mouth, then down thru the gills, the gills are kept open-and believed it or not, the fish drown. Buy a 'safety pin' chain stringer. As you catch these panfish string each fish, thru both lips. This keeps the mouth closed-hense much better, eating, fish. If the panfish are small, 2 of them can be strung on one 'pin', of these stringers.

Worcestor Gets Big Catch

Hailing from showbound Ashland, Ohio, Arthur W. Worcester came to this area Nov. 1, 1977 for his first year and expects to stay until about April first before returning to Ohio.

Staying at the Travis Apartments on South Lake Letta Drive, Arthur went out early last Thursday dispite the early morning chill.

Using his smallest zipper rod and reel Arthur was fishing in about 13 feet of water approximately 200 feet offshore with live minnows. Before 7:45-8 a.m. he pulled in a half dozen specs, 12 to 14 inches long and averaging about a 1¼ lbs., in weight, plus a 25 inch long 7¾ lb. large mouth bass.

Oh, that snow? Arthur said he received a letter from his daughter who is living in his home in Ashland. She had to get a tractor to push the snow away because being only five feet tall she had shovelled so much snow out of the driveway that she couldn't throw it over the top of the snowpile anymore.

ARTHUR WORCESTOR HAS both hands full after fishing in Lake Letta last Thursday morning. Using his smallest zipper rod and reel he caught the 7¾ lb. bass and the half dozen specs in the same spot about 200 feet offshore. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

Gobbler Season In Progress

The Lykes Fisheating Creek Spring Gobbler Hunt is now about 1-3 over. Hunters to date have registerd 15 gobblers, since February 1st.

The hunt of course, is closely controlled and very much an experimental project. Everyone taking part, must be registered in and given a permit, out of the Game and Fish Commission at Lakeland.

Some of the special regulations that must be adherred in this hunt are — that only one gobbler may be taken by one hunter in any 2 days. Total to date is 15 birds. The permits are given for 2 day stays on the area. Weekends and midweeks — Tuesdays and Wednesdays, then Saturdays and Sundays. Hunts start on those days, at sunup and stop at 1 p.m. Entrance is a stone road, just to the north of Palmdale R.R. station. A check in building, is about 200 yards to the west of the old station. It is also the only checkout point. Any birds that are shot must be gut dressed at this point — not field dressed, so biologists may make stomach inspections.

Dogs are prohibited. No fishing may be done, anywhere in the hunt area while this hunt is being held. No fires are alloud except at the designated campgrounds. No vehicles may be moved from sunup to after 9 a.m. No gun other than shotguns may be used. Size of shot must be no larger than number 4.

A map of the area, along with special ground rules may be had at the entrance gate.

Mark Yudeik, my young taxidermist friend and I, got out there early last Tuesday morning, but did not get to see a gobbler, nor did we even hear a gobble — but we did get in on a good day, just admiring and knowing that getting out in the great outdoors, is a treat. The Palmdale gate is only about 25 miles straight south, just off of 27.

Building The Skills Of America

by Barbara Cornell

The third week in February was a special week for members of the Avon Park High School Future Homemakers of America - Home Economics Related Occupations (FHA/HERO) Chapter, February 14-18, was National FHA HERO Week. FHA HERO chapters of Future Homemakers of America, across the country, planned observances focused on the theme, Building the Skills of America.

Future Homemakers of America is one of six vocational education youth organizations in The United States. Being a part of the junior and senior high school home economics curriculum, it provides meaning and motivation for youth working toward educational goals related to consumer home economics and vocational home economics education. It reaches beyond the classrom instruction into the home and community.

Future Homemakers of America was founded in Chicago, June of 1945, as the national organization for home economics students in the secondary schools, both public and private.

In 1963, Mrs. Violet Moseley, home economics teacher, founded the Future Homemakers of America chapter at Avon Park High School. Since that time Mrs. Moseley has been a very active sponsor and an insperation to the girls at Avon Park High School, thru her 24 years of dedication to this organization.

During this special week the Avon Park High School FHA-HERO chapter planned activities to include faculty and students.

Monday was Carnation Day. Members delivered carnations which gave a teacher or faculty member something nice that they had made.

Thursday was the Valentine's Party for faculty members. During the party were purchased by students to give to their sweethearts or friends.

Tuesday and Wednesday were designated as Doobie Days. Members they found out who they received their presents from during Doobie Days.

Color and name tag day was Friday. Each member wore red and white with name tags.

Also on Friday the Avon Park Chapter announced that Buddy Hunter was their FHA/Hero sweetheart.

Chapter members delivered carnations on Monday morning. CindyWoodardwas caught delivering one to Margaret Miracle from a secret friend or admirer.

Greeting faculty members at the door o f the Valentines Party was Cindy Woodard and Gina Johnson. They gave band director, Vic MicKunas, a big smile and wecome.

First Of Six Ministers Will Speak Sunday

Pastor Eric Moore

The Reverend Eric Moore will be the first of six ministers who will speak in a series of special Sunday night Lenten sermons at the First Presbyterian Church in Avon Park. The subject of his message on Sunday night, February 27 will be: "The Glorious Purpose of Christ's Humiliation."

Born in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Pastor Moore served as a lieutenant with the U.S. Air Force in Germany. He was a student at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago and is a graduate of New Tribes Bible School.

The pastor of Highlands Gospel Fellowship in Sebring, Pastor Moore is gifted in presenting Biblical truth in every day terms.

What's Your Greatest Need Topic Of Christian Lecture

A Christian Science lecture in Avon Park February 27, 1977 will call for increased individual effort "to bring thoughts and actions into accord with what God created man to be."

William Henry Alton, C.S.B. of New York City, will point out that crime, dishonesty in government and politics, pollution and sexual permissiveness — serious worldwide problems — are rooted in man's willingness "to settle for a self, controlled by evil."

To heal sin, Mr. Alton will tell his audience, "is to recognize man as the embodiment of God's qualities and therefore as sinless, secure and loving."

"When we accept that man in inherently selfish, weak, violent, animal-like, we're accepting an upside down universe as the reality."

The lecture is entitled "What's Your Greatest Need?" It is being presented in the Christian Science Church

William H. Alton

Avon Park Lakes at 3 p.m. under the auspices of Christian Science Societies Avon Park and Sebring. It is open to the public without charge.

Mr. Alton formerly held a number of executive posts in the oil industry and other international development enterprises.

In 1957 following assignments for Nelson A. Rockefeller and as administrator for the Rockefeller Brothers Governmental Studies, he resigned to devote full time to the healing ministry of Christian Science.

A teacher of Christian Science, Mr. Alton served as Executive Administrator of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, from 1969 to 1973. He is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Series Of Sermons For Presbyterian Church

The Lenten Season will be the occasion of two series of sermons at the First Presbyterian Church in Avon Park. The two series of Lenten sermons will begin on Sunday, February 27. "Getting the Best Out of Life" will be the theme of the sermons at Sunday morning worship at 11 o'clock. "The Significance of the Cross" will be the theme of the six Sunday night Lenten sermons at 7:30 p.m.

The Lenten Sunday morning sermons: "Getting the Best Out of Life" are based on the Beatitudes of Christ in the Sermon on the Mount in Matthew 5. The topics of the messages are: "The Poor in Spirit", "The Mourners", "The Meek", "The Hungry", "The Merciful", and "The Pure in Heart."

A Lenten Folder distributed to the congregation stated: "Do the sermon topics sound like a consolation prize for the defeated; or a pale sickly piety which is out of touch with reality in today's world?" The Folder further states: "Jesus spoke the Beatitudes upon which these sermon topics are based to vigorous young men. Jesus knew life, and the kind of life most worth living. In the Beatitudes He points the way to get the best out of life.

The series of six Sunday night messages on "The Significance of the Cross" will be delivered by six ministers. Five of the ministers are pastors of the Florida Presbytery of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church. The ministers are: The Reverend Grady Oates of Bartow, The Reverend Henry Lewis Smith of Winter Haven, the Reverend Bob DeWitt of Lake Placid, the Reverend Wayne Frazier of Merritt Island and the Reverend Harold Probes of Tampa. The Reverend Eric Moore who is also participating in the Sunday night series is pastor of the Highlands Gospel Fellowship of Sebring.

A cordial invitation is extended to attend the services.

Puppets To Perform At Fellowship Church

The Rev. Webb Chenault, director of Child Evangelism Fellowship in Dade County, will bring his puppets to Fellowship Baptist Church to entertain and teach Bible truths on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 25-27. An accomplished magician as well as a ventriloquist, the Rev. Chenault will delight both children and adults with his magic tricks.

Brother Chenault has given the last fifteen years to Child Evangelism Fellowship. He organized and pioneered the work in Fort Myers and while there established the Child Evangelism Bible Book Store. The next four years were spent as State Director for C. E. F. in Alabama. He has been in Miami six years.

Even though Brother Chenault's ministry is directed primarily to children, adults enjoy it as well.

Friday and Saturday evening services will start at 7:30. Sunday services are at 9:45, 11, 6, and 7 p.m.

World Day Of Prayer March 4

We hope that you are planning to be a participant in the service to be held at the Union Congregational Church, U.C.C. on Friday evening March 4th at 7:30 p.m.

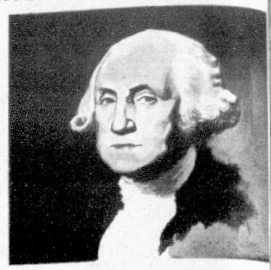

This service will be part of a world wide service that starts as the day begins in the Islands of the Pacific and ends on our west coast some hours after we meet.

Christian women all across the world join their hearts and voices in prayer and praise confirming their oneness in Christ. The topic developed this year is "Love In Action".

IN WAR OR PEACE, WASHINGTON PRAYED TO GOD

George Washington was a great deal more than just a military leader and a great statesman. He was a composite of all the dedicated patriots of his day, whose character traits included a willingness to risk everything they had in order to gain this Nation's freedom, and an absolute reliance upon God's guidance. Washington prayed for it during the darkest hours of battle, and he continued to seek it after he had attained the presidency. Moreover, his writings prove that he was a great believer in religious freedom of choice. Honor his birthday and follow his example by attending the Church of your own choice regularly.

"He...was strong in faith, giving glory to God; And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform."
— Romans 4:20, 21

Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection...
— George Washington

Highlands County Is Effected By Court Ruling

No major hitches should develop in county court procedures here as a result of Florida Supreme Court's new restrictions on nonlawyer judges.

Highlands County Judge Mark Richardson Jr. is one of the sitting judges who is not a member of the Florida Bar. However, Judge Richardson has been studying in the nonlawyer legal training program which University of Florida has been conducting for county judges in the state's smaller counties. This program., which covers three years of study will graduate its first class in June.

Judge Richardson said that between now and his graduation in Jun. defendants appearing before him will be advised of their right to have their cases handled by a lawyer judge. He anticipates that many defendants will waive that right. Those who do prefer to have a lawyer judge will have their cases heard on virtually the same schedule now on the court calendar.

Judge Richardson explains that six of the eight judges who handle county court chores in the 10th Judicial Circuit — Highlands, Hardee and Polk counties — are lawyers. The circuit's chief judge, Clifton M. Kelly, asked Judge Ed Threadgill of Polk County to handle scheduling of the county court judges.

Judge Richardson had set up pre-trial conferences for Feb. 16 with the next round of trials set for March 2, 3, 4. He said he expects Highlands County Court to be able to adhere to those trial dates.

In a lengthy opinion handed down Feb. 10, Florida Supreme Court ruled that the Gideon decision extends to defendant's right to have his case tried before a judge. (In one of its most famous decisions the United States Supreme Court ruled that each defendant has a right to be represented by a lawyer).

Judge Richardson said the U.S. Supreme Court has, several times, side-stepped the issue of whether Gideon extends to the presiding judge in criminal trials. Judge Richardson had, however, anticipated that high courts would be ruling on the question. He said he said he believes that the Florida ruling "is all for the good."

He said that when the current class of judges studying at the University of Florida gathers next week, the class may decide to ask the Florida Supreme Court for a re-hearing on the nonlawyer issue.

He pointed out that a half-dozen counties have new county judges who have not yet begun the three years of special study now required for nonlawyer judges.

The court ruling does not invalidate all procedures conducted by nonlawyer judges prior to the couret's decision, nor does the nruling require that each judge be a law school graduate or a member of the Florida Bar. It requires "some legal training".

Besides Highlands the counties with nonlawyer judges are Baker, Calhoun, Citrus, Charlotte, Dade, Dixie, Duval, Escambia, Flagler, Franklin, Glades, Gulf, Hendry, Hernando, Holmes, Jackson, Lake, Lafayette, Liberty, Madison, Nassau, Okaloosa, Polk, St. Lucie, Santa Rosa, Sumter, Walton and Washington.

On the theory that small counties might not have lawyers to fill the judicial slots, Florida law permits election of nonlawyers for the county judge post in counties of less than 40,000 population.

The law requiring that judges in all other counties be lawyers allows judges sitting when the law became effective to retain their posts and to run for reelection (hence Dade County has non-lawyer judges alt hough it obviously does not fit into the small county category and Highlands has a newly reelected non-lawyer judge although it has passed the 40,000 population mark).

The Florida Supreme Court decision, written by one of Florida's newest Supreme Court justices, Alan Sundberg, states, "It is clear that a judge who is ignorant of the law cannot afford due process of law to an individual facing imprisonment upon conviction."

Besides Richardson the only other nonlawyer on the bench in the 10th circuit is Polk County's widely known G. Bowden Hunt.

Hawkins To Speak

Paul Hawkins, chairman of the Florida Public Service Commission and sole Republican state official, will be speaker and guest of honor at the Highlands Republican Women's Club meeting Thursday, March 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lions Den in Sebring.

The public is invited to hear Mrs. Hawkins speak on "The Craft of Politics." A reception with refreshments will follow the meeting.

Gracie Thompson Completes OCS

Navy Ensign Gracie L. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moore of 1491 South Carolina Ave., Avon Park, Fla., has been commissioned in her present rank upon graduation from Officer Candidate School (OCS).

OCS, located at the Naval Education and Training Center, Newport, R. I., is designed to prepare students to assume the duties and responsibilities of commissioned officers.

During the 19-week course, candidates studied the priciples of leadership, manpower management techniques, navigation and communications. They additionally studied Navy history, traditions and missions; the structure and organization of naval commands; military courtesy; uniform regulations; seamanship; and the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

A 1975 graduate of the University of South Florida, Tampa, with a bachelor of arts degree, she joined the Navy in July 1976.

SWERVED INTO TROUBLE

An Avon Park man received an estimated $800 in damage to his car when he swerved to avoid an unknown vehicle on SR 700 in Sebring.

The Florida Highway Patrol said Roger D. Holbrook was southbound when he swerved to avoid a car which pulled into his path. He left roadway, traveling 65 feet before hitting a telephone pole and a sign.

Trooper J. E. Vann investigated the Feb. 20 incident, but made no arrests.

School News

Eighth Grade Starts Orientation Program

By Patti Sicard

The Eighth Grade Orientation Program started at the Avon Park High School on Feb. 8.

Mrs. Everett, the guidance counselor at the Middle School, arranges transportation, student files and the groups.

The eighth graders arrive at APHS every Tuesday in groups of about 40. There will be seven groups when the program is over.

The students are assembled before they are sent over to the high school. They are given a schedule sheet and a list of courses available along with the required classes.

The student orientation schedule begins at 9 a.m., with a 30 minute talk on school policies and introductions of guidance counselors and their jobs.

The counselors and students get together and set up schedule cards. They are then toured around the school. After that the visitors are assigned to a friend or relative for three periods including lunch. They leave the high school at 2 p.m.

Last year was the first year that the program was tried. The faculty wanted the program even though it causes some inconveniences.

When the new school year begins, there is a lot less confusion of new students wondering where they are to go. It also takes the fear out of the first day in a strange place.

The program will probably be repeated next year due to the success of this year and previous years.

Programs Available For Students who Need Help

By: Cindy Aspinwall

Avon Park High School has a variety of programs for students who need individual help in some subjects. One of these programs is the Educational Developmental Laboratory or the EDL Reading Lab which began in February of 1976.

This is a program for students reading at least three grade levels below average. These students cannot function in a regular English class, so this program was developed to help them progress at their own speed on the appropriate level for each student.

The emphasis is on skills which they will need every day rather than a college preparatory approach. The student uses a variety of machines which present vocabulary words and skills in different ways. They work on speed, comprehension and basic skills needed to survive in our society.

There are approximately 130 students in the program. Mrs. Morris Adams has 40 students, and Mrs. Nan Dressel has 90. Mrs Adams teaches two periods a day. Mrs. Dressel teaches four periods a day and she has been teaching years. She really enjoys teaching this program and feels that the only improvement that this school needs is smaller classes.

Since this program has not been in operation very long, it is hard to determine the progress that has been made. This year each student entering the program was given a reading test to determine the level on which he was reading, and then a post-test will be given at the end of this year to determine the progress each student has made.

This school is very lucky to have a variety of programs such as the EDL and SLD labs to help meet student's individual needs.

Three Complete Correctional Training

The Department of Offender Rehabilitation has announced that Avon Park Correctional employees, Robert E. Lee, Charles H. Padgett, Jr., and A. L. Wear, recently participated in the Correctional Training Institute at Raiford, Florida.

This is the eighth group to enroll in the minimum standards curriculum which is required by law. The Training Institute program is taught in conjunction with Lake City Community College, and the graduates earn nine semester credits for successfully completing the full time 160 hours course.

The program includes instruction in the Criminal Justice System, Legal Aspects of Corrections, Operational Procedures, Principles of Supervision, Human Relations and Technical Training Skills which includes Firearms, First Aid and Fire Fighting Techniques.

The Correctional Training Instiitute was certified by the Florida Correctional Standards Council (CSC) in May, 1976, as a training center for correctional personnel. The Council was empowered by the Legislature in 1974 to establish minimum standards for the certification of correctional officers and training centers. The curriculum of training is designed to intensify the exposure of the officer and to develop him professionally. It is anticipated that the training program will help materialize the promise of a modern correctional system.

The participants will continue their training with an additional 160 hours taught by regional instructors, on an in-service basis, at the various correctional facilities located throughout Florida.

COME SEE THE HOMES THAT WILL BE FEATURED ON NATIONAL TV

Our mobile homes have fire-resistant gypsum drywall interiors. It makes a difference you can't see.

Our Mobile Homes by Champion Home Builders Co. are built by a 61-plant company with 24 years of mobile home building experience. And, Champion is the only major mobile home manufacturer that uses gypsum drywall in all of its models. Drywall comes in pastel colors or woodgrain finishes (for beauty), yet acts like drywall (for peace of mind). Drywall has been awarded a Class "A" flame-spread rating. It is the same type of material used in the majority of site-built houses today. Drywall interiors, including ceilings . . . it's only one of the reasons that our homes by Champion Home Builders Co. are today's greatest home values! Let us show them to you.

The Fat Steer Sale Is Held At Highlands County Fair

This year's Highlands County Fair Fat Steer Sale went off without a hitch, as buyers took advantage of the opportunity to purchase some fine animals.

The Grand Champion Steer was raised by Mike Ashton, 16, of Lorida. He is a junior at Sebring High School and resides on Arbuckle Creek Rd. The 13-months of tender, loving care that he lavished on his steer paid off handsomely, as the animal was purchased for $2,000.90 by the First Bank of Lake Placid.

Avon Park residents did well at the fair this year, as Robin Clenney picked up the Charolais Trophy. Robin also placed first in the weight gain contest. Jimmy Bennett took the red ribbon in the swine show, placing behind Jeff Kuhn of Sebring.

Bennett's hog was purchased for $195 by the Avon Citrus Bank.

The Highlands County Bank purchased a steer raised by Mike Layport, while the Avon Citrus Bank bought animals from Susie Maxwell and Debbie Casey.

To 4-H'ers and FFA members the real fair is centered around the Junior Livestock portion of the Highlands County Fair. It is the culimination of weeks and months of planning and caring for projects from Flowers and vegetables to chickens, pheasants or rabbits and pigs, dairy heifers or beef steers.

As fair time came closer project activity speeded up in getting the animal ready for showing at the fair-washing, currying, brushing and in the case of the dairy heifers and steers teaching them to stand and get use to people milling around.

Having a 4-H or FFA steer project doesn't necessary mean that the animal will be automatically entered in the county fair. A livestock screening committee turned down the steer of an Avon Park YOUNGSTER, AS TOO LIGHT. Four steers from the county were turned down from the same reason.

In the showing, the animals were graded for quality and handling, the same as in a fat stock show. The grand champion award went to Rudy Ashton, Lorida on his 1070 lb. 13 month old Braford steer, a Brahman-Herford cross. Rudy also ran a repeat performance by taking the showmanship award for the second year.

The Reserve Grand Champion ribbon went to Andy O'Neal, Lorida for his 968 lb., 11 month old Braford steer.

Perhaps more emphasis should be placed on an award that is often overlooked. That of weight gain per day during the 180 day feeding time. Robin Clenney, Avon Park captured the prize and trophy as her Charolis steer registered a 3.11 lb. per day gain. Robin also received the "Best Charolais steer in the fair " award.

The girls showed their feeding ability in the weight gain per day contest with Shareen Lyn Childs, Lorida taking second with her steer gaining 2.43 lb. per day and Linda Payne, Sebring (3rd) having a 2.34 lb. gain on her steer.

Shareen Lyn also walked off the fitting and grooming award with her steer.

Interested in dairy projects appears centered in the southern part of Highlands County with a strong 4-H dairy club that has been holding dairy cattle judging classes every Saturday morning at the H & H Dairy in Venus and coached by Veterinarian, Dr. John Causey. The class sessions paid off as five placed high in the West Palm and Tampa Fairs.

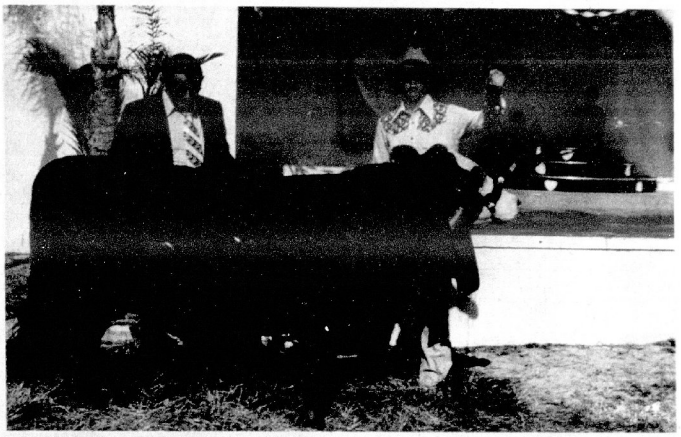

Not to be left out are the boys and girls who have poultry or rabbits or some other project either in 4-H or FFA. Their project is just as important to them as the beef steer or dairy heifer is to their owners.

The glamour of the Junior Fair is often tied to the Livestock auction as every beef steer feeder at the beginning of the project entertains some thoughts and dreams of circling the show and sale ring with a Grand Champion walking off with top money for their work.

Picture if you will a young steer owner waiting nervously with a steer outside the sale ring knowing what price per pound the steer must sell at to break even or calf costs, feed costs (often at 100 lbs. per bag prices) and other costs sometimes including a loan at the bank.

Several steers ahead have

Parasites Said To Be Plaguing Area Cattle

ROBERT SCARBOROUGH OF Lake Placid (1) admires his angus "Fats".

The record-breaking cold weather that killed pasture forages, resulting in emergency conditions for Florida cattlemen recently has produced yet another problem for producers, report scientists with the University of Florida's (UF) College of Veterinary Medicine.

The poor nutrition of cattle has increased the effects of internal parasites, bringing severe economic loss and some deaths, according to Dr. G. W. Meyerholz, Extension veterinarian, and Dr. Richard E. Bradley, veterinary parasitologist, with the UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS).

When feed supplies and nutrition are poor, Dr. Meyerholz says, resistance to these parasites is decreased and the affects can overwhelm the animal. Also, internal parasites increase the need for key nutrients such as potassium, phosphorus and protein and additional feed is required to overcome the deficiencies.

Stomach, intestinal and lungworms are common problems in Florida, Dr. Bradley notes, but their effects are magnified by the recent poor range conditions. The gastrointestinal parasites attach to the lining of the stomach and intestines, sucking blood and interfering with normal digestion and nutrition.

Anemic, debilitated animals may be too weak to walk and may die, says Dr. Bradley. And lungworms may cause poor appetite, loss of weight, coughing and rapid breating. Calves which become too weak to eat or stand, may go down and die.

Dr. Meyerholz and Dr. Bradley recommend that cattlemen consider deworming their cattle with drugs at this time.

"Treatment of cattle to reduce internal parasites is good management in any year," Dr. Bradley says. "Good returns in better feeding efficiency, rate of gain, reduced disease losses can be expected for a reasonable cost."

But during periods of nutritional stress, the burden of worms is critical, he emphasizes. Deworming with one of the available drugs can help considerably to improve the condition of animals and pull them through until additional feed is available.

While several good products are on the market, thiabendazole or tetramisole are commonly used, Dr. Meyerholz says. Both are relatively non-toxic and available as drenches, boluses, or as pellets that can be used in the feed.

Thiabendazole is also available as a paste that can easily be administered in a way similar to using a caulking gun, he adds.

Tetramisole is the only product approved for use against lungworm, he points out. It can be injected under the skin where it is absorbed systemically and is effective when used in this manner.

While several other effective products are available, cattlemen should consult their local veterinarians on use and availability, Dr. Meyerholz suggests.

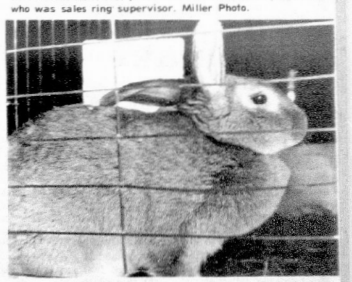

Supplemental feeding is also important to supply proteins, energy, vitamins, and minerals to meet nutritional requirements, he advises. Molasses based supplements and other feeds can be used.

Lions Club Collect 250 EyeDonations

Highlands Countians and other Fair visitors are to be commended for their response to the Avon Park Lions drive for eye donors. The drive was conducted from the Club's booth in the Commercial building at the Fair grounds. Because of this response, the Eye Bank wil receive about two hundred fifty eye wills at its scheduled mid-week meeting attended by representatives of the Avon Park Club.

Corneal transplants, so vital to the restoration of sight under certain conditions, may be performed only when and if donor eyes are available.

It should be doubly gratifying to those who cooperate in this Lions program to know that someone may see long after the life of the donor; or, that research on eye tissue not used in the transplant procedure directs the medical profession to more and more successful treatment of other serious eye problems.

The Eye Bank booth at the Fair was set up and operated by the Avon Park Lions Club as a community service in the field of sight conservation. They stress, however, that public participation is the key to any measure of success their programs may achieve and gratefully acknowledge the willingness of Highlands County Fair goers to help them in this particular effort.

Homemakers Week Held At Avon Park High School

By: Cindy Aspinwell

Last week was F.H.A.-Hero (Future Homemakers of America Home Economic Realted Objectives) week at Avon Park High School. There were a lot of activities going on all week, and the F.H.A. Sweetheart was picked Friday. This year's sweetheart is Buddy Hunter.

The following activities took place last week:

Monday was Carnation Day. The F. H. A. played cupid by delivering flowers to people for whom carnations were bought.

Tuesday and Wednesday were Doobie Days. Each F. H. A. member picked a teacher and took small presents to them all week. Presents ranged from being pratical to unusual and silly. At the end of the week teachers were told who their doobie was.

Thursday found the FHA as hostesses for the faculty Valentine's party. The FHA members brought refreshments and served them to the teachers after school.

Friday was F. H. A. - Hero Color Day (Red and White). The F.H.A.-Hero members were asked to wear red and white.

Aside from FHA-Hero week, the FHA has been busy all year long. The FHA was involved in helping with the swine flu shots and the FHA-Hero district meeting took place at Avon Park High School.

The F.H.A.-Hero Chapter of Avon Park High School, sponsored by Mrs. Moseley, has been very busy this year, and they will continue to keep up the hard work all year long. We should be proud to have such a dedicated group of people at the high school and wish them the best of luck in future activities.

Steer Sale

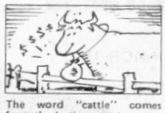

sold at a low price and the young steer owner's apprehension and nervousness starts the steer to uneasiness as they enter the sale ring. The steer may become uruly in the ring and buyers may knokch a few more cents off the sale price.

The businessman buyer may not wish to keep all of the beef or pork or even a dairy calf, thus a resale price based on the sale day's livestock market price is taken as a base. This base or "Rail" price is substracted from the auction price and the difference can be charged off as advertising.

It it weren't for the support of many local businessmen and individuals more than one 4-H'er or FFA'ers would not only be heart broken at losing an animal that often has become a pet but would also lose his or her shirt on one of their first business experiences.

The word "cattle" comes from the Latin capitale meaning wealth or property. At one time it meant all domestic animals. Now it is used only for bovines.

A camel has three eyelids, World Book Encylopedia reports. Two outer lids with long, curly lashes which keep sand from blowing into the animal's eyes, and a thin inner lid which blinks to dust off the eyeball.

Bonnie Brae Mobile Park News

BY MARGIE WELLS

More than sixty residents gathered in the rec hall for our Valentine's Day dinner, and no one went away hungry! The rec hall had been decorated with cupids and hearts and delicious ham was served along with all the covered dishes. Rozzie Parkhurst gave newspaper account of a former resident who is blind and what she has accomplished in spite of her blindness. Olive Bechtel gave two humorous readings and Argus Sheridan read one of Mark Twain's stories. The program concluded with the men singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" to their wives. The committee in charge of arrangements deserve a lot of thanks. This committee was composed of Ellen Hunt as chairman, Lorene Campbell, Anne Griffin, Leila Kinch, and Jane Rabideau and they did a great job.

Last Wednesday we had to set up more chairs as we had a full house for the coffee hour. Rev. Boyer read the "Commodore's Prayer" and Joe Asher finally got to finish a joke without Rev. Boyer beating him to the punch line! Everyone really had a good time and we hope to have a full house again this week.

Varina and Joe Asher joined the Mervin Mohlers and Paul Dotson of Benton, Kentucky, in Punta Gorda where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl St. Marie. While the women went shopping, the men, joined by Max Wheat enjoyed two days of golf at the Punta Gorda Golf Course. The men are all former members of the Kiwanis Club in Kentucky.

Speaking of golf, Lou Veddar was walking two feet off the ground as he came out of the club house at River Greens golf course last week. He had just finished shooting a round of 77 and it was no wonder he was all smiles. Nice going, Lou!

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mallinger visited Mr. Mallinger's sister in Miami last week. This week, the Mallingers have as guests Mrs. Mallinger's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shaumacher of Baltimore, Maryland.

Part 3 of the Webster's "Touring the U. S. A." series was shown last Friday night, with slides being shown of the southwest, California and the West Coast. They showed the ascent over the Sierra Mountains via the tragic Donner pass, down the Western slope into California into the Yosemite Valley and Bryce and Zion National Parks. The ghost town of Calico was shown which described where the western emigrants lived and the type of territory they had to overcome.

The arid plains of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona made the blue waters of the Pacific Ocean a most welcome sight. Slides were shown of a Spanish Mission, San Francisco, Oregon with its rugged coast line, and finally Seattle and s glimpse of the World's Fair.

Next week additional slides and more details of California and its vacation spots will be narrated by Sally and Steve Bohaychyk.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl W. Smith of Fredricton, New Brunswick, Canada, are visiting with Maude and Al Wilson for a few days.

Varina and Joe Asher visited Joe's sister, Mrs. Louis Hukle, in Tampa recently and attended the Gasparilla parade.

Gerda and Cecil Messinger, enjoying opportunities of this area, were guests of Dorothy Carroll this past week. They were in Winter Haven to shop at the Sears Mall and eat a Duff's Smorgasborg. They returned on Monday evening to attend the concert given by the Heritage Singers.

Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mallinger were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fleming and Mrs. Ethel Barris from Detroit, Michigan.

Thelma Miller, and Myrtle and Earl Montgomery of Frostproof were guests of Roy Podewels at Duff's Smorgasboard in Winter Haven on Friday at a pre-celebration of Thelma's "39'th" (Plus) birthday. Thelma said this is a grand place to eat if you're on a diet!

Recently callers in the home of Verda Miller were her cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lockhart, of Toronto, Canada. Verda's aunt, Mrs. Ed Kelly, of Gray, Sask., has also been visiting with her.

On Thursday, Dorothy and Karl Hart entertained Karl's niece, her husband, and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Don Keirn, Kis and Kandy, of CColumbia City, Indiana. They all had dinner at the Jacaranda Hotel.

Alonso and Ann Clay of Mansfield, Ohio, stopped by for a visit recently with Varina and Joe Asher. The Clays are staying in a mobile home in Auburndale, Florida, for the winter.

Margie and P. D. Wells spent last Saturday in Winter Haven visiting with Margie's parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Harsh. They all had dinner at Duff's Smorgasboard.

The regular pinochle group met at Mary and Cedric Weirman's home this week. Those attending in addition to the hosts were Helen Dyce, Thelma Miller, and Ethel and Max Putman. It was also a celebration of Thelma's birthday. It seems that Thelma has had an extended birthday celebration.

Don't forget the Mobile Home Association meeting this week on Thursday, February 24, at 2 p.m. at Gracey's No. 2 in Sebring.

THE AVON PARK City Council is still undecided as to whether to allow a second fixed base operator at the city airport. The council tabled further action on the issue Monday evening, pending a further ruling from the Federal Aviation Agency. Hancock Claims Renfro's Lease Is Invalid

The Avon Park City Council Monday evening declined to take any action towards settling a dispute between Highlands Aviation, Inc. and the city over the firm's right to expand into an airport fixed base operation.

The city contends that Highlands Aviation, owned by James Renfro, does not have the right to become a fixed base operator because there isn't enough business at the airport to support two such firms. City Attorney Jack Hancock also contends that a 15-year lease granted to the firm by the city is not valid because Renfro had deleted a clause that would have prevented him from competing with the established fixed base operator, Avon Park Flying Service.

The lease in question was signed by Mayor Marshall Davis and City Clerk Malcom Crews, who claim that they did not know the non-competition clause had been deleted.

Highlands Aviation presently is in business as an aircraft building and repair center, however, Renfro states that he feels there is enough business for two full service aviation facilities. A fixed base operator is allowed to sell aviation fuel, operate flight communications, give flying lessions and perform other aeronautical functions.

Although city council members seemed to feel that Renfro obtained his 15-year lease under suspicious circumstances, the Federal Aviation Agency has apparently ruled that non-competing clauses cannot be included in leases with private businesses on public property.

Avon Park Flying Service, owned by Don Gossick, started operation in 1968. Since that time, it has been the sole fixed base operation at the airport. The firm's original lease containes a paragraph which states, ". . . this lease does not grant to Leesee an exclusive franchise as a fixed base operator on Avon Park Municipal Airport, but Lessor will not grant a lease or franchise to any other fixed base operator or anyone proposing to engage in any of the activities of a fixed base operator, unless the Federal Aviation Authority or an independent expert agreeable to Lessor and Lessee shall determine that such an additional operation is needed for the development or safety of the airport and unless the proposed additional operator shall install facilities similar in size and scope to those being supplied by the Lessee."

Although the paragraph stated that the city was not granting an exclusive franchise, the FAA has ruled otherwise. In a letter addressed to Crews from the FAA, it was pointed out that the paragraph in question was a restricting clause in the lease agreement. "We have reviewedthe covenants and agreements contained within the . . . lease between the city . . . and Avon Park Flying Service (and) paragraph 5 . . . of this lease in effect grants an exclusive right to the lesee and if the lease is currently in effect, (it) must be revised to eliminate wording which governs the lease or franchise to any other fixed base operator by any means other than reasonable qualifications or minimum standards."

Members of the Avon Park Airport Committee were present at the meeting Monday and were asked by the council to make a recommendation on the issue. Don Serdynski, Chairman of the committee, replied by saying, "We really don't have a recommendation to make to you , because...we don't know all the facts and it seems to me that the problem here is that you have two parties- the Avon Park Flying Service and Highlands Aviation who each feel their position is right and then you have the city and I'm not sure just what the city's position is at this point. I don't see that we can...advise you that (either one is right). We don't feel that this is our job."

Hancock felt otherwise, however, as he claimed that the basic question in the case was whether competition between two fixed base operators would be desirable for the airport or not. "I think that is very much within the function of the airport committee to advise the city if the airport committee feels at this time if there should be more than one fixed base operator." Hancock added, "Then, it is

Zoning Change May Be In Offing

The county zoning classification "General Use" may soon go the way of the passenger pigeon.

At Tuesday's Highlands County Commission meeting, the board came to the conclusion that the classification, which allows property owners to do absolutely nothing with their land, was unnecessary.

The discussion began when a rancher in the Avon Park Lakes area complained to the board that she wished to sell two ten-acre parcels of land to buyers who wished to place homes on them.

When the buyer attempted to secure a building permit, he was informed that a permit could not be issued for General Use land.

The owner said the land is part of a large cattle pasture, all of which was fenced in and used for cattle long before the county zoning was completed.

"We checked the maps after this came out," she said, " and discovered that half the pasture was zoned for agriculture, and the rest for general use. We never knew, because we just assumed it was all zoned for agriculture."

The entire board readily sympathized with her plight, and Robert Skipper maintained "I've been trying to get rid of the classification, since we started zoning. It's good for nothing."

County attorney Robert Dunty said, "Under the ordinance, the land has to be zoned properly in order to obtain a building permit. But, GU means you own

Telephone Company To Spend $38 Million In '77

United Telephone of Florida has estimated it will gain 26,000 telephones in service this year and will invest more than $38 million for construction of new and upgraded service facilitie s, according to Charles Bryan, the company's Northern District commercial anager.

Bryan said that more than $4 million would be expended this year in Highlands County for 26 large and small construction projects. The largest was a new electronic central office, now under way at Spring Lake representing a $1.8 million investment.

Other planned work includes 15 various cable projects, according to Bryan, most of them in heavy growth areas such as the Bombing Range in Avon Park, Highlands Park Estates, SR 70 W and Sylvan Shores in Lake Placid.

"Overall, the company had a fair growth year in 1976", added Bryan. "Despite an uncertain economy, we recorded a 7.3 per cent net increase in telephones in service, adding 17,668 for a year-end total of 258,341. In Highlands County, we gained 1,076 of that total, for an above-average 4.4 per cent rate of growth.

During 1977, Bryan estimated that Highlands County will have a 1,840 net gain in telephones, bringing its total to more than 28,198 by year-end.

United Telephone of Florida serves all or part of 13 counties in the south central and southwestern parts of the state. Officials said the company has invested more than $170 million for facilities construction over the past four years.

The company employed 290 persons in Highlands County as of last Dec. 21.

Jet Pilot Escapes Injuries As Craft Crashes In Field

An F4E aircraft from Homestead Air Force Base crashed Tuesday afternoon, March 1, in an open pasture two miles north of Crewsville Fla. The two man aircrew ejected from the crippled aircraft at approximately 1 p.m., while on a training mission at the Avon Park Air Force Bombing and Gunnery Range.

The two crew members, Captains David L. Heiman, 30 years of age and Gary L. Haseloh, 29, were picked up by a helicopter from Detachment 10 of the 39th Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Wing from MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, and flown to the U. S. Regional Hospital at MacDill.

Capt. Heiman from Witchita Falls, Tex. was uninjured and Capt. Haseloh from Harvard, Neb. is being examined for possible back injuries. A board of officers will be convened to determine the cause of the accident.

Beane Resigns From His Civil Service Post

The Secretary of Avon Park's Civil Service Board, Melvin Beane, has tendered his resignation.

Beane's resignation was officially accepted by the Avon Park City Council Monday evening. It was effective on February 21.

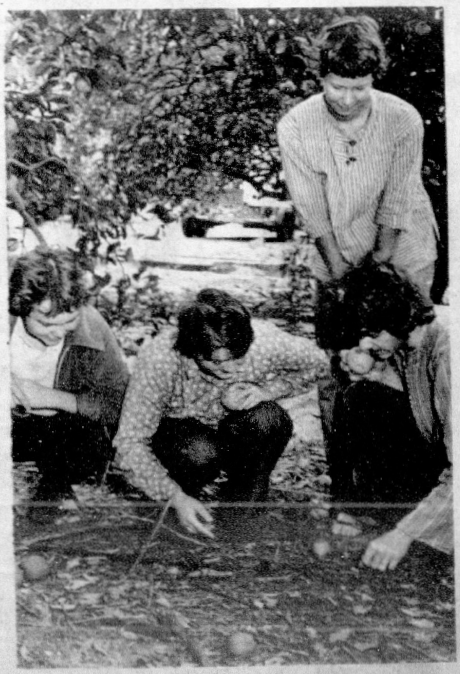

Beane, who was unavailable for comment, did not state any reason for his resignation in a letter to the council.

Beane was the only member of the civil service board who was opposed to the resignation of former city policeman Frank Weems, stating at the time that he thought the matter was not handled properly.

Council members had leveled some criticisms at members of the civil service board, after that body voted to reinstate Weems after a lengthy hearing on charges of conduct unbecoming a police officer. Those charges were leveled by Robert Brooks, Chief of Police. Just prior to Weem's offer to resign if given all back pay, the council appeared ready to demand an investigation into charges of violations of the state's sunshine law on the part of the civil service board. Those charges were contemplated after the board reached a decision on the Weem's case in a closed session.

All charges were dropped, however, when Weems made his resignation offer.

The council decided Monday not to appoint anyone to replace Beane until a complete list of candidates could be complied.

Editor's Viewpoint

by Russ Dennis

The idea of cleaning up Avon Park seems to have met with approval, as a gentleman stopped by my office last week and expressed enthusiasm for the project.

Recently, the Sun encouraged local citizens to band together in an effort to spruce up our town, a project that could become an annual event.

Leon Bauernfeind of 151 Southland Court likes the idea. He is now in the process of forming a committee to coordinate the clean- up day. He was thinking of naming the group the Avon Park Community Pride Committee.

If anyone is interested in joining Bauernfeind in the endevor, they should get in touch with him, as he is seeking someone with the know-how to head the committee.

Perhaps the city council would see fit to donate some trash removal equipment, manned by volunteers, to aid residents in removing trash from streets and yards. In addition, the Air Force, National Guard and local construction companies could be contacted to see if they could spare a truck or two.

Local civic and fraternal organizations, church groups and Scouts would be likely to offer their services, if they thought the project had merit. In fact, the community clean-up should be just that. A chance for homeowners, merchants and organizations to give their properties a good spring cleaning, knowing that volunteers would be around to haul away the junk.

Many communities make this kind of thing an annual event, complete with refreshments donated by grateful merchants, who realize that a good clean-up is going to benefit everyone, including themselves.

Another aspect of this type of project is the tremendous amount of civic pride that will be generated when citizens take the time and effort to do something for their city, besides reside there.

I have seen the results of such a clean-up type project and they are well worth the effort. Not only do citisens get a chance to make their town a better place to live and work, they also get the opportunity to work shoulder to shoulder with their neighbors. There is nothing like a little work to get to know and appreciate the fellow who lives down the street or on the other side of town.

We have the bell and the cat is waiting, now all we need is a group to implement the idea. Any takers?

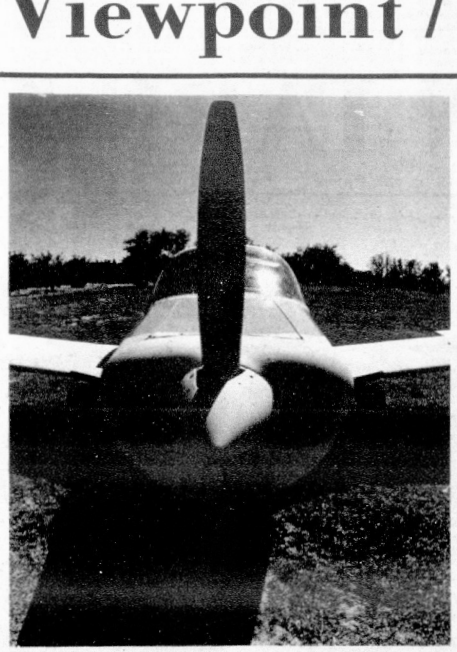

Letters to the Editor should be addressed to the Avon Park Sun, Box 1117, Avon Park.

THE QUESTION OF whether the city council should allow a second fixed base operator at the Avon Park airport is still unanswered. The controversy may have to be settled in court. Sunphoto by Russ Dennis.

Let's Answer The Question

The Avon Park City Council this week displayed a remarkable ability to skirt a sensitive issue, when they tabled further action on the Highlands Aviation, Inc. requests to become the city's second fixed base operation at the airport.

A lot of dust was tossed into the air, however, the real question: should the Avon Park City Council be put into the position of regulating private enterprise- was left unanswered.

It should be stated at this point that the real issue here is between the city and Highlands Aviation. Avon Park Flying Service is not involved, as they are operating within the framework of their lease with the city.

The question that keeps coming to mind is why? Why is the council so dead set against a second fixed base operation? Common sense would dictate that a businessman is not going to waste time and money starting an operation that he feels will not succeed. The city has no business trying to decide if there is business enough for two. When they declined to take over full responsibilities for the operation of the airport, they also signed away their right to govern free enterprise at the facility.

A question was asked of the council by a member of the audience at Monday night's meeting . . . "Just what does the city have against Highlands Aviation becoming a fixed base operator?" A good point, but one that was not answered.

There were mouthings of ungentleman-like conduct on the part of Renfro in obtaining a second, 15-year lease on certainairport property. What real difference does it make The FAA has ruled that exclusive franchises cannot be granted, so who really cares if the clause was deleted from the document.

It is our feeling that the council is allowing itself to be manuvered into a position where a clear violation of the law will result from their decisions. We are sure that the council has no criminal intent, nor is it corrupt, however, we do feel that city government is ill advised on this matter. If it comes to that, the issue will have to be decided in court, but that is a sad comment on local government.

As we stated last week-the cream comes to the top and the very stimulus of competition will undoubtedly benefit everyone involved.

If the council could only come up with reasonable arguments against the establishment of a second fixed base operation, then our stance could be different, but to try and prevent a law abiding citizen from expanding his place of business, in an attempt to make a better living smacks of repressionism-something we have no use for in Avon Park.

We appeal to the council to rationalistically review the facts in the matter. If they truly feel that a second fixed base operation would hurt the airport's operation, then they will have to rule accordingly, however, if they believe that free enterprise is the backbone of our system, then they will wash their hands of this matter and allow Highlands Aviation the chance to prove its point.

We do agree with one point brought up by a member of the airport committee-the established firm has, indeed, had enough time to build a solid business, therefore, it no longer needs the protection afforded by an exclusive franchise.

The argument advanced that Renfro's original intent was not to offer full aeronautical services is a moot point. Times and situations change rapidly in the business world. The real issue remains to be grappled with-What valid reason can there be to prevent anyone from attempting to conform to the American norm.

We again reaffirm our position on this matter. The city of Avon Park has no business trying to regulate free enterprise in this situation. The only result of such action will be a slur on the reputation of a fine and dedicated body of men who have taken the time to become involved in city government.

Things Out My Way

Alice Smith.

We lost a friend and neighbor last week.

Eddie Singleton's death came within a few brief hours, following the classic onset of chest pain.

He was a flyer in the early years and came, with his wife Billie, to Avon Park in 1941, serving as a flight instructor and flight commander at the Lodwick Military Academy until 1945. He was with the I.H. Ford Motor Company for fifteen years, worked briefly at the post-office and has been associated with Flo-Cal for the past eleven years.

Ed singleton didn't quite fit the statistics covering the average American male. He was seventy-seven years old, looked twenty years younger and held down a responsible job. He had a spare, wirey frame without an excess ounce of fat; he neither smoked nor drank, but regarded those who did with indulgence. They said his heart "fractured" — splintered beyond repair — and it somehow seems outrageous that this should be so.

We have lived next door to the Singletons for almost eight years and the friendship between the two men took a long, slow time in the building.

A quiet, almost taciturn, man, Eddie was, perhaps, basically shy. But then, how often could he find someone to talk planes and flying with him; I suspect that was his first love. The common bond they finally discovered was Western novels. The paperbacks moved back and forth between our households at the rate of five or six a week. They began holding good conversations in the yard and at Christmas time Ed finally came to our house for a small holiday party.

Now we are sad that time ran out on a slow-blooming but solid friendship.

Happy landings, Eddie.

Interviewpoint

A possible confrontation between the U.S. and Uganda seemed a likely question to generate conversation in Avon Park this week, as our government watches developments in the African country.

This week's question: Do you think that the U.S. should send armed troops into Uganda to protect American citizens?

Al Smith, 10 West Wolf Street. "Yes, if harm is going to come to Americans, then send in the Marines. Idi Amin is crazy. I don't think we should draw out any negotiations. It's time the U.S. got tough."

Misty Hooper, 144 North Butler. "Yes. They deserve the same kind of protection in Uganda that we have in America, after all, they are still Americans, even if they are living or working in Uganda."

Ralph Snyder, Lotela Apts. "Yes, I think we should send troops in as a last resort. Negoiate first and try to work things out, but if that fails, then send in armed troops to protect American lives and property."

Mrs. Julia Hunter, 447 Billyhill Rd. "If we do send in troops, it should be done descreetly. This is another country and Africans have a right to their own rulership, but we should send in troops if American lives are threatened."

Letters To The Editor

Unbiased Editorial

Dear Editor,

We would like to express our appreciation for the fair and unbiased treatment which we received due to the article which appeared in this week's paper.

It is unfortunate we must live in a "status quo" environment and be subject to power politics, when all we are seeking are our rights to freedom of expression and pursuit of happiness, as set down in the laws of this land.

I trust you will look for and fight corruption within our local government on other issues as well as you have ours. You have our best wishes and esteemed respect for not only reporting the facts but for going on record in your editorial concerning our plight.

Thanks again for your diligence in this matter.

Sincerely yours,
HIGHLANDS AVIATION, INC.

Editorial Expressed People's Views

Editor:

Your excellent editorial on the Airport controversy was well written and expressed the views of many of the citizens in this area.

I am just sorry that the Airport Authority and the City of Avon Park has opposed the operation of Highlands Aviation.

What if someone decided that we didn't need but one service station, one hardware store or one automobile agency?

Mr. Renfro is an energetic young man who has invested quite a sum of money in his operation and I think that he should be allowed to offer this type of service.

Bank Gave Profit

Dear Editor,

We feel the people of Avon Park should know that Avon Citrus Bank supported us at the Highlands County Fair Steer Auction. Avon Citrus Bank not only gave us a return on our investment of feed and care but also a sizeable profit.

We have worked hard this year, raising our steers and it makes it worthwhile when a community organization such as the Avon Citrus Bank buys our steer. It encourages us to work harder next year, and brings other young people to a rewarding hobby.

A Big Fire

Dear Editor:

Being friends with the people who occupied 220 East 1st Street in Avon Park, I was quite surprised by the story in the Avon Park Sun of Thursday February 24th. First off, William Martin died in 1974, his widow, Charlie Mai Martin, was lucky enough to escape from the fire with only the clothes on her back.

Charlie Mai, incidentally, might be remembered as portraying herself in "A Day Without Sunshine" which was telecast nationwide (except strangely, Central Florida) some time back. Her life has not improved recently it seems, coming out of the fire without even a pair of shoes. Adding to her worries she had only arrived home from a stay in the hospital suffering from pancreatitis a few days earlier.

Another change to be added to the news story is that there were two so-called unidentified men instead of just one. What makes this noteworthy is the heroism of John Gibbs, who after breaking out a heavy window and escaping, returned to pull a burned and cut Willie Harrison from the blazing house.

Having been in the house many times before, I have often wondered why people are allowed to live in houses where the walls and ceilings are made up of cut-up old cardboard boxes to keep out the cold. Possibly in this remarkable world-renowned affluent society of ours we could develop a means of providing low income housing that does not discriminate and is geared to handle seasonal farm laborers that it now rejects.

Incidentally, due to the non-caring roles of the food stamp office and others, including the mayor's office, Willie Harrison is without any of the means to live. Charlie Mai, John and Willie are in particular need of pillows, bedding, household necessities and food. They can be contacted at 119 East 1st Street, Avon Park. C'mon hearts of Avon Park, show yourselves.

Business Briefs

Common Cause of Florida has called on the state's congressional delegation to vote to limit outside earnings for congressmen to 15 percent of their salaries. The House is slated to take up that measure and others in a proposed ethics code this week.

United Growers has said that hope is fading day by day that freeze damaged Valencia oranges can make up the difference in the state's depleted frozen concentrated orange juice reserves. The organization has used the freeze as evidence that the industry should carryover almost 100 million gallons of frozen concentrate each year to maintain supply.

Senate President Lee Brantley has confirmed that he has asked the st ate Ethics Commission to investigate his involvement in a non-emergency ambulance business.

Brantley's request came after several news stories said he used his power in the Senate to boost a company in which he had a financial interest. The company allegedly used its inside knowledge to cut into the operation on an existing firm run by a Jacksonville paraplegic.

American's personal income grew 7by the smallest margin in 1 and one-half years last month, due in large part to economic dislocations from the severe winter weather.

Double Ceremony Unites Camp And Dennery

A wedding long to be remembered for its beauty and awe inspiring uniqueness united Laura Alicia Camp and John Nicholas Dennery in holy matrimony, Saturday, February 19, at the First Baptist Church of Avon Park.

Amid a profusion of candlelight, the Rev. Aden D. Childress performed the double-ring ceremony and the Rev. John E. Zanidacuias officiated in the Greek Orthodox service.

A program of pre-nuptial organ music was presented by Mr. Jerrold Perkins and vocal selections were by Mrs. Eric L. McDonald, sister of the groom.

The background for the impressive ceremony was exceptionally beautiful. The kneeling bench was accented with a cascade of white blossoms, Jade and leatherleaf greenery tied with white satin ribbon. Directly behind this was the altar for the Greek Orthodox ceremony bearing the crowns, an open Bible, silver tray and a silver tricandlesabra.

A standing arch of white tapers illuminated the background. Centered in the loft was a white column supporting a massive arrangement of white gladiolus and crysanthemums. Tall stately white grecian columns accenting the garden setting were flanked by sparkling candlelabras with burning white tapers laced with greenery. Cascades of white mums, baby's breath and greenery with white satin ribbon marked the reserved pews.

The Bride

The bride, radiant as the diamond in her pendant (her wedding gift from the groom) was a vision of loveliness as she entered the church on the arm of her father. Her formal gown of ivory silk organza posed over peau de soie was designed along the empire aline. The closely fitted bodice featured a sheer high neckline and long tapered sleeves all magnificiently re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearls. Alencon lace cascaded down the sides of the skirt into a double border of lace which encircled the hemline continuing around the chapel-length train. A cloud of triple teired silk french illusion attached to a matching lace profile cap formed her chapel length veil.

She carried a white Bible, also a gift from the groom, that supported a cascade of white roses, baby's breath and white orchids.

Attendents

Miss Lynn Camp, sister of the bride, serving as maid of honor, was gowned in a vibrant pistachio green polyester knit. The bodice was formed by shirred gathers falling shoftly from the left shoulder and a gathered high collar. The a-line skirt fell floor length from an empire waist. Her small hat of the same vivid color and fabric was simply adorned with a double ruffle rosette on one side. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Steven Knight and Miss Lissa Locke, cousins of the bride, Miss Suzanne Skipper and Miss Faye Dance. Their dresses and hats were identical to the maid of honor and each carried a crescent bouquet of cordone puffs and greenery accented with peacock feathers.

The groom's suit was an oxford grey with striped trousers. His shirt was a white winged collar with a striped ascot. He wore a diamond stick pin, his wedding gift from his bride.

John Ballas served the groom as best man and Hilton Tyre, Brian McDowell, Jack Hausen and Darrell Cloud served as groomsmen. They wore formal suits the same style and color as the groom.

Mrs. Camp chose for her daughter's wedding a maize long sleeved floor length gown of polyester knit. The bodice was highlighted by softly draped criss-cross sherring from the shoulders. The wide belt was set with pearls and topaz crystal beads.

Mrs. Dennery selected a long sleeved gown in tea rose qiana knit, featuring a softly gathered bodice that fell from a high shirred neckline. Both wore orchid corsages.

Mrs. J. L. Wells, maternal grandmother of the bride chose a floor length pale blue knit and Mrs. B. F. Camp Sr., selected a formal length pink gown. Mrs. Eugene R. Walker, maternal grandmother of the groom chose a full length teal blue gown.

Reception

The buffet reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the church social hall. Long buffet tables overlayed with white ruffeled lace cloths were laden with a feast of roast beef, turkey, ham and cheese, relish trays of raw vegetables and dip, olives, pickles, pickled peaches and hot rolls. Hot maccaroni mousse complimented the meal. The tables were centered with two tall tiered arrangements of white carnations, mums and baby's breath with white cnadles and greenery.

The three tiered wedding cake was elevated by twelve inch white grecian columns. White roses and cherubs adorned the layers while inverted bells formed minature urns for ferns made from icing greenery. The cake table held two five branch candlelabras encircled with garlands of greenery and white blossoms with burning white tapers.

The punch table refreshed the guests with their choice of hot spicy candle, a gift to the bride, nestled in a cluster of greenery and baby's breath.

The entire setting for the social hall was one of a stately garden. .

For traveling, the bride chose a two piece brown and white ensemble with the orchids from her bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Jackson where the bridegroom is in business with his family.

The rehersal dinner was held at Sun-N-Lakes Estates Country Club on the eve of the wedding.

The bridesmaids luncheon was given by Mrs. John Morris and Mrs. Wendell Smith at the Smith's home in Lemon Grove.

High School To Host College Concert Band

Avon Park High School will be the proud host of the Cumberland College Concert Band of Williamsburg, Ky. on Wednesday, March 9th.

Under the direction of Mr. John C. Hutchcroft, the concert band is composed of forty students, and faculty members of Cumberland College. Many of these students are studying to become professional musicians, seeking careers as teachers, directors, and performers.

Mr. Hutchcroft has prepared a concert which is very moving and educational. As one sits through the concert selections it will be possible to expedience many emotions. Carl Orff expresses the joy of living in his "CARMINA BURENA." Gustav Holst's, "JUPITER," a composition taken from the Planets", Portrays power and beauty expressed in the cosmos. The stirring beat of a march is found in "Stars And Bars", and the audience will find great humor in P. D. Q. Bach's, "Grand Serenade."

These are but a few of the concert pieces the band has prepared for its tour repertoire. Other pieces have been prepared for use in churches as well as schools. Very interesting and diversified selections have been prepared by the Brass Quintet, and the Woodwin Quartet, which will be used at various engagements.

The band will be playing in schools, churches and colleges throughout Florida. Concerts have been scheduled in Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Ormond Beach, and Daytona Beach on the East Coast.

After a day at Walt Disney World, the band will journey to Avon Park. Following two concerts here, they will travel to Tampa for a television Taping at the studios of WEDU in afternoon, and a concert at the Manhattan Baptist Church that evening.Even with such a tight schedule, each band member has offered to share any information about Cumberland College with those who wish to meet with them after the concerts.

Hutchcroft has stated that an opportunity for scholarships will be offered following concerts in each location.

Miss Mary Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John of 1081 East Cornell St. here in Avon Park, plays first chair French Horn un the Cumberland Concert Band. Miss Wright, a graduate of Avon Park High School, received the Best instrumentalist award in her senior year with the Avon Park High School Band. She is a freshman this year at Cumberland.

DAR Celebrates Washington's Birthday At Luncheon Feb. 22

Patriots Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) held its George Washington Birthday luncheon on Feb. 22 at the parish hall of St. Agnes Episcopal Church in Sebring. The tables were attractively decorated in keeping with the occasion and Mrs. Harry Childress announced that the arrangements were loaned by Sophy Mae Mitchell.

Mrs. Paul V. Forest, vice regent, presided and introduced the speaker, Troy White, a high school teacher of American History in Lake Placid. He stressed the fact that George Washington had strong beliefs in his ideals, and gave up all he had for the cause he believed in. A democratic form of government was quite radical compared to the reign of King George.

Following the DAR ritual, Mrs. Forest called for committee reports and Mrs. Stanley Matthews gave the report on the card party held recently. Co-chairmen were Mrs. J. W. Ingle and Mrs. Frank Jolley, who acted as treasurer for the affair. Various members introduced their guests.

Mrs. Irving Titus presented the "DAR Citizens" and noted they had been chosen for their dependability, leadership and capabilities. Mrs. Forest presented the pins to Sue Nunnallee of Avon Park, Max Lewis of Lake Placid and Diana Greenhalgh of Sebring.

It was announced that the March meeting will be held at the parish hall on March 7 at 2 p.m., instead of the location set forth in the year book.

Mrs. Lucille Hurst will present a program on the American Indians, and the following will serve as hostesses: Mrs. H. B. Brady, Mrs. J. P. Drane, Mrs. J. K. Enzor, Mrs. J. R. Frey, Mrs. William J. Lockett, and Mrs. H. A. Willis.

Hancock Claims

very possible (if the committee feels there should be a second operator) that the city's position could be different."

Serdynski then asked if the 15-year lease held by Highlands Aviation was valid. Councilman Larry Albritton claimed that the lease had been granted by the council to allow Renfro to operate an aircraft repair and building concern and not a full service operation, to which other council members agreed.

Hancock indicated that the city could revoke that lease, since it was obtained under misleading circumstances, thus cutting off Renfro's access to the airport itself. The leased property in question provides the firm with access to a flight taxiway.

Hancock added that it was his position that since Highlands Aviation was not located upon airport property contained in the original deed agreement with the federal government, then FAA rulings about exclusive franchises did not pertain to the firm.

Renfro's attorney, Anthony Accorsi addressed the council, saying "I think we are avoiding the main issue here — the FAA regulations on this (matter)." Accorsi insisted that the FAA ruling had not been answered by the city yet. "FAA regulations specifically prohibit granting an exclusive use (franchise) and what you are in effect granting is a monopoly." Accorsi said until the standards have nothing to do with the size of the field or number of customers. Standards, according to the FAA can only be set to govern the hours of fixed base operation, the types of services offered and the quality of that service."

Concerning FAA rulings, Hancock stated, "I don't always take verbatim as absolutly correct, everything any administration official tells me. I learned a long time ago that sometimes they can be mistaken. However, it is very possible and appears probable that the Gossick lease (Avon Park Flying Service) may have to be modified. My review of the facts leads me to believe that the property leased by Mr. Renfro, where he wishes to carry on these functions, is not within the property granted to the city by the federal government."

Gene Swearinger, airport committee member voiced his opinion on the matter, saying, "The explaination of an exclusive franchise to protect a business when it starts is right, but Avon Park Flying Service has been there for ten years and they should have their business pertty well established. I, myself, go back to the old American idea that there is nothing better than competition. This country was built on competition. I don't know if there is enough business (at the airport), but if it turns out that there isn't enough business for two people...but if they both have enough guts and hang on, they create the business

The airport commission indicated that they would study the matter and have a recommendation ready for the next council meeting.

Renfro stated that the eventual outcome of the controversy may have to be settled in court, as the council had no right to govern and control private enterprise.

County May Adopt Zoning Change

the land, but can't do anything with it. I'm surprised they let you graze cattle on it."

Dunty suggested she seek a zoning change, but the property owner replied, "That would take about three months, and our buyer wants to start construction yesterday."

"Buddy" Wise said, "I don't like knowing we've been wrong in a certain situation and not being able to do anything about it."

Zoning Board chairman Larry Davis said that the classification was originally adopted when the entire county was being zoned. "In order to complete a project like that, we had to use a set of guidelines. The set we used called for a GU classification."

Dunty told the board they could rectify the situation by adopting an ordinance changing all GU land to Agriculture, since there would be no change in taxes and the people would be allowed to build.

The board instructed Dunty to draw up such an ordinance and report back in the future.

In another zoning-related matter Tom Sherman, a resident near the River Green Golf Course in Avon Park Lakes, complained that the county had allowed a commercial building to be erected on a residential lot near the golf course.

Sherman said that two years ago, a commercial golf cart storage shed was built near his home, and he was appearing before the board to say that he objected to the county making a mistake in issuing the proper permits for him to build.

He said that the owners were preparing to make a plea to the county Board of Adjustment to keep the structure operating, and thought that unfair since the structure should never have been allowed to be built.

His primary complaints were that the structure caused numerous vehicles to park in the area, and that it lowered surrounding property values.

Board members told Sherman that any decision would have to be made by the board of adjustment.

In other business, the board:

— Declined to accept maintenance of several roads in the Sudan Interior Mission, since the roads were only 10 feet wide.

— Tabled discussion of a computer feasibility study until the person wishing to make the study, Alberto Betancourt, of Sebring, can discuss it further with the administrative assistant.

— Approved a variance of subdivision regulations for Mikell Industrial Park.

Red Devils Cagers AA District Champs

Coach Tom Lund's Red Devil varsity cagers captured the Class AA, District 13 championship last week-end and advanced to a Regional play-off game here last Tuesday night against Pahokee. Avon Park won the championship trophy with victories over Fort Meade, Lake Placid and Santa Fe of Lakeland in the 13-AA tourney held in Frostproof last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Red Devils pulled the upset of the year on Friday night with an 80-78 double over-time victory over the favored Lake Placid Green Dragons in a semi-final game.

The Avon Park quintet had defeated Fort Meade 59-45 last Thursday night in the six-team tourney opener. Then a fairly easy 71-61 win over the Santa Fe Crimson Hawks in the Saturday night finals wrapped up the district title for the Devil cagers.

Avon Park last won the district championship in 1974 when they were ousted in the regional finals by Melbourne Central Catholic by a score of 66-61. That Red Devil squad was coached by Fred Sandlin. Tom Lund has been head varsity coach for the past three seasons.

The Red Devils finished district play with a seven game winning streak. A win over Pahokee last Tuesday night would have moved the Avon Park cagers into a one-game sectional play-off here Saturday, Mar.5. The winner of the sectional will advance to the state tourney to be held in Lakeland beginning March 10 at the Lakeland Civic Center Arena.

Avon Park 71 Santa Fe 61

Last Saturday night at the Frostproof gym, the Avon Park Red Devils took advantage of some hot outside shooting by Dale Sisemore and Freddie Moore to jump off to a 19-8 first quarter lead against Santa Fe and then roll on to the 71-61 victory over the 13-AA title.

Moore scored 11 points in the opening period on five long shots and a free shot and went on to total 16 for the game. Dale Sisemore, turning in an outstanding performance as playmaker guard, led the Avon Park scoring with 20 points as he hit 9 field goals and 2 of 3 free shots.

Kenneth Burley continued to pack up the points for Avon Park as he shot 5 from the floor and hit 5 of 9 from the line for a total of 15 points. Melvin Collins put in 12 points with 10 of them coming in the final quarter when the Devils outscored Santa Fe 24-21. Collins sank 3 field goals and made 4 of 6 free shots.

Anthony Conner and Freddy Williams both added 4 points each to the total team effort by the Devils.

Avon Park 59 Fort Meade 45

In the Class AA, District 13 basketball tournament opener in Frostproof last Thursday night, the Avon Park Red Devils used a balanced scoring attack to advance into the semi-final action on Friday. Pacing the Red Devils was Melvin Collins with 15 points whild Anthony Conner added 13 and Dale Sisemore 12.

The Red Devils jumped off to a 16-10 lead after one quarter of play and then built up to lead 28-23 at halftime. Pulling ahead by two more points in the third period, the Avon Park five pumped in 19 points to Fort Meade's 12 in the last quarter to take the 59-45 win.

Kenneth Burley contributed 9 points to the Avon Park total, Freddie Moore hit for 4, Larry Pough and Reggie Baker added 2 points each and Charlie Pough and Horace Moore had 1 point a piece for the Devils.

Avon Park 80 Lake Placid 78

Last Friday night the Red Devils made adreamcome true as they met Lake Placid for the fourth time this season and came out on top after two overtimes with an 80-78 victory to move to the finals of the Class AA, District 13 tournament.

It was a total team effort for the Avon Park quintet as six Red Devils hit in the double figures. Freddy Williams came off the bench early in the game when Anthony Conner got into foul trouble and fired up the Devils with his shooting that led to team high scoring honors with a 16 point total.

Freddie Moore turned in his best performance of the year as he hit consistently from the outside for a 15 point effort. Senior guard Dale Sisemore and senior forward Kenneth Burley both accounted for 13 points each while Melvin Collins scored 12 points and Anthony Conner made 11 points.

In the final seconds of the game Anthony Haynes of Lake Placid popped in a five-foot jumper to knot the score at 65-65 and send the see-saw game into its first overtime.

Avon Park then had to play catch-up ball and Freddie Moore hit a 15-footer with 20 seconds left to go to tie things up 71-71 and send the game into the second overtime period.

Conner tallied a free throw and a tap-in to put the Red Devils out front for the last time as the second overtime got underway. The Avon Park Quintet increased their lead to 78-72 and apparently coasted to the 80-72 victory.

Bill Ross of Lake Placid led all scorers with 28 points and Anthony Haynes finished with 24 counters. Melvin Collins had a game-high 19 rebounds and Conner pulled down 11 to keep the Red Devils in control of the boards.

Collins and Sisemore both fouled out of action late in the overtimes and Horace Moore came off the bench to team with his brother Freddie at the guard slots. Moore was up from the jayvee squad for tournament play. Larry Pough did not see any action against Lake Placid due to a knee injury.

PENETRATING THE ENTIRE Lake Placid defense, Kenneth "Tokey" Burley (30) braces himself against the backboard after releasing a two-pointer with a total of 37 points for the three-game tourney.

SENIOR GUARD FREDDIE MOORE turned in two of his finest performances of the year in the Frostproof district basketball tourney last weekend scoring 15 points against Lake Placid and 16 against Santa Fe in the finals.

SPARKING THE RED DEVIL'S district tourney victory over Santa Fe Saturday night at the Frostproof gym, Dale Sisemore (12) hit 9 of 14 long range field goals plus 2 free shots to lead the Avon Park scoring with 20 points.

SIX FOOT SIX Anthony Conner gets behind the Santa Fe defense for a wide open lay up shot during the final game of the District 13-AA basketball tournament at Frostproof last week and won by Avon Park 71-61.

MELVIN "ROOTMAN" COLLINS stopped quick and made a jump shot before Lake Placid's tall center could get into position to block the shot last Friday night as Avon Park upset the Green Dragons in the semi-finals in a double overtime with Avon Park winning 80-78.

COMING IN OFF the bench, Freddy Williams (11) paced the Devil scoring over Lake Placid with 16 points last Friday night making almost impossible shots like this behind the glass lay-up giving Avon Park an 80-78 double overtime victory over the Green Dragons.

Red Devils Lose To Pahokee Blue Devils

In a Region 3 basketball playoff game the smooth fast moving Pahokee Blue Devils handed the Avon Park Red Devils an 81-58 defeat by outscoring them in the last three quarters, Tuesday night at the Red Devil Gym.

The Red Devils led 15 to 14 at the end of the first quarter but this lead was reversed by the Blue Devils leading 55-41 at the half.

Tennis Team Take Two Wins

The defending Heartland Conference champion Red Devil boys tennis team got off to a good start for the 1977 season last week with wins over Sebring and Fort Meade. Coach Bruce Wyse's netters defeated the Blue Streaks 6-1 at the Harder Hall Courts on Wednesday of last week and then went to Fort Meade and shut-out the Miners 7-0.

Last Tuesday afternoon the Red Devils were to have played Lake Wales here at the City Courts. Tomorrow, Friday, Mar. 4, they will host the Fort Meade team here and next Tuesday, Mar. 8, they will go to Lake Placid for a meet with the Green Dragons.

Red Devils Take Opener, 12-7 From Okeechobee Brahmans

Four Okeechobee pitchers combined to walk 16 Avon Park batters last Tuesday afternoon as the Red Devils defeated the Brahmans by a score of 12-7 in the season opener at Head Field. The Red Devil batters got only three hits off the four different Brahman hurlers. The Avon Park pitcher gave up a total of 9 hits including a triple and two doubles but walked only four batters and struck out 8 Brahmans.

Friday, March 4, the Red Devil varsity will host the Clewiston Tigers here at Head Field in the second game of the 1977 season. Next Tuesday afternoon Avon Park's squad will go to Wauchula for a Heartland Conference game with the Hardee High Wildcats and next Thursday night, March 10, the Red Devils will return home for a game with the Mulberry Panthers. The game in Wauchula is scheduled to start at 4 p.m. and all home games are scheduled for 7:30 starts.

Last Tuesday afternoon the Brahmans jumped off to a 3-0 lead putting together a double, a walk a triple and a sacrifice bunt to score on the Devils in the top of the first inning. Avon Park tied it up in the bottom of the first as two pitchers issued five walks and Jim Johnson beat out a bunt for a hit.

Both teams scored four runs each in the second frame and Avon Park went ahead in the last of the third. Buddy Hunter and Jim Johnson drew walks. Mort Jackson sent Hunter home with a long sacrifice fly to center field and Johnson came home on a double off the left field wall by Steve Arnold.

Avon Park closed out the scoring in the bottom of the sixth with three runs on no hits, four walks and a sacrifice fly to center by JohnMicKunas. MicKunas beat out a single on a close play in the fifth for Avon Park's third hit of the game.

Harrison Pitches No Hitter For SFJC

Rick Harrison pitched a brilliant 2-hit shutout over Edison Community College (5-0) Tuesday to up his record to two wins against no losses. South Florida Junior College got on the scoreboard in the first inning with two runs and that's all Harrison, the All-Conference righthander, needed.

SFJC loaded the bases on walks to Tom Davis, Randy Schlosser and Blane McDonald in the first inning. Davis scored on Charlie Faulconer's ground out and Schlosser came home on Jimmy Higdon's single to left field.

The Panthers scored two more in the 6th, when Larry Glass and Jimmy Higdon both singled, John Sedlock reached base on an error, and Bill McMenamin walked to force in Glass. Tommy Davis singled in Higdon.

The final SFJC tally come in the 8th, when John Sedlock tripled to right and scored on Dana Walstad's double to leftfield. SFJC upped this season's record to 5 wins against one loss.

Indian River

South Florida Junior College lost a tough extra inning game last Wednesday to Indian River Community College a team they had defeated two weeks earlier. John Sedlock started and pitched brilliantly for the Panthers, giving up but two hits in the 6 innings of work. With SFJC leading 4-1 in the 6th, a Panther defensive collapse took place as IRCC scored 5 unearned runs.

SFJC, trailing 8-5 with 2 outs in the 9th, staged a 4-run comeback, highlighted by Larry Glass's, bases loaded triple to forge ahead 9-8. However, IRCC also came back and tied the game in the 9th, and won it in the 10th, on another unearned run.

SFJC's usually sparkling defense was not up to par as only 3 of IRCC's 10 runs were earned. However the Panthers continued to swing hot bats as they banged out 11 hits off 3 IRCC pitchers. Blaine McDonald had 3 hits and 3 RBI's for the day. Randy Schlosser collected 3 hits and 3 stolen bases. Larry Glass upped his season's average to .423 with a -3 for 3 day, including 3 walks, a double, a triple and 4 rbi's. Also, for the day SFJC swiped 7 bases in 8 attempts.

Jimmy Higdon from nearby Lakeland is being used as the designated hitter this spring. The 5'9", 165 lbs., outfielder had an outstanding career at Lakeland High School, receiving the Coaches' Award his senior year.

Jimmy supplies SFJC with the long ball potential and is expected to drive in many runs for the Panthers this spring.

Brojek In 13.1 Mile Race This Saturday

Coach Chet Brojek will compete in a 13.1 mile race in Gainesville on Sat., March 5. Jon Sheldon of Winter Haven will compete in the full marathon run at the same time.

"I'm not going the full 26.2 miles this Saturday since at my stage of training I'm looking to be ready for the marathon on April 18 in Boston," Brojek commented this week. "I'm getting too old to run two marathons in less than two months and I don't want anything to prevent me from making the Boston race this year."

Panther Players

RANDY SCHLOSSER

Randy Schlosser, 5'11", 165 lbs, is the starting left fielder for the South Florida Junior College Panthers. He is a freshman from Saegertown, Pa., and was a high school All-American.

Randy was originally signed by Penn State University but elected SFJC for its competitive Florida baseball opportunities. Randy has excellent speed, already stealing 10 bases in as many attempts this spring.

He is a definite asset to SFJC not only on the baseball diamond but is a Dean's List student as well with a 3.4 academic average.

JIMMY HIGDON

Golfers To Play At Lake Brantley

The Avon Park golf team will take on Coach Guy Garrett's Lake Brantley foursome at the Sabal Palm Golf Course near Lake Brantley this afternoon, Thursday, March 3. The Red Devil golfers had a 3-2 record going into last Tuesday afternoon's match in Sebring.

Tomorrow, Friday, March 4, the Avon Park team will host Lakeland Kathleen here at the River Greens Course in a rematch with the Class AAAA team. The Kathleen foursome handed Avon Park its first defeat when the Polk county boys shot a sizzling 156 to Avon Park's 163 on the Carpenters Course in Lakeland.

Next Tuesday afternoon, March 8, the Red Devil golfers will take on Heartland Conference foe Okeechobee here at the River Greens Course in a 3:30 p.m. tee-off.

Track Season Opens This Thursday

The Red Devil track team opens its season today, Thursday, Mar. 3, at home in a meet against Lakeland Santa Fe and Frostproof startintg at 4 p.m. The Avon Park squad, coming off a 31-4, 1976 season mark hopes to post its first victories of the 1977 season against the two 2A rivals.

The defending Heartland Conference and Highlands County champions are led by some 15 returning lettermen under the coaching of Chet Brojek. "We are going to be short-handed for the first meet because of the Red Devil basketball team advancing into post-season play, but we hope to get off to a good start this week," explained the young, energetic Avon Park High School track mentor.

Jayvee Baseball At Head Field

This afternoon, Thursday, March 3, Coach Hoppy Rewis wil send his Avon Park junior varsity baseball team on the diamond here at Head Field against the Hardee High jayvee squad in the season opener for the Devil "Bees". Game time is set for 4:30 p.m., and Avon Park baseball fans are invited out to see these freshmen and sophomores in action.

Selecting starters in the nine positions will be a task for Coach Rewis who has eighteen boys out for the team this season. Either Wayne Lewis, Dennis Tondee or Andy Lanzing is expected to start on the mound with Tim Cribb or Tondee behind the plate for the first game.

J. D. Taylor will probably start at firstbase with Bo Skinner or Bubba Starling in the line-up as secondbaseman. At shortstop will be Jeff Williams or Wayne Lewis and Decaris Jones should start at thirdbase. Carl High has just about sewed up a starting position in right field but centerfield is still a fight between Jeff Adams and Mark Steedley.

Either David Sisemore, Dennis Barefield or Johnny Barnes will start off in left field. Also out for the team are catcher Mark Bachman, firstsacker Tim Salter and outfielder Tim Minard.

Benefit Game Between Alumni And '77 Team

Coach Guy Garrett will return to Avon Park to coach a team of Red Devil baseball alumni who played under him here during the years from 1953 through 1964 in a benefit game against Coach Ronnie Jackson's 1977 Red Devil varsity Saturday, March 12, at Head Field starting at 7:30 p.m. Proceeds from the game will go to the Andrew W. Miracle Memorial Patio Fund. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

The Garrett Alumni have already started practice wi th Jim Prevatt and Dale Landress serving as co-chairmen of the affair until Coach Garrett arrives for the game. Last Sunday afternoon players from the twelve years coached by Garrett met at Head Field for an opening practice session. The group was small since time had not allowed all players to be contacted concerning the upcoming game.

Another practice was scheduled for last Tuesday night and the group will meet at Head Field tonight (Thursday) for a third practice. Prevatt also called a practice for next Sunday afternoon and urged all baseball players who played varsity ball for Coach Garrett to report for practice.

Alumni who were taking batting practice last Sunday afternoon were Prevatt, Landress, Sam Elder, Jimmy Waldron, Wendell Williams, Norman Willis, DeWayne Lemler, Dale Batson, Lamon Money, Glenn Bass and Johnny Elder.

Interest in the benefit game has started building as the alumni decided to get in shape and make a real game for the fans. Coach Jackson's high school varsity will have games on Thursday and Friday prior to the Saturday night alumni game and will also have to play on Monday and Tuesday the following week. However, the young Devil coach, who also played as a sophomore for Coach Garrett, says, "We'll give the former Red Devils a real tough game. We certainly don't intend to lose."

J. C. Walker, also a Red Devil alumni and an assistant to Coach Garrett, dropped by practice last Sunday afternoon to give the players some moral support and to hit some infield practice to the former Red Devil athletes.

Special Olympics To Be At Fireman's Field

Olympics competition will bring the joy of athletic achievement to local mentally retarded children and adults. The Highlands County Special Olympics Track and Field Competition will be held Wednesday, March 9, at the Fireman's Field in Sebring. The event is sporisored locally by the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Citizens.

Activities for the track meet wil start at 9 a.m. with a Parade of Athletes, to be led by members of the Sebring High School Band. Competition will continue until approximately 1:30 p.m., when ribbons and awards will be presented. Lunch will be provided to the 50 participants by MacDonalds of Sebring.

There will also be Special Olympics Bowling Competition, held on Saturday, March 12, 2 p.m., at the Ridge Lanes. Competition will be tough, with 15 bowlers trying for top honors. The bowling group includes Ina Culberson, who made a name for herself in the 1975 International Special Olympics.

The Special Olympics is sponsored internationally by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation. Michael Hayes, Work Instructor at the Ridge Area Work Center, has been appointed Highlands County Coordinator. He explains, "The program is designed to encourage the mentally retarded to build their bodies through physical activity and to find the joy of winning through personal effort.

After the county meet, all participants will compete in the District 8 meet, to be held in April in Winter Haven. Winners at the district games will go on to the State meet in Gainesville, and, hopefully, Highlands County will have at least one entry in the International Special Olympics. The public is invited

Junior Bowlers Party

The Junior Bowling League will hold a midnight to dawn (12 midnight to 6 a.m.) bowling party, Saturday, March 12 at $5.50 per person. All bowlers are invited to attend, breakfast will be served at 3 a.m.

RED DEVIL GOLFER Mark Palmer surprised himself and the Avon Park golf team last Friday afternoon at practice at the River Greens Golf Course when he hit a hole-in-one on the third hole. "I was using a pitching wedge", said Palmer. "The ball just hit about a foot in front of the hole and rolled into the cup with the flag still there." Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Red Devil Players

MORT JACKSON

Mort Jackson, Red Devil catcher, brings three years of varsity experience to the 1977 Avon Park baseball squad. The 5'9", 166 lb. senior athlete was selected as the All-Conference catcher last season when the Devils set an 18-7 record.

Mort has batted over .300 the past two years and will bat third or in the clean-up slot this year. He has good speed and is a good base-runner.

The spirited senior catcher is expected to furnish the leadership for the 1977 Red Devil team. He has worked hard in pre-season practice on the throw down to second and should lead the Devils on defense and offense this season as they aim for a shot at the state Class AA championship.

BILLY YOUNG

Billy Young, 6'1", 190 lb. senior pitcher, will head up the Avon Park Devil mound staff this season. The hard throwing rightander has excellent control and a good breaking ball.

Last season Billy turned in an 8-2 record and walked only 3 batters during 60 innings of hurling. He won All-Conference honorable mention for his Heartland Conference play last year.

This will be Billy's second season with the Red Devil varsity. His cool, detached manner on the mound gives opponents the feeling that the solemn-faced pitcher has no emotions but his teammates can verify the fact that no one on the team wants the Devils to win more than Billy Young.

Artillery Firing Closes Range

The Avon Park Bombing Range Recreational Area will be closed the weekend of March 5-6 due to military activities. Flying activities are scheduled from Homestead AFB on Sunday and the 1st and 2nd Battalions, while the Florida National Guard, will be firing 105 and 155MM howitzers on both Saturday and Sunday.

At present, it appears that the range will be open the weekend of March 12-13 and 26-27 for the Spring Gobbler Season. The National Guard has reserved the range for the weekend of March 19-20.

THE FOUR DANISH youths visiting and learning at the Maxwell Groves, last week, stated that some oranges imported into Denmark came from Spain, Portugal and Israel. From the left: Ulla Praestgaard, Maj-Beth Jensen, Bent Nielsen and Marie Friis. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Danish Youths Stop Here, Studying Farming Industry

Eight young people from Denmark were in Florida last week. Four of them stopped in Avon Park and four went to Belle Glade. The purpose of their visit was to learn about the citrus industry, vegetable farming and sugar cane industry. They had spent some time in South Carolina in the textile industry before coming to Florida. They went swimming at Palm Beach on Sunday and said that the temperature was comparable to their own in Denmark, even though it was too cold for most Floridians to go swimming.

They visited the Ward's Nursery where Charlie Collins took them on a tour of the nursery and explained the process of planting, budding and growing citrus trees. Afterwards, Charlie took the four to his home on S. Lotela Drive where they were served refreshments by Mrs. Collins while they enjoyed the comforts of the Collins' lovely home.

At the Maxwell Packing House on E. Pleasant Street the group was fascinated by seeing the fruit unloaded from the grove trucks into the machinery where it passed through washer rollers into the sizer bins as beautiful, clean fruit ready to sell. Steve Maxwell arranged for the four to pick fruit one afternoon and they say this will be one of the memorable experiences of their tour.

They were guests at a family dinner in the T. Hayes Maxwell Home.Mrs Maxwell invited Peter Nielsen, who is an exchange student from Sweden and a guest in the Dr. B. C. Ostling home while he is a senior at Avon Park High School .It was a pleasant experience for Peter and the four who talked in their native language. Other guests invited were Thomas Delk and the Dr. W. O. Ragsdale.

Mrs. Maxwell stated that she arranged this family dinner especially that these young people might enjoy the Christian fellowship of family and friends and hear the Christian testimony of other young people because Danish young people do not attend church and they admit that they do not know about God. They said that only the very old people in Denmark attend church.

While in Avon Park they visited the Farm Labor Union office and attended some meetings with the union officials. According to the opinion of some of the people they interviewed this group of young people are in the USA to gather information about labor relations between employees and employers.

From Avon Park the group will go to New Orleans then to Houston, Texas. They expect to visit a Western ranch and the Oil Fields of Texas, and then to Detroit, Mich. to learn about the automobile industry, enroute to New york for their flight back home.

It is interesting to learn how this group of eight began to plan for the trip to the USA while they were still in school. When they completed their education which is the equivolent of a two year college course here, they formed a close family unit. They rented an apartment began a communal living which is common practice in Demark .

Each of the group went to work, they pooled all of their resources, and systematically began to make plans and preparations for this trip. Each one worked at any kind of a job they were able to find. These included factories for textile, clothing, machinery, welding, tent making, book binding and photo frames and one of the girls operated a hi-lift in a lumber yard. It was reported that 43 per cent of their wages were paid in taxes.

They calculated all of the angles, considering all of the minute details of such a tour, and worked out a schedule for a whole year, which will end in July 1977. Three of the group have an International Driving license. They bought a used school bus in New York which they are using for transportation, also for sleeping when they are not invited to stay in homes. They plan to sell the van in New York before they leave the U.S.A.

They arrived in New York January 17th from Vejle, Denmark. They say they hitch-hiked from Vejle to Brussels where they were able to get a round trip plane ticket for $360 each. They expect to leave New York City on April 2.

Back in their homeland, Denmark, the group plans to compile a record of all they have learned in the United States, along with the pictures they have taken. They expect to be able to share this with friends or groups, organizations and perhaps the schools, in both written and lecture form.

The four young people reported that they were greatly impressed with the friendship and generosity of the American people.

Turner Is Popular Legislature

One of the most popular legislators at the annual legislative hearing last week was Harry Turner of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

Turner, who is a member of the Ohio House of Representatives, said he is currently on vacation in Lake Placid. When he read news stories about the legislative hearing for Highlands County he decided to "come out and watch somebody else on the griddle for awhile."

The seven Florida legislators made envious sounds when Turner observed, "we went through ERA and thank goodness it is behind us; I'm glad that's over for us."

He observed that the issue of post card registration is on the agenda for the Ohio Legislature this year. He added that in Ohio the Democratic party is giving strong backing to this proposal. He was keenly interested in the Florida Democratic opposition to the same idea.

Turner introduced himself, offered his sympathy to his Sunshine State colleagues, just as the 90-minute hearing was concluding.

As soon as the hearing was formally adjourned both legislators and members of the audience were quick to speak to Turner, compare notes on "the way we do it — how do you all handle . . .??"

Some may have pointed out that the Florida Legislature does not have so large a problem with ice and snow.

Winter Guest Hobby Show Starts March 9

The Annual Winter Guest Hobby Show will be held on Wednesday, March 9th from 2-8 p.m. and will continue through Thursday March 10th from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

This event has proved to be very popular through the years, both to year round residents and winter guests.

Members of the club have been working all winter, on the hobbies, which will be shown during the show.

Several of the projects will be demonstrated.

A table of home made articles will be offered for sale. This is the only table exclusively for active craft members only.

The crafts meeting on March 3 will be postponed till March 5 due to the District Shuffleboard Tournament. It is hoped members will make a special effort to attend this meeting, so plans can be finalized for the show.

Don't forget these dates March 9 and 10 at the Winter Guest Club, East Main Street, across form City Hall.

Sheffield Campaigns For State Office In Orlando

By Bret Atkins

The city of Orlando will be the scene April 27-30, as Paula Sheffield, a junior at Avon Park High School gives a speech summing up the targets that she has completed in campaign for the state office of vice-president of achievements for the Future Homemakers of America Home Economics Realted Organization or FHA-Hero.

In Paula's speech, she will explain her targets to the judges who will then decide whether Paula or her opponent, Mary Langston of North Fort Myers, will be this year's vice president of achievements.

Paula is now president elect for FHA-Hero at APHS but as state vice-president of achievements she will have a great deal more responsibility as she will be keeping up with all outstaning activities of local FHA-Hero chapters from all over the state of Florida.

Paula chose as her target Communicate Parent Education because she feit it would be more interesting and would help benefit our school and community.

Paula Sheffield.

To complete her target, Paula has done the following projects: Held a Venereal Disease information unit at the high school; has shown a film at Walker Memorial Hospital on natural childbirth and its effect on a woman; invited a nursery school to APHS for a unit in child development, and has had a unit on How to handle and Train a Retarded Child."

Paula also has had speakers come and talk to the subjects of Child Abuse and Juvenile Delinquency, and Hyperactive Children.

In her spare time, Paula is a varsity cheerleader at APHS, and is a member of the student Council and Devils Club.

Olive Kerwins's Vacation

OLIVE KERWIN ABOARD the SS Mormacglen, as the ship approached Cape Town, its first port of call after leaving New York City.

Olive Kerwin left Avon Park, Dec. 14, for New York and spent two days in the city with her daughter and friends before boarding the Moore-McCormack freighter, Mormacglen headed for South Africa. Christmas and New Years were spent enroute with nine other passengers.

When between St. Helena and Ascension Islands a memorial service was held for the first Captain of the Mormacglen, who had requested that his ashes be taken to that point in the Atlantic. It was a very impressive service.

The time clocks were changed seven times during the crossing. Their first sight on approaching Cape Town, the first port of call, was Table Top Mountain. This mountain appears to have its top lopped off. A cable car to the top gives one a grand view of the Atlantic and Indian Oceans. We saw the Groote Hospital of the first heart transplant fame.

Port Elizabeth was the next stop. The first sight there was the Campanile, which is 240 steps high. This commemorates the 1820 settlers. Another famous statue honors horses that were killed in the Anglo-Boer War. The inscription on it reads "The greatness of a nation consists not so much in the number of its people or the extent of it's territory as in the extent and justice of its compassion."

Our stop at Mozambique was cancelled which gave us time at Durban for a six day trip to Hluhluwe (pronounced shlashluee) and Krueger Animal Parks. This route took us through many miles of sugar cane. Many of the homes have round thatched roofs. Some sections were all German, some Scottish and many English. Of course we saw many animals: Warthogs, bulbul, impalas, buffalos, monkeys, gnu and many rare birds.

As we entered Swaziland we were taken to the Holiday Inn at Lugago which seemed much like Lake Placid. Then a trip to a casino which made us think we were at Las Vagas.

The Swaziland King, Sobhuza II is the longest reigning monarch in history. He has ruled from the time of his grandmother in 1921. His title is "Ngwenyama" (the Lion). He has at least 50 wives.

Sugar is their second largest industry. We were suprised to pass a "Kentucky Fried Chicken" shop. An interesting stop was made at the Mantega Crafts Shop, where they were working on silver, ceramics and silk screening.

We passed the Libby Pineapple plantation and cannery on the Trans-territorial Highway. Our driver told us we would see no cemeteries, as each family has a burial plot on their own property. They kill an animal, wrap the meat in the skin and roast it for the funeral feast.

In Kruger Park, at 5:30 a.m. we saw an 11 ft. giraffee and Marshall eagle which they claim can take a baby impala. We were able to photograph steen-buck, ground hornbills, gray ducks, kudu, zebras, hippos and lions with cubs. For best viewing of the animals we would rise early, return to our base for lunch and siesta and then go out again in the evening.

At Ermelo we were housed in a Holiday Inn where we were able to watch some of the Presidential Inauguration on our first TV. We decided on return by the double decker busses. The upper decks are reserved for Blacks. If we wanted to ride on an upper deck, we could wait at the end of the line for one reserved for Whites only. From the upper deck we had a beautiful ride along the Indian Ocean beach.

This smooth riding ship on the Atlantic all the way from Cape Town to Brooklyn made this a perfect cruise.

National PHYSICAL EDUC

Making Healty St

By Lucy Derkman And Lew Miller

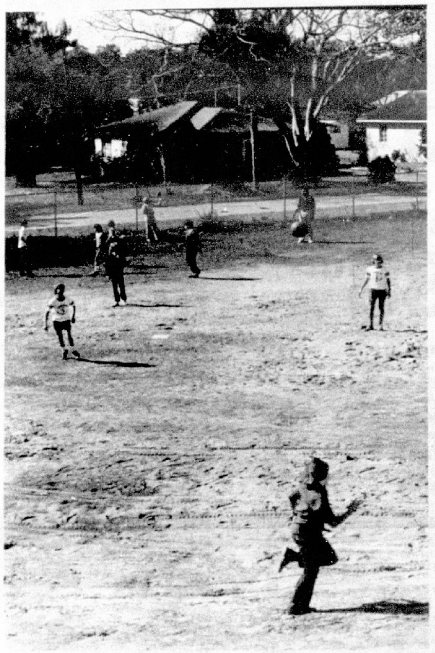

The five schools in the Avon Park area celebrated National Physical Education Week this week by continuing the excellent programs already in action. Students from kindergarden through high school are involved in some type of physical activity every day under the leadership of qualified instructors.

At the Highland Lakes Junior Academy, Principal Charles Flach is proud of the physical education program. Maurice Wyckoff, in his third year at the academy, is instructor for the seventh and eighth grade students. Rande Dager, new this year, is in charge of the physical education for all ninth and tenth grade students. All 100 students take part in the program of varied physical activities.

Avon Elementary principal Norris Brooks commented this week, "I feel Avon Elementary has an excellent Physical Education program and has for many years. Our instructors emphasize individual and group activities." Three instructors enable each classroom to have 30 minutes of physical education five days a week. Alphonso Battle, Denese Jordan and Jane Sargent all work with the students in grades kindergarden through Physical Education classes are co-education now under the new Title Nine Federal Instructions. At Avon Park High School, Ronnie Jackson, John Hunter and Jeannie Cox are adjusting to the new system. Only two years of high school physical education is now required but students may take it as an elective all four years. Activities on the high school level are geared to individual sports and body improvement with emphasis on carry-over sports.

A healthy body is the first step to a healthy mind and the physical education programs in the Avon Park Schools are providing the opportunity for supervised growth in this area.

Our mobile homes have fire-resistant gypsum drywall interiors. It makes a difference you can't see.

Our Mobile Homes by Champion Home Builders Co. are built by a 61-plant company with 24 years of mobile home building experience. And, Champion is the only major mobile home manufacturer that uses gypsum drywall in all of its models. Drywall comes in pastel colors or woodgrain finishes (for beauty); yet acts like drywall (for peace of mind). Drywall has been awarded a Class "A" flame-spread rating. It is the same type of material used in the majority of site-built houses today. Drywall interiors, including ceilings . . . it's only one of the reasons that our homes by Champion Home Builders Co. are today's greatest home values! Let us show them to you.

Local March Of Dimes Donates New Equipment To Walker Memorial Hospital

by Barbara Cornell

The Highlands County Chapter of the March of Dimes, which includes Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid, will hold its annual Walk-A- Thon on March 27.

The seventh annual event will get underway and end at the county fairgrounds in Sebring. The walk will start at 8:30 a.m. March officials report that so far, they have 13 sponsors to man checkpoints along the route, which will cover 25 kilometers. On March 7 and 8, volunteers will visit local schools to pass out walk entry blanks and sign up walkers.

Last year, approximately 600 persons took part in the event, with 450 finishing. A total of $11,091 was raised by volunteers. Of that amount, 60-percent went to the national chapter of the March of Dimes for research and educational programs, while 40- percent remained in Highlands County, where it was used to purchase special equipment for hospitals and for individuals.

In addition to equipment, proceeds are also used to purchase films and educational material for local schools, including information on personal hygiene, birth control and prenatal care.

The local March of Dimes chapter has purchased, within the past three years, four special machines for Walker Memorial Hospital in Avon Park. The equipment, used primarily in the hospital's obstetrics ward, include a fetal monitor, bili light, a warmer modual and a transport isolete.

The fetal monitor is used for persons having their first child, patients with toxeima and induced labor pateints.

When the monitor is straped to the mother, it gives a read-out on graph paper, which shows the mother's and baby's vital signs.

The bili light, or phototherapy, is used at birth, if an infant is determined to have blood defiencies. According to Doctor P. Tordilla, pediatrician at the hospital, "The bili light reduces the chances of having to give the baby an exchange blood transfusion, by making an early (within 24-hours of birth) diagnosis of any blood deficiencies."

James Culpepper, assistant administrator for the hospital said, "If it were not for the March of Dimes, we would not have all of this equipment. We just did not have the money in our budget to purchase it.) We may have been able to buy one of these units, but not all four. You see this type of equipment in the larger hospitals." Culpepper continued, "but I was really amazed when I came here last year and saw that they were in operation here."

March of Dimes purchased equipment, particularly the transport isolete, will be used in conjunction with the hospital's new heliport, currently under construction. The faculty will enhance the hospital's capabilities for rapid treatment and transport of emergency cases.

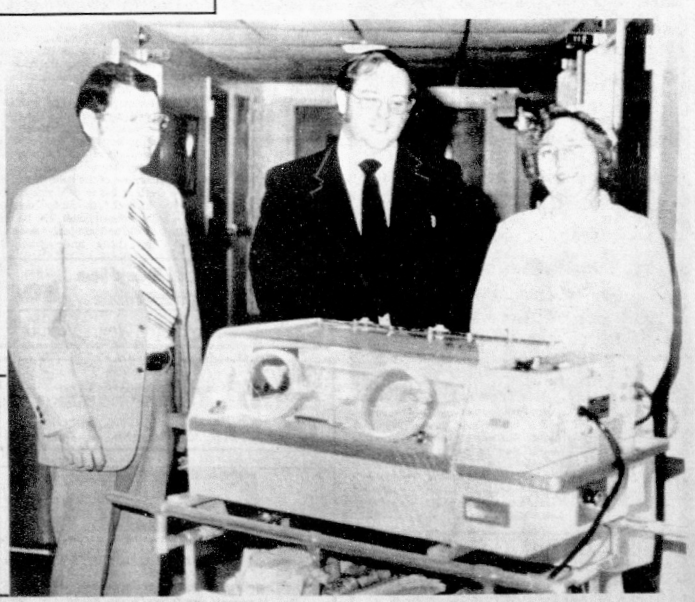

All in all, the March of Dimes makes valuable contributions to the field of preventive medicine. Officials are currently seeking more and varied support from volunteer walkers and from local business who will agree to sponsor walkers and donate needed goods and services on the day of the walk.

Mrs. Judy Nuguent of Sebring is this year's march chairwoman. Anyone wishing to volunteer to take part in the walk can do so by contacting Mrs. Linda Dennis at 453-7729.

Walk officials indicated that they are hoping that more money can be raised this year, so the organization can continue to make worthwhile contributions to area medical institutions.

The transport isolette is used in transporting infants from surgery to OB and from one hospital to another by helicopter or ambulance. Left-right, James Culpepper, Tom Lenihan and Mrs. Joyce Kelley.

Consumer's Side

Question: I bought a television set from a local appliance store. It has never worked properly. What are my rights to withhold payment until the set is fixed under the holder-in-due course law?

Answer: Many consumers mistakenly believe that they can stop making payments on any merchandise purchased on installment credit if they later become dissatisfied with the product.

Serious misconceptions about consumer rights have developed since the Federal Trade Commission's (FTC) new holder-in-the-due-course regulation went into effect May 14. Most of the confusion can be attributed to the fact that the rule itself is unclear in some areas and that several news reports on the rule have misstated its provisions.

Since the rule went into effect the Division of Consumer Services has received many calls from people saying that they are no longer pleased with a product and that they intend to stop making payments. We do not feel the regulation was meant to be used in this manner; and several suppliers have informed the Division that they are prepared to file suit against consumers who arbitrarily withhold payment for goods or services.

"It is not our intention to undermine legislation which was ment to be beneficial to consumers; however, it is our responsibility to advise consumers of the actual extent of their rights and to warn them of the dangers of misunderstanding or misusing the law."

Consumers are cautioned that certain conditions must exist befor a transaction falls under the juridsiction of the Federal holder-in-due-course doctrine. First of all, the rule applies only to credit contracts made after May 14, 1976; it does not cover obligation incurred before that date. Also, the rule applies only to loans arranged directly or indirectly by merechants. It does not apply to loans consumers arrange themselves through a bank, credit union or any other financial institution.

The rule preserves the right of consumers who have a legitmate dispute against a supplier from whom they have purchased defective goods or services on a installment sale contract. However, the rules do not specifically tell consumers how to deal with a supplier or financial institution when there is a problem. The Division of Consumer Services suggests that before withholding payment for unsatisfactory merchandise consumers should contact the supplier. If the supplier is unresponsive or unwilling to correct the problem, the consumer can contact the lender explaining the situation and the intention to withhold payment. The lender may be willing to step in and try to help resolve the problem with the supplier. The new regulation gives the right to withhold payment only when neither the seller nor the creditor will take corrective action and all other efforts to resolve the problem have failed.

It's A Wormy Business

If you and your husband had a worm business, would you be satisfied in being introduced as, 'And here is Dottie his wormy wife'?

Dottier and Bruce O'Bea own, labor and promote O'Beas Bait and Tackle their place of business is located some 3 or 4 miles east of Lake Placid just off of blacktop 619, on 15 acres of good Highlands County meadowland.

Bruce's mother and dad, Phil and Ann O'Bea started this bait business back in 1951. Phil had a stroke back about a dozen years ago, moved back to the East Coast and decided for the betterment of all concerned that son Bruce and wife Dottie, should henseforth become head of the uniquique area needed business.

Believe me, it's a long way off, from the roadside worm business, that I as a kid was in, to make movie and popcorn expenses, in long past days. Kids now-a-days, and me, in those days, would get our worms from dewy golf course greens, at night, or dig for them in a garden patch, comming up with a few dozen that we tin canned, and then sold to folks contemplating on going fishing.

Cousin Walter, Bruce and Dottie, run all facets of the business now. Dottie, a petite and studious type gal, bragged about times in the near past when all of them were pushed to get out orders for their retail and wholesale customers, that she alone in one week, sorted and counted 250,000. Yes, you heard it right, that's a quarter of a million.

You see, those active little squirms are allowed to have their young first, before being turned out into the world. No you don't ask them if they have had a family, or if they are currently pregnent - and again for a deep-down nature secret - both the mammas and the poppas, have offspring!

After a worm has had its family, nature gives it a medal or badge. This badge is called a ring and it is grown, an inch, more or less from the head.

The O'Beas, sort out their saleable worms so that those will have the ring on them, denoting that they have bred, thus keeping the young stock until, they have produced. keeps the business nicely rolling along, as far as new stocking, is considered.

Bruce says, and Dottie backs him up, into saying it is, contrary to general belief a very clean business. The soil, the home of the worm is sanitary. It is made up of clean grass, mulched. Clean fertilizer is added to a loam, soil. Human dirt, such as poluted water, and poisoned grove or farm land can not be used as a homeland for their charges. If so they would quickly die.

Very recently, I have heard radio and TV broadcasts mentioning that worm meat, makes up into a very tasty dish. This thot is not new either, as Dorothy showed me her scrap book, of the worm business that contains several articles where worms were turned into very tasty dishes. The Tampa Tribune of May 1976 had quite an article of a worm dinner recipe.

Are the O'Beas getting ready to expand, along with an expanding Florida? No, they are even cutting down on production. They used to ship and sell coast to coast in Southern Florida. They found out that the extra work and worry was not worth the extra income. Taxes, always increasing, also added to their anti-bigger business plans. They have reached a plateau where they make a good living. Their children are all out in the world, more or less taking care of themselves, so Bruce and

5 Five Easy Steps

Fishing And Casting

By Harve Kollman

Most 'ole' timers can still remember the bamboo Pole- and incidently it is the only one, of all of them, that should be called a 'pole. Not too long ago, it could have been bought in almost any store, including the grocery, hardware, lumber yard and feed store. It could, in those days, cost from 25 to 75-cents. A braided line, hook, bobber (not bobbin) and sinker, got the cost up to about a dollar.

Of course many darn good fishermen (and fishergals) still make the cane pole their favorite-and they bring in some great catches, on the bamboo stalk, especially in the catching of bluegills and croppies, also called hereabouts, bream and specks.

In the following weeks, we'll go into detail, in the easy use of each rod and reel combination, and how they should be correctly put to use. So many times, in giving tips on the use of the mechanical rods and reels, someone says that they just could not master one or more of those types. I'm now thinking of the fly, bait, spin and spincast rods and reels.

None of us were born knowing how to use these different outfits, but with some practice and a bit of instruction from a good outdoorsman, everyone can become adept, with any of the above mentioned outfits.

One thing, for sure, fishing gear, of all sorts, costs real money, these days. When you do purchase a good rod and reel, be sure you take good care of it. A little later we'll give a few tips in the proper, fast care of your equipment.

This number one lesson, I'll cover both the bamboo pole and the spincasting segments of this 4 part instruction.

The Bamboo Pole, is easy to use, but following are a few tips. As in other poles or rods, the fisherman keeps in mind the size of the fish that usually will be caught. If large fish, the pole-and the line on it, must both be stout. The hook too. For the bluegills and croppies, a light pole, with lots of flex or action in the tip of it, makes for more fun and accurate setting of the hook. The lighter polex are handier and less tiring in their use. I'd say the pole should be about 2 or 3 times the length of the users height. The line, for average Florida-and Highlands fishing, could be of monofilament, from 10 to 15 pound test.

The length of the line should be about 6 feet plus the length of the pole. Attach the end of the line 6 feet from the pole's tip. Stretch the line to the tip and make a good fast knot there. If the tip of the rod should break while landing a big fish, that extra line tied to about the center of the pole is just good insurance. Your remaining line is the correct length for baiting your hook, or in bringing in your catch. At the point where your hook touches your pole, put a rubber band, or cut a small 2" square of inner-tube. The small piece of rubber can have a dime sized hole cut in it (with a scissors), then stretched over the butt end of the pole. When the pole is not in use, stretch the line back to the rubber band, or that rubber patch. The bobber should be a size just to keep the line, hook and sinker in balance, so when a fish does bite, ever so lightly the bubber reacts. Too large a bobber makes it hard to tell when small fish are nibbling.

For boat fishing, the bamboo can be shorter than when a pole is being used for shore angling. With line about the length of the pole, a maximum distance can be had in Casting it out. Learn to cast the pole underhand. Just a gently swing away from you is much more accurate way of placing your lure and line, and besides it is the safer way. Your hook and bait won't wind up in some bush behind you or in the pants- or eye of one of your companions.

If you do hook someone, all the apologizing you ever can do will not bring an eye back to your friend, or from then on, enemy. Another thing on this wild swinging cast-an overhand throw will make a big splash as it hits the water, alarming nearby fish.

The best bobber is the adjustable type. Then it can be moved along the line to the proper place, where the hook goes to 6 inches from the bottom. Of course for real deep water fishing, the bamboo pole can not be well used, but for water up to a few feet of the Letter To Harve From Griffing

A letter that I recieved a few days ago from Commander Griffing of the Avon Park Bombing Range follows. I recieved his permission to make an 'open letter' of it. Harve K.

Dear Mr. Kollman:

I enjoyed reading your open letter to me which appeared in the Avon Park Sun on February 3, 1977. It was a well-written, well thought out letter which deserves a personal reply.

Your concern of future policy at the range is well taken. I can understand the annoyance of individuals who plan to utilize the range for recreational purposes, only to find it closed due to military operations. I am sure you understand this requirement as indicated in paragraph two of your letter. There is no foreseeable change in the policy of closing the range for military operations or when it is so dry as to present a dangerous fire hazard. I would like to open the range for recreational purposes every weekend and all holidays. However, the military mission sometimes precludes this.

Your thoughts on ecology and wildlife enviroment are very commendable. I realize the restrictions to off the road vehicles are in some cases an inconvenience, but they are also a neccessity in order to preserve the fauna and flora for future generations. There are those who would have things continue as they were in the past without thinking of future consequences. It is refreshing to hear from someone who understands the logic of our regulations.

As for the incident with you and the "buggy" and your friends and the airboat; it is unfortunate that a few with total disregard for their fellowman spoil it for the many who care. Due to lack of sufficient funds and personnel within responsible law enforcement agencies, total enforcement of laws to protect you from incidents such as these are next to impossible. Therefore it becomes the responsibility of each and everyone of us to weed out the few by reporting such incidents to responsible law enforcement agencies, giving all available facts and identifications. With dedication and cooperation, maybe we can improve on this situation.

Thank you for the letter and good luck to you in the future.

Sincerely yours,
Donald A. Griffing,

Local Environmentalist Attend Kissimee River Restoration Hearing

BY DAVID BATTY

David Batty, local conservationist and one of the directors of the Environmental Council of Highland's County, attended the hearing for the Kissimmee restoration last Friday night and gave the following report.

The Kissimmee River Valley Coordinating Council met in an Okeechobee high school and aired restoration plans to the audience of ranchers, farmers, environmentalists and sportsmen.

Ranchers asked that the Council take measured steps in making their recommendations for the restoration. The Corps of Engineers channelization of the Kissimmee had, in their words, not been favored at its inception and any change now needs to be well considered before action is taken again. Spokesmen for the ranching and farming interests feel attention needs to be given to population centers such as Kissimmee and Orlando which contribute about 25 per cent of all the nitrogen to the waters of the Kissimmee River and Lake Okeechobee. These same spokesmen also feel the flood control structures are an improtant aspect of the present channel and claim that a change to restore the river to its original bed is, in fact, making it a recreation area.

Johnny Jones of the Florida Defenders of Wildlife, spoke in behalf of the river restoration which could return the river to a natural filter, restoring the water quality along with fishing, wildlife and the beauty of the old Kissimmee. Jones pronounced that the restoration would take place and that it was necessary that those interested join in now to ensure their input into formulating plans. Ranchers questioned Jones about receiving just payment for lands which will be needed for the restoration. Jones reassured the audience that he will work vigorously to see that any land taken will receive compensation.

An overwhelming response from the speakers indicated that the great majority were speaking in behalf of the restoration.

Representatives of bass fishing clubs, Audubon Society, Farm Bureau, halftrack and airboat associations, and individuals testified in the three hour meeting.

Notables such as Marjorie Stoneman Douglas, Florida historian and writer, attended the meeting to support and speak for the complete restoration of the Kissimmee.

Ken Morrison, noted naturalist from Lake Wales, asked the Council to consider complete restoration of the meandering river.

Deadwyler, a fishing camp operator, pointed out that probably few in the audience or the Council had spent time, "walking from hill to hill and palmetto to palmetto thru the seasons watching all the changes that the River went through over the years." Deadwyler regards the flooding and falling of the River as an unforgetable experience he enjoyed and had not felt any apprehension about the fluctuations of this normal occurance of the Kissimmee River. He remarked that boating during the pre-change years had brought increasing numbers with as many as 600 boats in boat-a-cades but stated it was now down to about 60 with the locks and the river bed straightened.

Fred Loeher, secretary of Environmental Council of Highlands County, expressed appreciation for the Council's concern and efforts to bring all interested parties together in producing the best plan for restoration.

It's A Wormy Business

Dottie can enjoy life without too much capitol gain.

Their home, built by both of them next to the worm factory, was well planned ecologically and for simple liveability.

It is set up on a hill, overlooking their 'ranch'.. They have it packed so well with insulation, that it would take a northern blizzard to make it uncomfortable. In the hot summer days, very seldom is there a need for artificial cooling.

Bruce came down from the Chicago country, with a good bit of construction and general building business behind him. So between what Phil's mother and dad built to foster their original stand, Bruce has improvised to bring it up to the present well functioning bait compound.

Several good sized minow tanks keep a good assortment of that sort of lures for that type of anglers.

Just so no one is overlooked the 'Ranch' also has tackle for the artificial lure fishermen, and because Dottie, Walter and-or Bruce are always at hand, and have constant contact with outdoorsmen, usually they can suggest a place or two where the angling might be a little different or productive. One thing - They rest on that 7th day - Sunday. The 'closed sign' is always up that day.

Dottie talked such a good story to me on their business, I had to keep a steady hand on my checkbook pocket, so I wouldn't ask her to sell me the place.

No fooling, they both are so happy and gracious for their business-and their place in the sun, no one could talk them into any kind of a worm business deal, even tho it might give Dorothy a chance to try out her progress in her current law study.

If any of you readers has a cracker barrel and some crackers, of course, bring them in, that's about the only thing they don't have plenty of. Maybe a worm-cracker barter could come out of it.

For a closer, I asked Bruce, where he thot that most of his worms were sold and used. He gave that a few seconds thot, then came up with the anser, that he believed the north end of Highlands County was the area that consistently came up with the best volume for their business. He said their sure must be a lot of good 'Spec and Bream' fishermen there.

Ninety percent of the U.S. grape crop is grown in California.

Water temperature, as usual, the determiner of better fishing is still a long way from ideal. Average temperature now about 58 degrees, but as 'Ole' Sol climbs higher each day, and as the warm rains do come, so will the warmer water temperatures and when they warm up to nearer to 70 degrees, then will come our better fish catches-close to the feeding hours. Blue gills are hitting fairly well now, beccause they are a 'cooler water fish'.

5 Easy Steps

Fishing And Casting

pole's length, it does make into a good fishing tool.

For skittering it is perfect. Here, a fisherman uses a medium sized pole and only 6 inches of line, usually pretty heavy. A plug or spoon is tied or snapped to the line. The pole fisherman can walk along a shore or sit in a boat working the shoreline, with a dappling movement of the lure on the water. It's a very good way of hooking big bass. If a very large bass is hooked, by all means, let the pole go into the water. Let the bass tire himself out rather than breaking your pole and line trying to horse in the monster. As the big fish tows the pole, sooner or later your landing job should be more safe and sure.

The spincast outfit is the easiest to master of all casting combinations. I have taught children, of 3 and 4 years to do a fair job of casting after working with them for five minutes or less. Ladies that thought fishing was for savages and-or drunks, became good casters, likewise, in a few minutes after I dared them to give it a try.

One lady in particular, whom I dared into casting, now casts as well as I do and not only uses just the spincast for her fishing, but is adept at practising and fishing with four types-spincast, spinning, free spool reel and fly rod.

Beginning fishermen get mixed up on spinning and spincasting. In spinning, the reel usually is the open face type, also, the spin reel is attached to the rod from the bottom. Line guides are at the bottom of the rod as you make the cast. On the spincasting outfit, the reel ususally is affixed to the top of the rod. Line guides are also on top of the rod. Usually the handle of the rod is offset for the reel to fit into.

The spincast reel is closed and the line comes thru a center hole. Very seldom will a line become fouled when making a cast. This spincasting combination is a good one for night fishing.

In correctly casting, 99 per cent of the casts with all types of rod and reels, should be done overhand-not sidearm. This overhand method is much more accurate, longer casts can be made, and the most important factor is that you will not hook your companion.

In starting your spincast, the rod should be held so that the reel is on its side with the winding handle up. The rod guides are to the side also. To start the cast, the rod is held in front of you with the elbow bent at 45 degrees. As the rod is held out in front of you, aim it by looking thru the guide closest to you, then beyond to your target. Always get into the habit of shooting at a target, just like in aiming a rifle.

Your watery target could be some hyacinth pads, the base of a tree or bush, or best of all, where a fish has just circled or jumped. But always pick a target, even if it's only a wave or a glint of sunshine. You'll be surprized on your accuracy!

Come back with your rod, straight back, just missing your ear by an inch or so. At a 2 p.m. position, hestitate, then bring your cast forward and let your thumb off of the reel release (thumber) at about 11 a.m., Your lure should take on a rainbow sort of arc-not a fast, bullet like trajectory. That fast, low cast is o. k. against a stiff wind, but ordinarily the lure hitting the water makes to much noise and spooks fish.

I believe 75 per cent of the Highlands fishermen use spincasting rods and reels. No question about it, it is the easiest one to use in learning, but that does not say that it is best. Like in golf, there are no best clubs - a good golfer must know how to use about a dozen clubs. The same way for the hunter. The .22 that is good for rabbits, is not the gun to use for deer hunting. After an angler becomes proficient with a cane pole or the spincasting outfit he should, on his next rod-reel purchase, not buy another spincaster, but a spinner or some other type of rod and reel and learn to do a good casting job with the new type. Other types open up whole new applications in fishing and you'll be surprized how much more fun and extra fish you'll get working with another outfit.

Yes, they are a bit costly, but instead of investing in that second bottle of beer, or driving fast and wasting gasoline, save a little of your cash on the non-essentials and use it for this 2nd, or 3rd, or 4th rod.

Next week on the spinning rods and reels. With so much good fishing in our Avon Park lakes and streams, knowing how to put your equipment to better use will profit you more in pleasure and meat.

YOU'RE AN IMPORTANT PERSON IN THE EYES OF GOD

In this age of computers, in every regard
We have all been reduced to a hole in a card.
Oh, how simple it was in our house by the road,
Till they added the Zip and the Area Code!
In your place of employment, or out in your car,
You're a serial number wherever you are;
And you find your identity harder to claim
When you're known by a number instead of a name.
So, there's one thing to do: let your faith lead the way
To the place where you still can be Someone today.
If you go to your Church, you'll be happy to find
In the eyes of the Lord you are one of a kind!

By MARGIE WELLS

It was announced at coffee hour on Wednesday that the men would cook the St. Patrick's Day Dinner which will be held in the rec hall at 1 p.m., on March 17. They are planning to cook and serve corned beef and cabbage and the women are to bring salads and desserts. So, please sign up for this "big" event and we'll see what kind of a job these men can do!

The fourth part of the slide tour around the United States was presented Friday evening in the rec hall by Steve and Sally Bohaychyk. A number of National Parks were visited in the west including Yellowstone, Sequoia and Yosemite. Also slides were shown of the bridge to nowhere in Colorado and of Salt Lake City. Many amusing incidents connected with these places were related. For those who had not visited Disney World here in Florida, its counterpart, the original Disneyland in California, showed its similarity and was most interesting. The audience was highly appreciative of the fine photography shown. Next Friday, the slide tour will continue into Canada with occasional glimpses of friends and others in the north and here in the park.

Fourteen members of the Federation of Mobile Home Owners of Florida, attended a meeting of Highlands County District 6 of the Federation which was held in the rec building of Grayce 2 in Sebring last Thurrsday afternoon. Mann, President of the organization, was the speaker. Much good information was given and this was followed by a question and answer period.

Herbert Craddock, president of District 6, will be the speaker at a meeting of Bonnie Brae Unit of FMHO which is to be held in the rec hall on Tuesday , March 8, 10 a.m. Every mobile home owner, whether a member or not, is invited to attend this meeting. Craddock will speak on what the organization has done to save us money in the past, what legislation the Federation is sponsoring, and what legislation has been pre-filed for action at the Spring session of the State Legislature. He will also answer any questions which may be asked. We urge everyone to make plans to attend this meeting.

Rozzie and Lester Parkhurst had a pleasant surprise on Friday afternoon when Rozzie's cousin and his wife, Ray and Alma Ayers, of Anderson, Ind. dropped in to see them. They also had with them their friends, Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis of Fortville, Ind. They are visiting in Tarpon Springs.

Word was received this past week that Robert (Bob) Cook died on February 23 in a hospital at Columbia, S.C., where he lived. He was an employe at Pantry Pride where he and his wife first came to Avon Park. They lived in Bonnie Brae for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil of Monroe, Ohio, are guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Boyer this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ritchey of Port Charlotte, formerly of Lansing, Mich. visited Ellen Hunt a couple of days last week. On Friday, they all drove to . Dunedin to visit a former minister's widow, Mrs. L. B. Niles, and had a most enjoyable time. Mrs. Niles is approaching her 89th birthday and is alert and happy although she is physically unable to do many things she loved to do so much.

And speaking of birthdays, we would like to wish Mrs. C. D. Harsh of Winter Haven a very happy birthday. She is celebrating her 81st birthday this week and is a beautiful and sweet lady. This reporter should know because she's my mother!!

Dorothy Carroll flew to St. Louis on Friday to attend the funeral of her sister's husband who died on Thursday. She plans to return to Bonnie Brae the first of next week.

The regular Saturday pinochle group met at Mary and Cedric Weirman's home last week. Those attending, in addition to the hosts, were Ethel and Max Putman, Helen Dyce, Thelma Miller, and Herman Motzer.

Margie and P. D. Wells spent the week-end in Pompano Beach visiting with their son and his wife, Bob and Carol Wells.

Harold Burke was very happy that he was able to bring his wife, Kathryn, home from the hospital this week. We all hope she will be better soon.

Several of our residents had dinner at the Black Forest last Sunday. The "Sunday diners" were Ellen Hunt, Ruth Smith, Rene and Joe Asher, Steve and Sally Bohaychyk, the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Boyer, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Webster.

There was a nice crowd at the meeting of the arts and crafts last Tuesday afternoon. Thelma Miller gave instructions on how to make macrame and it is hoped that more women will come out at 1 p.m., every Tuesday for these sessions. Bring whatever you wish to work on and expect to have a lot of fun.

There has been a paper placed in the rec hall and in the laundry room for your convenience in making corrections and additions to our park directory which was distributed last week. Please make any corrections, additions, or suggestions so that we can have an up-to-date directory for this fall.

HOME VANDALIZED

Barbara Klemm, of Avon Park, reported to sheriff's deputies that when she returned to her home last Tuesday night, she discovered that five of the front windows of the house had been broken. In addition, her driveway had been covered with a number of small tacks. Total damage was set at $150.

A Telephone isn't just a Telephone

If you're one of those people who thinks a telephone is just a telephone, we have a surprise for you. Although you know telephones come in different shapes and colors, we still have some eye-openers for you.

Did you know that you can have a wall phone built into your wall? One that offers a choice of two metal face plates, and six colored inserts you can change yourself to match your moods.

If you call some numbers frequently and repeatedly, we offer an automatic dialer that does your dialing for you at the touch of a single button.

Or a speaker phone that lets the whole family take part in conversations — from anywhere in the room.

For that up-to-the minute feeling, you might want a streamlined Trend Line phone with the dial in the handset. In eight colors, naturally, including burnt orange and cocoa brown.

How about a phone that answers your calls when you're not home, and takes messages for you?

Still want more? How about a musical chime that announces incoming calls? Or a loud bell or horn for the workshop? Or extra-long cords to let you reach anywhere in the room? (We even have weatherproof jacks that let you use the phone on the patio or in the pool area.)

If you are really stylish, select from one of 15 decorator phones, ranging from elegant continental models, to a phone in a beautiful wooden case, to a colorful modernized Candlestick phone.

For those who require hearing assistance, we offer a phone that amplifies incoming calls, and lets you control the volume to suit your needs.

And in some areas, we can offer you telephone service in your car, and pocket pagers that will tell you when you have a call, even when you're miles from home.

Call or visit your United Telephone Business office today. We'll tell you about telephones that are more than telephones, and what the monthly rate and installation charges are.

School Board Likes The Two-Party Way

If Highlands County has a referendum on the non-partisan election of school board members in the near future, it will not be at the urging of the present school board.

At Tuesday night's board meeting, Attorney James McCollum presented a resolution endorsing a bill which he had presented to the county's legislative delegation.

The bill called for a countywide referendum on whether to adopt a non-partisan election of school members, a proposal which had been discussed at the board's legislative workshop prior to the February meeting.

McCollum said that after he presented the bill at the Ag Center meeting, "It was fairly well received by the legislators, although they declined to say how they would vote on it."

The bill is already in Tallahassee, said McCollum, and if the board would adopt a resolution supporting it, he would contact the delegation to introduce the legislation in congress.

Several members said they would like time to consider the resolution, but McCollum cautioned that if they want the referendum legislation enacted, they had best forward the resolution as quickly as possible.

Margaret Turnbull said her personal thoughts are that, "This country was founded and achieved greatness on the two-party system, and I see no reason to change our system."

Ken Grady agreed, saying, "When I first came to Highlands County things were run on an unofficial one-party system, and I think this would be a regressive step to go back to that way of doing things."

McCollum said the bill had already been sent to the capitol, and "It only calls for a referendum for the people to decide, not the board."

John Wirick Jr. asked, "If Mrs. Turnbull is against this act, Mr. Grady is against it, and I'm against it, who instructed the bill to be sent up there?"

Board Chairman Ruth Davis said that non-partisan elections had been discussed at the workshop, from which Wirick and Turnbull were absent.

Superintendent Dan Davis asked Wirick "Are you against the non-partisan election, or against the referendum? The people of the county should have the right to decide for themselves."

Steve Roberts move in favor of supporting a referendum and Ken Grady seconded, "So we can get this thing to a vote in an official meeting."

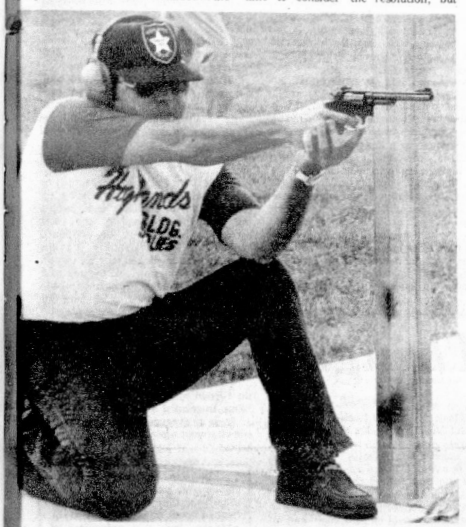

Under discussion, Roberts told the other board members, "I feel very strongly about this. I believe the partisan part of an election involving our children should be taken out. This same system worked with the election of county judges, I don't see why it wouldn't work with school officials."

Roberts said that, like Grady, he did not want to revert to a system where "one group of people is picking who would be on the board, but I do not think we are in danger of having that happen now."

Grady again voiced opposition, saying, "I firmly believe the two-party system has added greatly to the growth of this county."

Dr. Davis asked if the voters should not have the right to decide, and Grady replied that they do, although, "I'm not going to propose it."

$1.3 Million Construction Pact Is Signed By College

After approximately two years in the idea and planning stages, a $1,336,650 contract was signed by South Florida Junior College and the Ellis Construction Company for the building of a 1500 seat Community Auditorium and Fine Arts Complex on the junior college campus with the site preparation expected to start next week and completion of the center expected in July 1978.

Thirteen construction companies had submitted sealed bids on the auditorium and fine arts center ranging from a high total bid of $1,436,500 to the low Ellis Bid. Recommended by the architects, Watson and Company, Ellis Construction Company is no stranger to the College campus and Avon Park, having constructed the Child Care and Nursery Center and the Industrial Building plus the National Guard Armory on U.S. 27.

Watson's vice-president Samuel T. Breedon in explaining the contract pointed out that there were several alternates, should the total bid price be over the amount of funds alloted for the project.

In addition to the base bid amount of $1,165,800, the first alternate covered the stage lighting and auditorium audio system with a bid price of $86,350; second alternate for additional stage equipment, $30,350; third alternate, $36,800 for portable visual screen, accoustical shell and orchestra risers; while the $17,350 fourth alternate included landscaping and site preparation.

In charge of architectural engineering, vice-president, Dan Harnly pointed out that the architectural firm had been working against the bid day in securing estimates with bid alternates being secured ahead of time in case the contract had to be pared down to match available funds. However, this was not the case this time.

Harnly stated they had enjoyed a good working relationship with the junior college and now with a good contractor they were looking foward to a good relationship with the community during the building of the center.

Dr. William A. Stallard, president of SFJC told the group assembled for the signing of the contract that all of the funds for the project were not included in the bid and that this included site preparation and equipment which would bring the total cost up to the money alloted for the auditorium and center.

Dr. Stallard also expressed his great appreciation for the work of Evelyn Jones and the Citizens Committee in spearheading the organization and collection of community funds above that contributed by local governmental bodies. It was Evelyn Jones and her committee work with community organizations and individuals that made the project a success, stated Dr. Stallard.

Dr. Ernest Palmer, chairman of the board of trustees for the junior college signed the construction contract for the college. After signing the contract Gilbert Y. Ellis, president of the Ellis Construction Company, Tampa, stated that clearing of the land would start by next Wednesday, March 17, with his construction superintendent coming from Lakeland. The company expects to use as many local people on the project as possible, primarily starting with carpenters and labor.

Groundbreaking ceremonies are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sunday 1 March 20, with all concerned on keeping the ceremony short.

In reviewing the events that led up to the signing of the construction contract, Dr. Stallard told how the idea of building a fine arts center started approximately two years ago. The center was to have an auditorium with 500 seats and be designed primarily for the college use. In due time the state allocated $825,000 to build the facility.

In 1975 the Florida legislature passed a law permitting the joint participation of state and local governments in the development of facilities for community use.

Annual March Of Dimes Trek Is Set At 25 Kilometers This Year

The Highlands County chapter of the March of Dimes is making an effort this year to attract more participants for its March 26 Walk-A-Thon.

Scheduled for an appearance on the walk day will be the Burger Queen, trademark of the fast food chain.

As an added incentive, representatives of the food company will also pass out complimentary coupons good for a hamburger to each person who partricipates in the 25 kilometer trek.

According to walk chairwoman Judy Nugent, any county resident is welcome to partricipate in the walk. There is no age limit, however, any participant under the age of 18 must have a parent or guardians signature on their sponsor sheet.

The event will satrt at 8:30 a.m. from the county fairgrounds in Sebring and end, later in the afternoon, at the same location.

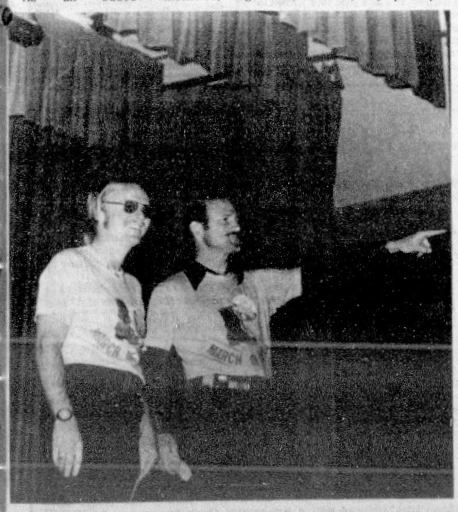

Supporting the organization's efforts for the past six years with the sponsorship of various route checkpoints are: Ridge Florist; Badcock Furniture; K. D. Grubb, builders; United Telephone and Burger Queen.

Other area concerns who have agreed to sponsor checkpoints this year include: Artistic Interiors; Highlands Jeweler's; Green's Surplus Store; McLean's Furniture; Buckeye Fuel Co.; Schenck's Shirt Shack; Nielsen Electric and Sebring CB Center.

Volunteers will man each checkpoint, marking each walker's route card. The route card must be stamped at each checkpoint if the hiker is to get full credit for the distance completed.

Lending a hand with the route control and communications will be the C.B. Help Club.

DeSoto Landfill Is Problem

Scavenger Bid Nixed

At present, there is apparently only one person in the county who wishes to be a licensed landfill scavenger, and the Highlands County Commissioners voted Tuesday not to let him have the job.

While discussing the annual bid tabulation awards Tuesday, the commission learned that the only bid submitted for rights to scavenge at the DeSoto City landfill was tendered by the present scavenger, Arthur Clay.

Clay offered the board $50 a month for exclusive rights to rummage through the rubbish at the dump, searching for any items of value.

However, county Administrative Assistant Charles Cullens pointed out to the commission that Clay is among a group of four persons who had their names forwarded to the state's attorney two weeks ago for alleged violations of the county's zoning ordinances.

Zoning director Bill Stephenson at the time reported Clay had a multitude of assorted junk strewn about the yard of his Lake June Road residence, and had ignored the county's instructions to tidy up.

Tuesday, Cullens said that a recent check of the property revealed the situation had not been altered, so he recommended the bid be rejected.

Several commissioners commented that they did not want the dump being relocated to Lake June Road, and unanimously voted to refuse Clay's bid.

Recently all of the original scavengers have dropped out of the business, saying that either the county's regulations are too strict, or that they cannot obtain the required insurance.

Commissioner Robert Skipper said the Clay incident only confirmed his original theory that exclusive scavenging rights were more trouble than they were worth, and moved to eliminate the franchised scavenger system.

However, his motion died for lack of a second.

The commission then voted to readvertise the scavenging rights, agreeing with Carl Arant who said, "Some time within the next six months, we may get somebody in here who really wants the rights, and then we can use that $350 a year income."

In other landfill-related topics, the board authorized county engineer Gordon Hays Jr. and purchasing director John Gercken to study the feasibility of developing a system so people can dump one bag of garbage at the dump for 10 cents.

"Buddy" Wise raised the subject, saying, "A number of pepple, particularly the retired, have been asking me about paying 10 cents a bag, up to five bags, at the dump. They insist they would rather take their garbage to the landfill once a day, rather than wait and do it all at once."

Arant said he considered daily trips to the dump "a waste of gas," for homeowners, but another board member reminded that what people do with their own gas is not the county's concern.

Student Code Studied

The Highlands County School Board heard Superintendent Dan Davis report Tuesday night on a number of projects which the county administration is developing.

Davis said one of the main concerns is a "Code of Student Conduct", which upon completion will be used by all county schools.

Also being readied at the George Douglas Administration Building is a "pupil progression plan", which Davis said "will tell us exactly what we can expect of a child in grades Kindergarten through 12."

Other projects include the building priority list, a transportation and planning system, possible revisions of school board policy, reassessment of school standards, a study of the administration system by the state, and a later study to be conducted by a private agency, the relocation of the maintenance complex to the E. O. Douglas complex, and preparing for another round of collective bargaining.

Davis told the board and audience he was always anxious to hear publix input. He invited anyone who has a topic to discuss to make an appointment with his secretary and then, "Come on in and have a cup of coffee."

Davis said he was usually in his office from 6:30 a.m. to noon.

Editor's Viewpoint

by Russ Dennis

For those of you out there who have scoffed at the very existance of the Swine Flu or the A-Victorian strain of that same malady, let me shed a bit of light on the subject. Buster, you'd better believe those bugs are for real-and they mean business.

The 'ole editor was ambushed by one of the above mentioned forms of agony last week and has suddenly become sorry that he didn't take advantage of the free flu shots handed out by the government.

The onset of the disease was subtle-one minute I felt fine and the next-well, a once powerful figure of a man was reduced to a miserable wretch in one foul blow.

Sweat streaming from my noble brow, I voiced my opinion that I had been visited by some strange illness to mine wife. She looked at me skeptically and wondered out loud whether I was sick or had just eaten too many peanutbutter and banana sandwiches.

The discovery of a fe ver that rapidly approached the same temperature as Death Valley at high noon, forced my spouse to give me the benefit of the doubt.

Tenderly, she forced my mouth open with a handy shoe horn and dumped several asprins down my throat. "Now, go to bed and rest," she advised. Numbly, I complied, all the time wondering how I ever could have doubted the existance of such a devistating illness. The hours slowly wandered by, some of them stoping to chat, and my condition worsened. Thoughts of a last will and testament started to crowd my delerious thoughts.

A full day passed, than another and all the while, I tossed and turned on my sweat drenched bed. The mound of empty asprin bottles had now become a small mountain, but still my fe ver did not abate.

I knew that I had reached a crisis, when I pried my gummy eyes open and saw my wife caressing my brow. She was wearing a pot holder on her hand. "You must be brave," she said. "I want my Mommy," I replied.

For hours I grappled with that deamon feaver until, in the late hours of the afternoon, I vanquished it. Proping myself up on a shaky elbow, I croaked for my wife. She appeared, dishtowel in hand. "I think my fe vers' broken," I said. "Yeah, I see," she replied, eyeing its shattered remnants. "I was brave, wasn't I," I whispered. She nodded absently, obviously upset about all the asprin bottles and the shattered fe ver messing up her clean bedroom. Before she left the room, she retrieved my teddy and tucked me in all comfy.

Feeling somewhat better on the next day, I crawled towards the front of the house, pausing occassionaly to faint. It was my intention to watch a little television. My wife discovered me in a comatose state, behind the drier. Scolding me, like all loving wives do, she dragged me back to bed. (I do feel that taking teddy away from me was unfair.)

I have tried to make light of my illness, after all, there is nothing more boring than hearing about sickness, however, this article has a point. Don't fool around with the flu. If you are sick-see a doctor and pronto. I was lucky, being in good health (I've been known to be able to life my own weight in groceries — over a period of months.), but someone who was not in good shape could be in for a rough go of it.

Protect your health — it's the most precious commodity that you will ever have.

Since Florida is seperated from Cuba by just a few miles of water, the Sun wondered what the public opinion was on a resumption of trade with the communist country.

...This week's question: Do you think that the United States should "normalize" relations with Cuba?

William Ray, Lorita. "Yes, I think the United States should once again resume relations with Cuba, just for "good neighbor" purposes. We've got to get along with them because they are so close. The can do what they want, as long as they don't bother us."

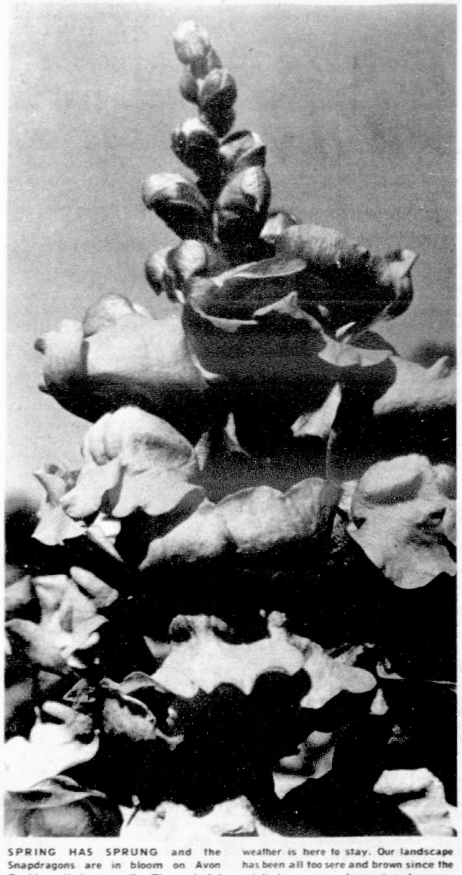

Mrs. Elizabeth Zuck, Lake Byrd Blvd. "No. I don't think we should resume relations with Cuba. Cuba isn't a country we can do business with. The government there is the same now as when we broke off relations."

Mrs. E. Dodge, Sebring. "No, I don't think we should have anything to do with Cuba. Castro isn't a good man, he has murdered too many people. I don't think we can ever normalize trade relations with Cuba because you can't trust Castro."

Luke Oliver, Lake Walton Park. "I guess we should resume relations with Cuba. We should try and be good neighbors with all countries and Cuba could possibly be of some use in the defense of the United States."

Proposed Law

The Florida Legislature will be considering a rather interesting measure during its spring session, one that could be of benefit to most Floridians if it is worded properly.

The measure, a proposed amendment to the state constitution, would stipulate that agricultural land, environmentally endangered land and areas of critical state concern may be classified by general law and assessed solely on the basis of character or use.

What this means is a clearcut tax break for persons who own farming land or property that has been declared environmentally endangered, such as swamps and cypress groves. In addition, the bill would provide a tax break for property that is used exclusively for non-commercial recreational purposes.

This type of law has been tried in other states with some success, however, legislators must refuse to water the bill down or compromise the effectiveness of the measure through wording that would allow speculators to hold large tracts of land for sale and housing developments or other commercial ventures.

Farmers would get a double bonus of tax relief, since their property would be assessed only as agriculturial (if that is what it was being used for) and not on its potential value as a housing development or a shopping center. This in turn, would encourage the state's remaining small farmers to continue with their family operations. The savings in taxes for farmers on that one aspect of the bill alone could be considerable each year.

Certain measures and safeguards will have to be incorporated into the bill to prevent landowners from realizing large tax savings then selling the property in question for non-intended use.

An example of that would be a farmer who realizes five years of vastly reduced taxes on some of his property, then sells it to a land developer for use as a shopping center. In other states where similar bills have become law, provisions were set up to prevent this, usually by establishing a minimum number of years property must be held in the conforming tax catagory before it can be sold for different use. The penalty for violating the agreement between the landowner and the state usually is the amount of back taxes saved, plus a certain percentage of punishment fine.

The general public will also benefit from such a tax break, especially in the non-commercial recreational land use form.

In Michigan, one of the states where this type of legislation has been inacted, sportsmen had complained that there just wasn't enough hunting area open to the public in certain parts of the state. By allowing landowners to receive tax breaks by opening their land to hunters and sportsmen on a limited basis, property owners and the public both realized increased benefits.

There are drawbacks to the proposal, however, that must be viewed with concern, especially the possibility of large scale fraud which could be perpetrated against the state. The bill will have to be worded very carefully, indeed, to make sure that all loop-holes are filled.

In the Avon Park area there must be many acers of land that will meet all requirements for eligibility under such a tax law. Perhaps one of the most attractive aspects of the proposed legislation is its universatility. It is the property that is judged, not its owner. Farmers, businessmen and the guy next door could all realize tax savings, not to mention the preservation of land for farming and recreational purposes.

Things My Way

By Alice Smith

There are a few truisms that have been around so long that they get lost in pratice.

Consider, for instance, "Always read the fine print". Every one knows that — and the near-sighted should find their glasses and do just that.

The advertisement read "Art Sale — over 1500 original oil paintings" and all priced under fifty dollars. Since my annual brush with culture was just about due, the idea was enchanting. I had visions of dedicated artists, bearded and sandaled men and intense ladies with beads, in a parking lot, surrounded by the results of their creative endeavor.

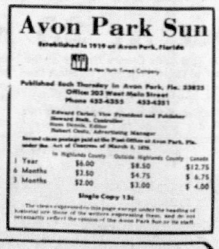

So we drove to Tampa. Took the check book, just in case, but mostly, had an urge to brush shoulders with real, live artists.

What we found was the lobby of a Holiday Inn, set up store-fashion with rows of tables and neat stacks of mass-produced paintings. Somewhere Oil Paintings, Inc. had indeed turned out 1500 salutes to our mechanical age. As for brushing shoulders — one had a choice of several brisk salesmen.

As a fitting climax to this fiasco, I talked my partner in crime into stopping at a fast-food emporium where I ate a hamburger. It was a good four inches in diameter and as thick and juicy as a doubled desk blotter. I considered this fitting punishment for my stupidity. While munching on it, I put on my glasses and read the tiny print at the bottom of the clipped ad. It said "Master Charge-Bank Americard Accepted".

Even an average intellect knows that starving artists have no truck with credit cards.

Bellhop Editorial

Quite Amusing

Letter to the Editor

I enjoyed reading your editorial concerning tips in hotels, especially in the Miami hotel where you stayed for a very short time. Your experience with the bellhop of the hotel was quite amusing, but also it was so disappointing and discouraging.

The greatly discriminating attitude of the bellhops toward the hotel guests in Miami hotels, I believe is common with most of the bellhops,in most of the hotels in the land — less willingness, less kindness and less gentle manners. Good service for big tips and less service for little tips, a discouraging attitude.

Some important truths are derived from the short experience which involves almost the whole business field of the United States of America in these days. (1) Less labor, less service, but more money. Such an attitude, such a false philosophy of life, destroys the whole financial life and degrades the morality and dignity of man. (2) Devaluating of the preciousness and the high value of a dollar. A dollar is precious. Higher wages and bigger tips devaluates the preciousness of a dollar.

In many foreign lands one American dollar is so precious. Millions of young people in the Balkans, near East countries and many other poor countries would be fortunate and glad to work for 2-3 or 4 dollars for a days labor. (3) Selfishness and greediness of labor and management. Oftentimes labor's unreasonable high wages demands accelerates the prices of food and the necessities of life and consequently the retired, the old, the senior citizens and low income families suffer — the country suffers. Unreasonable and selfish strikes cripples and shatters the business life and bring misery and poverty. (4) Unthankfullness and unappreciation of our blessings and our matchless freedoms and for our jobs. Even in our rich country millions are unemployed and thankless bellhops and all who have jobs should be thankful.

Americans let us learn or have the spirit of thankfulness, gratitude and appreciation for our countless blessings and behave ourselves as gentlemen and love America. And do our best, even sacrifice to build a much greater and more prosperous America.

Wasted Food

Dear Editor:

In an exchange of ideas at a conference on world hunger this last week, I realized that there were many others who feel as I do about the amount of food that we are wasting, especially when we eat in restaurants. I hesitate to eat out as much as I would really like because of the huge helpings that are always put on my plate that I cannot eat but must pay for. Even a "doggie bag" which is usually cheerfully given helps only with the meat. Many of the people with whom I exchanged ideas wished that one could choose between large and small helpings so that those who wanted a large amount might have it but the many who cannot possibly eat so much might choose and pay for smaller servings.

Many would be happy to be asked if they cared for rolls. We know if they are put on our table they may not be used elsewhere even if we do not touch them. Some people do not drink water with their meals. We could save the water and the dishes if it is not served unless we want it.

Avon Park has many older people. Some of these are alone and would enjoy eating out with other people but for the reasons I have given do not have this pleasure as often as they would like. I feel that a restaurant that would cater to these people would have an increase in business that would be profitable for them and would give enjoyment to many citizens. How do you feel?

Business Briefs

A reverse mortgage to give older home owners supplemental monthly incomes by permitting them to borrow against their debt-free homes has been proposed by the president of the U.S. League of Savings Associations in Orlando.

"Reverse mortgages would open up a new source of income for millions of Americans whose largest single asset, the home where they live, sits idle," said John Hardin, president of the association.

The giant corporations that dominate U.S. business apparently are ready to loosen their purse strings and spend for new plants and equipment — a key factor in generating new jobs.

The nation's 1,900 largest manufacturing companies last quarter appropriated $15.3 billion for capital spending, up 33 per cent from the previous three months, according to the Conference Board, a nonprofit business research group.

General Motors owes $175 each to 43,000 persons who bought 1977 Oldsmobiles equipped with a lower-priced Chevrolet engine, the Illinois attorney general asserted this week.

Atty. Gen. William Scott sued in circuit court seeking restitution for the "poor consumer..." from "Mr. Giant Manufacturer."

General Motors does not deny the engine switch.

TURNED TO TROUBLE

A two car accident on U.S. 27 in Avon Park caused $1350 in damage to the vehicles involved.

Florida Highway Patrol reports said Geneva Martensen of Indiana was attempting to turn off the highway when struck from behind by Leland Darling of Avon Park.

Trooper W. R. Walker charged Darling with careless driving. There were no injuries.

$1.3 Million Contract Signed community auditorium to be built under the provisions of this act. The estimated additional cost of a 1500 seat auditorium was $1,000,000, with two thirds to be supplied by the state and one third by local governmental bodies.

The legislature appropriated $667,000 to South Florida Junior college to be used for the construction of the 1500 seat auditorium. Local sources, Highlands County appropriated $150,000 and the city of Avon Park gave $141,000 towards the project; with the balance contributed by Lake Placid, many civic and service organizations in the junior college school district and numerous local and area citizens, contributing to make the building of the auditorium and fine arts center a reality.

Dr. Stallard also noted that only two such community facilities were authorized by the 1976 Florida Legislature the other being in Broward County, which is already under construction.

School Board

Ruth Davis said, "I stand on my past position, I think there are competent people out there who might run for the board if they did not face the possibility of running in two primaries and the general election. It could cause an undue hardship for people who are very busy during the day."

Wirick had the last word. "If they want the position bad enough, they will run no matter what."

The motion supporting the resolution was defeated, 3-2, with Davis and Roberts voting for it, the remainder of the board against.

McCollum said that if the board did not forward a resolution supporting his bill, they would probably take no action on it.

In other business, the board agreed with Dr. Davis' recommendation to deny Sunday afternoon use of the Lake Placid High School gym to a group of young men who wished to use it for basketball games.

School Principal Malcolm Ross explained that the group consisted mainly of Highway Park residents who wished to form a team and had no place to play. Their ages, he said, ranged from recent high school graduates to persons in their late 20's.

"The problem is that as far as I have determined," said Ross, "they do not have any type of sponsor who will take responsibility for the gym. If something gets torn up, I have no one to turn to for financial responsibility."

The board unanimously voted the request down, but made a point of saying that should the group find a sponsoring organization they would be happy to reconsider the request.

The board also set Aug. 29, as the first day of school for the next school term. Dr. Davis said he wished to get the first day of school definitely established so the administration can begin preparing possible school calendars.

Davis told the board that most teachers and pupils would rather start before Labor Day and finish earlier in June.

In other concerns, the board:

— Adopted a resolution supporting Student Services Week.

— Gave Davis permission to conduct a site and boundary survey of middle school locations so discussion on future building can be initiated with architects.

— Approved use of the Lake Placid High School gym for the Jayceette Junior Miss Program, but declined to waive all fees as requested. The gym was also approved as a site for the 2nd annual Talent Show sponsored by the Jayceettes.

Scavenger Bid

Hays said under the present system, he would rather not break the charges down as low as 10 cents a single bag, because, "The paperwork involved with logging it and filling out the receipt just isn't worth a dime."

The board then asked Hays and Gercken to come up with an alternative.

Cullens informed the board that last month, the landfills collected a total of $7,604 in fees. "That figures even includes the fact that the DeSoto City scales were broken, so we had to charge 20 per cent less than if the trucks had been weighed. At this rate, the landfills will be self-sustaining by year's end.

Near the close of the meeting, Robert Skipper asked county Attorney Robert Dunty how the proposed mandatory garbage pickup ordinance is coming.

Dunty replied that he currently is studying four ordinances similar to what the county wishes to adopt, but that "Two are presently under litigation, and a third has already been thrown out by the courts."

Dunty said he is waiting to see how the court cases come out before drafting an ordinance, but Skipper said "The tax assessor has told me that he will need to know very soon, because this will take a lot of work to get on the tax rolls."

Wise suggested the county begin holding public hearings on the mandatory pick-up plan, "So we can tell county residents what we're trying to do."

However, the board concluded it would be useless to hold a public hearing on the subject without a proposed ordinance to discuss.

The commission also voted to advertise for bids on the purchase of an orange crop, orange trees, and the sprinkler system now found on five acres of DeSoto City landfill property.

Car Stolen While Owner Taking Swim

While swimming at an Avon Park lake Sunday afternoon, a Sebring resident looked up just in time to see his car being driven away.

Miles McGee, of Sebring, reported to sheriff's deputies that he and several friends had decided to go swimming in Lake Denton, just south of Avon Park, so they parked the car at the Baptist Camp and went in for a plunge.

At 4:16 p.m., McGee said he looked up in the nick of time to see his auto, a 1975 Monte Carlo, being stolen.

Due to the glare on the rear windshield, McGee said he could not see how many persons were in the auto.

McGee and a friend got in another car and attempted to follow tracks left by his vehicle, but lost it when it reached U.S. 27.

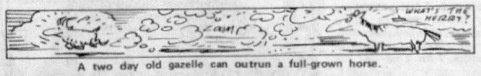

The owner told deputies the keys had been left in the car.

Other property in the car when it was stolen included a pistol, a rifle, a shotgun, a CB radio, a wallet containing $12 in cash, a purse containing $10 in cash, and several items of baseball equipment.

If McGee had a rabbit's foot he must have retained possession of it, for, by Tuesday noon, Highlands County Sheriff's Department had recovered the auto and all its contents.

At 9:56 a.m. Tuesday the department received a call reporting an auto abandoned off Fairmont Drive at Lake Jackson Heights. Deputies who responded to that call found McGee's car, contents, even some gasoline in the auto's gas tank.

Total loss was set at $7,000. Investigation into the theft are continuing.

Mrs. Franklyn Ward Speaks To Woman's Club

Members of the Woman's Club of Avon Park met last week at the clubhouse.

They were privileged to hear Mrs. G. Franklyn Ward, president of the State Prevention Health Committee, discuss "Prevention of Retardation".

She spoke of the progress made by science in both prenatal and at-birth discovery and correction of retardation. In the field of education, the private sector and government are moving ahead in training which will develop the retarded to their full potential.

Mrs. Ward is firmly convinced that the greatest hope for eventual near-elimination of retardation lies in education, which must begin with the very young.

Proper nutrition and health practices through the formative years, she believes, will eventually result in a generation of parents whose children will be free of mental and physical handicaps. This will take many years of effort but it can be done.

During the business meeting, Margaret Bush announced that the club will hold a Spring Thrift and Bake Sale at the clubhouse on Saturday, March 26.

Refreshments were served by the Education Department, with Mrs. John A. Ferguson as chairman.

New York State Picnic

The 15th annual New York State picnic, held March 4 at the Highlands Hammock State Park, was attended by over 200 from forty counties.

Following a bountiful meal in the balmy 85 degree temperature many friendships were renewed.

The main topic of conversation was weather with many tall tales of record snow and cold across the Empire State, surely a winter to go on record. No one could remember such continued cold or as much snow.

Snowmobiles proved their worth in maintaining a supply line to marooned residents. Even a member of the National Guard, when called for duty in Buffalo, had to travel on one to reach an open highway.

A low temperature of 33 below zero was recorded at one time, which is really frigid; but with high winds added, the chill factor was 70 degrees below. It was not a time to be out for pleasure.

Friends Of The Library

A representative group of members of the Friends of the Library met last week to consider tentative plans for raising the necessary funds to furnish and equip the new addition to the Avon Park Library.

Three members of the Library Board, Mae Langman, Dr. Dan Davis and Paul Gentry were present. Davis spoke of the excellent and expanding programs for children instituted by the librarian, Carolyn Moore. These have been so successful that they have outgrown the present facilities.

In fact, it became necessary to use the second floor of City Hall on some occasions. Since the city council was able to finance the building addition now under construction, Friends of the Library has undertaken the task of providing furniture and equipment.

The organization hopes to give every citizen of Avon Park the opportunity to contribute to this project — a step forward in bringing the library, books and children together.

Since the completion date on the new room is April 1, it is hoped that funds for furnishing can be raised swiftly and an early date set for a gala Grand Opening.

Friends of the Library will meet on Friday, March 18, at 4 p.m. at the Avon Park Library to complete plans for the project.

National Nutrition Week Held At Avon Park High School

IN KEEPING WITH National Nutrition Week, girls from the Foods and Nutrition classes at Avon Park High School measured out ingredients for what could be either cookies, bread or rolls with Kim Miller (left) at the flour container and Debra Chancey emptying the measuring cup and Jenner Dyal working the flour sifter. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

With this being National Nutrition Week, students in Mrs. Violet Moseley's Foods and Nutrition Course at Avon Park High School, have been working on Breads and Cereals, which includes the making of breads, pastries and the cooking of cereal products.

With the two class sections of almost 50 students, Mrs. Moseley stated, that boys are reluctant to take the one half credit course because it is tied in with a half credit child development course.

The foods and Nutrition course includes a study of the nutritive value of foods such as the amount of carbohydrates, fats, protein, minerals and vitamins in the four basic food groups of meats, breads and cereals, milk and milk products and fruits and vegetables.

Their study of meats included the use of beef pork, poultry, fish, other meats and legumes. Legumes includes the various varieties of beans, peas and lentils, etc. Identifying the cuts of meat and the proper methods of cooking with emphasis placed on the less expensieve cuts of meat as being just as nutritious as the more expensieve cuts was also a part of the study.

In the study of breads and cereals, bread making and the making of pastry becomes a part of the course, however the time saving features of the ready made breads and pastry mixes for the working person are not overlooked.

In the milk and milk products group, proper cooking techniques must be used to retain the nutritive value of this group of foods. Then there is the combining of this group with cereals, such as for pie crusts or using with dry breakfeast cereal.

In the study of the fruit and vegetable group a practice session stresses the use of cooked and fresh vegetables and fruits. A taste session is also a part of the course as many girls don't like something because they have never tasted the food.

One of the requirements of the course is that the student carry over at home by cooking meals for the family. However, one father was reported as 'old fashioned' he wanted only his wife to cook for him, not his daughter.

Mrs. Moseley reported that most mothers enjoy having their daughter cook for the family and some daughters even do the food shopping for the family.

One mother, according to Mrs. Moseley, appeared to sum up the feelings of many mothers with her critique of her daughter's cooking, in which she wrote, "Her menu planning and cooking has been very good — just a little slow, but I feel with a little more experience she will over come that." The mother ended her note with, "I am real proud of her progress."

Record Hop Benefits Andy Miracle Memorial Patio Fund

By Bret Atkins

The Avon Park High School gym was the scene Saturday, March 5, as Rockin' Ridge Productions presented a record hop with proceeds going toward the Andrew Miracle Memorial Patio.

According to Mrs. Virginia Crews, Librarian at APHS and chairman of the Memorial Patio committee, the dance was a huge success with over 230 students attending. For those unable to attend the dance, one hour of it was video-taped and will be telecast on Cable TV, Channel 12, in the near future. Ridge Productions will advertise the two showing dates in the local newspaper ad section. Watch for the showing dates.

Heading up some of the events of the dance were record rating by Brenda Cooper, Mike Ryan, Mark Gaines and Elois Tate and a dance contest in which first place was captured by Gloria Spry and Kenneth Caldwell and second place by Mike and Leah Ryan. Prizes for the contest were gift certificates from area merchants. The judges for the contest were: Jane Uporsky, Pam Williams, Mrs Helen Britt and Sharmon Duhm.

The next Rockin' Ridge dance will be held at the local gym on April 2 at 8 p.m.

Lions Barbecue

The Avon Park Lions will be serving another of their delicious chicken barbecues on Saturday, Martch 19, starting at 11 a.m. until 7 p.m., at the Lions Club House on West Bell St.

The profits from the dinner will be used locally, to assist the needy with sight problems, and also for the Lions Eye Bank, which has been doing a great job in research and eye transplants.

All Lions Club members have tickets to sell and one of them will probably call on you within the next week to supply you with tickets. In case no one calls on you, tickets will be available at the door. Several of our local business houses also have tickets on sale.

The menue will consist of ½ barbecue chicken, baked beans, cole slaw, and roll and butter, tea and coffee will be served. Carry-outs are specially packaged.

While at the dinner, patrons are invited to inspect our facilities where the meal is being prepared.

Juvenile Charged With Receiving Stolen Goods

A juvenile who had pleaded not guilty to a receiving stolen property charge was found guilty in trial in juvenile court. Judge Clifton M. Kelly continued the case for disposition.

At the same session of juvenile court one dependency case was heard. The child was declared dependent and custody given to the father.

After March 15 Chance For Frost Damage Is Nil

After March 15 the chance of a damaging frost or freeze is minimal in Highlands County. "For the homeowner this means one can begin pruning freeze and frost-damaged plants without a high risk of further damage this year", said Tim Hurner, county Extension director.

Pruning of freeze-harmed plants or trees is a rather simple but arduous task. First one must ascertain the extent of dead wood versus live wood. Live wood can be determined by the presence of a "flush" of new leaves or swollen buds. If no leaves are present, one can identify live wood by scraping the bark with a knife. Live wood will generally appear light yellow or green just under the bark.

Dead limbs should be removed back to live wood. Pruning should be done with a sharp pair of clippers or lopping shears or a sharp pruning saw. Small limbs should be cut just above a live bud. Large limbs should be cut flush with the adjoining branch. Large cuts should be treated with a wound compound.

If trees must be cut back exposing large limbs that were previously shaded, one may need to protect the new branches with whitewash or white latex paint to reflect heat and prevent sun scald.

Most plants and trees should recover quickly even from severe pruning, however one may have to determine if the plant is too far gone to salvage and still have a suitable plant.

Homeowners should remember that there are limitations on amounts, size and proportions of trash that can be picked up by city trash trucks. Limbs less than 6 feet in length can be taken to the county landfill for a fee of $1 per pickup truck load, or $4 per ton. If one plans to burn the debris he should first receive a permit from the Forestry Service in Okeechobee by calling 800-282-6566. Of course local ordinances regarding fires within the city limits must be observed, Hurner cautioned.

Following pruning homeowners should fertilize plants. A 6-6-6 analysis fertilizer is suitable for most plants and shrubs. Shrubs should receive 1½-3 pounds per 100 square feet. Trees should receive 2 pounds per inch of trunk diameter up to a total of 15 pounds.

Lawngrass can be fertilized with a 6-6-6 analysis fertilizer at the rate of 15 pounds per 1,000 square feet. Liquid, meal type, and granular fertilizers are all suitable depending on how long you want the fertilizer to last.

If liming material has not been applied in the last few years one should apply dolomite limestone at the rate of 50 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Of course watering is still important. If no rain occurs most lawngrass and plants should receive approximately a 2-inch application of water every week to ten days.

To Launch Campaign

A candidate for Governor from the most urbanized area of Florida will launch his campaign in a country setting. Senator Robert Graham formally opens his drive at a barbecue and cow-milking contest in Miami Lakes March 19.

A little later this year the Senator will hold a similar event at either Moore Haven or Venus.

Senator Graham is one of the owners and operators of Graham dairies at Venus and Moore Haven. He grew up on a dairy farm in the northern part of Dade County. The area has passed into urban development, but an old barn in the Miami Lakes section is used as a community center and it is at this setting the political campaign commences. The former Future Farmers of America member plans to issue cow-milk challenges for contests in several locations, including the Highlands County dairy.

Water Use Permits Rules To Be Released

Rules for water use permits in Sebring and Avon Park are due for release this summer, but may be sidetracked by a shift in water management district lines.

A state law requiring permits for virtually all water users set Jan. 1 as the deadline for filing for these permits. However, each district works out the specific rules for that district and Southwest Florida District — which includes the northwestern section of Highlands and takes in Sebring and Avon Park — had delayed making rules for some areas where the boundaries were being changed. That was the case in Highlands County which is split between Southwestern and South Florida districts.

The Southwestern district procedures were discussed at a meeting in Lake Wales on Feb. 11, and another public meeting is to be held in Brooksville on April 6.

Following that April 6 meeting the final touches will be made to the water use permit rules for the Sebring and Avon Park areas. Bob Atchinson, public information officer for the Southwest District said the rules should be out and ready for implementation sometime this summer.

However, a session of Florida Legislature will occur before then and Florida Citrus Mutual is backing legislation to enlarge the Southwest Florida District. If the Citrus Mutual bill passes more of Highlands County will be brought into the Southwest district (subtractions being made from the Southern Florida District, where, agriculture interest complain, they are being discriminated against and urban water users favored).

Atchinson said it is difficult to forecast just when the water use permit law will be implemented in the Sebring and Avon Park area. When the rules are established the new users of water will be required to file applications first. It will be about two years before the present users come under full regulation. However, Atchinson points out, that the term "existing use" is narrowly defined; it means use at the present level of use.

Any expansion of use falls into the new use category and does require a permit as a new user. For example, the Southwest Florida staff man said, the cities of Sebring and Avon Park are existing users and so would not come under the permit law rules for two years. If they wish to expand their water systems and pump more water they must file as new users.

DWI CHARGED

An Arizona man was charged with driving while intoxicated following an accident with a parked Highlands County Sheriff's Department car.

The Florida Highway Patrol says Donald M. Posegate was backing up when he struck the police cruiser parked on Self Street.

Trooper J. M. Rhodes estimated damage at $150. There were no injuries.

Red Devil Alumni Versus Varsity

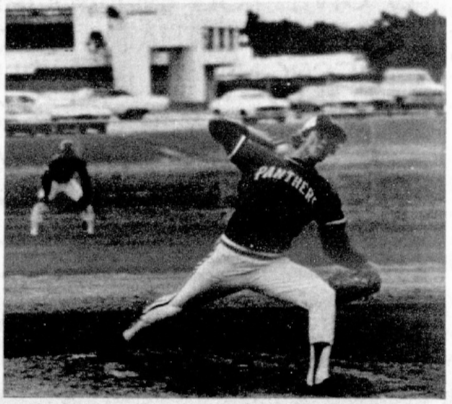

Can Experience Win Over Youths?

Can experience win out over youth and daily practicing? The benefit baseball game to be played at Head Field this Saturday night starting at 7:30 p.m. between Coach Ronnie Jackson's 1977 Red Devil squad and Coach Guy Garrett's Red Devil alumni team may provide an answer. Sam Elder, pitcher and shortstop on the 1955 Avon Park Red Devil state championship team , predicts a win for the alumni on the basis of experience. Jim Sisemore, father of three Red Devil baseball players, predicts a win for the 1977 Red Devil team because of the advantage of youth, daily practices and speed. Fans are invited to come out Saturday night to see the interesting match-up which is being played to benefit the Andrew W. Miracle Memorial Patio Fund.

Last Sunday afternoon ten former baseball stars at Avon Park High School were practicing at Head Field. Members of the state champs of 1955 there were Wendall Williams, Dale Landress, Donald Thompson, Johnny Starling, Sam Elder, and Jimmy Prevatt. Also on hand for the practice were Jerome Antley, Dale Batson, Lamon Money and Dewayne Lemler. Expected to be on hand for the game Saturday night to play with the alumni are Charlie Anderson, Billy Rouse, Jimmy Waldron, Norman Willis, Leroy Starling, Bobby Spurlock, pitcher Glenn Bass, Wolfgang Halbig and Ed Touchton Jr. Others from the Garrett-coached teams may be able to be in town for the big game.

Coach Guy Garrett will be here to coach his all-star team. The popular coach is now teaching at Lake Brantley and coaching the golf team there. He was head baseball coach at Avon Park high school from 1953 through 1964 and fielded two state championship teams during those twelve years.

Tickets are available for the game at the high school or from high school students who are involved in a selling contest. Donations of $2 per adult and $1 per student will be accepted at the gate also. For an evening of fun and excitement, be on hand at Head Field this Saturday night, March 12, when the Red Devils meet the Red Devils of yore.

PANTHER PITCHER, Rick Harrison is about to uncork a curve ball during the Monday afternoon game with Polk Community College. Rick allowed only 5 hits and 1 earned run in the 5-4 South Florida Junior College win. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

Red Devil Varsity Take Two Wins

Coach Ronnie Jackson's Red Devil varsity baseball team defeated Okeechobee 12-7 and Clewiston 5-1 last week to jump off to a 2-0 record for the 1977 season. The win over Okeechobee Tuesday a week ago was a Heartland Conference victory with Billy Young getting credit for the mound win. The Clewiston game was a tight pitchers duel with Avon Park's Larry Jackson taking the mound win giving up only 3 hits and fanning 14 batters.

IN THE LAST Friday night game with Clewiston at Head Field, Victor Roberts (left) claught a home run ball with two aboard while Red Devil pitcher Larry Jackson (holding game ball) held the Tigers to three hits, striking out 14 batters, in the 5-1 win by the Red Devils. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Last Tuesday afternoon the Red Devils traveled to Wauchula for a loop tilt with the Hardee Wildcats. Tonight (Thursday) the Devils will host the Mulberry Panthers here at Head Field in a district match-up starting at 7:30 p.m. and tomorrow afternoon (Friday) they will go to Arcadia to take on the tough DeSoto High Bulldogs in a 4 p.m. starter. Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. the Avon Park team will take time out to play a benefit game against former Red Devil athletes who played baseball under Coach Guy Garrett between the years of 1953 and 1964. Proceeds will go to the Andy Miracle Memorial Patio Fund. Next Monday night, March 14, the Devils go to Frostproof for a district game against the Bulldogs and next Tuesday night, March 15, they will return home to Head Field to take on the Lake Placid nine in a conference and district game.

Avon Park 12 Okeechobee 7

In an error-filled game last Tuesday afternoon a week ago, the Avon Park Red Devils managed to come out on top to post a 12-7 win over conference foe Okeechobee here at Head Field. Billy Young went all seven innings for Avon Park on the mound but gave up 9 hits to the Brahman batters while striking out 8 and walking 4 at the plate. The Red Devils committed 5 errors and the Brahmans made 6 miscues during the game.

Okeechobee used four pitchers who combined to issue 16 walks to the Red Devil batters. Avon Park's only hits were a bunt beat out by secondbaseman Jim Johnson, a double off the wall by Steve Arnold and an infield single by John MicKunas. MicKunas and Mort Jackson both had sacrifice flies to drive in runs.

Avon Park 5 Clewiston 1

Red Devil junior righthander Larry Jackson struck out 14 batters and gave up only 3 hits last Friday night to lead the Avon Park team to a 5-1 victory over the Clewiston Tigers. Jackson got the needed offensive punch from designated hitter Victory Roberts who slammed a homerun over the letfield wall with two men on in the fifth.

Clewiston's lone run came in the third inning when thirdbaseman Alan Dunn doubled to drive in a pinch runner with two men already out. Avon Park had scored two runs in the bottom of the first frame after drawing three walks. A throwing error by the catcher trying to pick off a runner going into third resulted in the two unearned runs as Jim Johnson and Mort Jackson dashed home on the miscue.

Leading 3-1 going into the bottom of the fifth inning, the first Avon Park batter struck out. Then thirdsacker Buddy Hunter drew a walk. Jim Johnson singled just behind the shortstop and Mort Jackson was safe on the fielder's choice as his sharp grounder was fielded by the thirdbasemn who forced out Hunter at third. Then with Johnson and Mort Jackson on base, designated hitter Victor Roberts went to a one and two count before he boomed the ball out of the park to ice the win for Avon Park.

The Red Devils got only the two hits off losing hurler Alan Swindle who struck out 11 Avon Park batters but issued 7 bases on balls while his team committed 3 errors. Avon Park made only one error in the seven inning game.

Red Devil Players

Larry Jackson

Red Devil varsity pitcher Larry Jackson, a two year letterman on the Avon Park team, will be a mainstay on the hurling staff this season. The 6' 2½", 166 pound junior, saw only limited action on the mound last yuear but was very effective last summer in Big League action.

Last Friday, Larry hurled a three-hitter with 14 strike-outs against the Clewiston Tigers to help post a 5-1 victory for the Red Devils in their second game of the season. Relying heavily on a fast-ball pitch, the lanky right-hander showed excellent control in his first mound appearance of the year.

Coach Ronnie Jackson is expecting Larry to have an excellent year becoming even more effective as he improves his curve-ball pitch. Larry doubles as reserve shortstop behind Charlie Pough.

Victor Roberts

Power hitter Victor Roberts, Red Devil designated-hitter on the varsity baseball team, is a 5' 11", 185 pound junior in his first year with the Avon Park varsity. Last Friday night he slammed a homerun over the left field wall to drive in three runs and insure an Avon Park win over Clewiston.

Last season Victor played junior varsity ball and handled the catching duties. He played thirdbase last summer on the Avon Park Big League team and gained experience as a power hitter. This season he will be used as a designated hitter and reserve catcher and will bat in the clean-up position for the Red Devils.

The United States is the world's largest water consumer. Every day, on the average, we use about 345 billion gallons.

Fans Invited To Alumni Party

There will be an alumni party at the Pinecrest Country Club after the benefit alumni vs Red Devil baseball game Saturday, March 12, according to Avon Park High School athletic director Joe Franza.

All adult baseball fans who would like to attend the party to visit with the alumni baseball players and Coach Guy Garrett are invited to the pay-bar and refreshment affair.

Donations will be accepted to help defray the expense of renting the hall and furnishing refreshments.

SFJC Loses 13 Inning Battle But Win Two

Seminole CC

SFJC lost a 13-inning battle to Seminole CC Thursday in Sanford, 6-5. Seminole scored in the 13th after a hotly disputed umpire's decision on a pickoff play in which the Panthers had the eventual winning run picked off first base.

Mike Vermillion pitched brilliantly before being relieved in the 13th. He was the victim of five SFJC errors. Mike allowed only eight hits in the 12 1-3 innings he worked while striking out five. Only two of Seminole's runs were earned.

The Panthers banged out 12 hits, including a home run by Jimmy Higdon, but left 15 men on base for the afternoon. John Sedlock, Jim Higdon, Blane McDonald and Larry Glass each collected two hits for SFJC. The Panthers left the bases loaded twice and in four of the last five innings had runners in scoring position, but failed to score them.

The controversial play in the 13th. came about after a leadoff single for Seminole. SFJC, expecting a bunt from Gary Dicks, the Seminole batter, called for a pitchout to the catcher, Blane McDonald, who in turn fired to second baseman, Larry Glass, who sneaked in behind the runner at first. SFJC thought they had an out since Glass had the ball waiting for the surprise Seminole runner; however, the umpire ruled safe. Dicks followed with a sacrifice bunt to move the runner to second base. A pinch hitter singled to right to move runners to five and third. Rick Minnick was summoned from the Panther bullpen and proceeded to walk the next batter to load the bases. Kirk Scheerhorn got the signal in the bullpen to relieve Minnick. The next batter hit a ground ball which was errored and Seminole took a 6-5 win.

The Panthers concluded their pre-season play with six wins aagainst three losses. Every loss was by one run and all coming in the ninth or extra innings. The important division play is next for SFJC as March 7 was the home opener with Polk CC. Today SFJC is at Polk in Winter Haven before taking on Hillsborough in Tampa Friday and at home in Sebring Saturday at u:30 p.m.

SFJC Defeats Polk In Comference Game

South Florida Junior College opened the conference season at home Monday afternoon by defeating Polk Community College 5-4.

Rick Harrison SFJC pitcher upped his season record to 4-0 as he allowed Polk only 5 hits while striking out 4 and walking only 1.

The Panthers scored in the first inning with Tommy Davis walking and scoring from first base on Randy Schlosser's infield hit which was thrown over the first baseman's head. Dana Walstad singled to open the second inning and after successive walks to John Sedlock and Bill McMenamin, Tommy Davis sent a long sacrifice fly to left field to score Walstad with the second run.

The Panthers picked up another run the sixth on a walk to Walstad followed by a perfectly executed hit and run play by McMenamin to put runners at 1st and 3rd. Davis walked to load the bases and Schlosser walked to score Walstad.

Trailing 4-3 in the bottom of the 8th, Davis singled with one out and moved 2nd base on Schlosser's ground out. Blane McDonald was intentionally walked and Charlie Faulconer delivered a sharp single to centerfield to score Davis to tie the game. On the same play, Polk's centerfielder overthrew third base trying to cut down Phil Mattair who had run for McDonald and Mattair waltzed home with the winning run.

SFJC upped its record to 7-3 for the year and 1-0 in conference play. The Panthers travel to Winter Haven today to play Polk again.

SFJC Takes 12-6 Win Of Southern JV

SFJC ripped Florida Southern JV pitching for 21 hits, stole 12 bases and captured a 12-6 victory in Lakeland last Tuesday.

Rick Harrison picked up his third victory against no losses, going eight innings before Phil Mattair finished the ninth on the mound for the Panthers.

Charlie Faulconer and Randy Schlosser paced the hitting attack with five hits each. Schlosser also swiped five bases to run his season total to a perfect 15 for 15 stolen bases to go along with a two for five day at the plate. Tom Davis also picked up three stolen bases to go along with a two for five day at the plate. Blane McDonald, Larry Glass and Jimmy Higdon each had two hits. Dana Walstad supplied the long ball for the Panthers as he rocketed a 380' home run to left field in the fourth ining. Dana also picked up three hits for the afternoon to push his season average to .400.

Brojek Training In 13.1 Mile Run

Avon Park High track coach Chet Brojek continued on pace in his training for the Boston Marathon by running a 1:25.10 time for the 13.1 mile (mini-marathon) in Gainesville last Saturday. The famous Boston Marathon is set for April 18 this year. Brojek plans at least two more tune-up races before entering the Boston race. He will run a 20 kilometer (12.0 miles) race on March 27 in Lakeland and will enter the Daytona Beach Easter Beach Run on April 10.

"I was pleased with my "mini" time considering how hilly the course was in Gainesville," grinned the slender coach." I pushed myuself at the rate I hope to be able to go for the 26 miles in Boston. I had a 1:53 time for 17 miles and then jogged and walked to the 21-mile point with my friend from Lake Alfred who ran the full marathon Saturday."

"I still have quite a few more miles to cover in the next six weeks," continued Brojek, "and I'm hoping to run 400-500 miles during the next six weeks."

AVON PARK'S RED Devil basketball varsity placed two boys on the Heartland All-Conference team and three players on the honorable-mention squad last week. Seniors Anthony Conner and Dale Sisemore were placed on the All-Conference squad and Melvin Collins, Freddie Moore and Kenneth Burley made honorable mention. Red Devils

Take Triple Meet

Twenty Red Devil trackmen got into the scoring action last Thursday afternoon as the Devil thin-clads easily outraced Frostproof and Santa Fe here at the high school track at Memorial Field. Team totals had the Devils first with 106 points Frostproof second with 59 and Santa Fe third with 25 points.

The 2-0 Avon Park trackmen will travel to Fort Meade today (Thursday) for a 4 p.m. meet against the Miners and the Santa Fe High team. Next Wednesday, March 16, the Devils will travel to Wauchula for a dual meet against the Hardee High track squad. Both Fort Meade and Hardee are Heartland Confernce rivals of the Red Devils in the seven-team loop. The Avon Park team is the defending champion of the conference.

Last Thursday afternoon seniors Alphonso Williams, Edward Dorsey and Reggie Baker led the Avon Park team scoring with 15,15 and 13 points respectively. Williams posted the only new school record as he sped to a 1:58.1 timing in the 880-yard run. He broke his own old record of 1:58.9 set last season.

First place winners for the Devils included: Alphonso Williams in the long jump (20' 1½"), mile run (4:57) and 880-yard run (1:58.1); Edward Dorsey in the shot put (43'8"), and the discus throw (123'6"); Reggie Baker in the 100-yard dash (10.0) and the 220-yard dash (23.2); Mike Ryan in the 440-yard run (57.5); Jack Collins in the two mile (10:54); the 880-yard relay team of Kenneth Burley, David Jahna, Alan Portis and Todd Packer with a time of 1:37; and the sprint-medley relay team of Edward Dorsey, David Jahna, Alan Portis and Mike Ryan with a time of 2:11.4.

Second place efforts were turned in by Baker in the long jump, Rufus Wilson in the shot put, Charles Anderson in the 120 high hurdles, Jack Collins in the mile run, James Hamilton in the 880-yard run, Kenneth Caldwell in the 220-yard dash and Kenneth Burley in the high jump.

Third place finishes were posted by Anderson in the long jump, Robert Packer in the shot put, Mike Ryan in the pole vault, Anthony Conner in the high jump and discus, Anderson in 330-yard intermediate hurdles, Willie Mabins in the two mile and Jerry McKenzie in the 880-yard run.

Rounding out the Devil finishes with fourth place efforts were Burley in the long jump, Mabins in the mile, Arnold Wilson in the 330-yard hurdles, and Ricky Stevenson in the two mile run. Manfred Woody, Mark Myers, Abe McMillian and Horace Moore also posted fine efforts for the Red Devils.

"We were happy with the first meet performances," commented Coach Chet Brojek. "They were especially good when you consider that Baker, Conner, Burley, Moore and Todd Packer have just finished basketball. We had nine score 7 or more points which is top effort in a tri-meet."

Because of his new 880-yard run record, his wins in the long jump and the mile, and a fine 53.0 quarter in the mile relay which we did not place in, Alphonso Williams is selected Devil Trackman of the week. Edw ard Dorsey is the Most Outstanding Field Performer.

In spite of shooting the third best team total in the history of the school in Sebring last week, the Red Devils lost to the Blue Streak team by a score of 150-154 as the Sebring boys turned in one of their best totals. John DuPriest shot a one-under-par 35, Pete DuPriest finished with a par 35, Bill Tharp had a two-over 38 and Craig Skipper was fourth for Avon Park with a 45 for the nine holes.

Field Day Events For Middle School

The week of March 1-7 was National Physical Education Week. During that time there was so much sickness among students and teachers that no special events could be planned or held. However, the illnesses have decreased and the weather improved.

There will be two field day events at the Avon Park Middle School that parents and friends of students may wish to attend. The first Field Day will be held on Thursday, March 17 for all 7th and 8th grade students and will be held at the school track by Memorial Football Field during the 6th-8th periods, from 12:40 to 2:45 p.m. The second Field Day will be held on Friday, March 18, for 5th and 6th grade students and will be held at the same place. It will start at 11:45 a.m. and finish by 2:45 p.m., taking periods 4 through 8.

The public is invited to watch both days events and are urged to bring a folding chair and join the fun watching students win coveted ribbons. Those persons who get sunburned easily are advised to bring an umbrella.

The middle school has what they believe to be an excellent intra-mural physical education program for grades 5-8, each day from 2:15 until 2:45 p.m. in the school gym. The 5th-6th grade classes are having sideline basketball contests, while the 7th and 8th grades are vying in coed volleyball. There are plenty of empty seats at the gym for visitors who might like to watch these contests.

All Night Party To Raise Funds For State Tourney

It will be an all night bowling party by invitation only for members of the Junior Bowling League, parents and friends on Saturday night, March 12 from 1 to 6 a.m. at the Ridge Bowling Lanes on U. S. 27.

It will be a night of unlimited bowling as some of the Junior League bowlers and their invited guests "bowl their thumbs off" as many of them try to bowl 20 to 30 games during the nightime bowling party; with the result that their thumbs become swollen from the unaccustomed number of games bowled.

All who come or are invited to the party are expected to take part in the bowling as no spectators will be allowed to come in to watch during the late night bowling. A variety of novelty bowling will be a feature of the night and a meal will be served about halfway through the night.

With a charge of $5.50 per person, this is a fund raising project of the Junior Bowling League for the state tournament in Tampa in June. One other bowling party has been held this year and funds are expected to help pay for motel rooms and entry fees. Usually 28 to 30 bowlers take part in the two day tournament, with parents providing transportation to and from the tournament.

Winter Guest Shufflers Place In District Doubles Tournament

In the consolation division, first place was taken by Ray Montel and William Clever from the Sebring Tourist Club, while second place went to Helen Gaut and Henry Barnett of the Avon Park Winter Guest Club.

With pleasant weather, the tournament comm ittee wishes to thank all for the good sportsmanship and fine cooperation of members, friends and players acting as scorers, judges and groundsmen for a most successful

Senator Burnsed Tours At APCI; Visits Avon Park

Beverly Burnsed, in an address for the Florida Council on Crime and Delinquency, Chapter III, said an increase in sales tax will be "considered strongly". She pointed out that sales tax generates much revenue yet is a tax which does not fall wholly on the residents of Florida.

The move to hike Florida state sales tax appears to have support from at least one of Highlands County's representatives in the Legislature.

Mrs. Burnsed, who represents a portion of northern Highlands County, is preparing for her first session in the Florida House of Representatives. Her remarks on taxes were part of an address made Feb. 25, several days before Governor Reubin Askew formally launched a drive for an additional one cent on the sales tax.

Mrs. Burnsed said she has found a general feeling among the legislators that Floridians have reached the saturation point on taxes, and a feeling that the property owner and motorist are heavily taxed at this time.

The Crime and Delinquency chapter meeting was held at Avon Park Correctional Institution. Prior to the opening of the meeting Sidney Fortner, superintendent of Avon Park Correctional Institution (APCI) conducted a tour of the new facilities at the prison.

Legislators, hopeful of finding new ways to save state money, are studying ways the potential labor force within prisons may be utilized, Mrs. Burnsed reported. The legislators hope to set up some useful programs within the prison system, making efficient use of inmate labor, and yet giving regard to public safety.

Dinner arrangements were made by Louie Ballentine and Ronnie White, and the meeting was presided over by President Ed La Voie.

Mrs. Burnsed will be in Avon Park, Monday, March 14th from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the Mayor's Office to listen and talk with interested citizens and groups on matters of local concern and importance.

To effectively represent each community and to fulfill a campaign commitment, Mrs. Burnsed has pledged to meet with local citizens of each community. She will have available copies of the House and Senate bills that have been prefiled.

"If I am to effectively represent our local areas, it is essential that I have direct contact with local citizens and be available. Government must serve the citizens it represents," She said.

The local office will remain open during the entire session and she will be in touch daily with her office to continually maintain contact with the district. The District office telephone number is 813-687-4666.

MEMBERS OF THE Avon Park High School Keyettes Club got in a little early practise on washing cars Tuesday, as they get ready for a special club car wash to be held on Saturday. Andrea Petrovich (l) and Babs Maness (r) are two of the many club members who will take part in the event. The wash will be held from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. at Border's Garage on Main St. Money raised will be used to support club activities. Sunphoto by Russ Dennis.

Juveniles Warned About BB Guns

Patience with youthful first offenders is wearing thin. Assistant State Attorney Bill Fletcher has warned that more of these cases are going to wind up on the docket for juvenile court.

He is particularly alarmed about the growing number of incidents involving firearms and BB guns. He said these weapons are being used in burglaries and vandalisms.

Fletcher pointed out that Florida law has a strict age limitation on ownership and use of guns, BB guns and air rifles. No one under 16 years of age may have or operate a gun, BB gun or air rifle unless the child is in the presence of and under the supervision of an adult.

The law further stipulates that a parent or guardian who knowingly permits a person under 16 to have and use a gun is responsible for its being used in a legal way. The adult who does not abide by the rules may be prosecuted. The charge would be a misdemeanor punishable by fine or jail or both.

Fletcher said that he has, to date, cooperated with Children and Youth Services suggestions that young first-time offenders "get a break" and be let off with a lecture.

The number of these cases is increasing too rapidly, the prosecutor said, and he is becoming inclined to push for more court appearances.

Employment Service Reports Work Openings

The Florida State Employment Service has 12 openings in the Adult Work Experience Program.

The purpose of the program is to provide funds for the creation of jobs, up to six months in duration, in specific occupations for selected participants. The employment of these participants will provide them with work in that occupation, increasing their abilities and experience and thereby increasing their employability. This will enable participants to more successfully compete for employment in the currently repressed labor market.

Eligibility requirements include the following:

The applicant must be economically disadvantaged, unemployed, a high school graduate, have satisfactorily participated in a training program but need work experience in order to obtain a job or have sufficient educational or work experience background in an occupation which would enable him or her to readily learn the new occupation without formal training.

Persons selected to participate will be assigned to a job with a government agency or non-profit organization. They will receive $2.30 per hour for a 30-hour work week.

Those meeting the eligibility criteria and desiring to enter the program should contact the Florida State Employment Service

Social Security

There has been a full time Social Security office in Sebring to serve Highlands and Hardee counties since 1973, said Charlie Welch, Sebring Social Security office manager. Prior to opening a full-time office here, representatives from the Lakeland Social Security office visited area cities on a scheduled basis. With improved highway systems and greatly expanded use of the telephone to conduct SS business, most people find it more convenient to call or visit the Sebring office.

Welch said that because of severe budgetary limitations, regular visits are being temporarily reduced from twice per month to once per month to each town.

A representative will visit the County Building on South Lake Ave. in Avon Park from 10-11 a.m. on the first Tuesday of each month and will visit the Creel Building on Pine Street in Lake Placid on the second Wednesday from 10-11:30 a.m.

Anyone needing to conduct Social Security business before these scheduled visits can telephone the toll-free number by asking the operator for WX-1502. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, said Welch.

County Commission Eyes New Gun Law

The rules for obtaining a concealed weapon permit in Highlands County may soon be much tougher, if the county follows the advice of its attorney, Robert Dunty.

At Tuesday morning's meeting of the Highlands County Commission, Dunty apprised the board of a state Supreme Court ruling handed down within the past month in the case of a retired judge, who petitioned the Dade County Commission for a concealed weapon permit.

As is required by law, the judge presented proof that he was not a convicted felon, that he was a U. S. citizen, that he was a resident of Dade County and that he had good "moral character."

Dunty said although the Dade board had no set of rules stricter than the state code, they denied the judge's petition, saying the right to grant permits was a "discretionary" one, and that they saw no need for him to carry a weapon.

However the judge appealed to the Supreme Court, which ruled that the granting was not discretionary. The court said that since the judge had fulfilled all the written requirements, a need did not have to be shown.

In the wake of the recent decision, Dunty cautioned that the board was likely to be "deluged with requests for gun permits".

However, he said that in light of the "Home Rule" law, the county can adopt requirements stricter than the state's in cases such as these, although the criteria can be no less strict.

"If the state says you have to have two right arms," explained Dunty, "we can't say you only have to have one. However, we can say you need three."

He urged the board to adopt a more stringent criteria for concealed weapon permits, requiring such possible items as a certain amount of qualified training in the use of firearms, and possibly show proof of a need for a concealed gun.

The county commission, which has never been considered liberal in its granting of such permits, asked the attorney to draw up a proposed ordinance including some of the possible criteria, and report back to them when finished.

Sentence Aside

A controversial one-year prison sentence for ski masker Cody "BooBoo" Martin has been set aside and a new trial ordered.

Assistant State Attorney Monte Campbell, who has handled the prosecution of the ski mask crimes in Highlands and Polk Counties, had filed a motion to vacate after Judge Thomas Langston had given the 16-year-old Martin twoone-yearsentences for crimes which had occurred prior to the wave of incidents attributed to young ski masked terrorists .

Arrests Made After Couple Steals Plants, Furniture From Home

A young Sebring Woman's love for plants led to charges of grand larceny and possession of marijuana under five grams being filed against her by city police Feb. 24.

Sharon Kay Williams and her juvenile boyfriend told city police that they were responsible for taking $288.50 worth of lawn furniture and potted plants from the home of George Clarke, 2nd St., Sebring in the early morning hours of Feb. 24.

When police arrived at the duplex Miss Williams admitted the theft of the plants, saying that she loved plants so much that after she and her boyfriend took one, they kept returning until almost all the plants were removed from the Clarke residence.

Clarke reported the theft that morning and a concerned citizen reported the furniture and plants to be at a duplex at 4811 c. First St.

While inside the duplex checking on the stolen items, a small jar containing marijuana was discovered. Both admitted smoking several joints.

The lawn furniture and plants were returned to Clarke. Miss Williams was charged with grand larceny and possession of marijuana under five grams. She was taken to Highlands County Jail

Friday Proclaimed Forget-Me-Not Day

Chapter No. 95, Disabled American Veterans and Mayor Marshall Davis, has proclaimed Friday, Forget-Me-Not Day.

In time of war, men pay great prices for your freedom. Every member of the Disabled American Veterans, incurred some disability in defense of the nation during wartime.

Now, they must continue to pay for their personal handicaps, some extremely severe. These veterans are still living and breathing people, not as fortunate as their buddies who died for their country. These veterans are with us in their suffering.

What has happened to all the citizens who welcomed these heroes home with open hearts? It seems that a strange apathy takes over when danger of war passes and our heroes have turned into second class heroes, only members of the forgotten ones.

This Forget-Me-Not drive is led by the more fortunate members with the Auxiliary help, to help other members who need assistance for themselves and their families.

Over half of our disabled are not getting generous handouts from the government as is popularly believed. The lower per centage physically disabled are barely seeking out an existance for themselves and families.

This is where we come in. If a member is in trouble, we use the monies from the Forget-Me-Not drive to assist the veteran and his family in this area. This drive is our only source of revenue, so won't you open your hearts and pockets to make this drive the best ever?

Tate Is Helping Enforce Fishing Limit

Coast Guard Yeoman Third Class Barry L. Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth V. Tate of 610 S. Willow Ave., Avon Park, Fla., will be helping enforce the 200 mile fishery conservation zone which went into effect March 1.

He is serving as a crew member aboard the Coast Guard cutter Dallas, homeported in Governors Island, New York City.

The new law, known as the Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976, gives the United States exclusive control of all waters within the 200-mile zone. The Coast Guard and the National Marine Fisheries Service have been charged with enforcement of the zone, which includes 10 per cent of the world's fishery resources.

Coast Guard cutters and patrol aircraft will make regular patrols of fishery areas to monitor foreign fishing activity. Some controlled foreign fishing is permitted within the 200-mile zone and fishing vessels will be boarded at random to ensure compliance with restrictions and regulations. The new, 200-mile zone represents a four-fold increase in fishery patrols for the Coast Guard.

A 1973 graduate of Avon Park High School, he joined the Coast Guard in June 1973.

Audubon Museum To Benefit From Sale

Many 'Ridge' folks take a special interest in the Audubon Society grounds and museum just a few miles north in Babson Park.

March 19th a 'Trash and Treasure' Sale Party, will be run all day at the museum — from 10 a.m. 'til 4 p.m. Proceeds from the sale will go for the care and upkeep of the Audubon Museum of Babson Park.

Of course if you have any junk or jewels' that you no longer need or want, bring them in any time, so they may be priced for sale on the March 19th date.

The Sale is an annual affair and draws many lookers and buyers from all over the Highlands. Grounds are just off of Alternate 27, a mile or so north of Babson Park.

The next Ridge Audubon Movie will be held in the Lake Wales High School next Tuesday, March 15th. It is a lectured movie on New Guinea. This show starts at 8 p.m.

TO CATCH UP with transporting bees from winter locations to grove areas beekeepers moved some of their bees at night. D. N. Motes, Fort Meade, driving loader, picked up this load of beehives near Andytown (west of Fort Lauderdale) and unloaded them Friday night at Ward's grove as many citrus trees were in the pinhead to openi blossom stage of blooming.

Bass Busters Off To Good Start Here

Good sportsmen and conservation minded men and women, from all over Highlands County attended the first regular meeting of the Bass Busters Club last Tuesday night. The meeting was held in the Armory, across U.S. 27 from Lake Glenada and got under way a little after 7 p.m.

Future meetings are scheduled for the first Tuesday of each month, at the Armory at 7 p.m.

Organizational plans, for the most part, are now completed. By-laws and regulations of the Club, will be distributed at the next meeting in April.

The Club is open for new members. Dues are $6 per year, which includes the Club's jacket patch.

New members are asked to sit in on two meetings as a guest, then are given the opportunity of membership.

Bass Busters, locally or nationally, are not just a bunch of fishermen, out for record catches. In fact the whole purpose of the clubs are to promote better ecology and environment action. In the area here, they will tie in with The Florida Forestry Division, Natural Resources Department Florida Fish and Game Commission, etc.

They do not want to be known as an organization of 'fish hogs', as when they do have tournaments and generally fish, most of their caught fish are returned to the water alive.

Local Group Bags Prize Catch Of Large Catfish

On a recent three day fishing trip on the old Kissimmee River, Clyde Starling, his son Leroy Starling; grandson, Leroy Starling Jr. and Bob Spurlock had what appears to be a field day of catching big fish.

Reluctant to say exactly where they were fishing they did admit they made their catches in deep holes on the old Kissimmee River channels.

The prize catch was a 32 lb. blue cat measuring 35 to 36 inches in length, taken from a boat by Leroy Starling with a rod and reel on a 14 lb. test line using a live shiner.

Other big blue catfish taken on the river weighed in at 25, 15 and three 12 pounders. A number of small 3 to 5 pound catfish were returned to the water by the fishman.

Windy Day And A Close Call

It was a late February spring day. A little windy for the best fishing but for two guys who had been fishing so well over half a century — every day is a good day to be out on the water, wind or cool weather not withstanding.

In retrospect, it was just too windy, now said both John Lee Wells, a bit over 70 and his companion, Amos Lewis - a bit over 80. Both lived in Woodruff Heights, Avon Park.

Glenada Lake, a very pretty lake, just a few feet off of U.S. 27, was the lake chosen on which to do the fishing.

As the wind became stronger and the lake became more rougher, John and Amos, decided to call it a day. The men did a little changing of themselves and tackle in the boat — and a second later, both men were struggling in the water and clinging to the boat for their lives. The safety cushions got away from them. Their fishing tackle, glasses, anchor and other gear sank to the bottom.

John is a good swimmer and said he could have easily made it to shore. Amos is not much of a swimmer, and remember he's 80 plus.

The wind did not abate. Many times a boat will sooner or later drift to shore and the boaters can save themselves just by holding on, particularly in a small lake; but their anchor, with its long rope, was now holding the boat out in the center of Glenada Lake.

John stayed with Amos, both holding on to a boat, without handles, just a slippery spray rail to hold on to.

So fortunate, for Amos and John, at this 'all hope gone' time, Ray Williams and Frankey Still of the Highlands County Emergency Medical Services Unit, happened to be on 27, and saw John and Amos struggling in the water. The rescue was just a miracle.

Ray Williams and Frankey Still were awarded citations a few days later by the Highlands County Commissioners. A near tradgedy turned into a less for all of us.

Fishing is not that important, to be out on the water as it becomes too dangerous. Especially these windy days.

A non-swimmer should never mix rough water and fishing. A non-swimmer should have something better than a safety cushion. Two or three kinds of jackets are now on the market, for safety sake. One is a vest type, that looks very much like a sport vest. John is pictured wearing one of them. Good friend Olive Cullens is shown wearing a Mae West type preserver. Husband Jack Cullens (both are visiting from Falls Church, Va.) has my safety cushion on.

These safety cushions are a wonderful life saver, but so few people know how to correctly use them. IT IS NOT TO BE USED BY STRAPPING THEM OVER THE ARMS. A user puts one strap over the head, the other strap is stepped thru and pull uphigh at the crotch. Do not wait until you are tossed out of a boat before putting on your preserver — put it on before going out — at least when the wind starts to come up.

I'm a good swimmer but I'm not ashamed to use either of these jackets shown. In tournament fishing, an all important rule states that each fisherman must have and at least partially wear his jacket, otherwise he's disqualified.

If you are a large person, check the length of your straps on your cushion, you just might have to sew on an extra piece of heavy strapping.

World's Largest Island Is Subject On Wildlife Film

The world's largest island, New Guinea, will be the subject of an illustrated Audubon Wildlife Film to be given by John E. Raft March 15 at 8 p.m. at the Lake Wales High School Auditorium on Burns Avenue. The film "Papua New Guinea - Twilight of Eden" is sponsored by the Ridge Audubon Society and its producer John Taft works to advocate the protection of the wild land and the wild creatures that inhabit it. Since 1965 he has lived on 140 acres of land on the summit of Sulphur Mountain, California.

In 1974, John Taft and 6 others (4 of whom were under 12 years of age) went on an expedition into Papua New Guinea for the purpose of exploring this lush area and found that the majority of the natives there are subsistence farmers, reaping meager harvests from the steep jungle hillsides, many continuing to hunt with bow and arrow.

Ceremonial dances called Sing-sings are a principal recreation of these people and there seems to be a ready number of occasions for the Sing-sings, events which call for elaborate ceremonial headdresses to be worn by the men. As each man reaches maturity, he must capture as much of the famous spectacular birds of the island as he can for use in his headdress.

At the annual Mt. Hagen Sing-sing, some 60,000 men may gather, each having a headdress made up of the feathers of at least 15 and as many as 50 bird skins. At a very conservative estimate, the Mt. Hagen Sing-sing is a colorful memorial to over a million birds.

The life of the New Guinea tropical jungle is summarized most graphically by the lives of its insects. Moths with ferocious "faces" on their backs, foot-long leaf-mimic insects, three inch Rhinoceros Beetles with their impenetrable armor, Preying Mantids more than eight inches in length show why biologists believe the jungle to be the most highly adapted environment known.

Papua New Guinea remains a relatively unknown land, hostile and fascinating to outsiders, a haven for an incredible array of unfamiliar wildlife and home to a people poised between two worlds separated by many centuries.

Tickets for the film may be purchased at the door.

Happiness Is Owning A Pet

By HARVE KOLLMAN

Highlands County, with a bit of an overage age population of folks over that magical age of 39, could not have picked out a better place to establish a pet roundup.

The facility located just about in the center of our county on Airport Road, south of Kenilworth, can mean for many, a fuller, less lonesome life.

All this is my introduction of the Highlands County Animal Control facility. In visiting the center recently, I found what seemed to be a well organized and run pet home.

It is generally manned by 2 young gals, who really seem to love each one of the animals under their control. They gave me a real 'sale' in me adopting one of their pets, and charges.

Any adults, who needs the compansionship of someone around the house, can with a bit of loving attention get that almost human partnership from a good dog. Not only companionship, but security and entertainment too.

A new pet owner, definately must have patience, in teaching a dog obedience. Also time in taking the animal for walks, or tethering it outside a couple of times a day, will take time, but the time spent with the pet will be more than balanced by the love and attention the new addition shows to the owner. I almost gave into the gals 'sale' in taking a dog, but Kelly, my lab is about all I can do a good job for now. How I would miss her if she were not constantly around. Up until last summer, we also had Johann. I had him for almost 20 years. He was a German Shorthair Pointer. He, like an old soldier, just faded away. We mourned him, yes, but such is life — birth and passing.

When an adult gets to the point of loneliness, that is the time to think of pet adotpion. It is a bit easier than the adoption of a youngster — and not quite as exacting, but once you make the decision and get your new associate, and get the training underway, both of you are off to a new life.

Good books on dog care may be purchased at any good book store. Read them before fully making up your mind on adoption. After you are sure you can take care of the companion, drive out to the Control Center, let the folks in charge show you and tell you of several of theirs up for adoption pets.

There is a charge for receiving your pet. Anyone wanting a pet there, may first call up the Center and get the exact figures in owning a dog from the Center, by calling 385-2255.

Consider having a female acquisition spayed or a male neutered. It makes a more faithful and attentive animal for you.

If all this has planted a seed for you, give it real consideration, get the facts further from the Control Center and in a year from now, call me and give me breath of thanks.

Later, in training, be patient but strict in training. Repition in commands is the big secret and having the essentials of thinking and knowledge of basic training. A dog in his early life with the new master, should get all of his commands, from that one person. The commands should be the simple ones like, Sit, Heal, Come, Fetch, etc. Use one tone of voice, always. Reward the dog, with a little snack or a pet on the rump - not the head. Afterwards a second or third person can get in on the act. Many dogs are spoiled by kids — and their oldesters by fooling the animals. Never do that, anymore than you'd fool a child in a discipline situation. Many good books are on the market on dog training. Emphasize the point in your mind, that the trainer needs training, too.

Now and then we hear of dogs biting someone. The truth is that a dog has his tail stepped on, it is being tortured by someone, or seemingly doing a protection job for the one he loves, that wrongly gives people the chance to say that a certain pet is dangerous. Very young or mischevious children should not be left alone with a dog, as that child can torment a dog to the point of making the animal super nervous, then to protect itself, it could snarl or nip.

Every good person should have an animal, a bird or even fish to love and care for. It gives me, so much pleasure to see Mrs. Kelly, my Lab care for me, just as I care for her. Her partner, a German Shorthair died a year ago, after giving me 19 years of love and companionship. Mrs. Kelly, after being with me 5 years, has a vocabulary from me of 15 words or commands. I like to show off her inteligence just like I used to get pleasure in showing off or bragging about my 2 Kids. From now on, I could pass, on the kids, but I may just go over to one of our pet corrals and get Kelly and-or me, another companion — dogwise.

What about this acquaintance of mine who lost his wife after the two of them, along with their collie, had many happy years together?

Water Level Reduced

On Kissimmee River

Regardless of the outcome of the planning for restoration of the Kissimmee River, some remedial action is being taken. A drawdown is now under way in one section of the river to reduce the level from 34 to 32 feet, an operation due to be completed by March 15.

South Florida Water Management District has announced plans to hold the river at 32 feet for two weeks then start raising it again. The 34-foot level is to be attained by June 1.

A second section of the river is to undergo a drawdown study between May 1 and Aug. 1. In that area the level will vary from 39 to 41 feet.

The South Florida Water Management District's Environmental Science Division will be studying marsh vegetation and how it reacts to different water levels.

Florida Legislature has mandated a project to restore the Kissimmee to something like its state before the Army Corps of Engineers canalized the Kissimmee in the 1960's. Public meeting on alternate plans are now being held.

You Can Help Save Our Wildlife

How can you help insure the survival of wildlife? If you own land, the agricultural extension service at your state university will show you how to make improvements that will make your land suitable for wildlife. You don't own property? Remington Arms reminds us that every citizen shares ownership in the 725 million acres of land in the public domain, and the continuance of programs to improve the status of wildlife on these lands depends on our attitude. z

Five Easy Ways

To Use Spincasting Outfit

Spincasting and spinning, in fishing, is no more alike than fishing with a bamboo pole and a spincasting outfit.

If you are starting out to learn casting, by all means, start with a spincasting rod and reel. Generally the basics can be learned (with a fairly good teacher) in 10 minutes. A 'fairly good teacher' is one who is accurate and who is careful - so someone else is not hooked.

The two most important factors in accuracy and carefullness is to 'forever' cast overhand. The second 'must' is to learn to cast, sitting down, while boat fishing. A standing up fisherman, is continually off balance — in a boat. Another most important factor, when a fisherman is standing, his arm and body movements are probably seen by every fish, up to 25 feet away — and is a warning to them.

The spincast outfit is the easy to use one. The reel is usually in the up position on the offset handled rod. The spinner is the open faced reel with the non-offset handle on the rod. The handle usually has a brass ring on it, to make a position adjustment for the reel. To make the reel, closer or further from your casting hand.

The spinner, will take a lots more 'learning'. No 10 minutes learning, with this one. A full day, is about the average time in mastering the spinner. When you do master it, you — and the outfit are so much more versatile. One reel can be matched up with any number of rods.

A fisherman can have an outfit that covers small trout fishing, right up to musky fishing. Your spinning reel may be able to use line from one pound test, up to 25 pounds strngth.

If say, one is fishing for panfish and a big bass is seen following up his lure, in just a matter of seconds, the spool inside the reel can be change with line that could test 15 or more pounds. Many smart fishermen keep extra spools handy in the tackle box or in their pockets, for just such a contingency.

Ultra light lines, for all kinds of angling are becoming popular with the better fishermen.

A spinning reel, usually has a far greater capacity in length of line. And always keep your reels filled with line. Full spols are easier to cast with, and don't forget, the day could come for you, when out fishing with just a few yards of line on your reel, you could get that (ole') granddaddy on and with him making one hog-like run, your line would run out, then snap, and there would go the trophy, that you have been longing for, for years.

The spinning outfit is more versatile in the weight of the casting lure that can be used. Of course, the 'heft' of the rod is most important. You would not use a light rod, in casting a heavy plug, a light rod could be easily be broken on the back cast.

A spinning outfit makes for longer casts — with the same amount of casting effort. The line comming off of the reel, has a little less friction, by not having to pass thru a port, as per the spincast combo.

On the spinner, I make my line release at about the same time and position, as with a spincast rod. Spinning reels are divided into a foward and reverse wind pickup. I like the forward wind. With a forward wind, I get so much more line control by placing my forefinger on the top side of the spoool for releasing the line for the cast.

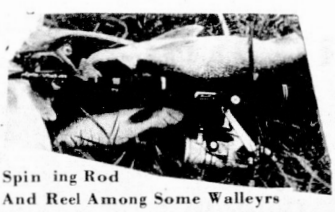

Most fishermen put their thumbs on the line, on the handle, then loosening it for the cast. However this line release allows the caster no line control, once the line curls from the spool. Again, let me emphasize, that in my first finger line control, a clockwise reel pickup on the reel must be used — a Garcia type spinner is difficult to use in making a first finger line stop.

Many people ask if I like the spinner better than the spin cast. Again I repeat, I really have no favorites, I use the combinations, that fit the type of fishing I'm going to be doing.

A very important fact to remember is that a fisherman, should never go fishing, especially some distance away, with only one rod — or one lure. One never knows when a line will break — or a rod. Or how about a reel malfunctioning?

A few days back I was guiding for a fairly good fisherman. As we left the lodge I noticed as he put his 'gear' into the 'wagon' that he was only taking one rod. I asked him if he didn't think he should take an extra rod. He said, 'No that this was his favorite rod, and that he could not cast with any more than one at a time, anyway'. I let the matter drop. On getting to another lake — and boat, 25 miles away, we had exceptional success in getting two big Northerns in the first 5 minutes.

Then the tradgedy! On a following cast, the handle, or crank, on his reel came off — and dropped into about 25 feet of water, with a thick cover of musky weeds on the bottom. Needless to say his fishing stopped. No amount of his swearing brought back the handle to him. His favorite reel was useless. Another rod and reel, that he could just as well have taken along, could have solved his problem.

Spin ing Rod
And Reel Among Some Walleyrs

We had to boat back to shore, then load all of our 'stuff' into the boat, and go back into town, some 25 miles away, and luckily found a replacement handle. When we finally got back, a 'fishing, we just couldn't locate the fish, the big ones anyway. After several hours we did get a couple more, for the stringer and called it a day.

Years ago, a horseshoe nail, lost a battle, this time a lost crank, spoiled a good fishing day.

Next week, we'll go into detail about the bait casting rod and reel. This is the one the newer generation call the 'Old Fashioned Ones.' The one that backlashes all the time. No, it does not, it is the caster, for the most part that does the backlashing. I'll go into detail on the angler doing the right things, so the reel will not 'birdnest". Good casters go all day long, fishing with the 'level wind', and never get a tangle.

For the trolling fisherman and for the fisherman, 'out' for the big muskies and Northerns, and real big bass, it IS the one to use.

Remember, if you have a spincast outfit now-or just a cane pole, don't buy another one, such as you have. Make your next choice, in a rod and reel completely different. Learn how the other half lives — and fishes.

'Honest Harve's Best Hours For Fishing, Bird Watching

Water temperatures are still pretty chilly for good fishing. Sunday water temperatures got up to almost 70 degrees, which warmth produced some goodcatches of bass and croppies. Along came a frosty two or three nights and with the cooler temperatures, fishing success dropped.

However some good catches were made in the warmer water, Saturday and Sunday. A good catch by Alex Whitbeck, our Gulf neighbor across the street, made a nice looking string - photo just made it in last week's SUN. Alex got the fish - all bass, on a purple plastic worm. The largest bass, was a 3¼ pounder. Also on the string was a 2¾ pounder, along with a 3 pounder. A nice Sunday afternoon's pleasure.

The lake, Alex volunteered, is a deep secret. It is a small lake, between Sebring and Avon Park.

An Open Letter To Property Owners

In the public meeting at Lake Wales on Thursday night and at Okeechobee on Friday night, many concerned ranchers and property owners showed up to provide the public input that was requested.

We understand that eutrophication is the problem. This, we are told, is when more fertilizer is spread than can be consumed by the world. The organized minority clubs of "Arch-conservations" are worried about the over fertilizing of Lake Okeechobee.

The majority of speakers and of the crowd were from the minority organized groups from other areas like Miami, Tampa, Palm Beach and from Fort Lauderdale and not, of course, from areas at issue - a stacked deck.

The Department of Environmental Regulation Representative spoke for one hour and a half, even to the point where ranchers and other land owners had reached their limit of endurance. Most of them got up and walked out. It was obvious that the one and a half hour monotone had reached the interested people to a mood of pure disgust. I hope the State does not interpret this as disinterest.

When concerned citizens take the time and effort to attend a public meeting where they are told their comments and input are wanted, and it becomes apparent their comments are not wanted, they become disgusted and they leave! These ranchers and property owners know when they have been insulted and are never ones to stay where they are not wanted!

A word of caution to land owners: Every plan presented by the State at the public meetings for the destruction of the flood control system will flood the bottom lands which have been improved by the ranchers for cattle grazing.

A couple of speakers from outside areas stated, "no land would be taken or condemned without payment to the land owners." Please note that these persons do not represent the State, and do not have the authority to make this statement. In the meetings, the State admitted that no provisions had been made for money to pay for land that they take or damage.

If by any of these State plans, the bottom land pastures do not flood all the time, the State will undoubtedly claim that this condition is the same as it was before the channelization and only represent a return to the natural condition, and therefore the flooding and destruction of the grazing land does not constitute a taking.

To get any compensation for the land that you will lose, you will have to take the State to court. This will take a lot of money, and you will probably lose. If you want to continue to have the use of your lands, you should let this be known to your State Legislator and to your Associations.

Our hearty thanks to Pat Wilson, Riley Miles, W. H. Morse, Dr. Robert Ogilby, and the cattleman and land owners who sat through the snow job, and offered their objections to the further destruction of the Kissimmee River Valley and expressed their concern that the rights of private land ownership are being threatened.

Reluctant to say exactly where they were fishing they did admit they made their catches in deep holes on the old Kissimmee River channels.

The prize catch was a 32 lb. blue cat measuring 35 to 36 inches in length, taken from a boat by Leroy Starling with a rod and reel on a 14 lb. test line using a live shiner.

Other big blue catfish taken on the river weighed in at 25, 15 and three 12 pounders. A number of small 3 to 5 pound catfish were returned to the water by the fishman.

Windy Day And A Close Call

It was a late February spring day. A little windy for the best fishing but for two guys who had been fishing so well over half a century — every day is a good day to be out on the water, wind or cool weather not withstanding.

In retrospect, it was just too windy, now said both John Lee Wells, a bit over 70 and his companion, Amos Lewis - a bit over 80. Both lived in Woodruff Heights, Avon Park.

Glenada Lake, a very pretty lake, just a few feet off of U.S. 27, was the lake chosen on which to do the fishing.

As the wind became stronger and the lake became more rougher, John and Amos, decided to call it a day. The men did a little changing of themselves and tackle in the boat — and a second later, both men were struggling in the water and clinging to the boat for their lives. The safety cushions got away from them. Their fishing tackle, glasses, anchor and other gear sank to the bottom.

John is a good swimmer and said he could have easily made it to shore. Amos is not much of a swimmer, and remember he's 80 plus.

The wind did not abate. Many times a boat will sooner or later drift to shore and the boaters can save themselves just by holding on, particularly in a small lake; but their anchor, with its long rope, was now holding the boat out in the center of Glenada Lake.

John stayed with Amos, both holding on to a boat, without handles, just a slippery spray rail to hold on to.

So fortunate, for Amos and John, at this 'all hope gone' time, Ray Williams and Frankey Still of the Highlands County Emergency Medical Services Unit, happened to be on 27, and saw John and Amos struggling in the water. The rescue was just a miracle.

Ray Williams and Frankey Still were awarded citations a few days later by the Highlands County Commissioners. A near tradgedy turned into a less for all of us.

Fishing is not that important, to be out on the water as it becomes too dangerous. Especially these windy days.

A non-swimmer should never mix rough water and fishing. A non-swimmer should have something better than a safety cushion. Two or three kinds of jackets are now on the market, for safety sake. One is a vest type, that looks very much like a sport vest. John is pictured wearing one of them. Good friend Olive Cullens is shown wearing a Mae West type preserver. Husband Jack Cullens (both are visiting from Falls Church, Va.) has my safety cushion on.

These safety cushions are a wonderful life saver, but so few people know how to correctly use them. IT IS NOT TO BE USED BY STRAPPING THEM OVER THE ARMS. A user puts one strap over the head, the other strap is stepped thru and pull uphigh at the crotch. Do not wait until you are tossed out of a boat before putting on your preserver — put it on before going out — at least when the wind starts to come up.

I'm a good swimmer but I'm not ashamed to use either of these jackets shown. In tournament fishing, an all important rule states that each fisherman must have and at least partially wear his jacket, otherwise he's disqualified.

If you are a large person, check the length of your straps on your cushion, you just might have to sew on an extra piece of heavy strapping.

World's Largest Island Is Subject On Wildlife Film

The world's largest island, New Guinea, will be the subject of an illustrated Audubon Wildlife Film to be given by John E. Raft March 15 at 8 p.m. at the Lake Wales High School Auditorium on Burns Avenue. The film "Papua New Guinea - Twilight of Eden" is sponsored by the Ridge Audubon Society and its producer John Taft works to advocate the protection of the wild land and the wild creatures that inhabit it. Since 1965 he has lived on 140 acres of land on the summit of Sulphur Mountain, California.

In 1974, John Taft and 6 others (4 of whom were under 12 years of age) went on an expedition into Papua New Guinea for the purpose of exploring this lush area and found that the majority of the natives there are subsistence farmers, reaping meager harvests from the steep jungle hillsides, many continuing to hunt with bow and arrow.

Ceremonial dances called Sing-sings are a principal recreation of these people and there seems to be a ready number of occasions for the Sing-sings, events which call for elaborate ceremonial headdresses to be worn by the men. As each man reaches maturity, he must capture as much of the famous spectacular birds of the island as he can for use in his headdress.

At the annual Mt. Hagen Sing-sing, some 60,000 men may gather, each having a headdress made up of the feathers of at least 15 and as many as 50 bird skins. At a very conservative estimate, the Mt. Hagen Sing-sing is a colorful memorial to over a million birds.

The life of the New Guinea tropical jungle is summarized most graphically by the lives of its insects. Moths with ferocious "faces" on their backs, foot-long leaf-mimic insects, three inch Rhinoceros Beetles with their impenetrable armor, Preying Mantids more than eight inches in length show why biologists believe the jungle to be the most highly adapted environment known.

Papua New Guinea remains a relatively unknown land, hostile and fascinating to outsiders, a haven for an incredible array of unfamiliar wildlife and home to a people poised between two worlds separated by many centuries.

Tickets for the film may be purchased at the door.

Happiness Is Owning A Pet

By HARVE KOLLMAN

Highlands County, with a bit of an overagerage population of folks over that magical age of 39, could not have picked out a better place to establish a pet roundup.

The facility located just about in the center of our county on Airport Road, south of Kenilworth, can mean for many, a fuller, less lonesome life.

All this is my introduction of the Highlands County Animal Control facility. In visiting the center recently, I found what seemed to be a well organized and run pet home.

It is generally manned by 2 young gals, who really seem to love each one of the animals under their control. They gave me a real 'sale' in me adopting one of their pets, and charges.

Any adults, who needs the companionship of someone around the house, can with a bit of loving attention get that almost human partnership from a good dog. Not only companionship, but security and entertainment too.

A new pet owner, definately must have patience, in teaching a dog obedience. Also time in taking the animal for walks, or tethering it outside a couple of times a day, will take time, but the time spent with the pet will be more than balanced by the love and attention the new addition shows to the owner. I almost gave into the gals 'sale' in taking a dog, but Kelly, my lab is about all I can do a good job for now. How I would miss her if she were not constantly around. Up until last summer, we also had Johann. I had him for almost 20 years. He was a German Shorthair Pointer. He, like an old soldier, just faded away. We mourned him, yes, but such is life — birth and passing.

When an adult gets to the point of loneliness, that is the time to think of pet adotpion. It is a bit easier than the adoption of a youngster — and not quite as exacting, but once you make the decision and get your new associate, and get the training underway, both of you are off to a new life.

Good books on dog care may be purchased at any good book store. Read them before fully making up your mind on adoption. After you are sure you can take care of the companion, drive out to the Control Center, let the folks in charge show you and tell you of several of theirs up for adoption pets.

There is a charge for receiving your pet. Anyone wanting a pet there, may first call up the Center and get the exact figures in owning a dog from the Center, by calling 385-2255.

Consider having a female acquisition spayed or a male neutered. It makes a more faithful and attentive animal for you.

If all this has planted a seed for you, give it real consideration, get the facts further from the Control Center and in a year from now, call me and give me breath of thanks.

Later, in training, be patient but strict in training. Repition in commands is the big secret and having the essentials of thinking and knowledge of basic training. A dog in his early life with the new master, should get all of his commands, from that one person. The commands should be the simple ones like, Sit, Heal, Come, Fetch, etc. Use one tone of voice, always. Reward the dog, with a little snack or a pet on the rump - not the head. Afterwards a second or third person can get in on the act. Many dogs are spoiled by kids — and their oldesters by fooling the animals. Never do that, anymore than you'd fool a child in a discipline situation. Many good books are on the market on dog training. Emphasize the point in your mind, that the trainer needs training, too.

Now and then we hear of dogs biting someone. The truth is that a dog has his tail stepped on, it is being tortured by someone, or seemingly doing a protection job for the one he loves, that wrongly gives people the chance to say that a certain pet is dangerous. Very young or mischevious children should not be left alone with a dog, as that child can torment a dog to the point of making the animal super nervous, then to protect itself, it could snarl or nip.

Every good person should have an animal, a bird or even fish to love and care for. It gives me, so much pleasure to see Mrs. Kelly, my Lab care for me, just as I care for her. Her partner, a German Shorthair died a year ago, after giving me 19 years of love and companionship. Mrs. Kelly, after being with me 5 years, has a vocabulary from me of 15 words or commands. I like to show off her intelligence just like I used to get pleasure in showing off or bragging about my 2 kids. From now on, I could pass, on the kids, but I may just turn over to one of our pet corrals and get Kelly and-or me, another companion — dogwise.

What about this acquaintance of mine who lost his wife after the two of them, along with their collie, had many happy years together?

On Kissimmee River

Regardless of the outcome of the planning for restoration of the Kissimmee River, some remedial action is being taken. A drawdown is now under way in one section of the river to reduce the level from 34 to 32 feet, an operation due to be completed by March 15.

South Florida Water Management District has announced plans to hold the river at 32 feet for two weeks then start raising it again. The 34-foot level is to be attained by June 1.

A second section of the river is to undergo a drawdown study between May 1 and Aug. 1. In that area the level will vary from 39 to 41 feet.

The South Florida Water Management District's Environmental Science Division will be studying marsh vegetation and how it reacts to different water levels.

Florida Legislature has mandated a project to restore the Kissimmee to something like its state before the Army Corps of Engineers canalized the Kissimmee in the 1960's. Public meeting on alternate plans are now being held.

You Can Help Save Our Wildlife

How can you help insure the survival of wildlife? If you own land, the agricultural extension service at your state university will show you how to make improvements that will make your land suitable for wildlife. You don't own property? Remington Arms reminds us that every citizen shares ownership in the 725 million acres of land in the public domain, and the continuance of programs to improve the status of wildlife on these lands depends on our attitude. z

Five Easy Ways

To Use Spincasting Outfit

Spincasting and spinning, in fishing, is no more alike than fishing with a bamboo pole and a spincasting outfit.

If you are starting out to learn casting, by all means, start with a spincasting rod and reel. Generally the basics can be learned (with a fairly good teacher) in 10 minutes. A 'fairly good teacher' is one who is accurate and who is careful - so someone else is not hooked.

The two most important factors in accuracy and carefullness is to 'forever' cast overhand. The second 'must' is to learn to cast, sitting down, while boat fishing. A standing up fisherman, is continually off balance — in a boat. Another most important factor, when a fisherman is standing, his arm and body movements are probably seen by every fish, up to 25 feet away — and is a warning to them.

The spincast outfit is the easy to use one. The reel is usually in the up position on the offset handled rod. The spinner is the open faced reel with the non-offset handle on the rod. The handle usually has a brass ring on it, to make a position adjustment for the reel. To make the reel, closer or further from your casting hand.

The spinner, will take a lots more 'learning'. No 10 minutes learning, with this one. A full day, is about the average time in mastering the spinner. When you do master it, you — and the outfit are so much more versatile. One reel can be matched up with any number of rods.

A fisherman can have an outfit that covers small trout fishing, right up to musky fishing. Your spinning reel may be able to use line from one pound test, up to 25 pounds strngth.

If say, one is fishing for panfish and a big bass is seen following up his lure, in just a matter of seconds, the spool inside the reel can be change with line that could test 15 or more pounds. Many smart fishermen keep extra spools handy in the tackle box or in their pockets, for just such a contingency.

Ultra light lines, for all kinds of angling are becoming popular with the better fishermen.

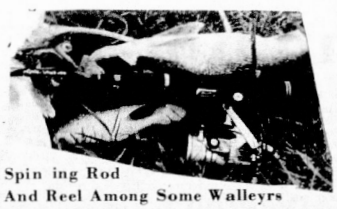

A spinning reel, usually has a far greater capacity in length of line. And always keep your reels filled with line. Full spols are easier to cast with, and don't forget, the day could come for you, when out fishing with just a few yards of line on your reel, you could get that (ole') granddaddy on and with him making one hog-like run, your line would run out, then snap, and there would go the trophy, that you have been longing for, for years.

The spinning outfit is more versatile in the weight of the casting lure that can be used. Of course, the 'heft' of the rod is most important. You would not use a light rod, in casting a heavy plug, a light rod could be easily be broken on the back cast.

A spinning outfit makes for longer casts — with the same amount of casting effort. The line comming off of the reel, has a little less friction, by not having to pass thru a port, as per the spincast combo.

On the spinner, I make my line release at about the same time and position, as with a spincast rod. Spinning reels are divided into a foward and reverse wind pickup. I like the forward wind. With a forward wind, I get so much more line control by placing my forefinger on the top side of the spool for releasing the line for the cast.

Most fishermen put their thumbs on the line, on the handle, then loosening it for the cast. However this line release allows the caster no line control, once the line curls from the spool. Again, let me emphasize, that in my first finger line control, a clockwise reel pickup on the reel must be used — a Garcia type spinner is difficult to use in making a first finger line stop.

Spin ing Rod

Many people ask if I like the spinner better than the spin cast. Again I repeat, I really have no favorites, I use the combinations, that fit the type of fishing I'm going to be doing.

A very important fact to remember is that a fisherman, should never go fishing, especially some distance away, with only one rod — or one lure. One never knows when a line will break — or a rod. Or how about a reel malfunctioning?

A few days back I was guiding for a fairly good fisherman. As we left the lodge I noticed as he put his 'gear' into the 'wagon' that he was only taking one rod. I asked him if he didn't think he should take an extra rod. He said, 'No that this was his favorite rod, and that he could not cast with any more than one at a time, anyway'. I let the matter drop. On getting to another lake — and boat, 25 miles away, we had exceptional success in getting two big Northerns in the first 5 minutes.

Then the tradgedy! On a following cast, the handle, or crank, on his reel came off — and dropped into about 25 feet of water, with a thick cover of musky weeds on the bottom. Needless to say his fishing stopped. No amount of his swearing brought back the handle to him. His favorite reel was useless. Another rod and reel, that he could just as well have taken along, could have solved his problem.

We had to boat back to shore, then load all of our 'stuff' into the boat, and go back into town, some 25 miles away, and luckily found a replacement handle. When we finally got back, a 'fishing, we just couldn't locate the fish, the big ones anyway. After several hours we did get a couple more, for the stringer and called it a day.

Years ago, a horseshoe nail, lost a battle, this time a lost crank, spoiled a good fishing day.

Next week, we'll go into detail about the bait casting rod and reel. This is the one the newer generation call the 'Old Fashioned Ones.' The one that backlashes all the time. No, it does not, it is the caster, for the most part that does the backlashing. I'll go into detail on the angler doing the right things, so the reel will not 'birdnest''. Good casters go all day long, fishing with the 'level wind', and never get a tangle.

For the trolling fisherman and for the fisherman, 'out' for the big muskies and Northerns, and real big bass, it IS the one to use.

Remember, if you have a spincast outfit now-or just a cane pole, don't buy another one, such as you have. Make your next choice, in a rod and reel completely different. Learn how the other half lives — and fishes.

'Honest Harve's Best Hours For Fishing, Bird Watching

Water temperatures are still pretty chilly for good fishing. Sunday water temperatures got up to almost 70 degrees, which warmth produced some good catches of bass and croppies. Along came a frosty two or three nights and with the cooler temperatures, fishing success dropped.

However some good catches were made in the warmer water, Saturday and Sunday. A good catch by Alex Whitbeck, our Gulf neighbor across the street, made a nice looking string - photo just made it in last week's SUN. Alex got the fish - all bass, on a purple plastic worm. The largest bass, was a 5¾ pounder. Also on the string was a 2¾ pounder, along with a 3 pounder. A nice Sunday afternoon's pleasure.

The lake, Alex volunteered, is a deep secret. It is a small lake, between Sebring and Avon Park.

An Open Letter To Property Owners

In the public meeting at Lake Wales on Thursday night and at Okeechobee on Friday night, many concerned ranchers and property owners showed up to provide the public input that was requested.

We understand that eutrophication is the problem. This, we are told, is when more fertilizer is spread than can be consumed by the world. The organized minority clubs of "Arch-conservations" are worried about the over fertilizing of Lake Okeechobee.

The majority of speakers and of the crowd were from the minority organized groups from other areas like Miami, Tampa, Palm Beach and from Fort Lauderdale and not, of course, from areas at issue - a stacked deck.

The Department of Environmental Regulation Representative spoke for one hour and a half, even to the point where ranchers and other land owners had reached their limit of endurance. Most of them got up and walked out. It was obvious that the one and a half hour monotone had reached the interested people to a mood of pure disgust. I hope the State does not interpret this as disinterest.

When concerned citizens take the time and effort to attend a public meeting where they are told their comments and input are wanted, and it becomes apparent their comments are not wanted, they become disgusted and they leave! These ranchers and property owners know when they have been insulted and are never ones to stay where they are not wanted!

A word of caution to land owners: Every plan presented by the State at the public meetings for the destruction of the flood control system will flood the bottom lands which have been improved by the ranchers for cattle grazing.

A couple of speakers from outside areas stated, "no land would be taken or condemned without payment to the land owners." Please note that these persons do not represent the State, and do not have the authority to make this statement. In the meetings, the State admitted that no provisions had been made for money to pay for land that they take or damage.

If by any of these State plans, the bottom land pastures do not flood all the time, the State will undoubtedly claim that this condition is the same as it was before the channelization and only represent a return to the natural condition, and therefore the flooding and destruction of the grazing land does not constitute a taking.

To get any compensation for the land that you will lose, you will have to take the State to court. This will take a lot of money, and you will probably lose. If you want to continue to have the use of your lands, you should let this be known to your State Legislator and to your Associations.

Our hearty thanks to Pat Wilson, Riley Miles, W. H. Morse, Dr. Robert Ogilby, and the cattleman and land owners who sat through the snow job, and offered their objections to the further destruction of the Kissimmee River Valley and expressed their concern that the rights of private land ownership are being threatened.

Firing a 106 pound payload of Neutral barium aboard an Honest John — Hydar Launcher, the Eglin Air Force Team produced an ionized barium vapor cloud at about 116 Miles altitude last Wednesday night. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Honest John Rocket Fired

Large Color Cloud Visible In Avon Park

Late Wednesday afternoon, March 2, shortly after sunset at 6:51 p.m. Honest John aboard a Hydac launch vehicle was fired from the Eglin Air Base test site on Santa Rosa Island south of Fort Walton Beach.

The rocket carried a 106 lb. barium payload to a planned altitude of 116 miles, where it formed a large multi-colored barium cloud, visible in the Avon Park area as a white cloud with a red trail through the center of the cloud in the clear sky.

The purpose of the experiment was to determine how ionized clouds affect the communication between aircraft and satellites. A specially equipped air Airforce C-135 successfully positioned itself so the cloud was between the plane and a Lincoln experimental satellite.

The neutral barium carried by the rocket is vaporized by a small explosive charge thus forming a cloud of ionized barium. The red streak resembling the arc of a rainbow, is caused by the heat of the rocket motor. The cloud remains visible, after sunset, for about a half hour as it is illuminated by light from the sun. The cloud persists for several hours for the purpose of the experiments.

The last Wednesday night's test marked the second of a series of five launches scheduled through March 12. Weather and other conditions have a bearing on whether the tests take place.

Southside Park Community News

By Alphonso Williams

Greetings,

For the past week, everything has gone about normal or expected in Southside Park. There have been no recent births, marriages, deaths, nor other special events, which have been brought to my attention. There possibly may have been some of these but I repeat, none have been reported to me. We still have a lot of sickness, especially the "flu", but we still have a lot to be grateful for, because after all, things can get worse.

Apostolic Church of Jesus:

The Apostolic Church of Jesus had it's regular services Sunday.

Sunday School beginning 10:30 a.m. Deacon Stanley Smith presiding.

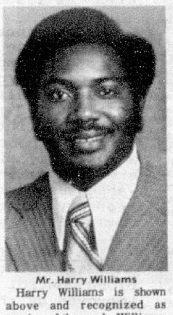

Morning service with Deacon Ben Hicks in charge of devotion and praise service. Elder Brown brought the message, subject "It's very old But Yet New" preached with power.

Evening service Deacon Ben Hicks in charge carried out in the same like manner. Elder Brown preached taking for a subject "These Days". Preached until the power of the lord came down.

The services was enjoyed throughout the day.

Elder T. J. Brown, Pastor

Bonnie Brae News

By Margie Wells

The slide tour of the USA continued with Part 5 being shown in the rec hall on Friday evening. Leaving the state of Washington, slides were shown of Banff and Lake Louise on up the Ice Field Highway past the Columbian Ice Fields to Jasper.

The lakes, waterfalls, majestic mountains and glaciers were very impressive. The Edith Cavell glacier was shown which is in the form of an angel and memorializes her experience in World War I.

Several provincial capitals were visited including Winnipeg with its hothouses of flowers and then back to the states over the Michigan bridge and through Ontario to Niagara Falls.

An interesting event was recalled of the early days of the park when slides were shown of the placing of the earliest mobile homes here in Bonnie Brae.

Next week some of the eastern parts of the States will be shown.

News

Mickey and Phyllis Gaeta had Father Simeon Capizzi as their houseguest for three days. He is a cousin of Phyllis and belongs to the order of St. Francis and has just returned from Bolivia after being a missionary priest in the rural areas there for three years. On Sunday evening, John and Lena Sinatra hosted a lovely dinner in his honor. Guests included Mickey and Phyllis Gaeta, Josephine Spoto and Carmella Scaccia. On Tuesday evening, a full house at the rec hall enjoyed beautiful slides of Bolivia and Brazil shown by Father Capizzi. A question and answer period followed.

A recent houseguest of Verda Miller has been her cousin, Mrs. Veda Boeger of Denver, Colorda. She was here to attend the funeral of an uncle in St. Petersburg.

Miss Jolene Robbins, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Loth, visited in their home the week of February 12 to the 19 when she returned home to resume work at the Winnebago factory at Forest City, Iowa. Mrs. Karen Rasmussen and Rodney, daughter and grandson of the Loths, visited with them from February 12th to March 3rd when they returned to their home at Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Dean and Jeffrey flew home to Stouffville, Ontario, on Saturday after a holiday here, having driven down with her parents, Cyril and Florence Bielby, who are new park residents. Don't forget to add Cyril and Florence's names to your park directory!

Leonard Harsh of Fort Myers and Margie Wells spent last Tuesday in Winter Haven visiting with their parents, the Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Harsh.

It was the occasion of their mother's 81st birthday and the first time they had all been together since their parents moved to Florida two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ray of Anderson, Indiana, are visiting with his sister and brother-in-law, Rozzie and Lester Parkhurst. On their way down, they stopped in Plains, Georgia, and brought us a sample of the famous peanuts.

Rene and Joe Asher who have been wintering with us for several years in their travel trailer decided to make it permanent and have recently bought a mobile home in the park. Glad to have some more Kentuckians in the park!

Mildred and Frank Schwager and Alice and Cecil Pixley just returned from a wonderful fishing trip in the Keyes. They were with friends from Michigan that have winter homes there and, of course the boats that go with it. Phil and Harold Doan have been down there a month and returned to Bonnie Brae to spend a few weeks. Lots of fish were caught-big ones! Cecil had the fun of getting a 21-pound 43-inch shark. Fun??

Joyce Barton from England really surprised her mother and father, Daisy and Mark Brown, on Thursday night when she arrived unexpectedly. She will be here about a week or ten days.

Steve and Sally Bohaychyk, Charles and Doris Palmer, and Ellen Hunt attended the moonlight concert at Bok Tower in Lake Wales last Thursday night.

The pinochle group played at Mary and Cedric Wierman's home on Saturday night. The usual seven played. Cedric Weirman served delicious cake which he had purchased at Pioneers Days in Zolfo Springs.

Ellen Hunt entertained the Rev. and W. Gordon Webner, and W. Gordon Webner, Visitation Minister of the First United Methodist Church, on Sunday for dinner.

Sam and Laura Porter, who are wintering in their mobile home in Punta Gorda, were week-end visitors of Margie and P. D. Wells. They were all friends when they resided in Kentucky. On Saturday, they enjoyed a round of golf at River Greens Golf Course.

We are happy to report that Minnie Snyder is doing very well after her hip operation and hopes to be home this week. Also, Lee McFrederick, who had heart surgery at the Cleveland Clinic on Thursday, was responding very well after the operation and we wish him the very best.

Don't forget to sign up for the St. Patrick's Day dinner on the 17th at 1 p.m. in the rec hall. The men are going to cook and serve the dinner-so come prepared!!

Harry Lee's Trailer Village News

By Mabel Stocker

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Herzberger of Virginia, Ill., spent a few days last week with his grandmother Mrs. Anna Herzberger. The younger Herzbergers were on their honeymoon.

Several residents are enjoying the card games held each Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon at the shelter.

On Tuesday afternoon 7 members gathered at the shelter for Chit and Chat meeting. Several types of crafts were being done.

On Wednesday 43 club members and guests spent the day at Stuart and in the afternoon went on a boat trip down the St. Lucie River. A picnic lunch was enjoyed and it was a delightful day.

Mrs. Lillian Glen was called to Illinois due to the illness of her sister who passed away. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Gilbert and Helen Turner received word of the death of a niece in Ohio. The village extends their sympathy to these families.

On Friday evening the Auda-Vin Social held a weiner roast at the shelter with 56 members and guests present. A covered dish completed the meal. Even though it rained, cards were enjoyed later with many playing.

Airman Williams Completes Course

An official at Sheppard AFB, Tex., has announced the graduation of Airman Lucinda K. Williams from the U.S. Air Force's computer operator course conducted by the Air Training Command.

Airman Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Williams Jr. of Avon Park, Fla., is now trained to operate and maintain electronic data processing machines, and will serve at Williams AFB, Ariz. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman graduated in 1971 from Avon Park High School and received her B.S. degree in 1975 from the University of Florida.

DON'T BE A SITTING DUCK

Use your rear-view mirror . . . It will let you know if it is safe to change lanes, make a turn, put your car in reverse, or if an emergency vehicle is behind you. The handbook recommends that drivers check their rear-view mirror periodically. Where you've been is sometimes just as important as where you're going.

THINGS ARE HAPPENING IN "THE GROVE"

"Ed, this is Jean Aguire, of Oscar Dooley Associates, in Miami, a customer of ours stopped off in Lake Placid last night & picked up some information about "The Grove". We showed him plans of the houses under construction. Will the builders make changes? Also would they include a fireplace?"

"Jean, the answer is "Yes" to both requests. The builders will make changes in plans while under construction & Marvin Wood mentioned the other day that he was putting fireplaces in his "Grove" homes. Hold, while I get him on the line. Marvin, This is Ed O'Connor, Realtor in Lake Placid".

"Yes, Ed, I have decided to put in fireplaces in 'The Grove' homes, they went well in other homes I put them in. As to changes, I find that many of the requests involved no additional cost and represent an improvement in the house. We urge people to buy early and take part in the inside layout to fit into their ideas."

Mrs. Candy Payton and Mrs. Arlene Tanner, two of the kindergarden teachers, hold a jump rope for the children to jump over.

Kindergarden Classes Receive New Equipment From Avon Park P.T.O.

The 1976 Halloween Carnival was a big success for its sponsor the Parent Teachers organization (P.T.O.). It made a profit of $1400.00.

The P.T.O. purchased physical education equipment (jump ropes and balls) for the six Kindergarten classrooms at Hopewell School to enhance thier physical education program for the children.

This money was acheived through the efforts of many parents and friends who worked long hours making preparations for the carnival.

Organizations and clubs should be congradulated for their co trobutions and overwhelming support.

These physical fitness aides will be used to great advantage for the students in developing pathysical coordination.

So many times we forget the wide range of uses that can come form a simple aide, such as jumpropes, espicially at the primary level. It instantly becomes a river to jump, a tight wire to walk on, or a circle to move in, out and all round.

The advantages of having balls in each classroom are innumerable. The children are able to use the balls in many activities. Catching, bouncing, dodging and throwing only to name a few. Rhythm and coordination will be developed with the use of this new equipment.

Another portion of the money has been used to purchase laminating film.

The teachers have been using this to make excellent classroom materials with which the children work.

Many learning and skill development games have been made by the teachers and are used in almost all classrooms at every level.

These individual activities which students use on their own do not have to be replaced when laminated. The protective coating enables materials to be used over and over again. This saves valuable time that would be spent having to replace the manipulative materials.

The P.T.O. has also purchased blackout curtians for the Avon Elementary Cafeteria, to be used for showing films.

Before the teachers cut paper and taped it across the windows, which was very ineffective.

More blackout cutrains are on order for two kindergarten rooms. This will make it easier for the teachers to take advantage of the audio visual equipment.

Plans are now being made for the 1977 carnival. Anyone with new ideas, past experience or would just like to get involved with the carnival, please contact Mrs. Margaret Collins, 453-6218.

Everyone loves to jump rope. But sometimes it is hard to get the jumper and rope together.

55 Years Ago

Everyone was happy to hear that the money was raised to pay the teachers of Avon Park through the efforts of the parents that labored day and night, giving performaces and socilizing funds, ever since they learned the board of public instruction had ordered the schools closed March 10 for lack of funds.

The Highlands County Pilot suggested to the people of Avon Park to appoint a committee which would have special charge of the parks. The committee should draw a plan of beautification and invite the citizens to contribute the price of a tree or shrub.

Consumer's Side

Question: I've read so much about TRIS, the chemical used to treat children's pajamas.

Can anything be done to pajamas treated with TRIS to make it safe?

Answer: The Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) has received many consumer inquiries in recent days concerning the chemical TRIS which is used to make some children's sleepwear, sizes 0-14, flame-resistant. The Commission has been asked by the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF), a nongovernmental, public interest group, to ban such use of TRIS alleging that it poses a cancer hazard.

It has been suggested washing new TRIS-treated sleepwear several times prior to use, in accordance with the garment care labeling instructions, should reduce the amount of TRIS on the pajamas and would be a useful precaution. Therefore, the Consumer Product Safety Commission believes that TRIS-treated garments already in use and having been washed several times present little, if any, risk to consumers.

CPSC regulations require children's sleepwear, sizes 0-14, to be flame-resistant. Some fabrics are inherently flame-resistant, and some require the addition of chemicals to achieve the same effect. Manufacturers are required to meet the standards, but the law does not require them to label the type of flame-retardant chemical used or give that information to the government.

The Commission offers the following guidelines for the indentification of TRIS-treated garments:

1. The following fabrics used in the manufacture of children's sleepwear, sizes 0-14 frequently require the addition of TRIS to achieve flame-resistancy: 100 percent polyester, acetate, triacetate.

2. The following types of fabric used in the manufacture of children's sleepwear are inherently flame-resistant and would, therefore, not require the addition of a chemical such as TRIS.

Modacrylic (brand names Verel, Dynel, SEF) and certain modacrylic blends.

Cordelan (brand name for 50-percent polyvinyl chloride and 50-percent polyvinyl alcohol) and certain "cordelan" blends.

3. The following fabrics used in the manufacture of children's sleepwear, sizes 0-14, characteristically require the addition of a chemical other than TRIS to achieve flame-resistancy: 100-percent cotton, nylon (occasionally). To find out if a particular children's sleepwear garment has been directly treated with TRIS, consumers should contact the manufacturers directly.

The Epworth Choir

Epworth Choir To Present Program At Methodist Church

The Epworth Choir from the First United Methodist Church, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, will present a varied program of choral music at The First United Methodist Church of Avon Park at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 22.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

The 100 voice choir will present concerts in Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, West Virginia, and Ohio. In the program, consisting of music spanning four centuries, the choir will sing literature from ancient church music, new arrangements of old church hymns, and selections from the contemporary rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar".

This is the 23th annual tour of this outstanding group of young people. In years past, the choir has toured states spanning the East Coast. This choir assists in the 8:45 a.m. service of worship each Sunday and is one of eight choirs of the First United Methodist Church ranging from four years of age through adult which enrolls more than 350 singers in rehearsal each week.

The choir is under the direction of David F. Stoke, Driector of Music, The First United Methodist Church, and is accompanied by Herbert Chamberlain, Associate Director and Organist.

Avon Park's Interdenominational Youth Group, CHAOS, will attend the program instead of holding its regular meeting on Sunday evening, March 20.

All Avon Park youth are welcome at this singing program presented by almost 100 high school boys and girls. The visiting youth will spend the night with local families.

"Hollyland 77" Plan To Visit Five Countries

"Holy Land 77" is planned for May 13-27 by a group from North Central Baptist Church in Gainesville, Florida. The pastor, Dr. N. B. Langford, will travel with the group and do the Bible studies. An invitation is extended to those from other church groups who would like to make this trip.

"Holy Land 77" will visit five countries including Egypt, Amman, Israel, Athens, and London. Present plans call for the group to be gone fifteen days.

Dr. N. B. Langford, senior minister at the 2500 member North Central church, is presently writing a commentary on the entire New Testament and it will be out of this background that he will share with those who make the trip. Additional information can be obtained by calling or writing the church office located at 404 N. W. 14th Avenue.

The group will visit Egypt for the purpose of studying the Old Testament Exodus experience. When they visit Amman they will view the mountain Moses stood upon to look out and see the promised land. In Israel all the major sites in the Life of Christ will receive a detailed Bible study. In Athens and Cornith, the group will visit two cities in which two books in the New Testament were written. London, England was choosen by the group by popular demand.

"Holy Land 77" will be limited in number to one bus so church groups or individuals desiring information should reply immediately.

The meeting was called to order by president, Mrs. Harry Hunt and devotions were given by Mrs. Jas. Thorp.

A short business meeting followed. Mrs. Anthony Rutz introduced the speaker, a retired home missionary, Miss Jennie Flood , of Yulee. Miss Flood gave an interesting talk on her experiences of twenty two years as a church and Community Ministry worker in Appalachia in Northern Kentucky.

In her work she enabled these people, who were culturally and geographically isolated, to see needs, find ways of working together to meet these needs and to carry through plans for building Christian lives, Churches and Communities.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

THE SPACE AGE REVEALS THE GLORY OF CREATION

Man's conquest of space is just beginning; although it has already achieved many astounding feats of technology that hardly anyone believed possible even a few years ago. And yet, the farther we progress through the intricacies of modern science, the more we are compelled to marvel at the magnitude of God's Creation, that reaches out into an infinity we cannot comprehend; and also, at our God-given ability to engineer and perform these feats. However, you need not go to the moon, but only as far as the Church of your choice; to thank God for this vast universe and for the intelligence granted to man to explore it, and thereby enrich all our lives on earth.

"For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible..."
— Colossians 1:16

And while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.
— John Gillespie Magee, Jr.

Goodwill In Crisis, Need Discards, Clothing

A critical shortage of usable discards and clothing has placed the jobs of the 600 handicapped workers at Goodwill Industries in jeopardy.

The unseasonably cold weather in Highlands County coupled with the usual lull in donations this time of year has created a severe problem for the non-profit rehabilitation agency.,

"We hope the upcoming annual Gulf Ridge Council Boy Scout 'Good Turn Day' will help us over this slump in Highlands County," John S. Bodolay, Chairman of the Board explained. "We are in need of donations to keep these handicapped citizens working repairing and refurnishing items for the non-profit retail outlets."

The Highlands County scouts will deliver Goodwill bags door-to-door on March 12. They will return one week later, March 19, to pick up the filled bags. Bags should be filled with clothing and household items..

Each year the local scouts assist the handicapped as a community service project. All donations are tax deductible

Employment Survey To Be Conducted Here

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census, Mrs. Sue Secrist and Hubert Horwitz, will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of March 14-19.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, this month's survey will have questions on the income and work experience of household members last year. The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically-designed sample of approximately 70,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation.

For example, in January the survey indicated that of the 95.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 88.6 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.3 per cent, down from a revised level of 7.8 in December and substantially below the recession peak of 9.9 per cent reached in the second quarter of 1975.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Everyone is pleased that Clarence Neiswonger, who is a patient at Walker Memorial Hospital, is showing improvement. His cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Al Rumbaugh of Warren, Ohio and Mrs. John Harding of Mt. Dora visited him and Miranda Sunday.

John Clutes of Titusville visited his parents Letson and Madeline Clutes overnight Friday. Saturday and Sunday their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buckler of Ft. Myers. The two men served in the army together and until this year had not seen each other for 8 years.

Art and Mae Radway of Youngstown, Ohio have come to stay for a month or more.

After Saturday evening's bohemian dinner Lucille Willnow showed lovely pictures of her travels in Germany, Austria and England in 1969.

Mr. and Mrs. John Behm and daughter Cheri from Hillsdale, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Behm of Manitou Beach, Mich., left Thursday after an extended visit with the men's parents, Bob and Mildred Savage. They planned on visiting Cape Kennedy and then return to their homes by way of the east coast. On Tuesday the Savages and Donald Behms went on a tour around Lake Okeechobee and had lunch in Moore Haven.

Saturday the Savages and Gordon Willmows went to Zolfo Springs for Pioneer Days and hhad lunch at Fishermans Feast near Arcadia.

Monday Luther and Frances Hall of Blissfield, Mich. called on Ray and Frances Robertson. Wednesday the Robertsons went to visit Clair and Agnes Pifer for several days at Bradenton. While there they met several of their home town friends for lunch at the Piccadilly.

Wednesday Clair and Ila Reno spent the day at Cypress Gardens and had dinner at Duffs Smorgasbord in Winter Haven. While there they were happily surprised to see the wife of a former pastor they had known in Hastings, Mich., 20 years ago, Mrs. C. N. Stormes, who now lives in Lake Wales.

Harley and Gladys Kimerer went to the Tecumseh, Mich., picnic at Graycies in Sebring Thursday.

Charles and Mabel Travis attended the Jackon, Mich., picnic at Gulfport, on Saturday. Sunday they had dinner at Duffs Smorgasbord in Winter Haven.

Karl and Ida Walter spent Sunday thru Tuesday visiting friends along the gulf, calling on Mr. and Mrs. Cloud Albright at Pinellas Park, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wheeler at Maderia Beach, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Sigle at Palmetto, the Howard Alcocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd O'Neel had guests from Leesburg for two nights. They were the Mac Pierces, cousins of Mrs. O'Neel. Their summer home is at Alexandria, Ind.

Others attending Pioneer Days at Zolfo Springs were Bill and Leona Lynn and Max and Dora Crossett on Friday. John and Barb Ebmeyer on Saturday, Sunday the Ebmeyers went to Nalcrest, east of Lake Wales, and then visited hometown Lansing, Mich. friends, the Albert Polloks at Saddlebag Lake.

Bob and Mary Walterhouse went with Art and Cotherine Greib of Sebring Tuesday to go shelling at Gasparilla Island. On Thursday Harry and Maxine Dey of Brentwood visited them. And on Saturday thru Monday Russell and Mildred Jones of Delphi were their guests. Mildred is Bob's niece.

Vested Interests Oppose Kissimmee Plan

The restoration of the Kissimmee River Valley from an engineered canal to a natural, meandering river may well be one of the most complex problems facing the state of Florida in years.

The Kissimmee Valley has been in its present state for almost 19 years. Critics claim that the river was turned into a wide ditch to drain thousands of acres of marshland for agriculture and development.

Many of the people who have profited by the channelization deny there was

Many of the people who have profited by the channelization deny there was forethought in the ditching to favor them. But they don't want the river restored to its natural state either.

Even the apologists for the channelization agree, however, the degradation being suffered by Lake Okeechobee has been a direct result of the channelization. They prefer a solution which cleans up the river system but leaves them with land they have acquired.

The Kissimmee River controversy goes back to 1850 when Florida received title to nearly 20 million acres of submerged lands from the federal government. Most of the land was in the Lake Okeechobee-Kissimmee River Basin.

By 1881 the state agency charged with managing the wetlands, the old trustees of the internal improvement fund (IIF) had sold or given away so much of the land that it had to go into receivership, according to several histories of Florida.

There is historical documentation that the trustees were not operating in any long term public interest. However, the ethic of the mid and late 1800's was one of drain and reclaim where wetlands were concerned. The importance was not understood by man, certainly not Florida's foremost contemporary historian.

When the IIF went into receivership, Florida had to sell the submerged lands to raise some money to satisfy bondholders.

The lucky buyer was a young sawmaker and financier from Philadelphia, Hamilton Disston. He bought 4 million acres of wetlands for 25 cents an acre and was promised half of all the rest that he could drain-free.

Disston and others, including the railroads who also benefited from free state land, began dredging south Florida land as fast as 1800's technology would permit.

Salesman started hawking muckland all over the world and Florida welcomed its first con artists and fortune seekers who sold swamplands for homesteads and farms.

The dewatering of Florida began in high style and has abated only recently, due to more enlightened legislators and a growing body of environmentally concerned citizens.

The channelization of the Kissimmee River has been called a "tragic and costly blunder" by Luther Carter, author

Citation Given

The Avon Park City Council Tuesday night took time out from their regular duties to commend Avon Park Police Sgt. Walter Bellenger for performance over and above the call of duty.

The official commendation, presented by Mayor Marshall Davis, the commendation read, "Whereas Sgt. Walt Bellenger. . . has performed above the call of duty, particularly in the homicide case of two subjects apprehended in the murder of an elderly woman recently and whereas Sgt. Bellenger intelligently used his time both on and off duty hours working with fellow officers and informants to solve the murder and whereas the two apprehended juveniles have been convicted in this case, therefore, Sgt. Bellenger is hereby commended by this official action."

Bellinger provided the backbone of investigation into solving the murder of Helen Dixon, which occured last November. The two teenagers apprehended in connection with the murder are awaiting final disposition by the court. A jury last month found Frank Ross guilty of murder, while the other suspect, James Wells, pleaded guilty to robbery and second degree murder charges. Ross was sentenced to death, Wells is awaiting the outcome of a pre-sentence investigation.

Avon Park Chief of Police Robert Brooks praised Bellinger, saying that he was a fine investigator and a credit to his department.

Council Grants Zoning Changes To Developer In Spite Of Protests

A public hearing over the proposed change in zoning of the W. F. Johnson Sub-Division, located at the north end of Lake Avenue, occupied much of the Avon Park City Council's time Monday evening.

Avon Investment Company, Inc., owned by Robert and Paul Herman, is the firm planning to develop the property. They requested, and were granted, a change from R-1 (single family residence) to R-2 (multiple family residence) zoning. Paul Herman explained that the change was needed because his firm intended to construct a total of 82 individually owned apartments on the property.

William Olson, 1000 North Lake Avenue, appeared before the council to protest the zoning change, citing irregularities in hearings held by the city's Planning Commission on the zoning change request.

"I think there is a question of whether the proper procedure has been followed in this matter." Olson told the council. "I think if you (the council) will read your city ordinances, you will find that the public should be notified about these things."

The council, however, informed Olson that it had complied with the law by advertising in the Avon Park Sun for Monday's public hearing. City Attorney Jack Hancock, however, said that there could be some question about the procedure, as there was no public notice made of the prior Planning Commission hearings on the matter. Olson stressed that the Planning Commission had made a recommendation in favor of the zoning change after hearing only one side of the argument. "The Planning Commission only had one side of the issue presented. They didn't hear anyone from the opposition."

Although Hancock said he wasn't entirely certain of the legal question involved, he felt confident that the council did have the right to re-zone, especially in light of the advertised public hearing.

Olson claimed that the planned apartments would depreciate the value of his adjoining property and that high density population would add to an already heavy traffic congestion on Lake Avenue. He added, that the re-zoning would set the pattern for the rest of the undeveloped property on Lake Avenue.

Several residents of the Manors, another Avon Investment housing development on Lake Avenue, insisted that the new complex would enhance

WITH THE 1070 Ford Mustang ready to be taken to the Sebring airport race course last Saturday morning, Bill Boyer hangs on to the top and door while he swings a leg over a roll bar when getting into the drivers seat with Neil Potter watching. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.)

Local Entrants Will Try For Big Race Win

The glamour attached to big racing drivers didn't appear to affect Neil Potter (Sebring) and Bill Boyer (Avon Park) as they went about getting the Orange Nip Special ready for the '12 Hours of Sebring' race this coming Saturday.

The Orange Nip Special, as they call the car, hasn't run in a race since last year at Sebring when Neil and Bill jockeyed their way up from their 53rd starting spot to 24th place when a blown head gasket forced them out of the race. Despite a four hour delay in finding and replacing the gasket, they finished the race with eight hours of running time.

During the past year they made several changes in the Ford 429 Boss engine. The changes on the cam shaft, carburetion, exhaust system and cooling system were recommended to the drivers by high performance equipment engineers at Ford Motor Company, who said the engine output should be about 690 horsepower or 150 horsepower over the original engine. With these changes Neil and Bill hope to get a tachometer reading of 7,000 engine revolutions per-minute over the 5.2 mile airport race course.

Having had the Ford Mustang since 1970, Neil's wife, Jeanie, drove it back and forth to work. In 1975 Neil entered it for the first time in the Sebring race. This year Jeanie and Neil's car is the only entrant from Sebring with Paul Bowden, Lake Placid also expected to run the race.

The Potter car has several sponsors, with the chief sponsor being Ben Hill Griffin, Inc., maker of Orange Nip. Other sponsors are: Mikell's Industrial Park, Mikell's Corvette Center, Surplus City, Terry's Towing Service, Bob's Mens Wear, the Jernigans, Jeanie and Neil Potter Garage and Danny Poole Signcraft; while the students at the South Florida Junior College body and paint shop painted the car body.

Neil explained that last year the Mustang carried number 49. He had requested the same number this year but had to settle for 44.

To drive in the race both men must have a racing license issued by the International Motor Sports Association (IMSA). The first license issued to a driver is a provisional license, which is changed to a regular racing license after the driver obtains basic racing experience.

Qualifying times or runs for the race will take place Friday morning during the regular practice sessions, when timers will clock the drivers as they make their practice runs.

No. 44, weighing approximately 2850 lbs., has a 302 cubic inch displacement engine (CID) 'at least' painted on the hood. But neither Neil or Bill would say what the actual CI D was. During the 12 Hour race, the engine is expected to burn approximately 300 gallons of racing fuel

Mailbox Nappers Sought By Police

Avon Park Police and U. S. postal authorities are presently searching for the thieves who made off with a mailbox last November. The large red and blue box was stolen from the intersection of West State Street and Tulane Circle, when enterprising heisters unbolted the container from its concrete base.

Police said that they had several telephone calls in the months following from unidentified persons who wanted to know if there was a reward offered for the return of government property.

Apparently, the mailbox-nappers grew tired of the long wait and since there was no reward offered, the box was dumped into Lake Tulane. On Tuesday morning, the box was discovered and recovered.

According to Larry Violette, Avon Park Post Office Supervisor, Orville Lock, 405 Tulane Circle, snagged the mailbox while he was fishing early Tuesday and reported it to police.

Postal employees, along with two neighborhood youth, Mike Rivette and Mitchell Mason, recovered the box in about 20 feet of water, approximately 30 feet from shore.

The box had been pried open, however, Violette said officials were uncertain if any mail was in the box at the time of the theft.

A full investigation into the theft has been launched.

AVON PARK POSTAL officials recovered a mailbox from Lake Tulane Tuesday. The box had been missing since last November. Helping to bring the container to shore are (l to r) Dick Robinson, postal employe; Donald Cummings postal employe; Larr, Violette, post office supervisor; Mike Rivette and Mitchell Mason, divers. Chamber Industrial Group Meets

Dr. Ronald Sevigny, Chairman of the local Chamber commercial Development Committee showed slides of Avon Park's lack of availability of industrial zoned property in the City limits, at a breakfast meeting Tuesday morning.

This new Industrial Committee was created at the beginning of the Chamber year. President James Cravey appointed chamber members representing top level men in the citrus related fields, banking, commercial, dairy, utilities, educational, etc. The committee is composed of fifteen members that were selected for their ability and wide contacts throughout the state.

Working with the Chamber Industrial Committee is Paul Kalashian, Development Representative of Florida Department of Commerce. An Industrial Profile on Avon Park covering Educational, Community, Recreational facilities, City Government, Labor Analysis, Major Employers, etc., has been completed and being printed for distribution.

A work session is planned for the last week in March to be held at South Florida

Repairing Done By AF Red Horse

Red Horse in Air Corps parlance does not refer to a town in any of the western states but stands for the Rapid Equipment Deployable Heavy Operational Repair Squadron Engineers of the 823 Civil Engineer Squadron Heavy Repair (HR) based at Hurlburt Field, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

The Red Horse Squadrons came into existence during the Vietnam War when the Navy's Seabees and the Army's Corps of Engineers were overloaded with repair and construction projects. Thus the Air Corps started it's own repair and construction units.

Master Sergeant Thomas Holbert, Winter Haven, started in construction with his father in the Haines City-Clermont area building roads and

by Russ Dennis

There comes a time when the frustrations caused by "The System" are enough to make you scream.

While we all know that rules must be followed and regulations carried out, the ludicrousness of the situation that the average citizens finds himself in is laughable, or would be, if the event wasn't so frustrating.

The other day I undertook the annoying, but necessary task of obtaining a new Florida driver's license, new license plates, inspection sticker and title registration. What started out as a brief task, became an all day chore, as I trudged from one office to another, looking for relief. It put me in mind of Diogennes and his futile search for an honest man.

Upon arrival at the Sebring outlet of the state driver's license bureau, I discovered that all personnel were spending the day in Lake Placid. "Let's get this out of the way," I foolishly told myself, "and make the quick trip to Lake Placid."

Upon arrival, I discovered that a particular machine needed to verify your driver's license number was out of commission. "Should be back in service within 20-minutes," the clerk told me. Two hours and 20-minutes later, I left, license in hand.

"Okay, it took a little longer than expected, but there is still plenty of time to take care of the plates and vehicle inspection." Ha!

Being a newcomer to the area, I searched for the county courthouse. When I finally escaped from that queer fairy circle in downtown Sebring, I discovered that the office I wanted was in the annex. After filling out reems of papers, I was presented with a brand new license plate, only to discover that it was good for just four months, at which time I will have to go through this entire process again.

Little did I know, as I staggered from the tag office, that the worst was still in store. Locating the vehicle inspection center, I wheeled my auto in, feeling confident that here, at least, was one portion of the afternoon that couldn't go wrong.

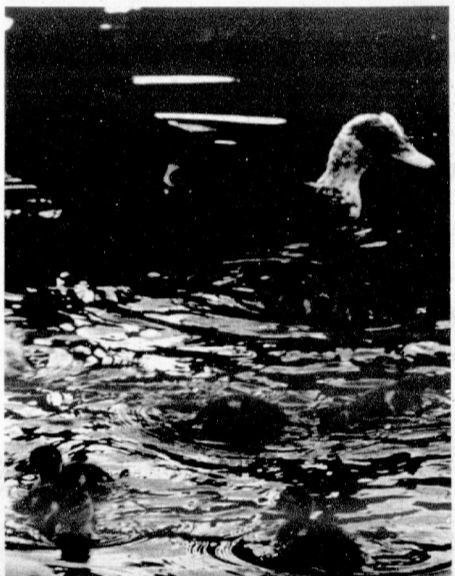

The attendant at the center calmly finished the conversation he was having with the woman in the auto ahead of mine, then motioned me in.

Now if this sounds like sour grapes, it is. The vehicle I currently own is a nice car. Less than one year old, the auto has been well cared for and only has 12,000 miles on it.

Lights, wipers and turn signals-check. Brakes-well, not so good. Tires-I need a new one. The auto was inspected about three months ago, just prior to our arrival in Florida. It runs well, gets good gas mileage and stops on a dime (it'll give you nine-cents change, too.), but it just couldn't pass that inspection. Sigh. Maybe it was the beard.

There is nothing to do about this, but play the game. Perhaps someday, it will be possible to take care of all these bothersome chores at one location, thus saving everyone time and frazzled nerves. In the meantime, I've got to get new tires and the brakes checked, then head on back to the inspection station, hopefully for the final time.

Perhaps the attention paid to my auto by the inspector will save my life, but I can't help feeling that I would have been happier with a slightly less through check. Oh well, the game must be played, the rules followed and the regulations inforced, not to mention the taxes, fees and charges paid. Someone once said that what this country needs is a good five-cent cigar. What this country really needs is painless way to cut the red tape. Anybody know who works on brakes...cheap?

Election Law A Good One

Federal officials claim that Florida should get ready for major changes in election procedures, especially a proposed law that would allow citizens to register to vote on the same day as an election.

We say it's about time!

Gary Greenhalgh of the Federal elections Commission says that the proposed law may pass in Congress. "It's probably going to be mandated from the federal level," he said, "There's a lot of coordination on Capitol Hill and the votes are there."

Briefly, the new system, already being used in some states, probably would lead to a major increase in the voter turnout. The state of Minnesota, which is using a similar system, saw a 22 per cent increase in voters casting their ballots in last November's elections.

The only drawback to the system, if it can be termed that, is the slowness in implementing it. Since it is probably going to be mandated by the federal government, it could take years for the system to filter down to Florida. Greenhalgh said that the proposed law would probably be implemented by federal grants to the states, so each area could set up their own program. Anyone with experience in these matters knows that federal grants always have lengthy strings attached.

On the other hand, the very idea of federal grants to finance this type of a program is something new. The federal government presently does not pay any of the cost of voter registration or election fees; the states and local governments pick up the tab.

Recent voter turnout in Avon Park shows that something is needed to attract more people to the polls. A turnout of 20 to 30 per cent is not unusual in this area. We feel that the present system of voter registration, while workable, still makes it difficult for some people to participate in our government.

The proposed election law would make it much more attractive for residents to exercise their franchise. We wonder how many people fail to cast their ballot simply because they forgot or could not get to voter registration centers.

In Avon Park, such a law would have a double meaning. Presently, voters have to travel to Sebring if they want to register, but under the new law, a simple appearance at the polls on election day would be sufficient.

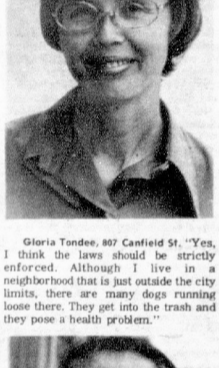

There is, however, a question that bothers us. What type of safeguards would be enacted to prevent ballot stuffing? How could you ascertain if a person was eligible to vote at a specified poll?

While the Sun endorses the idea, we also want to learn more about the proposed legislation before it is implemented. We'd rather be safe, than sorry.

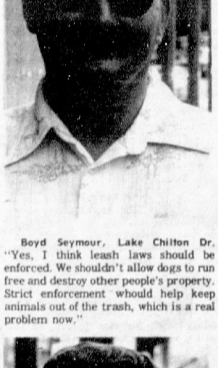

Interviewpoint

Pets running free and animals in the trash proved to be a subject of debate for Avon Park residents. It would appear as if many residents feel that animal control laws should be enforced.

This week's question: Do you think Avon Park should strictly enforce any and all leash laws?

Gloria Tondee, 807 Canfield St. "Yes, I think the laws should be strictly enforced. Although I live in a neighborhood that is just outside the city limits, there are many dogs running loose there. They get into the trash and they pose a health problem."

Boyd Seymour, Lake Chilton Dr. "Yes, I think leash laws should be enforced. We shouldn't allow dogs to run free and destroy other people's property. Strict enforcement whould help keep animals out of the trash, which is a real problem now."

Phillip Krozanowski, 10 East Circle. "Deffinately. I think all leash laws should be enforced. There are too many dogs running loose and you don't know whether they are safe or not. They pose a health hazard to children and should be controlled."

Nadine Cobb, 1204 West Pleasant. "Yes, I think the leash laws should be enforced. This would keep dogs out of the trash and make it safer for children to play outside. It would also keep animals from running on other people's property."

Letters To The Editor

Abandoned Animals

Dear Editor;

Have you ever seen a little half starved, partly crippled puppy look up at you with warm brown eyes asking nothing except the love of someone kind person? We have! Our 10 year old son found such a puppy near our mail box. She had been "dumped" in a grove near us along with other unfortunate small doggies, one of which was no more than 3 weeks old.

The thought came to my mind "What kind of a person could be so cold hearted? Could have no compassion for the fate of such little lives?"

You know, it is quite easy to take care of unwanted pets. The animal control outfit will actually come to pick up animals such as these. There is no need to "throw" them away. Also there are animal shelters, whereby you pay a small fee for them to take pets off your hands. Again there is no need to throw pets away, to fend for themselves and maybe to die by the wayside. Far better to have them destoryed than to die starving and unwanted, or if they do survive, to bring more unwanted wild animals into the world.

The puppy our son found had had, even though she is only 6 months old, a broken leg which had never been set, and as a result, both ends callused over, with no possible chance of being repaired ever. But she is a delightful little puppy and probably more intelligent than the person who threw her away! We've only had her a little while but already she has given in love and pleasure far more than we have spent in veterinary fees for shots and tags, etc.

I hope I can reach you individuals who are inclined to do this dastardly thing-this throwing away of pets who trust you, and who ask so little of you. Think twice or even three times before you consign them to an uncertain fate. We must answer for our acts, and who knows, someday you may be "thrown away" too!

Name Witheld by request.

Work-A-Thon?

Dear Editor;

The March of Dimes surely serves a worthy cause; but it seems that the expenditure of so much energy could do more good if it were a work-a-thon instead of a walk-a-thon.

I believe sponsors would be willing to pay participants more if they were cleaning up our city instead of just walking. It might be an idea for a spring clean up day. Perhaps ask sponsors to pay so much per bag of trash. Such a day might encourage more people to stop littering.

Yours truly,
Keith Debo.

World Hunger

Dear Editor,

I would like to add my letter and thoughts to the one written last week by Mrs. Dentler. I, too attended the same conference she writes of and heard the talk about "Hunger Around The World." You feel that by yourself, you can do little to relieve this condition but every little helps and all thinking persons long to do something.

I agree that there is much food wasted in restaurants because of the too large portions served. I too feel that there are enough of us Senior Citizens who do not care to eat so much when we go out. Almost all are trying to keep their weight under control and this would be a way to help do this. I am sure more people going to eating places more often would more than make up for the smaller charge as Mrs. Dentler said. Why not those different size offerings-one large-one smaller for the older people and the child's plate that they all ready have? The thought about the water and rolls is good too. At least we would be doing our small part to help the world hunger situation.

Mary Cutler.

For The Rats

Dear Editor,

In the February 17th, issue of the Avon Park Sun, there was an article about littering.

There is a home at the north west corner of N. Florida and Pleasant Ave., with a ridiculously cluttered lot. I see no reason for having such rubbish and debrie, it is not only a rat and other animal infested area, it is an eye sore to the community.

Why people who have an civic pride would have a yard like that is beyond me.

Yours truly

Things My Way

By Alice Smith

There's hardly a day goes by that some odd interesting or mind-boggling fact doesn't turn up somewhere on a printed page.

Being a compulsive reader, I skim a lot and let the eye stop where it will — often caught by a familiar phrase or name. That happened recently.

Jack Anderson, Washington columnist, heir-apparent of the late Drew Pearson, gadfly of government and corporations, published a fascinating story.

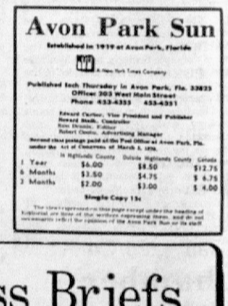

It seems that back in 1973-74, during the Arab Oil Embargo, a bright and enterprising gentleman name Ray Granlund was a paid consultant for Florida Power Corporation (the familiar phrase!). Oddly enough, he was also consultant for Signal Oil and Gas, the fuel oil supplier for Florida Power.

Granlund obviously recognized opportunity when it knocked. Instead of having Signal sell its oil directly to Florida Power, he arranged to route it through two other firms. One of these bought oil from Signal at 22 to 23 cents a gallon, then resold it to Florida Power for as much as 54 cents a gallon. In some instances, a real estate holding company was used as the link in the paper chain. From June, 1973, to October, 1974, 53 million gallons were sold in this manner.

As it turned out, Granlund was collecting commissions as all along the line, which netted him two million dollars. The oil didn't really go anywhere, but the money flew. In a quote, Anderson says, "Granlund was personally enriched apparently at the expense of the customers of Florida Power Corporation". Price hikes of at least 3.7 million dollars were passed on to Florida electricity users.

Jack Anderson is, of course, prodding the Federal Energy Administration, stating flatly that the commission had the evidence in hand but was not interested in prosecuting such consumer rip-offs.

Personally, if there's a compulsive mathematician around, I'll be happy to dig out my electric receipts and we can have fun figuring out just what contribution we made to Ray Granlund's two million dollar windfall.

Central Florida's economy has been picking up momentum, but gains over the past six months might not continue, according to an assessment of economic conditions in Orange, Seminole and Osceola Counties. The Central Florida Economic Index, the composite measure of economic well-being in the three counties, climbed 10 percentage points in January to an all-time high 298, said the report by American Federal, a division of First Federal of Miami. The previous high, 295, was in 1973 just before the recession hit. The report also said tourism is having a good winter despite the unusually cold weather, with hotel and motel occupancy up 2.9 per cent in December and one per cent in January. Unemployment is now a seasonally adjusted 7.9 per cent, compared with double digit figures during most of last year, the report said.

Gould Investors Trust has sold all its Central and northeastern Florida industrial park equity holdings for $3.7 million because of the unsteady market.

The major sales were in Orlando's Regency Industrial Park, where Gould within the past week sold 185,000 square feet of industrial warehouse space to Trimuse Corp., New York.

Homebuilding is reported on the threshold of a major upswing which, in fact is emerging now and that well may send housing starts in 1977 as much as 15 to 25 per cent above 1976.

This will lift the sluggish housing industry back into place as leader of the upturn of 1977.

Scouts

Good Turn Day

LOCAL CUB AND Boy Scouts delivered Goodwill bags door-to-door Saturday in preparation for their "Good Turn Day" next Saturday, March 19. These two Polk County scouts, Paul Darling, 9 and Scott Porter, are typical of scouts in Polk and Highlands County, who will be collecting clothing for the handicapped at Goodwill-Lakeland. Fill a bag with clothing and repairable household items for the scouts "Good Turn Day". Help the scouts help the handicapped.

Local cub and boy scouts will hold their annual "Good Turn Day" on March 19. The event began last Saturday with the distribution of Goodwill bags to many homes in the area.

Several hundred local scouts, a part of the Gulf Ridge Council, will be collecting used clothing and small household items to assist the handicapped workers at Goodwill Industries.

At this time of year, donations are slow coming in, jeopardizing the job of the handicapped, who repair and refurnish clothing and household items.

Boy scout troops participating were assigned specific area of the city and county to distribute and pick-up filled bags.

Residents are urged to fill the bags once they are delivered and to have them ready to be picked up when the scouts return on March 19 beginning at 9 a.m.

"Good Turn Day" is an approved community service project of the Gulf Ridge Council. The drive last year was successful in providing handicapped workers employed by Goodwill Industries with about 30,000 bags of recyclable items.

CWI Fashion Show Is Big Success

The Agricultural-Civic Center of Sebring was the scene of the Highlands County CWI (Credit Women International) second Annual Spring Fashion Show Thursday, March 10, 1977.

The show was a tremendous success due to the participation of the following people. Decorations were furnished by Steve Roberts of Ridge Florist of Avon Park and Sebring. Free orange juice was served compliments of Highlands County Bank of Avon Park.

Tickets were printed by the Barnett Bank of Sebring and napkins provided by the Avon Citrus Bank. Evelyn Metcalfe of Avon Park provided the musical background for the evening and Carol Hulbert of the First National Bank of Sebring did an excellent job on narrations. Many thanks to the participating clothing merchants, models and the merchants who provided door prizes of the tri-city area, as well as all the club members who performed the tasks in the preparation of the fashion show.

MacNeill Speaks To Avon Park Grange

The Ridge area program for physically handicapped was the topic presented by the Woman's Activities committee of Avon Park Grange at the March 8 meeting.

Lynn MacNeill, President of Ridge Area Association of Retarded Citizens, gave background information of the organization which has an office in Sebring. He said there are two groups being served, the one for ages up to six years who attend the special school in Avon Park, the other for those out of school.

The adult group now has 40 clients in a workshop in Sebring where various projects are conducted. At the present time a contract with an Electronic Firm provides work for many. There are 20 staff members and the program is financed by local, state and federal funds whereby the local must provide a percentage to qwualify for assistance.

Marilyn Burchell, Director of the Ridge Area Preschool Developmental program, told of the progress being made by those attending the class in Avon Park, and thanked the Grange for the tumbling mats they provided.

She said that when she started with the class last August there were nine students and now there are 15, coming by bus from Highlands and Hardee Counties. Their main project now is learning to use arms and limbs to be able to feed themselves, run or jump as the individual need is manifested. There are several teachers involved in this program.

She said that Highlands County is one of the top in the state in Special Education. She invited visitation at any time, and mentioned several items which would be helpful in the training program that members of the Grange might make.

Lynn MacNeill

The recreation part of the program produced funds for projects which the Grange women support. Several women, armed with tape measures, and wearing aprons with large pockets collected from each member one cent for each inch of height or width.

Woman's Activities chairman Nettie Peterson called attention to the needlework and stuffed toy projects coming up and stressed the sewing contest which is in progress. There is still time to get garments made before April 15, but entry blanks should be in soon.

Closing thought: The best kind of pride is that which compels a man to do his best work even though no one is looking.

This was an open meeting preceeded by a pot luck supper and the attendance was 42.

The new $2984* Dodge Colt isn't a Datsun, isn't a Toyota...

it's a lot of little Dodge.

The new Dodge Colt is such a lot of little import, it's got some folks confused. Because Colt is the small car with the value you'd expect in an import, plus Dodge parts and service. Not to mention a long list of standard features. Like whitewall tires, reclining bucket seats, tinted glass all-around, carpeting, an adjustable steering column, and more. So if you're thinking "import," think "Dodge Colt," and you'll be thinking about a lot.

Vested Interests Oppose Kissimmee Restoration of "The Florida Experience," published by Johns Hopkins University Press in 1974. The book is credited with waking up many Florida legislators to the true dimensions of untrammeled growth.

Carter's thesis was the state and people of Florida must develop a comprehensive program for the control and channeling of growth or wind up in an economic and ecological disaster area.

He calls the ditching of the Kissimmee "the preeminent example of how the several basic problems-inequitable cost sharing, misconceived priorities and the policy vacuum with respect to growth and land use-all can combine to produce a tragic and costly blunder.

"This project, on which some $34 million would eventually be spent, has changed the Kissimmee from a stram of 90 meandering river miles to a "wide, broad superhighway of 52 miles...The unfortunate consequences of this project, which only in the last few years have been fully perceived, are still being added up...it is now evident that a greater cause for worry lies with the project's collateral effects on water quality, both in the lakes of the Kissimmee Basin and in Lake Okeechobee."

Carter goes on to state that the channelization, sold as a flood control project, will not keep the Kissimmee Basin lakes from overflowing into developed areas the next time the basin is visited by truly exceptional rains because it was designed to cope with only a 10-year flood.

The flood control aspect could have been achieved differently and better, he argues, but never got off the ground. A plan was offered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to increase the rate of flood discharges from the Kissimmee Basin without destroying the river marshes. The adoption of such a plan, he charges, was defeated because it would have meant less new pasture for cattlemen and less flood plain land open to development.

The Corps of Engineers rejected the Wildlife Service plan as well as the service's recommendation that a public hearing be held on the prospective loss of the River March, Carter said.

In his "A Hisotry of Florida," Charlton W. Tebeau, one of the more repsected state historians, said the state's natural resources were offered in "wanton fashion" in the post Civil War days and were exploited for development. He calls the era of the great land giveways the "burbon era."

The total amount of land actually deeded to railroad companies was about 9 million acres, or about one-fourth of all the land in Florida.

In the land grants, Carter explains, the railroads received not only a 200-foot right-of-way but also, for a distance of six miles out from each side of the track, they received each alternate section of land in a checkerboard pattern.

Bonds were sold which were to be paid from railroad receipts, but failing that, bondholders would receive state lands pledged against these obligations.

Railroads and Disston Land formed the basis for the land holdings of present day owners who still exert powerful pressure on elected state officials.

One of the largest landholders is the legendary Ed Ball of Jacksonville. Ball is connected to the DuPont fortune via his sister's marriage to one of the Delaware family's offspring. He is in his late 80's. In the 1960's Ball testified before a U.S. Congressional committee that the DuPont estate held 900,000 acres of land in North Florida and more than a million in other parts of the state.

Ball companies invest in railroads and banks and have two sugar refineries. He was one of the foremost proponents of a jetport in the Everglads which many land interests wanted to drain.

Some other huge interests with Central Florida land are A. Duda and Sons in Belle Glade, which has 18,000 acres in cane, cattle and vegetables where once there were otters, according to Gloria Jahoda's "Florida, A Bicentennial History."

Locally, the Latt Maxcy Corp. owns 15 miles of land on the Kissimmee River. Manager Pat Wilson testified at a public hearing in Lake Wales that his firm would not quietly give back to Florida land it has acquired, that it would expect to be paid for what it considers it owns.

The cost of buying back land which once was part of the Kissimmee River floodplain would be prohibitive for a state in a somewhat distressed financial condition. There is considerable debate among those interested in Kissimmee restoration about whether the state of Florida should have to buy back land that once was under water as part of a meandered river. It's a problem which would probably be resolved only after long court action.

Even Walt Disney World would get in the act where restoration is concerned.

The growth of the Orlando area and the subsequent polluting effect on the upper Kissimmee Chain of lakes is part of the water degredation problem in Lake Okeechobee.

Lakes in the upper chain have become virtual polishing ponds for sewer effluent from the Orlando suburbs and commercial developments. The channelization of the river is introducing water without a long natural filtering process to Lake Okeechobee, ecologists claim.

Restoration of the seasonal flooding process would cause natural removal of nutrients from the river before that water is deposited in Lake Okeechobee, it is argued.

Evidence that lakes are overenriched can be found in the recent drawdown of Lake Tohopekaliga and the current drawdown of the Kissimmee River to restore aquatic habitat and improve water quality-something nature used to do by itself when the river and lakes enjoyed wide seasonal fluctuation.

A report on the drawdowns by the game and freshwater fish commission states, "Actually the drawdown is nothing more than trying to duplicate what has occured in the past as a result of natural drought during low rainfall periods."

Those supporting restoration of the river say the cost-benefit studies offered on various proposals does not even take into consideration the "realistic cost figures for recreational natural resources and this permits accelerated exploitation of lands and water held in public trust, both by private interests and agencies involved in public works projects. It is presently easier to justify construction of a Highway through a lake than to go around it."

An economic report by the commission on the Lake Thopekaliga drawdown showed that just fishing value from tourists and residents increased from $16.6 million before drawdown to $22.8 million three years later.

The figures represent the value of the standing crop of fish in a single lake. The value in 1975 for Lake Toho fish was $36.5 million.

It is noted in the report that the other lakes in the Kissimmee chain provide 67,245 fish producing acres which, if properly managed, could produce 60 percent as many fish per acre as Lake Toho and represent a value of $166.3 million.

The coastal coordinating council has estimated that Florida in 1975 had 12 million sport fisherman man-days per year with each fisherman spending approximately $40 per day.

A water resources research center of the University of Florida study of the Kissimmee River Basin estimated the total annual val[illegible] to visiting recreationists to three lakes in the chain was $28.7 million in 1970.

Supports of the river's restoration to an original condition - as much as possible-cite statistics like these because they say it takes hard facts to convince some people.

They say a poet or a wildlife lover dosen't convince many, but some hard economic facts might.

Before the Kissimmee was ever channelized, much of Florida was already built on drained land under the old state Board of Drainage Engineers, created in 1905, to "reclaim land." Six canals were dug between Lake Okeechobee and the Atlantic Ocean.

The completion of this work b' the state, along with the construction of the railways, "made possible the phenomenal development of southern Florida," according to an article in Encyclopedia Brittanica.

When farmers and settlers and new communities moved into the lower flood plains of Okeechobee, it was just a matter of time before the land "reclaiming" ethic would move farther north up the Kissimmee chain.

When the channelization was proposed, long-time residenis say, hardly anyone protested.

One man said, "It kind of happened before we were aware of it. There were no public hearings to speak of and too many it seemed there was nothing we could do anyway. It would never happen today."

Entrants Will Try For Big Win—

of 104 octane as compared to the 89-91 octane of regular gas at the filling station pumps. Last year's gas cost a dollar a gallon. During last year's race the car completed the 5.2 mile course in 3 minutes. Expecting to average around 105 miles per hour, Neil and Bill will drive the car about 1200 miles or approximately from here to northern Ohio.

Neil and Bill, in taking turns at the wheel, will drive two to three hours a shift depending on how tired they are and how many pit stops they have to make. A CB radio will help them keep in touch with their pit crew.

Along with keeping an eye on the track and the other cars, the two drivers will be watching a panel of five instruments: a tachometer, oil and water temperatures, oil pressure and ammeter as indicators of the engine's operation.

Strapped in by a shoulder belt, seat belt and leg belts and surrounded by roll bars, the driver has some protection from accidents. Should a fire break out in the car, there is a small dry chemical powder fire extinguisher the driver can use or he can activate a larger cylinder that sprays freon gas into the driver's compartment. However, in addition, the driver wears a fireproof suit, fireproof long underwear, fireproof hose and a fireproof face mask. Since temperatures in the car reach 120 to 130 degrees F. the driver is in a continual sweat during the race.

Up to race time there has been little glamour for Neil and Bill as they worked on securing sponsors, making the necessary mechanical changes in the engine and getting the Mustang ready to run the "12 Hours of Sebring.' After the race, if they win, it may be a different story.

Council Grants Zoning Change—

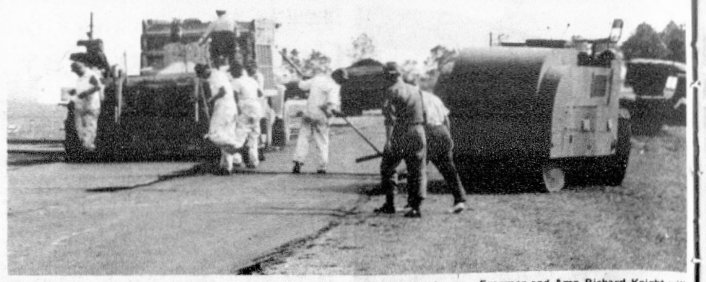

property values in the area. Mrs. Chu-Li Shelton, a resident of the Manors, said, "We think they will be very beautiful homes, a deffinate improvement over the dead land. It will allow us to live in the style we have become accustomed to."

Other residents of the Manors agreed, saying that Herman provided quality housing for senior citizens at a price they could afford on fixed incoeme. One of the requirements for purchasing an apartment is age. Each buyer must be at least fifty years old. Robert Herman explained, saying, "We try to care about people and providing senior citizens with a nice place to live at a price they can afford to pay is one way of doing that."

Each of the apartments in the new development, which will probably be dubbed "Manors II, will cost approximately $14,000 to $15,000. "It breaks down to about $1,000 down and $100 per month." Herman explained, "and just about anyone can afford that, even if they are on a small, fixed income."

Avon Investment has developed, besides the Manors, Golden Age Villas and Woodruff Heights. In addition, the firm has plans to develope a similar subdivision in Sebring. "We hope to start construction on the Manors II within the next two weeks," Herman said, "and we expect the project to be completed within a year and a half."

"The residents of the Manors already have plans to make improvements to their landscape and we expect the residents of the Manors II will probably do the same thing," he said. Herman added that he had binders for 12 apartments already.

Red Horse Makes Road Repairs—

clearing land. With 18 years in the Air Corps., Sgt. Holbert, in charge of a Red Horse unit, making road repairs on the Avon Park Bombing Rand Gunnery Range, told of the high morale among the men.

An all volunteer group, 99 per cent are high school graduates who sign up for a four year hitch. They are selected through adaptability testing for their mechanical ability and know how. The Red Horse Squadrons have a high retention rate, with 50 per cent 'reup' or reenlisting as compared to only 30 per cent in other military units.

Their main function on moving into an area is the construction of minimum facilities and build an active air base to meet the minimum requirements for bare base operations. It is a self-contained outfit that receives combat training along with its construction training. It also has its own medical personnel.

The repair of the roads on the Bombing Range during the past weeks is the first such repair of the roads since World War II. The road repair is the fourth repair and construction project for the Red Horse units on the base. Their first project in 1971 was the building of targets on the different ranges. In 1973, barracks and the post exchange were started along with the relocation of the dining hall. The road into the base was repaired in 1975. Along with the road repair this year there may be some timber and side roads repaired in the future.

Thus far, several different flights of Red Horse men have been working at the base, with each flight bringing its own equipment and renting some of the heavy equipment they do not have such as hot mix spreader or gravel machines. Their work in some areas has had to dovetail in with the flying operations on the base. This meant the repair of some roads on weekends, when flying was curtailed.

Six miles of road were to be paved with hot mix over the existing roads, after holes and other bad spots were patched and a thin coat of hot mix was spread as a leveling layer. Approximately 20 miles of outlying roads were to be sprayed with tar and gravel spread and rolled.

The Frostproof Road was described by Paul S. Joseph, Chief of Operation and Maintenance at the base, as a "real bearcat" before repairs were started. After patching it was scheduled for a coat of tar and coarse gravel, then RSI (asphalt mix) topped with fine gravel. Inasmuch as only about a dozen people use the road daily it was left as a single lane, 12 feet wide, with adequate room on the side shoulders for passing of cars.

The value of the repair project was set as $300,000.

DAR Reaffirms Goal National Betterment

The Patriots Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (D. A. R.) held their monthly meeting March 7 at the Parish Hall of St. Agnes Episcopal Church, Sebring.

Mrs. C. Vernon Lanier, Regent presided, conducted the ritual and read the President General's message wherein she stated that the D.A.R. is dedicated to forwarding the best interests of our Nation in many fields.

It was announced that Mrs. W. J. Lockett had given a subscription to the National Magazine of the Daughters of the American Revolution to each library in Highlands County.

In view of the resignation of Mrs. Lanier as Regent and Mrs. Chas. L. Reynolds, Jr. as Recording Secretary, the Executive Board appointed Mrs. A G. Daigle and Miss M. J. Walker to fill out the respective offices for the unexpired terms.

Mrs. Lucille Hurst presented an interesting paper on the participation of the American Indians in the Revolutionary War. At the beginning of the War for Independence neither Gen. George Washington nor the Continental Congress sought Indian support because they felt it was a conflict between this country and Old England, and Old England, and desired the Indians to remain neutral.

However, Congress later recognized need of their support wherever and whenever it could be gained. They performed gallantly and two of the Indians were Mrs. Hurst's Revolutionary Ancestors.

In their own way, the Indians knew the true meaning of "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

The tea table was attractively decorated in the theme of St. Patricks' Day.

They indicated they would also appreciate the opportunity of negatiating for the purchase of any items offered for sale.

Although a portion of Finders Cove's attractions will include gift items of world wide origin, the Secrist's, will also make their facility a showplace for the crafts of local artists.

Oil Prices Push Use Of Bikes

Darned if I'm not starting to believe that these Arabs and their steadily rising prices on oil are doing us the biggest favor since Margret Sanger began thinking and talking about family planning.

At one of our little 'every other week penney ante games' I asked Bertha Brush how she and her new bike were getting on. She told me that she and some 50 of her neighbors up at Avon Mobile Home Court, were doing daily rides on their bikes-doing it for the big reason, of giving most of them a healthier day and the secondary reason of leaving the car at home and beating in a patriotic and monetary way, the Arabs and their high priced oil.

This automobile that most of us defend, cherish and vice-versa swear at, is really a criminal that has caused more deaths in the U. S. than all of our wars put together.

It not only kills, or wounds on the streets and byways, it also takes the lives of countless more thousands, as the results of our immobility and a laziness and body deterioration. The car has become such a part of our own bodies that we use it to keep from exercising our legs, arms, torso and the hundreds of muscles that we must keep active, including the heart and nervous system and that if not kept active, detours us into a sooner than necessary death or nursing home.

And this is where we get back to the story of biking in and around Avon Park. A couple of weeks ago, I got a story and picture of Mrs. Hazel Thompson, who is quite the bass fisherman-or fisherlady! At the time I noticed that there was a bike at almost every mobile home. I found out from Mrs. Thompson that often she rides her bike, along with her rod, reel and tackle, a mile to her favorite lake. Later in talking to Mrs. Bush, she said she and many of the other folks at Avon Court did almost as much bike riding as shuffleboard playing.

From that beginning came the fact that three score of the guys and gals there do some riding just about every day. For instance; Lucile Shoemaker gets in eight or more miles of pedalling every day-rain or shine. She has an agreement with her doctor , that by so doin, she'll have a smoother and longer life. I'd say Mrs. Shoemaker is a bit over that magic, Social Security age of 65. Ruth Welcott, got the vote as probably being over 80 years young. If the truth were known I think the 'over 65's out number the under 65's by a good percentage-and as Jackie Gleason would say-"How wonderfull it is."

Most of the bikers use their mechanical steeds as trucks. When laundry days come around, the bike baskets are piled high with soiled clothing and linens to be carted over to the laundryette and clotheslines. A few hours later the bikes are pedalled homeward with the neatly piled and sparkling clothes-and linens in the plastic or metal bike baskets.

When I talked a few days ago to Al and Dorothy Keys Keys (pronounced Kys-no, they are not Koreans) who own the park, I expected I might have a big crowd of a dozen bikers to talk with-what a grand surprize to see the two dozen that showed up.

Talk about kids, dolling up their 'wheels'. These biking oldsters, could put some of the teenagers in the back row, when it comes to prettying up their 2 and 3 wheelers. Polished up horns, bells, lights, speedometers and other accessories, were wherever you saw handlebars.

Dorothy Keys was proud to show me the reading on her odometer, which registered a crisp 1500 miles, and she said that, that reading was only the miles put on since this past fall.

Some of the riders, told me that they keep two bikes. One at their northern summer home and the 2nd one for their Florida winters. Bertha Bush told me she'd rather be down here in the winter, shuffling and bike riding, than be up in Ohio riding a sled.

To make the story come out with a double happiness ending-while on my way back to the Sun, who do I see, pushing on his handlebars and pedals? No other than postman Kermit (Dave) Hill. Dave has been doing his mail delivering job for about a year in Avon Park. I asked him if his machinery pony express was a time and energy saver for him and he agreed that it sure was.

So, there you have it. if you are not getting fun, healthful exercise, and a cash saving all with the help of a bike, get with it man and or gals. Without bragging, I got to admit, I'm hooked with the bike too, and the relaxing fun, do-it-yourself health buildup that goes along with my fertilizerless steed.

The Open Road

Casting Depends On Lure Used And Fish You May Catch

By Harve K.

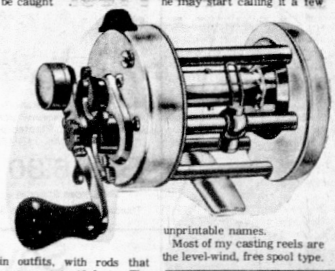

The bait casting reel-and rod. We'll go into the rod first. The thinking and using of the rod is the more simple of the two fishing devices.

The rod, for better casting, usually has a length of from about 4 feet to about 7 feet, every thing depending on the weight of the lure that will be used and the kind of fish you may catch. If casting with a large heavy plug or spoon, definitely a rod with heavy or stiff action must be used. Usually a shorter rod is used too. In casting with a lighter lure a rod must have more action-or whip.

For larger fish casting, a two handed rod, is often used. For surf casting, this heavier rod, generally will be longer than a rod used in fishing from a boat.

Of course, for surf casting, many anglers do use lighter, more action rods, all depending on the fish expected to be caught .

For the bait casting reel, the rod generally has the offset handle or grip. For big bass, musky and other big fish angling, many casters use a two handed rod, The two fisted rod is ideal when swinging a heavy plug, but extreme caution must be used with that big rod and lure, the heavy plug on a wild swing, could take your fishing companion apart.

The term 'bait Casting reel' goes back a hundred years when it was first introduced in this country. Now it is also known as a 'level wind', 'free spool', or 'the old fashioned reel, that always backlashes.' As a matter of fact, it generally is not the reel that backlashes-or tangles, it is the caster.

Most of the older good fishermen started off with using a bait casting reel, for their fishing. Forty or more years ago, outside of fly casting reels, it was the only mechancal appendage that could be used on a pole or rod that could release line and get out that line a few feet in front of the fisherman with any accurracy. At first the better reels were manufactured by expert machinists or jewlers. No production line there.

These handmade reels today as collector items are worth in the thousands of dollars. I have one of the oldies, that goesback almost a hundred years, I keep that one in a bank lock box.

Up-to-date casting reels are known by other names, such as, level wind, free spools anti-backlash, etc. When a caster is having a lot of trouble with one, he may start calling it a few unprintable names.

Most of my casting reels are the level-wind, free spool type. Cost ave rages out to about $40. A good share of the 'pro' fishermen use this type rod, as it contains features not able to be found in any of the other reels even though one must be almost a perfect caster to use one of them. It certainly takes lots of practice and determination to become a good bait reel caster. Here are some of the rudiments in becoming that kind of angler . . . . The reel must be in good adjustment, well oiled and correctly lined.

The best casters have no drag on the spool. The least line tug will set the spool to move. A release button pushed, before each cast. At the last half turn of the handle the reel drops into drag and line retrieve. The drag is set, not for the fish size, but in accordance to the line strength.

Remembering that as the line (and lure) is being cast out, the spool is unwinding with great speed, the fisherman's thumb, at all times must be in very light contact with it. All beginning casters with this type of reel, have a tendancy to take the thumb away from the unwinding line. This is the primary reason for line tangle, usually called a backlash, a bird's nest.

Another main reason for beginners to backlash, is because they will not fill the reel spool with line. Line must be wound on the reel up to ⅛ th inch of the top of the spool. This correct amount of line allows more line to go out with each turn of the unwinding spool. Just a few yards of line can be a tradgedy, to the fisherman, when he finally has hooked a big record fish, and finds out he does not have enough line on his spool, for as the fish starts to run, the line breaks and the saddened fisherman not only has lost his trophy, but his lure and the little line he originally had.

Another major reason for backlashing is because so many fishermen, try to cast against a heavy wind. Let the wind work for you, in casting, especially when using a boat. Of course these last two rules apply to casting with all types of rods and reels, but more so the free spool.

I believe the free spool-bait reel, when properly used is the most accurate of all. It also is the reel, that definitely can use heavier line, for maximum efficiency-but you just have to be extra good in manipulating and mastering it. You can be justly proud of yourself, when you can do a good job in casting with it.

New Outboard Motor On Market

By now, most boat and outboard dealers know that a new outboard motor is on the market. Few sportsmen know of the 'Import' that has been introduced in the U.S.

Suzuki, that builds motorbikes, is the parent company, though they have located a factory in Thief River Falls, Minn.

Harve's Best Fishing Bird Watching Times

Water temperatures, with those 80 plus degree days, came up very nicely this past week, but so did the winds, which kept a lot of fishermaen off of the big waters. Remember don't be ashamed to wear a life jacket on these high velocity wind days. Even if you do not lose your life, on a boat tipover, you may lose your tackle, glasses, motor, etc.

One wag said, "And yes, you might even lose your wife, and in that order, too, if she's a fishing gal!"

With the very high winds - and dryness be very careful with those cigarettes and trash fires.

Old Wading Pools Can Become Watering Spots For Wildlife And Fish Watching

Flowers Doll Up Fish Pool

If you have an old plastic wading pool left over from last summer — and it does not leak it can be turned into a watering station for birds.

Almost anything from an overturned garbage can cover to a concrete lined pool can be made into a homing place for birds; if is large enough it can be made into a pool that can accomodate goldfish bullheads, frogs turtles and such.

In the Avon Park area where we ought not to have another freeze, work can be started on a cement pool anytime, the sooner the better.

In making a pool , one of the main bits of work will be in the making of a simple drain for the pool. Once every month or so, the opool should be at least partly drained, for cleaning.

For a cement pool, possibly a foot, or 18 inches deep, a piece of plastic or metal pipe can be used for a drain. When making the pool choose a location where the pool is a foot or two higher than surrounding land, or bring in enough dirt to elevate it before starting the cement formation.

The opening of the drain in the pool, should be several inches above the bottom of the pool, so fish won't die, when draining and cleaning the pool. An elbow or 'T' then can be used on the pool end of the pipe. The stand pipe should be left open and the height of it should be an inch or two shorter than the depth of the pool. This is important, otherwise when filling the pool, or in event of a heavy rain, fish would get out and die.

If you are going to use the pastic wading pool, or the water holder, just dig the ground to fit the shape of the pool, then fill sand or dirt around the outside of it. To drain a pool of this sort, a bucket or large pan may be used. If the pool is higher than the surrounding area, a garden hose may be used to siphon water out of it as well as using the garden hose to fill it.

To spruce it up for further enjoyment of wildlife, rocks may line the perimeter of the pool and ferns, and other plantlife rooted close by to give it a woodsy look. Flowers always doll up such an area and will help collect insects, to fall into the water for the fish to eat. Plain bread makes a fair food for the fish I have noted. Talk to someone like Sam Judah, the feedman, he could suggest a pellet type food for fish.

One word of caution, when building a cement pool, be sure it is not built too deep, so that small children could fall into it, but deep enough that cats can't claw out your fish. Some shade should be on the south side of the pool so that the sun can't turn the water into a steam bath, for your fish and birds.

One thing is for sure, with a few hours of planning and then the manual labor of following through on this project, your dividends will be very high.

Many of us here in the Avon Park area have a lake in either our front or backyard. Then a pool may be built up close to the natural waterway, where you can watch the denizens of your hospitality, without them roving or roaming away from you.

Free Copy On Backyard Pools

A free copy of "A pool for the backyard" can be obtained by sending a postal card to; National Wildlife Federation, Dept. 121, 1412 16th St. N.W., Washington, D.C.

The pamphlet goes into detail how to build the pool which will help to invite birds into the vicinity of your home. Of course, watching fishlife closeup, is interesting too.

Two Thefts Cause Owner Loss Over $300

Over $300 in fishing equipment was reported stolen in the Avon Park area in two apparently unrelated thefts last Tuesday.

Robert Savage, of Avon Park, reported that early Tuesday, someone removed his tackle box from his boat. Contents of the box were set at $150. A landing net was also reported missing.

Donald W. Gregory, also of Avon Park, told deputies that burglars broke into his pick-up truck, while it was parked at the Lake Bonnett boat ramp.

His $100 loss included several fishing poles and a tire.

Cobb Brothers

Take Two Hogs On Night Hunt

There is nothing tame about hunting wild hogs in the woods at night with only a light, a knife and dogs. Brothers-Mike, Keith and Lavon Cobb started at 5:30 p.m. Monday March 7 and came out of the woods at 1 a.m. with two porkers.

Hunting on a friend's place near their ranch at Zolfo Springs, they jumped the first hog at about 7 p.m. The hog after running about 25 yards was stopped by two of the dogs. One of the Cobb Brothers jumped in and held the hogs legs while another brother cut its throat.

Later in the night they found another hog and handled it the same way. Both hogs were field dressed. Probably the hardest part of the hunt was dragging the two hogs about a mile out of the woods to where their vehicle was parked. By 2 a.m. they were back home in Avon Park.

The field dressed hogs weighed 235 and 210 lbs., from which they estimated that alive the hogs weighed about 330 and 300 lbs., respectively. On the following Wednesday night they caught another hog in about the same location and weighing about the same.

Why didn't they take a gun along and shoot the hogs? It is illegal to firehunt, that is, carry a light and a gun and hunt at night. They could have carried a pistol but they preferred to hunt without it.

THE COBB BROTHERS and their dogs, Mike with Grit, Keith with Sport and Lavon with Bill, caught these 2½ year old hogs Monday night March 7 while hunting near Zolfo Springs. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

Couple Loses Over $1000 To Thieves

A Fort Myers couple lost over $1,000 worth of personal belongings Friday when thieves broke into their truck, parked near Lake Josephine.

Melvin and Martha Myers told investigating sheriff's deputies that while they were out fishing all afternoon on Lake Josephine, the thieves apparently pried open a vent window on the passenger's side to gain entry to the vehicle.

Items taken included several cameras, $200 in cash, and a large amount of clothing and other personal effects.

Total loss was set at $1,143. Investigations into the theft are continuing.

LINING UP ALONG the third base line, 21 Red Devil baseball alumni players and Coach Guy Garrett (far left) and J. C. Walker were introduced to home fans last Saturday night at Head Field before the alumni vs varsity benefit game. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

THE 1977 RED DEVIL Varsity Baseball team, managers and coaches John Hunter and Ronnie Jackson (right end) lined up on the first base path after individual introductions before the Miracle Patio Fund benefit game at Head Field last Saturday night.

Red Devils Benefit Game

Alumni Defeated By Varsity 6-4

Memories of Avon Park High School's great baseball teams of the past filled the old Head Field stands last Saturday night as fans once again packed the stadium as in days of old to watch a team of Coach Guy Garrett's alumni play the present Red Devil varsity coached by Ronnie Jackson, a Garrett protege himself. The game, which started out as a fun-filled evening for baseball fans, to benefit the Andrew W. Miracle Memorial Patio Fund, fought to the finish only to lose out to Jackson's team by a score of 6-4 in the seven inning game.

Twenty-one former Red Devil baseball players, who played on teams coached by Garrett from 1953 through 1964, were on hand to battle the teen-age Avon Park varsity. With credentials that included all-conference and all-state honors and high school career pitching records of 25-2, 28-2, 30-2 and 31-1, the Red Devil old-timers brought the near-capacity crowd to its feet with a standing ovation as Coach Garrett and his team was introduced.

The standing line-up for the alumni was star-studded. Pitching was Jim Prevatt and catching was Lee Roy Starling. Sam Elder started in centerfield, Winkie Williams played third base, Dale Landress was at second base, Johnny Starling handled leftfield, Lamon Money was at shortstop, Tommy Douberley was in right field and Jimmy Waldron started at first base.

Coach Garrett substituted freely as he soon put Norman Willis at third base, Kenny Cook at second, Billy Rouse in leftfield, Bobby Spurlock at catcher and Dale Batson at first base. Also seeing action were Dewayne Lemler at second, Tom Bass and Charlie Anderson at first base and Donald Thompson, Ed Touchton and Jerome Antley in right field. Glenn Bass took several stints on the mound, proving the most effective pitcher for the alumni. Dale Landress and Charlie Anderson also saw some mound action.

Coach Ronnie Jackson faced the awesome alumni team with pitcher Dale Sisemore in his first mound duty of the season. Sisemore was relieved by Charlie Pough who also has not previously seen pitching action this year. Steve Arnold came on to pitch after Pough, and Jimmy Massey finished out the game for the current Red Devil squad. Also playing for the 1977 squad were catcher Mort Jackson, first basemen Freddie Moore and Eric Longshore, second baseman Jim Johnson, shortstops Charlie Pough and Larry Jackson, thirdsackers Buddy Hunter and Charles Oliver, right fielder John MicKunas, centerfielder Dale Sisemore and Steve Arnold and rightfielder Victor Roberts.

Sam Elder scored the first run for the alumni. He was safe on an error, was sacrificed to second by Winkie Williams, stole third and came home on a wild pitch. Lamon Money scored in the top of the second inning to make it 2-0 but the Red Devils punched over a run in the bottom of the second when John MicKunas scored.

In the top of the fourth frame the alumni scored two more runs. Jim Prevatt had singled and been sacrificed to second by Bobby Spurlock when Glenn Bass slammed a homerun over the leftfield wall. The 1977 Red Devils came right back and tied the game at 4-4 in the last of the fourth. Mort Jackson walked, stole second, went to third when Steve Arnold was safe on an error and scored on a wild pitch. John MicKunas advanced Arnold with a single and Charlie Pough drove them both in with a double to right centerfield.

The two winning runs of the game were scored in the bottom of the sixth inning. Steve Arnold drew a walk and MicKunas singled again. Charlie Pough drove them both in with a single to leftfield that got by the alumni outfielder.

The alumni almost made a come back in the top of the seventh when Charlie Anderson singled and with two outs, Glenn Bass lofted a long fly to right-center. Red Devil Dale Sisemore shot back at the crack of the bat and made a leaping catch to rob Bass of extra bases and end the game with a win for the younasters.

The alumni got 7 hits off the four high school hurlers and the Red Devil teenagers got 6 hits off the four alumni pitchers. Glenn Bass led the batters with his homer. Kenny Cook, Johnny Starling, Lamon Money, Jim Prevatt, Jim Waldron and Charlie Anderson all had a single each for the Garrett Alumni.

Charlie Pough, with a double and a single, paced the high school batters with John MicKunas rapping out two singles for the winners. Dale Sisemore and Freddie Moore also had a single for Avon Park's current Red Devils.

All Red Devil baseball fans were treated to a classic and the real winners of the game will be the students who will use the Memorial Patio which will benefit from the proceeds. Approximately $800 was raised by the benefit baseball game.

Avon Park High School principal Lester Watson invited fans to come to the school to see the progress of the patio located on the south side of the gymnasium and reminded interested persons that contributions to the Patio Fund will be gratefully received at the high school office.

Coaches Welcome Men To Devil Track Team

The Red Devil track team will travel to Arcadia tomorrow (Friday) to compete with eight other teams in the Bulldog Relays. The Devil thin-clads were scheduled to race Hardee High yesterday (Wednesday) in Wauchula. The meet scheduled to be held in Fort Meade last Thursday was wahsed out by the heavy rainfall. Next Tuesday, March 22, the Avon Park squad will be at home to host Arcadia, Moore Haven, Okeechobee and Lake Placid.

Coaches Harry Williams and Chet Brojek are very excited about several new additions to the 1977 team. "We have several top flight ninth graders out this season,," said Brojek. "Abe McMillian is going to be an outstanding 440 man and Willie Mabins, in the mile and two mile, falls into the same talented pattern. Also freshmen Manfred Woody and Mark Myers are giving needed depth to the field events and distance runs."

Coach Williams, spring and relay coach, talked about the new sophomores. "Todd Packer in the 100 and the 220 is going to add punch to our short races and relays," commented the assistant Avon Park Coach. "Also, we have a new hurdler, Jim Ervin, who we feel can break the school record in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles before the season is over. Terry Massey is showing much promise in the pole vault event."

Horace Moore and Tim Starr are the new juniors out for the first time. Moore is being used on the relays and in the shot put and discus events. Starr is working on the pole vault and will be eligible once his birth record is sent off to the state office.

Several welcome surprises came from seniors out for the first time this season. Mike Ryan is running the 440, relays, and pole vaulting for the Red Devils. Kenneth Caldwell is running the short dashes and high jumping. Robert Packer has turned out to be a top-flight shot put man as he threw over 42 feet in his first meet effort.

"We are looking for top efforts from these men and our returning lettermen to continue the winning tradition of Avon Park High track," continued Brojek. "We had a fine turn-out of fans at our first home meet and we hope that the local fans will be at the Memorial Field track on March 22 at 4 p.m. to watch all the action. The Devil track team will promise an exciting, action-packed afternoon."

STEVE ARNOLD

Steve Arnold, a 5'10", 155 pound senior, is a pitcher, outfielder and power hitter on the Red Devil varsity this season. Steve lettered last season as a designated hitter, but after a summer with the Avon Park Big League team, the dedicated athlete has moved onto the starting pitching roster and has played all three outfield positions so far this year.

Steve has pitched seven innings in the six games this season and has allowed only two hits while fanning 11 batters and walking only three. His control on the mound and the ability to keep the ball low has made him one of Coach Ronnie Jackson's most dependable hurlers.

In six games he is batting only .222 but has a homerun, two doubles and a single to his credit. He has scored four runs. Steve is expected to give strength to the Red Devil squad on the mound, at bat and in the outfield on defense this season.

JOHN MICKUNAS

Playing his fourth season with the Avon Park Red Devil varsity, John Mickunas is having his best year at the plate so far this year. The 5'11" senior is leading the Red Devil batters with a .357 averaged after six games.

John is the only total lefthander on the squad. He plays leftfield this season but has seen action at firstbase in previous years. He was a member of the varsity squad during his freshman year and has been a starter the past three seasons.

As his defensive fielding has improved and his batting has become more consistent, John is giving the Avon Park squad needed help in both areas. Coach Jackson expects Mickunas to be a vital part of the Red Devil effort this season.

Parsons Wins Griffin Tourney In Close Finish

John Parsons of Avon Park put together scores of 74, 73 and 72 for 219 total to come from behind and pull even with the tourney leader Paul Young, Lake Wales on the par four-425 yard 14th hole in the third round of play Sunday afternoon at the Lake Wales Golf Course and to go on and win the Ben Hill Griffin Invitational Golf Tournament for the second time, after having won it in 1970.

At the 15th hole Parsons pulled ahead on par when Young failed to make par. Parsons had a two stroke lead on the 16th when Young three-putted. However, on the 17th hole Parsons three-putted and one stroke separated four golfers as they came to the final hole. On the par-4 428 yard 18th hole Parsons displayed his iron nerve as he played a shot around a tree that was in the line of flight and sank a 7 foot putt to stymy the hopes of Paul Young, Pete Harrity, Sebring and Mike Estridge, Lakeland, all with scores of 220.

Golfer Paul Young of Lake Wales lead the first round of the tourney with a 69. At the close of the second round of play on Saturday, Earl Boles, Winter Haven was the leader three shots ahead of Parsons.

Parsons who spends the winter months in Avon Park is a golf club distributor from Newtown, Conn.

Of the 22 Avon Park golfers who had signed up to play in the tournament the following were winners in their divisions: Ed Touchton Sr., 253, 3rd place in the third flight, division A; Division B, 2nd flight 2nd place, Carl Utrz, 256; 3rd flight, 4th place, John Giddens, 257; Division C, 2nd flight, 1st place, Al Yarbrough Jr., 251; 3rd flight, 1st place, Bud Dowling, 270; Division E, 1st flight, 2nd place, Earl Thompson, 267 and 2nd flight, 4th place, Dick Martin, 296.

Special Olympic Bowling

Fourteen young adults bowled Saturday at Ridge Lanes in the largest special olympic bowling contest in Highlands-Hardee county history. "All contestants are either graduates of or presently clients of Ridge Area Association for Retarded Citizens Work Center" said Michael Haines, County Coordinator for Florida Special Olympics.

Court Haviland, Sebring, was top bowler with a 3-game score of 348. His closest competition was from Janet Moody, Sebring, with a 302 score followed by Rob Ward, Avon Park with a 288. Mickie Toepper, Lakemont and Fred Robinson, Sebring, competed in another category winning scores of 232 and 144. In a class for older women were Barbara Duffey and Marcia Bishop of Zolfo Springs with scores of 289 and 220.

In the young women's category Debbie Gallimore, Avon Park was tops with 198, Ruth Peters, Zolfo Springs 194 and Ina Culberson, Sebring 191. Pat Toepper, Lakemont scored 143 and Catherine Gordon, Zolfo Springs rolled 102 in the novice class.

In April some contestants will advance to the district meet when they will compete with representatives from Hillsborough and Polk counties. In June at state contest in Gainesville, representatives of Highlands and Hardee counties will try to better their last year's records when all bowlers but one brought shome first or second place ribbons.

Bowlers have been training under Michael Haines and Susan James as sponsors of the large group.

Others have bowled during Happy Times Club or at special Sunday afternoon sessions with Mrs. R. Haviland and Mrs. G. F. Ward. A wide range of handicaps is represented in the group but none lacks enthusiasm for the game and good sportsmanship in playing. A strike or a spare draws a joyful response from all.

SFJC Over Hillsborough

SFJC and Hillsborough played for the second day in a row, this time in Sebring, Saturday. The Panthers played their sloppiest game of the season in handing Hillsborough a 9-8 victory. Six errors and six walks proved to be the downfall of the Panthers as four of the Hawks nine runs were earned. Rick Harrison was the starting pitcher for SFJC and, despite a rough start, pitched extremely well for the last five innings. Rick only gave up seven hits while striking out five and walking six. Four of his walks came in the third inning in which HCC scored three runs on no hits.

News Briefs

The Rev. William J. Ziegenfus has been appointed to the Avon Park Civil Service Board. He will fill the seat left vacant when board secretary Melvin Beane resigned. Beane had been critical of the city's handling of the resignation of acting Lt. Frank Weems recently.

The Avon Park City Council was beset with street problems at its Tuesday night meeting. The council voted to close a portion of Church Street, behind the Congregational Church, from Butler to the railroad tracks. The move is being taken to benefit the church. City fathers then voted to open 60 feet of Prairie Street, boardering the Sunny Ridge Trailer Park, then voted to consider a request to accept another street in the area which will be named Snelling Avenue.

In an effort to provide safer streets, the Avon Park City Council Tuesday night voted to post a 15 mile per hour speed limit in the vicinity of all city parks and playgrounds. The action was taken after officials learned that many motorists were driving too fast in the heavily used areas.

A case of forgetfulness provided the perfect opportunity for a patrotic thief over the weekend. Avon Park Police report that a new American flag was stolen from the pole in front of the Avon Citrus Bank, when a bank employe neglected to take the banner down Friday evening.

Investigators report that they have few leads, other than the thief's obvious love of the red, white and blue.

Jimmy Spurlock, a junior at Avon Park High School, earned himself a new watch this week, through his efforts in selling tickets to last weekend's Varsity-Alumni baseball game. The watch was presented to Spurlock by Les Watson, school principal. Spurlock sold $45 worth of tickets. The Varsity won the game, by the way, 6-4.

Student Services This Week

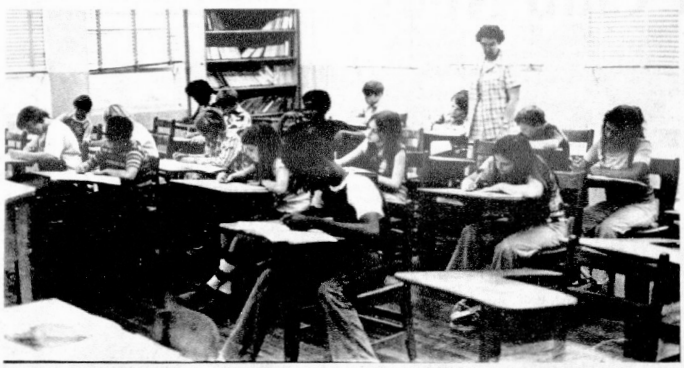

This week has been proclaimed "Student Services Week" by Gov. Reuben Askew, stated Mrs. Doris Everett, Guidance Counselor at the Avon Park Middle School, as she explained what student services had to offer to students at the middle school.

This program has been going on for about ten years in Highlands County and according to Mrs. Everett the Highlands County program is considered one of the best in Florida.

The student services are available to all of the 800 students at the middle school and may be taken advantage of through individual or group testing and counseling in areas of social, emotional and academic growth. Through these and other methods the students' interests, strengths and weaknesses are explored in all phases. There are approximately 95 students at the middle school taking advantage of these programs.

Special services are offered when teachers and parents refer students to the counselors, or the student may request counseling. Usually the counselor Mrs. Everett or Edward Simon screens and processes the referrals for gifted, specific learning disabilities, educatable mentally handicapped, speech, vision and hard of hearing.

As Mrs. Everett stated it, anything above and beyond the classroom teachers is referred to counselors, psychologists, special teachers and county personnel who meet with the school principals and teachers for a staffing to determine the best possible approach to each student's particular problem.

THESE SIXTH GRADE students at the Avon Park Middle School were absent when the three hour Cognitive Abilities Tests were given in the homerooms. All make-up testing is given by Mrs. Doris Everett, thus enabling classroom teachers to continue their teaching program. (Sunphoto by Lew Miller).

Holiday Ranch News

By Barbara Ebmeyer

Residents of Holiday Ranch have had some very special treats this week. On Monday they had an ice cream and coke party which was hosted by Bill and Dorothy Webb. An event like that is very welcome. The Webbs, who have wintered at the Ranch since the year it was started, have moved into their new home in Fairmount Estates, south of town off US 27.

The other special event was a triple-header. Norm and Ida Ringer of Hudson, N.Y. were visiting Al and Mariam Petteys over the Zeekend. Norm, who is a super-accordian player, entertained residents with concerts on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings. Every request from the listeners was granted, and his reportoire seemed endless. He also played his banjo, various sizes of mouth organs and even a jews-harp.

Last year Norm also played several times while visiting here.

The Petteys spent the previous week-end visiting Earl and Maude Hotlee in Bradenton.

Harold Beckwith, who has been in Walker Memorial Hospital, this past week, is improving and is expected home soon. We miss you, Harold, and so does your little dog.

Harley and Gladys Kimmerer attended Pioneer Days Zolfo Springs last Sunday.

Man and Dora Crossett attended the Lawrence Welk show at the civic center in Lakeland Wednesday. They had lunch at the Ponderosa and dinner after the show at Duffs' in Winter Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Douglas of Lake Bonnet were dinner guests of the Crossetts at the Tower View in Lake Placid.

They attended the church service at the First Baptist to hear the Rev. Donald Yeager. He was the former assistant pastor of the Avon Park First Baptist Church.

The Crossetts, Howard and Cora Jones, Bob and Mildred Savage, Bill and Lerona Lynn, the Bob Walterhouses, and Charles Travises were among those attending the parade in Sebring Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Reno and the Roy Robertsons had a big disappointment. Being from near Detroit and ardent Tiger fans, they went to see Mark Fydrich (the Bird) pitch at Winter Haven. However, tickets were all sold out long before game time. So they had dinner at Duffs.

On Thursday Reno's dinner guests were Clair's brother and wife, the Seiber Reno's of Auburndale.

Howard and Cora Jones spent a few days visiting in LaBelle this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Albright were overnight guests of Karl and Ida Walter Tuesday. They were on their way to Deerfield Beach. Dinner guests Tuesday were Ken and Lena Hess from Lakeview, Ohio, who are spending the winter at Lake Julianna near Auburndale.

Gordon and Lucille Willnow spent Tuesday with Charles Young in St. Cloud. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harold Doane of Adrian, Mich and Bonnie Brae visited them.

On Sunday the Willnows, Bob and Mildred Savage, and Bill and Leona Lynn attended the Rodeo at Arcadia. They had dinner at the Palm House.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wilson and the Karl Walters attended the Rodeo on Saturday. Wilsons guests on Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Walkter Marrow of Lake Placid.

Monday the Wilsons went to Disney World with Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Books of Naples and the William Zieglers of Miami.

Bob and Mary Walterhouse and Eldon and Helen Keel had lunch at Duffs in Winter Haven and then spent Tuesday afternoon at Cypress Gardens. Friday, Harry and Maxine Day and Russell and Kathryn Bolt were their visitors.

Dropping a little figure "2" made quite a difference in a story last week. It had been 28 years, not 8, since Letson Clutes had seen his old army pal Bob Buckler of Fort Myers. Sunday, the Clutes son John and a friend Miss Ruth Johnson both of Titusville called on them.

County Medical Services

Another hectic week was logged by the Highlands County Emergency Medical Service, as a total of 47 emergency trips were made by the five ambulances.

The three Sebring-based ambulances combined to make a total of 26 emergency trips, the Avon Park unit ran 14 emergency patients to the hospital, and the Lake Placid unit responded to seven emergency calls.

ON HIS NINETIETH birthday, Thomas C. Bason still likes to sing, after starting at the age of 15. In the Naval Aviation Service in WWI he entertained at many bases but was discharged with TB. He went to his home in the Adirondacks to sleep under the fir and pine trees. At the Winter Guest Club Saturday evening he sang his own birthday song, "I Was Born Ten Thousand Years Ago" and the "Irish Jubilee." Avon Mobile Home Park Has Sing Along Program

The Avon Mobile Home Park residents met at the recreation hall for their usual sing-along which was followed by an evening of lively entertainment.

Happy Birthday was sung to Thomas C. Bason who celebrated his ninetieth birthday. Tom responded with his own humorous birthday song of "I Was Born Ten Thousand Years Ago."

A novelty song of World War "He Was Only A Long, Lank Country Gink" was sung by Wolehr Wilder and Tom Bason, followed by Helen Bason's Mobilaires singing four of the old favorite numbers. Mrs. Louise Bell then sang her version of "Neath the Crust of the Old Apple Pie."

Old favorite tunes and songs were played on the accordion by Albert Stromberg who was accompanied by Helen Bason at the piano.

The show stealer of the evening was "Clementine" who with Mrs. Dorothy Keys put on a wonderful entertaining act and were invited back by the park residents, for a repeat performance. The program ended with all of the gathering singing, "God Bless America."

Public Ire Is Raised By Zoning Changes

The Highlands County Commission approved a zoning change Tuesday morning that raised a good deal of ire, and a few unanswered questions.

In a series of public hearings on proposed zoning changes, the commission ruled in favor of Donald and Florence C. Fitch, who wished to open a hobby shop near Red Beach Lake at the intersection of Lake Front Drive and U.S. 98.

The county Zoning Board had recommended denial of the proposal, 5-1, and a number of Red Beach area citizens were present at Tuesday's hearing to voice their opposition to the zoning change.

Previously zoned for multiple family residential, the Fitchs desired a change to general retail so they could open their hobby shop.

Ted Hill spoke for the delegation of citizens opposing the transition, saying, "If you approve this, you'll be going against your standard policies. This would be spot zoning."

Hill said he had presented the Zoning Board and the commissioners with a petition signed by 83 nearby property owners who opposed the zoning change.

Hill said the group's main objection was that it would cause more traffic congestion at the intersection, and that it would lower the property values of nearby homes. "These are mostly older people," said Hill, "and they have put their life savings into their houses."

Attorney J. Michael Swaine, representing the Fitchs maintained that most of the opposition was brought about by misunderstanding. "At the zoning hearing, I frankly didn't expect this kind of organized opposition," said Swaine. "After the hearing I found that most of those who opposed this were not against a hobby shop, but were scared of what else may be permitted under the general retail classification."

Swaine offered to place restrictions on the property, stating that even with the classification, the land could only be used for a hobby shop, and no other business ventures.

"I think this would be perferable to the residents," he said, "because under multiple family, you could bring in a motel, restaurant, and a number of other items."

Swaine added that there were a number of other commercial operations in the vicinity which were grandfathered in before zoning, and that the county recently approved spot zoning for a realty office down the road from the proposed hobby shop.

"We are talking about land lying on a major artery, U.S. 98" said Swaine, "this is prime property for this type of zoning.

"I just cannot believe that a hobby shop on this piece of property would increase the traffic on U.S. 98."

He added, "I am surprised that the board considered the validity of this petition. There are people who will sign anything that you put in front of them, and you cannot be sure that the people who did sign were aware of all the facts in this case."

County Attorney Robert Dunty said that with the restrictions down in writing, all nearby property owners had a "vested interest" in the lot, and could take the case to court if the restrictions were ever violated by Fitch, or any succeeding landowner.

Hill said the facts were not misrepresented by him, or anyone circulating the petition. "And even if we have the right to take these people to court, it takes money, and we're talking about elderly people who don't have that kind of money to spend. We are totally against any commercial property out there."

Swaine then offered to include in the restrictions that the landowner would pay all legal fees if he was taken to court for violation of restrictions.

Cecil Skipper made a motion to approve the change, with Robert Skipper seconding.

The residents asked several questions about how long the restrictions would be in effect, and 99 years was eventually agreed upon: "That should be long enough to satisfy anybody in this room," remarked Dunty.

Commissioner Carl Arant Jr. asked, "With all these questions, do I sense a compromise in the air?"

The answer from several residents was an emphatic "No", maintaining that they were protecting themselves in case the county went ahead and approved the change.

"Buddy" Wise said, "If anything ever happened to the Fitches, or the land was sold, we're going to have the biggest mess on our hands that you've ever seen."

The motion to approve was read several times for clarification, and when polled, both Skippers and commission chairman "Jug" Heston voted for the change, Arant and Wise against.

After the vote, Del Preston Jones, another Red Beach resident, charged that the hearings conducted were illegal, since, "certain adjacent property owners were not notified, and the information given out by the Fitches was grossly in error."

Larry Davis, chairman of the Zoning Board, immediately asked, "Why wasn't this information brought out before? I feel like somebody is trying to hustle us."

Jones said he did not anticipate the information would be necessary, but Dunty countered,that there were plenty of opportunities to bring up the alleged discrepencies and that by not doing so, the right to use them was waived.

"Mr. Jones said he didn't mention them because he didn't need them. In other words, they were his ace in the hole. Well, the law doesn't work that way."

Hill said that nobody other than Mr. Jones was apparently aware of the legal situations."

After several residents stood and charged that "90 people don't mean anything to the commission," the delegation left.

However, at a later point in the meeting, Hill asked the commission if Fitch would be allowed to continue to rent out duplexes on the site, claiming the practice is not permissible under general retail.

Dunty said he would investigate and report back. The final verdict has not yet been handed down, because the county must first approve the wording of the restrictive clauses.

In other zoning hearings, George Tapley expressed opposition to a change on Sparta Road, requested by Carl McIntyre Jr., but the county followed the Zoning Board's unanimous recommendation and approved the change.

The change was for McIntyre's business property on Sparta which was grandfathered in when zoning was initiated. McIntyre wished to open a welding shop on the land, and needed the change.

Tapley said he knew McIntyre had been there for nearly 30 years, and when the surrounding land was purchased for homesites, "I have no objection to what he's doing now, but wonder about what else could be done under industrial use."

The board approved a change for Otto and Elfriede Buxbaum and George S. Brunner, clearing the way for construction of a new motel on U.S. 27, north of Sebring.

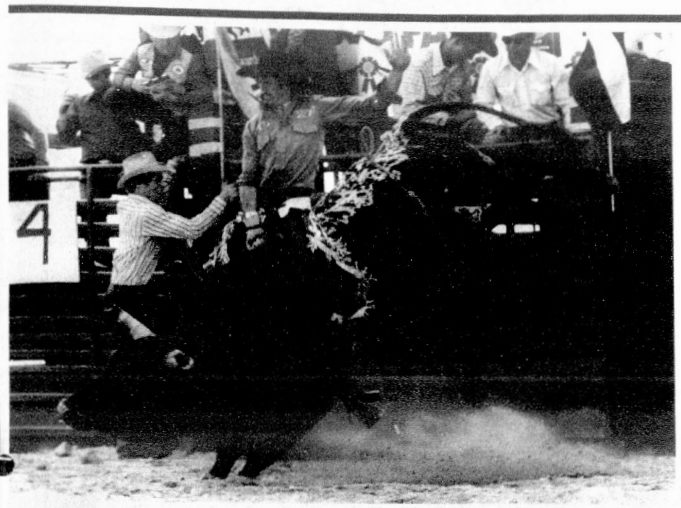

The change approved was from mobile home to general retail and involved a portion of Brunner's Mobile Estates. Recommended for approval, 6-0, by the Zoning Board, the change contained provisions requiring the owners to add a deceleration lane and a fence near the park at some time in the future.

Ronald and Robert Jelicks received a change for 2.7 acres, known as the "Razorback", to change from general retail and wholesale to multiple family residential.

Earl Jones Jr. and Janie Goodnow had 10 acres near Motel Riedy on U.S. 27 converted from agricultural to camping use.

Two portions of Sebring Ridge were altered, at the request of Roger Miller. One was changed to single family residential, another to industrial use, heavy equipment. Both had been zoned for agriculture.

Geraldine Bury had two lots on U.S. 27, south of Lake Placid, converted from single family residential to general retail and wholesale.

Marty Kelly Rides Black Magic For His First Place Win At Arcadia Rodeo.

Local Cowboy Wins First Place At Championships

Avon Park can boast at least one card-carrying cowboy, and a pretty good one, judging from his first place finish at last weekend's Arcadia All Florida Championship Rodeo.

Marty Kelly, 24, of 498 North Lake Avenue returned from the three day rodeo with a first place in the bull riding division, besting 68 other entrants from all over the United States for the top prize. Aside from the prestige of being number one in his class, Kelly also is $639.45 richer, as the bull riding purse was a fat one. "That was the nicest prize I ever won," Kelly said, "It wasn't bad for a weekends' work."

Kelly, who has been riding for about five years, drew a bull called Black Magic for his championship winning ride. "Black Magic was one of the bulls used in national competition last year," Kelly explained, "and he gave me a real good ride."

Kelly has worked for the last five years towards his first championship win-a win that put him in third place overall in the Proffessional Rodeo Cowboy Association's South Eastern Circuit. Not bad for a young man who rode his first bull on a dare from a friend. "I'd never been near a bull before," he explained, "but some friends of mind sort of dared me to ride one, so I did." Kelly wasn't saying how long that first ride lasted, but his eight second spin atop Black Magic was long enough for him. "It seemed like I was up there for hours," Kelly said. "I was real glad when the bell sounded."

Kelly now has his professional cowboy card-earned just last year, after he had won enough points in various competitions. That card has opened the way for him to turn pro, but he isn't sure if he wants to devote all his time to the rodeo.

"It's every cowboy's dream to make the national circuit," he said, "but I don't know if I am going to try for that or not. I'll just have to keep on riding and winning, then make up my mind."

Although Kelly has natural ability, he indicated that he would like to practice more than he does. In fact, the only practice that he now gets is participation in Saturday night activities at the River Ranch Acers outside of Lake Wales. "They hold a rodeo every week," Kelly said, "and I go just to stay in shape. The prizes aren't very much."

Kelly is one of a number of young men who have been bitten by the rodeo bug. In fact, bronc and bull riding, calf roping, bareback riding and other various rodeo skills, are rapidly growing sports in Florida.

"I guess there is some danger involved," Kelly said, "but you try not to think about it. It's the thrill of competing that counts." He added that his mother use to worry about him, but "not anymore. Now she tries to come to every rodeo to watch me."

Home Care Program Considered By Public And Private Concerns

Four possible methods for implementing a home health care program in Highlands County will be discussed in a public meeting at the Agri-Civic Center March 18.

The directors of Services Over Sixty Inc. (SOS) isare sponsoring the meeting, set for 1:30 p.m. in the board room. Approximately 30 participants from a score of private and public agencies have been invited to participate in the study.

A need for some type direct health care in the home, particularly for aged residents, has been subject at virtually every public discussion on health needs held here within the past two years.

The most frequently-mentioned avenue for such service has been the Highlands County Health Department, and this approach is on the agenda for Friday's session.

Another possibility to be presented will be contracting with neighboring Polk County, whose health department operates an extensive home health care program.

Dr. Glenn Hough, director of Highlands' Health Department, and Mrs. Joan Endicott, the county's nursing supervisor, are among participants along with Dr. William F. Hill, director of the Polk County department and Mrs. Mary Jane Running, its nursing director.

In addition, Dr. Hill, who at one time headed Highlands' health department, is now heading the plan development committee of the 10-county South Central Florida Health Service area. In an areawide meeting in December Dr. Hill reported that one of the goals listed in a series of "grassroots in-put" sessions had been "development of home health care services for those in need as an alternative or supplement to more costly institutional care."

Dr. Hill had reported that under a formula worked out by health planners, "the estimated number of persons in need of home health care in Highlands County is approximately 650."

One of the plans for providing such care is through a private business. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Miller of Avon Park have been seeking to establish a health care agency, Highlands Home Health Care Inc.

After a U. S. Senate committee, headed by Florida's senior Senator Lawton Chiles, undercovered many cases of abuse of federal funding by such agencies, the requirements were raised and new agencies are experiencing much difficulty, the Millers have reported.

The fourth alternative to be explored will be requesting a private agency, Polycare, affiliated with Upjohn, to expand its services into Highlands County.

The fourth alternative to be explored Friday will be requesting a private agency, Polycare, affiliated with Upjohn, to expand its services into Highlands County. The Upjohn service is limited to Medicare patients.

The SOS directors said seven possible sources of funding for home health care will be outlined. The sources range from fees provided by the patients receiving services to combinations of private insurance, county, state, federal grants.

Jury Was Deadlocked

Three and a half hours of waiting for a jury, exhausted everyone to the point where the defense and prosecution were able to work out a settlement — which the court accepted and thus ended the trial of Joe Hilton Jr.

In the jury trial which began Monday morning, Hilton was tried for grand larceny and possession of stolen property. The larceny charge was related to a theft at the Gulf bulk plant in September 1975. The stolen property charge was based on accusations that Hilton had a citizen band radio which had been stolen from Richard Green in November 1976.

The case went to the jury late Monday afternoon. The jury first reported that it was deadlocked, then, it was making some progress.

A little after 7 p.m. defense counsel Paul Perkins Sr. and assistant state attorney Bill Fletcher renewed plea negotiations which they had broken off some time ago. They reported the result of the negotiation to Judge Clifton M. Kelly, who agreed to allow Hilton to plead guilty to both charges.

Hilton was ordered to make restitution, to spend 30 days in jail and be on probation for two years.

Walk-A-Thon Route Is Changed

The 1977 Highlands County March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon committee has announced that there is a slight route change for the March 26 walk.

The route which starts at 8:30 a.m. and totals 25 kilometers begins at the Sebring fairgrounds follows Lakeview Drive to Senic Hwy. on to N. Lake Sebring Drive, Manatee Drive down Memorial Drive and Lake Sebring Drive a short jog on Avalon Road, and the leg returning onto Lakeview Drive and to the far fairgrounds for the last checkpoint.

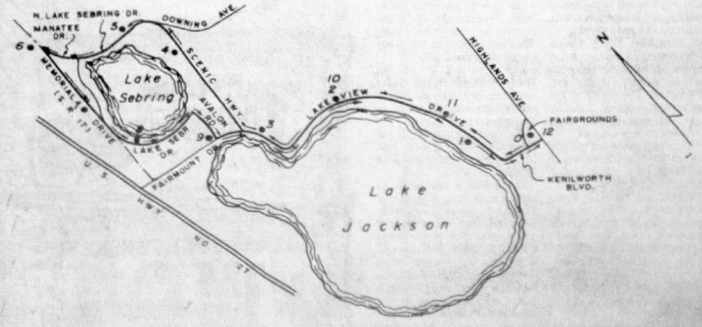

Sue Linehan, walk-a-thon co-odinator said she hoped the shorter route would attract more walkers who were apprehensive about tackeling the former distance.

For those who will have very tired feet and find that they are unable to complete the walk the poop-out wagons will be making pick-up stops along the route. The wagon will take their charges to the fairgrounds.

Participants are urged to explain to their sponsors that their pledge donations are to be based on the total kilometers completed. For example if 20 cents per kilometer is pledged and 25 kilometers are completed the total donation to be collected should be $5. A reminder to all sponsors that the donations are tax deductible.

The annual Walk-A-Thon is the communities way of helping the fight against birth defects.

Pair Booked For Stolen Property

Two Avon Park residents have been arrested by sheriff's deputies on charges of possessing stolen property after a number of items were discovered in their trailer.

Wendell Hunt, 26 and Verdell Hunt, 21, were booked into Highlands County jail last Wednesday night.

The pair were questioned by deputies after officers received a tip that the brothers' rented trailer contained several items stolen from a Hardee County residence.

Upon searching the residence the items were identified, and the Hunts were picked up and arrested.

Both of the suspects have prior arrest records.

TENANT SENTENCED

An Avon Park man who had violent disagreement with his landlord has been sentenced to three years in prison for aggravated battery. Dale Keith Harvey had been on probation for an aggravated assault charge when he became involved in the incident which included his being locked out of his home. In court March 7 his probation was set aside and the new sentence imposed.

Bonnie Brae Mobile Park

By Margie Wells

Part 6 of the slide tour around the U.S.A. showed some middle states areas up to New York state, through New England, and down the East Coast back to the starting point in Florida.

Interesting points included Dodge City, Kan.; Plymouth, Mass., with its replica of the Mayflower; New York harbor and a departing ocean liner; and the Blue Ridge Parkway with its variety of attractions such as old-time cabins, mills, deserted churches, mountain views, flowers, and rugged scenery.

A sidelight of Massachusetts was the exhibition by the Websters of a "Nantucket Lightship Basket", a replica of the antique woven reed baskets made by the men serving on the Nantucket South Shoals Lightship which was stationed some 45 miles at the corner of the shipping lanes and adjacent to the recent much publicized seven million barrel oil spill by the Argo Merchant.

Next Friday, the series will end with an in-depth review of Nantucket, the "Far Away Island."

Minnie and Morris Jones entertained International Harvester retiree friends from Springfield, Ohio, last week. The Cecil Martins and the Gail Whites spent last Wednesday with them. The Ray Craigs were guests for a few days and enjoyed the Passion Play at Lake Wales.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ray of Anderson, Ind., and Rozzie Parkhurst were in Winter Haven on Tuesday doing some shopping. While there, they ate at Duff's Smorgasboard to celebrate James' birthday. On Thursday, James and Mildred and Lester and Rozzie went to the Black Forest Restaurant in Lake Wales, which was another celebration of James' birthday (his real birthday). On Friday, James and Mildred left for Tampa where they enjoyed a ballgame and returned to Bonnie Brae on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kinch of Monticello, N.Y., recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Kinch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Siroky and Mrs. Frances Siroky of Illinois are guests of Gert and Dan Bohland this week.

Harry and Charelotte Wanko from Schaghticoke, N.Y., are staying on the "the strip." They are friends of Mary and Cedric Weirman.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Harsh of Winter Haven visited with their daughter and son-in-law Margie and P. D. Wells, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Egli of Norwich, N.Y., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Kinch on Friday.

There was a full house at coffee hour last Wednesday. The doughnuts were especially good and the fellowship was something extra special. Rene Asher and Emily Webster told of an amusing incident which had happened to each of them recently. Cyril and Florence Bielby were introduced as new residents of the park. Some of our residents will be leaving soon, so come on out and join in the fun on Wednesday mornings.

Hospital Offers Class On Stress Control

Walker Memorial Hospital is offering, as a service to the public, a class in "stress control." There will be films, lectures, group discussions, physical tests and personal check-lists. Registration and the first meeting will be at 7 p.m. March 28, in the hospital cafeteria.

Because the class will be limited in size and will probably have wide appeal, it is suggested that those interested call early for a reservation. Watch next week's paper for an article on stress control and for more details of this program.

Southside Park Community News

By ALPHONSO WILLIAMS

Greetings:

Welcome to Southside Park Community News. With most of the cold weather over, the entire area has begun to take on a new color. The plants which escaped the bitter cold have shed most of their brown leaves and greenery can be seen just about everywhere. The azaleas are in full blossom and their rainbow of colors seem to radiate cheer while they announce that Easter is near. "Flu" is still on the warpath, but is on the decline compared to two or three weeks ago. I've noticed that the department stores are displaying their Easter rabbits, egg and other bright symbols for this season of the year. There is also a fashion review in the windows and showcases which is reminiscent of the fact that the Easter parade is nigh.

The installation of pipes in connection to the new sewer system is among the common sights throughout the area. To me this is a sign of progress as this facility was very much needed. The youths in both Southside Park and Eastside Park continue to take advantage of the mini-parks erected in both areas by the city. It causes one to wonder, where were all the youths before the play areas were established? Well these facilities are serving a most useful purpose also.

Cemetery Association Meets

The Lincoln Park Cemetery Association met on Monday night, March 7 at St. John Baptist Church. The Rev. A. Ousley is its president, Elder Thomas Brown is vice president, Mrs. Queen Coward is secretary, Elmo Collins is Treasurer, Calvin Gibbs is Business Manager and Dec. E. Sims, Dec. E. B. Hicks and Dec. N. Gray are Trustees.

Church of God by Faith

March 10th was Home Mission Day. Services were conducted by Sister Lillie Hilton and Bro. Levon Stukes. The speakers that night were Mother Viola Stone of Newark N.J., who is visiting her sister, Mother Mary Jones and Sister Maggie Sumbry. They were enjoyed very much. The second anniversary of the usher board was observed on March 12. The services were directed by Sister Velma Fogle. The speaker for this occasion was Mrs. Estelle Dickson. She explained the duties of an usher and was enjoyed by all. The ushers were attired in white dresses, black shoes and red and white corsages. Services on Sunday March 13 were carried out in the usual manner. The Mighty Sons of Faith sang out of their hearts. Evening services were carried out by Dec. G. Hawkins and Dec. Frank Hilton. Choir No. 1 sang. Our pastor broke the bread of life. His subject was "Do you know Him?". Welcome visitors and friends and we hope you'll come again. Special thanks to our musicians.

On Saturday night March 19, at 7:30 p.m. a gospel program will be rendered by The Mighty Sons of Faith. The public is cordially invited to come and help enjoy the Lord with us.

Fogle Participating In Operation Palm Tree

Marine Sergeant Elijah Fogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Collis M. Fogle of 813 S. Delaney Ave., Avon Park, participated in exercise "Palm Tree 1-77" in the California desert.

He was serving as a member of Battalion Landing Team Two Slant Six of the 2d Marine Division.

His unit was airlifted from its Camp Lejeune, N.C., homebase to the Marine Corps Air-Ground Combat Training Center at Twentynine Palms, Calif., for the exercise. "Palm Tree 1-77" was designed to test the capability of a battalion landing team to deploy by strategic airlift and to provide realistic live-fire training. The exercise stressed coordinated air and artillery fire support for infantry units.

A 1968 graduate of Avon Park High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1969.

Paul Turner Reports For Aviation Training

Coast Guard Aviation Machinist's Mate Third Class Paul G. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Farthing of Route 2, Box 222 F, and whose wife Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Whitmire of 9 N. Florida Ave., all of Avon Park, Fla., has reported for duty at the Aviation Training Center, Mobile, Ala.

He joined the Coast Guard in June 1975.

Griffin Helping To Enforce 200 Fish Limit

Coast Guard Damage Controlman First Class Thomas J. Griffin, son of Thomas J. Griffin Jr. of Avon Park, will be helping enforce the 200 mile fishery conservation zone which went into effect March 1.

He is serving at the Coast Guard Air Station, Cape Cod, Mass.

The new law, known as the Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976, gives the United States exclusive control of all water within the 200-mile zone. The Coast Guard and the National Marine Fisheries Service have been charged with enforcement of the zone, which includes 10 per cent of the world's fishery resources.

Coast Guard cutters and patrol aircraft will make regular patrols of fishery areas to monitor foreign fishing activity. Some controlled foreign fishing is permitted within the 200-mile zone and fishing vessels will be boarded at random to ensure compliance with restrictions and regulations. The new, 200-mile zone represents a four-fold increase in fishery patrols for the Coast Guard.

He joined the Coast Guard in September 1971.

A life size replica of Leonardo de Vinci's painting "The Last Supper" will be on display at Avon Shopping Square this Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. There is no admission charge, but donations may be given. This replica has been shown in every major city across the country in the last 22 years.

Campbell Label Drive End At Middle School

The Avon Park Middle School wishes to publicly thank all the good soup and bean eaters in the area for helping in our Campbell' Soup and Beans label drive this year.

We did not reach our goal which was perhaps too high, but we did get enough labels for two expensive items the school needed. The items to be ordered are an electrified megaphone for the PE department and a cassette tape player for the media center for individual teacher use.

We were able to collect 11,275 labels. There was much grade section and grade competition throughout the campaign. Hall bulletin board charts kept them up to date on the weekly totals.

This was so successful that we have already decided that we wish to collect lables again next year, so don't throw away any lables from future cans of soup or beans that have the Campbell's name. Hold on to them until the campaign starts again next year.

Watch this newspaper for notice that we have started again. We will all appreciate immensely.

The public often asks what it can do to help the schools and this is one way that is almost painless — unless you cannot eat soup or beans.

"Why should I go to bed hungry?"
"Now don't fill up on junk, and spoil your dinner."
"I know I should eat breakfast, but who's got time?"
"I'm sick of sandwiches, and they're fattening, anyway."
"I'm home, Mom, and I'm hungry."
"Nothing much tonight . . . just a little something."
"I skipped breakfast, and now I'm starving."

TV Star Scene

Brad Dourif, who was Oscar nominated for his role as the stuttering young man in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," plays the title role in "Sergeant Matlovich Versus the U.S. Air Force." The two-hour television film is based on the true story of a homosexual Air Force sergeant's fight to remain in the service . . . Production is completed on NBC's "A Sensitive, Passionate Man," with David Janssen starring as an alcoholic and Angie Dickinson as his desperate wife.

Who has the best body around? According to 1,000 editors polled nationwide by The Diet Workshop, tennis player Arthur Ashe is the man to beat. Farrah Fawcett-Majors came in second, followed by such super shapes as Rosalynn Carter, Cicely Tyson, Johnny Carson, John Lindsay, Faye Dunaway, Jack Nicholson, Lindsay Wagner and Bill Cosby . . . Red Skelton appeared on the 1949 Oscar Awards show. It was his last time. But he's returning this year, making a special appearance to host a tribute to film comedy. The annual celebfest airs March 28 over ABC.

More on the Oscars — If you enjoyed the film's nominated for Academy Awards this year, you'll love "Hollywood Out-Takes," or at least NBC hopes so. The network has compiled cut scenes from more than 12 features for the March 27th show. Among them are Sylvester Stallone's pratfalls while shooting the ice-skating scene in "Rocky" with Talia Shire and a kissing scene between William Holden and Faye Dunaway in "Network" that was done over and over and . . . The true-life story of the relationship between Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti, now a running back for the Rams, and his younger brother stricken with leukemia, will be dramatized in "Something for Joey," April 6 over CBS. Marc Singer plays John, Jeff Lynas is his little brother and Geraldine Page and Gerald O'Loughlin play the parents.

Richard Jordan, star of the NBC mini-series "Captains and the Kings," is sticking to his roots. He's currently busy at work directing a play-in-progress off-Broadway for the New York Shakespeare Festival, where he labored for several years before hitting it big . . . Steven Ford, the bronco busting son of the former President, is already signed for guest shots on upcoming Streets of San Francisco, Barnaby Jones and other Quinn Martin productions. Now, Martin is so confident of the young man's potential that a pilot is in the works. "We're preparing a series in which Steve will play a rodeo performer," said the producer, adding, "the show will probably be scheduled for NBC this fall."

Singers Jerry Reed and Charley Pride have been called to play regulars on Claude Akins series-in-production, Nashville 99. It's about the Nashville police force. Among guests on the opener are Tammy Wynette, Mel Tillis, Ray Stevens, and Chet Atkins . . . The best news we've heard all year is the birth of a new awards show — the TV Critics Circle Awards, which will counter the Emmys. The awards, chosen by TV critics for newspapers and magazines in the 100 top markets, will be presented in a live show tentatively set for April 11 on CBS. They will even present the w. st program of the year, but whether anyone will accept remains to be seen.

Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis, Jr., the recording duo who climbed to fame as part of the Fifth Dimension, and the Starland Vocal Band, formally John Denver's back-up band, have been signed to head two CBS summer variety shows this year . . . It's nice to know that even Henry Winkler has his bad moments. He recently recalled, "During my third year at Yale, there were nights I'd cry myself to sleep at night worrying about making it after college."

Music Is Her Life

She Teaches A Universal Language...

text by Barbara Cornell

She is vivacious, loves music, traveled extensively and has made appearances in many famous theatres and clubs on the East Coast.

Mrs. J. Curtis (Elena Leighton) Lawton teaches music in Avon Park. In fact she has given lessons to many people here.

But few realize that she has played and appeared with some of the best known musicians in the country.

She has a musical background which smacks of glamour, which includes studying at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, playing with the St. Petersburg Symphony, Ina Ray Hutton's all-girl orchestra, Phil Spitalny, Alex Hyde, Leon Reisman, Mal Hallet, Bob Chester, and many other notables.

This talent and charming personality comes from a musical family. She started playing violin at the age of four and as different situations arose requiring other instruments, she learned to play just about everything, including the cornet. As a matter of fact she plays seven different instruments.

"...But few realize she has played and appeared with some of the best musicians in the country."

For a number of years she had her own orchestra, consisting of five girls who entertained with dinner music in the plush hotels. They played most classical numbers, with an occasional semipop tune thrown in.

Their tours consisted of the White Mountains in the summer, Florida in the Winter and Boston in between.

Mrs. Lawhon almost went abroad with her music on several occasions, but never quite made it. Dan Cupid intervened and she decided in favor of marriage instead of Europe.

She was one of the first and best girl saxophonists in the country and made appearances at Loew's Theatre on Times Square, with great show people like Jimmy Durante, just to name one.

There are rumors that musicians keep late hours, but according to Mrs. Lawhon this did not effect her marriage.

She said jokingly, "I keep late hours all the time. Sometimes I stay up until 7 p.m. when I go to bed." She continued, "However I can remember eating breakfast at 2 or 3 in the afternoon. In a week's time after getting married, I was sound asleep by 9 at night. People say it is all according to what you are accustomed to. I don't believe it is. I think it is largely a matter of metabolism."

As to the music of today she feels there is something good in every generation, and she does not believe you can take any particular era and say it is all good or all bad. It depends on how a person feels about a piece of music. Some may like it and some may not.

When it comes to educating a child about music it should not be as a matter of what the child can do for music, but what music can do for the child. She added very seriously, "Every child benefits in some way from music. It is just good therapy for all."

She used to say that no one but the talented should take music, but she found during her years of teaching that sometimes the ones who do not have any talent at all get a big kick out of a piece of music with a simple rhythm. It would be foolish to deny that craving just because one is not doing quite as well as another.

When teaching a child for the first time Mrs. Lawhon does not set any goals for them. But she does try to impress on the child that the basic scales and arpeggios are very important and very much required.

If you can let a child know that these are good things, and it is necessary for what they want to do, then they will work at it.

"They play a bit of Handel next With flutes and lucid strings; She listens with the pure delight..."

From "At the Symphony" by E.B. Spalding

Music is like a language. You have different keys, and each is like a different language. For example, you could say "I love you;" in one key, and then transpose to another key, or language, to say the same thing in a different way.

The scale is like the alphabet. It teaches the notes (like the alphabet teaches letters), so the child can play the pieces he wants without struggling with technic.

Mrs. Lawhon feels very strongly that all in all music is very satisfying experience and no child should do without it.

"Music is a universal language," she explained, "one that transcends all national and ethnic barriers." She added that music was a personal experience — one that each person feels in a different way.

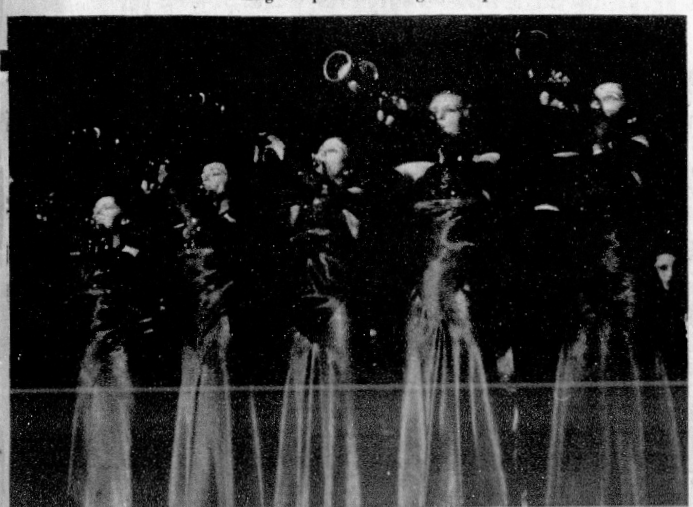

Although she modestly claimed that she didn't play much any more, her sensitive fingers coaxed a sweet melody from her battered violin. While she played, a gentle rain began to fall outside, adding a delicate background rhythm to the soaring notes of the violin. Watching her delicate fingers scamper over the neck of her instrument; listening to the pure, clear music, one could understand her feelings that music truly is a universal language.

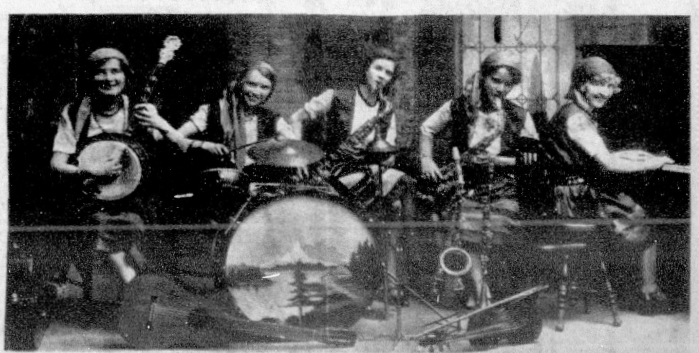

Mrs. Lawhon enjoys quiet moments in her home when she takes her violin from its case and plays a favorite tune. The violin is just one of several instruments that she has learned to play over the years.

Mrs. Lawhon started playing at four years of age and by age five was playing with her mother, father and brother at club and church engagements.

Mrs. Lawhon had her own all girl orchestra, appropriately named The Versatillians, because all the ladies played so many different insterments. The group stayed together for about 10 years. In this photo Mrs. Lawhon is second from the right.

Reverend DeWitt Featured Speaker

Rev. Bob DeWitt

The Reverend Bob DeWitt will be the speaker at Special Sunday Night Lenten Services on March 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Avon Park. DeWitt is the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Lake Placid.

The topic of Pastor DeWitt's sermon will be: "It is Finished", Pastor DeWitt is a graduate of Erskine College and Erskine Theological Seminary of Due West, South Carolina. He has been the pastor of the Lake Placid Church for approximately eight years.

Before coming to be pastor of the Lake Placid Church, he was pastor of the historic old Shiloh Church in Lancaster County, South Carolina. The Lake Placid Church has recently completed a large expansion program.

The special Sunday Night Lenten Services will continue through Palm Sunday.

Other ministers to speak at the services are: March 27, Pastor Wayne Frazier of Merritt Island, and April 3, Pastor Harold Probes of Tampa.

Music for the Special Sunday Night Lenten Servicess is under the direction of John Wright. Doris Albrecht is the church organist, Clara Rion is the church pianist.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Red Cross Drive

Highlands County Chapter of the American Red Cross opens its annual enrollment drive on March 15. Grover Johnson, chairman of the local chapter, is spearheading the effort. After careful consideration the local Board has set the goal for this year's drive at $10,000. This fund will be necessary to carry out the plans now being developed for the coming year.

The campaign, covering all of Highlands County, will run from March 15 to April 15 with special efforts in the communities of Avon Park, Lake Placid and Sebring.

Last spring Mrs. Ann Reynolds, disaster chairman, was instrumental in recruiting volunteers, local and national to provide both material assistance and counseling help at the time of the fire in Lake Placid. Over a three week period assistance in relocation of victims, temporary shelter and other emergency help was provided. Nearly $7,000 was spent by the Red Cross in helping to meet the emergency needs of the unfortunate victims of this one disaster.

Mrs. Verdelle Medlin, chairman of Service to Military Families, states that there are many families in Highlands County with someone in the armed forces. When any emergency arises the Red Cross is there to help the family. This may mean notifying the serviceman or woman of a death or serious illness in the immediate family.

Sometimes it sends the happy message to the serviceman overseas of the birth of a baby at home. Many times a Red Cross worker, through getting a current doctor's statement on illness, can reassure a serviceman far from home that family situation is all right. She also said that counselling families regarding the importance of regular letters can do much for the morale of both family and serviceman or woman.

Mrs. Shirley Burley, Nursing Service chairman, has recruited nurses to help during Race Week and for teaching classes "Health in the Home", "Preparation for Parenthood" and "Mother's Aide". She also works with young people.

Charlie Welch, immediate past chairman of the Chapter, said "Red Cross is a service organization, existing solely to serve others. The volunteers need financial support of the community to enable them to carry out the purpose of Red Cross to help people when in need and contribute to the better of life in our community."

The drive for funds has already received a boost when a shuffleboard tournament at the Tourist Club recently raised over $260.

Contributions may be sent to Highlands County Chapter, American Red Cross, Box 1236, Sebring.

FAITH TEACHES US THE LAWS OF RETRIBUTION

One of the most commonly held fallacies is the notion that we can "get away with something". This false premise is strengthened by the sight of those around us who have apparently succeeded in doing so; while at the same time it would appear that others are being punished out of all proportion to any wrong they may have done. However, you are destined to learn that in the long run you will receive whatever reward or punishment you deserve, according to the way you have conducted your life. And that choice is yours, as is the Church you should go to in order to learn how this divine merit system works.

"Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." — Galatians 6:7

We ought to do our neighbor all the good we can. If you do good, good will be done back to you; but if you do evil, the same will be measured back to you again.

Learn To Control Stress Problems

Would you like to learn to cope with your own stress problems?

Walker Memorial Hospital is offering, as a service to the public, a class in "Stress Control."

There will be films, lectures, group discussions, physical tests, and personal check-lists.

Registration and the first meeting will be at 7 p.m., March 28, in Walker Memorial Hospital cafeteria.

Because the class will be limited in size, and this will probably have wide appeal, it is suggested that you call in early for a reservation. Phone 453-7511, ext. 273 or 274.

Watch next week's paper for an article on stress control

Consumers Side

If you as a consumer have been misled, deceived, or have questions you need clarified, call the toll free telephone number of the Florida Department of Agriculture, Consumer services, Tallahassee: 1-800-342-2176.

Questions: Can you tell me what the law is concerning record clubs and the amount of time a person has to notify the club that he doesn't receive the notices until three or four days before the card is due, therefore he has received several records he does not want.

Answer: "Get these tree best selling books (or records or tapes) for only a dollar." We have all seen these tempting offers to join merchandise clubs. Many people, however, do not carefully read the small print in these advertisements.

How often have you made certain that you know what you would be agreeing to if you returned the coupon with the ad?

One thing you probably would be agreeing to with such offers is the "negative option" plan — a plan where unless you inform the club that the selection merchandise is not to be sent, you will receive it and be billed for it. Under a plan, to stop shipment or to terminate membership, you usually must notify the company by a specific date.

A federal regulation governs "negative option" plans. Here are your protections under this regulation:

According to the regulations, those using a "negative option" plan must in their advertising disclose:

That a negative option plan is used.

Any obligation to purchase a minimum amount of merchandise. T

That you can cancel your membership any time after you have completed your agreement to buy a minimum amount of merchandise.

Whether charges include postage and handling fees.

That you will be given 10 days to notify the seller that the selected merchandise is not wanted.

The frequency with which announcements of merchandise will be sent. Further, before sending any merchandise, the company must:

Sent an announcement identifying what will be sent and a form you can use to notify the company if you don't want the merchandise.

Describe the procedure for notifying the company and the date by which this notice must be given.

Under this regulation, companies have to give full credit and have to pay the return postage for merchandise sent to members who have not been sent a proper form or who have not been given the required time to respond.

Finally, companies:

Are required to ship within 4 weeks any introductory or bonus merchandise.

Are required to terminate the contract if you request it after completing your obligation.

Are prohibited from sending substitute merchandise without first getting your approval.

Women Inventors Play Larger Role In Beauty Field

Four new aids-to-beauty inventions point up both the originality of the American inventor, and the fact that women are playing an increasingly large role in this field.

"At least 20 per cent of all the inventions we accept come from women" says Lawrence Peska, President of Lawrence Peska Associates, Inc. internationally known invention development firm. Adds Peska, whose firm is currently introducing the new beauty aid inventions to industry, "The emergence of the woman inventor comes at a time when she is most needed. 50 per cent of the items in general use today will be obsolete within five years. Industry relies on the inventor to provide the new inventions it must have in order to keep up with the headlong pace of modern development".

The four new items are designed to give women assistance in specific areas of make-up or health care, which they feel are not now adequately covered.

Geraldine Lagotic, or Miami, Florida, has invented a "Nail Wand" which combines in one simple cylinder all the equipment a woman needs for the care of her nails. Along with spaces for emery boards, orange sticks, etc., the unit has a series of plunger-dispensers for different nail polishes, base coat and remover (with a separate compartment for an applicator).

The owner can readily refresh her existing polish, or change to a different color with ease (without carrying extra nail polish bottles, which have a habit of leaking!)

Making up the eyes will become almost effortless with the invention of Marie Laudicina of Brooklyn, N.Y. It is a soft plastic membrane that is lightly anchored to the upper eyelid. On its visible surface the membrane has the necessary eye-liner colors, and a set of eyelashes. There is also space to add the other eyelid adornments that women use today, so that making up the upper eye is reduced to one simple operation.

Using two sets of membranes a woman may change from simple day-time eye make-up to an elaborate, decorative design for evening wear in just the time required to remove one set and apply the other.

Audrey Love, of Chicago, Ill., has created a ball-point-pen shaped instrument to dispense depilatory fluid to the eyebrows. The unit replaces tweezers and razor blades (both uncomfortable and unsafe) and enables the user to apply just the right amount of depilatory lotion to the precise area of the eyebrow so that it can be shaped in the manner desired.

Most complex of the current devices is the portable hair shamppooing system invented by Flossie Harmon of Philadelphia, Pa. A beautician, Ms. Harmon has drawn on her experience to devise a unit consisting of a plastic cap which has a waterproof seal running round the wearer's head, to which are attached two tubes, one leading to a supply source and the other to the waste line.

A pumping unit with valves that are cycled automatically sends first water, then shampoo, then rinse water through the cap, giving the wearer a complete shampoo. A dryer is then attached to the hose and the hair dried. The unit can either be connected to existing pumbing, or to portable reservoirs which can be filled and emptied separately.

It is not necessary to be an Edison in order to be an inventor. A free booklet, giving all the necessary information about realizing your invention, and called "The Link between the Inventor and Industry" is available just by writing to Lawrence Peska Associates, Inc. (Dept. P), 500 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10036.
