Youth of Today Church Subject

Young People and Their Problems Discussed at the Methodist Church

The Sunday school attendance at the Methodist Church Sunday was very gratifying considering the weather, although the school fell a little short of the previous Sunday. The young peoples' class continues to hold first place from the standpoint of attendance, having 14 present Sunday. The Mens' Bible class came very near tying them, having 12 present. The discussion of the lesson in the Bible class was taken up in a very interesting way and all members participated.

The pastor, Rev. G. H. York, gave a very helpful message at the Sunday morning worship hour. At the evening hour the church service and the young peoples' service were combined into one with Mrs. E. W. Kelsey, in charge of young peoples' activities, in charge of the program using as the subject, "Relationships," adults to youth, youth to adults, youth to the church."

Mayor J. M. Andrews, chairman of the board of stewards, gave a helpful address on "The attitude adults should take towards the youth of today." In his address he stated that the youth of today must be led and not forced into Christian living, the lives before them will be leading them to things of righteousness or evil. Young people of today are learning to think for themselves, they do not take anything for granted but must find out, in their own way whether certain things are so or not. If their thoughts are not wise tact must be used in converting their thoughts to the better things of life. If the young people had rather go to shows, dances, card parties and other forms of amusements instead of church, it is largely the fault of the parents, church members and Sunday school teachers, he said. A teacher that leads a worldly life cannot hope to win their pupils to Christ, for they know nothing of Him in reality.

The next address was given by George Kelsey on "The Attitude of present day young people towards the church," or rather what should their attitude be towards the church. In his address he brought out the fact that the reason the church is not holding its young people today is that the services are not presented in an interesting manner.

Miss Edna Andrews in her talk gave 10 laws for young people to observe, which if followed would mean much in developing the Christian life.

The pastor gave a short address on "The relationship of the church to each other," and brought out the fact that as the body has many members rendering different services yet each member worked for the common good of the body, so the church is made up of different departments with every department working for the common good.

Plans Being Made For Revival Here

Plans are now being made by the churches of this city to begin a series of revival services beginning Monday, March 28, at the school auditorium. Rev. R. E. Huey, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has secured the services of Dr. T. H. McDill of Gastonia, N. C., to do the preaching during the revival. Dr. McDill is a minister of note of the Presbyterian church.

Commencing Wednesday evening of this week, cottage prayer services will be held under the direction of Rev. R. E. Huey and Rev. G. H. York, pastors of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of this city.

Placid Ball Team Plans To Enter the Orange Belt League

The Lake Placid Baseball club met at the city hall on Wednesday evening of last week for the purpose of organizing for the coming season and to make plans for entering the Orange Belt League. After much discussion, W. M. (Jack) Williams, who so efficiently held the position as manager of the team last year, was unanimously re-elected for this season. Practice will begin as soon as the weather permits. The team hopes to secure sufficient players and finances to enter the Orange Belt League this season and every effort will be made to have the best team possible. All citizens are asked to cooperate by lending their influence and finances.

Rev. G. H. York and son spent several days the past week visiting relatives at Pahokee.

To Show Citrus Grove at Chicago

Full Grown Grapefruit and Orange Trees To Be Transplanted

DeLand, March 16.—(Special).—The announcement that one of the features of the Florida exhibit at the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago next year, would be a real citrus grove composed of approximately a half acre of real full-grown orange and grapefruit trees in full fruitage and foliage, made possible by a special root treatment, has aroused more interest than almost any other of the proposed exhibits of Florida's resources.

"That will be carrying Florida to them" is one of the many expressions of approval which have come to the office of the Florida Commission, in this city, since the announcement was made a few days ago and widely published. The citrus diorama and the continually renewed exhibits of boxed fruit will be fine but in the judgment of many, the actual grove will be the great attraction.

J. A. Macintosh, of the Florida department of agriculture, who will have charge of that particular exhibit, already is in the Florida citrus belt making his selection of trees to be made ready for the trip to Chicago.

In anticipation of the Chicago exposition, experiments with the proposed treatment of the root systems of trees to be transplanted to that far northern clime have been under way for some time and found to be workable. It is believed that there will be no difficulty in transplanting the treated trees from Florida to Chicago in full fruitage and foliage and in keeping them in perfect order during the 150 days of the exposition.

Egg Production Drops at Contest

February Average Off But Total For Full Period Better Than Last

Chipley, March 16.—The 840 birds which make up the Sixth Florida National Egg Laying Contest produced an average of 19.6 eggs each for the month of February for a production of 67.8 percent. This is not so high as the production for the same month a year ago but taking the first five months into consideration we are still five eggs per hen to the good. The record to date now stands at 78.8 eggs per bird as compared to 73.8 at the same date last year. Much better records are being made by the highest pens and individuals this year than ever before in this contest. There are six pens with records above any shown at this time last year and seven hens with higher records. The best pen record a year ago stood at 978 points while this year our highest is 1127 points. For individual record we have 133 points this year as compared to a little below 125 last year. In records by eggs we have one pen with 1219 this year as against 1107 last year and two birds have 136 eggs each this year, while last year 130 eggs was high.

Comparing the records of the nine different varieties of hens that make up the contest this year we find the 550 White Leghorns in the lead both for the month and to date. They produced at the rate of 70 percent for the month and have an average of 83.7 eggs per bird for the first five months. The 20 White Wyandottes stand second with 69.8 percent for the month and 80.1 eggs per bird to date. The 80 Reds are third with 69 percent for February and 79.8 eggs to March first.

W. A. Seidel of San Antonio, Texas, had the pen with the highest record for the month with 259 points for 2344 eggs laid. The second high record was made by the entry from W. A. Downs of Romeo, Mich., with 244 points for 235 eggs. Third highest was shown by one of the Marshall Farm pens from Mobile, Ala., with 239 points for 237 eggs. Two pens of reds were among the 10 high.

In individual records for February we find a bird in the pen from Soule's Arrowhead Plantation Hatchery of St. Francisville, La., holding first place with a record of 29.20 points for 27 eggs laid. Second high bird was in the Seidel entry and had a record of 29 points for 28 eggs while third high was one of the Marshall Farm birds with 28.55 points for 27 eggs. There was one Red and one Barred Rock among the 10 high birds for the month, the rest were all Leghorns.

During the past month the pen from W. E. Pyles of Mayesville, Ky., walked into first place to date and now leads the 84 entries with 1127 points for 1088 eggs laid. The pen from M. Weischolek of Jacksonville, dropped back to second place with 1125 points for 1219 eggs laid to date because of the smaller size of the eggs laid. One of the pens from the White Feather Farm of Clearwater, is still in third position with 1045 points for 1106 eggs produced in the past five months.

In the list of high individuals for the period up to March first we find one of the Weischolek birds heading the list, with 133 points for 136 eggs laid. Second highest record has been shown by a bird from the Pinebreeze Farm of Callahan, with 129.25 points for 123 eggs and third highest is one of the birds in the Pyles entry with 129.05 points for 122 eggs.

4-H CLUB CONTEST.

The 30 birds in the First Florida Contest produced at the rate of 53.3 percent for the month of February and have an average of 60.4 eggs per bird to date.

The best record for the month was made by the only girl in the contest, Miss Frieda Nowak of Cantonement with 111.40 points for 106 eggs laid. Second high pen was that entered by Billy Hargis of Umatilla with 101.70 for 105 eggs and third was the pen from Herbert Babb of Umatilla with 92.40 points for 99 eggs. The first two entries are Leghorns while the last one is Barred Rocks.

To date the entry from Miss Nowak is tying for first place with one from Edward Zellman of Umatilla each with 401.35 points but the former pen has made this record with only 413 eggs while the latter pen had to produce 473 eggs to get the same points. The third place is held by the Barred Rocks from Herbert Babb with a record of 331.90 points for 369 eggs. This pen is not far ahead of the Billy Hargis entry which now has a credit of 330.45 points for 356 eggs.

In individual records Miss Nowak has first and second highest birds for the month with 25.25 points for 23 eggs on one and 23.45 for 22 eggs on the other. Billy Hargis has second high bird with 24.45 points for 23 eggs. To date Miss Nowak has first and second high birds with 98.35 points and 97 eggs for first and 98.10 points and 101 eggs for second. The third high bird is in the Edward Zellman pen and has 91.35 points for 110 eggs laid.

Green Feed Important Item In Poultry Diet; Plant Now For Supply

Green feed is an important item in the poultry diet, and now is the time for Florida poultrymen to plant for the spring and summer supply, according to Norman R. Mehrhof, extension poultryman.

A liberal amount of green feed will add much needed vitamins, minerals, bulk, and palatability to the ration. It is especially important for young birds as it acts as a tonic, stimulates the appetite, and helps the digestive tract to function properly. Thus, green feed will allow the bird to make a better utilization of more feed, which for the young bird means growth and for the older bird, production.

The proper use of green feed is also very helpful in keeping a flock of laying birds from going into a moult, or at least prolonging the production period.

The Florida poultryman can easily plan to have a liberal supply of succulent greens every month in the year, and in most sections of the state this feed can be produced quite economically. Plan a 12 months' schedule, fitting the different crops in to the best advantage, is Mr. Mehrhof's advice. Cabbage, kale, turnips, cowpeas, corn, and millet are likely the most important crops that should be planted soon.

The bees in Florida produce three times the honey gathered by the bees of any other state in the Union.

The Farm Board is accused of price depression. But that does not mean that the members depressed the price of their own services.

It may be all right, but it seems incompatible with the dignity of the office sought for an aspirant for the Presidency to be running all over the country soliciting votes like a candidate for school trustee or constable.

If you just must put two p's in the spelling of "kidnaper," don't be discouraged. Most people have the same urge, and it is not wrong, though the spelling with one p is preferred. And we can't see why.

There is nothing finer than temperance—temperance in speech, temperance in our judgments of one another — temperance in all things. A very intemperate attitude is often taken by those who are the loudest in professing temperance.

Add accomplishments of the Great Engineer: George Wilder, in a Tribune interview, quotes an old darkey as declaring that "Hoover is the only man who ever made rabbit good to eat in the summer time."

Many cities of the State are staging flower shows. Florida puts on a continuous, year-'round flower show, but a better appreciation of her wealth of bloom and beautiful plants is brought about by the tastefully arranged exhibitions.

Nine out of every ten women take unfair advantages at bridge. Hold on there a minute! We did not say this. We are just quoting a lady bridge expert, who writes for the Tampa Tribune. That's a pretty severe slam at the sisters, but we guess the lady knows whereof she writes.

Texas lady running for Congress says she doesn't know the difference between a gin fizz and a high-ball. She'll have no difficulty learning if she gets to Congress. First-hand information about such things may be had from most of her colleagues — especially those who vote dry.

Bre'r Potter, the "dirt farmer candidate for Governor," showed his good sense by being the first of the large field of aspirants to withdraw from the race. Mr. Potter may think we're foolin', but we assure him that a man can have a much better time on a good Florida farm than amid the cares of political office.

"Dr. Spivey sees more tolerance in religious groups," says a headline. Maybe so, but that's the last thing many people want to see. Unfortunately intolerance seems deeply rooted in the human heart, and shows its ugly head whenever occasion offers. It is nurtured by ignorance, though it seems frequently to flourish where there is a little education—one-sided education. The progress of civilization checks its growth, but it dies slowly.

Mrs. Grace, the St. Petersburg lady who claims to be the right-hand man of the Republican administration so far as Florida is concerned, tells of a visit she made to the President. Her account of Florida conditions, she says, made Mr. Hoover cry. Must have told him the truth as to how he is regarded down here after his three years of running things — and as to the support the G. O. P. may expect from Florida in the future.

In the movies a simple matter like the Lindbergh kidnaping case would be solved in no time at all. The sob sister of the Morning Misery would direct a "Hey, youse guys, look for me when you see me," to the hard-drinking bunch of newspaper men, and in fifteen minutes be back with the babe in her arms, and a half-dozen hard-boiled gangsters, securely handcuffed, trailing sheepishly in her wake. Life, however, is not always as depicted in the movies. And thank Heaven for that.

THE MODERN "ST. PAT"

We'd like to emulate the father of his country, but we have no dollar to throw across the Potomac. And if we had we could put it to much better use.

The Mayor of Los Angeles faces recall because on a visit to Europe he walked out on a dinner party at which wine was being served. The Mayor of Atlanta is in boiling water because while on the same European trip he expressed an opinion unfavorable to our present form of prohibition. And there you are, and there is nothing we can do about it, except to advise mayors of big cities like Los Angeles and Atlanta and Avon Park to stay away from Europe.

There is some agitation in the State press of a proposition to abolish county school boards. The contention is that the county school board is not necessary to the management of school affairs, and that local school trustees could direct operations in their respective districts equally as well as is done under the present system. We are not prepared to take a stand on this proposition just yet, but confess to an inclination to favor almost any move that would tend to eliminate superfluous boards and offices, which are far too numerous. It is not unlikely that the abolition of county boards will be considered by the next Legislature.

The country, the state, the county, the community, each has lost its way in the intricate mazes of governmental systems built up by needless laws, useless commissions, superfluous office-holders, unwarranted expenditures, masses of worthless detail, innumerable complications. Now and then those giving the matter earnest thought may catch a vision of simplified and economical government, but it is difficult to clear the way to this desired end, because of precedents that have been accepted and entanglements that have long been tolerated. The politicians want to change, and the rank and file of the people are too apathetic to insist that changes be brought about. It is all somewhat discouraging, but perhaps we will muddle through.

Always envied those nice looking young men one sees in the advertisements, but we are beginning to believe that they have a pretty tough time at that. Very often one is told by "his best friend" why society shuns him; if he gets that trouble corrected he overhears his best girl confiding to a friend that B. O. renders him impossible. If he marries, his wife walks out on him because he does not use a certain make of razor blade often enough; and we note that only recently his whole business life was wrecked by neglecting the appearance of his shoes when he went in to attend the meeting of the directors of his company. So we are glad we are only an editor, who is not supposed to live up to more rigid requirements than a thrice-a-day contact with the printing office towel and a Saturday night bath. The soap and tooth-brush and razor blade boys are mighty pretty, but they have to live such strenuous lives!

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

By RUSSELL KAY

After listenin' to some of these candidates I've just about come to the conclusion that the poor fellows are all cluttered up with a terrible case of "I" strain. Any customer that stands out in front of a political platform and listens to 'em very long will sure get an awful "I" lashin'. The big "I-DEAR" in most of the talks I've heard seem to be the "I."

And the birds that are thumbin' their way to the Governor's chair ain't nothin' more or less than "I" specialists. Boy, they'll "Aye, Aye" you like a sailor.

And if they do half of the things they say they will, why I don't see no sense at all, in electin' anybody to the Legislature. The gubernatorial candidates may act and talk like Santa Claus, but, just between you and me, it's the Legislature that wears the White Whiskers, and the guy we elect for Governor will have to hang up his little stocking, just like the rest of us. Of course he always writes a letter to old St. Nick askin' for this and that, but askin' and gettin' is two birds of a different suit of feathers.

You folks can go and get all mesmerized and flam-doodled about this Governor's Race if you want to, but if you take my advice you'll do your free-thinkin' and deep cogitatin' on the problem of electin' a few Senators and Representatives. They're the boys and girls that's gonna do the sure-enough whip crackin' in Tallahassee next year.

Accordin' to the rules we're playin' under now, it's the "Ayes" in the Legislature and not the "I's" on the stump that count, and you better make darn sure what kind of Ayes, the senator or representatives from your section are apt to be makin' when they get away from home, before you do any votin'.

And it might not be a bad idea to take 'em around to the old pasture lot and let the mare give 'em a lesson or two in "Neighin'" you know there'll probably be more than one opportunity for a guy to rear up on his hind legs and let out a first class NAY.

Of course there'll be plenty of eager vocal instructors hangin' around the lobby up there in Tallahassee ready to give FREE lessons to your boy friends, tellin' 'em just what to say and when to say it, but if I were you, I'd make 'em do plenty of "Home Work" and be sure they knew their lesson before I'd let 'em go, and tell 'em to stay away from those private tutors. If you let 'em get too chummy with some of those lobby-lizzards, first thing you know they'll be writin' home for more spendin' money.

And now it turns out that what's the matter with this country is that we're a lot of cock-eyed mixers. We been tellin' each other Scotch jokes until we've reached the point that we think more of a nickel than we do our right eye. — We been kiddin' ourselves that it was people that was unemployed and now we find out, it's the DOLLARS that have been walkin' the streets and lookin' for somethin' to do. But why should Mr. Hoover and Mr. Knox pick on one hundred and twenty million people about it, it sure ain't the HORDE that's doin' the hoardin'. Most of us would be able to give an HONEST dollar plenty to do, — if we knew where to find one. They tell us we ought to put our money in a bank instead of in our sock, but a lot of folks got socked so hard doin' just that, that they've decided to quit anythin' until somebody finds a way to keep the banks open instead of closed for the protection of depositors. If some of our bankers hadn't been such punk paper-boys, they wouldn't be all gummed up like this with their circulation. A good bank is a needed institution in every community and most folks realize that, only a lot of us are puzzled as to just how to tell which ones are GOOD.

And if some of you candidates would like to add to your popularity, you might try takin' a PAID "Ad" in the newspapers. If you want to be successful in your run for office, — run for the newspaper office.

That man Carver was acquitted of the charge of slaying his wife. We trust the jury did justly in the matter and that it will no longer be a source of expense to Highlands county.—Winter Haven Chief.

LEISURE

By JUDGE JOHN W. DODGE

A MEASURE OF LIFE.

Many of us remember — even at times have felt — the thoughts expressed by Shakespeare, which Macbeth uttered, in regard to life: "It is a tale, told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."

But, whether life is that, or something else, depends altogether upon how I use my leisure moments — the minutes, the hours, the days — which are so valuable.

Life may be a dirge or a song. Our leisure can be our greatest pleasure. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Silent and still I may ponder, and wonder. Wrapped in my thoughts, day dreams may behold beautiful visions of the things which can be wrought. The morning light of a new life may dazzle my eyes with its soft and rising glory until my soul is afire with its brilliance. Earthly things may fade away while the sparkling rays of the orbit of countless days rises higher and higher towards its zenith, and my soul, in reverie and fantasy, may absorb, in its leisure moments, all the brightness and joy of Life itself.

Meditation and leisure, thus used, makes us appreciate more fully the use to which we should put our own powers. Inspiration is the off-spring of glorious and grand meditation. The sun shines bright to make of us men of might and right.

Especially in times of crisis, or when we are troubled with dark forebodings, we need to take leisure and in solitude to search out our solutions. Thus may we find relief, ease our sorrow, or dissipate all symptoms of gloom.

But, the greatest glory of life is in being up and doing. Activity is often aroused by leisure, but it also breeds ambition. Dreaming dreams must be followed by doing things.

What you are is largely measured by what you do. Show me what a man does with his leisure moments — what use he makes of his spare moments — what he uses his pare time in actually doing — then, and largely then, do we ascertain his true character and heart.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma

Lloyd B. Rigdon, Editor and Publisher of The Maud (Okla.) Enterprise, says:

"A town has no place for the knocker; a knocker is hardly a man without a country, but his country, his town, or his community has little use for him.

"There are all kinds of knockers — as many as there are kinds of people. The thriving city is filled with boosters; boosters who so outnumber the knockers that their knocking does not count for much.

"We like the boosters. Sometimes they are super-enthusiastic, or, rather, over-enthusiastic is the better word. But they are always enthusiastic for their home town or the cause in which they are interested, and they are never to be found hanging around somewhere knocking this and knocking that. No, a booster is not built that way.

"We must have these boosters; they are just as necessary to the successful enterprise as daylight is to the earth.

"Knockers are found everywhere just the same as the boosters, but, let us all be thankful for it, the boosters are always far away in the lead; usually the knockers can be found in the rear, where it is safer for them, perhaps. They flock together, but even then they fail to make a crowd, as a rule.

"But the greatest booster is he who converts the knocker into a booster — 'makes him see the light' — so that both play the game as team-mates ever after.

"A town has no place for the knocker — it matters not whether he knocks the town, its enterprises or its citizens. Show us a man who knocks his fellow-citizens and we will show you the poorest excuse for a citizen extant."

Echoes of the State Press

THE GOVERNOR'S GREAT POWER.

The St. Petersburg Times hits at one of the "arguments" of the anti-Hardee politicians:

Every time some one of the flock of candidates for Governor makes a stir somewhere that looks as if he might be winning some votes the Miami Herald promptly charges him with being a cog or something in the Carlton political machine. If there were a Carlton political machine, which, of course there isn't, and if it had half the power the Herald's harangues would have us believe, there would be nothing to this campaign but for Doyle to crook his finger and nod at the psychological moment, in which case what John Martin is running for we cannot see.

If Governor Carlton has the great power the Herald ascribes to him it's strange that he hasn't, long before this, silenced his traducers or driven them out of the state.

So far the "charges" against Cary Hardee are limited to three—that he is the Carlton candidate, that he is a banker, and that he is a gentleman. Two of these are true—he is a banker, and a successful one, and he is a gentleman. Is either a disqualification for office in Florida?

We don't know Governor Carlton's preference, if any, among those who aspire to succeed him. We haven't heard any intimation or declaration from him on that point. If he should pick a favorite from the group, his support doubtless would be limited to his vote. He isn't trying and will not, try, we are sure, to name his successor. If his choice should be Hardee, it would demonstrate good judgment on his part, in giving his vote to the candidate best fitted for the job.—Tampa Tribune.

J. Hardin Peterson of Lakeland does not feel inclined to be shunted from his desire to serve in the United States Congress as suggested by the Tampa Tribune recently. The Tribune suggested that the Lakeland attorney become a candidate for railroad commissioner and in his election to that office, which it believes would be almost certain, could render a real service to his constituents. Mr. Peterson declines the suggestion, will continue in the race for Congress, which the Tribune incidently, believes is hopeless against Congressman Herbert J. Drane.—Plant City Courier.

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

This is to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Tax Collector for Highlands County subject to the wish of the voters at the June Primary.

I can only pledge a continuance of my experience and the personal attention as given in the past which has resulted in tax collections surpassing any of our adjoining counties, in keeping our schools in operation and assisting in the reduction of real estate taxes.

These duties prevent me making a house to house canvas but I assure you of my appreciation of your votes and any other assistance towards my nomination.

Library Shows Steady Increase

A gain of 668 books in circulation during the months of January and February of this year over the same period last year is shown in the report of Mrs. E. O. Williams, librarian at a meeting of the library committee last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Bygate donated a collection of books and Mrs. C. P. Turner of Highland Lakes gave a series of juvenile books. Miss Alice Davidson has given the American for one year and Mrs. Charles Madeira, The Christian Herald also for one year. These donations are all very valuable additions to the library and the committee wishes to thank the donors.

It was voted that hereafter tourists will be charged $1.50 for the privilege of joining the library, fifty cents of which will be for registration and the dollar to be returned to them when they withdraw their membership from the library.

Mrs. Williams reported that all books on the shelves have had repairs if needed and there is a sum left over with which she expects to purchase juvenile books. The librarian has accomplished the last two items through the amount raised in the penny cash box and this is money paid in for fines for keeping books out over the allotted time.

Rogers Jones Writes About Shanghai "War"

Rogers Jones, a marine in Uncle Sam's forces stationed in Shanghai, China, writes his mother, Mrs. Pearl Jones of Avon Park, a very interesting letter of what has been going on in China during the Sino-Japanese trouble. Jones left Avon Park three years ago and went to Kansas City, where he joined the marines. He has been stationed in the Phillipines for the past two years, but when trouble broke out in China, he was sent to Shanghai. His letter, under date of February 8, says:

"Arrived here the third, but this is the first chance that I have had to write. We landed the morning of the fourth, in a light snow. I thought I'd freeze just looking at it, but they would not give me time to do that. Three hours later, after we left the ship, we arrived at the barracks, which was the coldest, but most interesting three hours I've spent in twelve years. I think it has been that long since I have seen snow.

"The dull boom of big guns and the crash of bombs dropped from the airplanes (Jap) could be plainly heard, and the Jap planes flew right over us going back for more bombs. The barracks where I am and most of the others also, are big three story red brick buildings that reminded me, for no reason that I can remember, of St. Joe, Mo. There are from nine to eleven men in a room, and it is just like a big home. I like it.

"I am in the 26th rifle company, and most likely will not go to radio till this fuss is over. Went up to the front the day after we landed, the 5th, and got back the morning of the 6th. Will go back in tomorrow.

"The company was reformed today and I had to do some fast sidestepping to keep from being made an automatic rifleman. As it is, they made me an assistant A. R., and I have to carry 12 clips of 29 cartridges besides the rest of my equipment, but I don't have to carry the d—m rifle, thank the Lord.

"When you are on the front you can see the bombs drop from the planes and the dirt fly when they and the big shells hit. Quite a noise day and night. The rifles are popping and machine guns stutter all the time. As has been remarked in the papers, Shanghai is the only place in the world where you can get a grandstand seat at a first class war without being in it.

"If either side tries to take the International Settlement they will think that they have stepped into a hornets' nest. There are enough men and armament in here to hold out for a year.

"The Chinese have brought down six Jap planes since this started. I saw them bring down a big bomber the 5th. Some sight.

"Will close and get my equipment ready to go out to the front tomorrow. Will try to write each time that I come in.

Love,
Rogers.

Barbecue Tuesday Night Sponsored By Fish and Game Ass'n.

A number of Highlands county sportsmen and others assembled at Highlands Hammock Tuesday evening and enjoyed a barbecue sponsored by the Highlands County Fish and Game Association. Individual steaks were broiled over a long fire by the guests and Cooks Tom and Sam Dimberline had prepared huge cauldrons of stew which together with plenty of coffee and bread made a filling repast. There was plenty to spare and the residue was distributed among the poor and needy of the county.

The evening opened with a few short and snappy speeches. Dr. I. N. Kennedy of Eustis, deputy fish and game commissioner, brought the regrets of Game Commissioner C. C. Woodward for being unable to be present and complimented the association for the work they are doing to preserve the natural resources of the county. He pledged the full co-operation of the fish and game department in the work.

Other speakers were Mr. McLaughlin of Winter Haven and John E. Graham, president of the county association. Dr. E. J. Etheredge was the chairman for the evening and called attention to the present accessibility of the hammock as compared with the days of the past.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR MARCH 20, 1932.

SUBJECT: Jesus dies on the Cross.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures." 1 Cor. 15:3.

LESSON TEXT: John 19:17-22; 25-30.

TOPIC, — Why Christ died; Central truth, — The sacrifice is made and our salvation depends upon our faith and acceptance.

TIME AND PLACE: April 7, A. D. 30; at Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTION: "After the last supper our Lord led his little band of eleven followers through the eastern wall of Jerusalem, down into the deep valley of the Kidron, across the bridge, and up the western slope of the Mount of Olives to an olive orchard, named Gethsemane, which means 'an oil press,' and was a favorite resort of the disciples, and is one of the most moving and inspiring spots in the world. Eight of his disciples were bidden by Jesus to tarry on the outskirts of the garden, while the three disciples closest to him, Peter, James, and John, went with him a little deeper into the shade of the trees, and were bidden by Christ to wait there while he went further into the orchard for solitary prayer. There our Lord, begged the Father to spare him the terrible ordeal, adding the words that should accompany all our petitions, 'Never-the-less not my will, but thine, be done.'

The force which Judas brought with him to arrest Jesus carried torches to pierce the shadows of the olive-trees. That force consisted of Roman soldiers, together with some of the temple police furnished by the Sanhedrin. Jesus surrendered himself, asking only the freedom of his disciple. Christ was taken away bound, all of the disciples forsaking him and fleeing.

Annas was still regarded by the Jews as their high priest, though the Romans had deposed him and put in his place Caiaphas, the high priest 'that year,' who was his son-in-law. Immediately after his arrest (it was about midnight), our Lord was taken before this Annas. The examination before Annas was brief, seeking to draw Christ into some damaging statement of his teachings.

There seem to havs been two trails before Caiaphas, one a preliminary meeting with only a few members of the Sanhedrin present, held in the night, and the other a meeting of the full Council held after sunrise in order to give at least the color of legality to the decision already arrived at. False witnesses were brought in, but their testimony was in plain disagreement and Caiaphas rose from his seat, and, with theatrical solemnity, asked the question: 'I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou are the Christ the Son of God.' With great solemnity he answered in the affirmative, that he was the Messiah and the Son of God. Nothing more was needed by his judges. They unanimously proved him guilty of blasphemy and worthy of death."

The Jews then took Jesus before Pilate, the Roman governor, who tried to induce the high priests to agree to an acquital of Jesus, but when they refused, Pilate "delivered him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away." Then today's lesson begins, — "And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha: Where they crucified him, and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst."

It was unlawful to kill any person within the city of Jerusalem, therefore they took Jesus outside the city, to a hill called Golgotha, (a skull). Jesus was weak from exposure and the Roman scourging, and fell beneath the cross. Simon, a Greek Jew from Africa was in the crowd and they compelled him to carry the cross for Jesus. (Luke 23:26).

Those who were crucified with Jesus were two thieves, one of which repented on the cross and asked Jesus to remember him, and (Luke 23:43) Jesus said to him, "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise."

When criminals were punished it was customary to hang around their neck and place on the cross a placard — naming the crime; "And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross; * * JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS."

A great crowd gathered to see Jesus crucified. Most of those were enemies or sight seers; but some were his followers and friends.

"Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son! Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home." While hanging on the Cross Jesus said, "I thirst" and the soldiers gave him vinegar to quench his thirst.

"When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished; and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost." You might ask, why did Christ die? And what effect does his death have on your life and welfare? While Jesus suffered as a substitute for us, yet he suffered the full penalty of Sin. While on the cross Jesus cried, "My God, My God, Why hast thou forsaken me?"

And God must have cast him off, so that Christ suffering would equal that of a condemned sinner.

Butterfly Farms Operate In State

Little Known Industry Produces Numbers of Gorgeous Specimens

DeLand, March 16.—(Special).—It is not generally known even in Florida that "Butterfly Farming"—the systematic production of butterflies for the market, is not only a recognized industry but one which gives profitable employment to men and women in several parts of the state.

It is said by those interested in that peculiar "industry" that some of the most gorgeous specimens of butterflies in the world are found in Florida and the market is almost world-wide, the demand coming not only from museums of natural history, but from thousands of private collectors in almost every country on the globe.

Butterfly farmers, it is explained, must not only be enthusiasts in their particular line but must have a profound knowledge of entomology which will enable them to know what insects produce the chrysales from which will emerge the brilliantly colored and fantastically formed butterflies so much in demand by collectors. They must know, too, how to secure the insects and where, and how to care for them until the butterfly stage is reached, and then to so mount the butterflies that they will retain their colorings and other characteristics which give their often very high value to collectors.

Earl W. Brown, manager of exhibits for the Florida section of the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago next year, is constantly besieged by exhibitors of all sorts of things for space in the Florida concession. Butterfly farmers have been no exception to the rule, but their proposed exhibits have the merit of being colorful as well as otherwise unique and Mr. Brown is giving serious thought to arranging for an exhibit of butterfles which will be one of the marvels of the world's fair.

A good cover crop in the citrus grove not only adds humus to the soil, but it makes conditions more favorable for the many friendly fungi that prey upon insects, explains J. R. Watson, entomologist with the Florida Experiment Station.

Groves that have a good cover crop are likely to have less"trouble from whitefly, scale-insects, mealybugs, and especially rustmites during the summer and early fall. There are fungus diseases that destroy each of these insects, and these fungi require a warm, humid atmosphere in which to develop. The cover crop shades the soil and prevents the sun from drying it, and reflecting heat up into the trees, and also gives off moisture itself.

The only harmful insects that our common cover crops harbor is what we call the pumpkin bug. It is likely to breed on cowpeas and to a lesser extent on beggarweed and velvet beans. Crotalaria is less liable to breed these bugs, but it does not die down until the citrus fruit is attractive to the insects. It can be safely grown if it is mowed just before it produces any pods.

Crotalaria spectabilis is less likely to cause pumpkin bug damage than striata since the spectabilis pods ripen and die down over a shorter period.

Mr. Watson advised against the mixing of a cover crop in a grove, since the mixture will furnish food and breeding quarters for the bugs over a longer period. They will start breeding in cowpeas and beggarweed in early summer and when these crops die down the bugs will move to the Crotalaria.

Stack Silo, New and Cheaper Method of Storing Silage, Tried

A new method of putting up silage, cheaper than any of the others and one which may prove successful, has been tried during the past winter by the Florida Experiment Station. This is the stack silo, in which the silage is just stacked on the ground and then covered with dirt.

A stack silo about 42 feet long at the bottom and 30 feet long at the top, 21 feet wide at the bottom and six feet wide at the top, and eight feet high was completed November 25, 1931. It consisted of cane silage. It was capped with dirt, except on one side. It was opened on March 3. While it has not yet been examined all the way around, apparently there is a 12 or 15 inch loss on the top and sides, and a few inches on the bottom. It is believed that if the silage and the dirt with which it was covered had been more moist, the loss would have been less.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1931, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 20

"Don't judge by results" is a mighty good slogan and one that should be applied at all times. Most players are apt to judge by results at Auction or Contract, rather than by analysis, and there is nothing more harmful if a player really and sincerely wishes to improve his game. Sound bidding is based on probabilities, not upon certainties. If you or any player at the table fails to make his bid, analyze the hand before deciding whether the bid was good or bad. Be sure of your facts before you criticize.

Many a bid that is defeated several tricks saves a game or rubber and may, therefore, have been perfectly justifiable. Anything can happen to a hand, even to the strongest. There is practically no hand that you will ever bid which on a high bid cannot be defeated by a freak distribution of the other cards. Learn to analyze the various hands that come up for discussion and you will soon determine whether or not your bids or those of your fellow-players are sound.

During an evening's play there probably will be several hands that will puzzle you, and those are the hands that you should note and ponder over. One of the greatest players of the day owes his skill to just such tactics. After every game, he would study over his mistakes and those of the other players and try to figure out the proper plays and bids in each instance. All of us haven't his patience, but it's a great system if tried out even with only a few hands an evening.

Hand No 1

Hearts — J, 10, 6
Clubs — 8, 7, 5, 2
Diamonds — K, J, 10
Spades — 10, 8, 3

Hearts — A, Q, 8, 2
Clubs — J, 6
Diamonds — A, 4, 3
Spades — A, K, J, 3

Hearts — K, 9, 5, 4, 3
Clubs — none
Diamonds — 9, 8
Spades — Q, 9, 7, 6, 4, 2

Hearts — 7
Clubs — A, K, Q, 10, 9, 4, 3
Diamonds — Q, 7, 6, 5, 2
Spades — none

No score, first game. B dealt and passed and Z bid five clubs.

This is a perfect example of a preemptive or shut-out bid at either Auction or Contract. Z's strength was confined to the minor suits and he was right in trying to shut out a bid by his opponents. A, with apparently four sure tricks, doubled and all passed. B should have bid five spades, but his hand was so weak that he failed to do so. As a result, Z made five clubs doubled, losing only one heart and one diamond.

An analysis and study of this hand will be well worth while.

Hand No 2

Hearts — K, 10, 7
Clubs — A, K, Q, 4
Diamonds — A, K, Q, 3
Spades — 8, 3

Hearts — A, 8, 4
Clubs — 10, 6, 2
Diamonds — 10, 6, 4
Spades — 10, 7, 6, 4

Hearts — Q, J, 5
Clubs — J, 7
Diamonds — J, 8
Spades — K, Q, J, 9, 5, 2

Hearts — 9, 6, 3, 2
Clubs — 9, 8, 5, 3
Diamonds — 9, 7, 5, 2
Spades — A

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score, first game. Y dealt and Lid one no trump, B and Z passed and A bid two spades. Y doubled, B passed and Z bid three hearts. All passed and A opened the king of spades, which Z won with the ace. He then led the deuce of hearts, A played the jack, Y the king and B won the trick with the ace. B now led a spade and Z discarded the deuce of diamonds. This was a very smart play as it enabled Z to win the game as all he had to lose was one more heart trick. This hand is a perfect example of the wonderful results obtained by use of the informatory double. A close study of this hand, of the various plays and bids, will not only be interesting, but also very instructive.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Y should bid two diamonds and Z should bid two no trump, the minimum response. A should pass and Y should now bid three clubs. Z should now bid four diamonds and Y should bid five diamonds. It should be evident that Y Z can make game at diamonds as they should lose only two heart tricks.

Hand No 3

Hearts — A, Q, J
Clubs — K, 6, 2
Diamonds — J, 10, 4
Spades — Q, 10, 7, 4

Hearts — 4, 3, 2
Clubs — 10, 7, 5
Diamonds — A, K, Q, 8, 6
Spades — 8, 2

Hearts — 10, 9, 8, 6
Clubs — Q, 9, 8, 4
Diamonds — 3, 2
Spades — J, 5, 3

Hearts — K, 7, 5
Clubs — A, J, 3
Diamonds — 9, 7, 5
Spades — A, K, 9, 6

AUCTION BIDDING:

No score, first game. Z dealt and elected to bid one no trump. All passed and A proceeded to lead diamonds, winning the first five tricks. This hand is interesting because, if Z had bid spades instead of no trump, he could have made game. It looks like a better chance for game at no trump, however; so Z's bid cannot be justifiably criticized. A made a good play by refusing to bid diamonds, having the lead at no trump. If he had bid the diamonds, Z would then have bid the spades and gone game. The lesson to learn from A's tactics is: Don't overbid a no trump on your right if you have a set-up suit or one that will set up in one round and a sure card of re-entry. To bid under such conditions shows the no trump bidder the danger spot of his hand and often drives him to another and game bid, as in this example.

CONTRACT BIDDING:

Z should bid one spade. One of the lessons learned by Contract players, as distinguished from Auction players, is to prefer a suit bid to no trump if the suit is in any way a sound bid. In this instance the spade suit is a sound bid and, therefore, preferred to the no trump. A should bid two diamonds, and Y should bid three spades. B must pass and Z should bid four spades, which can be made against any defense.

As previously mentioned, the foregoing hands were selected during one evening's play and illustrate the writer's suggestions as to study of hands. If players would analyze even one hand a night, they would be surprised at the good results obtained.

Florida Vegetable Plate

By Mary A. Stennis, Nutritionist

For Saint Patrick's Day.

"The edible green leaf is essentially a complete and nearly or quite balanced food"—Dr. Henry Sherman.

"Greens" are growing in Florida all the year. They are not simply a spring novelty. Endless varieties such as endive, romaine, head lettuce, nine members of the cabbage family, spinach, turnip greens, beet greens, mustard, chard, kale, "tender green," parsley, mint, water cress, celery, talinum, chaya (tree spinach) thrive in Florida and in many sections throughout the winter.

Other "greens" such as peppers, cucumbers, young onions, okra, snap beans are "in season" in Florida all the year.

Florida menus may be green all the year—fresh and green from local fields and gardens! Saint Patrick's Day Menu is therefore the natural Florida Menu. Plan one for March Seventeenth.

Small Tornado Does DeSoto City Damage

A small tornado cut a swathe across DeSoto City about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, uprooting a number of orange trees, twisting others and doing some damage to residences and telephone communications.

Perry Etheredge's garage was demolished and the car turned over twice and thrown against a tree. Awnings were stripped from houses, chickens found far from their usual haunts and in one case three had been carried into a bedroom of an adjoining house. No one was injured by the blow.

To the Voters of Highlands County:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of Tax Assessor of Highlands County subject to the Democratic Primary June 7th, 1932.

I am making the race solely on my record of public service to this County in the past and I trust that my efforts have been such as to warrant your continued support and favor. In exchange for this support if elected I promise to continue to give you the very best service possible, and I will appreciate your vote.

CYRIL BALDWIN.

TO THE CITIZENS OF HIGHLANDS COUNTY:

I take this method of announcing that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction of Highlands County, subject to the Democratic Primary in June.

During the past seven years I have had only one purpose in view—to conscientiously administer the affairs of this office to the advantage of the people of our county.

My long experience as an educator, as an executive, and as a business man has enabled me to place and keep the schools of Highlands county among the very best schools in the state. The co-operation I have had from the people all over the county has been a source of satisfaction and greatly aided me in the work.

If re-elected I shall continue to put forth every possible effort for the schools, to maintain a high degree of efficiency, to keep them in operation full time, and to continue to reduce taxation.

The numerous duties of my office will prevent me from making a house to house canvass, but I wish you to know I shall greatly appreciate your continued support.

F. N. K. BAILEY.

FOR SHERIFF

To the Voters of Highlands County:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Highlands County, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic Primary in June, 1932.

If nominated and elected I will give the voters my best effort to conduct said office along the highest business standards thereby giving the voters the service they should expect with economy and courtesy.

Very respectfully,

W. R. (Bill) ENGLAND.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Highlands county, subject to the Democratic primary, June 7, 1932.

If elected I will endeavor to conduct the affairs of the office on a basis of fairness to all, giving the office my personally attention.

I take this method of soliciting the vote and support of my friends, and will appreciate any courtesies shown me.

E. A. (Ed) DeLANEY.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

At the solicitation of my many friends, I hereby announce myself a candidate for state senator from the twenty-seventh senatorial district, comprising Hardee, Highlands, DeSoto and Glades counties.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

HENRY G. MURPHY.

"NERVES"

Here's a good way to quiet "NERVES"— A Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nervine Tablet, a glass of water, a pleasant, sparkling drink. Nerves relax. You can rest, sleep, enjoy life. At your drug store. 25c and $1.00.

Effervescent NERVINE

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

Sophomore News.

The Sophomore Class of Avon Park Hi in the year of 1932 had a meeting Tuesday morning at chapel period. It was decided that we abandon the idea of having a successful party until the weather becomes warm enough for the girls to get out at night. It was also decided that the boys should have the picture framed in the meantime. Boy, that makes us feel bad. We wanted the party first. Stew bad.

We see the Seniors have all of the artists in school at work making posters for the "Ghost Parade". The Senior Class play to be given March 25, at the High School Auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

Freshman News.

Both sections of the English Class are now studying Journalism. One section went down to the printing office of the Sun and Pilot. They were explained things of interest by C. H. Pardee. They were shown how the paper was printed, etc. Woodson Sadler, a member of the section, who works in the office after school showed the class how the paper was folded.

The Future Farmers boys are coming along very nicely in their five game series with the Sebring Future Farmers, of which the Avon Park boys have won the first two games. If the Avon Park boys win three games out of the five, they will go to the Future Farmer tournament in Plant City, April 23. The next game will be played in Avon Park on the school grounds, Friday afternoon.

The Hom Ec. girls are studying hard on a play to be given next Monday for the Sebring Woman's Club. You should see them in study hall repeating their parts over.

Freshman Jokes

In English we were studying where to put 'each other" and "One another" in their correct places.

Miss Pearson: Melba which did you put in this sentence, "The twins resemble ——— greatly."

Melba: In the book it said if it was two people to use "each other" and more than two "One another." I couldn't get that sentence because it didn't say.

Miss Pearson: (In Latin Class): Patsy, do you have a slip?

Patsy: (Blushing slightly) Yes, Mam.

Miss Pearson: Let me see it please.

Patsy: (quickly) Not before all these boys.

Senior Class News

Late again getting news, but have it just before our editor-in-chief takes it down to the printers. My but we are worked these days.

Our posters have arrived for our play and will be stuck around town, provided the merchants will patronize us. Thanks for the Junior, the valuable Phil Lacey. He went so far as to do the printing on the posters for us, not all of course, but the date, etc.

The acting ability that is required in that "Ghost Parade." If you think any Senior is noted for his or her acting ability just attend the play.

If you wanted to listen to a clear, forceful speaker, you should have attended Mr. Babson's speech last Tuesday evening at the High School Auditorium. His remarks were mostly on the depression and its causes. Only three Seniors attended so far as I know, not enough out.

Typing is becoming complicated if you ask me. Five students who rate with a fifty or fifty-five words a minute are each clammoring to go to the contest in Jacksonville, March 31. Accuracy is the big word with speed following it—this is considered more than anything else. We are told that our typing class is better than the one last year. Let's hope so, anyway.

Junior Class News.

The Juniors attempt at poetry patterned after Annabel Lee, by Edgar Allen Poe.

It was many and many a year ago,
In a schoolhouse near a lake,
That the Juniors there lived whom all may know
By the name of '33
And these Juniors they lived with no other thought
Than to love and be loved by the Seniors.

The Juniors were children, the Seniors almost men,
In this schoolhouse near a lake,
But they loved with a love that was more than love—
These children in the make;
With a love that the horned teachers of Hades
Coveted the Juniors and Seniors.

And this was the reason that, long ago,
In this schoolhouse near a lake,
That the food of the banquet went down and came up,
Which gave the Seniors a stomachache;
So that the faculty came out of the fog one day
And gave the Seniors diplomas
Pushing them out in a cruel, cruel world
Away from the schoolhouse by a lake.

Lee Is Candidate For Comptroller

four banks in 1929 and heavy expenses incurred in unusual litigation, has paid and provided for its general obligations, run its schools full terms each year, promptly paid its teachers to date and reduced its tax levies 50 percent. Such accomplishments were obtained by strict, fair and equitable administration of the laws governing public finances.

"I believe that the state and its political subdivisions can enjoy the same degree of success if proper policies are adopted and followed, and such will be my purpose and undertaking if elected comptroller."

Mr. Lee's Platform.

Yielding to the continued demands coming from the people throughout the State, I hereby declare myself a candidate for the office of State Comptroller and as a basis for such candidacy hereby adopt and present to the people of Florida the following platform:

1. If elected Comptroller of the State of Florida, I will be the only member of my family employed in this office. I will reduce the clerical forces and raise the efficiency of the office.

2. I will establish such a degree of understanding and co-operation between the Comptroller's office and the taxing authorities of the State as will enable us to find the billions of dollars of taxable property now escaping taxation and place same on the tax roll, thereby equalizing and reducing the tax burdens. The Comptroller's office is the only source through which this can be done.

3. I will furnish to the County Commissioners and auditors of the several counties of the State regular and accurate statements showing the source, amount and distribution of all public moneys received by the Comptroller from their respective counties.

4. I will promptly distribute and remit all public moneys received by the Comptroller's office to the legal custodian thereof to be used for the purpose for which it was collected.

5. I will be fair but firm with all institutions, both financial or industrial, coming under my supervision.

6. Banks. I will encourage the passage of such banking laws as will give to the depositors protection against the confiscation of their life's earnings, thereby restoring confidence in the banks of the State. I shall present definite and workable plans in this connection during my campaign.

7. I will expect and require the banks of the State to strictly conform to the laws governing their existence and operation and to such banks I will give my full co-operation. Those that disregard the laws of the State will be promptly dealt with as the law directs.

8. I will promptly liquidate such banks as have been taken over by the Comptroller and pay to the depositors such dividends as they may be entitled to before same has been consumed in unnecessary delay and cost of liquidation.

9. Railroads and Public Utilities. I will require them to comply with the laws applicable to their properties and operations just as other taxpayers are required to comply—no more and no less. I will not persecute nor will I favor them.

10. I will make such reports to the executive and legislative departments of the State as is by law required of the Comptroller and will offer no interference in the faithful performance of the duties of such departments.

11. I will perform the duties devolving upon the Comptroller as a member of the cabinet fairly, fearlessly and without special favor to anyone. As a member of the pardon board I shall undertake to prevent the wholesale pardoning of guilty criminals.

12. I will perform all of the duties of the office fairly, impartially and to the best of my ability, and in the event my official acts should become the subject of legal investigation I will immediately submit to the jurisdiction of the tribunal before which same is pending and there vindicative and protect the dignity of the office to which the people have elected me.

On this platform and my past record as a public official of the State of Florida and the county of Highlands, I respectively solicit the support of every voter in the Democratic primary to be held June 7th, 1932.

Yours appreciatively,
J. M. LEE.

Eighth-A News

We were delightfully entertained Tuesday morning in our home room chapel by a program presented by Joan Mills, chairman of the program committee. Clarice Thomas and Josephine Langford were in a play entitled: "Grammatical Difficulties."

We were glad to welcome six boys from the other section. We are still wondering why we are favored this way. May be they are trying to reform us (and trying is all) or we are trying to reform them. I do not know which.

Miss Atchley: Marie, what animal has the most intelligence?

Marie: A cat.

To Raise Fund For Crosby Marker

The Avon Park Cemetery association has undertaken to raise a fund to mark the grave of Oliver M. Crosby, founder of the city, who was laid to rest in Bougainvillea cemetery last Saturday. A curb around the grave and a simple stone on which is to be carved the word, "Founder," is contemplated. Small contributions are asked, and these may be left with Paul Jordon at the Jordon Jewelry store, or with Dr. A. P. Vaughn or M. E. Covington.

The Mahan variety of paper shell pecan, recently developed at Monticello, is the largest pecan in the world. They average thirty-two to the pound.
