Winter Guest Club News

Shuffling
On March 11 there were 12 courts of A players for the regular shuffling tournament. In the main division, Frank White and John Harp were behind in the tournament and Fred Frye in first place. In consolation it was Helen Brady and Gerry Lohka first and Bernice Long and Hazel Colson second.

In the B's there were 9 courts with Hazel Brevort and Lena Vanzo first in the main division with Harold Reed and Leslie Stanley second. In consolation play it was Helen Stanley and Dudley Bacon first with Richard Davis and Al Wilson taking second.

On March 14 and 15 the Winter Guest Club sponsored a Shuffleboard Tournament for the benefit of the S. O. S. and Hope programs. There were 130 players from Avon Park and Sebring who participated. Trophies were furnished by the Knights of Columbus of Sebring. Those receiving trophies were: Main division, Ed Healy and Foster Joliff first place, Annie Cannon and Fred Frye second place.

Douglas Colnhoan and Eugene Kennedy third, with Albert Boudreau and Max Spiller taking fourth.

Consolation . . . Helen Stanley and Frank Bogardus took first, Jake Turfiter and Jim Pierce second. Roy Stader of Sebring was director of the tournament with Don Mason assistant director.

A sum of one hundred and seventh-five dollars was received from the tournament and will be presented to the SOS and Hope program.

Many thanks to all those who participated and helped in any way to make this project a success. Our congratulations to Hazel and Marian Prindle for winning second place in consolation at the Lake Wales District tournament.

Plausible

On March 13, there were 10 tables for pinocle with Lee McFrederick high with 762 and Mable Crocker second with 647. On March 10 there were 12 tables with W. Edmonds first with 722 and Margaret Mack next with 744.

Bridge

March 16, was Duplicate Bridge day with 9 tables, North-South saw Neredith Reany and Clyde Getchell taking first, Al and Ida Allen, second, and Emma Carlson and Sarah Spindler, third. East-West division saw Myrtle and Paul Bynner first, Tom Chace and Gil Beane second, and Carlo Scaravella and Marj Fleisher third.

Bingo

It was Bingo Night on Thursday March 16 with 100 or more present. Fred Frye, Howard Long, Winnifred Kinch and Herman Wurster were the callers. Prizes ranged from canned goods and paper products to snacking goodies. The grand prize was potted mums. The next Bingo party will be on March 30.

On March 9, another of the special programs was held. Evelyn Delk and the Sweet Adelines presented the program. A large crowd was in attendance and it was an appreciative one for the hour of delightful entertainment.

In a year's time 30 tons of barnacles can attach themselves to the bottom of an ocean-going ship.

Bonnie Brae Mobile Home Park News

The Avon Park Sun, Mar. 23, 1978 5C

By Margie Wells
Chairs were added around the wall to make room for the crowd at coffee hour last Wednesday. Hostesses were Mildred Schwager and Loretta Wetmore. Visitors introduced were Ellie and Bill Webster, friends of Florence and Ron Boyer. Rina Asher told the group that she and Joe were giving a free coffee hour on Friday for the park. This brought a round of applause from the group. It was announced that a picnic would be held at Highlands Hammock State Park on Thursday, Mar. 23. Frank Schwager announced that the pancake breakfasts had been such a success that a profit had been made and that this would be spent for a free coffee hour next Wednesday

(another round of applause). It was agreed by everyone that Faye and Leland Darling should be given a "vote of thanks" for their contribution of folding chairs for the rec hall. The hour concluded with Ron Boyer, Bud Leonard and Frank Schwager trying to outdo one another with their jokes. There was a large crowd turned out for the coffee hour hosted by Rina and Joe Asher on Friday morning. Everyone had a good time and there were so many stories and jokes told, it was impossible to keep an account of them. Thanks a lot, Rina and Joe!

We are glad to report that Charles Palmer, Della Sprawl and Helen Worster who are all patients in Walker Memorial are progressing nicely and they all hope to be back home soon. They all appreciated the cards and visits of their Bonnie Brae friends while they have been in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sturman and daughter, Becky, from Oscoda, Mich., were guests of Guy and Lu Detrick last Thursday. Mrs. Sturman is Guy's niece. They reported a 10 degree below zero temperature when they left home on March 8, with two feet of snow and much higher in many places. Maurice Jones and P. D. Wells were one of two teams who tied for first place last Saturday at River Greens Golf Course. Congratulations! We have quite a number of golfers in the park who are very good and we would like to see them all get together one day and have a Bonnie Brae tournament. We hope each one of you will have a Blessed and Happy

Easter and for our friends who are away from Bonnie Brae next week, we hope you will have a safe journey and that you will come back early this Fall.

Harry Lee's Trailer Village News

Mabel Stocker
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brimblecombe and daughter, Diane of Drayton, Ontario have arrived for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graper.

Mrs. Esther Nash and son, Douglas were guests of her sister Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Wilcox and have returned to their home in Slatteryville, Springs New York. Douglas is manager of Hillside Nursery of Binghamton, N. Y. They also visited their niece Lorraine O'Grady of Lutz.

Food For Thought

By Jane Nickerson

80 The Avon Park Sun, Mar. 25, 1978

Also, the small, thin, dignified, older woman, who was a real estate agent, gave up the service right away. But the statistics of her stuffed chicken legs and her meat balls with chicken will provide certain areas of this community, having many more months to go, apparently before they die.

The good chicken legs with their delicious apple stuffing were a favorite for wedding buffets. And the pepperoni meat balls, one bite in size, kept hot in a chafing dish, were as popular at cocktail gatherings as the luscious themselves.

On last New Year's Eve, with the help of her niece, who had invited friends for a post-midnight supper, Lydia turned out 400 pieces, filling them with chicken in a savory sauce. She also carried a double amount of fruit. So it isn't as if the capable woman could not cook again professionally. But, she said, such problems plague caterers as to discourage them from an arduous occupation.

Among them, of course, are the high cost of food and skilled labor. After winding up her business in 1970, Lydia taught a class in advanced food preparation twice weekly at the Central Florida Junior College, of which she still speaks with a mixture of pleasure. The young women who attended, she said, all improved in cooking. "I taught me as much as I taught them," she said.

The lessons included demonstrations on chicken Kew (boneless chicken breast rolled around butter), chicken Gordon Blue (boneless chicken breast with ham and cheese), carried dip for raw vegetables, hot loaded mushrooms and waffles and pasta. The next class session, Lydia said, was like a huge covered dish supper, with every student bringing in a favorite preparation with an appropriate recipe.

Lydia puts down "strong interest" rather than formal training as the chief explanation for her culinary skill. She grew up in Worcester, the daughter of parents with a Swiss background. "I cooked with my mother from the time I was very young," she told me.

After she came to Florida in 1940, she married a native of Florida. He was Jack Matthews, who had been born in a house not far from where Lydia herself now lives on Southwest 17th Street. Their vegetable garden over the years gave Lydia special pleasure, providing such typical Florida delicacies as corn, green beans, leafy greens, like mustard and collards, tomatoes, cucumbers. She enjoyed preparing - and eating - those fresh foods, and she also tried her hand at a vast variety of native fruit. For years she made her own mango chutney. And she used to preserve quarts of Florida peaches, a species growing wild in the environs that, Lydia says, is too little appreciated.

When Lydia fixes her famous stuffed chicken legs, she spoons the stuffing on the boned, leg-with-thigh bone, brings up the flesh around the filling. She inserts the little bundle in a circle of wax paper that holds it in shape during baking. I found that one of those individual glass baking dishes, about 3 inches across the top, customarily used for custards, can take the place of that paper, eliminating the need for pinning together circles of it.

Buying whole chickens, cutting off the legs-with-thigh yourself and boning them costs a fraction of purchasing those portions boned by the butcher. Provided you have a short-bladed knife, razor sharp and pointed, you can bone a leg-with-thigh in a few minutes, even though you may never have done it before. The directions are included in my Modification of Lydia's recipe that follows.

4 chickens quarters containing the legs-with-thigh in one piece
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons chopped onion

1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 cup diced, tart, peeled apple
1 tablespoon brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup fresh bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten
Generous pinch of dried marjoram salt, freshly ground pepper to taste

1. To bone a leg-with-thigh, put it on a cutting board with the side that was nearer the body uppermost. With a sharp, pointed blade cut it 2 inches in length, cut along the length of the thigh bone. With the point of the knife and the fingers, loosen flesh all around the thigh bone. Now "spear" carefully on the leg bone, cutting and loosening the flesh all around it. Finally, sever the meat from the joint between thigh and leg.

2. Heat butter in a sauté pan and melt it but not smoking. Cook onion and parsley in it, stirring, till onion is soft. Add apple, sugar and seasoning; cook, stirring, an additional 5 minutes.

3. Meanwhile spread crumbs in a single layer in a pan and let them dry slightly in a moderate oven.

4. Combine apple mixture, crumbs and egg. Mix lightly but thoroughly.

5. Spoon about 1/2 tablespoon of the stuffing on each of the boned chicken legs. Bring up the flesh around the stuffing; it will not cover it completely. Turn each bundle over into a single-portion baking dish. Bake about 30 minutes at 375 degrees. The chicken flesh, uppermost, will puff and brown during baking and each serving will hold its shape when removed from the baking dish.

which should be done before serving.
Yield: 4 portions.
LYDIA'S MEAT BALLS
Bite-sized meatballs to be served as hors d'oeuvres.
1 pound lean ground chuck
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 egg
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 medium onion, minced

1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon onion salt, pepper to taste
1 jar (best) ketchup
1. Mix ingredients, except ketchup, until thoroughly blended. Form into 45 small balls.
2. Drop balls into boiling water, a few at a time. When they float to the surface, in about 3 to 5 minutes and feel firm to the touch, remove and place in a single layer in a deep pan to cool.

3. When ready to serve, reheat in the top of a double boiler over boiling water. Add the ketchup, shaking the pan to distribute the ketchup through the meat. Avoid stirring with a spoon, which cuts the meat balls. Serve from the double boiler or from a chafing dish. Yield: 45 meat balls.
