LAKE SEBRING IS SITE CHOSEN FOR NEW C.C.C. CAMP

Plan Reforestation Work With Unit of 200 Men in County

The Lake Sebring Casino was definitely decided upon as the site for the new Civilian Conservation Corps camp late Tuesday evening by Major David W. Craig and Major J. A. Sheridan sent to Sebring for the purpose of locating the project.

The two officers from Fort Screven arrived in Sebring Tuesday morning accompanied by C. H. Schaeffer of Plant City, District Forester.

A force of approximately 200 men will comprise the unit, Major Sheridan stated. This may be composed either of 150 or more men already enrolled in the corps and awaiting instruction at Fort Benning or Fort Screven, Ga., or there is a possibility the full two hundred men will be sent here from the army camps.

In the event the full quota is not sent here to report, the remainder will be recruited from this territory, Sheridan stated.

In either case, there will also be a staff supplement of 15 regular army men sent here and 15 foresters. The former will proceed to train the arrivals in military discipline as practiced at army camps, the latter will serve as instructors in the work which the force is to accomplish.

The casino building will serve as staff headquarters, with the men to be housed in tents. Sheridan stated. Construction of other buildings will probably also be arranged for by the corps.

The work to be done will consist of the construction of fire breaks in the forests and also the construction of highways for the forest fire trucks which are to serve in protecting the project.

Announcement of the selection of the Lake Sebring site set at rest rumors that the camp was to be located in Highlands Hammock. No work is contemplated in the Hammock according to the officers.

The camp is one of 12 such to be constructed in the country and is one of the plans put into operation by President Roosevelt.

It is also understood that the planting of trees will be done by the corps, under the direction and supervision of the 15 foresters who will become a part of the unit.

Issuing New Time Warrants To Care For Indebtedness

Issuance of new time warrants to take care of outstanding indebtedness, mostly pertaining to the Fine and Forfeiture Fund, required the efforts of County Attorney T. A. McNicholas and Chairman John Hood assisted by Clerk of the board, N. H. Trent, for the greater part of Wednesday.

The warrants take the place of certain promissory notes which the county has been issuing when it has been unable to pay the various fee officers in full.

As a result of the Race Track Fund, all outstanding time warrants issued in 1931 are being retired. Holders of these are requested to get in touch with Trent in order that they may be taken care of promptly.

Sheriff Schumacher, County Judge Whitehurst, County Attorney T. A. McNicholas and former Sheriff Oscar Wolf, are the biggest creditors, all being paid out of the Fine and Forfeiture Fund which has been a consistent source of trouble to the commissioners for several years past.

BEACH NAMED DIRECTOR OF NEW MARKET PLAN

National F. O. B. Auction Plan Advocated By Beach Deputed To Receive Trial

With the incorporation of the Farmers' Market System, Inc., the F. O. B. Auction plan of marketing, advocated for some time by Rex Beach, Avon Park farmer, seems destined to receive a trial in Florida.

A committee of growers, shippers and packers was organized at a recent Orlando meeting to investigate the newly formed corporation which will operate a selling system with wire and telegraph throughout the nation to dispose of fruits and vegetables in all the large markets, the shipments to be offered simultaneously for sale. P. O. B. shipping point in approximately 60 cities on the guarantee of a Government inspection certificate.

The payment for the plan is to be made in cash by the buyer, which is turned over to the shipper less a 7 1/2 percent selling charge, according to announcement of the company.

Operations are not to begin until an expression of opinion is received from a considerable number of growers and shippers in the local area, according to their statement, and in order to secure this, a questionnaire is being sent to many in which they are asked to express their views.

The committee named to investigate the corporation is composed of Mr. Beach, T. S. Carpenter, Jr., of Orlando, and regional auditors, Mr. C. H. Brown, of Glenside, Mr. D. Randall, of Winter Park, Mr. E. Sexton, of Vero Beach, J. M. Tillman, of Lake Wales, F. E. Parks, of Orlando, and A. E. Pickard, of Orlando.

A mass meeting of growers and shippers has been called for June 13th at Orlando municipal auditorium for the purpose of completing the selling system. It will begin at 9:30. All interested parties have been asked to attend.

Beach's complete marketing plan was published in the Times some time ago, as outlined before a meeting of the Florida Citrus exchange and the Florida Citrus exchange. Copies of the issue were sent all over the country and the plan was received with unbounded enthusiasm and marked endorsement.

The Farmers' Market System, Inc., and its leadership have been very favorably by the Better Business Bureau of New York.

COUNTY AGENT MAKES REPORT FOR LAST MONTH

Alsymeyer Points To Work Among Both Citrus and Truck Growers

The following report of County Agent Louis Alsymeyer relates in part what has been accomplished by his department during the past month:

"These beef cutting and canning demonstrations which are planned for the coming fall will be held in the various sections of the county and be conducted by our beef cutters, W. J. Shelly and our food conservators, Miss Leabie He Thursty. The places for three of these demonstrations have already been selected and the fall will be showing much interest in same."

"Have been devoting much time towards helping growers to secure crop production loans from the Federal Agricultural Credit Corporation and giving them much information regarding the loans possible through the Federal Land Bank. Growers much interested in the latter and have asked that county agent handle this for them as they are unable to get the money at present hinges quite largely on the valuations placed on citrus groves and thus their loan value."

"Our fertilizer association bought three carloads of South American bird guano and delivered it to our members at $30.00 per ton f. o. b. Sebring. The result of the sale was $1,500.00. The lowest price of the guano at $10.00 per ton. One car was delivered in May and the other two will be delivered the first week of June of total tonnage of 78 tons. A very conservative figure as to the savings to growers the result of this deal is $400.00. Our association also bought a car of bulk sulphate of ammonia of 22 tons with saving to growers of $1,150 per ton."

"Four carloads of ground agricultural limestone was secured for Avon Park growers with a total saving to growers of $1,500.00. In addition to this there was a saving made by getting a proper freight rebate on the limestone."

"Secured the donation of a carload of 41 tons of ground phosphate from the American Syngamit company to be used for the purpose of giving the growers a chance to see the results of this material was distributed to the various growers and home gardens in the county. This material was needed by them and would have cost them $120.00 if this donation had not been secured. The results of this work will be shown by the increased acreage of truck lands which have been sweetened."

"Held our annual citrus meetings on May 17th and growers appreciated the information secured at Sebring. The meeting was held at the Delbak and Clayton. The attendance was not as large as last year but the group this year was made up of mainly growers who had not attended previous meetings."

"Held three canning demonstrations through wonderful assistance of Miss Thursty. People are becoming more canning minded and since then have asked for more canning demonstrations. One party who attended the demonstrations reported that she has canned 42 cans of beef, 22 of soup, 7 of chicken, and 18 of hubbards. Since the demonstrations there have been 14 calls for canning bulletins and 10 of them have not attended the demonstrations."

"Secured 150 pineapple plants with fruit which were dug and sent to the fair at Chicago. The fruit will be on the fruiting plants to be sent up there and should attract much attention to our subtropical climate."

Arbuckle Creek Being Cleaned

Highlands and Polk Counties Co-operating With Relief Crews

There has been considerable discussion regarding the cleaning out of Arbuckle creek, making it navigable for small boats. The work is being done by the relief committees of both Highlands and Polk counties and the creek was cleaned out at its source in order to clear out numerous logs at the north end. Complaint was made that thousands of fish were killed on the creek by the low water and a meeting was held here Monday night to discuss the matter.

Highlands and Polk counties were both represented at this meeting and it was decided to grant a permit to establish a trust line highway through this section of the country. We have completed our construction program for the improvement of this highway, however, it is all to be constructed with the exception of a few miscellaneous projects which have been constructed by the State Road Department. This, no doubt, will extend over a period of years, the progress of which will be controlled entirely by the available funds.

We are at the present time making surveys to determine the sections that should be improved with the first available funds. These projects will be taken up in the order of their importance to the traffic as fast as funds are available.

Sale of $8,000 worth of collateral will cancel all county deposits which were in the Highlands County Bank of Sebring at the time of the moratorium, according to a resolution passed by the board of county commissioners in regular session Tuesday.

The county had $2,262.50 on deposit in the financial institution at the time of its close, and had $8,000 worth of collateral posted as security with the bank.

The security was composed of six $500 Highlands county six percent bonds or a total of $3,000 and five $1,000 Special Tax School District bonds, totaling $8,000 or a combined total of $8,000.

The resolution accepted the bonds and cancels the deposit. The debt is accepted by both the bank and the county.

ASSOCIATION ON FEDERAL ROAD HERE IS FORMED

Dr. Davison Named Official; Surveying Has Already Started

Formation of a Federal Highway Association of the Sevier Highlands county was effected at an informal meeting at Lake Wales Tuesday night which was attended by Dr. W. A. Davison, Mayor M. E. Covington and County Commissioner John Hood. Dr. Davison was named vice-president of the association and will head a committee from this community to further the Federal highway project.

Survey work has already started and according to C. B. Treadway, chairman of the state road department the work will be pushed as fast as funds are available. The road starts at Leesburg and passes through Avon Park on south to Miami.

A recent letter from Mr. Treadway setting forth the tentative program for the road reads as follows:

May 31, 1933.
Lake Wales Chamber of Commerce, Lake Wales, Florida. Gentlemen:

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 27 in regard to State Road 8. With respect to that we have recently had an extension to our Federal System, which begins at Leesburg, crossing Road 17 somewhere in the vicinity of Haines City, extending down the ridge section of the county of Road 8, south via Avon Park, Sebring, Lake Wales, Moore Haven, Clewiston, south to Miami.

This road is a continuation of Road 2 from the Georgia State line through Lake City, Ocala, Leesburg continuing south through the central or ridge section of the state to the lake region and terminating in Miami.

We consider this addition a great step in establishing a trunk line highway through this section of the country. We have completed our construction program for the improvement of this highway, however, it is all to be constructed with the exception of a few miscellaneous projects which have been constructed by the State Road Department. This, no doubt, will extend over a period of years, the progress of which will be controlled entirely by the available funds.

We are at the present time making surveys to determine the sections that should be improved with the first available funds. These projects will be taken up in the order of their importance to the traffic as fast as funds are available.

Yours truly,
C. B. TREADWAY,
Chairman State Road Department

MONEY RECEIVED FROM RACE FUND IS DISTRIBUTED

Fund of $10,461.21 Received As Highlands Share of Proceeds

Allocation of the $10,461.21 received from Comptroller Lee at this county's share of the race track fund was completed by the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday by resolution.

"That the money was welcomed by the commissioners, there was no doubt and it took only a few minutes for the board to find numerous places where a 'thousand or two' would do no harm."

It was decided that $2,000 of the money be given the General Revenue Fund; that $4,000 go to the General Road Fund to be apportioned among the five districts, in other words, $800 for each commissioner's district; that $250 be given to the deserving agriculture fund; that $2,800 be placed in the Warrant Fund and used for the retirement of those outstanding warrants issued in 1931.

The balance of the $10,461.20 which to be exact was $11,161.30 will be placed in a Race Tr. Fund subject to the further needs and orders of the budget.

The resolution allocating the money was offered by Commissioner Spomer and seconded by Commissioner Hope. It passed unanimously.

Things That Every Bride Should Know About Cookery Terms' Meanings

GOOD recipes banish brides' blunders—if said coloring happens to be occasioned by a lack of cooking knowledge. But before she who reads may learn, to paraphrase an axiom seldom repeated, the beginning cook has to know what it is all about. What do the terms, these cookery terms used so nonchalantly by the cook books and food news columns (like this one)? What are these directions so blithely set down?

Since ignorance rapidly ceases to be bliss and "double meanings" have no punster's humor when it comes to reading recipes, learn the terms before you start to wield a spoon. Here are some of the most common ones, together with easy recipes to illustrate.

Be A Ruffian

"Folding in," a term frequently used, means that the cook must be as light-fingered as a lady Ruffian. Folding in means a gentle mixing of ingredients, with as few and light strokes as possible. You fold in egg whites often, that is gently stroking them in, not vigorously beating. Use this method in the following delicious dessert:

Peach Mousse

1 cup mashed peaches
3/4 cup sugar
3 tbsps. maple karo
Salt
1 tsp. gelatine
1 tbsps. water
Almond extract
1/2 pt. cream

Peel and mash peaches (fresh or canned). Add sugar, gmo water, salt. Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add almond extract and gelatine to peach mixture. Beat cream until stiff. Then fold into the peach mixture gradually. Put in refrigerator trays or pack in ice and salt and chill three hours. Serve with nabobs or vanilla wafers.

"To dress" sometimes means to clean and prepare for cooking, but it is best to fold in the oil or mayonnaise that completes the dish, as a salad. "Fossing" sounds like a game—and so it is. "To toss the greens" for salad, you simply turn and overturn them lightly with a fork in either hand, until every bit of the salad is covered with dressing. Practice both methods in this salad recipe:

Oscar of Waldorf Salad.
Dice two cored and quartered red apples (peel if skin is not tender) in a large bowl; add to them 1/4 cup broken nuts, 1/4 cup diced celery and 1/4 pkgt. pasteurized dates (lemon). Dress with a mixture of lemon juice and mayonnaise, using a fork and a wooden spoon. Then toss until mixed. Serve in mounds on lettuce and dress each serving with a little mayonnaise or cream salad dressing. Serve with butter wafers.

All the old hands know what "to mean," but dependable authorities vouch for the truth of the story of the bride who sewed up her chicken with strong white thread under the impression she was "basting it" and wondered why it came out dry and tasteless! Basting simply means dipping liquid on food while cooking—syrup on fruits, for instance, and meats with drippings. If your roast has not sufficient fat of its own, add some mackerel for basting, and if it is too dry, add some hot water.

"Until it coats the spoon" is a common phrase in boiled cream or custard recipes, for that's how you tell when it is done. The cream will cover the spoon with a film that does not run off when spoon is taken out. Use this test for:

Fruit-Nut Custard Sauce.
1 1/2 cups scaled milk
3 egg yolks
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/4 pkgt. pasteurized dates
1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Beat eggs slightly, add sugar; add scaled milk slowly. Cook in double boiler, continue stirring until mixture thickens and coats the spoon. Add the vanilla (or use cooking sherry) dates and nuts.

Every cook must learn to cut-up, no matter how sober her nature. Different degrees of cutting up and the use of different utensils are implied in the following terms: to mince; to shred; to crumble; to chop; and to grate. You usually crumble cracker in boiled cream or custard, but it is best to roll the vanilla wafers with your rolling pin for the following:

Peach Icebox Pie.
1 pkgt. orange gelatine
30 small vanilla wafers
2 cups sliced peaches
1/2 cup sweetened whipped cream

Roll wafers and line buttered pie plate with the crumbs. Prepare gelatine. When beginning to set, pour into crumb-lined plate, chill. Add peaches and cream.

Scary Mothers

There are many mothers in this world of ours who seem to forget how eager they were to play when they were young.

Boys of 12, 13 or 14 who are anxious to join some organization like the boy scouts often report in a shame-faced way that their mothers will not let them join.

In plain words, mothers are fearful of camping trips, nights in the open and all those things that go to make boy life so enjoyable. They keep their boy from joining his local troop until he is 15 or 16 years of age—and by that time he probably does not want to join.

Mothers forget that accidents among the boy scouts while engaged in their properly supervised scout activities are few and far between. They forget that accidents on city streets during vacation months and over week-ends are many and serious. In other words, in their fearfulness they keep their boys at home where they are danger rather than allowing them to go out in the fresh air where they are properly supervised.

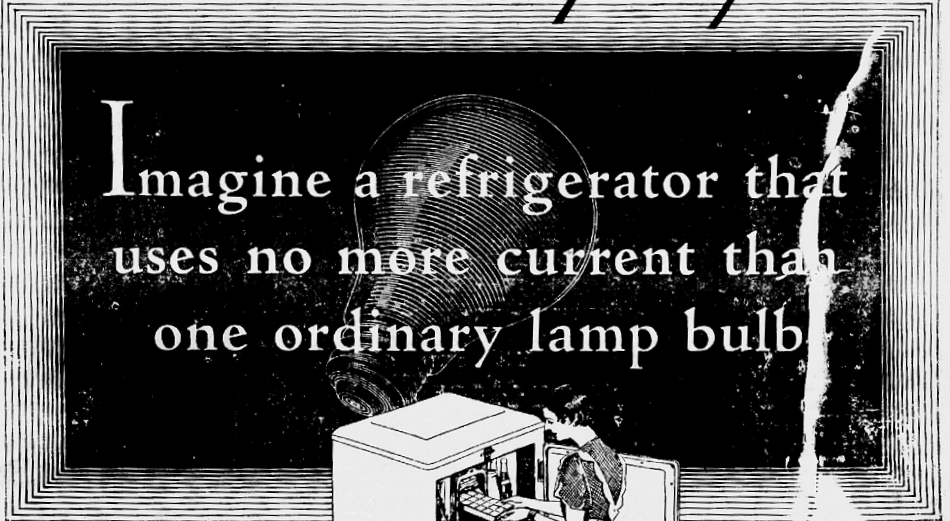

This fondness on the part of mothers causes them to seriously handicap their boys. Boy scouts play all of the games that other boys play, but they do many things that other boys never learn to do. Furthermore, the young business men of today are largely the boys of 15 or 20 years ago who were scouts. More and more the question is being asked applicants for positions "Are you a boy scout?" The answer has much to do with whether or not the position is obtained.

Do not be a stumbling block to your boy.

We'd be kinder tickled if the government should suspect us of being a gold hoarder.

Viewed in the light of recent developments William J. Bryan takes on the aspects of an ultra conservative.

Five, ten, fifteen, twenty, is not the promised "$5 for small cars and $10 for large ones"—but it's a help, and the motorists are thankful for that much relief.

You might as well begin to think up reasons for liking the idea of a sales tax in Florida. The trend of things seems to indicate that its coming is inevitable.

The Governor came out of the trying legislative session with credit, all things considered. He wasn't able to fulfill all the promises he made, but he handled a difficult situation with courage and ability.

With the experiences we have had in making loans to other nations, we let China have fifty millions the other day. Uncle Sam is a benevolent old sucker—more so, it seems in dealing with foreign countries than with his own people.

If the schools and the tax questions had been given the same time and attention in the legislative session as the beauty parlors, perhaps the accomplishments of the legislators would have been more satisfactory to the people. Not, of course, that we would intimate that schools or taxes are as important as beauty parlors.

Frankly we do not know whether the Governor's debt funding bill would have worked out to the best interests of the people or adversely. But Speaker Tomasello killed it with his little vote, and that act may help him to further political honors. It is not unlikely that the "House of Tomasello" will figure further in Florida politics.

Travel the world over and you will find no more beautiful girls than we have right here in Florida. We are reminded of this by the pictures of eight young ladies shown in the beauty section of the University of Florida's year book. And there are probably eight hundred others in the State as beautiful as these eight, though we wouldn't tell the latter so.

If the legislature had worked as hard in the beginning of the session as it did in its two or three closing days, it would have completed its work. As it stands, however, it seems likely that an extra session will have to be called within the next few months to consider urgent matters that were neglected and that must be disposed of. Which means more trouble and needless expense.

Two young gentlemen who by virtue of their birth had claims to different thrones—or thought they had—renounced them during the past week to marry for love. The right girl is worth junking claims to any old throne that was ever built. Of course, the chances for these princes ever to occupy the throne of Spain or that of Germany were remote—but the renunciation on the part of each of these presumptive claimants was a fine gesture, nevertheless. The world loves such lovers.

Those innumerable automobile accidents that were to clutter up the roads with dead and dying as soon as beer was legalized seem not to have materialized. The only tragedy that may be directly traced to this cause was due to a college professor—perhaps an enthusiastic "dry"—turning his car out of its line of traffic and crashing into an oncoming beer truck. Of course, if beer had not been legalized, the beer truck would not have been there, and if it had not been there the accident would not have happened.

We can excuse much in the way of commission and of omission on the part of the Legislature. To get the varied opinions of a hundred or more men harmonized and crystallized into definite action is not as simple as it may seem to those unacquainted with legislative procedure. But there is one thing for which there is absolutely no excuse or extenuation, and that is the graft connected with hiring of employees or attaches. This evil seems to develop greater proportions at every session, and the people want to know if, in Heaven's name, there isn't some way to check it. It was thought the peak in scandalous expenditures of this nature had been reached in the 1931 term, but this "economy" session, it is said, went its predecessor $10,000 better, reaching a new high. This is one of those flagrant grafts of which the people say, "it is not the amount involved, but the principle of the thing"—and it is making the people mighty tired.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

And so the curtain drops on the Florida Legislature for 1932. It was some show, 60 big days and 90 big nights. Florida's great public benefit entertainment, with a cast of over three hundred and more than two thousand actors.

We hope you liked it and if anyone is dissatisfied you might step up to the box-office and try to get your money back. The customary concert after the big show will not be held, in spite of the fact that some of the best acts were not presented. But it is expected by many that the same cast will stage a return engagement in Tallahassee next fall.

The understanding was that we would get relief at this session. Well, now that it's all over there seems to be some difference of opinion on that score. But the fact that it's over is relief enough for most folks. You sent 60 lawyers to the legislature to look after your interests. However, the private eye grinders and twice that many and they paid 'em a lot more than you paid yours. So considerin' what your boys were up against, maybe they didn't do so bad after all. They had the odds against 'em most of the time and if you think it's an easy job to buck the legal talent of the lobby you just don't know.

And when the boys come home and start tellin' you about how they got this and that bill through, don't believe a word of it. No one guy ever got a bill through all by himself. He might draw it, or introduce it, or sponsor it, or somethin'; but it's always a couple of other guys that really put it through.

During every legislative session Tallahassee is filled with professional "bill-put-throughers." Without 'em, you haven't got a chance. They'll fix anything, anytime, at any price. They know everybody and everything and are broken out all over with political influence.

If you even look like you got a doubt in your mind they'll grab you by the arm and drag you 'round the lobby slappin' backs and shakin' hands like it was old home week or somethin'. Every bird they meet is "my pal." If you like heloney and banana oil you'll sure have a grand and glorious time up here. And you can enjoy the gum shoe dancin' and pussy-footin' at the same time.

Just for fun I thought I'd try and get the low-down on who was really responsible for a certain piece of legislation that went through last week, so I put on my best country-boy expression and began askin' about it.

Five Senators, eleven Representatives, nine "bill-put-throughers," four attaches and one janitor all took individual "cross my heart and hope to die" credit for it. But wait, you ain't heard nothin' yet, when the bell-shop brought my ice water that night he took time out while I was huntin' for the dime, to explain how if it hadn't been for his personal influence with legislator So and So it would have been just too bad.

So if it happens you get fed up on jig-saw puzzles you might want to help during a session and see if you can figure out who it really is that kills cockroaches.

Of course I don't know anything about it, but I got a funny hunch that if you got right down to the bottom of things you'd find that if it really is it is a bird or two up here with enough on the ball to really put a bill through all by himself, he'd be the last guy in the world to tell anybody about it.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma

Charles A. Guy, Publisher of The Lubbock (Texas) Morning Avalanche and Evening Journal, says: "That the classic sign 'Don't shoot the professor. He's doing the best he can,' which hung over the piano in the wild-west dance hall of a generation ago, has its theoretical replica in the problems of today. It should now be changed to read 'Don't raise hob with the honest, conscientious, capable public official. He's trying to get a hard job done.'"

Ragged nerves, growing out of troublous times, have formed widespread dissatisfaction everywhere in this land of ours. This dissatisfaction encompasses both private and public business but because the average man has no one to criticize, save the public officials whom he had a hand in electing, he turns upon them with savage glee. The first public servant who comes within his line of vision becomes his target; he scratches and claws, regardless of personalities.

For the lazy, shiftless, incapable or grating public official, no decent man has sympathy. But for the honest, efficient and hardworking fellow in public post, all men should have respect and admiration.

Let's not shoot until we see the whites of their eyes—the "whites of their eyes" in this case meaning their trifling with public trust.

There is a long way to hoe before equilibrium can come in the channels of both private and public business. There are few enough good servants as it is, without our going out of our way to force into retirement any of that slim number.

"Don't shoot the professor" is always good advice. AND IN TIMES LIKE THESE, IT'S BETTER THAN EVER!

SCENES AT FASTEST 500-MILE RACE in WORLD HISTORY

The 21st International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis May 30, fastest and most thrilling 500 mile automobile race in world history, brought the highest honor of racing to Louis Meyer, winner in 1928 and the only one except Tomp Milton to win the great race twice. He was driving the Tydol Special.

The race set the amazing record of 104.162 miles per hour average, despite the fact that the cars carried two men and were limited to 15 gallons gasoline carrying, necessitating several stops. This average required terrific speeds on parts of the 2 1/2 mile oval—speeds that are said to go as high as 170 miles per hour.

"The fact that I had no tire trouble enabled me to set the new speed record," Louis Meyer said at the close of the race. "I want to express my appreciation for the building of tires that stand up under the terrific punishment." He was using tires built by Firestone—which were equipment chosen by all of those who placed in this race, and have been on the winning cars for 14 years.

At the Speedway the "pits" where the cars are serviced are a center of activity and interest. The lower picture is a pit scene before the race showing tires being mounted on one of the five Studebakers—three of which finished in the money with the other two close behind. Firestone engineers see that the tires are properly mounted on the wheels, ready to withstand the burning speeds, the grinding curves, and the hours of relentless pounding over the brick track under the blazing sun—supreme tests of safety and endurance which have made better tires available to all motorists.

THE LEGISLATURE ADJOURNED LAST SATURDAY NOON

Clocks Stopped But Dead- Lock Kills Debt Funding Bill in Senate

Tallahassee, June 8.—The twenty-fourth session of the Florida legislature adjourned last night at 11:55 o'clock Saturday afternoon, 25 hours and 15 minutes after the time set for the conclusion of the regular 60-day session.

Action in both houses was speeded up as the hour for closing drew near. Differences were ironed out and a number of major issues and numerous local bills were passed.

An eleven hour deadlock developed over the administration support of a debt refunding measure.

Senate bill 175—which would have placed taxing units having bond debt troubles under the rule of the state board of administration.

Early in the week the House amended the bill to provide for a referendum to determine whether or not individual taxing units should choose to turn the solution of their debt problems over to the state board.

After a hard battle the amendment was adopted but a motion to reconsider the vote was tabled. The bill was passed by the House and a motion to reconsider was tabled.

The Senate refused to concur in the amendment and the House was adjourned in 25th session.

Conference committees were then appointed. They vainly endeavored to reach an agreement on the House amendment to the measure. Both houses were in session until long after midnight Friday night with no agreement reached.

Saturday morning the House retained a Senate message containing the bill with a request from that body for the House to reconsider its referendum amendment.

S. Pierre Robineau of Dade, leader in the fight to have the House reconsider the measure, took the floor to move that the motion to reconsider be ruled.

This ruling brought Robineau to his feet on a point of personal privilege, and a stirring verbal battle began, in which the gentleman from Dade and the gentleman from Oklawaha cited point after point in parliamentary law to sustain their positions. Other members of the House joined in. Word of the situation spread through the legislative hall. The gallery was crowded and every foot of space in the chamber was filled by eager spectators, who witnessed one of the most dramatic and stirring scenes of modern Florida legislative history as the debate continued.

A motion to over-ride the chair and permit further consideration of the bill was finally brought to a vote. The roll call began with the names on both sides sharply drawn and every eye in the chamber tense to catch each "yea" or "nay" as the names were read.

Final adjournment of the vote total 17 to 46 to sustain the ruling of its speaker and thereby sound the death knell of Senate bill 175, passed by the House the most important bill to be considered by the legislature during the entire session.

Speaker Tomassello's name being the last on the roll, his own vote prevented a tie and defeated the measure that would have treated with the bond situation throughout the state of Florida involving many millions of dollars.

Returning to the rostrum and taking over the gavel which had been held by W. McCl. Christie, Dural, while he defended his position from the floor, Speaker Tomassello took immediate steps to bring the session to a close. Word was sent to the Senate that the House was ready for adjournment. Clocks in the Senate and House chambers were restarted.

With all the ceremony incident to the occasion the 7433 session of the Florida legislature adjourned sine die.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR JUNE 11, 1933.

SUBJECT: Jesus on the Cross.
GOLDEN TEXT: "God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Romans 5:8.

LESSON TEXT: Mark 15:22-39.
TIME AND PLACE OF LESSON: Friday, April 7, A. D. 30; Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTION: After the betrayal and arrest of Jesus, as shown in last Sunday's lesson, he was tried before the Sanhedrin, the high court of the Jews, which was hurriedly convened during the night in the house of the high priest. His enemies had determined beforehand that he must die, but they experienced difficulty in finding a plausible ground for condemning him. FINALLY HE WAS DECLARED GUILTY OF BLASPHEMY FOR CLAIMING TO BE THE CHRIST, THE SON OF GOD. In the morning the Jews led Jesus away to Pilate, that he might confirm their sentence of death, for only the Romans could legally execute the death penalty. They realized that their charge of blasphemy would have little weight with Pilate and they therefore accused Christ of perverting the nation, of forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, and of saying that he was a king. Pilate knew that Jesus was innocent, yet to appease the clamor of the people he finally delivered him to be crucified.

The lesson begins, "And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull." The word "Golgotha" is the Jewish word for the Latin "Calvary," for which we use the word "Calvary."

"And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrror; but he received it not." This drink stupefied the body and nerves and relieved the suffering on the cross. It was provided by a society of women at Jerusalem.

"And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take." Most of you know the manner of crucifying a person. It was a cruel, painful death to which no Roman could be subjected, but only slaves and other infamous crimes. The victim would sometimes hang on the cross for several days before dying.

"And it was the third hour, and they crucified him. And the super-scription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS." The scribes asked Pilate to change the inscription to "he said that he was the King of the Jews," but Pilate refused.

"And with him they crucified two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors." See Luke 22:37.

"And they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, Save thyself, and come down from the cross. Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save. Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reviled him." Later one of the thieves called on Jesus to aid him. (Luke 23:40-43).

"And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour." This darkness was probably from supernatural power.

"And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice saying, Eloi, Eloi lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" See Psalm 22:1. The meaning of this expression is not agreed upon.

"And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost. And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. And when the centurion, which stood over against them, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God." These events aid in proving Christ to be the Son of God.

We copy this statement from Peloubet's Notes:

THE SEVEN WORDS FROM THE CROSS. Mark gives us only one of Christ's utterances from the cross, so that it is best to list all seven here, in the order in which they were spoken.

1. THE WORD OF FORGIVENESS. "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do" (probably uttered in the first cruel moment of crucifixion).
2. THE WORD OF THE PENITENT ROBBER. "Today shalt thou be with me in Paradise."
3. THE WORD OF PERSONAL AFFECTION (committing his mother Mary to the care of his beloved apostle John). "Woman, behold thy son! ... Behold thy mother."
4. THE WORD OF SPIRITUAL SUFFERING. "My God, why hast thou forsaken me?"
5. THE WORD OF PHYSICAL SUFFERING. "I thirst."
6. THE WORD OF COMPLETION. "It is finished."
7. THE WORD OF SUBMITTAL. "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit."

Winning 4-H Girl Is Now Important Community Leader

Homestead, June 7.—Virginia Hooks of Homestead, recently announced as winner of a trip to the National Club Camp in Washington, June 15-21, is a 4-H club girl who is already assuming an important place of leadership in the club work of the community and county, and she has an ambition to become a home demonstration agent. She has made an outstanding record in 4-H work over a period of six years, under the leadership of Miss Pansy Norton, home demonstration agent.

Miss Hooks is a member of a family with a good record in home demonstration work, her older sister having been in 4-H club work and her mother now being in the home demonstration club.

During the six years in which she has been a 4-H member, she has had four years of training in sewing, four in gardening, two in home improvement, and one in nutrition and health work.

In her sewing and clothing work, she says that she has learned to choose suitable materials for her clothes, selection of suitable patterns, appropriate costumes for different occasions, remodeling clothing, and the making of practical and becoming clothing for herself and family.

In home improvement work, also, she has learned about and accomplished tremendous improvements at small expense.

Miss Hooks has been president of the 4-H club in Homestead during the past year, and is chairman of health work for the county council. She assists in programs in the community, and in particular aids her home demonstration agent in conducting club meetings.

Her trip to Washington is being financed by the Capital City Publishing company of Tallahassee, which will be accompanied by Miss Estelle Black of Plant City, Arthur M. Neely of Fairchild, Wilmer Bassett of Monticello, Miss Anna Mae Sikes of the State Home Demonstration Department, and R. W. Blacklock, state boys' club agent.

The national club camp is being held by the United States Department of Agriculture, with representatives from practically every state.

Legislature Cost the State $161,061

Tallahassee, June 8.—Reports from the office of State Treasurer W. V. Knott showed the total payroll for the 1933 session of the Legislature to be $161,061. This amount does not include other items of expense such as printing, supplies, and not necessarily costs.

The 1931 session, which lasted 100 days, cost approximately $300,000, an average of $3,000 a day. Legislators and attaches who worked the extra time following the hour set for closing of the regular 60-day session drew no pay for their labor. The Senate voted to give certain attaches a bonus for faithful service; a practice which has been followed for some time. The House took no such action.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Plates, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual, National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

An air of intense and almost unrelieved gloom surrounds the forthcoming World Economic Conference, American delegates for the most part, have hope without expectation. Too many of the great European nations seem determined to pursue a relentless policy of economic isolation—and the inevitable result will be more embargoes, higher tariffs, further declines in already vanishing world trade. This same isolationist spirit menaces the success of the arms conference at Geneva.

The United States will throw its entire influence on the side of disarmament, world peace, stimulated trade between nations and agreements for lowering and removing tariff barriers. Failing success in its efforts, it is prepared to embark on economic war with the rest of the nations as a matter of self defense. It will work out a program designed to provide us with commercial independence so far as the rest of the world is concerned, and create a more self-contained national economy. The Administration definitely does not want this—that is, indirectly, it wants the other powers that if they refuse to co-operate, no course is left but American isolation.

Great hope for conference success is the influence of Mr. Roosevelt. Rumors, as yet neither denied nor affirmed, are prevalent that he will go to London, make a speech and return. Strength to the rumors is given by the preparation of a navy light cruiser for a long non-military trip, to the Philadelphia Navy Yard. This ship can cross the Atlantic in record time—if President Roosevelt is on board, the world will see another dramatic and potentially helpful gesture in interest of world unity.

A factor that is also important to world trade, is future action of the American government in controlling the dollar abroad. This will be attempted in the near future means of doing it have not been definitely decided upon. It will probably take the form of a dollar stabilization program which, in effect, will resemble the mach-discounting of the British Equalization Fund. The British Fund is part of the government's budget, and was recently increased from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000 pounds. The British government's monetary policy is fixed: Maintenance of a stable price level, as distinct from the value of the pound abroad; continuance and, if possible, expansion of trade, and the checking of wide and sudden fluctuations in the exchange value of the pound. The Fund is used for these purposes—by keeping the pound down, in relation to the dollar, while the price level remains unchanged within England, an obvious trade advantage is obtained. The American government believes, as do most commentators, that some such action by this country must be taken if an explosion in foreign exchange, with consequent trade disruption, is to be prevented.

Oil is in the spotlight. President Roosevelt put it there in his letter to Vice-President Garner in which he requested that oil legislation receive immediate attention by Congress. "Request" is a polite word that might be translated into "demand" under present executive-legislative relations. The letter stated that it is impossible to bring order out of chaos by state action only. Result was a bill introduced by Representative Matland, formerly president of a fair-sized oil company. The bill gives broad and sweeping powers to the Secretary of the Interior. Among them are: The power to fix maximum and minimum prices for oil; prorogue production between pools within a state; determine market demand and allocate production among the producing states accordingly; regulate oil imports; establish minimum wage rates.

Financial papers hail the legislation as the end to cut-throat, ruinous oil competition, and a practical guarantee of a substantial rise in oil prices.

Business is on the up-grade. This is not prophesy, but fact. Improvement has been registered in various basic industries—steel, copper, hogs, wheat, corn, department store sales, etc. Recently the New York Times index of industrial activity advanced for the seventh consecutive week to the highest point in 17 months.

A good sign is the estimate for the U. S. winter wheat crop—327,485,000 bushels. This is 40 per cent smaller than the 1921-30 average, the smallest since 1904. It will be 45,000,000 bushels short of United States consumption. Prices jumped as soon as the official estimate was made public; the farmer smiled.

Interesting fact—it is not unusual for short wheat crops and resulting higher prices, to signify the breaking of depressions. The present picture is thus definitely optimistic. Low of depression was touched in June-July of last year. Since then the three general barometers—index of business ac-

After Breakfast—Play

By Mollie Morton

EVEN play is costly when marbles, kites, base balls, dolls and tennis rackets must be purchased. During these depression days many parents find it difficult to supply the demands made upon them by their children.

Manufacturers have realized these conditions and are doing much to aid parents. Jigsaw puzzles are common premiums today. One manufacturer of a well-known breakfast food has recently put out a container that is, to say the least, unique in the annals of packaging. When emptied of its contents it becomes a play box for children, containing on three sides cut-outs which children can cut out and use for toys.

Each box has one subject—a soldier, a performing clown, or a circus. More subjects are in preparation.

Now George and Grace will be willing to eat liberal quantities of their morning cereal and milk. Why not, when an empty box means one more circus or army in the playroom?

Huge Sum Made Available For Mortgage Loans

Authorization for Federal Land Bank to issue up to $2,000,000 in bonds, with interest guaranteed by the United States, and either exchange these bonds for first mortgages on farms or sell them and use the money to make new loans to farmers, is one of the principal features of the farm mortgage legislation of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, according to information issued by the Farm Credit Administration.

The Farm Credit Administration began functioning on May 27 as provided for in President Roosevelt's Executive Order issued March 27, 1933. The agencies to be consolidated under the new Administration include the Federal Farm Board, the Federal Farm Loan Bureau which has jurisdiction over the Federal Land Banks, Joint Stock Farm Loan Associations, Credit Banks; the regional agricultural credit corporations of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the Crop Production Loan Division of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The farm mortgage section of the Farm Act makes it possible to lower the interest rates on both old and new loans, and to permit borrowers, generally, to extend payment on the principal of their loans from the Federal Loan Banks, and to loan money directly to farmers in districts where there are no National farm loan associations which applications may be accepted. It also provides for Farm Loan Commissioner's loans to be made direct to farmers from the office of the Farm Loan Commissioner located in each of the 12 Federal Land Bank districts.

Applications for information or loans under the new Act, the Farm Credit Administration says, should be made to the secretary-treasurer of the National farm loan association in the county in which the applicant's farm is located, or to the Federal Land Bank serving his State. In the absence of a loan association, farmers should get in touch with their County Agricultural Agent.

The Federal Land Bank for this district is at Columbia, S. C.

Broward Solon Is To Be Candidate For House Speaker

Tallahassee, June 8.—Petitioned by 52 members of the present House of Representatives, Dwight L. Rogers, Representative from Broward county, announced his intention to seek the speakership of the 1933 House.

Representative Rogers was speaker pro-tem of the 1933 session. He has been very active since becoming a member of the legislature in 1931.

His chief accomplishment during the 1933 session centered around the proposed constitutional amendment which will, if approved by the people in the 1934 general election, instruct the legislature to exempt homesteads up to $5,000 in value, from taxation. Representative Rogers has also been a floor leader for educational measures.

Waste Cane Tops Turned To Silage Which Cattle Like

DeFuniak Springs, June 7.—About 35 tons of cane tops which otherwise would have gone to waste were stored in trench silos in Walton county last fall, and County Agent Mitchell Wilkins reports that the cattle liked the cane top silage as well as corn silage.

County Agent Wilkins planned the demonstration after he had learned of experiments at the Louisiana Experiment Station which showed such silage to be quite satisfactory as a feed. He knew the practicality of the trench silo, of which he and other farmers of the county have put in during the last year.

There are 10,000 acres of cane grown in the state for syrup. The cane tops now going to waste should average about two tons of silage per acre, says W. J. Shoely, extension agent in animal husbandry. That would mean 20,000 tons of silage farmers in the state could produce annually at no cost, only that of digging the trench silos during spare time and hauling the tops to it.

Trench silos are now being used all over the state since county agents and extension specialists have been advocating them for the last two years.

Will Inquire Into School Book Trust

Tallahassee, June 8.—One of the last acts of the legislature during the 1933 session was to provide for a complete and comprehensive inquiry into the Florida school book situation.

A joint committee made up of members of both the House and Senate will undertake the investigation and report at the next session.

A resolution urging such an investigation was sponsored by the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

Broad powers for a thorough study of the Florida school book problem are provided the committee in the resolution.

There have been continual charges of waste, extravagance, over-charge and constant unnecessary changes, brought about by the domination of a so-called "school book trust."

The Senate Committee appointed by President Fitch is as follows: Senator Getson of Bushnell; Larrson, of Keystone Heights; Beacham, of West Palm Beach; Black of Jasper; and Shelly of Telegia.

Speaker Tomusich appointed on the House Committee J. Locke Kelley, Pinellas; John Murphy, Alachua; A. O. Kanmer, Martin; and W. M. Christian of Duval.

ROTARIANS HEAR MIAMIAN TALK

Noted World Traveller Tells of Adventures in Africa

Avon Park Rotarians heard two very interesting talks at their luncheon Wednesday noon at the Jacaranda hotel. They were given by Dr. J. O. Kinnaman, A. M. Ph. D. of Miami, a world wide traveler and explorer and Capt. M. F. Tobias, president of the Civic Forum of Miami and an officer in many national organizations of note.

Dr. Kinnaman told of his travels over the world with special reference to Africa and he gave a very vivid account of a slave trader's raid on an African village. He was listened to with attention by the club members and the visitors as he graphically told of a number of his adventures.

At present Dr. Kinnaman is dean of the Miami Military Academy and Junior College, but he has traveled in practically every civilized country in the world as well as in the so-called savage and wild ones.

In his archaeological and ethnological researches, he has lived with many savage tribes; sometimes because he wanted to do so, but sometimes because he could not help doing so. He lived with the Fann Cannibals of Africa because he wanted to do it; but with the Javro Head Hunters of South America because he could not help it; in other words, he was held prisoner for more than five months. Of course, he employed his time in ethnological studies, but he was always in danger of not living to tell the story.

In the Land of Little Sticks, he was left to die. His Indian guide did die; but after believing himself a huckleberry pie baking in an oven, he regained consciousness, and finally got back to civilization.

He is a devotee of Christian Archaeology, and has spent much time studying the History of the Church from that viewpoint; having made several valuable contributions to the study.

Since 1901 Dr. Kinnaman has been the Editor of The American Antiquarian and Oriental Journal, the oldest Archaeological journal in America. His extensive travels have all been conducted in the interest of the Journal.

He is a member of the following societies:

The Victoria Institute, London, England.

The Palestine Exploration Fund, London, England.

Vice-President of the Society for the Study of the Apocrypha.

London, England.

The Egypt Exploration Fund. The International Society of Archaeologists.

Lecturer in the United States for The Palestine Exploration Fund, etc.

He has been featured over many radio stations. At present being presented over WQAM, Miami, Florida, each Thursday at 7:00 p. m.

Dr. Kinnaman also had this to say with regard to some of his work in Africa:

Once upon a time an Ethnologist determined that he would get "the low down" upon some of our so-called savage brothers; especially the Fann of "somewhere in the Congo Basin." There was only one way to get this information, and that was to go live with them, then tell the story, provided he survived to tell it.

Upon leaving the U. S. the arrangements were made that if the scientist was not heard from within 15 months, a relief expedition was to be sent in search of him. He was not heard from within the stated time, so Dr. Kinnaman was commissioned to lead the expedition of trying to find a needle in a haystack.

A few incidents of this expedition, which occupied about 20 months in crossing Africa, are set forth in "Darkest Africa" or "With the Fann Cannibals."

Capt. Tobias spoke on a "Mortification on Pessimism," and this was well received by those present.

Besides being president of the Miami Civic Forum, Capt. Tobias is a member of the advisory council of the American Trade Council, Lieut. Commander General of the National Defenders of the U. S. A., a member of the Association of Business Paper Editors, and a member of the Advertising Club of Miami.

Other visitors at the luncheon were T. V. Conway of Sebring, Frederick F. Fox of Augusta, Ga., Paul Collins of Haines City and W. T. Hall, Rev. A. P. Vaughn, Charles Clements, Earl Hartt and M. E. Covington of Avon Park.

State Jewelers Held Fine Session Here

State Association Re-Elected Majority of All Old Officers

The fourteenth annual convention of the Florida Retail Jewelers association met in Avon Park yesterday and today with a good attendance of members. An excellent program of entertainment had been arranged under the direction of P. S. Jordan which was enjoyed by visitors.

On convening Thursday morning the invocation was pronounced by Rev. Harcourt Johnson and a short address was made by one made by Mayor M. E. Covington with the response by Bruce Watters of St. Petersburg. Other short talks were made by Shade Walker, T. A. McNicholas and W. T. Coates. Mr. McNicholas called attention to the fact that the jewels of Queen Isabella of Spain were a great aid to Columbus in discovering this hemisphere and he also mentioned that Paul Revere of historical fame was a jeweler.

Thursday afternoon was devoted to sports and recreation which was followed by a box supper at Pine Crest. Dancing was enjoyed in the evening at the Jacaranda hotel, convention headquarters.

This morning a short talk was given by Dr. W. A. Davison and officers for the coming year were elected and Miami chosen as the convention city for next year.

All the officers and directors were elected with the exception of W. E. Payne, who is succeeded by W. B. Watters as second vice-president, and J. L. Petre takes Mr. Watters place on the board of directors.

Indicative of the problems confronting hog raisers are the following statements by the United States Department of Agriculture. Where the American farmer averaged 20 foreign customers for pork in the 1925-26 period, he had only eight left in 1932. And where he had 40 foreign customers for lard during this same pre-depression period, he had less than 30 in 1932. This loss of export trade in hogs has had a detrimental effect on domestic prices.

Every Week the Browns Enjoy ONE meal FREE

"It's on the Electric Refrigerator"

The Browns have learned that an electric refrigerator is a pleasant aid to thrifty living. After every meal, the food left over is put away in a spacious compartment of the refrigerator. Some "rainy day" these left-overs become the ingredients of tempting new dishes. Tasty meat loaves and souffles . . . savory soups . . . sparkling jellies are, more often than not, left-overs glorified by the clever cook. In the Brown's home one meal every week costs nothing . . . It's made from food saved by the electric refrigerator.
