Week Spent on Gulf Coast Results in Plenty of Sport

DeLand, Aug. 17.—There will be plenty of "Silver Kings" for display in the Florida exhibit at the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago next year, to convince any reasonable sportsman that there are plenty of tarpon waiting to be taken in the seas which wash the shores of this state. Harvey J. Senne, director of the department of agriculture of the world's fair; Fred N. Peet, secretary of the National Inland Walton League, and several members of the Florida Commission including Senator W. C. Hodges, chairman; Nathan Mayo, treasurer; Senator M. O. Harrison, Earl W. Brown, manager of the Florida exhibit, and J. A. Mackintosh, supervisor of agricultural exhibits, who spent the week at various points on the coast between Bradenton and Sarasota, not only caught the big fish but made photographic records of the trip which will adorn the walls of the sportsman's section of the Florida exhibit at Chicago.

The specimens selected for the Chicago display were taken to Tampa where they will be prepared for exhibit by J. E. Wallace of that city.

Before leaving for Chicago, Mr. Senne took occasion to compliment the Florida commission on the display made by the sportsman's section at the forthcoming exposition. "While I came down primarily to enjoy a week of tarpon fishing," he said, "I took advantage of the occasion to go into Florida's exhibition plans very thoroughly. They are wonderful and of course quite out of the ordinary. There is no doubt in my mind that Florida will have one of the outstanding displays at Chicago next year."

The very boldness of the plans of the Florida commission has attracted and still attracts attention in the general offices of the exposition in Chicago," added Mr. Senne. "The idea of transplanting a living tarpon to the shores of Lake Michigan would have challenged attention, but Florida didn't stop at that. It will have exotic gardens, groves of papayas, tung trees, flowering plants, shrubs and vines and other tropical growths as well and, as if that were not enough, the state engaged the University of Florida, speaking in behalf of the Inland Walton League, said in a recent radio address urging bass protection.

Florida, with her superb climate, her marvelous beaches, and her unsurpassed hunting and fishing grounds, is above all a resort state, he explained. Without her game fish and game animals, much of the state's attraction to tourists would be lost.

"At one time Florida was known as the finest fresh water fishing state in the Union, and when we speak of fresh water fishing we refer to the leading game fish of America, the black bass," he said. "Florida's fresh water are ideal for this fish. Thirty eight states have laws prohibiting the sale of black bass. Florida is the only state in which black bass are found not having such a law."

"Florida has a law against selling fresh waters, but the trouble is that Lake Okechobee has been declared salt water. Thus, a handful of commercial fishermen are constantly selling and selling them anywhere in the state. This law opens up every fresh water lake in the state to illegal selling and netting of our bass because once the fish are out of the water they are sold as Lake Okechobee bass."

"It is not the hook-and-line fishermen but the seiners who have increased the bass fishing in the state. Stopping the sale of black bass will stop the selling of game fish. It will mean better fishing for all the tourists included, and the tourists who come to Florida to fish for bass spend thousands of dollars that indirectly benefit everyone in the state."

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Chance and Col. and Mrs. J. M. Lee left Thursday for Miami where they are attending the Dade County Democratic rally.

MAKES COMPLETE LIVING ON 20 ACRES

F. C. Payne Tells How He and Family Succeeded On Florida Farm

Speaking over state radio station WRUF at Gainesville last Thursday, during Farmer's Week at the University of Florida, F. C. Payne gave a highly instructive talk on how he and his family make a living off a 20 acre farm. Mr. Payne is a well known Highlands county farmer living west of Lake Jackson and was formerly a railroad man. In his talk, Mr. Payne said:

"It seems that my good friend, Mr. Alamey, our county Agricultural Agent thinks that it is not sufficient just to 'Make a Complete Living' off a farm in Highlands county, Florida, but one must also be able to tell how it was done. You all know that a farmer must be able and ready to turn to anything from servicing the household sewing machine or Mr. Ford's creation Model 17 to figuring out a formula for turning fertilizer but this is where we add another qualification of the 'Dirt Farmer' of this modern age.

"What has been accomplished at Hidden Hollow Farm, located about five miles west of Sebring, is the result of the combined cooperative efforts of Jim and Jollie. Our bees keep the table supplied with the most wholesome sweet that can be found. For example, if we need we can place a half bushel of honey on the table at any time, using only flour, sugar and condiments from the stores. At the county exhibit of farm produce last year we displayed not 57 but 42 varieties grown at Hidden Hollow Farm. Very seldom do we have to leave the farm without something to sell. In these times we exchange our products for what we need even to magazines and doctors' and dentists' services.

"We produce our own pork. Our pigs are fed with unsalable garden produce and sweet potatoes, vines and fattened with cassava and corn so that our meat costs us nothing but labor. This cassava grows on the white sand with very little fertilizer, yielding from ten to fifteen pounds per plant. "In connection, you note we believe in cooperation, diversification, conservation and economy, balance our farm practices so that we not only have our table supplied at home but have something to sell the whole year thru. The farmer in Florida has this opportunity to a greater degree than in any state in the Union. The saying is 'The proof of the pudding is eating thereof'. We have been eating the 'Pudding' for the past three years."

Our poultry plant consists of two laying houses with capacity of five hundred layers each and a brooder house, capacity of twelve hundred baby chicks. Each laying house has two yards to be used alternately. We have kept each year from two hundred to eight hundred layers and at present we have six hundred year old hens and five hundred pullets, just placed in the laying house and now coming into production. All these are of the Single Comb White Leghorn breed. Thus far we have purchased all grains fed, raising our own growing and laying fashions from the Station's formulas. The lawn and garden furnish an abundance of green feed at all times. We plan to grow a large portion of our grain in the future. We have grown sorghum, feterita, Egyptian wheat, oat tail millet and corn enough so that we know we can grow sufficient for our needs when we have additional land cleared and the farm equipment. We do not keep breeders as we prefer to buy our baby chicks from a nearby hatchery. These chicks are kept in the brooder house until the cockerels are ready to turn off as broilers or friers and the pullets ready for the laying house. In the winter months we grow additional broilers, fryers and capons from the heavy breeds, selling locally and adding materially to our income. We keep accurate records of production, receipts and expenditures and are members of the Florida Home Egg-Laying Contest. We make good use of the information, bulletin and advice given by the State and find here at Gainesville a source of information invaluable to us. Locally we have Mr. Alamey always ready with expert advice right when we need it.

"We have five cows, all good grade Jerseys, state inspected and giving us an abundance of milk, cheese, butter and buttermilk the year around. We have more than we use so we sell the surplus in town paying for the concentrates which are fed with the roughage grown for them on the place. The boys have a registered Jersey bull purchased from the Station here to head the herd. We feel that 'Florida Master of Hidden Hollow' will prove his worth in the future he will sire in the coming years."

"In the garden land, spoken of above, we try to have something growing to eat every day in the year. This land is well situated in a saucer shaped depression, formerly a pond, is well watered so that in the driest periods our crops never want for moisture. During heavy rains our ditches carry off the excess water. We plant fall and spring crops, practically everything in vegetables grown in Florida. Our object is, first to maintain our table with vegetables of all varieties, then to have a surplus to sell. By planting in succession, second crop between the rows of the first and so on, we grow at least five well-paying crops each year on the same land. Our fertilizer is made by mixing chicken droppings with chemicals purchased through the County Fertilizer Purchasing Association, thus far our most profitable crops have been, two crops of Irish potatoes, strawberries producing six months, two or more crops of string beans, all the year, Navy beans we use throughout the year, several kinds of greens grown in succession for eight months, parsley, radishes, carrots, lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, okra, peppers and green onions in the winter months, corn and sweet potatoes in the spring and summer. We conserve our produce. 'We eat what we can and what we can't eat we can't have our shelves full of canned corn, string beans, tomatoes, okra, carrots, pork, beef, chicken guavas, mangoes, blueberries, rosehips, strawberries and many varieties of jam and jellies. Our bees keep the table supplied with the most wholesome sweet that can be found. For example, if we need we can place a half bushel of honey on the table at any time, using only flour, sugar and condiments from the stores. At the county exhibit of farm produce last year we displayed not 57 but 42 varieties grown at Hidden Hollow Farm. Very seldom do we have to leave the farm without something to sell. ### RURAL COMMON SENSE

CONCENTRATION POINTS FOR ASSEMBLING FARM PRODUCTS SUGGESTED

The idea of concentration points for Florida farm products, particularly the products of small general farms, was suggested in his talk during Farmer's Week at Gainesville recently by Nathan Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture. According to his plan, these concentration points would be located every 50 to 100 miles throughout the State, and farmers could bring their products there for assembling and grading.

It would be necessary to establish warehouses, and in many cases cold storage facilities, in connection with these concentration points, and to furnish expert managers for grading and assembling of the products. When the products were assembled in large quantities, they could be sold if a desirable market existed, or stored until a desirable price could be obtained.

While the plan would necessitate extra expenditures on the part of the State or the farmers receiving the service, it has many features which are commendable. In the past buyers have looked in vain for such Florida products as hay, home cured pork and other meats, corn, and so on, in large quantities. On the other hand, small farmers of Florida often have looked in vain for good markets for these very products. The difficulty lay in the fact that they were not assembled, and could not be marketed in large quantities. The plan suggested by Mr. Mayo should help to remedy this.

The plan deserves careful consideration on the part of everyone interested. Perhaps a workable and feasible outline of it can be drawn and presented to the next State Legislature for consideration.

More Varied Film Features at New Circle Theatre

Following each other in rapid succession, the New Circle Theatre, "Sebring's Friendly Theatre", is setting a pace for film fare that speaks well for the type of pictures that will be shown for the rest of this year. New contracts have already been signed for next season with Paramount and Fox and with the balance of products from RKO-Pathé, Columbia, Metro and Universal. Manager Charlie Morrison assures his patrons that the picture he will continue to see "the pick of the best pictures." Four really outstanding attractions are on the bookings for the next ten days, starting with "What Price Hollywood" featuring Constance Bennett and Lowell Sherman for the last three days of this week, continuing with "The Attorney for the Defense" with Edmund Lewis, Constance Cummings and Evelyn Brent for next Sunday and Monday with matinee Sunday at 3:30, incidentally the best picture that this picture has had some of the finest reviews and criticisms ever given any photo-play, so it must be good. Tuesday night Wednesday will see "Skyscraper" with Warren William (we don't know about him down here, but he's a marvelous actor, say's Charlie) with Maureen O'Sullivan and Norman Foster and Anita Page in the cast and then to climax the next week, Thursday, the opportunity to see Tallulah Bankhead and Gary Cooper in "Devil and the Deep". This is Gary's first picture in many months and he's mighty good in it—but there's a fellow named Lee Kelley in this picture that they say walks away with first honors and just steals the picture. You know, it's a "dark horse" that you'll talk about when you leave the show.

Manager Morrison, in talking about pictures to be a representative of this paper announced the following big pictures, some of them prior to big city showing, for successive week and runs at the New Circle Theatre, following "Devil and the Deep"; "The First Year" with Gaynor and Farrell; "Horse Feathers" with the crazy Four Marx Brothers; "Love Me Tonight" with Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald in "Conquering" with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson in an authentic wild animal picture; "The Blonde Venus" with Marlene Dietrich; the picture that caused such a controversy on the Paramount lot when the star and the director, Josef Von Sternberg walked off the scene after such argument about something or other; "Down to Earth" with Will Rogers, said to be his best picture and a sequel to "They had to see Paris" and then comes some more good ones.

Local Mention

Max Brunk, local boy scout lost his shirt in a hold-up. Also 45 cents. Two hungry negroes benefited by the transaction which was Max's good deed for the day. He saved his pants by sitting on 'em. Have a cemetery street named for you or one of your loved ones. Pay for the playing, and it's all yours, all wrapped up and ready for the name plate. Also lots of ver' chip. Buy one now—you will need it in the end.

A rather burxom and handsome blonde has been giving the boys on the Mall a treat for the past few days—pyjamas and everything. She's too good for this league, but keeps your mind off the depression. The city agreed to take fifty dollars for a repossessed lot, and the next day had a bouquet of one hundred. A little under the covers these inside transactions would give everybody a chance.

A Tampa salesman bursted up part of our ball club team in a nasty wreck. The others went on and gave Lake Placid a racing for the first time this year. Each ought to prove something or other. A bathing beauty contest is announced for Vero Beach on Labor Day. The announcers were here in force Monday. A report from the chief inspector of Palmer's dock is in order before we remember that. A reporter he overheard two gentlemen making the following observation: First Gent.—The man who made that fellow knew his business. Second Gent.—(Coming out from under the influence and picking up a glass of ice water) And the fellow who made this wasn't anybody's slouch.

Not Strictly Local—
From the Washington County News we get this little bit of plesantry anent the recent arrival of the 11th child of one of our local babies.

Gilbert Freeman of the Highlands County Pilot, published at Avon Park, reports a bouncing baby boy born in his city weighing 88 pounds. Now Gilbert, you know what you thought of that fellow who said that the fish he let get away was a 15 pounder. Now you remember that, he agreed to shave a few pounds off his estimate, don't you? Either Gilbert had been off fishing just before writing up that 88-pound yarn, or else they must sell some terrible stuff in Avon Park.

What Becomes of City Greases—
City Manager A. C. Newman has announced the sale of the John Fouts grove, which was taken over by the city for delinquent paying tax assessments totaling $57,000, for $35,000 in city bonds and $2,100 in cash.—Winter Haven Herald.

A Depression Yarn—
A depression yarn clipped from an exchange goes something like this:

"You see, I bought a car instead of a farm and the car has worn out, but the farm I figured on is still O. K., but another fellow owns it. I invested in it instead of a cow and the radio gives static instead of milk. I'm feeding five hounds instead of five pigs. I had one piano tuned instead of having the well cleaned out. I spent all my cash in 1929, and traded my future wages for 1930 installment, so hard times caught me napping in pretty bad shape.

"If I had spent my last hundred dollars for flour and meat instead of for gasoline and oil, I'd have been O. K. I built a nice garage instead of covering my barn, and I loaded in the mortgage a week or two instead of fixing up my pasture so my cow wouldn't get out. But now she's dry and mangled to boot for two blakey my wife bought from an agent instead of paying the preacher. (I'm on a cash basis now, but I ain't got a cash.) I saved up for a rainy day but it turned off dry and so I up and spent the four dollars for an ash can tube.

"I'm worried plus to the bone, and my wife's folks are coming over next Tuesday to spend two weeks.

Aracdia Beats Wauchula On One Hit By 4-0 Score

Aracdia, Aug. 25.—Aracdia got only one hit. Aracdia scored a 4-0 win over Wauchula here Thursday. Bases on balls gave the locals their runs. Buchanan, on the mound for Aracdia, pitched a three-hit game.

THREE GAMES TO DECIDE WINNER OF ORANGE BELT LEAGUE

Lake Placid Tops League, and Bowling Green Is Runner-Up—Last Game Will Be Played Here Thursday.

Only three more games remain to be played by the Avon Park Metros in the Orange Belt League schedule. The last game to be played at Cardinal Field this season will be between Arcadia and the locals next Thursday afternoon. The Metros go to Lake Placid this Sunday, play Arcadia here next Thursday and go to Sebring a week from Sunday, September 4, which will wind up the schedule.

Bowling Green has a record of 10 wins and 10 losses, while the Metros are 11-9. In the event there will be a "little world's series" with a play-off between the two winners. If Placid wins in the second half, there will be no necessity of a play-off series.

Local Break Even.

The Metros broke even with Lake Placid this week, in a two-game series. Lake Placid took Sunday's game 1-0 here Sunday. The game was called in the seventh on account of rain. ## COUNTY COUNCIL TO HANDLE RELIEF FUNDS, ORGANIZED

E. G. Todd, Avon Park, Named County Chairman by Gov. Carlton In County Set-Up of Relief Organization.

E. G. Todd of Avon Park has been appointed county chairman in charge of Reconstruction Finance Corporation relief work in Highlands county. The appointment was recently announced by Gov. Carlton, who has asked the government for funds to be spent in this state for the relief of the unemployed.

An organization meeting of the Highlands County Council was held at Sebring Thursday, and the county organization which will be part of a state-wide set-up being organized by the governor, made a start towards the county's participation in the drive to relieve unemployment.

Stating that the committee is forwarding detailed instructions from the governor's office for its set-up, Mrs. Atkinson stated that each section of the county would be represented on the committee. These representatives are now being chosen, but the county chairman was not ready to announce the members of the proposed county organization today.

"After organizing yesterday, the county council elected other officers, representative of every section of the county," said Mrs. Atkinson. "The treasurer, living at the county seat, also represents the county-at-large, she said.

"The purpose of the unemployment relief committee is to disburse any federal aid funds allotted to Highlands county to relieve destitution. In no sense is this a political organization. It is a humanitarian project and requires much time and considerable labor on the part of the county council, and each local committee working with the council."

"The funds will not be used for charity, but will be employed in public works, furnishing employment to those finding work, it is stated. The committee will work through organized relief agencies of the county, aiding and co-operating in the work already being done for the relief of the unemployed, Mr. Todd stated.

SEEK 50 PERCENT CUT IN SCHOOL BOOK COST

County Superintendent and Principals Are In Conference

County Superintendent F. N. K. Bailey stated yesterday that after being in communication with State Superintendent of Public Instruction Joseph Cawthon at Tallahassee and following a conference with Supervising Principals R. T. Fairley and Samuel Long, a scheme has been worked out that may save school patrons about 50 percent on the cost of books for the seventh and eighth grades.

Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed at the action of the state authorities in making changes in the school books at this time. The local authorities have no option in the matter, the order being mandatory. The change involves the seventh and eighth grades only and does not affect the higher grades, it was stated.

Relief Equipment Is Purchased By Roebeling Estate

Purchase of extensive relief equipment by the Roebeling estate at Red Hill, Fla., which is to be used in case of any emergency that may arise, was learned this week by a News reporter.

The equipment is in the form of food supplies and two radio sending and receiving sets, all of which would be of use in the case of a disaster similar to those of 1922 and 1923 which left havoc in their wake, especially in the Lake Okechobee region.

Two powerful sending and receiving radio phone sets will comprise an integral part of the equipment, making it possible to communicate from a central headquarters—for instance, Red Hill—to a relief party or field headquarters which might be established in any stricken community.

General Millage For Highlands County Is Given Further Cut

Improvement of Bougainvillea Goes Steadily Forward

Improvement of Bougainvillea cemetery goes steadily forward under the supervision of the indefatigable and irrepressible Mr. Marcus E. Covington, otherwise known as Marcus the Cemeteryman. He announces that the association is laying Head Street from the end of the present pavement 600 feet north to and including the free ground, and that a new section is being opened, where lots will be sold at very reasonable prices.

Mr. Covington also states that the association is opening a new street north and south through the cemetery which will be the widest and most beautiful street in the cemetery when completed. This street was laid this week and will be beautified with palms and ornamentals. It is 126 feet in length and connects the main entrance with the south entrance. Mr. Covington has asked the Times to state that anyone paying for the laying of this street may have it named as a memorial for a departed loved one.

Mrs. H. E. Godwin has recently donated 100 feet of piping to the cemetery, Mr. Covington stated, but the cemetery can use 200 more feet. Anyone who has piping not in use will confer a favor on the association by calling Mr. Covington. He will call for it, he says.

County Commissioners Set Levy Tuesday at 30 1/2; Bond Requirements In Some District Are Above Last Year.

Sitting in special session Tuesday morning the county commissioners set the millage for the 1932 taxes and in doing so topped off six and one eighth mills from the general county millage. Last year was 36 1/2 and this year it totals 36 1/2. There is an increase in the millage for the bond and sinking funds in some districts, this being necessary on account of maturities falling due next year. DeSoto City, Lake Placid, Hicoria and Venus fell the brunt of this with the levy for these purposes in Avon Park and Sebring being reduced.

The special school district millage remains the same as last year in all cases. Those were voted last year and this holds good for two years.

New York, Aug. 24.—A "seven point plan of action" for economic recovery, endorsed jointly by the board of the Advertising club of New York and the American Federation of Labor, was presented by Grover Whalen, president of the Advertising club, at a luncheon today.

The seven point platform, voiced by Whalen, in order, follows:

1. "That business and labor—the American Federation of Labor—join in working out a plan for their common problem—to wit, stabilization for business and security of employment.

2. "A revision of the anti-trust laws.
3. "The question of unemployment—the cooperation of business and labor in advocating and securing wherever possible by industry the six-hour day and the five-day week.

4. "An aggressive and increased program by the federal, state and municipal governments for public and semi-public works, wherever possible, should be primarily income producing or self-liquidating.

5. "That in the present financial necessities of our government, we advocate the broadening of the base of taxation to more generally and fairly distribute the burden as a means of balancing the national budget.

6. "That the reduction of the cost of federal government, state government and municipal government, be the immediate concern of business and labor. (It is intended in outlining the approved plan to accomplish this end, that it be achieved not necessarily by salary or wage cuts, but primarily by cutting out the duplication of bureau activities and by reducing non-essential and duplicated non-departmental activities.)

7. "That we urge the abolishment of prohibition and the immediate liberalization of the Volstead act as a means of securing additional employment for the unemployed and raising additional revenue for the government."

Sunday School Lesson

FOR AUGUST 28, 1932.

SUBJECT: Gifts for building the Temple.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase." Prov. 3:9.
LESSON TEXT: Exodus 35:21-29.

Introduction: Moses had spoken for the Lord to the children of Israel, saying, "Take ye from among you an offering unto the Lord." Of all things necessary to build and furnish the Tabernacle. In Exodus 25 and 26 God gave to Moses the patterns for the Ark and the Tabernacle.

The tabernacle or tent of meeting was the origin of Solomon's temple and its successors and of modern cathedrals and churches.

The tabernacle structure was an oblong, measuring thirty cubits long by ten broad, the cubit being speaking roughly about half a yard long. The entrance to the tabernacle was toward the east, and the eastern and western sides were the short ones. The entrance opened the entire eastern front, but the rear and the two sides were of boards, forty-eight in number, twenty being on the north and south sides and eight on the west. These boards (necessarily formed of smaller boards fastened together) were each ten cubits long and a half cubit broad, all being overlaid with gold. The house was made by setting these boards on end, side by side, the boards being held together by five rows of transverse bars of acacia wood, placed on the outside, and run through rings fastened to each plank. The entrance consisted of five pillars overlaid with gold, and a curtain being stretched between them shutting off the interior from common view.

The ceiling and walls were a curtain of white linen mingled with blue, purple, and scarlet. To protect the whole from the weather, was first a curtain woven of goats' hair, while over the whole was placed a double row of ram's skins and seal or porpoise skins, dyed red.

The tabernacle was divided into two parts, called the Holy place and the most Holy Place. The Holy Place was a rectangle, twenty cubits long, and ten broad. The most Holy Place, or Holy of Holies, was a perfect cube, ten cubits in all dimensions. Between it and the Holy Place was a great curtain, called "the veil," the curtain which was rent apart when Christ died.

The Holy Place was a great chest of acacia wood, overlaid with gold, and without, measuring two and a half cubits in length and a half in breadth and height. It contained the table of manna, Aaron's rod that budded, and the book of the law. Its lid was solid gold, called the mercy seat. On the mercy seat were figures representing cherubim, and between them flamed out the awful light of the visible glory of Jehovah.

In the court stood the altar of burnt offerings, with a laver for the washing of the priests' hands. Here all sacrifices were offered and signified that only through the shedding of atoning blood man can approach God.

Today's lesson says, "And they came, every one whose heart was stirred, and whose spirit was moved, and they brought bracelets, and earrings, and rings, and tablets, all jewels of gold, and every man that offered an offering of gold unto the Lord. And every man, with blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, and red skins of rams, and badgers' skins, brought them. Every one that did offer an offering of silver and brass brought the Lord's offering; and every man, with whom was found acacia wood, brought it. And all the women that were wise hearted did spin with their hands, and brought that which they had spun, both of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine linen, and goats' hair. And the rulers brought onyx stones, and stones to be set, for the ephod, and for the breastplate; and oil, and oil for the light, and for the anointing oil, and for the sweet incense. The children of Israel brought a willing offering unto the Lord, for the Tabernacle; as the Lord had commanded to be made by the hand of Moses."

The leaders in the building said to Moses, "The people bring much more than enough," and they were commanded to cease giving. (Read verses 5, 6 of Exodus, Chapter 6.)

The spirit of giving was stated by Jesus in Matt. 6:5, "But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth." In 2 Cor. 9:7, Paul wrote, "Every man according as his purpose is in his heart, so let him give, not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver." What proportion of true religion is composed of cheerful giving to the Lord?

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

Weekly from Home Demonstration Specialist, Tallahassee

Tomato-Rose Salad.

Dip small, uniform tomatoes one at a time in boiling water so that they do not become overcooked from standing in the water; peel and chill thoroughly in the refrigerator until the tomatoes are dry on the outside.

For eight roses you need three packages of soft cream cheese. Separate the cheese by working with a spoon until it will mold readily. Then insert a 2-tined fork in the firmer stem end of the tomato, and with a teaspoon (do not try to use a measuring spoon), dip into the cheese and level off a teaspoonful.

Now place the tomato against the side of the tomato near the top and draw away the spoon. The cheese will have formed one petal of the rose. Continue around the tomato until the circle is complete. Then slip the rose off onto a corky sheet or tray covered with wax paper.

When ready to transfer the roses to the table, slip a fork into the top of each and slip onto a bed of shredded lettuce on a salad plate. Place a teaspoonful of mayonnaise in the top of each. You may use a tiny mound of chopped cucumber pickle, or chopped fresh cucumbers on the mayonnaise. A few drops of onion salt may be mixed with the cream cheese, but this may be omitted if you choose.

Mint Ice. To make two quarts use one tablespoonful of gelatine, one-half cupful cold water, two and one-half cups boiling water, one and one-half cups sugar, two-thirds cupful lemon juice, one-half cupful orange juice, one-half teaspoonful peppermint extract, and green vegetable coloring.

Soak the gelatine in the cold water for five minutes. Add the boiling water and sugar and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Add other ingredients. Cook and pour into a freezer. At this point stir in one cupful of cream or rich whole milk if a richer frozen product is desired. Pack with one part of salt to three parts of ice, then freeze. —Lucy Belle Settle.

Legislators To See New Paper Plant

The Florida Board of Forestry has extended invitations to Governor Carlton, to Mr. Dave Shotts, the Democratic nominee for Governor, to all legislators, legislators-elect, and others who plan to attend the Democratic rally at Marianna on August 26 and 27, to join in a motorcade to inspect forest fire control units and forest tree plantations in the vicinity of Marianna. An inspection of the new kraft paper mill at Panama City will also be included.

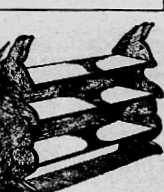

The motorcade will leave Marianna from the Hotel Chippola at 2:40 p. m., Saturday, August 27, inspect a 40-acre three-year-old slash pine plantation near Chipley, and a fire control unit near Panama City where fire-break construction will be demonstrated.

The trip will terminate at Panama City where the local Kiwanis Club has planned a fish fry and swim at Long Beach.

The area covered will demonstrate what private landowners are doing, in co-operation with the Florida Board of Forestry, to keep their forest land in a productive condition.

How to Make It

A SET of shelves with ends cut out to represent animals provides an interesting piece for the child's room and encourages the child to keep his books and other things in order. It is easily made by anyone handy with a saw and hammer.

First trace the animal—in this case a bunny—on paper and cut to the desired shape. To prevent shelling two or more widths together for the end pieces, use pressed wood which may be obtained in sheets from your lumber dealer. Trace the paper pattern on the pressed wood and cut out with a sharp knife. The same material may be used for the shelves which may be of any desired length. Narrow strips of pressed wood or pieces of quarter-inch may be used to support the shelves. These should be screwed to both the end pieces and to the shelves. A single piece of pressed wood will provide a brace.

Paint the shelves any desired color. Touch up the eyes, ears, collar, etc., with a small brush, using a contrasting color.

Ford Makes 1000 Miles Per Day For Thirty-Three Days

Los Angeles, Cal.—Demonstrating conclusively that the new Ford V-8 is designed for satisfactory and economical performance over an extended service period and that increased efficiency and economy are possible with proper lubrication, Eddie Pullen, famous racing driver, reports the completion of what amounts to three years' normal driving in the period from June 6 to July 9.

The run was made on a 32-mile course in the Mojave desert, near Rosamond, California, and covered 30,000 miles in 33 days 4 hours and 35 minutes.

According to official timing in Western Union, the car averaged 41.8 miles an hour for the entire distance.

Complete records show that 10,641 miles were averaged to each gallon of gas, and that an average of 1 1/4 pints of oil was used each 1000 miles. SAE 20 was used for the first 10,000 miles; better results were found possible with SAE 30 after that; and around the 25,000 mile mark, it was shown that SAE 40 was best.

Mr. Pullen made his headquarters in Rosamond, inviting all Ford dealers in that section to visit the camp, drive the Ford if they wished and note the progress of the run. Three regular drivers covered the major portion of the mileage, but over 150 interested spectators piloted the car for nearly 5,000 miles. Altogether, it was driven over 12,181 miles of pavement; 17,490 miles of oiled road, and 3,650 miles of rough dirt road.

For days the desert temperature soared to 110, 112 and even 114 degrees. This intense heat, combined with desert winds and sand and the steady grind at high speed, made the record even more remarkable.

FILIPINO EXHIBIT TO BE VERY INTERESTING

To Portray Island Industries at World's Fair at Chicago

DeLand, Aug. 24.—Judging from a bulletin issued by the Century of Progress exposition and just received in the office of the Florida commission, in this city, one of the most interesting exhibits at Chicago next year will be that of the Philippines, for the getting together of which the Filipino government has appropriated 300,000 pesos, the equivalent of $150,000 in gold or American money. An advance agent is now in Chicago to select a site for a building, and a commission has been named to have made by the far-flung island possessions of Uncle Sam.

The Philippines include 7,083 chartered islands and countless dots in the Indian and Pacific oceans, habitable, but too small to be worth the cost of naming and mapping. There are 15,000,000 inhabitants on those islands, speaking 68 dialects and possessing almost as many religious beliefs, although Christians, Buddhists and Mohammedans predominate in the order named.

The varied industries of the islands as well as their culture, ethnology and tourist attractions will be shown by means of dioramas. One of the dioramas will portray the famous rice terraces for which the islands are famous. They look like gigantic steps or shelves cut into the sides of the mountains from sea level to a height of 5,000 feet and held in place by great stone retaining walls built at least 1,500 years ago—more than a thousand years before the advent of the Spaniards or other white men. Another diorama will depict the volcano, Taal, which rises from the center of a lake 25 miles in diameter and which has a lake of its own in its crater.

One of the features of the Philippine exhibit will be a series of historic mural paintings in panels gilt by twelve feet in brilliant colors, by famous artists.

A number of natives will form the colony and they will represent the primitive culture of the islands, giving an opportunity to study at first hand the various modes of life of those interesting people.

Get the Children Ready For School

"Physical defects of children should be cared for before the children enter school," say specialists of the Home Demonstration staff of the State College for Women, in calling attention to the fact that school days are again here.

"It is now recognized that much of the listlessness, laziness, and dullness in school children may be caused by poor physical condition rather than by poor physical condition rather than by any mental peculiarity or defect."

These specialists also point out the necessity of having the children form regular habits and thus keep in better physical condition. Irregularity in eating is one of the principal bad habits easy to acquire during the summer vacation, and letting the child eat when and what he wants and to have snacks between meals whenever he wishes is bound to develop bad food habits which may leave permanent effects on his physical health.

A definite mid-morning or mid-afternoon lunch of milk and bread or fruit may be given regularly if the child needs food between the regular meals. Under no circumstances should the child be allowed to nibble sweets continuously between meals.

Regular sleeping habits should also be encouraged and carried out, even on Sundays, to prevent constipation, nervousness, and sleeplessness.

Every member of the family should have an annual physical examination by the family physician. Especially is this true of the children, in whom defects may be detected and remedied at the beginning, when these same defects might grow and become serious handicaps later on.

Later September and October are the months for planting winter cover crops, like vetch and Austrian peas, and now is the time to make plans.
