Quota Permits Being Sent To Sportsmen

There are more than 6,000 sportsmen in Florida who already know where they will be hunting the first nine days of hunting season this fall.

They are the ones who applied early for their quota hunt permit from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and their permits have already been mailed back to them.

"At this time, six wildlife management areas are already filled and others are reaching their quota," said Fred Stanberry, director of the Commission's Division of Wildlife.

The wildlife management areas which have filled included Big Cypress North, Cypress Creek, Camp Blanding, Bull Creek, the first weekend on Three Lakes and Lykes Brothers Fisheating Creek.

Close to filling are the Ocala, Brown's Farm and the first weekend on Green Swamp wildlife management area.

Stanberry urged hunters not to delay sending in their applications, but to do so as soon as possible. The Commission will accept applications for quota hunt permits through September 23.

In addition to the quota hunt permit, which is designed to ease hunting pressure during the first days of the season, the Commission has another program of special hunts for sportsmen which Stanberry's office is handling.

On five wildlife management areas, special primitive weapons, modern gun and archery hunts are offered. Sportsmen who wish to participate in these hunts can apply for permits on a special application form available only through the regional offices of the Commission.

Applications for these special hunts will be accepted by the Commission beginning July 10 through September 15. As these hunts are extremely popular, Stanberry again urged interested sportsmen to apply early.

Wildlife management areas having these hunts include Bull Creek, Camp Blanding, Citrus, Guana River and Joe Budd.

Anyone desiring an application can either call or come by the office of the Commission in Panama City, Lake City, Lakeland, Ocala and West Palm Beach or call toll-free: Panama City — 1-800-342-1676; Lake City — 1-800-342-8105; Ocala — 1-800-342-9620; Lakeland — 1-800-282-8002; and West Palm Beach — 1-800-432-2046.

Racquetball Ladder In Fourth Week

The racquetball Ladder tournament, sponsored by the Avon Park Recreation Department, is in its fourth week of play. There have been some good matches played in this time.

The results of those matches and the standings in each division are as follows:

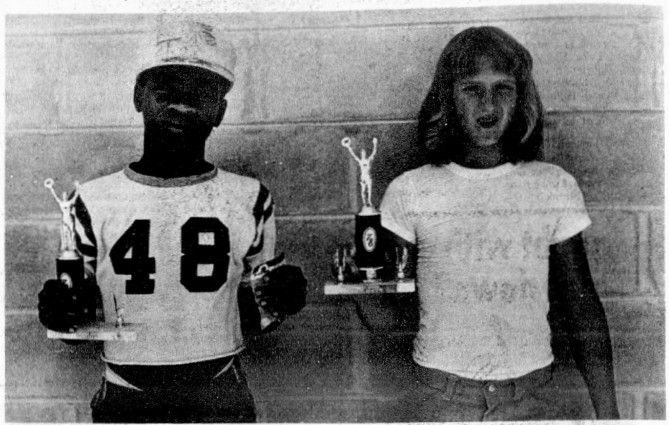

In first place in the Men's "A" bracket singles is still Rudi Marquez. He drew that spot originally and has not given it up yet. His only challenge was from Henry Wood and Rudi won that, 21-20, 2-21 and 21-20. The second position is held by Henry Wood. He defeated Lucky Dixon, 21-7 and 21-5 to grab that spot. The third place is in the hands of Curt Hardin, last tournament's winner. He also defeated Lucky Dixon, 21-9 and 21-7, to jump into that position.

In the Men's "B" division, the first place spot is held by Flavil Graham. He took over that position from Kevin Murphy by defeating him 4-21, 21-19 and 21-8. In second place is Roy Amburn. He has played only one match in which he defeated Flavil Graham 21-17 and 21-19. The third spot belongs to Grant Stallard, who defeated Kevin Murphy 21-11 and 21-16.

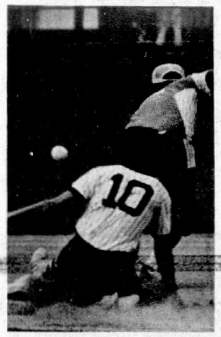

The women's "A" bracket has had plenty of action the last several weeks. Patty Kelley is currently in the top spot after she defeated Peggy Sisemore, 21-4 and 21-7. She had earlier challenged Peggy and lost that match, but managed to overcome Sisemore in the lastest match-up. The second place is held by Darci Ray, as she has not lost a match since her start from the last position. She defeated Patty Kelley last week, 21-17 and 21-11. The third position is Peggy Sisemore's as a result of her loss to Patty Kelley.

In the Women's "B" division, Coye Brenner defeated Vicky Lambiris 21-13 and 21-18. Lambiris dropped to the no. 2 spot. Third place is held by Louise Birt.

With only one month left to go in the tournament, there should be lots of challenges to the top two positions. The two people that hold the top two spots the longest in each division will receive trophies.

SLADE WARD (RIGHT) won the first place trophy and DeWayne Harris won second place in the Marble Shooting Touraament for kids 8-14 years old. The tournament, supervised by Dennis Guenther, Director of the Avon Park Recreation Department, was held last Wednesday from 2 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. at the Recreation Center. Sunphoto by Mark Albright.

Open Tennis Tournement Scheduled This Weekend

The First Home Federal Open Tennis Tournament, co-sponsored by the Avon Park Recreation Department will be held this weekend at the city courts in Avon Park. If you are interested in entering this single elimination event in either of the four divisions, please come by the Recreation Department before 5 p.m. today (Wednesday) and fill the official entry blank.

This tournament will be a good one for any of the local tennis enthusiasts to enter, because it is an "open,' event pulling players from all around the area. It will be a great chance for the local people to test their playing abilities.

The deadline is 5 p.m., today and the draw will be at 1 p.m. Thursday. All participants will be notified of their starting matches and times Thursday evening.

The four divisions open to all players 18 years and older are: Men's singles & Doubles and Women's singles & doubles. The fees for the tournament will be $3, plus one can of Wilson tennis balls per person; for doubles it will be just $2.50 per person.

There will be two trophies in each division up for grabs, plus there will be several door prizes that all players will be eligible to win. The matches will consist of the best of three sets with no tie-breakers.

Robert Fitzgerald Of Lake Placid Will Seek School Board Seat Vacated By Wirick

With an impressive 16 years of teaching experience behind him, Robert Fitzgerald of Lake Placid has announced he will seek the school board seat being vacated by the retiring Jack Wirick.

Now an instructor at South Florida Junior College in Avon Park, Fitzgerald is a life-long resident of Lake Placid. His teaching experience includes six years as a history teacher at Lake Placid High School, and 10 years as a history and government instructor at SFJC.

"Running for school board has always been in the back of my mind," said Fitzgerald, who is amaking his first bid for political office. "I think it is the goal of many in the teaching profession to be on a policy-making agency."

Fitzgerald, a Democrat, attended Lake Placid schools all 12 years, then attended the University of Florida. At UF, he received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1958 and a Master's Degree in 1960 in the field of social studies.

Returning to Lake Placid, Fitzgerald was associated with the caladium business for two years. In 1962 he started teaching at LPHS, teaching until 1968, when he returned to school at Appalachian State University in Boone, N. C., where he received a Master of Arts Degree in American history.

That same year he started teaching at SFJC.

At LPHS, Fitzgerald was named Lake Placid Star Teacher. He was named three times to the Southern Association Evaluation Team, which accredits southern high schools.

Since joining the staff at SFJC, the instructor has been named outstanding Teacher by the student body five times.

July 30, he will receive a Doctor of Education Degree from Nova University in Fort Lauderdale.

An active member of the civic community, Fitzgerald is a member and past president of the Lake Placid Lions Club, former chaplain and esquire to Sebring Elks Lodge, past master of Placid Masonic Lodge and an active member of the Lake Placid Athletic Association. He has been master of ceremonies at every athletic association banquet since 1962 and announces all LPHS football games.

Fitzgerald and his wife Mary have a son, Robby 5, who will enter school in September. "Nothing compels a person to be more concerned about the school system like having a child of school age," he commented.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald served as patron and matron of Placid Chapter of the Eastern Star. His wife will be his campaign treasurer. She was a long-time secretary of the athletic association.

Professionally, he is a member of the Southern Historical Society and National Historical Society. He is a 1973 recipient of an award from the athletic association.

Fitzgerald, who will be 42 in November, is a member of First Baptist Church of Lake Placid. He will face Marguerite Skipper in the Democratic primary in September.

"I'm concerned about the erosion of local control in education; it will be a sorrowful state of affairs if it gets to the point where people don't have input into the system.

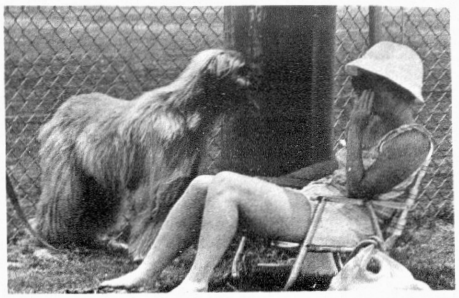

"My number one priority is the maintenance of good standards in education," he continued. "Our children deserve a quality education."

Shuffleboard

On July 8, there were four courts in play with Al. Wilson and Kellie Larrew winning three games. July 12, there were three courts playing and the only lucky winner of all three was Kellie Larrew.

Pinochle

July 7, was the last scheduled game of the summer with Allene Howard and Mazie Sarnes having high scores.

Club Visitor

This week the club was surprised to have Duke Christensen come to spend a few days with us. He was anxious to try out a new idea on the courts. He brings news of some of our members who have homes on Brevort Lake in northern Michigan. He is still enjoying pinochle games with former Guest Club members Jim and Fern Rigg and Joseph and Hedwig (Ida) Sott. The Riggs have spent the last two winters in Clearwater but will be remembered by many club members. The Sotts have spent several winters here. Next time we hope Aileen surprises us too. Accident Report

News was received this week from George and Lockie Geisler telling of their nearly being run down by a fast car in Melvindale, Mich. As they stepped off the curb to cross the street a car was bearing down on them so they started to run and in doing so Lockie fell and fractured her hip. She was taken to a hospital where an operation was performed to pin the hip. Best wishes for a speedy recovery, Lockie.

Welcome Home Longs

Howard, Bernice and Geraldine Long have returned from their four week summer vacation in Ohio and West Birginia. They report the weather as generally cool. They visited Howard's two sisters near Akron, Ohio. In West Virginia a nephew and wife, Curtis and Vera Long, were honored. Returning, they called upon another sister in Marion, Ohio, who is not well and is being cared for this summer by her daughter, Dorothy Bond, of Avon Park.

Oops! We Goofed

The Marriage License section of the Avon Park Sun was inadvertly headlined Marriage Dissolutions in the July 13 edition. They are listed again this week under the correct headline.

Also, on page 4A of the same issue the mother and mother-in-law names were incorrect in the bridal shower article. They should have been written, Mary LaFlam and Betty Lanier.

The Avon Park Sun apologizes to all persons involved for these errors and for any inconvenience they may have encountered because of the articles.

NEWS OF JOBS

Although the unemployment rate in the U.S. has been running about 7.3 percent, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, there are some people who are working out ways to increase the amount of work available.

Economists say the removal of price controls on "new" natural gas will undoubtedly encourage new drilling efforts and hopefully result in increased supplies of natural gas, which could in turn bring about more jobs across the industrial spectrum.

DELAYING COSTS MORE!

Today nobody gets a bargain by waiting around. Home values are on the rise. Prices are substantial, but the home that is medium priced today will cost more next year. That's why it's smart to get into the market right away. The sooner you begin paying into your investment, the better; you can begin to watch it grow as values climb. It's time to start getting your money's worth. You'll be glad you did it now!

Working Students Earn Credits

The Highlands County High Schools offer a program for students who have a senior class standing and satisfactory completed a vocational course of demonstrated vocational proficiency.

The Job Entry program allows for a student to earn up to 5 credits in a year. For each 288 working hours completed the students earns one credit.

Most of the students using this program are not planning on going to college, stated Les Burch, Avon Park High School coordinator, or they need the money to help further their education and have taken all other credits necessary to enter college.

The pay scale for job entry workers vary depending upon the type of job and skill of trainee, stated Burch. He went on to say that neither the job entry coordinator nor the schools have anything to do with setting the pay scales, its is solely between the trainee and the employe4.

A student must have written consent from his or her parents to be enrolled in the job entry program, he added. Some of the students enrolled in the program for the school year 78-79 are already employed. They have been working this summer in the occupation they hope to carry throughout their senior year.

This reporter visited with three students at their work sites to find why they each chose to work instead of taking other curriculum subjects in their senior year.

Barbara Miller has worked at Hillcrest Nursing Home as nurses' aide since she was 15 years old,. She said that she needed the money, so she decided to put in her application and was accepted. Barbara would go to work in the afternoon around 2 p.m., when her last class was over.

As she took her 11th grade subjects while she was in the 9th and 10th grades; Barbara did not attend school this past year, but worked instead. "This allows me to graduate with the class I would have originally, otherwise I could have completed the required courses and graduated in three years." she stated.

Barbara needs to complete two more required courses in order to graduate, American History and Americanism versus Communism.

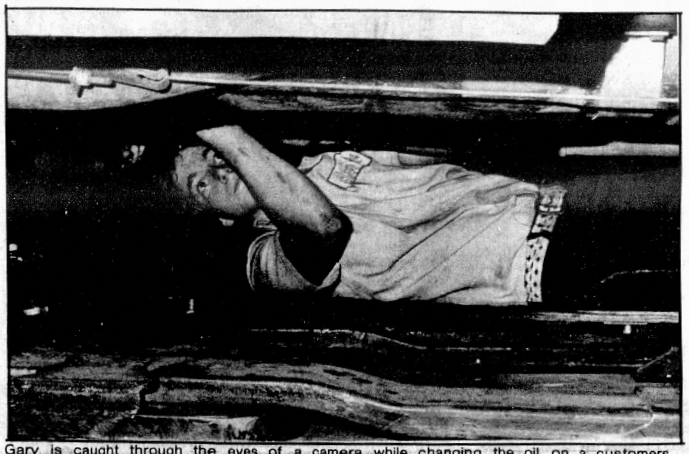

When asked what her duties were Barbara commented, "We take complete care of the patient, except for administering medication and the changing of dressings." "We dress them, give them their baths, change the beds, and turn bedridden patients to prevent bed sores." She added.

Barbara feels that not going to school her junior year provided her with a little more freedom, such as, not having to get up early; however, she missed the school atomosphere a little. She continued by saying that to hold down a job and staying with it she feels has helped her mature faster than most students who are not in the working field.

About her future, Barbara is undecided as most girls her age. She stated that she has been able to save some money and plans to go to college, perhaps to South Florida Junior College, if they have the course she wants. However, she plans to stay at Hillcrest Nursing Home until she decides what the future holds in store for her, and the career she would like to have.

Married life is in the near future for Barbara as she and Bill Farmer, a 1977 graduate of Avon Park High School, are planning a late July wedding.

Good Luck Barbara and Bill.

Gary plans to work in the automotive repair field when he graduates.

Gary started about a year ago at Wells Motors as a clean-up man and was recently given the job of changing oil and grease work.

Gary stated that he likes his work and after graduation plans to continue his career in the automotive repair field.

Carolina a cashier at Thriftway checks out groceries for a customer.

Carolina Nicholas has been in the Job Entry program for three months, working as a cashier at Thriftway in Avon Park.

Carolina only needs to successfully complete two more academic subjects to graduate, English and American History. She stated that she wanted more working hours and was interested in having a job instead of taking other curriculum courses, when asked why she chose the Job Entry program. She continued by saying that she doesn't plan to enter college. "Actually, I want to work at Disney World when I graduate," she said, and her occupation at Thriftway will help benefit her in this goal.

Cooking Corner

North By East -- Best Of Two Worlds

Cook easy, eat hearty and keep your slender figure with fish from the icy waters of the North Atlantic. Broiled, steamed, barbecued or stir fried, tender-meaty Cod or Pollock takes the heat out of cooking. Ready in minutes, the high protein fillets offer low cost, low-cal variety to hot weather menus.

For a real change try the Oriental way with delicate flavored fillets. Though a traditional wok adds to the drama of the dish, you can prepare Far East Fish Fry quite as easily in an electric skillet or a top-of-the-stove fry pan. Just follow these few suggestions for best cooking results:

- Be sure the oil is very hot before you place fish strips in pan.
- Do handle the tender fish fillet strips gently and turn only once.
- DO NOT OVERCOOK!

Always a cardinal rule in fish cookery, remember that fish is naturally tender and needs to be cooked for only a very short time for the protein to congeal and the flavor to develop. About one minute per side in this recipe should do it.

- Do call diners to the table before you toss spinach — to be sure you serve this light but filling dish in all its crisp and tender glory.

Far East Fish Fry
4-6 Servings

1 lb. North Atlantic Cod or Pollock fillets, partially thawed
1 teaspoon minced ginger root
4 tablespoons soy sauce
6 tablespoons oil
½ lb. fresh bean sprouts or 1 (16 oz.) can mixed Chinese vegetables
1 cup celery sliced diagonally
3 green onions sliced diagonally
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon sugar
½ cup water (or chicken broth)
1 lb. fresh spinach, washed, drained and crisped

Cut fillets into 2" strips about 1/2" wide. Combine ginger and soy sauce and marinate fish 15 minutes. Drain; keep marinade. Heat oil in wok or skillet. Brown fish on both sides, turning carefully. Remove and keep hot on warm platter. Saute bean sprouts, celery and onions. Combine cornstarch, sugar and water (or broth) and add with reserved marinade to vegetables; toss and stir until thickened (about 30 seconds). Add spinach and stir-fry quickly until spinach just begins to wilt. Return fish to wok and toss lightly just until all ingredients are mixed. Serve immediately with hot rice.

QUESTION:

A friend and I are planning to drive to the western United States and back this summer. We would like to make it a leisurely trip and not cut corners too much. We need to know about how much money it will cost us per day. Are there any figures available?

ANSWER:

According to the American Automobile Association (AAA), two people can plan on spending about $55 per day for food and lodging on a vacation. You should plan on spending about $27 per day for meals (not including alcoholic beverages or tips), $28 per day for lodging, and about $5 per hundred miles for gasoline and oil in a car that averages 13 miles per gallon.

QUESTION:

The other day I took my television to the repair shop to have it fixed and I asked the technician to give me an estimate on the amount it would cost to have the set repaired. He said an estimate would cost me $15. Is this legal?

ANSWER:

Yes. According to Florida law, a television repair shop may charge you a reasonable fee for making a written estimate on the cost of repair work.

It is actually a protection for you to pay the charge because when you do the repairman cannot exceed the amount listed on the written estimate by more than ten percent.

Since the repair of television and stereo sets (or other electronic equipment) is regulated by Florida law and since such equipment is usually quite expensive, you should be familiar with the rules and regulations that cover such repair.

You can do so by reading the "Consumer Handbook on Television and Stereo Repair" which is available free. Just sent a postcard requesting the handbook to Division of Consumer Services, Room 109, Tallahassee, Florida 32304

Avon Mobile Home Park News

By Ruth Robinson

Returning home last week, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Patten found the weather in Cleveland, Ohio area a bit cool and after a delightful week with their children and grandchildren, they felt Mr. Patten would be better healthwise back here in their Florida home.

Miss Florence Beck was released from the hospital, also, on Wednesday to return here to her home. We all wish a speedy recovery.

A safe and happy trip is wished by all of us, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bacon who are going to take a leisurely trip North, first stop Indiana, then on to Wisconsin where their former home was located. They will also be stopping with other friends on the way in different areas. We miss them already and they just left Saturday morning after a breakfast date with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ward of Avon Park. Sylven and Catherine Baker are contented and happy in their little home in Indiana.

The William Belchers have been quite busy with their grandchildren getting ready for the 4-H Fair in Rochester, Ind. That is a happy time, and we hope each one wins a trophy or award! Our prayers are also with their granddaughter, Debbie, for a speedy and complete recovery from her recent accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Barden Graves visited their park friends in Indiana, recently on a trip from their home in Castalia, Ohio. Some folks were home and some were missed, unfortunately. Remember the Bourbon, Ind. picnic of our own park Residents on Aug. 9th.-for a 12 Noon Lunch and perhaps shuffling, later.

Mr. and Mrs. David Boyers are vacationing with their camper in the Carolinas for a time. Yours truly, Ruth and Lawrence Robinson will be leaving sometime next week or before, for Ohio, Cleveland, Mentor, Oxford and Cincinatti to see their families.

Mrs. Dorothy Keyes will keep up the park news, as it is received. Please help her to be informed.

Vickers Joins Staff At Howey Academy

Howey Academy announced today it had secured the services of Elizabeth Vickers, a nationally and internationally known horsewoman, teacher, trainer and judge to expand its traditionally strong equestrian program.

Headmaster Dr. L.L. Jenkins in making the appointment said the attractive Mrs. Vickers has "superb qualifications" in handling of horses and riders and for management of the Academy's extensive stable of horses in the barn and show ring adjacent to the 40-acre lakefront campus.

Mrs. Vickers will instruct through the balance of Summer School which ends Aug. 11, prior to the start of the fully qualified central Florida college preparatory school's 23rd annual fall semester, Sept. 10. Applications for both are now being received by the Director of Admissions.

English born, Mrs. Vickers received instruction abroad from Alois Podhajsky, late director of the famous Spanish Riding School, Vienna, Austria, home of the famous Lippizaner white stallions.

Although professionally engaged and operator of her own Oakham, Mass. farm for training horses and riders, she continued United States riding, training, judging studies under two Olympic medalists, Dr. Henri Van Schaik and Major Hector Carbona, former U.S. Dressage Olympic Team coach.

Mrs. Vickers number among her professional affiliations membership in the U.S. Combined Training Association, U.S. Dressage Federation and related Southern and Florida groups as well as the Thoroughbred Breeders Association of London, England, The U.S. Dressage Federation of In-

Wiggins Cited For Careless Driving

Willie Wiggins, 77, of Zolfo Springs, was cited for careless driving after he rear-ended a car on SR-64 near Avon Park.

Florida Highway Patrolman Jim Vann said that William Robert Rackley Jr., 32, of Avon Park, was westbound and had stopped, awaiting eastbound traffic to clear in order to turn left into the entrance of the airport. Wiggins approached from the rear and applied brakes 106 feet before striking Rackley. Rackley saw Wiggins approaching and steered toward the north shoulder in an evasive move before the wreck occured.

Food For Thought

by Jane Nickerson

H.L. Mencken, the journalist and lexicographer, explains that a shopkeeper named George Giffy in Manitowoc, Wis., was convinced back in the Gay Nineties that a new-fangled concoction of ice cream and sauce would put him out of business at the prevailing price of a nickel a portion. So he served it only on the Sabbath as a loss leader, calling it a 'sunday." Later "e" was substituted for "y" to differentiate the dish from the day.

These crunchy additions are all made in the same easy way: Melt the butter in a shallow pan, stir in the other ingredients and toast in a 350-degree oven until golden, stirring occasionally.

Cinnamon Sprinkle: ¼ cup butter, 1 cup graham cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Crunchy Sprinkle: 2 tablespoons butter, 2-3 cup flaked coconut, 1-3 cup chopped pecans, ¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar.

Salty Sprinkle: 1 tablespoon butter, ¾ cup slightly crushed corn flakes, ¼ cup chopped pecans or other nuts, ½ teaspoon salt.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM SODA

This is as delicious as when it was first invented in one of those parlors with ceiling fan, dark woodwork, spindly chairs and marble-topped tables.

½ cup chocolate syrup
¼ cup heavy cream
1 pint vanilla ice cream
2 bottles (7-ounce) soda water, chilled

Measure 2 tablespoons of the syrup, then 1 tablespoon cream into each of 4 glasses. Add a small scoop of ice cream to each glass; mash lightly into syrup and cream. Half fill with soda water. Drop a large scoop of ice cream into each glass; fill with soda.

Yield: 4 servings.

Ice cream sauces are legion — chocolate or its richer version, fudge, butterscotch, marshmallow and so on. Fresh summer fruits — peaches, for example, mashed with sugar and spiked, if desired, with rum — are delightful additions. And so are frozen, semi-thawed raspberries (if you can afford them) and strawberries.

BUTTERSCOTCH SAUCE

Cecily Brownstone, the Associated Press food editor, developed this sauce some years ago. It has yet to be surpassed.

1 cup sugar
1 cup dark corn syrup
½ cup light cream
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

In a 2-quarter saucepan mix the sugar, syrup, cream, butter and salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full rolling boil. Boil 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla.

Serve hot or cooled to room temperature; during cooling, stir often. To reheat, place in pan of hot (not boiling) water and stir often till desired temperature is reached.

Yield: 2 cups.

EASY CHOCOLATE SAUCE

12 ounces semisweet chocolate
2 ounces unsweetened chocolate
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons brandy or orange liqueur

Melt the chocolate in the upper part of a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water. If the chocolate seems lumpy add a tablespoon of vegetable fat — not butter — and stir until smooth. Add cream; heat and stir until smooth. Add brandy; stir again until smooth. Serve immediately.

Yield: about 2 cups.

Leftovers may be reheated over hot water.

ICE CREAM PIE

Easy as pie? Some who have had difficulties making flaky satisfactory pastry have questioned that cliche. Pies are not invariably easy — unless they are done with a crumb crust and your favorite brand and flavor of ice cream. This one has, in addition to those essentials, a topping of thickened blueberries. Great for a patio supper.

Crust:

¾ cup vanilla wafer crumbs
1-3 cup butter, melted

Prepare crumbs by whirling cookies in a blender. Combine with the butter; press on bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Baking in a preheated 350-degree oven 6 to 8 minutes. Cool; chill.

Topping:

2 teaspoons corn starch
¼ cup water
1 cup fresh blueberries
¼ cup sugar
½ cup heavy cream

Blend corn starch and water. Add berries and sugar. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Boil, stirring, an additional minute. Cool; chill. Reserve cream till serving time.

Filling:

1 quart peach ice cream.

To assemble pie, spoon the ice cream into the crust; spread topping over it; freeze until firm. To serve, whip the reserved cream; garnish the pie. Let stand at room temperature about 10 minutes before slicing.

Yield: 8 portions.

BROWNIE ICE CREAM PIE

1 package (15½-ounce) brownie mix
½ cup chunky peanut butter
1 quart banana ice cream
2 bananas
1 cup hot chocolate sauce

Prepare brownie mix as package directs. Pour batter in a greased 8-inch round layer cake pan that has been lined with wax paper on the bottom. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven about 30 minutes, or until batter shrinks very slightly from sides of the pan; do not overbake.

Cool 15 minutes on a wire back; turn out of pan; peel off paper. Finish cooling.

At serving time, spread surface with the peanut butter, spoon ice cream over it. Slice bananas; decorate top and sides with the fruit. Cut into wedges as a pie, and serve with the sauce.

Yield: 8 portions.

Brojek: Education Needed But Is Not Fun

(Chet Brojek is past - president of the Highlands County Teachers Association, a position he has held for two years. Brojek is also one of the teachers representatives in the collective bargaining sessions with school administrators. A teacher for 11 years, Brojek comments on the county educational system, the state functional literacy test, the effect of television on education and on the teacher's union.)

Q. Many people are still antagonistic toward teacher's unions. What is your response?

A. I answer by saying teacher associations are only representative of teachers, which is a right guaranteed by the government. We have a right to bargain for the conditions of our employment.

They probably don't realize we are in a rather unique position because, although we have some skills we are not allowed to withhold those skills. We are not allowed to strike or have a work slow down. Our costs of living continually goes up, we could rely on the school board to take 'care' of us in that paternalistic type of atmosphere, but, basically we have to have the right to bargain for whatever we feel our services are worth.

Q. There is some sentiment, though, that all public employees should not be allowed to strike.

A. I would probably go along with that. I would say, because we are a public employee, we might not need the right to strike. I would say, on the other hand, it would be fairer to me as a negotiator for the teachers that we have binding arbitration.

As it stands right now, although the taxpayer may not understand, we can sit and bargain for hours and hours and, if say the board did not want the agreement they could nullify it or my membership could nullify it.

Kids today take reading as a drudgery. It's slow and it's not something which shows instant result . They,ve gotton away from thinking because television does it for them.

Let's say, for an example, that we've reached an agreement with the board's negotiating team but the board refused to recognize it. We went through the arbitration process and brought in a federal mediator and he says the teachers are right, they do deserve this money.

They bring that back to the board and the board can say no.

We do other things besides bargain. We represent our members, legal defense, etc.

Q. What were the main factors which led to the establishment of a teacher's union.

A. I don't think there's any certain situation. A lot of people think we've come about, say, for collective bargaining. That's far from the truth. Highlands County has had an education association for at least 35 years. We've had collective bargaining for four. We're not just in it for bargaining. We speak to the hours, we speak to insurance polices. We try to speak to things which will benefit kids if the board will go along, like class size.

You know the board in their meeting the other night, they were talking about how wonderful the kids had done this summer and they were attributing it to the low pupil-teacher ratio. We've been saying that at the bargaining table for years. Give us smaller classes and we'll have a chance to teach them better.

Q. How do you fell about the state assessment tests which have gone into effect last year?

A. I think the functional literacy tests are going to be a benefit to the educational program. Kids are going to work harder. We saw in the summer program kids were stressing the fact they had to work harder and pass the tests.

The test itself is going to be good because it puts a check on the kids. It's also going to be good because it will make teachers more accountable for the students' performance. I think that's fair. I think we should be accountable.

The board should be more accountable for the conditions which we have to teach children under. I think they are taking that into light, they're building new middle schools and air-conditioning them. they realize that kids have a rather spoiled environment at home. They're air-conditioned, then they come to a school and sit in 90 degree room to learn something.

But I think the test itself is a good thing. I don't believe we should just hand out diplomas.

Q. Do you agree with the law which states teachers must take periodic testing?

A. Yeah, I agree with that. But I don't think a test will ever prove if you're a good teacher. I have no fear of taking the test. I think the majority of teachers are competent and I think the test will prove that.

I don't believe we've done any service to our youngsters by telling them education has to be fun. That is the biggest crock of bull we have placed upon the public and upon our children; that they have to have fun in everything they do.

The public has a right to expect teachers to improve their skills. But a better way than passing a test, which we're going to be able to do, is to have, perhaps, courses that would improve our teaching skill, courses which the school board might help pay for. Now, every time we go back to a university we pay for the costs, we pay the sky-rocketing tuituion.

Q. What would you say are some of the most important qualities in a good teacher.

A. I don't know how the test will show sympathy or understanding of youngster's problems. A test will show knowledge, that I know grammar, since I teach English. But no test will show that I understand that children might have problems in understanding grammar. Is it going to show that I might have compassion for something who cannot spell because he has a learning disability? Is it going to show I relate to kids? Relating is very important.

Although I think of myself as a teacher, I also think of myself as a friend of my students in that I think they feel they are learning something from me; they are seeing me as an example of a person who's athletic, I think they see me as a person who has views on politics and things which will involve them; the right to vote, the right to be a productive citizen, etc.

Judge Kelly has a theory we should teach kids law and order. We've been doing that for years. In my class we read stories where a youngster shoplifts and we discuss it.

Contrary to what most folks think, kids aren't really bad. They say, no, he's doing wrong. I think the schools are doing their jobs. I think very often the judicial system has let us down. Because we have a kids who knows the difference between right and wrong and they give him a quite slap on the arm and send him out the door to do the same thing again.

Really, instead of testing, a better job by administrators of observing teachers, teaching, would be a far fairer and more useful measurement of teaching ability.

Q. Any other method of distinguishing bad teachers?

A. Well, the job of eliminating bad teachers is really up to administrators. They have to do a correct evaluarating job on the teachers' teaching skills. Or the association, again, would be willing to help them.

There's a real tendency in our county for administrators to tell you 'if there's something wrong with the system, don't say anything about it.'

If they would give us some authority over whose hired, we would be glad to say who should be fired. Now, they expect us to put fuel on the fire when they attack a teacher. We defend the teacher's right. We say all we have to do is prove he's a poor teacher or prove he's done something wrong. All we're saying is everyone has a right to due process.

Sometimes boards would like to circumvent that. Teachers get in trouble sometime for saying what they feel. There's a real tendency in our county for administrators to tell you, 'Don't air your dirty laundry in public, keep it to yourselves. If there's something wrong with the system, don't say anything about it.' I disagree with that.

Q. I think our city council might agree on that point.

A. This cover-up idea, that everything is fine, I don't think that makes for a better school system. We have some problems in Highlands County. I think overall we have a very competent teaching staff in the whole county.

Q. Nationwide, and statewide, the test scores of students have been dropping for several years. What do you think is the reasons for the lower test scores?

A. I like to think that they started dropping after I took the tests. I like to feel they dropped because people of my caliber were no longer taking the tests.

On a more serious line I think there's a couple of real factors involved. First, parents have to be more concerned. Chet Brojek, as a teacher, has their child five hours a week. They have him much longer than that. If the child does not have a proper attitude, approach, whatever you want to say, toward education, I can do the best job in the world and still not convey a whole lot to that student.

If he chooses not to learn, I can't make him learn.

I think TV has to a big factor. Again kids have had a decline in reading scores, which I attribute as the reason for the biggest drop in scores. If you can't read a math problem you can't solve it.

The reason is TV makes everything so easy. A youngster doesn't have to read a magazine, newspaper or book because it's going to be made into a movie. Therefore they have not developed the basic fundamental skills of education. Something that you and I did. We read more.

If we don't educate ourselves, we will only suffer because of the ignorance we've created.

But schools can't do it all. We cannot be the biggest outpatient, pyschiatric clinic in the world. We cannot take care of all the world's problems within a six hour school day. We are there to teach the student how to read, how to write, to compute and to be able to adopt himself to the work force.

We cannot handle all the problem parents and society are expecting schools to do.

Q. Do you see the schools become more of a social system than a educational system.

A. I think that every social ill that we have today. . . they feel the schools can stop it.

There been a tremendous increase in what I call specialty teachers. A few years ago there was no such thing as a SLD teacher, special learning disability, Now there were probably kids in my class and your class that had learning disability. The kid struggled along and made it, or didn't make it.

We didn't have time out for E.D. rooms, for emotionally disturbed children. We had kids who had emotionally problems. Yet it wasn't that big a thing. In 63 when I graduated from high school I don't remember a lot of kids being emotionally wiped out as kids are today. I think a lot of that comes because of permissiveness.

Parents have never put any pressure on youngsters. He's been allowed to do pretty much as he want. He's had no responsibilities. Children don't have responsibility. They don't like to take the responsibility of saying 'I have to learn if I'm going to get the grade.' They expect they should get the grade whether they've learned or not.

It,s a big shock when they come into a high school and somebody like Chet Brojek says if you don't learn it, you don't go any further until you do.

Q. Did the philosophy of social promotions contribute to the problem.

A. I think it did.

Q. Then, have social promotions basically ended as a policy?

A. I can't say it has totally. I think it's going to because of the testing. I don't see how they can circumvent the tests. I would say this too. The teacher associations have come out against social promotions, primarialy because we understood this has not solved the problem. Very often there were administrative type decisions.

I can remember five or six years ago in Avon Park being told kids would pass that we have failed because they could not be held back.

Q. You're claiming social promotions were more of a administrative procedure than teacher aided?

A. Yes. I would say, then, it often became a teacher aided thing. Teachers often say, what the hell, we can't hold the kid back anyway. Fortunately I teach in an area where the youngster needs the credit. They can pass him but they can't give him the credit.

Q. I take it you don't approve of social promotions?

A. I don't believe in the easy road. I don't believe we've done any service to our youngsters by telling them education has to be fun. That is the biggest crock of bull we have placed upon the public and upon our children; that they have tohave fun in everything they do.

Life is not fun. You and I have to work for a living. We don't consider that fun. We have to struggle sometimes. We don't consider that fun. In "The Complete Book Of Running," the author says, one thing he has noticed, was anything worth having involved toil to get it.

Something you really value, you worked for. We haven't made kids work for an education so they haven't valued it.

I don't think it should be torture. But I don't think we're there to entertain, no.

We never promised you a rose garden. We promised you a education and it takes work to get education. This is what returning to basics is. It worked for us in the past and it will work today.

Q. Going back to testing, why the large drop in reading comprehension and reading scores.

A. There are youngsters who come to me who have never had to write a book report and I'm a ninth grade English teacher. They say I don't like to read, I've never read a book in my life. I say you're going to read six of them, son, or you'll never get out of here.

I encourage youngsters to read. I make them do book reports. Things that work I don't give up on.

Q. How much negative influence does television have? According to a nationwide survey, students were very weak in English and History. Few could name the two senators from their state but they could tell you that, if they were arrested, they had to have their rights read to them.

A. Sure, sure. They seen the program where a person has been read his rights. I am appalled when I take a survey in my classroom and ask how many get a daily newspaper. Maybe 20 percent. I ask how many have three of four magazines coming to their house. Again, 15 to 20 percent. There's your problem.

Kids today take reading as a drudgery. It's slow and it's not something that shows instant results.

Q. And you have to think.

A. Oh, yes. Terrible. It's terrible when you have to think about anything. Youngsters when they have to read a story which doesn't have an ending, they hate it.

I can assign a story which doesn't have an ending. When they get through I ask how they like the story. They didn't like it because it didn't have an ending, it didn't tell them what happened.

So I will ask, 'What do you think happened?' They come up with all sorts of cool ideas of what might have happened. So I will ask them why didn't they first like it, after they have come up with all sorts of good ideas.

It's the fact you had to think about what happened. When we're children we like to have stories end and they live happily ever after. Authors realize, just like you and I realize, that life isn't always like that. So there might be some problems, some decisions to be made.

They've gotten away from thinking because TV does it for them. They know the legal ramifications of breaking the law. But, when we had a district attorney at the school, they said well my friends have done that and they didn't get anything done to them. Adults break the law and get away with it. How do you justify law and order then?

Q. You mentioned getting back to basics. How long will it take to go back to basics from where the school system is now.

A. I don't think we ever really left in the academic classes. But I think, more and more, going to be emphasis on English, math, science history. The move has already been taken.

We went through a period where we were told, as educators, by supposedly people who know, that we should let the child decide what he should study. There's still some of those around.

If you have a choice of whether to work or not to work and the pay is the same, what are you going to do? So I think people have to see there has been a change. We say now, more, you've got to pay a price for education, you have to work for it.

Q. About two weeks ago Newsweek did a cover story on the future of television and cassette and cable system, compete with a futuristic cover of a family watching a largescreen TV. How do you cope with television?

A. Well, I don't want to come across totally negative on television. I think television should not take the place of things. It can be a great teacher, if parents are award of what their children are watching, if they monitor it.

I think we are going to see advances of TV where a child might watch TV as a class, get homework from it.

Let's be honest and say TV has had some quality programming The plays we can see, I'm not knocking all TV. TV is a very powerful medium because kids are drawn to it and adults are drawn to it because we're used to it. I think we have to use TV in the correct manner, not oly to entertain but ot inform, put on news programs.

I'm very pleased to report that when I deal with young people they haven't changed that much. I've been in teaching 11 years and can truthfully still say that 90 to 95 percent of the kids are pretty good kids. They may be lazy sometimes. We all are.

It's not an over-paid profession, I don't think it ever will be, it's still a very rewarding profession. I would never advise children not to be educators. I think it's a very good calling and a very important field.

If we don't educate ourselves we only suffer because of the ignorance we created.

The Pickerings Musical Group

Nazarene Church To Host Musical Group July 23

The Avon Park Church of the Nazarene will be sponsoring a gospel concert with the pickerings on July 23rd at 7:00 p.m. The Pickerings are a musical family of eight adults who specialize in gospel music. In addition to singing, the family plays a number of instruments to present a well rounded program of music.

The Pickerings are based in Orlando, and have had a family gospel music program for twenty-one years. They have toured in forty-two states, Canada, and Mexico and have ministered in twenty different denominations. In the past, they have had a radio and T.V. ministry and have recorded a total of eleven L.P. albums.

Rev. Arnold New Pastor

Rev. Thomas Holmes., founder of Freedom Assembly, has announced the appointment of Rev. Arnold Smith of Sebring as pastor of the church, effective immediately. Rev. Smith will be holding services at the church this Sunday. Freedom Assembly is a non-denominational church begun nearly 10 years ago, by Rev. Holmes.

Rev. and Mrs. (Betty) Smith came to Highlands County two years ago from the Orlando area. Just prior to their move, the Smiths had been active as counselors and teachers, as well as unofficial assistants to the area director of the 700 clubs. Previous to that, they formed Christians Counsellors, Inc., a non-profit ministry to delinquent youth and their families. For nearly two years, they took into their home kids who otherwise would have been sent to state reformatories.

Since coming to Highlands, County the Smiths were priviliged to begin the New Wine Fellowship of Sebring. For nearly a year, Rev. Smith was also seen and heard with The Word, a program on two cable television stations and two radio stations in the area. Last fall, both attended a ministry school at Christian Retreat in Bradenton, under the direction of Gerald Derstine, during which these ministries were turned over to others.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services of Freedom Assembly, located at the corner of S. Anoka and W. Center, two blocks east of Eckerds, at the end of Morrill St. New times for the services are: Sundays 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.

The Pickerings minister in song, instrumental music, testimony and word, with the services always warm and filled with God's Spirit. They travel by means of a converted Greyhound bus and are available to churches in the area for gospel concerts. Their appearance on the 23 of July will be at 7:00 p.m. at the Church of the Nazarene at 707 W. Main Street.

Missionaries To Speak At First United Methodist

Dr. and Mrs. James Zottnick, missionary appointees to India from Wrold Gospel Mission will speak on July 30 at the First United Methodist Church, 200 S. Lake Avenue, Avon Park at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Zottnick, originally from Montana, attended Hillcrest Christian College in Alberta, Canada, and Cascade College, Portland, Oregon. He received both a master's degree and a doctor's degree from Montana State University. He has served as a professor at Westmar College, Le Mars, Iowa, and as a consultant at Daytona Beach College in Florida.

James Zottnick's desire to follow God came at an early age. One day while on a hunting trip with his father in the Montana wilderness, he got lost. "I remember getting down on my knees," he said, "and praying to God that if He would help me find a way out, I would be happy to become whatever He wanted me to be." He did find a way out, and determined that he become either a minister or a teacher. God was to honor that commitment much later.

Marjorie Zottnick, also from Montana, attended Westmar College, Hillcrest Christian College, and Billings Business College (Billing, Montana). She has taught piano for many years. At one time she had 45 students coming weekly into their home for lessons. This provided an excellent opportunity for witness.

The Zottnicks for many years have had a desire to get involved in mission work. However, a recent trip to India with one of WGM's Men With Vision work crusades helped convince them that this was God's will for their lives.

They applied to WGM for missionary service, and were accepted and assigned to serve as teachers at South India Biblical Seminary in India. They eagerly look forward to their ministry among the Indian people, and after shares and travel support money are in, they will leave for their work.

FAITH CAN ALLEVIATE THE AGONY OF SUSPENSE

Sooner or later, the lives of all of us become filled with those anxious moments of suspense in which it seems we can do nothing but sit back and await results. For example, how well did you do on that test you took? What will the doctor find on your x-ray? How much will that repair job cost? Will you get that promotion? Did you make a big mistake last Friday at the office? And so forth; you have your own list. Many a night's sleep and other wise pleasant weekend have been destroyed by some nagging anxiety, quite needlessly. By attending the Church of your choice you will acquire a serenity that will help you conquer your fears, and accept whatever the verdict may be as the will and wisdom of God, as soon as you are confronted with it.

But the waiting time,
my brothers,
is the hardest time of all.

Legislators Fail To File Financial Disclosure Report

Tallahassee — The financial disclosure reports of Sen. Tom Gallen, D-Bradenton, and Rep. C. Fred Jones, D-Auburndale, legislators who serve Highlands County, have not been filed with the State Elections Division. Reports were due July 1 and failure to file can result in civil fines or penalties meted out by the State Ethics Commission.

A spokesman for Jones' office said his report had been mailed to the elections division in time to meet the deadline, but records there indicate the report has not yet been received.

Rep. Mary Ellen Hawkins, R-Naples, whose district includes the southern part of the county, filed a report showing her net worth as $100,000 compared to last year's $94,000. She revealed that her assets total $118,516 and her liabilities are listed at $21,271. Mrs. Hawkins, a free lance writer, listed as her major assets her $46,000 Naples home, $7,000 worth of property in Florala, Ala., $10,000 worth of property at her residence and the remainder in household furnishings, savings and securities.

Her income last year was listed at $18,400 including her $12,000 a year legislative salary.

Rep. Fred Burrall, R-Punta Gorda, reported a net worth of $47,424, up slightly from last year. His major assets include his $40,000 home and a $10,000 lot plus $4,253 worth of Proctor and Gamble Stock. Total assets are $68,400.

Burrall's liabilities include a $1,096 debt to the Port Charlotte Bank and $20,000 to J. Stewart Mortgage Co.

His only income is his $12,000 a year legislative salary, the report says.

Rep. Beverly Burnsed, D-Lakeland, shows her net worth as $33,269, the same as last year. Her only asset worth more than $1,000 is her $39,000 Lakeland home and her chief liability is a $9,000 mortgage to S. E. Wynn. Brunsed reported only her $12,000 legislative salary as income.

Rep. Gene Ready, D-Lakeland, reported a net worth of $75,381 in his financial disclosure form. The figure increased from $56,075 he reported as his net worth last year and the major increase was due to the purchase of three pieces of Lakeland rental property.

Ready listed as his major assets a $65,000 home plus property at 510 E. Bay St. worth $18,500, property at 310 N. Iowa St. worth $26,500 and property at 313 N. Iowa St. worth $22,500. His total assets are worth $151,687 this year compared to $98,975 last year.

Liabilities this year total $88,016 according to the report and were $42,900 last year. Ready's major liabilities include an $11,500 mortgage to the Peoples Bank of Lakeland on the Bay Street property, a $20,000 mortgage at First National Bank and an $811,000 second mortgage to Violet Riendeau on the 310 N. Iowa St. property; and a $29,782 mortgage to Winter Haven Federal on his personal residence.

Rep. Bob Crawford, D-Winter Haven, has listed his net worth as $75,533 this year compared to $26,672 last year. The increase is due largely to his share of an investment in five duplex apartments in Bartow and a $61,000 Winter Haven home. Last year he lived in a $50,000 townhouse which he has sold.

Crawford said the third interest he owns in the duplexes is worth $65,000. His liabilities this year are listed at $63,426 and his major liability is a $54,100 loan from the Winter Haven First Federal Savings and Loan Association. He also owes $4,820 to Florida Federal Savings and Loan in Bartow as one-third liability on a mortgage. He owes $3,000 on a second home mortgage to Cypress Gardens Realty.

No Planned Tax Increase

Avon Park's Budget Will Top $1 Million

George Duncan

If adopted as presented, the general fund budget for Avon Park will top $1 million next year.

The tentative budget for the city is up approximately 10 percent over last year totaling $1,089,919, with insurance costs, a proposed engineering department and payments to the Farmers Home Administration taking up most of the $106,000 increase.

However, the budget does not include any employes raises or the addition of any new employes. Councilmen will decide on these two items next month.

Insurance costs to the city will to up about $22,000 since last year.

"The biggest item (in the budget) is getting to be insurance," said City Clerk Malcolm Crews. "But there's little you can do about it."

The city had budgeted $58,000 for insurance for employes last year but the actual total will run about $70,000, with group insurance up from $18,000 last year to approximately $26,000 in this year's budget.

"Last year we spent $32,000 in anti-recession money on insurance. But the anit-recession program has ended and the insurance expenses have to go in the general budget," Crews said.

Other large increases in next year's budget include $24,000 extra for road maintenance and sidewalks, a $23,000 payment to the Farmers Home Administration and a $10,000 increase in the library budget.

The $10,000 in library funds, which will be used for books is not an addition to the budget but a transfer to funds. Last year federal revenue funds were used but this year the city funds must be billed for the books.

Most of the city department budgets, despite inflation, are very close to their budgets for last year.

All seven city departments are only $47,000 above their budget for last year. The $47,000 includes the additional $24,000 for street work and the $10,000 for the library fund. All total, the eight departments expenditures are about $737,000.

The city's general fund, which includes the extra insurance costs, is budgeted for $277,490 this year as opposed to $254,800 last year.

The water and sewer department, which is a seperate item from the general fund account, will expend approximately $521,300 in the coming year. However, the department will also yield the same amount of funds in revenue.

If the council decides on a seven percent cost of living increase for employes, the cost will add another $48,000 plus on the budget.

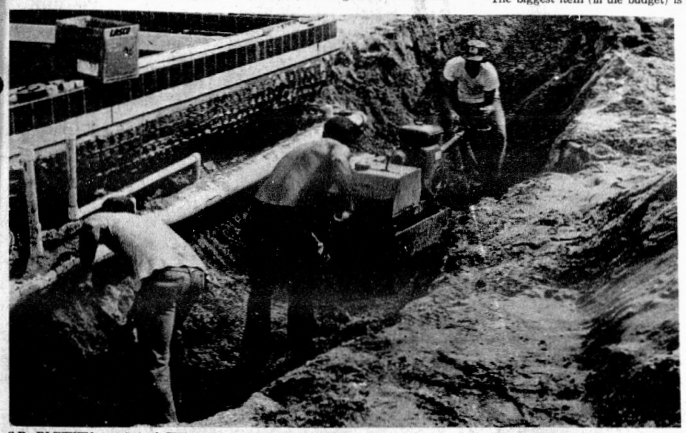

Crews calculated that this year's cost of living increase would amount to 7.2 percent.

The city will also receive $109,000 in federal revenue sharing funds during the 1979 fiscal year, a figure which must be trimmed because the council has over $215,000 worth of requests from various departments.

Members decided to cut two police cars from the revenue requests. Chief Robert Brooks had asked for four cars for a total of $21,600.

Taxes will make up the single largest revenue item, with the city expecting to take in $268,225 from city taxes.

State Revenue sharing funds will account for over $215,000 while the city will also receive $122,000 from the utility tax.

SFJC Pool Nearing Completion

With a deadline date of July 24, the olympic size swimming pool at South Florida Junior College was still approximately 10 days from completion, said George Scharfetter, superintendent in charge of construction for Weller Construction Co., of Orlando.

The frequent and almost daily rains have been the principle cause of delay said Scharfetter, even though the pool is more than 90 percent completed.

The diving portion of the pool is 40x45 feet with an average depth of 12 feet, while the racing side of the pool is 40x82 feet, having a 3 inch slope to 10 feet, has an average depth of five feet.

Because of the hydrostatic pressure of the ground water, 6 to 7 feet of rain water has been allowed to accumulate in the deep end of the pool to help prevent the pool from being popped up by the groundwater.

City Will Buy Equipment, Begin Mosquito Spraying

The Avon Park City Council resolved one long standing issue Monday night but postponed another one until its next meeting.

After several months of gathering information about mosquito spraying the council voted to advertise for a mosquito fogger and begin spraying later this year.

"There will be some spraying this year but the council will be fully ready next year to spray for mosquitos," said City Clerk Malcolm Crews.

The city will designate $5,000 towards the project. The funds had been set aside for the renovation of the city jail. However, the jail will be changed into a holding cell, with prisoners being driven down to Sebring to the county jail.

The fogger is expected to cost about $3,200 with the rest of the funds being used to purchase chemical sprays. For now, the fogger will be equipped to be loaded on city trucks.

The mosquitos sprays the city will be using will cost about $100 per gallon.

Crews said the fogger would use about three gallons of spray in every hour of spraying.

The decision ends several months of investigation by the council and the mayor into different methods of spraying and different types of sprays which could be used.

In another matter, the council postponed, for the third time, any decision regarding payment of Chief Robert Brooks' attorney fees.

Brooks was suspended in June by Mayor J. Marshall Davis, then preceded to hire attorneys to represent him before the council. At the next council meeting, Davis dropped all charges against the chief.

Brooks received fees totaling $700 which he presented to the council, which has never come to a decision on the matter.

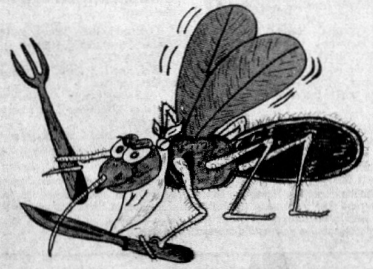

At Monday's meeting, Council President Larry Albritton asked any action on the matter be postponed because the mayor was out of town.

Councilman Henry Dennis was also absent from the meeting.

"I think it would be fair to have everyone here when we decide this," said Albritton.

Councilman Robert Britt agreed, saying he thought the full council should make any decision.

"There are some questions I'd like to ask, but I think the whole council should study the item and act. Everyone should be here, then we can get it over with once and for all," said Britt.

State Attorney, Police Meet To Quell Problems

George Duncan

Representatives from the state attorney's office and members of various law enforcement agencies met last week in an attempt to resolve disputes which had led to an apparent breakdown in communications between the two department.

The primary reason for the meeting was the opinion by some law enforcement officials that Assistant State Attorney Tom Gallagher was not prossing cases which should have been brought to trial.

"The state attorney's office was throwing out cases for ridiculous reasons," said one law enforcement officer.

However, after the meeting, most parties concerned said matters had been resolved and there would be much better communications between police and the state attorney.

Sheriff Joe Sheppard called for the meeting and attended along with several other members of the Highlands County Sheriff's Department. There were also representatives from the Avon Park Police Department, the Sebring Police Department and the Florida Highway Patrol. Gallagher and State Attorney Quillian Yancey also attended.

"The sheriff indicated there might be some problems in communications and suggested we should have a meeting," said Yancey "... because of the different functions of attorneys and police, although we are working together, once in a while problems are going to occur."

Yancey said he had suggested monthly meeting between his office and police and felt all problems had been solved.

"When the police make an arrest on probable cause, sometimes that evidence isn't sufficient for a conviction. We have to convince a judge and jury beyond a

Committee Plugging For Placid Hospital

The Lake Placid hospital committee and Walker Memorial Hospital administration "have not given up" on their efforts to obtain a certificate of need for a satellite facility in Lake Placid.

The thin margin by which the South Central Florida Health Systems Council, Inc. board refused to recommend the satellite application is encouraging the advocates to continue their drive.

Last year the satellite application was withdrawn after the 10-county council's board refused to endorse the plan. In electing to "go for broke" and carry their fight to state level, local backers are running some risks. If the state's Community Medical Facilities agency turns thumbs down, the local application may not be renewed for three years. The three-year limit can be waived if "circumstances change", however, Walker Administrator John McClellan points out there is no clean understanding of what that phrase might mean.

Dr. Michael Wesson, Lake Placid optometrist who chairs the committee working for a south Highlands hospital, said he felt encouraged that the area board "this year was listening to some degree".

If the state agency does follow the area board's recommendation and rejects the satellite application, the Walker administration will not be barred from submitting an application for a certificate of need to expand at its Avon Park site.

"At this time we are running an average of eight patients per day more than Highlands General; we need more beds," McClelland said.

Turning The Screws

"Is this a game of chance?" he asks.

"Not the way I play it," Fields assures him.

The same feeling of playing against a stacked deck is apparent when listening to the members of the South Central Florida Health Systems Councils, who last week voted 11-10 to approve a 32-bed addition to Highlands General Hospital. The board voted 9-8 to deny Walker Memorial's application for a satellite hospital in Lake Placid.

The committee members main argument against voting for the Lake Placid addition seems to have been the feeling the facility would have been too small and would not have had enough sophisticated medical equipment to care for patients. Why they voted for the Highlands General addition is still something of a mystery since they did not dwell on their reasons.

However, their arguments for voting against the Lake Placid addition simply won't hold water. Walker Memorial did not propose a full-fledged, ultra-modern hospital immediately for Lake Placid, but a satellite facility where some health care could be provided. Patients with serious injuries would be sent to either Highlands General in Sebring or Walker Memorial in Avon Park.

Many hospitals have to send emergency patients to other facilities so the idea is not really all that far-fetched. In the county just west of us, the general hospital sends patients to hospitals either in Ft. Pierce or Vero Beach.

In disregarding the local committee's 25-0 vote to approve the Lake Placid addition two members of the regional council said the vote may have been "emotional" and not based on facts.

In all probability the advisory council cannot make a distinction between what is an emotion and what is fact.

For example, population surveys indicate Lake Placid is the fastest growing city in the county. Both surveys from the University of Florida and the United Telephone Company pinpoint the southern half of Highlands County as the place where the fastest population growth will take place.

Yet a member of the advisory council said, "There is nothing below Lake Placid but Venus and a bunch of cows."

Now assuming members of the advisory council can pass the state's functional literacy test which, admittedly, is a questionable assumption to make, they should be able to tell which of the above statements is a fact and which is based on an emotional point of view.

Other facts which were not mentioned by the advisory council includes the figure that Highlands General only has a 72 percent occupancy rate. The highest occupancy rate at Highlands has been 90 percent, a figure which held for only one month.

The committee is recommending a 32-bed addition for a hospital which isn't even full in peak season.

Board Member Jean Anderson, who is from Hendry County, said her small town had a hospital but she wished it didn't because of its problems. Therefore, one assumes, her vote against the Lake Placid facility was on the hard "fact" that, if a small hospital in one county is bad, then a small hospital in another county is bad. Fortunately, Mrs. Anderson did not make her judgement on emotional reasons.

Editorial

The advisory council, in their haste to judgement, also overruled their director who apparently, made his decision because of emotional reasons, even though he does not live in Highlands County.

Also, in dealing with facts, committee members apparently overlooked what was a conclusion in the staff review of the two proposals, namely, the statement that 'This proposal (the Lake Placid satellite) does appear to be the least costly, most effective method of providing hospital services to the citizens of Highlands County in the long run.'

Rep. Pat Neal, who is running for the state senate in this district, has made it clear he wants to cut back on "government interference" in the lives of citizens.

Yet it is not really government interference which promote shouts of a tax revolt but bureacratic arrogance and indifference to the needs of local citizens.

In this case, the regional advisory council is putting the screws to Highlands County citizens. When the recommendation reaches the office of the Community Medical Facilities in Tallahassee and its director Art Forehand, it should not be given an immediate approval.

If the state officials do not reverse the decision of the regional council, they should at least order a further study to determine what the real facts in this case are and what proposal will cost the taxpayers the least amount of money.

If they don't, they are simply putting another turn in the screw.

City Budget Looks Good

The preliminary budget sessions by the city of Avon Park have produced some good news for the taxpayers. The budget for the fiscal 78-79 year is approximately 10 percent over the budget for the fiscal year 77-78.

Which, in a time of close to double digit inflation, shows city officials are taking time and special attention in the preparation of their budget.

The tentative figures do not include an salary increase for employee, which should add approximately $45,000 to the budget but, even so, the figures show admirable restraint by city officials.

Taken without the salary increases, the budgets for the different city departments have only slightly increased. In a few departments, the budget for the new fiscal year is up only a few hundred dollars from last year.

The items in the budget which showed the greatest increases, such as the city's insurance costs, were basically beyond the control of the city.

In addition, this is the first year in many when the city will not have to levy taxes for debt service.

There are still some financial matters to be worked out. Police Chief Robert Brooks would like to add a couple of men to the city police force. Council members have indicated they do not want to hire any additional city personnel unless absolutely necessary.

There is also the question of how about $115,000 of federal revenue sharing funds will be spent. It will not be as easy to answer as it may seem on the surface; handing out $115,000 may be simple but council members are faced with department requests which total over $200,000.

There is no question but that much of the department requests are needed and council members will have a difficult time deciding just who will receive funding and who will have to wait until next year and hope.

However, a 10 percent increase in the city budget is something to be thankful for. Many, if not most citys, are facing budget increases anywhere from 20 to 33 percent.

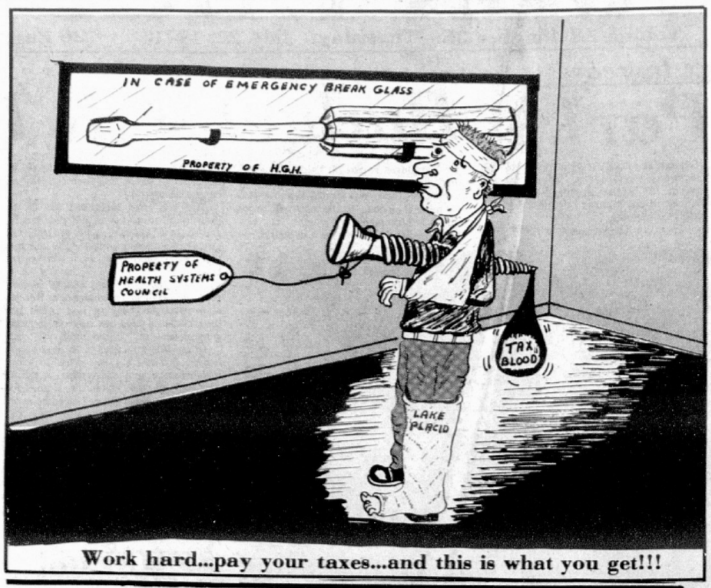

The city comes into even a better light when it is considered that Avon Park funds services which are often ignored or shunted aside in other cities.

For example, as mentioned once before in a Sun editorial, the city has provided for a fine recreational program, a program which is better than similar ones in other cities.

The council also adequately funds the city library. Libraries are another item which often gets short-shifted when the flurry of funds comes about at budget time.

Usually, budget periods in most cities are a time which when the wailing and knashing of teeth is heard, plus protestations from department heads that they have cut their "budget to the bone."

It should be appreciated that the Avon Park officials performed their budget responsibilities with a minimum of outcry but a maximum of efficiency.

Rocking The Boat

By George Duncan

I was talking to my nephew the other day and casually asked him if he had chosen his profession yet.

"Sure," he said. "I'm going to be a crook, not go to jail, make lots of money and then retire young."

"That's a high ambition," I said. "But just how do you plan on carrying it out?"

"First, I'm planning to go to law school," he said.

"Well, if you're planning to be a crook you're certainly taking the right first step. What happens then?"

"I go into politics. I figure I'll start on the state level first and then go into national politics."

"Yeah. But where does the money come in?"

"He looked at me. "Have you ever known a politician who was poor?"

"Touche," I said.

"The way I figure it I will be taking rake offs as soon as I enter politics. Get a couple of slush funds going and you've got it made."

"Ah, huh."

"Plus I'll be pulling clients in just because I'm in state government. Let's face it, those guys don't lose money up there. Why do you think they don't want to reveal their finances?"

"Privacy?" I asked.

"I see. Alright, you're making money and you're in national politics. What happens now?"

"Same thing. I keep pulling the money in I'm making in rakeoffs, er . . . I mean campaign contributions, establish a few funds, get close with a few congressmen and senators and generally squander the public's cash."

I looked at him. "You realize, of course, I will have to expose you."

"Of course. That's part of my plan. I'll be careful enough to make friends with other political figures but not careful enough not to get caught."

"I don't get it. If you get caught, you go to jail."

"Ah, come now!" he said. "Don't be ridiculous. How many politicians go to jail? How many rich people go to jail? How many people have been jailed because of the Koreagate scandals?"

"Touche." I said.

"However, my downfall will attract a great deal of publicity which I can use."

"How?"

"When I write my memoirs. I figure, after the scandal, I should be able to get a good six-figure advance, plus royalties, plus another six-figure advance for the paperback rights. I should be able to stretch my story into two books. This is where the Watergate people have missed the boat. They've told all in one book. You can get two or three out of something like that."

I turned to him. "Have you told your mother about this?" I asked.

"Not yet."

Well don't. I don't think she would understand."

"Sure she would. Besides I wouldn't be cheap. I'd cut her in for a percentage. She's alright."

"That's what I like, generosity."

"Oh, yeah. I figure I should give her 10 or 15 percent."

"Well, if that's the case, I suggest you get into law school as soon as possible."

I thought I had better leave then. I was thinking about asking him if he needed a partner.

Our Readers Opinions

Don't Sign Gambling Petition

Dear Editor:

In behalf of the residents of our community I am appealing to your readers to consider the very grave consequences of casino gambling on Miami Beach.

Great efforts and large sums of money are being expended to bring casino gambling to our city. We, as well as many of your readers, are retired or semi-retired, and financially independent. Our purpose in moving to Miami Beach was to live out our lives in peace and tranquility and to enjoy what the Good Lord gave us. . .sunshine, green grass, the ocean and beaches, friends, etc.

Please, readers, do not allow the "special interests" to destroy our way of life. Casino gambling breeds crime, gangsters, prostitution, illicit drugs, and you know what else.

Please do not sign the casino gambling petition; and especially, vote it down, if it should be on the ballot.

Supreme Court Slaps Down OSHA

It's been a long time coming, but OSHA has at long last been put in its place.

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the agency which has preferred Gestapo tactics to education, was slapped down by the U.S. Supreme Court last week in a ruling which took away OSHA's self-awarded authority to evade the Constitution.

The Constitution affords every American the protection against illegal search and seizure. Yet, OSHA was determined to pop into business unannounced, unwelcome and make its nitpicking inspections.

No search warrants for OSHA inspectors. They were above that, even though police aren't.

They were above that until the Supreme Court, in a 5-3 decision, ruled the Constitution bars warrantless searches of cogmercial buildings as well as homes.

It was a decision hailed by many. The National Federation of Independent Business said the decision would have a "dramatic" and beneficial impact on small business. The Associated General Contractors saluted the court for its ruling.

The decision does not, of course, do away with OSHA. The agency will still be able to show up at a business unannounced and ask to inspect the premises without a warrant. But, the businessman need not comply, not until the inspector goes into court and gets a warrant.

A victory for every one who believes in the Bill of Rights

And to do that, the inspector will need some reason, some form of evidence to show he has a genuine concern, and isn't just nitpicking.

No one can object to a governmental agency doing what it can to make work safe for every man and woman with a job in this country.

But it is easy to object to the manner in which OSHA has carried out this mandate. It is nor only easy, it is required if you believe everyone has rights, even businessmen.

After all, it was OSHA that was subjecting businessmen and farmers to petty inspections for no probable cause. It was OSHA which engaged in nitpicking and then slapped its unfortunate victims with heavy fines.

It was OSHA which refused to make any real effort to help businessmen and farmers to make their work sites safer, preferring instead to rely on harrassment.

Attempts were made in the Congress to change the OSHA attitude, but they failed. They failed because of the bureaucrats and their friends in the Congress who believe Washington knows best.

So the only hope left was through the courts.

And Ferrol G. Barlow, a plumbing and electrical subcontractor in Pocatello, Idaho, decided to seek help through the courts. It took him almost three years — it was September 13, 1975 when an OSHA inspector showed up at Barlow's shop and announced he was going to inspect it.

Barlow pointed to a copy of the Bill of Rights hanging on the wall of his shop and said no.

But, it wasn't just a victory for one Pocstello businessmen. It was a victory for everyone who believes in the Bill of Rights and in keeping government the servant of the people and not the master.

State Representative Beverly B. Burnsed, Democrat, of Lakeland filed Monday in Tallahassee for a second term in the Florida House of Representatives, House Seat 50.

Elected in 1976, Mrs. Burnsed became Polk County's first female legislator and the only Freshman legislator to serve on the powerful Appropriations Committee. During her first term, the Lakeland Democrat was selected as one of the top five most promising Freshman legislators. She also serves on Health and Rehabilitative Services and Judiciary Committees.

Being vitally interested in juvenile justice, Mrs. Burnsed was successful in obtaining the necessary funds for the new Polk County Detention Center. This past session she was instrumental in obtaining a Girls START Center for Polk County. She has worked for two years on the Ad Hoc Children & Youth Committee revising the juvenile justice laws which passed this session and will be effective October 1.

Beverly Burnsed

Mrs. Burnsed, currently on leave of absence as Dean of Girls at Lakeland Senior High School, is serving as a full time legislator. "The experience I have gained during the last two years has hopefully helped the people of my district and if given the opportunity to serve again, I am committed to work full time to serve the people of my district," Representative Burnsed said. District 50 includes most of Polk County and parts of Highlands and Osceola Counties.

Gene Ready

State Representative Gene Ready, Democrat-Lakeland, qualified today in Tallahassee for re-election to the Florida House of Representatives, District 51.

Rep. Ready was elected to the House in 1976. He served on the House Agriculture Committee; Tourism and Economic Development Committee; and Retirement, Personnel and Collective Bargaining Committee. He was appointed Chairman of the Personnel and Collective Bargaining Sub-committee and Chairman of an ad hoc subcommittee on Economic Development. At the end of the 1977 legislative session, Rep. Ready was selected a runner-up in a Florida Times-Union poll for the Most Promising Freshman Legislator.

Rep. Ready sponsored several major pieces of legislation during his first term. One of these was recently signed into law by Governor Askew- the Housing Finance Authority Act of 1978.

Ready stated that he anticipates that emphasis in the 1979 Session will be on tax reform. "I feel that we must prove to the people of Florida that their money is being spent wisely and prudently," stated Ready. To this end, he is working on proposed legislation to put a freeze on hiring any additional state employees.

Ready, a Lakeland native, is married to the former Barbara Martin and is the father of two daughters, Kelly, 10, and Kim, 8.

"I feel that I have worked hard to represent all of the people of Polk, Highlands, and Osceola Counties. My two years of experience will enable me to represent them even more efficiently for the next two years," Ready said.

Bob Crawford

State Representative Bob Crawford of Winter Haven announced today that he is qualifying for reelection to his District 49 House seat. Crawford is completing his first term.

Crawford said, "I have enjoyed serving the people in this district and I feel the experience I have gained will enable me to be even more effective in the coming two years."

Crawford said, "The three most important accomplishments I feel we have made in my first term are in the area of election reform, tougher laws on serious crimes and improvements in the state budgeting process."

Crawford said, "Changes I enacted in the election code will hopefully discourage campaigns from being run in back rooms and behind closed doors. Elections conducted in the "Sunshine" are the key to maintaining the integrity of our democratic system."

"In the area of crime, I was able to live up to a campaign pledge to help eliminate the abuses of early parole. One bill that would have gone even further to ensure that serious offenders are kept behind bars a significant length of time was passed by both houses only to be vetoed by the Governor." "This bill will be a top priority of mine in the next session," Crawford added.

Crawford said, "In order to put more control and order into the budgeting process we successfully pushed for and adopted a biennial budget. I feel strongly that all fiscal matters and tax reform should be a number one priority in 1979."

"Property tax relief and establishing a more sensible property appraisal system are two areas that will receive my close attention."

Oscar "Bill" Laye

A native-born Floridian, who grew up in Alabama, Oscar "Bill" F. Laye announced that he had qualified on Thursday, July 20, for the District II seat on the Highlands County Board of County Commissioners.

It was a decision that took a long time to make, Bill stated, as friends had approached him about four years ago to run for the county commission seat.

But first he had to be satisfied in his own mind that he had the time to devote to the county commissioner's business. After a year's study he determined that, "I will take the time to do the job right, whether it takes two or four or more days per week."

Another matter of concern to Bill affecting his decision was the use of tax money and using it more effectively in the areas of greatest need where it would benefit the most people, plus the use of common sense in making decisions that affect the operation of the county.

Bill was born in Sarasota, Fla. but grew up in Geneva County, Southeastern Alabama when his parents returned to that area. During World War II he left high school to enter the United States Armed Forces. He served with the 899th Tank Battalion which was attached to the 1st Infantry Division in Germany.

Following his discharge from the Service in 1946 he came to Highlands County, where he finished his high school education under the Veteran's program, receiving his diploma in Avon Park. For ten years he worked with the Lykes Brothers grove operation at Lake Placid.

In October 1946, he and Sybil

Oscar "Bill" F. Laye

Braxton, from Geneva County, Ala., were married. Their children, Nancy Seibold lives in Tampa and their two sons, Ronald and Donald both live in Avon Park.

Bill and Sybil have seven grandchildren. The family attends the Methodist Church, while Bill is a member of the Highlands County Cattlemen's Association.

In 1956 he took over the operation and management of a new Cities Service (now Citico) station for "Pink" McAdams on U.S. 27 in Sebring. After 18 months with McAdams, Bill purchased the Standard Oil Station on U.S. 27 and S.R. 64 in Avon Park in August 1958, where he stressed to his help and later his two sons, "Treat everyone equal," consequently many winter visitors and tourists returned to his station every year.

About ten years ago Bill purchased a tract of raw land on Arbuckle Road converting it to improve pasture where he runs a herd of mixed breed commercial beef cattle. At his service station he has taken his two sons, into partnership.

In concluding his discussion of qualifying for the District II seat on the county commission, Bill added, "My success in business should prove my ability to do the same in the county's business."

Marguerite Skipper

School board candidate Marguerite Skipper has the distinction of being the Highlands County candidate to receive the first political contribution of the 1978 races.

In the first financial reports of the current campaigns, Mrs. Skipper listed a $35 contribution from Norman Wicks, received July 11.

Only one other candidate has received a contribution beyond his own purse. Robert L. Fitzgerald Jr. listed a $100 gift from Hosmer L. Compton, received July 13.

Both Fitzgerald and Skipper are seeking the Democratic nomination for the school board district 3 seat being vacated by John Wirick of Lake Placid.

From now until election (first primary is Sept. 12) candidates must make semi-monthly reports on contributions and expenditures.

The first report was due July 17. Candidates had a choice between whether to list their qualifying fee as an expenditure then, or wait until the next report, due the first week of August.

Each of the county commission candidates had to post $504. 15 and each school board candidate, $235.40. Each of the candidates has dipped into personal funds to open a campaign fund and supply the qualifying fee. These fees are the only expenditures reported so far.

The campaign "kitties" opened as follows: J. Earl Duncan, $604.15, Duncan is his own treasurer; Oscar F. "Bill" Laye, $1,500; Sybil Laye, treasurer; Steve Roberts, $300, Roberts his own treasurer; Ken Grady, $300 (which he indicated is a loan to be repaid from contributions), Grady is his own treasurer.

Norman "Jug" Heston, $700, Robert L. Rice treasurer and Hazel T. Slater, deputy treasurer; C. J. "Buddy" Wise, $619; Wise is his own treasurer; Bill Driggers, $1,000, Elois Driggers, treasurer. The Skipper campaign fund contains a gift of $350 from the candidate; Mrs. Skipper is her own treasurer and Van Skipper, deputy treasurer. The Fitzgerald treasury includes a gift of $350 from the candidate. Mary C. Fitzgerald is campaign treasurer.

Jobs Available In Summer Program

Summer jobs are still available for youth aged 14-21 through the Heartland Manpower Consortium's (HMC) Summer Program for Economically Disadvantaged Youth (SPEDY), according to Manpower Director Barbara L. Monahan.

"Whenever possible, SPEDY participants are provided with jobs that correspond with the youth's abilities, aptitude and career interests," said Mrs. Monahan.

"The youths also receive instruction in resume preparation and job interview preparation as well as receiving work and-or study habit information, vocational testing and counseling, and labor market information."

Administered by the Polk County School Board, SPEDY is funded with $1,459,525 through Title III of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

The HMC utilizes federal funds provided by the U.S. Department of Labor under CETA for employment and training programs in the counties of Polk, Okeechobee, Highlands, Hardee and DeSoto.

Although SPEDY participants are not required to be attending school, the program is designed to provide youths with an income to enable them to return to school. They are paid $2.65 per hours while employed on SPEDY.

In many cases, said Mrs. Monahan, SPEDY participants who return to school in the fall can qualify for the In-School Program, a CETA-funded program which provides part-time employment during the school term.

To be eligible for SPEDY, applicants must 14-21 years old, have a work permit or applied for one if under age 18, have a Social Security card, be a U.S. citizen or legal alien, and meet certain income limitations.

Also Avon Park Senior High, 700 East Main St. from Edna Jackson and Lake Placid Senior High, 202 Lake Drive W. from Hector Hernandez.

Applications Being Accepted At SFJC

Applications for admission to the fall term are now being accepted at South Florida Junior College. Prospective first - time (fulltime and part-time) students are urged to submit their applications now in order to save time when they come to register. Early filing permits the Admissions Office personnel to prepare the student file prior to registration which greatly reduces the time it takes a student to register.

Anyone who has ever taken a college level course at SFJC has already filed an application for admission and does not have to file a new one.

Once a person files application for admission he may enroll at the college — either as a full-time or part-time student — during registration for any term even though he may never have attended SFJC or may not have attended for several years.

Applications and fall semesters schedules are available from the Admissions Office at SFJC or by calling 453-6661, extension 135, in Avon Park.

Jacksons Spotlight Confiscated

Circuit court has entered an order officially confiscating a spotlight used in an illegal deer kill last October. The spotlight was owned by Clark Jackson of Avon Park and was seized by officers at the time of Jackson's arrest.

Jackson pleaded nolo contendere to hunting law violation charges.

In a suit filed by the state attorney's office, the state sought to confiscate the spotlight and a rifle and scope. The court denied the motion on the rifle and scope after receiving statements that Jackson had borrowed these and the owner had not known about any plan to use them illegally.

Assistant State Attorney James Seay represented the state in the hearing before Judge Clifton M. Kelly.

Concerned With Proposition 13

Highlands County Democrats are concerned about Proposition 13; proposed beef imports and keeping the Public Service Commission appointive as they begin a series of pre-election activities.

The county's executive committee voted to endorse a suggestion from Mrs. Margaret Skipper, state democratic committeewoman, to write the President; U.S. Senators Dick Stone and Lawton Chiles and Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland opposing the proposed beef import program.

Mrs. Skipper quoted from the July issue of the Florida Agriculture Magazine, using an article "What's the Government trying to do to our Cattlemen?" in discussing President Jimmy Carter's import proposals.

State Committeeman Wes Ward, who is also chairman of the 10th Congressional District Democratic organization, said no action was suggested at a June 17 meeting of that group, but expressed concern over the possible reactions in Florida to California's Proposition 13 success.

The committee did endorse the resolution opposing an appointed Public Service Commission, which is on the November ballot with other constitutional amendments.

A Sept. 7 Meet the Candidates Rally was planned for the Agri-Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. and a fund raising dinner Oct. 19 at the Highlands County Shrine Club.

Fred Burrall

State Rep. Fred Burall has filed his qualifying papers in Tallahassee for re-election to the District 75 seat in the Florida House of Representatives.

The Port Charlotte Republican promised an "upbeat campaign based on my record as a conservative and my ability to deliver for the needs of the people of my district."

Recognized as one of the leading conservatives in the Florida House, Burrall was designated Minority Leader pro tempore for the next two years by an unanimous ballot of House Republicans.

He is also a member of the GOP platform committee which last week called for a cap on property taxes, opposition to implementing the Panama Canal treaties, a limit on the number of government employees and other measures to hold down inflation, opposition to ERA, increased recognition of the needs of Florida's elderly and several other planks aimed at improving the lifestyle in Florida.

"I can't see where I'm going to have a bit of trouble running with this platform," Burrall said. "That doesn't seem to be the case with my opponents."

Burrall was presented the Florida Wildlife Federation Special Service Award for his work in the area of Florida game laws, and also received the 20th Judicial Circuit State Attorney Award for his activities in law enforcement legislation.

A former newspaper editor, Burrall is a four-year veteran of the U.S. Air Force. He is a graduate of the University of Florida and is married to the former Bette Stewart of Hialeah. The couple has two teenage daughters.

Drawing Presented To GardenClub

Last Friday, July 21, Lee Evans an inmate of the Avon Park Correctional Institution donated and presented to Hibiscus Garden Circle president Laura Neubauer and Sybil Laye a drawing of the Gazebo he made from a photo.

The ladies hope to take the original and have copies made to be sold to the general public. Also in the planning stages is post cards and stationery. Funds from this adventure will go towards the building of a Federated Garden Club Center. According to Hibiscus Garden Circle President Neubauer the original will be framed and kept in a safe place, however it will be put on display throughout the city, on special occasions.

Proceeds from the sale of copies of the original will go to the betterment of the Federated Garden Clubs, as Evans has given up all his rights to the original. Evans is a well-known pin and ink artist and has turned out over 600 originals since he first began in 1967.

Some of his works are on display in the Capitol at Tallahassee and Gov. Reubin Askew owns an original.

The Voters League of California presented one of his drawings to the former President Richard Nixon.

Evans stated that it takes him two days to several weeks to complete each drawing, depending upon the size and the subject. The drawing of the Gazebo took about three days he stated. Adding that Mr. Williams, correctional officer at the nursery at A.P.C.I. allows him to work on his drawing freely at any time.

Hidden within each of his drawings he usually includes a message to his fiancee, however with this particular work of art, he chose to honor a friend of his living in the area. Somewhere in the drawing Evans has included the word BROOKE.

When the drawing is put on display, try to see if you can spot the area where Evans honored his friend by including his name in the piece.

Postal Employees Appear Satisfied With Contract

"What they would do if the national union president decided to call a strike, I don't know," Avon Park Postmaster Robert Young said Monday of the action that the employees at the Avon Park Post Office would take if a nation-wide strike were called.

"I do know they (the unions) have arbitration rights, and those rights should be exercised for the reasons they were established (which are) to settle disagreements when two parties can't reach an agreement," he added.

According to Young, Postmaster General William F. Bolger said a strike would result in a loss of the strikers' jobs and they would be guilty of a felony.

Although the postal unions are still deciding whether or not to accept the tenative three-year contract which came out of the bargaining that ended last Friday, wildcat strikes which resulted in the firing of a number of postal employees, have already taken place in San Francisco and New Jersey. And According to one postal employee, there is a nation-wide move to vote down the tentative contract which will be voted on at local meeting over the next week or so.

The new agreement, which is still subject to ratification, calls for maintaining the current Cost of Living Adjustment formula, but puts a cap on salary increases so that the maximum possible financial impact of the contract is 19.5 per-cent over a three-year period.

But, the unions originally wanted a 26-percent increase over a two-year period.

And, Gus Sullivan, Associate Area Vice-President of the Citrus Center Area Local, which is a member of the Lakeland local, said that the 19.5 per-cent increase over a three-year period averages out to six per-cent a year, while the cost of living is increasing approximately 10 per-cent annually.

Young said he believed that the employees of the Avon Park Post Office were fairly well satisfied with the tenative contract.

Eight of the Avon Park postal employees are members of the National Association of Letter Carriers, and have their own local.

Others are members of the Rural Route Union.

Speaking on other matters, Young said the post office has requested a multi-purpose vending machine which will reduce window lines.

Young mentioned that the Avon Park Post Office has been reduced from the 25 employees it had in 1970 to the present number of 22, and have absorbed an average annual growth rate of eight per-cent in main volume and population.

He went on to say that even though the post office's budget has been cut 14 and a half per-cent over the past two years, it has been able to operate within its budget, and anticipates being able to do so this year.

Due to improved operational efficiency and equipment, the six year-old figure of 1.150 minutes per delivery has been reduced to .603 minutes per delivery, Young stated.

He mentioned that another important factor is the fine cooperation the post office has received from local businesses who update their mailing addresses, which reduces handling time.

Stone To Speak At Consumer's Meeting

U. S. Senator Richard (Dick Stone speaking Wednesday morning will be the principal speaker at the annual business conference of the Florida Department of Agriculture and consumer Services in Orlando August 2-3 at the Sheraton Twin Towers, according to Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner.

Stone was elected to the U. S Senate in 1974 after serving four year as Florida Secretary of State. He is a member of the Agriculture, Foreign Relations and Veterans' Affairs Committees and chairs the Senate Foreign Agricultural Policy Subcommittee.

As a member of the senate Agriculture Committee, Stone has been a leader in the movement to gain recognition of the South's unique agricultural needs and has fought for additional research funds to combat brucellosis, citrus blackfly and fire ants.

He has worked for an expanded overseas market for U.S. agricultural products, especially Florida citrus, and has met repeatedly with Japanese and Taiwanese officials to boost citrus exports to the Far East.

Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday will be taken up with workshops and seminars covering a wide variety of agricultural and consumer subjects. The conference concludes Thursday evening with ceremonies during which employees with 25,30,35 and 40 years of service will be presented awards by Commissioner Conner.

"We have found that a conference like this held once a year affords us a unique opportunity to exchange ideas and to consolidate program plans for the coming year," Conner says. "Bringing together our people from throughout the state gives all of us a better feel for the problems and needs of those we serve."

Farmers Tired Of Being Blamed For Inflation

Food price increases are not the cause of inflation, said Walter J. Kautz the president of Florida's largest farmer organization. "Deficit spending by our government and huge balance-of-trade deficits are the real causes of inflation,".

Although the latest government report showing a 7.2 percent increase in the overall cost of living idex cities food prices as the major factor, Kautz says the figures are misleading.

"Farmers are certainly not responsible for these price increases. They're caused by higher transportation, marketing, processing and labor costs," says Kautz.

He says farmers are tired of the Carter administration blaming them for inflation.

"We're going to cry 'foul' everytime they try to paint agriculture as the culprit when, in fact, it is social and welfare programs, the administration's attempt to redistribute wealth and excessive government spending that are actually causing inflation."

Kautz said the nation's balance-of-trade deficit for last year was more than $25 billion.

"Farmers in the U. S. exported a record $24 billion abroad last year--which had a tremendous impact on slowing decline in the foreign value of the dollar," he says.

Social Security Clarifies Law

Primarily through the efforts of U.S. Senator Lawton Chiles, the Social Security Administration has reversed its stance on how farm income will be treated as it relates to retirement programs.

The change stems from a request by Florida Citrus Mutual for a clarification of a new social security law, which previously interpreted certain types of farm income as "self employment" as opposed to investment," making profits subject to SSA earning limitations as it relates to retirement.

Under the "self employment" policy, many farmers would have been excluded from receiving social security benefits.

Based on the revised SSA policy, one of three alternatives can be used in the operation of farm property which can be counted as "investment income" providing the owner does not "materially participate" in the management of production of the crop.

Mutual Executive Vice President Tom Osborne received confirmation from Chiles outlining the technical and complex policy change which will materially aid those farmers whose benefits were previously in jeopardy.

Chiles, as a member of the Labor-HEW Appropriations Sub-Committee, succeeded in negotiating the reversal after the Senate Legislative Counsel asked the SSA for a clarification on the intent of the law.

Details of the new policy are available from Chiles' Lakeland office or from the SSA, however, the revised manual is in the process of being undated, according to the Senator.

Osborne termed the policy change by SSA a "major breakthrough" for farmers who faced the threat of being excluded from social security benefits as they retired. Under the initial ruling, income from agricultural investments was not being treated on the same basis as income from other investments which are excluded for the purpose of meeting retirement requirements.

Chiles expressed "deep concern over the fact many individuals in Florida, who had invested in grove property as a supplement to their social security benefits, now found those benefits in jeopardy."

Chiles and Osborne both advised, however, that farmers should obtain legal assistance if they planned on using one of the three alternatives which the SSA has agreed to implement relating to farmer's retirement income.

Graduating LPN's Honored

A reception, honoring 21 students graduating from the July, 1978 Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) course at South Florida Junior College, was given by the staff of Walker Memorial Hospital last week at the hospital cafeteria.

The students were congratulated on their achievements by Velma L. Mixon, R.N., assistant hospital administrator and welcomed to the hospital. They were also welcomed to the hospital by John McClellan, hospital administrator and vice-president.

Ruling Paves Way For Compromise

Mahorner pointed out that if Judge Green's order had declared the congregate living facilities portion of the state law unconstitutional, HRS could have proceeded immediately to Florida Supreme Court.

In limiting his order to a rule established to implement a state licensing law, Judge Green paved the way for the two sides to confer and try to work out a new approach to establishing acceptable safety standards.

When the suit was initiated Mrs. Perry said some of the residents of her boarding home (on SE Lakeview Drive) live there because they wish to have companionship; they do not need medical care on a day-to-day basis.

These same persons could reside in their own homes, motels or hotels. The latter facilities, although licensed by public agencies, are not required to limit their guests to persons who can arise from a prone position without help and move to a place of safety without assistance, the original complaint said.

The Florida law for the licensing of adult congregate living facilities and the promulgation of specific rules came, in part, in response to public pressures which followed a number of deaths in boarding home crises such as fires.

PINECREST IS BURGLARY TARGET

A color television and microwave oven were reported taken from the bar at Pinecrest Country Club near Avon Park. Highlands County sheriff's deputies say a screen was forced out and a window pried open to gain entry. About $40 worth of liquor was also taken.

Earl Rich Gives Toll-Free Numbers

After about three years of calling the Highlands County Courthouse by toll free telephone number from Avon Park and Lake Placid, county residents have been asking courthouse employees, why there are no toll-free numbers like there were last year, stated Earl Rich, Highlands County Clerk of Courts.

The answer according to Earl Rich is that the toll-free numbers were inadvertantly left out of the 1977-78 telephone directory. He added that there are four toll-free rotating numbers available from both Avon Park and Lake Placid.

Avon Park 453-7538

Originally two toll-free lines were placed in operation from both Avon Park and Lake Placid, however, due to the increase in the number of calls into the courthouse switchboard, two additional lines were placed in operation from each town.

Rich cited that at the courthouse there are eight divisions under his supervision, twelve departments under the Highlands County Board of County Commissioners, circuit and county court judges, supervisor of election and tag agency, tax assesor, tax collector, the state attorney's office and the public defenders office, that go through the switchboard. The switchboard does not include the Highlands County Health Department, Sheriff's office, auto inspection stations, civil defense and Emergency Medical Service.

Rich suggested that county residents use the following rotating numbers when calling the courthouse: Avon Park, 453-7538 and Lake Placid, 465-2464. When the courthouse switchboard operator receives the call she will route it to the department desired by the caller, added Rich.

Close Vote On Hospital Underlines Differences

Two consecutive close votes denying a 50-bed satellite hospital for the Lake Placid area and approving a 32-bed radial wing addition to Highlands General Hospital, underscored sharp differences among the board of directors of the South Central Florida Health Systems Council, Inc., Saturday in Sarasota.

In following the recommendation of its project review committee, the board voted 11-10 to allow the county hospital to add beds and 8-9 to deny Walker Memorial Hospital permission to construct a 50-bed hospital in Lake Placid. Several board members abstained from the vote.

Dr. Bill Hill, a former Highlands County Health Department head, said his familiarity with distances in the area led him to comment, "There's no use being emotional about the distance from Lake Placid to a hospital, in New York or Atlanta distances are not relative either.

"We must look at the alternatives more closely," he suggested, in proposing a further study of the health care problems in Lake Placid. Further, he continued, only four doctors practice locally and only one of those is full-time. With 50 beds there can be no surgery, no facilities for the acutely ill . . . just a 50-bed clinic.'"

Dr. Hill said that medical members of the project review committee emphasized their doubts of the ability not only to fill the beds, but of the willingness of Sebring or Avon Park doctors to travel the distance. With only very simple blood test equipment available, it would be a "department" of Walker Memorial, he predicted.

Norvell Thrombley, a consumer board member from Charlotte County, said he feared the proposed satellite would be a first aid station, with no sophisticated or semi-sophisticated equipment currently in use in the health care field.

Reading a prepared statement, Highlands County's board member Marshall Pollard, who lives in rural Lake Placid, said it would be "at least two years before the satellite would open" and predicted doctors would move to the area. He contended that postal officials said more than 17,000 people are in the area when a map disclosed the Spring Lake population — originally included in a staff review as Lake Placid — was actually a suburb of Sebring and only seven miles from Highlands General.

Project Review coordinator Dan Edgar, under questioning on the staff review and recommendations, said he based his favorable recommendation on the growth projections given him, adding "you would have to, count every person in Highlands County to be certain where they actually are."

He admitted that two of the criteria nixed in the staff review for HGH on "need", would be drastically adjusted if the Walker proposal wasn't approved, adding, "The need for beds in the county is real and evident . . . we just wanted to be sure they were put in the right place."

Dr. Maurice Bigelow, board secretary and Kenneth Nyman, said the sub-area approval may have been "emotional" and not based on facts submitted on cost. A board member who is also on the project review board and is comptroller at Bartow Hospital, said that a 50-bed facility is too small to be effective and "barely makes it."

The discussion was summed up by Hendry County board member Jean Anderson, who said, "Our duty is to put the best quality health care within the reach of the most people."

She said her small town had a hospital and she wished it didn't because of problems in its smallness and added "the staff should do more work in developing its health care overall plan, an in-depth study which will answer many of the questions in providing medical facilities in areas which are predominantly rural."

In the audience, but not allowed to speak on the matter at Saturday's meeting were Richard Henderson and Dr. Michael Wesson, of the Lake Placid Hospital Committee; Highlands Geneeral Administrator Brian Bogert; Assistant Administrator Marcy Clements and board members Mrs.Audrey Vickers.

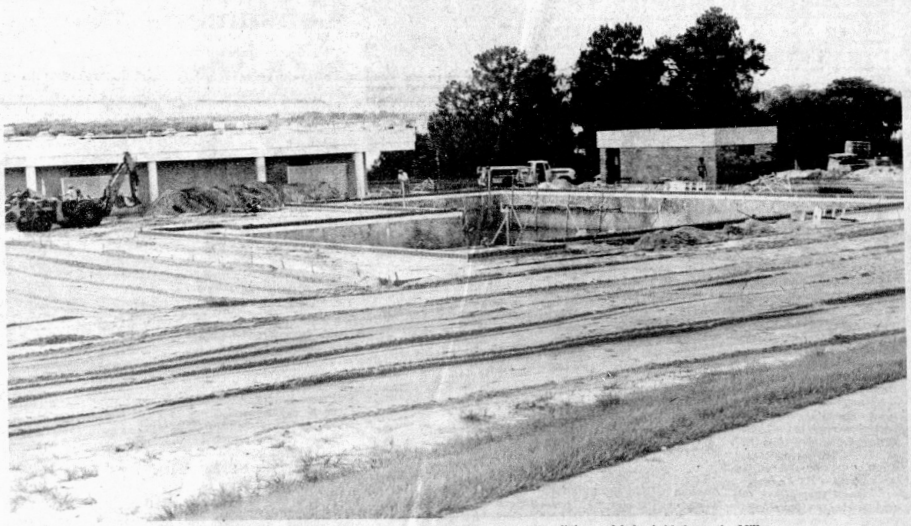

The application now goes to Tallahassee for review and then to Atlanta. Bogert has estimated it will be 18 months before the 32 beds are operational.

Cost containment will be fostered, he explained, by adding the wing directly above an existing radial wing completed several years ago and using all of the ancillary services such as radiology, lab and physical therapy now in operation at Highlands General, without added staff or equipment. Highlands General, without added staff or equipment.

County EMS Reports

During the week of July 16 through 22 Highlands County Emergency Medical Services made 13 emergency runs, seven in-county transfers and four out-of-county transfers in Sebring.

During the same period there were five emergency runs in Avon Park and 11 emergency runs and one-in-county transfer in Lake Placid.

Jaws II To Be Used For Saving Lives

"Jaws II" is coming to Lake Placid not in the form of a giant, man-eating shark, but as a lifesaving rescue device.

Highlands County Commissioners agreed Tuesday morning that such a device is needed in the Lake Placid area. A recent Bair's Den accident that required use of the jaws device from Sebring prompted Commissioner Norman "Jug" Heston to propose the purchase.

Cost of a second jaws is estimated at $5,300. "I know we're hunting money (in the proposed budget) desperately, but this is a matter of life and death," Chairman C. J. "Buddy" Wise said.

It was pointed out that the 10 minutes or more than could be saved in having a jaws in the Lake Placid Emergency Medical Service station could be instrumental in saving accident victims' lives.

While a few routine measures were considered during the short regular session, concern about the proposed 1978-79 fiscal budget surfaced with a comment from Commissioner Carl Arant Jr. Arant suggested asking the Highlands County School Board "to work as hard (as commissioners) to pull the line and cut and hold down their millage and budget."

Other commissioners said the school board should be aware of this need, as the schools are currently at the maximum millage level.

Several zoning change requests were unanimously approved by the board. This includes:

— A request from Joe Stiles Sr. to change zoning on four acres west of U.S. 27 on S.R. 66 from agricultural to industrial use for a bulk petroleum distributing plant;

— A request from Annie Laurie Twitty, Carmel L. Etheredge and Mary E. Walker to change two acres in DeSoto City Farm Lots from agricultural to general retail-wholesale.

— A request from Barrow, Inc. to change seven acres in DeSoto City Farm Lots from agriculture to general retail-wholesale.

— A request from William G. Stock to change 12 acres on SR 621 near Lake Placid from agriculture to B-3 multiple family residential and apartment, and B-2 general retail.

The youth had been booked for violation of probation, unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, grand theft, grand theft (auto), grand larceny, escape. There was no prosecution on the last three of these charges.

Country Club Villas (Architect Sketch)

Country Club Villas Open

Highlands Countians who can't decide between a single family and a multi-family residence now have a new choice. It's called Country Club Villas at Sun 'n Lake Estates of Sebring and it combines the advantages of both.

Barnett Bank of Highlands County is providing both the construction and permanent financing for the $1.5 million project. According to Ron Weisser, Sun 'n Lake executive vice president, "Sun 'n Lake Country Club Villas were designed to provide the privacy and individuality of a single family home plus the recreational facilities and freedom from responsibility for exterior maintenance usually found only in multi-family residences."

He said that each two-bedroom, two-bath home will have a screened patio overlooking a private recreational pavilion with swimming pool, tropically landscaped sundeck, putting green and shuffleboard courts. In addition, there will be privacy walls with gates between each building forming a community-within-a community.

Country Club Villas is being built on Catalina Drive, opposite Lake Granada near the Sun 'n Lake Estates of Sebring Golf & Country Club with its 18-hole championship golf course, night-lighted tennis courts, elegant clubhouse and other superb facilities.

Special pre-opening prices range from $42,495 to $43,995. Two distinct exterior designs and both lakeview and poolside locations are available. Phase 1 is scheduled for completion during the coming winter season.

In addition to its private recreational facilities and outstanding location, Sun 'n Lake Country Club Villas offer many features not usually found within its price range including a dishwasher and disposal, clothes washer and dryer and a special "owners storage closet" with lock and key for people who wish to offer their home for rent.

Ski - Masker's Conviction Upheld

Ski-Mask Bandit Daniel Morris Thomas has lost a bid to have his conviction in two Highlands County cases overturned.

In a decision announced July 19, Second District Court of Appeal rejected Thomas'; challenge of the search warrant and other arrest procedures used when he was taken into custody in January 1976.

The appeal, filed on Thomas' behalf by the appeals division of the public defender's office, was linked to his conviction in burglaries at the Leslie Smith home at Avon Park and the William H. Sowers home at Lake Placid.

Thomas has been sentenced to 15 years each on counts of burglary and unarmed robbery filed in the Smith case; 50 years each for robbery and grand larceny in the Sowers case.

Thomas is now under two death sentences and prison sentences totaling hundred of years for convictions based on cases arising from a terrorist gang sweep through Central Florida in late 1975 and early 1976.

Acting Chief Judge John M. Scheb and Judge T. Truett Ott and Paul W. Danahy Jr. affirmed Thomas' convictions in the Smith and Sowers cases; the judges did not file an accompanying opinion.

James "Jimmy" Thomas Ivey Jr.

Ivey Works Up To Dairy Manager At Pantry Pride

At 17 years of age, James "Jimmy" Thomas Ivey Jr., with the approval of his parents, enlisted in the United States Army and when he returned started working at the Avon Park Pantry Pride grocery store, progressing to dairy manager of the store.

Born Sept. 23, 1943 at Nashville, Tenn, Jimmy had some of his schooling at Nashville and some at Avon Park. At one time while at Nashville he had Marty Robbins wife for his Sunday School teacher.

Because of his moving between schools Jimmy entered the Army from the ninth grade. He went overseas with the U.S.A. 9th Artillery Division, stationed at Munich, Germany. While with the Artillery, he said, he did a little bit of everything.

Following his discharge from the Artillery Service, he came back to Avon Park and started working at Pantry Pride in August, 1967. And in 1967 Jim and Maynie Gillian of Sebring were married at the First Baptist Church in Avon Park.

After working five years at the local store Jim was transfered to Sarasota where during his five and one-half years he worked at all three of the Pantry Pride stores in that city before coming back to the Avon Park store this past May.

For hobbies, Jim likes bowling, tennis, basketball and generally all sports. Jim has been flying with store manager Jerome Antley and feels that he could learn to like flying also. He has done a lot of fishing, caught a lot of small ones but nothing really big, he said.

In bowling Jim rolls an average of 169 and won a trophy for a high-game scratch series at Sarasota. With his interest in bowling he was elected president of one league for five years and for two years in another league, while in Sarasota. He is looking forward to starting a Pantry Pride bowling team this year.

As for his return to Avon Park, Jim wholeheartedly stated, "I'm glad to be back!"

Miss Helen Keefe, Director of the State Board of Nursing, will be the commencement speaker. The presentation of pins and certificates to the twenty-one graduates will be Dr. William A. Stallard, President; Donald H. Farrens, Dean of the Vocational, Technical and Adult Education Division; and Mrs. Barbara Kurtz, Instructor; South Florida Junior College.

CAR VANDALIZED

An auto belonging to Paula Brown of Avon Park was vandalized while it was parked on Highlands Ave. near Sebring. Headlights, tail lights and all the windows were broken. She left the car parked on the road after it ran out of gas late in the evening of July 21. Loss is set at $200, Highlands County sheriff's deputies said.

Defeat Of Carter Hospital Cost Act Is Victory For Senior Citizens

The defeat of the Carter Hospital Cost Containment Act in the House Commerce Committee and the substitution of a more realistic process for cost control is a victory for the people of Florida, especially senior citizens; according to John McClellan, executive vice-president of Walker Memorial Hospital.

The original Carter proposal, supported by Congressman Paul Rogers was "care containment" bill. Less use of the hospital would have been the inevitable result of its passage. Secretary of HEW Joseph Califano's response to the defeat is that of a petulant child who didn't get what he wanted.

The original bill provided incentives for hospitals to reduce admissions, and penalties for hospitals which increased admissions. Florida, whose population is growing, especially in older age groups would suffer severe penalties as the proposal failed to consider population growth.

The bill approved establishes a national commission which can devise more realistic approaches to health care cost containment. Hospitals represent the largest single element of health care costs and they are already highly regulated. Sixty percent of health care expenditures are largely unregulated and were not included in the defeated Carter bill.

Law Officials Meet On Problems

reasonable doubt and sometimes that isn't possible on the mere evidence of probable cause. So we're going to have problems from time to time," Yancey said.

Major Richard McLeod of the Sheriff's Department said some officers felt cases which had been thrown out by Gallagher should have been tried.

"We had made some cases for grand theft which we felt probable cause had been made before the arrest. . . but I see his side of it. Any assistant state attorney likes to go to court with as strong as case as possible," said McLeod.

McLeod said he felt there would be a "lot better communications" between the two agencies.

A second complaint by officers was the allegation Gallagher did not tell police of dispositions of cases.

"There have been instances but I think this was just an oversight on Mr. Gallagher's part," McLeod said. "If I work hard on a case I want to know why it has been dropped."

Captain Charles Snelgrove of the Sheriff's Department said, "Everything has been settled. We are going to have meetings at intevals to work out problems. It's hard for some men to keep up with all the new laws. I think everything has been ironed out. That's all I care to comment."

Gallagher denied there was any problem with law enforcement agencies, saying there were no problems he knew of.

In regard to the allegation that his office did not tell officers of the disposition of cases he said, "That is basically on traffic cases. We can't notify them on every traffic case. People come in and plead guilty every day."

One source close to law enforcement agencies told the Sun that Gallagher "was more inclined to be very specific about what is in a case before he will take it to court. (Law enforcement agencies) are used to state attorneys who would take almost everything to court.

"Gallagher is not lax, he has a logical or legal reason for everything he does. . . but he's more cautious than some state attorneys."

The Sun was unable to obtain a comment from Sheriff Sheppard, who was attending a sheriff's convention in Orlando.

Weekend Accidents Cause Damage

Property damage was extremely heavy and included a bridge and two utility poles in four major traffic accidents within city limits during the past week.

John Thomas Wright, 22, Avon Park, was charged by Sgt. Bob Baker with driving while his license was suspended and careless driving following a one-car crash on SR 634 near Edgerwater Point July 24.

The Wright car allegedly entered a curve at an excessive rate of speed. The driver lost control, left the roadway and struck two mailboxes, a utility pole, a junction box and finally a tree.

Damage to the car was placed at $5,000 and to the personal property at $1,250.

Damage amounted to $4,500 in a one-car accident of SR 634 near Valencia Ave. July 20.

A car driven by Michael Coward Kozak, 29, Lake Placid, was approaching the Harder Hall bridge when the right side left the highway. Kozak lost control and, upon entering the bridge, struck the concrete guard rail, sending large chunks of concrete into the canal which connects Little Lake Jackson to Lake Jackson.

Damage to the car was placed at $2,600 and to the section of bridge at $800.

Ruth Alma Jenkins, 74, Sebring, was charged by Ptl. Rick Robinson with violation of right-of-way after investigation of a two-car crash at the intersection of S. Commerce St. and S. Pine St. July 19.

The car driven by Jenkins failed to stop at a stop sign and went directly into the path of a car driven by Ian M. Cunningham, 79, of Sebring.

Damage to the Jenkins auto was set at $1,500 and to the Cunningham vehicle at $400.

Police Salaries Vary Widely

By Mark Albright

In a recent survey of the pay scale of the Avon Park Police Department and those in the surrounding cities of Sebring, Wauchula and Frostproof, it was found that Avon Park's Police Chief Robert Brooks receives approximately $12,919 per year with two years and approximately four months of service, which is less than the $14,000 per year that Frostproof Police Chief Raymond March receives after approximately one month of employment in that position.

Upon the completion of three years as Police Chief, Brooks' pay will increase to approximately $13,543, exceeding the $13,260 per year that Wauchula's Police Chief receives with 24 years of service behind him.

With the number of city-paid employees of the Avon Park Police Department numbering 20, that of the Wauchula Police Department numbering 12, the Frostproof Police Department numbering nine and the Sebring Police Department the largesh with 27 full-time employees, the survey shows several other interesting facts.

As a probationary patrolman, an enlistee in the Avon Park Police Department receives approximately $183 per week for his services.

After the six-month probationary period, an Avon Park enlistee becomes a regular patrolman and his wages are raised to approximately $10,150 a year.

Of the surrounding cities of Wauchula, Sebring and Frostproof only a patrolman on the Sebring Police force with one year of employment makes more than an Avon Park Police Officer with six months of service under his belt.

This amount may be supplemented by state money which the patrolman can receive by taking advanced training courses.

He receives longevity raises at the end of three, five, seven and ten years of work on the force, with the raises topping out after ten years.

After a full year of employment at the Avon Park Police Department, a patrolman may file an application for a promotion.

If the promotion is approved and the officer passes the test which is required for a promotion, he can move up to a higher paying positon.

A sergeant of the Avon Park Police Department receives approximately $10,462 a year. This is more than the sergeant's pay in either Wauchula or Frostproof and, of the surrounding cities, is only topped by Sebring's sergeant's pay of approximately $12,019 a year.

Police work is not an eight to five job. Policemen sometimes work up to six hours overtime on paperwork with no overtime pay.

A policemen mush go through special training, have a clean record, perfect credit, good morals and many other qualities which are required to be a protector of the peace.

In addition, a policeman must take a Civil Service test before he is employed by the department to determine if he is qualified for the job.

But, as a reward for his perseverance through all these matters, and for upholding the law the policeman receives one of the highest city salaries available, city-paid on-the-job insurance, and approximately a 10-year pension upon retirement.

Legal Secretaries Attend Convention

Members of the Highlands Legal Secretaries Association chose representatives to attend the 27th annual convention of the National Association of Legal Secretaries (International) to be held July 21-27, at the Hyatt Regency, Atlanta. Ida Dorman of Lake Placid has been elected delegate from the local chapter to attend the convention.

The purpose of NALS, which is a nonpartisan, nonunion, nonpolitical, and nonsectarian group, is to unite all persons engaged in work of a legal nature and encourage their continuing education. Its chief objective is to provide service to attorneys, the courts, the general public, and to law office employees. NALS now has more than 23,000 members, and delegates are expected in Atlanta from throughout the United States and Canada.

Other special presentations at the banquet will include the announcement of the Legal Secretary of the Year, and those members who have passed the two-day Professional Legal Secretary examination during the past year will be introduced and will receive their PLS certificates. Winners of local and state bulletin and history book contests will be announced, and awards will also be presented.

William Spann, President of the American Bar Association, will be the keynote speaker at the General Assembly. Announcement will be made of the six NALS scholarship winners, chosen from ten finalists, each of whom will receive a $1500.00 scholarship.

A series of legal education workshops has been scheduled for the legal secretary interested in broadening her knowledge on the job. On Saturday, July 21, concurrent sessions will be offered: (1) A workshop on the Professional Legal Secretary (PLS) program, featuring a mock PLS exam, and (2) The NALS Official Course and Continuing Legal Education Programming. The topics for the workshops scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, July 25 and 26, are Law Office Management and Procedures, Medical Malpractice, Unauthorized Practice of Law, and Products Liability. Well known and prominent attorneys from South Carolina, New Mexico, and Pennsylvania have been obtained to bring educational opportunities to those attending.

Other events include an inspirational prayer breakfast Sunday morning, a get-acquainted reception on Saturday evening, Newcomers Party on Sunday afternoon, and a visit to Stone Mountain Park Monday evening. Several sightseeing tours will also be available to members and guests. Ida is employed with Andrew B. Jackson, Attorney at Law, in Lake Placid.

Seminar Very Successful

The Highland Legal Secretaries Association reports a very successful legal education project. On June 22, they held a seminar on the "New Elections Laws" at the Agri-Civic Center in Sebring, Florida. The seminar was conducted by Jackie Eldridge, administrative assistant to Mary Singleton, director of division of elections, of the secretary of state's office in Tallahassee, assisted by Jimmy Whitehouse, supervisor of elections for Highlands County. Upon invitation by the Highlands LSA, there were over 100 interested parties in attendance from Sebring, Avon Park, Arcadia, Wauchula, Okeechobee, Moore Haven, and Lake Placid.

Refreshments were served and there was a question and answer period after the presentation by Miss Eldridge. Local banks and interested political parties, businesses, civic clubs and the local bar association contributed generously to defray expenses. The club, extended their thanks and appreciation to those who contributed and supported their community project.

Extension For Nursing Home

Jan. 15, 1979 is the new deadline for construction to commence on a 100-bed nursing home at the foot of Persimmon Ave., east of K-mart.

Throughout the spring and early summer the nursing home company, Sebring Care, Inc. had, from its home offices in Orange County, given district and county health planners assurances the new facilities would be under construction by July 15.

This week Dan Edgar, project review executive for South Central Florida Health Systems Council, Inc., said he had just been informed by the state office of Community Medical Facilities that a six months extension had been granted.

Sebring Care, Inc. now has plans at the licensure and certification office in Jacksonville.

Sebring Care projects expenditure of $1,089,000 for construction of the new facilities to give both skilled and intermediate care.

Lake Wales All Star Little League Wins Area Tourney

The Lake Wales All Star Little League baseball team went through the five-team East Area Tournament held here at the City Ball Complex without a loss to capture the championship trophy and advance to the three-team District 4 play-offs at Pinecrest this week.

The host Avon Park team won its opening game over Sebring by a score of 2-1 Monday night a week ago and then got knocked into the loser's bracket by Lake Wales on Wednesday night by a score of 8-6. The local twelve year old All Stars then were eliminated from the tournament by Hardee last Thursday night by a score of 8-7. Hardee lost to Lake Wales on Friday night 4-0.

Avon Park - 2, Sebring - 1,

The Avon Park Little League All Stars slipped by Sebring 2-1 last Monday night a week ago in the East Area tourney being held here at the City Ball Complex.

Duane Young, the winning pitcher, limited Sebring to two singles, struck out nine batters and put six Sebring players on base with walks. The lone Sebring run came in the second inning when Billy Schofill was hit by a pitched ball and was walked in as three more batters drew bases on balls that inning.

Avon Park came up with one run in the bottom of the fifth inning. Bryan Arnold drew a walk and Bobby Barnes and Duane Young singled to send him home.

The winning run was scored in the bottom of the sixth inning by Greg Jackson who led off with a single, stole second and scored on a fly ball that was dropped by the Sebring center fielder. Tim Devlin boomed the high fly that gave Jackson the opportunity to score.

Lake Wales-8, Avon Park-6,

The Avon Park All Stars scored four runs in the top of the sixth inning last Tuesday night a week ago against Lake Wales, but it just wasn't enough to over come the 8-2 lead the Polk County All Stars had going into the final inning.

Greg Jackson, the Avon Park starting pitcher, faced the first eight batters in the first frame giving up four runs on four hits before Jon Marcum came on to relieve him. Marcum went on to finish the game allowing four more runs on four hits including a double in the second frame.

Avon Park scored two runs in the top of the third inning and added the four more in the top of the final inning but couldn't overcome the big Lake Wales lead.

The local All Stars picked up five hits off Donnie Denton, the Lake Wales pitcher, including a home run by Duane Young in the sixth inning. Jon Marcum blasted out a double in the fifth and Tim Devlin, Bryan Arnold and Geno Taylor all contributed a single to the losing effort by Avon Park.

Hardee-8, Avon Park - 7,

The Avon Park twelve year olds came up just one run short last Thursday night when Hardee took an 8-7 victory in the loser's bracket to advance to the finals on the East Area Little League All Star tourney played here.

Tim Devlin and Duane Young shared pitching duties for Avon Park allowing only three hits but putting eight batters on base free during the five and a half inning game. Devlin started and gave up seven runs on two hits — a home run in the third inning with no one on base and a single in the fourth with one runner on base. Young was responsible for only one run and one hit after he came on in the fourth inning with one batter out.

The Avon Park batters got seven hits off winning pitcher Dennis Herron with four of those hits coming in the third inning when the local team scored six big runs. Bobby Barnes, Greg Jackson, Jon Marcum and Tim Devlin all singled one after another in the third inning.

Duane Young and Fred Lewis both singled in the fourth inning but couldn't score. In the fifth frame John Tolar led off with single and scored later on an infield error.

OWNER TISHA GOODSON shows how proud she is of her dog Jenny who won the "best of the show" ribbon for the second straight year at the annual Recreation Department's Kids Dog Show last weekend at Donaldson Park. Jenny is a Shetland Sheepdog and she won first place ribbons in "best looking" and "best behaved" catagories this year. See page 3 for story and more pictures.

Merchants Slow Pitch Softball Team To Enter District 4 Tournament

Avon Park Merchant's Slow Pitch Softball team will enter the Class B, District 4 tournament to be held in Bradenton this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 28, 29 and 30 in competition with 10 other area teams. The top two teams in this weekend's tournament will advance to the Class B State Tourney to be held in Pensacola August 11, 12 and 13.

The Merchants, who qualified for district competition in Naples several weekends ago, will be going up against some tough competition this weekend according to Manager Densby Jackson.

Entered in the 11 team meet will be Weatherly Insurance of Port Charlotte, the Polk All Stars of Lakeland and the surrounding area, Swedes of Haines City, the Bradenton Herald, Johnston Holmes from the West Coast and Sports Trophy World. There are also two teams from Lakeland and two teams from the St. Pete-Tampa area entered in the double elimination tournament.

The A.P. Merchants didn't fare very well last weekend down in Port Charlotte when they won only one of three games in a ten team invitational tourney. They were beaten twice by a Ft. Myers team.

It will take a concentrated effort by the local traveling slow pitch men's softball team to qualify for state this weekend. Avon Park fans will be pulling for the Merchants to place first or second in the district meet so they can represent Avon Park in the State event in Pensacola next month.

EAST AREA LITTLE League winners are presented a trophy by Avon Park Little League vice-president Gordon Marshall after defeating Hardee 4 - 0 in the final game played here at the City Ball Complex last Friday night. Lake Wales advanced to the District 4 All Star play-off in Pinecrest this week and won its first game last Monday night over Auburndale. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Top Honors Go To Local Talent In F.H.F. Open Tennis Tournament

By Dennis Guenther

In the First Home Federal Open Tennis Tournament, put on by the Avon Park Recreation Department, most of the top honors went to local talent.

The tournament was the first one organized by the City's Recreation Department and even though there were fewer than expected entered in the competition, those that were in it were very enthusiastic and disciplined players.

BEUMEL AND STALLARD combined to walk off with the men's doubles championship trophy at last weekend's Open Tennis Tourney sponsored by First Home Federal and run by the Recreation Department. Brad Beumel (left) and Grant Stallard knocked off Fernandez and Delaney in the finals by a score of 7-5, 6-2 to take the title. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

All the matches were played on the Avon Park courts, starting Friday evening and continuing Saturday, with the finals being played on Suday. The weather was very good for the event, with only one match being postponed.

In Men's Singles, Victor Fernandez of Sebring started his trek to the finals (and eventually first place) by defeating Tim Williams Friday evening, 6-2, 6-3. He met Grant Stallard on Saturday morning and won that match in two sets, 7-5, 6-1. In the finals, Fernandez played Kris Delaney Sunday at 1 p.m. and defeated him 6-3, 6-2.

Kris took home the second place trophy in men's singles. He defeated Brad Beumel and Charlie Jordon to make it to the finals.

In the Women's Singles, Debra Cox had a relatively easy trip through her matches to clinch the first place honors there. In the first round, she easily beat the less experienced Becky Travers, 6-1, 6-0. She then went on to defeat Karen Knowles 6-2, 6-2 and met Darcey Ray in the finals. Debra won that match, 6-1, 6-0. Darcey had a tough first round match with Delores Cox, and again with Margaret Haysley before the finals.

The men's doubles team of Grant Stallard and Brad Beumel proved too tough for the team of Kris Delaney and Victor Fernandez as they won that division's first place, 7-5, 6-2. Stallard-Beumel played a great doubles combination, with the fine net game being the key factor in their victory. Their first set was back and forth, but they finally won it and then went on to put the pressure on their opponents in the second set.

In the Women's Doubles, the Cox twins, Debra and Delores, of Avon Park, glided through the competition rather easily. They defeated the team of Pam Anderson and Becky Travers, 6-0, 6-1, to clinch the first place trophies. Travers and Anderson had to settle a respectable second place.

The tournament went very smoothly, mostly because of the expert organization and scheduling of the tournament Director, Walt Reid, who donated his time and experience to make this a successful event. Many thanks to him and the First Home Federal Savings and Loan for their sponsorship of this tournament.

Hearing Set To Raise Level In Lake Istokpoga

The South Florida Water Management District will hold a public hearing in Sebring August 8, in answer to a petition requesting the District and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to raise the minimum lake level schedule of Lake Istokpoga from 37.5 feet above mean sea level to 38.5 feet. Some 1,000 residents, boaters and fishcamp owners in the Lake Istokpoga area signed the petition.

The hearing will be at the Sebring Agri-Civic Center, U.S. Highway 27 South, in Sebring. A morning session will begin at 9 a.m., and will continue until all those present have been heard. An evening session is also scheduled for the same day, beginning at 7 p.m.

The District Governing Board requested the staff to confer with the Corps of Engineers to analyze the request and make recommendations on the suggestion. Environmental and flooding concerns must be reviewed before the District can make a decision on its recommendation to the Corps.

The lake level is regulated in order to provide flood protection during the wet season. Any water storage over 39.5 causes the lake to flood the surrounding area. The schedule calls for an elevation of 39.5 on January 1. This schedule is held until February 20, when it is gradually lowered to 37.5 on June 1, and then gradually builds up to the 39.5 point again on October 10.

District Executive Director John R. Maloy pointed out that the Corps might require some structural changes at the lake's outlet so that water could be released at a more rapid rate if flooding became a possibility. Maloy also stated that during three of the past five years the District has had to declare a water shortage warning in the region, and reduce use of water for irrigation. Maloy stated that the new proposed schedule could benefit this situation.

End Of Season Tourneys Set

The Avon Park Women's Slow Pitch Softball League will hold two end-of-the season tourneys this weekend at the two Little League Fields on Anoka Ave. The top five finishers in the league will compete in the Class A tourney on Field II and the bottom six teams will compete in the Class B meet on Field I.

Pairings will be drawn tonight (Thursday) with all team managers asked to be on hand if possible between games at the Little League fields. Trophies will be presented to the top two teams in both tournaments but these will not replace the regular season league champion and runner-up trophies. A play off may be necessary to determine the top two teams.

Action will start in both divisions at 9 a.m. on Saturday and continue throughout the day and evening. If games are necessary on Sunday, the first one will start at 1 p.m. Games will be scheduled for every one hour and a half but there will be no time limit on the seven inning games. Any team that has a 10-run lead after five innings of play will be declared the winner of that game.

Final standings will not be complete until after the Thursday night games but at present it appears that Gammage's Angels, Jahna Concrete, Foxy Ladies, Cox Plumbing and Texgas will be in Division A and Jackies, Scotty's, A.P. Kids, Ridge Florist, Avon Citrus Bank and Highlands Cable TV will be in the Division B tourney.

After last Monday night's League meeting, the protest by Jackie's Beauty Shop over Cox Plumbing was dismissed as not acceptable because the call protested was an umpire's judgement call. Another protest was also ruled not acceptable for the same reasons.

Fans are invited to come out to the tournament games this weekend and enjoy the play as the girls and women close out the summer softball season.

River Greens Golf Notes

Action was really slow at River Greens last week as the Wednesday men's Pro Am was rained out. The men have decided to play the Pro Am tourney at 9 a.m. on Wednesdays instead of 1 p.m. until fall hoping to avoid the afternoon showers.

Only 11 women players participated in last Thursday's 18 hole Pro Am so there were no team winners. Connie Clifford captured the Class A honors, Georgia Brown came in at the top of the Class B group, Hallie Penney was first in Class C and Ann Jack won the Class D division.

—0—

Walt Kline and Aaron Cravens tied for low net with 68's in last Saturday's Men's Day play. There were twelve men entered in the competition. Apologies to Aaron for the mispelled name last week.

—0—

George Duncan, Sun Reporter, got even with Sun Advertising Manager Tom Rabalais last weekend when he won by two strokes on 11 holes at River Greens. George must be attacking the golf ball the way he attacks injustice and crime in his columns.

7th Annual Junior Golf Tourney Set

The 7th Annual Tornasello Junior Golf Tournament will be held August 21-22 at the Bartow Golf Club. The popular event which is open to boys and girls age 9 to 17 will inaugurate the two week long Bartow Girls Villa Classic.

Pinecrest Golf Notes

All scheduled tournament activities were rained out at Pinecrest last week but Pro Charlie Polk is hoping the men and women will get in a little more action this week in their separate events. Charlie says activities will pick up the end of next month and in September and October.

This cut down in scheduled tourneys means the links are available for individual play and those of you who have been putting off getting in nine or eighteen holes should take advantage of the slack season at one of our fine golf courses in the area.

Striders To Go To Brevard Runners Camp

The Central Florida Striders runners club will be sending five of its members to the 1978 Florida Distance Runner's Camp at Brevard College at Brevard, North Carolina July 30 through August 5.

The camp will feature morning and afternoon runs, lectures, panel discussions, video taping, film analysis seminars and special runs. Portis, McKenzie and Myers are hopeful of getting in some extra training in preparation for the fast approaching fall cross-country season.

Avon Park Places Second In District 4 Championship

The Auburndale Senior League All Stars defeated the Avon Park Seniors twice last week to capture the District 4 championship and move on to Sectional Play at Plant City. Auburndale won both games by identical 6-3 scores, but the first one was a heartbreaker for Avon Park as the local All Stars were within one strike of chalking up a 2-1 victory when Auburndale broke loose for a five run barrage in the top of the seventh inning.

The District 4 three team play-off was held in Plant City, but the host Plant City All Stars got a bad break when they were forced to play Auburndale Thursday night at six o'clock and then come right back and take on Avon Park in the loser's bracket at 8:15 p.m., on the same night.

Auburndale beat Plant City 12-2 and then Avon Park jumped on the host team for a 23-1 victory in the second game of the double header last Thursday night. That forced the second game between Avon Park and Auburndale and the Polk County team came out on top last Friday night by the 6-3 score.

The Avon Park All Stars received the runner-up trophy for District 4 after capturing the East Area trophy the previous week. The fourteen boys on the squad and Coaches Jimmy Hart and John Sedlock represented Avon Park with some excellent play and were praised by the Plant City hosts for their efforts.

Auburndale-6, Avon Park - 3,

The Avon Park All Stars jumped off to a 2-0 lead against the Auburndale team in the bottom of the first inning of the first game played in Plant City last week on Tuesday, July 18. Dwayne Council drew a walk, went to second when Tim Cribb was safe on an infield error, took third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch. Cribb scored when Alvin Conner was safe on an error by the Auburndale second baseman.

There was no more scoring in the game as Avon Park lefty Gerald Jones held the Auburndale batters to just one hit until the sixth inning. Then Auburndale scored one run on a double and a single.

Going into the top of the seventh inning, Jones faced the last four batters on the visitors line-up. The first one hit a fly ball which center fielder Mike Shorkey caught. The next batter singled. Then right fielder Ronnie Barnes made a great catch for the second out of the inning. The next batter drew a walk, putting runners on first and second with two outs.

That's when the trouble started. Jones came out of the game and Alvin Conner came on in relief. Facing Auburndale's lead off batter, Conner worked his way to a two-two count although the runners had stolen to third and second base. But with just one strike needed to give Avon Park the victory, Auburndale's Ronnie Spears singled up the middle to drive in two runs.

by Avon Park's third pitcher of the game, Ronnie Barnes, Auburndale had scored three more runs on a double, a single and an outfield error by Avon Park. That set the score at 6-2 with Avon Park coming to bat.

The first two local batters made outs. Then Gerald Jones was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, stole third and scored on a passed ball. Council drew a walk and so did Cribb bringing the tying run to the plate. But the pitcher fielded a hot liner and threw to first for the final out and Avon Park fell into the loser's bracket.

Avon Park-23, Plant City-1,

The fun game for Avon Park was last Thursday night when it took on Plant City in the second game of a double header for the host team and clobbered them 23 - 1 in five innings.

Plant City, down from a 12-2 loss to Auburndale, never got it all back together as Avon Park jumped off to a first inning 2-0 lead. The local All Stars then added one run in the second frame, six more runs in the third inning, five in the fourth and five more in the bottom of the fifth inning. Plant City got its lone run in the third inning on a double and two singles off Avon Park's winning pitcher Tim Cribb.

The Avon Park Seniors, with thirteen boys seeing action, banged out 13 hits to score the 23 runs. Third baseman Dwayne Council led it off with a triple to right field in the first inning. Alvin Conner had a double and two singles and Ricky Johnson hit two singles.

Hitting doubles for Avon Park were Jones, David Roberts, Joe May and Chris Collins. Ronnie Barnes also had two singles and Mike Shorkey added a single.

Tim Cribb, Avon Park's lighthanded pitcher, gave up only four hits to the Plant City boys as the All Star locals played tight defense behind him. Cribb also allowed only one walk and struck out three batters in the five inning game.

Auburndale-6, Avon Park-3,

Last Friday night the Avon Park Seniors went back to Plant City for the third time facing a possible double-header if they could win the first game over Auburndale. The fine Avon Park team gave it a good shot but came out losing 6-3.

Gerald Jones, Avon Park's left hander, hurled a five hitter at the Auburndale team but had three errors and several mis-judgements made behind him as he faced the Auburndale boys for the second time. Jones gave up only three bases on balls during the seven inning game.

Auburndale scored two runs in the second inning, one in the fourth, one in the sixth and two in the top of the seventh inning.

Avon Park pushed one run across in the fourth inning when Ronnie Barnes' single drove in Ricky Johnson who had walked. The Avon Park team had left the bases loaded in the first inning.

The local All Stars fought back in the bottom of the seventh inning as they trailed 6-1. Ronnie Barnes and Mike Shorkey got on base when Barnes singled and Shorkey walked. Gerald Jones beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Then Dennis Barefield, just back that day from a trip to California, singled sharpley to right field to drive in Barnes and Shorkey. Jones was out at home trying to score on an infield out by Tim Cribb. Then the last Avon Park batter's fly ball was caught by the shortstop to end the game giving Auburndale the 6-3 win and a chance to advance to the Sectional Tournament which started in Plant City last Monday.

Others chosen for the 1978 All Star Senior squad were Jim Marcum, Jerry Jones, Steve Antley, Ricky Norris and Ricky Oates. They could not participate in district play for one reason or another.

Things got a little tight in the Avon Park Women's Slow Pitch Softball League last week as the Foxy Ladies slipped by Gammage's Angels by a score of 7-6 to throw the league lead into a three way tie with Jahna Concrete, the Foxys and the Angels all holding an 8-1 record.

This week, starting last Monday, the Foxy Ladies were to play Scotty's and Jahna had to meet Jackies. Last Tuesday night the Angels were to take on Texgas and tonight (Thursday) the Angels will finish out the regular season with a game against Cable TV. Jahna also has to play Avon Citrus Bank and the Foxy Ladies will meet Texgas in the second game tonight at Field I.

Should the three way tie hold up through the remainder of the two games each team is scheduled to play, there will be a play-off to determine the winner of league play starting next Monday.

Texgas is sitting in fourth place in the spoilers seat with a 5-2 record. The Texgas girls have make-up games with Cox Plumbing, Jackies' and the two regular games with two of the top teams.

Cox Plumbing is fifth with a 5-3 record. They were to have played a double header last Monday night meeting Texgas in a make-up game at 7 p.m., and then playing Ridge Florist at 8:30 p.m. Cox closed out the season last Tuesday night against Scotty's.

Scotty's and Jackies were both tied with 4-4 records after last week's play. Both had a make-up game scheduled for this week in addition to the two regular season games.

Avon Citrus Bank had a 3-6 record, the A.P. Kids were 2-6 and Cable TV was holding a 1 - 8 mark.

In action last week it was Jackies beating Ridge Florist by a score of 7-3 in the early game on Field I and Jahna taking a forfeit win from Peoples Choice. Cox Plumbing knocked off Cable TV 11-1 in the first game on Field II and the Foxy Ladies eeked out a 7-6 win over Gammage's Angels in the second game on Field II. There was some controversy over the final play of the game which gave the Ladies the win but Gammage refused to protest and the victory went to the Foxy Ladies.

Then last Tuesday night a week ago, the Angels came back and walloped Avon Citrus Bank 14-3 and the Foxy Ladies shut out Cable by a score of 10-0. Texgas and Cox postponed their game due to Little League activities and Scotty's and the A.P. Kids were rained out.

Last Thursday night Avon Citrus Bank received a forfeit win from Peoples Choice and Jahna Concrete defeated Ridge Florist 14-2 on Field I. Jackies Slipped by Scotty's 11-10 in a close game and Texgas doubled the score on the A.P. Kids taking a 20-10 victory on Field II.

Details of the two league tournaments to be held this weekend at the two Little League Fields on Anoka Avenue are in another story in this week's Sun Sports Section.

"Jenny" Takes Honors In Kids Dog Show

For the second straight year, the Shetland Sheepdog named "Jenny" walked off with the Best of Show honors in the 4th Annual Kids Dog Show. Jenny was entered in just two events and won 1st place in both. She was shown by Keith Goodson and Tesha Goodson.

The Dog Show was held in Donaldson Park last Saturday, among the enthusiasts for the tennis tournament which was also held there. Twenty-one kids, ranging in ages from 4-14, entered their dogs in the seven different categories. The categories are chosen so as to lessen the competitiveness of the show and make it a fun event for all. The show was co- sponsored by the Ken-L Ration Dog Food Company, The National Recreation and Parks Association and the Avon Park Recreation Department.

The first event of the day was the "best behaved," in which 10 dogs were entered. There was still a tie for first place, after the judges got two looks at both dogs. First place honors went to Keith Goodson's "Jenney" and Amy Blewett's "Scotty."

In the second event, "Funniest," Lee Davidson's dog Brandy, a Cockapoo, won top honors. The third division was one in which the imaginations of the owners played a key part. It was "the best costumed." Amy Blewett's "Brandy" again won the first place.

LEE DAVIDSON AND BRANDY who came in first in the "funniest" competition at last weekend's Kids Dog Show. Brandy is a Cockapoo.

The Best Trick dog belonged to June O'Quinn, named "Trixxy." She jumped over a series of boxes that progressed in heights. There was no competition for the smallest dog of the day. Slade Ward entered a Chihua hua that measured 19" overall, by adding the length and the height.

The next division was, logically, the largest dog. A little more difficult of a decision for the judges had to be made. The winner if that category was Ben Johnston's "Lassie." The last division of the event was the "best looking." Tesha Goodson showed her dog, "Jenny" and won first place.

The judges for the show were Councilman Kelly Phillips and two Recreation Committee members, Orphelia Rihner and Paul Smith. Many thanks to them.

Episcopals Win 1978 Church Softball League

Finishing with a 12-2 record, the Episcopals captured the 1978 Church Slow Pitch Softball League championship last week with a win over the Seventh Day Adventist on the final night of play.

Tied for second place in the league standings were the Seventh Day Adventists and the First Baptist Reds with identical 10-4 records. The First Baptist Blues and the Church of Christ tied for fourth place with 6-8 records and the Nazarenes were sixth with a 5-9 mark.

Fellowship Baptist edged out of the cellar with a 9-8 win over last place finisher Florida Avenue Baptist in the final week of play. Fellowship had a 4-10 record and Florida Avenue Baptist finished 3-11.

In last week's play, the Seventh Day Adventists beat out the Church of Christ by a score of 17-7 and the Nazarenes defeated the Episcopals on Monday.

On Tuesday of last week it was Fellowship Baptist beating Florida Avenue 9-8 and First Baptist Red defeating First Baptist Blue 10-5.

On the final night of play last Thursday, the Church of Christ slipped by the Nazarenes 11-10 and the Episcopals won the league with an 11-6 victory over the Seventh Day Adventists.

A single elimination tournament started last Monday night with all eight team participating. Fellowship Baptist was to have played the Nazarenes at 6:30 and First Baptist Red was to have met the Episcopals at 8 p.m. on Monday.

Last Tuesday the Adventist were to play the First Baptist Blues early and the Church of Christ was to take on Florida Avenue Baptist in the late game.

Tonight it will be the winners of the Monday night games at 6:30 p.m. and the winners of the Tuesday night games at 8 p.m. Tomorrow (Friday) the final game will be held unless some of the games are rained out. If so the tourney will continue next Monday night at the Church League Field at the City Ball Complex.

THIS BLUE CATFISH was caught by Bessie Kate Johnson of 911 Highlands Avenue, last Saturday afternoon about 2:30 p.m. in the Istokpoga Canal. This 20 pounder was caught on a rod with a Zebco 808 reel, a 20 pound test line and a number 6 hook using earth worms as bait. Bessie Kate said the cat gave quite a fight and was barely hooked with the small hook when she finally landed him.

A GOOD STOP by an infielder in Avon Park Church League action last week resulted in an out for his team. The Church League closed out its regular schedule last Thursday night and is involved this week in a single elimination tournament for all eight league teams. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Softball League Enters Sixth Week Of Play

Jackson's Masonry held on to the top spot in the men's Avon Park Commercial Slow Pitch Softball League with a 9-1 record after five full weeks of play. Crews Equipment moved into second place with a 6-4 record and Avon Paint and Body was third with a 5-4 record.

The Air Force and the Beachfront Gators had both won three games by the end of play last week but the Air Force had five losses and the Gators were credited with seven losses.

A.P.C.I. was in last place with a 2-7 record and had a game to make up with Air Force. Air Force also needed to make up a game with Avon Paint and Body.

Tonight (Thursday) the Gators will take on Jackson's at 7 p.m. and then Crews Equipment will play A.P.C.I. in the 8:30 p.m. game. Next Monday night it will be AP&B vs the Gators early and Jackson's vs Crews in the late game. . .

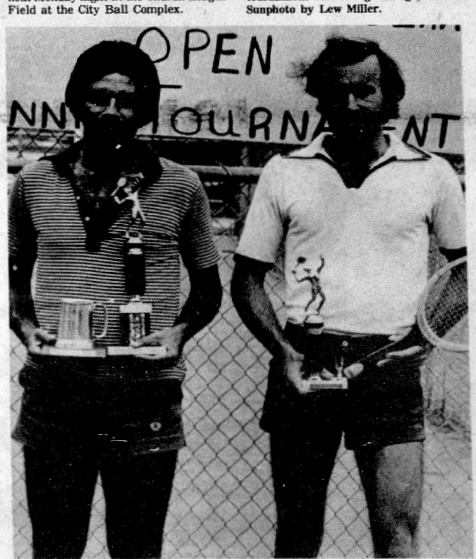

Next Tuesday night, August 1, A.P.C.I. will play Air Force early and Jackson's is scheduled to go against Avon Paint and Body at 8:30 p.m.

The Commercial Softball League was late getting started and will continue play through August 24. Church League Softball will close out this week with a single elimination tourney.

In action last week Jackson's beat AP & B 18-8 in the early game on Monday and Crews Equipment defeated Air Force 10-8 in the late game.

On Tuesday of last week it was A.P.C.I. taking a forfeit win from the Beachfront Gators in the early game and Jackson's beating the Air Force in the second game.

Last Thursday night the Gators again forfeited giving Crews a win without playing and Avon Paint and Body shut-out A.P.C.I. 15-0.

Local Runners Fare Well

Three local runners did very well at the Runner's World fun-run in Lakeland last Sunday. Alan Portis won the 880-yard run with a time of 2:20 to earn a gold certificate from the national running magazine. Jack Collins took top honors in the mile run with a time of 5:51 for a blue certificate. Walter Nunnallee of Raliegh, North Carolina, came in first in the three mile run to earn a blue finish award.

Portis, Collins, Chet Brojek, Jody Johnston and Tony Finklea of the Central Florida Striders runners club ran in all three races — the half mile, the mile and the three mile. Nunnallee ran both the half and the three mile races.

"The fun-runs gave us a chance to put in some needed speed work," commented Coach Chet Brojek of Avon Park High School. "Jody Johnston did especially well as the hard working sophomore had excellent times this summer. He has run nearly 400 miles already during the vacation months."

Brojek continued, "Tony Finklea of the local Air Force Base, will be leaving the area as soon as he's received his new orders. He will next be stationed in Turkey. We hope Tony keeps up with his fine running efforts."

Little Progress In Talks

The collective bargaining talks between the Highlands County Education Association and the Highlands County School Board have shown little progress this summer according to Chet Brojek, HCEA chief negotiator. The two parties have met five times with their discussions centering on employee hours and the 1978-79 salary schedule.

"We expect the board to be ready with a salary proposal after the Aug. 3 preliminary budget workshop," said Brojek. "Right now we are almost exactly where we were when bargains began in late May."

The next bargaining session between the two parties has been set for Monday, Aug. 7 at 7 p.m. at the Highlands County Schools Administration Bldg. The meetings are open to the public.

Three Devils On Wildcat Squad

The Bethune Cookman Wildcat football team will play a 10 game schedule this fall starting with Texas Southern University in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville. The Wildcats will have an Avon Park athlete as a tri-captain this season in Alcus Snell as he moves into his senior year as a leader on the defensive line.

The Wildcats are a member of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and will play five conference opponents this fall. Last season Snell was an all- conference defensive tackle and is already being tabbed by many as having all of the attributes for all-American stature and NFL potential.

Also playing for the Wildcats this fall will be running back Ricky Claitt from Avon Park. Claitt picked up 402 net yards with 89 rushes for a 4.5 yard average per carry last season and scored one touchdown.

Rufus Wilson, Avon Park's leading scorer and ground gainer last season for the Red Devils, will attend Bethune Cookman on a full scholarship this fall joining Claitt and Snell on the Wildcat squad.

The 1978 Wildcats will be young, aggressive and "interesting" according to Head Coach Andy Hinson. "Our greatest need," says Hinson, "is to get the young players some experience as early as possible so we can establish depth."

Ever think of going into the phone business yourself?

Because your business uses telephone service, perhaps you should consider owning your own telephone system...right? Well, maybe. That is, if you have no better place for your capital dollars and can receive prompt, reliable and economical repair service. Then arrange for the cost of insurance, taxes and the system's replacement due to business growth, obsolescence, damage, or other reasons.

Similar logic might suggest that because your family drinks lots of milk, you might consider buying your own cow... right? Again, maybe...if you know how to feed and milk a cow and are willing to accept responsibility for the animal's health, daily care, veterinarian's bills and eventual replacement cost of the animal due to age or lack of production.

Some businessmen these days have been talked into owning their own phone systems, without considering all the many ramifications of their decision. (We know. Some of these businessmen have since asked us to buy and maintain their "Private" systems.)

We don't know much about cows, but we do have 77 years of communications experience. We also have hundreds of trained employees, a large fleet of service trucks and we operate a 300 million dollar telephone system, all to serve you better.

So if you want to avoid becoming your own phone company, we suggest you call a United communications consultant when you need advice about telecommunications services and equipment.

Worms Are A Health Hazard

It's an unpleasant subject to be avoided in dinner table conversation. But worms are a health danger to both man and animals — particularly to young children, who inadvertently swallow parasites left in the soil by dogs and cats running loose.

The situation, however, can be prevented from becoming medically dangerous, according to Dr. Robert Jackson, President of the Florida Veterinary Medical Association. "By testing pets for worms at least twice a year, they can be discovered and eliminated," says Dr. Jackson. "And people should exercise normal sanitary precautions," he says. If dogs run loose in a neighborhood, children should be cautioned not to put their hands to their mouths if they play in grass, sand, or on dirt. People who touch the ground when outside should simply wash their hands when they come back into the house."

The most common worms found in pets are roundworms. They can be transmitted from mothers to puppies before they are born, and through the mother's milk. That's why veterinarians recommend a simple examination of pups for worms at the same time they are seen for routine vaccinations.

If roundworms are discovered, there are a number of medications that are both safe and effective to use on animals. "The worms may reoccur,," says Dr. Jackson, "and the dog may need to be re-wormed at some point. They can get re-infested by their noising around outside. De-worming does not hurt a pet, and a twice-yearly examination will keep the animal healthy while reducing the risk of human contamination."

The problem of human contamination is greatest among very young children living in neighborhoods with dogs that run loose. In addition to stressing proper hygiene among children, parents should keep areas where children play free from animals that might be carriers.

A sandbox is a good example. Always check a child's sandbox for animal droppings, and remove them at once. At night, the box should be covered so that it cannot be used by animals. Even after animal droppings have decayed or been removed, the worm eggs can survive in sand or soil.

There are other types of worms called hookworms that pass from animal to human in a similar manner. Hookworm larvae (not the worm) penetrates the skin and causes what is known as "creeping eruption." This "creeping eruption" is painfully itchy.

The simple hygienic precaution of washing hands or feet that may have had contact with animal droppings will help prevent humans catching these worms, as will keeping feet covered while playing in a yard frequented by dogs who are not regularly examined and de-wormed.

"Worms are not a pleasant subject," comments Dr. Jackson, "but with regular checking of animals, and parental attention to the cleanliness of their children, health problems can be avoided."

Off-Road Vehicles Must Be Registered

Effective October 1, any off-road vehicle used on public land and not currently registered for highway use will have to be registered with the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

"This covers only those motor vehicles which don't already have a registration certificate," said Colonel Robert M. Brantly, executive director of the Commission.

"It does not apply to the average person who takes his pickup truck or four-wheel drive out in the woods during hunting season," he said.

Registration forms will be available beginning August 1, at any regional office or the Tallahassee office of the Commission as well as county tax collectors' offices.

Brantly said no safety inspections are required, just the filing of an application and payment of a $10 fee. After the fee and application is received in the Tallahassee office, a registration certificate, decal and validation sticker will be issued.

The sticker must be renewed annually on September 30. It does not authorize the use of the vehicle on highways.

The registration program is part of a law passed during the recent legislative session which charges the Commission with regulating vehicle traffic on public lands to better manage and protect the wildlife environment.

Lands covered under the new law include all owned by, leased by or otherwise assigned to the state or any of its agencies for recreational use by the general public.

Georgia Law Will Affect Florida Hunters

A recent Georgia law restricting the number of out of state hunters could have a tremendous impact on Florida sportsmen, a Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission official has said.

"The law, which doesn't go into effect until 1979, will have a direct bearing on the number of Florida hunters visiting Georgia during hunting season," said Colonel Robert M. Brantly, executive director of the Commission.

"With a quota of 100 nonresident hunting licenses to be issued per county, many Florida sportsmen are concerned about the possibility of not being able to utilize hunting leases they have had for years with our northern neighbor," Brantly said.

The wildlife agency head said the Commission first heard about the law when sportsmen began receiving a form letter from the Georgia Department of Natural Resources which accompanied license applications.

"Under the law, starting July 1, 1979, all nonresident big game licenses will be sold only by application through the Atlanta office of the Georgia Department of Natural Resources and each license must specify the county and season in which big game is to be hunted.

"Applicants will be chosen for licenses through random computer selection and the license will only be valid for the county and season specified."

Brantly said the Commission was told the legislation was prompted by a problem in north Georgia concerning a heavy influx of hunters from both North and South Carolina.

"The Commission is still in the process of receiving information on the legislation and will continue to monitor the progress of the program."

The 1978 hunting season is not affected by the law, he emphasized.

HIDDEN ACRES CAMPLAND
FORT BASINGER, FLORIDA

Hidden Acres, located between Okeechobee City and Sebring, is not your ordinary campland. It is exactly as it's name states - HIDDEN. But, this 13 acre park of nature's best is uniquely special, it's worth finding.

Cradled under the arms of moss-laden oak trees and resting snugly on the Kissimmee River, Hidden Acres is the answer to every camper's dream of the place to "get away from it all". The natural serenity and beauty are unsurpassed, not to mention such 'practical' amenities as the brand new 21' x 44' redwood enclosed pool, bath houses, and, of course, full hook-ups at each campsite.

Come to visit us soon and enjoy swimming, fishing, strolling among the oaks and palms, or just sitting by the river's edge at sunset. We promise you will be so enchanted you'll want to come again and again. Follow the map below to:

Bombing Range Holds Bicycle Safety Rodeo

Friday, July 21, the Avon Park Bombing Range Ground Safety technican, SSgt Richard Papinchak with the cooperation of the Security Police held a Bicycle Safety Rod-e-o at the Base Exchange parking lot area.

Approximately 41 bicycle enthusiast showed up for the event. SSgt Papinchak arranged for A1C Ron Ferrell to show two film strips to the bikers indicating the correct procedures in operating and how to keep their bicycle in good working condition at the old mess hall adjunct to the parking lot. Afterwards they were treated to ice cream and Kool-Aid.

The children adjourned for outside manuevers on a course made by the Security Police for this special event. Before entering the course each bicycle was inspected by a member of the security police or ground safety division, for possible safety hazards, such as loose or broken spokes, misalign front end, loose chains, and etc.

The bicycle participants were then given the opportunity to manuever their bikes through the course laid out for them. Each biker had a test to see how well they could balance their bikes along with riding it down a straight line and a control and obstacle test.

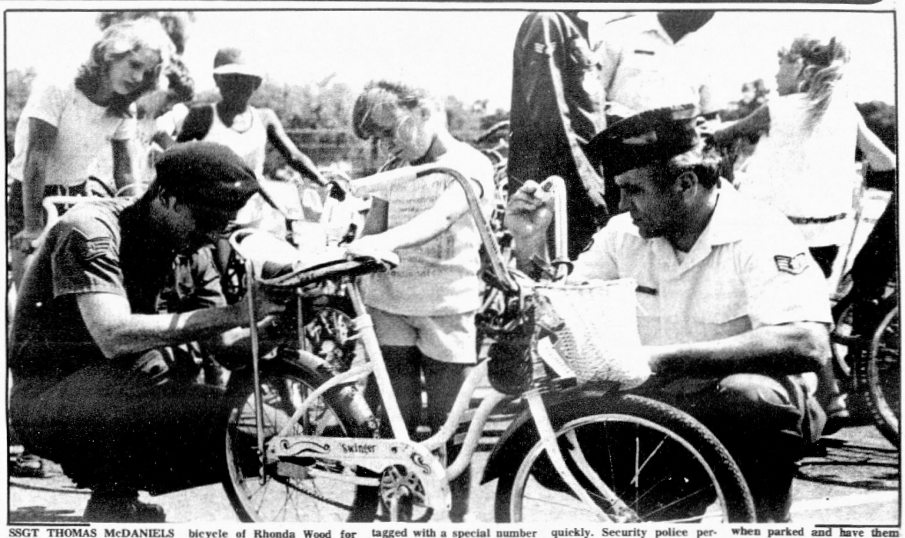

From this area they went to the signaling, mounting and dismounting area, where they displayed the proper safety procedures of operating their bikes in conjunction with traffic safety regulations, such as using proper hand signals.

Upon completion of all the activities each participant was given a bicycle safety course certificate signed by the Base Commander, Col. Donald Griffing and Ground Safety Technician, SSgt Richard J. Papinchak. They were also given a state of Florida Bicycle Rules and Regulations booklet along with other safety brocures.

Bikers were caution that while riding their bicycles on the streets they too must obey all traffic signs, and to use proper hand signals to let other motorist know what you are planning on doing, whether to stop, turn left or right or come to a compete stop. If you as a biker still do not know your hand signals, it is requested that you study the Florida bicycle road regulation booklet carefully.

Each person participating in the scheduled bicycle safety course is commended upon their good behavior at the bicycle rodeo.

Now bikers put to good use the safety procedures that you were taught at the bicycle safety course , and have a fun day.

SSGT THOMAS McDANIELS of Security Police and SSgt Richard Papinchak, ground safety technician inspects the bicycle of Rhonda Wood for possible hazardous conditions which could result in an accident. The bicycle is also tagged with a special number and kept on file with base security in case of theft, the bike could be identified quickly. Security police personnel warn all bikers that they should always lock their bikes when parked and have them engraved with a number and recorded with security police.

SGGT PAPINCHAK WATCHES Jimmy Ashford as he cautiously rides his bike, guiding it down the white line on the 'straight line test' given to the bikers. In the background Azie Horne, of Security Police, test another biker on the correct hand signals to be used while riding on the street. The same road signs governing automobiles also applies to bicycles, Horne informed the participants.

JIMMY PORTER HITS a can with the pedals of his bicycle as he tries to maneuver his bike through the obstacle course, doing the figure 8. This course was one of the most diffcult laid out for the bikers, however, some made it through without disturbing the cans.

Use Proper Hand Signals

Giving proper signal before changing lanes or making a turn, so other drivers will know what you are going to do is a must. Give your signal at least 100 feet before turning. This is about the same distance as six cars parked bumper to bumper.

Left

Slow or Stop

Right

Obey Road Signs

STOP signs are always octagon (8 sided). When approaching this sign you must bring your bike to a complete halt. Slowing down is not enough. After stopping look carefully to your left and right; and use great care in entering the main road.

YIELD RIGHT - OF - WAY signs are triangular in shape. When approaching these signs you are required to come to a complete stop when traffic approaches if the way is clear you may proceed through the intersection cautiously after slowing down.

The stop and yield sign are red and white in color.

RAILROAD WARNING signs are round in shape. These signs mean you are approaching a railroad grade crossing. You must slow down and be ready to stop.

WARNING SIGNS are diamond shaped, yellow in color with black letters which mean there is danger ahead, and you should slow down. Some of these signs have markings to show you why you must ride slowly while others have words on them.

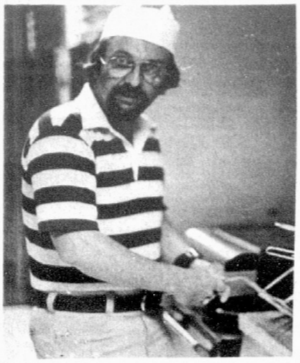

Warning Signs - tell you what lies ahead, so you can be careful.

Sandlin Opens New Business

Teachers' Fish and Chips Restaurant, owned by Fred Sandlin, opened its doors at 1003 U.S. 27 S. in the Avon Investment Plaza on July 15.

The restaurant is opened Mon. — Sat., from 11 a.m., — 9 p.m., and Sundays from 11 a.m., — 7:30 p.m.

Besides seafood, the establishment also serves chicken and various sandwiches.

The restaurant actually had its beginning four years ago when the Hi-Tide Fish and Chips was opened at 939 S.R. 17 in Sebring by co-owners Jim Martindale and Sandlin, who were both teachers at Avon Park High School at the time.

After two years the restaurant closed its doors and after two years has now reopened its doors under the new name and the single-ownership of Sandlin who bought out Martindale's share upon moving to Avon Park.

Sandlin, who does 80 per-cent of the cooking until school starts, is a driver's education instructor and former basketball coach at Avon Park High School.

Martindale said the restaurant will have its grand-opening in the near future, after it gets fully established at the new location.

QUIET WAYS ARE NEEDED TO LOVE THY NEIGHBOR

This famous Biblical command owes some of its fame to an ever-expanding necessity, in ways far beyond the imagination of the Scriptural authors. Our modern technology has produced a variety of noise-making devices which bring great pleasure to their owners, while causing untold suffering to any neighbors close enough to be a captive audience. However, by tuning in your own ears to the lessons in love and consideration at the Church of your choice, you and your family will learn to enjoy your motorcycles, stereo equipment, noisy toys and other things while at the same time taking care that no one else is being disturbed by them.

"And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation... and in quiet resting places." —Isaiah 32:18

Rotary Governor Fox Visits Avon Park

On Wednesday, July 19, Rotary District 695 Governor Bob Fox visited the Avon Park Rotary Club and delivered an inspirational talk. Governor Fox emphasized this year's Rotary International theme, "Reach Out," and challenged local club members to join him in making this an outstanding year for District 695. He particularly encouraged Rotarians to "reach out" in the following areas: Vocational service by reaching across your desk, club service, reaching across the room, community service across the street and international service by reaching across the world.

Governor Bob will be promoting better fellowship within each club with special attention being focused on enhanced programs. Local clubs were encouraged to utilize the talents of club members to provide worthwhile programs.

Governor Fox suggested four areas that need immediate attention from Rotarians. First, youth programs should be increased. Second, Rotarians need to take the lead in renewing and rekindling national pride. Third, America should be free from pornography, smut, crime, and corruption. Finally, the quality of life for all citizens should be improved.

Governor Fox concluded his talk by promoting international service. There are currently one hundred fifty-three countries supporting Rotary clubs. The Rotary Foundation will spend 9 million dollars this year to promote international goodwill. District 695 will participate in the student exchange program and will be selecting a group of young men to participate in a group exchange program with England.

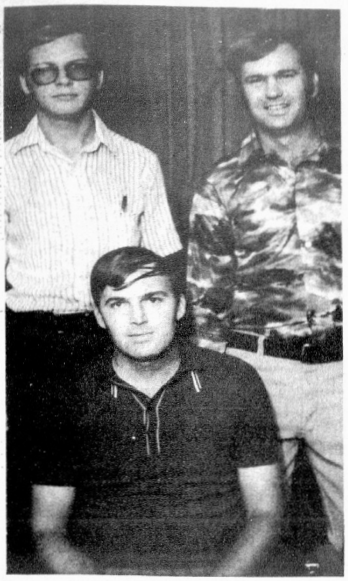

In addition to Governor Fox and his wife, the Club also was privileged to host Nichole Pursorr, an international Exchange student from France. Nichole has been staying with Art and Marva Turner, with additional entertaining from Ron and Lise Sevigny, Bob and Jane Barben and Phil and Nancy Weber.

ROTARY DISTRICT 695 Governor Bob Fox challenged members of the Avon Park Rotary Club to "Reach Out" across their desk, room, street and the world to be of service to their fellowman.

RECENTLY COMPLETING 160 hours of training at the Correctional Training Institute at Raiford, Fla. Kenneth W. Lanier (seated) and Frank H. Merritt and Herman J. Allen will continue their in-service training at the Avon Park Correctional Institution.

Three APCI Employees Completes Training

The Department of Corrections has announced that Avon Park Correctional Institution employees James W. Allen, Kenneth Lanier and Frank H. Merritt, Jr. recently participated in the Correctional Training Institute at Raiford Fl.

This is the thirty-first CTI group to enroll in the minimum standards curriculu which is required by law. The Training Institute program is taught in conjunction with Lake City Community College, and the graduates earn nine semester credits for successfully completing the full time, 160 hours course.

The program includes instruction in the Criminal Justice System; Legal Aspects of Corrections, Operational Procedures Principles of Supervision; Human Relations and Technical Training Skills which include Firearms, First Aid and Fire Fighting Techniques.

The Correctional Training Institute was certified by the Florida Correctional Standard Council (CSC) in May 1976, as a training center for correctional personnel. The Council was empowered by the Legislature in 1974 to establish minimum standards for the certification of correctional officers and training centers. The curriculum of training is designed to intensify the exposure of the officer and to develop him professionally. It is anticipated that the training program will help materialize the promise of a modern correctional system.

The participants will continue their training with an additional 160 hours taught by regional instructors, on an in-service basis, at the various correctional facilities located throughout Florida.

Carefree Awning and R.V. Parks is no longer at 1004 Hammock Rd. West, Sebring, Fla and is not connected in anyway with Highland Wheel Ests.Campground. Now listed as Carefree Awning Sales - Ron Goings, P.O. Box 2074, Sebring, Fla., 33870. 813-385-1656.

MTC Holds Meeting In Winter Haven

Make Today Count is a non-profit, tax exempt organziation for persons with life-threatening illnesses, their family members, and other interested persons. It is a mutual support group composed of individuals who have encountered life-threatening illnesses in their lives, either personally or as a family member. They share their experiences, strength, and hope in order to help each other live each day more meaningfully.

Those who have become active participants in M.T.C. tell of the immense sense of strength and support generated within the group. This is because M.T.C. provides openness, interaction, and a listening ear to anyone who feels the need to express feelings in times of stress related to death, dying, or the initial diagnosis of cancer or related diseases.

There is a growing interest in establishing a local (Make Today Count) chapter. M.T.C. meetings are held the first Monday of each month at Winter Haven Hospital in the Dining Room at 7:30 p.m. All interested parties are invited to come. If you have any questions call Mrs. Brown at 324-5962 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., after 5 p.m. call 293-7362.

Avon Park Winter Guest Club News

By Illeon Kull Shuffleboard

There were no games on either July 15 or 19 as the rains CAME.

News

GUNNING — Eula and Ralph Gunning who live in Arcadia, Indiana, write of their July vacation in Michigan where they had a wonderful time and luck fishing. Eula also has attended many parties so far this summer and was planning a picnic when she was stopped by a blood clot in her leg. Now she is in bed for some time. (We hope not long). She says her daughter comes often to help but that Ralph is doing a fine job as nurse and housekeeper. Their address has been changed to Rte. 2, Box 125, Arcadia, Ind. 46030.

COLSON — Hazel and Oliver have also been fishing in Maine. They have caught salmon and trout which must be pretty good eating out of that cold water. On July 14 they attended the Maine-Florida picnic. There were 435 registered guests from Maine and 23 out-of-state guests. Also attending were several Winter Guest Club members. For dinner they were served Maine lobsters and clams. For entertainment there was dancing and playing BEANO. Their garden keeps them busy and they enjoy the fresh vegetables. They send their best to all club members.

DICKERSON — Elsie and David, who live in Columbus, Ohio, are proud of their tomatoes this year. Last week there was a block picnic and they furnished tomatoes for all. The traffic was stopped on this block and tables were set up in the street. There was music and dancing and they all had a chance to meet their neighbors. William and Myrna Baxter from Minerva, Ohio visited the Dickersons last week and they all had a good time talk-over the life they have had in Avon Park and how much the Winter Guest Club did to make their stays here pleasant. They want to be remembered to all.

STALEY — Grace and Levern have been busy visiting family and Levern has been working on his house. Grace attended her 50th. Anniversary class reunion at Fredonia, N.Y. Twenty-nine members of the class attended and they all enjoyed renewing acquaintances. Grace has been busy canning sweet cherries and hopes to have red raspberries soon.

HOSPITAL — To-day (July 20) we are advised that Ota Gibson is in Walker Memorial Hospital.

We are happy to announce that Maurice Brevoort is now at home and his daughter Dorothy (Mrs. Andrew Smith) from Eldridge, Missouri is visiting him.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

By Dorothy Keyes

Larry and Ruth Robinson left Saturday for a visit in Ohio and Indiana. We wish them a safe journey and a nice visit with family and friends. This causes a change in your news reporter as I will try to fill in for Ruth in her absence.

Visiting with Kellie and Etha Larrew are their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Larrew and children, Ramona and Doug, from Tacoma, Wash. They are enjoying our "warm" weather compared to the cooler temperatures of Washington state.

Bea Tingler reports the birth of a great-grandaughter to her grandson in Seffner. She will now be going North to Mich., and Ind., for a visit.

Mildred Tinberg has returned following a months visit with relatives and friends in So. Bend and Elkhart, Ind.; St. Joseph, Mich. and Paxton and Champaign, Ill. She had an enjoyable trip with her son, Gene and a nice visit but a sad experience for her return flight, with a missed plane connection causing an all-night lay-over in St. Louis, Mo. She is happy to be back in the park.

We had a note from the Limbaughs telling of a trip to visit their three daughters and families. Also of a planned trip to the Feehans with a group of Ohio residents from our park getting together for a picnic this week.

We had a newsy letter from a former park resident, Olive Burnett. She tells us of her busy schedule of activities which help make time go fast, but adds that she misses the residents of our park and plans a short visit here this winter.

Lois Kalb, a former winter park guest, wants to be remembered to the park residents and sends her warm regards via Mrs. Tinberg.

This news report is quite brief due to the fact so many of our residents are visiting North with only 22 persons here at the present time.

Bonnie Brae Mobile Park

By Margie Wells

There was a lot of excitement in Bonnie Brae on Saturday night when Bea Kossack came back from Winn-Dixie with the news that she had just won the double $2,002 bingo at that store. With all the many number of visits made to Winn-Dixie by members of our park, we are happy that one of us finally won. Congratulations, Bea-We're glad you made it!

Evie Chockley, Tommie and Margaret wish to thank all of their friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses and assistance during the recent illness and death of Tom. They greatly appreciate everything that was done.

Tommie Chockley and his family brought Evie back to Avon Park last week. They spent a week visiting and have now returned to their home in Mt. Clemons, Mich.

Word has been received that Lucille Smalley has had surgery recently to remove an eye. Art writes that she is getting along real well that he, too, is doing O.K. We hope both Lucille and Art will have better days ahead for them.

Frank Ball is spending two weeks in Ohio visiting with relatives and friends.

Howard Mallinger has returned home from Ohio after being called back there because of critical illness of his father. We are glad to report that his father is much improved.

Edith and Miles Morgan of Fairmount Mobile Estates were recent dinner guests of Margie and P.D. Wells.

We hope to have a lot of news to report from our vacationing friends next week.

Secretaries Hold Meeting To Meet

Mrs. Helen Peck, President of South Ridge Abstract and Title Co., in Sebring, was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Highlands Legal Secretaries Association held on July 20, at Mrs. Peck's office. After a tour of the new building, Mrs. Peck discussed and explained what each girl's job was, how abstracts were prepared, the importance of having an abstract or title insurance; and the procedures used to keep their records current and up to date. An interesting time was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting of the Highlands LSA will be held on Thursday, August 17. A "get acquainted" membership party is being planned and all men and women who work in the legal field (not just law firms) are invited to attend. Invitations will be mailed out but anyone interested may contact Pat Strickland in Avon Park at 453-6622; Nikki Smith in Sebring at 385-1549; or Ida Dorman in Lake Placid at 465-2155.

The Highlands LSA is an association organized to provide an opportunity for members to improve their work habits, continue their education in their field of work; explore other fields of law and to meet others in their profession.

JELLIED GREEN PEA SOUP

Whisked together in a blender and chilled for a few hours in a refrigerator, this refresher has that soft-jelly consistency that is appropriate for a jellied soup. It is as welcome after a stint at yard work as it is as a prelude to supper in the patio.

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1½ cups boiling chicken broth, canned, made from granules or cubes or homemade
1 (10 ounce) package frozen green peas, thawed
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper, see note
⅛ teaspoon ground cardamom, optional
1 cup cream, half and half, light or heavy

1. In a 5-cup blender container, sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water; let stand 4 minutes. Add broth, cover and blend 1 minute at low speed or until gelatin has dissolved.

2. Add remaining ingredients except cream. Cover and blend at medium speed 2 minutes, or until peas are purred.

3. Add cream; process till blended. Refrigerate until set in a large container or six individual bowls or cups. If desired, garnish with fresh mint.

Yield: 6 portions.

Note: Black pepper may be substituted for white provided you don't mind the appearance of the dark flecks in a pale mixture.

MOLDED RAW VEGETABLE SALAD

This recipe gives a mold suitable for 8 to 12 servings, which makes it appropriate for a summer buffet; leftovers may be stored in a refrigerator for two or three days. Householders with no entertaining in mind may profer to halve the ingredients and chill the salad either in a single three-cup mold or four six-ounce individual molds. This salad is as zesty as it's healthful, a great first course, incidentally, piquant to appetites.

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 cup mayonnaise
1 medium onion, quartered
2 cups cabbage pieces
1 cup cut-up celery
1 cup peeled, cut-up cucumber

1. In a 5-cup blender container, sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water; let stand 4 minutes. Add boiling water, cover and process at low speed 2 minutes or until gelatin has dissolved.

2. Add salt, lemon juice and mayonnaise; process until well blended.

3. Add onion; process at high speed until very finely chopped.

4. Add remaining ingredients, cover and process at high speed until coarsely chopped.

5. Turn into a 6-cup mold; chill until firm, or about 3 hours. Unmold and garnish with cherry tomatoes and parsley or water cress.

Yield: 8 to 12 portions.

TUNA SALAD MOLD

A thrifty family main dish, as easy as it is economical. Team it with a hot bread, marinated cucumbers and sliced tomatoes.

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1¼ cups boilding chicken broth, canned, made from granules or cubes or homemade
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1-3 cup mayonnaise
¼ small onion
1 rib celery, cut in 1-inch pieces
3 pimiento-stuffed olives
1 can (7-ounce) tuna, drained

1. In a 5-cup container, sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water; let stand 4 minutes. Add broth; cover and process at low speed for 2 minutes, or until gelatin has completely dissolved.

2. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; process at high speed until vegetables are chopped.

3. Turn into a 3- or 4-cup mold; chill until firm.

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD IN A MOLD

Helen Walker, who heads the school lunch program in Polk County, is the source of this recipe, which I used in my book on Florida cookery. If the salad is molded in a ring and filled with watermelod and or cantaloupe balls, it makes a pretty, as well as thrifty, main dish for a summer luncheon, especially in a team with cottage cheese. Divide it in half, if you profer, and mold either in a three cup container or four individual molds of six-ounce size.

2 cans (1-pound each) grapefruit sections Grapefruit juice, orange juice, unsweetened pineapple juice or apple juice
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup finely chopped celery or apple (1 of small to medium size)
¼ cup dark, sweet cherries, pitted

1. Drain grapefruit, cut sections in thirds. To the syrup add enough grapefruit or other juice to make 3 cups.

2. Combine 1 cup of this liquid with the sugar, salt and gelatin. Place over low heat; stir constantly for 3 to 5 minutes, or until the gelatin has dissolved. Remove from heat; add remaining liquid; chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white.

3. Combine the grapefruit sections, celery or apple and cherries; fold into the partly set gelatin. Spoon into a 6-cup mold; chill until firm.

4. Unmold and garnish, if desired, with salaf greens.

Bombing Range Changes Command

RETIRING BASE COMMANDER Lt. Col. Donald A. Griffing hands the guidon, a symbol of command, to Col. Charles A. Cunningham Jr., Commander of the 56th Tactical Fighter Wing, who in turn handed it to the new Avon Park Bombing Range Commander Col. Scott B. Stovin. Sunphoto by Lew Miller

Change of Command Ceremonies were held at 10:00 a.m., Monday, July 31, 1978 at the headquarters of the Avon Park Bombing and Gunnery Range as Lt. Col. Donald A. Griffing in retiring relinquished command of the air base and the 56th Combat Support Squadron to Lt. Col. Scott B. Stovin.

With a background of Air Corps music the brief simple change of command ceremony, based on military tradition, went off with precision as Col. Charles J. Cunningham Jr. Commander of the 56th Tactical Fighter Wing, based at MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa reviewed flights of airmen and during the playing of the National Anthem.

In recalling the mission of the Avon Park Base, Col. Cunningham said, in his view, the Range Complex was the best east of the Mississippi River and perhaps in all of the Tactical Air Command. And it became this way because of the hard work of Col. Griffing, his deep personal involvement, and his leadership as base commander in putting together a team, for without team effort the range complex could not have handled 60,000 range missions per year, which he stated was significant.

While we are presently at peace, remember the threat of war is ominous, he told the group of dignitaries, relatives friends and airmen. To the Air Force men, this is nothing new, it is their normal work, as he a cautioned all of the group, "to never let your guard down!"

The freedon we have depends on people, the troops and their leadership. In working with people Don and Jody have appreciated what goes into a mission, he added, as one third of the work in the Air Force is done by civilians who keep the continuity going to avoid interrupting sensitive work.

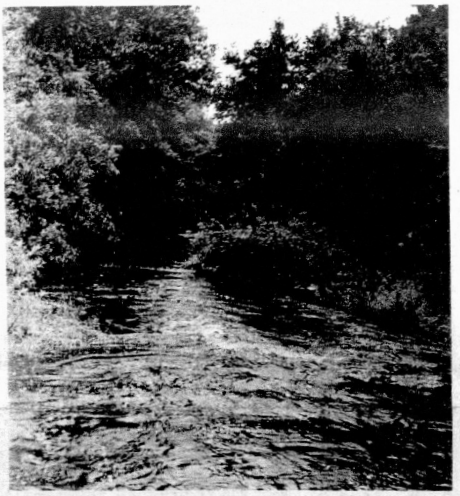

In his analysis, Col. Cunningham, stated that Col. Griffing had done a fine job at the Avon Park Range and done it right. He played a dynamic part in the changing progress of the Range. He got the job done without fanfare and without the Wing Commander having to come down to Avon Park.

Under the leadership of Don a solid foundation was established at the Base and while he regrets to see him go, Col. Cunningham looked for strong ongoing outfit.

There is hardly any better man than Lt. Col. Scott B. Stovin to take over the job of Base Commander, Col. Cunningham told the ceremony viewers. It was with great pride and gratitude that he expressed thanks for all the help received and sometimes Providence gives help, to see that people such as Scott are available to take command.

The Avon Park Bombing Range has done a great job, Col. Cunningham concluded, but it hasn't always received the recognition it deserved, while Don has built it up Scott will continue the Center's Land Value Triples

George Duncan

The Avon Park City Council is planning to buy a half acre of land to use as a neighborhood center for $27,000, a price which is three times the value placed on the land by the county property appraiser.

Officials in the Tax Assessor's office appraised the land in June of this year set a value of $8,870 on the property and on the house which is located on one lot of the area.

Roy Alexander, an appraiser from Sebring, assessed the value of the property at $27,000, a price which the council agreed to pay in a meeting last month.

The acreage, which is located in Shadowland Subdivision on the corner of South Delaney and East Cornell, will be the location of a neighborhood center.

The council received a grant from the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) agency to build the center.

County Tax Assessor Billy Martin said his office tried to assess all land at "the current market value."

Martin said, "The city must have had a reason other than one a normal buyer and seller would consider in an exchange. We think our values are reasonable.

"The best we can determine the property would be in the neighborhood of $9,000 to $10,000."

The Sun was unable to contact Alexander, who appraised the property for the higher $27,000 figure.

Councilman Henry Dennis said he did not think the disparity between the two figures was unusual.

"Often a piece of property is appraised at one value but, when it's about to be sold, it sells for a good deal higher. Sometimes people complain about their assessment but they sell for a higher price," he said.

Dennis also said items like attorney's fees, closing costs and realtor's fees might be included in the total.

"When it's a HUD grant, you can't negotiate," Dennis said. "You can't go lower or higher, you have to accept the appraisal."

Councilman David Barefield, though, termed the price "ridiculous."

Barefield was the only councilman to vote against the proposal to buy the land. Dennis, Councilmen Robert Britt and Kelley Phillips voted for it. Council President Larry Albritton was on vacation and did not vote on the matter.

"I felt it was too high, that the property was over appraised," said Barefield. "I think we could find some other property and get more for our money.

Barefield said he was still against buying the property.

"I voted against the motion when it was made and I still feel that way. I think we could get a piece of land just as nice at a lower price," he said.

Council President Larry Albritton said he could not comment since he did not know all the details of the matter.

Although the council voted to buy the property, apparently the sale will not be finalized until the council approves the budget.

The council should adopt the fiscal 78-79 budget either this month or early next month.

A $27,000 PRICETAG is attached to this lot which may be sold to the city of Avon Park. Although an appraisal listed the value of the land as $27,000, the county tax assessor's office places the value of the lot at $8,870. Both appraisals were taken at about the same time. Voter Registration For September Primary Highlands County Supervisor of Elections, Jimmy Whitehouse, will be in Avon Park Monday, August 7 from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. and from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at the County building on South Lake Avenue to register people, who are not already registered.

This special registration time has been set up for the convenience of those unable to register during the normal business hours.

Registration for the primary election on September 12, will be cut off on Saturday, August 12 stated Whitehouse. In addition to the special August 7 hours, residents of Avon Park area may register to vote during business hours at the Avon Park City Hall.

According to Whitehouse here are approximately 42,000 residents in Highlands County, as per the last census, with about 20,000 registered to vote.

There are approximately 6,000 under the age of 18 and others who are ineligible to vote. Thus there are only about 55 percent of the voting age residents registered to vote and Whitehouse anticipates a relatively light vote this year.

A solution to the poor voter turnout in this country, Whitehouse believes, would be for the registered voter to vote in the privacy of one's home, with a voting period of two to three weeks and returning a notarized computer card to the election authorities for counting. This voting system would be similiar to the use of absentee ballots used by those who are out-of-town at election time or by the handicapped, he said.

Ordinance A 'Plan For The Future'

City Council members took their first official look last week of a proposed zoning ordinance written "to try to play for the future as well as the present," according to one zoning board member.

Councilmen took no action on the law, which runs over 30-legal sized pages, but will study the proposed zoning ordinance and scheduled another meeting for discussion on the matter in August.

Members of the citys planning and zoning board and the city board of adjustments, also at the meeting, generally conceded the new ordinance was more restrictive than the present one.

"We've grown in five years, we'll grow even more in the next five years," said Zoning Board Chairman Jack Duggan.

"If we are not more restrictive, then you will have anything in the world built in the city."

Councilman David Barefield agreed it was more restrictive and said, "I want the council to fully understand that so, when we get complaints about enforcement, no one will back down."

Some members of the city advisory boards were anxious to have the council act fairly quickly on the proposed ordinance.

"We have a time limit. We are trying to get something that we think people can live with and the council will pass. If we don't have it (a revised zoning plan) by July 1, 1979 the state will move in and do it for us," said Duggan.

Duggan said that he wasn't "trying to railroad something but we don't want the state here next July. They will give us a plan based on Miami or Tampa or Jacksonville or one of the large cities. We don't need that."

However, architect James Heim told councilmen not to "rubber stamp" anything.

Heim said the council should study the ordinance carefully and not rush approving it. He told councilmen they should make sure they know how the new ordinance is different from the present law.

Building Official C.W. Ellerbee said the new ordinance was more restrictive that the present one but did not address one of the main problems in the city.

Planned developments, or multiple ownership of houses in a single complex, did not have any building restrictions.

In trying to ensure such housing conformed with safe and adequate guidelines he "didn't have anything to go on," said Ellerbee.

Ellerbee said he would like to see such guidelines incorporated into the ordinance.

Duggan said the building inspector should write down the type of regulations needed for such housing developments and then the rules could be added to the ordinance.

Hospital Heads Skeptical Of Health Insurance Program

A national health insurance program unveiled over the weekend by the Carter Administration is being viewed with skepticism by Highlands County's two hospital administrators.

Carter's program will hinge on "containing" spiraling hospital costs, according to HEW Secretary Joseph Califano, a goal which in unrealistic unless inflation is curbed in the economy as a whole, said the two administrators.

The only other alternative, according to Walker Memorial Hospital Administrator John McClellan, would be to cut back the medical services available to the American people.

"What they're really trying to say is that we really need less medical services," McClellan said.

The Walker Memorial chief said he fears a government takeover of health insurance will lead to a curtailment of services just as socialized medicine has in England, where he said it takes a one to two year wait to be scheduled for elective surgery.

"My reaction to National health insurance is that, first, I'm not convinced people really want national health insurance," said Highlands General Hospital Administrator Bryan Bogert.

Both administrators said the major stumbling block to any type of government cost control program is that the three major determinants of hospital costs–supplies, equipment and labor–are partly or wholly out of the control of hospitals

"It's unfair to hospitals to put a cap on our costs when most of the supplies and equipment we purchase are in a free and open market and we simply pass on increases forced on us by other industries," Bogert said.

Explaining Walker Memorial employes will receive a six percent wage increase this year, McClellan commented, "If I don't give my employes this raise, I will fall behind and someone else will hire my employes."

McClellan said something could be

Zoning Ordinance Is Good Start

Whether their work is rejected, approved or modified, the men who worked on the city's new zoning ordinance deserve some praise.

Zoning ordinances, like comprehensive land use plans, and other such planning maps and tracts often take an exorbitant amount of time to put together, then will proceed to gather dust because no one will read them.

The new zoning ordinance, worked on by members of the city planning and zoning board and the city board of adjustments, is over 30 typewritten legal sized pages long.

It belongs in the class of documents which are difficult ot draw up, boring to read, unexciting to work on but very necessary for the city.

A short ride of about 80 to a 100 miles, either east or west from Avon Park, will show the consequences of haphazard building, rapid uncontrolled construction and lack of adequate zoning guidelines.

For years the cities on the suncoast of Florida have been plagued with problems ranging form unsightly buildings to health and safety hazards because of the uncontrolled growth along the seashore.

Florida has long been one of the fastest growing states in the nation and, now, the growth is shifting slightly into the center of the state instead of just increasing the population centers on the east coast.

Highlands County will see more than its share of growth in the next few years.

Both the county, and Avon Park, will cope with growth better if it is planned for and regulated.

The proposed zoning ordinance, as long and as unwieldy as it may be, is a necessary first step on the way to controlling growth, and making future building and construction compatible with what is already in Avon Park.

Editorial

The ordinance includes such diverse subjects as zoning districts, yard regulations and sign limitations.

Because of the disparity of some subjects covered in the ordinance, Avon Park Councilmen may ask for some changes and revisions before approving the new law.

Councilmen should give long and serious thought on the ordinance for, in the future, the city of Avon Park will reflect what they have approved.

City businessmen, civic groups and the local chamber of commerce should also take the time to inquire about the ordinance and understand what changes it will mean to the community if passed.

For the ordinance, as well as effectivness the aesthetics of the community, can certainly have a detrimental or beneficial effect on local businesses.

Planning and zoning is perhaps the worst in a long line of civic responsibilities which public officials must discharge. Adopting a zoning plan is a long, agonizing and tedious process.

Although the work is not over, the members of the two city boards which helped create the ordinance deserve the community's thanks.

Another Appraisal Needed

The proposal to pay $27,000 for a piece of property which was appraised by the county assessor's office for close to $9,000 looks like an government boondoggle.

The Avon Park City Council had the noblest of intentions in securing the land but the price calls for a few questions before the city plunks down the final check.

The property in question, about a ½ acre lot in Shadowland Subdivision, was assessed in June of this year by officials in the county tax assessor's office. The price they put on the land was $8,870.

Appraiser Roy Alexander, who did an independant estimate for the city, figured the land was worth $27,000.

Now even considering that the cost of land may be over the assessed price, even considering a possible conservative estimate by county officials and even considering double digit inflation, the two figures are just a little too wide apart without giving a cause for wonder.

It may be true that the city may not haggle with money from the Housing and Urban Development agency but there is nothing in the federal guidelines which say a city cannot get two appraisals of the same property.

In fact, getting two appraisals is often a routine matter in cities whose governing body is about to purchase some land.

In this case, because of the $19,000 difference in estimates, a second opinion should be obtained before the city closes the deal.

If not, the city might be losing $19,000, money which could be spent to buy other land, for other equally worthwhile goals.

Darts and Laurels

Dart: To Highlands General Hospital Chairman Hazel Scarborough, who did some fast doubletalking before the local and regional health systems council. At the local committee meeting, she said she thought Lake Placid should have a hospital. At the regional level Mrs. Scarborough reversed her statements, telling committee members a hospital was not needed in Lake Placid.

Laurel: To Gubernatorial candidates Jim Williams and Hans Tanzler. Williams and Tanzler are the only two candidates who have stated unequivocally they would veto any legislation allowing casino gambling in the state. If the high rollers fail at the ballot box in November, they will inevitably try to pressure the legislature into allowing casino-style gambling.

Dart: To Highlands General Hospital Administrator Brian Bogert. Bogert, when asked by an Sun reporter when the next HGH budget meeting would be held, asked if the reporter would like to have an "invitation" to the meeting. Bogert also said he would have to seek approval from board chairman Hazel Scarborough, a statement which would raise eyebrows in the state attorney general's office. Since the hospital spends about $500,000 of the taxpayer's money, if invitations are sent out, they should be engraved in gold.

Dart: To Avon Park Councilmen Robert Britt, Kelley Phillips and Larry Albritton. The three councilmen blissfully set through the last city council meeting without mentioning the fact the city had been altering gasoline records for 20 years. As councilmen, they should have inquired if the practice had been straightened out.

Residents Should Sign Petition

Dear Editor:

Is America so far from its humble beginnings, that we have forgotten the principle upon which this country was founded? Freedom of choice. The freedom to choose, select, advocate, and pursue, that job, that recreation, that church, that best suits the individual.

The thrust of the current drive to legalize casinos, is to put the referendum on the November ballot. Then the people can continue to excercise - freedom of choice.

Gambling is as old as society. It exists in many forms. Now, in Florida, many thousands of people have many gambling choices. The race tracks, the dog tracks, jai alai, the games of chance at church fairs, the church-sponsored raffles, bingo games, etc. All these gambling choices, available for decades, are available at this moment, to anyone who chooses to play. To suggest, insist, cry out, that Casino card games, roulette, or dice games are any different from what is now available or what has always been available, is nonsense.

Casinos are places to play more games. The minority fringe group who play games unwisely and unwell can be found in every aspect of life; the offices, the factories, the bars, the hospitals. Compulsion and neurosis are hardly the exclusive province of gamblers.

From the enormous success of the established Las Vegas and the fledgling Atlantic City Casinos, ther is no doubt that the States of Nevada and New Jersey are, and will be, considerably enriched. It has been proven over and over that people throughout the world wish to gamble. Bring this issue to the polls in Florida, and let the people decide.

County Trims Budget Requests

While at times it seemed as if the forest couldn't be seen for the trees, Highlands County Commissioners have cleared away branches of spending here and whole trees of cost there.

The result is the 1978-79 fiscal year budget now has been pared to a $200,000 plus increase or about 3 percent, compared to the original $1.8 million increase that was seen when the budget was initially planted on commissioners two weeks ago.

A series of hearings has resulted in cuts in merit pay increases, new equipment requests have been nipped and other moneysaving techniques applied to bring about the budget cuts.

As originally presented, the additional $1.8 million in county spending would have required 2.4 mills increase in county taxes. The current increase, which may receive further reduction from a board that has two members up for re-election this year, would require about a one-third mill increase to finance.

Most of the chopping was done Friday afternoon when Commissioner Cecil Skipper, Charles Cullens, county administrative assistant, and James Pyle, deputy clerk, reviewed some of the requests. A series of proposed trims presented to the board Monday night amounted to more than $800,000.

In previous sessions the board whacked away some $250,000, mainly in salary increases.

While cutting and pruning of requests has offered the bulk of the savings, there is a possibility that cash carryovers from this year can be used to help fill gaps in added operating expenses and the 7.5 percent cost of living pay increase to be granted to all county employees.

A financial statement for July, which will show amounts spent through that month and sums remaining, was to be readied late Tuesday afternoon. From the report, the board can determine how much may remain to be budgeted for next year.

Most of the trimming of requests came from the road and bridge department, an annual target of board pruning shears. Close to $500,000 was removed from the requests of road and bridge and the engineering departments.

Skipper pointed out there would be no threat to the road paving projects next year from the cuts.

The board agreed to budget two types of road surfacing devices, a tractor broom and sand spreader.

Some equipment purchase requests have been slated for lease purchase agreements to save money next year, although this only postpones the purchase decision for another year.

Three new positions requested in engineering were rejected, but the board agreed to add an earth mover operator.

Another new position approved was for county parks maintenance supervisor. While the county has several park areas and baseball fields, there is no regular maintenance program. Some $18,000 is budgeted toward purchase of mowing equipment and nine-month's worth of salary for the supervisor. Cullens said the post wouldn't be filled until mowing equipment is purchased.

In a move related to new employees, the board agreed to allow the Home Health Program to add a registered nurse to the staff, filling a post that had been frozen this budget year. There will be a total of three nurses on the staff.

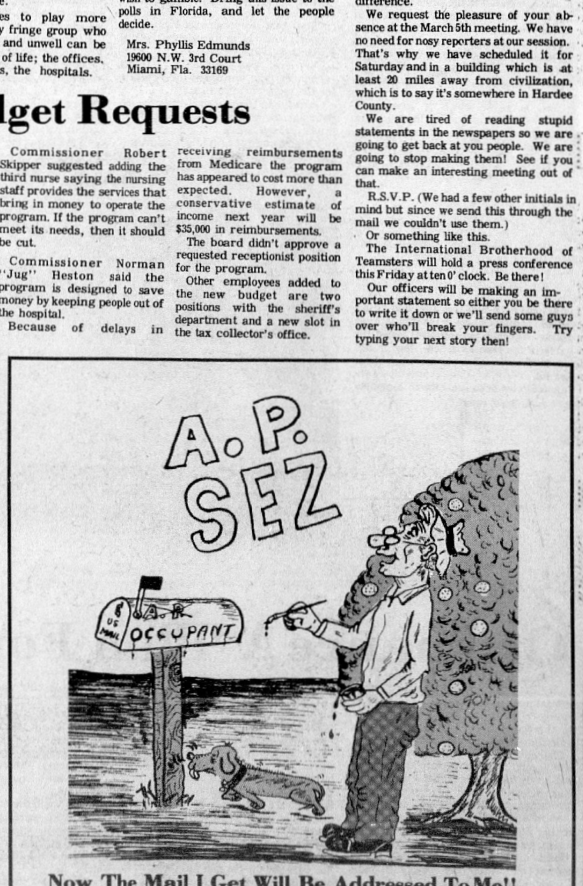

Commissioner Robert Skipper suggested adding the third nurse saying the nursing staff provides the services that bring in money to operate the program. If the program can't meet its needs, then it should be cut.

Commissioner Norman "Jug" Heston said the program is designed to save money by keeping people out of the hospital.

Because of delays in receiving reimbursements from Medicare the program has appeared to cost more than expected. However, a conservative estimate of income next year will be $35,000 in reimbursements.

The board didn't approve a requested receptionist position for the program.

Other employees added to the new budget are two positions with the sheriff's department and a new slot in the tax collector's office.

Government Invitations

The statement of a public official that a Sun reporter needed an invitation to attend a public meeting may open a new era in relations between newspapers and government agencies.

If such agencies did, in fact, begin to send out invitations, we might see such messages as these in the future:

From the office of the Administrator:
Highlands General Hospital and Monument Company.
(HGH—The tax-supported people)
Dear Sir:

Due to the unfortunate fact that the laws of Florida make your presence unavoidable, we extend this cordial invitation to you arrogant, mealy-mouth (expletive deleted).

It is our sincere hope that someday we may have you here in a professional capacity (ours, not yours!).

As usual we will be meeting in the Highlands General Hospital. It is up to you to find out exactly where in the hospital we will be gathering. The meeting will take place at approximately 1 p.m. By approximately, we mean anytime between 1 p.m. the previous day and 1 p.m. the following day.

If you do happen to find us, we reserve the right to search you, as you enter the room, for any dangerous weapons or instruments. Like pencils, pens or tape recorders.

We sincerely hope you enjoy your stay. None of our patients do.

Cordially,

The South Central Florida Advisory Council:

We are pleased to announce another chaotic and incoherent meeting scheduled for the fifth of March, Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-Eight.

Hopefully, if our members have not gone off the wagon, there will be enough sober members to make up a quorum. If they have, we'll hold the meeting and vote anyway. No one will ever know the difference.

We request the pleasure of your absence at the March 5th meeting. We have no need for nosy reporters at our session. That's why we have scheduled it for Saturday and in a building which is at least 20 miles away from civilization, which is to say it's somewhere in Hardee County.

We are tired of reading stupid statements in the newspapers so we are going to get back at you people. We are going to stop making them! See if you can make an interesting meeting out of that.

R.S.V.P. (We had a few other initials in mind but since we send this through the mail we couldn't use them.)

Or something like this.

The International Brotherhood of Teamsters will hold a press conference this Friday at ten 0' clock. Be there!

Our officers will be making an important statement so either you be there to write it down or we'll send some guys over who'll break your fingers. Try typing your next story then!

Political Viewpoint

County Commission District 4

L. Earl Duncan

A Highlands County newcomer, L. Earl Duncan, is a candidate for Highlands County commission district 4. Duncan, a Republican, is without opposition in the primary. He will face, in November, the winner of the Democratic race between incumbent C. J. "Buddy" Wise and Bill Driggers.

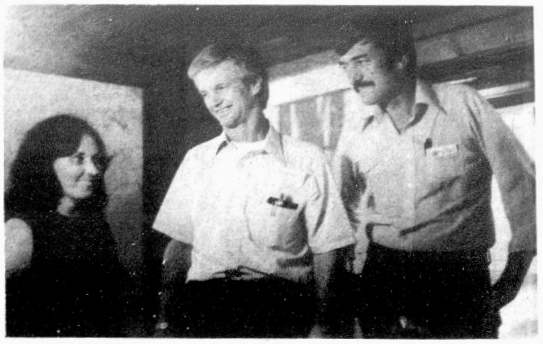

Duncan came to Highlands County three years ago. H was born in Missouri and attended school in Oklahoma. He is proud of his father's role in organizing the high school band which later became known as the "number one band of Oklahoma." Duncan was a member of that band.

Duncan served in the U.S. Army for 30 years. His service career included a tour in Korea. He earned one battle star. He counts as the highlight of his army career his assignment as a guard for President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

After leaving the army Duncan moved to Florida and entered the private security guard business. For 22 years he was on patrols in the Hollywood - Halendale - Miramar - Pembroke Pines area.

Duncan is a member of the newly organized Liberty Baptist Church, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is an enthusiastic member of the Jolly Sixties Club.

In announcing his candidacy Duncan said, "I hope the voting public will vote for a man to represent them as a commission not a party lord."

CANDIDATES GET ROLLING

State Representative District 75

Wayne Duncan

Wayne Duncan, of Sebring, has filed to run for State Representative for District No. 75 now held by Fred Burrall. District No. 75 represents the counties of Highlands, Charlotte, Sarasota and DeSoto.

Duncan filed to run for State office in Tallahassee while serving with the Florida National Guard at Camp Blanding. He will run on the Democratic ticket and first oppose Darryl L. Brown and Kirby Helms of Port Charlotte in the Democratic primary Sept. 12.

Wayne Duncan is director of the Tri-County Teacher Education Center serving the counties of Hardee, Highlands and Okeechobee. He also is a part-time instructor of political science at South Florida Junior College in Avon Park. Teacher Education Centers throughout Florida were established by Legislature in 1973 and has been in operation here for the past two years. Duncan was brought into the Tri-County area to head the center from Tallahassee, where he was a social studies instructor.

Before moving to Sebring Duncan was active in politics and eduation. He was the Jaycees' Key Man of the Year in 73-74, Leon County Outstanding Man of the Year 75-76 and recipient of the Outstanding Young Man of America Award nominated by the office of Senator Edward Gurney in 1976.

Duncan is a strong proponent for Heartland representation in the House. He considers more direct and less segmenting of representation important and will address himself and his candidacy toward redistricting which will be an issue during the period of office for which he is a candidate.

Republican Gubernatorial Primary

Jack Eckerd

Governor candidate Jack Eckerd said last week he will require key appointees in his administration to strictly comply with full financial disclosure.

"It may not be clearly required by law, but it will be by Jack Eckerd," he said.

Eckerd said he will insist on full disclosure as "a condition of appointment for department heads and others in extremely sensitive positions.

"The fact is that there are men and women in appointive positions with enormous power over the day to day affairs of state government, and with as much potential for conflicts of interest as has any elected official," Eckerd said. "For that reason, I believe strongly that they should be held to the highest standard of personal accountability."

Eckerd praised Governor Reubin Askew's attempts to enforce full disclosure by his key appointees, even though he hasn't yet been able to achieve full compliance.

"I consider full financial disclosure a small price to pay to earn the confidence of the people of Florida," Eckerd said.

Eckerd has been a pioneer of financial disclosure, beginning in 1970.

This year, although early legal opinions indicated he would not be required to make a disclosure until after he takes office, Eckerd was one of the first to voluntarily make his personal finances a public record.

Democratic Gubernatorial Primary

Bob Graham

Bob Graham, the Democratic candidate for governor, today announced that a top priority of his administration will be to freeze property taxes for two years at their present level. Graham's proposal, called "The Home Saver Plan", would according to Graham, address the two top frustrations of the people of Florida - inflationary taxes and governmental waste.

Graham said, "The people are demanding that something be done to stop the unrestrained growth of government. My plan to freeze property taxes for two years will give property owners all over Florida the assurance that there will be no increase in their property taxes."

Graham said that along with the property tax proposal, he would name a tax reform commission to recommend broad, sweeping changes in Florida's tax structure.

Graham said, "There are thousands of people in Florida who are threatened every year with having to sell their homes because of large increases in their property taxes-fed by inflation. Our plan will be the first step in controlling inflation in Florida, and will give both state and local government the opportunity to re-evaluate programs which may not be necessary."

Graham named his running mate Wayne Mixson as the Chariman of the Tax Reform Commission and said the group would begin working immediately after election day.

Graham's home saver proposal to freeze property taxes for two years would be implemented in one of the following manners:

(a) A statutory millage rollback which mandates that the tax rate be reduced proportionately to the increase in assessment levels.

(b) A constitutional amendment directing that all property which was on the 1978 tax rolls would continue at that level of assessment for the following 2 years.

City Slots Federal Funds

The street and sanitation department will receive the largest bulk of the federal revenue sharing funds sent to Avon Park, with an additional large amount being designated for street paving by the City.

According to the city's tentative budget for the federal revenue funds $23,000 will go to the street and sanitation department. Sixteen thousand dollars will be used to buy two 1½ ton truck needed by the department and $8,000 have been earmarked for the city landfill.

The second biggest chunk of the federal funds will be in a contingency fund. Over $21,000 will be in the reserve funds. The next largest amount, $20,000, will be used for paving city streets during the next year.

All total, the city has $109,096 worth of revenue sharing funds to divy up between city departments.

The police department will receive almost $11,000 of the funds, most of which will be used to purchase two new police cars which were requested by Police Chief Robert Brooks.

Seven Thousand dollars have been designated for the city ball parks while the city recreation department will receive just over $1,900. Those funds will be used for repairs and landscaping.

The water department will be issued $7,900 of the funds, $7,000 of which will be used to purchase a new truck. The building department will receive just over $5,500. Again most of the funds will be used to purchase a new vehicle.

The least amount of funds, $650, will be used in the city hall building.

GOP Backs Tax Limit

At its regular meeting on July 24 the Highlands Area Republican Club voted to endorse the following propositions:

That ad valorem taxes in Highlands County continue to increase at a rapid rate each year and county and city governmental bodies continue programs that are non-essential in nature and only add to the burden of taxpayers.

That the Highlands County Commissioners indicate that they might sponsor an increase of one cent per gallon in the gasoline tax and the several budget requests, as now proposed, will entail a substantial increase in the millage levy, if budgetary expenditures are not drastically reduced.

That the assessed valuation of real property in the county has been radically increased for the next fiscal year thereby increasing taxes on real property the smae as an increase in the tax millage would do; and, whereas an overwhelming sentiment prevails throughout the nation to reduce and - or cease governmental expenditures except for the basic necessities of government.

Therefore it is resolved, by The Highlands Area Republican Club, that these matters be brought to the attention of all governmental agencies involved in the assessment, collecting and spending of tax monies, requesting and demanding of all these agencies, that the expenditure of tax monies be held to an absolute minimum and in support of only those functions absolutely necessary to provide the basic functions of government.

Another tip for treating your feather and down pillows well is to occasionally pop them in the clothes dryer on low heat for 10 minutes. This will take out the humidity and keep them resilient.

Griffings Feted With Party

Lt. Colonel Donald Griffing and wife Jody were honored with a retirement party held at the Avon Park Bombing Range NCO Club 'Gator Lounge', Saturday, July 29 beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Tables were set up with a bountiful array of delectable tidbits such as: bitesized hotdogs smothered in a barbecue sauce, sliced beef and pork for the making of finger sandwiches, molded dips saluting "Good Luck Don and Jody", and a shrimp filled ice bowl with cocktain sauce, all of which where arranged in an artistic fashion.

The party began with small groups talking and getting to know some of the Griffings old and new friends and family; partaking in the goodies at the same time.

The Lounge was beautifully decorated with palms and other ornamental plants. Each table and booth was covered with a white linen tablecloth and a single rose in a white vase was placed in the center of the table. A small lighted fountain, by the entranced way, was graced by blooming catus. All of the floral arrangements and potted plants were courtesy of Hayward Williams officer of the Avon Park Correctional Institute.

For this gala occasion Jody chose a white flowing long gown and wore a purple orchid corsage. The affair was semi-formal with most of the ladies attired in long gowns, however, some chose cocktail dresses while others perferred formal pantsuits and jumpsuits. The men wore formal to casual suits.

At about 8:15 p.m. everyone found a seat and the toasting of ths retiring base cammander and wife began. Lt. Col. Scott Stovin, Master of Ceremonies, began the list of congratulations and farewells by reading a scrapbook prepared by the commanders secretary, Connie Ewell, carrying best wishes from comrades and friends. Afterwards, Col. Stovin presented a pair of red, white and blue shoes to both Col. Griffing and Jody on behalf of the Bombing Range Wives Club, with the notation that it was 'to help them get started on the right foot in their new life'. This was a beginning of the many humorous presentations the Griffings received, but on a more serious note, to show their appreciation for what Col. and Mrs. Griffing have meant to the 56th Combat Support Squadron and the Avon Park Bombing Range the following were presented to them: and elegant French telephone, from the entire 56th Combat Support Squadron; a squadron quidon display, with a small flag representing the squadron, his name and rank, a TAC patch, a 56th Tactical Fighter Wing patch, and a 56th Combat Support Squadron patch, also, a message stating "Avon Park Bombing Range - Best Kept Secret In The Air Force". A scrapbook of letters of appreciation from Headquarters personnell and friends; a hand crochet afghan from the Chaney's; a plaque from the Security Police; a working model airplane, a tribute to the Colonels experience and hobby with the models, from Ralph Wick; General Wescott presented him with a carpeted serving tray and a set of TDY orders giving the Colonel and Jody permission to visit MacDill AFB and its facilities at anytime, both were humorous gifts.

The Griffings also received a plaque from the 56th Combat Support Group; a plaque from Range Operations with a F100 throttle and his wings, rank and total flying hours attached.

The Civil Enginners at the base presented to him the squadron sign with his name painted on it and a stick from a wild lemon tree, and a plaque with a grade A Bull Chip attached. TOSS presented him with an executive calculator, the one where your fingers do the counting, adding and other forms of math, and a plaque with a model TV screen and a bomb drop target.

The Communications Section gave him a genuine brick, a replicia of the hand held radio brick used on the range. Electronic Warfare division presented to the Colonel a plaque representing the E. W. mission and a humorous scrapbook.

Among the many friends and dignitaries present were Col. Lou Hoyer and wife, who flew in from Oregon for the special occasion, General Wescott of MacDill AFB, 56th Combat Support Group, and many others. The Colonel and Jody also received telephone calls from General Bedke and Sgt. and Mrs. Charlie Marts, stationed in Alaska.

After the presentations Colonel Griffing and Jody both gave very moving talks of their life in the Air Force and how it has affected and enriched their lives including the many loyal friends they have made along the way.

The evening ended on a swinging note as a band began playing disco music and people st arted to dance.

The Avon Park Bombing Range bids a fond farewell to a base commander who has done much for the base and hopes that he and his family will return for a visit often, from their new home in Sebring.

Good Luck Don and Jody!

Council Recommends Highlands General 32-Bed Addition

The 32-bed addition for Highlands General Hospital, which was recommended by the regional Health Systems Council, will not be automatically approved by the state, according to James Carter of the Office of Community Medical Facilities.

The application for the 32-bed addition was approved on a 11-10 vote by the regional council. The council denied, on a 9-8 vote, a application by Walker Memorial for a satellite hospital in Lake Placid.

"Regional decisions have been reversed," said Carter.

Carter said the state office would analyze the recommendations of the area and regional councils, look at budget figures and statistics, "the whole scheme of things". he said.

"The important thing is how responsive (are the applications) to the established criteria rather than something that someone feels strongly about. There has to be good judgement in the recommendations. That's my job to determine," Carter said.

The review of the recommendation of the advisory council will be done by Carter, who will study the data, and then make his report to Art Forehand, the director of the agency.

"This office is the one who makes the decisions. The HSA only advise for the application. That ends their job but not our work. They have do the legwork, so to speak, because they are in the area," Carter said.

The Office of Community Medical Facilities has 90 days to make a decision and issue the certificate of deny. The state has the authority to approve or deny the entire application or to deny portions of the applications.

In the case of competing applications, such as the ones from Highlands County, Carter said, both would be analyzed and reviewed even though the Walker Memorial proposal was not recommended by the regional council.

"I would not simply look at one first because it has been recommended and not the other. Who ever has the best application in regard to serving the populace, in regard to cost and many other factors, that's the application which which will be approved," he said.

Lori Violette Goes To Easter Seal Camp

Lori Violette of Avon Park was among 264 campers who enjoyed two weeks at a 63 acre, 24 building recreation facility in a barrier free environment, located 29 miles north of Orlando in Sorrento. The camp is owned and operated by the Easter Seal Society for crippled children and adults of Florida, Inc.; and is the only accredited residential camp of its kind in the state of Florida. It is a special camp for persons who have physical handicaps.

However, it is more. Challenge is fishing, boating, swimming, archery, riflery, floor hockey, dancing and bouncing on the trampoline. Challenge is being out of doors each day and acquiring a tan. It is nature hikes-chairs, crutches, etc. It is preparing an act for the gong show and writing for the camp paper.

Challenge is where persons who have physical handicaps are not babied or "talked down" to. Rather, it is meeting old friends and making new ones. It is developing special relationships: getting to know and be known - freely to be and become. It is sharing and talking and sharing and....

Challenge is treasured memories of two weeks spent as participants-not merely spectators-in life's social and recreational activities. Challenge is the promise of fun filled vacations to come spent among friends who look beyond individual handicaps to find persons who are talented, sensitive and extremely human.

Challenge is not merely something. It is someone. It is Harry, Sue, Ken, Anita, Gary and forty three other counselors who cheerfully, willingly and patiently share their lives and talents well beyon twelve hours daily. It is Norma and Freda who gently with concern and professionalism-dispense prescribed medication, listen to stymptons, and heal more than bodies. It is Bob O'Brien, Camp Director, who is on hand twenty four hours a day and whose dedication, knowledge and extensive experience makes it all seem so very simple. Mostly, it is the campers, from sixteen Easter Seal Society Centers, who live life to the fullest for two weeks-laughingly and lovingly because they experience that love is patient; is kind; is understanding.

Health Food Store Opens On Lake Ave.

Jerry and Karen DeWind, recently opened a new health food store at 19 S. Lake Ave., Avon Park, called Food For Thought, Inc. The DeWinds operate the store with their two children, Margaret 5, and Katherine 3.

Personal interest in natural foods promoted the couple to seek a small town which needed this type of service. Avon Park with its friendly people and rural environment encouraged them to make this town their home, the couple stated.

The health food store is open Monday thru Friday from 9:30 a.m. til 5:30 p.m. and on Saturdays 9 until 1. The store includes a wide variety of natural, vegetarian and bulk foods. One may find dried fruits, juices, nuts, seeds, beans, pasta, dietetic and dairy foods. The store also has vitamins, weight gain and loss proteins, books, teas and cosmetics.

The DeWind's are very enthused about their bulk food section where customers can buy their beans, nuts, and seeds in any quanity desired at reasonable prices. Vegetarian foods are available singularly or in reduced case lot prices.

New items are arriving daily, and they are able to get their customers anything that is not stocked, upon request. The couple stress that they are here to help and to provide service to the community. The DeWinds want to especially thank all the local people who have helped them in the past month getting the store ready to serve the public.

Cost Estimates Up In 600 Page County Budget

Costs estimated to operate the board of elections are up in the budget request, mainly due to allocating salary for the supervisor of elections. Because the supervisor was also vehicle tag agent, the salary was budgeted in licensing operations instead of elections.

Jimmy Whitehouse, elections supervisor, said that following the upcoming elections he plans to investigate a cheaper election system than the voting machines currently used.

While Home Health Care costs are up 55 percent in the new budget, commissioners discussed eliminating the planned hiring of a receptionist and another registered nurse in its first full year of operations.

Mrs. Joan Endicott, who heads the program, said the two new positions, which would bring the total number of employees to seven, would be needed to help handle the influx of winter residents.

A large part of the $104,000 estimated budget can be offset with reimbursement from Medicare. Obtaining reimbursement involves a great deal of paperwork and is the reason a receptionist was requested to help handle office chores.

Mrs. Endicott conservatively estimates that $35,000 annually will come from Medicare for cost reimbursement.

Mrs. Rosemary Deck, HOPE of Highlands County project director, said Mrs. Endicott has done a tremendous job in setting up an efficient program that can serve as a model for similar programs throughout the state.

Due to several arithmetic errors, commissioners had a difficult time determining what changes are in the 1978-79 building department budget. However, it appears as if the request is up about 38 percent.

More review of the 600-plus page proposed budget will come Thursday evening, with a look at clerk of the court office requests and the purchasing department's budget. Even more study is coming Tuesday at 8 a.m., with hearings scheduled on motor vehicle inspection and the county engineering-road and bridge department.

ARC To Be Accredited

The Florida Alcoholism Treatment Center received notice Friday, July 28, 1978 that the Center has been approved by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals to be accredited for a period of two years.

This accreditation is as a result of the findings during a survey conducted May 15-16, 1978. A variety of managerial and professional standards must be met for a facility to receive accreditation. Benjamin A. Brooks, the administrator of the Center, stated that this accreditation represents a level of excellence, for which he is very proud that all the staff have contributed much to maintain the excellent standards deserving of accreditation.

Avon Park Selected As Meditators' Florida Capital

Bruce Henderson

Avon Park will be the "Florida Capital of the Age of Enlightenment," according to Transcendental Meditation advocates who are establishing a major TM center at Pinecrest.

The group plans to completely renovate and aircondition the 120 room facility, on South Lake Lotela Drive which was built as a resort hotel in the 1920s, was later added on to, and which served as a girl's school until about 1970.

Most recently, one wing of the building housed the Sebring Academy, which closed this year after a dispute with state health officials over student medical records.

"We want to make it the kind of dignified building it once was," said Jim Weldon, a member of the board of executive governors of Florida Capital, the TM group's local name.

He refused to say how much the project will cost, citing instructions from the national TM organization not to discuss finances. The Florida group is part of the World Plan Executive Council, the international organization founded by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi.

According to Weldon, the renovation project will be completed within four to five months. He added the group is trying to use ,local contractors and suppliers for the project.

The facility, one of six in the United States, will be used as a conference center and retreat for practitioners of TM, he said. It may at some future date become a site for a branch campus of Maharishi International University, located in Fairfield, Iowa.

The center now has a staff of 13, which will increase to a maximum of 20 to 25 once the renovation project is completed.

Members at the group started cleaning up the vacant building about a month and a half ago, but the sale was completed only last Thursday.

Claiming TM is not a religion, Weldon described it as a "mental technique which the individual practices 15-20 minutes in the morning and evening." The purpose of TM is to "realize the full potential of the individual," he said.

TM advocates claim scientific evidence for a wide variety of benefits resulting from ths practice of TM, from lower blood pressure to decreased anxiety to higher intelligence.

However, the group has its sights on more far-reaching goals than individual self-improvement.

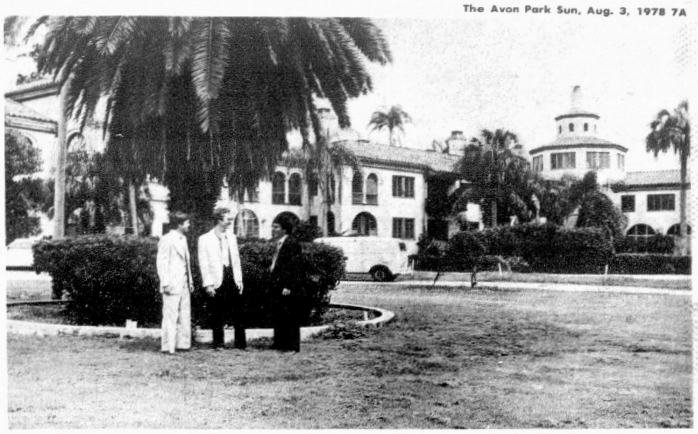

"Our basic goal is to try to create an ideal society," said Weldon, adding that "what we mean by an ideal society is one which is free from suffering, stress and the weakness of the individual."

On the local level, the group aims "to have about one percent of the population practicing in the morning and evening," citing a World Plan theory that "if one percent of a population is more orderly," the rest will become more orderly by a process he termed "phase transition."

Weldon said the group will concentrate during the next few weeks on meeting with local community leaders. An open house also will be held.

Special programs and seminars featuring prominent individuals will be held periodically, he said, once the center is open. Festivals celebrating the changes of seasons also are held, according to Weldon.

These and the group's usual introductory lecture on TM will be open to the public, he explained.

THE AGE OF Enlightenment will be centered here for Floridians, according to followers of the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. The group recently purchased Pinecrest, and plans to convert it into a center for Transcendental Meditation practitioners. done to halt the rise in health care costs "if the government would work on inflation so that everything we use and buy doesn't increase so fast every year."

However, he said, "I don't have much hope for cost containment unless they want to take over and do like they did in England."

"Everything the government gets into seems to cost more for the same services or they reduce services," he added.

McClellan said a study should be done analyzing costs at the Veteran's Administration hospitals to determine the real impact of government control of health care facilities. One VA hospital, he commented, has an average length of stay of 25 days, compared with six days at Walker.

Both men also maintained hospitals themselves were doing as good a job as possible to keep charges down.

They cited government statistics which showed the increase in hospital care costs had risen less than the overall Consumer Price Index during March, April and May.

During May, McClellan said, costs to patients rose .8 percent, compared with a rise in the CPI of .9 percent. Additionally, he said, the government figures do not correct for increased use of health care facilities.

Patient charges at Walker Memorial, McClellan said, have risen only 6.67 percent so far this year, compared with a state average of 12.99 percent for last year.

"We feel that right now we're doing the best we can," Bogert said.

Supplemental Food Program Has New Rules

States administering the special supplemental food program for women, infants and children (WIC) now have until Sept. 30 to implement uniform delivery systems according to a rule change announced by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman.

WIC program rules, implemented last September, would have required States to use one of the three delivery systems uniformly throughout the State by July 26, 1978. The delivery systems include vouchers redeemable at food markets, direct distribution at the WIC program," Ms. Foreman said, "to allow them additional time to make the required operational changes."

Current WIC legislation expires on Sept. 30. At such time as the program is extended, the Department will issue new regulations and consider any further extensions that States may request in order implement the uniform delivery system rule.

The WIC program is run by local health or welfare agencies through their neighborhood clinics or offices and provides special foods to pregnant and nursing women, to infants, and to children up to five years old. To be eligible, participants must be at "nutritional risk" because of poor or inadequate diet and low income and participants get monthly food packages of baby formula or milk, cereal, eggs, cheese, and juice.

Get Cash For Cans

The August schedule for the mobile recycling unit, located at Sebring Lions' Club, 1200 Fairmont, is every Friday from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Reynolds pays the public 17 cents a pound for aluminum beverage cans and other clean, household aluminum items such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers.

Reynolds "Pennies from Heaven" donation program for the Muscular Dystrophy Association begins August 1 and continues through Labor Day, September 4.

In addition to accepting donations of aluminum from the public, during this time Reynolds will contribute one cent to the Muscular Dystrophy Association for every pound of aluminum recycled nation-wide at the company's 800 collection points.

In relinquishing command Col. Griffing stated, "I am greatly honored by Col. Cunningham's kind words. The past few days has been a perfect finale to a perfect career. A career in which I trained to defend my country, flown in combat, travelled world wide and have concluded with this most personally rewarding duty as commander here."

Col. Griffing thanked those present for coming to help celebrate the change of command, especially to his friends Lowry and Marlene Hoyer for coming from Oregon to make the celebration perfect.

He also expressed his thanks to all responsible for helping to build the Avon Park Range to its present position of excellence and "I confidently pass command into the very capable hands of Col. Stovin in whom I have complete confidence. I know he will receive the same outstanding support I did and you will press on to greater achievements in the future."

In accepting command, Lt. Stovin quoted someone as saying, 'the past is just a starting point for what lies ahead.' He continued that Col. Griffing and many other fine people had built a strong foundation to use as a starting point for what lies ahead for me.

It is an honor to be commander of this fine organization and I will exert my best efforts to continue its proud tradition.

In a final word, Col. Cunningham gave high praise to Jody Griffing for her role in supporting the work of her husband and presented her with a certificate of appreciation.

Election Already Over For Some Candidates

The 1978 election is over for some candidates. The two school board incumbents seeking new terms — Steve Roberts and Ken Grady — have no opposition and no candidates came forward to challenge the sitting judges who had qualified as candidates for new six-year terms.

Judge Clifton M. Kelly, William K. Love, Oliver L. Green Jr., John H. Dewell, Gunter Stephenson and Richard Bronson learned late Tuesday that the noon qualifying deadline had passed with no opponents surfacing.

The qualifying period for all candidates for county and state offices was July 11-25. Unopposed candidates' names do not appear on the ballot.

Roberts, a Republican, is the District 1 (Avon Park) representative on the Highlands County School Board. Grady, a Democrat, is from District 5 (Sebring). He was elected two years ago to fill an unexpired term; this will be his first four-year term.

The retirement of veteran school board member Jack Wirick has thrown the race for the District 3 seat wide open. Four candidates are now in the running. Marguerite Skipper, Robert L. Fitzgerald Jr. and Selvin McGahee are all vying for the Democratic nomination and the winner will then face Republican H. R. "Bob" Hjort in November.

L. Earl Duncan of Lake Placid is the only Republican going after a county commission seat. The Democrats will choose between C. J. "Buddy" Wise and Bill Driggers for their nomination to face Duncan.

In District 2 incumbent Norman "Jug" Heston is being challenged by a political newcomer, Oscar F. "Bill" Laye. Both are Democrats.

Merchants Go To State B Tourney

The Avon Park Merchants Slow Pitch Softball team won the Class B District 4 tournament last weekend in Bradenton by winning four out of five games to qualify for state competition. The Merchants will now advance to the Class B State Tournament to be held in Pensacola the weekend of August 11, 12 and 13.

The Merchants opened the District 4 tourney with a 10 — 1 victory over the Lakeland Auto Auction team in first round action with right fielder Dick Peavy slamming out a home run and a double and left fielder Don Sisemore going four for four at the plate with two doubles and two singles.

In second round play, the Merchants knocked off the Bradenton Herald team by a score of 11 — 0. Again Sisemore was four for four at bat and scored three runs. The Merchants got a total of 16 hits while pitcher Sam Elder held the Herald batters to just two singles in the seven inning game. Second baseman Hoppy Rewis and shortstop Charlie Polk contributed a triple and a single to the winning cause for the Avon Park team in the shut out over the Herald, which was the host team in the tourney.

The final three games were all played against a tough Swedes team from Haines City. In the finals of the winner's bracket, the Merchants scored a run in the bottom of the seventh inning to break a 6 — 6 tie and take a 7 — 6 victory. Bud Wester singled with one man out in the last inning. Then Don Sisemore, Hoppy Rewis and Larry Kelly all rapped out singles to drive in Wester with the game winning run to put the Merchants into the finals undefeated.

The Swedes came out of the loser's bracket to face the Merchants again late last Sunday morning on a wet and muddy field. Three singles and a home run by the Swedes gave them a 5 — 0 lead in the top of the first inning. The Merchants closed the gap to 5 — 3 after five innings of play. In the last of the seventh inning, the Merchants scored one more run and had a man on third base when the final out was made to give the Swedes a 5 — 4 victory and force the Merchants into a second game.

In the final game of the tourney, the Merchants jumped off to a 3 — 0 lead in the third inning and then held on in the mud for a 3 — 2 win to take the district title. Pitcher Sam Elder led off the big third inning with a single and catcher Joe Baker followed with another one base hit. Don Sisemore was safe on an infield error and Larry Kelly singled to drive in runs before the last out was made.

The Merchants picked up only seven hits in the final game while the Swedes had 11 hits, but fine defensive play by the Avon Park team brought home the victory and the winner's trophy for the Merchants in their first venture into state tournament play.

Only one home run was hit by the Merchants in the five games——a booming homer by Dick Peavy, but the local team proved it could win games with base hits, excellent base running and tight defensive play.

Don Sisemore went 16 for 19 at the plate in the five games. Hoppy Rewis was 9 for 18, Charlie polk got 7 for 16, Craig Johnson was 6 for 11, and Larry Kelly was 6 for 14 for the Merchants. Billy Jackson, Dick Peavy and Joe Baker all had four hits each in the tourney.

The twelve player squad will not get ready for the state meet next weekend in Pensacola. Manager Densby Jackson is optimistic about the Merchants' chances at Pensacola. He says the only problem will be finances. The profit the team made from the tourney held here several weeks ago has dwindled down and the trip to the north western part of the state next week will be expensive. Any individual or business interested in donating to the Avon Park Merchants for this trip may contact Densby or Ronnie Jackson.

Tourney To Be Held In August

The Summer Open Racquetball Tournament, sponsored by the City's Recreation Department, will be held the last two weekends of August. There will be a men's and women's doubles tournament the weekend of August 19th and then the following weekend Aug. 29, the men's and women's singles competition will be played.

There will be an "A" and "B" bracket for both tournaments. Hopefully, enthusiasts from all around the area will participate in this annual event. All matches will be played at the four-wall courts at the Recreation Department. There will be trophies awarded to the top three places in each division plus several door prizes will be given to some lucky participants. The Ektelon Racquetball equipment Company will be furnishing much of the supplies to run the tournament.

So, if you play racquetball, come on and sign up for this fun tournament. The entry deadline for the doubles competition is Thursday, August 17th and the deadline for the singles tournament will be Thursday August 27th. The fees are $3.00 per person for singles and $2.50 per person for doubles. Join in the fun. Register now by coming by the Recreation Center at 101 N. Verona Ave. or send your entry fee in to the Recreation Department P. O. Box 1467 Avon Park.

Renew Tickets!

Reserved seat tickets for the home games of the 1978 Avon Park varsity football team will go on sale next Monday, August 7, at the Avon Park High School office according to Athletic Director Joe Franza.

The tickets are available to anyone who held a ticket last season and may be renewed for the price of $3 plus the purchase of a season ticket for each reserved seat ticket.

Season tickets will cost $8 for adults and $4 for students again this year. These season tickets will also admit the owner to junior varsity games at home.

Reserved seat tickets may be renewed from August 7 through August 25. From August 28 through September 1, ticket holders may exchange seat positions. Then September 4 any remaining tickets will go on sale to those on a waiting list at the high school office.

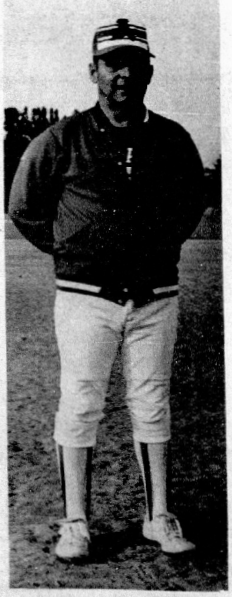

Coaches To Attend Grid Clinic

The Avon Park High School Red Devil football coaching staff will attend the Florida Athletic Association Coaches Clinic at the University of Florida in Gainesville this weekend according to Head Coach John Hunter.

The clinic will start today (Thursday) and close out Saturday night with the All Star North vs South football game. Also including in the clinic events will be the All Star basketball game with a north squad taking on a south team.

Attending from Avon Park will be Hunter, Ronnie Jackson, Hoppy Rewis and Don Sisemore. Coach Hunter said early this week that he expects the Devil coaches to take advantage of the different clinics and seminars on football and also hopes to spend some time at local staff meetings making plans for the coming season.

The Red Devil football varsity will play ten games this season with only four of the opponents classified as Class AA teams. That means the Devils will be playing six teams in higher classifications.

COACH HUNTER

Physicals Scheduled

Physical examinations for all prospective Avon Park Red Devil varsity football players have been set for Wednesday, August 9, at 2:30 p.m. at the office of Dr. Donald Jones according to Coach John Hunter.

Candidates for Red Devil junior varsity football are requested to report to Dr. Jones' office at 2:30 p.m. the following Wednesday, August 16.

Varsity practice will start on Tuesday, August 15, at 8:30 a.m. at Memorial Field with a second session scheduled for 4 p.m. on the same day. Twice a day practices will be held until school starts.

The Avon Park Red Devil varsity will open the 1978 season in Lake Wales on September 8 against the Highlanders, a Class AAA team under the leadership of a new head coach. The first home game for Avon Park will be on September 15 against the Lake Placid Green Dragons.

Pete has not played in a tourney since the Babe Zaharas Junior in Tampa last month. Kevin was an entrant in the Future Masters Tournament held in Dothan, Alabama, last week along with Wes Fisher and Robert Tate of Sebring and Mark Palmer of Avon Park.

DuPriest is also planning to play in the Crutchfield Invitational for Juniors later this month.

Avon Paint And Body In Second Place

The Avon Paint & Body Commercial League Slow Pitch Softball team edged into second place behind Jackson Masonry last week with two wins. Jackson Masonry is now 10-1 and A P & B has a 7-4 record.

Holding on to third place is Crews Equipment with a 6-5 mark. Air Force is in fourth place with a 4-6 mark, the Beachfront Gators are fifth with a 3-8 record and APCI is in the cellar with a 2-8 mark.

Last Thursday night's games were rained out and last Monday night's games wers also cancelled due to a muddy field. However, there were four games played last Monday and Tuesday nights a week ago.

On Monday, July 24, Avon Paint & Body defeated Crews Equipment 10-5 in the early game and the Air Force outscored the Beachfront Gators 19-9 in the second game.

On Tuesday night, July 25, it was Jackson Masonry beating APCI in the early game in five innings and Avon Paint & Body making it three wins in a row with a 6-3 victory over Air Force.

Tonight (Thursday) it will be Air Force playing Crews Equipment at 7 p.m. and Beachfront Gators meeting APCI at 8:30 p.m. Next Monday night, August 7, the Gators will play Crews early and AP&B will take on APCI in the second game.

With quite a few r ained out games to be made up, there could be action at the Commercial League Field almost every night this coming week. Fans are invited out to watch the six men's slow pitch teams in action. Both the Church League and the Women's League have finished regular season play so the Commercial League action is all that is left for softball fans.

Mother-Daughter Game Set

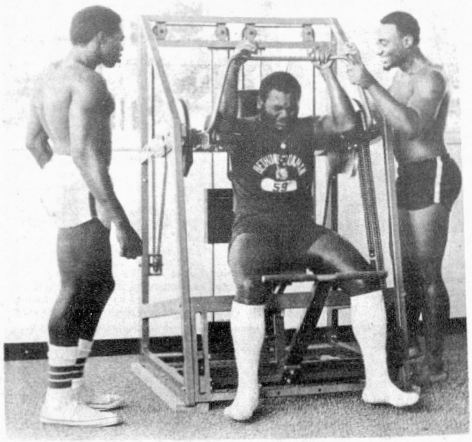

The annual Mother-Daughter Softball Game will be played Friday, August 11, at 8 p.m. This event, which is sponsored by the Avon Park Recreation Department, is open to all Avon Park Mothers and Daughters.

The "Daughters" (13 years or older) will play a seven inning game against the "Mothers" to try and win it for the first time since the series began three years ago. The mothers, in the past, have shown no mercy to their younger counterparts, winning all three years. Last year the score was 11-3.

If you would like to play in this event and do not have a "daughter" 13 years or older, you may still participate by "adopting" one for the day.

All players on the willing team will get their names put on a trophy, to be displayed at the Recreation Center. All participants will receive a cap to play in and then keep at the completion of the game.

To register, please call the Recreation Department at 453-6881 and give your name and your "daughters" name. Entry fee is $5.00 per couple. Register now, because only the first 12 couples will play.

As the Racquetball Ladder, sponsored by the APRD, comes to a close on August 11, the top place holders in all divisions will be getting more challenges from the people lower down the ladder. In the last two weeks several first place people have been knocked out of their spots.

In the "A" bracket of the men's division, Rudi Marquez was defeated by Curt Hardin, after holding that position from the beginning of the tournament. The scores of that match were 21-5 and 21-1. That No. 1 spot now belongs to Hardin. Second place is held by Henry Wood, as he defeated Dennis Guenther 21-2 and 21-9.

In the "B" bracket of the men's division another first place holder was displaced by a challenger last week. The No. 1 place is now held by Grant Stallard as he won his match with Flavil Graham by the scores of 21-19 and 21-13.

In the women's "A" division, Patty Kelley has successfully defended her No. 1 position several times recently. The latest match was against Darcey Ray in which Kelley won 21-15 and 21-20. Darcey holds second place.

A well-loved game is tennis and though it came to us from England in 1873, America now boasts well over 10 million active players and more than 150,000 courts.

The greatest crowd at a regular tennis match was 25,578 at the first day of the Davis Cup Challenge Round between Australia and the United States at Sydney, Australia, in 1954. The favorite drink among tennis players this year is the Wimbledon Whistle.

A deuce of a tip for your backhand is to hold your wrist stiff during the swing. The racket should be almost level when the ball is hit. In the follow-through, the racket is well out from the body and brought beyond the right shoulder.

Capture Women's Softball Tourneys

The Foxy Ladies and Jackies won the Class A and Class B Women's Slow Pitch Softball tournaments held last weekend by the Avon Park Women's Softball League. The Foxy Ladies defeated Jahna Concrete 9-5 to capture the Class A championship trophy and Jackies' Beauty Shop won over Avon Citrus Bank by a score of 13-8 to take the Class B tournament.

The top five teams in the eleven team local women's softball league participated in a double elimination tournament at Little League Field II last Saturday and Sunday and the last six teams in the league held a double elimination tournament at Little League Field I. Trophies were awarded to the top two finishers in each tourney.

In Class A action the Foxy Ladies defeated Gammage's Angels in the opening game Saturday morning at 9 a.m. The Lady Foxes slipped by the Angels by a score of 6-5, winning in the last inning.

Cox Plumbing had to go into an extra inning to defeat Texgas 8 - 3 in the second of the A meet. Cox scored five runs in the top of the eighth inning to break the 3 - 3 tie and knock Texgas into the loser's bracket.

In the third game of the day, the Foxy Ladies shut out Jahna Concrete by a score of 5 - 0 to advance to the finals of the winner's bracket.

At 1:30 p.m. the Gammage's Angels team defeated Texgas to move up in the loser's bracket. However, the Angels fell victim to Jahna Concrete in a 4:30 p.m. game and were eliminated from the five team meet.

The Foxy Ladies took advantage of a three run homer by Mary Ann Jackson to beat Cox Plumbing 9 - 0 in a 3 p.m. game dropping Cox into the loser's bracket for a game against Jahna Concrete.

Jahna Concrete edged Cox Plumbing out of the tourney with a 5 - 4 victory in the last game of the day in the A tournament in one of the two close games of the meet. That win gave Jahna Concrete a shot at the championship with a 1 p.m. game against the undefeated Foxy Ladies on Sunday.

The Foxy Ladies were just too fired up for Jahna in the final game, however, and took a 9 - 5 win to walk off with the tourney championship trophy.

Jackies Wins "B"

The six team Class B tournament was won by Jackies' Beauty Shop with victories over Ridge Florist, the A.P. Kids and Avon Citrus Bank.

The surprise team of the Class B tourney was Avon Citrus Bank, coached by Bob Barker. The ACB girls lost the first game of the meet by a score of 13 - 12 to Ridge Florist and dropped into the loser's bracket. ACB then beat Scotty's Furniture Barn, Cable TV and the A.P. Kids to advance to the play-off with Jackies.

In the second game of the tourney, the A.P. Kids beat Scotty's 16 - 1 in a Saturday morning game which was delayed because the first game of the meet ran overtime with a high scoring game between the Bank and Ridge.

In the fourth game of the Class B meet, Highlands Cable TV lost to the A.P. Kids by a score of 14 - 1.

ACB won over Soctty's in the fifth game of the meet and Cable TV eliminated Ridge Florist in game number six. That set up the game between Avon Citrus Bank and Cable TV in the finale Saturday night. The ACB girls came out on top to advance to the finals of the loser's bracket on Sunday at 1 p.m.

The A.P. Kids showed up too late on Sunday for the 1 p.m. game with Avon Citrus Bank giving the Bank girls a forfeit win that assured them of a first or second place trophy.

The final game of the Class B tournament started about 2:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon between undefeated Jackies' Beauty Shop and Avon Citrus Bank. Jackies scored 13 runs on 11 hits to beat out the Bank girls who scored 8 runs on 9 hits in the seven inning game. Both teams received trophies for their efforts in the league tournament.

The two tournaments were umpired by Jim Prevatt and John Zeigler and all eleven teams in the league participated in the two meets with each team playing at least two games.

League play was scheduled to close out last Monday night with four games to be played at the two fields. If a play off was needed to break the three way tie for first place, it was to have started last Tuesday night.

Adventists Top Church Softball

The Seventh Day Adventists came from behind to win the finals of the Avon Park Church Slow Pitch Softball League single elimination tournament last Monday night against the Nazarenes. Trailing 5-4 going into the top of the seventh inning, the Adventists scored five runs to take a 10-6 victory for the championship.

The eight teams in the local Church League began the tournament at the close of the regular season play last week. The Nazarenes knocked out Fellowship Baptist in the opening game Monday a week ago by a score of 6-5. Then the First Baptist Reds eliminated the Episcopals by an 8-4 score in the second game played on Monday.

Late Tuesday night a week ago, the Seventh Day Adventists walloped the First Baptist Blues 15-2 in the early game and the Church of Christ knocked out the Florida Avenue Baptist team with a 12-5 win. Games scheduled to be played last Thursday or Friday were rained out so three games were played this past Monday night.

In the first game last Monday, the Seventh Day Adventists ousted the Church of Christ by a score of 17-4. In the second game the Nazarenes clobbered the First Baptist Reds 15-3 to move into the final game against the Adventists.

The Nazarenes jumped off to the 5-4 lead and seemed to have the championship sewed up until the Seventh Day Adventists broke loose in the top of the seventh inning and scored six runs before the Nazarenes could stop the onslought. The Nazarenes scored one more run in the last of the seventh frame but lost the game by a score of 10-6 as the Sevength Day Adventist claimed the championship.

An error in the final regular season standings in last week's Sun had the Nazarenes with a 5-9 record. Actually they finished with a 6-8 mark to tie First Baptist Blues for fourth place and the Church of Christ finished with a 5-9 mark which was good for sixth placs in the final standings.

Instead of giving trophies this year, the Church League voted to list yearly winners on a placque which will be placed in the City Recreation Center. Both regular season winners and tourney winners will have permanent placques from now on.

Florida Parks Use Increases By 4 Percent

We're in the middle of summer and vacation time. Florida's recreation and park areas are bustling with activity.

The gasoline shortage of the past few years has reversed itself and the state's parks and recreation areas reflect a four percent increase in attendance for fiscal year ending June 30, 1978.

According to Ney Landrum, director of the Department of Natural Resources' Division of Recreation and Parks, total attendance for this year was 11,350,332, a jump from the previous 10,915,339.

"The higher figure represents, generally, a resumption of the upward trend in public participation in recreational activities," he said. Such undertakings were interrupted for several years by the gasoline shortages and the overall feiling of recession.

"Until around 1973 or 1974 we saw an upward trend in attendance at all our state parks. It declined until 1976 and is again on the upswing."

Another factor aiding these attendance figures was the opening of several new state parks. While these do not, as yet, reflect comparative attendance, others within the state park system are indicative of the growth pattern.

Trawler Permits To Be Issued

A maximum of 125 trawl permits will be issued for Lake Okeechobee this year, according to an announcement by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

F. G. Banks, director of the Commission's Division of Fisheries, said, "The Commission will issue permits for 125 trawls on a first—come, first—served basis. Fishermen requesting and receiving the permits must have satisfactory proof of an intent and capability to actively engage in fishing activity with trawls."

The special permit limit will apply from July 1, 1978 through June 30, 1979. Applications for permits are to be submitted to the Commission Office located in Tallanassee.

Banks said that due to the inactivity of trawlers previously issued permits, the new limit will provide for better utilization of legally permitted gear in order to achieve the objectives of the Lake Okeechobee Fisheries Utilization and Management Program.

Trawl permits for residents cost $50 and allow the taking of game fish, except bass and pickerel, for commercial purposes within designated areas of Lake Okeechobee.

Fish trawls, which are similar to shrimp nets, must be pulled by power boats and may not measure less than 20 feet or more than 50 feet in width.

Freshwater game fish, except bass and pickerel, taken by properly permitted trawls and seines, may be sold on the open maket only after being processed and properly tagged.

The long range objective of the Lake Okeechobee Fisheries Utilization and Management Program is to use a resource that would otherwise be wasted.

Glades Power Sued By Lees'

Tree lovers and fishermen are probably in sympathy with the angry property owners who are suing an electric company because the company allegedly destroyed some catawba trees and the "unique, rare and valuable fishing worms that only catawba trees produce."

Harry A. and Dorothy B. Lee, in a suit filed against Glades Electric Cooperative, Inc., report they have "suffered mental and physical pain, anguish and anxiety because of the loss of trees and the unique, rare and valuable fishing worms they are instrumental in producing."

The trees were on Lee property near Albritton Road. The Lees said the electric cooperative's crews tore down fences and cut down a large number of the catawbas which were 25 to 28 years old. They also claim the Glades crew had previously cut and injured pine trees on Lee property and had been told to "cease and desist."

The cooperative has not filed a reply to the civil suit filed here last week.

Webber Goes Intercollegiate

William B. Logan, president of Webber College in Babson Park, announced the initiation of an intercollegiate athletic program that will begin with a 1979 winter basketball schedule.

Logan stated several young men have been signed as student-athletes and negotiations with other prospective players should be finalized in the near future.

According to Logan, the Webber "Warriors" will have a 25 game schedule competing with various small to mid-sized four-year colleges and community colleges withing Florida.

Webber College will be competing as an "independent" for several years until three other areas of athletic programing can be developed. "Only after we have developed a total of four viable and different sports for competition can we qualify for National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II (NCAA) status," explained Logan.

Logan also announced Charles Brownfield has been apointed Webber "Warrior" basketball coach. Brownfield, a native of Coral Gables, joined the Webber staff last summer and is currently Director of Food Services.

Brownfield resides in Babson Park with his wife Dolores, an employee of Polk Community College in Winter Haven. He attended the University of Florida on a basketball scholarship and graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration in 1966.

Brownfield, a former Professional Golfer's Association (PGA) member who toured competitively for two years attends the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church of Lake Wales and is a member of the Kiwanis Club. He is a Big Brother in Big Brothers of Polk County and enjoys hunting.

Fishermen: Don't 'Stabilize' Lakes

A word of caution to Lake Istokpoga area residents and fish camp owners seeking to stabilize the minimum of the huge lake at a higher stage has been issued by a group of Central Florida fishermen.

"Look at the ill effects of Lakes Tohopekaliga, Apopka and Kissimmee — in fact the whole Lake County chain — in a deteriorated fishery which biologists say can now be helped only by a drastic drawdown.

"What happens when water levels are effectually stabilized to eliminate historic high and low levels has been found out the hard way in other parts of Central Florida," warns Charlie Harris, a columnist and member of several mid-Florida sports groups.

The water management district and the Army Corps of Engineers are studying the proposal to determine possible effects after receivingb petitions from property owners and fishermen about the big lake. A public hearing on the matter is scheduled for Aug. 8 at the Agri-Civic Center in Sebring on U.S. 27 South.

As the South Florida Water Management District continues trying to "unravel the mess it created with the Kissimmee River channelization — (known as The Ditch) its executive director John Maloy had spoken out in favor of the move to drop the level no lower than 38.5 mean sea level, with the high stage remaining at 39.5.

Maloy has said the area has had to reduce the use of water for irrigation in three of the past five years because of drought conditions.

Harris and his group say, "If the people around Lake Istokpoga are worried about the inconvenience of low water conditions which are only two feet below high stage, they would do well to consider the long-range inconvenience of inevitable drastic drawdowns, the only known tools with which to combat the ill effects of stabilization.

Stabilized water levels are caused when people build homes at the water's edge in periods of low water. Then flood control projects are brought in to keep them dry and prevent the water level from ever again reaching historic highs or perhaps even historic normals, Harris continued.

"Then we are faced with conserving water for future demands, so we build structures to store the water and prevent historic low water levels."

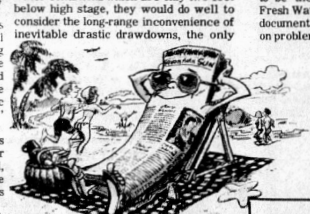

In summary, in these systems where the water level was once managed by nature to fluctuate several feet in times of flood and drought, they are now managed within a fluctuation schedule which prevents highs and lows necessary to maintain the ecology — thus the drawdowns.

Lake Istokpoga is about 70 square miles in area — believed to be the second largest completely land-enclosed lake in the state next to Okeechobee — and is located southwest of Sebring and connected to the Kissimmee River about halfway between Lakes Okeechobee and Kissimmee.

If the project is approved, the present water management structures would have to be modified so that greater quantities of water could be discharged during flood threats.

Harris said he hoped the Corps and water management officials would "level" with residents at the Sebring hearing and tell those — who obviously have good intentions — the consequences of water stabilization.

He hopes other conservationists who have observed the "sad experience" with stabilization elsewhere will take the time to be there, including the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission who have documentation through their biologists on problems encountered in other lakes.

This Is The Life....

Our apologies to Lee Davidson and Clyde Fry for an incorrect picture identification in last week's Sun Sports Section. Clyde Fry with Pekapoo Buffie was identified as Lee Davidson and his Cockapoo Brandy. Both were pretty white dogs but we're sorry we got the wrong names on both boys and dogs.

Avon Park Bombing Range In Review

On January 14, 1942 the Army Air Corps purchased 116,064 acres of unimproved land in Central Florida.This acreage was to become the Avon Park General Bombing Range, located 10½ miles north east of Avon Park and 15½ miles North East of Sebring.

When the first G.I.'s arrived in Avon Park, it was a quaint little town of 3,000 people. It took them an hour to travel to Lake Arbuckle on a winding, bouncing, sandy road 13½ miles long. What greeted them when they arrived was a massive sub-tropical wildlife, sanctuary occupied by grazing cattle and abundant wildlife, typical to the state of Florida.

For the first few months after arriving, the men were housed at the old Armory in downtown Avon Park (now known as the town's Recreation Center). About 100 troops were crammed into an open bay type arrangement within the Armory. These first hundred or so troops began the task of constructing one of the largest bases in the 3rd Air Force during the 1940's.

There were 5,000 G.I.s stationed at the Bombing Range in the 40's.

The 88th Bombardment Group was assigned to the Avon Park Army Air Base (APAAB) from Walla Walla, Washington in early 1942. This unit was transferred to the range because Florida weather provided them with more training days than in the state of Washington. The base population grew from the original 100 G.I.'s to approximately 5,000 in a period of only one year, and was quickly destined to become the most massive training base in the entire United States. In the early 1940's a large variety of equipment and training was involved on the Range, such as B-17's, RA-47's, C-78's, C-45's, F-9's, Bivouac Training, Aerial Gunnery Training, Chemical Warfare Training, Celestial Naviagtion Training, live bombing training, altitude chambers, obstacle course, ditching procedures from a downed plane in water (on Lake Arbuckle), and Link Trainers.

Lakes on range were used for live bombing practice.

There was also a mock-up of a submarine in one of the numerous lakes on the Range which was used for live bombing practice. (This lake is now known as Submarine Lake to all person's familiar to the area.)

A steam locomotion towed a mock-up of a freight train used as a bombing target, and emerging egress through fire was taught in Lake Arbuckle with actual fires being ignited on the lake. Lake Kissimmee was used for bombing practice on mock enemy ship convoys.

By 1943 the base had a population of 8,000 airmen and times were tough. Few women, no transportation and a curfew of 10:30 p.m. for all personnel made moral a severe problem. Parties and picnics in grandular proportions were held and the best food in the 3rd AF was claimed to be served at APAAB. Many USO shows were brought in to boost the G.I.'s moral. There was an Army Nurse Corps on the base with a Major General in charge of six training squadrons. There were over 600 buildings on the base with base housing being provided for married personnel. Base headquarters was located where the Air Force Trailer Park is now.

From 1943 to 1944, with the aid of Hendricks Field, which is now the Sebring Airport, this area became the world's largest bombing range, and the primary mission being to train bombardment crews for overseas war duty.

Hurricane demolished buildings and hangers in 1944

During 1944 a hurricane swept thru APAAB and demolished several buildings and hangers, however, most of the planes had been previously evacuated to avoid damage.

With the end of World War II the base population dropped to 500 personnel, and these awaited news for deactivating of the base. By April 1947 manpower had dropped to 200 men, most of whom were involved in the stripping and salvaging of all government buildings and equipment. Finally in June of 1950 the base was officially deactivated with only 10 men retained, on a caretaker statics, at this once thriving military establishment.

Base deactivates and cattle takes over grazing land.

Cattle once again took over their cherished grazing land that was now pitted with bomb cratters and scattered with pieces of outdated military equipment. The railroad bridge that crossed Arbuckle Creek was destroyed in 1951 by a careless fisherman (it is now known through the area as 'Burned Out Bridge'(During the early 50's the only activity on the range was a civilian fishing camp and an occasional bivouac use by various military units.

In 1951 the US Bureau of Prisons opened a prison camp on the base, called Avon Park

A.P.C.I. opens on base in 1951.

Correctional Institute. Prison laborers (with the Dept. of the Air Force's permission) dismantled approximately 50 World War II temporary buildings and used the salvaged materials to rehabilitate other buildings.

The Range may have been used by F-80's, F-84's and B-47's from the 3540th Flying Training Group (TAC) stationed at Pinecastle AFB during 1952 and 1953.

On April 1, 1956 Avon Park AFB was merged with Avon Park Air Force Range and became the Avon Park Air Force Range and was assigned to SAC on an active basis. Sac units of the 2nd Air Force used the range during this period, but it was available to other commands and services as well. For example, Tac units based at Turner AFB (31st FBW) trained on the range during 1958;SAC conducted an advanced water survival school during the summer of 1958; and under SAC accountability and command jurisdiction for Avon Park Air Force Range was vested at Mac Dill AFB, Tampa between 1956 and 1961, at McCoy AFB, Orlando, between July 1, 1961 and June 25, 1962 and at MacDill AFB, from June 25, 1962 to July 1, 1962.

Col. Griffing new base commander, in 1972.

In the early 1970's plans for bringing Electronic Warfare (EW) training to the existing conventional training was proposed. Col. Donald Griffing assumed his position as base commander on July 24, 1972, and at this time there were only 50 G.I.'s stationed on the Range, with four of these being officers. The command post was located in a small concrete structure, sharing it with range operations and the dispensary. This building is known today as the Security Police and Credit Union Building.

The first EW troops were transferred to the range soon after Col. Griffing's arrival.

The first actual radar equipment arrived in October and was the TIA, and ECM van, followed by the MSQ-1A and several T-9AAA simulators.

The MPS-11 search radar and a MPS-T1 followed soon afterwards. And, in early 1974 the MLQT-2 arrived with the EW section of the 1st CSSQ called upon them to participate in its first mobility ex ercise in Jacksonville, N.C. This was to begin a routine for the EW troops stationed on the Bombing Range.

Base population grows with the addition of Electronic Warfare personnel.

Also by this time the Range had grown to approximately 150 military personnel and a few civilians. Now housing became a problem as the base only had facilities to commendate 34 men; with 17 rooms at the end of the dining quarters. Motel rooms in Avon Park were utilized and at one time the Federal Government was paying for the use of 50 rooms at a cost of $80,000 a year, stated Col. Griffing.

Finally in February of 1974, a Red Horse team came to the Range to erect both a relocatable barracks and a dining hall. Prior to their arrival, Col. Griffing appropriated the first new unit to be placed on the range, a trailer, which he found at Homestead Air Force Base, and contracted to have transported to the Bombing Range for a fee of $100, which was to become the home of Security Police.

As Col. Griffing looked back over the years he has been on the base and the progress it has made, one of the most nostalgic avenues was the relocating of the dining(chow hall) quarters.

It seems that the original dining hall, which by the way is now the NCO Club, had a screened in porch, with a quiet and relaxing atmosphere. Hugh trees producing a cool shade, with squirrels and other wildlife lending to the effect. "It was fantastic", said Col. Griffing. However, with the additional personnel arriving the chow hall was not capable of handling the input, so they moved to the relocatable mess hall which was completed in 1974 by the Red Horse Team.

Composite Support Facility completed in 1975 at a cost of $1,000,000.

The next step after the completion of the relocatable barracks and dining hall was to erect the new complex which houses the command post more commonly known as a Composite Support Facility. It contains the headquarters, range operations, dispensary, a new dining hall, and conference room with a 2-story 54 man dormitory in the rear. This complex cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 and was completed by late summer of 1975. The base had continually grown with approximately 250 military personnel and 90 civilians working on the Range.

With the new complex Range Operations received updated equipment added additional radios and recording equipment. With the advent of new base stations strategetically located on the range, extra telephones had to be installed and telephone wires laid. A lot of improvements in communications have been made but when you are at least 90 miles from a higher headquarters it is a necessity, stated Col. Griffing.

Base Housing has 50 new housing units at a cost of 1.2 million dollars.

Housing for the additional men and their families posed a problem for the Air Force and the base. On base housing was non-existant, therefor a process was begun to have a 10 lot trailer court constructed.

By late 1975 there were 10 temporary mobile home facilities completed and also 10 permanent slots. The temporary lots were deleted in 1977 with the remaining permanent lots being filled with civilian and military personnel and families. Inadequate housing for married military personnel also lead to the construction of a 1.2 million dollar base housing area which consist of 50 units.

The range has unes on the ground for student pilots to follow a specific pattern and to hit a specific target, with a triangular method of scoring the hit. In the beginning all scoring was done visually with men in towers, and Bravo Range is still operated in this manner, he said. However, Charlie Range is monitored with the use of T.V's. Here cameras are mounted on two range towers directed at the bulls eye and surrounding area. When a simulated bomb hits, it puts out a puff of white smoke which the camera picks up and feeds the picture into TOSS, the TV scoring center located at the big hanger on the base. There on the screen, a cruser - a movable line is guided over the smoke area and is automatically fed through a computer and tells the operator how close the pilot came to the target area.

Base uses computer scoring for aircraft.

Eco and Fox Trot Ranges are made up to simulate an air field which contains, control towers, POL dump, and a ammunitions storage area, all are typical of what a pilot might find in the Eastern European Countries.

Col. Griffing went on to explain that today's modern aircraft have a black box aboard , which informs the pilot if a radar is in his range, what kind of radar, and if it has the capabilities of shooting him down. With this information fed to him the pilot can alter his course slightly ('jink' the plane a little stated the Colonel) and any other methods left open to him to prevent being shot down in a combat zone.

The Bombing Range landing strip is 5400x150 and is an auxillary field to be used for emergencies only. Colonel Griffing added that on several occasions F-4's have landed on the base for emergency repair, crews from the larger bases are brought in to repair the aircraft.

The Bombing Range supports the 9th Air Force with bases at MacDill, Tampa, Homestead, and Patrict, and other installations located in the Eastern United States, on a continuing basis. The electronic warfare branch of the squadron operates and maintains the radars, computers, and communications equipment utilized for this mission.

The flying schedule is accomplished through 56th Tac Fighter Scheduling Branch at MacDill AFB, Tampa which in turn co-ordinates the range schedule with other bases and in the event of foul weather, the schedule has to changed which runs into Saturday and night flying time.

The Air Force and Department of Defense came up with a timber management project in 1966 and is under the control of Natural Resources. They harvest and reseed the pine trees found everywhere on the range. Beginning in 1966, 23 acres of slash pine were planted about 26,000 acres have been reforested with pine trees since the program began, manned by the Air Force natural resources section of the squadron. The first thinning harvest is scheduled for 1982. In this sustain yeild program all funds from the selling of the timber and stumps will return to the United States Treasury stated Col. Griffing.

Natural Resources on the base was formerly called the Forestry Department. They work in conjunction with the Florida Game Commission , located on the base, which helps to improve and preserve the forestry and wildlife of the Avon Park Game Preserve.

The Air Force's Natural Resources team and the Bombing Range work with the State GAme Commission to improve wildlife habitat and to control it.

There are presently 82 thousand acres leased to different cattlemen on a sealed bid basis with current leases running for a 5 year period beginning last March with a 5 year renewal clause the Colonel informed this reporter.

The land on the average is rented for just under $2 and acre," said Griffing. He added by saying that looking on the average, while best grazing land runs $4-$5 an acre the poor grazing land runs about $1 an acre. The base is using a control rotation of grazing land; with each lease divided into three sections, allowing two pastures to grow and rejuvenate while cattle are grazing on the other. They are switched periodically to the other pastures during the year, added the Colonel.

The base also offers a wide variety of recreational equipment and facilities, including the new multi-court sports compound and the swimming pool which is to be open soon.

Food For Thought

by Jane Nickerson

Though Florida has a corner on mangos and limes, producing more of those symbols of summer than any other state, it must step aside in the area of another seasonal fruit, the varihued sweet-tar plum. California harvests 110 varieties. About a dozen make up bulk of shipments, which start in May, wind up in October and are heaviest this month and next. At a nickel apiece, which is what I've been paying for plums recently, they provide medium-cost refreshment, at once nutritious and delicious.

To this loyal Floridian, who asked why we cannot grow plums here commercially as we do our unrivalled oranges and grapefruit, Dr. Calvin Arnold gave answer. The director of the agricultural experiment station at Monticello, an authority on pecans and peaches, reminded me that the tangy wild plums native to eastern America, resulting from cross-pollination in the open, abound in the woods in the Panhandle, old-time favorites because of their pectin content for jams and jellies.

And in yards in north and central Florida, Dr. Arnold went on, cultivated plum trees may thrive, frequently of the very dark red Mariposa variety, brimful when ripe with a juice about the hue of its skin.

"But widespread commercial production," the specialist emphasized, "is out of the question until we can develop types, as we already have with peaches, that are adapted to our warm climate. Plums require chill hours that our winters normally do not afford." He said that Dr. W.B. Sherman, plant geneticist and professor of fruit crops, the University of Florida, is working on controlled crosses of plums imported from Taiwan that will be adapted to our temperatures and that will at the same time furnish specimens of high appetizing quality.

Until Dr. Sherman's efforts bear, shall I say, fruit, Floridians must cast aside parochialism at the table and take advantage of California's bounty. Growers there provide detailed descriptions of their leading varieties, of Japanese and European strains, speaking of the purple-crimson Santa Rosa, which puts in an early appreance, and the red-skinned Casselman, which shows up later.

Their plums, they say, may be round, heart-shaped or conical, hardly larger than an inch and one-half in diameter to twice that size, and in a spectrum that includes amber and green as well as the purple and crimson that we have come to think more characteristic. Flesh, predominantly, is a shade of yellow, from dark to bright.

After a few weeks' huddle, California plum-variety descriptions in one hand and the plums themselves, of as many kinds as I could buy, in the other, I must say I detect none of the differences in flavor that producers claim.

One is described as "rich,,' another "particularly sweet," another "honey-like." To me the fruits all have a single quality, which because it is identical does not cancel out its delight. They are astringent near the skin and flat pit, and sweet in between; they are, in the word I used previously, refreshing.

As for which varieties to use in canning and perserving, I find such advice academic. I doubt prices of California plums ever are low enough, even at peak season, to make such endeavors practical. Best retreat to the woods, if plum preserves are on your mind, in search of wild ones.

Tree-ripened? Ridiculous to suppose the thin-skinned cultivated fruits could satisfactorily travel from California in a fully matured state. Most have the firmness of a potato when you buy them, but they soften at home at present Florida room temperature — which assumes only an energy - prudent amount of air-conditioning — with speed. Ideal temperature is 65 to 70 degrees, with 95 percent relative humidity.

I use one of those relatively new, dome-shaped, plastic containers of a design perfected for the ripening of peaches and plums and pears by the University of California at Davis. It encloses the ethylene gas naturally emitted by the fruits, which hastens their ripening. The covered bowl, widely available in supermarkets, seems to work better than the paper bag you used to stow in the closet — and then forget.

Ripened plums that have been thoroughly chilled are an eye-opener in the morning, great overture to coffee, and a pleasant low-calorie wind-up to lunch and dinner (only about 35 calories in a single fruit). On the week-end when guests are coming for supper, they furnish the filling for a delicious summery pie. I like to simmer them whole in a simple sugar-and-water syrup for an old-fashioned stewed-fruit dessert, or cut them up with peaches and bananas for fruit salad. Following are some easy, appetizing recipes.

In all these suggestions, remember that plums are most enjoyable, raw or cooked, with their tender, zesty skins intact.

SUMMER FRUIT SALAD

Combine sliced fresh plums with the fruits of your choice-sliced peaches, cantaloupe, bananas and watermelon, for example. Serve with a dressing made by combining equal parts of unflavored yogurt with mayonnaise. Flavor to taste with equal amounts of orange juice and unsweetened pineapple juice. If desired, sweeten with a little mild-flavored honey like orange blossom. For ½ cup each yogurt and mayonnaise, use 2 tablespoons each of the juices and about 1 tablespoon of the honey.

FRESH PLUM PIE

¾ cup crushed strawberries, about a cup before crushing
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup currant jelly
3 cups sliced fresh plums, see note
1 package (8-ounce) cream cheese, softened
1-3 cup sugar
Juice and grated peel of ½ orange
1 (9-inch) baked pie shell

In a saucepan combine strawberries, corn starch, lemon juice and currant jelly. Bring to a boil, stirring. Add plums; simmer 5 to 10 minutes, or until they are fork-tender. Cool; chill.

Beat cheese until fluffy; stir in sugar, orange peel and orange juice. Spread mixture in cooled pie shell; chill. Top with chilled plum mixture.

No Merit Pay Boost For Highlands County Employees

Although Highlands County employees are to receive a 7.5 percent cost of living increase next year, there will be no merit-type pay raises.

County commissioners Monday night agreed that step increase or merit pay raises which were to take effect in April 1979, will have to be cut from the 1978-79 fiscal budget. The fiscal year begins Oct. 1.

A rough estimate of the savings derived from the cut in step increases is about $50,000.

Cutting merit increases came following a discussion of the sheriff's department budgetary request. The board agreed with the sheriff's contention that if his employees were not to receive merit increases, then other county employees shouldn't either.

Some equipment requests and personnel expenses were trimmed by agreement of the board and sheriff leaving the increase in the 1978-79 request up 9.78 percent above the current budgetary level.

As originally presented, the budget request was $1,236,479 or 12.8 percent above current levels.

One new equipment item that did remain was $15,000 worth of microfilming devices, to be used to reduce the enormous amount of records that are presently stored in the department. Sheriff Joe Sheppard said, "We need this before the state fire marshal comes over there and writes me up."

While two of the five new positions that appeared in the budget request have been deleted, the board said the amount for salaries that has been approved will provide the department funds enough to hire two additional agriculture investigators and a pilot-deputy, who will serve in the department's airplane and on the ground as a regular deputy.

Incentive pay, increases given to department employees for completion of courses and training that helps improve their work performance, is a salary bonus provided by the state through state revenue sharing funds. This type of increase is unaffected. The board proposed using some $7,000 saved by merit pay increases elimination to allow some incentive pay increase to employees who might not otherwise have received any raise.

An expected continuation of the pruning of Orange Blossom's legal tangles helped raise some of the amount being requested by the tax collector's office. An additional $1,500 for special legal fees is being sought this year as the department figures to have more expenses involved in the Orange Blossom confusion.

A major cause of expense, however, is in the combination of motor license tag operations with the tax office. License tags won't be handled by the supervisor of elections after Sept. 30.

The overall increase of 50.6 percent in operations is also boosted by plans to keep departmental offices in Avon Park five days a week instead of three and to keep the Lake Placid office open three days instead of two.

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Since there are so few of us here to make much news, the most of it comes from notes from our winter residents who are North now.

The big news seems to be anticipation of the fun and fellowship of the upcoming picnic of our park friends on August 9 at Bourbon, Ind. We wish we also could drop in to say Hello to all.

The Ringers report on a 1200 mile trip they took to visit with Dick and Mary Murray and on through Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia; a pleasant way to celebrate a 40th wedding anniversary.

Ula Miller writes about trouble with a knee which is keeping her off it for a while.

Thelma South reports to us about a former resident, Margaret Derr, who is now home from the hospital following a 4-week stay following a fall in a grocery store.

Also Verna Fero reports the death some time ago of Rawley Ghaster, a former resident, following a long illness.

Ralph and Mildred tell of a busy schedule which includes a trip soon to Wisconsin and a plane trip to Conneticut for a months visit before returning here in October.

Walter and Viola Stone have now moved into their new mobile home in a park near St. Louis, Mich. and are getting rested up.

Robert and Martha McBeth are preparing for their trip North. They will be leaving about Thursday.

Until next week, God Bless each one.

The Living Word

By Rev. Arnold P. Smith

After attending several different churches, I'm confused. Some say tongues is of the devil, while others insist you need to speak with tongues in order to be truly born again. Who's right?

Speaking in tongues has been both confusing and controversial ever since the day of Pentecost. Satan has deliberately confounded the church concerning tongues because he is so well aware of the power of praying in the Holy Ghost, mysteries which only God Himself understands (1 Corinthians 14:2). In fact, Satan has duplicated tongues, thereby giving credence to the first group you mentioned, in order to add to the confusion.

Although tongues is not necessary to one's salvation, as the other group states, it is an extremely important weapon of our warfare—a supernatural tool to use against a supernatural enemy (2 Corin. 10: 3-5, Eph. 6:12). The Bible also says "desire spiritual gifts" (1 Corin. 14:1) and "forbid not to speak with tongues)1 Corin. 4:39).

There are three basic reasons why the gift of tongues is important. First, one is edified, or has his faith built up whenever he prays in tongues. I don't understand it, I just know it to be fact, and the Bible says so too: 1 Corin. 14:4; Jude v. 20; Isaiah 28: 11,12. Second, praying in the spirit (without understanding—1 Corin. 14: 14, 15; Isaiah 33:19), enables one to intercede for needs about which he doesn't know, but for which he feels a burden to pray (Romans 8: 26, 27; Ephesians 6: 18). The Holy Spirit prays through our spirit a perfect prayer, without the limitation of our finite minds.

Finally, tongues are given for a sign to the unbeliever, causing him to readily know the supernatural power of God is present. Sometimes the tongue will be a language the unbeliever understands, but knows the one who is speaking does not. Many people have been saved as a result of this gift in operation (1 Corin. 14:22; Acts 2: 4-8).

To confess Jesus Christ as one's savior will save him (Romans 10: 9-13, but the supernatural gifts of the Spirit will make one an effective witness (Acts 1: 8). Therefore, "desire spiritual gifts".

Obituary

Harry L. "Buck" Crews

Harry L. "Buck" Crews, age 51, of River Ridge in Avon Park, passed away at his residence Thursday, July 27. He was born in Bereah but came to Avon Park in 1970. He was a member of the Athens Baptist Church in Bereah, a member of the Florida Cattlemens Assoc. and the Farm Bureau.

He is survived by three brothers, C. Elton Crews of Avon Park, F. H. Crews of Avon Park, and D. H. Crews of Bereah. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Palm Bay.

Services were held Tuesday, Aug. 1st, at the Stephenson-Nelson-Smith Chapel at 10:30 a.m., with the Rev. Thomas Ellington officiating. Burial followed in the Hart Cemetery.

Marlier Speaks To Rotary On Conditions In Zaire

At the regular weekly meeting of the Avon Park Rotary Club, Leon Marlier, Administrator of the Hillcrest Nursing Home, presented a program on Zaire.

Marlier, born and educated in Belgium, lived and worked in Zaire for twenty two years. Zaire was then known as the Belgium Congo, and was under Belgium rule. Marlier worked as a technical advisor, building a road system.

Zaire was described as the richest nation in the world, in terms of natural resources. Marlier told of the history of this African country and it's problems during the past three years. He also presented slides of the people and country to conclude a very interesting program.

Col. Donald Griffing invited the club members to the change of command ceremony at 10 a.m., Monday July 31, at Air Force Headquarters. The command of the Avon Park Bombing Range will pass from the retiring Col. Griffing to Col. Scott Stovin, also a Rotarian.

Congregational Ladies Meet

Although the Ladies Aid of Union Congregational Church has not been holding regular meetings during the summer months, they are happy with events which are going on behind the scenes. This is not contrary to the Sunshine Law but rather a result of planning which was done earlier in the year. At a special meeting, approval was given for summer installation and we are happy to announce that in the kitchen of Fellowship Hall you will now find new stainless steel sinks. It is believed they offer a more comfortable arrangement - not quite as deep as the former ones and less likely to induce a "crick" in the back of the dishwasher.

The Bazaar and Pie Social is planned for Tuesday, October 24. Mark the date now for this annual event in Fellowship Hall. You will find homemade pies, goodies of all kinds, needlecraft and even white elephants! You can help by starting to make your craft items and saving your white elephants for this beg event.

Other plans for the coming year include a "Rummage Sale" and it is hoped that everyone may keep this in mind when thinking about disposing of items no longer needed. We can use your not-so-new articles which are still functional.

Meetings resume on September 13th when all members and friends of Union Congregational Church are invited to attend the covered dish luncheon. Rev. Pickens has agreed to speak to us at this first meeting. After our varied vacations have come to an end, it will be good to get together again.

WMU To Meet

The regular monthly meeting of W.M.U. fo Florida Avenue Baptist Church will be held on Monday, Aug. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

All ladies are urged to be present. Highlands General Hospital

Baptist Church Holds Dinner

Sunday, July 30, the First Baptist Church held a church-wide dinner, in the Social Hall following the morning worship hour.

Each family brought a basket of goodies and good fellowship was enjoyed by all that attended.

The Sunday's activities were ones to be remembered and cherished.

Howey Academy Opens Sept. 10

Howey Academy announced recently it would open its 23rd Annual Fall Semester Sept. 10 with addition of 5th and 6th grade classes to round out an 8-year teaching program.

Howey Headmaster Dr. L. L. Jenkins said the fully qualified Central Florida coeducational college preparatory school would provide separate study and classroom facilities and a special faculty for day and boarding students in the two lower grades.

Vacation Bible School Aug. 7-11

An exciting program has been prepared by First Christian Curch for Vacation Bible School to be held August 7 through 11.

Jesus, God's Wonderful Gift is the theme for the school to be held each evening from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Classes will be offered for all ages from three years through adult.

The central goal of Vacation Bible School is this : That souls be won to Christ and grow in Christ. Bible—based lessons will be taught with excitement and variety through the use of many advanced teaching methods. Students will be challenged and involved through such activities as these: song time, Bible study, interesting visual demonstrations, classroom interaction, craft making, and many other innovative methods in keeping with the theme, Jesus, God's Wonderful Gift.

For information regarding attending, call Minister, James S. Click at 453-7067. The church is located at 1011 W. Walnut Street.

Bring the family, friends, and neighbors. There is help and fun and spiritual growth for all at Vacation Bible School!

Faith Is The Best Guide On Your Travels

Whatever the nature of your vacation trip, be it highly civilized or primitive, its purpose remains essentially the same. It is supposed to provide a delightful escape from all the cares, chores and responsibilities that comprise your life throughout the rest of the year; and to offer opportunities for new adventures and sources of knowledge about the world you live in. However, there is one part of your life that should always accompany you wherever you go, and that is your faith in God, which is there to sustain you throughout each day's experiences, at home or away. In any town or city you will find a branch of your chosen Church to attend on the Sabbath; in the wilderness you will see and enjoy the works of God firsthand, as visible proof of His love for you.

RULES

1 Get a free DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Master Game Card on request at the end of the checkout or at the store office. Get one free game ticket every time you visit a participating Winn-Dixie Store. No purchase is required. Adults only eligible to play.

2 On each Game Ticket there are four DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers. To reveal the Markers, simply punch out the perforated portions of the Game Ticket, then separate the punched out portions and you will have four Markers. Each Marker corresponds to a square in one of the games on your Master Game Card.

3 When you have revealed the DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers, carefully place them in their appropriate squares on your DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Master Game Card. EXAMPLE: If one of your Markers is an V-210 in the $2.00 game, insert that Marker in the square marked V-210 in the $2.00 Game. When you complete any row in a game, you may be a winner. Match the four corners only in the $1001 or $100 game and you may be a winner, doubling the amount of the game prize. See examples on this card. In some games, you will find squares marked free and it is unnecessary to collect a Marker to be placed in such free squares. Free squares are not transferable. One winner per card.

4 When turning in your winning card all your DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers which are not a part of the winning row should be retained and transferred to a new card. Only one prize will be awarded per game on any one Master Game Card. ALL DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers in a winning row must be initialled on the back, in the space indicated, by the customer in the presence of authorized personnel. $5.00, $2.00 and $1.00 winners can be verified and redeemed by authorized store personnel. $1001.00, $100.00 and $20.00 or $2002.00 and $200.00 double winners must be sent to the sponsor for verification and redemption. All game material submitted for verification becomes the property of the game sponsor. When you have a winning card which has been verified by authorized personnel, you will, after furnishing your name and address, be awarded your prize. A Federal Trade Commission rule requires that the names and addresses of all winners be posted in all participating stores. Tax liability on prizes is the responsibility of the prize winner.

5 All game materials will be rejected and judged void if not obtained from and verified by authorized personnel or if any part of any of the game pieces is illegible, altered, mutilated, defaced, tampered with, forged, contains printing or other errors, or is irregular in any way. Any attempt to forge game material or to defraud in any way will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Game materials void where taxed or prohibited by law.

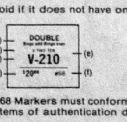

6 Game will end upon distribution of all Game Tickets. All prizes must be claimed within five (5) days after announcement of termination or they are forfeited. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, at such times as the verified claims for prizes in any category equals the number of prizes advertised for that category, then the game as it relates to that specific prize category shall immediately terminate without notice, an any unverified claims at or after that time shall be automatically rejected.

7 Game materials valid only for this game. All Game Tickets, DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Markers and Game Cards must have the same series number. EXAMPLE: If you have Master Game Card Series #68, all of your game markers must have Series #68.

8 Employees (and their I.R.S. listed dependents) of Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., participating Winn-Dixie Stores, Dansico Associates, their advertising agency, and any other companies engaged in the development and production of these game materials are not eligible to win.

9 DOUBLE BINGO ODD BINGO EVEN Marker void if it does not have on it:

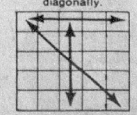

(a) Series #68
(b) Bingo symbol spelled out

DOT To Reduce Amtrak Train Passenger Service To Avon Park Area

A Department of Transportation preliminary report has called for the elimination of one of Amtrak's frequencies of service to Florida which may reduce passenger train service in the Avon Park area, according to Beth Segal, of the Department of Transportation's Federal Railroad Administration.

The report, requesting nation-wide train service reductions, is the result of a Congressional recommendation to cut some of the Amtrak service in an effort to reduce increasing federal railroad subsidies which amounted to a $482.6 million dollar loss by 1984.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is holding hearings around the country to determine the public's response to the DOT plan.

On August 31 of this year the ICC will issue its report on the public reaction to the DOT plan. And, on December 31 the final DOT plan will be presented to Congress.

"After that, who knows what will happen", Joe Varanch, Amtrak spokesman said.

Three of the four Florida-bound trains stop in Sebring twice daily on the way to or from Miami.

In addition to a reduction in the frequency of service made by the Floridian, Segal said "Of the three services daily from the Northeast corridor of Florida, the Champion (which goes to St. Petersburg), the Silver Star and the Silver Meteor, a frequency of service will be cut, however, a final decision on how service will be curtailed will not be determined until after the public hearing has been completed."

The recommendation for the reduction of a frequency of service is determined by the number of passengers per train mile. If this number falls below 100 passengers per train mile, a cut in service is recommended.

The Floridian averages 74 passengers per train mile during its trip from New York to Miami and is losing approximately $6 million a year in the process.

The combined yearly loss of the Silver Star and Silver Meteor is $16 million.

This dollar loss can be attributed to the high maintenance cost required to keep the aging equipment and track in condition.

The private railroad companies were loosing approximately $500 billion a year on passenger service, and wanted someone to take it off their hands.

So in 1971 the federal government formed Amtrak as a public-owned subsidized corporation in order to take the load off other forms of transportation.

Three Die In Wreck

An investigation is continuing into an weekend car-truck accident at State Road 64 and Avon Pines Road which claimed the lives of three Avon Park boys. A Frostproof teenager, also injured in the accident is still listed in critical condition at the Winter Haven Hospital.

The victims were Tony Riggs, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaither Riggs of 107 S. Hart Ave., and James Albert Henry, 14, and John Andrew Henry, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry of 38 W. Circle Ave.

According to Trooper James Vann of the Florida Highway Patrol the boys, with Euguene Riggs, were passengers in a 1968 Chrysler stationwagon operated by Robert Hentnik, 17, of Avon Park.

According to the FHP report, the stationwagon was eastbound on SR 64 when it left the pavement and slammed broadside into the pickup truck, which was stopped at a stop sign on Avon Pines Road.

The 1965 Chevrolet truck contained Bobby Eldridge, 26, of Avon Park and Lisa Marie Williams, 17, of Frostproof.

Miss Williams was first taken to Walker Memorial Hospital, then transferred Sunday morning to the intensive care unit at the Winter Haven Hospital. Tuesday, a hospital spokesman said Miss Williams was still in critical condition.

Tony Riggs and John Henry were pronounced dead on arrival at Walker Memorial, while James Henry was pronouced dead after being transferred from Walker Memorial to the Winter Haven facility.

The other people involved in the accident, Riggs, Hentnik and Eldridge, were in satisfactory condition after being taken to the Avon Park Hospital.

Damage to both vehicles was listed as total. A FHP spokesman said the investigation into the accident would probably continue for some time.

Funeral services for John Henry and James Henry will be held Thursday (today) at 2 p.m. at the Stephenson-Nelson-Smith Chapel with Chaplain Harry Bennett and Rev. R. L. O'Quinn officiating. Burial will follow in the Bougainvillea Cemetary.

Residents Pay $54 More

Taxes Top Average Here

George Duncan

While officials from the three major cities in Highlands County and county officials themselves are figuring out the budgets and taxes for the next fiscal year, the Sun has learned the average per capita property tax paid in the county is about $54 above the state average.

The figure places Highlands County as one of the highest in the state in regard to the average property tax paid.

In calculating the average millage rate paid per $1,000 of assessed property, Highlands County is lower than the state average, even though approximately 30 percent of the county total assessed land value is tax-exempt.

The figures the Sun has used were collected from both Highlands County Property Appraiser's office and the state Department of Revenue.

Figures from the fiscal year 1977-1978 were used in calculating the per capital tax paid and the average millage rate while the 1978 figures were used in computing the total of tax-exempt property in the county.

The figure is determined by dividing the county tax collection, which was $10.3 million in 1977 by the population of the county. The Sun used 42,000 as the county population figure, which is between the official University of Florida projection but below the estimates of county officials. The University of Florida estimated the population at 41,113 while county officials place the figure at above 43,000.

Although Highlands County is an exemption to the rule, usually smaller counties have a lower average property tax while more populous counties have higher average property tax.

Compared to the $245 Highlands County figure, Leon County has $158 rate per capita while Okaloosa County's

Schools Say No Tax Hike

Bruce Henderson

It will cost more next year to send Johnny to school in Highlands County, but there will be no increase in tax millage if the budget proposed by school administrators is adopted.

That budget, totaling nearly $25 million, was presented to Highlands County School Board members Tuesday night.

Some tax bills will increase next year due to reassessments, which combined with new construction will bring in an additional $388,030 in local tax funds into the schools' operating budget with the same eight mill tax levy.

Included in the new budget is an added $548,695 for salaries, up 8.8 percent from last year.

Although the teacher's union is asking for a 12 percent salary increase, the amount included in the proposed budget is well within the six to eight percent range described by a union spokesman as "realistic."

Negotiations between teachers and the board currently are stalled after a bargaining session Monday night. The next meeting has not been scheduled until August 21.

"It's part of their tactics. They wait until the last minute just before we're ready to go back to work again," said Chester Brojek, a member of the teachers' negotiating team. Teachers go back to work August 22.

According to Brojek, the teachers' demand for a 12 percent pay hike would increase the base pay here from the present $8,800 to $9,850. Top salary for an instructor with a master's degree who had 13 years experience would rise from $14,200 to about $15,000.

Bingo! She Won $2,002

"I was so excited I had to dial my sister three times before reaching her!" exclaimed Beatrice F. Kossock of Bonnie Brae Mobile Estates, as she told about winning $2002 in the Winn Dixie double bingo odd-bingo even series.

Beatrice had been to the Winn Dixie store at the Avon Square Shopping Center at about 6:00 p.m. Saturday and returning to her trailer found that she had a winning combination with addition of the number B-25.

At the Winn Dixie store Bill Moroney, store manager, was behind the counter when Beatrice returned about 6:30 p.m. On hearing about the winning card, Bill exclaimed, "You did!!!" Still highly excited Beatrice needed help in placing the final numbers on the card.

Since receiving her $2002 check from Winn Dixie, Beatrice has taken her sister and husband on a three day vacation trip to Englewood. She plans to make a few repairs on her trailer and take a few friends to dinner. Later this fall she also plans to visit relatives and friends in Minneapolis, Minn.

Born in Fairfax, S. Dak., Beatrice and her family moved to Minneapolis, when she was six years old. Her husband, a railroader for 35 years, died about six years ago.

In the photography business for 30 years, Beatrice was called the airbrush artist by fellow employees. Also working in photo finishing and sales, she managed a photography studio on the north side of Minneapolis for nine years.

Beatrice moved to Avon Park in August, 1976 as two of her sisters lived here. Doing a lot of reading, she said that she also plans to join the Avon Park Winter Guest Club sometime this fall.

Highlands Jobless Rate Hits 8.4%

The unemployment rate in the county was 8.4 percent in June, the last month when figures are available. The national unemployment rate was 6.2 while the state unemployment rate was 6.8.

According to the U. S. Employment Service there was a labor force of 14,471 people in the county with 13,261 holding jobs while 1,211 were unemployed.

The counties bordering Highlands had a lower unemployment rate although their rate was still higher than the national average. Hardee County had 533 people unemployed out of a work force of 8,367 for a 6.4 average. Okeechobee County had 504 enemployed persons out of a labor force of 6,690 for a 7.6 percent average.

Polk County, the largest in the Heartland District, had the highest unemployment rate with 9 percent of the work force looking for jobs.

One of the reasons for the high enemployment rate was the growing number of people in the labor market, according to Labor Market Analyst LaVonne Royalty.

County Hopes For Millage Cut After Budget Slashed

Dust hasn't completely settled, but it seems clear that there will be no increase in taxes to finance Highlands County government operations in fiscal 1978-79. There are not unrealistic hopes of a millage cut.

After weeks of cuts, reviews and many hours of meetings, Highlands County Commissioners learned there would be no increase in operating costs projected in the proposed budget over the current fiscal $6,392,500. As originally presented, the budget was $1.8 million above the 1977-78 spending plan.

Major cuts since last week's meeting included one new position and new equipment that was proposed for maintaining county parks and sports fields. This saved $18,000.

Some new pieces of equipment are to be obtained through lease purchase agreements instead of direct purchase, the latter a more costly method. Most of the additional equipment cuts came from the road and bridge department.

One possible way to achieve this would be through increasing fees at the county's landfill and raising building permit fees.

The board asked that Carl Cool, assistant county engineer, be asked to make revenue projections on possible increases in dumping fees.

Tentatively suggested was an increase of 25 cents for a car load of trash, bringing the total to 75 cents and a 50 cent increase in pickup truck fees, bringing this charge to $1.50 per load.

Part of the reasoning behind the increase was to insure there would be adequate funding for the Highlands County Nutrition Program, which asked for $5,500 as part of a local share to obtain $100,000 in federal money to operate the program in its second year.

Mrs. Keat Stayer, program director, made a plea for the funds at Tuesday morning's budget hearing following the regular session.

She pointed out the program provides recreation for elderly residents at four county locations and that most of the money used in the program is spent at the local level. She also said the amount spent in the program, which can help keep elderly persons on their own longer, is far less than the amount needed to maintain them in rest homes.

The request had been originally cut from the budget because commissioners said the proposal wasn't presented as Mrs. Stayer had done.

In its first year of operation, the board didn't supply any funds, since it was a new program. Sebring City Council refused a requst for funds for the local match again Monday night, she said.

Commissioner Robert Skipper said the request was turned down last year because the board was concerned then about any tax increases. He said he felt the program overlaps Home Health Care and said the county already funds Meals on Wheels. "I think we're going deeper and deeper when we're already doing our part."

"It is a needed program," Chairman C. J. "Buddy" Wise said.

Discussion of fee increases also included raising building fees.

Indifference Is Threat To Press Freedom

When a Moscow tribunal last week fined two American journalists for "libeling" the Soviet state after they had refused to print retractions of stories they had written, it was the sort of thing Americans have come to expect from this Gulag dictatorship where writers always have worked in fear of government editors and the secret police.

The spectacle of New York Times reporter Myron Farber being hauled off to jail and his newspaper being fined $5,000 per day for refusing to turn his notebooks over to a New Jersey judge is another matter entirely.

Nothing could more dramatically have brought to public attention the extent to which America's free press has been undermined in recent years by court decisions trampling on newsmen's First Amendment rights.

With both incidents occuring almost simultaneously, itseened as if the Soviets were holding up a mirror: "See, look how much like us you are becoming."

Closer to home, and in many ways more disturbing than the New York Times case, Okeechobee New reporter Bill Robinson last week was fined $25, given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and ordered to read a Supreme Court case relating to reporters' rights.

With little regard to another Supreme Court case, Circuit Judge Phillip G. Nourse paralleled his counterparts in Moscow and ordered Robinson to publish in the News a letter apologizing for his refusal to answer questions during a change of venue hearing.

The most frightening thing about the Robinson case, however, was not the sentence. It was the fact the managment of his newspaper utterly refused, inexcusably, to defend the First Amendment rights of their reporter and to protect him from legal harrassment.

What the Robinson case suggests is that the greatest danger to a free press in America today is not overzealous judges or government supression but rather newspaper publishers more concerned with profit-and-loss statements than about their responsibility to uphold the constitutional rights which allow them to publish freely in the first place.

This episode shows again that there are those in the newspaper business who, like the management of the News, simply don't care all that much about the First Amendment.

What happened in Okeechobee?

Robinson and News Editor Mike Archer were among several local news reporters and editors called to testify in a change of venue hearing granted David Delap, who was convicted of the 1975 murder of an Okeechobee schoolteacher but later granted a new trial by the Florida Supreme Court when it was discovered transcripts of the first trial were incomplete.

Proper action for the newspaper to take, according to experts on First Amendment cases, would have been to file a motion to quash the subpoenas as invalid infringements upon the two newsmen's constitutional rights. That probably would have ended the matter at very little expense.

Okeechobee News General Manager Bill Ball, however, refused to allow Archer to hire an attorney to file the motion, or even to engage the attorney retained by the newspaper's parent company to do so.

Cost was not a real issue, since the expense of filing a motion would have been minor, and had Archer been able to seek legal advice, he probably would have been able to file the motion himself.

Both newsmen, then, were forced into the witness stand without benefit of an attorney, but instead with Ball's admonition they should answer the questions and "get it over with."

Archer and Robinson, however, agreed to answer only routine questions dealing with objective facts such as the newspaper's circulation and the number of articles they had written on the case. And they were assured by defense attorney Russ Ferraro Jr. that was all they would be asked.

He kept his promise with Archer, who answered a few routine questions.

Robinson, however, was singled out by Ferraro for a more extensive grilling in an attempt to put the press on trial to prove his client could not receive a fair trial in Okeechobee.

Editorial

The News reporter, who had written only three stories about the three-year-old case during his seven-month tenure at the News, was asked questions concerning his background, whether he thought the News was "fair in its coverage" and whether he had used the term "convicted killer" in a story. Following his agreement with Archer, Robinson refused to answer those questions and asked for time to consult with an attorney.

Judge Nourse did not grant that elementary request, nor did he direct Robinson to answer the attorney's questions, according to the court transcript. He did order the reporter to show cause why he should not be held in contempt and granted the change of venue on the flimsy grounds of Robinson's refusal to testify.

What was the response of Ball and News Publisher J. David Fleming? Ball again refused to hire an attorney for his reporter, while Fleming has showed little interest in the matter at all.

To make matters worse, Archer, before cousulting Robinson, agreed with the attorney, Russ Petersen of Vero Beach, to plead his reporter guilty, thus forfeiting any right to appeal.

All this, Archer said, to make things "easier on him and the News." Hours later, Ball gave Robinson the choice of resigning or being fired.

But the real loser in all this sorry mess is not Robinson. The real losers are the First Amendment and any of the citizens of Okeechobee who might hope for honest, forceful and uncompromising news coverage of their community.

For what reporter working for the News would be foolish enough to write about anything even remotely controversial, when he or she might be called to the stand and subject to improper questioning or be the target of harrassment suits without any hope of the News backing them up?

Also victimized by the indifference of the News' management are the reporters for other news media. Those who cover Judge Nourse's court now have a judge to contend with who believes he can trample on the First Amendment and get away with it. Other reporters will have to put up with a legal precedent set by Robinson's guilty plea.

The Okeechobee case cries out for action by the Florida Press Association to establish guidelines for other member newspapers facing First Amendment challenges, as well as to provide some type of legal aid to small papers not able to afford the cost of a legal defense.

One simple and inexpensive way to start might be for the FPA to compile a manual which includes general advice covering all types of free press cases, summaries of relevant court decisions upholding reporters' rights and standard legal forms for motions–such as the motion to quash a subpoena–which can be filed without an attorney.

Such a pamphlet would be avaluable to those editors and publishers who take the First Amendment and their responsibility to defend it seriously.

As for the News, it should be scratched from the FPA mailing list and Publisher Fleming should resign as an FPA director.

Rocking The Boat

By George Duncan

Almost everyone is familiar with Murphy's Law which is, simply, 'If anything can go wrong, it will'. It also had a great many corollaries, most of which have been collected in a book by Arthur Bloch.

Entitled Murphy's Law and other reasons why things go wrong, it gives the underlying reasons why nothing ever comes out right.

The corollaries of Murphy's Law:

Nothing is as easy as it looks.

Everything takes longer than you think.

If there is a possibility of several things going wrong, the one that will cause the most damage will be the one to go wrong.

Smile...tomorrow will be worse.

Matter will be damaged in direct proportion to its value.

Everything goes wrong all at once.

Don't lose heart...they might want to cut it out.

If you explain a proposal so clearly that nobody can misunderstand, somebody will.

If you do something which you are sure will meet with everybody's approval, somebody won't like it.

If an experiment works, something has gone wrong.

In any collection of data, the figure most obviously correct, beyond all need of checking, is the mistake.

Once a job is fouled up, anything done to improve it only makes it worse.

Experiments should be reproducible–they should all fail in the same way.

The probability of anything happening is in inverse ratio to its desirability.

If it looks easy, it's tough.

As soon as you mention something...If it's good, it goes away. If it's bad, it happens.

The first ninety percent of the task takes ninety percent of the time, and the last ten percent takes the other ninety percent.

Progress is made on alternate Fridays.

Those supplies ordered for yesterday's experiment must be ordered no later than tomorrow noon.

No one really knows what's going on.

If there is a way to delay an important decision, the good bureaucracy, public or private, will find it.

The inevitable result of enlarged and improved communications between different levels in a hierarchy is a vastly increased area of misunderstanding.

Overdoing things is harmful in all cases, even when it comes to efficiency.

A man who can smile when things go wrong has though of someone he can blame it on.

The efficiency of a committee meeting is inversely proportional to the number of participants and the time spent on deliberations.

Never argue with a fool-people might not know the difference.

Market Value, The Highest Price Property Will Bring

Letter to the Editor,

As I read the August 3rd article "Center's Land Value Triples", I reflected back over 25 years or so as a realtor in Highlands County and pictured the "raised eyebrows" of your many readers we served. The list includes financial institutions, private lenders, attorneys, federal agnecies, state, cities, courts, churches, businesses, individuals, etal.

Since the Sun phoned for my comments and I was unavailable, I felt it my obligation to write this letter.

Of first importance is an understanding of the meaning of "Value" in Real Estate terms and the purpose therefor. There are appraisal procedures for: Specific types of Property, Special-use properties, Mortgage loans, Condemnation proceedings, Insurance purposes, Tax purposes, Etal.

By court definition, "Market Value" is "The highest price, estimated in terms of money, which a property would bring if exposed to sale in the open market, allowing a reasonable time to find a purchaser, and neither the purchaser nor the seller being under any compulsion and both being fully informed". The role of the Appraiser in "Market Value" assignments is, therfore, one of attempting to anticipate the reaction of the buying and selling public when a specific property is considered.

The subject property is located as a point where sections 22, 23, 26, 27, meet. Some 207 sales were found for 1977 therein yet only one, seemed useful as a comparable. For others we had to go back as far as 1974. Using time adjustments, condition percentages, etal, we were able to come up with some useful information. Access to the property affects values and this piece rates high with immediate access to State Rd. 17, Highway 27, business section. Using building residual technique, the existing structure was an underimprovement. Using property residual technique, we got some ideas on affordable land values.

We have never been in conflict with Tax Assessor, Billy Martin, or any of his staff–they are doing a commendable job. Having statewide contacts, we say with confidence, that Highlands County enjoys one of the most realistic tax assessments systems in the state.

Noting Billy's comments, I assume attention in this case was directed to residential use with extra land having little effect on the overall value. When a piece of property is put on the market it becomes a "new Ballgame"–what is available and what will best serve the purpose. The highest & best use in this case is in a higher price range, than residential. His approach seems most logical for tax purposes. We allowed $18,963, for the Land.

For Martin to consider this case for a special use, along with the thousands of pieces of property in Highlands County would not only be a man power impossibility but such a system would cause many hardships and soon deny "Middle America", the limited income could suddenly be found with a tax increase many fold and either have to sell or lose his property should some future public official get in office with less experience or have some ulterior motive in mind.

The private Appraiser often spends days, weeks or months researching every possible approach to value with the highest and best use in mind.

Respectfully,
Roy P. Alexander

Stone: Apply Laws Equally

WASHINGTON, D.C.—If a woman employed by a private business is denied a promotion or equal pay simply because she is a woman, she can take her complaint to court. But if she works for a Member of Congress, she has no recourse at all.

To correct this and other injustices, U.S. Sen. Richard Stone has co-sponsored legislation that would give Senate employees, for the first time, a method to challenge job-related discrimination.

"In many cases, Congress has enacted laws for the good of the people, but not applied the laws to itself," said Sen. Stone. "There's no good reason why Congress should exempt itself from the laws that everyone else must obey."

The Equal Pay Act of 1963, the Age Discrimination Employment Act of 1967 and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, concerning equal employment opportunity, apply to the private sector but not to Congress. Thus, under current law, congressional employees cannot challenge discriminatory practices in hiring, firing, promotions and compensation.

"Members of Congress need some leeway to hire staff members who share common principles and have a familiarity with the state or district," said Sen. Stone. "But Congress should not be exempt from the employment laws which have helped women and minority members to enter the work force at a pay scale commensurate with their abilities."

The resolution co-sponsored by Sen Stone, Senate Resolution 431, would establish a Fair Employment Relations Board for the Senate, made up of six members from the private sector.

The Board would set policy, make determinations on discrimination complaints by employees and order remedies such as hiring, re-employment or promotion of an individual who has complained. Preliminary counseling would be offered to settle problems before a formal complaint is filed.

Decisions could be appealed to the Senate Ethics Committee by either party. If, after a final determination, a senator did not follow the Board's recommendations, the Committee could call for censure by the full Senate.

"The Senate should be an example to the rest of the country for fair employment practices," said Sen. Stone. "This measure is fair, it's enforceable and it subjects the Senate to the rules that apply to other employees."

Earnings Up 29 Per Cent

Ray H. Cooney, President and Chief Operating Officec of Scotty's, Inc. (NYSE-SHB), reported that sales for four weeks ended July 29, 1978 were $12,659,134 an increase of 29 percent over sales of $9,809, 83 for the same period last year.

Cooney stated that new construction continued in July at a brisk pace and do-it-yourself consumer activity also contributed to the increase in sales.

The company, which served that do-it-yourself segment of the building supply and home improvement market as well as the professional builder and commercial market, presently operates 61 Scotty's stores and 5 Scotty's Surplus Outlets throughout Florida.

Jackie Lee Has Operation At Shriner's Hospital

Jackie Lee Hodge

Jackie Lee Hodge daughter of Mrs. Jean Hodge was born Aug. 23, 1977 at Walker Memorial Hospital with a club foot. When only 12 hours old, she had her first cast (Kite cast) placed on her right foot. However, this did not completely correct the foot alignment problem.

Jackie's great aunt, Mrs. Alice Breckenridge told Rev. and Mrs. Downs of St. John's Methodist Church Sebring about little Jackie's problem.

Rev. Downs who is also Chaplain of the Highlands Shrine Club who are affiliated with the Egypt Shrine Temple, Tampa, discussed the problem with Wes Ward and Ed Bailey of the Shriners Crippled Hospital committee.

It was certified that Jackie's club foot could be corrected, although it might take 3 or 4 more operations with the Shriners providing the transportation and hospital expenses. Jackie makes the fourth child from Highlands County receiving treatment at a Shrine Hospital.

At present Jackie Lee, less than a year old is walking on the top of her foot (toes and arch) as her leg is turned outward. Doctors say if she continued walking this way her leg would bow out similar to bowlegs.

To correct this condition doctors at the Shriners Hospital planned to cut and lengthen the tendon connecting the heel and the large muscle in the calf of the leg.

What are the risks involved in this type of operation for this age patient? Jackie may not come out from under the anesthesia; her foot may turn over again later or Jackie may lose her foot. However, the Shriner doctors assured Jackie's mother that these had never happened at the Shriner's Hospital.

After operation Jackie's foot and leg will be placed in a cast for six weeks. In 10 days Jackie's mother will be able to bring her home to Avon Park.

Rotarians Hear Of U.S. Energy Resources

At the regular Wednesday noon meeting of ths Avon Park Rotary Club, Bill Duby, Sales Supervisor for the Gulf Oil Co., presented a program on the petroleum industry. Duby has been with Gulf Oil for thirty years and began with the company as a service station operator.

The club was told that the 1973 energy crises was very real as far as the United States was concerned. The world's supply was adequate, but the dramatic increase in price and the drop in oil coming in created a very real crisis. Duby also told the club that a recent survey showed that half the people didn't know we imported oil.

Some very interesting statistics quoted by the speaker revealed that 6 percent of the world's population lives in the U.S. but uses 35 percent of the world's oil. Also, the U. S. is producing 9,000,000 barrels of oil per day and our consumption is twice what it was 10 years ago. The United States has an estimated 140 billion barrels of oil in Alaska and in off-shore reserves and the Alaskan pipeline cost $8,000,000,000.00.

Duby said that while looking for alternate energy sources we must conserve. He also said we can take positive aciton to increase domestic sources and develop alternative domestic sources.

Dick and Beverly Peavy were recognized and presented a token of appreciation for the fine work he has done as this was Dick's last day. The Peavys are moving to South Carolina. Good luck!!

VAN ENTERED

Weather Affects Sounds Of National Guard Firing At Bombing Range

That bone jarring thunder which occasionally cracks a few windows and makes it seem as if the bombing range is in the center of Avon Park is the result of unusual weather conditions, according to local National Guard officials.

Army National Guard and Reserve unit gunnery practice is the origin of the noise, not Air Force bombing practice.

Wind blowing in the direction of Avon Park, humidity, temperature, low cloud cover and wet ground combine to magnify the sound of the artillery pieces being fired and to channel it in the direction of the city, according to Captain Tom Simmon, commander of Battery B, Second Battalion of the 116th Artillery unit, located here.

"It's just like a CB radio. You can reach further when you get a cloud cover because the radio waves can bounce off the clouds," he said.

Wet ground also is important, he explained, because soft ground vibrates more readily.

"It has nothing to do with the weapon itself," Simmon said, adding there is not effective way to curb the noise when the weather conditions are to blame.

He emphasized the "live fire" practice is an essential part of the Guard's training program and its mission to maintain a well-trained citizen fighting force.

"You can't train a unit and stay proficient without performing in the capacity you're supposed to," Capt. Simmon said.

Local Guard officials said in addition to the Second Battalion, 116th Artillery, an Army Reserve unit out of the Ft. Myers area and other guard units from around the state.

The two Guard battalions use the range four to five times each during the winter and spring months, primarily January through April.

Any noise problems during the summer months probably can be attributed to the reserve unit, Simmon said, which is using the range now for practice firing of eight-inch guns, considerably larger than the 105mm guns fired by the two Guard battalions.

Simmon said the worst artillery noise problem he remembers was in March, when the First Battalion was firing its 155mm guns and the weather conditions were just right.

Windows were cracked in town, he said, and the boom-boom of the guns could be heard as far as Winter Haven and Wauchula.

Fire from the local unit's practice sessions is the least troublesome, since it uses only the smaller 105mm artillery pieces, according to Simmon.

Cooking Corner

BRIGHT GREEN avocados have a rich, buttery flavor that was made for dieters. Satisfyingly rich, yet low in fat, the avocado brightens any meal.

Avocado Green More Than A Color

Late summer evenings can be as hot as the days. No one wants to stay in the kitchen too long—and who needs to when meals can be planned around Florida's subtropical avocado.

In season now through the winter months, avocados add an elegant tropical twist to lunch or dinner. Many varieties are available, with fruit differing in size, color and dates of maturity.

You don't need to be a native to know when its ripe. Cup the fruit in your palm—it's ready to eat when slight soft. Serve it simply on the half shell or use in a number of recipes, some of which you will find below.

What about leftovers? Preserve the fresh green color and taste with a drizzle of lime juice. Then wrap the unused portion, peel intact, in foil and refrigerate. It will stay ready for use for several days.

6 cloves garlic
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup light cream

Dr. Charles Fort To Join Local Dentist

Dr. Charles Robert Fort, a recent graduate of the University of Florida College of Dentistry, will join the Avon Park practice of Dr. David Owen later this month.

Dr. Fort will begin his general dentistry practice August 28 at 106 E. Main Street.

A native of Ft. Meade, Fort graduated from the University of Florida in June of this year. He had earlier obtained a Bachelor's Degree in Pharmacy from the university in 1971. This will be Dr. Fort's first full time dentistry practice.

"I wanted to start a practice in this area and Dr. Owen needed an assistant," said Dr. Fort. Dr. Owen has been working in Avon Park for approximately 18 months.

Another factor in his decision to come to Avon Park was the fact he has relatives in this area, Dr. Fort said. He is married and has one child, a son.

Sleeping Sickness Indentified

Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE), commonly knows as sleeping sickness in horses, has been positively identified in Alachua, Bradford, Putnam and Union counties.

EEE is transmitted by fresh water mosquitoes, said Dr. Bruce Abbitt, professor of veterinary scienc e at the University of Florida's institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS). Usually carried from wild bird to wild bird, in times of heavy rainfall when mosquitoes proliferate, the disease can be carried over to horses.

Signs of the disease in the horse include a high fever, depression, uncoordination and continual circling.

Although extremely rare, the disease can be transmitted to humans. The slight danger of this disease can be reduced by wearing insect repellent, Abbitt said.

The best prevention for the horse is vaccination, with two initial doses of EEE vaccine two weeks apart and yearly boosters.

Teachers Group To Support Candidates

FTP-PAC, the political action arm of FTP-NEA, Florida's largest teachers' organization with over 31,000 members had previously endorsed state Sen. Robert Graham of Miami Lakes for governor.

The endorsements came at a meeting in Orlando of the FTP-PAC Governing Board comprised of teacher representatives from FTP-NEA's 41 local affiliates. Those candidates receiving endorsements are:

Secretary of State: George Firestone. Attorney General: Alan Becker. Insurance Commissioner-Treasurer: Bill Gunter. commissioner of Education: Ralph Turlington.

In announcing the endorsements, FTP-NEA President Wally Orr commented, "In making these endorsements, we followed the same comprehensive procedure utilized so successfully by FTP-PAC in the gubernatorial selection. This process, while lengthy, insures both fairness to the candidates and maximum membership involvement."

All candidates for statewide office were given an extensive written questionnaire prior to being interviewed by the twelve-member FTP-PAC Executive Committee. That committee waited two weeks after the initial interviews in order to study the qualifications and positions of the candidates prior to making its recommendations to the full FTP-PAC Governing Board. The committee will be meeting later this week to determine how much money will be allocated to the candidates having won the endorsement.

Bumby's Return From Caribbean Cruise

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bumby have just returned from a fourteen-day cruise aboard the Sun Viking of the Royal Caribbean Cruise Line. On their way to Carcacas, Venezuela they visited Ocho Rios, Jamaica and Willemstadt, Curacao.

After leaving Carcacas the ship stopped for sight-seeing in Barbados, Martinique, St. Thomas, Santa Domingo and Haiti as it cruised through the Virgin Island waters.

The food and service on the Sun Viking are superb, Mrs. Bumby reports. Beginning at 6:30 in the morning, one can find food almost any time—either on deck or at the three sumptuous meals in the dining room. With a seven-course dinner in the evening and a fabulous midnight buffet one can "subsist" until breakfast, she says.

The Bumby's who are members of the Lake Wales Seventh-day Adventist Church visited an Adventist church in Bridgetown, Barbados, expecting a small church of probably a hundred members. To their surprise, they found a congregation of 5000 well dressed, courteous people. The musical numbers on their program were outstanding.

The reservations for the cruise were made through Dixie Dixon of Avon Travel.

Sadler New Head Of Jr. Division At Howey

Dr. Edwin C. Sadler, administrator-educator, has been appointed head of the new Junior Division of Howey Academy for the 23rd annual Fall Term of this Central Florida coeducational college preparatory school when it opens Sept. 10.

Headmaster Dr. L. L. Jenkins said Dr. Sadler would be administrator of Grades 5 through 8 which make up the "Junior Academy" section of this fully qualified 8-year school.

"Dr. Sadler will also be an important link between the lower four grades and the Senior Division, Grades 9 through 12, in his capacity as an aide in academic counseling and to assist in the preparation of students for college entrance testing and ultimate college and course selection,"Dr. Jenkins said.

Applications for the fall term are now being received by the Director of Admissions.

From 1971 to 1974, Dr. Sadler was project director for the Cordell Hull Economic Opportunity Foundation of Tennessee in which he supervised a staff of 35 for five school system.

Viewing his record, a colleague has described Dr. Sadler as having not only "great organizational mamagement ability ...(but) one is impressed by his integrity, manner and courteous behavior".

He is also sports minded with winning ways. As a baseball coach at a Tennessee high school he compiled a 17-3 record, the best in its history. In two years as a football coach, Sadler produced an undefeated and untied team.
