Chief Brooks May Sue City

Council Denies Attorney Fees By 3-2 Vote

George Duncan

On a split vote Avon Park Councilman refused to pay the attorneys fees of Police Chief Robert Brooks, incurred when Brooks was fighting a suspension from the city, but now faces a possibility a lawsuit by the chief.

"I don't give up easily," Chief Brooks told councilmen.

Councilmen Robert Britt, Henry Dennis and Kelley Phillips voted to deny payment to Brooks while Council President Larry Albritton and Councilman David Barefield voted to approve the $738.

"If you feel you don't owe me the money, I can live with it but it hurts. But I tell you one thing, I won't give up easily. I'll fight for it. I'd still like to work here, at the pleasure of the council," Chief Brooks said.

Mayor J. Marshall Davis suspended the chief in May and gave councilmen a list of seven charges against Brooks. At the next council meeting, Mayor Davis lifted the suspension saying he had met with Brooks and all matters were solved.

City Attorney Jack Hancock said the charges were never "officially" made since the suspension was lifted at the meeting, even though Brooks was suspended by the mayor.

"I'm going to take our attorney's advice. This would be setting a dangerous precedent," said Councilman Robert Britt, adding any employee, if fired, would hire an attorney whose fees the city would have to pay.

Councilman Barefield disputed the statement, saying a precedent was only Mayor Davis . . .

Suspended Brooks

established if charges were brought then dropped against a department head.

"If the charges were valid, they never should have been dropped," Councilman Barefield said.

Barefield, who was extremely critical of the way Mayor Davis handled the matter, said the city had an obligation to pay the fees since the charges were dropped.

"If you executed the charges and proved them, you wouldn't be setting a precedent. Yet if you did make charges and lost, then apparently that person is innocent and should have never been charged to begin with. Then you do have an obligation," said Councilman Barefield.

"If this had come before the council, then I would have voted to go ahead and pay him. But this never did get to us. It never came before the full council at all," said Councilman Britt.

Chief Brooks insisted that due process was denied to him because of how he was suspended.

When I put a man in jail I have to read him his rights and tell him what his rights are, the chief said.

"A criminal was entitled to more rights than I received," he told councilmen.

Hancock disagreed saying the chief would have been given a public hearing if the charges had ever been officially presented, which he still claimed they were not.

Brooks said a refusal would mean he should look for another job.

"It puts my job in jeopardy now. The charges were printed in the paper although they were not brought against me. I just do my job. But anybody can nit-pick and find something wrong. If the board votes against me tonight, they're just waiting so — if they can't fire me before the next reappointment — they won't reappoint me," he said.

"I can't speak for the council but I don't feel that way," Mayor Davis said.

"I think that's the feeling of the council right now," replied Chief Brooks.

Hancock said he did not think Brooks could recover any attorney fees through a lawsuit against the city.

However, Barefield said he felt Brooks had a "good case" and the police chief said the ordinance he was suspended under "won't hold up" if challenged.

Council President Albritton passed the gavel to Barefield after Barefield made a motion to pay Brooks.

Barefield said everyone involved had been hurt due to the bad publicity because the matter was not handled properly.

"None of it was handled properly," said Councilman Henry Dennis.

Secret Meetings, Barefield Hints

A veiled, but unspecified, charge that some city officials were operating in secret and conducting business in private meetings was leveled by Councilman David Barefield Monday.

"I really think some of the council thinks, lets exclude him (Barefield) from some of the things that are going on and it just won't get back to him."

Other councilmen told Barefield that, if he had any allegations to make, to indicate which councilmen he felt was acting improperly and in what manner.

"Don't make any accusations if you're not man enough to say, 'You said it.' It makes me feel like you're implicating me," said Councilman Henry Dennis.

Dennis adding there were times when Barefield "made decisions" with department head or heads which the whole council was not aware of.

"Nothing borderline or shady," Barefield replied. "The only decision I ever made was something the ordinance would back up, something I feel like, if I'm questioned, I can justify. I never made any decision I couldn't back up."

"I have never made a decision in a borderline case, that I know of. And I don't mind anyone questioning me," Barefield said.

Councilman Robert Britt also told Barefield he should back up any suggestions of improper conduct from other councilmen. Barefield refused but said if he ever did make allegations he would have present proof of his charges.

"If I ever bring any accusations I'll have charges and I'll back them up," Barefield said. "I just think I am being denied a right to vote on some things which should be voted on."

Britt, though, accused Barefield of

Paula: Florida Needs Eckerd's Talents

The citizens of Florida need a businessman in the governor's chair to "use logic to trim the budget and cut out the fat" of the state's largest business — government, Paula Hawkins told Avon Park residents Thursday as she campaigned for Lt. Governor here.

Mrs. Hawkins, who is running on the Republican ticket with Jack Eckerd, left no doubt as to which businessman could do just that.

"At 42, Jack Eckerd borrowed money and bought two stores. Twenty-one years later he has $72. Whatever talent it takes to make that kind of success story is the kind we need to see in Florida," she said.

"The trouble with politicians is they need the job and they want to perpetuate themselves by running for re-election every four years. I'd like to see some restraints on people running time and time again. It's like the cabinet, those people get elected and die in the office."

"Jack Eckerd doesn't need the power. He has a large corporation and he loves sailing, he could be out sailing. But his main motive for running is to show the state of Florida how it should be run, with good management, and then go back to his sailing."

Eckerd, because of his business ties, could also help the state attract new businesses instead of being known as an "anti-business" state, she said.

However, at least one area, Mrs. Hawkins said she will determine the state's policies. Eckerd has promised her she will have the opportunity to recommend appointees to the Public Service Commission.

Mrs. Hawkins has served on the PSC for six years.

"That is part of our agreement. If the commission becomes appointive, I want to appoint them."

Part of the proposed constitutional revision, which will be on the ballot in November, is a proposal which would make the PSC an appointive just instead of an elective one. It would also enlarge the PSC to five members instead of the present three.

Mrs. Hawkins doesn't agree with the appointive system even though she has had many disagreements with the two other PSC members during her time as a commissioner.

"I don't think it should be a love-affair up there. That's the problem, it's always been a sweetheart deal at the commission until I arrived. They always worked out their differences with the utilities company in secret, behind closed doors. I wouldn't do that. I told them to comply with the sunshine law."

David Barefield

"I do know what's going on in some situations. Some of it has never been brought up to council. Whether I agree with all of you up here or none of you I have a right to vote on the situation," Barefield said.

The councilman qualified his statement by saying he was making no accusations and declined, when asked, to

Local Schools Spend $2.5 Million

Bruce Henderson

Avon Park's five public schools will spend about 22 percent of the $11 million budgeted next year to operate the county school system.

With no increase in teachers' salaries figured in, the five schools are budgeted to spend $2,413,532 next year. A seven percent hike in teachers' salaries would raise that total by $84,860, to just under $2.5 million.

Leading the schools in anticipated expenditures, with a budget of $896,004, is Avon Park Elementary School, which, in the county budget, also includes the kindergarten and first grade classes housed at Hopewell School.

Included in the total is $604,630 for regular classroom instruction, $43,886 for special programs designed to help the mentally retarded and others with learning or physical handicaps and $247,479 for support services such as the school administration, pupil personnel services and operation of the school plant.

Next in anticipated spending is Avon Park High School, with a total budget of $825,177 for the 1978-79 school year.

The high school plans to spend $342,471 for regular classroom instruction, $36,343 for special education programs for those with educational handicaps, $103,278 for vocational education and $346,084 for support services.

Last in anticipated spending is Avon Park Middle School, which has asked for $410,303 for regular classroom teaching, $35,251 for special programs for the mentally retarded and others with educational handicaps, $28,506 for vocational education and $218,191 for support services. This adds to a total of $692,351.

None of these budget figures include raises in teachers' salaries, but they do include a pay hike for administrators and other non-instructional personnel.

They also do not include money spend under federally funded programs, nor services provided by the central school administration and included in a separate budget.

Also not found in the operating budget is $3.3 million the school board has allocated over a three-year period to build the new Avon Park Middle School.

New Principal Promises Discipline

Bruce Henderson

Avon Park Middle School's new principal believes the primary objective of the public school system should be "to make productive citizens."

Principal John C. Martin said in an interview this week schools should steer clear of the philosophy "that education has to be a great deal of fun."

"While I like to make education as enjoyable as possible and tie in educational experiences with meaningful everyday activities, I do not feel education can be all fun," said 42-year-old former Ohio school superintendent.

"Many children have to have an atmosphere that is quiet, comfortable, with no distractions, so they can concentrate on their work," he said.

With the help of his new assistant principal, James Bradley Jr., Martin said that is the type of atmosphere he will maintain at the middle school, which he said apparently has had some discipline problems in the past.

Discipline, he commented, "all boils down to the fact that you can't teach them unless you have their attention. I intend to have my teachers have the attention of their students."

While discipline will be an important goal, Martin said his primary concern this year will be "the safety of the children around this construction site."

A new $3.3 million middle school is being built adjacent to the present building, much of which is slated for demolition once the new school is completed next fall.

Seven Arrested Following Drug Investigation

Three Avon Park men and three Sebring resident were arrested Monday night and charged with drug-related offenses. An Avon Park juvenile was also arrested by deputies and charged with possession and sale of cocaine.

According to the Highlands County Sheriff's Department, the seven men were arrested after investigators had worked on the case several months in an undercover capacity. Deputies also arrested three Lake Placid men for burglary and grand theft.

Highlands County Sheriff Deputies and Avon Park Policemen jointly served warrants on Willie James Sanders, Melvin Britt and Willie Edward Boatwright, all of Avon Park.

Sanders, of 1111 S. Verona Avenue, was charged with the possession and sale of marijuana. His bond was set at $10,024. Britt, of 811 S. Woodrow, was charged with possession and sale of cocaine. His bond was also set at $10,024. Boatwright, of 1406 Selph Avenue, was charged with possession and sale of marijuana and sale of bolita. His bond was set at $15,036.

Arrested in Sebring were Harry Hall, or 607 Highlands Avenue, Teresa Byrd Hall, same address, and Alfred James Perdue, of 4230 Hudson Boulevard. All three were charged with possession and sale of marijuana.

This is the second series of drug-related arrests made by the sheriff's department within a week.

Also arrested the same night, but in an unconnected matter, were three Lake Placid men, Lloyd Gilbert, Leslie Crenshaw and Bobbie Lee Simmons.

All three men were charged with burglary and grand theft. Their bond was placed at $2,524.

The Borderline Of Legality

When three members of the Avon Park City Council voted against paying Police Chief Robert Brooks' attorney fees, the main reason they do so was to avoid setting a 'bad precedent' in the words of the city's attorney Jack Hancock.

But their legal and ethical reasons underpinning the decision are about as flimsy as a house of cards. If Chief Brooks sues the city, the suit will very likely demolish the cardboard defense of the council.

Regardless of what Mr. Hancock, Mayor J. Marshall Davis or the three councilmen say about whether the charges were "officially" pressed, the fact of the matter is Chief Brooks was suspended and Mayor Davis stated clearly he expected the council to back him up in his action in removing the chief.

City officials also seemed to take some solace in the fact that the seven charges were never "officially" released to the public. The Sun obtained a copy and published it.

However, if Chief Brooks sues the mayor, the city attorney and the three councilmen will find out rather quickly just what is public record in the state of Florida and what is not, a fact which is presently absent from their current inventory of knowledge.

Clinging to the belief they are not obligated because the charges were never "officially" pressed is akin to a man worrying about a link in his sprinkler system when a hurricane is about to hit.

The council, in seeking to establish legal grounds for their action, overlooked what was an ethical obligation on their part; an obligation to pay Chief Brooks' attorney fees.

The council left the police chief with a $738 debt, a debt which he incurred while simply trying to keep his job.

Although seven charges were made by the mayor against the police chief, there is no proof that the seven charges were true. Chief Brooks has continued to deny them.

What now prevents the mayor from suspending Brooks again, then lifting the suspension at the next council meeting? A council meeting where, according to the ordinance drawn up by Mr. Hancock and voted for by the same three councilmen who voted not to pay Brooks, the chief could be dismissed.

The ordinance states that if five councilmen agree, a department head may be dismissed without the council giving any reasons for their action.

Judge Kelly Honored

Judge Clifton Kelly, Circuit Judge, Tenth Judicial Circuit, was recently honored by the Florida Council on Crime and Delinquency at the FCCD Annual Institute in Hollywood, Fla.

Nominated by the Polk County Chapter, FCCD, Judge Kelly was in competition for the "Courts Award" with many judges from other parts of the state. The Courts Award is presented annually to one judge who has made significant contributions to the criminal justice system and to the citizenry it serves.

As Chief Judge in the Tenth Circuit, Judge Kelly was recognized for his initiation of the Polk County Criminal Justice Task Force and his recent successful effort to institute the teaching of

So claiming the police chief did not really need an attorney because the charges were not officially pressed is specious nonsense.

If the city had pressed the charges and proved them there would be no obligation to pay for Brooks' attorneys fees. If the city had pressed the charges and Brooks proved them false, then he would clearly be entitled to have his fees paid by the city.

Editorial

What the city did was basically take the easy way out. After a secret meeting with Brooks and others, Mayor Davis decided to lift the suspension.

The result leaves Brooks with a huge attorney fee, a fee which he claims was merely to help him defend his job from false accusations.

Some of the charges listed were quite serious, such as the allegation Brooks endangered the lives of other law enforcement personnel by not informing them of dangerous situations inside of Avon Park.

If such charges were true, they should have been "officially" pressed and Brooks should have been fired. If they were not true, they should not have been issued at all and Brooks should not have been suspended.

The council, which has continued to dodge serious questions, did not care to take up the time to see if the charges were true or not.

The city's massive mishandling of this whole affair has left Brooks' in limbo with a $738 debt to his attorneys. The city's easy way out has become a quagmire with no way out.

Does the city councilmen really believe most department heads could take a $738 debt without feeling a pinch. If so, then the city must pay their personnel better than any other city in the state.

There is no proof that Chief Brooks did anything to warrant a suspension from the mayor. Until proven guilty he remains innocent. As innocent as if the charges had been pressed and disproved. It is not fair to saddle him with a huge attorney fee.

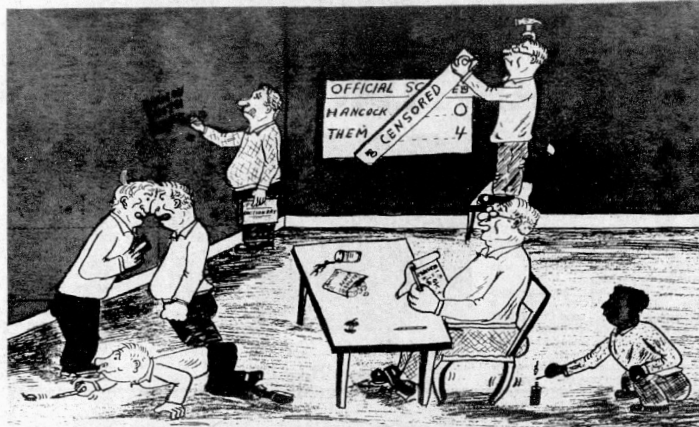

Only Councilman David Barefield and Councilman Larry Albritton seemed to have grasped this simple fact. Apparently it went over the heads of Councilmen Henry Dennis, Robert Britt and Kelley Phillips.

It is not a question of what was or was not "official." It is simply a question of fairness.

respect for law and order in public schools. Since relinquishing the Chief Judge leadership to current Chief Judge John Dewell, Judge Kelly has continued active and effective work with the Task Force and implementation of the public schools special effort in addition to his normal duties as Circuit Judge.

Governor Reuben Greene was the key speaker at the FCCD Annual Institute and urged criminal justice practitioners to oppose legalized casino gambling in their respective areas.

It is time for realism in the fight against crime! An extensive and recently published article by Judge Kelly, was extensively analyzed and discussed by FCCD members at the Institute.

Parent Workshop Poorly Attended

Dear Editor:
First of all we would like to express our disappointment in the attendance of the Middle School Workshop for PARENTS this past Saturday.

Dr. Dan Davis, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. John Martin, Principal; Mr. James Bradley, Asst. Principal; and Dr. Paul George from the University of Florida all took time out of their busy schedules to prepare this program.

Guess how many, out of 165 parents that were notified, actually attended? ... approximately 20.

There was so much printed in the Avon Park Sun about the problems at the Middle School this past year and yet only 20 parents took enough time to find out what will be expected from the students, teachers and parents this coming school term.

We would personally like to thank these men for a very informative program and also the interesting facts about what is actually happening mentally and physically to children of this age.

We are truly sorry that more could not find time to attend.

CARE Needs Funds For India

Dear Editor:
On Wednesday, July 26, CARE headquarters in New York received an urgent request from the government of India for aid to the 3,100,000 people left homeless by floods in Uttar Pradesh.

CARE immediately released one and one half million pounds of food which was stockpiled there for CARE's child feeding programs. Regional Field Offices were alerted to the emergency. We, in turn sent out a press release to newspapers and contacted local radio and TV stations.

Here the frustration set in. It seems it is non-news when tragedy strikes India.

The national wire services gave the story virtually no coverage, thus local media were unaware of the tragedy and its dimensions. Had these floods occurred in any other country it would have been headlined.

People get cold, hungry and hurt wherever they go. The people of the Indian State of Uttar Pradesh are cold, hungry, and they hurt. They desperately need your help.

Over 7,832 villages have been affected. Damage to crops and property is estimated at $37.5 million. Reconstruction will be a considerable task.

Some 2.3 million acres of crop land has been inundated.

CARE is the only private, volunteer agency on the scene. Blankets, tents, tarpaulins and clothing as well as food will be supplied as needed and as funds are available.

And it is funds that are sorely needed. Please, send as much as you can to CARE, 145 Madeira Avenue, Coral Gables, Florida 33134. Every dollar is multiplied many times over, and CARE's representatives on the scene see that the aid reaches those in need.

Retailers Urge Inflation Fight

The retail industry not only has not been a contributor to inflation but, along with its employees and customers, has been victimized by inflation. In truth, inflation is in direct contradiction to ethical and efficient retail merchandising wherein the guiding philosophy is to sell goods at the lowest possible price consistent with quality and performance. Those following such a philosophy are literally devastated by inflation.

The activities of the Florida Retail Federation has been governed by a tacit position in vigorous opposition to the inflationary spiral, but its Board of Directors has never actually adopted a stated policy on inflation as a major concern of the American economy. It seems appropriate at this time that the Federation consider such a statement and that it be publicized in order that program planning of the Florida Retail Federation might be more readily understood by its members and the general public.

As an active participant in the war on inflation, the Florida Retail Federation will:

1. Recognize that the private sector can cooperate, support and generally promote economic and non-inflationary causes, but alone the private sector can have little, if any, effect on the general inflationary spiral.

Specifically, economists apparently are agreed that the only positive and practical first step toward solving inflation is a balanced federal budget. Retailing, therefore, calls upon the Congress, the Administration and the federal bureaucracy to give first priority to the balancing of the budget and to subsume all other activities to that end.

2. Recognize that many of the causes of inflation such as increasing costs at the manufacturing, transportation, wholesale or retail levels are centered around taxes and administrative requirements placed upon business by various governments and, in particular, the federal government.

One such federal government requirement is the three phase increase in minimum wage. Retailing enthusiastically urges adoption of the recommendations of Chairman Miller of the Federal Reserve Board, and others, that the implementation of the second phase be postponed for at least two years.

3. Urge elimination of costly, overlapping, and non-productive practices now existing. Historically, this has been a constant role of retailing and it continues so. More difficult to cope with are the costly practices and requirements of agencies of government such as the Federal Trade Commission rulings on backhaul, and harassing, expensive and time consuming examinations of various and sundry businesses by governmental agencies when there has been no evidence of wrong doing by those businesses.

4. Encourage, urge and assist its members in efforts to maintain costs at the lowest possible level consistent with adequate service, maintain the lowest possible retail prices which will not compromise the quality expected of individual merchants, constantly search out methods to control inflation and take advantage of opportunities that may present themselves from time to time to more effectively deal with the total problem.

5. Seek, and encourage a program of public information on causes of inflation, ask all leaders in public life, including educators, to actively support and cooperate with a national multi-lateral, anti-inflation crusade, and pledge total support of the Florida Retail Federation to that cause.

Rocking The Boat

By George Duncan

About two weeks ago I attended my class reunion. It was the first time since graduation that I had seen most of the members of my high school class of '68. Except, of course, in police photographs. Actually all turned out to be good, solid citizens. With a few exceptions. I remember one conversation I had with an ex-classmate.

"It's good money but I'm thinking of going into something which has a better image. In a few years the kids will be old enough to know what I am and start asking questions. It would be embarrassing. My wife keeps after me to quit too."

"What do you do," I asked. "Smuggle narcotics?"

"No, I'm a lawyer."

"Watergate really tarnished the image, huh?"

"Better believe it," he sighed. "Then President Carter comes out and, in a speech, practically says we're all a bunch of ambulance chasers. Even that wouldn't be so bad if it wasn't for the state wide stigma we have to carry."

"The statewide stigma?" I asked. "Yeah, most of the state legislators are lawyers. You know what type of reputation that gives us?"

"I can see it's a bad time for you," I said. "But couldn't you wait it out? I mean the bad publicity can't last forever."

"That's what Nixon said. Besides things are even worse. At one time I was a Democratic Committeeman."

"Oh," I said. "That is rough."

"I blame it on my youth and inexperience. That's something you kids have to live down. I just hope the kids never find out about this."

"Couldn't you tell them you were substituting for a sick friend or something?"

"Try a coverup?" he yelled. "Are you crazy? You know how that could backfire?"

"Sorry," I said. "I wasn't thinking."

"It's not really our fault. The media is to blame. After all, what was Watergate besides a bogus attempted burglary. And who cares if your auto insurance rates are high? You know how much money there is to be made in a whiplast case?"

"I can guess. But I think you should calm down. Your face is getting red."

"Calm down! Calm down! Why should I? It was a respected profession once. Now everybody is making wisecracks and jokes about it. Why shouldn't I get mad? It's the media's fault. These astinine, incompetent, egotistical, arrogant media JERKS! By the way, what do you do?"

"Ah...er...I'm an accountant," I said. Discretion is the better part of valor. Besides, who wants to get in an argument at your class reunion?"

"It's the media people," he continued. "It's all their fault. They never should have started covering politics."

"Well, I think it goes with the profession. You know, city hall, police beat, courthouse, things like that."

"Nonsense. We made a mistake in passing the Sunshine Law. We never should have allowed the people in at public meetings. The country has been going downhill ever since."

At this time the band began playing, starting up with a Buddy Holly hit. "Ah, the fifties," he said. "That was a good time."

"Why, no wars?" I asked.

"No financial disclosure laws," he said.

Burrall

State Rep. Fred Burrall (R-Port Charlotte) today filed legislation to limit the number of State employees to one per cent of the population.

"There is one sure-fire to limit the size of government," Burrall said. "And that is to limit the number of people employed by it."

Burrall's bill will require that the total number of full-time state employees "shall not exceed one per cent of the official estimate of the state population for the preceding year."

The bill provides that the governor, with the approval of three members of the cabinet, may approve additional positions "to meet emergencies for the duration of the emergency."

"This is essentially the same bill we brought to the voters in 1976 and which was defeated by less than 100,000 votes statewide," Burrall said. "I believe the mood of the people has changed and they will pass it overwhelmingly this time."

Burrall blamed a "strong lobbying" effort by Gov. Reebing Askew and a lack of information to the voters for the 1976 defeat.

"Nobody's going to get fired when it passes," Burrall said. "Given the turnover in government, normal attrition will take care of the problem."

In 1976, Burrall said, Florida had an estimated population of 8.4 million.

"Had the bill (a Constitutional amendment) passed then we would have had about 86,000 state employees last year. Instead we had about 90,000 and it is still growing," he said.

Burrall also said he would urge the legislature, through the budgetary process next session, to limit authorized positions.

"I'm not talking about those positions necessary to provide services to the people of Florida," Burrall said. "I'm talking about those positions which exist solely for the sake of a self-perpetuating bureaucracy."

"I've been in Tallahassee long enough to know there is a tremendous amount of waste and duplication," he said. "We've tried to get a handle on it before, but were always stymied by the liberal majority."

"But the California message is loud and clear, and I believe the Legislature next year will finally realize that people don't want more government and they don't want a government that tries to do everything for them whether they need it or not," Burrall said.

Burrall said he has sent his draft of the legislation to the House Bill Drafting Services where it will be put into proper form for introduction and then pre-filed for the 1979 session of the Legislature.

Eckerd

Highlands County leaders of the Eckerd for Governor campaign returned home last week from a statewide strategy meeting, ready for the final push to victory in the September 12 primary election.

Attending the weekend meeting in Tampa were Highlands County Chairman

Jim McCollum and Steering Committee member Dusty Rhoades.

"We're promising to get rid of the red tape and waste in Tallahassee with businesslike management," Eckerd told the gathering of leaders in Tampa, and outpourings of support like we've seen here today show that we really mean business when we say that."

Nearly 300 volunteers attended the meeting, coming from as far as Pensacola and Key West.

They previewed television commercials, heard brief talks by Eckerd and his Lieutenant Governor candidate Paula Hawkins, ate Ybor City's famed Cuban sandwiches with black beans and rice, then separated into work-shop groups covering campaign topics from fund-raising to Youth for Eckerd.

Both candidates, who enjoy front-runner status in the election, were enthusiastic over the high spirits in the campaign.

"These wonderful people took their own valuable time and came at their own expense from the far ends of the state to here today," Eckerd told the gathering. "This is what Paula and I meant when we talk about the campaign's tremendous grass-roots support."

Tanzler

The casino gambling issue may be on the ballot for the November general election, but Democratic candidate for governor Hans Tanzler hopes the citizens of Florida have the moral fortitude to vote against it.

The proponents of casino gambling, who want to see Miami Beach become another Las Vegas or Atlantic City, must get the necessary 250,000 signatures on petitions to have the issue on the ballot, listed ninth behind eight amendments submitted by the Constitution Revision Commission.

"How can the governor and the state government justify supporting casino gambling?" asked the Mayor of Jacksonville. "The state spends millions of dollars on all types of services to make a better life for the men, women and children of Florida. Should we then tell them: 'Now that we've helped raise your standard of living, why don't you go to the casinos and gamble so we can put you at the bottom of the social ladder again?'"

Tanzler said if anyone thinks state-operated casino gambling will mean organized crime won't be a part of it, they should closely examine the situation in both Nevada and New Jersey.

"The crime syndicates have a way of muscling in on legal operations," Tanzler said, "and they drag prostitution, loan sharking and every other degrading profession in with them."

Tanzler, who has helped Jacksonville reduce the number of major crimes committed in recent years, said he feels just as strongly opposed to a state lottery.

"State government doesn't promote the sale of alcohol to increase its tax revenues. Why do we need to promote casino gambling business to increase revenues?"

"People are mistaken if they think it will solve all of the state's money problems. It won't fund our schools or pave all of our roads. If the gambling operating in Miami Beach was as large as that in Las Vegas, it would generate only $100 million annually in new revenue, while a half-cent hike in the sales tax would generate $200 million and present fewer headaches."

Tanzler said on this issue the church and state should be united in trying to defeat it.

"I realize we won't discourage people from gambling, but I am convinced it is not government's place to encourage people to do something that can damage and even destroy them and their families. The odds are against them."

Band To Begin Rehearsals

Pre-school rehearsals for the Avon Park Marching Grenadier Band will begin Tuesday, August 22nd at 10 a.m., and continue through Friday, Aug. 25. Each day will be divided into three sessions: 8:30 - 11, 1 - 4, and 7 - 9. Rehearsals are intended to focus on both playing and marching skills.

Fred Rattan will be the instructor for the Flag Corps this year. Rattan is a music major at Troy State University and is a former band captain of the TSU Band. He is presently captain of the South's "Sound of the South" Color Guard; a position he has held for two years. Avon Park's Honor Guard will continue under the direction of Francis LaPlam.

Each member of the band and its auxiliary units should attend these rehearsals in order to insure his or her place in the band this fall. Any questions concerning the band or its functions should be directed to Joe Keating at 453-7113 or 453-6604.

Obituary

Rudolph "Doc" Lewis, age 55, of 906 W. Winfield Street passed away Wednesday morning July 26, at Walker Memorial Hospital. He was born in Tattinall County Georgia, the son of Ben and Elizabeth Lewis. He was a mechanic for Reebles Tractor Co.

He was a member of the Avon Park Church of God. He is survived by his wife, Katie Jones Lewis, two daughters, Mrs. Carolyn Dawson of Ft. Worth, Texas, and Mrs. Barbara Ann Young of Sebring, and two sons, Charles Edward Lewis of Jacksonville and David Rudolph Lewis of Avon Park. He also leaves four brothers, Banford, Rance, Corbett, and Dewey, as well as six grandchildren.

Services were held Friday, July 28, at 11 a.m., at the Avon Park Church of God with Reverend Paul Searey officiating. Burial followed in the Boughainvillea Cemetery, Avon Park.

Visitation was from 2 p.m., until 9 p.m. Thursday.

Stephenson - Nelson - Smith Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements.

RECRUITER SGT. HARRY Persinger spoke of the success of the all-volunteer army to the Avon Park Rotary Club last Wednesday.

Sgt. Persinger Talks On All Volunteer Army

At the regular noon meeting of the Avon Park Rotary Club on August 9, Sgt. Harry Persinger presented a program on the All Volunteer Army. Sgt. Persinger is a seventeen-year veteran and served in the paratroopers and in the medical in Viet Nam prior to his current assignment as recruiter, stationed in Sebring.

According to Sgt. Persinger, the most frequent question asked is whether or not the All Volunteer Army really works. And, according to Persinger, it does.

The speaker told the Rotarians that the age limit for a volunteer is 17 (with parental consent) to age 35. The starting pay is $397.50 a month and the health care benefits are about the same as always. There are 300 different jobs available in today's Army and one can enlist and actually delay his reporting date up to a year.

The Army now requires a 10th grade education and is working toward a goal of an all-high school graduate Army. One can now go to school on his own time and the Army will pay 75 percent of the tuition. Also, the Army is actively recruiting women.

Sgt. Persinger expressed his gratitude to the Rotary Club and praised the organization's traditional patriotism. He assured the membership that today's All Volunteer Army is well disciplined and of high quality.

Youths Face Larceny Charge

Two youths facing multiple charges accounted for a large share of the docket, at the Aug. 4 session of Highlands County Juvenile Court.

One of the youths pleaded guilty to grand larceny, grand theft, attempted petit theft, attempted petit larceny. He also pleaded not guilty to charges of petit larceny and petit theft. A hearing on these charges is to be held later.

Disposition was deferred while Children and Youth Services (CYS) makes a pre-disposition study.

The second youth pleaded guilty to grand larceny, grand theft, attempted petit theft and attempted petit larceny. Not guilty pleas were made to petit larceny and petit theft. Hearings on these charges will be held later. Disposition on the charges where guilty pleas were entered was deferred pending a CYS report.

In the dependency hearings at the same session of juvenile court, one child was declared dependent and temporary custody was awarded to the father and paternal grandmother.

In another case the children were declared dependent. They are to remain in their own home but CYS will supervise the home. In review of a dependency case the child was continued in foster care.

Padgett Joins Century 21

Century 21 Anderson Realty is pleased to announce that Lane Padgett, a native of Avon Park, is its newest neighborhood professional. Lane is a graduate of Avon Park High School and Parsons College. He has taught high school and coached football and baseball; and for the past six years has been a production supervisor for Ben Hill Griffin Inc. Library Ends Summer Program

The Summer Film for children at the Avon Park City Library came to a successful conclusion this week. The Library showed full-length feature films to school-age children free of charge for 10 weeks at the library. Over 750 children participated in the Festival and enjoyed such favorites as: Walt Disney's That Darn Cat, Now You See Him, Now You Don't, Treasures of Matamoras, Blackbeard's Ghost and Gus.

With the start of the new school year the City Library will offer a FREE Film Program for school-age children one afternoon each week after school. There will also be a film program for Pre-Schoolers one morning each week as well as story hour. Check the SUN for announcements of the dates and times of these free programs for children or call your library at 453-4842.

Padgett is excited about entering the Real Estate Profession as he can offer both his expert knowledge of Avon Park and the excellent marketing benefits of CENTURY 21 to all those thinking about buying or selling property in the Avon Park area.

Lane will be concentrating his efforts in Avon Park and extends an invitation to all to stop by and see him at the CENTURY 21 Anderson Realty office on Highway 27 between Avon Park and Sebring.

Mrs. Hugh Campbell Ward Jr.

Local Couple Weds

Holly Anne Reddick and Hugh Campbell Ward, Jr. were married Saturday morning, August 5, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reddick of Avon Park.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Campbell Ward of Jacksonville.

The bride's father, Rev. Click, officiating the double ring ceremony, assisted by Ed McGowan of East Point, Ga.

Arched candleabra, decorated with sprays of white daisies and pink carnations cast a soft glow gracing the Chancel of the church. Magnificent palms and ferns were placed at focal points throughout the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride wore a gown of Quiana knit with a sweetheart neckline, empire waist, an attached chapel train elegantly trimmed in lace applique. Her mantilla fingertip veil was trimmed in lace applique and she carried a bouquet cascade of white spring flowers, miniature roses and baby's breath.

Attendants: Karen Click, sister of the bride of Avon Park Lakes, attended as maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of pale aquamarine Quiana knit, with a modified sweetheart neckline and top-stitched wrap-around train with cap sleeves. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers consisting of miniature mums, pin and yellow daisies and baby's breath, and she wore a matching hairpiece accompaniment.

Julia Click of Lakeport, cousin of the bride and Janis Vess, of Harrison, Tenn., aunt of the bride, attended as bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses to the maid of honor and carried spring bouquets of solid yellow and pink and baby's breath, and matching hair piece accompaniments.

Mrs. James Click, Jr. mother of the bride chose for this occasion a long peach colored gown of pink brocade with cowl neckline, and she wore a corsage of variegated peach carnations and miniature rosebuds and baby's breath.

The bridegrooms mother was attired in a long sleeveless knit gown of rose print and a corsage of rose carnations and baby's breath.

Mark Tyree, brother of the groom of Tampa served as best man.

Scott Gregory of Roanoke, Va. and Mike Carver of East Point, Ga. attended as groomsmen.

A reception was held in the Florida Power Lounge following the wedding ceremony. The tables were overlaid with white linen cloths trimmed in lace. Candelabra of silver and bouquets of pink carnations, yellow and

Click-Tyree Wedding Vows Solemnized August 4

Miss Carole Elizabeth Click, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James S. Click of Avon Park Lakes and Terry Wednell Tyree were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Friday, August 4, at 7 p.m. The solemnizing of the nuptial vows took place at the First Christian Church with the bride's father, Rev. Click, officiating the double ring ceremony, assisted by Ed McGowan of East Point, Ga.

Margaret Simon of Avon Park was placed in charge of the guestbook. Those assisting in receiving and serving were Mrs. Charles Shaw, Mrs. James Kornegay, Mrs. H.J. Rutherford, Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mrs. Ronald Carnes, and Mrs. Betty Hoffman.

For their honeymoon trip to Disney World and Jacksonville Beach the bride chose a pale blue knit dress with white accessories, and wore a corsage of white sweetbush roses. Afterwards they will make their residence in East Point, Ga.

The bride is a graduate of Clanton High School, graduate of Atlanta Christian College (1978), ACC 1978 Homecoming Queen, Delta Theta Sorority, Retroact, Concert Choir, Christian Ministers and His Light.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Hillsborough High School, a senior at Atlanta Christian College, Basketball Team of ACC, and ACC Concert Choir.

The bridegroom is currently employed as Youth Minister at Riverdale Christian Church of Atlanta. He will continue his education at ACC. The bride is planning to seek employment during her husband's last year of schooling.

For her "something old" Mrs. Tyree carried a handkerchief of delicate handmade lace, an heirloom from her great, great, great, grandmother. As her only jewelry she wore a diamond pendant, an heirloom from her great, great aunt.

Bunny Scanlan, a member of the American Heart Association, Florida affiliate, and a nurse at Walker Memorial Hospital in the critical care ward is also an emergency medical technician volunteer, working in the Highlands County area. Bunny graciously volunteered her time, services, and material for the CPR article in last's week edition of the Sun, but unfortunately her credits were unavailable cut off for lack of space.

Bunny along with another volunteer also does blood pressure checks at St. Mark's Missionary Church, free of charge, each second and fourth Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Everyone is invited to come and have their blood pressure taken, and a card is given to the patient stating the last time the count was taken and what it was. This will allow the patient to keep an accurate account of their blood pressure readings.

Mike Brown Returns From Concert Tour

Receiving his Avon Park High School diploma early, Mike Brown was off to Basic ROTC training at Ft. Knox, Ky., then on to Europe for a concert tour. With August half gone he will leave on the 25th for the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. Mex. Mike whose father has retired from the Armed Forces had played the sliding trombone in the Avon Park High School Grenadier Band for three years. His first year of high school was at Western Hills High School in Ft. Worth, Tex. He had attended grade schools throughout the United States.

Principal Les Watson presented Mike's diploma early so he could arrive at the Ft. Knox ROTC Camp on time for a six week course in a reserve officer training brigade. Graduation was on July 6.

With his parents Mike visited relatives in Pennsylvania. Then it was on to New York for three days of rehearsal with the American Musical Ambassador Group. They gave an outdoor concert at the Lincoln Center for Performing Arts on July 12. Several hundred people attended the performance of marches and concert music.

The following day three bands of 110 members each boarded 747 jets for the flight to Paris, France, losing about six hours sleep on the flight because of time zone changes.

After three days of rehearsals and sight seeing Mike's group played a concert on a covered outdoor platform in one of the city's parks for approximately 300 people. Mike's band was directed by Vincent Denino, Director of the University of Texas Longhorn Band.

Moving on to Switzerland the band stayed for two or three days at Lucerne, giving an outdoor concert in the town square. At Lugano, where they stayed one day they gave a night concert from an uprisal platform in the town square. The director or maestro of the town symphony directed the band for the "Radecky March." They had an excellent attendance for the concert.

In Italy they passed through Milan on the way to Venice, where they stayed overnight but did not play. They travelled by bus which Mike reported as super clean and having a good seat design.

At Innsbruck, Austria, their indoor concert was recorded. At Salzburg their concert was played in a restaurant, which had all of the tables taken by the time the concert ended. They stopped overnight at Rudshien, Germany on their way to Holland.

At Amsterdam they stayed for four days because a home stay in a small nearby village had been cancelled. Here they gave an outdoor concert in one of the city's parks with lots of people attending. It was rather informal, Mike commented, and band members were treated to sandwiches and soda after the performances.

On their trip across the North Sea to England and London many of the band members slept on the floor or in chairs as there were only 24 berths aboard the ship. In the dark the ship's wake had a phosphorescent glow, Mike said.

In London they gave a Sunday concert in the industrial area and it rained. But people came anyway, when they heard the music.

In each concert the band played "America the Beautiful" and ended the concert with "Stars and Stripes" with the trumpets and trombones out front. This went over well with the audiences and the response was good, Mike stated.

Mike's group arrived back in New York on Aug. 1, with Mike getting to Avon Park about 5 a.m., Aug. 2. On Aug. 20 Mike will head for Roswell, N. Mex. to attend the liberal arts military school and junior college. Graduating at the end of two years, Mike will have the choice of entering the United States Army or delay his entrance until he gets his Bachelor of Science Degree.

Jeff Dannels Attends Heart Research Program

Seventeen year old Jeff Dannels, a young man who "likes people who like people" went to college this summer on an American Heart Association (AHA) scholarship.

Jeff is part of a group of 72 high school science students, 36 of whom are AHA-sponsored in the amount of $15,700, who are attending the 20th annual Summer Research Participation Program at the University of Florida. The program is running June 18th through August 12th, and is administered by the Florida Foundation for Future Scientists.

Jeff is the son of VISTA Volunteer - Coordinator, Carolyn R. Dannels, and Max Dannels, a Lake Placid middle school teacher. The annual program for junior and senior high school students gives young people the experience of eight weeks on a college campus, while performing original research projects, and learning career potentials, particularly in medicine.

Under the direction of Dr. Hamdi Mohammed, Jeff is working with several acids used in etching nonprecious dental alloys. The etching tests are being used to determine those acids or mixtures which will reveal a clear and contrasting view of the microstructure of the alloy. These microstructures need to be revealed so that they explain the mechanical properties of the alloys.

Dr. Mohammed's department is the one which recently made headlines when it announced development of a new material for partial dentures and crowns, costing one-quarter the price of gold.

Jeff's future career goals include a doctorate in civil or electrical engineering. In his short life, he has accrued several honors while attending Lake Placid High School, including National Honor Society, Band, and Key Club secretary. He has the unique record, after studying geometry for only nine weeks, of obtaining a 100 average, and staying above 90 for the rest of the year. Combined with a rather special talent for magic tricks, and an extremely likeable personality, Jeff has a good chance of achieving whatever he sets his mind to.

When asked who he admires most, Jeff says "Every person I meet, including my parents, influence me. I admire many people for many reasons—those who care for other people—those who stand up for their beliefs without 'standing on' other people—those who ask questions... people who are straight-forward and do their job well... people who like people."

Policy For Meals Set By Board

Highlands County School Board today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meal served under the National School Lunch and School Breakfast.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility; see attached sheet.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

The application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that the information furnished in the application is true and correct, that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of Federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable State and criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy the principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Samuel Nixon, 428 School St., Sebring, Florida, 33870, (813) 382-1121.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Each school and the School Food Services Office has a copy of the complete policy which may be any interested party.

Reduced price lunch will be 20 cents and for breakfast 10 cents.

Annual income levels shown are the maximum amount a family may make and still be eligible for free and reduced price lunch or breakfast.

"Income," means income before deductions for income taxes, employees' social security taxes, insurance premiums, bonds, etc. It includes the following: 1) Monetary compensation for services, including wages, salary, commissions or fees; 2) net income from non-farm self-employment; 3) net income from farm self-employment; 4) social security; 5) dividends or interest on savings or bonds, income from estates or trusts, or net rental income; 6) public assistance or welfare payments; 7) unemployment compensation; 8) government civilian employee or military retirement, or pensions, or veterans' payments; 9) private pensions or annuities; 10) alimony or child support payments; 11) regular contributions from persons not living in the household; 12) net royalties; and 13) other cash income. Other cash income would include cash amounts received or withdrawn from any source including savings, investments, trust accounts, and other resources which would be available to pay the price of a child's meal.

The new income guidelines apply to schools and institutions participating in the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Program and those receiving federally donated foods.

Purse Snatcher Caught By Police

Two women discovered the hard way Friday that a purse can be an invitation to robbery on Avon Park streets.

Mrs. Sharon Nicol, a Sebring resident, barely escaped losing her purse about noon while she was walking on Main Street near the theater. About an hour later, Mrs. Edith Loy did lose hers, apparently to the same thief, police reported.

Avon Park City Police apprehended 20-year-old Tommy Lee Kates a short while later and booked him on a charge of strong arm robbery. He is being held in the Highlands County jail on $5,012 bond.

Mrs. Nicol reported to police she was walking by the theater about noon when she heard a noise behind her. A youth riding a blue 10-speed bicycle, she said, came from behind and grabbed at the purse's shoulder strap as he sped by. Fortunately for Mrs. Nicol, the strap broke, but the bag fell to the ground out of reach of the would-be purse snatcher, according to the police report.

Mrs. Loy's assailant was on foot, and more successful at getting what he wanted.

She told police her attacker grabbed her purse in the parking lot of the Dollar General Store, not far from the scene of the first attempt.

Mrs. Loy said she watched the youth run past the Post Office and disappear behind a house at the rear of Avon Electrical Wholesale.

Patrolman John Chess and Lt. Walt Bellenger responded to the call, and Patrolman Chess apprehended Kates, who fitted the description given by the women, as he was walking south on Atlantic Avenue near the railroad tracks.

Fifteen dollars allegedly taken from the purse were found on Kates, police said, and the purse and other items later were returned by a local citizens after being found by a seven-year-old boy.

Both women described their attacker as a black man wearing military green or dark pants and a light colored pullover shirt.

Kates was picked out of a five-man lineup by Mrs. Loy, according to police.

Avon Park Police Chief said purse snatching has become a problem in the area, and he cautioned women to be careful when they are carrying purses with shoulder straps, which are prime targets for would be thieves.

Ludder With US Sixth Fleet Operations

Navy Aviation Electrician's Mate Second Class Gordon Ludden, son of B.C. and Rose L. Ludden of 1014 S. Highland Avenue, Avon Park, recently participated in the U.S. Sixth Fleet operation "National Week XXV."

He is assigned to Air Antisubmarine Squadron 39, based at Cecil Field Naval Air Station, Jacksonville.

"National Week XXV" was a week-long exercise in the Mediterranean Sea involving Sixth Fleet ships and aircraft squadrons. It was the 25th in a series of exercises designed to test naval warfare techniques and proficiency. "National Week XXV" consisted of combat operations, emphasizing antisubmarine and defense, amphibious warfare and logistics support at sea.

Overall commander of the exercise was Vice Admiral Harry D. Train, USN, Commander, U.S. Sixth Fleet, based in Gaeta, Italy.

A 1971 graduate of Avon Park High School, Ludden joined the Navy in September 1972.

BILL MORONEY

Morney Is Manager Of

Winn Dixie

Avon Square's Winn-Dixie supermarket has a new manager.

Twenty-eight year old Bill Moroney assumed the position August 3 after serving as the store's assistant manager for 2 1/2 years.

A 1967 graduate of Sebring High School, Moroney has lived in Highlands County for about 15 years after moving here with his family from Pennsylvania.

Moroney attended South Florida Junior College and spent two years in the Marine Corps after graduating from high school.

In order to become the store's manager, Moroney went through Winn-Dixie's management training program, part of which involves learning all aspects of the store by working in every department except the meat department.

Chain Offers Personal Computers

Special "personal" computer marketing programs have been scheduled by the Radio Shack store chain for the Tampa and St. Petersburg areas.

Beginning on August 20, and continuing for four weeks only, Radio Shack will provide immediate delivery of their Level-1 TRS-80 Microcomputer Systems through their more than 60 stores in Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater and Sarasota areas. There has been a wait of up to two months for delivery of TRS-80's until now.

Demonstrations are scheduled for the public on Wednesday, August 16, from 8 to 10 p.m., at the Sheraton-Tampa Motor Hotel, 315 E. Cass Street, Tampa; and Thursday, August 17, from 8 to 10 p.m., at the St. Petersburg Hilton on the Bay, 333 First Street South, St. Petersburg.

JOHN O'NEAL JOINED the organization last week as an associate.

The slide rule was invented by English mathematician William Oughtred in the 1600s.

O'Neal Named To Robert King, Realtor Staff

John O'Neal has entered the Real Estate Profession, as an associate with Robert R. King Jr., Realtor. The announcement was made by Robert R. King Jr., whose firm is the oldest in Avon Park, having been established in 1964.

John is a native of Union Point, Ga., located about 30 miles south of Athens, Ga. He graduated from the University of Georgia with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration and Finance. He was assistant cashier at The Citizens Bank of Greenboro, Ga., before moving to Avon Park in 1974, where he was assistant vice-president in the Loan Department of the Avon Citrus Bank for three and one half years.

John is married to the former Susan Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Stephens III of Sebring. They have one daughter, Katie, age 2 years. The O'Neals live on South Lake Lotela Drive, Avon Park. They attend the First Presbyterian Church.

For hobbies John likes hunting, golf and fishing. He took his realtors course work at South Florida Junior College in Avon Park.

Miss Daisy Smith Honored With 95th Birthday Party

The Women's Fellowship of the Union Congregational Church honored Miss Daisy Smith with a party celebrating her 95th birthday, Sunday evening, August 13.

Rev. Herbert Graetz attended as Master of Ceremonies for a most enjoyable program after a lovely "pot luck" dinner in the Fellowship Hall. The program included a solo by Tracey Sutherland, a review of Miss Daisy's career in the church by Rev. Graetz and Mr. Charles Gunn, readings by Mrs. Sadie Brown and Mrs. Daisy Wollank and a community sing led by Rev. John Pickens.

Lovely flowers and gifts were presented to Miss Daisy at the close of the program.

Church Of God To Show Films

Wednesday, Aug. 16, the Church of God on 106 N. Florida Avenue, sponsored a film titled "A Thief In The Night," about a Bible prophecy, shown at the church at 7:30 p.m.

The synopsis of the feature is about a girl caught in living for the present, with little concern about future. What happens when this thinking caught up with her provided an action packed, unforgettable drama.

Also, on Thursday (tonight) at 7:30 p.m., the Church of God will sponsor a film titled "A Distant Thunder," a story of how conditions might well be during the great tribulation. This feature begins where "A Thief In The Night" ended. Everyone is invited to come and see these films.

The Living Word

Rev. Arnold P. Smith

I don't just look like I just lost my best friend—I did. Nobody loves me. Nobody cares. Nobody.

I know just how you feel. Through the years I've lost many, close, dear friends. You don't even know why, usually, you just drift away and lose contact. Each gets busy doing his own thing, meeting new people, going new places, and pretty soon we lose track of the old friends and acquaintances who once meant so much to us. Sometimes differences occur which create cause for separation, sometimes even closest of friends become bitter enemies.

One who knows rejection better than anyone, is Jesus. He was rejected by the very people he came to save. Even the disciples left him during his trial, which was brought on through the betrayal of one of them. But the greatest pain of rejection of all he suffered, was when God the Father turned His back on His only begotten son, because of our sin which he bore on the cross. Because Jesus was a man, as well as the Son of God, He hurt even more than we do. He also hurts for us, when we suffer these things. (Heb. 4:14-16; 5:7-9).

Though it may appear that everyone has rejected you to us, that no one cares, remember: Jesus loves you so much He died for you. He is with you right now, wherever you go. He knows the hairs on your head. Nothing happens to you he doesn't know or care about (Matt. 6). Jesus said: "Lo, I am with you always" (Matt. 28:20). Again, in John 14:21, Jesus says that those who keep his commandments will know His presence in their lives. Matt. 6:33 says if we'll put Jesus first in our lives, all other things we need, including friends, will be ours. And, Jesus is a friend who sticks closer than a brother—always. (Prov. 18:24).

For answers to your questions, please write to Rev. Arnold Smith, c/o this newspaper the Avon Park Sun, P.O. Box 117, Avon Park, Fla. 33825. God Bless You.

Guirguis To Speak August 19 In Sebring

Alfy Guirguis was born and raised in Egypt. He became a Christian surrounded by a sea of believers in Mohammed. Alfy will share with us insights of the Christian's life in Egypt, his experiences of persecution and danger and his deliverance from them by the hand of God.

Now an American citizen and an accountant in Fort Myers, he has been Baptized in the Holy Spirit and used in ministry throughout the nation.

Come and be blessed by the testimony of this man of God. Saturday, August 19, at the Holiday Restaurant, Sebring, Dinner at 7 p.m., meeting at 8 p.m.

Ice Cream Festival Wednesday

The First Methodist Church of Avon Park will hold an Ice Cream Festival on Wednesday evening August 23 beginning at 7 p.m. in Wesley Hall.

Homemade ice cream will be the specialty with cakes and pies added to the cuisine.

Everyone is invited to come and bring a friend. Tickets may be obtained in the office or at the door.

Mothers Win Again

Avon Park Sun

Aug. 17, 1978 9A

In the Fourth Annual Mother — Daughter Slowpitch Softball Game, sponsored by the Avon Park Recreation Department, the Mothers again came out victorious. They remain unbeaten with this year's win.

Those participating in the match up were, for the daughters: Rose Skinner, Kay Skinner, Lisa Hulon, Janice Yates, Sheila Amburn, Judy Amburn, Cindy Dewitt, Angie Mitchell, Glenda Gordon, Paula Gordon, Debbie Black and Pat Smith (transferred from Mothers).

The daughters jumped off to an early lead, as if they were going to win the game, playing steady defense and rapping off 5 hits and scoring 3 runs in the first two innings.

The Mothers, on the other hand, started slowly, only scoring 1 run in the first two innings. The players for their team were: Doris Wilkes, Clara May Durrance, Joyce Dewitt, Linda Turner, Betty Amburn, Donnie Hulon, Caroline Martin, Jessie Goins, Karen Heins and Nancy Mitchell.

The game, which was threatened by light rain, was very close until the last innings. But in the top of the sixth, with the score 8-7, the mothers clinched a win by scoring eight runs on five hits and several errors. The final score was 16-8.

The mothers will get their names on the trophy given for each contest. It will be displayed at the Recreation Center.

Racquetball Tourney To Start

The Summer Open Racquetball Tournament, consisting of doubles and singles for both men and women will be held the next two weekends at the Recreation Department courts in Avon Park. It is open to all area players. The doubles tournament will be played August 19-20 and the following weekend will be for the singles competition. Players from as far as Lakeland are expected to play in this annual tourney.

The entry forms are available at the Sebring City Hall and in Avon Park at the Recreation Department. The deadline for entering the doubles is Thursday, August 17, with the draw being that evening. There will be trophies given for the top three places in both the men's and women's division. There will also be door prizes given to lucky participants. Enter Now!

The singles competition in "A" and "B" classes for both men and women will be played the weekend of Aug. 26-27. Again the deadline for entering will be the Thursday before the tourney, August 24. Trophies and door prizes will also be awarded.

Join in these tournaments, just for the fun of it!

Classic Is Community Commitment

What started 16 years ago as a Labor Day "golf get-together," has become a community commitment for girls. This Labor Day weekend the 8th Annual Bartow Girls Villa Classic hopes to add another substantial donation to the Florida Sheriffs Villa Building Fund for underprivileged girls.

The Girls Villa Classic is a two week event, which features a Junior Golf Tournament, Women's Team Championship, Miss Bartow Scholarship Pageant, Tennis Tournament and 54 Hole Golf Championship.

The social functions include a Saturday night party, which this year will headline Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass. The Bartow Chamber has been deluged with ticket requests, but the concert is limited to participants of the Classic.

Other functions include Fashion Show and Champagne Lunch and the Joint Civic Club Luncheon, which this year will have Tom McEwen of the Tampa Tribune as guest speaker.

"The main objective for every event is to raise money," according to Jack Spangler, General Chairman of the Classic. In 7 years, $90,000 has been turned over to the Girls Villa Complex. Seven Major and 80 Patron Sponsors help underwrite the Girls Villa Classic. The major sponsors include: Advanced Contractors; Citrus and Chemical Bank; Commercial Carrier Corp.; Florida Phosphate Council; Killebrew Manufacturing; L & M Fruit Co., Inc., and USS Agri - Chemicals. The Patron Sponsorship, which is limited to 60, has a waiting list!

Bombing Range Closed-Weekend

The Avon Park Bombing Range Recreational Area will be closed to the public the weekend of August 19 and 20, due to the utilization by the ROTC, Tampa.

Individuals wishing advanced information concerning opening - closing of the range to the public may do so by calling the Automatic Answering Service Number, 813-452-4223.

Grand Prix Races At Miami

The top inboard drivers in the nation converge on Miami to battle in the Grand Prix Restricted National Championship, Aug. 26-27, at Miami Marine Stadium.

As many as 100 skippers will compete in the prestigious regatta sponsored by the non-profit Florida Inboard Racing Club, with action starting each day at noon.

Racing takes place in four "combined" classes on Marine Stadium's challenging mile-and-two-thirds oval. The tricky course has been sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association, thus giving the daredevil drivers world and Marine Stadium records to shoot for as they vie for the coveted national championship.

Marquez And Sizemore Top Ladder

The Racquetball Ladder Tournament, sponsored by the City's Recreation Department, ended Friday, Aug. 11. The top two people in each division of men's and women's singles that stayed in the top spots the longest will receive an award. This summer's tourney lasted from June 23 until last Friday.

There were many challenges among the 20 participants in that period. The object of the tourney was to work your way from your original position up the ladder to the top spot and then hold that position the longest. The winners in each division were as follows:

In the men's "A" class, Rudi Marquez started in the first position and held that spot long enough to win the top award. Curt Hardin beat Rudi in the last couple of weeks of the tourney, but Rudi had accumulated too much time by then to give up that No. 1 award. Henry Wood was the winner of the second place trophy.

In the Men's "B" class, there were lots of changes of positions, but Flavil Graham held the top spot long enough to win that division. Roy Amburn did not have to struggle too hard to win the second place award, as he had only several challenges.

The women's "A" class was won by Peggy Sizemore. There were only two days difference in the total days that she and Patty Kelley held the top spot, with Peggy holding it 24 days and Patty holding it for 22 days. Patty beat Peggy on July 17 and was in the top spot until three days before the end of the tournament, when Darcey Ray won the match 21-12 and 21-11. Patty will receive the second place trophy.

In the women's "B" class there were not enough matches played to award any trophies.

The next ladder tournament will be held in late October.

Ostling Runs For Top Honors In 5.2 Mile Race

Dexter Ostling ran away with top honors in the Central Florida Striders 5.2 mile run here last Sunday. Ostling's 31:29 time won him first place as well in the 18-29 age group.

Coach Chet Brojek finished nine seconds behind Ostling to finish second overall and first in the 30-39 age bracket. Other winners in age group races were: Ben Johnston, 11, in the 12 years and under class; Jerry McKenzie in the 14-17 age division, in 32:58 and Richard Garcia of Winter Haven in 35:15 to pick up the trophy in the 40 years and up classification.

Alan Portis (33:06), Jody Johnston (35:14) and Sam Finch (45:11) took the second, third and fourth place ribbons in the 14-17 age group. Pat Boynton of Winter Haven (32:01), Mike Comer of Wauchula (34:38) and John Walker of Wauchula (48:21), captured the same ribbons in the 18-29 age division. Pep Hutchinson (37:50) and Bob Hopton of Sebring (45:22) took the second and third place ribbons in the 30-39 age class.

The Striders will be running in Lakeland, Saturday Aug. 19, in a 4 mile run sponsored by the Lakeland Runners Club. Several club members will travel to Jacksonville Sunday, Aug. 20 to run in a 5 mile beach run.

The next Striders home meet will be a 4 mile run at the Avon Park High School on Saturday, Sept. 9.

Tops In Blue Exceed Expectations

"Tops in Blue" far exceeded the advance write-ups of the Air Force traveling entertainment troupe. The Sunday night audience at the Avon Park Middle School Auditorium with their applause and comments appeared to agree that the show was "terrific."

The musical variety show designed for the entire family with a space theme moved along smoothly with vocal groups and individuals, musical comedy, nostalgia, dancers, juggler, impressionist, band and production numbers.

Tops in Blue is the outgrowth of the Air Force recognizing the need for quality entertainment in isolated and semisolated areas, where the professionals couldn't go. In 1963 the Air Force Talent program was started with Tops in Blue coming into existence in 1964 under the supervision of Col. Al Riley, now retired.

The show director Jim Walker from Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, stated that each member of the cast has a regular duty assignment and the entertainment work is extra. Many had been in the entertainment field or with a band before entering in the Air Corps.

The cast for the show is selected from bases around the world. Each base has its own competition with the winners going to command level competition. These winners (about 200) then compete in world wide talent competition from which the 24 member cast for Tops in Blue are chosen. They are considered the best in the Air Force, according to Walker.

Cast members are chosen from their individual talent, their versatility, ability to get along with others and their desire to be there in the show. Key man in the Tops in Blue program is Tom Edwards, chief of Air Force entertainment with headquarters at Randolph Air Force Base. He had been in Avon Park on Saturday.

The cast members are trained by Tops in Blue and have a 30 day stage rehearsal to put the show together before they go on the road. Together with Tom Edwards, they build the show, design and make the wardrobe, design and build any needed equipment and do all the other things necessary to make Tops in Blue a totally self contained show.

On the road their day starts at 5:30 a.m. at 6:15 they board their special Trailways bus and go to the theatre to tear down the equipment used in the previous night's performance and hit the road for the next base. On the bus they have a briefing of their show and work out problems. They have lunch at the base and go on to the theatre to set up for the next performance. It usually takes but two or more hours to set up the light, sound screen and special effects equipment, all of which weighs about 7000 pounds.

It time allows they freshen up before the performance. After the show they have a hot meal and get to bed before 1 a.m. It's 7-days a week work and can get hectic, stated Walker. It's a hardship for them to be away from their families said Walker, he will be able to see his wife on Thursday at Eglin AFB for the first time in five and one half months. Mail has to be sent to ten bases ahead to reach them. With 140 shows in the last 130 days there was no time in the schedule for anyone to get home.

However, there are advantages. Everyone in the cast is an entertainer, because they love it and want to work together. They see parts of the world they would not see otherwise.

On a day off they are usually in an area where they can go sightseeing, like Madrid, Spain, or Frankfurt, Germany. With 20 males and five females

Four Jailed On Drug Charges

Four Avon Park residents ended up in the Highlands County jail on drug charges Friday night after two separate raids by sheriff's deputies and city police.

The arrests were made on the basis of information supplied the Highlands County Sheriff's Department by an undercover agent, who allegedly bought marijuana and cocaine from the four.

Charged with sale and delivery of marijuana, possession of marijuana and possession of narcotics paraphernalia were Joe Washington, 35, and his wife Caretha, 30. Bond on each of the charges was set at $5,012, for a total of $35,064.

Picked up in a second raid Friday night were W.T. Matthews, 44, and Joe McKenzie, 27.

Matthews was charged with sale of cocaine, and his bond was set at $5,012. McKenzie was charged with three counts of sale of cocaine and faces a $15,036 bond.

Only small amounts of drugs were discovered in searches of each of the residences, according to police, who believe the four suspects may have been tipped off in advance a raid would occur. The team of deputies and city police officers was led by Lt. G.P. Hartsfield and Investigator Howard Godwin of the sheriff's department.

in the group, ages range from 20 to 37 years. Days of mean rollerskating, bowling, swimming along with the sightseeing for relaxation.

Having a small budget to work within they keep careful watch over their equipment and wardrobe. Some of the purchased equipment is best suited for performance in theatres. Each performer had a microphone with all sound being fed back to the speakers to equalized the highs and lows between singers and the band. The audio system alone was rated at 3000 watts. The director, the drummer in the band and the man or woman at the light console and the mixer board were in constant communication to keep the show moving along smoothly.

The Sunday night space theme performance using music from Star Wars, Close Encounter and Star Trek, went back from 1953 to the present. They performed the best, in goose bump raising style, of Nat King Cole, Doris Day, Sam Cooke, Little Richard, Coasters, Ray Charles, Drifters, Dionne Warwick, John Denver, the Goody songs, Beatles, Stevie Wonder, Supremes, Temptations, along with some of their own band the Heavy Blue Express interpretations.

The audience saw performers almost everywhere, each with three or four jobs; such as Sr. Loretta N. Benge from Sembach AB in Germany, who went from on stage to the spotlight, back on stage to play guitar for the John Denver songs then Denver songs then appeared as a vocalist. She also has charge of the wardrobe and is the cast photographer.

With 16 more days on tour, the performers will return to their regular duty assignments all over the world. But they will have a few days off to get back to reality, said touring director SSgt. James H. Walker III.

Emergency Warning System Reviewed

An emergency warning system using a special telephone hook-up to the county's schools is being reviewed by Highlands County School Board.

The system could be used by the superintendent to alert school principals to approaching storm conditions that would require special protection of students.

Superintendent Dr. Dan Davis said it took him about 45 minutes to warn all schools on an individual basis of an approaching storm in May.

With the warning system, a single call from the superintendent's office could be routed to all county schools. A special ring would alert office personnel that the incoming call was an emergency.

This emergency system would work in much the same way volunteer firemen are tied into one phone link.

Another warning system touched on was a way of alerting bus drivers to foggy conditions. Board Member Steve Roberts asked if anything had been done on a communications system for foggy mornings.

Dr. Ferrel Smith, assistant superintendent, said a frame work had been set up, but no tests have been conducted.

The board appeared to agree that something should be done to make sure the system works to stop buses from operating on dangerously foggy days.

Rudolph Weber, acting route coordinator, led the board that wherever possible, buses are routed away from U.S. 27. In some cases, where students live on the highway, buses are forced to use the route. "We're trying to eliminate the number of times buses cross 27."

A second bus is to be added to the San 'n Lakes (Sebring) and Little Lake Jackson area run to provide more room. Weber said last year the bus on this run was crowded.

A second additional run is to be in the Scruggs Road area to reduce the amount of time students spend riding to school each day. Last year some of the students were riding longer than is recommended by the state.

Other business approved by the board during Tuesday night's regular meeting included:

A request from Sebring High School cheerleaders to attend the United States Cheerleaders Association National Grand Champions in Lansing, Mich. at no cost to the school board;

A request from Freedom Assembly Church to use the Lorida School for services;

Asked Dr. Davis to look into why a vacancy in the Lake Placid home economics department hasn't been filled, since the post has been vacant for several months. Evan Thomas said his daughter, who has substituted in the past, is apparently qualified for the job, but hasn't heard anything on her application.

SHOTGUN GRABBED

Highlands County sheriff's deputies are investigating theft of a shotgun valued at $200 from the residence of Linda Cook of Avon Park. Deputies said the door to the house was unlocked at the time of the incident.

Food For Thought

Talk With The Butcher

He cut a chicken in eight parts in 30 seconds, accidentally dropping a leg on the floor, picked it up, brushed it off and remarked with an unembarrassed smile, "Well, as Julia Child would say, no matter."

The television performer was Merle Ellis, familiar on his nationally viewed program as The Butcher, and the incident was, as they say, a telling one. It showed off the two qualities that prompt thousands to tune in this wizard of poultry and meats — quick, sure skill and an offhand friendliness free of facade.

In Tampa recently to judge, with nine others, the 51 entries in the national chicken cooking contest, Ellis sat down for an hour to talk about his background and offer advice on the meat that takes the biggest bite out of the swelling food budget. He rushed into the interview, straight from the television station where he had dissected the chicken, with every ringlet of his tightly curled hair out of place, looking younger than his 44 years. He carried a case of knives as a musician might tote his violin.

"My father was a butcher in Iowa," Ellis told me, "and I began to work with him when I was 13. That explains my start in the meat business."

"As for television, when I graduated from college, somebody said, 'You have got a nice voice — you should be on TV.' I took the suggestion literally. For a decade I worked in a San Francisco station as a stage hand, stage manager and eventually a producer."

"When an independent film company I had formed was having a rough time in 1971," Ellis continued, "I went back into the meat business part time. Two years later when meat prices started to climb, I did 30 short shows on a Dinah Shore program, the general thrust being how to get more meat for less money."

Now the performing meat cutter does a three-and-a-half-minute stint, filmed by a Dayton, Ohio, company that produces 65 of the shorts in 10 days every six months. Some of the 80 stations that run The Butcher drop it into talk shows. Others, as in Tampa, schedule it as a spot in a noon news report.

In addition, Ellis writes a syndicated newspaper column, also called The Butcher, and he has authored an excellent illustrated paperback book, "Cutting in the Kitchen," (Chronicle, 1975, $5.95), now in its ninth printing.

Why should you, in fact, cut up in the kitchen? In his writings and on his shows, Ellis often hammers away at this point:

You may purchase a larger portion of meat for less than its components may sell for individually. And, he stresses, you, too, can learn to divide it in your kitchen as skillfully as any butcher.

The blade end of a pork loin, Ellis would agree, is a case in point. The tender loin is to the pig as the combined ribs, short loin and sirloin are to the steer. Usually the pork loin is divided into (1) a blade roast (from the end near the shoulder), (2) a sirloin roast (from the other end, near the ham) and (3) loin chops (from the center).

A prudent purchaser, Ellis advises in his book, buys a blade end with several ribs, sometimes sold as a rib end. He frees the meat from the bones for kabobs or a roast and he uses the bones for barbecued ribs.

Recently, I purchased a five-pound half- loin, cut from the blade end, for $1.39 a pound. I had enough ribs for two large or three small servings and a boneless roast of about two and one-half pounds that supplies 12 portions — either as it was originally presented or in sandwiches.

Had I made separate selections of country-style ribs (the blade cut into ribs for barbecuing) and a boneless loin roast, I would have paid much more than $1.39 a pound, more in the vicinity of $2.

To return to the interview, sharp knives, Ellis agreed, are as essential to the home butcher as a rolling pin to a pastry cook. He recommended a six-inch boning knife, either of carbon steel or the new high-quality stainless steel that keeps a keener edge than old-fashioned stainless did. Choose a flat grind, he counseled, not a serrated or hollow-ground edge. Sharpen a knife every time before you use it, he advised. Employ a sharpening steel, the butcher said, and never electric or roll-type sharpeners, which wear away the blade.

Every three months, Ellis continued, a knife benefits from honing on the carbondum stone, with coarse and fine sides, that you can buy in a hardware store. Learning to use a steel and a stone is simple, he added encouragingly.

1/4 cup chicken broth, blended with 1 tablespoon tomato paste
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/4 teaspoon crumbled dried thyme
1 bay leaf

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
Dash Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon capers, well drained of brine, optional
1. Heat 2 tablespoons oil till hot but not smoking in a 10-inch fry pan. Add onion, garlic, celery and carrot. Cook, stirring, till onion turns golden with slotted spoon transfer mixture to a paper towel.

2. Wipe out pan, add remaining oil, heat and brown roast in it. Transfer to a flame-proof casserole of a size that will just hold the roast fairly snugly. Add onion mixture, chicken broth, blended with tomato paste, parsley, thyme, bay leaf, salt, pepper and Worcestershire. Bring liquid to a boil, cover casserole tightly, reduce heat and slowly simmer till meat is tender and shows an internal temperature of 185 degrees, about an hour and a half. Transfer meat to a warm platter.

3. Skim fat from liquid left in the casserole; discard bay leaf. Turn liquid with vegetables into a blender container; blend till smooth. If too thick to serve as a sauce, thin with a little more chicken broth.

4. Return mixture to casserole, add capers, correct seasoning and heat to serving temperature. Serve with roast.

Yield 8 to 12 portions.

Immunizations Needed For School Entry

School vacation is drawing to a close and children are growing with anticipation as a new school year lays before them. Some are anxious to see old friends missed through the summer, while others are eager to change their surroundings, and get back in the routine of school, football games and other school related events.

But, how about the new student, the young kindergarten? Is he or she prepared for this big step in their life? Have they had their school physical and shot records brought up - to - date. "This is a must," stressed Leon Garner, Hopewell School Principal. He continued by adding that before a kindergarten student is allowed to attend classes they must have their school physical and immunizations forms filled out by a physician.

For those students who need immunizations, they may be obtained through the Highlands County Health Clinic on South Lake Avenue, across from the Middle School in Avon Park. This clinic is open on Wednesday's only from 9-11:30 a.m., and 1-3 p.m. If you are an Avon Park resident and can not make these appointive times, the County Health Clinic in Sebring at the Courthouse annex, will administer the immunizations on Tuesdays from 9-11:30 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. and on Wednesday afternoons from 1-4 p.m. and, in Lake Placid immunizations are given on Tuesday afternoons from 1-3 p.m. All children immunizations are administered free of charge. However, for the school physical, the families financial status dictates whether they can receive this service at the County Health Clinic. Mrs. J. Frassler, nurse at the Avon Park Branch emphasized the importance of children getting their immunizations, beginning with infancy. However, if a child has not had their immunizations, for one reason or another, they must get them before that first day of school. As most of the parents and students of Highlands County know school officially begins, Monday, August 28 with the First bell ringing at Avon Elementary at 8 a.m.; Avon High School at 8:05 a.m.; Middle School at 7:55 a.m., and Hopewell Elementary starts at 8 a.m. All kindergarten students and their parents are asked to please meet in the cafeteria and first grade students in the library, from these two respective rooms they will be taken by their teacher to their classroom.

Other services offered at the Highlands County Health Clinic free of charge is a venereal disease screening and is open for people of all ages. A breast screening is sponsored annually and is held at the Agri-Civic Center on South Highway 27. Mrs. Joan Endicott nursing supervisor at the Sebring Health Clinic added by saying that they also offer a Home-Health service for a fee, which is adjusted according to the patient's ability to pay. Skilled nurses and nurses aides visit the homebound and administer medical care.

Special Dietary Counseling and a diabetes program is also available. The clinic in Sebring offers a blood pressure screening for a fee of $5 and is held each second and fourth Friday of each month, and by appointments only, stated the supervisor of nursing.

STEPHANIE PORTER, who will be entering first grade at Hopewell Elementary Monday August 28, is given a DPT injection by Mrs. J. Frassler a nurse at the Highlands County Health Clinic of Avon Park.

Pre-Natal Care and Well Baby Clinics

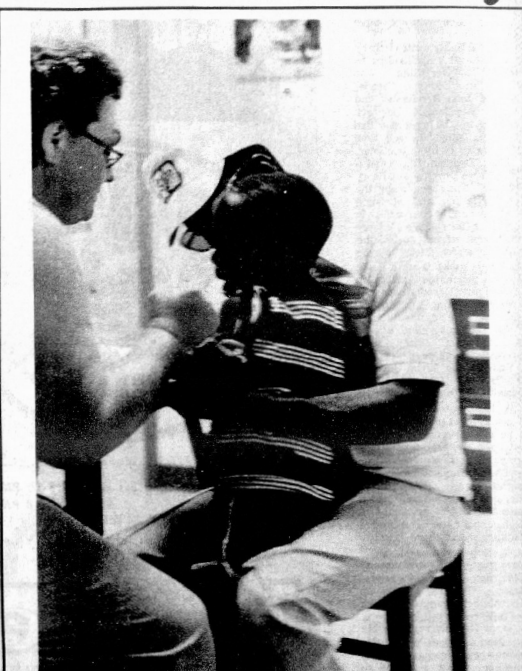

For those who meet the financial criteria set up by the guidelines of the Federal Government, pre-natal care is also offered free of charge, and carries the prospective mother from early months of pregnancy up and until delivery. But, stated Endicott, of the Sebring clinic the new mother must make her own arrangements with a private physician for delivery of the infant. A well-baby clinic is available and check-ups are given regularly up until the first year and then each succeeding year until six years of age. The purpose of this clinic she continued is to identify any early developmental defects; acute illnesses must be treated by a private physician.

Endicott also commented that they did not want any one to go without medical attention if the family was financially unable to pay, therefore your written statement is all that is needed to obtain these services. For additional information on the services offered to you call the Avon Park exchange on Wednesdays only at 453-7826 and Sebring toll free 453-4871.

CLINTON STEPHENS seems to have things under control as Clinton receives a shot at the Avon Park Health Clinic. Clinton will also be entering first grade at Hopewell Elementary this semester.

MELINDA STOVIN, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Scott Stovin went for her school physical last week and to see if her shot record was current.

She is being weighed and her height recorded by Sgt. James Perdue, a emergency medical technician TDY from MacDill AFB, Tampa. Melinda weighed in at 44 lbs., is 43 1/2 inches tall, and she will be entering kindergarten.

Cecelia Healy writes from on board the M-S Kazakhstan en route to Bermuda. With Cecelia and Ed, from Canada, are the John Hendersons and Archie MacDougall. They are all enjoying the luxuries of this beautiful ship. We will have more news of their trip later.

From Lansing, Ill., comes a letter from Dorothy and Henry Barnett. They are doing the usual visiting and attending weddings and of course there is usually a funeral. We are sorry that their storms spoiled the swimming for them. Maybe they will make it up in Lake Verona when they return to Avon Park. Dorothy says that Henry is getting in shape for shuffling by helping with some decorating on his sister's house in Missouri. They send greetings to all here.

Charles and Alyce Bidstrup did quite a bit of tripping around this summer and now are happy to be back in Florida. First they spent some time in California where they attended the graduations of a grandson from high school and another grandson from the eighth grade. Then on to Racine, Wis., where Charles attended the 51st reunion of his high school class. They visited families where there were two new great grandsons. These boys make five generations of Bidstrups. Then before returning home Charles flew to Copenhagen, Denmark to visit his father who still lives there.

Grace Romilly reports: "My vacation this year was mostly riding around from one place to another. First a flight to Michigan, then a drive thru Canada to New York State where I spent two days to attend to some business. Back to Michigan and on to Texas, here I visited several restoration sites and the Air Force Museum at Arlington. On to Hot Springs which are really hot. At one of these sites, a woman who had registered after our party, asked if I was from Avon Park. She said she had married an Avon Park man and she now lives in Miami. I told her I knew of her husband's family, the Skipers, but did not know him. It is always interesting to meet someone from your home town when so far away. Now I am glad to see all of my friends and find my home still intact." Harris Steward sends the following report of the New York State Picnic. "The eleventh annual Avon Park picnic was held at the Grange Hall in Mayville, New York on August 2, 1978 with 74 members and friends present. This was the largest attendance on record except for 1972 when there were 81 present. A pot-luck dinner was served at 12:30 p.m. The invocation was given by George Loomis of Westfield, N.Y. Those attending came from Pike, Castle, Amsterdam, Hornell, New York, and many neighboring areas in Chautauque County; also from Warren, Bear Lake, Corry and Fairview, Penn., and from Avon Park and Lake Placid. The honor guest for the day was Mr. Earl Brevoort of Sinclairville, N.Y., who will be 100 years old on October 16. A beautiful birthday cake was enjoyed by all and Happy Birthday was sung in his honor. Sponsor Limbaugh, entertainment chairman, gave an appropriate tribute to Mr. Brevoort by relating the many events which have occurred during the nearly 100 year life span of this honored guest. The business meeting was conducted by the President, Mrs. Grace Staley. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Treasurer reported a balance of $9.78 on hand. Mrs. Staley expressed her thanks to all committee members. Many could not attend due to illness or other conflicting events.

Congratulations went to Mr. and Mrs. George Loomis on their 66th wedding anniversary, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ayling on their 60th and to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson on their 50th. A motion was made and carried to hold the next picnic on August 1, 1979 at the same place and time. The following officers were selected; President, Margaret Young; Secretary-Treasurer, Caroline Crump. The new President appointed the following committees for 1979: Kitchen and table preparations, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Prindle and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Olson; Entertainment, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wyant; Registration, Eleanor Damon.

The program consisted of group singing led by Lloyd Wyant, plus vocal numbers by Mr. Wyant and Mr. C.W. Hughes. A social hour followed by the joy of visiting with friends once more. There were many expressions of a good time and looking forward to next year as well as renewing friendships in Avon Park next winter."

Avon Mobile Home Park News

The Avon Park Sun, Aug. 17, 1978 38

By Dorothy Keyes

The thirteenth annual Avon Mobile Park picnic was held Aug. 9 at the Bourbon, Indiana, Community Park pavilion. The president, John Wiedeman, gave the blessing and 55 were seated for the noon meal.

After dinner the president welcomed those in attendance. Mrs. Hazel Thompson was called upon to tell how the picnic was started in 1966. Warren and Juanita Byer favored us with two vocal numbers, accompanied by guitar.

Ula Miller presented two interesting readings. Alta Listenfelt gave meditations for those who passed away this past year: James and Mable Witter, Boyd Dager, Merrill Murphy, Wix Garner and Rowley Gaster.

The secretary, Deloris Wiedeman, read last years report and excerpts of letters from friends not present. Officers for next year are: President-Robert Lowry; Vice-President, Delbert Hubbard; Secretary, Genevieve Lowry.

The annual picnic will be held next year on August 8, 1979. There is very little news from the residents here in the park. Activities are at a minimum with some bike riding in the early morning and evenings. Also, a shuffleboard game or so in the evenings.

Al and Dorothy Keyes spent all day Sunday at Winter Haven at Cypress Gardens where the World Championship Hang Gliding finals were held. Of course, that meant dinner at "Duff's".

The Keyes have received word Al's Mother, Mabel Knowles, again plans to spend next winter in the park.

per cent of the drivers in all accidents in Florida during 1977, were under the age of 25. The Department data further show 31 per cent of drivers in fatal accidents during 1977 were persons under age 25.

A Third Of Drivers In Accidents Under 25 Years

Nearly one-third of drivers involved in traffic accidents in Florida are under the age of 25, according to the Insurance Information Institute. Yet up only one-fifth of the licensed drivers in the state. Statistics from the Florida Department of Highway Safety indicate that 161,161 drivers in motor vehicle accidents, or 31

A first partial payment of 85 cents per pound solids for 1977-78 season Valencia oranges was made by The Coca-Cola Company Foods Division to Florida Orange Marketers, Inc.

E.H. Squire, FOM general manager, said the current payment to members with fruit in the Valencia pool totaled approximately $9,970,000.

"Added to the April 18 partial payment of 85 cents per pound on the early and mid-season pool," Squire said, "FOM members have been paid approximately $20,460,000 to date for 1977-78 season fruit." Pointing out the increase in fruit value since last year, Squire said the first partial payments made to FOM growers in 1977 were 47 cents per pound for early and mid-seasons and 50 cents for Valencia.

Fruit grown by FOM members is used in processing Minute Maid and Snow Crop citrus products. Minute Maid is the national sales leader in the category, a position it has held since its makers introduced frozen concentrated orange juice to the American consumer in 1946.
