$450,000 Insurance Trial May Extend Into Next Week

Experts: Coke Fire Set On Purpose

BY BRUCE HENDERSON AND GEORGE DUNCAN

Two expert witnesses testified in a $450,000 insurance trial Monday and Tuesday the June 1976 fire which destroyed Avon Park's landmark Coca Cola bottling plant building was deliberately set.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Joe Ladiker and private fire investigator John Clark both told a three-man, three-woman jury the fire was of "an incendiary nature" as the civil trial in which Avon Park Postmaster Robert Young is seeking to recover damages from Liberty Mutual Insurance Company entered its second week.

Both men contradicted earlier testimony by Young and others which sought to establish a possibility the fire had begun on the building's west wall, where battery chargers were in use and where there was a five-gallon gas can stored.

Ladiker and Clark, an investigator for Interscience Inc., in Tampa–a firm hired by the insurance company–each testified the fire had unmistakeably begun in the southeast corner of the building, which Young had used as a showroom for sporting goods equipment.

Allen Reed, Young's Miami-based attorney, has attempted to keep out of evidence reports indicating samples of carpeting and other material taken by investigators from the showroom area showed heavy concentrations of a petroleum distillate such as kerosene.

Results of tests conducted by I.C. Phillips of the state Fire College lab in Ocala were ruled inadmissable by Judge Jesse H. Willson, because Phillips has died since conducting the tests and cannot be cross-examined.

Other test results from Interscience may be kept out if Liberty Mutual's attorney, Robert Trohn, of Lakeland, cannot establish the chain of custody of the samples taken from the Coke plant.

The man who conducted those tests has left the country and unavailable to testify, although a deposition was obtained from Dr. John Sellers, the Interscience vice-president who interpreted the chemical analysis.

Both Ladiker and Clark, however, testified they had concluded withoutthe tests the fire was deliberately set.

Ladiker said he could smell a petroleum substance in the carpet, and Clark said his detection instrument indicated the presence of a petroleum distillate in the samples. Further tests were needed, he said, only to establish precisely what distillate was involved.

Clark said he had gone through the entire building with his instrument and only the showroom floor area had shown any trace of a petroleum distillate.

The two experts testifiedthey could determine the "zone of origin"of the fire by the "burn pattern" and "direction of propagation." These, combined with heat in the neighborhood of 2,000 degrees sustained for a period of time in the showroom area, pinpointed the fire's start there.

Heat was so intense in that area, Clark testified, that concrete blocks were weakened to the extent you could crumble them with the touch of a finger.

Young took the insurance company to court after it refused to pay a claim of close to $450,000 resulting from the loss of the building and the sporting goods equipment and clothing stored inside.

Liberty Mutual attorneys claim Young set fire to the building himself or conspired with someone to do it because both he and his three sporting goods companies were deeply in debt and nee ed the insurance money.

No evidence, however, was presented which linked Young to the fire as Liberty Mutual attorneys began to present their case Monday and Tuesday.

Squabbles between attorneys Reed and Trohn have grown more and more intense as the trial wears into the second week and threatens to spill over into a third.

Postmaster Robert Young
. . . worth $405,000?

More than once, Judge Willson has had to admonish them to keep personality conflicts out of the courtroom, remarking once on Tuesday, "It's obvious to me that you gentleman are not too happy with each other."

Trohn has accused Reed of trying to disrupt and delay the trial proceedings, at one point commenting, "I get the feeling I get filibustered at times. It affects the way I proceed with my case."

Much of the trial has centered on Young's financial condition at the time of the fire. Evidence has been presented indicating his businesses were floundering financially and that both he and his companies were deeply in debt.

Under questioning last week, however, Young told the jury, "I could have paid every debt I owed and have had an excess of a third of a million dollars if I had cared to sell the real estate holdings I had."

The local postmaster, sporting goods entrepreneur and real estate developer listed his personal holdings and estimated his personal net worth at the time of the fire at about $405,000, not including the assets of his companies.

When asked by Liberty Mutual attorney Trohn, however, "Were you able personally at the time of the fire to meet your obligations in the normal course of business?" Young replied, "Not all of them."

During the three days of testimony by Young, what emerged was a portrait of a man who did hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of business with America's major sporting goods companies on the basis of verbal "gentlemen's

Third Man In City Race

Saying he would continue to listen to citizens' complaints and try to resolve such complaints in a business - like method, Councilman David Barefield qualified for reelection to the Avon Park City Council last week.

"Possibly the most important thing the council needs to do is to start looking at the city as a big business, which it is," the incumbent councilman said. "The city budget went over a million dollars this year.

"I think we must plan for the growth we anticipate in the area. We need to look at a comprehensive plan of services such as water and sewer for the whole area and not base any decisions on piecemeal plans."

Barefield has been the councilman with the highest profile over the last year possible because he has been the elected official with the least support from other councilmen. Barefield has often been on the dissenting end of 4-1 votes by the council and occasionally on the losing end of a 3-2 vote.

"I think some people feel the council is not sympathetic to their problems . I am willing to listen to whatever their needs and problems are," he said.

As for the dissenting votes he has cast in the past year, Barefield said, "My motive has never been to cause disharmony and discord within the council. I have only done what I think is right to uphold the law and to protect the best interest of the city. As a councilman, I should be willing to accept short term criticism for things which will benefit the city in the long run.

"I would never vote simply to go along with the majority of the council on an issue which I felt was not in the best interest of the city."

Barefield has disagreed with fellow councilmen on a number of issues, including the installation of water lines on several occasions. The incumbent councilman believed developers should bear more of the cost of the installation of such lines instead of the city.

He also broke with the majority of the council on a controversial ordinance putting all city department heads under 'he direct control of the council. The only department head not under the direct control of the council .was Building Director C.W. Ellerbee, who three councilmen have been at odds with.

Barefield, with Council President Larry Albritton, was on the dissenting side when the council refused to reimburse the attorny fees of Police Chief Robert Brooks. Brooks' incurred the fees when he was suspended by Mayor J. Marshall Davis. Barefield was critical of the way the mayor handled the affair and said the city had a responsibility to Brooks.'

Regarding his disagreements with councilmen on such votes he noted there will always be problems which come before the city council.

"It's according to how you address the problems which determines if it causes discord. And the problems must be addressed instead of being ignored. I do, think, when minor problems are straightened out, the city will run more smoothly and be in a better position to

Council Votes To Remove Objectionable Lake Drain

After hearing a petition signed by 50 citizens protesting the possible pollution of Lake Isis, the city council voted 4-1 to remove an asphalt drain which was the focal point of the citizens' complain.

Councilman David Barefield, who had argued against the asphalt ditch before, read the petition to the council.

"We, the residents of the Lake Isis area feel that the avenue drain is contributing to the pollution of the lake and is also ruining the only swimming area for many people on the Lake Isis area," the partition partially read.

Councilmen also heard from approximately a dozen residents who were at the council meeting to urge the city to take out the drain.

"It looks like everything is draining down to the point of the ditch," one resident told councilmen. "Consequently with a lot of water and rain, you are going to carry sand everything else down into the lake."

Councilmen were also asked if construction within state waters requires permits from the Department of Environmental Regulation and the Army Core of Enginners and, if so, if such permits were obtained.

No permits were requested before the city put in the drain, councilmen said, but also pointed out the state Department of Transportation had built such a drain on state road 27.

Dr. Dan Davis told councilmen that he had received the impression from the Avon Park Sun that there was only one complaint about the drain.

"As soon as I read the Avon Park Sun I filed a official complaint, as a property owner on Lake Isis, against it (the drain). I also signed the petition as one of the people opposed to the drain. I think, a lot of times, things are done to lakes in this area for the benefit of few. It's real bad. Some of lakes have been drained out. The majority of the people in Highlands County suffer," Dr. Davis said.

In late September Phillip Wooten told the council about the polluting which the drain was doing to Lake Isis and asked that improvements be made.

However, no action was taken at that time, nor at a subsequent meeting of the city council.

"The lake is deteriorating just from the drainage from (highway) 27," another resident told councilmen. "There should be something done on this and I think it's something the neighborhood will work on. This drain which has just been put in is an additional thing.

"Lakes in Florida have been utterly killed within city limits. Now those cities are going back and desperately trying to bring back some of the lakes, at great expense, and make something of them besides a cesspool. Lake Isis is still in a usuable condition in spite of the contamination from 27, yet we continue to do things to it which will tear it down and make it a cesspool."

Phillip Wooten told councilmen that, "I am reasonably sure that there is a law in Florida that you cannot run water directly in a lake."

Wooten said other cities were using holding ponds or holding pools to control water before it ran into lakes and streams.

"We need to try to eliminate as many pollutants as we possibly can," he said.

Councilman Barefield motioned to take out the asphalt ditch. Only Councilman Kelley Phillips voted against the motion. Phillips said the city wasn't sure what it should do after taking out the drainage ditch.

Council President Larry Albritton said the city would try and find some way to divert the water so it could not run directly into Lake Isis.

After vote Wooten told councilmen he "extended my personal thanks to each and every one of you."

In other business the council:

— Agreed to a amended agreement with the school board for lighting Head Field. The council accepted an agreement in which the city would maintain the field while the school board puts in a new lighting system. The contract, if approved by the school board, would give the board five years to install the lights and poles.

— Tabled until the next council meeting proposal for street lights on U.S. No. 27 and Manors II.

— Passed a resolution expressing opposition to casino gambling which will be on the ballot in November.

— Reappointed Ernest Sims and Robert Crowe to the Avon Park Housing Authority.

Don't Forget To Change Clocks

Sunday, Oct. 29, at 2 a.m., marks the end of the summertime Daylight Saving Time as clocks are officially turned back one hour to Eastern Standard Time in this time zone. According to the clock, daylight will come earlier in the morning and darkness earlier in the evening.

Negotiators Declare Talks Impasse

An impasse was declared Tuesday afternoon in the two-month old contract dispute between the Highlands County School Board and the county's teachers' union.

Both sides gave a little, but not enough, according to teachers' chief negotiator Chet Brojek. At the end of Tuesday's bargaining session, he said, the two sides still were more than two percentage points apart on salary increases.

School board negotiators increased their offer from 5.5 percent to six percent, while the teacher's group lowered their demand from 10 percent to 8.5 percent, according to Brojek.

The board's offer includes the normal yearly increment teachers receive for experience, while the Highlands County Education Association is asking for 8.5 percent in addition to the yearly increment.

At one time, the two sides were closer, with the board offering 6.5 percent and the teachers demanding 7.8 percent, Brojek said. The teachers, however, voted to reject the board's 6.5 percent offer, however, and both sides returned to their original bargaining positions.

Now the dispute will go before a "special master" from the Public Employee Relations Commission, a process which Brojek said would take "at least a month."

After each side has had an opportunity to prepare its case, a public hearing will be held before the PERC arbitrator, who would then offer recommendations. These recommendations would not be binding on either side.

Only Three Have Qualified For City Races, Only One Week Left

The final day for candidates to file their papers to run for the Avon Park City Council is Friday Nov. 3, 1978

The 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3 deadline gives incumbent council president Larry Albritton and councilman Kelly Phillips time to make their final decision of whether to run or not.

However, council president Larry Albritton stated late Tuesday that he would seek to keep his seat on the city council and would file his qualifying papers next week.

Councilman Kelly Phillips stated that he has not decided whether he will try to retain his seat on the city council. But he cautioned, he was not ruling it out that he would not run for the council seat.

To date only three men have filed their qualifying papers for the three council seats that are to be filled on January 1. They are David Barefield, whose council term expires December 31; Milton Howard, a former council member and Tom Pataris, who ran unsuccessfully for a council seat last year.

The city election, to select the three councilmen, will be held Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1978.

Revision Seven Only For The Rich

Proposition nine, or the proposal which would allow casino gambling in Florida, has been, by far, the most debated of the suggested nine revisions of the Florida Constitution which will be on the ballot in November.

While citizens should be on the guard against the dubious and saccahrin promises of the pro-casino crowd, this should not exclude look at the other eight, particularly when one could cost the average taxpayer a good deal of money.

Revision Seven, although it would not be as detrimental to the state as casino gambling, would be a boon for the rich and will probably increase taxes for the property owners of the state.

Two amendments to the revision would overturn state Supreme Court decisions in massive tax breaks for a small number of special interests.

Another, which was included to sweeten the Revision enough for public acceptance, would tie homestead exemption to a rise in the cost of living.

This will save some property owners some taxes but the rest of the Revision will take away the small savings and a great deal more.

The proposal in the revision to exempt from corporate income tax any unrealized appreciation on property which occurred before November, 1971 will cost taxpayers $2 million to $6 million annually and would benefit large landowners.

Exempting business which lease property from government will cost $9 million immediately and benefit such companies as Eastern Airlines and Daytona International Speedway which have contributed heavily to a lobbying effort for the amendemnt.

An example of just how the amendment will prove costly to the average taxpayer is illustrated in a situation in the east coast city of Vero Beach.

Vero Beach, which is about 90 miles west of Avon Park, operates its own airport. The airport is entirely self-supporting due to the revenue generated by business.

Part of what revenue is due to a clause in every contract which provides that the ad valorem taxes will be calculated and paid by the seperate businesses. Since the city owned the airport, the land would generally not yield ad velorem taxes since such taxes are not collected from government-owned land.

EDITORIALS

One business, Flight Safety, Incorporated, is protesting the clause because its contract with the city was first signed before November, 1971, the cutoff point for Revision Seven.

Both sides have agreed to halt any legal proceedings while waiting To see if Revision Seven passes. If it does, the company will be exempting from paying any property taxes. Of course, there is only one placewhere the city can make up the lost revenue; the city's taxpayers who will be squeezed because a business does not pay its' proper share of funds to the city.

If Revision Seven is passed, such an episode can, and will, be repeated in every county in the state and citizens in every county in the state will suffer because of it.

Large landowners and businesses are always pressuring for special tax breaks from the Legislature. Probably such lobbying is the reason this revision will be on the ballot this November.

Citizens should give it a resounding no.

Too Much Tampering With Constitution

Since ours is a state, and nation, of laws and not of men, citizens should take great care when tampering with those laws which have helped shape and mold our nation.

This is the primary reason why the work of the Constitution Revision Commission should be closely investigated. In dealing with a constitution, whether state or national, following the conservative credo is best; never change simply for the sake of change but amend the laws when the need arises.

Although the Sun backs some of the proposed revisions suggested by the committee, we must back away from supporting the first and largest revision.

One reason for being against Revision One is its' sheer volume. The clasue contains 58 seperate amendments to all 12 parts of the constitution.

All laws, whether or not there are good laws are not, should not necessarily be codified into a constitution. There are some changes in Revision One which is entirely questionable and should certainly not be given a constitutional stamp of approval.

The open meeting section of the revision has raised questions of whether the public would actually be helped or hindered in their attempt to attend meetings of public officials.

Such equivocal language is also used in the public records section of the amendment. The two sections raised questions from different media of the state when were first proposed and nothing has clarified the language of the sections.

The judicial proceedings section allows the Florida courts broader rights than county in other states to close judicial proceedings.

The privacy section appears innocuous enough, reading, "Every natural person has the right to be let alone and free from governmental intrusion into his private life except as otherwise provided herein."

However, in the opinion of noted Constitutional lawyer Dan Paul the law is "much too broad and contains no safeguard that the right may only be asserted by the person whose privacy is invaded — not the government. Government officials will rely on this provision to refuse to produce all sorts of public records even though the individual possessing the right makes no effort to assert it. . . Since the Revision Commission struck out the word "unjustifiable" ahead of government intrusion" the provision could also be a serious roadblock to the government in attempting to obtain necessary information for legitimate governmental purposes."

It is also questionable to allow witnesses' attorneys into a grand jury room. State Attorney Ed Austin, who has headed several grand jury probes for the state, has said this would endanger the witness' safety and "compromise his usefullness in every instance. The opportunity for obstructing the following of leads (from a cooperative witness) is far greater when the object of an investigation knows a cohort has talked."

Much of what is good in Revision One can be adopted into state law by the legislature, without the necessity of binding it into the constitution.

When change can be made in other ways, or if there is serious questions about changes, they should not be made a part of the state constitution. Revision One should be rejected by the voters.

V.F.W. Legislation Helped Obtain G.I Bill Of Rights

Dear Editor:

As Nov. 7th approaches on winged heels, let us think back 2½ years or so. When were the promises made to discourage lobbying and Beaurocracy? Why is the money being spent on frivolities instead of humanity just to please the legislators and pass bills. The following paragraph is being printed to enlighten the masses whose votes count.

How V.F.W. Members help in our Legislative Service

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Legislative Bureau works for the benefit of ALL war beterans, and to put into action certain V.F.W. policies. Our Legislative Director represents the Organization at Congressional hearings and keeps V.F.W. members advised on current issues most important to all ex-service men.

For many years, V.F.W. Legislative Service has helped Congress enact laws aiding veterans employment, education, medical care, pensions, and of benefits to their widows and orphans. Outstanding among V.F.W. Legislative accomplishments were the major roles we played in behalf of the World War I bonus, and the G.I. Bill of Rights for men coming out of the second World War, the Korean and Viet Nam campaigns.

The V.F.W. Legislative Service also works constantly for the enactment of laws affecting foreign relations, national security, immigration taxation, agriculture, Social Security, military and Naval justice, Armed Forces unification, Atomic energy and many other issues of veteran's interest.

When you, as an individual, go to the polls on Thursday, Nov. 7, please remember that you are not a Democrat or Republican, in the political sense, but a thinking person whom God has chosen to live in the greatest country in His world.

Administration Should Stop Inflation With Controls

Dear Editor:

Disspite talks, lectures, preachings, discussions and assemblies the stormy, unreasonable, dispairing and discouraging state of inflation goes on relentlessly. Overnight the prices of food and all of the essential commodities of life go up. In this richest country of the world, the United States of America, there is no need of such inflation.

God in His love and in His mercy has blessed America so lavishly and so generously with innumerable blessings of life. Crops of wheat and corn in the fields, in the barns and storehouses, by the millions of bushels; cattle and sheep on the thousands of hills, valleys and pastures by the thousands and ten of thousands.

All kinds of fruit trees in every state, countless acres of land covered with wholesome and nourishing vegetables, vast acres of orange and grapefruit trees in Central Florida.

The wonderful and big department stores of the cities and the stores and shops of the amazing shopping centers are filled with all the necessities of life. The shelves of all the food stores are piled and packed with countless varieties of wholesome food.

Thank God for the abundance of things in America. Nobody should go hungry in this land of abundance.

The heavy burdens of inflation are brought by men on themselves, by men's coveteousness, greediness, selfishness, unreasonableness, ungodliness, unrighteousness and unpatriotism. The Bible says, "Sin."

I am sure that voluntary wage and price control will be impossible in our country. This administration's principle duty and privilege is to stop this ravaging distructive and relentless inflation by price and wage control. This will be one of the best solutions of the degrading and humiliating condition. Demands for high wages are bringing strikes - unreasonable strikes and strikes are bringing higher prices continually.

Wage and price control will bring prosperity, peace, contentment and satisfaction. Production will be increased, dollars will be valuable and its purchasing power will be doubled. There will be more food on everyone's table.

Surely, christian love, godliness, righteousness, goodness, unselfishness, reasonableness are the main and only remedies for all our troubles. But the path of these noble attributes is narrow and straight and those who walk in it are few.

Information Centers Will Be Established By Government

Friday, Oct. 20, President Carter signed into law a plan proposed by Sen. Lawton Chiles (D-Fla.) to establish a system of "federal information centers" throughout the country to assist the general public.

The information centers will provide direct help to citizens with questions about federal government services, programs and regulations.

"This will give people better access to their government and should cut down on redtape and paperwork being encountered by those who merely need some basic information about government," Chiles indicated.

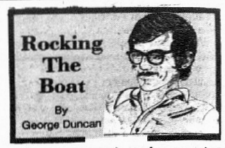
The new plan will expand an experimental program that had 38 information centers in major metropolitan areas, including Miami and St. Petersburg, and toll-free tie-in phone lines from an additional 47 cities, including Jacksonville, Orlando, Tampa, West Palm Beach and Ft. Lauderdale.

A recent Office of Management and Budget (OMB) study of the experimental centers found them effective and responsive.

Sen. Chiles noted that "permanent establishment of federal information centers was recommended by the Federal Paperwork Commission because of the frustration many citizens experience in just trying to get simple information about government."

"Merely the effort to identify the appropriate agency program can be a hassle for the person on the street," he concluded. "A quick, responsive answer either over the phone or in person can eliminate a lot of redtape and the frustration it causes."

Chiles estimated it would take 22 new centers, plus extensive new toll-free telephone coverage to complete the nationwide net work.



I was amazed, and somewhat amused, to learn the G.O.P. will be sponsoring several television programs during the next week or two. Apparently the Republicans have bought time from the major networks so they can show their campaign advertisements during National League Football and Charlie's Angles.

Not to critize the G.O.P.'s taste, I always thought the political parties should sponsor programs which are akin to their intellectual level and realistic policies. Something like the Saturday morning funnies.

However, this may start a trend among groups which do not particularly advertise on television.

The Let's Help Florida Committee, which is the group who supports casino gambling in the state, could sponsor the new prime time drama Vagas. The courageous private eye of the series could undertake an investigation of a politician who was unscrupulous enough to suggest the mafia actually stop their skimming operations and pay their taxes like everyone else in the country.

Doctors could sponsor all the reruns of Medical Center. The prospect of a patient being hovered over by handsome Chad Everett who holds her hand and says softly, "We won't talk about your illness but would you mind paying before you leave?" would do wonders for the profession.

Medical Center is also unique in the sense that in the entire seven or eight years the show was on not one patient, not one, ever received a bill from the hospital. Much less went into bankruptcy to pay it. Our nation could use more fantasies like that.

Attorneys could sponsor Kaz, the thrilling story of an ex-con who becomes a lawyer, a reversal of the traditional roles as many lawyers are becoming ex-cons.

The image of Kaz, a guy who is paid moderately, and dresses a bit sloppily and cares about justice would do wonders for attorneys who, as we all know, dress in five hundred dollar suits and defend clients in five hundred dollar suits against charges like income tax evasion.

Journalists, of course, could sponsor Lou Grant where Lou lords over a newsroom where everybody knows what they are doing. The typical news room is, of course, a scene of chaos and confusion.

Any tranquilizer corporation could pick any dramatic series on television and sponsor it. When viewers observe how any and every problem is solved on television in just sixty minutes, it must be infinitely depressing for any rational thinking human being.

The tranquilizers could share the sponsorship of the show they pick with the American Psychologists Association. The APA is missing a good bet, and quite a few good patients, by not sponsoring the 60-minute solution offered by television.

Flying High, of course, would be the prime candidate for an organization like the committee for the normalization of laws against marijuana.

Doctors, who need all the help they can get with their image, could also pitch in and sponsor Quincy, who constantly fights for truth and justice.

There is wondrous pathos in Quincy cutting into a patient and saying, 'Well, he looks dead to me."

If they don't give us a treat, you jump out and scare hell out of them!!!

Coke Plant Fire

agreements" and handshakes, who at one time had four retail outlets in Tampa, who brokered sporting goods equipment to firms as far away as New York, who tried to establish an export market for his merchandise throughout Central and South America, who had visions of challenging major companies like Wilson and Spaulding nationally in the field of golf equipment and who tried to become a nationwide distributor of a Canadian golf equipment manufacturer.

The testimony also portrayed a man whose business went sour--because of the national recession, he said--but who was unconcerned when a string of lawsuits was filed against his companies, when several judgments amounting to thousands of dollars were obtained by some of his creditors and when personal and business bank loans and mortgages--$114,000 to the Avon Citrus Bank alone--went unpaid.

"I felt these did not concern me that much," Young testified under cross examination, because he felt business would improve and his personal and business assets would cover any debts he might have.

"I had a lot of assets, and it did not concern me," Young repeated. "It was my intention to pay it regardless of whether I had to sell all my holdings or what."

Testimony revealed, however, most of Young's debts apparently remain unpaid, with creditors possibly awaiting the outcome of the trial. Only one creditor, the Atlantic Bank of Tampa, Young testified, has ever taken action against his property because of bad debts.

Young said that bank went to court after the fire, got an order and seized the inventory at Young's remaining Accent On Sports store in Tampa, selling merchandise which Young placed a retail value of about $80,000 for only $28,843 in a sheriff's sale. Young owed the bank approximately $80,000.

Liberty Mutual also paid off the mortgage on the old Coke plant building to the Avon Citrus Bank in the amount of $33,350.03, reducing Young's debt to that bank to about $80,000.

Young testified he had purchased the building in late 1974 from Avon Citrus Bank loan officer Ed Bailey for about $28,500, with the extra $4,850 loaned by the bank being used for improvements. Only interest payments were made on the mortgage at the time of the fire.

Avon Park's postmaster since 1961, Young testified his sporting goods companies began with Young Enterprises Inc. in the early 1970s.

Young Enterprises became primarily a wholesale business, and Young started Accent On Sports by purchasing an existing store by that name in Tampa's Temple Terrace area for $10,500.

He testified he opened another store on Kennedy Blvd. and one in the Town&-Country Plaza, as well as a tennis shop which operated seasonally.

Business was good then, he said, and there was as much as $350,000 inventory in Young Enterprises alone, which was primarily resold to Accent On Sports outlets.

Attorney Robert Trohn
"I'm being fillibustered."

Universal Pro Sports Inc., Young's third sporting goods venture, was started with a former Wilson salesman from the Miami area, Paul F. Biegen, of Miramar, another sporting goods salesman, Marty McCormack, and a man from Bogota, Colombia.

"We were going to market our own brand of golf clubs throughout the United States and South and Central America," Young testified.

In addition, Young said, Universal Pro Sports opened a retail clothing and sporting goods outlet catering to Latin American customers passing through Miami.

These ventures later fell through, Young said, and he moved UPS to Avon Park, where he operated two retail outlets, an Accent On Sports store at the Coke plant and The Wear House on LaGrande St.

UPS remained dormant, Young said, until he was contacted by a Canadian manufacturer and offered the exclusive American distributorship of their TriSports line of golf equipment.

Young testified business boomed during 1971 and 1972, was still good in 1973, then began to drop off in 1974 as the fuel crisis triggered a recession.

Buying informally, "with a handshake," on credit from the major sporting goods suppliers was normal procedure. Written contracts never were used.

Young testified he had credit accounts with sporting goods giants like Spaulding good up to $100,000.

When business began to go bad, Young said, he sold off three of the Tampa stores. In addition, his venture with TriSports went bad, he testified, when the manufacturer refused to negotiate an agreement covering warranties, product liability and national advertising.

Young revived the possibility of marketing sports merchandise internationally, however, and at the time of the fire was negotiating a venture with two men in Orlando who owned a company called Promotions International.

Young said they proved unreliable, but he kept the idea alive with a company he started himself, International Wholesalers.

Insurance company attorneys appear to be using a shipment of $49,000 worth of merchandise from the Coke plant warehouse to Promotions International in Orlando as one example of how he may have manipulated inventory to exaggerate the amount of his claim.

Young denied the shipment was unusual. However, he said the shipment may never have been paid for by Promotions International, and it may have ended up back in Avon Park under the auspices of International Wholesalers.

Barefield Qualifies

handle future problems when they develop." Barefield said.

Barefield said he would also like to see more cooperation between city departments and better planning of projects.

"The departments work together now but I think communications could be improved."

Barefield, who was instrumental in establishing a new city pay plan this year, said he felt the plan "was more fair than what we had in the past but there are still some inequities which need to be worked out in the future.

"I feel we should pay our employees a good salary then expect the quality of work which we are paying for if we are to keep qualified personnel," he said.

"I will continue, if elected, to try to do what is best, fair, and honest for all the citizens of Avon Park," he said.

Judge Kelly Talks To Rotary Club

Speaking to the Frostproof Rotary Club last Thursday Circuit Court Judge Clifton Kelly told of his concern, as a judge, with the criminal justice system as such. He also expressed his beliefs as to why the respect for law be taught in the public schools.

To Judge Kelly the critics of the law are motivated by the search for errors and not to find the truth. It is the victims of crime who are neglected while people are more concerned with the rights of criminals. There is also the disparity of sentences, 10 years versus 20 years for the same crime.

Is marijuana alright or not, is not the question, for it is against the law, he told the Rotarians. And in 1978 people are not going out after dark because of this social disparity and the increase in crime.

What causes have led to this increase in crime, Judge Kelly asked? Some say it is because prayers were taken out of the school; others mention the violence on TV; alcohol; no discipline in school and the juvenile taken to court is just sent home.

Judge Kelly stressed that everything said means nothing, as nobody is doing anything, but just talking. Crime prevention to him must come from beyond the justice system.

What can we do from a positive — approach and he cited Napoleon stating that when forces of the sword and the spirit oppose each other the spirit will win. To him it was a proven fact that long prison sentences turn out killers and criminals. Thus to Judge Kelly it appeared clear that when people turn to the schools to teach respect for the law and that it is right to obey the law, the same as it is taught in church, we will have less crime.

After much thought and extra work on teaching the respect for law in the schools, Judge Kelly added this as an addendeum to the sentence of a convicted murderer last year. This was widely circulated throughout the United States and parts of the world. Of the many letters he received, none wrote to say he was wrong or that his article didn't have logic and common sense.

Judge Kelly quoted President Abe Lincoln as stressing, "Let the law be breathed everyday, in the schools, the churches and colleges." We have come along way from this viewpoint with the taxpayer being faced with more crime, more money spent on crime and more money spent on the rights of criminals. To him a general rule is that children who go to Sunday School and church do not end up in court.

To Judge Kelly crime is a local matter and some people tend to lose sight of the fact that if we prevent crime there would not be the need for some of the bureaucracy that we now have. Over half of the crimes in the nation are connected with stealing. This stealing starts at an early age often before the youngster is in school. If we wait until the kid is 16 or 17 before he is corrected the court can only put him on probation at a cost of $600 to $750 per month plus the cost of a public defender, investigators, etc., regardless of how many cars were ripped off.

The crime rate for juveniles has been sky-rocketing and Judge Kelly quoted Time Magazine saying "the juvenile who steals, commits rape, etc., should be dealth with as an adult." He feels that the child needs to know the results of crime and the consequences.

Money alone is not the real answer as much that has been spent has been worth nothing. Rehabilitation is a hard thing to accomplish as criminals rationalize that they had to do the crime. The judge stated that as a general rule kids who commit a crime will continue as they have no conscience and don't know right from wrong.

Judge Kelly was certain that teaching right and wrong in the schools will work. There will not be instant success and it will take a long time to get it to work.

Why does Judge Kelly advocate that the schools teach respect for law? 1. The schools have the children for a number of years. 2. they have the power to tax and 3. they have a constant mandate to give the education required. To him kids should be told what they have to do in school.

At present there is no means to the people what the law is. If students are told what the law is while they are in school, then the court could say to them you deliberately broke the law.

Judge Kelly concluded his talk with law enforcement quickly responds to community pressure, that if the community wants law enforcement it can get it.

Willis Charged DWI After Accident

Kenneth Ray Willis, 21, of Avon Park was charged with driving while intoxicated after a high-speed accident on SR-17 near Avon Park.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, Willis was traveling at an estimated 80 mph when he left the road for 375 feet and struck a power pole. His car went another 310 feet before coming to a stop.

Trooper Lamar Ritenour listed Willis' vehicle as a total $2,400 loss, while the power pole was valued at $1,500. The accident occured about 1:35 a.m. on Oct. 8

Political Viewpoint

Jack Eckerd

Jack Eckerd, Republican nominee for Governor, has released his blueprint for stimulating economic development in all sixty-seven counties of Florida.

The proposal, entitled "Formula for Florida's Future: Economic Development," is the third in a series of position papers designed to encourage discussion on the issues during the last three weeks of the election season.

Calling development and the creation of new, better paying jobs "the first priority of Florida's next government," Eckerd said his purpose was to "maximize individual opportunity and stimulate the tax economy of the state."

He set out a specific plan coordinating the efforts of the state government, the Florida Department of Commerce, the Governor's Office, the educational community and individual county leaders to serve the special needs of every Florida community.

Noting that the state contains literally hundreds of special economic needs throughout its counties, Eckerd said the biggest mistake we could make is to overly - generalize the needs of the state as a whole.

"What's good for General Motors may or may not be good for the nation, and what's good for Northwest Florida may or may not be good for Miami Beach," he stressed in his introduction.

The plan includes:

A two-step program to provide special assistance to non-metropolitan areas coordinated through the Florida Department of Commerce. The program would make specialized teams available to the counties to survey natural resources and manpower resources, to identify those industries best suited to the local situation, and provide a basic, professional sales package for presentation to those industries.

Secondly, promotional teams would constantly moniter businesses throughout the nation to identify those that are most likely to consider relocation at any given time, to guide local officials to the best prospects, and assist in preparation of promotional tools.

The formation of a "Board of Economic Ambassadors," composed of retired business executives who would travel the nation selling Florida to industries.

Eckerd has named Jim Roche, past chairman of the Board of General Motors, as co-ordinator of the Ambassadors.

The commitment to put Florida's educational system solidly in support of the state's industrial promotion efforts.

Noting that South Carolina has had success in training employees for new industry through the state technical and vocational programs, Eckerd said, "if an industry which manufactures lefthand wigets is interested in locating anywhere in Florida we will guarantee them, through special vocational and technical education programs, that they will find a work force skilled in the manufacture of left-hand wigets."

A tax incentive plan to be put on the ballot in 1980, to attract new industry only if other development proposals fail to generate significant new industrial growth. In order to safeguard the tax base of the entire state, Eckerd proposes: a referendum in each county which wishes the option of relaxing its property tax assessment; tax breaks only on county, municipal and special district taxes and not school taxes; a limit on how much of a county's total property evaluation could be granted tax-free status; and strict limits on the number of years for which tax incentives could be granted to new industry.

Eckerd said Florida's enormous advantages such as the lack of a personal income tax, no sales taxes on groceries and medicine, access to world markets through international airports, seaports and shipping lanes, right-to-work laws, and an unmatched natural environment, make the state attractive, but that a more aggressive approach is needed.

"If we can combine our assets with the four-point plan I have outlined for utilizing them to our best advantage, Florida has the greatest opportunity possible for building itself, in the years ahead, into an international capital of clean, non-polluting, better paying, high technology industry and enjoying all of the dividends which that status and achievement would bring."

Bob Graham

Bob Graham, the Democratic candidate for Governor, says he plans to play a key role in the comprehensive reform of workmen's compensation injuries. The indefinite status in the current law has encouraged extensive litigation. I will encourage containment of health care cost within workmen's compensation by utilizing techniques such as: second surgeon's opinion on discretionary surgery, limitations on hospitals eligible for workmen's compensation reimbursement to exlude those with excessive daily rates, and schedule items for physician's reimbursement.

"I am also for requiring workmen's compensation insurance carriers to make information available on a consistent and public basis. And, expanding the department of insurance fraud unit to include investigation of workmen's compensation cases," Graham says.

Graham also favors a number of reforms in the automobile insurance field. He is calling for a limitation on sales premiums for drivers placed in the assigned risk pool. There should be increased encouragement for group sales of automobile insurance he says. He is also for the elimination of discrimination by sex and age, the elimination of regional discriminations in marketing premiums and administrative and overhead costs.

He will work for the requirement of consistent rating areas for all insurance companies and a publicity available comparison of rates within those common rating areas. And, prior approval by the insurance commission before rates are increased.

Rep. Pat Neal

Representative Pat Neal was endorsed by the Federation of Mobile Home Owners of Florida, Inc., last week.

The conservative Democratic candidate for state Senate, District 24, was given the endorsement by the state FMHO. Neal's campaign covers all of DeSoto, Hardee, Highlands, Glades, Manatee and Okeechobee.

"We realize Pat Neal has done so much for mobile home owners that he deserves this. He has bills for us in the hopper practically every year and we're familiar with his support in the district here," said District Five president, Jerry Werick of Ellenton.

According to the state executive director, William T. White, Neal was endorsed because of his "support for the Mobile Home Bill of Rights, condemnation compensation and the Mobile Home Commission law."

"We are looking forward to your continued legislative effort to protect the rights of mobile home owners," White added.

A proponent of mobile home owners' issues since his election as Representative in 1974, Neal said, "I am working hard to change the Florida Landlord-Tenant law so the mobile home park residents are given the same freedoms as all home owners."

Neal was co-sponsor of the Mobile Home Bill of Rights and every single major piece of legislation since 1974 which has become law to help mobile home owners.

"There is an unusual landlord-tenant relationship between a park owner who has perhaps $5 thousand to $6 thousand invested in mobile home sites and a tenant, who is actually the mobile home owner with as much as $25 thousand to $30 thousand invested," Neal explained.

In addition, Neal supported all mobile home owners with the formation of the Mobile Home Commission and laws giving the owners the right to sell their own homes without going through the park owner, as well as the freedom to place "for sale" signs in their windows without restrictions by the park owner.

He also co-sponsored bills requiring a lease be offered to a mobile park resident and prohibiting park owners from making unnecessary or unreasonable rules restricting the residents from quietly enjoying their own homes.

Bob Graham

Terming their voting records "for law enforcement outstanding," Sheriff James A. Scott of Jefferson County, President of the Florida Seriff's Association, has endorsed Senator Bob Graham and Representative Wayne Mixson, the Democratic nominee for Governor and Lt. Governor.

"I know they will continue their efforts in the future in behalf of law enforcement so that all the citizens in the State of Florida can feel safe outside of their homes and on the streets, the criminals safely locked away in prison. I plan to contact each individual sheriff and ask them to support Bob Graham for Governor and Wayne Mixson for Lt. Governor," Scott said.

Graham supports the establishment of a full time state prosecutor to fight organized crime. Such a prosecutor "should be adequately staffed and have statewide jurisdiction to investigate and prosecute organized crime activities. This office would be the prosecutor for the state wide grand jury," Graham says.

He also feels state government should be the advocate to demand that federal law enforcement agencies assume their responsibility in fighting organized crime in Florida. "Of immediate concern is increases federal assistance in working with our sheriffs, police chiefs and others in reducing drug smuggling and distribution throughout Florida. It is unfair that local law enforcement agencies must devote a substantial portion of their time to fighting a problem that is more statewide and national in scope. I will be more aggressive in seeking Federal funds to aid in fighting narcotic smuggling and will designate the Florida Department of Criminal Law Enforcement to be the central agency of the state to relieve the burden on our sheriff's and other law enforcement officers," Graham says.

Rebekah's Honor State President Elsie Nugent

Officers and members of Eleanor Seaverns Rebekah Lodge No. 65 met Monday, Oct. 16, at the Ranch Buffet for a banquet honoring the official visit to their Lodge by the State Rebekah Assembly President, Elsie Nugent from Ft Myers. Other members from visiting Lodges were also welcomed by the Dinner Hostess, Ethel Harrison.

Following dinner the Lodge met and opened in session at the Lion's Club House with Noble Grand Nancy Shay presiding.

Escorted and introduced to the Lodge by conductor Bertha Barker, State Assembly President Elsie Nugent and District Deputy President Louise Clarke, were warmly welcomed and given the "Honor of the Degree" by the Lodge members led by warden, Elizabeth Mizelle.

Noble Grand Shay then welcomed other guests, Delma Holsapple, past president of Rebekah Assembly of Indiana, Hazel Carter of Rose No. 408 La Porte, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. John Sturat, Friendly Lodge, Warsaw, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Chase, Carfu No. 22, Carfu, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, Falls Church, Va., and other members from Sebring No. 28, including Doris Bradley, Noble Grand, Betty Cooper, appointed conductor to 1979 State Assembly and Isabelle Gray appointed outside guardian to Rebekah State Assembly 1979.

Represented were seven Lodges, twenty-four past Noble Grands, two Vice-Grands, one District Deputy President, one past president of Rebekah Assembly and several appointed officers to State Rebekah Assemblies.

Keeping in pace with her theme for this session "Harmony With Melody," Assembly President Nugent was the courtesy of the Lodge. This was presented by officers of Eleanor Seaverns No. 65, in form of a story related, with Key words represented by musical notes on cards. She was then presented with a gift of money and a pair of iron book ends in the form of a mucical cleft. A musical presentation "In My Heart There Rings A Melody" was sung by chaplain, Bessie Trude.

Addressing the Lodge, Rebekah Assembly President Elsie Nugent thanked them for the lovely evening, for the Courtesy, and proceeded to tell of her plans for the Lodge for the coming year. She told of plans for the Christmas Party for the residents of Odd Fellows Rebekah Home in St. Petersburg.

Noble Grand Shay thanked her committee for the work they had done. On the decorating committee were, Louise Clarke, Bettha Barker, and Lillian Seegar. Banquet and Refreshment chairman was Ethel Harrison.

Other business of the Lodge conducted during the regular meeting was election of officers for Eleanor Seaverns Lodge. Those elected for the following year were: Noble Grand, Gussie Massey, Vice-Grand Edith Martensen, Recording Secretary, Bonnie Sherman, Financial Secretary Bessie Decker, and Treasurer, Lillian Seegar. Elected to Trustee for three years was Louise Smith.

Representing the Lodge at the 1979 State Rebekah Assembly will be Louise Smith as a delegate and Lulu Mann, alternate.

After closing of the Lodge a time of fellowship and refreshments were served by Ethel Harrison and her committee.

The next meeting of Eleanor Seaverns Rebekah Lodge No. 65, will be held on November 6.

Garden Club Beautifies Hillcrest

The first civic and beautification project of the new season of the Highlands Garden Club was at the Hillcrest Nursing Home, Avon Park on Friday, Oct. 20.

The club purchased three dozen plants from the Robbins Nursery, Sebring, for landscaping the nursing home's grounds. The plants used were exora, hibiscus and azalea. The Robbins Nursery also donated a laurel oak tree for the front lawn and did all of the planting for the club.

With a membership of 25 the Highlands Garden Club was organized June 1, 1961 with 21 charter members. It's membership is limited to 30 members who come from Avon Park, Sebring and out in the county.

Although it is a small club, it is active in civic and garden club work. In the past it has placed a Blue Star Memorial Marker on U.S., 27S near the Southgate Shopping Center at Sebring. They also donated $100 to the towns of Avon Park and Sebring for the Over 65 HOPE Project and $100 to the Community Auditorium fund at South Florida Junior College. They have purchased two acres of land for $5.20 for the preservation of Tiger Creek.

The garden club's only means of raising money is their Fund Day Card and Luncheon Party, held each year in January. The Fun Day was started in 1970 with about 100 guests attending. Last year over 240 guests participated in the party and luncheon.

The club has a workshop each year to make Christmas gifts for the shut-ins and patients at the various nursing homes. The club's president, Mrs. Clara Queen, Sebring, spends a day each week at the Palm Care Center in Sebring and Mrs. Phllyis Glenn, Avon Park treasurer, plays the piano for the patients each Monday at the Hillcrest Nursing home.

Mrs. Glenn also gives her time each Saturday morning at Highlands General Hospital as a Pink Lady. Several of the members have also worked at Hillcrest helping patients with their crafts.

THE CITY LIBRARY will begin an hour of free films for retired citizens in the Dawson Room of the City Library beginning November 21, at 10 a.m., and 1 p.m. Paul Swearingen receives his ticket to the first showing from assistant librarian, Mrs. Eugene Hise. Sunphoto by Betty Amburn.

City Library To Offer Seniors Free Films

Carolyn Moore, City Librarian, has announced another free film program at the Avon Park Library. Every Tuesday beginning November 21, there will be an hour of free films for retired citizens in the Dawson Room of the City Library. Films will be shown at 10 a.m. and again at 1 p.m.

Because of space limitations it will be necessary to sign up for this program but you may do that by calling the library at 453-4842.

Films to be shown include:

November 21: Marc Chagall — Narrated by Vincent Price, this film examines the life, the art style and content of Marc Chagall's contribution to 20th century art, showing his painting, lithographs, murals and Chagall at work at his studio. Also; Ruth Stout's Garden — 92 year old Ruth Stout does not weed, does not hoe, — she just "plants and picks" — she shares her vegetable gardening with us — including family reminiscences.

November 28: Wild River — Ecologists Frank and John Craighead, with their teenage children adventurously shoot the rapids of the Middle Fork and Main Salmon Rivers. They travel in Kayaks and rubber rafts through the magnificent scenery of the 1,250,000 acre Idaho Primitive Area.

December 5: The West Of Charles Russell — Charles Russell was a painter of and commentator on an era that was fading into the past. He caught and preserved the West that really was. Russell often saw the West from an Indian's point of view. He felt as they did that the crush of settlers was ruining the beauty of the primitive land where he had chosen to live and make his life. As the buffalo and empty land disappeared, Russell felt the West was dying but wanted it's color to live on in his paintings.

December 12: Journey To The Outer Limits — Follows the attempts of several teenagers from varied backgrounds to learn wilderness survival techniques in an Outward Bound School in Colorado. Climaxes in the scaling of 18,715 foot Santa Rosa peak in the Peruvian Andes.

December 19: One Day At Teton Marsh — Describes the wild life in a swamp where animals and birds are free and nature reigns supreme.

Street-Brown Weds In Sebring Ceremony

Ruth Lucille Street of Avon Park and Richard William Brown of New York, were married Oct. 21 at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Backstrom of Sebring Hills. The Rev. Carl Backstrom officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a cream-colored fitted gown with a chiffon over-drape in shades of fall leaves, with a matching orchid corsage. She was given in marriage by her daughter, Mrs. Roger Steele of Winter Haven who wore a peach colored gown. The matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Carl Backstrom, who was attired in an aqua gown.

The bridegroom was escorted by his granddaughter, Miss Barbara Brown of New York, who was dressed in a rose sand gown. His son-in-law, Harold Westerburg of Titusville served as best man.

A dinner reception was held at the Black Forest Restaurant after which the couple left for their honeymoon on an island in the Gulf and a cruise to Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Guests present included her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Westerburg and daughter Joan, of Titusville; James Alton; Mr. and Mrs. Rogen Steele, Winter Haven and Mrs. Marie Lizotte of Avon Park.

The bridal couple will reside in the summer in his condominium in East Aurora, N.Y. and winter in her home in Avon Park.

The bride trained at Covenant Hospital School of Nursing in Chicago and recently received her ten year pin for nursing at Highlands General Hospital. The bridegroom has held government positions. He was in charge of the silo missile program and was a government contract administrator.

Cake Offers Warm Hospitality

Pineapple, a popular motif in early American art, is also a symbol of hospitality. This Pineapple Bundt Cake is a natural for the hospitable hostess looking for a distinctive dessert to serve 12 to 16 persons.

A bundt cake is a rich butter cake baked in a special type of pan. The pan, which originated in Europe, is ring shaped with a hole in the center. The edge of the bundt pan is scalloped which gives a lovely contour to the cake. The cake resembles pound cake in texture and makes a fine accompaniment for tea, ice cream or fresh fruits.

To make this rich, flavorful Pineapple Bundt Cake, a package of pineapple flavored gelatin, four eggs and a half cup of margarine are added to yellow cake mix.

The cake is large and will take about 50 minutes to bake—add an extra ten minutes if there's a lot of humidity in the air. Let it cool in the pan for 10 minutes before turning out on a wire rack.

A simple confectioners' sugar icing adds a glamour touch. However a dusting of confectioners' sugar is the traditional final touch.

PINEAPPLE BUNDT CAKE

1 package (18½-ounce) yellow cake mix
1 package (3-ounce) Royal Pineapple Gelatin
4 eggs
1/2 cup Soft Blue Bonnet Margarine
1 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Confectioners' sugar or simple icing

Combine cake mix, Royal Pineapple Gelatin, eggs, Soft Blue Bonnet Margarine, water and vanilla extract in large mixing bowl. Blend to moisten, then beat 5 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Turn batter into a greased and floured 12-cup Bundt pan. Bake at 350°F. about 50 minutes, or until done. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn out onto wire rack to cool. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar just before serving. Makes one large Bundt cake.

Social Security Administration Closes Office In County Building

In the interest of giving better service to the people of Avon Park and vicinity, as well as conserving energy, the Social Security Administration is discontinuing service at the county building in Avon Park effective November 1978.

People having business with Social Security are urged to contact the Sebring Office by toll-free telephone or stop in at the office in Sebring. The office is located on Highway 27 between the TV Stamp Store and the Pizza Hut. The address is 3000 SE Lakeview Drive, Sebring, FL.

Should anyone be physically unable to call or come to the Sebring Office he should write to P.O. Box 1329, Sebring, Fl, 33870; so that other arrangements may be made to handle his business.

Your Animal's Health

By Dr. George Burch, D.V.M.

Do you positively dread the idea of having to shampoo your pet because of the discomfort it causes him and the hard chore it means for you?

Now...Pitman-Moore has come to the rescue by combining the actions of both gentle cleansing and conditioning ingredients in one pH balanced shampoo. Grooming Shampoo is a one-step shampoo that simultaneously cleans and grooms pet haircoat without stripping it of natural protective oils.

Gentle on your pet's eyes and easy on the skin, Grooming Shampoo imparts an invisible coat of protective additives and leaves the haircoat lustrous with a lasting fresh scent.

Ask your veterinarian for Grooming Shampoo...the shampoo that makes pets more desirable and pet owning more enjoyable.

Grenadier Bands Annual Concert And Barbecue Reported Big Success

LINDA DECKER, Betty Spurlock and Tim Langston, members of the Avon Park High School Stage Band played toe-tapping music to delight the hearts of old and young alike.

THE AVON PARK Middle School band under the direction of band master Fugate, played for the first time at the annual band concert and barbecue held Saturday, Oct. 21, in Donaldson Park. Sunphoto by Bruce Henderson.

The annual Fall Band Concert and Chicken Barbecue held Saturday, Oct. 21, with students of the Avon Park Middle School and High School Grenadier Bands performing was reported to be a big success.

The bands performance actually began at approximately 4 p.m. with the Grenadier Stage Band leading the way with toe tapping tunes for the young and old alike.

Special numbers featured the Honor Guard, Flag Corp, and the High School Majorettes in various drills and routines.

The Avon Park Band Parents Association were sponsors for the annual affair. Funds from this years Bar-B-Que, as well as other projects, such as the Christmas tree sales, Spring Band Auction, and food concessions at home football games and other local events provide the High School and Middle School Bands with musical instruments, transportation, and special instructions.

The Band Parents Association has also started a "Uniform Fund Drive" in hopes to raise $3000 required to purchase new concert band blazers. The uniforms used by the high school concert band have been worn by hundreds of students since 1967 and need to be replaced. With the Band Parents Association already committed to funding the previously mentioned items, individual parents and others in the community are now making contributions to the "Uniform Fund Drive."

A project thermometer is being placed near the bandstand on the Mall showing the progress towards their goal, as contributions are received. Anyone wishing to contribute to this special fund may do so by contacting Margaret Turnbull at 453-3834.

Contributions of any amount will be greatly appreciated. Donors will be recognized in the winter concert program booklet published for the concert season.

EMS Reports

Highlands County Emergency Medical Service reports there were 14 emergency runs, six in-county transfers and six out-of-county transfers in Sebring during the week of Oct. 15-21.

In the same period there were three emergency runs in Avon Park and four emergency runs in Lake Placid.

Meet 'n Treat

Almost everyone!

According to a survey conducted by the National Confectioners Association, more than 90% of American cities are reporting fewer Halloween tricks and incidents of tainted treats than a year or two ago. The same percentage also reported a decrease in or absence of hoax calls to police about tainted treats. Smaller cities.

The survey polled police chiefs across the country to learn more about community efforts to make Halloween a safer holiday for all family members.

More than half of the cities indicated a definite trend toward organized treating hours. Community parties, neighborhood events, parades, contests, carnivals and haunted houses were also on the upswing.

New Food Stamps Regulations

New food stamp regulations, making the first major overhaul in the program's history, have been unveiled and will take effect by January 1, according to David B. Alspach, Southeast regional administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service.

Alspach said the regulations, which implement the Food Stamp Act of 1977, are aimed at "eliminating those who should not be receiving food stamps, while assuring that we do get food stamps to those in need."

He added that the changes tighten administration of the program and redirects benefits to needier people.

The regulations, Alspach said, were announced in Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland.

The most significant change included in the regulations, is the elimination of the purchase price of food stamps. Recipients now pay for their stamps — the amount depending upon the family's net income — and receive bonus stamps. Under the new regulations, the family will receive the bonus stamps and not be required to pay any of its own money.

Alspach gave as an example a family now paying $60 for $100 in food stamps — a $40 benefit — will instead simply receive the $40 in stamps. No cash payment will be required.

He estimated that several million low-income people who currently cannot afford to buy food stamps will now be able to receive nutritional assistance through the food stamp program when this change becomes effective. In his opinion, most of those who will enter the program when the purchase requirement is ended will be the elderly poor and working poor.

Alspach quoted Bergland as saying that all states will eliminate the purchase requirement by January 1.

Under the new regulations the program will be substantially tighgened, he added. This is expected to eliminate over a million current recipients — those with highest incomes — by lowering the program's income limits and ending the use of most itemized deductions in the program.

"These changes are important," he said, "because they will make it impossible for middle income people to claim enough deductions to qualify for food stamps.

The new regulations make it difficult for families owning luxury cars to participate on the program. It also eliminates some students and require most students remaining eligible to register for work or leave the program.

There are also procedures to bar persons found to have committed fraud from receiving any food stamps for periods of three to 27 months.

Those provisions must be in effect by March 1, 1979.

Other changes in the new regulations include more flexible certification procedures for elderly and handicapped people. These persons will be interviewed through home visits or by telephone if they are unable to come to the food stamp offices.

In addition, the changes in the deduction structure will result in several million persons receiving increases in benefits, while several million others will receive decreases in benefits. In general, the poorest households will receive benefit increases, while the less poor households are more likely to receive benefit decreases.

Alspach said the Department will propose additional provisions based on the 1977 Food Stamp Act in coming months. Included will be state plans of operation, accessibility of services, special procedures for use in disasters, and operation of the food stamp and commodity distribution programs on Indian reservations.

Group Returns Home

Hi-Dee chapterof The Good Sam Club has returned to the Sebring area after spending several days at Apple Valley Travel Park at Hendersonville, N.C.

Included in the group were Bob and Marge Dowdle, John and Georgia Button, Nipper and Duckie Carrington, Ken and Ruth Gahn, Webster and Doris Heath, Walter and Helen Lent and Al and Crystal Winecoff of Sebring. From Lake Placid were Woody and Jessie Easton, Bob and Vernice Kaphingst, Jim and Myrtice McLure, Ralph and Evelyn Peterson, Ronald and Thelma Rhoades, and Hugh and Mary Russ.

The group had morning coffees, a weiner roast and pot-luck dinner, shopping and sightseeing trips and visits to the many apple orchards in the area.

The camp-out was terminated with a pancake breakfast and a devotional hour Sunday mming.

Guests of Hi-Dee Chapter members were Patty Gipson of Lake Placid and Ivy Foust and John Heatherington of Sebring.

Four units of the Cabarrus County Gold Nugget Good Sam Club of Concord, N.C. joined the local group at the close of the camp-out as guests of Al and Crystal Winecoff.

The next camp-out will be held Nov. 3, 4 and 5 at Busch Gardens in Tampa. Ken and Ruth Gahn and Bob and Marge Dowdle will be the Wagonmasters.

Jayvee Season At 5-0 With Mulberry Win

The Avon Park Red Devil junior varsity football team racked up its fifth straight victory last Thursday night when Billy Bolden scored two touchdowns to lead the undefeated squad to a 12-0 win over the Panther Jayvees in the Mulberry Phosphate Bowl.

Bolden rushed for 153 yards and picked up 13 yards with a pass reception to lead Avon Park's 291 yard offensive effort.

However, the Devil Bees" will face the tough Hardee High junior varsity in Wauchula tonight (Thursday) in perhaps the toughest game on their eight game schedule. The junior Wildcats knocked off the Sebring Jayvees last week by a score of 16-12, the same score as the Avon Park — Sebring game. Kick-off time is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Hardee County Stadium.

Last Thursday's game in Mulberry was an offense duel in spite of the low score. The Devils had almost 300 yards of rushing and 81 yards through the air. In other words the two teams moved the ball up and down the field all evening but only 12 points were scored. The Devil "Bees" drew 85 yards in penalties, one of which nullified an 80 yard touchdown run by Bolden.

The first quarter was scoreless. Avon Park took the opening kick-off and drove to the Panther 30-yard line before losing the ball with a fumble. Four plays later the Devils took over again after a punt snap was fumbled at the Mulberry forty. Again the Devils were unable to score although they picked up one first down.

The second quarter started off with Mulberry punting to the Devils at their own 43-yard line. From that point the Avon Park offense put together a 57-yard scoring drive, in spite of two fifteen yard penalties hampering the effort.

Ronnie Barnes had a long run cancelled by a penalty but contributed gains of ten and fifteen yards to the drive. The rest of the yardage was made by Billy Bolden who caught a pass from quarterback Dwayne Council for 13 yards and then ground out the remainder of the yardage in short gains until he dashed in from the fifteen yard line for the touchdown to give Avon Park a 6-0 lead. The run for the extra points failed.

Late in the first half Mulberry put together five pass completions to move down to the Devil six yard line as time ran out. The junior Panthers moved the ball from their own three to the Avon Park six but Avon Park was saved by the clock. The Devils had threatened just before the long drive when Ricky Oates recovered a fumble at the Mulberry sixteen but the offense was stopped just a foot short of a first down at the Panther six.

Mulberry came out in the second half and picked up where it left off moving the ball from the Panther eleven to the Devil ten in just six plays and a ten yard penalty against the Devils. At the ten, however, Avon Park's defense held for two downs and the Panthers went to the air. Linebacker Tommy Turnbull intercepted the pass inside his own ten and ran it out to the thirty to stop the Panther threat and set up the next Avon Park scoring drive.

With the exception of a fourteen yard run by Barnes, a seven yard pass reception by Chris Collins and a couple of short gains by Council, Billy Bolden ran the ball on the seventy yard scoring drive. Bolden carried the ball eight times and scored from three yards out for the second and last TD of the game. Again the run for the two point conversion was stopped short but Avon Park had a 12-0 lead just as the final quarter started.

Mulberry moved the ball well again on its next possession but Dwayne Council intercepted another pass to cut off the Panthers at the Devil fifteen yard line. Avon Park ran out the clock with another time consuming drive on the ground with Bolden and Barnes doing most of the ball toting. Barnes had another long run cut short by a clipping penalty but the freshman speedster managed a 9.5 yard average with 76 yards on eight carries.

Other Avon Park ball carriers were Larry Jackson with four carries for 18 yards, Council with 22 yards for 5 totes, and Raymond Claitt gained two yards with his only carry.

In five games the Devil jayvees have scored 144 points while holding their opponents to just four touchdowns and no extra points. The Devil defense shut out its last two opponents.

Early in the second half of the Mulberry game, Darren Kopta injured his right arm and will be out of action for the rest of the season with a cracked bone. Kopta, a freshman in his first year of football, had improved greatly as the season progressed according to Hoppy Rewis and Joe Baker, the jayvee coaches.

After Hardee High tonight, the Devil junior varsity will close out the season with a home game against Sebring and an away game in Okeechobee against the baby Brahmans.

Panthers Score Near Miss

A MULBERRY defender scores a near miss as he tries to tackle slippery Billy Bolden. The junior Red Devil back carried the ball for 153 yards on the ground and a 13-yard pass reception to account for 166 yards of Avon Park's 291-yard offensive push. Bolden scored both of the JV touchdowns to help the baby Red Devils to their 12-0 shutout of the Panther squad. Sunphoto by Bruce Henderson.

Ranked Number Two In State

Thinclads Go To Sebring, Conference Title On Line

Championships in boys' and girls' cross country for the Heartland Conference will be on the line today (Thursday) in Sebring starting at 4 p.m. The Avon Park Red Devils are favorites in the boys contest and Sebring rates as the top girls team. A trophy will be awarded the championship teams and medals will go to the top ten finishers in each race.

The Red Devils have won two out of the previous three championships awarded in boys cross country in the Heartland Conference. The thin-clads of Coach Chet Brojek swept to titles in 1975 and 1976. Last year the Arcadia Bulldogs edged the Devils for the Conference title. This is the first year a girls championship has been contested.

Saturday the Devil boys varsity will compete in a meet in Clearwater against Palmetto and Clearwater Central Catholic. The meet set for 11 a.m. will be a prelude to the Avon Park Rotary Invitational clash between most of the top AA teams in the state next week.

Avon Park's boys' varsity thinclad squad is ranked second in the state in Class AA competition, just behind Clearwater Central Catholic. It is the only public school team in the top 10, according to Coach Brojek.

The Red Devils will challenge Central Catholic here Nov. 11, at the district meet. The top two or three teams of the seven or eight competing will go on to Jacksonville for the state championship meet Nov. 18, and Brojek hopes his harriers will have a good shot at the Class AA state title.

Last Tuesday a week ago the Devil boys swept to an easy victory over Sebring by a 18-45 score. Alan Portis captured top honors with a 16:19 clocking and teammate Mark Myers gave fine support with his second place finish. Larry Bowers of Sebring finished third and then was followed across the line by ten more Red Devils. David Rhodes, Jody Johnston, Ricky Jones, Jeff Henly, Sam Finch, Billy Barben, Steve Brown, Mike Flemming, and Slade Ward were other top Red Devil finishers.

A severe case of stomach cramps prevented Coach Chet Brojek from improving his best marathon time in the Skylon International Marathon last Saturday in Buffalo, New York. Brojek was forded to drop out at the 18 mile mark in the 26.2 mile contest. Some 3,400 runners had begin the trek with Brojek from Buffalo to Niagra Falls, Canada.

"I was going along pretty well at the 15 mile mark when all of a sudden I just became ill." "I had several good races in a row and I guess this was the bad one I was due. I'm hopeful that with a few days rest I'll be back to normal."

Brahmans Here For Homecoming

It is that time of year again when preparations for Homecoming are in full swing. This year, Homecoming will be on Nov. 10, when the Devils take on the Okeechobee Brahamns at 8 p.m.

One of the most important events in Homecoming will be the choosing of a Homecoming Queen. Some of the girls' chosen as candidates are as follows: The Keyetts, have picked Ellen Macklin while the Spanish Club decided to nominate Denise Blackman. Student Council submitted the name of Katrina Conner and Tammy Welch was selected by the Key Club. Also, the majoretts picked Cathy Barberee.

Some activities during Homecoming will be the Ceremony before the game, and a dance that will follow after the game with D.J. Steve Farrell. Also there will be a parade downtown on Nov. 10 at 3:30 presenting 4 floats made by the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th graders.

Firearm Safety Training Program Offered At Avon Park High School

The Avon Park High School is offering the Florida's Hunter and Firearm Safety Training Program, as a unit of study, through the Vocational Agriculture Program, from Oct. 23, to Nov. 9, 1978.

The comprehensive course offered to students enrolled in the Agriculture course will include a minimum of 12 hours of classroom instruction and 12 hours of home study, an examination and actual firing of a rifle or shotgun. The course also includes the handling of primitive weapons and bows.

This same course has been used by other Agricultural departments over the State of Florida. It will be offered for adults, who are interested in a hunter and firearm safety training program, at the Ag-Civic Center at Sebring, stated Gary Lee, Highlands County Co-ordinator for Vocational Education.

The program is not designed to turn out sharpshooters, but to instill the respect and responsibility that using a firearm demands. It offers the student a chance to become familiar with the correct fundamentals of firearms handling and safety.

Although some of the students that take part in the program may never go hunting, it will help them understand firearms and foster an interest in conservation practices and wildlife management.

In the classroom students will study topics such as: Firearm laws, Florida's Wildlife Code, landowner-sportsmen relationships, firearm accident causes, first aid and survival. This study will be followed by an examination.

Using student handbooks, equipment and ammunition furnished by the Florida Game and Freshwater Fish Commission the students may participate in the firing of rifles and shotguns at the Sheriff's Department firing range at Lorida, under controlled conditions. They will also be able to use archery equipment on the range. Lt. Frank Disbrow, Southern Region Hunter Safety Supervisor, Florida Game and Freshwater Fish Commission will monitor the field test activities.

All students who successfully complete the classroom, examination and field test activities will be presented a shoulder patch, certificate of training and Florida Safe Hunter identification card by Lt. Disbrow. These items are now required for hunting in some states.

Tennis Players Invited To HardeeTournament

The Hardee County Tennis Association will hold a doubles tournament November 4 and 5 in Wauchula with four different divisions. Tennis players from Avon Park are invited to enter the two day affair by obtaining entry forms at Taylor's Sports Center in Wauchula or mailing the entry fee to the H.C.T.A., P.O. Box 511, Bowling Green, Fla. 33834.

There will be divisions for men's doubles, women's doubles, mixed doubles and junior novice doubles. The junior novice double teams may be both boys, both girls or mixed youth between the ages of nine and 16.

The entry fee will be two dollars per player per event plus a new can of balls per team for each event. The deadline for entry is Nov. 2, and entry fee must be mailed in with entry information. Entries may call Taylor's Sports Center (773-3401) on Friday, Nov. 3, for match dates and times.

Trophies will be presented to the winners and runners - up in all divisions. The Hardee County Tennis Association also announces a Christmas Toy Handicap Tournament to be held December 16 and 17 with details to be announced later.

Jahna Concrete Wins Lake Placid Tourney

Jahna Concrete of Avon Park took first place in the First Bank of Lake Placid Invitational Tournament last weekend, clinching the championship with a win over the Brighton Redskins 19 to 6.

Jahna took their first game of the tournament by beating Carlos Morales Realtor of Sebring by a score of 6 to 5. on Saturday morning.

The next game produced the only loss of the tournament for Jahna as they dropped a 10-6 game to the Redskins of Brighton. However, the team bounced back and won a 7 to 0 shutout over Central Builders of Lake Placid.

Sunday afternoon the Avon Park team continued its winning ways by defeating the Sunshiners of Lake Placid by a score of 9-0.

Jahna took their third straight win later that afternoon in a 9-8 squeaker over the First Bank of Lake Placid.

The win put the team in contention for the championship and a playoff round with the Redskins ensued. Although the Avon Park club had lost the first game to the Brighton team, they took the second game easily by a score of 11 to 2 and then broke the first place tie between the two clubs with a 19 to 6 triumph over Redskins.

The Redskins placed second in the tournament and the First Bank of Lake Placid placed third.

Players for Jahna Concrete were Joyce Dewit, Doris Wilkes, Margie Taylor, Maxine Blake, Phyllis Skinner, Rose Skinner, Kay Skinner, Anita Mooney, Mary Ann Jackson, Johnnie Mae Griffin, Linda Rowe, Cherry Leverson and Sebrina Blake.

Asks Help In Getting Rid Of Bad Apples

"Times are going to get tough for a small, highly-visible group of people, who can themselves hunters, that are damaging the image of all Florida's legitimate sportsmen," said Col. Robert M. Brantly, executive director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

With that warning, Brantly announced the Commission has begun an intensive campaign against violators who shoot protected Wildlife species.

"I have specifically instructed our wildlife officers to use fair but obviously firm arrest measures in all cases of persons shooting protected species such as wading birds or hawks," he said.

Brantly said the Commission has recently received several reports of wanton shooting of these protected birds, particularly small hawks. "This type of person is a toughtless, careless individual with no understanding or respect for wildlife or hunting ethics.

"These people lack respect for others, the land on which they hunt, and wildlife in general. The hunting fraternity can no longer tolerate such persons," he said.

"While often mistakenly associated with the real sportsmen, these individuals are in the distinct minority and bear no relationship to the legitimate honest hunter," he explained.

Brantly called on sportsmen and other citizens to assist the Commission by reporting information relating to any wildlife violation to their nearest Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission office.

He placed special emphasis on sportsman assistance and urged hunters to help ride their ranks of the few "bad apples" who damage the reputation of the entire hunting fraternity.

Citizens may report violations by calling these toll free numbers: Panama City, 1-800-342-1676; Lake City, 1-800-342-8105; Ocala, 1-800-342-9620; Lakeland, 1-800-282-8002; and West Palm Beach, 1-800-432-2046.

Flag Football Tryouts October 26

The Avon Park Recreation Department Flag football League for kids 9-12 years old will have its tryouts this Thursday at 4 p.m., at the high school. Any children that wish to play in this league must bring a registeration form, that has been filled out and signed by a parent or guardian, to the tryouts. Only those that have these forms will be eligible to play.

The forms may be picked up at the school office or at the Recreation Center or the Avon Park Sun.

The league is free to any interested within the age group. There will be four teams competing on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 4:15 p.m. for about one month. Hopefully the kids participating will learn the basic football skills needed to compete in school athletics, and have a chance to improve their team effort throughout the season.

The teams that come in first and second will receive team trophies, with the first place team member receiving an individual trophy also.

Be sure to bring the registration forms to the tryouts on Thursday, Oct. 26.

American Legion Post No. 69 To Host Veterans Day Parade Nov. 11

American Legion Post No. 69, Highlands County will be the host for the annual Veteran's Day Parade at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 11 in Avon Park. Taking part in the Main Street Parade will be Legion and Veterans units from Avon Park, Lake Placid and Sebring.

Formerly the Armistic Day Parade, the Highlands County Veteran's Day Parade will honor veterans of all wars and include Gold Star Mothers and Legion and Veteran's Auxiliaries. Music for the parade will be by the junior bands of Avon Park, Lake Placid, and Sebring schools.

The Legionaires invite any merchant, businessman or individual to enter a float, vehicle or marching group in the Saturday morning parade. Further information can be obtained by contacting, Rodney Lane, parade marshall; Harvey Dixon Sr. master of ceremonies; Ralph Carraway, post commander or Francis LaFlam, past commander.

Following the parade there will be a short program at the Bandstand on the Mall. There will be a guest speaker.

Florida Game And Fresh Water Fish Commission Discuss Hunting Season

The establishment of additional special antlerless dear hunting areas is to be considered at the next meeting of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The Commission will hear recommendations from the Division of Wildlife on setting up of the special areas at its Oct. 27 meeting in the Alligator Room of the Farris Bryant Building. The Tallahassee meeting will get underway at 9 a.m.

"The anterless deer hunts, to take place during specified periods of the 1978-79 regular hunting season are needed to reduce overpopulations in several particular areas,,' said Col. Robert M. Brantly, executive director of the Commission.

In other action, the five member board will consider amending Commission regulations to permit the harvest of deer of either sex (except spotted fawns) on approximately 5,000 acres in the western portion of Camp Blanding Wildlife Management Area. There will be six one-day hunts with a quota of 100 hunters per day.

"This hunt is being recommended not because of overpopulation of the deer herd but because of impending strip mining operations which will severely limit habitat in the affected area," Brantly said.

The Commission will also discuss the spring gobbler hunts scheduled for March 14-15, 21-22 and 28-29, 1979 on the Camp Blanding Wildlife Management Area. A quota of 40 hunters will be permitted for each hunt which will be limited only to bows and muzzleloader weapons.

A change in the regulations is proposed for the J.W. Corbett Wildlife Management Area permitting the use of vehicles and dogs in a 2,000 acre walk-in area. Camping would also be permitted there, adjacent to designated roads.

Another change to be considered would permit the taking of one hog per vehicle on the last day of the 1978-79 general hunting season in Conservation Area 3 of the Everglades Wildlife Management Area.

The Commission will discuss changing the dates for fox, raccoon and bobcat hunting on the Blackwater Wildlife Management Area, and permitting the use of dogs for deer hunting during November 25 — December 3, in that portion of the still hunt area south of State Road 4 and east of State Road 191.

Thursday, Oct. 26, a workshop with the Commissioners and the administrative and field staff will begin at 1 p.m. in the Alligator Room of the Bryant Building. Although this meeting is open to the public, discussions will be limited to staff members.

Pine Crest Golf Notes

By Bob Elgin

Now comes the nicest part of the year to play golf. The hot weather is gone. It's not to cool. Friends from the north are coming back, so it's time to contact your friends and line up some games to combine exercise with fun.

An Invitation to joggers. Whenever I see a jogger "huffing and puffing" his way down the street, I think he could be getting the same amount of exercise by playing golf and getting it easier. Not to mention the many nice people he would meet while playing.

There is no better way to get rid of stress and frustrations than hitting that little white ball. Not to forget the social life that goes with golf. Think about it, joggers, you will breathe easier, and might live longer walking the fairways of Pinecrest.

Canada's loss, is Avon Park's and Pinecrest's gain. Another of those nice Canadian couples has bought a home here. Avon Park and Pinecrest should give a warm welcome to Raymond and Miriam Redshaw, whose home was Ottawa, Canada.

They have been coming to Pinecrest for the last 10 years for a winter of golf. This gives support to belief that when retiring people choose a golf course first, and the town is second. The town with a poor course doesn't get many golfers. The Redshaws grew very tired of having to get a starting time three days in advance to play on Ottawa's crowded courses. They say Pinecrest's uncrowded, well-maintained course was the cause of their buying their home here. They will return to Ottawa about November first to close up their Canadian business (Raymond ran a foreign car garage). One more Canadian winter and they will come back to A.P. about February to spend their retirement on Pinecrest's fairways.

Golf Memories — Back in the mid-fifties Dubsdred County Club of Orlando was the host to a two-ball tournament in which the men and women pros teamed together. It was very popular for a number of years.

One of these tournaments saw the great Babe Zaharris teamed with Burl Bolesta, a Tampa pro. They were matched against Dick Chapman, U.S. Amatuer champion, and Edean Anderson, an amatuer. At about the third hole Anderson put Chapman in the trap. He hit to within a foot of the pin to tie the hole.

Two or three holes later Chapman hit another from the trap to within six inches of the pin. Babe's caddy said to her "Missus Babe, we gotta find some way to keep that man outa the traps, or he'll sink the next one." Babe's reply was "You're right, but how?"

The amatuers were out of their class and Babe & Co. went on to win. Dick Chapman played his heart out and was even with Bolesta, but Anderson was just not in the same class with the Babe.

Ladies Pro Am, October 17. Team winners Plus 1: Nell Redd, Lena Wright, Marie Eeles. Individual winners: 'A' — Nell Redd and Miriam Redshaw Tie +1; 'B' — Kay Giddens +2; 'C' — Lenna Conn +1½.

Men's Pro Am, Oct. 18. Team winners: +2; teams +3. Vern Lanier, Earl Griffith, Chuck McCormick, Hank Maeder and George Variano, A.B. Wester, Tubby Dean, Jim Eeles, Austin Cushman. Individual winners: 'A' Vern Lanier and George Variano, Tie +1; 'B' — Earl Griffith +4; 'C' — Tubby Dean

Men's Day, Oct. 21. Selected nine holes. Handicaps: First, Cecil Skipper, 33½; Second, Vernon Lanier, 34; Third, Larry Ford, 34½.

Last week's story about the "One foot putter" brought several inquiries, so Pinecrest has decided to rent it to interested golfers at $1 for 18 holes provided it is used only for one foot putts and "fanny kicking."

River Greens Golf Notes

By Bob Elgin

The charred wreckage of golf carts, clubs, and wood has been over half hauled away. The greens are being sanded and seeded. Golfers are playing, some with borrowed clubs, some with borrowed carts. Each day members return from the north, so it looks like a good season for River Greens.

A hearty River Green's welcome to Fred and Louise England. They have been coming to Avon Park for the winter since 1973. Their summer home in Cadillac, Michigan. They returned to A.P. early this year, as Fred was having trouble with his eyes.

He had to have a special pair of glasses made. He still scores well in the Pro Am and Men's Day, so they must help.

Fred was with General Motors for 28 years, in the pension division. Louise is very active with the Golfettes and never misses a special event. R.G. wishes Fred and Louise a happy winter season.

A strong interstate rivalry has developed between Iowa and Kentucky. P.D. Wells is is from 'Old aintuck' and Miles Morgan from the Tall Corn state. They were having a "nip and tuck" match the other day. On 16 Miles had a 10 foot downhill putt. He putted and went 10 feet below the hole. "Now, I've got you," said P.D. "Watch," said Miles, and blew the ball right into the hole. The rivalry is a weekly affair.

A struggling R.G. golfer had this to say: "I've made two mistakes today, getting up this morning, and playing golf."

My good wife was playing in a foursome some years ago. The game was Bingo, Bango, Bongo, and everything was peaceable, until the 10th hole. Thelma was shooting, and the other three girls were on the back of the tee talking.

Thelma dubbed her drive and it went about 30 feet from the tee. She marched out and retrieved it.

My wife met her when she got to the tee. "What are you going to do," she asked. "I'm going to shoot over, you were all back there talking!" she replied.

"Not for my nickels you don't," my wife replied, "You know we always talk when one of us is shooting, otherwise the one who was shooting would think we were back there whispering about her." My wife won (as usual).

Walt Kline shows Iowa Power! Wednesday's Pro Am at River Greens found Walt Kline playing P.D. Wells, Chet Tharp, Lowell Fluker. Walt had a mediocre front nine. The second nine was better. Came the 18th hole of 360 yards, with a narrow fairway flanked by a ditch on both sides. This was the hole that Lady Luck united with Iowa Power to give Walt a very rare 'Eagle.' Most of the 'Bogey shooters' can't make the 360 yards to the green with two woods. Walt covered about 240 yards with his 3 wood, then an 8 iron 120 yards that went into the hole. Putting the 120 yard 8 iron shot into a four-inch hole is the hard part of getting the 'Eagle' two. It's quite an honor, Walt, so treasure it. Hope your handicap doesn't drop too much.

Ladies Day, October 17, 24 players. "Criers Tournament" First, Dot Cross, 70½ second, Berta Holley, 71; third, Georgia Brown, 71½.

High School Students To Take National Tests

Robert Watts, guidance director at Avon Park High School, has announced that sophomores, juniors, and some seniors will be able to join over one million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT) this fall. The test, cosponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation, is an important step in making college plans.

Scheduled for October 28, at Avon Park High School the PSAT-NMSQT measures verbal and mathematical aptitude--two abilities important in doing college work. The test can also lead to other opportunities for high school students. For example, students can ask to participate in the College Board's Student Search Service which helps colleges learn about students like them.

By taking the PSAT-NMSQT, they can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and can get a good idea of what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like.

Along with their score reports, students will receive a copy of ABOUT YOUR PSAT-NMSQT SCORES, a booklet that contains valuable how-to information about: estimating SAT scores; finding out where to get and how to use detailed information about colleges and financial aid; and planning for financing a college education.

Also, students can use the College Board's College Handbook, to compare their scores with those of enrolled students at more than 2,800 colleges and universities.

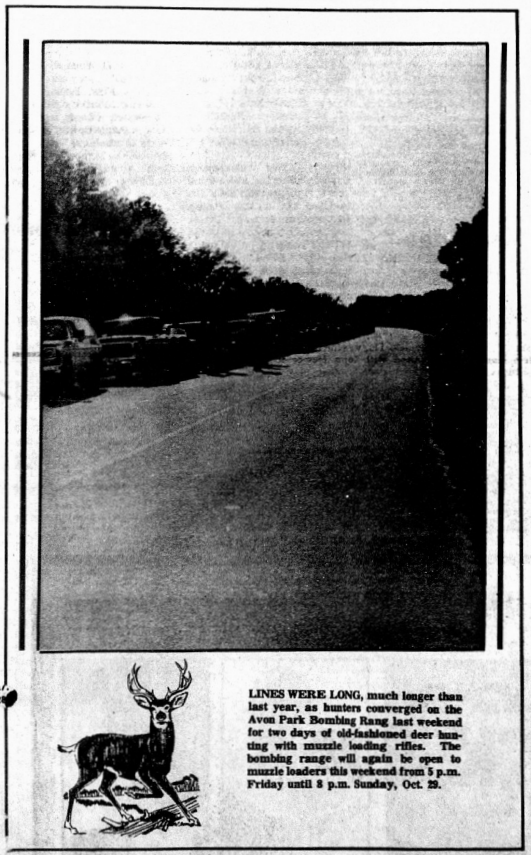
Gift Requires Much Paperwork

Ever try to give away a car? Both the giver and the receiver had their paperwork problems with a 1975 Ford LTD.

Businesswise the Board of Directors of the Avon Citrus Bank decided to give the 1975 Ford LTD to South Florida Junior College with no strings attached, only to find that paperwork had to accompany the gift.

In turn the Board of Directors of the Junior College had to vote to accept the gift and without looking a gift horse or car in the mouth the '75 LTD had to be appraised for tax value which added more paper work.



LINES WERE LONG, much longer than last year, as hunters converged on the Avon Park Bombing Rang last weekend for two days of old-fashioned deer hunting with muzzle loading rifles. The bombing range will again be open to muzzle loaders this weekend from 5 p.m. Friday until 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 29.

Market Place Added To Art Festival

Another new feature will be added to the Fall Art Festival offerings this year. This will be a Market Place where creative Arts and Crafts made by members of Highlands Art League will be sold. These items will be sold on a commission basis as are painting and pottery sold at the Art Gallery.

The Market Place will be located in the lawn in front of the league's Art Center.

The market is designed to provide an opportunity for members who don't have enough work to show in a sidewalk space, so sell the results of their creative efforts. So far, members aren't talking much about what they are making, but certainly we can expect there will be miniature paintings, sculpture, pottery, probably some macramae and other interesting creative craft items.

Highlands Aviation And City At Peace

Highlands Aviation, Inc. and the city of Avon Park have worked out the terms of a peace treaty.

According to a voluntary dismissal filed in a circuit court case between the two, the terms of the settlement are to be spelled out in the Avon Park City Council minutes.

James R. and Anita Renfro of Highlands Aviation filed the suit asking the court to resolve difficulties over the terms of a five-year lease involving facilities at the city airport. The lease commenced June 1, 1976, and included provision for rent of $240 per year. According to the suit, drawn by James Kelly and Anthony Accorsi, the aviation company and city wished to have the right and obligations under the lease defined. Jack Hancock, Avon Park city attorney represented the city in the case.

New Insurance Rules To Take Effect Feb. 1, 1979

New rules recently adopted by the Insurance Department to crack down on schemes that fleece health care policyholders, will alert Florida consumers to the hazards of replacing existing insurance policies.

While the rules will apply to the replacement of all health policies, they are designed to protect the elderly from the salesmen who sell senior citizens more insurance than they need or policies filled with loopholes and exemptions of coverage.

Such practices were exposed this summer in a public hearing in Hallandale and a town hall meeting in St. Petersbury.

The rules take effect on Feb. 1, 1979, giving insurance companies the time necessary to implement the new regulation.

Beginning Feb. 1, agents will provide a notice developed by the Department of Insurance outlining the pitfalls of replacing a policy. As an example, health conditions covered under a new policy, causing the company to deny payment of benefits. Another pitfall is the higher costs of a policy issued at an older age.

The rules will require the new company to send a copy of the replacement form to the company losing the business. This provides an incentive for the industry to police itself. The company losing the business will have the opportunity to contact the policyholder to determine if a fast-talking salesman misrepresented the benefits of the coverage he was selling or replacing.

Until the rules become effective, I urge Florida consumers, especially senior citizens and members of their families, to report to the nearest Department of Insurance Service Office any high-pressure tactics used in the sale or replacement of health insurance.

The offices are listed in local telephone directories under "Florida, State of, Insurance and Treasury, Department of."

If you have any questions, or would like to comment on any subject, write to "Straight From Bill Gunter," LL-25, The Capitol, Tallahassee, Florida 32304.

City Council Opposes Gambling

The Avon Park City Council has unanimously passed a resolution opposing the legalization of casino gambling in the state. City Clerk Malcolm Crews prepared the resolution and all councilmen and Mayor J. Marshall Davis expressed their support of the measure.

The resolution reads:

WHEREAS, the voters of Florida will have the opportunity to vote in the General Election November 7, 1978 on the issue of whether casino gambling shall be legalized in South Florida; and

WHEREAS, the City Council believes that the legalization of casino gambling will not be in the best interests of the public, and will serve to attract more of the organized criminal element thus increasing law enforcement problems; and

WHEREAS, casino gambling will attract dollars which would normally be spent at family oriented attractions by many visitors thus causing an adverse impact on our economy, and

WHEREAS, City Commissions of many cities which would be directly affected by this have passed similar Resolutions against casino gambling, including the cities of Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood, Hallandale and others, and

WHEREAS, legalized casino gambling will create a multitude of social, economic, moral and community problems and add nothing good to the image of our state, and

WHEREAS, benefits to be derived have been greatly overestimated by proponets and even at the inflated figures used in pro casino advertising it represents only a small percentage of Florida's annual budget;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF AVON PARK, FLORIDA that it expresses strong opposition to Proposition No. 9 on the November 7th ballot and urges all citizens to carefully consider this matter before casting their vote.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the locally read newspapers, "The Tampa Tribune" and "The Avon Park Sun" are hereby commended by the City Council for their editorial stand against legalized casino gambling.

Two To Exhibit Work At Highlands Art Center

Dr. Betty Linthicum and Mrs. Charles (Sue) Pennington will exhibit some of their work at the Highlands Art Center, 122 N. Commerce, Sebring on Sunday October 29. Hours for the show and reception are 1 to 4 p.m.

Betty, after retirement, moved to Sebring about three years ago. A year later she enrolled in Dorothy Page's Pottery Class at the Art Center and quickly progressed into pottery sculpture of animals and birds. In addition to the instruction given by Dorothy Page, she has just completed a course in the use of the potter's wheel at Woodland Park, Colorado.

Her Awards include a Best of Show for Photography at Lake Placid, and awards from Barnett Bank of Lake Placid and Highlands County Fair Art Shows.

Mrs. Charles (Sue) Pennington moved to the Sebring Area about four years ago. She and her husband had lived in the Virgin Islands for about 15 years before coming to Sebring and becoming involved in ranching.

Sue is one of the instructors teaching at the Highland's Art League Art Center. She recently spent six weeks on the Virgin Islands and was commissioned to do six paintings for residents of that area.

She has won the Best of Show award at the Lake Wales Art Show and awards from Barnett Bank of Lake Placid and Highlands County Fair Art Shows.

MODEL HOME FOR SALE!

(Everything furnished but your toothbrush)

Do you remember when Sun 'n Lake Estates of Lake Placid offered their Model Homes for sale? Were you one of those who were disappointed that you had missed out? The opportunity is here again. One of these Model Homes is available because its owner is not able to move to Florida. Features: 18 hole golf course in back yard, Lake Josephine in front yard, swimming pool, tennis court, Country Club, and a Holiday Inn nearby. A most unique location that would be hard to duplicate almost anywhere in Florida, which is the main reason Sun 'n Lake Estates chose this site. 5, if you like to golf, swim or just relax and watch the sun rise on the lake and set over the golf course, the opportunity is again yours.
