

CARE IS NEEDED FOR GROVES NOW

Attention Should Be Given To Cover Crops During Rainy Season

Gainesville, July 19.—The summer, or rainy season, is important in the management of a citrus grove, says E. F. DeBusk, citrus specialist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Of prime importance, he says, there should be a cover crop on the grove. Where there is a fair stand of crotalaria struggling with grass the grass should be mowed just above the crotalaria. Instead of competing with the crotalaria the mowed grass will shade the ground and make a more favorable condition for its growth. Where there is no crotalaria, or a poor stand, attention should be turned to growing a heavy native cover crop of grass or weeds.

The cover crop should not be destroyed when the summer application of fertilizer is made. Simply apply it and let the rain work it in, Mr. DeBusk says. Apply enough so that the cover crop can have a little, he added, for it will return it later with big interest.

Now is a good time for mulching. If not applied too heavily, the mulching material will be fairly well rotted down by the fall drought period. A thin mulch is desirable during periods of light rainfall to allow the rains to penetrate to the root zone. Under many conditions Mr. DeBusk believes a good practice to mow the natural cover crop in July or early August and rake it to the trees for mulching.

The rainy season is a fine time to touch up backward trees or areas of poor soil condition in the grove. Mr. DeBusk suggests the application of manure, muck, or other organic matter, and an application of rock phosphate.

It should be remembered that the friendly fungi do their work during the rainy season. Mr. DeBusk stressed the use of the red aschersonia fungus to control the heavy infestation of whitefly this season. He urged that growers continue the watch for rust mites, warning that sulphur dusts applied at the beginning of the rainy season will likely be washed off and need to be re-applied. He further recommended that scabby fruit be pulled off as early as the scab lesions are noticed. Such fruit will likely have no commercial value and it is better for the tree and easier if pulled now.

—Buy Avon Park— Amendments To Be Presented To Voters

Tampa, July 19.—Many inquiries are made for information regarding the proposed constitutional amendments that are to be voted upon in the general election in November, 1933.

Most of these amendments are of state-wide interest but one is local. Following is a list of the proposed amendments that will appear on the ballot:

1. The amendment to consolidate the offices of tax assessors and tax collectors into one office in all counties.

Egg Contest Birds Add 61 Percent Lay To Record Average

Chipsley, July 19.—With a 61 percent lay during June the 520 hens at the seventh Florida National Egg Laying Contest here brought their average for the last nine months to 171.4 eggs per bird, according to E. F. Stanton, supervisor. This is 19 eggs per bird better than the record at the same time last year, and six eggs ahead of any previous contest.

By laying an average of 24 eggs per bird during the month the 10 birds in one of the pens entered by W. A. Seidel, San Antonio, Texas, added to its lead of the entire contest. It now has 2,195 points for 2,148 eggs, and is 70 points ahead of an entry by Gulfport Poultry Farm, Ocean Springs, Miss. A pen owned by Pinelovene Farm, Callahan, Fla., is third, and other by the same breeder is in fifth position. Fourth place is held by an entry from Ethelredge Poultry Farm, Ashtford, Ala. In the heavy breed entries a pen of Rhode Island Reds owned by J. A. Dinkins, Bonifay, Fla., is leading.

Leading hen for the month and also for the nine months of the contest went to one of the E. P. Witt birds, Jacksonville, Fla. She received 29.55 points for 27 eggs, and brought her total to date to 200.05 points for 241 eggs.

Rules for the eighth contest, which will begin October 1, have just been released. Very few changes were made, but the entry fee was reduced to $10 per pen to encourage more entries, especially from the smaller poultrymen in the state. In the present contest there are 52 pens from 14 states, 20 of them coming from Florida. Interest so far, the fine record this year, and the reduced entry fee lead Mr. Stanton to think that the contest will be filled to its 100-pen capacity next year. Rules and application blanks can be obtained from the Egg Laying Contest, Chipsley, Fla.

(It is the general belief at this time that this amendment will be placed before the voters of the state.)

2. The amendment to repeal the bone-dry prohibition law in Florida.

3. Amendment to exempt from taxation all homesteads having a valuation of not more than five thousand dollars.

4. Amendment to reduce the number of judicial circuits in the state from 28 to 15.

5. An amendment to exempt motion picture studios from all ad valorem taxes for 15 years.

6. Amendment for elimination of grand juries except in capital cases or where the circuit judge calls the grand jury in session. The state attorney would file criminal information under this arrangement.

7. Amendment to empower the legislature to provide a uniform system of county and municipal government. (The object of this amendment being to eliminate the local bill nuisance in the legislature.)

8. Amendment to consolidate the City of Jacksonville and the County of Duval, to be subject to a referendum if passed by the state voters.

Two-in-One Dish for Summer Menus

By Jane Rogers

THE busy housewife should be deeply grateful to the inventor of the casserole. Particularly is this true during the summer months when, by combining the meat and vegetable in one dish, the casserole reduces to a minimum the time it is necessary to spend in a hot kitchen.

There is nothing complicated about the preparation of casserole dishes. The seasoning, however, deserves the most careful attention, for it can do much to make or mar the results. Pepper and salt are, of course, called for. In addition, the wise housewife has found that a dash of sugar, mixed with the pepper and salt, tips up and blends the various flavors. Try this seasoning trio in preparing—

Veal En Casserole

Cut fleshy veal in cubes. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and sugar, and brown in salt pork fat. Brown a chopped onion in the fat; also two carrots cut in inch slices. Place the meat in the casserole. Add onion, carrots, and a cupful of meat. Add three cupfuls of tomato juice, cover and cook slowly. Thicken the sauce and serve the meat and vegetables in the casserole.

use of equipment such as might be eliminated by pooling arrangements, etc. Many of the projected economies have been hitherto impossible because of law and regulatory practices.

So far this year railroad traffic has improved. On several important roads business is 30 to 40 percent ahead of last year. The railroad equipment industry, completely in the doldrums for years, feels optimistic.

All businesses have been watching the operation of the National Recovery Administration with vast interest. No government bureau has ever had such dominating powers to regulate prices, hours of work, working conditions, production, etc. The textile industry was the first to present a code for consideration; it has been worked out and approved in rapid time. Now dozens of other important industries are preparing codes. Among them are: Oil, construction, lumber, automobiles, tobacco, motor equipment, hosiery, hats, wool workers, dairy products, ceramics, retail dry goods, wholesale grocers, and so on. Higher wages, shorter working hours with more workers and higher prices, principal goals of the measure, will result.

This price question has created some trouble in another bureau—that of Agriculture. Recent advances in wheat prices, plus the coming processing tax on flour, caused a group of midwestern bakers to announce an advance of 3 cents a loaf in the price of bread. Secretary Wallace at once said that the increased cost to the baker could not be more than 1½ cent a loaf, pointed out that the anti-trust laws are still in effect, intimated that prosecution would be the result of unjustified price boost.

M. Francis Marion, the essayist, novelist and poet, has been elected to the French academy.

Business Index: Advanced sharply to highest point since October, 1930.

Steel: Ingot production mounting, with industry passing the 50 percent of capacity production point.

Commodity Prices: Gained 5 of a point, to reach 54, highest level in more than a year.

Car Loadings: Gained more than 13 percent, with increase demonstrated in all commodity groups except livestock, and in all regions except Central West.

Soft Coal: Production higher and price rise anticipated.

Lumber: Output still rising, and orders increasing.

Automobiles: Production reached peak for the year.

Bank debits: Check payments, indicating volume of business transacted, increased and above a year ago.

Wheat and cotton values increased close to a billion dollars recently. Dollar wheat, dream of the last few years, was reached because of the weather. The literally burned wheat in the fields in various important producing regions. Spring wheat crop now is forecast at 175,000,000 bushels. Cotton crop is more difficult to estimate; present and future supply is roughly placed at twenty to twenty-one million bales.

Important indicator of conditions in general is electric power production. For several months it has shown consistent improvement. During May there was a 4 percent rise over April, whereas the normal change is about a 2 percent drop. Steel plants have also shown themselves immune this year to the usual seasonal slump, and July started with no indications of a let-down. Only moderate slackening is forecast for the automobile industry—sales touched the 1,000,000 mark for the first six months of the year, exceeding the most sanguine hopes of producers. Not since 1930 has there been a better half-year showing.

Another major industry which is feeling the stimulus of recovery is shoes. Output has been consistently ahead of last year, and it is believed that May production reached a record for recent months.

Reorganization of the railroads will await exploration of possibilities for operating economies. This is the attitude of Joseph Eastman, Federal Co-ordinator. He has indicated a score of fields where reductions may be obtained. Examples: Joint use of terminals; unnecessary passenger or freight service; waste in repair expense; unduly low charges for warehouse and similar services; waste in

Young Democrats From 17 Counties To Meet Saturday

Ocala, July 19.—Young Democrats from the 17 counties in the second congressional district will meet here on Saturday, July 22, at which time the state executive committee will also meet, according to H. Roy Anderson, state vice-president of the organization.

The Young Democrats will organize committees for activities during the coming year, and will consider methods of co-operating with the national party organization. Plans will be made for working for Florida's ratification of the federal repeal amendment, in line with the party's platform.

Among those expected to speak are: Congressman R. A. Green, of Starke; Mrs. Horstene Wells, Tampa, state Democratic committee woman; and J. B. Hodges, of Lake City, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee.

Delegations from all sections of Florida are expected. It is the first meeting of the organization since the biennial convention in Orlando several months ago.

ALL OWING THE CLOSED BANKS IN STATE MUST PAY

Comptroller Issues Statement On Policies On Liquidation of Banks

Tallahassee, July 20.—Going over the heads of bank liquidating agents and attorneys, gains no advantage with Comptroller J. M. Lee, according to those who have been trying it since the new deal in liquidation was set up in Tallahassee.

The only thing that has been successful in producing "stop orders" from the comptroller to his subordinates and attorneys has been cash payment or some satisfactory plan of expediting the liquidation of the account in question.

"If you owe money to a 'broken bank,' the comptroller has been telling complainants, 'you must pay if you have it, or make some arrangements to pay, if you do not have the money, but can get it. I have told General Liquidator, M. A. Smith and his attorneys that delinquent mortgages are entitled to relief from foreclosure only when they are paying something to show a co-operative effort to liquidate their indebtedness."

"We can't go on forever with bank liquidations. Depositors are entitled to the money that has been loaned by these closed banks and liquidating agents and their attorneys are supposed to collect it."

Comptroller Lee admitted to one group, seeking to go over the head of the liquidating agent in an effort to also a threatened mortgage foreclosure, that he has issued orders to liquidating agents to proceed to collect moneys due the depositors of closed banks by suit if necessary.

"Where a party owing a closed bank shows good faith by arranging to make, and then making, periodical payments on the account or mortgage, he is entitled to relief from suit or other pressure, the comptroller has advised all concerned. "Otherwise," say the instructions, "proceed in an orderly way to close the liquidation and when suit and foreclosures are made necessary by refusal of debtors to co-operate, proceed vigorously."

Bank Liquidation Headquarters Are Now In Orlando

Orlando, July 19.—General Liquidator, M. A. Smith, has opened an office in the State Bank Building here as official headquarters to handle all matters relating to liquidation of the 147 closed state banks in Florida.

This move was made as a measure of economy. A saving of time and money will be effected because of the central location of the Orlando office.

The office personnel was transferred from the comptroller's department in Tallahassee and includes besides M. A. Smith, general liquidator; J. V. Chapman, assistant liquidator; T. C. Hawkins, auditor; and Judge D. V. Rouse, legal representative.

All final reports will be sent to the office of Comptroller Lee in Tallahassee, for approval, but the greater part of the work of liquidation will be accomplished in the Orlando headquarters.

Own Your Own Soda Fountain and Keep Your Family Cool and Happy

YOU can keep your family cooler than the proverbial cucumber ever dreamed of being, you can spring surprise refreshments at a moment's notice, you can let the children drink their energy foods right in their favorite beverages, and have some fun yourself turning out sodas and drinks just like the drug store—if you own your own soda fountain!

The equipment is simple, just what you already have on hand. A few nutmeats, a package of coconut, some cookies, some home-made foundation syrups and some attractive glasses—and there you are, ready for your patrons, who are sure to be steady customers! (And don't forget the straws to lend the professional touch.)

Store-Away Chocolate Sauce. If you want a chocolate sauce that will keep nicely stored away in a jar in the refrigerator, try this:

- 1 1/2 cups chocolate
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. cornstarch
- Salt (pinch)
- 1/4 cup white karo
- 1 1/2 cups hot water
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla.

Cut chocolate in pieces, add cold water, and cook until smooth. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt together. Add to chocolate. Add the syrup, then pour in hot water and cook until smooth. Add vanilla last. This will be a smooth sauce on account of the karo content; if you want mint flavor, add a teaspoon of mint essence to sauce. Use for ice cream topping.

Beautiful Cold Drinks.

It is important that the family, children especially, have its full requirement of energy foods in the summertime, but difficult to serve them in anything hot! Comforting, then, to know that they may have had right in cooling drinks, if the drinks contain dextrose, the energy food. Turning your cool glass into energy drinks is simple—merely add a tablespoon of karo to each glassful, or use it for the sweetener. Better yet, put it right into the foundation syrup you can make and keep for instant use.

Foundation Orange Syrup.

Combine 1 1/2 cups orange juice, 2 cups white karo and 1/2 cup lemon juice. Put in jar and store in ice box. Use as needed, allowing 1/4 cup syrup with ice and plain or charged water or gingerale for each serving.

Fruit Punch.

- 1 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup white karo
- 2 additional cups orange juice
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 cups pineapple juice
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- Gingerale.

Cook 1 cup orange juice, water and karo together to make a heavy syrup. Cool. Keep syrup until ready to use. When ready to make punch mix other juices with the foundation syrup; add ice and gingerale (about 6 small bottles for this amount) just before serving.

Home-Made Ice-Cream Off.

"Floats"—ice or ice cream floated on top a beverage—are popular in the home soda fountain. Making your own float is simple if you know that the secret of quick-freezing and smooth mixture lies in not using too much sugar, which slows up freezing and is responsible for grains. Learn the secret in this:

Cupfruit Ice.

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/4 cup white karo
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 6 tbsps. lemon juice
- 1 No. 2 can grapefruit (pulp and juice).

Cook the sugar, karo and 1 cup of water to a soft ball (240 degrees F.). Add lemon juice and water. Cook. Cut grapefruit segments into small pieces with scissors. Add to cooled syrup. Freeze. Yields 2 quarts.

Iced Chocolate.

There are two ways to make iced chocolate. Use a foundation chocolate syrup, add to milk and ice and shake. Or (for 6 servings) mix 8 teaspoons cocoa, few grains salt, 1 tablespoon karo, and 3 tablespoons sugar. Add 2 cups hot water, place over heat and boil 3 minutes, then add milk. Let heat to boiling, remove, cool and beat until frothy. Chill, add a teaspoonful whipped cream and serve. For Frosted Chocolate, add a ball of vanilla ice cream and beat until mixed. For Iced Mocha combine equal parts of chilled coffee and chilled chocolate. Serve with nabiscoes or any of the sweet "sandwich" cookies. Many children like "Chocolate Slabs" made by stirring a tablespoon of chocolate kremo into a glass of milk.

FRUIT FLUFF SALAD.

(Serves 4)

This salad is very cool and appetizing in appearance, making it an attractive addition to the summer time menu. It may be served as the last course of the meal, combining the salad and dessert.

- 4 to 6 small oranges
- Lettuce
- 1/4 cup grated coconut
- 1/2 cup grated carrots

Pare oranges and cut in thin slices. Cut slices in halves. On lettuce-covered salad plates, arrange a circle of orange slices, being generous with fruit. Sprinkle with grated coconut and carrot. Carrot. Serve at once with mayonnaise, into which 1/2 as much orange juice has been thoroughly blended.

STUFFED TOMATO SURPRISE

(Serves 6)

- 6 medium size tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon gelatine
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup shrimps
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- Mayonnaise
- Mint sprigs (or stuffed olives or pimiento)
- Lettuce.

Peel tomatoes and remove centers. Invert and chill. Soak gelatine in cold water five minutes. Add boiling water. Stir well. Add lemon and orange juice. Pour into a pan of the right size to make a gelatine layer 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick. Chill until jelly is solid. Cut in cubes. Half fill tomato shells with shrimps and celery blended with mayonnaise. Then pile shells as full as possible with lemon jelly cubes. Garnish with mayonnaise, which may be colored green with spinach juice or vegetable coloring, if desired. Decorate with mint sprigs, stuffed olive slices or pimiento. Serve very cold in lettuce cups.

SOUP MILK RECIPES.

Vegetables Canned. Soup milk is a good food and should not be thrown away. Some of the best cooks go so far as to make milk soup for use in special dishes. Milk turns sour because of the action of lactic acid bacteria, but these are beneficial bacteria. They produce soft curd in sour milk. This curd is easy to digest and is recommended by doctors.

French Curd.

French curd is uncooked curd or French cottage cheese. The sour milk is not heated, but is simply poured into earthenware molds with holes in the bottom to allow the whey to drip out. When the curd is sufficiently stiff it is chilled and served with sweet cream and sugar, and possibly fruits or preserves.

Sour Milk Cottage Cheese.

The ingredients are one quart freshly clabbered milk, one quart boiling water, salt and pepper. Pour the boiling water over the clabber, and let stand until the curd separates. Turn into a cheesecloth bag and let hang until the whey has drained off. Break the curd and moisten it with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Season to taste. Sweet or sour cream may be added for greater smoothness and better flavor.

Automobile Sales First Half of 1933 Best Since 1929

With dealers reporting the best June retail sales—78,543 units since 1929, the Chevrolet Motor company in the first half of 1933 reported its domestic quota of 67 percent of its domestic quota of 150,000 cars for 1933. H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager announced today.

Retail deliveries reported by dealers for the first half totaled 304,562 new cars and trucks compared with 253,225 in the comparable period last year, Mr. Klingler stated.

Reported June sales were 50 percent ahead of last June and 20 percent ahead of May this year, exceeding the 78,117 units sold in June, 1931, and the 73,900 sold in June of 1930.

Despite a slow start in the first quarter due to bank moratoria and generally unsettled conditions, the Chevrolet executive said that in the second quarter retail sales have shown a constantly growing gain over last year, the greatest margin of increase occurring in June with its 80 percent jump over June of last year.

While registrations for the first six months are not yet available, Mr. Klingler announced that for the year through May 31 his company had titled, in the passenger car field, 175,000 units as compared with 167,000 for the next two leading makes combined, indicating a third successive year of leadership. In four of the past six years, and again so far in 1933, Chevrolet leads in sales.

This year is the first since 1923, when the country was pulling out of the effects of the post-war depression, that Chevrolet sales in June have gone ahead of May or April, normally the peak months of the Chevrolet year. Mr. Klingler stated. He added that the June market was well-freighted with no change in the condition of new car stocks in the field, and only a slight increase in used car stocks.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson

EVENTS OF IMPORTANCE HAVE MOVED RAPIDLY DURING RECENT MONTHS

"Something doing every minute," formerly was a favorite lullaby expression for carnivals and similar entertainments. It is quite applicable to American life, in recent months. For if there has not been some intense activity every minute, things have certainly been happening from day to day and week to week. It almost makes us dizzy trying to keep up with events, which are of interest in Florida as well as elsewhere throughout the Nation.

From the moment the country went off the gold standard, things have been happening thick and fast. The Farm Credit Administration has been set up, and federal funds are being made available for refinancing farm mortgages at lower interest rates. This is a boon to farmers whose farms are mortgaged, but new loans should be made with caution.

The Federal Government is moving rapidly to reduce surpluses of the principal farm crops, such as cotton, tobacco and wheat. Cotton and tobacco acreage reduction campaigns have just been conducted in Florida, as well as throughout the states producing these crops.

Federal authorities also are setting minimum prices at which some principal commodities can be sold, and are placing minimum wage scales and maximum working hours for labor.

The State Milk Control Board has set prices for milk and other dairy products. There is some agitation for a federal coordinator of the citrus industry. Coordinators, administrators and controllers are the order of the day. This is a reversal of the attitude of former years, but apparently it is meeting with approval, at least temporarily.

Drastic measures have seemed necessary, but with business declining to take an unwelcome, many of these goals would have been attained in the natural course of events, whether there was drastic action or inaction on the part of the government. And meantime a reaction against so much government control is almost certain to come within a few months or years.

YOU can keep your family cooler than the proverbial cucumber over dreamed of being, you can spring surprise refreshments at a moment's notice, you can let the children drink their energy foods right in their favorite beverages, and have some fun yourself turning out sodas, sodas and drinks just like the drug stores serve—if you own your own soda fountain!

The equipment is simple, just what you already have on hand. A few nutmeats, a package of coconut, some cookies, some homemade foundation syrups and some attractive glasses—and there you are, ready for your patronage, who are sure to be steady customers! (And don't forget the straw to lend the professional touch).

Store-Away Chocolate Sauce.
If you want a chocolate sauce that will keep nicely, stored away in a jar in the refrigerator, try this:

1 1/2 cups chocolate
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. cornstarch
Salt (pinch)
1/2 cup white karo
1 1/2 cups hot water
1 tsp. vanilla.

Cut chocolate in pieces, add cold water, and cook until smooth. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt together. Add to chocolate. Add the syrup, then pour in hot water and cook until smooth. Add vanilla last. This will be a smooth sauce on account of the karo content; if you want mint flavor, add a teaspoon of mint essence to sauce. Use for ice cream topping.

Heathful Cold Drinks.
It is important that the family children especially, have its full requirement of energy foods in the summertime, but difficult to serve them in anything hot! Comfort them, then, to know that they may be had right in cooling drinks, if the drinks contain dextrose, the energy food. Turning your cool sip into energy drinks is simply—merely add a tablespoon of karo to each glassful or use it for the sweetener. Better yet, put it right into the foundation syrup you can make and keep for instant use.

Foundation Orangeade Syrup.
Combine 1 1/2 cups orange juice, 2 cups white karo and 1 1/2 cup lemon juice. Put in jar and store in ice box. Use as needed, adding 1 cup syrup with ice and plain or charged water or gingerale for each serving.

Fruit Punch.
1 cup orange juice
1 cup white karo
2 additional cups orange juice
1 cup water
2 cups pineapple juice
1 1/2 cup lemon juice
Gingerale.

Cook 1 cup orange juice and karo together to make a heavy syrup. Cool. Keep syrup until ready to use. When ready to make punch mix other juices with the foundation syrup; add ice and gingerale (about 6 small bottles for this amount) just before serving.

Home-Made Ices Cool Yes Off.
"Floats"—ice or ice cream floated on top a beverage—are popular here the home soda fountain. Making your own ices is simple if you know that the secret of quick-freezing and smooth mixture lies in not using too much sugar, which slows up freezing and is responsible for grains. Learn the secret in this:

Grapefruit Ice.
1 1/2 cups sugar
3/4 cup white karo
1 1/4 cups water
6 tbsps. lemon juice
1 No. 2 can grapefruit (pulp and juice).

Cook the sugar, karo and 1 cup of water to a soft ball (240 degrees F.). Add lemon juice and water. Cook. Cut grapefruit segments into small pieces with scissors. Add to cooled syrup. Freeze. Yields 2 quarts.

Ice Cream Chocolate.

There are two ways to make ice cream chocolate. Use a foundation chocolate syrup, add to milk and ice cream. Or (for 6 servings) mix 2 teaspoons cocoa, few grains salt, 1 tablespoon karo, and 3 tablespoons sugar. Add 2 cups hot water, place over heat and boil 3 minutes. Then add milk. Let heat to boiling, remove, cool and beat until frothy. Chill, add a teaspoonful whipped cream and serve. For Frosted Chocolate, add a ball of vanilla ice cream and heat until mixed. For Ice Mocha combine equal parts of chilled coffee and chilled chocolate. Serve with nutmeats or any of the sweet "sandwich" cookies. Many children like "Chocolate Shake" made by stirring a tablespoon of chocolate kremo into a glass of milk.

FRUIT FLUFF SALAD.

(Serves 4)
This salad is very easy and appetizing in appearance, making it an attractive addition to the summer time menu. It may be served as the last course of the meal, combining the salad and dessert.

4 to 6 small oranges
Lettuce
1 cup grated coconut
1 cup grated carrots
1 cup sliced pineapple
1 cup sliced banana

Pare oranges, and cut thin slices. Cut slices in half and let lettuce-covered salad plates. Arrange a circle of orange slices, being generous with fruit. Sprinkle with grated coconut and grated carrot. Serve at once with mayonnaise, into which 1/4 as much orange juice has been thoroughly blended.

STUFFED TOMATO SURPRISE.

6 medium size tomatoes
1 tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup shrimp
1/2 cup diced celery
Mayonnaise
Mint sprigs (for stuffed olives or pimiento)

Peel tomatoes and remove centers. Invert and chill. Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes. Add boiling water. Stir well. Add lemon and orange juice. Pour into a pan of the right size to make a gelatin layer 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick. Chill until jelly is solid. Cut in cubes. Half fill tomato shells with shrimp and celery blended with mayonnaise. Then pile shells, as full as possible, with lemon juice cubes. Garnish with mayonnaise, which may be colored green with spinach juice or vegetable coloring, if desired. Decorate with mint sprigs, stuffed olive slices or pimiento. Serve very cold in lettuce cups.

SOUR MILK RECIPES.

Sour milk is a good food and should not be thrown away. Some of the best cooks go so far as to make milk sour for use in special dishes. Milk turns sour because of the action of lactic acid bacteria, but these are beneficial bacteria. They produce a soft curd in sour milk. This curd is easy to digest and is recommended by doctors.

French Curd.

French curd is uncooked curd or French cottage cheese. The sour milk is not heated, but is simply poured into earthenware molds with holes in the bottom to allow the whey to drip out. When the curd is sufficiently stiff it is chilled and served with sweet cream and sugar, and possibly fruits or preserves.

Sour Milk Cottage Cheese.

The ingredients are one quart freshly clabbered milk, one quart boiling water, salt and pepper. Pour the boiling water over the clabber, and let stand until the curd separates. Turn into a cheesecloth bag and let hang until the whey has drained off. Break the curd and moisten it with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Season to taste. Sweet or sour cream may be added for greater smoothness and better flavor.

Automobile Sales First Half of 1933 Best Since 1929

With dealers reporting the best June retail sales—75,541 units—since 1929, the Chevrolet Motor Company in the first six months this year accounted for more than 67 percent of its domestic quota of 150,000 cars for 1933, H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager announced today.

Retail deliveries reported by dealers for the first half totaled 301,952 new cars and trucks compared with 253,225 in the comparable period last year, Mr. Klingler stated.

Reported June sales showed 20 percent ahead of last June's total, even exceeding the 78,117 units sold in June, 1931, and the 73,750 sold in June of 1929.

Despite a slow start in the first quarter due to bank moratoria and generally unsettled conditions, the Chevrolet executive said that in the second quarter retail sales have shown a constantly growing gain over last year, the greatest margin of increase occurring in June with its 50 percent jump over June of last year.

While registrations for the first six months are not yet available, Mr. Klingler announced that for the year through May 31 his company had filled in the passenger car field, 175,000 units as compared with 167,000 for the next two leading makes combined, indicating a third successive year of leadership.

In four of the past six years and again so far in 1933, Chevrolet leads in sales. In 1932, Chevrolet was the first of the big three, although the country was suffering from the effects of the depression, that Chevrolet sales in June have gone ahead of May or April, normally the peak months of the Chevrolet year, Mr. Klingler stated. He added that the June mark was reached with no change in the condition of new car stocks in the field, and only a slight increase in used car stocks.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson

EVENTS OF IMPORTANCE HAVE MOVED RAPIDLY DURING RECENT MONTHS

"Something doing every minute" was a favorite lullaby expression for carnivals and similar entertainments. It is quite applicable to American life and particularly American farm life in recent months. For if there has been one thing more active in the last few months of the year, it is the change in the position of the farm.

From the moment the country went off the gold standard, things have been happening thick and fast. The Farm Credit Administration has been set up, and federal funds are being made available for refinancing farm mortgages at lower interest rates. This is a boon to farmers whose farms are mortgaged, but new loans should be made with caution.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile

Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

The Federal Government is moving rapidly to reduce surpluses of the principal farm crops, such as cotton, tobacco and wheat. Cotton and tobacco acreage reduction campaigns have just been conducted in Florida, as well as throughout the states producing these crops.

Federal authorities also are setting minimum prices at which some principal commodities can be sold, and are placing minimum wages scales and maximum working hours for labor.

The State Milk Control Board has set prices for milk and other dairy products. There is some agitation for a federal coordinator of the citrus industry. Coordinators, administrators and controllers of the order of the day in Washington are actually doing more with public funds than ever before.

Drastic measures have been necessary, but with business down and taking to an upswing, many of these goals would have been attained in the natural course of events, whether there was drastic action or inaction on the part of the government. And meantime a reaction against "much government" had set in almost certain to come in a few months of the year.

We doubt if there is a preacher in the country who exercises a greater moral influence than Dorothy Dix. Her advice is always sane and sound.

This flying time is all right for the other fellow, but your attitude toward it is the same as that of the paragon who declares that if a car is a plane accident it will be because the plane fell out of him.

We note a suggestion of $1.25 a bushel for wheat. If farmers really get that much for their wheat, many of them will die of broken hearts. They will have nothing to crouch about. This does not apply to Florida farmers who have no wheat to sell anyway, and who are usually a rather philosophical and cheerful lot.

Kidnaping and the semi-spectacular crime are much more common than the deliberately calculated act, while murders are in most instances actuated by sudden and uncontrollable impulses. It deserves capital punishment, and Florida is to be congratulated on taking the lead in fixing the death penalty for this sordid and indefensible crime.

Flying to the Century of Progress exposition from Rome in 24 planes carrying 96 flyers, crossing the ocean without loss of ship or man, was a great event in the history of world aviation. It should cause some slight revision of opinion among the many in this country who think that the only civilized Italians are those who run fruit stands or operate hand-organs.

According to a Tallahassee dispatch the taxpayers are threatened with an additional levy for 1933, to raise some $600,000, most of which would be for the purpose of pensions. Is it possible that our old soldiers are multiplying so rapidly that it could require half a million dollars more to maintain them this year than last year or the year before?

As the average plane develops it looks like all workers will be assured of fair wage—except in the most important industry we have—the education of youth. Teachers of the country continue to be underpaid, or what is more commonly the case, not paid at all. The educational industry needs a co-ordinator, or dictator, or whatever is necessary to give its workers a fair deal.

There are a lot of things being done to improve conditions and bring about better times which the average man finds it difficult to grasp. Some of these things are largely experimental, and there are those who doubt their efficacy. We elect to believe that in the main the general plan will work out as intended, and that the country will soon feel satisfying results. Already there are definite and unmistakable signs of general improvement.

Strikes in North Carolina, New York and other industrial areas. Common laborers on a bridge being constructed at New Orleans, demand an increase from 25 to 60 cents an hour. About the first thing some people who have been complaining about unemployment think of when they get a job is to strike. It is a bad time for such action, now when the government is making every effort to establish fair wages for all workers.

It is a small and obscure business indeed that is not asking for some of the money Uncle Sam is dishing out. The Florida frogging industry thought it could use a Federal loan for "expansion," but the government said nay, and the business will have to hop along on the same old legs. So far there has been no report of an application for the rattlesnake industry for funds to aid the production and processing of bigger and better rattlers; but that may come.

THE LESSON OF VACATION TIME

The results of Tuesday's election in Alabama and Arkansas, regarded as strongholds of dry sentiment, seem to settle the fact that repeal of the 18th amendment is inevitable. This is not to be construed as meaning that sentiment in favor of temperance has waned; it simply indicates that many who favored prohibition feel that a mistake was made in the method by which it was hoped temperance might be brought about. Being convinced that the plan tried was a mistake, they feel that it is useless to attempt to perpetuate that mistake and that some other plan should be tried. Not all prohibitionists are temperate, nor are all who favor repeal sots or products of the slums. Those who think prohibition the only way to bring about temperance, and those who believe that perhaps there may be a better way, should get together, without rancor, but in a spirit of tolerance and co-operation, and endeavor to reduce the liquor evil to a minimum. After all, the surest way to correct an evil is through education rather than legislation.

State Press Comment

TAX CUTTING IS DIFFICULT.
Writing in the current issue of "The National Municipal Review," Governor Ritchie of Maryland says: "There is no royal road to lower taxes. It does no good to reduce one kind of taxation and increase another kind or add a new kind. The only way to really lower taxes is to spend less money. In accomplishing this it is important that state and local governments act wisely and not recklessly and unintelligently. It is easy to carry governmental economy to the extreme, and perhaps easier still not to carry it far enough. The middle course is a wise, sensible discriminatory approach, and that I believe will be best for the public good in the long run."

Maryland's leaders asks no lessening of the popular demand for economy in government but admits that retrenchment in governmental expenditures is no easy matter, due to the fact that there are but few curtailments for which the people would stand.

In the same issue of the magazine, Gov. Ely of Massachusetts asserts it is impossible to administer a state strictly as a business, as political "considerations" are human and make impossible cold analysis of the business of government. Further economies in his commonwealth are not to be expected in any volume unless a violent mass of public opinion should demand the cutting of some functions which the government now performs.

What these two governors say is true. It is most difficult to reduce expenses of government, as the people and certain interests insist on a host of items being maintained in the budgets. We can very well make up our mind to pay taxes, of some form or other, at the rate of an average total of $80 per person per year. The average has been quite a little above that figure. It is not going much below it. A nation containing a lot of tax dodgers is not going to make it easier for President Roosevelt and the governors and legislators of 48 states to do their best part in restoring the country back up to the level of "normal good times."—Live Oak Democrat.

JUSTICE IN EUROPE AND AMERICA.

About a year ago the English government sent a titled gentleman, worth millions of pounds, to prison for several years for falsifying the books of the shipping concern of which he was the head. Then France benched a young scion of an old wealthy and aristocratic family for killing a man. Now Spain sends its wealthiest citizen, the Don Juan March Ordinas, to prison for a year for trying to bribe the Premier Primo de Rivera to obtain the Moroccan tobacco monopoly. Senior Ordinas spent many thousands employing the best counsel in the land and put up a great fight for acquittal, but the Spanish court sent him to prison just the same. Now will anyone in the United States ever again sneer at the British, the French or the Spanish and their courts and forms of justice when they handle matters as efficiently and expeditiously as that in connection with what Messrs. Morgan, Kahn and Mitchell have been able to get away with? Not to mention Bro. Sam Insull and others of their stripe? We think it's about time for us to quit acting superior and begin eating humble pie.—Winter Haven Chief.

Roosevelt is fit, his physician states, which makes all Americans feel good. They don't want their vigorous and energetic President feeling any ill effects from the full program of hard work which lies before him during this year of economic recovery.—Winter Haven Chief.

SALES TAX COMING.

At last we have to admit it. A sales tax is coming but we have already become reconciled to the idea so will live in spite of the shock. It seems this Fitch bill has proven to be the final straw that broke the camel's back and the whole tax collecting system. Thank Heavens, Governor Dave Sholtz will put off the evil day as long as possible. Maybe the time will not come until 1934 when we hope it may be possible to elect a whole legislature full of sober business men, with a modicum of lawyers. After all, our main objection to any form of sales tax has always been that it is so easily collected and continually increased that it leads to waste and extravagance. Now the trend seems the other way. Budget commissions and poor collections, the Fitch bill and hard times generally have cut down the amount available to be spent for governmental expenses so low that it looks like the professional politician will have to get along on what the rest of us mortals have become content with or take scrip.—Haines City Herald.

ALABAMA AND ARKANSAS JOIN PARADE.

Nobody need be surprised over the results of the prohibition elections yesterday in Alabama and Arkansas. These were forecast by all the signs.

Lamenters attached because they were the first South to vote on the question of repeal. The majority voted up there leaving no doubt about the likelihood of similar action in due course throughout the rest of the South.

The Democratic party platform makers at Chicago, it now clearly appears, correctly gauged public sentiment when they issued a fortnight repeat plank.

The voice of Alabama and Arkansas made a pleasing sound to President Roosevelt and his clever political adviser, Postmaster General Farley.—Tampa Times.

At a recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club one of the speakers brought up the subject of business ethics. If you do not know the meaning of that term, it might be stated that it is nothing more or less than a code of fair dealing with each other, as well as the general public. There is no one thing which will go a greater distance toward the building or killing of a town than the business ethics thereof. If there is a prevailing disposition among business men to take unfair advantages of each other in more ways than one, it must of necessity and of habit, gradually extend to the customer, and away goes your business to the outside world. This writer has always contended that the real competition in business is not among local citizens, and that they often pay too much attention to that, while outside interests walk off with the business at better prices while the local interests are paying too much attention to local competition, in place of more attention to better service and better quality of merchandise. A general poor code of business ethics in any town will not attract to or retain, individuals who are not built that way. No town is any better than its business ethics. This item does not mean to charge that poor business ethics prevail here, but rather to suggest it is an important subject, and one to be kept in mind at all times, so that such a situation if not existing may not develop.—Inverness Chronicle.

TEACHER QUALIFICATIONS

"They laughed when we put that 3.2 here question in a recent questionnaire sent to teachers," said a Volusia county school board member who likes his laugh last. "But look what the state has done. It has prohibited every bus driver from smoking, as well as demanding that he be a total abstainer. And here's something else, few people know: The state asks every applicant whether she dances or plays cards." Looks as if two years of residence in the state is only the first step toward getting a school job. After that you must qualify as an angel or a liar.—Miami Daily News.

The cheap excursion trains being offered by railroads these days are certainly popularizing that form of transportation. Many people are riding on railroads who haven't been on them in six or eight years.—Ocala Banner.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma

J. David Stern, Publisher of The Philadelphia Record, says:

"Advertising is becoming more intelligent. During the past thirty years there has been a constant rise in the level of advertising appeal. Not only are the large advertising agencies which prepare the big national campaigns employing better talent to design and write the advertising, but they are attuning their copy to a more intelligent audience.

"The day is past of flamboyant, balhyloo advertising with crude illustrations and absurdly superlative claims.

"Up to date advertising is the logical argument of an intelligent salesman addressing intelligent prospects.

"Advertisers have abandoned the idea of editing their copy down to the masses. As a result American advertising has become one of the greatest educational and cultural forces in our social organization. It has changed our diet, telling us what food to eat, and when, and how to prepare it. It has changed our home life by introducing a multitude of labor-saving devices which lighten the drudgery of housework. It has influenced our styles of architecture, and the materials with which we build our homes; the way we dress, the shoes we wear, the books and magazines we read. It has incited laws of health and hygiene, standards of personal cleanliness. From baby's food to burial plots, the whole course of our lives has been influenced tremendously by advertising, which has become more forceful as it has become more intelligent.

"Future historians tracing the trend of our civilization will recognize the great influence of advertising upon our customs, styles and ideas. It has speeded up the development of our nation. What is more important, it has knit together the nation by making the development uniform throughout the land."

FUTCH BILL AT SUPREME COURT

Arguments On Three Cases Affecting Tax Payments To Be Heard Today

The Florida News and Economic Service of St. Petersburg is responsible for the following information on the Futch Bill which is causing more worry to those interested in county affairs than any other bill passed by the last legislature:

"The Futch Bill continues to be the focal point of activity financially, politically and legally, in the Florida tax and bond situation. This law puts a five year moratorium on the sale of tax certificates and allows the use of bonds in paying delinquent taxes. The law is under attack in lower courts and in the Supreme Court on every possible angle. Answer on one suit in the Supreme Court was filed July 11th, another July 12th. July 21st has been set as date for arguments on all three cases before the Supreme Court.

"In the meantime the widest possible variety of procedures exists throughout the state. The following are cited as examples and not as a census of all action being taken. Sarasota was halted from taking bonds by Supreme Court injunction. A temporary injunction by Circuit Judge stopped the acceptance in Palm Beach county of Okaloosa Flood Control District, of anything but cash. Mandamus suit in Circuit Court would compel bonds for taxes in Broward county. "John B. Sutton, Hillsborough county attorney, rules nothing but cash for Interbay Drainage District taxes. Circuit Court rules that Pahokee and Pelican Lake Drainage Districts can take bonds for taxes. All three districts are in receivership. DeSoto county votes to take bonds for taxes and Lake county votes not to. Judge Pette-way in Hillsborough county, orders the clerk not to take bonds for taxes and Judge Whitehead in Charlotte county orders just the reverse.

"It seems beyond reasonable doubt that the Supreme Court will declare this law invalid, although it may not be to that part of the law stopping the sale of tax certificates for five years, in view of the fact that in its decision on the 1929 tax certificate foreclosure law the Supreme Court ruled that tax certificates are the property of the state and it can dispose of them as it sees fit.

Futch On Futch.

"T. G. Futch, Senator from the twenty-third district and President of the 1933 Senate, sponsor but not author of the Futch Bill, says: "Attack and turmoil as to Futch Law due to the bondholder propaganda."

"This is probably partly correct, but it is obvious that utmost confusion and serious damage to tax collections will continue until the law is clarified or set aside."

Effort Being Made To Retain Florida's Mail Passenger Line

Orlando, July 19.—Mayor S. Y. May called a meeting of civic leaders and aviation officials and enthusiasts from central and western Florida, to formulate plans for the retention of Florida's cross-state air mail and passenger line. The Federal government is contemplating a $2,500,000 reduction in expenditures for air lines, and it is believed inevitable that this Florida line will be eliminated unless forceful efforts are made to have it retained.

Major A. B. McMullen, director of the aviation bureau of the state road department was elected chairman of a committee and was authorized to select three other members, who will go to Washington and present the case to Federal officials in an effort to prevent the government from discontinuing the line, which serves Florida cities from St. Petersburg, via Orlando and other cities enroute, to Daytona. Twelve cities are directly affected, and participated in the meeting and formulation of the plans. Business men and citrus growers asserted that the plan to discontinue the air service would be of great disadvantage and prove costly to business along the air mail route.

College Scholarship Given 4-H Girl For Fine Poultry Work

Tallahassee, July 19.—Miss Jane Turk of Valrico, Hillsborough county, has just been chosen as the outstanding Florida 4-H club girl in poultry work in 1932, and is awarded a $300 educational scholarship given by the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, according to an announcement by the State Home Demonstration Department. Miss Turk is 15 years old, in the eighth grade in school, and has had three years of poultry club work under the direction of Miss Allie Lee Rush, home demonstration agent at Tampa. She was selected for the award by N. R. Mehrlhof, extension poultryman, and Miss Flavia Gleason, state home demonstration agent.

Miss Turk devotes her energies entirely to raising fryers, and has made a remarkable success. She buys all her chicks and feed, raises the chicks on wire and practices other sanitary measures to prevent diseases and parasites. She keeps complete and accurate records, and has thoroughly acquainted herself with poultry and poultry raising.

Already she has $250 in the bank and she is steadily adding to her funds, with which she expects to help pay her way through college. The award to Miss Turk brings recognition to the outstanding poultry club work being done in western Hillsborough by Miss Rush and her poultry club members.

Coming to New Circle Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 27, 28 and 29. Matinee, Saturday, 3:30.

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

EVERY FIBER EVERY CORD EVERY PLY IS BLOWOUT PROTECTED BY Gum-Dipping

BLOWOUTS are caused by frictional heat generated in the fibers of the cotton cords in a tire. Firestone is the only tire built with every cotton fiber saturated and coated with pure rubber—to prevent destructive heat. This is one of the reasons why Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the 500 mile Indianapolis Race for 14 consecutive years—the world's most severe blowout test.

Rubber has gone up 242%, cotton 115%—substantial tire price increases must follow. We will give you an attractive allowance for your old tires on new Firestone High Speed Tires.
