FOR NOVEMBER 15, 1931.

SUBJECT: Paul in Jerusalem.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Thou shalt be his witness unto all men, of what thou hast seen and heard." Acts 22: 15.
LESSON TEXT: Acts 21:17-39.
TIME AND PLACE: A. D. 58; Caesarea and Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTION: After Paul's three years ministry at Ephesus he went into Macedonia and spent some time with the churches at Philippi, Thessalonica and Berea. Then he went down into Greece where he remained three months, probably at Corinth. Being determined to be in Jerusalem for the feast of Pentecost, he retraced his steps through Macedonia and down to the west coast of Asia Minor, preaching and exhorting as he went. Seven of his friends, besides Luke, from Asia Minor and Macedonia accompanied him. Paul seemed to expect trouble at Jerusalem, for he told the Ephesians that they would never see him again. At Caesarea prophets warned him that he would be arrested and imprisoned if he went to Jerusalem. Finally Luke and the rest of Paul's party plead with him to turn back from Jerusalem, but Paul would not be persuaded. He was ready, he said, not only to be bound but to die for his Master.

From Caesarea Paul went to Jerusalem, where James, the brother of Jesus and head of the Jerusalem church, said to him, "Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all zealous of the law. And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses." "neither to walk after the customs. Do therefore this that we say unto thee: we have four men which have a vow on them; Them take, and purify thyself with them," and all may know that thou also walkest orderly, and keeped the law."

The plan failed to accomplish the conciliation of the Jews or the acceptance of Paul by them, for "when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him, crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men every where against the people and the law, and this place, and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted the holy place." "These Jews were Paul's old enemies at Ephesus, where he had taught three years. They had seen Paul in company with a Greek of Ephesus on the streets of Jerusalem, and supposed he had brought the Greek into the temple. "All the city was moved," and they took Paul and drew him back to the temple. "And as they went about to kill him, tidings came to the chief captain, who immediately took soldiers and centurions and ran down unto them; and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul." It was unlawful to kill in the temple, so they drew Paul out into the court of the Gentiles, there being two courts, or yards, in front of the temple; the inner one for Jews, and the outer one for Gentiles and strangers. The courts were separated by a wall, with a gate where was a notice to Gentiles and strangers that "Any one trespassing will bring death upon himself as a penalty."

The chief captain took Paul "and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done. And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude; and," he commanded him to be carried into the castle. And when he came upon the stairs," he was borne to the soldiers for the violence of the people. For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him."

Paul was probably bound to a soldier on each side of him. In Luke 23:18, when Pilate said he would release Jesus the Jews, "Cried out, all at once, saying, 'Away with this man' and release Barabbas." "And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek? Art not thou that Egyptian, which first leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers? But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a citizen of no mean city; and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people." You will recall that Paul came to Jerusalem ready to bring the gift from the Gentile Christian churches to the poor in the church at Jerusalem, but in the controversy over formalities the work of charity was practically forgot.

Men's Bible Class Entertained Ladies Thursday Evening

The Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday School entertained the Ladies' class at a very delightful party Thursday evening in the church annex. The table was beautifully decorated with a green paper table cover, with a spray of bougainvillea running the full length of the table which was set for 30 guests. At each place a napkin and a place card, representing characters from the funny papers, were found, such as Andy Gump, Orphan Annie, Mollie Mullins, Lord Flaubert and others. The program of the evening's entertainment was in charge of P. T. Richards, president of the class, who with the assistance of other members furnished merriment for all.

Cards with funny questions and answers were distributed, those having questions were requested to find the answers that were on the question. When the right parties secured partners, all were asked to read their questions and answers, which afforded a good deal of merriment.

The next feature of the program was the reading of a humorous story by A. E. Austin, which all enjoyed. W. M. Roberts next read a comical poem entitled "Something He Couldn't Stand." For the next number a picture of a woman was placed on the wall. The men were required to remain on one side of the table while the ladies passed between the picture and the men on the other side of the table, the object being to see which lady the picture came nearest representing. Upon taking the vote it was found that the majority favored Mrs. A. E. Austin.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by P. T. Richards, George Kelley and M. Andrews. At the conclusion of the program the ladies voted it to be the first social occasion they had ever attended without having had something to do with it, that they enjoyed themselves immensely and expressed the desire the men might repeat the performance within the next future.

Those present were: Professor and Mrs. J. S. Rice, Rev. and Mrs. Willard Keeling, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kelley, Mrs. J. ## HARNESS POWER FROM FALLING STAR

Light Vibrations From Arc- turus To Be Used To Open World's Fair

"Go and catch a falling star . . . Tell me where all past years are." That which John Donne, with the doubly rich imagination of the poet and the preacher, took as obvious symbols of the impossible, is to come to pass at the opening of the World's Fair in Chicago, June 1, 1933.

For countless aeons since he was metamorphosed and placed on high to prevent the horrid crime of unwitting matricide—the Greek imagination had it—Arcturus has been falling away into space, dissipating his substance at an enormous rate.

Forty years has Arcturus been a-falling to the earth and for a second time is he now falling 184,000 miles of this mundane sphere.

During the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 disturbances in the outermost atoms of Arcturus sent forth light vibrations in space. Forty years ago they will descend upon the Chicago World's Fair of 1933.

There they will be traced by a telescope, passed into a cell placed at the focus, and made to generate an electric current which will be amplified and used to start the machinery at the Fair.

Nothing could more strikingly demonstrate human progress in the past century. It will be the first time in history that man has harnessed energy from beyond our solar system to perform a task upon earth.

The theme of this great exposition, "A Century of Progress," is vividly carried out by this device.

This and hundreds of other ingenious attractions of the World's Fair, of which Florida will be a part, will stimulate the Florida Commission to make a display worthy of this great commonwealth.

Those attending the show Friday evening from this place were: Mr. and Mrs. Alexandria Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Swayne Bowers and children, Lois Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Morgan, Gertrude Morgan, Lloyd Morgan, R. F. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cass, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cass and children, Lawton Cook, Miss Murene Gay, Park Devane and Miss Alma Morgan.

The frame work to the J. T. Taylor residence on South Lake Pearl is about finished and Mr. Taylor hopes to have this new home finished in very short time.

A spot selected for the home has a natural view that appeals to the eye. Since coming to this city from Moore Haven, Mr. Taylor has been very busy.

At a recent meeting of the choir of the Methodist Church, A. E. Austin, who has been acting as director, presided and J. C. Parrish was elected to this office. The choir under the leadership of Mr. Austin has rendered valuable assistance to the pastor in providing good music for church services and will continue to render efficient service under the direction of Mr. Wamack.

The choir meets every Wednesday evening at the church for practice and anyone who loves music and singing is given a cordial invitation to attend and become members.

The monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society was held at the church on Friday afternoon, with Mrs. J. E. Sims as leader, using as the subject for discussion "Thank Offerings." At the close of the business session delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cakes and coffee were served by Mrs. Lloyd Zarn and Mrs. M. M. Glasgow as hostesses. Those present were: Mrs. R. E. Huey, Mrs. E. L. Peck, Mrs. Harry Seaverns, Mrs. J. W. Payne, Mrs. Lee Crews, and Mrs. C. T. Jackson.

The Lake Placid high school observed Armistice Day at the school Tuesday morning with appropriate exercises. Professor Gustaf, and the high school band played some national anthems and war songs.

As a special feature of the program, Joe Cliff sang a solo entitled "Just Before the Battle, Mother." Miss Mary Royal of the high school faculty gave a reading, entitled "The Unknown Soldier," which makes a strong appeal for world peace.

R. R. Rudy, attorney of Sebring, spoke in the construction and flying of battle planes, R. T. and passenger planes, using a model plane to demonstrate his lecture.

Garden Yields Much. Nearly 4,000 pounds of vegetables have been gathered from the one-twentieth acre garden of Otis Lee Bass, Crestview 4-H club girl, reports Miss Bertha Henry, home demonstration agent. Otis Lee has caused 816 quarts from the garden.

FLORIDA GATORS PLAY AT TAMPA SATURDAY

Large Crowd Expected To See Game With The South Carolina Gamecocks

By FRANK S. WRIGHT.
Tampa, Nov. 12.—The appearance of the University of Florida's colorful football team here Saturday, meeting the University of South Carolina, has awakened Tampa's gridiron enthusiasm, and a gallery of more than 10,000 is expected to see Coach Charlie Bachman's Gators make their bid for victory.

With the Georgia and Alabama games out of the way, and South Carolina and Georgia Tech next in line, Florida football athletes have turned hopefully to the immediate future and after receiving a holiday from their practice chores Monday, plunged into earnest preparation for their game.

The game will be called promptly at 2:30 p. m.

South Carolina brings a heavy, dangerous team, according to Scout "Tiny" Higgins who saw the gamecocks whip Furman last week 27 to nothing, and who handed previously a six to nothing defeat to the Orange and Blue.

The strong Kentucky team, Tampa will see in Clary, a sensation at halfback, who has scored one touchdown in every game played this season.

Florida emerged from the Alabama game without serious injury, the reports come. Gainesville says that Johnny Fountain and "Bulldog" Back, a pair of sophomore backfield stars, will be ready for action here Saturday.

These athletes, who are college ball carriers, will considerably strengthen the offense of the "Fighting Gators," and with Sam Davis, Al Rogers, Payne Kelly, Allen Emmelhainz, "Buck" McClelland, George Beck, Jerry Hughes, Jimmy Clark, Jimmy Luther, Line Slaby, Bob Treadgold and other backs, all in good condition, the Orange and Blue appears in shape to make a miserable afternoon for Carolina's outfit.

Armistice Day on Wednesday was the Gators' hardest "work day" of the week and the team put in a busy afternoon, Coach Bachman spending considerable time with his lineemen. Against Alabama he started five boys on the line playing their positions for the first time, and a large number of young forwards such as Goodyear, McClelland, Lee and Simpson, tackles; Osgood, Richards, Bernack and others.

Perazzi and Spiers, centers, will get calls here this week.

Tickets are on sale at Strickland's Cigar Store, Tampa. They are at a large number of places, much as this is the lone appearance of the Florida team in this section this season, a record throng is expected at Plant Field.

Planting Cover Crops. More than 40,000 pounds of winter cover crops seed have been bought by the farmers of Jackson county this fall and will be planted as soon as there is sufficient rain, reports Sam Rountree, county agent.

Killing Stray Cats Will Help Protect Game, Song Birds

Kill the stray cat and help protect both game and songbirds is the suggestion of Carlyle Carr of the U. S. Biological Survey and the Florida Agricultural Extension Service. He also urges city residents who have housecats they wish to get rid of to kill them or have them killed, rather than turning them loose in the country, where they become a menace to birds.

"J. M. Loughborough, secretary of the International Cat Society, estimates that there are 1,500,000 cats in Florida, of which 1,000,000 are strays and without homes," says Mr. Carr. "One cannot travel at night in any section of the state without observing them roaming the country where they are foraging for a livelihood."

"It is estimated that these stray cats destroy as many small game birds as are shot by hunters. They are a serious menace to ground-nesting song and game birds, which are absolutely helpless against them at night."

Mr. Carr urges the destruction, particularly by hunters, of stray cats already in existence, and the prevention of straying by tame cats.

"Most of these cats are made homeless when they are half grown kittens," he says. "Usually, city people, not knowing they are jeopardizing the bird life of the state, dispose of kittens by dumping them to shift for themselves on the outskirts of a city or in the country. They soon learn the bird killing habit. It is better to dispose of kittens by drowning, preferably before their eyes are open. No doubt conservation organizations, such as the Izaak Walton League, the Audubon Society, the local pond, or any hunter would be glad to assist in disposing of the animals humanely, instead of forcing them to prey on the valuable bird life of the state or perish."

Senior News.

Ho, hum—another week slipped by—a week of "newspaper" happenings for the Seniors. Last Friday the Seniors attended the football game here and say our boys won a glorious victory over Auburndale. Then, feeling real "peppy" over the game, some of the Seniors motored to Wauchula that night to see the Mulberry-Wauchula game.

J. T. Wilford went to the Rotary luncheon with Claude Tuesday night. Both boys reported an enjoyable time. Several Seniors participated in the school program given by the school Tuesday afternoon. Although we enjoyed trying to do our parts, we still do not feel exactly at ease on the stage. Ask Dorothy.

And now the most important happening of all—our party Tuesday night. And what a party it was! We all met at the Eagle cafe at 7:30 and had a very delectable supper. A jolly good time was had by eating, talking and singing. Some of the boys were original enough to provide music by an improvised xylophone, or what ever one of these funny instruments are. After supper we all "gaily tripped" over to the theatre, in hopes of winning the radio. After a few numbers had been called out, one of our party said, "I think I'll suggest a number to him now." Not a bad idea, it could be carried out. None of us won the radio but that didn't spoil our evening "nary a bit."

After the picture, "Sol Sister," (very good in our opinion) we all journeyed to the Jacaranda drug and enjoyed hot chocolate, "dopes," and various other drinks, at Miss Bryant's expense. Wasn't that just too nice for words. We Seniors wish to thank again Miss Bryant, Mr. Pitman, and Mr. Stetlogian for making possible such an enjoyable evening for us.

After the treat at the drug store the gay party broke up and the different crowds went their various ways, sorry to end a happy evening, but all planning on a big Armistice Day.

This "looked forward to" holiday found the Seniors at various places—some at Arcadia, enjoying the football game and then the rodeo; others at Auburndale, and still others were found enjoying the day in the good, old way—sleeping. I have no regrets, and I don't suppose anyone else has, but it seems to me that yawns would be the prevalent today if the latter method had been chosen by all of us.

Various Personalities

Can you imagine Dorothy Roberts as one of those dynamic Congress-women from Florida in later years? But she would stick by South Florida, don't you? And M. L. Sibley as the husband of irate Irish lady who addresses green so much that her whole wardrobe consists of nothing but green. What about "Shorty" Lee as a cabaret entertainer? Some think that would just suit her. In case nobody knew it, I believe I shall start a salon and stop the racket these questioning girls give about their gown designing. You know some men have wonderful ideas along artistic lines. Let's see, I can imagine Lucille Langford as a blues singer; trying to attract Walton's attention and W. H. Prescott as a consul to Greece. Don't you imagine he would soon become Greeklandized, and come back telling us all about his wonderful success at trying to kiss the Sultan's "toe"? Maybe that little Webster boy, Arthur, would make a fine chit for many a day. But is he quite the right size.

Quorics: Dorothy Hobbs: Would Camella Reynolds do as a future representative for Lucky Stripes? It takes someone that is capable of understanding to answer the question I can imagine Novell Hawick as an attractive golf player. Bet some girl would go for him, quite suddenly—maybe some are stuck already; I am only giving my ideas. Yes, and Agnes Villalobos giving advice to some of the later rising generations along Dorothy Dix' lines. To take it all in hand some of us might not be any better than an old spark plug in a model "T" Ford. That's about the way I felt last Monday. I also believe Miss Bryant found out it was Blue Monday. Do you imagine we have a boy in the Seniors that reminds us of the old fellow, "Dixieland"? Ask somebody if Cameron Epperson doesn't want to follow in his footsteps and help the United States as he helped Great Britain. You know Cameron even looks like him. And if Sarah and Paul Smith and Lucille, if you please would imitate the Ponce de Leon. That ought to be done in class. Somebody said the other day that this bump should be put on the screen and that it would be a good chance for Gertrude Sanger to relieve herself of school worries—go to Hollywood and make sure she would make the screen test and take Henrietta's part. Whoever said that better watch out. She doesn't suit her left in Latin. But it could have been worse (or could it, Miss Pearson?) Our English Chatterbox Club is having its regular meeting on Friday. Last Friday oral and written reports were given about Armistice and they were quite interesting.

Junior Class News.

"Strawberry Kate"—so I'm not a fruit vendor—just advertising the Junior play. The die is cast—the cast is picked—strawberries are ripe, but where are the pickers? Find out December the fourth.

Come one, come all to the great, most magnificent stage production ever produced in Avon Park.

Now for social events. Where was Elizabeth Thursday? Gaining at the stars in a Tampa theatre? Poor Ethel—Poppa put his foot down Sunday night. Among these attending the football game (11) was Wauchula. Friday night were Nelson, Little Bubba, Ruby Gene and Poe, Weaver.

Don't you think they had better stop some of these social events and start picking strawberries?

Ruby Gene Beaver.

Sophomore News.

The Sophomores are presenting a one act play Friday morning in chapel. Though it is about history, we are sure it will be a success, though shouldn't it be good?

The Sophomores are giving it.

Red Devil Sports.

The Avon Park Red Devils defeated the Auburndale Bloodhounds 7-6 last Friday to boost their percentage to 600. They have won three games, lost two and tied one.

The Red Devils played a wonderful game of football. Neither team scored in the first three quarters, but in the latter part of the last quarter, the Bloodhounds scored a touchdown but failed to make the extra point. Just before the game ended a pass from Maddox to Dally was good for a touchdown, but the Bloodhounds were not allowed to kick the ball over for the extra point. This put the Red Devils in the lead and they held them without any more scores until the final whistle blew.

The Red Devils will meet Punta Gorda next Friday at Punta Gorda. The Red Devils are expecting an easy game. If the locals get overconfident, it may cause them trouble.

Jokes.

Albin Ebi: (Going into a local store to buy a hat) "I want to buy a hat."

Clerk: "What size, please?"

Ebi: "I don't remember."

Clerk: "Well I'd judge you're about a number seven."

Ebi: "Seven—Wig, man, you're crazy! I wear a fifteen collar and I know my head's bigger than my neck!"

Miss Pearson: "Billie, why do you act so worried?"

Billie: "I've been trying to think of a right word to use for two weeks."

Miss Pearson: "What about fortnight?"

Miss Bryant: "Bill, this essay on 'My Mother' is the same as your brother Phil's."

Bill Lacey: "Sure, we have the same mother."

Walton T.: "Stop! Please don't do that, dear! Stop. Do you hear me? Stop."

Virginia B.: "Say, what do you think you're doing? Writing a telegram?"

Freshman News.

Wouldn't it be a scream if, in later years:

Anna Dee Roberts married a man who was 6 feet tall?

Sarah Smith married a preacher?

Allie Lee Belin taught school?

Earl James was a football coach?

Zelda Langford gave lectures on "The Art of Becoming Beautiful?"

Ralph Helm became a famous opera singer?

Gertrude Sanger chose as her profession an artist?

Fatzy Leomis became a poetess?

Woodson Sader married an heiress?

Sarah Smith: "Which one of your sisters is that sitting in the car?"

Charles Kempton: "The other one."

We Freshmen are traveling along our pathway just fine now, even if we have to slow up and work hard to get over some bumps in the road. Of course we have our bad days as for instance yesterday when that vocabulary test came up in Latin. But it could have been worse (or could it, Miss Pearson?) Our English Chatterbox Club is having its regular meeting on Friday. Last Friday oral and written reports were given about Armistice and they were quite interesting.

Well, so long till next time. The Freshmen signing off.

The Weekly Report

No, kind ladies and gentlemen, this is not Bubba James broadcasting in Spanish class—it's only a little bit of what one sees and hears prowling around Avon Park High.

To begin with the game of football—Man, was it good! Say, did you see Claude Thynn say a couple of passes right in the midst of a cloud of tackles and our backfield? Why, and old timer at the game asked if we were making a kicking picture of The Thundering Herd!

How the Seniors rate! After their affair (got that 'affair') Tuesday evening, they were invited to attend Avon Park's biggest and best theatre, the Avalon. If Oggie hadn't had hiccoughs I'd have won that radio, too. Those first old boys put me out of the picture. No, I wasn't ejected for disorderliness. That is what my dear old Willie Tanner, calls a figure of speech. Say that old boy is quite a figure himself in the minds of the Juniors and Seniors. They spend hours thinking up adjectives to describe him.

Ah, the holiday, Wednesday! What a splendid day I had toiling amidst the soil. That last sentence has symptoms of poetry. Dear dear, I shall have to leave that to Carrol. Ta, to!

Seventh B News

We're starting all over folks—we haven't had any news for a long time, but starting today we are going to try not to miss a time.

All of us have been rushing for the last two days, practicing our parts and songs for an Armistice program that the school pupils are giving. Of course, all of us couldn't be in the program, but the teachers and Mr. Paley chose just so many pupils out of each

Numerous Bonds Estreated In Court

Game Law Violators Are Convicted In County
Court

Highlands county fine and forfeiture fund was largely augmented this week with the estreatment of bonds in the court of County Judge M. C. Whitehurst which was in session Monday and Tuesday. There were several jury trials including game law violations, a conviction being obtained in this case. The various cases and their disposition were as follows:

Otis Stevens, W. S. Tillery and M. Smith, all charged with having improper tags on their cars, were charged with having improper tags on their cars. The bonds of Stevens and Tillery failed to appear and their bonds were estreated also. Marvin Green was convicted of violating the game laws and he was assessed $25 and costs or 30 days.

Ira Horton entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of fighting but the jury thought otherwise and he was assessed $25 and costs or 30 days. Herold Houck and John Johnson were supposed to appear to answer charges of having improper tags on their cars but failed to do so and their bonds went to the F. & F. fund. The bonds of Dick Frasier, charged with the possession of home brew, Sam Brasell, who was said to have possessed moonshine, and R. O. Battle said to have had improper lights on his car, all went the same way and the county is the richer.

E. R. Brooks was charged with fishing without a licence and his bond was estreated and the bonds of Rubin Howland, charged with fighting and R. Taylor, said to have possessed home brew and Charley Sharpe, charged with having an improper tag on his car, all went the same route. The charge against W. B. Mercer of having an improper license was nolle prossed and L. L. Linsinger, who was charged with entering enclosed premises, was dismissed.

John A. Pollard was charged with selling intoxicating liquor and this was dismissed and Van Taylor estreated his bond on a charge of drunkenness. Frank Tines, Dave Jones and H. E. Waters all forfeited their bonds on improper tag charges. J. C. Larimer claimed he was not guilty to a charge of racing and using a boat without a licence and the jury agreed the plea was alright. Ethel Johnson was charged with fighting but she estreated her bond.

Bob Williams entered a plea of guilty to an assault and battery charge and the court suspended his sentence. The charge of assault against F. E. Talmage was nolle prossed as was a charge of the possession of curfew and quilt against L. G. Peters and Willis Riedel. L. V. Fussell pleaded not guilty to having an improper tag on his car but the jury said "Guilty" and the judge added $5 and costs or 30 days.

W. M. McKinney entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of transporting moonshine and the jury said the same thing. A. Matchett acknowledged he was guilty of possessing curfew and quilt and the judge pronounced sentence of $25 and costs or 30 days. This ended the court's business for Monday.

On Tuesday R. J. Hargrove was acquitted by a jury of an assault and battery charge and the judge ordered a directed verdict of acquittal for Leo Bonner, charged with renting boats without a licence. Pence Henderson entered a plea of insanity to the charge of transporting moonshine.

room—Blanchard Gaster, who is our president, had the privilege of sitting on the stage to represent our room. All the other presidents or representatives had the right to do the same. Harold McKelend, representing this room recited a poem. The name of it was "Young Fellow, My Lad."

It is rather difficult for the study hall teachers to let us go to the library, except when we have to get a report in some of our studies. Now we don't even have to bother them about reports or anything for we have a table in our room which we are loading down with books and magazines. Anyone in the room can read them at any study hall period. Some of the girls are fixing cards to put in the books. They are fixing the cards so that they will know how long the pupils keep the books out. These books or magazines are not allowed to be kept over four days. We are signing off for this time. Watch for our news next week.

PREPARING FOR THE SOUTH FLORIDA FAIR

Premium Awards To Be the Largest In History of Exposition

Tampa, Nov. 10.—With the date of the opening of the South Florida Fair and Gasparilla Carnival less than three months away, all departments of the big exposition are in a hurry to get in operation for an active campaign to shatter all previous records for attendance and for the number of exhibits displayed.

Premium awards will total $40,000, the largest amount cash ever offered at a Florida exposition. Every phase of agriculture and industrial endeavor in the state has been covered in the exposition, with notable expansions in the club departments.

The seventeenth annual poultry show will be greater than ever in 1932 and in conjunction with it will be held the American Poultry Association Florida Exposition, the classic of southern bird shows.

Circus displays in competitive classes will be made by counties, communities, individual growers and packers while a special classification has been established for canners.

The South Florida Fair will get underway on Tuesday, Feb. 2 and continue through February 18. Professional automobile races are scheduled for the opening and closing days with famous track and speedway stars in competition. Each afternoon and evening a program comprised of more than 40 sensational circus, hippodrome and vaudeville features will be presented in front of the grand stand and each night there will be a mammoth display of spectacular fireworks.

The Dutch village, replica of Edam, Holland, has been rebuilt and enlarged under the directions of Kees Durman and promises to be an outstanding feature of the fair. The Johnny J. Jones Exposition shows, largest of American midway caravans, will again furnish the fun plaza attractions.

B. W. Dyess Freed By Jury For Complicity In Theft of Automobile

B. W. "Snow" Dyess of Hicoria was freed of the charge of being an accessory after the fact in the theft of Dr. L. W. Martin's Chevrolet car here some time ago, a jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty at the trial Tuesday afternoon. W. C. Waldron and T. P. Dravdy, charged with the theft, pleaded guilty and will be sentenced later. Dyess was represented by Attorney W. D. Bell, Jr., of Arcadia and when placed on the stand denied all knowledge of the theft. He claimed he was going to High
