

WAGG PICTURES FLORIDA EXHIBIT

State's Showing at Century of Progress Has Won Admiration Of All Visitors

Chicago, Ill., June 28.—Senator Alfred H. Wagg, of West Palm Beach, vice chairman of the Florida Commission, Century of Progress, is in Chicago attending the exposition. He is enthusiastic over the showing made by Florida—Florida Hall, the Florida Tropical Garden, the Florida Orange Growers, the Florida Tropical Home, Florida, everything shown by Florida.

"The whole Florida showing is outstanding," said Senator Wagg. "And it is being taken everywhere where one goes—on the exposition grounds, in the street cars, in the hotel lobbies, and I want to make the prediction that regardless of any other condition or circumstance, we are going to have a tremendous influx of visitors in every part of Florida next winter as a result of the publicity now being secured through the state's magnificent exhibit at this world's fair. The people of the state might just as well begin to get ready to take care of a rush of tourists, settlers, investors and health and comfort seekers. Because they surely are coming as they never came before."

"Naturally, because of my vice chairmanship of the Florida Commission and also because of my rather frequent visits to the headquarters of the Commission in Deland, I had some knowledge of what Earl Brown, and his corps of assistants were doing in the way of making an exhibit of Florida's resources at Chicago this summer. But I had no conception of what a really tremendous thing the finished product would be until I visited this exposition grounds a few days ago. Until then I had no idea of the real importance to the state of the wonderful showing which is being made."

"Without doubt, it is the biggest piece of international publicity Florida ever has attempted. The fair as a whole is stupendous. The attention is beyond anything I ever had dreamed. I have discovered through my wanderings about the exposition grounds and seeing what is being done by exhibitors of all sorts, that the Florida exhibit—exhibits I should say, because Florida has several exhibits stand out as among the finest in the entire exposition. More home-seekers, investors, land buyers and tourists are being contacted here and sold on Florida than, in my opinion, have been contacted for Florida by or through all other agencies combined, for the past 20 years."

"As for the Florida exhibits themselves, they are works of art. The main Florida Hall and the patio or exotic garden which adjoins it are beautiful—a dream—simply a little bit of Florida at its best, set down on the shores of Lake Michigan. To read a comment I have heard scores of times since I have been here, it has atmosphere. It must be seen to be appreciated. I have no power to give a word picture of it and I doubt if the most gifted writer could pen a description which would do it justice."

"That it has an appeal to the tens of thousands who throng the exposition grounds every day is evidenced by the fact that the main building and its adjoining garden are crowded daily. The attendance thus far has averaged in excess of 25,000 per day and one day has more than 60,000 pass through its several doors."

"The architecture and treatment differ from those of any other building in the Court of States. The first thought of the average man or woman upon entering Florida Hall with its marvelous lighting effects, its beautiful mural paintings and the artistic arrangement of Plastow's diamic creations, is that they are entering a wonderful art gallery. The display of tropical fruits and flowers from the lower East Coast section of the state, with a beautiful replica of the famous Bok tower animated by having electrical transcriptions of musical numbers by the bells amplified through the tower, as a centerpiece, is a center of attraction at all times."

"I could talk for hours regarding the Florida exhibit. But, I am a practical man who has devoted his life to salesmanship. I am alive to the artistic importance of the marvelous showing the state is making here in Chicago, but my business instinct prompts me to see also the practical or, if you please, the commercial side of it. I have had much experience in sales campaigns but I never have seen anything which by the widest stretch of the imagination could compare with this exhibit as sales propaganda for Florida and what it has to offer the world."

"Earl Brown and his associates have done a great piece of work and he and they as well as the members of the Florida commission who stood back of the operation are entitled to the profound thanks of every citizen of Florida who has the best interests of the state at heart."

Independence Day Dainties

By BETTY BARCLAY

IT'S Fourth of July again, and the summer is here. Among the foods we relish today (and indeed on all these warm weather days) are tall, cold drinks, and refreshing fruit salads and desserts.

Verred in the art of pleasing with food is the woman who has laid in a supply of juicy oranges and lemons and who serves these delicious fruits with their beautiful vitamins including important vitamin C, their valuable minerals, and their refreshing fruit acids and sugars, to family and guests. With such dishes as the following she gives a beautiful balance to the Fourth of July picnic spread or home-served meal.

Lemonade
Combine juice from 6 lemons with 5 cups cold water. Sweeten to taste with 4 to 1 cup sugar. Chill by adding ice or placing in refrigerator. Serves 6.
Would Fourth of July be Fourth of July without lemonade? Old-fashioned? yes! but try it with one of these new-fashioned variations.

The charged water for plain water
Or top each glass with a spoonful of stiffly beaten egg white. Or, since California oranges are plentiful and very juicy at this season, add the juice of 6 oranges to this drink with additional ice or ice water and sugar. Drink can be made to serve 16 or 12 by this addition.

Orange Fruit Gelatin
Soak 2 tablespoons gelatin in 4 tablespoons cold water 5 minutes. Add 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 cup orange juice, 6 tablespoons lemon juice, 4 cup sugar and 4 teaspoon salt. Cook when beginning to stiffen, add 1 cup orange peels, drained, 1 cup diced banana, 1 cup sliced strawberries, 1/2 cup raisins. Pour into individual molds or paper cups (for picnic service) and chill until firm. Serves 4 to 10.

When You Eat Your Greens
Raw and the Dressing Is French

Mix Like a Madcap and Learn Many Kinds

DO NOT be a one-dressing woman! Many who would seem to have but one formula for dressing their greens, still pour the same dressing over every green salad, and when there are a score or more of variations, all easy, all good, too! At this time of year it is the salad of greens and herbs, with perhaps an admixture of tomatoes, cucumbers, onions and radishes that is most often an accompaniment to our summer meals. Because they are so simple they especially need a perfect and savory salad dressing.

Spanish Proverb Tells How.
The old Spanish proverb sagely says: "To make a perfect salad, four persons are needed: a mixer for the vinegar, a spendthrift for the oil, a wise man for the salt and a madcap to mix the ingredients." Choose the madcap from your own family's stock of good mixers, and choose your ingredients even more carefully. For the vinegar, use your own taste—use tarragon, mint, wine or cider vinegar as you prefer. The amount of salt you will have learned from experience; usually a teaspoonful is used for every cupful of oil, but this is not an inflexible rule. As for the oil, many of the modern cooks and chefs instead of the imported oil, one made from our own American corn, which is pure and golden and smooth. In every case, if the dressing is mixed right into the greens, instead of being pre-mixed and served in a cruet at table, the salad oil should be added last because otherwise it will cover the leaves and prevent them from absorbing the other ingredients.

If you want to mix your salad in a bowl (and this is a very attractive custom for summertime dining) be sure to use a bowl much larger than the ingredients to be mixed. Chill the bowl and ingredients carefully. Then, if you like, rub it with a bit of bread in which garlic has been allowed to stand. Add your chilled and cleaned greens (and don't forget to use some of those young new dandelions, turnip tops, mustard and beet greens occasionally) and put in all your dressing ingredients except the oil. Toss the salad so that every leaf is covered, then add the main and toss again.

Besides the usual standard French dressing, do try some of these variations. You'll have found time creating some of your own, too.

Spicy Salad Dressing.
Mix the following ingredients, add a small piece of ice and beat one minute until thick, then pour over salad:
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
2 teps. maza
2 teps. onion
1 tsp. sweet pepper
1 tsp. salt
Paprika
4 drops Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. ground celery
Roquefort Dressing.
To standard French dressing, add 2 or 3 squares Roquefort cheese, beat with a fork until cheese is broken into small particles.
2 teps. grapefruit or orange juice

Pardon Board Will Review Cases at Raiford This Week

Raiford, June 28.—The state pardon board came here this week for the purpose of investigating all worthy cases at the state prison. Clemency will be granted to any prisoners whose records show they deserve pardons or paroles even though their cases were not placed before the pardon board at its regular semi-annual hearing of pleas for prisoners held in Tallahassee last week.

Between 1,200 and 1,300 applications for clemency from prisoners, in county jails as well as the state penitentiary, are under consideration by the pardon board. Of the number approximately 300 cases were presented to the board by relatives or attorneys of the convicts. Nearly 1,200 applications from prisoners who had no other representation, were placed before the board by the secretary. There will be no decisions announced until the board has completed its study of all cases. In previous years about one-tenth of the applicants have received clemency action.

Among the cases before the board at this time are pleas of several prisoners under sentence of death for murder and many prisoners sentenced to life imprisonment.

Approves "Buy Florida" Action

Tallahassee, June 28.—Governor Dave Sholtz this week placed his official stamp of approval on the movement recently inaugurated to promote the sale of Florida products through the formation of the "Buy Florida Products Association."

In a letter to acting Secretary E. O. Gramling, expressing a place on the Advisory Board the governor said: "I take pleasure in endorsing the activities of the Buy Florida Products Association. I am firmly of the opinion that this movement, which is an integral part of the National Buy American Products plan, has tremendous possibilities in connection with the economic rehabilitation of our state and nation."

Work of perfecting the organization is progressing rapidly. An advisory board made up of outstanding citizens from all sections of the state has been selected. Those asked to serve have not only expressed their willingness to do so but have evidenced a keen interest in the movement and given assurance of their desire to take an active part in the work.

Some Green Salad Tips.
Chill sauce, catsup, or horseradish may be added to standard French dressing for variety. Grapefruit juice substituted for the vinegar also gives new flavor.

Chiffonade dressing is made by adding pimiento, celery, parsley, onion and hard boiled egg (all finely minced) to French dressing.

Crackers are the perfect accompaniment to green salads, cheese wafers, the round butter wafers and saltines being most favored for the purpose. Serve two or three right on the salad plate.

Make your French dressing in quantity and store it in a bottle for future use, if you like. To make a large quantity, simply mix 2 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard, 3/4 teaspoon paprika and 1 1/2 teaspoons sugar. Add these to 18 tablespoons maza, then add 1 1/2 teaspoon onion and 6 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice. Beat vigorously and store in bottle in refrigerator. Shake before using. If your salad bowls are made of wood, and attractive wooden plates for individual service match.

MINT ICE CREAM.

2 cups milk
1/2 lb. of cream
1 tablet for junket
1 tablespoon cold water
1 cup heavy cream
Grape green color
Put the tablet for junket in a cup with cold water. Crush with a spoon to dissolve. Put mints in mixture of cream and milk. Stir well, and warm to lukewarm—not hot. Add the dissolved tablet for junket. Stir a few seconds. Pour at once into freezer can. Let stand undisturbed in warm room until firm—about 10 minutes. Chill, and when ready to pack and freeze add a few drops of grape green color.

$95,000 Placed In School Fund From Beer Tax Revenue

Tallahassee, June 28.—Comptroller J. M. Lee reports that the state school fund has a total of more than $275,000 available for the county school boards. This sum is being deposited this week as directed by Governor Sholtz.

The comptroller's records show the school fund to include $149,246.64 from motor vehicle license; $10,763.40 interest on invested school bonds; $32,023.44 from the one mill state ad valorem tax; and $95,585.61 from beer taxes and licenses, a new source of school revenue.

Some part of the beer money on hand will be withheld to defray future expenses of the legalized beverage inspections. Enforcing the beverage tax law to date has cost the state approximately $3,500.

Under the new school laws state funds will be used only to pay teachers' salaries and the cost of transporting pupils. The funds will be apportioned to the credit of the counties on the same basis as heretofore, but will be kept in the State treasury and be paid out on warrants issued by the county school boards.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and mawkish and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and out." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, among them it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. It's all or nothing. ©1931, C. M. Co.

Wait Appointment of Administrator For Federal Work

Tallahassee, June 28.—Secretary of the Interior Hicks has asked Florida's Governor, senators, members of congress, and the state chamber of commerce to recommend four or five names of men qualified to act as administrator in charge of the construction program of the federal government in this state.

At this time it is not definitely known just how much of the $2,300,000,000 set aside for public works will be allocated to Florida, but whatever the amount, it will be administered by one man, in all probability selected from the list submitted to Hicks. The appointment will be made not later than July 1, Secretary Hicks said.

There is much speculation as to who the appointee will be. It is not known whether the governor, senators, congressmen and the chamber of commerce will make independent recommendations or will hold a consultation to select the names to be submitted.

In requesting the recommendation Secretary Hicks said: "Suspicion of any political aspect of his appointment must be avoided both in spirit and letter." The man to become Florida's Public Works Administrator must be a resident of the state. He must not be connected with any firm or individuals who might profit by any of the approved projects.

Things are getting better. The tree-sitting fad has disappeared.

'Tis bathing beauty contest time in Florida—and one may see a great deal of the participants.

A standard dictionary has 455,000 words listed, but it is surprising how few of them many people can get along with. Or spell.

The more we read of these daily air crashes the more satisfied we are with our feet resting on good old terra firma.

Add to credit of the governor: He has taught lots of people how to pronounce "conservator."

Aimee cables from Paris that she has a "darling son." "Impossible," declares Hubby Hutton, who ought to know. Anything to make the front page.

Some of the boys are getting pretty impatient about the delay in shaking the Federal plum tree. There are several good jobs to be disposed of, and the faithful are wondering and longing.

Puerto Rico's new governor, being a Florida man, bids fair to make Florida conscious of that fine island. Trade relations certainly might be cultivated to Florida's material advantage.

No discounting the patriotism of Floridians. More than 30,000 applications for jobs have been received by the Governor since he assumed office, from those who are willing to serve the State in almost any capacity.

Doyle Carlton has been out in California attending the Kiwanis National Convention, which gathering he addressed. Doyle can—and did—tell 'em. Florida could hardly have had an abler representative.

There are a trifle more than 5,000 employees of the State of Florida. That seems a plenty—but many a smaller corporation has a larger number than that to operate its business. No cause for complaint, just so there is not too large a proportion of drones or hangers-on.

Reading the specifications of the person who is to fill the job of Florida's administrator of Federal funds, we are convinced "there ain't no such animal." And yet many a Floridian doubtless feels that the description so exactly fits him that everybody ought to be pointing at him and exclaiming "Ecce homo!"

We do not spend much time wishing for the moon. But we could wish that the seeds we plant would grow flowers as beautiful as the seed catalogues show; that the summer resorts would prove on investigation to be as much like Paradise as the description of them in resort literature indicate; and that banks would be as "friendly" as their advertising declares them to be. Heigh-ho! Might as well wish for the moon, after all.

In the interests of international peace and amity we would like to see the world economic conference work out an agreement disposing satisfactorily of the various differences in the major problems of tariff, currencies and the like. But the fact should not be lost sight of that the United States is probably best able of all the nations to live within itself, independent of outside trade or contacts. It does not need to take orders or to accept conditions that are not just and fair. A policy of isolation is not desirable, because it would slow up the accomplishment of friendly international relationships that might lead ultimately to universal peace. Yet if such a policy prevailed some fifteen or sixteen years ago we might be infinitely better off today. At any rate we could hardly have gone through more harrowing or distressing experiences.

LIGHT THE FIRST AND THEY'LL ALL BOOM!

Browsing through an old history of Florida we came across the following paragraph, in a chapter descriptive of conditions in the then territory, one hundred years ago: "Education was not neglected. There were no free schools at first, but every man paid for the education of his own children. Good teachers did their work so well that ignorance could not find a home in that region." There are some suggestions hidden in that paragraph that might be helpful in solving some of our present school problems; but, of course, we are too sophisticated and too wise in our own conceit to consider them.

There is a continual outcry against the failure in this country to punish the crime of murder, and yet the very people who are loudest in such protests do all in their power to prevent murderers from being punished. In Tampa three men committed a cruel, sordid murder. There were no extenuating circumstances worthy of consideration. After the cases of these men had dragged along for two years or more, and it finally seemed that just and long-delayed punishment was about to be meted out to them, three thousand persons in the community in which the crime was committed petitioned that the sentence of the court be set aside, despite the fact that such sentence was upheld by conclusive evidence and had stood the test of every technical procedure that could be invoked to defeat the ends of justice. People who join in such movements surely do not have the proper concepts of good citizenship. They are in a sense accessories in potential murders which they encourage by their attitude.

State Press Comment

CONSIDERING MISSISSIPPI

The opinion is generally prevalent throughout the state that in time, perhaps in a short time, there will be an extra session of the legislature at which a sales tax will be adopted. Proponents of the sales tax are still as busy as "the little busy bee" spreading their propaganda. They tell us that their proposal affords the panacea for all that ails us, pointing to the miracle the sales tax has worked in Mississippi. They fail to tell us that Pennsylvania tried the sales tax and discarded it at the recommendation of its governor—because it was unsatisfactory; or that Illinois was separated from its sales tax by a legal operation—the courts holding it "discriminatory and unfair."

Overlooking these failures, however, and turning with the sales tax propagandists to Mississippi, let's see how that tax really works in that state.

First, we find that Mississippi's two percent sales tax last year turned $1,535,507.14 into that state treasury. Yet we are told that a three percent sales tax would net Florida $40,000,000 a year. In the light of actual results in Mississippi it can be said that such a claim is pure fallacy.

Second, we find that the sales tax can be and is evaded in Mississippi. This is evidenced by the fact that in the first six months of its operation there only 9,534 out of 17,000 retail stores filed sales tax returns. Only one logical conclusion can be reached from this, which is that it will take an army of inspectors, investigators, "snoopers," or what have you, to enforce payment of the sales tax. About the last thing Florida needs is more people drawing salaries from public funds. The state is over-burdened with that ilk already.

Third, we find that in Mississippi the sales tax has not abolished other taxes—the ad valorem tax, specifically. This despite the fact that we are told it would in the treasury so fast, and in such large quantities that the question will be what to do with it.

In this connection it is informative to consider Mississippi and Florida taxes. In addition to the sales tax Mississippi for the current year had an ad valorem rate of eight mills, against four and seven-eighths in Florida; Mississippi had a heavy amusement tax, while Florida had none; a single person with an income of $1,500 a year paid $18.75 income tax in Mississippi, a single person with an income of $2,500 a year paid $48.75, a married person with an income of $3,500 paid $50, a married person with an income of $10,000 paid $330, a married person with an income of $50,000 paid $2,655, while income taxes are not levied in Florida.

The showing is all in Florida's favor, we not having two of the taxes levied in Mississippi in addition to the sales tax and our ad valorem rate being three and one-eighth mills lower than that levied there. But, we are told, a sales tax will abrogate all other tax levies in Florida. If so it is apparent, in the light of Mississippi's experience, that the days of miracles are not over.

What has happened in Mississippi is that the sales tax has proved simply another tax added to taxes already existing and not a substitute for other forms and sources of taxation. It would be the same here. Nor in all this has anything been said of the incontrovertible fact that the sales tax is an unfair tax, passing the burden from the rich man, or the man of sizable or large salary, to the poor man with scarcely any salary at all.

We may have a sales tax in Florida, but let's not lose sight of the idea that it will take the load off of real estate. It has not worked that way in Mississippi, where the ad valorem tax—the real estate tax—is nearly twice as much as in Florida. It will not work that way here unless the sales tax is made distressingly heavy.—Tampa Times.

TRUE WEALTH.

Wealth is never created by merely buying and selling. While it may be possible to accumulate money or credit by taking advantage of trade conditions; by buying goods at prices below actual cost of production and selling at unduly high prices; there is no actual creation of wealth in such a process.

Another fallacious notion that has grown out of this idea of getting rich by buying and selling is that the only way our country can get out of its present condition is by selling more goods to other countries. If some great statesman, financier, philosopher or poet could only devise a scheme of exchange to take the place of our present cumbersome financial system he would confer an untold benefit on mankind.

However, this is an outcome too Utopian to hope for. The best that can be expected is that a gradual change may be brought about, that abuses may be abolished one by one, until the men who actually produce the wealth of the world may have a just share in its benefits.

Few people care for money in itself. Its only use is as a medium of exchange, or to enable one to store up credit for his old age or for times of adversity. If all the money in the world were to lose its value, just as much real wealth would remain in houses, land and all the material things which life requires for its maintenance, its leisure or its luxury.

As a final thought, it may be suggested that, in spite of the necessity for material things, the highest form of wealth which nothing can take away may be found within one's self. When we learn to say, with the great philosopher and apostle Paul, that we have learned to be content in whatever state we find ourselves, we shall have discovered the truest and best form of wealth.—Deland Herald.

Our English is a great language. For instance, we are always thoroughly glad when a drought is through for it makes it rough on the farmers who need water in the trough.—Clermont Press. Also too dry for the farmer to plough and tough on the farmer's wife who can't get enough water to mix her dough.—Umatilla Tribune.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY By RUSSELL KAY

And now after I've spent all this time sobbin' and wringin' my hands over the plight of the poor down-trodden taxpayer, I find that he's got the goods. He really to blame for the mess we're in and not the public officials we've been pickin' on so freely.

So this column is dedicated to the boys at the state house, the court house, and the city hall. Regular fellows for the most part, just plain every day human beings like you and me.

Last week I had somethin' to say on the subject of "nepotism" and a friend of mine who has been a public official for a long time dragged me into a "speak openly" and told me his side of the story over a stein of 3.2.

He says the way we been ravin' and carryin' on about relatives on the payroll you'd think that nobody but public officials had any kin folks to worry about.

Accordin' to him it isn't the relatives of officials that's gumm'n' up the works half as much as it is the kin folks of the poor sufferin' taxpayers I've been pinch-hittin' for.

You see he happens to be a member of one of these much maligned county school boards and one of his little chores is the appointment of teachers.

"My wife's sister is a darn good teacher," he says, "but I wouldn't dare give her a job. The indignant taxpayers would be chasin' me with blood hounds if I did."

"But old man Whoositt in the bank over there, a pillar in the Taxpayers League, who owns three buildings and an apartment house, and holds my note, has two daughters, an old maid aunt, the wife's cousin and a son-in-law on the people's payroll and still he ain't satisfied."

"His son graduated from the University this year and couldn't fix it up for him to coach the High School team at a couple hundred a month to start; and by the way my note will be due in a couple of weeks but don't worry about that."

And that, folks, is typical of the situation you'll find everywhere you go. Men with money and political influence, who pose as humble taxpayers, constantly harass and browbeat public officials to advance their own selfish interests.

Now and then you find a public official who resents such a practice, one who refuses to be a party to the racket, but that kind of a guy don't get very far. Somethin' always happens to him, another man takes his place and the game goes merrily on.

Maybe it might be interestin' if we quit worryin' so much about the County Judge's daughter holdin' a court house job, and did a little snoopin' around to see who else was on the payroll, how they got there, and why they continue to hold their job. There might be a poor down-trodden taxpayer at the bottom of it.

And now I've got that off my chest, I'm gonna sit back and gloat over a nice pretty invitation I just received from Publisher H. D. Harkreader of the Palatka Daily News.

Hark wants me to forget my troubles and come up to his town on July 4th for the big celebration over the lifting of tolls on the Memorial Bridge.

It seems they gonna make whoopee for about twenty-four hours with parades, fireworks, band concerts, a banquet, an address by the governor, and dancin', with a private entertainment in room 215 durin' intermissions.

It sure sounds interestin' and I wouldn't be surprised if I did.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

John H. Keen, Advertising Manager of The Austin (Texas) American says:

That the world today offers greater opportunity for brains than ever before in the history of this country. The four years of unprecedented deflation through which we have passed and from which we are emerging has awakened us to the realization that for the past ten years merchandising has carried the merchant along without brains or effort.

From now on the merchant must merchandise if he is to conduct a successful business. Advertising is one of the largest contributing factors in successful merchandising. The newspaper is acknowledged to be the best medium for the message of the retailer. It is bought and read by his prospective customers. It reaches them more quickly and often than other mediums, and thus provides a means of quick changes in prices, plans and policies.

But what is the function of the newspaper as an advertising medium? IT IS TO CARRY YOUR MESSAGE TO THE CUSTOMER. Don't blame the paper if you fail to get results, provided the paper reached the people and was read by them. Do you blame the post office if you write a letter to New York ordering two hundred suits of clothes when you fail to get the clothes? Not if the letter reached the house to which it was addressed. Your failure to get the clothes may be due to your poor credit, the house may be out of those clothes, or other causes may be to blame for the failure to get results. No more is the newspaper to blame for the failure of your advertising in getting results, if the message reached the people for whom it was intended. It may be the fault of your service in the store, your prices may be out of line, your quality may be poor or you may not have punch enough in your copy. There may be a dozen reasons why that ad did not pull. But the newspaper advertising is not futile just because your ads don't get results.

Wake up! The only man who can make a success of your store is yourself. Get on your toes! Find the trouble; right the wrongs, use your head and the future will be the best you have ever known. These are times that try men's souls. The strong man will win. BRAINS WILL SUCCEED. LET'S GO!

Isn't it funny and passing strange that so long as an editor tickles folks under the chin and agrees with all their own peculiar views of things, said editor is a jamez dandy and a good fellow, and a fine citizen—but just let him express a conviction which may have been born of years of experience or deep introspection, but which goes counter to the same folks' own views, and he is immediately become a narrow-minded jackass "forcing his views down the other fellow's throat!"—Winter Haven Chief.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR JULY 2, 1933.

SUBJECT: Joshua.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." Joshua 1:9; 3: 1, 2, 14.

LESSON TEXT: Joshua 1:1-9; 3: 1, 2, 14.

PRACTICAL TRUTH OF LESSON: When God commands us to do anything, he will assist us in its accomplishment.

Joshua was selected when the Israelites were camped east of the Jordan, near Jericho.

It seems impossible to know the life of the lesson.

INTRODUCTION: Joshua means "Jehovah Saves." * * * a name most appropriate to the part the great leader was to play in his nation's history. "Joshua" is the same name as "Jesus"; his tribe was Ephraim; his father was Nun.

His birthplace was the land of Goshen, in northeastern Egypt. He was about forty years old at the time of the exodus and about eighty years old when called upon to succeed Moses.

The exploration of Canaan after the crossing of the desert was entrusted to twelve men, each representing a tribe, and Joshua represented the tribe of Ephraim. On their return he alone, with Caleb, made a courageous and hopeful report, declaring that they would conquer the land. Only Joshua and Caleb of that generation entered into the promised land. Even Moses, till vigorous at the age of one hundred and twenty, was forbidden to enter Canaan because he had taken credit to himself for the miracle of bringing water out of the rock. Before his death, by divine direction, he solemnly appointed Joshua as his successor; and no one could have been found who was better fitted for the position.

The lesson begins:

"Now after the death of Moses the servant of the Lord, it came to pass that the Lord spake unto Joshua the son of Nun; Moses' minister, saying, 'Moses my servant is dead; now therefore arise, go over this Jordan, thou, and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Israel. Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Moses. From the wilderness and this Lebanon even unto the great river, the river Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites, and unto the great sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your coast. There shall not man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life; as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. Be strong and of a good courage; for unto this people shalt thou divide an inheritance the land, which I sware unto their fathers to give them. Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee; turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest."

The boundary of the lands to be conquered are thus shortly stated. The boundary on the south was to be the desert; on the north, the Lebanon Mountains; on the northeast, the River Euphrates, and on the west, the Mediterranean Sea.

The death of Moses is described in the last chapter of Deuteronomy, verses 1 to 5 inclusive.

You can see that God commanded Joshua to "Arise and go over this Jordan," though the river was swollen by the spring floods, and here were no fords nor ferries.

From its source at Mt. Hermon in the north to its mouth in the Dead Sea, a distance of about 161 miles, it falls 2292 feet. The crossing of the Jordan is described in Joshua 3:14-17.

"This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein; for thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success."

"The book of the law," mentioned in verse 8 was doubtless written by Moses under God's direction. Courage and faith in God and obedience to his laws were commanded of Joshua, and upon his obedience God promised to prosper him and the people.

JOSHUA'S FINAL ADVICE:

"And it came to pass a long time after that Joshua waxed old and stricken in age. And Joshua called for all Israel, and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers, and said unto them, 'I am old and stricken with age; and behold, this day I am going the way of all the earth; and ye know that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the LORD your God spake concerning you: God's promise to us will be kept, if we obey him."

MANY ACRES FOR REFORESTATION

Secretary of Internal Improvement Board Offers Use of 1,100,000 Acres

Tallahassee, June 28.—The State Forestry Board through the Secretary of the Internal Improvement Board has been offered more than 70 tracts of land carrying from 3,600 to 1,100,000 acres, for the use in the state's expansive program of reforestation.

The million acre tract offered the State, stretches from near Tallahassee west to and including Gulf county. The tract is in one piece, but under several owners.

At a recent meeting of the I. I. Board, Secretary Elliott, was authorized to gather data and information as to the availability of tracts of lands suitable for state reforestation which will be financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The total land area of the State is 34,065,000 acres and of the 16,757,000 acres on the delinquent books, 8,364,000 acres are cut-over and grazing lands, which is most adaptable for reforestation purposes.

The Reforestation Plan. The plan proposed in the State Reforestation program is as follows:

1. The acquiring by the State of acres suitable for reforestation.

2. The transfer of lands from private to State ownership, through a reasonable compensation to the owner.

3. It provides the means by which the State may take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Federal Government to procure money for the reforestation on a comprehensive scale; that such procurement of money would place no indebtedness upon the State or any state agency and without taxes of any kind upon the people. The land itself together with its products must pay back the money borrowed on same.

4. It provides for the taking care of equities of the counties arising through delinquent taxes and for payments to the county to compensate such county for the temporary withdrawal of the land from the tax rolls.

5. It preserves against impairment of any valid obligations against the lands and provides for payment of same.

6. This Act provides that the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund and the Florida State Board of Forestry, each charged under prior law with work essential to reforestation program shall perform the necessary services in carrying out the purpose of this Act.

7. The Act gives special consideration to the recommendation of the President that the States of the Union enact such laws as will enable them to take advantage of the great Reforestation Plan sponsored by the Federal Government.

Relief Gardens Are Proving Life-Saver For Needy People

Gainesville, June 28.—Relief gardens have been a life-saver for many destitute families during the last six months. F. Spencer, vice-director of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, said in a recent address in which he explained how the relief gardens had been planned by county and home demonstration agents and welfare workers.

The farm population is now the largest in history. The general back-to-the-farm movement which brought it about helped unemployment in the city some but it has not lightened the situation in rural sections. Much of this badly needed relief has been furnished by these relief gardens.

Three plans of relief gardens have been used. The first and most important was the encouraging of individual gardens to furnish adequate food for the family. The second was the community garden, and the third was the plan of paying a small wage to some farmer to grow vegetables for distribution to the needy. In all of these plans, much of the planning and supervision have fallen to the county and home demonstration agents. The county agents have worked out the plans of the different vegetables to plant and the best methods of growing them, while the home demonstration agents have directed wholesale canning of the surplus for later home use of distribution.

Mr. Spencer told of one garden in Hillsborough county which contained 100 acres, and that it had given temporary employment to some 5,000 people since October, and how that fresh vegetables from it had been supplied to 1,000 needy families. He told of many other smaller gardens that had proven just as valuable to their communities, and said that they were scattered in every section of the state. Especially did he mention the canning of the surplus from these gardens.

Relief gardens were planned for negroes as well as white people, and here they furnished much relief to the destitute, since a large portion of the unemployed are negroes.

Lindsey Loses Chance For Reinstatement

Los Angeles.—Former Juvenile Judge Ben B. Lindsey lost his chance for reinstatement to the bar of Colorado by declaring he will never use the route of apology to gain re-entry. Lindsey lost his appeal for reinstatement to the bar of Colorado recently, and the disbarment was sustained by the Colorado Supreme Court. The Court ruled that Lindsey could not be reinstated until he had apologized for statements concerning the court in a book he wrote after his disbarment. Lindsey states that the majority of the judges of the Supreme Court in Colorado are politically and personally prejudiced against him, and that he is more than content to remain a member of the California bar. Ben Lindsey's social theories and political practices have kept him in the public eye for more than a quarter century, and have aroused countless discussions and made him many determined enemies and stout friends. Photo shows: Former Juvenile Judge Ben B. Lindsey, who is content to be a member of the California bar and refuses to apologize in order to be reinstated in Colorado, at his desk.

RURAL COMMON SENSE By Spuds Johnson

Inflation alone will not restore pre-war purchasing power to the over-produced farm commodities—cotton, wheat, corn, hogs, rice, and tobacco. This opinion is expressed by officials of the United States Department of Agriculture in commenting on recent increases in the prices of farm commodities.

Inflation ordinarily gives farmers certain definite advantages. Such measures, designed to raise prices, raise the prices of raw materials first, and farmers are primarily producers of raw materials. Inflation may help general business conditions and improve the demand for farm goods as well as increase their prices. It reduces the relative size of fixed charges, such as debts and interest, that farmers must pay.

But the present farm problem rests upon a fundamental lack of balance between the production of actual agricultural goods and the consumption of those goods. American farmers are producing too much wheat, pork, cotton, and other commodities under the conditions that now prevail.

Normally farmers do gain by inflation, but the presence now of these surpluses prevents them from gaining the full measure of benefit. Higher prices caused by inflation alone may tend to increase production, but they do not remedy the actual maladjustment between production and effective demand.

Truth Ever on the Scaffold; Wrong Ever on the Throne

Latest information from Germany states that Freemasons are not to be admitted to membership in the Nazi Party, nor will former members of the Fraternity be allowed to hold office.

The following story from Germany is being circulated: "It is the custom of Masons to murder one of their members each year, preferably the richest brother in the lodge. His estate is inherited by Masonic brothers, and that is why the Masons are able to build such magnificent temples. This accounts for the fact that Masonic temples are usually built without windows."

Change Regulation Governing Pay of Forest Workers

The regulation governing monthly cash allowances to forest workers is amended by order of the President effective July 1. The original regulation made a flat cash allowance of $30 per month to each of the camp workers.

As announced by Robert Fechner, director of the Emergency Conservation Work, the regulation as amended provides that not more than 5 percent of the authorized strength of any Civilian Conservation Corps Company, may be paid a cash allowance of $45 per month while an additional 8 percent may be paid a cash allowance of $36 per month.

Selection of those to receive the higher cost allowances will be made by the company commander and camp superintendent of each camp. The latter will be selected by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture and the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior.

To date 100,000 men are working in camps, and by July 1, 175,000 will have begun their duties.

Experience during the past few weeks has disclosed a need for a mild form of discipline for minor offenses that may be committed by the enrolled personnel of the Civilian Conservation Corps. The disciplinary system invoked is similar to that imposed by the management of industrial enterprises in which it is necessary to maintain high morale and efficiency of production, as well as equality of opportunity and privilege for those employed.

Hearings will be conducted on all offenses that appear to merit such attention, governed by the rules of evidence. A record of the findings of each hearing and the penalty imposed will be made as may be directed.

It is stated as the belief of the director of Emergency Conservation Work that these changes—a scale of increased cash allowances and the mild penalty system customarily imposed in large industrial enterprises—will result in maintaining a high morale.

—Buy Avon Park— Effort To Reduce Cotton Acreage Is Being Conducted

Gainesville, June 28.—A cotton acreage reduction campaign is being conducted in Florida and throughout the cotton belt this week under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act recently passed by Congress. The Florida campaign is being handled by county agents and other officials of the Agricultural Extension Service, with the assistance of vocational agriculture teachers, local county committees and others.

This week, beginning June 26, has been named "Cotton Week," and an intensive campaign is being waged to secure the co-operation of producers to the abandonment of 10,000,000 acres of cotton, 42,000 of which have been allotted to Florida. If the producers agree, it is expected that Secretary Wallace of the United States Department of Agriculture, will declare the plan in effect early in July.

Producers who take a percentage of this year's cotton acreage out of production, if the plan goes into effect, will be reimbursed, the rate per acre varying with the estimated production of the land. They can then utilize this land for growing late feed crops or for early fall crops if they desire.
