SSgt Sever Receives Citation For Service

Staff Sergeant James R. Sever, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sever of Avon Park was recently presented the Air Force Commendation Medal at Loring AFB, Maine. A Citation that accompanied the award stated that SSGT Sever distinguished himself by meritorious service as Antenna Tracking Operator, Detachment 2, 400th Aerospace Applications Group, Loring Air Force Base, from 30 July, 1970 to 15 February 1978. It continued by stating that during this period, SSGT Sever's leadership, outstanding system knowledge, performance under stress, and devotion to duty made invaluable contributions to this unit's superlative record of mission accomplishment. SSGT Sever's exemplary abilities applied during several, diverse mission modifications ensured continuous command and control capability of the Defense Meteorological Satellite Program satellites, critical to Strategic Air Command and Department of Defense global objectives. The distinctive accomplishments of Sergeant Sever reflects credit upon himself and the United States Air Force, it added.

SSgt Sever is a graduate of Avon Park High School and has served in the Air Force for 17 years. He is married to the former Joyce Palmer of North Carolina and is the father of two children—William and Dena.

The Severs plan upon their retirement from the Air Force after his completion of 20 years is to make Avon Park their home. James oldest Brother, William is a MSgt in the Air Force and will retire in October, at Charleston, AFB, S.C. after 24 years of service. They also plan to make their home in Florida.

Arsonist Burns Landfill Station

A fire-setting visitor to Highlands County's landfill transfer station on Shockey Road, Avon Park, destroyed one small wooden shelter trailer, burned a truck trailer filled with trash and attempted to burn a second wooden trailer.

Sheriff's deputies are investigating the incident and said the culprit jumped over the gate at the site.

The one wooden trailer was used as a shelter for workers at the station. The trash trailer was not damaged. Although the second wooden shack had been soaked with gas, it failed to burn.

Gordon, Jays Jr., county engineer, said there was about $100 worth of materials lost in the fire.

Inspector Files Suit Against Juice Plant

Florida Home Juice Co. is defendant in a civil damage suit filed by a former inspector for the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Barold L. Terzenbach of Hardee County says he was injured when struck by a forklift operating at the Florida Home Juice plant May 1, 1975. The suit, originally filed in Hillsborough County, was transferred here July 25.

Great American Insurance Co. is co-defendant in the suit. According to the complaint filed, governmental agencies which have been involved in negotiations for a settlement have "not made a good faith effort" to work out a settlement with their worker.

YOUTH FACES PRISON TERM
A 16-year-old youth faces up to seven years in state prison. The prison term was set when Mark Phillips appeared in circuit court, to be treated as an adult as he faced a robbery charge.

Phillips recently moved to Avon Park. In May he was picked up on an armed robbery charge stemming from the robbery at an Avon Park convenience store.

Judge Clifford M. Kelly, in his role as judge of the juvenile court, approved transferring the youth into adult court and ordered him held in jail without bond. In court July 24 he was adjudicated guilty of the robbery charge.

Lady Foxes Win Softball Tourney

THE LADY FOXES took top honors in the Avon Park Women's Slowpitch Softball Tournament last Thursday night at the Little League Ball Park. They also won the Frostproof Women's Invitational Slowpitch Softball Tournament with the

Coach Arnold Davis' Foxy Ladies slow pitch softball team defeated Jahna Concrete and Gammage's Angels last week to capture the 1978 Avon Park Women's Slow Pitch Softball League championship. The regular season ended in a three way tie for first place in the eleven team league.

The double elimination play-off between the three top teams began Tuesday night a week ago and finished up last Thursday night. Jahna Concrete beat Gammage's Angels in the first game of the play-off by a score of 7-1 but lost to the Foxy Ladies in the second game on Monday by a 10-2 score.

Last Thursday night the Jahna Concrete team met Gammage's Angels again in the finals against the undefeated Foxy Ladies.

Last Thursday night's final game gave the championship to the Foxy Ladies who outscored the Angels 9-5 in spite of two home runs by the Angels. Johnny Mae Griffin hit a homer in the third inning with two runners on base and then Cherry Leverson followed with a home run with no one on base to tie the game up 5-5.

However, the Foxy Ladies added two more runs in the fourth inning and two in the top of the sixth frame to take the victory and the league top spot for 1978.

Final standings in the league were: Foxy Ladies, Gammage's Angels, Jahna Concrete, Cox Plumbing, Texas, Jackie's Beauty Shop, A.P. Kids and Scott's Furniture Barn (tied), Ridge Florist and Avon Citrus Bank (tied) and Highlands Cable TV.

GAMMAGE'S ANGELS PLACED second in the Avon Park Women's Slowpitch Softball Tournament last Thursday night at the Little League Ball Park. Some of their team also played in the Frostproof Invitational tournament.

Open Racquetball Tourney To Start

The Summer Open Racquetball Tournament, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, will be played the weekends of August 19th and the 26th. The Men's and women's doubles will be played the weekend of the 19th and the following weekend will be devoted to the singles tournament.

The Recreation Department asks that all area players, in either "A" or "B" classes, that are interested in entering this tournament, please send their entry fee to the Department at P. O. Box 1467 or come by the Center to register. The fees are $2.00 per person for singles and $2.50 per person for doubles.

The tournament is open to all area players. In the past several fine players from the Lakeland area have joined in the competition. This year looks as if there will be lots of good racquetball played in this open tournament.

There will be trophies awarded to the top three places in each division plus there will be door prizes that all participants will be eligible to win. Sign up now for this fun event.

Mother-Daughter Softball Game Thursday Night

The Mother Daughter Softball Game, sponsored by the Avon Park Recreation Department, will be played this Thursday evening at 8:00, instead of Friday evening, as originally scheduled. The game will be played at the softball complex.

The daughters (13 years and older) will team up and try to win back their respect as softball players against their "mothers". The last three years have been disappointing for the daughters, as the mothers have won all three. The daughters are hoping they can put it all together this year and come out victorious.

Spectators are welcome to attend this fun event, free of charge.

Black Bass Fishing Top Participant Sport

The Florida black bass is still number one. While network television, football, basketball and baseball continue their struggle for dominance as spectator sports, fishing has long held the number one position as a participant sport. There are more fishing rods in American households than Frisbees or tennis rackets.

The ancient art of angling has always provided a true equal opportunity for employment of leisure time and recreational outlet for all sexes and all ages. Ask any fisherman and he will tell you that he would rather be a part of the action than watching the action of someone else.

The scrappy and popular pint-size bluegill probably holds top billing on the fishing scene if one evaluates hour of fishing pleasure, however, the largemouth black bass is the big league of the fishing fraternity, and is generally viewed as America's number one game fish. Even the most dedicated bluegill fisherman revels when he lands a lunker.

For the second year, attention will focus on the largemouth bass at the 1978 Big Bass Seminar scheduled for December 8-10 in Orlando. The 78 Seminar is sponsored by bass fishing organizations including the Florida Federation of Bass Chapters, the National Bass Association, the United Bass Fishermen and the American Bass Fisherman. The program is coordinated by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

According to spokesmen for the sponsoring organizations, the largemouth bass is much too valuable a resource, from both recreational and economical points of view, not to receive the direct attention and support of sportsmen and resource managers. The 78 Big Bass Seminar will provide an arena for exchange of ideas so that anglers might become familiar with bass research and management programs and biologists might receive input from fishermen.

A big bass round table review has been scheduled for Saturday morning, December 9, and will feature fishery biologists from Florida and other states. Biologists will review their programs and progress and will be followed by a general audience question and answer session.

The Big Bass Seminar planning committee is reportedly setting the stage in the 2,000 seat auditorium of the Sheraton Twin-Towers Hotel and Convention Center for maximum audience participation by locating audience participation platforms, tied into the public address system, at strategic locations. We want no question to go unanswered and we want to be sure all anglers have the opportunity to present their point of view.

Jim Floyd, program coordinator of the 78 Seminar said, "Only when there is a total exchange of communications will there be total understanding and this exchange and understanding is the real reason for the Big Bass Seminar."

Floyd commented on the seminar by saying, "Dedicated bass anglers may be prone to put the largemouth on a pedestal, however, to the man, they all contend that what's good for bass is bound to be beneficial to bluegill, and regardless of an angler's fishing preference, a progressive program of bass research and management will pay dividends for bream fishermen."

The seminar planning committee said the three day bass event will not be limited to biological discussions and the program included some of America's top anglers selected for the popular "how to catch'em sessions. Included in the program will be a fishing contest, demonstrations of casting and angling skills, display and exhibits of fishing tackle and equipment, a big bass theater and a Saturday night banquet with top quality entertainment.

Anglers wishing to attend the Big Bass Seminar should write Big Bass Seminar, P.O. Box 15602, Orlando, Fla. 32856 for information and registration.

Batty At Five County Clean Water Meeting

David Batty, vice-president of the Environmental Council of Highlands County represented Highlands at an informational meeting held at Ft. Pierce last Saturday. The meeting was designed to focus on the five county planning area for water clean up in which Highlands is joined by the counties of Okeechobee, Indian River, St. Lucie, and Martin.

The meeting brought elected officials, specialists in water problems and a number of interested citizens together, to get and give information, on water problems in their areas.

Nancy Huey, Commissioner, City of Cocoa Beach, sent invitations to all elected officials to attend the meeting and advised that Highlands County elected officials be encouraged to participate in the informational meetings, as these officials will be involved in making the state plan.

Highlands County is responsible for clean-cut plan, mandated by Water Quality, Sec. 306, of the Federal Air and Water Pollution Act, passed in 1972, to maintain and improve the quality of water as our part of the nation's goal for making rivers and lakes clean enough to swim and fish in by 1983.

Speakers included representatives from South Florida Water Management District, U.S. Environmental Resources, Commissioner Nancy Huey, City of Cocoa Beach and Pat Settles, local council, General Development Co.

Batty encourages each citizen of Highlands County to ask their elected officials to become personally informed and interested in making a successful plan for our county and, at the same time, let your own ideas be known about how a water clean-up plan can be developed for Highlands.

Highlands County residents are invited to participate in action groups for water clean up such as the Environmental Council of Highlands county.

Hydrilla Worst Than Hyacinth

Department of Natural Resources' Executive Director Harmon Shields said Friday, research on the white amur, also known as grass carp, is being expanded as a technique of controlling hydrilla.

Shields said new studies will concentrate on combining chemical and mechanical means to control the initial infestation, then add white amur to maintain control and prevent rapid regrowth of the problem hydrilla.

According to Shields, past studies have shown the grass carp to be a sound, effective means of controlling the aquatic plant.

The DNR executive director said the 1978 "Bill" Fulford, D-Orlando, allocated $2,000,000 to the Department to conduct large-scale demonstration tests of white amur in conjunction with other methods of control.

Shields said hydrilla, an underwater type of plant, surpassed the common water hyacinth as Florida's number one aquatic plant problem.

A recent trip to European countries and the USSR by DNR, University of Florida and U. S. Department of the Interior scientists, confirmed the extensive uses of white amur in those areas and the improbability of natural repopulation of the fish in Florida. Shields said, however, that most work conducted to date has been in small ponds or lakes, where the white amur was used in conjunction with chemical or mechanical control. In studies of larger lakes the amur has not as yet been studied in combination with other methods of control.

The primary technique utilized today to control hydrilla, he said, is chemical weed control agents. But he added that these are expensive, and control must be conducted annually because they are ineffective at controlling the small reproductive tuber produced by hydrilla.

Regrowth following treatment is often shown to be rapid. Studies until now also indicate it may take between 250 pounds and 300 pounds per acre of white amur to control a complete infestation of hydrilla, but after treatment with conventional mechanical or chemical methods, regrowth of hydrilla can be maintained with a tenfold reduction of white amur.

Several lakes in the Central Florida and Orlando area, such as Clear, Little Lake Fairview and Mann, are to be evaluated for possible inclusion in the program, Shields said.

4-H's To Hold Safety Course

The Highlands County 4-H is presenting a course on "Hunter and Fire Arms Safety."

The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will provide an instructor, and materials for the safety course.

This course is recognized in all 50 states and Canada and is required in 24 states before purchasing a hunting license. Dates for this course will be every Tuesday evening beginning on September 5 and ending October 10, 1978.

The 2 hour classes will begin at 7:00 p.m. at the Agriculture-Civic Center on U. S. Highway 27 South, Sebring.

The classes are geared to parent and child teams. The age group preferred is 12 years or older. Mothers, fathers, and older sisters are encouraged to take the classes as it will instill a knowledge of the outdoors and develop a positive manner in the handling of firearms. There will be a quota of 40 students for the course.

Pre-enrollment for the course is required. The first 20 parent-child teams will be enrolled. Please call the Extension Office for enrollment. Others wishing to take the course will be placed on a waiting list. If the quota is not filled by parent-child teams - those on the waiting list will be notified.

If you have any questions please call the Extension office, Mr. Rubio or Mrs. Peppers will be glad to explain further.

Extension programs are open to all, regardless of race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Republican Gubernatorial Primary

Jack Eckerd

Jack Eckerd may be the first candidate for governor in Florida history to have a city council endorsement, even if it is unofficial.

Sweetwater Mayor Jorge Valdez, a Republican and early Eckerd supporter, has persuaded three Democratic councilmen to switch their registration to Republican and actively support Eckerd.

Eckerd was personally on hand for the ceremonies as the leaders of the suburban Miami city officially made their change of parties.

"Maybe you can't fight City Hall, but you sure can join it," Eckerd quipped.

Changing parties and joining Mayor Valdez in his support of Eckerd were Vice Mayor Tony Duran, and Councilmen John Schmidt and Raul Perayera. The three were joined in their move by former Councilman Jerry Pucci, who ran against Mayor Valdez in the last election and lost.

Mayor Valdez explained the mass re-registration, saying that after he was elected "we got comparing notes and we found that even though we were in different parties, our philosophies of government were the same."

"Then we found that we all favored Jack Eckerd for Governor," Valdez said.

"We wanted to be able to vote for Jack in the primary, rather than wait until November," explained Vice Mayor Duran, "so we got the idea of all re-registering together and making a public endorsement of Jack."

Eckerd said, "With men as determined and dedicated as these on our side, I'm more and more certain we're going to win in November."

Democratic Gubernatorial Primary

Bob Graham

Bob Graham, the Democratic candidate for governor, today said Florida's public school system is a victim of neglect, ineffective leadership and lack of resources and pledged that as governor improved funding of educational programs would receive the highest priority in his administration.

Graham, making a series of appearances throughout the state said, "The quality of public education in Florida has sunk dramatically in the last five years. This slide has been the result of neglect by state leaders—neglect of commitment, neglect of effective leadership and neglect of resources."

Graham, who has served in the Florida legislature for the past 12 years, is considered one of the foremost advocates for improved public education in the state.

He said in statements in Miami, Tampa, and Orlando that he is "committed to re-establishing the quality of education which we once had in this state." Graham outlined his program to bring quality education to Florida, saying as governor he pledges the following:

Students shall have quality teachers and other learning tools so each child can reach his or her potential.

Graham pledges that his goal was that at least 95 per cent of Florida's students will pass the state's new functional literacy test.

By the end of his term in office, the state will assume 75 per cent of the funding of public education programs—up from the present total of 50 per cent.

Students and teachers will be guaranteed schools which are safe and violence free.

Local control over schools shall be increased. Graham promised that he would review all regulations which restrict local autonomy and have those regulations eliminated.

Graham, 41, a builder, cattleman and dairy farmer, has been working at a variety of jobs throughout the state to better understand the concerns of the people. His first job was a teacher at Carol City Senior High School in the fall of 1974. He has also worked as a teacher's aide in a retardation program in Orange County, a professor at Florida A&M University and at a day care center for migrant farm workers in Homestead.

Democratic Gubernatorial Primary

Hans Tanzler

Mayor Hans Tanzler recently recommended to the Jacksonville City Council that it cut property taxes next year and issued a stern warning to city employees that "any precipitous actions which may have the effect of disrupting vital services" will not be tolerated.

In his eleventh budget message, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Tanzler said, "We don't have a blank check from the taxpayers. In these perilous inflationary times, our citizens can't stand a tax increase. We can and will operate this government without one." Tanzler's recommended cut of 14 mill is the eleventh consecutive time he has called for a tax cut. If adopted by Council, Consolidated Jacksonville would remain under 10 mills, less than half of the 20 mills permitted by state law.

There is presently a petition circulating to put a proposal similar to Proposition 13 on the ballot in November," he said. Such a measure, which would cut the property tax cap in half, "would be tragic for most of the rest of the state, but not for Jacksonville."

On the eve of Tanzler's budget message, Jacksonville firefighter union officials were threatening employee action similar to the ones used earlier in Memphis and Louisville which resulted in arson and violence. Tanzler, apparently addressing that issue, told the Council that he intends to abide by President Carter's anti-inflationary request and put a 5½ per cent ceiling on all salary increases. "I do not intend to blackmail; I do not intend to ignore the law and take a soft line on any action of that nature. We fully respect the rights of our employees to bargain collectively and are honor bound to negotiate in good faith at all times, but," he warned, "I think I should make it perfectly clear that we will not tolerate precipitous actions by any group of employees for any reasons. We owe our citizens and the people who must pay these taxes no less." Later he said that striking employees would be fired.

Building to renew vehicle license tags last week. Sunphoto by Lew Miller.

Auto Tags Available Here

"It's a convenience to be able to get auto and truck license plates in Avon Park," stated Fred Jahna as he brought in a packet of 32 Florida Vehicle Registration certificates to renew license plates with Mrs. Judy Mundt of the Highlands County Tag Agency at the County Building on South Lake Avenue.

We can do everything here they do at the Courthouse Tag Agency, such as transfer titles, transfer tags, renew registrations and also dealer's work, stated Judy, who is at the County Building from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday every week.

However the Avon Park Tag office will be closed August 8-10 as Judy will be on vacation.

The letter designations on the new tags has no particular meaning in so far as any geographic area, Judy said. All of these tags that were issued to Highlands County have been used and the county must now use up all of the 27 numbered tags that are on hand which is mostly tractor-trailer and grove equipment tags. Where applicable renewal stickers are being issued for placing on the old license plate.

As of October 1, the Tag Agency will be transferred to the Highlands County Tax Collector's office. Judy said that the heaviest month for tags was in June, however, if Avon Park residents do not use the Tag office on Lake Ave., it may not be necessary to keep the office open with local residents having to travel to Sebring to obtain their vehicles license plates.

School Addition Ready By 28th

Progress and in some cases the lack of it, was reported on additions at Fred Wild Elementary School and Sebring High School at a special Highlands County Board of Education meeting.

While it is expected that the addition at Fred Wild will be ready for use by Aug. 28, the day school opens, project architect Joe Pavelchak doesn't expect the high school business wing to be finished. A two-week delay in this work is expected.

Lighting fixtures ordered for both projects aren't expected to arrive until the 11th hour, apparently because orders weren't placed by the contractor early enough and a change in ownership of the lighting equipment supplier resulted in losing one of the orders.

Until the lights are installed, ceiling tile placement and some other work must wait.

Board Member Steve Roberts asked if there is any way of riding the contractor harder.

Pavelchak said he has been riding the contractor, threatening "No work, no money." Concrete System, Inc. of Lakeland is project contractor.

Meanwhile, the board heard a report from Superintendent Dr. Dan Davis that major electrical lines will have to be re-located in the area of the new Sebring Middle School project. It will take Sebring Utilities about three weeks before the work is finished and major site preparation at the school can begin.

Yet another building project was discussed, a new maintenance and food storage facility to be built near the George Douglas Administration Bldg.

Pavelchak recommended the board accept a bid of $428,786 from Fussell Steel Buildings of LaBelle.

Deferring final action until the regular meeting Tuesday, to allow time to review financial records of the firm, the board declared Fussell to be the apparent low bidder.

The board also wanted a check on the legality of obligating funds for the project at this stage of the fiscal year.

Board Attorney James McCollum was asked to explore laws relating to this area.

Race track revenues are to be used to finance construction.

average is only $15. On the east coast densely populated Broward County has an average of $26 per capita while Dade County has a whopping $12 average.

The county also ranks relatively high in the state in the percentage value of tax-exempt land.

According to the 1976-79 tax roll, the total value of land in the county is close to a billion dollars, amounting to $919,491,250. However the total taxable value of the land only amounts to $549,274,810.

Approximately $270 million worth of land in the county is tax-exempt. If the exemptions were lifted about $4,700,000 more in taxes could be collected.

However, a good portion of the tax-exempt land belongs to government institutions, such as the Avon Park Correctional Institution and the Avon Park Bombing Range. Other tax-exempt land would include all local schools and such institutions as the state-owned South Florida Junior College.

In the category of the average statewide county millage, Highlands County is lower than the state average, assessing an average of 17.1 mills compared to the statewide average of 20 mills.

The millage means the average tax rate for every $1,000 of assessed property is $1.71.

The average millage per $1,000 of assessed land is obtained by dividing the total taxable value which, in Highlands County, was $607,543,308 (1977 figure) by the total amount of all taxes levied. In Highlands County the latter figure was approximately $10.3 million.

The highest county in the state in regard to the average millage was Alachua County with its average millage list at 24.37. Alachua also had almost half of its total land value tax-exempt due to the existence of such tax-exempt institutions as the University of Florida, Santa Fe Junior College plus other government agencies located in the county.

However, even though Alachua County was the highest in the average county millage, the county was directly on line in the average per capita property tax paid.

The figure was $191.79 in Alachua County, slightly above the state average but well below Highlands County figure of $245.

Some other sample average millage rates include 22.99 mills for Palm Beach County, 18.83 for Duval County, 15.50 for Bradford, 16.74 for Columbia, 22.86 for Hillsborough, 20.29 for Swannee and 20.47 for Volusia.

The county-wide millage paid in Highlands County is also above the average of the state's 67 counties. Citizens pay close to 16 mills in taxes. The school board taxes 8 mills, the county commission taxes 5 mills, Highlands General Hospital levels a .91 mill tax and two water management districts in the county also level part of a mill.

The water management districts cover different areas in Highlands County so it would depend on where a citizen lives as to his exact millage total.

This is not including any city tax millage, such as the citizens of Avon Park, Sebring or Lake Placid would pay. The highest county-wide millage in the state is paid in Hendry County which has a 19.16 rate.

Alachua County, the highest in average county millage, is fifth in the state in county-wide millage at 17.42 mills.

Richard Peavy

Peavy Heads For South Carolina

Richard Peavy, executive director of local housing authority, will leave the city for a new job this week but not before "having made good strides in upgrading the quality of our housing units and better maintaining the units we have."

Peavy, who has been with the housing authority for over three years, said some of the job was frustrating but that he did believe a good deal of progress had been made in that time.

"Before I came there wasn't a full time director. Because of that the records were not kept up totally, some of the annual re-examinations were not carried out," he said.

A better record of keeping the statistical reports "that HUD gets carried away with sometimes" was also established. Peavy also said the maintenance of the housing units had improved over the years.

"We had a too informal system of keeping records and buying materials. Sometimes, because of that, we didn't get the best quality merchandise. Now we have an elaborate purchase order system. Only buy after a number of comparisons of prices."

There are approximately 400 people in the authority's housing units, with about 350 people living in family units and the remaining number residing in units built for the elderly.

"I think Avon Park is doing better than the other two cities in the county in helping with housing assistance. We have the only housing authority in the county. You don't build housing just to be building it, you build it because there's a need."

"You can't tell me a city the size of Sebring doesn't have some need for some type of housing assistance," he said.

The local authority is presently preparing a study of housing needs in Avon Park.

"I hope for a more coordinated effort by the city and I see a favorable situation. There's no use building low cost housing and letting the same old housing exist. You need to have the landlords either fix it up or just tear it down. It's silly to put up sidewalks and curbing around dilapidated housing. I hope the survey results will help us know how many additional units are needed."

The survey should be complete in mid or late September. "Many elderly people cannot compete in the housing market. But most, as long as they can maintain their independence, are happier."

"As for the family units we provide housing for most of the citrus and citrus-related labor in the area. You have a family where a man might work pretty well for nine months and then can't find a job. If his rent was based on his income he'd be in a rough situation," Peavy said.

Peavy said he wasn't leaving because he was displeased with his job or with the city but because of a better and more challenging position had been offered. He will take over an executive position of a regional housing authority located in South Carolina.

would be $10,984,115, up $1,145,067 from this year's $9,839,048.

Extent of the increase would go into salaries, benefits and materials and supplies. The local contribution to capital outlay did dip over $250,000 from $400,631 to $140,442.

In addition to greater property tax revenues, the preliminary budget figures also anticipate a $455,581 increase in state funds coming to the county.

In addition to the nearly $11 million operating budget, the proposed $25 million school budget includes $4,701,236 for debt service and an $8 million building fund, part of which is earmarked for the new Avon Park Middle School.

Also included is $1,281,402 budgeted for federal projects and food service, up $155,000 from last year.

Under this funding category, the schools anticipate $580,472 more revenue from the federal government

Man Charged With Grand Theft

A complaint by a woman that Frank "Nick" Ripa of 900 North Lake Ave. and Kendall Blvd., had her government check and refused to return it led to a raid on Ripa's apartment last Wednesday night.

Acting on the complaint, Sgt. Roy Hickman and Patrolman Ray Ragdale went to the apartment and arrested Ripa for tampering with the United States Mail. After placing the subject in a patrol car for transporting to the city jail, the officers asked the subject for permission to search the apartment as they had detected a strong odor of marijuana.

Ripa refused to give the officers permission to search the apartment. He was informed of his rights and informed that a search warrant should be obtained, whereupon the subject was reported to have told the police officers, if you're going to get a search warrant you'll find it anyway, so I'll show you my mushrooms in the bathroom.

Upon entering the apartment Sgt. Hickman was reported to have found the government check envelope opened and other U.S. Mail opened and in Ripa's possession.

Police officers also found a 17 year old male juvenile in the apartment, who was taken to the Avon Park Police Department and later released to his mother.

In their search of the apartment the officers were reported to have confiscated several knives, a straight razor, brass "knucks" and a 22 magnum pistol.

In booking Ripa, a white male 22 years of age from Arcadia, Police found that he had served time in DeSoto County for larceny and was a convicted felon on probation. Ripa was charged with grand theft, with a bond set at $1012 possession of cannabis, with a bond of $512; and possession of psilocybe (mushrooms) with a bond of $512 set.

Other charges still pending are: Tampering with the U.S. Mail, by the U.S. Secret Service; possession of firearms by a convicted felon and the possession of weapons-knives and razor. Brooks the place had frequently been visited by juveniles, who had left the apartment before the police officers had arrived.

'Plenty Of Gas' At Local Stations

"We have plenty of gas," is the word from most Avon Park service stations.

Local gas station operators contacted by the Sun reported the strike by independent truckers against two Tampa gas brokers, McKenzie Tank Lines and Fleet Transport, are having little or no effect on deliveries here.

Many of the station managers said their companies have at least some of their own trucks. Of the stations served by independent drivers, some said they were being supplied by drivers not affected by the strike, and one said he was being supplied by a "couple of independents in town."

Only one of the eight service stations included in our survey, Jim's Service Center, indicated he had missed any deliveries. That was last week, and a delivery was expected Tuesday, the owner's son said.

"We have a tanker right here," Roger Stimson, manager of Young's Gulf Service reported Tuesday afternoon.

He said his station is served by a company not being struck, as well as by Gulf's own fleet.

"We haven't been affected yet," reported Ronnie Laye, of Laye's Standard. "Standard Oil has some of their own trucks, so they don't depend on Fleet entirely."

Lake Stearns Right-Of-Way Vacated

Despite some protest from area residents, Highlands County Commissioners agreed to vacate a portion of right of way on Lake Stearns Drive to provide additional space for development of property on the north side of the road.

H. C. Collins, represented by his attorney James L. Tompkins, asked for the vacation at Tuesday's regular meeting.

Tompkins told the board there are some portions of the land that are too small to develop because of the excessive amount of right of way along Lake Stearns Drive. The right of way is 66 feet there, while on other roads it is only 50 feet.

Another problem with the property is that when S.R. 621 was rerouted, the amount of space for development was further reduced.

Tompkins requested 16 feet of right of way be vacated to enlarge the Collins property. Harry Gibbs presented a petition signed by 11 residents who protested the vacation. He said he felt that the right of way should be divided up between property owners on each side of the road.

"I don't see why a real estate man should come in and take 16 feet of right of way," he said. He added the change would crowd lake-side property that lies on the south side of the roadway.

One man was concerned that the road would be closed, but the board assured him that the vacation would not result in a road closing.

Unanimous approval was given to the request.

While seeking for one roadway vacation, the board set Sept. 12 for public hearings on proposals to vacate portions of streets in Grayce's Mobile Estates addition, closing a portion of a road in Highway Park and closing a portion of road in Kenilworth Heights.

A request from Lake Placid's Interlakes Academy for flashing warning lights and crosswalks on Interlake Blvd. will be reviewed by the county attorney before final action.

Commissioner Cecil Skipper said he has learned from the Florida Petroleum Council that there is a lot of administrative red tape involved in the nine-cent gas tax. The board has placed a request for a penny-per-gallon increase on the fall ballot.

Police Recover Grove Equipment

The Avon Park Police Department acting on information supplied by the Highlands County Sheriff Department recovered two grove goats, ladders and baskets valued at approximately $50,000 as the suspects tried to sell the equipment and then fled from the area last week.

It was reported to the Highlands County Sheriff's Department that a green grove goat with a white boom stolen from the St. Lucie Grove Caretakers, near Ft. Pierce, was in the Lake Placid area on Monday of last week.

Tuesday afternoon about 1:00 p.m. the Avon Park Police Department received a call from the Sheriff's Department that the goat was in the Avon Park area. The suspects had stopped at a local fruit contractor's place and were trying to sell the vehicle and equipment. The contractor had in turn called the Sheriff's office.

Four police cars covered on the area with Patrolman Steve Ferguson seeing the goat and taking possession of it, while Capt. Frank Cratty, Sgt. Ron Smith and Chief Bob Brooks searched the area where the suspects had been seen running. After further investigation it was found that three black males and a black female had picked up two suspects and had left the area.

Further search revealed that two goats had been stolen with one being hidden behind a trailer at the fruit contractor's location. The owner had not missed the second goat.

The Avon Park Police Department and the Highlands County Sheriff's Department are still investigating with strong leads as to the suspects with arrests expected to be made in the near future.

Besides the two goats recovered there were 22 baskets and 10 ladders recovered. The goats were equipped with hydro-boom lifts.

male, Jerry O'Neal Lawson was booked for DWI; reckless and wanton driving; attempting to flee and elude police officers.

Lawson was released on $600 bond.

Reckless Driving Charge Ends High Speed Chase

Avon Park Police Officer Leo Bronsing, when starting on his midnight patrol Wednesday night observed a speeding car going east on S.R. 64. The car turned north on U.S. 27 in the southbound lane. Officer Bronsing chased the car north at speeds up to 90 miles per hour.

At the vicinity of Walker Memorial Hospital the car made a U-turn with the driver heading south on U.S. 27 and turning into the Pine Acres Motel.

Jumping out of the car, the driver attempted to enter the motel, but was apprehended by officers. The driver a white

Food For Thought

How about an eating club? Can you imagine a project more edifying and entertaining than dining successfully in Italian, Moroccan, Greek, Next month community organizations take up where they left off last May, seeking programs that at once inform their membership and engage their creative talents. These still searching for such a project will find the blueprints in the hands of four Gainesville women.

Ann Hedinger and Martha Woeste, half of that quartet, charted the course last season of the Gourmet Club within the University of Florida Women's Club. The other half, Karan Popper and Carol Hardy, will pilot the ship next year—or should I say, preside over the kettle?

Ann and her physicist husband Bob leave Gainesville for New Jersey towards the end of this month. But before she started packing, Ann detailed activities that might well be copied by other groups in other places. In her words:

"Last fall about 65 people elected to join the Gourmet Club. They included husbands of members belonging to the parent organization, open to any woman connected with the university by occupation or marriage.

"For each month we planned a dinner with appropriate recipes devoted to a single foreign cuisine. We used cookbooks, especially those in the Time-Life series, and consulted members who had lived in the country we were studying.

"Usually we divided into smaller groups, eating the same menu on the same night at three or four or five different houses. Each couple brought a dish, letting their hostess know in advance what they had planned to cook.

"The benefits were many: We enjoyed a complete, not to say complex, ethnic dinner while having to prepare only one part of it. We explored foods that would have been difficult, and frequently impossible, to find in Florida restaurants. And we dined sumptuously at a cost that was half—or less—of what we would have paid had we eaten in a public place.

"Apart from the food, we had the fun of meeting people from many areas of activity.

"The season started in October, Ann continued, with a wine and hors d'oeuvre tasting for the entire membership, at which the year's project was discussed. It concluded in June with an outdoor fete, again for the whole group, cooked solely by the men, who served forth a barbecued goat and a suckling pig along with barbecued shrimp, smoked mackerel, roasted corn on the cob, watermelon, assorted cheeses and champagne.

"What were the most popular foreign dinners? "Many people like the Greek menu the best," Ann replied. She added, "But almost as many applauded the Creole meal. Both were excellent." There were also feasts devoted to Chinese, Moroccan, Mexican and Italian cookery.

Ann's comments on individual dishes went like this: "The cannelloni at the Italian meal was one of the best things I have ever eaten ...

"The Creole gumbo of shrimp, crab and okra was expensive but worth it ...

"The Creole flaming coffee (café brûlé) was dramatic and delectable ...

"The Greek egg and lemon soup was simply fantastic ...

"The Moroccan bisteeya was involved to prepare but heavenly to eat."

Apparently, in the interests of authenticity, the members did not spare themselves any pains. The bisteeya is done with those pastry leaves known as phyllo (similar to strudel pastry), available in some frozen-food cases. The recipe lists 20 ingredients, including chicken and almonds, and in typewritten form runs to one and one-third pages, in single-space elite type.

The dish—a kind of hot pie—was presented not, as one might expect after so much labor, as a main course but rather as an appetizer.

What's in store for next season? Karan said that would be dictated by the Gourmet Club membership. Would there be a duplication of a foreign cuisine? Yes, she replied, if votes were cast in its favor. After all, a single dinner does not sum up the entire body of a country's cookery. Following are my adaptations of some of the recipes followed last season:

MOROCCAN SALAD

Moroccan salads are like Italian antipasti—designed to "inspire" the appetite.

1 (6-ounce) package radishes
2 medium navel oranges
3 tablespoons strained fresh

lemon juice
1 tablespoon sugar
Pinch salt
1 Wash and trim radishes; grate coarsely in a food processor or blender.
2 Peel oranges, removing all white membrane. Holding fruit over a bowl to catch the juice, cut along the side of each membrane to the core. Lift out segments as they are freed; reserve orange juice for other use.

3. Blend lemon juice with sugar and salt; stir to dissolve them.
4. Combine radishes, oranges and lemon juice; toss lightly together.
Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

ITALIAN BREAD STICKS
3 to 3½ cups unsoftened flour
¼ teaspoon sugar
1½ teaspoons salt

2 packages active dry yeast
1 tablespoon softened margarine
1½ cups very warm water (120-130 degrees)
1 egg white
1 tablespoon water
Toasted sesame seeds or poppy seeds
1. In the large bowl of the electric mixer stir together 1 cup flour, sugar salt and yeast. Add margarine.

2. Add water; beat 2 minutes at medium speed of mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add ½ cup flour; beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally.
3. Stir in enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a lightly floured surface. Knead dough till smooth, satiny and "bouncy," or about 8 minutes.
4. Cut dough in 16 equal portions. With the fingers break each portion into 3 parts. Roll each part between the palms into a 6-inch stick. Set on a greased baking sheet. Cover with a cloth. Let rise about 20 minutes, or till almost double in bulk.

5. Combine egg white and water; beat just enough to blend. Brush on sticks. Sprinkle with the sesame and/or poppy seeds.

6. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven about 20 minutes, or till golden brown. Cut 1 inch wide racks.
Yield: 48 sticks.

Note: After the dough has been formed in sticks, it may be frozen on baking sheets, then removed when hard and stored in plastic bags at 4 weeks.

Lively Living by Betty Amburn Society Editor

The Avon Park Sun, Aug. 10, 1978 18

Practicing CPR Can Be A Life Saver

Monday, August 6, three separate accidents occurred, two of them fatal, in the small town of Avon Park.

In one incident, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee were entertaining friends with an informal party celebrating their son Gary's graduation from Fla. Tech.

Gary had some of his high school chums plus a few of his college friends around, and his fiancée Kate. The guest were carrying on chitchat and the younger generation decided to put some records on the stereo and began to dance. Soon everyone was on the dance floor at one time or another.

At approximately 10 p.m. the party was going full swing and everyone seemed to be having a good time. About thirty minutes later Charles noticed that Bill Art, a business associate had retired to the Davenport, a few minutes later he was slumped over and seemed to be sound asleep. Instead of awakening him, but Bill never awakened; he had a cardiac arrest.

Charles and Bill's family just couldn't believe the tragedy of what had happened nor could they understand it. Bill was such a healthy young man, in his early thirties. "He was such a health fanatic," said his wife Doris, "I just don't understand it," she added.

In another part of the city Janie, 15 year old daughter of Jack and Mary Walton decided she would take a swim before retiring for the night. Now, Janie was no expert swimmer, but she could handle herself pretty well in the water. She jumped off the diving board with a cannonball, came to the surface and swam over to the edge of the pool where her father sat in a lounge chair reading one of his favorite books.

It was a brisk evening with the wind blowing, and a slight chill was in the air. Jack talked with his daughter for a few minutes and decided to retire for the night. As he entered their modest but gracious home, he cautioned Janie about staying too long in the water and reminded her of the big day they had planned for tomorrow. Janie just smiled and turned over and did a back float to the other end of the pool. "How could she forget, she thought to herself." "They were finally going to let her drive the family car." Suddenly, she developed a severe cramp in her upper thigh. She cried for help, but there was no one nearby to hear her frantic pleas. Her father was in the shower and her mother was watching a movie on the television.

Elizabeth (Liz) McKenzie was babysitting four year old Stephanie McKay for a couple of hours while Mrs.

Kathy McKay went shopping. Liz really enjoyed watching Stephanie, as she was such a cute little girl. A little on the chubby side but very inquisitive. The two of them were sitting on the carpet in the family room, popping plastic beads and joining them back together again, red with red and yellow with yellow and etc., when the telephone rang; it was Terri a friend of Liz's. She had gotten the McKay's number from Liz's brother Tom when she had called Liz's home. The phone was in the family room on the end table, so Liz plopped down in a big overstuffed chair, keeping one eye on Stephanie while she and Terri carried on a general conversation about what they were going to do tomorrow. All at once she heard Stephanie choking, she took one good look at Stephanie and threw the phone down, grabbed her and began pounding her on the back. Stephanie had put one of the beads in her mouth and it was lodged in her throat. The pounding wasn't doing any good, then she remembered something she had seen on a TV program that very afternoon so she turned Stephanie over and wrapped her arms around her waist, made a fist with her hands and pressed against Stephanie's abdomen with quick upward thrust as she had seen on the program. After three quick thrusts the bead became dislodged.

The TV program Liz had seen was sketches on CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation), and the quick reaction of the young teenager had saved the life of young Stephanie.

Could not possible all the lives in this article been saved, if someone were around to notice and knew the CPR technique of saving a person's life. The American Heart Association in cooperation with South Florida Junior College and Emergency Medical Technicians of the EMS of Highlands County demonstrate and teach classes periodically on CPR, throughout the Highlands County area. If you have not attended one of these courses, maybe you should. The life you might save could be a member of your family or a close friend, and possible a stranger you have never met before.

All names are fictitious and all situations were hypothetical in the stories written above.

If you see a person slumped over in a chair, couch, park bench, or etc., it doesn't necessarily mean that they are just taking a snooze. Check to make sure, ask they are o.k., if no response, check to see if the person is breathing. Then follow the procedures of CPR.

First of all, everyone should be safety conscience, and this means do not go swimming alone, even if it is in your back yard pool. Always use the buddy system.

When attempting to rescue a drowning victim, the rescuer should get to the victim as quickly as possible. The rescuer must exercise care not to endanger himself while trying to aid a drowning victim. Artificial ventilation should be started as soon as possible, even before the victim is removed out of the water, in to a boat or on a surfboard. Although it is difficult, states the American Heart Association booklet on CPR, mouth to mouth ventilation may be performed in the water when the rescuer can stand in shallow water or in deep water if the rescuer has some type of flotation device to support the victim's head.

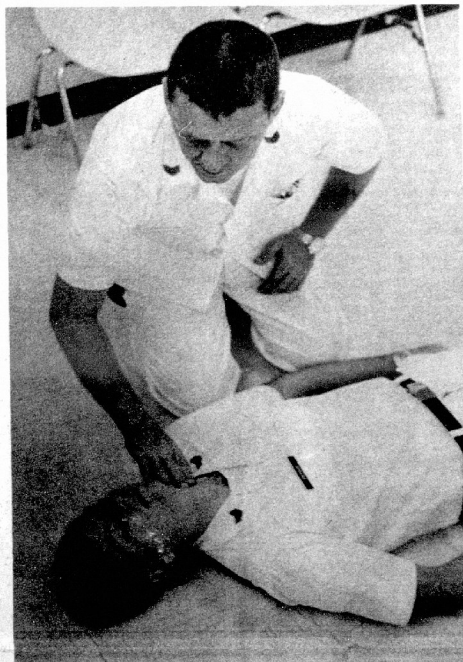

When removed from the water, the victim should have standard artificial ventilation or CPR performed. External cardiac compressions cannot be performed effectively in the water, it adds. Drowning victims swallow large amounts of water and their stomachs usually become distended. This impairs ventilation and circulation and should be eliminated as soon as possible. To relieve the distension, the victim may be turned on his side and upper abdomen compressed or he may be turned over quickly in the prone position and lifted with the rescuer's hands under the stomach to force water out. Wipe out the mouth quickly and continue CPR. There is no need to worry about water in the lungs in performing CPR. No delay should be made in moving the victim to a life support unit where advanced life support capabilities are available.

Complete airway obstruction is recognized when a victim who is eating, or has just finished eating, is suddenly unable to speak or cough, even when asked, "can you speak?" The victim may clutch his throat in the choking distress signal. He may appear dusky in color, and show exaggerated effort to breathe without any air movement. Prompt action is urgent, preferably while the victim is still conscious. The victim may be either sitting or standing. Position yourself behind the victim; if he is standing, brace yourself to help support his weight.

Deliver four sharp blows rapidly and forcefully to the spine between the shoulder blades with the heel of your hand; support the victim's chest with your other hand.

If this fails to clear the obstruction, follow with four abdominal thrusts. With the victim sitting or standing wrap your arms around his waist. Make a fist, place the thumb side of your fist against the victim's abdomen, slightly above the navel and below the xiphoid. Grasp your fist with the other hand. Press your fist into the victim's abdomen with a quick upward thrust. The chair back or your body may support the victim when you do the thrust. The action is with the hands; the arms do not press on the ribs. Repeat the four blows and four thrusts in rapid sequence until the obstruction is cleared or the person becomes unconscious from the lack of oxygen.

As the victim loses consciousness, his muscles relax and your efforts may be effective in dislodging the obstruction.

SGT BOB GRIMWOOD, a emergency medical technician demonstrates the fastest and easiest way to find and check a pulse on an unconscious person. Sgt. James Perdue, TDY from MacDill AFB is a willing victim for this demonstration.

SGT GRIMWOOD DEMONSTRATES the correct way to administer CPR, after first checking for a pulse, and giving the victim four quick breaths through mouth ventilation. Emergency Medical Technician Sgt. Perdue is again the willing patient.

The combination of back blows and manual thrust is felt to be the most effective method of clearing foreign body airway obstruction. The blows produce an instantaneous pressure increase which may dislodge an obstruction while the thrust produce a more sustained pressure increase in the respiratory passages offering further assistance with dislodgement of the foreign body.

Special classes are held by the American Heart Association, Florida affiliate, in cooperation with the medical emergency technicians of EMS and South Florida Junior College and other organizations throughout the area.

If you are interested in taking the Life Support Course contact South Florida Junior College, Vocational Education Department and ask to have your name added to the list. The Medical Technicians stationed on the Bombing Range also teach CPR to all military personnel and their dependants rotating every six months. The purpose of this article is to bring your attention to the necessity of all person's learning the life saving techniques of CPR. These outlying features are here to help in case you need them, before you have time to take the U-Turn course. Extreme caution must be taken when administering these techniques, as gentle pressure in the right place is more effective than strong hard thrust in the wrong areas which could possible do more harm than good.

GRIMWOOD DEMONSTRATES THE correct method of performing mouth mouth ventilation on an inflatable dummy. Notice that the nose airways are tightly closed to prevent air from escaping.

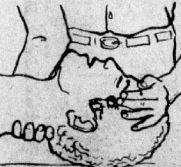

One Man Rescue - Cardiac Arrest

Recognize unconsciousness
Shake and Shout
Call for help and position the victim Rolling as a unit
time lapse 4-10 seconds

If no pulse is found, move so your knees are opposite the chest and locate the area for compression.

Open the airway
Head tilt or chin lift

Perform 15 external cardiac compressions.

Check breathing - ear over mouth Feel, listen, look
time lapse 3-5 seconds

Begin Rescue Breathing if indicated
Breathe four times rapidly
3-5 seconds time lapse

Lean over quickly, open the airway. Take a deep breath, pinch the nose, and breathe two good, quick breaths to fill the lungs.

Check carotid pulse
5-10 seconds
Have someone call an ambulance

Lean back, slide your fingers up the ribs for your landmark, reposition your hands for compression on the lower half of the sternum. Continue with the 15-2 ratio at the rate of 80 per minute. Check pulse and breathing after one minute (four cycles of 15-2).

Avon Mobile Home Park News

Word received here from the Bacon's is that they are enjoying their visit in Indiana, and then will be heading to Michigan and Wisconsin before returning here.

Helen Andrews reports that her thoughts are already centering on plans for her trip to St. Louis, Mo. to spend some time with her daughter and then on to Avon Park.

Evelyn Mausuch writes about her varied travels. At the time of her letter, she was at Niagara Falls. She planned to reach Michigan about the first of the month.

The Misheys write that Styrl's small garden is really producing and they are enjoying their fresh vegetables. The Baxters are enjoying a visit with their daughter in Scotia, N.Y. and are both well. Ruth and Larry Robinson arrived in Ohio where they are visiting a daughter, grandchildren, Ruth's brother, and other family and friends.

Kellie and Etha Larrew have their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Finley and 3 grandsons, Jeff, Eric and Brian visiting them from Gays, Ill. They are enjoying swimming and biking.

The Bakers report that they are happy in their new home but are still involved in some clean-up from their fire.

They all spent 2 days at Ft. Meyers and Venice at the beach, gathering shells and swimming. Also sight seeing in the area.

We wish everyone a good day for their picnic this Wednesday at Bourbon and you can bet our thoughts will be with you there.

Phamplet Tells How To File Claims

The U.S. Department of Labor has announced the publication of a new pamphlet telling participants in private pension and welfare plans how to file claims for their benefits. The pamphlet, entitled, "How to File a Claim for Your Benefit," outlines the steps necessary for filing a claim, tells how soon plans must issue a decision on a claim and explains what participants can do if their claim for benefits has been denied.

Copies of the pamphlet are available free of charge from: Labor Management Services Administration U.S. Department of Labor, Suite 901 111 N.W. 183 st., P. O. Box 370 Norland Branch Miami Fla. 33169 or Telephone: 305-350-5255.

Bonnie Brae News

The rec hall at Bonnie Brae has taken on a new look, thanks to Howard Malling. Howard has just finished and installed a new storage and work cabinet and plans to add the finishing work this week. This certainly going to be appreciated when we have our dinners and we thank you so much, Howard. This took a lot of work and you did a great job!

We are glad to report that Chloe Malling is home from the hospital and doing very well. Have you been supervising Howard's work, Chloe?

Bob and Carol Wells of Pompano Beach spent a week's vacation with their parents, Margie and P.D. Wells. They all played golf at Rivergreens Golf Course every day and ate out several times. On Sunday, Margie's brother and sister-in-law, Leonard and Betty Harsh of Bort Myers, visited with the group and also their parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Harsh of Avon Park.

We had a card from Thelma Miller this week saying that she was really enjoying the sea food at Cape Cod. She will be back home within a few days and will have more to report at that time.

The swimming group has dwindled in number because several members are on vacation or trips. However, the girls go swimming every

Criminal Justice

Classes Offered

By SFJC

Criminal Justice Classes being offered by South Florida Junior College at night during the fall semester are: Administration of Correctional Investigation class being offered on Thursdays from 12:00 noon until 2:30 p.m. Each is a three hours college credit class but may be taken for audit.

Administration of Correctional Institutions is a study of the principles of administration in the correctional setting. Introduction to Criminalistics is a study of the basic techniques of collection, identification, preservation and transportation of physical evidence and Criminal Investigations covers the fundamentals, principles, concepts, theory and history of investigation.

Further information about the Criminal Justice classes may be obtained from SFJC or by calling 453-6661, extension 123, in Avon Park.

Census Bureau

To Conduct

Area Survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census, Mr. Hubert Horwitz and Mrs. Elizabeth Swenson, will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of August 14-19, 1978. Thomas W. McWhirter, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Atlanta, announced today.

The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 70,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation.

For example, in June the survey indicated that of the 100.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 94.8 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 5.7 percent, the lowest in nearly four years.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

COW TOTALS CAR
An Avon Park man's car was declared a total $700 loss after it struck a cow on CR-17A Saturday.

Robert Hughes, 54, told Trooper Roy Walker that he was northbound when the cow walked into his path of his car. The cow was killed on impact. No charges were filed.

Avon Park Winter Guest Club News

Shuffleboard
July 29, with four court at play Geraldine Long, Howard Long and Kellie Larrew won three games each. August 2nd's play was rained out. The Earnest Thomases had as their guests last week, long time friends, Gordon Miner, his wife Linda and their two daughters from North Carolina. Gordon is on the executive board of North Carolina State College.

News from Michigan
Agness Dentler has returned from Michigan and brings greetings to our club from Michigan members; the McKinnons, Bernice Brown and Paul Swearingen. Paul says he is anxious to get back to Avon Park but as a grand-daughter is to be married late in August he will not come until later this month. Agness also received a card from Merrill Wilmut who heard from Henry Troutfetter that Harry Brewster, a former club member, had passed away in July, in Goshen, Ind. Another returnee is Billie Hise. She first visited a son and his family in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Then she spent some time at a brother's home near Culpepper, Va. At Weaver, Va. a family reunion was held at the home of another brother for six sisters and two brothers and their families. Billie says this was a real reunion. Then before returning to Avon Park she spent a week at a son's home in Oakton, Va. A letter to the Winter Guest Club was received this week from Florence and Don Mason from Levant, Maine. "To All You Nice Folks back There! We are having a lovely summer in Maine. The weather has been beautiful a little on the dry side at first but plenty of rains since. We went to the Maine-Florida picnic at Bucksport and saw most of the Maine folks that belong to the Winter Guest Club. We have been real busy with graduations, Weddings and Senior Citizens trips. Does not seem possible that our time here is half gone. We have had a lot of delicious strawberries and now we are enjoying raspberries and blue berries. Best wishes to all." Our hospital report this week had Lloyd Young in and out of the Jacaranda Hotel. Frank Mills is still in. All were in Walker Memorial. Four of our members enjoyed an evening out Wednesday, joining a group for dinner and good comedy "Never Too Late" at the Country Dinner Theater in St. Petersburg, Dorothy Gruber, Allene Howard, Dorothy Wilde and your reporter Ilene Kull.

In the same period, there were 10 emergency runs and two in-county transfers in Avon Park and 11 emergency runs and one in-county transfer in Lake Placid.

Elementary Spanish Offered

Elementary Spanish I will be offered on Thursday evenings and Elementary Spanish III on Tuesday evenings during the South Florida Junior College fall semester. Each is a three hour college credit course but may also be taken for audit. Spanish I is a study of the fundamentals of grammar with special emphasis upon reading, speaking and listening. Spanish III is reading in the literature and cultural history of Spanish speaking countries along with discussion and review of grammar. Spanish I & II are prerequisites for this class. Information on fall semester classes may be obtained from the Admission Office at SPJC or by calling 453-6661, extension 135, in Avon Park.

With the addition of a photo lab in the new fine arts complex, Photography has been added to the South Florida Junior College curriculum. Two classes in Photography I are scheduled to be offered during the upcoming fall semester. One class will meet from 9:00 to 9:50 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The other will meet on Tuesdays from 7:00-9:50 p.m. Photography I is a three hour college credit class but may also be taken for audit; however, these are limited enrollment classes and credit students have preference over auditors.

The course is a study of photography as an art. Some of the areas to be covered in the course are camera handling, composition, lighting, still & action photography, basic portraiture, film & print development, print finishing and enlarging.

More information may be obtained from the college or by calling 453-6661, extension 135, in Avon Park.

Planning Council To Meet

The Central Florida Regional Planning Council will meet Wednesday, Aug. 16, 1978 at 10:00 a.m. at the Hardee County Courthouse in Wauchula.

Business matters on the agenda will include the election of a secretary to replace Kent Price, with the recommendation that the secretary be selected from the Okeechobee County delegation to retain the balance of county representation.

It is recommended that the council approve the firm of Dedelow, Furman and Samuels, C.P.A.s to do the 1977-78 council audit and the approval of the final draft 200 plan.

Also on the agenda is the review and the adoption of the Overall Economic Development Plan; participation in the DeSoto County 201 planning by furnishing information; agreement between CFRPC and Gulfstream areawide council on aging and a presentation by the Southwest Florida Water Management District on the Lower Peace Regional Water Supply Study.

BARREL ROLLED OUT
Connie Pearl of Avon Park Lakes told Highlands County sheriff's deputies that a barrel valued at $50 was taken from the front porch of her house. Apparently the culprit walked into the yard, up to the porch and removed the barrel.

The Living Word

By Rev. Arnold P. Smith

Although I pray, I don't get answers. I'm about to quit believing in God at all, a reader writes.

Prayer is one of the vital keys to our relationship with God; and, as you imply, whether or not we get answers to them will often indicate our standing with Him. The most important aspect of prayer, however, is not asking and receiving, but rather, simply communicating with our Heavenly Father.

Jesus taught the disciples to pray in Matt. 6. Many facts are brought out in this passage: 1) The Father wants to answer our prayers and meet our needs; 2) Prayer should be based upon a personal relationship with our Father in Heaven; 3) Before we can expect to have a clear channel of communication with our Father, we need to be free from problems of unforgiveness and bitterness with others; 4) When we pray, we will receive the answer we prayed for.

James 4:2, 3 says we too often ask for things pleasing only to ourselves, without considering what might please God. Too many people who have no personal relationship with God, who have no intention of living for Him, or as He tells us to in His Word, want to pray and get from God, without ever giving thought to what He would desire of them.

Anyone who gets consistent answers to prayer will be one who has given his life to Jesus, who is being obedient to God's will, and who knows the Lord well enough to pray in accordance to God's will, and expect and receive the answers with thanksgiving and praise. How terribly short of this model most of us fall so much of the time.

John 14:21 gives us the key to receiving from God probably as well as any verse of scripture. "He that has my commandments, and keeps them, he it is that loves me; and he that loves me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest (make myself real) myself to him." If we put His will first, even as we pray, we'll experience His love, and answers to our prayers.

For answers to your questions, please write to Rev. Arnold Smith, care of this newspaper, Avon Park Sun, P.O. Box 1117, Avon Park, Fla. 33825. God Bless You.

The airman is a 1977 graduate of Cambell County High School, Gillette, Wyo.

Rev. Fraser

Reviews The Reign Of Paul VI

By Rev. George Fraser, Pastor of Lady of Grace Catholic Church, Avon Park

Paul VI brought the 2nd Vatican Council to an end in 1965. It had three main effects on the Catholic Church. First, a return to the Bible. Second, the development of Church doctrine and Third, spiritual elements take precedence over the human and material elements. Jesus Christ is the "Head" of the Church. The Holy Father or Pope should be the sign or symbol of unity among all Christian people.

The Constitution of the Church in the Modern World was the most lengthy of the Documents of the 2nd Vatican Council (1965). This document explains how the Church is now and will be trying to bring the message of Jesus Christ to people in the modern world in all its complexity. This is why the Church "modernizes". The solutions and approaches for the 20th and 21st Centuries will vary.

...ome listen while your Church explains What our New Testament contains, Which all through history remains A liturgy found: A multitude from far and wide Had gathered on the mountainside. While He addressed this human tide Too numerous to count; And people of whatever creed, Or what degree of human need, Would all do better if they'd heed The Sermon on the Mount.

—Gloria Nowak

BLESSED ARE THEY WHO HEED THIS MESSAGE

"Blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it." —Luke 11:28

MOVING MACHINE

LET US GO HOUSE
HUNTING IN HOUSTON!
RIGHT FROM OUR OFFICE

*By telephone, call 505-1000, ext. 1000, N.E.

Making an inter-city move always entails one tedious job: finding a place to live where you're going. There are two ways to do this: One, spend a bundle of time and money going up to the big city and looking around. Or you can drop by our office and meet our moving machines. We call it that because it helps people move. You see, it's connected by direct wire to similar machines belonging to a network of ERA Member Brokers like us.

Frontporch - Back On The Market
3 bedrooms, 2 baths, family room, fenced yard and 2 lots. Plenty of storage room, screened porch and close to Lake Clinch.
Only $25,900.

Business Opportunities
Enjoy the rewards of owning your own business! We have a good selection including many different lines of business. Some with a very low cost!

Tennis Court-Lakefront - 4 bedrooms.
Spacious, well equipped modern kitchens 3 x 3 baths, central air and heat, Family room, dining room, and living room. Make an appointment today to see this custom built 2 story home.

Clinch in And Comfortable
Immaculate one bedroom town home in Golden Age Villas. Central air, hown enclosed porch, utility shed and refrigerator.
