Dr. R. E. Huey Spoke In Bartow

Last Monday in Bartow the Pastors' Conference assembled representing three counties of Presbyterians, namely, Highlands, Polk and Hillsborough, to which the pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, Dr. R. E. Huey, spoke on the topic, "How Long Should a Pastor Persist in Dealing With the Unsaved Either in or Out of the Church?"

Among other things he said that the problem is God's problem, not man's. Man is merely an instrument for God to use through the Holy Spirit. His saving work divided those whom he called the delinquents into three classes, 1. the regenerated who wait after the flesh instead of after the Spirit; 2. those who refuse to help their church in any manner, and yet are Christians; the unsaved who will be saved sometime and for whom, therefore, man does not know how long to persist or concerning whom man does not know just when his patience is effective; the unsaved who will never be saved, but since nobody knows just who they are, therefore, persistent patience should be extended. His third point was, that since the problem is God's rather than man's the Holy Spirit will indicate how long to persist.

Probably one of the finest collections of antiques which has been shown in this section of the state was presided over by M. A. Millar. A home-spun counterpane, 104 years old, owned by A. M. Evans was one feature of the antiques. Mrs. H. G. Cassels has two quilts, one made in 1888 and another made in 1876 on display.

Millar's personal collection, many of the items dating back to the period immediately after the revolution, was an education in itself. It consisted of books and papers, parchment deeds, the arms of the old ball and cap and flintlock type, a copy of the Colonial Laws of Virginia, and a pair of scales brought over from Scotland in the 17th century. The grandfather of M. A. Millar was a Captain Millar in the U. S. Army following the revolution and his copy of a book on Military Tactics was a prize exhibit. Other books included religious and education works, sketches, etc., all the property of Mr. Millar. A fine collection of coins and money, from 1790 on was also exhibited.

Tom Watson Chosen To Assist Mel Smith

Tallahassee, March 1.—Comptroller J. M. Lee announced the employment of Tom Watson, prominent Tampa attorney, to assist Melville A. Smith, state bank liquidator in handling legal matters affecting this department.

Sauerkraut Praised For Value in the Well Stocked Pantry

Gainesville, March 1.—Sauerkraut is easily made at home, is a good food product, and when cabbage is plentiful and cheap many families may well stock their pantries with this product, says Dr. E. W. Berger, a Gainesville resident who makes excellent kraut.

He believes the beginner will find it best to process the kraut in glass fruit jars. The cabbage should be shredded and then mixed with salt, at the rate of one pound salt to 40 pounds cabbage. Pack the cabbage in layers of one to two inches, tamping each layer with a blunt stick until the juice comes to the level of the kraut. Fill jars to within about an inch of the top in quarts and two inches in half gallons, place rubber and top on, but do not seal.

The liquid in the jars will rise and may overflow. When it begins to lower, the souring about complete and the jars should be sealed. After two or three weeks the kraut is ready for use. Adding a small quantity of sugar to the top of each jar before it is set aside to sour will make a more sour product.

The Bank and The Community

The banks are just as anxious to see the community prosper as are the individuals in that community. It is a well-known fact that certain legal restrictions and certain economic conditions at times make it impossible for banks to do what they would like to do; nevertheless, the Barnett National Bank and its affiliated institutions during the year 1932, loaned millions of dollars to industrial, commercial and agricultural organizations which had a sound, definite plan for liquidation. In this way we made it possible for many individuals to be employed and the community as a whole benefited.

Here and There About Avon Park

By W. M. Hetherington

A truckload of Indians came through town the other day, and we understand they were running away from some fellow who had offered to give the country back to them.

The bank holiday has caused the postponement of many entertainments, shows and gatherings of all sorts—for the protection of the ticket sellers.

T. V. Conway, member of the county school board, stated at a recent meeting that "not more than five counties of the state would have as long term as Highlands county this year." Highlands county school patrons are most fortunate in the excellent school system they enjoy. Few counties of the state have the school advantages offered our children.

A statement published a couple of weeks ago gave out the information that there was not a "single special levy against the city for defaults in its obligations." We would like to agree on that, but the records do not bear out the statement. The city has a good people claim to have secured a special levy against the city over three years ago. For some reason the court order was not enforced, and the bank is now bringing another suit to collect on fifty thousand dollars worth of default notes. The city has a good record, it is true, but we like to see the record kept straight as we go along.

Don't Bite The Hand That's Feeding You

Now, as never before, should we buy in Avon Park, for it is the Avon Park business people who keep the town going, and unless we patronize our home industries our beautiful town will not survive. Just lots of money is spent with mail order houses and house to house canvassers and when that is done, you are biting the hand that feeds you.

Now, practically all your money can be secured in your town and county, unless it happens to be a very rare article that is wanted, which your local representative can secure for you. Then by getting it at home you can examine the article at time of purchase to your satisfaction. When you figure the time it takes for you to get merchandise from an outside source and the trouble and expense it involves, you really save money by buying at home and since we are not being able to use any checks, it especially behooves us all to keep every penny possible in Avon Park, for while we are here, it happens that rightfully belongs to go through the business channels here, we are hurting ourselves, for it is our business men of the opportunity of making his legitimate profit, so he can in turn give his mite to the town, and make our community a place in which any of us would not want to live without them, such as churches, schools, parks and other items that the average individual very seldom tries to picture getting along without, and all of which is a very great asset, not only to ours but to any community.

Now think this over, put yourself in your neighbor's shoes for a little while and you see what a difference it makes in the "BUY AVON PARK" movement.

Legion "Carries On" With Radio Follies Despite Bank Holiday

Despite the present economic slump and the bank holiday, the first period of the American Legion's popularity continued in connection with the "Buy Avon Park" campaign closed with a resounding bang. ## LITTLE CHANGE IN BANK STATUS

Barnett National Ready To Open When Word Is Received

The banking situation, bank holiday, moratorium or whatever you wish to call it, has been in the position as earlier this week with a further extension ordered by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. His entire program and previous actions were thoroughly endorsed by Congress, called into special session yesterday and the necessary legislation passed in record time. Millions of new currency are being turned out by the Federal Bureau of Printing and Engraving and will be released as soon as possible in order to turn the tide according to dispatches from Washington.

All banks in the country, both state and national, were closed Monday by executive order, following a wave of moratoriums which began in Michigan and swept into other states quickly. All banks were closed tight on withdrawals but allowed, at their discretion, to receive cash deposits which were subject to withdrawal. They were also allowed to make change and give customers access to their funds and accommodations. Tuesday the regulations were lifted to a certain extent and banks wishing to do so were allowed to make change and give customers access to their funds and accommodations. Tuesday the regulations were lifted to a certain extent and banks wishing to do so were allowed to make change and give customers access to their funds and accommodations.

This was modified by the provisions that every precaution be taken against hoarding of the necessary withdrawal of currency and no state banking institution could engage in any transaction in violation of any state banking law and no gold or gold certificates could be paid out.

W. T. Coates, vice-president in charge of the local branch of the bank here, has kept in constant touch with the Federal authorities and complied with every request and regulation. He has assured everybody to the best of his ability. He is as much in the dark as the average man as to when the banks will resume business, but states he and the bank are ready to go as soon as word is received.

There has been a scramble around in many quarters to get the necessary cash in which to get by on as the bank holiday came with practically no warning and many people were caught short. The whole situation has been taken very good naturedly and little grumbling although some have expressed their pessimism, which has not been borne out by the general trend of affairs.

According to the latest advice, all sound banks are expected to open on Monday and the others as soon as possible, but this situation may be changed by the time this is being read as the conditions change so fast that nothing sure can be foreseen.

NO TIMBER TO BE CUT ON LAND TAX DELINQUENT

Commissioners Decline To Act on Request of Federal Receiver

Following the policy of previous boards which have always taken a firm stand on the question, the county commissioners at their Tuesday meeting tabled the suggestion of D. F. Canfield that his company be allowed to cut timber on certain sections on which state and county taxes are due and unpaid. He represented the Mutual Crute Co., of Avon Park. Canfield offered to guarantee the payment of the taxes on the areas which were cut, stating however that payment would not be forthcoming until his company was ready with the money to pay the taxes. He said he was not prepared to cut over, for the blocks which were taken from the land. The taxes would be taken out before payment for the timber was made to the owner, he stated.

Little comment was made on the suggestion, the board requesting that he give more specific information as to the properties which he has under consideration in connection with the sale of the land. He made however there seemed to be general disapproval of any such action which might set a precedent in matters of the kind.

SCHOOLS WILL RUN THRU APRIL

Eight Months Term in Sight Now Due to Financial Conditions

Highlands county is assured of an eight months school term and there is a possibility that the full nine months term may be had, it was stated by county school board officials this week. Informal discussion of the school situation here took place at the regular meeting of the board held Tuesday. In past years children of this county have attended school for the full nine months term which ends in May. This year, however, the board, school finances are such that a school through April is assured but further than that, members are unable to state at the present time.

"If normal tax collections continue," one member of the board stated this morning, "Highlands county will maintain its nine months term." He pointed out that collections of the school tax which money is remitted through the state, also had a large bearing on the finances of the schools. An eight months term will be accorded in Florida schools this year, as in many other Southern states, it was stated, so that pupils will not have their credits for this year's work jeopardized or their college entrance requirements impaired.

Members of the board stated that while the credit of the county school system is increased by the delay, they did not feel they wanted to endanger next year's term by borrowing funds to run the full month and then not having the anticipated revenue obtainable.

Re-appointment of the following principals was announced: Mitchell Ferguson, Lake Placid; Samuel Long, Sebring; Nita Sapp, Hicoria. Announcement of the resignation of D. C. Barrow as a member of the local board at DeSoto City was followed by the appointment of Dr. E. W. Wilson as member of the board when a petition of voters of DeSoto City asked he be given the position.

FIRST PAGEANT ON WEDNESDAY

Historical Events of State To Be Enacted at Highlands Hammock Park

The capture of Juan Ortiz will be staged in the Amphitheatre at Highlands Hammock as the first of the historical pageants to be presented next week, beginning Wednesday, March 15th at 4:00 p. m. This will be followed by the capture of DeSoto on March 16, the following day, an Indian Legend will be given on Friday and on Saturday the landing of DeSoto will be repeated. Saturday will be known as school day for this section of Florida, approximately 10 school principals co-operating. Mrs. Clara Hutton is directing the pageants. At the present time 21 Seminoles are busily engaged in conducting their own pageant in the Hammock, the houses to be made ofypress.

The capture of Juan Ortiz dates back to 1539 when DeSoto landed at Holy Spirit Bay (Tampa Bay). De Narvaez having had trouble in Mexico, 1518, with Hernandez Cortez, Emperor Charles V gave him permission to conquer and colonize Florida. Leaving Spain in 1528 he sailed for the West Indies and entered Holy Cross Bay April 15, 1528. The Indians did not permit him to remain on shore because of their dislike of the Spaniards. De Narvaez decided to sail north to Apalachee in search of gold. Before going he ordered one of his vessels to Cuba with letters to his king. On board was a youth of some 18 years known as Juan Ortiz. Arriving Cuba the vessel was sent back but did not contact again with De Narvaez. Landing, the Indians immediately killed the fleet had sailed North. Some one noticed a letter in a cleft stick, Juan Ortiz and a companion went to look for it but were ambushed by Indians who killed the companion but captured Juan Ortiz, men lived with the Indians for several years.

When DeSoto landed at Holy Spirit Bay May 25, 1539, Mucoco, son of Juan Ortiz, sent him together with several Indians to meet the Spaniards. DeSoto and his men accepted the friendly nature of feelings of the Indians, made an attack. The Indians fled leaving Ortiz who revealed his nationality and explained the friendly nature of Mucoco's mission. Ortiz accompanied DeSoto North in search of gold and is said to have died after DeSoto crossed the Mississippi.

According to Mrs. Claire Hutton, director of the pageants, interest in the taking part is increasing because of the historical value and in the hope that this event may develop into one of state wide interest. The pageant will be held at the Highlands Hammock.

Public Service Co. Survey Shows Many Satisfied Customers

Beginning last August the Florida Public Service company has been making service calls on all its customers. Each employee is assigned a certain territory and is required to contact the customers in this territory two or three times a year, thereby bringing the customer and the utility closer together, with the idea of establishing a better understanding between the two.

Employees are trained to intelligently discuss the many phases of the business and all phases of electrical, gas and other matters are handled directly by the employee with the customer. Up to December 31 contacts had been made with customers in DeLand, Eau Claire, Lake Wales, Orlando and Sanford and out of 3,337 contacts made in the southern division of the Florida Public Service Co., 3,134 customers made no complaint as to the amount of their bills, 100 customers complained as to rate interference and other minor matters but the large majority were entirely satisfied in every respect.

This campaign of contacting customers is in operation in Avon Park and every user of electricity will be contacted and consulted about the service, rates and other phases of the business.

Mandamus Suit Is Filed Against The City of Avon Park

A mandamus suit in the amount of $62,750 has been filed against the City of Avon Park by John H. Burns, of Wichita, Kansas, as trustee, attorneys Phillips and Thompson of Clearwater, Fla. The suit is for $50,000 of notes and interest of $12,750 alleged to be past due. The declaration filed recites that on November 28, 1927 the city passed an ordinance No. 123 borrowing $50,000 in 50 notes of $1,000 each and that these are past due together with the interest. It further states that the Guarantee Title and Trust Co., had been authorized in October 1929 and was granted a mandamus for five mills to pay them and to comply with this Ordinance. No. 123 was passed but was a "mere gesture" as the millage was never levied.

The relator, John H. Burns, who claims to own the entire series of notes, has petitioned the court to issue an alternative writ compelling the city to show cause why it should not levy a sufficient millage to pay the notes.

WOMAN'S CLUB CONVENTION TO BE AS PLANNED

Will Not Be Cancelled; All Arrangements Are Completed

The convention of the state federation of Women's Clubs to be held here next week will be carried through as planned, Mrs. W. A. Davidson, president of the Avon Park club, stated today, following a telephone conversation with Mrs. Meade A. Love, state president, at Quincy. Mrs. Davidson had previously announced the convention would be cancelled due to the bank holiday and notified Mrs. Love to that effect following a meeting with local club officials in response to an inquiry from Mrs. Love. Mrs. Davidson said this move was taken because there had been very few reservations and several clubs had notified her that they would be unable to send delegates.

Mrs. Davidson quoted Mrs. Love as saying that the annual meeting must be held and she was of the opinion that a quorum of delegates would be present. Mrs. Love urged that the convention be held as arranged, stating that no worthwhile objective would be gained by its postponement. She added she had been informed by Comptroller J. M. Lee that the state banks would be open for business on Monday, which should insure a larger attendance of delegates.

The thirty-ninth annual convention of Florida Federation of Women's Clubs will open in Avon Park on Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Extensive plans have been made by the local club for the entertainment of the three hundred visitors expected during the Federation.

Mrs. George M. Chute, state secretary chairman of Rabson Park, met with the local president, Mrs. W. A. Davidson and her committee chairman at the Jacaranda hotel last Wednesday afternoon, at which time plans were completed for the various entertainments to be tendered the guests.

Mrs. Meade A. Love, of Quincy, state president, will preside at all the business sessions, which will be held in the First Methodist church. The opening session will convene at 1 o'clock Tuesday evening, March 14. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 15, 16, 17, there will be three meetings daily, beginning at 9 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 8 p. m.

In addition to the usual routine of the convention, very interesting and vital topics will be discussed by noted speakers. As a preliminary to their talks, a delightful ten minutes of music for each evening has been arranged by Mrs. M. V. Picher.

On Tuesday evening, March 14, the Avon Park Glee Club, so superbly trained by W. H. Yates, will render two selections. Mrs. Ralph E. Sebring will sing Wednesday evening and on Thursday Leonard Sebring, of Frostproof, will have the program. Friday evening, March 17, the Juniors will have charge and their music will prove most entertaining.

The public is cordially invited to attend all of these meetings. The business men, especially, are urged to hear the gifted speakers, who will not doubt give illuminating information on present day problems.

No Moratorium On Income Tax

The Collector of Internal Revenue for the district of Florida advises that the bank holiday declared by the Federal and State Government should not delay the filing of income tax returns for the year 1932 which are due in the Collector's office, Jacksonville, and later today in the form of an extension of time for the filing of returns.

The bank holiday does not constitute a reasonable cause for the granting of an extension of time for the filing of returns and prompt filing will avoid the 25 percent penalty for delinquency which is assessable on all income tax returns filed after March 15, 1933 for the calendar year 1932.

Spring

Spring is here. Flowers are beginning to be seen in the varied seas of the rainbow; buds have been bursting these several weeks. In the spring the human mind is also stirred. It awakes from the lethargy that has hardened it all winter. The mind begins almost to glow; it seems new thoughts come and new ideas develop. Plans are made and hope—that hope that springs eternal in the human breast—revives. Hope that stays the suicide's hand, hope that keeps the farmer working; hope for life after death—why, it is hope that makes the world go round.

Spring is a time for looking to the future, planning for the future, hoping for the future and the time to build the foundation is now, for it can be put at the bottom to build on, now.

Spring, the time for beginning is here.

Senior News

Practice on the play, "Back Stage," was begun Tuesday night. The cast includes Elizabeth Sheretz, as the leading lady, with Nelson Smith playing opposite. But Garrett has one of those "motherly" parts—and she will certainly need that spirit for Robert Stewart with her in a "Great I Am," role. Can you imagine Verma Heim as a cheating little flapper? Or Cornelia Reynolds with a sheriff for a husband? Then there is Honey Sue Roberts, Sherard Johnston, Leroy Delaney and Harry Hancock, all playing interesting parts.

Harry has regained his old place at the head of the typing class. He now has a record of 71 words with only six errors. "You can't keep a good man down"—not long, anyway.

We finished our Senior History this week and will undertake to pass an examination on the work next Tuesday. There seems always to be something to disturb a person's "pursuit of happiness."

Novell Barwick, Martha Thomas and Horley Roberts made 60 words a minute in the Greeg shorthand test for March. Maybe this old school will be noted for its speed one of these days.

Junior News

The Junior's feel very optimistic about our "New Deal." We are backing President Roosevelt and betting on him to fix it so that we can get our money so we'll be able to give our banquet. We're also planning to give our party to Sebring. The Avon Park and Sebring Juniors and Seniors have not yet decided on the date.

The class enjoyed a delightful kid party at the home of Virginia Baldwin last Friday night. We were all very childish. Dolls, stickers, toy pistols, marbles, rubber bands, etc., were much in evidence.

Sophomore News

We are glad to see Martha Walden returning to school after a recent illness.

The Sophomore class is now studying "Tam O'Shanter," a very interesting tale written by Robert Burns who is a well known Scotch author.

Burns gives his credit of writing the poem to Betty Davidson, an old Scotch lady who would take little Robert and tell him tales of fairies, ghosts, and the devil, until he was able to tell and write them in his own original style.

He was born on a farm near Ayr, Scotland, and was taught by a private tutor at the request of his father.

The old saying is "If March comes in like a lion it goes out like a lamb." We are surely going to have a lot of lamb during the latter part of the month. What do you appreciate a little cooperation when the various school parties and the banquet are held. It could cost the boys practically nothing to date for these affairs and yet only a very few of them do so.

Freshman's News

Last Thursday night the Freshman class entertained themselves with a theater party. The picture, "Air Mail," was enjoyed by all. Report cards came out Monday. They were received by pupils with deep sighs, happy and surprised looks.

We have only three more months of school and we hope they will pass as quickly as possible for we are longing for the time to come when we can go swimming again.

Critic's Column

Talk about time keepers; these detention hall teachers have a system. If you are five minutes late you don't lose it, you make it up. It seems now that we still won't have that football game. The Sebringites are going to have their Senior play on that date, as we hear it. It has been so hard to get an open date for it until we are either going to have it after some other function on a week day, or not at all. Sebring, take one of these alternatives.

The American Legion is looking for a cast to start rehearsing Radio Follies. All you talented students see Mr. Houck at the school house at four o'clock in the afternoon or at the Avon Park Times office. Folks, this is going to be a grand episode in Avon Park's history. Come one! Come all! Let's join together and "Buy Avon Park."

7-A Grade

Marguerite Loomis resigned as reporter of this class and Dorothy Hughes was chosen to take her place.

In the spelling contest just closed Merle Graham, a member of the class, was runner-up on two occasions. First, she was second high in the entire seventh grade and she also won the same honor in the final contest. Since no prize was provided for the runner-up, the class decided to give her award of one dollar to show its appreciation of what she has done.

Today is the most important day of our school month—the report cards go out! We can only hope for the best. And by the way, we only have two and a half more months of school, so the agony of report cards will soon be over—until another year.

We are expecting great things in the way of department next month. Mrs. Skipper rearranged our seats hoping to break up certain groups who enjoyed talking at all hours of the day.

Well, so long, folks, we'll see you again next week.

Miscellaneous

If these banks don't open up and let the seniors get their money the history of '29 is bound to repeat itself. In other words, there will be no banquet. Poor seniors, we hope for your sake that they will open.

Yes, Rittsky, I think most of the girls will give the school boys a chance without the tuxedos. The girls are not so heartless as you think; they realize that you are just "Avon Park high school boys" and that money is as scarce as bon's teeth. But I think the girls would appreciate a little cooperation when the various school parties and the banquet are held. It could cost the boys practically nothing to date for these affairs and yet only a very few of them do so.

Senior play practice has begun. Dear public, you will miss the chance of a life time if you don't see that play. It is quite unusual, quite different from the ordinary play presented in Avon Park.

Lime-Sulphur Is Effective Spray On Craphe Myrtle

Gainesville, March 8.—Powdery mildew of craphe myrtle can best be controlled by spraying with commercial lime-sulphur, according to Erdman West, mycologist with the Florida Experiment Station.

This disease will first appear in the early spring on the early shoots. Affected plants will be covered with a white mealy, somewhat dusty growth. They will be stunted, the leaves thickened and small, and the flower clusters will fall.

The hot weather of mid-summer is not favorable to this disease. Even in the spring it does most damage in shady places. The infection spreads rapidly, covering the entire plant in a week to 10 days.

The lime-sulphur solution should be no stronger than one part to 80 parts of water. It should be applied just as the buds burst in the spring to prevent the formation of spores to spread the disease. A second application, about two weeks later, may be necessary to prevent infection of the growth that has developed since the first spraying.

Only 20 states exceed Florida in area.

Silage Fills Weak Point In Florida Dairy Industry

Gainesville, March 8.—The weak point in the Florida dairy industry is a general shortage of cheap roughage feeds during the winter months, and the growing of silage is the most practical way to fill this need, according to Hamilton L. Browne, dairy specialist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

He explained that many dairymen are buying winter roughage in the form of beet pulp and other expensive commercial mixtures. This high cost is more than dairymen can afford with the present prices for milk, and worse still it leads to the underfeeding of high producing cows during this period when there is the least surplus of milk on hand in the state.

Silage, Mr. Browne explained, allows the cow to consume all of the plant, otherwise the coarse parts will likely be wasted and some of the food value lost during the curing process. Crops may be ensiled when weather conditions will not permit the curing of hay, the point being especially important in Florida. A given space will hold about 2½ times as much silage as it will dry roughage, thus making less storage space necessary. It is also possible to grow more crop on the same acre each year when they are stored as silage.

The silo has demonstrated its worth on Florida farms, Mr. Browne continued. Records clearly show that farmers who have produced milk at the lowest costs over a period of years have silos. Interest in silage in the state is growing each year, county agents and dairymen report. Present indications point to more silos being built in Florida this summer than during any summer in the last 10 years.

Actual demonstrations of how to do so better practice on the farm or in the home were given at 9,972 meetings last year by Florida county and home demonstration agents. The total attendance was 158,725, reports from the agents show.

Richard Stalls is chairman, E. J. Peters, manager and H. G. Cassels secretary of the next fair.

Control Melon Insect By Using Nicotine Dust

Gainesville, March 8.—The melon aphid, worst insect pest of watermelons in Florida, is best controlled by dusting the young plants with a three percent nicotine dust, according to Dr. A. N. Tisot, associate entomologist with the Florida Experiment Station.

Especially is the melon aphid injurious to the young plants, now in evidence over the state or soon to be peeping through the soil. The aphid causes a curling and stunting of the leaves and the outright killing of the plant if control measures are not promptly taken.

This pest is a sucking insect, that it sucks the juices from the plant instead of eating the plant itself and thus can be controlled only by the use of some contact insecticide. This can be applied either as a spray or dust, but dusting is easier and has proven more practical.

Dr. Tisot recommended the three percent nicotine dust as the best very good control of aphids when applied under favorable conditions. The first requirement is that there should be no wind to blow the dust away; enough wind to sway the moss is too much. A funnel-like hood, however, can be attached to the end of the duster nozzle and set over each hill as it is dusted, thus making the wind of little importance.

The nicotine dust can be bought prepared or it can be mixed at home. In either case it should not be exposed to the air any more than necessary as the poison fumes are given off. A three percent dust requires 7½ pounds of nicotine sulphate to 92½ pounds of hydrated lime, or six pounds of 50 percent free nicotine to 94 pounds of lime. These should be thoroughly mixed; an old fashioned barrel-chain is fine for the job.

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks puny, don't swallow a lot of mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. After breaks out in skin. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remember, the bile sits at the bottom. ©1931, C. M. Co.

Mr. Hoover probably heaved a sigh of heartfelt relief when he stepped off the inauguration platform, a private citizen.

If every newspaper in the country should take a week's holiday, that would give the folks something to think about, too—don't you reckon?

Amid the cataclysmic reverberations of the past week don't overlook the overwhelming importance of the question, "What shade is Eleanor blue?"

The only original poem we ever wrote was in this col. last week when we tried to rhyme Jehol with Sheol. But if you want Jehol called "Ya-ho," whynell didn't you say so?

It being predicted that we will have a saloon on every corner, perhaps Prosperity is waiting to take on a little liquid refreshment before coming around the corner where she is said to be lurking.

Bring on your scrip! We are right with a Cracker friend who announces that he'll be glad to take any kind of money, "gold, silver or greenbacks—and if you can't use a little counterfeits!"

If and when the government guarantees bank deposits, withdrawals prompted by fear will cease. We spend much of our time in idle criticism and abuse of those who carry on our government, but we still have faith in it.

Howard H. Scott, chief exponent of technocracy, says he has been living on the generosity of friends, and owns nothing except wearing and some bedclothes. If that's the best technocracy can do we believe we'll stick to Democracy.

Great is the power of booze sagaciously used. Three pints of it placed in the hotel rooms of legislators when they visited Knoxville some years ago resulted in the creation of the Smoky Mountain National Park, declares the Mayor of Newport, Tenn., who was instrumental in placing the liquor where the thirsty solons might enjoy it.

There is reason to hope that soon people will again have confidence in the banks. Now if it can be so arranged that the banks may have confidence in the people everything will be fine. That can come only through a general return to the old time standards of personal honor and honesty that once enabled banks to lend money on character.

Depression hit the marriage mart in Florida for a loss of over 2,000 couples the past year as compared with the year preceding. Seems as if in hard times the assurance that "two can live as cheaply as one" should have encouraged matrimonial ventures. But those who hesitated to take the plunge may, looking a bit ahead, have noted that nothing is said about three living as cheaply as one.

In the news this week: An ignorant immigrant coal miner, unable to speak the language of this country, who rose to be chief executive of the second largest city of the land. A former jockey, vice-president of the world's greatest country, turning over his office and the Senate's gavel of authority to a former cow-boy. And, whatever of gloom there may be in the present, there is not a barefoot American schoolboy today who has not far greater opportunity to make his way to the top than had either of these three.

The people have gotten into one habit that cannot help them, and is often really harmful. That is the practice of blaming, criticizing and abusing public officials, organizations and institutions. In many instances the conditions complained of were not brought about by those criticised but were instigated by ourselves. Today, the word economy is on every tongue, and we insist that it shall be practiced by every public servant. Yet there is seldom a meeting of county commissioners, city fathers, road board, or any body entrusted with handling public funds, but that individuals or groups do not throng such meetings insisting upon expenditures that might be dispensed with. In like manner pressure is brought upon our legislatures and upon Congress, and when these bodies yield to such solicitations, and vote the expenditures asked, there is a mighty holler when the inevitable tax bill comes around. Now that a new deal has been inaugurated, it is a good time to quit griping about our public officials, be they city, county, state or national, and determine to lend our cooperation to the end that every branch of our government may function with the greatest efficiency.

There has been surprising complacency on the part of the people in accepting the conditions resultant from the bank holiday. Hardly anybody has had more than a vague idea of what it was all about, but they have shown an admirable spirit of confidence in their new President. Their attitude has been that whatever he decided must be for the best. We have seen no very clear statement as to what precipitated the drastic action just at this time, but it is our belief it was taken just in time to avert a national calamity that might have broken down, or seriously impaired, our whole financial fabric. Decisive action has saved the situation, where a hesitant and vacillating policy might well have been almost ruinous. As this is written plans are being formulated that will insure the confidence in our banking system that is so necessary to the business life of the nation. Our new executive, precipitated into the midst of the most bewildering problems that ever confronted the head of an incoming administration, has justified the nation's belief in his ability, resourcefulness and decisive character. Mr. Roosevelt has made a good start. The faith, as well as the hope, is strong that he will bring better days to the land.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE

F. W. Atkinson, Publisher of The Watsonville (Calif.) Register and Evening Pajaroian, says: "Some merchants sooner or later become convinced of the power of advertising, and most one heart of the lesson near the start of their careers and use it liberally, week after week and month after month, to lift them toward success."

"Those who learn of its effectiveness when some one walks into their places of business to put on a closing out sale—but it is then too late."

"Those who understand the first principles of advertising know that the newspaper is the best medium in which to put the message out. Everyone reads the papers. From newspapers we get our information about the weather, crops, weddings, births, deaths, divorces; about health and fashions; about politics and markets; about what is happening to people on the other side of the globe and to our neighbors in our own home town."

"Newspapers are read regularly and universally. They are read by men, women and children; by people in every walk of life."

"Some merchants advertise only when business is good, but if newspaper advertising helps them, it is needed far more when everyone is thinking and talking depression—to stimulate a demand for commodities—to entice the dollar out of hoarding—to create more employment and more business."

State Press Comment

"I RELENTS DAT"

A south Florida newspaper propounds the question: "What is the prettiest of the smaller towns of the State?"

The following have all passed the pretty stage, each one in itself is beautiful: Orlando, Sanford, Daytona Beach, Deland, St. Augustine, Ocala, Fort Lauderdale, Lakeland, Fort Myers, Sarasota, Bradenton, Ruston, Lake Worth, Lake Wales, Winter Haven, Mount Dora, Tarpon Springs, Clearwater, Gainesville, Avon Park, Sebring and Tallahassee.

We modestly placed Tallahassee last, but one considers that it has all the attractions of the towns named, and the additional attractions of the public buildings of the State, and the Florida State College for Women with its eighteen hundred beauties, we think it takes the cake. Tallahassee Democrat.

Well, boy, if those enumerated above are all the pretty places you have seen in Florida, you haven't been around much. Inverness, for instance is one of the state's most beautiful little cities. It is famed far and wide for its moss-covered oaks, and for the string of beautiful lakes that almost entirely surround it; for its many pretty homes, and for the sportiest and best kept golf course in Central Florida.

We could name others. Clermont, for instance; Leesburg, Dade City, Dunedin, Wausatcha, Arcadia, and there are still others which can be named as pretty, for all have claims to various charms, and there is not a town in the state that is not "pretty" for some reason or other.—Inverness Chronicle.

Every dollar spent in your home town means just another dollar that will be used to help keep local institutions going.—Citrus County Chronicle.

The Florida Grower predicts another boom in Florida. If it comes we hope all the bing-bing boys choke before they can reach the state.—Citrus County Chronicle.

COUNTY AGENT ON COVER CROPS

Almeyer Spoke Over State Radio Station WRUF This Week

The following talk on cover crops as used in the highlands, was given by County Agent Louis Almeyer over state radio station WRUF this week:

Highlands county has over 18,000 acres in groves and ranks fourth in the state in acreage of citrus fruit in a county. With this acreage, much of which is young groves, it is natural for the growers to be much interested in the economic factors of citrus fruit production.

When the cover-crop work was started in 1926 this county had a reputation, in some parts of the state, of having quite an acreage of clean cultivated groves. Today a clean cultivated grove is very seldom found. This change in ideas from clean cultivation to 1926 to cover-crops in 1929, and which has held firmly to the use of cover-crops since that time, was one involving considerable money and growers must have seen the value of the plan.

Crotalaria has been the most popular cover-crop but due to the unusual weather we have had in the past few years the stands of this cover-crop have been rather poor in some instances. But growers are continuing to plant this cover-crop as experience has shown the high value of this legume. The striata has been more popular than the spectabilis crotalaria as we have had much more difficulty in securing stands of the latter, and even when a good stand is secured the total tonnage produced is lower than the former variety.

Many of our groves have been neglected because of litigation and financial troubles. There are several examples where groves of this type have had areas planted to crotalaria and the results have been outstanding. One of the many examples of this is the grove purchased last summer by C. C. Crawford at Lake Placid. Part of the grove had crotalaria striata during the six years of neglect but otherwise the grove was all handled the same. This winter the valencias where the crotalaria grew have a tree spread of 16 feet and are carrying 2 1/2 boxes of fruit. The trees in the balance of the grove although of equal size and condition in 1926 now only have a tree spread of 10 feet and a scant box of fruit per tree.

Natal grass and crab grass are used in many groves, where because of moisture conditions we have been unable to secure a stand of crotalaria, and there have been very popular cover-crops. One only has to see the difference in tree condition where these are used in comparison to clean cultivation to understand why Highlands county growers value these grass cover-crops so highly as another demonstration of the value of this, grass has been hailed into groves by such growers as E. H. Smith, Capt. Henry Hines, J. H. Smith, H. Sackenhauer, J. H. Hollenberg, and many others. The trees have an added vigor and bear larger crops of quality fruit. Yet only a few years ago some people called natal grass a pest.

It has not been possible to secure as large a tonnage with cowpeas as has been secured with the grasses and thus this former cover-crop has been decreasing in popularity. Cowpeas make a good growth in the early summer, however, sometimes they are eaten by worms and thus much of their value is lost. There has been a change in variety of cowpeas used and now many are planting the varieties which are more desirable for the table and thus last year in the Avon Park area they furnished considerable food for the unemployed.

Since using cover-crops, growers have reduced their cultivation costs very materially. After allowing for the cost of the cover-crop seed and the summer mowing, there has been a decreased cultivation cost of $5.50 per acre and in most cases the hoeing cost has been reduced more than a cent a tree. This saving has been accomplished by stopping the cultivation earlier in the spring and waiting until later in the fall to work the cover-crop down.

One of the greatest values we have gotten from a cover-crop has been the more desirable soil condition in the grove. The use of cover-crops are grown the soil contains much more organic matter and thus is capable of supporting more soil bacteria. The humus content of the soil is held to more nearly what it was when the land was in woods and is not rapidly burned out in the spring and waiting until later in the fall to work the cover-crop down.

Because of the cover-crops which they were growing our growers were able to take advantage of the change from organic to inorganic of chemical ammonia fertilizers and thus reduce their fertilizer costs. The growers reasoned that they could secure more organic matter from a ton of dry cover-crops than from a ton of ordinary commercial fertilizer. They felt that they could make some substitutions in their fertilizer program and the result has been that only in the summer application is there a large amount of organic matter in the soil. A much smaller amount in the fall application. The results from the change in this fertilizer program are hard to calculate but a large number of growers will testify that had they not made this change they would have had to pay all the costs of their groves as much plant food as they desired.

But regardless of this change one realizes that because of the cover-crop and the improved soil and tree condition the growers have been able to get the fullest possible value for the investment in commercial fertilizers and that value alone will pay all the costs of cover-crops many times over and certainly justify the popularity of cover-crops in Highlands county citrus groves.

—Buy Avon Park—
The citrus blackfly has been found 123 times in imports to Florida since January, 1918. Each time it was found by port inspectors of the State Plant Board and destroyed.

NEEDY FARMERS WILL BE HELPED

Statewide Emergency Agricultural Program Was Launched Last Week

Gainesville, March 8.—A statewide emergency agricultural program to aid needy families in becoming self sustaining was launched at meetings held last week. The program is being sponsored by the Florida Emergency Relief Administration, the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, and the State Department of Education.

Local committees have been set up in every county of the state with which the needy families may register. Relief funds and supplies will be made available for furnishing seed and a limited amount of fertilizer to these families to assist them in becoming self sustaining through farming and home gardening.

The planning of what seed shall be furnished for the farm or garden will be done by the county agent, or some agricultural teacher who is familiar with farming and gardening in the section and who will be able to supervise the work, to prevent costly errors due to inexperience.

Carrying the program still further, the home demonstration agent and home economics teachers will supervise the canning and preserving of the surplus food products by the family to use later.

These plans were previously drawn up by J. C. Huskinson, director of the Florida Emergency Relief Administration, after conference with Dr. Wilmon Newell, A. P. Spencer, Miss Flavia Gleason, and others of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, and representatives of the State Department of Education.

Mr. Huskinson urged needy farmers to look to their county and home demonstration agents for advice. "Many destitute farmers would not be asking the government for help if they had followed the advice of their county agent," he said.

Mrs. Ida Marshall has returned from a pleasant two weeks visit with friends in Asheville, N. C.

Woman's Club Holds Meeting

Last Friday afternoon, March 3 the Avon Park Woman's club held its monthly business and program meeting in the club rooms at the city hall, the present, Mrs. W. A. Davison, presiding.

The meeting was opened by the singing of the club song, "America, the Beautiful," after which several matters of importance in connection with the entertaining of the State Federation of Avon Park March 4-17, were brought before the club. Mrs. W. M. Reck, courtesy chairman, reminded the club members that they were all members of her committee, and she urged that all join in assisting in entertaining the visitors during the Federation meeting. A communication was read from Mrs. Meade A. Love, state president, concerning the state conference of social workers at Sanford at an early date, and urging all members to join the conference and all who could to attend the meeting.

Mrs. E. O. Williams, the efficient librarian reported 1298 books in circulation for the month of February.

Mrs. Fred Stevens reported the most interesting meeting of the Junior Music club, there being 27 present.

Mrs. W. A. Davison asked all those who had cut flowers to drop them for decoration at the Federation to bring them to the vacant store room near the Jacaranda hotel. Suggestion was made for marking streets to assist in making the meeting places for the various affairs during the Federation easily accessible to all visitors.

Mrs. Ada Ripberger, of Sebring, appeared before the club in the interest of the payment to be given at Highlands, Hancock, March 15-19.

Mrs. Fred Stevens presented the following resolution for adoption: Whereas, the State Forestry department of Florida, in an endeavor to preserve vast forest areas, and protect the wild life therein, thus saving to our state the natural land, wood product, natural stores and to a certain extent our country.

Whereas, the U. S. Forestry department for education along this sent to Florida service-free, the chief lecturer of the Government Forestry Service Bureau, Dr. H. N. Wheeler:

Whereas, the campaign thus launched by co-operative of government and state, has resulted in the establishments of fire areas, fire equipment, and fire service throughout the state;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Avon Park Woman's club express a hearty cordiality to the assistance and pledge all assistance possible for the furthering of this most worthy and vital needed movement.

ANNIE K. STEVENS, Chairman Legislation, That this resolution be adopted and placed on the minutes and a copy be sent to Dr. H. N. Wheeler, and Harry Lee Baker, state forester, at Tallahassee.

Mrs. W. H. Yates gave a most interesting talk on customs of her native country, Scotland, giving some interesting details of her trip abroad last summer.

The club joined in singing "Annie Laurie," following which Miss Elizabeth Ewing gave a very entertaining talk on Women's Clubs, which was so well received that requests have been made to have this paper published. It will appear in an early issue of the Times.

Mrs. R. W. Swearingen was program chairman for this month, while the house chairman, Mrs. T. A. McNicholas, had the charge of the decorating of the club room.

Delta Deck Club Meets Wednesday

Mrs. Francis Shockley was the charming hostess Wednesday evening at her home, her guests on this occasion being Miss Ruth of the Delta Deck club, and a few invited guests.

The Shockley home was beautifully decorated with roses for this occasion, and three tables were arranged for the players.

In the interest of games Mrs. Charles H. Stone was high scorer while Miss Lillian Smith was the fortunate winner of second high score.

The hostess daintily served a salad course and coffee to the guests who were: Miss Susan Pawley, Mrs. Edwin Smith, Mrs. Joe Bass, Miss Ethel Clark, Miss Inez Dawson, Miss Lillian Smith, Miss Lee Kempton, Mrs. E. E. Todd, Mrs. Charles E. Stone and Mrs. Roy Folknor.

State President Urges Attendance

Mrs. Meade A. Love, president of Florida Federation of Woman's clubs, urged that all members who possibly can do so, be present at the thirty-ninth state convention, which meets here next week. Coming at such a critical time in the nation's affairs, it is a challenge to all club women to meet this crisis with the same courage and faith they have always shown in such times. Support is needed to carry out the Federation policy to aid education, welfare, civic work, and numerous other phases of civic work endorsed by the state clubs.

Quoting from the educational report of Woman's clubs, Mrs. Love reminds us that the people of a nation are divided into three parts: "The first, a small number who make things happen; the second, a larger number who watch things happen; and the third, a much larger number who have absolutely no idea as to what is happening."

So we, as club members, with the betterment of the community ever at heart should certainly equip ourselves to take our place in the ranks of those who "make things happen."

Plan Construction of Landing Fields

Jacksonville, March 8.—The construction of emergency landing fields as an anti-air project for the utilization of unemployment relief funds is being urged by the Florida Emergency Relief association, according to a statement from J. O. Huskinson, secretary of that body. This assurance was received by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce headquarters office, of R. G. Grassfield, General Manager of the Chamber.

The Aviation Committee of the State Chamber, under the chairmanship of Ed. R. Bentley of Lakeland, is urging the construction of emergency landing fields through relief funds. "Many sections of Florida are today practically closed to air travel due to their inaccessibility from the air. The clearing of vacant land, not at present devoted to any constructive use, will remedy a situation depriving counties and cities of a potential source of revenue and development," said Mr. Bentley in discussing this project of the Aviation Committee. Mr. Bentley is chairman of the Polk County Unemployment Relief Committee having the disposal of Reconstruction Finance Funds, and has through local committees sponsored the construction of two fields by this means in his county.

"We feel that this usage of relief funds will give to Florida a permanent, substantial benefit more desirable than much of the 'made work' being undertaken as a means of relief," concluded Mr. Bentley.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR MARCH 12, 1933.

SUBJECT: Jesus Ministering to the Multitude.

GOLDEN TEXT: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give his life a ransom for many." Matt. 20:28.

LESSON TEXT: Mark 6:1-56.

Outline of Lesson:

(1) Jesus rejected by the people of his home, Mark 6:1-6;
(2) Jesus sends out his twelve apostles to preach, verses 7-13;
(3) John the Baptist arrested and afterward released by King Herod, verses 14-29;
(4) The apostles return from their journey and report to Jesus, who takes them to a desert place to rest; on the northeast coast of Lake Galilee, verses 30-34;
(5) It was the spring of the year and the roads were crowded with people going to the Passover Feast at Jerusalem, John 6:4-11;
(6) The crowd came to the place where Jesus had gone to rest, and he talked with them till afternoon, when Jesus told his disciples to buy bread to feed the multitude, verses 34-37;

(7) Search was made for food and they found five small loaves and two small fish, which they reported to Jesus, verse 38;
(8) Jesus commanded all to sit down on the green grass in companies, which the people did, verses 39-40;
(9) Jesus took the loaves and fishes and blessed and broke them and gave to the disciples who gave to the people, who were filled, verses 41-42;
(10) They took up twelve baskets full of fragments of food that was left, verse 43;
(11) 5,000 men were fed, verse 44, besides women and children, Matt. 14:21;

In the third year of Jesus' ministry he returned to his native town of Nazareth and began in their synagogue, but the people rejected him, saying "is not this the carpenter, * * * and they were offended at him. * * * And he could do no mighty works there" because of their unbelief. It is the same now. Only to those who have faith in Christ will he appear as an advocate and Savior.

"And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them two by two; and gave them power over unclean spirits; and commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse. * * * And they went out, and preached that man should repent."

It was at the close of that journey that the apostles returned to Jesus at Capernaum, and he took them to a place to rest, near a town called Bethsaida. Near where the river Jordan enters the lake.

"And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while; for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. And they departed into a desert place by ship privately."

When the apostles and Jesus came to the place where they intended to rest the people were already assembled.

"And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and he began to teach them many things. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed; Send them away, that they may buy themselves bread; for they have nothing to eat. He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?"

No man lacks opportunity to do good while he walks and talks with men. Let us keep asking ourselves constantly, "How can I help the people I meet?"

"Two hundred pennyworth" was about $34.00 then, but about $290 now.

"He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye?" go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes."

The loaves were about six inches in diameter, and one inch thick, made of barley, and were the food of the poor people.

"And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. And when he had taken the five loaves and the fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to eat before them; and the twelve fishes he hid among them. * * * And they did all that was filled."

This miracle appears to be the only one recorded by all the four gospels. After the people had eaten the apostles "took up twelve baskets full of the fragments (of bread) and of the fishes."

About this time the people sought to make Jesus their king, but he sent the disciples away, dispersed the assembled people, and he went into a mountain alone, and his followers deserted him and his persecution increased.

One who would follow Christ cannot depend on public opinion for approval.

Algeria spent more than $7,000,000 on new highways last year.

FARMER'S LOANS ARRANGED FOR

County Agent Has Information on Procedure in This County

Full information on the procedure necessary to obtain government loans to citrus growers, and those engaged in raising truck and field crops is now obtainable from County Agent Louis Alameyer following the visit to Sebring Tuesday of D. F. Gardner, state inspector of crop production loans and D. C. Dickinson, field inspector of this district, known as number seven. Gardner will be remembered by many as the head of the Lake Placid Land company's operations in this county for several years. In company with the inspector, he visited Sebring in order to be sure those seeking loans would be able to receive the necessary assistance from Alameyer. The county agent has agreed to remain in his office at the courthouse on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays to assist growers in making their applications.

Loans will be made to citrus growers where the crop is to be harvested in 1933, as the notes are not due to October 31st of this year, Mr. Gardner states. Farmers seeking crop production loans this year are advised to obtain application blanks and copies of the regulations in their home counties, rather than from Washington. Field agents of the Crop Production Loan Office are now designating representatives in each farming county to inform prospective borrowers of the requirements governing loans and to distribute application blanks and other necessary forms. These agents will assist farmers in filling out applications, without charge.

Accompanying the required 30 per cent reduction in acreage planted to cash crops, above the established minimum, the 1933 regulations limit the amount available to any farmer to $3000. In 1932, crop production loans were made to 507,622 farmers, averaging $126 each. No loan in excess of $1000 will be made to any applicant who is in arrears on as many as two previous loans made by the Secretary of Agriculture. As last year, interest is fixed at 5 1/2 per cent, to be deducted when the advance is made. All notes are due October 31, 1933. Advances to borrowers may be made in installments, the regulations state, inasmuch as expenditures for crop production are usually made over a considerable period.

Charging a fee for the preparation of a letter of intent to apply is expressly forbidden this year in Section 3 of the Act of Congress authorizing the crop production loans. Congress further declared these loan funds "to be impressed with a trust to accomplish the purposes provided for by this resolution—and it shall be unlawful for any person to make any material false representation for the purpose of obtaining any loan or to assist in obtaining such loan or to dispose of or assist in disposing of any crop grown as security for any loan made under authority of this resolution, except for the account of the Secretary of Agriculture, and for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this resolution. Teeth for Section 3 are provided in a clause which orders a fine not exceeding $1,000 or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, for any person found guilty of violating the above provisions.

The remaining regulations announced by Secretary Hyde are similar to those in force last year. An absolute first lien on all of the crops grown by the borrower in 1933 is required by the act. In counties where fertilizer is commonly used, according to the testimony of representatives of the Department of Agriculture, the national net exceed $6 an acre for general field crops, $10 an acre for tobacco, and $20 an acre for truck crops, including potatoes. Not to exceed $1 an acre of loans made at any of these rates may be used for repairs and miscellaneous expenses of crop production other than seed, fertilizer, feed for workstock, and fuel and oil for tractors.

Special provision is made for additional loans—within the maximum allowed per farmer—for the purchase of materials for spraying and dusting, to protect crops from insects and diseases; for payment of water charges, electric power, etc., necessary to crop production on irrigated land; for production expenses including employment of hand labor, on sugar beets, sugar cane, hops, and rice. Loans may also be made this year for summer following, not to exceed $2.50 an acre for acreage not in excess of that planted in 1932, provided a first lien is given on all crops growing, or to be planted, grown and harvested in 1933 sufficient to cover the advance.

In addition to the reduction required this year in acreage of cash crops, borrowers must agree to plant a garden for home use and a sufficient acreage of feed crops to supply feed for their livestock. Acreage taken out of cash crop production may be planted to any soil-building crop.

Loans will be made, the regulations further declare, "to farmers who are unable to obtain loans for crop production during the year 1933 from other sources. These loans may be made to such individuals as are found by the Secretary of Agriculture to have acreage fit for seeding and who are without means to purchase the supplies necessary for crop production during the year 1933. No loans will be made to any applicant who has a means of livelihood other than farming. Loans will not be made for the purchase of machinery or livestock, or for the payment of taxes, debts, or interest on debts. Loans will not be made for the feeding of livestock other than workstock used in crop production."

An application for a loan, accompanied by the necessary crop lien, will be passed on first by county advisory committees. If the county committee and the field inspector certify the application, it will be forwarded to one of the several regional field offices for final approval and disbursement. The location of the regional offices, and the States served by each, is as follows:

Washington, D. C. for Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan (for all counties east of Lake

Eight Stars Are To Be Shown In "State Fair" Picture at New Circle

Eight stars, each playing the type of role in which he or she has won the greatest success, bring Phil Stong's popular novel, "State Fair," to the screen of the New Circle Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 16, 17 and 18. Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory are the stars of the Fox production.

Miss Gaynor and Ayres are the lovers of a romance between a little farm girl and a dashing newspaper reporter, and Miss Eilers and Foster are the principals of another affair, said to be as intense as it is unconventional. Rogers has what is reported as the greatest comedy role of his career, that of a Midwest farmer whose great ambition is to land a grand championship for his prize hog. Blue Boy, Miss Louise Dresser takes the part of Rogers' wife, Craven appears as a country storekeeper and Jory portrays a carnival stand barker.

The action locales are Rogers' farm home and the grounds of a big state fair.

RURAL COMMON SENSE By Spuda Johnson

IDEAL LANDS CAN BE IMPROVED BY GROWING
SOIL BUILDING CROPS

Soil building crops commend themselves to farmers throughout Florida this year more strongly, especially than in former years. A good thing all the time, they are especially good for growing on land that will not likely produce profitable returns when planted to money crops. With low prices for all crops, there is going to be a reduction in the acreage of land devoted to money crops this year. The acreage that otherwise would be idle may very well be put to growing soil building crops. This idle land will be improved in the process, and will be better for succeeding money crops.

Our land is our bank. What we put into it determines in large measure what we get out of it. We can put soil building crops into the land now and get returns in the form of increased crop yields later.

There are a number of excellent soil building crops suitable for growing in all sections of Florida. Crops such as the legumes will trap nitrogen from the air and make it available in the soil. They will add humus and organic matter, which is sorely needed on most soils. Seed are cheap now, and many have been saved on farms where they will be grown.
