Church Of God Set Revival

There will be a Revival and Evangelistic Crusade at the Church of God, 105 N. Florida Avenue, Avon Park, from Wednesday, July 12 through Sunday night, July 23. Services will begin at 7:30 every night except Sunday which will be at 7 p.m.

Evangelist Phillip Wallace will be ministering the Word of God each night. Mrs. Wallace and their four-year old son, Andy, will be featured singers. Mrs. Wallace accompanies their singing on the piano.

The Wallaces have been a very active ministerial group since 1969. They pastored the first two years in North Georgia before going into full-time Evangelistic work. They have ministered in approximately 30 states over the past 7 years.

Pastor Searcy and members extend a cordial invitation for everyone to come each night possible. Evangelist Wallace is a dynamic and Spirit-filled minister of the Gospel. There will be good Choir singing most

Jehovah's Witness Hold Convention

Daniel Smith, local representative of Jehovah's Witnesses said, over 70,000 persons attended the two week international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held in the Superdome, New Orleans, La.

Smith said, 12 buses were chartered to transport 403 delegates from 24 congregations throughout central and eastern Florida. Many more traveled by car and by plane.

The entire program was designed to strengthen faith in God's Word, the Bible, in this critical time when good morals and right principles are being cast aside.

every night. Prayer for the sick will be offered when needed. Party, plan, and participate. You will be glad that you did.

Oil Fashion Sing

The theme, "VICTORIOUS FAITH" was highlighted throughout the entire program stressing the need to accept and apply the counsel from the Bible in behalf of individuals, families, and coping with marriage problems in this modern world.

Oil Fashion Sing

The First Assembly of God located at 114 S. Central Avenue, Avon Park will be the host for an "Oil Fashioned Sing" on July 16, at 7 p.m. The Christ Ambassadors of Ft. Meade will be the special guest singers. Everyone is invited.

Storm Clouds Loomed High Over Lake Verona

An Answer To Your Questions

By Rev. Arnold Smith
A close friend borrowed a large sum of money from me some time ago on a short-term, low interest note. Now, the interest alone is substantial, but I've not yet seen my money. I'm tempted to go to court, since I'm now in need of the money, myself.

Your situation poses three questions, basically. The Bible has much to say concerning loans, interest, and court actions. Let's handle them in reverse order.

1 Corinthians 6:14 speaks clearly of our responsibility to take wrong rather than to go to court — especially verse 7. Jesus said, in Matthew 5:38-42.

that we ought not defend ourselves even if we are taken to court, but, rather, offer more than that required to us (v. 40).

Regarding charging interest, we are told, in many places, not to. One of the clearest references is found in Deuteronomy 23:19, 20, and also, Exodus 22:25, and Leviticus 25:36, 37; each passage says to lend without charging interest. Jesus went even further, in Luke 6:35, saying we ought to be willing to lend, even when we don't expect to see the principal again.

Let's now say you're sorry you loaned the money at all, let me assure you that the loan itself was the right thing to do and God's word assures you of your being blessed by it, even if it is never repaid, as such. Matthew 5:42 says to give to one asking, and not to turn away from one wanting to borrow. Luke 6:31-38 contains an entire principle which applies here: If we'll give, without consideration of receiving in return, God will bless us and see to it that all our needs are met, even in ways beyond our understanding.

For answers to your questions, write Rev. Arnold Smith, c/o Avon Park Sun, P.O. Box 1117, Avon Park, Fla. 33825.

God Bless You.

Youths To Wash Cars

The First Assembly of God Youth Department is sponsoring a car wash and rummage sale to be held Sat., July 15, beginning at 9:30 a.m., at

James Paul Gulf on U.S. 27.

The cost per vehicle will be $1.50 for wash only and $2. for wash and vacuum.

SENIOR CITIZENS

We are pleased to continue a memorial estate program especially designed to provide substantial savings for senior citizens. This approach will be of particular interest to retired residents with fixed income budget considerations. If you do not own cemetery property locally, it could prove advantageous to know details of this unusual new program. Complete information will be delivered at your request.

Whatever the nature of your vacation trip, be it highly civilized or primitive, its purpose remains essentially the same. It is supposed to provide a delightful escape from all the cares, chores and responsibilities that comprise your life throughout the rest of the year; and to offer opportunities for new adventures and sources of knowledge about the world you live in. However, there is one part of your life that should always accompany you wherever you go, and that is your faith in God, which is there to sustain you throughout each day's experiences, at home or away. In any town or city you will find a branch of your chosen Church to attend on the Sabbath; in the wilderness you will see and enjoy the works of God first hand, as visible proof of His love for you.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Ruth E. Robinson
Mrs. Merrill Murphy arrived home last week. Monday with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Murphy from Plymouth, Ind. While here they are sunbathing and will stay the week, leaving next Tuesday. We are happy to have Ivy back here and will be seeing more of her.

News or reports of our park residents via mail to Al and Dorothy state: the Round Barn Festival is coming up in Indiana and Margaret and Bill Belcher will be there; Mildred and Ralph Helt had a nice trip home in lovely weather, visited her brother and son Don and Sandy had a birthday dinner for Scott their grandson, and Charles and his wife which added up to a happy time with their family. A trip to Wisconsin a little later is in the prospective traveling plans, for the Helts.

Styrl and Mary Mishey report 86 degrees in the shade, rain which is making their garden grow, and pleasant association with the Senior Citizens of Belville. They will try to make the Park Picnic in Bourbon, Ind. in August. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stone are busy with selling their "extras" as the next move will be to a new Mobile Home in a nice park and Walter has been busy painting the house and garage. Viola has been feeling tired and being treated by her doctor. We pray for them to be well and happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps Buttons are also busy with a nice garden and enjoying fresh vegetables. They are as eager as anyone to save electric power, and are having a gas stove and water heater installed, which is more convenient in case of power failures.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ringer report that it rained so hard one day that the water was half-way up their legs, but Edith was able to stay dry, as Erwin drove her to the hospital for Volunteer duty. The sewers couldn't handle the downpour. The farmers should be happy as the crops and gardens look very good this year. The house repairs on their home from last winter's blizzard have been completed nicely, so now they will be doing delayed spring cleaning. We wish them a pleasant summer, too.

Mrs. Vera Dager writes that she will eventually be living in an apartment in Tiffin, Ohio, but will also keep her home, here. She has been quite busy getting ready for a yard sale. Mr. and Mrs. Foster McNeil are in good health and busy, also with a garden and lawn doing well. They enjoyed their stay last winter and are looking forward to their return. Let us wish much joy to Mr. and Mrs.

Sylvan Baker in their new home in Springfield, Ohio where they moved this spring. The debris from the farmhouse continues to be a chore as they continue working at it. Anticipating their return to our park, hopefully with lighter hearts, to enjoy our various activities and programs, - keeps spirits up, for all. Letters from our northern friends with news of activities, does put a feeling of closeness between us, in spite of distance. Russ and Vera Bridge from Columbia City called on Virgil and Hazel Welly at their summer home at Winona Lake, Ind. and Russ is still busy making baskets from Walnut shells. We miss all you good people so keep the news coming. Your flowers are beautiful as they are everywhere in Avon Park with all the heavy rain showers which we have been blessed with. Mr. Delbert Husband is convalescing at home after a hip replacement operation and getting along fine in Goshen, Ind. Our best wishes for a speedy recovery so he can shuffle next year! Claude and Myrtle Bynner from Hilliard, Ohio are in our thoughts and good wishes to them for improving health, and pleasant summer.

Pesticide Disposal

Studied by IFAS

Better methods for disposal of unused banned pesticides, empty pesticide containers and commercial wastes are being studied at the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS).

Based on a grant from the Environmental Protection Agency, Dr. James Davidson, soil science professor at IFAS, studied the feasibility of soil microorganisms breaking down certain pesticides when present in one soil at high concentrations.

Incineration, one of the most popular methods of disposal, leaves some residue which also must be disposed of. This fact, coupled with the current energy situation, shows that other methods should be considered, said Davidson.

Another question Davidson looked at was whether the pesticide data base from studies using low concentrations, such as is used in home gardens or agriculture fields, could be used to describe the fate of large pesticide concentrations.

"Some soils could inactivate certain pesticides, while other soils, unless chemically treated or managed properly, have a limited ability to breakdown the chemical," said Davidson.

"Certain pesticides will breakdown, but their metabolites (breakdown products of the pesticide) may be just as dangerous as the original pesticide," said Davidson.

Preliminary results of the study show that soils with high organic matter and clay contents provide larger surface areas which enhance pesticide absorption and reduce the toxicity of the pesticide.

FTP-NEA To Have Training Conference

The 31,000-member FTP-NEA, Florida's largest teachers' organization, has scheduled its annual Summer Leadership Conference for the first week in August. Approximately 300 teachers are expected to attend the four-day training program to be held at Florida Technological University in Orlando on August 14, 1978.

"Training FTP-NEA leaders to represent our 31,000 members with regard to all aspects of their professional lives is one of our top priorities," stated FTP-NEA Executive Director Don Cameron. "This four-day session allows our leaders to train together in areas that affect daily activities in the classroom." Participants will be offered seminars in communications, professional development, collective bargaining, special services, racism-sexism awareness, and migrant education.

In a related matter, FTP-PAC, the political action arm of FTP-NEA, will also meet at the conference to endorse candidates for Florida House and Senate seats as well as all statewide offices.

Gert and Dan Bohland are entertaining visitors this week from St. Anne, Ill. They are Gert's cousin and family, John, Bernadine, and Tammy Price, and the Price's two grand-children, Karen and Brian Krause. They all drove to Bradenton on Sunday in the Price's motor home and enjoyed a day at the beach on Anna Maria Island.

Howard Mallinger left on Saturday to visit with his father who is critically ill in New York. We all hope he will find his father improved. Leonard Harah of Fort Myers, visited last week-end with his mother and father, Rev. and Mrs. C. Dennis Harah of Avon Park, and with his sister and brother-in-law, Margie and P.D. Wells of Bonnie Brae.

Ellen Hunt, Verda Miller, Ann Lockwood, and Norma Gerbig spent a day shopping in Bradenton last week. While there, they had dinner at Pete Reynard's restaurant.

In a letter from Agnes and Charles Davies, they reported that they have a real good garden and are picking peas. Charles already has all of the wood cut for next winter's cold weather. Bet he's glad he will be here instead of up there! Margie Wells and Lois Wetherby of Sebring had lunch at the Ranch Buffet last week. Lois and Margie were college classmates at Kentucky Wesleyan College in Winchester, Kentucky. Lois is the librarian at Sebring Public Library.

If you are interested in going swimming with the Bonnie Brae Mermaids, there are now two groups. One leaves early in the morning around 9 a.m. and the other group leaves at 1:30 p.m. Anyone is welcome to join either of these two groups! The ancient Greeks believed that eating fennel would help them regain their youth.

The Herman Wursters were happy to have their son Howard and his wife Dorothy from Tingley, Iowa, visit their over the Fourth and to help celebrate Sheila's birthday.

Accidents
Our newest member of the club, Bernard Phelan, who has just recently moved to Avon Park, was mowing his lawn on his new riding mower when he tipped over and cut his right foot badly. It was necessary to have surgery and to be hospitalized several days. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Trippers
July 2, Allene Howard Dorothy Gruber and Esthe Board joined a group from Avon Park and Sebring on a bus tour to the Country Inn Playhouse in St. Petersburg. They enjoyed the ride and a delicious dinner, but mostly the play which was "The Second Time Around." There were reports of many giggles as one would remember some scenes of the play and react in the bus on the way home.

Students Allowed Choice Of Food

School district participating in the National School Lunch Program may now permit their junior high and middle school students to take as few as three of the five menu items offered in school lunches. The action, announced by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Sydney J. Butler, is required by Public Law 95-166.

"The purpose of this change is to reduce food waste in the school lunch program," Butler said. "Junior high and middle schools may offer this option to their students upon approval of their local school food authorities. Senior high school students have had the option to choose since June 1976. The department wants all children to eat the complete school lunch," he said. "And in order to achieve this, we encourage schools to offer nutritious meals that reflect children's food preferences. However, if junior high or middle school children don't intend to eat certain items in the lunches, they won't be required to accept them on their plates. Previously, they were required to accept all five components of the school lunch."

The five components of the school lunch are milk, bread, meat or meat alternate and two vegetables or fruits. Students will continue to pay the full amount for lunches, even if all five items are not accepted. In addition, the amount of federal reimbursement for each lunch served will not be affected by the change.

In February 1978, the Department issued proposed regulations to permit junior high and middle school students to choose as few as three of the five items in school lunches (USDA press release 601-78). Public comment was requested. The Department received 309 comments on the proposal; 267 of the responses favored the change.

Gas Company Has Dividend

The board of Directors of Florida Gas Company declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 36 cents per share on its common stock. The dividend is payable September 15, 1978 to shareholders of record on August 21, 1978.

BEER HEISTED
An estimated $281 worth of beer was taken from the Club Saran in Avon Park. Highlands County sheriff's deputies said that entry was made by pushing open a rear window.

Enjoy the Summer Refreshers... from Publix, the Place for Produce.

Nothing refreshes better than a big, fresh salad of fruits or vegetables.
And it's hard to find 'em fresher than those at the Place for Produce.

COUNTRY SALAD

- 1 clove garlic
- 1 head lettuce
- 3 green onions, thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup sliced radishes
- 1/4 cup grated carrot
- 1/2 cup thin strips boiled ham
- 1/2 cup thin strips Swiss cheese
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- Salt
- Freshly ground pepper
- French Dressing

Rub salad bowl with a peeled clove of garlic. Tear the lettuce into bite-sized pieces into the salad bowl. Add the onions, radishes, carrots, ham, cheese and eggs. Season to taste. Toss with French Dressing. Serves 6.

Food For Thought

way from home is always in milk. Dr. C. Bronson replied when asked why eating out trend, gobbling just a third of our food is alarming. Only 10 percent of our food is a hamburger joint, the director of the Dairy and Food Nutrition Council of Florida, a trade association.

The ubiquitous shakes, Dr. ne said, are usually prepared from sour cream, a milk derivative, is vegetable fats, and not in the fluid milk that our state's dairy farmers are used to sell.

The Florida dairy farmer's sale in a fresh milk sale at a st-f food place is a loss for a consumer, too, in Dr. Lane's view.

Palaeinta, she explained, are frequently filled with sweetened pot cheese and served hot as a main lunch or supper dish or for dessert at dinner. Mrs. Molnar substituted Gulf crabmeat for the cheese in designing her entry for the Hernando County contest that had made her a finalist at Daytona here is her recipe:

SEAFOOD CREPES
3 eggs
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 Tablespoons melted butter
Beat together thoroughly the eggs, water and milk. Add flour and salt; still till well blended; mix in butter. Cover. Refrigerate for at least an hour before baking.

To bake, brush a 7-or 8-inch fry pan with oil, heat over moderately high heat until the temperature becomes suitable for pancakes (when water dropped on the surface sizzles and evaporates in a few seconds).
Add about 1/4 cup batter, quickly tilting pan to cover bottom with a thin coat. Bake crepe about a minute until light brown, turn and bake other side about 1/2 minute light brown, turn and bake other side about 1/2 minute. Transfer to a plate. Continue with remaining batter, stacking crepes. Batter should yield 12 to 15.

Filling:
2 cups white sauce, recipe follows
2 tablespoons dry sherry

1/2 cup shredded Swiss or brick cheese plus 2 tablespoons
2 cups canned or cooked crab and - or shrimp
3 tablespoons chopped spring onions salt and pepper to taste
To the white sauce add the sherry and 1/2 cup of the cheese, divide in half. To one-half add the seafood and spring onions; season to taste with salt and pepper. Divide the seafood mixture among the crepes, spooning it along the center of each. Roll; place smooth side up in a buttered baking dish.

Top with the remaining half of the white sauce, sprinkle with the remaining cheese and bake about 15 minutes in a preheated 375 degree oven until thoroughly heated and a pale brown on top.
White Sauce:
4 tablespoons butter

by Jane Nickerson

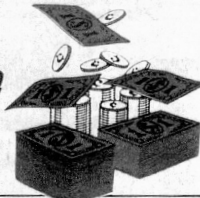

4 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
Melt butter over low to moderate heat in a heavy saucepan. Blend in flour, salt and pepper, stirring until smooth. Gradually add the milk, stirring; cook, stirring, till mixture comes to a boil. Simmer a minute.
Yield 6 servings.

But none return so many untiring penny for penny, as those who examine nutrition labels must know by now. On milk cartons and caps in recent years, they tell you that the milk is a powerhouse of protein, riboflavin and the calcium that comes hard to find outside the dairy group.

And if the calories in whole milk of 3.3 percent butterfat seem excessive, Dr. Lane greets, then the fat-reduced milks, growing in popularity and superior in flavor to those of a generation ago, offer alternatives. At no sacrifice of other nutrients, they lower calories from 150 in eight ounces of the whole product to 82 in milk with 2 percent fat, 62 in that with 1 percent, and 55 in that with 0.5 percent.

What about the lactose intolerance of which you hear more nowadays, I asked Dr. Lane. He explained that a shortage in a human system of an enzyme called lactase, (essential in digesting the carbohydrate in milk known as lactose, may cause discomfort when the fluid is consumed. But he thinks that intolerance has been overdiagnosed, and so Libdo nutritionists Dr. Johanna Dwyer and Dr. Jean Mayer of Tufts University.

The interview turned to the fluid milk that is aseptically packaged so it no longer needs to be stored at low temperatures, a product on sale in Europe and Canada Dr. Lane guesses its appearance in retail stores in this country is unlikely unless the energy crisis makes prohibitive the cost of refrigerated transportation.

The date on milk bought in stores (less than 10 percent is home-delivered) is the last day it may be sold. If home - refrigerated at 40 degrees or less, it should last at least four days after the stamp. Florida is the only state, Dr. Lane reminded me, that requires that not only all fluid milks be Grade A, but also buttermilk, yogurt, sour cream and cottage cheese as well.

The nutritionist had just arrived at the recent convention of Dairy Farmers, Inc., at Daytona Beach when I caught him in conversation. I was there as one of five judges.

The dairy group awarded $1,000 to a seafood crepe dish that had scored highest on these five factors, to each of which a judge could give a maximum of 20 points: nutritional value, originality, economy, attractiveness, flavor and texture. Ten finalists who had won in county contests had been asked to come to Daytona, to the Spruce Creek High School, to prepare their entries, each of which had to contain at least one cup of milk or cream.

Elizabeth Molnar, of Hungarian background, a first generation American, who had lived in Cleveland before retiring to Brooksville three years ago with her husband, showed me the 7-inch aluminum pan in which she had cooked the crepes that had won her top prize.

"I've been preparing palaeinta-those are the famous Hungarian crepes-for 47 years," Mrs. Molnar replied with a laugh.
