Here and There About Avon Park

By W. M. Hetherington

Running true to form and with no desire to climb on anybody's bandwagon, we regret exceedingly that Ed DeLaney was unable to make the grade in the sheriff's race. The Times gave its support to Mr. DeLaney because during his long residence in Avon Park he has proven himself to be a man of honesty, integrity and ability, and in our judgment we considered him to be better qualified than his opponent to fill the office. But a majority of the voters of the county could not see it that way, so that is that. He made a clean race and his supporters may well be proud of the manner in which he conducted his campaign. The race is run and so far as we are concerned, that ends it. We shall give the Democratic nominee our support in the general election in November, and are hopeful that his tenure in office will be all that his admirers and friends expect it to be.

Looking back over the primary results, there is one bright spot that stands out for Avon Park people, and is cause for general rejoicing. No matter what else happened and how many they "lost" they had the satisfaction of seeing their townsman honored by an overwhelming vote in his race for Comptroller. We want to add our word of congratulation to the hundreds of telegrams and 'phone calls that have been pouring into the headquarters office since election night. To say a lot in a few words and stealing an old familiar slogan, "Such popularity must be deserved."

WHAT? NO FIREWORKS!

The mayor's statement that the city ordinance prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks will be "rigidly enforced during the Fourth of July celebrations," brings a pang of regret to the youngsters and a sigh of relief to the oldsters. Without question the promiscuous shooting of fireworks along the streets and around the homes should be prohibited. The practice is nerve-wrecking and annoying to many and dangerous to all. A local ordinance does prohibit it, and the mayor must enforce it.

On the other hand, Young America should not be restricted by a prohibitory law that takes away in its entirety the very freedom which they are being taught to celebrate by observance of the greatest of national holidays. To curb this spirit of Americanism in its incipiency and to deny to the youth of America all opportunity of this expression is working with cross purposes with the several organizations of this country that are trying to instill into the youth of the land a love and pride of country—a patriotism that is on the wane among the older folks. And unless it is revived and nurtured by those who are to take our places, America will become but a meaningless name, except as a mere geographical designation of the continent which it represents.

Before another year goes by, it should be our purpose to provide in some manner a celebration—possibly a public display of fireworks. If not this, then we should find a wide open space somewhere, probably the ball park, where the kids of this town can "shoot the works." Let it be handled under the supervision of older folks whose nerves are not so shattered but that they can take a hand and assist with sticking the sky rockets in the ground for the youngsters and see that none of them get their heads blown off.

Let's not forget next year folks, and get behind this movement. It's worthwhile to give the kids this treat. While you and I are held down by prohibitory laws until we can't move without breaking one of them, the kids should have their chance. And if, when they grow up, they become a little wiser than we are, and can throw off some of the chains that now bind us hand and foot—foisted upon us by hypocracy, demogoguery and hysteria—then they will have revived this freedom of which we talk so much but of which we have so little. Then they will not have lost the true spirit of this land, which is slumbering today, but which we hope another generation will grasp and hold high against these encroachments.

Let us give our children the benefit of our counsel, protection and assistance, but not prohibition in any form.

NEW STATE-WIDE TAXPAYERS LEAGUE FORMED LAST WEEK

Paul L. Vinson Named Regional Vice-President at Orlando Meeting; All Sections of State Represented.

A new state organization that is already acclaimed as a necessity and one that may mean millions of savings to the people of Florida was born in Orlando last week. It is the Florida Taxpayers Association. At the meeting all sections of the state were represented, and all sections were a unit as to the necessity of just such an organization in order that the people be not taxed to death. Twenty counties had representatives in the meeting.

In the platform which was prepared by a committee on Tuesday and carefully considered by the delegates present on Wednesday, it was declared that Florida must have some material tax relief, and that the chief consideration of the state officers and legislature must be not where to find new sources of revenue, but actual reduction of state and county expenses.

As was to be expected, there were numerous heated discussions on various angles of the platform, and on representation in the convention. Seven regional vice-presidents were selected as follows: J. M. Sherrill, Pensacola, W. J. Oven, Tallahassee; A. Ulmer, Jacksonville; R. L. Newman, Sr., Fort Myers; W. K. Whitfield, Orlando; Paul L. Vinson, Sebring; Mr. Willets of Stuart and Stanton Ennis, Sarasota as treasurer.

The regional vice-presidents will meet in Jacksonville the first week in July and select a president and Executive Secretary.

The meeting was called by Stanton Ennis, who had been selected as temporary president at a previous meeting of officials of several local and county taxpayers leagues held at Sarasota. After a little general discussion of what should be done to save the state, committees on credentials, platform and plan of organization and on incorporation were named. The committee on platform was headed by Judge Whitfield of Orlando and consisted of Whitfield, George E. Hosmer of Fort Myers, Mr. Pierce of Clearwater, Mr. Condon of St. Petersburg, Hr. Haines of Altamont Springs and Mr. Thacker of Sarasota. At the end of a two hours session, this committee agreed upon a platform which declared that in order for the government to stand, there must be a decided reduction in governmental expenses, in nation, state, county and municipal. Specific recommendations of the platform for abolition of the useless boards and bureaus in nation and state, abolition of the fee system of paying certain county officers, reduction of number of circuit court districts, etc., etc. were made.

In the clubs sending representatives to the first days preliminary meeting there are over 25,000 members now enrolled. Jacksonville has some 5,700 members, and declared that that organization had already saved the taxpayers of Duval county nearly a million dollars in useless expense. Pensacola has over 2,000 members, the three clubs in Pinellas county have about five thousand members and other clubs with rapidly growing members. Nine counties with twelve clubs were represented at the preliminary meeting Tuesday. The credentials comittee and the plan or organization committee finished their labors ready to report when the main convention opened Wednesday morning.

Closed Avon Park Bank To Pay Five Percent Dividend

Announcement was made this week that the First National Bank of Avon Park will pay a five percent dividend to depositors of the closed institution.

The office in the annex building will be open for distribution of dividend checks beginning today from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., up to and including next Thursday, with the exception of Monday, the Fourth.

This additional dividend makes a total of 25 percent paid by the closed bank. The five percent dividend will amount to $15,796.62. No indication was made as to when the First National Bank at Sebring would pay another dividend.

WILD THROWS LOSE GAME TO SEBRING 3-2

Ten-Inning Contest Goes To Sebring Firemen On Misplays

Two wild pitches in the seventh inning and a wild throw to the plate in the tenth inning accounted for Sebring's win over Avon Park yesterday afternoon, when the Firemen nosed out the Metros,3-2 in a ten inning game, the last of the first half of the Orange Belt League schedule.

Avon Park led off with the scoring in the fourth with two runs that looked good for the game until the wild throwing started. In this frame Dilley singled and was advanced to second by D. Martin's fly to left. He scored on McFerrin's double to center. A single by Hall scored Mac.

These two tallies told the tale for the Metros. Another chance came in the fifth with two men on base, but a double killing stopped the rally. After that, Morgan, pitching for Sebring, kept the hits well scattered.

The Firemen were handed two runs in the seventh, both by wild pitches at the plate. Mackey and Gallaher walked and were advanced by Dimberline's single. Dilley made a wild pitch which was retrieved by Player, new Metro catcher, and thrown to Dilley at the plate. Mackay slid in hard and Dilley dropped the ball. Dilley was relieved by Bass at this stage and Bass duplicated with another wild pitch that allowed Gallaher to score.

The score was then tied up until the tenth, when Dimberline walked and was thrown out attempting to steal second. Parker then walked and was advanced to third by Ewing's single. A short throw from Player to Hall at second on Ewing's steal was disastrous when Hall's

Canvassing Board Certifies Returns

The county canvassing board met this afternoon and certified the official returns of the second primary. Twenty-two absentee ballots were received and counted. While affecting the totals, the absentee ballots did not change the results in any of the races.

Wins Nomination

DAVE SHOLTZ

Popular young Daytona Beach attorney who was nominated as the Democratic candidate for governor by an overwhelming majority. He is the choice of the common people.

Lee Workers Busy On Election Day

About twenty-five young people of the city, supporters of Col. J. M. Lee in his race for Comptroller motored to different cities in this part of the state Tuesday, and worked at the polls.

Among these were:

Miss Lora Lee, Mrs. Rusell Tinney, Miss Kitty Martin, and H. J. Chance who were in Hicoria and Venus during the day.

Miss Grace Reddick, Miss Inez Dawson, Miss Chris Reeves and George Harvey were in Kissimmee.

Miss Marjorie Lacey, Miss Mildred Lee and George Harvey motored from Kissimmee to Haines City.

Miss Evelyn Clements, Mrs. Fred Ley of Melbourne, Miss Joyce Powell, Miss Katherine Saggus, Miss Billie Saggus and Miss Clements were in Babson Park, Dundee and Winter Haven.

W. A. Maddox, Robert Roberts, Cherry Harris, Bob DeVoe, Harris Mock and Nathan Pearce spent the day at Tavares, Umatilla, Eustis and Leesburg.

Bert Freeman, Phil and Bill Lacey spent the day in Tampa.

LAKE PLACID WINS FIRST HALF SCHEDULE

Nose Out Okeechobee Which Is In Second Place; Bowling Green Third

The Lake Placid Firemen trimmed the Okeechobee Fishermen in the final game of the first half of the Orange Belt League at Okeechobee Thursday afternoon by the score of 4 to 3 and copped the first half of the schedule. Okeechobee, runner-up for the first half honors, finished one game behind the winners, by loss of yesterday's game.

Bowling Green finished third, Sebring fourth, Avon Park fifth and Wauchula sixth in the first half. Official percentages were not available today.

Mackey, mound ace for the Firemen, struck out nine Fishermen and allowed only three hits. Petrey for the Firemen, starred at bat with a home run in the seventh inning with McAulay on base.

The second half of the Orange Belt League schedule will get under way Sunday, with Sebring at Avon Park. A return game will be played in Sebring Monday, July 4.

Plant Bureau Official May Visit Avon Park

"Florida Plants and Trees Growing in the Avon Park Region," a booklet recently published by C. S. Donaldson descriptive of the plant life found in the Mall and Highlands Hammock, has attracted the attention of W. W. Diehl, associate pathologist of the Bureau of Plant Industry and may result in a visit of that official to Avon Park.

A request for the booklet, received by Mr. Donaldson recently, was turned over to Miss Margaretha Vogt, assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce, who supplied the literature and invited the Plant Bureau official to make a visit to Avon Park. Replying, Mr. Diehl stated that it is likely he may have an opportunity of coming here for a visit during the present year.

A great many of the plants found growing in the Mall were furnished to Mr. Donaldson by the Plant Bureau.

Defeats Amos

J. M. LEE

Avon Park attorney and former Highlands County representative who led Ernest Amos a merry chase for state comptroller and swamped him in an avalanche of votes over the entire state.

Episcopal Young People Name the Diocesan Officers

Officers were elected and reports of the year's work were received at the sixth annual convention of the Episcopal young people's service league of the diocese of south Florida, held here this week. The officers are:

The Rev. H. O. Touthit, director; Morton O. Nace, executive secretary; William Morrison, president, Miss Martha Cutter, first vice-president; Miss Julia Johnson , second vice-president; Miss M. Nell Bales, third vice-president; Jack Lewis, recording secretary; Harry Black, corresponding secretary; Virginia Farmer and Thomas Fairbanks, delegates at large; William P. Sanders, Mrs. Moses and Miss Annie Tulane, counsellors.

Mr. Morrison also was named a delegate to the Suwanee summer school.

Appeal For Funds To Install Chimes In Episcopal Church

An appeal is being made by the vestrymen of the Church of the Redeemer for funds to complete the amount needed in installing a set of chimes in the Episcopal church.

M. E. Covington, for the vestrymen, sends this message to those interested in the project:

Several weeks ago a campaign was launched to raise a small amount of money to install a modest set of chimes in the Church of the Redeemer.

About one half of the necessary amount was subscribed in response to our first appeal, but it will require about $40.00 more to finance the proposition.

We feel that in the purchase and installation of these chimes, the church and the town of Avon Park will have a notable addition and derive much pleasure and inspiration therefrom.

This appeal is going out to urge those who subscribed to this fund to make payment immediately, and to those friends who will help us with this undertaking, we urge prompt action.

Our time is limited. We have the chimes temporarily installed on approvel, but a decision must be made within the coming week if we are to take advantage of the bargain that has been offered to us.

Those who wish to have a part in this project are requested to hand their contributions to any of the following named: M. E. Covington, Gilbert Freeman, Demos Mandis or W. M. Reck.

The chimes will be played next Sunday, July 3.

No Fireworks July Fourth, Mayor Says

Complying with a city ordinance which prohibits the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits, Mayor M. E. Covington has issued notice that the ordinance will be rigidly enforced. His statement says:

To whom it may concern:—The sale of fireworks, and the discharge, firing or use of firecrackers, rockets, torpedoes, Roman candles, toy pistols, etc., is prohibited by the ordinances of this city, and you are hereby warned that these ordinances will be rigidly enforced during the Fourth of July celebrations.

M. E. Covington, Mayor.

SECOND PRIMARY TUESDAY SHOWED DECISIVE RESULTS

Sholtz, Lee, Sims, Schumacher, Hylton, Spooner, Twitty, Hope and Bates Nominated and Virtually Elected.

The second primary has come and gone and the office seeker who has been nominated will rest until the general election in November. The defeated candidates will retire to lick their wounds and recuperate. Some may say "Never Again" while others will look towards the next primary election at which time they may again offer themselves for office. For local offices, the Democrats nominated at these primaries are virtually elected as competent legal opinion considers the Republican party is barred from participating in the general election locally as they did not enter candidates in the primaries or certify their nominees at this time.

In the governors race Sholtz swamped Martin by a overwhelming majority and Tuesday evening Martin conceeded his defeat. Sholtz carried every precinct in Highlands county except one, Bassenger, where he polled 15 votes to Martin's 29.

Ernest Amos, incumbent of the state comptroller's office since 1916, went down in defeat before J. M. Lee's landslide over the entire state and Highlands county will be represented in the next state cabinet. Lee had an uphill fight and had to combat a lot of last minute scurrilous propaganda. Lee was also cramped for funds and the greater portion of his financial aid came from his Highlands county friends.

Congressman H. J. Drane, who for the past 16 years has served this district, was defeated by J. Hardin Peterson by the slender margin of 281 votes. The vote was Peterson 37,498: Drane 37,217.

In the state at large congressional race, W. J. Sears was elected over John T. Alsop, Jr., of Jacksonville. Sears received 113,968; Alsop 104, 787 on the last returns.

In the county contests, J. E. (Jack) Sims, Lake Placid's town manager, beat Captain W. R. Maynard for the office of representative. Sim's total vote was 1,292 and Maynard's 868.

The sheriff's race was hot and created more interest than that for any other office. Doyle Schumacher of Sebring led E. A. DeLaney of Avon Park in every precinct except DeLaney's home town, Schumacher's total was 1,322 and DeLaney's 882.

Ruth Bass Hylton, Avon Park businesswoman, beat D. F. Canfield the incumbent by a comfortable majority for the office of tax collector. The lady rolled up 1,317 votes to Canfield's 872. Some attribute Canfield's defeat to his inability to conduct an intensive campaign due to the duties of the office.

The defeat of Charles Beresford by A. F. Spooner for the office of commissioner for district two was a surprise to some. Beresford is serving his first term in this office and has shown his ability but Spooner is a popular Sebring businessman with a host of friends.

In district three, L. C. Pearce, former chairman of the county commissioners went down in defeat before J. H. Twitty of DeSoto City. Pearce's vote totalled 95 and Twitty's, 112.

In district five, Ben C. Hope, brother of W. D. Hope, the present commissioner, got the nomination for the county board over N. B. Jackson. Hope's friends turned out to the number of 108 while Jackson's numbered 92.

A. A. Bates of Sebring had no trouble beating E. G. Long for the office of constable in districts two and three. Bates rolled up a grand total of 588 votes while Long polled 270.

The full count for every office, precinct by precinct, will be found tabulated elsewhere in this issue. Although not official, this count can be assumed to be practically correct.

The heaviest boll weevil damage in years looms for Mississippi if unfavorable weather conditions continue.

Pennsylvania recently acquired 11,716 acres of forests, sending the total of state owned forest lands to 1,556,259 acres.

Three up, three down for the visitors in the fifth frame, Cox for the Firemen gets a double to left field in the fifth, Alsobrook sacrifices, Mackey passing to first on balls, Thomas singling to center field scoring Cox and Mackey, Thomas steals second where he dies as the next three men go out. Two runs, two hits, one error. Three up, three down in the sixth for the visitors.

Leaphart, hitting for York playing right field, singled, Sharpless received a fielder's choice as Leaphart is out short to second, Cobb and Cox out retiring the side. One hit, one left. Visitors make two runs in the seventh frame as McCampbell, first up, singles, Armstead singles, D. Martin doubles to right field scoring Armistead, Hall singles, scoring D. Martin, C. B. Martin out to third, Milton receiving a fielder's choice as McCampbell is out retiring the side. Two runs, four hits, no errors.

Mackey gets a triple to center field in the seventh but was unable to tally as his team mates go out. McFarren for visitors received a single in the eight. One hit, one left. Leaphart, first up for Firemen, passes to first on balls, Sharpless singles, Cobb doubles to left field scoring Leaphart and Sharpless, Cox sacrificing, Alsobrook out short to first. Two runs, two hits. Visitors end the game as Armistead gets a single while his team mates go out in one, two, three order, leaving him on base.

Methodist Church Conference To Be Held Sunday P. M.

The third quarterly conference for the Lake Placid-DeSoto City charge of the Methodist church, will be held at the Lake Placid Methodist church on Sunday afternoon July 3rd, at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. E. Watt Smith, presiding elder of the Bartow district in charge. All officials of the church are requested to hand in written reports of their work during the past quarter. These reports include those of the board of stewards, Sunday school superintendents, presidents of Epworth Leagues, senior and Hi-Leagues of each church, presidents of Woman's Missionary Societies and church and charge lay leaders.

Friends of Mrs. O. C. Parrish will be glad to learn that she is rapidly recovering from her recent illness.

Laymen Were In Charge of Methodist Services Sunday

At the morning worship hour at the Methodist Church Sunday the laymen and lay women of the church conducted a special service in which none but laymen took part. The subject was, "The Ideal Laymen." The program was in charge of P. T. Richards, church lay leader, who gave a brief address on the purpose of the service after which J. M. Andrews, chairman of the board of stewards, gave the principal address of the morning, using as his subject "A Vital Religious Experience Necessary in becoming an ideal Laymen, also faith in God and Man." An address on the subject "Loyalty To the Church" was presented very forcefully by E. Kelley. Following this P. T. Richards presented a short history of the work of the Methodist Church. E. W. Kelsey brought an address on services of the church and how we may help render better service to the church as laymen.

Randall B. York gave an address on Christian education and the ideal laymen, Mrs. A. R. Trammell on loyal support of the pastor as an ideal layman. Mrs. G. H. York, religion in the daily task necessary in becoming an ideal layman and Mrs. E. W. Kelsey gave an address on the ideal layman and a world vision. The morning's program was closed with a brief address from L. T. Farmer, charge lay leader of the DeSoto City Methodist church.

As a special feature of the program Sunday morning at the Sabbath school hour was the rendering of a song entitled "Give of your best," by Elizabeth Jackson, Mary Bessie Poppell, Annie Sue Jackson, Jacquline Moore and Joyce Moore, members of the Hi-League. The young peoples class of the Sunday school continues to hold first place in attendance while the mens' class holds second place with the junior boys and girls class tied for third place. The mens' class was taught by Rev. G. H. York, pastor, Sunday morning who ably discussed the important points of the lesson with the class.

Avon Park Metros To Play Here Thursday

The Avon Park ball club will make their final appearance in the first half of the Orange Belt League Thursday afternoon. The game is the last either club plays this half.

Announcement as to the club which the Firemen will face in the second half opener on Sunday has not been made as yet by President Gilbert Freeman who is fixing up the second half schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Davis and children and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cannon were visitors in Wauchula Sunday attending the ball game between Lake Placid and Wauchula.

L. T. Farmer of DeSoto City was a visitor in town Sunday morning attending school and the morning worship hour at the Methodist church.

Dr. C. L. Crews and daughter, Virginia Lee, left for Orlando Friday, where they will join relatives and go from there to Daytona Beach where they will spend a short vacation enjoying the surf and bathing. Lawton Mock and Clyatt McAuley have charge of the drug store while Dr. Crews is away, prescriptions being taken care of by Dr. A. T. Eide.

The Rev. E. Watt Smith, presiding elder of the Bartow district of the Florida Methodist Conference, will be present at the morning worship hour Sunday and will preach. In making this announcement the membership and officials of the Methodist church regret very much that this service conflicts with that of the Baptist brethren but it cannot be helped and it is hoped they will understand.

WAUCHULA DEFEATED BY FIREMEN SUNDAY

Game at Wauchula Ends In Lake Placid's Favor, Eight To Two

The Lake Placid Firemen defeated the Wauchula nine in a well played game at Wauchula Sunday with Eddie Alsobrook hurling for the Firemen and Bryant for the locals. Bryant gave up 13 hits and eight runs, striking out seven of the Firemen, while Alsobrook gave up eight hits, two runs, striking out six. The Firemen started things off in the first frame when Cobb, first up, reached first on third's error, Cox singled to left field and Cobb trying to reach third on single from Cox was thrown out, left field to third. Alsobrook safe on short's error, stole second and Cox scored, Mackey passed to first, Petrey safe on center fielder's error, scoring Alsobrook and Mackey is out unassisted to catcher as he tried to score. Two runs, one hit, two errors.

M. Willson safe on first through short's error, McInnis safe on second's error, Whidden singled scoring Willson, Smith singled scoring McInnis, Gannt and Southerland going out. Two runs, two hits, Leaphart was the only man for the Firemen to reach first on a pass during the second frame. Hines for the locals singled but remained on base as his team mates were out retiring the side. One hit, one left. Three up, three down, for both sides in the third frame.

Petrey, first up in the fourth for the Firemen, singled to center field, Roberts getting a double to center field scoring Petrey. McAulay singled over third, Roberts was out at plate, pitcher to catcher, trying to score, Leaphart and Sharpless going out. One run, three hits, one left, one error. Bass reached first on third's error and was left on base. One left. Cox and Alsobrook singled in the fifth for the only hits for the Firemen and were left on base. Two hits, no errors.

Chambless batting for M. Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks yunk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Refuse substitutes. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

PAINTED IN FOR THE SEASON

ROCHAMBEAU BORN JULY 1, 207 YEARS AGO

Was Friend of Washington and Played Important Part In Revolution

July 1 is a date on which every person in the country who wishes to be regarded as a good American should think for a moment of the noble character who was born on that day 207 years ago. In Lafayette Park, in the city of Washington, facing the White House, stands a statue to this man, and on the base of it are carved the words in which George Washington has nobly recorded the "harmonious friendship" which existed between this man and himself.

This friend of Washington and of America was Jean Baptiste Donation de Vimeure, Comte de Rochambeau, and it is in view of that classic example of friendship between two exalted souls, as well as for the help that Rochambeau brought to Washington and to America, that every American owes him a thought. And the thought is most appreciated during this year when the entire civilized world is honoring the memory of George Washington. Nothing would have pleased Washington more than this moment of gratitude that we bestow upon his great ally and comrade in arms.

Every school-child knows the story of the help that came from France at a critical hour in the progress of the Revolution. The patriots, we are told by the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, had become destitute of everything but their magnificent courage and determination. But a nation cannot triumph on valor alone, and the Colonies were without funds, without armament, without food and clothing for their soldiers. More than that, five years of war had so disheartened the country that it had little prospect of raising these necessities in time to save itself and its cause.

How the French came to our aid with money and with armed men and ships, in answer to the pleadings of Benjamin Franklin and the eloquence of Lafayette, is familiar to all. The story of it makes one of the noble pages of history. It is the story of nations and of individuals willing and able to rise above considerations of financial or political gains, and uniting to battle side by side for those invisible advantages to progress and to humanity.

The millions of livres, and the thousands of Frenchmen who came to America in their transports and ships of war, made possible Washington's triumph at Yorktown and the winning of American Independence. But even this splendid and effective gesture is but half the story.

The rest of it consists in those graceful and personal acts of consideration and delicacy with which the French placed themselves under Washington's command and made possible that "harmonious friendship" which Washington himself records immortally on the statue of his friend.

It is a fact known chiefly to students of history that Lafayette dearly wished to be made commander of this French contingent, and it is worth the labor of turning over all the pages of correspondence dealing with the subject for the pleasure of finding how gracefully he yielded the honor and how cheerfully he became a subordinate both to his French chieftain and to General Washington. But Rochambeau was equally fine in placing himself completely at Washington's orders, and in this he was but executing the orders of his superiors in France.

It is not commonly understood, in the first place, what an honor the French conferred upon us in placing Rochambeau at the head of the reinforcements they sent us. The Count de Rochambeau was a soldier of the first eminence at the time, and had been chosen to head the pick of the French army in the war that was expected with England. To detail him, instead, to bring the French troops to America was a compliment indeed. And no man could have more becomingly personified this compliment.

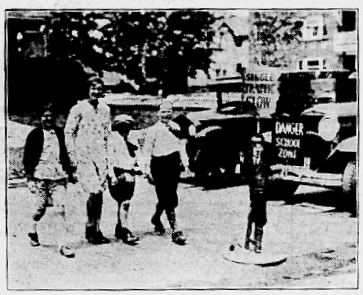
Rochambeau was seven years the elder of Washington, and long before the American Revolution distinguished himself in one of France's important wars. A smaller man might have given himself airs on the score of this, especially as America was displaying the supliant for this aid from the French.

Instead, Rochambeau placed himself and his forces completely at Washington's disposal. Not only that, care was taken to observe every nicety of military courtesy during the campaign. For instance, in the siege of Yorktown, the Americans were given the post of honor at the right of the line; and within these larger acts were countless smaller observances that lifted the course pursued by Rochambeau to the plane of military chivalry.

It goes without saying that Washington completely captivated Rochambeau and all the French officers, and the "harmonious friendship" that sprang up between them was just what Washington's words convey. Carved on Rochambeau's statue, they will go on meaning what they say as long as the two nations survive, perpetuating a friendship of two great powers.

Rochambeau lived on to the ripe old age of 82. During the French Revolution he at first sympathized with the struggle for liberty and fought for the cause, but the murderous proclivities of the leaders sickened him. Suspected because of this, he was put in prison and was saved from the guillotine only by the timely death of Robespierre. It was from the hands of the young Napoleon that he received again his rank and estates and was allowed to live out in peace a life of memories every one of which did him honor.

Sign Replaces Police!



Parma, Ohio.—A new traffic sign designed to protect Parma, O., school children on their way to and from their classrooms has been introduced at one of the busy intersections of the town. The sign was designed by Police Chief Garry Burczyk and if found satisfactory he will use similar ones to replace policemen at each of the necessary intersections.

COOKIES FOR HOT WEATHER

Cookies are a delight to old as well as young. After they are made it is nearly always necessary to keep them hidden or locked up to prevent the youngsters or the oldsters from slipping into the pantry between meals.

Following are some recipes for delightful cookies in which honey is used. The first two are especially good for hot weather. These recipes are suggested by the American Honey Institute.

Fruit Filled Refrigerator Cookies.

These are indeed a delightful tea service. Use the same dough given for Chocolate Refrigerator cookies omitting the cocoa. Allow dough to stand in refrigerator several days.

Mix one-half cup ground dates, one-half cup ground cherries, one-half cup nuts (chopped), adding just enough honey to make it stick together.

Chocolate Refrigerator Cookies

Use one-half cup brown sugar, one-half cup honey, one-half cup shortening, one egg, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half cup pecan meats, two and one--half cups flour, four to six tablespoons cocoa, depending on degree of chocolate flavor liked.

Cream sugar, honey, shortening, egg. Add dry ingredients, then nuts, shape in loaf or place in refrigerator cookies mold. Chill several days to allow sufficient ripening of dough. Slice off and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for about 10 to 12 minutes. After baking, cookies, if allowed to stand several days, are improved in flavor.

Honey Cookies.

Honey cookies of all descriptions are pleasing and the hostess who would always be prepared will use honey in her cookie-making because honey cookies improve with age. They need not be made at the last minute, they are the better for having been made in advance. Keep them always on hand.

Poultryman Raises Chicks At Low Cost

Perry, June 29.—After raising 6,000 chicks to 10 weeks of age for a cost, exclusive of labor, of 27 cents each, Harry L. Goodrich, local farmer, says that good stock, rigid sanitation, proper feeding, and personal care are responsible for his success.

Mr. Goodrich began raising poultry last August and by this fall he expects to have 1,000 layers. By strictly following the grow healthy chick program planned by himself and County Agent R. S. Dennis, Mr. Goodrich has lost less than 7 percent of his chicks. In one lot of 500 White Leghorns, now over eight weeks old, 494 are living, and the six that were lost died before the ninth day.

The chicks were fed a home-mixed growing mash.

Florida has an antiquated law which says the clerks of the circuit court must reside within two miles of the courthouse.

Destructive Termites Killed by Fumigation with Calcium Cyanide

Termites if left undisturbed will soon eat one out of house and home, once they get started in the house. They are insects of a dirty white color, about ¼ inch long, whose chief food is wood; thus they are very destructive to dwellings and other buildings.

Fumigation with calcium cynide is the best method to exterminate them, according to J. R. Watson, entomologist with the Florida Experiment Station. He suggests putting one pound of the cynide to every 100 cubic feet of space beneath the building. Stretch paper from the sills to the ground, leaving an opening on each side through which to throw the cynide. Wet the ground and then sprinkle the cyanide evenly over it. Close the openings, and the doors and windows on the first floor, and vacate the building for at least 24 hours. Before trying to reoccupy the building open up and allow it to air well. Remember that caynide, as well as the gas it gives off, is extremely poisonous.

When only a few tunnels that termites have made are found in the floor, it is not advisable to fumigate, simply pour carbon bisulphide in the tunnels.

Termites prefer cool, damp, dark places; therefore such places should be avioded as much as possible around the building. All rotting wood should be cleaned up in the vicinity of the building, and no wooden structure, such as fences or trellises, should extend from the ground the the wooden parts of the building. The building should be placed preferably on stone or concrete pillars, but wooden posts thoroughly soaked in coal-tar creosote are proof against termites.

Summer Shelter For Growing Pullets Is Inexpensive, Handy

Shelter should be provided for the growing pullets during the summer, says N. R. Mehrhof, poultryman for the Agricultural Extension Service. It is essential that the pullets receive proper care, and shelter is needed during the hot days of summer. Summer shelters are cheaply constructed, and provide more roosting space for less money.

Among the advantages of summer shelter, as listed by Mr. Mehrhof, are that summer shelter is more easily cleaned, and it provides for more ventilation than can be obtained in an ordinary brooder house. It should be built on skids, so it can be moved to clean range, thus giving an advantage in health to the pullets.

Summer shelters may be made in 8, 10 or 12 foot lengths. A 10x10 A-shaped shelter will accommodate about 125 Leghorn pullets. It should be made five feet high at the ridge and three feet at the sides. The perches should be two feet from the floor.

A small door in the corner should be provided for the pullets, the front door being used only by the attendant. When the pullets are to be handled, a small catching crate can be placed in frent of the small door.

All four sides are covered with wire, either 1 or 1½ inch mesh. The floor should be covered with one inch wire. If a wooden floor is used, wire should be placed underneath the perches to prevent the pullets from coming in contact with the droppings.

As fall months approach and the pullets begin to lay, they should be moved from the summer shelter to the laying house.

Due to economy measures, prisoners in Butte County, California, will be deprived of tobacco formerly furnished free by the county.

WILL PRODUCE REAL FLORIDA ATMOSPHERE

Latest Methods of Indirect Lighting To Produce Florida Glows

Tampa, June 29.—The Florida commission, responsible for Florida's exhibition at the Century of Progress exposition, and Earl W. Brown, of Deland, manager of the exhibit, are endeavoring to reproduce at Chicago, next year, a thoroughly Florida atmosphere in the Florida section of the court of states, even to Florida skies.

Mr. Brown has announced that through collaboration with lighting experts and the use of the very latest discoveries in methods of applying indirect lighting, perfect Florida glows will be produced in the windowless Florida building during the daytime. To add to the effect, a new device has been invented for producing and projecting the fleecy type of cloud so common to Florida skies every summer afternoon. At night, the skies over the Florida section of the court of states, will be dotted with the stars and constellations familiar to Florida.

To add to the illusion, Mr. Brown says that J. E. Wallace, the sculptor who specializes in wild life, is creating in his studio, in West Tampa, whole flocks of birds common to the state which, through the use of mechanical devices, will be made to soar across the daytime skies in perfect simulation of their living prototypes. Curlews, gulls, herons and other birds with particularly graceful flying motions, will be represented.

Mr. Brown adds that this feature of the Florida exhibit, when outlined to the Century of Progress authorities in Chicago, was very warmly commended for its originality and the opinion was expressed that with the proposed living orange grove and exotic garden, the flying birds would make the Florida exhibit outstanding among the state exhibits at the exposition.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

LIVESTOCK ASSUMING GREATER IMPORTANCE IN STATE'S FARMING

Livestock looms large on the Florida horizon.

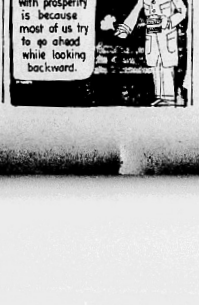
There are two principal reasons for this. First is the eradication of the cattle tick from a greater and greater area of the state. Second is the fact that livestock fit in well as an extra cash crop, and extra cash crops are needed now as they have not been needed in some time. Add to this the fact that most classes of livestock and livestock products are in good demand now, and it is easy to believe that livestock will assume a place of greater importance in the state's agriculture.

That Florida, because of its climate, has a most favorable grazing season is without question. That Florida livestock raisers do not take fullest advantage of the state's grazing possibilities likewise is without question. Roughage is the cheapest feed, and the cheapest roughage is pasture grass. It is possible, with little trouble, to establish pastures in Florida which will provide grazing for nine months out of twelve. Pastures, good permanent pastures, are essential for the greatest success in either dairying or beef cattle raising.

The beef cattle industries are being helped by the eradication of the Texas fever tick, which is being wiped out of the United States. Florida is one among the last feeding grounds left for the tick, but this pest is slowly but systematically being eradicated in this state. Purebred beef sires can be brought in to build up the quality of our beef animals. Better quality animals will command better prices on the meat markets. Without having to support the cattle tick, the dairy cows can do more to support their owners.

Cheap feeds, tick freedom, and markets for surplus will aid the dairy industry; cheap feeds, tick freedom and better quality will aid the beef industry of Florida; both industries should assume parts of more importance in the state's agriculture of the future.

A new type of glider equipped with pontoons, was recently tested at Tampa Bay, Florida.



Soldiers Home Will Give Hundreds of Men Regular Jobs

St. Petersburg, June 25.—Between 100 and 600 permanent employees will probably work at the Seminole Point Soldiers Home about next Christmas time, C. C. Coffin, government supervisor, estimates.

The government man, in charge of the job, said that under present conditions the home will be completed and ready for occupancy by December 23, the date specified for its completion.

Positions that will be open range from physicians to janitors and caretakers and most of them are filled by civil service examinations, it was explained.

According to information here, service men are given preference, as well as residents of this State.

Mr. Coffin could not estimate how many men would be employed on the home staff. The maximum number, he believed, would be around 600.

WRUF Farm Program

Gainesville, June 29.—Radio programs of interest to housewives from 9:45 to 10 a. m. and farm programs from 12 to 12:45 p. m., will be broadcast over WRUF each day next week by the Agricultural Extension Service. Principal among the scheduled talks on the Florida farm hour are the following:

He Set the Original Four Bagger Record

Detroit, Mich.—When Lou Gehrig came to Detroit today, he was greeted and congratulated by Bobby Lowe on his feat of hitting four home runs in one game. Lowe, who is now a Detroiter, set the original record of hitting four homers in one game on Decoration Day, 1891, while playing with the Boston Nationals. He also bit a single in the same game. That was 38 years ago, and the record still stands, although it has been duplicated several times. Bobby Lowe, who is 66 now, played major league ball for 18 years finishing with Detroit in 1904.

Capture Illegal Gill Net With Giant Ray and 5 Sharks

West Palm Beach, June 25.—Deputy Shellfish Commissioner Gus Peterson and his assistant captured 900 feet of illegal gill nets in Lake Worth last night but they are wondering if the joke isn't on them.

The owner not only got away but he left in the nets five shovel-nose sharks and a giant ringed whip ray, which proved far more dangerous to the deputies.

With imminent danger of going overboard among angry sharks ranging from four to six feet in length, the men had trouble freeing their gills from the net and then, just as their troubles seemed over, they drew in the angry ray with its deadly whiplash tail in action.

Eventually, however, they got back to shore with no other casualties than a badly torn net and numerous mosquito bites.

"LONG ENOUGH."

"The people can do no wrong"—but the people can do some darned foolish things. They did such a thing when they sacrificed the experience, the prestige, the seniority advantages, of Herbert J. Drane by naming a new man for Congress who will have to build up these things from the very ground.

We mean no disparagement of the successful candidate; if we had viewed the Congressional race solely in the light of personal friendship, we probably would have supported Mr. Peterson.

But as we look upon all that Mr. Drane has accomplished for this district; as we consider his record of faithful public service; as we review the hundreds—nay thousands, of cases where he has brought aid and relief to individual constituents, giving help that has meant to them almost the difference between life and death—we cannot but be impressed with the ingratitude and lack of appreciation that so often reward honest and honorable endeavor to serve the public.

Here is a man against whom no charge could be brought that might cast the slightest reflection upon his ability, his fitness, his integrity, his value as a representative of the people. The worst that could be said about him by those opposed to him was that "he has had it long enough." When in old Athens, an election was being held on the ostracism of Aristides, an ignorant fellow who did not know him, came up to him, and giving him his shell desired him to write upon it the name "Aristides." The latter asked in surprise if Aristides had done him any wrong. "No," was the reply, "I did not even know him, but it irritates me to hear him everywhere called "the Just." For some such excellent reason many must have voted against Mr. Drane—they thought he had been a useful and irreproachable public servant "long enough."

Still, it was not Mr. Drane's opponent that defeated him; it was the times. The times were created partly by the follies and extravagances of the people, partly by certain aftermath of the world war; but the people, restless and dissatisfied, must have a goat, and the man in public office, must be sacrificed, no matter how efficient or honest as a public servant he may have been.

There is a clamor at all times for men of high type to enter politics—and when they do they are crucified. Let us hope that when Mr. Drane's successor in turn will have to give way to a new man that there will be no graver reason urged in favor of his retirement than that, though he shall have been a representative with a record beyond criticism, "he has had it long enough."

It's all over now, and it doesn't make much difference perhaps, but we mildly object to Mr. Martin's vigorous and emphatic repetition of the phrase, "Warsaw, Russia." Somebody might go hunting through Russia for Warsaw and Russia is quite a large place. The jography book used to say that Warsaw was in Poland, and a recent atlas indicates it is still there—unless Mr. Martin moved it over into Russia for campaign purposes.

Because of our knowledge of the man, this paper advocated zealously the candidacy of Cary Hardee for Governor of Florida. It still believes that the tried and tested qualities of Mr. Hardee, and his conservative and constructive program, offered the best treatment of Florida's problems at this time. But the people in their wisdom—let us hope it was that—eliminated Mr. Hardee in the first primary, and in common with vast numbers of others we turned to Dave Sholtz as the hope of the State in bettering its affairs during the next four years. We are happy to have been a participant in piling up the magnificent vote given him last Tuesday. It was a vote of confidence in his ability and integrity, and we are sure that Mr. Sholtz will hold as a sacred duty the redemption of the trust reposed in him. He will have no easy task. In the excitement and enthusiasm of a campaign, the sudden turn of which in his favor might well have confused an older head, he made certain definite promises to the people which will be remembered. It will take statesmanship of a high order, combined with ability to command the wholehearted co-operation of the Legislature and the various governmental departments, to carry out these promises. In short, much will be expected of him, and the people will not be forgetful, or as tolerant of alibis, as they may have been in the past. These things are written in the friendliest and kindliest spirit and in the full confidence that Mr. Sholtz will not spare himself in his efforts to discharge the responsibilities he sought and which have been laid upon him. All this could have been expressed more briefly in this wise: "You have cut out a mighty hard job for yourself, David; go to it; we are with you, and may the Lord be with you, also!"

REVOLT.

The tax payers of the state have taken up the standard of revolt at last. A group met in Orlando last week and laid the foundation for a state-wide organization of taxpayers with the purpose in view of eliminating useless expense in government.

In their official publication entitled, "The Florida Taxpayer," is published the following platform which they adopted at their meeting in Orlando which is to be submitted to the county organizations for ratification:

The Florida Taxpayers Association declares that the sum total of all taxes has reached an annual amount that can no longer be paid by those assessed.

That there are Boards, Offices, Districts, Commissions and more or less permanent political subdivisions to numbers unknown and purposes unneeded, each authorized to levy taxes upon us apparently without limit.

That, to live, these conditions must be stopped and to that end, regardless of political parties, we and each of us pledge our efforts and our votes to reduce these oppressive sources of taxation to the least number necessary to operate our government on a safe, sane and economical basis. We affirm our faith in our system of representative government, our loyalty to its principles and our appreciation of its sacred institutions. It is our belief that the present economic conditions and high governmental costs cannot be charged against our system of government but to the misuse of that system and the apathy of the masses of its citizenship.

We propose as a legislative program for the consideration of the Association the following declaration of principles:

I

In order to help reduce the burden of operating the State of Florida, we recommend that the Legislature of the State of Florida enact the necessary legislation to abolish all unnecessary bureaus and commissions, such as,

(a) Motor License Department—This department to be abolished; the duties of the department as now administered to be handled by the Office of Comptroller or Secretary of State; the sale of license tags to be made by County tax collectors, the policing of the department to be done through City and County officers and the tag inspectors to be ablished, as is now done in other states.

(b) Hotel Commission—This commission to be abolished and the duties of the commission to be handled by the State Board of Health, co-operating in enforcement with City and County officers.

(c) Shellfish Commission, Game and Fresh Water Commission and Forestry Commission. These all to be abolished and provision made for the administration of these natural resources to be handled by the State Department of Agriculture; the necessary policing to be done by the sheriffs of the various counties.

(d) Tick Eradication—To be placed under the State Department of Agriculture.

(e) Board of Public Welfare—The present Board of Public Welfare to be abolished and this department to be handled through the local or County boards.

And we favor abolishing all other similar unnecessary boards, bureaus and commissions, and the consolidation of all departments which can legally be consolidated without impairing the efficiency of such departments.

II

We favor the abolition of the present fee system method of compensating certain County officials, and the placing of all County officers on a straight salary basis, such salaries to be determined by the proper classification of the several counties of the State on the basis of population, thus eliminating the abuses of the fee system.

III

We strongly urge that elimination of all unnecessary appropriations, and all employees that can be dispensed with without impairing public service.

IV

We believe that taxes can be greatly reduced without the impairment of the efficiency of the service, by the reduction of the number of judicial circuits in the State of Florida.

V

We recommend the enactment of such legislation as will give more complete control of the so-called "third house" that has functioned so efficiently at Tallahassee in past sessions of the Legislature and particularly during the 1931 session of the Legislature, by the enactment of legislation similar to that which prevails in other states, requiring all lobbyists to register, giving the names of their employers, the amount of the remuneration they are receiving, and the source of the same; and the business for which they are attending the session of the Legislature.

VI

(a) A revision of the State Banking laws by the enactment by fine or imprisonment, or both, for State bank officials receiving deposits when the bank is in an insolvent condition.

(b) The enactment of laws providing for a fine or imprisonment, or both, for State bank officers or directors making loans of bank funds to themselves or their corporations or companies with which they are directly or indirectly connected at the time the loan is made.

(c) We favor the enactment of such laws as will guarantee to depositors the safety of their funds deposited with the banks of the State.

VII

We recommend the passing of legislation to reduce the salaries of State officials and employees proportionately to salaries paid in private business for similar work, and for the elimination of all unnecessary employees in all of the various State offices.

VIII

We demand a holiday of at least five years in the construction of State highways in Florida, except such work as may be necessary to maintain our present excellent system of State highways and to complete the necessary trunk line conditions and other projects actually under construction. The funds saved from the road construction holiday to be used to pay interest and retire outstanding road bonds issued by the various counties of the State.

IX

In providing for the budget to operate the various departments of the State the budget committee and the Legislature should keep constantly in mind the reduction of the costs of State government rather than to seek new sources of placing additional taxes upon an already overburdened taxpaying public.

X

We favor the necessary constitutional amendments and legislation to provide for the consolidation of the offices of county tax collector and county tax assessor, to the end that one official may make the necessary assessments and collect the taxes, as is being done in other States.

We also recommend that consideration be given to the practability of legislation to consolidate the city tax collector and tax assessor with the county tax collector and tax assessor, so as to require a single assessment of properties in the various counties of Florida and the payment of taxes through one collection office in each county in the State.

XI

The program for economy and retrenchment that this organization advocates for the State of Florida should be made to apply to the federal government. The salaries of federal officeholders and employees should be reduced so that the federal officeholder and employee would receive a compensation that would be in keeping with the compensation that officeholders and employees of industry receive for similar services. We do not regard a 10% cut in federal officeholders' and employees' salaries as being anything like an adequate reduction. The reduction should start with the salary of the president and be made to apply to congressmen and senators and to all officeholders.

The federal government is operating now under many bureaus and commissions that could well be eliminated without impairing the efficiency of the service, and we earnestly urge the consolidation of all departments that can be legally consolidated, the elimination of all unnecessary bureaus, and the elimination of all unnecessary appropriations so as to bring the cost of the federal government down to the very lowest possible minimum.

The budget of the United States should be balanced without seeking new items upon which to levy additional taxes, as was done by the present Congress. The only way to properly balance the federal budget is to reduce the amount to be expended so that the disbursements will not exceed the income of the government, without resorting to taxes like those that have just gone into effect.

We doubt, if any taxpayer or citizen could take issue with the above platform except in minor details, and it is possible to realize the fulfillment of the ideas expressed if enough of the taxpayers put their shoulder to the wheel.

Echoes of the State Press

THE DEFEATED CANDIDATE.

1. Oh, confound the luck, how are they multiplied that trouble me!

2. Truly mine enemies have compassed me about and the sons of Belzebub have sorely smitten me with the edge of the ballot.

3. They arose early on election day and got them to the polls like a grievous swarm of locusts, and from the rising of the sun until going down thereof they ceased not to vote for the other fellow.

4. From Dan even unto Beersheba, behold, the people are liars and are full of prunes.

5. Did not the children of Hebbron promise me a goodly majority. Behold, they said I would carry the precinct solid; and now just look what they have went and done.

6. The Tnakim of Glendale, the Philistines of Darlington and the Moabites of Alaqua and Red Bay have lifted up the ballot against me, and my name is Mud.

7. My friends are gone the way of all flesh, and mine enemies compass me around about, and gives me a certain thing which is called the he-haw.

8. Yea, they lay every man his thumb to his face and wriggleth his fingers at me.

9. They smoked my cigars and drank my home brew in the day of my prosperity and now that I am overwhelmed by the waves of adversity, they pass me up, even as a woman in a new dress passeth up a poor relative.

10. Behold, if a man runneth for office and is defeated, it is good for him to jump off the earth.

Roosevelt Has No Choice For Running Mate

Albany, N. Y., June 30.—As cheers heralding the nominating speech for John N. Garner filled his study in which he sat listening with his family to the radio broadcast from the Chicago stadium, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today he still has no choice for a running mate should he receive the Democratic Presidential nomination.

"No deal has been made," he said. "No invitations have been extended."

For nearly 45 minutes Governor Roosevelt had sat, rapidly smoking cigarets, while the loud speaker roared out the cheers, the bands and organ music, and the description of the demonstration that followed his own nominating speech.

His mother and his wife sat nearby, quietly knitting. In the room also were his sons, Elliott and John, Elliott's bride, his friend, Samuel I. Rosenman, who has been a guest at the executive mansion all week, and several members of his staff. Toward the end of the demonstration, the newspaper correspondents arrived.

"Great, wasn't it?" He greeted them. "A good show."

Several of his leaders called him on the telephone from Chicago—James A. Farley, his campaign manager, Louis Howe, his friend and confidential secretary, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mullen.

"It was fine," he told them. "Grand!"

"Yes, it is a great day," he replied to Mrs. Mullen. "Arthur has done a fine job. Thank you, both of you."

For the most part while the din from the Chicago stadium filled the room, the group was silent.

Occasionally the governor would laugh and make some comment. His blue eyes sparkled. An afternoon paper was brought in, great black headlines announcing his name was now before the convention. Governor Roosevelt glanced at it for a moment and smiled.

Mrs. Roosevelt had left the room for a moment when Mrs. Greenway started to make her seconding speech.

"Call your mother," the governor said to John. "She'll want to hear this."

Mayor Walker As Usual, Late At Convention

Stadium, Chicago, July 1.—Mayor Walker of New York was late for the first roll call on presidential nominations at the democratic convention today but not too late to have recorded his one-half vote for former Governor Smith.

His honor was asleep when the balloting began. He hurriedly jumped into his clothes and arrived before the long roll call of all New York delegates had been completed.

"Mr. Chairman," came a husky voice from the New York section.

"Who is addressing the chair?" Senator Walsh asked.

"Walker of New York," this time in a less strained tone.

"The mayor of New York is recognized," answered the chair, and a brief demonstration for "Jimmy" was in progress.

"I desire that my vote be cast for Alfred E. Smith," said Walker, recording himself against Governor Roosevelt before whom now are pending charges, filed by Samuel Seabury, Tammany investigator, that the mayor is unfit for office and should be removed.

Guild Dance at Camp Wing-Mann

The West Beach Hotel was the scene of a dance which was given Monday night by the Guild of the Church of the Redeemer of this city for the members of Camp Wing-Mann and for their guests.

Invitations for this affair were extended to members of the camp, members of the Young People's Service League and the guests attending the Convention which was held Monday at the camp.

The lounge of the hotel was attractively decorated with festoons of blue and white, which were arranged around the walls and ceiling of the room. Baskets of roses were charmingly arranged in the lounge and dining room, and several members of the Guild presided over the punch bowl and served refreshments throughout the evening.

The Note Knockers furnished the music for about fifty couples and the affair was greatly enjoyed by the younger set of this city.

Mrs. McNicholas Hostess To Club.

Mrs. T. A. McNicholas was hostess to the Wednesday afternoon bridge club when she entertained this week with a charming parey at her home on Palm Avenue.

The tallies and table appointments carried out the color scheme of the decorations of the room, which were baskets of garden flowers.

Several progressions of Contract were played, after which scores were totaled. Mrs. W. C. Touchton held high score and Mrs. Paul Rumpsa second high.

The hostess served an ice course to the following members of the club and guests: Mrs. L. V. Prigle of Sebring, Mrs. W. C. Touchton, Mrs. M. A. Smith, Mrs. Paul Rumpsa, Mrs. J. E. Powell, Mrs. Earl Hartt, Mrs. D. G. Perry and Mrs. N. H. Trent.

Ben Stuart of Tallahassee arrived Saturday and will spend a week visiting here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Pardee and Miss Margaret Pardee.

Missionary Circle Met Monday

Circle number three of the Missionary society of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. T. J. McGinnis.

After a short business session, devotional was given by Mrs. West, reading the 11th chapter of Romans, after which the circle made a study of the second chapter of the study book, "Our Lord and Ours."

The following ladies were present: Mrs. Lonnie Hunt, Mrs. Ellis West, Mrs. J. L. Collins, Mrs. W. C. Touchton, Mrs. Frank Costine, Mrs. W. K. McClure, Mrs. Horace Garner and Mrs. T. J. McGinnis, hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Powell Is Hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Powell was hostess to the Luncheon Club Friday afternoon at her home on Lake Byrd.

The guests were served a three-course luncheon, and the flowers and table appointments formed an attractive color scheme of old rose.

Several progressions of contract were played, after which the scores were totaled and prizes awarded. Those present were: Mrs. Jack Head, Mrs. Mel Bass, Mrs. A. M. Morgan, Mrs. S. E. Booth, Mrs. Paul Garber, Mrs. Matt Pilcher and Mrs. H. E. Keller.

Delta Deck Is Entertained.

The Delta Deck Club was entertained Thursday evening by Miss Ruth Kempton at her home on Lake Isis. The rooms arranged for play were charmingly decorated with roses and summer flowers.

After several progressions of bridge, the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Lee Kempton, served a salad course to the following members and guests of the club: Mrs. Russell Tinney, Miss Grace Reddick, Miss Chris Reeves, Mrs. Roland Droit, Mrs. Francis Shockley, Miss Inez Dawson, Miss Billie Smith, Miss Barbara Wever, Miss Joyce Powell and Miss Ethel Clark.

Phil Wylie of Miami was visiting friends here Monday.

Eddie Alsobrook of Lake Placid was a visitor in this city Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Spink were visitors in Kissimmee Sunday.

Miss Clara McMillan of Tampa is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hicks.

Mrs. Kathryn B. Wells left Thursday for a week's stay in Washington.

Miss Billie Smith spent the week-end in Ft. Meade visiting friends and relatives in that city.

Mrs. W. E. Dawson and sons, Billie and Buddy and daughter Inez, spent Monday in Tampa.

Mrs. S. B. Durrance returned Monday from a week's visit in Eagle Lake with her mother.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Chandler of Tampa and daughter Hope, were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. I. W. Chandler.

Little Miss Viva Kathleen Tillis of Bartow is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Booth for a week.

Mrs. W. D. Dorminey and Mrs. C. E. Lanier motored to Tampa Wednesday and spent the day shopping and visiting friends.

Miles Stewart of Frostproof and Jack Simmonds of Macon, Ga., were visiting friends in Avon Park Tuesday morning.

Miss Hazel Cameron returned Monday from Allentown, Pa., where she has been visiting for the past five months.

Mrs. S. C. Pardee, Miss Mary Pardee, Miss Margaret Pardee, and Ben Stuart spent Monday in Lakeland.

Miss Louisa Le Roux of Baltimore arrived in Avon Park Tuesday and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Pardee for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hartt left Thursday morning for New Orleans where they plan to spend a two months vacation.

A clipping from a Sarasota newspaper informs us that Holland Stebbins of this city, who is now in Sarasota, landed a Tarpon five feet long, and weighing sixty-seven pounds.

Miss Eileen Elliott of Sebring, Eddie Alsobrook and J. D. Cox of Lake Placid were visitors in Avon Park Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Wendell Roberts left Monday morning for Moore Haven where she will spend a week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gantt.

Fred Ley of Melbourne spent the week-end visiting his wife who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Baldwin, for the past few weeks.

Miss Margaret Pardee, Miss Louisa LeRoux of Baltimore, Colquitt Pardee and Ben Stuart of Tallahassee motored to Tampa Wednesday, where they spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pringle, Mrs. W. H. Yates and Mrs. Julia Mason Smith left together Tuesday for New York and Boston by motor. Mrs. Yates will sail from New York to Scotland next week, where she will visit her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Baker moved to Avon Park this week from Lacoochee, where Mr. Baker has been general engineer for the Cummer Cypress Lumber company for the past ten years or more. He has recently joined the staff of state road department engineers and comes here to direct the work on state road eight.

Alaskan Dog That Bossed Bears Dies

Denver, July 1.—Wonder, ruler of the bear pens at the Denver City park zoo, recently died, ending her absolute reign which extended over a period of years.

Years ago a strange manifestation of the mother complex developed in Wonder, an Alaskan husky dog. She adopted the whole tribe of bears. Since that time she had made her home with the bears. She mothered them, nursed them, bossed them.

Bears several times as large as Wonder accepted her rule without question. When their scuffles reached the danger point in roughness, she separated the combatants and forced them to behave.

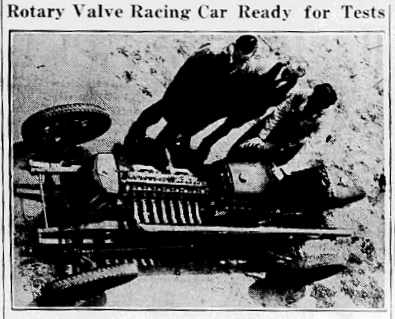
Rotary Valve Racing Car Ready for Tests



Los Angeles, Calif.—This little racing car is expected to make 150 miles an hour in test runs to determine whether the newly invented rotary valve can be adapted to practical use in stock cars. This valve eliminates more than 80 moving parts in the engine and gives a better intake and exhaust of gases through the motor. Above is shown "Whispering" Frank Fabien, mechanic to some of the greatest racers in the past decade, who assisted the inventor, Rudolph Wehr (shown in middle) talking the possibilities of the invention over with Jack Buckston, famous racer, who will drive the car in its initial run.

Board Decides Congressional Contest Today

County canvassing boards in more than half of the 18 counties of the first congressional district were meeting today to prepare an official tabulation in the race between Congressman Herbert J. Drane and J. Hardin Peterson for congress, says the Tampa Times today.

On returns official and unofficial Peterson has defeated Drane by 281 votes. He received 37,498 votes to 37,217 for Drane. His victory though apparently assured, cannot be finally determined until the official canvass is completed in every county in the district.

Interest Keen in Close Race

The Drane-Peterson race was the closest major race in the state. Interest in it has been widespread, not only in Tampa and the rest of the district, but throughout the rest of the state and elsewhere.

Drane's apparent defeat was due largely, observers said, to the general revolt of voters against the man in office. Voters wanted a change. Only the strongest type of official was able to weather the storm.

Although there was a possibility that the official tabulation in the Drane-Peterson race might change the result, other races throughout the state were definitely settled. Majorities were sufficient in virtually every instance to prompt the losers to concede their defeat and to congratulate the winners.

Florida Backs Roosevelt On All Ballots

Chicago, July 1.—Morning sun rays filtering into the democratic convention arena here today as the presidential balloting found Floridans weary and torn from sweltering night oratory and demonstrations but confident Roosevelt would get necessary votes for nomination.

Three times up to adjournment the booming voice of Chairman Fred P. Cone, speaking through special portable radio microphone from the convention floor, recorded Florida's 14 votes for New York governor.

"Florida casts her 14 votes for that great democrat—Franklin D. Roosevelt," Cone shouted in tones easily heard on the street outside the stadium.

He said Florida would "stick 100 per cent if it takes a week to nominate Roosevelt."

Then when the Roosevelt managers insisted at 7:30 a. m. that the convention remain in session until a nomination is reached, Floridians remaining in the hall settled down for the siege.

Some went out and sought breakfast as challenges slowed progress on the first two ballots. A few went to their hotel to seek sleep but the majority was too excited to get far from the stadium.

Florida kept vigil in the same section as Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina and Arizona, all Roosevelt states, and joined in shouting to Texas, in the front seats to leave Garner and join them. Missouri in the same section wavered and sent more votes into the Roosevelt column.

Stage Whale Battles.

Churchill, Man., July 1.—This new stunt of making whales mad at one another is great sport. The idea is to heave a snowball at a whale when he comes up to spout. He thinks another whale smacked him and decides to retaliate. The resulting battle, they say, is something.

"Home Was Never Like This," Say Pets On Queen of Cabin Boats

No longer will Reddy, Chief, Blackie or Mr. Woof-Woof de Poodle squint disconsolately from between rusty bars of a drab cage while making trans-Atlantic crossings. Ah, mais non, messieurs et mesdames! Pas encore! Not if the French Line can help it.

Beginning with the installation of the splendid new steamship Champlain, flagship of the French Line's cabin fleet, which will enter the New York-Havre service this summer, Reddy, Chief, Blackie, de Poodle et al will have quarters adequately suitable to Man's best friend—steam-heated kennels, with nice windows and furnishings commensurate with pedigreed canine dignity.

The French Line is going even beyond that. There will be a private promenade space, for airing and exercise—a glorified "front porch" for the new and novel floating apartment house for passengers' pets, on the uppermost deck of the splendid new Champlain. These modern kennels will be situated amidships, just aft of the great funnel of the new steamship, and the private promenade will have unobstructed sunlight, giving doggie all the benefit of Vitamin D, on sunny days.

The 30,000-ton Champlain will be the largest cabin-class ship ever built. She is 650 feet long. The utmost in broad deck space has been provided, with a total absence of deck ventilators.

Every appointment on this splendid new vessel is such as to bring the traveler at once into an atmosphere of Parisian comfort and luxury. One feels he is in Paris, really, long before reaching the French shores.

Etheredge Shows Appreciation of Votes In First Primary

Dr. E. J. Etheredge of DeSoto City who was defeated for the state senatorship of this district in the first primary, June 7, has written The Avon Park Times as follows:

Dear Sir:—Permit me to express my sincere appreciation for the support given me in my candidacy for the State Senate.

I appreciate very much every vote given me, and those who saw fit to oppose me, I hold no ill will.

If however, by my efforts in my candidacy, it has caused even one person to reflect or consider favorably the things which I advocated for the betterment of our community and State, then I shall feel that my efforts have not been in vain.

Yours very truly,

E. J. ETHEREDGE.

HOW TO BE SURE OF COMPETENT PROTECTION

During about three hundred business days in each year, a man's efforts are directed toward the accumulation of an estate which may be used for the benefit and protection of his family in the event of his death.

To insure competent protection for your loved ones when you are no longer with them, you should definitely set aside one day to be devoted to the preparation of your will.

When your will, naming this bank as Executor and Trustee, has been properly drawn and executed, you will have taken the step which is essential for the proper protection of a wife and children who are probably inexperienced in the management of property, the investment of funds and the conservation of assets.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR JULY 3, 1932

SUBJECT: Childhood and Education of Moses.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Prov. 22:6.

LESSON TEXT: Exodus 2:1-10; Acts 7: 20-22.

TIME AND PLACE: B. C. 1570; Goshen in Egypt.

INTRODUCTION:

We closed last quarter's studies with the account of Joseph receiving his father, Jacob, and his family into Egypt and establishing them in the territory of Goshen. Moses was born 135 years later and was eighty years old when he led Israel out of Egypt to Mt. Sinai. So the whole period from Jacob's settling in Egypt to the exodus from Egypt was 215 years.

The people of Israel were God's covenant people, and in the midst of their bondage and suffering his eye was upon them. His original plan concerning them was being carried out at this time, although they perceived it not. The time of their complete deliverance from Pharaoh was fast approaching.

Moses is the greatest representative of the Hebrew people * * by far the greatest man of that race. He is one of the few men in the history of the world who have moulded the institutions and character of the entire people. Of all men of history he is perhaps the clearest example of a Providential Man.

Our lesson passages for the quarter will be drawn from the writings of Moses that make up the Pentateuch or "Five Books," the first of which, Genesis, we have already studied. The second, Exodus, means "the Going Out," and describes first the training of Moses and his call to his great work, and then the great work, and then the wonderful way in which he by the hand of God, brought about the release of his people from their bondage to the Egyptians and led them forth across the Red Sea to the foot of Mt. Sinai, where he gave them their system of divinely ordained laws.

The father and mother of Moses were of the House of Levi, and were named Amram and Jochebed. Pharaoh, king of Egypt, had commanded concerning Hebrew children, "Every Son that is born ye shall cast into the river." When the infant Moses was born and his mother saw "that he was a goodly child, she hid him three months." Acts 7: 20, says he "was exceedingly fair."

"And when she could not hide him longer, she took for him an ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and pitch; and she put the child therein and laid it in the flags by the river's brink."

Doubtless Jochebed knew the habits of the princess, knew the hour when she was accustomed to bathe, and placed her baby in the princess's bathing-place as a silent appeal to her womanly heart.

"And the daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash herself at the river; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it.

And she saw the child: and, behold, the babe wept. And she had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hebrews' children."

The tears or a smile of a little child will touch the heart of almost any one. Miriam, the older Sister of Moses, was placed by her mother to watch the ark and the babe.

"Then said his sister to Pharaoh's daughter, Shall I go and call thee a nurse of the Hebrew woman, that she may nurse the child for thee?

And Pharaoh's daughter said to her, Go. And the maiden went and called the child's mother."

The mother was doubtless watching and hoping to be called.

"Pharaoh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages. And the woman took the child, and nursed it."

We do not know how long the child stayed with its mother, but probably four or five years.

"And the child grew, and she brought him unto Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. And she named him Moses: and said, Because I drew him out of the water."

It is supposed that the princess adopted Moses as her son and had him taught and trained as a member of the royal house.

In Stephen's last address he said, "And Moses was learned in all the wisdoms of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds."

And Moses was instructed in all wisdom of the Egyptians: It included orthography, grammar, history, theology, medicine, arithmetic, geometry, astronomy, and engineering. Education began, as in most countries, with orthography and grammar. Style was cultivated. Much attention was paid to letter-writing, and models of business and other letters were set before the pupils as patterns which he was to follow. Poetry was read, and poetic composition studied by all.

TEXT OF DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM AS ADOPTED

Minority Planks Rejected and Platform Adopted As Approved

Chicago, June 30.—The complete text of the Democratic platform adopted by the national Democratic convention, follows:

In this time of unprecedented economic and social distress the Democratic Party declares its convictions that the chief causes of this condition were the disastrous policies pursued by our government since the World War of economic isolation; fostering the merger of competitive businesses into monopolies; and encouraging the indefensible expansion and contraction of credit for private profit at the expense of the public.

Those who were responsible for these policies have abandoned the ideals on which the war was won, and thrown away the fruits of victory, thus rejecting the greatest opportunity in history to bring peace, prosperity and happiness to our people and to the world.

They have ruined our foreign trade, destroyed the values of our commodities and products, crippled our banking system, robbed millions of our people of their life savings and thrown millions more out of work, produced wide-spread poverty and brought the government to a state of financial distress unprecedented in times of peace.

Change Is Necessary.

The only hope for improving present conditions, restoring employment, affording permanent relief to the people, and bringing the Nation back to its former proud position of domestic happiness and of financial, industrial, agricultural and commercial leadership in the world lies in a drastic change in economic and governmental policies.

Believing that a party platform is a covenant with the people to be faithfully kept by the party when entrusted with power, and that the people are entitled to know in plain words the terms of the contract which they are asked to subscribe, we hereby declare this to be the platform of the Democratic Party.

The Democratic Party solemnly promises by appropriate action to put into effect the principles, policies and reforms herein advocated, and to eradicate the policies, methods and practices herein condemned—

We advocate:

1. An immediate and drastic reduction of governmental expenditures by abolishing useless commissions and offices, consolidating departments and bureaus, and eliminating extravagance, to accomplish a saving of not less than 25 percent in the cost of Federal Government; and we call upon the Democratic Party in the States to make a zealous effort to achieve a proportionate result.

2. Maintenance of the national credit by a federal budget annually balanced on the basis of accurate executive estimates within revenues, raised by a system of taxation levied on the principle of ability to pay.

Sound Currency.

3. A sound currency to be preserved at all hazards; and an international monetary conference called on the invitation of our government to consider the rehabilitation of silver and related questions.

4. A competitive tariff for revenue, with a fact finding tariff commission free from executive interference; reciprocal tariff agreements with other nations; and an international economic conference designed to restore international trade and facilitate exchange.

5. Extension of Federal credit to the States to provide unemployment relief wherever the diminishing resources of the States make it impossible for them to provide for the needy; expansion of the Federal program of necessary and useful construction affected with a public interest; such as flood control and waterways, including the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes deep waterways; the spread of employment by a substantial reduction in the hours of labor, the encouragement of the shorter week by applying that principle in government service; advance planning of public works.

6. Unemployment and old age insurance under State laws.

7. For the restoration of agriculture, the Nation's basic industry, better financing of farm mortgages through reorganized farm bank agencies at low rates of interest, on an amortization plan, giving preference to credits for the redemption of farms and homes sold under foreclosure; extension and development of the farm co-operative movement, and effective control of crop surpluses so that our farmers may have the full benefit of the domestic market; enactment of every constitutional measure that will aid the farmers to receive for basic farm commodities prices in excess of cost.

8. A Navy and an Army adequate for national defense, based on a survey of all facts affecting the existing establishments, that the people in time of peace may not be burdened by an expenditure fast approaching a billion dollars annually.

9. Strict and impartial enforcement of the anti-trust laws to prevent monopoly and unfair trade practices, and revision thereof for the better protection of labor and the small producer and distributor; the removal of government from all fields of private enterprise, except where necessary to develop public works and natural resources in the common interest. Conservation development and use of the Nation's water power in the public interest.

Repeal Favored.

We favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

To effect such repeal, we demand that the Congress immediately propose a constitutional amendment to purely representative conventions in the States called to act solely on that proposal.

We urge the enactment of such measures by the several States as will actually promote temperance, effectively prevent the return of the saloon and bring the liquor traffic into the open under complete supervision and control by the States.

We demand that the Federal Government effectively exercise its power to enable the states to effectually protect themselves against importation of intoxicating liquors in violation of their laws.

Pending repeal, we favor immediate modification of the Volstead act to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and other beverages of such alcoholic content as is permissable under the constitution and to provide therefrom a proper and needed revenue.

10. Protection of the investing public by requiring to be filed with the government and carried in advertisements of all offerings of foreign stocks and bonds true information as to bonuses, commissions, principal invested and interests of sellers.

Federal Regulation.

Regulation to the full extent of the federal power of

(a) Holding companies which sell securities in interstate commerce.

(b) Rates of utility companies operating across state lines.

(c) Exchanges trading in securities and commodities.

11. Quicker methods of realizing on assets for the relief of depositors of suspended banks and a more rigid supervision of national banks for the protection of depositors and the prevention of the use of their moneys in speculation to the detriment of local credits.

The severance of affiliated securities companies and the divorce of the investment banking from commercial banks; and further restriction of Federal Reserve banks in permitting the use of Federal Reserve facilities for speculative purposes.

12. The full measure of justice and generosity for all war veterans who have suffered disability or disease caused by or resulting from actual service in time of war, and for their dependents.

13. A firm foreign policy including Peace with all the world and the settlement of international disputes by arbitration; no interference in the international affairs of other nations; the sanctity of treaties, and the maintainance of good faith and of good will in financial obligations; adherence to the World Court and the pending reservations; the pact of Paris abolishing war as an instrument of national policy, to be made effective by provisions for consultation and conference in case of threatened violation of treaties; international agreement for reduction of armaments; and co-operation with nations of the Western Hemisphere to maintain the spirit of the Monroe Doctrine.

Cancellation Opposed.

We oppose cancellation of the debts owing to the United States by foreign nations.

14. Independence for the Philippines; ultimate statehood for Porto Rico; the employment of American citizens in the operation of the Panama Canal.

15. Simplification of legal procedure and reorganization of the judicial system to make the attainment of justice speedy, certain and at less cost.

16. Continuous publicity of political contributions and expenditures, strengthening of the corrupt practices act, and severe penalties for misappropriation of campaign funds.

We condemn:

1—The improper and excessive use of money in political activities.

2—Paid lobbies of special interests to influence members of Congress and other public servants by personal contact.

3—Action and utterances of high public officials designed to influence stock exchange prices.

4—The open and covert resistance of administrative officials to every effort made by congressional committees to curtail the extravagant expenditures of the Government, and to revoke improvident subsidies granted to favored interests.

5—The extravagance of the Farm Board, its disastrous action which made the Government a speculator in farm products, and the unsound policy of restricting agricultural production to the demands of domestic markets.

7—The Hawley-Smoot tariff law, the prohibitive rates of which have resulted in retaliatory action by more than 40 countries, created international economic hostilities, destroyed international trade, driven our factories into foreign countries, robbed the American farmer of his foreign markets and increased the cost of production.

Conclusion:

To acomplish these purposes and to recover economic liberty we pledge the nominees of this convention and the best effort of a great party whose founder announced the doctrine which now guides us, in the hour of our country's need—"equal rights to all, special privileges to none."

Democratic Nominee and Family

The above informal photo shows Dave Sholtz, Democratic nominee for governor, Mrs. Sholtz and their three children at their home on the Halifax river in Daytona Beach. Mrs. Sholtz is of Alabama and Virginia ancestry, member of the United Daughters of Confederacy, Daughters of the American Revolution, Order of Eastern Star and American Legion Auxiliary. The three children who complete a happy family circle are Mitchell, five years old; Caroline, four; and Lois, three.

FINE FORAGE PLANTS FOUND ON THE RIDGE

Specimens of Clovers, Alfalfas and Others To Be Shown at Chicago

DeLand, June 29.—J. A. Mackintosh, superintendent of agricultural and horticultural exhibits for Florida at the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago next year, is combing Central Florida this week, looking for specimens of forage plants grown in the Ridge section, to be added to the general exhibit of Florida products of that nature.

"I have found some of the finest specimens of clovers, alfalfas and other forage plants thus far found in the state," said Mr. Mackintosh, "and I feel sure, now, that our forage exhibit as a whole will be one of the best at the exposition."

"I have been acquainted with the forage producing capacities of the northern counties of Florida for many years," Mr. Mackintosh added, "but I am free to confess that in my travels over the central counties I have found some of the finest clovers and alfalfas I have ever seen anywhere. Florida will have a splendid showing of that form of staple crop," he concluded.

Fine Film Features Continue at New Circle Theatre

Continuing his policy of giving Highlands county theatre-goers splendid pictures, close to release, Manager Charlie Morrison announces some more exceptionally fine pictures for the ensuing week.

"States Attorney" starring John Barrymore, with Helen Twelvetrees, Wm. Boyd, Jill Esmond, and Mary Duncan, will be the attraction Friday and Saturday with matinee on Saturday at 3:30. Sunday and Monday, with matinee Sunday at 3:30, Victor McLaglen, Helen Mack, and Wm. Bakewell head the cast of "While Paris Sleeps" to be followed on next Tuesday and Wednesday by Tom Mix and Tony in "The Riders of Death Valley", a typical Tom Mix picture. Next week will be concluded with the showing on Thursday, Friday and Saturday with matinee Saturday at 3:30 of "The Huddle," starring Ramon Novarro, with Madge Evans, Una Markel, Ralph Graves, Frank Albertson and Polly Moran cast. Selected shorts play an important part on each program.

STATE SONG WRITERS URGED TO BE PATIENT

Florida Commission Having Hard Time Determining Best Submitted

DeLand, June 29.—Florida song writers who have written songs to be entered in the competition for the song to be sung at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago next year, are urged by the Florida commission to exercise a little more patience in order that the committee appointed by the Florida commission may have an opportunity to figure out a plan by means of which the tests may be conducted in absolute fairness to all. Owing to the great number of songs submitted in the contest which was closed June 1, and the many songs of real merit among them, the committee is inclined to leave the final selection to the public through a series of radio auditions.

The managers of the several radio stations of the state are willing to co-operate to the fullest but they point to the bad reception over the radio during the summer months as a reason for suggesting that the auditions be delayed until cooler weather sets in. The matter may be submitted to the writers for their approval. In the meantime several of the songs in competition have been tried out over the radio with band and orchestral accompaniments and are being well received.

It should be explained in this connection that the Florida commission has had nothing to do with this more or less premature audition as the song writers acted on their own initiative in every instance.

HOWEY SAYS SHOLTZ RAN ON HIS PLATFORM

Says Florida's Greatest Opportunity To Establish Two-Party Government

Howey-in-the-Hills, June 30.—W. J. Howey, republican candidate for governor has issued the following statement:

"Now that our Democratic friends, after two turbulent primary campaigns, have named as their nominee an attorney who, for the most part, ran on precisely my platform of four years ago, we go into the general campaign with this Florida's greatest opportunity to establish two party government.

"Florida can expect no relief in its present crisis from the lawyer-politician type of nominee. The voters face exactly the same situation they did four years ago when a lawyer-politician came forth from Tampa with rosy impossible promises, winning the election, only to bring complete and expensive legislative chaos at Tallahassee and to carry on an administration of such astounding extravagant profligacy that our people today are desperate under their burden of taxation.

"It is my impression that Florida has awakened, that there is a distinct determination for complete housecleaning at Tallahassee and that the people do not propose at this moment of peril to continue their blind allegiance to exactly the thing that has caused our State governmental breakdown and as proof of this I cite the fact that, although there were approximately 297,514 voters registered to vote in the primary election, the Democratic nominee received approximately 150,000 at the election Tuesday and allowing 40,000 as the normal Republican vote, there remain more than 200,000 registered Democrats who either voted against the nominee or refused to vote at all, thus establishing the striking fact that the Democratic candidate was so named by a significantly small minority vote.

"The nominee of the so-called Democratic party—although Florida has no recognized Democratic party and has been without leadership or a platform since 1920—speaking over the radio a few nights ago from Miami, told the State that during the boom he had made business mistakes and had lost his property and added, 'but who didn't'? Well, if he wants to know, I didn't. I did business in Florida successfully before, during and after the boom and I am still doing business successfully in Florida, despite hurricanes, needless tragedy of the Mediterranean fly fiasco and despite the present depression, but I am not going to be able to continue to do business successfully in Florida if the lawyer-politician, one party partisan force continues the incompetent and costly rule of the Royal Order of Officeholders.

"During the three decades that I have been active as a grower and developer in Florida, I have brought more than 100,000 persons into this State and of this number not less than 25,000 have become permanent taxpaying, wealth-producing residents of this State."

By substituting bacteria for chemicals and by adding small quantities of such city waste as sewage to farm waste products, such as cornstalks, straws and hulls, chemists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture hope to produce building board fiber and fuel and lighting gas by a process which will be commercially feasible, the department says.

The Senate recently passed a resolution authorizing the erection of a statue of William Jennings Bryan in Washington.

Should Stress Marketing.

"How often we hear the complaint that too much stress has been put upon farm production and not enough on farm marketing!" says the Idaho Farmer. "Yet farmers themselves have a direct responsibilty for this situation.

"As a matter of course every farmer spends a good deal of money equiping his farm with implements of production. He puts a large investment into land and tools so that he can produce a crop. But how much money is he willing to invest in equipping for marketing? How ready is he to part with a few dollars to invest in the stock or capital of his co-operative?

"Until this investment in machinery is built up somewhat after the same fashion that investment has been made on the production side, can satisfactory results be expected?"

ROEBLINGS AGREE TO MAINTAIN HAMMOCK

Trustees Accept Offer To Maintain Park For 1932 and 1933

At a well attended meeting of the Trustees of Highlands Hammock, Inc. recently held, action was taken by the Trustees accepting the generous offer of Mr. John A. Roebling to maintain Highlands Hammock for the balance of the year 1932 and for the whole of the year 1933. This action will render it unnecessary to accept the offer which had been submitted by J. Ray Arnold, Inc., for the taking over of the Hammock.

Mr. Roebling's offer was made in a letter to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Rex Beach, and was explained in detail by his representative, Alexander Blair, who had recently returned from a conference with Mr. Roebling.

The maintainance to be undertaken by Mr. Roebling will cover the pay of the watchman, maintainance of his car, cottage, etc., the pay of the maintainance crew requisite to the upkeep of the Hammock, telephone service, extra forces required for fire-fighting, and all repairs to the existing roads, trails, etc.

Mr. Blair announced Mr. Roebling's sympathetic attitude toward the public of Highlands county at the present time, and his desire to carry this burden until January 1, 1934, so as to allow the Trustees to mature their plans for the continued maintainance of the Hammock after that date, either by private subscription or by maintainance by the Board of County Commissioners as provided in the recent Act.

Mr. Roebling's intention was also announced of continuing with some of the construction work heretofore contemplated in the completion of dams, roads and fire protection measures which would keep employed for several months the forces now at work in the Hammock.

The dams are proposed as a measure of fire protection in order to impound water at various points throughout the Hammock, making available a supply of water in dry weather which could be used for fire fighting in connection with the fire fighting apparatus recently given to Sebring Firemen, Inc.

The road which it is proposed shall be constructed will be an extension of the County road running from the existing asphalt-in-place pavement in a northerly and westerly direction through the property to a point near the northwest corner of the Hammock property where it is expected Hardee county will ultimately connect with it.

The Trustees expressed deep appreciation of Mr. Roebling's generosity in this action, and assured his representative, Alexander Blair, of their intention to cooperate with him to the fullest extent in carrying out Mr. Roebling's wishes.

The Trustees contemplate continuing their best efforts in soliciting subscriptions for the Hammock with a view to building up a reserve fund, this being in keeping with Mr. Roebling's wishes concerning the project.

A letter from J. Ray Arnold expressed his gratification and appreciation of Mr. Roebling's action was read.

New Postal Rates To Be Effective Wednesday, July 6

YOUR postage stamps will cost you more. On and after July 6 you will pay three cents per ounce for letters which heretofore have cost but two cents. This new rate does not apply to postal cards which will go for one cent as before.

New air mail rates will be eight cents for the first ounce and 13 cents for each additional ounce.

Letters bearing less than three cents will be returned to the sender, if known. Those bearing less than two cents will be held for postage and the sender notified. When bearing two cents and the sender is unknown, the letter will be forwarded and the deficiency collected from the addressee.

Any letters with the postage wholly unpaid, although bearing a special delivery stamp, will be returned to sender if known. If the sender is unknown it will be held for postage and the addressee notified.

All patrons of the post office are asked to observe the new rates in order that mail can go forward with efficiency and dispatch and without inconvenience to anyone concerned.

Commissioners To Meet Next Tuesday; Holiday Monday

The county commissioners will not meet in regular session next Monday, this being the Fourth of July and a legal holiday but they will convene Tuesday for their first regular meeting of the month and all regular business will be transacted at that time.

The board met last Monday in special session and prepared the ballot boxes for the election Tuesday. Matters relating to the rebuilding of state road eight between Avon Park and the county seat were also discussed.

SHOLTZ EXPRESSES THANKS TO PRESS

In Letter To Times He Praises Papers For Liberal Space Given Him

Dave Sholtz received loyal support from the newspapers of Florida regardless of the fact that his opponent spent large sums for newspaper advertising. Sholtz with limited funds, had little to spend, but the papers were for him and gave him plenty of space in their news columns. The Times was one of these and the following letter from the Sholtz headquarters is in expression of appreciation.

On behalf of Dave Sholtz personally and the state-wide group of loyal supporters who have rallied under his banner, I wish to thank you for the fair-minded, unprejudiced stand your paper has taken in this campaign. The generosity with which you have opened your news columns to unbiased news about the Sholtz candidacy and program is characteristic, we believe, of the highest type of American journalism.

As Dave Sholtz made no promises of political preferment, paid no jobs for votes and would accept no contributions with strings attached, his campaign funds were necessarily limited to small subscriptions from personal friends and from those who believe that principle is more important than profit.

Consequently, an extensive campaign of advertising was impossible and your attitude is all the more admirable on this acount. The advertising which has appeared has been paid for by loyal friends in each locality and we regret that necessity prevented use of larger space for our campaign messages.

Please accept our sincerest appreciation for the news space you have devoted to our cause. Your cooperation without thought of reward is a splendid tribute to the great American principle that the freedom of the press cannot be purchased or subsidized.

Sincerely yours,
J. P. Newell
Campaign Manager, Sholtz Headquarters, Daytona Beach, Florida.

Sunday Sermon at Congregational

On Sunday, the eve of the nation's birthday anniversary, the morning sermon topic at the Congregational church will be the study of a striking parallel between the economic and political condition in which America finds itself today, and that of another nation 3500 years ago, with the lessons then learned that point the only way out of the wilderness.

Bible school at 9:45 with a chalk sermon for the children. No evening service.

Eustis.—$70,000 post office may be constructed here.

Stores Will Be Closed Here Monday

A petition has been signed by practically all retail business houses and firms of the city agreeing to close all day Monday, July Fourth. Of course, the bank and post office will close on the national holiday. No celebration has been arranged, but the ball game in Sebring is expected to attract a large crowd. Avon Park will play the Firemen there in the second game of the half schedule in the Orange Belt League.

Daytona Beach. — Bids to be opened soon for construction of proposed post office.

D. G. Perry Resigns Chairman Red Cross

D. G. Perry, chairman of Highlands chapter, American Red Cross resigned his office at a meeting of officers and others interested held in Sebring Thursday night. P. A. Naylor, vice-chairman, assumed active head of the organization and will act until the next regular election of officers.

An effort will be made to get another carload of free government flour for distribution among the needy in Highlands county.

A word of Appreciation

I wish to thank my friends and supporters for the interest shown in my behalf in my campaign. The race was fairly run, and I accept the decision of the voters of the county as final and conclusive. There are no sore spots, and I extend congratulations to Mr. Schumacher and trust that he will have a successful administration.
