

FREE AUCTIONS AID TO FARMERS

Plan Which Stimulated Trade
In One Small Town Being
Copied By Others

By RUSSELL KAY.
Tampa, June 22.—A newspaper man out of a job started it all, W. H. Rossman by name, for a number of years on the staff of the Lakeland Star-Telegram.

Unable to find work, Rossman fought off the wolf by operating a small fruit and produce stand at Sulphur Springs, suburb of Tampa. Competition was keen, business was poor. Few people had money to buy, those who did drove into town to do their shopping. All the merchants at the Springs had red ink on their ledgers and grumbled about poor business. Things looked plenty black.

Farmers kept coming to Rossman and offering to exchange this or that for something he had to sell but he couldn't deal like that for he had to pay cash to the wholesale houses. They weren't interested in playing a game of barter and exchange.

Then one day he stumbled on a story in a Georgia paper telling how the merchants in Sparks, Georgia, got together and arranged a free farmers' auction each Saturday afternoon as a means of bringing people to town and putting cash into circulation.

Rossman talked the plan over with other merchants, with the result that they decided to try it. Window cards, placards, and handbills were printed inviting the public to come and participate in a free auction the following Saturday. No fee or charge of any kind was asked. A vacant store was provided as storage space for those who wished to bring in goods they had to auction or exchange.

No one could lose for if the article they offered failed to bring the amount they felt it should, they simply bid it in themselves. There was no fee to either buyer or seller. The extent to which the plan was aroused in the event among farmers and rural residents was amazing. Soon everyone was talking and joking about the auction.

Folks ransacked the attics and dug up long forgotten relics. Growers came with every conceivable kind of produce, fruit, eggs, vegetables, poultry and milk. Even city folks joined in. The variety of material brought for auction was astounding, everything from billy goats to coo-coo clocks.

Long before the hour set for the event a crowd was packed around the auctioneer's platform. The stuff to be disposed of was stacked high on all sides.

Everyone was keenly interested. Everybody was happy. A spirit of neighborliness and good-will prevailed. Reverent O. K. Call of the North Side Christian Church, acted as auctioneer.

A jigsaw puzzle for a nickel, "Lucky" a pedigreed greyhound went for one dollar, his owner unable to feed him heaved a sigh of relief. A hunky broad horned billy goat proved of equal value and another dollar changed hands. A broken shotgun sold for a quarter.

A jar of home made pickles went for a dime.

A lot of trading was done on the side. When someone saw an article they were interested in they would find out who the owner was, make him an offer, and trade him something they had for it.

Most everyone made some kind of a deal and when the auction was over had money in their pockets. Most of them spent all or a portion of it with the merchants of Sulphur Springs. It was "extra money," money they hadn't counted on, and they had a lot of fun getting it in the bargain. They were glad to spend it.

So successful was the event, it was decided to hold an auction every week for a while. Three have been staged so far and each successive one has drawn a larger crowd, stimulating business for the merchants who sponsored it. Merchants in other sections are now asking Rossman how he did it. They want to stage a farmers' auction in their section, realizing that it is a fine thing for any community, promoting friendship, goodwill, and prosperity.

Grapefruit Juice Is Big Seller At Chicago Exposition

Thirtysix thousand, five hundred Sealed-Sweet grapefruit juice drinks from 60 fruit juice stands in one week at the Century of Progress Exposition, is reported by Carl Fish, manager. This popularity of Florida's product indicates a hearty acceptance by the American public of a new thirst quencher which seems to hold its own against all competition.

Says Mr. Fish, "I don't think it is an exaggeration on my part to state that probably not more than 50 of those 38,500 drinks were sold to people who had ever heard of, tasted or seen Sealed-Sweet canned grapefruit juice before. Furthermore, one large Chicago newspaper states that 'Appropos of things to eat and to drink at the Fair, did you know that grapefruit juice is the most popular soft drink, so far?'"

Among the popular expressions read and heard in Chicago concerning Sealed-Sweet canned grapefruit juice are such as these, "how to combat the heat with grapefruit, quench that thirst and drink for health," and "Sealed-Sweet, the official citrus drink of the World's Fair." Furthermore, jobbers, retailers and concessionaires have trucks that have been decorated on the sides to portray a likeness of the Sealed-Sweet can. Sixty fruit juice stands have large refrigerated plate glass dispensers built in imitation of the Sealed-Sweet can. It seems that this Florida product is very much in evidence before the World's Fair crowds.

Collect Intangibles Is Order From Lee

Tallahassee, June 22.—A drive for the collection of the state intangible tax was begun by Comptroller J. M. Lee this week. Individuals, firms and corporations under the law are required to make intangible tax returns to the county tax collector and failure to do so carries a $500 penalty. The law has not been rigidly enforced although passed by the 1931 legislature.

Declaring himself for a fair and impartial enforcement of the law, Mr. Lee states that he will conduct an investigation in the several counties to determine the status of such tax collections and take steps necessary to see that those due are collected.

To Celebrate 4th of July at Frostproof

Frostproof will be host to the people of Polk, Highlands and Hardee counties July 4th with the biggest fish fry and celebration it has sponsored in several years and plans are practically complete for a day crammed with entertainment, according to the Highland News of that city.

Sponsored by the American Legion and Frostproof Baseball Club jointly, the program calls for a morning and afternoon baseball game between the Packers and two Orange Belt League teams to be selected, a noon fish fry and picnic dinner, water sports and stunts of amusement, including boat races, bathing, life saving exhibitions, croquet, pig, grouse, pole, gopher races, etc., and topped off with a dance at the city hall auditorium in the evening with music by Dan-o-old Wilson and his Floridians.

Arrangements have been completed for all of the program except the baseball games and negotiations are under way to secure two of the strongest teams in the Orange Belt League for the Packers opponents. Invitations are extended to all teams in the league and to American Legion posts in the three counties including all nearby towns. The people of Lake Placid, Sebring, Avon Park, Ft.

Meade, Bowling Green, Wauchula, Bartow and Lake Wales and all towns having teams in the Orange Belt League are extended a cordial invitation to attend this celebration and enjoy one big day with Frostproof.

State's Healthiest 4-H Club Girl Exercises Garden

Tallahassee, June 21.—Florida's healthiest 4-H club girl for 1933, recently selected at the annual 4-H short course held here, gets much of her exercise in the Florida sunshine of her club garden. She is Janie Wheeler, Jefferson county, and she will represent Florida in the national health contest in Chicago this fall.

Janie lives on a farm eight miles North of Monticello. She makes her own clothes, and she rides eight miles to school where she will be a senior next year. She is five feet three inches tall and weighs 119 pounds. She is fond of swimming and basketball, but likes the garden exercise best. She does not smoke or drink beer. She regularly retires at 10 o'clock.

For four years she has been competing for this award, and she won third place the first year and second the next two years. All this time she says she did her best to carry out the suggestions of her home demonstration agent, Miss Ruby Brown, the nutrition specialists and others of the State Home Demonstration Department.

For the last seven years Florida has entered the national health contest, has won it once and secured near the top every other year.

Permits Increase.
Miami Beach, June 22.—Building permits for Miami Beach on June 15 had reached a total of $921,195 for 1933, with indications that the million mark would be attained by July 1. Permits issued during the first half of this month alone totalled $136,849.

What Makes a Safe Tire? ... I KNOW!

ARE you willing to risk your life on advertising statements claiming blowout-proof and unblowable tires? One manufacturer gives as the reason for claiming blowout-proof tires—the use of one ply of another color—another, a patented "no breaker" construction—a mail order house, high stretch "elastic" cords, etc., etc. Actually the fundamental cause of a tire blowout is the flexing of the tire which causes friction of the fibers in the cord, resulting in heat and causing the rubber to soften and the cords to deteriorate.

There is a reason why Firestone Tires have won the 500-mile Indianapolis race for 14 consecutive years, the most grueling tire test. The reason is the Firestone patented extra process of Gum-Dipping which saturates every fiber and insulates every cord with pure rubber—which gives strength to the cords and prevents friction and heat in the fibers. This year 42 drivers in this race equipped their cars with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires and not a single driver had any tire trouble.

Race drivers know why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are safer and not subject to blowout and will not risk their lives on ordinary tires. Your life and the lives of your family are often in danger at the high road speeds of today and you should not take greater risks than the race drivers who make sure that they have the best and safest tires they can buy—Firestone.

STANDARD OIL LABORATORIES DEVELOP NEW MOTOR-FUEL

Will be offered motorists on Saturday

Motorists throughout the South will be interested in the announcement by W. E. Smith, President of the Standard Oil Company Incorporated in Kentucky, at Louisville, that a brand-new type of motor fuel will be sold by Standard Oil Company dealers and service stations effective Saturday of this week.

This new motor fuel, which will be colored orange and marketed under the well known name of Crown Standard Gasoline, was developed in the Standard Oil Laboratories. It will be a more powerful fuel, with actual, added antiknock properties, but will be sold at no additional cost.

In discussing this new product, Mr. Smith stated: "We feel that the public is tired of the exaggerated claims that are making gasoline advertising so hard to believe. We make no extravagant claims for this new Crown Standard Gasoline. We merely state that it is a better fuel at regular price than has yet been made for the modern motor. We stand squarely back of Crown Standard Gasoline as such a fuel, and guarantee its smoother, more powerful performance. We say this fully aware of our responsibility to our many customers in making such a public statement."

SCHOOL TRUSTEES REPLY

In its last issue the Times carried an editorial criticizing the practice of the local board of trustees for its refusal to recommend married teachers, and calling attention to the fact that the board did not adhere strictly to its "rule," but used it in some cases and overlooked it in others. The editorial expressed the opinion that "the marital relationship should not enter into the consideration, or at most should be considered only when other qualifications are equal." Any statement to the contrary, notwithstanding, we are informed that there was discrimination shown, in that some very competent married teachers were retained while some equally competent married teachers were not retained, and the only thing that could be said against them was that they were married.

We invited "candidates" for the board to make a statement of their position in this respect, and we are in receipt of a statement from Jas. S. Schweigart, chairman of the local board, giving his explanation on behalf of the board for its action. We are pleased to publish Mr. Schweigart's reply, and agree with him on his opinion that "much can be said for both sides of the question." But provided, only that the rule be enforced fairly and impartially.

Mr. Schweigart says:

"Editor of the Times:

"In behalf of the local Trustees of the Avon Park School District, I wish to reply to your editorial, 'The Trustee Election,' in the issue of June 16th. I am especially replying to your statement in regards to the recommendation of married teachers.

"Due to this time of unemployment, this board finds upon its files, more than fifty applications for positions as teacher in our local schools. With few exceptions these applicants are graduates of State Colleges and Universities and are fully well qualified to teach in our schools. With their college training and teaching experience, they come to us with excellent references.

"Now Mr. Editor! If you had a child who completed a four year course at a State University at a cost to you of about $1400, and this child has taught three or four years with success and he is now an age that he may be thinking of making a home of his own; would you think it wise to have him idle his time waiting for an opportunity to develop, when the positions for which he has applied himself are now filled by one who is a second 'bread-winner' of a family? My reference here pertains to the teacher who has an able-bodied husband, who according to custom is the support of the family.

"Your editorial also makes it plain this board has a fixed rule to discriminate against married teachers. The reply to this is: That upon our recommendation for teacher of a given grade, we have taken each case separately and where we found a teacher in a family whose head was physically able to support his family, and we could supply this position with an experienced University trained teacher equally as good as the one having this support, we recommended, the latter. No where did we follow any fixed rule as you have stated, and in no case whatever has a friend or a relative been recommended as a teacher. In fact, the teachers that have been dropped are persons of excellent character and energy and the best of friends of this board. These are supplied by others only for the above reason, and it is with much regret to this board that this drastic step must be taken to combat this time of unemployment.

"The present board is not guided by any political powers, but use their best judgment in selecting teachers for the best interest of the children of our well regulated school. Taking into consideration the very few complaints that have come to our notice from a group of about 1400 parents, we feel our recommendations have been well founded, and we know our well regulated and well disciplined school will be one of the outstanding schools of the county. The Avon Park high school will have a group of teachers, experienced, well trained and competent, equal to any high school in the state.

"The above article fully explains our action in this matter. We are in accord with the move made by the government of this state and other states throughout this nation.

"Much can be said for both sides of this question as of other cases of this kind, but so far as I am concerned, this ends the discussion through the press. However, if any parent or taxpayer would have a suggestion to better the condition for the children of these schools, it would be cheerfully received and action taken according to its merits."

Yours very truly,

JAS. S. SCHWEIGART,
Chairman, Local School Board."

The Legislature passed an egg law. Can you beat it?

By Armistice day we ought to have a new cause for celebration—the victorious close of the war against the depression.

We'll go up and see the big ships lying in the Lakeland harbor when that canal from the Gulf to that second Houston gets into operation.

They have gone to kidnapping brewers now—but maybe instead of a money ransom they will exact a promise from the brewer to put a big warm kick in the 3.2.

Didn't take much sense to be a Congressman the past session. The boys did just as they were told—and they had somebody to tell 'em!

These times most men have a sufficient complicated task in fitting their own affairs together without needing to buy jigsaw puzzles.

Divine Providence may have interfered to prevent the passage of the debt funding bill, as Mr. Tomasello claims; but it neglected lots of things at Tallahassee that needed its attention just as urgently.

We do not like the idea of the President being out on the high seas. It's a bit too risky. It is doubtful if ever before the nation so completely depended upon one man's leadership.

Had Mr. Bryan lived just a brief ten years longer than he did he would have seen the adoption of practically every policy he stood for—policies for the advocacy of which he was called an impractical visionary.

Post mortems of the late Legislature are still being held. Some members of that body tell amazing tales of drunkenness and debauchery at Tallahassee. That comes of sending men to the Legislature merely because they are "good fellows" or "good mixers."

Senator Hodges, already designated as President of the next Senate—in case of his re-election—invents the Sheriffs of the state to maintain a lobby at Tallahassee to secure legislation in their interest. The Senator probably would be glad to welcome other groups intent on tapping the public till at the expense of the taxpayers. The voters of Mr. Hodges' district could take care of this situation, and they owe it to themselves and the people of the rest of the state to do so.

A futile but harmless sport these days is naming gubernatorial possibilities for the next term, although less than half year of the present four-year term has not yet passed. Tomasello, late speaker of the House, is among those most frequently mentioned in this connection. Then there are Charley Durrance, Senator Futch, and a half-dozen others. Much water will go over the dam in the next three years and new figures may claim the spot-light and entirely new alignments be made during that period. There is no danger of a scarcity of material.

It looks like there will be more incentive to own one's home than there has ever been before, and this applies particularly to Florida, where Federal legislation stabilizing home ownership is likely to be supplemented by freedom from taxation on small homes owned in Florida. We consider the home mortgage relief bill one of the most important pieces of legislation that has been enacted. With the menace of mortgage foreclosure practically removed, and the prospect of no taxes to pay, the small home owner in Florida can have a feeling of security he could never before experience.

Tax Officials Instructed By Comptroller

vides that where the tax certificate is held by a private person, firm or corporation, that the bona fide owner may reduce such certificate as now provided by law without paying any lien or claim for taxes for prior or subsequent years to the date of the certificate, but the certificate held by the private person, firm or corporation.

Section 3. This Section provides that in making the assessment for taxes for the year 1933, and all subsequent years, all lands shall be assessed against the bona fide owner or owners, or if they cannot be ascertained, then as unknown, regardless of the fact that there are unpaid outstanding tax certificates against such lands. In other words, for the tax levy of 1933, and subsequent years, the assessment shall be made on all real estate, just the same as though there were no unpaid outstanding tax certificates.

Section 3 also provides that the bona fide owner or owners of any land shall be permitted to pay the taxes for the year 1932, even though the mortgage has not been extended. In other words, if a bona fide owner wishes to pay taxes on his land, which has heretofore been sold for taxes, and the certificate is outstanding in the State, yet, upon tender of such payment prior to the tax sale it becomes the duty of the tax collector to make the extension of the mortgage in the usual manner and permit the bona fide owner to pay the taxes for the year 1932, without reference to prior unpaid taxes, or prior outstanding tax certificates, and this same rule applies to subsequent years for which the lands may be so assessed, and for all subsequent years for which the lands may be so assessed, and for all subsequent years the payment should be made to the tax collector, if paid prior to sale.

Section 4. This Section provides that if a taxpayer in due and regular course, as the taxes fall due, or if at any prior to July 1st, 1937, pays the taxes on the land for the years 32-33-34-35 and 36, then the time for which the State shall hold all outstanding unpaid tax certificates on such lands shall be extended for a period of 15 years from and after July 1, 1938.

Section 5. This section provides that delinquent taxes for the year 1932, and subsequent years, shall be sold in the usual manner, and carry the same penalty, etc., as are provided by the laws of the State existing at the time the Futch Bill became a law.

It is further my opinion that Section 5 does not contemplate making extension of mortgage on State Certificate lands and selling them for the year 1932, but it does contemplate that the tax sale of 1933 for the taxes of 1932 shall be sold in the same manner as is now provided by law just as if this Senate Bill No. 597 had never been enacted.

Section 6. This Section provides for the redemption of tax sale certificates, or other evidences of tax liens, held in the name of the State by the use of bonds or matured interest coupons of the county or other taxing districts in that county and provides that the bonds or matured interest coupons of the County or other taxing districts in that county shall be receivable at par in redemption of tax sale certificates, or other evidences of tax liens, covering the lands sold for the non-payment of State and County or other taxing district taxes to the amount of the delinquent taxes in that county or other taxing district in that county for all purposes, other than the levy made for State taxes.

Thus it is my opinion that all bonds, whether matured or not, and matured interest coupons of the county or any of its taxing districts, constitute legal tender at par for the redemption of all tax sale certificates or other evidences of tax liens, whether the lands sold for the non-payment of State and County taxes, or by other taxing districts now held by the State to the full amount of the delinquent taxes, except that portion of such taxes which are state taxes which must be paid in cash. In other words, it is my opinion, that under the Bill authorizes may be made by any of the bonds of the county or taxing districts within the county, whether they are bonds of that particular district or not. It is my opinion, however, that city or municipal bonds could not be used to pay county or district taxes.

Cities and municipalities are separate forms of government organized either directly, or by authorization of the Legislature, and such city or municipal bonds, in my opinion, could not be used in the redemption of county or district taxes. Neither do I believe that the Futch Bill would permit the use of bonds of a drainage or taxing district, covering more than one county to be used for the payment of taxes in either of such counties, but so long as the taxing district, other than cities or municipalities, lies within the county, then it is my opinion that bonds or coupons of such districts, or county bonds are legal tender in the payment and redemption of the tax certificates held by the State which are authorized to be so redeemed.

Section 7. This section provides the mechanics for lending the redemption provided for by the other sections of the Act, and provides

FIREMEN TRIM BOWLING GREEN

Non-League Game Tuesday
Won by Sebring
7 to 3

The combined Bowling Green and Wauchula teams paid a visit to Sebring Tuesday afternoon where they played a non-league game with the local Firemen, but the strength they mustered wasn't sufficient to best the slants of Tommy Sebring. Sebring hurled, who held them to six hits and turned in his first victory of the season, seven to three.

Tuesday, on the mound for the first time this season, granted the visitors one lone bingle, a triple by Stephens, up until the eighth, the Firemen kept getting the best of their six hits in the last two frames.

High spots of the game were, a homer by Jack Parker with Tuesday hose on the sacks, a lusty blow which came in the eighth, and triples by Stephens and Murphy of Bowling Green. Stephens caught one of Whitehouse's fast ones on the end of his bat in the fifth and sent the ball far over Tom Dimmer's head. The safety gave the visitors their lone run until the ninth, when they added two more with Murphy's triple, a walk and two singles.

"Homer" Martin came through with a two base blow in the third. The stellar backstop of the locals, who has been playing with Orlando for the past month, drove out two home runs in a game at Leesburg and the Firemen promptly chided him with the new cogenome. Art Young did the backstopping to begin the game. Young turned in a fine performance for the first five innings at which time Manager J. Williams pulled Martin out of left and sent him behind the plate, Ewing taking the garden position. The Firemen played a fine brand of baseball, Peter Cox being the only one charged with an error and Pete coming through with two hits and two walks in five times up to more than make up for his mishap. McInnis, and Smith, both Wauchula moundmen, did the chinking in Bowling Green. The former lasted five innings being nicked for two runs and five hits but granting four walks and hitting one batsman. Smith was hit hard by the Firemen the remainder of the game.

The score: R. H. E.
Bow, Green 00 010 002—3 6 3
Sebring 001 011 223—7 9 1
Batteries: Whitehouse and Young, Martin; McInnis, Smith and Fernandez.

Venus Resident Was Jailed On Charge of Drunk, Disorderly

L. M. Morgan, resident of Venus, was jailed Sunday by Constable H. T. Franklin on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, Sheriff Doyle Schumacher stated today.

Morgan was brought to Sebring by the constable Sunday and released on Monday, on payment of $49.60, fine and costs said to have been assessed by the Venus justice of the peace.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR JUNE 25, 1933.

SUBJECT: REVIEW: Jesus our Lord and Saviour.

GOLDEN TEXT: "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." Matt. 28:18, 19.

LESSON TEXT: Acts 13:23-33. Jesus spent the summer of his last year largely in retirement. There were three reasons for this. The growing opposition of the religious leaders made retirement expedient. The physical and nervous strain to which Jesus had been subjected made a season of rest desirable. Also he wished to have time to meditate upon his coming death, and to instruct the disciples.

SURVEY OF QUARTER'S LESSONS:

I. JESUS MINISTERING TO JEWS AND GENTILES. Jesus and his disciples retired into Paphlagonia, where a woman begged him to cast a demon from her daughter. After testing her faith Jesus granted her request, after he healed a deaf-mute in Capernaum.

II. CONFESSION AND LOYALTY. Jesus asked his disciples, "Whom do men say that I am?" and they answered, "John the Baptist," "Elijah," "One of the prophets," then he asked, "Whom say ye that I am?" Peter (for all) said, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." Matt. 16:16.

III. EASTER LESSON. 1 Corinthians 15 is the great resurrection chapter of the Bible. Paul emphasizes the fact of Christ's resurrection, and enumerates a number of appearances, including his to himself. Then he asserts the fact of our coming resurrection.

IV. JESUS REBUKES SELF-SEEKING. The disciples had disputed as to who should be the greatest. Jesus gave them a lesson in humility. He also rebuked an intolerant spirit toward others who are accomplishing good in Christ's name.

V. JESUS SETS NEW STANDARD OF LIVING. A rich young ruler asked Jesus what he must do to inherit eternal life. Jesus first quoted the commandments, and later told him to sell his goods, and give to the poor, and come and follow him. The young man went away sorrowful.

VI. JESUS FACES THE CROSS. For the third time Jesus told the disciples about his coming death. When James and John asked for the chief places, he told them that they were not for him to give. He pointed to himself as a pattern of service.

VII. JESUS ASSERTS HIS KINGSHIP. On Sunday of his last week Jesus came to Jerusalem, riding upon an ass. As he approached the city he was acclaimed as king by an enthusiastic crowd. He accepted the acclamation in spite of Pharisaic criticism.

VIII. JESUS ANSWERS HIS ADVERSARIES. A certain scribe asked Jesus which was the first commandment of all. In reply he said the first was to love God with all the heart, and the second, to love one's neighbor as himself.

IX. JESUS AND HIS FRIENDS. While attending a feast in the house of Simon the leper in Bethany, Mary anointed Jesus with costly ointment. In spite of criticism by Judas, Jesus commanded her.

X. JESUS FACES BETRAYAL AND DENIAL. While eating the Passover on Thursday night Jesus declared that one of them would betray him. He solemnly warned the traitor. Then he instituted the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

XI. JESUS ON THE CROSS. Jesus was crucified between two thieves. As he hung on the cross his enemies mocked him and told him to come down from the cross and they would believe on him. About three o'clock in the afternoon on Friday, he died.

XII. JESUS RISES FROM THE DEAD. Early Sunday morning some women went to the tomb, but found it empty. An angel told them that Jesus was risen. They left the tomb, but found it empty. An angel was risen. They left the tomb hurriedly, and informed his apostles.

Read the following Golden Texts during the Quarter.

"Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold; there also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice: John 10:16."

"Whoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." Mark 8:34b.

"Because I live, ye shall live also." John 14:19b.

"Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law." Romans 13:10.

"And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. Luke 6:31."

"And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem. Luke 9:51."

"Behold, thy King cometh unto thee," Zechariah 9:9.

"Never man spake like this man." John 7:46.

"Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." John 15:14.

"He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief." Isaiah 53:3a.

"God commendeth his love toward us, in that Christ died for us." Romans 5:8.

"He is risen; he is not here." Mark 16:6.

FINANCIAL CRISIS IS FACING STATE

Sholtz Remains Firm in Stand Opposing Special Session of State Legislature

Tallahassee, June 22.—Will the state be able to meet its August payroll? Can tax collections be speeded up sufficiently for income to balance outlay? What are the questions state officials, employees, and citizens are asking each other in capitol corridors and on the street corners.

Last Saturday morning the state had but $77,322.70 balance in the general revenue fund. The same time a year ago the balance was $328,674.71.

Recognizing the distressing nature of income and outlay, facing a steadily mounting deficit in the general fund, the governor and his cabinet, in special session last week, decided to make an appeal for aid by wire to all tax collectors in an effort to speed up collections.

The seriousness of the situation is evidenced by the fact that during the month of May total collections amounted to $280,751.74, while expenditures for the same month were $493,417.38, an outgo overtopping income by nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

If income and expenditures continue on the present ratio the state will find it impossible to meet August payrolls. The only apparent solution to the situation would be a tax collecting rally that would bring in an unprecedented amount of past due taxes.

Some claim the situation will make an extra session of the legislature imperative and predict such a session early in the fall. Among those voicing this belief is Senator W. C. Hodges, of Tallahassee.

On the other hand, Governor Sholtz remains firm in his stand in opposition to a special session and bluntly states that if the state has only one dollar, then it must operate with that dollar.

Forces Striving To Beautify State Are Highly Commended

Gainesville, June 21.—The forces that have been striving for a more beautiful Florida were highly commended in a recent address by Prof. H. Harold Hume, assistant director of research with the Florida Experiment Station, and widely known writer and authority on sub-tropical horticulture. He was giving the last in a series of talks to the especially to garden club members which were given by workers with the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station over the state station WRUF and three other radio stations.

"Beauty in our landscape, the removal of the unsightly, the making of good gardens, the development of beauty spots, the conservation of nature's great plant contributions to our state—these values can scarcely be over-estimated either in their esthetic aspects or in their financial values," Mr. Hume said. "These things have real value regardless of our attitude to them, and the sooner we awake to a full realization of this fact the better for the state. The great garden movement, the efforts of garden clubs, the interest of women's clubs, the work done by highway beautification organizations, and the efforts of everyone interested in Florida's natural beauty must be supported and advanced. In this work the Experiment Station and College of Agriculture have had a part, in the distribution of practical knowledge and experimental results, and will continue to have a part," he said.

In the series 19 lectures with the Experiment Station and College of Agriculture discussed soils, animals, bulbs, fertilizers, lawns, transplanting, propagation, trees, native plants, azaleas, vines, palms, insects, diseases, roses, pruning, foundation plantings, hedges, water gardening, roadsides, and other gardening topics. Following the broadcasts, about 10,000 copies of these talks were sent out in answer to requests.

New Policy Allows Citrus Grove Loans Be Based On Value

Henry Morgenstau, Jr., Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, announced recently that decision had been reached on a new policy to be followed by the Federal Land Bank of Columbia, S. C., in making loans on citrus groves in Florida. The new policy has been decided upon to give effect to Section 41 of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, which provides that in making loans to owners of groves and orchards, the Federal Land Banks and other Government lending agencies "may, in appraising the property offered as security, give a reasonable and fair valuation to the fruit trees located upon and growing upon said property and constituting a substantial part of its value."

A memorandum of a recommendation made by Paul Foster, Farm Loan Commissioner, drafted in consultation with Frank H. Daniel, President of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia, and approved by Governor Morgenstau, makes the following statement of policy with respect to loans from the grove owners:

"(a) Loans may be made in favorable areas on the basis of approximately one-quarter of the commercial value, or one-third of the appraised value, given that the grove is being well maintained, is in good condition, and the appraised value of the trees and that the owner is a good moral and credit risk."

"(b) That on a good standard of conditions as under (a), loans of $200 per acre, running up to possibly $250 in exceptional cases, represent about maximum possibilities for land bank loans under terms of approximately 15 years."

30,000 Cans Foodstuff Saved For Needy In Palm Beach County

West Palm Beach, June 21.—More than 30,000 cans of foodstuff have been canned here during the past month for distribution to the needy, reports Mrs. Edith Y. Barras, home demonstration agent.

Two community canning centers have been in operation and have canned the surplus from nearby gardens and groves. The workers in these plants were first given several days instruction by the Home Demonstration Agent. She and Miss Isabelle Thurbay, food and market specialist with the State Home Demonstration Department, have also held five canning schools in different communities over the county. Special instruction was given in the canning of meats, vegetables, and fruits. "People in Palm Beach county are interested now as never before in canning the surplus and filling the home pantry," Mrs. Barras says.

Jars about 15 minutes. Watermelon Rind Pickle. Remove all green and pink portions from two pounds of rind. Cut in desired shapes, wash for three hours in lime water, drain, and boil for one hour or until tender in fresh water. Drain and cover with weak vinegar—one cupful to two cupfuls water—and let stand overnight. Discard the liquid and make a syrup of three cupfuls vinegar, 1/2 cupful water, five cupfuls sugar, one teaspoonful allspice, one tablespoonful cloves, six small pieces cinnamon, and, if desired, one ounce green ginger root. Heat the syrup to 180 degrees F., and infuse for one hour. Add the strained rind and cook gently for two hours or until the syrup is fairly thick. Seal and store.

Soak one and one-half pounds of rind for three hours in lime water, (two ounces of lime to one gallon of water). Drain and soak in fresh water for one hour. Make syrup by boiling together one quart of water and one pint of sugar, add well-drained rind, and cook rapidly for 30 minutes. Allow to stand overnight. Next morning add one cupful sugar, one cupful vinegar, and spices—(one tablespoonful each of cinnamon, cloves, and allspice, and one-half tablespoonful of mace). Cook until rind is transparent—about one hour. Cool and pack in small jars. Cover with the strained syrup and process.

Zinnia Growers Should Watch For Leaf-Spot, Mildew

Gainesville, June 21.—Zinnia growers need to be on the watch for mildew and leaf-spot, two diseases that are likely to defoliate the plants during the rainy season, says Erdman West, plant disease worker with the Florida Experiment Station.

Mildew first makes its appearance on the lower leaves. They are first spotted, then covered with a whitish, powdery growth. The leaves soon fall and the plant is gradually defoliated. The control is to spray or dust with sulphur in some form. Mr. West recommends dusting with fine powdered sulphur or spraying with a solution of potassium sulphide made by dissolving four ounces of potassium sulphide in 10 gallons of water. He feels that the spray is a little more effective, but the dust is easier to apply and does not leave as much residue on the plants. Either should be applied regularly enough to keep the plants covered.

Leaf-spot is recognized by small circular spots on the leaves. They usually have a purple margin around them when they have just started. They gradually increase in size until they cover the leaf and kill it. At the Experiment Station a 3-3-50 Bordeaux spray has given satisfactory control.

F.O.B. Market Meet Held at Orlando

Orlando, June 22.—Advocates of the F. O. B. Sales Plan or Farmers' Market System gathered at a statewide mass meeting here this week. A. E. Pickard, chairman of the Growers Committee, termed the movement to find a better system of marketing Florida products as a drive against red-ink which has consistently colored the pages of growers' ledgers.

Under the proposed set-up of the new system, Florida fruits and vegetables would be sold on an f. o. b. basis, with carlots presented to buyers in simultaneous manner and the growers would operate in key cities. Local growers through this system could gauge the trend of the market and know exactly what was being done.

H. H. Stockfield, vice-president of the Farmers' Market System, gave a detailed account of just how the system would operate. Much interest was manifested and it is hoped that the plan may be put into operation soon.

Penn Mar Co. Discussed at Council Meeting

property owners being notified, Shockey said.

The city attorney objected to the matter coming before the council as he considered it private business and Todd questioned the assertion of property owners being "protected" by the sales to the Penn Mar Company.

Pardee said he bowed to the wishes of the council but thought they should not interfere in private affairs and claimed the right to handle his own business. He added that the city would have a hard time getting a deed from the Penn Mar Co.

Councilman DeLaney then moved for an executive session and everyone left the room with the exception of Councilmen Pendleton, DeLaney and Ford, and the city clerk. When the session was re-opened to the public, DeLaney moved that the matter be set aside until Tuesday and then made a special order of business if still unsettled and the council being properly informed would assume jurisdiction. This motion carried.

During the discussion Chairman Pendleton said he thought the mistake was made in sending a tax bill to Deis after the sale had been made. He also said he could not see any objection to anyone buying property at a tax sale but he wanted to see the right thing done for all concerned.

The council then passed on to other matters.

Half Population of Raiford Ask For Clemency

Tallahassee, June 22.—"Pardon me please?" Please! Please! Thirteen hundred eager, hopeful, pleas, representing approximately half of the population of our state prison, await the consideration of the pardon board.

No duty of state officials is more trying or more difficult than the consideration of the applications for executive clemency, where hearings bring tearful wives, many accompanied by hungry children, heart-broken mothers, begging one more chance for "my boy," petitions and appeals bearing prominent signatures, lawyers with stuffed brief cases and silver tongues.

One thousand, three hundred individual cases to be considered, weighed, and acted upon, by officials already over-burdened and confronted with a myriad of trying problems. The semi-annual meeting of the pardon board opened Tuesday of this week.

Farm Loan Meeting Was Well Attended

Many Highlands county growers attended the meeting at the courthouse Monday afternoon at which time the subject of farm loans was explained by County Agent Louis Alsmeyer.

Maximum loans to a grower will be $250.00 per acre for full bearing citrus groves, it was stated, plus a 20 percent loan for the appraised insurable buildings and improvements. Loans can be made for the purchase of land, equipment, fertilizer, or to provide buildings or pay agricultural or other debts incurred prior to January, 1933. The loans are made for from five to 35 years the interest being five percent payable semi-annually.

Necessary forms for both Federal Land Bank and Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation loans can be secured from Alsmeyer or from Miss Ruth Hogan, his assistant, at the courthouse.
